Garden Club Hears Talk On Birds

The Greenville Garden Club held its January meeting on Friday, January 21st, at the Woman's Club House.

The President Mrs. S. H. Mitchell opened the meeting with a message from the State President stressing more work in the gardens during the new year and more beautification projects for the town and the highways. She thanked the club members for the Christmas gift of silver she found under her tree.

Mrs. Mitchell then welcomed the following guests: Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. S. B. Cuthbert, Mrs. M. A. Maxwell, Mrs. Leonard P. Bloxam and her mother-in-law.

Mrs. K. N. Cuthbert, recording secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting.

The club voted to accept the recommendation of the Executive Board that the sum of $150 be set aside for Greene Street Park and that any money left over at the end of the year be used for beautification of the Sheppard Memorial Library grounds.

After the Treasurer's report Mrs. Owen Marshburn gave an excellent report of the success of "Holiday House". The club gave a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Marshburn and Mrs. Messick for their untiring efforts which brought so much loveliness and beauty to Greenville for the Christmas Season.

The report of Mrs. H. R. Roger, Horticulture Chairman, deserves special mention among the committee reports. Her committee and Mrs. Mitchell met with Mr. Gillett, a landscape architect from Richmond to draw up some plans for beautifying the Sheppard Memorial Library grounds. Mr. Gillett will submit his recommendations to the City Council. Mrs. Rogers urged every Garden Club member to support this undertaking. She further stated that the End of the Century Club and the Sans Souci Club wish to go on record as endorsing the plans of the Committee and Mr. Gillett to beautify the Library grounds.

Mrs. Victor Wells, Chairman of the Membership Committee presented Mrs. John Clark as a new member.

Mrs. Woolard reported that she had sold the quota of calendars for the year.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the exhibit of original and harmonious dried arrangements in handsome copper and lead containers. Members were encouraged to bring their arrangements to each meeting.

Mrs. Owen Marshburn, Program Chairman, presented the guest speaker of the afternoon Mrs. Yoe Walker and informative talk on birds seen in Greenville, especially the Blue Bird. She suggested watching and studying birds as a convenient hobby since a few spare minutes may be successfully used at different times during the day.

Mrs. Walker mentioned that feeding stations and bird baths as well as bird houses brought with them increased numbers of birds to be studied and enjoyed. As bird feed beef suet, grains and bread crumbs are especially good. Mrs. Walker answered the many questions club members showered her with. Blue Bird houses were shown and sold by the club.

A coffee hour was enjoyed in the front parlors. The decorations of the first Spring flowers gave all members a special pleasure. The delicious pies will also be remembered.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. M. W. Maxwell, and turned over to Mrs. Dave Whichard Jr. who gave the devotional. Her message contained much force for thought, her topic being "The Monday Morning Christian." She read several selections that pointed out the difference in being a Christian on Sunday only and being a Christian every day of the week.

The secretary called the roll, with 25 members being present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Notes were read from Mrs. Lydia Wooten, Mrs. Dave Whichard, and Jimmy Roebuck.

The treasurer's report was given and dues were collected.

Announcement was made by the president that the February meeting would be held with Mrs. John Clark instead of Mrs. Glenn Scott, who would have the April meeting.

A report was given on what was done for the family taken at Christmas time.

Mrs. Maxwell brought to the class a message of the importance of each one doing one job well by day. In closing she read a beautiful poem entitled "Today," which carried out her thought.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Russ who brought in a shower of gifts for Mrs. Whichard, the class teacher.

During the social period delicious refreshments of ambrosia, homemade cakes, and nuts were served by the hostesses.

Agricultural Teacher Is Guest Speaker At Garden Club Meet

FARMVILLE—One of the most outstanding and informative programs of the Garden Club was one on conservation at the meeting on Monday, January 24, with Mrs. C. H. Mozingo as hostess.

Mr. E. P. Bass, agricultural teacher, Farmville High School, speaker for the afternoon, was introduced by Mrs. L. E. Turnage. He commended the members on the choice of the subject and stated that conservation of our natural resources—soil, water, minerals, forests and wildlife—is very vital. He selected for his subject the soil George Washington, he stated, was a great farmer and knew the necessity of preventing the wearing out of the land. Until recent years many farmers made the mistake of depleting the soil. Then the Agriculture Department began the soil conservation practices by paying them to conserve the soil.

Mr. Bass then showed slides "Planning for Prosperity" which gave a true picture of glacial periods, fire, erosion and dust storms that deplete the soil. To prevent this is wise use of the soil and replacement of natural resources which will give more prosperity for posterity. These practices include contour ploughing and planting, cover crops, strip cropping between the fields, terraces, which even go back to Bible times, and rotation of crops, prevent the depletion of farm land. By working with nature instead of against it the top soil is built back so that what has been taken out is restored. He closed the program by saying that farm owners are stewards of the land and should leave the soil in a much better condition than it was found in for future generations.

Mrs. L. E. Turnage, president, opened the meeting with the Garden Collect and also read the message of David J. Rose, the new president of the State Camellia Society. She read the New Year's greeting from Mrs. E. A. Palmgreen, state president, and several articles from the Garden Club Bulletin. She announced the mid-winter board meeting of the Garden Club of North Carolina and the Conservation Conference, both to be held in Pinehurst February 9-10.

The following books have been donated to the Farmville Public Library: "Complete Book of Flower Arrangement" by Rockwell and "Southern Gardener" by Hastings.

Mrs. Mozingo was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. B. Melton Allen, in serving strawberry ice cream pie, cheese straws, salted nuts and coffee.

Yellow chrysanthemums, narcissus and dish gardens were in attractive arrangements.

Clubs Sponsoring Show Of Magic

A magic show, "Calvacade of Mystery", will be presented on February 11 at the Moose Temple auditorium with profits to be used for sight conservation and blind work in Pitt County.

The show is being sponsored jointly by the local Moose Lodge and the Lions Club.

Two performances of the show are scheduled for the Friday afternoon and evening—one at 4 o'clock and the second beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Profits from the show will be turned over to the Lions Club to be used in its program for the blind in Pitt County.

Starring in the show is Carlo, Doctor of Magic. He is a veteran performer and many of his feats of magic are said to have never been duplicated.

In other demonstrations he places a woman in a box hardly large enough to hold a child. He punctures the box with swords, then opens it to reveal nothing inside. Later he shoots bullets through its sides then re-opens it to allow an adult woman to emerge.

One-Tag Bill Should Be Adopted

If North Carolina can save a quarter million dollars each biennium by issuing one license tag for each motor vehicle in the state rather than two, legislation changing the two-tag requirement should be passed.

Twice in recent months The Reflector has voiced its objection to the two-tag system re-installed this year by the Department of Motor Vehicles. The two-tag system still appears to us a needless expenditure of state funds. Now Rep. B. T. Falls of Cleveland County has introduced a bill in the General Assembly which would require only one license tag for automobiles and trucks, and according to the representatives it will save the state about $250,000 each two years.

While some members of the State Highway Patrol maintain it is to the advantage of law enforcement officers to have motor vehicles tagged on both the front and back, we cannot see how the extra tag could be worth the additional $250,000 each biennium.

Tax Listing Period Near End

The three to four thousand property owners in Pitt County who haven't yet listed their taxes for 1955 should remember to do so not later than Tuesday if they want to avoid the 10 per cent penalty the county requires for late listing.

Although some more than 80 per cent of the property owners already have listed their taxes during the month of January, tax officials have voiced disappointment over the slow listing this year. With only a few days remaining before the designated listing period ends, it is likely that there will be a bigger listing rush than there has been so far. The person who waits until the last day or two of the period to list his taxes may well expect to stand in line before getting to the lister's table.

The property owners who haven't gotten around to this annual chore of listing taxes should by all means list their taxes before the period ends Tuesday afternoon.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOTGLASS
VICTORY OVER FEAR

A man who had seen much military service told recently of the things which his superior officer sent him into battle. "You are all dead already," the officer was accustomed to say, "so you have nothing to fear."

There was a basic truth wrapped up in these brusque words, for it always happens that when people utter and without bitterness accept the inevitable, they find they have nothing to fear. It may be death itself they face; when they learn not to fear it, it has no power over them.

More often it is not death which they have to face but some stirring challenge in everyday living. There are circumstances which they have to accept, trials they must endure, pains they must try to forget, loss upon which they must shut the door of memory. They must die to these things. When they can say to themselves, "I have already died," then they have nothing to fear. When they realize that the most precious things in life have been swept away and can never be theirs again—when they can face this reality without bitterness against either God or man, then they find themselves in a pathway which leads upward to the delectable mountains and the Heavenly City.

Go into battle. "You are dead already; you have nothing to fear." And when fear has left you, the battle is as good as won.

Revolt Against 'Czar' Cannon

WASHINGTON—An angry rebellion has broken out among White House Democrats against Chairman Clarence Cannon's assumption of czaristic control of the all-powerful House Appropriations Committee. His personal and arbitrary trampling on his colleagues' seniority and committee rights may be reversed by the unprecedented action of stripping him of his chairman-ship powers, unless he backs down.

The revolt is headed by Representative Albert Thomas of Houston, Tex., whose once extremely important Independent Offices Committee was abolished by Cannon without prior notice to Thomas or to Speaker Sam Rayburn, who shares the resentment felt by Cannon's victims.

The ranking members of the Senate Appropriations Committee—Chairman Carl Hayden of Arizona, and Styres Bridges, New Hampshire Republican—have also said that Cannon's chaotic reshuffling will make House-Senate co-operation on appropriations a practical impossibility.

It is doubtful if there has been such bitterness toward an individual member—Cannon of Missouri—since a combination of Democrats and Western Progressives, headed by the late Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, rebelled against "Uncle Joe" Cannon's "Iron Curtain" rule more than 40 years ago.

REVENGE ON POPULAR TEXAN—Representative Thomas, who happens to be one of the most popular and conscientious members on Capitol Hill, was singled out for punishment by Cannon because the Texas fought the Chairman in 1951, when the latter tried to assume even less authority than he has appropriated in the current reorganization. Cannon was defeated then through Thomas' efforts, and it is expected that he will be repudiated in the current revolt.

Thomas, however, is not the only Democrat to suffer from Cannon's redistribution of power and membership among his eleven subcommittees. The chairman has promoted New Deal, anti-Eisenhower pals and demoted his own enemies. But the rough treatment Thomas has suffered provides the most spectacular and convincing evidence of Chairman Cannon's "purge" and political purification.

The existing state law requires two license tags on each vehicle, but provides that only one tag is required if the motor vehicles commission finds "an actual or threatened shortage of metal." That is the clause under which the state has issued only one tag per vehicle for the past several years. If North Carolina motorists or the state as a whole has suffered because motor vehicles have had only one tag for a number of years, we certainly are not aware of it.

At this particular time, with the state facing many financial problems, it appears to us the wise thing for the legislature to change the state law and make the one tag system standard. It is certainly no time to burden the state with an extra expenditure of $125,000 annually just for the sake of having two state license tags on every automobile and truck.

Rep. Falls' bill appears to us a practical approach to trimming one state expenditure which will save the taxpayers money and at the same time will not adversely affect the state or its service to the people.

A Hero, By Chance, Finally Finds Peace

Rootless, sick in mind and sick in heart, Ira Hayes has finally found peace.

Remember him? He was a hero . . . one of a multitude who stormed the beaches of Iwo Jima and later scrambled the slope of Mount Suribachi to help raise an American flag. He was a "live hero," then; one of those who survived the bloodiest fighting per square foot of any battle ground in World War II.

Fate immortalized him when a photographer with a sense of the dramatic recreated the flag-raising scene which has since become so familiar in the mind's eye of Americans everywhere.

He became a hero by chance, and it tortured him.

After the war he came home like millions of other GIs, only for Ira Hayes it wasn't the same. He turned to alcohol to drive away the ghosts of fear, strain and shock he knew too well.

"We hit the beach at Iwo with 250 men in my company," Hayes once recalled, "and left with 27 a month and half later."

"I still think of those things all the time."

He couldn't forget. In his wanderings and groping decline there were people who tried to help. But Ira was sunk in a morass from which he could see no relief.

War brought early death to thousands of young Americans, but Ira Hayes was dying little by little over the years since the miracle of his survival in the midst of violent death. For him peace came sometime Monday . . . or maybe it was Sunday night.

A hero, by chance, was found dead of exposure to the freezing weather—too much alcohol.

Somebody Told Me

'Typical Sundays' In Review

Last night I was in a small group of couples that I had rather not name because of what follows. The main two topics were in-law visiting and husbands' hobbies. Before writing another word let me assure you that the entire discussion was in a light vein; all of us laughed during the entire session. It seems that the typical Sunday in the day of a married man quite often consists of a visit to his in-laws, and it seems that a great number of these visits involve driving to another town. Sunday dinner is the so-called attraction. After dinner the family men, if there happen to be any who aren't golfing (the visiting husband isn't in on the recreation; he's a fixture for observation only) ease off to their various rooms and take a nap. The husband, not having a sack or permission to rest his head, sits with the women. To him this is very entertaining. He's very interested, as you can imagine, in all of the latest dress patterns under discussion, who's getting married and who is expecting additions to their families. Does the husband take his wife over to see his folks in the same manner? Not much. When he gets through visiting her folks he's not in the mood to go anywhere, not even to see his own parents. For this sort of treatment, does the husband get any medals? Not usually; just reprimand when he tries to squirm out of a trip. Of course it's not always the poor husband who's sitting around bored. Quite often it's the golf widow, fishing widow, or in my case the radio widow. Take eating, for example. The fishing widow packs her husband's lunch. The golf widow has to have it ready by 11:30 so hubby can make the golf match on time. The radio widow sits at the table waiting half the mealtime for her husband, who's talking to some guy in England or Germany, or maybe as close-by as across town. One husband said, "Don't you wish you could go back 14 years in life?" The wife said, "I don't know whether I could go through with it again or not." And I thank you. JACK EDWARDS

What Other Editors Are Thinking

THERE'S MORE AT STAKE THAN FORMOSA (Kinston Free Press) President Eisenhower in outlining a new, or stabilized, defense line in the Formosan Straits, has the advantage of speaking with a bipartisan approach to this ticklish issue. The problem is not one of dealing with an isolated instance of Red aggression, but rather spelling out in detail what may be expected from the United States in the Formosan Straits, as it acts to strengthen the whole free world in Europe and Asia. Lives may have to be lost in the current efforts to avert an outbreak in Asia. The issue is little different from the one which sent the United States and other U.N. units into Korea in 1950. But the Reds seem to be supreme optimists insofar as their hopes for a weakening of the American will to resist is concerned. They have ample reason to be optimists on this score, especially after the gobbling up of so much of Indo-China without a fight last Summer, but that was a different situation and a distinction must be made. Indo-China was mixed up with French colonialism to an extent that it was highly undesirable for the United States to become involved. The eight-year-old war had to end in a defeat for France and French policy, but from that point on the United States has manifested an increasing interest in the fate of the peoples who were left free by the peace agreement. America's goal of an ultimately free China, a free Korea, a free Germany and a free Austria must be upheld. There is general agreement in Washington and in the various parliaments of the free nations that the free world will be far safer if the Formosan Straits are kept free from Red aggression. That is the objective, in brief, of the new approach to Formosa as being outlined by the President. He knows that the defense of the Philippines, Okinawa and all the free areas of the Southwest Pacific would be jeopardized by the loss or abandonment of Formosa. A policy of firmness without belligerence, backed by the unity of the leaders of both major political parties, makes a lot of sense to us. It is the only course which offers peace and stability with honor. Americans cannot accept less—in Formosa or any other war-weary spot on this troubled globe. But the current stand in the Far East is certain to give hope and comfort to the Red-threatened peoples around the world as they build for unity to avert global annihilation.

Plans Set In Motion To Relieve Big Water Shortage

By LYNN NISBET WATER—Machinery was set in motion this week to put into effect a plan whereby the municipalities of Lexington, Thomasville, High Point, Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Burlington might be assured an adequate standby water supply for many years to come. The plan contemplates establishment of a Central Carolina Water Authority embracing the counties of Davidson, Forsyth, Guilford and Alamance, for the purpose of providing water from a central source. That source almost certainly will be High Rock Lake on the Yadkin River through agreement with the Aluminum Company of America along lines proposed by George Hundley, Tennessee Valley Authority executive.

It is tentatively proposed for the authority to buy the water from the aluminum company, pump it to a standpipe near Kernersville from which it would flow by gravity into the several municipal systems. However, terms of the act would grant the Authority power to obtain the water from any other source and to control its distribution to meet the need of the communities. It is estimated that the plan would draw from High Rock only two percent of the stored water as a maximum. Since it is a standby and not a primary source, it is expected that the actual withdrawal would be far less than two percent. Discussing the problems involved in the attorney general's office Tuesday morning were advised the affected communities and their representatives in the General Assembly. COMPLEX—What at first appeared to be a simple matter of Alcoa consenting to release the required gallonage and the combined municipalities piping it, developed several very complex situations. One of these was the fact some of the water to be taken out of the Yadkin would be returned to the Haw and the Cape Fear, thus depriving North Carolina communities and several in South Carolina of the use of that small amount of water. That run smack into the conflict between the common law doctrine of riparian rights and the statutory doctrine of appropriated rights. Other questions involved advisability of having a statewide law or a special act applying only to the four counties. The special act idea ran into constitutional prohibition against special or local acts "relating to health, sanitation and abatement of nuisances." It was agreed, however, that a special act is highly preferable even if it has to be disguised as a statewide bill. There was general opinion expressed that eventually the whole matter of water control must be covered by statewide laws and interstate compacts. T. E. Hinson, High Point city manager, observed that unless there is conservation of water and reasonable control over its use, large areas will dry up, industry and people will move out, and there will be only desert left. Water is just becoming a serious problem in North Carolina, but it has been serious in other States for a long time. It was noted by a member of the attorney general's staff that in California three full volumes of the general statutes are devoted to water, and there are hundreds of local authorities with diversified

The Tanners' Council of America is one organization that believes the male passion for color aroused by pink shirts and charcoal ties, will continue through fall and winter.

"The color explosion in men's shirts has dimmed and delighted the industry," it states in its new leather color guide. "Pink is volume and hello and burn orange and red are growing like Jack and the beanstalk look adds, somewhat confusing the old story. "In another year you may never see a white shirt until after sundown. Colored vests have arrived in fashion importance.

"The charcoal dunks are volume in men's suits and coats, in jackets and slacks—blue, brown and gray in this newly serious look for town and country, formal and semiformal wear.

"New formulas for footwear are slowly and laboriously emerging into the vital and lively men's wear revolution. The retailer is way behind the customer demand and really must get on his toes if he is to run in this swift race. Shoes MUST LOOK different and MUST BE different to integrate with the new look. Soles in many shoes will be more flexible; all shoes will weigh less. will be cut on more graceful patterns and will be of simple, natural design."

The Institute is on its toes. All right, but it didn't flex its knees enough to come up with a Strawberry Smash color. The fall and winter list:

For town and country—also campus: Smoke Bamboo, Buttercup, Maple and Cedar; for town informals: Sorrel Tan, Britling Tan, Corona Brown (excellent in all reptile grains), Havana Brown and Coffee Bean, for functional uses: Beaver and Bronco; cordovans: Vintage, American Burgundy and Cordeau; charcoals for evenings in town: Charcoal Gray, Charcoal Blue and Charcoal Brown; for grained leathers: Comanche, Peasant, Oak, Teak, Black Walnut and Black. "a must in every shoe closet . . . for men of distinction."

Among women's fashions, the Institute expects a "rainbow" of color and in California and for winter vacations, a "riot" of color.

Leather colors for complement include such edibles as Vanilla, Honey Wild Honey, Ginger, Avocado Walnut, and such drinkables as Benedictine, Java and Cognac.

Other shades include Pine, White Bark (the Winter White), Camel, Maple, Briarwood, Cezanne Blue, Parma Violet, Flame, Scarlet, Gray Onyx and Charcoal ("Scarlet sings against the darkness"). DOMINICAN REPUBLIC ENJOYS BEST YEAR While other nations are bemoaning trade disadvantages, the Dominican Republic is boasting that 1954 was the greatest year in the history of its trade. Exports totaled $119,722,596 and imports $82,103,519 both a record. The difference also represents a fine favorable balance of trade.

JEWELRY INDUSTRY TO HAVE FIRST WEEK The first National Jewelry Week is to be promoted this year from April 22 to 28. It is sponsored by the National Wholesale Jewelers Association. In co-operation with manufacturers, the Association will give retailers window displays, display cards, mats, stickers, buttons and reprints of advertisements.

Como Prefers Skip Money Rush

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—Do you think it would help you to relax if you had a chance to earn $250,000 this year above your regular income—and you turned it down?

Well, Perry Como turns down that kind of extra money every year. It is one of the ways he avoids tension. "Money is important only to a point," he said soberly. "Then you have to work for other things."

Perry gave up a $125 a week income as a barber shop proprietor for a $28 a week job with a band because he wanted to sing. Today his vocal chords bring him some $900,000 a year. He makes this sum from his CBS TV and radio shows and his recordings.

He takes eight weeks off each year. By working four of those weeks in top drawing movie houses in New York and Chicago he could pick up a guaranteed $250,000 more. Each year Como rejects the offer.

"You can only wear one suit at a time," he says. Millions of Americans envy his talent or income less than they do his air of utter relaxation. But he is an easy-going manner lies an aptitude for hard work.

"We do a lot of rehearsing," he remarked. "When you know where you're going and why, you can afford to feel relaxed. Como is both one of the simplest and most complex figures in show business. He has a strong religious nature and his friends says he attends church almost daily. He draws a pretty rigid line between his public life and his home life.

His wife, Roselle, and his three children have never become watch-fobs to his success. "There's nothing wrong with show business," he said, "but I want to keep my kids normal kids. I don't want to subject them to a lot of commotion. I want to keep them apart from it. They've got their school work to do. That's the most important thing for them right now."

He and his wife share an old-fashioned theory on how to raise children. "Just love them every day, and when they need a good whacking give it to them. But they don't need it very often. They're good kids. Usually just telling them what you expect of them is enough. Sometimes I worry for fear they don't cause enough trouble. I don't want them to become regimented."

Perry and his wife take a two-week vacation each year apart from their children. The other six weeks the family spend together.

"Some times I still give the kid a haircut," he said. "But not very often. They're not very good tippers."

In the last 10 years Como has turned out eight records that sold more than a million apiece a mark exceeded only by Bing Crosby, who has been in the big time twice as long.

Because of his solid success and his happy home life Perry is something of an idol to young singers who find themselves popular overnight. They bring their personal problems to him.

"But what can I do for them except maybe given them a haircut or buy them a cup of coffee?" Como said. "You can't solve another person's problems for him. He has to work them out for himself."

"You can't blame a kid too much at 25 or 26 if he wakes up one morning and suddenly finds his work as an idol to young singers. Unless he has his wits about him he has a hard time to keep from getting lost the first week they hand him a $5,000 paycheck.

"A boy should have learned the value of a buck the hard way before he gets that kind of money."

The reason the young ones come to Perry for advice is he has never let money confuse him. He never got lost. "I was lucky," he said. "I had a good wife to keep me stable. If a man doesn't have that, success doesn't mean a thing."

Traffic Signals Will Indicate One - Way Route

A street department workman is shown above as he changes a green lens in one of the downtown traffic signals. Arrows on the new lens indicate the proper directions in which motorists may turn on the one-way streets. Where green lenses remain turn may be made in any direction.

Workmen were busy this morning installing green lenses in the traffic signals on one-way streets to indicate the proper turning direction at each of the downtown intersections. City Manager James S. Hughes said the direction-indicating lenses are being installed "to assist people who are not familiar with the one-way street system."

"We hope that it will reduce the number of cars going the wrong way on one-way streets," the city manager declared. Hughes explained that the arrows on the lenses will point in the directions in which motorists can proceed when the light flashes green. For instance, he explained a motorist traveling north on Evans Street would find a vertical arrow at Five Point, indicating that he could turn neither right or left but must continue on Evans Street.

Hughes said the work of installing the new lenses should be completed tomorrow. He emphasized that the new-type green lenses are being installed only on the one-way street intersections. "Any place where there is a full green light a vehicle can turn in any direction," he declared. "We are going to try these without any signs at present," he continued. If it is found that signs are needed they will be installed under the traffic lights asking motorists to observe the arrows.

The old green lenses which are being removed from the traffic lights will be kept on hand for replacements, Hughes stated.

Soldier Is Also Real Bullfighter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Fulton J. Short claims to be the only professional bull fighter in the United States Army. He's a member of the Mexican Matadors Assn. Western Carolina Invades Pirate Den Friday Evening

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
Reflector Sports Writer

Coach Howard Porter's East Carolina Pirates play the only team that can be considered a "breather" on their remaining schedule tomorrow night in Memorial Gym. Western Carolina is the foe, bringing their forces down from the North Carolina Smokies.

Coach Jim Grudger's group is nestled in the cellar of the North State Conference with a 1-7 loop reading. The Pirates, on the other hand, are second from the top. The league's toughest wreath should hang from Grudger's neck this season. Of his defeats this season, five have been by less than three points.

will have their top five men ready. Don Harris and Nick Nichols are all set at the guards. Harris is the team's leading marksman with a 22.4 average in 13 games. Nichols, highly-touted freshman, is third in scoring, just one point behind J. C. Thomas.

At center, Porter can go with either a senior or first-year man. Waverly Atkins has started the Bucs' last two games and been impressive there. He is one of the finest rebounders in the loop and with a little more accuracy from the floor could be one of the best all-around pivots. Guy Mendenhall is the yearling who will see a lot of action at center. The towering blond has learned to jump and sends his 6-5 frame up well for rebounds. He has also indicated that he can score in the double figures.

Thomas and Heath at the guards will give the unit seasoning, a thing vitally needed on the recent western road trip. Freddie James who started in Heath's absence will naturally see plenty of clock time. He turned in outstanding games as a starter and scored 51 points in five games. He was the Bucs' high man against Belmont Abbey.

The reserves, steadily improving with each minute of play, will also be anxious to get in against Western Carolina. Jerry Bosquet, Marion Hales, Maurice Everette, Waddell Solomon and William McArthur will be the second-calls for duty.

Appalachian And Elon Win Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Second-half drives paid off with victories for Elon, Appalachian and the McCrory Eagles last night in North Carolina's abbreviated basketball schedule involving college teams. The examination-time lull continues with no games for major schools scheduled tonight, and only Western Carolina at East Carolina tomorrow.

Elon gained a tie for second place in the North State Conference by defeating High Point, 93-77. John Pyscha scored 38 points to lead Appalachian to an 86-66 victory over Kings College of Bristol, Tenn. Va. And the McCrory Eagles gained revenge for an early season defeat by crushing Catawba 95-67.

A driving attack netted Elon 60 points in the second half after High Point held a 24-23 advantage at halftime. Elon now has a 7-2 league record, good for a tie with East Carolina as runner-up to leading Atlantic Christian undefeated in seven league games. High Point is in fifth place with a 3-5 conference record.

The high scorers were Don Packard of Elon with 26 points and Jack Powell of High Point with 20. Powell is a former High Point High School star.

John Pyscha, Appalachian center who was held to 12 points by East Tennessee State Monday night, returned to his high scoring ways in the 20 point victory over King College.

The score was tied 36-36 at halftime. Then two quick field goals

The Catamounts were pre-season selections for first division and darkhorses for title honors. Then the cards dealt misfortune by the truckloads. Bob Ray and Jim Jordan, Western Carolina's one-two scorers in 1953-54, were lost. Ray was drafted and Jordan flunked out.

Then Dwayne Simpson, heady little guard, left school. But Grudger's slouch of despair didn't stop there. After the season got underway, he lost several of his best players with injuries.

Three Standouts

The club he brings into Greenville to battle East Carolina is one held together by veteran Hermon Shamel and newcomers Tony Migliano and Bobby Holcombe. Shamel, a senior center, scored 20 points against the Pirates at Cullowhee and Holcombe dropped in 10. East Carolina beat the Catamounts there, 80-67, but not without being pushed for 30 of the 40 minutes.

Heath Back

Coach Porter may have his club back at full strength for this one. Cecil Heath, the Bucs' fiery captain, has returned to practice and has been going at full speed. He missed the Bucs' last five games with a kidney ailment. He will most likely be ready by game time and resume his old starting guard spot.

With Heath's return, the Pirates

Slated To Name U.S. Golf Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Golf Assn. is scheduled to name the 1955 Walker Cup team at its annual meeting Saturday. At least three members of the U.S. cup team which walloped Great Britain, 9-3, at Kiltonsett in 1953 must be replaced.

Members of the winning 1953 competition who won't be available are Gene Littler, now a pro, Congressman Jack Westland and young Ken Venturi, who is in the Army. Other team members were Bill Campbell, Dick Chapman, Charlie Coe, Don Cherry, Jim Jackson Sam Uzzetta and Harvie Ward. Presumably they'll be available unless Campbell, whose hands were badly burned in an accident this winter can't regain his form or unless business keeps some of the others at home.

The business bogey also must be reckoned with in naming the natural No. 1 man on the list of replacements, Billy Joe Patton. Billy Joe showed in the Masters and Open last year that he's an excellent, though erratic, golfer. And he'd make a first-rate good will ambassador for American golf. But he also is a man who works at his job and can't get too much time off for golf.

Giardello Wants Andrews Again

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Joey Giardello, his plans for an early crack at the middleweight title confounded by a less-than-spectacular showing in his first outing in four months looked forward today to a rematch with Al Andrews.

"I want to fight him again," Joe said in his dressing room after winning a unanimous, but disputed, 10-round decision over Andrews last night in a rough brawl at Norfolk's Municipal Auditorium.

"One more against Andrews and then I'm ready for Bobo Olson," Giardello said, his right hand encased in a tub of ice and his left eye sporting a shiner.

Andrews didn't see it that way, although he was just as eager for another fight with Giardello. The two boxers tentatively agreed to a rematch in Baltimore Feb. 8.

"There's no doubt I won," Andrews contended bitterly, fighting back tears. "It was the easiest fight I've had in a year. He didn't knock me down. I was off balance."

The knockdown won for Giardello. It was the only time either man was floored and came in the ninth round when Andrews walked into a wicked left hook and a sharp chopping right.

Up to that point one judge had Andrews ahead, the other had the fight even. Referee Paddy Mills had it for Giardello all the way.

Giardello weighed 162 Andrews 159.

North Carolinians fought in the preliminary bouts.

Bobby Lane, 169½, Charlotte, N.C., outboxed Tommy Tommy Thompson, 171, Washington, in a last 4 moving six-round semi-final.

Benny Deaton 159½, Durham, N.C., outpointed Rocky Petrolle, 155, Washington, in a sluggish five-rounder.

Freddie Hartell, 120, Durham, N.C., stopped Henry Taylor, 125, Charlotte, N.C. in 2:55 of the first if a scheduled four.

The boys' game was awarded to Belvoir when the Stokes-Pactolus team left the floor in the third period. The home team was ahead 35-32 at the time. The game goes as a 2-0 victory for Belvoir.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has denied a petition from Norfolk Va., television station to shift channels. The FCC said the shift would require taking Channel 13 away from New Bern, N.C., and this was not warranted.

Hard To Fool by Pap

For the first time in his career as a Giant, Don Mueller will head for spring training secure in the knowledge that he is the club's regular right fielder. In the past, Don had to fight off the challenge of several newcomers to prove he was the best man for the right field berth. For years Mueller had proved himself a solid if not spectacular all-around performer, but he lacked color and the fire that goes to make up a star player. Last season was his best. Although he lost the National League batting crown to Willie Mays on the final day of the regular season, Don batted .342 and led the league with 212 hits. In addition, he continued his practice of pacing the league with the fewest strike-outs—17.

Clint Courtney may wear glasses, but the fiery catcher who bid for the first strikeout job with the Chicago White Sox this spring has demonstrated an uncommonly keen eye on pitches. With the Baltimore Orioles last season, Courtney fanned only seven times through 122 games.

The major league record for fewest strike-outs in a season was set by Joe Sewell of Cleveland, when he fanned only four times in 155 games in 1925. Charley Hollocher of the Cubs fanned only five times in 152 games in 1922 to set the National League mark. Johnny Cooney, who played the outfield for the Braves, Dodgers and the Yankees, struck out only 110 times during his career covering about 3,500 games between 1921 and 1944. Sewell fanned 124 times over a stretch covering 1920-1933.

Kansas City To Have All Except A Team

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The most recent reports say that construction of Kansas City's 35,000-seat baseball park is coming along at a great rate and that the new home of the Athletics will be ready and waiting for the opening day of the American League season in April.

The only thing which will be missing when the citizens gather to celebrate their great good luck in landing a big league franchise will be a big league baseball team. It is possible that this will be overlooked in the excitement attending the grand opening, but along about July 4 the fans of the Midwest metropolis are going to discover they've been short-changed.

Close to three months have elapsed since Arnold Johnson took title to Connie Mack's crumbled empire, and if a single move has been made toward improving the club which finished a bedraggled last in 1954, trailing Cleveland by 60 games, it has not come to this corner's attention.

Oh yes they have removed the photographic murals of Connie Mack and great Athletic stars of the past from the roundhouse of Shibe Park in Philadelphia and trucked them out to Kansas City, but that doesn't figure to win many games. It won't take the Kansas City fans any time to learn that Lefty Grove, Jimmy Foxx and Mickey Cochrane didn't come with the franchise.

Otherwise, we can recall only that Lou Boudreau was hired to manage the assortment of talent which lost 15 straight games to the Yankees last season. Lou no longer can play shortstop, as he did when he led Cleveland to the flag in 1948. Also, he has not had a minute's experience with such a crew of steak eaters as will greet him in Florida March 1.

In other words, nothing has been done which might give Kansas City some hope of eventual reward for the enthusiasm it has displayed in taking over a rundown property. Nobody has seen the color of the large sum of money which was supposed to be available for the purchase of players, and there has been no suggestion that an important deal was brewing.

Winterville Court Teams Bow To Bethel Visitors

WINTERVILLE — Bethel took Winterville's clubs in a twin-bill here Tuesday night, the visiting girls winning 47-26 and the guest boys winning 60-43. Both games were Pitt County Conference affairs.

Bethel's Wynne hit for 19 points in the girls game. She received assistance from Hardy with 13 and Whitehurst with eight.

Little and Corey led the home offense with 12 and 10 points each. The pair of the Bethel guards was particularly outstanding with Riddick, J. Whitehurst and Evans the standouts.

The win was a revenge match and moved Bethel into a tie for first place in the conference.

Bethel's Manning and Anderson were the big noises in the boys' win. Manning tallied 15 and Anderson 12. Latham hit 11 from his forward spot and played well defensively. Coggins and Sawyer had 12 and 11 points for the losers.

The boxes:

Phantoms Rest After Defeat Of Kinston; New Bern Is Next

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Greenville's Phantoms, sitting high atop the loop standings in the Northeastern Conference, took a day off from practice yesterday after their resounding drubbing of the Kinston Red Devils here Tuesday night.

The Phantoms, who have now won 13 consecutive conference games over the past two seasons, go after their sixth consecutive win of this season tomorrow night when they meet the New Bern Bears in New Bern. In the only meeting between the two teams so far this year the Green Phantoms won easily by 74-49.

One important factor of the Kinston game that went almost unnoticed was the fact that Tommie Salsed, the spectacular set shot performer, fired in three long ones out of three tries. Salsed had been in a slump of some three games in which he did not hit any from the outside. He apparently has snapped out of his slump now though and has his bread and butter shot working the way it usually does.

The G-men will be on the road for quite a while now. After they go to New Bern tomorrow night they play in Washington on Tuesday, and in Elizabeth City on Friday. The next home game will be with Roanoke Rapids on the 11th.

DiMaggio Elected To Baseball's Hall Of Fame

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, one of the Yankees' all-time greats, reached baseball's Hall of Fame today just three years after his retirement and was joined by Dizzy Vance, Ted Lyons and Gabby Hartnett as the latest diamond heroes enshrined at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The four were elected yesterday by 251 ten-year members of the Baseball writers Assn. Their election increased the Hall of Fame membership to 77. They will be formally inducted at the Cooperstown museum July 25.

Under the rules a man must be mentioned on three fourths (189) of the ballots for election. Sixty-five former players received one or more votes.

DiMaggio, who just missed last year when the late Rabbit Maranville, Bill Dickey and Bill Terry were selected, led the ticket. He drew 223 votes as the writers recalled his lifetime batting average of .325, his brilliant playing in 51 World Series games in 10 Series with the Yankees and his major league record of hitting in 56 successive games.

"It's great to be on the same team with all those old timers," said DiMaggio, who heard of his selection while driving from Boston to New York.

Lyons and Vance, who reached the heights as right-handed pitchers before DiMaggio joined the Yankees, were next in line.

Lyons, who compiled a 260-230 record with the Chicago White Sox before he finally left in 1948 after managing the Sox for three years, received 217 votes. Lyons was a coach with the Brooklyn Dodgers last year.

Vance, famous as Brooklyn's fireball pitcher, was named on 206 ballots. The Dazzler, who now spends most of the time these days hunting and fishing at his Homosassa, Fla., home, didn't arrive in the majors until late in life but he compiled a 197-140 record with his best performance of 28-6 coming in 1924.

Although Dazzy acquired great respect fame as a member of the Dodgers he never reached the World Series until he was traded to the Louis Cardinals in 1934. He appeared in one game.

Hartnett, who recalls his dramatic home run in the gloaming which won the 1938 National League pennant for the Cubs as one of his career highlights, received 185 votes. Gabby, now 54, caught for the Cubs from 1922 through 1940, managing them the last three years. He bowed out of baseball as manager of Buffalo in the International League in 1946 and now runs a bowling alley in Chicago. He had a lifetime batting average of .297, hit 236 homers, played in 407 World Series and five All-Star Games.

Aggies' Hank Iba Has Never Seen Things So Tough

By ED WILKS

Things never have been this tough for Hank Iba in college basketball at Oklahoma A&M.

Since he joined the Aggies as top man for the 1954-55 season, Iba has been involved in 16 championship for the Missouri Valley Conference.

Iba's Cowpokes never have lost more than 10 games in any season—and they've lost as many as 10 only once.

It's a lot different this year. Houston topped the Aggies deeper into the Valley second division last night 60-58 and made Iba's overall record this season 6-8. That's just two defeats shy of his highest loss total when he had a 14-10 mark in 1942-43.

In other games Mercer upset Georgia 68-66; Mississippi Southern handed Georgetown its second surprise on a Southern tour 68-65; Georgia Tech put another dent in Auburn's once-proud record 73-70; Arkansas stalled past Oklahoma City U 55-52; and Cincinnati whopped Ball State 113-65.

Houston, not much better off than A&M in the Valley with a 2-3 mark almost let the Aggies get away. Three times the Cougars built up a 10-point lead in the second half, but Iba had to stall to pull it out. Don Boldebeck of Houston was high with 28 points.

Georgia, surprising the experts in the Southeastern Conference, went down during a five-minute second half spell that saw the Bulldogs outscored 16-2.

Georgetown shudda stayed at home instead of heading South. Miami (Fla.) spilled the Hoyas Monday and Mississippi Southern made it a 9-5 record for Georgetown. Southern took an early lead and never trailed.

It was the third straight defeat for Auburn after winning the first seven. Joe Helms brought Tech into a 62-62 tie and Dick Lenholt put the Engineers ahead to stay.

Arkansas and Oklahoma City had a tough time gaining any kind of advantage until Buddy Smith snapped the 10th tie of the game to push the Pikers ahead with five minutes left.

Deacs Schedule Two Newcomers For Grid Games

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (AP) — Two newcomers, Virginia and West Virginia, are listed on the 1955 Wake Forest College football schedule announced by Athletic Director Pat Preston.

The Demon Deacons will play 10 games, meeting every team in the Atlantic Coast Conference and three Southern Conference teams. Missing from last year's schedule are George Washington and Richmond.

The 1954 Wake Forest team had a 2-7-1 season, the worst Deacon record since 1933. The schedule: Sept. 17 Virginia Tech, here; 24 South Carolina, Winston-Salem, Park, Md.; 15, North Carolina State, Raleigh (night); 22, North Carolina, here (Homecoming); 29, Clemson, there.

Nov. 5, William and Mary, here; 12 Virginia, Charlottesville Va.; 19, Duke, Durham.

Despite Grumbles, Statistics Favoring Basketball Bonus Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the gripes of coaches, fans and writers, statistics are on the side of the bonus rule which according to figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau has been taking a bum rap in major college basketball.

Opponents of the rule, designed to reduce fouling by awarding a bonus free throw attempt when a player makes his first try at the foul line, have blasted it as detrimental to the game. They claim it has spawned high-scoring contests overshadowed by field goal importance and failed to lessen fouls.

Statistics show that scoring is on a rise in major college basketball, as it has been in the past few seasons—but most of the scoring increase has come from the field, not the foul line.

What's more, fouls have been cut to the lowest total in the past six years thus far in the 1954-55 season.

South Greenville School Facilities Increased

Charge Two Men With Attempted Jan. 19 Break-In

Police yesterday arrested two men and charged them with an attempted break-in at the Red Rose Club on Albemarle Avenue on Wednesday night, January 19.

Lt. N. H. Byrd arrested Elton Wallace, 20, of 608 Allen Alley, and Caesar Frayer, 29, of 604 Famliao Ave. Ed Thomas, of Greenville, reported to police that he went to the club on the night of January 19, and saw two men trying to pry open a side window at the back of the club, apparently using a screw driver. Thomas said the men ran away when they heard him in the club. A continuing investigation by police resulted in the two arrests yesterday.

Besides building the first airplane, the Wright brothers built a calculating machine, a home telegraph, a typewriter, balloon tires, a printing press and many bicycle models.

Six classrooms, an auditorium, library and cafeteria will be among the facilities included in this new wing at the South Greenville School when it is completed. The classrooms have already been finished, and three of them are now in use. On January 17 a sixth grade from Epkes school moved to this new wing, along with a fourth and a fifth grade from the main building at the South Greenville School. The three rooms are accommodating 121 students. This brings to ten the total number of classrooms now in use at the school. The other three classrooms will probably be put to use next year, with an additional wing containing six to eight more schoolrooms planned for the future. (Reflector Photo by Edwina Haymes).

Egypt Sentences Convicted Spies

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's supreme military court convicted eight Jews today of spying for Israel and sentenced two of them to death.

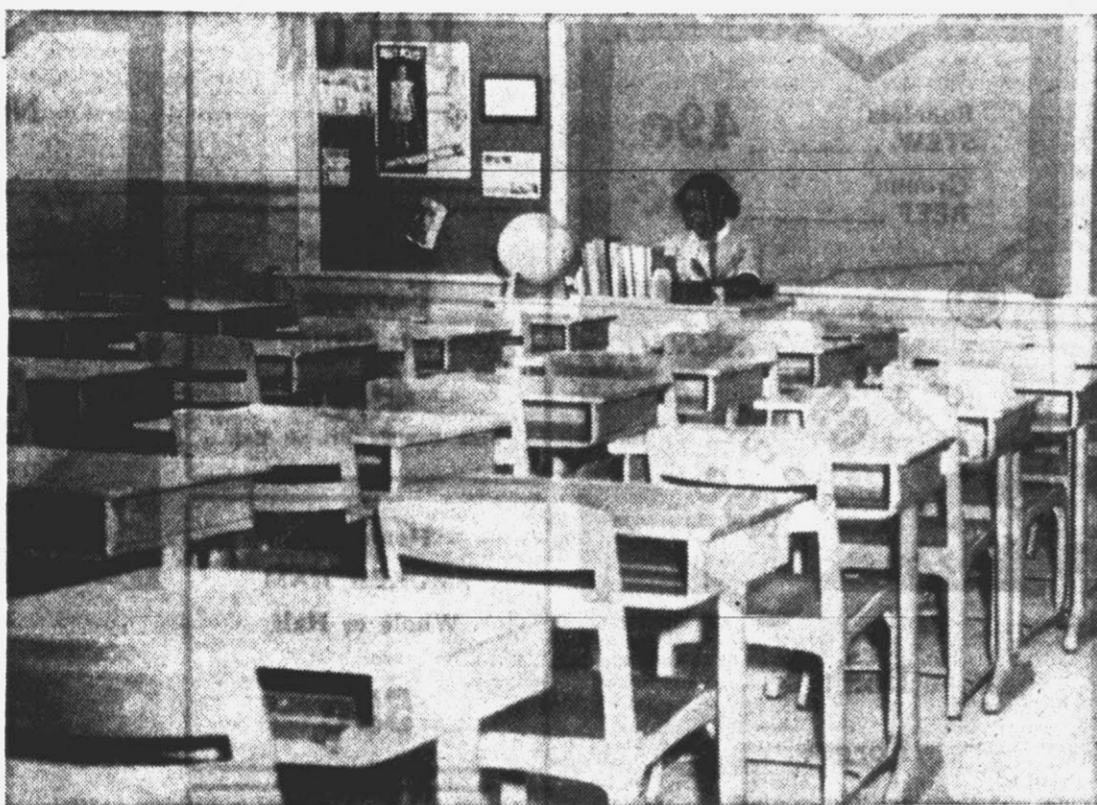

Two of the defendants, on trial since last month, were sentenced to life imprisonment. Four were given lesser jail terms and two others were acquitted.

The court gave no verdict in the cases of two more defendants who were charged with forming a spy ring in 1951 but fled the country before their arrest was ordered.

Sentenced to hang were Mussa Lito Marzuk, a doctor in Cairo's long-established Israeli Hospital, and Samuel Azar, a Cairo teacher. Testimony at the public trial showed they played a leading part in the alleged spy ring which also was accused of attempted sabotage.

The accused Jews, some of them European-born, were arrested during an investigation which started last July after small incendiary bombs had set fires in the U.S. Information libraries in Cairo and Alexandria, in the Alexandria post office and in two Cairo movie houses.

One of the defendants, German-born Max Beneth, committed suicide in his cell Dec. 21 while the trial was in progress.

This new sixth grade classroom at the South Greenville School is equipped with new furniture for its 38 students, and like the other new rooms, provides ample blackboard space for easy view by all the pupils. The new classrooms are 22 x 36 feet in dimension and will accommodate 35 students easily. At present there are in the entire school now two first grades, two second grades, two third grades, two fourth, one fifth and one sixth grade.

Near Blackout On Fleet News

2. Fleet size.
3. Fleet disposition.

These restrictions have been applied so broadly and severely as to withhold anything but a trickle of minor feature stories.

The Navy insists the restrictions are not censorship. However, the restrictions are actually a censorship much, much tighter than any formal censorship applied by the U.N. Command in the Korean War.

All correspondents with the fleet have been required to sign fresh agreements to submit their stories to the ship captain or higher commander for clearance. Even if the stories pass the captain, they must be sent to the commander of the Pacific Fleet in Pearl Harbor, then to the Navy chief of information in Washington for ultimate release. As a result, almost no news of the fleet has been cleared for publication.

The fleet commander, Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride has refused repeated requests, some made face-to-face to allow newsmen to work aboard the flagship.

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Police will no longer stop trucks to solicit drivers to purchase tickets for the annual policeman's ball. Mayor John Collins put an end to the Police Department's 19-year custom yesterday after Patrolman Harry Grabenstetter, 27, was struck by an automobile while standing in the middle of a street stopping trucks.

HOW TO READ a floor plan is illustrated graphically in this three-dimensional plan, which virtually shows the house as you would look down with the roof removed. You can imagine walking in the front door and visualize every turn you would make in passing from room to room. This three-bedroom, two-bathroom house with basement and two-car garage was designed by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y. as his plan 7253. The house covers 1,675 square feet, without porch and garage.

Turk And Iraq Treaty Breaks Arab 'Log Jam'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Iraq-Turkish defense agreement provided the diplomatic dynamite needed to break an Arab League log jam blocking Middle East security schemes for nine years.

The idea of regional defense bloc linking Turkey and the Arabs was proposed as far back as 1946, but Arab governments spurned the offer until Iraq's action this month. Such a solution was in the past offered to the Arab League as a whole, however, and was considered by the Arab states as a bloc.

The concept of a Turk-Arab defense bloc developed when it became clear that Britain would have to quit the Suez Canal zone. The Arabs were on both sides for the long delay in getting Arab and Turk united.

The Turks themselves were not enthusiastic about the idea at first. Most modern Turks like to think of themselves as Europeans, not Orientals.

From the Arab side, there were a long list of grievances against Turkey. Nationalistic Arabs saw in Turkey a tool used by the West to continue its domination of the Arab world. On the touchy Palestinian case, the Arabs felt Turkey had stabbed them in the back by quickly recognizing the state of Israel and becoming that country's best customer.

Syria and Lebanon harbor old grudges against Turkey.

At almost any given time, at least one Arab state was anti-Turkish that a pact between Turkey and the Arabs as a bloc was vetoed.

It was only when an impatient Iraq claimed the right to conduct bilateral negotiations with Turkey that a solution was found. Turkey's Premier Adnan Menderes and Iraq's realistic Nuri Said agreed on a defense pact. This kicked up trouble inside the Arab League, with the Egyptians particularly annoyed at not being consulted earlier. But the Baghdad agreement seems to point the way for individual Arab states to make alliances with Turkey, Pakistan, or Iran, without waiting for Saudi Arabia, Yemen or Egypt to consent and cooperate.

It no longer is necessary to have all the Arab states in a Middle East defense pact. Those not ready to join may stay out without wrecking the scheme.

Uranium Fever Strikes Pupils

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—Since they got a Geiger counter and distance scale for the high school physics lab here, they can't keep students away.

Wilford Clark, head of the school's chemistry-physics department, says the southern Utah uranium fever seems to be behind it. The students have been bringing in a piecemeal avalanche of rocks for tests as to their possible radioactivity, he reported yesterday.

Tests Show Pig Is Smart Animal

IITHACA, N. Y. — (AP)—Cornell University specialists say the pig probably is the smartest of the hoofed animals. The scientists, Dr. H.H. Dukes and Dr. A.U. Moore, say the horse "just isn't too bright."

Tests here showed pigs to be quickest of the hoofed group in responding to signals for food. The scientists say that pigs get no chance to show their intelligence because they usually go to market before they are a year old.

Given a chance, the specialists feel, the pig can be one of the cleanest of animals. He roots around in the dirt partly because the sensitive feeling device in his snout helps keep him in contact with his environment. In effect, pigs, have "fingertips in their noses."

They rank the hoofed animals' intelligence as follows: pigs, mules, horses, goats and sheep. The specialists say cows probably rate below horses, but the evidence is not clear.

House Ablaze, Refused Rescue

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Mrs. Pearl McKersie, 41, refused to be rescued from her second-floor, smoke-filled bedroom after firemen raised a ladder to the window.

Flames were raging in the living room of the apartment, but Mrs. McKersie was wearing a shorty nightgown and she wasn't going to be embarrassed by climbing down the ladder.

Firemen finally battered down the front door, quelled the blaze and led Mrs. McKersie swathed in blankets, down the stairs.

Gambling Law Is Quickly Repealed

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—Charles L. Moore, 27, became Santa Cruz County district attorney Jan. 1.

Under an ordinance which banned all gambling — even penny ante poker — he promptly closed seven places in Watsonville where poker was permitted.

Last night, the Watsonville Board of Aldermen repealed the ordinance.

Carrier Midway Is Joining Fleet

SINGAPORE, Thursday (AP)—U.S. naval sources said today the scheduled visit here of the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier Midway has been canceled, apparently to speed the big ship on her way to duty with American naval forces concentrated around Formosa.

The Midway, which has been making calls at various ports on her way to join the U.S. 7th Fleet, had been scheduled to arrive here Feb. 4 for a two-day stay. Naval officials said she now is "heading north."

The Midway is one of the three largest carriers in commission. She is exceeded only by the still-building Forrestal class.

The 7th Fleet, which is expected to cover the withdrawal of the Nationalist Chinese garrison from the Tachens, now has attached to it the 38,100-ton carriers Wasp, Yorktown and Kearsarge and the 27,000-ton Essex. The Midway had been slated to replace one of these craft.

Meanwhile, four U.S. destroyers cut short a courtesy stay here today touching off speculation they might be on their way to rejoin the 7th Fleet. But naval sources said the destroyers—the Brownson, S. B. Roberts, Charles H. Roan and Forrest Royal — presumably were continuing their voyage to the United States after service in Korean waters as originally intended.

About one American child in five goes to the hospital in a year's time and the average stay is about five days, life insurance statistics indicate.

Bible Words for Today

ROMANS 8: 38, 39—"I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus, our Lord." (RSV).

The Apostle Paul runs the gamut, here, in his listing of the possible things that can happen to a person in his lifetime. Paul, in his own lifetime, had experienced many more hardships—much more persecution—than most of us have ever experienced, or will ever experience, in our lives: imprisonments, beatings with lashes and rods, stoning, shipwrecks, in hunger and thirst, in danger from robbers and false brethren. This statement was, then, no idle sentence to fill up a letter. It was a statement of personal faith—a faith that had been tried and tested over and over again in the fires of adversity. It was this solid, steadfast, tried faith, upon which Paul had built his Christian life, that enabled him to write to the church at Ephesus, from his Roman prison, near the end of his life: "always and for everything giving, thanks in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God the Father."

It is this vital, tested, personal faith in the living God of Jesus Christ that alone can give us the security, the peace of mind and soul, the hope that we so desperately need in this great hour of testing, when world tensions are so acute, and the weapons of warfare are so horrible. Let us never forget that the love of God in Christ is stronger than any power in the world; and that we may abide in that everlasting power and love and security by faith, through Jesus Christ, who lived, and died, and rose again, and lives eternally "at the right hand of God, the Father," that through him, all men may live in eternal security.

Temperament Cost Actress Star Roles

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Three years ago, Jody Lawrence costarred with Burt Lancaster in "10 Tall Men." Today she is a waitress in an ice cream shop near the UCLA campus.

How could this happen? She was dropped by the shop to find out. She was dressed in the immaculate waitress uniform. If anything, she looked prettier than when I saw her on the set of "10 Tall Men."

"It was partly my fault," she began, explaining her slip from film prominence. "I see now that I was temperamental. I didn't cooperate with publicity. I didn't want to do cheesecake, not because my legs were bad because they aren't. My entire training had been as an actress, and I didn't want to submit to the usual startle routine. If I had it over again, I would do it differently. I realize now that cheesecake and publicity are an important part of the movie business."

Jody said her movie career began five years ago. She was 19.

Icy Blasts From Canada Hit U.S.

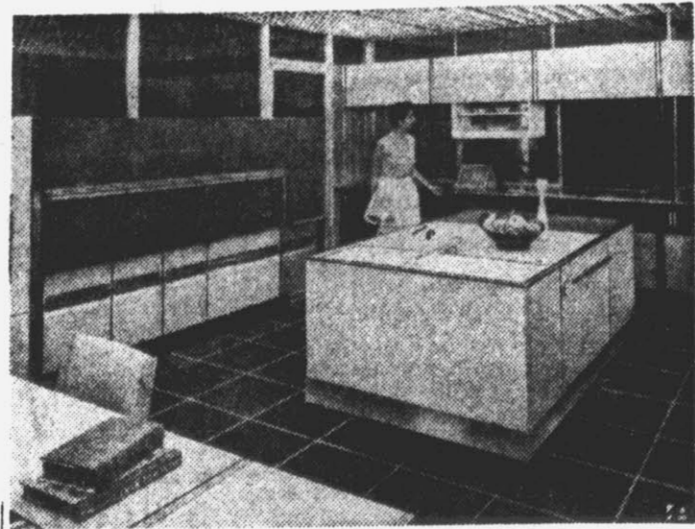

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bone-chilling cold gripped the Midwest today as icy blasts from Canada sent temperatures tumbling to more than 30 degrees below zero in Minnesota. The entire north central region was in a deep freeze with the coldest weather of the winter season. Below zero readings were general throughout the area. The arctic air mass which moved southward over the Northern Plains and Great Lakes region headed eastward toward the northern Appalachians and New England.

Skiers generally were clear over the frigid belt but snow was on the ground in most sections. Strong nor'west winds, more than 20 m.p.h. in some places, intensified the cold. Temperatures dropped from 5 to 29 degrees since yesterday and it was below zero southward to north end Missouri and central Illinois. In Bemidji, Minn., it was 31 below zero. In Chicago, temperatures dropped from a high of 23 yesterday to 8 below zero this morning, the coldest day in nearly four years.

There was a warming trend across most of the South except in parts of Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas and through the Middle Atlantic states. Lowest reading in that area was 28 at Cross City, Fla.

Precipitation was limited to snow flurries across the northeast quarter of the country and in some parts of the Northern Plains, and a narrow band of rain in parts of Arkansas and western Tennessee.

Navy To Unveil Newest Destroyer Class Soon

By C. YATES MCDANIEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The lead ship of the Navy's first new line of all-purpose destroyers since World War II will be unveiled next week with the launching of the USS Forrest P. Sherman.

The widow of Adm. Sherman, who was chief of naval operations at the time of his death in 1951, will christen the ship Feb. 5 at the yards of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. The vessel has been designed as a prototype that can be reproduced rapidly by the hundreds if war comes.

Ten other destroyers of the new class are building, five at Bath and five at the Quincy, Mass., yards of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. The navy has described the new ships as "fast, flexible and potent." Their speed, still a secret will be more than the 35 knots of existing ships of this type. They will also be somewhat larger than the World War II 2,425-tonners but lighter, because aluminum alloys are being used for most of the superstructure. Experts, including interior decorators and color scheme artists, worked to make the destroyers as habitable and comfortable as a 390-foot vessel can be while housing some 350 people. They will be air conditioned throughout. The galleys have been arranged so that the crews can get hot food and eat it on tables near the source of preparation. Recreational areas in the mess-rooms will be fitted out with chairs and writing desks. Sleeping quarters have been moved around so that they are relatively free from noise, heat and vibration.

There will be perforated metal partitions between bunks, each of which will have individually controlled reading lights. In the wash-rooms, each man will have a private drawer.

Board To Meet In High Point

RALEIGH (AP)—The State Board of Conservation and Development plans to hold its spring meeting in High Point April 5-7.

This was decided yesterday as the board ended its annual winter meeting. Gov. Hodges told the group that when state and local government taxes are compared in package form with those of other states, North Carolina ranks very well.

Hodges said hundreds of letters had been received by his office from persons complaining that North Carolina taxes are high enough now. He urged the board members to "help explain the true tax picture" as it exists in North Carolina.

Carolians On Sub 'Nautilus'

GROTON Conn. (AP)—The submarine base here has disclosed that three Carolinians are among the 162 naval and civilian personnel on the shakedown cruise of the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus.

JAMESTOWN, N.D. (AP)—His granddaughter, Daphna wasn't present when Alfred Schollander, a loyal Republican, cut a cake on his 99th birthday and wished that "Mr. Eisenhower would be a candidate for re-election in 1956." The granddaughter, Daphna Nygaard of Jamestown, is Democratic national committeewoman or North Dakota.

Water Nymph In A Safer Place

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Water nymphs—as anyone with a book on Greek mythology in hand should know—should be appeased—not badged. Both a water nymph and you may be in for some bad luck.

With these facts in mind, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts decided to move its water nymph statue from the entrance and let it guard a lesser fountain inside the main building. Adult art devotees it seems, were regularly appeasing the nymph and courting good fortune by tossing coins in the fountain. But small boys were regularly risking her wrath by fishing out the coins before the museum could get around to it.

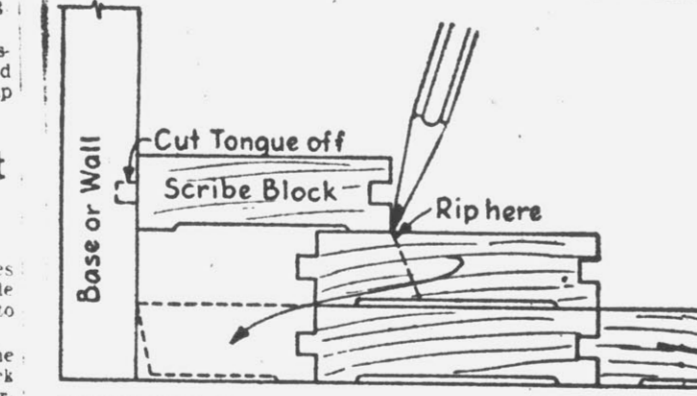

Scary Trip For Five-Year-Old

TARIFVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Alan Lee Bolin Sr., gasped when he saw his car leave the curb where he'd parked it with his five-year-old son, Alan in the front seat.

The car rolled down the zig-zagging from one side to the other, but missing parked cars along the way. At the foot of the grade, it swerved into a parking space and halted. Racing to it, Bolin found his son behind the wheel.

"I'm scared, Daddy," said the youngster. "Me too," said Bolin as he slid into the driver's seat.

N. C. Officer Emerges As Key Trial Witness

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—A veteran combat infantryman emerged today as a key witness in Maj. Ambrose H. Nugent's general court-martial on Army charges that he collaborated with the enemy in Korea.

The soldier, a stocky, 53-year-old North Carolinian with cropped brown hair, is Sgt. Marvin E. Talbert, brought here from Ft. Bragg as the first to testify against Nugent.

The Army is apparently basing its case on his testimony that the artillery officer behaved as if seeking favor from his captors.

Nugent, 44, a native of Merrill, Wis., has pleaded innocent to all 13 specifications against him.

Talbert faced another grilling today from Nugent's defenders who expect him to testify on charges other than the first two brought up in yesterday's session.

They attacked the sergeant's brief direct testimony—a story of four soldiers taken prisoner July 5, 1950, when their outfits were overrun by North Korean forces about 35 miles south of Seoul.

Of the four, only Nugent and Talbert are alive. The other two, identified only as a machinegunner "King" and a signalman named "DuBois," reportedly died in prison camp.

Talbert, whose home is in Albemarle, N.C., was an assistant field wire chief with a headquarters company of the 24th Infantry Division.

He testified he met Nugent when the four were taken to a Korean dwelling for interrogations. Later he said, they were removed to another hut, lined against a kitchen wall with a North Korean officer alternately pressing a pistol to each prisoner's head.

Nugent, Talbert asserted, several times pleaded: "Me personnel officer. Me can help you. Me have wife and kids."

Talbert said Nugent, stumbling from weariness and pulled several times to his feet by the others, told them: "I can't make it."

Maj. Robert E. Hough, chief defense counsel, played a record of his pretrial examination of Talbert in an attempt to show inconsistency in the witness' statements.

Law Officer Lt. Col. Donald L. Manes Jr., who said he had never heard of such procedure, was saved an immediate ruling on admissibility to the record when Talbert protested that the recording was not a complete transcript of his interview.

Hough then withdrew his request to admit the transcript as an exhibit, explaining it covered only matters on which Talbert had testified. He indicated he would offer it again after the witness' story is fully told.

Plans To Push Congressional Pay Boost Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) said today he will move for immediate approval by the House Judiciary Committee of a pay boost for members of Congress that would total $100,000 a year.

Prior to the committee meeting today there were indications of prompt action on congressional and judicial salary increases.

Walter predicted to newsmen that legislation raising members' pay from $15,000 to $25,000 a year would be approved and sent to the House for expected passage without committee hearings.

The Senate Judiciary Committee opened hearings on the question this week.

The $10,000 increase is $2,500 more than is provided in bills already introduced by Walter and Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House group.

Walter said he would agree to suggestions by Key House members to revise his bill upward to call for the higher figure.

He told reporters he had received "complaints about rushing this thing" from members concerned over public reaction to passage of salary raises at almost the first legislative business of the House.

Members now are paid $12,500 in salary and $2,500 a year in expense money for which they need not give an accounting. They also get other accountable expense allowances.

Reports Russia Stockpiling Big Nuclear Supply

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Air Force vice chief of staff says Russia is stockpiling "tremendously destructive nuclear weapons" and a bomber fleet capable of striking North America.

Gen. Thomas D. White said, "This threat is not in the future, it is here today and it is real."

In a speech delivered to a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner last night, Gen. White said he believed U.S. military leaders would be remiss in their duty if they did not call attention to the "urgency and terrible reality of the situation."

Gen. White said the primary problem of the Air Force now is shortage of trained men. He said the re-enlistment rate has dropped under 30 per cent, and is below 15 per cent among experienced technicians.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Arrested in the act of stealing equipment at an amusement park here, the culprit told police: "I just couldn't afford to tell you my name. You see, I was in trouble once before—when I was a child."

The arresting officers turned the 7-year-old boy over to his parents, after he relented and gave his name.

To Begin Classes For Local Amateur Artists

The Recreation Commission will begin a series of classes for amateur artists on February 1, Warren Carroll, recreation director announced today.

Classes are to be instructed by Mrs. Donna Tabar and will be open to all age groups.

"The course is designed not only for those who have painted before, but also for those who have never painted and who would like to learn," Carroll said.

"Painting for fun is in no way a formal art class," the recreation director continued. "It is for amateurs and will be instructed by an amateur. Mrs. Tabar will instruct the classes and even though she says that she is an amateur she has a very good knowledge of paints and know how."

Carroll noted that Mrs. Tabar was in charge of the paintings done on the scenes that were used in the Christmas parade and later located during the holidays at Elm Street Park.

Registration for the classes is to begin next Tuesday in the Recreation Building at Elm Street Park at 4 o'clock. Registration will also be held Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Classes will be held at the same times each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

"The plan now is to gradually add other arts and crafts to the program; however the variety of those will greatly depend on the interest of the participants," Carroll stated.

"There will be no charge for the program; however, participants will supply their own materials," he continued. "We hope to make arrangements to have several beginners oils sets and other supplies available at the first classes for the convenience of those who desire such materials."

BALTIMORE (AP)—A "chariot race" up the middle of a Baltimore street cost two junk wagon drivers $10 each yesterday.

A police car joined the race and finished first. Officers said there were four cheering passengers in one wagon and three in the other.

Hyman McKinley and James E. Patterson, 17-year-old Negroes, paid their fines on charges of cruelty to animals.

Set Action For GI School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders arranged for quick action today on a limited GI schooling bill—a likely curtain raiser for more far-reaching veterans' legislation in the new Congress.

The measure would permit an estimated 1,400,000 men in the armed forces by Jan. 31 to keep on accruing postservice education rights beyond that date.

That cutoff date was fixed by President Eisenhower in an order which also canceled various Korean War veterans benefits for men entering service after that date.

The education bill, offered by Committee Chairman Teague (D-Tex.), has Eisenhower's approval. It would let men in service by the end of this month continue to accrue education rights at the present rate of 1 1/2 days for each day in service, up to the existing maximum of 36 months' schooling—a benefit worth about $5,000 per man. It would cost the government an estimated 350 million dollars or more over the next few years.

Wage Guaranty Seen A Problem

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell says the guaranteed annual wage is likely to be the major problem at bargaining sessions across the nation this year.

Mitchell, here to speak tonight at a national industrial relations meeting, said at a news conference: "The question of guaranteed wages already has come up in CIO talks, and there is every reason to believe it will come up elsewhere."

Fleet Commander In Navy 37 Years

By JAMES MOORE
 Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, who joined the Navy 37 years ago as an enlisted man, is a bold, 47-year-old grandfather with a light red mustache and a twinkle in his gray eyes—a family man and a churchgoer. His subordinates say he is tolerant, understanding, good-tempered and unswayed at leisure, and quietly become his marshall at work. He has a sense of humor and never misses anything. Once, on hearing the strong language of a young enlisted sailor, he remarked: "How such young boys could learn so much foul language in such a short time I'll never know." While he is "easy to know—not the dominating type," as one officer phrased it, he commands the full respect of his men. He is of medium height, robust and muscular. He does not use tobacco. In drinks, he limits himself to two cocktails; takes them only to be sociable. "I've never seen such a conscientious man—he's always worrying about the taxpayers' money," said a fellow officer. Pride, the officer added, pays from his own pocket for many entertainment expenses he feels he cannot charge legitimately to the government. The initial M. stands for Melville and the only nickname he has ever had is Mel. Only his closest friends call him that. Pride was born in Somerville, Mass., Sept. 10, 1897. He attended engineering school at Tufts College before he enlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserve early in 1917 as a machinist mate, second class. He transferred to the regular service in 1921 and in the '20s became a naval test pilot. His left leg was broken in a crash. It has never been the same since. Pride has checked out in almost everything the Navy has to fly, including helicopters. He still is an active flier. Only two days ago he was at the controls of an R4D, the Navy version of the twin-engine military transport plane, on a flight from Taipei to Tainan in southern Formosa and back. He commanded first a bombing and then a fighting squadron on the Langley, the Navy's first carrier, and held various assignments in the United States. In 1943 he assumed command of the newly commissioned carrier Belleau Wood and served with distinction in the Pacific. In 1944 he was promoted to rear admiral and assigned to duty at Pearl Harbor. Duty in Washington and at sea followed until May 1947, when he was appointed chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington. He was named commander of

ADMIRAL PRIDE

Carrier Division 2 in 1951 and the next year was made commander of the naval air test center at Patuxent River, Md. He assumed command of the 7th Fleet with the rank of vice admiral Dec. 1, 1953.

NO ONE HURT: — Asbestos-clad Navy firefighter (right) walks away from a crashed Panther jet on the flight deck of the carrier Yorktown after a landing mishap during maneuvers in Asian waters. The plane, piloted by Lt. Don Hegrat of Cleveland, O., plowed through two low barriers and into a 20-foot high nylon barricade as Lt. Hegrat's landing hook broke when it caught a steel deck plate instead of a landing cable. No one was hurt. This picture was made by Associated Press newsman Forrest Edwards, assigned aboard the Yorktown. (AP Wirephoto).

Teachers' Turn To Treat Pupils

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Sixth-grade pupils at West Lawn School saved their pennies and bought 29 doughnuts for an after-school treat. The doughnuts were placed in the principal's office for safekeeping. At the end of the day, the kids found only six doughnuts left, seems some teachers had thought they were left over from a parent-teachers meeting and ate them up. That made it teacher's turn to treat.

Lay Helpless For Three Weeks

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—A man who lay helpless, with heavy burns for three weeks before discovery has been hospitalized here in critical condition. Victor J. Killiany, 69, who lives alone, was discovered yesterday in his small Cambridge country home by a neighbor. From his bed in Guernsey Memorial Hospital he told authorities he managed to keep alive by eating bits of bread after a kerosene stove exploded, burning his entire body.

Blood Donation Was Secondary

SCRIBNER, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Raymond Zucker's panel truck and a sled collided, sending Conley Mosler, 7, tumbling onto the icy street. She hurried to a hospital with Conley and his parents. While waiting there, she learned of a patient whose life at the moment depended on a certain type of blood. Mrs. Zucker gave a pint. Conley's injury was a slight cut on the head.

Harriman And New York's GOP Legislature In Clash

By RICHARD F. HUNT
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman and the Republicans who control New York's Legislature are at war. The outcome could have an impact on the presidential race next year. Skirmishing began soon after Harriman was elected last Nov. 2 over Republican Senator Irving M. Ives as the state's first Democratic governor in 12 years. Since his inauguration Jan. 1 as successor to Thomas E. Dewey, Harriman and the GOP leaders of the Legislature have been engaged in a steady crossfire. Issues include taxes, workers' benefits, a number of Harriman's appointments, the record of Dewey's administration and whether bingo should be legalized immediately. Harriman feels that what he does as governor could show the nation what a Democrat could do in the White House. He is plugging for a party victory nationally in 1956, and although he says he favors Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination, some observers believe Harriman himself would like to get the nod. The Republicans have enough votes in the Legislature to defeat any Harriman measure. But Harriman also has a potent weapon—his power of veto. The war would develop into a stalemate. The governor can't get his program through the Legislature without Republican help—and credit for the GOP. The Republicans don't have the votes to override Harriman's veto on their own programs. Three major quarrels have broken out already. Round 1: Harriman said the state had been spending beyond its income for years under Dewey. He asserted that the state's capital construction fund was over-committed and short of cash. One of his first acts was to freeze big state construction contracts pending a view of the fund. The Republicans contended that he was "jeopardizing thousands of jobs" and demanded that he revoke a "hasty and ill-advised decision."

Round 2: The Republicans passed bills keeping state income and unincorporated business taxes at their present levels—an abatement of about 4 1/2 million dollars to taxpayers this year. Harriman declared he would veto them as "irresponsible." The GOP claimed Harriman's stand was proof he planned a "high-tax administration." But the governor still could move to continue the abatements. He has not yet disclosed his plans. Round 3: The Senate withheld confirmation of five of Harriman's appointments, including that of Carmine G. De Sapio, a Democratic national committeeman, as secretary of state. De Sapio is leader of Tammany Hall, the Mahanian Democratic organization. The issue has not yet reached a showdown.

He resigned the commission to take the master sergeant's rating because he thinks he can do a better job in the ranks. He will report to the reception center at Ft. Dix, N. THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Doctor at the CROSSROADS ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Dr. Fred Beier had come from St. Louis to the little town of Jennings, Missouri, where he served as a general practitioner. He was happy in his work here, happy with Katie, his wife. But now, at the end of three years, Katie sensed danger to their marriage. Sensed it in the person of Linda Kyle, a gracious young matron whose genuine kindness to people in distress, had won her a place in the doctor's affections. The people of Jennings realized that young Beier was a good doctor, and he was grateful to them for their support. They'd given him a hospital of sorts, an old house, remodeled and converted into a clinic. One evening Dr. Beier was suddenly summoned to the home of Linda Kyle. Here he found her elderly husband stricken, dying, perhaps.

that knowledge killed him because he had trusted Theo and his father. They—they had a charm, Fred. They could make anything seem right. The man upstairs is only a locust-shell of the man Theo used to be. But he drank before ever I married him; I am not to blame for that!

CHAPTER TEN

Fred did not move. Or speak. She was overwrought; the sedative was acting like a strong drink upon her, but she could speak. "He told you that I married Theo for his money?" This she did. Mirandy had said so this same evening. "I did not. A man couldn't have that much money! Theo was nearly thirty years older than I. He was my father's friend. I adored my father so much that, at eighteen, and younger men did not appeal to me. I know that is a psychological thing, but it happens. When Theo asked me to marry him, I was flattered and thrilled. I didn't know what love was, what I could be doing that. Before that was married, can be!" Her voice lifted to the thin edge of hysteria. "Oh, Fred, you don't know! This is my house, Fred! My great-grandfather built it—and I've let the Kyles come in here. How would he have hated me for doing this. Before that was married, my father guessed what the Kyles were, what they would do. I think what is the word? Inexorable. He is going to die isn't he?" Fred walked to the hall door, stood there for a moment in thought, then came back to her. "I don't know, Linda," he said harshly. "He has suffered some sort of brain accident—a clot, or hemorrhage. There may be nothing any one can do, but I don't know. I would like a consultation on this case. You would let me call in a specialist?" Still unutterably weary, she smiled, almost serenely. Talking had cleared away the confusion and panic. "I trust you completely, Fred."

"I know," he said. "I'll see you tomorrow." The friend whom Fred had wanted to call in consultation was a Dr. Murphy Hudson. He and Fred Beier had gone through high school, college and medical school together, close friends, with every one wondering why. The reason for this wonder was evident on the sunny morning when Fred met Murphy's train. Fred came whirling up to the platform just as the train pulled in; his hair was rumpled, his suit looked as if it had been pulled on hastily as indeed it had been. He'd already put in a heavy morning's work at the hospital. Murphy stepped down from the single coach looking as he might have from the elevator of the big city building where he had an office. "Slick" was what Fred's mother called Murphy. And slick he was. Like a well-brushed cat. His face was glossy, his dark hair was smooth and brown, his dark gray suit and plain tie were impeccable. "Four hours to fly to Denver, four hours to climb your mountain—not more than a hundred miles! How are you, Fred? You look terrible." Fred laughed and reached for the heavier of the two bags. Both were of golden leather, properly rubbed and stickered. "It's good to see you, Murph. We—" He broke off and set the bag down. Mirandy was charging down upon them, her eyes on Murphy, her hoarse voice buzzing at Fred. "Did you get my call, Fred? Don't they give you messages? I have to see you!" She was wearing one of the "fiesta" dresses which she affected. This one was of dull blue, the bodice slipping from her thin shoulders, the long, full skirt untraced. On her feet were thonged sandals. A belt of heavy silver discs circled her waist, a necklace of silver was hung about her throat. Her pale hair blew in the mountain wind.

"It's imperative that I see you, Fred! I'm staying here in town for a time, so come to the studio—I'm working like mad!" Fred stooped again for the bag. "I'll see you sometime, Mirandy," he said brusquely and with his guest, walked over to the station wagon. Murphy's eyebrow was up. "I see our Fritz is still woman-bait," he said to no one in particular. Fred looked startled, but laughed. "Get in, Murph," he said urgently. "Before any more natives, attack us, eh?" laughed his friend. "We have but one Mirandy," Fred assured him. "A plethora, I'd say. Who is she?" Fred shrugged. "A woman of the loose. Name's Mirandy Bell. She has some money. Rents a house here in town, owns a ranch in the valley. Calls herself a writer."

"What do you call her?" Murphy was still watching Mirandy, who was now talking to a group of paid-idling men standing beside the idling train. Fred chuckled and started the car. "All that was for your benefit, Mirandy can smell a new man a hundred miles away." "And you didn't introduce us!" "Oh, heavens, one doesn't need to with Mirandy. Next time she sees you, you'll be old friends." "I'll try to wait."

CIO Challenges Prosperity Note By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO and one of former President Truman's economic advisers yesterday challenged President Eisenhower's claim of a strong economic comeback in 1954 and his optimistic forecast of a "high and satisfactory level of employment within the current year."

Both Stanley H. Ruttenberg, the CIO's education and research director, and Leon Keyserling, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under Truman, took issue with Eisenhower's Jan. 26 economic report to Congress as the Senate-House Economic Committee opened hearings on the document. Ruttenberg said in prepared testimony the economy operated at lower levels in 1954 than in 1953, although he conceded that "within the last two or three months there have been signs of an upturn in the economy." But, said the CIO spokesman, "employment in manufacturing industries is still running more than a million behind a year ago," with part-time employment "still greater."

national production at about 360 billion dollars. He said that with "wise management" this could be upped to 500 billion within 10 years. In his economic report, Eisenhower said recovery from the 18-month business recession "has already made up half of the preceding decline in industrial production about past achievements. Nor can we gloat over the fact that a depression has been avoided."

Ruttenberg, in an apparent reference to statements like this in the Eisenhower report, said that "with a growing and expanding economy and the need for further expansion, we cannot afford to be-pret the employment situation in this area. The Colorado State Employment Service figures showed employment was up, but so were unemployment and the number of jobs open. The area is attracting new population because of the recent uranium boom.

Long-Range U. S. Plans Of Safety Rest On Formosa

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Red Chinese captured Formosa they would not only break the American defense line in the far Pacific but might go on eventually to isolate all eastern Asia and drive American forces back to Hawaii.

The Chinese Communists' capture of Formosa would not endanger the United States in the sense that, once there, they could launch an attack on this country. The danger to the United States would be long range.

There are three reasons—military, political and psychological—for the Eisenhower administration to announce American determination to defend Formosa from attack by the Chinese Communists.

The American defense line—intended to keep the Russian and Chinese Communists from grabbing another inch of Pacific territory—now runs down the east coast of Asia this way:

From the Aleutians through Japan, on to Okinawa where this country has a big air base, on to Formosa and then to the Philippines. This country has close ties with Japan, with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa, and with the Philippines.

Below the Philippines, and lying off the southeast coast of Asia, are the big but scattered islands of Indonesia, where the Communists have been seeking power, so far unsuccessfully.

When the Japanese made war on this country, they struck south at the Philippines from Formosa, which they then held, and moved down on down to Indonesia.

Formosa is about 220 miles from the Philippines, about 350 from Okinawa, and about 700 from Japan. If the Red Chinese got Formosa, it would menace America's defenses and the allies north and south.

The Reds might not have to make a military attack on the Philippines or on Japan. Their prestige in Asia would soar. The will of the Japanese and the Philippines to resist Red Chinese pressure from within and without might weaken, if not at once, then later.

The Communists in Indonesia would also be strengthened. Unless the United States carried out its pledge to defend Formosa against the Chinese Communists, it could hardly maintain in the eyes of Asians its present position of Western leadership.

And if Japan, Formosa, the Philippines and Indonesia should fall to the Communists, this country's defense line in the Pacific would be forced back to Hawaii. In eastern Asia would be under Red control.

FORMOSA—KEY LINK IN OUR DEFENSES: — Here is how Formosa stands as the most advanced outpost in the Pacific island defenses of the United States and the western world as noted by President Eisenhower in a special message to Congress. The President termed Formosa a vital link in the island chain of the western Pacific that constitutes the geographical backbone of the security structure of the U. S. and other free nations. Triumphant Return For Captain Queeg

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Capt. Queeg has returned in triumph to Hollywood.

This Queeg is Lloyd Nolan long known as a quietly competent performer in the films. Hollywood now takes a different view of him since his dramatic pyrotechnics on Broadway in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial." His finely shaded study of the neurotic captain drew raves from critics and audiences alike.

It was a great satisfaction for Nolan, who has been one of the movie's most underrated performers. With some exceptions— notably "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn"—he has usually been cast as a suave hoodlum or an honest cop. Since his Broadway hit, he has been sought for a variety of roles.

"But don't get me wrong," he told me. "I'm not knocking type casting. It has done very well by me. I've seen what can happen to actors who try to fight it. Like Paul Muni, who untyped himself right out of pictures."

"However, it is a satisfaction to have producers want you for something besides a soft-spoken maniac."

Nolan won't be able to accept the attractive offers for a while. Having just wound up the New York run in the play, he opens shortly in Chicago. Then he'll come here with the play and show the hometowners what he can do.

The actor has already played Queeg over 500 times, never missing a performance. It's a tense role, requiring a breakdown on the

Twenty-Nine Students On East Carolina Honor List

Twenty-nine students at East Carolina College received special attention on honors lists just issued by Registrar Orval L. Phillips. In their academic work they achieved the enviable record of making the highest possible marks in all classes in which they were enrolled during the fall quarter at the college.

Their records entitle them to inclusion in the "all 1's" category, on the Dean's List of students with very high scholastic standing, and on the college honor roll.

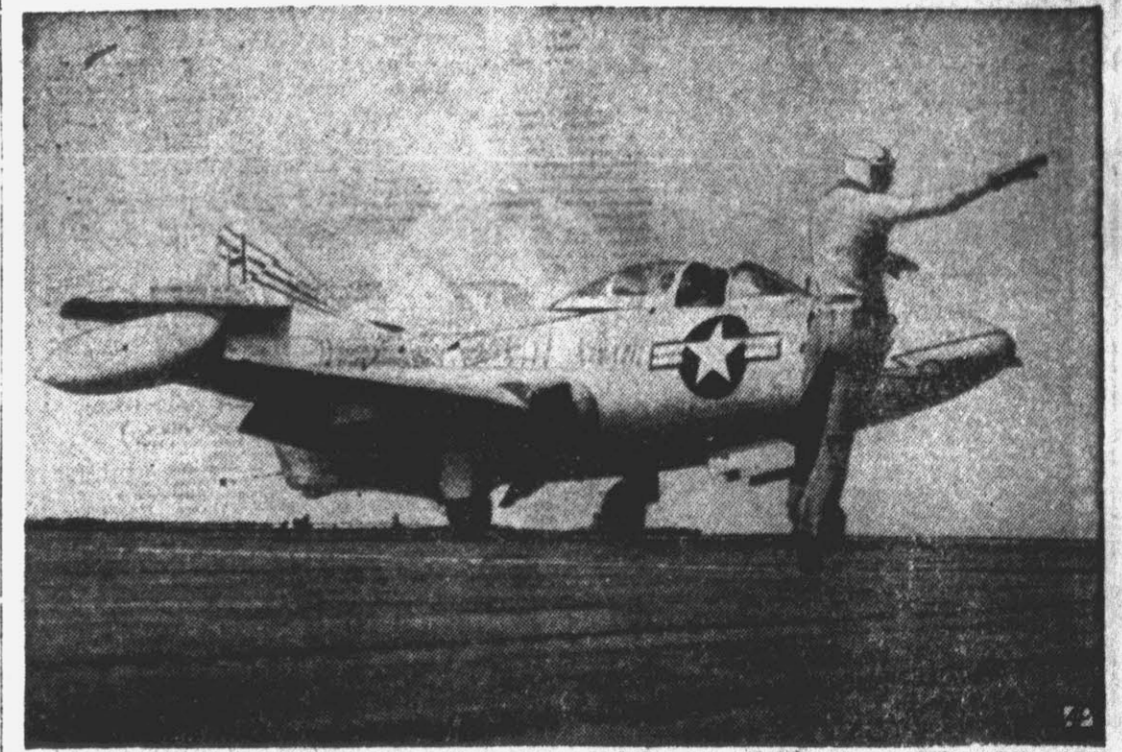

The twenty-nine students receiving highest honors include eleven men and eighteen women. Seniors in this group number thirteen, juniors two, sophomores eight, and freshmen six. All but one are North Carolinians.

Those honored on the "all 1's" list are:

Lewis Bell Barnes, Enfield; Virginia C. Bobbitt, Rich Square; Anne Hendrix Bright, Elizabeth City; Sara Parkin Brooks, Beaufort; Helen Kathryn Crede, Scranton; Margaret Moore-Eason, Sharpburg; James R. Career Soldier Prefers Stripes

NEW YORK (AP)—Jake William Lindsey, whose heroism in World War II won him a Medal of Honor, is a master sergeant again after wearing a second lieutenant's bars for more than two years.

The 33-year-old soldier gave up his commission when he returned from Germany last week and was discharged. He was sworn back into the service as a master sergeant yesterday.

"I'm just a sergeant at heart," he commented.

"I just think I can do a better job in the Army as a sergeant. I talk like a sergeant. If you are an officer, that kind of talk don't go with recruits in the new Army."

Lindsey, who commanded an infantry platoon in Germany, said he hopes to get back with the paratroopers. He served with them in Korea before being commissioned at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1952.

Except for a year and a half after World War II and the five days between his discharge and yesterday's re-enlistment when he signed up at his home town of Shubuta, Miss., Lindsey has been in the Army since 1940.

A routine physical examination turned up the possibility that Lindsey might have diabetes, and almost wrecked his re-enlistment plans. Authorities, however, soon decided this would not apply to a Medal of Honor winner.

City Churches To Offer Classes For Teachers

A teacher-training school offering classes in the Old and New Testaments, youth work, and training the pre-school and early school child will be conducted next month by the Greenville city churches.

The school, sponsored by the Greenville Ministerial Association, will be held February 15-17 at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Sessions are open to the public, though the classes are being taught primarily for church school teachers and workers, according to a statement from the Rev. W. M. Howard Jr., chairman of the committee on arrangements. All the city churches are participating in the program, which includes ten periods, each lasting 50 minutes, to meet the standards of accreditation in most denominations, Rev. Howard said.

The school will begin on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with a general worship period, followed by classes at 3 and 4 p.m. During the week the sessions will begin with a class 9:30 p.m., followed by another at 8:30 p.m. The school will be concluded Thursday evening with a brief general assembly at 7:30 p.m.

Teaching the various courses will be Mrs. Olive Cook, training the pre-school child; Mrs. William White training early school children; the Rev. George Downey of Wilson, youth work; the Rev. Dr. Wallace I. Wolverton, the Old Testament; and the Rev. Percy B. Upchurch, the New Testament.

Spend $250,000 On Old Landmark

ROME (AP)—The ancient saying goes: "When the Colosseum falls, Rome will fall; and when Rome falls, so will the world."

Todays Rome is starting to spend $250,000 to save the Colosseum.

The almost 2,000-year-old landmark of ancient Rome has started falling again. Blocks of time-worn travertine weighing two or three tons have been crashing down from the four-story heights of the ancient stadium of gladiator games.

Prof. Carlo Ceschi, superintendent of monuments for Rome, says the vibration of modern street traffic causes damage almost like that of the earthquakes which in the second and fourth centuries made the stadium unusable.

"There is much to be done," Ceschi said, "and it must be done quickly. It is a matter of alarming urgency."

Work to hold the Colosseum together will take 2 1/2 years.

Wind, water and cold have pocked the Colosseum. Birds contribute to its destruction, by carrying fig seeds. Trees sprout 157 feet above the street of the imperial forums, and root in dirt accumulated between blocks fitted together in 80 A.D. The fig trees grow to three or four feet and growing roots wedge the stones apart.

Only a third of the original structure remains. Much was taken to build other Rome palaces.

In its heyday, the Colosseum was half again as big as New York's Yankee Stadium.

City Sponsoring Sightseers' Tour

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—City officials believe Phoenix is the only municipality in the United States sponsoring sightseeing and historical tours.

Louis Messinger of the Phoenix Parks and Recreation Department suggested formation of the Visitors Club a year and a half ago. He started it as a hobby. Now it is a regular organization sponsored by the city.

Visitors are taken on weekly tours to points of interest. Messinger goes along as guide and narrator.

Each tour is limited to 30 persons in a city bus. One of the features of the tours is a picnic, with food and coffee supplied by the Parks Department and prepared over a camp fire in the desert.

Although most of those making the tours are visitors from other states, there is one Phoenix couple who take nearly every trip. Mr. and Mrs. William Haine, who came here originally from the East, and became acquainted on one of the first trips. They continued to take the trips. Last February they were married.

Slingshot Artist Is A Marksman

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—It is no idle boast when Marine Master Sgt. Frank O. Freeman tells recruits here at pistol practice that he could do better with a sling shot.

In one demonstration, he slipped expended .45 caliber slugs into the target with his sling for a marksman qualifying score.

Realistic Touch In Defense Test

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—An unscheduled touch of realism was added to a civil defense test.

The script said three Snake River bridges were out, wrecked by imaginary bombs. But on the day of the test, one of the bridges really was knocked out. There was nothing imaginary about the truck that broke through it.

Paying Farmers To Dig Up Vines

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France's government is planning to pay up to $228.57 an acre to farmers willing to tear up low grade grape vines.

The idea is to improve the quality of French wine, and get the submarginal farmers producing crops more important to the country.

One of the substitute crops favored is rice.

Mendes-France is also campaigning against excessive drinking, which is encouraged by the availability of cheap low-quality wine. Tearing up the bad vines will tend to raise both the quality and price of wine on the market, and reduce the quantity.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — The stock market was a little higher today, but it seemed to be suffering somewhat from its buying spree of yesterday.

Gains and losses spread over a range of around a point and many stocks that were exceedingly strong yesterday were under pressure of profit taking today.

Trading dwindled down as prices backed and filled. The pace was less than yesterday's 2,800,000 shares.

Yesterday's market was boosted ahead when an almost unprecedented demand for steel sent prices up between 7 and 8 points in the case of U. S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel. It all happened after Big Steel directors raised the dividend and proposed to split the stock.

Today there was an opening rush to get those two stocks as well as General Motors and several others, but within a short time their gains began to fade.

Many smaller steel companies, strong in sympathy yesterday, displayed losses today that went from fractions to better than a point.

Some individual stocks were strong. Thompson Products was up the tape with a block of 10,100 shares up 3/4 at 49 and almost immediately pushed its gain to 2 points. Inspiration Copper gained between 3 and 4 in a flurry of buying. Western Union was strong. Corn Products, refining lost 1/2 yesterday, and after the close directors proposed a three-for-one split. It opened today on 2,700 shares at 88 up 5/8 and held firmly to its gain.

Western Auto Supply was ahead between 2 and 3 points on a 100 per cent stock dividend and a higher cash payment.

Studebaker-Packard was a buying favorite on the news that the company was getting into the guided missiles business on the West Coast.

Arrest Driver In 100-MPH Chase

AYDEN — Local police arrested William Robert Brown of Tarboro after a 100-mile-per-hour chase last night around 3 a.m.

Chief of Police J. A. Jones said Brown will be charged with possession of non-tax-paid liquor for purpose of sale, transporting illicit liquor; careless and reckless driving and speeding 100 miles per hour.

The man was released this morning on $800 bond and the case has been set for February 7 in Ayden Court.

Jones said Officers J. M. Whitehurst and Roy Jackson spotted Brown as he passed through Ayden and they began a chase which led through Greenville. The officers radioed ahead to Greenville police who assisted as the two speeding cars passed through town.

The chief said 20 cases containing 120 gallons of liquor were found on the car.

Little Change

Doctors said today there is not much change in the condition of Linwood Earl Newton as he entered his twelfth day on the critical list after being shot through the stomach.

Newton was operated upon for the third time yesterday since he was admitted to the hospital on January 15.

Brings $25,000 Damage Suit Against Local Man

A Greenville man, Johnny Wilson, has been sued for $25,000 damages in a civil suit filed in Superior Court yesterday. The suit was brought by Lucy Jordan, administratrix of the estate of Eugene Jordan, Greenville Negro, who died after allegedly being pushed by the defendant.

A bill of indictment charging Wilson with manslaughter in the case was dismissed by the Grand Jury in Superior Court on Tuesday. Wilson previously had been absolved of blame in the death in a preliminary hearing in late November.

Wilson's mother, Mrs. Cora Wilson, is also named as a defendant in the damage suit.

The suit charges that Wilson "violently and without cause" assaulted Jordan, "striking him about the head and face." The suit further states that Jordan died as the "direct result" of the injuries inflicted by Wilson, or by the injuries which Wilson caused to be inflicted. The alleged assault occurred at Wilson's Store on November 17, 1954. Jordan was said to have been causing trouble in the store, and in a drunken condition, when Wilson pushed him and Jordan fell back off the porch.

ABC officers were called and Jordan was removed to the city jail. The suit declares that the defendant "wrongfully and willfully told law enforcement officers that (Jordan) was drunk."

After staying several hours in city jail in an unconscious condition, Jordan was then taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment, and later died enroute to Duke Hospital in Durham.

Jordan's sister, who is also administratrix of the estate, states in the suit that she had been told that death would have been avoided if medical treatment had been administered to Jordan immediately after the fall. Instead, the suit continues, the deceased man was removed to the city jail instead of to the hospital because of misinformation given to law enforcement officers by Wilson.

Mrs. Cora Wilson is named as aiding and abetting Wilson in the incident, and is liable for $25,000 damages. The suit asks that court costs be charged to the defendants.

The plaintiff is represented in the case by Richard E. Powell, Greenville attorney, and Taylor and Mitchell of Raleigh.

Widow Charged In Murder Plot

GOLDSBORO, N. C. — The attractive, red-haired widow of an Army sergeant has been charged with conspiracy to kill him.

Charges of being an accessory before a murder and conspiring to kill Sgt. I. C. Robert Robertson last Oct. 5 were filed here yesterday against Mrs. Brookie Robertson, 25, of Mount Olive. She posted $5,000 bond and was released.

Two men previously had been charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of Sgt. Robertson. They are Joyce Hobbs 22, a Mount Olive carpenter, and James Kelley, a Calypso truck driver. Both are in jail.

All three defendants are scheduled to be tried at the April term of Wayne Superior Court.

Witnessing Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin for the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gleaves of Paducah, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Latham had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner of Philadelphia, Pa.

Girls May Tackle N.C. Lawmakers

GREENSBORO — This is a friendly little tip to members of the legislature who may be going home this weekend:

You're liable to be button-holed by a pretty young lady, who'll give you a talking-to about the state's proposed budget reductions at the Woman's College in Greensboro.

The girls will go home this weekend with this request from Chancellor Edward K. Graham: See your representative in the legislature and tell him about the critical financial situation "with which our college is confronted."

Seems the state's Advisory Budget Commission has recommended that appropriations for the 1955-56 school year and $49,891 for 1956-57. In a letter to the students, which suggested the "grass roots" campaign, Graham said the college would have to increase its charges to students by about $100,000 and still send less for operations than it is at present.

The girls are going home early this weekend, mainly because mid-term exams are over and the second semester doesn't start until next week.

Fisherman Sunk In Pamlico Sound

CHERRY POINT, N. C. — A fisherman who "did a good bit of praying out there" was scarcely the worse today after clinging 22 hours to his oyster boat which was sunk by a smoke bomb from a military plane.

Leonard Goodwin, 25, of Sea Level, grabbed a mattress and climbed on top of the cabin of his 37-foot, "The Barracuda," as she sank in eight feet of water near Little Swan Island in Pamlico Sound at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Goodwin said the boat was shaken by an impact which was followed by heavy smoke, and sank within 15 or 20 seconds.

Goodwin, father of three children, one only a week old, remained dry atop the cabin except for his feet. He was able later to rig a canvas windbreak.

"A patrol boat of the State Department of Conservation and Development rescued him at 8:30 a.m. yesterday. He was released from the hospital at the Cherry Point Marine Air Station after being treated for mild exposure of the feet.

Cherry Point officials said the boat may have been sunk by a smoke bomb that broke loose from a plane on a run from one of the practice bombing targets off the coast.

Because Aedes Aegypti mosquitoes are still common in the southern third of the United States, the threat of a yellow fever epidemic still exists there, says the World Health Organization.

The other bill by James, a doctor, would prohibit companies from excluding coverage except for conditions discovered by medical examination and case history at the time the policy was issued and conditions having their inception prior to the issuance of the policy but discovered within two years after the policy's effective date.

The White House indicated the plan would be followed in the future, although the amount of film or tape released for broadcast each week is expected to vary considerably.

The American Broadcasting Co. said it has scheduled the news conference films for 10 to 10:30 p.m. EST each Wednesday on its television network. Recorded material will be put on the ABC radio network from 9:30 to 9:55 p.m. Wednesdays.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said it would present the news conference on its radio network each Wednesday from 10 to 10:15.

C&D Board Adjourns On Highly Optimistic Note

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH — The State Board of Conservation and Development adjourned its mid-winter meeting in Raleigh on an optimistic note. Tenor of statements and resolutions was to the general effect that conditions are not now as bad as the pessimists think, and are likely to get better rather than worse, so far as State developments are concerned.

At the final session Wednesday morning Governor Hodges made it clear he does not intend to give up chairmanship of the board. His statement at the opening session Monday that he would not be able to preside at all board meetings had been interpreted in some quarters as meaning he would relinquish his position as chairman. He told the board he had no idea of taking that step.

The Governor also urged the

C&D board members and other North Carolinians not to be too much disturbed about reports that taxes are keeping industry out of North Carolina. He reminded them that in the composite of State and local taxes North Carolina stacks up pretty well in the general scheme of things.

The C&D Board at its final session also voted to name the State park between Raleigh and Durham, heretofore known as Crabtree Park, the William B. Umstead State Park, in honor of the late Governor and C&D Board chairman. First proposal was to name the park just the "Umstead State Park." Somebody remembered that there are a lot of Umsteads in North Carolina and the name approved leaves no doubt about which one of the family is being honored.

The board also accepted the invitation of High Point to hold the quarterly spring meeting in High Point, April 5-6-7.

President Plans Limit Travel

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has decided, partly because of the Formosa situation to restrict his travel for two or three months to trips of no more than two hours flying time from Washington.

In announcing the decision late yesterday, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly told newsmen "it would be foolish for me to say" the threat of a Chinese Communist invasion of Formosa was not a contributing factor.

Introduces Three Bills Affecting Insurance Firms

RALEIGH — Sen. W. D. James of Richmond introduced three bills yesterday which would bring health and accident insurance companies under closer supervision by the Insurance Department.

One bill calls for the establishment of a health insurance rating bureau to promulgate rates and rules for health and accident insurance.

Another bill authorized the insurance commissioner to appoint two field investigators to police the companies. To create the positions, an appropriation of $25,000 would be authorized for the next biennium.

The other bill by James, a doctor, would prohibit companies from excluding coverage except for conditions discovered by medical examination and case history at the time the policy was issued and conditions having their inception prior to the issuance of the policy but discovered within two years after the policy's effective date.
