Opinion Poll Given To McKeon Defense

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The Marine Corps was ordered today to let the defense in the trial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon see the results of an opinion poll of 27,000 Marines on how best to train fighting men.

LATE BULLETIN PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon today pleaded innocent to the main charges arising from the forced march in which he led six Marine recruits to death by drowning in a swamp last April 8.

McKeon is the 31-year-old former drill instructor from Worcester, Mass., who led six Marines to their deaths by drowning in a tidal marshland last April 8. The defense argued yesterday that the poll should be made available on the grounds that it would serve in some measure to explain McKeon's activities on that fatal night.

have declined to let defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York see the questionnaires on the grounds that they had no bearing on the case.

Navy Capt. Irving N. Klein, law officer at the court-martial, directed the Navy and the Marines to make the questionnaires available. Klein said the study "may be pertinent" to the trial of McKeon.

McJ. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill., prosecutor, told Klein he already had arranged with headquarters of the Marine Corps at Washington to let representatives of the defense inspect the files and also see the Marines' analysis of the poll. Yesterday's opening session of the court-martial ended on a big, unanswered question: Will the Marine commandant, Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, be called to testify? Klein, a Navy captain from New York City, yesterday suggested that the most direct way to find out about the survey would be to call Pate to testify. There had been considerable speculation that Pate might be summoned. Calling Pate would be in line with Berman's announced plan for McKeon's defense.

Sevier also said that yesterday's request for the names of all Marines discharged from Parris Island since Jan. 1 would likewise be made available to the defense. McKeon is charged specifically with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty.

Klein denied today a motion made by the defense to sever the drinking charges from the more serious accusations. Berman then moved to dismiss one of the drinking charges, that is, drinking in the presence of a recruit.

Under the Code of Military Justice, Berman said, there is no such offense. He said the too-broad application of that charge is "repugnant to American standards of justice and fair play," encouraging "government by caprice instead of government by law." Klein denied Berman's second motion to dismiss one of the drinking charges.

Predicts 2-1 Vote In House

Martin Predicts Friday Vote On Civil Rights Bill; Senate Fate Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican Leader Martin (Mass) predicted today the House will pass the civil rights bill by a margin of about 2-1. He said he expects a vote Friday.

Martin's forecast was made in talking with reporters after a conference of GOP congressional leaders with President Eisenhower. The measure is among those Eisenhower has said he wants Congress to pass before adjournment.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) said the bill could be passed in the Senate "if a filibuster can be averted." More than 20 members, some for but most against the bill, had asked for time to speak as the House started its second day of debate.

A 151-103 test vote yesterday on a procedural motion displayed what looked like a comfortable House majority for the bill, when and if it does come up for final passage.

Southern House members, confident that their Senate colleagues can kill the measure with a filibuster, nevertheless are fighting to delay it long enough in the House so it may not even get to the Senate floor before adjournment.

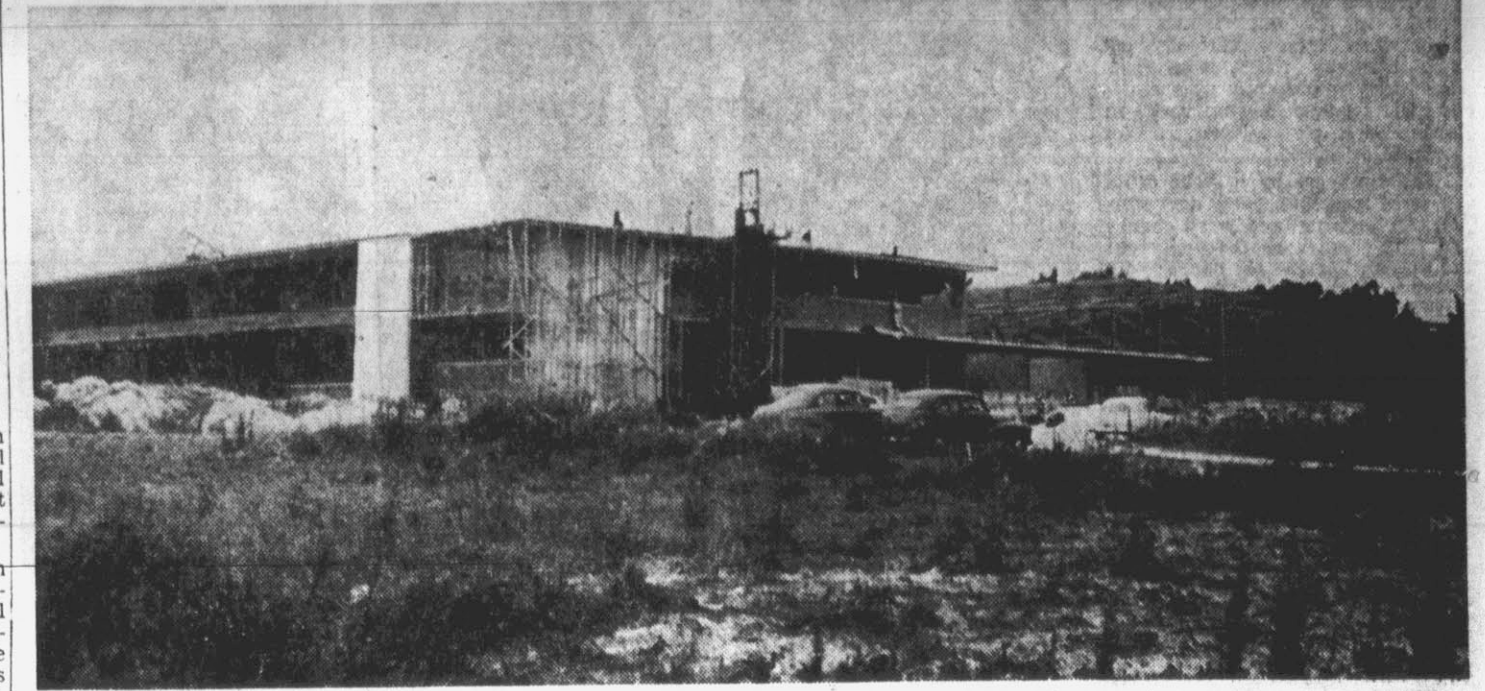

The Supreme Court's decision barring racial segregation of schools came into the debate at one point. Southerners asked whether the bill would enable the attorney general to file suits on behalf of Negro children denied admission to white public schools, even if the action were asked by an organization rather than the children or their families.

The bill would authorize suits on behalf of those whose civil rights are violated or threatened. Rep. Celler (D-NY), handling the bill, said he thought it would apply even if an organization made the request.

"Let us be frank," Celler said. He told his Southern colleagues he understands "it has never been easy to ask people to lay aside a way of life they have followed for generations."

But he said, "We must insist the Constitution cannot be one thing for one citizen and the opposite for another."

New Greenville High School Building Slowly Rising

PROGRESS SLOWS—Construction work on the new Greenville High School building has apparently slowed down in the past month, according to Superintendent J. H. Rose. Workers are presently putting the roof on the classroom unit (left). On the front of the building and just to the right of the classrooms is the library. The steel framework shown on the extreme right outlines the gymnasium, cafeteria and music department. Behind the gym and cafeteria will be physical education rooms and a kitchen. The auditorium will be built later on the front of the structure between the gym and the music department. (Reflector Photo by Edwina Haymes).

Search For Two Gunmen Ranges Into 3 Counties

FOUNTAIN—The search for two masked white men who robbed a farmer near here at gunpoint during the weekend is being pressed in a three-county area, Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson said this morning.

Sheriff Tyson said law enforcement authorities in Wayne and Wilson Counties are cooperating with the Pitt Sheriff's Department in the search for the two robbers. Also investigating is Clyde Fentress of the State Bureau of Investigation.

The masked pair, wearing what was described as army type fatigues, entered the home of W. H. Owens, near here Saturday night and made off with a safe containing $185. While in the house one of the two fired a pistol but neither Owens nor his granddaughter, who was with him at the time, were injured.

Officers are working on the theory that the two men who robbed Owens also held up and robbed two Negro men in Wilson County early Sunday morning.

One of the men Grady Sutton, Jr. of Lucama told officers he was parked when two men pushed pistols through his car window. He was robbed of $13.

A short while later a second man, David Brown, was robbed of 65 cents.

Sheriff Tyson said this morning that no trace of the safe taken from Owens' house had been found. Nor has any of the money in the safe turned up.

The sheriff said officers were unable to obtain the bullet which one of the two men fired in Owens' bedroom. The missile tore through the ceiling of the room and then went on through the roof of the house.

School's Building Progress Said Slow

By EDWINA HAYMES Reflector Staff Writer

Superintendent J. H. Rose has termed recent progress in the construction of the new Greenville High School building "disappointing."

Rose said considerable progress had been made on the building until about a month ago "when work apparently slowed down."

Contractor W. G. Dunn has promised the building will be ready for occupancy by January 1. Rose declared, "He's overly optimistic."

Workers are currently putting the roof on the classroom unit and steel framework for the remainder of the structure has been erected.

Contract for the $822,855 structure was let last week in June, 1955, and the contractor originally specified the building should be ready by November, 1956, or at least by January 1, 1957.

The new building, which will house the senior high school, is located across from Elm Street Park. It will be a fireproof brick structure containing 15 regular classrooms, three science classrooms, two home economics classrooms, three rooms for the commerce department, two and one-half band rooms, two vocal music rooms, a library, kitchen and cafeteria, gymnasium and offices.

Because bids on the building ran higher than was anticipated, construction of the auditorium is being omitted for the present. The school is planned for future expansion and additional wings may be added until there are 50 classrooms with accommodations for 1,500 students.

Junior High When the move is made to the new building, the old Greenville High School quarters on the corner of Fifth and Reade Streets will be used as a junior high school. However, plans call for eventually moving both the senior and junior high schools to the Elm Street structure and to close the present building as a school.

If the move to the new school is made in the middle of the school year, Rose said that in order to organize the staff properly the ninth grade will be moved along with the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. When school opens for the 1957-58 term, all seventh, eighth and ninth grades in the city will be located in the old building, making room for more elementary grades in the other schools.

Classes At present there is one seventh grade at Elmhurst, one at West Greenville, one at Third Street and two at Wail Coates. There are now three eighth grades at Greenville High School and one at Wail Coates. In addition, Rose said there is another eighth grade for the coming term which has not been placed in a school.

He pointed also to crowded conditions in the Elmhurst School, a new construction opened only last term, which was expected to take care of elementary classrooms, needs for some time to come. However, the school's 12 classrooms were filled last September with an overflow enrollment.

The superintendent stated that for the coming term there will be two additional fourth grades at the school and to accommodate them the library will be put to use as a classroom. The books will be moved to the foyer adjoining the school office until the new high school building is completed and the present seventh grade at Elmhurst can be moved to the junior high school building.

Aver Eisenhower Shows New Vigor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders reported today President Eisenhower looks "much better" and acts with more vigor than he did when he saw them a week ago in Gettysburg, Pa.

GOP leaders conferred with the President at the White House on the legislative program at a time when the Democratic National Committee was raising new questions about Eisenhower's health and demanding that his doctors be questioned publicly.

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, assistant Republican leader in the Senate, said Eisenhower's color was a good deal better than when the leaders met with him in Gettysburg.

It was after last week's meeting that Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate minority leader, announced Eisenhower was staying in the race for re-election despite his June 9 intestinal operation.

"The President seemed much stronger and more vigorous," Saltonstall said. "He looks fine."

Three other Republican senators said in separate interviews that Eisenhower can be trusted to keep the American people fully informed about his health.

Senators Bricker (Ohio), Watkins (Utah) and Schoeppel (Kan.)

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty declined comment on the article. But he said in answer to questions that no news conference with the doctors was planned and he didn't think any was called for. He has previously noted that the doctors spent an hour talking with newsmen on the day of the operation.

Prisoner Dies In Central Prison

RALEIGH (AP)—A 33-year-old Negro prisoner died in the Central Prison hospital yesterday of a ruptured appendix.

The Prisons Department identified him as James H. Gillyard of Charlotte who was sentenced from Mecklenburg in August, 1953, to 10-15 years for involuntary manslaughter.

He was carried to Central Prison from the Forsyth County prison camp after complaining of stomach pains.

Calls Income Tax Vicious And Evil

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Former Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews says the federal income tax is "vicious and evil."

"The income tax is such an evil thing," he said, "that I doubt whether anyone can patch it up in such a way that we can live with it."

One of his chief objections, he told the Beverly Hills Rotary Club, is that the income tax deprives Americans of rights guaranteed by Article IV of the Bill of Rights, which states that citizens shall be secure against unreasonable searches and seizures.

Senate Overrides Opposition, OK's Sobeloff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff at last can serve on the court to which he was appointed a year ago.

Opposition, the Senate last night voted 69-19 to confirm President Eisenhower's nomination of Sobeloff to be a judge of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

House Approves Military Bill Minus Veto Provisos

WASHINGTON (AP)—With unprecedented speed, the House today passed a $2,138,836,000 military construction bill stripped of provisions which drew a presidential veto yesterday.

The bill now goes to the Senate. The House action was taken by unanimous consent with only about 100 members on the floor.

It came shortly after the Armed Services Committee had approved a measure lacking two provisions objected to by the President.

These would have required the Defense Department to set approval of the Senate and House Armed Services Committees before going ahead with contracts for Talos missile sites and for construction of government-insured housing for servicemen's families.

Except for eliminating these two provisions, the new bill is identical to the one vetoed. It authorizes construction of hundreds of projects at military bases in the United States and abroad.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee told the House the committee promptly would draft a bill giving Congress "some supervision" over the program.

The President objected that the original measure was an invasion of the constitutional powers of the executive branch of government.

Vinson told the committee prior to the House action that he does not agree with President Eisenhower's contention that Congress breached "the fundamental constitutional principles of separation of power" when it passed the original bill.

Eisenhower's veto said the features of the bill to which he objected "would destroy the clear lines of responsibility which the Constitution provides" and gives the committee "authority to nullify congressional authorization."

There were no indications that the House would refuse to pass the new bill, and the signs pointed also to quick Senate approval.

The legislation involved provides authority for the Army, Navy and Air Force to build new facilities at hundreds of installations in the United States and abroad. It provides no appropriation, but the money for some of the projects is carried in a separate measure already passed by the Senate and the House and now in conference.

The language to which the President objected in effect reserved to the Talos missile or to family Services Committee veto authority over any construction relating to the Talos missile or family housing units for military personnel.

day to act on the committee's recommendations. The chief recommendations call for amending the State Constitution to:

1—Permit the paying of state funds to individual children to attend private schools if they don't want to attend integrated public schools.

2—Permit a local school unit to vote to close its public school if conditions become intolerable.

Carlyle, a former state senator and a critic of the proposals, commented, "Running through much of the proposed legislation is the term 'child of another race.' This seems to indicate that the laws are based upon racial differences for the purpose of preserving segregation in the schools by public funds furnished by the state.

"It still seems to me that this procedure is of doubtful legality and will probably be held invalid by the Supreme Court of the United States."

Rodman asserted the plan meets federal court requirements in that it does not involve discrimination against Negro children.

Poland Will Try 387 For Revolt

VIENNA (AP)—Communist Poland announced today that 387 persons will be brought to trial for last month's uprising at Poznan.

Prosecutor Marian Rybicki, in a report quoted by the official Polish news agency PAP, said 323 would be tried on charges of armed attacks on public buildings and the public authorities.

Rybicki said another 64 persons would be tried for looting during the three-day workers' rebellion which began June 28.

"So far it has been impossible to determine who opened fire first," the report said.

No date was given for the trials. There was no indication what the maximum penalties might be. The report added that another 33 persons under arrest were prison inmates released by the rioters.

Rybicki also reported that the "final toll for the uprising is 53 dead and 300 wounded." Poland's state radio previously had put the total at 48 dead, but Western travelers give estimates ranging from 200 to 1,000 dead. The Westerners also reported thousands of persons were arrested.

The prosecutor said nine of the dead were soldiers or police, that no women were killed and that the youngest victim was a 13-year old boy. This statement was designed to counter travelers' reports that a number of women and children were shot down.

Selling Bonds In About 45 Days

Final sale of the $275,000 in bonds which Greenville voters recently approved for capital improvements should come within about 45 days, City Manager Leonard Bloxam said today.

The fact that the bond election has been certified by the City Council is now being advertised, according to the city manager. Then a statement of bonded indebtedness will be forwarded to the Local Government Commission.

Bond attorneys will advertise the sale of the bonds in financial publications and bids for the purchase of the bonds will be accepted by the attorneys. The bonds will be sold on the basis of the best interest rate obtainable.

In the meantime city officials are in the process of making detailed specifications covering the purchase of equipment and in the near future final engineering studies are to be made on drainage projects, Bloxam said.

Discuss Plans For Civil Defense Test

The Civil Defense Committee last night at the City Hall to decide on the action that would be taken in the event an atomic bomb were dropped in the Norfolk, Virginia area.

Friday, July 20, is the day that has been designated by national Civil Defense headquarters as the day of a nationwide simulated atom bomb attack.

Civil Defense, along with the remainder of the committee, decided to publicize the nationwide "Operation Alert" at which time emphasis would be given to the public's use of conrad stations, and that sometime Friday afternoon the fire whistle would blow the alert—"33"—which is a signal for mobilization of the voluntary Civil Defense personnel in Greenville.

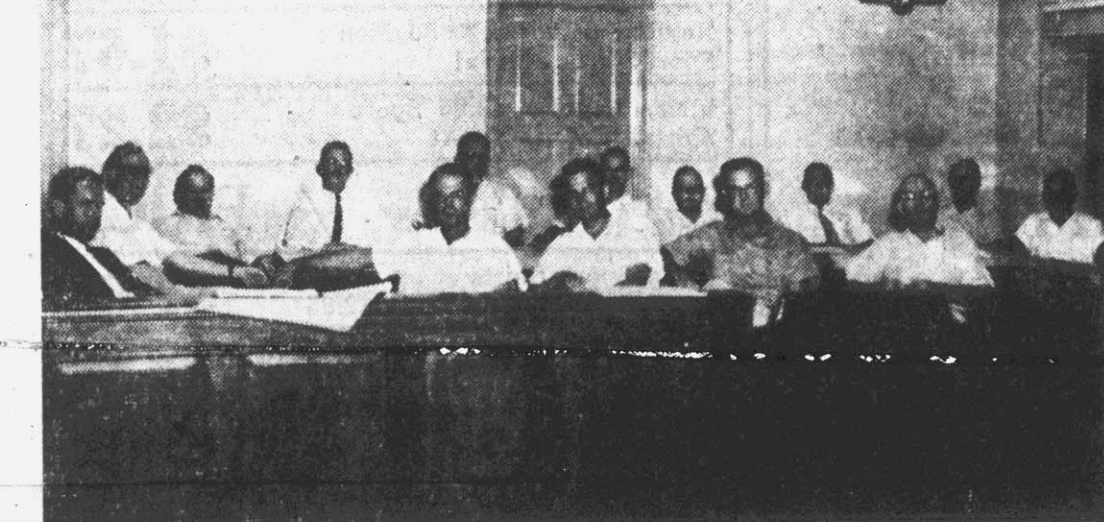

In cooperating in this nationwide alert, Civil Defense officials request that the public not become alarmed when local radio and TV stations go off the air for 15 minutes Friday afternoon (3:10 to 3:25) and that those interested should tune to the conrad frequencies for purpose of familiarizing themselves with instructions that may be given in an emergency.

New Attacks On German Women Charged GIs

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Two more attacks on German women were reported today as the Bavarian government mapped action "to protect the life and safety of German citizens" from violence by American troops.

The new reports from Nuernberg added fuel to the growing resentment against American troops in a series of crimes charged to U.S. servicemen stationed in Germany.

Nuernberg police said a soldier in civilian clothes tried to assault a 19-year-old nursemaid near an Army post but fled when the girl's screams attracted attention.

Elegance Is The Word For Fall Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
COME OUT of that slouch, girls! Pin up your back hair, lift your chin and prepare to be a lady in the fall.

You can't indulge in the careless look if you're going to wear the new fall fashions. They are strictly for careful girls, who mind their manners, watch their posture, keep their figures in trim and never forget their hat and gloves.

There's a new elegance and formality in the fall fashion picture, with dresses carefully cut and carefully fitted, with hats big and important, with full-length evening gowns back in style, with clothes planned for definite occasions.

You can't get by in your office dress at a cocktail party next winter, for instance, and you'll change for the theater or for going out to dinner. For the big dance you'll wear a long dress, with maybe a coordinated long evening coat, if you can afford it.

You'll wear a more elaborate hairdo, and top it with a more elegant hat. You'll be careful of your makeup and your manicure, and you'll never go out with crooked stocking seams.

For there definitely is a new mood in fashion—a ladylike mood, and end to the tomboy era. Probably manners will grow more formal, along with fashions, and people may even use calling cards again.

Suits are short-jacketed, usually with unaccented waistlines and Empire feeling. Skirts are slim, sometimes with panel backs or low-placed back interest.

Fabrics are rich and handsome, with new importance directed toward velvets and satins, laces and embroideries, metallic brocades and heavy silks. For suits there are cloud-light tweeds and other woolsens, sometimes blended with silk. Coat fabrics also show a new elegance, with a new restraint in texture, often with fur collars, cuffs or border.

It is the beginning of a new era, when fashion looks backward.

OLEG CASSINI... Horsy look in a saddle tan corduroy sheath with brass-buttoned plastron.

GEORGE CARREL... Back panels distinguish a fall suit with belt laced through brass-buttoned tabs.

HARVEY BERIN... Ladylike look is gray tissue tweed dress. Scissor overskirt, braid trim.

CEIL CHAPMAN... Nostalgic white satin sheath embroidered in bugle beads and rhinestones.

Take Good Manners On Trip When Going To Visit Friends

Going away for the weekend? Or perhaps you've been invited to spend a long vacation period with the family of your best friend.

A house visit obligates a guest. The fact that you've accepted an invitation indicates you've made a contract to be on your best behavior, and to observe the household routine. Here are some points to remember...

1. Arrive on the train, plane, bus or other conveyance at the time they expect to meet you. If you do change your plans, inform your hostess immediately.
2. You should have all the necessities with you—toothpaste, comb, brush, nightgown, negligee, slippers, cosmetics. If you forget something, buy a replacement at the first opportunity.
3. Keep your room clean. Do not expect your hostess' mother to clean up after you. Make your bed each day as soon as possible. Pick up your clothes, put them on hangers and put them in the closet.
4. Use cleansing tissues to remove your makeup. Do not smear lipstick on towels or use them for shining shoes.
5. A good hostess will tell you the mealtime schedule the first day. You are supposed to observe it. If she is kind enough to suggest you sleep late in the morning, try not to overdo it. She may want you to eat breakfast in your room if the family eats early, however.
6. They should tell you what the household plans are insofar as entertainment goes. If the family invites you to go dancing or swimming, it's a good idea to fall in with the plan. Don't hold out for bicycle riding, even if that is your fondest exercise.
7. Observe good table manners. If you are unsure of yourself, borrow an etiquette book from the library. Learn to butter small bits of bread instead of the entire slice, to eat your soup with the spoon scooping it up away from you.
8. Try to keep out of the way in between times. Your hostess' mother would like you out of sight when the house is being cleaned, and she'd like you out of your room long enough to vacuum it during your stay, no doubt.
9. It's a good idea to get in the habit of being helpful. Offer to remove the dishes from the table, to wash or dry them, if it is that kind of household. If the family has help, they'd probably like it if you'd stay out of the kitchen.
10. Be sure to take a warm sweater or stole, low shoes for play, your own notepaper and fountain pen.
11. It's a good idea to bring your hostess' mother a little gift. If you do not, be sure to send her a bouquet or nosegay of flowers when you get home. In any case you should get your thank-you note off as soon as possible.
12. If you and your hostess date in the evenings, it's wise to observe the curfew laid down by her parents. You can be assured that you will never get another invitation to their household if they must be put in the position of unusual responsibility for you.
13. If they invite you to extend your stay, be sure to let your parents know by telephone or telegraph if a letter will not arrive home in time.
14. You should tell your hostess the train you plan to get on the day they expect you to leave, so that they do not have to ask you.
15. A cheerful attitude should be maintained throughout your stay, and when you leave act like you've had a glorious time even if you haven't.

A Degree In Cooking For The Modern Chinese Chef

By BILL W. DEAN
OMAHA (AP)—Bill Chin is an up-to-the-minute version of a familiar figure in American history: the Chinese cook.

Bill has become the first man to get a degree in home economics from the University of Omaha.

Bill is 38 and admits "raising a family interrupted my education several times." He and his wife, Kathleen, have three children, ages 5 through 7.

Chin comes straight from the tradition of the Chinese restaurant. He is a member of the family which operates Omaha's well-known King-Fong Restaurant.

But the urge to do something more with cooking came to Chin while he was an Army cook on the World War II battlefields of Tunisia.

"It occurred to me that making food look good wasn't enough," he recalls. "I wanted to get more out of the food."

His first move was to go to a chef's school in Europe, to learn the art of making sauces.

Then, after some prodding by his father-in-law, Dr. S. A. Mahuran, a Penn State professor, Bill decided to go to college.

The urge to get more out of food accounts for Bill getting not only a home economics degree but also what is known as "an associate title in foods and nutrition," indicating two years of study in that field.

To keep his family together while he was studying, Bill Chin has worked as head night chef at Omaha's big downtown American Legion Club.

For the time being he's going to stick to that job.

"Eventually though, I'd like to either teach or manage a restaurant," he says. "The field is so wide open for men it's really hard to decide."

Jellied Pineapple Salad
Cake Squares Beverage

JELLED PINEAPPLE SALAD
Ingredients: 3-4 cup cold water, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 cup very hot water, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 3-4 cup thinly sliced well-drained canned pineapple chunks, 1-4 cup finely grated carrot, 1-4 cup finely diced green pepper, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Method: Put cold water in a medium-sized mixing bowl; sprinkle gelatin over surface of water and allow to soften. Add very hot water; stir until gelatin dissolves. Add sugar; stir until sugar dissolves. Stir in lemon juice and salt. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in pineapple, carrot and green pepper until well distributed. Turn into individual molds or into a 7-inch square cake pan. Chill until set. Turn out of molds; if square pan is used, cut into portions and remove with wide spatula. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

Irving Coburns Fete Canasta Club

ROBERSONVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Irving Coburn entertained the Canasta Club Wednesday night at their home on Main Street.

For this occasion greenery was used in brass ferneries and red rose buds completed the decorations.

At 8 o'clock the members and one guest, Mrs. Walter Swindell, drew for partners and then took their designated places at the tables set up in the living room and dining room.

After the first progression, the hostess served sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, olives, cookies, salted peanuts, Coca-Colas and Pepsi-Colas.

Dishes of assorted candy were enjoyed during the games. Prizes are not given in this club.

Washington Boasts Two Who Resemble Princess

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—For many months now, two of the town's leading socialites, blonde, serenely beautiful, elegant in dress and manner, have been causing some who don't know them to do a double-take, even ask them for their autographs.

They look so much like actress Grace Kelly.

One is young Mrs. Stanley Rumbough Jr., who actually is being talked of as successor to the internationally famous, Oscar-winning Hollywood star who became the bride of Prince Ranier of Monaco. Using the stage name of Dina Merrill, she is already successfully launched on a TV theatrical career.

Mrs. Rumbough is the former Nadina Hutton, daughter of the fabulously wealthy Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post. Her husband, a former White House staffer, now is an industrialist.

Mother of three children, Lee, 8, David, 6, and Nina, 3, Dina makes her home in nearby Bethesda, Md., and commutes by plane to New York for her TV performances. She has always wanted to be on the stage and began her career about the same time Grace Kelly did, in the late '40s, by touring in USO shows and playing in professional stock companies in the East.

The other Kelly look-alike is the lovely wife of the Belgian ambassador, Baroness Robert Silvercruys. She says on a cross-country trip she made with her husband a couple of years ago she was often stopped by bobby-soxers asking for her autograph. She says she didn't disappoint them. She just signed "Grace Kelly."

The baroness wears her long golden hair brushed back from her perfectly-featured face into a thick bun. Both she and Mrs. Rumbough have made Washington's best-dressed lists. The Washington-born former Rosemary Turner was first married in 1940 to the late Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) and has a daughter by this marriage. A year after McMahon died of cancer in 1952 she married the handsome and extremely wealthy diplomat and is one of the most popular and talented hostesses on Embassy Row.

Club Cites Traffic Problems

The Greenville Credit Women's Breakfast Club held a regular meeting Saturday morning at the Olde Towne Inn.

Following a routine business session, Mrs. Ruebelle Crawford, chairman of state traffic safety project, conducted an open forum for members to air their grievances on city and highway traffic problems most encountered.

Mrs. Crawford reported that the safety traffic slogans furnished for the project were broadcast over Radio Station WGTO during the month of June.

Tentative plans were made for a joint highway safety meeting with Kinston, Wilson, Rocky Mount and Goldsboro clubs to be held in Greenville.

President Henrietta Johnson reported on Ground Observer Defense meeting held by the B.P.W. Club and attended by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mary Dell Seymour. Members who can assist with the Ground Observer Corps are asked to contact Miss Elizabeth Deal.

Members were invited to attend Rocky Mount Club's birthday dinner and the Wilson Club's annual picnic on July 18.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Polly Dail, Mrs. Ruth Braddy, Mrs. Emma Lee Schmidt and Mrs. Lillian Earl Hawkins.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Polly Dail, Mrs. Lillian Earl Hawkins, Mrs. Cassie Sawyer, Mrs. Louise Wilson and Mrs. Ruebelle Crawford.

ADD COLOR

Quilted nylon or cotton plisse liners add a pretty touch to baby's bassinet and require little upkeep. Either kind can be washed through soap or detergent suds, rinsed, and wiped dry—ready for use again without ironing.

NEW FAVORITE

A new warm weather favorite is the lightweight cotton quilted skirt that launders easily in soap or detergent suds and dries "ready to wear!"

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
July 17, 1926

On last evening, Mrs. C. W. Willard entertained the members of the Junior B.Y.P.U. of the Immanuel Baptist Church at a lawn party. About 25 were present. Upon arrival the little guests were welcomed by Mrs. Willard and served fruit punch, after which they were invited out on the lawn, where a number of games were played. George Wilkerson, winning first prize in the "Cat's-Meow," was presented a book of "Stories of the Wild West," and little Miss Gladys Bowen, winner of second prize, was presented a jar of peppermints. At the close of the games an ice course was served, after which all the Juniors joined in singing several of the B.Y.P.U. songs. At 10 o'clock, the Juniors bade their hostess goodnight with three rousing cheers for her hospitality.

Open House Is Held At Manse

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward C. Thornburg entertained at open house Sunday evening following the ordination and installation service of the Rev. Mr. Thornburg as pastor of Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church.

Greeting guests at the church manse, 209 Church Street, were the Rev. and Mrs. Thornburg. Members of the Women of the Church received in the dining room where punch was poured by Mrs. H. M. Holbert. Guests were also served cookies and mixed nuts.

An arrangement of dahlias was used as the focal point in the dining room. Candles in crystal holders furnished illumination.

Among some eighty guests who called during the evening were the Rev. J. Malloy Owen, III, the Rev. Tom Davis, executive secretary of Albemarle Presbytery, the Rev. Robert Henderson of Raleigh, minister to Presbyterian students at N. C. State College, and the Rev. James B. Ficklen, pastor of Howard Memorial Church of Tarboro.

Mewborns Hosts At Supper Party

GRIFTON—Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mewborn were hosts on Friday night at a supper party for members of their contrast club and other guests.

Arrangements of yellow mums were used in the living room, and in the dining room a color note of pink was carried out. The table was covered with a pink linen cloth and held pink gladioli. Tall pink candles in crystal candelabra graced the buffet.

After supper bridge was played at three tables with highest scorers being Mrs. H. C. Oglesby and Cecil Cobb. Mrs. H. P. Quinerly was given the visitors prize. Others playing were Miss Bert Johnson, Mr. Oglesby, Mrs. Cob, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Bisette.

Social Notes

Mrs. N. A. Roebuck, 1007 W. 3rd St., is a patient at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. P. M. Moore, Mrs. McAlvin Turner, Miss June Turner, Carl Turner and Mackie Turner, all of Greenville, have returned from Quincy, Fla. where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Moore's son, Lt. Harvey D. Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith and daughter Nancy are visiting Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Estelle Smith, 211 E. 8th Street.

Dinner Fetes Henry Everett

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Henry Everett honored her husband with a birthday dinner Sunday. Their home on Green Street was decorated with many arrangements of flowers for the occasion.

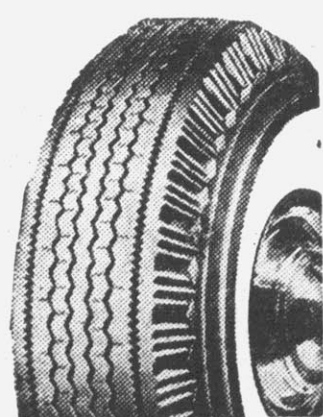

The dining table was centered with a large cake iced in green and white. The cake featured a scroll design around the sides, a spray of white roses and the inscription "Happy Birthday, Dad!"

Mayor Everett had the pleasure of unwrapping many gifts from friends and relatives.

Guests on this special occasion were his daughter, Mrs. Alvin Hasty, Mr. Hasty and Miss Pat of Rocky Mount; his son, Marvin M. Everett Sr. and his wife of Robersonville; Mrs. Henry Everett's daughter, Mrs. Carlton Cozart, Mr. Cozart and Morris from Greenville.

Writes Basic Rules On Growing Old Gracefully

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pull up an easy chair, dad—you too, mom—and listen to what a learned lady has to say about the problem of growing old.

Dr. Maria Schnee Haynes has come up with a set of basic rules on how to be happy, though slightly decrepit.

Mrs. Haynes, an attractive Australian-born matron in her early 40s, recently completed three years of study for her Ph. D. degree at UCLA and starts soon as a professor.

Her research also sheds important light on how oldsters have been treated through the ages.

Senior citizens of ancient Rome were revered—no else. A Roman father had absolute authority. If his son kept the family chariot out all night, he could be murdered or sold to Carthage.

The Greeks, Mrs. Haynes found, were more like us. Sons were allowed more say once they reached majority. Dad was respected, not worshipped.

The Middle Ages took it out on the old folks. Physical failings were regarded as just punishment for youthful sins.

Youth never had it so good, perhaps, until the present.

Which brings us to Dr. Haynes' suggestions.

1. When you are young, find out what qualities in old people are admired by the young. Remember them.
2. Never praise the good old days. Live in the present.
3. Learn early in life how to be well-balanced emotionally, how to control anger. Oldsters who aren't upset by unpleasant events, who can deal with crises wisely, are sought out by young people as sources of advice and strength.
4. Keep alive intellectually. This means not only reading and other cultural activities but maintaining a lively interest in all things going on around you.
5. Maintain strict adherence to principles of personal hygiene. Neat personal appearance and good table manners make oldsters attractive to the younger generation.
6. Lay a groundwork early in life. You can't be a pleasant old man or woman unless you cultivate these qualities long before you grow old. They don't come naturally with age.

Doctor Advises Save Hair By Relaxation

LONDON (AP)—Dr. S. J. Van Pelt advises bald-headed men that relaxation is the best way to keep a head of hair.

"Relaxing is probably the best restorer of hair," he said. "relaxation will dispel tension and give the hair a chance."

Van Pelt is president of the British Society of Medical Hypnotists.

"Raising hope," he said in an interview, "may even raise hair. So, avoid depressing remarks about baldness being inevitable or hereditary. Hope yourself into a head of hair."

It was suggested that the doctor take a look at the reporter's bald dome.

"Well," said Van Pelt, hedging a little, "you can always hope, but, er, frankly, you perhaps should have started hoping some years ago. However, don't give up. Just keep thinking you have lots of hair."

Van Pelt said not many facts are known about baldness, "but one thing is certain — there are more bald-headed men than bald-headed women."

He said men tend to bottle up their emotions, whereas women are more likely to let go and obtain relief in a flood of tears.

"Men use their brains more than women," he said. "No doubt increased brain activity drains blood from the scalp and starves the hair."

The doctor said that men who can let themselves go and express

Barnes Again To Head Fire Ass'n

Leroy Barnes, veteran Greenville Negro volunteer fireman, was reelected president of the North Carolina Volunteer Fire Association, at the 66th annual convention at Warrenton last week. John Bizzell was reelected recording and corresponding secretary.

The association will hold its next convention in Wilson in 1957.

Capt. Heber Green announced the Greenville firemen won the prize for being the best dressed volunteer fire unit in the annual parade.

Two Greenville firemen won the foot race. Bennie Wilson did it in 10 and one-tenth seconds; George Hunt Jr., in 10 and three-quarter seconds.

In addition to Leroy Barnes and Heber Green, Greenville Ruff and Ready Fire Company men who attended the convention were Marion Forbes, Bennie Wilson, Grant Wilcox, George Hunt, Leroy Whitehurst, Edmond Love, Willie Woolen, James Hagan, Joe Lee Joyner, Frank Gray, Jack Ray Moye, Reginald Grave, Alfred B. Barnhill, James Holliday and John H. Bizzell.

Wake Forest firemen won the grab 50-yard reel run in 20 3-4 seconds. Greenville, 23, Wilson, 23, and Warrenton had no time.

Wilson firemen won the 100-yard fire truck run in 19 1/2 seconds; Warrenton, 21; Wake Forest and Greenville, no time.

A record, 4,758 book titles were published in Sweden in 1955.

Crime Is Linked To Schooling

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The amount of crime in this country is closely related to the degree of education, according to a report by the government statistical office.

During 1955, 27,943 persons were sentenced for various crimes.

Of these 9,541 had no school instruction; 8,988 went to school three years; 3,200 had six years of schooling; 260, nine years; 53 went to university and 52 completed professional training. No scholastic record was available for the others.

Group From East Carolina College To Attend 'Night' At Lost Colony

Several persons from the East Carolina College community, representing administration, faculty, students and alumni will join in the East Carolina College Night program at The Lost Colony on Roanoke Island Friday.

Joint sponsorship of this special event is announced by the management of The Lost Colony and the East Carolina College Alumni Office. Many persons are expected to be present for the brief ceremonies preceding the Friday evening performance, as well as for the play itself.

East Carolina President J.D. Messick, as guest of honor, will speak briefly during the ceremonies. A musical prelude by East Carolina singers in The Lost Colony choir will be presented under the direction of Dr. Elwood Keister, conductor and member of the East Carolina College music faculty.

The Lost Colony, America's symphonic drama written by Paul Green, is being directed again by Clifton Britton, East Carolina alumnus who worked in dramatic productions before and during his student days here.

Arrangements for the East Carolina Night are being perfected by Richard E. Jordan, general manager of The Lost Colony, and Alumni Secretary James W. Butler of the college. Many alumni of

Duck Jailed As Peace Disturber

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Can you have a duck jailed for disturbing the peace?

It happened to Mandy, the duck from Glen Providence Park, which wandered too far from home and quacked too loud and too long. And at night, too. A resident complained. The prowl car came and Mandy went to jail.

James Stokes, the park's caretaker who sprung Mandy from the clink the next morning, said: "We've got a pond, good feed and conditions ideal for ducks. I can't understand Mandy."

TO SHAME MEN! STILLWATER, OKLA. (AP)—Nelda Ruth Snodgrass, Oklahoma A & M freshman from Wagoner, can put to shame many of Oklahoma's male marksmen. The brunette coed has seven wins in southwestern rifle meets, and recently scored 40 bulls-eyes in 40 shots to win first place in a National Rifle Assn. contest for women.

Illinois Auditor Resigns Under Fire Of Probers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, 52-year-old reputed millionaire, quit under fire yesterday as Illinois state auditor amidst an investigation of alleged financial irregularities involving more than half a million dollars.

The resignation climaxed a scandal in the auditor's office which jolted the GOP administration of Gov. William G. Stratton and which could have an effect on the November presidential and state elections in Illinois.

Hodge, leading vote getter on the state GOP ticket four years ago, also withdrew as the party's nominee for re-election and as delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention.

The resignation, announced at a news conference by Stratton, came several hours after a Sangamon County grand jury began its investigation of Hodge's tangled financial affairs.

State's Atty. George P. Contrakon, also a Republican, said the jury is looking into reports that at least 42 state warrants (checks) issued by Hodge's office were cashed under "questionable circumstances."

Contrakon placed their total value at $544,000. Hodge's resignation came some two months after a newspaper reader appeared at the Chicago Daily News offices and told an editor he thought there was something worth investigating about Hodge.

That tip set the newspaper on the trail of alleged irregularities in the state auditor's office. Other newspapers soon joined in the search for information.

Stratton, who previously had served an ultimatum on Hodge to get out of office and off the GOP state ticket, accepted the resignations, effective immediately.

The governor technically has no direct control over the state auditor, an elected official.

Hodge, who amassed his fortune through real estate and insurance business operations, was visibly shaken as he left the executive mansion conference.

"I'm beat, fellows," he told newsmen. Then he added: "But I didn't kill anybody, did I?"

It apparently marked the end of Hodge's aspirations for the governor's chair in the 1960 elections. He made a try for the nomination in 1952 but stepped aside for Stratton and ran for auditor. Stratton is seeking re-election this year.

The resignation halted a 11 money disbursing functions of state government, pending appointment of a successor. This included pay checks to state employees and to recipients of various forms of relief.

Hodge has been subpoenaed to testify next Monday before the Sangamon County grand jury, holding its deliberations in Springfield, the state capital.

Yesterday's opening jury session ran into difficulties at its outset. Edward A. Hintz, who resigned Friday as president of Chicago's Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., was not permitted to testify after he declined Contrakon's demand that he waive immunity.

Hintz said he was "ready and willing" to testify, but his attorneys asserted he had not "profited financially" by any transactions with the state auditor's office and should not be compelled to sign a waiver.

Such a waiver would permit the state to use a person's statements as evidence in the trial of any charge brought against him.

Contrakon said many of the state warrants were cashed at Hintz's bank under "questionable circumstances."

The Daily News, in its investigation, said most of the state warrants were cashed by persons other than the payees authorized on the warrants.

ELIZABETHTOWN — "I'm using last year's fertilizer for this year's tobacco crop," says Willie McNeill of the Dublin community.

US Charges Soviet Union Holding American Fliers; Ask Accounting

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States has charged that the Soviet Union is holding American airmen from two—and possibly more—downed U.S. planes.

A note from the U.S. Embassy to the Soviet Foreign Ministry called on the Soviet government to make a thorough investigation. It asked that the United States be informed of progress as soon as possible.

Cited specifically were the crews of a U.S. Navy Privateer that went down in the Baltic Sea area April 8, 1950, and a U.S. Air Force B29 lost June 13, 1952, over the Sea of Japan or near the Kamchatka area of Soviet Siberia.

The B29 carried 12 men and the Privateer 10. The note said the United States had been informed and was "compelled to believe" that some of the crew members from the two planes are being held by the Soviets.

"It may well be" the note went on, "that the Soviet government has in its custody members of other United States aircraft, particularly crew members of aircraft engaged on behalf of the United Nations Command side of the military action in Korea since 1950."

The note explained that the U.S. government for some time has received information from persons freed from Soviet imprisonment that they had "conversed with, seen or heard reports" concerning American airmen "in actual detention in the Soviet Union."

The note explained that the U.S. government is not able to identify by name these American nationals now detained by the Soviet government, it requests the Soviet government to inform the United States government in detail concerning each American military person who has been detained in the Soviet Union at any time since Jan. 1, 1949, of whom the United States government has not heretofore been informed.

The note declared that at least one airman believed to be from the Navy Privateer was reported seen at a camp near Talshtet, in eastern Siberia, and at a collective farm in that area in 1950 and 1953. Reports have been received, the note continued, that as many as eight Americans, also believed to be members of the Privateer crew, had been seen in the Vorkuta area in September 1950.

Referring to the B29, the note said an officer believed to have been a member of its crew was reported seen in October 1953 in a hospital at Narionburg, north of Magadan near the crossing of the Kolyma River.

The 10 crew members aboard the Navy plane were listed as: Lt. John Henry Fette, Connellsville, Pa.; Lt. Howard William Seeschaf, Arlington, Va.; Lt. (J.G.) Robert Duward Reynolds, Danville, N.Y.; Ens. Tommy Lee Burgess, Osawatimie, Kan.; Technician 3.C.M. Edward Joseph Purcell, Rt. 1 Southwestville, N.J.; Aviation Machinists Mate 1.C. Your Spare Wheel Called Vacationtime Life Raft

BOSTON (AP)—Remember, folks, you have your own private life raft with you when you drive to lake or seashore this summer. It's your spare auto wheel.

The Institute for Safer Living, sponsored by the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., says tests have proved that the spare wheel, with tire fully inflated, can be a satisfactory ring preserver, and that it can be used as a life raft to support, readily, three or four persons.

It is highly mobile on a beach, can be rolled quickly from car to water, and pushed out to reach a swimmer in trouble.

However, there are several more things you should know, according to the institute, to use it effectively and safely. Here they are:

Keep the tire properly inflated. Loosen the lug when you're at the beach for ready removal of the wheel from the car or so it can be kept near the water if possible.

A person untrained in rescue methods can help save a drowning person in this manner, the institute says:

"Simply grasp the wheel firmly and propel it by kicking with legs and feet until the victim is reached."

"Remember, however, to keep calm and keep the wheel between the rescuer and the rescued. If the victim cannot assist you to return to shore, both persons should remain quiet and support themselves by holding to the tire until help arrives."

Roustabouts Fold Mammoth Tent Of "The Greatest Show On Earth"

By WILLIAM ASWARTWORTH
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roustabouts pulled down for the last time today the mammoth tent of Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus, ending an era in American entertainment that thrilled generations.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" closed its road tour in a blaze of glory last night at nearby Heidelberg. Every performer seemed to put a little extra into his act for the overcrowded crowd of some 10,000.

It was a night of glitter and spectacle. After the crowd melted away, weary performers and workers packed belongings and gear, and the circus headed for winter quarters at Sarasota, Fla., in its gaily colored railroad cars.

John Ringling North, board chairman and president of the circus, abruptly announced the closing of the 1956 season shortly before the afternoon show. "The tented circus as it now exists is, in my opinion, a thing of the past," North said. "We are considering plans for the future which may involve an almost completely mechanically controlled exhibition."

But he promised the 87th presentation of the circus will open as usual next year on April 3 at Madison Square Garden in New York and will play the 1957 season in other air-conditioned arenas all over the United States.

Gone will be the big top, the sideshow and the midway—where wide-eyed youngsters strolled with their parents and cajoled peanuts, cotton candy and bright-hued dolls and other trinkets.

Labor troubles, bad weather, rising costs and other factors such as television, which cut into attendance, put an end to the tent show.

Similar problems sounded the death knell earlier this year for two other circuses—Clyde Beatty and King Bros. However, a group of men formerly associated with Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey has purchased the Clyde Beatty Circus and plan to reopen it Aug. 30 in Albuquerque, N.M.

If the plan materializes, it would

Turn Rockets Into TV Antenna

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Two college professors are working on a radio antenna suitable for man's first rocket to the moon.

Charles P. Wells, Michigan State University mathematician, and physicist Alfred Lettner say rockets or satellites couldn't use clumsy outside antennae like the television ones that perch on roofs. That kind would slow down travel and break off.

So they're experimenting with the idea of treating a rocket itself as an antenna by applying electrical charges to it. Practical applications of their ideas will be left to the U.S. Army ordnance research office which is supporting the project.

Do You Know The Condition Of Your Tires?

Come in to see us, we will be glad to give a close inspection. If necessary we will remove all tires from the rim, inspect them, install them back free of charge to you.

We have expert recapping, use only the best materials, and are distributors of the famous US Royal and Lee Tires.

Special sale now on new tires. Allowances on old tires traded in up to $10.00 per tire. Front wheel bearings lubricated and adjusted, front wheels balanced, checked and front end aligned all for $5.00.

Kept Everything Except TV Set

CUSHING, Okla. (AP)—Cushing police are looking for a thief who doesn't like television.

The culprit broke into a downtown billiard parlor and stole a television set. Later, it was left at the depot with a note "this belongs at the Broadway pool hall."

Not satisfied, the thief then wrote a letter to the manager of the pool hall telling him where he left the set.

However, he did not mention what he did with the two cases of beer, eight cartons of cigarettes and a box of cigars he also took.

TEA TIME
MILWAUKEE (AP)—George Zeller, a salesman for a tea company, told police he was having breakfast in a cafe when a thief entered his truck and swiped 51 pounds of coffee worth $52.47.

Australia sells about 900 million dollars worth of wool a year.

Graduation Took Just 18 Years

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—It took Edward Sly 18 years to graduate from San Diego state college but when he did he was second highest in his engineering class of 697.

Sly, nearly 40, started his college studies part time in 1936 while working at Ryan Aeronautical Co. His studies were interrupted by stepped-up production at the plant during and after World War II.

He resumed them eight years ago, plugging along for six credits a semester to complete the course. As a graduation present, Ryan promoted him to supervisor of the Firebee Drone (pilotless target plane) test group.

Institute For English Teachers

English teachers of the North-eastern District of the North Carolina English Teachers Association will hold their Tenth Annual Institute at East Carolina College Friday, July 20. Those who wish to attend the meeting are invited to be present.

Events of the day have been announced by Dr. Meredith N. Posey and Dr. Elizabeth Utterback of the East Carolina department of English, chairmen of the program committee.

Three sessions in which those attending will participate have been scheduled. The morning meeting will take place in the Flanagan auditorium at 10, and an afternoon session there will begin at 2. A luncheon, with a program of folk songs by Mrs. Meredith N. Posey of Greenville, will be held in the college dining hall.

The program will feature panels and informal discussion based on topics suggested by teachers in the field and prospective teachers as particularly applicable to their problems as instructors in English.

Dr. Posey will act as moderator at the morning session. A group of college and public school teachers will discuss various aspects of the training in English of students planning to enter college. Instruction of students at all levels from the elementary grades to the high school will be considered.

Dr. Edgar W. Hirschberg of the East Carolina English department will be moderator during an afternoon panel on the English teacher and the training needed to qualify him as a competent leader in extracurricular activities.

California College Approves Course In Wine-Making

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP)—Approval of a winery and courses in wine-making at Fresno State College was voted 9 to 1 here yesterday by the state board of education.

Dr. Arnold Joyal, president of Fresno State, said after the meeting adjourned an attempt would be made to get the program started this fall.

He indicated it would be a very small pilot plant, which would serve as a laboratory for a curriculum in enology (wine-making).

The only dissent was raised by Wilber G. Simons, who said he wasn't opposed to teaching how to make wine but did not believe a winery, even a pilot plant, should be located on the campus.

Darker Outlook On Night Shift

CAITLETSBURG, Ky. (AP)—Things looked pretty dark to the night shift at police headquarters. Chief Ray Castle found this memo on his desk in the morning:

"Ray, the radio in the police car won't work. The lights in the men's restroom are out. Sewer on 34th Street stopped up. The town clock is seven minutes slow, and payday is past due 10 days."

Time Of His Young Life At Last Show

Editor's Note—Associated Press reporter John Moody, who has been covering the steel strike, had planned to take his son Jack, to the circus last night for the first time. As it happened, it was the last show under the tent for "The Greatest Show on Earth." Here is Moody's story of what his son saw:

By JOHN MOODY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jack Moody had the time of his 2½ year old life last night. He fed peanuts to circus elephants and sat on the lap of a clown.

He was so busy laughing he didn't notice the clown wipe a tear from his eye. It was the first circus Jack ever saw. It probably was the last time the clown will ever play under the "canvas big top."

Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus, billed as the "Greatest Show on Earth," pulled down its tents for the last time early today—the victim of financial woes.

Jack didn't quite understand what the clown meant when he said:

"Little boy, you had better put away a lot of memories tonight. You probably will never see another really big circus."

Jack Tried Hard To Store Up Memories

He ate popcorn and sugar candy. He laughed at the monkeys and—because every body else did—he clapped happily when the girls swung on the trapeze at the top of the tent.

"Daddy," he said, "I want to get on that swing and I wanna give the elephant more peanuts, please."

"Mommy, could I ride a horse like the horse over there?"

Jack was fast asleep when the orchestra horns in traditional circus beat sounded the finale of a finale. But the clown, who so gladdened his heart with a handshake, had one more job to do—remove the grease paint laugh that would leave a sad man, who like the little boy, played a part in the closing of an era of American entertainment.

Lured Away By False Alarm

LITTLE FALLS, N.J. (AP)—Police believe that when they find the two men who held up a cleaning establishment here, they'll also find the person who turned in a false fire alarm.

They said the holdup men apparently sounded the alarm to lure the borough's two police cars away from the shopping district and the cleaners.

Then, unworried about police showing up, they carried out the robbery.

FACTS AND FIGURES on "casualties" and "damage" to target areas have been fed into an electronic computer such as this for Operation Alert 1956 to get a lightning-quick picture of the bomb-damage assessments in the 76 target areas throughout the nation. Evaluated data from target areas goes by wire to the operations room at FCDA Headquarters. (U. S. Air Force Photo)

On the Alert, 1956

DAMAGE RINGS for Philadelphia-Camden "blast" are plotted during last year's Operation Alert, just as they will be this year, in concentric rings from the point the bomb hits. In addition to simulated bomb "casualties" in the 1956 Alert, the Civil Defense directors will seek to minimize fallout "casualties" by swift shelter commands on the basis of predicted and monitored fallout patterns. (Battle Creek Enquirer and News Photo)

Nationwide Test To Be July 20-26

For seven days in July, Operation Alert 1956 will confront civil defense planning with the type of problems that would arise out of a mass nuclear attack on the U. S.

THE THIRD ANNUAL training exercise, scheduled for July 20-26, will enact on a nationwide stage some of the civil defense measures which would be taken if this nation were suddenly attacked by bombers and submarines capable of wiping out millions of persons and dozens of cities in a day.

Plans call for 76 cities, air bases and Atomic Energy Commission installations to be hit by 125 mythical nuclear bombs. These would include 39 hydrogen bombs rated as high as 5 million tons of TNT equivalent each. More than 30 Federal agencies will cooperate by evacuating key employees and operating from emergency sites. Coordinated by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, State and local CD organizations will carry out training exercises as if the attack were real.

JUNIOR SPACEMAN and Davy Crockett were among the two-thirds of the population of Bangor, Maine, which took part in a test evacuation during Operation Alert 1955. The test was typical of the ways local communities are expected by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to tie in their local civil defense training with Operation Alert 1956. (Courtesy Young's Photo Service, Brewer, Me.)

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL scenes like this would be duplicated across the nation if the assumed toll of "dead" and "injured" during Operation Alert 1956 were not merely "paper casualties." The 200-bed emergency hospital, including part of the sorting (triage) area shown here, has been designed by the FCDA to be moved into disaster areas and set up on short notice. It is complete with X-ray, operating room and other usual hospital equipment. (FCDA Photo)

KEY TO SUCCESSFUL civil defense countermeasures against an attack would be adequate warning time for evacuation of city populations. Here attack warning officers at Federal Civil Defense Administration headquarters plot "approaching planes" from reports relayed from Air Divisions. During "Operation Alert, 1956," training exercises for CD personnel will be carried out to improve alerting systems and emergency communications.

COMMUNICATIONS will be the lifeline of Operation Alert, 1956, just as they are of any effective nationwide defense against "attacking" planes. Shown here is part of the communications center at Federal Civil Defense Administration national headquarters at Battle Creek, Michigan, during last year's Operation Alert. (Battle Creek Enquirer and News Photo)

COMMAND CENTER where the Federal government's leaders will make the decisions charting the nation's defense against "attackers" during "Operation Alert, 1956" will be located somewhere outside Washington, D. C. This is a section of the emergency center, known as "Highpoint," showing how the national picture of damage sustained and civil defense remedial actions is received via facsimile (left, foreground) from the Federal Civil Defense Administration's national communications center, and relayed by telephone to the girl at the status board in background (FCDA Photo)

Oscar Did Nothing For Actress Kim Hunter

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP)—We've heard about stars who have been helped or jinxed by Academy awards. Here's a girl Oscar did nothing for.

Absolutely nothing. Or so says Kim Hunter, who won the supporting award four years ago for her role as Marlon Brando's long-suffering wife in "A Streetcar Named Desire."

"I must honestly say that winning the Oscar had no real effect on my career," she said. "It didn't raise my salary to any degree. There was no great increase in the number of scripts I was offered. No studio made a move to sign me to a term contract. "Certainly the Oscar was a great satisfaction personally to me. But career-wise it did nothing."

This is in direct contrast to tradition, which has dictated that the Oscar buoys up an actor's career or puts it on the skids. Historians point out that such winners as Katina Paxinou, James Dunn, Mercedes McCambridge, Celeste Holm and others did little in films after copping the big prize.

On the other hand, others like Frank Sinatra, Anne Baxter and Eva Marie Saint have prospered after being awarded the Oscar. You just can't figure it.

Perhaps the reason for Miss Hunter's lack of reaction from the Oscar is her own independence of Hollywood. She prefers to live in New York with her husband, writer Robert Emmett, and two children. Occasionally she comes out here for a picture—she's now doing "The Young Stranger" at RKO. But she devotes just as much of her energies to the stage and TV.

"I learned my lesson," she said. Her lesson came during her first stab at a Hollywood career. She came here as a David Selznick player—and never appeared in a Selznick picture. During five years in Hollywood, she made four pictures and an Army short. Her next experience with films was even less fruitful. She played opposite David Niven in "Stairway to Heaven" and signed a contract with J. Arthur Rank. The result: A year and a half of complete inactivity. No wonder she's wary of contracts.

New Southwest Clothing Firms In Big Leagues

By SAM DAWSON DALLAS (AP)—A war baby—the Southwest's fashion and clothing industry—has grown large enough today to start playing with the big boys.

Dallas claims to rank fourth in the nation now as a garment manufacturing center, after New York, California and Chicago. It concentrates on the medium price range and goes in heavily for sportswear and casual clothes.

The growth of the California apparel industry has been as rapid. Largely in Los Angeles and San Francisco, the industry counts 1,700 firms with annual sales topping 600 million dollars, according to the National Cotton Council.

In between, such Southwestern cities as Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Phoenix and Tucson have blossomed with regional designs, fabrics and garments.

The Dallas garment industry, starting at around zero when World War II broke out, now numbers 183 manufacturers with an annual payroll of 22½ million dollars. It claims retail outlets in 25,000 stores in all 48 states.

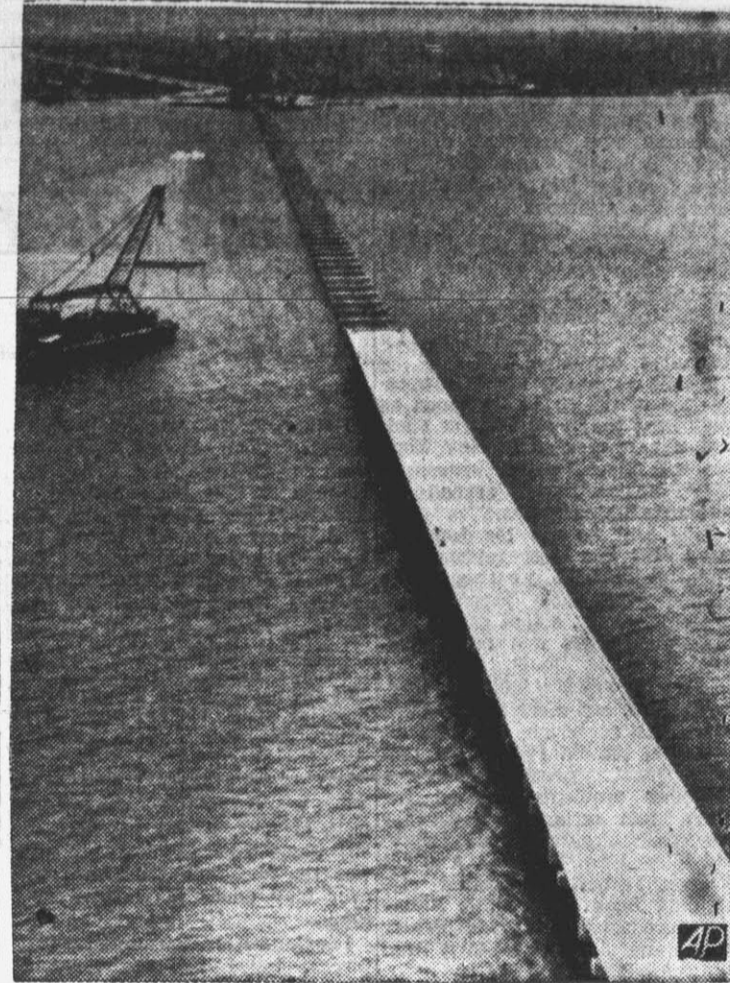

Stanley Marcus, president of Nieman-Marcus store, says the garment industry started here because "during the war people got clothing wherever they could find it and because transportation of Eastern made clothes was uncertain."

After the war, he adds, the industry here had a choice: Try to make cheaper clothing in competition with Eastern manufacturers or try to develop as a fashion center and sell in the medium to high priced range. Dallas chose the latter and now competes freely in both Eastern and California markets.

"We stock Dallas clothing, not out of regional loyalty, but because we make money on it," he says frankly. "The designs are good, so is the workmanship and the garments are reasonably priced. There is no freight to pay."

Perhaps the biggest assist to the industry that has grown up here and in California, and to lesser degree in Arizona and New Mexico, has been the shift in American living habits.

The growing trend toward outdoor and generally casual living has weaned away the American people everywhere — from more formal clothes. The regional industries have thrived on it.

Phillies Giving Favored Clubs A Rough Time Now

After Dumping Redlegs, They Cripple Cards

By ED WILKS The Associated Press

It was the St. Louis Cardinals who tagged Harvey Haddix "The Kitten," but since the stubby southpaw was traded to Philadelphia, he hasn't done much pussy-footing around against his old mates. He's whipped them in three of four tries.

Haddix, who picked up the nickname because his mound motions resembled those of former Redbird lefty Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, made it three straight over the Cards last night 2-0 as the Phillies continued to make things rough for the National League's first-division clubs.

They took the series from the fourth-place Cardinals 2-1 after a three-game sweep that knocked Cincinnati from first place and a four-game split that side-tracked a drive by third-place Brooklyn.

The defeat again put St. Louis at .500 and left them nine games short of the first-place Milwaukee Braves, who won their seventh in a row with a 2-1 decision over Pittsburgh on Hank Aaron's home run.

Cincinnati remained two games behind with a three-homer, 10-4 decision over last-place New York. Brooklyn, five games back, got only three hits, but beat Chicago's Cubs 4-1 as Roger Craig pitched a two-hitter in a rain-shortened, six-inning game.

Cleveland "tightened" the American League race by defeating Boston 7-3 while rain idled the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox.

Detroit Tigers Go To Big Syndicate At Record Price

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—A pair of baseball "unknowns" who parlayed a record price and promise had control today of the Detroit Tigers.

An 11-man syndicate headed by Michigan radio men Fred Knorr and John Fetzer swung the biggest money deal in baseball history yesterday in the 5 1/2-million-dollar purchase of the American League's sixth-place club.

Although the bid was a quarter of a million dollars higher than any of the other seven submitted, the fact that the new owners promised to continue the "sincere and dignified" policies that have characterized Tiger management for more than 20 years was regarded as an influencing factor.

Those were the type of policies employed by Walter O. Briggs Sr., who died in 1952 and left the club and Briggs Stadium to his son Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr. and four daughters.

Spike Briggs, president since 1952, will stay on — as was his wish — with the new organization as executive vice president in charge of operations. Knorr and Fetzer say this means Briggs will "run the club."

Insiders say that although the Knorr-Fetzer syndicate — which includes crooner Bing Crosby — will not officially take over until Oct. 1, the first action may take place next week. They say Manager Bucky Harris, who has been openly criticized by Briggs, and

General Manager Muddy Ruel, will be dismissed shortly. Four trustees who control the estate of the late Briggs are certain to approve of the new owners and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced immediately after the decision by the Tigers' Board of Directors that all members of the syndicate "are perfectly acceptable."

Other members are Kenyon Brown of New York and Hollywood; R. P. Woolworth, New York; George L. Coleman, Miami, Okla.; Joseph A. Thomas, New York; Harvey R. Hansen and William H. McCoy, Detroit; Paul A. O'Bryan, Washington; and Carl Lee, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Knorr is president of the Knorr Broadcasting Co. and Fetzer heads the broadcasting company that bears his name.

Their group beat down a spirited bid by Bill Veeck, who had owned the St. Louis Browns and the Cleveland Indians and wanted the Tigers "more than anything else in the world."

Veeck's combine offered 5 1/4 million dollars. Although the directors, who voted 4-0 in favor of the Knorr-Fetzer group, said they did not discuss the other bids, it is known they frowned on Veeck's unconventional methods of promoting the sport.

The new owners will pay out a million dollars by Aug. 1 and another $3,600,000 by Oct. 1. The remaining $900,000 will be paid over a five-year period.

Alston Explains Little 'Meeting' With Team

CHICAGO (AP)—Brooklyn Manager Walt Alston says his "little meeting" with his players at Milwaukee last week was "greatly exaggerated" and he'd like to have his side of the feud story told.

Before departing for Cincinnati yesterday, Alston, a quiet, easy-mannered man, said, "It's something that has happened before, will happen again and probably happens with every major league team."

Alston has been dissatisfied with the way his world champions have been fumbling around and told them so after losing a game to the league-leading Braves. Some of the players later were anonymously quoted as being dissatisfied with Alston.

"I don't deny having told them off," said Alston, "but it's all greatly exaggerated and out of proportion. As far as the team is concerned nothing has been said about it since. But the papers have been making a big thing out of it."

the ball goes sailing out of the park.

Sime Determined To Make Good Despite Injury: 'I'll Be Back'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FAIR LAWN, N.J. (AP)—Dave Sime, his Olympic running hopes dashed by a groin injury, refused today to take his hard luck sitting down; he promised he'd come back.

"Obviously I'm not going to get a chance in the Olympics," the six-foot-three speedster from Duke University said as he relaxed at home here with his parents and 6-year-old brother, Ricky. "But I'm not giving up track, not until I have a chance to prove myself."

The rangy, red-haired sprinter electrified the track world this spring by bettering three and equalling three world records.

After running a record 220-yard dash in 20 seconds flat at Sanger, Calif., he pulled muscle in his upper left leg in the National Collegiate championships and failed to qualify for an Olympic berth.

Although his injury may be fully healed in the next two weeks, the U.S. Olympic Committee has a rigid rule that an athlete must win his place on the team in competitive trials. So Sime, who less than two months ago was acclaimed the greatest Olympic prospect since Jesse Owens, is out.

"I had intended to make this my last year of serious track and concentrate on baseball," young Sime said. "But I'm determined now to take another shot at Bobby Morrow, Ira Murchison and the others."

Sime beat Morrow, his Ablene Christian rival, in the Drake Relays at Des Moines in the spring but he had to sit by and watch Morrow win the Olympic trials in his specialties, the 100 and 200-meter dashes.

"I feel that I can beat Morrow, if we get off to the same kind of start," Sime said. "So I want to get back in training as soon as possible. I plan to compete in all the winter meets and then go to the big track meets where I can meet Bobby again. I'm going back to summer school tomorrow not to make up back work, but just to get ahead, so I can run."

Dave said that the pulled groin muscle hurt him "only when I sneeze and not when I walk" and should be healed in a couple of weeks or so.

"I pulled it in that record 220-yard race at Sanger," he said. "But I kept on running. I thought I could work it out. That's where I was wrong. I just agitated it more."

Sime, who said he was disappointed but "not bitter" over his failure to make the team, predicted a 1-2-3 sweep for Uncle Sam in both the 100 and 200 at Melbourne.

PCC Will Review Violation Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A special meeting of the Pacific Coast Conference Presidents' Council goes into session today to review penalties assessed on four member schools for illegal payments to football players by alumni and booster organizations.

Dr. Fred C. Fagg, president of the University of Southern California, asked the meeting and suggested the presidents agree to suspend all pending bans against athletes.

Hard hit by conference action, taken by the faculty representatives for past violations be patently from the new code. Reaction to the special meeting call was mixed. Some presidents said they did not feel it necessary.

UCLA was placed on probation by the conference for three years, USC and Washington for two and California for one. Except in the case of Cal, football teams from those institutions will not be able to play in the Rose Bowl game or share in its receipts during the time of probation.

This amounts to a fine of about $26,000 per year. California was slapped with a direct fine of $25,000 and UCLA an additional $10,000 direct fine.

The penalties also mean a fourth place team might have to represent the PCC in the New Year's Day bowl game against the Big Ten champion.

Dodgers Switch Entire Outfield

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP)— An example of the powerful bench and the versatility of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers came about in a 10-5 slugfest against Chicago when Jack Robinson, playing first base, twisted his neck.

Jim Gilliam started in right field, Carl Furillo in center and Gil Hodges, normally a first baseman in left, Robby's injury forced Hodges to return to first, Duke Snider entered the game as a center fielder, Gilliam moved to left and Furillo moved to right.

Robinson was put on first base when Rocky Nelson was benched.

Field Day For Little Leaguers Here Tomorrow

On Wednesday, July 18, at 2 p.m. the Greenville Moose Lodge will sponsor a field day for all Little League players.

The boys will be divided into two age groups. Ages 11 and 12 will compete together. Ages 10 and under will compete together. This is done in this manner so that the younger players will be able to win awards also.

All awards will be donated by the Greenville Moose Lodge and each boy that wins in any event will be awarded a baseball autographed by the New York Yankees.

Events to be held for each age group— 1—Running bases, this will be timed by stop watch. 2—Infielders throwing for accuracy. 3—Outfielders throwing for accuracy. 4— Catchers throwing for accuracy. 5—Pitchers pitching for accuracy. 6—Home run hitting, for 10 and under ages the one hitting ball fartherest.

7—Throwing for distance. Rules—Only one boy from each team may enter in any event at the same time. By this is meant that if John Doe from team 1 enters base running in his age group no other boy from that team in that age group may enter the base running. Players will be allowed to enter only two events.

All Little League players are required to wear their uniforms. There will be a sweater roast after the ball game for all Little League players.

Double Header To Finish Up Regular Play

Wednesday will wind up regular-season Little League baseball play in the North State and Tar Heel circles.

This afternoon, the Moose battled the Exchange Club in the Tar Heel circuit. Tomorrow will find a double-header going full blast at Elm Street park, as the season goes out in one final flash of both leagues. The VFW-Kiwanis game and the Elks-Pepsi-Cola tilt will put the finishing touches on the scene.

The two contests will end the second half play of the season. The high-riding Lions, who coped the North State first place during the first half without a single defeat, finished the second half in almost as good fashion. The Exchange Club, after taking the first half championship of their loop, were struggling this afternoon to close out that second title. The Pepsi-Cola outfit is in the thick of the battle also.

Wednesday will find the finish lacked neatly onto the season and winners for both second half titles will be crowned. Following that there will be playoffs and the champions for the entire Leagues will come to the fore.

The Leagues this season have produced some outstanding individual stars and have afforded Greenville with some of the best and most exciting play ever to come from the small-fry circuit here. Billy Neal James, the Exchange Club pitcher and infielder, was at one time betting .727 and was also his club's top pitcher. Jody Blalock, the husky VFW first baseman, proved himself to be one of the most fearsome hitters in either league.

Little Kroghie Andresen, though his team was not a big figure in North State standings, did well on the mound for the Jaycees. Tommy Braxton and teammates Hemby, Conway and Henderson excelled at the plate for the Kiwanis team. Harold throwing Alan McArthur showed up well as a pitcher for the Lions.

All in all, the Greenville Little Leaguers have been a credit to the town and will continue to be during the coming week of playoffs.

CHAPTER 17
"You told Mr. Todd you'd give him your answer Saturday, Priscilla. That's three days away. If you want any of this old stuff, you'd better be making up your mind."

"Well, there haven't been any other offers. And Mr. Todd probably thinks I'm weak-minded because I haven't told him to go ahead and close with Alvarez. I might as well, but somehow, Rita, I have a queer feeling that I'd like to hold onto it for awhile."

"And pay taxes on an empty house? You've let all those old tales of hidden treasure influence you subconsciously, Priscilla. At first, I advocated holding off, thinking that if Alvarez wanted to rush it through so quickly he might have some inside track about the value, but since no other offer has come along, I guess you might as well go ahead with it. Especially since Alvarez is willing to take the anti-cities and you won't have to peddle them around."

"I won't pretend I want to keep anything through sentiment, of course. I never knew Aunt Rachel. But there are some figurines and vases I'd like to have. And some of the silver. There are some really good pieces, particularly the goblets."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

More Brainpower In Automation

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A University of Michigan sociologist says automation and the atom will place more importance than ever on the middle class of workers.

Asst. Prof. Harold L. Wilensky said middle class salaried white collar and professional people will be joined by the blue coat factory worker who "already is merged in income and with automation will become more mental and less physically minded."

HELP WANTED - MALE

AIRLINES
Air Travel Agencies Need Men. See ad under "Male and Female Help Wanted." 16-31

$200 PER WEEK CAN YOU QUALIFY?

We are not kidding about the above earnings, nor do we want you to take our word for it. You are more than welcome to talk with our salesmen who are making this amount of money right now. Go out with them for a day and watch while they put commissions of $50 or more in their own pockets. If this doesn't convince you, nothing will.

I will hire three salesmen this week. These men will have the following qualifications:

- (1) Ability and willingness to work hard.
- (2) Preferably between the ages of 21 and 45.
- (3) Own a late model car.
- (4) Willingness to learn.

Those selected will be trained thoroughly in the basic fundamentals of salesmanship. Qualified prospects are furnished daily. Accumulative bonus is paid semi-annually. In many instances the annual income from bonus checks alone is as much as the average man earns during the course of a year.

If you are dissatisfied with your present income or position, this legitimate top-flight proposition merits your sincere consideration. Personal interviews only. Do not tie up the lines with questions. If our offer is not worth a personal visit and a half-hour of your time, you are not the man we want. If it is, this may well be one of the important decisions of your life.

For appointment write P. O. Box 3085, Wilson, N. C. ATTENTION: MR. STARLING. 16-31

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — Aluminum were higher and heavily traded and oils made wide gains in highly selective stock market trading early this afternoon.

The list as a whole was irregular with many losses stretching to around a point or so and gains ranging ahead to about 5 points for the leaders.

Alcoa stepped ahead 4 points and Gulf Oil 5 points as they continued yesterday's gain.

The aluminum issues were resuming a trend brought to the fore by the steel strike, now in its 17th day, as steel-sky manufacturers turned to aluminum to solve inventory shortages.

Aluminum Ltd. and Kaiser Aluminum were ahead around 2 points or so. Reynolds Metals advanced well beyond a point.

Meanwhile, steels were mixed as Youngstown dipped around a point. Bethlehem and Republic Steel edged upward and U.S. Steel shaded off.

Over-all trading volume was bigger than yesterday.

As investors favored the oil division, Amstar advanced about 2 points, Royal Dutch and Getty around a point. Standard Oil (California) and Texas Co. good fractions.

But chemicals and aircrafts were stepisters. Despite almost continuous announcement of aircraft contracts, this division slipped points. United over a point. Douglas a fraction.

Among chemicals, Du Pont slipped around 2 points and Allied Chemical a major fraction.

Eastman Kodak continued yesterday's rise, adding around 2 points. Evans Products was off a fraction following a slight early rise today. This stock was heavily traded at the opening in the wake of news it had doubled its Oregon timber supply.

Continental Can was up a major fraction on news of record six months earnings.

Motors and rails were mixed. Union Pacific dragged down the rail average with a drop of around 3 points. Coppers were steady as Kennecott gained a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 10 cents to $18.40, with the industrials up 30 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

RALEIGH — (NCDA) — Hog markets were mostly steady to 24 lower today. Tops of 15.50 to 16.75 at Rocky Mount; 16.00 to 16.50 at Kinross, Bethel, Tarboro, Enfield, Benson, New Bern; 16.25 at Castle Hayne, Hillsboro and Wingate; 16.00 at Rich Square, Bethel, Clinton, Lumberton, Elizabeth City, Mount Olive, Mount Gilead, Mt. Airy, Siler City, Goldsboro, Taber City, Nuhunta, Farmville, Beula-ville, Kenly; 15.75 at Smithfield, Dunn, Bailey, Clarkton, Newton Grove, Whiteville and Blackmon's Crossroads.

RALEIGH — (NCDA) — North Carolina fryers and broilers: market weak and unsettled, farm prices 20 to 21, f.o.b. plant 21 1/4 to 21 1/2. Raleigh eggs steady, A large 45; Asheville eggs steady, A large 45.

CHICAGO — (USDA) — Salable hogs: 5,500; moderately active; generally steady on all hogs; instances weak on butchers under 220 lb; in spots strong on heavier butchers and sows; bulk No 1 to 3 200-250 lb butchers 16.25-16.75.

British Turning Pacific Island Into Test Site

HONOLULU — Britain is spending millions to turn tiny Christmas Island into its own version of the United States' H-bomb testing ground base at Eniwetok, a technician recently returned from Christmas said today.

"In the last six weeks hundreds of British soldiers and thousands of tons of equipment" have been poured into the small and low-lying coral atoll, the technician said. He did not want his identity disclosed.

Christmas Island is about 2,500 miles east and south of the U.S. Pacific nuclear base center at Eniwetok. It is about 1,200 miles south of Honolulu.

The technician said Christmas Island officials estimated that England is spending "about 150 million pounds (about 420 million dollars) in preparing its nuclear test base there.

He said "at least four big ships" have brought in troops, building materials and supplies from Singapore and elsewhere.

Hoover Invited To Address GOP

SAN FRANCISCO — Ex-President Herbert Hoover, who will be 82 Aug. 10, will address the Republican National Convention here Aug. 21 at President Eisenhower's personal invitation, party officials announced here.

Hoover, now staying at Bohemian Grove in Sonoma County, gave what he called his "valetictory" address four years ago to the GOP convention in Chicago. Since then he has resumed his activity as chairman of the Hoover Commission on streamlining the federal government.

Two Men Take Over Boy's Job

JAMESTOWN, R. I. — Last week the town fired Douglas F. Cunha as a parking fee collector at the town beach. The Beach Committee found that he was only 13, too young to obtain working papers.

Now the town has hired two men — Steven Morgan, 18, and Douglas' father Manuel — to replace the youngster.

Committee Chairman Edward B. Brooks said the elder Cunha will help Morgan collect fees on weekends when the traffic is too heavy for one man to handle.

ERA TO AN END

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The era of homesteading in Montana, which began with the passage of the Homestead Act in 1865, is virtually ended. R. D. Nielson, supervisor of the Bureau of Land Management office at Billings, said that nearly all remaining federal land in the state is of such low productive capacity that it will not support a family unit.

Deadlock Given To Subcommittee

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The disarmament deadlock shifted back today to the five-power U.N. Disarmament subcommittee for another round of private talks this fall in New York or London.

The subcommittee's parent body, the 12-member Disarmament Commission, ended a stormy two-week public debate last night without any noticeable progress.

Its only official action was to call on the subcommittee to resume its efforts and to take into account the various observations and proposals made during the discussion here.

The subcommittee — made up of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada — already has been negotiating three years with no agreement still in sight. It met last in London March 19-May 4.

The next public debate on the arms issue probably will take place in the U. N. General Assembly, which meets in New York Nov. 12.

The commission's meeting wound up on a sour note last night when the Western Powers and Russia tangled over a compromise resolution Peru had presented to avoid a showdown vote on conflicting Western and Soviet proposals.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko had agreed to the idea until he saw the text of the Peruvian resolution. He then denounced the draft as pro-Western and voted against it. The vote was 10-1, with Yugoslavia abstaining.

Gromyko objected especially to a clause which said, "The resolution introduced on July 3 by the United Kingdom, Canada, France and the United States, as amended, sets forth the principles upon which an effective program for the regulation and limitation of all arms and armed forces can be based."

He said the Peruvian draft completely ignored Russia's proposal calling for a renunciation of the

Faces Sentence In Baby's Death

GREENSBORO — A 19-year-old mother, convicted of beating her infant son to death, faced sentencing here today before Judge L. R. Preyer.

Mrs. Naomi Clonch of Greensboro was convicted of second degree murder last March in the death of her 10-week-old son. She pleaded innocent to the charge.

Dr. Herbert Z. Lund testified during the trial that the baby, Harold Eugene Clonch, died last Nov. 12 from a skull fracture and brain hemorrhage.

An autopsy showed the infant had 14 fractured ribs, a fractured spine, abrasions, burns, head injuries and other broken bones.

Nurses Enrolled In UNC Course

She can return to her job. If she's a good scientist, she can also at the same time be a good housewife and mother.

"There is no basic conflict. In fact there is less conflict, because in true science you don't work under a time pressure. No boss is standing over you demanding an immediate result."

Dr. Kinzel feels that in addition to the high pay, scientific work is attractive to women because it is peculiarly rewarding in terms of a feeling of service.

What about it, girls? Science helped free modern women from drudgery. How about the ladies pitching in now and helping free science?

Early Start On Own Menagerie

PITTSBURGH — John Ringling North II, young scion of the famous circus family, has a start today on a menagerie of his own.

John was on hand yesterday when his dad announced the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus will be seen in tents no more and is through for this season. Clowns Frank Saluto and Billy Rice, who have used Bozo the Rabbit in their act, presented the animal to young John, urging the boy to "take good care of him."
