

Under-Secretary Bedell Smith To Represent U.S. Departing Soon For Geneva

PARIS (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, U.S. under secretary of state, will go to Geneva soon to represent the United States at the Geneva conference...

The United States secretary of state explained fully the attitude of his government toward the Indo-Chinese phase of the Geneva conference... of the Associated States, and of the peace and freedom of the area if the United States without departing from the principles which Mr. Dulles expressed were once again to be represented at Geneva at the ministerial level.

Dulles will return to Washington, and Edmen and Mendez-France will return to Geneva to continue talks with the Communist powers on an Indo-China cease-fire.

There was no hint as to the peace terms discussed.

Dulles is known to feel that France has the primary responsibility for settling the war, since she has carried the principal burden for almost eight years.

Health Bill Proviso Is Killed Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that Secretary of State Dulles flew to Paris to see whether this country's return to the Geneva conference would help rather than hinder a settlement in Indo-China.

The President told a news conference he will carry on the fight for such a program as long as he is in office.

At the Capitol House GOP Leader Halleck (Ind) gave up any idea the proposal could be revived in this session of Congress.

Uncertain When State Elections Board Hearing Will End Board Hears Pitt Dispute

By BRYAN HANSLIP RALEIGH (AP)—A dispute over whether ballots can be recounted in a close Pitt County Sheriff's race today came before the state Board of Elections.

M. E. Cavendish, attorney for Whitehurst, argued the complaint was filed properly under Board of Elections regulations.

Speight said, "is completely impartial." Jones said that complaints filed by Whitehurst did not allege enough votes were affected to change the outcome.

Monday's session, however, lasted only a few minutes because of the filing of a demurrer with the state board by Tyson's attorneys.

Power Issue Promises Provide Main Battle Sees AEC Program Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said today a long Senate look at a proposed government contract to buy electric power in the TVA area may delay President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program.

A controversy has been raging in Congress over the President's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to negotiate a contract for construction of a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

He told the Senate last night that the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which he is vice chairman, had provided "carefully stipulated safeguards" to withhold information on the "design and fabrication of the nuclear part of atomic weapons."

The United States, he said, still possesses "vast superiority in weapon power," although "traitors spies" and captured German scientists have permitted the Russians "to make atomic weapons several years earlier than under their own independent efforts."

Halleck told the House that recommitment of the bill would kill it because Congress is working for adjournment in a little over two weeks.

Halleck told newsmen the plan's death is traceable to "Democrats who didn't think it goes far enough and some Republicans who think it goes too far."

Administration Fights Further Foreign Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration goes back to Congress today with arguments for its foreign aid program, already trimmed by more than 10 per cent and facing probable attempts to cut it further.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Adm. Arthur W. Radford chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to a closed session today on the measure, now slimmer to $3,100,000,000 by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The administration asked $3,448,108,000 in authorizations for the fiscal year that began July 1 and the House voted $3,368,608,000. The figures are maximums only; actual appropriations must be voted later.

The bill would authorize the federal government to underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and nonprofit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

Potential Presidential Candidates Emerging Governors Wind Up Session

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Three Democrats and half a dozen Republicans claimed the political spotlight today as the nation's governors prepared to wind up their 46th annual conference with a call for a conference with President Eisenhower on a vast new road-building program.

Although politics officially is taboo here, Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Frank J. Lausche of Ohio appeared to be advancing to the forefront in a Democratic parade of potential 1956 presidential candidates.

Lausche is the great enigma of the Democratic puzzle. Other Democrats say he never acts like a presidential candidate and seems to have no interest.

fusion debate with Eisenhower over whether the states or federal government are to build a proposed new transcontinental system of highways.

Commissioners Approve Equipment Purchases Utilities Finances Talked

Discussion of the financial statement for the past month and departmental expenditures for the past fiscal year highlighted the meeting of the Greenville Utilities Commission last night.

Business Manager Larry Brown presented the financial statement for June 1954, which showed a net profit of $9,731.25 for the month.

and Associates of Richmond, a firm which is making a study of the utilities transmission and distribution system. The letter informed the Commission a preliminary survey indicated the operations "within good tolerances of the voltage that customers could expect on a utility system within the loads and the lines such as you have in your territory."

Water department: income $19,210.11, expense $15,228.26, net revenue $3,981.85. City electric department: income $97,360.24, expense $96,872.16, net revenue $488.08.

Overall, it was anticipated the compromise version of the bill would provide more tax cuts than either the $1,400,000,000 provided by the House or the $1,300,000,000 voted by the Senate for next year.

Both Senate and House conferees forecast eventual compromise on the dividend issue and final enactment of the bill Eisenhower has called the cornerstone of his domestic program.

Compromise Tax Program Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee set down today to try to hammer out a compromise on President Eisenhower's big tax revision program.

The conferees seemed headed for a possible temporary deadlock over a politically worrisome section dealing with tax relief for stockholders on their dividend income.

The bill is aimed at overhauling the nation's complex tax structure for the first time in over 70 years. It provides for no major changes in tax rates, but it does furnish tax relief to both corporations and individuals through a variety of liberalized allowances.

Uncertain Outlook For Tobacco Sales

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia and Florida blue-cured tobacco growers, who gamble on the weather and price fluctuations, place their new crop on sale at 26 auction markets tomorrow.

Drought cut production in some areas. The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Georgia's yield would be off nearly 12 per cent from last year due to the dry, hot weather.

For the Georgia, Florida, Alabama belt, however, the drop was estimated at around 9 per cent. Some Florida growers having increased their yield.

Some farmers said the government estimate of the drought damage was too light. Others however said weather damage may not exceed 10 per cent.

Serve Yourself Station Arrival

HERMOSA BEACH Calif. (AP)—When Mrs. Daniel Baker realized her husband couldn't reach the hospital in time, she ordered him to stop her car.

That is why Anna Danette Baker entered the world yesterday at a serve-yourself gasoline station.

At its meeting last night the Commission approved the purchase of one car and three trucks to replace old equipment, and also agreed to pay off $1,835.84 in uncollectible accounts receivable for the year ending June 30, 1949.

Superintendent Leonard Bloxam, in his report to the Commission, said work is progressing on the new outfall line in the southeastern section of the city, and the project is expected to be completed on schedule.

He also reported a letter has been received from Leonard A. Blackburn

State Slows Its Spending Plans

RALEIGH (AP)—A hold-the-line on spending was issued to state agencies yesterday by the Budget Bureau.

Asst. Budget Director David S. Coltrane sent a reminder that allocations for departments, institutions and agencies for the current quarter of the fiscal year "are not intended to provide for the purchase of equipment."

Coltrane said the current drought which may reduce state income below estimates, was chiefly responsible for the economy order.

Boat Capsizes; Children Missing

MONTREAL (AP)—Eight or nine children were missing today in a mountain lake northwest of here where at least 12 tots were drowned when an overloaded pleasure motorboat capsized yesterday.

The bodies of three girls and a boy were recovered before darkness suspended search operations last night. Two adults and several other children were rescued.

Attlee Says Dulles Aids Communists

LONDON (AP)—Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles today of "playing right into the hands of the Communists" by failing to return to the Geneva conference.

Attlee, whose Labor government first recognized the Chinese Communist government in 1950, spoke in a House of Commons weekly affairs debate.

"We must recognize that if we can get a standstill or an armistice in Indo-China there remains the very difficult question of Korea," he declared.

"I believe that a settlement of this question is entirely bound up with the problem of a seat for China in the (U.N.) Security Council and with the problem of Formosa."

New Well For Grifton Hoped Within 3 Weeks

GRIFTON — Mayor Sam Nelson said today it is hoped that a new well can be placed in operation within three weeks and thus alleviate Grifton's acute water shortage.

"We think we are going to get the other pump within three weeks but the contract has not been let yet," the mayor stated.

to use water for irrigation of lawns and gardens since Monday July 5 when the town commissioners passed an ordinance prohibiting the non-essential use of water. At the same time Mayor Nelson declared a "special emergency" involving the health and safety of the people and their properties.

Nelson said that the emergency measures had provided sufficient water to meet the town's needs. Before the emergency was declared the water supply was completely exhausted for approximately three hours at night on several occasions.

There will be no August induction call, the board said. However, there will be pre-induction for 37 August 20.

Meanwhile, the Advisory Budget Commission announced its schedule of hearings on money requests of state agencies for the 1955-57 biennium. Hearings will be held Sept. 7-15 and the agencies must submit written budget requests by Aug. 20. On Sept. 16 the Budget Commission will go into executive session to consider the requests.

HOBBES, N.M. (AP)—A 4-month-old baby girl was kidnaped today, apparently raped, and left in an abandoned car.

Bill Curry, county attorney of Gaines County, Tex., said he was holding Bill Hughes of Seminole and would file charges this morning, "possibly of kidnaping or rape of both, depending on the condition of the baby."

Yesterday, his mother Mrs. Elizabeth Brunetti, filed suit asking $100,000 damages from the government.

BURLINGTON N.C. (AP)—Thirty-three of North Carolina's prettiest girls begin competing here tomorrow for the title of Miss North Carolina of 1955.

Girls from every corner of the state have begun arriving for the three-day pageant, reportedly the largest state beauty pageant in the country.

The entrants will be greeted at the Alamance Hotel pageant headquarters by Ann May of Burlington, hostess for the event which is sponsored by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The contest will open officially tomorrow night when one-third of the girls parade in beauty gowns, one-third in bathing suits and one-third displaying their talent.

The pageant parade Friday afternoon will highlight the festivities. That night performances will continue in the bathing suit, talent and evening gown divisions.

The climax of the pageant will be the selection of Miss North Carolina Saturday at 8 p.m. The judging will follow the system used in the selection of Miss America—25 per cent each for beauty of face, beauty of figure, poise and personality and talent.

Six Lions Attended Convention In N. Y.

Six officers and delegates of the local Lions Club have recently returned from the Lions International convention held last week in New York City.

Those attending the convention from Greenville were W.W. Speight, local Lions Club president; Ben L. Rouse, first vice president; and Mrs. Rouse; John Biggs, tall-talker; Richard K. Worsley and Mrs. Worsley; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harris; and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ward.

Headquarters for the North Carolina delegates, which numbered around 200 according to Speight, were the Hotel Astor and the Woodstock Hotel.

Approximately 45,000 Lions were in attendance at the convention. This was an increase of around 15,000 over last year's attendance, Speight said.

Convention meetings were held at Madison Square Garden, where the delegates were welcomed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor of New York City Robert Wagner.

The two key speakers for the meeting were Sen Walter Judd and Speaker of the House of Representatives Joseph W. Martin.

S.A. Dodge, president of Lions International presided over the convention.

Monroe Nute was installed as the newly elected president of Lions International, while Jack Stickle of Charlotte was installed as second vice president. The latter will become president of the national organization in 1955 at the convention to be held in Miami, Fla.

Next year's convention will be in Atlantic City, N.C.

Speight noted that "It rained only one day—the day we marched over three miles down Fifth Avenue in the parade." The parade, he said, lasted about three hours.

Participating in the parade as part of the North Carolina delegation were the perennial "Uncle Sam" of Rocky Mount and the Rockingham High School band.

Speight reported that the number of activities participated in by Lions Club over the country and in foreign nations this year totaled 161,461, breaking all previous records for one year.

The president's report, he said, showed over $100 million had been raised by Lions Clubs all over the world for work with the blind and other charitable and public activities.

There are now 501,525 members in 11,024 Lions Clubs in the United States and 58 foreign countries, Speight reported.

More than 1003 new clubs have been organized in this and foreign nations since 1953, with a net gain last year.

The report showed that during the past year three foreign countries have been added to the list of those already having organized Lions Clubs.

Mark Of First A-Blast Remains

ALAMOGORDON, N.M. (AP)—The eyes of the passengers searched the hazy distance following the directing finger of the airliner's pilot.

Under the shoulder of bleak, barren Osuro Range, they finally saw what he was trying to point out. It wasn't much, just a little disk-shaped spot in the desert—a little darker than surrounding land.

Not much—that scar—not much to show for the world-shaking event that happened there nine years ago. That spot is all that remains to mark the first atomic explosion July 16, 1945.

Some months ago a construction outfit finished scraping up the glasslike substance formed of the surrounding sandy topsoil as the intense heat of the blast melted it.

The Atomic Energy Commission didn't want to take any chances that the desert wind might stir up radioactive dust from the trinitite as it slowly disintegrated.

The contractor scraped it up and buried it in a large pit nearby. Then the Soil Conservation Service stepped in and planted grass it believed would thrive in the desert area.

Apparently it was right, for that grass is a little greener than the surrounding area. Maybe it gets a little more water too, for it's in a 1,100-foot-wide, 10-foot-deep saucer pounded into the desert by the momentous blast.

Apparently nature will have to continue as the only marker of the spot—maybe for years to come, for the area is part of White Sands Proving Ground, one of the nation's prime rocket development sites.

The spot eventually is to be opened as a national monument, but even National Park Service officials must obtain special permission to get into the area.

The glassy material, named for Trinity where the historic blast was set off, is gone, but as a park service official says: "At least no one can remove the site."

Bullet Stopped By His Web Belt

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Octavio Flores, 17, was feeling pretty chipper today — and very much relieved.

Flores and Lupe Perez, 17, were wrestling yesterday when Perez playfully pointed a .32 revolver he thought was unloaded at Octavio and pulled the trigger.

The pistol belched smoke and Flores crumpled to the ground holding his stomach and gasping.

But all the doctor at a local hospital did about it was place a small strip of adhesive tape on the youth's abdomen and tell him to go home.

A Navy-style web belt stopped the bullet from point-blank range. The slug was found between Flores' belt and his khaki trousers. Flores had a sorely bruised mid-section.

Two Pitt Road Projects Slated

Two Pitt County projects are included in the 53 projects for 330.86 miles of road improvements on which the State Highway Commission will open bids in Raleigh July 27.

One Pitt County project is for nearly one mile (.97) of base and surfacing from west city limits of Farmville at West Church Street, northwest to US 264; and re-surfacing West Church Street, Grimmsburg Street from highway 121 to east city limits of Farmville.

The other Pitt County paving project is 4.92 miles of sand asphalt surfacing from Grimesland northeast to NC 33; and from Grimesland southwest one-tenth of a mile — streets in Grimesland.

The State Highway Commission will review the bids in Raleigh July 29.

Courtesy Parking In Council's Lap

The Greenville Merchants Association has placed the question of what to do about the city's courtesy parking plan squarely in the lap of the City Council. It will now be up to the City Council to determine whether to discontinue the courtesy parking program—as recommended by a traffic engineer who studied Greenville's parking situation, and the Off-Street Parking Committee, which endorsed the engineers recommendations—or keep the courtesy parking program in effect.

First Six Months Show Safety Improvements

Pitt County's second highway fatality of 1954 should make drivers a little more safety conscious. The county got by the first six months of the year with only one highway fatality compared with five fatalities during the same period in 1953. Since the first of July, however, another death has been charged to a highway accident in the county. Comparative figures on the county's accident record for the first six months show improvement in the accident rate, injury rate and property damage losses. Comparing the first six months of 1954 with the corresponding period of 1953 shows Pitt County has: 102 accidents this year compared with 123 last year; 31 injuries compared with 38 last year; and $44,600 property damage compared with $60,075 property damage last year. The only item in Pitt's highway statistics which has gone up during the first six months of 1954 is the number of arrests. Highway Patrolmen made 1,656 arrests during the first six months of this year compared with 1,235 last year. In only three years of the last 16 has Pitt County recorded five fatalities or less during the year. In the other 13 years, the county's highway toll has ranged from nine to 18 lives. With continued diligence by Pitt drivers, and continued efforts by the highway patrol to keep down the accident rate, Pitt this year may come up with one of its best accident records to date.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
A QUESTION RAISED AND ANSWERED
The Book of Job is one of the literary masterpieces of the ages. An ancient writer challenges the prevalent belief that goodness always produces health, wealth, and happiness; and that evil always produces the opposite. This, says the writer of the Book of Job, is all right as a general proposition, but there are exceptions. Sometimes God permits pain and misfortune to come upon us that our lives may be tested. Behind the scenes, God is carefully watching and planning to bring our lives to spiritual triumph. Sometimes this means that we have to be disciplined, and the loving Heavenly Father has to allow us to fall into trouble that we may know the splendors of glory. This is not the whole answer to the matter. The complete answer is Jesus Christ—his ministry, atoning death, resurrection, and eternal presence in the midst of his Church. The writer of the Book of Job was ahead of his age by many centuries, but he did not know what we know. We know that the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth. We know that although God permits our lives to be frustrated and afflicted to his glory and our growth, nevertheless He has in his mercy provided a sure escape and a radiant pathway which leads to triumph. "I am the way," said Jesus, "the truth and the life." Job raises a question; Jesus answers it.

Even Unions Critical Of TVA

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—The Tennessee Valley Authority now has fallen under attack by the labor unions as well as by the Eisenhower Administration's anti-expansion policy. The immunity from economic and political thrusts, once enjoyed by F.D.R.'s pet project, has ended. With scathing language, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers charge that TVA buys coal at such bargain rates from "non-union and law-breaking mines" that it has become a "scab" outfit. He accuses the Government agency also of destroying the wage-scale system, the safety standards and working conditions fixed in UMW's contract with the operators. LEWIS BLASTS TVA—"With typical bureaucratic arrogance," he says in his United Mine Workers Journal, "TVA officials have ignored the destructive effects of their policy on the coal industry, including the undermining of UMW's contract standards, and severe losses to union operators, by taking refuge behind a barricade of red tape." "They state that it is not their fault if union miners lose their jobs, and if long-established firms close down, due to the dog-eat-dog competitive market caused by TVA's coal purchase policy." John L. has been deeply concerned over the fact that some of his unions, in order to keep mines in both the hard and soft coal fields from closing down, have permitted the operators to abrogate their UMW contracts. He feels that a Government agency financed by public funds should be the last to contribute to the ills of an already fatally sick industry. VIOLATION CHARGES—John L. also charges that TVA violates the Walsh-Healey Act, which requires payment of union or prevailing wages on all Government work in excess of $10,000.

than a year ago, the City Council deferred action on the engineer's recommendation until it could receive an official statement of reaction from the Merchants Association on the proposal to abolish the plan. The Merchants Association directors at their meeting Tuesday, failed to endorse the traffic engineer's recommendation or insist that the courtesy parking plan be kept in effect. In spite of the fact the Merchants Association made no recommendation to the Council on the matter, it apparently is the concensus of the directors that with proper attention the courtesy parking plan would not be a detriment to enforcement of the parking meter laws. But if the plan has not received proper attention in the 16 months it has been in effect, it is doubtful that it will receive any better attention if allowed to remain in the future. As The Reflector previously stated, it appears to us it will be of great benefit to the city in the long run to abandon the courtesy parking plan as it now operates, and a stricter enforcement of parking regulations get a more efficient use of the on-street parking space available in the business district of the city.

Opportunity To Check Property Valuations

Pitt Citizens who have questions about the assessed valuations on their property under the county's revaluation program should take advantage of the county's invitation to inspect valuations on comparable property. The County Board of Commissioners will sit as a Board of Equalization and Review to hear complaints on assessed values on property. But before it sits as a Board of Equalization and Review for each township, the Commissioners are inviting individual citizens to compare their valuations with other valuations. If citizens take advantage of this opportunity to compare the valuations on their property, with the valuations placed on other property, it will give them a better understanding of the revaluation program. At the same time, it should eliminate some of the complaints which otherwise would have to come before the board. With the thousands of pieces of property in Pitt County which had to be revalued under the revaluation program, there is the possibility that a few errors were inadvertently made in the assessed valuations. Those connected with the revaluation program have taken precautions to see that errors did not occur, but in an undertaking of this size, some errors may have slipped by. It will be a good idea for Pitt taxpayers to check carefully their assessed valuations when notified by the county, and if they have any questions, bring them to the attention of the county officials.

MANSFIELD, PA., ADVERTISER: "Just as people are able to do better by reviewing their past, and avoiding some of the errors they have made, so can we as a self-governing people profit by reviewing the history of our nation."
By LYNN NISBET
BALANCE — "There are two methods of creating an economic balance between agriculture and industry. The first is to bring industries from outside the State into the area. The second is to develop home-owned industry to use the raw products which are at hand. Since it has been said that just about one out of every 4 active prospects by letter writing or personal visit becomes an established industrial plant in the community seeking it, it may be seen that the possibility of obtaining industry from outside the State is remote for most localities." The foregoing words constituted the keynote of a talk made recently at Greenville before a group interested in developing eastern North Carolina along balanced lines by Eric W. Rodgers, assistant to the director of Conservation and Development. These and other comments apply with almost equal appropriateness to all sections of the state, because basic problems are very similar. The real need for the entire State is to promote industries that will advantageously utilize the raw products at hand, thus saving for North Carolinians the profits from processing and manufacturing. Now and in the past the greater share of such profits have accrued to other States where the finishing plants were located. North Carolina has done a fair job of keeping at home the manufacture of tobacco, cotton textiles and wood furniture—although in these items the processing plants are located some distance from the major source of raw materials. Manufacturing has been largely concentrated in the middle Piedmont section, while

A Tonsillectomy For 'Peanut'

June Tripp's dog, Peanut, (half rat terrier, half toy terrier) pulled through his tonsillectomy in fine style! The operation by Dr. Bateman Saturday morning was a success and while not up to his former strength, Peanut is progressing. "What I want to know," I asked June, "is how did you know Peanut needed to have his tonsils removed?" June knows Peanut almost as well as he does his wife, so the answer almost convinced me that I had asked a stupid question: "Well, it was easy. Whenever there was a change in the weather Peanut would sneeze and act like he wasn't feeling well. You see, he rides a lot with me, always with his head out of the window and that affected his throat. When he was sick he would demand treatment. If we tried to go to bed without taking care of him, he'd pull on the sheet with his teeth until we got up and pressed hot towels on his throat. When he did that his eyes would roll with satisfaction, as if to say he was faring all right." June claims that his dog has a sixth sense. He can be riding around town with Peanut, decide that it's time to take him to see Dr. Bateman. When that thought comes into June's mind, without his mentioning a word about it, Peanut gets in the back seat. As the journey progresses toward the doctor's office, Peanut backs down to the floor of the car. As June puts it, "Why would he do that if he didn't have a sixth sense?"

Sometimes when they are ready to leave the house June will say to the dog, "Have you loved Mama?" If not, Peanut will run back and lick Mrs. Tripp on the hand. But if he has, there's no such thing as getting him to do it again. He refuses to dish out but a minimum of lovin'. When June goes to a Pony League ball game, Peanut visits all the dogs in the neighborhood before arriving at the grandstand. But when the game is over, he realizes the situation and beats June back to the car. If you've heard many tales about dog's devotion to man, you should talk to June about a man's devotion to this dog. And I thank you. JACK EDWARDS

What Other Editors Are Thinking

FRANCO WOULD SPEND OUR CASH (Henderson Dispatch)
Not content with the fabulous haul he has already made for his country from United States cash, Spain's Dictator Franco now proposes to help underdeveloped portions of the free world by spending other huge sums of American money. He has come up with the suggestion that this country's funds ought to be used to initiate an "ample program of long-term, low-interest credit" to less fortunate peoples. In other words, here's a barrel of money, boys, walk up and help yourself. It is amazing the way other nations are always ready to spend American cash. They are willing to take it, rather expect it and even demand it. Then when they get it they proceed to hate us because we may be more fortunate than they. Franco's idea is that such a program as he has outlined would absorb excess production of the Western democracies and keep trade away from the communists. But who is this Franco, himself a dictator in a country that is anything but a democracy, to be telling free peoples how to handle their foreign relations? He may have a point in his theory that coexistence between the Communist and non-Communist worlds is impossible. At least the idea is debatable. Moreover, he offers the undisputed evidence that ten years of trying to live peacefully with the Russians has been a failure, and "we are in a worse position now." There is substance, too, in his contention that Britain and France, along with other western democracies, who are trying to expand trade with Iron Cur-

Industries Needed To Utilize State's Raw Materials

eastern fields produce most of the leaf tobacco and until the past few years most of the cotton. Wood for furniture comes from all parts of the state, and paper mills which use pulpwood are located in both east and west, near the sources of raw product supply. LOCATION — Many of the reasons which induced the industrial pioneers to locate in the Piedmont are no longer controlling. Development of processes for generating electricity by steam plants no longer requires great impoundment of water to flow by gravity through hydro-generators. Hydro-electric generation was an extension of the power derived from the water wheel—once the most economic source of energy to turn the wheels of industry. Development of motor transportation has enabled once isolated communities to compete with those located on trunk line railroads. Modern processes of air conditioning have further expanded the area in which certain types of manufacturing can be successfully operated. It is now possible to maintain the same degrees of humidity or aridity in the high hills and on the coast. So the trend now is toward dispersion rather than concentration of industry. That makes it all the more important for communities to assay and appraise their advantages and to promote development that best fits into the community scheme, without the inhibitions of unfavorable climate or lack of natural power. So it is that while big plants employing thousands of people are desired and welcomed, the trend is more toward the development of numerous smaller installations for the processing of home-grown raw products. This trend, however, as Rodgers emphasized, has not kept pace with the unlimited opportunities. Not every community can assimilate a big plant, and even with respect to needs of the smaller community enterprises there are diversified needs and resources. Some require a lot of water, some must be located on railroads and others on motor roads. The point is that local conditions should be carefully studied in relation to the probable demands of the industry. Such studies may in some instances result in losing a plant which had been a good prospect, but which probably would not have been successful if it had come to town. CORN — Rodgers suggests a good place to start, especially in eastern North Carolina, is the development of plants to process the corn crop. Corn is grown in every corner of every one of the 100 counties in North Carolina. In more than half the counties it is the major field crop, although in less than half it is grown with the idea of selling on the market as a "cash crop." In recent years under the leadership of L.Y. Ballentine, Commissioner of agriculture, there have been built a number of corn drying and grain elevator installations throughout the east. One result of that development has been more feed mills, processing grain for the trade. Nationally famous names in the corn and grain industry, like Purina, Cargill and others, are becoming familiar on storage facilities throughout the east. A lot of corn is now being processed for feeds in the state, whereas not so long ago it was shipped out and shipped back in. Further result is a saving in the two-way freight rate, employment of hundreds of

Planning Pays Off

By ELMER ROESSNER
One of the reasons big companies get bigger and small ones don't is that the large ones make careful, long-range plans. As Oliver J. Greenway, vice president, International Resistance Company, told a recent American Management Association conference: "Successful companies plot their course just as firmly as a captain of a ship at the beginning of a voyage. Too many companies however, are operated like sailing vessels. They sail before the wind and when the wind falls they lie becalmed." The long-range planning operations of some of the giant corporations are little short of magnificent. Staffs of economists, analysts, financiers and others constantly work on formulas that will tell, within upper and lower limits, where the corporation will be in 1959, 1964 and so on. Even without these facilities, a small company can do some advance planning and that planning may lead to, or insure its growth into a larger company. To chart a future course, it is always necessary to reckon the present course. With only pencil and paper, any firm can check its growth in the last five years and then project it for the next five. That will show only where the company MAY be. The next step is to select a goal. If the company has been growing rapidly, the projected point for 1959 may be highly desirable. If, however, growth has been slow, then the objective must be raised. Once the goal is determined, the management can start work on the question of what steps must be taken to attain the goal. There are no universal answers. The solutions may lie in better advance planning of advertising and sales campaigns, of adding certain specialists to the staff, of changing to more automation, of adding new products, of absorbing competitors or any one or more of a hundred other possibilities.

Farm Girl's Success In Big City

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—They say the big city is a place where a country boy can come and, by hard work, earn enough money so he can afford to live in the country again. The saying holds true for country girls, too—for example, Martha Wright. Martha, a farmer's granddaughter, first learned to sing by crooning barnyard lullabies back in Duvall, Wash. She hit the heights here, however, by "Washing that Man Right Out of Her Hat" through 1948 performances of "South Pacific." Today the blue-eyed farmgirl with the tousled mop of red-blond hair, who was glad to get $5 for her first radio appearance, how is in the $100,000-a-year-plus bracket! But, while she thinks Broadway is a great street to make a living on, she agrees with most out-of-towners that it's no place to live for anybody who ever liked to go barefoot. She gets her mail at a 10-acre rented country place near Westport, Conn. "It was like going back to my childhood," she said the other day during a break in rehearsals for a TV show. "I was raised on a farm, and used to love to ride farm horses. I don't have any horses now, but the place has two swans, a stray pigeon and a couple of black miniature poodles. "No, I don't find it lonely. City tensions get me down. It is wonderful to be able to read a newspaper and relax—all by yourself. "And I manage to keep busy. I do my own gardening and take care of the yard, too. My only romantic interest right now is the power mower at home." Martha has retained the typical Westerner's preference for simple informed living. She has a breezy dislike for all forms of fuss and ceremony. She drives to and from work herself, and this summer she and her maid will take turns at the wheel on a motor tour to Seattle, where her parents live. "About the only problem I have right now is this darned weight," she said, comfortably forking at a piece of chopped sirloin steak. "I don't have to fight weight here but sometimes I should fight it harder than I do." When she has to take off a few pounds, she doesn't resort to pills or capsules. She has known little illness in her life and has a healthy person's distrust of medicines. "I don't cut out any of my regular foods, not even butter," she said. "I just cut down on the amount. I suppose, it would help if I ate more fruit, but I don't care for it. I ate too much green fruit off the trees as a kid, I guess." Martha knows hundreds of songs by heart—"just how many I couldn't say." Her two favorites are "Cock-Eyed Optimist"—even after singing it 1,048 times in "South Pacific"—and "Blue Room." Many singers are haunted by a nightmare fear they will forget a lyric in the middle of a big musical number. "I'm scared to death at the start of any performance that I'll stuff a line and sometimes I have," said Martha, smiling. "But if I do, I make up another line and go right on. I never panic when I make a boo-boo. "It's a funny thing, but the audience seems to like you better when you make a boo-boo—as long as they see you don't let it throw you. They like to see a singer act like a human being." That's the only way Martha knows how to act.

Chances Are You'll Be Riding Ultra-Modern Train Someday

By ED MORSE
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—Chances are you'll be riding an ultra modern lightweight train one of these days. It's a new thrill in railroading.

It's also supposed to thrill the railroad budget balancers with its vast economies and revenue-pulling power. It's cheaper to build, cheaper to operate and faster.

These trains of the future are aimed at just one thing: slaying the dragon that has menaced the railroad industry so long—chronic passenger deficits.

To do that, they'll have to fascinate you and attract your patronage with their speed, convenience and easiness on your bankroll. They'll have to sell you on the idea that it's smarter to take a trip by train than to pack your family into the car and bull your way through congested and perilous highways. For the railroad's top rival in the passenger business is the family car.

The railroads must wake up and revamp their passenger service according to the facts of life in this motor and airplane age, according to Patrick B. McGinnis, new head of the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

By all means use your car, says McGinnis. But for a sizable trip—say the 229 miles between New York and Boston—drive it to a suburban railroad station of a type he envisions with a huge parking lot. Park your car. Ride the train in comfort to a similar station outside Boston on a swift, modern, low-slung, lightweight train.

This way, he says, you'll make the trip in 2½ hours instead of the four hours now required between the huge city terminals—and you can't park your car at those terminals.

Robert R. Young, now boss of the New York Central, for years has crusaded for a revolutionary, lightweight passenger train. While he headed the Chesapeake & Ohio he demonstrated what he called "Train X," a one-car experimental unit made by Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co.

ACF Industries, Inc., made a similar train called the Talgo, which has been operating for five years between Madrid and the French border.

It was a counterpart of this train that ACF has been showing these past weeks on the New Haven Railroad. It recently had a 157-mile demonstration run between New Haven, Conn., and Boston. During the trip McGinnis said this Talgo was just a "prototype" of a much-improved train he wants.

Because the Talgo floor is two feet lower than a standard train's, you merely take a normal step from a near-ground-level station platform. You enter an interior much wider and lower-ceilinged than a standard railroad car. It seems more like an airplane. You sink into an airplane-type reclining

The train accelerates easily. The faster you go to the smoother it rides. It saves time taking curves at 87 miles per hour whereas the regular speed limit is 70. On a straight run it hits a peak of 102.8 miles per hour on a road where the legal limit is 79. The ride is steady and sure.

When will the train of the future arrive?

The Rock Island Railroad has already ordered two Talgo-type trains from ACF for delivery in December 1955. The train of the future was discussed by presidents of four Eastern railroads last week. Various car manufacturers talked with them.

A standard design for a future train is hoped for. That way the railroads can club together on orders in big lots and save money.

Red Oak News

Mrs. B. L. Tyson and Mrs. James Allen have returned from a tour to the West Coast. They were gone 34 days, traveled 9,000 miles and visited 27 states. They went to the Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, Yosemite Park, Bryce Canyon, Zion National Park, Crater Lake, Los Angeles, Las Vegas, San Francisco, and Portland, Oregon. They drove over the beautiful Redwood Highway and up the Columbia River Gorge to Yellowstone Park and the Teton snow-covered range. The wheat was being harvested in the central states and it was a beautiful sight to see. While gone they visited their brother in Jefferson City, Mo. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Emily Pichard of Durham and Miss Patti Powell of Washington, D. C. They made the trip by automobile.

Last night's results — Graniteers 11, Jolly Rogers 1. Home Builders 7, Southern Bread 5. Thursday night's games — Jolly Rogers vs Southern Bread, National Guard vs Graniteers.

The Graniteers hopped on Chuck Odum for 11 runs and nine hits last night to win 11-1 behind the effective three-hit pitching of George Fuller. In the second game the Home Builders moved into second place in the league with a 7-6 win over the Southern Bread.

In the opener the Graniteers hit the ball in the clutches to explode home 11 runs. The big blow of the night came on Bobby Nunn's long home run over the leftfield fence.

George Fuller pitched one of his best games of the past few weeks as he struck out eight along the route. The only run off Fuller came on a walk and a double.

Frank Moore led the hitting for the Graniteers with three singles in three trips to the plate. None of the Jolly Rogers were able to get more than one hit.

In the second game the Home Builders displaced the Southern Bread team as the number two team in the league. The game went right down to the wire with the last inning giving the winning run.

The Southern Bread led off with a two-run outburst in the first inning. The Builders kept pecking away and by the fifth inning had a 5-2 lead. In the last of the fifth

Pennant Chase In Nat'l League Resuming Early

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With no complaints from the newly organized players "association," the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves will resume the National League pennant chase a day ahead of schedule at Milwaukee tonight.

The day before and the day after the All-Star Game traditionally are off days in the majors, but this is the only opportunity the two clubs will have to make up a postponed game, so it will go on.

The Braves will have an opportunity to shave half a game off the New York Giants' lead of 5½ games, but if they're going to do it, they'll have to beat Jim Wilson, who has yet to lose a game in six decisions. The Braves will go with Russ Meyer, who shows a 6-2 record for the year.

The big news in the Braves' camp concerned Bobby Thomson, who has yet to play a game because of a fractured right ankle, suffered in spring training. Thomson, who was dealt to the Braves by the New York Giants during the winter, hit a two-run, pinch-hit homer in an exhibition game in Toledo Monday night.

He's not ready for full-time service yet, but Manager Charlie Grimm said he will not hesitate to use him as a pinch hitter immediately.

"But I don't know how long it will be before he can run well enough to play regularly," said Grimm.

As it is, the Braves, who thought Thomson would give them the added punch to win the pennant this year, are too far out to make a bid. They're in fourth place, 15 games off the pace.

The Braves had a little good news of their own. Johnny Podres, the 21-year-old rookie left-hander, who underwent an appendectomy June 23, is back with the club, although not quite ready to pitch.

Bout Should Tell Boxing Future Of 'Hurricane'

NEW YORK (AP)—If Hurricane Tommy Jackson ever is going to take a title shot at heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano tonight should tell the story.

The Hurricane, a restless 22-year Negro from New York, boxes Nino Valdes the Cuban giant, in an important 10-round heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden.

The match will be carried on network (CBS) television at 10 p.m. EDT.

Valdes, a 6 feet 3 and 207 pounds, is ranked No. 2 among Marciano's contenders, right behind Ernie Charles although he beat Charles last year at Miami. Despite the high ranking, Jackson, the No. 5 boy, is favored.

Marciano is expected to give Charles a rematch in September, provided his eye cuts heal properly. If anything goes wrong with that match, tonight's winner would be ready to step in. A 1955 bout would be another possibility.

Zernial Leaving Hospital Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Slugging outfielder Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics, who suffered a fractured collarbone in a game against the Boston Red Sox last Sunday, was scheduled for release today from Presbyterian Hospital.

Doctors have indicated he will be lost to the A's for the rest of the season but the slugger said he hopes to join the team the last six weeks of the campaign.

A Finger, A Bat And A Thing Called Pride All Helped American All-Stars

By JOE REICHLER
CLEVELAND (AP)—A slowly mending finger, a thing called pride and a big booming bat all played a prominent part in the American League's return to the winners' circle. The finger, pride and bat all belonged to one person: Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

The box score of yesterday's 11-9 American League All-Star victory over the Nationals shows it was a bases-loaded single by Nellie Fox in the eighth inning—a real "bleeder"—that drove in the winning runs to end the war of 13 pitchers in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

But it was Rosen who, despite a painful and swollen index finger, blasted two home runs, drove in five runs and spearheaded the annihilation of six of the National League's best pitchers.

It didn't come to light until later that Rosen had asked Manager Casey Stengel to be taken out after the first inning because he felt he "might hurt the team."

"Yes, I went to Casey before the game with the idea that I be taken out of the lineup," admitted Rosen in a clubhouse interview after the night. "I didn't sleep a wink all night worrying whether I'd be a detriment to the team."

"But pride got the better of me. Instead of begging off altogether, I suggested to Stengel that I give it one try because I felt I owed it to the fans who voted me to the team to bat at least once.

"Casey and I discussed three alternatives — play three innings, don't play at all or hit once and quit. Since Casey had no power to make any decision, he took the matter to Commissioner Ford Frick. The Commissioner decided to leave it up to me. I told Casey I'd like to go to bat once and then tell him how I felt.

"Well, I struck out in the first inning and felt terrible. The finger hurt like the dickens—it hurts more when you strike out—but I didn't say anything to Casey. Call it foolish pride but I didn't want to bow out that way. If I had at least flied out it wouldn't have been so bad. I might have quit then. But not that way. I wanted to bat once more. Well, the next time up I hit a home run. You can't imagine the feeling. And would you believe it, the finger didn't hurt. . . not much anyway."

The homer, hit off starter Robin Roberts in the third inning, came after the Philadelphia right-hander had walked Chicago's Minnie Miñoso and had given up a single to Cleveland's Bobby Avila. Ray Boone of Detroit followed with a home run to give the Americans a 4-0 lead.

The Nationals fought back with five runs against Chicago's Sandy Consuegra and Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the fourth, and added two more runs on a homer by Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski in the fifth, forging ahead 7-5, after the Americans had scored again in the fourth.

Coach Jack Cobb's Kiwanis wreckers literally knocked the V.F.W. team out of the race for the pennant of the second half yesterday afternoon when they sneaked out a 5-4 win over the Veterans.

The Kiwanis bumped off the Jaycees Saturday and pretty well ruined their chances, also. To even tie for the pennant now the V.F.W. must beat the Lions in both of their scheduled games before the season is over and the Lions must lose their game to the Jaycees. If that happens and the Jaycees also beat the Kiwanis there will be a three-way tie for first.

In yesterday's game three runs in the fourth gave the Kiwanis their winning margin. Hemby led off with a walk and after Lew Ward struck out, James Earl Henderson doubled to left-centerfield to drive home Hemby. Henderson went to third on a wild pitch. Donald Speight walked and stole second, and both runners scored on Jimmy Rogers' single to right. That gave the Kiwanis a 5-2 lead and they held off a rally by the V.F.W. in the last inning to win.

In the top of the sixth the V.F.W. came back with two runs but they couldn't push across the tying score. Dallas Clark and Bennett walked and advanced a base on one of the two grounders. Tommy McGraw singled to rightfield to score both runners. Burton Jenkins was intentionally walked to put runners on first and second with Jody Blacklock at bat. Blacklock lined a ball on two hops to the shortstop. Just as Jimmy Rogers picked the ball up he was bowled over by McGraw, the baserunner. The runner was called out for interference and the game was over.

Dallas Clark with two for two led the V.F.W. at the plate. James Earl Henderson led the Kiwanis with two for three.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a doubleheader at Little League Park. In the first game the Elks play the Moose. The second game pits the Exchange and the Pepsi-Cola against each other.

Roebuck Pitches Three Hitter As Guard Wins

Due to the All-Star participation the Pony League regular season will be postponed one week. Tonight at 7:45 the regular scheduled game between the Redmen and the National Guard that was rained out Friday will be played. Thursday night there will be no Pony League games played. All Pony League action for the next week up to Thursday will be postponed. Starting Thursday, July 22 the schedule will begin again taking up where the schedule was postponed.

Thursday afternoon and Friday night the Pony League All-Stars will play the Pony League graduates in a continuation of their three game series. In the first game the All-Stars beat the Grads by 7-3.

Mack Roebuck pitched a snappy three-hitter last night as he led his teammates to an 8-2 win over the Fordomatics in a Pony League contest at Guy Smith Stadium.

Roebuck pitched no-hit ball for four and two-thirds innings until Don Wilkerson singled in the fifth. A single, a walk, and a double by the league's leading hitter, Walker Allen, brought across two runs off Roebuck in the sixth.

Allen went all the way on the mound for the Ford and gave up only five hits. Two doubles, a single, a walk and a hit batter brought four runs in off Allen in the third after the first batter had reached base on an error. In the fourth three errors let in four runs off the Fordomatic ace. The final Guard score came in on Oscar Stoneham's home run in the sixth inning.

Allen increased his league leading average with one hit in two trips to the plate last night. Allen is now hitting the ball at a .450 clip. The score by innings:

Trabert Facing Heavy Schedule On Clay Courts

CHICAGO (AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati had a heavy schedule before him as play resumed today in the National Clay Court tennis tournament.

He had a third-round match with Sammy Giammalva of Houston and should be beat Giammalva, another following with Al Kuhn of Northwestern University.

Defending champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded second, and Art Larsen of San Leandro Calif., the 1952 winner who is seeded third both breezed through second and third round matches yesterday.

Seixas opposes Ellis Slack of Seewickley, Pa. in one of today's feature matches of the fourth round.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, the world's premier women's player who is topseded for the tournament, is expected to arrive from London today to begin defense of her clay court crown.

Rosen was not through yet, finger and all. After Yogi Berra had singled in the last of the fifth, the 29-year-old converted first baseman walloped a second home run, even longer than the first. This 400-foot drive tied the score at 7-7. Rosen got his third hit in the sixth, a hot single off the third baseman's chest which didn't figure in the run that put the American ahead 8-7 in that inning.

Al's walk, however, played a major part in the eighth when the Americans tallied three times to overcome a 9-8 deficit. The Nationals had taken a one-run lead when pinch hitter Gus Bell of Cincinnati hammered a home run off Bob Keegan of Chicago the sixth of seven pitchers used by Stengel.

Trailing 9-8, the Americans tied the score on Larry Doby's pinch-hit homer off Gene Conley of Milwaukee. Singles by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra preceded the walk to Rosen. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, sixth pitcher used by Manager Walter Alston, replaced Conley and fanned Mickey Vernon for the second out but Fox blooped a Texas leaguer in back of second base, just out of the reach of shortstop Alvin Dark, to chase in the winning runs.

A total of 43 players were used, 22 by the Nationals. The attendance was 68,751.

Fast-Ball Pitch Seems Obsolete

CLEVELAND (AP)—Big Bobo Newsom, who played with nearly every team in the majors before his recent retirement commented on the All-Star game for a Baltimore television station.

Bobo wants to know what's happened to fast-ball pitching. "In my day that was a perfectly good pitch," he said. "But now nobody throws anything but sliders, sinkers, knucklers, screwballs and such."

'Forgotten' Pair Win New Trial From Prison

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941.

For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance.

Here's the story:

Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnaping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnaping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Penick, has been dead for many years now.

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole County Circuit Court. Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County "to be dealt with according to law."

But the St. Francois County judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois court stood unblemished and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison.

At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. There was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

Finally penitentiary officials put them in receiving cells — the separate quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there six months with no action taken either for or against them. Then prison author-

CAP Search And Rescue Mission Staged Sunday

The first Civil Air Patrol search and rescue mission practice ever to be held here took place Sunday at the local airport.

Between 50 and 75 CAP members, and seven planes, representing Group Three of the CAP in North Carolina, participated in the event, according to 2nd Lt. Lawrence Tyson, public information officer for the local unit.

The maneuver was commended by Major Dan Lilley of Kinston who is in charge of the search. He said, "If there were ever a plane down in this area, we'd like to work out of the Greenville airport."

Lt. Ray Hood, who heads the local unit, also received commendation for the way he has organized the unit here. The local CAP unit is less than a year old.

Present at the maneuver was the Wing Commander from Charlotte, who is in charge of all Civil Air Patrol in the state.

The search area included a 25-mile radius around the city, with the target, a plane owned by Henry Flake of Greenville, placed about 20 miles out of town.

The plane was found by Walter Briley, a pilot from the local unit. Each plane was assigned a certain area to cover and then had to report back to the airport for another shift to take over.

The "lost" plane was found by Briley two miles south of Hookerton in Greene County.

C-of-C Support Given Little League Tourney

Unanimous support was pledged to the Little League Tournament to be held here in August, and plans were made for a Fire Prevention Week campaign in October, at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

The Board commended the Recreation Commission and the Junior Chamber of Commerce for their successful efforts in bringing the Region V Little League Baseball Tournament to Greenville for the second consecutive year.

The Tournament is slated for August 16-19.

Civic Affairs Committee of the group pledged its service to the Tournament sponsors "in order to make the event a success," according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Willard T. Kyzer.

The Directors voted unanimously to provide each Little League player and the officials accompanying each team with an official Little League Tournament T-shirt, on which will be stenciled the 1954 Little League emblem, Region V, Greenville, N.C.

The Board also approved the recommendation of the Civic Affairs Committee for a program appropriation for Fire Prevention Week to be observed throughout the nation the first full week in October.

A sub-committee was appointed from the Civic Affairs Committee to plan and carry out a campaign in cooperation with the local Fire Department during that week.

This sub-committee is composed of Sherman Parks, E. Stanley Gary, Heber B. Tripp, O.E. Dowd and Fire Chief George Gardner.

The sub-committee plans to meet, Kyzer said, as soon as information on available promotion material is received. Present plans for the program the Manager stated, include moving picture films to be shown to all the schools in the city. These films will also be offered to the various local civic clubs, he said.

Manager Kyzer said the object of the preventable fire hazard campaign is "to make the citizens of the community con-scious of the preventable fire hazards and assist them in detecting these hazards and removing them."

Negotiating For Soldiers' Return

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has opened diplomatic negotiations with Czechoslovakia for the release of seven American artillerymen seized by a Czech border patrol July 4.

State Department officials said today the U.S. government still doesn't know where the Communist Czechs are holding an American captain and six enlisted men who apparently wandered across the West German frontier while sightseeing.

But Garret Ackerson, charge d'affaires at the U.S. Embassy in Prague, was said to have attended "several meetings" at the Czech Foreign Office during the past week. There was no indication of the nature of the talks.

The Czechs have accused the Americans of spying. But a strongly worded U.S. note rejected that charge and accused the Czechs of abducting the soldiers.

Protest 'Terror' In Guatemala

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist Federation of Trade Unions in East Germany has protested in a letter to the secretary general of the United Nations against "brutal Fascist terror" in Guatemala.

The five-million-member organization charged that 45 union officials have been murdered. It demanded that the U.N. Security Council meet immediately to agree on actions against the "raging of military dictatorship in Guatemala."

Can't Testify As To Beating

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Daniel De Vito, 43, appeared before Chief Magistrate Harry Pine yesterday on a charge of the assault and battery of Virginia Howard.

Detective Michael Skurka charged that De Vito quarreled with the lady in a tailor shop June 25 and beat her severely about the head and body.

But when she took the stand yesterday, she refused to testify, claiming a wife's immunity. She said she and De Vito were married a week ago while he was out on bail.

Judge Pine dismissed the charges.

Still Money In Lost Corn Crop

STELLA, Neb. (AP)—Farmer Herbert Walker stood watching the hot winds blow over his corn field and casually remarked that even if the crop did burn up there was money in the field.

He had plowed under his pocket-book, containing $87 while cultivating the crop.

Policemen Get Golfing Duty

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Several Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) policemen have a choice assignment.

The cops, all golfers, will go out on the three county golf courses next week. They'll look like the average fellow trying to break par.

But they have orders not to worry too much about their scores. They've been ordered to keep on the lookout for an apparently well-organized gang of boys stealing golf balls.

Five Charges Confront Driver

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — Sammy Casina of Alliquippa is in the Beaver County Jail awaiting grand jury action on charges of falling to stop at the scenes of a number of accidents.

Police said he:

1. Drove through an Alliquippa service station, knocked down a pole and didn't stop.
2. Collided with a car near Alliquippa and didn't stop.
3. Collided with another auto in Coraopolis and didn't stop.
4. Punched a motorist who asked him why he was driving recklessly.
5. Shattered a window pane in his mother's home.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Belk-Tyler's on the third floor.

No Arguing With Big Black Bear

WEST HOLLAND, Vt. (AP)—Farmer Bernie Wheeler was arguing with a stubborn cow in his pasture yesterday when a powerful blow on the back knocked him sprawling.

"That was 'no cow's tail," he muttered.

And it wasn't. A huge black bear stood there with her paw raised protecting two cubs.

Wheeler said he ran.

Nurse Lady

CHAPTER THIRTY THREE
 NORA had been home from the hospital only a few days when she told the other two nurses that she had decided she was going away. Something had come about, she added, to make this possible.

"I know it sounds as though I'm running away," she admitted. "But I'm not, really. I know no one can run away from his troubles. I've found that out—the hard way."

"I think it's a good idea for you to go away for a while," Cynthia agreed. She did not blame Nora. Alan would be bringing his bride home soon, Nora would not want to meet this other girl, or see Alan—not yet, not until this terrible hurt was further behind her. "What do you mean by saying that something has made it possible for you to go?" she asked.

"I sure wish something would happen so I could get away from this town and my job for a while," Roz said. "It wouldn't take much to meet this other girl, or see Alan. It seems," Nora told them, "that dear little Mrs. Beckeroff didn't forget anyone. She left me three thousand dollars. The lawyer was here to tell me about it today. When he learned I had been ill, he said if I wanted the money immediately all I had to do was sign a receipt for the court and I could have it."

"Three thousand dollars! My sainted Aunt Harriett!" Roz exclaimed. "That's wonderful!" Cynthia thought it was the best thing that possibly could have happened.

"If I had three thousand dollars," Roz mused, "I'd go around Mrs. Aberne

WHY DO YOU PREFER BLUE BONNET?

Lovely Mrs. Brian Aherns, wife of the prominent actor, is a popular hostess in the more colony of Santa Monica, Calif.

"Although I'm a great booster of smooth-spreading BLUE BONNET's sunny-sweet flavor, it's the nutrition that counts. Just think—BLUE BONNET gives you more year-round vitamins A and D than the 'high priced spread'! It's BLUE BONNET for Flavor, Nutrition and Economy."

the world I'd spend every darn cent of it. After all, you only live once, you know."

"I don't know yet just where I'll go," Nora said. If she had had her way, all of that three thousand would have gone into the little home she and Alan could have built. To spend it just on herself could never bring much pleasure. But she has determined that she must make a new life for herself. "I've never been outside the state of Virginia," she added, with a wistful smile. "So I suppose it's about time I saw something of the rest of the world."

"You ought to take a cruise," Cynthia suggested. An ocean voyage would bring the color back into Nora's pale cheeks. "I've always wanted to take one of those marvelous cruises!" Roz shook her head mournfully. "That's the best means of meeting an eligible, wealthy man. And you've got all those pretty new clothes, Nora my pet, to dazzle the male passengers with."

Naturally Roz thought the best way for anyone to recover from a broken romance was to plunge into another one.

Yes, she had all the pretty new things she had bought—even an evening dress—things bought for her touseuse. But that was not the sort of project Nora had in mind. "I wouldn't go on a luxury liner, even if I could," she said. "I believe I'd like to take an ocean voyage to some out-of-the-way places, on one of those tramp steamers you hear so much about."

"I'd like that better than going first class on a scheduled tour," Cynthia agreed. If Nora could take this much interest in a proposed vacation she was on her way to being cured already.

"Well, you might even meet a man on a boat like that," Roz decided, nodding her sleek black head approvingly.

Nora said she really did not care whether she met a man or not. It would be a long time, she had confided to her two friends, before she would fall in love again. Not because she no longer believed in love, but because she wanted to be free from any emotional entanglements for a while.

"Do you remember when I told you," she asked Cynthia, "that I was afraid Alan might seem like a stranger when he returned?"

Cynthia did. She remembered that Nora not only had said that, but she had indeed seemed almost afraid.

"That's how I think of him now—most of the time," Nora said. "He is a stranger to me. He could not be the Alan I thought I knew. Yet I can understand what happened. He did change, during all those months he was away. He did come back a different person. And maybe he realized he wouldn't find me the same girl, either."

"You're a darn sight more forgiving than I could ever be!" Roz declared. "I'd scratch his eyes out, if a man gave me such a rotten deal. I guess I'd also scratch out the other woman's eyes."

"That wouldn't change things," Nora reminded her gently. Besides, she felt a little sorry for this girl. Alan had married. She couldn't have known him long; she could only have seen him a few times. Alan had sent a snapshot of the girl to his mother. When Mrs. Davies had come to see Nora in the hospital she had brought it with her to show to Nora. She was such a pretty girl—fair-haired, smiling, a sweet, serene face. She had been standing on a hilltop, the wind blowing her hair and billowing out her skirts. She had looked very young and as though she believed that life would always be good to her.

Nora hoped that it would—and that Alan would never hurt Helen as he had hurt her.

Cynthia thought that it was good Nora could talk about Alan. When you could talk about things, bring them out into the light, they no longer could grow inside you and fester and become malignant and eventually destroy you.

"That's what I told Mother Davies," Nora said. "Since things can't be changed, I hope she will try to love Helen, too."

"You're just too good!" Roz protested. "If I were you, I'd hope they'd get on like cats and dogs, or the in-laws in the funny papers."

"You know that's a funny thing," Nora smiled almost sadly. "I always thought Mother Davies would be just like my own mother to me. But I believe now she only accepted me because she knew I could never really take Alan away from her. She's afraid that Helen will. Mother Davies is terribly jealous of Alan's wife, already. I doubt that she will be able to like her or make her feel welcome."

"It will probably end up in a divorce, like those Hollywood marriages," Roz predicted, not without a certain degree of smug satisfaction. "Wait and see."

Nora could smile a little at that and say quite honestly, that she hoped not.

It all made you more uncertain than ever, Cynthia thought, about marriage and love. How could anyone possibly be positive that his, or her, marriage would work out? How could anyone ever know absolutely, without reservation or doubt, that what he felt for someone was love?

What Is It?

PROSOPIC CHROMATIC ANALYSIS is a complete, scientific facial analysis. For example, an artist's conception of graceful and harmonious proportion is the perfect heart-shaped face, so that if you have a prominent high cheek bone or a square jaw, Ridgeway's Opticians will fit you with a spectacle frame that will create a long flowing cheek line. Draw a hump on a short line which is extremely obvious, then lengthen the line and see how it blends into insignificance when the line is lengthened (try it yourself with a pencil and paper). # Moscow Claims Spies At Work

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today American spies have succeeded in penetrating the Soviet Union even though its frontiers "are behind a strong lock and key."

The broadcast, appealing for increased vigilance, fitted into the pattern of a big new campaign to alert the Russians against "foreign enemies" in their midst. The press has carried frequent reports recently of subversives being arrested, imprisoned or executed. Many have been described as Soviet exiles whom the Americans trained and sent back into the country.

The radio declared:

"Under the cover of clouds and fogs, in the depth of the night, flying at a high altitude, American aircraft not infrequently violate the frontiers of the countries of the socialist camp and drop agents."

The broadcast, quoting a pamphlet by one Ekhalov, said the United States also sends into Russia "experienced intelligence service employees under the guise of diplomatic staffs or newspaper and magazine correspondents."

Ekhalov said American spying activities are directed by the Central Intelligence Administration, which "occupies 28 spacious buildings" (in Washington) and "in its central apparatus alone has over 6,000 members who coordinate the activities of tens of thousands of agents."

Bids To Be Received Friday For Ayden's Clinic Building

AYDEN—S. M. Edwards Jr., secretary of the Ayden Clinic Builders, Inc., said today that bids are to be received on an outpatient building for the Ayden Clinic Friday night.

Edwards indicated that present plans call for the construction of a $35-40,000 building complete with x-ray, laboratory and physical therapy facilities.

He said it is hoped that construction of the building can begin soon. "If the contract is let Friday night we will begin the building sometime next week," he indicated.

The secretary stated that no facilities for bed patients will be provided at the present time. However, he said it is hoped that in the near future a second portion of the clinic can be constructed with bed facilities and a delivery room.

Temporary offices for the Ayden Clinic were opened last Monday in a building at 111 West Second St. Two doctors are staffing the clinic. Dr. Lawrence Alexander and Dr. Clifton Davenport.

Dr. Davenport is a graduate of Duke University and Duke Medical School. He is a veteran of World War II and until recently was a member of the staff of the Veterans' Hospital in Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Davenport is originally from Dover, N. C. He is married and has one child, a daughter 18 months old. He and his family are now residing in the Barwick apartment at 814 West Third St. They hope to move to their permanent residence on Snow Hill St. September 1.

Dr. Alexander is also a graduate of Duke University and Duke Medical School. He is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. The doctor was recently discharged from the U. S. Air Force. He was stationed in Houston, Texas. Dr. Alexander is married and has two children, a son 20 months old and a daughter five months old. The Alexanders are now living on Snow Hill Street.

A local girl, Miss Liza Stewart Jenkins, is serving as nurse for the new clinic.

Plans for the Ayden Clinic were announced last February when a group of individuals subscribed stock in the venture. At that time a $30,000 building was planned to include four-to-six beds. However, rising costs have forced the group to postpone the construction of the bed-patient facilities, according to Edwards.

Pastor Receives Heavy Support

The Rev. Harvey E. Johnson, pastor of the First Pentecostal Holiness Church of Greenville, received an overwhelming vote for his return to the pastorate here for the coming conference year at the final church business conference held Tuesday evening.

The congregational vote will be transmitted to the North Carolina Conference which convenes August 22 at Falcoun, and pastoral assignments will be made by that church body.

J. N. Williams and W. J. Lewis were elected lay delegates to the annual conference.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson has completed three years as pastor of the Greenville church, and during this time the parsonage has been brick veneered, a new educational building constructed, new oak pews and chancel installed in the sanctuary and other improvements noted.

During the next 10 days, the Rev. Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson will visit relatives in Georgia and Florida. They left Tuesday night for Franklin Springs, Ga. for a stay of a few days with Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Roxie Jones, and will go to Jacksonville, Fla. for a visit with their daughter early next week.

French Parade Armed Might In Menaced Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—A crowd of 20,000 Vietnamese watched some 10,000 French and Vietnamese troops and hundreds of tanks and guns parade the streets of Vietnam-threatened Hanoi today.

Officially, the military display honored France's national holiday, Bastille Day, but obviously it also was designed to show the city of 600,000 that the French still are here in strength.

It was calculated to reassure pro-French Vietnamese who fear Hanoi will be given to the Communist-led rebels in the negotiations in Geneva or lost to them in a mass Red assault on the shrunken French holding in the Red River delta.

The parade also served to warn Vietnam sympathizers and extreme nationalists that the French have men and guns ready to put down any revolt that might flare if a cease-fire is signed.

For an hour and a half the pavement in front of the reviewing stand shook under marching feet and rumbling machines of war, the latter an impressive display of American war aid.

The Vietnam meanwhile increased pressure on the northern and northwestern sides of the French defense perimeter of the Red River Delta.

Between Luc Nam and Phu Lang Thung, about 25 miles north of Hanoi, the French-held post of camp Erulin was completely encircled. Arms, ammunition and food were parachuted yesterday to the French garrison.

Between Vietri and Vinh Yen, 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, several other posts were under strong rebel pressure. Sixty Vietnamese were reported killed in mop-up operations in that area yesterday.

More Vietnamese infiltrations also were reported in the Son Tay sector, 20 miles northwest of Hanoi.

French bombers and fighters made 150 sorties yesterday against Vietnam troop concentrations and ammunition depots around the Delta.

Mine Closed As Men Ambushed

PENNINGTON GAP, Va. (AP)—A nonunion coal mine near this community in the tip of southwest Virginia was closed down today after nine miners were ambushed yesterday as they prepared to go to work.

None of the miners was hurt at the C. R. Tomblinson mine about 11 miles north of here in Lee County. Tomblinson, the mine's owner, said "a dozen or more" men shot at his working force "for about 15 minutes."

He said he picked up "a pound of empty cartridges" after a fusillade of shots from a wooded area surrounding the small mine's entrance.

A man called him up yesterday. Tomblinson said, asking "if I were ready to sign up. The caller did not identify himself."

Tomblinson said he had worked under a United Mine Workers contract the past three years but canceled it April 19 "because we just couldn't make it paying union rates."

Lee County Sheriff W. P. Bays, venturing an opinion the attackers were bluffing but made no arrests. Tomblinson said his miners refused to work now and he would not reopen unless he "can get somebody to work it."

UMW officials were not available for comment.

Patrol Doubling Its Speed Timers

RALEIGH (AP)—The Highway Patrol soon will double the number of its electric speed timing cables.

Patrol Commander James R. Smith said yesterday orders have gone out for 30 more of the devices.

They cost $1,500 a piece, two cables, placed 132 feet apart, which are stretched across a highway. A waiting patrolman checks your time—and speed—between the cables.

The devices have played one of the biggest roles in cutting down speeding on the highways. In many instances the patrol has put up dummy cables.

Col. Smith said the cables cost about $425 a set. It probably will be several weeks before the newly ordered equipment is on hand.

Somehow, Gypsy Forecast 'True'

BALTIMORE (AP)—Stine Glik, a 19-year-old Gypsy, predicted number 146 would hit yesterday, but she didn't say who.

Patrolman Thomas Tankersley arrested Stina after a Negro housewife, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin complained she tried to flim-flam her out of $15 while blessing the money. As an added attraction to a 60-cent palm reading Mrs. McLaughlin said, Stina told her number 146 would hit.

The Gypsy was fined $50 and given 30 days in jail after Tankersley hauled her before Magistrate Charlotte Main.

Tankersley's badge number is 146.

Asks Expanding Of Present Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today asked that Congress bar former federal employees from ever handling for private interests any government after which they were associated while in government.

His proposal, sent to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass), would involve a rewriting of the "conflict of interest" laws.

Brownell described the existing statutes as inadequate. He suggested that the present penalty for "switching sides" after leaving federal service be increased from the present one year in prison or $10,000 fine.

The present laws forbid such "switching" for a two-year period after an employe has left government service. The statutes are so written as to appear to apply principally if not solely to attorneys.

Application of these laws was further narrowed by a district court ruling last year that the prohibition against an ex-government employe's representing a private employer is limited with the government only applies in cases where there is a claim for money or property against the United States.

Jail Is Too Hot For Prisoners

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—It was even too hot in the "cooler" here yesterday.

With the temperature at 115 degrees, Ottawa County Sheriff James A. Alleman ordered seven prisoners out of the jail, marched them onto the courthouse lawn under shade of trees and permitted them to play cards.

"It was too hot in that fourth floor jail," the sheriff remarked, "even for law violators."
