Branch of A.A.U.W. Is Organized In Havelock

Mrs. Robert Lee Humber of Greenville met in Havelock Thursday, August 19, at 10:30 with local women eligible for and interested in the formation of a branch of the American Association of University Women. On the occasion of this visit, Mrs. Humber was entertained at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Carl S. Hagar.

Miss Charlotte Stevenson was elected temporary chairman, and a nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. L. D. Williams, chairman, and Mrs. A. H. Martin and Mrs. Jerrold D. Wilson. A committee on by-laws was appointed with Mrs. S. D. Craig Jr. as chairman, Mrs. Robert W. Rynerson and Mrs. Harold R. Still serving with her. Recognition will be sought of the North Carolina Division before September 11, the date of the annual meeting, and subsequently from National Headquarters of the Association at 1634 Eye Street, Washington. Plans were made to secure a speaker for the observation of United Nations day October 24, with appropriate program.

Mrs. Humber presented with enthusiasm the American Association of University Women's study-action program, based on a study of problems confronting members as individuals or as citizens, then action on the basis of study. She suggested a program on a level to challenge college-trained minds, offering opportunities to widen personal horizons, help in building better communities, and to contribute toward the intelligent solution of national and international problems. Mrs. Humber expressed herself as delighted with the composition of the group which met together, representing women trained in accredited schools from all over the nation, and she herself was educated at the University of Paris. It was agreed that this organization would mean much to women connected with the services, who moved about over the country, as membership could be transferred to any new locality.

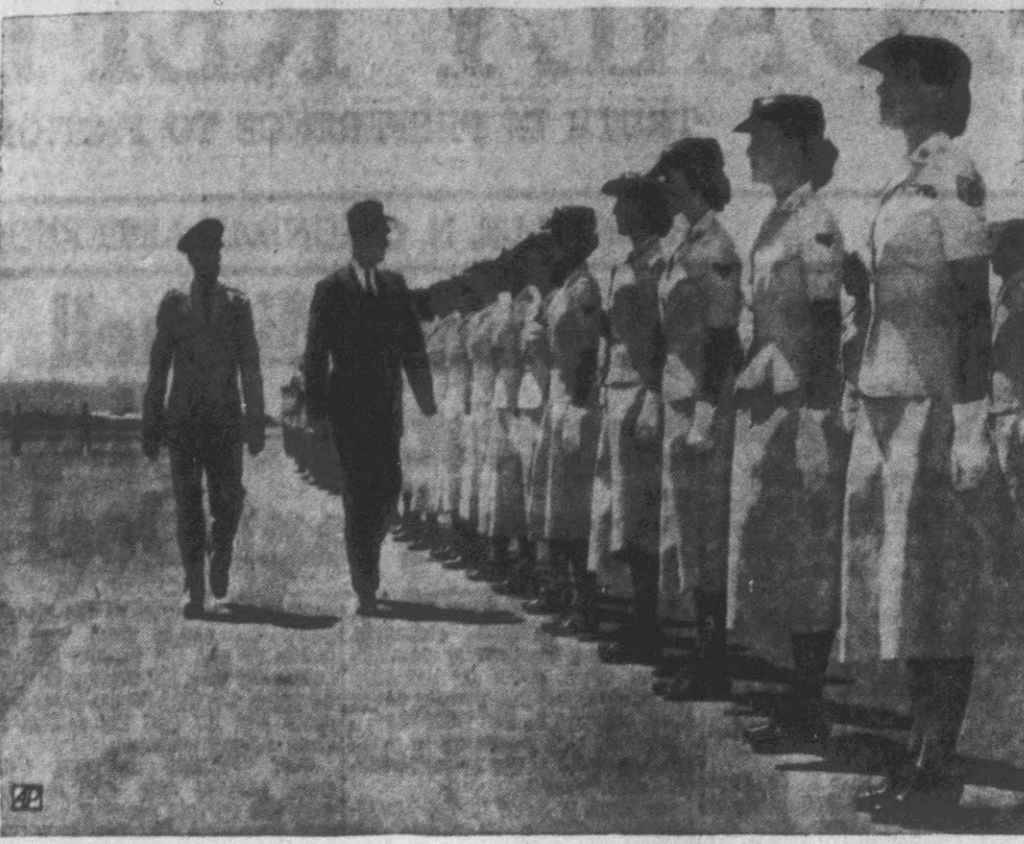

The meeting adjourned to meet Sept. 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Larry D. Williams, 115 Kenneth Boulevard, Havelock.

Evangelist Billy Graham Opens Nashville Crusade

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham has opened his first crusade here since returning from a successful European campaign and the largest crowd ever to attend a religious meeting here greeted the former North Carolina farm boy.

"Only a return to God will prevent World War III," Graham told a crowd of 25,000 at Vanderbilt University's football stadium last night.

Graham, seemingly tireless although still underweight after a kidney stone operation and a round with influenza, told his listeners, "There is no short cut to spiritual awakening."

"It is going to take prayer . . . I am nothing but a messenger . . . a Western Union boy to deliver a message from God to the people," he said.

After the meeting, first of a month-long series since his return to the United States in July, Graham and Gov. Frank Clement left together. The governor interrupted a 10-day vacation to fly back to Nashville yesterday and present the state's welcome.

This was the evangelist's second visit to Nashville. The Montreal, N.C. churchman addressed a joint session of the Tennessee Legislature in January 1953, while in the state for a revival meeting in Chattanooga.

A special $30,000 lighting system was installed at the stadium where Graham will speak on Sunday afternoons and nightly except Monday.

days. A choir of 2,000 voices from Nashville's churches was organized and at least 1,000 singers will be on hand for each meeting.

The evangelist told his audience, "Today there is a choice between Christ and your own selfish nature."

"A choice between two destinies—heaven and hell. The choice is urgent. There is no solution outside Christ."

In the crusade's first meeting, 143 marched out of the stadium to be converted. They professed their faith at the close of the sermon and Graham met informally with them after the meeting adjourned.

Jarvis Memorial Church Scene Of Haymes-McMullan Wedding

Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church was the scene Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Edwina McMullan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Geer McMullan of Greenville, and Virginius Wilkins Haymes, son of Mr. William Beverly Haymes of Greenville, and the late Mrs. Haymes.

The Rev. W. M. Howard officiated at the double ring rites. Prior to the ceremony, Miss Janet Watson, organist, and Miss Barbara White, soloist, presented a program of wedding music. Among the selections played by Miss Watson were "Clair de Lune," "Schubert Serenade," "Meditation From Thais," "Leibestraum" and "Evening Star." "Ave Maria" was played softly during the ceremony. Miss White sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," "Through the Years," and as a benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

For the wedding the church was decorated with seven-branched wrought iron candelabra holding lighted white cathedral candles, sprays of Contie and lace fern, with bridal flowers of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums in wrought iron baskets. Lace fern decorated the altar rail. The pews were marked with ties of white satin ribbon, the family pews being distinguished by garlands of white flowers and fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of imported white nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a wide portrait neckline edged in dainty French lace, and a basque bodice of tulle and rows of dainty lace with tiny cap sleeves with matching mitts ending in wedding points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle banded by rows of French lace swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a lace off-the-face bonnet. She wore a matching off-the-face bonnet, and carried a nosegay of various summer flowers fastened with lilac satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Helen Terry Flanagan, Miss Frances Estelle Greene, Miss Martha Emily Moyer Hadley, Miss Shirley Ann Saleed, Miss Helen Stokes and Mrs. J. K. Higgs, all of Greenville. Their dresses and hats of turquoise were fashioned similar to those of the matron of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of rose carnations and tulle tied with rose and turquoise tulle and satin.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Penny Hartman of Lincolnton, Miss Joan Hill of Augusta, Ga., Miss JoAnn Timberlake of Greenville, and Miss JoAnn Wilson of Rocky Point. They wore floor-length evening dresses in pastel shades and white carnation corsages.

Best man for the bridegroom was Henry A. White of Greenville. Ushers were Eugene Wilson Ayers, James Richard Dillingham, Sidney E. Briley Jr., Max Ray Joyner, Walter Glenn Scott Jr., all of Greenville, and Thomas Blount Sumner Jr. of Hertford, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McMullan chose a dinner dress of mauve chantilly lace over taffeta featuring a "V" neckline outlined in cartledge pleats, an empire line bodice and elbow length sleeves. She wore a mauve half hat of velvet outlined in tiny velvet flowers and matching accessories. Her corsage was a lavender orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church parlor.

Mrs. Jack R. Edwards and Mrs. M. T. Simpson greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line.

Baskets of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums formed the background for the refreshment table which was laid with a Nile green organdy cloth over satin and decorated with an arrangement of white fuji mums and asters flanked by white tapers in crystal holders tied with orange blossoms. Greenery interspersed with orange blossoms was arranged around the crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. W. G. Wright and Mrs. T. B. Sumner of Hertford, aunts of the bride, served punch and bridal cakes, while the guests served themselves to a variety of bridal mints and nuts. Honorary bridesmaids assisted in serving.

said to Mrs. Jesse B. Jordan and Mrs. R. D. Bass.

This medal, in recognition of outstanding philanthropic service, has been conferred on only three foreign women, Dr. Parmelee, Miss Emilie Williams, R. N., a Swiss nurse who has done much anti-tuberculosis work in Greece. Ruth A. Parmelee, who was born in Trebizond, Turkey, of missionary parents, speaks Armenian, Turkish and Greek fluently, the latter so well that she has written in Greek simplified textbooks on psychology for the use of Greek nurses. A graduate of Oberlin College (1907, honorary D. Sc., 1943); the University of Illinois (M. D., 1912), Dr. Parmelee interned in the Philadelphia Woman's Hospital. In 1943 she earned her Master of Public Health degree at Harvard University. Her career of 40 years in the Near East has been a series of crises, including war, refugee work, D. P.'s and reconstruction. During World War I and subsequent postwar years until 1922, Dr. Parmelee pioneered as the first woman physician to settle in the Euphrates River Valley where she practiced medicine among the Turkish people, specializing in obstetrics, the training of nurses and the care of orphans.

The park opposite the cottage of Mrs. Judson Blount at Lake Junaluska was the scene of much merriment last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Mesdames N. I. Winslow, John Hassell, Walter Patton and Judson Blount entertained the Greenville party consisting of Mrs. Hortense F. Moyer, James and Clara Louise Moyer, Mrs. C. J. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Best and little Miss Mabel Glenn Best. The party was an ideal Junaluska affair. A big bonfire and all kinds of camp "fare" made it most attractive.

The Greenville party is having a most enjoyable time at Junaluska. They made the trip by automobile and had a pleasant time enroute to the mountains.

N. C. Development Is Paying Off

North Carolina showed a healthy gain in per capita income during 1953; but the rank of the state in this field still demands stress upon agricultural and industrial diversification, and the attraction of more industry to North Carolina.

For 1953, the per capita of North Carolina increased $39 to give the state a per capita income of $1,097. The increase enabled the state to regain 44th place among the states in per capita income, and to some degree at least remove the embarrassment of South Carolina's ranking above us in per capita income for 1952.

The impact of industrial expansion upon North Carolina is reflected in part in the increase in per capita income which was among the highest in the Southern states.

South Carolina, for example, showed an increase of only $7 in per capita income over its 1952 figure.

In spite of the healthy growth in this field in North Carolina during the past year, we doubt citizens of this state will

War Of Nerves Is Increasing In Tempo

The war of nerves in the Far East is increasing its tempo as Peiping continues to repeat its demands for an invasion of Formosa and the obliteration of the Chinese Nationalist government which holds the island fortress.

In the meantime, the United States has asserted any invasion of Formosa will have to be over the battered hulls of the American Seventh Fleet which has formed a protective buffer between the Chinese communist mainland and the Nationalist island.

Formosa is important to the United States and the free world. So were Korea and Indochina. We have the feeling, however, the United States will take a firmer stand in the Formosa situation than it did either in Korea or Indochina where our allies felt it expedient to negotiate with the Reds.

WHY TURN TO GOD?
If people are really turning to religion today as many claim they are, it might be well for us to ask ourselves why are they doing so?
Many contend that humanity is being driven to religion because of the mess in which it finds itself. We have had many changes of folk ways within the present century. The impact of two world wars has increased the turbulence long ago begun, so that we now find ourselves tossed back and forth on a stormy sea. Under such conditions we would expect humanity to turn to religion. Such a motive is not altogether wrong but it is, however, far from being adequate; for if we turn to God only because we are in a bad fix, then we are liable, as soon as our trouble passes, to turn back to the world again.

The only lasting motive leading men and women to seek after God with such a passion that they finally find Him is the realization that they are being sought after by God Himself. The gracious invitation of God remains forever the central message of true religion. We may want God and seek after Him and strive to please Him. This is good, but it is not adequate. It is only when we realize that the tunnel is being driven from the other side of the mountain also and that God is seeking after us, that we can redouble our efforts and thrust aside all thoughts of cost and press on to keep our rendezvous with the Divine.

Demo Congressional Platform

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—The Democrats will ask the voters to give them control of the next Congress in the November elections on the ground that they have fought for the "little people's welfare," whereas they maintain that the Eisenhower Administration and its Capitol Hill majority have served big business and industry in accord with the Republicans' historic policies and philosophy.

Although he rarely indulges in political forecasts, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democrats' able Senate leader, predicts that his party will win both House and Senate because of the popular response to this humanitarian appeal.

RECORD OF RESPONSIBILITY—"The Democratic Party," he says, "has established a record of which every Democrat can be proud during the 83rd Congress. It is a record of responsibility—a record of genuine concern for the welfare of all of our people instead of the welfare of a few special groups."

"The Democrats in the 83rd Congress can truthfully say that they have sought to protect the interests of farmers, workmen and businessmen without giving undue weight or influence to any one segment of our population. On this basis, I believe the voters in November will return Democratic majorities to both branches of Congress."

JOHNSON'S PLATFORM—Although Senator Johnson is listed as a moderate rather than a politico-economic extremist, he has outlined a platform which ranges the Democrats on the side of the "people" and the Republicans on the side of the "interests."

The Senator's Texas friends cite his own experience as evidence that he has gauged political trends and sentiment correctly. In the 1948 primary, he won by a scant 87 votes.

A few weeks ago, he scored a smashing victory with a 510,000 majority. On the same day, Governor Allan Shivers, an Eisenhower Democrat, was forced into a primary run-off with Ralph W. Yarborough, Austin lawyer and a "regular" Democrat.

states in per capita income. Although industry plays an important part in the economy of the state, North Carolina is still primarily an agricultural state. Statistics show that on a per capita basis, agricultural income is normally about one-half that of non-agriculture.

The progress made by the state in per capita income during 1953 shows the growing industrial consciousness of the state and its many communities is paying off from an economic standpoint. It should also serve to emphasize the need for continued efforts to diversify and expand the industry already in the state, and to bring new industry into the state.

In many respects, North Carolina ranks among the leading states of the nation. In its rank in per capita income, it is much too near the bottom of the list. The Tar Heel state has the potential to raise considerably its standing in per capita income if the people of the state will take advantage of the opportunities which North Carolina presents for further development.

Voters Are Digesting Action Of 83rd Congress

The 83rd Congress is now history, and members of the House and Senate have scurried home to interpret actions in the turbulent legislative session for voters who go to the polls in November.

There will be a great many interpretations of the import of legislation passed by the 83rd Congress between now and November. While the session has made legislative progress, it has been marked by bitter partisan battles, and likely has not measured up to GOP hopes.

Topping the legislative action during the session which has just adjourned were the re-writing of the nation's tax law for the first time in 70 years; the farm bill, atomic energy legislation and the extension of social security benefits.

The tax bill, while it has many good points which will benefit taxpayers, fell short of what Democratic leaders felt was adequate to give the low income bracket people the relief they are entitled to.

The farm bill which carried a modified flexible price support measure was satisfactory neither to the representatives of most of the agricultural regions or the administration which was seeking more flexibility in price supports than Congress allowed.

Spiced by investigations as well as pitched partisan battles, the 83rd Congress has left mixed tastes in the mouths of American people. It will take a while yet for the voters to assimilate the full import of what has been done by Congress, and decide whether the Congress under Republican control measured up to what it should have been.

It is our guess the American voters will decide to turn the control of Congress back over to the Democrats when they go to the polls in November.

Stream Of Rulings

By ELMER ROESSNER
The U.S. Supreme Court, in evidence of its members' great intelligence, adjourns for the summer. But lesser arms — and fingers — of the law keep on writing decisions and rulings.

While these may not have the importance of Supreme Court findings, they do have a certain amount of hot-weather interest.

For instance, a Federal Trade Commission examiner has ruled that a manufacturer may call his margarine "Farm Queen." A complaint had alleged that the name misled the public into thinking that the stuff was a dairy product. The glib public, of course, believes that anything called "farm" comes from cows. So the examiner's ruling will undoubtedly be overturned by the full commission as, indeed, it should.

The Internal Revenue Service has come up with a ruling which, while not as far-reaching as an opinion of Chief Justice Warren, certainly may send echoes reverberating through the corridors of time.

The IRS has solemnly decided that maracas, bongos, castanets and claves are musical instruments. One of these days the IRS, after listening to Spike Jones, is going to rule that bicycle pumps, pistols and water glasses are musical instruments. It may even rule that Spike Jones is a musician.

The revenuers haven't turned critic. They are just saying that the Federal excise tax applies. The IRS also ruled that it is not okay for liquor dealers to paste "Fight Communism" stamps on bottles. The stamps have a picture of the Statue of Liberty and an American flag, the shaft of which transfixes a bleeding serpent. The flag will have to come off, the IRS says, because the law prohibits the use of the flag on liquor bottles. The connection between drinking liquor and fighting Communism was not cleared up.

The Treasury's Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division has ruled that when the phrase "compare the age" is used on liquor labels or in advertising, the age has to be stated clearly.

It is also ruled that advertisement of malt beverages cannot refer to "taste tests." Taste is a matter of individual preference and the results of "tests" are necessarily biased. This thinking is applied to beer and ale but not, apparently to cigarettes.

DARNED TRICKY THOSE CANADIANS
A Toronto publication reports that when an installment cashier, in accepting a payment, notices that the account is almost paid up, she steps on a button.

A dull gong sounds at the front of the store.

Salesmen converge and "the customer gets special attention before he leaves the store."

INCOGNITO LABEL HELD COGNIZABLE
A Boston firm has copyrighted a label featuring the name, "Incognito." It plans to use the label to disguise well-known brands of merchandise sold at lower prices.

It has been successfully used to ready-to-wear departments but will be used on home furnishings later. Store officials say customers are beginning to recognize it as a symbol of quality goods offered at low prices.

LEASING EQUIPMENT, GAINS
The extent to which companies now lease equipment, instead of making capital investments, is indicated by a survey by Mill and Factory.

Of 266 firms responding, 18 per cent said they now lease capital equipment and 12 per cent more said they plan to in the future.

Trend In U.S. Foreign Relations Is Not Encouraging

By ROGER W. BABSON
GLOUCESTER, MASS.—I am disturbed by the recent trend in our foreign relations. Despite the expenditure of billions of dollars abroad in military and economic aid, we have not been having much success in selling America and American ideals to other peoples.

Our foreign relief and rehabilitation programs, including the great Marshall Plan which, together with Point Four, did so much to put Western Europe back on its feet, were good ideas. They stimulated economic activity here at home and they aided countless millions of people in Europe and Asia. But they served also to antagonize some people abroad and to create mistrust.

POOR SALES WORK
In other words, our Government spent much time, effort, and money on a big promotional campaign that almost fizzled.

Why? I think we failed because our official personnel abroad—our salesmen, if you will—did not know exactly what they were selling and did not trouble to ascertain the real needs of the foreign countries which were their "customers." That was not good diplomacy, or good politics, or good business. Although we are a mighty nation, we cannot afford such poor "sales performance."

Our foreign policy has been directed by a number of very capable men. I do not blame them for the fact that it has backfired so often in recent years. They have had hard sledding, with crisis following upon crisis. They improvised, and perhaps did the best they could. Meanwhile, the State Department has provided good berths for generous contributors to political party "war chests."

MORE EFFICIENT FOREIGN SERVICE NEEDED
We need more efficiency and ability in the State Department, and particularly in the conduct of its overseas operations. Next year, Congress should give careful study to effecting improvements. It could provide for recruiting Foreign Service personnel by establishing scholarship training programs somewhat like the one which has worked so well for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps.

An alternate measure would be the founding of a Foreign Service Academy to train men and women especially for overseas service in the diplomatic field. This new academy would be supervised carefully by the Government itself. Its standards would be comparable to those of West Point or Annapolis, which have had great success in their respective fields. Money will not secure promotion in either of these institutions.

INCENTIVES ARE LACKING
While we are waiting for Congress to decide how best to reruit and train Foreign Service officers, something should be done about improving the morale and performance of those who now represent our interests abroad. I am told that the Foreign Service Officer Corps is at the lowest numerical strength in five years—and this at a time when world tensions are very high. Promotions among these men are too uncommon. Few incentives for doing a better job are offered to them.

Men have served in the Foreign Service for as long as 20 years without having passed more than two years of that service in the United States itself. Such a condition of exile is poor policy. These men cannot be effective exponents of the American way of life unless they are given frequent opportunities to come back home. How else are they to obtain really first-hand knowledge of the needs which should shape our national policy?

We have developed a dynamic domestic economy which has met many challenges. We should also have a dynamic foreign policy. Our Frontiers now lie well beyond our shores. There must be a way to attract our best men to work for our interests abroad. We must find that way if we are to preserve our own freedom and get our share of the world's raw materials, of which we stand so much in need. Our national security itself lies in the balance and depends upon more friendly allies.

I forecast that the State Department will be reorganized and operated as carefully as the Army, Navy, or Air Force Departments. No one can become a recognized general or admiral by making a monetary contribution to a political party. Some day, I forecast, the State Department will cease being used to pay off political debts to large party contributors, or to help support lame-duck politicians.

Long Range Projects Being Mapped By Gov. Umstead

By LYNN NISBET
OPTIMISTIC—Governor William Umstead told newsmen at his latest conference that he believes "in years to come the National Park Service will make a beautiful thing out of the Hatteras Seashore National Park." The Governor made his first visit last week to the area beyond Oregon Inlet and was impressed with the potential for developing it into a tourist and vacation attraction that will mean much to the economy of North Carolina.

To date the park service has not accomplished much, except to acquire title to something like half the ultimate acreage and revive some rather crude conservation methods inaugurated by CCC and WPA 20 years ago. The State has built a blacktop road the entire length of Hatteras Island, from Oregon Inlet to Hatteras village. The Carolina-Virginia turnpike authority plans early construction of a toll road southward from Virginia Beach to intersect US-158 just above Kitty Hawk. When that road is built, the Governor predicts, there will be a tremendous increase in motor traffic. With completion of the Croatan sound bridge, affording free outlet to the south and west visitors can easily take the side trip through the Hatteras Seashore Park area and then go on their way.

(Joe DuBoise at Sea Level and his associates in promoting the waterfront highway that would extend US-158 from Nag's Head, across the length of Hatteras and Ocracoke Islands, and join US-70 at Atlantic, insist that completion of their project will make the North Carolina Outer Banks one of the most popular tourist attractions in the country.)

Governor Umstead did not go into discussion of these long range projects, but said he was sufficiently impressed with the evidence of congestion at the Oregon Inlet ferry to ask for official estimates on the cost of constructing additional docks and installation of one or more additional ferry boats—without even inferential commitment.

DEVELOPMENT—The Outer Bankers and Roanoke Islanders have become acutely conscious of the importance of their area since its development began to speed up after the war. They can make out a good case in behalf of further State and Federal spending for parks, roads and bridges which will serve not only the permanent residents of the area but thousands of people from other sections.

The trouble is, there are other places in North Carolina with comparable claims upon the limited ability of the government to provide facilities. Within the past five years there has been something like $5 million of State and Federal funds allocated to that small section for land purchase, highways and bridges—more than half the total for the Croatan Sound Bridge which is slated to be let to contract within a few weeks. Governor Umstead a few days ago allotted $2 million of highway surplus to that project, following an allocation of $750,000 last summer. It is estimated that at least another half million will be required to complete the bridge and adequate approaches.

Meanwhile, the need for more money than can be provided out of regular highway allotments grows more acute every day in the Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point sector, and around Wilmington. In the mountain section there are instances of bottlenecks which discommode traffic almost as much as the inadequate ferries in Dare county.

Furthermore, the demand for express-ways and by-passes in the highly congested central part of the State is growing much faster than facilities can be provided. No one blames the local people in any of these communities for putting on pressure to get their problems solved. The thing to remember is that no section has a monopoly on acute problems—and need for more money than there is.

OFFICE SPACE—The State government itself is in as much distress because of inadequate office space as any community is for lack of roads and bridges.

There is recognized need for larger quarters for the sprawling motor vehicles division, with its ramifying divisions of highway patrol, highway safety, financial responsibility, et cetera.

The Board of Buildings and Grounds is planning to petition the budget commission and the Legislature for a million and a half dollars to construct another office building somewhere in Raleigh—probably on the Old Soldiers Home property in the eastern part of the city.

In that connection George Cherry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has a plaintive story to tell. Since the motor vehicles department through its licensing division collects some $25-$30 million a year for the highway fund, and since its activities are in turn financed out of the highway fund, Cherry thought the new building would be a proper object for some of the highway surplus. Before he could get his request in the shape he wanted it to present to the Governor, who is ex-officio chairman of the B&G board as well as director of the budget, Governor Umstead had allocated all the surplus to other projects.

"The Croatan bridge got my building," quipped Cherry. He was quick to add that he wasn't criticizing anybody, and he was mighty glad the Croatan would be bridged because he knows how badly that is needed—but he still needs more office space for the fast growing State departments and agencies.

A Love Story Hollywood Missed

By REILMAN MORIN
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Since the movie makers seem to be in the middle of an "Egyptian cycle" just now, it is surprising that they have overlooked one of the great love stories of that fascinating land.

It involves a queen, and a mysterious tragedy.

She was the lovely Nefertiti and you doubtless have seen copies of the famous head—the long, arching neck and perfect profile, the wide, almond shaped eyes, all balanced by a massive royal headdress.

In the wall engravings that have survived these 3,000 years, she appears as a slim and beautifully formed woman, almost as tall as her husband, the king. And this is a description of her in the words of some forgotten writer—

"The heires, great in favor, lady of grace, sweet of love, mistress of the south and north, fair of face, gay with the two plumes, chief wife of the king, whom he loves, lady of the two hands, great of love, Nefertiti, living forever and ever."

But in the city where this appears, there is a ruined building that breathes of tragedy. It evidently was her home and it indicates that after perhaps 14 years of perfect marriage, she left the palace and her husband never to return.

Why? Did she quarrel with the king and leave voluntarily? Or was she sent away, blasted by some terrible disgrace? The secret has never been unlocked, but here is the story up to the point where it disappears in voiceless dark.

Her husband, Akhnaton, was an extraordinary man. If you read that excellent book, "The Egyptian," you learned a good deal about him. He is known as the "great heretic."

He broke away from the powerful and established priesthood that had griped Egypt for thousands of years before his day. He introduced the concept of a single deity—an astonishing forerunner of Christianity—eliminated the elements of fear and dread that characterized the old religion.

In short, he abolished the thousand gods and demons of the old ways, and taught his people to worship in a spirit of joy and light. Again, the parallel between these patterns and the Christian concept, which was to appear many centuries later, is almost startling.

Meanwhile, his life with his queen, Nefertiti, must have been a romantic idyll.

The engravings show them in charming poses the king with his arm around her supporting her in a chariot holding her hand as he dispenses gifts the king and queen playing with their daughters.

Then something happened. She left him and went to live in a house on the north side of the royal capital, that he had built.

Nobody knows why.

But there is a theory that in his later years, Akhnaton recoiled from the fearful step he had taken, the rejection of the ancient gods. Perhaps the priests slowly wore him down.

OLD PROMOTER SCENTS OPPORTUNITY IN AUTOS...
"I see you're still in town," the Old Promoter remarked.

"Shouldn't I be?" we asked.

"Everybody else seems to be going to Detroit," he said. "It's the cheap way to get delivery on your new car."

"We know, we know," we said. "You can buy almost any make of car from your local dealer and take delivery at the main plant. The saving of freight is anywhere between $50 and $500, enough to pay for the trip and provide a little vacation as well."

"But have you figured the consequences?" the O.P. persisted. "Detroit hotels are jammed. New nightclubs are opening up every night. It is becoming the biggest vacation spot in the nation. It costs to go to New York or Miami—but it pays to go to Detroit. And soon all the branch assembly plants all over the country will be closing because everybody wants to pick up their cars at manufacturing centers."

"What's your angle?" we asked. "Selling stock in motel companies?"

"Nothing as ambitious as that," he said. "I am merely offering my services to people who have not time to go to Detroit and pick up their new car. For a modest stipend, of course."

CHAPTER ONE

TO BEGIN with, she had no business on that country road at that late hour and she knew it very well. Aunt Maude never worried, enjoying unconventionality herself, but Uncle Elihu had a tiresome sense of responsibility, and Penn was very fond of her uncle by marriage.

She should not have stayed on so long to hear that expatriate Russian talk. His accent had been so thick it had been impossible to understand him, anyway even worse than her own accent and she had only studied Russian eight months. She had tried out a few phrases on the visitor and he had looked at her so blankly she had come away from the class with a sense of futility and a suspicion that the visitor had been some kind of fraud. So she had driven too fast with fog closing in and everything along the crooked road shrouded in mist and darkness.

That was why she did not notice the young soldier changing a tire in the shadow till she was fairly or him. Her brakes screamed and he leaped off balance and fell back sprawling on the edge of the road. Penn's heart stopped for a minute as she brought the big car to a standstill and jumped out. If he lay still she would die!

But he did not lie still. He scrambled up and stalked out into the middle of the road, braced for combat.

"Of all the stupid—" he began savagely. Then in the sideways glow from her headlights he saw her and stopped. "Oh—sorry—" he muttered.

Penn was shaking all over, but she felt a rush of relieved and unreasonable anger.

"It was all your fault! Crouching down here in the dark. How did you expect me to see you?"

He walked a few steps toward her brushing off his clothes. "My fault?" he repeated in a tone of exasperated patience. "Listen, young lady, I was completely off the road—on the left-hand side."

Penn studied the situation incredulously. "You mean—but I couldn't be—anyway, it was so dark and foggy."

"You were heading straight off the road on the wrong side. Yelling at the top of your voice."

"The radio—rise Stevens was singing and I was singing too."

"Have you got an oil can in that car? One of my lugs is rusted and won't turn loose."

"I don't know. It's my aunt's car," she said.

As he started toward her car Penn felt quick panic. He was very tall. He had powerful shoulders. This was a lonely place and by the radio it was already midnight. The keys were still in her car.

"You stay where you are," she ordered. "I'll see if I have an oil can."

"What the devil? All I want is a few drops of oil." He laughed, then sobered and stepped back. "You're right. You've got no business out here so late alone, but I suppose you know that. Never mind. I can get some oil out of my crankcase, maybe. Thank you very much for

"Go home. And stay off dark roads at midnight."

He went back to his car, and Penn drove on, baffled and tingling with fury. It came to her presently that his attitude had changed suddenly when he found out who she was. While she was locking the garage and tiptoeing through the still house, she tried to remember what she had heard about Marsh Nichols, Senior. It was very little, except that once the Nichols had owned this place and Uncle Elihu had acquired it shortly before the Houk twins came east to live with their Aunt Maude.

And what had bust that made Marsh Nichols, Junior, so aloof and resentful?

Body Of Trapped Hero Is Located

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)—A mountain climber trapped in a crevasse by his own heroism was found dead late last night on towering Mt. Olympus.

Doctors said Dr. Anthony Levy, 30, a University of California research biochemist from Berkeley, had been dead about nine hours before his body was reached.

He had been trapped deep in a crevasse at the top of the 7,564-foot peak which stands in the center of Olympic National Park.

Twenty-three National Park Service employees fought their way up the mountain in an attempt to rescue him.

Levy, with four others, were climbing the mountain Saturday when one of the party, Dick Neal of Seattle, slipped into the crevasse breaking a leg in the fall.

Levy volunteered to go down and help get Neal out. The efforts to rescue Neal were successful but Levy, exhausted by his efforts, could not get out himself and attempts by the other three to bring him to the surface failed.

A Jack Aiton, chief of Olympic National Park rangers, said Levy would never survive the intense cold in the crevasse unless he were wearing sufficient warm clothing.

Blame Jealousy In Three Deaths

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Police blamed jealousy for the fatal shooting yesterday of three persons: an 81-year-old husband, his 80-year-old wife and their 73-year-old neighbor.

Detective Capt. Wiley Stem said surviving members of both families blamed the shootings on groundless jealousy.

He said Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Spivey were sitting at their kitchen table when Spivey shot his wife with a pistol. Spivey then called G. B. Darwin, the neighbor, and when he reached the Spivey home, the husband shot him he said. Then Spivey killed himself.

Spivey had been married three times and had 19 children.

Building Shortcuts Used For Speed; Costs Pared

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Builders are cutting corners today to speed factory, office and store construction—and to pare costs.

Here are a few of the new devices and materials that are changing building methods as well as the face of America.

Concrete floor slabs piled like pancakes—then lifted into position by hydraulic jacks.

Sidewalls prefabricated and hung into place by derricks—to cover an entire skyscraper in a matter of hours.

Porcelain-enamel panels fastened onto an old building—for a quick face lifting.

Walls entirely of glass swung into place—leaving special problems for window cleaners.

Prefabrication is getting a big boost these days in the efforts of builders to beat high labor construction costs. Competition is spreading among materials. Steel, aluminum, glass, porcelain are giving brick and stone a race for exterior walls. Plywood and plastics vie with lath and plaster for interior partitions.

Teaming ready-made concrete floors and steel walls can make for a speed operation, according to the Truscon Steel Division of Republic Steel Corp., which has a window-wall unit for sale.

First, reinforced concrete floors are poured on the ground, stacked like flapjacks with a thin layer of talcum-like powder keeping them apart while they dry. Hydraulic jacks raise each in turn to its place on bracketed structural columns. They have to start with the top floor and work down.

Then four-man crews swing Truscon's ready-made glass and steel wall units into place. Each unit has complete exterior and interior wall finishes, with window and insulation built in.

The pour-and-raise floors and window-walls were learned by Clemson College in building a new dormitory on its Clemson, S.C., campus. Truscon says its four-man crews erected 1,400 square feet of wall space, completed inside and out in a day, or in 32 man-hours.

The same units were also used in the United Air Lines office building at Chicago's airport, and Truscon says they will be used in the Oklahoma State Fair's office building.

Builders are also using aluminum panels, die-stamped and prefabricated for enclosing office buildings, stressing the speed with which the exterior walls can be completed.

Glass panels fitted into frames furnish entire walls of some new buildings. They can be bolted quickly into place. A New York bank is raising an "all-glass" banking office building on Fifth Avenue.

The chief problem comes later—cleaning them. Where the glass walls are sealed and fixed, they are cleaned from the outside by cabs or platforms lowered from the roof by mechanisms that are part of the building itself.

In some of the new buildings the glass is put into frames that are pivoted vertically, so that they can be spun around for cleaning from the inside.

For some large skyscrapers, window cleaning is a full-time job—the first window is dirty again by the time the last-one is washed.

Porcelain-enamel faced steel panels are also being used by builders on both new and old structures as an outside finish.

A sturdy but dated building can be given a fresh look Mountain starting Monday. The Highway Commission said the road is undergoing major rebuilding and relocation which will take three to four weeks.

U.S. milk output in June, 1954 was 12,700,000,000 pounds.

Indians Blithely Ignore Prophets Of Collapse, No Signs Of Tapering Off

By ED CORRIGAN

While the American League in general and New York Yankees in particular wait breathlessly for the Cleveland Indians' tepee to collapse, the Tribe blithely ignores the somber warnings of their enemies.

Al Lopez's remarkable Redskins were 5½ games in front of the Yanks today and showing no signs of tapering off in their war on the rest of the league. In fact the Yanks' only chance of winning their sixth straight pennant now is a Cleveland collapse.

The Tribe whipped Baltimore yesterday 12-1 while the Boston Red Sox were putting the crusher on Casey Stengel's outfit 8-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit halted Chicago (the White Sox are out of it) 7-4, and the Philadelphia A's defeated Washington 3-1 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second was called after nine innings because of the Sunday curfew with the score tied 4-4.

In the National League, the New York Giants cemented their claim to the pennant by gaining two games on the Brooklyn Dodgers. They swept a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and 5-3 while the Philadelphia Phillies were crushing the Brooks twice, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Milwaukee Braves, 7½ games off the pace, blasted Chicago 12-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the Cincinnati Reds 9-7.

The Tribe slapped out 20 hits while Early Wynn held the Baltimore club to three in his second innings on the mound. After that Lopez sent in the scrubs.

The Yanks could do nothing right. Only ancient Enos Slaughter was impressive. Ted Williams knocked in the first four Sox runs with a homer and a double. That was all Frank Sullivan needed to hang up his 11th victory and give Boston a sweep of the three-game weekend series. Harry Byrd was the victim.

Detroit jumped on Billy Pierce for four runs in the first two innings and the White Sox never did get back in the game. Frank Bolling drove in three of the Tigers' runs. Billy Hoft was the winner.

Joe DeMaestri drove home the winning run for the A's in the 12th inning of the opener against the Senators to give Charlie Bishop his victory.

The Pirates knocked both the Giants' ace pitchers, Johnny Antonelli and Sal Maglie, out of the box before losing. The Giants had to score twice in the ninth to win the first game. A pinch single by Billy Taylor drove in the winning run after three straight passes and an error forced in the tying marker.

In the nightcap the Pirates chased Maglie in the fifth, and from there on in a brilliant relief job by Hoyt Wilhelm held them in check. He didn't yield a hit in the 4-2-3 innings he toiled.

The Giants now have a bulge of four games over the Dodgers.

A couple of pitchers who have had indifferent success to put it charitably, mowed down the Brooks. Herman Wehmeier, whose record shows six victories and nine defeats, whipped them six and nine, and in fact, had a shoutout until the eighth. In the nightcap, Murry Dickson was nursing a 10-game losing streak until the Phils whitewashed them in the second game. Del Ennis was the Brooks' nemesis. He hit a three-run homer in each game and drove in seven runs. Carl Erskine was the first game victim and Russ Meyer the second, although neither was around at the end.

Bobby Thomson returned to full-time duty with Milwaukee and promptly belted a two-run home run. Brave home run slugger Eddie Mathews left the game after he was hit on the finger. There was no fracture. He'll be out only a few days.

St. Louis' victory over Cincinnati dropped the Redlegs to fifth place. Stan Musial had a pair of doubles in the 13-hit Card attack on five Red pitchers. Al Brazier was the winner.

Ward Is 'Man To Beat' In U.S. Amateur Play

DETROIT (AP) — Harvie Ward, fresh from a triumph in the Canadian Amateur golf championship, figures that no player who isn't adept at every phase of the game of golf can win the 1954 U.S. Amateur championship, opening today at the plush Country Club of Detroit.

Ward, automatically advancing into the role of a favorite on the strength of Saturday's victory over Bill Campbell in the Canadian final, got his first look at the flat 6,875 yard course in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms yesterday.

His verdict, after shooting an approximate par 70, was: "I never saw a course that is such a test of every phase of the game. It calls for good drives, good long irons and good putting."

Nevertheless, the experts rated the personable, bright-eyed San Francisco automobile salesman as one of the players to beat as the field of 200 set out on today's 72 first-round matches in the all-match-play tournament. And most of his rivals reflected Ward's opinion that it's a wide-open tournament that only a top-flight golfer can win.

Former Champion Charlie Coe, who expects an experienced "name" player to come through in Saturday's 36-hole final voiced the opinion that whoever wins will be an "outstanding golfer" because of the course's requirements. And slugging Billy Joe Patton, amateur sensation of the 1954 Masters and Open championship, put in the word that the course, playing "long" because of recent rains, would require greater distance off the tees than Ward can get.

Since Gene Littler, last year's winner, now is a successful professional, there's no one player who can be listed as top favorite. Ward's Canadian triumph would bring him toward the top. He's a player who has rated top consideration for several years, but while he has won the British Amateur title he never has reached the top in his own country.

Patton, off his feats this season, rated the other popular choice, but both he and Ward ran into rugged opposition in today's first round.

Patton's first opponent was Rex Baxter, a smooth-swinger, low scoring 18-year-old from Amarillo, Tex., who won the USGA and Hearst Newspaper Junior tournaments last year and who was low scorer in the sectional qualifying rounds for this tournament. Ward met Hord Hardin, a steady, experienced player from St. Louis.

Filmed Life Of Pee Wee Reese Starts Series To Show Stars As Real Guys

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The thought of sitting through a documentary film based on the life and times of Pee Wee Reese, the Dodger shortstop and captain, was not an overwhelmingly favorable one, if the truth must be told. We figured that, having known the Little Colonel for some 14 years and admired his play all that time, there was no crying need of a refresher course.

But we went along to a private showing along with Pee Wee's wife and mother and young daughter, and are glad that we did. The idea of putting the intimate lives of our almost heroes on film, with authentic background material expertly woven in, is surprisingly effective, as millions of sports fans are due to discover for themselves beginning next spring.

This first one, titled "And This Is Pee Wee Reese," is the first to be completed of 26 similar short subjects which have been in the process of production for a year and a half. They will be seen on the nation's television screens as a weekly program starting with the 1955 baseball season. Each of the 26 will, of course, depict the career from boyhood of a different star.

The producer Emerson Yorke, obviously has sunk a great deal of money into the project. Over 40,000 feet of film, we believe he said, already is in the can. But if what we saw is a fair sample (and Yorke claims they get better as they go along) he doesn't need to worry about setting his money back. Would-be sponsors, he says, are practically fighting each other hand-to-hand.

"This is the first time," Yorke said, "that an honest attempt has been made to bring the ballplayer into the nation's homes, to show him as the human being he is, how he came to be what he is. It is the first film that has been officially sanctioned by Commissioner Ford Frick. I haven't permitted a club publicity man to be present at an interview I've had with the players."

"My agreement with them is that they tell me everything they can about their lives up to now, and that I can use any part of it as I wish to, within reason. You will find as the series goes along that I've left out very little."

Bobby Thomson Returns After 5-Month Layoff

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bobby Thomson, knocked out of action for nearly five months with a fractured ankle, gets his first starting assignment with Milwaukee against Cincinnati tonight.

Encouraged by his performance in Chicago yesterday after appearing as a pinch runner for the injured Eddie Mathews and hitting a home run in his first turn at bat, Thomson said today he expects to play regularly from now on.

The 30-year-old Scot moved to the outfield for the first time this year after his pinch running chore, and his two-run homer in the seventh snapped a 6-6 tie. The Braves went on to defeat the Cubs 12-6.

"The home run gave me a terrific thrill," he said, "almost as great as the one I hit that won the 1951 pennant for the New York Giants. Not so much because it helped win the game, but because it made me feel for the first time like I belonged."

BELVOIR—In a game to decide what team would be in second place in the final Tobacco Belt League standings, Falkland edged Robersonville 3-1 in a ten inning contest played here yesterday.

Paul Jones, former East Carolina

College star, blasted a triple with two men on in the tenth inning to provide the winning margin and also to score the first runs of the game.

The contest was played in Belvoir, a neutral diamond, since both teams ended the regular season play with identical 24-8 records; and were playing the contest to decide who would meet the number four team, Farmville, in the semi-final play-off rounds.

A brilliant pitcher's duel featured the extra-inning contest with Mark Stancill of Falkland pitching hitless ball until an infield single in the seventh inning broke the tie. Falkland got only two hits during the first eight innings off Mac Cherry, Robersonville pitcher.

Only one Robersonville batter reached first base off Stancill during the first six innings and he was out in an attempt to steal second.

Robersonville threatened in the seventh when two men reached base—one by a hit and the other by a walk. Both were stranded.

The first Falkland batter reached base in the fourth when Jones doubled to left field. He was stranded.

One other Robersonville batter got on base in the eighth with the second hit off Stancill, but he, too, was stranded. In the ninth inning Robersonville loaded the bases on two singles and walk. Stancill was replaced at this point by Runt Waters who got out of trouble when Brown filed to rightfield and Falkland rightfielder Billy Webb out the runner down at home with a perfect throw to retire the side.

Falkland, acting as the visiting team, broke the scoreless tie in the tenth when Harvey Strickland opened the inning by getting a walk. Waters struck out, but Webb got on base on the shortstop's error. At this point Jones blasted his long triple over the left fielder's head to score both runners ahead of him. Cotton Webb lined a single through the box to score Jones.

Cherry retired the side when he struck Peck Stokes out and Cotton Webb was caught in an effort to steal second.

Robersonville came back in the bottom of the tenth to score their only run after two men were out. Warren opened the inning with a single, but was out on Forbes' fielder's choice to the pitcher. Stevenson then filed to the pitcher for the second out, but then Waters weakened and walked a pinch hitter.

At this point Ross lined a double to left center to score Forbes with Robersonville's first run. Waters was relieved at this point and pitcher Ken Hall came in to strike out James for the final out and leave the two runners stranded on second and third.

Waters, even though he pitched only one and one-third innings, was credited with the win. The three Falkland pitchers scattered six hits along the ten inning route. Cherry, the loser, also gave up only six hits. Cherry struck out 11 batters. He walked four. Stancill struck out two men and Hall struck out one. Four Robersonville players reached base on walks.

The play-off start this week end with the first place team, Williamston, meeting third place Robersonville at Williamston. On Sunday the teams will meet in Robersonville.

Falkland will play fourth place Farmville in the other half of semi-finals. Both games will be played in Falkland since there is a horse show taking place at the Farmville park.

Redskins Fire Lambeau As Kuharich New Head Coach

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Kuharich, a man who has worked with the Washington Redskins football team for only 33 days, today took over as head coach under a "get tough" policy which resulted in Coach Curly Lambeau's dismissal yesterday.

After the club arrived in Detroit last night for an exhibition game with the Detroit Lions Friday night, Washington General Manager Dick McCann said flatly: "Joe Kuharich is the new coach of the Redskins. That is definite."

McCann said the move was made shortly after Lambeau and fiery George Preston Marshall, Redskin owner had a heated argument in the lobby of a Sacramento, Calif., hotel early yesterday.

Kuharich, 37, is the sixth Redskins coach in eight years. Lambeau did not make the trip to Detroit.

Kuharich said, "I only know that I was told that I am in charge of the team."

Sources close to the team said they believed Marshall was displeased with the "easygoing" approach Lambeau had taken with the club.

"Players like Lambeau because he lets them get into shape the way they see fit," said one source, "and now you can bet they'll really have to hustle."

This is Kuharich's first season with the club. He began work with them July 20 as an assistant line coach. He was head coach of the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 after replacing the University of San Francisco to an undefeated season in 1951.

Lambeau took over in August 1952 when Dick Todd resigned on the night of the Redskins opening game of the season with the Los Angeles Rams. He won five games in 1952 and lost seven. Last year he won six lost five and had one tie.

Farmville Drills As Head Coach Tucker Recovers

Farmville's Red Devils, who have been practicing since Thursday without Head Coach Charles Tucker, have been strengthened by the return of veteran quarterback Mack Holmes.

Holmes, first string quarterback last year, was scheduled to go to a prep school but evidently he has changed his mind and will go to Farmville. Coach Tucker seemed pleased over the news that his number one quarterback was returning after all. Coach Tucker has been highly satisfied with the quarterbacking of his two freshman prizes, Sonny Mall and Johnny Dixon, but a veteran like Holmes would take the worry off the position.

Coach Tucker has been recuperating from an appendectomy in Pitt Memorial Hospital and soon will be out with the players again.

Coach Tucker has been considering moving Fred Thorne from end, where he was an All-Conference performer last year, to a tackle position.

Other good news from the Farmville camp came in that Curtis Worthington, a highly regarded halfback around the conference circles, reported for practice for the first time late last week. Worthington had been on a F.P.A. trip and did not get back until the last of last week. Worthington is supposed to take up some of the slack left when Teddy Allen and Jesse Joyner graduated.

Farmville opens their schedule in Farmville on September 10 against Tarboro. Coach Tucker believes the team will be all ready by then with their two-hour practices every night.

Hunters Report Seasonal Kills

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Fishermen still hold their title for spinning yarns. At least, hunters can't claim it.

A post card poll of hunters conducted under scientific sampling methods by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center showed about 1,750,000 pheasants killed last fall.

The annual voluntary report card system showed only 1,063,000 birds taken.

Researchers say the results dispute the contention that voluntary report cards produce inflated estimates of hunting success.

It was the first time the kill went over the million mark since the early 1940's.

Dancer Retires

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Native Dancer, the great grey champion known as "the people's horse" although owned by a millionaire, is going home to Maryland, his racing days ended.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt reluctantly decided yesterday to retire the powerful 4-year-old colt to stand after the recurrence of an injury to his right forefoot.

The idol of millions, at the tracks and over the television lanes, was to have started in the mile and three quarters Saratoga Cup Friday.

Vanderbilt made his decision suddenly after conferring with trainer Bill Winfrey. The Dancer, winner of 21 of his 22 races, only one week ago ran his last race, passing the 20-out-of-21 record of the great Man O' War, who was retired after his 3-year-old season in 1920.

In a seven furlong "betress" race he ran away from two opponents under 137 pounds, the most he had been asked to pack in his brilliant career.

The Dancer, beaten only when Dark Star won by a head in the 1953 Kentucky Derby, was undefeated during his 2-year-old career of nine races.

G-Men Hold First Scrimmage Drill

Greenville's Phantoms completed their first real scrimmage practice Saturday morning with no one hurt and the coaches were pleased with the way some of the players played.

Coach Kittrell was pleased over the way several of the new younger boys looked against the big boys in scrimmage. Edwin Wilkerson, a promising guard up from the junior varsity, sat the practice out because of a side injury sustained earlier in the week. The extent of the injury has not been determined as of yet but is believed to be only a bruise.

In the first team backfield Coach Kittrell ran Bob Howell at quarterback, Tommy Norris and Mitchell Johnson at halfbacks, and Pete West at fullback.

Only 14 boys reported for practice Saturday morning and the team had to serve half-line scrimmage. Several more boys are expected to be out this week. Captain James Speight has finished his job and will be out today. Joe Taft, a reserve halfback, has returned from the mountains and will be out sometime this week.

The Phantoms are practicing at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 5 in the afternoon at the N.Y.A. center.

Seixas, Trabert Now Prepare For Singles Playoff

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert are preparing for the singles championships at Forest Hills secure in the knowledge they're still the doubles team to beat in the tennis world.

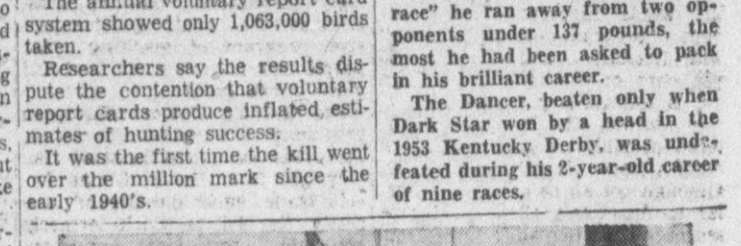

Seixas, the scrappy, court-wise Philadelphia, and Trabert, the "big game" specialist from Cincinnati, playing together for the first time since Wimbledon defeated Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall 3-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-3 in the finals of the National Doubles Tournament.

In the women's final defending champions Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, won their fourth straight title 6-4, 6-4 over Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Orioles Want No Part Of Record

BALTIMORE (AP)—When the Baltimore Orioles inherited what remained of the defunct St. Louis Browns there was one record held by the Browns which they hope will remain interred on the banks of the Mississippi.

That is a mark of 20 straight losses in their home park. The Browns established the record in their last season in the American League, 1953.

Eisenhower Won Three Of Four Big Foreign Aid Battles With Congress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower won three of his big foreign aid battles with Congress. He lost a fourth, which may hamper severely his policies for tightening U. S. relations with Allied countries.

Here is the record:
1. Foreign trade. Eisenhower's major setback Congress balked at the President's program for lowering tariffs to encourage Allied and friendly nations to trade with the United States. Eisenhower succeeded in getting mainly a simple extension for one year of his bill to negotiate tariff-cutting trade treaties but none of the new authority he asked to lower tariffs through such treaties.

Diplomats attached great significance to the record in this issue because American foreign aid programs, aside from military, are rapidly coming to an end and other countries are worrying about where necessary dollars will be obtained.

2. Foreign aid. Congress voted a total of $2,781,000,000 for the current 12 months period—it was around 700 million dollars less than the nearly 3½ billions requested by the President.

Administration officials indicated the cuts were not crippling, however, and would not be interpreted by foreign governments as evidence that the United States was withdrawing into a shell. Other governments constantly look to congressional action for evidence as to whether the legislators are on the whole supporting the President's program of "partnership" with friendly countries. About 80 per cent of the total for foreign aid is for military purposes.

3. Atomic. The President registered possibly his greatest victory on this issue. He gained authority, although not all he asked, to transfer to America's allies in Europe secret information about the effects of atomic weapons and such information as size, weight and shape of these weapons.

Officials said this would enable the United States to bring military thinking of countries like France and Italy out of World War II concepts into the concepts of the atomic age.

The President also won authority to assist cooperating countries like Belgium, which furnishes atomic raw materials to the United States, to build up atomic industry.

4. Bricker amendment. Eisenhower won a tough fight when the Senate declined to go for the constitutional amendment put forward by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to restrict presidential powers to make international agreements.

There was a fifth great issue which never was officially presented to Congress although members spent many an hour making speeches on the subject—how to save Southeast Asia from Communist conquest.

The program of legislation turned out by Congress will have a long-range important bearing on U. S. foreign relations aside from immediate effects.

This is a period of transition in relationships with other countries.

In General the United States is cleaning up eight years of efforts to promote the economic recovery and stability of other countries. Nations like Britain and France are back on their feet—at least to the extent that American dollar grants can get them there. In underdeveloped countries of Asia and Africa, American policy increasingly emphasizes Point Four assistance—the relatively inexpensive program of teaching other people how to grow more food and make more goods.

For the big Western European producing countries and for Japan, the great issue now is this: Can they get from United States foreign trade, either directly or indirectly, the dollars which formerly got into international monetary channels by way of American aid? If they cannot, must they look to Russia and Red China for a greater trade volume or is there sufficient volume among the free nations without an expanded American market?

Insofar as U. S. political policy goes, this comes down to saying that the degree of cooperation, the solidarity of the Western front against Soviet communism will stand in the long run on the foundation of the dollars and cents relationships of buying and selling. That conviction is held in the State Department from top to bottom. It has been reflected from time to time in President Eisenhower's calls for a greater volume of foreign trade.

Foreign governments realize that Congress holds the key to this. What Congress did in the present session will therefore have a far-reaching influence on the plans of Allied and friendly nations.

In the first year of his administration, Eisenhower asked and received from Congress a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program. Looking to the future, he appointed a special commission headed by industrialist Clarence Randall to study the whole problem of foreign trade.

This year, the President took the commission's majority report as a basis for recommendations to Congress aimed at expanding trade.

House leaders resisted and, in the end, the President obtained instead another one-year extension of the trade act. It meant little beyond keeping alive the principle of reducing tariffs by getting reciprocal cuts in tariffs of other countries. As a practical matter, the President's authority to make cuts at home has been practically exhausted through the conclusion of agreements in earlier years.

The President also obtained a modified version of legislation he had asked for simplification of U. S. customs procedures—something that has exercised foreign businessmen and governments for years. But again Congress wrote in requirements which the administration regarded merely as slowing down the whole simplification process.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Willie Snelling, 50, was killed when his car crashed into a utility pole and jolted loose a 1,000-pound transformer which fell from the pole onto his car, crushing him.

Paymaster For Senate Is Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's 45-year-old paymaster, Joseph C. Ellis, shot and wounded his wife yesterday, then killed himself, police reported.

A son, Joseph 17, said he believed his father had overworked during the long Senate sessions before adjournment. As financial clerk, he handled Senate expenses and a payroll for about 2,000 persons.

Ellis and his wife Elizabeth were taken to Emergency Hospital after the shooting in their Northwest Side home. Ellis died a half hour later of a head wound. His wife was shot in the face.

Police said the son gave this account:

Hearing a shot he ran from the basement to the first floor and found his father standing over his bleeding mother, gun in hand. Young Ellis grappled for the gun but the father pulled away and fired one shot into his own head.

Neighbors said there had been no previous indication of trouble in the family.

Trumpeter Swan Makes Comeback

DELTA, Man. (AP)—North America's largest bird, the trumpeter swan — once abundant in Manitoba until people got too fond of hunting it — is making a comeback.

For some 70 years the big white birds have forsaken this part of the country, but their somorous call may soon be heard again over the Manitoba prairie.

The reason for such hopefulness is the recent acquisition of three trumpeters, a mature female and two cygnets by the waterfowl station here.

The swans came via Sexsmith, in the Peace River district of Alberta. When the slough where they were living dried up, farmer A. Tomshak captured two young birds and took them home as pets. One died, but two new ones joined the surviving female.

The Canadian Wildlife Service heard of the birds, acquired them, and brought them here. H. A. Hochbaum, director of the station, hopes to get a mate for the mature female — named Tommy, after her Alberta benefactor. Swans mate for life, and so make their choice with care.

Trumpeters weigh about 40 pounds, and have been known to break a man's arm with a single blow of the wing.

Guard Runs Amok Killing 2 Others

MANILA (AP)—Gun shots echoed through Malacanan government palace yesterday as a presidential guard ran amok, killing two fellow guards and wounding three others.

Pfc. Bartolome Estipular, 25, a former mental patient, shot his comrades with a Garand rifle in the presidential guard battalion barracks on the palace grounds. He then turned the weapon on himself and was reported in critical condition at a hospital.

President Ramon Magsaysay was not at the palace at the time of the shooting.

Movie House Plays Only The Old Films

By BO THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD — Here's one movie house that doesn't worry about converting to Superscope, VistaVision or Cinemascope. It hasn't even tried talkies yet.

The place is called Silent Movies and it is the labor of love for a man named John Hampton. His biggest draws are Clara Bow, Lon Chaney, Em'l Jannings, William S Hart, Harold Lloyd, Mary Pickford, Pearl White, Charlie Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks Sr.

Hampton is a movie-mad Oklahoman who has been running films since he was 13. At that age, his father gave him a full-sized movie projector. Every week he ran silent movies on a sheet in the parlor of his Oklahoma City home with an audience up to 100 kids.

When he grew older, he took jobs with movie exchanges, but his heart was still with the silents. He tried touring small towns with his shows, but the rural folks wanted only to see the new-fangled talkies. He had to seek another climate for health reasons, so he took his operation to Florida. Patrons proved to be seasonal, so he moved here.

On Feb. 25, 1942, he opened the silent movies on Fairfax Avenue near the heart of Hollywood. It was a fateful night. Los Angeles was gripped by the scare of a Japanese bombing attack.

But Hampton managed to keep the place open during the war and has been in business ever since. His wife takes tickets and he runs the projection machine and record player. Also hangs the posters, glues the old film together, redevelops it if fading has set in, etc.

"Our biggest problem is getting the picture," he told me in his work room-apartment over the movie house. "Some of the studios will lend them, and so will those producers and directors who have their old films.

"A lot of them are in bad shape, and I make it a policy of running only whole pictures, not fragments. This can be difficult. I had to piece together five prints of 'Lilies of the Field' before I had a complete five reels. It's the best copy in existence."

"Lillie" was Mack Bennett's first feature, and it starred Chaplin, Marie Dressler, Mabel Normand and Wally Beery in 1912. Hampton runs it almost every year, and it's a big draw. So are "Birth of a Nation" (1914), "Phantom of the Opera" (1925) and "King of Kings" (1927).

Air Force Holds 30 Suspects Of Terror Society

CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Air Force officials announced yesterday that 30 young airmen had been seized as suspected members of a secret youth terrorist society that called "Pachuco."

Col. Grover Wilson, technical training group commander at the base, said the men are in the guardhouse being held for questioning.

He said the questioning concerned "acts of violence and lawlessness ranging from AWOL offenses and marijuana addiction to knife assaults on those who had informed on the gang after signing a pledge in blood to obey 'the laws of Pachuco.'"

The Air Force revealed that Lt. Robert D. Whitley, chief of the juvenile division of the Los Angeles Police Department, flew to Chanutte Friday to aid in the roundup.

Wilson said Whitley briefed air police on how the Pachuco organization operates since he has had experience with similar gangs on the West Coast.

Saturday morning segments of the base's complement of 15,000 airmen were assembled and ordered to strip to the waist. Some 175 were found with "unexplained marks or tattoos." Many carried switch-blade knives.

After extensive questioning, all but 30 of the 175 were released but kept under post arrest. The remaining men said Col. Wilson, were "surly and arrogant and living up to the code of Pachuco."

He said all had a "sign of Pachuco" carved into their palms or chests. This sign, he said, resembles a cross, with slashes added to honor "particularly outstanding acts of violence committed by the member."

He said he had a Pachuco "code" in his possession under which no information must be given law enforcement officials and requiring that knives be carried at all times.

Lt. Whitley said Pachuco gangs are common on the West Coast and usually are made up of "young hoodlums of Mexican extraction." However, Col. Wilson said the men at Chanutte are "young toughs of all nationalities and seem to follow no pattern of race or background."

He said he expects court-martial charges will be made against the gang members.

'Horn In West' Closes Sept. 6

BOONE, N. C. — "Horn in the West," Kermit Hunter's historical drama, will be staged 65 times in its fourth season here next year.

Robert Agie, chairman of the drama's production committee, said the opening performance will be Friday, June 24, and the last, Labor Day, September 5.

The drama plays nightly except Sundays this year through September 6, at the Daniel Boone Theatre. It is sponsored by the Southern Appalachian Historical Association, and produced by the Carolina Playmakers of Chapel Hill.

Nixon Assigned Big Role In Republican Campaigning

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has assigned Vice President Nixon to campaign for Republican Senate and governor candidates in a series of tours which will take him into about two thirds of the states before the November election.

Eisenhower himself will keynote the campaign tonight with a half-hour radio-television review of the record of Congress from Denver.

The speech is scheduled for 8 p.m. EST.

While the President plans visits to several states, he apparently is counting on Nixon as a stand-in for the kind of openly political campaigning he himself doesn't like to undertake.

Sleepy Fugitives Are Recaptured

CINCINNATI, (AP) — Cincinnati police have captured two Kentucky fugitives they say forced a motorist at knifepoint to drive them from Lexington, Ky., then fell asleep on the job.

They said William Campbell, 29, and Edford Burton Jr., 24 of Bulan, Ky., along with six other men, sawed their way out of Hazard, Ky., jail Thursday. They had been charged with housebreaking.

Near Lexington the pair haled a car driven by Lucien Phillips, 41, a truck driver living in that vicinity, rode to Lexington, then made Phillips continue driving to Covington, Ky.

When both men fell asleep — Burton with knife in hand — Phillips drove across the Ohio River to a brother's house in Cincinnati and telephoned police.

The two men — awakened by patrolmen — promptly went back to sleep when placed in cells at Central Police Station here yesterday.

Nixon, on a 10-day vacation in Maine, will assay the political situation in conferences with individual members of the Republican National Committee in a three-day workshop session at Cincinnati from Aug. 30 through Sept. 1.

Eisenhower and Nixon apparently won't waste any time campaigning in the South. Eisenhower has said he has no plans to speak in Dixie. Nixon will invade Kentucky and possibly some other border states but will go no farther south.

Nixon who discussed campaign plans with the President at a White House breakfast before Eisenhower left for Denver, is expected to follow closely the theme the President sets in tonight's address.

The White House already has claimed a high batting average of accomplishments for the Republican-controlled Congress and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, pointed this up over the weekend with the declaration that Congress and the administration "have given the nation its greatest period of prosperity in history."

There was some dissent to this from the Democratic side.

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, head of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, put in the Congressional Record a series of tables showing labor surplus areas in 31 states with the observation that he believes four million or more persons are now unemployed.

"In the first five months of 1954 business failures in the nation were 39 per cent above the same period for last year," Clements said. "This is the highest record of business failures since 1941."

Knowland's claim that the Republican administration and Congress had "acted to strengthen the farm economy" through the substitution of flexible for rigid price supports on basic field crops was disputed by Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.).

Kerr said in an interview that he is convinced the farmers of his state are 4-1 against flexible supports.

"I think that holds true throughout the Midwest and the Republicans will find it out in November," he said.

Stockholm's Hot Weather Starts Troublemaking

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Stockholm's perennial hot weather riots flared again yesterday with the usual busted noggin as thrill seekers let off steam. Police, as in past outbreaks, rounded up prostitutes, hoodlums and other veteran trouble makers.

Several persons were painfully injured. One man was tossed through a show window into an art gallery and was rushed to a hospital with a slashed artery. A policeman who tried to help him into an ambulance had his jaw busted by a group of hoodlums.

Police arrested 32 persons, including one prostitute who ran through the streets disrobing as authorities tried to haul her into a car.

Prostitutes have been blamed for touching off most of the mid-summer riots, but everyone seems agreed that the crowds join in just for the thrills.

Orders Roundup Of Indonesians

MANILA (AP) — President Ramon Magsaysay, reported concerned over recent reports of Communist infiltration of the Philippines, last night ordered the armed forces to round up an estimated 6,000 Indonesians who have entered the country illegally.

It's 11:30 in the morning and the telephone rings!

Dinner is on the stove . . . you're in a hurry. But after rushing from the kitchen to the other end of the house, you answer the telephone. Minutes later and you've talked too long! How nice it would be if you had an "extra" telephone in the kitchen where you could keep an eye out while you talked.

Tractor-Mower Accident Victim Said Recovering

Nelson Dudley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudley, is resting well at Pitt Memorial Hospital after his accident of last week.

Nelson slipped on a tractor-mower late last week and severely cut his leg. He broke the small bone in his leg and severed several of the nerves. He ran a high temperature for a few days but is back down to normal again now.

Dudley said his leg does not pain him now and the doctors have passed the "worrying stage." Dudley said he would be able to get around just as well as before.

The doctors have not told Dudley when he will be able to go home but they have said that he will probably not be able to start school on the first of September.

Royal Cruise

CORFU, Greece (AP)—This ancient Greek island awaited the arrival today of a shipload of European royalty, cruising the Ionian Sea in the interests of a good time, the Greek tourist trade and royal romance.

The glittering sailors—nearly 100 mostly unemployed kings, queens, princes and princesses—set out from Naples yesterday for a 12-day luxury cruise around the isles of Greece as guests of Greece's King Paul and Queen Frederika aboard the 4,500-ton liner Agamemnon.

County's Rabies Control Program Being Observed

A Cumberland County senior dog warden is in Pitt County studying the rabies control program here.

A. A. Bunce of Fayetteville will be here two days observing the local program, which is considered one of the outstanding dog programs in the State.

Health Department Director Dr. Walter C. Humbert said Bunce was fourth senior dog warden to visit Pitt County to study the dog program. Previously, Halifax, Nash and Sampson senior dog wardens trained here.

Dr. Humbert said Nash, Sampson and Halifax Counties have set up dog programs almost identical to the program here. He said Wayne County officials had also come to Pitt County to study the program. Cumberland County has one of the highest rabies incidences in the State. Bunce said two dogs were found there with rabies last week. There has been no positive rabies found in Pitt County in over four years, Dr. Humbert noted.
