Doubts Over U.S. Progress Raised By Speakers

Air Power Queries Mount

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) called on Secretary of Defense Wilson today to "step in and stop the confusion" he said exists about the national defense program.

The Senate Democratic leader said congressional committees are going to try to find out the "true story" of whether Russia is threatening to gain air superiority over the United States.

In the meantime, he said Wilson has the responsibility for seeing to it that "the generals and the secretaries get together so that the right hand knows what the left is doing."

"The people and Congress don't know who to pay attention to now," he said. "There has been a new rash of confusing statements and there should be clarification as to what is the true story."

Rains For Most Of 2 Carolinas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS in the previous 24 hour period. Drenching rains which fell on most of the Carolinas over the weekend dwindled to occasional showers today.

Residents were given a scare when lightning caused a short circuit which set off the city's air raid warning system last night.

Light damage was reported. Yesterday's rain was generally heavy in the western part of the state and light in the eastern section.

South Carolina's rainfall yesterday was generally light and scattered, but heavy rain was recorded Saturday.

The superintendent was introduced by W. A. Allen, chairman of the Farmville School Board.

Wacker, being held in the Montgomery County jail at Dayton, was to be arraigned today.

Charlotte's total rainfall jumped to more than three inches above the month's average and well above the average for the year as downpours yesterday and early today flooded streets and left light damage.

At least one house was damaged by lightning and some sections of the city were temporarily without electricity.

The city fathers have discussed in prior meetings transferring all of the land to the schools except a portion at the north end on which the Kiwanis train is now located and a section in the same area which has been proposed as a site for a swimming pool.

Legislation has been passed by the State Legislature, which would give the city the authority to transfer "all or part" of the tract of land to the city schools.

Mathews - Warren Vows Pledged

Miss Adelaide Marshall Warren and Mr. Edgar Herbert Memphis Mathews were married in a formal ceremony on Sunday, May 22, in the First Presbyterian Church. The service was performed by Rev. L. W. Topping, pastor of the church, using the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with a background of emerald greens, plumose and huckleberry and 7-branch wrought iron candelabra with cathedral candles. On each side of the white satin kneeling bench were single candles. White floor standards of gladioli, lace chrysanthemums, snapdragons and larkspur were used. Pews were marked with white satin bows and plumose fern.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Paul Davenport, organist, and Mrs. Norman Wilkerson, soloist. Mrs. Wilkerson sang "Treat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "Oh Perfect Love, prior to the entrance of the bride party and as a benediction she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Cary D. Warren, of Raleigh, wore a wedding gown of imported champagne brocade satin, fashioned with drop ruffles of heirloom rosepoint lace. The full skirt was shirred on to a lace waist, with bustle back, extending into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported flusion fell from a cap made of rosepoint lace belonging to her maternal great grandmother. She carried a showered bouquet of white orchids and tuberose. She wore a three strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Her attendants were Mrs. Prescott Martin, of Tarboro, cousin of the bride, matron of honor, and Miss Doris Brown of Charlotte and Greenville, maid of honor. They wore identical dresses of pink chiffon with accordion pleated skirts, tucked bodices with square neckline and melon sashes. They wore pink horse hair bandeaus and short white gloves. Their arm bouquets were of shaded pink California asters and shasta chrysanthemums of stephanotis tied with melon bridal satin ribbon.

Miss Susan Warren, of Raleigh, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a short white organza dress. She carried a small bouquet of painted daisies like those of the matron and maid of honor and in her hair she wore matching flowers.

Best man for the bridegroom was his father, Mr. Herbert C. Mathews, of Raleigh. Groomsmen were Joseph Goodson of Greenville and Don King of Greenville and Goldboro. Malcolm Nicholson of Tarboro and Greenville and Tyler Wadsworth of Raleigh.

Mrs. Warren, mother of the bride, wore a street length dress of pink lace with flower hat and a purple orchid. Mrs. Mathews, mother of the groom, wore blue lace and matching hat with a purple orchid.

Mrs. Mathews is the daughter of Mrs. Cary Moye Warren, of Greenville, and the late Mr. Warren. She was graduated from Greenville High School, attended Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington, D. C. and is a senior at East Carolina College.

Mr. Mathews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chas. Mathews, of Raleigh, formerly of Atlanta. He attended Bass High School in Atlanta, was graduated from Needham Broughton High School in Raleigh and is also a senior at East Carolina College.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Aycock introduced a second line composed of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Davis of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Walton of Atlanta, grandparents of the groom, Mr. John Mathews and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson and Miss Adelaide McCord, of Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Sapp, Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. William Collier, Waynesboro, Va., Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp, Burlington, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Warren, of Durham.

Mrs. J. J. Farrar, of Tarboro, Mrs. E. S. Warren, Mrs. H. L. Hodges and Mrs. N. O. Warren alternated in serving punch, bridal cakes, mints and nuts. They were assisted by Mrs. Berry Bostic, Miss Mary Warren Collier and Miss Hannah Warren, of Durham.

Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Burney Warren Jr.

On Saturday evening, Mrs. T. J. Farrar, of Tarboro, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Davis, of Norfolk, and Mr.

and Mrs. Prescott Martin entertained the Mathews-Warren wedding party, members of the families and out-of-town guests at a delightful supper party at the home of the Martins in Tarboro.

The beauty of the old home was enhanced with many lovely arrangements of summer flowers. The mantels in the living rooms were banked with magnolias, and on the pianos were large arrangements of larkspur in pastel colors.

In the dining room the table was spread with a white linen and lace cloth and centered with an antique silver and crystal footed flower holders filled with white larkspur and baby's breath. The base of the holder was encrusted with baby's breath and white candles in tall crystal candlesticks flanked the flower arrangement.

Approximately fifty were on the guest list.

On Sunday at 12:30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hodges, Maj. and Mrs. E. T. Lloyd, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Aycock and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hodges Jr. entertained the Mathews-Warren wedding party, members of the immediate families and out-of-town guests at luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges Jr. on Garden Circle.

Upon arrival guests were invited to a porch at the rear of the house overlooking the garden and miniature lake, where tomato juice was served from a table covered with a white cut work cloth over green and decorated with larkspur and roses.

White summer flowers in attractive arrangements were used in the living room, featuring an especially pretty design of glads, larkspur and baby's breath flanked by white glads on the piano.

The bride's table in the dining room held a long arrangement of similar flowers and candles and silver wedding bells tied with white tulle ribbon and baby's breath.

Auxiliary tables were placed in the living room, den and breakfast room. In the den and breakfast room a color note of red and white was emphasized in the floral arrangements.

Four white satin bags of rice tied with Nile green and white satin ribbon and baby's breath centered each table.

A delightful three course luncheon was served.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Nancy Wilmore-Lory Selby

Miss Nancy Strother Wilmore and Mr. Lory Franklin Selby were united in marriage at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Greenville, N. C. The Rev. C. Edward Sharp officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of white flowers and greenery on either side of the chancel steps, while white carnations and lighted tapers were used on the altar. Mr. George E. Perry, organist, used the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional, and prior to the ceremony softly played the "Adagio" from the Sonata in C Minor by Schubert, "Poeme Pastorale" by Debussy and "Priere a Notre Dame" by Beethoven.

The bride wore a pale pink waist-length dress. The bodice was of taffeta fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and topped by a jacket of the same material. The full skirt fell in tiers of lace and net. Her headpiece was a cap made of pink tulle of the valley with a short tulle veil. She carried a white satin-covered prayer book topped with gardenias and lily of the valley and showered with the valley lilies.

Mrs. Merle H. Morgan of St. Petersburg, Fla., sister and only attendant of the bride, wore a gown similar to the bride's in pale blue lace and taffeta. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses.

The groom was attended by his father, Mr. J. Donald Selby, as best man. Ushers were Roy Smith of Columbia, N. C., and Merle H. Morgan, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Selby, the daughter of Mrs. Louis Dempsey Wilmore of St. Petersburg and Bluefield, W. Va. and the late Mr. Wilmore, received her education in the schools of Bluefield and West Virginia and Duke universities. She has taught in the schools of West Virginia and Virginia and at Fairfax Hall Junior College, Waynesboro, Va. For the past two years she has been on the Dean of Women's staff at East Carolina College, Greenville.

Mr. Selby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Selby of Columbia, is an Air Force veteran and is presently employed in Greenville. Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated with peonies, roses, and other spring flowers. Mrs. R. V. Keel, 408 Maple Street, has been cultivating poppies for the past five years. These flowers are now in full bloom in front of her home, and all along the borders of her back yard. The particular species of poppy Mrs. Keel is pictured with above is one for which she knows no name. She says it cropped up in her garden about three years ago. This poppy was a deep orchid, and Mrs. Keel is now cross-pollinating it with the Iceland poppy, a red flower, in an effort to produce a deep pink bloom. She is also experimenting by crossing some of her poppies with yellow daisies. (Reflector Photo by Edwin Haymes.)

Bishop Delivers E C C Commencement Sermon

Bishop Paul N. Garber of the Richmond, Va., area of the Methodist Church, spoke Sunday morning on Jesus "The Light of the World" as he delivered the commencement sermon to 286 graduates of East Carolina College. He addressed a large audience gathered in the Wright auditorium on the campus.

Bishop Garber, for twenty years a faculty member at Duke University and formerly Dean of the Divinity School there, became in 1952 Bishop of the Richmond Area, which includes the North Carolina and Virginia Methodist Conferences.

Citing a visit to the Oswiecim Concentration Camp in Poland, which revealed to him the horrors of man's inhumanity to man, Bishop Garber described the legend which now marks the gates: "There must never be another Oswiecim."

The camp with its evidences of evil became in his sermon a symbol of the attitudes and forces which followers of The Light of the World must combat in seeking a better life for themselves and their fellows.

He appealed to 1955 graduates to "join with good people in all parts of the world in a moral and religious crusade that will stop Oswiecim concentration camps and all they stand for."

Four attitudes of both individuals and nations contrary to the teachings of Jesus explain many of the world's evils, he stated. They are yearning for power, indifference to the wrongs suffered by others, hatred and intolerance, and weariness in well-doing.

Jesus is the Light of the World, he concluded, because he was the one person who was in perfect contact with God. We cannot equal His light, he said, but we can emulate his example.

300 Percent Above State Average

Greenville is not alone in the increase in the issuance of building permits during the first four months of this year, but the increase experienced by Greenville is far above the average throughout the state.

According to the North Carolina Department of Labor there was a 36 per cent rise in building permits issued during the first four months of the year by 30 North Carolina cities with more than 10,000 population.

Building permits issued by Greenville during the period covered by the report represented almost a 125 per cent increase over the same period of last year. During the first four months of 1954, building permits issued by the city amounted to some over $400,000. From January through April of this year building permits issued in Greenville topped the million dollar mark for the first time in history.

When there are isolated cases in which building permits issued by a city show a sharp rise from one year to the next, one might come to the conclusion purely local conditions caused the increase. But when all 30 cities above 10,000 population in a state show a substantial rise in building permits from one year to the next, it is indisputable evidence an important development program is underway throughout the entire state. No isolated economic conditions could result from such widespread conditions.

On the basis of building permits at least, residents of Greenville can see that the growth the city is experiencing this year in new construction is considerably above that of other cities of comparable size throughout North Carolina.

Although we haven't seen the city-by-city statistics for building permits for the first four months of this year, it is a safe assertion that Greenville is very near the top if not the leader in the state in the percentage increase in building over the same period last year.

Well Placed Priorities Are Assigned

Greenville's Planning Board has indeed given top priority to three items in the six-year capital improvements program which

Nobody "Won" The Telephone Strike

Nobody won the long and costly telephone strike which has just ended in the southern states, union and company claims notwithstanding.

It was a long, bitter and costly strike which, in our opinion could have and should have been avoided. The company and the union both lost economically and in prestige among the people of the affected areas who were victims of the labor-management dispute. Unfortunately, as in most strikes, the public probably suffered the greatest loss.

With the sharp exchange of union and company comments over who "won" the strike, it is apparent that bitterness between the union officials and company officials will linger long after company employees leave the picket lines and return to their jobs.

Strength for the Day

SEARCHING FOR SECURITY
The word security is probably in use now more than it ever has been before. Psychiatrists tell us that the need for security is one of man's most essential needs, and that the feeling of insecurity lies behind many mental disturbances.

Not only the psychiatrists reveal this. Today's economy reflects on all sides the quest for security. Never before have insurance companies done so much business. Never before have pension plans and sick benefits been such a vital issue in management-labor relations. Even the federal government is now heavily involved with the vast social security program.

Yet the world we live in is not, in most respects, a secure world. It is a world of the passing of all things. Human life is a cycle of change; youth and beauty fade; we grow old and die. Family and friends pass on. Property deteriorates, fortunes are wiped out, governments topple. Nothing can be guaranteed to last.

Nothing that is, except God's love. It is the only permanent, stable bulwark in a shifting and chaotic world, stretching back into history and forward into eternity. "Our help is in ages past, our hope in years to come." Only by finding God can man find the security he seeks and needs; and the joy of finding that security is written on the faces of those who have found Him.

Treasury Secretary Is Happy

WASHINGTON—George Magoffin Humphrey is not the gloating or boasting kind. But the Secretary of the Treasury, virtually unknown until tapped for his present post, feels pretty good these days.

He has helped to return the nation to virtually full recovery and rosy future prospects by pursuing conservative and businesslike policies. During the 1953-54 decline, the Cleveland industrialist refused to be stamped into reviving Roosevelt-Truman spending programs advocated by Americans for Democratic Action and such Capitol Hill spokesmen as the then Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Senators Herbert H. Lehman Paul H. Douglas and Hubert H. Humphrey.

Besides framing blueprints for Federal "shots in the arm," they denounced Secretary Humphrey and President Eisenhower as callous and cautious in the face of a "serious depression."

REFUSED TO BE SAVED—Humphrey was deaf to their advice. In fact, he did just the opposite. He opposed new tax cuts advocated by House Democrats as means of increasing purchasing power, stimulating business and providing employment.

He cut both civilian and military budgets, and terminated numerous Government operations competing with private enterprise, despite Capitol Hill warnings that it would aggravate conditions. He and the Federal Reserve braked the Wall Street stock boom by raising margin requirements from 50 to 70 per cent.

In short, he refused to fall back on artificial or political vacuums.

JOHN Q. PUBLIC RESPONSIBLE—Humphrey is the first to admit that American workers are consumers, not Uncle Sam, contributed to the current recovery. Big business and industry played only a small part. Until recently, with the exception of automobile and home-building optimists, they were cautious and bearish. They reduced inventories and trimare desperately needed by Greenville.

It is certain that funds for one of the items will be included in the city budget for 1955-56 since the city is already committed for the expenditure. It is up to the City Council to say what other capital improvement expenditures will be made from the budget in the coming fiscal year.

Obviously next year's budget will include the $30,000 which Greenville is obligated to pay toward right-of-way cost for the section of the new bypass highway within the city limits.

The Reflector feels the City Council should likewise go along with the recommendation that an additional high pressure truck be purchased for the fire department and that a recreation building be constructed at South Greenville Park.

With the rapid expansion of Greenville, particularly outlying residential areas, additional fire equipment will be needed to give fire protection to those areas as well as the rest of the city in order that fire losses may be kept at a minimum. Certainly it will cost the taxpayers money to purchase this new equipment. But the outlay will be nominal to the cost of severe fire losses resulting from inadequate equipment, or higher fire insurance rates imposed because of the city's failure to meet requirements for the present insurance rating the city enjoys.

The $5,000 outlay for a recreation building for Negroes at South Greenville Park is a relatively small item in the city budget which approaches the million dollar mark. The need for such a facility is recognized not only by local recreation officials, but many other citizens of Greenville. We trust the City Council also recognized the need for the building and will make provisions for it in the new budget.

Although physics has become as important to modern industry as chemistry, the proportion of high school students studying it has been declining since 1900.

Public who blazed the trail to the present peaks which are only slightly below 1953 all-time highs. Despite Democratic discouragement, wars and rumors of wars, he went on a spending and saving and producing bender.

His purchases of light and heavy goods for 1955 average $252 billion, as against $237.7 billion in the last four months of 1954, which included Christmas shopping. He increased his installment debt from $22.4 billion in 1954 to $22.9 billion today. But, despite his cash and credit buying, he paid off old debts and mortgages to the tune of about $10 billion through 1954 and 1955.

BILLIONS IN PUBLIC SAVINGS—He boosted total liquid savings to $54.7 billion, almost $1 billion more than a year ago. In addition, he invested $5.3 billion in private insurance policies, $4.3 billion in savings and loan associations, and $4.4 billion in savings deposits.

John Q. deposited in checking accounts $2.7 billion more than he withdrew. He paid $2.6 billion for Government pensions, unemployment insurance and Social Security benefits. He bought $800,000,000 of U. S. savings bonds, although he redeemed $2.6 billion. He dealt only sparingly in common stock—$700,000,000 worth—but he socked $1.8 billion into corporations' bonds and notes.

He has a thick cushion against a possible down-draft. As represented by cash, bank accounts, savings and loan deposits, insurance and securities, he had liquid assets of $398.3 billion. His liabilities, mostly mortgages and consumer obligations, amounted to $90 billion.

IF IKE REFUSES TO RUN—In view of this record, achieved without any political or economic legismen, and based largely upon the confidence of the customers, it is not surprising that some Republicans look favorably on George Magoffin Humphrey, if Eisenhower quits next year. He would undoubtedly have full White House support for the nomination.

An Outmoded System

By ELMER ROESSNER

The American system of distribution, especially retailing, is totally unprepared to handle the flood of consumer goods that will result from peaceful uses of atomic power according to Gordon B. Cross, of the New York University faculty.

"Do we really believe that the shopworn, outmoded and somewhat antiquated facilities and methods now used in distribution can meet the challenge of distributing a volume of goods that can conceivably multiply several times in just a few years?" he writes in the current Journal of Retailing.

"If distribution is to catch up and keep up with production, it will take more than the haphazard hit-or-miss tactics that have characterized distributive activities in the past."

Mr. Cross is doing an adequate amount of thinking for retailers. While thousands of retailers and other distributors are thinking every day, he says, their thoughts are relatively small thoughts. "And while trade associations have done some excellent work along the lines of exchange of information and reporting of operating results," he writes, "too often they have expended their energies in lobbying for or against discriminatory legislation or in promoting restrictive trade practices."

Mr. Cross's solution is the creation of a center for long-range scientific research into retail distribution. There are great minds available for the work, he says, and the cost would not be excessive, in fact, he declares, one or two companies could do it, and no one would feel the cost.

The deciding element, he adds, is the will to do the job. "Are there enough business leaders who recognize the need for keeping step with the production scientists?" he asks. "Do they have enough faith in the future of distribution to support a continuing study themselves rather than wait for the government to step in to try to untangle the inevitable result of progress?"

MARCH SALES LAGGED IN ONLY EIGHT LINES

Total retail sales in April were $15.5 billion, according to the Department of Commerce's advance report. That is 7 per cent above 1954.

Meanwhile the Department has completed detailed figures for March. They show an average gain of 9 per cent with only a few lines failing to share the gain. Those showing declines were bakery product stores, down 4 per cent; delicatessen stores, down 4 per cent; liquor stores, down 4 per cent; feed, farm and garden supply stores, down 2 per cent; candy, nut and confectionery stores, down 3 per cent; florists, down 2 per cent; optical goods stores, down 2 per cent, and book stores, down 2 per cent. In general, it looks as if people were dieting and reading less.

PAY IN QUARANTINE RULES NOT TAX FREE

Under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, payments to employees on sick leave are exempt from income taxes under certain conditions.

But the quarantine of a well worker is not one of those conditions, the Internal Revenue Service says in a new ruling. If Papa stays home because Willy has chicken pox, the pay he receives for that time is taxable, even if his employer considers the absence a "sick leave."

The IRS also holds that a person taking sick leave to care for a member of the family is liable to taxes on health and accident benefits.

Shopping By Telephone Can Beat The Parking Problem

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—The only solution now known for the parking nuisance is for people to stay at home and use the telephone! In fact the present increase in auto accidents and the lack of parking space will drive people to begin using the telephone. Otherwise, congestion will so increase that we will travel "bumper to bumper." When one car stops all the rest stop.

THE MERCHANT'S OPPORTUNITY

Every storekeeper should at once install an extra telephone which should be used only for incoming calls. No one in the store, not even the boss, should be allowed to make calls on this extra phone. It should be reserved for customers' calls only. When customers complain of finding it "busy," then a second such phone should be installed.

IMPORTANCE OF HABITS

The present method of shopping has been the custom for centuries. It has become an instinctive habit which will change only slowly, but the sooner shopkeepers determine to change this habit, the better off all will be. Otherwise, our downtown retail sidewalks will become as deserted on weekdays as they are now on Sundays.

As they have a virtual monopoly, the telephone companies seem to be little interested in helping shopkeepers in their present dilemma. This criticism is said to apply especially to the big Bell Companies. These are rich and ruled by self-satisfied bureaucracies. These telephone companies claim that they have not phones enough to take care of all the demands. This is nonsense. If they would be willing to buy more telephone equipment from outside manufacturers and develop more efficient installation crews, all demands could be filled.

AVOID BEING KILLED

My appeal for a greater use of the telephone is not solely to businessmen keep their customers. The telephone can also help us to keep a life. Hubert L. Kerr has recently stated that while only two persons per 100,000 die from killed by automobiles. As these figures become recognized, I forecast that people will visit less by automobile and visit more by telephone.

People will remain home more and travel less. Travel by automobile—except for business—may now be near its peak. Even business calls will be made more by telephone and less by automobile. It takes time to change habits; but the present habit of making both personal and business calls by travel may become a thing of the past. All habits can be changed.

WHAT ABOUT TELEVISION?

Television is already taking the place of the movies. When television gets over its "teen-age" period of "sowing wild oats" and gets settled down to decent programs, many more families will prefer TV to going out evenings

Last Major Tax Revision For N. C. Was 22 Years Ago

By LYNN NISBET

VETERANS — The last previous time important revisions were made in the North Carolina tax schedules was in 1933, twenty-two years ago. There have been changes made every session since, some up, some down in rates levied or items taxed. Not until 1955 was it deemed necessary to materially extend coverage of raise rates.

Significantly enough about one-fourth of the new revenue anticipated from the 1955 tax bill will come from taxes on alcoholic beverages, which were not taxable because they were completely illegal in 1933.

There are six men in the 1955 General Assembly who were in the 1933 session. Sen. Ed Summerville of Onslow was in the 1933

Senate, and Sen. Burr Brock of Davie was in the House that session. Reps. Bruce Etheridge of Dare, Thomas Turner of Guilford and Brantley Womble of Wake were in the House then and now. While it is not true that these five are the only men who have voted before for "new taxes," it is true they are in only numbers who can cite the record of helping to materially rewrite the major tax laws.

Further testimony to the continuity of thinking and policy in North Carolina government is the fact that several members of the 1933 Legislature aided with advice and counsel as elder statesmen or lobbyists in preparing the 1955 bill; and Rep. Kemp Doughton of Alleghany, chairman of the House appropriations committee in 1963 and 1965, is a son of Rufus A. Doughton, who was chairman of the finance committee in 1933 and numerous previous sessions.

Continuity of objective and purpose, with changes fitted to changing conditions, progressive State services financed by a reasonably equitable distribution of the tax burden, is traditional North Carolina policy.

PATTERN — Governor Hodges has now made a sufficient number of appointments to disclose a pattern. For most part he is retaining officials who have in his opinion done a good job, regardless of immediate political faction alignments. But — in several instances he has coupled with announcements to the press statements to the effect that he has cautioned the officials to be more diligent in public service.

This week the Governor sent to the joint session for confirmation the names of John A. Pritchett of Windsor and Claude Ferrell of Elkin for further eight year terms on the State Board of Education. Pritchett was originally appointed in 1945 and reappointed in 1947, both times by Governor Cherry. Ferrell was appointed in 1949 by Governor

Scott to fill a vacancy for a term expiring this year.

William W. Jones was reappointed Commissioner of Banks. In this case the Governor took seriously the statutory provision that the appointment should be made with the advice and consent of the Senate. And he consulted with the Senate committee on banks before announcing his selection. Jones was first appointed in 1951 by Governor Scott. He regretted the bad public relations the banking commission has had, and had urged Commissioner Jones to give consideration to public opinion and advice of his commissioners.

Two members of the Board of Agriculture were reappointed—Glenn Gilmore of Julian and Muse McCotter of New Bern. Both were appointed six years ago by Governor Scott. Two other vacancies were filled by new appointments. J. Atwell Alexander of Stony Point replaces O. J. Holler of Union Mills, and W. Ivan Bissett of Grifton takes the place of J. E. Winslow of Greenville. Holler and Winslow were original Scott appointees. Alexander is entirely new; Bissett had served several terms prior to the Scott regime.

LEGISLATORS — The fact that no mention was made at the Governor's news conference about another Board of Agriculture vacancy leads to conclusion Sen. Hawley E. West End may be reappointed to the seat he vacated when he took the oath as Senator.

There is widespread speculation that delay in filling vacancies which have existed since February 1 on the Utilities Commissioner may be due to the Governor's desire to put R. P. Sam Worthington of Greenville back on the commission, which he left in January to take his seat in the General Assembly.

It is known that several members of the General Assembly aspire to be Superior Court Judges and to fill other appointive State offices. Their chances may be lessened by imminence of a special session of the Legislature to deal with desegregation. Governor Hodges has not indicated his intention, but many people believe he is conscious of the fact that some of the legislators whom he might like to appoint to full time high office are the same members he will have to surrender their votes in the Legislature on matters pertaining to the segregation problem.

The shadow of the Supreme Court's decrees is cast over the whole social and governmental economy, and to some degree at least will affect executive appointments and the general pattern which Governor Hodges apparently has adopted. The Governor and prospective appointees among the legislators may find the demands for one type of service preclude using good men in other fields. It is the almost unanimous opinion that the Supreme Court decrees will be promulgated before July 1, and a special session will be called sometime between then and July 1 of next year.

SEES A DOWNTURN COMING NEXT YEAR

A downturn in 1956, followed by a long term of prosperity, was forecast by Philip Sparling, officer of the First National Bank of Chicago, before the recent congress of National Association of Credit Men. He said the present boom should continue through this year.

He advised credit grantors to watch credit policies closely.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By Nick Sumner

SYNOPSIS
 Rob Mallory had hoped his foster-son, Kerry Riordan, would settle down now, wed their neighboring rancher, Christie Toland, take over the management of Broken Spur, which Mallory had built into a Texas cattle empire. But there was a wild streak in the boy which drove him off on drinking sprees, into the arms of the earthy Lita Dawson. It was because of Lita that Christie had broken with Gerry and had turned her attention to Wayne Cameron, an icy-eyed stranger.

CHAPTER SEVEN
 Over-supper Kerry studied his foster-father's temper as a sailor might have studied the weather. When, halfway through the meal, Rob broke the silence with a "Pass the biscuits, kid," Kerry was sufficiently encouraged to open conversation. When Rob called him "kid," it usually meant he was in a middling good mood—at least, not mad at him. He called him "son" when he was pleased with him, "muchacho" in rare moments of tenderness.

"I heard something down at the Forks today." It hadn't been a fortunate beginning, he realized. Rob just looked at him under lowered lids and said nothing. "Something I figured you ought to know about." "Nice to have you interested," Rob drawled. "Never knew you to get so stirred up about Broken Spur's business before."

"Well if there's going to be trouble, I'll be in it, won't I? But you might let me know about it, if I might." Rob agreed drily, "if I could ever find you when things are happening. Who told you this?" "Joe Larrabee."

Spanish land grants aren't exactly surveyor's jobs. When the country was half empty, people weren't so fussy about boundaries. I doubt if the old Don who sold me the land could have said himself exactly where his claim ended."

So that was that, but Kerry didn't feel as relieved as he should have. A rumor, true or false, dropped into the uneasy peace of the county, could be a spark dropped in dry grass, setting a blaze that once started might spread out of all proportion to its trifling cause—and watching Rob's face across the table he suspected he wasn't alone in his thoughts.

The schoolhouse was pretty well crowded when Kerry and Lita arrived. Old Bill Haggerty was making his fiddle sing, and the center of the floor was a shifting pattern of colors—men's bright shirts and bandannas, women's assorted finery. Older people, mostly women, filled the benches along the walls, the straight line of them broken by little clumps of standing men who hadn't yet found partners.

It all looked festive and innocent enough, but Kerry was aware, with a tingle in his nerves, of tension underlying the gaiety. The nesters were drawn together in tight, distinct bunches, and the looks they sent in the direction of the cattle-men were anything but friendly.

At the center of one of these groups stood Tim Larrabee and the two Cullen boys, Fred and Young Nate. All their faces were red and hot, suggesting more than a couple of drinks. Tim, with his head thrust forward and his eyes like hot coals under the bristling brows, reminded Kerry of a bull about to charge. He was talking when he caught sight of Lita, and he broke off with his mouth open. The whole of his big frame stiffened, and Kerry's own muscles went tense with an apprehension that the young nester was going to jump him right then. But Fred Cullen touched his arm and murmured something in his ear, and he slowly subsided.

Let's Examine the Record

There are 66 counties in North Carolina where beer is sold under "legal control."

There are 34 counties where it is not.

Which counties have the highest paid workers? Which counties have the highest per capita income? Which counties have the highest per capita retail sales? Which counties have the lowest per capita unmet school needs?

You're right — it's the 66 "legal control" counties. We don't think "legal control" has anything to do with these facts. We don't think prohibition has anything to do with them either.

What we do think is self evident is that most communities prefer "legal control" as a workable system as opposed to prohibition which does not work.

Certainly there is nothing in the record to indicate the "legal control" system has a demoralizing effect on a community, city or county such as the advocates of prohibition would have us believe.

Editors, Educators, Ministers and citizens throughout North Carolina are invited to write to this address for a FREE copy of the 72-page booklet, "North Carolina Tax Facts," a six-year study of state and municipal finances, plus pertinent information about the malt beverage industry.

for a few seconds on Kerry and Lita, then going over and past them, with no sign of feeling disturbing their blue serenity. Suddenly it came over him that bringing Lita here had been a fool kid's trick.

Bill struck up Red River Valley, and Christie moved out onto the dance floor in Cameron's arms. At Lita's tug on his sleeve, Kerry turned impatiently, resenting her warm, possessive touch.

"Don't you want to dance, Kerry?" She looked and sounded like a disappointed child. She wasn't to blame for the way he felt. He made himself smile at her. "Sure, honey. Just getting my wind."

He kept his attention conscientiously on her, but the salt had gone out of the evening. The tune ended to a spatter of applause. Bill protesting, "You folks don't seem to realize fiddlin's thirsty work," stepped down to where half-a-dozen bottles were being cordially extended.

"Hello Riordan." It was Cameron's voice, casually friendly. Just as casually, Kerry turned around. "Howdy, Lita. I'd like to make you acquainted with Wayne Cameron, Miss Dawson."

"A pleasure Miss Dawson." Cameron smiled with just the right amount of respectful interest. Lita, Kerry couldn't help noticing, was showing considerable more than that. What was it about this raw-boned hombre that got the women?

Burglar Returns Part Of Loot

VENICE, Italy (AP)—A burglar who robbed two elderly sisters apparently made off with more than he needed. So he sent back the change.

The Gelfi sisters — Guisepina, 70 and Stella, 72 — said 2 1/2 million lire ($4,000) was stolen from their apartment. The following day they got a package in the mail. It contained 2,128,000 lire (about $3,400).

Mrs. Sauve Wins Golf Title For Second Year In A Row

Mrs. James Sauve won the Greenville Golf and Country Club championship Saturday afternoon by defeating Mrs. Millie Wright one-up on the final hole of the 18-hole match.

It was the second consecutive year that Mrs. Sauve has copped the ladies championship at the local club.

The championship match was a nip and tuck battle all the way with neither player able to gain more than a one-hole lead at any point in the round. It was all tied up after the 17th hole, and on the 18th as pressure reached its peak, Mrs. Sauve scored a 5 and Mrs. Wright a seven.

Both players carded 39s for the opening nine holes and on the last nine Mrs. Sauve carded a 43 and Mrs. Wright a 45.

A large gallery of women followed the championship match to watch the defending champion and Mrs. Wright who just returned from Pinehurst where she won the championship in the American Dental Society Auxiliary golf tourney for the second consecutive year.

In the consolation match of the championship flight Mrs. Carolyn Thomas defeated Mrs. Gay Waldrop. Other results of the ladies tournament at the local club are:

First flight: Mrs. Jane Dudley defeated Mrs. Mildred Coleman. Mrs. Willie Smoot and Mrs. Grace Smith will play a match for the first flight consolation.

Second flight: Mrs. Lib Wright defeated Mrs. Maude Barnhill; second flight consolation, Mrs. Edna Fisher defeated Mrs. Janice Merritt.

Third flight: Mrs. Henrietta Badham defeated Mrs. Alma Underwood; third flight consolation, Mrs. Elizabeth Moye defeated Mrs. Harriet VanDyke.

A total of 32 ladies participated in the tournament.

On the afternoon of June 1 at the local golf course plans call for a Scotch foursome which will be followed Wednesday evening by a banquet at which trophies in both the men's and ladies' divisions of the club tournament will be awarded.

Greenies Defeat Rocky Mount In Weekend Games

Greenville's semi-pro Greenies took over the sole possession of first place in the Coastal Plain League this weekend with double victories over Rocky Mount. The Greenies won the Saturday night game 8-5 and came back with a 3-2 overtime win in Rocky Mount yesterday.

Bobby Fife struck out eighteen Rocky Mount batsmen, as a heavy contributor to the Greenies' Saturday win.

Sunday's game in Rocky Mount proved to be real thriller. Tom Boyd started on the mound for the Greenies and shut out the strong Rocky Mount team until Bobby Coggins took over in the seventh. Coggins allowed two runs in the eighth. Greenville had picked up two runs in the fifth inning to send the game into overtime.

In the top half of the eleventh, the Greenies pushed over one run and Coggins held the Rocky Mount team scoreless in the last half of the same inning to give the Greenies their win.

The game will mark Williams' first competitive appearance since the end of last season when he reaffirmed his decision to retire from baseball.

Williams figures he needs a little more time to condition himself and plans to use tonight's exhibition as a measure to determine how well his training program is going. He has been bothered by the usual aches and pains, but is concerned chiefly with a hand blister which hampers his bat grip.

Yogi's Batting Average Isn't Up To Par, But He's Lifted Yanks To Top

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Here's a free tip to American League managers. Junk that strategy that calls for putting Mickey Mantle on base to get at Yogi Berra. Although Yogi is batting only .386, his home run spurt has lifted the New York Yankees into the American League lead on a seven-game winning spurt.

Berra hit five home runs in four games against Baltimore over the weekend and four times Mantle was sitting on first base when he connected.

When Baltimore came to town, Berra was hitting only .252. He picked up 34 points, 5 homers and 11 runs batted in, thanks to that "soft touch" Baltimore pitching.

In yesterday's double-header he hit three homers and drove in six runs while the Yanks clouted Baltimore 5-0 and 7-5. This boosted their lead over Cleveland to one full game, despite Early Wynn's one-hitter against Detroit for a 4-0 Tribe victory.

Third-place Chicago split a pair with Kansas City, dropping the opener to Alex Kellner 7-2 but bouncing back with 15 hits and a 10-6 edge in the second game. The Boston-at-Washington game was rained out.

Don Mueller's hot bat helped the New York Giants run their winning streak to six straight, with a done sweep over Pittsburgh 5-2 and 5-3. The Pirates now have lost 11 in a row, only one short of the modern club record of 12, set in 1939.

Although Brooklyn clipped Philadelphia again 8-3, the Dodgers lost half a game of their National League lead that now measures six games ahead of the Giants. Roy Campanella's 10th homer with a man on and Carl Erskine's two-run double were the big blows of a five-run spurt by the Dodgers in the sixth inning.

Gene Conley, the towering Milwaukee right-hander, held Chicago to three hits and struck out eight while fashioning his sixth victory 5-1. The loser was Sad Sam Jones, who pitched a no-hitter against Pittsburgh May 12. Four Chicago errors hurt him.

Luis Arroyo, little St. Louis pitcher, held Cincinnati to five hits as the Cardinals won the second game of a double-header 5-2 and in the process snapped the Redlegs' winning streak at six games. The Redlegs had to rally in the ninth to win the opener 4-3.

Berra's hitting wasn't the only comforting development to Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees. Eddie Lopat, the veteran left-hander who had lost his first four games against Baltimore over the weekend and four times Mantle was sitting on first base when he connected.

Big Trouble By Smallmouth Bass
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A smallmouth bass hit Terry Parker's line while he and Shirley Lumpkin fished from a canvas covered duck boat in the James River above Richmond. Parker's answering heave upset the boat and dumped the men along with their tackle into the river. The fishermen made it ashore by holding on to the overturned craft.

A week later Lumpkin went back to grapple for his fishing gear. He managed to hook his line on the bottom, pulled it in and there on the hook found the cause of his original trouble — one smallmouth bass, weight 1 1/2 pounds.

Pony Leaguers' Season To Open In City Tonight

Greenville's 1955 Pony League season opens tonight at 7:45 at Guy Smith Stadium with the 1954 Champion Redmen meeting the Ford-O-Matics.

The opening game of the season was originally slated for last Friday night but was postponed until tonight, to permit the playoff here to keep an eye on the weather today in the hope that more rain today would not necessitate the second postponement of the opening league game.

Recreation Department officials reported the playing field in good shape for the opening game, having had two new coats of topsoil in the past few weeks.

Tonight's game is expected to be a pitching duel between Charles Stator and Walker Allen. Fastballer Stator proves a problem for batters facing him when he has his pitches well under control. Allen relies on a fast-breaking curve ball and excellent control to give opposing batters a difficult time at the plate.

Nearly all the players on the Pony League teams this year are graduates of Greenville Little League baseball.

VERSATILE PLAYER WITH MILWAUKEE
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Chuck Tanner, rookie outfielder for the Braves, was an all-around athlete at Shenango High school in New Castle, Pa.

He was the star for four years on the football and basketball teams. In his senior year he was the captain. Chuck also won two letters in track and was Western Pennsylvania shot-pup champion in 1946.

PARIS (AP) — A star-studded field headed by American Davis Cup ace Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, began play today in the French International Tennis Tournament — one of the big ones of the circuit.

Trabert, the defending champion, has lost only one tournament in his last 11, and he ranks as the favorite. He whipped Seixas in the final last year and the two are in opposite ends of the draw this time, so there could be a repeat performance.

This is a two-week event with several junior competitions and lesser tournaments thrown in, so there won't be any important matches until the middle of the week.

Duquesne Coach On Clinic Staff

GREENSBORO (AP) — One of the Nation's top cage coaches, Dudley Moore of Duquesne, will serve as basketball instructor for the annual North Carolina Coaching Clinic here Aug. 8-12.

Moore's Iron Dukes won this year's National Invitation Tournament and usually rank among the nation's best teams.

He joins other clinic staff members who will tutor high school and college coaches in three major sports — baseball, basketball and football. Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, and Jim Myers of UCLA and Len Eshmont of Navy, already have been named to instruct in football.

Weary And Stiff Ted Williams In Action Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, weary and stiff from lengthy conditioning drills, returns to the Boston Red Sox lineup against the New York Giants tonight in an exhibition game for the benefit of hospitalized war veterans.

The 36-year-old slugger plans to don his familiar No. 9, participate in a home run hitting contest and then take his old post in front of Fenway Park's dummy left field fence.

The game will mark Williams' first competitive appearance since the end of last season when he reaffirmed his decision to retire from baseball.

Williams figures he needs a little more time to condition himself and plans to use tonight's exhibition as a measure to determine how well his training program is going. He has been bothered by the usual aches and pains, but is concerned chiefly with a hand blister which hampers his bat grip.

Ben Hogan was the first former U.S. Open golf champion to file his entry for the 1955 event set for June 16-18 in San Francisco.

Ten-Year Effort Climaxed With Town Memorial

POPLAR, Wis. (AP) — After 30 years of community effort, Poplar has opened a proper memorial to its most famous son and the nation's ace of aces, Maj. Richard Ira Bong.

Dedicated at a simple but impressive ceremony yesterday was a $115,000 gymnasium-auditorium-classroom addition to the town's two-story elementary school.

In one of its rooms are displayed more than 40 medals, ribbons, citations and badges—topped by the Medal of Honor—earned by Bong during a military career in which he shot down at least 40 Japanese aircraft.

Bong died in a jet plane accident near Burbank, Calif., Aug. 6, 1948—the day the first atomic bomb exploded over Hiroshima.

In the schoolyard, a World War II P38 fighter plane—a Lockheed Lightning of the type in which Bong flew to fame—stands on tall steel pylons at a low-level attack angle.

The airman's mother, called on to unveil the plane, tugged at a canvas sheet over the P38's cockpit while her seven younger children—Dick was the eldest of eight—looked on.

"I can't get it down," Mrs. Bong said, and her husband Carl stepped to her side. The white-haired farmer gave one muscular pull and the P38 stood clear.

Gen. George Kenney, top air commander of World War II in the Pacific, told some 3,000 persons at the ceremony that Bong will hold the title of ace of American aces "for all time."

"With the weapons that man possesses today, no war of the future will last long enough for any pilot to run up a score of 40 victories again," he said.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

Methodist women from all parts of the nation will gather at National College for Christian Workers, Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2-11, 1958, for the quadrennial "National Seminar" sponsored by the Woman's Division of Christian Service. "A Christian Woman Understanding Her World" is the theme for the ten-day session which is directed by the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities Miss Thelma Stevens, New York City, executive secretary. Bishop Gerald Enslley of the Des Moines Area of the Methodist Church will give the keynote address on "Understanding as a Basis for World Order" on the evening of August 2.

A plan whereby a village of newly-literate persons can receive a library of simple reading matter on wholesome subjects is an expanding project of the Committee on Literacy and Literature, a branch of the National Council of Churches. For $25 a library of forty to sixty books, packed in a tin trunk, can be placed in a village, where the residents have learned to read through the picture-syllable charts and primers, devised by Dr. Frank Laubach. The books, written on a primary level for new readers, are about agriculture, religion, health, child care, handicrafts, recreation and other subjects of an inspirational or practical nature. The cost includes also a small oil-burning lamp to give light for reading. "Tin trunk libraries" have been distributed to villages in India, and many are needed in Egypt, Pakistan, Burma, Korea, Iran and the Philippines.

"In the matter of the training of nursing personnel, mission hospitals have done and continue to do yeoman service," says Madame Rajkumar Amrit Kaur, India's Minister of Health. "Until recently, 80 per cent of the nursing sisters in India were Indian Christian girls, most of them taught in mission schools. An appreciation for this noble profession has now been kindled in the hearts of other Indian girls, and it is good to see them coming out in large numbers and emulating the example of their pioneer sisters. Medical science is pre-eminently a science that knows no barriers of caste, creed, race or clime. Therefore, service by Christian missionaries in the medical field will always be welcome in India."

Stop Work For Mother Minks

CORTLAND, N. Y. (AP) — The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad has postponed a bridge-rebuilding job so that the rat-a-tat of jack hammers won't disturb other minks.

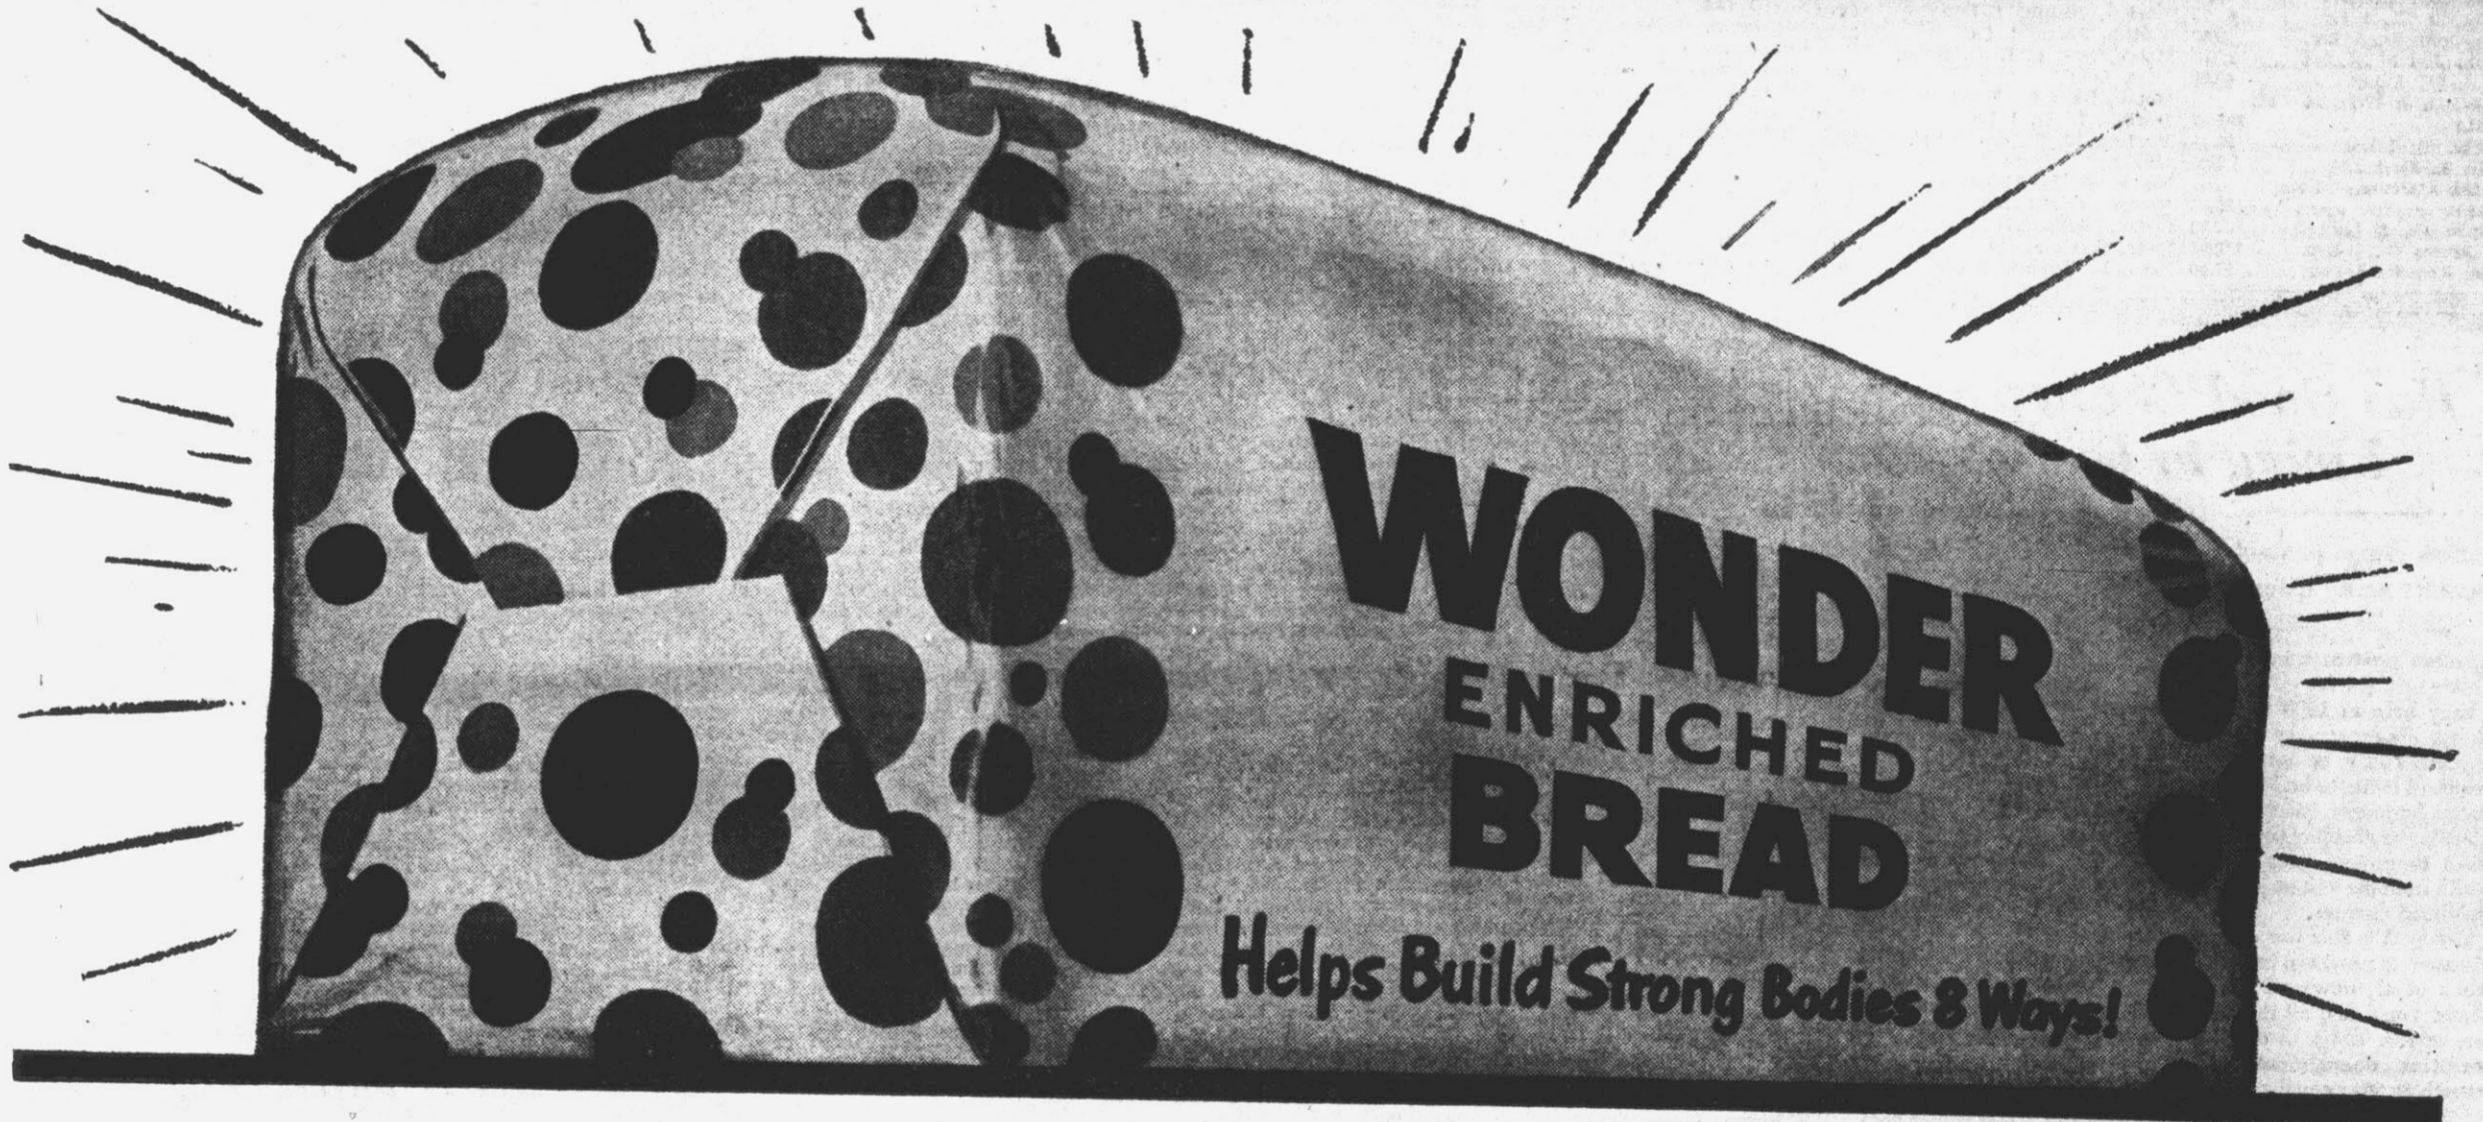

The project was going fine. Then crews started heavy work. Maynard Fish, who runs a mink ranch near this city in central New York, complained that the noise might frighten the mother minks into eating the 900 kits they bore early this month.

The railroad agreed to postpone the work until July when the kits leave their mothers.

Striking Bus Drivers Plan New Meet; Trade Charges

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Striking Atlantic Greyhound Corp. drivers have scheduled a new mass meeting for Winston-Salem, N.C., Thursday night after another exchange of allegations with the company over the weekend.

In a new full-page newspaper advertisement, the company implied that union leaders rejected its latest contract proposal without submitting the offer to the union membership.

Representatives of the drivers countered with an assertion that actually, the proposal never has existed as far as the union negotiating committee is concerned because it never has been exchanged through that group.

Also made public over the weekend were arrangements for a May 31 conference between Federal Conciliator Joseph C. Wright and President George S. Engle of Atlantic Greyhound.

Wright emphasized, however, that no negotiation sessions have been arranged between the company and the striking division Contract talks in the 47-day-old strike in 10 states and the District of Columbia have been in recess since April 13.

The company advertisement said that management had been "advised" the drivers' union representatives had rejected the latest contract proposal without first submitting it to the membership.

Daniel V. Maroney Jr., president of the striking Division 1493 of the AFL Motor Coach Employees Union, asserted that Greyhound, instead of sending the contract offer to the committee, elected instead to mail it to "members of the union individually" in the form of letters.

Maroney added that the union committee subsequently asked drivers and their families to write on the back of those letters their comments regarding the proposal, and to send that information to the committee here.

"Practically every reply" received to date, Maroney insisted, has said in effect that the company should "deal with the committee, across the table, in regular negotiations."

About 600 of 725 drivers have been on strike since April 6, in a move which forced Atlantic Greyhound to suspend all of its service.

Atlantic Greyhound operates in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida and the District of Columbia.

Greyhound said that its last proposal, "submitted to the Motor Coach Employees Union through the U.S. conciliator" would provide an increase in driver earnings of up to 15.9 per cent over the prestrike base rate.

The union has insisted the increase would not be that high because a program under which Greyhound drivers have received a 5-per cent bonus shortly before Christmas each year would be dropped.

Poppy Day

Poppy Day will be observed here and throughout the Nation May 23, the Saturday before Memorial Day, as announced by Mrs. James R. Worley, president of American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 58.

All contributions received for the poppies are used for the Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare funds.

From these funds help was given in the past year to eight local families of veterans, including 22 children; money and gifts sent to gift shops for the men in veterans' hospitals, and gifts sent direct to the men for special days. This work will be continued the coming year, depending on the contributions received for poppies.

Six N. C. Prison Camp Escapees Are Captured

ASHEVILLE (AP)—All but one of the seven prisoners who escaped Friday from a Yancey County road gang have been captured, Yancey Prison Camp Supt. Ralph England reported today.

England said LeRoy Matthews, 26, of Charlotte, serving 16-15 years for breaking, entering and larceny, and Lewis Doby, 29, of Salisbury, serving 5-10 years for larceny, were captured in Charlotte last night after being held in jail there.

Still at large is Bobby Miller, 29, also of Charlotte, who was serving 10-15 years for robbery.

Prison officials said John D. Crocker, 24, of Elon College, was captured late yesterday after he allegedly forced two South Carolina women at gunpoint to drive him 15 miles along the Blue Ridge Parkway and stole and wrecked a car. Crocker was serving 5-7 years for larceny.

Three of the prisoners were apprehended Friday night. They were Grover Heaton, 35, of Winston-Salem, Howard Crumpler, 40, of Durham, and Lloyd Hite, 33, of Rockingham.

The seven men knuckled out a guard with a rock, took his pistol and shotgun and fled in a prison truck.

Officers said Crocker placed a log on the Blue Ridge Parkway and stopped a car containing Miss Sarah Bowman of Aiken, S.C., owner and driver of the car, and Miss Ellen Haasis, also of Aiken, a passenger.

They told officers Crocker crept out of the bushes, flashed a pistol and got into the back seat. After forcing them to drive him 15 miles towards Asheville, he put them out and took the car, officers said. The about one mile north of Lake Tahoma. A car following the escapees stopped to investigate. The motorist said they saw that the man crawling from the vehicle was wearing prison garb and they pulled away. As they did so, Crocker fired two shots at their car, they told officers.

Crocker, offering no resistance, was arrested in the wooded area near the wrecked car.

Says His Record Can't Last Long

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fiercer who won his race with the sun from coast to coast and back doesn't think his record will last long.

"After all the Sabre Jet is six years old," said Lt. John M. Conroy, of the California Air National Guard. "There are faster fighters."

On Saturday, Armed Forces Day and the 28th anniversary of Lindbergh's landing in Paris, Conroy set a breakfast in Los Angeles, lunch in New York and dinner in Los Angeles again.

He flew the Sabre, nicknamed the "California Boomerang," about 5,085 miles in 11 hours 26 minutes 33 seconds, including the time for quick turnaround refueling stops and lunch in New York. That averaged about 446 m.p.h.

Conroy's east-to-west flight in 8 hours 27 minutes 37 seconds shaved more than an hour off Paul Mantz's 1947 mark of 7:00:04. His west-east leg, however, was slower than the mark of 3:46:33 set by Air Force Lt. Col. Robert D. Scott last March 10 in an F84F.

The lieutenant made the flight, he said, to demonstrate the combat potential of National Guard planes, pilots and personnel.
