Map Local Action In Event Of Storm

PREPARING FOR CONNIE—Civil Defense and Red Cross members are shown at City Hall yesterday as they met to discuss plans in the event Hurricane Connie should strike here.

Local Agencies Set Tentative Disaster Plans

Emergency Steps Readied

Greenville's Civil Defense unit and Red Cross were ready and waiting today in the event hurricane Connie slashes in from the Atlantic Ocean.

Yesterday, in a 4 p.m. meeting at City Hall, Civil Defense Director June H. Rose briefly addressed Civil Defense and Red Cross representatives concerning possible action should the hurricane move inland.

The group agreed to establish City Hall as emergency headquarters from which operations could be dispersed to any part of the county or city.

Hoover Taft, representing the Red Cross, said that an emergency canteen was available to feed any refugees. In addition, Rose added, housing could be provided at school buildings throughout the city.

Ham radio operator Jack Edwards said contact could be maintained through his equipment with other parts of the state and Fire Chief George Gardner and Police Chief S. G. Gibbs announced that their departments would be prepared.

Ken Beatty, of the Department of Public Works, announced that full crews will be maintained by his department.

In the event the hurricane should strike, the desk sergeant at police headquarters has been instructed to notify Civil Defense and Red Cross members to meet immediately at City Hall. This plan, Rose said this morning, will remain in effect until the hurricane passes.

Greenville radio WGTC and WNCN television will keep viewers and listeners posted in regard to the latest developments.

If the big blow does come, Rose said, all persons desiring assistance can contact the Civil Defense or Red Cross through the police station at City Hall.

Meanwhile, Civil Air Patrol Public Information Officer Gus Bested reported today that there are four mobile electric power units at the airfield for use in case of emergency in connection with the impending hurricane. They will be available in case of power failure at any vital point. The power units will be monitored today, tonight and tomorrow, he said.

Storm May Upset Salute To Talbott

WASHINGTON (AP)—The erratic behavior of hurricane Connie may upset elaborate Air Force plans to give retiring Secretary Harold E. Talbott an airprowed sendoff tomorrow.

All military aircraft have been moved or alerted to fly away from the storm-threatened Atlantic Coast to the safety of inland airports. The Air Force says that if the big hurricane is still a threat tomorrow afternoon, when the Air Force plans its final salute to Talbott, the ceremony will either be modified to a strictly ground performance or the whole show will be postponed until Friday.

The Air Force has planned to bring in about 150 aircraft of all types to honor Talbott. In addition to the latest jet fighters, the plans called for at least one huge B52 intercontinental jet bomber to fly over Bolling Air Force Base at the peak of the ceremony originally scheduled for 3:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Defense Secretary Wilson, who said yesterday that he "did not like any part" of the events leading up to and including the resignation of Talbott, is scheduled to take time off from the task of finding a successor to stand at Talbott's side on the reviewing stand at the farewell ceremony.

The Air Force has also ordered its senior commanders to be on hand.

The ceremony arranged for Talbott's departure is only the second such honor that the Air Force has accorded retiring secretaries. When Stuart Symington, now a senator, resigned in April, 1950, he was given a sendoff by 48 aircraft.

The departure of the second Air Force secretary, Thomas Finletter, came in the winter at the end of the Truman administration in 1952 and was marked only by indoor formalities.

Allotted $300,000 For Airport Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than $300,000 in federal airport aid has been allocated by the Commerce Department to three North Carolina facilities.

The grants must be matched by the cities dollar-for-dollar. They are: Asheville, New Municipal Airport $130,000; Raleigh-Durham Airport $115,000; Winston-Salem, Smith Reynolds Airport $67,150.

Tobacco Buyers Cautious On New Variety Of Leaf

RALEIGH (AP)—Tobacco companies admittedly are "going slow" in buying the new Coker 139 and 14 varieties, a spokesman for a leading tobacco company told The Raleigh News and Observer yesterday.

The spokesman, who wished to remain unidentified, pointed out, however, this is a customary procedure when a new variety is produced in volume for the first time.

He stated a new variety "is always a question until it's proved. We want to know about its aroma, its ability to age, and other characteristics. These things can't be determined overnight."

The Coker tobaccos are popular with growers because they are easy to grow and produce unusually heavy yields.

"All we can say," Cockroft told newsmen at the 72-nation atomic-fuel conference, "is that it is an interesting subject on which Britain will work, but we are in no position to make forecasts."

Dr. Homi Bhabha, head of India's atomic energy project, said Monday that a way will be found to control fusion energy "within the next two decades."

the American Atomic Energy Commission has so far declined to comment on Bhabha's prediction. Cockroft directs Britain's Harwell atomic energy establishment.

In a report to the atomic conference he said Britain hopes to improve the nuclear power process that by the end of the century a ton of uranium will do the work of a million tons of coal.

He said developments in "breeding" of atomic fuel would play a key role in the program. A "breeder" reactor is one in which at least as much fissionable material is created as is consumed in keeping the atomic reaction going.

"The possible United Kingdom requirements in the year 2000 for the equivalent of 250 million tons of coal a year would be met by burning 250 tons of uranium or thorium a year if breeding is not fully developed," Cockroft said.

Two Canadian experts told the conference that within 10 years Canada may be producing atomic power that can compete in some areas with coal and water power.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said today that atomic energy will be a major source of power in the next 20 years.

J. Davis, an economist of Canada's Department of Trade and Commerce, and W. B. Lewis, research vice president of the Dominion Atomic Project at Chalk River, Ont., made the report.

They told delegates to the U. N. sponsored meeting that the performance of one of Canada's research reactors and other studies raised the possibility of producing power at 7 mills per kilowatt hour within the next 10 years.

Soldiers Repulse Korean Rioters

SEOUL (AP)—Three hundred shouting Koreans, ignoring a "no violence" edict by President Syngman Rhee, stormed the causeway to Wolmi Island again today but were turned back by U.S. troops manning tear gas guns and fire hoses.

The milling demonstrators, continuing South Korea's campaign to drive out Communist members of neutral truce inspection teams, broke up quickly before the determined stand.

When rioters and chanting slogans, the mob drove as far as barbed wire barricades thrown up by the Americans, then faltered and retreated.

They were trying to reach the billets of Czech and Polish members of the inspection groups stationed on the island just outside the port of Inchon.

It was the third attempt to storm the island in five days. The disorders began last Saturday with an ultimatum for the Communist inspectors to get out by midnight next Saturday.

Twenty-two Americans and 80 Koreans have been injured, none seriously.

The Inchon demonstration contrasted sharply with the comparatively quiet that settled over stations at other ports where the inspectors operate.

ASKS PATIENCE WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed to South Koreans today to exercise patience and avoid violent action in efforts to oust truce supervisors from the country.

From 1970 on, they said, atomic power may begin to emerge "as a major, if not the major, source of electricity in Canada."

J. Davis, an economist of Canada's Department of Trade and Commerce, and W. B. Lewis, research vice president of the Dominion Atomic Project at Chalk River, Ont., made the report.

They told delegates to the U. N. sponsored meeting that the performance of one of Canada's research reactors and other studies raised the possibility of producing power at 7 mills per kilowatt hour within the next 10 years.

A mill is one tenth of a cent.

"Atomic energy plants with an even better performance than this may well be under construction in Canada before 1965," they added.

The Canadians said that because of their country's abundant water and coal resources nuclear power must drop below 8 mills before it can compete with coal in the next two decades.

CONNIE'S CHANGES FURE

Freed Airmen Are Winging Home In 2 Air Transports

TOKYO (AP)—Eleven U.S. airmen who spent 32 long months in Communist captivity sped eastward across the Pacific home and family today.

Two plush C54 air transports—one Gen. Douglas MacArthur's famed Bataan—left Takikira Air Base with the men early this afternoon. After a 27-hour layover in Hawaii they are due at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Friday morning.

Aboard the Bataan are Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., Capt. John Vaadl Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Airman Harry M. Benjamin Jr. and Airman John W. Thompson III.

The second group in a sister ship decorated and outfitted at the best of the Bataan included Maj. William H. Baumer, Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Lt. John W. Buck, T. Sgt. Howard W. Brown, Airman Steven E. Kiba and Airman Daniel C. Schmidt.

In Honolulu the men will be welcomed today by pretty girls bearing flower leis. After a brief news conference, an Air Force spokesman said, the men "will be free to go anywhere and do anything they want—just like tourists."

They will be quartered in the best suite quarters of Hickam Air Force Base but "they can stay at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel if they want."

The men will be given colorful aloha shirts and a chance to go sightseeing or night-clubbing.

"They'll tell us what they want to do and we'll help them do it," the spokesman said. "Nobody is being scheduled for anything."

The C54s, equipped with berths, are due at Hickam Field, Hawaii, at 2:30 p.m. (7:30 p.m., EST). They will leave at 5:30 p.m. Thursday and are due at Travis, northeast of San Francisco at 8 a.m. Friday (10 a.m., EST).

In an exclusive interview today, Schmidt told with deep emotion something of how it feels to be free again.

"You will never know how wonderful a feeling it was to be wearing a uniform and to be able to salute the flag... That was the best feeling I have had in years."

He paused a moment, then sadly said he believes there are many people in America who can realize how much it means to be able to salute the flag."

Schmidt consented to the interview only after a promise that no mention would be made of his military career.

The triangle won't be straightened out until after Schmidt arrives home. He is to meet Una at some undisclosed place after the arrival at Travis.

There will be no mass reunion with relatives at Travis, as originally planned by the Air Force. The men asked to be transferred to other planes and flown to air bases nearest their homes. They should reach their homes by Saturday or Sunday.

Unemployment In Pitt Hits Low

Pitt County's rolls of the unemployed have hit their yearly low, W. B. Dillingham of the local Employment Security Commission office said today.

To back up his statement, Dillingham pointed to comparative figures for the past week, last month and the peak unemployment period during the winter.

For the week of August 1-5 only two new claims were received as contrasted with 11 new ones in the period July 4-8 and 51 new ones during the January 31 to February 4 week.

Also, Dillingham said, only 38 claims are being currently carried as continued while just a month ago 333 were in that category and in late January, 1072 persons were being carried on the unemployment roster.

The drop in unemployment is due to the tobacco crop, currently being harvested. Unemployment figures, he said, should stay down at least until the factories close. Ordinarily, Dillingham said, unemployment here does not begin to swing upward again until around Thanksgiving.

To supplement labor from Pitt County now being used to help harvest crops here, organized crews, plus many unattached persons, have come to the county to take up temporary residence.

"Around 400," Dillingham said, "are here in organized crews as far away as Florida, Alabama and Mississippi." Just how many more have come to Pitt from other areas, he is not able to estimate.

"Many of these organized crews," Dillingham said, "will be pulling out next week but some will probably stay on to help with the sweet potato harvest."

These crews, he pointed out, often harvest many different crops in various sections of the country and move about with the seasons. He cited as an example the fact that one of the Mississippi crews will be returning to its home state to help harvest cotton.

In addition, Dillingham said, applications are now being filed by area tobacco growers in order that they may go to Canada soon to help with the tobacco crop there.

Canadian tobacco is a relatively new crop and expert farmers from this area go north of the border to help with technical advice. A total of 31 applicants have been received but, Dillingham said, "no more than 40 probably will apply."

In the past he pointed out, as many as 50-60 farmers have filed applications for permission to enter Canada and help with the crop there but as the Canadians become increasingly familiar with the process, the demand lessens.

Busily Preparing For Dollar Day

Local merchants are preparing for crowds of shoppers for Dollar Day events tomorrow.

Stores open at 9 a.m. The city's two off-street parking lots will be available for shoppers, and the parking meters will be on a holiday.

This one-day semi-annual sales event is sponsored by the Merchants Association. This is the 25th year for the annual Dollar Day.

As in the past, all home telephone subscribers listed in the local directory were called yesterday and today, and each tenth person answering the phone by saying, "Thursday is Dollar Day," was awarded a prize donated by local merchants.

Dan Saleed, chairman of the Merchants Association Trade Promotion Committee, has declared, "The merchants in Greenville are going all out this year for one of the biggest Dollar Days they've ever had."

Race Hurricane To Tie Down Big Radar Station

BOSTON (AP)—A crew of 92 construction men worked at top speed today to tie down a "Texas Tower" radar station 100 miles at sea, in a race against possible hurricane weather.

The Coast Guard cutter McCullough, 100 yards by a mile from the tower, however, ready to take the 92 workmen to shore and safety.

The rush job was on the last of three permanent legs driven 50 feet into the ocean bottom on which the 100-foot tower will stand as a base for a new Air Force radar station.

Hurricane Near-Stationary; Future Path Undetermined

HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Connie swirled off the Carolina coast today her 135-mile winds threatening another mighty blow at the area still licking the wounds of last year's disastrous Hazel.

The big storm was almost stationary this morning some 225 miles southeast of Wilmington, N.C. But the Weather Bureau warned the dangerous hurricane was expected to move north-northwest or north later today.

This would bring the destructive winds ashore, probably early tonight some place between the port city and this Atlantic outpost on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

The entire Eastern seaboard, remembering three 1954 hurricanes which killed more than 250 persons and caused upward of 1 1/2 billion dollars damage, girded for any eventuality and kept a watchful eye on Connie's progress. Like Hazel?

Indications today were that Connie would hit not far from the point Hazel came to land last Oct. 15 to sweep northward through the heavily populated East coast to Canada. Most hurricanes blow themselves out shortly after they reach land. But after Hazel, no chances were being taken.

Towering waves and high tides already pounded the North Carolina shore and hard tropical showers pelted residents and vacationers moving to safety away from the beaches. Beaches took on a deserted look of winter.

The entire East Coast from Savannah, Ga., to Provincetown, Mass., was under hurricane alert. Rough seas were reported all along the area.

Eastern Leaf Belt Opens August 23

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flue-cured tobacco sales on the big Eastern North Carolina Belt will start on schedule Aug. 23.

The sales committee of the Bright Belt Warehouse Assn. made the announcement yesterday at a meeting at which no one appeared to ask for an earlier opening. An Aug. 18 opening previously had been proposed.

H. H. Harris of Wilson, president of the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Assn., said eastern Carolina farmers have a big crop and will be ready for market Aug. 18. But he said they "will go along with whatever decision this committee makes."

The five-man committee agreed that a schedule of partial sales will be applied to each belt if necessary. The schedule was agreed upon last Saturday in a meeting at Florence, S.C.

It calls for each belt to operate on a 5 1/2 hour day for its first eight selling days. The belt then reduces sales to 3 1/2 hours per day for the next nine days and returns to the 5 1/2 hour basis.

Although the curtailment resulted from heavy congestion in redrying plants handling tobacco received by the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corp.

Volume ranged from light to heavy on South Carolina and border North Carolina belts yesterday.

Demand weakened slightly and declines were reported of mostly $1 and $2 per hundred compared with Monday. Several grades were up $1.

An increase in nondescript, low lugs and leaf lowered quality. Lugs predominated followed closely by leaf and primings.

Gross sales Monday totaled 8,388,211 pounds for an average of $54.97 per hundred pounds, 47 cents above last Friday's quotation.

A total of 4,780,958 pounds was sold on South Carolina markets Monday at an average of $57.66. North Carolina markets sold 3,607,253 pounds with an average of $51.40.

Sonar auction bid averages per hundred pounds yesterday:

Leaf—Good lemon 62, good orange 60, low lemon 59.

Cutters—Fair lemon 68, low lemon 64.

Lugs—Good lemon 65, good orange 64, fair lemon 59, fair orange 57.

Primings—Good lemon 57, fair lemon 51, fair orange 46.

Nondescript—Best thin 16.

Chief Is Fined 2,000 Nickels

SYRACUSE N.Y. (AP)—Chief John Bigtree, whose nose appears on the Indian-head nickel pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

He was fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked.

The 79-year-old Seneca chief was arrested last June 3 after his car struck a fire hydrant. He told Judge Truman H. Preston he had been drinking since 1924 and it was his first offense.

The head on the nickel is a composite created by sculptor James Fraser from three representative Indian models.

Evacuating Beaches

Crowded automobiles, piled high with belongings, moved away from the Carolina beaches last night and this morning. The Coast Guard at Ft. Mchen ordered the beaches evacuated at Atlantic Beach Salter Path and Emerald Isle. Evacuation was ordered at Wrightsville Beach near Wilmington, and "advised" by authorities at Carolina Beach to the south.

High water lapped sand dunes and beach-front homes long before the storm arrived. It was pounding waves that caused much of the damage to property during last year's storm.

All possible precautions have been taken to prevent loss of life and property.

Two men already have died indirectly as a result of Connie. Their Navy plane crashed at Norfolk, Va., as they sought to evacuate it to safety inland.

Air Force, Marine and Navy planes all along the Eastern Seaboard were put in hangars or flown inland to safety.

Navy ships put to sea to ride out the storm rather than be battered against docks. Small crafts moved by the thousands into streams and creeks. The supercarrier Forrestal, still unfinished at Newport News, Va., was made as secure as possible in her berth.

A hundred miles off Cape Cod, construction workers labored through the night trying to secure a 10-million-dollar radar tower being built at sea. A Coast Guard cutter stood by to take them off the-towering structure.

Highway patrolmen stood by for emergency duty along the North Carolina coast.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration put its units on a 24-hour basis in the threatened area.

The American Red Cross hurried 41 hurricane disaster experts to strategic points along the coast and prepared to open shelters in North Carolina.

The Civil Air Patrol Air National Guard and "ham" organizations were alerted to take over communications if regular facilities fail.

North Carolina's Gov. Luther H. Hodges, attending the Governors' Conference in Chicago, was prepared to fly back home on a moment's notice.

The Coast Guard cancelled all leaves and other military establishments went on alert status in the threatened area.

Beaching Down

What couldn't be moved off exposed beaches was put indoors or tied down. In some sections merchants taped store windows. TV antennas were taken down. Windows were shattered.

High water closed some beach roads, especially along North Carolina's Outer Banks, well ahead of the storm. The Coast Guard said some 300 residents and vacationers were stranded on Ocracoke Island, a fishing and summer resort some 40 miles off the Cape Cod area, Eastern Maine and parts of Canada, killing 12.

Hurricane Hazel came later to wreck havoc from the South Carolina coast all the way into Canada.

Gov. Williams Describes Ike 'An Old Man' Reluctant To Run

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams today described President Eisenhower as "an old man" who may not want a second term but who is likely to be torced by Republicans into running in 1956.

Williams, who said he is leaving the door open to the possibility that he may seek his own party's nomination, told reporters at the 4th annual Governors' Conference that "a lot of things can happen before next year's party conventions."

"President Eisenhower is an old man," Williams said. "He may die before the campaign starts." Eisenhower is 64.

When a reporter remarked this seemed "a cold-blooded statement," Williams supplemented it by saying that Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, "or any of us may die before that time."

Williams noted that if Eisenhower runs and is re-elected, he will become the nation's oldest President before he completes a new four-year term.

"Under normal circumstances political parties probably would not name such an old man," Williams said. "But the Republicans probably are going to force him to run."

The Michigan governor said he thinks Stevenson or some other Democrat can beat Eisenhower because the American people are very dissatisfied with the Republican administration and in the long run the leader of that administration is going to be tied into its misdeeds."

He accused Eisenhower of "repudiating his promises" made to the farmers in the 1952 campaign, adding that "the farmers have become the forgotten men of our economy." He said the segment of labor that voted for Eisenhower in 1952 suffered "quick disillusionment."

Williams said there were signs of "corruption or unclean government" in Washington. He mentioned the resignation of Secretary of the Air Force Talbott, whose activities in behalf of the engineering firm in which he held a financial interest were questioned in Congress. He alluded also to the now abandoned Dixon-Yates power contract.

Williams, who said he is "not prepared to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination, said there odds point to the probability that Stevenson will run. He said it was a "fair interpretation" that if Stevenson bids for the nomination he will support Stevenson.

Williams said that thus far Harold E. Stassen had not discussed with him any details of a proposed new American disarmament plan. Williams added, however, he is asking the governors to appoint a special committee to confer with government agencies about domestic operations of the President's atom-for-peace plan.

Stassen, former Minnesota governor, circulated unofficially as the 47th annual Governors' Conference prepared to swing into a discussion of highways and highway safety, punctuated by a disagreement over Eisenhower's bond-financed road building program.

The fact that Eisenhower has sent Stassen here to test state-by-state sentiment on his plan for reciprocal aerial inspection of Soviet military installations was regarded in some quarters as indicating the plan will be published or presented anew at the forthcoming meeting of the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee.

Harnessing H-Bomb Seen 'Within Generation'

By FRANK CAREY

AT Science Reporter

GENEVA (AP)—Sir George Thompson, a British scientist, said today he believes harnessing of atomic energy of the hydrogen bomb type for peaceful purposes will be accomplished "in a generation."

And Sir John Cockroft, Britain's top atomic scientist, said Britain is doing research on the subject. But Cockroft did not say whether he believed it was possible of achievement.

"All we can say," Cockroft told newsmen at the 72-nation atomic-fuel conference, "is that it is an interesting subject on which Britain will work, but we are in no position to make forecasts."

Dr. Homi Bhabha, head of India's atomic energy project, said Monday that a way will be found to control fusion energy "within the next two decades."

the American Atomic Energy Commission has so far declined to comment on Bhabha's prediction. Cockroft directs Britain's Harwell atomic energy establishment.

In a report to the atomic conference he said Britain hopes to improve the nuclear power process that by the end of the century a ton of uranium will do the work of a million tons of coal.

He said developments in "breeding" of atomic fuel would play a key role in the program. A "breeder" reactor is one in which at least as much fissionable material is created as is consumed in keeping the atomic reaction going.

"The possible United Kingdom requirements in the year 2000 for the equivalent of 250 million tons of coal a year would be met by burning 250 tons of uranium or thorium a year if breeding is not fully developed," Cockroft said.

Goodson-Dewar Vows Spoken In Cokesbury Methodist Church

FUQUAY SPRINGS—The Cokesbury Methodist Church was the scene of the ceremony Saturday which united in marriage Miss Betty Jean Dewar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Broughton Dewar, and William Stewart Goodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lorenzo Goodson of Greenville. The Rev. I. J. Strawbridge officiated.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe E. Downing, soloist, and Mrs. Robert Kinten, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of crystal sequins designed with a basque bodice, and square neckline finished with princess lace and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white, yellow-throated orchid. Her only ornament was her mother's childhood sash.

Mrs. Utley Cotton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina dress of blue crystal bengaline and carried a cascade of yellow shasta daisies.

Miss Drucilla Dewar Cotton, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink embroidered organza dress and carried a basket of rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a navy silk dress with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a powder blue lace dress with navy accessories. They wore orchid corsages.

Mr. Goodson was his son's best man. Ushers were Phillip Goodson Jr. and Joe Goodson of Greenville, brothers of the bridegroom; Allen Dewar of Goldsboro, brother of the bride; and Utley Cotton of Fuquay Springs, brother-in-law of the bride.

For traveling the bride wore a brown figured dress with a white organza duster and brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of East Carolina College and is a member of the Elizabeth City public school faculty.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Hargrove Military Academy in Chatham, Va., and attended East Carolina College, where he was a member of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity.

He is now with the U. S. Coast Guard at Elizabeth City.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Elizabeth City.

Vocational Home Economics Teachers Elect New Officers

The Martin-Edgcombe vocational home economics teachers held their organizational meeting for the 1955-1956 school year on Monday, August 8, at the Robertsonville Teachers' Miss Catherine Ingram served as guest for the group.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Bertha Jones of Fairboro, chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Daly of South Edgcombe, vice-chairman, Mrs. Theresa Brown of West Edgcombe, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Catherine Ingram of Robertsonville, reporter. Miss Inez Kiser of Williamston will serve as Purse Homemakers of America advisor for the two counties, while Mrs. Anna Smith of Oak City is serving as District P. H. A. Advisor. Mrs. Mabel L. Hall of East Carolina College serves as supervisor of the group.

Plans for the year's work will be "Broadening Our Program Through Group Experiences." Programs will include activities in adult education, public relations, home experiences, and new trends in teaching. Monthly meetings will be held in the different home economics departments in the bi-county area.

Morning Party Fetes Miss Stokes

On Saturday morning from 11 until 12 o'clock Madeline Leslie Jarner and Banks Credit entertained Miss Juanita Stokes at a Coca-Cola hour in the home of Mrs. Jarner.

Upon arrival Miss Stokes was presented a corsage of pink and white carnations and a silver sandwich plate by the hostesses. The table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations flanked by burning tapers in three-branched silver candelabra. Coca-Colas and many tempting accompaniments were served.

It Took Housewife 34 Years To Graduate

PIKEVILLE, Ky. — It took 34 years for Mrs. Joe Hunt to get through high school, but not because she was slow in learning. Mrs. Hunt, 49, wife of a Delbarton W. Va., coal miner, took 30 years off to get married and rear a family of eight children. She finished high school last May. With almost a full summer's college work at Pikeville Junior College behind her, she is starting on a four-year course which will lead to a high school teacher's certificate.

Mrs. Tom Henderson, Mrs. Leonard Bloxam and Miss Martha Henderson attended Friday's session of the Woman's Missionary Union Conference at Caswell last week.

Lakewood Pines Club Makes Favors For Luncheon In Manteo

The Lakewood Pines Garden Club held their August meeting on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. R. G. Culbertson on Pineview Drive. The hostess served a refreshing fruit drink and delicious coffee cake while Mrs. R. W. Lowe began the business meeting. Mrs. R. P. Heller reported on the meeting of District 10 representatives of the Garden Club of North Carolina, on July 12 in Rocky Mount, which she and Mrs. R. E. Wilford attended. She told of the organization to be held in Manteo on August 18, which will feature the formal opening of the Elizabethan Gardens there. On August 11, the Lakewood Pines Club will meet to make favors for the luncheon at Manteo; these will be tiny rustic cradles to commemorate the birth of Virginia Dare.

The president appointed Mrs. W. A. Wright to head a committee which will organize a Bazaar to be held next spring.

Mrs. J. E. Waltz presented an interesting program on containers. "Being of the important points to consider in choosing the proper container, which are harmony, color, texture and spirit. She mentioned some unusual items which might be used to hold flower arrangements, and then demonstrated some basic types as well as some lovely individualistic containers. The next meeting will be on Sept. 13, with Mrs. K. G. Harris as hostess and Mrs. W. A. Wright having the program on "Color."

Joint Hostesses Entertain For Jean Tetterton

Mrs. Roy Martin and Mrs. Wilbur Balinger entertained informally for Miss Jean Tetterton, bride-elect, at the home of Mrs. Martin on Eighth Street on Thursday night at eight o'clock.

Throughout the home white and green flower arrangements were used. The dining room table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a design of glass, carnations and fern.

Mrs. J. W. Tetterton, mother of the honoree, poured punch while guests served themselves bridal cakes, nuts and mints.

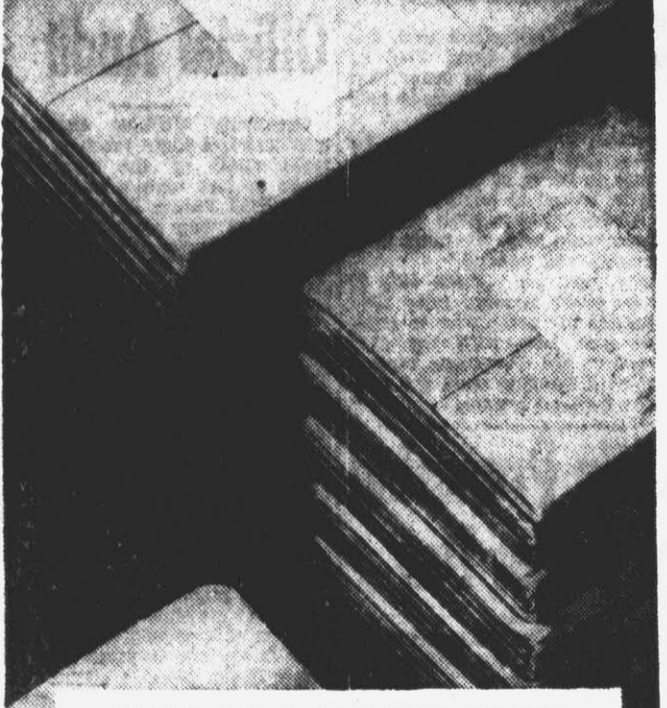

After a conversational hour Miss Tetterton was presented miscellaneous gifts from the guests. The hostesses presented her with a gift of silver in her chosen pattern and a corsage of white shasta daisies.

Cases Heard Yesterday In Pitt County Court

A Greenville Negro, Ross Bell Andrews, was sentenced to six months in Woman's Prison yesterday on counts of possession of non-tax paid whiskey and assault with a deadly weapon.

In other cases heard in County Court, a charge of careless and reckless driving against Earl M. Latham, 42, of Chocowinity, was not pressed with leave. A charge of speeding against Harold Clifton Forrest, 52, of Ayden was continued.

Francis Jones, 19, of 205 Grande Avenue was fined 25 dollars and costs on a no operator's license charge as was Jesse B. Williams, 28, of 311 W. 5th Street.

Conviction on counts of being drunk and disorderly and carrying a concealed weapon brought a 15 dollars and costs fine to James Mac Little, 20, Negro, of Route 5.

D. C. Joyner, 40, Negro, of Bell Arthur, was taxed 25 dollars and costs upon conviction of assault with a deadly weapon and public drunkenness. Another Negro, James Henry Acklin, 21, of 903 Railroad Street, paid 25 dollars and costs after being found guilty on a no operator's license charge.

Four other persons, John Robert Worthington, 16, of Winterville; Raymond Evans, 57, of Greenville; James A. Sharpe, 23, Negro, of Route 5 and Agnes Purvis, 26, Negro, of Robersonville, paid 25 dollars and costs each on no operator's license charges.

Milton Earl Reese, 22, Negro of Grimesland, was fined 10 dollars and costs upon conviction of possession of non-tax paid whiskey.

A fine of 25 dollars and costs was placed on Julius Murphy, Negro, of Route 3, after conviction of careless and reckless driving and no operator's license. Dan Selby, 47, Negro, of Belhaven, paid 10 dollars and costs on a charge of public drunkenness and John D. Bright, 18, of Chocowinity, paid 25 dollars and costs on a charge of careless and reckless driving.

$21 Millions For N. C. Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Carolina will receive more than 21 million dollars of the $75 million in federal-aid highway money apportioned to the states for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

With certain exceptions, the states must match the federal money put up for the primary, secondary and urban systems.

North Carolina's share: Primary $7,889,021; secondary $6,730,557; urban $2,228,665; interstate $4,403,745.

Only 108, May Try Preaching

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dan Hughes is 108 today but may take to preaching yet. He's done almost everything else.

"If nothing breaks me down, I'll live another 50 years. I've never been sick in my life and never took doctor's medicine."

Hughes says the "Lord's" sparing me for something, and I just can't figure out what it is. It might be preaching."

Crossing and uncrossing his legs with the agility of a teen-ager, the former slave recalled in an interview his years on steamboats, farms and dray wagons, where he spent 50 years shoveling coal.

"It was too much for me. It knocked me off and I finally had to give it up."

Now living with a daughter, he spends a lot of time thinking about the old days.

"Sometimes when I'm here by myself, I just sit around and live my life again. I got a good memory."

His hearing also is excellent but not his sight.

"When I go to thread a needle these days, I got to hold it up pretty close so I can see it."

The birthday party today will be a simple affair, attended by his grandson, his five great-grandchildren and his four great-great-grandchildren.

As for the future, Hughes says, "I'm waiting on him. Whenever he calls me, I'm ready to go."

Boy Killed At Play With Gun

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Two boys playing war with toy guns decided to take a look at a real one yesterday. It went off, killing James Wade Byram, 9.

Detective Sgt. P. K. Walk said the Byram boy, visiting here from Dallas, Tex., was playing with David Jones, also 9.

Walk said young Byram asked the Jones boy if he had a real gun. This led them the detective said, to a .45 calibre pistol in a desk drawer. It went off as they examined it.

Hair Care For The Future Glamor Girl

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

A little girl can get a real thrill out of giving herself a shampoo.

Eight years of age is supposed to be a time of beauty awareness, when a sub-sub-deb learns there is a relationship between cleanliness and beauty.

Around that time she'll spy her lustrous locks in the mirror, and with her new magic wand, the hair brush, enjoy massaging her hair until it shines.

She'll learn, too, that her hair is more naturally glossy after the shampoo, that two latherings are better than one and that several rinsings are necessary to bring out the highlights of her locks.

Some youngsters enjoy shampooing under the shower. Others like the soapy lather in the basin, spraying the suds off with a basin hose. Teach her to wet the hair thoroughly working up a stiff lather, and then massaging hair and scalp with the fingertips.

A soft brush used around the hairline, where dust from outside play collects to spoil the effect of a pretty hairdo, will clean that area nicely.

An elaborate hairdo isn't necessary at this early age, although youngsters are likely to envision themselves as romantic storybook characters with coiffures ranging from pigtails to long curls.

A youngster can have fun putting a wave in her hair each time she shampoos it. She can coax one in easily by using her index and third fingers to plait it in or by putting a wave in with the comb.

Some girls like the simple technique of taking a grip with the palm of the hand on a fistful of damp hair ends and squeezing them tight.

While a child is in the mood to be beautiful with shampoo and hair brush is a good time to teach her to keep these implements clean. Start her off by washing comb and hairbrush before the shampoo.

Last Choice Between Living, Dying

You think back on all the past peaks and climaxes of civilization and wonder at the follies which made them wither. Then you look at today's knowledge and power of mankind, the wealth of nations and aspirations of even the most lowly, and that natural question is bound to arise.

Can mankind "make it" this time? Has he reached another summit only to drag himself down as has been the case since the beginning?

The world's atomic scientists are meeting in Geneva now, perhaps to see if through their own endeavors they can channel the strivings of mankind away from the course of destruction to near-infinite accomplishments.

As one writer puts it, "It is almost as if the whole history of man's combined wisdom and folly has been heading inevitably for the mid-20th century when, because he has learned too much, he is faced with the last choice between living and dying altogether."

So far, the news stories out of Geneva point up past accomplishments of atomic scientists and some understandable "bragging" of their intentions. Be that as it may, the interchange of information is inevitable... indeed, the whole purpose of the gathering which was initiated by President Eisenhower in 1953.

It seems clear that scientists of the East and West have disclosed enough to each other to show there can be no monopoly on brains when it comes to harnessing the

The Senator's Speech Proved Disillusioning

Do foreign-sounding names make for poor Americans? Are native-born Americans superior in any way to Americans by adoption?

These questions have been simmering on our editorial desk for nearly a week after they were raised by a news account of Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., speaking to the Junior Order of United American Mechanics at their Asheville meeting.

We didn't get the whole speech, of course. Only the highlights were transmitted by the news wire. The Ervin speech was described as condemning actions and legislation which "favor the foreign-born."

The senator's over-all viewpoint may have been heclouded by the specific points brought out in the wire story; nevertheless, though we are among the admirers of Sam Ervin, those highlights in the news account of his talk were disillusioning. It wasn't the sort of thing you'd expect a United States Senator to say.

As is the practice in news circles, the first two paragraphs in the story of Sen. Ervin's talk dealt with the customary "Who," "What," "When" and "Where." The subsequent three paragraphs are taken from the Associated Press account:

Praising the JOUAM as an organization founded to protect the interests of native-born Americans, Ervin said "some people go to ridiculous lengths to deprive native Americans of their fundamental rights for the benefit of those who are not native-born Americans."

He cited the fair employment laws of New York state, under which he asserted, it is unlawful to ask a man what name he was born under.

If the original name had a foreign sound, Ervin declared, "that might lead to employing some good American in his place."

What's in a name? What is a "good" American? Apparently he isn't a naturalized citizen if we are to rely on Ervin's judgment.

And there are Zablonski's, and Schultzes and Cohens and MacMichaels and O'Leary's who have been in this country for generations, and wouldn't change their names to Smith or Jones as a matter of family pride. Even "Smith" and "Jones" are not native American names, as everybody knows.

If the senator was chiefly concerned with foreigners coming to this country who have no intention of becoming citizens, he should have been more explicit. It is true that a number of people come to America each year, labor and subsist under sub-standard conditions in order to return to their homelands relatively "rich." This deprives, or could deprive, an American worker of employment as well as having a possible effect of lowering wage scales in certain areas. In this latter respect, however, the prospect appears considerably remote when one considers the vast numbers of American laborers as compared with the minute trickle of foreign imports.

Taking the long view, we'd suggest the working man from abroad who comes to this country is a sort of asset to the United States when he goes home. If he gets any sort of a square deal over here, he'll spread the word America is a land of friendliness. He will take home with him something of America that will affect not only his family but his neighbors. Put them all together and you have real bonds of friendship that mere diplomacy cannot secure.

The whole thing adds up in our mind as being an unfortunate instance in which a probable candidate for re-election overreached himself wooing applause from a limited audience.

atom. In turn, that could convince scientists of the East they must tell their own government heads that conquest by atomic weapons would leave neither victor nor vanquished.

As alternatives they (and our own scientists) can point to potential victories over disease and poverty awaiting only the same sort of effort that was devoted to creating a tool of destruction.

There is the portal to Tomorrow. The big question is, will they be able to get into a real exchange of ideas; and if they do, will they be able to continue to do it.

While this meeting is underway there is a strange lull in the cold war; big powers are talking of keeping the atom for peace only and abolishing it for war. At the same time, other scientists in the United States and Russia are devising uses for the atom in war.

The meeting of atomic scientists in Geneva today is not all-important in itself, but rather a testing ground that could pave the way for future governmental decisions that will show whether mankind has come of age.

Tobacco Situation Outlook Is Serious

TOBACCO — The tobacco situation as it is developing in North Carolina may well be as important in the economic life of the State as school segregation is to the social order. Governor Hodges was sufficiently interested to make a personal visit to several border markets on opening day. He said upon his return to Raleigh that he is "not greatly disturbed" about the situation, especially with respect to this year. He and other high ranking officials, including Commissioner of Agriculture L. Y. Ballentine, are admittedly concerned about the long range possibilities.

The trouble is too much tobacco. The Stabilization Corporation has some 400 million pounds in storage on government loan. This stock included about 17 million pounds of the 1951 crop, although large part of it is from a 1953 carry-over. The corporation has taken about 40 per cent of the 1955 offerings, because prices bid were below the parity support level, whereas an economically sound maximum would be less than 25 per cent.

In face of the huge carry-over stocks of fine-cured leaf, production this year ran around one billion, four hundred million pounds, almost a quarter million pounds more than estimated requirements. Acreage allotments will be reduced next year 12 per cent below the 1955 plantings. Stepped up production methods with good seasons next year could make the 1956 yield equal to that of 1955, further increasing the surplus.

Students of the situation are giving support to substantially greater reduction for 1956. They recognize that hazards of weather and economics might make such drastic cuts unwise. So far very few people in position to know or with ability to analyze conditions are willing to make specific recommendations. Hence, there are some factors involved which have not been widely publicized.

FACTORS — It is generally known that this is the best crop since 1951, perhaps the best since 1948, both in quality and quantity. It is not so well known that this heavy production is due partly to development of new varieties, especially one commonly called "139", which yields more poundage than common varieties. Even less publicity has been given to the fact that buyers seem to be boycotting this particular variety when they recognize it on the warehouse floors. Since "139" represents almost 20 per cent of total production in border and eastern belts areas, it is easy to see how a boycott of this variety would cut sales and leave extra poundage for the loan pool.

There has been suggestion that the manufacturing buyers might be deliberately trying to overload the stabilization corporation and break down the whole plan of support prices. Very little credence is given that idea in informed circles. What seems more likely is that the manufacturers want the corporation to stay in the market with the possible purpose of using it as the main supplier of leaf as required. In other words, instead of borrowing money on their own credit to pile up stocks for a year or so in advance, with incidental problems of storage, the manufacturers may have decided to let the stabilization outfit do the borrowing and storing, and then to buy from its stocks as manufacturing needs require on particular types and grades. This plan might be good business for the manufacturers, and there is nothing illegal about it, but it would in the long run be disastrous for the farmer and warehousemen by eliminating competition and by fixing the support price as a ceiling rather than a floor. It is a fact that a large part of the stocks in the corporation storage houses is of inferior or less desirable grade.

One other thing should be kept in mind. Unlike wheat and eggs and butter which the Federal government bought outright and is stuck with, tobacco still belongs to the growers who are paying interest on the government loans and instead of being stuck or losing money the government is actually making money on the carry-over tobacco stocks.

NAMES — Once again comes the question of the correct spelling of proper names. Reference was made in this column the other day to former Governor Kitchen. A good friend challenged the spelling, said it ought to be "Kitchin." There isn't much to be said about that, but the official North Carolina Manual of 1955 uses the "i". Earlier editions used the "y" but it is axiomatic that latest rulings are controlling.

Other incidents are noted. Charles E. Johnson, long time State treasurer and one-time candidate for Governor, knows how to spell his name. So do residents of Johnston county who get sore, if you leave out the "t". Then there is Faison Thompson, Goldsboro attorney, who gets as mad as a horn if you leave out the "t". There isn't much to be said about that, but the official North Carolina Manual of 1955 uses the "t". Earlier editions used the "i" but it is axiomatic that latest rulings are controlling.

And there are a lot of Woodards and Woodwards, Spencers and Spensers, whose names are banded about indiscriminately, along with the Ervins, the Erwins and the Irwins, all of separate historic importance in North Carolina. And to wind up this dissertation on a very minor note, the name of your reporter is the ancient and honorable Scot "Nesbitt", pronounced with a hard "t". But more than 90 per cent of the mail comes addressed to "Nesbitt" or "Nesbit", and sometimes the correspondents go all out and write to "Nesbitt", thereby wasting effort and ink which is repugnant to a Scotman—who doesn't mind spending money but wants value for what he spends.

Somebody Told Me Hams Are Real Ready-Freddies

By the time you read this we'll all know whether or not there was any cause for alarm. But in any case, I want to tell you about a group of ready-Freddies.

In my case it's through the courtesy of Frank Messery that I have auxiliary power. The unit is small, but it's the same one that kept me going during Hazel. When the radio is going there's not enough juice left to burn a bulb. But who cares about seeing?

By raising interest rates the Federal Reserve also makes it more attractive for people to save instead of spend, because banks and other institutions will offer higher rates on deposits. And tightening up consumer credit would discourage spending further.

DECISIONS ON CREDIT
DIFFICULT TO MAKE
The Federal Reserve governs and administers the economy. It has no easy task in making decisions on interest and credit. If they fail to take deflationary steps, the boom might easily get out of control just as one did in 1929. Yet the necessary steps automatically produce criticism.

It is only when we are so eager to have something accomplished and day by day we plead with God that the thing be accomplished, that God in turn reaches down and causes it to come to pass. Prayers is necessary, not to change the will of God—for that is unchangeable—but so to prepare us, to stir up our enthusiasm, to heighten our desire, that God can safely entrust to us the continuation of the enterprise about which we pray.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
 NEW YORK (AP)—Four homes tell part of the story of survival against H-bombs.
 They stood on Yucca Flat in Nevada less than a mile from the center of an atomic blast nearly twice as powerful as the bomb that killed 70,000 Japanese in Hiroshima.
 A two-story brick house was demolished. But its basement and its shelters came through intact.
 Next door, a one-story frame rambler was smashed into rubble. It has no basement haven.
 But part of this rambler house did stand up—the bathroom. Inside were two tall-wagging, barking dogs, showing no immediate signs of injury.
 This bathroom was specially made of thick concrete walls, a blast door and window that recessed into the wall when not needed. The blast door and window had been closed.
 The A-blast last May gave a test of this built-in shelter, which cost $800 when the rambler was constructed.
 A safe haven for humans? Very probably, at this distance from that powerful an A-bomb. Or safe if it were in a house at a five-mile distance from an H-bomb 1,000 times more powerful than the Hiroshima bomb.
 Atomic weapons lash out not only with the blast, but with heat and with radiation. At this distance of less than a mile from an explosion of this power, the rambler house probably was bathed with X-rays of 400 to 450 Roentgens. That dose of X-rays would be fatal to about half of humans exposed to it.

 The concrete walls of the bathroom shelter soaked up or stopped much of the X-rays. Studies will show whether humans would have been made sick by such X-rays even if they had survived the blast and the heat. The concrete stopped the heat waves.
 This X-ray radiation is immediate, and over very quickly, like the X-rays that take a picture of your chest. They did not make the bathroom walls radioactive.
 The lesson: This bathroom shelter greatly boosted the human chances of living through that close to an atomic blast of that power.
 Next door to the rambler houses were two other one-story houses, one of precast lightweight concrete, the other of reinforced light-weight cinder block.
 They were damaged, structurally, a bit, but easily repairable.
 These two houses pointed up one very important survival lesson—the necessity of avoiding flying glass or other objects. The windows in these concrete houses were smashed, spreading a lethal gravel of glass that ripped the bodies and clothes of mannequins, slashed the curtains, pitted the walls. Doors blew in, and bits of venetian blinds became dangerous bullets.

Couple Walked Into Train Path
 BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—An ailing pajama-clad man and his wife walked arm in arm into the path of a speeding express train last night and were killed.
 In their car near the tracks was found a suicide note saying, "We can't stand it any longer."
 Killed were William Martin, 68, and his wife Louise, 61, of Dunbridge.
 Paul Jensen, of Toledo, engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York-bound flyer Red Arrow, said he saw the couple step onto the tracks and start walking away from the train. He said they looked back once, then turned straight ahead and the engine hit them from the back.
 Their only child, Mrs. Rosanna David, said her father had been in ill health recently.

Study Petition For Segregation
 LAURENS, S. C. (AP)—The Hoxie School Board which ordered racial integration in local schools, has under advisement a petition asking that segregation be restored.
 The petition was presented yesterday by eight committeemen of a citizens group which began boycott of the integrated schools last week.
 About 25 Negroes were affected by the integration order issued July 16. The white enrollment is about 1,000. Previously Negro pupils were sent to schools in adjoining towns at public expense.

TALK MINE-LAYING
 TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Taipei newspaper said today one of the best ways of stopping British ships from trading with Red China would be to mine ports on the mainland.
 The English-language China News said such action would make British shippers think twice before entering.

Check Hundreds Of Tips In Death Of Socialite
 KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Officers checking hundreds of tips in the slaying of Mrs. Wilma Allen have failed to turn up any productive leads on her killer.
 Chief of Police Bernard C. Brannon said last night that although no real leads had developed thus far, several hundred bits of information were being pieced together in an attempt to establish a pattern.
 The FBI, state and local authorities are participating in the search for the slayer of Mrs. Allen, whose nude body was found Sunday in a pasture 20 miles southwest of Kansas City. She was the 34-year-old wife of William R. Allen Jr., wealthy automobile dealer, and the mother of two small children.
 Investigators felt the abduction and killing was motivated by sex although robbery and possibly a ransom plan that went awry were not ruled out.

Most Level-Headed Of Stars Is Betty Grable

By JAMES BACON
 HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—A reader asks: "Who is Hollywood's most level-headed, most down-to-earth, in short, most un-actressy actress?"
 Betty Grable is our choice for that title.
 "I don't know how I've lasted this long, I'm so dull," Betty once told me in a classic understatement. She was referring to her lack of sensational front-page headlines like a Monroe or Hayworth.
 Betty's daily life could be summed up as a race at breakfast with hubby Harry James over who gets to read the sports section; a lot of time spent with her family and her stable of horses; plus a passion for Harry James records.
 The James' social life is about as un-Hollywood as can be. Their friends are mostly of the turf set.

Scott Charges 'Chiseling' In High Cost Of Foodstuff

MONROE, N.C. (AP)—Both farmers and housewives are "getting chiseled" in the high cost of food, Sen. W. Kerr Scott declared here today.
 "In the past year alone," he said, "the farmer's share of the consumer's dollar has dropped six per cent, but the cost of food has remained as high as ever. In the same period, the net profits of food processors have increased 17 per cent."
 Scott was principal speaker at the annual Union County Farmer's Day celebration.

Woman Resists U.S. Marshals

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—"I'm going to sit in a chair and they'll have to pick me up and carry me out."
 Mrs. John F. Kirchendorfer was talking about U.S. marshals coming to take over her 204-year-old house to make room for a new Air Force atom laboratory.
 Her husband doesn't plan on moving either. And the couple has three children and two dogs.
 Their house and land is all the government needs cleared before work can start on the laboratory.
 But Kirchendorfer says she is holding out for $500 more. The government has made an offer of $18,500.
 "It was just two weeks ago that we received a part payment from the government so that we could buy another house," Kirchendorfer said yesterday. "What can you buy in two weeks? I asked for $500 more to cover the cost of renting another place and storage until we could find a new house. They offered $100 and we refused to take it."
 U.S. Atty. Harry W. Hultgren Jr., who will have to order marshals to take over the house today, said:
 "We don't want to kick them out, but we're just forced to."

Acadians' Exile To Be Observed

GRAND PRE, N.S. (AP)—Thousands of Acadians from both the United States and Canada will join here next Monday to mark the 200th anniversary of a famous exile.
 In 1755 the British governor of Nova Scotia aided by his Massachusetts colleague, banished 6,000 French Acadians who refused to swear allegiance to the British Crown.
 Today there are 1,200,000 Acadians from Louisiana to Quebec. One of their shrines is Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley, centered around this village, a whistle-stop between Yarmouth and Halifax.
 The celebration of the bicentennial has been going on for a year in various localities, and it will close with a Pontifical Mass here Monday. The Acadians, many wearing the peasant dress of 18th century rural France, will congregate under the shade trees of Memorial Park, near a bronze Evangeline.
 Nearby is the Bay of Fundy shore where exile parted Emme Labiche and Louis Arceneux on their wedding day. This separation apparently inspired Longfellow's poem "Evangeline," which has the lovers meeting after years of wandering — only to die weak and worn, in one another's arms.
 Historians dispute some aspects of Longfellow's poem.

American Jailed For Questioning

SEOUL (AP)—The Seoul district prosecutor's office today said a U.S. businessman, Murray L. Schwarzman, was jailed for questioning about illegal entry of 400 wrist watches and 2,400 watch bands valued at $230,000.
 Schwarzman is manager of the Schwarzman International Trade Co. with offices in Seoul and Hong Kong. His home was given as New York.

PONY LEAGUERS MADE GREAT SHOWING

To have reached the finals of such an extensive program as the PONY league regionals was a great tribute to the team, its players and coaches.

The Greenville club made a valiant try and did much more than was expected of them. They did what no other Greenville representative in any athletic venture had done heretofore.

The young men made this city proud by their performance on the field of battle and off. First at Warwick, Va., and this past week at Greensboro. Comments from citizens in whose homes the Greenville boys stayed while participating in the tourney at Warwick salute the gentlemanly behavior of the local PONY Leaguers.

Several boys could be cited for extra outstanding play but they had rather it be called a team effort. And that's what most of it was. The boys played as a unit, depending on the other fellow and attempting to do the very best job themselves.

The way the local citizens were behind the team was another influential factor. The Greenville populace didn't wait until the team was in the finals before they rendered their support. Why, before the club left for Warwick, the whole town was stirred up. And once the team advanced to the regionals in Greensboro, many Greenville folks were sitting in on each game.

Much credit can also be attributed to Coaches Bill Kittrell and Ford McGowan. These two gents, skilled in the ways and devices of the game, were ever instructing and advising the boys. They offered services beyond the call of the average coach and it paid dividends in a big way.

With such excellent coaching, high school athletics here are expected to continue strong. "Get 'em while they're young" is the code that makes future championship ball clubs.

BOONE HAS BIG GAPS TO FILL THIS FALL. "We lost 30 off of our squad of some 50 boys last season," Coach Jack Boone, head football coach at East Carolina recently commented. Missing from last year's club are 10 of the first string eleven. Only two regular linemen—Lou Hallow and J. D. Bradford—and one backfield man—Emo Bando—returns to bolster the 1955 aggregation.

This all sounds pretty grim until you get Coach Boone to talking about Dick Cherry, who's able once again and looking for another outstanding season. "Cherry will be back and that should settle our quarterback problems but the line is pretty uncertain," he extolled. Cherry missed the 1954 campaign because of a broken ankle three days before the opening game. But local fans still remember vividly his exploits of 1953.

The Washington Blond Bombshell tossed 17 touchdown passes that fall in leading East Carolina to its best football season ever. His passes accounted for 801 yards, not counting the Tampa game. He completed 44 out of 91 for a percentage of 49. He punted eight times for 407 yards and a 50.8 average.

Those who'll be absent when the Pirates open their season against Norfolk Navy here Sept. 10 include linemen Don Burton, Gaither, Clime, George Tucker, Grady Dickerson, David Lee, Larry Rhodes, George Rice, Jim Gresson, Bill Cain and Co-Captain Willie Holland.

Backs who've departed are Tom Allsbrook, Jim Stanley, Boyd Webb, Claude King and Co-Captain Toppy Hayes.

SEMI-PRO BASEBALL IS IRREVIVABLE DEAD HERE. The situation has become so irrepressible that the local semi-pro Greenville Greenies have resorted to such drastic means as playing all their home games away—just to break even.

This weekend a series with league-leading Farmville is on tap. The Sunday afternoon game was originally scheduled for Guy Smith Stadium but it is likely that the game will be played in the Farmville park.

What to do? Give up? Maybe that would be the best resort after all. For years now baseball-minded persons in Greenville have tried vainly to revive the national pastime. The leaders in the latest venture, Pete Carraway and Floyd Nichols, are just about ready to toss in the towel. When they go, that's the end.

We're not recommending that they continue their plighted strife but just submitting one last plea which probably wouldn't carry a drop of water.

SPORT SHOTS FROM HERE AND THERE. James Speight, Greenville High football flash last fall, is a member of the East team in the All-Star game to be played in Greensboro Friday night. Reports have it that the little speed merchant has earned a starting job.

North State football opens fall drill on Sept. 1. Maurice Everette is playing tennis this summer with Robersonville in an inter-city league.

Sideshow Highlight In Preamble To Tam Play

CHICAGO (AP)—It might not make a particle of difference in the $100,000 World tourney starting tomorrow, but national golf prestige is at stake in Tam O'Shanter's international matches which close today with a promised do-or-die.

In yesterday's opening round of the TAM version of the Ryder Cup matches, an eight-member United States team nudged to a 2-1 1/2 lead over a foreign team in four-hole competition.

The same 16 players pair off today in eight matches which may produce as close a finish as last year's opening international competition resulting in a 6 1/2-5 1/2 American victory.

This sideshow which serves as a free admission lure between last weekend's All-American and the rich World with its $50,000 cash first prize will have these wad pairings:

Doug Ford national champion and new All-American winner vs. Roberto de Vincenzo, an Argentine registering from Mexico City. Leo Biazzi, Willoughby, Ohio All-American runner-up vs. Kello Nagle, Sydney, Australia.

Jimmy DeMarret, Klamesha Lake, N. Y. vs. Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C.

Ted Kroll, Utica, N. Y. vs. Yoshiro Hayashi, Tokyo, Japan.

Freddie Haas Jr., Claremont, Calif. vs. Angel Miguel Gutierrez, Madrid, Spain.

Tony Holguin, Midlothian, Ill. vs. Peter Thomson, Melbourne, Australia.

Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N. Y. vs. Rudy Horvath, Canada.

Bo Winger, Oklahoma City, Okla. vs. Antonio Cerda, Buenos Aires.

In yesterday's play Ford and Biagetti got a surprise 3 and 2 drubbing from Gutierrez the Spanish champion who does speak a word of English, and Thomson, Demaret and Haas beat Horvath and Cerda 6 and 4, and Kroll and Holguin beat De Vincenzo and Nagle 5 and 4.

The fourth match was a dead-locked between America's Hebert-Winger team and the Leonard-Hayashi duo, giving each squad a half point.

Tide Of Prosperity Is Carrying Corporations

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, (AP)—The rising tide of prosperity has swept four out of every five corporations to higher profit levels this year.

Almost all of the big industries show gains in net income after taxes. And federal tax collections will run more than a third higher than last year, too.

A list of 574 corporations reporting so far on their profits in the first half of the year shows all but 108 doing better than in the previous year. Only seven operated at a loss compared with 22 a year ago.

Combined the 574 show net income after taxes of $4,413,284,796, a gain of 24.7 per cent over the $3,275,716,221 reported by the same companies in the first half of 1954.

With the corporate income tax ranging up to 52 per cent, this means that the Treasury also will profit by around 4 1/2 billion dollars.

The President's Council of Economic Advisors estimates that the nation's 600,000 corporations are earning at a rate that should bring the Treasury more than 21 billion dollars for the year in corporate income taxes.

The 35 per cent gain in net income registered this year over last is the steepest year-to-year increase since 1950. Then, as now, the economy was recovering strongly from a recession, so that comparisons between the bad and the good year were notable.

The biggest gains are recorded by the industries which most felt the recession, that was running its course a year ago. Textile companies, as a group, show profits up 86 per cent this year. The nation's first class railroads report a 79 per cent increase in earnings.

Iron and steel companies, as a group, show earnings up 73 per cent. Other industries doing better than average for the 574 include: automobiles, up 75 per cent; auto equipment, up 64 per cent; mining and metalworking, up 59 per cent; building materials, up 45 per cent; drugs, up 41 per cent; rubber, up 38 per cent; and airlines, up 37 per cent.

Rail equipment is the only group showing a decline from a year ago, off 11 per cent. New orders pouring into these companies point the way to better times coming. Aircraft, up only 8 per cent, shows the result of the cutback in defense orders. Food, office equipment, electrical equipment, tobacco, oil, utilities, beverages and machinery and tools also report gains as less than the average.

Swimmer Sues Over Swim Suit

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Claudia A. Hamilton says she went swimming in a new bathing suit and suffered mortification and humiliation, shock, permanent injury to her nerves and "psychic injury to her personality."

The suit, from the waist down, became transparent, she claims in her suit for $20,000 against the Glamor Shops, Inc., of New York.

Crowds spotted her rising from the sea in a semi-nude state, she claims, and a friend rushed to knock her back into the water to cover her from gaping males.

She said she was forced to walk the gauntlet up the strand encased in a towel "for protection from the leers of the public."

Firemen Given Honey Of A Job

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Firemen here had a sweet assignment yesterday—but two of the smoke eaters got stung.

Fire Lt. E. L. Reuck told of the man who tried to remove a bee comb from a tree:

"He had cut a limb out in the section where the comb was located, about 40 feet up. Then the comb broke. It looked like nothing but a fire hose could wash up the mess... Only a couple of the fellows were stung. The man got stung three times that I know of—but it didn't seem to bother him like seeing that honey all over the place."

Boy Strangled By Own Gadget

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Larry George Wealand, 12, was strangled in his bedroom yesterday by a harmonica holder he had rigged up himself. He was found slumped over the edge of his bed with one end of a belt tied to a metal rod at the head of the bed and the other end looped around his neck.

The support was designed to hold a harmonica to his mouth and free both hands to play a guitar. A deputy coroner said the mattress apparently slipped off the edge of the bed and carried the youth with it, causing the belt to tighten around his neck.

Growing Concern Over Rioting By Anti-Red ROKs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials watched with growing concern today lest anti-Red demonstrations in Korea lead to serious difficulty between South Korea and the United States.

A State Department press officer, Lincoln White, told newsmen yesterday this country intends to abide by its obligation to protect members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission personnel, including Communists in South Korea.

The truce supervision group is made up of representatives of Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Americans and South Koreans alike regard the Czechs and Poles as the eyes and ears of the Communists. They differ on what should be done.

The U.S. government favors a patient and gradual reduction of the commission's functions until it virtually ceases to exist. If other nations concerned would go along, the United States would be willing to abolish the group entirely. So far there has been no agreement to do so.

The South Korean government has told the commission to get out of the country by Saturday. There have been demonstrations against the commission. Since Saturday 22 U.S. soldiers have been injured in carrying out the American determination to keep commission members from harm.

So far as relations between the South Korean and American governments are concerned, authorities here feel they can keep the situation under control. But authorities here think that if many more American soldiers are injured in protecting the commission, there will be a bad public reaction against South Korea in the United States.

This as Washington experts see it, might take two forms—opposition to continuing heavy economic and military aid to South Korea and pressure to get American forces out of the country and back to Japan.

Too Poor Actor For Wrestling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former prize fighter Jacob (Buddy) Baer said yesterday in explaining why he couldn't pay $750 alimony arrears: "I'm too old to fight, and I haven't had enough acting experience to be a good wrestler."

The judge dismissed the suit, brought by Baer's estranged wife, May Mann, movie fan magazine writer and Miss Utah of 1938. Baer, 40 said he is a film actor but has earned only $6,000 so far this year—a sum consumed by living expenses.

Checking Extent Of Secrecy By Govm't

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Just what kind of information do government agencies withhold from the public, the press, radio and TV and Congress—and why?

Do the agencies give out enough information to keep the public informed of what goes on in its government?

A House Government Operations subcommittee set out today to determine the answers. It was established specifically to inquire into government information policies.

It sent out 5 1/2 pages of questions asking all federal executive and independent agencies to explain by Sept. 15 their practices and policies in giving out information.

Said the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Moss (D-Calif.): "Through a cooperative effort we can determine the basic information policies of the federal agencies and find out, once and for all, whether there is arbitrary and capricious action because of a lack of definite consistent policies."

In announcing the study last June 23, Chairman Dawson (D-Ill) of the full Government Operations Committee said accusations had been made that government agencies are withholding and suppressing information. He did not identify the accusers.

Criticism has been focused on a March 29 directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson saying that information from the Pentagon must be "constructive" to the mission of the Defense Department. A Pentagon spokesman said later the criteria was not meant to be applied to newsmen's questions but only to information originating in the department's public relations offices. The directive has been criticized by some professional newsmen's organizations.

The House group had 80 questions on its questionnaire, divided into three general groupings of information to the general public, to the press and to Congress.

Indictment Faces Truck Drivers

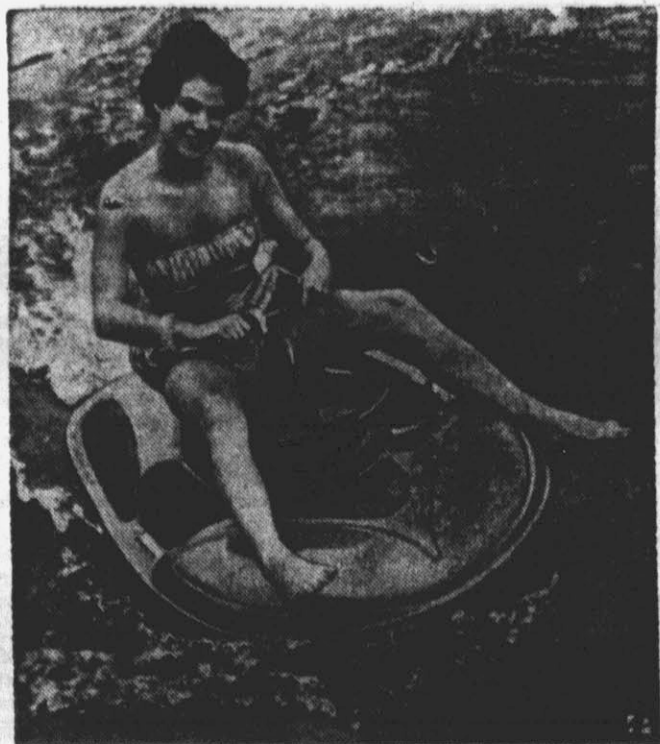

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP)—The Wilson County Grand Jury has indicted two North Carolina truck drivers on charges arising from shots fired into a Nashville truck near here July 23.

Indicted yesterday were Wade Chastain, 30 and his brother, Jack, 35, both of Asheville. Bond for each was continued at $1,000.

They were charged with assault with a gun with intent to murder Millard King, 27, of Franklin, Tenn., and "shooting deadly missiles... into a certain motor truck."

King was fired on while driving a truck for Super Service Motor Freight Co. the Chastains, contract drivers for B & S Motor Lines of Nashville, were arrested shortly after the shooting. They denied any knowledge of the incident.

Florida has 130,000 more people moving into it than move out in an average year.

MARRIAGE for THREE by ELIZABETH SEIFERT

SYNOPSIS The post-war housing shortage in Kennerly, Missouri, had induced the newly wed Laura, Adam and Ann, to engage in a home building business there.

CHAPTER THREE Adam slammed his big hand down on his thigh when Ann told him she didn't have much time.

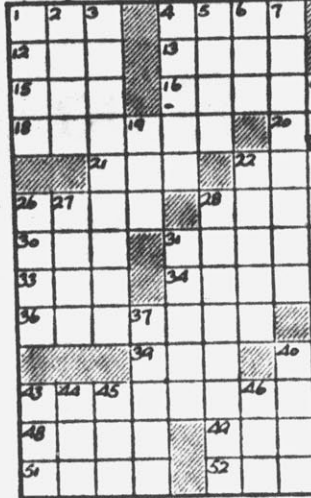

home. "I'd keep a nurse," the doctor defended his stand.

As she got to know him better, when she had met Mary, a friendly person, but undoubtedly frowny.

Often the doctor drove her home from the hospital. He lived in her neighborhood, Ann had no car—it seemed natural enough for him to do this.

"I haven't done anything silly. I found some work to fill in my spare time. However it may look to you—and to the people here in town—that's all I've done."

"Oh, now look sis. Everybody thinks Adam—well, he did wrong to sell your house right over your head, and the way he works all hours—Nobody blames you, kid. But they do talk!"

Wendel looked a deep breath. "If you aren't a crazy kid, Adam still loves you. Of course, you've been married two years and more; every man gets busy and forgets to tell his wife he loves her—but that's no reason for you to do anything silly."

"I know, Adam, I know I'm not pretty. At least, not as pretty as I was when Adam—when Adam used to love me."

"Careful about what I work at the hospital several afternoons a week. I leave about the same time that Dr. Alexander does, and he gives me a lift home. That's all anybody could have seen or talked about."

"Yes I know, but—"

"Adam knows I work for the blood bank."

Most Religious TV Shows Found Weak

By CHARLES MERCER NEW YORK (AP)—"I feel most of these Sunday morning religious television programs are weak," the man said.

Both were impressed by the television presence of the clergy of all faiths upon the screen—Catholic, Jewish and Protestant. Without exception these men and sisters of the Catholic faith who appear on Sunday television are marked by a serenity and conviction that cannot be matched by the cleverest actors. After all, actors only speak lines written for them. But those who have devoted their lives to religion speak from the heart.

"I know dear. And thank you for worrying. But believe me, there's no reason. So—bye, now." She shifted the bag of groceries in her arm and went on down the street. Wendel watched her his face troubled. She looked all right, and she sounded all right. But—just the same—people were talking!

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (U-S)—The stock market made hesitant progress today and then subsided in the early afternoon into a quietly mixed position.

Two points either way amply covered price changes. Trading was at a pace less than 2,000,000 shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,240,000 shares. The market was sharply lower.

Today's market was featured by strength in the aircrafts and in coppers while the motors, steels, and railroads were lower.

Aircrafts, and particularly those interested in atomic work, have been buying favorites recently. Coppers, rich on the possibility of price increases plus good earnings reports have been advancing.

Motors, on the other hand have had the handicap of fears that consumer credit may be tightened plus a warning from General Motors Acceptance Corp. to dealers to take it easy on giving credit to new car buyers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yesterday fell $2.00 at $169.30.

RALEIGH (U-NCDA)—Hog markets today were mostly steady to 25 lower. Tops of 16.75 at Beula-ville, Hillsboro; 16.50 at Castle Hayne, Siler City, Elizabethtown, Micro, Mount Olive, Snow Hill, Farmville, Goldsboro, Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Fayetteville, Clinton, Rich Square; 16.25 at Tarboro, Enfield; 16.00 at Tabor City, Jacksonville, Plymouth, Lumberton, Washington; 15.75 at Dunn, Newton Grove, Nahunta, Clarkton, Warsaw, Bailey, Whiteville, Kenly, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Smithfield.

RALEIGH (U-NCDA)—Central North Carolina live poultry markets today, fryers and broilers steady, farm price 26, f.o.b. plant $2. Raleigh eggs steady, A large $2.

Asheville fryers and broilers steady, farm price 26, f.o.b. plant 27 1/2. Asheville eggs steady, A large 48 to 50.

Smuggling Runs High In Tobacco

ROME (U)—Tobacco in Italy is a state monopoly, like salt and matches. In the last six months the finance police have brought charges of tobacco smuggling or illegal sale against 37,000 persons.

This anti-contraband force has seized 60 foreign-flag boats and confiscated tobacco and cigarettes worth nine billion lire (15 million dollars).

Tobacco smuggling, the finance police say, runs on low values far exceeding narcotics traffic in Italy.

Most of the cigarettes are American. Some are English. Many come from the black markets of Naples and Leghorn where U.S. military supply bases are located. Others are run in on dark-of-the-moon nights by boats from Gibraltar and Tangier.

Funeral On Thursday For George Melton Jr.

Polio Strikes 5 At Summer Camp

BOSTON (U)—Five cases of polio were reported today among 114 boys attending a summer camp at Middleboro, Mass.

The report came as the 1955 polio total in the six New England states rose to 1,189 compared with 240 in the corresponding period last year. The disease has taken 34 lives.

Dr. William Fishman, director of Camp Avoca at Middleboro, which caters to boys from New York and Boston, said he had written the young campers' parents advising them that every precaution is being taken.

"Strenuous activities have been curtailed," he said. "There has been no swimming allowed since polio was reported, and a doctor visits the campers twice a day for examinations."

Meanwhile, municipal officials in Boston decided against curtailing the summer playground program by canceling excursions to museums, concerts and baseball games.

Dr. John H. Cauley, city health commissioner, said after the conference with school officials that "no significant hazard" exists "because . . . most of the Boston children have been exposed (to the disease)."

Walker was president of the Virginia Bar Association in 1947-48, and is a member of the American Bar Association, the American Law Institute and is a director of the American Judiciary Society.

The Rocky Mount Elks Lodge is expecting more than 500 Elks from the 36 Lodges in North Carolina and several in Virginia. The grand exalted ruler will be introduced by Chad Eure of Raleigh. All activities will be held at the Elks Home on Sunset Avenue in Rocky Mount.

Just 24 Hours To Find A Home For Pet Collie

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (U)—Seven-year-old Stanley Pulaski and his 5-year-old sister Janice had 24 hours left today to find a new home for their 4-year-old collie Ike. The dog was ordered banished from the Pulaski home yesterday by Municipal Judge Robert B. Burns.

Last June, Mrs. Harry F. Wells, a neighbor, said Ike bit her Chihuahua. She took the case to court.

Judge Burns ordered the dog kept on the Pulaski property. He wasn't to leave his kennel unattended.

Mrs. Wells testified in court yesterday she had seen Ike unattended on a romp around the neighborhood. Another neighbor corroborated her testimony.

With his ruling punctuated by the crying and sobbing of the children, Judge Burns gave Mrs. Pulaski 48 hours to find a new home for Ike — five miles or more from the Pulaski residence.

Claims $46,000 Just Disappeared

NEW YORK (U)—A young banker, who says $46,000 mysteriously disappeared from the bank, is being held on charges of embezzling the money.

William Gerard Gravius, 26, arrested yesterday at a summer bungalow in East Hampton on Long Island, told police the money disappeared after he set it aside to deposit in the bank vault last week. He said he was too scared to tell anyone about it.

The fact that the funds were missing was discovered in a bank audit Friday at the Hillside Avenue branch of the Jamaica National Bank. Gravius, who lives at East Meadow, N.Y., has worked at the bank seven years. His salary was $63 a week.

Police said he gave this explanation: On the day before the audit he had taken $46,000 from his drawer and carried it to the vault. When he didn't find the head teller to check the money, he left it on the floor of the vault tagged with a slip saying it came from his account.

Three hours later he went back to the vault and discovered the money was gone but was too frightened to tell anyone about it. Police said the teller was a frequent visitor to trotting race tracks and he explained a recent $2,000 deposit in his personal account as being the result of successful track bets.
