Says War No Answer To Problem

Sec. Wilson Says Stopping Communism Requires Other Means Than Force

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today "a third world war is not the answer" to the problem of stopping the spread of communism.

In an address prepared for the commencement and 150th anniversary of the University of South Carolina, Wilson declared "we cannot knock out false ideas with bullets; we must counter and destroy them with the truth, with superior ideas and sound philosophy."

In cautioning against attempting to eliminate the Communist threat by another global conflict, the defense chief said: "Even a victory in such a war could be purchased only at the cost of such horrible waste and destruction that the course of human progress would be set back many decades. And even after the necessary reconstruction after such a victory in a third world war, the free world would still have the problem of what to do with the vanquished and how to establish conditions of peace in the world."

However, Wilson emphasized that the United States and the free world must remain militarily strong. He said that "I wish I could assure you with confidence that the trend toward communism had been stopped everywhere and that there was no possibility of general war resulting from the conflict between Russian communism and the free world."

He said Russian militant communism is a three-pronged threat: 1. A "psychological and propaganda" one involving claims "the Russian version of communism is a political and social system superior to any other in the world."

2. An economic threat because the Russian state owns and controls all productive property and attempts to destroy the economic systems of other nations.

3. A military threat because of the buildup of great power and because the Russians "accept war and internal subversion as proper political instruments to use in doing away with all capitalist and free societies."

Outlining his ideas on how to battle communism without bullets, Wilson said: "Among the policies that must be adopted by all nations to bring the world's economic productivity to the highest possible level are freer exchange of technical knowledge and production know-how, freer access to raw materials in a world market including the active development of natural resources throughout the world, freer exchange of goods and services, and the gradual elimination of artificial and political trade barriers."

The challenge to our nation—and the free world—today is to be strong enough in a spiritual, political, economic and military sense to prevent war."

Whitehurst, Smith, Wooten Ask For Run-Off On June 26 Second Primary Assured

By BOB BOYETTE Reflector Staff Writer There will be a second primary in Pitt County on June 26.

S. A. Whitehurst and Marvin W. Smith both called for the run-off as did Russel Wooten in Ayden Township. Whitehurst, who placed second in the three-way sheriff race, asked for a second primary Saturday afternoon.

Smith, who placed second in the three-way County Commissioner race in District Four, asked for the second primary this morning.

Wooten, who trailed Stuart Smith in the seven-man Ayden Township constable race, also asked for the run-off last Saturday.

There is one other possibility for the run-off, but it is a Grimesland Township constable race. Lyman Buck, who placed second in the three-way constable race, could call for the second primary.

All candidates who placed in the position to call for the second primary had until today to call for the run-off.

Whitehurst Says In making his announcement asking for a run-off, Whitehurst said, "On Saturday, May 29, 4,697 citizens of Pitt County expressed their confidence in me by casting their vote for me for Sheriff of this county. After due consideration and consultation with my friends and supporters I have decided to call for a second primary."

Smith said, "May I express my most gracious thanks and sincere appreciation for the fine vote and support people of Pitt County gave me in the Primary, May 29. In this connection may I ask for continued support and consideration for my candidacy in the second primary, June 26."

How They Stood May 29 In the Democratic Primary on May 29 the candidates who called for a second primary on June 26 held substantial margins over third candidates in their respective races.

The Sheriff's race saw incumbent Ruel W. Tyson placed first in the three-way race with 6,087. He needed 6,303 for a clear majority. Whitehurst, who called for the second primary, got 4,697 votes in the May 29 vote. Richard W. King, the third candidate, got 1,821 votes. In the County Commissioner's race in District Four, incumbent Marvin W. Smith got 4,294 votes while Robert G. Little won the first primary round with 4,824. A third man, W. Leslie Elks, received 2,026 votes. Little needed 740 more votes for a clear majority.

In the Ayden constable race a field of seven candidates were led by Stuart Smith, who received 376 votes. Wooten, who is calling for the second primary, received 249 votes. Smith lacked 239 votes for a clear margin.

S. Eljah Heath was ahead in the voting in the Grimesland constable race by 251 to 223 over Lyman Buck in a three-way race. Buck, as of noon today, had not called for a second primary.

At Ervin's request, Jack Spain, Sen. Hoey's administrative assistant in Washington, has agreed to remain in the same capacity. Other members of Hoey's staff will be kept at least temporarily, Ervin said.

Among his friends Ervin is regarded as a conservative liberal. Ervin said "I believe in clinging to the tried and true landmarks of the past, but I am willing to test the soundness of new ideas."

Meanwhile, friends of Superior Court Judge Dan K. Moore of Sylva began boosting him for appointment to the Supreme Court seat being vacated by Ervin. There had been rumors Friday that Gov. Unstead would name Ervin to the Senate and appoint W. Frank Taylor of Goldsboro, former speaker of the House, to succeed Ervin.

Jack Spain Will Serve As Secretary For New N.C. Senator Ervin To Take Senate Oath On Friday

RALEIGH (AP)—Sam J. Ervin Jr., associate justice of the State Supreme Court, made plans today to go to Washington Thursday and take the oath Friday as North Carolina's new U. S. Senator succeeding the late Clyde R. Hoey.

Congratulatory messages and telephone calls continued to pour into the Ervin home at Morganton, Gov. Unstead announced Saturday that he had appointed Ervin to fill the vacancy created by Hoey's death.

Ervin, 57, a former Congressman and former Superior Court judge, said "I am deeply grateful to Gov. Unstead for this opportunity to serve the people of North Carolina in the U. S. Senate."

He added that his "highest ambition is to render, in some degree at least, the fine service the late

Sen. Clyde R. Hoey rendered." At Ervin's request, Jack Spain, Sen. Hoey's administrative assistant in Washington, has agreed to remain in the same capacity. Other members of Hoey's staff will be kept at least temporarily, Ervin said.

Among his friends Ervin is regarded as a conservative liberal. Ervin said "I believe in clinging to the tried and true landmarks of the past, but I am willing to test the soundness of new ideas."

Meanwhile, friends of Superior Court Judge Dan K. Moore of Sylva began boosting him for appointment to the Supreme Court seat being vacated by Ervin. There had been rumors Friday that Gov. Unstead would name Ervin to the Senate and appoint W. Frank Taylor of Goldsboro, former speaker of the House, to succeed Ervin.

A movement was under way in McDowell, Rutherford and Yancey counties endorsing Senior Superior Court Judge J. Will Pless to replace Ervin on the Supreme Court. Bar associations in the three counties adopted resolutions urging Gov. Unstead to appoint Pless.

Under his appointment, Ervin will serve until the general election next November. Gov. Unstead said he would recommend that the State Democratic Executive Committee appoint Ervin as the party's nominee in the general election for the remaining two years of Sen. Hoey's term.

John D. Larkins of Trenton, secretary of the Executive Committee, said "So far as I know the appointment is a fine one and the Executive Committee should approve it. He is an outstanding Democrat and made a name for himself as a Superior Court judge and as a Supreme Court justice."

Don Elias of Asheville, a member of the Executive Committee, said "The committee or anyone else couldn't have made a better appointment."

Former State Treasurer Brandon Hodges of Asheville described the appointment as "excellent," adding that he was pleased "the governor was able to find a man so well qualified."

Ervin, a native of Morganton, was a Superior Court judge from 1937-1943. He served one year in Congress, 1946-1947, filling out the unexpired term of his brother in the 10th District. A former legislator, he was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1948 by former Gov. Gregg Cherry.

Reds Form Gigantic Pincers; Assault Coming Vietminh Threaten Delta

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh troops which crushed Dien Bien Phu have wheeled back into position all around the defense lines guarding the vital Red River delta, the French high command announced today. The rebel forces form a gigantic pincers threatening an all-out assault to drive the French from their north Indochina bastion.

Barring the slim chance the Geneva conference might stop the war by ordering a cease-fire, indications increased that the Communist-led rebels will hit the delta with everything they have before the end of June.

A French army spokesman said rebel infantry units—estimated at upwards of 20,000 troops—had completed their movements back to the bases from which they moved to capture Dien Bien Phu. Other rebel troops reportedly were moving toward the delta area from the southwest.

The French continued to build up their forces in the strategic area, pouring in reinforcements from other parts of Indochina and from Europe.

In an all-out assault, the French expect the rebels to try first to isolate Hanoi by severing the road and rail lines linking the city with the port of Haiphong, 64 miles to the east.

These routes are the lifeline for continued resistance to the Communist-led tide, for they carry the bulk of U.S.-supplied war material from Haiphong to Hanoi and the fighting fronts.

Vietminh attacks cut the routes nightly, but French patrols and repairmen reopen them for about six hours of traffic daily.

Aware that Hanoi might be encircled and cut off, the French are heavily reinforcing the defenses of the seaport and the Doson Peninsula, 12 miles southeast of it.

To both these the French probably could cling a long time if they had to be used as beachheads.

Thousands of Vietnamese living in villages around Haiphong and Doson are being evacuated to make way for new defense preparations.

South and southeastward of Hanoi, deep in the delta, the French are constructing their entire defense network.

They are leaving to the Vietminh most of the small defense posts the rebels capture every night in overwhelming assaults.

But the French are holding, and say they intend to defend such road junction points and rice and industrial areas as Phui Ly Nam Dinh and Thai Binh, within an area 30 to 55 miles south and southeast of Hanoi.

Also on the "hold" list is the Phat Diem sector, 75 miles southeast of Hanoi and the home of 600,000 Catholics.

Sen. Gore Says U.S. Must Fix Course In Asia Agrees It's Time To Decide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today it is time for the administration to make up its mind about what course it intends to follow in combating communism in Indochina and Southeast Asia.

Gore said he agrees with an assertion by Sen. Knowland of California the Republican Senate leader, that the free world has come to a "jumping-off place" and cannot afford to let the Reds continue talking at Geneva while they swallow territory in Indochina.

"I agree with Sen. Knowland's view, but Congress can't take the lead in this matter," Gore said in an interview. "Before Congress can act at all, the administration must make up its mind what it is going to do.

"We seemed to have assurances previously that the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of State Dulles had made the decision that we must fight if necessary, to keep the Communists from overrunning Southeast Asia.

"But last week the President said he hadn't made up his mind about submitting to Congress any proposal for authorizing action in that area. Whom are we to follow: the Joint Chiefs and the secretary of state, or the President?"

Knowland said in a weekend interview he believes the next 30 days will see one of the decisive turning points in history, with the free world either deciding to act or, by failing to do so, letting Asia slide to the Communist.

He said he thinks the Communists might well take Hanoi and the Red river delta within a month, if the talk continues at Geneva and the free nations make no show of force and indicate their determination to use it if necessary.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said yesterday there appears to be little prospect of U. S. involvement in Indochina, "but I think it could come in a subsequent period.

Joe-Must-Go Club Fails Get Signature Goal

SAUK CITY, Wis. (AP)—The Joe Must Go Club announced today it failed to obtain enough signatures on petitions to recall Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The club issued a statement signed by its officers declaring the drive to secure signatures, which ended at midnight Saturday, did not reach the 403,994 signatures required by law.

The club did not report on the number of signatures it did obtain. "Although the 403,994 legally required petitioners were not obtained, the members of the recall group are very heartened and pleased at the tremendous response they received from their efforts," the statement said.

Officers of the club, who last week indicated they felt the movement would not succeed, reiterated they would not give up their efforts to unseat McCarthy and would investigate and study the possibility of a future recall movement.

Bidault, Molotov Exchange Views Over Indochina

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Russia's Vyacheslav M. Molotov were reported by French sources to have had a "useful" exchange of views today on supervision of the proposed Indochina cease-fire.

The two met 50 minutes in what was described as "a cordial atmosphere," but were unable to reach an agreement on composition of a commission to police the cease-fire.

The French were reported, however, to have come around to the Soviet position that at least one Communist nation would have to be included in the supervisory agency. Molotov was reported to have insisted upon this as a minimum.

French sources said Bidault now believes something can be worked out by taking three Asian nations—possibly India, Pakistan and Ceylon—as a base and adding one Communist country and one Western nation to the commission.

Bidault was understood to have told Molotov he was firmly opposed to any commission on which the Communists and non-Communists would be evenly divided, such as the Neutral Nations Supervision Commission in Korea. This body consists of representatives of Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Bidault also opposed supervision by a mixed French-Vietminh commission, unless such a body is limited to observation roles under control of an international commission.

Hughes Proposes Plan To End Some Inequities Offers New Tax Ordinance

A new business and occupational license tax ordinance, "to equalize as far as practicable the burden of city license taxation," has been proposed to the Greenville City Council by City Manager James S. Hughes.

Hughes made his recommendation after making a license tax study. Under the new ordinance, if passed, licenses will be measured by gross receipts instead of being grouped into various classifications according to the type of service offered.

Under the new plan all businesses will be affected, except those limited by the Revenue Act of North Carolina and those found to be impracticable to collect on that basis.

Licenses limited by the State Revenue Act and those not readily adaptable to gross receipts have flat rates and these rates are established by Article II of the proposed new ordinance.

The city manager drew up the proposed ordinance, which was introduced to the City Council last Thursday night, from studies of local tax systems made by the Bureau of Public Administration of the University of Virginia. Under this plan, Hughes feel an ordinance based mainly on gross receipts and rates corresponding to a pre-determined pattern of relationships, will cause the least inequity and injustice.

This Bureau plan would (1) result in substantial increase in actual license taxes on most groups, (2) the classes which have undertaxed in the past may have some difficulty in adjusting to the new rates of tax and (3) no provisions are made for any deductions or allowances for these groups. This new ordinance would tax retail merchants at the rate of ten cents per $100 valuation, wholesale merchants six cents per $100 valuation, repair service occupations ten cents per $100, business service occupations ten cents per $100, and manufacturers, millers and processors .025 cent per $100 valuation.

Hughes says the basic criteria for a good system of local taxes include dependability of revenue; ease and economy of administration; understandable, legally valid ordinance; and, as little adverse effect as possible on the economy of the community.

"The best measure of equity in license taxation as between different classes of businesses and businesses within each class is the benefit received by the market provided by the community, and it follows that the most practical measure of benefit is gross receipts, properly modified to reflect differences in profit margins or mark-ups of the varied classes of businesses.

"Licenses based on flat rates are highly inequitable because they tax the business with small gross receipts at a much higher rate than those with larger receipts," Hughes continued.

Hughes said in conclusion, "While the primary of this study is to remove from an inherently inequitable system of taxation the more obvious types of inequity, rather than raise substantial additional revenue, the new structure of license rates suggested in the proposed ordinance will yield, it is estimated, roughly $14,000 more revenue during 1954-55.

"Present indications of budget requirements show a need of additional revenues in excess of this increase in business licenses; however, final budget figure have not been established. It is anticipated that a balanced budget can be obtained with this additional revenue."

The City Council took no action on the proposed ordinance last week, but each member of the Council took copies of the ordinance to study in detail so action may be taken at a later date.

Mrs. Gurganus was shot in the home of her father-in-law on June 1. She was in a back room of the house at the time.

The dead woman was shot through the temple with a .38 caliber pistol, and lived almost 14 hours after the shooting.

Opening Night For Evangelistic Crusade

United Revival Crusade Opens With Large Turn - Out

Opening service of the United Revival Crusade sponsored by the Pitt County and Greenville Ministerial Associations was attended by 1,700 people Sunday night to almost fill the big tent near the Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The crowd began arriving early for the first United evangelistic effort on a community-wide basis in nearly three decades and the largest such campaign in Greenville's history. Near 100 Pitt County and Greenville churches are giving active support to the crusade.

Evangelist Eddie Martin declared his delight at the size of the audience after the Rev. L. W. Topping, Greenville Ministerial Association president and First Presbyterian Church pastor, welcomed the members of the Martin team to the community. Garland Coffield, song director of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, parents of Evangelist Martin, and other platform guests were introduced. The opening prayer was led by the Rev. Malloy Owen, pastor of St. James Methodist church.

Traffic was handled by the Rev. Rashie Kennedy, pastor of the Grace Free Will Baptist church with the assistance of a large corps of volunteer assistants. Ample parking space surrounds the tent for those driving their cars to the meeting.

The offerings received in the meeting will be handled by the finance committee of the Revival Crusade of which J. Herbert Waldrop is chairman and treasurer.

Entering the pulpit carrying "a big smile for Christ," Martin said the welcome to Greenville has been wonderful and he predicted an increase in the crowds until by "next Sunday night this big tent seating 3,000 will be filled to capacity."

"Death Bed Repentance" was subject of the opening sermon of the crusade, the Evangelist using as his text the story in the Gospel of Luke relating the experiences of the two thieves who died alongside of Jesus on the cross.

"Both of these men had broken the laws of the land; so have many of you," Martin said in opening his sermon, and continuing: "You have broken the laws of God. Both of these men had been caught in their sin and law violation. So have you been caught in breaking God's law. Your very nature sin record is in a book with your name on it. God has caught you in your sins. Both of these men were suffering the supreme penalty for their crimes. Death by crucifixion is horrible. You, too, will have to pay for your sins if you do not repent and receive Jesus Christ as your personal Saviour. The wages of sin is death, death in the lake of fire, eternal hell."

Martin then turned to the one thief who was saved. "Christ died for sinners. He was saved without works. You, too can be saved, you can receive salvation as a gift, just as the thief who was saved instantaneously. Your salvation will be instantaneous when you turn to Jesus. This thief was saved from his wicked companion, and you will be saved when you break your ungodly relationships."

Life's greatest tragedy is for a person to wait until the life is wasted for the decision to become a Christian, Martin concluded.

Monday night's sermon subject will be "Milk Bottle Christians," with the services beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

More than a score of Pitt and Greenville ministers met with Evangelist Martin for a breakfast prayer meeting early Sunday morning. Several members of the party spoke in churches in the area, also, during the day.

Jarvis Memorial Church Is Scene Of Proctor - Kittrell Wedding

At five-thirty on Saturday afternoon, Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of a beautiful, candlelight ceremony of great simplicity and dignity when Miss Elizabeth Kittrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant Kittrell, became the bride of James Knott Proctor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Knott Proctor. The pastor of the bride, Rev. William M. Howard Jr., officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Preceding the service, Mr. George Perry, professor of organ at East Carolina College, and Harper Darden of Greenville and Washington, D. C. rendered a program of nuptial music. Mr. Darden sang "Love Theme" by Grieg and "Thou Art My Peace" by Schumann. As a closing prayer he used "O Perfect Love" by Gurney.

For the occasion the church was elaborately decorated. Woodwardia fern and branched candelabra of cathedral tapers formed the background for the wedding party. Baskets of giant white chrysanthemums, calla lilies and gypsophelia completed the setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her sister's wedding gown of candlelight satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline applied in sequins and pearl motifs taken from her mother's wedding dress. The skirt extended into a cathedral train and her three tiered veil of imported illusion was attached to a Juliet cap embroidered in the same seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of fleur d'Amour white orchids and stephanotis centered with a white purple throated orchid corsage.

Miss Susan Kittrell of Greenville, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a gown of white nylon net over taffeta and in her hair a green orchid. She carried a basket decorated with green and white satin ribbons containing white roses and green and white baby's breath.

Mr. James Knott Proctor was his son's best man, and ushers were James S. Ficklen Jr., R. Connor Merritt, Tom Rowlette, and J. E. Kittrell Jr., brother of the bride, all of Greenville. Dr. Charles T. Pace of Greenville and Atlanta, Ga., and Tom Andrews Jr. of Bethel, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rose Chantilly lace designed with a bateau neckline and full skirt, appliqued with silk scallops and embroidered with paillettes. She wore matching accessories and a white purple throated orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue imported silk linen dress trimmed with handmade lace and white chalk beads. Her accessories were white and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Proctor was graduated from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina where she received her B. A. degree in Biology. She received her degree in Medical Technology from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, Va. and since then has been employed as an x-ray and medical technician at the Brooks-Moore Clinic.

Mr. Proctor was graduated from the Greenville High School, attended the University of North Carolina where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity and later received his B. S. degree in Commerce from East Carolina College. He is now employed by the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at a reception in their home.

After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon in the mountains. For traveling the bride wore a navy costume suit, with a sheath dress, laced in white and a short nautical bolero. Her accessories were navy and her corsage was a white orchid.

Upon their return they will make their home in Greenville.

D. Messick and Mr. and Mrs. Wilcher Dudley. Dr. and Mrs. K. E. Pace were at the door to the drawing room and introduced the guests to the receiving line which was composed of the parents of the bride and groom, the bridal couple and the bridesmaids. The banquet table was exquisite with point de Venice cloth and a handsome arrangement of white delphinium, white roses, garza mums and gypsophelia in an antique silver epergne. Festoons of smilax caught with green satin bows encircled the table. The buffet was centered with a lovely arrangement of white gladioli and gardenias, flanked on either side by five branched silver candelabra. Mrs. R. M. Garrett presided at the banquet table and from a beautifully appointed auxiliary table Mr. and Mrs. Sam White served refreshing punch. Miss Nell Morrison of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Charles Cole of Savannah, Ga. assisted in serving a varied assortment of dainty and delicious sandwiches, ham biscuits, chicken croquettes, patty shells with hot cheese filling and assorted nuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith greeted guests as they entered the bride's room. Here a round table covered with a lace trimmed white satin cloth held the five tiered wedding cake which was elaborately decorated with purple throated orchids. Sixteen green orchids surrounded the base of the cake. The bride's attendants drank a toast to the bridal couple as they cut the cake. Misses Rose Messick, Mary Lenore Vincent, Durea Downing and Agnes Virginia Quinerly were receiving here.

An arrangement of yellow garza mums featured the decorations in the sun room. Gen. and Mrs. A. H. Turnage, Mr. and Mrs. James Ficklen and Mrs. W. I. France Still Remembers American D-Day Dead

By HAL BOYLE
OMAHA BEACH FRANCE — What was it like on the beaches of Normandy 10 years after D-Day?
 The French people showed yesterday they haven't forgotten the 9,485 Americans still in St. Laurent Cemetery and those thousands of others who died here but are buried in their homeland.
 French Tricolors decorated every small town to welcome visitors. More than 25,000 turned out to hear speeches at Utah Beach by France's President Rene Coty and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cab. Lodge Jr., President Eisenhower's personal representative.
 Gen. J. Lawton (Lightning Joe) Collins and Gen. Lee T. Gerow, commanders of the two American corps that landed here on June 6, 1944, were among the host of high-ranking Army, Air Force and Navy officers present from half a dozen countries.
 There were bands, lines of marching men and speeches about unity at half a dozen celebrations in Normandy, but in the end it was the 9,485 crosses at St. Laurent, just behind Omaha Beach, that gave the deepest lesson in unity.
 They presented row on row, one of the major costs of the Normandy landing, a mighty Allied effort that saw 326,547 men, 54,186 tanks and vehicles and 104,428 tons of material poured across the beaches in six days.
 In the first 24 hours of the assault, American forces suffered some 18,000 casualties on Utah and Omaha beaches.

Lt. Col. Russell R. Raab of East Orange, N. J., estimated 95 per cent of the visitors to the cemetery yesterday were French. They are still friendly to Americans, he said. Almost every French family in this area lost someone during the war.
 Several veterans who fought on this same beach 10 years ago had returned for the pilgrimage. There also were dozens of Normandy veterans in the special honor guard of about 400 U. S. troops brought here for the ceremonies.
 The feeling they seemed to share was expressed by Lt. John J. Moglia of Hempstead, N. Y., who said:
 "I always wanted to come back to see this piece of terrain under different conditions. Now the places I could never forget are hard to find. If it weren't for the cemetery, the beach would look like a summer resort. Most of the obstacles that were here 10 years ago are gone now."
 "Yes," said Lt. Col. Albert H. Smith Jr. of Baltimore, Md., who hit the beach in one of the earliest assault waves. "It's amazing there are so few of the scars of war left. The years have been kind to these hills that we beat up so."
 When the speeches and ceremonies were over the honor guard, still carrying rifles, began to wander among the rows of marble crosses. Each had been decorated with small French and U. S. flags.
 "Some of the fellows left quite a few friends here," said Lt. Robert Lindorff of Chicago.
 Under the chill, overcast sky, the soldiers walked about among the crosses. Some knelt at the name they had sought and found. Several took out their handkerchiefs and wiped away tears they made no attempt to hide.
 One stood with bowed head, his rifle held downward with both hands, until it was time for the honor guard to go on to Utah Beach and the next ceremony.
 The men under the white crosses were alone again—but they had been remembered by men who fought side by side with them 10 years ago. That was more than speeches and blowing music and flying flags.

Women In The Church

Church women across the nation are asked by the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Methodist Church, to acquaint themselves with the testimony and conclusions of the comic book hearings before the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee and "investigate practice in their own local communities." Among the measures urged are legislation to prohibit "bundle service," which forces newsmen to accept magazines they may not want in order to get those they desire. The WSCS has sent a letter to Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, chairman of the Senate Committee asking for measures to safeguard children and youth against distribution of comic books that: present immoral standards of conduct; emphasize sadism; contain descriptions of how criminal acts are committed; dwell upon horrors; and teach prejudices.

The founder of the interdenominational Tokyo Woman's Christian College, Tokyo, Japan, has been honored by the Emperor of Japan for his contribution to Japanese education. Dr. A. K. Reischauer, a retired missionary of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., was presented the "Third Order of the Sacred Treasury." Dr. Reischauer founded the college in 1918 in cooperation with leaders of other denominations, and for thirty years was a member of its faculty.

Local Products Sell

By ELMER ROESSNER

A large portion of travelers to Virginia bring back hams or send them to friends. Visitors to New Orleans buy pralines or saucers for shrimp. Conventioneers in Atlantic City send home tons of salt-water taffy every week. Vacationers buy so much Vermont maple syrup that sap-running from New York State is a profitable business. Once across the border the stuff is packaged as genuine Vermont maple syrup, but only Vermonters assure us—by subversives from other states.

Meanwhile, hundreds of other regions are passing up opportunities to sell specialized local products in the tourist market and, at the same time, publicize the area. For sure, one can buy cheap metallic models of the Statue of Liberty in New York, or miniature Washington monuments in a city of that name. And you can get souvenir ashtrays and postcards from any crossroads at which the humans outnumber the livestock, but there's a difference between souvenirs and local, promotable products.

They are challenges for chambers of commerce. First, they're too big for a single company. Second, all business will benefit. So this is to suggest that every chamber of commerce get busy and devise a truly distinctive local product—either city or statewide—and promote it as a way of getting people to talk about the community, as a means of encouraging people to visit the areas, and as a method of knocking a few more nickels into local tills.

The product should be native; that is, it should be characteristic of the region, and it should be something that can be kept exclusive in the area. The product can be too general; Milwaukee's boast about its beers can't be exclusive—beer is made in too many other places.

If all this is too vague, let's dream up a few suggestions. Why doesn't the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce hire specialists to concoct a formula for a new kind of sausage, bestow a trade-markable name, invite all local packers to market it, promote it thoroughly, and take a civic place alongside Frankfurt and Vienna? Imagine the results if word got around that no one had been anywhere until they had eaten a pound of smoked ones to his best friend? Similarly, why doesn't Chicago or Kansas City develop a sweet corn pie? Or San Jose invent prune-up, a tangy sauce made from prunes and delicious on steaks or louboubers?

There are millions of tourists. Don't let Vermont get all the saps!

CAPITAL GOODS REPLACEMENTS EXPECTED TO RISE
The future of the capital goods market is bright. A study by the Machinery and Allied Products Institute indicates that replacement requirements for capital equipment, now at $10.4 billion a year, will rise to 15 billion in 1960 and to 26.7 billion in 1975.

The study found that 80 per cent of equipment retirements occur after 10 years, and that capital equipment requirements have a long-term growth rate of 3 per cent a year.

MEN'S WOOL GARMENT OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT
Three out of four retailers questioned by Men's Wear said the outlook for wool garments next season was good or fair.

The consensus is that plaids will lead in woolen coats and jackets, followed closely by plain solid colors, with checks and plaids far behind. In colors, grey will be first and blue and tan are tied for second place.

New Tax Proposal Deserves Study

Greenville businesses should give thought and study to the new license tax code proposed for the city before the City Council meets to take action on this matter.

We particularly think businesses large and small which operate in the city should study the proposed measure because businesses are the ones which are most directly affected by the new proposal.

If the proposal is adopted by the City Council to become effective for the fiscal year beginning, wholesale businesses, upon

Committee Approval Will Boost Support Plan

A decision of great importance to farmers of Eastern North Carolina hangs in the balance as the House Agriculture Committee votes today on whether to continue the 90 per cent price support program.

While the action of the Agriculture Committee will by no means be the final action on the measure, it will, of course, go a long way in determining the federal government's agricultural policy during the next three years.

Congressman Harold Cooley of Nashville has predicted the committee will vote for the extension of the 90 per cent of parity supports. Certainly, most of the people of this section hope the Congressman's prediction is accurate.

If the committee votes in favor of a support price of 90 per cent of parity for basic agriculture commodities, it will be much easier to get the legislation through Congress on that basis. If, however, the committee should turn thumbs down on the 90 per cent provision, it will be an extremely difficult task to get Congress to override the committee's recommendation.

Although a great deal can happen to a bill between the time it is acted upon by a Congressional committee and the time it becomes law, we'll feel much more confident about continuation of support prices at 90 per cent of parity if the Agriculture Committee gives favorable action to the provision today.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

Do you argue with your conscience or do you just "kid" it along?
Many people just "kid" their conscience along. "I know I'm drinking too much," they say, "but gee, I like to drink; and if I do it after office hours and over the week-end, what's the harm?" Others say, "I don't put much money on the races but I get a thrill out of betting a dollar or two, and one day I may hit the jackpot." Others say, "Sure I'm married, but a little flirtation on the side gives spice to life, and if I watch and don't go too far, I guess I'll keep out of trouble."

The good Lord seems to have put a conscience inside our hearts and minds in order that we will experience a rebuke and a good stiff argument every time we take a wrong turn. There are a few people in the world who have no conscience—they are pathological. There are some people who have cranky consciences, who are always straining at gnats and swallowing camels. A healthy conscience (the Bible calls it a good conscience before God) is the voice of morality, experience, yea the very voice of God Himself, speaking within our hearts.

You may kill a man in anger some time and rue it all the rest of your life; but if you kill your conscience you will rue it through eternity. God gave us a conscience for a definite and very serious purpose. He expects us to hearken when it speaks.

National Whirligig

Democrats Ultimately Benefit

WASHINGTON—Chief Justice Earl Warren's outlawing of segregation in public schools and Federal housing projects may be a Republican ill wind that will blow good for the Democrats of North and South, now sharply divided on this issue. It should eventually remove the racial problem from the realm of partisan politics.

At the moment, many Southern communities and politicians are indignant over the ruling and are threatening to escape its implications in one way or another. But the fact is that this unanimous opinion has been accepted in Dixie with amazing moderation and hard common sense, save for a few political hot-heads like Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia. He will probably use the issue to try to win himself a Senate seat.

RACIAL RELATIONS IN SOUTH—The South, however, which has managed to make so many social and economic readjustments since 1865, will meet this new challenge in its own way. It will, sooner or later, comply with the Supreme Court decision in accord with local needs and customs.

The South has made greater progress in the field of racial relations than many other sections of the country, where the question is raised only at election time by so-called "liberals" seeking the vote of the colored people.

The Negro is better treated, better housed, better fed and more respected below the Mason and Dixon Line than he is in Democratic Harlem, supposedly the New Dealers' heaven.

QUESTION OF YEARS—It may take years for the South to answer the Supreme Court's question of how it intends to implement the ruling on segregation. That will also apply to many northern communities. It is doubtful if the surrounding difficulties can be solved before the 1956 election.

But solved it will be eventually, and all the bitter disagreements between northern and southern Democrats will disappear.

There will then be no reason why such brilliant statesmen as Byrd of Virginia, Russell of Georgia and McClellan of Arkansas, or, successors of their stamp, should not become President of the United States!

which the majority of the retail businesses, wholesale businesses, repair services, business services, manufacturers and processors pay license taxes to the city.

Under the proposed new system, business license taxes would be based on gross receipts except in those cases where the license is limited or set by the State Revenue Act, and businesses in which it has been found impractical to collect license tax on a gross receipts basis.

The present system of business license taxes in Greenville is based entirely on a flat rate system. Businesses which fall under identical category for license purposes pay an identical license fee regardless of the difference in the size or volume of the businesses. Obviously there are many inequities in such a system.

According to City Manager James S. Hughes who proposed the new ordinance for the Council's consideration, its main purpose is "to remove from an inherently inequitable system of taxation the more obvious types of inequity." . . . Also, he says the new structure is estimated roughly to yield $14,000 of additional revenue for the city during 1954-55.

Under the proposed gross receipts basis of levying license taxes, retail merchants would pay a license of 10 cents per $100 of gross receipts; wholesale merchants would pay six cents per $100; repair services and business services occupations would pay 10 cents per $100; and manufacturers, millers and processors would pay two and one-half cents per $100.

We are of the opinion local businesses as well as city officials should give careful consideration to the proposed ordinance before final action is taken upon it.

Historical Bath Is Getting Attention

A group of citizens down in Beaufort County are laying plans which should be of interest of most of the people in this section of the state.

They are laying the groundwork of a project for the restoration of several buildings of historical significance in North Carolina's first town—Bath. At the same time, they are making plans for an historical pageant at Bath depicting the early history of the settlement.

It is fitting, we think, for the people in Bath and Beaufort County to make such plans in connection with the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of Bath next year. It is likewise proper that the first church to be erected in the state be restored for prosperity, and the old governor's mansion at Bath and other historical buildings be restored.

The Reflector is happy to see the citizens of a neighboring county undertake a project of such proportions. If they follow it through to completion—and we believe they will—it will be a fine thing not only for Bath and Beaufort County, but for the entire state.

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Labor leaders have forced employers to resort to unprecedented research. This research is teaching employers that they can get on without routine workers. This should be a warning to those now graduating from high school or college.

PUSH-BUTTON AGE
The development of electronics furnished the basis of modern automatic machinery. A simple illustration is the "electric eye," which opens doors at the correct time without any help from you. Another illustration is the record-changer and turnover on our phonographs, including the automatic stopping of the machine. The most complicated are the new "missiles" which chase and catch an airplane without any human direction.

This same electronic principle is being applied to operation of a factory by a dozen employees, in contrast to the 400 formerly required. As their chief duty will be to "press push-buttons," this can be done by women as well as by men. Labor does not realize the great changes ahead. Employers will always need human help; but not for many present-day jobs. They will want the intelligence and judgment of high school and college graduates.

SERIOUS BLOW TO RUSSIA, CHINA AND INDIA

Russia has been depending on her massed armies to overrun Europe the first day of her attack. As the Free Nations of Europe learn to use atomic weapons, wars will also go on a "push-button" basis. The great masses of Russians, Chinese and Moslems will be a nuisance to clutter up a battlefield. Premier Nehru recognizes this. It explains his great desire to remain neutral. Electronics and the atom will cause tremendous changes in both warfare and education.

It surely is wonderful to live here in the United States, which is leading in these new developments. I envy our young people who are to graduate this month. They will have so many more opportunities than we oldsters had. I wish the schools and colleges would wake up to these changes that are ahead. Better pension off the professor who can teach only the orthodox old-fashioned courses, instead of forcing young people to take these courses in order to get an A. B. degree.

CHARACTER AND BRAINS

I forecast that the above changes mean young graduates will need good character more than ever before. Better training by homes, churches and colleges will be absolutely essential in this new electronic push-button age. Wise are the young people who will gradually become obsolete.

(2) To keep employed those unable to do anything else, their hours of work will constantly be decreased with the same take-home pay. This will boost the "Build-It-Yourself" industries.

(3) The pay increases will go to the serious and intelligent employees. There will be no limit to the salaries of those who have the needed character, brains, loyalty, and initiative.

(4) The great U. S. problem will not be to raise crops, or to build homes, or to manufacture merchandise, but to get people to buy. Hence, instead of subsidizing farmers and salesmen, we will subsidize merchants and salesmen.

(5) I am advising young men to become expert machinists, instead of lawyers; trained outside salesmen, instead of inside pencil-pushers; and after graduation this June, to attend night school in preparation for the NEW AGE.

I FORECAST THAT THIS CHANGE MEANS:

Labor Leaders Forcing Ultimate Work By Push-Button

By LYNN NISBET

CRANE—The appointment of Frank Crane as Commissioner of Labor succeeded the late Forrest Shuford because the program of the department will be continued without material interruption or change in objectives. The Crane appointment also recognizes and rewards long and valuable service of subordinate officials from the ranks. Sometimes it has been the case that political pressure and other considerations brought in outsiders who were not familiar with procedure or too much in sympathy with going programs.

Governor Umstead made it clear in announcing the Crane appointment that he was not bypassing the No. 2 in the department for some years. Lewis Sorrell, the Governor said, had indicated he preferred to retain his position of chief assistant and would work with Commissioner Crane as cheerfully and loyally as he has worked with Commissioner Shuford.

That is a further gratifying feature of the appointment. Shuford, Sorrell and Crane have been the leading spirits in developing the North Carolina Department of Labor into its present status as a major operation of State government.

The new commissioner has been with the department since 1939, one year after Shuford became commissioner, and in the capacity of chief of the consultation service has won the confidence of both management and labor in the adjudication of numerous labor disputes. The record on this phase of activity is incomplete, because most of the settlements were made and agreements reached before the public heard of any trouble between the workers and the bosses.

The Shuford and Crane philosophy has been that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. This is one reason that there have not been too many illnesses to cure in North Carolina labor relations.

PERSONAL—Personal observations are considered out of place in news stories and commentary. In this case your reporter wants to go a little farther than the news releases go about Frank Crane's personality.

When he takes the oath of office as Commissioner of Labor Tuesday morning he will put his hands on a Bible that came down from his great-grandfather, Job Crane, and has been in the family for more than 150 years.

He is sixth in direct descent from Stephen Crane, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence from New Jersey. Just in case somebody might think that gave him a Yankee tinge, it should be noted that his great-great-grandmother was one of the Hutchinson girls, and a sister of the mother of Andrew Jackson.

Frank Crane was born in Union county in 1907 just a few miles from where Andrew Jackson was born 140 years earlier—in 1767. Not only his blood kinship to Old Hickory but the same sort of independent democratic and human interest ideas inherent in that soil and climate have influenced his thinking to such extent that he is a genuine, as contrasted with some of the phony substitutes, Jacksonian Democrat. He has faith in people as individuals and folks, not simply in the political sense of rallying and purporting to represent "the peoplep."

If the foregoing sounds a bit like blarney—what of it? Your reporter was born and reared in the Andrew Jackson native heath, too, and knows of intimate personal knowledge the background and the ancestral traditions of Frank Crane—and is as proud of the record as he is. His folks were better off in the old days than my folks, but his father taught him the essential factors of the need to work and the dignity of the worker, whether in the cotton field, or the business office or the factory.

SENATOR—Governor Umstead gave no intimation at his latest news conference as to when he might appoint a U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy created by the death of Senator Clyde Hoey. He said he would get around to that job as soon as he could.

He did clearly intimate that when he makes the appointment it will be his own, and without consultation with party leaders as to who the executive committee might nominate to go on the ballot this fall as the Democratic party candidate. He said he would recommend to the committee that they nominate Frank Crane for Commissioner of Labor. It is expected the committee will go along with that recommendation.

He also said that when he names a Senator he will recommend his appointee to the committee for regular party nomination. There is much less certainty that recommendation will be honored, unless there is advance consultation—which now seems unlikely. At time this was written he has 84 names on the list of recommended appointees. This list includes Robert Lassiter Jr., of Charlotte, but Governor Umstead took time out to pay his respects to a "dope" story in the News and Observer that Robert M. Hanes of Winston-Salem was making demands upon him for appointment of Lassiter, a nephew of the twin-city business mogul. He said careful check of his files failed to discover a letter or telegram or telephone call or personal conference in which Hanes had recommended anybody for the appointment.

The Governor said he had dozens, maybe hundreds, of letters and telegrams endorsing this that or the other prospective appointee. His attitude suggested the thought that money spent for these build-ups for hopefuls was wasted. When he names the man it will be his own selection, and those who know him best agree that "pressure" is apt to backfire and react against the pressured candidate rather than to his interest.

Coping With Too-Friendly Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What can the poor working girl do to protect herself against "the over-friendly boss?"

I thought this problem went out about the time "Bessie, the Sewing Machine Girl" was a big hit. But apparently it didn't, and now Congress may have to consider it in revising the Taft-Hartley Act.

An office worker, writing to Patricia Porter, recently raised the question of "how to discourage the office boss from conveniently placing his hands on a girl's shoulders, arms or back while discussing business matters."

Admitting that it was a touchy subject and that often such gestures by the boss were completely friendly and an attempt to express their appreciation for work well done, the writer added, however: "The majority of girls are embarrassed and uncomfortable when it occurs. . . none enjoy it. . . and it results more often in strained employer-employee relationship than in a friendly business-like one."

At a drugstore counter where a number of girls from several offices crunched down their malted milk lunches, I made an informal poll on what they thought about this problem of "the overfriendly boss."

Their reaction was mixed—and entirely feminine. Most of them said their own particular boss was more of a querulous old mouse than a wolf.

"It's the junior executives who act like office juvenile delinquents today," said one. "Every once in a while you meet one whose idea of exercise is to ask you to stave late and then chase you ten laps around the water cooler."

"My boss does pinch me every once in a while," said a plump young file clerk, blushing. "But he doesn't mean anything by it. He's the fatherly type. He says

SMALL FIRMS GET CHANCE AT EDUCATED TALENTS
Smaller firms are getting their first break in years in the recruitment of college graduates. Earl C. Small and medium companies, he noted, are being quick to take up the slack, and opportunities are as plentiful as ever.

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Friday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee found Robert L. Walker, Negro, 108 West Moore street, Greenville, who was charged with careless and reckless driving, guilty of "outrunning headlights." The court continued prayer for judgment on condition that Walker pay court costs. Report Big Drop For Inventories

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reported a big drop in business inventories, blamed by the Eisenhower administration for the economic lag of the past several months.

The Commerce Department said yesterday that stocks of unsold goods on merchants' shelves declined about 500 million dollars during April—the biggest dip since 1954 started. The department said that inventories at the end of April were estimated at about $79,613,000,000 compared with $80,091,000,000 at the end of March.

The National Geographic Society says there are about 23 million dogs in the United States and about 27 million cats.

Movie Industry Clings To New Gains In Comeback Against TV

By WYANE OLIVER (for Sam Dawson)
NEW YORK (AP)—The movie industry, attempting a comeback after a body blow by television; is maintaining its hard-won gains of recent months and looking for a new boost later in the year from a crop of top-flight pictures.

Fighting back with new processes, better quality in story and technique, and more films in color, movies now are estimated to be attracting five million more fans a week than in 1952.

And reports from headquarters of the film companies here reflect humming activities in Hollywood studios, with production at probably the highest level in two or more years.

Theater owners in some sections, particularly where TV is newly arrived, still are having rough going but over-all nationwide attendance is well above the postwar low. Noticeable pickups are being reported from areas that have had TV a long time and the novelty has worn off.

Eric Johnson, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, says a number of factors combine "to indicate a somewhat brighter economic picture for the industry during the coming year."

U.S.-Style Snackshop In Beirut Hitting Stride

By WILTON WYNN
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Muzazin's shrill call to prayer rose faintly from a distant minaret as the red-fleeced Arab walked into a Beirut cafe. He sat at a table and clapped his hands. Oriental style, to summon the waiter. He had his choice of cheeseburger, malted milkshake and chicken-in-the-basket.

shop in a small American town, Uncle Sam's introduced the hamburger and cheeseburger to Beirut. Its frosted malteds and strawberry shortcake have become famous. Waffles, American coffee, embossed paper napkins and thin sliced white bread make the American customer feel he never left home.

Uncle Sam's proprietor has never seen the United States. He has built his American Oasis entirely on advice from American friends. Yet his snackshop could be dropped into almost any American small town and blend perfectly.

Since the end of World War II, a movement of American personnel to Beirut has produced a steady development of little touches to "make the American feel at home" in this Arab city. And while making the American feel at home, the adaptable Lebanese has raked in a fair share of dollars.

About 1,500 Americans live in Beirut now, most of them with oil companies, private businesses, government agencies and schools. In addition, some 4,000 Lebanese who once lived in the States have returned home. Concentrated in residential Ras Beirut, this group comprises the big money market for Lebanese merchants. The result has been a studied and successful effort to give Ras Beirut a thoroughly American veneer.

A pioneer in the move to catch the American eye was the proprietor of Uncle Sam's a jivy snack shop opposite the campus of the American University in Beirut, Ad. Verised as the "American Oasis," menus of this restaurant carry a picture of Uncle Sam in striped trousers and star-spangled top hat sipping a cola drink under a desert palm.

With the two top teams in the North State League falling to defeat Saturday, the race for the first half winner seems more scrambled than before. In Saturday's action the Kiwanis downed the Jaycees 8-3 and the V. F. W. edged out the Lions in an extra inning.

The Lions-V. F. W. game was the thriller of the year in Little League games. Aubrey Harrison of the Lions and Burton Jenkins of the V. F. W. hooked up in an old-fashioned pitching duel for six innings with both pitchers allowing three runs. In the fourth Harrison headed his own cause with a tremendous home over the right field fence. In the last of the fifth Jenkins came back to clout one even farther than Harrison's over the left field fence with a teammate on base.

Jenkins' hit gave the V. F. W. a 3-2 lead, but in the top of the sixth the Lions rallied to tie the score on doubles by Harrison and Jackson.

After the six innings had gone by, both teams had to change pitchers since a pitcher can only pitch six innings in one game according to Little League rules.

Coach Eugene Ayers of the V. F. W. went with Dallas Clark on the mound in the seventh. Clark loaded the bases with two walks and a single, and after two were out seemed to be nearly out of trouble. Then it was Harrison again who caused the trouble with a line single to left to drive in one run. A walk to Stevie Noble led in the second run. Then Clark bled down and got Jackson on a pop fly.

In the last of the seventh Mackenzie went in for the Lions with a 5-3 lead in his favor. Mackenzie got two out but in the meantime allowed the V. F. W. to tie the score on two singles and three walks. Tadpole Cates took over the mound chores and faced Clark. He worked the count to three balls and one strike and then missed the strike zone with his fifth pitch and Clark walked, forcing over the winning run.

The win gives the V. F. W. a record of 3-4 while the Lions still are on top of the league with a 5-2 mark.

The home runs were Harrison's second and Jenkins' sixth. At the present rate Jenkins could break some record with his long distance clouting. So far he has six homers in seven games.

In the first game of the double-header, the Kiwanis win came somewhat as a surprise. James Earl Henderson threw a neat six hitter at the Jaycees and his teammates got him the runs he needed. The win was the second straight for the Kiwanis and gives them a record of 2-5 for the year. The Jaycees now own a 4-3 mark to rank second in the league.

Jasper Tripp smashed his third home run of the year for the Jaycees in the fourth inning.

This afternoon the Kiwanis will play the V. F. W. at the Little League park at 5 o'clock.

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Patty Berg credits her putting for her victory in the $7,500 Triangle Round Robin Invitational golf tournament here yesterday even though she drove only three balls into the rough and two into traps during the 90-hole "plus and minus" derby.

"I really practiced long and hard on my putting," said Miss Berg, long-time trouper from St. Andrews, Ill. "It was my putting that won it. I'm back on my putting game, and winning this title has given me back my confidence."

A few moments later, she picked up her check for $1,500 and headed for Chicago to get ready for the start of the Western Open June 14.

Miss Berg, who didn't have a poor round all the way, stacked up plus 73 points to make a run-away of the tourney. She finished 51 points ahead of runner-up Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who had plus 22 points.

Third place went to Betty Dodd of San Antonio, who had 19. Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., was fourth with plus 18. Then came Betty Hicks of Durham N. C., plus 8; Betty MacKinnon of Dallas, plus 7; and Mildred (Babe) Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., plus 6.

Miss Berg saved her finest performance for the closing round, carding a two-under-par 72 over the Homestead's 6,400-yard Cascades Course. She played in a foursome with Mrs. Zaharias, who entered the final round in second place and shot an 83; Louise Suggs of Atlanta, whose 75 left her minus 32; and Jackie Pung of Hawaii, who made an 80 for minus 28.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Tiny Bob Toski was making his first golf tour in 1949 and had shot a 65 to take a temporary lead in the third round of the Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen, Tex.

A sports writer sought him out. "Will you tell me about your round?" the writer asked. "Gee, I ain't used to this!" he exclaimed as he hastened to give the first interview on his prowess as a golfer.

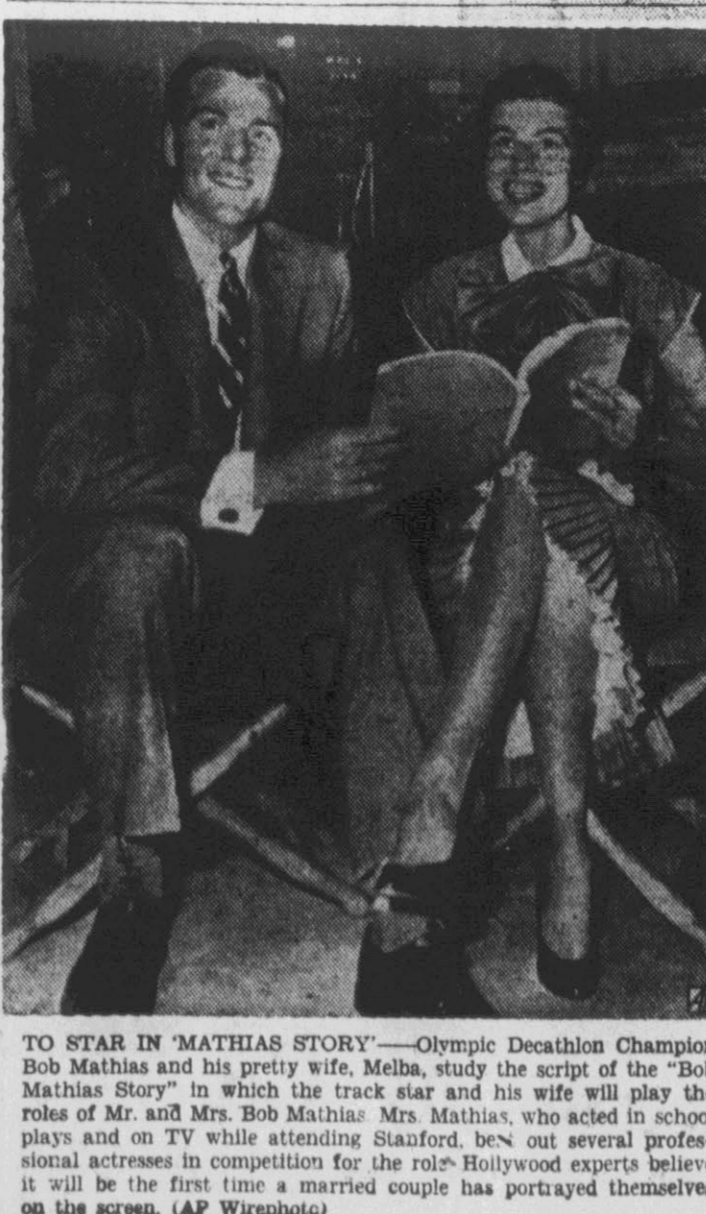

Bob hadn't changed a bit five years later although he had come here to play in the Colonial National Invitation as the hottest golfer on the tour with three first places and the most money won.

Toski, now weighing 127 pounds and one of the smallest men in golf, told how he developed into a top golfer through hard work, what his marriage meant to him, and how one little change in his swing had meant a vast difference at the pay window.

"I had no responsibility before I married this girl," Bob said, looking fondly at his pretty wife across the dining table at Colonial Country Club. "I certainly have it now and she has been the incentive and the inspiration."

A birdie putt on the tenth green at the Miami Open started the romance. The future Mrs. Toski was in the gallery and was attracted by the enthusiasm of Benjamin Bob as he sank that putt. She told a girl friend that Toski had more color than any of the other golfers. Shortly afterward they met formally and a year to a day later—on Dec. 14, 1953—they were married.

Bob has been playing golf 22 of his 27 years. When he was only

Minoso Leading Race For 1954 MVP Award

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, cited by Ted Williams as "potentially the greatest player in the American League," has thrust himself boldly into the running for the most coveted honor the junior circuit has to offer—the Most Valuable Player award.

Largely because of the all-around brilliance of this fleet-footed son of Matanza, Cuba, the Chicago White Sox have been able to keep within striking distance of the league-leading Cleveland Indians.

No player—and that includes Williams, Al Rosen and Yogi Berra—has done more for his club than Minoso. As the season comes to the one-third mark, the 30-year-old outfielder leads the circuit in runs batted in, runs scored and triples. He's tied for the lead in stolen bases and in the top five in hits, home runs, doubles and batting. His team value is reflected in his ability to do a workmanlike job at third base as well as anywhere in the outfield.

Minoso was Chicago's big gun again yesterday as the White Sox swept a double-header from Washington 5-3 and 6-0 to run their winning streak to five straight and stay within eight percentage points of first place. He smashed his 10th home run with a man on base to provide the winning margin in the opener. He collected three singles, drove in his 50th and 51st runs, scored his 46th run and stole his seventh base in the nightcap. He is hitting .338.

Cleveland protected its first-place margin by sweeping a double-header from the Athletics in Philadelphia 2-1 and 7-5 while Brooklyn boosted its National League lead to two games, thrashing the Chicago Cubs 6-4 for its ninth straight.

The Baltimore Orioles held New York to a split in their twin bill to drop the third-place Yankees 3½ games behind the pace. Veteran Joe Coleman, continuing his fine comeback beat the Yankees 7-4 for his sixth victory but the Yankees won the second game 5-2 as Allie Reynolds outpitched Don Larsen.

Boston's Red Sox went on a home run binge to defeat Detroit 7-4. Homers by Ted Lepcio, Milt Bolling, Harry Agganis and Jackie Jensen accounted for all Boston's runs.

Philadelphia's Phillies outslugged the St. Louis Cardinals 11-8 to tie Milwaukee for third place in the National and advance to within a game of the runner-up New York Giants. The Phils got all their runs in the first and seventh innings. Bobby Morgan's grand-slam homer highlighted the six-run first.

The Giants and Cincinnati Redlegs exchanged 3-2 decisions. The Giants won the first game on Monte Irvin's 10th homer of the season in the eighth. The Reds took the nightcap in the ninth when Bob Borkowski singled to score Chuck Harmon from second.

Pittsburgh survived a grand-slam homer by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and won the second game 6-4 after Jim Wilson had pitched the Braves to a 4-0 opening-game victory. The veteran right-hander permitted only four hits in his first start of the season.

A trio of triples paved the way for Cleveland's pair of victories over Philadelphia. Two of them came in the second inning of the first game and helped Bob Feller record the 25th victory of his career. They were hit by Dave Philley and George Strickland. Each scored on a sacrifice fly. The third triple was hit by rookie catcher Hal Naragon with the bases full in the fourth inning to provide the

1,904 Shooting For Open Places

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—No fewer than 1,904 golfers—the biggest entry list in history—shoot today for 129 places in the National Open Championship and the dubious pleasure of trying to beat out Ben Hogan for the title.

The odds against any one of them winning stand at 2,000 to 1 and it's 15 to 1 that any particular golfer won't even qualify.

The big event is scheduled for Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N. J., June 17-19.

The golfers will shoot at 32 locations across the country and the poor fellows who have to take their chances at Cincinnati are the unfortunate ones. Most of the top tournament pros stayed over an extra day after finishing the Western Open yesterday to play for the 15 spots that have been allotted to that area by the United States Golf Assn.

Lloyd Mangrum, the Western Open winner, is one of the 33 players who are exempt from qualifying. Some of the biggest names in the game are among the 88 entries.

They include Bob Toski, who has won five major tournaments this year; Johnny Palmer, the Colonial victor; Felice Torza, last year's PGA runner-up; Las Vegas Open winner Art Wall; Argentina's Roberto de Visenzo; Canada's Gerry Kesselring; Australia's Peter Thomson; Tommy Bolt; Jerry Barber; and Shelly Mayfield.

While all this is going on, Hogan, who will be seeking an unprecedented fifth title, will be playing an exhibition at the Atlantic City Country Club, where he shot a 2-under-par 70 yesterday.

The 20 low scorers of last year are exempt, along with the current PGA champion (Walter Burkemo) and the amateur titleholder (Gene Littler, who since has turned pro). In addition, all former Open champions who want to try their luck are eligible. This is their last free ticket, though. Starting in 1955, they'll have to qualify along with the rank and file.

Winning Streak Snapped At Four Falkland Splits Two Games

FALKLAND—Winterville snapped Falkland's four game win streak Saturday with a 6-4 victory, but lost a second game on Sunday 5-2.

In the game played at Winterville Saturday it was all Winterville for seven innings. The home team jumped into a quick lead and at the end of seven innings held a 6-0 margin.

Paul Jones of Falkland led off Falkland's eighth inning with a home run to right centerfield. In the ninth Falkland came back for three more runs, but Winterville stopped the rally short to win 6-4.

Pollard pitched the win for Winterville, allowing 10 hits and striking out five. Ken Hall pitched eight innings for Falkland and was charged with his first loss of the season in Tobacco Belt League play. William Powell Watson pitched the final frame for Falkland.

Shivers, with a home run and a single, led Winterville's hitting. Pollard also got two for four. Peck Stokes got four hits in a losing Falkland cause.

Mark Stansell silenced the Winterville bats on Sunday as he pitched Falkland to a 5-2 win. He allowed only four hits and he struck out 10 batters. He got off to a good start by striking out five of the first six batters to face him.

Falkland jumped into a 1-0 lead in the second inning Sunday, but Winterville came back to score two runs in the third inning. It stayed 2-1 until the fifth inning when Falkland scored three runs to go ahead again 4-2. An insurance run was added in the eighth.

Jones, Ralph Caldwell and Red Painter each got two hits for Falkland Sunday. No Winterville batter got more than one hit.

Brownie Tripp was the losing pitcher. He pitched seven and two-thirds innings before being relieved by Bobby Coggins. Coggins made only one pitch when a batter was put out trying to steal third.

This week end's split of the two games leaves Falkland with six wins and six losses in Tobacco Belt League play while Winterville has won four and lost seven games.

Golfers Report Many Low Scores

NEW YORK (AP)—Give the nation's golfers the right handicaps and Ben Hogan is a dead duck.

Beniam Ben will shoot his record for National Golf Day—in which the duffer of the country match their handicap scores against his—at Baltusrol Saturday and he'll have his work cut out for him.

Unless he can get down in the 50's—and even Ben can't do that—Molly Reilly of Sonoma, Calif., has him beat. Molly shot a 130-74-56 last Saturday in the annual day, sponsored jointly by the PGA and Life Magazine.

Vice President Nixon had a 94-22-72; 5-year-old Frankie Dye of San Francisco had a 137-69-68 and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado had a 73-2-71.

The best gross score reported among the estimated 125,000 golfers who took part was a 62-1-61, turned in by Charles Dudley, former Southern Amateur champion, at the Greenville, N. C., Country Club.

Billy Joe Patton Among Big Group

BURLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Ninety players, 31 of them amateurs, competed here today for six places in the U. S. Open golf tournament. In all, 1,904 players will seek 129 places in the tournament in 36-hole qualifying play at 32 clubs.

Dykes Shuffling Orioles' Line-Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Dykes is going after Casey Stengel's title—the lineup-shuffling champion of the American League.

Dykes tried out another new batting order yesterday at Yankee Stadium. It was No. 28 by unofficial count of the men who travel with his low-flying Baltimore Orioles.

"I've got a player — I won't mention any names — but no matter where I put him, he comes up with men on bases," said Dykes. "You could pull his name out of a hat and he'd be up there with two men on. I even tried him leading off. Then the catcher and pitcher get on base for him.

"Our hitting is just terrific. That's the trouble with us. No mystery about it. Look at the averages. We've scored fewer runs than any club in either league and it isn't even close.

"That poor Turley never gets any runs. The most he ever had with us or the Browns was three. Once this year I took him out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. We got four in the ninth and won 7-3 or something like that but he wasn't in there."

While Dykes moaned about his hitting—or lack of it—he glowed about his pitching staff.

"We haven't had more than three or four bad-pitched games yet. Turley is going to be a great pitcher, one of the best I've seen along in years. I think the game he pitched Saturday was one of his best although he still didn't have his real good fast ball back. He's a great kid with a wonderful attitude. No gripes, no nerves, no fires that ball."

Lloyd Mangrum Wins Western

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tournament-wise Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., finally made the winners' circle in a 1954 golf tournament here yesterday but he had to go overtime to do it.

After turning in a blazing finish of 66, five under par, he captured the $2,400 top prize in the Western Open Golf Tournament by nosing out Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff.

In the last round of play, Mangrum came from four strokes behind to overtake and pass Roberto de Vicenzo, Buenos Aires; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco and Chicago; and Jack Burke, Kiamasha Lake, N. Y. His 66 gave him a 277 total and a tie with Kroll, who had headed Mangrum by a stroke going into the final round.

In the sudden-death finale, Kroll sliced his drive into the rough at the right of the first extra hole and took a par 4. Mangrum, right down the middle, laid his second shot eight feet from the pin and dropped the put for a birdie.

De Vicenzo stayed even with par with a 71 for 278 and third money of $1,400. Kroll won $1,800. Burke's 70 for a 278 total was worth $1,200. Rosburg went into the final round tied with de Vicenzo and two strokes ahead of the field. He shot a 77 for 284, winning only $320.

Second Man Arrested For New York's Rape-Slayings

NEW YORK (AP)—A schoolgirl rape victim died yesterday shortly after her alleged attacker was jailed under bail on charges of committing the assault and three other murders.

John Francis Roche, 27, a husky, good-looking steamfitter, was the first of two alleged sex killers seized by police over the weekend. Police first got their hands on him when he was stopped Saturday for driving through a red light.

The second alleged killer, arrested yesterday, was Norman Roye, an 18-year-old Negro who police said admitted raping and killing three Negro women.

He aroused suspicions, police reported, as he stood on a rooftop munching crackers and watching detectives examine the body of his latest alleged victim, 66-year-old Mrs. Isadora Goomes.

His open shirt revealed scratches across the stomach. Police began to question him and under intense questioning, they reported, he admitted strangling and raping Mrs. Goomes and two other women.

The most recent victim charged against Roche was Dorothy Westwater, 14, who died without regaining consciousness four days after she was raped, stabbed and bludgeoned. Her crumpled body was found last Wednesday in the hallway of the apartment house where she lived with her family in Manhattan.

The attack spread terror through the neighborhood, allegedly stirred up by the sex slaying of waitress Marion Brown, 17, less than two months before.

The killing of Miss Brown on April 8 was one of the murders with which Roche was charged. Other slayings that police said he also admitted were the fatal stabbings of Mrs. Rosa Chronik, 85, last Nov. 15, and taxi driver Alex Jablonka, 43 on April 16.

Roche kept his curly head bowed at his arraignment. He was held for a hearing June 21.

An ex-convict, he was reported to have a police record of burglary an larceny dating back to 1944. For a time he was confined to a mental institution in Monticello, N. Y.

However, Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Heriman told reporters: "There is no basis for believing there is anything wrong mentally with Roche, both on his criminal record or talking to him."

In questioning their second alleged killer, police said they learned that the crackers Roye was eating when first questioned had been bought with five pennies stolen from the victim's pocket-book.

Police said Roye told of meeting Mrs. Goomes as she entered the building where she lived and of throwing a noose around her neck. They said the youth demanded money and when her purse produced only five pennies, he tightened the noose and demanded more. Then "she just died on me," Roye was quoted as saying.

He then ravished her lifeless body, police said.

Similar rape-slayings which police said he admitted were those of Mrs. Margaret Branch, 40, Jan. 2, and Mrs. Kathleen Stewart, whose body was found in the Polo Grounds May 28.

Roye was booked on charges of homicide and rape.

Summer's High Water Demand Isn't Felt Yet

Are Greenville people using more water now that it has turned warm? "Not much," Greenville Utilities Consultant Martin Swartz says, "because it still has not been so hot that people have to do a lot of extra watering of the lawn and kids spend much time under the hose."

Swartz then got out figures which show that during the month of May Greenville patrons did use 5,000,000 more gallons than in April and March. He said this increase was nothing near what the increase would amount to in July.

During last month there was a consumption of 65,000,000 gallons of water. Last July the consumption amounted to 70,000,000 and figures are showing that Greenville citizens are using about 10,000,000 gallons more water this year than last, which means this July Swartz expects about 80,000,000 gallons will be used.

Why the increase? "That's because there are many more homes using water this year than last year. We have had many new homes built here in the last 12 months," Swartz stated.

Swartz explained also this morning that new methods of air conditioning stores and homes here are being made so the owners will not have to use so much water but instead use the same water over and over again to air condition their places. He explained that this new method of having a tower cuts their water bill considerably.

WNCT Schedule

At the end of last week the proposed 800-foot tower for television station WNCT Channel 9, Greenville, had been extended to 500 feet. Bill Angle, construction foreman of the Ace High Tower Company, said, "In two more weeks we will have completed 800 feet."

Moving the Antenna

In order to keep off the air time to a minimum, station officials have decided to purchase new coaxial cable instead of taking time to transfer the present cable being used on the present 250-foot tower.

"We hope to keep off the air time down to two days," says General Manager A. Hartwell Campbell. "Unless we run into unforeseen delays we can meet that schedule."

Total One Week

Combining the moving of the antenna with the erection of the coaxial cable will take about a total of one week, according to Construction Foreman Angle. "In other words," he says, "we hope to be almost through in three weeks from now."

Special Award

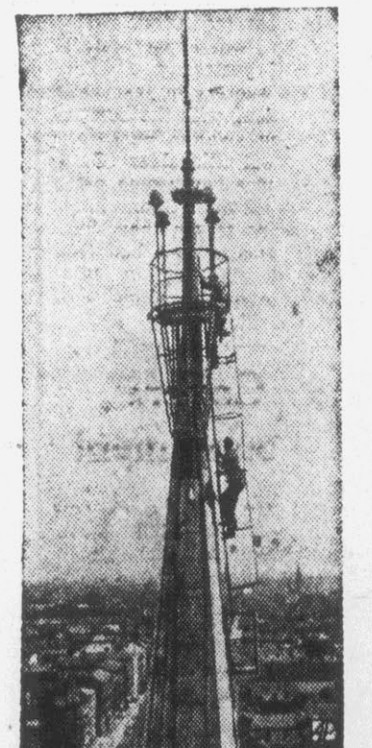

Tuesday, June 8, the giving of a special award will be televised over WNCT. J. H. Waldrop, Vice-President and Comptroller of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, will be recognized by the U. S. Treasury Department for his work in the sale of U. S. Savings bonds. The award will be made during the time from 12:15 to 12:30 p.m.

Show Change

Beginning Friday, June 11, from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m., "Playtime" will replace "Private Secretary" for the summer months.

Horse Racing

If the scheduled major league baseball game is over in time Saturday June 12 the Belmont Stakes races will be telecast over WNCT.

"Lucky Street"

Emcee Bill Adcox has brought to WNCT a new show which started last week, "Lucky Street." From 10:15 to 10:30 each Tuesday and Thursday, Bill announces a lucky street in some town within WNCT's telecast range. The first person who lives on the particular street to call in to WNCT receives 14 gifts from sponsoring merchants.

Says India Might Join In Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's ambassador to India George V. Allen, said today that country might undertake a defense alliance with its neighbors provided it felt Asians were taking the lead.

Allen, former envoy in such diplomatic hot spots as Iran and Yugoslavia, stressed India's strong feeling of nationalism time and again in a copyrighted interview in the weekly magazine U. S. News and World Report.

After reciting India's refusal to allow U. S. planes to fly over the country with French troops for Indochina, Indian opposition to U. S. military aid to Pakistan and other matters in dispute between India and America, Allen said he is nonetheless certain India would fight for its own independence and "my guess is they would" fight for independent neighbors such as Burma as well.

He said chances for India's taking part in an Asian defense system "would depend somewhat on how it came about."

"If they felt the Oriental powers themselves were leading and we were merely backstopping nonaggression with our power and resources," he said, "I think that might happen."

Claim Offensive In Korea Planned

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The Interior Ministry's Taitao News Agency said today the Chinese Reds are readying an all-out offensive in Korea if the Geneva conference breaks down and have massed 250,000 men on the Indochina border.

Taitao claims well informed underground contacts on the Red held mainland but its report could not be verified.

Snow Strands 8 Autos In Rockies

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—Eight carloads of tourists stranded in deep snow on Trial Ridge Road awaited rescuers early today.

Chief Ranger Barton Herschler said several plows were working toward the cars and he was certain the road leading from the vehicles to Estes Park, a distance of about 18 miles, would be open in a few hours.

Herschler said 25 to 30 persons were stuck at the 12,100-foot level along the Continental Divide as a summer storm lashed Colorado with snow, rain, hail and high winds across the eastern part of the state.

The blizzard blew into Rocky Mountain National Park as scores of tourists and local travelers were motoring along the highest sustained highway in the world.

By dark, Herschler said, snowdrifts one to two feet deep blocked the motorists.

The ranger chief said the motor-

Christian Science Board Calls For Understanding

BOSTON — Spiritual understanding alone can heal today's widespread distrust and discord and assure universal freedom and security. The Christian Science Board of Directors said today in a special statement.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world heard the Directors' message at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Stressing the universal nature of spiritual understanding, the Directors said that the healing promises of practical Christianity apply "to every human being and every group and nation."

"When we look at the world and its problems, we cannot fail to be grateful that the teaching of Christ Jesus has so broadly and deeply registered in it," the Directors said. This teaching, they declared, offers a lasting solution to confusion in government, conflicting national interests, and world tension.

Named President of the Mother Church for the coming year was Mr. William B. Knox of Boston, Massachusetts, a Christian Science practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for almost 50 years. His term of office is one year.

Mr. Knox emphasized the conviction of Christian Scientists that God's law and power are scientifically applicable to human problems and available to all. He said they base this conviction on the

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market swung upward in the early afternoon today despite scattered backwardness in some areas.

The steels, aircrafts and motors were the best of the major divisions.

There were no definitely depressed sections but minus signs appeared in motors, radio-televisions and metals.

Trading was quiet and proceeded at a pace even less than the low 1,720,000 shares registered Friday when the market was falling.

Among higher stocks were U. S. Steel, Studebaker, Boeing, United Aircraft, Zenith Radio, American Telephone Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe Railroad, New York Central, Cities Service, and Burlington Mills.

Lower were General Motors International Harvester, Philco, American Cyanamid, American Woolen, Texas Co., and Southern Pacific.

The network plans to transmit a daily program for a month. Nations participating are Britain, Belgium, Denmark, France West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy and Switzerland. Sponsors hope the net can be made permanent.
