Peach Fanciers Can Go Get'em

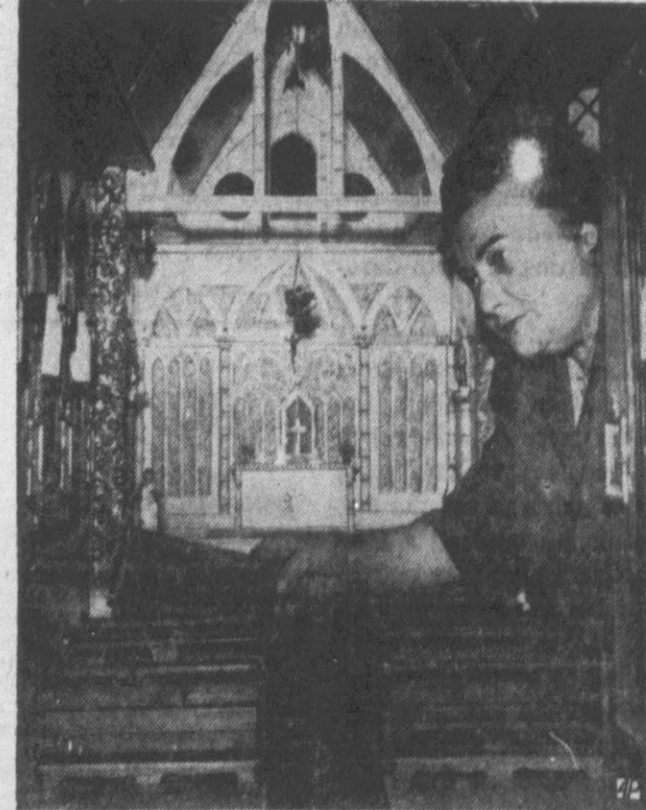

RALEIGH — Peach fanciers were reminded today that North Carolina Sandhills peaches are waiting — both at the grocers and along the roadside throughout the Sandhills region.

George Abshier, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist for the State College Extension Service, explained that there is no need to wait for the two favorites, Elberta and Georgia Belle, to mature later in the summer. "There are plenty of earlier variety, excellent quality peaches coming in right now."

Among the varieties now offered, said Abshier, are the Dixigems, Redhaves and Golden Jubilees. In the next few weeks the Hileys, Burnette Elbertas, Southlands, Georgia Belles and Elbertas will become available.

The peach season in the Sandhills area stretches from mid-May to early August. Peaches are available in any quantity during most of this time.

Abshier said the quality of the 1954 crop is "good." The peaches generally are larger than last year, but the total volume may be slightly lower.

An Age Of Negation?

By ELMER ROESSNER

Four or five millenniums from now, when some Kamal el Malakh uncovers a 1954 funeraly bark, he is sure to conclude that this was an age of curious negation.

The archeologist of the future will deduce that one of the important reasons for buying certain foods is that they are scarcely foods at all. Producers advertise not how nourishing their products are but how un-nourishing. Chemicals have been substituted for sugars, fats and other foods; water has replaced juices in many preparations, and gum tragacanth is standing in for nourishing emulsions of oils in salad dressings.

There is now milk without butter fat and salt without sodium chloride. The Department of Agriculture is trying to develop a milder onion and a processor is advertising a garlic preparation without any after glow. Any day now the Gebhardt can be expected to bring out a mild and caressing chili powder and the McIlhenneys introduce a soothing Tobacco sauce.

The best reason for buying some smokes is that the user gets almost no smoke, no nicotine or any of the other things that tobacco is usually bought for. Added length of cigarettes, marvelous filters and fan cigarette holders strain out everything but the habit. And there are not only cigarettes without nicotine, but there is coffee without caffeine.

Beers and whiskeys are advertised as "mild"—this is in a country whose forefathers judged the quality of liquor by the length of time it left one speechless.

We crazy, mixed-up customers buy plastics because they look like leather, leather because it looks like plastic, wood because it doesn't look like wood and paints and wallpaper because they do.

In our national affairs, we have substituted paper for gold (it is milder) and subsidies for thrift (because they contain fewer harsh irritants). Some people say we have substituted politicians for statesmen. Don't believe them. We haven't even got genuine politicians any more.

OH, THEM GOLDEN STOCKINGS—OH, OH!

Fall fashion colors for men's hosiery include pink, hello and gold, according to Roy C. Booker, man's merchandise manager for Holeproof. The trend is toward bright and light-colored hosiery, to contrast with the darker colors in men's fall suits, he said. Orders for one-size stretch hosiery indicates a greater acceptance of this type, he added.

INSURED INSTALLMENT PLAN TESTED, FOUND SUCCESS

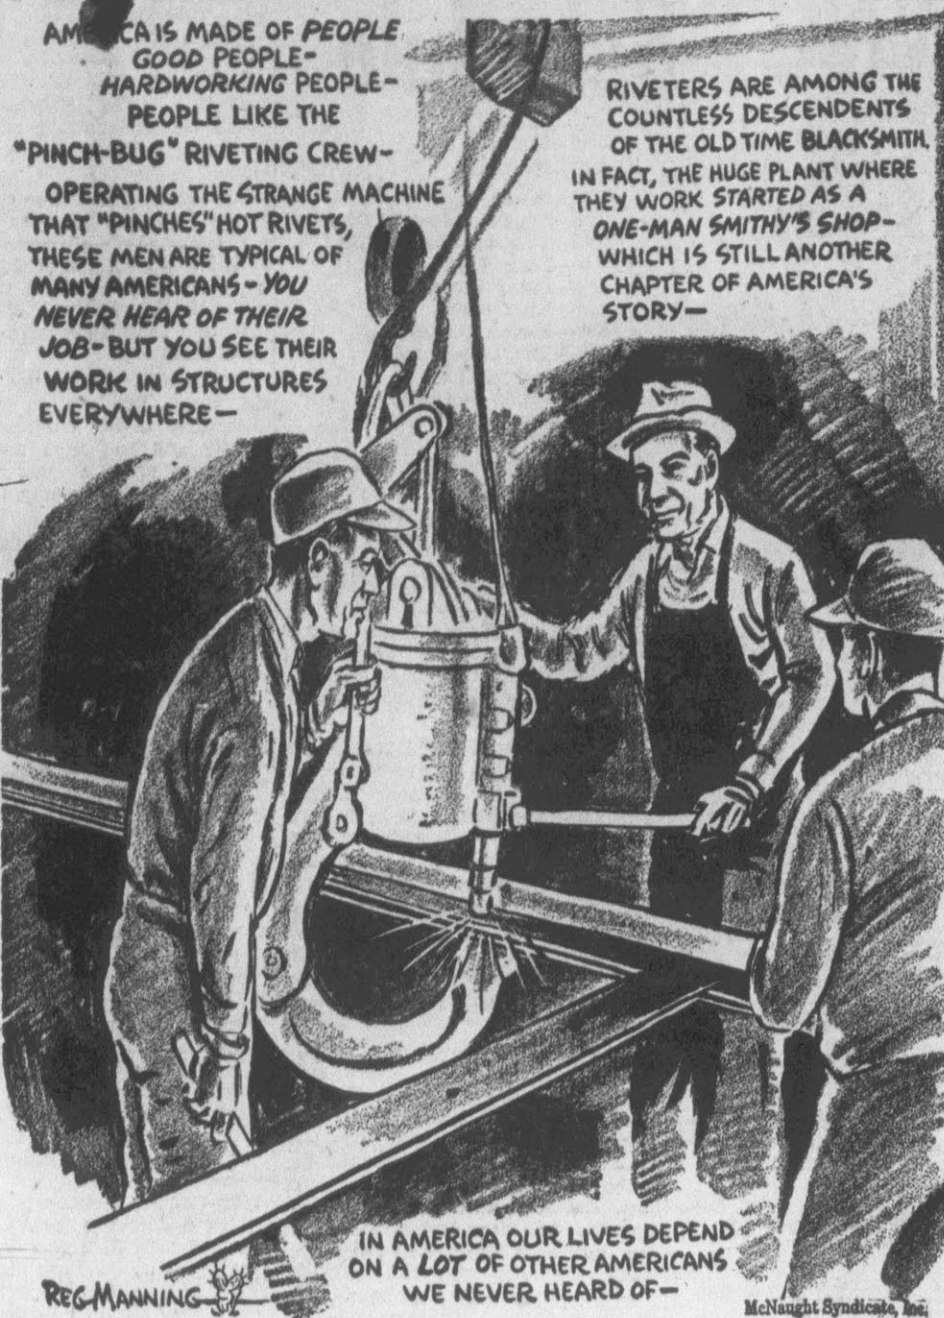

Life insurance covering unpaid balances on installment accounts is a success, according to officials of Hess Bros., Allentown, Pa., which claim to be the first department store in the country to offer the plan. It was inaugurated 18 months ago.

For a payment of $1 a year per $100 of unpaid balance, customers can insure their own lives to the amount of the balance. There is no physical examination and the insured person must be between 18 and 65.

In the year and a half, the store paid 46 claims, totaling $8,250. One man bought a washer under the plan and died the day it was delivered. His widow received a bill stamped "paid in full."

The plan also can be used with revolving credit plans. Hess Bros. is now offering its system to other department stores.

The 'Ordinary' Americans

AMERICA IS MADE OF PEOPLE—GOOD PEOPLE—HARDWORKING PEOPLE—PEOPLE LIKE THE "PINCH-BUG" RIVETING CREW—OPERATING THE STRANGE MACHINE THAT "PINCHES" HOT RIVETS, THESE MEN ARE TYPICAL OF MANY AMERICANS—YOU NEVER HEAR OF THEIR JOB—BUT YOU SEE THEIR WORK IN STRUCTURES EVERYWHERE—

RIVETERS ARE AMONG THE COUNTLESS DESCENDENTS OF THE OLD TIME BLACKSMITH. IN FACT, THE HUGE PLANT WHERE THEY WORK STARTED AS A ONE-MAN SMITHY'S SHOP—WHICH IS STILL ANOTHER CHAPTER OF AMERICA'S STORY—

IN AMERICA OUR LIVES DEPEND ON A LOT OF OTHER AMERICANS WE NEVER HEARD OF—

Tobacco Program Will Stand Alone

Tobacco producers must watch more closely than ever the federal farm program which governs their principal crop.

For the other five basic crops in the nation's farm program, the House has voted to go to a flexible price support program, rather than continue the rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity. There is a better than even chance the Senate will follow the action of the House and adopt the program of flexible price supports.

In this particular struggle over rigid vs. flexible price supports, the tobacco program was not directly involved. President Eisenhower already had agreed that the price support for tobacco should remain at 90 per cent of parity even though he advocated a flexible price support program for the other five basic crops. They are wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts.

The attitude of the President toward the 90 per cent of parity support price for tobacco certainly speaks well for the tobacco program. Obviously the President feels that the tobacco program, with its strict production controls, is worthy of continued price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Nevertheless, it must be realized that in the eyes of many federal lawmakers who do not understand the tobacco program, the entire federal farm program appears a package deal. Many of these Representatives and Senators may take the attitude that if flexible price supports are the right thing for five of the basic agricultural crops, it should also be the best thing for tobacco.

The point is this: If flexible supports are written into law for the basic crops other than tobacco, it is going to be more difficult than ever to retain a rigid price support program for tobacco in years to come.

In view of the changing attitude of federal legislators toward farm price supports in general, tobacco producers must double their efforts to make sure the solons realize the soundness of the tobacco program as it now is. They must see to it that the federal legislators realize the operation of the tobacco program merits rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

With the ground cut away from rigid price supports for other basic farm crops, it will be more difficult than ever to retain the rigid high price supports for tobacco. It is a challenge which tobacco producers must be prepared to meet in the future.

Legalized Gambling Still A Question

Is North Carolina going to have dog racing and pari-mutuel betting or is it not?

That question is still being debated in the courts. In the meantime, the dog tracks at Moyock and Morehead City are not in operation, and it is extremely doubtful either will be in operation during this summer season.

Final fate of the two dog tracks may be settled by the forthcoming decision of the U. S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. Federal Judge Don Gilliam has said the circuit court is expected to rule soon on an appeal from an order closing the Moyock track, and the decision "may put an end" to the cases of both tracks.

The Reflector sincerely hopes the court decision not only puts an end to the two cases, but also puts an end to the tracks and the pari-mutuel betting in North Carolina.

While two or three local governments as well as track owners have profited from the tracks and legalized gambling, the tracks have been far more detrimental to the state and its people than they have been beneficial. The existence of the two tracks gave big gambling interests a foothold in North Carolina which they reasonably could be expected to exploit and expand in the future.

As it is, it is going to be tough enough a job to rule out legalized gambling permanently in the state now. But the job would be much more difficult if it were delayed until a later date.

Through court rulings, the dog track gambling has been stopped in the state at least temporarily. It is going to be up to the people of the state to keep a close guard in the future to see that the gambling menace is not allowed to make new gains in the state.

Move Should Improve Overall Highway Quality

Shifting emphasis in North Carolina's highway program during the next two years should give the state a better balance in all-around highway facilities.

Highway Commission Chairman A. H. Graham has declared emphasis in the next two years will be placed upon new construction and maintenance. There will be less "betterment work" which includes paving and retreatment of country roads and roads in suburban areas.

North Carolina's secondary road system was greatly expanded and improved through the bond program undertaken by the state a few years ago. It should be in good condition now for the most part, and should remain in good condition for the next few years without appreciable major improvements.

Over the past several years the need for new construction along the primary highway system of the state has become more and more apparent. Some of this work has been done, but a great deal more needs to be done. At the same time, there are obvious needs for more maintenance work on highways of the state not included in the secondary system. Many of these have showed signs of neglect in the past few years.

The shift in emphasis of the highway program should, from the overall standpoint, give the state a better quality of highways generally throughout the entire system.

National Whirligig

Pressure On GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON—Sherman Adams' bare suggestion that President Eisenhower may retire to his Gettysburg farm after his present term has forced Republican leaders to realize that their Presidential cupboard is not too well stocked with possible replacements. And nobody believes that the White House Chief of Staff did not issue this warning without the head man's knowledge and approval.

Aside from the stark fact that Ike might quit, the Adams' notice was apparently designed to pressure Congress into enacting most of the Administration's legislative program. Eisenhower himself has said that the GOP would deserve to lose the Congressional elections next fall, if Congress did not pass dynamic and progressive legislation, which he conceives his suggestions to be.

IKE NOT AWAY BY HIS HIGH OFFICE—Unlike his immediate predecessor, Eisenhower does not particularly enjoy the White House office. He is not awed by his high estate, in view of the honors and experiences he attained as European Commander in World War II and the head of SHAPE. He does not possess the appetite for political intrigue or activity shared by F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman.

Should his popularity not endure, and should the present or the next Congress snub the majority of his legislative proposals, he might easily feel that he has had enough. After all, the Republican bigwigs sought him out in 1952 because they thought that Robert A. Taft could not end their long exile, and with the implied promise that the Party would do his bidding.

LEADERS WEIGHING FIELD—Thus, the prospect of building up a substitute nominee for 1956 has become a reality. Anyway, if only speculatively, the leaders interested in retaining control of the Executive branch of the government are looking over the field. And they are none too happy over these tentative and preliminary glimpses.

Dewey should consent to run again and defeat such a political name as Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., the President-makers would not nominate him a third time. The man at Albany has made too many enemies among the conservative, midwestern faction. He is, perhaps, more unpopular now than he was after the 1948 debate.

Vice-President Nixon's reputation has fallen to the ground like last night's skyrockets. As the man who first inspired and then tried to cut off the Army-McCarthy controversy, he led the Administration into a mess and a trap. His chauvinistic suggestions of American intervention in Indo-China, in view of the eventual Eisenhower-Dulles retreat, were also deplored at the White House and on Capitol Hill.

As forecast by veteran observers when he was ennobled as the "strong man" at Washington and advanced as a possible Eisenhower substitute, the young Californian's political skills are showing.

The fact is that there are no Senators or Governors of sufficient stature to qualify, through achievement or popular appeal, for the Republican-Prudential nomination.

LIKELIEST INDIVIDUAL—It is impossible for the foresighted politicians to decide now what kind of candidate the times and conditions in 1956 will require. But barring a war, when it is assumed that Ike would have to run again, the likeliest figure appears to be George M. Humphrey of Ohio, Secretary of the Treasury.

He has made a fine impression on the politicians and the businessmen. He has a delightful personality. He was a Taft man in 1952. He opposes excessive financial assistance even to our Allies, unless they co-operate with us wholeheartedly. He may appeal to the skeptics on this issue. Despite these qualifications, however, his availability will depend on business and financial conditions, since that is the field in which he is supposed to be an expert.

Another Cabinet possibility is Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson of Michigan. However, he runs second to Humphrey as the current choice, if Ike walks out on the GOP.

Expenditures For Labor-Saving Devices Will See Rise

By ROGER W. BARSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Readers wonder why I am optimistic as to the balance of the year. There are many reasons which I gave in my last week's Outlook. I now wish to emphasize the probable 1954 expenditures for new equipment and labor-saving machinery.

OFFICE WORKERS GETTING SCARCER

Although there is some reduction in the total income of wage-workers, it is mostly from reduction of hours and loss of overtime. This results in more leisure time and more money being spent on Do-It-Yourself improvements. This will stimulate retail sales.

There is no letup in the demand for office workers. They are becoming harder to get even at higher wages. Probably the demand from the Government and from the various engineering sub-contractors is causing most of this; but the desire of present woman workers to get married and have babies is a great factor.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES INCREASING

Expenditures for labor-saving devices are increasing, even though wages have stopped advancing. Companies are also enlarging their plants to make working conditions more pleasant and efficient. The attitude of employers is changing. It's not now a question of paying more wages; but of making the work lighter and the working environment contractors is causing most of more pleasant. I forecast continued large capital expenditures.

The gradual recognition of Cybernetics by manufacturers will cause a further increase of bookkeepers, stenographers, and other white-collar help. High School graduates have not heretofore liked to go into factory work because of the necessity of wearing old clothes and being classed as "common labor." But under the Cybernetic system, girls can operate both big and small machines by sitting at a mahogany desk in a silk dress, occasionally pushing a control button. This is easier and more interesting work than hitting a typewriter all day; and has a higher social rating.

AIR-CONDITIONING AND COFFEE HOURS

Expenditures for these and other so-called "benefits" appear unnecessary, if not foolish, to the old-time employer; but we may well have to come to these and other attractions. Some concerns now have music playing all day for their employees, while many have television during the lunch hour. These "extras" are not necessarily supplied by socially-minded employers; but rather by hard-boiled, old-fashioned employers who must "loosen up" to hold their workers.

All these "extras" help general business. Retail sales have fallen off; but I forecast that labor-saving devices and these new expenditures for making working conditions more attractive will increase from now on. Profits in some lines of business will decline; but in other lines profits will increase. The entire picture is changing. People continue to have money to spend; but they are not spending it so freely for the same old things. Live manufacturers and progressive merchants should awake to this. Watch the coming change in advertising copy.

WARNING TO WAGEWORKERS

No employer can long spend more than he takes in, whether it is in wages or fringes. Cybernetics appeal to the few fair-haired girls who get the jobs to control a factory by push-buttons, but only a few such people will be needed in some factories and stores. It is okay for wageworkers to be well dressed; but they must work hard just the same. Business cannot coast much longer. Sooner or later the present "easy days" will be over. Machines can compensate for shorter hours and more pay; but those who tend these machines must give 100 per cent in attention and worry in order to hold their new jobs.

The rise in the price of equipment stocks and labor-saving device stocks should be a warning to wageworkers. These companies are now getting huge orders; but the rising price of their stocks and bonds is a sure sign that many factories are changing. The new machines may not be delivered for a year or two years; but they are coming. This means that those who now have jobs—whether in offices or factories—had better hold onto them by doing good work. Don't be misled into a temporary "plush job" at higher wages. You will regret it.

Around Capitol Square

Minorities' Role In Government By The Majority

By LYNN NISBET

DEMOCRACY — The basic idea of democracy is that the majority rules, but minorities are entitled to consideration. Practical application of that idea would accord minority recognition on basis of strength shown in the voting. There have been some instances in national and local history when pluralities or majorities for certain candidates were preponderant enough to justify practically ignoring the minorities. There have been other instances when the margins were so narrow that the winners had very little to boast about, and therefore the responsibilities for maintaining equity in government were heavier.

One illustration of that condition is the present composition of the United States Senate. It was organized by the Republican on basis of a one-vote margin in voting strength. There came a time when the Democrats had the one vote margin, but did not seek to upset the organization. Now the exigencies of politics have given the Senate a definite one vote margin for the Republicans—perhaps a vote and a half because of the position of the one avowed independent.

President Eisenhower holds his office by a relatively narrow margin in popular vote, as did President Truman before him. Whether the President is a Democrat or a Republican, I still has a heavy obligation to members of the other party.

Results of recent primaries in North Carolina further emphasize the responsibility of officials to the minority which did not vote for them. Since in most cases Democratic nomination is tantamount to election, the figures used here will be those of the Democratic primary rather than the general election.

CLOSE — Within the past 20 years the widest margin by which any candidate for Governor or one of the Democratic nominations was the 57 per cent scored by Gregg Cherry over Ralph McDonalds in 1944. Next was the 55 per cent scored by Clyde Hoy over McDonald in the 1936 runoff. Kerr Scott won over Charlie Johnson in the 1946 runoff with 54 per cent of the total vote. J. M. Broughton in 1940 won the nomination with less than 32 per cent of the total primary vote, because runner-up W.P. Horton did not call a second primary. Governor Umstead had the wholly Democratic counties, the only 52 per cent of the total vote in 1952.

If you will add up the percentage margins and take into account the fractions of one per cent, it will be found that the past five Governors of North Carolina have been nominated by approximately, maybe just a wee bit less than, 50 per cent of the aggregate primary vote.

In the recent primary Senator-nominate Kerr Scott won that position with less than 51 per cent of the total vote cast. That was enough for all practical purposes, just as the 53 per cent of the vote Willis Smith got over Frank Graham in 1950 was enough and that the 53 per cent J.M. Broughton got over William Umstead in the Senate in 1948 was sufficient to clinch the election. The point is that with such narrow margins none of the winners have much to brag about, but should recognize substantial obligations to the minorities which constitute almost half of their constituency.

In that connection it should also be remembered that approximately one-third of the North Carolina citizenship is Republican. Adding that third to the Democratic minorities and remembering that Democratic nomination is equivalent to election, it appears obvious that no Governor or United States Senator has actually been chosen by a majority of the voters in a long time. The record shows, however, that when they get in office they forget the minorities which were not originally for them.

LOCALS — Coming down to district and county levels, the voting record in the recent primary shows that a great many candidates for sheriff, county commissioner and the Legislature were nominated by very narrow margins. More recounts have been a long time, not so much because of actual belief that there had been any monkeybusiness as because the closeness of the vote seemed to justify the recount. At least a half dozen sheriffs were nominated with less than 100 votes margin, and in several instances sheriff or county commissioner races were decided by less than 10 vote margins.

Chances are that in the November general election there will be other very narrow margins in county and district elections, although the State ticket is certain to have preponderant Democratic majority. These few counties where the division between Democrat and Republican votes is so narrow perhaps justify the contention that a two-party system contributes to good government. The fact is, that on State level and in more than half the wholly Democratic counties, the division between active factions within the Democratic party is more significant than two-party alignment most other places.

So long as the margin between the factions ranges from less than one percent to approximately six percent, with sometimes one and sometimes the other faction gaining the narrow margin, there is no real need for two parties in North Carolina. There is, however, admitted need for the winners—of which ever group—to give more heed to the losing minority than has been the custom in the past.

Worth Noting

IT DIDN'T JUST HAPPEN (The Better Worker)

Dr. George Washington Carver was possibly one of the most "written to" men in America. He received thousands and thousands of letters from people of many races and nationalities from various parts of the earth. These letters primarily sought information and opinions on things scientific but many were just heartwarming letters of gratitude for the splendid contribution that Dr. Carver made to human welfare.

To be sought after and admired by people isn't something that just happens to anybody. Such attention and applause has to be earned. Dr. Carver earned his fame and popularity by a lifetime of good work well done.

Roof Supports For New Church Installed

Steel supports for the roof of the Saint James Methodist Church were set in place recently. The $160,000 building is now under construction in the Forest Circle section on East Fifth Street. The portion above is to serve as a temporary sanctuary and later as a fellowship hall. The building, when completed, will include an auditorium, a dining room, a dozen classrooms, a kitchen, and a pastor's study. Church services are now being held in the auditorium of Third Street School. (Reflector Photo by Alvin Taylor)

Red Imperialism To Be Theme Of American Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Director Theodore C. Streibert of the U.S. Information Agency has told his men to hit hard on this theme: "Red imperialism" is the only imperialism on the march in the world today.

In a message to USIA's 217 operations posts in 76 countries, Streibert said yesterday the Communists—who constantly raise the cry of "imperialism" against the United States and others—have in fact "led country after country into the iron tentacles of Red colonialism."

Wage Increases Said Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wage increases and income tax cuts, the CIO says, are what's needed to give a lift "badly needed for a sagging economy."

Cannon Fired On Winning Yacht

BOSTON (AP)—When Francis Leblanc's yacht Glee won a race in the South Boston Yacht Club's holiday regatta yesterday, the judges' boat fired a small cannon in salute—and the wad encasing the powder charge went right through the Glee's sail.

Oklahomans Are Voting; Nat'l Guard Called Out

By DAYTON BLAIR
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An estimated 500,000 Oklahomans were voting today in the state's primary election, some of them under the watchful eye of National Guardsmen assigned to assure an honest election.

Democratic and Republican primaries are being held for the U.S. Senate, governor, Congress, state and local races.

Martial law was in effect in five eastern counties—Sequoyah, Adair, Cherokee, LeFlore and Pittsburg—and Gov. Johnston Murray has ordered plainclothesmen to supervise voting in some unidentified Oklahoma county precincts. Oklahoma County, the most populous area of the state, includes Oklahoma City. It will cast close to 100,000 votes, according to pre-election estimates.

Murray ordered martial law for the five counties after charges were filed against 10 persons last week for voting irregularities.

Guardsmen will be in uniform and will have authority to make arrests. However, they will be unarmed. It is Oklahoma's first election day in history under martial law although the governor's father, former Gov. William H. (Alfalfa) Bill Murray, gained nationwide fame in the 1930s by calling out the guard more than 30 times during his term.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr's bid for a second term has produced the hottest race of the campaign. Opposing him is former Gov. Roy J. Turner, who has criticized Kerr's attendance record in the Senate and expansion of his oil company interests in foreign nations.

Kerr and Turner, both former governors, are millionaire oilmen and have spent freely in the campaign. Observers rate the race a tossup.

Republicans have contests in the Senate and governor races that are attracting interest but the total GOP vote will probably not exceed 50,000.

No Traffic Jam Photos, Crash Took All Film

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Tulsa World didn't get a picture of a Fourth of July traffic jam yesterday—it got a picture of a plane crash instead.

The World said it sent commercial photographer Howard Hopkins aloft to get a picture of a traffic jam. The plane ran out of gas and it crash-landed at the intersection of U.S. 66 and State Highway 33.

Hopkins and the pilot both walked away from the crash unhurt. The big traffic jam the photographer had been looking for all day formed around the crashed plane.

But Hopkins found, to his horror, he had used his last film taking pictures of the crash.

CHATER TWENTY-FIVE
WALT pulled up in front of Cynthia's apartment house. Dusk had settled, mantling the surroundings in a soft twilight glow. In a tree-top a whippoorwill began its plaintive call to its mate. One lone star sparkled high up in the heavens. "I won't let you do it, Cynthia," Walt said.
"Do what?"
She supposed he wanted to start scolding her again, repeating that he was disappointed in her. Well, she was disappointed in him.
"Marry that Brandt fellow?"
"Oh." She hadn't expected that. She had almost forgotten her small subtlety about a wedding and shopping for a trousseau. "How can you stop me?" she asked, nevertheless.
"I'll marry you myself," Dr. Sellars announced. He was as much surprised at such a statement as she was. And he was even more surprised as he found himself reaching toward his assistant's nose, pulling her to him, holding her tightly.
The kiss he gave her was fierce and brusque, as well as startling. It left Cynthia wide-eyed and unbelieving. She did not realize, just then, that it had not left her weak and shaken.
But he had kissed her. She had determined that he should, and he had.
He had not said that he loved her. But he had said he would marry her himself, rather than let her marry someone else.
"I never said I was going to marry anyone," Cynthia told him.
"You certainly gave me that impression," Walt said. "But anyway, I'm glad it's settled."
"I'm not sure that it is. You'll have to give me a little more time, Walt."
"Oh, take all the time you want!" He made a wide-sweeping gesture. "We couldn't very well be married until we get the new plan for the clinic under way, anyway. It will be a big project. And it will require a lot of time and thought."

He did not yet know just how big it was going to be, Cynthia thought. She said, "You're right. The clinic must come first. Even before love or marriage." There was a tinge of irony in her voice, but she knew it would be lost on Walt. Still, had she not decided that it would always have to be this way—the clinic, his work first? She must accept a certain place, try to be satisfied with that.
"When are you coming back?" Walt asked.
"Oh, I suppose I might as well come back tomorrow."
"Good." He looked very pleased with her now. He smiled on her almost benignly.
"Well," Cynthia said, "I'll see you then."
He had not suggested that he come in. Things did not seem to have changed much between them, even if Walt had kissed her and said he was going to marry her. She said goodby and he said "G'day," and she went on in. She could not help having a sort of let-down feeling. She thought how different it would have been if Walt had been Norman. Norman would never have been satisfied with one kiss. He would never have let her spend the rest of the evening alone after they had become engaged to be married.
Yet was she engaged to Walt? She had not said yes; she had not said no. She knew, however, from his manner, the satisfied smile he had given her, that Walt considered everything settled.
If it was, Cynthia could not help wondering why she did not feel happier. She ought to be floating in the clouds. She ought to be simply dizzy with triumph. In short, she ought to be the happiest girl in all the world—for hadn't she, finally, got exactly what she wanted?

Cynthia had known how glad she would be to see "her children," as she called them. But she was not prepared to have them greet her with such expressions of joy.
When she came into the clinic that Monday morning there were cries of "Nurse Lady! Nurse Lady!" And, "Oh, we thought you were never coming back again."
Nancy O'Riley burst into tears of happiness, so that Cynthia had to gather the frail little girl in her arms and soothe her and quiet her sobbing. She clung to Cynthia, saying over and over, "Oh, Nurse Lady—I thought I'd never see you again—never again!"
One of the boys, in his haste to be among the first to make her welcome, stumbled over his crutches and had a bad fall. But with Cynthia's help, he scrambled back onto his feet, wearing a broad grin. And that little episode caused the other children to laugh, and broke the tension.
Miss Whiting, a silent witness to all this, said, "Well, I do declare. They love you as though you were their mother, Miss Doyle. They never took on so over me."
Cynthia, fearing that that good woman's kind heart had been hurt, reminded her that she had worked with these children, day after day, for over two years. "Sometimes I feel like The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," she said smilingly.
"They're grand children," Miss Whiting admitted. "They never complain about their troubles. And the good Lord knows they have them. It makes me ashamed of those of us who are always fretting about this small ache or pain, with nothing in this world really to worry about."
"Most of us can learn a lot from these children," the younger nurse agreed. She knew she might be speaking out of turn, but she decided to tell Miss Whiting that without any doubt the clinic would need her services permanently. She thought that Miss Whiting could not feel so badly about leaving if she knew she would be asked to come back to a permanent position.

"I'll come back whenever I'm needed," Miss Whiting said. "At first, I thought working with these children, some so handicapped—especially the spastic ones—it would just about break my heart. But they manage to get into your heart, so you can't put them out of it."
They did, indeed. As the day wore on, with Cynthia resuming her duties, giving muscle tests to the children afflicted with polio, massage or heat treatments to those with other ailments, she thought that she loved her work more than she possibly could have any other kind.
She loved each child. She had no favorites. She was reminded of the mother with such a large family who, when asked which child was her favorite, had replied, "The one who is sick or the one who is away."

Each of the children, when his turn came, had something to confide in Cynthia, some incident to tell her about that had happened during her absence.
"What do you know, Nurse Lady," the Thompson boy boasted proudly as Cynthia put a fresh dressing on his knee. "Dr. Sellars says my osteo is getting along so good I ought to be able to ride my bike again before long. I miss riding my bike more than anything."
"I know you must," Cynthia said. "But you must not try to ride it, please, Dickie, until Dr. Sellars says it's all right. We don't want to have more trouble with this knee—not ever again."
"We sure don't," Dickie agreed.
"You know, no one knows how to bind it, though, like you," Miss Whiting, she tried, but the bandage always kept slipping and sliding out of place. Gee, it sure is great to have you back!"

Same Thing That Happened Friday

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pharmacist David Karlin reported to police that exactly the same thing happened to him last night as last Friday.
A gunman walked into his drugstore and robbed him of $75. Moreover, the bandit was the same man—a Negro about 24 years old, dressed in a blue sports shirt and brown pants.

Magsaysay Strength In Philippines Is Evident

By DON HUTH
MANILA (AP)—For a man who generally was considered politically immature when he took office, President Ramon Magsaysay has done all right in his first six months.

He has emerged victorious from a direct challenge to his leadership within the Nacionalista party. And at least part of his program for easing the economic stresses of the Philippines has gone into effect.

The Nacionalistas took in Magsaysay and made him their presidential candidate when the former defense secretary and Communist Huk fighter broke with President Elpidio Quirino's Liberal party.

After his overwhelming victory, old guard Nacionalistas moved in to run the show. But they stubbed their toe on a chief executive who made it clear he was in the driver's seat and intended to remain.

His greatest strength lies with the people and party leaders know it. The upshot of the party strife was a peace conference recently which approved a declaration recognizing Magsaysay as chief spokesman of the administration and its policies.

Sen. Jose P. Laurel, wartime puppet president under the Japanese, and other top Nacionalistas supported Magsaysay. But there is no more than an elastic truce with the president's top critic, Sen. Claro M. Recto.

Recto was foreign minister under the Japanese and has little use for Magsaysay's program of close ties with U. S. foreign policy in Southeast Asia. He opposed the agreement for U. S. military bases in the Philippines. He supported Leon Guerrero when the undersecretary of foreign affairs exhumed the old Japanese war slogan "Asia for the Asians" to express Philippine foreign policy. Magsaysay junked the slogan and sent Guerrero off to London as ambassador.

Magsaysay voiced support for the system of collective security against communism, and got an agreement from the United States to put the mutual security pact of 1951 into effect.

Magsaysay got most of his program for agricultural and economic development through the last session of Congress despite the political turmoil. He has launched a big road building program. Private enterprise is helping to raise money to construct wells in the provinces, his pet project.

Magsaysay keeps in close touch with the people. Not a week has passed that he has not suddenly taken off for the provinces. As in the campaign, he goes among the villages. If they need a new well, they get it. Their complaints against the government or local officials are answered or taken care of.

Magsaysay still is impetuous. He is given to hasty decisions that occasionally get him in hot water. But the sincerity of his actions never is questioned.

Renew Attack On U.S. Ambassador

ROME (AP)—The Communists are needling Italy's government again about something U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce is supposed to have told newsmen in America.

Red party boss Palmiro Togliatti told the Communist Deputies Mrs. Luce, arriving in America recently for a vacation, told reporters Italy plans to intensify the "struggle against communism."

This, Togliatti said, seemed to indicate the envoy has access "even to secret plans of the government." He formally demanded whether Premier Mario Scelba, as Foreign Minister, Attilio Piccioni were going to "do their legitimate duty and protest" to the U.S. government.

Such a formal demand requires a reply by Scelba or Piccioni.

Last winter a large group of Communist and left-wing senators asked, without success that the government declare Mrs. Luce unacceptable last winter. They charged her with criticizing Italy in a conference with Washington newsmen.

Slurred Texas, Got Shot, And Dies In Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Phillip E. Ahlm, 49, movie stunt man shot a week ago during a Hollywood party after making derogatory remarks about Texas, died last night in general hospital.

The shooting took place during a party at the home of oil heiress Barbara Clamptt. Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was Ed Neely, 61, of Texas. He is the husband of the former Leah Clamptt, sister of the heiress.

After his arrest, he told officers the shooting occurred after Ahlm accused and made derogatory remarks about that state and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Neely is free on $10,000 bail.

East Pakistan Outlaws Party

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—East Pakistan's new military government has outlawed the Communist party as a danger to public peace.

The Reds, who supported the regime of ousted Chief Minister Abdul Kasem Fazlul Huq, were accused of inciting riots in April in which more than 500 persons were killed.

Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, the state's new governor, signed an order declaring the party and all its branches illegal in East Pakistan.

Following the April riots and statements by Fazlul Huq demanding provincial autonomy for east Pakistan, Governor General Ghulam Mohammed fired the chief minister and his government.

Big Whale Shark Wins 7-Hour Bout

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The master of a party fishing vessel told today of "the big one that got away"—and fifty witnesses backed up his story.

Capt. J. B. Mathews, skipper of the Capt. Bae Strickland, and his crew fought a losing seven-hour battle with a 45-foot whale shark in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday.

"It was the biggest thing we've ever seen outside a plastercast of a whale in the New York Museum of Natural History," said Karl Dronke of Newark, N. J., who was aboard with his wife and son, Karl Jr.

Mathews and his crewman, Milton (Sonny) Payne, had an idea they'd run into a specimen of the world's biggest fish when the Capt. Bae Strickland shoved off Sunday for a day's fishing in the Gulf, with more than 50 persons aboard.

Mathews had spotted a hugh whale shark in the fishing grounds 50 miles off John's Pass a week earlier. He hooked the whale shark on a 370-pound test line then bit the line snapped like a thread.

Sunday, he was prepared with "tackle" that included a foot-long shark hook, three-foot chain leader and 500 feet of five-eighth manilla line. This was double spliced into the anchor cable which was an inch thick, with the capstan as a "reef."

When the customers began hauling in coils up to 25 pounds, Mathews knew the whale shark was nearby, for these are free-loading fish which trail the shark for tidbits.

The Capt. Bae Strickland made a dozen passes at the whale shark before Payne sank the hook into the big fish's lower jaw.

"The crew played it like any other fish," Dronke said. "Mathews kept a tight line on him and Payne handled the capstan reel. They'd throw the boat in reverse and then to take up slack, then shut off the engine and let the whale shark tow us. Some aboard complained because the captain wouldn't stop and let them catch grouper."

"The whale shark didn't seem to bleed. At least it didn't attract any other sharks."

"The party fishing boat Atlanta came alongside and took off those who'd had enough, but we stayed. So did about 25 others."

The ship's log showed the whale shark towed it 18 miles during the seven hours the fight lasted. Then it gave a lunge, snapped the line and left. Mathews estimated it would weigh 15,000 to 20,000 pounds.

Big league ballplayers celebrated Independence Day with a home run barrage that rocked eight baseball stadiums from dugout to bullpen and sent the harried, defenseless pitchers running to cover.

The day of double-headers re-sounded with 35 home run blasts; only five short of the major league record for most homers in one day. A total of 215 hits were peppered about the parks and 75 pitchers were used. That's an average of almost 20 hits and more than 4 1/2 pitchers a game.

Cleveland's Bill Glynn was the merriest celebrant. The normally light-hitting first baseman exploded three home runs in the 13th opening victory over Detroit and drove in eight runs. Ray Boone and Wayne Belardi homered for Detroit. Glynn's bat, along with the rest of the Indians, was silenced in the second game, and went to Detroit 1-0 in 11 innings.

Three others—the New York Yankees' Irv Noren, Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and the Chicago Cubs' Randy Jackson—walked two homers in one game. Dusty Rhodes of the New York Giants and Ted Lepcio of Boston also hit two homers, one in each game. Glynn, Lepcio and Roy Sievers of Washington had grand-slammers.

Only one of the 32 starting pitchers went the distance with four of them turning in shutouts. The flashiest performance was exhibited by George Zverink of the Tigers. A member of the Indians in 1951 Zverink blanked his former teammates with three hits and was rewarded with the victory when Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn homered off rookie Don Mossi to break up the game.

The split, which snapped an eight-game winning streak for the Indians, cost them a full game to the Yankees and trimmed their first-place American League lead to 3 1/2 games.

The Yankees trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 7-4 and 11-2, to win their first double-header in almost a year. They had split the last three twin bills in 1953 and their first 10 this season. Successive homers by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and a run-scoring double by Gene Wondring provided the margin of victory in the opener. Noren drove in five runs with his two homers in the nightcap. Bill Wilson hit Philadelphia's only homer.

The Giants and Dodgers swept double-headers leaving the National League-leading Giants still 3 1/2 lengths in front of Brooklyn. The two rivals begin a three-game set at Ebbets Field tonight.

Johnny Antonelli won his 12th game with a three-hit, 10-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies in the opener. Rhodes subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, homered and doubled in the first game. In the second game, he hit two singles and a homer with two mates aboard to give the Giants an uphill 4-3 triumph.

Rookie Walter Moryn, playing in place of the slumping Jackie Robinson, cracked four hits, including a homer, to help Brooklyn down Pittsburgh 8-6 in the first game. Duke Snider banged his 20th four-bagger in that game too. Junior Gilliam homered for the Dodgers in the second game but it was Carl Furillo who drive in five runs to account for the 7-2 victory.

Milwaukee won two slugging matches from the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6 and 10-4 as each team slugged four homers. Besides Mathews' pair Bill Bruton and Del Crandall homered for the Braves while the Cardinal homers were hit by Solly Hemus, Rip Repulski, Ray Jablonski and rookie Joe Cunningham.

Cincinnati's Redlegs defeated Chicago 6-5 in the opener despite two homers by Jackson of the Cubs. Bobby Adams drove in the winning run in the 10th with a single. The Reds also took the nightcap 8-7 on Hobe Landrith's home run. Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski hit his 21st homer in the first game.

Boston's Red Sox and Washington divided a twin bill. Boston won the first game 14-0 behind Willard Nixon's six-hitter as Lepcio batted in five runs with a triple and single besides his grand-slammer. Jack Jensen also homered for Boston.

Washington took the second 7-1 behind Chuck Stobbs' five-hitter. Sievers' four-run wallop offset a 1-0 Red Sox lead provided by Lepcio's second homer.

Only one homer was hit in the Chicago-Baltimore double-header, won by the White Sox 3-0 and 3-1. Billy Pierce hurled a four-hit shutout in his first complete game since May 19. The only homer was hit by Ron Jackson, a 20-year-old bonus player subbing at first base for Chicago in place of the injured Ferris Fain and Phil Cavarretta. Jackson's blow came in the seventh inning and broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Baltimore's Duane Pillette and Harry Dorish Cass Michaels' single in the eighth scored Minnie Minsos all the way from first to provide the winning run.

Tigers Win 6-5; Braves Tie Giants

The Person-Garret Tigers dropped the Tobacco Board of Trade Dodgers 6-5 yesterday in the feature game of an Independence Day double-header at South Greenville Park.

In the other Coastal Little League game played, the Picklen Giants and the Greenville Braves were tied 5-5 when their game was halted. It will be resumed or replayed at the first available date.

In the Tigerr-Dodgers contest, the Tigers were outth 5-4 but they were more effective with their spacing to defeat the Dodgers. The four Tiger hits went to four different batters. B. Cox paced the Dodgers with two of their four hits.

In the Braves-Giants game, P. Langley and O. Darden of the Braves paced an eight-hit attack with two hits apiece. Staton and Wilkes had two hits apiece to pace the Giants' ten-hit attack.

Falkland's Winning Streak Snapped By Williamston

FALKLAND—A seven game winning streak was snapped Saturday night when league leading Williamston defeated Falkland 12-1. In the second game Sunday Falkland came back to win 4-1.

In the game played Saturday night in Williamston it was all the local club's evening. The Martins started fast by going ahead 2-0 in the first inning. These two runs proved enough to clinch the win; however, Williamston scored one in the third and sewed the game up with four runs in the fourth.

Sunday's contest proved differently with Falkland scoring first in the fourth. Two runs were scored that inning on only one hit, a walk and a hit batsman. Insurance runs were added in the fifth and sixth.

Williamston managed its lone run in the seventh on an error and a hit.

Ken Hall pitched the win Sunday allowing seven hits. He struck out five batters. Williamston allowed Falkland only four hits. He struck out eight batters.

Williamston, which took over first place in the Tobacco Belt League last weekend by defeating Robersonville in a pair of games managed to keep their hold on first place. Falkland remains in third place in the standings after the weekend split.

Although held to only nine hits in the two games over the past weekend Falkland still seems to be one of the hotter teams in the league. The Falkland nine had won seven straight games prior to Saturday night's loss and after Sunday's win have now won 12 of their last 14 ball games.

After losing five out of the first six games Falkland has been winning consistently so their record now stands 13 wins and seven losses in the league standings as of the fourth of July.

Leggett and Warren each got two hits for Williamston Sunday while no Falkland batter managed more than one hit. Harvey Strickland and Cotten Webb each got a double for the big Falkland hits.

This weekend Falkland plays Belvoir in a pair of games. Saturday's contest is slated for Falkland. Game time is 3 o'clock.

PONY Loop All-Stars Beat Graduates, 7-2

One Lefthander Picked By Casey

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, who will manage the American League team in the annual All-Star Game at Cleveland July 13, named eight pitchers for the battle today.

The others are Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland; Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox; Bob Porterfield of Washington; Allie Reynolds of New York; and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

The American League released Stengel's choices along with the other players who, with the eight starters selected in a poll of fans, will represent the league.

The eight American League starters, announced Sunday night, are Al Rosen, Cleveland, first base; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, second base; Ray Boone, Detroit, third base; Chico Carrasquel, Chicago, shortstop; Orestes Minsos, Chicago, left field; Mickey Mantle, New York, center field; Hank Bauer, New York, right field; and Yogi Berra, New York, catcher.

Each of these eight top vote-getters must, according to the regulations governing the game, start and play a minimum of three innings.

For possible use in later innings, Stengel chose the following players to round out his 25-man squad: Catcher—Sherman Lollar, Chicago.

Infielders—Ferris Fain, Chicago; Jim Finigan, Philadelphia; Nelson Fox, Chicago; George Kell, Chicago; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit.

Outfielders—Larry Doby, Cleveland; Jim Piersall, Boston; Ted Williams, Boston.

Stengel presumably stacked a right-handed pitcher deck because of the National League's rough lineup of right-handed batters, at least in the fans' lineup. It includes Gran Hamner of Philadelphia, Ray Jablonski of St. Louis, Al Dark of New York, Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn—all right-handers and all with the possible exception of Dark, respected slugger.

The pitchers and other members of the National League squad will be named by Manager Walt Alston of Brooklyn in Wednesday morning papers.

Coaches Junior Yohn and Bill Kittrell of the Pony League

Staton on the mound and the fireballing sidearm had the game in his hands from the start. Two walks to Charles Rumley were the only times the Graduates could get a man on off Staton. The smoke-ball slinger threw eight batters in the three innings.

Billy Boyd Cox took over to start the fourth and was handicapped by the errors of his teammates to let across two runs.

Wade Jordan led off with a grounder to shortstop that Bobby Edwards could not hold. Jordan stole second and came on around to third when Angus Duff was safe on an error by Mark Roebuck at second. When Kelly Barnhill dropped Roebuck's late throw, Jordan roared on home. Two walks and a fielder's choice that got no one out scored Duff from third.

After that the Graduates did not even come close to seeing home plate.

The All-Stars pushed across a run off Ike Riddick in the second on two hits and came through with two runs in the third.

Johnny Johnson started the rally by stopping a Riddick pitch with his head gear. John Wesley Hudson walked and Peanut Nun followed with a single to score Johnson. An error by "Wrinkle" Rumley let in the third and eventual winning run.

Riddick went the first three innings for the Grads and Charles Rumley took over from there. Rumley pitched three innings, giving up one run and two hits.

Hudson Miller went the last two innings allowing two runs and no hits.

The Grads, rusty from their lack of practice and with their timing considerably off, could reach the All-Star pitching for only two hits. Rumley singled in the seventh and Wade Jordan singled in the eighth. Richard Earl Nobles led the hitting for the night with two hits in three trips to the plate.

The teams plan another meeting later in the year. The exact date has not been set however, it will probably be on a Wednesday night when there is no scheduled Pony League action.

Cadillac

No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order... the keys are in his hand... and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others," we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

Why not come in soon and do so!

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
 Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust dated August 25, 1950, and executed by David E. O'Geary and wife, Ross Lee O'Geary, to R. G. Wilmoth, Trustee, of record in Book V-25 at page 509 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, North Carolina, the said R. G. Wilmoth, Trustee, having resigned as Trustee and M. O. Ledford having been appointed and substituted as Trustee therein by instrument dated June 8, 1954 and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, North Carolina, in Book V-27 at page 286, default having been made in the payment of the debt thereby secured and the owner of the debt having called upon the said M. O. Ledford, Substituted Trustee, to foreclose thereon, the undersigned Substituted Trustee will, on Monday, the 12th day of July, 1954, at 12 o'clock, Noon, EST, before the courthouse door in the City of Greenville, North Carolina, expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash the following described real estate:
 All that certain lot or parcel of land situated in the City of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows: Lot No. Fifty-Five (55) in Block "B" in the subdivision of the W. C. Dunn property in the City of Greenville, North Carolina, according to Map thereof made by W. C. Dresbach & Son, G. E. and Surveyors, dated August 1949 and recorded in Map Book No. 4 at page 124 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, to which Map reference is hereby made for a full and complete description of said lot, together with the oil floor furnace, tank and connections.
 Said real estate will be offered for sale subject to the lien of the ad valorem taxes thereon for the year 1954, and the proposed purchaser at said sale will be required to make a deposit with the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County equal to 10% of the bid pending confirmation of the sale by the Clerk of said Court.
 This the 11th day of June, 1954.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — A generous handful of blue chip stocks stood out strongly today in a moderately advancing stock market.

By early afternoon, prices were up 1 to 5 points in the favored areas. For the market as a whole, price changes were mostly fractional.

Most buying centered in steels, motors, aircrafts, chemicals, electrical equipments, radio-televisions and theatres—but only for selected stocks. Many minus signs appeared in railroads, oils and in miscellaneous areas.

Outstanding advances were scored by General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Radio Corp., General Electric, du Pont and RKO Theatres.

Also higher were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Boeing, Zenith, American Telephone American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Pacific Mills, Bullard Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and U.S. Gypsum.

General Motors, Friday's most active issue up 2 1/2, started today with a rush on 3,000 shares up 1 1/2 and then moved ahead still more. Similar pattern was made by U.S. Steel starting on 9,000 shares up 1/2 at 50.

Martian 'Lake' Disappeared

TOKYO — Japanese astronomers were puzzled today over the disappearance of a "lake" on the planet Mars, now making one of its rare close approaches to the earth.

Tsunao Saeki, a leading Japanese authority on Mars, said observations made from the Osaka Electrical Science Hall failed to disclose the landmark.

It was clearly visible in 1939 under similar conditions, Saeki said.

New Telephone Booths

Pictured above is one of the seven pay telephone booths the local telephone company is "spotting around the city," according to Manager Frank Harrington. Three of the booths have already been set up at various stations on Dickinson Avenue, with four more planned: one on the corner of 10th and Evans Street, two across the river; and one at Flanagan Parker Funeral Home. Rotary Committees Appointed; Rev. Haney Speaks At Meeting

Greenville Rotarians were urged to combine patriotism and service in promoting understanding and equal opportunity and a use of the privileges of citizenship at the weekly meeting on Monday evening.

The speaker, Dr. H. Glenn Haney, minister of the Fifth Street Christian Church, addressed the Rotary Club at the first meeting of the new year with President Charles Bissette presiding and Program Chairman Leon Roebuck Jr. presenting the speaker.

Man's freedom in a democracy rests upon a faith in God, and when Christianity goes out, democracy and its privileges go out, also, declared Dr. Haney. His address was a discussion of the Declaration of Independence on the occasion of the 178th anniversary of the signing of this document by 55 leaders in 1776.

The speaker cited the struggle of men for political and economic freedom and noted that the signing of the Declaration of Independence started a movement among men which is still developing and growing.

President Bissette named the committees to serve the club in his administration, and they include:

Club Service, F. Harding Sugg, chairman; Program, Leon Roebuck Jr., chairman; Robert Wilfong, W. M. Howard; Attendance, Harold Thomas, chairman; B. McKay Johnson, Francis Bowen; Club Bulletin, Rotarian Magazine and Rotary Information, Wyatt Brown, chairman; James W. Butler, Howard J. McGinnis; Classification, Samuel B. Underwood, chairman; Larry Brown, John Webb;

International Service, Robert Thompson, chairman; International Contacts, June H. Rose, chairman; Kay B. Pace, John Winstead; International Student Projects, James L. Fleming, chairman; Jack Boone, Fred Irons; International Information, Joseph Moyer, chairman; Ken Harris, F. C. Harling;

Community Service, Roy Martin, chairman; Crippled Children, Branch Armistead, chairman; Reid Perkins; Rural-Urban Relations, Charles White, chairman; Alton Barrett, Floyd Hendrix, Haywood Dall; Student Loan, Carl L. Adams, chairman; Community Safety, J. H. Thomas, chairman; Phil Goodson, Ruel Tyson; Youth Service, Lindsay Wilkerson, chairman; Fred Irons, W. A. Darden, Hugh Winslow; Sen-

Strong Quake In Nevada Desert

BERKELEY, Calif. (P)—A "very strong" earthquake which would have caused widespread damage in a populated area shook the barren northwest Nevada desert early today.

It was centered near Fallon, Nev., where it toppled chimneys and cut off power.

No other damage was reported. Don Tocher, assistant seismologist at the University of California here, said the quake had a Richter magnitude of from 6 1/2 to 7. It was the biggest shock in this area since the Tehachapi-Bakersfield earthquake in July, 1952, which was rated at 7.45 on the Richter scale.

Du Pont Announces

NEW ONE-COAT HOUSE PAINT

... cuts repainting time in half
... stays dazzling white for years

Now, paint your home at almost half the cost in half the time it used to take! With new Du Pont "41" One-Coat House Paint you get double economy—because it combines exceptional hiding and excellent durability all in one coat. It's specially made with high-hiding pigments for one-coat coverage over previously painted surfaces that are in good condition, or on new, primed wood.

Your house will stay white, too—because Du Pont One-Coat White is self-cleaning. Due to the unique blend of pigments and oils, it actually cleans itself under normal exposure to sun, rain, and weather... provided, of course, that dense shade or excessive accumulations of dust and soot do not retard this "self-cleaning" process.

Come in to see us. We'll be glad to give you free literature on "how to paint," help you with your painting problems or recommend a reliable painting contractor.
