SAD MULE AND SAD DRIVER — Kemp Roberts, 200 Cross Street, and the mule he was driving have sad expressions as they look over splintered parts of their cart which was involved in a collision at the intersection of Fifth and Maple Streets this morning. The mule and cart were involved in a collision with a car driven by Mrs. Bertha Tyson Forrest of 504 Oak Street. Roberts suffered minor hand and leg injuries when he was thrown from the cart by the impact. The mule apparently had only its feelings hurt. Police made no charges in connection with the accident.

Coroner's Jury Rules Shooting In Line Of Duty

Inquest Clears Patrolman

By BOB HILLDRUP
A coroner's jury last night ruled that State Highway Patrol Cpl. Carl E. Whitfield acted in the line of duty January 15 in the shooting of Linwood Earl Newton of Farmville. Newton died last week in a Durham hospital after undergoing a total of six operations.

Newton's car keys over to Deputy Sheriff Jack Russell. Continuing to Greenville, Whitfield said that Newton, for no apparent reason, suddenly struck him in the face. Whitfield cut the car to the right, ran off the road and into a ditch. His head pitched forward and struck the windshield and his chest struck the steering wheel. When his senses cleared, Newton had obtained his revolver and was beating him about the head with it.

The jury retired from the courtroom shortly after 9 p.m. and returned at 9:30 with a verdict which said that Whitfield fired in self-defense while acting in the line of duty. It recommended that no action be taken against the officer. A small but attentive audience was on hand for the proceedings. It included members of Newton's family and a large number of law enforcement officers from county and city offices.

Hospital Administrator Hopes For Full Accreditation In '55

An announcement from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals reveals that Pitt County Memorial Hospital has been provisionally accredited by that group on the basis of a 1951 survey made here.

This survey was made when the hospital was first opened, and the Commission ruled it had met all minimum requirements for accreditation.

Hospital administrator C. D. Ward said today, "We definitely feel that when a 1955 survey is made, we will be fully accredited." The accreditation program is a voluntary one and only those hospitals which request survey are visited. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals is an agency established by five leading health organizations—the American Col-

Forest Fires Damage 416 Acres Over Pitt County

Forest fires damaged 416 acres of timber land in widely separated areas of Pitt county Tuesday and Wednesday, destroyed a dwelling and threatened a high school building. Pitt County Forest Ranger N. S. (Kid) Tyson said high wind scattered the fires and caused extensive damage.

Fire Tuesday night damaged about 176 acres of timber on the L. O. Whitestart land at Stokes. The wardens had the fires under control about 3:30 a.m. next day. This fire for a time threatened to sweep toward the high school. The Greenville fire department sent a truck to protect the school building.

John O'Carry's dwelling at Cox's Crossing community was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Flying embers set grass fire and the blaze spread and damaged three acres of timber on Highway 43. Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Mrs. Hazel Manning, observer in the Forest Service Tower, near the Television Station, spotted a woods fire between Bell Arthur and Bruce on Highway 43. The fire damaged 237 acres of timber on the Allgood, Pierce and Cape Fear Lumber Company property. The Forest Rangers had the blaze under control by 10 o'clock last night.

Governor Reports Revenue Picture Is Looking Better

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Hodges says the state revenue picture for this fiscal year and the next biennium is looking better. He told the North Carolina Citizens Assn. last night that an increase in the estimated revenue during that period may be "substantially" more than the six million dollars he had predicted some weeks ago.

At a luncheon yesterday Sam Clark of Tarboro was elected president of the organization to succeed Allen H. Sims of Gastonia. Other new officers elected were Leo Harvey, Kinston, first vice president, and Grady Rankin, Gastonia, second vice president. Re-elected were Lloyd Griffin, Raleigh, executive vice president and secretary and W. H. Weather- spoon, Raleigh, treasurer.

Sen. George Calls For New Free World Unity Big 4 Parley Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) called today for new efforts to achieve free world unity as a prelude to a possible Big Four meeting this year on world peace. Agreeing such unity is needed, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said in a separate interview it might be well to hold a preliminary "Big Three" conference to iron out policy differences before any full-dress talks with Russia.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has advocated a top-level meeting of the United States, Russia, Britain and France as soon as the West European defense setup is ratified and the way cleared for Germany to rearm.

He said he feels President Eisenhower's news conference comments yesterday indicate the President is willing to meet with the chiefs of other governments "if there is a reasonable hope of getting something done." "After the Paris agreements for arming Germany have been ratified, I hope that work can be started on an agenda for a high-level conference," George said. "I would hope that such an agenda could be developed by fall."

Press And Radio Spokesmen See Infringement Tax On Advertising Argued

RALEIGH — Representatives of North Carolina's newspaper and radio industry contend that a proposed levy of 3 per cent on their gross receipts from advertising would infringe on the constitutional guarantee of a free press. They made their expressions known before the Joint Finance Committee yesterday. In addition to questioning the constitutionality of the bill, the spokesmen said the proposal "would depress rather than accelerate" revenues. They argued that it would cause advertising to decline and advertising attracts business.

Sen. D. J. Rose of Wayne introduced the tax bill Monday night. He estimated it would increase state revenues $1,182,000 a year. Holt McPherson, editor of the High Point Enterprise and president of the North Carolina Press Assn., told the committee the tax proposal "would be ruinous to many of the smaller newspapers."

Meanwhile, the special appropriations subcommittee continued its budget work yesterday with members of the press attending under terms of an agreement. The spokesmen are not to print names of committee members in reporting committee action. Two news men declined to attend the session under those conditions. The 25-member subcommittee, which will make recommendations to the full Appropriations Committee, approved a new $12,000-a-year post of business officer and treasurer for the Consolidated University of North Carolina. Also approved was a $3,000 appropriation for secretarial help for the business officer.

New Nuclear Weapons Ban Offered By Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for a nuclear weapons ban. The reduction of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance. The Communist party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.

The article did not specify whether this control board would come under the authority of the U.N. Security Council, where Russia has veto power. It was not immediately apparent whether this was an oversight or a policy shift. In the Assembly debate last fall, Russia asserted that the control agency should not have anything to do with punishment of violators but should merely report them to the Security Council for punitive action.

Finnish Tanker Is Turning Back

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—The owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba today confirmed that the vessel is sailing back to Communist Romania with her cargo of jet plane fuel originally earmarked for Red China.

Part of its meeting was devoted to a discussion on whether to increase tuition charges for non-North Carolinians who attend state supported colleges. No action was taken. Prior to the subcommittee meeting, newsmen met with the chairman of the Joint Appropriations Committee, Sen. J. C. Eagles Jr. of Wilson and Rep. J. K. Doughton of Allegheny to work out details of the agreement for covering the subcommittee's work. Doughton said: "The subcommittee is going to have to do some unpleasant things. It's going to be shot at. We're not running away from shots, but we feel we can work more efficiently if we are not subjected to outside pressure. What we are doing on the budget is only tentative; it must go back to the full committee for approval."

Loses Round

RALEIGH (AP)—Bills to take away from the sheriff of Cumberland County the power and duty of enforcing the criminal laws were approved today by House Judiciary 1 Committee. The bills were hotly debated before the committee at a stormy hearing Tuesday. The hearing brought a political facelift in Cumberland County. Following the hearing, Cumberland's Rep. William Yarborough called Sheriff L. L. Guy a liar and invited him to take off his badge and "have it out."

MARINES ARRIVING

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The transport Gen. William M. Black was scheduled to arrive today with 2,673 men of the 1st Marine Division, returning home from Korea.

After filing for re-election to office Ruffin said: "The City Council has done all possible toward getting the bridge and by-pass approved for which bids will be opened March 29. The most important things now on the agenda for the councilman are off-street parking and the drainage project for Greene Mill Run. I am heartily in favor of seeing each of these projects completed and also the opening of First Street from Cotanche to re-enter Fifth Street near Greenwood Cemetery."

Commenting on the first two years of the city manager form of government he stated: "I think that it is the best way for us to operate our city government." He indicated that he considered the "Plan 'D'" form of city government a big improvement over the old aldermanic set-up. Ruffin is 48 years old and has lived in Greenville for the past 35 years. During that entire period he has been affiliated with the E. B. Picklen Tobacco Company and is presently vice-president of that organization. The local tobacconist is married to the former Miss Eleanor Tyson of this city and they live with their three children in Brookings. Their children are Ann, 18; Margaret, 14, and Coleman, 13.

Leave No Margin For Confusion

The fight over secrecy in state money matters has cropped up again in a special appropriations subcommittee of the General Assembly.

A few members of the subcommittee apparently wanted the discussions of state money matters held behind closed doors out of public view—which is permissible under rules adopted in the current session. There were other members of the subcommittee who wanted the folks back home to know what was going on as the matter of appropriations for the next biennium were being thrashed out.

Most of the 25-member subcommittee apparently wants to find some "middle-ground" censorship to protect them from unfavorable publicity, yet keep the "secret meeting" tag off the door of their meeting room.

The advice given the subcommittee by Rep. Gavin of Randolph, one of its members, is as sound as any we have heard on the subject. Gavin asserted, "when you have censorship you run into confusion and when you have qualified censorship you have twice as much confusion."

The Reflector feels, as it has felt, that members of the General Assembly have nothing to fear from reports of their actions or discussions of matters of state business. State business is the people's business, and the people are certainly entitled to know how their elected representatives handle that business.

When a legislative committee or subcommittee cloaks its meeting with secrecy the move immediately creates suspicion among the people of the state who are interested in knowing what is going on. Reports of what transpire in such meetings always leaks out. Some are reliable, some are not. Newsmen who gather the information for the people have little way of knowing which is which and a great deal of confusion and conflicting reports almost always results.

A qualified censorship of reports of committee or subcommittee meetings would create equally conflicting and confusion reports. It would be most impractical if not impossible to set up.

In the interest of the legislators and the people of the state, the only absolutely safe ground is to have the meetings open for all to view and hear what goes on. Then there will be no margin for conflicting reports or confusion.

Right Of Way Signs Helping City Traffic

The General Assembly has put some legal teeth behind those "Yield Right of Way" signs which have popped up throughout the state recently.

Most people probably didn't know there was any question about the legal status of the signs before the Senate enacted into law this week a bill to legalize the signs now in use at many street and highway intersections.

Legal or not, the signs, from our observation, have been doing a good job in regulating the flow of traffic at intersections in Greenville. A few weeks ago the city Police Department made a survey of hazardous intersections throughout the city, and as a result a considerable number of Stop signs and Yield Right of Way signs popped up at strategic places throughout Greenville.

For the most part the new signs were put up at intersections which had not previously been clearly marked to indicate which street had the right of way. The new signs have made the intersections at which they have been erected much safer from the standpoint of both motorist and pedestrian. There are still a good many intersections at which similar signs could be advantageously used if the city would purchase them and have them erected.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WE NEED TO BE ALERTED

Everyone is greatly alarmed at the present time over juvenile delinquency. Probably the most alarming aspect of this situation is that it indicates much more widespread moral infirmity than is revealed in the few cases that reach the courts.

In other words, juvenile delinquency is only the evil which comes out into the open. For every youngster who gets into trouble with the police there are many others whose moral standards have either been lowered or arrested to such an extent that they are constantly in danger of breaking into open violence. Worst of all, juvenile delinquency would seem to indicate that there has been a moral relaxation all along the line. Or, to change the figure, we have probably sunk down more than we realize.

There are still just as fine children and young people today as humanity has ever produced. But it must be admitted that the general lowering of moral standards has affected a whole generation and not just a small segment. So the juvenile delinquency problem should cause us anxiety not just because of what it means to the few who get legally involved, but to the children and grandchildren within the confines of our own quiet homes. Powerful forces have been brought to bear on their lives, and many of these forces exert an alarmingly adverse influence.

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Practical Republican politicians feel confident that the Yalta publicity will yield them millions of decisive votes in 1956, as F.D.R.'s friendly actions and references to important racial blocs are developed by GOP headquarters. They think that publication may have cost the Democrats of today the so-called "foreign vote."

Leonard W. Hall, the shrewd Republican National Chairman, will not harp on the theme that Roosevelt's postwar policies for the Far East gave China to the Communists by his generous concessions to Stalin in that area. Hall believes that this issue has been sufficiently exploited by the Knowland-McCarthy bloc in Capitol Hill.

As a bread-and-butter and down-to-earth politician, understanding local sentiment better than he does national or international questions, Hall will play on Roosevelt's activities at Yalta on a local level. He will try to transform that Conference, which reshaped the world, into a curbstome issue against the Democrats.

STRATEGY ANTICIPATED—Franklin D. Roosevelt himself anticipated this strategy at Yalta. In discussing the question of Poland's independence from Russia, he explained that he was chiefly interested because there were 6,000,000 Poles in the United States. Therefore, to F.D.R. it was both a problem of domestic votes and international settlements.

But it was Prime Minister Churchill, not Roosevelt, who fought for a postwar arrangement that would really achieve Polish independence. Poland is, of course, now a Soviet satellite.

Roosevelt agreed to the dismemberment of Germany, which would have made it easy for Red troops to walk through that country in any third World War. This was the Henry Morgenthau-Harry Dexter White program. It was opposed by Churchill, and Cordell Hull, then Secretary of State, but F.D.R. overrode them.

DELATIONS BY STATE DEPARTMENT—Franklin D. Roosevelt's remarks about the American

Lots Of Legislation Little Sanitation

If passage by the Senate of the Haw River bill sets a precedent for the passage of similar measures for other rivers and streams, we'll have lots of stream sanitation legislation, but little actual stream sanitation, we're afraid.

The Haw River Bill, like the bill introduced concerning stream sanitation for the Tar, are unnecessary pieces of legislation which only muddy the waters while efforts are being pushed to work out a comprehensive, state-wide stream sanitation program.

If the House gives its approval to the Haw bill as the Senate has done, a deadline of January 1, 1960 will have been set for dumping raw sewage into that river. As The Reflector has said previously, we do not see how the affected municipalities can intelligently construct sewage disposal plants until specific standards and regulations are established by the Stream Sanitation Committee which is in the process of classifying the streams of the state. Neither can industries construct adequate plants for treating waste until they know what will be permitted in the river.

Jews, including their demand for a free Palestine, were deleted from the State Department's publication of the Yalta Papers. But it is known that he referred slightly to them, and facetiously offered to exchange them for certain British "colonials" who were giving Churchill a headache at home.

Despite this suppression, politics being what it is and always has been, it is too much to expect that these deleted and disparaging passages of Roosevelt's off-the-record remarks will not become common knowledge in the 1956 Presidential and Congressional campaign.

F.D.R.'S RIDICULOUS ATTITUDE—There is, perhaps, no solid, stable British voting bloc in the American electorate comparable to the Polish, German, Irish, Jewish and Italian groups. Nevertheless, there are many Americans who prefer an alliance with Britain than with Russia. They may not be too happy over F.D.R.'s ridiculing attitude toward Churchill in his duels with Stalin.

Roosevelt made fun of Churchill's post-Dunkirk statement that "I did not become the King's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire."

Franklin D. Roosevelt forced the liquidation of both the British and Dutch Empires in India, Burma and Indonesia, weakening them for Communist infiltration. He was not able to put over his plan for "internationalizing" Britain's Hong Kong foothold.

POLITICAL GOLD—Yalta may be a ten-year-old tragedy. The main features of the secret agreements and of F.D.R.'s "giveaway" have been known for years. In a sense, Yalta is a subject for the book-writing historian, like the published versions of the treaties which terminated the Napoleonic and World War II dramas.

But they do not appear in that Encyclopedic Light to Republican National Chairman Hall. To him, the Yalta documents are political gold. They mean millions of votes—Polish, German, Jewish, Yankee etc.—when published properly for local, racial newspapers and campaign speakers.

Versatility In An Individual

If the word versatile ever applied to anybody, it should be used in connection with Bill Norwood of WNCN. During Hurricane Hazel Bill displayed his talent at adjusting weather reports when they were too important to hold for composition, which is an illustration of his many talents.

Technically, I suppose you would say that Bill is a staff announcer and musician. But he also emcees the Kiddie Korner on Saturday morning and is the one-man behind the Cartoon Carnival.

With his accordion Bill plays with several combinations of musicians on WNCN programs, plus his off-duty project, the Bill Norwood combo. Little Pete (Oglesby) and Dan Sutton round out the combo, which plays Saturday nights at the Club Englewood in Rocky Mount.

The amusing thing about Bill is that his radio and TV career will not be two years old until September. And before that time his entertaining was confined to playing the accordion for USO shows in the Navy!

Bill was born 27 years ago in Baltimore and completed high school there. While in the Navy he met and married Amogene and they have three daughters—ages six, four and two and one-half.

After his stay in the Navy Bill accepted a Civil Service position at Cherry Point and it was there that he branched into the entertainment field. He was hired as a staff announcer at radio station WMBL, Morehead City. Bill's mother is a native of Morehead.

The accordion came into the picture at the age of 12, along with the piano. But it was simply a pastime until Bill decided to make the change.

It's hard for him to say what phase of the work he likes best. "I like it all," he says, "but I suppose you could say that my ambitions are in the field of speaking rather than music."

"You mean something like Kiddie Korner or the Cartoon Carnival?" I asked.

"Yes. Something in that line." And I thank you.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

IS IT IGNORANCE, OR BAD TEACHING? (The Charlotte Observer)

Whether high school pupils of this country are being incorrectly instructed or inadequately instructed, we do not know, but the results of a survey by the Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, N.Y., indicates one or the other.

High school seniors in 86 schools well distributed throughout the country were asked six simple questions about the American capitalist system, and a majority of the answers were dead wrong on every one of the questions.

Here is how the seniors answered: Eighty-two per cent said we do not have competition in business; 60 per cent said owners get too much of the profits; 76 per cent believed owners get most of the gains from new machinery; 55 per cent believe that the Communist theory "from each according to ability, to each according to need," is not necessary to the survival of our system; 60 per cent said a worker should not produce all he can. A worse misconception of the American system could hardly be indicated on the part of a majority of high school seniors. It may be that they have not been taught economics and that the answers are the result of pure ignorance. We hope that is the case, for we should not like to believe that socialism is being actively taught in our schools.

On the other hand these high school seniors are evidently getting wrong information from some source, because they had to have some basis for their answers.

Whatever the cause, they ought to be exposed to some reading in sound economics to set them right.

Repeated Arguments On Juvenile Court Jurisdiction

By LYNN NISBET

TIME WASTING—House Judiciary Committee spent an entire day Tuesday rehashing the bill to raise the age for juvenile court jurisdiction to 17 years from the present level of 16. It was the third public hearing on the bill, and the arguments presented simply repeated those of other hearings. The bulk of them was that the present training school program cannot be adapted to handle the older boys and girls, that until the State provides "closed" or reformatory type schools there might be more justification for lowering the age limit than for raising it.

One new point was brought out. The public school classes at the correctional training schools are fitted into the State public school system. Compulsory attendance stops at age 16. If the boy or girl above does not want to go to school there is no law to require attendance. So, additional personnel must be employed to look after the older kids while the youngsters are in school.

The main point is that after three full scale public hearings, after every conceivable argument for and against has been presented, the committee has not had a chance to vote because the talkers consumed all the time. The rest of the morning was devoted by that committee to a hearing on two bills transferring from the sheriff's office to a newly constituted county police force the burden of enforcing criminal laws in Cumberland county. It quickly developed that the legislative hearing was a rehash of last year's political campaign in Cumberland county, and involved primarily a feud between two factions—one headed by the sheriff the other by the county commissioners. Except for one or two points involving constitutional questions of proposals none of the matters discussed justified the time and votes of residents of other counties who happened to be on the legislative committee.

CONSTITUTION—In this instance, as in numerous others, members of the Legislature who have completely ignored the constitutional requirement that the General Assembly should re-appoint its membership after each Federal decennial census, manifested great concern about possible infringement upon the constitutional rights of an elected sheriff. The zeal was somewhat misplaced because the constitution says each county shall have a sheriff, but it does not specify that he shall be elected. In that connection it may be interesting to note that the word "sheriff" derives from the old English "shire officer" whose principal duty was to collect the taxes due the crown. In most North Carolina counties the sheriff has long since been relieved of the duty of collecting taxes by legislative act, although he is still regarded as the chief law enforcement officer in his bailiwick.

Because the committee had to listen to prolonged rehearsal of local political squabbling, much of which had no bearing on merits of the bill, time ran out again and no vote was taken. At one point Rep. Philip Whitley of Wake complained that some of the speakers are trying to make jurors out of us, instead of legislators.

One interesting feature in a related act which has already been ratified establishing a civil service commission for Cumberland county is the provision that one member of the commission—which is given broad powers to appoint county employees, including county police and deputies sheriff—shall be named by the Fayetteville Ministerial Association. So far as oldtimers recall this is the first instance of an unofficial, non-legal as distinguished from illegal group has been delegated authority to participate in naming a board which has authority to appoint officers with power to arrest and incarcerate citizens. Strangely enough those who were so zealous for the constitutional "rights" of the sheriff, made no issue of the preachers being given such authority over the civil conduct of the citizens.

POTPOURRI—The House was debating a bill having to do with alimony and child support judgments being liens on property. The lawyer members differed about its meaning. "That's all right," quipped Rep. J.Y. Jordan of Buncombe. "It is difference of opinion that makes horse races and lawsuits."

Rep. George Uzell had just

Worth Noting

SEVERANCE PAY. This, too, makes the worker hug his job, except in those rare cases where full severance pay is paid on resignation. Often an unhappy worker will cling to his job hoping to be fired, rather than strike out for a better field.

The guaranteed annual wage will have similar effects. It is very probable that guarantees, if gained will apply only after certain seniority, so it will inhibit workers from seeking other jobs.

California, Florida, Alaska, Texas or Hawaii may beckon. The desire to get with a new company or in a new kind of work may burn. But people are finding themselves economically frozen into their jobs.

Some more remarks on this subject tomorrow.

New - Style Peasants

By ELMER ROESSNER

The American worker is gradually being bound to his plant or office as tightly as the peasant in olden times was bound to the land he tilled.

Almost imperceptibly men and women are losing a little bit of their freedom and a lot of their mobility.

The chains that bind them to machines and desks are the various fringe benefits demanded by unions or, in some cases, volunteered by management. Now being advocated is a new golden chain: the guaranteed annual wage.

The others are: PENSION PLANS. Almost all of these involve continuity of employment. For every additional year a man works for a company with a pension plan, the greater will be the loss if he quits. When a resigning employee gets a cash settlement, it is usually less than the value of the pension to the individual. Thus workers are strongly inhibited from trying to get a job that may suit his abilities better.

SENIORITY—The benefits of seniority once attained, often come better than higher wages in a job without protection against firing, layoffs or choice of hours and work. Certainly, it tends to tie people to their positions.

INSURANCE. Where this insurance with length of service, it also tends to bind employees to their employers.

SEEKS EQUAL BREAK FOR COUNTY VETS

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has thrown its support behind the Thornberry bill, which would give veterans buying farm homes the same benefits that veterans buying city homes get.

At present, the Veterans Administration may guarantee only 50 per cent of a farm home mortgage loan, and then only up to $4,000. Veterans who buy city or suburban homes can get 50 per cent guarantees and a maximum of $7,500.

PRICE TRENDS PUZZLE PURCHASERS

Recent price breaks in commodities are puzzling the National Association of Purchasing Agents.

"Recent declines in a number of primary commodities—including both farm products and some industrial materials—should not be brushed off too casually," says its Bulletin.

"Are they perhaps foreshadowing that the more apparent than real—stability of the general price level is coming to an end and that the pressure from supplies, stockpiles, production capacity and shipping supports, is in the ascendancy?"

"There is no way of answering this question, as yet, with any degree of certainty. It could happen, but then again, it may be merely a temporary phase."

No Commuters In Soviet System

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato:

You have to give the Russians credit for one thing. They're consistent. Whenever they get hold of a creative idea that would really advance civilization, they drop it as if it were a radioactive potato.

The latest example is in the field of commuting. Although the Russians were late starters in this way of life, they came up with a strikingly novel conception.

In America your typical commuter lives in the country—or what he calls the country—and earns his living in the city.

In Russia a group of Soviet bureaucrats simply reversed this pattern. They lived in the city of Lyov in the Ukraine. But their job was to supervise collective farms in the neighboring countryside.

They have been solving this problem by driving from home to work and back in government-owned cars.

What could be more sensible? It is an ideal life. The happy bureaucrat, cheered by an evening of culture and rest in the city, has plenty of time in his spare hours to devote to the collective farm to think up new ways of making grain grow faster.

He spends the day outdoors, getting plenty of healthful fresh air and exercise, as he tells the collected peasants how to collect more crops. While his chauffeur spins him home at eventual he has time to get in some more good hard solitary thinking or even catch a quiet snooze before enjoying the stimulating life of the city.

But what has happened? Into this paradise of the bureaucrat, Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, has thrown a sour note. It sternly rebuked this joyous system of living as a "savage practice." It said these pleasant commuting trips were for "lovers of loafing trips." It wants the bureaucrats to move out and live on the collective farms they manage.

In the name of common sense, why? Being a bureaucrat in Russia is already a unhappy lot. He has to listen all day to the collected serfs moan and mumble about the government stealing all their crops. Would it make the bureaucrat any more efficient if he had to stay awake all night listening to rooster-crowing? What bureaucrat could feel safe anyway, knowing he was surrounded by discontented farmers?

If Pravda really is interested in building an efficient Utopia, why not let the serfs live in the cities and commute to the farms, just as the bureaucrats now do? Anyone knows that a real farmer is glad to get back out on the land after a night spent in the wicked city. He'll work longer and harder and more efficiently so that he won't have to spend so much time feeling city-cramped.

Obviously, the American commuting pattern would never work out in Russia. For one thing the Russians are hardy and sturdy as they are, simply lack the stamina and change of pace needed to meet the split-second, timetable schedule of a dyed-in-the-wool American commuter.

And besides, as every Soviet citizen has been taught by Pravda, they know the greedy American monopolists have forced American workmen to dwell in the suburbs only so they can get enough fresh air overnight to make them strong enough to stand up under the whiplash of factory foremen in the cities the next day. Democratic Russian workers would rise and overthrow such a terrible oppression.

Pravda, if it had any real long time judgment of human nature, would let its happy farmers be bureaucrats alone. But that's the way communism works. As soon as anybody under its system gets a good sound practical idea, they promptly knock it out of his head. Whether man is happy at his work or unhappy, it's main thing is that he just be at his work—and don't let his head stick up.

us. I think we ought to have a Tax and Feathers Commission.

Frank Scott, superintendent of Jackson Training School, had just told the committee that his institution is not supposed to accept boys of very low mentalities; but he said a study of the psychologists records will show more than half of them below normal. "Do you mean the psychologists are below normal?" queried Rep. Thom White. Scott smiled and waved his hands.

Rep. Kemp Doughton of Allegheny is seeking to make profitable the use of some school houses abandoned in the consolidation program. He has a bill proposing they be turned over to the county for various public use, particularly as voting places on election days.

Minister From India To Lecture Here Tonight

Communism's Threat in India will be discussed in a lecture by the Rev. Raymond Jacobs, Bombay, India, now attending Southwestern College in Oklahoma, City, Okla., at the First Pentecostal Holiness Church of Greenville, this evening.

An invitation to the public to attend this lecture by the Rev. Mr. Jacobs has been issued by the Rev. H. E. Johnson pastor of the Greenville church. Mr. Jacobs' address will be presented at a service to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Jacobs has been a student in the United States for about three years and recently won top honors in an oratorical contest for college students from a 10-state area, speaking on Americanism versus Communism. His success in this competition with a large number of college orators was subject of an extensive feature story in mid-West papers and religious journals.

A native of India, Mr. Jacobs has been a convert to the Christian faith since he was 13 years of age. For nearly 10 years he has been preaching. He comes from a high caste Indian family, his father having been engaged in a branch of the automotive supply business and his grandfather was widely known as a prominent churchman with Roman Catholic connections. During the Spring quarter, the Rev. Mr. Jacobs has been speaking in several Southeastern states and the first of April returns to Southwestern College, an institution of higher education of the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Oklahoma City.

Velvet Added To Easter Hat Style Lineup

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Something new will appear in the Easter hat lineup this year. It's a vogue for velvet hats for spring.

Velvets, both in combination with straw and used alone with flower trimming, will be seen in considerable numbers this spring, in all the favorite silhouettes of the season.

The small velvet sailor, in beige or gray, with white touches, has a new and smart look with spring suits. And the velvet pillbox with gay flower trim looks as fresh as springtime.

It is predicted that the trend will carry on through summer, with big velvet picture hats teaming with summer print dresses.

NEW LOOK — This perky little sailor with rolled brim is made of pale apricot velvet, with white grosgrain band. Designed by Irene.

COMBINATION — Red velvet teams with natural straw for a striking Easter sailor, with turquoise band.

FRUIT RING — This air-conditioned pillbox of emerald green velvet is trimmed with a ring of bright fruit. Right for suits or dresses.

Directors And Camp Personnel For Council Scouts Announced

Camp directors and basic summer camp staff personnel for the East Carolina Council Boy Scout camps were announced recently by R.G. Barnes, Wilson, chairman of the Council camping and activities committee. Mrs. Barnes said that Camp Charles, near Bailey, and Camp Croatan, below New Bern, will operate at top capacity during the 1955 summer season.

E. Lester Dollar, Greenville, District Scout Executive serving the Pitt and Edgecombe Districts, was named to direct Camp Charles. During the 1954 season, Mr. Dollar directed the East Carolina Council Negro camp at Buggs Island.

Camp Croatan will be directed by G. E. Ashwill, Williamston, District Executive for Beaufort, Hyde and Wasmarty Districts. Mr. Ashwill has had a rich background in camp administration for many years.

Camp Charles will open on June 12 and operate for three periods, ending on July 3rd. Camp Croatan will immediately follow by opening on July fourth and running through July 30th. It is anticipated that both camps will serve at least 125 campers per period during the seven periods of operation.

Barnes indicated that each of the thirteen District camping chairmen is actively promoting camp attendance through Troop parents' nights and similar functions. He said that if plans are shared with parents and if Scoutmasters arrange to accompany their boys, the camps would not be adequate to take care of the large demand. Barnes went on to stress that those Boy Scout Troops who do the best year-round job of Scouting are those who attend summer camp under their own leadership.

The resident staff for the camps of the East Carolina Council during the 1955 summer season will be: Waterfront Director, Charles Duffy, Assistant Explorer Advisor, Post 13, Centenary Methodist Church, New Bern; Assistant Waterfront Directors, Alex Warren, Troop 74, Snow Hill Rotary Club, and Edward Tyndall, Post 13, New Bern; Range Officers, Robert O'Neal, Troop 67, Neuse Forest Presbyterian Church; First Aid, Robbie Daniels, Troop 165, Stone-wall Lions Club; Crafts Director, Billy Mason, Post 25, Farmville Rotary Club; Scoutcraft Director, Frank Rouse, Troop 24, Moss Hill Ruritan Club, and Robert Wynne, Troop 11, Church of the Good Shepherd, Rocky Mount; Pioneering, Floyd Bryan, Troop 128, Ahoskie Rotary Club; Trading Post, Mike Loner, Troop 103, St. Mary's F.W.B. Church, New Bern; Commissary and Supply Director, Mike Cummings, Post 450, Co F 119th Inf., National Guard, Tarboro.

Jack Menius, New Bern, veteran camper and summer camp staff man, will be named to the post of Assistant Camp Director for both camps when he answers back from the University of Tennessee which he is now attending.

 * Chilean's nitrogen content is 100 per cent nitrate. Ideal for top-dressing and side-dressing. Free flowing, spreads evenly and smoothly.
 * Chilean needs only moisture from the air to dissolve — no waiting for rain — fast, effective action.
 * Every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone — an acid-destroying agent. The more Chilean you use, the greater its acid-destroying value.

* Sodium supplements potash — when necessary, substitutes for it — reduces leaching losses of potash, calcium, magnesium — releases unavailable potash in the soil.

Education Should Resolve Rift In Science, Religion Says Dean

Dr. Harold K. Schilling, dean of the graduate school at Pennsylvania State University and a physicist of note, discussed religion from the point of view of a scientist and an educator in a series of lectures at East Carolina College this week.

"Science and religion, potent influences in our society and our culture," he said at a meeting of the college faculty, "seem to be opposed to each other." Education, he stated, must do something about this seeming contradiction, and educators "must face the problem of science vs. religion."

In a series of suggestions, Dr. Schilling stated that in institutions of higher learning "we must do more careful and critical thinking than formerly; we must do something about religion" by setting up teaching objectives and measuring our achievements.

Religion in education, he stated, presents a huge area of learning about which intelligent people should be informed. As scholars, he said, we should teach religion as we do any other discipline.

Dr. Schilling appeared as speaker also before members of the Science Club and the science fraternity Chi Beta Phi and their guests. Discussing "Proof and Certainty," he pointed out that even in pure science there is much that can be accepted without proof. In religion also, he continued, what men believe and feel to be true need not depend entirely upon proof.

At a special meeting of students of science at the college Dr. Schilling had as his topic "Potentialities and Limitations of the Scientific Method." During his visit to East Carolina, he was a guest at a luncheon attended by faculty members of the department of science, with whom he discussed various aspects of instruction. He was honor guest; also at an informal reception at the home of J.O. Derrick of the science department and Mrs. Derrick.

Fair Play Code For Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP)—House committees found themselves operating today under a new set of rules which some members said might curb future public investigations.

Known as a "code of fair play," the new rules were embodied in a resolution adopted by the House yesterday.

The code is designed to afford protection to witnesses and to put an end to one-man investigations. It provides that no subcommittee may consist of fewer than two members if evidence or testimony is to be received.

It gives witnesses the right to bring their own attorneys. It also requires the chairman of an investigative committee to "announced in an opening statement the subject of the investigation."

The most controversial provision makes it mandatory to receive in closed sessions evidence or testimony which the committee "determines . . . may tend to defame, degrade or incriminate any person."

Unless the committee approves, such evidence could not be made public or used later in a public session.

Rep. Hardy (D-Va) said a committee would have no option but to close its hearings to the public and press the moment any derogatory information is received.

"This will hamstring every important investigation," he said.

ACC President Speaks At East Carolina College

Dr. Travis A. White, president of Atlantic Christian College, speaking at East Carolina College Tuesday, described a college campus as "laboratory of life" and a proving ground of one's worth. He spoke at the weekly chapel program and was introduced by the Rev. H. G. Haney of Greenville.

The ACC President pointed out that the college student begins in the "campus laboratory" his first experience of being independent and self-reliant. The new freedom offered by college life brings to the student new responsibilities and the desire to "achieve a bit of distinction for himself," Dr. White said.

In meeting new problems, he advised his student audience, search for a "realism that is sublime." The most realistic approach to human problems, he explained, is through Christian beliefs and the Christian way of life.

A sense of responsibility, self-discipline, steadfastness in living by one's principles, and respect for and understanding of one's associates, he said, are qualities to be sought by the student as he begins his mature life.

Farm Folk Claim Tax Burden Up When 'Invaded'

BOSTON (AP)—Spokesmen for Massachusetts farm groups say they suffer an added tax burden when city people move to the country.

Representatives of a dozen organized farm groups told a legislative committee yesterday that after city people move to the country they vote for huge sums to build new and bigger schools to accommodate their children.

Paula K. Lewellen, of Bedford, a poultry raiser, said:

"The young people who are moving into the developments in our town are more articulate than the farmers with the result that in two or three hours in town meetings they get $400,000 for a new school, move away in a few years, and leave the farmers to pay off

Cotton Council Eyes Underwear

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Men, the National Cotton Council says it "is watching your underwear and doesn't like everything it sees."

The council says a recent survey shows that union suits are on the way out and knit briefs—which use only a bare minimum of cotton fiber—are rapidly gaining favor.

One suit of "long handles" consumes enough cotton to make two or more complete sets of briefs and undershirts, the council says.

The council ended its tongue-in-cheek news release yesterday with the observation that "with the growth of population canceling out

Duel Ends Issue; Dine Together

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Two Monarchist politicians who poked each other in a sword duel prepared today to have dinner together.

Both nursed minor wounds on the right forearm.

The duel was fought yesterday by Sen. Gaetano Fiorentino, a member of the Popular Monarchist party and Attilio Romano, an official of the rival National Monarchist faction. Fiorentino said later it was over an article he wrote in a Naples newspaper.

"The Duel settled the issue," the senator said, announcing that he and his opponent were dining together tonight.

Dueling is illegal in Italy, but if no one is killed the police generally ignore the affairs.

Report Americans Are In Brainwashing Camp

BONN, Germany (AP)—Allied officials say about 20 Americans are in a Communist indoctrination camp at Bautzen, in East Germany. They described the camp as a brainwashing center where the inmates are taught to hate the West.

Details of life in the camp were disclosed by the officials after recent statements by a Communist youth leader who escaped to Frankfurt. He said 45 Americans and 75 British subjects, both men and women, were in the colony.

The officials scaled down the total of Americans in Bautzen after a check of authoritative records. They said they included both civilians and military defectors. Most of the latter were said to have fled the West to escape mental and emotional problems. Their names were not disclosed.

Among the details given in what the officials said was the real inside story of the camp were: Inmates who rebel against the brainwashing are tried as spies. One Westerner who complained about conditions is now serving a 25-year hard labor sentence at Virkuta, near the arctic circle in the Soviet Union. Others have been sentenced to prison terms in various East German cities.

Inmates live in rent-free hotel rooms and get 80 east marks (about $5) a week. Allied officials consider that hardly enough to cover living costs. They are given food cards.

All inmates must attend school at a "foreigners club." Communist propaganda is pumped into such subjects as geography and mathematics.

Defectors who respond well are featured as lecturers and exhibited at Communist gatherings.

Woman Cleared Of Possessing Bogus Money

MONTREAL (AP)—A jury last night freed Mrs. Harry Pursey, wife of a British Parliament member, of a charge of possessing counterfeit U. S. currency. It was her second trial.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty through lack of evidence." Her first trial ended Nov. 30 when a jury was unable to reach a verdict.

She was arrested Sept. 20 after negotiating with a downtown Montreal furrier for the purchase of two coats costing $1,110. Police testified they found $1,730 in counterfeit U. S. currency, $733 in genuine U. S. money and jewelry worth $25,000 in her purse. She said she did not know the money was bogus.

Pursey is a Labor member of Parliament. The couple—she is 41 and he is 64—were married in Trenton, N. J. last September. She was arrested while they were honeymooning.

Canada Bolsters Buying Power Of American Dollar

By A. I. GOLDBERG

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada has a fund of almost two million dollars operating to keep muscles on the U. S. dollar after it crosses the border.

At bank counters you generally get only 98 cents for your U. S. greenback. Cigar counters and the like may knock off 4 cents. Hotels vary between the bank rate and another penny premium.

That annoys some American tourists—but not too many, Canadian trade officials say hopefully. American tourists may never again see the day when they can fork over $1 of Uncle Sam's green and get a Canadian dollar and a dime to boot. That situation lasted for years.

Then, on Sept. 30, 1950, when the Canadian government—ensuing a mining boom and other business expansion—set the Canadian dollar free to find its own level. That day the Canadian dollar was worth 91 cents U. S. officially.

It began climbing. One day in March 1952 a dollar of either nationality was just a dollar.

And the Canadian dollar kept climbing. American businessmen and investors helped strengthen the Canadian economy. On Aug. 14, 1952, the official rate of the U. S. dollar was around 95 1/2 cents.

Then the government began using some of its gold and currency buying fund in existence since 1935—to buy dollars in a day-to-day "smoothing-out operation." Greenbacks began a slow recovery. One day two weeks ago they were up to 99 cents. They hover around 2 to 3 cents premium pretty generally.

No profit-and-loss statements or balance sheets are issued about the fund by the Bank of Canada.

But a holdings statement showed that the fund was at $1,934,000 on Feb. 1, a new high.

Some proposals have been made for big-scale buying of American dollars to restore exact parity. Exporters favor parity. They say the lower value of the U. S. dollar acts as a tariff barrier against their goods. Canadian consumers oppose parity.

In Montreal's big banking center in St. James Street, the rate is expected to remain steady for a while at least.

Could Try Fresh Big-Four Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Some Western and neutral diplomats suggested today the Big Four powers could begin preliminary talks at the U. N. after the Paris agreements are ratified.

These delegates, who declined to be quoted by name, pointed out:

1. That the U. N. is the only place in the world where the Big Four—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—maintain permanent high-ranking representatives in continual contact.
2. That the Berlin blockade and the Korean War were ended after moves initiated by the U. N.

Western delegates generally agree that nothing should be done about a conference on world issues until final approval of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

President Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday made clear that Big Four representatives of lesser rank would have to do the spadework before the chiefs of state meet.

CAFETERIA SERVICE ATLANTA (AP)—An odor reminiscent of a fish-wharf in July crept through the Fulton County Courthouse and sent a maintenance man on a quick investigation. He found a fish sandwich taped to a light bulb. The heat had burned through the wrapper and into the fish.

Traffic Engineers Are Haunted By Dream Of '2 Cars In Every Garage'

By GLENN McCULLOUGH
COLUMBIA (AP)—The "two cars in every garage" dream of politicians has developed into a nightmare for many city traffic engineers.

But a survey of South Carolina cities shows that long range programs to relieve downtown congestion and provide off-street parking facilities are under way or are being developed.

Every city has unique local problems, but a nearly common problem which cities must overcome is resistance to change.

Professional planning consultants have been employed to work with local groups to relieve the major rush-hour headache. Cooperating with these groups is the State Highway Department.

The major aim is to preserve downtown business districts as such for the full utilization of established and expensive business buildings.

Just last month the Highway Department announced plans to spend more than seven million dollars within the next 10 years on street and highway improvements in the Spartanburg area.

Included in the project is a belt line highway to serve the extreme western side of the city. It will serve as a bypass for north-south trucking.

The Spartanburg Planning Commission is studying a proposed project of at least three circumferential streets to speed the traffic flow. This plan was presented by George W. Simons Jr., Jacksonville, Fla., consultant, after a $20,000 area development survey.

Recently the Spartanburg City Council started negotiations for the purchase of a downtown parking lot and ordered appraisals of three other lots. In the council's long-range plans are projected parking facilities on lots now occupied by the City Hall and the Central Fire Station. Those buildings are to be replaced elsewhere in the city.

The city may float bonds to finance off-street parking facilities and retire the bonds with receipts from the lots and parking meters.

Columbia has initiated surveys for street widening, extension and off-street parking. P. A. Stedfast, city planning director, said cost estimates would be available in a few months. Meanwhile the Highway Department wants to widen Gervais Street, heavily traveled thoroughfare in front of the State House, to step up through-city traffic on U. S. 1. This would involve taking a narrow slice off the State House grounds and the plan has met strong opposition.

Civic groups, including women's organizations, contend that once the Highway Department is allowed to take a portion of the grounds, it might later ask for more.

Chief Highway Commissioner Claude R. McMillan said some people and organizations are "becoming unduly and unnecessarily alarmed" over a General Assembly bill that would permit the widening.

The amount of space that would be needed, McMillan said, would be so slight as to be unnoticeable to the average person.

He added that many persons "do not understand the great importance of Gervais Street as an arterial route . . . a part of the interregional system of roads that has been declared essential to the defense of the country in case of enemy attack."

McMillan termed the need for widening the street "critical."

The main problem at Anderson is the flow of north-south traffic. One project has been completed and a second begun to relieve this congestion.

But while the north-south problem cases, city and Highway Department officials recognize a growing need for more traffic space east and west. A study is under way to determine the best method to meet this need.

The city has one municipal parking lot in the downtown area.

Sumter, having provided four downtown parking lots in the last few years, is considering legislation to require new businesses outside the central business district to provide their own off-street parking facilities.

Ask Amendment Be Ratified

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The Maryland Legislature will be asked today to ratify the 14th Amendment, which 92 years ago today became a part of the United States Constitution.

It decrees that no state can pass laws abridging citizenship rights and is one of the keystones of the Negroes' march up from slavery.

California and Kentucky are the only other states which have not ratified it.

Sen. Harry A. Cole, Baltimore Republican and the first Negro to hold a seat in the Maryland Senate, is sponsoring a joint resolution which would ratify the amendment.

Two of the lots now operated are owned by the city and two are leased. Revenue from the lots make financing simple—they are self-sustaining.

Parking on main thoroughfares is prohibited, easing the flow of traffic but making the need for off-street parking facilities more acute.

In the planning stage is a new street to be used as a relocation for U. S. 51 and its alternate, both of which now split the business district.

State Highway Department and city officials are working on this project, but no cost estimate has been made.

In practically every city in the state, one-way streets, prohibited parking and surplus automobiles have made the 5 o'clock whistle—one a cue to relaxation—the call to a battle of nerves.

Top Communists Yield To Jazz

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Communist rulers of Poland have bowed to western-style jazz music, Red newspapers received in Vienna reveal.

"The discrimination against jazz music is over," Warsaw's Zycie Warszawy announced. At the same time, the paper assumed the sponsorship of four jazz concerts in the Polish capital.

But the Communists are not admitting their change of heart in good grace.

"Jazz music is not simply Negro music with wild rhythms," one Red newspaper wrote "but rather it is the music of American Negroes who are people threatened with mass murder and longing for freedom."

"Jazz must therefore be considered something like a social bill of indictment against the American rulers," the paper said.

Other papers gave what apparently is the real reason for the permission for jazz, "Our youths are not content with only political songs or music depicting the progress of the working class, they also want music which amuses them," one paper said.

Looks like Buick's Biggest Year

It's been happening week after week. More people coming in every day to see, sit in, sample and select the '55 Buick of their choice. More people than ever before in our history.

That's why you see so many new Buicks on the road today. And that's why—to meet this unprecedented popularity—Buick production has been boosted to the highest levels of all time.

Buick Sales Are Soaring

The simple measure of it all is this: Buick is so "hot" an automobile that it now outsells all other cars in the United States except two of the best-known smaller cars. And for reasons sound, substantial and thrilling.

Buick styling, you see, was never so crisp, clean, distinctive. Buick horsepower was never so high—Buick interiors never so rich—Buick's great ride never so satin-smooth and steady.

But there's something else, too—something vastly different and exciting.

Never before was there any motoring thrill like the thrill you get from Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

It lets you do what a pilot does—switch the pitch of your driving propellers—one way for gas saving in cruising—another way for instantaneous acceleration and getaway.

Your propellers are inside the Dynaflo unit, spinning in oil. You change their pitch merely by pressure on the gas pedal. You get action that was never in any earth-bound vehicle before.

No wonder we're writing up orders and selling Buicks at a rate that's making this the biggest year in Buick history.

And no wonder—when you see our price tags—that more and more people can afford the price of a new Buick.

For all the way up the line—from the budget-priced SPECIAL to the custom-built ROADMASTER—each Buick is a stand-out buy in its field.

Why not come in for a visit this week and get a down-to-earth look at the hottest Buick in history?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Late Wolfpack Rally Wins First AAU Cage Game

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—North Carolina State, which rallied in the closing seconds of play last night to take its first National AAU Basketball Tournament game, tangles with the Olympic Club of San Francisco tonight in the quarter-finals.

The tough West Coast five yesterday nosed out Akron Goodyear of Ohio 60-58.

Ron Shavlik, playing in his home town, tipped in a basket with 50 seconds to play last night to give the Wolfpack a 71-68 verdict over Wuthnow Furniture of Hope, Kans.

Seconds before, to the screaming delight of the crowd, Shavlik had muffed two free throws that would have wrapped up the game for State.

A big portion of the 6,500 crowd was pulling hard for an upset of the highly-rated collegians. They shouted and screamed at Shavlik as he moved to the foul line, trying to unnerve the one-time Denver high school basketball hero.

The flashy State center led the scoring efforts of the Wolfpack with 20 points. He notched six goals and eight free throws.

Forward Walt Hafer was the only other State player to hit in the double figures. He scored 15 points. Guard John Maglio had nine and center Bob Seitz and guards Vic Molodet and Ron Sheffel collected eight points each.

State lagged in the opening minutes but took a 14-12 lead on Maglio's push at the quarter. Wolfpack maintained the lead through the first half, although it was shaved to two points at times. State's biggest lead in the first half was seven points.

After eight minutes of the second half, State held a 9-point lead, 30-21. Hope cut it to 64-59 with four minutes to play. John Gibson, Hope forward, drove in for two baskets to pull the Kansas within one point with 2:13 left to play. State kept in front until Gibson twice stole passes and dribbled in for layups to put Kansas ahead 68-67 with 1:38 to play.

This set the stage for Shavlik's two missed free throws and his redeeming tip-in, which proved to be the winning basket.

The tournament co-sponsors, Peoria, Ill., and Bartlesville, Okla., play two surprise collegiate teams in tonight's quarter-finals.

Peoria's Cats, bidding for a fourth straight AAU crown, meet senior players from the University of Colorado team that finished third last weekend in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) finals at Kansas City.

The defending champions reached the quarter-finals with an 81-79 overtime victory over the Buchanan Bakers of Seattle.

Colorado players, wearing the colors of Luckett-Nix of Boulder, Colo., outclassed the Houston, Tex., Ada Oilers, 85-67.

The Phillips 66ers of Bartlesville, tabbed to dethrone Peoria, had no trouble disposing of the Santa

Pros Tee Off Today In Miami Beach Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The touring pros tee off today in first round play of the $12,500 Miami Beach Invitational Golf Tournament and several comparative unknowns are expected to show well in the 72-hole event.

Maris, Calif., Golden Dukes, 100-66.

The 66ers meet the Colorado State college basketball team, playing under the name of Gregory Clothiers. The C-State team, fourth place finisher in the six-team Rocky Mountain Conference, surprised the Milwaukee Allen-Bradley club, 70-67.

Denver's Central Bankers, one of the four top-seeded teams, were shunted aside by the U.S. Marine Corps champions from Quantico, Va., 75-68.

The Marines meet the Los Angeles Kirby Shoe team of veteran AAUers. The Californians advanced with a 68-50 conquest of another long-time AAU outfit, the CVE Travelers of Artesia, N.M.

He had a one-stroke lead over Peter Thomson, British Open champion from Melbourne, Australia, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

Another stroke back at 67 were Jay Hebert of Long Island City, N.Y., brother of Lionell; Al Besse-link of Crossingers, N.Y.; Al Brooch of Garden City, L.I.; and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.

Bunched at 68 were Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City; Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.; Ed Fureol of St. Louis; Paul Maguire of Wichita, Kans.; Mike Krak of Louisville, Ky.; and Walter Burkemo, of Franklin, Mich.

At 69 were Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C.; George Bayer of Cincinnati; Al Mengert of Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Billy Maxwell of Odesa, Tex.; Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn.; and Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., who won the Seminole at Palm Beach Tuesday.

The East Carolina Pirates punched out 11 hits in their 1955 baseball debut against Springfield College, Mass. yesterday afternoon to earn a "loosely played 9-6 victory."

More than 300 chilled spectators watched Mack Cherry pitch four innings of one-hit baseball while the hitters were pushing across five runs.

Coach Jim Mallory's club picked up three runs in the fifth frame for their biggest barrage of the game. They added tallies in the third and seventh for their nine-run total.

Heath and Cline lead

Leading batsmen for the winners were Cecil Heath and Gaither Cline. Heath, the second baseman, collected three hits in five times at bat. His knocks included a double and a triple. He also scored twice. Cline, the starting leftfielder, also had a three-for-five afternoon. He rapped out a three-bagger in the first inning and a long double in the seventh. He scored once.

Homer

Bill Cline, Pirate backstop, muscled the longest rap of the day. In his first time up at bat in the second inning, he hit the first pitch over 400 feet for a homerun. He was the first man up in the inning and no one was aboard. Cline had a field day as a baserunner and crossed the plate three times.

Only one player got more than one hit for the northern visitors. Leftfielder Robby Wickman connected for two singles. The other two bingles were made by third baseman Paul Bean and center-fielder Wayne Wilson.

Fastballer Cherry was credited with the win. The sophomore stalwart was as stingy as a miser with hits, giving up only one in his four-inning stint. He walked only two batters and struck out one man.

Jack Sanford started on the hill for Springfield and was the loser. He allowed six hits in five and one-half innings. He was going along fine until Bill Cline powered his homer. After that Sanford lost some of the zip on his fastball and the Pirates teed-off.

Russell Nervous

Charlie Russell followed Cherry on the mound for East Carolina. The High Falls freshman had the first-game jitters and immediately erred a throw to first. Before the side was retired, Springfield had tallied two runs although Russell had allowed only one hit. Billy Loving pitched the final inning and one-half and permitted only one hit and no runs.

Springfield used three chunkers also. Bob McLeod relieved Sanford and threw two and one-half frames. He touched for three hits and one run. Dave Martens worked the final half inning, allowing two hits but no runs.

Big Inning

The big fifth inning for the Pirates was started by Bill Cline, who worked Sanford for a base on balls. Shortstop Jerry Stewart flied out to centerfield but pitcher Russell walked. Third baseman Bucky Reep went down swinging and set the stage for Heath. The senior infielder walloped one out between center-field and left for a three-bagger, driving two runs across. The Springfield catcher attempted to catch Heath off third and threw the ball away and Heath strutted across for the third run of the inning and East Carolina's eighth.

Both teams played rather loosely. East Carolina showed their first-time nerves by erroring 11 times. Springfield committed four miscues.

Meet James Speight, 5-11, 165 pound senior sprinter on the Greenville High School track team.

Speight, who is in his fourth season of track at Greenville High, is hoping to top a brilliant career with his best season of all this year. Last season the speedster was the Phantom's leading broad jumper, 440 yard dash man, and anchor man on the mile relay team. Speight won a fourth place medal in the state meet last season with his broad jump of 19-6.

Speight was undefeated in the 440 yard dash in dual meets last year and did a best time of 54 seconds. In the state meet Speight won his heat of the 440 but the other heats had better competition. Speight wound up fifth, the victim of being in the wrong heat. Had Speight been in the fast heat with the four medal winners, he would have had more competition to pull him along. This year the Phantom senior is hoping to place high in the 440 in the state meet.

Speight ran anchor man on the Phantom mile relay squad last year that lost only once. The Phantom relay team lost to Fayetteville in the first meet of the year, but gained revenge for that with a sweet victory later in the season.

Speight is hoping for a twenty foot broad jump this year to put him in the top bracket at the state meet. Speight will be a big key in the Phantom's bid to win the state title.

Besides his brilliant track career, Speight is better known for his football heroics. He was all-conference for two years, and this year was all-eastern, made the Wilson Touchdown Club team, and will play in the North-South game in August. Speight ran at halfback and was the biggest Greenville ground gainer of all time. He scored 67 points this past season. Mr. Speight is a valuable man around GHS athletic fields.

Yankees Are Up To Old Trick Of That Big Inning

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Them Yankees, sub are at it again. They still carry that old trademark—the big inning.

The New Yorkers, who got some extraordinary charity from Washington pitchers, romped through an eight-run eighth inning to knock off the Senators 10-4 yesterday.

Maury McDermott, who finished only 11 of the 26 games he started for Washington last season, tried to go all the way for the first time this spring. Until he ran afoul in the eighth, he was doing a good job.

He had the Yanks nibbling through the first seven innings, setting them down on four singles. The Yanks got a pair of runs, one of which was unearned, but trailed 4-2 after seven. Then Washington's stringbean lefty walked three of the four men he faced in the eighth, giving up a single to the other Mickey Mantle.

A youngster named Bob Ross, up from Chattanooga and also a southpaw, came on then and forced in a run by hitting Bill Skowron. He pushed another home by walking.

The Yanks took over in their old style. Gil McDougald cleared the bases with a triple and Billy Hunter singled before a double play was accomplished by the Nats. Joe Collins closed the sniping with his first spring home run.

The first serious injury of the exhibition season showed up when Boston shortstop Milt Bolling suffered a chipped bone in his left elbow in a secondbase collision with St. Louis catcher Dick Rank.

Bolling, who Manager Pinky Higgins had installed as the Red Sox No. 1 man at short, will be out from six to eight weeks.

Owen Friend replaced Bolling and committed three errors that gave the Cardinals three unearned runs in their 6-4 victory.

Murry Dickson and rookie Jim Owens handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves on two hits for a 3-1 victory by the Phillies. It was 1-1 until the ninth when Del Ennis drove in the tie-breaker with a triple and scored himself on an error.

Detroit also got good pitching. Ned Garver, George Zuverink and Bob Schultz gave Cincinnati just six singles to win 5-1.

Brooklyn clobbered the Kansas City Athletics 15-4. Don Newcombe looked good pitching five strong innings for the Brooks while Carl Furillo, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella contributed heavily to 17-hit support. Furillo got four hits, Reese drove in four runs with two safeties and Campanella hit a pair of doubles and a single.

Pittsburgh got over a three-run hump in the ninth to beat the Chicago White Sox 7-6. Preston Ward drove in the crucial three runs with a homer.

Out west, the New York Giants evened their spring series with the Cleveland Indians at 8-all, smacking Bob Lemon for six runs in the second and third innings for a 9-4 decision.

Pan-Am Cagers Go Into Finale

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Pan American basketball tournament ends tonight unless downtrodden Cuba stages a mighty upset of Argentina to throw the men's division into a playoff between Brazil and the United States.

The United States won the women's championship Tuesday night and clinched a tie for the men's title last night with a 72-29 swamping of Venezuela.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. (EST), Argentina plays Cuba in the final game. Argentina will tie the United States and Brazil for first place if it beats Cuba as expected.

Each with a 4-1 record. But in that event the United States will win the championship under the point spread system.

The U.S. beat Brazil 78-40. Argentina defeated the United States 54-53 and Brazil upset Argentina 61-57. Thus the United States would have a 2-1 record, Argentina a minus 3 and Brazil a minus 25.

But should Cuba defeat Argentina it would mean a 2-way tie between the United States and Brazil and a one-game playoff would be held tomorrow night.

The United States women's champions play their final game tonight, meeting winless Canada. The American lassies have won seven straight, rolling up 410 points to 293 for the opposition. Mrs. Lurlyne Meahouse leads the United States and tournament scoring with 121 points.

Senators Begin Squad-Cutting

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Washington Senators have started to cut their squad.

Pitchers Ed Bagdonovich and Bill Barclay, along with infielder Curt Hardaway were sent to the Nationals' Charlotte farm club. None of the three had seen much action in spring training.

GHS Baseballers And Track Men Step Up Practice Pace

Greenville's baseball and track teams continue their hard work toward the big season ahead. The baseballers have a practice game with Farmville this afternoon and the track team has been working out with the college team as competition.

Coach Bo Farley was impressed with his squad's game against Rocky Mount Tuesday. The Phantom mentor particularly was pleased with the errorless ball his gang played in the field.

Hudson Miller went all the way on the mound for the Greenville team and gave up only seven hits. He pitched a fine game except for one bad inning, the third when Rocky Mount got five runs.

The G-men start their conference schedule in New Bern, April 1. Track Meet Monday Coach Bill Kittrell's tractors are rounding into top form for the track meets next week. The Phantom flyers meet Henderson on the Greenville track Monday and Raleigh on the Greenville track Wednesday. Both have shown promise of good teams for the coming year and should give the G-men about all the competition they can hold.

Coach Kittrell's squad has been slow in rounding into top form. The weight men have been working hard this week for the first time. Larry Powell and Tommy Smith should be right in the discus and shot put for the first meet.

Harold Edwards, Jerry Drum, and Pete West have been working hard at the high jump. West and Shackelford have been pole vaulting with a top-flight college vaulter, James Speight. Edwards, Mitchell Johnson and freshman Robert Howell have been broad jumping quite a bit to get in top form.

The Phantom runners are coming along fine. Jimmy Kelley and Ed-win Wilkerson, the two half-milers, are still not in top form. They look alternately good and bad.

In the mile the G-men lack depth. Senior Wayne Blahop was timed in a pleasing 5:08 yesterday with no one running against him. Other than Blahop there is no talent in the mile. Pick Arthur, the second ranked miler, has been sick and just reported for practice this week. Freshman Lanny Berry is counted on to prove something in the meets next week.

Meet Tonight
Members of the Bright Belt semi-pro baseball league meet tonight at Respass-James Barbecue House at 7:30 for an important league meeting.
The league rules, schedule, and plans for the coming season will be decided on. Greenville semi-pro officials will be present at the meeting.

Boxing Lesson For Al Andrews
CHICAGO (AP) — A handsome youngster from New Orleans may become the new darling of television's fight fans.
Willie Pastrano, 19, made his first appearance on the national network last night at Chicago Stadium and proved quite a Fancy Dan as he gracefully pirouetted to a unanimous 10 round victory over Al Andrews.
Pastrano lacks knockout power, but the clean-cut teen-ager seems to have an instinctive ring cleverness that makes him a difficult target. He certainly confused the well-meaning, lunging Andrews from Superior, Wis., and St. Paul. He also has a deft left jabbing or hooking equally well with it—and a savage right uppercut. He's still young enough to learn how to set himself for more leverage and thus more power.
The International Boxing Club is scanning the field of top quality middleweights for a choice to match against Pastrano in another television show at Chicago Stadium April 22.
Pastrano, in addition to Andrews, lists Bobby Dykes, Jimmy Martinez and Jacques Royer among his victims. He has won his last nine fights and now has a record of 30 victories (including eight knockouts), 4 defeats and 2 draws.
Andrews, outweighed 164 to 180½ pounds, absorbed his 11th defeat in 44 starts.
All officials gave Pastrano a wide edge.
A paid attendance of 1,850 contributed to a net gate of $4,931.
AIRFIELD CRASH

No Tears When New Baby Starts Crying

By DOROTHY V. WHIFFLE, M.D.
AP Newfeatures

Newborn babies cry, but they do not cry tears. It is not until a baby is 2 or 3 months old that you see big drops welling up in his eyes and running down his cheeks when he is unhappy. It is then that you find puddles of tears in his ears.

Before you see tears, however, the eye is kept moist with a scanty flow of tears. Tears are formed in a special gland in the far corner of each eye. The clear fluid flows across the eye and is drained off through a duct at the corner of the eye, near the nose. This duct leads down the nose and then through the bone to the inside of the nose.

Tears are formed in small amounts all the time. This is the way the eye is kept normally moist. After about 2 months of age the tear glands will work overtime when the baby is distressed and crying. It will produce more tears than can be drained off through the duct, so that tears overflow the eyes and roll down the cheeks.

Sometimes in your babies the tear gland will start making lots of tears before the duct is open wide enough to drain them off. If this happens you will notice that the baby's eyes water, and you find tears on his face even when he is not crying. More often than not, you will notice this in one eye and not the other. Usually if you just leave it alone, the duct will open by itself after a few months.

A little gentle massage of the eye helps. Start at the far corner of the eye and rub your finger across the baby's eye just under the eyebrow. Do this several times a day. The massage helps to break up any little hardened secretion in the duct and makes it easier for tears to flow through.

If after some months the baby's eyes continue to water and tears flow down his face when he is not crying, it may be necessary to have the tear ducts probed. This is a highly skilled job and should only be done by an eye doctor. The baby has to be given a general anesthetic for this procedure. During the first few days after birth the baby's eyes often look a little red and swollen. This is due to a slight irritation from the drops the doctor puts into the baby's eyes at birth. A slight redness of the eyes during the first week of life is nothing to worry about. If the irritation persists, however, or if there is pus in the eyes, the doctor should see the baby.

After the first week of life any irritation of the eyes should be called to the doctor's attention. Pus in the eye means an infection and should be treated by the doctor.

Daschund Pup Is No Kite-Flyer

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Five-year-old Dale Holmen got bored flying his kite yesterday. He passed it over to his brother Mark, 3.

There was a stiff breeze, and Mark got tired.

He passed the job on to Penny, their daschund puppy. Penny got distracted. He just dropped the stick on the end of the string. Off went the kite.

Dale's shouts, Mark's wails and Penny's barks promptly brought out the boys' folks, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Holmen.

They piled in the family car and finally found the kite snagged high in a tree five blocks south.

But they were slow. As they discussed recovery strategy, the tugging kite snapped the string and off it sailed again.

The chase started anew. As the boys' harassed father describes it: "The family was watching the kite and I was watching traffic. We didn't know which was going to land first. Everyone was yelling directions. Mark, of course, was just yelling."

Away they dashed, two blocks, four blocks, across the railroad tracks. Finally, a mile and a half away, they found the kite in a field.

Peace, comparative at least, holds forth in the Holmen home today, and Mom and Pop have suggested a moral: daschunds are just too close to the ground to fly kites.

COMIC BOOK CRIME
STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The same week that the Connecticut General Assembly ordered an inquiry into the effect of comic books on juvenile delinquency, three boys broke into a store and stole 50 comic books.

THIEVES ARE IGNORANT
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A thief who broke into the antique gun and coin shop of John J. Morasco neglected to read up on old coins before doing so. They selected some rare coins and three antique pistols valued at $200—but ignored other pieces worth five times that much.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed upward strongly today toward the old peak levels of three weeks ago.

Prices were up between 1 and 3 points in many divisions while some gains ran out to around 7 points.

Business expanded as prices improved, and the pace exceeded the three-million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,730,000 shares.

It was three weeks ago tomorrow that the market on average touched historic high peaks. Then it tumbled in a severe break that lasted a little more than a week.

Since then it has been in a sustained recovery movement with strong gains shown in the three sessions since Monday.

The rise was immediate at the opening today. The tape fell behind in recording the rush of dealing in the New York Stock Exchange during the first half hour.

Atomic energy stocks were singled out for unusual gains early in the day. General Dynamics, yesterday's most active stock up 3 1/2, opened today on 12,000 shares up 2 1/2, at 72. Combustion Engineering, up 3 1/2 yesterday, started today on 3,000 shares up 5 at 77 1/2. Babcock & Wilcox, up 8 1/4 yesterday, opened today on 1,500 shares up 4 1/4 at 114.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yesterday advanced $2.10, one of the best gains of the year, and it closed at $158.40 only $4.20 under the March 4 peak but $6.90 above its March 14 low.

House Acts To Remedy 'Error'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today called up a bill to repeal two business tax benefits—admitted costly mistakes—in last year's giant tax revision act.

Approval of the repeal move seemed certain, despite protests from some business spokesmen that it would be a most unusual and "cruel" injustice.

The repeal would be retroactive to last year. Thus it would force a revision in thousands of 1954 tax returns already filed—and cancel out hundreds of millions of dollars already pocketed as profits.

The Eisenhower administration and leaders in both parties backed repeal. Democrats, however, hoped to make political hay out of the discovery of the mistakes in the GOP-sponsored 1954 act which re-wrote almost all tax laws.

They contended there may be other "loopholes" and "windfalls."

The two sections up for repeal (1) give some business firms a tax reduction for certain estimated future expenses and (2) defer payment of taxes on some income received for services to be performed in the future.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said business firms are claiming far bigger benefits from these provisions than had been foreseen. The Treasury has de-limited any specific revenue losses but has put the figure "in the millions rather than the billions."

The tax-writing House and Means Committee, which unanimously voted for repeal, said unexpected revenue losses "may well exceed one billion dollars" unless the two sections are knocked out of the law.

Seven Cases In City Police Court Here Wednesday

In Police Court Wednesday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed seven cases, two of them involving motor vehicle laws.

Elmer E. Nichols, 119 Jarvis street, drunk, case continued to Margaret Ridehour, New Bern, drunk, case not pressed.

Ernest L. Guthrie, Beaufort, drunk, called and he failed to answer. His bond was ordered forfeited.

Ronald F. Grant, Camp Lejeune, drunk, $10.

Improper turning: Howard Buck, Vanceboro, continued to.

No operator's license: Willie J. Murchison, case not pressed.

Joe Caldwell, Negro, found guilty of receiving stolen property, was given six months on the roads. Testimony was that Caldwell stole a television set from Martha Harris' cafe. The set was recovered.

Laconic Jack Webb To Essay New Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After four years as the laconic cop of Dragnet, Jack Webb is making the jump into an entirely new character, a rugged cornet player of the Rearing 20s.

He will star in and direct "Pete Kelly's Blues," a big-screen movie for theaters. He is also producing, but he won't take the credit on the screen. He thinks the multiple credits are too ostentatious.

I caught up with the fast-moving Webb on a music stage at Warner's, where he was recording one of the 38 numbers in the film. Peggy Lee was singing a dramatic song in which she breaks down. Webb was all over the place, giving directions until he got the record just as he wanted it.

Later I asked him about Pete Kelly. Who is he—Joe Friday with a cornet?

"No, not at all," he said. "It will be a complete change. I'm not the world's greatest actor; I'm not even one of the 1,000 greatest actors. But I think the characterization will come out differently. I play naturally. But that doesn't mean Jack Webb is Pete Kelly, any more than I'm Joe Friday. I've always tried to leave the character behind when I walk out of the studio at night."

"I think Kelly will be different emotionally from Friday. Because of his job, Joe isn't allowed to show much emotion. But we'll show Kelly first as a confused individual wallowing in the era of the '20s. He gets in a jam and wavers through fear, but he ends up on the right side of the law."

Two Woodmen Are Delegates To State Meet

A feature of the program will be presentation of a flag and flapole to the High Point public library at noon Monday. Plans for the society's 65th anniversary celebration, June 6, and its national convention in July will be announced.

More Than $2.5 Million Paid To Federal Crop Insurance Holders

More than two and one-half million dollars was paid to policy holders in 24 North Carolina counties where all risk tobacco crop insurance was issued in 1953-54, Julian E. Mann, State Director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., said today.

More than 11,000 claims were paid. The insurance, which is designed to protect cash investments against weather, disease, fire and insect damage, varies with regard to production risks in various counties.

All risk insurance the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been available on certain crops in North Carolina since 1942.

Closing dates for accepting insurance applications are nearing on 1955 crops. Farmers desiring to apply are urged to do so soon for applications can not be accepted after the insurable crop is in the field.
