Israel Claims Two Egyptian Planes Shot Down

Gaza Strip Fighting Heavy

JERUSALEM (AP)—Fighting flared furiously along the Gaza front today. Israel said two of her jets shot down two Egyptian fighters. A Cairo broadcast said the Egyptian planes crashed during a reconnaissance flight.

But a Cairo broadcast quoted an Egyptian spokesman as saying the two Egyptian planes collided in heavy clouds during a dawn reconnaissance. The spokesman denied that the warplanes were shot down.

A spokesman said armor and troops punched through the frontier lines to wipe out a base "Egyptian terrorists" were using to launch attacks against Israel.

said Burns still hoped to achieve a cease-fire. The Israeli Foreign Office statement said last night's raid was aimed at stopping an Egyptian "campaign of aggression" which had made the 1949 Palestine agreement "virtually inoperative."

Afternoon Ceremony In Ohio Unites Martha Croxton-Ruel Tyson, Jr.

Miss Martha Jane Croxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Croxton of Columbus, Ohio, and Ruel W. Tyson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson of Greenville, were united in marriage on August 27 at 4:30 o'clock in the First Community Church of Columbus.

Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt, assisted by Dr. Ben O. Lyness of Manly Memorial Baptist Church of Lexington, Va., performed the double-ring ceremony.

The altar of the church was decorated with white glads and mums and greenery. The aisles were decorated with glads in candle stands.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white crystaline designed with a low round neckline and an extremely full floor length skirt which swept into a slight train. The long torso bodice featured a gathered yoke which formed brief sleeves over her shoulders. She wore elbow length mitts of the same material. A head-piece trimmed in white lace and tiny pearls held a veil of Brussels lace which the bride purchased on a trip abroad earlier this summer. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Becky Croxton, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Cuthbert P. Gorman Jr. of Philadelphia, Pa. and Miss Nalini Devanandan of Bangalore, India and the Yale Divinity School in New Haven, Conn. The attendants wore ballerina length gowns of ice blue nylon tulle over satin of the same color. They carried cascades of purple asters and pink sweetheart roses. Their headpieces consisted of shattered asters and sweetheart roses as in the cascades.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Erlenback of Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Kathleen Hannah of Bethel, Ohio, cousin of the bride; Mrs. John D. Maguire, New Haven, Conn.; and Mrs. Jefferson White of New Haven, Conn.

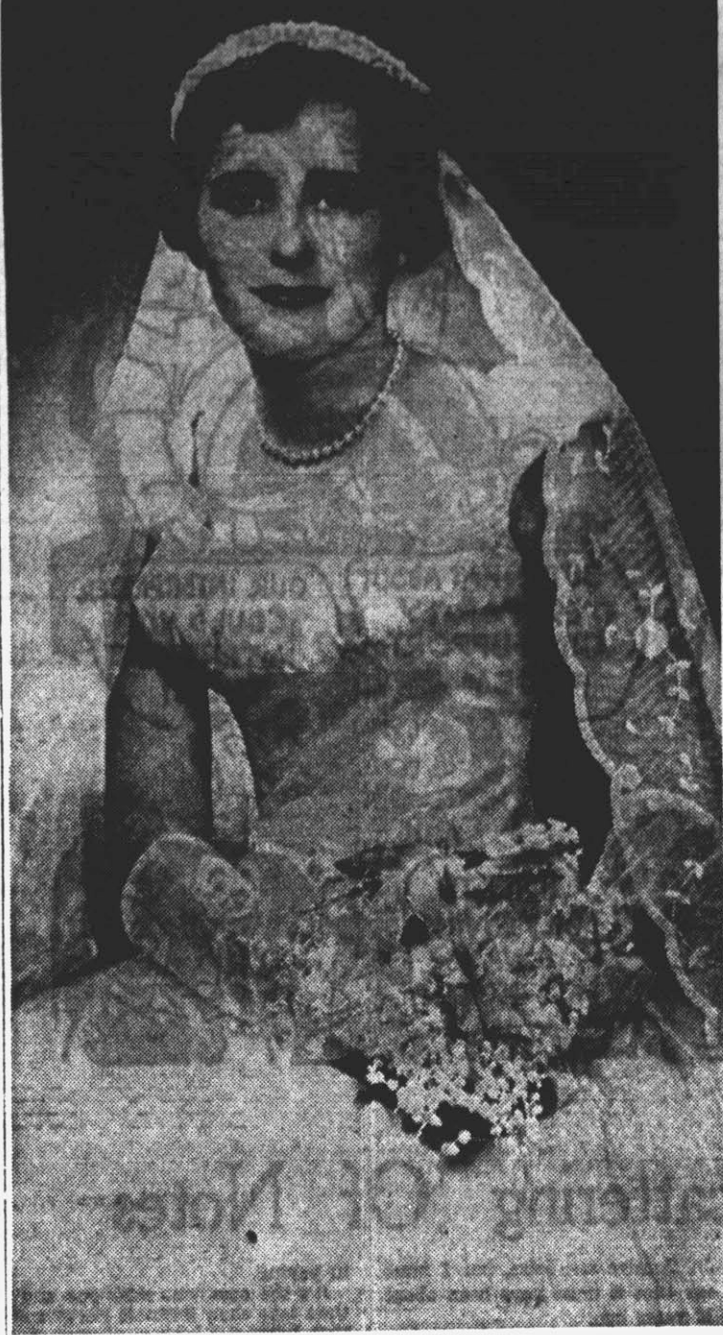

Mr. John David Maguire of New Haven, Conn. was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Roy C. Herrenkohl Jr. of Rosnoke, Va.; Mr. Ben Martin of Owensboro, Ky.; Mr. Jefferson White of New Haven, Conn.; and Mr. Tom Neal of Columbus, Ohio.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of Williamsburg blue lace over soft light blue satin with a light flounce bow at the waist. A jeweled hat of the same shade and a corsage of shaded pink roses completed her ensemble. The mother of the groom wore a light mauve lace and tulle ballerina length dress over taffeta with a mauve hat of flower petal design and accessories to match her corsage was of white roses and stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish House of the church.

The bride is a graduate of Evanston, Ill. and attended the Yale Divinity School.

The groom is a graduate of Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Va. and is a Darforth Graduate Fellow at the Yale Divinity School.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Berkshire Mountains and upon return will reside at 582 Prospect Street in New Haven, Conn. after September 5.

The contest is open to all girls who reside within WNCN's vast coverage area, and who are single and will have reached their eighteenth birthday by October 1.

Entrants may apply by letter in which they are to give a brief biographical sketch of their life, and also enclose two 8 by 10 full length photographs.

850 Enrolled In Farmville Schools

The Farmville Schools opened Tuesday with enrollment of 850 pupils.

The Primary Department had 240, the grammar grade department had 330, and the high school enrolled 280.

Rev. L. C. Vereen spoke to the students in grades 7-12 at the assembly period at 9:45 a. m. Teachers and pupils were welcomed by Principal Sam D. Bundy.

River Dropped 9 Feet From Crest

The flood in Tar River at Greenville has receded over nine feet since it reached its crest last Friday of a little over 16 feet, the government river observer here reported. At 8 a. m. today the stream was a little below the seven-foot level and falling rapidly. Only a drizzling shower of rain fell here since August 24, the record shows.

The highest temperature in the Greenville area yesterday was 89 degrees. Lowest last night 72, and at 8 a. m. today it was 78. The sky was overcast during today's forenoon, with indications of rain.

Hal Boyle . . .

Are you a pedestrian? Well, if you are sensible at all, you are often in the throes of agyphobia the fear of crossing a street. And if you are a really careful pedestrian you suffer both forms of this common disease—Levophobia, or fear of objects on the left side of the body, and dextrophobia, or fear of objects on the right side of the body.

Does your job bore you? Let's face it, kid. You've got taphophobia, the fear of being buried alive. Doesn't that make you feel more important—to know the real name of your disease?

Do you hate to get up in the morning and face another day? Don't just laugh at this feeling. You're sick, sick, sick. You are afflicted with basophobia, stasiophobia—all of which mean you're afraid to stand upright.

Are you weary of television commercials? You've come down with onomatophobia, the fear of hearing certain names. Are you angry at your husband because he comes home late? He may have either domatophobia fear of being in a house, or depending on your temper Amycophobia the fear of being clawed. Maybe it would help if you shut up and contracted phonophobia—the fear of hearing one's own voice.

Nothing to worry about? Why the world is full of wonderful fears—from hadeophobia, the fear of hell, to apiphobia, the fear of being stung by a strange bee. Anybody who isn't doing his hair share of worrying simply is loafing on the job and has lost the desire to be civilized.

If you can't worry about anything else, you can at least succumb to barophobia, the fear of gravity you can always fall back on gravily or cherophobia. Cherophobia is the fear of being happy, and who isn't afraid of happiness?

Military Exodus From Austria Is Well Under Way

By RICHARD O'REGAN
VIENNA (AP)—Some Russian soldiers are reported killing themselves or deserting. Long military trains are pulling out through the night to east and west. Austrian girls are hurrying to wed their departing American boy friends.

The evacuation of Austria by the armies of the Big Four is in full swing.

In the five weeks since Austria finally won her independence July 27, the occupation powers are estimated to have pulled out more than half of their 60,000 soldiers.

The French will all be gone by Sept. 16, the British by Sept. 19. Russian operational forces will be out by Oct. 1 and the Americans about the same time.

Austrian police report several Soviet soldiers are believed to have committed suicide. Unconfirmed reports say about 10 deserted to the Western armies. Other unconfirmed reports speak of deserters caught and shot before assembled Soviet troops.

One of the busiest little resorts in the country today is Baden, a few miles from the capital in the Vienna Woods. For 10 years it has been the Russian headquarters, with Soviet offices in elegant hotels, bulletins in fashionable villas and the officers' mess in a gambling casino.

Now much in the town has been returned to the Austrians. Property values are soaring. Salzburg's American consulate reports a marriage boom. The office is working overtime to clear the records of Austrian girls the soldiers want to marry. In contrast with most of their countrymen, the Salzburgers generally regret the American departure. The Army and its dependents spent almost 30 million dollars a year there. As a gift, the Americans are leaving a 16-million-dollar camp area.

The Big Four are also leaving behind living reminders—"occupation babies." Vienna alone has 2,300 after the troops' 10-year stay. According to Austrian statistics, American fathers lead the list with 1,128 illegitimate children in the city. The Russians are next with 649, the British 337 and the French 166. Glutamine which can be derived from liver is being used as a treatment for alcoholism at the University of Texas.

LESS WORK AHEAD
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Men will work one seven-hour day a week 100 years from now and receive the same pay they now get for a 40-hour week, says Joseph Prendergast, executive director of the National Recreational Assn. of New York. He spoke before the California Recreation Commission yesterday.

A recent study shows that the average time it takes to get action on U. S. jury cases in court is 14.4 months.

N. C. Public Schools To See Million Enrolled This Year

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's public schools are reopening with enrollment expected to pass the one-million mark for the first time in their history.

C. D. Douglas, controller for the State Board of Education, said today schools already have opened in scattered sections of the state, but the big rush of children back to the classrooms will come next Tuesday and Wednesday—after the Labor Day weekend. By the end of next week virtually all schools will be open.

Although the schools are opening with more pupils and more teachers expected than ever before and with improved facilities in many places, they are faced with one of the most serious problems in their history—how to comply with the U. S. Supreme Court ruling that children cannot be assigned to school on the basis of race.

As a result of the court ruling, the Legislature last spring passed laws transferring the power to assign children to schools and on school buses from the State Board of Education to local school authorities.

A special commission created by the Legislature to study the segregation problem has recommended that schools be operated this year on the same basis as last year and that local study groups be appointed.

Gov. Hodges has appealed to Negroes to continue voluntarily to attend separate schools. He also declared that if his voluntary program does not work the state will be confronted with choosing between some form of integrated schools or abandoning the public schools.

Already there have been two incidents where Negro students attempted to enroll in white schools, at Old Fort and Scotland Neck. In both cases they were refused.

Last year total school enrollment reached 997,000. Since it has been increasing at a rate of about 26,000 a year, enrollment may pass the one-million figure before the end of the 1955-56 term. The enrollment is expected to include about 110,000 first graders.

The state's budget for school operations this year is about 127½ million dollars as compared with approximately 121½ million last year. In addition to the state money counties and cities also raise considerable sums for support of the schools.

The allocation of teachers paid by the state this year totals 32,106 as compared with 31,267 teachers on the roster last year. This year's allocation included 8,943 Negro teachers.

STILL SHORT

NEW YORK (AP)—The Red Cross says it still is shy 2½ million dollars of its 10-million goal for Northeast flood relief. The organization announced yesterday that emergency contributions total $7,481,926 to date.

Not Discouraged By Test Trouble

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—A naval spokesman said today the carrier Forrestal's burned out propeller shaft bearings will be no obstacle to the Navy's acceptance of the ship.

"Like death and taxes, trouble in new things is inevitable," said Rear Adm. R. F. Stout, president of the Navy Trial Board of Survey and Inspection, which checked the Forrestal's performance during her sea trials this week.

The mechanical difficulties that caused the giant new warship to postpone her full power runs Wednesday and to cut her trials short by two days "will be corrected and everything will be all right, I am sure," Stout told newsmen.

"There is a good probability" the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., the Forrestal's builders, will be able to deliver the ship Sept. 29 as scheduled, he said.

He said the numerous tests of

Eastern Belt Sees Lower Leaf Prices

RALEIGH (AP)—Prices were somewhat lower for fine-cured tobacco on the Eastern North Carolina Belt yesterday but averages for the North Carolina-South Carolina Border Belt were steady to higher.

The Federal-State Market News Service said Eastern Belt losses were $1 and $2 per 100 pounds. A few grades showed similar gains.

Sales were heavy with most points having more tobacco than could be sold in the allotted time. Poor to fair leaf, low and fair primings, and fair and good lugs constituted principle offerings.

Tuesday's gross sales were 12,768,521 pounds for an average of $48.14 per 100 pounds, down 72 cents from Monday. The Stabilization Corp. received 26.8 per cent of gross sales under the government loan program.

On the Border Belt increases were mostly $1 to $3 per 100 pounds. The carrier's machinery and equipment during the 48 hours she was at sea "were very successful."

Stepped On Gas Instead Of Brake

ATLANTA (AP)—Mrs. Maude Pierce took a road test for a driver's license yesterday.

Two cars were smashed, the state patrolman giving the test was injured, and Mrs. Pierce got a traffic court summons for failing to remain in the proper traffic lane and for being involved in an accident.

Police said the 42-year-old housewife became excited while making a curve, stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake and crashed into a parked car and a utility pole. State Trooper Lloyd P. Hayward, who was giving the test, was hospitalized for head and hip injuries.

Soviet Flier To Become Citizen

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Peter Pirogov, a Russian flier who risked his life to hop the Iron Curtain in 1948, will become an American citizen.

The last major barrier was cleared yesterday with the announcement that the Immigration and Naturalization Service has approved Pirogov's application for citizenship.

Pirogov, a navigator, and pilot Anatole Barsoff landed in a Russian bomber at an airport in the American zone of Austria seven years ago with a scant two minutes of fuel left.

Barsoff became homesick and returned to Russia, but Pirogov, now 35, settled in Fairfax County, Va. He is now a consultant to the Air Force.

U. S. Farm Surplus Is Haunting Whole World

Editor's Note—The United States has more than five billion dollars invested in surplus farm products and is spending $20,000 an hour for storage costs alone. How to reduce the size of the surplus without upsetting domestic and Allied economies is a problem of first-rank importance. Here, in the first of a series of three articles, AP reporter Warren Rogers Jr. details the background of the political puzzle.

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The specter of surplus farm goods haunting the American economy is casting a pall as well over American diplomacy and American politics.

The problem is older than the Republic. It grows bigger by the day, and no ready solution is in sight.

A quarter century before the American Revolution the colonial government of Virginia bought up and burned an extra heavy tobacco crop to keep the price from going down.

The U. S. government 200 years later still follows this basic price-propping pattern. But it no longer destroys surplus farm goods. It puts them away, at the staggering over-all storage cost of $20,000 an hour.

Where did it all come from—this five billion dollars in excess cotton, wheat, corn, rice, dairy products and other commodities? What's to become of it?

Why can't this vast cornucopia of food and fiber be fed out to the world? Why must it mount in bins and elevators, always in danger of spoiling, while people go hungry and ill-clad?

This question — of want amid plenty—bedevils the conscience of the farmer and the government official.

But what would happen if all the U. S. surplus were unloaded at fire sale prices? At home the farm economy would be knocked into a cocked hat. Abroad, exporting countries whose friendships the United States badly needs would be infuriated, perhaps alienated for good, at the sight of their own markets gone glimmering.

And no politician is likely, on the eve of the 1956 presidential year, to forget 1948. That was the year of Harry S. Truman's surprise presidential victory, due in great part to a switch of disgruntled Republican votes in the 11 Midwest farm states.

The ironic truth about the cause of the surplus is that American farmers, with the government underwriting them against the vagaries of nature, are too efficient. Cotton, a chronic headache, is a classic example:

"To hold down cotton production this year we cut the allotted cotton land to 18 million acres—14 per cent below last year," one government official recalled.

"Well, the cotton farmer bought a little more fertilizer, got another tractor and more bug killer. Now we're expecting a record yield per acre, throwing total production to within 7 per cent of 1954."

The government is stuck with seeking a solution within the complex farm support system it has built over the past 30 years.

The benchmark for this system is something called "parity." The law declares parity to be equally fair to the farmer and the consumer. Its terms are the prices the farmer pays for the things he needs to keep producing—things like fertilizer, machinery, electricity.

The law directs that the six basic commodities—corn, cotton, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts—must be federally supported at between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity. This means a farmer who operates by accepting acreage allotments and marketing quotas will have his produce taken off his hands by the government any time he can't get at least the support price for it in the market place.

In addition to the six basics, tung nuts, honey, dairy products, wool and mohair must be supported at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Other commodities are similarly supported as appropriate for.

The reason for all this help to the farmer is that he is considered basic to the economy. Letting his purchasing power slip might start a general down-spiral.

The system puts the Agriculture Department, whose Commodities Credit Corporation conducts price support operations, in the middle. The pinch generally comes between congressional pressure to unload the surpluses and the State or Commerce departments, fearful of the effects on relations abroad of the economy at home.

"We're damned if we do and damned if we don't," sighed one Agriculture Department official. Even so, he was moderately optimistic:

"Wheat looks pretty good. We have production in balance with consumption. Our wheat surplus is no longer growing.

"Unless Congress raises the support price — and remember next year is an election year—we can hold the line and wait for a short crop, either here or in a big producer like Canada. Then we could draw off our surplus.

"The livestock industry is eating us out of the corn surplus. The dairy situation is no longer grim. Our only real headaches are cotton and rice."

Cotton is pesky because of competition. It must compete with foreign cotton and all other fibers as well—especially the synthetics like rayon and the new "miracle" fabrics.

Rice simply has no place to go. The American people generally don't care for it, and in areas like Southeast Asia where it is a staple there for friendly nations, such as Burma, already producing it in surplus.

TV Director Has Tact And Ability

NEW YORK (AP)—When young Allen Reisner departed for Hollywood last year to become a director of the Climax dramatic series (CBS-TV), one of his first assignments was to direct a television drama starring Ethel Barrymore.

"A young guy like you directing an old hand like her?" exclaimed his friends. "She'll destroy you!"

Well, she didn't. For Reisner is back in New York on vacation, looking fit and undestroyed.

"Miss Barrymore and I got along fine," he says. "We just nodded to each other and began rehearsals. When I wanted her to do something, I didn't tell her directly. I'd tell an actor in a scene with her how I wanted him to play it, and then I'd casually remark, 'While you're doing that, of course, Miss Barrymore will be doing such-and-such.' She got the point. She's wonderful."

Reisner feels he's learned a great deal working in Hollywood. He also feels that many big-name stars learn a great deal working in live TV dramas.

"Most motion picture stars simply aren't conditioned to television," he says. "They're accustomed to movie protocol where their word is law. What they know about lighting and cameras and the like is truly amazing. But in a live TV show there's no time for setting up new lights. There are no retakes. Once on, you're on."

"But as motion picture stars become conditioned to television, they're very good—provided they have real acting talent. As soon as they see the director is very concerned about their doing well, they're concerned that they do perfect jobs. To many of them it's a new experience to have a director who's truly interested in their acting."

Shelley Winters is one of the stars who has told Reisner she's learned a great deal from live television appearances. Now, he says, she's insisting on longer rehearsal periods for her motion picture.

Reisner, an actor before he became a director, rewrites entire scenes of his scripts if he finds an actor simply can't play it the way it's written. He works hard day and night on the dramas to earn the reputation of being one of the most brilliant directors in television.

But hard work and brilliance can't control an occasional boner. Not long ago a girl who was supposed to be lying dead on the scene suddenly stroked her brow. "I nearly went through the control booth window," says Reisner.

Efficiency Note: 23 Men Install One Stove

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

LONDON (AP)—How many men does it take to install one gas stove?

The London Daily Express, campaigning for more efficiency in Britain, asked that question today and then went on to tell of one case where it took 23 men to put a stove in a store.

According to W. B. Wilkinson, who runs a London hardware store, this is what happened when he asked the local government-run board for a new stove.

An inspector called, looked at the old stove and agreed to the request. Two men arrived to deliver the new cooker. Two days later, two men arrived to fit it. Later, two more men called and looked the old stove away. Seven men so far.

Meanwhile, the men fitting the new cooker decided that a new meter was needed. A man arrived with a new meter. Two more men called to connect it. Another man also called to take away the old meter.

It was then decided that the pipes needed blowing out. Three men drove up in a truck and set to work with a compressor unit. After a morning's work they decided the stoppage was not within the building, but must be under the sidewalk or road.

Fourteen men so far.

At this point an inspector arrived with a colleague. They surveyed the situation. Then, one morning, a truck carrying six men automatic picks, compressor and tools drew up. They dug up the road and pavement.

For two days — no gas at all.

A new section of pipe was installed and for nearly a year everything was peaceful.

Then, Wilkinson reports, the other day a man dropped in. He announced he would be there the following Thursday to paint the pipes.

"What pipes?"

"The gas pipes, of course," was the reply.

And he was No. 23.

Said the Express editorial: "Can anyone beat that for a record of over-employment?"

There was no comment from the gas board.

Europe Escaped Polio Epidemic

By EDWIN SHANKE
LONDON (AP)—Polio appears to have hit its summer peak in Europe without reaching epidemic proportions anywhere. The number of cases for the year to date ranges from a low of 10 in Denmark to as high as 1,519 in England and Wales.

Only Denmark carried out a large-scale program of inoculation. The country had 120 polio cases in the same period of 1954. No polio cases have yet developed among 430,000 schoolchildren vaccinated, the Danish Health Board reported. The vaccine was produced by the Danish State Serum Institute.

Severe localized outbreaks occurred in some areas of Europe. The Bavarian Interior Ministry, for example, reported 436 cases, more than double the state's seasonal average, and 46 deaths since May 1.

Berlin reported 48 cases and 5 deaths. Glasgow reported 42 patients this week, a polio situation Deputy Health Officer W. Horne described as "rather more than we can regard as seasonal."

On the other hand, Scandinavia generally had a low number of cases. Swedish and Danish health officials explained big outbreaks in 1952 and 1953 probably immunized large sections of the population. A European survey gave this picture:

FRANCE — 651 cases up to mid-August with the peak past and actively few new ones expected. This compared with 448 cases last year and 1,979 in 1950. Authorities said a vaccine being developed by the Pasteur Institute was used on a very limited experimental basis.

ITALY — 1,124 cases up to Aug. 12, compared with 2,263 in 1953, an epidemic year.

BELGIUM — 127 cases up to Aug. 6, compared with 81 in the same period last year.

NETHERLANDS — 19 cases so far this year. For the whole of 1954, 331 cases were recorded.

ENGLAND AND WALES — Provisional figures showed 1,519 cases up to Aug. 6 and a Health Ministry spokesman said the trend was closely following the pattern of 1952, which was not an epidemic year.

SWEDEN — 86 cases up to mid-August, compared with 1,010 in 1954. About 2,000 schoolchildren were inoculated with Swedish-developed vaccine last spring.

NORWAY — 71 cases, compared with 193 for the same period in 1954 and 305 in 1953.

Italy, Netherlands and England are conducting vaccine studies preparatory to conducting immunization programs. Belgium and Sweden are awaiting further developments and checks on vaccines. Norway dropped plans to inoculate children with Salk vaccine this summer.

Builders Already Complain Over Tighter Money

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Builders already are beginning to squawk a little about the tightness of money. Some say they are losing sales because customers would like to buy the houses but can't find anyone who will pick up the mortgage.

To which the lending fraternity's spokesman reply: "There will be plenty of money available for lending on the right terms to qualified borrowers." And some lenders add that a little tighter credit now will make the whole housing situation healthier in the future.

As usual in such disputes, it's mostly a matter of difference of opinion as to what terms are right and what borrowers good risks.

But the tightness of money is beginning to pinch a little here and there. Money is getting tight, not because there isn't about as much of it as ever available for investment, but because the demand by borrowers of all types—business loans, installment buying, public construction financing, as well as home mortgages — is increasing right along, and the Federal money managers aren't increasing the supply.

With greater competition for the available investment funds, interest rates have been going up and money lenders have become more choosy about terms and take a harder look at marginal borrowers.

Rising interest rates have upset the plans of a number of state and local governments that want to borrow money for highways, schools and other improvements.

Choosiness by private lenders has been credited with the drop in the number of houses started in July. This happened before the tightening of credit rules on mortgages by the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Ad-

Java's Tobacco Crop Crippled

JAKARTA Indonesia (AP)—The price of tobacco on the Semarang, Central Java, market soared 200 per cent today as a result of this year's crop failure caused by recent floods in the Brantas River valley.

The republic's cigar and cigarette manufacturers, mostly located in central Java reported the stockpiling of all available tobacco, regardless of quality. The Agriculture Ministry expected this year's export crop to be only half of last year's 19,656 metric tons.

There are about 7,500 public library systems in the United States but 30 per cent of them have incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

East Carolina Begins Football Practice

Boone Greet 51 Boys; 4 Locals

East Carolina College footballers got out bright and early Thursday morning for the opening of 1955 training season and went through drills for two-and-a-half hours before breakfast. Coach Jack Boone said 51 players, potential members of the '55 team reported for practice at 6 o'clock a. m. Another meeting of the grid-ers was set for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Memorial Gymnasium, and a second workout on the practice field at 3:30 o'clock. Daily schedule of practice is 6 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Twice-a-day drills will be the order for the eight days which the Pirates have for preparation before the first game here on September 10. The Pirates meet Norfolk in College Stadium on that date.

Salisbury Team In Semi-Finals

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Washington, D.C., was the only undefeated team left in the American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament today after scoring an unearned run to defeat Salisbury, N.C. 7-6 last night. Salisbury comes up against Cincinnati, only other single loser, tonight with the winner meeting Washington tomorrow night. Cincinnati ousted Lincoln, Neb., from the double-elimination tourney by 1-0, also with an unearned tally, in yesterday's afternoon contest. The singling Dick Kettner was on third for Washington with two out in the bottom of the ninth when pitcher Ralph Lindmood struck out on a full 3-2 count. But the third strike bounded away from Virg Bernhardt, Salisbury catcher, and Kettner raced home with the winning counter. Lindmood went the route for the victors, giving up 11 hits and striking out 7. Lefty Ron Mueller struck out 13, walked 5 and allowed only two hits in his mound stint for the Ohioans. It was a heartbreaker for Rudy Stoehr, whose wild pitch let the walking Joe Cupito race home with the game's sole run in the fourth inning. Eyes used for sight-saving operations must be removed within three hours after the donor's death and the operation usually must be performed within 24 hours.

Old-Folks Pitching Staff Keeps Chisox In Top Place

By ED WILKS The Associated Press Chicago's old folks pitching staff reclaimed Bob Keegan today and the White Sox shoved off for Cleveland to put their half-game lead in the American League to a showdown test against the Indians. Manager Marty Marion's been getting a lot more mileage than anyone expected from his mound veterans, riding on top with the likes of Virgil Trucks, 36; Sandy Consuegra, 35; Millard Howell, 35; Morrie Martin, 33; Connie Johnson, 32 and Harry Byrd, 30. And now Keegan, 34, is back in good standing. The big right-hander, a 16-5 help to the White Sox last season but a bust thus far in '55 came back with an eight-hitter yesterday to beat Boston 4-2. It was his first victory and first complete game since Sept. 12, 1954. Jim Rivera contributed a pair of two-run homers. With a sweep of the two-game Boston series, Chicago stayed five percentage points ahead of New York and Cleveland, deadlocked in second. The Indians kept the pace as rookie Herb Score three-hit Washington 5-1 and fanned 13, overcoming eight hitless relief innings by the Nats' Hec Brown. New York made it past Kansas City 11-4, but Tommy Byrne needed help to gain his 13th victory when the A's scored five in the ninth. Boston fell five games behind Brown arrived too late to help the Senators. Cleveland scored five in the first with five hits off Bill Wight before Hec came on the scene. Jim Hegon and Hoot Evers each drove in two triple runs. Byrne, 35, was breezing along on a four-hitter, behind home runs by Irv Noren, Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle, and had retired 13 in order when the A's went to work in the ninth. Don Larsen finally called the rally to a halt. Arnie Portocarrero was the loser as the Yanks belted 17 hits. In the other AL game yesterday, Earl Torgeson pitched a three-run homer in the seventh as Detroit edged Baltimore 7-4 and rookie Frank Lary won his 13th. In the National Milwaukee brought six Brooklyn pitchers to the mound in a 13-8 pasting of the league-leading Dodgers. New York made it three straight over Cincinnati 5-0, Philadelphia clobbered Chicago 13-2 and Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 4-3 on Johnny O'Brien's single in the 10th inning. George Crowe hit two home runs, Eddie Mathews bashed his 35th and Del Rice walloped his third in the Braves' attack that started against loser Carl Erskine. Lew Burdette, in relief of Bob Buhl won his 11th.

Jackson Apologizes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the fantastic young fighter who had just battered Edward Charles into helplessness, walked up to the 34-year-old ex-champ in the dressing room last night and told him, "That was one fight I hit to win." The tall, 24-year-old youngster from Far Rockaway, N.Y., with his second unanimous 10-round decision over Charles in less than a month, had spoiled the Cincinnati boxer's hopes for another crack at the world's heavyweight crown. In the ring before the TV cameras, Jackson was a dancing, weaving, cocky jack-in-the-box, finally staggering the baffled Charles in the 10th round and hitting him with punches from everywhere. But in the Cleveland arena's dressing room, Jackson was shy and self-conscious as he walked up to Charles and apologized for beating him. Charles, just out of the shower, was seated on a stool with a towel around his midsection, talking to reporters. His right eye was swollen nearly shut from the beating he took in the final minutes of the bout, but he wasn't seriously hurt. Jackson, without a mark on him, walked up, leaned over the older man, and also whispered his apologies. He straightened up as Charles responded with some advice to a young boxer. "Take care of yourself and keep trying," Charles said. "You've got a lot of ability that most fellows haven't got. Put your heart in it." Tears well in Jackson's eyes as he listened to Charles, and he broke in with: "But I don't want to fight." "Oh, if you don't want to fight, that's a different story," said Charles. "With me it was different, I wanted to fight." "I fight because there's nothing else I can do," interrupted Jackson, and walked away. Asked if the defeat meant his retirement, Charles told reporters he'd have to think about it for a few days.

Little Creek In Navy Team Finals

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Little Creek, Va., which hasn't lost in the Navy's Eastern Baseball Tournament, will try to wrap up the title when it plays one-time loser Norfolk, Va., tonight. A victory for Norfolk, however, will even the count. The game would play tomorrow night for the championship. Norfolk eliminated Cape May, N.J., yesterday 10-1 behind Richard Hartranft's two-hit pitching. Hartranft gave up the run in the second. He issued three walks in the eighth, with two out but the next batter popped up. Donald Hafeman hit two doubles and a single in three times at bat, and drove in two of Norfolk's runs. Cape May's hits were by Gene Sanders and Gary Davis.

G-Men Begin To Taper Off

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Greenville's Phantom footballers wound up their twice-a-day drills yesterday afternoon and go on the once-a-day schedule today with the opening of school.

The Phantoms are scheduled to practice this afternoon at 3 o'clock, since school is out at lunch. The Phantoms have until September 9 to prepare for their first game of the 1955 season. That game is a home game with the Jacksonville Cardinals of the Northeastern Conference.

It is rumored that the Jacksonville squad is especially pointing to the Phantoms this season. For the two years that the Cardinals have been in the conference, they have not even scored against Greenville. The first season the G-men pounded out a 44-0 win, then last season Coach Bill Kittrell's gang enjoyed a 30-0 breeze in the rain at Jacksonville. This time around, both schools have different coaches and different systems. Guy Lewis has installed the straight T-formation at Greenville while Ike Davis has put in a split-T at Jacksonville. The Cards used to run from single-wing.

Jayvees Report Soon

With the opening of school the junior varsity team will report in full force. Many of the jayvees are out with the varsity boys at the present, to take advantage of the early season training. Usually, about twenty more boys come out after school starts.

Charles Hollingsworth ... guard

This year, as in the past few seasons, the jayvees will practice with the varsity. They have their own schedule, however, and will play their games on Thursday afternoon. The jayvees usually schedule four or five games for the season. Last year's team had a 3-1 record for the season.

Large Squad

After all of the junior varsity players report, the entire number of boys on both the varsity and junior varsity squads should number well over fifty. That would be the largest turnout in Greenville in over a decade. Last season forty-one boys played football on either of the teams.

Coach Lewis will probably carry around thirty-five players on his varsity traveling team. The seventeen lettermen compose half of this squad.

Alternating Quarterback

Coach Lewis still is working Ike Riddick and Jerry Drum at quarterback. The Phantom mentor said he plans to use both of them in the line-up most of the time. When Riddick is quarterbacking, Drum will play at halfback post, but when Drum is calling the signals, Riddick will be at an end.

Tommy Norris, Charles Smith, and Bob Shackelford round out the other halfbacks with Billy Sermons at fullback. These boys will be doing most of the ball totting this year. The line stacks up so far as Harold Edwards and Riddick, when he is not quarterbacking, at ends; Pete West and Howard King at tackles; Charles Hollingsworth and Billy Johnson at guards; and Wade Jordan at center.

Hollingsworth at guard has just recovered from a shoulder injury and is back in harness. Jordan, a 160 pound junior, is the only center on the team with any experience. He lettered at the post last season, although he played second team behind 220-pound Larry Powell most of the time.

Five Players To Join Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Five players from the American Assn. will join the Cleveland Indians when the Tribe begins its last Eastern trip next Tuesday.

The Indians' front office announced today that first baseman Joe Altobelli, outfielder Rocco Colavito and second baseman Bobby Young were recalled and the contracts of pitcher Hank Aguirre and second baseman Stan Pawlosk were purchased from the Tribe's Indianapolis farm club.

Two other pitchers, Dick Tomaneck and Marion Murszewski, also have been recalled, but they will not report until 1956 spring training.

Altobelli, who played for Cleveland early in the season, has chalked up a .276 batting mark at Indianapolis, while Colavito is 270 with 27 homers and 91 runs batted in.

Nashua Revenges Defeat In Derby By Large Margin

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Nashua 3-0 took revenge on the Kentucky Derby loss.

The powerful, mahogany bay, pride of the East, met the California-bred Swaps under neutral conditions yesterday at Washington Park and scored a brilliant 6 1/2-length triumph in one of the greatest match races ever run.

It was a thorough trouncing at 1 1/4 miles under equal weights of 126 pounds, the same as the Kentucky Derby when Swaps brushed off favored Nashua's midstretch challenge and swept to a 1 1/2-length victory.

The $100,000 winner-take-all showdown was the first of its kind since Armed beat Assault and jockey Eddie Arcaro by eight lengths for the same jackpot at Belmont in 1947. It undoubtedly clinched 3-year-old honors and probably the Horse of the Year award for Nasrullah's handsome son, owned by William Woodward Jr. of New York.

This sweet revenge accomplished under the sting of Arcaro's whip that spurred Nashua to a never-headed lead from the barrier, gave the colt his ninth victory in 10 starts this year.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Nashua's trainer, told Arcaro to "keep the other horse busy all the time. Run when you have to." Arcaro said he "hit Nashua so hard" he thought he "set his flank on fire." He added that Nashua "did everything" asked him to do, including taking the lead.

Willie Shoemaker the losing jockey, said that "Swaps tried, but just couldn't get there." He added: "I'm not making any excuses but I don't think he cared too much for the track—he was laboring all the way and didn't handle too well."

The $100,000 pot pushed Nashua's earnings to $689,700 as a sophomore. He collected $192,865 in winning six out of eight starts to take the juvenile honors last year. The total of $832,565 left him third behind Sycamore and Citation on the all-time money list.

After his defeat in the Kentucky Derby, Nashua went on to win the Preakness, Belmont, Dwyer and Arlington Classic, touching off the clamor for a showdown.

Casey Sees No Let-Up In Race

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "It's right down to the wire, just like I've been saying for weeks."

Casey Stengel, making appropriate gestures, made the statement about the sizzling American League pennant race following his New York Yankees' 11-6 victory over the Kansas City Athletics last night.

The win gave the Yanks an even break in their final series of the year here.

Asked if his earlier prediction that "About 95" victories would be enough for the pennant, Casey snorted:

"Don't ask me about how many or what now. It looks like it's going to be right down to the last game. That's what I felt all along. We have got 23 more games to play and we'll shoot for every one of them."

Stengel said he still had highest regard for Chicago, Cleveland and even Boston, the latter now five games off Chicago's leading pace. The Yanks' victory last night let the Stengel crew in a second-place tie with Cleveland and ahead game behind Chicago.

Farmers Take Playoff Win

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Farmville's Farmers relied on big Fred Pittman to hold the Rocky Mount Leaf attack down last night, and the ace righthander came through with a sterling performance as his mates backed him up to win a 7-3 decision in the finals of the Coastal Plain League playoff.

The win was the first of the finals for Farmville, after Rocky Mount had taken the first two games of the series 2-0, 2-1. In the best four-out-of-seven series, the score now stands:

	W	L	Pct.
Rocky Mount	2	1	.667
Farmville	1	2	.333

Tonight the same two teams go at it against each other in the fourth game of the series. That game will be played in Rocky Mount at eight o'clock in the Municipal Stadium.

Football Drills Started Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football coaches at the eight Atlantic Coast Conference schools took to the practice field with their squads today, opening the annual series of drills leading to their first games.

The openers come up Sept. 17 for five of the ACC teams. Wake Forest entertains Virginia Tech, Clemson is at home to Presbyterian, Wofford is at South Carolina, Maryland goes to Missouri and North Carolina State goes to Florida State.

Duke North Carolina and Virginia open the following Saturday, Sept. 24. Duke goes against North Carolina State, North Carolina is host to Oklahoma and Virginia entertains Clemson.

Maryland and Duke again are regarded as the powers of the ACC. One of them seems likely to be the conference choice to meet the Big Seven representative in the Orange Bowl in January.

Coach Jim Tatum at Maryland has the biggest squad in the conference—67. Coach Bill Murray at Duke and Coach Earle Edwards at North Carolina State have 66 prospects each.

Tatum, after eight years with the Terps, has the top coaching record in the country. His teams have won 76 lost 19 and tied 6 for a .782 percentage. Murray, in 12 years with the Blue Devils, has a .726 percentage and a record of 77-26-5.

All the other head coaches in the conference are back on the job for this season.

Clemson, Duke and North Carolina State have 21 returning lettermen each, Virginia has 20, Maryland 19, and the other three schools 17 each.

wind the series up fast. They slapped Pittman for two quick runs, but after that they just did not have a chance. Pittman gave up only one more run during the rest of the eight innings and set the Leaf slugs down on their ears.

In the last half of the second frame, Farmville rallied off Norman Gay for two runs to tie the score. Three runs in the last of the third put Manager Bill Kennedy's club ahead to stay from then on. Farmville tacked on a few runs and Pittman racked up goose-eggs on the scoreboard.

Millard Webb, veteran swatter who gets more than his share of hits, spanked out two hits, including a double in last night's game for the Farmers. Sandy Sanderson and Pittman each banked out a pair of singles for Farmville. Norman Gay, the losing pitcher for Rocky Mount, led his team with two hits.

Farmville smacked Gay for ten hits as they showed some hitting power for the first time in four games. Kennedy's gang had picked up only four hits in the first two games of the playoffs.

Saturday night, the same teams meet in Farmville for the fifth game. Tonight Farmville is expected to go with Roy Vick, sharp looking righthander who lost a four-bitter in the first game. Rocky Mount will go with Eugene Bone, lefthander.

Camera News

CAMP PICTURES can be informative as well as summer souvenirs. This photo by a visiting parent shows the name of the camp, his son in action, his bunkmates and the rustic ranch atmosphere.

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

"At Camp—1955" could be the title of a separate family album that would make an interesting evening of viewing this fall or winter and for many years to come. Here's a yearly event just loaded with picture possibilities because it features new faces, places and activities in the most pleasurable association. There's still time to plan a story-telling picture round-up of this important phase of your youngsters' growing up process.

Camp pictures can be taken by the camper himself, the parents when visiting, a counselor, the official camp photographer, or, as a last resort, by the inevitable camera bug who always turns up in any representative group of otherwise normal people.

When the youngster at camp has his or her own camera, it is usually necessary to add picture reminder in every letter or the camera is likely to gather dust. You can ask for specific pictures by pointing on whatever scraps of news you receive. For instance, you want to see little Jimmy or Susie with the frog, turtle or garden snake they caught and added to the camp zoo; or you want action pictures of the water sports field day this weekend.

Perhaps you can add a bit of incentive in your youngster's picture taking by appointing him your official junior news photographer with assignments to cover his camp activities. With very little extra trouble, you may enlist the aid of the camp director to make the assignments and the coverage a little more official in camp status. A personal letter to the director or head counselor should do the trick.

Here again, write a list of specific subjects to be photographed so as to make a complete picture story. 1. The camp sign which will act as the title for any set of pictures. 2. Views of the camp site—long shots and close-ups. 3. The director and counselors. 4. Bunk mates and special friends. 5. His tent or bunk. 6. Mess hall. . . social or meeting hall. . . swimming hole or lake. . . game field. Activities: "A day in the life of. . ." and special events like a water carnival, field day, masquerade party, hike, campfire, etc.

A written list could also act as a check list for a parent visiting his youngsters at camp or as a request list for the official camp photographer, if there is one. In all cases, more interesting pictures will result if emphasis is put on unposed natural action photos instead of the stiff, here-I-am-looking-at-the-camera type.

Here's a way to shoot a campfire scene at night with one flashbulb to simulate a bright flame. Aim the camera at the group which circles the fire in the usual way. The person who is directly in front of the camera, with his back to it, holds the flashbulb. The flash on an extension wire or in a hand-flash is held low and directed slightly upward toward the fire and the other figures. The person's body shields the flash from the camera lens.

When using a handflash in cases where an extension flash is not synchronized with the camera, the flash is set off during the open flash technique. This consists of setting the camera on Bulb (B) or Time (T) exposure. Photographer counts "ONE!" and opens shutter. On the count of "TWO!" the person holding flash fires it. On the count of "THREE," photographer closes shutter.

To get flames and swirling smoke in the picture, burn some paper and wet leaves or green branches just before the flash. Where camps are of the rustic type, shaded by trees or bushes, black-and-white pictures would be helped by using the newest, fastest Tri-X film. Camps built on open ground, or where the activities take place in bright sunshine call for the use of normal speed film.

Parents and some of the older teens who are hep to the latest in photo developments could make good use of the new, fast color films now on the market. With these (Ansochrome and new Ektachrome) the normal exposure in sunlight is 1-50th of a second at f 11. This gives a fair amount of latitude for good color slides in shade and in the open when the sun isn't shining. The new color films are three times faster in daylight than the old standby, Kodachrome whose basic exposure in sunlight remains 1-50th at f 6.3.

Policeman Given Sum By Friends

NEW YORK (AP)—Early this week Patrolman Julius A. Horai, 52, turned down a promotion to detective. He said it wasn't worth the extra $215 a year, considering he would have less time to spend with his family.

A detective is on call around the clock, while a patrolman works specified hours.

The word got around in Wall Street which has been Horai's beat for most of his 23 years on the force. Folks in the area, remembering the policeman's past kindness and consideration, "passed the hat."

Result: contributions totaled $1,200—equal to six years of the pay boost Horai turned down.

FROM TENNESSEE—Fatty Williams, who will represent Tennessee in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City, came to Washington. It wasn't a bit difficult for a photographer to get her to pose for this picture on the U. S. Capitol grounds—coonskin cap and all. Miss Williams is from Memphis, Tenn. (AP Wirephoto)

Govm't Ready To Help Get High Cotton Dollar

By S. G. WINCHESTER
County Agent

Pitt County farmers will soon begin picking their cotton crop. After fighting insects, diseases, and unfavorable weather conditions in the production of this year's crop, farmers deserve and should obtain the most favorable price possible for their cotton.

The best avenue for receiving the high dollar for cotton is by utilizing to the fullest the provisions of the Smith-Doxey Act. Farmers in this county and other cotton growing counties of North Carolina have a cotton classing office of their own. This Government Classing Laboratory, located in Raleigh, is staffed with experienced and unbiased cotton classers. Any farmer in the county has access to their services free of charge.

When any farmer has his bale ginned, all he has to do is request that his bonded ginner sample his bale and mail the sample to the Government Classing Office in Raleigh. It will be carefully examined—the grade and staple length will be determined and a card will be mailed to the farmer containing this official information on each bale from which a sample is submitted. There is no cost to the farmer or the ginner. The government even pays the postage. Only 3 to 4 days is required from the time the sample is submitted until the farmer will have a report in his mail box.

After receiving the classification card the farmer is then aware of the quality of each of his bales. He is in a much better bargaining position than he would be if he was trying to sell blind. He can get market quotations for the various grades and staple lengths from a number of sources—radio, newspapers, or from the Farmers Weekly Cotton Report.

With these quotations in mind he can proceed to get two or more local bids on his cotton. These local offers should be compared with price quotations from market news sources and with government support prices. The farmer can then make an intelligent marketing decision. He can sell, hold, or secure the Government support price; whichever is to his advantage.

If the government support price is the outlet offering the best price then it would be wise to secure a government loan. There is very little red tape. You put your cotton in an approved warehouse (or it can be stored on the farm if your local ASC office approves your barn or other storage place.) You still own your cotton when it is in government loan, and you can redeem it and sell it for more if the price rises before August 1 of the following year. If the price goes down you let the government have title to the cotton and you keep the full support price which you received. Full details are available at my office or the ASC office. The support price this year for Middling, 1-32 inch cotton, which is the predominant grade and staple length for this county, is 36.05 cents per pound. However, there are variations in grades and staple lengths of cotton produced on the same farm. So have every bale classed.

We have available, upon request from this office, a cotton marketing folder containing the 1955 government support prices for cotton and the steps to follow in getting the highest dollar for cotton.

Farmers desiring to receive the Farmers Weekly Cotton Price Report containing price quotations from leading cotton markets may also write this office to be placed on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's mailing list.

Big Boxoffice Film Star Is Unknown

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the town's top boxoffice stars is an underwater press agent from Florida who is personally unknown even on his home lot, Universal-International.

Ricou Browning is his name and he's only been in two pictures but the boxoffice profit is in the millions. The first movie was "Creature from the Black Lagoon" and the second was "The Revenge of the Creature."

He's in town now making "The Creature Walks Among Us" and, as you probably have guessed, Ricou is the creature.

The casts all have been different in the three pictures, a fact which convinces the studio the creature himself is the boxoffice attraction.

The first two in the series were made for around $750,000 and each grossed four millions around the world. This town is peopled with Oscar winners who would like to have that kind of boxoffice return.

In the pictures Ricou plays the gill man, one of the most horrendous movie monsters since the days of Lon Chaney Sr.

Although he earns his living by frightening movie fans out of their seats, Ricou is a mild-mannered person anyone would take for the dreadful creature he depicts.

A creation of U-I's horror factory—Hollywood's most famous—the gill man is set apart from the normal citizen by huge web feet, big scales over most of his body, and a face even a mother octopus couldn't learn to love.

Ricou does most of his screen smogging underwater—usually fathomless bathing spas frequented by curvy maidens, all in bikinis. So far the screen monster has chased Julie Adams and Lori Nelson and in the third picture his target will be shapely Leigh Snowden.

Until the debut of the creature, Ricou was an expert skin diver and assistant publicity director for Silver Springs, Florida. He is undoubtedly one of the world's best underwater swimmers.

Married and the father of two children, Ricou enjoys his screen success but doesn't take it seriously.

One studio wag already has suggested that there would be a gill woman knitting little web-footed booties for the inevitable "Son of the Creature."

COPS DEMAND LIGHT ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Light meters are part of police equipment here now. The city council ordered that the once dimly-lit cocktail lounges be kept light enough for patrons to read newspapers. Police were given the meters and told to enforce the order.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

The day after the storm, because it was, after all, the week before Easter the sun came out brightly the sandlike snow blew off the streets and roads and evaporated dryly from the lawns and bushes. While still streaked the mountains, and skiing was fine.

When Adam came home from the Project the next evening he put a box upon Ann's lap. She opened it curiously, looking up at him in question.

"I wish you'd try to like the things out here," he explained. The box contained a fine Chimaya coat, thick, while, with a medallion in turquoise and terra cotta and black in the center of its swinging back. It was a beautiful coat, and expensive. Ann had priced one of her sort at Mabel's.

"I don't think you should, Adam," she said, going to try it on.

"Maybe I shouldn't," he said dryly. "But I did."

The gift puzzled Ann. It was almost as if Adam guessed the way she had felt during the storm. She wore the coat, but she couldn't get rid of her uneasy feeling of numb resentment. The habit had become too fixed. Adam could help her change her feeling. But, somehow giving her an expensive present was not the way.

She had not been out to the new house for some little time and now she found herself unwilling to go at all. Someone—a woman at the church—praised the house and mentioned many clever things about it. She asked who the architect was. She'd love to have a house just like it! Ann was so lucky!

Ann made some sort of reply; she didn't actually say that the house was not hers, even though she might some day live in it. Yet in her heart she knew that the features the woman admired and mentioned were Pinky's ideas.

"Marlene herself" had been joined by the man she had selected, and the two were seated at a small table in the far corner.

"Nice work!" said Pinky admiringly.

Ann turned her shocked face. "The woman's a tramp!"

"Oh, sure," Pinky lifted the lid of the little red casserole. "But who wants to be a lady?"

Ann thought that every woman did, and she said so emphatically. Pinky laughed. "The line's all right," she said indifferently, "if it gets a gal what she wants. But you'll have to admit, darling, that it's never much fun."

Ann sat thinking. "By fun," she said analytically, "you mean men." Pinky lifted a smiling face. "What else?"

"But that's the point," said Ann earnestly. "Men want their women to be—I don't mean tramps or pick-ups—her silver-haired girl in the corner "but their particular women, their wives, sweethearts—they want them to be ladies."

Pinky sat back, turned about on the bench so that she could look at the girl beside her. "Men want fun, too," she said flatly. Then a spark snapped in her eyes. "Of course," she conceded, "if you ask the brute, why, he'll say, 'Certainly I want my wife to be a lady. To look like one in a white hat and white gloves, and to act like one.' But if he's given any choice," she laughed gaily, "he'll amuse himself with a plunging neckline or frills."

Ann sat very still. Not indignant but angry—just very thoughtful. Was that why Adam... Didn't he want her to wear a white hat thing, Ann knew. Should she ask Adam, he'd say, yes, he wanted a lady.

But did he?

She'd looked nice in that hat. She'd almost worn it today. Did the hat symbolize the fault Adam seemed to find with his wife, lately? Did he want her to be more fun? To show more ease with people? Not boldness. But ease. Ann herself wished that she made friends more easily. Adam never had difficulty. No one was a stranger to Adam Laird.

But Ann was shy—and there was the idea of being ladylike—it had been a handicap since coming to New Mexico. Well, she could try being "easy."

She was too preoccupied with these thoughts and this resolution to realize fully the personal application of Pinky's remark. The y finished their lunch. Ann paid the check. The waitress returned her change, and she gave Ann the red geraniums from the vase on their table.

Ann was carrying these in her hand as she passed the round table where the group of men still lingered.

"Isn't she pretty!" one of them commented quietly, but his deep voice carried clearly to Pinky's ears.

Pinky tossed her head.

"I like women who can wear brown," the voice continued. "I always think..."

Pinky's long stride carried her angrily out of earshot.

Predict 400 To Die In Traffic Over Labor Day

CHICAGO (AP) — A Labor Day weekend traffic death toll of 400 was forecast today by the National Safety Council.

This would be 100 deaths more than would occur if the weekend were not a holiday. The period covered by the estimate will run from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

"Our figures on past experience compel us to estimate the Labor Day traffic death toll at 400," Ned Dearborn, council president, said. "But we are convinced those 100 unnecessary deaths—and more—can be prevented if every driver and pedestrian meets the extra

Investigators Say Big Planes Fly Too Close

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A board of U. S. Air Force officers investigating the collision of two Flying Boxcars that killed 66 American servicemen Aug. 11 said today planes on such formation ferry flights should fly farther apart.

A spokesman announced the recommendation would be adopted. But, he added, tight formations will still have to be flown when air drops are being made.

"Otherwise, paratroopers and their weapons might be dangerously scattered," the spokesman said. Ten U. S. airmen and 56 Army combat engineers were killed when the two Flying Boxcars, C119s, collided over the Black Forest. The investigating board said the primary cause of the accident was "engine failure of undetermined origin" in one of the planes.

NAME FITS

HIGH LONESOME, N.M. (AP) — The name fits. It's high and it's lonesome. Lore and legend of how the place in southern New Mexico got its name has been lost, but operators of the bar and store admit it gets more than just a little lonesome at times — and with the bar, more than a little high.

SUB STAYS PUT

CHICAGO (AP) — The submarine that goes nowhere, the U.S.S. Silver-sides, has a new skipper. Lt. Keith E. Nicola, 33, commands the sub which is used to simulate crash dives, maneuvers and torpedo attacks but never moves an inch from her berth at the Naval Armory.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued yesterday's gain early this afternoon.

Steels once again were the strongest major group. They were supported by some aircraft issues and rails.

The market was fairly active early in the session but tapered off to a quiet pace later as some of the best gains were elided. Trading was a little ahead on yesterday's volume.

Gains ran to about a point while some fractional losers were scattered through the list.

While this gave the market a somewhat mixed appearance it was well up on average. The industrial, rail and utility groups were all ahead of yesterday's close.

Bethlehem, gained a point in early trading lost much of this gain but still was ahead fractionally along with U. S. Steel Republic, Youngstown and Crucible.

United Aircraft, which had run up nearly 9 points in the past two days, lost more than a point. It was off almost 2 on an opening block but recovered some of this loss.

U. S. Gypsum, a high-priced and widely moving stock, was up around 14 points at one time.

North American Aviation and Douglas rose a point or more and Boeing also went ahead.

Among the rails, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio tilted to the upside while New York, Chicago & St. Louis was off.

The chemicals showed some strength as American Cyanamid, Air Reduction, DuPont and Monsanto gained fractionally and Allied Chemical advanced well over a point.

Among other gainers were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Commonwealth Edison American Smelting, International Nickel, International Paper, Standard Oil (NJ) and Johns-Manville.

Annual Poultry Show On Friday

Pitt County 4-H Clubs will hold their annual poultry show and sale here on the courthouse lawn Friday. The sale is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m.

C. R. Register, assistant county agent, said that the chickens entered in the show, all raised in the county, will be Parmenter Reds, a highly developed laying strain of poultry.

Poultry specialists from the N. C. State College will grade the pullets before the sale and awards are to be presented to club members.

The thoroughbred chickens to be shown and sold will be taken from flocks which were given to the 4-H youths through a poultry chain. Each participant will show a pen of 12 pullets which will later be sold at public auction. Receipts from the sales will be turned back into the chain foundation to purchase more chicks for a new group of club members next spring.

leading cases still had not been passed this morning. No judgment had been rendered in the case of Lloyd Adams, of Chicod, convicted of speeding 100 miles per hour nor in the case of Leroy Haddock, convicted of speeding in excess of 55 miles per hour.

Oddly enough, the conviction in the Haddock case still was set back to the state in that the defendant escaped conviction on an original charge of speeding 85 miles per hour.

Haddock was charged after being timed by a speed clock. Sam O. Worthington, counsel for the defense successfully attacked the clock's accuracy however and the jury returned with a guilty verdict on the lesser charge.
