Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

In recognition of 77 years of medical missionary service under the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in India, Miss Edith Lacy, M. D., of Louisiana, Va., and Dhulia, India, was recently honored by the Lynchburg (Va.) College Alumni Association. She was the recipient of the "Thomas Gibson Hobbs Memorial Alumni Award" for humanitarian service. The award was made by the Rev. Hugh Burleigh, alumni president. Dr. Lacy, graduate of Lynchburg College and of the Medical College of Virginia, is superintendent of Suvarta Memorial Hospital, in Dhulia, West Khandesh, India. His dispensary serves 15,000 people each year.

The board of managers of United Church Women—a National Council of Churches' department representing some 10,000,000 Protestant women—has called upon its members "to use their influence for a much wider support of United Nations Day." Meeting in St. Louis, Mo., the board said it made the appeal "because of deliberate attempts to weaken support of the United Nations and to confuse loyal American citizens" regarding the observance of United Nations Day on October 24th. "There is no conflict between complete allegiance to our country and the patriotic support of our country's participation in the United Nations," the church women declared. They urged local councils to uphold public officials, local and state, as they carry out the request of the President.

Japan recently celebrated the seventh anniversary of the granting of suffrage to women (at the age of 20) with meetings, debates, radio programs, etc., all around the topic. "What women should do as social beings" and urging women to take an active part in the community life—in the old Japan they were pretty much confined to the home. The government has taken over the promotion of the anniversary now as "Women's Week," with suggestions and programs aimed at "the elevation of women's position in society."

Mrs. Douglas Horton of New York, and Cambridge, Mass., a vice-president of the National Council of Churches, has been appointed by President Eisenhower to the committee planning next winter's White House Conference on Education.

Funeral Held Today For Mrs. O. L. Joyner

Mrs. Annie Lynn Forbes Joyner, 82, widow of Othos Leland Joyner, died in Pitt Memorial Hospital at 2:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had been in failing health for the past year and critically ill for the past few days.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Graham Flanagan, with whom she made her home, at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Rev. Percy Upchurch, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, assisted by Dr. W. I. Wolverson and the Rev. Edward Sharp, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, conducted the services. Burial was in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Joyner, daughter of the late Alfred Archibald and Anastasia Christiana Forbes, was a native of Greenville and a member of the Memorial Baptist Church. Mr. Joyner died in 1929.

Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. S. C. Caswell of Detroit, Mich., and Pompano Beach, Fla.; Mrs. E. Graham Flanagan of Greenville; and Mrs. Helen Weed of Beverly Hills, California; three sons: O. L. Joyner, Jr., of Greenville, Julian H. Joyner of Bennettsville, S. C., and Carl M. Joyner of Detroit, Michigan; 11 grandchildren; 5 great grandchildren; and three sisters: Mrs. J. S. Barr of Greenville, Mrs. L. M. Savage of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Frank Weaver of Wilmington, N. C.

Simpson Club To Join In Program

SIMPSON—Plans for each club member to take part in the Pitt County Progress program were made by the Simpson Home Demonstration Club at its meeting last week at the community building.

Twenty-one members and one visitor were present for the monthly session.

Central Committee for the progress program will be composed of Mrs. Johnnie Hardee, Mrs. Lyma Mills and Mrs. S. D. Tucker, Jr., club president.

Other committee chairmen include Mrs. R. H. Heath, clean-up campaign; Mrs. Hugh Mills, community drives and campaigns; Mrs. J. L. Edwards and Miss Lena Barron, beautification of churches and community buildings; Mrs. Johnnie Hardee and Mrs. Bruce McLawhorn, roadside development; Mrs. Robert Little and Mrs. Lyman Mills, community recreational program; and Mrs. R. H. Tucker and Mrs. Roy Edwards, beautification of homestead.

Several reports were given at the meeting. Mrs. L. C. Edwards gave a book report; Mrs. R. H. Heath gave a garden report; Mrs. W. B. McLawhorn gave a report on household pests; and Mrs. Roy Edwards reported on various kinds of cheeses.

A day was set to clean up the community building kitchen and to varnish the cabinets and the interior of the kitchen.

Demonstration for the afternoon, on using dried milk in main dishes, was presented by assistant Home agent, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, who prepared two dishes, cheese strata and meat loaf.

These dishes were sampled during the refreshment hour when the hostesses, Mrs. W. B. McLawhorn and Mrs. R. H. Heath, also served sandwiches, cookies, potato chips and iced drinks.

Warren Scoville Receives Fellowship

Warren C. Scoville, professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles, is the recipient of two fellowships for foreign study during the coming year.

Scoville has been notified that he has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship, granted by the Department of State, for a year's research study in France. He has also been granted a Guggenheim stipend, which he will apply on the same project.

He will spend the coming year gathering information from the National Archives and Library in Paris on the subject of "The Activities of the French Council of Trades, 1700-1791." On a previous Guggenheim fellowship in 1948-49, he spent a year in Paris studying the influence of the Huguenot migration on the economic life of France.

Scoville has had two books published and is completing work on a third one which grew out of his study of the Huguenots. He is the son of Mrs. V. P. Scoville of Greenville and the late Rev. Scoville. He and his family will leave in July for France.

Group Promotes Grace At Meals

By SANDRA NEMSER AP Newfeatures

WALTHAM, Mass.—The Chamber of Commerce has turned to prayer. It uses its own funds to prepare grace cards with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish prayers appropriate for use before meals. They are distributed to restaurants, hospitals and private homes.

Earl J. Arnold, secretary, says 40,000 have been sent out since 1953. He hopes it has helped to "make better men as well as a better city."

Hundreds of letters show wide interest in the project. They include requests for cards and thanks for the revival of prayer before meals.

Arnold's inspiration came from Mamaroneck, N.Y., where a local pastor and his family stirred interest when they said grace in a restaurant. A Mamaroneck group was formed to distribute grace cards and the Waltham Chamber of Commerce followed suit.

Idea Spreads
Now a large restaurant chain has printed its own place mats with the prayers on them, and a manufacturer has started supplying grace napkins.

Arnold will send a sample of the card to anyone who writes for it. Many organizations print their own cards to distribute to employees, at dinners or include with presents.

"I don't know how many people we've inspired," Arnold says. "But I do feel we have played a part in the great nationwide return to religion and things spiritual." These are the three prayers on the cards:

Catholic
"Bless us, O Lord and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty Through Christ our Lord. Amen."

Jewish
"Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

Protestant
"Bless O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' Name. Amen."

Church To Join Vigil Of Prayer

As a part of the nation-wide, year-long prayer vigil being sponsored during 1955 by the General Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church, the St. James Church of Greenville will observe a 24-hour prayer chain, beginning at 6 p. m. Wednesday, June 1, the Rev. J. Malloy Owen, minister of the church, announced today.

At least two persons will be praying in the church at all times during the 24-hour period. Individuals have volunteered for specific hours, including both the working hours of mid-day and the wee hours of the night and early morning.

"World revival and world freedom and peace" are the main objects of the nation-wide prayer movement, which was initiated January 1. Over 1000 Methodist Churches are participating. The congregation of the St. James Church voted on January 2 to become a part of the chain. Other churches sharing the same 24-hour period are located in Syracuse, N. Y., Hardtner, Kan., and West Pembroke, Me.

Mitchell E. White, Jr., Prayer Chairman for the St. James Church, outlined the procedure to be followed in the unusual all-day and all-night prayer meeting. "As a new group comes to take over the watch, they will meet the old group at the altar where the two groups will pray aloud the Lord's Prayer. Then those being relieved will leave the Sanctuary in silence."

"Any person outside the St. James congregation who wishes to join us in this prayer adventure is cordially invited to do so," White continued. The new church is located in the eastern suburb of Greenville, on Forest Circle at East 6th Street.

"A prayer suggestion sheet will be handed each worshiper upon arrival at the church," the minister stated. "Individuals may use written prayers or pray extemporaneously. They may kneel at the Altar or remain seated. They are requested to pray silently and there is to be no conversation in the Sanctuary during the prayer vigil," he added.

Supper Party Friday Fetes Bridal Couple

On Friday evening Miss Anne Keziah entertained at a barbecue supper at her cottage at Bayview for Miss Betty Lou Shackelford and Mr. Stuart MacDonald Shinn, whose marriage will take place in June.

The bride-elect was presented a crystal bowl by the hostess. After supper, guests enjoyed boating.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hardee, Charles Williams, Carolyn Bilbro of Washington, Betty Jane Jackson, Warren Browning and Mrs. J. E. Keziah, mother of the hostess.

Dr. Harry Robert Wilson, conductor of the choir of Teachers College, Columbia University, and Herbert L. Carter director of bands at East Carolina College, pictured above, will direct choral and band activities at East Carolina's second annual Summer Music Camp, scheduled for July 18-31.

Dr. Wilson is widely known as a composer, director, and author of text books on choral organization and conducting. Mr. Carter, a member of the East Carolina faculty since 1946, is former president of the North Carolina Bandmasters Association.

Plans for the camp have been announced by Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, chairman of the East Carolina department of music and director of the camp. Students who enroll, he states, will have a well-rounded musical and social program, supervised by skilled teachers and staff members, including seventeen band and choral directors in high schools.

Continental Swank Now Available For Small Fry

AP Newfeatures
There's nothing that pleases small fry as much as having clothes just like Dad's—or Mom's.

Newest contribution to this type of juvenile joy is an authentic trench coat, made in Germany, complete with shoulder epaulets, yoke back, stitched belt, high turning collar, deep pockets and plaid lining. Boys and girls feel as dramatic as their favorite TV sleuth when wearing this dashing garment, which also is water-repellent, wind-resistant and washable.

The same styles are made for all the family—Mom and Pop as well as Sis and Junior—and they're selling like hot-cakes in the United States.

It's a strange thing and one on which clothing manufacturers might ponder, that fads may come and fads may go, but there are a few classic styles that go on forever.

One is the camel's hair polo coat, as popular today as it was 20 years ago. Another is the middy and skirt, which returns periodically to fashion favor—as for instance right now.

The plain one-piece wool-knit bathing suit is another item which always comes back. And then there's the oilskin slicker, which never has gone out of style since the flapper era and is one of the best-selling garments in the juvenile wardrobe today.

The reason must be that all these things are functional, make sense, have no unnecessary frills or furbelows and don't cost too much.

The same is true of the trench coat, which was born during World War I and has been going strong ever since, with a big boost during World War II and now added impetus from current TV foreign correspondent thrillers.

JUNIOR COUNTERSPIES . . . They're dressed just like their favorite TV sleuths in regulation imported trench coats, water-and-wind-repellent and washable.

Congress Should Pass A Highway Bill

The need for more good roads in the United States is unchallenged; it is the means of providing those highways being argued in Congress today.

Everybody is involved, even the people who do not drive or own a motor vehicle, for the obsolescent status of most of the nation's highways affects them too. Such factors as congestion, extra gasoline, brake and tire wear, traffic accidents and time lost by commercial vehicles over all roads in the country amounts to $3 billion a year. The Automobile Manufacturers Association, in citing this unhappy fact of life, points out that that extra cost is inevitably passed on to the consumer for what they have to buy.

There are now 3,866,000 miles of highways in the U. S. Two out of every three miles of that network are considered inadequate; at least one out of every three miles is unsafe for driving. More than 58 million vehicles are in operation, clogging the highways.

Symptomatic of the condition of our present highways, the Automotive Safety Foundation says that of 10,050 bridges in the rural interstate system, 8,187 of them are below standard width; the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads says that only 919,000, or one-fourth of the total highway network, are paved.

Further, the Safety Foundation reports that on the interstate rural roads, 15,115 curves are sharper than standard, 560 grades exceed the maximum and 916 other grades are too steep for prevailing traffic conditions. These are all contributing factors to the higher accident rate on rural roads.

Vacationers this summer will stick pretty close to the well-traveled roads their maps outline as the easiest and best routes to their destination. The roads will be very busy. Everyone will be using the same maps. Should a few, though, break away from the remarkably few "good" routes, their eyes will be opened.

The Clutter-Clutter Cutters Are At Work

We've been noticing a special late afternoon sound that has friendly overtones and carries too an inviting appeal to do some yardwork.

Lawnmowers are emitting their clutter-clutter-clutter that signals a practical application of householders' pride; you see lawns being sprinkled, hedges trimmed, flower beds brooded over and . . . well, it's catching.

There are few signs so obvious of pride and interest in homes, as well-kept lawns and a few flowers in evidence. Too, we must concede, another factor is involved.

The urbane misses a not-too-clearly defined satisfaction of tilling the soil his rural neighbors know so well. Agriculture is a part of his forgotten heritage, and perhaps there is an element of racial memory that calls insistently for the feel of the soil . . . the care of growing things. One could speculate endlessly on the lures of a lawn or flower bed.

But there is no denying this simple fact: Despite all the vehement complaints about caring for the lawn and flowers, the plaintiff does find a satisfying peace of mind in the midst of his toils. And when he is through, he straightens his creaking back to admire the effect. Lo, he finds it pleasing to look upon; even to his super-critical eye.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
OUR WONDERFUL NEIGHBORS
We had a twister in our town recently. It swooped out of the west, skipped over some broad farming country, and then struck a lumber yard and smashed with immeasurable force into the warehouse of a moving and storage company. Seven thousand square feet of roof swirled into space and two fortress-thick side walls crumbled.

This is a college community. People are intent on research and the exploration of ideas. Yet what happened as a result of that twister caused everybody to exclaim in admiration. The community arose as one man and rushed to the assistance of the lumber yard and storage company. Competitors went in their trucks. One of the business clubs adjourned immediately after lunch and some of the members were carrying boxes and furniture at eleven o'clock that night. Both banks in the community got in touch with the unfortunate firms and told them to call upon the banks for any funds that might be required. People whose furniture was endangered seemed to forget their own loss and to be conscious only of the embarrassment and loss the storage company confronted. Lumber yards that had been competing vigorously with the unfortunate firm that was hit by the twister marshalled their forces and sent in all the aid they could.

Sometimes it takes a twister to make us realize how good our neighbors are.

U. S. Is Declared 'Religious'

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—Senator Matthew M. Neely's criticism of President Eisenhower's church-going habits on Sundays, and national holidays like today, has reacted in a surprisingly favorable manner for the family in the White House. It has led the President to declare officially that the United States is a "religious nation," although that matter has been debated by the constitutional experts for many years.

Possibly from shock at the West Virginia Democrat's dragging the Chief Executive's church attendance into politics, churchmen of every denomination have refuted Neely's slur. Indeed, they have testified that, in their opinion, "The Eisenhowers are an exemplary Christian couple."

PASTOR'S OPINION—Ike's own pastor, Dr. Edward L. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church at Washington, describes the President as "a symbol of the religious awakening in our land." Dr. Elson also advised men to emulate Ike's Sunday routine—namely, to go to church before heading for the golf course.

Billy Graham, the Baptist revivalist, has told British audiences that the Eisenhowers' example had contributed to larger church attendances in "the States."

Business Today

Two Housing Views

By ELMER ROESSNER

There are two contrary views about the future of housing. One group of economists believes that while construction may not necessarily continue at current peak levels, it will continue at a rate of more than a million a year indefinitely.

Another group believes that the boom is nearing its end and that surplus housing will soon appear, followed by a sharp drop in the building rate.

Among the latter are V. Lewis Lassie, director of the University of Illinois Bureau of Economic and Business Research.

Although the current strength of the housing market indicates that there may be little decline this year and possibly no much next year, Prof. Lassie writes in the Illinois Business Review, that last year's action to stimulate the boom will only deepen and prolong the eventual depression in housing. Mr. Lassie holds that in liberalizing financing terms last year the government has done all it can to prevent a depression in construction, short of developing a large-scale construction program of its own.

He says that the more complete the saturation now, the less there will be to build later. And once a surplus develops, the only way to liquidate it is to curtail new construction until demand catches up.

On the other hand, builders say that the American attitude toward home building has so completely changed that construction will continue above a million units a year and, within a few years, the average will rise. Before the war, they point out, a third of the people lived in slums and less than half the families owned their own homes. Home ownership rose from 45 per cent of the families in 1940 to 55.9 per cent in 1950 and may be close to 60 per cent now. The rise in family incomes has diminished demand for substandard housing and increased demand for homes and good apartments.

If the present demand for housing shows signs of tapering off, there are two other markets that can be further developed: homes for elderly couples and homes for vacations, commented upon here the other day. The National Association of Real Estate Boards reports that more elderly couples are maintaining separate households today than in any previous period.

Housing starts in April, incidentally, were 127,000, the highest number for any April since 1950. That makes 421,600 starts for the year so far.

YOU HAVE TO BRING YOUR OWN GARLIC NOW

An advertising agency for a spaghetti sauce manufacturer proposed to impregnate its advertisements in the New York subway with the aromas of oregano, tomato paste and garlic. The agency said car cards so impregnated could be smelled up to 20 feet away and that they would remain redolent for 48 days.

The Transit Authority said no, no, NO!

40 PER CENT OF CONSUMER DEBT COVERED BY INSURANCE

Almost 40 per cent of consumers' outstanding debts are covered by life insurance today, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. At the start of the year, life insurance companies had $10,241,000,000 worth of credit insurance in force, it reported. This covered 39 per cent of the outstanding consumer indebtedness.

Credit life insurance pays either the balance due or the total purchase price in event the buyer dies before payments are complete thus protecting both the seller and the buyer's family.

Industrial And Chemical Research, Friend Of Farmer

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK — Industrial and Chemical Research—not Federal Aid—is the farmer's best bet. Although most American farmers appear to be doing pretty well, I am keenly aware of the drop in farm income which has occurred during the past two years. Despite the best-intentioned government price-support program—or perhaps because of it—we still have a farm problem in this country which could easily erupt into a serious social cancer.

I remember well what happened to the farmer in the thirties and what happened to the rest of the economy as a result of the decline in the farmer's economic position. In those days, the farm problem was certainly a more pressing public issue than it is today. At least, it evoked more discussion in business and political circles.

Verdict On Legislature Depends Upon The Viewpoint

By LYN NNISBET

VIEWPOINT — Whether the General Assembly which adjourned Thursday was good or bad, strong or weak, in its handling of matters coming before it depends almost entirely upon the viewpoint of the appraiser. Those who got enacted legislation they most wanted naturally think it was good legislation. Just as naturally those who saw pet projects thrown on the trash pile think it was bad.

Many State agencies and departments are disappointed at not getting as much money as they felt they were entitled to have for expansion of services. Particular segments of the taxpayer's citizenry upon which new or additional taxes were made are unhappy. On the other hand the run of mine citizens are pleased that the legislators were able to balance the budget without serious curtailment of service and without increasing the tax burden on most of them.

OLD PROBLEMS — Except for the necessity of finding new sources of general fund revenue and dealing with the segregation issue in March of this year, the recent Legislature were the same as previous sessions had also faced—or ducked. The fact is, despite caustic criticism for lack of remedial legislation in many fields, the 1955 Assembly did more than several of its predecessors to relieve conditions with respect to overloaded courts and duplication of effort by State agencies, departments and institutions.

The practice of arbitrary cancellation of accident and health insurance policies and exorbitant personal loans have been before the past three or four sessions. Substantially more protection for policy holders and borrowers was provided this time, and control of the Commissioner of Insurance over operations in this field was strengthened.

REAPPORTIONMENT — The recent Legislature has been castigated by editors and open forum writers for failure to obey the constitutional mandate to reapportion legislative membership. That criticism was also leveled at the 1951 and 1953 sessions, when it was perhaps more appropriate. This Assembly did nothing about that matter, but it did rearrange and increase the number of judicial districts, affording adequate manpower on the bench, something which has been recognized as sorely needed for more than ten years.

Early hopes that this year might see reforms in the justice of peace system were not fulfilled. Comparable effort was made with similar results, or lack of results, as in the General Assemblies of 1939, 1943 and 1949. One short step toward improvement was taken in repealing the laws authorizing the Governor to appoint justices of the peace.

SAFETY — Many people were disappointed that there was no more progress in traffic safety legislation. Proposals for mechanical inspection of motor vehicles were voted down, as they were in 1951 and 1953 following 1946 repeal of the act which had been in effect for two years then. Numerous amendments were made to the "rules of the road" designed and expected to promote safety and make enforcement easier. Majority of the House membership successfully resisted efforts to outlaw the "whammy" and other enforcement gadgets.

This might be termed "negative progress," for that it prevented abolition of what highway patrolmen consider important weapons in the fight for traffic safety.

There was difference of opinion among legislators and the public as to the merits of the act requiring all highway patrol to be painted uniform black and silver for identification. The legislative majority regarded the act as an aid in prevention of accidents and violations as contrasted with catching the culprit after a violation.

ABSENTEES — Another old friend of the agenda, bobbing up every session since World War I, was the absentee ballot and other election reforms. Here again only a token gesture was made toward improving conditions. Condemnation for failure to act, however just or proper, must be shared by every Legislature since 1939 when civilian absentee ballots were outlawed in primaries.

MARINE RESEARCH IS ALSO 'NEEDED'

In addition to their work in the agricultural field, the Council could encourage further studies of the mineral and other wealth cradled in the two great oceans. These flow up to the very doorstep of our land along more than 4,800 miles of coastline. These oceans are a storehouse of organic and inorganic matter of great actual and potential importance to industry. As our soil is getting poorer with every hard rain, our oceans, into which the rivers empty, are getting richer.

For example, a large number of chemical elements are found in crab meal and fish meal. Fish products contain aluminum, barium, calcium, chromium, copper, fluorine, lead, lithium, magnesium, manganese, nickel, phosphorus, potassium, silicon, silver, sodium, strontium and zinc! Truly the resources of the sea provide plenty of opportunity for the new College of Fisheries at Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Worth Noting

WOOL AND COTTON CLAIMING COMEBACKS

Cotton and wool fabric makers say that demand for synthetics has slowed down and sales of natural fabrics have taken an upturn.

The introduction of several treatments for cotton fabrics, making them crease resistant and so smooth they need no ironing has helped the cotton recovery. Laminating cotton fabrics with plastics has also increased cotton sales.

WORKIN' YOUNGSTERS STILL TAX EXEMPTIONS

If sons or daughters want to work this summer—let them! In years past, if a scion earned $600 or more, the parents lost an exemption. But under the law as amended last year, each child under 19 and each full-time student at an educational institution counts as one exemption as long as:

- 1. The father supplies more than half the child's support.
- 2. The child is not married and filing a joint return himself.
- 3. If the child has an income, he must make a return—but he's still a darling exemption.

They are still trying selfishly to possess them even beyond the grave.

Would the dead be cheered by this attitude? Do they want to be recalled in sorrow and alone? The best way to remember our dead on Memorial Day is around the kindling bonfire of many memories, shared with as many friends as possible.

"Oh, sure, and how about that time he—"

Then, indeed, does our vanished one rise and walk among us, glad as he once was, and alive as we are now.

Front Lawn Is Wrong Place For Slot Machines

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — Van driver David Diaz, 29, unloaded 11 slot machines on Mrs. Patricia Shedley's front lawn. All he wanted to do was give Mrs. Shedley her furniture which he had picked up in Bremerton, Wash.

It just happened that later in Tacoma he had picked up the machines for delivery in Las Vegas, Nev. He had to remove them to unload the furniture.

Some of Mrs. Shedley's neighbors called vice squad officers. They confiscated the machines and cited Diaz for their illegal possession.

"How," moaned Diaz yesterday, "was supposed to know it's against the law to haul the machines through California?"

Men do not know where cosmic rays come from.

Private Samuel C. Winchester, Jr. (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Winchester of Greenville Route 2, has completed qualifying as a paratrooper with the Headquarters Detachment, 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Awards Going To ECC Students Are Announced

Awards presented at the end of the school year to students with outstanding records in scholarship and leadership at East Carolina College have been announced from the office of President John D. Messick of the college.

Additional awards made in the department of business education have been announced by Dr. Elmer R. Browning, director of the department.

Shirley Lassiter of Four Oaks will hold during the 1955-56 term the annual Alexander B. Andrews Scholarship, given to a junior or a senior woman student with a superior record in academic work and leadership in campus activities.

Joseph P. Rowland of Greenville, who served during the present school year as chairman of the Collegiate Division of the North Carolina Academy of Science, was chosen by members of the department of science at the college here as winner of the James Fenly Spear, Jr., Memorial Award to an outstanding student majoring in science.

Dalton Mann of Manns Harbor, senior mathematics major, received the annual memorial award given in honor of the late Maria D. Graham, a charter member of the East Carolina faculty.

Donald C. McGlohon of Winterville and Howard Rooks of Turkey were joint recipients of the Thomas Clay Williams Memorial Scholarship Award for outstanding work in the department of business education.

Willie E. Holland of Wilson won the 1955 John B. Christenbury Memorial Trophy, presented annually to a senior who is a member of a varsity athletic team and who has been outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and service to the college.

Awards, announced by Dr. Browning, have been presented in the department of business education as follows:

Belinda Newsome of Fremont, the Student Government Association Award for service in the department; Fatsy Smith of Greenville, the Smead Professional Award; and Keith Goodson of Greenville, the Journal of Business Education Award, each honor going to an outstanding teacher-training graduate of the department; and E.A. Thomas, Jr., of Wilmington, the Wall Street Journal Award, given to a man majoring in accounting and graduating with a superior record in scholarship.

Bulldozer Broke Telephone Cable

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A bulldozer cut a buried cable yesterday and knocked out 400 telegraph and telephone circuits.

M. H. Cunningham, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. test board supervisor, said about 50 per cent of the lines between Houston and Austin, Dallas and San Antonio were put out of service.

Crews were rushed from Austin to near Elgin, where the cable was severed. Most service was restored after about an hour. High-priority calls were transferred to emergency facilities, Cunningham said.

Family Of Seven Wound Up Wet

HAMPTON Court, England (AP) — Neil Dronfield, aged 8, fell off a bridge into the Thames River yesterday.

Frank Willingale dived in to save the child, then began to flounder himself. Mrs. Willingale went in to save her husband.

In the excitement the four Willingale children, ranging in age from 7 to 2, fell in after their parents.

Along came a calm stranger who pulled all seven out of the water and left with disclosing his name.

Certificates of proficiency in typewriting—Francene Carr and Barbara Dags.

Award to most lady-like girl in junior class—Mamie Johnson.

Music for the evening was provided by the class ensemble, which sang "One Melodious Song," with a vocal solo, "There's Just One Song," sung by Martha Reid, and a piano solo, Liszt's "Liebestraum" rendered by Maude Walters.

Awards for completing a course in bricklaying — Edward Bradley, Milton Cobb, Samuel Daniels and Bobby Jernigan. Award to the best student in shopwork—Samuel Daniels. Award for best attendance in shop—Milton Cobb.

Arrests Made By ABC Enforcers

Law enforcement officers from the Greenville Police Department, the Sheriff's Office and ABC men arrested two Negroes shortly after midnight Sunday morning in a raid on a Fleming Street home.

Taken into custody were David Earl Fleming and Neva Nelson Patterson, both of 801 Fleming Street. Officers found a crudely constructed bar at the residence plus a generous quantity of bootleg whiskey. Both subjects were charged with possession of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Fleming, in addition, was cited for interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty.

Meanwhile, about 9 p.m. Saturday, officers arrested William Shivers, 37, at his Manning Road home in Bethel when they allegedly came upon him selling bootleg whiskey. Officers taking part in the Saturday night raid included deputy sheriffs Lloyd Manning and Jack Russell, Bethel policemen Walter Gray and D.C. Martin and ABC officer H.B. Lilley.

Rest Of Nat'l League Should Begin To Chilly Winds Handicap Drivers At Indianapolis

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

It's high time for the rest of the National League clubs to start taking the youth-minded Chicago Cubs seriously.

Six straight series triumphs and 13 victories in their last 17 games have entrenched last year's seventh-placers firmly in the runner-up spot, six games behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers and three in front of the defending champion New York Giants today.

With the only big name—outfielder Hank Sauer—sitting on the bench, the Cubs have been depending mostly upon sophomores and unheralded first-year men. And from the looks of things, they might wind up with both the Rookie of the Year and Sophomore of the Year honors.

It was sophomore Ernie Banks who drove in four runs with a grand-slam homer and it was rookie Bob Speake who scored three times and drove in the first of five runs in the big third inning that gave the Cubs a 9-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves yesterday.

The Dodgers took the rubber of their three-game series from the Giants 8-5 to maintain their six-game edge on the Cubs. Duke Snider, Junior Gilliam and Jackie Robinson homered.

Stan Musial's three-run homer helped the St. Louis Cardinals whip Cincinnati 7-2 and vault into fourth place as the Braves dropped to fifth, one percentage point ahead of the Reds.

Philadelphia ran its winning streak to seven straight with a 5-3 triumph over Pittsburgh but the Pirates were leading 8-3 as they came to bat in the seventh when the Pennsylvania curfew law halted the second game. The game will be resumed July 8.

Bob Grim won a brilliant 1-0 hurling duel from Baltimore's Artie Schallack as the New York Yankees took their sixth straight and their 13th in the last 14 games. Herb Score struck out five to boost his league-leading total to 32 as the Cleveland Indians defeated Kansas City 4-2. Chicago's White Sox thrashed Detroit 9-3 and Boston outslugged Washington 12-7.

Banks and Randy Jackson batted in seven runs between them in the Cubs' victory. Jackson's homer came with two mates aboard to give relief pitcher Hal Jefferson his sixth victory without a defeat.

The Dodgers wrapped up the game early, scoring five runs in the first three innings, four off starter Johnny Antonelli. The Giant ace, routed early for the third whiff of pulling a victory over Cleveland out of the fire. Trailing 4-1 in the ninth, the Athletics sent rookie Herb Score to the showers with three straight singles that scored a run. After Hector Lopez batted out a force play at third, Jim Finigan singled to load the bases with one out. Reliever Ray Narieski struck out Gus Zernial for the second out and Don Mossi, another relief pitcher fanned pinch hitter Elmer Valio to end the game.

Larry Doby smashed a 500-foot homer for the Indians.

Mike Fornieles scattered nine hits for his fourth White Sox victory. Chicago got to loser Ned Garver; hard, knocking eight runs over the plate in the first three innings Jim Kivera drove in two runs with a homer and scored three times.

Jackie Jensen batted in five runs with a pair of homers, a single and sacrifice fly and Ted Williams clouded double and triple as the Red Sox outlasted the Senators in a 31-hit spree Washington collected 17 hits.

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS — Chilly winds, almost as bad as those that plagued qualification runs both before and after the 39th running of the 500-mile auto race today.

Winds of 16 miles an hour, with gusts up to 25, blew scattered clouds over the big 2 1/2 mile track and kept a slow-arriving crowd of spectators bundled up in coats. But the Weather Bureau expected the clouds to clear around noon and forecast a top temperature of 70.

Jack McGrath of Inglewood, Calif., who set a new qualifying record at 142.580 on another windy day two weeks ago, noted the wind and said, "we'd rather do without it."

But the cool temperatures were expected to lengthen tire life and improve carburetion.

The miles of waiting cars where patient fans sat out a rainy, windy weekend, moved into the huge infield of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at 5 a. m. Countless tow-trucks were assembled on top of cars and light trucks to command a view of the big brick and asphalt track.

Purdue University's military band started the pre-race entertainment and Dinah Shore, television songstress, sang "Back Home Again in Indiana." She will kiss the winner.

Officials of the American Automobile Assn. contest board, which runs the show, freely predicted a track record unless accidents slow the race.

Bill Vukovich, of Fresno, Calif., was rated an excellent chance to become the first driver to win the 500 three straight years. He set a record of 130.84 miles an hour last year in spite of wrecks and a brief storm that forced over 21 minutes of running under the yellow "keep your position" flag.

Every one of the 33 starting cars ran well over 130 m.p.h. in time trials that reduced the original 57 entries, although 12 little dirt track cars sneaked into the lineup. Wind, wrecks and bad guesses on the qualifying minimum kept some of the faster big cars out of the lineup.

Clark (Shorty) Templeman, of Seattle, one of eight first-time starters, did an outstanding job for a rookie by qualifying an elderly dirt track car, the Central Excavating Special, in which Vukovich lasted only 29 laps in his first Indianapolis race four years ago.

The contenders, though, were Speedway veterans driving big, powerful cars built only to run on the 2 1/2 miles of brick and asphalt.

Six of last year's first 10 finishers were in the lineup. Besides Vukovich, they were Jimmy Bryant, Phoenix, Ariz., who was second and went on to win the 1954 AAA national driving championship; Jack McGrath, Inglewood, Calif., third; Fred Agabashian, Albany, Calif., sixth; Don Freeland, Los Angeles, seventh; and Cal Niday, Pacoima, Calif., tenth.

Mike Nazaruk, North Elmore, N.Y., who was fifth, and Larry Crockett, Columbus, Ind., ninth, since have been killed in racing accidents. Paul Russo, Fort Worth, Tex., eighth last year, wrecked his car in practice but escaped injury.

Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., 1950 winner, is the only former winner in the field besides Vukovich.

The size of the purse, a record $269,375 last year, helps the drive for that 45 persons have died from behind the wheel since 1909.

Somebody will get rich for about four hours' work but he won't know how rich until the annual victory dinner tomorrow night. The Speedway sets its share of the purse after counting the gate.

Vukovich won $74,934.84 last year for himself and his car owner and crew.

ally which accounted for four runs, but was not nearly enough to threaten the lead Farmville had built up in earlier innings.

Hinson was the winning pitcher for Farmville and Willford was credited with the Williamson loss. Farmville batters collected 10 hits with Sam Stell and Millard Webb both getting two for four. Williamson got seven hits.

In the Sunday contest, Farmville came from behind a two-run deficit in the first inning to tie the game at two-all at the end of the second. Farmville added three more in the fifth, one in the sixth, four in the eighth and one in the ninth. After the first inning Williamson was held scoreless until the seventh when they scored twice.

Jones was the winning pitcher for Farmville as Williamson batters collected nine hits, and Farmville batters hit safely 16 times. Bill Kennedy and Fred Pittman both got three for five for Farmville. L. Sexton was losing pitcher for Williamson.

On Wednesday Farmville will play in New Bern, and on Saturday will play Greenville in Farmville.

Jaycees And Exchange Teams Take LL Wins

The Jaycees and Exchange teams took LL wins in perfect condition Saturday by defeating the Elks 6-3 in Little League play while the Jaycees topped the Kiwanis 5-3 for their first win of the season.

For the Exchange team it was win number five in the Tar Heel league with Fountain doing the work on the mound and allowing Elks batters only three hits and holding them scoreless until the last inning. Sauve did the pitching for the Elks and allowed only five hits, but five errors on the part of his teammates aided the Exchanges in their win.

Nelster team could score in the first two innings, but in the third the Exchanges pushed across one run, came back with two more tallies in the fourth inning, and put the game on ice with three runs in the fifth. Hardee, Sauve and G. Br...

The Jaycees, in winning their first game of the season, overcame an early deficit to tie the game in the fifth inning and send it into extra innings for their victory.

The Kiwanie team grabbed the lead in the first inning with one run and came back in the second with another before the Jaycees could score. The Jaycees scored in the second and again in the third to tie the game. In the fourth the Kiwanis added another run, but the Jaycees tied the score again in the bottom of the fifth. The score remained three-all until the bottom of the eighth inning when the Jaycees pushed across two runs to win.

The Kiwanis scored their three runs on seven hits and committed four errors. The Jaycees collected their five runs on only four hits, and committed eight errors.

Aycock and Braxton collected three hits each for the Kiwanis team while Conway accounted for the other hit. For the Jaycees Jenkins, R. Johnston, Hodges, and Conway got one hit each.

Little League standings through Saturday's games are as follows:

Team	Won	Loss
Exchange	5	0
Moose	3	2
Pepsi-Cola	1	4
Elks	1	4
North State League
Lions	4	1

Overhaul Job On Card Staff

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Cardinals' pitching staff has had an overhaul job. Only two hurlers who started the 1954 season with the Redbirds are still with the club.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix and righthander Tom Poholsky are the holdovers. Those who have departed since the beginning of last season are: Vic Raschi, Gerry Staley, Stu Miller, Joe Presko, Al Brazle, Hal Wynn, Cotton Deal, Royce Lint, Bill Luna, Mel Wright, Carl Scheib, Bill Gresson, Ralph Beard, Ben Wade and Tony Jacobs.

Harrison Dillard, Olympic spring and hurdle champion in 1948 and 1952 respectively, received a special scroll from the Bolivian government in appreciation of his good will tour to that country.

Arcaro Reports Nashua Should 'Last Forever'

BALTIMORE — Figuratively speaking, jockey Eddie Arcaro says Nashua "should last forever."

But it's not going to take nearly that long for him to become the second million dollar horse in history at the rate he's going today.

Barely past the age of 3, Nashua has made William Woodward Jr. $569,990 already and he's built both physically and temperamentally to clean up at least twice that much before he's through with racing.

The $67,550 which he came away with by winning the Preakness Saturday put him about $130,000 ahead of Citation's earnings rate at that time in 1948. Citation went on to become the only winner so far of a million dollars, which he exceeded by $85,000.

Nashua's next big pot is the Belmont Stakes June 11 and no possible opponent in that mile and a half race looks good enough to beat him. Swaps, the Kentucky Derby winner and only one to whip Nashua in six races in the Kentucky Derby this year, isn't eligible.

Skein Broken

Greenville's scampiro Greenies of the Coastal Plain League saw their five game winning streak halted this weekend when the New Bern Bears tagged two defeats on the league.

The first game in New Bern Saturday night, the Greenies dropped a 7-5 encounter with the Bears. In Sunday's tussle in Greenville, Manager Junior Yohn's charges snatched out 21 hits but still dropped a 13-12 decision to the Bears. The double loss gives the Greenies an 11-6 record for the year.

6-Game Slate In Softball League

Six games are scheduled in City Softball League play this week.

Tonight in a doubleheader at Guy Smith Stadium, Southern Bread meets Carolina Dairy in the opener and National Guard plays Western Auto in the follow-up.

Tomorrow night the Grandees play Harris Super Market and on Thursday Western Auto meets the National Guard. Friday's doubleheader pits the Grandees against Carolina Dairies and Southern Bread against the Guard.

In other aspects of the city recreation program a release of the Little League standings show the Exchange heading the Tar Heel League and the Lions on top in the North State League.

The complete standings:

Team	Won	Loss

Abducted, But Found In Time

ATHERTON, Calif. (AP) — Frank Bennett, 17 of Marblehead, Mass., was the big hope of the senior class in its intramural track meet with the juniors at Menlo School.

Just at meet time, a motorist chanced upon Frank, elad in running shorts—tied to a telephone pole. Frank said he'd been kidnapped.

Police, sirens wailing, rushed Frank to the stadium. Seniors cheered wildly.

No, Frank didn't let 'em down and helped win the relay race, too.

STARVED DEER

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Conservation Department reports that approximately 5,000 deer starved in the state's Lower Peninsula last winter. Harry Ruhl, chief of the game division, said this indicated the state's deer herd and food supply for deer are still out of balance.

JUDGES' DILEMMA — Flo-Flo was supposed to compete alone in Paris, France, cat show, but inseparable companions Poussetta, the dog, and Chita, the monkey, tagged along as they've done for years. Trio is owned by Mrs. Georges Dandeloit, president of Society of Help to Animals.

Lyles Wins Third Coastal Golf Title

Graydon Lyles of Farmville won his third Coastal Golf Association championship in Greenville this weekend as he carded a par 144 for the 36 holes over the Greenville Golf and Country Club course.

A record number of 101 golfers from seven eastern North Carolina towns within the association participated in the annual tournament.

Lyles finished the first three rounds with an even par, and on the 26th hole yesterday shot a birdie four. On the 28th he went over par with a double bogie six for his only over-par hole of the final round. For the last seven holes of play, Lyles was one under par, sinking a six-foot side-hill putt on the 36th to cop the championship. Lyles previously won the championship on the Kingston and Farmville courses.

Through the 7th hole Lyles was one stroke behind Ben Harrison of Greenville but in the final 9-hole round Harrison went four over par for the last five holes after shooting par for the first four holes of the round.

At the end of 36 Harrison was

Two-Mile Time Will Be Facing Onslaught

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON — Now that the four-minute mile club is getting a bit crowded, the time has come today to talk of two miles and Sandor Iharos of Hungary.

Iharos is a 26-year-old clerk who runs everything from the 400 meters to the 5,000 meters (more than three miles), and excels in all events.

If the hard-training young man hadn't been knocked out in a bout of air sickness coming here Friday, Iharos would more than likely have upped the total of sub-four-minute milers in Saturday's fantastic race at the White City stadium to a rousing quartet.

What's more, Iharos in condition could have won that foot spectacle and perhaps brought the world record for the mile down to 3:57 or thereabouts. As it was, his second-string shadow, Laszlo Tabori, won in 3:59 while Chris Chataway and

Fishing Break For Youngsters

WESTFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Local cops should have no trouble enforcing a "no fishing by adults" ordinance in Lake Mindowaskin. The lake is across the street from the police station.

The ordinance barring the oldsters from the lake was adopted when the city fathers discovered the small fry had been shrouded away from vantage points around the small body of water.

Wes Santee Wins Mile; New Mark

READING, Pa. (AP)—Ace miler Wes Santee set a new mark of 4:0.4 for the Gerry Karver mile as he won the seventh annual edition of the race with ease yesterday but failed in another attempt to crack the four minute mile.

The Kansas cowboy cut 5.6 seconds from the old mark as he finished 59 yards ahead of runner up Horace Ashenfelter, Olympic 3,000 meter champion.

Survey Favors Night Baseball

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—If a survey made by the Norfolk Tars of the Class B Piedmont League is any indication, baseball fans prefer to watch the national pastime under the lights.

Tar General Manager Bill Herling sent out a questionnaire, received 93 answers. Only 37 said they preferred day baseball over night baseball.

A total of 287 said they favored an 8 p.m. starting time. The rest indicated they'd like to see the games start a half hour earlier.

Farmville Sweeps Weekend Games

Farmville's semi-pro team took two victories in Coastal Plain play this weekend by downing Williamson twice in lop-sided scores.

In Saturday's game the Farmville team beat Williamson 12-7, and Sunday afternoon the Farmville players won by a score of 11-4.

The week-end wins gave Farmville a 10-6 record so far this season in league play.

In Saturday's contest Farmville started the scoring with two runs in the first, added three in the fifth, four in the sixth, two in the seventh and one for good measure in the eighth. Williamson got its first run in the fourth inning, then added two more in the fifth. At the top of the eighth Williamson staged a

International Entries Named

WASHINGTON — Three more countries named today their tries in the international golf championships—Brazil, Japan and Scotland.

The tournament, the world's richest golf championship event at $150,000, will be played June 9-12 at Columbia Country Club in suburban Chevy Chase, Md. Twenty-five countries are expected to send two-man teams. Denmark and Sweden make up a 26th, playing as Scandinavia.

The addition of Brazil, Japan and Scotland brings the number of countries designating teams to 14. Officials of the tournament said they expect the other nations to name their entries by the end of the week.

Representing Brazil will be Mario Gonzales and Ricardo Rossi, who placed eighth in the field of 25 at last year's International tournament played at Montreal.

Japan, the only Far Eastern land entered, will be represented by Koicho Ono and Kashio Kusihara.

Eric Brown, a highly regarded Scottish pro, will team with John Panton to represent the Scots.

The United States will be represented by Chick Harbert and Ed Fusgol, last year's PGA and Open champions, respectively.

Hungarian Sets New 2-Mile Mark

LONDON — Sandro Iharos, 25-year-old Hungarian, today smashed the world record for the two miles with a clocking of 8 minutes and 33.4 seconds in the British Games Track and Field Carnival.

The Hungarian clerk, who had suffered air sickness flying from Budapest Friday and thus missed the treble four minute mile of Saturday, sliced seven seconds off the listed world mark of 8:40.4 set by Belgium's Gaston Reiff, at Paris in 1952.

Another Hungarian, Laszlo Tabori, who usually runs second to Iharos in mile competition, won the mile race Saturday in which three runners were clocked under four minutes for the first time in history.

Tabori was timed in 3:59 while Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson of Britain followed, both in 3:59.8.

Britain's Ken Wood came home in second place under the listed world record, being timed in 3:54.8.

Iharos finished about six yards ahead of Wood while the third place man, Brian Barratt of Britain, finished third about 80 yards behind but he turned in the exceptionally good time of 8:45.8.

Ft. Wayne Open Champion Didn't Bow To Pressure

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald can thank an iron game that neither high winds nor high pressure could crack for his first major golf championship, the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open.

The angular Bedford Heights, Ohio, golfer, fired a final-day 67 yesterday to regain the lead from defending champion Doug Ford, who had edged to the front of the pack the previous day with a 7-under-par 65.

Ford, who had to settle for 72 because of two early bogeys, finished in second place with 272, three strokes behind the new champion.

Finsterwald went three under par on the first four holes of his final round and was 19 under par for his four rounds over the Elks Country Club course.

The winner's prize of $2,400 was short of the $3,000 Finsterwald won for second place in the Colonial Open at Fort Worth two weeks ago. Ford's check here was $1,800.

Camera News

ACTION AND INTEREST are as high as the kite in this photo. No need to ask how it rates, compared to the usual type of posed view of a youngster. It won a prize for John Gajda of Detroit in a Popular Photography contest.

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The hibernation period for cameras is past and a new season starts for the summer snapshooters. More of them would become year-round picture takers if they didn't persist in making the same mistakes which result in bad pictures. Let's list these common errors so that you can pass them by and increase the percentage of good pictures.

Camera motion is probably Public Error No. 1. It is due to carelessness in handling and holding a camera and jabbing the finger on the button at the instant of shooting. The remedy is simple: make a conscious effort to hold the camera steady and apply a slow, gentle pressure to press the release button. Do not hold the camera in your hands for speeds slower than 1-25th of a second; steady it against a wall, tree trunk, etc., or rest it on a fence, bench, table or other handy solid object.

Bad backgrounds ruin a lot of pictures. Our eyes and our minds ordinarily see only the person or group we are shooting while the background, because of our three-dimensional vision, is literally out of the picture. In a two-dimensional plane, however, it pops up and assumes major—and too often unwelcome—importance. The remedy? Examine the background critically first. Often a slight change in shooting angle will make a vast improvement.

Make it a habit to check the mechanical adjustments on your camera for each shot: the focus, to prevent fuzzy pictures; the shooting speed and lens opening to avoid over- or underexposures. Often, in shooting a series on one occasion, there'll be a change in distance or in light conditions, but the tendency is to keep pressing the button automatically at the same settings.

Extremes close-ups require greater accuracy and more focus than other pictures. In focusing, there is less leeway and even a slight error will stand out. They are not meant for fixed-focus cameras except when using special portrait attachments which call for accurate measurements. Closer than six feet, a viewfinder's angle is different from the lens' view so allowances must be made or heads will be chopped down.

Double exposures are a wasteful menace but can be banished. All it requires is a fixed habit of turning the film immediately after snapping a picture. However, if you're ever in doubt don't take any chances—turn it again. It's better to waste one film than to ruin two pictures.

Tilting the camera is another common fault. Some do it unconsciously and others angle the camera deliberately, usually to get a tall building all in. While it can be done effectively, the usual result is a slight case of violent perspective and a sea-sick picture. It's better to back off more and keep the lines vertical and horizontal.

Lens hazards, such as the picture snapper's thumb, camera strap and the synchronizer cord, spoil enough pictures to warrant a warning. A special villain, which has caused many a photographer's blank look as well as blank pictures, is the usually protective lens cap. Make sure the lens is uncovered and clean.

Consistent light streaks in prints indicate trouble in the camera body or a pin-hole in the bellows. Occasional streaks along the edges or at the beginning or end of a roll of film are usually due to improper loading of the film. Always load film in subdued light never in strong light.

Too many posey, uninteresting pictures result from making an undue fuss about standing still for photos. Better results are obtained from shooting some sort of natural or rehearsed action. Even violent action sometimes has a peak or instant which can be stopped by snapshot speed. Try the formula of showing people, children and animals "doing something" and you'll see how much better it is than the usual "Stand still... look at me!" variety.

Labor Leader In N. C. Succumbs

SALISBURY (AP) — Charles A. Fink, one of the state's best known labor leaders, died here yesterday after an illness of several weeks. He was 67.

Fink, president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor for 18 years, resigned the post last March 20 because of his health. He became seriously ill 15 weeks ago. He had showed improvement but took a turn for the worse several days ago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. Preliminary services will be held by the Christian Science Church tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Peeler Funeral Home here. Grave-side rites will be conducted by the Salisbury Masonic Lodge.

Fink was elected president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor in 1937. He frequently lobbied in Raleigh during terms of the General Assembly. He was well-liked and was considered a conservative labor leader.

He had held many state posts including president of the North Carolina Railroad Commission, being appointed by Kerr Scott who was then governor.

A native of Rowan County, Fink went to work in 1911 as a streetcar motorman. He became an electrician at the Southern Railway car shops in nearby Spenser in 1918 where he remained several years before becoming an executive of the Federation of Labor.

GARAGE PAYS OFF
CHICAGO (AP) — Parking in Chicago's underground garage in Grant Park exceeded expectations for the first six months by 20 per cent. James H. Gately, president of the Park Board, said $497,307 was collected. Of this, $284,376 was profit. An average of 25,000 automobiles a week parked in the garage. Retirement of bonds issued to finance the project will begin next year, he said.

The average life of a U.S. motor vehicle has increased from 7 years in 1930 to 14.3 years.

College Or University? Michigan Eyes Answer

By ROBERT E. VOGES
AP Newsfeatures

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan State College is like a bride-to-be happily writing and rewriting her new name.

Effective July 1, the name will be Michigan State University.

The college is preparing to change stationery, signs and silverware and even will repaint the initials on the campus smoke stacks.

The business of making it legal wasn't easy however.

Originally established as an agricultural school in 1855, the college had mushroomed into a university in all but name.

The feeling on the campus at East Lansing was that the "University" tag would put the frosting on the cake for the 100th anniversary.

When the name change proposal was first introduced by the Michigan legislature last year, an angry roar of protest was heard from the University of Michigan at nearby Ann Arbor. The proposal was hastily withdrawn. But it was only a strategic retreat by MSC. When the bill came up again this year, the University of Michigan and its backers rushed in to do battle.

Arguments reached a stage of bitterness generally reserved for the intense football rivalry between the two schools. UM partisans declared that the proposed change would lead to horrible confusion and would dilute the prestige of the University. Willis would be drawn up leaving money to the wrong school, they said. MSC backers tartly countered that graduates of the University of Michigan School of Law should be qualified to see that this doesn't happen. MSC students dragged in a petition carrying 11,000 names. Letter-writers for both sides overwhelmed the lawmakers.

The sentiment was with Michigan State. A surprising 88-14 vote in the House and a 23-2 margin in the Senate approved the change. UM spokesmen admitted afterward their opposition had been "too little and too late."

In the absence of, but with the approval of, Gov. G. Mennen Williams Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart signed the bill into law. Ironically, both are UM graduates.

There is only one chance of a hitch now. The University of Michigan may still make a court issue out of the matter and ask for an injunction to prevent the change.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Sally Nelson of Michigan State College, which is becoming a university, thinks there is quite a bit. Here she changes the letters on her pennant.

Meanwhile, members of the senior graduating class were asked to vote on whether they wanted their diplomas on schedule from Michigan State College or would they prefer to have them mailed out late from Michigan State University.

The majority wanted to be University graduates with only nine favoring MSC diplomas. One rebel wanted a diploma from Michigan Agricultural School.

He Keeps On The Move Despite Loss Of Legs

SERVICE—John Canning, legless former police sergeant, cares for his paralyzed wife.

AP Newsfeatures

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — As a police sergeant, John F. Canning, 54, always got things done. Although he has lost both legs at the knee in 10 operations, he still gets things done for himself and his almost completely paralyzed wife, Emma.

Canning's home is as well cared for as if he had a staff of servants. And Emma blossoms under his care as if she had the best professional nursing.

Canning hurt his shins while on duty. He applied a little iodine and forgot them; there was infection, however, and the long series of operations followed. He had just got adjusted to getting along without legs when Emma slumped to the floor with a cerebral hemorrhage two years ago. She has been paralyzed since and has a bad heart.

A day in the Canning cottage goes like this: He rises early and gives Emma bed care, then wheels himself to the kitchen and prepares breakfast. His muffins could pose for a flour advertisement.

After breakfast, Canning puts on artificial legs. He lifts Emma from bed and puts her in a wheel-chair. Then he operates the vacuum cleaner from his own wheelchair and there isn't a speck of dust when he is through.

Having an invalid in the family makes for a large wash. Canning uses an automatic washer and hangs the clothes on a pulley line from a rear window.

After Emma has lunch Canning gets in the family car and does the marketing. But he still has time to spare so he is breeding parakeets and making cages for them.

He also makes visits to hospitals — to amputees who might feel sorry for themselves. "I give them hell and blast them out of their beds," said Canning.

Police Alerted, But Too Late

DENVER (AP)—Police were alerted that some boys about 12 had boarded a power derrick and started driving it away from a Denver University construction job. When officers arrived the machinery was still running, the derrick was draped in telephone wires snagged from nearby poles and the boys were nowhere to be seen. They are still being hunted.

ARRIVAL BY AIR—Parachute drops of 110 men, four 105mm howitzers and four three-quarter ton trucks were made in a mammoth airborne demonstration at the Artillery and Guided Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla. Sabrejets simulating air support dropped rockets to prepare the way for parachute landings. The maneuvers were observed by 3,500 spectators.

George Satisfied On Aid Bill OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) declared today he is "reasonably satisfied" the Senate will stick close to its Foreign Relations Committee report that it approve all the foreign aid money requested by the Eisenhower administration.

George said in an interview any final cuts in the 3 1/2-billion-dollar program for the year starting July 1 are likely to come in Appropriations Committee action.

George predicted failure for any Republican effort to put back in the bill a section by which roughly half of all foreign aid employees could be fired after July 1 without regard to civil service regulations.

The committee stripped that request of power from the bill. The major committee test to reduce the authorization, defeated 13-2, came on a move by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) to cut 317 million dollars in military aid from the bill.

George predicted Mansfield's amendment, to be reentered in the Senate itself, will serve as the main rallying point for senators trying to reduce the total.

A major area of discussion when Senate debate starts tomorrow is certain to center on urgent aid dollars voted in previous years. The committee bill contains a provision under which no more than 200 million dollars of unobligated or unreserved funds voted in past years may be carried over into the new fiscal year starting July 1. That amendment is likely to take some of the sting from the arguments of critics who contend that several billion dollars in past aid funds are still not obligated or committed for spending.

Wins Honors In Retail Ad Event

The Reflector advertising staff has received a second place award in the Newspaper Advertising Association of the two Carolina's "Best Retail Advertisements" contest.

Announcement of the award was made at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Merchants' Association held last week in Asheville.

Second place award was received for a Quinn-Miller and Stroud ad which was entered in the "furniture store advertisements" classification, one of ten in which ads could be entered.

The ad was prepared by Advertising Salesman Mike Brocado.

In entering the contest the Reflector was competing with other papers in the state published in cities with less than 25,000 population.

Trophies were awarded for the winner in each of the ten classifications, and ribbons for second and third place winners.

A three-man committee selected the winners.

BROTHERS IN ARMS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A pair of young brothers walked into a hospital together and walked out with new casts on their forearms. Ronald Satterfield, 7, said he broke his right arm when he ran into a tree. His brother Kenneth, 9, fell off his bicycle, fracturing his left arm.

Report Red China Air Power Challenging U.S. In Far East

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Official reports from the Formosa Strait indicate Red China's air power has reached the point where it represents a challenge to U.S. air strength in the Far East.

It is no secret that Peiping has pressed its air base rebuilding program without abatement all through its new campaign of soft talk.

The Reds are known to have done work on 20 airfields in the triangle between Shanghai, Hankow and Canton. Not all are ready, however. Some runways are still sprout grass and others are staked out but not yet built.

Nevertheless, 10 of them are believed capable of launching light jet bombers, 15 of sending up jet fighters and the other 5 of landing jets but not providing enough space for takeoffs of any but light, propeller-driven craft.

Of the 30 fields built by the Japanese during World War II and being restored by the Reds, 14 lie in easy jet striking distance of the Nationalist island of Formosa. Six others are on the outer perimeter.

Along with this data come reports of more and more new-type Russian MIG jets flying for the China Reds.

Without reference to Red China's air strength, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said yesterday he anticipates that the Air Force "will ask for 200 million more dollars soon to accelerate our heavy bomber program."

Mahon and Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.) on a Du Mont television program, discussed the reports of Russian aviation advances. Scrivner said he takes them "with a grain of salt."

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), former secretary of the Air Force, who has been prodding the Eisenhower administration to spur plane research and production, said on a recorded radio interview yesterday he thinks the Russian air force is "now larger" than this country's.

He called for a complete re-examination of the administration program for the Air Force.

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said on a CBS television program yesterday the United States may be losing control of the air to Russia, and he added that the administration "places greater value of dollars than on national security—greater emphasis on balancing the budget than on protecting the American people."

Degrees Presented 8 Pitt County Students At State College Sunday

Eight Pitt County graduates received degrees at North Carolina State College's graduation exercises yesterday.

Floyd Fuller Hendrix, Jr. of Greenville, graduated with honors, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in botany. John Jacob Stauffer of Greenville, received his Bachelor of Science degree in construction, also with honors.

John Sullivan Mayo of Greenville was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree in electrical engineering. Daniel Kenyon Owens of Greenville received the Master of Science degree in agricultural and biological chemistry; and David Marion Nobles of Stokes received the Master of Science degree in agricultural education.

James Edward Thorne, Farmville, was awarded the Bachelor's degree in ceramic engineering; Snodie Bond Wilson, Winterville, was awarded the Bachelor of Science degree in poultry-science; and William Harris, Ayden, received the Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural engineering.

Four From Pitt Graduate At ACC

Four members of the graduating class of Atlantic Christian College, where commencement exercises were held yesterday, are Pitt County residents.

The graduates are Mollie Hester and Peggy Nicholls, Greenville; James B. Hemby, Jr., Ayden; and Zeb Whitehurst, Farmville.

Hemby also received the faculty cup for the most outstanding general record in college.

Milestone

Last night marked a milestone for a Greenville area farmer.

He was brought to the police station on his 70th charge of drunkenness in the past 21 years. But the farmer still isn't top man in police record books.

Another subject, the records show, has been picked up 96 times since 1949 on the same charge.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By Nick Summer

CHAPTER THIRTEEN
A Broken Spur man had died by a nester's gun, and their roused temper demanded payment in kind. Perhaps no one but Rob Mallory could have held that temper in check. He gave no sign of noticing its voice. With a jerk of his head toward his riders, he ordered, "Take him up," and obediently Bill and Tip climbed down.

quite the way you do. Mallory's your friend. An' there's goin' to be a lot more feelin' the same way to be on both sides. Riordan," he added casually, "picked himself a good time to clear out."

"You know him better than I do," Cameron said politely, and changed the subject but Christie's mind kept coming back to it that night, after she was in bed and should have been asleep in her usual healthy sleep.

"Gettin' the second sight of your old age?" Cullen snapped. But his irritability only let his own uneasiness show the more clearly.

"Good men on both sides," Cameron added. "I suppose so. But I can't feel sorry for the nesters as I did. Oh, I'm not shedding any tears over Art Graves. Like you said, he was one of the wild bunch, and he probably had it coming to him. But Larrabee and his crowd stirrin' riled up, once there's been blood spilled. Bein' a stranger," he added, with an apologetic half-smile, "I reckon I can't feel it brains and dignity who would be an asset to a man with designs of cutting a wide swath in the world, even if she hadn't carried the inheritance of Slush T. That had been a card he hadn't figured on when he'd selected this country as his base of operations—but no one could say of Wayne Cameron that he didn't know how to make the most of any unexpected trump fate dropped in his hand.

Life In Warsaw Is Pretty Bleak For Most People

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Life in Warsaw is bleak by any but the lowest eastern standards. A poor quality overcoat or man's suit costs around 1,000 zlotys—a month's wage for the average worker in a construction gang and a half month's wage for a coal-miner, the best paid of Poland's manual workers.

Bread and potatoes cost up to twice the Western equivalent and meat and butter four times as much, even at reduced prices announced May 15.

Poland is in the midst of a reconstruction and industrial development. Western diplomats say its progress is slow but spectacular.

How do people react to this regime? At one extreme are the Communists, 100 per cent behind the Moscow line and growing in numbers at schools and universities turn out youngsters cast in the same political mold.

There were 1,728 U.S. deaths caused by floods between 1934 and 1934 of which 1,153 came in the first half of the period and only 575 in the second half.

N. C. Legislators' Burden Increased With Revising Of Budget Estimates

By ALLEN ALEXANDER
 RALEIGH (AP)—If the state's revenue estimate hadn't been repeatedly revised downward, the burden on the 1955 General Assembly shoulders would have been considerably lightened, and the session probably shortened.

When the lawmakers convened Jan. 5, they were told they would have to find 26 million dollars a year in new taxes to balance a budget of 637 million for the biennium.

When they went home last Thursday, they had adopted a budget of 641½ million and levied less than 10 million a year in new taxes.

The original tax recommendations of Gov. Hodges and the Advisory Budget Commission hit the legislators like a dash of cold water. High as the figures were, they merely continued state services at their current level and contained no appropriations for permanent improvements.

On receiving the recommendations, the lawmakers tightened their belts, stiffened their jaws, and gave the appearance of a general leading his troops into a disastrous battle ordered by a higher command.

But the determination "to get it over with" petered out. Sales tax collections, the best barometer of current business conditions, began zooming. The point was clear—North Carolina's economic picture was revitalized and far less than 26 million a year in new taxes would have to be levied.

This turnaround caused confusion and in a way increased the problem of the tax-writing Joint Finance Committee. In a sense it also became a problem of "who not to tax."

Three major tax proposals were incorporated in the original tax recommendations of Gov. Hodges and the Advisory Budget Commission.

One called for a tax of ¾ of a cent on soft drinks to yield more than $7,125,000 per year. Another called for a tax on manufactured

Blind Tot 'Sees' Helen Keller In Tokyo Meeting

TOKYO (AP)—Gentle hands reached out to touch the face of the tiny 5-year-old girl.

The child bowed her head.

"Never bend your head," came the soft advice. "Always hold it high. Look the world straight in the face."

Two of the world's blind had met in understanding—Helen Keller, who has spent all but 18 months of her 75 years in darkness, and Dorothy Ann Ciccoli, blind since birth.

Ever since Dorothy Ann was old enough to understand, her mother has held up Miss Keller as an ideal, mixing chapters from the life of the world-famous deaf and blind lecturer-writer with fairy tales and Sunday school lessons.

Yesterday Mrs. M. J. Ciccoli, wife of an Army major from Baltimore, Md., took her daughter to a reception tea.

Unable to get through the crowd of 500, Mrs. Ciccoli started describing Miss Keller to the child.

"But mother," she sobbed softly, "I want to see Miss Keller."

M. Sgt. Ivy G. Edmonds, 29, of Newark, Tex., a World War II and Korea and now a reporter for the Army "Stars and Stripes," heard the child. After working his way through to Miss Keller's lifelong companion Miss Polly Thompson, he whispered the child's wish.

Miss Keller insisted the crowd make room for the little girl.

Then she bent forward and gently touched the child's face.

The little girl reached upward, hesitated, then traced the worn, lined face with her fingertips. A brilliant smile replaced the tears.

The huge room, now silent, heard her whisper:

"Mother, I saw her. I saw Helen Keller."

ARTISTIC SHRUBBERY—Gus Yearicks shows grandson around garden of shaped hedges in Wildwood, N. J., on which he spent 26 years of spare time in trimming and shaping.

FOLK-DANCING QUFEN—Greece's Queen Frederika entertains subjects during royal tour of western Thrace by doing a folk-dance to accompaniment of a local two-man band.

TESTING AIR FERRY—A Westland S-55 helicopter nears Waterloo Air Terminal, London, during tests for service between terminal and airport by British European Airways. Eight-passenger craft is float-equipped for landing on Thames River.

tobacco products to raise nine million a year, most of this coming from a tax of 2 cents per pack on cigarettes.

A third proposal called for changes in the sales schedule to yield 7½ million. A variation of the third was the only proposal of the three winning final acceptance.

Soon after hearings on tax proposals began, it became obvious the finance committee had discarded the idea of taxing soft drinks.

This opened the door for the monumental fight of the session—should the state tax tobacco.

A coalition from the tobacco growing east and the tobacco manufacturing piedmont said it should not and seemed to hold the upper hand.

After Gov. Hodges addressed a joint session of the Assembly May 5, there was no doubt but that the tobacco bloc had won.

The governor cut the state's new tax needs for the next biennium an additional 17 million dollars. Whereas they previously had been trimmed from 52 million to 37 million, he said 19½ to 20 million would do the trick.

The governor pointed to the brightening economic picture. He said income tax collections should be improved. He said the revenue department could gross seven million during the next two years by spending an additional 641,000 for manpower. And he promised to continue economies inaugurated by the Umstead administration which would save the taxpayers another four million during the two-year period.

Working separately, the House and Senate finance committees not too long thereafter came up with tax bills which were in substantial agreement except for one major difference. This was on how to

Henry Fonda Admits He Hates Interviews

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Most of the Hollywood press corps would agree that Henry Fonda is an excellent actor, a fine fellow and a lousy interview.

Fonda himself would be the first to admit the latter. Like many Broadway-trained actors, he does not go along with Hollywood's conception of publicity. Unlike other actors, he resists conforming to the system.

He expressed his ideas with unusual frankness during a break in rehearsals for "Petrified Forest," which he is performing with Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall next Monday over NBC. The play has been done before on TV, but the cast obviously places it in the "spectacular" classification.

"When I first started on Broadway," he related, "I turned down the offers to go to Hollywood. They wanted me to come out at $75 a week or so.

"They offered me big money to do the film version of 'Farmers Take a Wife,' so I came out. I was fascinated. On the stage we were pretty proud of the set, which showed the blacksmith's shop, the canal over a hill and so forth.

"But at the studio, the blacksmith's shop had a real forge and the canal had water in it. I spent more time talking to technicians behind the scenes than I did acting before the camera.

"Because I was so fascinated by it all I went along with the publicity routine. But one interview changed all that.

"I came into the publicity department and met a fine magazine writer, a large woman who set her notebooks on a table and said, 'Now my story is called 'The Love Life of Henry Fonda.'

"I was taken aback, but I tried to answer her questions. Finally, I was so appalled that I said, 'I'm sorry, I can't go on with the interview,' and I fled.

"This made the writer so angry that she made up her own story and printed it under my by-line!"

Fonda was under contract to Walter Wanger at the time and the producer agreed with his views about fan publicity. The actor has not done any since.

landed 25 miles south of the Manchurian border.

Parks, 24, was shot down on his 59th mission Sept. 4, 1952.

The other 11 airmen held by the Chinese Reds on espionage charges were the survivors of a B29 bomber destroyed in North Korea Jan. 12, 1953, some six months before the fighting ended.

At the same time the Chinese announced these men had been sentenced to jail terms, they also announced the sentencing of two civilians, John Thomas Downey, of New Britain, Conn., and Richard George Pecteau, of Lawrence, Mass. U.S. officials said they were Army civilian employees.

Downey and Pecteau were given the longest sentences. Downey was sentenced to life imprisonment and Pecteau was given a 20-year sentence.

Peiping said they were captured Nov. 29, 1952, while dropping supplies to American espionage agents "in northeast China."

The 11 B29 men are Col. John K. Arnold, Silver Springs, Md., pilot of the plane, sentenced to 10 years by the Chinese Reds; Maj. William H. Baumer, Lewisburg, Pa., 8 years; Capt. Elmer Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., 5 years; Capt. Eugene Vaadi, Clayton, N.Y., 6 years; 1st Lt. John W. Buck, Armthwaite, Tenn., 4 years; 1st Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Banks, Ala., 5 years; T. Sgt. Howard Brown, St. Paul, Minn., 4 years; Airman Steve E. Kiba, Akron, Ohio, 4 years; Airman Harry M. Benjamin Jr., Worthington, Minn., 4 years; Airman Daniel C. Schmidt, Scotia, Calif., 4 years; Airman John W. Thompson III, Orange, Va., 4 years.

Hundreds of other American airmen and soldiers are thought to be missing in China, but the Chi-

'Best News' For Mother Of Flier

SWEA CITY, Iowa (AP)—"This is the best news we've ever had and it's the word we've been waiting for," the mother of Capt. Harold Fischer Jr. said today on receiving word her son is to be freed by the Chinese Communists.

Captain Fischer, 28, a double jet ace was shot down April 7, 1952, near the North Korean border.

The Fischers were among the first to accept a Chinese Communist invitation to visit their son early this year. The visit did not materialize however, because the State Department decided against it.

Mrs. Fischer said she has had faith all along that her son would be freed.

The flier's father said he has been pacing the floor ever since getting the hopeful word.

"That's about all you can do and thank God all your wishes have come true," he said.

The pilot's young son, Harold Fischer III, was awakened and told the news. He said, "Daddy's coming home, daddy's coming home." Then he promptly fell asleep again.
