They stand on the issue of economic concessions that has deadlocked the Austrian independence treaty. The Big Four foreign ministers are scheduled to arrive in Vienna before Sunday to sign the pact. They had entrusted to their ambassadors the job of preparing a text so that all they would need to do would be to affix their signatures.

Public Hearings Slated Tonight On Admittance Into City Limits

Residents Of Colonial Heights And South Meadowbrook Areas Will Be Heard

By ALVIN TAYLOR Reflector City Editor Public hearings will be held tonight at the City Council meeting on petitions from residents of the Colonial Heights and S. Meadowbrook areas to enter the city limits.

Petitions from the two areas were received by the Council at their April meeting and the public hearing was set for tonight.

Representatives of the S. Meadowbrook area located on the west side of N. C. 11 in North Greenville pointed out to the Council last month that the Negro section is surrounded by the city at present.

Representatives pointed out that people living in the section must move in groups at night because police protection is not available. They also noted that neither street lighting nor street maintenance is available.

Colonial Heights representatives pointed out that water pumps in the subdivision went dry last summer and said that the same thing could happen this summer. Councilmen were told that water lines come to within 100 feet of the subdivision line and could be extended into the area if it is taken into the city.

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting is the consideration of a new name for East Park Drive. Attorney Harry Brown objected to the name chosen by the Planning Board which was submitted at last month's meeting. The councilmen asked Brown to submit a new name for the street for consideration tonight.

Final action is expected on blanket insurance coverage for the city's buildings. Heretofore, the city has insured each building separately. Under the blanket policies the city will receive greater coverage for litigation.

Colored Pictures Slides Illustrate Book Club Talk

The Chatham Book Club was entertained by Mrs. J. Bryn Brown at her home in Rock Spring Drive Tuesday afternoon. After a dessert course served with coffee and mints, Mrs. Lindsay Wilkerson gave a most interesting talk about the Henry Francis DuPont Winterthur Museum in Winterthur, Delaware. The talk was illustrated with colored picture slides, depicting gracious living.

"Winterthur, built in 1839 by James Antoine Bidermann, was named by its builder for his ancestral home in Winterthur, Switzerland. Bidermann had married the great aunt of Henry Francis DuPont in 1814, and the house has remained in the family since it was built." "In 1927 Mr. DuPont began to build the Winterthur Museum by installing in the family home in their original form parts of houses collected from New Hampshire to North Carolina. Convinced that, as someone once said, 'individuals and actions take their greatest inspirations through the continued remembrance of a glorious past,' he worked with the purpose of showing Americans how Americans really lived, as well as America's rich tradition of craftsmanship in architecture and the household arts. As he collected and built, the Museum remained his residence until 1961."

"The Museum, in about 100 period rooms, covers the domestic scene from 1640 to 1840. In the words of Joseph Downs, its curator, 'In rooms as they originally stood, here are 200 years of domestic architecture, furniture, ceramics, metalwork, textiles, paintings, and prints chosen with the most meticulous regard for their quality and fitness of location, and assembled with impeccable taste. Winterthur represents the largest and richest assemblage of American decorative arts, especially furniture, ever brought together."

This will be sent to her as a gift in Formosa where she is doing mission work.

Mrs. J. B. Stewart began the program by reading a story, written by the Rev. H. I. Humbert, entitled "Remember Lot's Wife." In a tribute to Mother's Day she read a few verses taken from the Book of Proverbs. The chairman closed the meeting with a timely prayer.

The hostess, Mrs. Mitchell Alexander, served a congealed salad with potato chips, club crackers and Coca-Cola to nine members and one new member, Mrs. Ed Biggs.

The regular monthly meeting of the Business Woman's Circle of the Baptist Church met on Monday night with Mrs. A. F. Council. There were fifteen members present.

During the business session, the president, Mrs. Ruth Thomas, presided. Mrs. Reba Harris, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The community missions secretary made her report and other matters were transacted.

The devotion was given by Mrs. T. L. Craft. After reading the scriptures, she made a few remarks and closed them with a prayer.

The program, which was divided into two parts, was entitled "Missions in the City." The first part was given by Mrs. Craft and Mrs. W. E. Andrews gave the last part. The discussion of the program included what could be done for people to try and save them.

The hostess served ice cream, cake, nuts and drinks for refreshments.

City Is Hunting A 3-Legged Cat

They Want To Hold The Strings

Local governments in North Carolina have lost another battle with legislators for a constitutional amendment which would provide more home rule for local government units. In the defeat of the measure on the floor of the House, however, the proposal got farther along than similar proposals in the past. Usually they are killed in committee.

It behooves local government officials and individual citizens of local government units to continue their campaign for more home rule. Obviously members of the legislature are still reluctant to let go the strings they hold over local governing bodies under the present constitutional provisions and the courtesy arrangement which prevails in the General Assembly for passage of local bills.

Clearly the merits of the home rule

Early Thoughts On An October Project

October seems a long way off with the summer sun beginning to beat down on Pitt. It's not too early, however, for local residents to begin planning their entries for next fall's annual Pitt County Agricultural Fair.

Fair officials have announced the premium list for this year's exhibits has been raised to $3,800, an all-time high for the amount of cash given for entries in competition at the fair. Unfortunately there have been years in the past when the total value of the premiums awarded at the fair fell far short of the amount provided simply because creditable exhibits were lacking in many categories. The amount of cash premiums paid by the fair has risen appreciably in recent years because of the increase in number and quality of exhibits entered in the competition.

The increase in the amount of premium money to be offered by the fair for exhibits this year should be an incentive for the people of Pitt to make greater efforts toward having more and better exhibits ready when the fair opens next fall.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
FATE OF THE BRAGGART
Looking back more than a half century, I can recall a series of braggarts with whom I came in contact. Not one of these persons ever made a success in life. The only thing they made was enemies all along the line.

One man in particular was rather able, but as soon as he got a job he began telling his superiors how stupid they were and what was the matter with their administration. He never lasted more than a year or two in any employment. He saw all the faults in other people and never any in himself. He was filled with a false sense of self-confidence.

In order to succeed one has to have self-confidence, but there are ways and ways of having self-confidence, and the person who thinks that he can throw his weight around and tramp under foot at will anyone who disagrees with him is going to find out that he is out of a job and without friends.

All knowledge begins in the capacity for self-criticism. Nothing is so productive of real values in our lives as to be able to stand off and take a good look at ourselves. The old statement about seeing ourselves as others see us has been worked thin and smooth by much use, but it still remains one of life's greatest truths. If we can look, and see, and evaluate, and do something on the basis of what we have learned, we have really started toward success.

The braggart ends up in the trash can every time, and should.

Lobbyists Meet A Stone Wall

WASHINGTON—Although the lobbyists who clutter Capitol Hill corridors and committee rooms are more numerous and more lavishly financed now than for many sessions, they have been singularly unsuccessful in influencing legislation opposed or favored by their clients. It is doubtful if any Congress in modern times has been so free of coercion or persuasion by outside operators.

Significantly, and perhaps unfortunately for President Eisenhower, most of the various lobbies' efforts have been directed against his legislative program, domestic and foreign. Not since the first few months of F.D.R.'s regime, when the crisis of the depression enabled him to defy the "special interests" only temporarily has any Chief Executive stood so firmly against the "pressure boys" at Washington.

FARM-GROUP LOBBYISTS—The most formidable bloc of this kind consists of the farm group, which has been able to maintain high support prices for key crops, although they were supposed to end in 1947. Yet they could obtain a majority of only five votes in the House for their proposal for 90 per cent parity payments.

And they achieved this meaningless triumph only through a coalition with another powerful group. They had the almost solid support of the labor element from the great cities, who voted against the bread-and-butter interests of urban consumers at the behest of Walter P. Reuther, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. In return, the farm members are expected to line up for a $1.25 minimum hourly wage, as against the 90-cent figure.

Despite the farm labor clique's success in the lower chamber, it is unlikely that they can obtain Senate approval of the rigid 90 per cent scheme. As a result, the flexible system, which permits support prices to fall to 82 1/2 per cent, will go into effect next year.

CHIANG ROOTERS—The well-financed "China lobby" has also suffered setbacks on Capitol Hill and at the White House. Its defeats account for the fact that Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland of California and Senator Bridges of New outweigh the disadvantages of the bill with the exception of one fact. The amendment, if passed, would seriously limit a legislator's influence over local governing boards because the local government would no longer have to depend on legislative action for so many things. As long as the General Assembly can keep local government units hamstrung as is now the case, legislators may be sure they will have an appreciable influence when it comes to purely local matters before local governing boards.

Between now and the 1957 General Assembly should make clear the fact they expect the assembly, the people of North Carolina legislature to delegate to local government units greater powers in order that home rule will be more realistic among the local government units of the state.

Recognition Of Project Not Limited To Pitt

The value of the new Civil Defense truck to Pitt County has not only been recognized by local people, but likewise by the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The state Jaycees have named the rescue truck project in Pitt County as the outstanding safety project in which any Junior Chamber of Commerce in North Carolina participated during this year.

Naturally the Greenville Jaycees do not claim full credit for the fact that Pitt County will soon have a new, fully equipped rescue truck in operation. They share credit for the accomplishment with the county government, the several municipalities and individuals whose monetary contributions made the purchase of the truck possible.

Purchase of the truck by Pitt County evidenced the recognition of the need in the county for such a rescue unit. Through collective action of the local governments within the county, an example has been set which will lead other counties and municipalities to acquire similar units for their own use.

THE TAXPAYERS PICK UP THE TAB

(Industrial News Review)
Many people still think of TVA as a great natural resources development, primarily concerned with flood control and soil conservation, in which hydroelectric power production is a valuable but incidental by-product. That was the pretty picture which led to TVA's authorization by Congress in the beginning.

Actually, TVA is primarily a huge producer of socialized electricity, and everything else is strictly incidental. And it isn't just hydro-power either. By the end of this year two-thirds—66.5 per cent—of all the power it generates will come from steam. And it is financed and subsidized, of course, by the people of the whole country.

TVA was supposed to be a yardstick with which to measure the rates charged by power companies generally. As Representative Dondero of the House Public Works Committee has put it, "The TVA yardstick is now about seventeen and three-eighths inches long. The rest is government subsidy and privilege."

In the seven year period 1949-54, the most TVA ever paid the Treasury from power revenues amounted to 14 per cent of its interest-free appropriated funds. In most years it ran around one per cent.

TVA pays no federal taxes whatsoever. It pays comparatively small sums to local government in lieu of taxes. Nowadays those business-managed utilities whose rates it is supposed to measure pay an average of well over 20 per cent of their total revenues in taxes.

Hampshire, the so-called "Members from Formosa," are so critical of the Administration's Far East policy.

The pro-Chiang Kai-shek rooters demand full American reinforcement for the Generalissimo, including assignment of a large military force to his island. They insist on all-out defense of Quemoy and Matsu, even though it might provoke a major conflict. They want no talks with Chinese or Russian Communists.

But Eisenhower disregards their demands, despite prospects of a serious Republican split. He has imposed restraints on both Chiang and Syngman Rhee, South Korean President, in his effort to preserve peace and achieve some sort of "coexistence" with the unruly Reds.

LABOR'S BIG MERGER—The labor lobby's lack of legislative accomplishment is reflected in the plans for a merger of Reuther's CIO and the American Federation of Labor. In union, they expect to be in a more favorable position to influence Congress.

They have given up hope of repealing or modifying the Taft-Hartley Act. They have a negligible chance of fixing the minimum wage of $1.25, even with the promised backing of the farm bloc. They have obtained no White House aid in seeking to block states' adoption of laws permitting a man to work, even though he refuses to join a union.

The high-tariff interests failed in their fight to prevent extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act for three years. This reversal is especially significant because, as in the farm controversy, labor lined up with industrial interests against the measure.

CONGRESS ACTING FOR THE PEOPLE—It has been a barren session for all the other lobbies. The international airlines have suffered heavy cuts in appropriations and subsidies. Petroleum and coal interests have been unable to block imports of foreign oil. Veterans have not scored a major triumph in years. The New Deal survivors, who want an expansion instead of a contraction of Federal activity in every field, are waging a losing rear-guard action.

In short, Congress is operating on the theory that it represents the people, not a log-rolling band of lobbyists.

Paragraphs On Observations

There must have been someone in Greenville who wasn't at the Little League supper last night, but I don't know who it could have been. Never have I seen such a turn-out. Just goes to prove that most people have their minds on eating. If you want to draw a crowd, lead 'em.

Everybody complains about junk mail. But when it comes right down to it, most of us would get very little mail if it were not for it; that is, except bills. In my opinion there are two kinds of junk mail: the kind you don't bother to open and the kind you throw away after a quick glance. What makes me mad is the bargain offers from Time magazine, always marked "For new subscribers only." So I paid my subscription two years in advance and now I'm not eligible to take advantage of the bargain! Nuts!

What Other Editors Are Thinking

INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE

(New Bern Sun-Journal)
Growth with a capital "G" is a fact of life in the United States today. It looms with stunning proportions even in a country that has known nothing else for over a century and a half. The population is increasing, industry expanding. The wide open spaces of one day become the teeming shopping centers the next. In a material way we are living in a breathtaking era. But the other side of the coin is sobering.

Sort Of A Censorship In Bill Banning Crime Comics

By LYNN NISBET

COMICS—The House has sent to the Senate the bill to outlaw the sale of "comic" books which portray on their covers or inside pictures emphasizing sex, the use of narcotics or mayhem. The bill sponsored by Reps. Worthington and Jones of Pitt has the support of the N.C. Federation of Women's Clubs and other organizations concerned with juvenile delinquency.

Before passing it the House adopted clarifying amendments to make sure it did not make a criminal out of a kid who possessed one of the books, but not for sale, and to limit the meaning of the word publications. The House declined to delete "mayhem" from the illegal feature. Rep. Henry Wilson of Union, introducer of all the amendments, said that would outlaw any reference to assault—legal or otherwise, battle pictures, Indian fighters, persons injured in sporting events. It might make it against the law to sell the Dick Tracy and Orphan Annie cartoons.

Casual reference was made to the possible effect upon sale of Bibles, particularly those with illustrations. It was pointed out that few other books have as much sex and mayhem as do many of the chapters in Genesis and the historic books from Samuel through Chronicles.

CENSORSHIP—Rep. Wilson's principal objection, in which a good many but not a majority of his colleagues joined, was that however noble the motive the bill does establish a sort of censorship. He is concerned about who or what agency will exercise the censoring discretion.

There is difficulty in defining "comic" books. Shakespeare's comedies are replete with sex. Although it is not believed any body will attempt to ban them. The letter of the act might justify the ban if some official decided the coverings of characters in "Midsummer Night's Dream" constituted violation of the law.

FLAGS—The Confederate

battle flag flew from the staff on the north end of the Capitol Tuesday—Confederate Memorial Day in North Carolina and several other States. It was not raised until after George Cherry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, went through his usual travail about unusual display of flags on State buildings.

Regularly the United States flag flies from the staff on the south end of the Capitol and the North Carolina State flag on the north end. On most other buildings around the square only the State flag is displayed. When question arises about dipping the flags to half staff in memorial of deceased officials Cherry is the man who must determine whether both U.S. and N.C. shall be dropped down. He usually seeks advice or instructions from the Governor's office.

It has long been the practice to substitute the Confederate flag for the State banner on May 10. Tuesday morning Cherry instructed his aide, the colored man who has raised and lowered the Capitol flags for years, to put up the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy. Believe it or not, the colored man put the Confederate banner on the staff where the U.S. flag belonged.

Cherry quickly caught the mistake and ordered forthwith change. Hours before the Senate and House convened Old Glory was proudly waving from the southern staff as usual, but instead of the State flag on the northern staff was the Confederate banner. On other buildings around the square the North Carolina flag was just as proudly waving as if some folks over in a committee meeting were not just trying to prove that the date of May 20, 1775, at top of the flag did not properly belong there because of doubt about validity of the Mecklenburg De-

Rough For Circuses

By ELMER ROESSNER
With disposable income so high and the youthful population so large, prospect for circuses ought to be just great.

They aren't. There is little danger that circuses will fade away in the foreseeable future. On the other hand, most of them are finding it difficult to make money.

One reason is that circus lots are disappearing. In the few big cities where circuses can play in auditoriums, they do all right. But in other cities the old lots have been subdivided into homesites. In some places, circuses have to go far from the centers of population to get space for the tents that they become inaccessible to many who would like to attend.

Other reasons: To compete with other forms of entertainment circuses have been adding to and improving their equipment.

Costs of transportation have been rising steadily. And the added equipment makes moving even more expensive.

Costs of all other supplies—food for workers and animals, fuel, rope canvas, autos, etc.—are also higher. Circuses are finding it much more difficult to swap a few tickets for a load of sawdust, or other requisites.

Wages of top performers and nonperformers have shot way up. There's a curious paradox here: While circuses have been doing poorly, most of their talent never had it so good. They have never had so many opportunities for extra fees on their time off or during off seasons.

Circus acts are in demand on television, in movies, at trade shows, at conventions, luncheon clubs, shopping centers, farmers' markets, grand openings and innumerable other events. This has enhanced the performers' own opinion of their worth and they have been insisting on higher fees. The competition with television alone has probably added a few percentage points to the top artists' salaries.

Curiously, one of the things that may help circuses a bit is the Salk vaccine. In recent years, many parents have been keeping children away from circuses in fear of polio, which is often at a peak in the circus months. The vaccine may change that.

FIVE LAUNDERING CATEGORIES ADOPTED

A labeling code to end consumer confusion over the laundering and cleaning characteristics of apparel has been adopted, the National Association of Shirt, Pajama and Sportswear Manufacturers has announced.

It has only five terms. They are: "Completely washable," "Fully Washable—do not bleach," "Wash in warm water—do not bleach (up to 120 degrees F.)," "Wash by hand in lukewarm water—do not bleach (105 degrees F. maximum)," and "Dry Clean."

The labeling system will be first used by members of the Association, who hope that it will be adopted by other manufacturers of apparel.

1947 INVESTMENT $9,500;
1954 SALES $14,000,000

Here is another small-business success story: In 1947, two farm boys had an idea. Television antennae would be a lot easier to install if they were preassembled, they thought. So they took $7,000 they had made from crops, borrowed $2,500 more from neighbors, and opened a small factory at Ellenville, N.Y., a town of 4,325.

Radio dealers soon found that the antennae could be put up in a sixth of the time required for the older type. And the first year Joseph and Louis Resnick sold $75,000 worth of antenna.

Faulkner: Student Of Failure

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — He sat there—the man across the lunch-table, small, dark-eyed, polite talking, with a whip in his mind.

The whip is the one with which he lashes mankind and himself for failing to dream as big as people can, and for not attending the dreams they do have. Asked when he was most happy in his life William Faulkner, student of failure and recent Pulitzer prize winner, started off:

"Success comes too easy in this country. There are many ways to make money and they all are successful."

Faulkner may appear to some as the intellectual's Mickey Spillane. But his reverence is for a man like Thomas Wolfe, whom he calls the most magnificent failure of his generation, because "he tried to do more than flesh and blood could do. He tried to reduce the human heart into a paragraph."

"We measure greatness by the distance between the dream and the failure. We all fail. None of us match the dream."

Faulkner, who is a small man with obviously fastidious tastes, grew up with physical and literary behemoths, such as Wolfe and Hemingway.

"In our generation we were all failures. Myself, Dos Passos, Hemingway, Wolfe. Wolfe was the finest failure."

Faulkner, when asked how many books he has written, gives a vague answer. "Somewhere between 18 and 22, probably 20."

When asked how many books he has sold, he says he doesn't know but is going to ask his publisher about those things.

Faulkner is an extremely deliberate craftsman. Among other things, he has delivered the plot lines for 12 movies. The latest is "Land of the Pharaohs," a Warner Brothers picture.

After winning the Nobel prize for literature he was given the Pulitzer award this year for his novel, "A Fable." This rather surprised him, since it was published a year before.

Faulkner is one of the most successful writers in America, has an outspoken antipathy for the bare bones of success.

"I was born to be a tramp. I was happiest when I had nothing. I had a trench coat then with big pockets. It would carry a pair of socks, a condensed Shaker's and a bottle of whisky. Then I was happy and I wanted nothing and I had no responsibility."

I asked him what makes people grow old. He said idleness, boredom. It kills them. They die because they don't have enough to do.

"Doing nothing—sitting down and vegetating—is no good unless you can make it an actual occupation."

"There are people who can do without a job in this world and stay healthy, but they have to be used to it."

Asked what was his greater pleasure in life now Faulkner replied:

"Thinking up an idea for a book before I realize this one really isn't going to be as good as I want it to be, either."

"This time you say I'll catch the answer to the whole riddle—why man is here—put it down in black and white so everyone can see it and understand. Before you can do this, you break the pencil and throw it away."

From the way he talks, you might get the idea his Mississippi farm is strewn with broken pencils—until you take a look at that book list.

Falkland Elementary School Pupils To Give Musical Program Friday

On Friday night in the school auditorium, the Falkland Elementary School will present its final program for the present school year. This will take the form of a Music Festival and will be under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Scott, public school music teacher in the school this year.

The theme for the program will be "Patriotism." "Uncle Sam" will be master of ceremonies, and will crown both Junior and Senior Miss America and Mr. America. Approximately 200 children will take part in the songs, marches and dances presented to dramatize the history of America and to honor its name.

The primary grades will present their rhythm band. Soldiers, sailors and marines will march. Various groups of folk dancers will demonstrate dances brought from the "Old Country," and others originated here. The Boy Scouts will participate. Through it all, the chorus will carry the thread of the story with a musical setting. The program will begin at 8:00 o'clock. Friends and patrons of the school are invited and urged to attend.

Joan Crawford Will Retire If Work Interferes

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Joan Crawford says she will retire from the films if it interferes with her marriage.

She and soft-drink tycoon Alfred Steele, who were wed Tuesday in a Las Vegas elopement, sliced up a double-tiered cake yesterday at her first Hollywood press conference since the surprise event. "Nothing will interfere with my marriage," she told reporters. She nodded toward Steele. "He's the boss."

But Steele quickly added: "If she wants to continue her career, she certainly can." He said Miss Crawford's career will not end "if she's happy with it."

Miss Crawford, 47, a film actress for 30 years, met the press on a set of her latest picture. She said she and Steele, who is 55, will sail from New York May 26 for a European honeymoon, but that she must be back here to start a new film July 1.

Ayden Girl To Be Installed

JEANNETTE WORTHINGTON

Jeannette Worthington of the Ayden chapter of the Future Homemakers of America will be installed as vice president of the North Carolina FHA Association at its annual convention Saturday in Raleigh.

Girls from each of the Pitt County FHA chapters will be present at this meeting, along with representatives from FHA chapters all over the state.

This year will mark the tenth anniversary of the Future Homemakers of America organization. A pageant, written and directed by Clifton Britton of Goldsboro will be one of the highlights of the day's program, and will depict the ten years of FHA activity.

Other highlights of the day will include a fashion review, directed by Kit Mason, director of McCall School Pattern Service; the conferring of state homemaker and state honorary degree awards; and the installation of new officers.

Ballard's X Roads News

The appointment of a committee to plan what part the Ballard's Home Demonstration Club will stress in "The Pitt County Progress Program," individually and on a community basis, was the important event of the May club meeting. Those on the committee are the president, Mrs. J. P. Burnette, Mrs. E. M. Tyson, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. A. C. Turnage, Mrs. James Jones, and Mrs. G. S. Nichols.

The demonstration was given by Mrs. Lillie Little "On the importance of using milk in the preparation of foods"; she prepared and served two main dishes using milk, a meat loaf and cheese strata. Mrs. J. P. Burnette presided and the meeting opened by singing "The United Nations" Hymn. The meeting was closed by repeating the club collect.

Climaxing the study of Germany in the international relationship program was an exhibit table showing articles from Germany at the county program in the Moose hall on May 5. During the refreshment hour cookies made by German recipes were served from the table. Mrs. A. C. Turnage was hostess.

New Developments In Carpet Cleaning

Fina Foam, the amazing carpet cleaner, now is better than ever. Made from an entirely new formula, Fina Foam is now a triple-strength concentrate. You only add water to turn one gallon into three—and the price is only $2.25 for a gallon of concentrate. Another innovation is the long-handled brush to apply the cleaning foam. Just stroke it back and forth like shuffleboard and watch the colors spring out like new, the nap bounces up soft and fluffy.

will deliver the address. Diplomas will be presented to the 28 seniors by the Rev. D.W. Alexander.

Marshals for the events will be the following members of the junior class: Peggy Joyce Whitehurst and Bryan Latham, Chiefs: Durwood White, Jenny L. Whitehurst, Barbara Leggett and Jeane Stewart. The public is invited to all the activities.

Expolorer Scouts Schedule Trip To New Mexico

Warren D. Trumbo, Chaplain at Camp Lejeune, has been named to lead the expedition of Explorers from the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America, as they go to Cimarron, New Mexico, this summer.

The group will participate in a Kit Carson Trek while camping at the Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimarron. The trek is one of the established hiking opportunities at the reservation. Last year's group from East Carolina participated in a southbound expedition while at the ranch.

Chaplain Trumbo, a lieutenant in the United States Navy, has seen service in widely separated areas. He is graduated from Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa. and the United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. He became a part of the Navy Chaplain's Corps in 1951.

Prior to his current tour of duty at Camp Lejeune, Chaplain Trumbo served at the Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md., with the Seabees at Davisville, R.I., Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and a French Moroccan post at Port Lyautey.

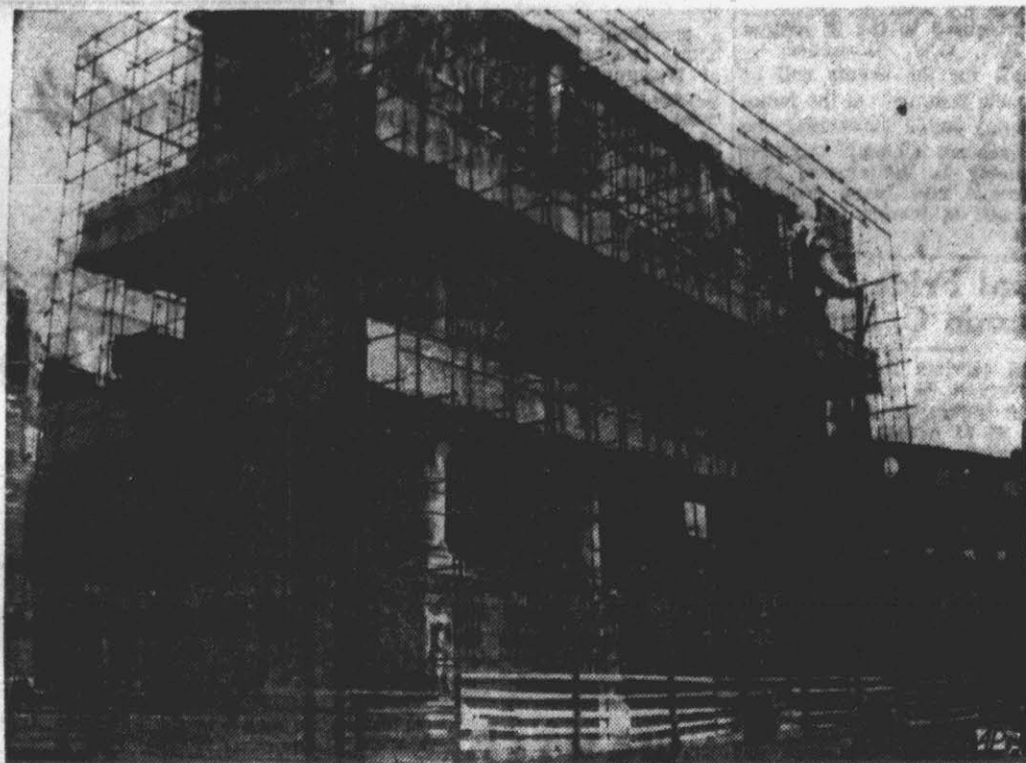

There is room for twenty Explorers on this 1955 Kit Carson Trek. At this writing there are some vacancies remaining. The camping service of the East Carolina Council says that this high adventure experience in the Rockies is one of the best available to our young men.

The group will leave from Camp Charles on June 1 and return on June 28, following a thrill and fun packed 22 days touring and camping throughout the southern half of the United States.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

HOW TO COLLECT DEBTS FROM SERVICEMEN
While servicemen pay bills promptly as a rule, sometimes credit sellers have trouble. When one reneges, here is what a merchant can do, says Consumer Credit Letter:

First, make sure you have the debtor's name, rank, rate and serial number. If you haven't, forget about it.

To locate the man, write to the Post Locator at his last reported post address, asking for his present address. ("No mention is made that information is being sought to collect an account.") If a Navy man is overseas, it may be necessary to write the Adjutant General, U.S. Army (or Air Force), Washington 25 D.C., for his mailing address.

Then write the usual collection letters. If these fail, write to battalion adjutant of the man's outfit, or to his commanding officer. Give all facts, requesting co-operation. The officer will ask the man about it. If the debt is admitted, he will be warned that the armed forces expect members to take care of obligations. If it is disputed, the officer will notify the creditor that demand for payment will have to wait until the matter can be brought before a civil court.

Shepherd Will Be A Cowboy

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — The Rev. Theodore A. Tuenge, will serve as a shipboard cowboy for the Christian Rural Overseas Program of farm aid to Europe. He will take a cargo of 70 heifers to Germany. Tuenge's congregation of 900 gave him a two-month leave for the trip, and his church joined in a statewide drive in support of the heifer project. The herd he cares for will be known as the "Wolverine Shipment."

Camera News

COOKING UP family pictures is another job that mother can take over with her own camera.

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Mothers' Day is a natural opportunity to encourage the rising trend toward women's greater participation in photography by making the gift of the day... a camera! The women themselves can help to dispel and correct the old notions that: (a) all cameras are too complicated, (b) picture taking is too intricate, and (c) that both belong in the exclusive sphere of men.

Photography, actually, should be far less difficult to master than cooking. In that field, of course, the average woman moves with confidence as a daily routine. Yet they both deal with time and temperance and with ingredients which call for some preliminary preparations.

The average cooking range has its knobs levers and adjustments just as the ordinary camera has. There are also modern electric ranges which have more buttons, gadgets and controls than a high powered camera yet women tackle and master them as a matter of course.

graphy because they have never taken the time to try to understand the fundamentals. Or they are not finicky about certain elemental details like holding a camera steady. However, if they're cooking a new dish for the first time, they'll read and follow all the directions in the recipe, measure the ingredients precisely and follow the clock and thermometer as called for.

Perhaps if photography were introduced to women in the most elemental terms they might understand and take to it more kindly. Something like this:

In photography, light is the all-important factor. We need a measured amount to make a picture on a negative. The amount of light in a camera is governed by: (1) the size of the opening through which it passes (called lens opening or f stop). (2) The amount of time it is open (shutter speed).

This light goes through a lens, passes through a light-tight box and is focussed on a negative leaving an image. In actual practice, this is accomplished for the greatest number of inexperienced photographers, or beginners, by a combination of standards on a box-type camera which has few, if any, adjustments:

The standard for light is sunshine. The standard shutter speed is a snapshot exposure which is 1-30th of a second. This will stop most ordinary action.

The standard shutter opening is equal to about an f 11 on cameras with lens markings. It has a fixed focus in which everything is sharp from about eight feet to infinity.

The camera is usually used with a slow-type film. As long as this combination is used, acceptable pictures will result if: the camera isn't moved during shooting; if it is aimed correctly, if an obstruction (like a thumb) isn't in front of the lens if the film is turned after each shot and if the subject matter is worthwhile.

After a while, it becomes apparent to beginners, and it should to women, that there are limitations to this type of photography. Sunshine isn't always available or we want to take pictures in the shade or in the rain or indoors.

We can obtain the minimum amount of measured light we need by using more sensitive (called "faster") films or more sensitive ("faster") lenses. Or we can add our own sunshine in the form of flashbulbs which are timed to go off when the shutter is open. Pictures can be taken anywhere at any time. Better cameras give us more controls to regulate the ingredients for each picture so it is cooked just right. And when more women follow the recipes in photography as they do in cooking the picture results are likely to be in equally good taste and with universally wide appeal.

DEATH OF TOMMY JENKINS SADDENS CAMPUS

Unless you were among the several hundred persons on hand for yesterday's game between East Carolina and Guilford, it would be impossible to imagine the pall of silence that fell over the crowd when the announcement was made of the death of Tommy Jenkins, ECC student and athlete.

The gloom that descended over the local park defies description. The fans, mostly college students, turned to each other with "Oh, no!" unuttered and dry in their throats. With heads bowed, students prayed silently, the remembrance of Tommy vivid in their minds.

It was hard to believe that a fellow with Tommy's life and spark could be gone. "It doesn't seem right," said one student with moist eyes. "He was always such a friendly guy; he wanted to be everybody's pal."

That's how it went throughout the game. The fans kept saying it over and over, some to themselves, some aloud: "Tommy's dead." It was a fact that Tommy had lost his four week's battle with death, but people didn't want to accept it.

Word reached the campus early this morning that Tommy died last night at 7:55 in Chapel Hill Memorial Hospital from head injuries received when he was hit by an automobile the Friday before Easter. He never regained consciousness.

Doctors at the hospital had given Tommy a 50-50 chance to live but feared if he did he would not be normal. They said he suffered bruises of the brain and other internal injuries. Operations failed to bring him out of the coma and Tommy died without ever knowing what happened.

The accident occurred en route to Greensboro. Tommy's home several students from around Greensboro were traveling home with Tommy for the Easter holidays. Just this side of Burlington, Tommy complained of sleepiness and asked Ray Pennington to drive the rest of the way.

Tommy pulled over beside the road and jumped out on the driver's side. He stepped right into the path of a car coming from the opposite direction. The car had picked up speed to pass another motorist and the impact hurled Tommy some 20 feet from the contact point.

When his companions reached him he was unconscious. He was hurried to the hospital where he had been in a critical state until last night.

Tommy was a member of the freshman basketball squad and was considered a good varsity prospect. He was also the starting leftfielder for East Carolina's baseball team and was regarded as one of Coach Jim Mallory's top freshmen.

Although a freshman, he had made many friends at East Carolina. He was a peppy fellow and real likable. Being good-natured, he was always the victim of friendly jockey—a good sign that you've made a big hit with students.

The funeral was to be held this morning at 11:00. Dr. Clinton Fretwell and Mr. James Butler represented the administration and numerous students attended to pay their final respects to a friend who's gone but not forgotten!

Greenies Top Rocky Mount, 11-7

ROCKY MOUNT — Greenville dealt another blow to Rocky Mount's bid for first place in the Coastal Plain League race by handing the locals a 11 to 7 licking here last night.

The win was No. 4 for the Greenies against three losses and shot them in first place of the league.

Manager Junior Yohn's charges blasted out 15 hits off Rocky Mount's Paul Gay while James Pollard and Bobbin Coggins were scattering 10 RM bingles. The win was the second one for Pollard, a former professional pitcher.

The Greenies exploded for nine runs in two innings midway the game. They recorded three scores in the fifth and six in the sixth to coast the rest of the way.

Les Coggins got the ball rolling in the fifth by singling. He rode home on Blaise Moyer's bingle. Mat Hall, Greene shortstop, powered a pitch through the box and he and Moyer trotted across on Tom Boyd's mighty three-base blast into right-center.

In the merry-go-round sixth, four hits and three bases on balls accounted for the runs. The Greenies batted around with Pete Carraway and Johnny Foell, both of whom walked, to open the inning hitting twice. The biggest blow in the spurt was pitcher Pollard's two-bagger that produced for two runs.

Rocky Mount's biggest inning was also the sixth. The locals picked up four runs on four straight base hits. Rightfielder Rose singled to start the inning and leftfielder Davis followed suit by singling. After Pollard got Cooke, the third baseman, on strikes, pitcher Gay was safe on an error. Centerfielder Davis hit a sharp grounder to Boyd at second and the latter errored, allowing Rose to score. The other three runs scored on hits by Mickle and Denson.

The leading timberman for Greenville were Polard and McLawhorn with three and four hits respectively. Pollard's bingles included a double and McLawhorn's a triple. Mat Hall had three hits and Les Coggins had two hits apiece. Boyd also smacked a three-bagger.

Ross, Davis and Cooke were the leading batsmen for Rocky Mount, with two hits each. Included among Cooke's was a long double in the seventh.

Greenville's next home game is on Sunday with strong New Bern. The game will be played in Guy Smith Stadium, starting at 3 p.m.

Phantom Track Team Goes Into District Meet Friday

New Bern Bows To Farmville By Margin Of 6-5

FARMVILLE—New Bern bit the dust last night at the hands of Farmville, 6-5, in a Coastal Plain League game. The loss knocked New Bern off the top rung in the league and Greenville took over.

Fred Pittman, a big righthander, pitched Farmville to its fourth win against four losses. The hardthrowing Pittman struck out 15 New Bern batsmen and walked only four. It was by far his best effort of the season.

Barry Jones was the leading hitter for the winners. He collected three safeties in four official trips to the plate. Henderson led the New Bern hitting with three hits in five at bats.

Farmville jumped off to an early lead by scoring twice in the opening stanza. New Bern tied the game up in the top half of the third but Farmville added another in its half of the same frame. The visitors fought back and the game was all knotted 5-5 at the end of the regulation nine innings.

New Bern failed to tally in the top half of the inning and its pitcher Derda walked three men in the bottom of the inning and the winning run scored on an infield error.

Farmville's next home game is with Williamson Saturday night. Score by innings: New Bern 000 201 110 0-5 7 4 Farmville 200 102 000 1-6 9 2 Derda and Henderson; Pittman and Britt.

Greenville's track Phantoms will be meeting their roughest competition of the season tomorrow afternoon at Raleigh when they face eight other hopeful teams in the Eastern District Meet.

The District Meet is an all-day affair and is used as an elimination for the State Meet at Chapel Hill on May 20. The three districts in the state have their meet tomorrow and only the top four individuals in each event will be eligible to enter the State Meet. This new method of elimination was improvised because the State Meet was getting too crowded to handle in one day. In the past any team could enter as many entrants as it wished in the State Meet.

Three Favored The big three of the east will be favored in the meet. Durham, a perennial state champion; Raleigh, one of the most improved teams in the state; and Greenville will be the favorites for the meet. Durham has either been champion or runner-up for the past eight years in the State Meet. Raleigh has been gradually improving over the last three years and has its most well-rounded team this season. Greenville has its best potential team it has ever had.

Other teams entered in the meet are Chapel Hill, Goldsboro, Henderson, Lowe's Grove, Fayetteville, and Lumberton.

All-Day Affair The trials for the meet in the dashes and field events will begin in the morning. The finals in all events will come off tomorrow afternoon. After all the events are over the individuals that place in the top four will be rewarded with ribbons and the team trophy will be given.

Favorites have already been established in many events. Jack Wilson, Raleigh's sophomore phenom, has the 100 and 440 titles almost in his hip pocket. James Speight is hoping to give him the roughest competition in both events. Speight is capable of winning both. Durham's state champion broad jumper, Ed Brawley, is expected to have his hands full of Speight and several other jumpers. Speight tied Brawley in Greenville several weeks ago. Harold Edwards is top favorite in the high jump as no one can come close to his 6' 1 3/4" jump.

Wayne Bishop of Greenville is the top favorite in the mile along with Durham's Jim Norton. Bobby Foxworth of Raleigh may run the mile and will be a contender if he does. Foxworth will probably enter the half-mile, where he is the favorite behind Goldsboro's sensational distance runner, Edwin Wilkison and Jimmy Kelley are the Phantom half-mile hopes.

Larry Powell will have to carry the G-men in the discus and shot put. Powell has thrown the shot at 46 feet this year and is hoping for a top performance in that event. Powell also hopes to place with the disc. Bob Shackelford is the favorite in the pole vault. Mitchell Johnson and Charles Hollingsworth are the Phantom entries in the hurdles.

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Rows include Guilford, Cashlon, Atkins, Buckner, Schmidt, Jarrett, Trafford, West, Henric, Slaughter, Totals, ECC, Stewart, Heath, G. Clute, Smothers, Turner, Pennington, Reep, Cherry, Totals, Score by innings.

The game shaped up right at the outset as a pitchers' battle. Buckner retired the first three men to face him before Smothers got a hit. The Guilford chunker at the next five down in order. Cherry had a no-hitter for five and one-third innings. After the Quakers collected their two hits, he sat the next 10 men down in order.

Infield play was sparkling by both sides. Stewart made a fine one-handed stab of a high-bouncer in the fifth inning that stirred the crowd. Guilford pulled the game's only double play. Cashlon West and Bill Atkins pulled the twin-killing in the second stanza.

The contest ended East Carolina's home schedule. Three games in main away from home. The two tonight in Wilson and the Wake Forest tilt in Rocky Mount on Friday night.

Centerfielder Gene Turner made the fielding gem of the day. Racing in hard on West's dropping liner, Turner dipped at the last moment and snagged the ball inches from the ground. The play brought the crowd to its feet and he received a nice hand.

Mac Cherry, Robersonville righthander, spun a brilliant 2-inning here yesterday against Guilford as East Carolina's Pirates swept to their 12th North State Conference victory.

The win moved the locals closer to the Eastern flag which they can capture by defeating Atlantic Christian in two games tonight in Wilson. Defending champion Elon tails the Pirates by one game.

In posting his fifth win against one loss, Cherry struck out eight men and walked four. The visiting Quakers were held harmless until the sixth inning when they collected both bingles.

Catcher Dermot Jarrett and second baseman Bill West hit sharp singles.

East Carolina pushed one run across in the fourth frame and one in the fifth Cecil Heath scored the first run, tallying on Nick Smothers' soft grounder to the first baseman. Heath got on base on an error by the shortstop, Fullem Cashion. The Pirates' second score was made by rightfielder Ray Pennington who beat out an infield hit, stole second and came home on Bucky Reep's sharp single.

Reep, a Morganton freshman, was the hitting star for the winner. The stocky third baseman hammered out two singles in three trips to the

GHS Net Squad Plays 3-3 Draw

Greenville's tennis team, playing without their usual number one player, ran into an improved Washington team yesterday and emerged at a 3-3 draw with the Pam-Pack.

Seminar On Intergroup Relations Is Scheduled

East Carolina College will offer as part of its 1955 summer school program a two-week seminar on intergroup relations. The first such course of study to be presented as a summer workshop, Dr. John B. Bennett, director of religious activities at the college, will act as coordinator. The course of study is scheduled for June 6-18 and will be given on both a credit and a non-credit basis.

The seminar is designed to meet the needs of public school, practical school, and college teachers and other community leaders, including ministers, social workers, recreational personnel, and law enforcement officers. It will be offered in cooperation with the North Carolina Office of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Dr. Gordon W. Lovejoy, visiting professor of sociology at Guilford and Greensboro colleges and educational consultant for the National Council of Christians and Jews, will act as director of the seminar. George E. Thielman, assistant professor of political science at Guilford, will be assistant director.

The program of the seminar says Dr. Bennett has a two-fold purpose. It will, he states, focus attention on the types of intergroup relationships which develop among groups differing in religious, ethnic, or cultural backgrounds and to techniques and methods of improving group relationships.

"The seminar," he explains, "is oriented toward the South's problems and needs. Thorough studies of the Southeast have made available a wealth of information for study and discussion. Materials and methods in intergroup relations already developed will be analyzed and the perfection of new techniques considered."

The program to be followed in the course includes a three-hour meeting each morning Monday through Friday, individual or small group conferences in the afternoon and evening, study and research in the college library, and visits to agencies working in the field of intergroup relations.

Those enrolling as members of the seminar may receive three hours of college credit or may take the course on a non-credit basis. Housing and meals will be available on the college campus.

Daylight saving time is used not only in the United States but in such diverse communities as Newfoundland and British Borneo.

PORTRAIT OF HARVEY, six foot rabbit, and his friend Elwood P. Dowd gets a laugh from Dr. Joseph A. Withey and Francis Lee Neel, professors at East Carolina College. Mr. Neel painted the portrait. The popular comedy will have an all-faculty cast from East Carolina.

The committee has 50 members, and the vote was 4-4 for an unfavorable report. The tie was broken by Co-chairman Bruce Etheridge for a favorable report. Counted in that vote, however, was Rep. MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Eight members of the Mexican family from Fresno, Calif., were killed yesterday when their car hurtled into a canal near here. They were returning home from a Mother's Day visit in Mexico.

BSU Center To Have Addition

The East Carolina College Baptist Student Union announced this week that work on an addition to the room used for vesper services and forums at the Baptist Student Center on East Eighth Street will begin soon. The contract for construction work has been let to the West Building Company of Greenville.

The addition will enable the organization to accommodate audiences up to 125 at programs and activities. This year's attendance has exceeded accommodations, according to Shirley Lassiter of Four Oaks, who has served as forum chairman of the BSU during the 1954-1955 term.

"The construction and furnishing of this assembly room is being financed by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, Baptists of the Memorial and the Immanuel churches in Greenville, and various groups and individuals in eastern North Carolina, especially in the Roanoke Baptist Association," says Gloria H. Blanton, director of the Baptist Student Union.

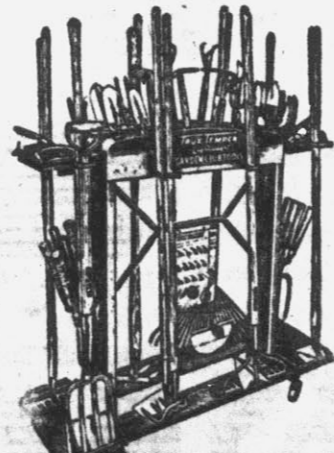

Heating of the addition to the Baptist Student Center will be provided by the Aman Plumbing Company and electrical work by the Smith Electric Company, both of Greenville. Students will paint the interior and the exterior and help with various other phases of the project.

500,000 Americans To Swarm Across Europe

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—More than half a million Americans will swarm over Europe this year in search of culture or fun.
 Other thousands will go to Latin America and the Far East.
 It looks like the biggest travel year ever.
 Heavy bookings are reported by the transatlantic steamship lines. Every airline flying the Atlantic predicts this year's travel totals will top last year by at least 1 per cent. Many lines are adding new equipment for the peak summer season.
 American spending for transportation, travel and various services will be 2 million dollars higher this year, the National Foreign Trade Council predicts, bringing the total spending by Americans traveling outside the United States to nearly three billion dollars.

The American Express Co. expects a record-breaking year on the basis of a survey of 25 principal tourist centers in Europe. The cities were expecting from 3 to 33 per cent more American visitors than last year.

Hotel reservations for April and May were up 1 to 25 per cent in 15 cities, and all reported summer bookings running 1 to 3 per cent ahead of a year ago.

The American Automobile Assn. predicts 80,000 American vacationists will drive through a part of Europe this summer.
 There will be 65 surface ships in regular Atlantic service at the peak of the tourist season, and shipping companies say they may call upon some 'austerity vessels' to handle the overflow of tourists. For the entire year the shipping companies expect to carry one million passengers—not all tourists, of course—across the Atlantic in one direction or the other.

Twenty airlines fly the Atlantic regularly. Last year they carried 486,000 across the Atlantic to and from the United States, two-thirds of them tourist class.

This summer Pan American will increase its flight frequency by 38 per cent through new equipment. Its average weekly seating capacity will be 2,650 at the peak, compared with 1,100 last month.

Trans World Airlines now has 78 weekly flights across the Atlantic and says it will increase that to 92 flights this summer, with a seating capacity of 2,500 each way.

Parliament Sees Women Getting A Larger Role

LONDON (AP)—The British House of Commons was all male until 36 years ago, when Lady Nancy Astor took a seat.

Virginia-born Lady Astor showed the way to women with a political bee in their bonnets. There were 21 women among the 625 members in the House of Commons just dissolved.

More than 90 women are running for seats in the May 26 election of a new House. Perhaps 30 of them look like winners.

Among the current members are the Labor party's two leading ladies—"Batling Bessie" Braddock, 55, a 250-pound political foe of communism and Laborite left-wingers, and Dr. Edith Summerskill, 54.

On the Conservative side, the most vocal are red-haired Patricia Hornsby-Smith, 41, a junior minister with the reputation of being a snappy dresser, and 66-year-old Dame Florence Horsburgh, who would pass for anybody's auntie.

Hardly a week passes without some of the Westminster lassies getting their names in print.

Last month Laborite Jennie Lee, 51, hit front pages with the opinion that Secretary of State Dulles' diplomacy "has all the delicacy of an elephant treading on eggs."
 Miss Lee once delighted her constituents by disclosing she had a special pair of woolen bloomers for speaking from drafty platforms. She is the wife of Aneurin Bevan, and far to the left as he.

Mrs. Braddock has cornered her share of headlines too with two major libel actions—she lost them both—and a suspension from the House of Commons for talking back to the speaker.
 Dr. Summerskill frequently attacks boxing and boxers. She calls them morons and says they should get their brains tested before they get them beaten out.
 She is chairman of the labor party and comments:
 "On the only two occasions when the Labor party has been returned to power with a clear majority, a woman has been in the chair. I hope this year to make it a hat-trick (three in a row)."
 Ellen Wilkinson was chairman of the party when it swept into office after World War II. Alice Bacon was chairman during the 1950 election.
 Miss Hornsby-Smith, a vivacious redhead and just a little plump, still looks just out of the teen-ager stage. Winston Churchill named her parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Health in 1951.

Meet the successor to the C.O.E.

New L.C.F. (Low Cab Forward) Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Powered by the most modern V8 in any truck...
Chevrolet's new Taskmaster V8 engine!

Chevrolet's great new L.C.F. models bring you all the advantages of a C.O.E.—plus a long list of important new advances you won't find anywhere else.

For example, the cab is a full seven inches lower than former C.O.E. models. And it has only two steps instead of the usual three for C.O.E.'s. Just think of the time and effort this will save the driver! Also, the low L.C.F. is handsomer by far than any C.O.E. ever built!

Inside, the L.C.F.'s new Flight-Ride cab has a level floor with plenty of "stretch-out" leg room and offers new driver comfort. The driver has a commanding view of the road—both far ahead and close up front—through the big, broad panoramic windshield.

Quicker, simpler maintenance is another big advantage offered by the new L.C.F. Everything's easier to reach in the roomy engine compartment.

In an L.C.F. you still get the easy maneuverability of a C.O.E. plus—new frames, new suspension, a whole truck-load of modern features!

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
Landon waited until the Boss went in, and then she carried her bags out to the taxi, got in. Once she looked back at the house, I wonder if I shall ever be able to come back? A sting of tears closed her eyes. She pressed her fingertips hard against her lids. In one way or another, since coming home, she had hurt everyone she loved most in the world. And Scott. She had hurt Scott, too. Tomorrow, when her note and the ring and the pearls were delivered to him, he would be hurt again. Or maybe this time he would be angry and injured, and relieved at being rid of her. She wished she could believe that, but she couldn't, knowing Scott. Scott loved her. The thought was oddly comforting. It made her feel not quite so lonely and lost.

As dawn came thinning out the sky, Scott Wylie looked out the plane window. They were gliding downward, low over New York for a landing.
Last night, around 10, Rowena Hatch had called him.
"Scott," she had said, "I am worried. Landon is gone."
"Gone?" he echoed blankly.
"Dora Hendrix is here. She wakened me. She thought it queer. Landon calling her in a panic, and her luggage piled on the porch, and going off in a taxi. What do you make of it, Scott?"
"So she has run away, he thought. No real solution, but the usual one when things coil around you in an endless rope and life becomes unbearable. He said, "Eric is at Breck, is he?"
"Yes." A pause. "I don't know how to tell you this, Scott. Or whether I should. Landon is unhappy. She is terribly unhappy."
"Yes," he said. "I know."
"I thought you would be the one to find her—and bring her back. It's best. Really it is best. Tell her I said that, will you—if she'll come back, Scott?"
"I'll bring her back," he promised.
He hung up, dialed the railway station. Next to the medics and the ministers, the station agent knew as much about everyone in town as anyone. Yes, he informed Scott. He knew Miss McGrae. Yes, she took the night train to New York.
"What time is it due in?"

Only Berlin Now Being Occupied By 1945 Victors

By TOM REEDY
BERLIN (AP)—Berlin, a city of many "firsts" in its nine centuries of history, now racks up a new "last." It is the last big piece of German territory to be thoroughly occupied by the conquerors of 1945.
West Germany's 50 million gained sovereignty four days ago. Communist East Germany proclaimed a limited sovereignty for its 18 million in March 1954.
Only Berlin's 2,200,000 in the West sectors and one million in the Soviet area are "occupied" and they will continue to be until some formula is found for unifying the nation.
The patient Berliner regards himself as the middle span of the German bridge. He figures that at the right time the project will be completed and he will again bear the weight of Germany's destiny. Until then, as the West Berlin editorial pages pointed out, it is "discreet," "proper" and "wise" to be occupied. One independent newspaper which is often quick to find something wrong with occupation commented:
"The security of Berlin is an Allied matter and it is only proper that the Allies hold themselves responsible for it."
The divided and surrounded city knows that without the Western symbol of protection it could soon be gobbled up by the Soviet zone Reds.
Nevertheless, West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr said in Hamburg last week that West Berlin is an "essential part" of the Federal Republic and should be governed by it rather than by the Allies.
The Americans, British and French have relaxed many occupation controls over the years. And they told City Hall they are ready to consider some more relaxation. But, the West makes clear, they must retain occupation rights and have the final decisions on security, international relations and above all, any dealings with the Russians.
Although only 2 per cent of U.S. farms were electrified in 1920, more than 90 per cent have electricity today.

IT'S ALL BUICK

for only $2343.⁸⁸ delivered locally!

YOU certainly can throw out your chest and call this strapping big Buick yours. Because—as any comparison shows—the dollar difference between this brawny beauty and the well-known smaller cars is now virtually erased. So if you've been holding back, thinking a Buick was out of reach—let yourself go. You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car—and the price we show here proves it.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That's a major reason for the phenomenal success of Buick today. So much so, that production and sales are hitting new peaks to move Buick more firmly into the tight circle of America's best sellers. And a companion reason for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of cars to give you a choice in any price class—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But pure and simple, it's all the automobile you get for your money that's winning so many new owners to Buick.

It's the extra pride you feel, the extra room you enjoy, the extra comfort you get, the extra safety you sense—from Buick styling, Buick size, Buick ride-engineering, Buick solidity of structure.

3-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargain priced, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

It's the extra lift and snap and ginger you get from Buick high-compression V8 power—and the fun and thrill of bossing such eager might.

As we said—if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—even with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo at modest extra cost.

So why settle for anything less than a Buick? Drop in on us, take the wheel, press that pedal, and see for yourself what a whale of an automobile—and a whale of a buy—today's Buick really is.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

DID YOU KNOW—

- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Independent Movie Producers Carrying Ball For Big Studios

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—The trend in the movie industry continues away from big studio operations and toward more independent production. Exhibitors have been walling about not having enough new pictures to keep their theaters booked. The big studios have drastically cut production because run-of-the-mill pictures no longer pay off. Only the special attractions make money. It's up to the independents to fill in the gap, and they are thriving as never before. United Artists, which finances and releases films for independents, plans to put out 45 pictures this year, compared to an average of 30 for the majors. And now all of the major companies are releasing films for independents. How does an independent operate? Take the case of Robert Aldrich, who is now producing and directing "The Big Knife" with a cast that would give credit to any studio: Jack Palance, Ida Lupino, Shelley Winters, Wendell Corey, Rod Steiger, Jean Hagen, Ilka Chase and Everett Sloane. The project started five years ago, when Aldrich was a successful movie production manager (he handles all the business details). Having worked on a number of John Garfield pictures, he was in New York when the late act starred in Clifford Odets' play "The Big Knife." It was the story of a male star's temptations in Hollywood. The play was a flop, but Aldrich saw film possibilities. Aldrich wanted to direct in films. "But though I was one of the most successful production managers in the business, I couldn't direct traffic," said the pudgy, affable Aldrich. It took him a few years to remedy that. He started directing with a couple of small films, then jumped to "Apache" and "Vera Cruz" for Burt Lancaster. After producing and directing a Mickey Spillane film, he decided it was time to sharpen up "The Big Knife." For $10,000 plus a percentage of the profits, he acquired the story rights from Odets and lined up the cast. The budget came to $425,000 of which $263,000 was for the cast. This is amazingly low, considering the size of the cast. A similar project on a major lot would probably run a million and a half dollars. Within three days of getting the green light from the backers, Aldrich was in production. He shaved costs by using an ancient but adequate studio near downtown Los Angeles. He hopes to complete the film in 15 days, barring temperament—"that's one thing you can't budget."

Found His Home In A County Jail

DENVER (AP)—A 60-year-old cabinetmaker, has been instrumental in establishing a branch of the city library in jail. William M. Zenker has been in jail since Feb. 24, 1954, for contempt of court. He was sentenced to an indefinite term for refusing to divulge where he buried $10,000 the court claims belongs to his ex-wife and which he says should go to a daughter he hasn't seen for years and can't locate. When he went to jail, Zenker immediately devoted himself to taking care of the few paper-back books available. When his own case was publicized, he managed to direct attention to the lack of reading material in the county institution. With his urging, the county jail officially became a branch of the Denver Public Library. Warden Gordon Dolliver says the arrangement makes 500 books available to the inmates. With the establishment of the library, Zenker—who can get out of jail any time he tells where the money is—has been named official librarian and Dolliver reports: "He's so pleased with his new assignment and responsibilities, I doubt now whether he will ever tell where he buried the dough—he likes it here."

SCOUT DEMONSTRATION
CHAITANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—No rain was forecast for the annual Cherokee Area Council Boy Scout Exposition, but it came down in "buckets" shortly after a Talladega Ala. troop did an Indian rain dance.

Costly Victory Over Starlings
LONDON, Ky. (AP)—It was a costly victory W.S. Carpenter scored over starlings. His double-barreled shotgun went off prematurely as he closed the breach while preparing to fire from an upstairs bathroom window. The charge made a sieve of the plumbing, water leaked through to the living room below, and his wife was scared nearly out of her wits in the belief he had been shot. Carpenter figured the scare he threw into the starlings cost him several hundred dollars.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — Accelerated selling pushed share prices down sharply in the stock market today.

Some issues lost more than 4 points, but a few shares resisted the selling. For a time in late morning, the ticker tape fell behind in reporting transactions.

Prices were down at the opening and business in the first hour was the most active of the week. Volume for the day promised to top three million shares. That compares with 2,120,000 shares traded yesterday.

Catching the brunt of the selling were the steels, motors, aircrafts, railroads, and oils. Plus signs were found in mail orders, distillers, radio-televisions, and airlines.

Lower stocks included Baltimore & Ohio U.S. Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Anaconda Copper, Phillips Petroleum, Boeing, General Dynamics, RCA, Union Carbide, and Eastern Air Lines.

Higher were Sears Roebuck, Distillers Corp., American Tobacco, Reo Holding Co. United Air Lines, and Zenith Radio.

A block of 10,000 shares of Hill-ton Hotels traded up 1/4 at 44 1/2.

Eisenhower Said Keeping Even Friends In Dark

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is said to be keeping even his close friends in the dark about his plans for 1958.

Recent White House visitors were said authoritatively to have been instructed by the President's aides not to bring up the subject of 1958. Those instructions have gone to some who are regarded as among his closest political associates.

Roy Roberts, editor of the Kansas City Star, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) added yesterday to what appears to be an undercurrent of apprehension among many party members with predictions that the President may retire at the end of his term.

Roberts, long-time Eisenhower booster who visited Washington over the weekend, wrote in the Star that the controlling factor in the President's decision may be "the condition, not so much of the nation and party, but of the world next summer and spring."

Roberts said he had no information from the White House but was writing his view on the way the President's mind operates. Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said there would be no comment.

Mrs. Smith said she has gained the impression Eisenhower "prefers to retire after 1956." Asked about it, the President told his news conference he got "the slightest idea where she got that impression." But he gave no sign that he would run.

On the other side of this guessing game, Atty. Gen. Brownell replied "Oh, I think so" when asked by newsmen in Des Moines yesterday whether he thinks Eisenhower will run again. He added, however, that only one person could actually answer—the President himself.

Steelworkers Prepare Fight For Wage Boost

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers mapped strategy today for a fight to secure a "substantial wage increase" in unprecedented simultaneous negotiations with six major steel producers.

The union's 170-member Wage Policy Committee approved the "substantial" boost demand of USW President David J. McDonald yesterday. McDonald declined to reveal the exact amount. Steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour.

The union has some 600,000 members in basic steel plants, and as many more in steel fabricating firms.

For the first time, talks will be held with six major steel firms concurrently. Bargaining with U.S. Steel Corp. is scheduled to begin June 7. McDonald said five other companies will start negotiations in Pittsburgh immediately afterward.

Until now, talks with the other big companies were kept on a standby basis while the USW negotiated with U.S. Steel. The settlement with Big Steel usually sets the pace for the other producers.

This year, talks will be held with Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Inland Steel Co. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., in addition to U.S. Steel.

There was no comment from the companies.

McDonald said the simultaneous bargaining sessions were arranged at his request.

A two-year contract with the steel companies, signed last year, permits reopening of discussions on hourly wages only this year. If no agreement is reached by June 30, the union will be free to strike.

McDonald said he hopes to conclude talks with the six major producers "well in advance" of the deadline.

Observers feel the union will settle for about a 12 1/2-cent-an-hour hike and that there will be no strike.

Talks with steel fabricators will follow those with the makers of basic steel.

Hard Bargaining If Meeting Held

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may find himself involved in harder bargaining than he seems to expect if and when he sits down with Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin at Big Four talks.

Bulganin may well press a whole set of basic demands outlined in a new program for disarmament and ending the cold war which Moscow made public Tuesday night.

A word of caution against approaching any heads-of-state talks with "a defeatist attitude" came today from Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. George, who had urged such talks at a time when Eisenhower was cool to the idea, said the administration should take the "strong initiative" in its approach.

His comments were obviously prompted by Eisenhower's statement yesterday that his willingness to talk with the heads of state of Britain, France and Russia was based in part on "a vague feeling some good might come out of such a conference."

"One thing that is disturbing to me," George said, "is whether we are moving with any real conviction to take the initiative, rather than just acquiescing."

"There seems to me to be a lack of enthusiasm and a lack of positive attitude on our part toward a top level conference which, if we take the strong initiative, might do some good."

"We must recognize all the possibilities of failure in any such conference, but we should have a positive, not a defeatist attitude toward it. If we are going to accomplish anything in the world, we have to have such a positive attitude and I'm afraid we don't have it now."

Adenauer Gets Needed Support

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A new four-party coalition government in Lower Saxony state today assured Chancellor Konrad Adenauer the two-thirds majority needed in the Federal Parliament's upper house to carry through West German rearmament.

The coalition replaced a government dominated by anti-rearmament Socialists. The new lineup was assured when the Refugee party (BHE) agreed last night to join the Chancellor's Christian Democrats and two other pro-Adenauer factions in the state administration.

Members of the Bundesrat, Parliament's upper house, are appointed by the state government. Lower Saxony's five seats in the chamber will give Adenauer a 26-12 majority there. This margin will be needed if the Socialists successfully challenge the constitutionality of any of the mass of legislation needed to carry out the rearmament program. A two-thirds vote is required to change the constitution.

Bills To Finance Colleges Readied

RALEIGH (AP)—Bills to appropriate $150,000 each to colleges at Charlotte, Wilmington and Asheville were waiting for House action today after winning approval of the Appropriations Committee.

The committee gave a favorable report to a measure extending state support to Asheville-Biltmore College yesterday afternoon after an effort failed to bring the Charlotte bill from the House floor back to the committee.

The bill giving state funds to the Charlotte City College was the first to be introduced. After the Appropriations Committee approved it, a measure for Wilmington College and the Asheville-Biltmore bill came in. Under the bills, the colleges each would get $150,000 in state money for operations during the next two fiscal years.

Rep. J. K. Doughton of Alleghany, Appropriations chairman, said he thought the three should be considered together and asked that the Charlotte measure be withdrawn from the House calendar and returned to committee. The House first approved his motion, then reversed itself and put the bill back on the calendar.

Defer Action On Report Of Contractor's Check

Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday deferred action on a claim by an electrical contractor for the return of a $1,500 bid security check for work at East Carolina College.

The Medlin Electric Company is attempting to recover that amount which the college kept in 1950 when the company, although low bidder on certain electrical work at the college, declined to take the contract.

Turner answered that Western Union had informed him that the message was telephoned to a company employee and that the wire also was mailed from the Western Union office to the company.

The bill providing payment for the claim has already been passed by the House.

The contract was finally awarded to the second low bidder at a price of about $4,500 above the low bid.

Frank Turner, chief engineer for the Budget Bureau, said the dispute involved contract descriptions of "rigid tubing" and "rigid conduit." The engineer stated that although the words "rigid tubing" were used in one part of the contract form, the other language made it plain the more expensive "rigid conduit" would be required.

Embezzlement Hearing Is Put Off To Friday

GREENSBORO (AP)—A hearing for Leonard C. Sykes, 37, of Greensboro charged with aiding in a $77,270 bank embezzlement, was postponed today until tomorrow's session of Federal Court.
