

First Meeting In Twenty Years

Mrs. Nasiff Cannon chats with her brother, visiting from Lebanon, Chafic Hatem, at her home in Farmville. It is Hatem's first visit to this country and the first time the brother and sister have seen each other in 20 years. Hatem is attorney general of Lebanon. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Attorney General
Of Lebanon Visits
Sister In Farmville

FARMVILLE—The attorney general of Lebanon has learned what other visitors have similarly decided.

You'll buy more in this country's modern super markets than in grocery stores where you order your purchases item-by-item.

That was what Chafic Hatem told his sister, Mrs. Nasiff Cannon, after a visit to one of the modern new super markets in this area.

Hatem is visiting this country for the first time in 20 years. He says he is splitting his time in the United States and spending half of it with his sister, her husband, and their four children whom he had never seen and the other half in seeing the sights of the country.

Hatem came to this country on a mission for his government. They are attempting to negotiate a $27,000,000 loan from the International Bank. With the money Lebanon plans to build a hydroelectric dam on the Litani River. That will furnish cheaper electricity and thus attract industry to the little Mediterranean nation of a million and a half population, so they hope.

Lebanon is a prosperous nation for its size, Hatem says. The people grow fruit for export and the tourist trade is highly important with a number of summer resort areas along the Mediterranean.

In addition, much of the imports for surrounding nations such as Palestine, Israel and Syria must funnel through Lebanon's ports and travel across the little nation.

The education system of the country is very highly developed and four universities are maintained within the country's borders as well as a good secondary school system.

Schools State Supported
Secondary schools are state supported but a good system of private schools has also been built up. Practically every town has a public school and those who can afford it send their children to the private schools. For those who cannot pay the price of a private school education the public schools are available.

There are no compulsory school attendance laws but practically all citizens of the country attend school during their lives. The four universities are privately endowed. In addition about 50 colleges are also maintained in the country.

Oversees Court System
Hatem, as attorney general of the state of Lebanon, must oversee the court system of the country. In addition, his staff studies proposed laws before they are presented to the nation's Congress to determine if they are legally correct.

Speaking through his sister who acts as his interpreter while he is visiting in Farmville, Hatem said that tax rates are very low in Lebanon compared to the American tax rate.

Income taxes range from three per cent to 30 per cent and much of the annual budget—equivalent to $30,000,000 in U. S. currency—is derived from taxes on jewelry, gasoline and tobacco.

However, the country has to spend little on road construction and operates on a very low military budget. Its army numbers only 7,000; its air force includes ten planes; and only three boats are maintained to protect the country's shores.

"But that's a military secret," he confided with a grin.

Hatem is an avid student of U. S. law and history and American movies have given him an idea of how the nation looked so he knew what to expect on his first visit to this country.

"The United States is the greatest, strongest, richest country in the world today," he declared. "People all over the world look to it as a leader."

He noted that he liked the democratic atmosphere in this nation.

Leaves Monday
Lebanon's attorney general arrived in Farmville last Saturday and plans to leave for the nation's capital Monday. He also plans to visit the Tennessee valley to view the hydroelectric dams in the area and perhaps Canada if time permits. His trip to America will end in New York and from there he will fly to London, Paris, Belgium and finally home.

While in Farmville, he has visited relatives of the Cannon family, journeyed to Durham to view the operations in a cigarette factory, taken trips to Wilson and Greenville as well as jaunts into the rural areas to watch tobacco harvesting now in progress.

In Lebanon, domestic labor is cheap and plentiful and Mrs. Cannon's brother has two servants and a chauffeur.

"When we went into the super market I gave her a push cart and told him that he must drive like the men do over here and he did," Mrs. Cannon declared.

For Mrs. Cannon, incidentally, it was the first time she had seen a member of her family since 1939. In that year her father, a military man now retired, visited this country for the New York World's Fair. The outbreak of World War II forced him to cut his visit short, however, and he caught the last ship out of New York before the war halted luxury line operations.

There was much for her and her brother to talk about, she said, for her father and three brothers and one sister still live in her native land.

Coward's mother, Mrs. Chester Green and the youth's stepfather were driving here from their home in Monticello, Ark.

Griggs' mother, Mrs. Elsie Griggs; her son Jimmy, 19, and Mrs. Griggs' sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecil Griggs, Talco, Tex. were also reported en route.

The former prisoners have been under control of the State Department since they left Red China. The Army will not assert jurisdiction until after they have left the ship and passed through customs.

Then they will be arrested by military police, the charges read to them and they will be whisked away to a military stockade at Ft. Baker, where they will be treated like any other prisoners, given out until they are read to the prisoners.

At a press conference yesterday, Col. John H. Derrick, 6th Army judge advocate, stressed the seriousness of the charges, which in general include "aiding the enemy and informing on fellow American prisoners, resulting in punishment of their comrades by enemy captors, while in prisoner of war status. Additional charges are conspiracy and aiding an officer to desert."

"Aiding the enemy, Derrick pointed out, is a violation of Article 104 of the Uniform Code and carries a maximum sentence of death or life imprisonment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today it has begun producing weapons which design is based on the spectacular 1954 hydrogen bomb test in the Pacific, and hinted these are of several types.

It said also that the prospects for developing an airplane driven by an atomic power plant have "considerably brightened" in the last six months.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which made these disclosures, was as close-mouthed as usual in its 18th semiannual report to Congress. The report covered the first half of this year.

The commission said that all of its activities—which include production of conventional and thermonuclear weapons—continued during this period "at a growing rate and with increasing effectiveness."

Extra Fat
In State's Finances

Treasury Ended Fiscal Year With $2.6 Million More Than Was Estimated

RALEIGH (AP)—The state's treasury finished the past fiscal year with $2,662,000 more than anticipated by the 1955 General Assembly.

After hearing the good news yesterday, the Advisory Budget Commission raised the salary of Motor Vehicles Commissioner Edward Scheidt from $11,000 to $13,200 per year effective Aug. 1.

For the year which ended June 30, Asst. Budget Director D. S. Coltrane told the commissioners, the state wound up with a credit balance of $14,990,973.

When the General Assembly was making up the state's budget, it worked on the assumption the balance at the end of the fiscal year would be $12,328,973.

There were two reasons for the extra fatness of the balance, which will be carried over to cushion the state's budget against unexpected hazards.

The first, explained Coltrane, was that the 1954-55 exceeded estimates by $1,507,532. Secondly, the Budget Bureau saved $1,155,169 more than anticipated through penny pinching.

In addition to upping Scheidt's salary, the commission:

Named House Appropriations Committee Chairman a Kemp Doughton of Allegheny as its new chairman. He succeeds William Rodman who resigned to become attorney general.

Hopes Soar Session Can Wind Up Tomorrow Night
Solons Begin Closing Rush

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders pushed the throttle down today as hopes leaped that the first session of the 84th Congress would wind up on schedule tomorrow night after all.

House leaders, who previously had not expected Congress to quit before next week, supplied the biggest impetus.

After the House passed a bitterly disputed natural gas bill last night, the leaders got unanimous agreement to call up tomorrow night bills which they originally had planned to handle Monday.

Sen. Clements (D-Ky.) acting Senate majority leader said a windup by tomorrow night was a good bet. One House leader indicated it was all but certain.

Both branches arranged to meet an hour ahead of the usual time today to try to clear out a few major items and a lot of odds and ends.

The Senate takes up the compromise version of the minimum wage increase bill and the $92,923,000 legislative appropriations bill—both must items.

The minimum wage measure, calling for an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour, is expected also to be passed by the House and sent during the day to President Eisenhower, who had asked for 90 cents.

The legislative money bill, carrying funds to run Congress, must go to conference with the House, but little trouble is expected.

The $2,703,641,750 foreign aid money bill, once regarded as a possible hurdle to adjournment, was sent to the White House yesterday.

The House debates today the controversial housing bill, likely to be the biggest stumbling block before the session can end. This measure, blocked in the House Rules Committee for almost a month in a dispute over public housing, was cleared yesterday for floor action.

Some key members said privately the conference with the Senate would produce what President Eisenhower asked—$5,000 units a year for the next two years.

Congress also must pass a supplemental, catch-all appropriations bill before adjournment. Conferees struggled with this yesterday and hope to complete their work on the $1,900,000,000 measure today.

The bill to free independent natural gas producers from federal controls, passed by the House last night, is certain to go over to next session in the Senate.

The House probably will act on the $1,900,000,000 measure today. It will be the last bill to be passed by the House before adjournment.

The other would keep alive the Small Business Administration. Both have cleared the Senate.

Intangible Tax Checks On Way For Pitt And Towns Richer By Over $54,000 On Monday

Pitt County and eight of its incorporated towns will be more than $54,000 richer Monday when they receive from the state checks for their part of the intangible tax collections.

The county government will get the lion's share of the collections being returned to the county by the state with a check of $30,444.62.

Checks for the individual municipalities in the county will range from $18,126.27 for Greenville to $71.08 for Grimesland.

Ayden will receive $2,111.75; Bethel $1,320.66; Farmville $3,436.21; Fountain $323.93; Grifton $889.84; and Winterville $594.45.

Treasurers of 200 counties and 416 cities of the state will receive checks Monday aggregating $4,563,131.20 which represents 80 per cent of intangible taxes collected by the state for the account of local government units. The state retains for its part of total receipts $1,140,782.80.

The intangible tax is levied at varying rates from 10c to 25c on the 100 on the following items: money on deposit, money on hand, accounts payable, bonds, notes and other evidences of debt; shares of stock; beneficial interest in foreign trusts; funds on deposit with insurance companies; and penalties and interest. Distribution to local units is based on a formula that includes population, source of tax, property valuation and tax rate. Because of the distribution formula many communities will get back more than they pay in taxes, while others will get considerably less.

A breakdown of the intangible tax collections for Pitt County showed the following amounts in the various categories:

Money for deposit, $23,350; money on hand $628; accounts receivable $7,131; notes, bonds, mortgages and other evidences of debt $13,287; trust funds $24,356; penalties and interest $497. No collections were made in Pitt County for beneficial interest in foreign trusts or funds on deposit with insurance companies.

Because of the distribution formula set up for returning 80 per cent of the intangible tax collections to local government units, Pitt is one of the counties which receives less money from intangibles than was actually collected in the county. Figures showed total intangible tax collections in Pitt at $68,801.50 compared with a total of $54,288.81 which will be returned to the county and its eight municipalities.

Total intangible tax collections in the state this year showed an increase of approximately 50 per cent over last year's collections.

Call For Firing Of Sec. Talbott

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved plans for launching a planned artificial earth satellite—an unmanned globe for purely scientific purposes.

Government scientists explained the thought is that one or more of the space objects would circle the earth 200 or 300 miles up at a speed of 18,700 m.p.h.

They might remain for days or weeks, then fall back down and disintegrate.

The White House said information obtained from the project is to be kept secret.

It is hoped the satellite can be launched by 1957 or 1958—will be available to scientists of all nations, Russia included.

S. C. Mart Averages An Official $57.16 Leaf Prices Top '54 Opener

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—An official opening-day price average of $57.16 per hundred pounds was recorded yesterday as South Carolina's flue-cured tobacco markets sold 5,928,000 pounds.

The U.S. and North Carolina departments of agriculture reported that the average topped opening day last year by $5.92. The increase was attributed to much better quality offerings, although grade averages were lower.

Last year the South Carolina markets sold 3,798,836 pounds on opening day for an average of $51.24.

The Stabilization Corp. under the government loan program received 88 per cent of the gross receipts, compared with 11 per cent the first day of sales last year.

Demand was a little better today for domestic tobacco.

Yesterday's opening day prices showed a slight decline over 1954 initial sales. However, the general quality of offerings was superior to that of last year and growers felt this would tend to bring prices up to levels of the previous season.

In line with predictions of the second heaviest crop on record, despite reduced acreage, yesterday's volume was heavy. Most warehouses were full and some had a heavy backlog for today.

The Federal-State Market News Service said some individual grades declined as much as $1 to $6.50 yesterday as compared with opening day prices last year. The demand was best for thin, cigarette-type leaf, grades falling in the primings, low lugs and leaf grades.

The heaviest decline over last year's prices appeared in the leaf lug, good priming and nondescript grades. The practical top for individual baskets was $68 per hundred, about the same as last year.

The market service estimated that around 80 per cent of all sales went to the Flue-cured Stabilization Corp., which handles tobacco under government loan. This compared with about 12 per cent opening day last year. Many grades were bid in at or about $1 under the government floor price. On opening day last year the 11 markets sold 2,798,836 pounds for an average of $51.24. This price held fairly steady throughout the season despite a low quality crop caused by severe drought conditions.

Here are some auction bid averages in cents per pound paid yesterday followed by the change from last year's opening day prices:

Cutlers—Fair lemon 67, down 1; lemon 64, down 2; Lugs—Fair lemon 66, down 2; good lemon 64, down 2; good orange 63, down 1; fair lemon 57, down 4; fair orange 54, down 5; low orange 46, unchanged.

Primings—Good lemon 57, down 6; fair lemon 50, down 4; fair orange 46, down 5; low orange 35, down 2.

Nondescript — best thin, 17.50, down 6.50.

Japan's Diet Upset By Nearby Atomic Cannon

TOKYO (AP)—The arrival of six U. S. Army atomic cannon at Okinawa roused political fire today in Japan's Diet (Parliament).

Under critical opposition questioning, Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama said the United States had not informed Japan that the atomic guns and rockets were being sent to the Far East for the first time.

"Since this issue is very important," said Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, "we have immediately asked for official confirmation."

"The government's attitude will be decided by the reply."

A Washington announcement said a six-gun battalion of 280mm. atomic cannon and a battery of long-range 76mm. bombardment rockets were being assigned to the Far East.

At Okinawa, biggest U. S. Far East base, an Army spokesman said the guns had arrived there with the 663rd Field Artillery Battalion and would be unloaded tomorrow and sent to the 663rd trained at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

There was no word on where the 5th Artillery Battalion, a unit equipped with 726mm. "Honest John" rockets, would be stationed. It trained at Ft. Sill, Okla.

The Army emphasized both the cannon and the rocket can use either conventional or atomic warheads.

Following custom, the Pentagon would not say whether atomic ammunition was shipped with the weapons.

Prime Minister Hatoyama, under questioning by former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and other opposition members, declared:

1. There is no secret agreement between Japan and the United States which would permit America to store atomic weapons in Japan.

2. Both the atomic cannon and rockets can fire conventional as well as atomic warheads—and there have been no reports that America is sending atomic warheads.

Okinawa was Japanese territory before World War II and Japan has hopes for its eventual return.

An Okinawa command spokesman said deployment of the 663rd here was "in accordance with U. S. military policy of furnishing field commanders with the most modern weapons available."

Army MPs Await 3 Turncoats Arriving Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three turncoat former corporals who embraced communism at the end of the Korean War return today to their families—and to charges they betrayed their nation and their comrades in a prisoner of war camp.

The charges, most serious it is possible to lodge under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, carry a possible death penalty.

The three, who refused repatriation and went to Red China at the end of the war, are William C. Cowart 22, Dalton Ga.; Otho Bell, 24, Hillsboro, Miss.; and Olympia, Wash.; and Lewis W. Griggs, 22, Jacksonville, Tex.

When they renounced communism in Hong Kong July 9 they said they were ready to pay the penalty for their actions.

After the liner President Cleveland docks at 1 p.m. today they

Army charges will be read to them. But before they are taken into custody by the military police, the three will have a chance to visit in privacy with the families they haven't seen in five years.

Bell will see for the first time his 4-year-old daughter Paula, whom his wife Jewel Bell was bringing from Olympia, Wash. Bell's father was coming here from Mississippi.

Cowart's mother, Mrs. Chester Green and the youth's stepfather were driving here from their home in Monticello, Ark.

Griggs' mother, Mrs. Elsie Griggs; her son Jimmy, 19, and Mrs. Griggs' sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecil Griggs, Talco, Tex. were also reported en route.

The former prisoners have been under control of the State Department since they left Red China. The Army will not assert jurisdiction until after they have left the ship and passed through customs.

Then they will be arrested by military police, the charges read to them and they will be whisked away to a military stockade at Ft. Baker, where they will be treated like any other prisoners, given out until they are read to the prisoners.

At a press conference yesterday, Col. John H. Derrick, 6th Army judge advocate, stressed the seriousness of the charges, which in general include "aiding the enemy and informing on fellow American prisoners, resulting in punishment of their comrades by enemy captors, while in prisoner of war status. Additional charges are conspiracy and aiding an officer to desert."

"Aiding the enemy, Derrick pointed out, is a violation of Article 104 of the Uniform Code and carries a maximum sentence of death or life imprisonment.

The charges were preferred by Maj. William C. Gallian Jr., assigned to headquarters, Military District of Washington, and forwarded to the San Francisco court-martial jurisdiction.

The charges specify only that the alleged officers took place between the time of their capture in 1950 and 1951 and their dishonorable discharges from the Army Jan. 23, 1954.

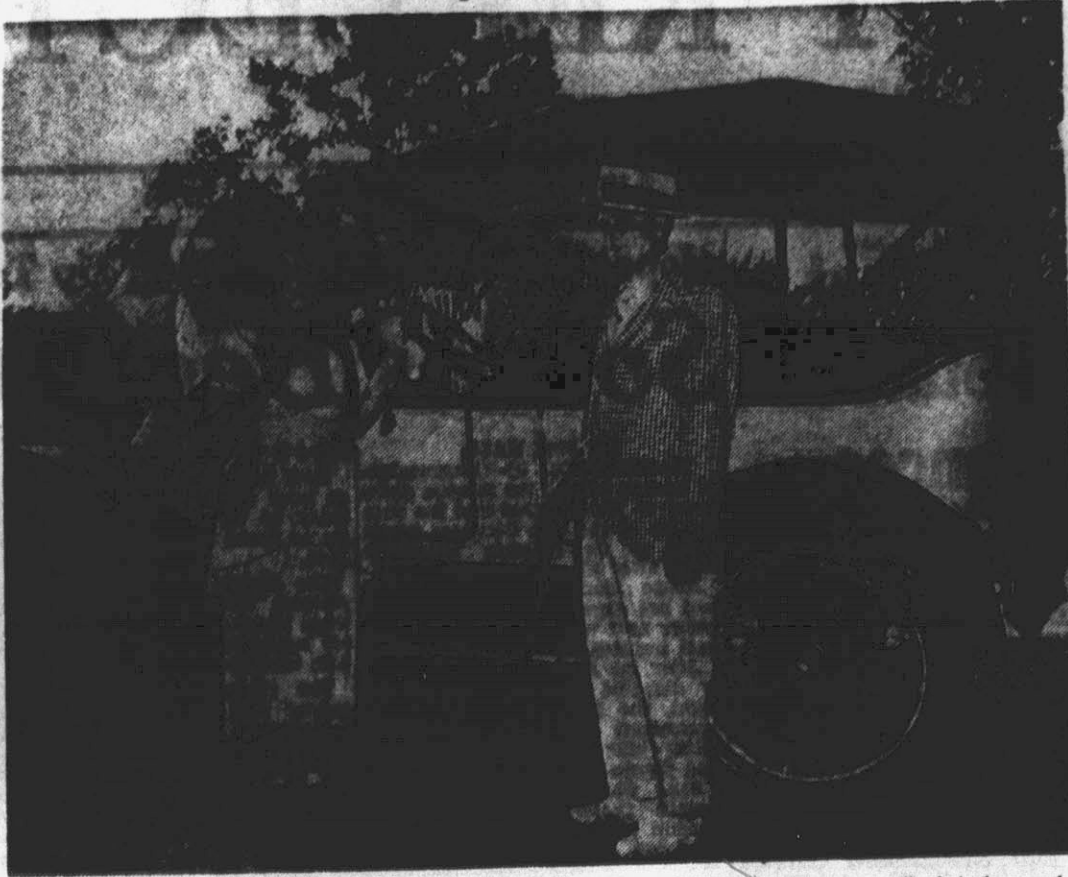

After a pretrial investigation, all data will be referred to Lt. Gen. Robert N. Young, commanding general, 6th Army, for decision on whether to proceed with a court-martial or to kill the charges.

If a general court-martial is summoned the trial will be held at 6th Army headquarters, here.

30 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR July 29, 1933

The work of surveying the route from the present Cox Mill hard surfaced highway to the Craven County line is now under way by county highway authorities. Already funds for the grading of such a route has been appropriated and it is to be hoped that this will be followed by funds for the hard surfacing. The extension of the Cox's Mill hard surfaced highway to the Craven County line would mean much to the business of Greenville and other Pitt County towns as well as afford a great convenience to residents of this section of the county and such an appropriation by the county board would be more than a good investment.

Christian Science Announcements

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Love assures man of wise guidance and unlimited inspiration will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson - Sermon entitled "Love" will include the following passage from the Biblical account of the guidance the children of Israel received in their flight from Egypt: "And the Lord went before them by day and a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night: He look not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people." Exodus 13:21,22

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give impetus to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action." 454:18-21. The Golden Text is from I John 4:19 "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

Ninety Elderly Nuns Rescued From Blaze

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—Ninety elderly nuns, some ill, were rescued, with only minor injuries to a few, when fire swept the infirmary at the Mount VEL Convent, order of the Blessed Virgin Mary here last night. The sister who discovered the fire, shortly after 10 p. m., said the blaze was accompanied by an explosion in the attic of the three-story, brick building. Firemen battled for an hour and a half before bringing the fire under control. The roof of the infirmary fell in about 45 minutes after the fire broke out.

Last Refuge Of Sulking Male, The Men's Club, Is Dying Out

By DOROTHY ROE AP Women's Editor The last refuge of the sulking male, the men's club, is dying out in America—and it's because today's husbands like to be with their wives.

Authority for this heartening statement is an aesthetic-looking young man named Eustace Scannell, of Boston, who is head of a firm which specializes in trouble-shooting for restaurants, bars and clubs. If such an establishment isn't making money, Scannell surveys the situation and tells them what's wrong.

In many cases of languishing clubs he has been able to spot the trouble at once—no women allowed. So nowadays, says he, such formerly exclusive male retreats as Philadelphia's Racquet Club and others are catering to the young married set—and business is booming. Says Scannell: "This began happening away back after World War I. Before that every town in the country had its Elks Club and other such institutions where men could get away from feminine companionship.

"In those days when husband and wife had a quarrel, he stamped out to his club to nurse his grouch. Today the man trying to get away from it all has a hard time finding a strictly male haven. "The main reason for this, of course, is that wives wouldn't stand for these exclusively male clubs. But just as important is that the men today prefer to take their wives along when they go out for a night on the town. "Husbands and wives are pals today. They share interests in sports, business, politics, hobbies—and conviviality. Many wives even have learned to mix acceptable cocktails, a fact which makes husbands more eager to hurry home from the office."

Studio Owners Being Cautious

By CHARLES MERCER NEW YORK (AP)—Many years ago in Africa a man was tipped to the existence of gold on the lands of a coffee plantation. He bought the land and ascertained the gold was there. People were surprised when he continued to grow coffee and proved in no haste to mine the gold. But there's money in coffee. And the gold was still there.

Something like that has happened in the sale of RKO Radio Pictures to General Tire and Rubber Co. through its subsidiary General Teleradio Inc., for 26 million dollars. General Teleradio is a potent organization in radio and television. It owns the Mutual Broadcasting System, the world's largest radio network; two influential regional networks, the Don Lee System on the West Coast and the Yankee Network in New England; five TV stations six major radio stations, and a highly successful film subsidiary. When it acquired RKO, it should be plenty of days in between the long pulls when you hardly make any miles at all.

The Greenville Free Will Baptist Church will meet for Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. under the direction of Mr. Stephen Walters. The pastor's sermon topic at 11 a.m. will be "The Victory of Gethsemane." The Free Will Baptist League will meet at 6:30 p.m. and at 8:00 p.m. the fifth Sunday Night Community Sing will be held. Many able singers have been invited to take part in this service.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. there will be prayer service and Child Evangelism classes. At 8:15 there will be choir practice.

The Greenville church and its organizations will be represented in the church meetings at Bethany Free Will Baptist Church Saturday and Sunday, July 30 and 31.

August Bride-Elect Honored At Party

Miss Juanita Stokes, bride-elect of August 10, was honored at a Coca-Cola party on Tuesday morning by Mrs. W. S. Bost.

Mrs. Bost's home on Harding St. was decorated throughout with summer flowers. The dining room table was covered with a linen cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of roses, daisies and asters.

Assisting the hostess in serving the drinks and party accompaniments were Mrs. M. E. Sutton, Stuart Bost and Margaret Ruffin. Miss Stokes was presented by the hostess a corsage of pale yellow daisies and a silver bread tray as gifts.

Trip Can Tighten Family Ties

By DOROTHY V. WHIFFLE, M. D. AP Newsfeatures No, that the children are old enough, you think it's time to take that long dreamed-of trip. A vagabonding trip by car with the whole family can be a heap of fun—it can be a ghastly nightmare, too, if you're not careful. First, are the children old enough?

To say that, if your youngest child is at least 8, you've waited long enough. Ten years old would be better for many children. Don't try a long car trip for fun with children much younger than this. Plan your trip—but don't plan every last detail. One of the joys of a long car trip is being able to do the unexpected when an unusual opportunity develops.

The Wentworths went west with their three youngsters (ages 10, 12 and 16). One evening after supper they took a walk down into a small town in the Dakota wheatlands.

There the 16-year-old daughter struck up a conversation with a young farmer. Pretty soon the whole family was in on the new friendship. The upshot was an invitation to come out to the farm next day. Would the boys like to ride the combine? The Wentworths' plans were flexible enough to be able to accept this invitation. The day was a great success and one of the highlights of the trip.

Don't be too ambitious in the amount of territory you are planning to cover. There will be other summers coming—and more trips if this one is a success. Two hundred fifty miles or at most three hundred is as much as you should ever plan for one day. And there should be plenty of days in between the long pulls when you hardly make any miles at all. The big trucking companies never allow their men more than 250 to 300 miles a day. This is one of the reasons they have such excellent safety records. Fatigue makes unsafe drivers. Fatigue also makes tight nerves, edgy tempers, and family squabbles. The trip is for fun. You'll have much more fun if you take it easy.

If you have some sleeping bags you'll probably enjoy some nights under the stars. But plan an occasional night in a motel where hot baths can be had by all. There will be long hours in the car. There's where the real family spirit gets its workout. So seldom in our hectic lives do families have hours to spend together. You'll talk and play games. Get some information about the places you are going to see. The Wentworths took in Boulder Dam on their trip. Dad was just bursting with knowledge about dams and water and the effect on people of having power and water.

Last Rites Saturday For Mrs. S. A. Gaskins

Mrs. Maggie Lancaster Gaskins, 79, widow of Stephen A. Gaskins, died at her home near Erul at four o'clock Friday morning. She had been ill for the past six weeks. Funerals services will be conducted at the home Saturday afternoon at three o'clock by her pastor, the Rev. D. W. Alexander, of Bethel. Burial will be in the Spurlin family cemetery near the home.

Mrs. Gaskins was a native of Cartaret County, but lived in the Erul Community nearly all her life. She was a member of Macedonia Free Will Baptist Church. Surviving are two sons and two daughters: Enos C. and Linster Gaskins, Mrs. Joe Bryan Vendrix and Mrs. W. A. Clark, all of near the home; 13 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

how it took the kids three hours and a terrific amount of arithmetic to figure out the number of years it would take for the silt in the Colorado River to fill up the lake behind the dam, and make a new dam necessary!

By all means take a trip and show your youngsters some of these rather wonderful United States of ours. Take it easy and come home not only with a knowledge of home but with renewed feeling of family solidarity. Good warm family vacations can do wonders to give children that basic security we are always talking about.

Nationally-Known Speakers At Meet

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. (AP)—Two nationally known men were speakers here today during the Southwest Laymen's Methodist conference.

They were Dr. Matt L. Ellis, president of Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., and Ray E. Nichols, editor and publisher of the Vernon, Tex., Daily Record. Nichols, national president of the Methodist Board of Lay Activities, also will speak tomorrow.

Says Change of Habit Can Ease Home Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Home-makers can simplify their jobs by throwing out your habits based on "whim, fancy or prejudice," an Ohio State University home economist advises.

Prof. Ruth M. Beard illustrates her point by calling for an end to one-handed dusting. Put a cloth in each hand and make both hands work the saps. She also suggests draining dishes instead of towel-drying them.

'Books and Stuff'

By DR. ED HIRSHBERG

By what we think is a quite striking coincidence, considering the recent successful conference with the Russians in Geneva, a spate of books about Russia has been flowing off the presses. . . . "Katrina," a novel about Czar Peter the Great and his beloved peasant girl friend, is by Jeramie Price and just came out this week. . . . "Far Flies the Eagle" by Evelyn Anthony, is another new one, and tells the story of Emperor Alexander of Russia, the general who defeated Napoleon but who was not so lucky with his women. . . . Then there is a newly issued collection of the stories of Isaac Babel, acknowledged by many as one of the greatest Russian writers since Chekhov, some of them out for the first time in English. . . . And now you can even get a magazine direct from Russia, semi-monthly, "News, A Soviet Review of World Events," published in the USSR in English and mailed to you direct from New York—24 issues for $3. . . . Could it be that the Iron Curtain really is coming down a little, these days? . . .

ward Cavan and his friends can be seen as the prototypes of actual personalities who were—and still are—faced with the same problem that intellectuals always must face: How much of my life can I divorce from the rest of the world outside the limited area of my books? . . . As one of his colleagues put it, Cavan was like a pilot trying to break through the sound barrier, only he was "trying to break through a much more difficult barrier, a human barrier, to unite the intellect and life, to make man whole." But he could come to no resolution of the conflict, the intensity of which made his suicide almost inevitable. . . . Anyone who is interested in the situation of the intellectual in America—and this certainly should include most people who are involved in college affairs—will find fascinating, stimulating and provocative reading in FAITHFUL ARE THE WOUNDS.

Funds Asked For Prisoners' Jobs

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Hodges has been asked to make around one million dollars in surplus highway funds available to help create new jobs for idle prisoners. . . . State Prisons Director William F. Bailey told the Highway Commission yesterday the requested sum would help combat "enforced idleness" which he said is the biggest problem in the prisons. . . . He added a preliminary survey has shown that at least one million dollars per year for five years would be needed to modernize prison facilities and eliminate or renovate those condemned by health and fire authorities. . . . Highway Commission Chairman A. H. Graham told the commission surveys are under way to determine whether prison or hired labor is more efficient in road work. . . . In addition to putting prisoners to work said Bailey, the facilities he asked for would help the prison department become self sufficient. . . . He said he is seeking: $300,000 for the Caledonia prison farm, whose operators are a major source of food supply for prison tables; $95,000 for Women's Prison; $134,000 for the Rowan County camp; $62,000 for the Indian camp at Robeson; and $110,000 for the Cary prison farm. The remainder of the money would be used for improving facilities in other camps.

Southern Futures
As always, the South is going to figure prominently in the books that are coming out during the next few months. . . . Most promising among the futures is the new one by Robert Penn Warren, author of "All the King's Men," which will be called "Band of Angels," and is about a lovely southern belle who is reared as a lady and suddenly discovers that her mother was a slave—which sounds like a difficult situation, no? It's coming out in August, and is the Literary Guild selection for September. . . . Another book for southerners is a reissue of "Home by the River," by Archibald Rutledge, about his McClellanville, South Carolina home, Hampton Plantation. It first came out in 1941, now has an added Introduction by Frances Perkins Keyes and an Afterword by Rutledge himself, to bring it up to date. . . . And a book about life in Kentucky in the 1800's will be out in September—"Peace at Bowling Green," by Alfred L. Crabbs. . . .

The Local Scene
We hope you manage to get to the exhibition of books for young readers that has been going on at the E.C. College Library, sponsored by the college for whoever are interested in young people's reading—and shouldn't we all be? . . . There's also an exhibit of great photographs of the present century, sponsored by the Art Department, and well worth seeing, we think. . . . Below is a review by your columnist, of a book we hope you get to read. . . .

FAITHFUL ARE THE WOUNDS
is a novel about a college professor who commits suicide—always an interesting topic in a college community. Edward Cavan is an English professor at Harvard, and the action of the story takes place almost entirely in the rarified atmosphere of Harvard Square and its Boston environs. . . . Professor Cavan is brilliantly successful in his chosen field, but is tortured by the idea that the intellectual man has an obligation to society as well as to his work. He is an inveterate and implacable liberal, and as he sees his friends give up what he considers to be sacred rights for the sake of expediency, he becomes more and more convinced that he is being deserted and betrayed by those he loves the most. . . . In striking similarity to Professor Cavan's career is that of a real Harvard professor—also in the English department—who also committed suicide a few years ago for no apparent reason. FAITHFUL ARE THE WOUNDS is a thinly veiled explanation of this action, and Ed-

Talent Scout Blasts Lack Of New Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A top talent finder today lashed out at film studios for failing to develop new stars. . . . "The studios seem to have a policy of perpetuating the present stars without establishing new ones. For instance, Warners is making an air picture. I thought this might be a chance for some newcomers. But they cast a couple of young actors named Clark Gable and Gregory Peck. . . . "Columbia is making a war picture called 'Battle Stations.' You'd think there would be a chance for young actors in it. But the leads went to players in the 35-40 age class. The only roles for 20-year-olds were 30-second bits. . . . "We used to develop stars after finding them behind soda fountains. That seldom happens any more. In recent years, about the only top star developed with no previous experience is Rock Hudson. . . . As you might guess, Hudson is a Willson client. Before the agent discovered him, he was a truck driver named Roy Fitzgerald. Red-dubbed Rock was added to the long list of Willson discoveries. . . . He first spotted Joan Fontaine in a Hollywood tea room, Robert Wagner in a Beverly Hills restaurant. He signed up Rory Calhoun after meeting him at an Alan Ladd party and picked Marie Wilson out of the cast of a Beverly Hills little theater. . . . Willson's talent for pegging hopefuls has caused him to be inundated by film aspirants. He has had 8,500 applicants in the past year. His advice to nearly all of them: Stay in your home town and try to get experience; if you're good, Hollywood will discover you. . . . "Popular types," he said. "Most film stars are the kind of people that you like to know. You'll find that most of them have won popularity contests or have been outstanding in some way."

U.S. Taking Dim View Of Proposal To Build MIGs
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The United States reportedly has warned Yugoslavia that construction of Soviet MIG fighter planes here might seriously affect U.S. aid to President Tito's government. . . . Well-informed sources said the warning was given by the Yugoslav Foreign Office by U.S. Ambassador James Riddleberger. Officials would not comment. . . . Rumors that Russia has expressed willingness to supply Yugoslavia's aviation industry with a license to build the MIGs have circulated here recently. . . . Yugoslavia decided some time ago to begin building jet aircraft. . . . The government reportedly discussed the possibility of using Western designs with the United States, Britain and France, but the West's price was said to be too high.

Helicopter Aids Hurt Fisherman
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Alex Lewis Jr., of Beaufort, N.C., captain of a fishing vessel, was treated for shoulder, leg and foot injuries at the Public Health Service Hospital here following his rescue by helicopter from a ship in the Gulf of Mexico. . . . The Coast Guard flew Capt. Lewis into New Orleans from his ship in the gulf Wednesday. It was the first rescue mission performed by the Coast Guard's newly established helicopter service. . . . Capt. Lewis was treated for cuts of the shoulders and injuries and possible fractures of his right leg and right foot.

It's Customary Day Of Showers In Waynesburg

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Rain clouds are welcome today in this southwestern Pennsylvania community of 5,000. This is Waynesburg's day in the rain. . . . It's all part of a tradition which the good folk of Waynesburg have kept rolling so well that veterans of both world wars made wagers on whether it would rain in their home town when they were overseas. . . . Chief rain prophet John Daily says records show it has rained on 71 of the 78 July 29s since the record-keeping began. . . . "Sometimes, there has been just a sprinkle but it was enough to maintain the tradition," he said. . . . The 45-year-old attorney became chief rain prophet and official keeper of the statistics a few years ago upon the death of his father Bryon Daily. . . . "Dad sort of inherited the record keeping from a man named Allen, who owned a drugstore," said Daily. "Allen started it all a good many years back when a farmer, who kept records, came into the store and made a wager that it would rain on July 29." . . . The tradition nearly went out the window when nary a drop of rain fell July 29 in 1952 and 1953. But last year there was a fair-sized shower. . . . "sort of cloudy and we're hoping for the best," said Daily cheerfully as he started a "rain watch" at the courthouse early today. "I think we'll get a sprinkle, at least, although the weather prediction don't call for rain." . . . As usual, Daily bet a hat on the outcome. The wager this year is with Bob Prince, Pittsburgh radio sports broadcaster. . . . And, as usual, Waynesburg belles got out their short-skirts and umbrellas in preparation and to add atmosphere to the occasion as they paraded up and down main street.

Confidence Men Stole $60,000
LONDON, Ky. (AP)—Two confidence men were hunted today for the $60,000 robbery of a businessman, who planned to purchase money from them at "cut-rate prices." . . . The holdup occurred after Robert Close and his brother Kenneth flew here yesterday from their Toledo, Ohio, homes to complete the deal. . . . Leaving Kenneth at the airport, his brother joined the two men in an auto, was driven a short distance and robbed at gunpoint. . . . He told police the cash was to be used to purchase large bills from persons afraid to spend them because of income tax troubles. The rate of exchange was to be 60 cents on the dollar. . . . He said one of the bandits contacted him in Toledo several weeks ago and promised him and Kenneth a $30,000 to $40,000 profit. . . . The brothers, who operate an auto agency said they raised $50,000 and another $10,000 was contributed by Steve Cross, also of Toledo. . . . A man listed as S. B. Cross, 45, Toledo, was picked up here last night for questioning but the FBI said it was uncertain whether the men were the same.

Eisenhower's Housing Bill Faces Rough Going

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plans for more federally assisted, low-rent public housing projects faced rough going today as the House prepared to take up its long-stalemate housing bill. . . . Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), senior House Banking Committee Republican, predicted the House would accept his substitute bill, which makes no provision for public housing. . . . Eisenhower has asked for 35,000 public housing units a year for two years—the same number as approved by the committee—although he sought a tie-in with slum clearance and urban redevelopment that's not in the committee measure. The 35,000 figure is the number authorized last year. . . . Public housing foes on the House Rules Committee have held up action on the House bill for nearly a month. It finally cleared it for a floor vote yesterday, removing a principal stumbling block to congressional adjournment. . . . A housing bill is regarded as a "must" item, largely because the Federal Housing Administration is running out of authority to insure home loans. The Banking Committee measure would grant FHA four billion dollars in new home mortgage insurance authority. . . . It also would extend FHA's home repair and modernization program for another year, raising from $2,500 to $3,000 the limit on individual loans FHA may insure for this purpose raise from 5 to 12 1/2 million dollars the ceiling on mortgages for large-scale rental housing projects which FHA may insure; add 500 million dollars in federal authority for grants to help in slum clearance and urban redevelopment; extend and liberalize the military housing program; make the Home Loan Bank Board an independent agency and provide other changes in existing law. . . . In addition, it would provide for 10,000 public housing units a year for two years for elderly families of low income. . . . Wolcott's proposal leaves out public housing altogether. It would give FHA $3,400,000,000 in new mortgage insurance authority, extend the home repair program a year as is, limit the military housing program and add 500 million dollars for slum clearance. . . . The Senate has voted for 135,000 public housing units a year for four years and for some other provisions the administration didn't ask. . . . "We're very fond of horses and are going to give them every break in this contest. In fact, if the train weren't losing almost a half million dollars a year, we would be inclined to supply the horses and riders with oats and coffee. . . . "Of course we expect the horses to make the same stops as does the train, to pick up and deliver express and mail."

Pony Express To Race Railroad

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—A Southern Pacific Railroad spokesman says there is no plan to speed up its train in the race with the pony express through southern Oregon this coming weekend. . . . Vernal S. Quayle, general passenger agent, said the train will adhere to its regular schedule Sunday despite plans of pony express sponsors to use a fresh horse at every one of the 75 miles of the stretch, between Eugene and Roseburg, between Eugene and Roseburg. . . . Quayle made no prediction but indicated the railroad is not pessimistic about its chance. . . . He said the pony expressers were wrong when they said it takes the passenger train 3 hours and 28 minutes to make the run. . . . Actually, he said, the train leaves Eugene at 12:01 a.m. and arrives here at 2:55 a.m. He said that the pony expressers' table was based on the train's arrival time at Eugene and its departure from Roseburg. . . . Any way it figures, the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce and southern Oregon residents think the train run is too slow. That's what prompted them to race it with horses, hoping to demonstrate their point by beating it. . . . "We're very fond of horses and are going to give them every break in this contest. In fact, if the train weren't losing almost a half million dollars a year, we would be inclined to supply the horses and riders with oats and coffee. . . . "Of course we expect the horses to make the same stops as does the train, to pick up and deliver express and mail."

Deserter Given Prison Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—A World War II Army deserter—who changed his name, raised a family and founded a thriving business—has been sentenced to 2 1/2 years in hard labor by a court-martial. . . . The penalty imposed yesterday after Arthur Athans, 35, Falconer, N.Y., pleaded guilty, is subject to automatic review. . . . Athans's wife, Marjorie, who took their five children with her to the court-martial on Governors Island, tearfully told the board: "You couldn't ask for a better husband." . . . She married the ex-soldier in 1946, and has said she knew nothing of his desertion until his arrest last May. . . . Approximately 600 friends of the family petitioned the court-martial for leniency. . . . The deserter, who took the name of Joseph Trainer, operated a successful automobile agency near Jamestown in upstate New York for five years. Then military police got on his trail in some unexplained manner. . . . The court-martial was told that Athans had been convicted three times for being AWOL and was serving a five-year sentence at hard labor at Ft. Knox, Ky., when he deserted Dec. 7, 1944. . . . The court-martial, composed of 10 officers and one warrant officer, added dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances to the 2 1/2-year sentence. It could have sentenced Athans to hard labor for life.

Wolcott's proposal leaves out public housing altogether. It would give FHA $3,400,000,000 in new mortgage insurance authority, extend the home repair program a year as is, limit the military housing program and add 500 million dollars for slum clearance. . . . The Senate has voted for 135,000 public housing units a year for four years and for some other provisions the administration didn't ask. . . . Routing Of N. C. Toll Road Studied RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's leg of the proposed tri-state turnpike probably would hook up with the Virginia section several miles northeast of Mount Airy, the N.C. Turnpike Authority agreed yesterday.

The turnpike would run down to a point about seven miles north of Charlotte, passing on the western side of Winston-Salem, Salisbury, Kannapolis and Concord.

Authority Chairman Orton Boren of Greensboro announced that the engineering firm studying the economic feasibility of the turnpike is expected to turn in its report by October.

He added South Carolina is opposed to the toll road idea and prospects of extending the road south of Charlotte are slim. It will run through western Virginia into West Virginia.

The authority welcomed a new member, Mayor W. W. Shops of Weaverville, who succeeded Ben Roney of Rocky Mount. Roney, who is Sen. Scott's administrative assistant in Washington, has resigned.

The authority agreed not to set weight limits on trucks using the turnpike. This is in line with a decision made at a recent tri-state meeting in Roanoke, Va.

However, the authority did not go along with setting a 65-mile speed limit on the unbuilt, four-lane North Carolina portion of the toll road. Action on this proposal was deferred.

Deer Providing Airport Hazard

OMAHA (AP)—There may be some deer hunting soon on the greens of the Omaha airport.

The airport is located north of the city and adjacent to the lowlands of the Missouri River. In the cool of the evening the not-so-shy but quite hungry deer come up from the river bottoms to graze on the airport greens.

That gives pilots fits.

So the State Game Commission today is considering sending in some expert riflemen from its forces.

India's planners have set a coal production target of 80 million tons annually by 1961, the end of their second five-year plan. Current production is 37 million tons annually.

Minister Found Guilty Of Heresy By Lutheran Synod

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Lutheran pastor, found guilty last night in the first heresy trial in the 60-year history of the Northwest Synod of United Lutheran Church, said after the verdict, "I am not guilty as charged."

The Rev. George F. Crist, Jr., 31, summoned from his home at Durham in nearby Wakeham County to hear the decision, told newsmen, "I have committed no offense against the rules of the United Lutheran Church. I am certainly saddened by the verdict, but I think I was as ready for it as I could be."

A synod trial board of seven pastors found him guilty of nine counts of deviation from church doctrine and recommended he be suspended immediately from his pulpit. He was found innocent of three charges. He denied the 14 charges were valid deviations from church doctrine.

He said he will begin a two-week vacation in northern Wisconsin tomorrow with his wife and three children. After the vacation, he said, he "doesn't know" what he will do.

He said when the trial began Wednesday, "My ministry will continue regardless of what happens here." He stated last night that the verdict "could certainly mean that my formal ministry could come to a close." He indicated he would like to teach "probably philosophy at the college level," and stated he may return to school to further degrees before seeking such a post.

He said he has no present intention of seeking a pulpit in another church, but that is a possibility," he said.

The trial board, which complimented Pastor Crist on his personal conduct during the two days of the hearing, deliberated three hours before returning the verdict. The board recommended the synod convention, which has the Bishop, that Crist be asked to give up his pulpit immediately.

The final decision is up to the synod convention, which has the power to change the penalty. The convention will be held here May 16, 1966. The penalty after such a conviction changes from a simple rebuke to defrocking.

The charges upon which Pastor Crist was convicted included that he denied the virgin birth of Christ, denied the physical resurrection of Jesus and denied the authenticity of a number of miracles.

Charges of which he was found innocent included that he mixed the word of God with his own opinions and surmises and denied the usefulness of all prayers.

White Sox Regain First From Yankees

Tribe Whips Bosox To Trail By One

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

For the first three months of the 1955 season they raved about "those amazing Chicago White Sox" and everything looked rosy for a pennant at Comiskey Park. But after the All-Star Game in July the magic potion wore off. The Go-Go kids were gone. Ever since, they said, when the chips were down and the heat was on in July, it would be by, by White Sox.

So look. Today, two weeks after the All-Star tilt, it's been just the opposite, and Marty Marion's scrapping Chicago gang has knocked the New York Yankees out of first place—by two slim percentage points. The White Sox showed no signs of folding this time as they whipped the Yankees yesterday 3-2 and took the vital series two games to one.

In fact, Chicago reached first place the hard way with an uphill battle. When league play resumed July 14 after the All-Star recess, the White Sox were in third place, six games back of New York, and a game behind second-place Cleveland. Twelve games and has been rolling at a .706 pace.

But it's a long way to the end of the season in September and the top five clubs in the American loop could be covered with a large blanket.

Cleveland defeated the Boston Red Sox 6-4 to pull within a game of the lead yesterday, while Detroit overcame Baltimore 7-5 to trail the leaders by only 5 1/2 games—in fifth place. Washington and Kansas City were idle.

Rookie pitcher Roger Craig and Brooklyn home runs produced a 10-2 victory over Cincinnati as the Dodgers maintained their 12 1/2-game National League spread over the second-place Milwaukee Braves, who defeated Philadelphia 4-2.

The New York Giants downed the Chicago Cubs 4-1. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, also 4-1.

Walk Droppo continued his batting spree, his two-run homer in the third inning off Bob Turley proving the White Sox margin over New York. Connie Johnson had the Yankees shut out until Mickey Mantle hit his 22nd homer in the ninth with one aboard. Billy Pierce struck out pinch hitter Jerry Coleman with the bases full to end the battle.

Cleveland snapped back at Boston after losing the first two games of the series. Al Rosen batted in three runs, two with his 16th homer in the third inning. Boston rallied in the eighth inning, routing Early Wynn with a walk, single and double. With one run in, Don Mossi threw a called strike past Ted Williams.

At Baltimore, the Tigers took four of the five-game series, setting a faster pace than Chicago since the All-Star tussle. Detroit has moved at a .765 clip since July 14, winning 13 of 17. Reno Bertoia's double drove in three runs in the first inning to start the Tigers on the victory road.

Roy Campanella hammered a pair of Brooklyn homers, while Ernie Fanned 11 Redlegs. The Dodgers made their first nine hits good for nine runs thanks to three errors, a wild pitch and passed ball.

Bob Buhl pitched his eighth victory a six-hitter, as Milwaukee swept its three-game set with Philadelphia. Eddie Mauer slapped his 25th homer for the Braves.

Willard Schmidt tossed three-hit ball for eight innings, but lost his shutout when Pittsburgh got a run on two hits in the ninth inning. The Cards got 10 hits off three Buc hurlers.

The Giants' starter, Ruben Gomez, gave up two of Chicago's five hits in the two innings he pitched. He retired in the third with a pulled shoulder muscle and Paul Giel came on to gain his third victory. Giel struck out nine, walked five.

Tar Heel Wins Area Play

Greenville Little League Champs

The Tar Heel League of Greenville won the Area Little League playoffs yesterday with a win over the Greenville North State League. The Tar Heel team now has won two straight games and goes into district play next week. The players are, left to right, front row: Jackie Harrington, Kenny Joyner, Ray Corbett, Bev Whitley, Billy Neal James, Donald Joyner, and Erskine Duff. Back row: Rick Sauve, Charles Tart, Jack Whitley, Jeff Fountain, Emmett Koonce, Larry Roberts, and Gene Briley. (Reflector Sports Photo by Bruce Phillips.)

Winners Score 10 In Fourth Frame To Down Staters

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Jack Whitley spun a neat five-hitter and his mates backed him with a twelve run attack yesterday afternoon as the Tar Heel League won the Area Little League play over the North State League 12-3 at Elm Street Park.

The Tar Heelers reached the finals by whipping the Coastal Plain League of Greenville, and the North Staters entered the finals by downing Farmville's Little League All Stars.

The Tar Heel League will play the winner of a Kinston-Havelock game for the district title. That game will be played in Tarboro on Wednesday, August 3.

Ten Run Inning

The game was running along as a tight 2-2 contest until the last half of the fourth inning when the bottom broke loose. The Tar Heel went to town and scored ten runs before the third North State pitcher could finally get them out.

James Allen Braxton, the North State starter, was shelled after a single, a walk, and three straight fielder's choices that got no one out. On each fielder's choice, the fielder elected to try to get the run at the plate; but in each instance he failed to do so.

Allen MacArthur took over at that point and was tagged for three straight singles and a walk before he could get a batter out. After he retired one man, two more walks sent him to the showers. Mack McKenzie took over and put out the fire with only one more run.

Whitley Looks Sharp

Jack Whitley went all the way on the mound for the Tar Heel League and fired a neat five-hitter. Whitley walked three, but fanned 12 batters to keep out of trouble in most instances.

The North State scored single runs off Whitley in each of the third, fourth, and fifth innings. They never could get a spirited rally going. Whitley finished strong, retiring the last five batters in order.

Billy Neal James and Kenneth Joyner were the leading hitters for the Tar Heel with two hits apiece. Rommie Brock had two singles to lead the North State.

Aussies, Italy Cup Favorites

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Australia meets Canada at Montreal and Italy and Sweden clash in Milan today as play in the Davis Cup tennis whirl nears the big Challenge Round against the United States at Forest Hills, N. Y., late next month.

The Australians, favored in their matches against Canada, go into the three-day North American zone final without Lew Hoard, one of the wonders of past cup play. Captain Harry Hopman replaced Hoard with Rex Hartwig for today's opening singles competition. Hoard has sulked and his game is off since his bride of six weeks sent home after the Wimbledon Championships.

Ken Rosewall meets Bob Bedard, of Sherbrooke, Que., in the opening match, while Lorne Main, of Toronto, and Vancouver plays Hartwig.

The surprising Italian team which has whipped through the European zone play without dropping a match is favored to defeat the Swedish squad.

Sweden's Sven Davidson, one of Europe's most powerful singles players, meets Fausto Gardini today while Lennart Bergelin of Sweden plays Giuseppe Marlo, a pint-sized giant killer when he's in form.

Farmville, Braves Lead Coastal Plain

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
Reflector Sports Writer

Farmville and Williamston, one-two in the league standings, continue to fatten their leads over the Coastal Plain League pack. Wednesday night, Farmville smothered Greenville 11-0, and Williamston tripped Rocky Mount, 3-1.

The New Bern-Falkland game was forfeited to Falkland when the New Bern club informed league president John Allen Farfour Wednesday morning that it had ceased operations.

Greenville fell completely apart against Farmville. The locals made untempered errors and failed to produce at the plate. Meanwhile, Manager Bill Kennedy's pace-setters whammed 14 hits and ran themselves blue on the bases.

While local pitchers Bill Loving, Tom Hall, and Junior Yohn were getting belted, Joe Dominguez was setting the Greenies down on seven scattered hits. The Cuban right-hander struck out an even dozen locals and was real tough in the clutches.

Willard Webb, spunky second sacker, had three hits for the winners. Sandy Sanderson, Dominguez, Jim Hill and Streeter Tugwell had two knocks apiece. The latter also contributed much with fine defensive play.

Centerville Blaney Moye and shortstop J. T. Mills had two hits apiece for the Greenies. Mills' total included a long triple.

Kinston, the Tobacco Belt League leaders, face third place Pinetops Saturday afternoon in a double-header in an important league game. Pinetops is making a bid for second place and possibly first in the one-sided league but needs two wins to keep their chances alive.

Kinston, which is five games ahead of second place Tarboro, is going along with ease. A sweep of Saturday's games would almost assure them of a first place finish.

Pinetops needs the wins since Tarboro is playing fourth place Grimesland and should take at least one game if not both. Falkland, which has climbed into a fourth place tie, plays last place Belvoir Saturday and Sunday.

The schedule for the weekend has: Saturday—Pinetops at Kinston (2), Grimesland at Tarboro (2), and Belvoir at Falkland (1); Sunday—Falkland at Belvoir.

SPORTS SHOTS

SOMETHING FOR GOLFERS, GOOD OR BAD

Uncle Mat has gotten out a little something that all golfers should enjoy because it just about hits every linkman on the head:

"My handicap is—, I'm not interested in hearing that you aren't playing to your handicap; and until I've seen you play a few holes I'm not interested in playing for more than a dollar Nassau. If, at any time, I'm interested in press bets, I'll let you know."

"I admit it is a nice day for golf, that the weather has either been hot or cold, that the greenskeeper is doing an excellent job."

"Kindly refrain from telling me of your past performances on the golf course. The only round which interests me is the one we are about to play."

"I would appreciate it, if you refrain from such remarks as: 'That would have been a beauty—if it hadn't caught the trap. You got a bounce, or it wouldn't have gone out of bounds, etc. . . . I'm capable of doing my own putting.'"

"I prefer, while at golf, not to be drawn into a discussion of business or economic subjects nor hear such discussions pursued by others in the middle of my backswing."

"The following imperfections in my swing are well known to me: Looking up. Too fast a backswing. Standing too far ahead of the ball. Lunging at the ball. Stance too closed. No pivot. Teeing ball to high. Teeing ball too low. Too much right hand. Not enough left hand. Left foot too far forward. Left foot too far back. Faulty grip."

"The above mentioned faults have been pointed out to me by my professional and also by many of my friends—including a few former friends."

LITTLE LEAGUE TROUBLE IN S. C. NOT IN BOYS

The Little League squabble in South Carolina didn't have its roots in the boys themselves, but they're the ones being hurt the most by the trouble. The entry of a Negro team for the first time in South Carolina was authorized by the national Little League headquarters. They might have known that a clash somewhere along the line was to have been expected.

Outcome of the whole fiasco seems to be there will be no South Carolina team represented in upcoming tournaments this season.

Baseball for the young has been described as a means of teaching sportsmanship, and for the life of us we can't see wherein such incidents as this are conducive to helping our youngsters in that direction.

The sports world learned a long time ago that racial heritage didn't make any difference when it came to hitting a ball, kicking it or in throwing. Either the athletic contestant was skilled or unskilled; that was and continues to be the criterion.

East Carolina College is sponsoring a tennis tournament next week. Maurice Everette, Number 1 on the Pirates' net team last spring, is seeded first. Lettie Gill Underwood is second seeded. Some 14 entries have been received and pairings drawn.

The College girls softball team would give most city softball teams a good game. They're unbeaten in five games of the local softball league and won all but one of the games by tremendous margins. Their latest conquest was a 20-0 win over the Independents. Next week, the championship playoffs start, a two-out-of-three affair between the College and Nurses.

Shirley Moore took the ECC girls ping pong tournament held at the College last week. She defeated Jean Faulkner 3-1 in the championship game. Miss Moore reached the finals by whipping Peggy Norris in the semi-finals. Miss Faulkner defeated Joyce Jones to reach the finals.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IN THESE BASEBALL SITUATIONS

You baseball experts, if you can answer these problems drop us a line. We'll be glad to run your interesting answers.

Q. With two outs and a man on first, the batter hits a long drive to right-center, slides into the bag and is called safe. The catcher starts arguing with the umpire and is chased out of the game. The other players then join in. During the run, the runner on third gets up and runs home. His team claims the run counts because the umpire hadn't called time, which he hadn't. Does the run count?

Q. A long fly ball bounces off a fence, hits the outfielder on the head and caroms off into the stands without touching either the ground or any of the spectators. Is it a home run?

With the national matches only a few weeks off, Remington has brought out a fine .22 caliber match rifle with several features that should appeal to the dedicated target shooter.

The new rifle, designated as Modie 40X, was announced simultaneously with that of new .22-caliber precision match ammunition. Both undoubtedly, will undergo "trial by fire" in the forthcoming small-bore matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

The new rifle has a trigger device that should also appeal to the match shooter, for it is internally adjustable to the weight the shooter desires. Click adjustments permit the shooter to change the pull instantly, the adjustment increasing or decreasing the pull by one-fourth pound per click. The adjustment has been designed so it will not shoot loose.

Women's Softball Final On Tuesday

The championship playoffs in the Women's Softball League will get under way next Tuesday, it was announced today by Mrs. Laura Barrer, women's recreation director.

The series, which will be two games out of three, pit the unbeaten College team against one-time winners, the Nurses. The College team has won five straight games. The Nurses only win came over the Independents.

Last night, the College wound up its schedule by trouncing the Nurses, 20-0.

Six of the 10 winners of the Sapling Stakes at Murrenouth Park have gone on to win more than $100,000 in purses.

Hungarian Star Breaks Record

HELSINKI (AP)—Sandor Iharos, slim 22-year-old Hungarian army lieutenant, took aim on John Landy's 3:58 world record for the mile today after clipping a full second off the Australian's international standard for 1,500 meters.

The 6-foot 125-pound officer lowered the 1,500-meter mark to 3:40.8 yesterday in a duel meet between Finland and Hungary and immediately announced he'll attempt to crack Landy's mile record in the Hungary-Britain meet in London Aug. 12-13.

Records are nothing new for the young army lieutenant. Within the last three months Iharos also has bettered the world marks for 3,000 meters and two miles. His best clocking for the 3,000 is 7:55.6 and 8:33.4 for two miles.

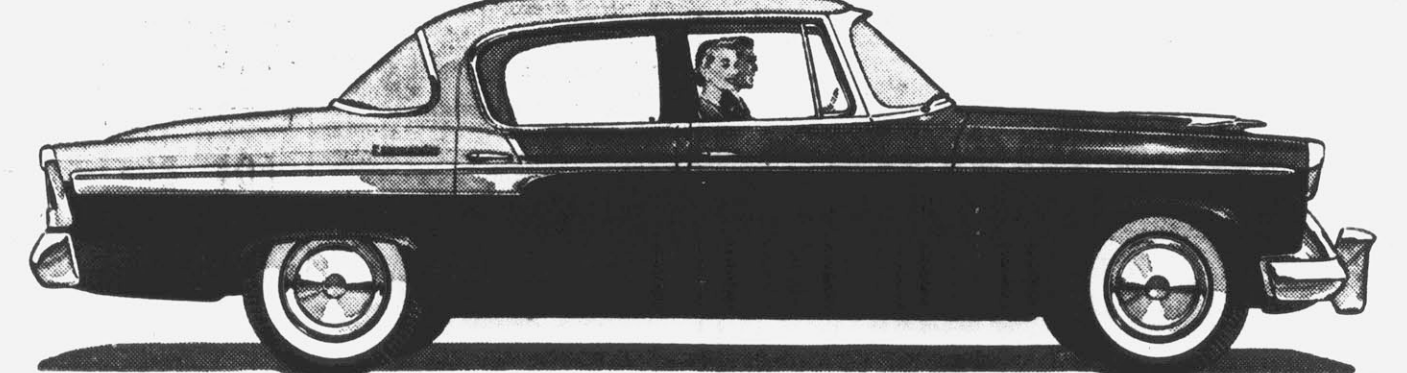

The two-mile record was hung up in London May 30, the day after he was too ill to compete in a mile race in which three men broke four minutes with another Hungarian, Laszlo Tabari, winning in 3:59.

Baseballs Hard To Get—Casey

NEW YORK (AP)—When Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees wanted a ball to give to a young admirer, he had to call three times from the dugout to Coach Frankie Crosetti at second base who was keeping tabs on baseballs during batting practice.

Crosetti finally rolled one to Stengel.

"Here, son, take good care of this," Stengel said. "Baseballs are harder to get around here than contracts."

The People Left in Judah

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—II Kings 25:10-13; Jeremiah 40-44.

The army of the Chaldeans, under the captain of the king's guard, Nebuzaradan, broke down the walls of Jerusalem...

Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, told Jeremiah that he could go whither he would...

Then the people that were left in Judah came to Jeremiah and asked him to pray for a message from Jehovah...

God's word to Jeremiah was that, if the people stayed in Judah, He would be with them...

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 28:7.

The People Left in Judah

THEY PETITION JEREMIAH TO INTERCEDE WITH JEHOVAH, BUT WILL NOT ACCEPT HIS MESSAGE

Scripture—II Kings 25:20-22; Jeremiah 40-44.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. OUR EDITOR of Palestine's Notes, Wilbur M. Smith, D.D., cannot recall a lesson that has been based on the Scriptures given in today's lesson...

It begins with two verses from II Kings which were included in last week's lesson: "And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, broke down the walls of Jerusalem round about."

"Now the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the kingdom of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard carry away."

"But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen. What happened to those who were left in Judah is the subject of our lesson. They were not all poor, as Jeremiah was among them, and later 'all the captains of the bow'... and all the people from the least unto the greatest" came to hear Jeremiah's message from Jehovah.

Jeremiah had been taken in chains to Ramah where Nebuzaradan came to him and said that the Lord had destroyed Jerusalem's people because of their wickedness, but Jeremiah could go whither he pleased...

Nebuzaradan also told Jeremiah that he should go to Gedaliah, in Mizpah and tell him that the king of Babylon had appointed him governor of Judah. He was the last of the line of David to hold an important post in the kingdom. Mizpah was in Benjamin, on the boundary of the northern and southern kingdoms.

So Jeremiah dwelt with Gedaliah and the people that were left in the land. Gedaliah as governor seemed to have the approval of all, but his officers informed him that the king of Ammon, across Jordan, had sent Ishmael, a descendant of David, to kill him.

The rumor proved true. Ishmael murdered not only Gedaliah, but those around him who had aided him in maintaining order in the nation. The brutal deed was done so secretly that Ishmael thought the Jews would not know he had done it.

order God gave Jeremiah about the stones with which he was told to build a prophesy before the royal palace in Egypt represented the date upon which the king sat, meaning a prophesy that the kingdom would ultimately be destroyed.

In Egypt Jeremiah gave his people a last warning, because "They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers."

"Therefore I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah." Even then they did not hearken, but all the men whose wives had been burning incense to the heathen gods of heaven because they said Jehovah's protection had been of little use to them, and the queen of Heaven had been kinder, refused to cease their idolatrous worship.

Jeremiah alone remained true to his God in all things, and he went quietly for the salvation of God.

The moral of the lesson is plain. If we walk in the statutes of God our Father, trust in Him and do what He will, we shall be blessed. But if we worship strange gods and disobey His commandments evil will surely come to us.

Christian Church Announcements

Worshipping with the Eighth St. Christian Church Sunday will be the officers of the Hookerton District Christian Youth Fellowship, Harold Rouse of Kinston, who is district president, will participate in the morning service. The other officers of the district are Ann Parrott, acting associate president from Kinston; Janice Bradshaw, secretary from Kinston; Paul Cox, chairman of Christian Worship from Farmville; Bonnie Burch, chairman of Christian Study from Walstonburg; Diana Smith, chairman of Christian Service from Snow Hill; Anna Fields, chairman of Christian Recreation from Walstonburg; and Hazel Corey, chairman of Christian Enlistment from Greenville.

The message will be given by Mr. Richard Ziglar, assistant minister of the church. He will speak on the work of the Christian Youth Fellowship and its goals for the coming year. Mr. Albert Bennett will sing "No Hands But Ours" by Richard Ziglar. This song was written to use with the youth theme, "No Hands But Ours," for the Christian Youth Fellowship for the coming year.

Following lunch the district officers will meet at the church for an executive meeting. At this time they will make plans for their September district meeting and for their visits as Christian Action Teams to local churches. Presiding over this meeting will be Harold Rouse, president. In the absence of Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Haney, who are on their vacation until August 17, the Sunday morning services will be conducted by Mr. Richard Ziglar.

The Seniors and the Pioneers are invited to the Interdenominational Youth Meeting Sunday at the St. James Methodist Church. A period of recreation will begin at 8:00. Bob Gibbons will give a vespers message and afterwards refreshments will be served. This period of time together with other youth will afford all an opportunity to see friends and to experience anew "togetherness in Christ."

Albemarle Presbytery's Camp Site on Bogue Sound has been the scene this summer of many happy and meaningful experiences for some of the youth of this church. Those who attended have expressed appreciation and joy for the opportunity to be a part of these conferences. Those attending from Greenville were: June 29-July 1: Mike Kopy; July 2-4: Wesley Topping, Carl Bechtel, Carl Whitfield, Jimmy Jenkins and Charles Ross. July 15-21: Teddy Fountain, Billy James and Sylvia Satterthwaite. July 21-27: Steve Bailey, Barley Frank Phillips, Melanie Haten, Morton Johnston and Robert Johnston.

The Senior High Fellowship and the Pioneer Fellowship will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at the church.

RALEIGH (AP)—About 30 crumbling skeletons were unearthed behind Central Prison yesterday by earth graders building a new athletic field.

Prison Foreman J. T. Lewis said the bones were found about 15 feet below the topsoil surface. The graveyard was not marked and the bodies had been buried in pine boxes held together by wooden pegs.

H. H. Honeycutt, prison official who retired several years ago after more than 50 years service, said the cemetery was for prisoners who died while they were behind bars but whose bodies were not claimed.

It was estimated the cemetery was more than 100 years old. Honeycutt said prisoners buried in it may have been inmates of an old log prison which stood where Central Prison now is located. The present prison was built in 1870. Warden Kenneth Bailey, who has been with the prison for 19 years, said he did not know the graveyard existed.

WEEKAPPAUG, R. I. (AP)—That whale is back again. The carcass of the 10-foot mammal became wedged in rocks along the shore last Tuesday. After appealing to police and the Coast Guard, the townspeople arranged to have it towed to sea on Wednesday.

The sides yesterday beached the whale again about a mile from its original landing. A new group of townspeople is now appealing to town officials to give the whale a burial.

MOVIES ARE FINE GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Police Judge Edward G. Burleson handed out complimentary movie tickets to one group of traffic violators arraigned in his court. He wanted them to see "The Devil Take Us," a traffic safety film at a downtown theatre.

Unfinished Crime

By Helen McCloy

CHAPINE TWENTY-THREE
 "Where did you go? What have you been doing since you left the Automat?" Sara asked Gerry.
 "Trying to find the ruby. I went to a lot of places and it wasn't until this afternoon I had a sudden idea: Had my pocket been picked only once after all? I was thinking about you and I suddenly recalled you saying: Let me see it again when you look the box from me at the Automat. I had known all along that you must have looked at the ruby while I was getting change. I recalled how annoyed I was at having to turn my back on the ruby for a moment, even though I was standing nearby. But I could hardly refuse to let you look at your own pendant—without running the risk that you'd guess there was something special about it.
 "Now it came to me—suppose you had tried it on? What woman wouldn't? And suppose you had left it on, hidden under your hat? Suppose I had walked out of the Automat with an empty box in my pocket? I hadn't looked to see if the ruby was still inside when I picked up the box and put it back in my pocket.
 "Suppose you still had the ruby and had no idea that it was real? You might display it anywhere and you might be in deadly danger. I had to warn you that the ruby was real. Oh Dacre, what I let you in for! What a fool I've been! Some day I can tell you the whole story."
 "Why not now?"
 "Dacre, there isn't time. I'm being followed, just as Moxon was followed. Not by the police, by others. I heard a step behind me in the street just now. A light, quick step with a cadence like a limp.
 "I've heard that step, too," said Sara. "How do you know it wasn't following me tonight? You said you were just behind me."
 Gerry seemed to be turning the idea over in his mind slowly. Then he said: "It isn't safe for you to keep it."
 She responded dully. "I haven't got it."
 "Where is it then?"
 "That's something I can't tell you, Gerry. Tomorrow the police will have it."
 He was puzzled. Then he had an inspiration. "You mailed it to the police?"
 "No." She scorned the easy lie that would satisfy him. "I gave it to someone who will see that the police get it tomorrow."
 "You wore it to your aunt's?"
 He was thinking aloud. "There were two other guests, a Dr. Sallust and a Mr. Clive. They saw that the ruby was real. You'd want it valued as soon as possible. You wouldn't give it to your aunt, an elderly woman. You probably gave it to one of those two men to get it valued for you, but... which?"
 She had not told him where the ruby was yet now she saw purpose in his eyes. He thinks he's narrowed it down to two—Clive and Sallust. He'll go to each of them tonight. It doesn't matter. They don't know Aunt Caroline has it. They can't give her away.
 "Sallust's a doctor. Of medicine, I suppose? Wouldn't know much about valuing jewels. It must be Clive. What does he do?"
 "You don't tell me everything. Why should I tell you?"
 He was really angry now. "Dacre, this isn't a childish game. This is a mortally serious business. Moxon died because of the ruby. I've got to know where it is."
 "Why do you care if you're not a jewel thief?"
 His face hardened. "Then you don't trust me after all?"
 "I do, but I gave my word I wouldn't tell and I'm not going to, especially when you won't even tell me why you want the ruby."
 For a moment he stood still in the full light of the single lamp. His eyeballs moved toward her. It was impossible to tell if the flash that came and went was a chance reflection of the lamplight or a glitter of pure rage from within.

back. There were two figures behind her, both men, both hurrying, both veiled in shadow.
 She turned the corner. She couldn't run here on Madison—too many people. But she hurried, thrusting her way through the lot, ring crowds. A taxi passed her close to the curb. Light from a dress shop fell across the two men within. She saw the Indian's name—ivory-yellow teeth that looked white in a brown face, the other face haggard and pale—Gerry's? Or the impostor's? How could she be sure? Then he smiled and she knew it was Gerry.
 It was like something in a dream—the sudden flashing vision of people who couldn't be together at that time and place, who couldn't know each other smiling when they had no reason to smile. But it wasn't a dream. It was reality. He wasn't in danger. He was smiling contentedly. And he had tied to her. He had said he didn't know the Indian.
 Whom could she trust now? Sanders. He must be told everything.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a little headway today in the midst of a lot of irregularity.

In the early afternoon prices moved rather narrowly within a range of around a point either way. A few individual issues, of course, were outside that limit.

Trading was subdued at a pace a little below the two-million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,000,000 shares. The market then was lower.

Bethlehem Steel was the star performer today. It lost 3/4 on a starting block of 2,000 shares and continued trading at a stiff loss. Selling was evidently brought on by disappointment in Wall Street when directors yesterday took no action to split the stock as had been hoped by traders. Earnings were at peak levels and the dividend payments was raised.

Reynolds Metals, up 4% yesterday at 227, shot ahead around 5 points today at the best after directors proposed a five-for-one split.

Masonite was up on an extra cash dividend of 50 cents and a 2 per cent stock dividend.

The stock market yesterday was lower with the Associated Press average of 60 stocks down $1.00 at $175.50. That is $1.20 under the record high established Monday.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets were irregular but mostly 25 to 50 lower today. Tops of 17.25 at Beulaville; 17.00 at Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Snow Hill, Farmville; 16.50 at Siler City, Tarboro, Smithfield, Elm 1110 n, Rich Square; 16.25 at Castle Hayne, Goldsboro, Micro, Elizabethtown, Mount Olive, Fayetteville, Clinton; 16.00 at Dunn, Newton Grove, Nuthunte, Clarkton, Warsaw, Bailey, Whiteville, Jacksonville, Plymouth, Kenly, Wilson, Tabor City, Shalotte, Rocky Mount, Smithfield, Lumberton and Washington.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Central North Carolina fryers and broilers were steady today, farm prices 26, f.o.b. plant, no sales reported; Raleigh eggs steady, A large 50.

Asheville fryers and broilers steady farm price 26, f.o.b. plant 27%; Asheville eggs steady, A large 47 to 50.

The entire 1954 public school enrollment in 33 U.S. states with the smallest number of students plus that of the District of Columbia would not equal the estimated increase in U.S. school enrollments for the 1950-60 period by the U.S. Office of Education.

Three-Point Plan To Raise State's Income Offered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A North Carolina congressman offered a three-point plan to raise the state's low per capita income yesterday but said that "The Heel leaders are working to bring up the level."

Rep. Charles B. Deane of Rockingham told the House that North Carolina ranks 48th in average weekly earnings of manufacturing employees. But he said every fourth person in North Carolina is engaged in farming.

Deane said the possible ways of raising income would be in livestock development, especially for feeder cattle for finishing in the East or Midwest; the production and marketing of special fruits and berries and the broiler industry.

Cotton, tobacco and peanuts, Deane said, apparently do not offer any optimistic possibilities of expansion.

He said average hourly rates in North Carolina industry are a third lower than nationally and that manufacturing in North Carolina appears to have suffered a more severe setback than in other states during 1954.

"An increase in the minimum wage to one dollar per hour will have a salutary impact upon North Carolina rates in manufacturing," Deane said. "A considerable proportion of Tar Heel wage earners stand to gain by an increase in minimum wage."

"Underlying forces which depress income in North Carolina is the basic fact that the bulk of the output of the state is produced under highly competitive conditions," Deane declared. He said there appears to be a "strong correlation between per capita income and the predominance of Negro population. The average earnings of the Negro workers are lower than that of the white in North Carolina and the Nation."

He said, however, that statistics show industrial growth and stability for the state.

RESCUE WOMEN IN ALBUQUERQUE FLOOD—Rescuers in a boat remove two women from their homes to high ground in a flash flood at Albuquerque, New Mexico. A cloudburst on the western slope of Sandia mountains at the eastern edge of the city sent torrents roaring down arroyos to form a huge lake in lowlands at the northern end of town. About 200 persons were evacuated from their homes. (AP Wirephoto)

Atoms For Peace Stamp On Sale

A new three-cent "Atoms for Peace" commemorative stamp was issued through the Washington, D. C. Post Office yesterday.

The new stamp is blue, 34 by 144 inches in dimension and arranged horizontally. The central design is composed of two spheres showing each side of the atom encircled with the orbital emblem which has become symbolic of atomic energy.

The words, "Atoms for Peace," in white face modified gothic are displayed across the two spheres. Placed in three sides of the stamp frame is the following quotation taken from a speech of President Eisenhower before the General Assembly of the United Nations on December 8, 1953: "... to find the way by which the... inventiveness of man shall... be consecrated to his life."

Seven Volunteer For Army Duty

RALEIGH (AP)—The three Negroes seeking to enter the University of North Carolina were not "improperly or unlawfully refused admission," a federal court was told by the state of North Carolina yesterday.

"Such policy does not in any way injure or adversely affect the Negro students," wrote Atty. Gen. William B. Rodman in his answer to a federal court complaint filed by the three.

"On the contrary," said the attorney general "the state of North Carolina receives in the form of educated citizens of both races a better return upon its investment" by educating Negroes, Indians and whites in separate colleges.

The three Negroes, all seeking admission to the university's undergraduate schools, are LeRoy Benjamin Frasier Jr., Ralph Kennedy Frasier, and John Lewis Brandon, all of Durham.

Rodman's answer for the state was sent to the Middle District Court in Greensboro.

He asked that the case be heard by Middle District Judge Johnson J. Hayes and not by a three-judge federal court such as has been assigned to consider it.

The state contended that the suit does not involve the constitutionality of any state law and that a three-judge court does not have jurisdiction.

The three Negro youths contend denial of their applications to enter the university violate their rights under the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Roy Armstrong, director of admissions at the university, had held, "Negroes are not eligible at this time to make application for admission to the undergraduate divisions of the university."

Rodman asked that no injunction, judgment or decree be issued restraining the university from continuing to exercise discretion in the selection of applicants for admission to undergraduate schools.

He also asked the court to refrain "from establishing and delineating any group or class of persons as being eligible for admission to the university."
