Early Reports Show Over 7 Million 'Dead' In Bombings

'Martial Law' Follows Mock Raid

By STERLING F. GREEN
EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert (P) President Eisenhower spent from his hideaway White House today to the emergency headquarters of the Defense Department for a meeting with the National Security Council in the wake of yesterday's massive—but imaginary—atomic attack.

Minutes later came the all-clear. It was assumed that both hydrogen and conventional atomic bombs were dropped. Since the scattered locations at which key government officials are operating might be used in a real emergency, they are not being named nor pinpointed under a voluntary censorship system.

Modlin-Waters Vows Pledged In Double Ring Ceremony

The Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church was the setting of a candlelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon, June 4th, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Hilda Ann Waters, daughter of Mrs. Chester A. Tripp of Greenville, N. C. and the late Thomas A. Waters of Vanceboro, N. C., became the bride of Horace Everett Modlin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Modlin of Jamesville, N. C.

The vows were spoken before an altar decorated with greenery, white gladioli, gypsophelia and wrought iron candelabra with white burning tapers.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Bill Taylor, pianist, and Mrs. Joseph Lupton, soloist. Rev. James A. Evans, pastor of the bride, conducted the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, James P. Crawford, wore a bridal gown designed with nylon yoke edged with lace, pointed bodice of Chantilly lace fastened in the back with miniature covered buttons and tapering sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The waist length skirt, worn over hoops, had an overskirt of net trimmed with Chantilly lace panels which came to points about midway the skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a bandeau trimmed with a lace ruffle. She carried a white lace covered prayer book topped with a purple throat orchid and tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Levy Corey of Greenville was matron of honor and wore a dress of blue nylon tulle which was styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with which she used a matching stole and headress. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with matching net and ribbon.

Miss Lina Crawford of Greenville, aunt of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a pink nylon tulle dress which was styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with which she used a matching stole and headress, and carried a bouquet of orchid asters with matching ribbon.

Flower girls were Donna Denton, Brenda Morgan and Nancy Pate of Greenville. They wore dresses of pastel shades with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts with matching headresses and mits. They carried miniature baskets filled with yellow roses.

David H. Modlin of Jamesville, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were James Gurganus of Greenville, cousin of the bride, and Bill Holliday of Jamesville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tripp chose to wear a blue lace dress with white accessories and an orchid. Mrs. Ralph Keel, sister of the groom, wore a white dress with matching accessories and an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received guests in the vestibule of the church.

For traveling the bride changed to an ice blue dress trimmed with white lace, with which she used white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her prayer book.

Mrs. Modlin is a graduate of Greenville High School and attended East Carolina College. She is now employed at Refrigeration Discount Corporation of Greenville.

Mr. Modlin was graduated from Campbell College and has served four years in the navy. He is now attending East Carolina College.

Mr. and Mrs. Modlin are presently making their home with her mother at 207 E. Fourteenth Street, Greenville.

On Friday evening, June 3rd, the Modlin-Waters wedding party, members of the families and out-of-town guests were entertained at an after-rehearsal party by Mr. and Mrs. Levy Corey and Miss Lina Crawford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Corey on Eastern Street.

The guests were greeted by the host and hostesses and invited inside where attractive decorations of mixed summer flowers were used. In the dining room a color scheme of pink, green and white was used. The dining room table was covered in a white lace cloth over pink satin and centered with an arrangement of pink roses and delphinium in a crystal bowl flanked by pink candles in silver holders.

Mrs. Jarvis Tripp Jr. served the wedding cake and Mrs. C. L. Dupree poured punch. Mrs. J. R. Tripp assisted in serving bridal mints and salted nuts.

Mrs. Edgar Denton and Mrs. W. E. Morgan entertained Miss Hilda Ann Waters at a floating shower at the home of Mrs. Morgan on Friday evening, May 20th. The home, with its profusion of spring flowers, was lovely. From a lace covered table in the dining room, Mrs. Chester A. Tripp, mother of the bride, served punch. The guests were also served bridal mints and nuts. The bride received many lovely gifts and was presented a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Al Habt, Mrs. Dwight Hall, and Mrs. Chester Don Worthington entertained Miss Hilda Ann Waters at the home of Mrs. Chester Tripp on Tuesday evening, May 24th, at a floating shower. The bride was given a lovely corsage of yellow mums and she received many lovely gifts.

On Wednesday evening, May 25th,

College Will Publish Textbook For Use In Orientation Courses

East Carolina College will publish this summer a text book to be used in the fall quarter of 1955 for freshmen. Its purpose is to help new students with problems arising during their period of adjustment to campus life.

The volume is being prepared by a committee of faculty members. Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, dean of administration, is chairman of the committee and will edit the text.

East Carolina President John D. Messick will write a preface to the volume. Commenting on the need of such a book and its usefulness to new students, he states: "It is very important for every student to obtain the proper orientation to the campus and all of its activities at the beginning of school, and to adjust his schedule so as to begin correctly and continue with an absolute objective in mind of achieving success in all of his college endeavors."

Mrs. W. L. Kyle To Speak To Fidelis Club

Mrs. W. L. Kyle, who conducts "Kyle's Corner" on Greenville radio station WGTC and "Good Cooking" on television station WNCT, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Fidelis Club in the church parlor at Memorial Baptist Church tonight at 8 o'clock.

President Mrs. C. T. Mallison will preside. Mrs. J. C. Youngblood and Mrs. Chester Walsh will be hostesses.

Let The Klan Remain Dead And Buried

The sheriff of Horry County, S. C., needs the active support of the citizens of his own community and the moral support of the people of both North and South Carolina in his efforts to thwart attempts to re-establish the Ku Klux Klan.

If the Klan or a similar organization gets a foothold in South Carolina, there will be attempts to spread the organization to North Carolina as was the case a few years ago when there was night-riding and flogging in some southern counties of this state.

Neither of the Carolinas has a need for the KKK or its terrorizing activities. The activities of those individuals who would take the law into their own hands are incompatible with conditions in any law-abiding community.

North Carolina ridded itself of the creeping cancer of Klan and allied activities when it clamped down on the flogging, night-riding hoodlums and prosecuted the

A Loss To Eastern Carolina Newspapers

Herbert D. Brauff, editor and publisher of the Wilson Daily Times since 1947, will be sadly missed in newspaper circles in this section of North Carolina and throughout the state.

The death of the veteran newspaperman who headed three newspaper companies in Eastern North Carolina and one in Pennsylvania ends a newspaper career of almost half a century for a man who rose from a reporter in Chattanooga, Tenn., to the ranks of outstanding small city newspaper publishers.

A transplanted Tar Heel by way of Tennessee, Michigan, Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania where he engaged in newspaper operations during his career, Herb Brauff became a driving force behind newspaper development in this section after taking over the Wilson Times eight years ago. He headed the group which purchased the Washington Daily News in 1949 and has developed it into a first-class newspaper, and also headed the group which established the Havelock Progress in 1952 as a weekly to serve Havelock and its surrounding area.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

Sometimes sincerely religious people are secretly troubled by their own doubts. There is something guilty and subversive, they feel, about doubting established beliefs and values. They are ashamed at what they consider a hidden weakness in themselves.

Not so at all. At least half of the progress of the human race is owed to the doubters. The great names in the history of government, science, philosophy, or religion are those of men and women who dared to doubt that the established system was perfect, and who went on to invalidate it by proving the greater validity of something new. Nothing speeds the search for a new truth so well as a strong dissatisfaction with the old one.

But remember this. Constructive doubting challenges the old ideas by trying to prove that the new ones are true. Instead, doubting merely for the sake of doubting is not enough, and leads nowhere. To question the worth of existing without seeking to offer something more worthwhile is mere cynicism—an attitude of despondent sneering, not of confident quest. The cynic may ask the right questions, but he will never find the right answers.

So don't be afraid of your doubts. But make sure that your doubts carry you on to new truths.

National Whirligig

Nixon Blamed The Wrong Men

WASHINGTON—Vice-President Nixon recently accused the whole batch of government press agents of "falling down on the job" at a special session called to consider the Administration's "unfortunate public relations." This has been a sore point with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who used to operate Tom Dewey's highly efficient advertising bureau at Albany.

Nixon charged that many of his listeners, who are "hangovers" from the Truman regime, were not sympathetic to Ike's policies. He said that he did not think they exerted themselves sufficiently to "put the President's best foot forward."

It was a rough session. Nixon singled out individuals by name, and cited specific incidents of what he regarded as "fumbling the ball" and "headline dragging." When several veteran publicists in his audience ventured to explain that they were "technicians" rather than partisan propagandists, his reply was short but not soft.

WRONG TARGETS—Nixon should have leveled his criticism at the Administration's top officials and policy makers instead of at the public relations group. In the opinion of some of his victims, who have been around Washington far longer than he has.

After a slow and sometimes wobbly start, the "technicians" are doing a good job, especially at State, Treasury, Internal Revenue and Commerce. They hand out whatever news or information their superiors permit them to disclose, and that is their basic responsibility.

And the experience of the President's brother-in-law, Milton Eisenhower—justifies retention of "hangovers" without, brought to Washington to publicize Coolidge's ultraconservative farm policies, he became a sympathetic propagandist for Henry A. Wallace and Rex Turwell, who advocated, respectively, "a quart of American milk every day for every Hottentot" and "rolling up our sleeves to remake the world."

UNITY ON POLICY NECESSARY—Nixon, of leaders and participants in court. Almost universally throughout the state at that time the hope was expressed the Klan's ugly head would never again be raised in the Tar Heel state.

Perhaps those hopes were premature. Perhaps they were well founded. The answer depends upon the people of North Carolina.

Organizations dedicated to terrorism and illegal activities cannot gain a foothold in any community unless the citizens of that community participate in or quietly condone such actions. The Reflector does not believe that is the case in any community in North Carolina at the present time.

The Klan died infamously in North Carolina only a couple of years ago when unwise attempts were made to revive it. The people of the state should see that the Klan and terrorism remain dead in every community of the state.

Law enforcement officers throughout the state are going to take every possible measure to prevent the revival of the Klan just as Sheriff Henry has asserted he will do in Horry County, South Carolina. But the law enforcement agencies will need the help and support of the rank and file citizens of their respective communities.

An Award Pitt Can Be Proud Of

Pitt County can take a great deal of pride in being named winner for the second consecutive year of the district, county and community Rural Progress Campaign.

By its selection for the award, Pitt again has been chosen as one of the six counties in North Carolina which has shown the most progress in Agriculture during the past year. Every phase of agricultural and rural progress is taken into consideration in selecting the winner of the award. It is evident therefore that all the rural people of Pitt County as well as county agricultural officials can take credit for the award.

Pitt has long been the leading agricultural leader in this section and consistently ranks among the three top agricultural counties of North Carolina. It is little wonder therefore that the county should receive the award. By winning the award for the second straight year, it is also obvious that Pitt has not been resting on its laurels so far as agriculture is concerned. Progress made by a county in the contest is measured from year to year and the lasting contributions of achievements are taken into consideration.

The fact that Pitt has now won the award twice should offer an incentive for even greater efforts toward agricultural progress in the county.

PRENTISS, MISS. HEADLIGHT: "Isn't it strange how many props the Government puts under folk these days to kill human initiative and do away with the Biblical injunction to man to earn his livelihood in the sweat of his brow?"

Somebody Told Me

So Many Miss That Thrill

Unofficial news is that the Red Cross Bloodmobile received 110 pints, with a quota of 140. It almost makes me mad. Heaven forbid, but some day some of you will be lying in the hospital and have your life saved by the blood bank.

Frank Steinbeck walked in to give his eighth pint since the bloodmobile started coming, qualifying him for the gallon club. Others have reached or passed the gallon mark. What a shame that it must always be the same ones who give! Not that the frequent donors mind it but it's the thrill of giving that so many are missing.

Bermuda shorts are an increasing fad for men these days. The other day all the men at Belk-Tyler's wore them for a promotion campaign. In Wilmington recently most of the men in town cooperated with the emphasis on beach wear by wearing shorts.

But here's what gets the best of me: the walking socks. The idea is for comfort is great, but to cover up the lower part of your legs with the high-top socks would ruin it for me.

It will probably take a few years and plenty of hot weather, but I think that businessmen will eventually get around to wearing the shorts. Some will never come around, but there will be a high percentage who will. It'll take a few of the more aggressive men to be laughed at to start the ball rolling. After they've braved the storm of laughs, the rest will join in and benefit.

And I thank you.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

SMUT FOR YOUNGSTERS BIG BUSINESS

(Rocky Mount Telegram)
A Senate subcommittee, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, currently investigating juvenile delinquency has established that pornography or "smut" literature is a definite factor in juvenile delinquency. This fact in itself is not surprising and in fact would be expected. What is surprising is that pornography has become a big business in America.

The subcommittee found that lewd literature, cartoons comic books, photographs, films records and other suggestive materials have become a $350,000,000 annual business in this country and getting larger all the time. Hearken to the warning voiced by a clergyman who has worked with teen-agers for over ten years:

"Communism will never overcome America. The danger comes from something within ourselves.

something within America itself which is corrupt and rotten."

The investigation brought out the fact that teen-age girls are approached by smooth-talking strangers with flattery about their "photogenic" qualities and with hints about futures in Hollywood. For $5 or $10 these professional operators obtain lewd photographs of these girls which are printed and distributed all over the country. The recent lewd photographs exposed in Greenville is proof that you don't have to go to New York to find this vice.

One mother told of discovering an obscene cartoon book belonging to her son. The son told of purchasing it from two other teen-agers who were running a little business of selling the smut. They, of course, were only small operators for the big boys.

Three reluctant witnesses who refused under the Fifth Amendment to testify, have been cited for contempt and are charged with being three of the biggest smut dealers in the business. They are: Abraham Rubin, alias Al Stone, Brooklyn; Edward Mishkin, Yonkers, and Irving Klav, Manhattan.

Norman Thomas, Socialist leader appeared before the subcommittee at his own request to make a point which is frequently overlooked. Mr. Thomas contended that the First Amendment does not sanction pornography in its guarantee of freedom of the press and urged legislation to "bring this unwholesome menace

Confessing that the federal government has been "derelict" in its duty to cleanup the growing tide of filth, Senator Kefauver has announced that the subcommittee will soon sponsor laws with stricter postal regulations, greater inspection and stiffer penalties. Such a cleanup comes none too soon.

Preparing Of Superior Court Calendars Is Big Job

By LYNN NISBET

CALENDARS—Secretary of State Thad Eure's office has completed the copy for the superior court calendars in the 100 counties, for the next two years, and sent it to the printers. The job of setting type and proof-reading this calendar is greater than it has ever been. The number of judicial districts had not been changed since 1937, and that change affected only a few counties. This year increasing the number of districts from 21 to 30 affected every county in the State.

Every session of the Legislature has made some change in number and dates of terms of court in some counties, but often a number remained unchanged and revision of the calendar consisted only in switching names of judges assigned. Printers left for the press for reports of typographic errors.

LABOR—Conditions on the labor-management front in North Carolina are generally peaceful now, according to Frank S. Crane, commissioner of labor. There was disappointment among organized labor that the General Assembly did not fix a minimum wage or repeal the "right to work" law. In other matters, such as increasing benefits for occupational injuries, industrial workers did not fare badly at hands of the Legislature.

PEACEFUL—A few incidents of violence during the Southern Bell strike marked the otherwise good record of the State in that respect. These instances represented the only outbreaks of any consequence this year, and they were not as bad in North Carolina as in some other States affected.

Presently there is "work stoppage" in Green River mills at Tuxedo involving about 200 employees. The Greyhound bus drivers' strike directly affects about 725 men, one third of whom are based in North Carolina. There may be a few other places where conciliators have not been called in and where "work stoppages" involve only small numbers of people.

Commissioner Crane praised organized labor in this State for its fine spirit of good citizenship and attention to the jobs. He highly commended the leadership of the late Charles A. Pink, long time State AFL president.

CREDIT UNIONS—Resignation of D. R. Graham as chief of the credit union division in the Department of Agriculture to go into private business leaves an opening for some "patriot" to render service to North Carolina. Former Governors Cherry and Scott often said every time a State job opened there was a "patriot" ready to fill it. In this case the credit union director will have to be a patriot in fact. The salary is less than most capable men in that field are making. And the recent Legislature increased the responsibilities and perhaps the actual work of supervision of local credit unions by extending the amounts and types of loans that may be made without collateral. The liberalization will benefit hundreds of honest small borrowers, but also enhances temptation for some not so honest to impose upon the situation. That calls for closer watch and more careful auditing on part of the State agency.

SMALL BUSINESS—Governor Hodges subscribed the first $1,000 stock in the North Carolina Development Corporation, a new agency designed to lend money to small business enterprises which might have difficulty obtaining "risk capital" through ordinary banking channels. The goal is to have at least 25 men subscribe $1,000 each and then to get hundreds of stockholders to invest from $10 to $100 each. The thought behind this plan is that every stockholder will be a booster, and it is better to have thousands of them with small amounts at stake than just a few who would naturally seek to control the corporation and the loans which it makes.

While the capital stock for the lending corporation is being raised Capus Waynick is making progress with "operation bootstrap," the "little point four" program which Governor Hodges asked him to promote. The basic idea there is that each community

Business Today Atomics And Food

By ELMER ROESSNER

Founders of businesses in America frequently take words in the news as names for their enterprises. In a few large cities today you can find a Blue Eagle cafe or a Blue Eagle laundry, monuments to the fact that the original owners had courage to launch new enterprises in the darkest days of the depression and the NRA.

A few years ago "Atomic" became name of the time, and there emerged Atomic taverns, Atomic bubble dancers, Atomic chili parlors and Atomic groceries.

Those who chose the word for food establishments may have been more prophetic than they knew. Food markets of the future may very well be atomic, in some senses of the word.

Fewer examples of so many grocery manufacturing companies (polled by Opinion Research Corp. for General Foods), told surveyors that they believe atomic energy will play a large part in the food business in the future.

The majority believe that the use of radioactive isotopes to control insects, the use of tracer elements in the study of plant physiology, the mutation of plants through radioactivity and advances in understanding plant nutrition and metabolism with radioactive materials will lead to better and cheaper foods. The majority also believe that the use of atomic science in control and inspection will result in better foods.

They also believe that there is a lot to the possibility that atomic waves can be used for food sterilization.

Such waves, it has already been demonstrated, can sterilize foods. In most cases, however, there have been changes in flavor or color. But when ways are found to avoid these troubles, foods may become far better and far cheaper.

Steaks, vegetables and cooked dishes can be put in germ-tight plastic or tin-on-steel containers, irradiated and kept for years without refrigeration. The housewife of 1998 may slit open a transparent package and take out a steak as fresh as it was the day the steer was slaughtered in 1956. A customer may open another package in St. Cloud Minn., in the dead of winter, and find a mango as succulent as it was the day it was picked on the Equator months before. Homemakers will need less refrigeration. Containers of milk, eggs, sausage, cream and other things now called "perishables" can be stored in attics, on basement shelves or anywhere else as long as they have been "rayed" in air-tight wrappings.

This will mean eggs and meat at the same prices all year round, ripe figs, syrupy peaches and hearts of watermelon in January, and oysters on any day whose name contains the letter "y."

BETTER FOODS AT LOWER PRICES ALSO FORECAST
Among the other things the 40 food company executives predicted in the survey are:

Increased attention to research; more convenience foods; advances in the technology of growing food; increased use of automatic processing; more efficient distribution and more supermarkets.

They also forecast, bless them, better quality products, lower prices through greater volume, and more for the consumer's dollar.

FIGHT FOR TIGHTER SUGAR QUOTAS LAUNCHED

Speaking of food Congressman Edwin E. Willis, a Louisiana Democrat, has served notice that he will fight for a larger share of the sugar market for United States producers.

Louisiana is a sugar-producing state and the Democrats have a majority in Congress.

Marguerite Wants A Long Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many people try to find a way to prolong the average life span to 150 years—but not Marguerite Piazza.

"The greatest fear I have is that I won't live long enough," said the young singer who turned from opera to become one of America's top supper club entertainers.

"There are so many things to do, and so little time to do them in. I'd like to live 150 years, and die traveling and still having fun."

Miss Piazza, who was named after a front porch and certainly presents a fine-looking facade. She has a number of good reasons for wanting to live 150 years. She is happily married to a successful snuff merchant, she has three handsome children—and she earns up to $20,000 a week. Why not live forever?

There was many a lifted eyebrow when Miss Piazza after a couple of seasons with the Metropolitan Opera, turned to a night club act in which she sang everything from Puccini to jazz numbers.

The eyebrows went even higher when, in the middle of her act, Miss Piazza changed her costume right on the floor, behind the provocative barrier of a portable dressing screen.

Such antics by a typical over-stuffed operatic star of the past would be as painful to watch as an elephant trying to skip rope. But not in the case of Miss Piazza who has a panther grace and beauty.

She proved so popular with the sophisticated patrons of the Hotel Pierre's Coliseum Room the management presented her with a gold key to her suite.

Miss Piazza says the change in style has been good for her personally as well as financially.

"It has given me more freedom," she said. "They are always telling an opera singer, 'Oh you can't do that—it isn't dignified.'

"But many people are afraid to enjoy themselves because of conventions that are really meaningless. Why should anyone say a song is boring, merely because it is either jazz or operatic?"

"Any song that moves you to joy or tears has greatness. Each thing in life should be enjoyed for what it is."

"But so many people had seen me only wearing crinolines and wigs they were getting the idea that I was old and fat."

Miss Piazza very definitely is neither. She is slender, dark-haired, black-eyed, and has a complexion like a freshly plucked rose petal.

A singer and dancer since the age of 2, she came here from New Orleans to carve out a musical career. She was at first so lonely and shy she was unable to force herself to call on producers to seek a job. Her mother, a determined lady, then arrived and took her daughter in hand.

Miss Piazza won star status after her first audition—has been a star ever since. Now she's like "o act in a Broadway play, have her own TV program, try the movies. But she has no wish to go back permanently to the limitations of pure opera."

"It doesn't offer you either the scope or the money," she said frankly.

Between engagements she flies to her home in Memphis. Her husband, William Condon, a vice president of the American Snuff Co. often flies to meet her on weekends when she is on tour.

Miss Piazza is so cheerfully happy in her success I asked her if she could sum up her philosophy.

"The most important thing is to have happiness in your heart," she replied. "But you can't have happiness unless you have peace, and you can't have peace unless you have harmony in your home."

"I do have that, and I feel it is the most wonderful thing in the world. So I'm not fighting anyone."

will do as much as it can for itself, then call upon the development corporation for additional financing, to expand and establish businesses. After these combined resources have been exhausted there remains the small business program of the Federal Government.

AGRICULTURE—Another phase of this total problem involves commercial nurseries which produce seedling shrubs, fruit trees and other forestry foundations. Should they be classified as agricultural operations, entitled to loans from the Farm Home Administration, or as small business enterprises which must look elsewhere for financial aid?

Special Argentine Plane Is Flying 2 Prelates To Rome

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A special Argentine airliner flew toward Rome today with two Roman Catholic prelates expelled by President Juan Peron's government.

Sources at the Vatican said the expulsion almost certainly has brought down automatic excommunication on the heads of Peron and all other Catholics who had a hand in it.

The two prelates, Msgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, and his assistant, Msgr. Pablo Novoa, were put on the Rome-bound plane yesterday after being held overnight by police. They had been taken into custody Tuesday night a few hours after the government accused them of inciting riots and ordered them dismissed from their church posts. Both are Argentine citizens.

Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, primate of Argentina, left his sickbed to resume active church leadership. As auxiliary bishop, Msgr. Tato had been performing many of the cardinal's duties during his illness aftermath of a fall nine months ago down an elevator shaft.

Accompanied by Antonio Cardinal Caggiano, who arrived here from his archdiocese in Rosario, Cardinal Copello called on Foreign Minister Jeronimo Remorino last night to ask official word of the two expelled churchmen. The cardinals talked to Remorino for about five minutes but there was no announcement of what they were told.

Police, meanwhile, raided all the 120 homes and offices of parish priests in Buenos Aires and its suburbs yesterday, seeking evidence to support government charges that the church was responsible for clashes last weekend between Catholics and Peron supporters. At least 29 persons were injured in the street battles.

A police official said handbills criticizing Peron and defending the church were seized. Some parish offices and meeting rooms of Catholic action societies were sealed and placed under guard, he added.

Reports received here indicated that police may have visited most of the 1,500 Catholic parishes in the country. Authorities announced the arrest of another provincial priest, the Rev. Domingo Caniggall, after a search in the parish house at Marcos Paz in Buenos Aires Province. He was the 70th priest taken into custody in Peron's seven-month-long dispute with the church. Most of them have been released after brief detention.

The church-state feud broke out in the open last November when Peron accused some members of the clergy of seeking to undermine his regime. The church denied the charge.

Since then, the government had pushed through legislation permitting divorce in Argentina, lifting tax exemptions from church property, banning religious education in public schools and halting subsidies to church schools. It plans a constitutional convention to end Roman Catholicism's favored status as the country's official religion.

When their plane landed in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Msgr. Tato told a newsman that he and Msgr. Novoa had been hustled out of the country without even a change of clothes.

"The Argentine police kept us incommunicado in prison," he said "refusing us permission to communicate with our superiors or to obtain a few additional clothes for our journey."

Although he said he wished to give his first complete report on the situation in Argentina to Pope Pius XII, Bishop Tato described the present position of the church there as very serious. But he declared that the Argentine people, "traditionally religious, do not approve of Peron's attitude."

Msgr. Tato denied the Peron government's charges that Catholic demonstrators in Buenos Aires had burned the Argentine flag and stoned the plant of the newspaper La Prensa, as charged by the pro-government press. He said these acts were committed by Peron adherents in an effort to step up government pressure against the church.

Film Moguls To Face Quizzing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The movie's big bosses, most of them bluntness, most of them blunt-talking men, tangle with the Kefauver Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee today on charges that a score of recent movies stressed too much sex and violence.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and his counsel James H. Bobo said the Senate probes will be "critical" of the following movies: "The French Line," "Women's Prison," "Rebel Without a Cause," (unreleased), "Ten Wanted Men," "The Prodigal," "Big House, U.S.A.," "New Orleans Uncensored," "I Died a Thousand Times," "Chicago Syndicate" and "Son of Sinbad."

Bobo said the moviemens also will be questioned about the recent relaxing of the motion picture production code. "We want to know why these pictures were approved," he said, adding: "We also want box office figures. We want to know if the movies make sex and violence pictures because they make more money than others."

Some of the pictures will be quizzed on their advertising campaigns, especially "The Prodigal," a biblical picture that was sold photo of Lana Turner's famed torso.

Policeman, Minister Run Down Alleged Thief

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A Camp Lejeune Marine believed responsible for a number of break-ins in three cities was run down and captured on a street here yesterday by a police officer and a minister.

He was identified as Cpl. Charles H. Stone, 18, who police said was AWOL from his base for several days. He did not give a home address.

Police Sgt. T. W. Wilson said the man admitted entering five homes and businesses here. Wilson also said he was wanted in Wilmington and Jacksonville on similar charges.

Wilson gave this account: About five days ago the Rev. W. R. Brown found Stone at a tent in which the minister was holding nightly evangelistic services. He also found a .38 pistol and three billfolds, a hunting knife and other items. The pistol was identified as one stolen from a merchant.

Brown found a note in the tent Monday, hidden on the pulpit. It read: "I want that pistol, you better bring them back or this tent may burn. I have a rifle and you better look out or else."

Early yesterday the minister sighted the boy near the bus station and followed him for several blocks, being joined by officer W. W. Campbell. The two overtook Stone a block further on and started taking him to the police station.

Stone broke away from the two and ran. He was caught three blocks later trying to scale a fence.

Wilson County Awarded Prizes For Rural Gains

RALEIGH (AP)—Two prizes of $1,000 each were awarded Wilson County yesterday for winning the designation of "County of the Year in Rural Progress" for 1954.

The contest is sponsored by the N.C. Board of Farm Organizations and Agencies to help promote the Challenge, the state's long range rural improvement program.

Marvin E. Evans chairman of the Wilson County Agricultural Workers Council, declared the award came as the result of "hard work and planning by both farm families and business firms in the county."

The $1,000 top prize in the contest was furnished by the Farmers Cooperative Exchange. It was matched with an additional $1,000 from the Wilson Daily Times.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Wednesday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed of nine cases, seven of them involving violations of motor vehicle and traffic laws.

James Fields, Negro, Farmville, failure to give proper hand signal, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs.

Drunk: Johnny Lee McDaniel, Route 3, Greenville, $10; Robert L. Wells, Negro, (and disorderly), 30 days suspended on payment of $15 costs. The judgment also provides that he is not to visit Latham's Luncheonette for a year and remain of good behavior.

No operator's license: James T. Barnes, 301-A Center Street, paid costs and he is not to operate a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Joseph T. Wilson, Vanceboro, failure to stop at a stop sign, $5 on costs, and this cause was retained for further orders.

Stretched Luck; Broke Her Leg

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Norma Miller, 52, was feeling mighty good. As playground director, she had just lined out a hard single in a kids' softball game. Then she pressed her luck. Trying to steal second, she slid and broke her right leg.

She was reported in good condition at Seaside Hospital. Incidentally she was called out on the play.

A large blast furnace may require up to 2,150,000 refractory bricks in its construction and 900,000 more in its auxiliary facilities.

SPORTS SHOTS

by Bruce Phillips

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL TRUE AMERICANO Tuesday kids from nine to 12 on Little League teams around the nation observed Polio Day...

Bob Considine, one of the nation's foremost sports writers and commentators, serves as sports chairman for the foundation. It was through him that the kids were allowed to join in the crusade against one of the nation's most dreadful killers.

No admittance was charged but the hat was passed among the spectators where games were played. Half of the proceeds went into the city and the rest to the national organization.

This is a tribute to those fine young Americans who, through their play, have added a new and most worthwhile chapter to their colorful history—they played as others might walk.

Earlier chapters have also done much for the growing American boy. Little Leagues have taken hundreds of thousands of youths out of the street and out of the sandlots into an organized brand of play where they can have proper supervision and proper instruction in the nation's favorite pastime.

It has served as a guide to better living for kids. It has been a builder of sportsmanship and the maker of good losers as well as good winners. It's given the mothers and fathers a new outlook on sports and a new form of relaxation and better still it's given them a closer tie with the kids.

TOUCHING ALL BASES—TENNIS TO DOG RACING The James Crowley, state boxing commission chairman, trying to clean up the ring mess in Pennsylvania, is the former Notre Dame football star, one of the immortal Four Horsemen and later a college coach of repute...

The University of South Carolina is bringing in 25 stout freshman football players this fall, best crop in years, so the announcement says... Herbie Brown, former University of North Carolina tennis star, is now at the Greensboro Country Club.

Widest margin by which an American League team won the pennant, according to our records books, was in 1936 when Joe McCarthy's (not the senator) Yanks finished 19 games ahead of Detroit...

Wednesday night a greyhound named Wednesday ran at Daytona Beach, but hunch players passed him up. He paid $22.60 to win and $324 in the quiniela... By winning the Belmont Stakes, Nashua, it says here, became the sixth horse to earn over $600,000. The leaders: Citation, $1,068,790; Styrim, $918,485; Armed, $817,745; Native Dancer, $785,240; Assault, $675,470; Nashua, $653,690.

CLEANING THE CUFF, SO TO SPEAK Baptists of North Carolina have been blasting Wake Forest for playing a baseball game on Sunday. But they can't blame Coach Taylor Sanford. Saturday games in the NCAA tourney at Omaha were rained out and the teams ordered to play on Sunday. It was either play or withdraw. He (Sanford) received no orders from home to leave, so he played.

Only seven players have ever made over $3000 major league hits—Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Paul Waner and Cap Anson. Cobb leads with 4,191. Stan Musial is the only present player with a chance; he started this season with 2,418. Rogers Hornsby, greatest of righthand hitters, finished with 2,930.

The Coastal Plain League started out like one team was going to dominate the play but late in the true form has taken shape. The league is narrowed down to a three-way race between Greenville, Farmville and New Bern. Becky Mount and Williamson can't be altogether omitted out but Falkland can. Williamson has an entirely new club than what it started with but may have waited too late.

Bob and Bob Lilley of Falkland have received athletic scholarships at East Carolina, according to reliable sources. Bob was an outstanding football player last year with Tarboro... The Coastal Plain League season will end on August 14. The playoffs will begin on Wednesday the 19th and will be a three-out-of-five series.

Baseball is a crazy game. Three years ago the White Sox traded Jim Busby to the Washington Senators because they said he couldn't hit. Last week they gave three players to get him back... Nuff said!

Gaining White Sox Trail Yanks By Two

By ED WILKS By The Associated Press

Manager Marty Marion's busier than a one-legged man in a sack race these days what with keeping his Chicago White Sox within range of the New York Yankees in the holding of the Cleveland Indians.

He had a workout last night, juggling players and shuffling pitchers while splitting a two-night with Baltimore. The Sox lost 6-5, and won 2-0. That put them two games behind in the American League-leading Yanks who lost to Detroit 8-6, and a length ahead of the Indians, who lost at Washington 3-0.

Trailing 5-4 in the first game, Marion pulled center fielder Minnie Miñoso in to play third and moved third baseman George Kell to first in place of young Ron Jackson so he could keep pinch hitter Bob Nieman in the game. Nieman, a long-ball threat, played left field.

Nieman wound up hitless, but the Sox tied it at 5-5 with a homer. And when reliever Millard Howell went 3-0 against Harry Dorish in the seventh, Marion brought on Sandy Consuegra to pitch. Sandy got out of the frame, but was tagged for a run-scoring single by Bobby Young in the eighth that broke a four-game Chicago winning string.

In the nightcap, Mike Fornieles breezed along for six innings on a 1-0 lead after Fox had swatted his second homer of the night. But when Fornieles issued his first walk to open the seventh, Marion called in Billy Pierce. And when Pierce faltered with a 2-0 lead in the eighth Consuegra showed up again to pack it away.

Boston made it seven out of eight in the other AL game, beating Kansas City 9-6. In the National, Brooklyn lost to Cincinnati 5-2, but stayed 11½ games to the good as second-place Chicago lost to New York's Giants 7-3.

St. Louis belted three home runs to beat Pittsburgh 7-3 and Philadelphia blanked the Milwaukee Braves 4-0. Billy Hoft won his sixth while beating the Yankees, although needing relief help from Babe Birrer. The Tigers wrapped up their scoring with Jim Delsing and Frank House hitting back-to-back homers in a four-run fourth. Eddie Robinson homered twice for the Yanks.

Washington ended a seven-game losing streak as young Dean Stone held the tribe to three hits. Johnny Groth and Roy Sievers homered for the Nats who scored six runs in the fourth to beat Bobby Feller. Rookie Rudy Minarcin gave the Brooks four hits and had them shut out on two safeties until the ninth, when Junior Gilliam homered after a walk. Carl Erskine was the loser. Gus Bell singled, doubled and homered for three of the Redlegs runs.

Five runs in the ninth broke up a 2-2 ball game for the Giants, with reliefer Paul Giel hitting a double to start the rally that brought his first major league victory. Paul Minner lost it.

Herm Wehmeier stopped the Braves on six hits. Gene Conley was replaced after he issued a walk with the bases loaded in a two-run fifth.

Al Schoendienst and Solly Hemus homered to get the Cards rolling, but Bill Virdon's two-run clout put it away in the seventh. Paul Latimer saved Lat Arroyo's seventh victory by cutting off the Pirates a run short at 5-4 in the top of the seventh.

Mel Parnell won his first of the season for the Red Sox, with help from Tom Hurd in a four-run Kansas City ninth. Jackie Jensen hit the two-run homer in the 11th. Boston attack winless Ray Herbert lost his sixth.

Aiming High... by Pap

Bobo Olson and his manager, Sid Flaherty, are looking beyond the bout for the light heavy weight championship with Archie Moore and planning an invasion of England. Taking a victory over Moore for granted, Olson hopes to meet Don Cockeril in London later this summer. Win, lose or draw against Moore, Manager Flaherty will take Olson and other members of his stable, from bantamweight to heavyweight, abroad to do battle.

Olson checked in for his training sledge for Moore in the East, and invited the assembled scribes to a question-answer session with Manager Flaherty at his elbow. Bobo boxed the pointed questions while Flaherty came to his rescue when needed. One learned that Olson would lose none of his speed at 170 pounds and would punch harder. He had seen Moore fight five times and felt that he had the style and equipment to beat the light-heavy champion. Flaherty came up with a forthright answer: "Money!" when asked why he signed Olson to fight Moore.

Olson has established himself as a fine ring mechanic. The results of his meeting with Moore will serve as a yardstick to measure him for fistic greatness. Bobo has cleaned up the middleweight division and has a string of 21 straight victories to his credit. The last time Olson was defeated was March 13, 1952 in a middleweight title bout with Ray Robinson. Although defeated, Olson gained confidence in his own ability in that bout, and started his climb to the championship.

Exchange, Vets Record LL Wins

Righthander Larry Roberts of the Exchange fired a two-hit shutout past the Moose club yesterday afternoon as he led his teammates to a 4-0 win. In the second half of the doubleheader at Little League park the VFW exploded for 13 runs to whip the Lions 13-5.

The Tar Heel League game was a dilly. The Exchange recorded their ninth win of the year against one loss. Their win was the first of the second half of play. Roberts gave up two hits and struck out twelve batters along the route. He got a double at the plate to help his own cause. Donnie Joyner and Kenny Joyner combined on the mound for the Moose but allowed too many runs for the Moose to win against Roberts.

Jeff Fountain was the only player on either team to get more than one safe single. Fountain contributed a single and a double to the Exchange cause.

In the second game the VFW showed their steady rise in the first half as continued in the second half of play, as they whipped the Lions 13-5. The Lions tied for the first half championship with the Kiwanis but met with a different fate yesterday.

The VFW pounded out 13 hits and made use of five errors by the Lions to do their scoring. Leonard Roberts went all the way on the mound for the Veterans and recorded the win. Jimmy Flynn had three hits in for four trips to the plate to lead the hitting for the Lions. Leo Stirling also had three hits for the Lions.

U. S. Official Says Russia Helps Fund

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Lyman Bingham, executive director of the United States Olympic Assn., gave Russia roundabout credit today for stirring up Americans to contribute to the Olympic fund.

"Russia scares the pants off us, and maybe it's good," he said. Bingham has a $1,100,000 budget to raise by voluntary contributions.

Colleges are chipping in with boosts in the price of football tickets. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and Life magazine are planning to repeat their intensive campaign of four years ago. There's a $100-a-plate dinner coming up in Hollywood. And all across the country volunteer groups are putting on stunts to enable the United States to send a full, powerful team to the 1956 Olympics.

The Winter Olympics will be in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, and the summer games (actually Nov. 22-Dec. 8 because of the upside down season) will be in Melbourne, Australia.

"These Melbourne games will be very expensive," said Bingham. "Some of the countries may not be able to handle it. Our team for the next winter games will number about 100. We figure it costs about $1,100 per person.

"For the summer games we will have about 325 athletes. Under a new rule officials can only number 15 per cent of the big teams, so there will be about 50 in all instead of 90 as the last games in Helsinki. We figure Melbourne at $2,000 per person."

Demon Deacons Win 2-0; Play In Finals Tonight

OMAHA (AP)—Western Michigan and Wake Forest go after the NCAA College World Series championship tonight in a true title game.

The Broncos from Michigan and the Deacons will be meeting in their third series game at 9 p.m. (EST).

Western Michigan blanked Wake Forest, 9-0, on Monday night, and the next night Wake Forest turned around and roped the Broncos, 10-7.

The Tuesday defeat was the first for Western Michigan after three wins and sent Wake Forest against Oklahoma A&M—both 3-1, in an elimination game last night while Western Michigan rested.

The Deacons trimmed the Aggies, 2-0, in a game of few hits. Lefty John Stokoe of Wake Forest gave only four bingles and Lefty Bob Garrett gave only three. But Garrett suffered from poor support and the Deacons hit an opportune moment.

Wake Forest got its first run in the third when Bill Barnes singled after a squeeze play attempt went wrong with the runner being nipped at the plate. They added the clincher when Barnes was safe on an error in the sixth, took third on a single by Jack Bryant and scored on Stokoe's infield out.

Western Michigan is expected to send left-hander Gary Graham to the mound tonight with right-hander Mike Schwartzoff in reserve.

The Wake Forest choice was expected to be Buck Fichter, a right-hander who was knocked out of the box last Monday by the Broncos in 2 1-3 innings or Bill Walsh, another right-hander who turned in a good relief chore as the Deacons beat the Broncos the next night.

161 Golfers Out To Take Ed Furgol's Open Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golf's blue ribbon tournament, the 55th annual United States Open, gets underway today with 161 players launching a bid to win the crown worn by Ed Furgol, a man who may prove tough to dethrone.

Seventy-two holes of competition lay ahead of the field of 130 professionals and 32 amateurs, concluding with the exacting double round of 36 Saturday. Most of the experts predicted the winning score would be over par 280 for the route.

The great, the near great and the hopeful were entered, ranging from 58-year-old Bobby Cruickshank of the old timer division. Ben Hogan of the present era to a 17-year-old youngster from Washington, D.C., Beane Deman.

Few of the sideline observers could settle on a single favorite. The list of so-called solid threats included Furgol, the defending champion; Hogan, hoping to become the first golfer to win this event five times; Cary Middlecott, Sam Snead, Byron Nelson, all in the established star ranks. Then there are Gene Littler, Mike Souchak, Bo Wininger and others of the younger men, as well as perhaps the leading amateur in the lineup, ex-British Amateur Champion Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco.

The better known players, for the most part, were scheduled to tee off during the afternoon.

The rolling, tree-trimmed Lake Course of the Olympic Country Club is the scene.

It measures a comparatively short 6,700 yards, with par 35-36. But the rough has been allowed to get extra rough. And trouble, at least in practice rounds earlier in the week, was not hard to find.

Shankle, Beatty Enter NCAA Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joe Shankle, Duke University's one-man track team, was expected to arrive here today to take part in the NCAA meet tomorrow and Saturday.

He will compete in the high hurdles and broad jump. The latest NCAA statistics list Shankle's 14.1 in the high hurdles as third best this season. His 24-8 broad jump is fifth.

Meanwhile, Jimmy Beatty of Charlotte, N.C., the University of North Carolina distance runner, has been working out here daily for several weeks preparing for the two-mile grind.

He won the Penn Relays two-mile this year with a 9:19.8. Beatty also sped off with the mile and two-mile events in the Atlantic Coast Conference indoor games and the mile in the conference's outdoor championships being underfeared in the conference and cross country.

He will face Bill Dellinger of Oregon and Fernando Ledesma of Southern California. Dellinger ran the mile in 9:02 and Ledesma is reputed to have made the distance in less than nine minutes.

Chapel Hill Host In NCAA Net Meet

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Four of last year's single quarter-finalists will be on hand for the National Collegiate Tennis Tournament opening here Monday.

They and their 1954 rankings are: Bill Quillan, Washington, fifth; Bill Cranston, Yale, sixth; Dick Doss, UCLA, seventh; and Alan Call, Southern California, eighth.

A field of 63 from 26 schools will start arriving tomorrow. The finals will be Saturday after week-long eliminations.

Singles and doubles titles will be decided along with a team championship.

Ham Richardson of Tulane, 1954 singles champion, and doubles winners Robert Perry and Ronald Livingston of UCLA will be missing from the field.

The host North Carolina entries include Tommy Bradford, Atlantic Coast Conference champion, Herb Browne and others.

Pollard Walks In Winning Run

FARMVILLE—Greenville's league-leaders were handed a setback last night here at the hands of Farmville 11 to 10.

James Pollard, third Greenie pitcher, walked in the winning run in the ninth inning for Greenville's ninth defeat against 14 wins.

Greenville took a momentarily lead in the seventh inning when it scored nine runs. Until that time, Farmville, currently the hottest club in the league, had taken an 8 to 4 advantage on the wildness of newcomer Jerry Gaskins and Bobby Flye, Greenie pitchers.

Greenville's lead was short-lived though as Farmville surged back to score twice in the eighth and once in the final frame. Greenville added a run in the ninth to tie the game up again but Farmville went ahead to stay when Pollard issued free transportation home.

Pollard relieved Flye after two men were on the first man, Millard Webb, was safe on an error and Pete Stewart reacted first to a fielder's choice. Bill Kennedy, the Farmville manager, walked off Pollard to set the stage for the winning run. Streeter Tugwell worked Pollard for four balls and that was the ball game.

In Greenville's big seventh inning, eight hits were recorded. Brownie Tripp was the big leader with two hits in that frame, a single and double that drove in three scores. Tripp had three hits altogether for the game.

Sam Stell, Bill Kennedy, Sandy Sanderson and pitcher Fred Pitman led the plate work for the winners, each getting two hits. Pitman was the winning pitcher, allowing 13 hits.

CHICAGO (AP)—Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and Ted Kuszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs regained their leading positions today in the all-star baseball poll.

Minoso forged ahead in the American League's left field race by 761 votes over Kansas City's Gus Zernial. Minoso now has a total of 15,072 to 14,131 for Zernial.

Minoso's lead was widened by first base Kuszewski took a 1,462 vote edge over his veteran rival, Stan Musial of St. Louis. Kuszewski now has 16,774 ballots to 15,312 for Musial.

Expect Railroad Argument See End In Goldsboro Today

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Opponents of a proposal by the Southern Railway Co. to acquire the state-owned Atlantic & East Carolina Railroad were expected to wind up their case here today.

The proposal is being aired at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing now in its second week. Under the proposal Southern would take over the A&EC extending 98 miles between Morehead City and Goldsboro, and lease the 26-mile Camp Lejeune railway serving the Marine base from the A&EC and Atlantic Coast Line (ACL) lines.

Southern would pay in stock about $575,000 for the A&EC. It would restore passenger service on the line thus assuring an outlet for travelers to and from the Marine base and other coastal points.

ACL officials charged yesterday that the transfer is not needed, that its own line presently is giving good service to the Marine installations and could provide even more adequate service.

General Manager L. T. Andrews of ACL told the commission yesterday the railroad had never received a complaint from the military on its present service. He also said his line had often provided special service to the Marine Corps in moving troops, equipment, material and other property.

The ACL spur line from New Bern to Wilmington connects with a Camp Lejeune-owned spur line at Mile Post 51, eight miles from the base.

Another ACL official, Lewis F. Ormond, vice president in charge of accounting, said his company would have lost $1,315,247.50 had it been deprived of all Camp Lejeune traffic last year. This was on a basis of comparison with 1952, the last year for which full figures are available.

Ormond said he also thought the price Southern is willing to pay for the A&EC is too high. The A&EC, he said, has net capital stock valued at only $331,289 at present.

But he said should Southern succeed in acquiring control of the Camp Lejeune line and the A&EC, "almost any price for control of the A&EC would be justified" by Southern. That would give the latter railroad a direct line from Morehead City to Asheville and on into the Midwest.

Boy Suffocated By Falling Hay

CENTERVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Andy Huff and his pal Wally Bowman, both 9 were having great fun yesterday on the George Rice farm. Farmhands were feeding hay into a machine that poured it into a moving wagon. Andy and Wally were running alongside and climbing into the wagon to watch the hay pile up.

Later, back at the barn, Wally missed his friend. He told farmhands. They searched the fields. No success. Then Wally suggested they look in the wagon.

There, under a pile of hay, they found Andy's body. He had been trapped in the falling hay and had suffocated.

Liner Queen Mary Tied Up By Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Britain's wildest seamen's strike forced the 81,000-ton liner Queen Mary to cancel her New York sailing today and squeezed British hurried passenger lines into a tight corner.

The strikers had pinned their hopes on tying up the Mary, a pride of the great Cunard fleet. They were convinced her sailing would doom the walkout which already has tied up the 32,000-ton Mauretania and five other transatlantic liners.

The strikers failed last week to hold up the Queen Elizabeth, flagship of the line.

Cunard's attempts to get the Mary under way were blasted just 10 minutes before sailing time, when 120 crewmen joined 500 others of the 1,267-member crew who had walked off the ship yesterday.

Many of the 120 pullouts said they had not sympathized with the unauthorized strike. But they charged the line during the night had brought aboard 150 recruits whom the seamen called "scab labor."

Some 1,100 New York-bound passengers began disembarking as the Mary's loud-speakers blared out the news. Among them were 50 members of the D'Oyly Carte opera company en route for a Gilbert and Sullivan tour of the United States and Canada.

"The Cunard company deeply regrets, despite assurances which the crew gave to the master, that certain sections have elected to strike," the announcement said. "It will therefore be impossible to sail the Queen Mary."

Anticipating the tieup, Cunard had two trains ready to take the passengers back to London. It also told them attempts would be made to obtain "alternative transatlantic transportation." Many of the passengers immediately began phoning airline offices to book flights for New York.

Most of those involved in the wildcat walkout that has struck Liverpool and Southampton are cabin and dining room stewards. They are asking for a 48-hour week and increased shore subsistence. The seamen's union, however, has refused to approve the strike.

JUST IGNORED IT

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—At the height of yesterday's civil defense test, the 11th Naval District alerted centers that an atom bomb had just "devasted" Long Beach. "It wasn't in our scenario and we had enough other bombs to worry about," an official confessed later. "So we just ignored it."

Ceylon Elephant Herds Dwindling

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—This island's elephant population has dwindled to about 900 and faces possible extinction.

The head of the Ceylon government wild life bureau, C. W. Nicholas, says there probably are not more than 25 "tuskers" in the jungles. These are mature elephants, with fine tusks, highly valued as sources of ivory.

Thousands of elephants once trumpeted their way around Ceylon. "But now," Nicholas says, "the meager total may be near the biological minimum below which breeding ceases and extinction follows."

Ceylonese elephants are easier to domesticate than African elephants. This trait started them on the way out. They proved valuable for plowing, road construction jobs, transportation and jungle clearing. They also made ideal participants for parades and religious ceremonies.

The Dutch, who conquered Ceylon more than 200 years ago, started a valuable export trade in elephants, shipping the animals off for heavy work. Tuskers were killed for their ivory.

Today the spread of civilization is raising a new threat. Peasants have taken to shooting the animals in an effort to protect rice and other crops.

Reduced Crop Of Irish Potatoes For N. Carolina

RALEIGH (AP)—Despite considerable improvement in prospects because of favorable weather during May, North Carolina's crop of early Irish potatoes still will be smaller than last year's, the State Crop Reporting Service forecast today.

Digging began in late May in the Mount Olive, Columbia and Carteret County area and now is in full swing in nearly all sections of eastern Carolina where the Irish potato is a major crop.

As of June 1, prospects were for a total crop of 3,220,000 bushels in this state, off from the 3,375,000 bushels of 1954 because of an expected drop in acreage yields. Last year each acre produced 250 bushels. This year, the average is expected to be 230 bushels but 14,000 acres have been planted up 500 acres from last year.

For other Tar Heel crops, the service forecast:

Late spring snap beans, 442,000 bushels, down 11 per cent from the 495,000 bushels picked last year.

Cabbages, 9,600 tons, down from the 15,400 tons produced last year. Cantaloupes, 370,000 crates, up from the 188,000 crates of last year. This will be achieved because of a 15 per cent increase in acreage.

Cucumbers, 650,000 bushels for the biggest crop since 1930.

Sweet corn, 672,000 units of five dozen each, a 10 per cent increase over last year.

Green peppers, 915,000 bushels, biggest crop on record.

Strawberries (harvesting completed), 38,000 crates, down 72 per cent from 1954.

Tomatoes, 221,000 bushels, compared with 208,000 last year.

Watermelons 3,010,000 melons, largest crop since 1944. Last year, the harvest came to 2,365,000 melons.

Indian Show Is Taken Seriously

NEW DELHI (AP)—The United States is treating the Indian industries fair in October as its most important venture into the field of international expositions. The Department of Commerce has set up a special fair office here.

This will be the first time the Indian trade fair. Previously this field has produced dividends for Communist countries in boosting their commercial position in India.

Indian architects have drawn up blueprints for the American exhibition. Covering 100,000 square feet, it will be the biggest foreign exhibit. About three fifths of this will be taken over by the U.S. government for its official display, featuring atomic energy and its peacetime uses. The Radio Corp. of America plans to produce television shows for a closed circuit hookup. India has no television.

Requests for a chance to show their wares at the six-week fair have come from Pan American World Airways, Standard Vacuum Oil Co., International Harvester Co. and Singer Sewing Machine Co.

Russia's 40,000 square feet of space are just across a walk from the American space. Communist China leads the Red bloc with 52,500 square feet.

Streetcleaner Is Suddenly Rich

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Ramon Angel, a $200-a-month street cleaner, his wife Guadalupe and their five children are $25,000 richer today.

But they haven't decided just what they are going to do with the money.

"We're going to think about it for a day or two," Mrs. Angel says.

The money, all in silver dollars weighing 1,562 pounds, was presented to the family yesterday. Ramon, 34, won it as first prize in a national sweepstakes contest sponsored by B. F. Goodrich Co.

STONED CRITIC

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—Dispatches from Quito reported members of a nationalistic political group stoned the building of the independent newspaper El Comercio, which has been critical of President Jose Maria Velasco Barra. Police reportedly broke up the demonstration after the mob smashed a number of windows.

Young 'Crockett' In Near-Tragedy

HOUSTON (AP)—A Davy Crockett battle with the Indians almost ended tragically for "Indian" Johnny Dennis Jr., 6, yesterday.

Police said Johnny, who was to be "hung," looped a length of cord over a tree limb, knotted the other end about his throat and stepped or fell off an ice cooler.

Playmates ran for help and Mrs. Ammie Dennis the boy's grandmother, got him down.

At the hospital Johnny fingered his throat cautiously and announced he was "ready for lunch." His condition was reported "good."

Poor Impression Of August Body

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's House of Representatives has been asked to be on its best behavior.

State Rep. Samuel Frank made the request yesterday after noting that after 11-year-old Norman Batchelor's visit recently, he described the house in a newspaper interview as being "like a theater before the movie begins—and the show never started."

Frank has invited the boy to return as his guest in an attempt to correct the impression.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

162 HP V8

180 HP V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder... and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire")... and pull the trigger!

Barr-r-r-r-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o! Mister, you got you a flat mountain! ... At least it feels flat. For these Chevrolet V8's gobble up the toughest grades you can ladle out. And holler for more. They love to climb, because that's just about the only time the throttle ever comes near the floorboard.

And that's a pity. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo... built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry, designed to gulp huge breaths of fresh air and transmute it into blazing acceleration.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, light and easy as a zephyr, purring out an effortless fraction of their strength.

An engineer instantly understands why these V8's are so hyper-efficient... how friction is held so low they need just four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more... how big valves let them "breathe" deeply for maximum power.

But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in, slip behind the wheel, and point the nose at the nearest hill. These V8's can do their own talking... and nobody argues with them!

State Plans Add At Least Two Extra Beer Inspectors In July

RALEIGH (AP) — The state will add at least two additional beer inspectors next month, according to State ABC Chairman Tom Allen. Allen made the announcement yesterday as he released figures on last month's liquor sales. The sales totaled $4,668,244 in the state's ABC outlets, a drop of 3.8 per cent from the previous May when sales amounted to $4,850,699. Mecklenburg led the sales parade with a total of $786,838 in May sales reported. Other high figures were: Greensboro $457,970, Asheville $361,781, Wake County $298,724, Winston-Salem $293,493, New Hanover County $234,425, Rowan County $219,922, Cumberland County $217,094, Catawba County $208,021, and Durham $204,295. Allen said his 27 inspectors now are responsible for 300 to 500 beer parlors each. He declared even if he adds several men to his staff, it won't be large enough in itself to prevent beer outlets from selling to minors. He said the state law banning the sale of beer to minors "is a joint responsibility between local officers and inspectors of the ABC board. We don't have enough men to enforce that law alone." Allen said one of the new inspectors probably would go to Mecklenburg County, which has been short since October because of a shortage in funds. This has left one inspector for the 550 outlets in the Mecklenburg area. He said he will hire at least two inspectors next month, and possibly four. The 1955 Legislature made the hiring of new inspectors possible by putting the malt beverage division under a straight budget, regardless of its income from beverage receipts, effective July 1. Under the current law, the division gets 5 per cent of the taxes collected by the state on beer for its enforcement staff. Beer sales dropped sharply last fall, causing a cut in the enforcement staff.

Woman Aged 116 Dies In Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Annie Campbell Ross, Negro woman born in slavery 116 years ago who remembered her riding Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, died Tuesday at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Mrs. Ross told an interviewer two years ago how she journeyed to Gettysburg with her husband, a Methodist preacher, to attend the battlefield ceremonies in 1863. Mrs. Emma K. Jones, a great-niece with whom Mrs. Ross lived, said the aged woman attributed her long life to a "little gin now and then."

No Waiting For Desegregation Order At School

MONTICELLO, Ky. (AP)—Wayne County schools won't wait for organized desegregation. And, as a result, the six children of Clark Stonewall will go to classes for the first time next fall.

Ira Bell, superintendent of schools, was told officially yesterday that Kentucky's day law requiring segregation in public schools went with the wind when the U.S. Supreme Court ordered integration recently.

Bell said that was all he wanted to know. Negro children will be admitted to white schools starting with the fall term.

Stonewall started the ball rolling. His is the only Negro family in an area served by a one-room school for white children. His home is too far from the county school bus route that brings other children to school in Monticello.

Because of this, Stonewall has borrowed text books up to the fifth-grade level from the School Board and has attempted to teach his children.

He asked Bell to let his children go to the one-room Griffin school. Bell was told yesterday by the state attorney general's office that nothing in the law prevented him from going ahead with integration immediately.

A governor's committee is studying the problem for the rest of the state.

Wayne County will become the first in Kentucky and one of a known three in the South to comply with the Supreme Court order. In Arkansas, the small Clarkson school and the Fayetteville High School have integrated. The high school and junior high at Oak Ridge, Tenn., will integrate next year.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By Nick Summer

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

The door opened, and two men came in, Doc Haller and Rob. Rob stood by the door while the doctor came over to the bed and demanded cheerfully, "Well, young fellow, how are you feeling this morning?"

"I'll live, I reckon."

"Sure you will. Can't kill an Irishman." Doc examined him carefully, and turned toward the silent man at the door. "You raised him tough, Rob. Lost a lot of blood but he'll be all right. Only he's not riding into town to attend any inquest."

"Let me talk to him alone Doc." It was an order. Doc hesitated, then nodded.

"Just a few minutes. Don't get him fired."

He left the room. Rob hooked a chair over to the bed and sat down.

"I don't suppose you feel like talking about it, kid, but Lacey's called the inquest on Tim for this afternoon. You can't go, so I've got to. Add I've got to know what it's all about."

Kerry told him, starting with the note from Lita, sparing himself nothing. "Well, Rob," he concluded, "you can say I told you so—all down the line."

Rob was silent for a long moment; then he said slowly, "I should have killed him when he pulled a gun on me."

"I didn't want him dead," Kerry protested dully.

"Neither did I. But I'm tough. It wouldn't have ridden me the way it's going to ride you."

Rob stood up. "A rider came in this morning with bad news," he added. "Jared Toland died last night."

Kerry stared bleakly before him. "I did that, too."

"What do you mean? It was his fault?"

"And that shooting right under his window probably brought it on."

"You didn't ask Tim to draw on you there," Rob interrupted sharply and added more gently, "I would've come soon, anyway. Coming a little sooner just saved him pain."

"Christie won't see it that way. She'll never forgive me."

"Give her time, son," Rob advised. "And don't worry. You're job's to get well. Leave everything else to me—muchache," he added under his breath, and pressed his hands on Kerry's hair for a few seconds, and quickly left the room.

The inquest was held in the bar of the Last Chance. Tables had been pushed back and chairs arranged in rows. The room was as crowded as it had ever been, but with people many of whom had never set foot in a bar-room before. Most of the nesters were there, grim and silent—with one notable exception, Rob thought, as he took his seat down front, ignoring the hostile looks that followed him. There was no sign of Lita Dawson or her father.

Lacey Parran pounded for silence. "These proceedings will now commence—" he broke off as the hat doors were pushed open, and all heads turned toward the woman who stood there.

"Miss Toland!" Lacey scrambled to his feet. "We weren't expecting you. We all know 'bout your troubles—A touch of real feeling pushed through the sheriff's official manner. 'I'm mighty sorry, Christie."

"I'm the only one that can tell what happened. I saw it." Christie's voice was rock-steady controlled and drained of emotion like her face. She had done her crying, but she wasn't wearing her mourning in her face, any more than on her back.

She came down to the front of the room, took her seat in the witness-chair, and answered Lacey's questions with far less sign of discomfort than he showed in asking them. Her story, as far as it went, agreed in every detail with the one Rob had heard from Kerry. She didn't hold back any of the ugly suggestions, but one fact emerged unmistakably. It was Tim who'd sought the fight, Tim who'd drawn first; Kerry had fired only when he had to.

There wasn't much left to say after she stepped down. Lacey fumbled about for a bit, then cleared his throat and announced, "Plain case of shooting in self-defense. Case dismissed."

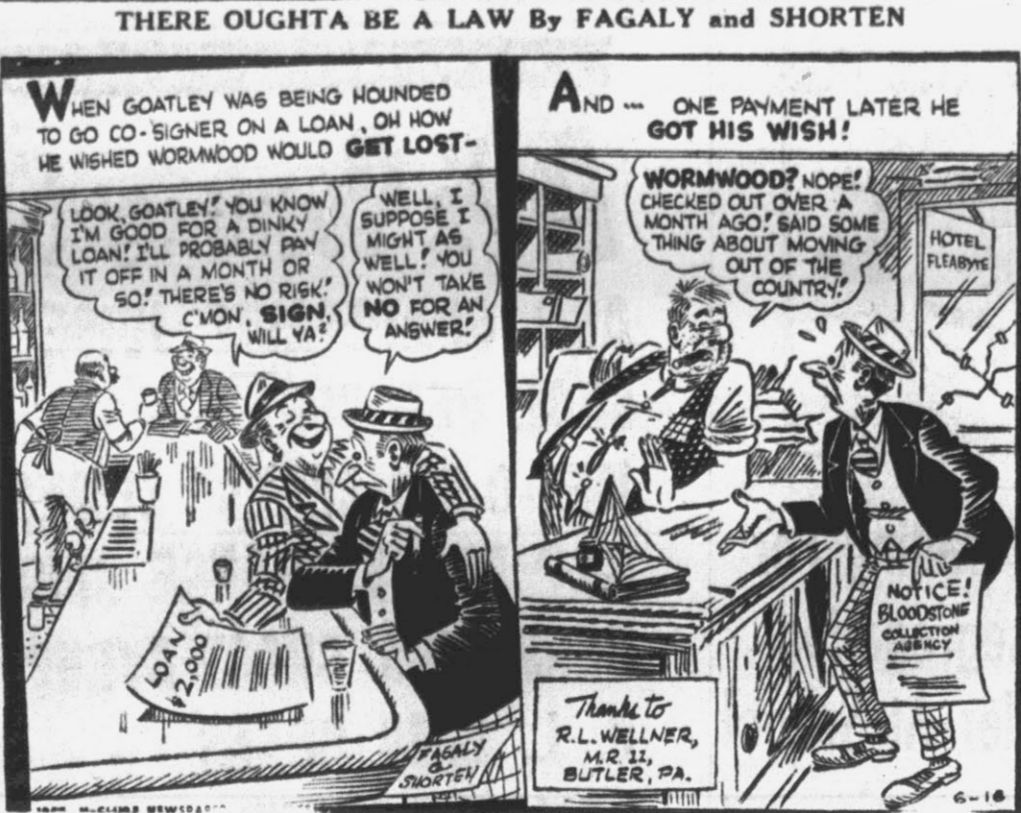

Rob caught Christie at the door out of the corner of his eye, he observed Wayne Cameron edging toward them.

"Christie, I don't need to tell you how I feel about Jared." He took the girl's hands in his. She gave him a brief pressure, and would have moved away, but he held her. "Come to the hotel with me. I've got to talk to you without this crowd around."

"I've got to get home—"

"I know but you can spare me a few minutes. It's important." He spoke quietly but it was the Boss of Broken Spur talking. Maybe Christie was too tired to put up an argument. Anyway, she let him lead her to a room in the hotel. She stood there facing him, head up.

"If it's Kerry you want to talk about, Rob, it's no use. There's nothing to say, and I don't want to hear it."

"Christie," he asked her, "why do you give the evidence you did in court today?"

"It was the truth." She stared at him. "I couldn't let Kerry be jailed for murder when it wasn't murder."

As he went up the stairs, his fingers sought the reassuring crackle of a paper in his pocket—the reward notice he'd got from Lon Calder. It might be necessary to use it after all.

Man Is Killed By Bee Stings In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Walter C. Crenshaw, an amateur beekeeper most of his life, was stung to death Tuesday.

The 47-year-old service station operator was stung three or four dozen times and died in less than 10 minutes.

He and his brother-in-law Max Crenshaw 26, were transferring a swarm from one hive to another when the insects attacked.

Max finally gave up and ran for the house. Walter followed, walking in with bees clinging to him.

Then, with the help of Walter's wife, the men began killing the bees by smacking them between their hands.

The elder Crenshaw, after telling his wife he couldn't feel the stings, sat down on a bed and collapsed.

Convicts Seize, Release Foreman

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Three long-term convicts at Southern Michigan Prison seized a stamping plant foreman as hostage Tuesday night and tried to escape through a sewer tunnel which had been used by 13 convicts who broke out last December. Since then bars had been installed across the exit.

After four hours the convicts, Mike Gisoni, George Patskan and Edward Robinson, came out and meekly surrendered. The foreman, George Clark, was unharmed.

Strike Decisions To Be Localized

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says the unemployment benefit agreements between the CIO United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. need not necessarily set a pattern for other industries.

"It does not follow" that the plan will spread, he said in referring to the supplementary unemployment compensation benefits provided in the recent contract agreements.

He predicted that 1955 will be a record year for employment, wages, income and gross national production.

Commenting on the supplementary unemployment benefit agreements, he said, "It seems to me that the guaranteed annual wage doesn't exist." He added that the American worker "doesn't want to get paid for not working. I think the worker wants stability of employment first and then, if he is unemployed, he wants some sort of compensation."

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

THIS is a Buick—a 2-door, 6-passenger SPECIAL Sedan.

It packs a wallop—188-hp V8 engine under the hood—is carried on a strapping 122-inch wheelbase—rides with the luxury cushioning of all-coil springing, the solid steadiness of a full-length torque-tube drive, the extra safety and silence of tubeless tires.

It's big and brawny and road-steady and roomy—each seat cushion measures over five feet in width.

Yet this beauty—as the price we show here proves—delivers locally for just about the price of the well-known smaller cars—even below some models of those same cars.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That, for sure, is one reason why Buick sales go higher and higher and higher. More and more people are finding that you can buy a

Buick for the price of a smaller car, so more and more people are getting this bigger buy for their money.

They want the bigger package of sheer automobile for the money that they get in Buick—bigger in power thrill, in roomy comfort, in riding steadiness, in structural solidity.

They want the added prestige and pleasure of owning Buick styling and size—and the added safety and sureness of Buick roadability and handling ease.

They want, too, the spectacular performance and better gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—yours at modest extra cost.

And they certainly want the choice Buick offers of a car in every price range, with each one the buy in its field—the low-price SPECIAL, the supremely-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Why don't you come in for a visit and see how much real automobile your money can buy here?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Permanent Buildings Going Up For Scout Camp

Pictured above is the concrete block dining hall which is being constructed by volunteer labor at the new Negro boy scout camp located on Kerr Lake three miles west of Drewery, N. C. The building is being constructed under the direction of Herman R. Foust of the C. M. Eppes High School faculty.

Lowering of the flag concludes the day at the Kerr Lake camp site with the scouts standing at attention. The 220 acres of land for the camp site was given by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

First of the permanent buildings for the new Negro boy scout camp on Kerr Lake is currently under construction.

A dining hall which will be equipped to feed 125 campers is now being built by the camp staff and volunteer workmen under the direction of Herman R. Foust of the Eppes High School faculty.

Laying of concrete block for the building was done by students from the local school from June 5 to June 10.

Even without permanent buildings, however, the camp is already in use and 93 scout campers attended a recent session.

The 220 acres of land for the camp site was given by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Three 17 foot canoes and other camping gear have been donated to the camp by the Wilson Lions' Club, the Wilson Moose Lodge and the Kinston Elks Club.

Plans are to enlarge the fleet of canoes to 12. In addition to being used for regularly scheduled camp sessions the site will be used as an explorer base.

Baby Kangaroo Getting Plenty Of Human Care

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 10-inch baby kangaroo named Josie may not be able to get back in her own marsupial mother's pouch but she's getting plenty of tender loving care from the human race instead.

Josie was the first kangaroo ever born in the Baltimore Zoo. Her mother, apparently disgusted because Josie has a limp expelled her from her home. Josie can't get back of her own accord.

Arthur Watson, zoo director, has put her in the care of Mrs. Louella Earl, who feeds her with an eye dropper.

And Dr. Robert P. Wagers, a veterinarian, has discovered the reason for the limp—a tendon has slipped out of place on one hind leg. He thinks surgery can be slipped back in place with the application of a cast.

TAX ON CATS
DENVER (AP)—Cat owners had a right to howl today. The City Board of Health is proposing a tax of 1 cent per pound on pet food to help pay for enforcing the city's new leash law. That includes cat food. Yet the law applies only to dogs, which must be kept in yards or on leashes after July 1.

Open Savings Accounts in Their Names

Teach your children the thrift habit at an early age. Start them with their "piggy banks" and then open insured savings accounts in their names. They'll love to watch their pennies, nickels, dimes, and dollars build to sizeable figures in their passbooks. You can open an account with a convenient amount here. And savings will earn a worth-while return, too.

Air Alert Action Chart Ready For Civil Defense

What "everyone does" when an air raid alert sounds has been charted by North Carolina Civil Defense and distributed to local Civil Defense personnel throughout the state, General Edward F. Griffin, State CD Director announced.

"Everyone" is broken down into four categories — the Air Force, which calls the alert; the local Civil Defense Director, who assumes command in his community; the public, which must be familiar with the signals and react automatically; and radio stations which will immediately go on CONELRAD (FCC's emergency broadcast plan) to give Civil Depopulation or have them stay put. The state can recommend but does not have authority to stipulate what action should be taken. If a "target" area has time to evacuate, it is urged to do so. If time does not permit, then "take cover" is in order. The decision rests with the local director, based on time required to evacuate his city.

"In both cases, after ALERT is sounded, people should receive further instruction by every possible means of communication. Carefully worded announcements, to fit either eventually, should be prepared and in the hands of radio broadcasting stations in advance — if the station is prepared to operate under CONELRAD.

"Public understanding of CONELRAD is more important now than ever. In fact, public understanding of everything involved in alert procedure is of vital importance. Local Civil Defense directors have an enormous responsibility — much responsibility for adequate warning and adequate public understanding of the signals rests on their shoulders.

"The difference between order and panic may well hinge on what information follows the ALERT signal," the State Director concluded.

Gunshots Bring Guilty Verdict

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—A Circuit Court jury yesterday convicted Floyd Warwick, 45, of firing three shots from a rifle at a freighter on the St. Clair River.

The offense carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $500 fine.

Throw Real Punches In Filming Ring Tale

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The bell rang and the actors came out of their corners. But this was no ordinary fight—they exchanged real blows.

After a couple of minutes of hefty slugging, the bell rang again. Even the hardened crowd of movie extras applauded the fighting.

One of the fighters, war hero actor Audie Murphy, sported red on his cheek. This was no make-up; it was the real thing.

He didn't complain. A stickler for reality, he had trained for nine weeks to get himself down to welterweight and into shape for his role as a boxer in "World in My Corner." He looked in top condition and was still slugging after three grueling days of fight scenes.

His opponent was well chosen for the role. He is Chico Vejar, not only one of the country's top welterweights, but also a dramatic arts major at New York University.

While Chico was in the ring, his manager Steve Ellis provided some background on the lad. Managing is "an avocation" with Ellis. He's also a top-fight announcer, broadcasting the weekly bouts on ABC radio.

The bullets ricocheted off the freighter John E. F. Meisener May 12 without injuring any of the crew.

Warwick, a boat livery operator, testified he was angered by speeding freighters that kicked up waves and damaged his property but he would not admit firing the shots.

Convinced More Emphasis On Atomic Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today secret briefings by the nation's top military leaders have convinced him the United States will have to provide for more atomic production.

Jackson heads the Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee on military applications which yesterday concluded hearings lasting several weeks at which high officers of the armed services have testified.

Jackson said in an interview the Army, Navy and Air Force all are going to have greatly expanded needs for nuclear materials.

"It is entirely apparent additional production facilities will have to be built," he said.

The government now has a 12-billion-dollar investment in atomic installations. An expansion program of more than three billion dollars is just being completed.

Kenny Harris of Greenville spent last week here with his grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Jefferson.

Mrs. Noah Barefoot and children, James, Leonard and Christopher, of Benson are spending a few days here visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ketchum of Jacksonville, on their way to Richmond, stopped over for a short visit with Mrs. Ketchum's mother, Mrs. Mattie Nichols, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Owens and daughter Wama spent Sunday afternoon in Durham visiting Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Woodard and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Linker.

The Fountain 4-H Club members enjoyed a picnic at the Farmville Municipal Park Saturday. Mrs. J. A. Moore and Mrs. Ora Dilda were hostesses. All enjoyed a weiner roast.

Those who plan to attend the Presbytery's Pioneer Camp, which opens Friday, June 17, at 2:00 p.m., at Presbytery's Camp on Bogue Sound from Fountain Presbyterian Church are Shirley Everette, Sarah Smith and Sandra Smith. The pastor of the church and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Philip M. Cory, will be counselors and guest leaders at this camp. The camp will close Thursday, June 23rd.

Mrs. Philip M. Cory spent the weekend near Benson with her father, Mr. James H. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Robby Ogleby and daughter Ray of Morehead spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Moore.

Miss Nancy Moore spent a few days last week visiting her aunt, Miss Martha Moore.

Rev. and Mrs. Philip M. Cory spent Wednesday with Mrs. Cory's mother, Mrs. James H. Smith, who was a patient in Duke Hospital. She was able to return to her home near Benson Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mercer went by plane to Baton Rouge, La. Sunday for an extended visit with Mr. Mercer's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. Leon Clark.

Mrs. Lum Jefferson left Tuesday of this week for Baltimore, Md. to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhelm, and also to visit Mr. Wilhelm's father, Mr. Richard Gaugharm, who is a patient in a Baltimore hospital.

The Fountain Presbyterian Church Daily Vacation Bible School enrolled 41 pupils; 27 had perfect attendance, ten were present for nine days. Forty-one pupils and ten workers made a total enrollment of 51.

The closing exercises were held Friday morning, June 10, at the close of school, after which the entire group assembled on the lawn for a picnic dinner of sandwiches, cookies and a drink served by the members of the Women of the Church.

The leaders of the Junior Class were Mrs. Paul Burnette and Mrs. John A. Joyner; Primary Class, Mrs. Carter G. Smith and Mrs. R. L. Peele; Beginner Class, Mrs. Edwin Newton and Mrs. William Jefferson. The music leaders were Misses Martha Hardy Johnson, Sue Dilda and Betty Sue Baker. Rev. Philip Cory, pastor, had charge of the assembly and served as superintendent of the school.

Mrs. C. M. Smith was hostess to the Baptist Woman's Missionary Society Monday afternoon.

The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," followed by prayer by Mrs. E. B. Beasley.

Mrs. J. M. Horton read Deuteronomy 6:8 and Ephesians 6:4 as the scripture for the devotional period. The principal thought brought out was training of children in the home while they are young.

Mrs. R. F. Speight presented a program on "Juvenile Delinquency." She used the slogan, "Stop, Look and Listen," assisted by Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. Stancil Dilda.

After the president, Mrs. F. L. Eagles, conducted the business session, at which a special offering was taken for State Missions, the meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Smith.

The hostess served refreshments.

Circle No. 1 of Fountain Presbyterian Church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Harris. The program leader, Mrs. Paul Burnette, conducted the Bible study, "The Struggle for the Soul," which was taken from the seventh chapter of Romans, verses 14-25. She also read two articles entitled "The Word of God" and "Friend of Young People."

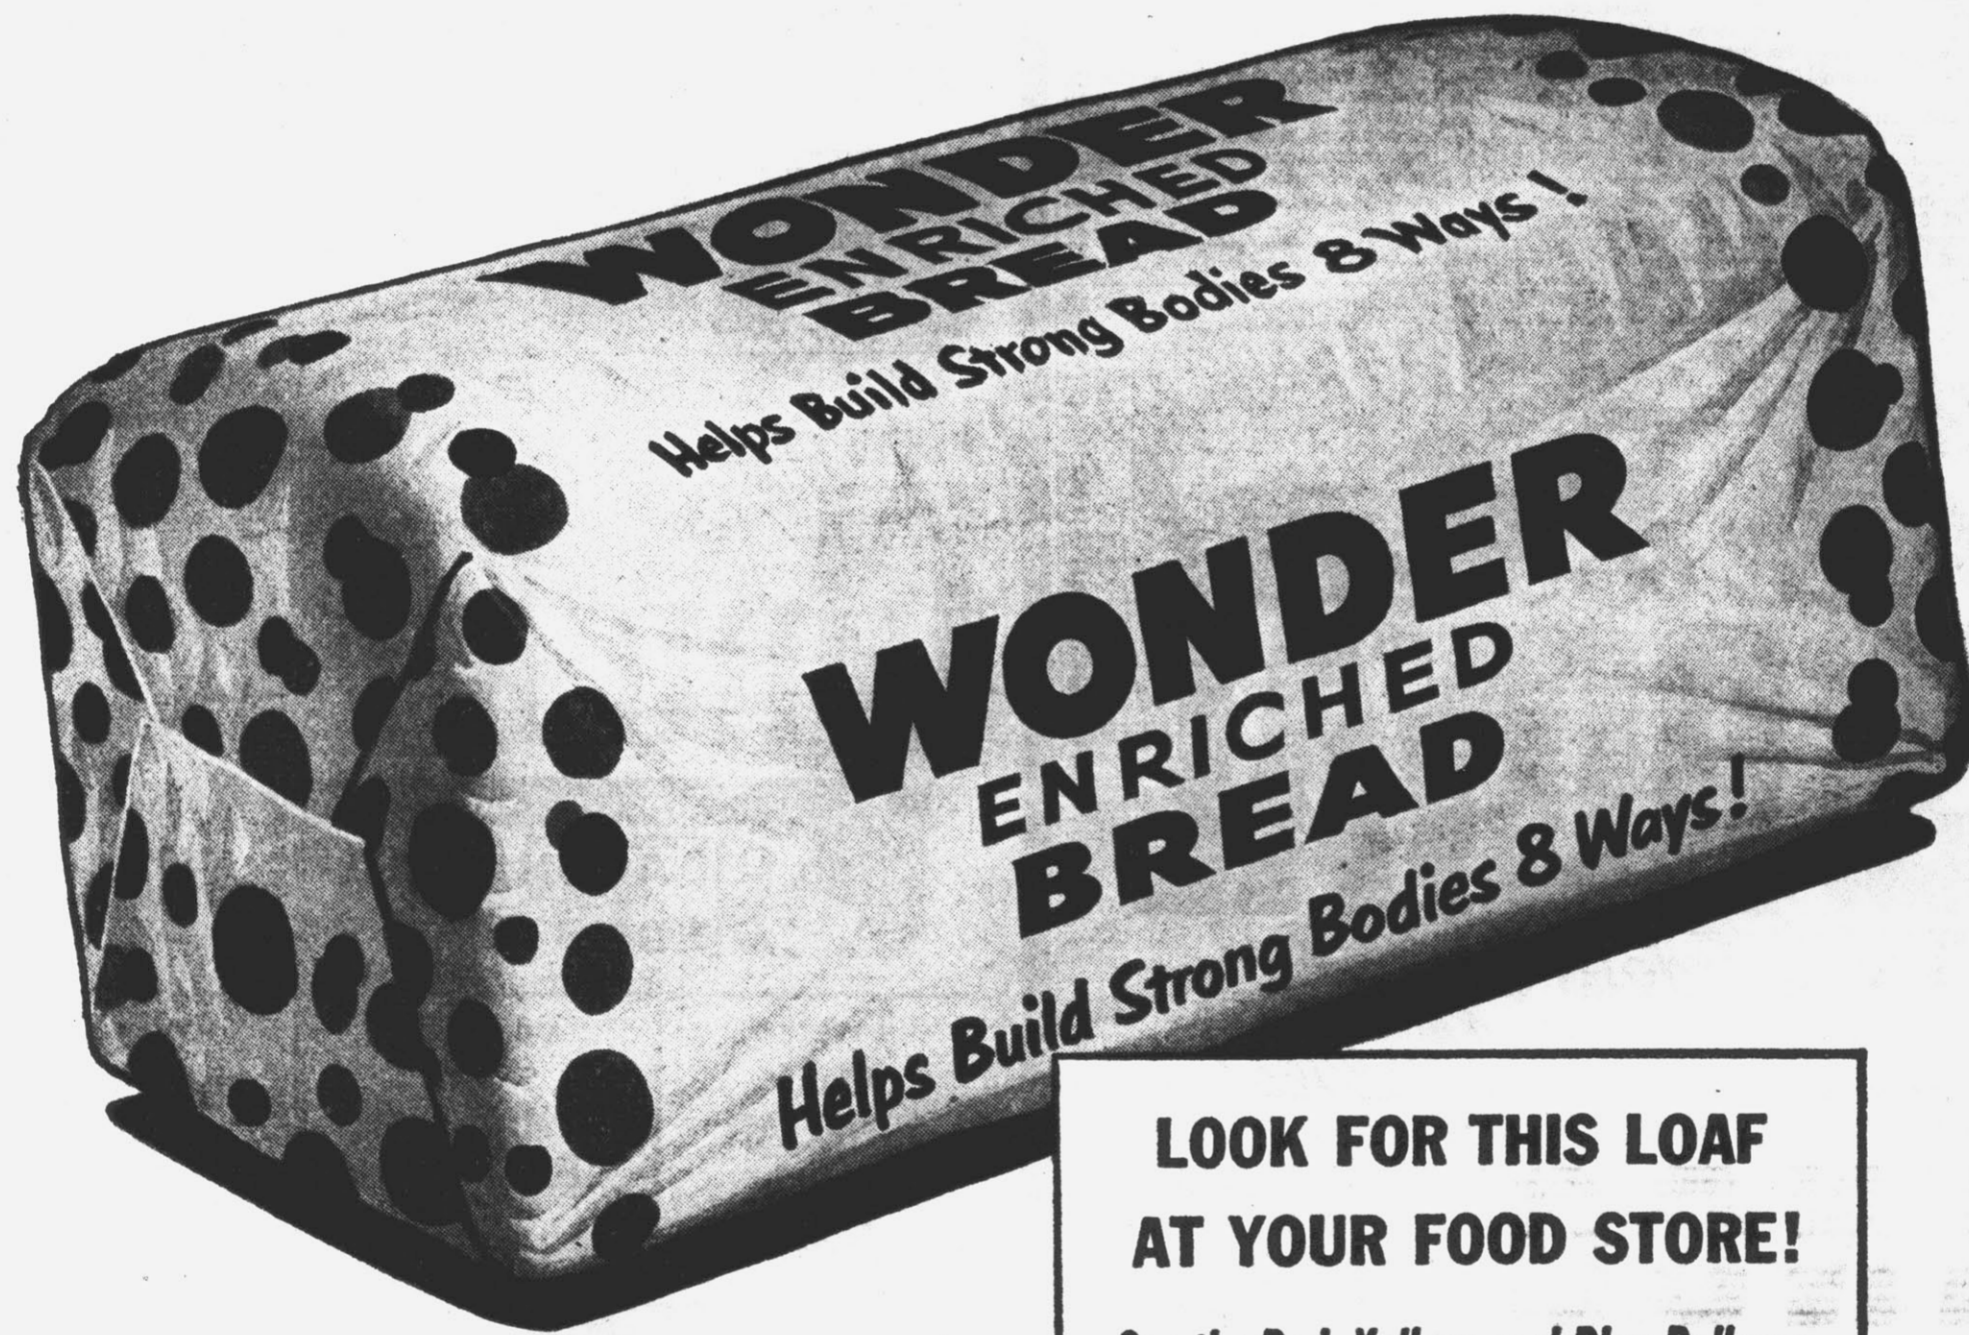

The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. At the conclusion of the program a delightful social hour was enjoyed. Eight members were present.

No One Considers Playboy Ruler In Indochina's Future

By PRESTON GROVER
 SAIGON (AP)—No one here speaks seriously any more of the return of ex-Emperor Bao Dai to power in Indochina.

This sharp-minded playboy is the faded remnant of a once powerful line of Viet Nam rulers. He lost the respect of French, Vietnamese and Americans alike by gambling his hours away on the French Mediterranean while his country was in the throes of an eight-year civil war.

Events, and a tough-minded Vietnamese premier, Ngo Dinh Diem, have pushed Bao Dai far back.

The French in 1948 called Bao Dai from a self-imposed exile in Hong Kong, in a vague hope he could stir up enough popular enthusiasm to lead the country away from Ho Chi Minh, already waging guerrilla warfare against the French throughout the land. But Bao Dai was so obviously a puppet that the country would have nothing to do with him. It already had its eyes on a great national upheaval led by Ho.

Moreover, Bao Dai showed little interest in being a puppet and spent most of his time in his palace at Hue, on the "River of Perfume," in the eastern high country, or on the French Riviera.

Years ago, Bao Dai chose Diem as his chief minister. That was in 1953 when Diem was a bright young mandarin of 32. He was recognized as a sternly honest man and that is his reputation today in a country where bribery, intrigue and corruption are frequent.

He was here when the Japanese came in 1941 and when they left in 1945.

Throughout he has been a stubborn advocate of full independence for the country and has refused to share in any government which didn't have that as its main goal.

The French admit they have fumbled an awful lot in the 10 years since they came back to seize control of the country they lost to the Japanese. For a time in 1945 and 1946, Indochina considered itself free and Communist leader Ho Chi Minh set up a government in Hanoi, with an assembly, and began negotiating with the French for "freedom within the French Union."

A considerable amount of freedom was one on paper and Ho tried to make a go of it. But what was won in the negotiations was taken away in the execution of the terms by the French administrators in Indochina.

Diem was in Hanoi in those years. He refused to associate himself with Ho because he insisted then as he is insisting now that the French must agree to get out. For a long time Ho didn't ask that much.

Despite Diem's known desire to get them out, the French selected him to be premier just at the time of the Geneva negotiations which resulted in division of the country and the preparations for an overall election in 1956 to decide who ultimately will control Viet Nam as a whole.

Progressively Diem moved through a cycle of broadscale governments to a government now centered tightly in himself. He is surrounded only by close friends and relatives.

His propaganda campaign against the French is bitter and unrelenting. Americans agree that he antagonizes the French needlessly. For example:

He removed France's most honored holiday, July 14, Bastille Day, from the list of holidays.

He ordered the name of France's famed Marshal de Lattre de Tassigny pulled down from an important street named after him, and withdrew the order only after a public outcry in which many Vietnamese joined. That Frenchman was popular.

Then, one day, his men captured an ambulance load of munitions being sent under French supervision to the Binh Xuyen, a sect then in open warfare with the government in the streets of Saigon. He called in American newsmen, and before them summoned the French officer responsible. The French tacitly admit the affair, but insist Diem's method of handling it was aimed at humiliating a French officer before Americans.

All these things hotly irritated the French, who insist they might have been handled differently.

Diem now seems solidly in office. Certainly he gained public support and popularity by beating the defiant Binh Xuyen society and driving them out of control of the Saigon police organization.

Now he has recently launched a campaign to break up the Hoa Hao sect. That could cause him

Grandma Tests Jackass In Walk

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Grandma Walker (Mrs. Tom Court) was home today after an experimental, 150-mile walk down the highway from Kennewick, Wash. The idea was to test the stamina of a jackass, Uranium.

Grandma Walker plans to hitch Uranium to a covered wagon for some pleasure trips to "interest ing places." She walked the animal a stretch tied to it, returned for her car, and repeated the process—for some 10 1/2 days.

Grandma Walker, who admits to being "over 50," came through in fine shape. So did the jackass.

NEGATIVE VALUE

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—James Everett Pherigo, listed "one black cat" among his assets on his bankruptcy petition. Pherigo, a lumberman, used the space reserved for farmers to list livestock. He gave the cat's value at $0.00.

Death Claims 3 Of Quadruplets Born Yesterday

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Quadruplets were born to a New Haven woman here yesterday. Two of them died last night.

At St. Raphael's Hospital, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, 39, was reported in "good condition." Of the two remaining infants, one was "holding his own," the other "poor." One died early today.

At St. Raphael's Hospital, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, 39, was reported to be resting comfortably. The remaining infant is described as being in "fair condition."

The four, all boys, were two months premature. They weighed about two pounds each. The two weaker ones were placed in an air lock apparatus designed to aid breathing. These two died, seven hours after birth.

Kenneth G. Barnes, 32, the father, is a aircraft worker. Told of the deaths, he commented: "It was God's will."

The Barnes have another child, Dominic, 2.

BY HOOK, OR CROOK
 PITTSBURGH (AP)—Don Hartle, 17, an orphan, went to enlist in the Marines, but the aunt with whom he lives had never legally adopted him and couldn't sign the necessary consent papers. Recruiting Sgt. Carl Volz, 23, stepped up and had himself made Dan's legal guardian. "You gotta get 'em one way or the other," he commented.

Modern students believe that the oracle at Delphi in ancient Greece was an institution built around a natural gas leak.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — The advance in the stock market continued today into the early afternoon.

Aircraft led the way. The rise was modified to a certain extent by some backward divisions.

Prices were up around 2 points at the best while losses went to about a point.

Trading was brisk. The pace was in the vicinity of yesterday when 2,650,000 shares changed hands.

Aircraft had support from the nonferrous metals, most steels, principal motors, oil, motion pictures, building materials and the rubbers.

Railroads were slightly higher on balance, but they displayed many minus signs. Chemicals were ragged.

General Motors was strong, and also higher were Bethlehem Steel, Southern Railway, Texas Co., Phelps Dodge, Consolidated Copper Mines, Sears Roebuck, U.S. Rubber, United Aircraft, Bell Aircraft, Philco, General Electric, Pullman, Eastern Air Lines and Johns-Manville.

A block of 77,000 shares of F. L. Jacobs sold at 8 off 1.

A block of 12,000 shares of Pfizer traded up 1/4 at 48, and then the stock advanced between 1 and 2 points.

Three New Patrolmen Assigned Local Unit On Probation Basis

Three new Highway Patrolmen have been assigned to Troop A's undermanned staff on a probationary basis, Capt. S. H. Mitchell announced here today.

The three, McRay Bland, formerly of Greenville; W. E. Brown, of Middlesex and A. S. Harris, of Roanoke Rapids, will work with older patrolmen for a period of from 30 to 60 days and then, if found acceptable, will go to Chapel Hill Patrol School.

Bland will be assigned to District IV and stationed at Roper, Brown to District I and stationed at Littleton and Harris to District V and stationed here.

Despite the addition of the new men, Mitchell said today that "three or four vacancies" remained in the Troop and that "good men are always needed."

Qualifying for patrol duty however, often presents numerous obstacles. An applicant must be investigated, interviewed, take mental and physical examinations, be approved by Troop headquarters, show himself to be satisfactory while working with an older patrolman, qualify at patrol school and spend an additional period on probation before becoming an established member of the Highway Patrol.

In addition, applicants must be between 21 and 30 years of age, 5'10" in height, have a high school education and have been a resident of North Carolina for five years.

Upon completion of all qualifications a patrolman is assigned to duty and receives starting pay of $2640 per year. His car, uniform, pistol and equipment is furnished.

The addition of Harris to the Pitt County staff brings to six the number of men available for road duty. Cpl. Carl Whitfield and Patrolmen Jim Boykin, D. E. Perry, D. L. Minshew and Bill Whitehurst make up the force at present.

At Troop headquarters here are stationed Capt. Mitchell, Lt. Brown, Sgt. Boyd and Whitfield, who serves in the office in addition to spending time on the road.

Similar stories in Tokyo dailies said Russia made a "drastic proposal" at Tuesday's session of the USSR-Japan peace talks in London which embraced the demands the Soviets failed to win at the 1951 San Francisco peace conference.

The newspapers quoted "authoritative sources."

Earlier, Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu said Russia has renewed almost the same demands on Japan which the Soviets failed to win at San Francisco.

The Russians tried unsuccessfully then to force Japan to oust U.S. troops from Japan and Okinawa within 90 days as the price of a Soviet-Japan World War II peace treaty.

Russia refused to sign the San Francisco peace treaty, Japan at the same time signed a security treaty with the United States providing for U.S. troops to defend Japan.

Kyodo news agency said Jacob Malik, chief Russian delegate at the recently convened London peace talks, had renewed the Soviet demands:

1. Withdrawal of foreign troops and bases from Japan within 90 days after the effective date of a peace treaty. Extension of Japan's sovereignty to the Ryukyus and the Bonin Islands.

2. Recognition by Japan of Russian sovereignty over Sakhalin and the Kurile Islands. Japan has been demanding return of south Sakhalin and the Kuriles, given by the Allies to Russia at the Yalta conference.

3. Recognition by Japan of Communist China's sovereignty over Manchuria and Formosa, both held by Japan in World War II.

4. Inclusion of Red China in the proposed Japan-Russia peace treaty. Nationalist China has signed the San Francisco pact.

"Choo-Choo Train" chairman Dick Rogers and Ken Beatty will have the train operation for the children. El Bloom will provide special entertainment.

PLANS FAILED
ASBURY PARK, N.J. — For days radio station WJLK urged listeners to tune in during Operation Alert for latest information.

Yesterday, when the alert finally came, a short circuit had put the station temporarily off the air. It didn't get back on until the test was over.

ESTIMATED $725 TOTAL DAMAGE FOR FOUR VEHICLES IN AREA ACCIDENTS

A estimated $725 damage was done to four vehicles involved in a pair of accidents here yesterday. No injuries were reported.

At 4:45 p.m. cars operated by L. C. Mills, 25 of Route 3 and James J. Andrews, 29 of 309 E. Gum Road collided at the intersection of Allen Street and E. Gum Road. Damage to each car was estimated at $250. No arrests were made.

Earlier, at 5:28 p.m., $225 damage was sustained by cars driven by Mrs. Elmer Jones, 53 of Farmville and Ronald L. Morten, 16 of 1903 E. 4th Street when they were involved in an accident at the intersection of Eastern and Fourth streets. Investigating officers made no arrests.

Meanwhile, about 8:30 last night, a Bell Arthur Negro escaped serious injury when his car overturned on an unnumbered paved road near Winterville. Alex Blow Daugherty received minor cuts and bruises in the accident which did three to four hundred dollars damage to his car. No charges were placed against Daugherty by investigating patrolman D. L. Minshew.

SUSPECT FLORIDA JUDGE MURDERED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Authorities leaned toward a kidnap-murder theory today in the mysterious disappearance of Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth, prominent Florida jurist, and his wife.

"I hope this is only a kidnapping," said Sheriff John F. Kirk. "We are still at a loss as to what happened and as to what motive they might have had."

The tall, thin, 58-year-old jurist and his wife Marjorie, 57, were last seen by friends in Palm Beach Tuesday night and were reported missing from their ocean-side summer home at nearby Manalapan yesterday morning.

Slender clues baffled state, county and city police investigators.

Judge Chillingworth, a native of West Palm Beach, had been county judge for two years and circuit judge for 32.

State Atty. Phil O'Connell recently released a theory that a prisoner responsible but said he had no other possible clues.

There were footprints in the wet sand, what appeared to be bloodstains on a beach walk and a smashed spotlight outside the concrete and frame beach house, indicating violence.

"We are working on the theory that they were attacked and carried away either by boat or by car," said John R. Hiatt, Palm Beach County investigator.

Texans Applaud Demo Chairman

DALLAS, Tex. — Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee, pleased with his reception, took his "peace tour" of Texas eastward today after an invasion of conservative-fearing Dallas.

Butler's efforts to iron out differences between feuding Texas Democrats apparently was bearing fruit, but there seemed just as much evidence that he had not breached the hard core of conservatism within the state party.

In his speech before 1,000 or more of north Texans here last night he promised national committee help to defeat Dallas' Republican Rep. Bruce Alger, the only Texas Republican holding elective office in Washington, and said that "Texas Democrats are capable of taking care of themselves."

"If given time they can settle all their differences by themselves without any help from me or the national committee," he said.

He also attacked what he called "the controlled segment of the Texas press" and singled out the Dallas Morning News. He said "that to put it mildly the News is not dedicated to disseminating the views of the Democratic party."

The crowd, which paid $10 a plate for a barbecue buffet dinner, applauded loudest when Butler spoke of "unity not unanimity" as his aim for the party and received a standing ovation when he was introduced by former State Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann of Dallas.

His east Texas tour today took him to booming Tyler, Tex., and later in the day to Waco, where one of the largest crowds of his trip was expected.

CHINCHES FOUND IN SEVERAL CORN FIELDS OF PITT

Pitt County Farm Agent Sam Winchester reported today that chinchins had been found in several area corn fields.

The chinchins, said Winchester, generally make their home in small grain fields early in the spring but by the middle of June have moved to seek more food.

To prevent chinchins from entering a corn field, agricultural experts advise plowing a furrow between the corn and any adjoining small grain field. The plowed strip then should be dusted with 20 per cent Toxaphene. Where chinchins already have affected corn, they can be eliminated by dusting with a similar solution of Toxaphene at the rate of 20 pounds per acre or with a one per cent compound of Parathion dust.

COLLISION KILLS THREE OF FAMILY

OCOQUAN, Va. (AP) — A Nassau County, N. Y., couple and their daughter were killed in a head-on crash today on U. S. Highway 1 near here.

State police identified the dead as Charles A. Zilke Jr., 41; his wife, Colla, and their daughter, Carol Lucette, 8, of New Hyde Park. Identification cards indicated Zilke was an employee of the New York Post.

The Zilke automobile, headed south, veered into a big truck going in the opposite direction, state police said. They theorized that Zilke apparently dozed at the wheel.
