Attack Draws Long Applause; Red Delegates Sit In Silence

Communism Assailed At Bandung

By HAROLD K. MILKS BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Iraq's Foreign Minister Fadhl Jamal denounced international communism before the Asian-African conference today and drew prolonged applause from many of the 29 delegations.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and others from Peking sat with set faces as Jamal charged, "International communism is a materialistic religion that breeds hatred among classes and peoples."

Nasser also refrained from directly mentioning defense alliances, including the Turkish-Iraqi pact which Egypt has bitterly opposed.

Africa have been reborn, nay — a new Asia and a new Africa have been born.

Premier Of Hungary Is Purged

Communists Announce Imre Nagy Fired; Announcement Was Long Expected

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungary's Communist party made public today its long-expected purge of Premier Imre Nagy.

The brief announcement also said Mihaly Farkas had been ousted from the party's five-man secretariat for supporting Nagy's ideas and expelled from the party's political committee and central leadership.

Nagy's formal ouster had been anticipated ever since the party's central committee rebuked him five weeks ago for "right wing deviationism."

The party sharply criticized Farkas for reflecting Nagy's views but its verdict was milder in his case.

In booting out Nagy — who had urged a better life for the masses — the Hungarian hierarchy knew the results to the hard policy of the Stalin era.

The action also was another step in the public return to top power of Matyas Rakosi, tough first secretary of the Hungarian Communist party and the real boss in Hungary.

Beginning next Monday, the local Post Office will incorporate additional territory on the city's mounted route, extending mail service to four sections of Greenville previously unserved by mail carriers.

Sections to be included in the extension are Colonial Heights, Forest Hills, College Court and East Third Street from Laurel Street to Cemetery Road.

In order to receive this mail service, residents in these areas must comply with certain postal regulations, Proctor said.

Witness Lists Twelve He Knew As 'Communists'

GREENSBORO (AP) — Ralph Clontz Jr., former spy for the FBI, today identified 12 persons he said he knew personally as members of the Communist Party during his association with admitted Communist Julius Scates.

Several of the 12 had connections with the University of North Carolina or Duke University.

Clontz, now a Charlotte lawyer, was a law student at Duke in 1948 when he testified last week.

Clontz listed these persons as Communists he said he had met personally or who were introduced to him as Communists in their presence.

Albert Einstein Dies in Hospital

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — World-famous scientist Albert Einstein died at 1:15 a. m. (EST) today at Princeton hospital.

Einstein, who was 76, had been admitted to the hospital at noon Friday. The hospital said the cause of death was inflammation of the gall bladder.

Einstein, who had secluded himself from public contact in recent years, had been attached to the Institute for Advanced Study here.

The quiet, unpretentious wizard of mathematics and physics spent his lifetime searching for a unified mathematical concept of the laws that govern the universe.

Born in Ulm, Germany, March 14, 1879, of middle class Jewish parents, he was swept to international fame by the theory of relativity which he devised at the age when the first atomic bomb exploded. But, the famous, white-haired scientist, flanked upon the A-bomb with misgiving.

In 1945, shortly after the dropping of the bomb on Hiroshima, he commented: "At present, atomic energy is not a boon to mankind, but a menace."

He saw one hope, however, that "it may intimidate the human race to bring order into its international affairs, which without pressure of fear undoubtedly would not do."

A theoretical physicist, the tools of his trade were a fountain pen and a pad of paper.

Though few people understood Einstein's "spooky" theories, his work is one of the important bases of today's electronic and television industries, and the great industrial developments which rely partly on the laws of atomic mass and energy.

He received the Nobel Prize in physics in 1921 and the world heaped honors and adulation upon the modest scientist, who pleaded: "Let every man respect each as an individual and no man idolized. It is an irony of fate that I myself have been the recipient of excessive admiration and respect from my fellows through no fault of my own."

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Dr. Albert Einstein was world-renowned as a scientist, but he was also known as a peace activist.

He came to Princeton as a lifetime member of the Institute in 1933, a voluntary exile from his native Germany, where the Nazis listed him as "an enemy of the state."

Truman Criticism Draws Hot Retorts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman's accusation that the Eisenhower administration is guilty of political trickery with serious foreign and domestic issues brought heated retorts yesterday from GOP ranks.

Neither vicious personal attacks on the President nor the ridiculous efforts to undermine his outstanding record in office will succeed, chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said.

Truman did not mention Eisenhower by name, but delivered a blistering attack on his administration Saturday night at a big Democratic dinner honoring Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn.

He assailed handling of Eisenhower's appointment in 1953 that the U. S. 7th Fleet would no longer be assigned to prevent any raids on the Communist Chinese mainland by Chiang Kai-shek.

President Briefed By Dulles On 'Grave Implication' Aerial Buildup Off Formosa

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower has received intelligence information that the Chinese Communists are engaged in an extensive buildup of Red airpower opposite Formosa, which the United States is committed to defend.

Announcing this at Augusta yesterday after a conference with the President, Secretary of State Dulles told newsmen the buildup has "grave implications." He described it as:

1. More intense and more broad in its scope than the United States had been aware of until a few days ago.

2. A buildup which "indicates a higher degree of capability" on the part of the Communists to launch an attack "than we had been aware of a few weeks ago."

3. In a formal statement after a two-hour meeting with the President, Dulles said: "In relation to China, we discussed the grave implications of an extensive buildup, now in progress, by the Chinese Communists of offensive airpower on the China mainland opposite Formosa."

Dulles gave this summary of other aspects of their review of world problems:

1. It appears "the Soviet Union now is willing to alter its 10-year stubborn policy of maintaining indefinitely Red forces of occupation in Austria." But Dulles added "nothing should be taken for granted on the basis of last week's negotiations between Russia and Austria on an Austrian independence treaty."

The secretary said say, however, that it seems the Western nations, in the light of those negotiations, "are beginning to reap the first fruits of a policy of patient firmness toward Russia."

2. Because of the developments looking toward an Austrian treaty, the prospects for a Big Four conference are "encouraging" if "the full facts on the Moscow negotiations do not disillusion us."

3. The situation in Viet Nam in Southeast Asia, where the United States is trying to prevent a new Communist aggression, is "difficult," but there is "no reason for discouragement."

4. There has been "steady progress" in the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany and restore its sovereignty, and toward creation of a Western European Union.

5. The President hopes the conference of 29 African and Asian nations opening today in Bandung, Indonesia, "will heed the universal longing of the peoples of the world for peace" and exert "a practical influence for peace where peace is now in grave jeopardy."

U.S. Has Given Huge Fleet To Friendly Nations

By ELTON C. FAY WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has supplied enough ships to make up the biggest fleet of friendly nations, some of them former enemies.

With delivery next month of two more ships to Japan, the number of Navy vessels loaned or otherwise provided for big and little countries in both hemispheres will be the largest since World War II.

At its March meeting, the central committee charged Nagy with being the "chief preacher of anti-Marxist ideas" which it blamed for a sharp drop in production.

The party also accused him of supporting opportunists and right-wing deviationists.

In booting out Nagy — who had urged a better life for the masses — the Hungarian hierarchy knew the results to the hard policy of the Stalin era.

The action also was another step in the public return to top power of Matyas Rakosi, tough first secretary of the Hungarian Communist party and the real boss in Hungary.

Continuing Wave Of Violence In Phone Walkout Hopes Rise In Rail Strike

ATLANTA (AP) — Chances of settling a Southern strike of railroads were somewhat better today but negotiators remained deadlocked in the strike-ridden telephone walkout.

Conditional agreement was reached last night in appointment of a neutral mediator in the Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike which is affecting 14 states.

Both strikes began 26 days ago. Southern Bell claims service is "almost normal" with 30,000 persons at work, including 10,000 supervisory employees.

The National Mediation Board in Washington recommended a referee or arbitrator be appointed to settle the rail strike.

At Sevierville Tenn., Chancellor David Pack issued a temporary injunction against union picketing, violence or sabotage.

The court order limited pickets to two at any one time at the Morris-Town, Newport and Jefferson City exchanges.

Long Awaited Finance Bill May Emerge This Week

RALEIGH (AP) — As Tar Heel legislators returned today for their 16th week, the possibility loomed that a long-awaited finance bill may put in an appearance before the week is out.

An appropriations bill is not far away. The Joint Appropriations Committee is expected to receive recommendations this week on a budget bill for the next biennium.

SEN. J. C. EAGLES JR. of Wilson, Senate Appropriations chairman, said the bill likely will be reported out by the full committee Monday or Tuesday of next week.

The House and Senate will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to set the stage for what is expected to be a busy week. A 15-member House Finance Subcommittee was ready to hold its first meeting today.

Meanwhile, the five-member Senate Finance subcommittee will deliver a progress report tomorrow.

The subcommittee, which has been looking into the intricacies of a proposed income tax withholding plan, will tell the committee of the drawbacks and advantages of the proposal.

The Senate and House Finance committees are at loggerheads over a proposed tobacco tax. A straw vote showed the Senate committee in favor of it, while the House group opposed it.

Gov. Hodges told newsmen Friday he had had to choose between a tax on tobacco or soft drinks. He would place the tax on soft drinks. What effect, if any, his statement will have on the committee remains to be seen.

The Senate Finance subcommittee, headed by Chairman W. Woodruff Rouse, may come out with a proposed tax bill by the end of the week. If it does, it will be setting something of a precedent, for the tax bill has traditionally been handled by the House group first.

How fast the Finance Committee moves this week on the revenue bills will be a big factor in determining just when the Legislature will wind up its work.

The Joint Appropriations subcommittee, which expects to complete its budget study this week, will receive reports tomorrow from smaller study groups named to look into: (1) all merit salary increments, (2) the public school child health program, whose fund was slashed $550,000 by the group, and (3) the feasibility of using Highway Commission funds for support of criminally insane persons in state mental hospitals.

At the completion of its budget study, the subcommittee will give a ruling on recommendations on an appropriations bill for the full committee. The proposed state budget for the next two fiscal years totals more than $87 million. To balance it, the state needs tax increases totaling about 17 1/2 million dollars annually.

The House Committee on Local Government is expected to vote Wednesday on a bill by Rep. Carson Gregory of Harnett calling for a statewide liquor referendum. Fewer than 100 persons turned out for a hearing on the bill last Wednesday. The bill is given little

DeGaullists Take Heavy Setback In French Election

PARIS (AP) — Moderates showed the most strength among followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle suffered the biggest losses in yesterday's elections for 1,669 members of regional councils, the Interior Ministry announced.

The Communists, although they polled the second largest vote, suffered light losses. So did the smaller pro-Communist parties.

All other parties had light to spectacular gains. The Moderates emerged the biggest winner with 26.1 per cent of the votes cast against 18.45 in the last such election, in 1948.

The Gaullists fell from 17.33 per cent in 1949 to a bare 5.5 per cent. The general's followers made their first big entry into the political field as a party in 1949 and elected 211 regional councilors.

Since then, De Gaulle has withdrawn his Rally of the French People as a political party and his followers have been unable to hold their former strength.

The Communists had won 23.54 per cent of the votes six years ago. The time they took only 21 per cent.

Bolivia Holding 73 In Death Plot

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The Interior Ministry says 73 persons are being held in connection with a plot to slay Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro and return the "oligarchy" to power.

A ministry statement last night charged that the abortive uprising had been planned to coincide with the April 9 celebration of the 1953 revolution which brought Paz Estenssoro's national Revolutionary Movement to power.

Other bills on the House calendar for tomorrow include: (1) a Senate-passed measure to permit the sale of explosive caps for cap pistols, and (2) legislation which would authorize the state to collect tax from trucks which travel through North Carolina on fuel purchased in other states.

OLD ENOUGH FOR GUNS

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — "You don't look 21," Edwin E. Cowen told two youths who ordered a quart of beer at his liquor store. When Cowen asked them for proof of age, one of the youths reached into his pocket for a revolver. The pair fled with $250 in cash from Cowen's wallet and cash register.

Former Greenville Man To Direct Touring Virginia Choir Tuesday

The Choir of Sullins College, Bristol, Va., an ensemble of thirty five women students, will be presented in concert at East Carolina College Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Austin auditorium. The program is sponsored by East Carolina. The public is invited to be present.

Leon B. Fleming Jr., formerly of Greenville, who is head of the Sullins College voice department and a graduate of East Carolina College, is director of the choir. Mrs. Evelyn McLeod Vance also a member of the Sullins music faculty, is accompanist and will appear on the program as piano soloist. Among student soloists with the group are two North Carolinians, Paula Setzer of Hickory and Barbara Cantrell of Winston-Salem.

The choir's appearance at East Carolina is one in a series of concerts on its 1955 spring tour, April 17-24. During this period the ensemble will travel approximately 2,000 miles and make thirteen appearances in concerts in Virginia, North and South Carolina, and Washington, D.C.

Television programs scheduled on the tour include appearances over WBTV of Charlotte; WNAO of Raleigh; WITG of Washington, D.C.; WFBC of Greenville, S.C.; and WSL of Roanoke, Va.

At East Carolina the Sullins choir will present a varied program, including works by Bach, Mozart, and Brahms; a group of spirituals in choral arrangements; solos by members of the group; and numbers by an ensemble of eleven selected singers.

As a special feature of the evening's program Mrs. Vance, pianist, will play Debussy's "Fireworks" and Chopin's "Scherzo in B Flat Minor."

Council Scouts Will Open Camping Season April 22

WILSON — The camping season of the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be kicked off for the 1955 season by a gigantic Camporee in Washington, according to a release by R.G. Barnes, chairman of the Council camping committee.

The Washington affair will be held on the weekend of April 22, 23, 24 at the fair grounds. There are more than 1,700 Scouts already registered for the big event. Sherman M. Parks, Greenville, the 1955 Camporee Chief, recently said that the total registration for this year will probably equal or better the mark set in 1952 in New Bern.

Mr. Parks met with the central camporee staff in Greenville last Tuesday night. Final plans and arrangements were made for the Washington weekend. The central staff will meet again for the dress rehearsal on Thursday, April 21, for an informal supper session in Washington.

Erskine Duff, Greenville, chief judge for the Camporee, has a reservoir of adult personnel who will assist in the operation of the event. Mr. Duff wished to invite other adult Scouters to serve in some capacity during the weekend. There will be service opportunities on both Friday and Saturday for those adults who can give of their time for the Scouts participating in the Camporee.

The chief judge released these names and communities of men who have volunteered to assist sometime during the Camporee:

Charles Powell, J.H. Hanchrow, Dr. George Melchior, Robert H. Powell, P.T. Watson, Rupert Stott, K.D. Kennedy, all of Wilson; Dr. R.H. Gilbert, William R. Hocutt, Percy J. Cotty, Charles Edwards, all of Kinston; Colon W. McLean, Dr. L.E. Kling, Washington; Heber Tripp, W.H. Brown, Greenville; W.A. Anderson, Tom S. Newbold, Rocky Mount, Joseph E. Reilly, Atlantic; H. Vann Latham, Bel-haven; Clem C. Toler, Ernul; A.R. Sarver, Camp Lejeune; Pembroke Nash, Tarboro; W.C. Ormand, Ayden; Clarence R. Breedin, Battleboro; J.E. Eagles Macclesfield; Lt. Auble W. Brunson, Cherry Point; Bill Lancaster, New Bern.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Moslem Prince Aly Khan is in Los Angeles today and says he hopes to meet his former wife, Rita Hayworth, to discuss a vacation for their daughter, Yasmin.

The prince, who arrived yesterday by air from a South American tour, said he hopes to take 5-year-old Yasmin to Paris with him.

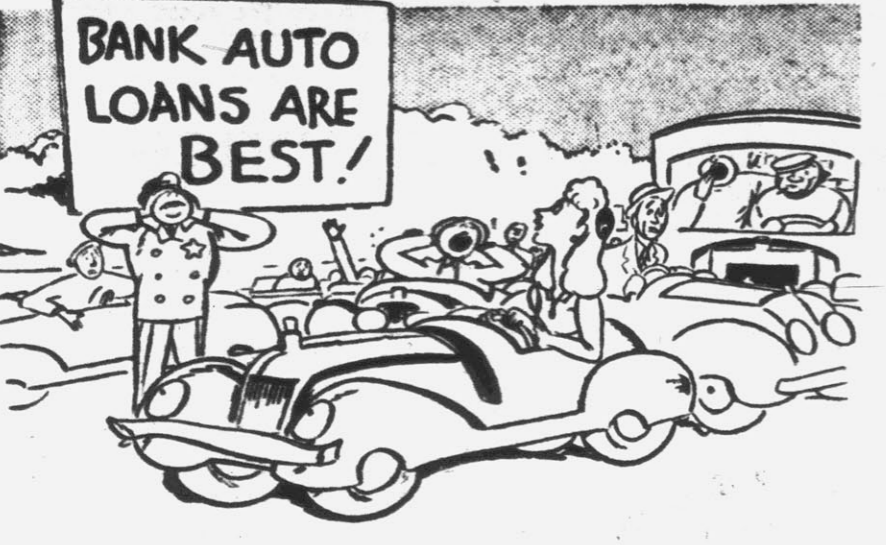

A divorce settlement approved in Reno, Nev., last November allows the Prince to have his daughter's custody at least six weeks a year. Miss Hayworth is now married to Dick Haymes.

Plain Murder Of Eight Parakeets

SAN DIEGO Calif. (AP)—Police were asked to solve the killing of eight parakeets.

A Boost For Home-Grown Industry

North Carolina's efforts to establish more home industries to raise the per capita income in some counties should be aided appreciably by Governor Hodges' latest move in that direction.

The appointment of former Ambassador Capus Waynick to make a survey to determine causes for North Carolina's low per capita income will prove of benefit to all counties of the state. Waynick's further duties to aid in the development of home industries for individual counties will benefit the whole state as it improves economic conditions in individual counties.

Some counties in North Carolina have made notable progress in establishing their own home industries to supplement their existing economy. In other counties, however, citizens apparently have failed to realize their potential for home industries. They haven't been able to see the opportunities which already exist in their own backyards. Or it may be that these opportunities have been seen, but plans

The Court Can Defeat Its Own Purpose

Now that segregation arguments before the Supreme Court have ended, the high court must determine what plan it will follow for carrying out its decision that segregated schools are unconstitutional.

A doctrine of gradualism and implementation of the Supreme Court's decision by lower courts hold the only hope for the eventual accomplishment of the goal set forth in the historical decision of last May 17.

For the high court to do otherwise would mean the destruction of the public school system in Southern States. It would mean the destruction of the amicable relationship between white and Negro races in the South. It would mean the destruction of the spirit of cooperation between the races which in 90 years has lifted the Negro from a place of servitude to the most envied position among the minority groups of the world.

North Carolina's assistant attorney general, I. Beverly Lake, and other Southern attorneys who appeared in the arguments before the Supreme Court clearly and ele-

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
ENTRY IN THE BOOK OF LIFE
Forty years ago a friend and classmate of mine left this country and went to India as a medical missionary. He has spent his life in the operating room and a few years ago collapsed in the midst of his conscientious activities. But he recovered and again went back to a full schedule.
Now he is home, permanently retired because of age. What will he do? Will he stretch out his legs and take things easy and enjoy a well-earned leisure? No. He has had several offers because of his unusual surgical experience which would make it possible for him, with no great effort, to make two or three times the salary he received as a missionary. But this servant of God and man has decided to take a little hospital down in the southern mountains where he will be paid a small salary and given a house in which to live. "I was never interested in making money," he declares. "Here I can go on serving people and they will pay me enough to live. What more can I ask than that? I consider it a privilege to be offered this opportunity."

He is not the first person who has talked this way and he will not be the last. His kind continue to walk the earth and make the life of their suffering fellows easier. When their fellow know of this unselfishness, they about their praises. And we can be sure that in the far reaches of heaven, God is smiling as He makes an entry in the Book of Life.

One-Sided Report Out Of UN

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—Secretary John Foster Dulles' petroleum experts are seriously upset over a United Nations report which hampers their efforts to obtain new sources of oil in the cold war against the Communists. The attack on American interests by an official agency of the international body might have appeared in Pravda, the Kremlin's official organ.
Issued by a U.N. Economic Committee, headed by a noted European leftist, the document charged that American oil firms—Standard Oil, etc.—were cheating both the native producers and world consumers of this key product. It said, specifically, that although the oil was extracted on a basis of low native wages and other below-standard costs, the delivery price in Europe and elsewhere was fixed on the higher level of production costs in the United States.
It is the same sort of "imperialistic, commercial and colonial" indictment which Moscow and Peiping regularly level against the United States. It has been picked up and spread by Red propagandists in China, Asia and the Middle East.

VITAL FACTS OMITTED—The U.N. report neglected many vital facts favorable to western interests. It took no cognizance of the heavy costs of refining and transporting the oil to market. Nor did it mention the high royalties and taxes which American firms pay to foreign governments.
It omitted entirely any reference to the improved standards of living—wages, schools, sanitation—introduced in backward areas by the so-called "American exploiters." Like so many other surveys by U.N. committees, it gave the U. S. a black eye on the psychological front in the cold war.
Although the State Department has sought to hush-hush the matter lest it sharpen controversies over this question, it is understood that strong protests have been entered against the alleged misrepresentation.

Business Today

Balkanizing Of U. S.

By ELMER ROESSNER
The Balkanization of America persists. This spring, with most of the state legislatures in session the process of erecting tax curtains along state borders has gone further ahead.

Legislators of most states are in a sorry plight. After today's tax bite by the Federal government, and the chewing away of income by cities, counties, districts and other sharp-toothed organizations, legislators are put to find additional sources of revenue. And they need revenue to meet the rising cost of manpower and materials, the building of roads and the maintenance of a goodly number of political workers on payrolls.

In recent years, there have been strenuous efforts to lay taxes as heavily as possible on people and companies in other states. A state can tax an arm and a leg off "foreign" persons and, while they may squeal, they can't vote against the legislators. Typical of this practice is New York State income tax levy. People who earn salaries in New York but who live in New Jersey, Connecticut and other neighboring states are denied exemptions given to state residents.

In recent years, there has been a tendency of states to levy high taxes on out-of-state trucking companies. The U. S. Supreme Court has held that states cannot levy such interstate commerce taxes. However, it has decided that states can levy charges for the use of their roads, and that they do. Somehow or other, it seems to work out that "foreign" companies always pay the larger rates. And as soon as one state puts a heavy levy on trucks from another state that state tries to find a legal way to tax the trucks of the first state. If there is no other way, state police can be alerted and there is always something for which a ticket can be handed to a "foreign" truck. The fining system can also be utilized. As a rule of thumb, out-of-state truckers are fined around five or ten times as much, for the same offenses, as domestic truckers.

Another way of socking furriners is to levy taxes on branch offices. Alabama, for example, has just increased the tax on each $1,000 of assets of out-of-state corporations from $2 to $2.50. It has also raised the taxes on insurance premiums paid "foreign" companies.

Lawyers now caution business clients never to establish branches or appoint agents in other states without examination of laws there. The clients may find that they may have to pay taxes on assets held outside the states and earnings from every phase of the world.

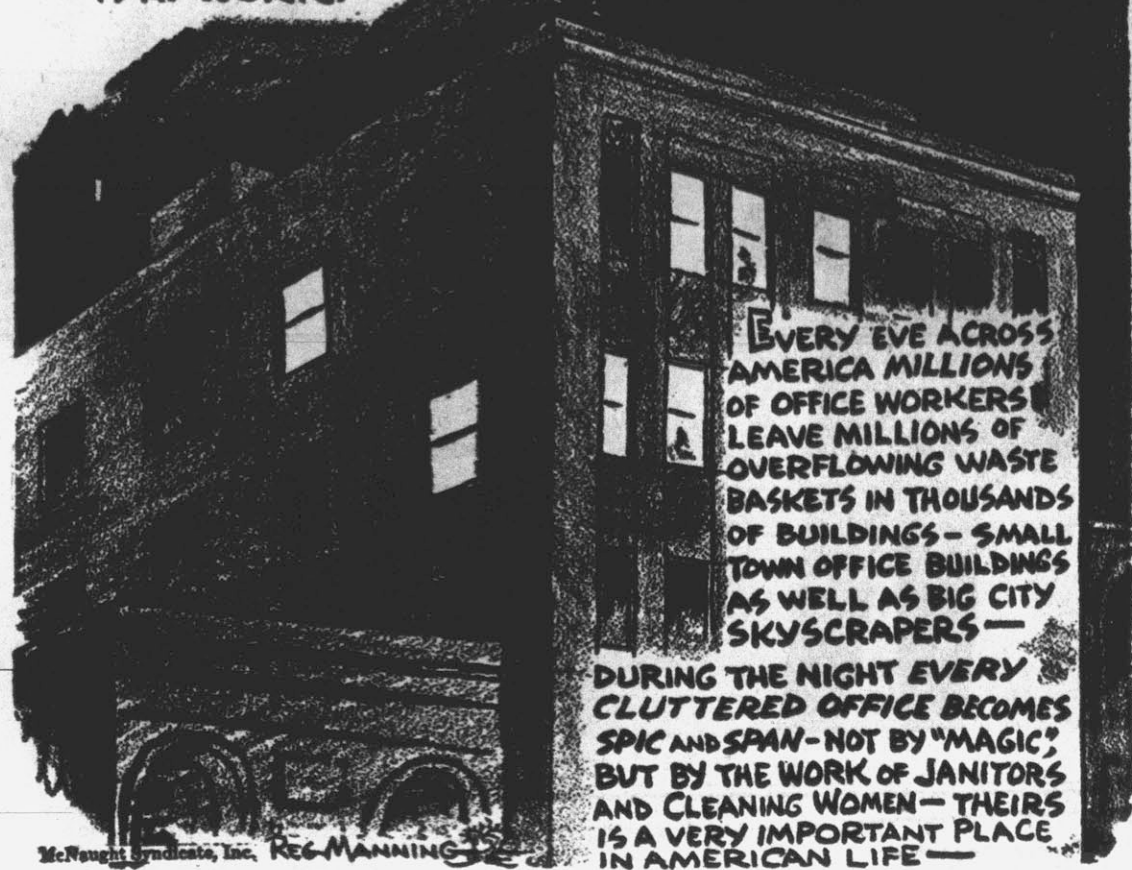

COMICS WILL SURVIVE THIS COMPETITION
It's probably not a record, but a new book has been published at $125 a copy. It's "Directory of Manufacturers of America," by Directory of Manufacturers, Inc., Brooklyn, N. Y. It lists 300,000 manufacturers and pertinent information about each one.

WEEK SET ASIDE FOR PRETTIFYING MAILBOXES
The tired array of mailboxes at the start of many side roads—those weather-beaten boxes on poles, leaning on one another like so many drunks—has injured the aesthetic sensibilities of the National Association of Postmasters and the Direct Mail Advertising Association.

These organizations are preparing to promote the week of May 16 as "Mailbox Improvement Week," during which time box owners are to be urged to spruce up their mailboxes—while mailbox manufacturers cheer.

Unused Asset: The Brains Of Physically Handicapped

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — This week we will forget the stock market and consider something much more important, namely, some very valuable brain power which is going to waste. I have in mind especially the BRAINS of some of the so-called "physically handicapped."

1,000,000 WHEEL CHAIRS, CRUTCHES, AND CANES
There are 165,000,000 people in the U. S. I estimate that about 500,000 of these are handicapped from polio and other diseases; 1,500,000 are living disabled veterans from World Wars I and II; over 1,000,000 are crippled from accidents; and about 150,000 are totally blind. There are many more suffering from total deafness and even inability to speak. These add up to 3,150,000, of which at least 1,000,000 have not the opportunity to make full use of their inherent talents. Although they have pretty much been supplied with jobs of a kind, these 1,000,000 have not as a rule—such jobs as will enable them to use their BRAINS as they would like. This especially applies to those in wheel chairs and on crutches because—quoting an employer: "A wheel chair messes up the routine of the office or factory." In these days of keen competition management fears anything which might interfere with the flow of products or sales.

MONEY VERSUS OPPORTUNITIES
The situation is becoming worse every year due to increasing automobile accidents of which 36,000 resulted last year in deaths for which there were total awards of perhaps $400,000,000. Some will say that the non-fatal accidents which cripple groups of men, insurance, as are certain veteran incapacities, but there is no insurance which gives new limbs, new eyes, or even a fair chance to use one's brain. Yet, our brains are our most wonderful and valuable asset.

It is not more Government money these physically handicapped need, but more opportunity to do creative intellectual work. Remember that in the above figures are not including any medical or emotional mental cases. I am interested here in those who have distinct talents. Although the many unselfish agents and counselors of the Federal and State Governments are doing excellent work with the funds available, they deserve much more help.
LET US SAVE OVER $2,000,000,000

I estimate that of the above groups, one million adults are today able to use fully their brains and talents. However, much of this creative brain power and special talent is being overlooked. This is unfair to the nation as well as to these people. Just think, with one million of these brains now idle, 8,000,000 working hours are lost daily, or more than 2,000,000,000 are lost each year. Based on only one dollar per hour, this means a loss of over $2,000,000,000 per year.

To understand what the loss of these one million adult workers means, consider any city of about 3,000,000 population, such as Detroit, Boston, San Francisco, or Pittsburgh, any one of which has 1,000,000 adult workers. This means the loss of as much creative brain power as is now engaged in the entire production work of one of the above cities.

In saying this, I include bankers, merchants, professional men, as well as wage workers.
PRAISE FOR PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS
Let me applaud all those private organizations now engaged in helping unfortunates. I particularly have in mind certain Societies to Help the Blind, the National T. B. Association, the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the American Heart Association, the American Hearing Society, the Disabled Veterans Organizations, the U. S. and State Employment Services, and the Goodwill Industries of America, founded on a shoe-string by a personal friend of mine, and now distributing annually the equivalent of $25,000,000 in useful work. The public little realizes the rewards which would come to the nation by activating these one million creative brains and submerged talents.

I forecast that these submerged physically handicapped, who are mentally talented and alert, can truly become "gold mines." I only wish I were younger and could devote my life to harnessing these brains, talents, imaginations, and visions. Many of them could become inventors of great note, from which the nation as a whole would benefit.

Hodges Confident Finance Bills Will Be Coming Soon

By LYN NISBET
CONFIDENT — Governor Hodges is confident that the money committees will reach agreement on the revenue bills in the 87th day of the current session, 1,449 bills had been introduced in the current session. That's 200 bills less than had been introduced at the same time in the 1953 session. Ratifications in this session hit the 619 Friday compared with 858 two years ago.

Looking at those figures, one might say the General Assembly this year hasn't done the work that the 1953 session did. But if one considers the knotty problems which have faced the current session—more complex and difficult than the problems of the 1953 session—it seems the General Assembly this year has probably done more work in this session than it had up until this time in the 1953 session.

By HAL BOYLE
MADRID (AP) — The saiest costume to wear to a bullfight is a suit of armor.
It is handy to protect you from the wrath of the fans, or aficionados, if things go wrong.
Your typical Spanish bullfight aficionado is a rabid individualist who makes even the most leather-lunged American baseball fan seem like a wax statue of Casper Milquetoast.

He is a perfectionist. The deadly ballet of a bullfight is reported of in the sports report. Everything must go strictly according to Hoyle, or the aficionado takes it as a personal affront, and his howls can be heard from here to Seville.
If he thinks the performance is too lousy, he may even go down into the ring himself to show the matador how a bull really should be fought.

This actually happened last Easter Sunday at a bull stabbing I attended out of curiosity along with some 24,000 regular patrons of this cultural medium.
A bullfight follows a classic pattern. Ideally it is held on a hot bright windless day.
The bull comes leaping in, fierce and surging with power, and is dragged out dead and bleeding in minutes less than half an hour later.

In those few moments he is run until he is partly winded, methodically weakened by a man on horseback who lances his shoulder muscles until he can hardly lift his head. Three daring men on foot then run up and stick brightly colored darts in his wound to goad him to the limit.
The bloody teacher climaxes when the matador, after flagging the beast back and forth with a cape like a madden railroad locomotive leans forward on tiptoes and drives his sword over the lowered horns into the confused bull's weary heart.

Each part of the ceremony is a ritual. Every graceful movement of body and cape by the true aficionado is a jittersbug step to a teen-ager in America. The bull must be blindly brave, the matador skillfully courageous in toying with the horned death.
On this Easter Sunday everything went wrong. The exuberance. He indicated disappointment that straw votes a few days before showed continuing wider divergence in individual legislator's views than he had hoped.

He reminded newsmen that he had told legislators in his budget message he hoped they would give careful study to the recommendations but explore on their own account other sources of revenue and possible curtailment in appropriations. The up-and-down procedure of the money committees during the past few weeks has been very much like the experience of the advisory budget commission, he said. At long last the budget is being looked at, and he suspects that ultimately the legislature will come around to about the same conclusions.

Instead of being worried about delay, he seemed rather pleased that legislators are not taking suggestions without investigation. Lack of progress may be disheartening at times, but in the overall scheme of democratic processes it is necessary. There comes a time even in democratic processes where deliberations and discussions must give place to decisions. That time is rapidly approaching.

A reporter spoke of complaints among legislators at lack of aggressive and positive leadership. Governor Hodges had heard that, too, but reiterated previous statements that he has no disposition to back the whip or put on pressure for his own ideas. Your own reporter got the impression the Governor thinks the Legislature finally will come around to his views, and that he will be in better position politically and the cause of balanced and co-operative, but separate, executive and legislative functions will be better served without "whip cracking" on his part.

CONFUSION — When the Governor perhaps contributed to existing confusion by a somewhat casual response to questions as to his preference among proposed tax levies, particularly in the excise field. He said it would be fine if the budget could be balanced without recourse to any new excise taxes, but "it looks like they can't do it." Then he said if he had to choose among the excise proposals he would take the soft drink tax "ahead of" the tobacco tax. The earlier straw votes showed both House and Senate committees overwhelmingly against the drink tax, the House 36 to 6, the Senate 20 to 2 while the House voted 30 to 16 against the tobacco tax, the Senate 14 to 8 for it. That vote showed legislative opposition much greater to the drink tax, to which the Governor gives preference. Whether the Governor's statement will serve to rejuvenate the legislatively defeated soft drink tax may occasion considerable speculation over the weekend.

There is also conflicting opinion about the final effect of withholding income taxes at State level, as they are now withheld for the Federal taxes. Estimates range from two million to eighteen million dollars in total additional or "windfall" revenue—the windfall being what might be expected during the next biennium by reason of speeded-up collections and advanced payments.

SUBCOMMITTEE — Meantime both the Senate and House finance committees have turned the revenue bills over to separate subcommittees, as contrasted with appropriations policy which was to name a joint committee to work out the spending bill. Under legislative rules the appropriations subcommittee will report to their respective major committees, and then perhaps another joint subcommittee will be named to weld the divergent views into one revenue bill. The committees require that the committees report jointly on budget money bills.

HOUSE SUB — There has been more general interest in the personnel of the House subcommittee, largely because the House whole group approved in straw voting only about eight million dollars of new taxes while the Senate group approved about $18 million a year. There is also wide belief, which is not based in fact, that revenue bills must originate in the House. That is true in Congress, but not in the North Carolina Legislature.

Interested parties have been trying since the names were announced Friday morning to analyze the House subcommittee with a view to predicting probable course of action. It is difficult to do. The 15-man group includes Falls of Cleveland, chairman; Askew of Gates, Esq. of Moore, Buchanan of Jackson Edwards of Greene, Henderson of Robeson, Kemp of Wayne, McShane of Henderson, O'Herron of Mecklenburg, POU of Wake, Thompson of Chatham, Turner of Guilford, Wallace of Montgomery, Womble of Forsyth and Worthington of Pitt.

Eight of the counties represented are heavy flue-cured tobacco producers—Moore, Greene, Robeson, Wayne, Wake, Guilford, Forsyth and Pitt—all with auction warehouses within their borders. Several others produce some flue-cured, while Jackson and Henderson have some burley acreage. It does not necessarily follow that because a representative lives in a tobacco producing area he is against the tobacco tax, but it is a fairly general rule. Geographically the committee personnel is distributed six from what is generally regarded as the east, five from the central and four from the western part of the State. By occupational classes the group has six lawyers, two whole-time farmers, the other seven men engaged in varied business enterprises.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

Miss Ai Sasaki, secretary of the commission on home and family life of the National Christian Council of Japan, announces that a practical course in "Home and Family Problems" and counselling in these topics will be added to the curriculum of the Tokyo Theological Seminary. This is said to be the first such course in theological training in Japan, and will train in counselling in family and in-law relations, marriage, and boy-girl relations. The emancipation of Japanese youth from the centuries-old family restriction of pre-war days has made this type of ministry of basic importance for modern Japan.

"Our tendency is to wish for peace, to hope for peace, but not necessarily to make peace," says Mr. J. Fount Tillman, of Lewisburg, Tenn., vice-president of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, Methodist Church. "How may we work for peace today? Where four or five gather together in a little interracial group in a community to discover plans to bring about better understanding and cooperation—instead of bitterness, hate and violence—there are the seeds of peace. In justice there is new hope for peace. Where letters express to lawmakers the desire for long-term Christian legislation rather than acts of political expediency or pressure, the power of a Christian constituency makes itself felt in the laws of the land. Wherever we find individuals or group working to bring about better understanding, they are witnesses of His way. When we use our influence to support the U. N. as an agency working for better understanding as an open forum of the nations, when we work at problems of drink in our communities or give of our time and energy to help our own under-privileged groups, we are witnesses of the way."

Mrs. Eleanor Lewis Tishkins of Chadron, Nebraska, has been appointed by the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston, Mass., as manager of the Sial Fiber Industry in Ahmednagar, in the Marathi Mission India. This is a handcraft industry started by Congregational Christian missionaries for the destitute people of the area and now a model for similar industries in other parts of India.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — When brakes failed in a line of traffic on Clarence Elwood Ashew's truck he veered into a vacant field to avoid ramming the car ahead. But he bumped a guy wire and — His truck turned over. The top snapped off of a pole carrying a power line. Families depending on electricity for cooking ate cold supper in Campostella, Riverdale, Newton Park, Oaklette, Indian River, Park and Norfolk Highlands. Children with favorite TV programs missed them and fretted. Nearby drug stores reported a run on candles.

Red Sox Seemingly Using Ted Williams' Potent Bats

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press
Ted Williams was still some 2,000 miles away from Fenway Park today but could it be that the Boston Red Sox have been using the power-laden bats he left behind?

The end of the first week of the infant baseball season finds the Red Sox not only leading the American League with five victories in six games but they also are on top with an astonishing .330 team batting average and 11 home runs.

The Red Sox yesterday pounded eight Baltimore pitchers for 30 hits, sweeping both ends of a doubleheader 14-5 and 12-9 to leap past Cleveland and New York and grab a full-game lead on the field.

Faye Throneberry, 23-year-old ex-GI filling in for Williams in left field, has done the most toward easing the big guy's absence. The Memphis, Tenn., sophomore, clubbing at a torrid 400, is tied for the league lead with 13 runs batted in. His 10 hits include four doubles and three home runs. He rapped four hits yesterday including a double and home run, drove in four and scored six times.

Catcher Sammy White, another .400 hitter so far, drove home seven runs with five hits including a double and home run. Jackie Jensen, batting .455, knocked in four runs with six hits including a double, triple and homer. Ted Lepcio collected four hits to boost his average to .348 and Billy Goodman is hitting .364.

Boston shared Sunday's spotlight with the Brooklyn Dodgers who continued their unbeaten ways with a sweep of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 10-3 and 3-2.

Philadelphia's Phillies stunned the Giants with a pair of 4-2 victories to drop New York into a sixth place tie with Cincinnati.

A 10-run first inning started St. Louis off to a 14-1 runaway over Chicago after the Cubs had nipped the Cards in the opener 6-5 with two runs in the ninth. Cincinnati pulled out a ninth inning 6-5 victory to gain a split with Milwaukee after the Braves had run off with the opener 10-1. It was the Reds' first victory after five straight defeats.

Cleveland and Chicago split a doubleheader, the Indians winning 4-2 behind Bob Lemon's five-hitter after southpaw Jack Harshman had pitched the White Sox to a 3-1 triumph in the opener. Johnny Schmitz and Spec Shea combined to pitch Washington to a 7-3 victory over their former New York Yankee teammates as Mickey Vernon and Roy Sievers hammered homers against Eddie Lopat.

Young Al Kaline hammered three home runs, two of them in the sixth inning to tie a major league record, as Detroit romped to a 16-0 rout of Kansas City. Steve Gromek yielded seven hits for his second victory, both against the Athletics.

The 20-year-old Kaline also singled to drive in six runs giving him 12 for the season. He leads both leagues with a .560 batting average on 14 hits in 25 times at bat. Teammate Harvey Kuenn also collected four hits, three doubles and a single.

MEET A PIRATE

What more can you tell the parents about their own son? This is the circumstance involving a biographic sketch of Greenville's Bobby Perry.

Local citizens are hep to the talents of the 6-foot, 170-pound lad who was one of the most outstanding athletes ever produced at the high school here and is well on his way to the establishment of a similar reputation at East Carolina College.

This article will be restricted to the tales of Bobby's track exploits—a field that has been overshadowed by his specialty, football. He was three years a member of the Greenville High track team. During these three seasons, Bobby was never beaten in a single event held at the local track. He was top man in the 100 yard dash, the 220 dash, the 440 and the broad jump.

After graduation, Bobby found sticking close to home an advantage and consequently East Carolina sports got a boost. Besides his fine year last fall on the gridiron, Bobby was one of the mainstays of East Carolina's first track squad.

Actually, ECC had no real track team. Bobby and several other interested, energetic boys — mostly restless footballers—got together and began working out.

The boys whipped themselves in shape and a meet was arranged with strong North Carolina State. Most folks at the larger Raleigh school figured it was a big joke until Bobby and his mates whipped their Wolfpack team by some three or four points.

Bobby captured several firsts in the meet to lead in the upset. But that wasn't all. Shortly later, the ECC bunch traveled to the North State Conference meet — you guessed it—won it.

This year with the team getting some support from the college and officially coached by Jack Boone, the ECC cindermen took a hard-earned win over strong Newport News Apprentice School a week ago. Bobby grabbed three second places to win plenty of points for the locals.

With two more years of eligibility, Bobby could be one of the leaders in new heights attained in an East Carolina minor sport.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Perry reside at 203 Green St. here in Greenville.

East Carolina And Elon Share Lead In Loop Standings

Coach Jim Mallory's East Carolina Pirates and Coach Doc Mathis' Elon Christians have assumed old roles as co-leaders in the Eastern Division of the North State Conference.

Both have perfect loop marks of three wins and no losses. In the other half of the loop, Western Carolina and Lenoir Rhyne are the leaders. The WCC Catawbas have won four straight league games and LR's Bears have won two.

The Eastern race is narrowed to two clubs as was expected before "Play Ball" rang around the conference. Guilford, High Point and Atlantic Christian are so far behind already that catching up seems unlikely. Guilford and High Point have won one and lost two and ACC has lost four and won none.

Western Carolina, sparked by an iron-man performance by Jim Kuykendall, forged ahead in the West with its 4-0 record. Kuykendall worked both ends of a double victory over Appalachian Friday, winning 9-7 and 7-0 in two seven-inning affairs.

The other two clubs in the Western half of the conference also appear too weak to threaten. Appalachian has lost two without a win and Catawbas has gone winless in four games.

The standings:

Eastern Division

East Carolina	3 0 1.000
Elon	3 0 1.000

Snead Is Still 'Old Master' Of Greensboro Tournament

By KEN ALTYA
GREENSBORO (AP)—Sam Snead, an infrequent tournament player in view of his approaching 43rd birthday, is still the old master as far as the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament is concerned. The slugging man from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., who won the inaugural tournament here in 1938, came through with a last hole birdie yesterday to take his fifth Greensboro tournament.

Snead needed a lucky bounce to the fringe of the green after apparently missing his second shot, but he got it and chipped up to about 18 inches for the birdie 4 he needed to edge Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Julius Boros, of Southern Pines by one stroke with a 278 total.

Wall, leader through each of the first three rounds, just missed his birdie try from five feet and had to settle for $1,335 in his second place deadlock with Boros. Snead earned $2,200 in the $12,500 event.

Each of the three had scored a 69 in the first of yesterday's two rounds, leaving Wall still one shot ahead of Boros and Snead starting the afternoon round with most of the gallery of about 10,000 following the Wall-Snead-Ted Kroil threesome.

Wall, who had tied with Snead in a four-way playoff here two years ago, which went to Earl Stewart, had a four-shot lead over Snead after nine holes in the morning, but he took a double bogey six on the 13th and head to drop a tough six-footer on the 18th to retain his stroke lead at lunchtime.

In the afternoon Snead was off and running with a 33 against Wall's 35 and 37 for the tiring Boros, who was married a week ago today. But Boros found new lift to come back in 33 and force the leaders to go for the birdie on the last hole to win.

Sharing fourth place at 277 were Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; Ted Kroil, Bethesda, Md., and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex. Each won $853.33.

Snaring seventh place at 278 for $595 each were Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, and Marty Furgol, Leominster, Ill.
Mike Souchak, Durham, ran his year's top money total to $14,448 with a fine 70-69 finish for 282 and $415 in a tie with Ed Furgol, St. Louis; Ed Oliver, Lemont, Ill., and Mike Fitchick, Mahopac, N.Y.

Snead was always under par 70 in four trips around the 6,600-yard Sedgfield Country Club course with rounds of 68-67-69-69.

Three North Carolinians shared amateur honors at 292. They were Ray Taylor, Greensboro; Bud Kivst, High Point, and Fletcher Wall, Lexington.

Kaline Hits 2 Homers In One Inning; Plus 1

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—Young Al Kaline combined 20 pounds of muscle, 38 inches of wood and "the same old swing" to smash two home runs in one inning and tie a major league record yesterday.

The 24-year-old outfielder slammed three home runs, two of them in the sixth inning, as the Detroit Tigers trounced the Kansas City A's, 15-0.

Kaline thus became the 13th major leaguer since 1880 — or the eighth in modern times if you go back only to 1900 — to hit two homers in one inning.

The muscle was new—20 pounds he picked up in the off-season to boost his weight from 155 to 175. The wood was new—a 33-ounce bat which he had borrowed from a teammate.

"But it was the same old swing," Kaline explained in the Tigers' dressing room. "I hit a curve, fast ball and slider but was swinging the same as always—just trying to get on base."

Kaline warmed up with a two-run homer off starter John Gray in the third inning. He really broke loose in the sixth inning, starting and ending a nine-run outburst with home runs.

Leading off in the sixth, Kaline thumped a 400-foot home run into the lower left center field stands. It came off rookie Bob Spicer.

Kaline wound up the Tigers' big rally by driving a two-run homer into the left field seats off Bob Trice.

He was the first player in Detroit history to hit two in one inning. The last major leaguer to do it was Sid Gordon, who walloped a pair in the second inning of a doubleheader for the New York Giants on July 31, 1949. The last American Leaguer to do it was Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. He slammed two in the fifth inning of a game on June 24, 1936.

Kaline also had a single to boost his early season average to .560—best in the league for players who have played a majority of their team's games. He has 14 hits in 25 at bats, including a double, two triples and three home runs. He has batted in 12 runs.

A newsman kidded the youngster after the game, asking him if he was going to try for Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers.

"I'll just keep swinging," Kaline said. "The same old swing."

Investigate New Boxing Fatality

TRENTON N.J. (AP)—The State Athletic Commission will make a formal report Thursday on the boxing bout in which middleweight Bryan Thompson received fatal injuries.

Thompson, 23-year-old Philadelphia, died yesterday in St. Francis Hospital, where he had been unconscious most of the time since he collapsed in the ring 2 1/2 weeks ago.

He had been struck three times on the chin in succession by Jerry Leudue of New Haven, Conn., in his first professional fight here March 29.

Thompson had been national AAU 165-pound champion in 1953 and won the All-Air Force middleweight title last year.

State Athletic Director Joseph Walker in an interim report 10 days ago termed the fight "100 per cent" in order and said Thompson's injury was "an unfortunate accident."

Under a special insurance policy taken out in 1952 by the State Athletic Commission, Thompson's family will be the first to receive a $5,000 death benefit payment.

The Negro boxer had won 104 of his 115 amateur fights before he turned pro.

THEY ARE GOD HEADACHE POWDERS

IF THE AVERAGE FIGHT FAN DOESN'T seem too excited over Don Cockell's chances of taking Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown back to England it is because the quality of the British heavyweight crop hasn't been very impressive in a long, long time. English fighters, like Bombardier Billy Wells, Horizontal Joe Beckett and Swinging Phil Scott were hardly serious contenders for the heavyweight championships of the world.

The big mark against Cockell is the fact that Randy Turpin stopped him a couple of years ago. His record over the past year and a half showing victories over Harry Matthews and Roland La Starza would indicate that Don had improved. He's big enough to battle Rocky Marciano on even terms, a beefy 210-pounder, and one who can box and punch. He's fast for a chubby athlete, full of confidence and every bit as strong as Marciano.

Cockell might pull a surprise just as did Tommy Farr when he faced Joe Louis the first time the Brown Bomber defended his world-championship back in 1937. Everyone figured the Bomber would polish off the brash Welshman in short order. But it didn't work out that way. Farr forced the fight all the way and gave the overly-cautious Louis a very trying evening. The decision was in favor of the Brown Bomber, but it was mighty close. It is possible, if not probable, that Rocky Marciano may find the same sort of a surprise party awaiting him on May 16 when he climbs into the ring in San Francisco.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., the leading money-winner among the women players for the year, wound up second and made $700 in the Zaharias Open. She had a 72 for 218.

Take MY PLACE

By FRANCES SARAH MOORE

When Landon McCrae returned to Windermere, Canada, from New York, her old beau, Scott Wylie, Scott sure she'd marry him this time. But Scott is care for her son meant only to care for her sister, Maggie Scarfite's household while the latter remained away for a T.B. cure, to look after Maggie's little daughter Merry-o and Maggie's husband, Eric. She tried to cheer them, to provide some recreation.

CHAPTER SEVEN
Before long Landon realized that every time she looked around for Eric he was dancing with Kay. Scott finally said aggrievedly, "Looking for someone? Or do you usually peer over your partner's shoulder when you dance?"

She gestured vaguely and smiled off. Then as if forcibly impelled, she looked back, and Eric was still dancing with Kay.

Landon's eyes brooded heavily on the two. Enjoying themselves thoroughly! Not a random thought for Maggie. Engrossed in themselves and their social talk and smiles. . . Landon caught herself up short. Stop making it wrong!

She moved from one man's arms to another, and for half an hour succeeded in channelling her thoughts elsewhere. Then abruptly, she realized that Eric and Kay were no longer on the dance floor. Indignation surged up in her; unreasonably she knew. Eric was no crude philanderer. But even if he and Kay, wherever they were, went on behaving with dance-floor decorum, in Landon's opinion their slipping away together was not condonable.

"Loosen up," Scott murmured. "Your back won't break."
But the dancing and the music were a blur. She dug her fingers presingly into his shoulder. With no conscious thought of spring, she said, "It's stuffy in here. Could we go outside?"

The minute she stepped through the french windows she saw them.

Lounging on the rail, nonchalant in a flood of window light, talking and smoking cigarettes. Nothing clandestine, nothing indecorous. Nevertheless Landon pushed breathlessly over. "Oh, here you are!" she said—and was shocked by her falsely playful tone.

In perplexity, Eric and Kay swung around, and Scott's eyebrows shot up.

"Could I," Landon asked, "please have a cigarette?"

Scott squinted at her over his lighter flame. "Do you feel all right?"

"I—I have a headache," she said lamely. Any excuse to escape this unsureness of herself. So Scott took her home. She said a stiff good-night, wanting to get it over quickly and go in. Her headache was real now. She felt sick with it. Undressing with shaky hands, she saw again Scott's puzzled and unhappy face—a reflection of her own puzzled and unhappy heart. She got into bed, trying vainly to close her ears against the music drifting over from the clubhouse. The dance would go on until 8 o'clock. 4? And then he'll take her home. Landon punched her pillow and turned it over until it was hot on that side, too, and she had to turn it back again.

Landon was drinking a third cup of breakfast coffee in the living room when Dora Hendrix came in, carrying a dustmop and the floor polisher.

"Oh, you're in here, Miss Landon."

"I'll get out of your way Dora." She walked across the patio to the garden, where Rowena was browsing through a 19th century anthology of verse.

This was Thursday. Since the night of the dance Landon had been diligently rehearsing a casual opening for a talk with her grandmother about Kay Ireland. She decided, now, to postpone it no longer.

"Gran," she said as she sat down on the grass "do you know Kay Ireland?"

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW By FAGALY and SHORTEN

However, he had a little blaze of his own—
Thanks to W. Schempp, Donora Fire Co., Donora, Pa.

Bill. All the essentials, and no room for the visiting relatives who overrun us every summer. Let's take it shall we? It's available from June to September. I'm not antisocial. I'm even quite fond of your side of the family—but if you are going to get your Ph.D. you've got to have some privacy for studying."

So in June they had rented the cottage. Bill shut himself into the bedroom every morning after breakfast, turned on the electric fan and dug into his books, emerging only for meals, swims, infrequent and informal campfire parties and an occasional Saturday night at the country club in town.

After lunch one afternoon Judith pulled open the bedroom door a crack and peered in. "I'm going swimming," she said. "Laurie is coming over."

Bill said, "I'll knock off for a swim, too. Steve coming?"
"Steve is in New York, talking with publishers."
Bill shrugged off his shirt. "Let's rustle a bridge game for tonight."
"Who'll we ask?"
"Trace and Kay?"
"Mmmm." She frowned faintly. "Golly, I miss Mag and Eric."
"Eric, then—and someone."
She unhooked his bathing trunks from a nail on the wall and tossed them over to him. "I can't get used to saying, 'and someone for Eric." There's a tinge of disloyalty in it. Involving Maggie, somehow. "The guy can't play bridge without a partner," pointed out Bill. "Get Laurie."

A sense of summer's and was in the air. The colony of tourists was already thinning out. Boathouses and cottages were being boarded up.

Bill was halfway out to the quarter-mile buoy when Laurie Nicholls arrived. She had on a striped terry-cloth beach coat over her swim suit and she said "I'm roasting! Let's swim, then sun, shall we? Where's Bill—stuffed his head with book-learning?"
Judith pointed out to the buoy. "Shall we go out there, too?"
"Are you kidding? Maggie has the row of swimming trophies, not me! Let's just dunk and splash a bit."

Car Dealers Have Huge Number Of Cars To Sell

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor
DETROIT (AP)—If you are not too choosy about the color combination you can get almost instant delivery of any make automobile you like.

New car dealers around the country have huge stocks of cars; their inventories probably are higher than they have been at any time in industry history. Yet, for some undetermined reason, the dealers are not complaining about heavy factory shipments.

They are selling more cars than they did even in the record year of 1950; in most instances they are selling them at discounts ranging up to 20 per cent and more of the suggested list price.

But the cars are coming from the factory in near-record volume.

The dealers complained loudly last year about heavy factory shipments. Numerous state dealer associations adopted resolutions protesting what they termed excessive deliveries from the factory. Right now the dealers have many more new cars than they had at any time last year. Yet they are not complaining very much.

It may be that they expect a strike to reduce factory output before the peak selling season passes. It may be they are counting on easy credit terms to boost retail sales even higher.

It could be, too, that the dealer body has some comforting assurance from the manufacturers regarding the handling of their inventories. However, if any such assurance has been given, it has been a well guarded secret.

How often do you check your million dollar eyes?

If you had two million dollars invested in some machine, you'd have it checked regularly to make sure everything was always okay.

But folks take their million dollar vision for granted, failing to have it checked for the changes which may occur in eyesight in a few months.

Just as you perhaps see your dentist twice a year for dental check-ups, so should you see your eyesight specialist at least once a year for a vision examination.

FATHER DRUETTO OF QUEMOY.—Father Bernard Druetto poses with two youngsters of his flock on Quemo, Chinese Nationalist island five miles off the Red China coast. The bushy-bearded French medical missionary, who has spent 28 years in the Far East, said, "The 40,000 civilians here, like the soldiers, are in good spirits. The people remember that the Chinese Reds tried an invasion in 1949 and lost 15,000 men and 300 boats." (AP Wirephoto via radio from Taipei).

It has been suggested by some industry experts that the manufacturers themselves may have extended longer credit terms to the retailers. The cars standing in some dealer lots represent a lot of tied-up capital.

Certainly the dealers got a big lift from the car makers last year when numerous bonus plans were devised giving the retailers additional commissions or credits for sales volume. These plans did step up sales effort.

The high retail sales volume achieved so far this year has been sustained largely through price concessions. Where the list price is not reduced the trade-in allowance usually is well above actual resale value for the used car. The new car buyer usually does not get both a substantial price cut and a big trade-in allowance.

The explanation for this, of course, is that the dealer still intends to make a profit on each car transaction, even if that profit amounts to only around 5 to 10 per cent on the car and its accessories.

Surveys indicate car buyers still are doing a lot of shopping around before making a down payment on a new car. They find as much as $200 and $300 difference in the prices asked by some dealers for identical model cars.

But they find also, in many instances, that one dealer will match the proffered price of another—as long as some profit still remains in the transaction.

Anyway you look at it, from the car owner's standpoint there never has been a better time than the present to buy a new car.

Atomic Fallout Makes It Tougher

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—It's getting harder and harder to tell the age of a rock. Scientists once use Geiger counters to measure the age of some rocks and fossils by testing their radioactivity. But the readings were thrown off by as much as 10,000 years because of fallout from atomic bomb tests.

Now the scientists burn samples in a closed container. Then they draw off the carbon dioxide gas, purify it and measure the radioactivity of the residue.

"We had to make the change," said Prof. H.R. Crane supervisor of the Phoenix Radiocarbon Dating Laboratory at the University of Michigan. "We've had a light fallout in our area, throwing off our calculations."

Ferrell Murder Trial Is Called Today In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Former person murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. A motion for a new trial has been filed.

Former Alabama Atty. Gen. Si Garrett also is under indictment for the slaying of the crippled ex-state senator who would have become attorney general at the expiration of Garrett's term in January this year.

Patterson won the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a pledge to drive gamblers and gangsters out of Phenix City. He was shot to death outside his law office there last June 18.

He was to have testified before a Jefferson County (Birmingham) Grand Jury which was investigating complaints of vote fraud in the June 1 primary. Patterson was nominated in the primary.

Ferrell, Garrett and Birmingham Atty. Lamar Reid subsequently were indicted on charges of padding the election returns for Patterson's opponent, Lee Porter of Gadsden, in an attempt to change the outcome.

Ferrell was acquitted on the vote fraud charge. Reid pleading nolo contendere (no contest) was fined $500 and sentenced to six months.

Garrett, who is under treatment for a mental disorder in a Galveston, Tex., hospital, hasn't been tried on either count.

Defense attorneys filed a motion for continuance last week, complaining that the 38-year-old ousted public official cannot get a fair trial in Birmingham at this time.

Special Judge J. Russell McElroy heard witnesses for two days but delayed a decision until prospective jurors are questioned on that point today.

One of the former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, has already been convicted of the Pat-

Two Automobile Accidents Over Weekend Listed

A two-car collision at the intersection of Fifth and 10th Streets just east of the Greenville city limits did an estimated $400 damage to the vehicles involved about 2:15 Sunday morning.

The drivers of the cars, Henry Arthur Baker, 42, of Route 2 Greenville and Mavis Mills Parnell, 28, of Grimesland escaped without serious injury. Mrs. Parnell told investigating patrolman James Boykin that she had stopped for a Fifth Street stop sign and was proceeding on when the collision occurred. The investigation is incomplete.

A second county accident, this one occurring at the junction of highways 264 and 43 at 2:45 p.m. yesterday, involved cars operated by Dorothy Lee Whisenant, 23, of Washington and Grover Mills Jr., 17, of Grimesland. Damage was estimated at $500.

Everybody Else

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—Dr. E. M. Maybin saw a second-grader crying during the inoculation program of Salk polio vaccine at Douglas School near here and attempted to comfort him.

Patting him on the head, Dr. Maybin told the boy he was sorry the shot hurt.

"But I'm not crying because I got a shot," said the lad. "I'm crying because everybody but me is getting one."

His parents had refused to give their consent.

Probing Break-In At Country Club

Sheriff's department deputies were investigating a break-in at the Greenville Country Club this morning.

Thieves were believed to have broken into a rear door of the building. A cigarette machine had been broken into but it had not been determined if other merchandise was missing from the building.

Also during the weekend the sheriff's department investigated the theft of a bushel and a half of corn from the farm of Esther McLawhorn on N. C. 11 just outside the city limits.

About 75 Americans go blind each day.

Eleven Arrested And Convicted For Violating N.C. Fish and Game Laws

Pitt County Wildlife Protector J. O. Teel reported 11 arrests and convictions in magistrates' courts of violators of state fishing and game laws during the last month.

For fishing without license, Magistrate Luther Moore of Greenville found Melvin Moore of Farmville and Johnnie Stanley of Ayden guilty and taxed each of them with court costs.

For fishing with illegal devices and possession of fish over the bag limit, Magistrate F. E. Brooks of Greenville fined James Powell of Greenville $25 and costs.

Ayden Magistrate C. G. Moore found Henry Warren and J. W. Bowen of Ayden guilty of fishing with illegal devices and fined each of them $10 and costs.

Magistrate H. T. Savage of Greenville found three defendants guilty of hunting during the closed season and fined each of them $10 and costs. They were: Wilbur Everette, S. T. Everett and Charles Everette of Greenville.

Magistrate C. G. Moore of Ayden found three hunters guilty of hunting during the closed season and fined each of them $10 and costs. They were H. A. Jolly and Alton Smithwick of Ayden and Ruel Jones of Grifton.

Young Drivers To Test Skill In Road-e-o Here Sunday

Some 48 Pitt County teen-agers will demonstrate their driving skill in the Teen-age Road-e-o to be held at the local airport next Sunday afternoon.

The contest is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. Contestants for the driving contest are being selected this week as all high school students who desire to do so take written examinations in the county's high schools. Three winners will be chosen from each of the high schools on the basis of the written exam scores. Those winners are to participate in the Sunday afternoon driving tests.

Winner at the local Road-e-o will be eligible to participate in the State-wide Road-e-o to be held in Winston-Salem and the winner in that event will participate in the national event in Washington, D. C., where three winners will receive college scholarships.

A $25 defense bond will be given as first prize to the winner of the local Road-e-o. In addition, two consolation prizes are to be offered.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on both a local and national level, the Road-e-o attempts to show that the teenager can be the better driver on the nation's highways today because his reflexes are sharper and his eyesight keener.

"With proper training he can be made the safest driver on the highways," James W. Boykin, who is serving as chairman of the local Road-e-o, declared.

Boykin urged all students in the county between the ages of 16 to 19 to participate in the event. He noted that the safety contest has the support of both city and county schools.

Boykin also urged any youths in the 16-19 age group who are not in school to participate in the contest. For those not in high school written tests will be given by the Greenville Jaycees.

Contestants will be called on to perform five maneuvers in the driving tests Sunday afternoon.

In the first test contestants must perform straight line driving both backward and forward. In that test contestants must pass the tires of the vehicle through rubber balls spaced at specified widths without hitting the balls.

The second test calls for passing the vehicle back and forth between barrels which will be set up on the driving course in an exhibition of serpentine driving.

The third section of the contest calls for pinpoint stopping after a run of 150 feet.

Fourth in the series will be parallel parking in a 22-foot space.

Finally the contestants must negotiate an off-set reverse curve. Boykin emphasized the event will not be a contest of speed but of skill and safety. The judges, who will include several local and state safety conscious individuals, will score the contestants on a point system.

Boykin also invited all interested persons to attend as spectators next Sunday. He said no admission is to be charged.

"The contest will be beneficial not only to the contestants but also to the spectators," the chairman declared.

Landed Plane On A Busy Highway

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—How do you land an airplane at night on a busy highway?

"When I saw an opening in the traffic I just put her down," said crop duster pilot W. A. Fowler.

Hopelessly lost in a new four-engine Piper cruiser, Fowler landed last night on a busy trunk highway in the Huntsville suburbs—five blocks from the business district.

Police arrived in time to help him push the plane from the highway.

"I was the most losted guy you ever met in your life," said Fowler, 30, of San Antonio.

He was flying from Knoxville, Tenn., where he got the plane, to San Antonio. He plans to convert it into a duster. After leaving Shreveport, La., his radio went dead.

His next stop was Bryan Air Force Base Tex. When he failed to arrive on schedule the base put out an alert for him.

Two Huntsville policemen spotted Fowler's plane. It was circling town. They decided to turn on the airport runway lights.

But Fowler didn't even know what town he was over, much less where the airport is.

Before the policemen reached the airport, he set his plane down on the north-bound lane of US 76, the main Dallas-Houston highway. We explained:

"I could see the lights of the cars. I knew about where the power lines were. So when I saw an opening in the traffic I just put her down."
