Tax Cuts Dimmed In Budget Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new federal budget estimate, boosting the anticipated surplus to a modest 700 million dollars, today left little ground for hope of tax cuts in 1957.

One administration source said the black-ink margin now foresees for fiscal 1957 "is still too narrow to justify any reduction."

The midyear budget review, issued last night by Secretary of the Treasury Percival F. Brundage, showed estimated revenues soaring to $69,800,000,000, up $4,300,000,000 from the government income forecast by President Eisenhower in his January budget message to Congress.

But it also showed federal spending amounting to a peacetime record of $69,100,000,000 in the year which started July 1.

That is four billion beyond Eisenhower's spending estimate and absorbs most of the revenue gains arising from unparalleled national income and boom-level corporate profits.

The result is that the anticipated surplus, figured in January to be a little more than 400 million, now is reckoned at 700 million. But that figure is much less than the fiscal 1956 surplus of $1,700,000,000 for 1956. But business conditions turned out to be much better than they anticipated then.

Others have made higher guesses on the 1957 surplus. The staff of the Senate House Economic Committee estimated it at $2,200,000,000.

Most economists foresee a substantial increase in personal incomes in the months ahead which would translate into higher income tax collections. But even if the surplus were two or three times greater than the new official guess, there is no assurance that the administration would recommend tax relief, in view of its position that some reduction of the 27 1/2 - billion - dollar public debt must come first.

One official said privately the administration may decide to wait until the spring tax collections start coming in and estimates can be made more accurately.

Then, if no general tax reduction seems possible, it may see if some "selective" tax cuts could be given—possibly to small businesses and some groups of individual income taxpayers.

The new budget document showed an anticipated spending increase this year and a considerably smaller increase in revenues.

Exact comparison was difficult because the highway construction bill set up a special trust fund to handle both highway revenues and expenditures. These therefore have been removed from the budget figures, and the January estimates have been scaled down accordingly.

Egyptians Arrest Fourth Briton As 'Spy' Trial Looms

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt put another British subject behind bars today. Relations between the two countries became further strained in the wake of Egyptian charges that two British Embassy secretaries were involved in a spy ring.

The British Embassy said James Zarb, a British resident of Egypt, was placed under arrest. The embassy said it did not know if his case was connected with an espionage investigation the Egyptians say is implicating a growing number of foreigners.

An embassy spokesman said Zarb might be involved only in passport difficulties. The Egyptians are already holding James Swinburn, business manager for the British-owned Arab News Agency, and Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi Radio Telegraph Co., as spy suspects.

Four Egyptians have been officially named as their accomplices, and Cairo newspapers reported today that four more Egyptians—one an Egyptian naval officer—had been seized as a result of an alleged confession by Swinburn. The Egyptians have given the two embassy secretaries, J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove, 72 hours to leave the country.

The British have denied Egyptian charges that the two relayed orders to an alleged spy ring, but ordered Gove and Flux home under protest.

Paula said failure of Egypt to consider the principles would prove Nasser's regime was motivated by "essentially imperialist aims."

British newspapers and officials generally linked Egypt's expulsion of two British diplomats on spy charges—denied by Prime Minister Eden's government—with the controversy over nationalization of the vital waterway.

Britons were angered at the spy charges from Nasser's government, coming at a time when other nations were concentrating on a peaceful settlement of the canal issue. Egypt charged that two secretaries in the British Embassy in Cairo were the "contacts" for two British civilians arrested early this week on espionage charges.

The British Foreign Office denied the charges but said it had no choice but to recall the two diplomats. Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, British ambassador in Cairo, immediately made a strong protest.

Sharp retaliatory action was expected from Britain. Prime Minister Eden met with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. The general expectation was that Britain would kick out two Egyptian diplomats in retaliation.

SAUL PETT
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—She laughed a lot. She talked a great deal. She ate and drank, and displayed a child's passion for ice cream and soda pop.

But beneath the pretense of chatty cheerfulness, there were telltale signs of a woman acutely embarrassed by her inordinate size, a lonely woman who seemed to have no life of her own and tried to enjoy vicariously the lives of her temporary employees.

This was the picture slowly emerging today of Virginia Jaspers, the six-foot, 220-pound baby nurse, who told police she shook three infants to death and injured two others in fits of "uncontrollable" temper.

While the big, blonde woman, woman, herself still baby-faced at 33, remained in County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond, authorities continued to investigate the strange case. There was much to investigate.

Coroner James J. Corrigan said he would study the death certificates of every child under one year who died in the New Haven area since 1953. Miss Jaspers has been known to care for newly born babies in private homes at least since 1948, possibly farther back than that.

But parents whose children were once cared for by Miss Jaspers, said they had no reason to suspect her ability or motives at the time. One was Mrs. Allen Hubbard, whose 13-day-old daughter died in 1948 while under Miss Jaspers' care.

Until Monday, Mrs. Hubbard knew only what her doctor had told her then—that the child died of a cerebral hemorrhage apparently caused by a congenital weakness. Monday, she learned of Miss Jaspers' statement to police—that the Hubbard child was one of three she shook with fatal results.

"Now I don't know what to think," Mrs. Hubbard said. "I have to admit that at the time she handled the baby well. We even had her for our second child. 'True, she was heavy-handed. When she burped the baby, she seemed a little strong. I remember we kidded her about it a few times but thought nothing serious about it."

"Apart from her handling of the baby, she seemed immature. She had this childish delight in eating, especially ice cream and soda. She was always, it seemed, taking pictures of the baby. Poor thing, she seemed to think she would never have a child of her own and lavished all her attention on ours."

Mrs. Hubbard, like other mothers who once employed the nurse, said that long after she left their homes Miss Jaspers frequently sent birthday gifts or cards to her child.

Bids were opened by the State Highway Commission yesterday on three county road paving projects in Pitt County.

The projects call for 4.3 miles of sand asphalt paving on a county road from a point on U. S. 264 3.8 miles southwest of Greenville, northeast to a junction with a paved road; and on a county road from a point on N. C. 11 3.2 miles south of Bethel east to a junction with N. C. 33.

The contract went to White Construction Co. Total cost of the projects is to be $23,543.

The projects were included among 16 for which the State Highway Commission took bids yesterday.

Alabama Vote

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama voters have approved a constitutional amendment to keep Negroes and whites in separate schools even at the cost of abolishing the public educational system.

The measure allows the State Legislature to end public educational facilities and give public funds to private schools.

It, and a similar amendment covering public park facilities which also apparently passed, are designed to provide a bypass of the Supreme Court's decisions outlawing segregation in schools and recreational facilities.

Counties with heavy Negro populations went overwhelmingly for the two racial measures. Those with few Negroes generally opposed them.

Returns from 1,875 of the state's 2,700 boxes gave the school amendment a margin of 97,720 to 63,302.

The same returns, on the parks proposals, gave 86,629 for and 63,439 against.

Approve Map Of Contemplated Street Extension

City planners last night approved a map of the area South of Elm St. which would give the city a 100-foot right-of-way to carry Elm St. through to Greenville Blvd.

The street now dead ends at the southern edge of Elmhurst. City Manager Leonard Bloxam and city engineers recently stepped in to settle a dispute between property owners and the seller of the property.

Bloxam said the map of the area, which was prepared by city engineers met with the approval of all concerned.

The Planning-Zoning Commission also voted to recommend zoning of all lots on Tenth St. from Evans to Forbes commercial plus the two opposite lots at the intersection of Forbes and Tenth Sts.

The recommendation was made after Preston Corey appeared before the board to request that his lot within the block be zoned commercial. Corey said he plans to construct an office building on the property.

Planners referred Howard Bodkin to City Manager Bloxam and the city attorney when he appeared before the commission.

Bodkin was asking permission to rebuild a grocery store on 14th St. and in addition place another building on the property in which he proposed to operate a beauty shop. Bodkin said he planned to tear down a barn and in general improve the overall appearance of the property.

The store is located on property which is to revert to East Carolina College at the death of the present owners.

The commission recommended that Hildale Addition No. 1 be zoned residential and that a section of Bancroft Ave. recently annexed into the city be zoned residential.

The resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley as secretary to the board was turned over to the city manager and Commission Chairman Frank Little for action.

Rape Charge Is Not Pressed In Superior Court

The case of Milton Anderson, charged with raping Marjorie Ruth Jones, a 13-year-old deaf-mute, was "not pressed with leave" in Superior Court yesterday.

The Grand Jury issued a true bill on Anderson's case, but the state evidently could not find sufficient evidence to prosecute.

The 25-year-old Greenville salaried at Fort Story, Virginia, was arrested June 17. At the preliminary hearing the following day, probable cause was found and Anderson was held without bond until this month's session of Superior Court.

The warrant calling for his arrest was sworn out by the girl's mother who said that the child came home and told her she had been raped near Bethel.

The debate took place in the Rocky Mount High School auditorium at a forum sponsored by the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce.

Lassiter argued that the plan is more likely to increase racial tension and bring on court actions to force integration than it is to discourage the mixing of the races in the schools.

Pearlsall declared the plan took into consideration the "emotions, customs, mores and traditions on

Preliminary Plat For First Negro Subdivision OK

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector City Editor

A preliminary plat for Greenville's first Negro subdivision was approved by the Planning-Zoning Commission last night.

The new Negro residential area, which developers say they hope to make the "finest in the south," would be located on the N. C. 11 bypass north of the airport and prison camp.

Hoover Taft, representing Blount and Taft and Associates, told the commission: "We feel that one of the primary needs in this area is a first class Negro subdivision. We feel that the future growth of the town is being restricted unless something is done about that."

Taft said it is "a matter on which we have been working for four or five years."

Taft had discussed plans for the subdivision some time ago. At that time he requested that the Utilities Commission run water and sewer lines to the proposed area. No action was taken on that request, however.

The spokesman said that the developers hold 200 acres of land in the area and although the entire tract is not to be developed at once "we feel this is important because the size is sufficient to develop a self-contained area."

The developers have their likes and dislikes about the area, Taft said.

"It could be closer in," he declared. "Yet in being farther out it gives flexibility."

The attorney indicated that plans for the subdivision are not complete but "plans at the present time are to pave streets."

He also spoke of providing shopping centers, off-street parking and other facilities to make the area a complete subdivision.

The first portion of the new area for which preliminary approval was granted last night would be located on a 135 acre tract of land. He pointed out that all lots would be "in excess of 10,000 feet in area."

Taft said the subdivision has not been named as yet. He said the developers plan to conduct a contest to name the area with a prize to go to the winner. Plans call for offering "nominal prizes" for naming of streets also, he declared.

The developers were not asking that the area be taken into the city limits but they did ask that the general layout be approved.

Taft did not say what would be done about providing utilities for the area. That is a matter which would have to be worked out, he told the Planning-Zoning Commission.

In addition to the proposed Negro subdivision, the planners approved a preliminary plat for a new subdivision to be built on Greenville Blvd. along side Sherid- day Place. The area is being developed by David Evans and 37 building lots would be made available.

Engineer Tom Rivers, who presented the preliminary plat, said plans are to make the subdivision the most complete yet built in Greenville.

Plans are to include curb and gutter in addition to paving and drainage which are required by city ordinances.

Also approved was the final plat of the W. H. Mills subdivision in Meadowbrook. The subdivision would connect with E. Gum Rd.

AFL-CIO Chiefs Side With Demos

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders, having decided to cast their lot with the Democrats in the coming election, turned today to planning how they can help defeat President Eisenhower.

The powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council wound up a long, closed door argument by voting to recommend formal support for the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee against Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

The decision was reached last night with some misgivings. Some council members felt they 15 million member labor organization would be sticking its neck out and cutting itself off from any chance for favors from the Republican party.

But the council, reportedly against the advice of AFL-CIO

President George Meany, voted 14-8 to make an endorsement and then cast that endorsement by a 17-5 count to the Democrats.

The decision was steered by a solid bloc of leaders of former CIO unions sparked by former CIO chief Walter Reuther. He had been instrumental at the Democratic convention in getting Stevenson nominated. Reuther's clique persuaded a sprinkling of former AFL union locals to go along, while eight leaders of former AFL unions opposed any endorsement.

The AFL-CIO leaders today called a meeting of their political operating arm, the Committee on Political Education to discuss plans for marshaling votes for the Democratic Stevenson-Kefauver combination and for labor-endorsed candidates for Congress and key state offices.

No formal endorsements for the congressional and state races were to be announced, but the union leaders planned to go over the records of rival candidates and lay the basis for picking and choosing among contenders in major contests.

The 28-man AFL-CIO Council actually voted only to recommend a Stevenson-Kefauver endorsement to a meeting of heads of all 140 AFL-CIO unions in Chicago Sept. 12. But Meany conceded that it only was a formality and said he hadn't "the slightest doubt" the larger group will concur.

Autherine Again Seeking Entry

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—A federal judge today will hear arguments on a Negro woman's motion seeking readmittance to the University of Alabama.

The woman, Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster, 28, is the only Negro ever to attend the all-white school at Tuscaloosa. She was expelled after rioting drove her from the campus last February.

Integration. The Advisory Committee, he added, found these to be "genuine and powerful" in the state.

He said, "whether good or bad, pleasant or unpleasant, the fact remains that these feelings do exist and must be taken into consideration. Those who would wear blinders and refuse to recognize and admit the existence of these feelings would do public education an injustice."

Tar Heel voters will ballot Sept. 8 on a constitutional amendment to carry out the plan aimed at keeping the state's public schools segregated.

Meeting In Cairo Slated, Nasser Silent On 'When'

LONDON (AP)—President Nasser will meet in Cairo with the five-nation Suez Canal Committee headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, an official Egyptian source disclosed today.

But the informant said he could not disclose the time for the meeting which Menzies has asked be held this week.

There were signs of British and French impatience over delays in getting down to the actual talks with Nasser on the Western-sponsored plan for international control of the Suez waterway.

The British were suspicious that Nasser had cooked up a spy plot at this time to head off criticism at home that he was backing down by agreeing to listen to the committee.

The plan drew the support of 18 nations at the London Suez conference last week. The 18 nations named a 5-nation committee headed by Menzies, who asked the Nasser government last Friday night if he would agree to listen to an explanation of the plan.

Nasser's acceptance did not come until yesterday. Another communication is now awaited by Menzies agreeing formally to a place and time.

Str. George Young, a British Foreign Office spokesman, said Britain will not stand for "an endless chain of conferences."

Maurice Faure, state secretary at the French Foreign Ministry, took a similar stand.

Faure said failure of Egypt to consider the principles would prove Nasser's regime was motivated by "essentially imperialist aims."

British newspapers and officials generally linked Egypt's expulsion of two British diplomats on spy charges—denied by Prime Minister Eden's government—with the controversy over nationalization of the vital waterway.

Hodges Decries Big Govm't Bite

ASHEVILLE (AP)—The great rise in the federal government's take of the tax dollar was decryied by Gov. Hodges yesterday.

In the past two decades, he told the Southeastern Assn. of Tax Administrators, the federal government's share of taxes has risen from slightly more than 23 per cent to 71 per cent.

During the same period, he added, the local government's share has dropped from 56 to 15 per cent and the state's share has declined from 21 to 14 per cent.

The governor told the group "competition among the states for new and expanded industry and growth in general causes problems to rise. One state offers inducements that another feels is bad, another state grants concessions through subterfuge. These things put tax administrators on the spot because all of you want sound tax administration."

At Hendersonville, where he addressed the annual convention of the North Carolina Assn. of Chamber of Commerce Executives, Hodges scored the State Highway Department for doing what he called a "deplorable job on public relations on the new 25-billion-dollar federal highway program."

The governor said people are under the impression that this money is to be spent for local roads, rural roads "and for almost every kind of road." The truth is, Hodges said, that the money will be spent for a specific network of interstate roads.

Tax Valuation Of N. C. Utilities Keeps Rising

RALEIGH (AP)—The tax valuation of utilities in North Carolina increased 46 million dollars during the past year.

The valuations, announced by the State Board of Assessment yesterday, are used by county and municipal governments in levying their taxes on the utilities.

Electric, gas and power companies rose in value nearly 36 million dollars to $293,269,837. Telephone companies gained over 64 million to $110,671,421.

Most of the increases in valuations, Board Secretary J. C. Bethune said, were attributed to plant expansion.

The only loss in valuation was for railroads, which declined $1,511 out

Mobley-Manning Nuptials Held

ROBERSONVILLE—In a 4:30 candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Robersonville August 19 Miss Muriel Joan Manning, daughter of Mrs. Gordon Roberson of Robersonville and the late Thomas Manning, became the bride of Bobby Glen Mobley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duard Brinkley Mobley of Robersonville.

The Rev. John D. Hemingway, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the Rev. Ralph E. Ferguson, pastor of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony.

Vows were spoken before an improvised altar decorated with palms, ferns, candelabra and arrangements of mums.

Prelude to the ceremony was a half hour of nuptial music by Mrs. Robert K. Adkins, organist, and Miss Jeanine Taylor, soloist, both of Robersonville. Miss Taylor sang "I Love Thee," "All For You" and as the benediction "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a gown of bridal satin featuring a princess skirt, ending in a circular train. The empire waist with long pointed sleeves was of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a lace cloche trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a lace covered white Bible, topped with a purple-throated orchid, showered with white satin streamers and staphanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Betty Jean Davenport of Robersonville was the maid of honor. She wore a full-length gown of cotton blue net and crystaletta with a fitted bodice designed with off-shoulder neckline. Her picture hat and mits matched the dress. She carried a fan covered with pink net ruffles and a matching feathered carnations tied with pink ribbon.

Miss Carol Roberson, sister of the bride, and Miss Wanda Griffin, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their pink net and crystaletta taffeta gowns were fashioned like that of the maid of honor's. They wore matching mits and bandeaux. Their blue fans were identical to those carried by the junior bridesmaids.

Miss Susan Roebuck of Williamson, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Her pink dress was identical to those of the honor attendants. She carried a basket of American beauty rose petals.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Shelby Jean Anderson, Miss Anita Rae Everett, Miss Jo Ann Warren, Miss Mary Glyn Norman, Miss Janie Edmondson and Miss Barbara Roebuck of Robersonville; Miss Mary Lee Corey, cousin of the bride, of Williamson; Miss Gail Jones, cousin of the bride, of Hampton, Va.; Miss Martha Padgett of Rutherford and Miss Laura Williamson of Clinton.

Ralph Mobley served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Thomas Manning, brother of the bride, Marshall Kilpatrick, Marion Griffin and Jimmy Highsmith, all of Robersonville.

Mrs. Bruce L. Peel of Williamston, aunt of the bride, was mistress of ceremony. She wore a corsage of pink feathered carnations with her dress of net over taffeta.

Mrs. Roberson, the bride's mother, wore a rose taupe lace dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Mobley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of navy blue lace. Her accessories were white. They both had white feathered carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal couple received in the vestibule of the church.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Mobley left for a short wedding trip. For traveling, the bride selected a beige cotton sheath dress with brown and gold embroidery. Her accessories were brown. She removed the orchid from her Bible.

Following her graduation from Robersonville High School in the class of '54, Mrs. Mobley attended King's Business College in Raleigh. Mr. Mobley, a graduate of RHS, attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Cake Cutting

After the Mobley-Manning rehearsal Saturday night, Mesdames Eugene Roberson, Grace Peele, Joe Johnson Jr. and Garland Jones, aunts of the bride, entertained at a cake cutting in the church annex.

Mrs. Johnson greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of Miss Muriel Joan Manning, bride-elect, Mrs. Gordon Roberson, mother of the bride, Mrs. Duard Mobley, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Simon E. Corey, grandmother of the bride-to-be.

Bridal flowers and gladioli were used in profusion throughout the entire house, which was thrown en suite for the occasion.

Mrs. Eugene Roberson presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Billy Johnson invited the guests to the dining room where the bride's table, covered with white linen, was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli, full mums and pom poms in a silver bowl flanked by tall burning tapers in silver candleholders. On one end of the table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bridal pair. The punch bowl was on the opposite end of the table.

Cake was served by Mrs. W. A. Manning Sr., grandmother of the bride-elect, after the first slice had been cut by the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Carol Jones, sister of the bridegroom, poured punch. Mrs. Ernest Jones, Mrs. Henry Griffin, Mrs. Rufus Corey, Miss Betsey

Griffin and Miss Janetta Corey assisted in serving mints and nuts to approximately 75 guests.

Miss Manning's corsage was a blue carnation.

Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roberson were hosts to the Mobley-Manning wedding party and out-of-town guests on August 15 at an out-of-door buffet supper.

The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a bowl of red zinnias.

Mrs. Clayton Davenport served Brunswick stew and the guests helped themselves to chicken salad, ham biscuits, tomato salad and pickles.

Mrs. Dennis Roberson served iced tea and angel cake topped with ice cream.

During the evening, the bride-to-be and the bridegroom-elect presented gifts to the wedding party.

Pastor To Be Honored

Open House honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds, new pastor of Bethany Free Will Baptist Church, is being planned by the Woman's Auxiliary of the church. The event will take place from eight to ten o'clock Friday evening at the educational building of the church. The public is invited to attend.

Bride's Father Officiates At Wingate-Masters Wedding

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—The Rev. Thomas H. Masters was the officiating minister for the marriage ceremony uniting his daughter, Miss Martha Lloyce Masters, and Vernon W. Wingate of Greenville, N. C. The rites were held June 30 in the Bible Baptist Church here of which the Rev. Mr. Masters is pastor.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Wingate of Greenville.

Vows were exchanged before an altar background of white gladioli and greenery. Two candelabra holding tall lighted tapers and palm arrangements completed the decorations.

Charles Bartlett, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. E. O. Hooper, pianist, provided the wedding selections.

Given in marriage by S. M. Bocock, the bride wore a duchesse satin and chantilly lace gown fashioned on princess lines. The scalloped neckline was re-embroidered in rhinestones with a lace yoke. Her chapel-length train had lace panels extending the length of the train and she wore a veil of illusion attached to a bandeau of lace with seed pearls and rhinestones. Her flowers were a semi-colonial bouquet of white gladioli.

Mrs. Beverly McKinley of Electra was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dorothy Masters and Misses Mary Lou Gardner, Gayle Deemer and Betty Briley. They wore powder blue, yellow, aqua, pastel green and pink, respectively. Their gowns were fashioned with bouffant skirts, bateau necklines and shoulder drapes, and they wore half-hats of matching taffeta and net. All carried semi-colonial bouquets of daisies to match their dresses.

While the raising of tobacco in Pitt County as a commercial crop dates back but forty years and Greenville first became an auction tobacco market 35 years ago, statistics show that Pitt County is the largest producer of bright leaf tobacco in the world, and Greenville is proclaimed the "Best Tobacco Market in the State," fulfilling the prophecy made by the Reflector in 1891 that Pitt County in a few years would be producing, and Greenville would be selling, millions of pounds of the golden weed.

Miss Tyler, Mr. Roberson Wed

ROBERSONVILLE—Miss Esther Swindell Tyler and John Lanier Roberson were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Methodist Church with a background of palms, fern, Cathedral candles, gladioli and chrysanthemums was the setting for the ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Robert K. Adkins, organist.

The Rev. Noah B. Hill, pastor of the church, assisted by William Taylor, a close friend of the bridegroom, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Donnell Tyler of Robersonville and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nicholas Roberson of Robersonville and the late Mr. Roberson.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue silk faille dress with a matching waist-length jacket and a black velvet hat. She carried her mother's white Eastern Star Bible topped with a purple throated orchid showered with satin ribbon and tube roses.

Miss Carolyn Bibb of Washington, N. C., her college roommate, was the maid of honor.

She wore a white dress designed with fitted bodice and a full skirt. She had a picture hat and a pink bouquet to match the trimming on her dress.

Jimmy Roberson served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Gordon Roberson, Jimmy Highsmith and Louis Ross Roberson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tyler chose a black sheer trimmed in white. She wore a large matching hat and a white corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a navy lace dress with blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal couple received in the vestibule of the church. For traveling, the bride wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Roberson graduated from RHS in the class of 1955 and she attended East Carolina College last year.

The bridegroom received his degrees at EOC. During the last six years he has taught math in the Robersonville High School.

Shower Honors Bride

The Rogerson home, thrown en suite, was decorated with arrangements of pink roses, pink snapdragons, matching asters. A large vase of white gladioli and enormous white chrysanthemums completed the decoration.

Mrs. Rogerson invited everyone to the large dining room where the table was spread with a linen cover.

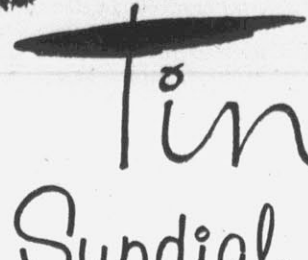

Mrs. John Tyler poured the lime punch while the guests served themselves potato chips, brownies, sand tarts, mints and salted nuts. Gifts were presented in a big clothes basket and large box.

Making Hair Ready For Fall Is First Beauty Repair Work

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor BEAUTY REPAIR job No. 1 falls to the hair as days grow shorter.

It is time for a new permanent wave, new hair dye, hair treatments or a new hair style to complement new fall fashions.

Women who play the glamor role are interested in short-cuts to charm—no more six-hour sessions in the beauty parlor. They want a beauty session to glamorize them in no more time than it takes to make a beautiful cake. These days they can find the answer to their charm problems at home or in a beauty salon in a jiffy.

Hair may be color-treated at home with a shampoo or given a real dye job in the beauty parlor, all in jiffy time.

Hairdos are more casual, may be shaped in the beauty salon in such a way that they are easier to care for at home.

Hair treatments are packaged for home use so that a busy housewife may do household chores as the treatment goes to work on her head. Or an experienced operator may give her an excellent treatment while she catches up with correspondence or the latest novel.

Even home permanent wave time has been shortened. One manufacturer claims wave lotion that cuts winding time in half. Be that as it may, there is no doubt that even this chore of the permanent wave has been made pleasurable whether you wind twenty or forty curls.

Predictions for fall are that hair will be softly waved, if at all—ideal for the girl who relies on the home permanent.

Most people who permanent-wave their hair at home enjoy a dual session with girl friend, Mom or daughter, so that each permanent—the other's hair. A gab fest is in order while the hair undergoes its transformation. If you are experimenting with a home permanent for the first time, be sure to read directions. You should have a faint idea, too, of your hair textures. Is it difficult to wave or easy to wave? The results you get from your kit are entirely dependent on how you size up your hair, and whether you follow instructions carefully. There are special kits too for different textured hair, so if one wave does not seem satisfactory, you might try another.

ALL SET FOR THAT DATE
... Her last minute decision to permanent her tresses won't interfere with that 5 o'clock appointment with the man of the house. New waving lotion is said to cut winding time in half.

Birthday Party For Veterans Is Planned By VFW Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 7032, made plans to entertain patients at the Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville on September 26 at its meeting last Thursday evening. The occasion will be a birthday party with gifts, refreshments and entertainment to be supplied by the auxiliary. An invitation was extended to the Grifton Auxiliary to participate in the affair also. Several members of the auxiliary and post plan to attend.

Mrs. C. B. West Jr., president and presiding officer, brought to the attention of the members official communications urging continued support of the special Cancer Research Program sponsored by the state organization which provides funds for research and financial aid to member cancer victims. Mrs. H. H. Compton was appointed chairman of youth activities and many suggestions were made relative to special projects in this field. The group was informed of the membership plans by the state department in which special awards and recognition would be given to persons securing new and reinstated members.

Mrs. Elvy Forrest, second district president, gave a report on the second district meeting held in Grifton recently. A request from Caswell Training School for razors and blades was approved.

Mrs. West reported that the resolution endorsed by the auxiliary advocating proof of adequate liability automobile insurance be required as a condition to the obtaining of either an operator's license or a motor vehicle license had been sent to the Pitt County members of the North Carolina General Assembly.

Mrs. J. A. Joyner won the door prize. During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. B. T. Joyner and Mrs. Elvy Forrest.

Annual Life-Or-Death Challenge

Another life or death challenge faces motorists who leave their homes to enjoy the forthcoming Labor Day week-end.

The traditional September holiday isn't nearly as big in this part of North Carolina as it is in other sections of the country. Nevertheless it brings sufficient traffic onto the highways to make the accident rate increase and the number of deaths and injuries increase accordingly.

Last year 438 people lost their lives in Labor Day week-end accidents across the nation. Safety officials, looking into their crystal balls have asserted they can find nothing to indicate the highway slaughter will be less this year.

Sometimes we wonder whether it is futile to continue the admonitions which come before each holiday week-end. Too many drivers for some reason have the idea that the horrifying experience of screeching tires, crunching steel and the screams of injured and dying is reserved for the other fellow. The accidents are reserved for somebody else.

There's always the hope that a few drivers heed the warnings; that in some small way they may save a life, or keep a kid from being maimed. So the campaign for safer driving on holiday week-ends goes on.

There's not much point in reviewing the basic rules of highway safety. Every person who gets under a wheel knows them. Trouble comes when the driver, in a hurry to get from home or in a hurry to return, throws caution to the wind and takes into his own hands his life and those of others.

Suffice it to say there'll be a lot of cars on the highways this week-end and probably more than the usual number of careless drivers. If the safe drivers are going to enjoy an accident-free week-end, it will take more than the usual amount of caution.

YDC Jumping Gun In Election Drive

By LYNN NISBET

Y. D. C. — The Young Democratic Clubs of North Carolina are beating the regular party organization to the punch in starting their election campaign. Not only are the youngsters getting lined up for the biennial bout with Republicans in November. They are stimulating keen interest in politics generally by an intensive internal campaign for State club officers.

In other years activity began just a few days ahead of the state convention. In some instances candidates for major offices had to be drafted after the delegates arrived on the convention scene. And in too many cases the youngsters waited for the recognized leaders in the regular party organization to pass down the word about who to choose as president.

It's not that way this year. With the convention still six weeks away—tentatively scheduled for October 4-6 at Winston-Salem, the lobby of the Washington Duke Hotel at Durham looked Saturday like voting time was at hand. The occasion was one in a series of statewide rallies. The main speaker was Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic nominee for vice president four years ago. The real enthusiasm was found in the campaigning Steve Nickocks of Fayetteville and Tom Davis of Selma for YDC president.

It was assumed that everybody present would be for Stevenson and Kefauver, and the young Democrats wanted a scrap. The scrapping was augmented by Bill Smith of Charlotte and Bill Wood of Winston-Salem for national committeemen. Window stickers, placards and pocket cards were all over the place proclaiming the virtues of the respective candidates.

Every indication is the Winston-Salem meeting will be an open convention in every sense without interference by would-be bosses among the "Old Democrats."

REGISTRATION — Reports from over the state indicate there was no great rush of voters to get to the registration books for the September 8 election. The books closed last Saturday, with no more than the usual number of new registrants added during the 13 days they were open.

Apparently new registration was heavier in western counties and the larger cities. One explanation is that many Republicans were taking advantage of the open books to register for the November election as well as the September affair. Democrats had incentive to register for the primary this year, whereas Republicans had very little at stake then. No instances have been reported of concerted effort to register special blocs or groups of voters.

Mecklenburg reports in excess of 85,000 registered voters. That is the "votingest" county in the state, not only in total number of votes cast but it is believed to outrank all others in percentage of registrants going to the polls. In 1952 the county cast 77,378 votes for President of the United States and 74,243 for the Governor of North Carolina. Two years ago it cast 35,115 ballots for Representative in Congress, in the hottest fought district campaign in North Carolina in many years. Sources usually well informed predict a September vote of somewhat less than 30,000, or about one-third the potential.

Franklin county has a normal general election vote of around 6,000. A county official predicts a vote of more than 4,500 on September 8, with preponderant majority for the school amendment—largely as a tribute to Rep. Ed Waybrough, a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education, and chairman of the legislative subcommittee which rewrote the entire public school laws in the 1955 session.

DEVELOPMENT — Dr. Vonnie M. Hicks Sr. takes time off every now and then from doctoring ailing eyes of patients who come to his office in Raleigh to visit around. Mostly he has spent his off-hours on local golf courses and his off-weeks at far places—the Pacific Northwest, Canada, Europe et al.

Last week he decided to check on reports he had heard about developments in Western North Carolina. He shame-facedly confesses he hadn't been in the Sapphire country of the Great Smokies in 20 years until this month, or on the Blue Ridge Parkway in a long time. His experience made him think maybe he should have an eye doctor more than some of his patients. He could hardly believe what he saw was really there.

Improved highways instead of the old crooked trails; modern hotels and motels, with air-conditioning and television, instead of the chance of finding a mountain home which would put him up for the night; rural schoolhouses and churches as good as any in the cities; electric power and telephone lines like spiderwebs the landscape and TV antennae nearly always in sight; big and little manufacturing plants every few miles, and Cadillac (mostly with out-of-state license tags) so numerous that medium sized cars were conspicuous. He played the world-famous golf courses at Highlands, and the less famed but—he says—just as good newer courses at Waynesville Country Club, Sapphire Inn and elsewhere and wants to kick himself for not finding out about them before, or not believing what he had heard about them.

Dr. Hicks is just one of many North Carolinians who are recognizing that it isn't necessary to go outside the state to find the most magnificent scenery, the best roads and the best recreational facilities. These developments are not confined to the mountain counties. The coastal area and the middle third of the state also offer pleasant surprises for Tarheels who have sought beauty and recreation in far places.

Parental Obligations Resuming With School

When the kids return to their school chores this time of year the routine of their parents also change.

For when the kids go back to the classrooms to take up their obligations of obtaining a formal education, conscientious parents must likewise take on again their responsibility for helping the teachers and school officials fill the needs of the children.

This week more than 13,000 Pitt youngsters returned to school after their three-month holiday. Next week when schools of Greenville begin their new term several thousand urban kids will follow their rural cousins to the classrooms.

In a couple of weeks now Parent-Teacher organizations in the schools will begin their meetings, grade mothers will be chosen for the year's work, and the countless other school responsibilities which go to the parents will appear on the scene. To a large extent the success of the school year will depend upon the interest parents take in their children's work. How much the youngsters get out of the important extra curricula activities will be measured by how much effort parents make toward interesting the children in them.

This is the season when kids return to school after a summer of play. It is also the season when parents must turn their attention again to the welfare of the schools which means so much to the calibre of education their youngsters receive.

This year, the schools of Pitt County could profit by a great deal more interest and attention on the part of parents than has been evidenced in past years.

Principals Seemingly Inclined Toward Peace

The big Suez question is by no means settled and may linger for months as a powder keg which could set off a conflict. Even so, good has come out of the London Conference on Suez and the announcement that Nasser will meet with a committee to hear the conference proposal is a step toward peaceful settlement of the explosive issue.

British and French are still moving arms to the Middle East. Obviously they are preparing for the worst. At the same time they are hoping for the best.

Whether Nasser will accept the proposal for international control of Suez with Egypt as only a participating country remains a matter of conjecture. His counter proposal for Egyptian control with guarantees of keeping the canal open to traffic and an advisory committee composed of other nations, would, in substance, reject the London proposal. The fact that Nasser is willing to hear the committee and discuss the matter at least points to the fact he would like a peaceful settlement of the situation.

Nasser might even be willing to make some concessions not yet mentioned.

Between the London proposal and the Nasser proposal there appears ground for compromise. Unless the situation changes, the principals involved apparently are inclined toward such a compromise.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

FOR THE LONGELY

An important British novel of this generation is Walter de la Mare's "Memories of a Midwife." It is a penetrating study of the isolation of a shy and sensitive nature in the modern world.

The heroine of the novel is a midwife, and is thus set apart. But the world is full of persons of normal stature and appearance who are as truly isolated. Shyness, a sense of inadequacy, social ineptness, pride, and guilt are a few of the psychological barriers which keep people from forming normal relationships with others.

Only the lonely truly know what suffering loneliness brings. It is not by chance that solitary confinement is reserved as a dreaded punishment.

Some of these lonely and frustrated people—no doubt, need psychiatric help to gain a place in society. But for most of them there is a far better and broader answer. What they need is to be drawn out of themselves and placed on a footing of equality with others—to lift their eyes to something higher than their own stunted personality, and to live with a new joy of being accepted as an important individual. That is, they need the worship and the fellowship of the Christian Church.

Other Editors Are Saying... Atomic Program For South

(The Birmingham News)

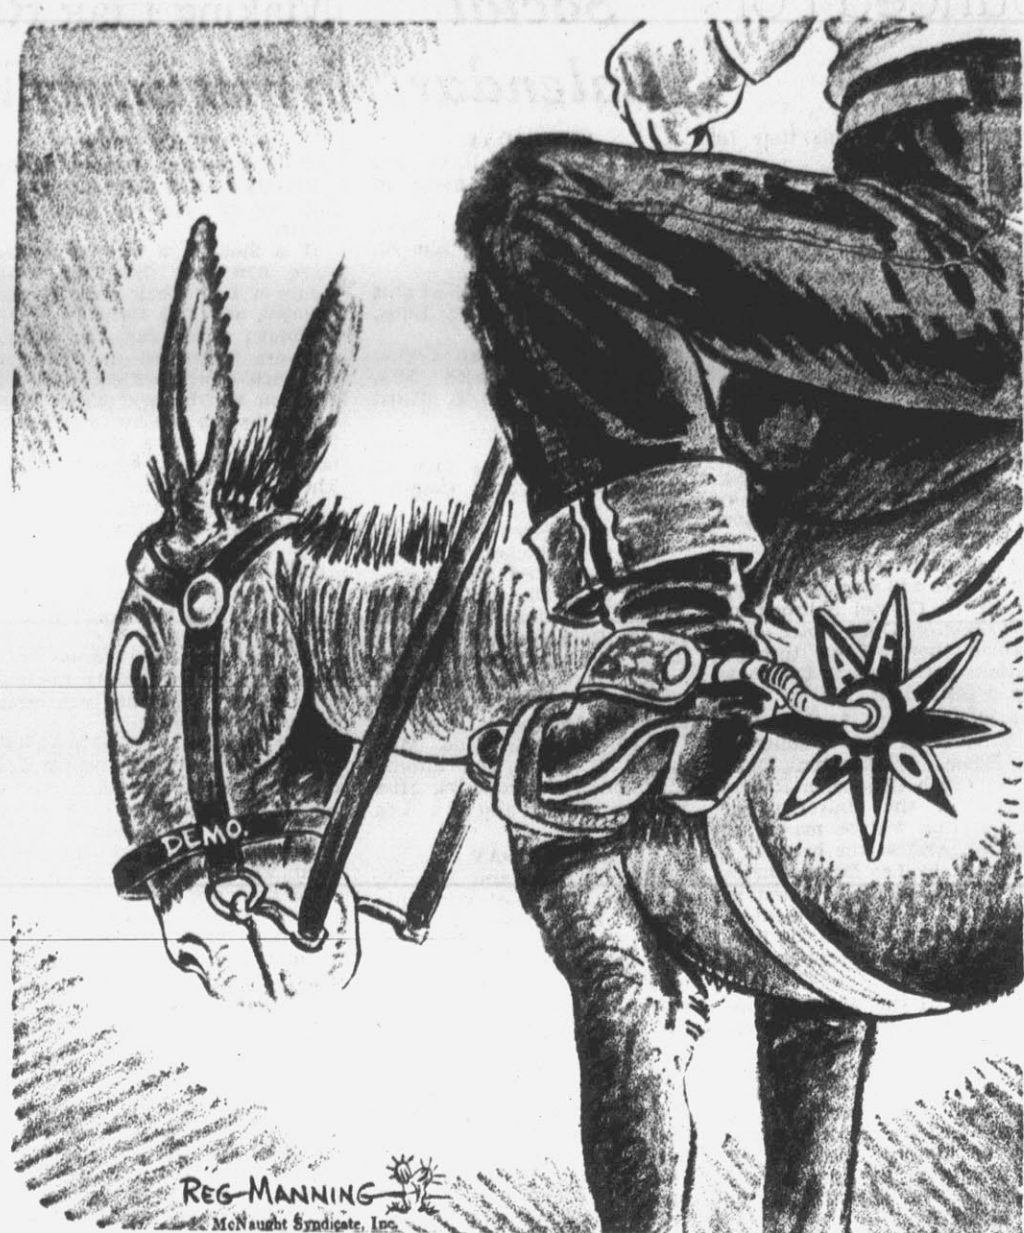

A significant conference, convened to help the South assess its capabilities and needs in shaping a pioneer program to promote nuclear energy development on a regional basis, has just completed a comprehensive four-day work session at St. Petersburg, Fla. Called by the Southern Governors Conference and directed by the Southern Regional Education Board, the conference was attended by some 200 technical, industrial and educational leaders, representatives of Southern state governments, and consultants from the Atomic Energy Commission.

After canvassing the region's nuclear energy potentials in the specific areas of consulting services, industrial application, agricultural research, medical therapy and public health, and the interrelationships of trained manpower and educational facilities, the conference came up with a series of recommendations which will be presented to the Southern Governors Conference next month for study and approval. The recommendations look toward the initiation of a coordinated multipurpose venture which would establish strategically located nuclear industrial testing facilities, step up agricultural atomic research efforts, support and expand nuclear therapy training for medical practitioners, improve science and mathematics training from high school to professional levels, and provide greater incentives for competent teachers.

Among major recommendations was that urging that the governors support a long-range program to establish one or more nuclear testing facilities for industrial technology. Such laboratories would have a minimum technical operating staff and the facilities would be used by private industry. Also stressed was the need for expansion and wider use of the regional radiation facilities maintained cooperatively by the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratories, the University of Tennessee, the Atomic Energy Commission and the agricultural experiment stations of the Southern states.

Creation of an information center with consultant services was suggested to help acquaint the medical profession with nuclear medicine training opportunities. To strengthen science and mathematics training in high schools and colleges, it was recommended that the governors appoint commissions, composed of members from parent organizations, labor, farm, industry and educational segments, that would promote community interest in this field. The governors further were urged to establish statewide citizens advisory energy advisory committees, with nonpolitical and broad community representation. The conference sought to evolve a blueprint for future progress that would quicken the region's interest in the challenge of nuclear energy development. Its recommendations should be given careful study and consideration by the Southern Governors Conference.

Nine More Months To Go

The orange and black bus pulled up to the big red brick building and the children piled out. Big children and smaller ones, some hopped out jauntily, others stepped slower.

The older youngsters, sure of their place, walked resignedly and knowingly to the front of the building and stood talking together. Younger ones, mostly boys, played around, slapped their notebooks together and laughed. One little boy, a first-timer, holding a case nearly as big as himself and a self-important air. A little girl topped by blond curls and wearing a crisp new frock, clutched a banana.

The bell rang and they all moved in one direction, inside the schoolhouse to their new classes and books and lessons. A dark-haired youth hung behind, reluctant to enter. He scuffed along across the pebbly drive, musing—his shoe shine, and his lips were set in a defiant line. Inside the noise quieted and there was a steady hum. Outside a bird called. He was alone on the steps.

He hesitated a moment longer, then disappeared down the corridor.

Nine more months until summer vacation.

Speaking of education, there's a man who for the last 27 years has waged a one-man campaign to wipe illiteracy from the face of the earth. He is Dr. Frank C. Laubach, a 71-year-old Christian missionary, who alone has undertaken a project that would be staggering even for an organization with a staff of thousands, since an estimated three-fifths of the world's population, or a billion and a half people, cannot read or write.

Dr. Laubach, a native of Benton, Pa., has visited at least 64 countries and has "made lessons" in 239 languages or dialects, many of which had never before been reduced to black on white. He has been directly or indirectly responsible for 15 million people learning their ABC's.

Dr. Laubach, who was graduated from Princeton University, obtained Master's and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia and was graduated from Union Theological Seminary, believes that each illiterate should be taught individually. He succeeds through his ability to induce newly taught literates to pass their knowledge on to others, hence the phrase, "Each One Teach One."

The first half of each year the missionary devotes to combating illiteracy in Asia or Africa. During the second half of each year he tours the United States, stirring up interest in and contributions for his work. He will be in Rocky Mount October 1.

Dr. Laubach's work has been given priority by UNESCO, to which he has served as advisor. He has written a number of books; he is married and has a son who accompanies him on his tour.

Notebook On Life

First Novel Is Town-Shocker

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A young schoolteacher's wife who never took a writing lesson in her life may become a literary sensation of the year when her first novel appears next month.

"I feel pretty sure of one thing — I'll probably cost my husband his job," said Mrs. Grace Metalious cheerfully.

In Gilmanston, N.H., it was learned that her husband has already lost his job as a grade school principal. School officials denied his dismissal was connected with Mrs. Metalious's book, but said it stemmed from a "personal" matter between the official and her husband. Metalious said he has obtained a high school teaching position in Stow, Mass., at a higher salary.

The novel, "Peyton Place," already causing an advance stir in publishing circles, brings "Tobacco Road" up North and gives it a Yankee accent.

Mrs. Metalious, called by her publishers as "Pandora in blue jeans" she likes to do her housework clad in jeans and a hunting shirt, set out to lift the lid off a small New England town—and wound up by pulling it off its hinges.

With Freudian frankness she unveils the high-level brutality and low-level squalor, the hidden vices and illicit romances, the petty meannesses and quiet heroism which she says underlie the surface of any placid New England town. She includes a few love scenes that might raise Ernest Hemingway's eyebrows or cause Kathleen Winsor to blush.

It's an odd book to come from the typewriter of a plump, 32-year old mother of three children. But Mrs. Metalious is no ordinary housewife.

She and her husband George were only 17 when they married after graduating from high school. She wanted to become a writer and turned out dozens of short stories while he served as an artilleryman overseas in World War II.

She wrote dozens more in the years she and her husband and three children subsisted on $120 a month while he studied at the University of New Hampshire to become a teacher.

"But I didn't try to sell them," she said, "I just wrote them and tossed them into a trunk."

Two years ago George got a $3,000-a-year post as principal of the grammar school in Gilmanston, N.H., a town of 438 registered voters. Grace decided to write a realistic novel about a small town—not a portrayal of Gilmanston, but a composite of all the small New England towns she had ever known.

"To a tourist these towns look as peaceful as a postcard picture," she said, "but if you go beneath that picture, it's like turning over a rock with your foot—all kinds of strange things crawl out."

"Everybody who lives in town knows what's going on—there are no secrets—but they don't want outsiders to know."

After completing her novel, Mrs. Metalious did what many beginners do. She went to the public library, looked over a list of literary agents and wrote one.

Most professional literary agents give unknown writers a polite brush-off. Luckily, Mrs. Metalious picked Jacques Chamblin, an agent who has written like Somerset Maugham in his stable but likes also to discover new talent. He told her to send along her manuscript and a few days later she was surprised to receive his reply:

"After a staid Philadelphia publisher—and an equally staid one in Boston—returned the novel at long's length, it was quickly accepted by a Manhattan firm, Columbia Pictures, is considering making it into a film, and has already taken an option, sight unseen, on Mrs. Metalious' next novel."

Pyramid Effect On Prices

By ELMER ROESSNER

In a letter to The New York Times, F.A. Sieverman 3d, of Saginaw, Mich., refers to the $8.50 per ton rise in the price of steel and writes, "Automobile makers have seized upon the steel increase to try to justify auto increases of from $40 to $60 per car. How many tons of steel go into a new car?"

The Times did not answer. It could have said "one ton," which is approximately correct for a typical, popular-price car.

But the phrasing of Mr. Sieverman's question suggests that he is not a wide-eyed seeker of information. He seems to be saying, "Hey, Times! Aren't the auto tycoons trying to rob me?"

The answer to that question is no.

WE RISE BEGETS RISE

The $8.50 figure is the average increase. The increase in prices of finer steels is greater and modern cars require some of the finest steels made.

And while about a ton of steel goes into a car, there's about a ton that doesn't go in. That's the steel that is cut or machined away and the steel in rejected parts.

Furthermore, cars are made with steel. The auto companies must pay more for machines, tools, dies, cranes, flooring, employees' lockers, cafeteria equipment and fences. New buildings and remodeling of old ones are now more expensive.

There is steel in machines used to check and test each car; each car moves to market on steel, whether by rail or truck. In hundreds, yes, hundreds of other places between the steel mill and the first drive up Main Street, autos require steel.

THE ECONOMIC SYSTEM

There is an even more important reason why a $8.50 rise in steel means a rise of $40 or more in the price of each car. That is the workings of economics.

Inventories of steel held by manufacturers and their suppliers cost more, hence they cost more to finance. The industry must pay interest on borrowed money (or lose interest on its own money) while that money is tied up in warehouses. The costs of insuring and protecting inventories rise with the value.

Furthermore, the free enterprise system is based on percentage mark-ups. It is just about as to be a retailer may mark up his goods 40 per cent and make 90 cents on a house dress and $90 on a fur-trimmed coat. If he tried to take $90 mark-ups on dresses or 90-cent mark-ups on coats he soon would be out of business and, perhaps in a mental institution.

Manufacturers must also take across-the-board percentage mark-ups. Furthermore, they have to take it on all costs; they must take the same mark-up on the new price of steel as they do on every other component. They must have this mark-up to pay management costs, interest on indebtedness, sales costs, taxes and profits for stockholders.

Then the dealers must add a mark-up to their costs, and it must be on a percentage basis just like the mark-ups claimed by retailers of dresses and coats.

HIKE MAY BE GREATER

So that's why a $8.50 rise in steel means a $40 or more rise in autos. As almost any auto manufacturer would tell Mr. Sieverman, the industry would much prefer an $8.50 cut in steel prices and a drop of $40 on car prices. They are having trouble enough selling at present prices.

However, by the time the 1957 models blossom in show windows around the country, the price rises may be considerably above $40. Many unions are clamoring for higher wages and prices of other materials are heading upward. By November the rise may be $100 to $200 or more.

TED WILLIAMS FINE IS FINE, SAY TAX EXPERTS

Prentice-Hall tax experts have figured the $5,000 fine levied on Ted Williams by the Boston Red Sox may be a bonanza. Because he is in a high tax bracket, the actual loss is only $1,000. If fans succeed in raising $5,000 to reimburse him, it will be a tax-free gift, putting the great splitter $4,000 ahead. If he gives the gift to charity, it will be a deduction worth $4,000, giving him a net gain of $3,000.

Republican Reins Shift To West Coast

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON The battle for control of the Republican Party and for the 1960 Presidential nomination began immediately after the close of the San Francisco convention, with three Californians leading the field—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Senator William F. Knowland and Governor Goodwin Knight.

Every top Republican leader, and especially National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, recognizes that these two questions lay behind Harold E. Stassen's dismal attempt to "dump" Nixon. Former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay admitted openly that it was an effort by Eastern liberals to assure that they would enjoy a dominant position after Ike leaves the political scene.

Nixon and Stassen were relatively minor actors in a far more important and gradiose drama. To intensify the struggle, there was always the brooding and hovering realization—that there was a possibility, even though remote, that Nixon might succeed to the Presidency within the next four years.

The most tribe but the most written line in every news despatch from Washington since Ike's heart attack has been that "The Vice President stands up a heartbeat away from the White House."

GOP CONTROL SHIFTED TO PACIFIC COAST Regardless of the next four years' vicissitudes, it appears that GOP control has shifted from its historic stronghold in the East to the Far West, as the Democrats' center of gravity has passed from Hyde Park and Independence to Libertyville, Ill., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Should Nixon enter the White House before the 1960 convention, he will be almost unalterable for the nomination in that year, as Coolidge was in 1924, indeed, this consideration explains why so many prominent Republicans, including enemies in the Party, refused to oppose him at San Francisco.

Francisco

VICE PRESIDENT'S POLITICAL STRENGTH But if Nixon does not enjoy Presidential prestige and power before the 1960 convention, he will have to beat back both Senator Knowland and Governor Knight. Each declared himself as will and able for the 1956 nomination, if President Eisenhower had decided not to run again.

Meanwhile, even his friends concede that Nixon has already launched his 1960 campaign. He is in a strong position because of the friends he made as a result of the generally disliked Stassen's enmity.

If the GOP ticket wins in November, as generally expected, "Dick" will have four years in which to strengthen himself with members of Congress, the Cabinet, the Eisenhower household and the Republican national organization.

WEST RIDES REPUBLICAN RANGE No other section of the country can present such formidable candidates as California.

There is no Senator or Governor of Presidential stature in the East or Middle West, and no Republican electable to either office next November will have sufficient time or opportunity to engrave his personality upon the public mind and imagination.

President Eisenhower's roll of "acceptable" running mates emphasizes the West's political supremacy. He listed Nixon, Knowland, Dewey, Stassen, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Herbert Hoover, Jr., and Governor Dan Thornton of Colorado.

Besides being a two-time loser, Dewey is making too much money. Stassen is a dead political duck. The names of Lodge and Hoover were included only out of courtesy. Even if Thornton wins a Senate seat in November, he will need four years to become versed in Senate rules and procedure.

It requires only a reading of that Presidential roster, and a cold analysis of each man's chances, to conclude that the West rides the Republican range.

Join In Opposing Peanut Imports

ROCKY MOUNT — The North Carolina Peanut Growers Association and the North Carolina Farm Bureau joined the Virginia Peanut Producers and Shellers Association in further opposing importation of peanuts, announced Joe S. Sugg, Executive Secretary, North Carolina Peanut Growers Association.

He stated that the above named organizations appealed through legislative representatives to the White House for a hearing which was granted and set for Monday.

Sugg stated that the hearing was conducted by Dr. J. E. Hauge, Economic Advisor to President Eisenhower. The spokesman for the North Carolina and Virginia Farm Bureaus and Peanut Producers, it had been requested by the White House that those attending the meeting be held to a maximum of four people, which accounts for the fact that each organization did not send a separate representative.

The appeal by this group, said Sugg, was in an effort to have President Eisenhower disapprove the Tariff Commission's recommendation of August 16th in which they recommended to the President that Virginia-type peanuts be imported for a period of thirty days, not to extend beyond September 28, 1956, bearing a 7 cent duty and a 7 cent ad valorem tax. This effort, according to Sugg, is the final appeal to prevent the importation of peanuts, and he expressed hope that the President would not permit the importation of Virginia-type peanuts at this time.

Ayden Colored News

Gillis - Younger
AYDEN — Miss Bertha May Younger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Offie Younger of Ayden, was married at 5:30, in a candlelight ceremony last Sunday afternoon, in Little Creek Christian Church, to Sgt. Lawrence B. Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paul Gillis of Washington, D. C.

The church was decorated with floor baskets of white gladioli and mums, interspersed with burning tapers in tall candelabra, where Rev. W. M. Dixon of Ayden, uncle of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Nelda C. Ormond, pianist of Ayden, and Misses Barbara Diggs and Theresa Diggs, soloists of Greenville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted bodice of lace was fastened with a standing collar, long sleeves ending in points over the hand and fastened in the back with self covered buttons. The bouffant skirt of tulle, which was edged with pleated ruffle ending in a chapel train, had an overskirt of lace with a pleated ruffle. Her double-tiered fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a pearl embroidered crown. She carried a bridal bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Crystal Faye Brooks of Washington, D. C., was flower girl. She wore a white organdy dress and carried a basket of mixed summer flowers. John W. Ormond Jr. of Ayden was ring bearer.

Miss Zephia Lee Dixon of Ayden was maid of honor. She wore a waltz length gown of yellow nylon net and carried a carnation nosegay, tied with matching ribbon. Bridesmaids were Misses Vernelle Kittrell of Washington, D. C., Delois Dixon of Ayden, Shirley Galloway of Greenville, Grace Younger, sister of the bride of Ayden, and Ethel Dixon of Grifton. They wore dresses of pastel shades similar to that of the honor attendant and carried matching nosegays.

Joseph Gillis of Washington, D. C., was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Collins Younger and Kenneth Younger of Ayden, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a light blue lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations to wear for her daughter's wedding.

The mother of the groom was dressed in a navy blue outfit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Gillis is a graduate of South Ayden School and is now a stenographer in Washington, D. C.

Sgt. Gillis is a member of the U. S. Air Force.

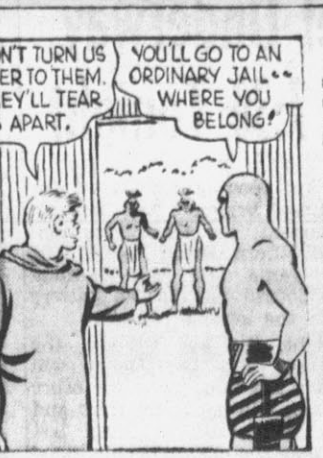

For traveling, the bride changed to a blue linen suit with matching accessories and the carnation corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After a plane trip to Cleveland, Ohio, the couple will be at home in Washington, D. C.

Immediately following the ceremony, Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Dixon entertained at a reception at their home on South Venters Street, in Ayden.

The refreshment table was covered with a linen cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of white gladioli and burning tapers. At one end of the table Mrs. J. W. Ormond poured punch while Mrs. Travis Dixon served the wedding cake at the opposite end. They were assisted in serving bridal mints and salted nuts by Mrs. Katherine Davis.

Mesdames Josephine Reaves and Mary L. Albrighton presided in the gift room, and goodbyes were heard by Mrs. J. W. Jackson.

Dairy, Graniteers Win, Meet For Title Tonight

Consolation To Get Underway At 7:30 Tonight

In the opening rounds of the Industrial League City Softball Tournament, the Graniteers topped Southern Bread 6-5 in the initial game and the Carolina Dairy clouted the Service Battery 16-8 in the second contest.

Tonight, the two winners, the Graniteers and the Dairy, will meet for the title, while the other two teams will battle for third and fourth slots. Officials ruled last night that the championship game will be played at 9:00, rather than at 7:30, as previously announced. The consolation tilt will take place at 7:30.

First One Was Close
Charlie Yates' Southern Breaders jumped to an early lead in the first game, let it slip through their fingers and were stopped 6-5 by the hustling Graniteers in an extra inning.

Tommy Davis, Pete Tripp and Neil King scored three runs in the first inning, while their pitcher Yates held down the favored Graniteers. Then, in the second, Dan Gordan's Graniteers exploded for their three runs on singles by Bill Hendrix and John Conway, and an error on the opposing second baseman.

They came back again to push in runs in the fifth, running the score up to 5-3. Hugh Hardee and Hendrix did the scoring.

The Southern Bread nine fought back in the seventh and tied the contest with two runs on a walk and a single by Tommy Davis.

Wallace Conway whacked out a single and later came across to give the Graniteers the victory in the eighth inning.

Charlie Yates was the losing pitcher; Gordan, the winner.

A Near-Rout

The night's second "contest" was actually a near-rout for the League Champion Carolina Dairy. They had a field day in the third inning, driving in 13 runs before their opponents could settle themselves.

In the very first inning, the second Dairy man to come to bat, Johnny Foell, cracked an inside-the-park home run on an error by the right fielder. After that, the bottom fell out and the 13 big runs flowed across the Dairy scoreboard like water. They scored one run in the fourth and a final run in the sixth frame.

The losers managed to whip in four runs in the second inning and were at one time leading by as much as 4-1. After the tremendous Dairy third-inning assault, the Service Battery could only muster four more runs in the fifth. It ended on a 16-8 note. Brownie Tripp was the winning hurler.

Carolina Dairy is favored by three runs in tomorrow night's championship tilt, due to their impressive season record and the pitching arms of Mitchell White and Bill MaHallick, and due to their reputation as a hard-hitting, hustling club.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS
By The Associated Press
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Joey Giardello, 161½, Philadelphia, stopped James Bussey, 159, Augusta, Ga., 9.

FOELL HOMERS—Shown above is Carolina Dairy first baseman Johnny Foell as he clouted an inside-the-park homerun in last night's second game. Actually, the right fielder, erred the ball, but the run counted nevertheless and the Dairy crushed their opponents by a hefty 16-8 score. Brownie Tripp was credited with the mound victory.

HENDRIX SLICES—Bill Hendrix of the Graniteers takes a healthy slice at a pitch last night's first contest. He is expected to be a big man at the plate for his crew in tonight's championship battle, along with Bobby and John Conway and Dan Gordan.

NC Girl In Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Nancy Phillips of Newton, N.C., the North Carolina junior girls champion, moved into the second round of the U. S. Golf Assn.'s junior girls golf tournament today against the Texas state champ.

Miss Phillips, who also was runner-up in the North Carolina Women's tournament recently, had one of yesterday's most spectacular victories, a one-up, 19-hole win over Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., the Tennessee state champ.

Nancy's opponent today, Joann Brunl, of Laredo, Tex., defeated Sue Finkbeiner of Toledo in yesterday's first round, 6 and 5.

The only other Carolinian entry, 16-year-old Connie Gorsuch of Greensboro, was eliminated in the first round by Judy Rand of Aurora, Ohio, 7 and 5.

Medalist Mary Mills, 16-year-old high school student from Gulfport, Miss., was among the favorites advancing. She defeated Gail De Pietro of Pleasanton, Calif., 5 and 4.

Nancy toured the front nine in 39 and the back nine in 41 for an 18-hole score of 80. A quarter-finalist in last year's tournament, she won her match yesterday with a par four on the 19th hole.

Clifford Ann-Creed, 17, of Opelousas, La., winner of the Western Tournament in Chicago, met Mary Mills in the second round.

In the Chicago meet, Miss Creed beat Miss Mills in a semifinal match.

Mantle Belts 45th; Yanks Win

VETERAN LINEMAN—Angus Duff, veteran 190 pound senior tackle for the 1956 edition of the Greenville Phantom gridgers, is expected to fill a big hole in the Green line this Fall. Duff played regular ball last year at a guard slot and was strong defensively. He is one of the most physically powerful men on the high school squad.

ECC To Open 1956 Season Here Against Navy Team

East Carolina College Pirates will meet the Navy Tars of Norfolk, Va. in the 1956 season's first football game in College Stadium in Greenville, Saturday night, September 8.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, ECC Athletic Director, announced the opening game Tuesday morning. All holders of Pirates Club memberships will be admitted to this game at no additional cost.

This will give the Pirates a 6-game home schedule for the coming season.

Coach Jack Boone will begin drills and workouts for the season on Saturday, September 1. Candidates for the squad will begin arriving on the campus Friday afternoon.

Billy Joe Will Lead In Play

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—Billy Joe Patton, the colorful clouter from Morganton, will lead the Carolinas contingent in the U.S. Amateur golf tournament at Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 10-15.

Patton and 10 others, including two from outside the Carolinas area, qualified for the national event in 36-hole trials over the Catawba Country Club's 6,600-yard par 72 layout yesterday.

The Morganton amateur had two sub par rounds of 70 and 67 to finish six strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, Keely Grice of Charlotte. The two rounds gave the colorful Patton the medal.

Grice, an oil distributor who usually places high in area tournaments, had a 72-71 for a total of 143. A stroke behind him was a relative newcomer, Marilyn Stroud of Greenville, S.C., with 74-70-144.

The other members of the 11-man contingent, and their qualifying scores, include: Bill Harvey, Greensboro, 75-73-148; Dave Smith, Gastonia, 72-76-148; Ralph James, Winston-Salem, 75-73-148; Phil Weichman, Harlan, Ky., 75-74-149; Bill Williamson, Charlotte, 72-77-149.

Joe Brown Named Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Brown of New Orleans, who outpointed Wallace (Bud) Smith for the lightweight championship last Friday night, was named "Fighter of the Month" today in the latest rankings by Ring Magazine.

Rated eighth in his division a month ago, Brown was elevated to the top spot while Smith fell to third place. Smith has lost four fights this year.

Duilio Loi of Italy held onto the challenger's role in the 135-pound class while Cisco Andrade retained the No. 2 position.

The only other prominent changes came in the bantamweight division as the result of the retirement of former champion Robert Cohen. Each of the fighters below him — from fourth to tenth — advanced a notch and the No. 10 place was taken over by a newcomer, German Ohm of Mexico, who has lost only one fight in two years.

In the heavyweight class, Willie

Steelers Seeking Better Offense

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers, losers in both National Football League exhibitions this year, are aiming to sharpen up their offense.

And the key to the problem, according to Coach Walt Kiesling, is finding a replacement for quarterback Jimmy Finks, who quit the pro league for an assistant coaching job at Notre Dame.

The Steelers resumed practice today and Kiesling shook up his offensive team in an effort to decide who will be his No. 1 quarterback.

The Steelers don't play again until Sept. 8 when they meet the Chicago Bears at Pittsburgh. By that time, Kiesling hopes to have made his choice among Ted Marchibroda, Jack Scarbath and Maurice Duncan.

Marchibroda was with the Steelers last season but sat it out while Finks held the spotlight. Scarbath, former star at Maryland University, was with Ottawa in the Canadian League last season. Prior to that he played with the Washington Redskins.

Kiesling told sportswriters in Pittsburgh yesterday he's trying to sharpen up his offense.

Milwaukee Tripped By Pittsburgh 5-4

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Are Dale Long and the rest of Pittsburgh's short-lived heroes to become Milwaukee's pennant block, just as the Pirates were to Brooklyn in 1954?

Brooklyn had edged to within a half game of first place in '54 and looked good and healthy with 10 games remaining against Pittsburgh in the last month and a half of the season. But the last place Pirates, who had lost 10 of their first 12 games with the Brooks, won five of those last 10, standing the Dodgers on end while the New York Giants copped the flag and the world championship.

The Pirates, who lost 12 of their first 18 games with Milwaukee this season, looked like the spoilers of old last night, coming from behind as Long hit a three-run homer to beat the Braves 5-4 and trim their National League lead to 1½ games over the Dodgers.

And except for the fact Brooklyn was playing a doubleheader in the only major league park without lights, the Dodgers might have been only a half game shy of the Braves today. The Brooks split the twinbill with Chicago's Cubs, winning the opener 6-4 on three ninth-inning runs, but losing the nightcap 4-3 when play was halted after 7½ innings by darkness.

In the American League, Mickey Mantle belted his 45th home run in New York's 4-0 victory over Kansas City in a game held to six innings by rain. The Yankees regained an eight game first place bulge as Cleveland lost at Baltimore 1-0. Chicago's White Sox split a pair with Washington, winning 5-3 after a 6-2 defeat. Detroit defeated Boston 6-3.

Long's poke triggered a four-run seventh that tied the score for the Bucs after Warren Spahn, seeking his 196th major league victory, had retired two men in the frame. Five straight hits set things up for the Pirates against the veteran southpaw. Dick Groat's infield single scored the clincher against rookie Bob Trowbridge in the eighth.

Elroy Face won it in relief of Dick Hall, who was tagged for Ed Mathews' 31st and 32nd home runs.

Don Newcombe, working in relief for only the second time this season, won his 21st for the Braves in the opener as Carl Furillo popped a fly that fell for a two-run single and broke a 3-all tie in the ninth. In the nightcap, Gene Baker's 11th home run and a bases-loaded walk by reliever Ed Roebuck broke up a tie game in the seventh for the Cubs. Duke Snider, sidelined by a knee injury, pinch-hit his 36th home run.

There were 13 home runs in the NL yesterday and Frank Robinson's second of the night was the 1,000th of the season. Long's was 1,001 — 262 shy of the major league record the NL set last season. The Cincinnati rookie slammed two, his 33rd and 34th, while Ed Bailey added his 23rd to account for seven runs. Joe Nuxhall won his 10th.

Mary Blaylock, Solly Hemus and Richie Ashburn got the job done in a two-run sixth. Simmons won his 11th.

Mantle's wind-blown shot came in the third inning with two on against Art Ditmar. It put him five games up on Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927 — but the Babe hit his 45th and 46th in the same game. Bob Turley won his eighth with a two-hitter.

Cleveland and Baltimore each managed just four hits, but Ray Moore gave up only singles and didn't allow a man past first while winning his 11th for the Orioles.

A single, balk and Bob Niekman's double scored the only run in the first off Hank Aguirre.

Chuck Stobbs counted a 13th victory for the first time in his 10 seasons of organized ball, checking the White Sox on seven hits in the opener. Jack Harshman, riding on homers by Dave Philley and Minnie Minoso and Ron Northey's two-run double, won his 11th in the second game.

Al Kaline drove in three runs as the Tigers beat Mel Parnell. Kaline's 24th homer led off a three-run sixth — in which Red Wilson shuffled home from first while the Red Sox disputed a decision at the plate. Frank Lary won his 14th with a five-hitter — including homers by Gene Stephens and Ted Lepcio.

HOSTAGE

by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

CHAPTER 18

Eklund thought of the possibility of taking the rifles straight to Major Blake and telling him what he knew. Kinney would retaliate by telling on him, but it was not this which deterred Eklund. With so much at stake, he'd take the risk if he could be sure of results. There was the rub, the doubt that he could accomplish anything by such a course.

Basically, it would be his word against Kinney's, and Kinney would flatly deny any part in it. A clincher would be the establishment of the fact that Eklund was a wanted man, a deserter. Blake would probably believe Kinney instead of him, and the trader would be in a stronger position than before, while he would have made a useless sacrifice.

There was too much involved to act hastily. The welfare, perhaps the very lives of the settlers, could hinge on what he did. Kinney was leagued with the post, but he was working against it. When a man turned renegade, he was apt to go all the way.

And if he was made a prisoner, or worse—what would happen to Narcissa? She'd be completely at the mercy of a man who didn't know the meaning of that word.

On one point, Eklund had no doubts. These guns must not be turned over to the Indians. On the other hand, it would be better to go warily for a while, until sure of his position. He was several miles out from town now, and a deep, brush-lined coulee was conveniently at hand. Eklund pulled into it, hobbled the horses, and snatched a few hours' sleep.

It was still night when he awoke. A rocky ledge arose at one side of the coulee, and at its base was a small, cavern-like opening, with many good-sized stones scattered about. He put the boxes there, piled rocks over and around to hide them from any chance observation, and then hitched up his team.

Oates waited in a fret of impatience, after Kinney had left. He'd been six weeks in the sun and that had restored his appearance almost to normal, ironing out the prison pallor. But before that, he had been five years behind bars, and half a decade is a long stretch. Anything resembling a prison made him nervous, and even to wait for suppers in the guardhouse was too long.

But at least he was working for a good boss, and Kinney, knowing how long he had been a convict, was losing no time in arranging to set him free. Finding that he was pacing the room like a caged beast, Oates forced himself to sink down on the cot and relax. The sentry, pacing slowly outside, seemed more amused than otherwise at his frenzy.

He was the only occupant of the guardhouse, which was in his favor. And he supposed that fellow out there was his friend, in a manner of speaking. Kinney had assured him that he'd have everything fixed—

Which would make Kinney out either a magician or a liar. Oates sprang up, his gaze raking wickedly about, considering that aspect. He'd served a stint in the army, and certainly he knew enough about prisons. So now his common sense assured him that no civilian would be in a position to guarantee what Kinney had promised. At least, it was so unlikely that Oates smelled a double-cross.

And what could be more logical? If he was out, his usefulness to Kinney was ended, for he was known now to the army and would be branded an outlaw. Of course Kinney couldn't spring him, caught red-handed as he had been, but neither could Kinney risk having him tell what he knew. Which made the answer obvious. Let him be killed, trying to escape, and the problem was solved.

He opened his mouth to shout at the sentry, to demand that he be taken to the major, to tell what he knew. Then he closed it again. There was a chance that Kinney had been playing square with him, and to talk would spoil everything. It certainly wouldn't gain him his freedom. Kinney would flatly deny his story, and the trader was a man of influence in this country, while he was a stranger, caught in the act of running guns. There was no question as to whose word would take.

Once more, Oates sank down on the cot. He was in a bad fix, and it was up to him to use his own head to get out of it. One skip and he'd be a dead man.

A big black fly buzzed monotonously near the ceiling, zooming back and forth in an endless quest for freedom. Outside, as the shadows grew long and came close to merging, there came the ceremony of lowering the colors, the boom of the sunset gun. Oates watched from his barred window, gnawing his lip.

These men in blue represented a world with which he was in conflict and would be till he died. Keep him here a scant few days extra, while the telegraph made a mockery of time and space and records were consulted, and the commandant would know that he was wanted as a lifer, an escapee in which break three prison guards had been killed. If they got him back, it would be the rope next time.

So he had to get out, tonight. And if Kinney was working a double-cross, as he most likely was—

Oates smoothed his face as he heard someone coming with his supper.

This was the time. It was win or die, and there could be no half-way measures. The hour couldn't be better, for men's eyes were not yet fully changed from the suddenly lost sun, and its glaring world, to the shifting currents of the night.

The door opened, and a guard came in, carrying a tray. It gave forth an appetizing aroma, and Oates was hungry, but this was a meal he'd never enjoy. No telling when he would eat again, but that couldn't be helped. He had his plan, and he jumped fast, coming out of the shadows. He heard the guard's startled grunt, as the tray crashed to the floor with a spilling of heavy crockery and tin cup, but he had his hand on the guard's holstered revolver, and he raised it and struck once, and the barrel was an ugly club on a man's skull. Oates knew. He'd had his own head laid open in similar fashion.

He didn't waste time with a second blow, for the guard was going down, and he'd be out cold for a while. Oates reached the door and was through it. Temptation was strong in him to shoot it out with the surprised sentry, but he resisted that. Kinney had said the sentry would have to shoot at him, to make it look right, but that he'd be careful to miss. So long as there was a chance that Kinney had really arranged it, he'd better play it that way. Otherwise, his chances of winning clear of the post would be cut in half.

Oates ran, clutching the revolver, diving for the deeper shadows alongside the guardhouse as the sentry brought his rifle up and red flame made a stabbing bayonet from its muzzle—a bayonet that could rip the vitals out of a man.

As this was doing to him. It was like the pound of a sledge hammer in his stomach, the kick of a mule. Oates gasped and felt his feet go out from under him, while agony flamed in a savage sweep through his vitals.

Dumped 2 Tons; Earn $5 Reward

NEW YORK (AP)—Three sympathetic garbage collectors dumped two tons of refuse into a Bronx street yesterday so a worried woman could recover $530.

Mrs. Rosalie Mirabel, 32, operator of a stationery store, ran down the street and halted the refuse truck after recalling she had absent-mindedly placed an envelope with the money in her garbage can.

The three men emptied the truck and spent 30 minutes sifting through the garbage before they found the money.

The woman gave the three a $5 reward.

Pockets Looted While Sleeping

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Oh, sleep may be a gentle thing, beloved from pole to pole, but not by James Carroll. Not after yesterday.

Carroll, 42, fell asleep in the booth of a Norfolk tavern. When he awoke a little while later, he found that a light-fingered patron had removed $19 from his pockets.

Worse yet, Carroll always keeps a little reserve cash hidden in his shoes, and the thief had taken the shoes, too—right off his feet.

FREE LANCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Nanette Fabry reportedly will work as a freelance performer during the coming television season instead of committing herself to long-term TV contracts.

Despite its spindly legs the gazelle can run as fast as 50 miles per hour.

Boyle . . .

She has already received $5,100 in royalties, and the first thing she did was to buy a 1951 used Cadillac and four bathing suits for her neighbors' daughters.

Summation to New York, she didn't have anything suitable to wear, so she sent her 12-year-old daughter to the store with $14 to buy her a new dress. She arrived here, her brown hair in a pony tail held together by a blue rubber band, a bit defiant about the impact of her novel back home.

"Three people already have cut me dead on the street, and the book isn't even out yet," she said. "And I'm afraid the school board won't want to keep as principal a man married to a woman who wrote about the things I did."

"It's all right to gossip about what goes on in a small town, but you're not supposed to bring it out into the open. They don't like to see the truth in print. But George tells me not to worry—he can always get another job."

The couple have no intention of leaving Gilmanston. They are moving out of their $35-a-month rented house into a new home of their own.

"Why, I wouldn't want to live anywhere else," Mrs. Metalious said. "In New York or Boston there is so much pressure—even the people who have nothing to do are in a big hurry. But in a small town there is time for everything."

"The ax-mouths may talk about you, but if you want to be let alone, they'll let you alone—utterly and finally alone. No matter what crime you commit you can always go on living in

Encephalitis Hit Some 25 Horses

RALEIGH (AP)—Sleeping sickness has stricken around 25 horses in North Carolina, says Dr. Martin Hines, the state's public health veterinarian.

No cases have been reported affecting humans, Dr. Hines reported yesterday. He stated that last year several hundred horses were hit by the disease, while four or five suspect cases involving humans were recorded.

So far this year it has been clinically diagnosed in Hyde, Columbus and Harnett counties.

Missed School By Two Hours

AURORA, Colo. (AP)—Because she missed by two hours being born on Nov. 30, 1951, little Dinah Lee Bass must wait until next fall to attend kindergarten — and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bass, are protesting.

Public schools admit children to classes only if they are 5 years old on or before Nov. 30.

Dinah, who doesn't understand all the fuss, was born at 2 a.m., on Dec. 1, 1951.

Curtis-Wright rose between 1 and 2 after directors declared a dividend of 65 cents on the common, 10 cents more than in previous quarters.

Off between 1 and 2 were Caterpillar, Union Carbide and United Aircraft. United lost 3 1/4 yesterday after the company announced plans to offer common holders the right to subscribe to new convertible preference stock.

Zenith, Kennecott and Du Pont were down major fractions.

Fractional gains included General Motors, Studebaker-Packard, Ford, Douglas, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Illinois Central, Royal Dutch and Texas Co.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 cents at $183.10. The industrial component was down 40 cents, rails were unchanged and utilities down 20 cents. Yesterday the average lost $1.20 in the second straight decline.

Husband Held In Wife's Slaying

MORGANTON, N.C. (AP) — Police today held a 44-year-old furniture worker without privilege of bond after he allegedly beat his wife, mother of his three children, with his fists and left her in a patch of woods.

Sheriff Ray Sigmon said the body of Mrs. Dorine Pruett Chapman was found lying on a quilt near the couple's home in rural Burke County. She had been beaten about the head and had suffered a fractured rib.

Sigmon quoted Forrest Chapman as saying he missed his wife when he returned home from work Monday afternoon and began searching for her. The sheriff said Chapman told him he found the body in the woods.

Later, however, Sigmon quoted Chapman as admitting he beat his wife with his fists Monday night after he had finished a drinking bout. Sigmon said Chapman told him he and his wife fought along the route from their home to the wooded area.

After the fight, Chapman was quoted, he went home to sleep. He awoke sometime later and began looking for his wife, finding her body on the quilt.

An autopsy showed that Mrs. Chapman died of a brain injury caused by blows about the head. The report said she also was injured elsewhere on her body but not seriously enough to cause death.

Sigmon said the couple had had domestic troubles dating back to 1949.

Only two weeks ago Chapman was charged with assaulting his wife but the case was dropped when Mrs. Chapman refused to press charges. She was hospitalized briefly at the time.

TAKES NEW JOB — J. Lee Rankin, 49, of Lincoln, N.C., is interim appointee as U. S. Solicitor General, subject to confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January.

Steel Shortage Delays Projects

RALEIGH (AP) — The State Highway Commission may have to wait until March, 1958, to get some of its steel.

Highway Chairman A. H. Graham disclosed the late delivery date situation as the commission opened bids yesterday on 16 projects involving 69 1/2 miles of road work.

Chief Highway Engineer W. H. Rogers Jr. said the commission will have to "minimize as much as possible the use of heavy structural steel. He said that in some projects reinforced concrete could be substituted, but heavy steel would be essential in other projects.

Rogers said no sharp increases in the costs of projects using steel were apparent in the letting. Low bids on the 16 projects totaled $5,408,674. They will be reviewed by the full commission at its regular monthly meeting tomorrow.

Two of the projects in yesterday's letting could be affected by the steel shortage. They are a proposed new bridge between Morehead City and Beaufort, and a new span over the Cape Fear River at Elizabethtown.

Highway Safety Talk For Ass'n.

Cpl. Carl Whitfield of the State Highway Patrol spoke on highway safety to members of the Greenville Furniture Dealers Assn. and a number of their employees at a meeting last night at the Silo Grill.

Chairman Robert Elks presided and Program Chairman Robert E. Tunnell introduced the speaker.

Cpl. Whitfield told the group, "We in North Carolina are facing a dark future unless the people stand shoulder to shoulder and drive safely."

He pointed out that more people were killed on the highways last year than were killed in all the wars. To date 14 persons have died in automobile accidents in Pitt County this year, while 18 were killed during all of 1955.

The patrolman cited violation of the law and carelessness as the two causes of highway accidents. He called attention to the vigorous program, "Slow Down and Live" now being carried on by the state and he urged association members to "do everything possible to reduce Pitt's death rate from highway accidents. Talk with your employees and encourage them to drive carefully."

"We must have the cooperation of the people of North Carolina," he declared, "before we can reduce this death rate."

Duck Decoy Is Used As Illustration By Speaker

A duck decoy was employed by Milton Worthington last night as he brought the third message in the evangelistic series of services being held this week by the interdenominational Musical Messengers at Grace Free Will Baptist church on Watauga avenue.

One of a pair of twins on the team, the young licensed minister used the decoy in a message on the subject "Counterfeit Religion."

He compared the "vast number" of "so-called Christians" in the Church today to his duck decoy.

"It looks like a duck," the twin elaborated, "it's shaped like a duck; when placed in water it acts like a duck; but it ain't a duck."

In making the comparison of the counterfeit duck to counterfeit Christians, the Columbia Bible college student stated, "There are a number of people in our churches who have never really accepted Christ from their heart, never, as the Bible states it in John 3:3, been 'born again.' They have no spiritual life. Just like my duck decoy, they look, act, and in every way appear like a Christian, but they aren't real Christians."

The young minister urged the necessity of one being certain of his salvation. "The duck," he said, "has nothing inside. A person has nothing inside until he accepts Christ and makes him Lord and Master of that life."

One of the biggest things wrong with being like the duck decoy, the one-time football player for Aiden high school pointed out, "The decoy leads other ducks to their deaths by drawing them to the place he is. Christians who are Christians only in actions and not in heart lead others astray with their middle of the road living."

R. J. Kennedy, the newest member of the Musical Messenger team, will bring the message at the church on Watauga avenue tonight. He has been with the Musical Messengers only four weeks.

Two Will Attend Disaster Course

Two representatives from the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross will attend a disaster nursing training meeting in Rocky Mount tomorrow.

They are Mrs. Walter F. Taylor, executive secretary, and Mrs. Phyllis Martin, supervising nurse at Pitt Memorial Hospital and disaster nursing representative for the local chapter.

Miss Loretta Roberts, nursing representative for North Carolina, will be on hand to discuss one phase of disaster preparedness. The day's activity will also include a luncheon.

Order Four Held Without Bond In Fatal Knifing

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Four persons were held without privilege of bond today in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Ida May Treadaway, 19-year-old blonde wife of an overseas soldier.

County Judge Walter Lamplsey, at a preliminary hearing yesterday, found probable cause on murder charges against Joe Miller, 23, Johnny Quick, 23, and Herbert Stewart, 25.

He also ordered Mrs. Bernice Quick Chandler, 28, held for the next term of Superior Court, which opens here Oct. 1. Mrs. Chandler had been held in $200 bond as a material witness.

Miller and Quick, of Rockingham, were arrested here Aug. 14 and Stewart, of Richmond County, was picked up in Baltimore the same day. He had been working for a steel company there.

JURY SEATED

BOSTON (AP) — An all-male jury finally was seated today in the 18th day of the Brink's $1,218,000 robbery trial after 1,621 veniremen had been examined since Aug. 7.

Chief Justice M. V. Barnhill resigned earlier this month, and Gov. Hodges elevated Associate Justice J. Wallace Wimborne to chief justice. Atty. Gen. William B. Rodman Jr. was named associate justice, and Superior Court Judge George B. Patton was appointed attorney general.
