Four members of the local Garden Club are shown above with City Manager James S. Hughes and Street Superintendent C. K. The club members were approving the road prior to presentation of a $350 check by the Woman's Club to Miller and Lewis Construction Company, which did the bulldozing work. Green Springs Park, a 12-acre area, is a project of the Woman's Club and Garden Club who hope to develop it into "a place of beauty and relaxation for the citizens of Greenville." British Withdrawal In 1956 Is Agreed Upon Egyptians Hail Suez Pact

By ROBERT HEWETT CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—All Egypt celebrated today at the announcement that the British have agreed to pull their 83,000 troops out of the Suez Canal zone, probably by mid-1956. Egyptian Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser and British War Minister Antony Head signed a preliminary pact last night, agreeing on principles to be incorporated into a formal treaty. The final accord is expected to be signed in a month or two. The agreement ended the two nations' long and often bloody dispute over control of the big land and air bases which Britain built in the strategic zone at a cost of $1,200,000,000. It provides that all British troops will be withdrawn from the Suez within 20 months after the final treaty is signed, but that Britain can use the bases again if any of the eight Arab states or Turkey is attacked. Britain also will maintain the present military installations along the 104-mile-long canal for seven years with civilian technicians. Col. Anwar Sadat, a member of Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council, said last night Britain and the United States had agreed in principle to supply Egypt with military aid now that the Suez issue is settled. Sadat said the Egyptian army would be doubled within five years.

Egypt Is Promised U.S. Aid Program

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The United States has promised a substantial military and economic aid program for Egypt to start in the near future as a result of her Suez base agreement with Britain, informed sources said today. For the last three years Egypt has been getting only comparatively small Point Four technical assistance from the United States. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery played a leading role in the behind-the-scenes talks which led to the British-Egyptian agreement last night. One of the unwritten commitments to Egypt in return for the base agreement, an informed source said, is a quick start on American military and economic aid. Caffery was reported exchanging cables with the State Department today on the subject, urging a start as soon as possible. Col. Anwar El Sadat, a member of Egypt's Revolutionary Council, said last night Egypt expected U.S. military aid to double the strength of the Egyptian army within five years. Informed sources said plans already have been discussed for supplying arms to Egypt, but they discounted talk of a big build-up in the size of the army. The United States will emphasize economic aid, since Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser is expected to devote most of his efforts in the development of irrigated land for overworked Egypt and an industrial project now that the emotional problem of British troops in Suez has been settled. Since 1951 the United States has spent approximately four million dollars on Point Four aid in Egypt and there now are 42 American technicians working on projects. Last spring an additional 10 million was earmarked for rural improvement programs, including irrigation of lands which now are unproductive desert.

House Today Passes $5 Billion Appropriation For Foreign Aid

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON (AP)—The House normally passed and sent to the Senate today a bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 for the foreign aid program for the present fiscal year. The 266-128 roll call vote ratified tentative approval given the bill yesterday. Today it drew most of its support from Democrats, with 144 Democrats, 121 Republicans and 1 independent voting for it. Against it were 65 Republicans and 43 Democrats. The bill is the last of the appropriation measures to be considered by the House this year. Its total is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested, but his House leaders, with Demo-

President Sees Try To Split West Lists Main Legislative Needs Attacks Said Part Of Red Plan

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Chinese Communist attacks on American and British planes are part of the Red plan, to split the Western Allies. He declared the United States means to defend its rights. The President told a news conference the American rescue planes which were attacked by the Chinese Communists were engaged in legitimate business. The United States means to defend its rights whenever it is engaged on legitimate business, he said. The American aircraft shot down two Red planes after being attacked over the South China Sea. The President also dealt with these other matters: LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM—Eisenhower said he would be more than bitterly disappointed if Congress should adjourn without approving such administration measures as those dealing with foreign aid, farm policy, tax revision, housing and social security. And he added, in reply to a question, that he feels an increase in the 275-billion-dollar national debt ceiling is inescapable.

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN—He said he is highly pleased with the agreement reached by Great Britain and Egypt on terms for settling their argument over the Suez Canal Zone. The agreement reflects statesmanship and patience on both sides, he said, adding that he hopes Egypt now will be able to advance with her friends from both economic and security standpoints. POLITICS—Eisenhower said he still supports Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) for re-election despite Cooper's break with the administration on two votes in connection with the atomic energy bill. The President said Cooper came to him and was honest about the whole thing in explaining his position. He said he respects the senator's opposition on a legal question involved in the issue. FOOD PRICES—The President expressed the hope that food prices will stabilize if Congress passes the administration bill calling for a flexible farm price-support program instead of the rigid support plan now in effect. TARIFFS—The United States, the President said, must continue to work toward a freer flow of world trade, even though he found it necessary to hike the tariff on certain imported watches up to 50 per cent. Eisenhower ordered the increase yesterday, Switzerland, which supplies this country with most of its imported watch movements, said the tariff hike dealt a serious blow not only to existing good relations between Switzerland and the United States but also to the very principle of freedom of trade. The President said he made a long study of whether to increase the duty on imported watches and concluded that from the standpoint of national defense it was imperative to preserve certain skilled industries in this country. He was referring he said, to fine tolerance precision instruments. GERMAN SOVEREIGNTY—The President said he is not ready to announce just what steps he might take toward granting sovereignty to West Germany. He

Long Debate Ends; Joint Committee Gets Measure Senate Passes Atomic Bill

By RUSSELL BRINES WASHINGTON (AP)—Controversy over the bill designed to carry out President Eisenhower's atomic program shifted today behind closed doors after a marathon debate in the Senate finally ended last night with 57-28 passage. A Senate-House conference committee now must adjust basic differences in separate versions of a bill to open the atomic power field to private industry and to authorize the release of limited nuclear information to U. S. allies. Senate passage came at 9:47 p.m. last night, at the end of 13 days and nearly 169 hours of acrimonious debate. The bill was supported by 44 Republicans and 13 Democrats and opposed by 2 Republicans 26 Democrats and independent Sen. Morse of Oregon. The battle left open scars in the Senate over the bill's power provisions and the tactics used by Republican Leader Knowland of California to break what he termed an opposition filibuster. Whether these resentments would lead to stiffer opposition to other key administration measures including the foreign aid, housing and tax revision bill, remained to be seen. GOP leaders are driving for adjournment by Aug. 7. The Senate adopted amendments to the atomic energy bill, a revision of the 1946 basic act, to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and other federal agencies to build atomic power plants, if they can get the funds. It also postpones any exclusive nuclear patents for 10 years. The House bill, passed Monday, grants normal patent rights for civilian atomic developments not conceived under government auspices and bars the AEC from the A-power business. These differences must be hammered out behind closed doors. Opposition senators have threatened another talkfest if their version is jettisoned. The House, under strong leadership control, appeared equally insistent upon its measure. Senate opponents gave up the fight suddenly last night after two weeks of denouncing the bill as a gigantic giveaway—a view disputed by GOP leaders. The final session of debate, starting Monday, lasted just short of 36 hours. The back of the opposition appeared broken Saturday night when Democratic Leader Lyndon B.

Johnson of Texas joined in an effort to limit debate. He failed, as Knowland did in repeated attempts. Knowland also lost Monday in a move to invoke cloture or an automatic time limit. There appeared to be few differences between House and Senate versions on these other main provisions in the bill: 1. Authority for the President to give foreign allies limited information on the performance of nuclear weapons and civilian atomic power and authority to start negotiations for a global Aepool to help backward nations. Both houses defeated attempts to widen the President's authority. And he must get congressional approval for any international atomic agreements. 2. New security regulations, emphasizing periodic release of non-strategic information and giving the AEC more authority to order full field investigations for sensitive jobs. 3. Legal definition of the AEC chairman as the commission's "official spokesman" with some added administrative control while specifying equal authority for all five AEC commissioners.

Flanders Says Senators Can't Be 'Neutral' Plans Censure Vote Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said today "senators can't claim neutrality" on his resolution proposing a formal vote of censure against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Flanders told newsmen he is determined to press his resolution to a vote on Friday. He said he will contend then that any senator absent from the roll call without good reason will have "voted to dodge" the issue. He said senators in effect "have to vote 'yes,' 'no' or 'dodge-it,'" on the resolution. Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, has promised that Flanders can have a vote on the issue Friday, possibly in the form of a motion by Knowland to kill the resolution. Such a motion is not debatable. Flanders said he hopes, however, to get time to make a speech to "pinpoint" some of the reasons he thinks the Senate should declare that McCarthy has been guilty of conduct unbecoming a senator as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. Flanders said he has "assurances from the Democratic side" that Democrats won't use the issue as an excuse for a long debate to prolong this session of Congress. He said he expects Knowland will let the resolution come up Friday as scheduled, and "I expect a vote on it the same day." Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) has announced he may offer an amendment proposing that the Senate also censure Flanders for unbecoming conduct in his attacks on McCarthy. Flanders said he has heard about that "and I will ask that Sen. Capehart's amendment be rejected." There was no further comment from McCarthy, who says he attributes Flanders' blasts at him to "senility."

There was no immediate reaction from the Senate Democratic policy committee to an invitation to throw its weight behind Flanders' motion. The invitation was made public yesterday by the National Committee for an Effective Congress. The organization describes itself as a nonpartisan group whose "principal activity" is to channel financial campaign contributions "to responsible candidates of both parties in a manner that frees the candidates of the necessity to make unwarranted commitments or otherwise jeopardize their independence." In a letter to Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and other members of the Democratic Policy Committee, the NCEC said: "Even if a natural disdain inclined you to overlook McCarthy's charge that yours is a 'party of treason,' you could not ignore his threat to the orderly conduct of our government."

Rhee Addresses Congress And Proposes U. S. Back Asian Army Against China

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee proposed today that an Asian army of more than two million men, backed by U.S. guns, planes and ships, launch a counterattack on Communist China. In a speech prepared for delivery before a joint session of Congress, the fiery 79-year-old Korean leader said: "Let us remember that peace cannot be restored in the world half Communist and half democratic. Your momentous decision is needed now to make Asia safe for freedom, for that will automatically settle the world Communist problem in Europe, Africa and America." Rhee told Congress the essence of Soviet strategy for world conquest is to lure Americans into a "slip of death by talking peace until the Soviet Union possesses enough hydrogen bombs and intercontinental bombers to pulverize the airfields and productive centers of the United States by sneak attack." Rhee has long advocated resuming hostilities in Korea to drive the Communists out of the northern half of his divided land. But this appeared to be the first time he proposed an all-out attack on the Chinese mainland itself. He did not call for the use of U.S. foot soldiers. Rhee's call to arms ran counter to U.S. policy, expressed by both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles. Defense Secretary Charles Wilson and Foreign Aid Administrator Harold Stassen. Rhee contended return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world automatically would produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina and would swing the balance of power so strongly against Russia that it would not dare risk war with the United States. "Unless we win China back an ultimate victory for the free world is unthinkable," he said.

Virginia Arrests Solve Series Of N. C. Robberies

RALEIGH (AP)—The arrest of three men at Norfolk, Va., has solved a series of 26 robberies in Northeastern North Carolina, according to FBI Director James Powell. Powell said yesterday the arrests may additionally clear up a number of other unsolved break-ins in the area during the last few months. Powell said the three men confessed to the store robberies in Halifax, Northampton, Hertford, Gates and Washington counties. He identified the trio as James McCrone, Bernie F. Tyson and Harry B. Whitaker. He said they darted into North Carolina at night and then returned to Virginia with their loot. Powell said the men were picked up in Norfolk on car theft charges. He said apparently the stolen cars were used in their invasion of North Carolina.

Crime Specialist Reported In Berlin To Probe Disappearance

BERLIN (AP)—Harry Sodermann, a Swedish crime specialist, was reported today to have arrived in Berlin for an under-cover investigation of the disappearance of Dr. Otto John, former West German security chief. West Berlin newspapers said he planned to contact Ernst Wollweber, head of the East German state security police. Official confirmation was lacking. Sodermann could not be located at West Berlin hotels. Sodermann was reputed to be the man who arrested Wollweber in Sweden in World War II for sabotage of Allied shipping. The Swedish government refused a Nazi request for Wollweber's extradition. Sodermann served at one time as adviser to the West German federal criminal police. West German newspapers said his present mission is private and not an official assignment from the West German government or the occupation Allies. The Communist radio disputed this point and chided Sodermann in a broadcast today. Red Radio Berlin said: "In his helplessness, the Bonn government has now enrolled the services of a Swedish crime expert known as 'Revolver Harry'."

On dividends, the Eisenhower administration originally recommended a tax cut running to more than one billion dollars a year. The House then passed a trimmed-down version permitting taxpayers to deduct from their income on tax returns $50 in dividends the first year and $100 the second year. The House bill also would have permitted taxpayers to subtract 5 per cent of their remaining dividend income the first year—10 per cent the second year—from the tax payment they otherwise would make. The House bill would have cut taxes on dividends by about 350 million dollars the first year and eventually up to 860 million dollars a year. The Senate knocked out all but the $50 exclusion, a tax reduction of only 46 millions a year.

Planning Board Agenda Is Light

Greenville's Planning Board agenda for the monthly meeting Thursday night shows very little business. The meeting is slated for 7:30 p.m. in the Council Room at City Hall.

Avers U. S. Only Protecting Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today this country does not mean to be truculent toward the Chinese Communists as a result of the recent attacks on U.S. and British planes but does propose to defend its rights. Referring at his news conference to the plane shooting incidents and the Red Chinese charges against this country, Eisenhower said he believes the Communist position is part of a plan to separate the United States from its allies and split the West. He gave a flat denial to Red charges that the two American planes recently fired upon were in Communist territory. Eisenhower said he is perfectly certain the U.S. planes were where they should have been and were on legitimate business. And, the President said, the U.S. task force which entered the disputed area to aid in the search for survivors of the British plane shot down by the Reds should be lauded for the mission is completed. The President was asked about news reports indicating that the French, in particular were uneasy over U.S. action with regard to the shooting and regarded this government as too truculent. Eisenhower said we don't mean

Conserve Food Now For Coming Winter

Mrs. Amelia S. Capehart, Negro Pitt county home demonstration agent, in a recent bulletin, advised homemakers to conserve more food for next winter.

She explained that freezing food is something new for many homemakers and gave the following suggestions for freezing vegetables and fruits. Some are better than others for freezing. Freezing when vegetables are not too young or old, but "just right" for eating fresh.

Speed is the keynote. Get it into the freezer at home or locker plant as soon as you can, but take time to scald, or call it "blanch" or "boil," but for quality sake, do it. Follow directions and time table in Extension circular No. 280, then chill in icy or cold water (this does not mean soak, but get the heat that you put in completely out). Then put it in a frozen food container—a good one.

Temperature: Place containers where and how the manufacturer's freezer book advises. Store at zero or below. When temperature goes up and down above zero, the vegetable quality goes down and does not come back.

Plan so that you make your trip to the locker plant as soon as the last container is sealed and labeled. Leave it in refrigerator while you take off your apron and put on your lipstick. Pack in ordinary grocery cartons one inside a larger one. Stuff with crumpled newspaper. Ask operator to put food in freezer.

Mrs. Capehart also reports that corn and peaches are at their best now, and let's freeze for next winter's eating.

To have good corn, one good rule to follow is to pick it when it's "just right for today." That's the right stage of maturity. After it is picked, keep it cool.

Another good rule is to put corn in the freezer within two hours after being picked from stalk. Handle quickly because young sweet corn loses its delicate goodness, fast after it is gathered.

Whole kernel corn: Scald cleaned ears six to eight minutes. Chill thoroughly. Cut kernels off ears, pack, label, freeze, and store.

Cream-style corn: Clean ears—work with small quantities at a time. Cut off tips of kernels, scrap or cut off tips and one other thin slice of kernel before scraping. Add enough water to keep from sticking. Bring to a boil, and boil four minutes. Chill thoroughly by placing pan of corn in running cold water; stir to hasten cooling then pack, label, freeze and store.

Corn on the cob: Figure whether you like it well enough to crowd other foods out of your storage space to make room for the cobs. If so, clean and scald ears as for cut corn. Thoroughly cool. It is easy to think corn is cool when there is still heat in the cob. Use running cold water or a large quantity of very cold water and move the corn immediately to keep the cooling—eight to ten minutes should be long enough. Too long standing in water can cause soggy and loss of flavor. It is better to wrap each ear separately.

For the next few days peaches will be at their best for freezing. The best frozen peaches are tree-ripened fruit, picked in the cool of the morning, and prepared and frozen immediately to keep flavor. Avoid bruising in handling.

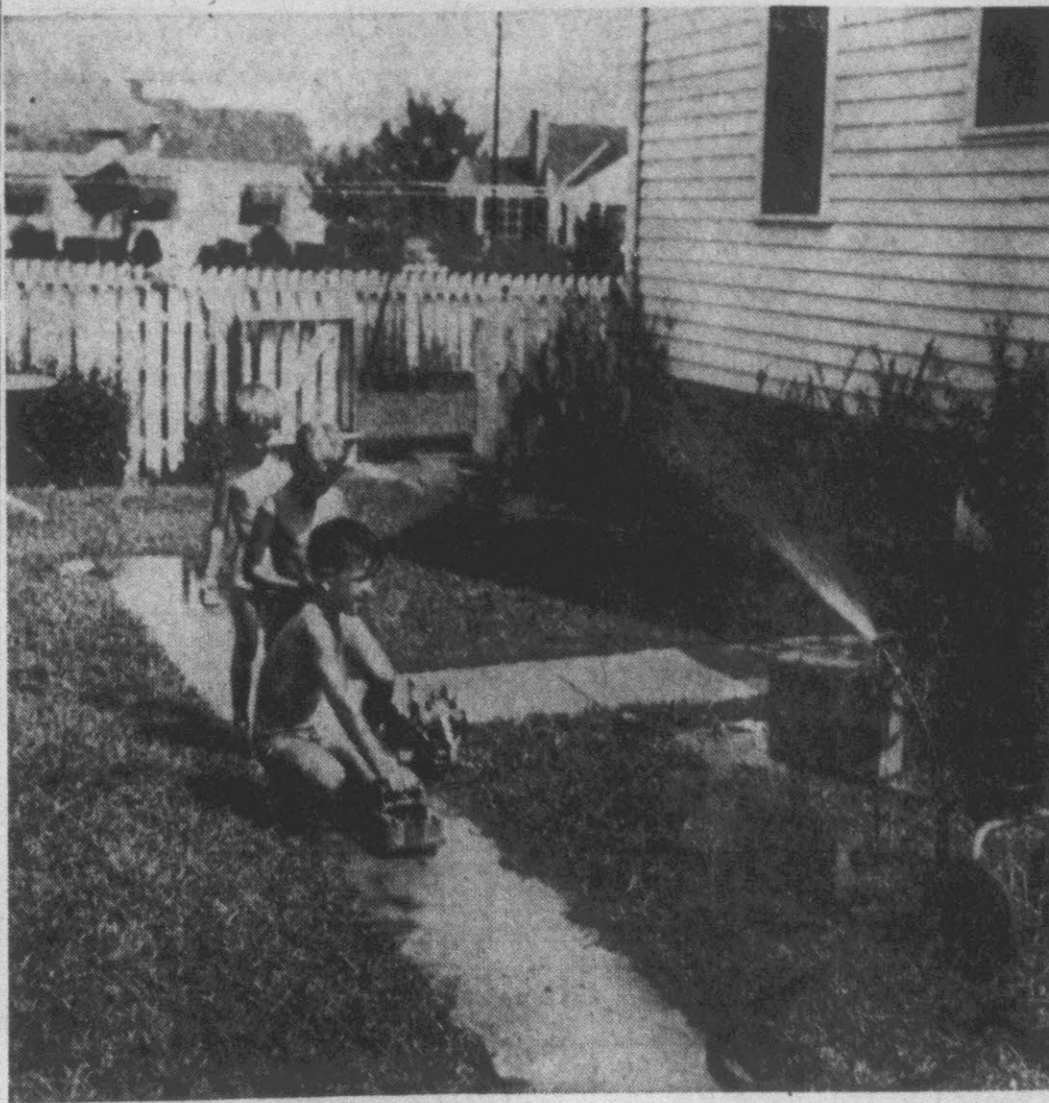

The best way to peel peaches is by dipping ripe fruit into boiling water for 30 to 90 seconds. If peaches stay in boiling water too long, a cooked layer develops around the outside and the fresh flavor will be lost. Dip in cold water. Rub skin off with your hands.

Halves: Pack halves in 40 to 50 per cent chilled syrup with ascorbic acid added.

Slices or chunks: Cut peaches in uniform slices or chunks—cover with 40 to 50 per cent chilled syrup—containing ascorbic acid. Peaches prepared this way are excellent for dessert, pies, cobblers, topping or short cake.

Those in doubt about other food for freezing should refer to Extension circular No. 280 (revised February 1953).

Until about the year 1800, imprisonment was not a common method of punishment for crime.

KEEPING COOL—There is always a way to keep cool and these three youngsters are proving the fact by getting under the hose at 130 North Library Street. In the photo Brantley Register is in front, Scotty Tabor is in the middle and Charles Register is at the rear. Scotty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tabor while the two Register boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Register. (Reflector Photo by Bob Boyette)

Two Pitt 4-H Members In National Competition

Ted Allen of the Farmville Senior 4-H Club and Jimmy Hendrix of the Winterville-Greenville club will compete in the national livestock conservation demonstration contest at the National 4-H Conference at Chicago in November.

The two became eligible for competition in the national event when they won first place on the state level last week with their team demonstration, "The Prevention and Control of Internal Parasites in Swine."

The pair competed against contestants from six districts all over the state at the annual state 4-H Club Week July 19-24 at North Carolina State College.

Winning second place honors in the state Dress Revue was Lois Simmons of the Winterville-Greenville 4-H Club. She competed with 96 girls from all over the state in the contest.

Four other Pitt County 4-H Club members competed in contests at the state meeting.

Bobbie Jean Sutton from the Chocomaub club and Jimmy Hendrix were entered in the Health Pageant, and Peggy Joyner and Phyllis Corbett of the Farmville club participated in the Dairy Foods Demonstration contest.

Roselyn Waters, member of the Winterville-Greenville 4-H Club, was a leader in various assemblies during the week. She also served as a model for a special fashion show conducted by Frank Teuton of the USDA in Washington, D. C. Other delegates from Pitt County were Sue Dilda and Carolyn Killigrew of the Fountain 4-H Club; Rosalie Moore from the Stokes club; and Rachael Speight of the Winterville-Greenville club.

Twelve hundred boys and girls from all over North Carolina attended the gathering in Raleigh. The week's program included

Sen. Ellender Is Renominated In Louisiana Vote

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sen. Allen Joseph Ellender—a Louisiana senator since 1936—easily won Democratic nomination yesterday for a fourth six-year term.

The nomination almost always means election in this heavily Democratic state.

The 63-year-old south Louisiana lawyer-farmer, who once was Huey Long's leader in the State House of Representatives, won over two opponents by a plurality which seemed certain to hit 100,000.

The votes to give him this heavy edge came from parishes (counties) outside New Orleans, home of his chief opponent, Frank B. Ellis.

Ellis, Democratic national committeeman, carried Orleans Parish (New Orleans) by more than 4,000 votes.

The count with 1,891 of the state's 2,036 precincts complete, was:

Ellender, 252,815; Ellis, 154,008; State Rep. Gilbert Fault of Monroe, 19,527.

In five district congressional races all incumbents won handily. Three other incumbents were not opposed for renomination.

Nominated without opposition were Representatives F. Edward Hebert of New Orleans, 1st District; Otto E. Passman, Monroe, 5th District; and James H. Morrison Hammond, 6th District. Other incumbents forced to win contests were:

Representatives Overton Brooks, Shreveport, 4th District; Hale Hogg, New Orleans, 2nd District; Edwin E. Willis, St. Martinville, 3rd District; T. A. Thompson, Ville Platte, 7th District, and George S. Long of Pineville, 8th District.

Report Capture Of Rebel Force

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Nicaragua says it has captured a band of Costa Rican rebels who fled into this neighboring country after clashing with Costa Rican troops.

The Foreign Ministry here said last night a note from Nicaragua men into custody near the frontier. They were disarmed and sent to Managua, Nicaragua's capital. Costa Rican Army officials said Monday the rebels fled into the hills after a clash with troops in which an Army lieutenant and four insurgents were killed.

Rumor Of Gold Grew, Spread All Over Town

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Glenn Aiken, working a bulldozer in a residential district yesterday, attracted the usual number of youngsters who pestered, "what're ya doin', mister?"

"Digging for gold," Aiken advised. The kids told their mothers who told other mothers. The story soon left the neighborhood and moved downtown. The Better Business Bureau stockbrokers and city officials started getting calls.

The report was that gold had been found, that stock was for sale. Property owners were to get a fifth interest.

City Hall quickly dispatched an emissary to the scene.

"Gold?" gasped Aiken. "That was a joke for the kids, I'm helping put in a lawn."

The harbor and channel improvements, such as the North Carolina State Ports have helped to make America great and strong.

Doubt Still Remains After Decision

The decision of the State Board of Elections in the disputed Pitt County Sheriff's race has settled the matter officially so far as the party nominee is concerned.

Even so, there will still be many partisans who will be unwilling to accept the decision of the State Board at face value, and who will continue to question what actually transpired in the three precincts.

The controversy has raised doubts in the minds of many Pitt citizens. Frankly, the decision of the State Board did little to dispell these doubts.

The State Board, after considering the evidence presented by both sides in the dispute, has concluded that the evidence of alleged irregularities is insufficient to warrant a recount in the Ayden, Bethel and Pactolus boxes. It also asserted the number of votes challenged by S. A. Whitehurst in the three boxes was insufficient to change the outcome of the election if all of them were thrown out.

There are some factors which have come sharply into focus during the controversy.

It is obvious that the controversy over the election has done Pitt County no good in the eyes of the rest of the state. We doubt the controversy has done either of the principal participants in the dispute any good in the eyes of the average voter of Pitt County.

The only good we can see that has come from the dispute is the virtual assurance that from now on the elections rules will be followed to the letter by voting officials throughout the county.

As The Reflector stated previously, we do not believe any precinct intentionally disregarded elections rules to favor one candidate over the other. Yet, there were obvious instances in which the election rules were, at best, followed in a haphazard way.

Most people agree that practically all the irregularities cited in this disputed election have been present in practically all elections held in the county over a period of years. The election in some instances

PROFOUND ISSUES

There are 285,000 local congregations in the United States presided over by 183,000 clergymen. Fifty-nine per cent of the population of the United States are members of some church or synagogue, which means that 41 per cent, or about 68,000,000 persons, are yet unreached by the influence of any church.

There is hope to be found in these church statistics. Fifty-nine per cent of our people are members of some church, but in 1890 only six per cent were church members. In 1950, only 16 per cent. In 1900, only 36 per cent. There are more than a quarter of a million Sunday Schools in the United States with an enrollment of almost 33,000,000 persons. The growth last year was 6 1/2 per cent over the previous year. Yet the number of young people not in Sunday-schools and receiving no religious training of any kind is so large as to fill the minds of all sensible people with profound alarm.

We are doing a good job of evangelizing our generation, but we are not doing a good enough job. There are some ways in which modern society appears to have reached new moral lows and other ways it seems to have reached new highs. It is almost as if we were quivering in the balance. Shall we go on to triumph and a moral greatness which will bless the world, or shall we start down as Rome and nineteenth century civilizations preceding us have begun their decline?

Let us not be too late with too little. The issues are life and death—eternal life and eternal death.

Will Truman And Nixon Clash?

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The nation may be treated to a Truman-Nixon debate on Democratic foreign policy from 1955 to 1956 in the California gubernatorial battle between Governor Goodwin J. Knight and Richard Graves, an Earl Warren protégé and former Republican, but now the Democratic nominee in this extremely important contest for ascertaining current political sentiment.

If Nixon should enter the state to speak on behalf of Knight, and if he should repeat his endorsement of Senator McCarthy's indictment of "treason" against F.D.R. and Truman, it is almost certain that "light-horse Harry" will accept the challenge.

Truman is known to be "bolting" over the McCarthy-Nixon charges, and furious at his old friend, Ike Eisenhower, for permitting the Vice-President to indulge in what the Missourian regards as "scurrilous and puerile statements which he cannot prove by the book and my record in the White House."

BLAST MAY BE AVOIDED—The former President, owing to his recent illness, would not make any stump speeches in California. But at a strategic moment in the Knight-Graves struggle, he may take to television and radio for a blast at Nixon.

The White House has heard of the Truman threat. So, despite Eisenhower's desire for a Republican victory, he may ask "Dick" to sit out this fight. CALIFORNIA'S GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST—Graves recently visited old friends at Washington and insisted that he had a chance to defeat Governor Knight, although the political and betting odds weigh heavily against the Democratic nominee.

Graves believes that he will draw strength from Warren Republicans and Democrats, for Warren and Knight never saw or thought alike on public questions. Warren was so "liberal" that conservative Republicans deplored his policies and his appointment as Chief Justice of the United States. Knight is an extreme conservative.

Graves thinks he has another political advantage. For 18 years he was director of the League of California Cities, which is a sort of Mayors' union. He expects that their Honorable Democratic and Republican, will plug for him.

was conducted according to the way it had been done in individual precincts, rather than by the letter of the rules set up by the state.

We believe it is safe to assume that in future elections the rules will be followed to the letter by precinct officials, whether they are the same officials which were had in this election or officials who are subsequently appointed.

While the dispute over this particular election has been settled officially by the State Board of Elections, it remains unresolved in the minds of many Pitt County citizens. In our opinion, the attitude of these citizens is not without some justification.

If the Pitt County Board of Elections decides it can contribute something constructive through continuing its investigation of the matter, we believe it should not hesitate to do so.

Knowland Underestimated Opposition's Strength

It looks as if Congress may stay in session indefinitely if the Democrats and Republicans can't come to terms on the atomic legislation being pushed by the administration.

Earlier this week it looked as if the marathon debate - being sustained principally by Democrats and Sen. Morse - might come to a close; but Republican Leader Knowland blew up such chances when he killed an amendment offered on the legislation.

There is still a great deal of work to be done by Congress before it adjourns the current session. And as the majority party in Congress, it is up to the Republicans to see that the work is done. It is a certainty now that the mid-August adjournment date will be missed. It is quite possible that Congress will be in session on into September even if it does not have to stay until Thanksgiving as Sen. Anderson, Democrat of New Mexico, has predicted.

Sen. Knowland is finding out for sure he underestimated the determination of the Democrats and others opposed to the administration's atomic legislation when he tried to force the measure down their throats.

He'll be lucky now to get as good a compromise on the measure as he might have when the debate on the measure began 14 days ago.

GOVERNMENT CAN'T "GIVE" ANYTHING

"The Dawson, Minnesota, Sentinel, speaking editorially, said this: 'It is about time that the average American citizen does some hard-headed thinking tax-wise. If we want tax reduction, we will have to demand less from government and again start doing things for ourselves on the local level.'"

"That certainly is incontestable, and it should be as apparent as sunshine to everyone. Yet years of reckless spending conditioned many people to the insane idea that government can 'give' us all manner of things from community swimming pools to old-age security. Actually, government can only spend what it first borrows or takes from us in taxes—and we always get back less than we are forced to contribute."—(Industrial News Review)

MCCARTHYISM NOT AN ISSUE—Although the White House may deny it, President Eisenhower's friends and agents have masterminded a quiet movement to discredit or minimize Senator "Joe" McCarthy as a political threat and influence. He knows of this strategy, which may account for his temporary lack of belligerence.

Almost every Republican governor, and all are close friends of the President, has declared that "McCarthyism" would not be an issue in the fall political contests in their respective states. They indicated that they would not invite him to speak on their behalf. They feel that the Army-McCarthy hearings had hurt the GOP, and they held the Wisconsin Senator partly responsible for precipitating them.

Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Chairman of the Republicans' Senate Policy Committee and a frequent White House consultant, has said that he wants no help from McCarthy in his struggle for re-election.

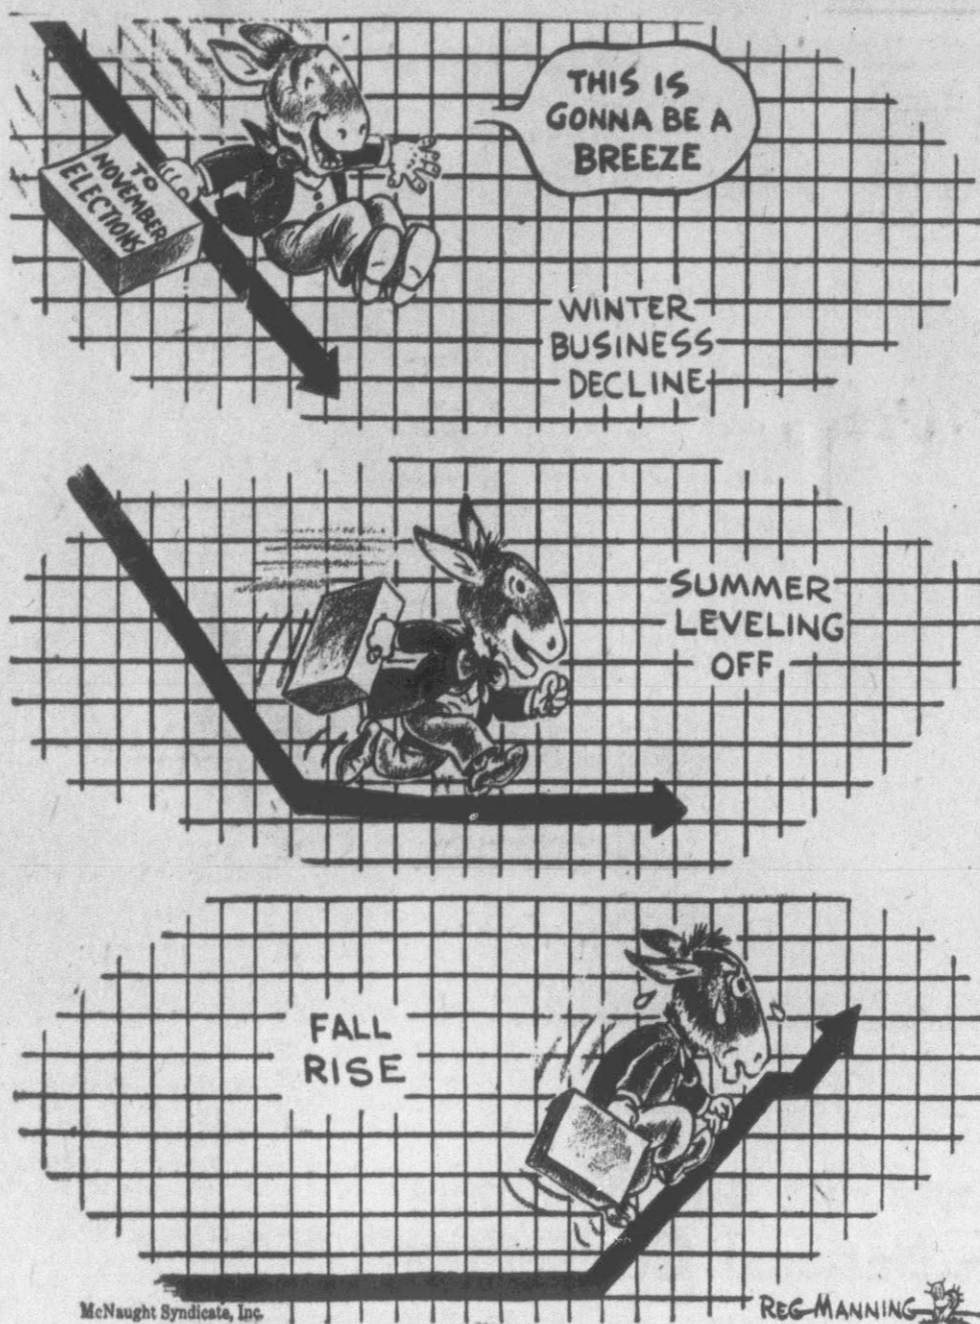

WOULD OPPOSE MCCARTHY CHAIRMANSHIP—Former Representative Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, now the Republican nominee for Senator, has declared publicly that he would vote to remove McCarthy as Chairman of the Committee on Government Operations, in accord with the original Flanders resolution.

Case quit the House to join the educational agency financed by the Ford Foundation, once headed by Paul G. Hoffman, Hoffman, now back with Studebaker, is close to Eisenhower.

"Mac" can read handwriting on the political wall even before it is written. He has given every indication that he will abandon his "bad boy" role. So many before him have discovered—the elder La Follette, Borah, Norris, Hiram Johnson—"you can't break the organization!"

KENTUCKY POLITICS—Senator John Sherman Cooper's criticism of the Eisenhower TVA-AEC power deal is a tip-off on Kentucky politics. The extremely able Republican is "running scared" against former Vice-President Barkley. He has every reason to be alarmed by Barkley according to reliable reports from the Blue Grass State.

Somebody Told Me

Someday, There'll Be A Bill

Some-day-a professional man is going to send me a bill for conversation. When I get a chance to corner a doctor or lawyer pretty soon I'm asking him questions about his profession that almost, not quite, come in the category of information that should be given out during office hours. The same applies to plumbers, electricians and carpenters. In a way it's a cheap trick—getting information from them that it took years of study and experience to acquire.

Last night I ran into an oculist in Biggs' Drug Store, whose name I will not mention for professional reasons. But instead of trying to gain helpful information, I was just gabbing with him.

"How do you tell," I asked him, which eye a cock-eyed person is using when he looks at you?"

"That's easy," he replied. "Very few wall-eyed people are alternators. Therefore, those who are not alternators are looking at you with only one eye at the time. The other eye is inactive. They see nothing with it. So all you have to do is determine which direction the wall-eyed person is looking and you'll have the answer to your question."

"The alternator has the ability to switch his vision from one eye to the other and is very happy with his vision. Here again, you can tell the alternator by the direction in which he is looking."

No doubt everybody knew it but me; but I was surprised to learn that all crossed eyes can be straightened. "That does not mean," the doctor added, "that they can acquire fused vision; that is, both eyes working together to bring about single vision."

Then came the inevitable discussion about glasses. This oculist does the same thing that many oculists do: he sends some of his patients away without a prescription for glasses. "You do that," I exclaimed, "and you're not in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington on exhibit?"

Actually, it's a misconception to assume that every trip to an optometrist results in glasses. Normally, a person wouldn't take the trip unless he had a real need for them. But you have to look at it this way: Unless the doctor is selling glasses, he has nothing to gain by giving you a prescription for them.

As long as I can chat with the professional people without getting a bill it's a lot of fun. And I thank you.

About a third of the flue-cured is sold abroad, and that makes the foreign market both important and essential to growers.

In this situation they have the most at stake, and they can do more than any one else to offset the complaints that are being received. Unless this is done, it is quite possible that a decline in exports will reflect both in volume and prices of leaf that goes abroad. That cannot be done safely in the interest of continued high demand for the farmer's tobacco. He will suffer most, but all others also in these producing areas will feel the effects as well. All growers will do themselves a distinct service by heeding the advice of these leaders, and the time to begin is with the 1954 crop. It will pay handsomely in the long run.

This time the hospital wants some $50,000 for additions and betterments, including another steam boiler repairs to roofs, etc.

Tax Interpretations

While the new Internal Revenue Code will lay down some new rules on income taxes, it will be just as much subject to interpretation as the existing code. And to parody that heat-rules that hurt, it's not the interpretations.

In selling an interest in a partnership is a case in point, Prentice-Hall's "Information" points out that one Johnson sold his share of a business and the Tax Court held that his share of the partnership profits was taxable at ordinary income rates.

On the other hand, one Meyer sold his partnership to the wife of another partner for $30,000, of which $5,000 represented his original investment and $25,000 undistributed profits. The Court of Appeals said, "We find he sold out his entire partnership interest, quit the firm and disposed of a capital asset. He was entitled to the long-term capital gain treatment."

Chicago Clearing House, in a report on income tax troubles in fiscal 1953, says, "Whether the taxpayer or the government won most often in civil litigation depended on the Court chosen by the taxpayer."

For instance, the Tax Court sustained the Commissioner of Internal Revenue about twice as often as it ruled for the taxpayers. On appeals from the Tax Court, the government won 178 times and the taxpayer 128.

But in the U. S. District Courts, the ratio was reversed. There the taxpayers won 178 cases and the government 149. On appeal, the government won 65 cases and lost 39.

And in the U. S. Supreme Court, taxpayers won in three out of four cases.

The Taming of Carney Wilde

by BART SPICER

A dated scrap of paper marked "Delta Lines, Cabin 5," sends detective Carney Wilde aboard a luxury boat cruising from Cincinnati to New Orleans, in the hope of apprehending one Charles Alexander Stewart. This youthful clerk had absconded with funds belonging to a bank in Philadelphia, and in the course of his flight, had killed a policeman. As Wilde stealthily searches Cabin 5, he is surprised by the sudden appearance of his occupant, Miss Pomeroy, a professional photographer on her way to the Mardi Gras. The tall, handsome, self-sufficient young career woman orders him, at gun-point, from her room. Out on deck, Carney chats with amiable old "Doc" Riggs, who genially refers to himself as a scoundrel and a con-man.

CHAPTER NINE
RUSSELL led me into a spacious foyer and bar and then into the dining-saloon a wide room. All the walls were windows and the curtains were pulled back, despite the darkness. A dozen small clusters of people were scattered around the room. Most of them stayed close to a small service bar in one corner and another knot was formed around a circular table in the center of the room. Up forward, in the apex of the room, was a small platform, probably a stage for amateur theatricals. A white piano was shoved back against the windows.

"Those two staring out the window," Russell said softly. "Rev. Dr. Dumbard and lady. Bedroom Two. They don't look very possible do they? Up front, leaning against the piano, is Mr. Ed Boltinck, manufacturer and banker from Golconda, Ill. Don't see the missus, as he calls her. Her name is Bebe. They have bedroom Eight if you get close to him, take a gander at that watch he's wearing. I'd like to have one like it."

Ed Boltinck was a nondescript gray-faced man in a gray suit. Russell went on "Capt. McPherson, Mr. Carlton Buttram against the wall, Bedroom One. They're retired," Russell said. "If they ain't, I'll eat them both. They managed to live a long, hard life and now they aim to have some fun if it kills them."

"I guess Mr. and Mrs. Buttram haven't robbed any banks lately," I muttered.

"Don't see the girls," Russell said. "Couple of college girls. They belong with the tourist-class cruise, but they had enough money to take bedroom Three. But there's the captain coming in. That's all of them, Wilde, except for the girls. Up forward, on the right side of the stage, is the captain's table. You'll be there along with all the other deluxe passengers. Just hover around there and maybe the girls will check in."

Russell slid away and approached a brisk man in dark blue and both of them moved up to a small platform. Russell rolled a standard out from the wall and adjusted a microphone to suit the captain's height and then stepped back. The captain went to the microphone.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he roared, "welcome to the Dixie Dandy!" The boat is yours. We're going to have a fine trip down to New Orleans, a lot of fun at Mardi Gras and a wonderful trip back up the river. Agreed, and everybody on the Dixie Dandy intends to have as much fun as you have, including me. And maybe even more."

The captain had more to say about sports and bridge tournaments and gambling on races in the bar before dinner and dancing afterwards and the places we could visit ashore.

I stopped at a wide windowseat just back of the table and rested there. Mr. Russell was busy settling two stewards behind tables with lists to sign up people for shuffleboard and deck tennis and bridge contests. I settled back and began to quarter the big room carefully, trying to get a look at everyone. I wouldn't recognize Stewart from just a brief glimpse of the back of his head. I didn't know him that well. But something would cue me, I felt sure. I searched the crowd slowly.

"What's your rank, Wilde?" Doc Riggs asked softly.

I'd forgotten he was beside me. I glanced down at the dapper little man. "What's that?"

He pursed his thin mouth and cocked his head at me wisely. "Since it's a one-man stalk, you'll be in the detective division. Or would you be one of those dashing G-men we all admire so much?"

"I'm on vacation Doc," I said. "Very well, my young friend," Doc said readily. "Mine not to pry and mine not to keep. He thrust his right hand up and tapped quickly, once, at my ear. "From the rear it is slightly obvious. Take up the chest strap a notch or two. Or carry your left arm back a trifle."

I moved two steps and sat beside him. "What's the pitch this time, Doc?"

"The indecent curiosity of an aged scoundrel," Doc said readily.

"I watched you scanning that roomful of reubens like a thirsty man searches for water in a desert. Need any help?"

I shook my head. "Doc said: 'It would have been a novel experience, assisting a lawful pursuit. I must confess I am more skilled in evasion than in hunting. Yes, it would have been interesting. However... though I must say you are in singularly poor physical condition for a man-hunt.'"

"I'm in fine shape for a vacation, Doc," I said.

"Indeed, yes," Doc agreed. "Well, shall we go and be introduced to the captain, or shall we skulk here until we're dragged out by the ears?"

I followed Doc's glance and saw Russell signalling to us from the other side of the table. By then he had managed most of his introductions. Doc Riggs and I were the last to join our table partners.

"Mr. Riggs and Mr. Wilde, sir," he said to the captain. "Capt. Jellicoe, gentlemen."

The captain shook our hands. "Pleasure, gentlemen, a real pleasure," he said.

I glanced along the table and saw Miss Pomeroy's eyes on me and she didn't look away when I found her. She sat tall and straight and her eyes were puzzled and lovely. Then I heard what the captain was saying and saying in a tone designed to carry distinction and meaning through a heavy gauntlet.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

A modern kitchen is so dear to a woman's heart that many new houses are sold in the kitchen. The builders install an array of the latest equipment—dishwasher, automatic range, refrigerator, sleek cabinets, and a spectacular sweep of seamless colorful countertops. Well, what chance does a mere man have to examine construction while his wife is in a daze in that kitchen?

Take heart, men, if you're handy. You can give the little lady a kitchen like that in your own house and keep her in love with the place and with you. Of course, it takes a little doing and a little wherewithal, but it can be a lot cheaper than buying a new house in order to get a new kitchen.

You probably know fellows who built their own knotty pine kitchen cabinets and had them turn out fine. If such cabinet work is beyond you, consider steel kitchen cabinets already enameled as slack as a refrigerator. She doesn't like white? Spray paint them, as you would paint your car, or take them to an auto body works and have them sprayed marine-cherry or mountain sea shell, or whatever color she must have.

We happen to know a couple of men who installed their own mail order dishwashers. Their local plumbing supply houses helped them out with an assortment of couplings, unions, elbows and other fittings giving them credit for what they didn't need. This is a do-it-yourself age, you know.

But when it comes to those smart plastic countertops, you may feel stumped. It's an expensive job to have them fitted tightly around the sink and trimmed with caroms around all edges. You've been told, perhaps, that you can do it, but you wonder about the hazards involved.

Most of the plastic laminates used for these modern countertops are rigid sheets which you cement to a plywood underlayment. The plywood surface is sanded

NEW THIN plastic covering for countertops is curved to make it lie flat under tension from metal trim.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high luster, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Belk-Tyler's on the third floor.

Lancaster as star, and Hecht, as producer, receive no salaries. Their take comes from the profits. An independent makes pictures much less expensively than a major studio because overhead is so much less. The overhead charged against "Apache" is less than 4 per cent of the total cost. Major studios, with so many more and greater continuing costs, charge from 25 to 50 per cent for overhead. The average is 40.

FROZEN MOTION—An electronic flash puts the spotlight on 1-500th of a second on Gaby Monet, leading dancer in a current Broadway show. New York photographer Red Bascome, who made the picture, has a full time specialty in speedlight dance photos.

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Old man sun, practically in full stride in his summer chore as the photographers' light source, isn't going to approve the timing but here's a new book on electronic flash. Actually, "Strobe, the Lively Light" by Howard Luray is a revised second edition, published by Camera Craft, San Francisco. It's been four years since the first edition and in that time electronic flash has come to practical maturity and become an everyday tool for countless photographers.

Improvements and new developments are still being made in the field but mainly in the specific direction of lighter and more economical portable units. However, Mr. Luray has done an excellent and authoritative job of explaining just what electronic flash is how it works and how you can make better pictures with it today.

He points out these advantages from any good unit now on the market:

1. It will stop almost any action sharp and clear because it utilizes a light of such short duration.
2. Camera movement ceases to be a problem.
3. A light output equal to a normal flashbulb in portable units. Studio outfits have correspondingly greater light intensities.
4. A light of high actinic quality, beautifully suited to daylight color films.
5. A soft light, though penetrating, with less tendency to burn up foregrounds than is typical of flashbulbs.
6. A convenience over changing flashbulbs for every shot.
7. Operating costs of a cent or less per flash.
8. An easy-on-the-light source for the subjects and the photographer.
9. Simple testing for synchronization. Can be done by eye in a minute.

Before anyone else hollers, Mr. Luray also points out the disadvantages:

1. Initial cost of a well-made speedlight is high. Consistent users of flashbulbs in quantity, however, can write off the cost fairly quickly.
2. Light output is still in proportion to weight and bulk. The more portable the unit, the less light or number of flashes available.
3. Greater possibilities of something going haywire with an electronic unit than with flash equipment, because it is more complex. There's also less chance of an amateur's adjusting it personally. The best solution is to get a reliable unit with a good company behind it. Then take as good care of your equipment as you do a good camera.
4. Since it is a different type of light source, some experimentation is necessary.
5. Speedlights can be used with focal plane shutters only at open flash and a limited range of slow curtain speeds.

Practically all cameras reaching the market today, if they are synchronized at all, are marked with "X" type synchronization also which is for electronic flash. The only exceptions are the inexpensive type cameras with simple flash units.

This trend is sure to accelerate as the development of electronic flash units moves toward lighter, more compact, safer and more economical equipment. Perhaps the day will come when these speedlight improvements will make Mr. Sun hide his head. In that case, it will matter no longer for everybody will have an electronic flash on his camera.

Jaycees Host To Little Leaguers

A baseball game, a supper, a program and a square dance are on tap for members of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, their wives and members of Jaycees' Little League Baseball team Thursday evening at Elm Street Park.

The event is the annual supper honoring the local Jaycees Little Leaguers, who this year finished second in the North State League Standings. The team was coached this year by Marshall Tatum.

Activities will begin at 5:30 p.m. Thursday with a baseball game between the Little Leaguers and the Jaycees.

Following the game there will be a supper - hamburger and all the trimmings.

After this supper there will be a program for the Little Leaguers which will be followed by a square dance, the final event of the evening's entertainment.

Jaycee C. E. "Polly" Williams is in charge of arrangements for the evening. Warren Carroll, Don Calloway and J. D. Parker are on the committee assisting Williams.

There are 13 players on this year's Jaycee Little League team.

Young Firebug Is Detained Second Time For Arson

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy, recently released from Juvenile Hall after a year's detention for arson, is back in custody after setting another fire.

Police said he caused nearly $600,000 damage in 15 fires last year. They included a $250,000 lumber yard blaze and a $300,000 warehouse fire. A condition of his release was that he have 24-hour supervision at home.

Lt. Stanley Pageot, head of the police juvenile bureau, said the latest fire was set during an absence of less than 10 minutes. He said the boy soaked papers in oil and ignited them in a guinea pig cage near a pet shop. A passer-by extinguished the flames before the animals were injured.

The boy said his pet a ring-necked dove, died while being cared for in the shop while he was at Juvenile Hall.

Excellent Leaf Crop Expected In This Section

The effect of abundant rains on the tobacco crop in this section during the month of July has been "most gratifying," reports W. L. Whedbee, supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

Whedbee reports plants have experienced a normal healthy growth, attaining a normal height and spread.

"Tops have filled out nicely, and with the proper seasons from now on this promises to be one of the best crops ever grown in this tobacco producing section," the supervisor said.

Curings coming from the barns show nice quality, with plenty of color and grain, according to the report. An overall picture at this time of the tobacco crop in this section this year is for "a crop of good quality, with a poundage approximately the same as last year's."

Weather conditions prevailing over the section of eastern North Carolina from which the Greenville Tobacco Market draws tobacco for its auction sales, during the month of July have been as follows:

A relatively dry June was followed by abundant rains during the month of July.

Intermittent showers during the first part of July were followed by general ground soaking rains on July 9-11, and another general ground soaking rain of three inches on July 15.

This heavy rainfall has been followed by continued intermittent showers on July 16, 19, 20, 21, and 22.

Took Every Cent

PEVELY, Mo. (AP)—The Bank of Pevely had to make arrangements to get money from a St. Louis bank so it could open today. Two robbers made off with every cent in the bank yesterday.

They took $40,174, bank officials said.

"The first I knew about it was when one of the men climbed over the top of the tellers' cage — about eight feet high — and looked into the loan department," said William A. Weber, 38, the cashier.

Weber and four other employees were ordered into a vault, but the robbers left the door partially open to give them air.

The escape car was found abandoned on a country road 3 1/2 miles from this community of 300 about 25 miles south of St. Louis.

The member and his buddy who is responsible for him will be hall into "Buddy Court" for trial. Grady Dixon appointed Hal Edwards (originator of the plan) "judge." Bob Booth is "prosecuting attorney" and a "jury of three" Rotarians will "vote 'em guilty" or "vote 'em not guilty." Edwards appointed a "buddy" for each member of the club.

The district governor of Rotary is expected to visit the club next Friday night.

Offer Guide On Medical Fees

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—The Norfolk County Medical Society advises its physician-members in its current medical news publication how to arrive at a fair fee for all patients.

It emphasized, "The fee should have no bearing whatsoever on the physician's need or lack of money or the patient's willingness to overpay."

The article said: "If the very wealthy wish to throw their weight around, the physician should consider what he might lose in prestige by accepting an honorarium in excess of the established fee."

Found Swallowed Needle In Foot

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A physician removed an inch-long needle yesterday from the right foot of Guy J. Gilbert, 83.

Gilbert recalled he accidentally swallowed the needle 76 years ago in Angola, Ind. About six months ago he began feeling a dull ache in the foot.

Competitive Fight For Business In 'Dog Days'

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Competition is sharpening up in the dog days. Business management is getting in some of its heaviest licks now, fighting for the most favorable position possible in the fall.

The year of the "hard sell" is bringing no-quarter battles within industries, and between industries. It's back of many of the mergers of the day. It leads to pleas to Congress for relief from some forms of competition and to federal regulatory agencies for bans on "unfair" competition.

Capacity to produce more than the present market needs lights the fire under most of the competition for the consumer's dollar.

The auto, steel, oil, textile television industries are examples. Battles over competing ways of doing things are another phase. Examples are: the struggle of bottles, cans and cartons for food and beverage distribution; and the attempt of the railroads to compete with trucks by carrying truck-trailers piggy-back on flat cars.

To-the-death competition in the auto industry has led to three mergers among the smaller companies and to talk of still more combining to come. One aim was to strengthen the dealer setups of the merged companies, since dealer systems are the backbone of sales.

The dealers themselves have been in bitter competition. The cries over "bootlegging" of new cars at used car prices were carried all the way to the U.S. Department of Justice.

In the oil industry, competition has been somewhat tempered by the state regulation of output. But the small companies and the large ones without oil fields in the better lands are protesting at the better competitive situation of the oil giants with foreign oil to import. As long as the domestic oil industry has overcapacity to face, the fight over oil imports can only grow in bitterness.

Tariff battles are heightened also by growing competition in other industries. In the postwar years the "easy sell" of the tariff question was left alone. Now the demand for protection increases in proportion to the stepup in competition for the consumer's dollar.

Steel merger rumors also seem to stem back to the increasing competition in that industry. The bigger, diversified companies have the best competitive position for sales and profits now that the industry as a whole is operating at only about two thirds of capacity.

In textiles competition between the various natural and man-made fibres is getting stiffer. At the same time, overcapacity and falling sales have sparked merger moves to get companies in better position for the race for markets this summer and fall.

Television set makers are in a price-cutting battle. At the station level the fight is between the ultra high frequency and the very high frequency outlets.

It all makes the consumer look pretty well off.

Young Firebug Is Detained Second Time For Arson

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy, recently released from Juvenile Hall after a year's detention for arson, is back in custody after setting another fire.

Police said he caused nearly $600,000 damage in 15 fires last year. They included a $250,000 lumber yard blaze and a $300,000 warehouse fire. A condition of his release was that he have 24-hour supervision at home.

Lt. Stanley Pageot, head of the police juvenile bureau, said the latest fire was set during an absence of less than 10 minutes. He said the boy soaked papers in oil and ignited them in a guinea pig cage near a pet shop. A passer-by extinguished the flames before the animals were injured.

The boy said his pet a ring-necked dove, died while being cared for in the shop while he was at Juvenile Hall.

What PCA Can Do For You

Here is Miss J. H. She's obviously lovely. But just see how those conventional plastic glasses frames make her broad nose look even broader! Now look at the other picture (right.) See how much more beautiful Miss J. H. is in her new P.C.A. frames from RIDGEWAY'S OPTICIANS. Nothing short of plastic surgery except these exciting new P.C.A. specially designed frames could effect so flattering a transformation. See for yourself! By placing just the right amount of ornamentation on the brow line and temples creates an illusion of slimmest at the bridge of the nose. Hence interest is diverted away from the broad nose. This is only one of the many principals which RIDGEWAY'S OPTICIANS use when they give you a Prosopic Chromatic Analysis.

By means of scientific charts, they analyze the shape of your face and features and prescribe a glasses frame which will actually make you more beautiful with glasses than you were without them. How is this possible you ask? It's possible because RIDGEWAY'S play up your good features and camouflage or play down your poor ones. If you wear glasses all or even part of the time you want to be as pretty as possible, so visit RIDGEWAY'S and let them suggest the frame best suited to your face and features. The Tura P.C.A. frames are simply lovely. There is a wide selection of colors and shapes, and the frames are made from Turlam—a metal developed during World War II. It's light as can be, and yet is stronger than any frame previously known. All the Tura frames have a rare and lustrous beauty. The colors range from pink to cherry red, with blue, mauve, black, green, and others. Go to RIDGEWAY'S this week and get full information on Prosopic Analysis.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was slightly higher on balance today although considerable irregularity occurred in several key sections.

Gains and losses went to around 2 points at the most with the plus signs predominating.

Trading was brisk throughout and the pace was well ahead of yesterday's 2,690,000 shares.

The shares of domestic watch makers were strong after President Eisenhower approved a 50 per cent boost in tariffs on imported watches.

Railroads provided the backbone of improvement in the list, and trading in the carriers was extensive. Oils were ahead.

Steels, which with the rails helped to boost yesterday's market ahead, were ragged today, and minus signs cropped up among recent leaders in the aircrafts, motors, chemicals, and electrical equipments.

Among key stocks going up were U. S. Steel American Telephone, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil (N. J.), Allied Chemical, North American Aviation, Vanadium, General Dynamics, and Pullman.

Westinghouse Electric sold off sharply right after reporting all-time record first half sales and a 27 per cent increase in profits. U. S. Steel, yesterday's most active issue up 1/4, started today on a block of 6,000 shares up 3/4 at 55 1/2.

Disease Strikes Eyes Of Triplets

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — An incurable eye disease has left two 8-month-old triplet girls blind and the third sightless in one eye.

The children are Anita Sue, Janet Kay and Debora Lynn Price, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Price of Flint.

The triplets each weighed less than three pounds at birth—last Nov. 25. Their mother only recently noticed Debora and Janet were blind. Mrs. Price told doctors the girls didn't reach for things like other children do.

Specialists at University Hospital in Ann Arbor said the triplets were suffering from retrolental fibroplasia. They said the disease attacks underweight children particularly.

The President told the Assembly that democracy endangers itself by permitting groups directed by foreign powers to prosper.

Salvation Army Board Appoints Four Committees

A division of work among members of the Advisory Board of The Salvation Army in Greenville was approved at the quarterly session of the board Tuesday afternoon, and four committees were named to work with post officers in the matters involved.

Chairman James W. Butler of the advisory board announced the appointment of the committees on property, youth activities and Christmas opportunities, and the board approved the creation of the executive committee to represent the full board on business requiring attention between board meetings.

Attention was directed to the National Salvation Army Week from November 28 through December 5, and plans were discussed for local participation in this nation-wide event.

Appointment of the committees made by Chairman Butler and approved by the board included:

Building and Property; J. Hicks Corey, chairman, Elbert Bennett, and William H. Watson; Youth Activities; Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson and Mrs. Cora S. Powell, co-chairmen, and Mrs. J. H. B. Moore; Christmas Opportunities; T. Y. Walker, chairman, B. D. Johnston, R. V. Keel;

Lt. Lewis reported an increase in transients and calls upon The Salvation Army for this service — meals and lodging — and said he and his staff are working diligently to meet the demands for the services of his organization.

President Increases Tariff On Watches

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has raised the tariff on many watches manufactured abroad but a spokesman for U.S. watchmakers says most Americans will still buy Swiss imports.

The President's decision nonetheless was received with pleasure by the domestic industry and criticized after other quarters.

Swiss Minister Charles Bruggmann said it dealt a "serious blow" to his country's relations with the United States. He said the step hadn't been anticipated from a friendly government.

Eisenhower announced the first major tariff boost of his administration late yesterday. Effective today except on shipments already in transit and cleared through customs by Aug. 26, it hikes the duty as much as 50 per cent on watches with no jewels or no more than 17 jewels.

The effect will be to raise imported watch prices $3.50 to $5. The Federal Tariff Commission had recommended the increase. It said heavy imports were hurting the American industry.

The White House said raising tariffs also would keep the industry in shape to produce watch movements and other precision devices "necessary for national defense."

Paul F. Mickey, vice president of the American Watch Manufacturers Assn. said the tariff increase gives American producers "a chance to survive" in the face of a flood of Swiss watches that has "literally strangled our industry."

He said the boost still wouldn't equalize costs and predicted Swiss imports "will continue to supply the majority of the American market."

On the other hand, CIO President Walter Reuther labeled the move "tragic" and said it would antagonize "countries whose friendship we seek."

Truck Damaged In Turning Over

A government pick-up truck went out of control and turned up on its side this morning about eight miles from Greenville on highway 903.

Patrolman James Boykin, who investigated the accident along with Cpl. Carl Whitfield, identified the driver of the truck as Harold Moffit Flanagan, 19, of 211 W. Church St., Farmville. The truck is owned by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine office in Goldsboro.

Boykin said the truck left the road, skidded approximately 34 yards and turned over on its side. There were no injuries, he said. The investigation is incomplete.

Swartz Inquires Plans Of Municipal Utilities

Martin Swartz, a member of the North Carolina Utilities Consulting Board, recently asked the various North Carolina municipalities "What Is Our Fate?"

Swartz, consultant to the local Utilities Commission, asked this question as a member of the State Consulting Board, which is a representative of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

In the letter sent to the various municipalities Swartz asked, "What is to be the fate of our municipalities? Will we expand our water, sewer and electric systems to meet the rapid growing needs of our people for more and more service?"

"Many of us who have been associated with the municipal utilities program for several years are convinced that unless we become more interested in a planning program for the expansion of our utilities to meet the growth and the increased demands for service, there is a real danger of our utilities to start withering away, which will immediately slow down our growth and prosperity."

"This means," Swartz continues, "that our utilities must not only be adequate to meet our present demands, but we must set up a program for the expansion of our distribution systems and increase the capacity of our water and sewer plants and our electrical supply to meet another 100 percent increase in demand by 1960."

"To meet this demand, we should make an adequate study of our distribution systems and plants, setting up a program for expansion each year as needed and necessary to give the very best service possible to our people."

"What is your status today?" he concludes.

Sixty Musicians Giving Concert

The newly formed Community Band will give its first concert tonight at Elm Street Park at 7:30.

The group of 60 musicians, consisting of local businessmen, college and high school students, is directed by James E. Rodgers and sponsored by the Recreation Department.

On tonight's program will be "mostly march music, with two or three concert selections," Rodgers said.

The Community Band was organized to give musicians an opportunity to participate in a musical organization during the summer months.

This is the first, such project undertaken by the Recreation Department, which urges all those "who like good band music" to come out to the informal concert.
