Fountain Entries Win Junior Swine Show Top Honors

Judging of livestock highlighted yesterday's session of the 1955 Pitt County Agricultural Fair. Grand Champion of all breeds in the Junior Swine Show was a Duroc gilt owned by Edward Tyson Smith, 4-H member from Fountain. The reserve championship went to Henry Lewis Smith, also of the Fountain 4-H. Today will see the judging for the Norman Y. Chambliss $25 award, given the past six years to the best educational exhibit at the fair. Later, at 7 p. m., a banquet by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce at the Respos Bros. will honor the winners in the livestock show along with the Chambliss award. Checks will be presented during the banquet. Also on Thursday night, beginning at 7:30, the Pitt County Fair Association and Prell's Broadway Shows will be host to Daily Reflector carrier boys. Fair attendance, blessed with cloudless skies, zoomed upward yesterday. Chambliss, who is serving as the fair's manager, estimated "conservatively" that there were some 3200 persons on the grounds. Exhibits of all types had many observers and the U. S. Army Band from Ft. Bragg gave two concerts before large crowds. Other winners announced from the livestock show included these champions of breeds: Duroc, Edward Tyson Smith, Fountain 4-H;

Poland China, Johnny Dilda, Farmville FFA; Berkshire, Taylor Barnhill, Stokes 4-H; and Hampshire, James Lynn, Grifton FFA. Grand Champion of the Junior Calf Show was Earl F. Mornings, Ballard's 4-H, while his brother, Roy Lee Mornings, took the reserve title. Seventy-one blue ribbons, 22 reds and 17 whites were awarded in the junior and senior swine and cattle shows. Other awards as released yesterday were, in order of their listing, Educational Booths, Timothy Home Demonstration, Farmville Home Demonstration, St. Johns Home Demonstration and the Pitt County Council. In the Negro division awards in order went to the Sally Branch Home Demonstration, Simpson Home Demonstration and the Pleasant Plane Home Demonstration. First place in the white 4-H exhibits went to the Pitt County Council; second, Fountain Juniors; third, Stokes seniors; fourth, Farmville seniors. Negro 4-H awards went to the Pitt County Safety and Clothing exhibits. Home Economics winners were, in order, Grimesland-Grifton; Ayden-Greenville; Belvoir-Bethel; Chicod-Stokes-Paculus; and Farmville-Winterville. FFA winners in the Vocational Agriculture division were Grimesland, Ayden, Bethel, Winterville and Farmville.

Iran Plans Join Pro-West Group

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran lined up officially today with the Western-backed Middle East defense alliance, closing a major gap in the anti-Communist world's defense chain south of the Soviet Union. The Iranian government announced its adherence to the Baghdad Pact, which already unites Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan and Britain in a mutual defense agreement. With Iran, the Middle East group forms a solid land belt from the Mediterranean to the Himalayas. The North Atlantic Alliance extends the chain across southern and western Europe, the Atlantic and North America. Premier Hussein Ala announced he had sent a Foreign Ministry official to the Baghdad headquarters of the Middle East pact with a note advising that the Iranian government would submit its adherence to the treaty to Parliament for ratification. Approval of both houses of Parliament is necessary, but the Shah's strong support of the treaty was believed to assure its ratification. Opening the Senate Oct. 8, the ruler said: "It is fitting that the government take the necessary steps and precautions for the defense of our frontiers as well as for safeguarding the rights of our country. One informed source said Iran would formally announce its joining the alliance "before the Geneva conference" of the Big Four foreign ministers, scheduled to open Oct. 27. He said the source stemmed from an "obvious" reason—presumably a desire to strengthen the hands of the Western Big Three at the parley. Iranian adherence to the pact is certain to arouse the ire of her Soviet neighbors on the north.

Council To Hold Public Hearings

Two public hearings will be held by the Council tomorrow night when city fathers gather at City Hall for their regular monthly meeting. The meet will begin at 8 p. m. Hearings will be held on the annexation of Colonial Heights Addition and Sheraton Place, two recently opened subdivisions. Colonial Heights Addition is located behind the present Colonial Heights and Sheraton Place is located across the U. S. 264 bypass from Forest Hills. A public hearing will also be held on the re-enactment of the city's subdivision ordinance to make it conform with changes approved by the State Legislature at its last session. The council must also take up the question of acquiring the right-of-way for correcting the off-set at Boyd and Dickinson Ave., a matter which has been under consideration for several months. Plans call for re-routing N.C. 43 along Boyd Ave. if the intersection of set is corrected. Another matter of old business will be a request from Mrs. Carrie M. Barbour to move her home back on E. 14th St. The request was made due to a sidewalk which is now being constructed on the street. The city fathers will consider the placing of a traffic light at 7th and Dickinson Ave. or changing the flow of traffic on the one-way street. That request was made last month by a resident on the street. The board will also consider the appointments of members to the Board of Adjustments and to the Recreation Commission to fill vacancies and a plan to increase the number of members of the Planning Board to nine with the ninth Planning Board member to come from the Real Estate Board, an organization of the city's real estate dealers. Councilmen will hear a com-

Eisenhower Prepares Letter To Bulganin President Takes Over Helm

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower took command anew of the American program for world peace today as medical bulletins reflected increasing progress along the slow road to complete recovery. His 25-minute bedside conference with Secretary of State Dulles yesterday produced a new letter on disarmament to Soviet Premier Nikoia Bulganin. And it brought another warning the United States will not reduce its military power without guarantees Russia will do likewise. The President's heart stood the conference so well that his brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State University, was invited to fly in today for his first visit since the President's heart attack Sept. 24. What Eisenhower wrote Bulganin, in a page and a half letter, will not be disclosed until the Russian Premier has received it in Moscow. But Dulles told a Denver White House news conference: "We do not anticipate any reduction of our total power unless we can be sure that there is a corresponding reduction elsewhere." Dulles said this, in elaborating, under questioning, on his assertion that the President approved a speech the secretary made along these lines to the American Legion convention at Miami Monday. Eisenhower's letter to Bulganin, which Dulles said he will forward today, was an "interim" reply to one from the Soviet Premier last month throwing cold water on the President's disarmament plan. This was an offer, made at the summit conference in Geneva, to exchange military blueprints with the Soviet Union and allow mutual serial inspection to assure the carrying out of agreements. Dulles said that he and the President collaborated drafting the letter, which may be followed later by a more detailed answer. Bulganin's letter, he said, was very long and "raised a great many intricate and technical questions which are still under study." Sherman Adams, the President's chief deputy, will be unable to attend the National Security Council meeting tomorrow but, flying back with Dr. Eisenhower, will be in Washington for Friday's Cabinet meeting. Doctors checked the President thoroughly after Dulles left the longest conference Eisenhower has attempted since his seizure. The conference covered the agenda for the foreign ministers' meeting opening at Geneva Oct. 27, the Bulganin letter and six other topics, including Soviet activities in the Middle East. Yet when it was over, physicians reported the President's condition satisfactory "with pulse and blood pressure continuing normal," and that the President "thoroughly enjoyed the visit." Adams conferred with the President for another 15 minutes later in the day, and a subsequent bulletin reported the President progressing "satisfactorily without complications." While Adams waited Eisenhower signed a recess appointment designating Thomas C. Mann of Crawford, Tex., as ambassador to El Salvador, and a letter welcoming Robert C. Hill back from that post to a new assignment as special assistant to the undersecretary of state for mutual security affairs.

Red China 'Studies' 19 Cases

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China said today it is studying the cases of 19 other Americans accused of crimes. The official Peiping radio quoted People's Daily, the official party newspaper, as saying the 47 have not applied for exit permits. The broadcast said that in accordance with its agreement with the United States at Geneva, Red China "is now examining their cases (the 19) one by one according to the Chinese legal procedure and . . . will inform the British charge d'affaires in Peiping of the results." Under the agreement the British diplomat was selected to act for any American wishing to leave Red China. Diplomatic officials in London said the charge d'affaires, Con O'Neill, has opened new talks with the Red Chinese regime aimed at speeding release of the 19 Americans. They said O'Neill has not been allowed to see any of the 19. The Red Chinese recently released 10 Americans through Hong Kong and two more reportedly left Shanghai today by ship for Japan. An announcement was coupled with a repeated charge that the United States is stalling on ambassador-level talks at Geneva, refusing to discuss matters other than the exchange of civilians.

Make-Up Clinic Response 'Poor'

Only 32 of last year's first and second graders got their second shot of the Salk polio vaccine at the final make-up clinics in Greenville and Farmville Saturday. No children aged five through nine received the vaccine. In making his report, Pitt Health Director Dr. Walter C. Humbert, termed the overall response at the make-up clinics "very, very poor." Of the 3,348 first and second graders who received the first vaccine last spring, only 2,662 have taken the second shot. Because a number of the eligible children were absent when the second shot was given in the schools in September four make-up clinics have been held in both Greenville and Farmville. Only youngsters have made up their shots, leaving a total of 687 who have not taken the second inoculation.

Charter-Signing At Greene Meet

SNOW HILL — Dr. Robert Lee Humber of Greenville at a meeting here last night, called the Greene County Educational Foundation "a challenge to the people of Greene county to do something constructive for higher education." The distinguished Pitt counsiller addressed an open meeting at which members received the Foundation's charter and began signing it. The charter will be kept open for one week to give to those who wish to do so an opportunity to sign it. The Foundation is being organized in connection with the corporation to bring the new Junior Presbyterian College to Greenville county. Its purpose is to assure continuing financial aid to the school if located in Greene county and to send worthy Greene county students to the college if it is located elsewhere. "Here is a challenge to the citizens of Greene county," Mr. Humber declared. "Here is an opportunity to demonstrate how you can collaborate and make a gesture as to how far you wish to go to get this institution." The speaker recalled that half a century ago a few men of Pitt county committed a minority to successfully push through a campaign which made the establishment of East Carolina College and told his audience they can do the same thing for Greene county. "Here is our challenge," Mr. Humber continued, "You can measure the influence you've got by giving support to the campaign and the Foundation," he said. "You as an individual do something constructive not only for Greene county, not only for your state, and your country, but for mankind." It was announced at the meeting that a pledge card campaign to raise funds for the County Educational Foundation will be started in about 10 days. Already several organizations and individuals have pledged to support the campaign. Miss Elizabeth Corbett, secretary to the Foundation, stated today.

After 84 Years, Price Unchanged

ATOHISON Kan. (AP)—Eighty-four years ago the Burlington Railroad paid the city of Atchison $2,500 for approximately 1 1/2 acres of land along the Missouri River. Now the city wants to build a wharf for river navigation. Yesterday the city agreed to buy back the property it sold to Burlington in 1871 — for the same price.

No Incidents Mar Peace Of Indiana Town Non-Strikers Back At Work

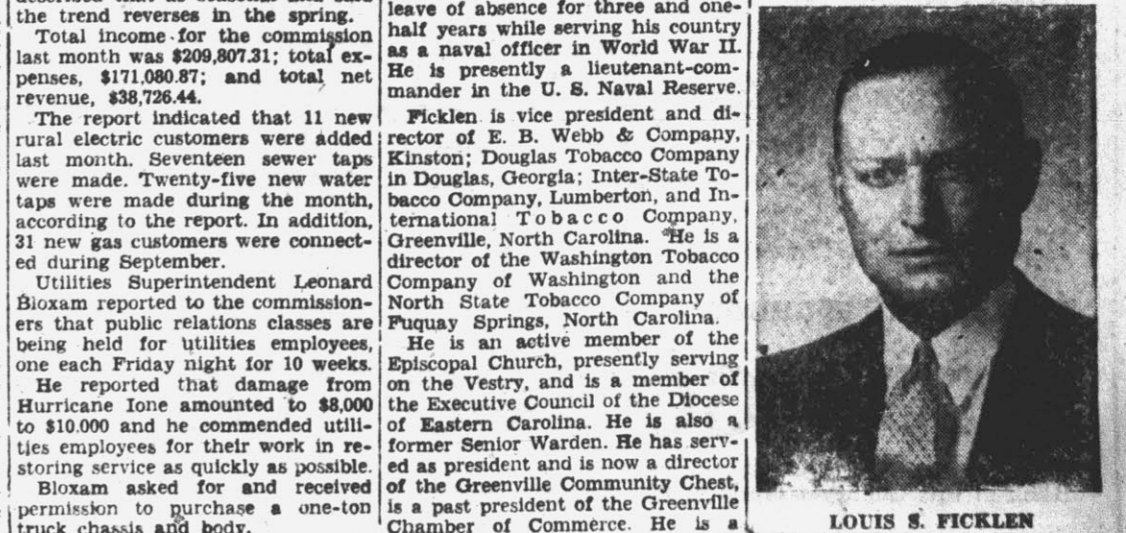

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Non-strikers returned in force today to resume piston ring production in the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry under protection of National Guardsmen. The troops were under orders to prevent any recurrence of last Wednesday's riot. The influx of workers was slowed because guardsmen checked each car coming onto the foundry parking lot. A skeleton force of 94 workers got the foundry ready yesterday. Manager Chesley Juda said the doors were opened today "to anyone who wants to work." The production force of the foundry before the strike started July 25 was 260 workers. About 100 persons, including supervisors, were in the plant a week ago when 5,000 strike sympathizers gathered outside. Shots were fired by both sides, and eight persons were wounded. There were no incidents yesterday as the skeleton crew entered and left the foundry. Six hundred National Guardsmen, carrying rifles and backed by tanks, patrolled the plant area and the city. It was also quiet at Hagerstown, headquarters of Perfect Circle, and at Richmond, where the firm has two small plants. The three plants have operated since the CIO United Auto Workers struck in a contract dispute nearly 12 weeks ago. Guardsmen patrolled there also. Col. Howard Wilcox, national guard commander, relaxed the state of martial law last night to permit the UAW to hold a meeting in its union hall here. He said about 150 members attended. William F. Caldwell, UAW international representative who asked for the meeting, put the number at 250 and said they voted unanimously to uphold the union demands.

Financial Report Given Utilities Commissioners

Greenville Utilities began the month of October with a balance of $90,666.66, Business Manager Larry Brown reported to the commission members last night. Brown's report showed that the commission started the month of September with a treasurer balance of $76,118.41 and receipts during September amounted to $221,073.25. Disbursements last month amounted to $206,525.20. A breakdown of the figures by departments showed that the water department last month had an income of $20,749.49 with expenses of $14,706.98 leaving a net revenue of $6,042.51. The city electric department's revenue last month was $125,302.35 with expenses of $100,489.90 leaving $24,812.45 net revenue. The rural electric department took in $53,607.79 and spent $45,244.13 leaving $8,363.66 in net revenue. The gas department went in the hole last month. Its income was $10,147.68 with expenses of $10,639.86 leaving a deficit of $492.18. Brown described that as seasonal and said the trend reverses in the spring. Total income for the commission last month was $209,807.31; total expenses, $171,080.87; and total net revenue, $38,726.44. The report indicated that 11 new rural electric customers were added last month. Seventeen sewer taps were made. Twenty-five new water taps were made during the month, according to the report. In addition, 31 new gas customers were connected during September. Utilities Superintendent Leonard Bloxam reported to the commission that public relations classes are being held for utilities employees, one each Friday night for 10 weeks. He reported that damage from Hurricane Ione amounted to $8,000 to $10,000 and he commended utilities employees for their work in restoring service as quickly as possible. Bloxam asked for and received permission to purchase a one-ton truck chassis and body.

L. S. Ficklen Named Member Bank Board

Louis Stuart Ficklen has been unanimously elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company. Ficklen was born and reared in Greenville, attended Greenville High School and Episcopal High of Alexandria, Virginia, was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1940. Taft Addresses Services Council

Pitt County Red Cross Chapter will furnish 500 Christmas stockings for servicemen in the U. S. Naval Hospitals at Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point, according to plans made here yesterday by the Red Cross Volunteer Services Council for the two Marine bases. E. Hoover Taft of Greenville, former chairman of the American National Red Cross Area Advisory Board, was featured speaker at the luncheon. His topic concerned the function and purpose of the Advisory Board. Board Bridges Gap Taft told the group that the Advisory Board was created to bridge a gap between the national Red Cross organization and the local chapters. He said it has four purposes: to help the area manager, the Board of Governors and the local chapters with their problems, and to be a medium of contact between the local chapters and the Board of Governors. "No problem is too small or too large for this Advisory Board to undertake," Taft declared, and urged that the county organizations communicate their particular difficulties to that agency. The speaker was introduced by James S. Ficklen Jr., chairman of the Pitt Red Cross Chapter who also welcomed the guests. Make Christmas Plans Plans for Christmas at the Naval hospitals were made at the business session which preceded the luncheon.

Representatives and guests at the fall meeting of the Volunteer Services Council here yesterday included front row (left to right) Jack Spain of Washington, D. C., and Greenville, secretary to Senator Sam Erwin; Mrs. Lindsay Warren of Washington, representing her husband who is chairman of the Beaufort County Red Cross Chapter; Mrs. F. C. Croft, chairman of the Volunteer Services Auxiliary at Cherry Point; and Dr. Karl B. Pace, member of the Board of Directors of the Pitt County Red Cross Chapter. Back row: Mrs. Russell Jordahl, chairman of the Volunteer Services Auxiliary at Camp Lejeune; James S. Ficklen Jr., chairman of the local Red Cross chapter; Mrs. Kersy C. Smith of Kinston, chairman of the Volunteer Services Council; and E. Hoover Taft, former chairman of the American National Red Cross Area Advisory Board and guest speaker at the luncheon. Hurley-Mobley Vows Spoken In Candlelight Ceremony

ROBERSONVILLE—The wedding of Miss Jean Ann Mobley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duard B. Mobley, and John William Hurley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John Bascom Hurley, took place Sunday afternoon, October 2, at 4:30 in a candlelight ceremony in the First Christian Church.

The Rev. J. B. Hurley officiated, assisted by the Rev. Wilbur T. Wallace.

Miss Jeanine Taylor, organist, and Robert Bascom Hurley of Fayetteville, brother of the bridegroom, presented the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Harry Edgar Mobley, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with a bodice trimmed with bands of tulle at the scoop neckline and at the waist, applied with medallions of the lace, iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was made of alternate tiers of hand scalloped lace and tulle. The fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of lace, sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white satin Bible, topped with a purple-throated white orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Douglas Hemingway, was her sister's only attendant. She wore a waist length dress of blue tulle over satin with a matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Lou Ann Roebuck of Williamston, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Her dress of mauve was similar to that of the matron of honor's and she carried a basket of baby roses.

The bridegroom had as his best man Charles Sillery of Littleton, Bobby Mobley, brother of the bride; Darel Hurley, brother of the bride.

To Attend Funeral in Mullins
Mr. and Mrs. Willis Overton and Mrs. Dollie Overton left today for Mullins, S. C. to attend the funeral of Mr. Robert Foxworth, who died last night.

Funeral services for Mr. Foxworth will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Methodist Church. Mrs. Foxworth is the former Miss Rosa Lee Overton of Stokes.

room; Lenwood Thomas of Robersonville, and William Sadler of Roseboro Rapids served as ushers.

The honorary bridesmaids were: Miss Raye Hathaway, Miss Sarah Farmer, both of Raleigh; Miss Sandra Woodcock and Miss Carolyn Mobley, nieces of the bride; Mrs. Jimmy Langston of Jacksonville, Mrs. Glenn Whitehurst and Mrs. Gene Taylor.

The mother of the bride wore a teal blue crepe dress, black accessories and a lavender orchid.

The mother of the bridegroom chose an off-white wool jersey dress and black accessories. She had a purple orchid corsage.

After the ceremony the bridal couple received the guests in the vestibule of the church.

Mrs. Hurley is a graduate of East Carolina College and for the past year she has been employed by the Department of Agriculture in Raleigh.

The bridegroom attended the University of North Carolina and he is now employed in Fayetteville where they will make their home.

For her wedding trip the bride changed to a toast suit with brown accessories and a winter white hat. She removed the purple-throated white orchid from her Bible.

Robersonville W. S. C. S. Observes Anniversary

ROBERSONVILLE—The Woman's Society of Christian Service celebrated its fifteenth year of service last week at the Methodist Church auditorium with six charter members present. Mrs. Robert K. Adkins opened the meeting with an organ prelude. Mrs. J. C. Keel, Mrs. Stewart McArthur and Mrs. George Glenn Edmondson were the program leaders. Mrs. McArthur read the 108th Psalm and also led in prayer. Two hymns were sung by the group.

Mrs. Keel gave a synopsis of the 15 years of the W.S.C.S.

Mrs. Edmondson gave some of the values offered to the women of Christian Service.

30 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR October 12, 1925

The Pittsburgh Pirates took the baseball championship of the world today from the Washington Senators, by battering Walter Johnson in a fierce battle fought out in a drizzling rain on a soggy field.

The Do-Right Chorus of Stokes Christian Church was guest of the Farmville Christian Endeavor on Sunday at the evening hour. The program of the Farmville society was that of a recreation period of stunts and games, followed with refreshments. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served. The regular C. E. Program was led by Emily Tyre of Farmville on the theme "They First Gave Themselves." Stokes Do-Right Chorus was organized by D. O. Gordon of Farmville while in a meeting with Stokes church in July.

Resume Services In Baptist Church

ROBERSONVILLE—Although the renovation program of the First Baptist Church will not be completed until the latter part of October, the congregation was back in the church building Sunday for all services. During the summer, while the work was in progress, worship services were held in the high school auditorium and the Sunday-school classes have used the church basement and the annex.

The Sunday schedule began at 9:45 with all departments assembled in the main church auditorium for the opening exercises and the installation of church, Sunday School and Training Union workers for the 1955-56 church year.

Extensive improvements have been made during the last few months. Beautiful memorial windows have replaced the plain glass, an expensive green carpet has been laid over a new pad, the interior has been painted and the exterior of the building, which was brown stucco, has been covered with red brick.

Legionnaires March Despite Heavy Rain

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — American Legionnaires wound up a rain-soaked parade in the wee hours today and then turned to the thorny UNESCO question and other convention issues.

A joint meeting of the Americanism and Foreign Relations Committees was reported unofficially to have turned thumbs down on a special committee report that gave a clean bill of health to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

The report had said that UNESCO was neither Communist nor atheistic, nor in favor of world government.

For the third time in the four conventions the Legion has held here, Miami's traditionally sunny skies gave way to rain for the annual parade. It hadn't rained here for a full day since early July, but yesterday a stubborn downpour forced postponement of the parade from 4:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.

By that time the rain had let up and the Legion started its march after nightfall for the first time in its history.

But scarcely half an hour after the procession of 25,000 marchers, 100 bands and 50 floats had started, the skies opened again.

Marchers were drenched to the skin. Floats that took months to prepare at costs of thousands of dollars were wilted. The rain straightened out the pretty coiffures of drum majorettes and other girls in the parade.

Later, the skies cleared and the parade finished in clearing weather.

When newspapers came out with the announcement the parade had been postponed, a devoted Miami newsboy cried: "California dew comes to Florida."

Weekend Aerial Battle Looming

Battle Of Pass Pitchers Looms On ACC Slate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 North Carolina State's "pitcher" for Saturday's game with Wake Forest plans to concentrate on catching after graduation.

He's Eddie West, senior from Alexandria, Va., who will be matched with the Deacons' Nick Converse in what could turn into a battle of passers.

West No. 1 passer for the Wolfpack eleven, is No. 1 catcher for the State baseball team and hopes to make a career of baseball.

State football fans, perhaps a bit shortsighted, would fight now most like to see him outpass Converse. West not an unlikely candidate for the job completed seven of 10 passes against North Carolina, one for a touchdown.

Consoles, currently second-ranked among college passers, has completed 39 out of 63 for 418 yards. The Lynn, Mass. senior has had only one of his tosses intercepted and he's accounted for almost half the Deacons' net yardage this season.

Virginia, playing its homecoming game Saturday continues a series with its oldest state rival, Virginia Military Institute. Virginia has won 32 from VMI, losing 15 with three ties in the 50-game series dating back to 1893. The two teams haven't missed playing each other for the past 36 years. This season, neither has won a game, but the Cavaliers will be leading with Jim Bakhtiar, sophomore full-back, and Herbert Hartwell senior halfback who has a 7.7 yard average in 29 running attempts this year.

Duke's Blue Devils, who play at Ohio State this week, may take little comfort from the knowledge that their opponents rate the Devils highly Coach Woody Hayes of the Buckeyes told his squad yesterday they will be playing a "heck of a football team." The feeling probably is mutual for the Devils, who are starting an uphill drive for other such opponents as Pitt, Ga. Tech and Navy.

Maryland, on the other hand is leveling off after taking its roughest competition in stride. The Terps, who dropped from first to second in national ratings in last week's Associated Press poll, are expected to take North Carolina handily. Afterward they face Syracuse, South Carolina, Louisiana State, Clemson and George Washington.

The Tar Heels with one of the toughest schedules in the Atlantic Coast Conference, figure to have things little easier against Wake Forest, Tennessee, South Carolina, Notre Dame, Virginia and Duke. Clemson and South Carolina, idle this weekend, are worrying only about each other right now. They meet Oct. 20 at Columbia in the annual State Fair game. The Tigers minus the services of varsity quarterback Don King, ran offensive signals called yesterday by Jim Coleman, Charlie Bussey, Bill Barbary and Bobby Fisher.

South Carolina's Coach Rex Enright stressed passing in yesterday's practice, with the throwing done by quarterbacks Mackie Prickett, Bobby Bunch and Jack Hall.

Dogs rarely live beyond 20 years, cats live longer.

Strenuous New Career For Tony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Top tennis player Tony Trabert today faced a new and strenuous career on the courts of the world and a chance to earn $100,000 as a newly turned professional.

The strapping 25-year-old star from Cincinnati, the 1955 Wimbledon and United States amateur champion, formally signed a 16-month contract to play for and against promoter Jack Kramer.

Today both the veteran Kramer and Trabert sat back to await word from two other prospective members of the tour, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad of Australian Davis Cup fame.

Kramer said the two young Aussies have until Oct. 17 to make up their minds about quitting the amateur ranks. He said he believes they will accept his terms, a reported $50,000 apiece.

Kramer admitted the Trabert contract was better than the $75,000 he guaranteed Frank Sedgman of Australia several years ago, and he said that if all goes well, crew-cropped, Tony should gross $100,000 for the 200 matches he faces.

Kramer also revealed that Trabert's contract has two clauses, one contingent on a two-man tour with himself, and the other and better one based on the presence of the two young Aussies. Kramer, may be in for rough competition.

In Manila, Hoad acknowledged Kramer had offered him about $50,000 but that he wouldn't make a decision until he returned to Australia later this week. Rosewall said he would not decide until he talked to his parents.

Manila Flash Is Aiming At Sandy

NEW YORK (AP)—Gabriel (Flash) Elorde, the Manila battler who upset featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, July 20 in a non-title bout amidst flying pop bottles in Manila, is expected to face Syracuse, South Carolina, Louisiana State, Clemson and George Washington.

Elorde has been matched with Carmelo Costa, flashy Brooklyn youngster, for a Nov. 11 date at Madison Square Garden. Matchmaker Billy Brown hopes to pair the winner with Saddler in a championship fight. Sandy last defended in February and is overdue if a suitable opponent can be produced.

Brown announced four garden matches today for the new season. A Gil Turner-Issac Logart bout Oct. 21 already had been scheduled.

For the Oct. 28 date, Brown has paired Lulu Perez, winner over Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena, and Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif.

Willie Pastrano, clever New Orleans light heavy, will make his New York debut Nov. 18 at the Garden against Joe Rowan of Philadelphia. Pastrano won over Joey Maxim and Paddy Young in two recent starts.

Shaky Show Of Yank Pitching

HONOLULU (AP)—The New York Yankees opened their Pacific good-will tour with an easy 12-1 victory over the Hawaii Red Sox last night.

Irv Noren slammed two home runs in the 20-hit attack on two Hawaiian pitchers. A big third inning in which Yogi Berra, Bob Cerv and Noren hit home runs got the Yankees off to a flying start. Yankee pitcher White was shaky throughout, giving up seven walks.

West Virginia And TCU At Top Share Statistical Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 West Virginia and Texas Christian are major college football's statistical leaders and the chances are such former stars as Ira Errett Rodgers, Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien would do a flip if they noted how their colleges got to the top.

Rodgers, West Virginia's only authentic All America player, was quite a passer in his time, but in 1919 they didn't toss the ball around the way three Mountaineer quarterbacks are doing it these days. West Virginia has gained nearly half its yardage in the air through the air — 628 yards on 22 passes — and has one of the top completion averages, tossing has averaged 209.3 yards per game through the air — 628 yards on 22 passes — and has one of the top completion averages.

In three victories, the Mountaineers have piled up 1,298 yards, an average of 432.7 a game as compared to 414 for second-place Illinois in passing alone. Texas, the only Southwest team that still relies mainly on aerials, in second in rushing and has averaged only eight pass attempts a game.

These are a couple of notable changes brought out today by the NCAA Service Bureau's team of statisticians. As long as such records have been kept, neither West Virginia nor TCU has finished in the top 10 in the departments in which they now lead. And the tabulation of leaders shows very few repeaters even from last season.

West Virginia, with Fred Wyant, Mickey Trimark and Alex Sauch tossing has averaged 209.3 yards per game through the air — 628 yards on 22 passes — and has one of the top completion averages, tossing has averaged 209.3 yards per game through the air — 628 yards on 22 passes — and has one of the top completion averages.

No other leader has gained as much as 1,000 yards by rushing. Army the former leader has 988 for an average of 329.3 per game. Oklahoma is third in both rushing and total offense with 324.3 yards per game on the ground and 387.3 ver-all.

Texas is the passing-est team of all so far, having tried 193 and completed 53 for the two top figures although realizing less yardage than West Virginia. Wisconsin holds the accuracy prize with 33 completions in 49 attempts for a 67.3 percentage.

A natural result of West Virginia's offensive record is that the Mountaineers lead in scoring. They've gone at a rate of 42 points a game as compared to Army's 39.3, Duke's 33.7, Harvard's 33.5 and Denver's 33.0.

Bucs Keep Offensive Drive Through Spirited Practice

The newly-found offensive punch of the East Carolina Pirates continued to be effective in yesterday's long offensive scrimmage as the locals prep for the Western Carolina tilt this Saturday.

Coach Jack Boone's charges whizzed through the contact work in spirited fashion, running at ease against a third man using Western Carolina defenses.

The rushing department, which accumulated 269 yards against Elon last week, was in perfect working order. Jerry Brooks, Ed Jones, Harold O'Kelly and Robert Lilley, the backs tore off big chunks of yardage.

The air game was also. Cherry Dick got most of the throwing with ends Ray Pennington and Bill Helms gathering in most of the aerials. Halfbacks Boado and Perry were frequent targets, too.

Helms Back As noted, Helms has returned to work. The big Monroe junior has been sorely missed at his flank position since he went out with a knee against West Chester four weeks ago.

Boone and assistants Jim Mallory and Earl Smith had two good units of linemen working on offense. The No. 1 group had Pennington and Helms at ends, Jerry Brooks and Waverly Chesson at tackles, Paul Popov and Ken Burgess at guards and Louis Hallow at center.

The second unit was composed of ends J. D. Bradford and Tommy Jones at ends, Ray Overton and Charles Smith at tackles, Dick Monds and Joe May at guards and Tom Nixon at center.

Toughest Yet East Carolina can expect its toughest conference game of the year against Western Carolina's Catamounts. The Cullowhee charges of Coach Tom Young are currently in second place in the standings and own wins over Appalachian (7-6) and Catawba (20-0).

The Catamounts have a seasoned club with veterans at almost every position. They realize what a defeat at this stage of the game would mean and still remember the bad 27-13 shelling the Pirates handed them in 1954.

Western Carolina has a 2-0-1 record, having been tied by East Tennessee in a game permitted to count in the conference standings. It's virtually impossible to win the championship with a defeat and a tie so you can imagine the significance of the game for the Catamounts.

head-on tackle exercise yesterday and later had to carry the pigskin through a gauntlet of tacklers, in an attempt to improve their running game.

Powerful Fee The linemen devoted their time yesterday to studying Elizabeth City offenses and trying new techniques that will be used to stop it. The Yellow Jackets are a power team, excelling in an attack that is based on sheer brute force. Harold Edwards, Pete West, Angus Duff, Jack Calhoun, Godfrey Oakley, Billy Johnson, Kelly Barnhill, Barney Barrett, Peter Hudson, Howard King, Robert Howell, Billy Willis and Wade Jordan are the big men in the Green forward wall who hope to stop the Jackets.

By BILLY ARNOLD
 Reflector Sports Writer
 Greenville high school's football squad has only one more day of drill before they invade their northern foe, Elizabeth City, to stage one of the top Northeastern Conference battles of the weekend.

Coach Guy Lewis and his assistants have been striving throughout the past two weeks to create a working unit that can withstand the heavy Yellow Jacket attack and come back with some scoring punch of its own. Vaughn Fowler, the very able Phantom line instructor, has experimented freely with the linemen, shifting his boys frequently on both offense and defense in recent practice sessions. End Coach Stanleaves Jones has developed several new men at that position.

New Linemen, Backs As a result of last week's drills, which featured an inter-squad contest between the Greenville senior gridgers and the lower classmen, many new prospective starters have popped into the picture. Coach Lewis is using the remainder of this week to polish the rough edges on his new found material and to whip his regular boys into top condition.

Yesterday, the Phants pushed through a rugged session of calisthenics, windsprints, tackling and ball handling. Alternating at quarterback in the offense backfield were Mack Roebuck and Ike Riddick. Also performing at the signal-calling slot were Jerry Drum, who has just returned from a short absence, due to virus sickness, Billy Sermons, Jimmy Kelly, John Ed Arnold, Tommy Norris, Charlie Smith and Charles Stator were other backs.

Coach Lewis has directed his backfield through extensive offensive and defensive drills this week. The defensive secondary struggled with a head-on tackle exercise yesterday and later had to carry the pigskin through a gauntlet of tacklers, in an attempt to improve their running game.

Powerful Fee The linemen devoted their time yesterday to studying Elizabeth City offenses and trying new techniques that will be used to stop it. The Yellow Jackets are a power team, excelling in an attack that is based on sheer brute force. Harold Edwards, Pete West, Angus Duff, Jack Calhoun, Godfrey Oakley, Billy Johnson, Kelly Barnhill, Barney Barrett, Peter Hudson, Howard King, Robert Howell, Billy Willis and Wade Jordan are the big men in the Green forward wall who hope to stop the Jackets.

Pittsburg Hurler Shapes Up As Earned-Run Leader

By BEN OLAN
 NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955 baseball season was not a complete bust for the Pittsburgh Pirates after all. They had the National League's earned run leader in Bob Friend, their 24-year-old right-hander.

And that's not all. Friend became the first major league pitcher in history (earned runs were first tabulated in 1912) to finish on top in ERA while performing for a last-place club.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that Friend gave up 63 earned runs in 200 innings for an earned run mark of 2.84. He had a 14-9 won-lost record.

Lefty Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox paced the American League with a 1.97 earned run average. He yielded 45 earned runs in 206 frames while winning 15 games and losing 10.

Friend who produced 2 shutouts and had 9 complete games, is the first Pirate hurler to lead in earned run averages since Cy Blanton, topped the National League with 2.59 in 1935.

Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves finished second to Friend in the National. He permitted 72 earned runs in 202 innings for a 3.21 ERA. Buhl won 13 games and dropped 11.

Don Newcombe of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers was third with 3.23. Warren Spahn, the Braves' veteran southpaw, was fourth with 3.26. He was followed by Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, 3.30; Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants, 3.35; and Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati, 3.47.

Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees was runner-up to Pierce in the American. He permitted 74 earned runs in 254 frames for a 2.62 ERA. He had 18 victories against 7 setbacks.

Early Wynn of Cleveland was third with 2.82. Then came Frank Sullivan, Boston Red Sox, 2.91; Ferns Sorensen, Cleveland 2.93; and Billy Hoelt, Detroit, with 2.99.

Pierce, 28, produced 6 shutouts and 16 complete games. His earned run mark is the lowest in the majors since Hal Newhouser of Detroit finished with 1.94 in 1946.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Santee, former Kansas miler and America's leader of the unsuccessful assault on the four-minute mile, and Fred Dwyer, will continue their indoor rivalry in the Olympic Carnival invitation mile Oct. 20 at Madison Square Garden.

Along with Santee and Dwyer in the mile event will be Billy Tidwell of Emporia Teachers Air Force Lt. Len Truex from Ohio State, Joe Lampierre, ex-Georgetown star of the Army and Horace Ashenreiter, 1952 Olympic steeplechase winner.

Needles, 2-year-old candidate for The Garden State, Oct. 29, is appropriately named. When he was five weeks old he was stricken with pneumonia and got his name from being stuck with so many needles.

The 25-year-old Miss Chadwick, who had swum the channel before in previous seasons, had hoped to make a nonstop round-trip this time, but gave up because of the cold water.

Williamston's conference hopes rest heavily on this approaching contest, making it one of the most important ones of the season. At the present, Coach Thrift's aggregation boasts a 1-1 record in loop play.

Hertford will be pointing for a victory and will be hard to beat, Coach Thrift said. They run the T formation and the single wing.

Ramblersville high school's Rams play host to Plymouth Friday night in a non-conference match.

Coach Bob Lee's charges finished up their conference slate last week with a win over Farmville and will play only outside teams for the remainder of the season. They racked up two wins and two ties in loop action.

Leading the attack against Plymouth will be Ram passer Murphy Smith, who downed Farmville last week on a 42 yard aerial. Providing protection for Smith and the other Ramblersville backs Friday night, will be big Everett James and Elton Robinson in the forward wall.

The Rams have been concentrating on offensive passing and running, during drills this week, and should be strong in the scoring department in the weekend contest.

RAE FOLEY

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

By the time Lois reached the village she was uncomfortably warm. The sun blazed down un-compromisingly. She walked slowly around the village green. In front of a small white house, freshly painted with flower beds arranged for self-conscious pretentiousness, she found the neat plaque, Mar-shall Thomas, M.D.

She knocked at the door and a motherly looking woman with a beaming face admitted her.

"May I see the doctor?"

"He's out on a house call but he'll be back at any minute." The woman opened the door of a room that originally had been a parlor and now was a doctor's waiting room. The furniture was heavy, old-fashioned. It was typical, Lois thought, of the old-time family doctor's waiting room. She wondered vaguely why she was surprised and then realized that so few things conform to type. This atmosphere had deliberately been created, she recalled Beattie's caustic comment. "He's so busy trying to be the old family doctor Roger made him out to be."

"Will you be comfortable?" the woman asked. "I'm Doc's wife, Helen Thomas. Do let me give you a glass of lemonade. I just made some." She bustled out, not waiting for a reply.

Lois stood looking out on the green. How curious, she thought, that everyone seemed to be wearing himself out, trying to be someone else. Mrs. Thomas was back almost at once with a frosty glass of lemonade. She settled herself comfortably in an old rocker.

"You're Mrs. Fleming, aren't you?" She laughed when she saw Lois' surprise. "Carol Brindle had supper-dinner, she calls it—with us last night. First time the poor girl's been anywhere since her great sorrow." Lois looked up quickly but Mrs. Thomas' face was bland as she employed Carol's own phrase. "She told us about you so I recognized you the minute you came up the steps. Short dark, curly hair, she said; though she kind of forgot to say you're pretty." This time the hostility crept through "She wanted Doc to help you any way he can. He'll be delighted."

"Doc's nice of him."

"Doc's only human. He can't say no to Carol any more than any other man can." She added without transition, "I hear the first Mrs. Brindle is back."

Lois made no comment. She was busy lighting a cigaret and trying to make herself secure on the slippery horsehair upholstery.

"One thing Carol couldn't be first in. She got Roger's second hand." When Lois made no reply Mrs. Thomas tried again. "I hear Shandy Stowe took to dinner last night. I always used to say, 'If there's something to be done, leave it to Jane.'"

She's trying to tell me something, Lois thought. How much does she know?

"That's quite a household for Carol to keep up," Mrs. Thomas remarked. "All Roger's waifs and strays, the Kibbees the Hatterys, Paula Case."

"I thought Paula was Mrs. Brindle's niece."

"Well, yes, but it was Roger's idea to bring her to the house when her parents died. He was the one to keep her there. I always say a married woman is asking for trouble when she brings a younger woman into her house. Not that Paula is any match for Carol, I can tell you. Paula cried her eyes out and Ethel Hattery went right straight into hysterics. He had to give her a hypodermic to quiet her." She added, "Of course Roger is the virtue type and she let the sentence fall. To her disappointment Lois did not pick it up.

"No, that Carol didn't act heart-broken," Mrs. Thomas tried again. "Only she didn't seem so—surprised, somehow." Her voice dwindled off and then she started on another tack. "Pity you weren't there for the funeral. People came from everywhere. Even brought out the Kibbee boy. First time I'd laid eyes on him." She added thoughtfully, "Gave me quite a shock."

A car stopped outside the house and Mrs. Thomas heaved herself out of the rocker to go to the window. "There's Doc now. I'll just tell him you're here." She went out and absentmindedly closed the door of the waiting room behind her. Lois heard a faint whispering in the hall, the door opened and Doc came in. Really, Lois thought, this is absurd. No county doctor ever looked as much like one as Dr. Thomas. He was short and plump and calculatedly untidy with a big booming laugh and a hearty bedside manner.

"Well Mrs. Fleming, glad to see you Helen told me you were here. Let's see what Doc can do for you." He fitted his hands neatly together and peered down over his spectacles. "Roger Brindle. If you read his column—and who didn't—you know he and I were— (Oh, no, don't say it. Lois protested in her mind)—"buddies," he finished inevitably. "Ever see him?"

"Only photographs."

"Big guy six-four, with a face like those carved on mountains. Rugged, you know. Everyone liked Roger. He had a kind of exuberance. A party always picked up when he came in. Tremendous vitality." He pondered for a moment. "You know, it's queer," he said in a tone of surprise. "It's kind of hard to quote him, to tell you things he said. Without his voice and his ways that don't sound like much. I don't know what there was about him—"

"It's hard to define the things that make personality," Lois agreed.

"I guess that's it. Well, I met him when he first came to Stovewille to be a reporter. He and his first wife were both working on the paper here. Understand Jane's come back."

Lois nodded.

"Smart newspaper man," he said. "Very nice person, if you know what I mean. Doc and his what broke up that marriage Roger never talked about it. Did him a lot of damage at the time but after he married Carol he was all right again. Gorgeous creature, Carol."

"She's a very pretty woman," Lois agreed.

"And Roger made a lot of her. Bought the Stowe house and gave her every single thing her heart desired. The Cases were poor as church mice but she's had it nice ever since she married. Don't know what the poor girl will do now. I'd have thought Roger would leave something. He was so successful." He made a juicy, mouth-filling word of successful, letting it linger on his palate savouring it. "Perhaps," Lois suggested carefully, "he thought he had plenty of time to make arrangements for her. He thought he was in good health."

Dr. Thomas gave her a quick look. "That old pump of his—I'd been warning him about that."

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the best stock market comebacks of 1955 was launched today after four straight daily declines.

Advances ran from around $1 to $3 a share as motors and steels stood out in a general rise.

In early afternoon General Motors was up $2.12 at $133.37, Bethlehem Steel $2.25 at $146.50, Du Pont $4.25 at $203.50, Westinghouse $1.15 at $36.75 and Standard Oil (N.J.) $2.50 at $1.25.50.

Chrysler went ahead $2. Sears Roebuck $2.62, Douglas Aircraft $2, Kennecott Copper $2.25, Union Carbide $2, Santa Fe $1.75, and Seaboard Railroad $2.50.

The ticker tape, which normally reports transactions within seconds, was late for a while in the early rush.

The market was higher from the opening. Trading was active despite New York's Columbus Day holiday but it didn't match yesterday's 3,500,000 shares.

Heavy Docket In County Court Is Heard Yesterday

Five cases were not pressed with leave yesterday during disposal of a heavy docket in County Court here.

The not pressed judgments were issued in the cases of Prince Grimes, 44, Negro, of 4 Reads Street, driving drunk; Henry Lee Brown, 17, Negro, of Winterville, driving after license revoked; Billie Bryant Vanford, 27, of 1523 Broad Street, driving careless and reckless and speeding 80 miles per hour and Ruth Marion Myers, 27, of Tarboro, no operator's license.

Rodgers Heading N. C. Association

James E. Rodgers, band director at Greenville High School, has been elected president of the North Carolina Bandmasters' Association.

Rodgers succeeds Gordon Nash of the Appalachian State Teachers College music department.

The local bandmaster was elected to the high office at a meeting of the North Carolina Music Education Association held in Greensboro Sunday and Monday.

That organization is composed of five sections: choral directors, band directors, orchestra directors, piano instructors, and classroom music teachers.

More than 100 band directors and instrument instructors from the state's high schools and colleges attended the band directors portion of the meeting.

Rodgers, who was vice president of the organization last year, is to serve in his new office for one year. He will preside over a number of functions of the association during his term of office.

Arrest 'Healer' In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A self-styled healer, police said, offered remedies for sickness, poverty, alcoholism, jealousy, evil influences, broken homes and love affairs.

Officers arrested David Genaro Troncoso, 32, and booked him on suspicion of malpractice of medicine last night. Literature listed Troncoso variously as a doctor of metaphysics, a psychologist, mentalist and doctor of divinity.

Police Lt. Frank Cunningham said a woman complained Troncoso threatened her when she told him she planned to go to police after his promise of "bringing her lover back from Mexico" failed to materialize.

Positions Open At Local Post Office; Applications Sought

The U. S. Civil Service Commission, Atlanta, Georgia, announces an open competitive examination for career or temporary appointment to the positions of substitute clerk and substitute carrier in the Greenville Post Office.

Applications will be accepted from persons who reside within the delivery of the Post Office or who are patrons of such office. Persons employed in the Post Office will be considered patrons of the office.

Necessary forms and further information may be obtained from the U. S. Civil Service Information Representative at the Greenville Post Office.

Princess And Capt. Townsend In London

LONDON (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend was due in London today, Princess Margaret tomorrow morning.

This much was fact. All else was speculation.

Is this the week of decision for the pretty sister of Queen Elizabeth II?

Will the world be told at last that she plans to marry the poor but handsome flying man—or that she doesn't?

Will they meet publicly for the first time in three years?

Outside the inner circle, nobody knows.

Even the brasher morning newspapers were reduced to telling the story in the form of questions and guesses.

Program On Fire Prevention Given At Meeting Of Local Rotary Club

A program on fire prevention highlighted the meeting of the Greenville Rotary Club Monday night as Buck Weaver, protection and labor supervisor at the Kingston Du Pont plant, addressed the club.

Weaver traced briefly the history of organized fire fighting units and the development of equipment used in combating fires.

He urged greater efforts on the part of individual citizens in fire prevention, pointing out that some 12,000 people die annually in fires in the United States. More than twice that many are severely burned, he added.

No Insurance Against Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A pair of television producers say that Lloyds of London, which insures most everything, won't insure against smog.

Max Siegel and Bob Finkel, coproducers of NBC-TV's Variety Hour, said the program this Sunday will originate in the Hollywood Bowl as a musical tribute to Rodgers and Hammerstein.

They feel that a heavy smog attack in the outdoor amphitheater could produce serious technical problems and give millions of viewers a somewhat blurry picture of California.

To Ask Disaster Funds For Roads

RALEIGH (AP)—The State Highway Commission plans to apply for federal disaster relief funds to help repair road and bridge damage caused by the hurricanes.

Highway Chairman A. H. Graham said yesterday that damage caused by hurricanes alone cost the highway system about $1,483,000. Pointing out that New England states are getting help, Graham said "I think some of our losses are just as critical as they had up there."

Ex-Airline Hostess To Be On TV Show

Mrs. Charles Silvester, the former Miss Muriel Showell of Greenville, will be the featured guest on the Family Para TV show over WNCN tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Silvester, who will be interviewed by Maryesta and Bill Norwood, will discuss "So You Want To Be An Airline Hostess." The show, which usually is seen from 2:30-3:00 p.m., is scheduled tomorrow for 2:00 o'clock.

A former airline hostess herself, Mrs. Silvester was employed by Eastern Airlines and was a supervisor of the training program in Miami. Before joining the airlines in July, 1953, Mrs. Silvester was a staff reporter on the Daily Reflector.

Appliance Dealers Elect Ass'n Officers

Robert Elks was elected chairman of the Greenville Appliance Dealers Association when that group met last night.

Norris Merritt was chosen vice chairman; Jesse Laughinghouse, treasurer; Mrs. Cora Powell and Mrs. Lois Fleming, secretaries.

The new officers were elected for one-year terms.

Ed Tipton is retiring chairman.

Thursday Will Be 'TB Day' In City

Tomorrow will be Tuberculosis Day in the city.

Mrs. J. B. Spilman, executive secretary of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association, has announced that tomorrow the Women's Club will be open all day while members of various women's clubs in Greenville stuff envelopes in preparation for the Christmas Seal sale which will begin November 16.

The campaign is sponsored locally by the Newcomers Club, assisted this year by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Various book clubs and civic organizations will be represented tomorrow when the members fill with Christmas seals the envelopes which have already been addressed by business education students at Greenville High School, under the direction of Miss Laura Bell.

Colored News

The 87th Annual Session of the Northeast "A" Division Conference will convene with Wilson Chapel Church, Wilson, Oct. 12-16. The moderator, Rev. S. Hemby, will deliver the message Sunday morning using as a subject "God's Divine Promise to the House of Israel."

There will be no services at English Chapel Monday morning, but services will be held by the pastor Sunday evening at 7:30, speaking on "A Real Worker For God."

AYDEN—The members of the Jolly Doers Club met on Wednesday night, Oct. 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Sealey, 810 Venter St., with the president, Mrs. L. P. Ormond, presiding. Each member present seemed eager to work. Committees were formed to begin work on the Christmas project.

Following the business session, the hostess, Mrs. Beattie Sealey, served a delicious repast.

The home was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gray in Winterville.
