Tobacco Pouring Into Warehouses

Tobacco poured into both Greenville and Farmville warehouses yesterday with farm vehicles lined up at certain warehouses in both towns awaiting their turn to place tobacco on warehouse floors. $1 Million Sales Day For Market

The Greenville tobacco market chalked up its first million dollar day of the 1955 season yesterday as the market had its second biggest day in history in terms of poundage sold. The 2,364,286 pounds of tobacco sold here yesterday was the highest amount sold during the current season and, according to records of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, was second only to October 2, 1953 when the market sold 2,353,592 pounds of leaf. Tobacco literally poured into all of Greenville's warehouses yesterday as the market resumed its five and one-half hour sales day. Growers, apparently in the biggest rush of the season to sell their leaf, jammed more wet tobacco on our floors and many were forced to park trucks outside warehouses waiting to unload their tobacco. The market re-

Cotton Estimate Rises Despite Restricted Acres

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's government-restricted cotton crop at 12,873,000 bales of 500 pound gross weight on the basis of conditions Sept. 1. This estimate is 145,000 bales more than the 12,728,000 bales forecast a month ago. It compares with the government's production goal of 10,000,000 bales, with last year's crop of 13,696,000 bales and with the ten-year (1944-53) average of 12,952,000 bales. This year's crop, as was last year's, is being grown under rigid acreage allotments and marketing quotas designed to cut down on production until surpluses from past crops are at a near-record level of 11,100,000 bales. The Department said condition of the crop on Sept. 1 averaged 81 per cent of normal compared with 69 per cent a year ago and 73 per cent for the ten-year Sept. 1 average. The yield of lint was forecast at an acre average of 374 pounds compared with 341 pounds last year and 279 for the ten-year average. The acreage for harvest was estimated at 16,514,000 acres, indicating that 3.4 per cent of the acreage in cultivation July 1 had been abandoned. The production of American-Egyptian type cotton was estimated at 43,700 bales compared with 42,100 last year and 29,600 for the ten-year average. The per cent of the July 1 acreage abandoned, the acreage for harvest the condition of the crop, the yield per acre and the indicated production, respectively, by states included: North Carolina 2.5 per cent abandoned; 463,000 acres for harvest; condition 80 per cent of normal; yield 352 pounds per acre and production 340,000 bales; South Carolina 1.4; 715,000; 72; 312 and 465,000; Georgia 1.9; 869,000; 78; 331 and 600,000; Tennessee 1.8; 570,000; 85; 442 and 325,000. In an accompanying report the Census Bureau said 1,388,380 running bales of this year's crop were ginned prior to Sept. 1 compared with 1,694,792 ginned to the same date last year. The ginnings by states this year and last, respectively, included: Georgia 166,331 and 221,666; South Carolina 81,485 and 88,234. The Department said that compared with a month ago, prospective production is up about 100,000 bales in Mississippi, 79,000 in Alabama, 650,000 in Arkansas, 50,000 in California, 250,000 in each Tennessee and Georgia and 500,000 in Missouri. The production estimates were down 60,000 in North Carolina, 44,000 in Arizona, 50,000 in Texas, 15,000 in Louisiana,

NATO Takes Up Greek-Turk Issue

PARIS (AP)—Turkey assured the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that all possible measures are being taken to prevent recurrence of anti-Greek rioting. This came as reports from Athens said Greece was canceling participation in NATO maneuvers as a result of anti-Greek violence which erupted in the Turkish cities of Istanbul and Izmir Tuesday night. With relations between the two NATO nations at their lowest point in years because of differences over Cyprus, NATO Secretary Lord Ismay summoned the NATO Council into special session. Delegates representing the 15 nations in the Western defense organization met for almost two days behind closed doors. No communique was issued but persons who attended said Mehmet Ali Tiney, Turkey's permanent representative on the Council, informed fellow members his country was taking all measures to prevent any new violence. Georges Eximaris, the permanent Greek representative to NATO reported on the losses suffered by Greeks living in Istanbul and by Greek officers at Izmir, headquarters of NATO's southeast command. NATO sources said it was a report and not a political under the NATO treaty, the organization has no authority to take any action which would make amends for damage suffered. NATO military advisers in the Council that order had been restored in Izmir and the area operating normally. For this reason NATO officials said no action was taken as to Greek-Turkish cooperation at the base,

Malaya Offering Amnesty To Reds

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Malaya's newly elected government moved today to end the seven-year war with the Communist guerrillas by offering an amnesty to all Reds who come out of their jungle hideouts and lay down their arms. The move followed through on a campaign promise made by the Chinese-Indian-Malay Alliance government, which took office last month after a smash victory in the peninsula's first parliamentary election.

Thousands Of Trees In Flames

Ten Firefighters Hurt Combatting Blaze Over Big Area On West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ten fire fighters were burned in California and one was reported missing in Oregon as flames ate through hundreds of thousands of acres of Pacific Coast timber and brushlands today. Three new timber fires burst out of control in northern California and another roared four miles ahead in Oregon yesterday. The one missing worker was a member of a four-man crew that had to abandon two tractors as flames nearly trapped them. Three reached safety but one was still unreported. His name was not learned. He was trapped in a flareup of the Round Butte fire in southern Oregon which burned over an estimated 2,400 acres. Foreman David Robb and nine Mexican national volunteers were painfully burned fighting a fire pushing dangerously close to Santa Barbara, Calif. Decreasing winds and the prospects of cooler weather lifted hopes of controlling the blaze. Some 2,300 fire fighters stopped a 65,000-acre blaze on a front threatening Yreka, a little logging and farm community some 20 miles south of the Oregon border. However, the fire advanced unchecked on at least one other front in the Klamath National Forest. Klamath officials said another fire exploded out of control along Kidder Creek, approximately 25 miles southwest of Yreka, and roared to within five miles of the little town of Greenville. It reportedly posed no immediate danger to the town of 200. Two other new fires on the Klamath boosted that smoking and charred forest's burned area to well over 100,000 acres. Damage exceeded 3 1/2 million dollars. Far to the south, a 45,000-acre brush fire advanced relentlessly on a 22-mile front toward Santa Barbara (pop. 50,000). Supervisor Robert Jones of the Los Padres National Forest said the fire posed "a very real threat" to the outskirts of Santa Barbara. At least 10 houses were destroyed by the crackling flames and approximately 200 persons fled their homes in the mountain area of the San Marcos Trout Club.

Four Children In Trunk Suffocate

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Four Negro children, all from the same family suffocated when they became trapped in a discarded trunk here last night. They were found by their father, 30-year-old Marshall Caldwell, after a two hour search of the home and neighborhood. The youngsters were identified as 11 months old DeWitt Caldwell; Marsha Elizabeth, 3; Charles, 5; and Joyce Ann, 11. Police Lieutenant C. L. Sykes theorized that the children had dragged the trunk from beneath a bed to play with it. They shoved it against a wall, opened it and climbed in. Their movement in the trunk toppled the lid. A spring lock snapped shut. "It's the worst thing I've seen in 20 years on the force," Sykes said. The four had been left alone while their mother sought work. Mecklenburg County coroner, Dr. W. M. Summerville, said the children apparently died of suffocation about four hours before they were found. The children, rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital were dead on arrival.

Farmville Market Has $48.21 Day

FARMVILLE—Yesterday's tobacco market average was $48.21. Sales Supervisor Charles S. Edwards said this morning. The market sold 914,540 pounds of leaf for $44,937.38. Average for the season is $48.35. Edwards said that price of individual grades was up yesterday but some wet tobacco is coming in.

Baltimore, Philadelphia Hit By Mushrooming Strike Docks Walkout Spreading

NEW YORK (AP)—A longshoremen's walkout costing the Port of New York an estimated million dollars a day spread today to Baltimore and threatened other East Coast ports. In Baltimore, some 7,400 dockers stayed off the job. Longshoremen in Boston and Philadelphia were reported working, but had meetings scheduled for later today. William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn., Independent, said: "If something isn't done soon, the whole organization will go out, from Canada to Texas." The governors, Averell Harriman of New York, and Robert Meyner of New Jersey, so far have adopted a hands-off policy. The walkout originated in a dispute between the ILA and the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission, which regulates hiring and other activities on the Port of New York waterfront. ILA leaders contend the bistate commission has been harsh and discriminatory toward the ILA—charges that the commission denies. Bradley left the hall with Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, an approximately 25,000 men went into its second day although the State Supreme Court yesterday issued a strike-restraining order at the behest of shipping companies. Bradley said today he had not received a copy of the order. Bradley's demand for a meeting with the governors was made before about 3,000 longshoremen. Speaking of the two-state law that set up the Waterfront Commission two years ago, Bradley declared: "We know it has to be changed in Albany and Trenton. We know that a knock-out affair on the waterfront would not settle the situation. I don't want to see men lose a day's pay but there comes a time when you have to stand up and be counted—and the time is here, right now. "Until such a time as we have a meeting and sit down with the governors, I am not going to recommend that the men go back to work." This statement by the former tugboat captain was greeted with wild cheering, applause and stamping of feet. Bradley left the hall with Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, an ILA vice president and boss of the Brooklyn section of the waterfront. "If it's not settled in a few days, I think even Liverpool, England, will go out," Anastasia commented without further explanation. "I pray to God to help us," Anastasia repeated several times. Bradley said a private union meeting would be held today. "I do not think that this meeting will resolve the situation at all. The men are of such a temper that we will have to come in with something concrete," he said. Bradley has said he would like to be able to guarantee his men that fact-finding board would be set up by Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey. Meyner refused to see Bradley Tuesday and stood behind the Waterfront Commission. Harriman last week declined to take part in formation of a "buffer committee" to operate in disputes between the ILA and the commission. The union fighting the two-member commission since its inception two years ago, charges the agency with harshness, harassment and interference with its avowed functions.

Bradley said Canadian longshoremen in Quebec, Montreal, Halifax and St. Johns would meet today and would probably join in the work stoppage. In Baltimore, members of eight ILA locals were ordered to stay away from their jobs today. Union officials in Philadelphia were expected to take similar action. In Boston, union heads scheduled a meeting for today "to see if we have a holiday." Some 2,000 dockers would be affected. The New York Shipping Assn., which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms here, has obtained a State Supreme Court show-cause order directing the strikers to return to work. The order is returnable in court tomorrow. The employers also began a 10-million-dollar damage suit against the union. The union has had no dispute with the employers, and the walkout violates the current work contract. The walkout has ignored an 18-month-old state court injunction banning a strike aimed at activities of the Waterfront Commission.

Adenauer Flies To Moscow For Kremlin Parley

MOSCOW (AP)—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer flew into Moscow today for talks with Kremlin leaders which may prove a turning point in East-West relations. Premier Nikolai Bulganin greeted the 79-year-old Chancellor, but Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Communist party boss, was not among the welcoming Soviet delegation. Other high Soviet officials present included Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Deputy Premier Mikhail Pervukhin. Diplomats from East and West crowded the airport. The stern old Chancellor stepped from his gleaming Super Constellation to begin crucial conferences on the future of Soviet-West German relations which could influence the entire course of world history. His foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, preceded Adenauer by about 40 minutes. He was greeted by Molotov and most of the diplomatic corps including U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen. Brentano's American-built Super Constellation was the biggest airplane ever to land on Moscow's commercial airport. Special steps had to be built to reach the plane's doors. In an airport statement on leaving Bonn, Adenauer said he was going to Moscow "with the best intentions of doing everything possible to further world peace and to restore the unity of Germany and to reach agreement for the return of our prisoners of war."

U.S. Servicemen Get Taste Of Treatment Trained In 'Brainwashing'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist-type brainwashing is being deliberately dosed out to American fighting men to help brace them against mistreatment at the hands of a ruthless enemy. Blindfolding, forced marches, barefoot... questioning for long hours, with little rest or water and no sleep... These are some of the "rather rough brainwashing procedures" servicemen are being put through, Pentagon officials said yesterday. They said all branches of the armed forces have such training courses to prepare for a possible grim life as a prisoner of war. The men are trained also in means of avoiding capture. Under the military code, a revised version of which was proclaimed by President Eisenhower Aug. 18, the serviceman is told to avoid capture if at all possible. And if he does fall prisoner, he is to avoid "to the utmost of my ability" telling the enemy more than the historic requirement of name, rank and serial number. Defense Department sources told of the "E and E"—escape and evasion—training of some 500,000 men yesterday after Newsweek magazine published a stark account of such a course at St. Paul Air Force Base outside Reno, Nev. The Newsweek article by its reporter Peter Wyden told of trainees forced to spend hours in a dark hole, up to their shoulders in water, or in a "sweat box" where a man could neither stand, sit or lie down. Trainees were served uncooked spinach and raw spaghetti and given frightening but harmless electric shocks, Wyden wrote and they got rough verbal treatment. "A major who let slip that he had only an eighth-grade education, and a lieutenant whose membership card in Alcoholics Anonymous laid him open to ridicule about his weakness for alcohol, were hampered until they talked just to end their humiliation. "A bachelor lieutenant, badgered until he became convinced his face not find a girl because his face had been deformed in a childhood accident finally broke up in tears." The Air Force declined comment on Wyden's account but said that if it is accurate some changes may be made at St. Paul. It summoned the base commander, Col. Burton E. McKenzie, to Washington to check on the story. Newsweek said it was accurate and had been cleared by the Pentagon. Wyden wrote that "some 29,000 men have safely withstood the 17-day course" at St. Paul and that none of the trainees have formally complained of their tough treatment. McKenzie, himself a prisoner in Germany in World War II was quoted as saying the trainees "take it because they realize it's as important to them as life insurance." In like vein the Navy said recognition of the value of "E and E" training is growing—especially for its aviators, the men most likely to need skill in escape and evasion. The Navy told of training exercises conducted periodically at Camp Mackall, N.C., in cooperation with Army troops from Ft. Bragg, N.C. It said Navy and Marine aviators are first trained in map reading, firemaking, catching and cooking game, camouflage, and the like. Then, in teams of two, the men are put out into "enemy territory."

Children Line Up For Salk Shots

Clinics for administering the second Salk polio vaccination to last year's 3,330 first and second graders eligible to receive the shots were begun today in the city and county schools. Children in 20 schools were vaccinated today, while students in the remaining 16 schools will get their shots tomorrow. The second vaccination is being given to all children who received the first injection in April. Physicians of the Pitt County Medical Society are administering the vaccine, assisted by staff nurses of the Pitt Health Department and volunteer nurses and workers from the community areas. In the largest schools a sanitarian from the Health Department is a member of the inoculation team. Today's clinics were held for children at South Greenville Bethel Grimesland, Ayden, Chicod Falkland, Cherry Lane, H. B. Sugg, Falkland, Elementary School, Bethel Union School, Simpson, Haddock, Wahl-Coates, Laboratory School, Elmhurst, Robinson Union School, Fountain, Bell Arthur, Sallie Branch Seventh Day Adventist and St. Raphael's. Tomorrow's schedule is as follows: 9 a.m.—West Greenville, Belvoir, Pachtolis, Griffon, Farmville, Pitt County Training School. 9:30 a.m.—Griffon Elementary School. 10:30 a.m.—Fleming Street School, Stokes. 11:15 a.m.—Stokes Elementary School. 1:30 p.m.—Third Street School, South Ayden, Nichols, Warren's Chapel Fountain Elementary School and Winterville. A little more than 75 per cent of the total city and county enrollment received the first polio vaccination. Of the 3,800 children whose parents requested they be given the injection, 3,330 appeared to take it. Some 4,300 first and second graders were eligible for the vaccine, if their parents had requested it. The vaccinations are being given free of charge. The third injection is scheduled for the spring.

Ready to wait for their second Salk polio vaccination this morning were these youngsters at the South Greenville School. The second injections are being given today and tomorrow in all the city and county schools. Of the 3,330 children, last year's first and second grade students, eligible to receive the vaccine, 122 were in the South Greenville School. (Reflector Photo by Edwina Haymes.)

Polio Apparently Has Passed Its Peak For '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—Polio apparently has passed its peak for 1955, the Public Health Service said today. The service's weekly report on polio cases filed by the states Sept. 4, 2,052 in the week ended Sept. 3, with 1,785 in the week from Nebraska and Montana. In the comparable 1954 week there were 2,101 cases. The cases reported last week represented a drop of 256 from the week ended Aug. 27, at a drop of 27 in Nebraska and Montana were excluded. "This would appear to indicate that the peak of incidence for the country as a whole was reached in the week ended Aug. 27," the weekly report said. There were 2,239 cases reported in the week ended Aug. 27, the record for 1955 and the only week since early June in which the 1955 cases exceeded those in the comparable 1954 week. For 1955 there have been 16,182 cases, 5,615 of them paralytic, compared with 19,205 for the corresponding 1954 span, including 7,018 paralytic. For the "disease year," which begins about April 1, there have been 119 cases, compared with 17,652 a year ago. All divisions of states reported decreases in cases of reported

Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada. "In the New England division," the report said, "Rhode Island and Connecticut had a slight increase in incidence, as compared with the previous week, but in all others, a decrease in the numbers of cases was reported. "New York state showed an increase of 34 cases, all paralytic. "In the east north central division moderate increases occurred in Illinois and Michigan but in Ohio and Wisconsin definite decreases occurred."

Massachusetts continued to lead the states in new cases last week, with 317 as compared with 355 the week before. Wisconsin again was second, with 311 as compared with 357. New York had 272, compared with 238. Ohio had 87, compared with 124. The communicable disease center reported that 446 cases of polio have been diagnosed in persons who had received Salk antipolio vaccine, 126 of them paralytic. Upward of 65 million persons have been given the vaccine since it was licensed April 12. The service repeated its weekly injunction that no one again can be drawn from the post-vaccination case reports as to the efficacy of the vaccine.

Carawan-Adams Vows Spoken In Pentacostal Holiness Church

In a setting of white gladiolas and greenery and cathedral candelabra, Mary Frances Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jule H. Adams, and Horace Luzell Carawan, son of Mrs. D. R. Carawan and the late Mr. Carawan, were united in holy matrimony in a formal double ring ceremony in the Greenville Pentecostal Holiness Church Saturday, September 3, at 4:30 o'clock. The Rev. Harvey E. Johnson, former pastor, officiated.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. Bob Craft of Robersonville and Miss Kitty Collins of Greenville, soloists. She sang "Through The Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. D. Adams, wore an original ankle length dress of Chantilly lace over net and taffeta. The snug strapless bodice was accented with net and a V waist line. The lace jacket with self-covered buttons had long tapering sleeves. Her fingertip veil of delicate net was arranged from a headpiece of pearls and lily of the valley. She carried a ribbon showered white orchid atop a white Bible.

Miss Elsie Briley, maid of honor and only attendant of the bride, wore a lavender organza dress over taffeta. The bodice was accented with a Peter Pan collar and cupped sleeves. The full skirt with rhinestone buttons was street length. Her headpiece was of lavender taffeta with a silver bow. She carried a nosegay of yellow baby zinnias and fern.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Mr. Joe Carawan, brother of the groom. Ushers were Bob Howell, nephew of the groom, and Jerry Phillips, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wearing a corsage of white carnations, was attired in a navy blue crepe dress and matching accessories. Mrs. Carawan, the bridegroom's mother, wore a dress of brown crepe with matching accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

After the wedding the bride and groom received in the vestibule of the church.

For a wedding trip to Western North Carolina the bride changed to a blue linen suit with navy accessories. She wore the orchid that topped her Bible.

After their return, the couple will reside on West Fourth Street, Greenville.

The bride and groom both attended Greenville High School. The bride is employed at Sheppard Memorial Library. The groom works with Carolina Sales Corp.

On Friday night, September 2, after the Carawan-Adams wedding rehearsal, the bride and groom, relatives and wedding party were entertained at a cake cutting.

Mrs. Melva Barton served the bridal cake while Mrs. Ethelyn Rumley poured punch. Mints were also served.

The room in the annex of the church was decorated with white and pink carnations.

HELD IN MURDER
NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The U.S. Army today reported holding a sergeant in connection with the rape-slaying of 6-year-old Yumiko Nagayama, whose body was found near Kadena Air Force Base. A blood-stained towel, trousers, undershorts and buttons found in the sergeant's car were sent to Japan for laboratory analysis.

About half a million of U.S. white people living today will live to 100 years old, statisticians estimate.

Dinner Honors New Teachers Of City Schools

"Not one of the new found sources of power can affect the soul of man. Unless we turn our natures to God, atomic power will be turned to the destruction of man," declared Bert Ishee last night at a dinner given in honor of new teachers in the Greenville City Schools. Mr. Ishee is president of the North Carolina Education Association and principal of Fayetteville Junior High School.

The Greenville units of the North Carolina Education Association and the Classroom Teachers Association gave the dinner at the Woman's Club. Guests were introduced by Mrs. Kara L. Fennell.

Mrs. Sally Klingenschmitt presented the officers of the three educational organizations in the city schools: NCEA—Miss Mary Thomas Smith, president, and Miss Laura Bell, secretary and treasurer; CTA—Mrs. Kara Fennell, president, Mrs. Elizabeth Savage, vice-president, and Mrs. Annette Carter, secretary and treasurer.

Miss Mary Thomas Smith presided. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Mary Goodman chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Georgia Franklin, past president of the local NCEA, gave the invocation.

PTA Officers Installed At Winterville Meet

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Winterville School held its first meeting of the year September 6.

The meeting was called to order by President H. D. Weaver who announced that officers for the 1955-56 term would then be installed. Mr. Vernon Cox, chairman of the Winterville School Board, installed the officers and the group then joined in the singing of "America."

Following the installation ceremony, the minutes of an Executive Committee meeting which was held August 29 were read and approved. The attendance count was taken by Miss Faye Gaskins who announced that the twelfth grade had won the attendance award. The parents, teachers and visitors then joined in group singing after which Reverend Henry Melvin gave an inspiring devotional concerning the setting of new goals for the year and striving to reach them.

Mr. Paul J. Clark, principal, gave a report on school improvements made during the summer and introduced the new teachers who have joined the faculty this year. The various committee chairmen were asked to announce their plans for the term.

After the business meeting had ended, Mrs. Ralph Crawford, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Brantley Speight who presented the speaker for the evening, Mr. Charles D. Cobb, president of the Pitt County Mental Health Association, showed a film on mental health and discussed Pitt County's plans to open a Psychiatric Clinic sometime early in 1956.

The meeting was then adjourned and all those attending the meeting were invited to enjoy refreshments served by Mrs. Wayland Hunsucker and Mrs. Vernon Cox, co-chairmen of the Hospitality Committee.

Parents Should Teach Children Safety Rules Of Bicycle-Riding

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newswriter

When can I have a two-wheeler? Almost every child loves a bike. It gives power to go places, freedom and independence. Bikes are good for youngsters for just these reasons.

But bicycles are dangerous, too. Also, all of life is dangerous. We cannot forever protect our children from all danger. We must teach them to live as safely as possible surrounded by the multitude of things that might hurt them.

Learning to use a bicycle safely and well is a good growing experience and one that will help a lot in the not too distant time when your youngster will want to drive your car.

Before you get Bill or Mary that cherished bicycle, better understand yourself the rules and restrictions necessary for safety. Then you have a heart-to-heart talk about the responsibilities of being old enough for this quite grown-up means of transportation.

The bicycle needs to be right for the child who is to use it. A bike that fits the child is safer than one on which he can't quite reach the pedals. Many models have adjustable pedals, handle bars and seats to allow for growing.

Good running condition is essential for safety. The child must know how to tighten bolts, keep brakes even, bearings cleaned, chain lubricated, horn and lights in working order. Not only must he know how to do these things but he must remember to do them. Regular parental inspection is a great jog to the memory.

No passengers on a bike. It's fun to take a pal on the handle bars, but it is not safe and must not be done—"even just this once."

On city streets a bicyclist should stay close to the right hand side of the street and if there is more than one bicycle they should be in a single file. There should be no zigzagging through traffic.

Never catch a ride by holding to a truck, a bus or a car. Keep far enough behind other traffic to be able to stop should the other vehicle stop suddenly.

Packages or school books should only be carried in a basket fastened to the bicycle.

Both hands should be on the handle bars all the time except when making hand signals.

Hand signals should be used when stopping, turning left or right.

Know the traffic laws and observe you need to watch your step. You cannot require. Steve to obey laws that he sees you ignore when you're driving your car.

Take great care at intersections and look in all directions before crossing. Give right of way to cars and pedestrians.

Watch speed—never so fast that a quick emergency stop cannot be made. Slow around corners. No coasting downhill unless there is a bull view of what's at the bottom of the hill.

Get the rules across before you buy the bike. See that they are practiced until they become second nature. Make sure the youngster understands the reasons for all the rules. Inspect regularly. # Resigned To Fact That Objectors Will Appear

By FRANK E. TAYLOR
WASHINGTON (AP) — Use the twelve apostles as subjects for new stamps, Assistant Postmaster General Albert J. Robertson said today, and somebody will object.

Asked about criticism of the new Robert E. Lee stamp, Robertson said "No stamp has ever been brought out without somebody objecting."

Even the inscription, "In God We Trust", has met objections, he said.

In contrast to criticism of the Lee stamp by a retired Kansas judge as singing out "a rebel, a turncoat, a perjurer and a traitor", Robertson said the new stamp has received "favorable reaction generally."

"Lee is regarded as a great American," he added.

Hugh Means of Lawrence, Kan., former district judge and Army officer, recently wrote the Post Office Department urging withdrawal of the stamp to be issued at Norfolk, Va., Sept. 21.

"Why, oh why," Means demanded, "does the department single out a rebel, a turncoat, a perjurer and a traitor to share an honor with patriotic men?"

"What did Lee do to warrant the honor? Name one good reason and I'll be satisfied. I hope and pray that you may be patriotic and courageous enough to withdraw the Lee stamp."

But Robertson said a great many of the letters received by the department concerning the Lee stamp have been complimentary and comparatively few have been critical.

"We do not regard as significant receiving some critical letters," he said. "If you put the twelve apostles on stamps some one will object."

"Take a look at the Hall of Fame," Robertson said. "You will see some who would never occur to you and me to put there."

Robertson said selection of Lee was certainly not a matter of "running out of heroes."

"We have a long list of 2,300 or more applications on file, although some of these are events and not persons," he added.

Selection of a subject for a new stamp is the responsibility of the postmaster general.

"But a lot of us get into the act in considering new subjects and making recommendations," Robertson said.

The new 3-cent Lee stamp is one of a series of 18 coming after the 1955 series honoring presidents.

Holding Three In Sanford Holdup

SANFORD, N.C. (AP) — A civilian and two Ft. Bragg soldiers faced armed robbery charges today in the holdup of a restaurant near here Aug. 29.

Bruce Stevens, 29, was described as the "ringleader" by Sheriff D. F. Holder. Stevens operates a grill near the Dutch Farm Restaurant on U.S. No. 1, which was robbed of $99.

Stevens, Pfc. William J. Longo and Pfc. William G. Hollifield were held under $5,000 bond.

Also taking part in the arrests yesterday was the Criminal Investigation Division from Ft. Bragg.

Will Fight For His Farm In City

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Fusco, 78, is going to fight to keep his one-acre farm — including four cows chickens and goats — in New York City.

The Health Department says it is against the law to keep cattle within the city limits. Also, a builder wants Fusco's Bronx property as part of a 480-family housing project.

The Health Department brought Fusco, whose sight is failing, into Magistrate's Court yesterday. Magistrate Francis X. O'Brien gave him until Sept. 26 to get rid of his cattle.

Fusco says he will disobey the court order claiming that real estate interests are behind the prosecution.

Some Signers Of School Petition Are Losing Jobs

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Several signers of a petition demanding racially mixed classrooms have lost their jobs here in the first showdown on the threat of "economic reprisals" against Southern Negroes clamoring for integration.

Reports indicate more than half the 29 signers have been fired since the petition was filed last week with the Dallas County School Board. Most of those who did not lose their jobs are self-employed or unemployed.

Alston Keith, chairman of the Dallas County White Citizens Council, estimated 16 of the 29 signers have been fired in a "spontaneous reaction" of white employers to the filing of the petition.

The petition demanding immediate classroom integration have been filed with school boards in several Alabama counties by local chapters of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Ruby Hurley of Birmingham, southeastern NAACP secretary, said her organization will investigate the dismissals here "and take whatever measures are determined to alleviate such pressures."

It would appear that the White Citizens Councils of Alabama are going to follow the pattern of economic pressure set by the councils in Mississippi," Mrs. Hurley added.

A source here who declined to be identified said "pressure" is also being brought against the self-employed signers. He said two Negro barbers whose names were on the petition have been told to find new locations for their shops.

Three Negroes said they turned down offers by their employers to let them retain their jobs if they would remove their names from the petition.

W. E. Snuggs, superintendent of Selma city schools, said four other Negroes who signed the petition have withdrawn their names and a fifth has announced the intention of doing so.

The Rev. J. D. Hunter, president of the Selma NAACP chapter, said there were five "clear-cut" cases of Negroes being fired for signing the petition and three others in which reasons for dismissal were not given.

Keith said the White Citizens Council, pro-segregation group, would not take "credit or censure" for the firings, but added: "I don't believe there would have been the unity of action that there was at the educational work of the Citizens Council. They (the employers) did just what we have been advocating right along."

A film explaining the meaning and development of mental health will be shown Monday night in the city court room at a meeting of the Pitt County Mental Health Association, president Charles Cobb announced this morning.

Produce by the March of Time, the film will be shown at the 7:30 meet by Dr. Frank Fuller, of East Carolina College. It explains the nature of the training of the psychiatric personnel who work with mental health clinics and also goes into the development of these clinics on the local level.

In addition, Cobb said plans for the establishment of a Mental Health Clinic here by January 1 are going "pretty good." He pointed out however, the many obstacles still ahead before the clinic will become a reality.

ABC Raid Aided By Bethel Police

Bethel police, assisted by Pitt County ABC officers, last night arrested a 39-year-old Negro and charged him with possession of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Taken into custody by the officers was Charlie Thomas of Bethel. He was arrested when a small quantity of illegal liquor was found on his premises.

Participating in the raid were Bethel police Walter Gray and Curtis Martin along with ABC officers J. M. Ward, H. B. Lilley and Walter Taylor.

Spy Ring Broken In West Germany

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — The cracking of a full-fledged spy ring in the West German Foreign Ministry was disclosed today just as Chancellor Konrad Adenauer took off for Moscow.

The federal prosecutor's office here confirmed the arrests of "several officials" suspected of working for Soviet and East German intelligence services.

Unofficial reports said they were suspected of providing forged passports for Red agents to infiltrate West Germany.

The names of those arrested and the exact number were not disclosed.

India estimates there are 10 billion tons of iron-ore reserves in the country.

Mental Health Assn. To Meet On Monday

One of the major obstacles, the association's president said, was to obtain trained men and women to staff the clinic. "They're scarce everywhere," Cobb said in reference to clinical psychologists and other qualified persons.

Cobb also extended an invitation to all interested persons to attend the meeting. Particularly desired is support from Pitt County communities other than Greenville.

Ex-Convict Shot In Police Duel

NEW YORK (AP) — A defiant ex-convict, who held four persons as hostages in a taxicab and challenged police to "come and get me," was shot to death by a policeman in view of after-theater crowds just west of Rockefeller Center last night.

The gunman, who had a withered left leg, held off police for 10 minutes before he was killed.

He was identified through fingerprints as Peter Hatis, 38, of Brooklyn, on parole for armed robbery and possessor of a long criminal record.

Hatis had pulled a $741 holdup in a restaurant on 6th avenue, and several employes and patrons followed him out with a great hue and cry.

Several policemen and an armed U. S. customs agent closed in on the fugitive in a 1 1/2-block chase in which several shots were exchanged.

Hatis jumped into a cab, jammed in traffic in front of a hotel with two women and one male passenger.

The police held fire for fear of hitting the taxicab passengers or driver. The covering women in the cab shouted "Don't shoot!" as the bandit taunted police to "Come and get me." He fired one shot from the cab.

After 10 minutes, one of the policemen saw his chance. He fired one shot through an open cab window, killing Hatis.

One of the bullets fired during the chase grazed a leg of a 21-year-old man passing by. One bullet ripped through the skirt of an 18-year-old girl he was escorting.

Expect Over 500 For Field Day

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — More than 500 cattlemen are expected to gather at Greene Pastures at Hillsborough Saturday for the annual field day program of the North Carolina Herd Breeders Assn.

Jim Graham, group secretary, said the program is for all livestock men "interested in the beef production picture."

Signs Of Approaching Autumn In Air

There has been the faintest suggestion of approaching autumn in the air for the past few days, which confirms the dates of the calendar that say we are on the eve of another football season.

High school teams throughout most of this section of the state swing into action Friday night for another season of gridiron battles which will bring glory and honor to broken noses and cracked ribs to the athletes as well as long remembered lesson in good sportsmanship. For father and dad who from the grandstand watch their son perform on the field, it will bring a mild case of high blood pressure and frequent cheers.

Greenville High's football team opens its season's play Friday night in College stadium. East Carolina's Pirates take the field for their opening game in the same setting Saturday night. Season's schedules are fixed, the cost of fielding the high school and college teams for the season has been accurately estimated. The only things which remain matters of conjecture are the won-loss records of our favorite teams, and the question of where money is coming from to defray the expenses of operating the teams.

Schools which are supported by state funds cannot look to those funds for money with which to provide athletic teams. They must look to the supporters of the teams to foot the bill. In the case of East Carolina and Greenville High those funds come largely from the Pirates Club, the GHS Boosters Club, and of course the gate receipts at each home game.

Greenville is a sports minded community. Since the loss of professional baseball here several years ago, the center of sports attention has centered around the athletic teams of Greenville High and East Carolina College. Gradually attendance at athletic contests has increased. It has brought a gradual increase in receipts from football games with which to defray expenses. Yet, each season has had to earn its own way.

There'll be a lot of good football in College Stadium during the next two months. Greenville High and East Carolina are both looking to the people of the community for the financial and moral support which will make this another successful football season.

List Of Prospective Candidates Grows

By LYNN NISBET
CANDIDATES — Latest addition to the list of prospective candidates for State office in next year's election is Dr. Talma C. Johnson. The former legislator, former State Farm Bureau president and member of the State Board of Education, also a present member of the advisory budget commission by original appointment of Governor Scott, Dr. Johnson, Whitfield, Pender county legislator and farm leader; Settle Bunn, Nash county senator and champion of water conservation; Arthur Kirkman, High Point railroad executive and several times senator from Guilford; Ralph Scott, Burlington dairy products executive, farmer and veteran Senator from Alamance; Philip Whitley, Wake legislator-lawyer-business man, and Alton Lennon, Wilmington attorney and former U.S. Senator by appointment of the late Governor Umstead. Opinion prevails that Lennon is not "out of politics" and he is rated a potential for Lieutenant Governor or Congressman from the seventh district next year, or for Governor in 1960 or again to try for the Senate seat which Kerr Scott took from him last year when it is open in 1960.

RECOGNITION — It is very unlikely that all of the presently suggested candidates will seek the lieutenant governorship, and it is entirely probable that others not so far mentioned may get in the race. One thing is certain: The people of North Carolina have a higher regard for that office than they have in the past, because of the exigencies which for the first time in 60-odd years put a Lieutenant Governor into the top office. Voters are conscious of the fact that they are electing something more than a presiding officer of the Senate when they choose a Lieutenant Governor. That will tend to decrease support for candidates purely on basis of personal popularity and political sapience. The next No. 2 man will be voted for or against with full knowledge he might have to take over the Governor's office.

SECOND — It seems fairly certain that Governor Hodges will have opposition, but it is impossible to figure out just how serious it might be. The situation does not look bad for the Governor. Senator Sam Ervin may have to go into the primary, with long odds he will win renomination. That puts major statewide interest on the wide open contest for Lieutenant Governor. There are a dozen or more tentative aspirants. Kidd Brewer, Raleigh insurance man, who served as administrative assistant to Senators J.W. Bailey and W.B. Umstead, college athlete and coach, is an avowed but not formally announced candidate. He has been actively campaigning for months. Engles, Wilson tobaccoist, cattle breeder and general farmer, several times a State senator, and presently member of the advisory budget commission by reason of chairmanship of the Senate appropriations committee, is almost as openly a candidate. Other potentials, with less overt activity but recognized among those in the know, are:

Other Editors Are Saying ... The Misunderstood South

(Washington Daily News)

The South is the step-child of these United States. And that condition has never been more evident than it is today. We are accused of stealing industry from Northern states. We are labeled as a land of "unreconstructed rebels." We are told that we can't elect a man from our neighborhood president because other states won't vote for our man.

We are given little consideration in presidential nominating conventions because we are always taken for granted. When appointive offices are passed around by the president, we are passed over because we do not have the political importance of some other states.

Bitter stories are told by outsiders who claim that we are a decadent people. The President of the United States makes a trip to the New England States in the wake of Hurricane Connie and Diane. But the South suffered just as severely and the suffering we received was only given passing mention by the President.

Others outside the South seem to feel that they can solve our own problems much better than we can. Either they feel we are not capable or that we are indifferent. In recent years it has been a case of one bitter pill after another for the South to swallow. And there is no relief in sight. We are the land of molasses and bitton, are Dr. David J. Rose of Goldsboro, retired surgeon and presently State senator from Wayne county; Alonso C. Edwards, veteran Green county legislator, former State Farm Bureau president and member of the State Board of Education, also a present member of the advisory budget commission by original appointment of Governor Scott; J. Vivian Whitfield, Pender county legislator and farm leader; Settle Bunn, Nash county senator and champion of water conservation; Arthur Kirkman, High Point railroad executive and several times senator from Guilford; Ralph Scott, Burlington dairy products executive, farmer and veteran Senator from Alamance; Philip Whitley, Wake legislator-lawyer-business man, and Alton Lennon, Wilmington attorney and former U.S. Senator by appointment of the late Governor Umstead. ## City's Future Is Up To What The Council Does Month by month construction figures for Greenville are increasing, pushing this year's building within the city to what now appears an all-time record.

That Greenville's population is growing is evidenced by the fact that building permits were issued for 132 dwellings and 14 apartments during the first eight months of the year. The fact that the business district is expanding is evidenced by the issuance of permits for the construction of 14 commercial buildings during the same period.

The question, in the light of these figures, again comes to mind: What sort of business district will Greenville have a few years from now?

Like many other country towns which have now grown into small cities, Greenville is hampered by its narrow streets in the business district. As automobile traffic continues to increase year after year this condition is destined to become more acute unless suitable measures are taken to alleviate the situation. Then too, we say again, there is little reason for new business areas or districts to face the same problem of narrow streets as downtown Greenville now has.

Building set-back lines must be established in areas adjacent to the present business district to permit the widening of streets and sidewalks as the area develops into commercial property. This matter of set-back lines for such areas has been hanging fire for several months now. First, it was temporarily shelved until the City Council approved funds for an outside survey of the areas. Since the Council sidetracked the anticipated appropriation in fixing its budget, the matter has been left hanging in mid-air.

Now that the Planning Board is getting ready to again delve into the matter of set-back lines—this time without the assistance of a consulting firm to make the survey—we trust the board will follow the undertaking through to completion as rapidly as possible.

The longer this necessary measure of establishing set-back lines is delayed, the more narrow streets Greenville will have in its business district as the district expands beyond its present confines.

Better Business, And Confidence In Future

One of North Carolina's most widely read barometers of retail business conditions throughout the state indicates business is continuing better during 1955 than it was a year ago. The steady growth of sales and use tax collections by the state month by month this year suggests by year-end business will show a better position than was the case for 1954.

Latest reports which are available—for the month of July—show gross collections of sales and use tax in the state for the month were more than a million dollars more than for the corresponding month of last year. The figures show collections in July increased almost a million dollars over the June figures.

The report indicates clearly that business in Pitt County was better so far as sales were concerned than in July of last year. In Pitt County sales and use tax collections for the month amounted to $13,500 more this year than in July of '54. And Pitt, we might add, showed more gain than any of the surrounding counties with the exception of Craven which showed a gain of $15,000. Greenville itself accounted for more than half the gain of Pitt County while the remaining communities of the county accounted for the rest.

A continuing upgrade in business conditions throughout the county indicate a healthy economic situation and confidence in what the months ahead will bring.

Can't Use More Wives

Somebody Told Me Trick In Remembering Names

Several months have passed since Bob Bale was in Greenville with his week-long course in salesmanship and personality development.

One of the phases of Bob's course was teaching us how to remember names, so I thought of Bob when I saw this story: A minister had—and I emphasize the past tense—a method of finding out a name when he couldn't think of it. One Sunday he was standing at the door shaking hands with the congregation when he saw a young man coming down the line whose name he couldn't remember. Instead of asking him point blank he said, "We are checking the membership roll. How do you spell your last name?"

108 Days Until Santa Comes

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Done your Christmas shopping yet?

With the poison ivy season on the wane and summer getting circles under her eyes now is the time to brood over the fact that it is only 108 days until Santa Claus arrives.

Fathers who broke the family bank account sending the kids off to camp can start worrying over where to find the money to buy the little rascals Christmas presents.

The little rascals themselves don't have to worry. The biggest yuletide bonanza in history is in store for them. The booming toy industry expects to wind up 1955 dollar business.

The Toy Guidance Council, watchdog of the industry, now with record-breaking 1 1/2-billion has on display here more than 600 new playthings approved by educators as both safe and durable.

The display—the items range from $1 picture books to $3,000 electric trains—is a child's dream of fairyland. But it isn't for children it's to guide the nation's retail toy buyers.

What's new in toys this year? Well, styles change in toys just as they do in clothing.

Take dolls for example. Dolls used to do nothing but lie still and look dumb. Then along came dolls that could open and close glasses, say "Mama," and imitate a diaper. Now they have dolls that can be fed, take a walk, do a toe dance, and—so help me—one that will open her mouth so that her little mother can fix her teeth.

But one of the outstanding dolls this year is a big wide-eyed blonde that sells for $90 and does nothing but stand up looking dumb and beautiful. Her big asset: She wears a real silver blue mink coat.

"Surprisingly, in view of the price, the doll is already selling very well," said Mel Freund, president of the Toy Guidance Council. He said he didn't know whether the dolls were being given to little girls or big grownup girls.

One of the more expensive gifts for "the little boy who has everything" is a plastic sports car that costs $298 with foot pedals or $407 when powered with a motor that spins it along at five miles an hour. Just the thing for junior when you want to send him to the store to pick up a dozen eggs.

But don't faint, father. The cost of the average toy is only $5.

"Western toys—such things as guns and holsters—still are the most widely favored toys," said Freund. "Television has much to do with this, as well as the trend toward newer toys."

"The themes this year are toward realism, science do-it-yourself kits, and toys that tie in with TV personalities, such as bread-and-butter basis.

DEPARTMENT'S AUTHORITY Mitchell has also disbanded George L. Meany, AFL president, that Labor was "only a bureau of the Commerce Department" which is headed by Sinclair Weeks, multi-millionaire businessman and blueblood from Massachusetts. In truth, he has disbanded Weeks himself of that belief.

He shocked Weeks and his conservative associates by advocating a boost in the minimum wage level to $1 an hour, and increased coverage of workers protected by Government contract terms. Mitchell won the minimum wage battle, and he hopes that Congress will eventually broaden the wage-hour statute to include millions of more workers.

Mitchell also blocked Weeks' effort to persuade Eisenhower to seek extension of the Anti-trust Law so as to affect labor unions adversely when Ike backed off his Labor Secretary in these quarrels. Weeks finally abandoned his attempts to dictate or dominate policies affecting labor.

Labor Secretary Proves His Own Boss

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — A big, burly and blunt Irishman—James P. Mitchell—will be largely responsible if President Eisenhower maintains or increases his hold on the labor vote in next year's Presidential contest.

Although the political directors and spokesmen for the unions still regard the Secretary of Labor with suspicion merely because he associates with the so-called "Eisenhower big business Administration," Mitchell has championed and won several important fights for the workers. And he has done it without forming the kind of personal and political alliances that F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman had with the labor politicians.

Indeed, in accord with Eisenhower's philosophy, he has handled workers' problems as labor matters rather than political issues. He has kept disputes over wages, pensions, hours and legislation from having to be settled at the White House level.

As a partial result strikes and losses from work stoppages have been reduced to a new low for all except the war years, when a spirit of patriotism and White House-inspired benefits kept the factories running at full blast. CONSTRUCTIVE RECORD It is an amazing performance that a member of a suspect Administration—suspect, that is, to the Meany, Roosevelt, and Lewis brothers—should hang up a more constructive record than such professional labor zealots as Miss Frances Perkins, Maurice Tobin, Roosevelt, Truman, and such a troupe of laborers in overall as Eleanor Roosevelt.

The fact is that Mitchell is the first Secretary of Labor in his own right in more than 20 years. With the White House doors open to him, he has always been open to union politicians during previous regimes. Miss Perkins was only a humanitarian figurehead and glorified social welfare worker.

In order to handle routine matters, Roosevelt and Truman drafted a Perkins underling, John R. Steelman, as labor adviser. When he could not settle controversies they were handled by the President, and on a political rather than on a economic,

Mitchell's courage, Mitchell's frankness and courage drew a slight rebuke from Eisenhower. When the Cabinet member voiced opposition to numerous states' right-to-work laws which bar a closed shop, the President told a press conference that he was not "renunciating" Administration policy."

Mitchell has a different idea of his function from that entertained by his Democratic predecessors. They agreed with the Gompers-Green-Meany theory (that the Labor Secretary should speak and act only for organized workers at Washington, especially at the White House.

Clearing Shelves For '56 Models

By ELMER ROESSNER

It may seem like summer to you, but this is the winter of discontent for appliance and household manufacturers who try to fix prices of their products.

Now they are unfixing them like crazy.

For seven months, these adherents of "fair trade" have been fighting vigorously to maintain retail prices. They have been denouncing discount houses and in the 40-odd states where so-called fair trade laws are effective, they have been hauling price cutters into court and demanding that judges order sellers to charge only the price set by manufacturers.

Now they are cutting prices themselves and urging dealers to do the same. Reason? The 1956 models are almost ready. Dealers won't stock them in quantity if their warehouses are still filled with 1955 models. So manufacturers who have been chivying retailers all year to sell only at the official price (so that they could earn the full margin) are now urging them to offer discounts and fat trade-in allowances (even at a loss) so they can start selling models.

The franchise system in the auto industry makes it unnecessary for manufacturers to "fair trade" new cars, and the trade-in practice makes it impossible to enforce fixed prices. Up until a short time ago any franchised dealer who cut the asking price or granted fictitious allowances for trade-ins (or VERY fictitious allowances) might be risking his franchise. But today dealers are being urged to sell at the best terms they can—without hurting profits, or taking losses if they can stand them. The 1956 models are coming apace!

Incidentally, for people whose vanity does not compel them to buy only next year's models, there are wonderful buys today in 1955 model autos, frezzer-washers, television sets, radios and many other appliances. Refrigerators priced-fixed around $400 a short time ago can now be obtained by sharp traders for around $200—which represents a sacrifice of $160 in margin and $40 in cash out of the dealer's pocket.

PROMOTED FURNITURE FOR RENTAL ROOMS
A Rexburg, Idaho, furniture store has developed a promotion that might profitably be copied in other college towns.

Advertisements call attention to the fact that college students are eager to rent rooms in private homes and the store offers to furnish sports rooms suitable for renting to collegians. Time payments, it points out, can be met out of rent.

SUN NEVER SELTS ON BRITISH SNEEZE
Sniff snuffing, the British Information Service unit is spreading. A Westmoreland, England, company that will manufacture snuff according to the prescription of an eighteenth century doctor, is now sending 20 per cent of its mentholyptus snuff abroad. Before the war the firm exported only to Belgium.

It has customers in Belgian Congo, the Gulf of Guinea Coast, Somaliland, the Middle East, Australia, the West Indies, Canada and the U.S.A.

STORMS HELP BOOST CATSIP PRICES 16.6 PER CENT
Weather conditions—not omitting Diane, who rained out some of the richest crops in the East—are pushing up the prices of tomato products. Opening price of New Jersey catsup was $4.20 per case of 14-ounce bottles, f.o.b. cannery, an increase of 60 cents over the opening last year.

INDUSTRY PUSHES WOOL ON EIGHT FRONTS
The Wool Bureau, co-operating with other industry groups and manufacturers, is staging eight major promotions this fall.

The promotions will be one for men's suits, a combined men's and women's wool sports clothes drive a campaign for wool piece goods for home sewing, a wool jersey promotion joined by five big mills, a coat campaign featuring six fall styles, a drive for wool sportswear fashions for working girls, a promotion of after-five cocktail dresses (that means after five o'clock, not after five cocktails) and a traveling fashion show.

Tobacco Prices Holding Fairly Steady On Belts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sales began today on blue-cured tobacco markets of the North Carolina Middle and Sand Hills belts, with an excellent crop in prospect. Meanwhile, the North Carolina Border Belt resumed 5 1/2-hour daily sales, taking its place on a normal sales schedule beside markets of the Eastern North Carolina and South Carolina belts.

The switch to filter tip cigarettes has boosted demand for the heavier-bodied tobacco of the Middle and Sand Hills belts. W. Phil Hedrick, tobacco marketing specialist from the North Carolina Dept. of Agriculture, predicted less of these offerings would go under government loan. He looked for an opening day price average of about $52.53 per 100 pounds.

Prices on other markets held fairly steady yesterday. The Federal-State Market News Service said price changes generally were limited to $1 per 100 pounds. Most price changes on cutters, lugs and primings on the Border Belt were up from $1 to $3.

Markets which opened earlier had since been put on a limited 3 1/2-hour daily sales period to ease the temporary glut caused by the large amount of tobacco taken under government loan. Sales hours for next week will be decided tomorrow night at a meeting between officials of the Blue-Cured Stabilization Corp. Sales were 10,318,584 pounds at an average of $50.68, while Stabilization took only 15.4 per cent of sales.

Combined sales on North Carolina and South Carolina markets Tuesday marked a new season high. North Carolina markets sold 4,594,196 pounds averaging $56.69, while South Carolina markets sold 7,254,004 pounds at a $53.80 average.

The overall average $54.90, was up $1.01 over last Friday's.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Wednesday, George W. Gorham, Negro, 107 Reade Street, was tried on four charges of violating motor vehicle and traffic laws. Judge Charles H. Whedbee found him guilty in three cases and dismissed the fourth.

In the hit and run and property damage case, the court gave Gorham 30 days in jail, sentence suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted, and he is not to drive a car for two weeks.

Judge Whedbee gave Gorham 30 days in jail (consecutive) for improper passing, suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The judgment provides that Gorham is not to drive a car for 90 days until he makes restitution for property damage.

The court gave Gorham 30 days (consecutive) for having improper registration plates, sentence to be suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted, and his license plates were ordered taken and destroyed.

Gorham was found not guilty of driving without an operator's license, the court ruled.

John Speight, Negro, Rt. 3 Washington, charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving without an operator's license, was called and did not answer. An instant capias was issued for him. Adrian Adams, Rt. 4 Greenville, was found not guilty of failure to yield right of way.

Willie Hardy, Negro, 1004 Travis Lane, paid court costs for assaulting Gus Hardy, Negro, with a deadly weapon (bottle).

No operator's license: Vance Foskey, Negro, Chicago, 30 days, suspended on payment of costs. John I. Smith, Negro, no operator's license, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs and he is not to drive a motor vehicle without a license. Naomi McCray, Negro, 1276 South Clark Street, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs and she is not to drive without a license.

Frank Wilson, 1911-A McLellan Street, abandonment and non-support, six months on the roads, suspended on payment of $25 before release from custody. The judgment also provides that he is to pay $15 a week beginning September 17, 1955, and through October 29, 1955, and he is to pay $10 a week beginning November 5, 1955, for support of prosecuting witness and their children.

Thomas E. Smith, 1206 Forbes St., paid costs for speeding.

Oscar Suggs, Negro, 615 Ford St., paid costs for improper turning.

James H. Cox, Negro, following too close, 30 days, suspended on payment of costs, and he is not to drive until he makes restitution for property damage.

Clyde Whitfield, drunk, 30 days in jail or pay $10.

Joseph Jefferson, Negro, 708 Fleming St., discharging firearms in the city, $25, costs deducted, and his pistol was ordered confiscated and according to law. Testimony was that Jefferson fired the gun to frighten some teen age boys. He spoke of his wife as "Comrade" (and she paid his fine) and she called him "Comrade" asked Jefferson about the Communist party he said he did not know anything about it. The defendant had traveled in several countries, and spoke several languages, the solicitor stated.

Tracking 32 Now Behind Curtain

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are tracking as best they can the movement behind the Iron Curtain of 32 young Americans traveling without proper passports.

Some of the 32 may have already come back home to return to college. Six were reported in Moscow this week as expenses-paid guests of the Soviet government. Nine or 10 others were said to be visiting in Red China.

They went to Europe originally to attend the Warsaw Youth Festival in Red Poland last month.

The Justice Department is being alerted for possible legal action against the 32, according to the authorities concerned with the case. The possibilities are:

1. If the travelers used their passports without proper validation to travel behind the Iron Curtain, they are liable to prosecution under a law which provides a maximum penalty of $2,000 fine, five years in prison or both.
2. Some of them, if their records can be checked, may be cited as Communists or fellow travelers and therefore ineligible for passports under the passport regulation. Their passports could then be canceled. But even then they would have to be located and personally served with notice of the action before it could become effective.

The estimated value of religious structures in the United States is $7,846,000,000.

Veteran Flattop Is Now Refitted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Streamlined and refitted for atomic age sea fighting, the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard rejoined the fleet yesterday after a 30-month, 64 million dollar reconversion. Thousands of spectators joined high ranking navy officials in re-commissioning the 11-year-old flattop, a veteran of both World War II and the Korean War. It will join the Pacific Fleet after a shake-down cruise.

Also Protest

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—A group of Robeson County farmers wants to change tobacco measurements from aerial photo to the ground system.

Some 100 farmers recommended the change at a mass meeting here last night. They also voted to revert back to the old tolerance of one-tenth of an acre in measuring instead of the present method of 100ths of an acre.

Horace Godfrey, state administrative officer for the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee, had called for retention of the aerial photo system as most accurate.

Godfrey said the tolerance of 100th of an acre could not be arrived at in an accurate manner.

Local Red Cross Met $1,100 Goal

James S. Ficklen, Jr., chairman of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced today that the chapter made its flood relief quota of $1,100.

Ficklen expressed his appreciation "for the generosity of the people of Pitt County in responding so readily for this great need."

"This generous and spontaneous response," he said, "is cause for tremendous encouragement, both to the Red Cross and to the thousands who look to their neighbors for help."

The chairman said no further funds are being solicited for the flood relief cause.

Leopard Killed In Fighting 5 Lions

CHICAGO (AP)—An oldish black male leopard, apparently defending his mate, lit into five young male lions yesterday but was killed quickly in the uneven match.

A vicious swipe from the paw of one of the 300-pound lions broke the back of the 175-pound leopard, Snowball. The other lions mauled him savagely.

None of the lions suffered a scratch.

The battle occurred at Brookfield Zoo when an attendant mistakenly put the lions into a cage already occupied by the two leopards.

"Between Us Folks"

By Bill Aldridge

AT LAST . . . Finally found out why Cliff was spending so much time down at Brody's new store while being decorated. He told us "hands" that he was supervising the painting because of the fact we supplied the paint, but last night I found out the real reason when I dropped off two cans of paint to Luther Furyear. Not knowing anything about ladies apparel, I don't know about Morris Brody's taste for dresses, but I do know that he can sure pick pretty salesladies. Cliff was supervising but you know it wasn't the painting . . . The ladies were really working to have the store ready for the opening this morning. Morris was jumping around from here to there like a cat on a hot tin roof in mid July. He had his wife Loraine displaying the jewelry and I heard her remark to one of the women that she had looked at the costume jewelry so much that if Morris gave her a diamond ring she would give it right back to him. Being a man, about all I can say about the new store is that it's real pretty on the inside and one of the most up-to-date apparel shops that I have ever seen. There's even soft music to enjoy.

Here's a little ditty by Burl Dixon . . . A very small boy was riding around the block in his little red car and as he approached this little girl she said, "Giff me a ride." He said, "I will, if you kith me." She said, "No," and the boy went on around the block. On his third pass she consented and the little boy said, "Ung! . . . What'll I do now."

ABOUT TOWN . . . Have you ever seen the likes of houses being built? Throughout the town there are homes going up and the sound of the carpenter's hammer drum out the progress. . . Out in Forrest Hills, Ben and Ann Harrison, Wesley and Edith Johnston have started building while Sidney and Nancy Dunn are planning to move into their new home next week. Charles and Betty Howard are building in Brookgreen. East Carolina plays the Norfolk Naval Air Base this Saturday and I understand about all the tickets have been sold. Richard Conder one of the squad members, is from my home town of Hamlet and is a mighty fine lad. He was very outstanding as a high school player. Seems only like yesterday that he was running barefoot around the neighborhood. The new Elmhurst grammar school is definitely an asset to Greenville, and we all should feel proud and take time out to see this modern school. Conversing with Mrs. Victor Ricks, the secretary, and she is very sweet and accommodating. The children will really like her. Francis Worsley passing out bouquets about Pete West and Dan Saiced saving quite a bit of the shoe stock when his brother Guilford's store caught on fire. Dan also sells shoes across the street. That's typical of Pete and Dan . . . they're always ready to lend a helping hand.

WATER AND MORE WATER . . . Hate to mention irrigation since there has been so much water the last month but I would like to make this remark . . . If you are planning to buy an irrigation system next year make your preparation in advance. Let me start working with you soon on your system for your farm next year. We are proud of the results of the systems we sold this year. Equipment is carried in stock and I will engineer your system without obligation.

WATER AGAIN . . . If you need a pump . . . see us . . . because we are running a special on pumps. We install and carry parts. By the way drop in to see us and if you have any news of interest, etc., please call me. See you next week.

ASTONISHING PERFORMANCE!

And that's only half the Chevrolet story

Drive with care . . . EVERYWHERE!

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Out-rigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices.

Astonishing performance—the sizzling acceleration of Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8"—it takes that to win stock car races.

But it takes a lot more besides. Cornering and handling qualities really count on the NASCAR* Short Track circuit where Chevrolet's king—just as they count for safer and more pleasant highway driving. And even the high-priced cars don't slice through a tight turn as neatly—or handle as sweetly—as this beauty. The record proves it!

Come on in and sample all the things that give Chevrolet its winning ways. We're keeping a key ready for you!

Phants End Heavy Workouts For Friday Night Opener

Jacksonville No Push-Over Says Coach Guy Lewis

Greenville's Phantoms completed work on their offense yesterday in preparation for tomorrow night's 1955 football opener with the Jacksonville Cardinals.

No scrimmage were held yesterday, Coach Guy Lewis said this morning, and none are scheduled today.

Yesterday's work, in addition to preparations on offense, was given over to punting, kick-offs and extra point attempts.

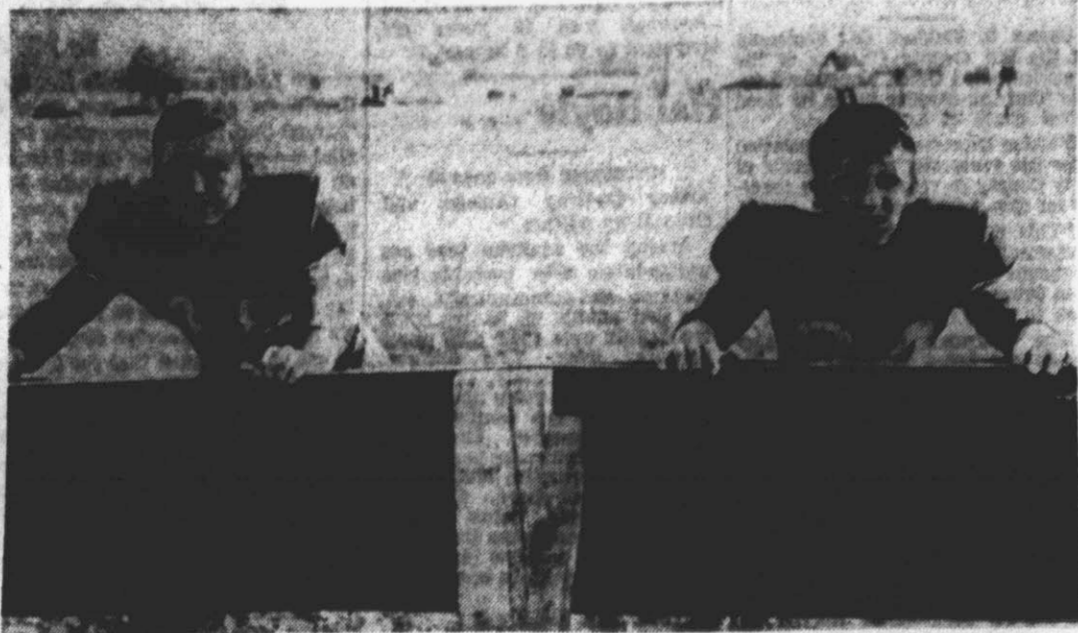

Lewis declined to cite any outstanding individual player but added, however, "They're all looking much better."

Greenville's new coach, who took over as head man here just recently, warned however, that the Cardinals, pushovers for the past several years, showed considerable strength last week in blasting out a 25-7 win over Jones Central, Jacksonville, a member of the Northeastern Conference for the past two years. He has never won a league game.

Greenville, which takes on Beaufort next week and arch-rival Kingston the week after, lost ace backs Bob Howell, James Speight and Mitchell Johnson from last year's winning squad.

This year a tentative guess would indicate that quarterback Jerry Drum and hard-driving fullback Billy Semons will carry the brunt of the Phantom offense.

In the line the Greenvies will be depending on co-captains Harold Edwards and Pete West, at right end and right tackle respectively.

Yankees And Chisox Feel Pressure Of Tight Race

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It looks as if New York and Chicago caught in a vise between Cleveland and Boston, are feeling most of the pressure in that tight American League race while the first-place Indians and the robust Red Sox are playing 'em free and loose.

Cleveland, making a half-game lead look big, rumbled past Baltimore 6-0 last night as Early Wynn gained his 200th major league victory and gave the Tribe seven triumphs in the last nine games. Boston blasted Detroit 7-4 for their sixth straight success.

The Yankees and White Sox got home safe to hold the pace, but they had a much tougher time of it. Whitey Ford spun his second one-hitter in six days, yet the second-place Yankees had to scrap behind Kansas City 2-1. And Chicago 1 1/2 games behind Cleveland and the same margin ahead of fourth-place Boston had a bad scare before edging Washington 4-3.

In the National League, Brooklyn whipped Milwaukee 3-1 giving the Dodgers no worse than a tie for the flag. One more victory by the Brooks, or another Milwaukee defeat, puts the pennant in Brooklyn.

Wynn a 35-year-old right-hander who led the league with 23 victories a year ago marked up a 16-9 record for the season with a five-hitter. He walked three and had runners on base most of the time, but the Tribe backed him with four double plays and Larry Doby's two homers that drove in four runs. Only teammate Bob Feller tops Wynn in victories among active major league pitchers.

Ford who one-hit Washington last Friday, gave one of his six walk ahead of Jim Finigan's two-out, ground-rule double in the seventh and after intentionally filling the bases, uncorked a wild pitch that left him in a 1-1 tie. The Yanks finally pulled it out when Arnie Portocarrero, who no hit New York until the fifth, walk-off home the winning run in the ninth.

Boston's Frank Sullivan, who now shares the AL pitching lead with Ford needed help to get his 17th. Ellis Kinder came on in the ninth after Sully gave up a two-run homer to Frank House and a walk with no out. Kinder got Reno Bertoia to hit into a double play then retired Bub Phillips on the pop.

The Red Sox smacked over six runs in the first three frames off rookies Jim Bunning and Paul Poytack. Sammy White had a triple double and single, good for two RBIs in Boston's 12-hit attack. Washington trailing all the way, pushed over a run in the ninth on a walk and two singles off Jack Harshman, who had allowed just three hits 'til then. Millard Howell relieved and was tagged for a pinch single by Clint Courtney that drove in another run, but Jim Busby's perfect peg from center knocked off the potential tying run in Eddie Yost's fly for the final out.

The Dodgers needed just five hits to put the Braves on the ropes. They scored their runs in the third off Lew Burdette on two singles, a walk an error and Carl Furillo's double. Billy Loes spaced six hits. The Brooks can clinch the flag at Milwaukee today.

In the other games, Bob Friend tossed a one-hitter, striking out eight and walking none, as Pittsburgh beat Chicago 2-0; New York walloped St. Louis 8-2 with winner Johnny Antonelli hitting one of three Giant home runs, and Cincinnati made the best of two errors to overhaul Philadelphia 6-3.

The only Cub hit off Friend who won his 11th, was Frank Baumholtz's scratch single in the fourth

Eppes To Field A Lighter Eleven

Though sixteen of last year's lettermen have not yet reported, thirty-two hopefuls are answering the Eppes football call to duty. Drills are in full swing as the Bulldogs prepare for their opening game September 16 against Beaufort.

The team is expected to weigh in lighter than last year's squad, but observers think this loss will be offset by more speed.

Among last year's lettermen who have not yet returned to date are William Moore, Fred Otterbridge, Andrew Gorham, James Brewington, James Nichols, Elbert Kilpatrick, Ruben Streeter, Harvey Darden, Edward Love.

A nine-game schedule confronts the Eppes gridgers with the opening event a home game against Beaufort on Sept. 16.

The rest of the schedule: Sept. 23, Rocky Mount, home; Sept. 30, Fayetteville, away; Oct. 7, Durham, home; Oct. 14, Raleigh, home; Oct. 21, Washington, away; Oct. 28, Goldsboro, away; Nov. 4, Wilson, away; Nov. 11, Elizabeth City, home.

CPL Playoff To Resume Tonight In Farmville Park

FARMVILLE—Farmville's Coastal Plain League team returns to the baseball field tonight as the playoff series with Rocky Mount is resumed.

All remaining games of the best 4-out-of-7 series will be played in Farmville with games scheduled for succeeding nights with the exception of Friday.

Big Fred Pittman is the probable starting pitcher for the Farmers while Norman Gay is expected to take the mound for Rocky Mount.

The series, interrupted by bad weather, now stands at 2-1 in favor of the Rocky Mount club. Farmville dropped the opening two games by 2-0 and 3-1.

On August 24 Farmville collected ten hits off Gay to take a 7-3 victory. Pittman pitched for the Farmers on that night.

The opening game's 2-0 shutout was a triumph for Rocky Mount's Gay, who is expected to take the mound tonight. Eugene Bone earned the second win for the Leafs as he held Farmville to one run.

Tonight's meeting will be a big one for both clubs: a Rocky Mount win will give the visitors a comfortable margin which could be hard to overcome, and a win for the Farmers will put the Coastal Plain rivals on even terms.

Snead Favored As Tourney Gets Started Today

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (AP)—Sam Snead held his usual favorite's role today as the $50,000 Colonial of Golf tournament began its 72-hole run at the Shickamaxon Country Club.

Approximately 160 players were in the running with $10,000 waiting for the winner. The runnerup gets $5,000; third place $3,000.

Snead, heading a list that includes practically all of the "name" pros, shot a promising "66 or 68" in a practice round over the course yesterday, but doubted that the 6,730 yard course would present an easy par 70. He figured a 277 or 278 would take it.

The tournament has 18 holes scheduled each day through Sunday.

National Open champion Jack Fleck is among Snead's challengers. So are PGA champion Doug Ford, Cary Middlecoff, Art Wall, Gene Littler, Ed Furgol, Ed Oliver, Jackie Burke and George Bayer.

Line Will Be Speedy, Says Pirate Coach Jim Mallory

The reserves of 1954 will become the regulars of 1955. Assistant Coach Jim Mallory of the East Carolina College football team declared Thursday.

His reference to the reserves was in connection with a comment about the rapid development of the line-men in the Pirates gridiron crew who will play Saturday night in the opening of the 1955 football season.

"The Pirates will have one of the speediest and stoutest lines ever to perform in College Stadium," Mallory, ECC line coach, said.

Listed as top performers in the line, Mallory indicated the boys who will be called on for starting and playing this Saturday night:

Center, Louis Hallow, senior, Goldsboro; Davey Chesson, sophomore, Washington, and Tom Mixon, freshman, Norfolk;

Right guard, Dick Monds, Dunn, and Ken Burgess, Burlington, both sophomores;

The forward wall, strong and speedy, is going to be mighty effective in a good offense and defense for the backs, Mallory indicated.

Coach Boone is impressed with the versatile array of talent in the backfield this year.

Word from Coach Jim Lail of the Norfolk Navy Flying Tars indicates that the Norfolk crew will arrive in Greenville late Friday afternoon in preparation for the opening tilt in College Stadium Saturday night.

There is a spirit of enthusiasm running high in the Pirate squad. The Pirates are really looking forward to the season.

The ticket sales continue to advance. Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, ECC athletic director, has noted. The sales will pick up and a full house is anticipated in the College Stadium at kick-off time Saturday evening.

UCLA Rated As Pre-Season Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA the team the experts predicted was only second best last fall, is the preseason pick for the 1955 national championship of college football.

But the Uclans, defending champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, barely gained the most likely-to-succeed billing in a three-way voting scrap with Oklahoma and Michigan in The Associated Press' annual preseason balloting.

Sports writers and broadcasters of the nation gave Coach Red Sanders' Bruins a mere 53-point margin over Oklahoma, UCLA, gathering 10 points for a first-place ballot. For second, 8 for third etc., totaled 1,054. Oklahoma had 1,001.

But Michigan, generally picked to succeed last year's national champion Ohio State as the ruler of the Big Ten, passed both UCLA and Oklahoma in a first-place vote. The Wolverines were accorded the No. 1 spot on 34 of the 135 ballots cast. UCLA had 33, Oklahoma 32.

Michigan however totaled only 870 points in the combined tally and settled for third place in the preseason ranking.

Next came Ohio State, Maryland, Notre Dame, Army, Navy, Miami (Fla.) and Georgia Tech.

The final '54 ballot listed Ohio State, UCLA, Oklahoma No. 2, Dame Navy, Mississippi, Army, Maryland, Wisconsin and Arkansas.

U.S. Ryder Cup Team Chosen For November Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States 10-man Ryder Cup golf team has been chosen and will meet an invitational British squad Nov. 5 and 6 at Palm Springs, Calif.

taking up the U. S. team named by the PGA yesterday are Chikl Harbert, Doug Ford, Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt, Ted Kroll, Jerry Barber, Sam Snead, Jack Burke Jr., Marty Furgol and Chandler Harper.

Harbert and Ford were automatic selections because of their 1954 and 1955 victories, respectively, in the National PGA tourney.

Lloyd Mangrum, absent from the tournament circuit this season with a chest injury, was named honorary captain. The group will elect a playing captain at a meeting in New York, Sept. 12.

The U.S. won 6 1/2 to 5 1/2 in the last Ryder Cup matches, in Wentworth, England, two years ago.

Can Do It Today

MILWAUKEE (AP) The super-charged Brooklyn Dodgers can clinch the National League pennant today in the earliest date in the 7-year history of the senior circuit.

A victory over second place Milwaukee Braves would raise the flag over the Dodgers' Ebbets Field and fracture a record of their own making.

Two years ago—in Milwaukee, ironically enough—the Dodgers made the 1953 flag a mathematical certainty on Sept. 12 for a new loop standard. The earliest pennant-clinching date in the majors is Sept. 4, set in 1941 by the New York Yankees.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

Pinky watched Adam unblinkingly after telling him that Ann knew about him. She saw red streak into his lean cheeks...

"Oh, He crossed to the chair and asked about the ashtray... 'I broke it,' said Ann. Then, still in that calm tone she asked if he'd had dinner..."

Mavis Seeks Careers In TV And Modelling

Mavis Allen, known as a singer of popular music over television station WNCT, strikes a glamorous pose for the photographer. Mavis, married and the mother of three children, will be off with her family for New York next week, where she will begin a career in modeling and television entertainment. Mavis is a shapely brunette with black hair and brown eyes. She is 5 1/2 feet in height and weighs 127 pounds. Other vital statistics show a 36-inch bust, 25-inch waist and 37-inch hips. She hopes to use modeling as a stepping stone to a career as a singer on ABC television network shows. (Photo by Bill Taylor.)

A 25-year-old mother of three children, who once gave up a scholarship at the Juilliard School of Music to marry the man she loved, leaves next week for New York to begin a new career in modeling and television entertainment. Mavis Allen, whom TV viewers in this area will recognize as a singer of popular music on programs over station WNCT, is "thrilled and excited" about her coming career venture in the Big City, where competition is keen and pretty girls with talent are a dime a dozen. Mavis, a dark-eyed brunette, says she has received a lot of encouragement from producers for whom she has auditioned in New York, "and I'm going to work hard. I'm mighty determined," she declared in an interview this week. "I've always said you can get what you want if you want it hard enough and try hard enough, I hope that's true."

From WNCT to ABC It will be quite a jump for the young songstress from WNCT's musical shows to network shows where she eventually hopes to land. And as a stepping stone to the new career in television entertainment she will use modeling, which she will do, for the present at least, on a free-lance basis.

It was about a month ago that the youthful mother with vivacious personality and curvy figure auditioned at ABC in New York. "They encouraged me there," she disclosed, "and told me that they thought I could make a go of a singing career if I would stick with it. I met some very nice people who all seem to want to help me, and so I decided to try it."

She is scheduled to begin work October 15. "We are planning to leave Greenville next week," she explained, "to get settled in our new home in Sedgfield, New Jersey, 26 miles from New York." "We" are her husband John, their three children, Ivy, 6, Johnny, 4, and Kathy, 3. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Edward Horton, Mavis' aunt who will care for the children, and her three-year-old daughter, John has accepted a position with General Motors Corp. School On Schedule Mavis will attend modeling school from two to six weeks, as "It's been a long time since I have done any modeling, at all and I have a lot to learn." She modeled extensively during her high school days at trunk showings in Charlotte and Raleigh, which is her home. She also gained moderate experience in showroom modeling after graduating from school.

She hopes in New York to pose for magazine illustrations, "mostly hats." Meantime, she will also be getting voice coaching from ABC. "That will be to bring out a style," Mavis said. "I've never been coached in popular music before, and have never developed a style all my own."

"You know," she laughed, "the strangest thing about all this is that I've never really cared for popular music. I've always loved classical pieces. Or hymns in church. That is, until two years ago when I was persuaded to go on television. I didn't think I could sing popular music, but I was finally talked into it, and now I've developed a liking for it—but I still don't love it like I do classical music."

She says she has watched and listened to other popular singers in hopes of getting some helpful hints.

Voice Studies Mavis studied voice at Pineland

Junior College "and in every place I have ever lived—Raleigh, Cleveland, Fort Worth, Texas." In Raleigh she sang in civic operas, now known as the Grass Roots Opera, and in church. She has also entertained at service camps. As a youngster, Mavis was sent to school at Whitehall, an extension of Pineland Junior College, "where they were very strict. I didn't wear lipstick or have a date until I was 16, and then a chaperone sat in the parlor with us." At 16, she won a scholarship to study voice at the famed Juilliard School of Music in New York "but by the time I was old enough to go I had fallen in love, and marriage meant more to me than a career. Until two years ago when I began work on TV, my singing was confined to church."

The aspiring television vocalist declared that husband and family still mean more to her than a career but she is interested in finding out what she can do in the entertainment world. "I am going to try it as long as it doesn't interfere too much with my family," she remarked. "In the city I am going to think about business, and at home I will be home."

Local TV viewers will remember Mavis' appearance on "Break the Bank" last year when she won $300 and got a chance to sing. "I sang 'Little Things Mean a Lot,'" she recalls, "and I was so thrilled. The audience wasn't the biggest I'd ever seen, but it was the loudest." Prior to that experience Mavis had been in New York in 1953 to audition for Ted Mack's amateur show, where she sang a classical selection.

After the "Break the Bank" program, Mavis reports she received a number of letters from the television audience, complimenting and encouraging her. "I even got letters from several agents who wanted to 'sponsor me.'" However, she ignores these, and a month ago returned to New York to audition at ABC. She recorded some popular music with a seven-piece combo for the network's musical director and eastern program manager. "They encouraged me, and told me they thought I had the talent if I was willing to work hard. Of course, a lot of it depends on luck, and the breaks you get. "I know I have a hard road ahead of me, but I am really going to try to be a success. I hope I can make the people of Greenville proud of me."

London Tailors Advised Stress Colors For Men

LONDON (AP)—London tailors, who regard themselves as the world's best, are being advised to emphasize color in their new designs for men. The tip comes from the tailors' trade magazine Tailor and Cutter, which said color is on the way in, and that while conservative designers may shudder, they cannot stop it. That's what men want. The Edwardian look, on which smart British tailoring thrived for a number of years, is on the way out. Tailor and Cutter said. "The top end of fashion now proclaims its individuality by tighter clothes, shorter jackets and more orthodox styling," the magazine said. "Neatness and simplicity becomes the keynote and instead of relying on detail, the trend now has a chance to switch to color for effect. We can definitely expect men to start turning toward lighter colors for suitings."

Will Invite Murdered Boy's Mother To Witness Trial

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—A Chicago Negro mother will be invited to attend the trial of two men charged with murdering her 14-year-old son for whistling at a white woman.

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham of Hernando, prosecutor, said last night he will write the invitation to Mrs. Mamie Bradley, mother of Emmett Till, as soon as the trial date is set.

Chatham said his telegram will "express my personal regret and the regret of the state concerning the unfortunate death of her son. "I will tell her that I think it is important to the state's case that she appear and certain evidence she can give would be very important."

He added that Mrs. Bradley would be promised any "reasonable protection" she might feel that she needed.

In Chicago, Mrs. Bradley said, "If I receive any such invitation I will have to discuss it with my legal advisers and act as they see fit."

The youth's battered body was found in a river near here Aug. 31. He had been shot in the head.

Till, visiting his uncle near Money, was taken from the house on the night of Aug. 28 by two white men a few hours after he "made some remarks" and whistled at pretty Mrs. Roy Bryant, 21, in a store.

Bryant, 24, of Money, and his half-brother J. W. Milam, 36, of Glendora, have been indicted on charges of kidnapping and murder.

Officers said Bryant and Milam admitted taking Till from his uncle's home but said they let him go unharmed because they "found out he was the wrong boy."

No Defense Dept. Slash In Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says it still expects to spend 34 billion dollars this year "as originally estimated," and will make no drastic cuts in approved defense programs.

Acting Secretary Reuben B. Robertson Jr. said last night "there is no factual basis" for published reports this week that further cuts are being considered in defense spending as a means of balancing the budget.

Other administration sources reported earlier that the department was studying the possibility of a billion-dollar cut in expenditures as part of a government wide drive to eliminate a 1955-56 budget deficit estimated last month at $1,700,000,000.

Robertson confirmed that the spending total probably will be held a billion dollars below the 35 billions included for defense in the revised summer budget estimates issued last month.

But he said that even last January, when the official estimates included 35 1/2 billions for defense spending, it was indicated that actual expenditures "would be in the neighborhood of 34 billion dollars." He said Secretary Wilson and other witnesses confirmed this.

in testimony before congressional committees.

He issued his statement to clear up what he said was "confusion and misapprehension" stemming from the reports.

"Specifically," he said, "the impression has been created that drastic cuts will be made in currently approved defense programs in order to reduce fiscal year 1956 expenditures. There is no factual basis for these stories."

He said efforts will be continued to cut costs where possible but "no steps will be taken... which would adversely affect the attainment of approved force objectives and military readiness goals."

Before Robertson's statement was issued, the possibility of further defense cuts was criticized by Senators Douglas (D-Ill) and Robertson (D-Va).

Republican Bird Is On The Loose

MANHATTAN, Kas. (AP)—If you should run into a parakeet with obvious Republican sentiments, the LaRoy Scott family here would like to know about it. The Scotts were caring for the bird owned by Mr. and Mrs. R.M. Ankney while the latter couple was vacationing. The bird disappeared.

The Scotts say the missing parakeet has a large vocabulary but favorite phrase is: "I like Ike."

Vanishing Coin Is Painful Trick

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The trick of the disappearing coin was so impressive when her dad did it in his amateur magic act that 7-year-old Georgianne Elliott decided to demonstrate it for her playmates.

She was too convincing. The doctor had to take her to the hospital and remove the coin from her esophagus.

NO OGLING
KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—It's okay to watch girls, but ogling is out under a new city ordinance. The City Commission defines ogling as "to look or glance at furtively."

But that doesn't bar the right to a long look or a short stare. "That's our constitutional privilege," said one commissioner.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a little progress today in the early afternoon, but the move had a look of irregularity about it.

Usually prices were up or down around a point at the most, but a few issues moved more widely.

Business was at a good pace right around yesterday's 2,380,000 shares which were traded in a mixed market.

Railroads were higher, but other major divisions were mixed to lower. The rails were among the more active groups which also included the steels, motors, aircrafts, oils, and chemicals.

There was a lot of emphasis on individual issues, usually as a result of a higher dividend payment.

Sugar stocks were up a little and active at first as a result of higher dividend payments on key issues, but traders soon lost interest in them.

Three other stocks that stepped ahead on higher dividends were Quaker Oats, General Realty & Utilities, and Hiram Walker.

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Salable hogs 9,000; moderately active, steady to 25 lower on butchers; hogs steady to weak; most mixed U.S. No 1 to 3s 190-250 lb butchers 16.00-16.50; about 400-500 head at 16.00 and 16.75; including mixed No 1 and 2s 210-230 lb and No 2 and 3s 230-260 lb; weights over 250 lb scarce; mixed grades 170-190 lb 15.25-16.00; hogs under 400 lb 14.25, 15.75; a few head under 300 lb to 16.00; most 400-500 lb 13.50-14.25; a few 500-600 lb 12.50-13.75.

Salable cattle 3,000; salable calves 300; slaughter steers slightly irregular, averaging steady, instances strong on yearlings average choice and better; an spots weak on steers low choice and below; heifers about steady with Wednesday's low close; canners and cutter cows opened steady to strong now barely steady; utility and commercial cows draggy, steady to weak; bulls steady to strong; vealers and stockers and feeders steady; a truck lot prime 1,108 lb fed steers 25.25; high prime steers absent; other choice and prime steers 22.50-24.50; good to choice 19.50-22.00; a few commercial to low good grades 19.00-19.00; good and choice heifers 19.00-22.00; utility and commercial cows 10.25-13.00; canners and cutters 8.90-11.00; utility and commercial bulls 14.00-15.50; good heavy fat bulls 13.00-13.50; good and choice vealers 20.00-25.00; a few prime also 25.00; cull and utility vealers 10.00-15.00; a few loads medium and good stocker and feeding steers 16.50-19.75.

Throng Attend New Store's Opening

Rescue Truck To Be Dedicated At Meeting Tonight

The county's new Civil Defense rescue truck is to be dedicated in ceremonies at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Rotary building tonight.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30. Raising of funds for the purchase of the truck was sponsored by the Jaycees. The group asked for and received appropriations from each of the governmental units in the county. A number of individuals also contributed.

Half the cost of the unit is to be borne by the Federal government. In tonight's dedication ceremonies J. B. Smith will act as master of ceremonies. A short dedicatory talk is to be made by Ben Rouse, who was co-chairman of the drive to raise funds for the truck along with David Whitehead. W. Jasper Smith, chairman of the county commissioners will accept the vehicle on behalf of the county.

Brief remarks are to be made by J. H. Rose, Civil Defense director for the county; and Edgar Gurganus, state Jaycee president.

Also to be present are Jake West, national Jaycee director for North Carolina and Paul H. Geer, Jr., district Jaycee vice-president.

Mayors of each of the towns which appropriated money for the unit have been invited to be present.

The truck will be on display from 6 to 8 o'clock in front of the Rotary building with Greenville firemen on duty to demonstrate the equipment.

The vehicle is to be placed in the Greenville Fire Department main station and is to be maintained and manned by local firemen.

It is completely equipped for all major disaster rescue work and the truck will be available for calls in any part of the county.

The addition of the vehicle to the rescue ambulance now operated by the fire department gives the local department one of the most completely equipped rescue outfits in the state.

TO ORGANIZE BOARD RALEIGH (AP)—Dr. Harold J. Dudley, general secretary of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina today announced a meeting of trustees of the new consolidated Presbyterian College will be held Oct. 5 to organize the board.

Four Injured In 2-Car Collision

Four persons were injured, none of them seriously, in a two-car smash-up at the intersection of Virginia and Albemarle Avenues about 10:35 last night.

City police officers Sgt. T. E. Gindson and patrolman R. B. Elks listed the drivers of the cars as Sidney C. Baker, 17, of Bell Arthur and Joseph R. Savage, 26, Negro, of 208 S. Side Street. Baker was charged following the accident with improper brakes.

Injured in the crash, which resulted in a total loss for Baker's 1955 sedan, were Laurene Morris, 26, Negro, of 202-B Washington Court, a fractured right hand; Baker, abrasions of the right knee; Elmer Carmon, Negro, of 1218 Davenport Street, lacerations of the forehead; and William Dixon, 32, Negro, of 410 W. Third Street, abrasions and shock.

Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $3000.

The injured were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by the Fire Department Rescue Truck where they were treated and released.

'Pattern Types' Demonstration Given HD Club

BELVOIR—A demonstration on "Pattern Types" was presented by Home Agent, Little Little at a meeting of the Belvoir Home Demonstration Club last week.

Mrs. Little presented four types of pattern sizes. Measurements of each club member were taken, and the pattern type for each was checked and discussed.

A report on art crafts was given by Mrs. R. F. Clark, who displayed a number of handmade articles. She urged all members to display recently made articles at the fair this fall.

Mrs. D. M. Hollowell gave a report on home poultry, in which she emphasized the importance of providing adequate laying houses during all seasons of the year.

A clothing report was made by Mrs. J. T. Dupree, who spoke of the leading colors and most popular styles for the fall and winter.

After the business meeting members enjoyed a social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. H. L. Lewis, assisted by Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Neel Dupree.

Council Hears Visitor To Japan Describe Trip

Miss Margaret Stevens, former trainee Home Agent here, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Pitt Home Demonstration County Council Tuesday.

Miss Stevens, who last year was an international farm youth exchange student to Japan, told of her experiences while in that country, illustrating her talk with slides.

During the business session, the Council made tentative plans for its fall Federation meeting to be held early in November. Members also accepted a program of work for 1956.

Mrs. Paul Davenport, county music leader, reported on the Advisory Committee meeting for the North-eastern District, held in Raleigh last week. She urged all home demonstration club members to cooperate with the 4-H program, especially in sponsoring more recreation activities for the 4-H club members.

Mrs. Obed Castelloe, a member of the State Home Demonstration House Fund Committee, reported that an approximate total of $14,000 has been collected for the fund. Pitt County's share of this amount is $263.

Council members were urged by Mrs. S. E. Tucker, health leader, to attend the health conference in Raleigh October 6. She presented a summary of activities carried on by the state Health Committee during the past year.

Mrs. Russell Britt reported on the magazine subscription drive in the county and urged all members who have not done so to turn in their reports immediately.

Following the meeting was a social hour.

Winterville Board Orders Study To Improve Drainage

WINTERVILLE—The Board of Town Commissioners in session Tuesday night appointed a committee to investigate method of eliminating some of the flooding of streets in heavy rainstorms.

Dr. A. M. Mumford is chairman. Other committeemen are W. B. Weaver, J. H. Mobley, Charles Runckle and Sam McLawhorn. The committee is to report at the board's next regular meeting. Mayor Burney Tucker stated.

The new fogging machine to eliminate some of the insect pests was approved. Other routine business transacted included payment of current bills. Commissioners A. D. McLawhorn, Walter Dail and Ronnie Mallison were present.

About 400 million dollars in U.S. $1,000 bills are in circulation.

Investigators Keeping Watch On Hoppe Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both Senate and House investigators had their sights trained today on the case of Edgar E. Hoppe, a former Internal Revenue Service inspection chief who says he was fired two years ago for political reasons.

Hoppe, 47, now a Dallas lawyer, is suing the tax-collecting agency for $26,823 in back pay. He says he was ousted after uncovering "derogatory information" about a highly placed official still in the revenue service.

But Secretary of Treasury Humphrey contends the dismissal stemmed from incompetency on Hoppe's part for his high-level job and his "belligerent attitude" toward his superiors.

Chairman Olin Johnston (D-SC) disclosed yesterday his Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee staff already has interviewed Hoppe. "It appears that thorough investigation of this and similar cases in the executive branch is warranted," the senator said.

Pitt Youths Go For Draft Test

One volunteer for induction and ten men requiring pre-induction physical examinations were sent to Raleigh yesterday, the local Selective Service office reported.

Volunteer for induction was Jerry Beaman.

In addition two men, Lenwood Andrews and Flake T. Pennell, were sent for induction as delinquents.

The local office has transferred six men to other boards for examination.

New Owner Of Charlotte News

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Thomas L. Robinson, who arrived here from Boston in 1946 with an 11-year-old car, $20,000, and an ambition to publish a daily newspaper, today became owner of the Charlotte News.

Robinson has acquired more than 99 per cent of the stock of the company which he organized in 1946 to purchase the News, largest afternoon daily in the Carolinas.

One Out Of Four Being Educated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education estimates that nearly one out of every four Americans will be in school or college this year.

The office says its estimate of 38,772,000 students enrolled this year represents an increase of 1,665,900 over last year.

With the national population as of June 1 estimated at 165,025,000, the school and college enrollment would come to about 24.1 per cent of the total.

Commissioner of Education Samuel M. Brownell noted a shortage of 141,300 qualified teachers to handle the record enrollment.

Protest Blocked

PARIS (AP)—Editors of the French leftist weekly France Observateur reported their latest issue has been seized by authorities because it contained an article protesting against the sending of draftees to troubled French North Africa.

Indonesia has a population of 80 million.
