Israel Calls Reserves As Mid-East Threatens To Break Out In War

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel mobilized its reserves and the United States began the evacuation of some of its citizens from four Middle East states today in the biggest Arab-Israeli war scare since 1948.

Israel, announcing the callup of reserve battalions in what it termed a "partial mobilization," denied it had any aggressive intent.

Tension in Israel has mounted since Jordan, which has the longest frontier with Israel of any Arab state, formed a joint military command with Syria and Egypt last week. A pro-Egyptian Parliament was elected in Jordan a week ago.

President Eisenhower, taking a grave view of the mobilization, sent two messages to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. Washington reports said Israel had mobilized from 150,000 to 200,000 men along her frontiers.

In the Israeli side of Jerusalem regular traffic and business were slowed by a heavy movement of troops, guns, tanks and reservists.

From 7,000 to 8,000 Americans in Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria were affected by State Department warnings and orders to leave for points of safety. Tourists, business people and others in the four countries not performing "essential functions" were urged to leave. Dependents of U. S. government officials will be evacuated "as soon as possible" by commercial planes, they were told.

Dependents in Jordan were told the first flight to take them to Beirut, Lebanon, was leaving at 2 p. m. today.

There are about 320 Americans in Jordan, 60 of them in Arab Palestine. About 100 of them are there in official capacities. There are 1,893 Americans in Egypt. Many are missionaries, teachers, newsmen and business men.

Because nonessential British personnel was largely withdrawn during the heights of the Suez crisis, similar warnings to Britons in the Middle East were not issued by the London government.

The air of crisis was heightened by the announcement of Israeli military authorities today that three suicide bands of Arab commandos had crossed into Israel from the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip last night and two of the groups were captured. Increased activity of these bands was one reason given for the Israeli mobilization.

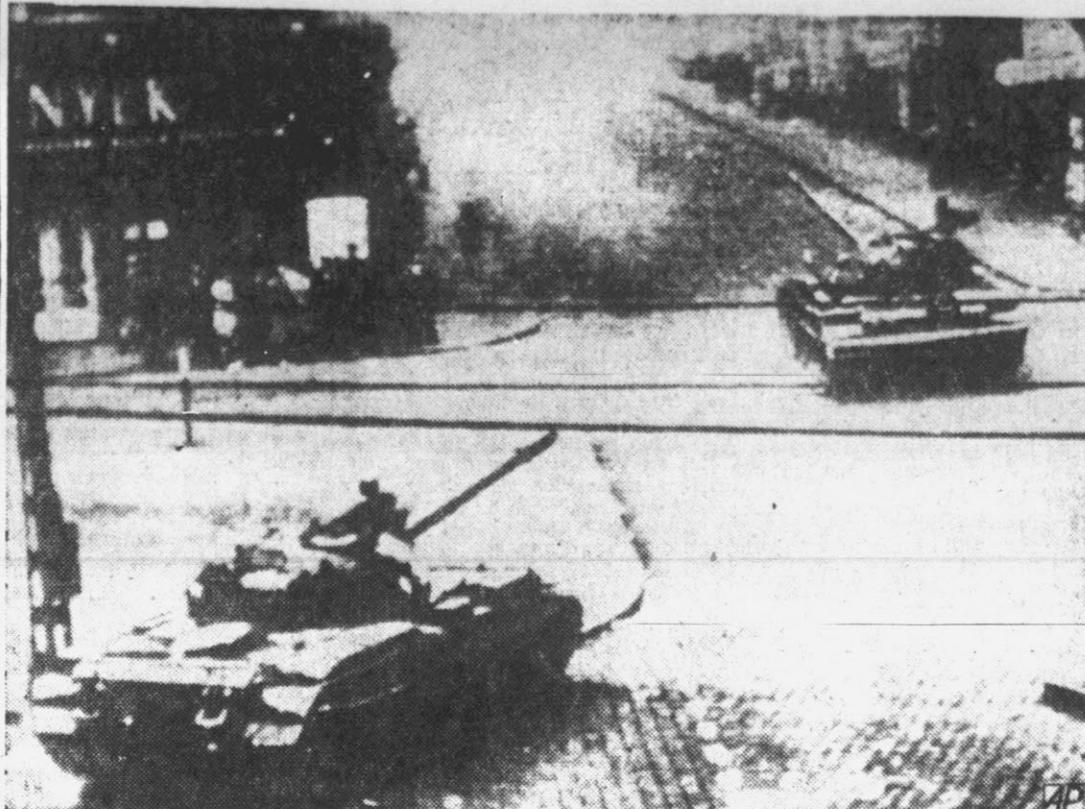

The Israeli cabinet met in an emergency session for 2 1/2 hours today. British and American ambassadors had separate meetings with Premier Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

At Apaman, U. S. Ambassador Lester Mallory called on Tshen Hashem, Jordan's Foreign Office undersecretary. In Cairo, U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare arranged meetings with Egyptian President Nasser and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

Jordan's tough little army, formerly called the Arab Legion, was reported deployed on the west bank of the Jordan ready to take the brunt of any Israeli attack. Jordan has defense alliances with Britain, as well as separate treaties with Iraq and with Syria and Egypt.

In Israel, special first aid centers continued a drive for blood donations.

Tanks In Action In Rebellion

Soviet-built tanks wheel into a smoke-filled Budapest street as they go into action in Hungary's flaring revolution against Communist satellite government. Citizens stand close to buildings to stay out of line of fire. Many Hungarian army units reportedly have gone over to rebels in fighting against police and units of the Soviet Red Army. Budapest Reds Say Rebels Agree To Turn In Arms

VIENNA (AP)—Radio Budapest announced late today an agreement has been reached for rebels to turn in their arms and for Russian troops to quit Budapest.

At the same time, the government-controlled radio announced Interior Minister Ferenc Muenich had dissolved the dread Communist secret police.

Muenich announced that Secret police guilty of torture and oppression would be punished.

The agreement concerning the surrender of rebel arms was concluded by Defense Minister Karoly Janza. It was not announced who negotiated for the forces of the rebellion.

The broadcast said the agreement provided that Russian army forces will leave Budapest 24 hours after rebel weapons have been delivered.

Only a short time before this broadcast, British Foreign Secretary Lloyd told the House of Commons in London the Soviet Union is pouring more troops into Hungary.

Budapest radio reported shortly after 10 a. m. that there had been shooting in the capital during the night and that "there still are elements who want to disturb the peace."

The broadcast added that "armed workers' units" searching houses for arms were met with gunfire.

The rebels claimed complete control over a strip of western Hungary 100 miles long and 50 miles wide, only 19 miles west of Budapest.

Budapest at its northern limit. Rebel banners were reported flying all over.

The Budapest radio announced Soviet troops had begun pulling out of the battle-scarred capital as Nagy promised. But Russian tanks and big guns still were reported camped in the heart of the city.

The rebel radio at Győr, in northwest Hungary, reported that it had received information from northeast Hungary that a withdrawal of Russian troops in the border area there took place during the night. There was no confirmation of the report from any other source.

There still was no clear answer from rebel leaders to the extensive concessions promised by Nagy's Communist-dominated "popular front" government.

These included a promise to open immediate negotiations with Moscow for the withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary. But they did not include any suggestion that Communist-run Hungary would permit free elections or the establishment of a representative government.

The government radio announced that a committee from rebel headquarters in Győr had arrived in Budapest, presumably to discuss the situation with government representatives.

The broadcast said the rebel committee was appealing to the workers in Győr to re-establish calm and order and resume work.

The Budapest station also reported that the food situation in the capital had been secured. But despite a promise to reopen communications with the outside world, there still was no telephone connection with Budapest.

Gyula Valos, leader of rebel forces in the western border region of Sopron, told an Associated Press reporter his group would come to terms with the Nagy government "only when the Russian troops have withdrawn from Hungary." His forces, he said, had gained absolute control of the border area and 600 Russian troops with 18 tanks had withdrawn outside the town of Sopron. The Hungarian garrison in the area had come over to the rebels he added.

Austrian journalists returning from a trip to Győr, said the rebels there were split. One group of national Communists wants to support Nagy's government. The other, apparently larger, called Nagy "a tool of the Soviets" and demanded he be put out of office.

Burial Tomorrow For Dr. Nixon

MURFREESBORO, N. C. (AP)—Dr. P. Orion Nixon, 56, president of Chowan College who died yesterday of a heart attack, will be buried tomorrow afternoon at Raleigh.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the Murfreesboro Baptist Church. Burial will be at 3:30 in Mountlawn at Raleigh.

Dr. Nixon had served as head of Chowan College for the past five years. Prior to that he was pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh for eight years.

He formerly held pastorates in Westminister, S. C., and Tifton, Ga. A native of Yemassee, S. C., he was a past president of the North Carolina Baptist Convention.

He is survived by his wife, the former Daisy Lou Major of Belmont, S. C.; two children, Forest Orion Jr., a graduate student at the University of Delaware, and a daughter, Carol Lynn, a senior at Murfreesboro High School; and four sisters, Mrs. Harry Varn of Walterboro, S. C., Mrs. Ben McLeer and Mrs. J. B. Zahler, both of Yemassee, and Mrs. J. J. Worsham of Charleston, S. C.

Ike, Feeling Fine, Opens Stretch Run Of Campaign

Tense Mid-East Alarming Ike

By JOHN SCALI WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and his top aides were reported gravely alarmed today at the possibility that war may shortly break out in the Middle East.

Only the highest order of Israeli-Arab statesmanship, they were said to feel, could avert a Middle East explosion. Officials were described as looking mainly to Israel's Prime Minister, David Ben-Gurion, as the man who held the decision.

With war jitters mounting, Israel was reported to have mobilized from 150,000 to 200,000 men along its frontiers.

Eisenhower issued an unusual public appeal to Ben-Gurion that "no forceful initiative be taken which would endanger the peace."

"We have not heard of such large-scale mobilization in countries neighboring Israel which would warrant such Israeli mobilization," he said.

The State Department last night advised from 7,000 to 8,000 Americans in Israel, Jordan, Egypt and Syria to leave immediately unless they are "performing essential functions."

Secretary of State Dulles, minutes after returning to the capital from Texas, conferred by telephone several times with Eisenhower. He later summoned Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to the State Department to back up Eisenhower's appeal with his own plea.

A responsible official, who is closely following developments, told a reporter it was impossible to overstate the seriousness of Arab-Israeli tensions. He said the next 24 hours would be critical.

The United States is urgently hoping, he said, that Eisenhower's public plea will cause Ben-Gurion and Arab leaders to take a sober second look at where their policies are leading.

This official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said the Middle East picture is far more serious than at any time since the 1948 Israeli-Arab conflict.

The main American fear seemed to be that Israel might reject the next few days as an ideal time to strike a blow at its Arab foes.

Israel might decide, officials felt, that Russia is so deeply involved in trying to cope with its Eastern European difficulties that it would not be apt to rush aid to the Arabs in the Middle East, and that the United States is so concerned by its approaching elections that it is not likely to take decisive action.

Eisenhower said in his announcement it was his military appeal to Israel against any military action which might spread into a bigger Middle East war.

He said that by Saturday morning the reports were "so well authenticated" that after talking with Dulles he sent a personal message to Ben-Gurion.

Adlai Stevenson, renewing a hot campaign issue, charged today that President Eisenhower has an attitude of "hopeless defeatism" on "how to save the world from hydrogen devastation."

Eisenhower, his own campaign presumably enhanced by a favorable medical report, left Washington by plane early today for political rallies in Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., and Richmond, Va.

The Democratic presidential nominee said Eisenhower's own "white paper" on the subject last week "is remarkable for misstatements and distortions" of Stevenson's position in the argument.

Stevenson said, "The President not only is hostile to new constructive thinking by others on how to save the world from hydrogen devastation, but he quite clearly has no creative or heroic ideas of his own in this crucial field." He added:

"As in so many other fields, the President simply offers another do-nothing solution."

Eisenhower said Tuesday night the United States could not "even dare" halt H-bomb testing without dependable worldwide disarmament control. To do so, he said, might result in erasing or reversal of "our present command lead in nuclear weapons."

Stevenson said Eisenhower attempted to "create the impression that my proposal would somehow weaken the defenses of the United States," adding:

"My proposal for an agreement to stop the test-exploding of the big H-bombs, would, if accepted, strengthen the military position of the United States in relation to Russia. We are ahead... and to freeze the H-bomb race at the present levels would prevent the Russians from catching up with us."

Stevenson said his proposal "would end or greatly diminish the rate of radioactive pollution of the atmosphere, and 'break the disarmament stalemate that now exists.' Violation of an agreement not to test H-bombs could be detected at once, he said.

Stevenson also said "many outstanding scientists vigorously disagree with administration continuations that the present rate of H-bomb testing does not imperil the health of humanity."

Eisenhower said in his latest statement that preparations for an H-bomb test might require up to two years, ample time for a potential enemy to make great strides in nuclear technology if this country suspended experimentation until it learned that another nation had held one.

Stevenson said under his proposal the United States would continue its program of research and development, but not test the H-bombs, and this would safeguard our technological lead. Eisenhower has said that research without testing is useless.

On the domestic front, Eisenhower underwent the pre-election physical examination he promised earlier. He also personally told reporters he feels "fine."

The medical report, issued at the White House shortly after he returned from an overnight stay at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, said Eisenhower "gives every appearance of being in excellent health."

Other weekend campaign developments:

In Phoenix, Ariz., Stevenson said, "I think we're on the crest of a rising tide. I think we're going to win next week."

In Los Angeles Saturday night, Stevenson launched some of his sharpest thrusts at Eisenhower, describing him as a "part-time" president who has guffed, hunted and fished at critical moments in the nation's affairs.

Vice President Nixon said in Los Angeles there has been "a tremendous surge" toward Republicans lately and he now feels "we have an even chance to carry the Senate and a better than even chance to carry the House." Democrats now have a 49-47 Senate edge and a 232-203 margin in the House.

In Lima, Ohio, last night, Sen. Estes Kefauver took aim at Secretary of State Dulles, calling him "the world's champion zig-zagger" because of Dulles' Egyptian policy.

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee said he had read that the State Department had "quietly resumed giving economic aid to Egypt." Kefauver said this was another in "a long series of complete reversals of course on the part of Mr. Dulles."

T. Coleman Andrews, a States' Rights candidate for president, said the two major parties are "so much alike there is no real choice between them." He said the movement he heads developed because of a "dangerous trend toward socialism at home and war-breeding involvements abroad."

Bloody Weekend: 14 Die By Violence

At least 14 persons died by violence in North Carolina over the weekend.

Charles F. Schulz, 73, of Greensboro, was fatally injured when his automobile crashed into a tree on Highway 220 six miles south of Greensboro.

Rudolph Chavis, 11, of Rt. 2, Rowland, was struck and killed by a truck near his home.

A head-on collision of two cars on U. S. 64 east of Plymouth was fatal to Cpl. David Gerard Bauth, 19, of the Edmonton Naval Air Station, and Dallas Lee Blount, 20, of Rt. 1, Plymouth. Bauth's home was in Ojai, Calif.

Another wreck on a rural paved road near Plymouth took the lives of Joe Ransom, 75, Plymouth Negro, and Virginia Furlough, 31, of Rt. 1, Plymouth.

Vester Reid, 59, Stantonsburg Negro, was struck and killed by a vehicle in Stantonsburg.

Alexander Wilson, 50, of Beaufort, was killed in a wreck on a rural paved road in Carteret County.

Edward Rice, 26, of Rt. 3, Henderson, was killed when the car in which he was riding plunged into a creek near Henderson.

David Eugene Martin, 18, Camp Lejeune Negro, was fatally injured when the car in which he was riding ran off U. S. 17 and hit a tree in Onslow County.

An overturned pickup truck near Lawsonville killed 8-year-old Paul Howard Brown Saturday night. His father, George Allen Brown, 32, of Rt. 1, Danbury, was injured. The Browns were pinned under the truck when it ran off the road on a sharp curve.

A Newton novelty salesman was killed early Sunday when he was struck by an automobile. He was Robert Leslie Woodin, 23, formerly of Itasca, N.Y. The accident occurred in Newton and Charles Robinson, about 40, Newton Negro, has been charged with manslaughter in the death.

An East Bend resident died on the operating table of a Winston-Salem hospital Sunday from injuries suffered in an accident on N. C. 66 near Winston-Salem. He was Victor B. Wooten.

Martha Jean Anders, 15, of near Hendersonville, was asphyxiated in a fire which destroyed a home in Henderson where she was spending the night. The two girls she was visiting, Florida Jean Smith, 15, and Erline Diane Smith, 9, were dragged to safety by a neighbor, Archie Drake, 45.

Lumberton, was fatally injured Saturday when struck by a car on a downtown Lumberton street. Thomas Allen Gibson, 21, of Rt. 3, Red Springs, was being held for grand jury action on a tentative charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Sixteen Arab civilians, two consular clerks and several policemen were reported wounded in the attack on the Jerusalem consulate. The consular staff took refuge on the roof and was rescued by Jordanian troops.

Wounded Taylor and Joseph Carter were wounded by flying bullets. A third patrolman who rushed to assist the other two, Floyd Harrell, 23, was slightly injured when hit in the head by one of the men with his own blackjack.

William Lee Carter and Pegram had fled the scene.

Emporia Police Chief J. B. Bradley said during the struggle Clarence Carter grabbed Taylor's pistol and shot Edwards. Harrell said he fired six times at Clarence Carter. Bradley said Taylor was apparently wounded by Clarence Carter.

It was not known who wounded Joseph Carter.

Edwards was dead on arrival at a hospital in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., about 20 miles south of here. Clarence Carter died shortly after admission. The hospital said yesterday both Taylor and Joseph Carter were "doing very satisfactorily."

William Lee Carter, charged with felonious assault in the Saturday battle, surrendered voluntarily to Sussex County authorities 12 hours after the shooting. Authorities are still looking for Pegram, also charged with felonious assault. Joseph Carter is charged with murder and Alexander Hurst Jr., an East Carolina student, stated someone stole his car some time during the same day. Neither of these cars have been recovered.

Continuing the protective theme, the red-robed speaker listed as one of the Klan's "sacred duties" the protecting of "our womanhood." Questionnaires were distributed to prospective members.

The man in the flowing purple robe and tasseled hood keyed his 25-minute address on a self-styled interpretation of the Bible. He condemned what he called "too many cocktail-sipping Sunday school teachers."

Wild Street Fight Kills Two

EMPORIA, Va. (AP)—A loud-sounding car muffler heard by two Emporia policemen touched off a melee and gunfight Saturday that left two dead on a busy Halifax street and was called by the mayor "one of the worst things ever to happen" in this southside town of 6,000.

The patrolmen were 60-year-old Gilbert Taylor and 25-year-old Stuart J. Edwards. In the car were Carroll Pegram, 24, a Hope-well chemical firm employee, and three brothers—William Lee Carter, 28; Clarence Carter, 30; and Joseph Carter, of neighboring Greenville County.

Taylor and Edwards hailed the car. They gave some instructions to the four Negroes; told them to come to the police station. The Negroes refused. A fight broke out.

When it was over, Edwards and Clarence Carter lay mortally

As Poly Goes, So Goes The Nation

BALTIMORE (AP)—As Poly goes, so goes the nation. It has been true in the last six presidential elections.

The students at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute took another straw vote. The winner by an overwhelming margin was President Eisenhower; Ike 1,823 votes, Stevenson 781.

Attack Papers, Cocktail Sippers

CONCORD, N. C. (AP)—Between 800 and 1,000 persons attending a cross-burning and rally near here Saturday night were told that the Ku Klux Klan is essentially a protective organization.

Speeches were made by three unidentified men. One wore a red robe and another purple. Some 15 white-robed figures were in attendance, including one boy who appeared to be about 4 years old and one woman.

The speakers lashed newspapers, with one calling them "sneaky sheets." Klansmen's efforts to drive away news photographers were unsuccessful.

About 50 listeners went forward after the rally to shake hands with the speakers. None of the Klansmen were identified, though unmasked. Their automobile license tags were covered to prevent identification.

The rally took place at the site of an abandoned drive-in theater at the intersection of U. S. 29 and N. C. 73. Police officers kept traffic moving on the heavily traveled U. S. 29, a major north-south highway.

The Klan in North Carolina has been inactive for several years since a mass drive against the organization by newspapers. The meeting here was the second in the state this month after the long dormant period.

Crashes Into Culvert, Overturns

Woman Charged After Auto Wreck

A Greenville woman was charged with failing to yield the right of way after being involved in an accident Friday night where Memorial Drive intersects with N. C. Highway 43.

Investigating highway patrolman William Whitehurst identified Grace James, West 4th Street, as the woman charged, and Joe Sawyer, Washington Street, as the driver of the other vehicle. Whitehurst and Sawyer were heading east on 43 and the James woman was going north on Memorial Drive. He estimated property damage at $275.

Neither of the cars' occupants were injured.

Driver Charged After Wreck

A drunken driving charge resulted after a car left the highway and crashed into a culvert on N. C. 43 about four miles west of Greenville last night.

The vehicle left the highway as it was headed toward Greenville. Sures charged Fate Atkinson, Negro, of Macleesfield Rt. 1, with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol and careless

Try A 'Be-Witched' Holiday Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associate Press Food Editor

WHAT'S HALLOWEEN WITHOUT A WITCH in the house? We've just discovered that some of the fanciest witches are the easiest to come by. Follow our directions and you'll have enough edible little sorceresses to ride a party cake.

The witches are simple to concoct. All you need are whole shelled Brazil nuts, toothpicks, orange and black gumdrops, a little black construction paper, some thin white paper and a scissors.

To save time, we made the cake upon which our witches perch from a white cake mix and frosted it with a packaged caramel frosting. The frosting is a new product and a delicious one. From its label, we see that it is made from granulated and brown sugars, caramel, starch, imitation and pure vanilla, egg yolk and salt. Simple ingredients that are all to the good—especially that pure vanilla!

You may, of course, wish to make your cake from scratch and perhaps fill and cover it with orange frosting. For the latter, make up a batch of white butter icing and stir in a few drops of yellow food coloring, then add some red food coloring—a drop at a time—until you have a pretty shade of orange.

EASY WITCH'S CAKE
Ingredients: 1 package white cake mix, 1 package (13 ounces) caramel frosting mix, shelled whole Brazil nuts, toothpicks, thin white paper, small orange gumdrops, black construction paper, small black gumdrops.

Method: Make up cake mix according to package directions in 8- or 9-inch round layer cake pans. Make up frosting mix; fill and frost cake. Insert a toothpick straight up, into the bottom of a Brazil nut so you can use the pick to insert the witch in the cake. (Use round toothpicks with pointed ends, not the flat picks.) Break another toothpick in half; insert one half into front middle of nut and other half into back middle of nut to resemble broom. Cut a strip of white paper about 1 1/2 inches wide. After fringing one side of paper with scissors, wrap paper around end of back half of toothpick and stick with glue to form "straw" part of broom. Stick a small orange gumdrop on a bit of toothpick and insert in top of nut for the head; insert another bit of toothpick into gumdrop for a nose. Make hat-brim by cutting out a small round piece of black construction paper (you can use a dime or penny to guide your cutting) and sticking it on top of gumdrop head. If you moisten the gumdrop a bit the paper will stick. Slightly moisten the bottom of a small black cone-shaped gumdrop and stick it on top of black brim to form the tall crown of the witch's hat. (If small cone-shaped gumdrops are not available cut one out of larger gumdrop and press into shape.) Make up as many witches as you wish and insert one of them in the center of the filled and frosted cake; perch the other witches around the cake.

Reporting Ladies' Events Is Confusing In Capital

By JANE EAD

WASHINGTON—For those of us who've been around for a couple of administrations, covering afternoon ladies' functions these days can get a bit confusing. One day you march down a receiving line filled with wives of today's cabinet officials. The next day you're shaking hands with the women whose husbands held the same posts in the days of the preceding administration.

Miss Waters Named District Canning Winner

Alice Waters of the Winterville-Greenville 4-H Club was named district canning winner at District 4-H Recognition Day held in Rocky Mount Saturday.

The event was designed to give recognition to all county winners in the various 4-H programs and to announce the district winners.

Those attending from Pitt County were Mary Virginia Langston of the Winterville-Greenville club; Anne Whitehurst of the Stokes club; Clara Ambrose and Miss Waters, also from the Winterville-Greenville club.

Boys attending were Thurston Corbett of the Stokes club; Horace Adams of the Farmville club; and Tommy Braxton of the Winterville-Greenville club.

Also attending the event held in the Rocky Mount Senior High School were Miss Margaret Stevens, Miss Lois Jones and Cecil Register from the farm and home offices and Mrs. C. D. Whitehurst, adult 4-H leader.

Named President

Mrs. Hazel G. Tripp of Maury School has been elected president of the home economics department of the Northeastern district of the North Carolina Education Association.

The election was held at the annual district convention held in Greenville Friday.

Mrs. Tripp, home economics teacher at Maury in Greene County, received this honor after two years of significant professional service as an NCEA member.

There are five divisions of the NCEA and 29 departments. Each department and division elected officers at the annual meeting.

GFWC President To Appear Over TV

Mrs. R. I. C. Prout, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will appear over the Arlene Francis Home Show Tuesday, according to a letter received by Mrs. R. D. Harrington, Jr., president of the Greenville Junior Woman's Club.

The show is carried over NBC at 11 a.m. EST.

Mrs. Prout will announce a new GFWC television program starting November 5, GFWC Club News. The new, regularly scheduled program will be broadcast every Monday during the Home Show.

Two Pitt 4-Hers Attend State Meet

Moye and Alice Waters, both of the Winterville-Greenville 4-H Club, are among 4-H Club members from all over the state attending the 1956 4-H Farm and Home Electric Congress being held in Winston-Salem.

All 4-H members entering records in this project in the state office were eligible to attend this three-day meeting which opened yesterday at the Robert E. Lee Hotel.

Accompanying them was Miss Lois Jones, assistant home agent.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

Mrs. James D. Wyker, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, a vice-president of the National Council of Churches, former president of United Church Women, and at present national chairman of the World Day of Prayer, has been named minister-at-large for the department of social welfare of the United Christian Missionary Society (Disciples of Christ). Mrs. Wyker's services are offered to some 8,000 churches of her communion as speaker and counselor on intercultural and social concerns.

Looking toward the eighth anniversary of Human Rights Day (Dec. 10, 1956), the Woman's Society of Christian Social Relations of the Methodist Church is asking its almost 2,000,000 members throughout the United States to "take stock" of the progress made in local churches and communities.

"In the basic rights which ought to be comparatively easy to apply" locally. Through the Society's Department of Christian Social Relations (Miss Thelma Stevens, executive secretary), some 29 questions are being asked in local churches and communities as the basis of "taking stock." Some of the questions are: How good is the "climate of brotherhood" in your community? How welcome do individuals of minority groups, whether racial or economic, feel as they attend churches, meetings, etc.? Have there been groups or speakers in the community that attempted to incite discrimination? Is residence denied to anyone for arbitrary reasons? Can teachers, ministers, and others in the community feel secure in their right to hold and express opinions without danger to their jobs or without risking serious social consequences? Are there indications that individuals are sometimes pressured or intimidated into joining organizations? Are there groups in your community such as sharecroppers, migrants, who find it hard to have the same degree of social security enjoyed by the rest of us? Is elementary and high school education available to all, regardless of race? Is your state maintaining its position that public schools must be kept public and free? Are members of minority groups affected by college and professional school "quota systems"?

Masonic Lodge Has First Meet

Crown Point Lodge, (U. D.) Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, held its first communication Thursday night at the Masonic Hall in Greenville. This new lodge received its privilege to carry on all Blue Lodge activities under dispensation from the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons.

Grand Master John Catlett presented the dispensation October 13.

The first Masonic lodge in North Carolina was located at Crown Point in Pitt County. In organizing this lodge the members decided to name it Crown Point in honor of the first lodge here.

At the first stated communication, Roland W. Davenport, Walter Glenn Garner and Tom B. Brown were elected trustees. Master George W. Smith announced the annual drive for funds for Oxford Orphanage.

Officers of the lodge are: Master, George W. Smith, P. M.; senior warden, F. Luther Whitehurst, P. M.; junior warden, Harvey P. Markham, P. M.; treasurer, L. M. Buchanan; secretary, Hoyt Narron, P. M.; senior deacon, Aaron Conn; junior deacon, Willie Rogers; stewards, Leslie Garner and Wilbur Croom; marshal, Edd Radcliff; tiler, L. M. Roebuck; and chaplain, Carter Studdert.

The new lodge, recently organized in Greenville, was authorized by the Grand Master of North Carolina Masons to carry on all Blue Lodge work under dispensation.

Tobacco Prices Sag To New Low

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Flue-cured tobacco markets entered a new sales week today on a mixed price trend.

Averages weakened to $49.67 a hundred pounds last week on the Eastern North Carolina Belt, the lowest since opening week.

But last week's average of $53.01 on the North Carolina-Virginia Old Belt was only 35 cents under the season high set the previous week.

Here are seasonal averages, and the percentage of tobacco which has gone to the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corp. under the government price support program:
Eastern, $51.96, 24 per cent.
Old, $51.94, 16.5 per cent.
Middle, $52.39, 25 per cent.
Almost 38 per cent of sales went under price supports on the Eastern Belt last week, the largest weekly percentage of the season.

British Publish Own Kinsey Study

LONDON (AP)—A British "Kinsey Report" today estimated that 25 per cent of the unmarried women in the United Kingdom have had sexual relations.

Among married women contacted in the survey, 40 per cent admitted they had premarital sexual intercourse.

Dr. Eustace Chesser and a team of assistants compiled the report from questionnaires answered by 6,251 British women.

Chesser reported:
Most girls in this country have their first sexual experience between the ages of 18 and 20.
British girls looking for husbands hold physical strength in far higher esteem than good looks.

Price-Conscious Calls County Cops

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—When it comes to being arrested a 41-year-old Converse man proves he's bargain-conscious.

Fred Phillips said he was telephoned recently by the man who reported himself drunk and asked that he be arrested by Phillips' county officers before city police picked him up.

The reason: The city fine for drunkenness usually is $12.75. The county charges only $10.

Young Distiller Retires From Job

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Tom Fasula of Ashland county, acting fast, busted up a whiskey still that had just started operating in a shack at the rear of its owner's home. The distiller explained he had produced "as an experiment," what the sheriff later described as a pint of "top quality" whiskey.

But after Fasula reprimanded him, he proclaimed:
"I'm through with this whiskey business."
It's just as well. He's only 13.

Negro Asks To Be Jailed, Disappears, Not Found

WILDWOOD, Fla. (AP)—A Negro farm laborer, placed in jail for protective custody at his own request after he was accused of insulting a white woman, disappeared under strange circumstances early yesterday.

Jesse Woods, 39, was missing from his jail cell when Police Chief Ed Mullis returned from chasing two speeding cars. There were blood spots on the floor and a bunk was overturned. A day-long search failed to turn up any clues on the disappearance.

Gov. LeRoy Collins asked the Florida Sheriff's Bureau and Sheriff M. H. Bowman of Sumter County for a full report and the FBI said it is looking into the case to determine if it has jurisdiction.

Since daylight yesterday all has been quiet in this little central Florida town, 75 miles north of Tampa.

William A. Fordham, president of the Florida conference of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said at Tampa. "From what I've heard it looks like a lynching. If it was, we definitely will make an investigation."

Woods was arrested Saturday afternoon at a grocery store, charged with disorderly conduct and drunkenness. Police Chief Mullis said he "insulted a white woman."

David Hutto, a clerk at the store, quoted Woods as saying "Hello there, baby" to Miss Mary Evelyn Hill, schoolteacher. She was not available for comment.

Woods was released on bond about midnight and left with his father, MacArthur Woods, and a brother. Soon they returned and Jesse Woods asked to be allowed to stay in the jail, saying some white men in cars had followed them and an hour later Patrolman E. H. Barry found the lock on the little jail door had been knocked off and Woods was gone.

About 150 officers, including state highway patrolmen and deputies from neighboring counties, supported by two airplanes, searched all yesterday without result.

Looks For Power, Uses Car To Rob

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The tall, dark man in chocolate colored shirt and hornrimmed glasses tried out two new automobiles then told the salesman: "I think I'll take this one—it has more power." Police said he used it next day as a getaway car in a $1,876 daylight holdup of a savings and loan company.

Two-Month-Old Strike Is Ended

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Western Electric workers started returning to plants in Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Burlington today, after ending a strike of more than two months by accepting a wage increase of seven to 16 cents an hour.

The agreement on a new contract was announced shortly after 5 a.m. yesterday following an all-night negotiating session among management, representatives of the Communications Workers of America union, and federal and state labor mediators.

A spokesman for Western Electric, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, said there are 40 to 50 wage categories at the plants, and exact wage scales and average hourly earnings were not available.

Increases range from seven to 11 cents an hour for production workers, and 12 to 16 cents for skilled trades workers.

The plants continued in operation after some 6,000 union members struck Aug. 24, when the old contract expired. Union and company announcements disagreed on the effectiveness of the strike.

The new contract is for three years, with wage reopening sessions permitted in 1957 and 1958. Company and union representatives held almost daily negotiating sessions during the strike.

Cabbie Turns Out To Be Real Fan

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—A taxi driver loaned an American tourist 20 pesos ($1.60) when they arrived at a baseball park and found the tourist had left his wallet at the hotel.

"If we return for your money," said Eustacio Morales, himself an ardent baseball fan, "you'll miss the game. This is enough for the ticket and taxi to the hotel. You can repay me tomorrow."
Morales was repaid—with a bonus for his courtesy.

Defense Chief Says Bomb Tests Preventing War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says that stopping hydrogen bomb tests wouldn't "solve the problem that faces the world."

"What scares the people of the world, he said during a CBS-TV interview, is not so much the testing of the bombs as the possibility they may be used in war."

He was asked about the proposal of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, that the United States take the lead in seeking agreement to halt testing of the bombs. Wilson said there's "nothing new" about that and added:

"The Russians have been doing it right along. They've brought it up from time to time." Wilson said also that "there's no such thing" as a cobalt bomb either in existence or on the drawing boards, and that mention of such a bomb is just "loose talk."

Stevenson, in a campaign address in Rockford, Ill., Friday, asked whether if Russia catches up with the United States on H-bombs, this country's next step might be to build a "cobalt bomb or something even worse."

Because cobalt absorbs and retains large amounts of radioactivity, scientists say its use in a bomb would greatly increase the hazard from fall-out.

Wilson said that so far as he knows, this country had nothing directly to do with recent revolts in Hungary and Poland. He said, however, that the decision to continue foreign aid to Yugoslavia may have given people of both countries "a clear example of another people that had asserted their independence from Moscow."

Girl Gets Foot In Academy Door

UNION CITY, N. J. (AP)—Mary Ann Bohalski, 17, has gotten her foot in the door of the all-male Naval Academy at Annapolis, according to Rep. T. James Tammully. Tammully said yesterday Mary Ann, who wants to become the first of her sex at the academy, will be allowed to take a preliminary entrance examination Nov. 21. Whether she will be allowed to enter the academy if she qualifies is another matter. Navy Secretary Thomas would then make a decision on the matter.

Oregon Democrats Charge Campaign Photo Doctored

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Oregon Democratic party chairman today accused Republicans of "using a doctored photograph" to try to make Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse appear an unpopular man, shunned by fellow senators.

Republicans denied the charge. Democratic Chairman Robert Boyer said the Republicans had distributed to every home in Oregon a pamphlet using a doctored photograph showing Morse speaking in an empty Senate chamber.

"Wayne Morse empties the Senate with his longwinded speeches. The Senate refuses to listen to him," was the picture caption, Boyer said, adding that in the cropping the Republicans had concealed the fact the photo was taken in the early morning hours of a Senate session.

"The truth is that the picture was taken at 3 in the morning when Sen. Morse was leading a band of determined liberals in a 13-day fight that prevented a complete giveaway to private monopoly of our atomic energy program," Boyer said.

Wendell Wyatt, Republican state chairman, said: "The frantic claim that the picture of Wayne Morse speaking alone in the Senate has been doctored is false. The full picture shows Morse talking only to Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.)."

Wyatt said the picture had been borrowed from Life magazine, where it ran several months ago. The Republican pamphlet was distributed in behalf of Douglas McKay, the former secretary of interior trying to unseat Morse, who was a Republican until he bolted the party four years ago.

"Lack of financing made it impossible to reproduce the entire picture what the y didn't want was to typify the many occasions when Sen. Morse has spoken to an empty or nearly empty Senate chamber," said Wyatt.

Boyer scoffed at the idea the picture was doctored because of financial considerations.

"Wyatt and his professional photo fakers first cut out of the picture what they didn't want Oregonians to see and then enlarged what was left to fit their page. It's as simple as that," Boyer said.

Among things cut out were "lights along the top of the picture," Boyer said. "He had those lights cut off and he also had the picture skillfully lightened so that no one would guess the truth."

Siamese Twins Have One Heart

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—Results of an electrocardiograph taken of Siamese twin girls born last Monday "strongly suggest" they have a common heart, says a doctor.

This would rule out any chance of surgically separating the twins, he added. They are joined from neck to abdomen.

The physician described their condition as poor.

The babies, named Nancy Diane and Laura Lee, were born at St. John's Hospital to Mrs. Diane Curries and her husband Raymond, of nearby Somis.

Economy Party Out Of Election

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The "Economy Party" won't have a candidate in this city's election this year after all.

The State Board of elections turned down Joseph Starneno's plea to be qualified to run as mayor on the "Economy Party" ticket.

The reason: Starneno could produce only 93 ballots—seven short of the needed number.

Apology Is Due North Carolina

Blanket accusations by the Justice Department that five Southern States are participating in a "mass movement" to disfranchise qualified Negro voters is the most vicious political propaganda ever to be directed at individual states by a federal agency.

North Carolina is one of the five states named by Asst. Attorney General Warren Olney in his blanket condemnation. North Carolina's Congressional delegation and Gov. Hodges should not wait another day to demand that Olney immediately prove his slanderous charges or make an appropriate apology to all the people of this state.

According to Olney there are sections in North Carolina where mass movements are underway to remove from registration roles the names of Negroes who have been accepted as qualified voters. If there were any such "mass movement" anywhere in North Carolina it would have been well known about the state before the Justice Department got into the picture. At least the State Board of Elections would have received complaints and would be thoroughly investigating the matters.

The Reflector is well aware that complaints came from one or two counties in the last registration period asserting that some individual registrars failed to register Negro voters who asserted they were qualified. These complaints were sufficiently isolated to be obvious that even this was not part of any "mass movement" that Olney charges.

But Olney goes farther than that in his charges. He asserts there is a mass movement in North Carolina to remove from registration books the names of Negro voters who previously have been accepted as qualified voters.

The people of North Carolina are well aware of the fact that the charges brought by the assistant attorney general are unfounded. But people in other states, misguided by other propaganda of this type directed against the South, may take Olney's word at face value.

North Carolina should demand that Olney retract his false charges of a "mass movement" to disfranchise Negro voters in this state.

Wilson Action Boosts Joint Airport Effort

If there were any question about Wilson's attitude toward the joint Mid-East Carolina Airport it was dispelled by the definite action taken Thursday night by the Wilson Board of Commissioners.

In an unanimously adopted resolution, the board said Wilson expected to participate in the joint airport project and would appropriate its pro rata share of the funds as soon as the legislature gives legal status to the Authority. Greenville, Pitt County, Greene County and almost a dozen other municipalities have by official action said they were ready and willing to put up their respective share of local funds for the joint airport project.

Action such as that taken by Wilson probably will be taken in the near future by the boards of Goldsboro and Kinston which previously have indicated their support of the joint airport project.

In view of Wilson's action and the expected action by additional cities and counties of this area, The Reflector is much encouraged over progress being made for establishing the joint airport.

On the basis of recent development, this section of the state is now nearer the point of making a joint airport a reality than at any other time in its history. It appears to us that in spite of efforts of Rocky Mount to gain recognition of its proposed city airport as the area airport, the joint endeavor of local governments is more determined than under the defunct Eastern Carolina Airport Authority of several years ago.

Much work remains to be done to establish the joint air facility, and there are more hurdles to be overcome. Nevertheless the realization that a joint air facility is the only answer to adequate air transportation in the East now appears firmly entrenched throughout the section. Most of the local governments involved are determined that the joint effort will be successful.

With this attitude becoming more apparent as the days pass, the joint effort is gaining a much stronger position.

Who Can Tell How Far Chain Reaction Will Go?

Hungary's bold bid for freedom from the Kremlin boot shows how strongly the desire for liberty still burns even after a dozen years under the heel of the Soviet Army.

The revolt of Soviet satellite states which began in Poland has now engulfed Hungary in an open revolution much more bloody than the struggle for power in Poland. By contrast, the power in Poland shifted from the Kremlin to Polish communists who wanted Poland to be in a position to determine its course independent of Moscow.

In Hungary the break is much more definite. There, the rebels are not content merely with a break from dictates of the Kremlin. They want assurance of freedom not only from Russia, but likewise from communist domination even in their own country.

The rebels strength in Hungary makes it quite clear that Russia will have a difficult job holding its satellite empire in Europe together. The situation holds promise that these small nations may swing themselves free of the Kremlin orbit of satellites entirely.

Just as the Polish break with Soviet leaders gave impetus to new confidence in Hungary, the situation which has developed in Hungary will fan sparks of freedom in other countries of the Russian sphere of domination. Who can tell what the chain reaction will bring about or where it will stop?

Demo Rallies Indicate A Greater Enthusiasm

The last of North Carolina's 12 congressional district Democratic rallies are over now for another election year. In their wake they have left what appears to be greater enthusiasm for the party than has been evident in the last several election years.

On a whole the Democratic district rallies have attracted a larger number of party members than in past years. Women voters have appeared for the speakings and barbeque in larger numbers than in any other year.

These signs point not only to a bigger Democratic vote in North Carolina a week from next Tuesday, but probably a larger total vote than North Carolina has seen in a presidential election.

Many Worries Face N. C. Cotton Growers

By LYNN NISBET
COTTON — Cotton long ago yielded the throne as king of North Carolina cash crops to flue-cured tobacco, but it is still the main crop in some sections. Cleveland is the banner cotton producing county in the state. The agricultural economy there is as dependent upon cotton as that of the Middle East is upon tobacco. Industry around Shelby and Kings Mountain, as well as in neighboring Gaston and Rutherford counties, is largely cotton textiles.

Innovation of synthetic fibers into textiles has reduced demand for cotton. Besides, competition to North Carolina cotton is being felt from new producing areas in the Southwest. Senator Kerr Scott and Commissioner of Agriculture Stag Ballentine were talking about this the other day. Arizona, New Mexico and California not only produce more cotton per acre at far less cost, but the fiber is of uniformly better grade than that produced in the Carolinas. North Carolina mills, surrounded by cotton fields, are importing fiber from the South-west as well as from Egypt and other countries.

Passengers on the bus listening to Ballentine and Scott learned that controlled moisture is a big factor in producing better fiber. They learned that cotton fiber has a maturity point, much like tobacco and food crops. Irrigation of fields during the cultivation period and artificial control of humidity during harvest and ginning enables the farmer to bring the fiber to maturity at exactly the right time. Such control cannot be exercised where dependence is upon natural rain. A great deal of Carolina cotton is harvested before or after the most appropriate time, resulting in lower quality fiber that may be further damaged in spinning.

These are some of the reasons why cotton areas are as much concerned about diversifying the economy as are tobacco sections. LOCAL ROADS — Governor Hodges intimated at his latest news conference that the commission studying highway reorganization would recommend and he would approve turning back to county commissioners a much larger share of responsibility for locating secondary roads. He said he feels that most people would rather talk to election home folks about local problems than with a central State agency. He further believes the county commissioners will accept the responsibility if given power. Yet there is nothing new about all this save that man has learned or is learning to use new powers. But they have always existed. God revealed spiritual power. God's infinite capacity to create has always existed. God revealed spiritual powers and possibilities to man as man was able to understand. At last He sent a Man upon the earth and directed Him so to speak and to live that His fellows would see this power being set forth in the midst of human situations.

The power Christ revealed had always existed and it continues to this moment to exist. Men's lives grow in glory as they learn to use this power. And in the Bible God has given us a book of instructions—as to how to use this power.

NEW USES OF OLD POWERS
We switch on the radio or the television set — words come out of the loud speaker, makes appear on the screen. What is the cause? Man has learned to utilize wave lengths, but these wave lengths have been here since the beginning of time. Man has only learned in recent years to use them.
The same is true of the atom. One process splits it and another fuses its forces, but the result of both is the release of immeasurable power. Yet this is no new power, it has always been here. When a few decades man has learned how to use this power.
Scientists tell us that there are probably other powers even more prodigious than atomic

Business Today

Businessmen Advising Go Slow

By ELMER ROESSNER
The groups of businessmen are now advising go-slow policies.

One group is uncertain about the election and believes important decisions should be postponed until after the nature of the next Congress is determined. This group appears less concerned, or perhaps less certain, about the Presidency itself.

The other group is afraid that the expansion of our industrial plant is proceeding too fast or, at least, too unevenly. David Rockefeller, executive vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, told the American Life Convention recently that industry may be building too far ahead in its drive for expansion, warning that "a number of major industries are in the middle of expansion programs that will raise their own capacity at a rate faster than their sales can be expected to grow in the near future," notably the auto, machinery and paper industries.

At the same time, Cola G. Parker, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said in an interview that the nation can not continue its present rate of expansion and should slow down until it "digests" its progress. More recently, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D. Va.) questioned the wisdom of granting fast amortization for tax purposes to any more defense plants, warning against over-expansion. He asked the Office of Defense Mobilization to withhold further grants until a Congressional investigation is completed.

OUTLOOK FOR FUTURE
The expansion has been fantastically great. Corporations were using capital funds at an annual rate of $36 billion during the first half of this year—a new record—and have been planning to spend even more in the second half.

The first group, of course, will dissolve with the election, but you will hear more from the second group, in and out of Congress, as time goes on. If plant and equipment spending does not slow down a bit, you can expect the next Congress to launch a new, sweeping inquiry into capital expansion.

And here are other business developments you can expect, based on analyses of current trends and advance information: Miscellaneous drugs will cost more. One manufacturer has increased prices of penicillin, streptomycin and dihydrostreptomycin, its cause of rising costs. Others will follow and the new prices will be reflected in prices you pay for prescriptions.

A new venetian blind may out-mode others. It has S-shaped slats that shut out almost all light when closed; slats are wider than conventional ones, and are set further apart, giving more light and view when open. A more fashionable, rippled appearance is claimed for them. Vertical and horizontal types will hit the market next month.

MORE TV SETS
Greater sales of television sets are ahead. General Electric predicts 10,000,000 new sets sold a year by 1960, compared with 7,500,000 now. Hoppoint forecasts sales of 9,200,000 by 1961, of which 4,000,000 will be color sets.

Offices will become more colorful. Manufacturers of office machines have been steadily trending toward brighter, feminine colors and now Old Town Corp. is about to package carbon paper and typewriter ribbons in reds, fuchsias, turquoises, pastel blues, mint greens and lemon yellows.

There's a pea plenty ahead. The frozen pack is running 52 per cent ahead of last year, the packers' trade association reports.

Notebook On Life

White Collar Class Is Bigger

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail — or listen to election speeches: That America's white collar class is getting bigger. Despite the spread of automation in business, the number of office workers has risen from 1,700,000 in 1910 to about 9 million in 1956.

That the country's parakeet population has increased even faster. These feathered pets have multiplied from a mere 1,300,000 five years ago to more than 14 million.
That U. S. business and government officials, who seem to have a passion for marking everybody in on their correspondence, use 2 1/2 million pounds of carbon paper a month.

That the average paper clip, when opened, is about 4 1/2 inches long. Don't just take my word for this. Unwind a paper clip yourself and measure it. But do it on company time.
That probably a million Americans have diabetes but don't yet know it.
That Dr. Clyde Crobaugh, University of Tennessee business professor, has compiled a book listing 1,156 "dirty name-calling words for nice people who want to cuss in a hurry." Might make a wonderful Christmas present for your boss!

That some doctors — and probably all ranchers — believe you'd get fewer colds if you ate beef three times a day. . . . By golly, come to think of it, you don't hear a cow sneeze every day, do you?
That Paul McCobb, noted interior designer, says living rooms cluttered with too much furniture come to think of it, you don't often lead to marital claustrophobia. To keep your husband, lady, throw away that end table he's always tripping over.
That clean-minded Americans use an average of 24 1/2 pounds of soap a person each year.

That songbird Gogi Grant who made a hit recording of "The Wayward Wind" doesn't read music, never sang in a choir, didn't want to get into show business — and her name isn't really Gogi. It's Audrey.
That if you can't locate your ice bag in an emergency you can improvise one by filling a toy balloon with cracked ice.

That only 70 years ago the public was awed when a lady horse named Miss Woodford became the first American thoroughbred to rack up lifetime earnings of $100,000. Now there are more horse can win that much in a single afternoon.
That Gen. Douglas MacArthur once said he enjoyed doing crossword puzzles because they "take my mind off politics, the Far East, and sex."

That Michael Vapsaz of Worcester, Mass., who is only 2 1/2, can tell any modern make of automobile on sight. He also speaks German.

That a $100 gold and diamond ball point pen is now on the market. . . . and it's fully guaranteed to write as well as the $1.95 model.
That animals, as well as people, suffer from kout. But no scientist yet has proved that flat feet are an occupational disease with police dogs.

That France, in a new drive for U. S. tourist trade, is now

Inflation Discussed By Babson

BABSON DISCUSSES INFLATION

BABSON PARK, Mass., According to an apocryphal story, a legislator in Mexico moved that Gresham's Law (that bad money drives out good money) be annulled. When told that it was a natural law and could not be annulled, he then suggested that it be suspended for a time. The question of value has been a problem ever since money was invented — and, in fact, even before that time, no matter what commodity was used as the medium of exchange — tobacco or wives. Money has always had a tendency to depreciate in value, and it has at some time or other met with disaster in practically every nation — as in Germany when the mark went to zero in 1923, spelling the end of inflation for Germany.

WHAT IS INFLATION?

One cause of inflation is a much greater increase in the quantity of money in circulation relative to the increase in the volume of goods and services. This forces the price level upwards. Price indexes for a period of years show that there have been great fluctuations in the value of money in practically every country. When the purchasing power of the dollar has decreased too much, injury has been done to investors and creditors as a group.

KINDS OF INFLATION

Credit inflation can be generated by confidence; and monetary inflation can be caused by lack of confidence. Inflation results from a combination of two things: Oversupply of money and or under supply of the nation's goods and services. National debt figures in that it creates bank deposits. It is not how far the debt goes that makes people lose confidence; it is how low production goes. If production keeps up with debt, there is no harm except psychologically. Lack of production means that the value of money is under suspicion. Inflation is always an attempt to escape heavy burdens; — debt is often the core of the problem. The principal force making for price inflation is a huge expanded stream of income — purchasing power — which beats against a diminished supply of civilian goods and services.

EFFECT OF INFLATION

The tragedy of inflation is the loss of purchasing power on the part of those who have been the most thrifty in saving money and building up assets and income for a rainy day. These are the holders of bonds and preferred stocks, the holders of insurance annuities, and those who have amassed large cash assets. It is characteristic of inflation that the time required for money to take hold is much longer than most people imagine. The most dangerous period is usually when the general public has been lulled into a false sense of security. It must be remembered that today we have a 52-cent dollar and that the cost of living is still going up. It is quite possible that within the next ten years prices may be much higher than they are today.

INFLATION AND GOVERNMENT

Ever since the inception of our national government, money and its value has been a concern of various administrations. It is one of our major problems at the present time. There are numerous opinions as to the value of money. The late Senator Long's campaign slogan, "Every Man A Millionaire," did not take into account the fact that if all men were millionaires no one would be willing to work. The problem today is the effect of inflation on the cost of living. The party wants business to remain good until after election; while the other party is not so anxious to see good business before election.

GOOD MONEY!

The Mexican legislator was not far off in wanting to annul Gresham's Law. We would like to accomplish it in the U. S., but no political party can succeed in doing so. Practically all the money in the U. S. is in the form of a promise to pay, but the government will not give us anything for it, except the same kind of money! Printed promises by any government mean little. The great financial need today is a national educational campaign by both parties convinced to teach the American Voter the honest truth about INFLATION.

Veterans To Continue To Receive Dividends

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON Veterans of the nation's last three wars will continue to receive large annual dividends on their Government life insurance because of the vast medical strides in recent years and generally improved conditions of living. For World War I survivors they may total 50 per cent or more of their annual premium costs, and the World War II batch will also enjoy generous returns.

In providing for an insurance system, the 1917 Congress did two things which make possible these bonanzas. It based premium rates on the life insurance underwriters' 1894 tables of expectancy, when diseases now rarely fatal took a heavy toll of relatively young and middle-aged men.
It also provided that deaths in battle or traceable to war wounds or illness should be paid for out of annual appropriations by Congress rather than from premium payments. Only insurance on deaths from ordinary causes are financed from premium receipts.

HUGE RESERVE FROM PREMIUM PAYMENTS In addition, World War I soldiers are living far longer than expected, due to medical science and to a progressively higher standard of living, which was interrupted only by the 1929-1935 depression. Their average age now is 64. Their steady flow of annual premium payments has built such a huge reserve that even larger annual dividends could be disbursed, were it not that the Veterans' Administration prefers to pursue an ultraconservative policy.

Since rates for World War II and Korean veterans were based on the same 1894 tables, and since they will benefit even more generally from current and prospective "wonder drugs" and human comforts, they are also assured of a cut in their Government insurance costs.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTENED FURTHER Another medical development brightens these prospects. For lack of our present medical knowledge and cures, World War victims of many diseases — especially paraplegia, tuberculosis and allied lung trouble, and mental ailments — usually died young. Had their death payments not been financed by special appropriations, there would be no reserve for today's dividends.
A large percentage of World War II and Korean sufferers from these diseases, especially from paraplegia and tuberculosis, have been cured, rehabilitated or equipped with special devices. They are able to earn a living, and they are paying premiums instead of draining the steadily increasing insurance reserve.
U-BOATS SPURRED WORLD WAR I INSURANCE PLANS. Ironically, a fact generally unknown even to holders of Government insurance, the Kaiser's submarines were largely responsible for originating World War I and subsequent insurance plans. When the U-boats sank American and Allied vessels that carried goods and arms to our forces in Britain and Europe, insurance rates on cargoes skyrocketed. The Government had to set up its own insurance system in order to operate "the bridge of ships."

Then, the crews on these ships demanded and received Government insurance at rates which they could afford to pay. The next step, obviously, was to extend it to the boys called up to "make the world safe for democracy."

DISEASES RESPONSIBLE FOR HEAVY HOSPITAL LOAD The four diseases responsible for the Veterans' Administration's heavy hospital load today are paraplegia, heart, arthritis and mental. It is estimated that about 90 per cent of patients now under treatment suffer from these ailments, including quite a number of World War I survivors.
When and if medical science finds a cure for the three latter diseases, the hospitalization and administrative costs may fall by several billions of dollars.

Small Business Crying Louder

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Small business is crying louder in these days of tighter money and rougher competition. Its plaint gets more attention in this final pre-election week. And the American public, traditionally chary of big business, sees a flood of profit reports today which underline just how big some businesses are.

Is big business squeezing the little firm? Is tight money pushing the small fellow to the wall? How can Uncle Sam lend a bolstering hand? Where is the dividing line across which small business becomes big business?

Big business denies it hurts small business. It insists, on the contrary, that it needs, supplies and buys from small business—that each is mutually helpful.

Banks deny that the small businessman can't find loans. The banking fraternity stresses that small banks are small, too, and that their loan department customers are mostly small business firms. The American Bankers Assn. says that the total volume of business loans under $100,000 is now 14 per cent higher than a year ago.

Troubles which small businessmen consider peculiarly theirs are:

1. Financial. They find it harder than the big firms to get credit; higher interest rates hurt them more since the big boys have more resources to tide them over any squeeze; it's harder for the small fellow to tap the investment market for capital.

2. Operational. Engineers and skilled laborers are attracted to big concerns; today's competition calls constantly for more research emphasis, and only the big ones can afford it; and the research of the big company means new products and better techniques, giving it a further edge in the future.

3. Governmental. Taxes eat up earnings once saved for expansion; and government contracts go to big companies equipped to make complex and expensive items that government increasingly demands.

But big business points out these advantages smaller firms have:

1. Labor relations frequently are better because of a closer family feeling and company loyalty.

2. The smaller firm can make quicker decisions because the shorter the executive channels the less the corporate red tape; and being in closer touch with, and often nearer to, their customers, the small ones often grab the business.

3. While big firms thrive in fields requiring heavy investment in development and production plant, small ones excel in processing, converting and distributing the products of big business.

Plans for aiding small business mostly stress tax relief, government contracts, or more borrowing opportunities.

Nanaimo, Canada intentionally built narrow streets. This slows down traffic and has completely eliminated traffic fatalities.

Bats, which are flying mammals, can send out quiet sounds which aid them in navigation; their flying course much like human radar.

Brucker Says No Time To Let Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Brucker, taking note of the upheaval among Soviet satellites in Eastern Europe, says "this is no time for America to let down her guard."

Brucker, speaking yesterday before the Assn. of the United States Army, said "anything could result" from the situation which he said finds "the Communist empire . . . at grips with increasing turmoil within its captive satellites."

The Army secretary said this country "must be prepared to cope with any eventuality"—and then he declared that American military forces are ready and able to challenge successfully "an enemy, any time, any place and under any circumstances."

The Army organization, a private group, continues its convention today with a panel of civilian scientists discussing missile developments.

Elsewhere in the capital, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, told a Navy Day dinner last night the seagoing service is ready for either "atomic or non-atomic" warfare anywhere in the world.

In what appeared to be a slap at Air Force claims to being the chief deterrent to aggression, Burke said the experience of the past 10 years "clearly demonstrates that no single military capability—however powerful—can by itself prevent aggression."

During a session of the Army organization convention yesterday Dr. Edward Teller, a pioneer atomic physicist, came up with a proposal for reorganization of the Army into small, mobile units equipped with a "few dozen nuclear weapons." Such units, he said, should be capable of reaching any point in the world within two days.

Clock Watchers End Saving Time

NEW YORK (AP)—You who live in daylight saving time areas: It will pay you to be a clock-watcher tonight.

Forty million Americans in 14 states and the District of Columbia—if they remember—will turn back their clocks one hour before going to bed.

Fast time in these areas ends formally at 2 a.m. tomorrow. States affected this weekend are New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, and parts of Pennsylvania, Missouri, Illinois, Virginia, Indiana and Delaware.

Among cities making the current change are New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and Washington.

In colonial days there was a toy based on Noah's Ark, the only toy children were allowed to play with on Sundays.

Price Of Ham Cut Again By Court

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)—Up again, down again—that's the story of the price of a slice of ham. The ham, originally worth $1, zoomed up to $80,000 when a superior court jury ruled Pennsylvania Railroad dining car steward Carl Jorrenson was wrongfully discharged and imprisoned on charges that he stole the ham three years ago. Then a second jury upped the damages to $104,000. The Pennsylvania Railroad appealed and yesterday Superior Court Judge Richard Hughes cut the award to $85,000. The railroad wasn't happy—it'll appeal again.

Former Star Farnum Now Works As Extra

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — The handsome, tuxedoed gent of mature years looked familiar. But he took his place among the extras in the night club scene.

He was Franklyn Farnum, once a star in the movies and now proud to be an extra. So much so that he has just been elected president of the Screen Extras Guild.

Farnum was one of a hundred extras filling a night club set while Susan Hayward and Kirk Douglas did a samba in "Top Secret Affair."

When the noon break came, the veteran actor sat down to lunch and discussed his own career and the current plight of the extra.

"I came from Boston, you know," he said, and his flat accent confirmed the fact. "I grew up on the same street with Jim Curley. We were good friends." (Curley is a former mayor of Boston and governor of Massachusetts.)

"I was on the stage first. I started for the greatest producer of them all, Charles Frohman. When summer came, there were only two things for an actor to do in those days—take an extended vacation or get a low-paying job in a summer stock company. It happened that a friend of mine had made a hit in movies. He suggested that I try for a job.

"In those days, actors shunned films. We called them 'flickers' and thought they were beneath us. But Universal offered to pay my fare to Hollywood and back on the gamble that I might succeed. I figured I couldn't lose."

That was 42 years ago, and Farnum, who is no relation to the late Dustin Farnum, another famous old-time actor, has been in pictures ever since. He starred first as a lead man, then in Western series.

By the mid-thirties, he found stardom had passed him by. He had a wife and young daughter and the only work he knew was acting. "I never saved my money," he recalled. "I always thought it would keep coming in."

He paid a call to Central Casting, the studios' agency for hiring extras. "But you've been a star!" the manager said. "Do you really want to be an extra?"

"No," Farnum replied. "But I've got to feed my family."

His top salary in films had been $1,500 a week. Now he earns between $5,000 and $7,500 a year, a better than average sum for an extra.

Among the players new Chicago Cub manager Bob Sheffing will have in spring training in 1957 are Gene Fodge, Bob Speake and Jim Bolger. They played for him at Los Angeles last season.

Western Nations Are Pleased By Support In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Western U. N. delegates expressed satisfaction today over the solid support they received both inside and outside the Security Council for their effort to end the bloodshed in Hungary.

Messages poured in from governments all over the world backing up the West's demands that Russia halt her military intervention. Some Western diplomats felt that this public pressure, plus the reported demands of the Hungarian government, might produce results.

The council recessed its discussions temporarily after 5½ hours of debate in an extraordinary Sunday session. Private talks were in progress to determine what the next step would be.

In the council debate the Soviet Union failed to rally a single country to support her claim that the United States had started all the trouble in Hungary and that Soviet troops were only helping the Hungarian government restore order.

Hungarian Delegate Peter Kos in a letter to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld had contended the events in Hungary "and the measures taken in the course of these events" were a domestic matter outside the jurisdiction of the U. N. But at the council meeting Kos said he would say nothing until he received instructions from Budapest.

Western delegates considered this especially significant since news dispatches were quoted in the meeting indicating that Premier Imre Nagy's version of the rebellion did not jibe with that of Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

The council met at the request of the United States, Britain and France to consider "the situation created by the action of foreign military forces in Hungary in violently repressing the rights of the Hungarian people."

Sobolev tried to get the issue thrown out, but 9 of the 11 council members overrode his objections. Yugoslavia abstained on this and on a Soviet effort to postpone the debate. Yugoslavia also sat out the debate without taking sides.

The Western Big Three received the support of the six other council members for their demands that Russia stop interfering in Hungarian affairs. In an unprecedented move, messages of support came pouring in from many nonmembers of the council, including Turkey, Argentina, the Philippines, Thailand, Italy, Austria, Ireland and Spain.

The Western delegates made no formal proposals to the council but directed their demands directly at Russia. In some cases, the language was sharp.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said that if it were not so tragic it would be laughable to hear the Soviet Union complain about U. S. interference in the internal affairs of Hungary "when every edition of the newspapers tells of the Soviet army killing Hungarians in large numbers."

He called the Russians "murderers of innocent women and children."

Security Life's new "Top-Protection-Per-Dollar" Whole Life Policy costs so little that you can carry more insurance on yourself, on your associates with less outlay of working capital. It's the best low cost insurance protection for proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations.

See how little you pay! At age 25 the annual premium is only $13.57 for each thousand dollars of insurance. That's dollars less than you would pay for the usual Whole Life Policy. It's only pennies more each month than premiums on renewable-term insurance.

Three reasons for low cost! (1) It's non-participating. Instead of waiting for dividends to reduce premiums, you pay less from the start. (2) Risks are selected carefully from ages 10 to 65. (3) Policies are written in amounts of $15,000 or more which reduces selling and bookkeeping costs. All these savings are passed along to you.

East Carolina Bows To Appalachian By 22-19 Score

Loss Puts Pirates Out Of Loop Race

BOONE — East Carolina was knocked out of the North State race Saturday night, when underdog Appalachian State came through with a 22-19 victory here.

The win gives the Apps a 2-3 conference record and the Pirates a 2-2 mark, which is not good enough to challenge Lenoir Rhyne undefeated and untied team for the crown.

The heavy, hard-running Mountaineers racked up a quick 22 points in the first half on three touchdowns and a safety. The safety came as Pirate halfback Bobby Lilley was trapped in the end zone on an attempted punt.

Coach Bob Broome split the formation, drubbed the Blues solidly for the better part of the first two periods, threatening even more times than it scored. At the half, East Carolina was far behind and the 4,000 home spectators were giving their Mountaineers a surprising enthusiasm.

Pirates Fight Back Coming back in the second half in an unexpected surge, East Carolina took the ball on the opening kickoff and held it throughout the whole two final periods, except for one brief moment.

Coach Jack Boone's boys, led by halfback Bobby Perry quarterback Gary Mattocks and fullback Lilley, pulled through to three touchdowns and threatened for two more, but were unable to push to the winning goal.

The Pirate defensive team, checked full of sophomores and freshmen, fought back, holding the previously unstoppable Mountaineers to a single first down.

Appalachian finally got their hands on the ball when East Carolina fullback Kemp Wickizer fumbled near the Pirate 20 yard line and a Mountaineer guard pounced on the free ball. From there, the hosts drove for their only first down of the last half, but were unable to score against the Buc defensive outfit.

Leading the way for East Carolina on defense, were Algy Fairchild, Bucky Dennis, Dick Monds, Tommy Waggoner, Al at tackle, Charlie Smith, and Perry.

Edward Emory, freshman guard from South Carolina, who made the big jump to East Carolina's first unit at the first of the season, was injured again in the contest. He was injured earlier, when a bad knee twist occurred in the VPI contest and was out of action for three games. He is suffering from the same ailment now, and is expected to be out for the rest of the season.

Also shaken up were Bucky Dennis and James Speight. Coach Boone, however, stated today that all but Emory are expected to play next week at Lenoir Rhyne.

"It just seems to me that we bring out the best in everybody," Coach Jack Boone said today, speaking of his team's 22-19 loss to Appalachian.

Appalachian Coach Bob Broome told Boone after the game that his Mountaineer team had turned in its finest performance of the season during the first half of the Saturday night battle at Boone.

"We were hurt early in the game," Boone recalled. "When Bobby Perry's 55-yard touchdown run was nullified, that would have put us ahead and probably would have given our boys the needed lift to go on from there with a victory. After that, it just seemed that we couldn't push over for that touchdown. We were within the five yard line twice and couldn't score. All in all, we should have made four touchdowns which we didn't make."

Boone continued: "Throughout the first part of the game our defense just wouldn't hold for some reason. However, despite how our defense crew worked, we should have outscored them."

The one bright spot in the otherwise dismal picture according to Coach Boone was the way East Carolina fought back, although deep in scoring debt. "We were 22 points behind before we started scoring," he said, "but we came back and played a very good second half, except for the plays when we should have scored."

He topped it all off with this statement: "It seems that this is the worst year we've had for letting people score on us. Our trouble is that we're just not working as a unit."

Ed Lopat, who was manager-pitcher for Richmond in the International League in 1956, plans to retire as a pitcher next season and devote all his baseball time to managing.

Hallowe'en Tilt Scheduled For Midget Outfits

The Annual Halloween Night Midget football battles, staged each year by the local Recreation department in conjunction with the Exchange Club, will see two games, Wednesday night as the Golds and the Blues clash in the opener and the Whites and Reds battle in the second game. College Stadium is the location.

Opening game time is slated for 7:00, with the second contest scheduled to begin at 8:30. The games will be regularly scheduled season encounters and will count in the Midget loop standings.

Recreation officials announced today that the big night of football will be entirely free and prizes will be given away to lucky children attending. "The purpose of the games," one official stated, "is to give Greenville's children something worthwhile to do on Halloween night and to keep them out of trouble with the regular Halloween pranks. In the past, this has proved a successful thing and the number of children roaming the streets has been greatly reduced."

All children entering the stadium will be asked to register and have their name placed in a prize box. During the games, drawings will be held and prizes given away. Following the game, at the Recreation center, another drawing will be held. Recreation officials will then call the homes of the drawn names and if the child is home, he will also receive a prize.

At the present time, the standings are as follows: The Golds pace league play with a 3-0-1 record. The Whites are second with a 3-1-0 slate; the Reds follow with a 1-2-1 mark and the Blues are last with a 0-4-0 mark.

The undefeated, untied Lenoir Rhyne Bears keep chewing up every football team they meet.

They won their seventh game Saturday night, 25-6, and in the process knocked Emory and Henry from the undefeated ranks after seven games.

It was the 14th straight victory for the Bears and the 17th without loss. A tie with Newberry in the third game of the 1955 season interrupted a string which began after a loss to Catawba on Thanksgiving Day of 1954.

Elon and Appalachian highlighted the conference games with victories last week.

Elon defeated Western Carolina 26-6 for its third league victory against one defeat. That gained a second-place tie for the Christian with Catawba, which lost to Presbyterian, 14-13.

Appalachian held on for a 22-19 triumph over East Carolina. The Apps rolled to a 22-0 first half lead, then had to hold on against a comebacking Pirate team.

East Carolina now has a 2-2 league record, and Appalachian is 2-3.

Guilford went down to its fourth straight loss, 28-6 to Newberry.

Guilford has lost its only league game and Western Carolina has lost all six conference games.

Conference games this Saturday are East Carolina at Lenoir Rhyne and Guilford at Appalachian. Catawba is at Wofford. Elon at Newberry, and Western Carolina at Emory and Henry.

Bobby Jordan Is Still Pacing Southern Scorers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Virginia Military Institute's halfback Bobby Jordan has made only one touchdown in the last four weeks but still clings to the lead in the Southern Conference football scoring race.

Jordan has 49 points. He didn't contribute a point Saturday in VMI's 13-13 tie with Davidson.

The biggest advance by a player in the scoring derby the past week was made by Davidson's halfback Don McRee. He made both of Davidson's touchdowns, one on a 98-yard kickoff return, to boost his point total to 30, good for fourth place.

Sandwiched between Jordan and McRee in a tie for second were Richmond's George Riggs and Virginia Tech's Jimmy Lazar. Riggs didn't have an opportunity to improve on his total last week since Richmond was idle. Lazar, a quarterback, didn't score but directed Tech to its 14-7 triumph over old rival Virginia.

Halfback Charlie Sidwell of West Virginia and Mary were fifth with 25 points.

George Washington took undisputed possession of the league lead last Friday night by squeezing by William and Mary 16-14. It was the Colonials' third conference triumph against no defeats.

Tied for second are Virginia Tech and West Virginia, each with 2-0 marks. The championship may be settled Saturday when George Washington and West Virginia collide at Morgantown, W. Va.

West Virginia stepped outside the circuit last weekend and took a 16-6 licking from Penn State. The Mountaineers gave up all 16 points in the first half but got only one touchdown, that on fullback Larry Krukko's two-yard plunge.

Furman moved 52 yards for a touchdown that gave the Purple Hurricane a 7-0 victory over The Citadel and its first triumph of the campaign. Quarterback Bobby Baker spoke over from the Washington and Lee's nonsubsidized Generals took the lead three times before they finally dropped a 21-20 thriller to West Virginia Tech. Quarterback Jack Daugherty scored two of W&L's touchdowns on runs of three and 14 yards and passed six yards to Pres Pate for the other.

This week's schedule: Saturday — George Washington at West Virginia; Richmond at Davidson; Virginia Military vs. William and Mary at Lynchburg, Va.; Virginia Tech at Clemson; Washington and Lee at Wabash (Ind.); South Carolina at Furman; Presbyterian at The Citadel.

The International Boxing Club had to scramble its schedule to fill the date, moving up the Joe Miceli - Carlo Sarlo match from Nov. 7. Hoepner's U.S. debut will be rescheduled when his injury has mended.

As a result of this change of schedule, the first light - heavy elimination scrap now will be Tony Anthony-Gordon Wallace at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 7.

The Miceli-Sarlo fight will be beamed on network TV (ABC).

Charlie Norkus and Joe Rowan, a pair of heavyweights with records to show they either knock out their man or get knocked out, top the Monday card at St. Nicholas Arena in New York (DuMont-TV).

Norkus, 28, has been in with the best during his 40-bout career. His record is 26-14 with 16 knockouts. Rowan, 22, has a 28-9-1 record for 38 starts with 13 knockouts. Each has been stopped four times.

Henry (Toothpick) Brown, the Philadelphia lightweight with two straight first-round knockouts to his credit, takes on experienced Paolo Rosi of Italy and New York's Bronx in the Friday bout from Washington, Madison Square Garden will be occupied by the horse show, hence the shift.

The Brown-Rosi match will be carried on NBC.

Plans For Big Tournament Set Back By Injury

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press

Plans for a light - heavyweight elimination tournament to provide a successor for Archie Moore—if and when—have been set back by an injury to Willie Hoepner, German import. Hoepner was to have fought Chuck Spieser of Detroit Wednesday in a 12-round bout at Chicago.

The International Boxing Club had to scramble its schedule to fill the date, moving up the Joe Miceli - Carlo Sarlo match from Nov. 7. Hoepner's U.S. debut will be rescheduled when his injury has mended.

As a result of this change of schedule, the first light - heavy elimination scrap now will be Tony Anthony-Gordon Wallace at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 7.

Jack Smith Wins Big NASCAR Racing Prize

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Jack Smith of Atlanta, Ga., won the 400-lap, 200-mile NASCAR sweepstakes for convertibles and Grand National cars here yesterday but the big winner was Buck Baker of Charlotte, N.C., even though he came in seventh.

The 380 points that Baker accumulated with his seventh-place finish at the Martinsville Speedway clinched his first Grand National championship. Baker, who now has 8,848 points for the year, cannot be beaten even if his closest active rival, Speedy Thompson of Charlotte, wins the remaining two races on the Grand National program.

Herb Thomas of Sanford, N.C., led Baker with 8,514 points until yesterday but Thomas was seriously injured in a race at Shelby, N.C. last Tuesday and will race no more this year. Thomas was reported yesterday to be "slightly improved" but still in a critical condition in a Charlotte hospital.

Thompson was the fourth-place finisher in yesterday's feature in his 1956 Chrysler.

Smith took the lead in his 1956 Dodge hardtop on the 216th lap and never was headed. Marvin Panch of Gardena, Calif., driving a '56 Ford hardtop, was second and Bill Amick of Portland, Ore., also in a '56 Ford hardtop, was third.

By winning, Smith picked up a purse of $2,200.

At Birmingham, Ala., Johnny Mantz, Duarte, Calif., drove 100 miles in one hour 57.1 seconds yesterday to win the "Dixie 200" stock car race.

Mantz pulled ahead by 1 1/2 laps after his teammate, Chuck Stevenson of Garden Grove, Calif., crashed into a fence following a blowout. Mantz was driving a 1956 Ford in the race in the half-mile oval of the Alabama State Fairgrounds.

Troy Ruttman, Lynwood, Calif., won the half-mile time trials in 27.47 seconds, also in a 1956 Ford. Eddie McDonald of Columbus, Ga., won the feature race of a stock car program at Central City Park in Macon, Ga., Sunday.

Another Columbus driver, Sam McQuagg, was injured when his car turned over on a turn in a preliminary heat. A hospital said his condition was serious Sunday night.

John Hutto of Macon won the consolation race.

Coach Jim Kelly Talks About U.S. Track Chances

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Head coach Jim Kelly of the American Olympic track and field team reiterated today that the off-season games in Australia will not handicap this nation's title hopes.

The white-haired pilot from the University of Minnesota was even more pleased after another trial by the U. S. team two days ago in nearby Santa Ana.

In this tuneup meet the team merrily broke three world records, and while two of them probably will not stand up for recognition, due to technicalities, the fact remains that the United States team is in top condition.

While Kelly would not comment, there still is an open question in two events. One involves world record holder Bud Held, San Diego, in the javelin throw, and a possible opening in the pole vault.

Harold Connolly let loose with a hammer throw of 224 feet 8 1/2 inches which bettered a brand new mark set a week ago by Russia's Mikhail Krivonozov at 220 feet 10 1/2 inches.

However, it was discovered that Connolly's hammer apparently weighted one-quarter ounce light. Further weighings were ordered to determine whether he had beaten the Russian's mark.

In the 100-meter dash Leamon King, an alternate on the team from California, bettered the world record in defeating in order Thane Baker, Ira Murchison and Bobby Morrow in the time of 10.1.

Ernie Lombardi, most valuable player in the National League back in 1938 when he was catching for the Redlegs, used an interlocking grip at bat.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING by KELLEY ROOS

CHAPTER 34
When Ralph Tolley landed on my left foot I cried out with a painful groan that was not wholly hypocritical. I sat down on the floor and grabbed my ankle. Poor Mr. Tolley was almost tearful. He kept mumbling how sorry he was.

which were under my bed. Swiftly, silently, as treacherous as a lady coyote fighting for her mate, I was behind Ralph. With a diabolical thrust I sent him tumbling into the closet. I slammed shut the door. I locked it. Inside the closet there was a great thrashing about. "Mr. Tolley," I called, "listen to me. I'll let you out as soon as I can."

Too Much Stress On Modern Life

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter
CINCINNATI (AP)—Americans are inclined to over-stress the "stress" of modern-day living, a nationally known heart specialist says.

blood pressure has many causes. And one of the next major (objectives) will be to separate them and 'tailor' the treatment to the particular mechanism of the disease.

Tired Of Name, Has It Changed

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—After 50 years of "considerable embarrassment," a Long Beach electrical worker decided it was time to change his name. Bonnie Clare Quinn said he was sick and tired of receiving letters addressed to "Mrs. Quinn" and didn't like being called Bonnie.

Gets Permission For Voting Help

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Quick, 101, resident of nearby Edgewood, made certain he'll be able to cast his ballot Nov. 6 for President Eisenhower. His vote, said Quick, will mark the 11th time he has cast his ballot for a Republican presidential nominee. Quick says he can't see too well because of cataracts. He signed papers permitting him to take another person into the voting booth so he can be certain he's voted accurately.

Hall Denies Part In Contract Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall says he does not control the award of any government contracts, and sought no donation from the Frederick Snare Corp.

Hall was asked during a filmed television interview yesterday about the award of a contract for a 43-million-dollar expansion of the government's nickel plant in Niameo, Cuba. Half of that contract went to the Snare Corp.

A former official of that firm has testified he talked with Hall about the award, and that he and other company officials later increased their Republican campaign contributions, though he did not consider that a "condition" of the award.

Hall said that no government contract "has ever been controlled by any action on my part or anyone in the national committee."

He said also he never asked for any donation "large or small," and knew nothing about the Snare Corp. contributions "until I read it in the paper."

Hall declined to testify earlier this month at a House Government Operations subcommittee hearing on the contract award, saying he was too busy to appear before the election.

But he said that "when the election is over I will be there because there's nothing to it at all."

Hall predicted "a tremendous victory" for President Eisenhower in next month's election. Although the contest for control of the Senate and House is "much tighter," he said, "I think we're going to carry both houses."

He declined to forecast who might get the GOP presidential nomination in 1960 but commented, when asked about Vice President Nixon's chances, that "very few vice presidents have been nominated for president."

Guided Missile Drawn By Heat

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—A new guided missile drawn toward enemy bombers by the heat of their engines and capable of destroying an air fleet with one blast, was described last night by an Air Force general.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, said that the missile, carrying an atomic warhead, would be operational in the near future.

Speaking to the Michigan Aero Club at nearby Selfridge Air Force Base, Gen. Partridge said: "The missile will follow an infra-red beam instead of radar. In other words, it will be a heat-seeking device, a missile that will be attracted by the heat of an enemy bomber's engines."

However, he explained, the nature of the infra-red device makes it unable to distinguish between friendly and enemy aircraft.

When nearing the aircraft, he said, the missile's warhead would explode and the atomic blast would down any number of planes within range.

Daniels To Speak At Centennial

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer, will be a featured speaker here Nov. 14 for the Woodrow Wilson Centennial program.

The editor's father, Josephus Daniels, was Secretary of the Navy under President Wilson in World War I. The program will commemorate the hundredth anniversary of Wilson's birth.

Other speakers will be New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Princeton University President Harold W. Dobbs.

Navy Recruiters Accept Own Line

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Two Navy recruiting officers in Tulsa apparently in a tiff over their fourth time this week.

Lewis Rogers, 39, a chief machinist's mate, already has served 15 years and now joined up for another six years.

The other recruiter is Robert C. McDonald, 37, with 16 years of Navy service. A chief engine man, he signed for four years.

What will they do after their latest hitch?

They'll both be eligible for retirement, but "we like the Navy and we'll wait and see what circumstances may be when our time is up," the two recruiters said.

Socialist Party Candidate Says Capitalism No Bargain

NEW YORK (AP)—Campaigning across the country for the presidency is a man whose slogan is "capitalism is no bargain."

Eric Hass, 51, is nominee of the Socialist Labor party—a small but seemingly perennial institution of American politics.

It has put up a presidential candidate in the last 17 consecutive elections—a record it says no other minority party can match.

Under the banner of the "Arm and Hammer," it professes to be the original American party of socialism.

It stresses that it "has no affiliation or association with the so-called Socialist party, Communist party, nor with any other party or group in this country or abroad."

The Socialist Labor party is one of the few minority parties able to find funds to wage a campaign.

The Socialist Laborites started their campaign with $47,000. Delegates to the party's convention in New York last May 5 turned in that amount, donated by workers in their districts.

The party has since received many additional contributions.

It has been enough to buy a full page advertisement in the New York Times, to purchase television time, and to enable Hass to make a cross-country campaign tour.

In the 1952 election, with Hass as the candidate, the party got 30,376 votes in 23 states.

Among the minority parties, it was beaten out only by the Progressives and the Prohibitionists. Its biggest vote was 9,363 in Illinois. The smallest was 1 in Arkansas.

This year it is on the ballot in 14 states—Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin.

It is waging write-in campaigns in California, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Oregon.

Hass, editor of the party's "Weekly People," has graying blond hair and an athletic build. He is 5 feet 9 and weighs about 170.

The presidential candidate was born in Lincoln, Neb., of German and Danish immigrant parents attended the University of Nebraska and worked at various jobs before becoming active in the party. He is married and lives in New York City.

The Socialist Labor party vice presidential candidate is Mrs. Georgia Cozzini, 41, a housewife.

She was born in Springfield, Mo., and was married in 1935 to Artemio Cozzini of Milwaukee, a knife-grinder by trade. They have two children, Bruce, 19, a student at the University of Wisconsin, and Gina, 10.

The Socialist Labor party puts it this way:

Capitalism means "war, poverty, in the midst of plenty, unemployment, the doom of the small farmer, wage slavery, democracy subverted, and social disintegration."

But they say, socialism means "peace, plenty for all, security, solution of the farm problem, abolition of the wages system, industrial democracy, and a better world for all."

Things TV Could Drop Right Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things I can do without on TV—

Choreographed commercials with dancers tripping gayly around the new cars. Does that sell automobiles?

The presentation of so-called awards. Last week Don Larsen got one as the Athlete of 1956. Sure, his no-hitter was something great, but 1956 isn't over yet and the Olympic Games haven't even been held.

Tributes to James Dean. Let his own acting write the tribute.

Wealthy people getting wealthier on quiz shows. The most absurd instance: pitting Vincent Price against Edward G. Robinson.

Interviewers who needle public figures on TV press conferences. Get the facts, yes, but there's no need to be nasty about it.

Ad agencies that turn up the sound volume when the commercial comes on. We can hear, we can hear!

Pitting two goods shows against each other so the conscientious viewer has to keep flipping channels. Like Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen.

Stars who do one-minute walk-ons just to plug a picture.

Shows that try to sneak four commercials into one half-hour. Enough is enough!

Announcers who insist on repeating what is printed on the screen.

Newspaper dramas in which the reporter never checks with his office.

On the officer's arrival home, relates the patrol's monthly report, without names, the wife wailed that her purchases had been stolen. "No use getting excited," the officer said, bringing in the missing packages.

"But let this be a lesson to you."

"Very interesting," last worded the Mrs. "I forgot to mention I went back and bought the same things again. You can return the packages you took."

Wife Teaches Cop Lesson On Theft

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—From the family car which his wife had left unlocked in a shopping district, a California highway patrol officer took several newly purchased packages.

Jack And The Beanstalk Promises To Be Good

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes the cast of a television program is swept by an enthusiasm in rehearsal that almost invariably promises a good show.

This is the case with the cast of "Jack and the Beanstalk" which comes on the home screen via NBC-TV Nov. 12 as this season's third offering of "Producers Showcase."

"Jack and the Beanstalk" is a musical extravaganza written for television and is based, of course, on the nursery tale which has been traced as far back as 1790—and possibly beyond.

This information was furnished by Celeste Holm, the beautiful and talented singer and actress who has happily accepted the role of Mad Meggie, the witch.

"The story of 'Jack and the Beanstalk' has even been traced to India," said the bewitching and most un-witchlike Miss Holm the other day as she interrupted rehearsals with Cyril Ritchard and the large cast of the musical.

"It's a wonderful story, with wonderful music, and as Helen Deutsch has written it, there is something in it for everyone. What used to bother me about the story as a child was the 'why' of it. Why did Jack do what he did and why did—well, there are so many 'whys' that they are finally going to be answered."

Miss Holm, who has been seen most recently on the nation's movie screens in "The Tender Trap" and "High Society," accepted the role for the same and only reason she will take any television role—because she likes it.

Speaking of children's tales, "The Wizard of Oz" will be presented this Saturday evening by "Ford Star Jubilee" from 9 to 11 p.m., EST. Judy Garland will star in a cast that includes Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Margaret Hamilton, Charley Grapewin and Billie Burke.

There are unconfirmed reports that this will be the last "Ford Star Jubilee" program of the season.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold—without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene®.

Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms... get Primatene, at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back guarantee.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — Steels and coppers paced a general stock market rally today in the liveliest trading in weeks.

Leading issues went ahead fractions to around 2 points or more. Brokers said the favorable medical report on President Eisenhower was regarded in Wall Street as adding to his election prospects and was a strong factor in the rise.

Reports of higher steel demand and a move for price increases aided shares of this industry.

Kennecott's Copper's higher earnings spurred this division. Advances in the rails, however, were more narrow than in more favored divisions.

U. S. Steel was up around a point on the eve of its quarterly directors meeting. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were other 1-point gainers. Lukens and Youngstown added more than 2 apiece.

Kennecott scampered a head more than 2. International Nickel was up well beyond a point and Anaconda rose a major fraction.

Kaiser Aluminum rode up around 2 and Alcoa more than a point.

Chrysler was up about a point and General Motors a fraction. Ford and Studebaker - Packard were fairly steady.

Boeing and United Aircraft pushed ahead beyond a point. Du Pont added around 3.

Newport Industries rose a fraction and Heyden Chemical lost a fraction on news of their proposed merger.

American Telephone, Consolidated Edison and Commonwealth Edison rose fractionally.

New York Central lost a fraction. Small gains were posted by Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pacific.

Gains of a point or so were made by American Tobacco, Goodrich, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Gulf Oil and Texaco.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.20 to $180.40 with the industrials up $2.40, the rails up 50 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Sentence Lifted In Lottery Case

By CHESTER WALSH

At last Friday's session of Police Court, Judge Charles H. Wheeler found Larry B. Nelson, Negro, 705 Cherry street, guilty of possessing lottery tickets and gave him 12 months on the roads.

The court suspended judgment on condition that the defendant pay $150, costs deducted and not violate any law for two years, and he was placed on probation for two years.

TRICK OR TREAT TO HELP NEEDY—Bethel school children of grades one through seven will knock on doors in Bethel Saturday night seeking donations for needy children in foreign countries. The money will go to the United Nations funds for relief for children in other countries. The Halloween canvass is being conducted by the children under the auspices of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Bethel Methodist Church. The children will meet at the church for devotional services before making their rounds. Each child participating in the canvass will wear a tag and carry a UNICEF carton.

In the case of Willie Morris, Negro, 410-M Elk street, who was charged with assaulting William Enoch with a deadly weapon (knife), the court gave him 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The judgment also provides that he shall not molest or harm William Enoch and be of good behavior for two years.

George F. Bardner, Negro, Cross street, trespass, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $5 and he is not to visit the premises of George Washington.

Still Destroyed In Pactolus Area

A 50-gallon liquor still was discovered near the Sticks Road, Pactolus Township, and destroyed by Pitt County ABC officers over the weekend.

J. M. Ward, Chief ABC officer, said someone fired a shotgun signal as he and his men got out of their car. When they arrived at the still, the operators had gone, taking liquor that had been run off, if any, and the still's copper coil and leaving the still in operation.

A 50-gallon steel drum, 50-gallon cooler and 100 gallons of mash were destroyed with dynamite.

Abandoned Waif Still Unclaimed

WARWICK, R.I. — Last week a blue-eyed baby boy was abandoned on the doorstep of Kent County Memorial Hospital.

Today, still unclaimed, the black-haired waif was to be turned over to the Children's Friend and Service.

But the tot will take more than just a piece of the hearts of those he captivated at the hospital. Employees chipped in and bought him a layette, a teddy bear and toy and also raised another $100 to be put in trust for him.

Byron (Buster) Brannon, head basketball coach at T.C.U., also doubles as assistant football coach and chief grid scout.

Storm Continues Sweep Of Coast

RALEIGH — High winds and rough seas lashed North Carolina's coastal areas today as a storm continued to sweep over that area.

Northeast storm warnings were displayed along the coast. Winds as high as 40 miles per hour hit the coastal areas yesterday, causing high tides and choppy seas.

Tides were expected to be two to five feet above normal today, with some flooding at high tides.

Much of the Outer Banks area was under water yesterday and some damage was reported as far inland as New Bern. A report said a 48-mile ocean-front highway along the island from Oregon Inlet south to Hatteras was covered by water for two-thirds of its length. The water was reported to be 3 1/2 feet deep in some places.

Planks were knocked off at least three fishing piers in the area, but damage was said to be minor, it was said in reports received here.

Mrs. Hazel A. Scott Dies At Home Today

Mrs. Hazel K. Scott, 54, wife of Paul A. Scott, Sr., died at noon today at her home, 105 Woodlawn Avenue, after several months' illness. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Surviving are her husband; two stepsons, Paul A. Scott, Jr., and S. Jack Scott of Fort Walton Beach, Florida; and two step-grandchildren.

Pinball Machine Filled With Slugs

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Carl Morris, 30, was arrested because he put lead "slugs" into a pinball machine. He said he pumped eight bullets into the machine because "it just won't pay off."

Morris said he "just got mad" after losing about $100 in four weeks to the machine. "I couldn't win on it. It just won't pay off. Morris charged. Said the wife of the cafe operator: "It's not supposed to pay off. It's for amusement only."

Presbyterians Meet Tomorrow

The Rev. John Miller, pastor of Snow Hill Presbyterian Church and chairman of Presbytery Committee on Campus Christian Life, will preside at the Presbyterians dinner to be held at the North Dining Hall at East Carolina College tomorrow night.

Some 250 Presbyterians from Albemarle Presbytery are expected to attend this meeting on Campus Christian Life.

Lawrence I. Stell, minister of Arinity Presbytery Church, Charlotte, and chairman of campus Christian Life for North Carolina will be the main speaker. President John D. Messick of East Carolina College will bring greetings.

"Purpose of this meeting is to inform the people of our Presbytery what we have tried to do during the past ten years and what we hope to do in the near future," explained the Rev. Leonard Topping, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Greenville.

He went on to say that "We want to challenge our churches to have an important part in this ministry to students."

Jarvis Memorial Members Named To College Board

J. H. Rose, Joe Taft, Mrs. Sam Underwood, Jr. and Rev. W. M. Howard, Jr., pastor, will represent Jarvis Memorial Church on the special Conference Advisory Committee for the new Methodist College in Fayetteville.

Terry Sanford, of Fayetteville, chairman of the proposed institution's board of trustees, in announcing the appointments, said: "We expect to rely a great deal upon the advice and help of these and other leaders as we go forward with our college project."

This identity with the college, he said, will confer upon committee members and distinction of "honorary alumni."

The new institution, chartered by the North Carolina Methodist Conference, is scheduled to be erected on a 700-acre site about three miles North of Fayetteville on the Raleigh highway.

(There was no immediate comment from the Vatican on the Polish announcement. After Cardinal Wyszyński's arrest, the Vatican had said no government could relieve a cardinal of his duties.)

The Polish government said a commission of government and church representatives soon will discuss outstanding issues between the church and state.

The freeing of Cardinal Wyszyński is certain to arouse fervent enthusiasm for a wide section of the Polish population, about 90 per cent of which is Roman Catholic. The clemency was another move by Wladyslaw Gomulka, the anti-Stalinist restored to power last week as chief of the Polish Communist party, to unite the nation for the all-out assault the government must make to ease Poland's economic difficulties.

Husband, Wife File For Seats

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. — A husband-wife team have filed for election to city commission seats.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holland seek commission berths vacated by Mayor Mike Yargates and Commissioner Howard Cromer. Yargates and Cromer resigned recently to run for the remainder of their own terms to obtain a "public vote of confidence." Their terms extended to Jan. 1958.

Holland, a trucking business operator, is a former commissioner and ranvor.

Colored News

Special services in observance of the pastor's anniversary will be held this week at the Church of God in Christ, 1406 Clark street. The following speakers and their choirs will be there: Tuesday, Rev. B. B. Dunn of Kinston; Wednesday, Rev. E. A. Austin of Washington; Thursday, Elder L. B. Davenport of Washington, and Friday, Rev. Y. W. Leary of Bell Fork. The public is invited.

Joseph Edwards of Winterville died at Pitt Memorial Hospital Saturday morning. Funeral services will be held at Shiloh Baptist Church Tuesday at 2 p.m. Rev. S. E. Hemby will officiate. Burial will be in the Winterville cemetery. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Velma Henagan of Alexandria, Va., Mrs. Verona Jones of New York, and Miss Kadell Edwards of the home, and four sisters, two brothers and five grandchildren.

The members of Holy Trinity Church are invited to attend the services at the Church of God in Christ on Clark street Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The pastor's anniversary is being observed this week.

Funeral services for James Brown, who was killed in an automobile accident in Wilmington, N. C., will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in Bullock Cemetery. Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Annie Brown Cogdell and one sister, all of Portsmouth, Va.

Coy T. Morris, 57, Dies From Injuries

Coy T. Morris, 57, died in a Maryland hospital Saturday night from injuries received in a fall two weeks ago. Funeral services were conducted at the Wendell Baptist Church Monday afternoon at three o'clock by the pastor, Rev. William Venson. Burial was in the Wendell Cemetery.

Among the survivors is a sister, Mrs. S. Lindsay Wilkerson of Greenville.

Now... save to 50% on fuel!

Be warmer in every room

Equipped with powerful automatic forced air fan that circulates ONE-THIRD more warm air than ordinary heater fan.

THE AMAZING NEW 1956 Quaker "SUPREME" OIL HEATER

The greatest advance in oil heaters in 25 years!

- SAVES UP TO 50% ON FUEL. The only home heater guaranteed to save from one-third to one-half on fuel. This heater actually pays for itself from the fuel it saves.
- AUTOMATIC "AIR-FEED" eliminates draft worries, turns smoke and soot into heat.
- NEW 4-WAY "HEAT-EXTRACTOR" reduces chimney heat loss up to 45%. More heat, less fuel.
- THERMO-MATIC FORCED AIR FAN circulates warm air throughout home. Turns heat up, off.
- EXCLUSIVE ALL-WELDED STAINLESS STEEL BURNER produces maximum clean heat. Safe, silent.
- GIANT SUPER HUMIDIFIER supplies needed humidity for more healthful heat. Forcible finish.
- COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC. Set it before retiring and awaken in a warm, pleasant home.
- BEAUTIFUL MODERN STEERING, choice of new silver-beige, or rich mahogany baked-on finish.
- QUAKER PATENTED FEATURES give you more heat on less fuel than any heater of equal capacity.

LIBERAL TRADE-IN allowance for your old heater.

MANY MONTHS TO PAY. BUY NOW, SAVE.
