More Look For Reds To Attack

U. S. Officials Swinging To Belief Peiping Committed To Formosa Assault

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP) — The next move in the Formosa crisis is up to the Red Chinese. More and more American officials are coming around to the view that they may make it with military force...

With British support, the United States has established a firm line in defense of Formosa. Beyond that, the United States has in fact said it will fight a Chinese Communist assault on any of the offshore islands if President Eisenhower decides the move is aimed at conquest of Formosa...

In this situation, the Communists have to decide whether they will try to take over either the coastal islands or Formosa itself by military means or by diplomatic maneuvering...

Several months ago the Chinese Reds began stepping up their threats to capture Formosa. They have increased the violence of propaganda against the United States...

Furthermore, diplomats here have heard they had privately told Burma and Indian leaders they intend to take Formosa this year and will be selling rice from Formosa by the year's end...

These private boasts, coupled with the increasingly strong public stands are regarded as going beyond normal propaganda in such a situation. In effect, the Chinese Communist leaders are nailing themselves to a program of force...

That has some top American officials worried. However, officials declared that Secretary of State Dulles meant exactly what he said in New York Wednesday night...

British officials are convinced that the Soviet Union is trying to keep the Reds from precipitating a big war in the Formosa area. The British themselves are using on the Chinese Reds all the persuasive arguments they can think of...

But neither the nor American leaders have any confidence that the Reds will not engage in some kind of military action although this country has indicated it would bargain on the coastal islands if the Reds were willing to renounce efforts to take Formosa by force...

There was no confirmation from Asuncion of the reports, brought by travelers arriving here yesterday from Paraguay...

The travelers said the civilians tried to take over the headquarters of the 1st Cavalry Regiment near the city. One source said according to rumors current in Asuncion that at least 20 persons were killed and 200 arrested...

Since both Ben-Gurion and Lavon are members of the Mapai (Labor) party, the switch presumably will cause no change in government policy...

Report Submarine And 21 Ships In Red Convoy Sunk

Nationalists Claim Victory

By SPENCER MOOSA TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist air force claimed one of its bombers sank a submarine off the Red-held Taishan Islands this afternoon while other planes and warships wreaked havoc on a Chinese Communist troop supply convoy...

The air force said the bomber went into a power dive and bombed and strafed the sub scoring direct hits and causing bubbles to rise as it went down...

Planes patrolled the area for a long period but found no trace of the subsea craft...

In the same East China Sea area, Nationalist warplanes and ships claimed at least 21 Red vessels sunk, with indications the battle would go on through the night...

A ministry spokesman said the Red flotilla was cruising southward toward the Taishan when the Nationalist warships intercepted it. Chiang Kai-shek's warplanes also raced out to attack...

The ministry said none of the Nationalist claims are confirmed. It would be the most severe defeat they have ever administered to the Reds...

The ministry said the Nationalist eight landing craft five gunboats and eight armed motorized junks, plus other unspecified craft, the landing craft were believed to be carrying about 200 soldiers each...

The Red convoy was spotted at 7:50 a.m. moving southward from the Wenchow Bay area. Two warships and four gunboats were convoying eight landing ships each capable of carrying 200 troops...

In the first 30 minutes of action, seven Red landing craft were sunk. Col. Lu Ta of the Defense Ministry said. He reported three of the four Red gunboats were set afire and possibly sunk...

Lu said the small transports were loaded with troops and supplies but he refused to speculate on their mission. Possibly the Reds were building up their garrison on Taishan 15 miles off the coast, for an assault either on Nanchishan to the north or Matsui to the south...

Taishan is about 90 miles southwest of the Tachen Islands, which the Nationalists abandoned last week to the Reds...

Far to the south, Chinese Red batteries on the mainland a nearby island hurled 90 shells at the Nationalist garrison on Quemoy earlier today, the ministry said. The Red guns fell silent when Nationalist artillery roared out in answer...

The Nationalists have voiced their remaining doubts of Quemoy, Matsui and Nanchishan or without U.S. help...

Farmville Board Submits Data On Bond Issue Plans

FARMVILLE — The local Board of Commissioners Wednesday afternoon sent off plans and specifications for a $430,000 bond issue to the Local Government Commission in Raleigh...

If that body places its stamp of approval on the bond issue the matter will be placed before local citizens for a vote...

The bond issue will provide a sewerage disposal plant and improvements to the sewer system if it is approved...

Superintendent of Utilities W.A. McAdams said that $225,000 of the amount will go to construct a new sewerage disposal plant to treat raw sewage...

Remainder of the money will be used to construct trunk lines around the town to provide for present needs and also for future growth, McAdams stated...

First Plane For East Coast Fleet By March 1

Flying Radar Stations Soon

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Continental Air Defense Command headquarters here announced early today that the first flying radar station will arrive March 1 at Falmouth, Mass.

It will be the forerunner of 90 Lockheed Super Constellation to be stationed at Otis Air Force Base there...

The initial craft will be flown from McClellan AFB in California by Col. Oliver Cellini of Chicago, who will command the 551st Aircraft Early Warning and Control Wing at Otis...

The flying radar stations are designed to fly over the Atlantic. Wing personnel will engage in extensive training before the 551st becomes operational, CADC said. No date was given for arrival of the remaining planes...

The fleet of Super Constellations extending the radar warning net hundreds of miles out to sea—will be similar to fleet of over-the-Pacific sentinels that has been operating from McClellan at Sacramento since last spring...

The radar planes at Otis, each equipped with 6½ tons of electronic equipment, will provide the extra time for the Atlantic seaboard to deploy jet interceptors in event of enemy attack. There also will be extra time to get civil defense facilities into operation...

The air fleet will keep watch around the clock. The ground radar stations now in operation have a maximum range of about 200 miles. They have blind spots that might let low-flying enemy planes sneak in unobserved...

The radar planes will have no blind spots. The Navy is reported to be planning to put a number of radar picket ships at sea. But they, too, might miss low-flying enemy planes. Radar cannot bend around the horizon...

The huge platform islands that the Air Force plans to build on the continental shelf in the Atlantic for radar warning will extend out about 125 miles. Equipped with 200-mile radar, they would scan an area more than 300 miles at sea...

The Super Constellations are counted on to strafe the warning net hundreds of miles beyond that. The planes, carrying wing-tip tanks, have a 4,000-mile range. Each plane is capable of carrying a crew of 21, but the normal complement is slightly less than that...

About five radar scopes in the plane are monitored by radar experts sitting at their stations in the dimmed-out center section of the plane...

Operating the same as ground stations, the plane spurs make chalk marks on a map. Their work is closely integrated with the shore network. Jet interceptors on the alert along the coast would be airborne in minutes in case an unidentified plane failed to respond properly to a challenge...

The official military designation of the radar planes is RC21D. Jutting from the back of the plane is a seven-foot hump containing part of the radar gear. More gear is contained in a big round bubble hooked to the belly...

The CADC, which ordered extension of the nation's radar defenses, is a joint operation of the Air Force, Army and Navy. It is under command of Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw of the Air Force...

McClellan AFB is headquarters for all Air Force radar planes. The command is known as the 8th Air Division and is under Brig. Gen. Kenneth H. Gibson...

Carrying Blueprint For Coordinating Plans Dulles Flies To Asia Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles flies toward the Far East today with a roughed-out plan for an eight-nation military council to coordinate defenses against communism in Southeast Asia...

The blueprint has many details yet to be filled in. It includes four main goals for a conference opening next Wednesday at Bangkok, Thailand:

1. To set up an organization, The Southeast Asia Defense Treaty was signed last Sept. 8 at Manila and since then all eight participating nations have ratified it.

2. To build military security. The treaty area covers all of Southeast Asia and the western Pacific—below Formosa including the Indochina states of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam. Each treaty nation is pledged to act "in accordance with its constitutional processes" against armed aggression in this area...

Hints Anti-Segregation Tag To School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ives (R-NY) indicated he may propose an anti-segregation amendment to federal school aid legislation, but told newsmen today he is still studying just how to do it...

Ives injected the segregation issue into the Senate Labor Committee's school aid hearings yesterday. Sen. Purrell (R-Conn) later asked the National Education Assn. to state in writing whether it would actively oppose a provision refusing federal school building aid to states which segregate white and colored school children...

The NEA, a professional organization of educators, is already on record as having taken issue based on the segregation issue. But William G. Carr, NEA executive secretary, said he would have to check with the organization on whether it would actively fight such an amendment...

Sen. Bill (D-Ala.) committee chairman, said in an interview the issue of segregation has no place in school aid legislation...

In the past, he said, the Senate "has always voted down" efforts to insert anti-segregation amendments in the government's public housing program...

Both Ives and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) indicated they would support a larger program of direct grants than the 200-million-dollar, three-year plan proposed by the administration...

Meanwhile, some Republicans appeared concerned over the unanimous opposition to the President's Southern States aid program by all educational bills. The committee has heard thus far...

Senate Kills Measure Allowing Defendants Waive Jury Trial

RALEIGH (AP) — The Senate yesterday killed a 26-22 vote a proposed constitutional amendment to permit defendants when represented by counsel to waive trial by jury in all criminal actions except capital cases...

The action came after an hour debate. Sen. Cameron Weeks of Edgecombe, who introduced the bill, declared the proposal would save the state and the counties many thousands of dollars in trial costs and help clear court dockets...

Weeks said there were rumors that his bill would "destroy the jury system in North Carolina. Nothing could be further from the truth," he asserted. The bill would "improve our system of jurisprudence."

Sen. Robert Morgan of Cleveland said the measure would be "a chipping away of the rights of defendants by jury."

In other legislative action yesterday: Bills were introduced in the House and Senate to amend the State Employment Security Law. The legislation would extend coverage to employers of four or more workers and would result in savings of five million dollars for employers during 1955. Approximately 10,300 employers and 60,000 workers would be taken in under the coverage, according to Henry E. Kendall, chairman of the Employment Security Commission. Now, only employers of eight or more workers are covered. Kendall said the proposal would be effective next Jan. 1 and would conform to change in the federal law. To be covered, employers would pay part of the 3 per cent unemployment tax to the state instead of to the federal government...

Christian Science
God's infinitely wise and intelligent government of the universe, including man, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "MIND" is the Golden Text from James 1:5: "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and life."
Scriptural selections will include the following from Proverbs 3:13: "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding."

First Presbyterian Announcements
This Sunday night, February 20, 8 o'clock, in the Church Parlor, there will be an important meeting of all visitors who will help in the Visitation Evangelism Program which begins Sunday night, February 27th and extends through Wednesday, March 2nd.

This Wednesday night Miss Claire Randall of the World Mission Board in Nashville, Tenn. will speak at 8 o'clock in the Fellowship Hall on the subject "Our Eight Mission Fields." The neighboring Presbyterian churches are invited. Come and bring your family and become more informed about our church World Mission task. A social hour will follow.

The last sessions of the Cooperative Leadership School were conducted Thursday night. Those who attended the school from our church are as follows: Miss Mary Lou Montgomery, Mrs. W. T. Kizer, Miss Christine Johnston, Miss Olene Pleasant, Miss Peggy Dunn, Mrs. N. S. Beard.
This Sunday is Universal Day of Prayer for students. All Christians everywhere are called to join in common intercession for students and Christian work in all parts of the world. This Day of Prayer for Students offers us an opportunity to express in concert that which lies at the heart of every effort to realize the wholeness of the church: our worship of Him, the one God and Father of us all.

The Communicants Class for boys and girls who are interested in making their profession of faith and uniting with the church, will be conducted by the pastor Sunday afternoon, 5-6 o'clock in the church parlor. The class will have supper together in the Fellowship Hall at 6 o'clock.

The Pioneer and Senior Youth Fellowship will meet at the church Sunday 6 p. m. for supper and vesper programs.

The Westminster Fellowship will meet at the Manse Monday, 5:30 p. m., for program and supper.
World Day of Prayer will be observed in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church on February 25th at 11:00 a. m. Business firms will be closed so employers and employees may attend. Women are asked to bring discarded nylon stockings to be shipped to Japanese war widows who are making a living by remaking these stockings. Bring "a penny a pair" to cover shipping costs.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of Jarvis Memorial is sponsoring a Service of Worship for Ash Wednesday, February 23, beginning at 4 p. m. Our young people are invited to attend. Rev. C. Edward Sharp, Curate of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will bring the message.
The Young Adult Class is sponsoring a social get-together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webb Monday night, February 28th, 7:30, for all the young adults of our church.

Baptist Sunday School Classes Entertain For Bride-Elect

On Tuesday evening Miss Florence McFadden, Educational Director of Memorial Baptist Church and bride-elect was complimented when the two young adult ladies classes, the Bert Tyson and Torchbearers, entertained in the church parlor.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Edward S. Jones and Mrs. Roger M. Collins, Jr., class presidents, and invited into the parlor.

Ina Bell Coleman Circle Meets
BETHEL—The regular monthly meeting of the Ina Bell Coleman Circle of the Bethel Baptist Church met on Monday night with Mrs. Lionel Parker. There were eleven members and one visitor present.

At the business meeting, the president, Mrs. Herman Andrews, called the meeting to order and presided. The secretary, Mrs. Joe Andrews, read the minutes and called the roll. The group was reminded of the mission study class to be held Thursday night in the church. Each one is responsible for a covered dish. The community mission chairman, Mrs. Bert Carson, gave her report.

Mrs. Brantly Chesnon read a few verses of scripture from Exodus, John, Psalms and Revelation. Mrs. Linwood Briley then gave a most interesting discussion on "The Road to Cuba" which was taken from the monthly magazine "The Royal Service." She gave a picturesque view of Cuba and the work that the Baptists are doing in this territory.

Christian Church Announcements
At the Christian Church Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "The Christian's Purpose" which is the third in a series of the basic attitudes of one who agrees to follow the Christ. The choir will sing a special number, entitled, "America The Beautiful" by Ward.

The Fireside Club of the church will meet on Tuesday night at 8 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scales, Jr. in College Court, with the idea in mind of forming another club in the church along the lines of the Fireside Club. These are Christian home making parents who want assistance in one of life's greatest tasks, that of building a Christian home.

The members of the Christian Church are urged to participate in the World Day of Prayer to be held in the Methodist Church on Friday, February 25, at 11 o'clock. The women of the community are urged to bring discarded nylon stockings to be sent to Japanese war widows who will in turn remake them into usable articles.
The Christian Youth Fellowship and the Chi-Rho group will have an interested visitor with them Sunday in the person of Richard Ziegler of Atlantic Christian College.

by Mrs. Kenneth H. Mercer and Mrs. W. Vernon Tyson, class teachers. Receiving very informally with Miss McFadden were Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson, advisor to the two classes, Mrs. E. E. Rawl, Mrs. F. A. Bendall, Mrs. Percy Upchurch and Mrs. R. B. Lee, special guests.

Upon arrival the honoree was presented a corsage of white garzums.

Featured in the parlor decorations were a miniature bride, magnolia and burning white candles. Other arrangements in green and white were used throughout the room.

Everyone was invited into the Fellowship Room where Mrs. Lily Carr cleverly presented Miss McFadden with the surprise of the evening, a large table covered with a green linen cloth and laden with beautifully wrapped gifts.

After the gifts had been opened and the miniature bride had been presented as a keep-sake, Mrs. Thomas Vickers directed the guests to the refreshment table. It was covered with a white hand drawn linen cloth and centered with an unusually beautiful arrangement of white snap dragons and burning garza mums in a silver bowl. White ring white candles were also used effectively. There Mrs. Bendall poured spiced tea and Mrs. Rawl served bridal ices. Other refreshments included cheese dainties, mints and nuts.

Approximately fifty members of the two classes were present.

Grace Free Will Baptist Church
Sunday School, with classes for all ages, will meet at 9:45 a. m. Ernest B. Tinnin is superintendent.

Hostesses Fete Recent Bride At Coffee Hour

Mrs. Morris Brody and Mrs. C. H. Edwards Jr. entertained at a coffee hour Thursday morning at eleven o'clock for Mrs. Ledyard Ross at the home of Mrs. Edwards.

Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Albion Dunn, mother of the bride, Mrs. Alfred Kennedy, the groom's mother, Mrs. Edwards, and Mrs. Brody received the guests.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Kennedy corsages of garza mums, baby's breath and tulips.

Green and white floral arrangements were used throughout the living room. In the dining room the table was laid with a cut work cloth and centered with a silver bowl of pink stock, white snapdragons, pink carnations, garza mums, and Better Time roses. Apple green candles tied with tulle were also used on the table.

At one end of the table were silver trays of delicious canapes in pastel shades, cheese straws, rum balls, taffie squares and nuts.

The honoree was presented with crystal in her chosen pattern from the hostesses.

Members Of Girl Scout Troops Present Grifton PTA Program

GRIFTON—At the February meeting of the Grifton P.T.A. on Tuesday night an impressive program was presented by members of the Girl Scouts showing "Scouts in Action." Martha Hart in behalf of the Intermediate Troop 29 and Senior Troop 42 welcomed the audience and thanked all who had been helping with the scout program in the community, especially the leaders, Mesdames Norman Reis, Harold Burkley, R. A. Varnevale and M. Weatherington.

The devotionals was led by Carolyn Hart. The requirements of scouting were explained by Joan Schutte, of the Brownie Troop 30; Ellen Calvert, the tenderfoot scout; Patricia Matthews, second class scout; Esther Hill Coward, first class rank; and Wilma the curved bar.

Activities of the past year in scouting were reviewed by Martha Hart.

President of the troop, Frances Bryan Davis, officiated at the traditional investiture to install Marvenia Hiatt. The color guard, Sallie Mewborn, Esther Hill Coward, Dorothy Groat and Pat Bennett, advanced and the allegiance to the flag was followed by the singing of the national anthem. Wilma Patrick was accompanist for the program.

The purpose of scouting was read and following this, Martha Hart told of the three green candles on the table to be lighted representing the girl scout promise. Lighting of the ten yellow candles by Ann Lynn Davis, Ann Harrison, Sherry Alcox, Judy Weatherington, Jean Groat, Jane Mewborn, Nannie Davis, Mary Lee January, Mary Sue Ogburn, Ellen Calvert—represented the scout laws.

After the pledge ceremony, the friendship circle was formed and taps sung by the group, bringing to a close the very impressive affair.

The reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report was heard. Mrs. Robert Mewborn, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Jack Calvert. Mr. Charles Kline was recognized and he outlined the program being undertaken for the year 1955 by the "Finer Carolina" committee, asking the support of the P.T.A. and a representative from the group to serve on the steering committee. An Interesting 18 Months Ahead

The next presidential election is still more than a year and a half away, but it has been obvious for months that political maneuvers for party nominations were taking place.

Setting of the sites for the Democratic and Republican party conventions throws in another bit of spice that causes the voters as well as the politicians to begin thinking in terms of the big 1956 presidential election.

Who will head the party tickets? Of course that's anybody's guess, and just about everybody is guessing.

Adlai Stevenson appears a shoo-in choice for the Democratic nomination again although the wind could blow in many directions in the Democratic party between now and nomination time. As for the GOP candidate, it is almost certain that President Eisenhower can have the nomination if he wants it. He hasn't said he does; but on the other hand, he hasn't

Price Of Representation Is Going Up

The pay raise Congress is in the process of voting itself may prove a minor stumbling block to incumbents when the people go to the polls in 1956, but by and large we think most of the voters are of the opinion the raise in salary is justified.

When you get right down to it, a good Senator or a good Congressman is worth $25,000 a year salary to his constituents. There are some who, if we were evaluating their worth to the people of the nation, wouldn't measure up to the standards of the $15,000 they are now getting annually and certainly would not be $25,000-a-year-men in our estimation. The vast majority of the members of Congress, so far as we are concerned, more than earn their pay, even with this new increase.

There is one thing the voters should keep in mind when they go to the polls next year. They'll not only be electing representatives to Congress, they'll be electing $25,000-a-year representatives instead of $15,000-a-year representatives as has been the case for the past decade.

Strength for the Day

A LESSON TO BE LEARNED
No one—be he a Christian believer or an atheist—can deny that Christianity is the most extensive social movement that has touched the life of Europe and the western hemisphere during all human history. Yet, strangely enough, the Man who stands at the beginning of this great movement not only came from a humble home and lived thirty of his three-three years in the quiet of a peaceful village but was also, according to modern standards, uneducated. There is no indication that Jesus received any further instruction than would have been given any village boy in synagogue circles. Certainly this would not exceed our grade school education today.

Then when Jesus of Nazareth started his ministry, he chose twelve men to be close to him and to be his witnesses to the unbelieving world. Not one of these men was what we would call today college-bred. This leads us, does it not, to the conclusion that education may not be as golden as its glitter first indicates. To say this is not to extol ignorance; it is only to point out that much of the so-called "education" has in every age been spiritually barren. Much of our education today does not recognize the validity of spiritual values, and because of this is dead. The lesson for us is: Put religion into education or take the consequences of a huge mistake scarcely disguised as learning.

Comedy Of Errors In Patronage

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—The political patronage situation at the Nation's Capital has become a comedy of errors. Suspect Democrats on Capitol Hill have set up a watchdog squad to make sure that the Eisenhower Administration does not load down the Federal Government with Republicans fired from their state positions by newly installed Democratic Governors in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, GOP politicians from Albany, Trenton and Harrisburg run excursion trains to Washington to find out why President Eisenhower has not "turned the rascals out." There is, of course, no invidious meaning in this use of the word "rascal." He is simply a fellow holding a job as a "patriot," who happened to pick the winner in the last election. They are relative and interchangeable terms.

THOSE IMPORTANT EASTERN STATES—Although patronage complaints stem from every state, the three Eastern states are the Administration's chief concern for obvious reasons. Under Republican control for many years, they had become a Social Security haven for thousands of GOP jobholders. They are being turned out as fast as Governors Harriman, Meyer and Leader can dig up Democratic replacements.

Finally, and most important, a candidate for President has only a bare chance of election or reelection unless he carries one or two of these electorally influential commonwealths. The only other states of relative importance are Illinois and California, which are under Republican control at the moment.

What the patronage soreheads do not realize, despite attempts to educate and placate them by Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and White House digger Eberham Adams, is that the old-fashioned "spoils" system is as outmoded as the horse-and-buggy method of travel from the three state capitals to Washington.

UNTOUCHABLE JOBS—In the first place, 30 years of unbroken Democratic rule have helped to kill and discredit the ancient system. Presidents Roosevelt and Truman blanketed many thousands of jobs under Civil Service, and made them untouchable by grasping and hostile politicians.

It may be conceded that P.D.R. and the Mis-sourian expanded the Civil Service umbrella for selfish and partisan motives, and not on the basis of high principle. They simply sought to anchor Democrats in their jobs. But the fact remains that, regardless of their reasons, they did extend the merit system as never before. They enlarged Civil Service coverage and protection.

POLITICAL SPOILS—Now, contrary to popular opinion, the Civil Service idea does not automatically mean economy, efficiency, or perfection. It can be and it often has been—manipulated, neglected and operated on behalf of political spoilsmen. But its basic purpose seeks selection of the right man or woman for the right assignment.

The same philosophy generally applies to Army promotions and thus the Civil Service selective methods appeal to Eisenhower as a military man. They also command the support of Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

REASONS WHY—But there are other more practical reasons why Republicans cannot satisfy their patronage needs and demands under the first Republican Administration in 20 years, to wit: Civil Service records reveal that about 1,000,000 Federal jobs have changed hands during Ike's first two years. It would appear from these statistics that 1,000,000 "patriots" had been rewarded. But here are the facts:

About 800,000 positions were under Civil Service, and, therefore, untouchable. More than 100,000 were overseas, and were not attractive to the home guard of patronage applicants. The Foreign Operations Administration is due to die on June 30. Another 50,000 consisted of poor-paying, seasonal jobs which nobody wanted.

In short, patronage as an incentive to political activity is virtually a vanishing asset for either major party on the Federal level.

It is our guess that the maneuvers within both political parties between now and 1956 will be important factors in determining the candidates. Deep scars still remain in the Democratic party caused by the pitched battle in Chicago in 1952 between some northern liberals and the Southern wing of the party. It will take kidglove handling to prevent the wounds from being re-opened again next year.

As for the Republicans, their various factions haven't stopped fighting since the knock-down-drag-out convention at which Eisenhower was nominated. There is little to indicate the factions will reach a truce before the '56 session in Cow Palace; and maybe there will be no truce after.

The 1956 presidential campaigns are going to have more than the usual amount of color and interest. And so is the in-party maneuvering which takes place between now and convention time.

Parkway Tolls Should Not Be Levied
North Carolina has presented to Secretary of Interior McKay a sound argument against federal government tolls on the Blue Ridge Parkway from May 1 to November 1 each year.

The proposal to make the parkway a toll road during the busy tourist season is one of those gimmicks unexpectedly thrown in by Washington bureaucrats. If the federal government has the right to levy a toll during certain periods of the year on the Blue Ridge Parkway, there is little logic in not having a toll on the parkway the year-round. If it can levy a toll on the parkway which federal funds helped finance, there is no reason to believe the government can not levy tolls on other highways constructed with federal aid.

Rep. Shuford is certainly correct in his assertion that it was never the intent of Congress that people be charged for the use of the scenic highway. North Carolina certainly does not want motorists charged for using the state roads which make the connecting links between segments of the parkway.

The announcement by the National Park Service that it will begin charging the toll on the parkway in May is meeting strong opposition from North Carolinians, and it is to be hoped that the representatives of this state will wield whatever influence they possess to prevent the levy of the proposed tolls.

Selected Shorts
SEATTLE, WASH., POST-INTELLIGENCER: "There's just one difference between so-called public ownership and so-called private ownership, whether it's ferries, trees or power. In private ownership the company gets the lumps when they come. In public ownership—with so few exceptions that they shine out—YOU get the lumps when they come."

ORANGE GROVE, TEXAS, OBSERVER: "The need and the desire to serve have always been and always will be a major motivating force of business. Neighbor competes with neighbor . . . but nearly always to the end of giving the consumer more and better products, superior service, higher value. This is the American tradition."

It May Have The Opposite Effect

Somebody Told Me

The Most For Your Money

Getting the most for your money is one of the goals in life that most of us try to attain, since the minority of us have so much money that it doesn't matter.

Today's column is one illustration to point out that often you can get more for the dollar by pressing the product instead of squeezing the merchant.

Here's what happened to me: For rotating a short-wave antenna I use a regular television rotator, which is not designed to carry such a load. The motor did a terrific job until Hazel came along.

So I sent the rotator back to the factory, with a letter that read something like this: "You have a fine piece of equipment. I was using it for rotating an antenna with three 34-foot elements on a 22-foot beam and it did a good job until Hurricane Hazel came along. I know it isn't supposed to carry such a large antenna, and I was surprised when it did. I think so much of this rotator that I immediately bought another one. Please give me an estimate of repairs on this rotator, as I would like to have it for a spare in case the other one fails."

By return mail I received a brand new rotator, no charge! So here's the question to ask yourself: What would the company have done if I had written them complaining about the rotator, telling them that it did not do a good job and demanding adjustment on it? Perhaps the result would have been the same, but I doubt it.

No doubt the factory looks at it this way: In advertising, the cost of a single rotator is small change. They realize that I am a short-wave operator and equipment almost dominates the conversation of hams on the air. The also know that I will sing the praises of their product whenever I get the opportunity. And no doubt they were affected by the approach; to have any, one write in without a request for adjustment is no doubt the exception rather than the rule.

This approach will not work every time, but it's worthy of your attention. The merchant is very anxious to please the customer, but many customers tend to demand too much. Be fair with the merchant and he will lean over backwards to give you the very top service and merchandise for your dollar.

It's a matter of give in take in business like everywhere else. The person who comes to the merchant willing to pay his part will come nearer getting a break than the one who comes in brow-beating for a free ride.

And I thank you.
JACK EDWARDS

What Other Editors Are Thinking

COMMONPLACE NOW PARAMOUNT
(Henderson Dispatch)

Governor Hodges saves the State's biggest problem—water bigger than taxes—is water. That sounds a bit odd, in view of this ordinary, everyday essential to life and which the Creator put here in abundance. Yet the experience of many communities and many farmers in the last couple of years emphasizes the plain realism of the claim.

Just how dry and how hot the summers used to be in the old days is hard to recall. But little was ever heard of a water scarcity. There was an abundance of it for all needs at all times. Fact of the business, however, is that water is being used in such greater quantities, and for so many more different purposes, that modern times that a great deal more of it is required than formerly was the case.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
ROADS—The House and Senate roads committees met jointly Wednesday morning to hear a general presentation of the total highway program presented by Chairman A.H. Graham and other spokesmen for the highway department. Each member was handed a folder containing the correspondence file between the Governor and the Chairman and the General Assembly.

It was a briefing session, at which details were not specifically considered, the purpose being to advise the legislators of what the highway folks think about their needs. Only casual and indirect reference was made to differences between the Governor and the highway folks as to most urgent needs and methods of meeting them.

The Governor advocates a switch from the policy which has prevailed since beginning of the State highway building program in 1920 of bond financing to a "pay as you go" basis. He suggests planning and financing on two year basis, rather than 30 or more year bonds. Chairman Graham did not quarrel with or criticize that view, but he pointed out that since primary highways have been to great degree neglected during the past six years when major attention was focused on secondary roads, the transition to a pay as you go plan might program primary roads even further behind.

The chairman also adverted to the prospect of very substantial increases in Federal aid funds,

One thing that has contributed to recent scarcities is the denuding of the forests of trees. The hunger for wood to make lumber for building purposes has sent the axe-man into the woods to fell trees of such small stature and diameter that the practice is alarming. They are not allowed to remain and grow to the size they used to attain. Comparatively little virgin timber is left standing anywhere in the country except on mountainsides or in swamp or jungle areas that are extremely difficult to reach. When hillsides and other extensive regions were covered with thick growths of trees they caught most of the rain that fell and held it until it seeped deep into the soil.

There it remained, and there is no other alternative than some drastic action in the interest of human life and continued development of agriculture and industry.

ly every summer with a shortage of water for absolutely essential needs. Hence, the commonplace becomes paramount in importance. The governor sees the significance as do many others of a long range water conservation program in North Carolina. The problem will challenge the best minds among us. And the solution may run afoul of the accustomed rights and privileges of many individuals. What can be done even the governor is not prepared to say. He proposes a study of the situation in the hope of discovering some practical answer. Such a survey cannot do any harm. It is worth the effort. Indeed we have almost reached the point where there is no other alternative than some drastic action in the interest of human life and continued development of agriculture and industry.

Business Today

The Cans And Can'ts

By ELMER ROESSNER
Just what trade associations can't do has been spelled out for members of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations by that organization's maitress, Joseph Meek.

It is important to know, because every once in a while Uncle Sam cracks down on some trade association because its activities restricted trade or otherwise tangled with anti-trust laws. So to keep out of jail, heed Mr. Meek.

"In general, you cannot coerce a supplier nor get together with competitors to set a price. The guide post is almost always, 'What is the purpose of the agreement desired?' If it is to fix price or coerce, watch out. If it is incidental to price and beneficial to the public, probably okay. The more 'incidental' the better. Does the agreement curtail competition or does competition remain strong?"

"Agreements on closing and other hours are said to be okay. These assure more continuity of service.

"Surveys are all right if they are of past actions or may be current practices. If they involve future procedures, there may be trouble.

"Agreements on returned goods are considered safe particularly if the emphasis is on sanitation and hygienic reasons, as is usually the case.

"Agreements on deliveries in units less than a specified amount would be considered not permissible. Deliveries are an essential part of competition. This also applies to agreements on alterations above or below certain price ranges.

"Joint or central tailoring or service establishments are considered acceptable. So is bargaining together with a delivery service if that power is not used to threaten or intimidate.

"It's all right to agree on carrying of small packages procedure. But on gift wrapping or alterations, an agreement would not be acceptable. Agreements not to take mail and phone orders below certain amounts can also cause trouble.

"Nothing can prevent a single store from taking some courageous leadership on a lot of things—nor others following suit."

Now if you get indicted, it isn't Joe Meek's fault.

BIDS CLIMB $29,000
IN AUCTION BY MAIL
A 868-acre estate at Hillsdale, N.Y., has just been sold in an unusual auction by mail.

The land was placed on the market last year with the announcement that bids would be accepted under certain conditions. Each bid was to be accompanied by a check for $1,000 and bidding was to be open 21 days after each offer was received. If a higher bid came in the previous check was returned.

The first bid was $21,000. Successively, five bids came in, the last one for $50,000. When no one topped that within the 21-day period, the bidder got the property.

LARCENY OF IDEAS MAY BE LEGAL
The announcement that Federal Department Stores has passed up the half-billion dollar sale in sales brings to mind that smaller retailers often neglect the study of sales successes.

The average merchant keeps close watch on competitors of the same size, often to the extent that he hasn't time left to "case" the operations of big-time rivals. Yet it is the big ones who do the new and daring; that's how they got big and that's how they stay that way. A ramble through a big downtown department store, a big supermarket, an oversized variety store or a chain appliance and automotive accessories store should produce half a dozen ideas in display service, pricing, promotion, stocking and selling.

'Antiques' Made In Your Home

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The do-it-yourself craze has reached the point where you can now be your own Chippendale and create antique furniture at home.

The odds are that your homemade antique will be as authentic as those your neighbor "discovered" in some antique store or farmer's barn and bought at a fancy price. And they will cost you a lot less.

"About 80 per cent of the antique furniture in America is a fake and so will be as authentic as those your neighbor 'discovered' in some antique store or farmer's barn and bought at a fancy price. And they will cost you a lot less.

"Previous generations simply didn't leave behind them enough perfect furniture to fill the present demand for antiques."

To satisfy this market there arose the practice of what is known in the trade as "distressing" a reproduction. It consists of taking a fine new piece of furniture designed on classic lines and deliberately beating it up to give it an antique look.

This artificial aging was already quite an art abroad, Obrigg recalled when he was apprenticed at the age of 13 to a London decorator.

"I used to be one of the best wormhole makers in all England," he said modestly. Obrigg abandoned wormhole making long ago. Today in the workshop of his 12-acre estate— he calls it "Poison Ivy Acres, Mortgage Lane, Deep-Sea, Conn." He designs everything from eggbeaters to Geiger counters. He also enjoys giving tips to young couples on how they can furnish their homes at small expense.

"Often they inherit a few fine pieces of antique furniture," he said. "But they can't afford to buy the additional pieces to fill out a room."

However, there is no reason why any housewife who wants to live in the atmosphere of the past can't create her own background.

"A housewife actually can do a better job of distressing a reproduction than a professional furniture workman," he said. "If she is willing to put more time and hand labor into the task."

So if you want to take a $40 table and make it look like a $400 antique here is what you do:

"First file off the edges to make it look worn. Then take a ring of old keys and slam them on the table top to give it a scratched up look."

"To give the apron of the table a worn-eaten appearance you burn it with hot copper wires. You can also put a few worm holes in the legs, but be careful not to overdo it. If you put in too many worm holes, your new antique may collapse while you're still making it."

If the table is of oak, you can give it a worn, ridged look by washing it with potash and lye. That'll eat out the soft grain of the fiber.

"Next, sandpaper the spots where normal usage over a long period of time would wear the table smooth."

"If you want a walnut finish, you can make a good antique walnut stain by soaking some old walnut shells in alcohol."

"Then put on three coats of shellac, and finish it off with a coat of melted white beeswax mixed with gum turpentine. This gives the depth of finish you'd expect in a fine old table."

The wife can now call in her friends and brag about the "wonderful hand made antique table" she picked up at a bargain. And if she's done her work well, they'll never know whose hands made it antique.

Obrigg has this cautionary advice: People who are genuinely interested in collecting real antiques:

"If the dealer isn't willing to put on the bill of sale the approximate age and source of an antique, you'd do well to go to another dealer."

As it is now, a lot of furniture worms are getting credit for holes they never made.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

Others seemed to be of the same opinion as Murphy—that the hearing would be interesting. Next morning, the police courtroom was packed.

Fred had been called out at five a. m. and it was a little after nine when he hurried into the courtroom. He looked about, assured himself that Katie and Ludmila were not there and nodded with satisfaction as he took the chair pointed out to him. The rest of the crowd didn't matter—Murphy and his mother were there, but Katie and his mother would be hurt by each charge made or suggested against Fred. He was glad they were not present.

Poor little Nienaber sat, white-faced, beside Ed Byrd. Things got under way. Ed Byrd put on his glasses and made a speech covering the charge against

Dr. Beier. Then he took off his glasses and read the charge, which repeated the subject of his speech.

The audience whispered and gasped, and peered over shoulders, and looked at the doctor who was so familiar to all of them. A lawyer stood beside him.

Richard Nienaber, seated in the first row of chairs, valiantly endeavored to listen. His eyes lit up at Fred's name, his whole person shrank into his clothing when his own was said.

Fred watched the little man, hoping for a chance to encourage him with his own calm glance. But, of course he realized that the poor fellow was understanding nothing except that once again he was in the dread grasp of authority.

When Fred finally ended, and offered to call his witnesses, the judge took over. "Suppose we get quickly to the root of this, Mr. Byrd. We've some busy people here. Ah—will Richard Nienaber take the witness chair?"

With the help of prodding and gestures, Nienaber managed to do this. But by then his excitement and terror had driven his small store of English completely from his mind and he could only sit wide-eyed, white-faced, uncomprehending. The judge talked slowly—and ever more loudly—

Presently, Fred got to his feet. "Please, your honor." "Yes, Dr. Beier?" The judge looked exhausted.

"Nienaber is frightened, and he has very little English to start with. If you would allow me to serve as interpreter."

Murphy Hudson threw his long hands out in a gesture of complete surrender. Seeing it, little crinkles webbed out from Fred's eyes.

"I am sure Nienaber understood nothing of the charge, your honor. Perhaps I should begin by translating it to him."

"Do you speak German well enough to do that, Dr. Beier?"

"I speak German like a native," said Fred dryly.

"All right then. Proceed." The judge, the audience, listened to the flood of gutturals which poured from Fred's lips. They saw Nienaber's start of surprise they heard his horrified, "Nein, Nein!" and then saw the look of actual indignation which he cast at the judge.

Fred touched the man's knee. "Na, na . . ." he said softly. "In this country," he went on, in German, "a man is permitted to prove his innocence. Or, rather, his guilt has to be proven."

The judge leaned forward. "What did you say to him, doc?" Fred translated, word for word. The judge nodded, and looked sternly out across the courtroom. "Let all of the good Americans here take note of that! Er—Dr. Beier?"

"Yes, sir?" "How does it happen you speak German so well?"

Quickly Fred repeated the question to Nienaber quickly he answered the judge. "I am a refugee also, your honor." When he said this to Nienaber, the little man's face lit up as with a hundred candles, and the stooped shoulders straightened.

Fred elaborated upon his statement his own back straight, and his head up. People began to smile, and then to look ashamed. Almost at once, wrathful glances were being cast at poor Ed Byrd. Mirandy began to smile and whisper to the people about her. The judge told her to be still—and several laughed aloud.

Fred suggested that the judge put his questions to Nienaber. "I think this whole thing can be straightened out most quickly that way—of course you're going to have to trust my honesty in interpreting the answers, sir."

"We do trust you, doctor," said the judge soberly. Murphy shook his black head from side to side.

No one would believe him if he ever tried to tell about this—this farce. It was one! He could see that, if no one else did. He began to cast about for phrasing which would adequately present this situation to more sophisticated imaginations. There was Fred, accused of kidnapping—it can mean a death penalty, you know—and the judge starts out by declaring his complete confidence in the defendant!

He broke off his meditations to consider a flurry near the door. The judge looked inquiringly at the officer there.

This man hurried forward; the judge beckoned to Fred, and every one strained his ears. At the name Kyle, Murphy stood up and pushed past the other spectators to Fred's side. "Oh Murphy!" said Fred, gratefully. "Something has come up at Kyle's. They've sent for me to come at once."

"And you want me to answer that call? I'll be glad to." "Yes, I'll get this thing cleared up and come as quickly as I can. Here, take my keys. I'll have someone drive me over when I'm free."

Upsets Dominate Tourney's First Round

Upheavals Marked Games Last Night

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
Reflector Sports Editor
Last night's results:

Girls
Chico 77, Grifton 50
Stokes 50, Ayden 42
Belvoir 46, Bethel 45

Boys
Stokes 55, Grimesland 47
Bethel 58, Belvoir 50
Chico 53, Grifton 43

Upsets were as plentiful as spectators in the first rounds of the annual Pitt County Conference Tournament last night. At every turn, favorites were biting the dust to the so-called underdogs.

The biggest upheaval of the night was Belvoir's girls kicking Bethel. Bethel went into the tourney as one of the seeded teams, having finished the regular season with a 12-4 record and third place. Coach O. H. Forrest's ladies were unimpaired of their opponents' reputation and outdistanced them, 56-45.

Parker tallied 23 points for the winners in an outstanding game while her guard (teammate) were holding Mary Jo Wynne, Bethel's high-scoring forward, to 10 points. Hardy and Taylor tried to take up the slack for Bethel with 16 and 13 points but in the long run it was just too much Parker.

Chico-Grifton
Two other upsets occurred, although they were milder than the Bethel-Belvoir affair. Coach Alton Burke's boys at Chico had been unable to win a conference game all year until they tripped favored Grifton, 53-43. Before last night's win, Chico had lost 14 league tilts in a row. Adams and Smith were high-scorers for the winners with 13 and 12 points respectively. Crawford followed closely with 10. Worth Craft was high man for Grifton with 12 points.

Girls Win, Too
Chico's girls made it a clean sweep for their school with a resounding 77-50 win over Grifton. Faisy Mills dumped 32 points for the winners and received a lot of help from C. Wilson with 24 and E. Wilson with 12 points. The individual scoring leader for the night, though, was Grifton's remarkable Dawn Smith, who collected 41 markers. Peggy Cannon had 15 for the losers.

Stokes-Ayden
Things went according to Hoyle in the other matches. Stokes took care of Ayden in a girls game, 50-42. Jane Bullock had 26 points to take scoring honors. Margaret Wooten was the leading point-maker for Ayden with 27.

Stokes-Grimesland
Stokes' boys beat Grimesland in a close battle, 55-47. B. Perkins collected 16 points to lead the winners. D. Ferguson knocked in 18 points for Grimesland. Stokes led at halftime 28-21 and poured in 27 points to Grimesland's 26 in the second half.

Bethel-Belvoir
Bethel's boys had trouble with Belvoir all the way but eked out a 58-50 triumph. The winners got their margin in the second period when they scored 14 points while holding Belvoir's cagers to five. Latham canned 22 points for Bethel and D. Parker had 16 for Belvoir.

All winners in last night's round advance to the second round and the losers were eliminated from the tourney.

Score by periods:

Chico (girls)	20	18	17	22	57
Grifton	11	17	15	16	59

Chico (boys)	13	6	17	17	53
Grifton	5	13	9	16	43

Stokes (girls)	14	19	7	10	50
Ayden	11	8	9	14	42

Belvoir (girls)	13	10	10	13	46
Bethel	12	10	11	12	45

Stokes (boys)	10	18	14	13	55

Speight To Play In All-Star Game

James Speight, Greenville High School's most illustrious broken field runner of the past decade, received another honor for his spectacular capers on the 1954 gridiron early this week when it was announced he would be one of the 22 boys selected from the east to represent them in the annual east-west high school all-star game in August.

Speight is only the second Greenville football player to receive the high honor. Bobby Perry, now an outstanding halfback at East Carolina College, played in the all-star game three years ago.

It was another big honor for Speight, who has had plenty of them this season. He was named to the all-Northeastern Conference team for the second year in a row, and named to the all-eastern football AA team.

Speight, a senior, was captain of the Greenville football team this fall that finished with one of the best records of any AA team in the state. Speight led his mates to a record of six wins, two losses, and one tie. The Greenville captain scored eleven touchdowns in leading the team to their best record in years.

The all-star game will be played on August 12 this summer. The team practice from August 4 to just prior to the game. Elmer Barbour, Coach of Durham High School's football team, will direct the east squad this year.

'Sudden Death' Playoff Today At Palm Beach

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Polly Riley of Fort Worth and J. Walcott Brown of Manassquan, N. J., met Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N. C., and Les Handt of Tampa, in a sudden death playoff today to determine the finalists in the Mixed Foursome Two-Ball Golf Tournament here.

Heavy rains which formed puddles on the course yesterday prevented the playoff when the match was tied up at the 18th hole. The Riley-Brown team, hampered by water on the greens, had lost a 3 up lead in the last four holes.

See McWane of Birmingham and Ted Bishop of Boston gained the finals with a 3 to 2 win over Barbara Romack of Sacramento and Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.

The rain, worst in the 20-year history of the event, formed pools as deep as a golf ball on soe of the greens. Miss Riley tried to jump her ball over a puddle for a 16-inch putt at the 17th hole but missed by two inches. Handt, faced with the same puddle for a 14-inch putt, blasted the ball through the water and sank it.

LET'S PLAY SCRAMBLE — Chico and Grifton players hit the deck to fight for possession of the ball in a Pitt County Conference tournament game last night. Bryant (25) is the sole Chico player shown. Craft (18), Jackson (11) and Reeves (11) of Grifton are pictured. Chico won the game 53-43. (Reflector Sports Photo by Bruce Phillips).

Old Rivals, ACC And ECC, Tangle In Wilson Saturday

It would be a successful campaign no matter what the regular season records were for the winner of tomorrow night's ECC-ACC scrap in Wilson.

The two old rivals will play before a packed house with every nook of the ACC gym sold out. The crowd will only add to the bitter rivalry in the North State Conference.

ACC, fresh from their 100-65 victory over Catawba Thursday night, will have an added incentive.

East Carolina was the first club to beat them in conference play, an 82-77 upset in Greenville the first of February. They want very much to avenge that blemish and knock ECC out of contention for one of the league's first two positions.

Coach Jack McComas' lads are practically unbeatatable at home and, paradoxically, East Carolina is the most angry on the road. All the Bucs' four likings were administered on foreign courts. Elon, Lenoir Rhyne,

DICK CHERRY . . . has the layoff hurt him?

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
Reflector Sports Editor

Of the many things hoped to be learned from the outcome of East Carolina's annual Purple and Gold intrasquad football game here tomorrow afternoon, one of the most important is how Dick Cherry will do after a season's layoff.

During the past seven weeks of winter rehearsals, the Blond Bombshell, as he has come to be known, has looked his old self at the quarterback post. This intersquad meet will be his first big test.

Cherry suffered a broken foot just prior to the 1954 season after having won All-North State Conference and All-State accolades in 1953. He was predominantly responsible for East Carolina's first conference championship that year.

As a sophomore, he connected on 17 touchdown passes to lead all players on the state in that department. He completed 44 out of 81 attempts for 801 yards and a ripe 49 percent. He led the state grid-ers in punting also. He booted eight times for 407 yards and a 50.8 average. His rushing average was 3.3 and his kickoff returns averaged 19.3.

Little All-American
Barring injuries, Cherry will be an outstanding Little All-American candidate next fall. He wants to prove that he still has the properties that singled him out as the outstanding player in the conference two years ago.

Cherry will team with Emo Boado, Jim Henderson and Harold O'Kelly in the Purple backfield. Boado was a second team All-Conference half-back last season and O'Kelly was the Bucs' leading ground-gainer. Henderson is a flashy sophomore with a lot of drive.

Gary Mattocks, Bobby Gay, Bob Perry and Bob Maynard form the Gold backfield. Mattocks is one of the most promising boys in the Pirate camp. Just a sophomore, he is being groomed to take Cherry's place. Gay and Perry are sophomores and very swift. Maynard is a hard-running freshman.

Comprising the Purple forward wall will be Bill Helms and Ray Pennington, ends; Jerry Brooks and has the layoff hurt him? Ray Overton, tackles; Dick Mond and Paul Popov, guards; and All-Conference Lou Hallow, center.

Helms has been going great guns in practice and may become one of ECC's all-time standouts at end. Pennington is a fine pass-catcher from Greensboro. Brooks and Mond are first-year men but have a lot of seasoning. Brooks, at 230 pounds, is very powerful and is a terrific charger. Mond is a fast moving, blocking lineman.

Hallow At Center
Hallow, a Los Angeles Rams draft choice, has center well fortified. This next season will wind up his college career and should be his best.

The Gold line will be weighty and tough. J. D. Bradford, regular end last season, and Tommy Waggoner, a promising newcomer, open at the forwards. Charlie Smith, a 250-pounder, is a rouse customer. Any league and is high in contention for a starting tackle post. Chester Rogerson, 230 pounds to the ounce, will team with Smith at the tackles.

Carl Rhodes and Ken Burgess start at guards and Waverly Chesson is the starting center. Jack Allen, a big freshman bruiser, backs Chesson up.

Substitutions should be plentiful. Purple team reserves include Eddie Dennis, Bob Patterson, Bill James, Harry Rainey, Fred Scott and Johnny Warren in the backfield; Bill Cain, Pinky Young, Bob Conway, Don Larrimore, Tim Kermon in the line.

First-calls for the Gold team includes Charlie Bishop, Gene Turner, Milton Collier, Ray Hall and Louis Slade in the backfield; Sonny James, Bob Chambers, Bob Clark, Joe Mayo, John Gore, Jimmy Knight, in the line.

Student coaches are John Hayes and George Tucker for the Purple and Willie Holland and Claude King for the Gold.

Game time is 2 p.m.

Norkus Has His Biggest Chance Against Ezzard

NEW YORK (AP)—If Ezzard Charles still has it, he should knock out 26-year-old Charley Norkus tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Two beatings from Rocky Marciano took too heavy a toll on the former champion, Norkus has his "chance of a lifetime."

Although Charles, 33, has been inactive for five months, since he was knocked out by Marciano last September, he is a 1-3 favorite. There is no comparison between the records of the two fighters. Charles is far and away the superior boxer.

Norkus, 26, has youth and a solid punch. In a few months, he has risen from obscurity to rank No. 9 among Marciano's contenders. A sensational knockout over Danny Nardico in Miami a year ago started the string but he slipped back near the shadows when he was stopped by Hurricane Jackson in May.

The sturdy lad from Jersey City and Port Washington, N. Y., whipped Cesar Brion, knocked out highly touted Charley Powell and outpointed Roland LaStarza in his last three fights.

Since the September night when he was flattened by Marciano, Charles had done no fighting. He went back to work in the gym shortly after the first of the year.

Charles, rated No. 3, says he still thinks he can beat Marciano but there is very little chance that he will get another opportunity at the title he held until he was knocked out by Jersey Joe Walcott in 1951.

Charles has an 85-12-1 record since 1937 as compared to Norkus' 26-12 since he turned pro in 1948.

The 10-round bout will be broadcast and telecast by NBC at 10 p.m., EST.

Midgets, Mites In Close Races

Greenville's midget and mite basketball program is in full swing now with the All-Stars leading the Midget league and the Raiders leading the Mite loop play.

The All-stars have racked up five wins against one loss so far this season in league play. The Tar Heels and the Sharpshooters are right behind but have not played as many games. The Tar Heels have a 4-1 record and the Sharpshooters have a 3-1 mark.

The Raiders are undefeated in Mite play and have won three games. The Pirates have a 3-1 record and are right behind in second place.

The standings for the two leagues:

Mite League
W	L	Pct.
Raiders	3	0	1.000
Pirates	3	1	.750
Phantoms	2	2	.500
Deacons	2	2	.500
Devils	0	5	.000

Midget League
W	L	Pct.
All-stars	5	1	.833
Tar Heels	4	1	.800
Sharpshooters	3	1	.750
Aces	3	2	.600
Wolfpack	1	4	.200
Warhawks	0	7	.000

Sold Out
Milton L. Adams, athletic director at ACC, announced today that all tickets for the game had been sold since Monday. "There will be no tickets sold at the doors the night of the game," Adams said, "therefore, anyone planning to come to Wilson to see the game who does not have tickets, will not be able to get into the gym."

Andy Pakko of the Milwaukee Braves has hit 194 home runs in his 12 years in the major leagues.

A SHOT THAT WAS WAY OFF
James E. Jim Fulghum, public relations director of Atlantic Christian College called yesterday to inform us that a part of "Sport Shots" were wide of the mark in Wednesday's column. It was our commentary on the ticket situation and the ACC-East Carolina game to be played Saturday night in Wilson.

NO OFFERS!!
Fulghum informed us that ACC had not been offered $1,000 to play the game here in Memorial Gym on the ECC campus as we reported in Sports Shots Wednesday, and that no cash offer was made by a group of Rocky Mount businessmen to have the ECC-ACC game played there.

We stated in our Wednesday column that we had been informed by "reliable sources" that both offers had been made to ACC. The sources from which that information came to us have been most reliable in the past, but this time they proved otherwise, and we offer our apologies to Atlantic Christian for the misleading and apparently unfounded report which appeared.

Fulghum said ACC had sought to secure a gymnasium in Rocky Mount for the game Saturday night, but could not secure the use of the desired facilities because of the Nash County basketball tournament which had already been scheduled. ACC likewise tried to secure the use of the Coliseum in Raleigh for the ACC-ECC game, but that move also failed because of the State-Maryland game to be played in Raleigh Saturday night.

Fulghum pointed out that the 75 tickets sent to ECC for the game in Wilson Saturday night represent approximately 25 percent of seats available after reserving sufficient seats for the ACC students who already had season tickets for all the Bulldogs home games. In spite of the fact the number of tickets available to ECC students and faculty members was disappointingly small to students on the local campus, it is obviously the best ACC officials could do.

The public relations director at ACC also pointed out that a vote of the ACC basketball team showed that the players were willing to play the ACC-ECC game on any court that would afford the largest number of people an opportunity to see the game. By a 10 to 3 vote, the ACC players voted in favor of playing anywhere facilities could be secured to handle the greatest number of spectators. After that vote was taken by the team, ACC officials tried to secure the use of the facilities in Rocky Mount and Raleigh.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE TICKETS, DON'T GO
If you don't already have tickets for Saturday's game in Wilson you'd be wasting your gasoline to drive over in hopes of getting to see the game. Tickets have been sold out since Monday, and there will be no tickets available Saturday night.

Again we offer our apologies to ACC for the erroneous reports which appeared in Sports Shots Wednesday.

Battle Royal For Phantoms Tonight

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Tonight is THE NIGHT as far as Greenville High School's basketball team is concerned. Coach Bo Farley's high scoring cage champions will play for the right to represent the North-eastern Conference in the state tournament if they whip the Kinston Red Devils in the Kinston gymnasium tonight.

The high-flying Phantoms are undefeated so far this year in conference play and are one game ahead of the Red Devils who lost only to Greenville by 71-64. The rule that governs which team will represent the conference in the state tourney is a tricky one that is being used for the first time this year. If a team wins the conference championship and then is beaten in the conference tourney, then a playoff must be held between the tourney champ and the conference champ for the right to represent to league. If the regular season winner wins the tournament, too, there will be no necessity of a playoff.

A loss to Kinston tonight would tie the Phantoms and the Red Devils for first place in the conference race. That would mix things up even more.

The Red Devils will be up for this game with the advantage of playing on their home court. The Red Devils have the pressure on them, however, and that could make a difference. The Phantoms did not have much trouble with the Red Devils in their other game and should be able to fast break better on the large Kinston court. Coach Farley's gang have not looked good on foreign courts at times this year but are familiar with the Kinston court by now. They have played on it for four years.

Coach Farley will probably start his same high scoring five that has led the team through the eleven straight wins. That would have Edgar Moore and Bob Howell at forwards, Harold Edwards at center, Ike Riddick and Pat Sawyer at guards. Clark Noble and Tommie Saeed will be held in reserve but ready to go in at any time.

Kinston will start their usual five of Foe Rochelle and Robert Whaley at forwards, Buddy Potter at center, Darwin Williams and John Carter at guards. Kinston Coach Amos Sexton has promoted Elton Faelton up from the junior varsity in an effort to bolster his varsity strength. Faelton was the scoring leader of the Jayvees who have not lost a game all season.

It should be a battle royal tonight with the varsity game starting at eight o'clock. The jayvee contest between the two schools starts at 6:30.

The pressure will be on both varsity teams tonight and the one that can stand it the best will win in all probability. One thing is certain, however. That is, win, lose, or draw, Coach Farley's Phantoms will be fighting with all they've got to tuck that conference crown under their belt.

The Church and Its Sacraments

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 3:15-17; 26:26-28; 28:19-20; Acts 2:38-41; 10:34-48; I Corinthians 11:23-29.

Jesus came to John the Baptist to be baptized. John refused at first, but Jesus insisted. As He stepped from the water, the heavens opened and the Spirit of God descended on Him like a dove, and a voice said: "This is My beloved Son."

At the feast of the Passover, Jesus took bread, blessed it and gave it to His disciples, saying, "This is My body. And He took the cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, "This is My blood shed for the remission of sins."

Jesus' last command was: "Go ye, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you always."

Peter, preaching to multitudes, said: "Repent, and be baptized in the name of Jesus-Christ, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." About 3,000 souls were saved that day. MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 28:19, 20.

The Church and Its Sacraments

JESUS WAS BAPTIZED BY JOHN THE BAPTIST

Scripture—Matthew 3:15-17; 26:26-28; 28:19-20; Acts 2:38-41; 10:34-48; I Corinthians 11:23-29.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. WHAT is a sacrament? To the smaller children the word probably means nothing. However, it may be explained to them in very simple language.

A sacrament is one of the religious ceremonies in Christian churches, as instituted or recognized by Christ. The word comes from the Latin Sacramentum, from Sacra, in English, sacred. It is therefore a sacred rite of the church.

Christian parents have their infants baptized. For older persons the ceremony may be performed after they repent of their sins and acknowledge Christ as their Savior. The ceremony then means that those baptized are forgiven and enter a new life in Jesus Christ.

Before He began His ministry Jesus went to John the Baptist and asked to be baptized. John objected because our Lord had no sins to wash away, but Jesus insisted, saying, "Thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." And Jesus, when He was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens Christ said "this do in remembrance of Me." In remembrance of Christ! How many of us think of Jesus and meditate on what He means to us and what we can do in our lives to show Him we are really trying to please Him?

Jesus' last command to His disciples was after His Resurrection, at His final parting from His earthly companions. He said: "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

What a comfort those words must have been to those men who were to suffer persecution and martyrdom while teaching His word! Multitudes of people came to listen to Peter preach, and after explaining to them of Christ and His saving grace, he exhorted them to "repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call."

His message affected many so deeply that "about 3,000 souls" were added to them that day. We may mention briefly the story which we have read before, but it is always very interesting and instructive, of the Roman captain who was so devout that God heard his prayers and sent Peter to him to explain Christ Jesus.

Peter's answer to Cornelius is especially interesting because it seems to be his realization of Jesus' words that they were to teach all nations. It was, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons."

Paul, writing his first Epistle to the Corinthians, reminds us of the Lord's Supper and of the proper manner of partaking of that sacrament. "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till He come. . . . But let this man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread and drink of that cup."

The manner in which baptism and the Lord's Supper are ministered in different Christian denominations is not a matter that needs discussion in our lesson. In Paul's letter to the Corinthians he quotes Luke 22:19, when

School Surveys Impact Of TV

HONOLULU (AP)—A Honolulu mother recently asked a school principal not to give homework to her child "because he wouldn't have time to watch TV." Another asked that her son be allowed to take a nap at school because he stays up late watching TV. The requests were cited in a school survey on television's effects on school work. The survey covering 800 pupils, showed more than half the children watched television every night on an average of three hours a night. It showed fourth and fifth grades staying up the latest, till 10 and 11 p.m.

Where's the smart place to put your savings?

Today millions of Americans will tell you that the smart place to save your money is an insured Savings and Loan Association. They'll give you three good reasons why this is so... 1. You're smart to put your money where it brings you excellent returns. Insured Savings and Loan Associations can invest most of their funds in sound, steady-paying home mortgages. They really make your money work hard for you. 2. You're smart to put your money where you know it's safe. In these Associations, it's protected by good management and substantial reserves. And the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government—insures your savings up to $10,000. 3. You're smart to deal with friendly, experienced people. People who really know their communities. People who are right on the spot when you need them. So it's hardly surprising that Americans are now putting more of their hard-earned savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than they put anywhere else. And here's another important point: When you're thinking of buying a home, remember that these Associations are the nation's largest single source of home mortgage loans! They make liberal loans. They see to it that you get the money quickly—and at moderate rates. Shouldn't you get to know an insured Savings and Loan Association in your community? You'll find it's a mighty good place to do business!

Householder With Part-Time Help Is Under Social Security

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Do you pay a baby sitter an average of $4 a week?

Do you have a cleaning woman who comes in once a week? or a gardener, handyman or other casual domestic help?

If you do, it is quite likely you are now an employer, with the same responsibility as a big corporation for paying social security taxes.

New provisions of the social security law that went into effect Jan. 1 lowered the qualifying limits for domestics to include them in the social security system if they get $50 cash wages from you in any calendar quarter of the year.

That means any one person to whom you pay about $4 a week or more throughout any one quarter will probably qualify—making you an official employer, with full responsibility for collecting, reporting and paying social security taxes.

Your baby sitter, if she—or he—gets $50 a quarter or more from you, is included. Age makes no difference. You are responsible for collecting, reporting and paying social security taxes even the employee does not want to come into the system.

(But it is up to the government to call on the employee—using the name and address you must supply—and give her a social security card and number.)

Internal revenue officials say the penalties which apply for failure to file or pay income tax also apply, where appropriate, to the reporting and paying of social security taxes by householders.

In case of civil delinquency, failure to file the return in time would subject householders to a penalty of 5 per cent a month of the tax due, up to a total of 25 per cent, plus interest at 6 per cent on the unpaid tax.

For criminal failure to file, which involves willfulness, the possible penalties range up to a fine of $10,000 or a prison term up to one year, or both, for each offense.

The full responsibility for collecting, reporting and paying the social security taxes lies on the employer, the revenue service said, and therefore the penalties apply only to the employer.

The only test now for whether your household employe is eligible for social security coverage is:

Does he or she receive $50 cash wages from you in any calendar quarter—January through March; April through June; July through September; October through December? The number of days worked in the quarter—previously it had to be 24 days—no longer is a factor. The revenue service lists maids, laundresses, cooks, housekeepers, gardeners, janitors, funneermen, handymen, governesses, valets, butlers, chauffeurs and baby sitters. The rule is that they must be your own employes. This lets out carpenters, painters and like workers who are self-employed doing work for you under contract, not as your employe or who are the employes of some firm.

The taxes do not apply to your mother, father, wife, husband or son or daughter under 21.

What does "cash" wages mean? This means money paid out by you. It includes checks and money orders. It does not include streetcar tokens, but does include cash paid for carfare. It does not include the value of food, clothing, room or such other noncash payments.

What about a maid, or other household employe, who does not have a social security number? The employe should be sent to your local social security office.

What are your obligations as an employer? If you have a domestic employe who qualifies, you are obligated to:

1. Deduct 3 per cent from his wages.

2. Add from your own pocket the same amount. If you prefer, you may make no deduction and pay the total 4 per cent of the cash wages from your own pocket.

3. Send this 4 per cent to your district director of internal revenue within a month after the close of the calendar quarter, along with the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes.

4. At the end of each calendar year, give your employe a written statement of how much wages you paid him during the year, and how much social security tax you sent in for him.

These are the same as the obligations of any firm in taking care of its employes' social security contributions. You are not required, as a business is, also to deduct income tax and send that to the government.

Here are some of the questions that seem to be the most common, and answers from social security and the revenue service:

What does all this get for my employe? It allows your household help to join the majority of the nation's millions of breadwinners in paying a quarterly premium on monthly retirement benefits to be paid after the employe is 65, or make monthly payments to the worker's survivors.

Your local social security office can supply full details on the complicated business of how much coverage is needed for what benefits.

Just what "household help" is included? The revenue service lists maids, laundresses, cooks, housekeepers, gardeners, janitors, funneermen, handymen, governesses, valets, butlers, chauffeurs and baby sitters. The rule is that they must be your own employes. This lets out carpenters, painters and like workers who are self-employed doing work for you under contract, not as your employe or who are the employes of some firm.

1. Deduct 3 per cent from his wages.

2. Add from your own pocket the same amount. If you prefer, you may make no deduction and pay the total 4 per cent of the cash wages from your own pocket.

3. Send this 4 per cent to your district director of internal revenue within a month after the close of the calendar quarter, along with the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes.

4. At the end of each calendar year, give your employe a written statement of how much wages you paid him during the year, and how much social security tax you sent in for him.

These are the same as the obligations of any firm in taking care of its employes' social security contributions. You are not required, as a business is, also to deduct income tax and send that to the government.

Here are some of the questions that seem to be the most common, and answers from social security and the revenue service:

What does all this get for my employe? It allows your household help to join the majority of the nation's millions of breadwinners in paying a quarterly premium on monthly retirement benefits to be paid after the employe is 65, or make monthly payments to the worker's survivors.

Your local social security office can supply full details on the complicated business of how much coverage is needed for what benefits.

Just what "household help" is included? The revenue service lists maids, laundresses, cooks, housekeepers, gardeners, janitors, funneermen, handymen, governesses, valets, butlers, chauffeurs and baby sitters. The rule is that they must be your own employes. This lets out carpenters, painters and like workers who are self-employed doing work for you under contract, not as your employe or who are the employes of some firm.

The taxes do not apply to your mother, father, wife, husband or son or daughter under 21.

What does "cash" wages mean? This means money paid out by you. It includes checks and money orders. It does not include streetcar tokens, but does include cash paid for carfare. It does not include the value of food, clothing, room or such other noncash payments.

What about a maid, or other household employe, who does not have a social security number? The employe should be sent to your local social security office.

What are your obligations as an employer? If you have a domestic employe who qualifies, you are obligated to:

1. Deduct 3 per cent from his wages.

2. Add from your own pocket the same amount. If you prefer, you may make no deduction and pay the total 4 per cent of the cash wages from your own pocket.

3. Send this 4 per cent to your district director of internal revenue within a month after the close of the calendar quarter, along with the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes.

or should write to the office (you can do this for the employe) for Form 88-4 (Application for Social Security Accounts Number.) Or this can be obtained from your district director of internal revenue.

How do I—newly an employer for social security tax purposes—get started?

Telephone, write or visit your local revenue office or social security office and ask for the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes. Once you get this, you will go on the mailing list of your district director of internal revenue, and he will send the form to you each quarter, in time for filing.

Say I have a maid, or handyman, who also works in other homes? Should each household be reporting separately for this employe?

Yes, each reports separately, and each pays social security taxes — or does not pay them — under the $50 a quarter rule.

You may get from any Internal Revenue Service office a booklet called "Household Employer's Social Security Tax Guide." This goes fully into your obligations under the new law, tells you how to fulfill them, and provides help for tax tables, plus forms for keeping records and for making the required annual report to your employe.

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND NORTH CAROLINA PITT COUNTY

Acting under authority of an order of the Superior Court of Pitt County, made in that certain action entitled, "Lydia J. King, et al. vs. J. T. May, et al.," appearing of record in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court in Judgment Docket Book No. 39 at page 276, and of the indebtedness thereby secured under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed by Lydia J. King and Mittie King to F. M. Wooten Jr., Trustee, dated the 7th day of January, 1946, and recorded in Book 24, page 581, in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, North Carolina, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, and the conditions of the said order and judgment of the Court not having been complied with; and under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed by Lydia J. King and Mittie King to John B. Lewis, Trustee, dated the 10th day of March, 1943, and recorded in Book W-23, page 654, in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured and the said deed of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured, being also the holder of the said deed of trust, and owner of the judgment, of record in Book No. 39, page 276, referred to above, having demanded a foreclosure thereof; and whereas, Jack Edwards was made substitute Trustee by an instrument of writing dated the 6th day of June, 1950, and recorded in Book Q-25, page 263, in the office of said Register of Deeds, and an action against said substituted trustee and others was instituted on November 24, 1953, as appears in Judgment Docket, Book 40, at page 140, in the said Clerk's office, and now the said substituted trustee joins in this notice for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness; now therefore the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction and will sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, on Monday, the 28th day of February, 1955, at 12:00 o'clock noon, the following described lands, to-wit:

FIRST TRACT: That certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Chocod Township, Pitt County, N. C., being the Chaney W. King Homeplace devised by the will of Chaney W. King to Lydia J. King and Mittie King, containing twenty-five (25) acres, more or less, and being further known as the R. N. Williams land, and being the identical parcel of real estate conveyed to Chaney W. King by that certain deed duly of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book V-11, at page 226.

SECOND TRACT, PARCEL A: That certain tract or parcel of land situated and being in Chocod Township, Pitt County, N. C., beginning at a stake pointed by G. H. and small pines in a back corner of the Drainage Company in H. H. THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Teen-age Turnout

By MARY WILL LONG and FRANCES ADAMS

Tonight is the big night. Greenville's Phantoms will meet Kinston's Red Devils in Kinston to determine the champion of the Northeastern Conference. Quite a few G.H.S.'ers are expected to zoom over to Kinston to cheer their team to victory. The cheerleaders did a good job of reviving that old school spirit in the student body at a pep rally this afternoon. After leading the students in a few cheers, the cheerleaders carried Kinston off the basketball court in a long, black coffin. The appropriate words, "Poor Old Kinston, the Worst is Yet to Come," were sung to the tune of the Funeral March. (Let's hope we'll be able to sing it tonight.)

Cheerleaders to Attend Conference Varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders will participate in a cheerleader conference Saturday morning in Kinston. All cheerleaders in the AA Northeastern conference are invited to attend. During the conference problems that have come up during this basketball season will be discussed and the squads will compete for a cup awarded to the superior cheering squad. The Washington High School cheerleaders originated the idea as a means of promoting better sportsmanship and friendliness between the towns in the AA conference. Last year the Kinston cheerleaders won the award and are therefore playing host for this year's conference. They will not compete for the cup.

Seniors Sweat Over Source Themes The Number 1 Hit Song around G.H.S. now is a song published in the last issue of GREEN LIGHTS. It is sung to the tune of "Let Me Go, Lover," and the words composed by Linda Whitchard are: "Let me go, let me go, let me go, Mr. James. Let me please be released from your spell. You made me weep, my bones creak, I can't sleep, teacher. I was cursed from the first time I failed. You don't want me, but you want me to go on writing source themes. Now I pray that you will know that this is no dream." About this time of the year most G.H.S. seniors can be distinguished by their baggy eyes, little packages of note cards (which they guard with their lives), and a dazed expression. The average day of a senior now consists of hours spent at the library, hours spent writing, and hours spent just plain worrying. Then when he finally goes to bed, he dreams of footnotes all night. If this sounds highly exaggerated, just ask any senior.

Congratulations Department Congratulations to the 1955 TAU Staff. After months of hard work, they finally completed the annual which is looked forward to each spring. Because it was the first annual to be sent to press, it should be back early in the spring. The co-editors and all the members have done a splendid job in compiling this year's annual," stated W. Ward James, adviser.

Congratulations to Harris Northrop for passing the aptitude and physical examinations for the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps scholarship. The scholarship is worth $6,000 for four years. He now awaits a report of a secret selection committee appointed by the Navy. Steve Wilkerson and John Brooks also passed the aptitude test.

Go To Farmville Dance Social life isn't altogether lacking even though everybody has been rushed to death. Greenville was represented by several members of its younger set at a dance in Farmville Saturday night. Lou Cheatham, Mary Will Long, "Peaches" Larkins, Miriam Elks, Pat Sawyer, Edgar Moore, Joe Taft, Harris Northrop, Hannah Proctor, Lelia Davenport, and Norma Barnhill joined in the merrymakings at the D.A.R. Chapter house.

In closing the writers of this column would like to wish the Phantoms the best of luck in their game tonight and urge all G.H.S.'ers to go over and support their team tonight.

AYDEN—The new $11,000 Ayden well will be in full operation within the next several weeks, according to the town clerk's office. Work on the well will be completed as soon as remaining parts arrive from the manufacturing supply firm.

When the well will be in operation it will bring the total number of town wells to 4. The well will be capable of supplying 500 gallons of water per minute, with the type of pumps being installed.

The town clerk declared that the machinery is being paid for out of existing town funds, and will not involve a long-term debt for the community.

If a door key sticks in a lock, it can often be made to operate smoothly by rubbing it with a soft lead pencil.

Senator Morse Now A Democrat

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, the erstwhile Republican who became an independent in 1952, will run as a Democrat in 1956.

He changed his registration at his home town courthouse here yesterday after flying out from Washington without announcing his intentions.

The Democrats welcomed him warmly. He drew cheers at a Democratic party rally when he announced on a statewide radio hookup last night that he intends to run for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Elected first in 1944 and again in 1950, Morse bolted from the Republicans in 1952, saying he no longer could go along with party policies. He campaigned for Democrats that fall, and again in 1954, when he helped the Democratic newcomer, Richard L. Neuberger, win Oregon's other Senate seat.

Morse also voted with the Democrats in organizing the Senate, and drew important committee assignments. The Republicans had shorn him of major committee assignments after he left his party.

Morse said in his speech last night that he has no regrets over leaving the Republicans, and added, "I have become convinced that I can make my best contribution to a legislative program that will best serve the people of Oregon, and the nation, under the banner of the Democratic party."

OVERSIGHT? SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The men who keep track of such things report that a single marriage intention filed here the day after Valentine's Day.

Legislators Reluctant To Pressure Congress

RALEIGH — Increasing doubt is being expressed by legislators about the propriety of the General Assembly's petitioning Congress to vote this or that way on national legislation.

Thus far, the Legislature has had three resolutions memorializing Congress to vote a specific way on pending measures. And, of course, the North Carolina delegation in Congress is requested to go along with the resolutions.

On two successive days this week, House members have raised the question at committee sessions considering such resolutions. This didn't mean they opposed the thought behind the resolutions. The legislators merely doubted the wisdom of telling Congress and the North Carolina delegation how to vote.

The first joint resolution of the session asked Congress not to adopt any tariff policies that would be unfavorable to the textile industry. Another requested Congress not to put an import duty on potash, vital in fertilizing North Carolina tobacco and other crops. The third asked Congress to pass a pending bill giving schools and health agencies a crack at Federal surplus property.

All the members of the three House committees that took time to consider the resolutions favor doing something for tobacco, the textile industry, public schools and health. But some of them think the business of memorializing Congress to vote a certain way is getting a little out of hand.

Rep. Walter Jones of Pitt and George Randall of Iredell stated this attitude clearly during the discussion of the resolution on surplus property.

Jones said: "We've elected men to Congress to represent us, and it seems to me it's their prerogative to vote on national legislation without our adopting resolutions telling them how to vote."

Randall agreed, and added: "We've got enough to look after dealing with State affairs. It's going to be here a long time."

Rep. Henry Hall Wilson of Union took the floor to speak against the textile tariff resolution on principle, but his colleagues did not listen very attentively. When it came time to vote they voted in the ratio of about ten to one for the measure, several of them saying they thought it was presumptuous, but could see no real harm in it.

After the House vote had been recorded Rep. Ralph Fisher of Transylvania, the Republican leader, quipped that he had never seen so many Democrats vote for high tariff.

Memphis Talks Own Power Plant

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The city of Memphis will meet future power needs by building its own generating plant, if necessary, rather than buying power from the Dixon-Yates group, Mayor Frank Tobey says.

If construction of the proposed Dixon-Yates plant is started at nearby West Memphis, Ark., "the city of Memphis will take immediate steps to build its own plant here," Tobey told newsmen yesterday. The city now buys its power from the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Under a contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, the Dixon-Yates private power group would supply the Memphis area with about 600,000 kilowatts, replacing a like amount of TVA power diverted to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky. The plan has the approval of President Eisenhower but is bitterly opposed by many TVA supporters.

Tobey said the city's proposed plant would cost approximately 100 million dollars. He said he has conferred with financiers about bonds and expects no financing difficulties.

Caught Stealing A Hot Radiator

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three men were jailed here yesterday for stealing a radiator from an apartment building about to be dismantled.

Police testified the radiator was still heated—fresh off the pipes.

As he sent Frank Johnson to jail for 30 days and gave Wallace Clavon and Harry Thomas 15-day terms, Magistrate Howard L. Aaron commented:

"I've heard about people who would steal anything but a hot stove but here is a case of stealing a hot radiator."

Snowbound Since Before Yuletide

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP)—Mike Cronin in his 70s has been snowbound all alone since before Christmas on the Al Engberg ranch, where he's tending cattle.

They got worried about Mike the other day and just to be sure the old-time cowboy was getting along all right, Roy Rasmussen flew over the ranch, south of here, and dropped reading material.

"From the heavy way we got, I'd say Cronin is doing fine," the pilot reported.

Dog Collecting Scatter Rugs

WORCESTER Mass. (AP)—Wiggle, a 3-month-old mongrel dog, is building quite a display of rugs in the Joseph R. Mahoney home — and Mahoney doesn't know where they're coming from.

He says the dog has dragged at least half a dozen scatter rugs, some evidently costly, onto the Mahoney premises in recent months.

Area An H-Bomb Would Affect

This map includes an area 140 miles long, about 20 miles wide—to illustrate Atomic Energy Commission's assessment of the space in which lives of all persons would be seriously threatened, if they took no protective measures by radioactive "fall out" from an H-bomb blast such as the U. S. exploded at Bikini on March 1, 1954. Half of the people in an area 160 miles downwind might die, said the AEC, with 5 to 10 percent fatalities as much as 190 miles from the blast, as noted on the map, assuming a northeasterly down wind. The AEC said the Bikini blast badly contaminated an area of about 7,000 square miles — roughly the size of New Jersey, which has 7,836 square miles. (AP Wirephoto).

British May Buy U.S. Missiles

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Great Britain, with much of her guided missile program still in the development stage, has been talking with the United States about buying some American weapons.

The talks, still in preliminary phases with only formal negotiations yet to follow, involve the U. S. Army's Corporal missile, a Defense Department spokesman said today in answer to a reporter's inquiries.

The Corporal is a "surface-to-surface" missile, intended for bombardment of enemy targets at ranges greater than are covered by conventional artillery.

There has been speculation that the Corporal can strike with effective accuracy up to 40 or 50 miles. The Army says its range is "far beyond" that of artillery, which covers up to 30 miles with big guns.

The Corporal is produced for the Army jointly by Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and Giffill Brothers, Inc. It has been in mass production for more than a year.

Any agreement for British purchase presumably would be reached through the Defense Department and Army.

The spokesman said published reports that the British government already has purchased some other American missiles appeared premature, adding that the only missile involved so far is the Corporal and that in that case negotiations are only in the discussion stage.

The Corporal can be equipped with either a standard explosive warhead or an atomic charge. In firing it starts out propelled by a rocket motor. During its flight at over 2,000 m.p.h., a guidance system takes control to steer the missile toward its precise target—massed tanks, troops, ammunition dump bridges or rail yards.

Vote Pay Raise For Idle Post

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Alameda County supervisors have voted a $13,200 annual raise for a job that is now vacant.

They expect that increasing the county administrator's salary from $3,900 to $16,200 will attract applicants.

A proposed ordinance would widen the administrator's duties to include general supervision over all county expenditures. Application deadline for the new job is March 21.

Edwin S. Howell quit the $3,000 position last month to become Richmond, Calif., city manager.

Said Asking For Asylum In Soviet

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A British woman reportedly has asked the Russians for political asylum. Austrian police said the woman, Mrs. E. E. W. Grossett, of Edinburgh, Scotland, went to a Russian zonal control post after arriving here by air.

In Edinburgh, her husband said he expected his wife back in a few days. "You know how women take notions," he said. "She often goes away and runs out of money and then comes home."

He said she had no "particular political sympathies."

More Printers In Great Demand

DETROIT (AP)—A steadily increasing shortage of skilled journeymen is causing serious concern to the printing industry. A report to the Printing Industry of America indicated that the ratio of apprentices in the industry should be 1 to 5 but is only 1 to 10.

The report showed that 23 per cent of the workers in the unionized commercial printing and lithographing industries are older than 55, and that 30 per cent will leave the industry in the next 10 years.

Youth Confesses To Brutal Child-Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—A distraught father lifted the slashed and battered body of his curly-haired 9-year-old daughter from an ice-rimmed pond last night. Three hours later, a wayward 16-year-old youth admitted killing the girl, the prosecutor reported.

The victim was pretty Kathleen McLaughlin. Her body was found near her parents' spacious suburban home in fashionable Franklin Kneels.

Prosecutor Fred Ziem of adjoining Oakland County said Floyd Diamond, small for his age, admitted stabbing the child repeatedly with a jackknife and crushing her skull with a rock in a fit of passion that built up as he miled her in roughhouse play.

The boy recently was released after a year in the Wayne County Training School. His stepmother Mrs. Marge Diamond said he had been a "problem child" who never got beyond the fourth grade.

The father, John J. McLaughlin, 42, found the body in the pond during a search about two hours after the child was last seen by her family.

The boy's formal statement to Ziem told what happened in those two hours:

Floyd, who lives three blocks from the McLaughlins, came by Kathleen's home and saw her playing. Together, they headed toward a skating pond near the one where the body was found. There they began scuffling and tripping each other. He knocked her down, and she called him a name.

That angered him. He slapped her hard. She ran toward the other pond but he caught her and tore off her jacket and blouse as she struggled in his grasp.

He fondled her upper body but she broke free and ran again. Again he caught her and fell on top of her with his open pocket knife in his hand. The first stabbing was "accidental." But the slight of blood did something to him and he stabbed the girl's body repeatedly until the blade of his pocket knife broke. Then he opened a smaller blade and slashed her more.

Then he dragged her by the leg to the pond. As her exposed body touched the icy water, she cried out. He grabbed a large rock and hit her three times on the head before abandoning her in the water.

Ziem said he probably will seek a waiver of juvenile court jurisdiction so Floyd can be prosecuted for murder.

W.F. Babcock, consulting traffic engineer from North Carolina State College has agreed to meet with the Zoning Commission and Planning Board concerning the possibility of preparing a master street plan. City Manager James S. Hughes said today.

Babcock will confer with the two boards at a joint meeting of the advisory groups next Thursday night.

If the groups agree to engage Babcock, the engineer will prepare a master street plan to be used by the boards in recommending set-back lines for various city streets.

The boards met jointly earlier this month and voted to ask Babcock to attend the February 24 meeting "for the sole purpose of discussing an over-all master street plan in its entirety, so that the Board would then be able to see the matter and they had recommended that the city obtain the services of a consulting engineer to work out a master street plan for the city."

Babcock was one of the engineers recommended by the commission.

The traffic engineer is familiar with the city since he recently completed a survey of the parking needs following that survey he made for the local city government.

Recommendations to the city fathers concerning present and future parking needs locally.

After the two boards consult with Babcock at the meeting next week they will decide whether the services of a traffic engineer are needed to prepare the master street plan.

Set-back line requirements would place new building fronts a minimum distance from the street to allow for future widening of certain thoroughfares.

Traffic Engineer Will Confer On Street Planning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The world's most modern polio hospital will be dedicated today. The 4½ million dollar edifice is largely a monument to the civic devotion of a movie magnate who once watched helplessly as his daughter lay near death in an overcrowded polio ward.

The eight-story communicable diseases unit of the Los Angeles County General Hospital will be in use in another month or so.

Although taxpayers footed the bill through a bond issue, doctors and hospital officials give much of the credit to Don Hartman, head of production at Paramount Pictures.

In 1948, an epidemic year, Hartman's eldest daughter, Mima, then 17, was confined to the overcrowded polio ward at General Hospital.

After she recovered, her father and James Simmons, an airline executive who also had relatives in the ward, formed a citizens committee to get a bond issue passed for a new hospital.

"Our only job," Hartman recalls, "was to overcome apathy."

Hartman, a former screenwriter, wrote a moving script containing a short plea. He got MGM to film it and Cary Grant to star in it. Fox West Coast Theaters distributed it.

The film powerfully contrasted plans for the new hospital with the overcrowding in the old polio ward.

Hartman organized other stars into speaking teams to plug for the bonds. But mostly Hartman pounded doors himself.

The hospital, 27 months in the building, will care for 256 patients, three to a room—with no wards.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—A $1,075 violin is missing and police are looking for "somebody carrying a violin who may not look like a violinist." Louis Frankel, 40, used the valuable violin last night while playing in a South Water Street tavern. When he had the room for a moment, he told police, somebody grabbed the instrument, case and bow.

The extreme specialization which has been achieved by lice is indicated by one type which feeds exclusively on the tears of one species of bird — the swifts.

President Reminds GOP Communism Is Main Foe

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says Republicans ought not to link Communists and Democrats in the same class when they line up to fight their enemies.

The President's admonition was delivered to the Republican National Committee yesterday after it unanimously had affirmed a subcommittee's choice of San Francisco as the site and Aug. 20 as the opening date for the 1958 presidential nominating convention.

The committee thanked Eisenhower for "an inspirational and heart-warming talk" and proceeded to assert in a resolution offered by former Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, Illinois member:

"Thanks to him (Eisenhower) and his unequalled leadership, we approach 1958 not only determined to win, but convinced that we will win because America wants and is determined to have the quality of government which Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republican party have given it."

Maintaining silence on his own plans, the President told the delegates not to close their "balance of values" in their struggle to win elections.

"Our greatest enemy is the Communists," he said. "Our greatest enemy today is a free world against a dictator world. Our greatest enemy is not the Democrats. We certainly know we can't have better allies when we are fighting anybody from abroad."

"So let's remember that we let's not build up a picture that the worst enemy anyone can have is a Democrat. Far from it. We just don't think they can do as good as we do. As a matter of fact, we know it."

The President's cautionary remarks appeared directed at such GOP campaigners as Sen. McCarr-thy of Wisconsin, who assailed Democrats in speeches entitled "20 Years of Treason," and at others who have accused Democratic officials of being soft toward communism.

Democrats have said Vice President Nixon was one of the latter, but Nixon has denied making any such general charges.

Eisenhower told the delegates that instead of the "progressive moderate" label he once used for his administration he now prefers "dynamic conservatism."

Humorist To Be Executives Club Guest Saturday

Pitt County Executives Club will meet tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the North dining hall at East Carolina College.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Bob Ringer, West coast humorist and a former sales consultant in Hollywood.

Ringer is rated among the top ten of the nation's most delightful speakers, and he is ranked third among speakers on the West coast.

The humorist is also an author of note, having written a recent book, "The Key to Adventurous Living."

Views Business Practices Today As Inefficient

By SAM DAWSON.

NEW YORK (AP)—Business practices now considered advanced would become obsolete overnight if Americans put to use the techniques scientists already know or can develop.

A leading scientist Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, says so. And he thinks this should be done right about record keeping before the present "vast and ever-increasing store of information" gets too big to be used efficiently.

Take the telephone, Dr. Bush thinks businessmen will use it more and more. But the telephone is often a nuisance, breaking in on other work. Outlining his views to members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers meeting here, Dr. Bush suggests they perfect a way "by which conversations could be carried on when both participants, rather than just one, want to talk and find it convenient to do so."

As for the stenographer on whom most businessmen rely, the scientist says, "We could make a machine that would type when we talked into it."

Dr. Bush finds the postal system, with multiple handling of a letter between sender and recipient, "utterly archaic." He says, "It is quite possible to read addresses photoelectrically if they are in proper code, and to render all sorting automatic."

But Dr. Bush thinks the most pressing need now is to work out from under the mass of paper that is piling up every day.

The work of thousands of able men is constantly being recorded, he says, but an increasing part of that work is lost for all essential purposes, "because we do not know how to find a pertinent item of information after it has become embedded in the mass."

Techniques for remedying this are already at hand, he says. Fifty companies are active in the production of one kind or another of data-handling equipment.

Photographic methods can be used to cram the material of a thousand books into the space of a cigarette package. Computing devices can manipulate records in the form of numbers at the rate of a million operations a second.

Scientific literature, legal documents or business records could be thus coded and placed under the control of machinery.

ROYAL TRAIN FOR USE OF TOURISTS

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The "pleasure train" which once belonged to ex-King Farouk will be used for tourist trips from Cairo to historical upper Egypt towns of Luxor and Assuan.

The luxury diesel train, which the ex-king bought from Italy, will cover the 448-mile distance in about eight hours.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK—The stock market advanced quickly today with radio-televisions well out in front in the early afternoon.

Gains throughout the list went to between 1 and 2 points. Losses sometimes got to a point.

Volume continued moderate right around yesterday's total of 3,090,000 shares.

Higher with the radio-televisions were the railroads, motion pictures, airlines, and aircraft.

Although there were many minus signs scattered through the list, no major group was seriously depressed.

Among higher stocks were Seaboard Railroad, Northern Pacific, Pan American World Airways, Paramount Pictures, American Telephone, Emerson Radio, Zenith Radio, Radio Corp., Philco, United Aircraft and Bethlehem Steel.

Airport and Ohio Railroad was strong on news that its earnings were currently better although it reported profits of 96 cents a share last year as against $3.31 in 1953.

American Bosch held steady when directors declared a dividend of 25 cents. Its last previous payment was 30 cents in July of 1952.

Dresser Industries was up between 1 and 2 points on an increased dividend. The stock opened on 2,800 shares up 1 1/2 at 43 1/4.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices mostly 25 to 30 lower. 16.75 at Rich Square, 16.50 at Beaufort, 16.25 at New Bern, Kenly, Wilson, Plymouth, Jacksonville, Kingston, Benson, Fayetteville and Washington; 16.00 at Micro Freeman, Siler City, Elizabethtown, Clarkton, Dunn Newton Grove, Fair Bluff, Warsaw, Bailey, Goldsboro, Whiteville, Tabor City, Shallotte, Tarboro, Entola, Hamlet, Lion Rock Mount, Smithfield, Clinton, Lumberton and Woodland.

representatives of the Farm Bureau, the Grange and most of the milk producing and distributing associations. The support was based on practical grounds, while such opposition as was voiced dealt in general terms of inadvisability of State government regulation of private contracts. Price fixing on milk might be just an opening wedge and could lead to price fixing on other products, they said.

And if prices must be fixed there is some justification for maximum prices, no justification at all for preventing a customer buying any product at as low cost as possible.

Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Nick Balafas

Mrs. Nick Balafas, 65, died at her home, 1209 Myrtle Avenue, early Thursday morning following a long illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Gus Pappas, Greek Orthodox Minister of Wilmington. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Balafas was a native of Vinalonia, Evritania, Greece, and came to the United States to live in 1920. She lived in Farmville for a few years and had been living in Greenville since 1925. Her husband died in 1951. She was a member of the Greek Orthodox Church in Raleigh.

Surviving are a brother-in-law, Jimmy Balafas of Greenville; a nephew, Gus Balafas of Kingston; and three sisters, all of Greece.

College To Offer Third In Series Of TV Courses

East Carolina College will begin Monday, February 21, the third in a series of televised courses on the education of young children. Programs extending through the spring quarter will focus attention on "The Adolescent and His Environment" and will be telecast by Station WNCN of Greenville from 2 to 2:30 Monday through Friday of each week.

The initial course in the series "Guiding Young Children" was the first TV course given for credit in the entire South. "The Pre-Adolescent Child and His Environment" continued the series during the present, or winter, quarter.

Instruction is designed to benefit teachers, school officials, parents and others interested in the physical, intellectual, and aesthetic development of the child and in improving the type of training offered him.

The course to be offered during the spring quarter may be taken either for three quarter hours of credit, or it may be audited without credit. All programs will, of course, be open to the public.

"The Adolescent and His Environment" has been organized around four areas of interest and will be taught by members of the college faculty. Audio-visual aids of various types will be used to supplement talks and lectures by the instructors.

Appearing on programs during the spring quarter will be Dr. Clinton R. Prewett, director of personnel at the college; Dr. Bessie McNeil, director of the department of home economics; Dr. John B. Bennett, director of religious activities; and Frank G. Fuller, member of the department of education.

Dr. Prewett will discuss growth and developmental problems of youth. He will deal in considerable detail with the emotional, mental, social, and physical growth of the child. Dr. McNeil's topic will be the adolescent in relation to his family and to major living.

Placing major interest on youth and value patterns, Dr. Bennett will discuss ethics, religion, delinquency and other problems as they concern the adolescent. Mr. Fuller will deal with the adolescent and guidance services.

Frank Allen Chosen Chairman Of Farmville Farmers Day Event

FARMVILLE—Frank K. Allen will serve as general chairman for this year's Farmer's Day committee, Charles S. Edwards, Chamber of Commerce secretary announced today.

Edwards said the date of the annual event has also been set for April 20.

"The program will be altered this year to make it even more interesting than last when Governor Umstead estimated attendance at 20,000," the secretary declared.

Edwards pointed out that a cattle show is to be added for this year's event and the parade is to be longer than the two-mile affair staged in 1954.

"This is not a commercial event," Edwards continued. "It is a party staged by merchants and other people of Farmville for their farmer friends. All places of business will be closed during the afternoon. Everything will be free except hot dogs and drinks on sale at the Kiwanis-PTA booth in the warehouse."

He noted that the speaker for the event will be announced in a few weeks.

The Farmer's Day is being sponsored by the Farmville Chamber of Commerce. President of the organization is R. O. Lang, Jr.

Edwards released the following list of committees which will stage the event:

Check-Passer, Car-Thief Now Heads 'Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Garland William Daniels, a nomadic check-passer and car-thief, today was designated as one of the FBI's "10 Most Wanted Men."

Daniels, now 50, escaped in late 1951 from the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington, Ky., where he was under treatment as a narcotics addict. Since then he has been at large.

The FBI said that in the spring of 1954, Daniels got a position with a labor union in California under the name of "Bob Colman," and stole 30 blank checks bearing the union's name, afterwards passing them fraudulently in California.

He has done time in Connecticut, Maryland, the District of Columbia, California, Florida and Kansas, for auto theft, carrying concealed weapons, passing bad checks, forgery, and interstate transportation of stolen property.

His last arrest, for auto theft, was at Daytona Beach, Fla. He then attempted suicide. After receiving a seven-year sentence, he was transferred to the Lexington hospital.

Daniels is described by the FBI as a "sharp" dresser, of medium height and medium muscular build, with gray-blue eyes and receding brown hair. He has a jagged 11-inch scar on his neck below the left ear.

On the "Most Wanted" list, Daniels replaces Kenneth Carpenter, wanted for bank robbery and picked up Feb. 4 at Arlington, Tenn.

Files $300 Suit For Car Damages

Lacy A. Phillips, of Pitt County, has filed a $300 civil suit against two residents of Lee County for damages his car received in a traffic collision in Kingston on January 21.

Phillips charges the defendants with negligence and failure to keep a proper lookout at an intersection in Kingston. The plaintiff states that he was approaching an intersection on a green light and had the right of way when the two vehicles collided.

The suit was filed in the office of the Superior Court Clerk for Pitt County.

'Near Normal' Weather Ahead

Temperatures in North Carolina will average near normal Saturday through Wednesday, predicts the five-day weather forecast furnished by the Associated Press today.

There will be rising temperatures Saturday and Sunday night, turning colder Sunday and Sunday night with a rising trend beginning about Tuesday.

Rainfall is predicted as averaging about one inch, occurring mostly Saturday night with light rain again Tuesday.

Seeks Expanded Police Powers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom's government has asked Parliament to widen its police powers greatly. Strijdom's regime is pushing a dual program of racial segregation and weakening British influence.

Proposed changes in the justice code would give police the right to enter premises without warrants at any time to confiscate anything useful as evidence, and greater freedom to shoot in situations they regard as dangerous.

Students Speak At Ruritan Meet

WINTERVILLE—At the Winterville Ruritan Club's supper meeting last Tuesday night, two Greenville High School students, Miss Patsy Baker and John Brooks were speakers.

Program Chairman Ward James introduced the speakers and explained that the students would repeat their speeches made in the recent Lions' Club speech tournament.

Miss Baker's subject was "I Speak for Democracy." She contrasted the American way of life with that of communism.

John Brooks used for his topic, "O Ship of State!" He depicted great events in American history which grew out of attacks on American ships, such as the sinking of the Lusitania and the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

President Harroll Weaver, who presided, recognized the following guests: Preston Corey, Glenn Smart and Herman Day. Special guests were James Evans and Burt Worthington, High School seniors.

L. H. Ellis, Vernon Cox and former Ruritan District Governor Elwood Davenport reported on the recent Ruritan National Convention in Washington, D. C. Ruritan clubs from 15 states attended the convention at Statler Hotel.
