California Demos Ignore National Party Criticism

Roosevelt, Condon Triumph

By MORRIE LANDSBERG SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's unique run-on-both-tickets political system was shaken by a surprising Democratic vote in yesterday's primary election.

The Democratic surge overrode national party criticism of James Roosevelt and helped the eldest son of the late New Deal President win nomination for Congress from heavily Democratic Los Angeles. He'll oppose Republican Theodore (Ted) Owings in November.

Similarly, Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.), also renounced by Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell, was renominated and will face John F. Baldwin Jr., the Republican he defeated in 1952.

And right on down the line, Democrats nominated Democrats for national and state offices—in sharp contrast to previous elections when many Republicans filled on both tickets, won both nominations and thus were elected in the primary.

Democratic voters obviously paid no need to charges of infidelity against Roosevelt by his estranged wife and to the listing of Condon as a security risk by the Atomic Energy Commission. Roosevelt called his wife's accusations untrue. Condon testified he was never a Communist member or sympathizer.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight easily won his own Republican nomination for that office but trailed Richard P. Graves on the Democratic ticket. A registered Republican until December, the 47-year-old Graves was a political unknown until he entered the campaign.

Rep. Samuel W. Yorty (D-Calif.), whom Roosevelt seeks to succeed in the House, maintained a 2-1 Democratic lead over Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.). Warren and Kuchel built huge majorities for their own GOP nominations. Veteran Republican state officials, consistent two-party winners in the past also were forced into runoff.

The returns all added up to a repudiation of the double nomination tradition in California and a reawakening of partisan voting. And three little letters probably had a lot to do with it.

The Democratic trend came in an election in which candidates continued the cross-filing system of running on both tickets. But for the first time in 40 years the ballot identified them by party. The abbreviation "Dem" or "Rep" followed the names.

The Democrats for years have outnumbered Republicans — by 760,000 for yesterday's election — but under the cross-filing without party labels Republican incumbents usually won on both tickets.

Only Atty Gen. Edmund G. Brown among state officials was assured of election. And he is the only Democrat holding a statewide job. He defeated former Republican Atty. Gen. Fred N. Hower of Los Angeles on the GOP ticket by a lopsided vote.

Graves, for 20 years executive director of the League of California Cities and once Warren's civil defense chief, claimed victory on the Democratic ticket in a statement declaring, "Knight has shot his

Utilities Board Has Busy Meet

Opening Of Bids, Property Deal, Paving And Budget Are Discussed

By BOB BOYETTE Reflector Staff Writer Bids will be open and the contract let for air conditioning City Hall next week, it was decided by the Greenville Utilities Commissioners at a meeting held last night.

Opening of bids will take place Tuesday, June 15, at 2 o'clock in the superintendent's office at City Hall. Five companies are to receive the specifications for the air conditioning so there will probably be five bids on the work.

At a joint meeting Wednesday at 9 a.m. the Commissioners and City Council will let the contract for the air conditioning. Under the agreement between the Commissioners and Council, the installation and operation costs will be paid by both the Utilities Commission and the City of Greenville on a 60-40 basis.

To Negotiate With School Board A committee composed of Commissioners John Clark and Reynolds May was authorized to negotiate with the Greenville School Board regarding property adjacent to Third Street School and the Utilities plant.

The Commission desires to exchange some property in that area so a fence for the children's protection can be built around the Utilities plant.

The property to be considered for exchange is the Utilities Commission property adjacent to the school and school property adjacent to the Tar River.

To Pave Street After a committee reported on the advisability of putting curb and gutter on black top on the road leading from Third Street to the Utilities plant, the Commissioners voted approval of this action.

Curb and gutter will have to be placed only on the west side of the street since it is already on the east side. Cost of the operation is estimated at approximately $4,000.

After the street is completed it will be turned over to the City Street Department for maintenance. The city will also install necessary catch basins.

Budget Is Discussed The annual budget for expansion and improvement was discussed by the Commissioners at length last night.

Hostile Molotov All But Kills Chances Of Indochina Peace

Geneva Hopes Are Dashed

By MAX HARRELSON GENEVA (AP) — Western diplomats said grimly today Soviet Foreign Minister N. S. Molotov had all but killed chances of peace in war-torn Indochina by his latest policy statement.

Outlining his "peace terms" late yesterday to the nine-party Indochina conference, Molotov not only raised new issues but leveled charges which aroused Western resentment.

Western leaders prepared to voice their reaction formally at another Indochina session today.

A U. S. spokesman called the Molotov speech "purely destructive." A British spokesman said it contained nothing helpful. The French called it "extremely aggressive" and said it contained "provocative terms."

Western delegates were as much disturbed by the hostile remarks in Molotov's speech as by his actual proposals.

He accused the United States of masterminding a plan to undermine the Geneva conference and extend the Indochina war.

He criticized the policies of Premier Joseph Laniel's government, which is now facing a severe test in the French National Assembly.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault hastened to Paris immediately after Molotov's speech to take part this afternoon in the assembly debate on Indochina.

A U. S. spokesman declared Molotov's speech was designed to have an unfavorable impact on French public opinion, which threatens to overturn the shaky Laniel government.

Western hopes received their biggest jolt when Molotov got down to the Communist terms for an Indochina peace.

Some quarters had expected him to make important concessions, but instead he toughened his stand and raised new issues.

He proposed that the conference begin discussions immediately on a political settlement in Indochina without waiting for agreement to end the fighting.

Other delegates thought they had gotten around this difficulty when the Communists agreed three weeks ago to give priority to the cease-fire discussions.

Molotov also reiterated the Red position that the problems of the three Indochinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia are identical and should be taken up together.

Delegates from Laos and Cambodia have threatened to walk out of the conference if their problem is lumped with that of Viet Nam.

Backed by the Western nations, they contend there is civil war in Viet Nam, but that their own territories have been invaded by Communist-led Vietnamese troops.

Communist withdrawal of the Com-munists. Molotov also called for discussions on the sovereignty of the three Indochinese states, even though they all claim to be independent.

He called for withdrawal of all foreign troops — meaning French forces — before elections could be held.

At the same time, he stuck to his demands that supervision of the armistice agreements be handled by a mixed commission of Communist and non-Communist nations, made up of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and Sweden.

The West already has rejected the Communist supervision plan.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden advanced his own proposal yesterday that policing of the armistice be placed in the hands of the five Asian nations whose premiers recently met at Colombo, Ceylon. They are India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia.

U. S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith supported Eden's proposals.

These statements, after more than six weeks of intense debate, left the conference still tightly deadlocked on every major point.

The same was true of the Korean question which is being considered by a 19-nation group here.

Democrat Poses Problem For Administration

Offers Lead GOP Battle

By ROWLAND EVANS JR. WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) has posed a possibly ticklish political problem for the Eisenhower administration by offering to lead a fight for its own foreign trade program.

Gore said today in an interview he believes the great majority of Senate Democrats would back a proposal he made yesterday to force a vote on the issue at this session of Congress.

President Eisenhower asked Congress earlier this year to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years and to vote him added powers to cut import duties up to 5 per cent a year in each of the coming three years.

But key Republicans in Congress made no move to act on these recommendations and, last month, Eisenhower let word out that he would accept a one-year extension of the present law. Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee—where all revenue measures are handled first—yesterday introduced a bill to give another year of life to the trade agreements act, which expires Saturday. Congress can extend it retroactively.

Gore said his plan was to try to tack the President's trade program to a general tax revision bill due for Senate debate later in the month. This is a revenue measure that already has passed the House. Thus, Gore's move would be technically proper.

He said the only factors that could change his plan would be a return by Eisenhower to his basic request or announced willingness of Senate Republican leaders to press for the full three-year

Republican comment in the Senate was sparse, but Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, voiced quick support for Gore's move. He said the Tennessee spoke for "many Democrats."

Some of these who rallied behind Gore included Senators Fulbright of Arkansas, Mansfield of Montana, Humphrey of Minnesota, Long of Louisiana, Sparkman of Alabama, Magnuson of Washington and Kefauver of Tennessee.

There was, however, one Democratic dissent. Sen. Byrd of Virginia said in an interview: "Of course I am for reciprocal trade and I am for the President's long-range program. But this seems too important a matter to handle as a rider (to the tax revision bill). We should have full and extensive hearings on it."

Witness Cohn On Stand, Turns On Adams

Firm On 'Hostage' Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn testified today Army Counselor John G. Adams coupled talk of sending Pvt. G. David Schine overseas with efforts to halt the McCarthy subcommittee's investigations of Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and the Army loyalty board.

Cohn, under questioning by Army counsel Joseph N. Welch in the 30th day of the Army-McCarthy hearings, said Adams left an impression that "what happened to Schine depended on what Adams thought."

Cohn insisted he didn't care whether or not Schine went overseas but said he thought Adams had been "nasty" about it.

Adams has testified that Cohn flew into a rage and threatened to "wreck the Army" when told Schine probably would be sent overseas as most draftees were. He quoted Cohn as saying also that Robert T. Stevens would be through as Secretary of the Army. Cohn has denied making such statements.

Democrat, mentioned among other things a $10,000 payment McCarthy received from the Lustron Corp., and the question of whether McCarthy had converted to personal use any funds contributed to McCarthy for his fight against communism.

Symington read into the record the content of today's McCarthy-Army hearings a letter to McCarthy, setting up the conditions.

McCarthy termed the Symington letter "a very vicious smear."

The people looking in on television can see how low a man can sink... how low an alleged man can sink," McCarthy retorted.

Symington offered a written agreement to McCarthy, asking him to sign it.

McCarthy refused to sign, but stated he would consent to go before a special committee if one is created.

Symington had proposed that a special Senate committee be appointed by Vice President Nixon, after conferring with the majority and minority leaders of the Senate, to hear McCarthy.

McCarthy said he would "do almost anything necessary" to get Symington on the witness stand.

City Voter Registration Slow; Will End June 14

City registration books will be open through Monday, June 14, instead of closing Saturday, June 12 as first reported, City Manager James S. Hughes said this morning.

Registration of city voters, who are not already on the books, has been slow. Mrs. Rosa Brown, who is registering in City Hall, said that only three new people have been registered in five days the books have been opened at City Hall.

She reported that people seem to be interested in the coming bond vote as many have stopped by to check whether they are already registered.

She also said she had transferred several from her books to the books at the Court House.

Registration for all people living south of Fifth Street is taking place in City Hall while those living north of Fifth Street register in the Court House.

This is not a new registration, but all people who are not now registered must register if they desire to vote in the $250,000 bond election on Tuesday, June 15.

Says Economy Is Poised For Upturn

By FRANK O'BRIEN WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser says the nation's economy is poised for an early upturn, spurred by new developments in defense and business expansion spending.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, told a news conference yesterday that if unemployment follows its usual seasonal pattern, there would be about four million jobs by July. That would be nearly 700,000 more than the government has reported as out of work last month.

But, Burns said, he expects a rising trend of business activity to whittle unemployment sharply in the fall.

"There is evidence that the decline has been leveled off," Burns said. "The records indicate an earlier recovery than we had expected."

There are very encouraging signs for an overall recovery in the near future in non-agricultural industry."

Burns covered virtually all aspects of the economy in the course of answering reporters' questions. He seemed to find encouraging signs everywhere.

His first news conference as White House economic adviser grew out of a question asked at the President's own meeting with reporters last week—whether the administration had actively combatted the business downturn that set in last Summer. Eisenhower told reporters Burns could best answer that question.

year ends on June 30 the government will have spent about two billion dollars less on defense than was predicted in Eisenhower's budget message to Congress last January. The President's prediction was $39,300,000,000.

Thus Burns said, defense spending may sink by only about three billion dollars in the next 12 months instead of five billion dollars as forecast in January. That, he said, is because some of the reductions expected in fiscal 1955 will have already taken place.

Burns disclosed that the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council—a group of about 100 of the nation's leading businessmen—had made a special survey of plans for spending this calendar year on new plant and equipment.

The survey, Burns said, appeared to indicate that this spending would at least equal last year's record $38,400,000,000 outlay and might even go higher.

Burns said unemployment usually increases 15 to 20 per cent in June and another 2 or 3 per cent in July. If the pattern holds true this year, he said, unemployment would go to about four million by July. But a fall upturn in business should cut unemployment "fairly rapidly," he added.

Burns cited these other favorable economic signs: 1. A continuing construction boom with new contracts—representing future work—being signed in May at a dollar rate 35 per cent greater than a year ago.

2. An upturn in orders to manufacturers for durable goods and an increase in new factory orders generally.

Vietminh Bolster Surrounding Posts

By FORREST EDWARDS HANOI, Indochina (AP) — French planes, tanks and artillery pounded small concentrations of Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas in the Red River delta today.

The main rebel forces meanwhile took a firmer hold on their semicircle positions just outside the delta defense perimeter, strengthening the pinners they are expected to try to close soon around this war capital.

The French high command spokes-man said upwards of 100 Vietminh were killed or captured in mop-up operations within a few miles from Hanoi. French Union losses were relatively light, the spokesman added.

The French announced they would return 367 seriously wounded and ill Vietminh troops June 11 and another 302 June 14.

The prisoners are being returned in exchange for wounded French Union forces which the Vietminh allowed to be evacuated from the fallen French fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

The June 11 exchange will be at Dinh Cau, 35 miles northwest of Hanoi and the June 14 exchange at the bridge crossing the Thu Bon River, a few miles south of Tourane.

The agreement on exchange points was received today from Vietminh headquarters in answer to the offer radiated by the French June 2. Under the agreement, all hostilities will stop in both areas from midnight before the exchange to the following midnight.

Seven Britons In China Released In Past 10 Days

HONG KONG (AP)—Seven Britons have reached Hong Kong from the Red Chinese city of Shanghai within the past 10 days, it was disclosed today. It is the largest number of persons the Communists have released in many months.

It was not known here whether the arrivals resulted from the British-Chinese agreement reached in Geneva last week to release a number of British civilians.

Some of the arrivals' exit permits were issued before the agreement was reached.

The refugees refused to comment on conditions in Shanghai or to pose for pictures.

Britons here said there still are some 200 British—business people and their dependents—left in Shanghai.

The agreement on exchange points was received today from Vietminh headquarters in answer to the offer radiated by the French June 2. Under the agreement, all hostilities will stop in both areas from midnight before the exchange to the following midnight.

In Indochina's other major city, Saigon, residents were awakened early today by the booming of artillery fire as French Union troops beat back an attack on a post four miles away.

Hundreds Attend Farm And Home Week Events

RALEIGH (AP)—Two talks by Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and dairy exhibits and demonstrations were features of today's program for Farm and Home Week at North Carolina State College.

Morse was scheduled to speak at the morning session on "How to Make More Farm Profits." The topic of his afternoon talk was "National Dairy Problems as They Affect the North Carolina Dairy Industry."

Dr. R. L. Beukenkamp, agricultural attaché of the embassy of the Netherlands, Washington is slated to speak tonight on "Problems in International Trade."

Hundreds of farm men and women from throughout the state are attending Farm and Home Week. It will close tomorrow night with a pageant, "Green A-Growing."

ment and better rural living that we've seen in my day."

Twenty-two local farm leaders and agricultural workers from eight counties took part in the education discussion. The counties include Chatham, Wilson, Forsyth, Orange, Stokes, Rutherford, Ashe and Rockingham. The representatives offered suggestions for planning and putting into action a long-time county rural improvement program.

The statewide challenge program was started in 1951 and has spread into 88 counties.

Reporting on the Chatham County program, J. B. Snipes, Chatham Agent, said "our program, divided into home, farm, and community improvement activities, is designed to encourage farm families to make the most efficient use of their land, labor and equipment."

Objections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Ricans on trial for staging a wild shooting spree in the House of Representatives objected strenuously today when their lawyers sought to lay the groundwork for possible pleadings of insanity.

The four, particularly Mrs. Lolita Lebron, began talking excitedly to their lawyers as cross-examination questions touched on whether or not they "looked nervous" after the shooting in which five congressmen were wounded last March 1.

In a bench conference the court-appointed defense lawyers said past court trials indicated such questioning was necessary in possible pleadings of insanity.

Later the defense lawyers told newsmen Mrs. Lebron's whispered protests of "no, no, no" were in objection to any such move. They said the four defendants, who have steadfastly refused psychiatric examinations, want to preserve the "political character" of the demonstration.

Coroner's Jury Returns Suicide Verdict In Death Of Woman

A Coroner's Jury ruled last night that Betty Lou Gurganus died as a result of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

The jury returned their verdict after hearing the husband of the deceased woman tell of walking in the door of the room in which his wife was mortally wounded and seeing her with the gun pressed against her temple with the hammer cocked just before the gun went off.

Similar testimony was given by Lucille Crawford, a cousin of Gurganus, and was the only other person in the house at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Gurganus was shot in the afternoon of June 1 at the home of her father-in-law in Winterville. She and her husband, a policeman, had made their home at 1621 Berkeley Road in Greenville.

Gurganus testified on the witness stand that he and his wife had been separated for about two days and that he had been staying with his parents in Winterville and she with hers.

The woman's husband stated that he was asleep in a back bedroom of the house when his wife came in. He said he and Mrs. Gurganus talked for about an hour and he then got up and went into the kitchen to make a sandwich.

Gurganus noted that he went into the front bedroom of the house and his wife soon came in. He stated that he asked his wife to take two sleeping tablets and get some rest because he knew that she was upset. He said she then left the room.

The husband said he soon went to the back bedroom of the house.

"I opened the door and saw her with her back to me. I saw the gun hammer cocked back," Gurganus testified. "I hollered, or tried to holler. I don't know what I said."

Lucille Crawford testified that she was in the house at the time of the shooting. She stated that she had been living with the Gurganus family for nine years. The 17-year-old witness told substantially the same story of the events leading up to the fatal shooting. She indicated that when Gurganus and his wife went into the front bedroom she, Lucille, went into the back room to make up the bed.

Lucille stated that while she was cleaning up the room, Betty Lou Gurganus came in and asked her to leave. The young witness said that she did not comply with the request at first and Mrs. Gurganus asked her a second time.

She noted that Gurganus soon came back, opened the door to the bedroom and started yelling "Don't do that!" Lucille said the gun went off at that time.

"Did you see James when he started to the back?" Bloom asked. "I saw him in the kitchen," she replied.

"How soon after he opened the door did you hear the shot?" the solicitor questioned.

"It all happened instantly," she answered.

Gun Identified

Deputy Sheriff Duke Andrews who investigated the shooting identified a gun which was shown to him as being the death weapon. The deputy sheriff said that he found a small amount of blood on the handle of the weapon. He reported that he found the bullet in the next room to the bedroom and said that it had passed through the wall and was lying on the floor.

Other Witnesses

Three witnesses, L. C. Forlines, Jolly Harris, and Alvin Cayton, told of going to the aid of the wounded woman immediately following the shooting.

Mrs. Hurst Hostess To Homemakers' Club

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Charles M. Hurst Sr. entertained the Homemakers' Club Thursday night at her home on Main Street. The large living room was decorated with beautiful Madonna lilies and feverfew and the dining table, covered with lace, was centered with a lovely arrangement of summer flowers.
Promptly at 8 o'clock the president, Mrs. Harvey Roberson, called the meeting to order, then she read the minutes for the secretary, Mrs. Robert Taylor, who was absent. After useful household hints were given in response to the roll call, the treasurer, Mrs. C. M. Hurst, gave a good financial report. The Home Demonstration Club requested the cooperation of the Homemakers in the cancer drive and asked the group to solicit Board Street, Green Street and part of Main. Several members immediately volunteered to take this territory. Mrs. Lola House reported a collection of $10.00 for "hat day."
Following the business session the president welcomed Mrs. Johnny House as a new member.
During the social hour, Mrs. N. C. Everett won the bulb contest by a margin of one and Mrs. Nellie Taylor captured the guessing box. Bingo was enjoyed until ten o'clock with many prize winners. The hostess, assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Cartwright Taylor and Mrs. William Hurst, served ice cream, cookies and nuts to Mesdames Hattie Hardy, Alton Osborne, George Ross, Henry Everett, Mack Wynn, Harvey Roberson, R. E. Grimes, Nellie Taylor, J. Clayton Keel, Johnny House and Walter Swindell.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. T. Hurst Thursday, June 17, at 8 p. m.

Questions On A Woman's Age 'Just Nosiness' In Many Cases

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A Mrs. Edward Nicholson was haled into a New York lower court recently and charged with falsifying her age on three motor vehicle registrations.

It seems that Mrs. Nicholson, in three separate registrations the same year, listed herself as being born in 1914, 1915 and 1918.
Two Special Sessions justices, cavaliers and wise men both, dismissed the charges, and Mrs. Nicholson breezed out of court. At this moment, Mrs. Nicholson's correct age is still her own secret.

But the discouraging part about the story, triumphant as has been Mrs. Nicholson's victory for all women, is that every last person who hears about the case is going to conclude she was born at least, in 1914—and most other women are automatically going to add another five years to that, deducing she really was born in 1909. The normal number of years a woman clips from her true age, if she's going to clip, is five.

I'm glad Mrs. Nicholson took liberties with her motor registration, and I wish some brave female would fight the business of revealing her age publicly right up to the Supreme Court.

I can see why my doctor should know my age; why an insurance company should know what the terms of their gamble is. But I must say, most times I run across those little age questions, about the only reason I can find is simple, uncomplicated nosiness. I see no reason why my bank, for instance, should be privy to my year of birth, provided they can be assured I'm over 21. I don't really think the number of years I've been around has any direct bearing on my opening a charge account, provided my credit is good.
As nearly as I can figure out, there are two specific types of prevarication which are not only acceptable but smiled upon indulgently by the most passionate seekers of unvarnished truth. One is a woman's own statement of her years. The other is a man's account of the size of a fish he almost caught. These, except on questionnaires, are accepted as facts of life.

It would be very pleasant, of course, if public opinion in connection with a woman's age could be truly educated to a point where the whole subject was without meaning. I believe it is Miss Marlene Dietrich who is so fed up with speculation about how old she is that she now tells everybody brass enough to inquire that she is 71. This sounds like a good idea to me, and if I had nerve enough I'd adopt it, too.

Perhaps even better, though, is Mrs. Nicholson's way of completely confusing the nosy ones by using a different birth year each time.

Anyway, the justices who vindicated Mrs. Nicholson summed up the situation neatly by commenting in their decision: "... the courts are not unmindful that age, so far as our sisters are concerned, is singularly relative, and gallantry exacts an appreciation and understanding of our lady's age as one of the most gracious virtues in men."

The only problem left is to make other women accept this same gracious mantle of virtue.

INITIAL SUCCESS
BRUNSWICK, Maine (AP)—When their first child was born six years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Albert Gamme named him Doue Albert. As their other babies arrived, they stayed right with the initials D.A.G. Now they also have David Alfred, 5; Dennis Armand, 4; Daniel Arthur, 3; twins Doris Ann and Donald Anthony, 2; and Dominic Andre, 8 months.

Peter Rabbit Is Safe From Fox

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (AP)—Thornton W. Burgess let the world in on a literary secret today—Reddy Fox isn't ever going to catch up with Peter Rabbit.

The 80-year-old author-naturalist, whose fictional animals have delighted children for 42 years said in an interview he plans to keep Peter always one jump ahead of his hungry, crafty pursuer.
"There never will be a tragedy in the Burgess bedtime stories," the author added firmly. "It comes into a child's life soon enough."
Burgess, a resident of Springfield, Mass., is vacationing in New Brunswick.

TEN DIE—An unidentified onlooker surveys what remains of two passenger cars which crashed head-on in a fiery collision, killing 10 persons. The wreck occurred on Maryland 416 near Owings, Md., as one of the vehicles approached a curve on the crest of a hill in the wrong lane of traffic. All but one of the victims, eight men and two women, were thrown from the wreckage. The other died in the burning convertible at right. There were no survivors. (AP Wirephoto)

East Carolina Special Education Teacher Resigns Her Position

Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins, specialist in speech pathology in the department of education at East Carolina College, has resigned her position at the college and will be engaged in the near future in study in the field of special education and in traveling.

Mrs. Perkins served during the past several months as president of the newly organized North Carolina Association of Speech Therapists. She is also a past president of the East Carolina Council for Exceptional Children, which she helped to organize, and has served as a member of the national committee on teachers of the American Hearing Society.

Mrs. Perkins came to East Carolina from the University of Michigan in 1949 to teach for a six-week term and to introduce work in speech correction. She became a permanent member of the education department and organized work dealing with speech and hearing difficulties of children and other aspects of special education.

In the five years that Mrs. Perkins was connected with East Carolina, approximately a thousand inservice teachers took courses at the college in some area of special education. Most of these did work helping them to recognize special problems of children and to deal with the training of the visually handicapped, the crippled, the hard-of-hearing, the speech defective, and others.

Mrs. Perkins is a native of Michigan and now makes her home at East Aurora, New York.

Bridge Club Is Entertained At Bayview

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Claude L. Greene Sr. was a gracious hostess when she entertained the members of her bridge club from Monday until Wednesday at the Bayview home of her daughter, Mrs. Bob Brown of Greenville.

Tuesday night the club had its regular meeting. Mrs. Vance Roberson was awarded for having high score and Mrs. Josephine Smith received the consolation prize. After the enjoyable game, the hostess served ice cream soda and fruit bars.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Greene's hospitality were: Mesdames L. M. Little, B. L. Stokes, David Grimes Sr., Pearl Everett, V. L. Roberson, Irving Smith and Sherwood L. Roberson.
The group reported a very pleasant three day visit.

Elks Hope Flags Will Fly Across U.S. On Flag Day

With the slogan, "Show Your Colors," Greenville Elks Lodge No. 1645, will conduct a campaign for the community-wide display of Old Glory in observance of national "Flag Day," next Monday, June 14.

Exalted Ruler Roger M. Collins said the Elks hope that flags will be displayed publicly before all homes, office and factory buildings in the community. This in honor of the 177th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes by the Continental Congress June 14, 1777.

Appealing to all civic, fraternal and patriotic groups in the city to cooperate in the campaign by flying the flag on its birthday, Collins said "this is an effective way for every loyal American to reaffirm his belief in the principles of freedom and self government."

The "Show Your Colors" campaign is being conducted throughout the country by 1,675 lodges of the Order of Elks, which has been observing "Flag Day" since 1907.

"We think these times call for some good old-fashioned flag waving," the head of the Greenville Elks Lodge stated. "Every patriotic American will want to fly the flag and be counted among those who intend to keep it," he added.

Medical Display Held At Hospital

A medical display, on preenzyme and intramuscular trypsin, was held at Pitt Memorial Hospital yesterday morning.

It is reported this new research which was displayed brings doctors and hospitals a new era in medical-clinical enzymology. It provides a new treatment for acute inflammation of thrombophlebitis (milk leg), inflamed eyes, diabetic and venecose ulcers.

Five local doctors and the superintendent of nurses at Pitt Memorial Hospital attended the four hour display which helps advance the development of specialized treatment for the people of Pitt County and surrounding communities.

The display, granted by C. D. Ward, hospital administrator, was presented by John V. Woodard of Raleigh, a representative of the National Drug Company of Philadelphia. Similar displays have been staged at other hospitals in Eastern North Carolina recently.

Poor Weather To Climb Mountain

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The India government radio last night warned American and New Zealand climbers in the Mt. Makalu area to gird themselves against heavy snowfalls and rising winds as temperatures expected to fall to 5 below zero.

A radio official said it was felt certain all attempts on Makalu's 22,500-foot peak should be ended by now and that both teams must be on their way down toward Biratnagar and Jogabani en route to Calcutta.

Brief Duration For Honeymoon

DETROIT (AP)—The honeymoon of Otto Schreiner, 46, and his bride Roberta 33, was short-lived.

They were married Monday in Bowling Green, Ohio.

Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Great yesterday placed them on probation for six months for disturbing the peace.

Police said they got into an argument at a bar in Detroit while celebrating the wedding with a few drinks.

Re-Enactment Is Fatal 'Proof'

MANILA (AP)—Thirty minutes after Gonzalo Razon was electrocuted yesterday at the San Miguel brewery bottle factory, witness Santos Bundawe offered to re-enact the accident for police.

He touched the uninsulated handle of a generator and was killed.

SMALLEST U. S. JET COMBAT PLANE—A midget atom bomber, the smallest and lightest United States jet combat plane ever built, is unveiled by the Navy Department at the Douglas Aircraft plant at El Segundo, Calif. It is the A4D Skyhawk. Performance and specifications were not disclosed, but it is less than half the size and superior in performance to many jet fighters, the Navy said. Flying from carrier flight decks the atom bomber is designed to carry atom bombs or rockets, machine guns, missiles and other weapons required of attack-type aircraft. (AP Wirephoto)

Gen. Gruenther Says West Will Use Everything

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—NATO's supreme commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, warned Russia last night that the West will meet a Soviet attack with "every weapon in our arsenal," including atomic bombs.
"In our thinking we visualize the use of atomic bombs in the support of our ground troops. We also visualize the use of atomic bombs on targets in enemy territory," Gruenther told a D-Day anniversary dinner at which Prime Minister Churchill also spoke and the Duke of Edinburgh presided.
If war with Russia should come this year, the NATO commander said, "the Soviet Union would be defeated."
"I do not want to say we would win," he added, "because I am sure in a third world war there would be no winner."
Gruenther also told his audience he was not sure time was on the side of the West. Russia's industrial and atomic stockpiles are mounting, he explained, and her air power displayed at the recent May Day parade in Moscow was "devastating."
But at present, he said, the Soviets have no answer to the Allies' long-range aircraft. He cited the big American B47 jet bomber, "a plane which can fly so fast and so high that there is no defense against it in 1954."
Gruenther told of one B47 which recently flew the Atlantic in 4 hours 34 minutes.
Churchill told the West that "peace through strength must be our guiding star."
He warned that if the free nations relax their defense efforts, it would imperil European peace, and if differences split the Allies, it would lead to "general ruin and enslavement."

Plan Discussion On Training In Science

What the public school can do to encourage qualified students to study science and to provide adequate training for them will be discussed at a conference at East Carolina College Tuesday, June 22.
Teachers and school administrators throughout the state have been invited to attend the meeting, which will be held from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. in the Flanagan auditorium.
J. O. Derrick of the East Carolina department of science will act as chairman during discussions of the conference theme, "The Science Teacher's Obligation to Youth and His Scientific Training." H. J. Shannon, state high school science supervisor, will act as consultant.
The conference was suggested, Mr. Derrick says, by the fact that since 1950 the percentage of college graduates qualified to teach science has decreased 48 percent. There has been a marked decline also in the number of students entering graduate schools of science.
This situation, presenting a national-wide problem to the teacher of science and to others, calls for analysis and discussion among educators throughout the country, Mr. Derrick says.
Five speakers will participate in the program at East Carolina and will express the point of view of the professional scientist. They are Dr. R. L. Lovvorn, director of instruction, School of Agriculture, North Carolina State College, representing agriculture; Martin Schwartz, superintendent of the Greenville Utilities Commission, representing engineering; Dr. Christin Wilton, East Carolina College, representing general education; Dr. Russell Peterson, assistant plant director, du Pont Dacron Plant, representing industry; and Dr. Walter C. Humbert, director, Pitt County Health Department, representing medicine and public health.
Thian painted "Christ and the Crown of Thorns" when he was 95.

Scientists Back Dr. Oppenheimer

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—A petition from more than 280 Los Alamos atomic scientists strongly criticizes government handling of the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.
And, the scientists warned, the action taken against Oppenheimer may make it tough in the future to fill government laboratories with trained workers.
The petition, sent in the form of a telegram to the President, the Atomic Energy Commission and the chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said:
"We agree that it is a prerogative of government to choose its own advisers.
"But it is inexcusable to employ the personnel security system as a means of dispensing with the services of a loyal but unwanted consultant."
Dr. Fred L. Ribe, who sent the telegram and helped collect the names, said it bore some 282 signatures—all gathered in less than one day and representing 80 percent of the scientists here.
Oppenheimer headed the Los Alamos scientific laboratory when it developed the atomic bomb during World War II. He recently was barred as a security risk from further classified information and a three-man board, although holding Oppenheimer loyal, refused 2-1 to reinstate him.
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Walter Coyle, 76, will graduate Friday from the Sacramento Adult Evening High School. He is an attorney and has been a barber, mortician and real estate man.
Born on the Isle of Man off the coast of England, he came here in 1906. He said he wanted to get a high school diploma although his previous educational credits were equivalent.
What is he going to do now? He's going to junior college.
The extreme height to which Douglas fir trees will grow is hard to record, because most of the old trees have broken tops.

50,000 Bullets To Kill One Foe Considered A Disgrace

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—It took 50,000 rounds of small-arms fire to kill one Red Chinese soldier in the Korean War.
Lt. Col. Walter J. Fellenz, chairman of the Small Arms Committee at the Army's Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga., considers this something of a national disgrace.
With other members of an Army-civilian research team, he helped figure out the firing effectiveness in Korea. In contrast, he points out a Confederate rifleman at the Battle of Chickamauga averaged only about 208 rounds to knock off a Yankee.
Obviously, the former history instructor at West Point says, "something is wrong, for the weapons we have today are far superior to the musket."

Vision experts long have known that at night you do not see in a straight line. Objects appear to the right or left of where they really are. A target will fade away completely if you close one eye and try to aim.
One trick is to keep both eyes open and the head high so that you can see the muzzle of your rifle and the apparent target in line.
The common error of night firing, Fellenz says, is to fire three to six feet too high and to the left. His remedy:
"Drill our people into making until it becomes as instinctive as compensation for night shooting the cowboy shooting from the hip."

Fellenz, who came to Washington recently to help set up the National Rifle Assn.'s big shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, says that a majority of the troops taking the night-firing course for the first time, even Korean combat veterans, will not hit the target at all. A man with exceptional night vision may get as many as six hits out of 16 shots on the black target.
At the end of the course of instruction the number of hits will average somewhere between 10 and 14 out of 16 rounds.

Rocket Sled Raced 421 MPH In Test

ALAMAGORDO, N. M. (AP)—A 43-year-old Air Force colonel reached a speed of 421 miles an hour on the ground—a record for a human—during recent tests at Holloman Air Force Base here.
Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, a veteran of aviation medical research, rode a rocket-propelled sled designed to find out the effect upon fliers of bailing out at very high altitudes and supersonic speeds.
"Things happen too fast to think about them at the time," he said after the 3,500-foot run, which takes just seven seconds.
The critical factor in the test is the effect of the braking on the passenger. Officials estimate Col. Stapp's body underwent a pressure of 22 times the force of gravity and his body assumed the weight of 3,960 pounds.
"It was a fine ride," he said. "I feel a great sense of achievement. Completing this run got a load off my chest."
The only other human to top 400 m.p.h. on the ground was John Cobb, who drove a race car at 403.135 m.p.h. at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 16, 1947.
Stapp, chief of the Aero Medical Field Laboratory at Holloman Air Development Center, made the record run March 19 on his 27th sled ride. His previous fastest time had been 180 m.p.h. at Edwards Air Force Base in California.
The test sled, designed by Northrop Aircraft Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., consists of two vehicles—the propulsion sled and the test vehicle. The propulsion sled carries 12 rockets each with a thrust of 4,500 pounds, six of which were used in the March test.

The two vehicles are mounted on special railroad tracks between which is a water trough five feet wide and 18 inches deep. Braking is achieved by controllable metal scoops under each vehicle which scoop up water from the trough.

Mile-Long Site For Exhibit Hall

CHICAGO (AP)—A mile-long site along Lake Michigan has been selected for Chicago's new Convention and Exhibits Building.
The property was the site of the Century of Progress exposition in 1933-34 and the Chicago Railroad Fair in 1948-49. It covers some 50 acres between 16th and 23rd streets on the near South Side.
Engineering officials of the city's Park District said the hall will be the biggest of its kind in the nation, larger than those in Cleveland and Atlantic City. Actual construction plans have not been made.

Braves' Poor Home Record Could End Modern Miracle

Good Relief Work By Cox Saves Victory For Redmen

Pitman Billy Boyd Cox came in last night for the Redmen and throttled the attempts of the Fordomatics to slug their way back into the ball game as the Redmen won 9-7 at Pony League Park.

Cox came in in the third inning with the score six to four in favor of the Fordoms and promptly struck out two Ford batters to nip the rally. In the top of the fourth the Redmen rallied to the score on Johnny Johnson's single that drove in two runs.

Judging Fights Is Frustrating Even For Vets

NEW YORK (AP)—The utter nonsense involved in attempting to judge a prize fight accurately, providing that the principals are fairly evenly matched, was never better illustrated than in the wide-televised number between Joey Maxim, the former 175-pound champion, and Floyd Patterson, the Olympic Games phenom, in Brooklyn the other night.

A few more like that and the home expert, who has been conscientiously learning to score jabs and hooks, will be fully justified in throwing away his lead pencil. If the men who make their living at it can't come within a country mile of agreeing on a winner, what chance has an outsider of attaining any degree of skill at the new parlor game? It's frustrating.

At the end of eight rounds of spirited milling before a small captive audience and untold millions of television fans, the three ring officials agreed unanimously that Maxim, the somewhat blubbery veteran, had scored a clear-cut victory over the 19-year-old Negro, who had won his first 13 bouts as a professional.

One of the judges, Arthur Susskind, who fought as young Otto and is considered to be one of the soundest officials in these parts, voted the Maxim ticket 7-1. The other judge, Joe Eppy, made it 5-3. Referee Ruby Goldstein, who was the closest of anybody to the action, slipped Joey past the promising kid 4-3-1.

There was considerable boing at the verdict, but the commentator on the nation's screen said soothingly that the sounds you heard came from Patterson's friends and neighbors. He implied that any disagreement with the verdict was not to be taken too seriously.

Clustered around the ringside, however, were 11 boxing writers representing New York City newspapers and the wire services. For possibly the first time in history, the 11 were found to be in complete agreement, and aggressively so. They agreed that Patterson had whipped Maxim, by margins ranging up to 6-2.

By the time Patterson's manager fully grasped the import of this he was threatening to protest to the State Athletic Commission. Such a protest, with a quarter added, would buy him a good cigar. Patterson, asked how he felt about it, said he didn't know. Maxim, trying to be reasonable, said he thought he had won it by about 5-3.

At a broad guess, we would say that a majority of the television audience went to bed satisfied that justice had been done and probably was a bit surprised to read the next morning that Patterson had been robbed.

Richards Calm About White Sox

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Chicago White Sox were perched atop the American League standings today, but Manager Paul Richards was unperturbed by it all.

"We expected to get there," he said, "and we expect to stay there."

The Chicagoans disclosed the Cleveland Indians' finger-pinch first place by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics last night 9-3 while the Indians were losing to the Washington Senators 5-2.

It was the first time the Sox had been on the top since May 15.

There's nothing unusual, either, about the Sox's current six-game winning streak, Richards said. "They're just playing the way they can play." The team's pennant chances, he said, "are exactly what I thought before—they're good."

He cites a couple of good reasons:

The first is George Kell, whom Chicago recently obtained from the Boston Red Sox. The veteran punched a two-run homer in last night's game to cap a five-run seventh inning for the Chicago. It was Kell too who hit a single in the first inning to start a two-run rally.

Second reason is left-handed pitcher Bill Pierce, who rejoined the club last night. Pierce had two teeth removed in Chicago and underwent diathermy treatments for a sore arm. He said his arm now feels better than at any other time this season.

Ty Cobb led the American League in batting 12 times.

Durando Favored To Beat Kilgore

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ernie Durando, hard-punching middleweight from Bayonne, N.J., is a 2½-1 favorite to defeat Billy Kilgore of Miami in the 10-round main event tonight at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

The bout will be on national television (CBS) starting at 9 p.m., EST.

The International Boxing Club said the winner might be given a non-title match with middleweight champion Bobo Olson July in San Francisco. Olson presumably wants such a match as a tuneup for his Aug. 14 title defense against Rocky Castellani.

Neither Durando nor Kilgore are ranked among the top 10 middleweight contenders.

It will be Durando's third fight this year. Earlier, he lost a decision to Castellani and knocked out Ted Olla. His record includes 37 wins, 16 losses and 4 draws.

Kilgore upset former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta in a television fight here last April and later lost to Hans Stretz. He has 26 wins, 15 losses and 4 draws.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high luster, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Belk-Tyler's on the third floor.

How long will the Milwaukee Miracle last if the Braves continue to save their winning baseball for the road trips?

A quick rundown of the Braves' won and lost record at home and abroad suggests the Milwaukee patrons should consider asking for cut rates. They're getting the first team, as advertised, but they certainly aren't seeing it at its best.

With the top home attendance in either league—648,659 cash customers for 23 single games and two twin bills—the Braves have won for the home folks only 11 times. They've been beaten in County Stadium 16 times.

On the road it's an entirely different story—14 victories, including one streak of 9 straight and only 6 losses.

With the help of their fine road pace the Braves actually are in fourth place behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. They came home May 28 in first place by a game and a half but promptly dropped 8 of 11, including a 6-5 heartbreaker to the New York Giants last night.

The Giants, trailing from the time Joe Adcock hit a grand slam home run in the first inning, won on two runs in the ninth. Al Dark singled for his fourth hit, Hank Thompson walked and Monte Irvin drove them home.

The Chicago White Sox took sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Philadelphia 9-3 while Cleveland was bowing 5-2 to Washington on Maury McDermott's two-hitter. Billy Hoelt gave the New York Yankees only two hits as the Tigers won 8-0 Baltimore beat Boston 7-4.

Brooklyn's 10-game winning streak ended with a bang. The Dodgers were trounced 10-3 by the St. Louis Cardinals. Chicago edged Philadelphia 6-5 and Cincinnati tripped Pittsburgh 5-0.

Brooklyn committed four errors and the Cardinals combed Carl Erskine and two successors for 16 hits. Stan Musial hit his 20th homer in either league, and a triple, driving in four runs. Wally Moon drove in another four with a triple and three singles.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies succumbed to the home run power of the Cubs, Ralph Kiner hit a pair, his 9th and 10th, and Hank Sauer hit his 19th.

Corky Valentine registered the second shutout by a Cincinnati pitcher this season as he blanked the Pirates on eight hits.

The White Sox broke open their game at Philadelphia with five runs in the seventh inning. A single, double and walk filled the bases. One run scored on Minnie Mino's sacrifice fly, two more on Ferris Fain's double and a final pair on George Kell's home run. Virgil Trucks scattered four hits in winning his eighth game. He has been beaten three times.

The Indians sorely missed their injured big gun, Bobby Avila and Al Rosen, as they lost to Washington for the first time this season. The only Cleveland hits were a pair of singles by Al Smith and Eddie Yost whacked a three-run homer off loser Early Wynn in the sixth.

Hoelt had a no-hitter going against the Yankees through six innings but Irv Noren scratched a single off the glove of shortstop Harvey Kuenn to open the seventh. Kuenn led the 14-hit Detroit attack against loser Ed Lopat and two relief pitchers with two doubles and two singles which drove in four runs.

Baltimore broke Boston's four-game winning streak with four runs in the last two innings, two of them on Gil Coan's eighth-inning double.

Dodgers Defeat Tigers 9-6 In Coastal League Game

In Coastal Little League play last night, the Tobacco Board of Trade Dodgers defeated the Person-Garrett Tigers 9-6 to take over first place in the league standings.

Catcher B. Cox rapped out a pair of hits to pace the 10-hit attack put up by the Dodgers. The Tigers managed only two base hits off two Dodger pitchers and were never in a position to threaten the Dodgers' lead.

Tonight's action at South Greenville Park has the Braves and the Giants meeting in a game scheduled to start at 6:30.

After the Little League game last night, the Negro Men's Softball League opened its season with the Twentieth-Century Club losing to the Hines Glus 16-8.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Australian ace miler John Landy failed in his try at the elusive four-minute mile but said after last night's race, "There will be some more races during my Scandinavian tour."

The rain-soaked cinder track hampered his attack against the mile world mark—which also included the 1,500-meter world record—but the 24-year-old Australian just shrugged his shoulders.

"The cinder track at Olympic Stadium and most cinder tracks I have seen in the Scandinavian countries are far better than the grass tracks we have in Australia," he said. "But it could have been much faster."

Landy ran in the cold and rain and was clocked in 4:01.6 trying to break Roger Bannister's 3:59.4 mile record.

He was caught in exactly the same time he turned in last week at Turku, Finland and tied Sweden's Arne Andersson for the fifth fastest mile in history.

Landy's next attempt to crack the four-minute-mile barrier is scheduled for June 11 at Olympic Stadium in Helsinki, Finland.

TUESDAY'S STARS
PITCHING — Billy Hoelt, Detroit Tigers, gave up only two hits, none through the first six innings, in becoming the first lefthander to shutout the New York Yankees twice this season. He won 8-0.

BATTING — Monte Irvin, New York Giants, doubled home two runs in the ninth inning as the Giants came from behind to beat Milwaukee 6-5.

Reese Runs Wild
BROOKLYN (AP)—Folks here in Brooklyn claim that Pee-wee Reese is the best base runner in the game. And they pull out some records to back up their claims.

The record shows that the veteran Dodger shortstop was caught only six times in 38 attempted steals in 1953. In 1952 he stole 30 bases in 35 tries. From 1947 through 1953, Reese was successful in 140 of 175 attempted steals.

The width of a football field is always the same — 53 1-3 yards. The length is 100 yards.

five innings. League rules state that no new inning can be started after the game is an hour and 15 minutes old if one of the teams is four or more runs ahead.

Both teams had been scoring rather consistently throughout the game but Southern had always managed to get just a few more runs out of their rallies. The clincher was six runs in the fifth inning just before the curfew bell tolled.

Pitcher Harvey Yeatts started the rally by drawing a walk which was followed by singles by Billy McRoy and Skee Wysokowski. Randolph Tripp was given an intentional walk but the strategy back-fired when H. Hardee smashed out a two-run double. The next two batters were retired in order but Horace Carawan applied the finishing touch to proceedings with a home run.

Billy McRoy and Tom Boyd led the hitting for the teams. McRoy had three singles for Southern while Boyd racked up two singles and a double for G-W-M.

About the only surprising thing about the second contest was the amount of trouble put before Graniteers by the stubborn Harris team. The Graniteers were expected to win handily and though they led all the way they could never quite shake the Harris team out of their hair.

Four Graniteers batters got two hits apiece to pace the night's attack. Bobby Nunn had a pair of doubles, Bobby Conway had a double and a single, J. Conway had two singles, and Briley had two singles to lead the hitting.

Southern Bread last night moved itself into a good position to take over a first division spot in the Recreation Softball League standings with a rousing 15-10 victory over Garner-Wynne-Manning.

The shortened contest was the first of two played last night in Guy Smith Stadium. The loss dropped G-W-M into a tie for third with Home Builders, a Monday night winner over Jolly Rogers.

Second place in the league is the sole property of Graniteers. They knocked off last-place Harris Super Market 7-5 last to turn their record for the season to 6-1. They are a game behind league-leading Carolina Dairies, the only undefeated team in the loop. The two teams will meet Friday night in a battle for first place. The game will be their second meeting of the year, the Dairies having won the first by a 3-0 score.

A Good Sun Tan Takes Cautious Sun Exposure

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor It can take only a few minutes in the summer sun to make you look—and feel—like a boiled lobster.

When you're suffering through the blisters, it will be little consolation to know that you have lots of company. Every summer a high percentage of bathers ignores all the advice of the American Safety Council, the U.S. Public Health Service and other sources.

As a result, more than eight million days will be lost through sunburn absenteeism and the same number of days will be spent in misery by broiled humans.

Here are some suggestions by sun authorities for a safe and pretty tan.

1. Be sure to coat yourself with sun lotion after each swim and whenever your skin begins to feel dry. Sun allergy creams are available, which are said to block out all sun rays and if applied to sensitive areas such as nose, lips, shoulders, back of the knees will help insure safe sunning.

2. Be sure to coat yourself with sun lotion after each swim and whenever your skin begins to feel dry. Sun allergy creams are available, which are said to block out all sun rays and if applied to sensitive areas such as nose, lips, shoulders, back of the knees will help insure safe sunning.

3. A good effective sun lotion can help double the time you may safely stay in the sun. Screening ingredients used in these lotions ration ultraviolet rays without impeding those that stimulate the tanning process.

4. Even with a sun lotion you can't hope to acquire a tan the first day. Prolonged exposure to sunlight may result in a painful and serious burn or a tan that will peel away quickly.

5. You take less sun at the beach where reflection by sand and water doubles the intensity of ultraviolet than you can take near grass or trees. You'll need to wear lotion on cloudy or hazy days, too.

6. Oiliness has nothing to do with the effectiveness of a sun preparation, so be wary of picking up just any oil from pantry or medicine chest to use as a sun screen.

6. Be sure to coat yourself with sun lotion after each swim and whenever your skin begins to feel dry. Sun allergy creams are available, which are said to block out all sun rays and if applied to sensitive areas such as nose, lips, shoulders, back of the knees will help insure safe sunning.

Life Sounds Dull In 4 Dimensions

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—John Allen, of the Union Methodist church preached on the four dimensions in living — height, depth, length and breath.

In discussing length he said many people would like to stay as long as they can on concrete sidewalks rather than rushing to the streets of gold in heaven and would rather continue living in stuffy apartments than hasten to the heavenly mansions.

Following the service Allen was approached by a woman who thrust a bouquet of flowers into his hand and said, "Here's something to brighten up that stuffy apartment of yours."

An Answer

TO SOME QUESTIONS ASKED ME THROUGH THE MEDIUM OF THIS NEWSPAPER ON MAY 27TH WHICH I WAS NOT PERMITTED TO ANSWER AT THAT TIME DUE TO ADVERTISING DEADLINES.

Question "WHEN SHERIFF, DID YOU COOPERATE WITH THE HIGHWAY PATROL?"

Answer When The Present Highway Patrol Was Organized In The Late 1920's Headquarters For The Patrol Was Established In Washington, N. C. In The Early 1930's I Was Instrumental In Helping The Patrol Find Suitable quarters, And Moving Their Headquarters To Greenville. About The Year 1932, After The Board Of Commissioners Of Pitt County Refused To Pay Further Rental For Patrol Offices, I Asked, And Received From The Said Board Of Commissioners, Permission For The State Highway Patrol To Share My Office Facilities. This Was Done By Me To Keep The Patrol Headquarters In Greenville As Tarboro Had Made An Offer Of Office Facilities If The Patrol Would Move It's Headquarters To That City. As Soon As Other Facilities Were Made Available Patrol Headquarters Were Moved To The City Hall. I Helped In The Organization Of The State Highway Patrol, And Cooperated with It's Officers And Men In Every Way Possible To Help Law Enforcement In Pitt County And Throughout The State Of North Carolina.

Question "DID YOU COOPERATE WITH THE OFFY POLICE AND WITH COUNTY ABC OFFICERS?"

Answer While Sheriff Of Pitt County From 1926 To 1938 I Cooperated Fully With The Greenville City Police, The ABC Officers, And All State And Federal Law Enforcement Agencies.

Question "DID YOU COOPERATE WITH THE COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS?"

Answer Yes, I Cooperated With The Board Of Commissioners At All Times During My Twelve Years As Sheriff Of Pitt County. During My Tenure Of Office A Monthly And Annual Audit Was Made Of My Books By A Certified Public Accountant, And Same Were Found In Order.

DURING THE NEXT FEW DAYS I WILL ATTEMPT TO PRESENT TO THE PEOPLE OF PITT COUNTY THE TRUE STORY OF MY ADMINISTRATION AS SHERIFF OF PITT COUNTY FROM 1926 TO 1938. MY ONLY REQUEST OF YOU AS CITIZENS IS A FAIR AND UNBIASED CONSIDERATION OF THE FACTS.

Two Most Secret Agencies Are Pulled To Center Stage

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's two most highly secret agencies—the Central Intelligence Agency and the Atomic Energy Commission—manage to stay inconspicuous most of the time. Now they've been pulled to the center of the stage.

The CIA is not only this country's super spy organization in other countries but is the coordinator and clearing house on intelligence information in other agencies, such as the Navy, Air Force, State Department.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), during the Senate hearings on his row with Army officials, talked of Communist infiltration of the CIA. CIA Director Allen Dulles said that was false. Dulles once before refused to let McCarthy question CIA employees.

The senator's interest in the top secret CIA must have chilled not only Allen Dulles but President Eisenhower as well. McCarthy has shown a willingness to disregard secret labels when it suits him. At the current hearings he urged all government employees to pump secrets to him.

For years the AEC—headed by a five-man commission—has managed to stay out of public squabbles. The AEC, like CIA, is protected from the public gaze by laws laying down the secrecy rules under which it must operate.

Now the five commissioners are in public dispute about how much authority the chairman, Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, should have. In addition the status of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, one of the world's great scientists, has been dumped in their lap.

In 1949 when Strauss was just one of the five commissioners and not chairman, he favored an all-out effort to make an H-bomb. Three of the other commissioners disagreed with Strauss. So did Oppenheimer, then an adviser to AEC.

and other scientists. Former President Truman solved that dilemma on Jan. 31, 1950, by ordering all-out work on the H-bomb.

Last July Eisenhower made Strauss AEC chairman. A few days later Strauss ordered an investigation of Oppenheimer, who, having been director of the A-bomb development during the war, had been investigated before. In December he gave Oppenheimer the choice of being dropped as an AEC consultant or asking for a hearing. Oppenheimer asked for the hearing. The AEC appointed a special three-man board of inquiry to conduct it.

Last week this special board found Oppenheimer both loyal and discreet. Nevertheless by a 2-1 vote, it is he should not be let in on any more secrets. The two-man majority expressed concern over Oppenheimer's 1949 opposition to the all-out H-bomb program.

Oppenheimer appealed to the full five-man AEC commission to review his case, and it has agreed to do so. Meanwhile, the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy is holding hearings to consider, among other things, changing the atomic energy law to make the

Nickel Candy Is Near Extinction

CHICAGO (AP)—The 5-cent candy bar may become a treat of the past if the price of cocoa beans continues its rise, says the president of the National Confectioners' Assn.

Philip P. Gott said the price of cocoa beans, at present 70 cents a pound compared with 5 cents a pound in 1941, is forcing candy makers to decide whether to reduce the amount of chocolate in their product or raise prices correspondingly.

He said the problem heads the agenda of the group's 71st annual convention being held soon.

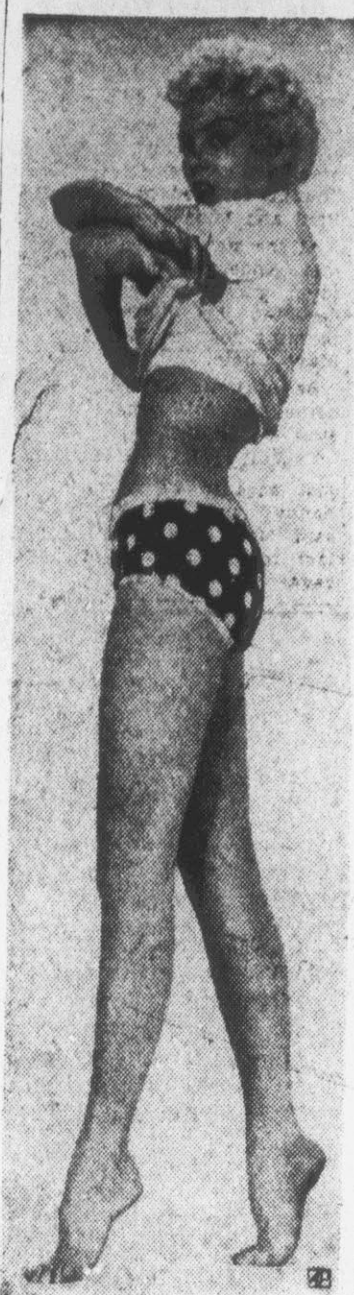

Unscaled Peak Balks Hillary

NEW DELHI (AP)—Himalayan mountaineering sources said today Sir Edmund Hillary, conqueror of mighty Mt. Everest, is leading his New Zealand expedition out of Nepal after a siege of pneumonia. Early monsoon storms cut short his efforts to climb still unscaled Mt. Makalu.

The sources said Hillary had successfully recovered from the pneumonia attack after a difficult descent to base camp from a camp 22,500 feet up the face of the 27,790-foot peak.

Hillary's brief message was brought to Joghani by a runner the famous climber dispatched.

Prison Term For Former Official

BERLIN (AP)—The East German radio announced last night that Georg Dertinger, former foreign minister of the Soviet zone government, has been sentenced to 15 years in prison for plotting to overthrow the Red regime.

The broadcast said five other alleged conspirators, including two of Dertinger's women secretaries, were given terms ranging from 3 to 13 years.

Dertinger, 51, was arrested Jan. 18, 1953, on a charge of espionage for the West. His wife was arrested at the same time but the broadcast last night made no mention of her.

Dertinger was a leading member of the East zone Christian Democrats, who collaborate with the ruling Communist party. He was foreign minister from October 1949, when the East German government was set up, until his arrest.

The broadcast said he was accused of espionage for U.S. intelligence agencies, of collecting data on Soviet troops and Eastern economic secrets, and of drafting a plan with former West German State Secretary Otto Lenz for overthrow of the Soviet zone regime.

May Film Story Of Swing King's Life

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now it's Benny Goodman, the man who started the swing era in music, who's getting the film biography treatment.

The great B. G., the King of Swing has been here to confer with producer Aaron Rosenberg and writer Valentine Davies about his life story for the movies. The film pair put out "The Glenn Miller Story" and that's why Goodman has agreed to expose his own story on film.

"I was really impressed by the Miller picture," said the band leader. "I thought it was the first time the band business has been properly presented on the screen. Usually we're just brought in to do a few numbers and have nothing else to do."

He speaks from experience. He has appeared in half a dozen films, from "Hollywood Hotel" (1937) to "A Song Is Born" (1948). His experiences were not too rewarding artistically, and he resisted all offers to film his life until the Miller film. I talked to Goodman and his film Boswells at lunch and found him slightly more talkative than in the past. Although he was one of the leading lustrators of a nervous era he seems calm and relaxed now. He's 45, but he still has his apple-cheeked appearance and is the picture of health.

A year ago, he collapsed during a triumphant return tour with his old band. "But it wasn't my heart, it was just fatigue," he said. "I had averaged four hours sleep for four nights. There was too much excitement."

He's back tooting his clarinet, but this time with small combo in night clubs. I asked him if he thought the band business would come back as big as it was in the prewar years.

"The band business was just like the movies," he remarked. "In those years, any movie, good or bad, made money. It was the same with bands. The business supported a lot of bands that weren't exceptional."

The really good bands, just like good movies still do good business, he said. But the mediocre in both categories die on the vine. The bands are further hurt by the fact that kids don't dance as much as their elders did, he said.

Vision Test For Motorists Urged

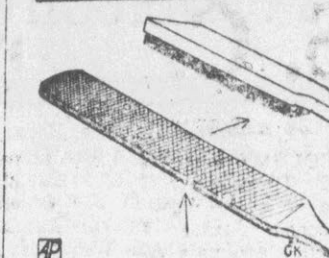

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota Optometric Assn. was told drivers should pass a vision test each time their licenses are renewed.

Called On Police To Run Down Cow

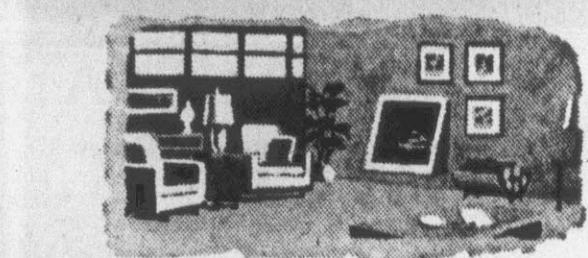

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An 800-pound brown cow, headed for someone's dinner table, leaped over a five-foot fence on the way to a slaughterhouse here yesterday and created havoc for half an hour.

The animal bowled over a small boy and charged policeman Charles McCready. The cop fired one shot, but then held further fire as a crowd gathered.

Police reinforcements arrived and also John Frychocki, a slaughterhouse worker armed with an electric prod pole and some rope. The pole and rope only served to excite the cow further, and she ran into an alley.

As a last resort, police drove full speed at the cow with a patrol wagon, knocked the animal to the ground and then ended its life with a bullet.

Accident Used In Safety Lesson

VILLISCA, Iowa (AP)—When five high school boys were injured in an auto accident during the noon hour, Sheriff Chet McCune used the mishap as an object lesson in safety for the other students.

While the five boys—none injured seriously—were being treated at a doctor's office, school authorities called a special assembly. Sheriff McCune and Highway Patrolman Dale Blesie spoke on safety—using as their theme the five empty seats the boys would have occupied in the assembly room.

Doctors Advised Avoid 'Tsk-Tsk'

REHOBOTH, Va. (AP)—Guard against a frown Doctor, and don't say "tsk-tsk" when checking a patient's blood pressure—just smile. This was the advice of Dr. J. Murray Kinsman, dean of the University of Louisville Medical School, to the Virginia Academy of General Practice. The doctor's behavior can cause patients with high blood pressure to have even higher blood pressure, he said. Also don't check the pressure too often—it scares the patient.

Timmerman Is Chosen Next S. C. Governor In Primary

By ALDERMAN DUNCAN
 COLUMBIA (AP)—Lt. Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr., 42-year-old son of a U.S. District Judge, will succeed James F. Byrnes as South Carolina's governor.

He rolled to an overwhelming 3-2 victory over Columbia insurance executive Lester L. Bates in yesterday's Democratic primary marked by light voting. Nomination is equivalent to election.

Timmerman is pledged to finding some way to maintain the state's system of separate schools for whites and Negroes despite the U.S. Supreme Court decision that it is unconstitutional.

The only two South Carolina members of Congress with primary opposition, Reps. James P. Richards of the 5th District and Robert T. Ashmore of the 4th, were easy winners. Richards is ranking minority member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Sen. Burnet R. Maybank and the other four House members were unopposed.

Ernest F. (Fritz) Hollings of Charleston, 32-year-old speaker of the State House of Representatives, was nominated for lieutenant governor to succeed Timmerman.

Adj. Gen. James C. Dozier, a World War I Medal of Honor winner who has held office 28 years, and another veteran incumbent, Agriculture Commissioner J. Roy Jones, were renominated. Other state officers whose terms expire this year had no opposition.

Timmerman's margin over Bates was more than 60,000. Returns from 1,522 of 1,573 precincts gave him 174,250 votes to Bates 108,197.

The two waged a heated campaign but Bates extended Timmerman congratulations and good wishes.

Both said that the separate school system must be maintained for the best interests of both races. They differed, however, on the method.

Timmerman has proposed maintenance of the present segregated schools plus non-segregated schools on an optional basis.

Bates scorned the Timmerman plan as one for "mixed schools" that he also said would bankrupt the state. He favored appointment of a committee to study the problem resulting from the court decision although such a committee was appointed in 1952 and already is at work.

A Timmerman charge that Bates had the "active support" of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was an issue related to the school matter.

Bates answered by saying that no group would have any strings on him if elected and that the NAACP never would endorse his program.

There is no sure way of determining generally how Negroes voted. In Columbia's Ward 9, however, the vote was 932 to 84 in favor of Bates. This is a predominantly Negro ward.

On the other hand, the word from Charleston was that Negroes there stayed away from the polls "in droves" and Charleston County NAACP President A. J. Clement Jr. declared, "It was obvious that both gubernatorial candidates state their positions very explicitly where segregation is concerned... we could support neither."

"A few (Negroes) chose what they thought was the lesser of two evils," Clement added.

A sample ballot labeled "Richland County Progressive Democrats" was distributed in Ward 9. The Progressive Democrats are a Negro organization and Timmerman's name was scratched on the sample ballot.

Bates' operation of his prosperous Capital Life Insurance Co., was another campaign issue. Timmerman, citing official State Insurance Department records, charged that the company is sound only because

Clothes, Bedding Said Needed For Europe And Asia

The Overseas Relief Committee of the North Carolina Council of Churches has announced that 5,000,000 pounds of clothing and bedding is needed to take care of current needs in Europe and Asia.

The Council of Churches together with Church World Service and C.R.O.P. is sponsoring the clothing project for people in war-torn countries. The goal for this year is 100,000 pounds of clothing. Articles of usable men's, women's, and children's apparel, cloth, cotton and shoes are acceptable to the committee.

Ministerial associations, councils of church women and service groups are cooperating in this good work, Rev. Carl E. Key, N.C. C.R.O.P. director stated. It was explained that clothing articles will be accepted at Jarvis Memorial Church in Greenville.

From Greenville and other shipping centers, the clothing will be picked up by trucks from the nearest Church World Service shipping center at New Windsor, Maryland.

B. Tarit Bell, chairman of the Overseas Relief Committee of the North Carolina Council of Churches, said the June drive is the initial phase of the year-round project. Clothing may be sent at any time of the year to the area collection centers, as well as to other communities in the state.

The collection center for this part of the state is Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church in Greenville. Persons willing to donate cast-off clothing for this project should contact the local collection center.

Selassie Tours Farm Lands And To Visit Family

ST. PAUL Minn. (AP)—The homemade cookies and lemonade were all ready—

But a Minnesota farm wife was worrying today about how much an African Emperor could eat or drink of them on a stop scheduled for just 20 minutes.

And here he and his party going to like the treats?

Mrs. Edwin Doty, who helps her husband farm in southern Minnesota made the preparations when Haile Selassie, ruler of Ethiopia, said he wanted to view a typical farm during his one-day visit to Minnesota.

Mrs. Doty was hoping she had enough of her and her husband's favorite goodies—while looking askance at an official party listing enough persons to fill eight autos.

The entourage was starting the day with religious devotions and breakfast here at Christ Lutheran Church, followed by a tour of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

At the state capitol, Gov. C. Elmer Anderson was greeting the royal guests before the caravan departed for Rochester and a morning tour of the world-famed Mayo Clinic.

Seven miles south of Rochester comes the 11:50 a.m. to 12:10 p.m. stop at the Dotys.

"Oh, I guess we were picked just because we happened to be handy, right on Highway 83," said Mrs. Doty as she pondered last minute preparations for the regal visitor. She said she was being buoyed up somewhat by the fact a luncheon is slated at Austin only 55 minutes after the motorcade departs from her home.

"So they can't eat so very much and I ought to have enough of everything," she concluded. The Dotys, principally livestock farmers, were happy that the fields along the Emperor's path were green with sprouted corn.

In Austin, Selassie will tour the Geo. A. Hofmel Co. meat packing plant after being guest of that firm for luncheon. The caravan returns here for a 6 p.m. press conference following tea the ruler will sip with President Clemens M. Granshou of St. Olaf College at Northfield.

The Minnesota day ends with Selassie talking on Ethiopian farming as compared to American methods at a dinner on the University of Minnesota campus. The party departs tomorrow for Spokane Wash

Press In Korea Is Linked To AP

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today pulled a switch linking the 61 South Korean news and radio subscribers of the Korean Pacific Press to the worldwide radio-teletype facilities of The Associated Press.

"This is another one of my dreams come true," Rhee said. "I always wanted Korea to receive news reports direct from America. This is a realization of that dream."

The Korean Pacific Press, the largest news agency in South Korea, now receives the Associated Press news report by radio-telephone from San Francisco. It translates the report into Korean and distributes it to 49 newspapers and 12 radio stations.

KPP President Kim Dong Joon said, "This enlarges the size of our news report 10 times over and we are very happy to be a member of the Associated Press family."

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, said in a message from New York: "We congratulate the Korean Pacific Press on this forward-looking step making possible reception of a more comprehensive news report, thus strengthening its ties with publications throughout the free world which through The Associated Press dedicate themselves to the highest ideals of journalism."

Previously, KPP had received an abbreviated AP report by wireless telegraph from San Francisco and Tokyo.

Students estimate there are as many as 30 million overweight Americans.

Nurse Lady

ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

SYNOPSIS
Cynthia Doyle is a nurse at a clinic for under-privileged children in a city near Washington, D. C. While off duty, she witnesses an accident in which a small boy is struck and injured by a flashy sports-car. She rushes to the victim's aid. An angry mob gathers to threaten Norman Brandt, driver of the accident car, but Dr. Sellers of the clinic arrives via ambulance, along with police, and the injured boy is taken to the hospital.

CHAPTER THREE
CYNTHIA walked on home—if the small apartment shared with two other nurses, Ros Effinger and Nora McClary, could be called home, though of course it was. It was only when she got low in spirit that she grew homesick for the big, rambling house in the country, and all her family.

Yet she was not thinking of them nor about that certain young doctor who took up so much of her thoughts and time. She was thinking about Norman Brandt, and the odd way in which his eyes had looked into hers. She could not help wondering about him—who he was, what he did, what he was really like. And about the girl who had been with him in the low, luxurious car a girl who must have been behind the wheel when the car struck down a child...

Could she go on a witness stand to swear to that? Could she be as certain as she felt she was, with only a blurred recollection of something that had happened so quickly that no one could possibly be sure?

And how could she change her story now, after she had told it to the policeman? Or turn against a man who had thanked her so sincerely for saying what she had, even if she had not said it altogether because of him?

Well, there would be time enough to think all this out later. Sort it out, if she could. It would have been different had the boy been killed. Poor child, he was badly enough off, as it was—a fractured hip, possible concussion. She would go to see the little fellow tomorrow, call on his mother, too. And of course she probably also would see Mr. Norman Brandt. But she would see him only for a few minutes and she would tell him, if she got a chance, that she knew he had not been driving that car.

The three young nurses had been friends all through training in Richmond. They had decided to share an apartment together after graduating as R.N.'s. They had chosen a town located between Richmond and Washington, as it was Nora's home town and Cynthia preferred living in a smaller community and Ros was agreeable to whatever the other two wanted.

They had been lucky in finding an old house that had been converted into several modern apartments. It was conveniently located near the center of town. The neighborhood had once been a fashionable one, but its residents had moved out into various suburbs and now the people there were mostly those who worked in the factories and mills many of them foreigners.

Inside, the apartment was as attractive as the girls had been able to make it. They had painted the walls a soft gray-blue. Nora had made wine-colored draperies for the living-room windows and had slip-covered some of the furniture with colorful materials. There were a few good pieces of furniture sent from "back home," some well-chosen prints hung on the walls; built-in shelves held books and records, and containers of trailing ivy and other plants added a cheerful note.

When Cynthia let herself in this evening, she had a fairly good idea what she would find. Nora would be at the Governor Winthrop desk which had belonged to Cynthia's great-aunt—writing her daily letter to Alan Davies. He was the boy she had grown up with and would marry when he returned from Korea. Nora's piquant Irish face would wear its rapt, oblivious expression. She would be chewing the end of her pen and running her fingers through her short hair.

As for Ros, or Rosanna as she was never called, she would, of course, have taken over the bathroom. She would be caroling in the shower, doing her nails perched on the edge of the tub, or sitting before the improvised dressing table with its ruffled dotted-swiss skirt over blue taffeta, going through all manner of beauty rites on her already perfect skin.

For Ros was their glamor gal. She had a date practically every night in the week; without fail every week end. Usually with a different man. Or at least, as Nora said it certainly was difficult to keep up with them; they came and went like the torn monthly sheets from a calendar.

"Hi, how's everything? What's new? My but it's good to be home." Cynthia entered with her usual greeting. Then, as usual, she flopped down into the nearest comfortable chair, removed her white oxfords, and propped her feet up on a footstool. Why was it your feet gave out before the rest of you? She was on hers so much during the day. There was seldom time to sit down, and when she did, except for a half hour at noon, she always felt guilty.

Nora stopped chewing the end of her pen, pushed the folded sheets of air-mail paper aside, and came down to earth. "Hello," she said looking at her roommate as though she had just realized Cynthia existed. "Everything's fine. I had the most wonderful letter from Alan. He said during the days they were moving across some river—one of those unpronounceable Korean ones—and he says it's still frightfully cold there, but he's just fine and I'm not to worry. He hopes he will be home sometime this summer, isn't that wonderful, Cyn?"

Cynthia said it certainly was. Poor Nora, she was so terribly, frightfully in love. If anything should happen to her Alan, Nora would be a long while, if ever, in getting over it.
"You look worn out," Nora said. "It's my turn to get dinner; everything's practically ready. Of course Ros has a date. The date to end all dates, from the way she's been carrying on about it. It seems she ran into some old flame of hers for whom she's been carrying a torch for years—he's been overseas too, somewhere in Europe. I believe, Ros says he's in some mysterious branch of the government like spying or something. Anyway, she's so thrilled."
"I never dreamed our Ros would carry a torch for any man," Cynthia was amused. She could not believe that Ros would ever actually fall in love. Maybe Ros was lucky. For sometimes love did not make you too happy. Look at Nora living in another letter-writing world, worrying her heart out. And look at me, Cynthia might have added, her thoughts returning again to Walt.

Ros, emerging from the bathroom, interrupted her thoughts. She was a tall, beautiful girl with black hair and classical features, and she looked more like a photographer's model than a trained nurse. She was not completely dressed, as she had on a Chinese housecoat. But her lovely face was carefully made-up, and her hair was arranged in an intricate fashion, high on her head in a fan-shaped knot.

"Now tell me honestly, my loves," she said, "how does it look? I've struggled for hours, simply hours. I wanted an effect that would be staggering. Or maybe it's all a mistake and I should take it down and just let it hang—What do you think?"
"I think it looks lovely," Nora said. Nora always thought Ros looked lovely although in her secret heart she preferred Cynthia's type of beauty. It might not be so striking, but it was the sort that grew on one; the sort that lasted, too.

"It's stunning," Cynthia was frank, as she always tried to be, without hurting anyone's feelings. "But I'd say it depends on what you plan to wear with it. Ros, if it's something sophisticated, your hair will go with it; if it's simpler, maybe a simpler way of arranging—"
"I'm wearing my new black," Ros interrupted. "Thank heavens I have it! I set me back a week's salary, but I had a hunch when I saw it in the window of that little French shop that someday I'd need it."

"You'll knock him off his feet, whoever he is," Cynthia asserted. Her Ros did look excited. Nora must be right about this date being special.
"If I don't get a move on," Ros said, without stopping to give any information as to her date's identity. "I won't be ready. If the bell rings before I'm dressed, one of you gals will have to answer it."

Broken Romance Of 50 Years Ago Healed By Vows
VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—A 72-year-old man and a 67-year-old woman, who had been separated for 50 years, were reunited today as the bride of the ex-farmer and her father-forbade her to love.
John Edgecombe of New Zealand, a 70-year-old wealthy dairy farmer, married Prudence Coker yesterday in a civil ceremony here shortly after they arrived from opposite sides of the globe.
Their romance started on a Devonshire England farm. Miss Coker's father ordered Edgecombe to leave the farm. Edgecombe prospered in New Zealand. Miss Coker went to Philadelphia.
Edgecombe, whose first wife died in 1932, learned Miss Coker's address last January and proposed after a short exchange of letters. They met here for the first time since 1904.

FIRE FOR DINNER
POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. George Brill, of Pottstown, saw a fire in the kitchen of a neighbor's home and called the fire department. Two volunteer fire companies, a service truck and an ambulance arrived in time to see the neighbor's chicken prepared for Sunday dinner. The fire was the singeing of the chicken's pinfeathers.

industry will have to fight to keep its markets; its growth will have to come from growth of the country and from competing fuels."
Symonds takes the position that "gas should sell at a premium" and that East Coast utilities facing stiff competition from other fuels should "go after the market for premium high-grade industrial business such as ceramics, heat treating and glass making." He concedes that gas cannot compete with heavy fuel oil as a boiler fuel for factories and power plants.
A sharp upturn in coal and oil prices after World War II had a lot to do with swinging other sections of the nation to natural gas from Texas and Louisiana.

Transportation costs have risen sharply, particularly for companies served by cross-country pipelines built at recent high prices. In general, gas is most expensive in cities which have just obtained it through new pipelines, and cheapest in communities which had the fuel before World War II.
A recent check showed that the amount of gas that costs $2.03 in Kansas City and $2.62 in Cleveland costs $6.15 in Milwaukee and $8.54 in Brooklyn N.Y. Kansas City and Cleveland received natural gas before World War II, while Milwaukee and Brooklyn obtained it for the first time during the past few years.

Signs Multiply Natural Gas Being Caught Up By Laws Of Supply, Demand

By WALTER BUSSEWITZ (For Sam Dawson)
NEW YORK (AP)—There are signs that the laws of supply and demand are catching up with the natural gas industry, which has grown at a breath-taking pace in the last decade.
As a result there are indications in some parts of the country that natural gas is losing the price advantage it has held over competitive fuels.
N. C. McGowen, president of United Gas Corp., the nation's largest natural gas company, says it is possible that natural gas is "pricing itself out of some markets."

In many areas, especially in the mid-Atlantic and Northeastern states natural gas is coming into direct price competition with oil and coal, according to McGowen. Gardiner Symonds, president of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., one of the nation's largest pipeline operators, says, "The gas

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads improved today in an otherwise lower stock market in a holding operation following yesterday's severe break.

Price changes seldom amounted to more than a dollar in either direction. Trading was moderate in sharp contrast to yesterday's heavy volume that at one time swamped the price-reporting facilities of the New York Stock Exchange.

Major divisions showing losses today included steels, motors, oils, coppers, aircrafts and chemicals.

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes: arrivals 18; on track 404; total U. S. shipments 1,035; supplies rather light; demand moderate; market steady. California long whites $4.80-5.20. Pontiacs $4.15-50. Alabama Pontiacs $4.15-25; Arizona Pontiacs $4.35.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hogs were steady to 25 cents lower today. 24.75 at Plymouth, Windsor and Fayetteville. 24.50 at Enfield, Tarboro, Hamilton, Beulaville, Kenly, Warsaw, Dunn, Newton Grove, Mt. Olive, Goldsboro, Wilson, Fair Bluff, Burgaw, Bailey, Lillington, Hillsboro, Jacksonville, Weldon, Wilmington, Scotland Neck, Colerain, Clarkton, Tabor City, Elizabethtown, Siler City, Freeman, Micro, Whiteville, Laurel Hill, Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Rocky Mount, Smithfield, Lumberton, Clinton, Rich Square, and Woodland. Richmond—steady at 25.25.

Unions Near Pact-Signing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sizable majority of AFL and CIO unions prepared to sign a labor peace pact today despite efforts of some powerful unions to kill off the idea.

By signing, unions would pledge not to "raid" the memberships of other labor groups which agree to abide by the pact.

Almost 70 of the AFL's 110 affiliates and more than 30 of the CIO's nearly 40 unions were reported ready to sign. AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther have plugged the plan as a preliminary to possible merger of their two organizations into a single 15-million-member labor federation.

Among the holdouts were known to be the 1,300,000-member AFL Teamsters union, headed by Dave Beck, the 700,000-member AFL Carpenters union, and the 1,200,000 member CIO Steelworkers union, headed by David J. McDonald.

Beck, McDonald and John L. Lewis, president of the independent United Mine Workers, are regarded as those mainly opposed to the "no raiding" pact.

Lewis claims that as CIO president years ago he carried a merger proposal to the AFL, only to have it rejected. He says, too, that a few years later he presented an identical proposal to the CIO in behalf of the AFL and that once again it was turned down.

Meany has charged Lewis with being the "great divider" in labor. There is no love lost between Meany and Reuther on one hand and Beck, McDonald and Lewis on the other.

Bidding Included Two Pitt Roads

Two roads in Pitt County were among those receiving record breaking totals when bids were opened in Raleigh yesterday.

A total of 39 projects for 297.17 miles of road and bridge work in 36 counties was laid before the contractors. A total of 227 bids was placed before the State highway engineers.

The two Pitt County projects and low bids:

The 3.11 miles of paving from U. S. 264, east of Greenville, around the east side of Greenville to N. C. 43, from end of pavement on Fourteenth Street in Greenville thence east to the intersection with Greenville bypass. White Construction Company, Kinston, $33,491.

The other road is in both Pitt and Edgecomb Counties: 7.53 miles of grading, paving and structures from a point on U. S. 258, about 1.5 miles northeast of Fountain, northeast along or near U. S. 258 to N. C. 43 at Cobb's Cross Roads, Grading and paving, Wayne Construction Company, Inc., Mt. Olive $157,479.90; structures, E. P. Brinkley, Raleigh, $12,620; moving buildings, Pope and Tyson, Stantonburg, $18,926.

Gen. Van Fleet Returning To Far East Survey

HONOLULU (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet arrived at Hickam Air Base last night on the way back to the Far East to resume his interrupted survey of military assistance needs of U. S. allies.

He had been called back to Washington from Formosa.

He planned to leave tomorrow for Tokyo after conferences with Adm. Felix B. Stump, Pacific Fleet commander.

Van Fleet said, "We ought to back Asian troops with American sea and air power."

He declined to comment on the Indochina crisis except to say, "It looks bad out there."

Buried Alive In Mass Of Cement

DENVER (AP)—Arthur Pittman, 44-year-old carpenter, was recovering today after being buried under a cubic yard of concrete.

Pittman was working at the basement level yesterday when a bucket of cement being lifted in a new 23-story building tilted at the 14th floor and cascaded upon him. Co-workers dug him out. Hospital attendants said his injuries were not serious.

Vandalism Affecting Highway Signs Costly To Taxpayer; Dangerous, Too

Vandals cost the state taxpayer $15.75 on sight last week, and endangered lives of motorists who depend on the road signs which the pranksters defaced.

The cost estimate comes from J.D. Parker, sign supervisor of the highway maintenance division for this area.

Parker said that five signs costing from $2.50 to $5.00 had to be replaced along the Winterville Highway just outside the Greenville city limits and along the bypass leading from N.C. 11 to N.C. 43.

The road markers which were replaced had been painted with red paint. One of the signs, a 35 mile per hour speed limit marker, had been changed to 85 miles per hour.

Pictured above is one of five signs which were painted up by vandals on the Winterville highway, just outside the Greenville city limits and along the bypass between NC 11 and NC 43 one night last week. Sign Superintendent J. D. Parker estimated the cost of the signs to the taxpayers at $15.75. (Reflector Photo by Alvin Taylor)

Desert Is Nokay Afghans Tell Visiting U.S. Experts

By JAMES CUDNEY
KANDAHAR, Afghanistan—American crews are directing Afghan workers completing the first phases of two huge projects to restore farms Ghenghis Khan and his raiders destroyed.

Nomads, roaming the desert for centuries have stumbled over irrigation works where the Mongol warriors wiped out the old civilization. Now two new lakes have appeared in the Southern Afghan desert. One is behind the Arghandab River dam. The other is formed by a 321-foot earth-fill dam on the Helmand River. Engineers estimate the two dams will provide water to irrigate 750,000 acres, eventually.

There are scores of ruined towns in the area, deserted hundreds of years ago when the water was cut off.

About 4,000 Afghan workers were taught their jobs by 135 Americans, 20 Filipino and 32 Italian specialists. It was eight years ago that the first earth-moving machines roared into Kandahar. They frightened turbaned Afghans from their mud-walled houses. At first the nomads were awed, but they soon abandoned their camels to learn how to run the mechanical "monsters." Young men operated cranes, steam shovels and the huge earth movers. They learned American slang and habits. They used "okay" and their own coined "nokay" in talk with Americans and with each other.

At first they had trouble adapting loose turbans and wide-legged pantaloons to work around machinery and trucks. Today, overalls are as common in Kandahar as in Keokuk, Iowa. Even the turbans have been abandoned reluctantly by many workers, giving way to caps.

There has been a lull in operations while Afghan officials seek a loan of about 21 million dollars from the Import Export Bank. The work so far has cost 17 million dollars. Responsibility for further development has been taken over by an Afghan agency. The United States has loaned technicians and specialists as advisors.

The new agency's authority extends over 3 degrees of latitude and 4½ degrees of longitude—a vast wasteland it hopes will become Afghanistan's greatest garden spot.

Phil I. Harrison Dies In Virginia

Mr. Phil I. Harrison, 43, died in Medical College of Virginia in Richmond at 6:50 o'clock Monday night. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage three weeks ago and had been critically ill since that time. Funeral services will be held at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel at a time to be announced later. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery in Washington.

Mr. Harrison was born and reared in Maryland. He lived in Rocky Mount for several years and for the past five years had been employed by the Automatic Electric Sales Corp. of Chicago, Ill. as installer, having lived in North Carolina most of that time. Most recently he had been living at Chase City, Va. He was a member of the Methodist Church at Bogman, Md.

Surviving are his wife, the former Tillie Ricks of Williamston, to whom he was married in 1940; a son and a daughter by a former marriage, A2-C Phil I. Harrison Jr. of the U. S. Air Force, now stationed at Tucson, Arizona, and Cpl. Phyllis Ann Harrison of the U. S. Marine Corps, now stationed at Cherry Point; a granddaughter; and a brother, George K. Harrison of Havelock.

Measles Strike Half Of Town

GODTHAAB, Greenland (AP)—More than half of Godthaab's 1,486 Greenlanders are down with the measles and medical officers expect the rest to be stricken soon.

Officials said a total of 774 persons in the town, the big arctic island's administrative capital, have become ill since the epidemic broke out a month ago. Because the disease has been unknown in Greenland, the islanders have never built up a resistance to it.

Shoe Store Now In New Location

A complete line of shoes for men, women, and children is being offered by Griffin's Bootery at the store's new location at 104 West Fifth Street.

The firm moved into the building formerly occupied by Ridgway's last Thursday. The Bootery was formerly located at 305 South Evans Street, a site occupied for three-and-a-half years.

Manager of the store is Sam Leonard, a native of Nashville who has been in Greenville since January. Prior to coming here he was in Greensboro. Leonard has 10 years experience in shoe retailing. Assistant manager is Mrs. Bonnie Singleton. Mrs. Singleton has been with the firm for three and a half years.

Water-Softener For Winterville Slated By Board

WINTERVILLE (AP)—The Board of Town Commissioners at its meeting Monday night approved an order for a water softening machine to improve the quality of the town's water supply. Mayor Burney L. Tucker presided.

The commissioners authorized an order to Hungerford & Terry of Concord, New Jersey, for such a machine, to cost $6,000. Delivery was promised in three months.

A building to house the water softening machine was built some time ago. It was explained at the meeting that the town's water supply comes from wells and that the water is hard. For washing clothes, etc., residents have been using salt as a softener.

Two commissioners are W. A. Dail, A. D. McLawhorn and Ronnie Mallison.

Park Specialist Approves Site

BETHEL (AP)—The North Carolina Parks and Recreation Commission's representative who was here Monday to survey the town's park area said he was impressed with the site.

Mayor R. L. Martin said the Board of Commissioners invited the recreation and parks specialist here to map a definite plan for the recreation center, and with a view to the future growth of the town. The mayor and Bethel Parks and Recreation Commission Chairman Harold Staton accompanied the Raleigh man on his survey last Monday. The proposed park site of over a square city block was donated to the town of Bethel by the McWhorter family.

The Board of Town Commissioners at its last meeting elected Joe Butterworth a member of the board, succeeding A. L. Whitley, who resigned because of other pressing duties.

Members of the Board of Commissioners are Paul Cullifer, M. L. James, R. E. Redick, F. L. Blount, Jr., and A. L. Whitley.
