Reception Honors Bridal Couple

ROBERSONVILLE—The Roanoke Country Club was the scene of a lovely reception Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Everett Sr. honored their son, Mr. Donald Everett, and his bride, the former Miss Janie Moye Taylor. The club was appropriately decorated with artistic arrangements of white flowers. The refreshment table was covered with a lovely white organza cloth over pale green. Centering the table was a silver bowl of white stock, gladioli and carnations, flanked by candelabra containing white candles.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Roberson greeted the guests at the door. Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Little made the introductions to the receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Everett Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everett and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Taylor, parents of the bride.

High Score Awarded Mrs. Johnson At Bridge Club Meet

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Barney Stokes was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday night at her home. Mixed summer flowers were used in the living room where two tables were arranged for bridge. Upon arrival guests were served chilled fruit juice. This was followed with a two course dinner. After several progressions of bridge, Mrs. Edgar Johnson was awarded high score prize. Mrs. A. R. Johnson received the consolation. Other players were Mesdames C. L. Greene, Vance Roberson, David Grimes, M. L. Weaver, Sherwood Roberson, I. L. Smith and Hugh Roberson.

Mrs. Coffman Feted At Bridge Thursday

GRIFTON—Mrs. Edwin Reeves, Mrs. B. C. Troutman entertained on Thursday night at bridge at the home of Mrs. Reeves on Du Pont Street to compliment Mrs. S. E. Coffman who will be leaving in the near future to make her home in Durham. A color note of pale yellow and green was noted in the decorations, gladioli, marigolds and greenery being used to make these. Mrs. Coffman was remembered with a pink rose bud corsage and a crystal cigarette box. High score prizes were won by Mrs. Bob Foreney and Mrs. Joe House. Other guests were Mrs. Tom Gover, Mrs. Mark Phillips, Mrs. Paul Fisher, Mrs. W. E. Rasberry, Margaret Sugg. As cards were laid aside the hostesses passed homemade ice cream and individual cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Stokes directed the guests into the lounge where they were invited to the refreshment table by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lilly. Punch was poured by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Batts and bridal cakes were served by Mrs. Edgar Johnson. Assisting in serving and entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilson Jr., Mr. Mayo Little Jr. and Miss Jeanine Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson presided over the register. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Everett Jr. of Raleigh.

Chamber Commerce Hosts At Banquet

ROBERSONVILLE—One hundred fifty people attended the Robersonville Chamber of Commerce Employer-Employee banquet held at the Grammar School Cafeteria Friday evening. Mr. Horace Fulcher, the vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the guests before a delicious turkey dinner was served by Mrs. Annie Grimes of the Wilson Hotel. Mr. Sherwood Roberson was the toastmaster for this occasion.

Mr. C. B. Martin, principal of the local schools, introduced the speaker, Mr. Donnie Hardison, who had as his subject "Robersonville of the Past, of the Present and of the Future." In his interesting speech, the merchant pointed out the many possibilities of the town.

Pamper Guests For Happy Weekends

HAPPY GUEST... Her thoughtful hostess has supplied visitor soaps and clean towels.

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer Remember your last miserable weekend as a house guest?

Well don't put your guest in the same spot.

A weekend guest deserves to feel that you have anticipated her visit and are happy to have her there.

Everything should be ready when the guest arrives. No one likes to sit down and wait until a room is made up so do have everything organized.

It is easy to be a good hostess. The first step is to insure your guests' comfort. Keep these things in mind...

Be sure the guest room is inviting with crisp curtains at the windows and sparkling clean linens on the bed.

Clean washcloths, facecloths and towels should be left in the guest's room unless she has a private bath.

If the bath is to be shared, remove old grubby soap scraps. A guest should have a new cake of soap. One English firm exports visitors' disks especially for this purpose.

The guest soaps are six to a box in a range of beautiful decorator colors and fragrances.

Your guest room should certainly have a small bouquet of flowers, a plant or single rose in a bud vase. There is nothing more cheery than walking into a guest room with flowers. It is a welcome sign in itself.

Be sure there are enough hangers in the closets, extra blankets in closet or bureau drawers, a good reading lamp at the bed. Many guests like to have an alarm clock so they will not oversleep and disturb the household.

Cleaning cream, powder and tissues are musts in the guest room. The chances are your guests will have her own cosmetics, toothpaste and toothbrush but in the eventuality she forgets them it is embarrassing to ask to borrow these items. Place them handily on a tray so she might avail herself of them if she chooses.

A newspaper is a wonderful eye-opener at the breakfast table. Order an extra one for the days your guest is to be with you. Some people do not like to hold a conversation early in the morning. And what better conversation starter is there than a newspaper?

Opera Soprano Is On Her Honeymoon

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP)—Opera soprano Dorothy Kirsten and Dr. John Douglas French, a neurosurgeon at Long Beach Veterans' Hospital, were honeymooning today at an undisclosed destination.

Miss Kirsten, 38, and Dr. French, 44, were married at the San Marino Congregational Church yesterday. It was his first marriage, her third. She divorced New York radio producer Edward M. Oakes in 1949, and her second husband Dr. Eugene Chapman died last year.

Diagnosis Due Soon On Suzan Ball

DUARTE, Calif. (AP)—A diagnosis of actress Suzan Ball's condition will be issued sometime today by doctors at City of Hope Medical Center. She is suffering from a recurrence of cancer.

She has been hospitalized for two weeks. Eighteen months ago surgeons amputated a leg in which cancer had been detected and it was believed that the dread disease had been controlled.

Presbytery Plans To Study College Merger

BANNER ELK, N.C. (AP)—The Concord Presbytery was to consider the proposed merger of Mitchell College Statesville, and Lees MacRae Junior College at a meeting here today.

A report to the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina last week at Barium Springs proposed the schools merge or that Mitchell be made an independent community college.

Date Changed For Methodist Meeting

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N.C. (AP)—The quadrennial conference of the southeastern jurisdiction of the Methodist Church in 1956 will be held July 11-15 instead of July 8-12.

Bishop Marvin A. Franklin of Jackson, Miss., said yesterday the date was moved up to avoid conflict with the July 4 holiday weekend.

Improvements At Library Now Get Top Attention

Now that city and county budgets have been adopted, plans are being made for improvements at the Sheppard Memorial Library during the coming year.

With city and county funds, state appropriations and its own desk receipts, the library will be operating this year on a $36,330.46 budget. The library, the county, $15,500, the library, the county, $15,000.555 From the state $3,800 will be received, part of which will go to the Carver Library; and an estimated $1,400 is expected from desk receipts.

These figures were announced at a meeting of the Library Board last night along with plans for improvements of the Sheppard building. The budget will permit adding more fluorescent lights in the stack room of the library, and allow for some redecorating, including the painting of the main floor. Plans have also been made to start a record collection.

Last year the library operated on a budget of $40,712.96, including $6,000 appropriated by the county for a new bookmobile, and $859 received from the city for new bookshelves in the children's reading room.

In the annual report to the Library Board last night, Sheppard librarian Elizabeth Copeland revealed that during the past fiscal year, ending June 30, a total of 1,380 persons were added to the library register; 250,176 books were circulated throughout the county; and some 4,756 books were added to the library's collection.

She noted as more important than the number of books circulated, however, was the increase in the reading of non-fiction books among both children and adults. In 1953-54, 9,704 non-fiction books were loaned to adults, and 4,577 to children. This past year 10,806 non-fiction works were circulated among adults, and 5,480 among juveniles.

These figures apply to only the city library.

Of all books circulated in the county during the past year, 98,778 were borrowed by adults and 159,398 by children. Some 55,078 volumes were borrowed from the Sheppard Memorial Library; 151,978 from the bookmobile; 30,232 from Carver Library; and 20,888 from the libraries in Ayden, Bethel, Farmville, Fountain and Winterville.

Registration at the Sheppard library now totals 6,9765 and the total number of books in the collection is 45,599.

It was decided that the library will be closed for a week in the latter part of August in order that a full inventory of the library's stock might be taken.

New Miss N. C. Flies To Appear At Manteo

MANTEO, N.C. (AP)—Faye Arnold, the new Miss North Carolina, flew to Manteo today where she will appear tonight in the Lost Colony outdoor drama as a guest celebrity.

Miss Arnold, shapely 18-year-old from Fuquay Springs who represented Wake County in the contest at Wilmington, was accompanied by the runner-up, Pat Cowden of Raleigh.

The two girls will appear in one or more scenes of the Lost Colony staged at nearby Roanoke Island. They also will appear on the stage of the waterside theater during intermission.

Is The Backlog To Grow Or Dwindle?

Pitt County can use to advantage two extra criminal terms of Superior Court during the next six months, and The Reflector hopes the recommendations of Solicitor Robert D. Rouse, Jr., are carried out.

The County Commissioners have agreed to request a special criminal term for the week of October 3. They likewise requested a change of the civil term of court slated for November 21 to a criminal term, subject to approval by the Pitt Bar Association. The Reflector hopes the Bar Association will agree to the proposed change to assist the county in clearing the logjam of cases on its criminal docket.

As it now stands there are some 250 cases on the county's criminal docket. New cases are being added at a rate of about 30 per month. Obviously it will take more than the originally scheduled four weeks of criminal court this fall to make an appreciable dent in that backlog of cases.

We Amateurs Are Good Judges; Look Around

This is merely a personal observation, but we'll wager most of our male readers feel the same whenever beauty contest time rolls around.

The contests and their judges are always a little bit late in the day; someone with an eye for beauty, talent, charm, etc., has already married the potential Miss Shape, Miss Posture, Miss State and Miss Hometown. . . . probably, too, Miss America (the real, uncrowned one) has been wed for some time.

Who are these uncrowned queens? Why you see them just about every place you go . . . at the beaches you'll quickly identify Miss Bathinguit or Miss Sunshine . . . will probably meet Miss Hometown while walking down the main street. . . . and odds are that she is also the girl Miss Universe judges were looking for all the time. Only, and here's the rub, some swain married her before she was proclaimed as royalty in the land of Beauty.

Miss Charm may have been married months or years, but her qualities are recognizable to us amateur judges, any time, anywhere.

Talent? Well, we'll venture that judges at Wilmington and Atlantic City would be more interested in a young lady's brewing a good cup of coffee than caterwauling or ambroidery-work, no matter how good she might be in those two fields.

Men, do we realize we've been depriving the world of all these Miss Something-or-Others by making them Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Smith, etc.?

The Silver Lining Has Its Cloudy Side, Too

Fact of Life: A good season in any productive field means a proportionate reduction in prices the producer can expect.

It applies to tobacco, as well as any other commodity. This season North Carolina is expecting a bumper tobacco crop, and Pitt County (as well as immediately surrounding areas) has been peculiarly blessed with near-perfect growing conditions, so farmers are generally delighted with their crops. They should not count too heavily on proportionate returns they might have enjoyed in other years.

Despite curtailment of tobacco acreage, with prospects of more reductions in the offing, production remains high and other handicaps to high sales expectations have arisen.

Rising cigarette taxes and health fears, as well as mounting foreign competition pose selling problems no individual farmer can surmount. Nor is there any immediate indications these difficulties will solve themselves or fade away with the passage of time. Rather, it would be wiser to anticipate their growth and even new factors intervening that will harmfully affect the future of tobacco sales returns.

This is not said merely to throw cold water on the hopes of those who today are looking over their fields and rubbing their hands in happy anticipation of the coming sales season; but rather to remind that each silver lining has its cloudy side, and while the 1955 tobacco sales are important, the future years are even more important to the grower. He has a never-ending problem on his hands.

by January 1. Even with the two extra weeks devoted to the trials of criminal cases, Solicitor Rouse told the commissioners the backlog of criminal cases will number more than 100 by January 1.

With the recent reorganization of the state Superior Courts, it seems provisions would have been made to give Pitt more weeks of criminal court this year than last year. After all, one of the principal purposes in the creation of new judicial districts and the appointment of more judges was to cut down the backlog of cases in individual counties.

Be that as it may, Pitt was assigned one less week of criminal court for this fiscal year than was the case last year. If the backlog of cases is to be cut down, the only alternatives open to the county are requesting a special criminal term and requesting the switch of a civil term for the trial of criminal cases.

The Reflector can appreciate the reluctance of the County Commissioners to request a special term which will cost the county at least $1,200. Yet it will be worth more than that to place the county's Superior Court docket on a current basis.

If two more criminal terms can be arranged this fall, and perhaps another civil term switched to a criminal term next spring, perhaps by July 1 Pitt's Superior Court criminal docket can be on a current basis. It would be a condition that would considerably benefit the people of the county.

Timing Seems To Affect Bond Sales

By LYNN NISBET Netj. By LYNN NISBET BONDS — State Treasurer Edwin Gill was very much interested in a little story appearing in the Wall Street Journal the other day. The State of New York had offered for sale $125 million highway construction bonds. Only one bid was received at an interest rate of 2.782 per cent, and the State rejected the bid. The bonds will be re-offered at a later date.

The recent offering was part of $500 million authorized, of which $250 million have been sold at better rate than the bid last week. Major reasons for the lack of interest on part of bond buyers was the heavy "inventory," or "blue list" of municipal bonds on hand which individual investors are not picking up as eagerly as they did a few months ago; and the temporary (?) tightness of money. Apparently too many States and local units put bonds on the market at the same time earlier this summer. Gill says the lack of competition and the high rate is no reflection upon the sound credit of New York State. It was the result of unfavorable timing.

In that connection he notes that North Carolina bonds have been put on sale at propitious times, even though the money was not immediately needed. Less than half of the proceeds of the mental hospital $22 million issue has been actually committed. Although all the bonds have been sold. By no means all the $14.5 million in general institutional bonds has been used, and only a part of the $25 million school building bonds. There is authority that another $25 million school construction bonds, which will be offered when the market seems right.

Meantime, the proceeds of the bond sales already made have been re-invested, in most instances at higher interest than cost, and the State is making a profit on the money.

RETIREMENT — October 26 will be an important date for some 67,000 members of the Teachers & State Employees Retirement System. That is the date fixed for voting on the question of integrating the State system with the Federal security program. The election and the general rules under which it will be held was authorized by the recent General Assembly. Governor Hodges by executive order has designated Nathan Yelton, executive secretary of the state retirement systems, as a sort of commissioner of elections to revise the mechanics of voting. Details will be announced later. The act provides that a majority of all members must vote in favor of the merger before it can become effective. Somebody Told Me

Mrs. Verlin Gripp (formerly Hennie Ruth Whitchard) on a visit from Sioux City made the same statement that everybody else who comes back home makes: "Greenville has grown so much that it's amazing. You can stay away for only a short time and when you return new developments have sprung up."

Last night I had the usual pipe-line communication with Tech Sergeant George Sharp in Stephensville, Newfoundland. George, used to no-toll military line, and called St. Johns, where Lt. Charles Watson is stationed. With his folks out of town, Charles talked to John Farley and Dr. Fred Haar on this end. Reception was excellent. Saturday Lloyd Taylor of Greenville was able to talk to his mother the same way. Lloyd is in Mannheim, Germany.

Sometimes I wonder if other people have pastimes that they enjoy as much as I do radio. Then I decided that it's unlikely. Doesn't really seem fair for one man to have so much fun and at the same time render a service.

Recently I was talking to one of Greenville's successful business men who got a start only a few years ago. His story made me stop and think, for it was not long ago that he struck out on his own with very limited capital.

There were weeks, he says, when he came very close to giving up the fight and returning to work for someone else. "Let's try it one more week," he kept saying

This Is The Age Of 'Plug-Ins'

By ELMER ROESSNER The heat is on. You turn a switch. Things happen.

A steak sizzles. Coffee perks. Chops sizzle. Chickens brown. Stews stew. And cool air flows. This is the age of the plug-in. This is the day of the electric household appliance, the air conditioner and other AC-DC devices. Had your feet massaged electrically today? Your spine super-vitalized? No? Pity, peasant!

A look at the Housewares Show at Atlantic City or a ramble through the pages of any trade publication shows that the hottest things in retailing today—even before they are plugged in—are electrical wares.

Electric broilers were introduced a few years ago. The bluish seemed to fade for a while. Now they are in greater demand than ever. Electric frying pans were a novelty—something for Astors and the Wilsons—until almost every housewife decided to have one and almost every retailer decided to stock them. Most of them are now being advertised as completely impermeable in water—but don't try it while the sausages and kidneys are browning.

Electric clocks, trivets, mixers, shavers, French fryers, coffee makers, tea brewers, space heaters, food warmers, blenders, sheets and, no pressure cookers are getting more attention by dealers and housewives than ever before.

Buying offices, store buyers and manufacturers say that there has rarely been anything like it. Once merchants could sell anything if it had chlorophyll in it. Now it has to have a heating element.

The electric houseware now seems to be the new frontier in merchandising. The excitement may not last. Enterprisers had better sell while the element is hot.

WATCH FOR NEW PLUG-IN DEVICES

The excitement over small electric devices has caused manufacturers to focus attention on new products in this field.

Manufacturers aren't talking. But there are unconfirmed reports about new and amazing devices—things to do almost any household or kitchen chore. It will pay retailers to keep alert to innovation.

WHAT'S 60 PER CENT AMONG BROKERAGE FRIENDS?

A New York brokerage house describes the purchase of $500 worth of stock and says its commission would be $8, or 1.6 per cent of the price. Then it goes on:

"That's pretty typical, too. Because the average commission on all transactions on the New York Stock Exchange is only about 1 per cent."

If this brokerage house wants to know the difference between 1 per cent and 1.6 per cent, it can send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to any of our readers, who are sure to explain the difference is a big 60 per cent.

TAX ON LIGHTS IS WITH US YET Americans often laugh because in ancient times slaves lived fees on windows, thereby taxing the light that fell into the rooms of the people.

We can stop laughing. Excise taxes on electric light bulbs for the 10 months ending April 30 amounted to $13,430,000 the Internal Revenue Service reports.

Few ancient kings ever collected that much in all their reign.

POINTING UP VARIOUS KINDS OF INFLATION We are not having "real" inflation now, Humphrey B. Neil, the Vermont Ruminator, says in his Letter of Contrary Opinion. Real inflation arises from monetary inflation, he points out, adding:

"A wage inflation may or not increase prices. Costs rise, but may have to be absorbed if the point of diminishing returns is reached and buyers balk at higher prices. Then the spiral works the other way as profits shrink and sales slump. This form of inflation is not a one-way street; there is likely to be a dead end."

Contrary to the contrarian (1) We are having a small bit of monetary inflation, since Federal spending continues to exceed income; (2) wage increases increase buying power, making prices less likely to balk.

Unlike his New Deal predecessors, Secretary Humphrey does not believe that the Treasury should divert its money power to these purposes. It should employ its authority, he believes, to collect taxes, not reduce the national economy or landscape.

PENTAGON INVOLVED AS usual, the military experts have become involved in this controversy. And the members of the Office of Defense Mobilization, which has been debating the question, include Defense Secretary Wilson. The others are top officials of Treasury, State Interior, Commerce and Labor.

Pentagon spokesmen contend that the "emergency" has not ended, and will not end until the "cold war" with Russia and Communist China is resolved one way or the other. Overnight expansion may be required any time, they warn, and the law should be retained in some form. Final decision may not be made until after returns are in from the Geneva Conference.

Napeterias Are The Answer

By HAL BOYLS NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato: What this country needs is half a million napeterias.

What is a napeteria? Well, actually, it hasn't been invented yet. But it is something like a cafeteria and a garage.

In a cafeteria you serve yourself food; in a garage you park your car. But in a napeteria you park your tired old body, take the weight off your feet and mind, and serve yourself some sleep — in other words, it's a place where you can take a nap.

The napeteria is today perhaps civilization's greatest health need. As any doctor knows, half the tired feelings in America would disappear if people got one more hour of sleep every day.

The immediate query arises, "Well, in that case why don't people get that extra sleep at home?"

And the obvious answer, of course, is that it is impossible. The modern home is a great place to visit, but a poor place to live in — that is, when a man is looking for sleep. Too many other interesting things to do in it — like watching television, throwing parties or listening to the quartet of neighbors in the apartment next door.

Ever try to take a nap at home? Can't be done. Inside, the phone rings, the vacuum cleaner growls in the rug, the electric dish washer groans and bubbles, the automatic laundry machine gushes and grinds as it tears apart your soiled shirts. Outside, dogs bark, birds bellow in the trees by your bedroom window, and merry sounds float up from neighborhood children assassinating each other at play.

Besides, the average working man really needs his hour long nap most right in the middle of his work day.

There is a prejudice in this country against taking a nap after a lunch. It is regarded as sissy and vaguely un-American. But the custom of the siesta, popular in Latin American lands, is an honored and sensible one.

Winston Churchill decided in his youth that the human body was ill-adapted to eight hours of steady attention to a task. All his life he has taken a daily refreshing nap. Thomas Edison, who nap. Thomas Edison, who once said he only slept 4 hours a night, also took regular naps. Both Churchill and Edison managed to live to a ripe old age, and got three times as much work done as the ordinary man.

As employers so far haven't put in office dormitories, the napeteria seems the best solution.

Here's how it works. You wad-

Strength for the Day

Power in politics or business positions tempt some to pride and vanity.

The workings of the world are such that what we most want and work for hardest may be capable of doing us the most harm if we are not careful. It is not good for people to become "bigger" in the eyes of the world unless they become bigger and better in spirit, too. The whole man must grow, not just his bank account or the size of his desk. Big jobs demand big people.

Some people grow to fit their opportunities. Some remain small. So don't strive merely for the larger boots of the men ahead of you. Strive first to be big enough to fill them.

By EARL L. DOUGLASS GETTING AHEAD Have you ever read in the paper of someone's winning a great deal of money, or inheriting a large fortune, or making a successful business coup? One consequence of such financial success you probably have never considered. For some months, at least, beggars, swindlers, and high-pressure salesmen will pester the lucky man day and night in the hope of wheedling some of his newly gained wealth away from him.

With the greater privilege of added wealth or higher position comes not only added responsibility but also added temptation. Great riches make it easier to spend wastefully and harmfully.

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — Certain prominent Republican industrialists are beginning to change their mind about George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury. They consider the erstwhile steel-and-coal magnate to be as great a "traitor" to his class as Franklin D. Roosevelt was held to be by the "economic royalists" whence he sprang.

Humphrey's demand for devaluing or curtailing a multi-billion "gray train" for the nation's largest corporations furnishes an ironic answer to Capitol Hill "liberals" — charge that the Eisenhower regime is a "Big Business Administration." For the former Hanna executive, even more so than Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, former General Motors chief, has been pilloried as the arch-capitalist at Washington.

United States Treasury. favors at the expense of the United States Treasury.

TAX WRITE-OFF PROCEDURE Secretary Humphrey's current offense is his suggestion for termination or curtailment of the first tax write-off procedure enacted after the Korea War outbreak as a defense measure. It has cost Uncle Sam at least $3 billion—almost enough to balance the budget—and it still ticks the Treasury for about $1 billion a year.

In order to stimulate production of steel, aluminum, petroleum, machine tools and munitions, the 1950 law permits corporations to amortize new plants and facilities in five years. It means huge savings in taxes to wit:

A $100,000 plant, for instance, can deduct from taxes approximately $20,000 a year under the five-year amortization plan. Normally the deduction would be spread over 20 years, possibly more with heavier tax payments to the government.

Other Editors Are Saying..... 'Full Faith And Credit'

(Washington Daily News) In our constitution there is what is known as a full faith and credit clause. That means that one state in these United States is supposed to give full faith and credit to the laws and constitutions of other states.

Some act might be against the law in one state and be legal in another. One is supposed to abide by the rules of the home team of the home state. It is legal to ramble in Reno but not in Raleigh. And there are many laws which are different in different states. The full faith and credit clause is violated time and time again we feel, particularly in the matter of extradition.

Sometime ago we read about a man captured in one of our Northern states on a warrant taken out in a Southern state. The prisoner refused to waive extradition and chose to fight his return to Georgia.

The governor was called upon to sign the extradition papers, and the governor refused. The refusal was based on the grounds that the man could not get a fair trial in Georgia on the charges for which he was arrested. Therefore,

Some Think Humphrey 'Class Traitor'

WASHINGTON — Certain prominent Republican industrialists are beginning to change their mind about George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury. They consider the erstwhile steel-and-coal magnate to be as great a "traitor" to his class as Franklin D. Roosevelt was held to be by the "economic royalists" whence he sprang.

Humphrey's demand for devaluing or curtailing a multi-billion "gray train" for the nation's largest corporations furnishes an ironic answer to Capitol Hill "liberals" — charge that the Eisenhower regime is a "Big Business Administration." For the former Hanna executive, even more so than Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, former General Motors chief, has been pilloried as the arch-capitalist at Washington.

Instead, Humphrey is bucking such great corporations as United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Boeing and Douglas aircraft companies, Shell Oil, Phillips Petroleum, Boston Edison and many other interests seeking tax law's enactment late in 1960, about 20,000 write-off certificates have been granted involving expansion totaling about $30 billion. Almost 700 requests are now pending on property costing $4 billion. The more requests that the populace may be plugged has brought forward many new applicants, including the great corporations listed above.

The tax write-off program is administered by the Office of Defense Mobilization, which is headed by Dr. Arthur S. Fleming. A veteran New Deal official, Dr. Fleming has permitted "abuses" to creep into the system, in Treasury's opinion.

INDUSTRIAL DISPERSAL He has used this "emergency measure" to stimulate industrial dispersal against an atomic attack, offering bounties to plants which break up their urban concentrations. He has also used it to persuade firms to move into areas of chronic or serious unemployment, which necessarily endangers the operation to preservers of regional and partisan

BILLIONS INVOLVED Since the Federal Court Rules, But No Date, To De-Segregate

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A special federal tribunal did the expected here yesterday and ordered Prince Edward County, Va., to end racial segregation in its public schools. But the court set no specific time limit for compliance with its order and supporters of segregation immediately claimed a "great victory."

Lawyers for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, who had asked the court to make desegregation effective in September, said the special court granted "the substance" of their requests.

Attorneys Spottswood W. Robinson III and Oliver Hill added: "It is our sincere hope that the defendants (Prince Edward County) will wisely employ the time this decree affords in constructive efforts to remove racial segregation from the schools... at the earliest practicable date."

Both Virginia Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and lawyers for Prince Edward interpreted the directive by the three-judge district court to mean that the county, and Virginia generally, will be able to operate schools on a segregated basis in the 1956-57 session.

Beyond that, nobody would make any predictions. The state has already announced its intention to continue school segregation indefi-nately if any legal avenue can be found to escape the antidesegregation decree of the U. S. Supreme Court last May 31.

The court, composed of Circuit Judge Armistead Doble and Federal Dist. Judges Albert V. Bryan

Six Negroes Are Admitted To Kentucky School

MONTICELLO, Ky. (AP)—Six Negroes, ranging in age from 6 to 15, yesterday became the first to attend a desegregated public school in Kentucky.

It also was the first time the children of Clark Stonewall had studied inside a classroom.

Heretofore, their father had taught them rather than send them on a county school bus to Travis Elementary School here.

The teacher at the one-room Griffin School, with its 25 white pupils, said all "got along beautifully on this, the opening day of the fall semester."

The Stonewall family is the only Negro family living in the southeast section of the county served by the rural Griffin School.

On July 30, officials will meet to discuss desegregation of Wayne County High School.

and Sterling Hutcheson, said it wouldn't be practicable "to require desegregation by this September "because of the adjustment and rearrangement required for the purpose."

The court order "restrained and enjoined" Prince Edward, a county in which Negro students outnumber whites, from "refusing on account of race or color to admit to any school under its supervision any child qualified to enter such school."

But it added that this directive would not be enforced until "after such time as the defendants may have made the necessary arrangements for admission of children to such school on a nondiscriminatory basis with all deliberate speed."

The decision was almost identical with a similar decree last week involving the Sumner school district in Clarendon County, S. C. Both districts were directly affected by the Supreme Court's edict.

Bribery Charged Board Chairman

JACKSONVILLE, N. C. (AP)—James F. Mohn, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of Onslow County, yesterday was named in a grand jury indictment on a bribery charge.

The indictment alleged that Mohn, prominent farmer and farm implement dealer, accepted $500 from Clayton Humphrey, builder and contractor, during the rehabilitation of Top Sail Beach after it was struck by a hurricane last October.

Humphrey, against whom no charges were placed, secured federally-financed work for the bribe, the indictment alleges.

Judge William J. Bundy of Greenville, sitting in his first Superior Court, presided over the jury's report.

Judge Bundy was appointed last month to the bench by Gov. Hodges.

Maximum penalty for the offense is five years in prison or $5,000 fine, or both.

Mohn was fined $3,000 earlier this year by Judge Don Gilliam in federal court for violating the Tobacco Marketing Act. He was convicted on six counts of selling tobacco under the quota cards of others.

Bandleader Will Try Break Mark

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. (AP)—Bandleader Guy Lombardo will make a different kind of music here in September.

The musician said yesterday he will compete in the International Cup regatta and will attempt to break the record for the mile straightaway.

His unlimited class hydroplane, of course, is named Tempo VI.

U. S. railroads average $24,000 in investment for every worker compared with $14,000 for manufacturing as a whole.

More than 300 different products are packed under pressure in cans so that they can be sprayed out.

Visiting Soviet Farm Leaders On Iowa Tour

By TOM WHITNEY
DES MOINES (AP)—Twelve visiting Soviet farm leaders set out today for a long cross-country drive across Iowa. At its end there's an Iowa country picnic waiting for them.

It's at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Hora, near Washington in the eastern part of the state.

This couple with their two children, Keith, 16, and Katherine, 7, occupy 160 acres which they own themselves and from which they reap rich harvests of pork eggs, corn, oats and hay without any hired help at all.

Perhaps the most important news out here today is that the Russian agricultural big shots are making a hit.

Delegation leader Vladimir Matskevich has turned out to be an exceedingly able diplomat with a turn for the right phrase at the right time.

Amidst applause the Russians yesterday presented a bouquet of roses and an album to Mrs. Richard L. Allemen of Slater, whose home they visited. And they gave Allemen a fine Russian-made Leica-type camera.

The four Des Moines college girls who thought up the idea of painting in Russian a welcome sign for the Russians' arrival at the Des Moines airport Sunday were presented bouquets of roses by the visitors.

Iowa Gov. Leo Hoegh last night spoke at a dinner given the Russians. He said the trip of the Russians to Iowa and the trip of Iowans to Russia would help "us live in peace not only with each other but also with the rest of the world."

Matskevich replied that he was particularly inspired by the portion of the governor's speech dealing with peace. He declared that if the Soviet Union and the United States live in peace together no one will dare attempt to start a war.

Files $3 Million Suit For Libel

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A three-million-dollar libel suit has been instituted against Confidential magazine by tobacco fortune heiress Doris Duke.

The suit was filed yesterday in Superior Court by her attorney Jerry Giesler. Her complaint said the magazine, published in New York, made an "ugly, unfounded and scurrilous attack" on her.

Miss Duke was represented as uninterested in collecting monetary damages. Giesler said that "any amounts recovered will be given to worthy charities." He said she had two primary interests in filing the suit: to defend her name against "ugly, unfounded and scurrilous attacks made upon her, and to discourage this magazine and others of its ilk from making similar unfounded attacks on innocent people."

Named as defendants, along with the magazine, were Robert Harrison, publisher; Howard Rushmore, editor; Grant Peters, purported authors; and others.

Antiques Tour

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP)—If you're looking for a used car that really has been used, drop around here tomorrow.

The North Carolina Horseless Carriage club will form here then for the start of its fourth annual tour.

One of the 71 cars making the two-day trip is 32 years old. The long line of antiques will go to Danville, Va. Thursday and end the tour at Southern Pines Friday.

Several events are to be held along the way—not including flat tires.

Mamie Startles Beauty Entries

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Preliminary judging starts today in the Miss Universe contest, but the international beauty queens all hope the competition won't be as tough as that they got from actress Mamie Van Doren.

Two busloads of the beauties were the guests yesterday of Universal-International Studios. They broke bread and posed for pictures with Lex Barker, George Nader, Rory Calhoun, Tony Curtis, Maureen O'Hara, Pat Crowley, Martha Hyer, Paul Kelly and other U-I stars. They also watched Curtis and Miss Crowley emote in the movie "The Square Jungle," currently in production.

But the cameras started popping hysterically when the curvy Mamie walked in the U-I commissary wearing a golden lame gown. It could best be described as a going-away dress that had mostly departed from Mamie.

Photographers ignored the four-score beauty queens and the rest of the stars to cluster around Mamie. She, of course, posed as if she had invented cheesecake.

Said Mamie: "I knew I was going to be in fast company, so I just dressed for the occasion."

Mostly the beauty queens stood around amazed. Miss France, Claudie Petit, said, via an interpreter:

"That dress she's wearing would even be banned in Paris. How did she ever get into it?"

Tonight the preliminary judging begins in the Miss U.S.A. contest. The number of American entrants will be cut in half or less tonight for the Miss U.S.A. finals tomorrow night.

Demos Confidential Over Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Confidential Democrats prepared to drive for House passage today of a bill to raise the federal minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

House leaders called up the bill, anticipating approval before nightfall. This would send the measure back to the Senate for adjustment of a minor difference.

The Senate already has voted the $1 figure. President Eisenhower asked 90 cents.

The minimum wage covers some 24 million workers for companies doing interstate business. However, most of these already make $1 or more an hour. An estimated 2,100,000—many in the South—would get automatic raises under the bill.

As the bill came to the floor, apparently outnumbered administration forces were ready to make a fight for the 90-cent figure. They expected some Southern Democratic support.

Organized labor has been pressing for a $1.25 minimum. But

Cadillac

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

But nowadays more and more motorists—like the happy man you see in the picture above—are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The purchase price of the lowest-priced Cadillac is actually little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's economy. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage on their original investments than any other automobiles in the land.

So if you want a Cadillac—don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move, the automobile you now own is the perfect steppingstone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

PONY Leaguers Whip Tarboro In First Round Play

Edwards, Allen Pitch 7-5 Win; Billy Cox, Dick Evans Hit Homers

By WAYNE BISHOP

Greenville's All-Star PONY Leaguers broke loose with five big runs in the fifth inning yesterday at Rocky Mount to outscore the Tarboro All-Stars 7-5 in the first round of play in the 1955 PONY League tournament.

The Greenville squad trailed 2-1 going into the fifth frame, but then they broke loose with a strong hitting attack paced by Billy Cox's tremendous smash over the left field fence.

Cox and Dick Evans each smashed homers off the Tarboro pitching for the two big blows of the game. In all Greenville was able to pick out only five blows off the Tarboro pitching.

Allen Winning Pitcher Bobby Edwards started on the mound for Greenville and pitched superlative ball for three innings. In that time Edwards had a no-hitter with four strikeouts. In the last half of the fourth inning, Edwards weakened and gave up a base on balls, a single, and a triple to score two runs. After two outs Edwards walked another batter. Coaches Ford McGowan and Bill Kittrell replaced Edwards with Walker Allen, curve ball specialist, at that point.

Play Rocky Mount Tonight the Greenville squad plays tough Rocky Mount, the winner over Williamston last night. The winner of the Greenville - Rocky Mount game gets Wednesday night off in the double elimination tourney.

The Greenville coaches will go with Charley Station, the big right-hander, in tonight's game. Station is considered the top Greenville pitcher and was saved for this game. Billy Cox and Merrill Bynum will be on relief call.

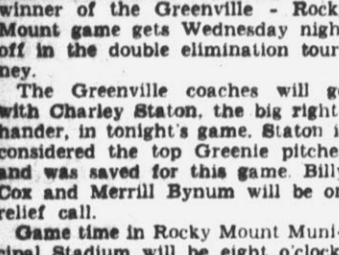

Game time in Rocky Mount Municipal Stadium will be eight o'clock.

Dick Evans... homer and double

The next pitch Edwards stole third, and then made a clean theft of home to send the Greenvilles into a 4-3 lead. Allen walked and Cox cleaned up the bases with his homer. Greenville had smooth sailing after that.

Jim Wilson, Baltimore Ace, Keeps Other Teams Honest

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press One pitcher can solve the problem for last-place Baltimore, but if nothing else, Jim Wilson's keeping the American League race honest. None of the flag contenders has managed to get really fat on the Orioles with the 33-year-old right-hander around.

Wilson, who pitched the lone no-hitter in the majors last season for Milwaukee, lops the Baltimore staff with seven victories. Four of them have been against the top teams in the league—New York, Chicago, Cleveland and Boston.

The San Diego, Calif., veteran, sold to the Orioles by Milwaukee this spring, came up with a two-hitter yesterday to knock off the White Sox, who had won seven straight, 3-0. Chicago, looking ahead to the first-place battle with New York that opens tonight, didn't get a hit after Gil Coan singled with two out in the third inning.

It was the third shutout of the season for Wilson, who also blanked New York 4-0 on hits) and Boston 3-0 on four hits. He fanned five yesterday and walked none.

Gus Triandos gave Wilson all the support he needed with a two-run homer in the first off loser Mike Fornieles. The other run came in the eighth on an error and Hal Smith's double.

The defeat left the Sox two games behind the Yankees, who were idle. The only other AL game went to Washington, 6-3, over Kansas City.

In the National, Brooklyn retained a 12½-game lead despite a 9-5 defeat by Cincinnati as second-place Milwaukee lost at New York 6-5. Philadelphia tumbled Chicago to its seventh and eighth straight losses, winning the wrap of Sunday's suspended game 8-6 and taking a regularly scheduled contest 2-1.

Joe Black the ex-Dodger, and reliever Ari Fowler were effective enough to halt Brooklyn although the crippled Brooks rallied for four runs in the seventh. That cut the Cincy lead to 6-5, but Stan Palys and Ted Kluszewski hit back-to-back homers to open a three-run ninth.

The Giants overhauled a 5-4 Milwaukee lead in the seventh when Billy Bruton dropped a deep center field drive by Willie Mays for a two-run error. The Braves had taken the lead in the fifth with four runs. Warren Spahn, victim of the error, suffered his 10th defeat. Don Liddle won in relief.

Olen Gorbous belted a three-run homer to get the Phils rolling as the suspended game picked up in the last of the sixth inning. Herm Wehrmeister went all the way and Roy Smalley hit a two-run homer in the nightcap triumph that sent the Phils into sixth place ahead of Cincinnati.

The Senators breezed in against the A's with Roy Sievers hitting two home runs and a double in three trips.

By BRUCE PHILLIPS

Reflector Sports Writer Johnny Rice of Kinston and Milford Walters of the All-Stars will oppose each other on the mound in tomorrow night's first annual Tobacco Belt League All-Star game in Kinston.

The game will pit a team composed of outstanding players from Tarboro, Bevoir, Pinetops, Falkland and Grimesland against the league-leading Kinston Eagles. Game time is 8 p.m.

Pitching alone will provide an interesting motif. There is a great deal of contrast between the two hurlers except that they both are winners. Rice is a pitcher whereas Walters is a right-handed batter. Rice is a speedy merchant but Walters relies on breaking stuff. Even physically there's a basis for comparison—Rice is tall and Walters is short and stocky.

Johnny Smith, Kinston's playing-manager, named his ace on the strength of the latter's sensational chunking this season. The big guy is the Eagle's biggest reason for their first place nesting. A fast ball artist, Rice has won nine games, and lost only one, that being a relief role against Pinetops. His greatest effort was a no-hitter against Bevoir.

Rated Hurler Shady Cobb, Pinetop's skipper who will pilot the All-Stars, reached into his own repertoire for his starting twirlers. Walters has been running neck-n-neck with Rice for pitching honors with 10 wins against two losses. He possesses an assortment of pitches, among which a fast-breaking curve is the most effective.

The All-Star squad was picked by the managers of the five remaining clubs and stands 21-men strong. Pinetops is the only team to place five men, but its total includes Manager Cobb.

The veteran Cobb has chosen a tentative starting lineup which will be well-balanced in both power and defense. Besides Walters, Billy Webb at catcher and Joe Edmondson at first base are picks from his own aggregation.

From second place Tarboro art Jack Russell at shortstop and Tommy Keel in rightfield. David Manning and Tom Shivers, in centerfield and leftfield respectively, are Bevoir's representatives. Falkland's J. C. Hamill at third base and Grimesland's Mickie Smith at second base round out the chosen team.

Kinston Strong Smith hopes to match this hand-picked nine with his regular team which has gone through the season winning 17 games and losing only one. The Eagles will have Billy Tripp, Buddy Johnson, Bonner Cousin and Smith in the infield and Jimmie Cousins, J. R. Grant and Bobby Cousins in the outer garden. Bernie Braxton will be behind the plate.

Both manager will likely substitute freely. Smith has named Jimmie Bracey and Frank Grant to follow Rice on the hill and Cobb has implicated Tarboro's Curtis Baker. Falkland's George McCullen and Grimesland's Jerry Gaskins form mound turns.

Other members of the All-Star squad include Gene Morris of Tarboro; Bobby Nunn and Joe Shivers of Bevoir; Lenward Jones and Bobby Edmondson of Pinetops; H. T. Trevathan and Freddie Williams of Falkland.

Trabert, Brough Favored In Big Merion Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The big guns of the American tennis world were letting loose at exclusive Merion Cricket Club today and Tony Trabert was booming the loudest.

An unusually large lineup of stars is on hand for the 56th annual Pennsylvania State Men's tennis championship and the 54th annual Pennsylvania and Eastern States Women's championship.

The girls, led by reigning Wimbledon champion Louise Brough, met in the third round today after getting in a full day yesterday.

The men slept late yesterday played one round and got into full swing today. Competition winds up Sunday.

Still flushed from his U.S. clay court victory in Atlanta Sunday, Trabert flew into town in time to brush by his first opponent, schoolboy Sidney B. Wood 3d, New York, 6-1, 6-2.

"The boy was nervous," said Trabert of the young son of a former Davis Cup star, "but I think he learned a few pointers."

Trabert has won 15 out of 17 tournaments since he and Vic Seixas won the Davis Cup against Australia last December.

Trabert, Seixas, Hamilton Richardson, Herb Flam, Jack Frost, Straight Clark and Grant Golden knocked over their opponents at will but Ed Moylan and Kurt Nielsen, Denmark, had to bear down a little.

Nielsen runner-up to Trabert for the 1955 Wimbledon championship and 1954 runner-up to Jaroslav Drobny, found 16-year-old Sammy Howe, who attends a suburban prep school, challenging him boldly for one set.

Then the Dane gritted his teeth and permitted the boy but five points in the second set. The score was 6-6, 6-0.

Moylan, No. 7 in the U.S. and winner of 12 straight tournaments before running afoul of Trabert in last week's clay courts, was down 1-3, 30-40, in the second set when his smooth marksmanship from backcourt matured suddenly to end a gallant try by tournament Chairman William J. Clothier 2d, son of a former U.S. champion, 6-1, 6-3.

WEST JORDAN Utah — Bob Baker, 21½, Pittsburgh, outpointed Rex Layne, 210, West Jordan, Utah, 10.

Milwaukee Depends On Solid Pitching

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Grimm sounded like a man willing his way past a graveyard as he talked about the pennant chances of his second-place Milwaukee Braves.

"We haven't given up," he said after last night's 6-5 loss to the New York Giants. "We think we still have a chance to catch the Dodgers. We realize it's a longshot and we've got to have help from the other clubs. But we think it can be done."

Winners of nine of their last 13 games, the Braves think they're on the move to catch the Dodgers. "We have almost half the season left in which to go places," Grimm pointed out. "If we keep getting our recent combination of runmaking and steady pitching, we still can throw a scare into Brooklyn."

The other teams will have to take a few falls out of the Dodgers too. We can't do it all alone."

Grimm's show of optimism stems from the fine pitching performances turned in recently by his Big Four of Gene Conley, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl and Chet Nichols plus the hitting of Henry Aaron, Johnny Logan, Eddie Matthews and Del Crandall.

"With Buhl and Nichols coming the way they have been during the past few weeks," Grimm said, "we're set in the pitching department as we've never been before this year."

The shifting of Aaron from right field to second base in place of the slumping Danny O'Connell has also proved a tonic to the team.

Leo Starling, Allan McArthur, and Lonnie Station all had two hits for the Lions.

Lions Edge Kiwanis 9-8 In First Playoff Game

The Lions and the Kiwanis hooked up in a real slugfest yesterday afternoon in the first of a three game playoff, with the Lions edging their North State League rivals 9-8.

The Kiwanis came from behind time and again during the game, but they never could push over the extra little bit to win the game. The Lions led 6-2 after two innings, but the Kiwanis came back to take the lead at 7-6 in the bottom of the third. In the top half of the fourth, two runs on two hits and an error sent the Lions into an 8-7 advantage. In the top of the fifth they made it 9-7 to put the game out of reach. The Kiwanis rallied to score once in the last half of the fifth, but that was all the scoring they could do.

Rommie Brock, who relieved Tadpole Cates in the first, went the rest of the way for the Lions and received credit for the win. James Allen Braxton hurled for the Kiwanis and was touched for ten base hits. The Kiwanis punched out nine hits.

Tomorrow the two teams continue their series. If the Lions win they have the championship for the North State League. The playoff was necessary when the Kiwanis won the first half and the Lions won the second half. The Exchange won both halves in the other Little League.

Leo Starling, Allan McArthur, and Lonnie Station all had two hits for the Lions.

Unfinished Crime

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

Sara's thoughts were scurrying in a dozen different directions like mice in a panic as she listened to the Indian describe what he had seen in the 10-cent store. "You were after the ruby, but I bought it before you could reach the counter, so you followed us into the street. You wouldn't do anything about the ruby there because we were talking to a policeman. So you trailed us. The Automat. After Gerry went to get coffee, you sat at our table because you thought Gerry was coming back. Hadn't he left his hat? I was wearing the ruby, but you didn't realize that because you hadn't reached the Automat when I was putting it on and afterwards it was hidden under my blouse. You must have thought Gerry still had it in his pocket. I sat facing the street, but you sat opposite me where you could see the room without turning your head. And you left the table suddenly. Did you see Gerry? Oh did you see Gerry then? Where did he go?"

The Indian considered her with grave eyes. "He went out the side door. Didn't you know?" "No, I didn't know." Her voice was flat colorless. "Was he alone?" "I wasn't see. He was moving quickly through a crowd. At the door he looked back frowning. Then he went out into the street." "You followed him?" "As far as Grand Central station. He went into a telephone booth and looked at something in the palm of his hand. I couldn't see what it was. Then he left the booth, went directly to the Hotel Commodore bar. He looked like a man who has just received a great shock of some kind. It was a rather simple matter for me to pick his pocket and melt away into the crowd.

"I didn't dare open the box until I was in my room with the door locked, shades down. Then I lifted the lid and, of course, the box was empty." "This last, little glimpse of him, looking like a man who has just received a great shock," only look her and I just heard you. Then Gerry disappeared into mystery as before. She looked up at the Indian. "I suppose you think now that he took the box deliberately, opened it when he was in the telephone booth, and then went into the bar to recover from the shock of finding it empty. But Gerry isn't like that. Besides, where is he now? Why didn't he ever come back?" "The Indian smiled at her. "Why don't you drink your sherry?" "I need it," Sara took several sips. "How did you know this was Gerry's address?" "I didn't. But I knew it was yours. At the Automat you had a portable typewriter with your name and address on a luggage tag tied to the handle. I didn't know Gerry's last name, I just heard you address him once as 'Gerry.' To find him again, I must work through you. And it was always possible that he had slipped the ruby to you before he walked out of the Automat with the box in his pocket to draw anyone who was watching away from you. So I came here."

"You came to search my apartment!" cried Sara. "And it was you who searched Gerry's apartment here earlier this evening?" "His astonishment seemed real. "Gerry has an apartment in this same building?" "You must have known. You must have seen the name 'Gerald Hone' on his mailbox downstairs and associated it with Gerry." "I didn't go downstairs. As I told you, I entered the building by the skylight on the roof. I walked downstairs and identified your apartment by the visiting card thumbtacked to your door." "Oh..." There was no such card on Gerry's door upstairs. The Indian could have passed without suspecting that it was Gerry's. Sara said "Why do you care so much about the ruby? Who are you?" "The Indian said "I represent His Highness the Rajah of Mogur. I was educated in Edinburgh and—but my name is unimportant." "I never heard of Mogur," protested Sara. "Mogur is a tiny state on the border between India and Tibet. The rajah is a Mohammedan, but his subjects are Hindus, speaking a dialect similar to that of Bengal. He respects their religion. There are just enough Mohammedans attached to the court of Mogur to keep the Hindu faith honed and sharpened to its finest point of fanaticism. These people are so simple they cannot believe that any but their old enemies, the unbelieving Mohammedans would have risked the wrath of Siva by taking the ruby from his shrine. Foreign agents are fanning this flame for their own purposes. Unless the rajah can recover the ruby and display it, there will be riot and worse in Mogur."

"How did Moxon get the ruby?" "During the war he was a pilot who made a forced landing in Mogur on his way to Burma. He was interned, because Mogur was a neutral state, independent of the British Raj. He saw the ruby and it excited his greed. He had no idea it would be difficult to sell. He slipped into the shrine at night and took it."

"How do you know that?" "Less than an hour before we discovered its loss. Moxon took off in his own plane from an unlighted airstrip with stolen gasoline."

"I see." "The Indian said, "We traced Moxon's trail to Rangoon, where he went after the war to have a Chinese jeweller set the stone and fasten it to a chain that he could wear around his neck under his clothes. We notified Washington. He was still in the Army, so the state department passed our complaint along to the war department as it was then. There was no court-martial—just a quiet investigation. He was cleared because it couldn't be proved that the ruby was in his possession or that the death of the co-pilot was anything but a regrettable accident."

"Wasn't it?" "A fatal accident in the commission of a felony is murder. If we had been able to prove theft, Moxon would have been in a difficult position. We were sure of his guilt, so we decided to take action ourselves independently. We hadn't enough money to offer a reward that would tempt Moxon. Since the war there is no money in Mogur. So I didn't approach Moxon at all. I approached Mrs. Moxon."

"His wife?" "And the mother of his two little sons. She refused to believe Moxon had stolen a ruby, but she knew something was wrong and that she was frightened. When he found the jewel was too famous to be sold even to a fence, he couldn't give up the dream of sudden wealth, so he tried something else and that time he was caught."

Shirt Showed In X-Ray Report

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Tony Pizzo, unofficial goodwill ambassador for Ybor City, Tampa's Latin Quarter, wasn't his usual gay self at a banquet for visiting Cubans. He explained he has just received the result from the mass X-rays conducted by the tuberculosis association. He was advised to have a thorough medical examination. The next day Tony was all smiles when he showed up to bid the visiting delegation goodby. When X-rayed, he wore a shirt with an elaborate design in metallic threads. The metal showed up on the plate as a large dark mass in the chest area, but his lungs were perfect.

Believes Crows Superstitious

WINNSBORO, La. (AP) — Hub Dear believes crows are superstitious. This, says Dear, makes them a cinch to keep out of watermelon patches. Just drive stakes at intervals through the patch and stretch string from stake to stake. "Thinking the string is some kind of trap, he will not light in the patch where the string is placed," said Dear. "The crow is a smart bird but he is also very superstitious." Dear discovered this version of the traditional scarecrow in 1917 and has used it since.

N. C. Will Get Its Share Of Planned Highways In Either Congressional Bill

North Carolina can look forward to enjoying its share of a completed interstate highway network by 1968 if Congress passes a bill approved by the House Public Works Committee Friday.

At the same time, Federal-aid to primary, secondary and urban roads in the state will be at record levels.

The House bill was introduced by Congressman George H. Fallon of Maryland. It calls for the Federal government to contribute $2.4 billion to be matched by $2.5 billion from the states, to assure the completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways in 14 years. Federal-aid to all other roads will be $75 million a year, with the percentage of increasing this total by $25 million each year until 1968.

Six weeks ago the Senate approved a five-year highway bill introduced by Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee calling for $7.75 billion for the National System and $900 million a year for all other roads. If the House approves the Fallon measure, both bills will have to be trowed out in conference committee.

A comparison between both bills made by the citizens' Highways For Survival Committee as they affect North Carolina reveals the following:

Under the Fallon Act, North Carolina will receive for its portion of the National System $255 million, which it will have to match with $255 million over the 10-year period.

Under the Gore bill, North Carolina will get $197.5 million, to be matched with $225 million over a 10-year period. No assurance of completing the National System is provided.

For all other types of Federal-aid North Carolina will get in 1957 $17.7 million under the Fallon plan—$6.3 million for primary roads, $7.1 for secondary and $4.3 for urban connectors, streets and avenues. These figures would increase each year.

The Gore measure would provide $28.4 million for these roads on the same matching formula. This would remain constant for five years, with proportionate allocations for the three categories of Federal-aid roads.

As far as North Carolina is concerned, a comparison between the two bills shows three main points of difference. Arthur G. Diets, chairman of the Highways For Survival Committee, pointed out:

"First, the Fallon Act lacks the vital National or Interstate System as a whole project. The end is seen before the first shovel of dirt is dug. This means that North Carolina, and all other states, can buy up rights-of-way, can recruit necessary personnel and, in general, can plan an orderly and more economical road-building program. The 5-year Gore plan has no provision for completing this desperately needed artery.

"Second, the Fallon measure allocates Federal funds for the National System on the basis of needs, as previously reported by the states themselves. The Gore plan furnishes funds on population-area formulas which though politically attractive will not do the job. For instance, thirty states and the District of Columbia will receive less than they need to complete their portion of the National System even if Congress institutes a second Gore act five years from now.

"Lastly, in requiring less matching money the Fallon Act is considered more realistic in terms of road-building funds which North Carolina will have to raise. As new roads are complete, more vehicles using them will bring more revenue to the state," Diets concluded.

Prediction: No One Will Take $64,000 Question

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Several million Americans will tune in their television sets this evening to CBS-TV when an Italian-born New York gentleman will try to answer some questions about opera. They will watch, mesmerized, to see whether he will work his way to a final question which, if he answers it correctly, will pay him $64,000.

"The public has flipped on this $64,000 question program," a fellow said. Indeed it has. There may not have been 35 million persons watching last Tuesday, as CBS estimates, but there certainly were many million. And that's a lot of people.

We, the captive audience, have watched in recent weeks as a New York policeman who's an expert on Shakespeare took his solid $18,000 winnings and departed rather than risk its loss by going for $32,000. We saw an Indiana schoolteacher grab off $8,000 and beat it. And we gaped last week when a Bible-reading grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., settled for $32,000, foregoing the big $64,000 question.

Seizing a crystal ball and a saw and going away out on a limb, I forecast:

Nobody ever will try for the $64,000 question. Furthermore, as time progresses and nobody tries for it, I see this big question in every department of the quiz getting easier and easier. It's a pipe question, a giveaway. But nobody will try it.

Why? Well, we have become a basically conservative people. Perhaps this is because of inflation. (Remember when the $64,000 question was worth only $64 on radio and everybody was equally excited?) We realize the fact of inflation, but we still can't grasp its implications.

Few of us can visualize what things $64,000 will buy that $32,000 will not buy. For example, you can buy a nice house for $32,000. But how many really know what sort of a house you can buy for double the amount? Thus, when you have the hard cash in your mitt for that $32,000 house, you chuck away the reality for the unknown dream?

U.S. Mint Finds Way To Handle Coin Shortages

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The U. S. mint is finding a way to lick the sudden shortages of coins that sometimes plague various areas. In doing it the mint is also saving the taxpayer some money.

Americans need more money year by year. Twelve months ago the mint was turning out 1 1/2 billion new coins a year. By new distribution methods the mint expects to get by in the current fiscal year with $30 million new coins.

The U. S. mint is a monopoly. It alone can produce coins. Also it has but one customer—the federal reserve banks and branches—furnished by law to buy coins from any one else.

But even a monopoly can be expensive to run. When he took office a year ago as director of the Bureau of the Mint, William H. Brett, an Alliance, Ohio, manufacturer, ruled that the monopoly be operated in the same light as if it faced stiff competition from other manufacturers.

As a result, the Tax Foundation Inc. (a private, nonprofit research organization) reports today, the nation's mints will cost the taxpayer $1 per cent less to run this fiscal year than last.

To tackle the problem of recurring coin shortages—which are expensive for the mint to meet on an emergency basis—officials of the mint and the federal reserve banks got together and took the first inventory of coins in the vaults of the banks ever to be made. In one bank they found excess coins piled 12 feet high. The excess inventories were out.

Then the mints and the reserve banks studied seasonal demand in various localities.

Federal reserve and mint officials now estimate upcoming spurts in demand and try to supply commercial banks well in advance, but to keep inventories of unwanted coins from ever piling up.

Other savings were made with considerable pain to localities and persons affected.

In San Francisco and Seattle 74 employees lost their jobs. Manufacturing at the Denver mint cut off 45 more. Officials insist, however, that all who did not receive have been placed in other work.

claim evidence circumstantial

DALLAS (AP)—R. E. Hamilton found one of the windows of his pickup truck broken, a set of lower-jaw false teeth lying on the seat, and a 21-year-old man sleeping beside the truck.

The stranger had no lower teeth.

Yesterday the grand jury ruled the evidence of breaking and entering an auto was not enough and freed the man.

All right, said Hamilton, he'd keep the teeth then. And he did.

Hour-Long Wait Ends In Cutting

CINCINNATI (AP)—Blondie Thomas didn't go into the Little Hour Cafe to while away the time. She wanted to make a telephone call.

For an hour she stood outside the phone booth waiting for the man inside to finish. Finally, according to testimony in Criminal Court, she gave the door a kick.

Out came Robert Isome, 24. He slung her in the neck with a knife, then went back to resume his telephone conversation, the court was told.

Isome pleaded guilty to the killing. Sentence was deferred pending a probation report.

EXPENSIVE JUMP

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A cost an Air Force parachute $15 to make a demonstration jump. Airman 1c Phillip Bellus, stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base, said his wallet containing $15 popped from his pocket as he hit the water in a jump at nearby Silver Beach.

Geneva Is 'Hope' To Old Warrior

By JAMES F. KING
WESTERHAM, England (AP)—The old man put aside his easel and went to the window. He looked into the blue sky and then, still wearing slippers, walked outside along a wooded path.

The flowers were in full bloom. Along the way he stopped to feed some goldfish in a pool.

He was in no great hurry, and a quiet summer day at Chartwell in the Kent countryside is a good day for reminiscing—a good day for dreaming too.

For Sir Winston Churchill reminiscences and dreams come easy when stirred by major events like the Big Four conference opening today. His 80 years dictated him a place on the sidelines—but his thoughts are there.

More than two years ago, on May 11, 1953, he said in the House of Commons:

"I believe a conference on the highest level should take place between the leading powers without long delay.

"This conference should not be overhauled by a ponderous or rigid agenda, or led into mazes or jungles of technical details, zealously contested by hordes of experts and officials drawn up in vast, cumbersome array.

"It might well be held on a reached agreements would be general, but there might be a real feeling among those gathered together that they might do something better than tear the human race, including themselves, into bits.

"If there is not at the summit of the nations the will to win the greatest prize and the greatest honor ever offered to mankind, doom-laden responsibility will fall upon those who now possess the power to decide.

"At worst, the participants in the meeting will have established more intimate contacts. At the best, we might have a generation of peace."

Today the godfather of the Geneva conference could think that perhaps, just perhaps, the world was somewhat nearer the enduring peace he once called "the last prize I seek to win."

Fifty Firemen Injured In Blaze

ATLANTA (AP)—Fifty firemen were injured yesterday in a fire that heavily damaged an envelope manufacturing firm.

The firemen arrived at Grady Hospital in droves—six hours after the four-alarm fire at the plant of the Justice Envelope Mfg. Co. had been brought under control.

Fire Chief C. C. Styron said their injuries were mostly due to chemical reaction from the smoke in the envelope company plant, causing blistering skin and damage to the respiratory system. A few were treated for cuts and bruises.

Two New Cannon For An Old Fort

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Fort Armstrong, which was established in 1816, again has two brass cannons mounted at the site overlooking the Mississippi River on Rock Island Arsenal.

They replace two Civil War iron cannons mounted on wooden carriages. Many repairs were required with the passing of time.

The design of the brass cannons is similar to the mounts used in 1816.

Mistook Coyote For Lost Puppy

DALLAS (AP)—About six weeks ago Mrs. Margie Lyons found a shivering, soaking wet puppy on the street.

She took it home, gave it the best of food and medicine and watched happily as her new pet tried to make friends with her tiny Chihuahua.

This week Mrs. Lyons took her two dogs to a veterinarian for their rabies vaccinations. It was then she learned her new pet is a wild coyote, not a dog.

ELECTRONIC CHECK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—An electronic weighing device is being tested by the Virginia Highway Department and Bureau of Public Roads. It will make it unnecessary for trucks with legal limits to pull off the highway for weighing. But when an overloaded truck crosses the device a red light is flashed at the weighing station and the offending truck will be weighed on regular highway scales.

In the great meteoric shower of Nov. 13, 1833, observed in eastern North America, it was estimated that 200,000 shooting stars were observed from one place between midnight and dawn.

American Farm Group In Soviet Sees Waste Labor

MOSCOW (AP)—Twelve American farmers headed for the Soviet hinterlands today to see how Russia's farmers do it. The visiting American farm delegation left last night on a 30-day tour of the Ukraine, Central Asia and previously virgin lands of Siberia now being cultivated. The Americans got their first Russian soil in their shoes yesterday in a visit to Looch, a collective farm 20 miles west of Moscow. They reported the livestock looked fine but the expenditure of labor would shock farmers at home. The number of women at work started them too. "We saw as many as 30 people in a hay field," Charles J. Hearst, of Cedar Falls, Iowa, reported. "If back home, in Iowa we had three people working the same hay field that would be a lot. But apparently they've got a lot of manpower to spare here—or should we say womanpower?" Winding up three days in Moscow vicinity, Hearst and John M. Steddon, of Granger, Iowa, commented particularly on the extreme friendliness of the people, "even considering we are an official delegation getting extra-fine treatment." "We had expected to see some hatred built up for us over these years," said Steddon, "but none so far is apparent."

Vivid Past Lives Again

AP Newsfeatures... LISBON — Portugal's romantic seafaring past will sail again next year aboard the 800-ton two-masted Nau Ship S. Vincente. Model for the new ship is the type of galleon in which the Portuguese made conquests and a name for themselves on the seven seas in the 16th and 17th centuries. The crew of 18 will dress in 17th century costumes and sail to the ports of the world promoting the products and tourists attractions of their country. The romance of the sailing ships will compromise with a diesel engine. First trip is planned to Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

Sneezed With An A In Her Mouth

ATLANTA (AP)—Alice Montgomery, 15, of Thomaston, Ga., was baby sitting and teaching her young charges the alphabet via plastic blocks. She sneezed with an A in her mouth and it lodged in her windpipe. Doctors here retrieved it but Alice now has her doubts about combining education and baby sitting.

Professional Clown Is Entertainer For Lions

Herman "Nose" Joseph a professional clown with several circuses for years, entertained the members of the Greenville Lions Club last night. Joseph, now retired from the active and hard life of making people over the nation laugh with funny antics, is a salesman for a Greensboro firm and shares his clown act for civic club programs throughout the state. At last night's program, Joseph received hand after hand of applause from the appreciative audience for his variety of jokes and music interpretations played on an accordion. Joseph was introduced by Jim Paige. Two new members were inducted into the club by Withers Harvey at the meeting. They were C. Frank Dall and Clarence Tugwell. President Ben Rouse announced the resignation of Director Stanley Gary and the appointment of A. A. Hines to fill his post for one year. Rouse also outlined briefly to the club members the "You'll get more in Greenville" program which got underway Monday with a solicitation program by the Jaycees. A goal of $5,000 is sought in order to promote shopping and business in Greenville over a 60 day period, starting August 15th. Bob Starling announced that the Lions Little League team won the first game from the Kiwanis, with a score of 9-8, in the Championship play-off and urged all Lions to attend the games at Elm Street Park today and Wednesday at 5:00. A three game series is being played with the best two out of three determining the winner. Guests of the club last night were: John Craft, Jack Morrison, Bobby and Richard Hughes, Jack Taft and Jack Windley, who is coaching the Lions Little League baseball team. The American Red Cross has nearly two million volunteer workers.

Busy?
Sure, I'm a busy farmer.
I'm going to vote to stay busy.

To Stay Busy, VOTE Saturday' July 23.

If you've been farming long, you know what I mean when I say, "Vote to stay busy." I didn't vote back in 1938, and I didn't stay so busy the next couple of years. I didn't make much on the time I did stay busy, and my wife didn't have so much in the house. A lot of my neighbors did vote: Against marketing quotas. You remember what happened. The price of tobacco dropped so much some of us just about starved. The next year we came back and voted right. We've done pretty well ever since then.

In case you don't know, farmers have a chance to vote on two things concerning tobacco and one concerning peanuts on Saturday, July 23. These are the Tobacco Marketing Quotas; the Tobacco Associates, Inc.; and "Pennies Promote Peanuts" contribution.

If we are going to continue to have 90 per cent of parity on our tobacco, two-thirds of us must vote in favor of marketing quotas. We can vote either for one year (1956) or for the next three years. Of course, we can vote against our tobacco program. If we do, we lose our price supports and there'll be no limit to the amount of tobacco we can plant.

The way I see it, our tobacco marketing quota program enables us to act like sensible businessmen. When we get too much tobacco for the market to handle at a fair price to the grower, we vote to cut down on what we produce. This isn't any different from what the merchant does when he gets over-stocked on overalls or pink bonnets.

Tobacco is the only commodity that's supported at 90 per cent of parity. Even at that, our tobacco program has never cost the taxpayer a cent. One reason we've been able to dispose of our tobacco at a fair price is Tobacco Associates, Inc. We organized it in 1947 to keep our foreign markets thriving. We pay 10 cents an acre of our tobacco to support Tobacco Associates. In return, it's kept one-third of our tobacco crop moving overseas. This meant about $215 an acre to each of us last year. What does $215 an acre mean to your farm? We are facing increasing competition for our export markets; it would be a poor time to withdraw our support from Tobacco Associates. You can keep it going by voting July 23.

All of us who grow peanuts know what almost happened last year, and again this year. Some powerful people in the end-using peanut industry tried to have peanuts eliminated as a basic commodity. If they had been successful, it would have cost North Carolina peanut growers $20 million! They weren't successful because we had an organization to represent our interests. Individually, we can't fight powerful, wealthy groups, but when each of us gives a little bit of money, we too become wealthy and powerful. Our organization—the N. C. Peanut Growers Association, Inc.—is supported by one cent per 100 pounds of farm stock peanuts we grow. It has been working for us since August, 1953. It's done such a good job that our farmer-directors voted overwhelmingly to ask us to raise our contribution to 2 cents per 100 pounds of farm stock peanuts. With this small increase, it can do a still better job. This is one of the proposals we will vote on July 23. It's good business to vote, and it's your business you are voting on. Be at your ASC polling places to cast your votes, Saturday, July 23. Your Opponent Will Be There.

Press Amazed By Relaxed Russian Attitude; Secret Police Lend Hand

By EDDY GILMORE
GENEVA 18—The top men of the Kremlin have relaxed themselves right out of their bulletproof cars, while President Eisenhower is riding through Geneva with the biggest guard in town.

"It makes the Swiss smile," said Marc Perret, a local gardener who's watched cloak and dagger operations in this neutral country for years.

"The Americans," he said, "put their President in a closed car and stick their secret policemen in open ones."

"The Russians, on the other hand put their leaders in an open car and transport their secret policemen in closed ones."

The comparison goes deeper. At the President's villa, two to four Secret Service men are on duty at the barred iron gates around the clock. More are scattered around the gardens. Others roam the lakefront.

This guard is augmented by a carload of Swiss plainclothesmen outside the gate at all hours, Swiss soldiers with loaded tommyguns inside the villa grounds and a motorboat guard patrolling the waters 100 yards from the shore.

Up the road 100 yards from the villa is another group of tommygun men, and guarding a dirt road to a barn on the property are six more soldiers and policemen.

U. S. Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman is in Geneva, along with James J. Rowley, head of the permanent White House Secret Service detail.

And—ssshhh, the Americans even have a man whose talents are said to include lip reading in Russian.

When Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Marshal Georgi Zhukov came to Geneva they left behind the bulletproof American-made cars they used when Joseph Stalin was alive.

And—all the time they smile as they drive around Geneva in open cars, waving to the crowds.

When the Russians went to dine with French Premier Faure, photographers asked if they could enter the villa grounds and take pictures.

"We'll ask the Russians," said the French.

"Certainly," said the head of the dreaded Soviet secret police detail. "Let them come in."

One television cameraman came away shaking his head in amazement.

"The secret policemen helped us take pictures," he reported. "One of them held me up on a chair while I shot away at his bosses."

Lanier Voices Concern Over Rising Surplus Of Tobacco

J. Con Lanier, executive secretary and general counsel of the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association and the U. S. Tobacco Association, last night voiced concern over the growing surplus of tobacco in storage, and last night set out at the American Cancer Society for what he termed unfounded attempts to link cigarette smoking with lung cancer.

Speaking before the Greenville Rotary Club, Lanier urged all Pitt Countyans who have an interest in a farm to support acreage quotas and Tobacco Associates in Saturday's referendum.

The speaker pointed out that as of July 1 the surplus of flue-cured leaf in storage reached an all-time high at two billion 25 million pounds. On top of that, he said, the 1955 crop will produce an estimated 1,407 million pounds even in the face of a five per cent allotment cut, and added, "That's just too much tobacco."

From Florida to Virginia, the speaker stated, the flue-cured tobacco crop is much above normal and indications are the 1955 crop will be the second largest on record.

Conditions point to the fact that by July 1 next year the surplus of tobacco in storage will increase considerably, Lanier said, and warned that such a surplus "heads us for trouble."

The speaker said the outlook for tobacco exports this year are good with indications exports will increase some 50 million pounds over last year. On the domestic scene there are also indications of a greater consumption of tobacco than last year. Domestic consumption, he said, is expected to increase 25 to 40 million pounds.

The 12 per cent reduction in tobacco acreage already announced for the 1956 crop should reduce the crop by 150 to 175 million pounds and may result in an absolute reduction of tobacco on hand which would place production and consumption figures nearer in line.

Lanier discussed U. S. reciprocal trade agreements, particularly as they affect tobacco exports, and likewise discussed the fight which is being waged to preserve as much of the Philippine market as possible for American flue-cured tobacco.

Turning to tobacco taxes, the speaker declared that had North Carolina adopted a special tobacco tax during the last General Assembly, "it would have been the worst thing that happened in a generation."

Had North Carolina placed a tax on tobacco, he asserted, state taxes on tobacco products would have doubled in the next five years.

Lanier bitterly attacked what he called unfounded charges there is a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. The campaign, he said, has cost growers a loss of $75 million a year, and he urged those interested in tobacco to combat the campaign. "The lung cancer campaign has hurt everybody in the tobacco business from the grower to the manufacturer," he declared. "It is a campaign sponsored by publicly hungry doctors who want their name in the paper. There is no proof whatever that cigarettes cause lung cancer."

The belt carries you along until you come to a rest cubicle containing a bed and a soundproof door descends.

There is a button you can push if you want soft music. You fall into deep dreamless sleep. Exactly an hour later, musical chimes waken you and a door on the other wide side rises automatically. You roll out of bed into another moving belt that takes you back downstairs. You yawn, get up, throw cold water on your face in a restroom, comb your hair—and rush back to the office, eager for an afternoon of hard efficient work.

These napeterias also would be ideal for railroad terminals, airports and department stores. Why not take an invigorating nap while your wife shops?

Of course, a man really hard up for a nap now can always go to a Turkish bath. But if you should meet your boss in a Turkish bath after lunch, what would he think?

Probably the same thing you think about him being there, but somehow what you think isn't as important.

Why not be the first to open a napeteria in your town? It should be a gold mine.

Near $10 Million Stake In Tobacco Referendum

Pitt County growers have a $9,998,791 stake in the flue-cured tobacco referendum Saturday, July 23.

This is the amount they received for their tobacco that was sold to overseas markets in 1954 and represents 35 per cent of the $28,550,802 Pitt County growers received for their crop last year.

J. B. Speight, Winterville, county Farm Bureau president, today urged all flue-cured farmers to get out and vote Saturday, as he disclosed these statistics:

"In other words," Speight said, "35 cents out of every dollar tobacco brought to growers here in Pitt County comes from sales to foreign countries. The referendum will determine whether the farmers are willing to continue to assess themselves 10 cents per acre—or about 60 cents a year for the average grower during the next three years. That market meant $215 per acre or $1,075 to every flue-cured grower last year."

Speight revealed that 54,176,094 pounds of flue-cured tobacco was produced in Pitt County last year from 36,625.5 acres, with an average per acre yield of 1,479 pounds.

If two-thirds of the farmers vote in the referendum Saturday to approve the assessment," Speight said, "Tobacco Associates will continue its broad export promotional program to maintain and expand overseas outlets for our leaf."

He said that each year since Tobacco Associates was organized eight years ago, the average rate of consumption of flue-cured tobacco produced in the United States has been 754,685,000 pounds used domestically and 422,000,000 pounds exported.

Speight emphasized that "this important portion—422,000,000 pounds—of our annual crop must continue to be sold in foreign markets if we are to: (1) continue to have a successful Stabilization program of price supports; (2) continue to guarantee ourselves a fair return on every acre; (3) continue to have now competition on the warehouse floor; and (4) continue growing tobacco in anything like the present quantities.

He added that the security of a healthy foreign market is vital not only to tobacco farmers but to everyone living in the flue-cured belt, and that the program is endorsed by bankers, warehousemen and other businessmen.

Took Out An Ad To Tell Everybody His Life Story

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Jacob Jensen, 85 today, took a quarter-page ad in two newspapers telling of his life as a boy in Denmark and his work as a man in the United States.

The 2,00-word ad in the Salt Lake Tribune and the Deseret News and Telegram begins:

"I, Jacob Jensen was born near Sorø, Denmark, July 19, 1870, in a locality almost surrounded by lakes and beech forests."

Jensen told a reporter he had compiled a history of his childhood and early life and distributed a number of copies of it to members of his family. But that didn't seem enough. He wanted everyone to know how it was in the old days, in the old country.

"I always wanted to show young people what hard work can do," he said. "I wanted to help them along. There was no selfish purpose."

The ad outlines his education, immigration to the United States in 1885, his work as a carpenter and a contractor, his romance with his childhood sweetheart and wife Anna Marie.

Much of the ad praises people who helped him. It says: "Of the good people I have mentioned, two—my mother and my wife—come ahead of anybody else."

But it also has its frank passages: "I have had a number of rather prominent enemies during my long, active life, but with one probable exception, they have all gone to a place or places where they can do no more harm."

Jensen said there probably would be a small party today with part of his family. He and his late wife had six sons and two daughters. What of the future?

The ad answers that: "I expect to live for years and do acts of kindness."

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Three of four caddies perched in a tree to escape rain were killed by lightning yesterday.

The fourth, acting on impulse, jumped as the bolt struck and escaped injury. All were attending a watermelon party for caddies at Owensboro Country Club.

The dead: Jerry Morris, 14, Charles Ray, 12 and Frank Burger, 13. Their companion in the tree was Danny Thompson.

LAKE MICHIGAN is the only one of the Great Lakes wholly within the boundaries of the United States.

Silver is 10.5 times as heavy as water.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—In hope of ending sleepless nights caused by a yowling cat, Wallace J. Wearing borrowed a box cat trap from the city pond. Next morning the cat trap was gone.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures

TWO STORIES in the rear, this house presents a low and rambling front. Corner windows cheer the front dining room. A large living room with a corner fireplace opens into a spacious informal family room. A covered porch and an open terrace are secluded behind the two-car garage. Three bathrooms and the kitchen are grouped for economical plumbing. This is plan 101AP by Samuel Paul, architect, 89-51 164th St., Jamaica 32, N.Y. The house covers 1,032 square feet without garage and porches.

LONG LECTURE
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A dog sled, kayak, plane and automobile carried Dr. Karl R. Reinhard 6,000 miles to give a lecture at Michigan State College.

Dr. Reinhard came from his post on an ice flow in the Arctic circle where he is conducting infectious disease investigations for the U. S. Public Health Service.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—A selling flurry in midmorning set the stock market back sharply today, but a partial recovery followed.

The nervous selling came as Wall Street intensified its efforts to guess the economic meaning of developments at the Geneva four-power conference.

At the worst of the market's fall, prices were down 1 to around 3 points with larger losses in higher priced issues. Du Pont, for example, was off around 8 points at one time.

The trading pace was swift and hit a rate around 2,500,000 shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,100,000 shares.

The market started mixed and narrow. That position was maintained all during the first hour. In the latter part of the second hour, selling mounted in intensity until the tape fell behind in reporting the progress of trading on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

That congestion lasted a matter of four minutes. Prices stabilized when the selling flurry passed and then began a slow rebound at a much reduced trading pace.

Principal sufferers were the steel, railroad, motor, aircraft, and a number of individual issues such as Du Pont and Standard Oil (NJ).

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets were 50 to 75 lower today. Tops of 17.00 at Castle Hayne and Rich Square; 16.75 at Goldsboro; 16.50 at Beaufort, Dnn, Newton Grove, Nahunta, Clarkton, Warsaw, Bailey, Whiteville, Tarboro, Edfield, Hamilton, Kenly, Wilson, Jacksonville, Plymouth, Shalotte, Taber City, Rocky Mount, Lumberton, Smithfield, Washington; 16.25 at Snow Hill, Farmville, Kinston, New Bern and Benson.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP)—A mysterious blast which destroyed a wing of the Old High School Building, and an attempted jail-break occurred almost simultaneously in this little Hardin County town before dawn today.

The blast caused $100,000 damage to the school and shook houses three blocks away. No one was injured.

Almost at the minute of the explosion a convicted forger slid down a blanket from his second-floor cell in the county jail. But officers were waiting for him with guns drawn. They had lain in wait after hearing a saw grating across bars of a cell.

Jailer Marshall Heady identified the prisoner as George Padgett, 25, of Vine Grove, Ky., awaiting transfer to LaGrange Reformatory to serve two years for forgery.

Padgett was questioned to discover whether there was any connection between his escape attempt and the explosion.

Five rooms of the 41-year-old, two-story building were destroyed. Cause of the blast was still undetermined this morning.

Hundreds of residents poured out of their homes to see the destruction. "It woke up half the town," one said.

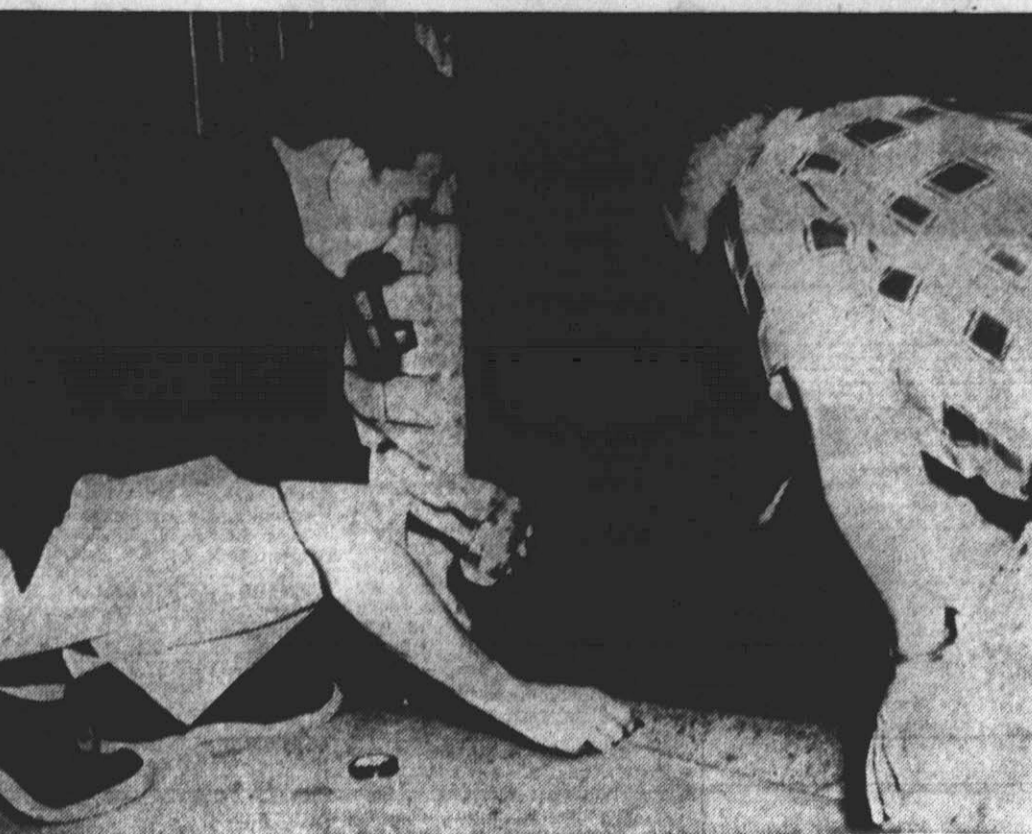

MOSCOW (AP)—Ho Chi Minh, leader of Communist North Vietnam, flew toward home today with a promise of 400 million rubles in economic aid from the Soviet Union.

Moscow radio announced the grant last night shortly after Ho left the Soviet capital by plane. He had conferred here for a week with Russian government officials.

The broadcast said the talks also "unanimously emphasized the importance of consultations to be carried out" in preparation for general elections in Viet Nam in July, 1956.

Under terms of the Geneva agreement ending the Indochina War, discussions on elections designed to unify the country are supposed to begin July 20 between North and South Viet Nam. The armistice provides that the voting reunify Viet Nam is to be held not later than next July.

The economic aid announced by the Soviets would equal 100 million dollars at the official rate of exchange. Ho was promised the equivalent of 328 million dollars in economic help by the Chinese Communists during his recent Peiping talks.

BUGS, BUGS, GOTTA HAVE BUGS—Citizens on Evans Street near Five Points last night were a wee bit surprised at the sight of two young men inspecting cracks and crevices in the city's sidewalks. The two, as shown above, are members of an East Carolina College biology class conducted by Miss Lucille Rice and their purpose was the collecting of insects for a class assignment. Here, Bob Fields, left, of Goldston, makes a capture while Freddie Floyd, right, of Norfolk, Va., holds a flashlight on the prospect. (Reflector Photo by Bob Hilldrup.)

RKO Movie Studios Sold To Tire Manufacturer By Hughes

NEW YORK (AP)—A new giant rose in the entertainment world today with a tire manufacturer's purchase of RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., for 26 million dollars cash.

By the terms of a contract signed yesterday, General Tire & Rubber Co.'s Thomas F. O'Neill will turn over the money to Howard Hughes next Monday.

It surpasses even the whopping $23,480,478 personal check Hughes signed only 16 months ago to buy out 3,814,913 shares of RKO stock and become first sole owner of a major studio in moviedom's history.

O'Neill, 40-year-old son of General Tire's founder W. O. O'Neill, is a vice president of the tire company and president of General TeleRadio, Inc., a wholly owned entertainment subsidiary.

General TeleRadio owns four TV stations and five radio stations outright and controls three important radio networks, the Yankee in New England Mutual in the East and Midwest and Don Lee on the West Coast.

What is one of the world's five leading tire manufacturers doing in the entertainment business? The answer is diversification.

He's an old hand at that. Working as an associate put it on the theory that the people will watch TV if they see something good, O'Neill a year and a half ago paid 1 1/2 million dollars for 30 good films languishing in the vaults of the Bank of America because of a forfeited mortgage.

It was considered fantastic at the time. But O'Neill has realized a million dollars worth of advertising income from the films on his New York outlet alone. And he has sold the movies to 90 stations throughout the country.

Principals in yesterday's RKO deal hailed it as the biggest single financial transaction in the motion picture industry and one of the largest cash sales by an individual in the history of American finance.

General Tire gets RKO's Hollywood studio and a distribution company, studios in New York and facilities in Mexico City, 101 domestic and foreign motion picture exchanges and the facilities of RKO Pathe, Inc., and of RKO Television, Inc.

WORKMAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK WHILE ON JOB

A 55-year-old construction worker was dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital yesterday, apparently as a result of a heart attack suffered while working at East Carolina College.

Walter Chandler Ormes, who was employed by the Millard Whitley Construction Co. of Greensboro, collapsed while on the job early yesterday afternoon at the new Garrett dormitory being built just off Fifth Street.

Witnesses said Ormes was walking down a hall in the new building when he suddenly fell. The Fire Department rescue truck was called but he was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Flash Floods On English Coast

LONDON (AP)—Flash floods hit holiday towns along the south English coast today in the wake of severe thunderstorms which broke Britain's 11-day heat wave.

Germany also cooled off when heavy rains during the night, but other European countries still sweltered in temperatures ranging up to the middle 90's in Italy.

Western Europe's heat wave death toll was estimated at 150 persons.

Cloudbursts over southwest England sent a tidal wave of water rushing through the streets of Weymouth, a picturesque resort town on the English Channel. One man was drowned.

Army and navy men helped police evacuate hundreds from flooded camps.

ed homes, hotels and trailer Rain waters also flooded homes and streets in Ramsgate, another favorite channel holiday town. A boy was killed and eight of his companions injured when lightning struck the tent where they camped near the town.

An overcast helped cool off the Netherlands where temperatures dipped to between 68 and 75 degrees.

Pair Go Calmly To Electric Chair

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—John B. Donahue, 22, and Robert N. Malm, 31-year-old dishwasher, went calmly to their deaths in Connecticut's electric chair last night.

Donahue for killing a state policeman; Malm for the sex-slaying of a little girl.

Before entering the death chamber in Wethersfield State Prison, Malm told Warden George A. Cummings:

"I am ready to die."

Then he walked into the execution room.

Donahue, although calm, seemed bewildered when the prison guards strapped him into the electric chair. He was the first to die.

Donahue, oldest of three children of an Arlington, Mass., family, shot and killed state policeman Ernest B. Morse Feb. 13, 1953. Morse had stopped Donahue as he drove a stolen car to New York, where he had a date with a girl friend.

Malm strangled 11-year-old Irene Fiederowicz Dec. 8, 1953, with her scarf when she threatened to tell her mother he had molested her.

Jail Break And Blast In Night

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP)—A mysterious blast which destroyed a wing of the Old High School Building, and an attempted jail-break occurred almost simultaneously in this little Hardin County town before dawn today.

The blast caused $100,000 damage to the school and shook houses three blocks away. No one was injured.

Almost at the minute of the explosion a convicted forger slid down a blanket from his second-floor cell in the county jail. But officers were waiting for him with guns drawn. They had lain in wait after hearing a saw grating across bars of a cell.

Jailer Marshall Heady identified the prisoner as George Padgett, 25, of Vine Grove, Ky., awaiting transfer to LaGrange Reformatory to serve two years for forgery.

Padgett was questioned to discover whether there was any connection between his escape attempt and the explosion.

Five rooms of the 41-year-old, two-story building were destroyed. Cause of the blast was still undetermined this morning.

Hundreds of residents poured out of their homes to see the destruction. "It woke up half the town," one said.

North Viet Nam Promised Rubles

MOSCOW (AP)—Ho Chi Minh, leader of Communist North Vietnam, flew toward home today with a promise of 400 million rubles in economic aid from the Soviet Union.

Moscow radio announced the grant last night shortly after Ho left the Soviet capital by plane. He had conferred here for a week with Russian government officials.

The broadcast said the talks also "unanimously emphasized the importance of consultations to be carried out" in preparation for general elections in Viet Nam in July, 1956.

Under terms of the Geneva agreement ending the Indochina War, discussions on elections designed to unify the country are supposed to begin July 20 between North and South Viet Nam. The armistice provides that the voting reunify Viet Nam is to be held not later than next July.

The economic aid announced by the Soviets would equal 100 million dollars at the official rate of exchange. Ho was promised the equivalent of 328 million dollars in economic help by the Chinese Communists during his recent Peiping talks.

Nevada Prison Convicts Continue Sit-Down Strike

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—An occasional catcall pierced the desert silence throughout the night at the Nevada State Prison as some 220 convicts stubbornly carried on a sit-down strike in the flood-lighted prison yard.

The prisoners—less 136 trustees—started their rebellion at 3:40 p.m. yesterday when they began milling about the open yard instead of lining up for dinner as is customary.

They demanded an interview with Gov. Charles Russell and declared they would not return to their cell blocks until they talked with him.

Among the inmates' demands were "more variety in food . . . discharge of a prison doctor and captain of the guard . . . twice yearly personal appearances before the State Parole Board . . . more work for inmates . . . no reprisals because of the rebellion . . . lower prices at the prison commissary."

"I'm not promising anything. Most of the grievances are unfounded," Warden Art Bernard said.

Floodlights were turned on around the 30-foot-high walls of the 60-year-old brownstone prison as dark fell over the milling prisoners. Fifty heavily armed highway patrolmen and prison guards patrolled the walls.

The prisoners had not eaten since noon, Bernard said, and could not take over any of the prison works or storm the walls. Some of those in the yard wanted to quit early in the afternoon but were intimidated by the ringleaders, he said.

Gov. Russell, in Las Vegas yesterday, was reportedly flying back to Carson City today.

Pick Up Couple In Police Raid

A man and a woman wanted by St. Petersburg, Fla. police on worthless check charges were taken into custody in early morning raids by Greenville police here today.

The man, Leroy Greisch, 27, was arrested at 9:20 a.m. on Dickinson Avenue and the woman, Sarah Marie Cromwell, also 27, was captured at 9:55 in the E. 10th Street area.

Greisch also has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon after City Police Chief S. G. Gibbs found a 45 calibre army automatic in the glove compartment of his car.

A preliminary hearing for the two has tentatively been set for tomorrow morning.

Participating in the raid which resulted in Greisch's arrest were Gibbs, Lt. H. E. Wooten and Patrolman W. C. Flake. The Cromwell woman was arrested by Gibbs, Policewoman Mrs. Charles D. Doss, Identification Officer Paul Jewett and Patrolman Kenneth Warren.

Swears Attempt At Bribery And Threats By Lev

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former Army inspector who said his life has been threatened swore today that Chicago cap maker Harry Lev "tried to bribe me many times" and "called me filthy and profane names" for refusing to accept.

The testimony came from Michael Weintraub at a public hearing before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Also placed in evidence was a cancer patient's deathbed statement that one-time Army Col. Vere Painter "helped Mr. Lev to become a millionaire on taxpayer's money."

Lev himself sat in the hearing room with little visible sign of emotion, awaiting his own turn on the witness stand.

The subcommittee, seeking evidence of possible graft on contracts for the manufacture of uniform gear for the armed forces, said in advance it would ask him whether he now recalls how he disposed of nearly $214,000 in cash that passed through his hands in 1952 and 1953.

In an earlier hearing Lev said he couldn't remember about the money but denied any of it went into bribes.

Lavern J. Duffy, a subcommittee staff investigator, read to the senators the deathbed statement he said he saw Hyman Roskin of St. Louis sign last June 26, three or four days before Roskin died. He said Roskin had been a floor manager in Lev's cap manufacturing plant.

ROBERSONVILLE—Past District Governor Sherwood Roberson installed the new officers of the Robersonville Rotary Club at a meeting last week.

Horace Fulcher succeeds Paul Roberson as president. W. C. House is vice-president and Wilson Wynne is secretary and treasurer. Marvin Everett, S. L. Roberson and Paul Roberson are directors.

The district governor awarded a past president's emblem to retiring President Paul Roberson.

Jackie Sharp, who recently moved here, was inducted as a member of the Robersonville Rotary Club.
