Mid-East Fight Is Likely Alternative, Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Dulles said today there is "a very great likelihood" American boys may have to fight in the Middle East unless Congress approves President Eisenhower's program for that area.

Several Democratic senators have said they want to ask Dulles to give some proof for a statement he made yesterday—that the Communist threat to the Middle East is the most dangerous situation we have faced over the past 10 years.

Vote In Doubt

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today appointed William A. Blakley of Dallas, 58, an attorney, as temporary U. S. senator from Texas.

Shivers made the announcement in the waning minutes of his last day as governor. It came as retiring Sen. Price Daniel prepared to take the oath of office as governor.

There was no immediate word on how Blakley, who is also an accountant and rancher, would vote in the U. S. Senate.

The governor's written announcement said Blakley is a supporter of President Eisenhower. It also said he was a supporter of Sen. Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) but that he has not been politically active.

Blakley refused to talk to reporters in Dallas immediately, and there was no indication as to whether he would vote with the Democrats or Republicans if an attempt should be made to reorganize the Senate.

$150,000 Loan Approved By REA For Local Co-Op

FARMVILLE — A loan of $150,000 for improving and extending service to customers of the Pitt-Greene Electric Membership Corporation was approved today by the Rural Electrification Administration.

The loan will enable the corporation to add about 200 new members to its rolls which already list approximately 3,500 customers. In addition, the corporation will be able to improve present systems by installing heavier lines, larger wiring and transformers, and connecting different sections.

Gilbert Whitley, general manager of the corporation, said approximately $80,000 of the loan will be expended to add new customers. The balance of the loan will be spent to convert about 30 miles of present lines to heavier lines and converting about five miles of the line. Conversion of lines will enable the corporation to increase capacity for about 200 existing services, Whitley said.

Since Pitt-Greene was chartered in June, 1937, it has grown from a membership of 150 to its present size. Electricity distributed by the corporation's lines are purchased from Carolina Power and Light Company and the Southeastern Power Administration (Bugs Island). Carolina Power and Light transfers all of the corporation's purchased electricity.

Bulk of the corporation's membership is in Greene County but a large number of customers are located in Pitt County. There are about 50 members in Lenoir County and approximately 12 each in Wilson and Wayne counties, Whitley said.

J. C. Parker of Route 1, Fountain, is president of the corporation and Seth Barrow of Route 2, Farmville, is secretary-treasurer. They have been on the corporation's board of directors since the original charter was issued. Other directors are Henry C. Tyson, Route 1, Farmville; Sam V. Tugwell, Route 1, Farmville; E. E. Nethercutt, Route 1, Snow Hill; Joe Edmundson, Route 3, Snow Hill; and Jarvis Harrison, Route 3, Snow Hill.

Urges Expanding American Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) urged the Eisenhower administration today to expand its new disarmament proposals to include a negotiated withdrawal of both American and Soviet troops from Germany.

Humphrey, a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, voiced approval of a five-point disarmament program presented to the U.N. yesterday by the chief U.S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

But the Minnesota senator said in an interview he regrets the proposals do not indicate some flexibility relating to Central Europe and Germany.

"I think we should restudy our position in Western Germany with the objective of withdrawing our troops if the Soviets will agree to pull back their troops from East Germany and Poland," Humphrey said.

"We are going to have to face up to the possibility that a German government — not necessarily the present one headed by Chancellor Adenauer — may proceed on its own initiative to try to negotiate for unification with East Germany.

"In such a situation we could find ourselves in the position of being asked to get out of West Germany. It would be much better if we now could begin to weigh the assets and liabilities of a phased withdrawal of American and Soviet forces from the area."

In his five-point program, the administration proposed, among other things, that the armed forces of the United States and Soviet Russia be limited to 2 1/2 million men each and those of Britain and France to 750,000 each, subject to a workable inspection system.

The administration also proposed a limitation, and later a ban, on nuclear test explosions if agreement could be reached that all fissionable materials to be produced in the future be used or stockpiled under international supervision for nonweapons purposes.

Pending such an agreement, the United States said it would be willing to negotiate a system for advance notice and limited international observation of such tests.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), vice chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a separate interview that in his opinion "it is desirable to limit nuclear test explosions and later abandon them."

But he said he doesn't see how there could be any effective agreement for future production of fissionable materials to be stockpiled exclusively for nonweapons purposes.

"It's like saying that all airplanes shall be built for peaceful use when it wouldn't take long to arm them for use in war," he said.

Other proposals called for international control of the testing of space missiles, including earth satellites and space platforms, as well as for progressive installation of an international inspection and control system to guard against surprise attacks.

Mercury Fell To 22 Degrees Here

A cold wave struck the Greenville area yesterday afternoon and during last night the temperature dropped from 44 degrees (yesterday's high) to 22.

At 9 a.m. today the thermometer at the Lower Coastal Plain Research Farm registered 25 degrees, 7 below freezing.

Light flurries of snow and a cold northwest wind prevailed here during a part of today's forenoon. A light snow fell here the early part of January but it did not stick.

The coldest weather recorded here this winter was during the first week in January when the mercury dropped to 16 degrees below freezing.

TWIN INCIDENT

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP)—Dick and Dan Biery of Rosbud County are 20-year-old twins. Both have the same model sedans. Both were fined $10 in justice court after pleading guilty to operating their twin vehicles at 68 miles an hour, bumper to bumper, in a 55-mile-an-hour zone.

of the people of Pitt County to find practical solutions and consequently look forward to continued progress in 1957.

Stockholders unanimously re-elected the board of directors consisting of A. R. Barrett, M. K. Blount, W. S. Bost, Reynolds May, B. B. Sugg, J. B. Webb Jr., J. T. Marston Jr., K. B. Pace, H. C. Sugg and K. E. Wooten.

Top N. Carolina Nat'l Guardsmen Will Join Fight

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's two top National Guardsmen plan to attend a meeting in Washington next Wednesday to map a fight against a U.S. Army order calling for six months active duty training for all new guardsmen.

State Adj. Gen. John Hall Manning said yesterday he and Gen. Claude T. Bowers, head of the state's 30th Infantry Division, will make the trip at the invitation of Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn.

Gen. Ellard has invited National Guard officials and commanders from all the states and territories to attend the meeting.

The Army announced yesterday its major revision in the guard training program. It calls for a compulsory six months training program and is slated to become effective April 1.

Gen. Manning said that if the training period were split into two three-month periods each summer, it "wouldn't interfere with education and (guarding) would get the military training that the armed forces reserve act contemplates."

The general noted that a number of far heel guardsmen have been volunteering for the six months training, 150 having done so last year.

Only yesterday, he noted, 78 more North Carolina guardsmen reported for a voluntary six months active duty training program. "We have applications from 37 more to begin next month," he said.

He said that when the program is put on a compulsory basis, "we definitely expect to find a noticeable falling off in our new enlistments."

Pravda Declares Depression Is Menacing U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today the United States is headed toward a grave economic depression. It said President Eisenhower's State of the Union message proved this.

"It is no accident the President's message devoted primary attention to growing inflation which he characterized as the 'main danger' to the American economy," the Soviet Communist party organ said.

(The President told Congress in the message that the United States has reached "an unprecedented peak in our economic prosperity" but that the danger of inflation "is always present.") He called for a "vigilant guard" against the possibility of inflation.

Pravda blamed what it pictured as America's economic plight on "the short-sighted calculations" of American militarists and monopolists. It claimed that the 1956 profits of American monopolists would reach 41 billion dollars "while the medium and small businessmen, workers and farmers can only sigh."

Bonds Sold

RALEIGH — Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. was successful bidder here today for $275,000 in City of Greenville public improvement bonds.

New C-of-C Officers And Directors

Aldridge Elected New President Of Greenville Chamber Of Commerce

Dr. M. W. Aldridge, local dentist, last night was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

The new Board of Directors, meeting after the final meeting of the old board, also elected Leslie H. Garner and J. T. Marston Jr. as vice presidents of the organization for 1957. John Barnhill was selected as treasurer by the Board of Directors and James W. Butler was named as national councillor to the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Willard T. Kyzer was re-elected as secretary manager for the organization.

The new Board of Directors, composed of 24 members, includes eight new members chosen in a recent election and one new member who is filling an unexpired term.

The new directors who took office last night are: George Lautares, Percy Cox, Edward C. Harris, J. Howard Moye, Frank Preissle, Clarence Tugwell, Richard Worsley, and Kenneth J. Hite.

Filling an unexpired term is James Griffith.

The new board authorized the president to appoint an Executive Committee, a Finance Committee and a Program Committee prior to the next meeting of the group.

Dr. Aldridge replaces Daniel Sauced as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

During the final meeting of the old board Kyzer, reporting for Leonard Bloxam, chairman of the Industrial Committee, told the group that the Industrial Committee and the Education Committee had prepared a brochure which has been submitted to the Board of Higher Education in support of the location of a State Technical Institute in Greenville. Included were letters of endorsement from organizations and businesses within the area.

Also approved was a page ad in the program which will be published for the Northeastern Athletic Conference basketball tournament to be held at the college Jan. 24, 25 and 26.

Kyzer reported that during the month an inquiry had been received directly from an industry requesting specific data on this city to be used in consideration of the location of a plant in this area.

The board voted to place an advertisement in the May issue of 'Sales Management Survey of Buying Power.' The ad will stress the industrial advantages of Greenville.

Also approved was a page ad in the program which will be published for the Northeastern Athletic Conference basketball tournament to be held at the college Jan. 24, 25 and 26.

Sleet, Snow On N. C. Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau warned today that snow mixed with sleet and freezing rain will result in hazardous driving conditions in wide areas of North Carolina by late afternoon.

The Raleigh - Durham Weather Bureau in a special bulletin said that a storm moving through Alabama combined with cold air pressing down from the north had caused occasional snow to spread into western and southern parts of the state this morning.

"Prospects are that the snow will spread over most of the state this afternoon becoming mixed with sleet and freezing rain," the bulletin said. "This will result in hazardous driving conditions in many areas of the state by late this afternoon."

The Weather Bureau said indications were 4 to 6 inches of snow would fall in the mountains and that 1 to 3 inches would fall east of the mountains.

Meanwhile, snow flurries swept across the state early this morning from the west to the eastern beaches.

The Wilmington Weather Bureau called it "grains" rather than flakes of snow. It whitened rooftops and cars, but, as in most of the state, melted as it hit the ground. However, Lenor reported its snow was heavy and sticking.

Temperatures generally were in the mid or high 20s.

Light snow was widespread in the western sections where the highway patrol reported hazardous driving conditions. Mt. Mitchell reported a half inch of snow.

Light snowfalls were reported at Asheville, Hickory, Charlotte, Winston - Salem, Greensboro, Raleigh and Wilmington and its nearby beaches, Wrightsville, Carolina and Kure. It was the first snow of the winter at the beaches.

Tonight's lows were expected to hit 20 in the mountains, 22 to 28 in the Piedmont and 24 to 28 in the eastern section.

Partly cloudy and cold was the outlook for tomorrow.

Supplemental Social Security Funds Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has asked Congress for supplemental appropriations totaling 383 million dollars—277 millions of this to cover increased costs of the Social Security program.

The funds, requested yesterday, would supplement money already available for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The added Social Security money is sought as a result of congressional action which boosted the federal share of funds, matched by the states, for payments to the needy.

The White House also asked: An additional 26 million dollars for the Farmers Home Administration to aid farmers hit by drought and other disasters, 50 millions to meet increased loan requirements of the Small Business Administration, and 30 millions to continue the purchase of strategic minerals produced domestically.

Optimistic Report For Pitt Red Cross Board

Previewing the 1957 Red Cross campaign to be held in March, members of the board of directors of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross heard reports which sounded a note of optimism for the members of the organization.

Achievements in the chapter's activities indicated a lively and sustained interest in the Red Cross program, it was noted at the directors' meeting held Monday afternoon in the Alumni Building on the East Carolina College campus.

There was the presentation of a citation by Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, chapter chairman, to Dr. G. Earl Trevathan of Greenville for his outstanding loyalty and public spirit in the 1956 Red Cross campaign which saw the chapter attain its quota of $17,919.

Mrs. Lillie Little was to receive a citation for her work as chairman of the Pitt county drive last year, but because she was out of the city the presentation will be made later.

The chapter oversubscribed its quota of $968 for Hungarian relief by $77.77 and a check for $1,045.77 was mailed the Southeastern area of the Red Cross for this emergency.

E. Hoover Taft Jr., chairman of a special study committee on Hospital Participation in the Red Cross bloodmobile program, reported that 22 Red Cross chapters of the Tidewater Regional blood center have voted to participate in this plan.

Rev. John W. Drake, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, was added to the Red Cross directors.

Other reports were received from Treasurer A. B. Stallworth, Mrs. Annie Lee Hardee, chairman of Junior Red Cross; Mrs. James T. Little, chairman of the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point Council of Services to Camps and Hospitals; Dr. J. L. Watters, chairman of the blood program, who announced that Dr. S. R. Bertlett will head this work in 1957; Mrs. W. S. Bost, chairman of canteen committee; Mrs. Walter F. Taylor executive secretary, on home services; and James W. Butler, public information chairman.

State Bank Stockholders Told Firm Experienced 'Best Year'

Stockholders of the State Bank and Trust Company of Greenville were told today that the bank experienced the best year in its 25-year history during 1956 with increases in earnings, deposits and total assets.

The announcement came this morning at the 26th annual meeting of stockholders of the bank, presided over by B. B. Sugg as chairman.

In his report to stockholders, President J. T. Marston Jr. said computed on a basis comparable to the previous year, net income after taxes amounted to $41,501.59 ($41.50 per share) compared with earnings of $33,993.37 ($33.96 per share) in 1955. However, Marston said, reserves were established in 1956 reducing reported net income for the year to $34.30 per share.

Dividends of $16 per share on the bank's 1,000 shares of capital stock were paid in each of the past two years, making a total of $208,000 paid in dividends since the bank's organization.

Total assets of the bank at year-end stood at $6,733,000 as deposits increased $428,000 or 7.3 per cent to a total of $6,225,000, the highest reported at any year-end.

Following the stockholders meeting, the board of directors met and re-elected the following officers: J. T. Marston Jr., president; M. K. Blount, vice president; V. M. Forrest, cashier; John R. Hardy, assistant vice president; and Margaret E. Purvis, assistant cashier.

It's The Old Waldorf Salad With A New Look

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
WALDORF SALAD FEATURING apples, celery and mayonnaise served on lettuce, has been a favorite ever since it was introduced into the American cuisine dozens of years ago. But nowadays the salad has taken on new ways. In the following recipe, for instance, a dressing of oil, vinegar and spices is substituted for the mayonnaise because crisp bacon is included in the main ingredients.

NEW WALDORF SALAD
Ingredients: 1 envelope old-fashioned garlic salad or French dressing mix, cider vinegar, water salad oil, 1-4 pound bacon, 1-2 of a medium-sized head lettuce, 1 cup diced unpeeled red apple, 1-2 cup diced celery, salt.
Method: Combine the salad dressing mix, cider vinegar, water and salad oil as directed on envelope. Cook bacon until crisp, drain and crumble. Shred lettuce into a bowl, or tear into bite-size pieces. Add con and enough of the salad dressing to moisten; toss, adding salt to taste. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings. Store remaining salad dressing in refrigerator.

OTHER LIBERTIES
1. Adding walnuts to the basic Waldorf Salad mixture - apples, celery and mayonnaise - has been going on for so many years that it has ceased to be a liberty!

2. Adding diced cooked ham or smoked tongue is a way of making basic Waldorf Salad hearty for a lunch or Sunday night supper main course. Nice menu when preceded by split pea soup and crotons.

NEW WALDORF SALAD features bacon along with the usual apple, celery and lettuce.

3. Pitted fresh dates, cut into slivers with the kitchen scissors, are sometimes added to basic Waldorf Salad. This is good served as a dessert salad.
4. Waldorf Salad may be made in molded form. Lemon flavored gelatin is spiked with a little vinegar.

gar and the apple and celery are folded in when the gelatin mixture has been chilled and is slightly apple, celery, crumbled cooked bathed. When the salad is unmolded it should be served on greens with mayonnaise. Salted nuts are a pleasant accompaniment.
5. Swiss or mild cheddar cheese may be finely diced and added to the basic mixture.
6. Fresh pear is sometimes peeled and diced and used to supplement the apple. Or tidbits of canned pineapple may be used instead of the pear.

7. Even diced cooked potatoes have been added to the basic mixture for Waldorf Salad. For this combination sour cream, if available, may be mixed with the mayonnaise for the salad. For extra seasoning in this combination, dill is a good choice.
8. Shredded green cabbage may be added to the basic Waldorf Salad mixture.
9. Raisins have been known to be added to this salad. If this is your pleasure, wash the raisins in very hot water and drain well before using - whole or chopped.
10. Leftover turkey or chicken white meat may be cut into thin strips and added to the basic Waldorf Salad mixture.

Today's Bridal Pair Honored

Miss Novella Mills and Otis R. Stokes, today's bridal pair, were honored at a dinner party Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Mack C. Stokes entertained at their home on Library Street.

The couple will be married this afternoon in a 5 o'clock ceremony at Black Jack Free Will Baptist Church.

Guesting guests at the Stokes home were the hosts and honorees. The buffet dinner was served from the dining room table laid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and greenery.

Lighted tapers, flanking the center arrangement, were repeated with touches of greenery throughout the living and dining rooms.

Leading the buffet line was Mrs. Queenie Clark. Guests were seated at auxiliary tables with white covers and centered with lighted tapers.

Serving the dessert course were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Stokes. During the evening group games and bingo were enjoyed by the guests.

The television show "I've Got A Secret" was produced with Corey Stokes as emcee. Taking panel parts were Mrs. James H. Edwards, Miss Peggy Barnhill, Floyd Cherry and Dewey Gaskins.

Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Stokes. Miss Mills was presented a corsage of white carnations and a set of crystal ashtrays with silver trim by her hosts.

The guest list numbered 37.

WSCS Talks Of '57 Plans

A New Year's theme was observed when the WSCS of Bell Arthur Methodist Church met to discuss plans for 1957.

The meeting began with the group singing "Help Somebody Today." Mrs. J. T. Pollard, spiritual life director, asked all to participate in sentence prayer, asking for spiritual strength and guidance during the year of 1957.

Means of improving the society, the MYF and the church as a whole were discussed during the business session over which Mrs. W. L. White, president, presided. The treasurer's report given by Mrs. B. L. Bateman summarized various items purchased for improvements during the past year. Mrs. White presented the program. Her discussion topic was "The Islands In My Community."

Plans were discussed and members assigned a particular month to prepare the Men's Club's supper. Pimento cheese sandwiches, cookies, potato chips, pickles and cokes were served at the meeting's close.

Year Highlights Told At PTA Meet

ROBERSONVILLE—The regular meeting of the P.T.A. was held in the Robersonville High School Auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30.

The invocation was by Tom Brown of Gold Point. The president read a message from the state president, Mrs. Pitt Roberson's fifth and sixth grades gave the program on the highlights of the school year.

Mrs. Cherry's seventh grade then acted as they sang "Watching All the Girls Go By."

The attendance prize went to Mrs. A. P. Roberson's room.

Dance Fetes Miss Vanderford

ROBERSONVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vanderford honored their daughter, Miss Nan Vanderford, with a birthday party and dance at the Robersonville Grammar School cafeteria Saturday night.

A green and pink color scheme was used in the large room.

The honoree and her mother greeted the guests at the door.

The table, covered with a green cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations flanked by lighted pink tapers.

A three-tiered cake decorated in pink and green with the inscription "Happy Birthday, Nan" had 16 candles.

The hostess cut and served the cake while Mrs. Dell Coe, seated at the other end of the table, poured the punch.

Approximately 100 friends enjoyed this occasion.

Use a bowl with straight sides when you are mixing a cake for efficient blending.

Book Reviewed For Newcomers

Mrs. J. B. Spilman reviewed the book "No Wings In The Manse" by Betty Frist at the Thursday meeting of the Greenville Newcomers Club.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Lacy Harrell, program chairman.

Appointment of a nominating committee by the president, Mrs. W. T. Smith, highlighted the business session.

Named to serve as chairman was Mrs. Woodrow Finary. Serving with her are Mrs. Verna Durvin, Mrs. Joel Lawton and Mrs. Ledyard Ross.

The committee will submit a slate of officers for the club's approval at the first meeting in February.

Minutes were read by Mrs. John Shannonhouse, acting secretary. A welcome to visitors was extended by the president.

Thirty-five were present for the meeting held at the Woman's Club. Luncheon was served prior to the program and business session.

Mrs. Hurst Fetes Club

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. C. M. Hurst Sr. entertained the Homemakers Club Thursday evening at her home on Main Street.

Due to the holiday activities the meeting scheduled for Christmas week was postponed.

In December Mrs. Walter Roberson, Mrs. W. T. Hurst and Mrs. W. L. Swindell, the nominating committee, appointed the following officers: Mrs. Harvey Roberson, president; Mrs. J. P. House, vice president; Mrs. Mack Wynn, secretary; Mrs. Charlie Hurst, treasurer.

During the business session the president read letters of thanks from those who received gifts from the club, also notes of appreciation for flowers and cards of sympathy.

Dues were paid for 1957, then the hostess started the social hour with a memory contest. Several named 23 of the 24 articles and in the draw Mrs. Johnny House won the prize.

Mrs. Henry Everett was the winner in the game that followed and the guessing box was captured by Mrs. William Hurst.

Fruit cake, salted pecans and jello topped with whipped cream were served to a large group.

Needs, Not Wants To Be Considered First In Planning

A demonstration of family living was presented at the January meeting of Mount Pleasant Home Demonstration Club.

Giving the program was Miss Lois Jones, assistant home agent, who advised club members to sit down with their families and talk over their needs as the first step in home improvement.

She suggested that the amount of money available be spent by the family should be kept in mind in the planning state also.

Said she, "buy the things most needed—not just those most wanted."

Perfect attendance awards were presented to Mrs. C. H. Hagan and Mrs. J. H. Briley.

Annual report of club activities was given by Miss Jones.

Various leader reports were also heard.

Mrs. J. H. Briley served as hostess for the afternoon meeting held in the community building. She served coffee, cheese crackers and fruit cake to members and two guests.

Harts Feted By Auxiliary

GRIFTON—On Saturday night at the VFW hut Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hart were honored by members of the VFW Woman's Auxiliary at an informal party.

Seasonal decorations were noted in the room where the guests were entertained.

During the evening lime ice punch, sandwiches, potato chips and salted nuts were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart were presented a hammered aluminum salad bowl from the auxiliary. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening by the twenty-five or more present.

Mrs. Carson Is Hostess To Club

ROBERSONVILLE—Thursday evening when Mrs. Hilton Carson entertained members of her bridge club and two invited guests, her new home on Pinetree Drive was decorated with greenery and red berries.

The scores were tallied after the fourth progression. Mrs. Jack Sharp received the high award and the consolation prize went to Mrs. John E. Boone.

The hostess served Coca-Colas and popcorn during the games. Lemon pie and hot coffee were enjoyed during the social hour.

Those making up the two tables were Mesdames Wayland Wilson, Claude Greene Jr., Bob Lee, Robert James, Charles Wilson, Jack Sharp, J. E. Boone and Claude Wilson.

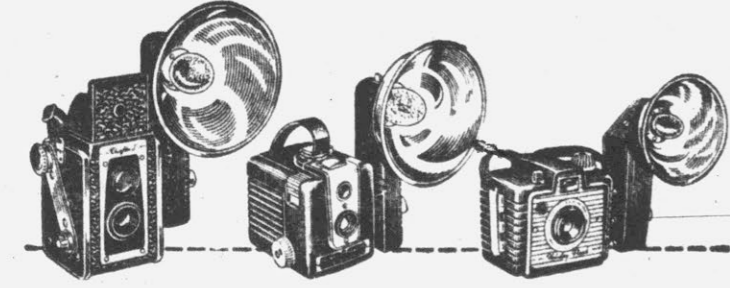

Club Has Program On Church Music

ROBERSONVILLE—The Music Club met at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Forrest E. Boone on Main Street.

For this occasion, the living room was decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. J. R. Daniels gave the program on church music followed by the highlights in the lives of several composers of well known hymns.

During the social hour the hostess served ambrosia and fruit cake to 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Sanford Marshall.

Tree Farming Offers A Future

Pitt County farmers may well take another long look at their woodland with a view to the rapidly increasing market for pulpwood and timber which is developing in this section of the state.

The value of standing timber has steadily increased in this section of the state in the past two decades. The importance of timber as a supplemental farm crop likewise has become more impressive throughout this section.

With the opening of the new American Cyanamid flakeboard plant in Farmville early in 1958 a new outlet for large quantities of pine and soft-hardwoods will become a reality in this immediate locality. Within the next few years also the proposed plant of Union Bag and Paper Company near New Bern will also create a new market for timber in this area.

Timber resources of this section of Eastern North Carolina have been a factor in the location of these plants. But if the section is not to be stripped of this valuable resource in future years, more attention must be given locally to replenishing land with young trees as the mature trees are cut and shipped to market. In order to maintain the annual income from this increasingly important cash crop, farmers must give it more attention than has been the case in the past.

Seedlings are being produced in North Carolina in huge quantities for the current reforestation program. Gov. Hodges and other state officials have assured farmers that the quantities of seedlings will be increased as rapidly as possible to meet demands.

In this era when thousands of acres of land are lying idle in this part of the state, and supplemental farm crops are being sought at every hand, more attention should be given to the cash crop timber.

In Pitt County alone, according to the 1954 farm census, there are more than 175,000 acres of woods, cutover woodland, waste and idle land. While all of this vast area may not be suitable for reforestation, a good portion of it could be planted in trees to produce a major cash crop in this county in future years. Pitt, in its quest for additional farm income, should not overlook the vast potential it has in tree farming.

Already They Look To Future Campaign

With the new session of Congress only a few days old and another presidential election year slightly less than four years away, jockeying for positions on national party tickets in 1960 already is in evidence in Washington.

Early runners out of the Republican gate, Sen. Knowland and Vice President Nixon already have begun their pitches which they seem to hope will pave the way for a 1960 nomination. With each seeking to gain favor in President Eisenhower's eyes and subsequently his support for the nomination, it is not unlikely that the president will find willing workers for his program among his own party members. Not only these two whose names we have mentioned, but also other hopefuls whose aspirations are now quite so evident at the moment.

On the Democratic side of the aisles, there is also jockeying for the position of titular party leader. Now that Adlai Stevenson has abdicated his position, it automatically reverts into the hands of the old party warhorses who hold down their respective chairmanships in Congress. During the next four years, their eyes will be upon those younger men who show promise, not only in Congress, but in state capitols around the nation.

There may be some young bucks who seek to attract support and gain public popularity by kicking against the recognized leadership in each party; but for the most part these who really are in the running for a nomination will carefully cultivate closer ties with the established leadership. Sen. Kefauver, Sen. Kennedy and a host of others perhaps feel that in 1960 theirs will be a contest for the first place on the ticket instead of the second.

While the wide open contest for the nomination in both parties four years from now may on the surface suggest a helter-skelter family squabble within each party for the next four years, it perhaps more realistically suggests greater party harmony and perhaps greater party solidarity so far as Congressional action is concerned.

Election Study For Workshop

DIAGNOSIS — The workshop period of the North Carolina Young Democratic Clubs meeting at Greensboro Saturday was devoted chiefly to studying the recent state and national election. Purpose was to discover if possible why the Democrats did not make a better showing and to lay plans to prevent similar or worse treatment at hands of the voters next time.

The trouble was easier to diagnose than to treat or cure. Conclusion was that the Democrats, despite protestations about liberalism and progress, offered the voters only old stuff. The national ticket was headed by the same man who had been defeated four years ago, and the national platform was essentially the same.

Admitting that the Republican party offered no new candidates and very little new thought, it had the advantage of a victory record instead of defeat. That made the old stuff easier to sell to the voters. And it was not old enough to make effective the slogan that it is time for a change.

While North Carolinians stayed with the national Democratic party, the margin was the closest in modern history. When Hoover carried the state in 1928 it was by a much larger majority than Stevenson won last November.

Besides offering a candidate who had once been elected by the voters the national committee made the campaign along the same lines which had proven unsuccessful before and with old model machinery.

NATIONAL — Party leadership seemed obsessed with the idea that the organization had to be headed by an Irish Catholic and that the appeal should be channeled to voters living in that part of the nation east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac. The South was taken for granted and the great West was ignored by the top strategists. Just enough concession was made to Southern sentiment to offer the Northeast, not enough to justify full support in the South and West.

It is not surprising that the lack of enthusiasm for the Democratic ticket, occasioned by this attitude, plus the lucky break for Eisenhower by reason of the last week developments in the middle East, gave the Republican candidate hundreds of thousands of votes which were normally Democratic.

STATE — The YDCers were more concerned about North Carolina than about the nation.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
DISSENT IS USUALLY HEALTHY

A mother who has two sons in the ministry wrote me last summer in great sorrow saying that one of her boys had become dissatisfied with the spiritual life of the denomination in which he served and had left that denomination. Her grief was immeasurable and she was highly critical of her son's action.

Although I did not find myself entirely in agreement with her son's appraisal of his denomination, I was able to see his point of view, to appreciate his sincerity, and to rejoice in his devotion to what he regarded as the truth. I wrote the mother that she should be proud of a boy who took this position even though she and I did not entirely agree with his position.

In unity there is strength—that is, in the field of politics. Here, as in the military, the policy of "getting the most out of the first" must prevail. But in the realm of the spirit, the situation is quite different. Where truth is concerned, dissent is not merely a matter of revealing truth and furthering it, but is a lot more than that. There should certainly be a lot more unity among Christians than now exists, but unity should never be achieved at the cost of principle. And very often truth is sacrificed in obtaining unity.

Most of the world's great discoveries have started with dissent. The more we grow in mind and spirit, the less should we fear dissent.

Some Railroading Tales

Railroad men, like sailors, can tell tall tales; but their best ones, like sea stories, are more often true than being figments of the imagination.

A couple months ago this humble soul rode in a train compartment with a number of railroad people... reason being the passenger seats were all taken and the long night was passed listening to "I bet you a thousand dollars you don't know something or other; or 'there's something else you don't know about' whatever tale was being chewed over.

Anyway, aside from technological odds and ends of railroading there are some "believe it or not" items about the subject which can be repeated here. For instance: Mosquitoes disrupted service on Danish railways last year. Huge swarms settled on the rails of a two-mile bridge and made them so slippery that not even sand could give the engine enough traction. It took the train an hour and a half to accomplish what is normally a five-minute crossing.

Other Editors Saying--- Industries Coming In

(Henderson Dispatch)

The trek of industry into North Carolina appears to be increasing again after a noticeable lull in the past year or so. Eastern Carolina in particular appears to be the current beneficiary.

The American Cyanamid Company is building a multi-million dollar plant at Farmville. A large paper company is establishing a huge manufacturing unit near New Bern, involving expenditures of many millions, and a steel company is setting up a sales center in Sanford to serve not only North Carolina but a large section of the Southeast as well. And so on the count could continue.

Our Raleigh bureau manager, Lynn Nisbet, lists some factors common to all such considerations. Among them are adequate transportation facilities, available workers, accessibility to raw materials and convenience to markets. Very important also, he says, are community climate and governmental attitude. Governmental climate includes the tax structure and services rendered in return for taxes that are paid. Sentiment has no place in making of selections, according to the president of American Cyanamid, himself a native North Carolinian.

A State commission only recently completed an exhaustive study of the tax system. It has the endorsement of the Governor and others, who will attempt to get it through the next Legislature in the hope of attracting outside industry. While we are none too familiar with the complications proposals of the commission, we are possessed of a sneaking idea that few business concerns are going to get any substantial relief, but on the contrary will probably be soaked even worse than now.

From the tax standpoint, however, all sections of the State are in the same boat, on a statewide basis. Yet many concerns are coming here to locate.

U.S. Military Capacity Questioned

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — America's military capacity to resist Russian invasion of the Middle East has been seriously questioned at secret Congressional sessions with Secretary John Foster Dulles and Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Although their statements cannot be quoted for reasons of security, they were not entirely satisfactory to their inquirers.

The doubt arises because the Administration, in the opinion of bipartisan critics, has failed to build a strong aerial striking force, which could be transported to the scene of conflict almost overnight. Instead, due largely to economy reasons, Admiral Radford has concentrated on creating a defense force for nuclear warfare.

According to official testimony, the United States does not have enough transport planes to carry to single division with necessary vehicles and weapons to the Middle East. It is estimated that at least three fully equipped divisions would be needed to hold the Russians pending all-out mobilization.

Opinions In Brief

"The tax bite on earnings is only the annual story of what government seems to be costing. Behind it lies a debt so large today that every baby is born owing the government $1,939 before he lets out his first howl. If he is a member of a family of four, his papa will represent a government debt of $7,738." — S. M. Jones, in National Review

"You know the definition of status quo (a condition which Wheeler had applied to transport equipment—ed. note) that General Knudsen gave. He said it meant a 'hell of a fix we are in.' Testimony has shown that we are totally inadequate with respect to airlift for the Army. If the figures you gave are correct, we still plan to remain inadequate. Is that a fair statement?"

"There is no program that corrects the situation that I know of," replied Wheeler.

UNTHINKABLE ALTERNATIVE. This airlift deficiency becomes especially serious because any striking force would probably have to be flown from this country direct to the Middle East. There is no assurance that Nasser's sympathizers in Saudi Arabia and North Africa would permit us to use our airfields there for repairs, refueling and basing.

Lacking an aerial fire brigade, as the Pentagon experts concede, the only alternative would be to throw A and H bombs at the invading Reds. But every diplomatic and military adviser admits that such tactics are unthinkable because of the world revulsion and indignation it would arouse. We would become more hated in the Middle East, Asia and Africa than Britain and France.

The United States, the Middle East crisis shows, must have a system of national defense which lies between appeasement and the awful finality of the H bomb, according to Flood and other critics of the new "Eisenhower doctrine." The lack of such a balanced force for possible Levantine "brush fires" is generally regarded as the basic weakness of the Middle East program, even by Members of Congress who favor its objectives and principles.

Trivia Worth Noting

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail — or take off his earmuffs:

That a housewife — unless she cooks with a can opener — often walks 500 feet or more — a tenth of a mile! — in preparing a single meal. Why not give your wife a pair of roller skates on her next birthday.

That a wife who sits down to peel vegetables or do her ironing uses only half as much energy as she does if she performs the same chores standing up.

That if you weigh 150 pounds, 7 pounds of it should be calcium, the most abundant mineral element in the body. You need about 1-28th of an ounce of fresh calcium daily. Best sources are: milk and cheese.

That it's small-wonder they build statues to the foot soldier. Of the 43,743 men who served during the Second World War with the famous "Fighting First" U.S. Infantry Division, 21,023 became casualties.

That there are more than 7,500 species of parasitic insects — not including the neighbor who borrows your lawnmower in May and returns it in November.

That the ASPCA has a cute gimmick in San Francisco: to pick its office you merely dial "Lost Dog."

That University of Michigan researchers are trying to develop a single vaccine that will protect against four diseases — polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

That during the 12th Century in England a foot was defined legally as "the length of the actual foot of the reigning monarch." And a "cloth yard" was the distance between the tip of King Henry I's nose and the tip of his finger.

That you may have diabetes and not know it. Recent tests made of 166,411 persons discovered 768 new cases. The test is simple, cheap and painless.

That there is as much latent energy in one glass of water as in the bomb that fell on Hiroshima. So drink water and feel stronger.

That stevedoring is one of the most dangerous of occupations. In 1954 one longshoreman out of two was hurt on the job, one out of six suffered a disabling injury.

That the Shakers, a small religious sect, are credited with these inventions: the first washing machine, circular saw, disc harrow, turbine water wheel, cut nails, clothespin, flat broom, round barn and the horse collar. Proving, maybe, that if necessity be the mother of invention, faith is its father?

That the number of general hospital beds in the United States increased from 2.5 per 1,000 population in 1909 to 4.2 by 1955.

That a survey showed new marriages between people over 70 usually work out well. But the complaint voiced most often by the elderly brides about their elderly bridegrooms was "he's crabby, and too set in his ways!"

That Ernie Kovacs, the TV zany, used to work in a drug store. For that matter, half the drug clerks in Manhattan seem to be unemployed actors.

That by federal law most clothing products have to meet certain standards of nonflammability. But exceptions are shoelaces — and burial garments! Yet a flame-proof suit would appear to be the garb most needed by some who depart this earth.

That in 1867 there were between 75 and 125 million buffalo on America's Western plains. Sixteen years later, in 1883, after the greatest animal slaughter in history, only a few hundred were left.

That one of the reasons plagues swept Europe during the Middle Ages is the fact that, following the fall of Rome, the habit of bathing fell into disrepute. John Wesley, founder of Methodism, really meant it when he said in a sermon about 1750, "Cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness."

That George Herbert observed more than 300 years ago, "He that is not handsome at 20, nor strong at 30, nor rich at 40, nor wise at 50, will never be handsome, strong, rich, or wise."

Satellite Engine

George Macpherson stands alongside the X-405 rocket engine in Cincinnati Jan. 12. The engine will propel an earth satellite 36 miles into outer space in 2 1/2 minutes. After burning out in 150 seconds the X-405 will drop off and be replaced by other engines, taking the satellite further into the skies. (AP Wire-photo).

Safety Films Are Shown High School

BY ANNE HARRIS
Belvoir-Falkland Reporter
On Monday, January 7, all students assembled in the high school auditorium where they saw two films on safety in the home, on the farm, and on the school bus. After viewing and realizing the possible dangers in these areas, the students plan to be more cautious when confronted with such.

The Belvoir F. H. A. chapter held a meeting during activity period on Tuesday, January 8 in the Home Economics Building. The meeting was called to order by President James Joyner, after which the minutes were read and approved. The principal discussed with the F. H. A. boys the condition of their agriculture shop and other rooms used by the boys. It was decided that they meet the next day to appoint committees to see that the rooms be properly cleaned and painted. Other business at the meeting included preparation for a club-sponsored dance and the appointment of various committees to check the condition of dressing rooms in the gymnasium after each home ballgame.

Falkland PTA To Hold Courses

FALKLAND — The Falkland PTA, which is a member of the National Parent Teacher Association, will hold study courses on "Family Relations" tomorrow and next Wednesday.
Topics for tomorrow's discussion, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be "Are You Popular?", "Choosing Your Partner," and "Are You Ready For Marriage?". Films which will be used in connection with the discussions have been furnished by Coronet Magazine. Invitations to participate in the discussions have been sent to parents and school children in grades seven through twelve. Principal Edward N. Warren of Falkland will lead the discussions.

Eden And Wife Plan Long Trip

LONDON — Former Prime Minister Eden and his wife will sail Friday on an extended vacation trip to New Zealand — unless a threatened dock strike holds them up.
They were invited by New Zealand Prime Minister Sidney Holland, who renewed an invitation he had given before Eden's resignation. It was understood Eden's doctors urged him to spend several weeks in the New Zealand sunshine. He gave poor health as the reason for his resignation Thursday.

Wants City Pay For His Venison

MILWAUKEE — James Flannigan asked the city yesterday to pay him $45 for 45 pounds of venison.
The meat represented stakes from the first deer Flannigan had bagged in four years of hunting. He asked for a dollar a pound compensation "even though it cost me several times this."
Flannigan explained that the venison, wrapped in paper and placed on his back porch to freeze must have been whisked away by overzealous garbage collectors. His claim was referred to the City Council.

Wake Of Suez Crisis Now Laps American Coast

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — The wake of the Suez Canal crisis is lapping the coasts of the United States today—just as it is muddying the political waters of England.

Gasoline and home heating fuel oil are going up in price—although some in the petroleum industry wonder if the price hikes can be made to stick.
When Uncle Sam began supplying England and France with part of the oil they had lost by their ill-starred sortie into Egypt, the above-ground supplies of oil and its products here began to dwindle. The change from surplus to threat of tight supplies set the stage for a hike in price—a boost that oilmen had been contending for months was justified by their costs.

The doubts some harbor about holding the new price line rise from two factors:
1. Prospects that the transportation and other difficulties in getting oil to Europe may be solved—including the opening of the Suez Canal. A Jersey Standard Oil vice president, H. H. Hewetson, says Europe's normal oil needs might be met by May through improved conditions in the Middle East.
2. The mixed distribution pattern here, the lack of enough pipelines to carry all the extra oil products to seaports for export to Europe, may make the supply situation spotty in the United States. Some regions doubters will feel little if any pinch.

In either event, surpluses could build up again. Price cutting and even price wars here and there might come back in the picture, some cautious oilmen stress.
But other oilmen just as stoutly maintain that the oil price increase are necessary. A Jackson, Miss., oil and gas producer, W. M. Vaughn, chairman of the executive committee of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, says the hike is "urgently needed to strengthen the domestic petroleum industry." He cites substantial increase in cost of oil production, and contends that without higher prices the incentive to seek new oil reserves would be weakened, if not lost.

An 'Outsider' Is Taken On Tour

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Blazio Castelucci, a driller and blaster for a cement company, was retiring after working 30 years in the firm's quarry.
Getting his final papers, he asked: "Hey, can I see what a cement plant looks like?" Company officials took him on a special escorted tour of the plant — just two miles from the quarry.

The first official census of populations was taken in 3,800 B.C. when the Babylonians counted heads for tax and conscription purposes.

Batista Extends Suspension Of Civil Rights

HAVANA — The Batista government today prolonged the suspension of all constitutional guarantees for 45 days and extended it to the whole island.

A statement by President Fulgencio Batista's Cabinet said the action was taken to "control" what it called Communist terrorism and to avert a possible eruption in sugar production. Cuba's chief source of dollar revenue, Congress was recalled to act on the decree.

Constitutional guarantees were suspended last December in four provinces following a rebel outbreak in eastern Cuba. The suspension was to have ended tomorrow.

Under the suspension, persons may be arrested and held indefinitely without court action, premises may be searched without a warrant, freedom of the press and of public meetings is affected and correspondence can be censored.

Wilt the Stilt?

Why, shucks, he's just another big bloke who can be stopped with no particular trouble.

Yes, he's the same Wilt Chamberlain who had been scoring at a 32-point-a-game clip. But ask Iowa State. The Cyclones will just point to their two tussles with The Stilt and Kansas. A month ago they held him to 12 points and lost a 59-57 chiller.

Last night, they held him to 17 points and won 39-37 when Don Medsker connected with a 20-footer just before the game ended. Chamberlain didn't get his first basket until the start of the second half.

So Kansas, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, went down to its first defeat of the season after winning 12.

The result left only one team in the top 20—North Carolina—undefeated. The Tar Heels meet an old nemesis, North Carolina State, tonight.

Kansas wasn't the only casualty among the bluebloods. Kentucky, No. 4, and Vanderbilt, No. 10, also met with disaster. Tulane set up a brilliant zone defense to outlast Kentucky 68-60, and Mississippi State edged Vanderbilt 63-62.

Only Illinois was able to uphold the prestige of the top 10. The eighth-ranked Illini crushed Indiana 112-91.

Michigan, Purdue and Ohio State each scored their third Big Ten victories. The Wolverines overpowered winless Wisconsin 71-62, and Purdue conquered Northwestern 77-57. League-leading Ohio State beat Minnesota, 85-73 with Frank Howard scoring 31 points.

West Virginia, the Southern Conference leader, won its fifth straight loop game, whipping William and Mary 81-72, with Hot Rod Hundley dropping in six foul shots in the last four minutes.

Yale coasted to an 84-53 Ivy League triumph over Brown.

Loyola of Chicago won its 10th game of the season, a 69-50 decision over Washington of St. Louis; Kansas State captured its first Big Seven game, dumping Missouri 59-55; Pitt downed Syracuse 76-64; Maryland halted South Carolina 66-59 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game; and Bradley maintained its hold on the Missouri Valley lead by vanquishing Detroit 89-76.

Big Man Lacking Ring Experience

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Ewart Potgieter, 7-2, 332-pound giant from South Africa, is the biggest fighter in boxing history but until he acquires punch and skill to go with his size the current heavyweight contenders are in no danger.

The 24-year-old former farmhand from Vryheid, Natal, appeared willing but very much inexperienced in dropping a 10-round decision to Jeff Dyer of Springfield last night in his U.S. debut at the Valley Arena.

Potgieter moved surprisingly well for such a big man and showed endurance and ability to take a punch. But his offense left much to be desired, showing him to be the novice he is.

Dyer, outweighed by 120½ pounds and giving away 11½ inches in height, crouched low and waded into Potgieter with hard rights and lefts to the body in registering his 14th victory in 16 pro bouts.

Potgieter presented an awesome figure before a packed crowd of 1,800 who braved subzero weather. He used a left jab which was ineffective most of the time. Un-

Giese Discusses Houston Position

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Warren Giese of South Carolina discussed the University of Houston head football coaching job today, one coach had left for home and two more awaited their turns for interviews.

One coach left yesterday. He wished to be anonymous and the school would not release his name. But Giese talked willingly with reporters.

"How far is it from Columbia, S.C., to Houston?" he asked when a reporter wanted to know if he was serious about the Houston job, implied he wouldn't have come that far just for the ride.

Giese has just completed his first year at South Carolina, where he compiled a 7-3 record. A veteran of three years of service football, he also played at Central Michigan and Oklahoma.

After leaving Oklahoma, he went to Maryland as Jim Tatum's assistant.

His teams show Tatum's influence, using the split-T offense, rollouts, counter and belly series.

Texas A&M Asst. Coach Jim Owens is expected to visit Houston tomorrow to talk about the job. Florida State University Coach Tom Nugent also is expected sometime this week.

The coaching spot opened after Bill Meek accepted a 10-year contract at Southern Methodist University.

Meanwhile, Houston oilman Francis Blair was getting little reaction to his offers of oil wells and yachts if Bud Wilkinson, head coach of the national champion Oklahoma Sooners, would come to Houston.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. reached the midway point of its annual meeting today with Chairman Fritz Crisler contending, "Everyone's pretty well satisfied with the game just as it is."

The greying Crisler, athletic director and former head coach at the University of Michigan, said there were fewer suggestions for rules changes this year than ever before.

"Why, I usually receive more than 75 or 80 myself, but this year I think I got only about 30," he said.

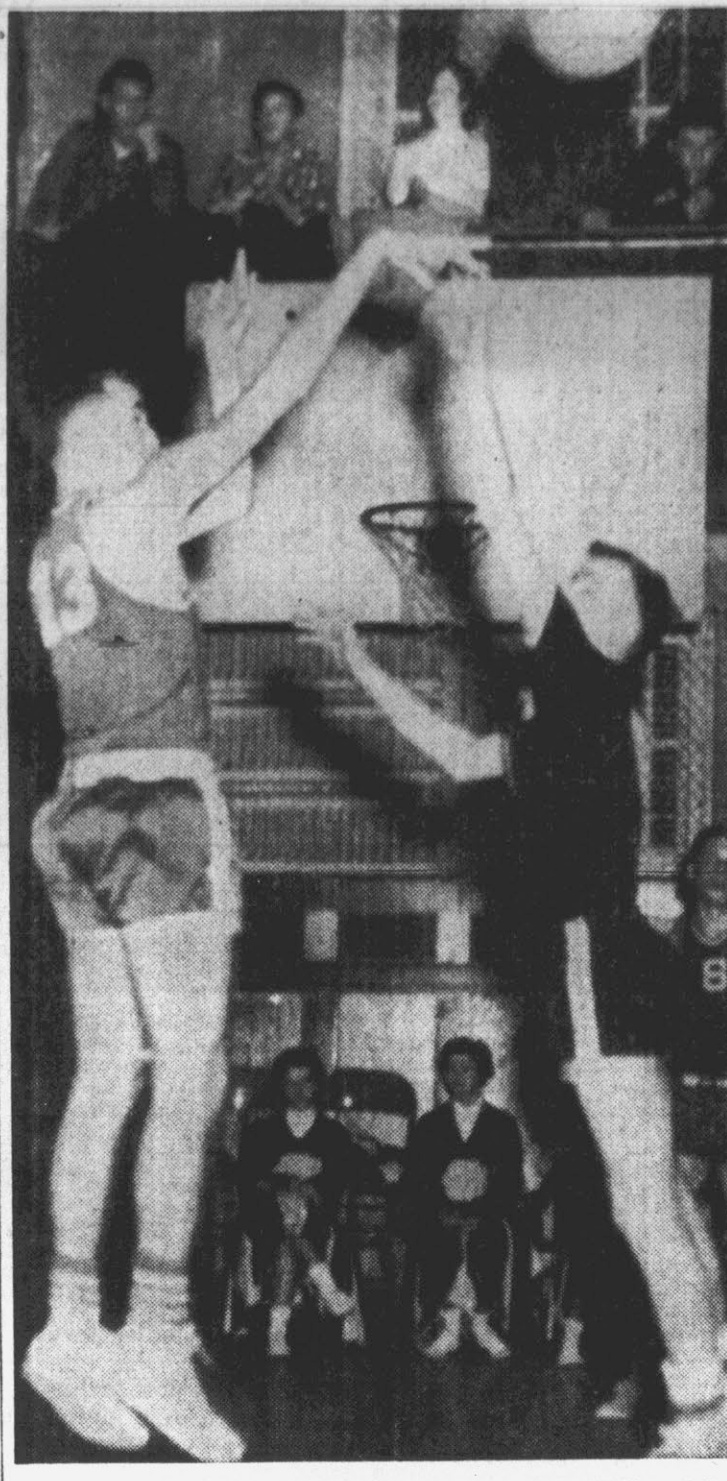

The American Football Coaches Assn. requested an expansion of the substitution rule which now permits only starting players to return to the game once a quarter.

Under the plan offered by Little, substitutes as well as starters would be permitted to return at least once during a period.

"While there's a lot of argument on both sides of the argument," Crisler said after the closed session of the 25-man group yesterday, "there's a unanimous feeling not to return to the platoon system."

SEEM SATISFIED WITH OLD RULES

These big black and white birds supply seasonal hunting activity in southern Illinois. The Canada goose is a familiar sight as it honks its way southward each fall and winter.

ALMOST BLOCKED—Phantom center Steve Nobles, left, almost had his shot blocked in the above picture. Nobles has been advancing with each game as a good rebounder and fine shot and is now running as first-string center for the GHSS club. He will start tomorrow when the locals travel to Roanoke Rapids for an important match.

This Time, Phants Go Into Game 'Favored'

By BILLY ARNOLD
 Reflector Sports Editor

ROANOKE RAPIDS — For only the second time this season—in eight games—the Greenville high school basketball team will go into a ball game ranked the favorites. They are picked over the Roanoke Rapids Jackets by four points here tomorrow night.

The contest will be a North-eastern Conference duel, important to both teams. Greenville is currently running better than 500 with a 2-1 mark, having defeated New Bern and Elizabeth City. They lost to Washington.

Roanoke Rapids has yet to win a game against loop foes, and have who would be the youngest football coach in Cal annals, said from Bloomington, Ill. "There is nothing official I can say at the present time, I hope to make a statement soon because I don't like to carry things like this out any longer than possible."

Coach Boley Farley, Phantom mentor, is planning to continue his use of the two-platoon system tomorrow, as in the past. His use of two full teams and several individual substitutes has added a vigor and speed to his otherwise green Phants. Farley is in the midst of a re-building job at Greenville and his new reserve system is doing well in giving plenty of experience to the majority of his team.

Expected to start tomorrow, are Dick Evans and Billy Cox at forwards, Mack Roebuck and Wesley Hudson at guards and Steve Noble at center. The alternating team will find Charles Smith and Peanut Nunn at forwards, and Joe Wingo at center. Others expected to see plenty of action are Wayne Eldson and Walker Allen at guards, Angus Duff and Edwin Wilkerson at forwards and Al Crawford at center.

A preliminary game is scheduled to start off the night's action at 6:30. The GHSS Jayvees, who won their first game in seven last week, will go against a strong Roanoke Rapids Jayvees club.

Expected to pace play on the Baby Phant team are Merrill Bynum, Billy Staton, Joe Moya, and Teaberry Meakin, Ward, Cummings and Garner.

The varsity encounter will begin at 8:00.

California U. Names Football Coach Tonight

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California should name its new football coach tonight on the inside track.

There was nothing official from the university except an announcement that the two groups having the final decision meet at 7:30 p.m. to hear the report of Athletic Director Greg Engelhard and Paul Hastings, executive director of the Associated Students Organization.

Speculation, however, pointed to the 30-year-old Elliott, a star at the University of Michigan in his collegiate days, as the man most likely to succeed Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, who resigned after a 10-year tenure.

The split-T formation mentor,

Expected to start tomorrow, are Dick Evans and Billy Cox at forwards, Mack Roebuck and Wesley Hudson at guards and Steve Noble at center. Eppes Hoopsters Play Tomorrow

Eppes High School's basketball Bulldogs will be seeking their first win of the season tomorrow night against P. S. Jones High School of Washington.

In a preliminary game at 7:30, Eppes' Jayvees will be looking for their fifth win against two losses. The Varsity game will start immediately after the Jayvee contest.

In their latest action, the Bulldogs Varsity lost to New Bern, 62-29, and the Jayvees won from New Bern, 75-17.

Slip For UNC In Cage Poll

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 The Associated Press

North Carolina, although impressive winner of three games, lost ground during the past week in its effort to overtake powerful Kansas as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Kansans racked up 923 points — 95 better than second-place North Carolina. However, after the votes were counted, Iowa State snapped Kansas' 12-game unbeaten streak 39-37.

With points awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc., North Carolina received a total of 828 for games through Jan. 12. Last week the Tar Heels trailed Kansas by 48 points.

Of the 94 first-place votes cast by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters, Kansas collected 49, North Carolina 30.

The makeup of the first 10 teams in the poll was unchanged although shaken up a bit by post-holiday developments.

Southern Methodist, which scored over Texas A&M and TCU, moved into third place ahead of Kentucky, which also won two games (Loyola and LSU). Louisville remained in fifth place.

UCLA advanced from eighth to sixth, Seattle from ninth to seventh, Illinois from 10th to eighth. The skidders were Vanderbilt, which tumbled from sixth to 10th after losing an overtime game to Mississippi, and Iowa State, which fell from seventh to ninth after bowing to Missouri.

Unsigned

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the triple crown winner of 1956, has returned his 1957 contract to the New York Yankees unsigned.

The 25-year-old slugger the American League's "most valuable player" last season, is reportedly seeking $75,000 for next season.

He confirmed here last night, where he attended a banquet, that he had turned down the first offer of the world's champions. But he refused to say how much he is seeking, or how much he and the club are apart.

Bob Fishel, the Yankees public relations director, said Mantle's action was "nothing to get excited about."

"Mickey has always sent that first contract back unsigned since he's been with us," Fishel said, "and we expected him to do the same this year."

Richter Out As Troubles Grow For Wolfpack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Troubles just keep piling up for North Carolina State's Wolfpack. The team's leading scorer, John Richter, suffering a sprained ankle, will miss action against North Carolina tonight. It was to be one of State's two chances this week to improve its standings in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Coach Everett Case said it is doubtful Richter will see action Saturday against Maryland.

Last night Maryland downed South Carolina 66-59 in a nip-and-tuck game at College Park.

In another ACC game tonight South Carolina is at Virginia. The Gamecocks with a 2-4 conference record are favored over the Cavaliers, with a 0-3 record, at the bottom of the ACC list.

Maryland took advantage of a seven-minute loss of contact with the basket by the Gamecocks and scored 11 straight points, putting them ahead 32-22 at intermission.

Jim Halleck touched off the drive with a one - handed jump shot that gave the Terps a 19-18 lead they never relinquished. But until that time, the lead changed hands eight times.

Ray Pericola, with 21 points, and Grady Wallace, with 20, led the South Carolina scoring parade.

Halleck led Maryland with 16 points.

Tonight's game between the Tar Heels and the Wolfpack lost much of its potential as a thriller when Richter was scratched from the roster.

The Tar Heels are undefeated in 14 games, but Coach Frank Maguire said earlier that the thought of being favored over State on State's home floor "leaves me cold."

He added, "It's a tremendous disadvantage having to play on the other team's court."

Kaline Uneasy Over Pay Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, admittedly a bit uneasy about the prospect of a slugfest match over his 1957 salary with the Detroit Tigers, said today he is "willing to compromise."

But the 22-year-old slugger said he'll expect General Manager Spike Briggs to give in a little too, when they sit down, for the fourth time, to talk contract in about two weeks.

Unhappy at the publicity given his squabble with Briggs and most especially with the general manager's comment that "Kaline thinks he's as good as Mickey Mantle and wants more money," the young right fielder made the first move since the flurry to patch things up.

"I'm going to be out of town for about 10 days," said Kaline. "I have a banquet in Alberta, Canada, and another one in St. Paul. As soon as I get back, I'm going to go down to the Stadium and try to get this thing settled."

Kaline hadn't wanted his salary disagreement with Briggs aired in public. Earlier he had confided to friends that there was a difference of opinion, but he said that after a couple of meetings, the difference in the amount he sought and the amount the club offered wasn't much.

But Briggs said the two were "far apart" on terms. He made the statement about Kaline and Mantle and the Detroit player immediately denied that he ever made such a comparison.

Kaline's 1956 salary had been rumored at about $26,000, but he said it wasn't that high. He seeks about $32,000 for the coming season.

Rosewall Beaten, But Happy Over Start As A Pro

MELBOURNE (AP) — A beaten but pleased Ken Rosewall looked forward to new tennis honors today.

The former Australian Davis Cup star failed in his pro debut last night. He lost to Pancho Gonzalez but gave the world pro tennis his fight of his life before Pancho triumphed 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 9-7.

Rosewall signed a $65,000 pro contract with Promoter Jack Kramer last month, a few days after teaming with Lew Hoad to retain the Davis Cup for Australia by beating the United States at Adelaide.

Gonzales said the fledgling pro amazed him by the way he handled the champion's service. Rosewall, too, was pleased with his debut and predicted, "If I can do better than that, I'll win matches from Gonzales."

There, Goose Hunting Is Plain 'Duck Soup'

OLIVE BRANCH, Ill. (AP) — Hunting the wild Canada goose is duck soup at the waterfowl preserve of Horseshoe Lake.

The south-west portion of Alexander County is the scene of an annual three-month open season which began in early November.

This village of 2,200 persons becomes the center of goose-shooting activity and business booms.

Cafes which had been scraping for customers the rest of the year feed hunters by the hundreds, several taverns dispense barrels of liquor refreshments and almost everyone in town sells shotgun shells.

There are 55 hunting clubs around the preserve.

They vary in size from the Grace-Bee Line Hunting Club Combination, which handles about 40 hunters a day, to several single-plot clubs accommodating two to four.

The Grace-Bee Line is one of two largest. It is located on 800 acres of farm land, southwest of Horseshoe Lake. Hunters have killed more than 1,200 geese there this year.

All the land is planted in corn each year. In addition to attracting geese, the corn is harvested as a sort of second crop — the other being geese.

A hunter pays a fee of $10 to hunt for one day at a club. He may bring back two Canadian geese and four ducks in one day. On a good shooting day, he returns with the top score. But even on poor days, the hunter usually bags at least one honker.

A goose hunter's day begins at 4 a.m. He usually rolls out to face a cold, black morning. Hunters then sign the club register and receive instruction from the club owner.

Then the hunters are assigned pits and ride to them in the back of a jeep or truck.

A pit is covered, lined with boards and is about five feet deep. It can accommodate two or three persons. The cornfields and pits are located between Horseshoe Lake and the Mississippi River.

The game is to lure the big honkers into the fields by offering a meal of corn in between the two watering places. Goose decoys aid in the deception.

The best hunting is done on cloudy, dark days with a light snow or rain fall considered ideal shooting conditions. On exceptionally good shooting days as many as five pairs of hunters may "shoot out" from each pit.

If it's not a "bluebird day" (warm and sunny) the hunter gets his limit of two-geese-four-ducks in a hurry. In this event he abandons the pit and another waiting hunter crawls in.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
 without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite; robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel, so dry that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretching stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight. Get COLONOID, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Gas Supply For 20,000 Homes Fails; Pipe Leak

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Families dependent on gas for heating were abandoning their homes in subzero weather in at least two northern New York cities as supplies failed early today.

The gas supply to 20,000 homes throughout central and northern New York was threatened as a broken valve in a line near here choked off the northward flow of the fuel.

Gas service in Oswego was shut off at 5:30 a.m., when pressure dropped too low to sustain pilot lights in gas appliances. Temperatures in homes in Oswego and in Watertown, where supplies dwindled, dropped into the 40's as gas furnaces began going out.

Police in both cities reported families with little or no fuel supplies were doubling up with neighbors, relatives and friends.

The outside temperature in Watertown was 27 degrees below zero. It was near that in Oswego. Oswego has a population of about 25,000. Watertown's is over 35,000. Both cities are near Lake Ontario.

The Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. said it believed the valve had broken when the underground pipeline containing it was shifted yesterday by earth movements brought on by the extreme cold.

When pressure started dropping, Niagara Mohawk officials arranged radio broadcasts in which householders were urged to set thermostats of gas furnaces at 55 degrees and to defer using gas for cooking. The utility ordered the Oswego service shut off.

Other customers affected were in Baldwinsville, Pulaski, Phoenix, Fulton, Mexico, Adams, Adams Center, Sandy Creek, Lacona and Central Square.

PTA Council To Begin Courses

The first in a series of city-wide study courses sponsored by the City P.T.A. Council will be held at Elmhurst School Thursday at 8 p.m. with Miss Julia Teasley, reading specialist, as guest speaker.

Miss Teasley will speak to the group on how they can help children be better readers. A general discussion period will follow at which time parents will be given an opportunity to discuss their special problems with Miss Teasley.

Miss Teasley was secured for this meeting through the State Department of Public Instruction in Raleigh. She has taught in the elementary school, high school and college, and has served as an elementary supervisor.

Miss Julia Teasley

Since 1950 she has been doing special work with teachers, supervisors and parents in the area of reading and travels throughout the southern states.

On Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in McGinnis Auditorium at Wahl-Coates School Miss Teasley will meet with principals, supervisors and superintendents of eight Carolina counties.

Doubts Negroes Would Abandon Own Schools

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Most Negro children will continue to attend exclusively Negro schools even if legal separation ends, Reed Sarritt, executive editor of the Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel newspapers, declared here yesterday.

"I doubt that very many Negroes object to going to schools attended exclusively by other members of their race," he said.

He spoke at a meeting of the Lions Club. "I do believe that most Negroes probably object strenuously to being required to go to schools limited to their own race. They do not like the implication that they are inferior," he continued. "The protest is not so much against Negro schools as it is against enforced segregation."

He said North Carolina school boards, in his opinion, can remove from consideration, race in assigning children to schools without causing much change in the present racial composition of the student bodies of the schools.

"All the courts require is that no child shall be excluded because of race from a school which he otherwise is entitled to attend," he said.

School segregation, as a major issue in this year's General Assembly, probably has been removed by the Pearsall amendment, he said.

"School officials who delay action until confronted with a court order to desegregate lose the initiative for making policy decisions on the matter," he said. "Evidence grows that leaders, in shaping North Carolina's policy would welcome a start somewhere in the state toward voluntary compliance to demonstrate the workability of the North Carolina gradual plan."

These factors, Sarritt said, will tend to keep the schools segregated in the absence of legal compulsion:

1. The rise of equal schools for Negroes.
2. The inadequacy of present school facilities.
3. Residence.
4. Negroes' vested interest in their own schools.

Talk Terms For Soil Bank Pacts

GREENSBORO (AP)—Soil bank agreements for tobacco and cotton growers will be signed on a first come, first served basis until a given county's allotment is exhausted. E. W. Avant, soil bank specialist, said here yesterday.

He discussed the soil bank with about 100 Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office managers and personnel from 20 Piedmont North Carolina counties.

The conference continued today. It is part of a series of meetings in the state before signings of the 1957 acreage reserve agreements for tobacco and cotton crops begin Feb. 1.

Avant said the state has been allocated $12,700,000 for 55,000 acres of blue-cured tobacco; $385,000 for 1,255 acres of burley tobacco; and $6,700,000 for 115,000 acres of cotton.

County allotments will be made later this week. Avant said the Department of Agriculture's new program of slashed supports for three varieties of tobacco, Coker 139 and 140 and Dixie Bright 224, will be rigidly enforced. The price props on these varieties has been cut 50 per cent.

Actor Is Again Talked Possible Ass't Secretary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Times said today that Robert Montgomery, President Eisenhower's volunteer television adviser, is being considered for appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Robert Hartmann, the Times' bureau chief in Washington, said in a dispatch that the 52-year-old actor and producer is "authoritatively reported to be interested in the $20,000 a year post expected to be vacant shortly after the President starts his second term."

Montgomery recently was promoted to captain in the Naval Reserve, the dispatch said. Montgomery saw active duty as a Naval officer in World War II, both in London and the South Pacific. He is now an NBC television executive and resides in New York.

Most Of East Is Gripped By Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A mid-January cold spell held fast over most of the eastern half of the nation today and no immediate relief was indicated.

Although icy air extended from east of the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast, the main push of arctic blasts during the night was from New England southwestward to Texas.

Temperatures in the area were generally 10 to 20 degrees lower than yesterday morning. But the coldest spots were in northern New England and New York state, with readings expected to range from 20 to 40 degrees below zero.

Temperatures remained below freezing all day yesterday over most of the northern two thirds of the vast cold belt and were below zero from northern Michigan to northern New England. New York City had the coldest weather in nearly two years this morning. The 3 above was the lowest mark since zero Feb. 3, 1955, and a record low for Jan. 15. The previous low was 6.3 Jan. 15, 1927.

The frigid air in the Eastern area was expected to bring the coldest weather of the season as far south as Georgia and northern sections of the Gulf Coast states.

Some slight warming was reported in the north and central plains eastward into the Mississippi Valley and upper Great Lakes region but it was not very warm. Temperatures ranged from below zero in the extreme north to 20s in Kansas and Missouri. Subzero marks were reported in most of the Midwest yesterday morning.

The immediate outlook in the Midwest was a fresh invasion of cold rain and snow.

The Northeast also appeared in line for more snow, with falls forecast from New York to Tennessee westward to the Mississippi Valley. Snow also was indicated for much of the Mid-Atlantic area and the belt may extend into New England.

True To His Code, Funeral Of Humphrey Bogart To Be Simple

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Hollywood hubbaloob and phony trap-pings at which Humphrey Bogart frequently leveled barbed verbal darts will be missing when they bury Bogie Thursday.

Simplicity, which he liked in his lusty life, prevails in the rites planned for 12:30 p.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church in Beverly Hills.

The Rev. Kermit Kestelone, assistant rector, will read the short Episcopal funeral service. The eulogy will be written and delivered by John Huston, who directed Bogart in three of his most noteworthy movies, the Academy Award-winning "African Queen," "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

There will be no honorary pallbearers. And the widow, actress Lauren Bacall—Bogie's beloved "Bett" or "Baby"—asked the omission of flowers, preferring, instead, donations to the American Cancer Society.

Burial will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park Park in nearby Glendale.

Bogart died in his sleep of cancer early yesterday morning at his Holmby Hills home, with "Baby" at his bedside.

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Although he growled at them and heeded them mercilessly, Humphrey Bogart liked people.

His widow, Lauren Bacall, once remarked: "Bogie is fanatically independent, yet he can't stand being alone."

He always liked to have his friends around him, and that was his only pleasure in his last days. Up until he fell into a coma Sunday morning, he observed a daily ritual—the Bogart cocktail hour.

Knowing how much he loved company, his wife allowed him to come downstairs from his sickroom and receive his friends from 5 to 7 p.m. She cautioned them to stay only 15 minutes, since too much conversation tired him.

"He just likes to sit there and be with his friends," she explained. "He wants to hear the latest gossip. So sometimes he doesn't even feel like entering into the conversation. But he likes to have the people there."

Five days before he died of cancer, I paid a call at the Bogart cocktail hour. David Niven, still in makeup from a TV Western, arrived at the same time. Mrs. Bogart was in front of the seclude Holmby Hills manse, showing her Mercedes Benz to prospective buyers.

We found Bogart seated in the den next to a roaring fire. He looked better than I expected. He was thin, but he had always been fairly gaunt. He seemed alert and interested, though he didn't speak a great deal. When he did talk, his voice was softer, but still had the old Bogart crackle.

Niven gave him a letter from Douglas Fairbanks Jr. which he read with interest. We engaged in small talk and greeted 4-year-old Leslie, a doll in long pants and an Audrey Hepburn haircut.

Only once did Bogart appear to be his oldtime irritable self. That was when I mentioned about a news story a week before that had pictured him near death.

"Once a blankety newspaperman, always a blankety newspaperman!" he snapped, and he bawled me out for attempting anything that appeared to be an interview.

On more pleasant subjects, he said he had been reading "Compulsion," the novel about the Leopold-Loeb murder case and found it "a very good job." I mentioned that it was the book Marie McDonald was reportedly reading before the alleged kidnapping.

This piqued his interest and he wanted to know all about the McDonald affair. He offered his own theory of the case, drawn from his long experience in crime pictures.

Otherwise, it was like many a conversation in the Bogart den, a large, comfortable place filled with photos and mementoes of the Bogarts and their friends. The only differences: he was drinking martinis instead of his usual scotch-and-water; a wheelchair nearby gave testimony to his illness.

Bogart was reluctant to let his visitors go, but his wife insisted. Outside, she explained his blow-up: "He just doesn't like to discuss his illness. It bores him. He never will ill before in his life, and he can't get used to being cooped up in this house. That's why seeing his friends is such a tonic."

She said he was getting better all the time, "but it's slow." Nothing she said indicated the fight was hopeless, nor did he indicate he expected anything but recovery. Friends have told me there existed between the pair an unspoken hope that Bogie would beat the rap. To Hollywood's loss, he couldn't.

CHAPTER 27

Alvin Stiner was a patient man, but now that virtue was being sorely tried. Here it was late February, the winter almost spent, and General Tipton was still alive. Every day for almost two months Stiner had expected to hear he was dead, but he hung on, a skeleton of a man who, perhaps by sheer human will, was successfully defying death.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, metals and motors led a further stock market decline early this afternoon.

Key stocks fell from fractions to around 2 points.

The market was continuing yesterday's setback, the sharpest in nearly two months.

Prices were lower at the opening. Losses deepened in later trading which was active.

Reports of slackening demand for some steel products which depressed yesterday's market were accentuated today by a further depression—a report that the Federal Reserve Board is considering new steps to restrict credit.

The decline swept all divisions of the list. Only a few islands of resistance remained in the list.

Among those were American Sugar, which has been lagging in its rise while sugar commodity prices rose. It added around 10 points. Du Pont was up a point or better, Goodyear a fraction.

Allied Chemical and International Harvester also gained slightly.

But steels retreated in a body. Bethlehem, Youngstown and Crucible dropped 2 points or more while U. S. Steel and Republic Steel were 1-point losers.

Anacosta was down around 2, Kennecott and International Nickel about a point each.

Ford lost well over a point. General Motors and Chrysler major fractions.

GM dropped $\frac{3}{4}$ at 41 on a big block of 12,300 shares. Rubercoid lost $\frac{1}{2}$ at 30 on a block of 10,000.

Pivotal rails showed a string of fractional losses. Illinois Central was off around a point. Even utilities suffered, with American Telephone down about a point.

President Aims Warm Exchange With Premier

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—President Eisenhower today made public an exchange of messages with Great Britain's new Prime Minister—an exchange pledging continued personal friendship and obviously looking to the bolstering of Anglo-American unity.

The exchange with Harold Macmillan, who last week succeeded Anthony Eden as chief of Britain's government, was put out in Tucson shortly before the President left on a further tour of drought-damaged areas of the Southwest.

"I send my warmest congratulations to you on becoming Prime Minister of the United Kingdom," Eisenhower messaged Macmillan, with whom he became well acquainted during World War II.

Neither Eisenhower nor Macmillan, in his reply, made any mention of the possibility of a face-to-face meeting. There has been speculation that they may get together soon to mend further the differences between the two countries resulting from the ill-fated British venture into Egypt.

In his message Eisenhower said: "I feel confident that you will bring to your new task the same vision, determination and sympathetic understanding you have shown in the past. For myself and the people of the United States, I wish you every success in carrying out the great responsibilities which now devolve upon you as prime minister."

Eisenhower's note was addressed to "Dear Harold"; Macmillan's salutation in reply was to "My Dear Friend."

The Prime Minister cabled the President: "You know how much importance I attach to the friendship between the peoples of Britain and the United States, not least because of my own personal links with your country. I look forward to working with you once again to further this friendship. With all good wishes."

Macmillan's reference to "personal links" with the United States was to the fact that his mother was born in Indiana.

Nat'l Carbon Co. Reveals Changes In Pension Plan

A major revision of National Carbon Company's pension plan was announced today by F. P. Preissle of the company's Greenville division.

Preissle said all eligible employees, including many presently retired employees, will benefit by the revision which is still subject to stockholder and Internal Revenue Service approval. If the revision is approved, increased benefits will be payable in May and will be retroactive to January 1, 1957.

An outstanding improvement of the pension plan, which is paid for entirely by National Carbon Company, is an increase of up to $42.50 in monthly benefits. A completely new part will allow an employee with 30 years of service to retire, if he wishes, at age 60 with full pension benefits based on length of service. Another change is a "vested right" provision which will allow employees who leave the company after age 40 with ten or more years of service to receive pension benefits at age 65.

Other features of the revision include increases in minimum payments to disabled employees and a reduction of the employee service requirement for a pension benefit from 15 to ten years.

In addition to the pension plan, National Carbon maintains a program of plans including retirement; group life, sickness and accident insurance; hospital-surgical insurance; savings; and vacation. All plans are integrated to provide each employee with benefits during his working years, after he retires, and for his family, Preissle said.

Rotarians Hear Foreign Guests

Two foreign students, studying at East Carolina College this year, spoke last night to the Greenville Rotary Club.

Miss Raquel Cordero of Argentina and Miss Mona Farge of Tunisia discussed briefly for Rotarians their native lands. Each is an exchange student who was assigned for a year's study at East Carolina.

Miss Cordero, daughter of a college professor in Argentina who lost his job because he refused to wear the prescribed mourning dress following Eva Peron's death, asserted Argentina is on its way to social and economic recovery under its new government.

Her native country, she told Rotarians, was almost ruined by Peron and his government which was filled with corruption. She described Buenos Aires, Latin America's largest city, as much more beautiful than New York. Its wide avenues, numerous gardens and parks give the city a great deal more natural beauty than America's largest city, she said.

Miss Mona Farge of Tunisia, daughter of a French army officer who has been stationed in Tunisia for more than 20 years, asserted that Tunisia, since it gained political independence from France two years ago, is in a chaotic condition. Although it has gained political independence, she said, the country is still economically dependent on France.

Major problems facing the new government, she said, are overpopulation, too little industry, and insufficient exports to offset the equipment and consumer goods the country must import.

In her opinion, Miss Farge said, Tunisia's new independence will be largely theoretical until Tunisia is able to support itself economically.

Local Man Named To Board Of Security Life

L. S. Ficklen of Greenville yesterday was elected a member of the board of directors of Security Life and Trust Company at the company's annual stockholders meeting in Winston-Salem.

W. M. Scales Jr., also of Greenville, was re-elected to the company's board of directors.

Two other new directors were elected by the company's stockholders in addition to Ficklen. They are John C. Whitaker, chairman of the board of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, and J. Gordon Hanes, executive vice president of the P. H. Hanes Hosiery Company.

President Tully Blair of Security Life and Trust Company reported to stockholders yesterday that during the past year insurance in force with the company increased to $771,959,495 and he predicted that insurance in force with the company would reach one billion dollars by 1959.

Pilotless Plane Hits Buildings; Two People Die

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Two people died when a pilotless plane smashed into two Long Beach plants. The pilot — attempting to parachute to safety — was killed when his chute fouled.

A fourth person is in critical condition.

The plane, a Douglas Skyraider, just missed the Eugene Field Elementary School—and its 330 pupils.

Killed when it struck an iron-works and book bindery yesterday were A. W. (Pat) Rafferty Jr., 43, Long Beach, and Mrs. Ethel Foust, 40, Wilmington.

First Lt. Dale O. Fortine, 26, Costa Mesa, pilot of the Marine Corps plane, was killed when his parachute "streamed" — stringing out behind him without opening.

In critical condition is Mrs. Margaret Willock, 58, Long Beach, an employe of the book bindery. Two other women suffered shock.

L. S. FICKLEN

Ficklen is president of E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville, a post to which he was elected in October, 1955. He is also a director of Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

Widely known in the tobacco industry, Ficklen is also president of the Glasco Tobacco Co., Glasco, Ky.; vice president and a director of the E. V. Webb Tobacco Co. of Kingston, the International Tobacco Co. of Greenville, Washington Tobacco Co., Washington; Douglas Tobacco Co., Douglas, Ga. and Interstate Tobacco Co., Lumberton. He also serves as a director of North State Tobacco Co. of Fuquay Springs.

No Evidence In Kidnap Inquiry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Marie McDonald case has the chief of police asking rhetorical questions.

Chief William H. Parker said yesterday that 10 days' investigation of Miss McDonald's story of being kidnaped from her Encino home has produced "absolutely negative results."

And, he added — rhetorically — "Where do we go from here?"

Like most such questions, it was unanswered. Ray Pinker, chief of the police crime laboratory, could not help, said Parker.

"No footprints were found near the bedroom window through which Marie said her kidnapers accosted her," Parker said. Although she told of scratching her abductors, scrapings from under her fingernails showed no trace of skin or blood, he said.

He said that an exhaustive examination of the McDonald home by Pinker disclosed no physical evidence at the scene. The chief added:

"We have checked out every bit of information in the case and have failed to find any evidence whatever which would substantiate or disprove Miss McDonald's story."

The blonde actress yesterday posted a $5,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the men she said abducted her from her home Jan. 3.

When Parker suggested that he might take Miss McDonald up on her previous offer of a lie detector test, her attorney Jerry Giesler replied that it was out of the question. Said Giesler: "Anything the prosecution does that reflects upon its own witnesses makes it nearly impossible to get a conviction, and what we want is a conviction."

Report Robbery Of Carrier Boy

A Reflector carrier boy reported to police late yesterday afternoon that he was robbed of more than $4 as he delivered his papers on First St.

The 11-year-old carrier boy was identified as Joe Jones, son of Redding Jones of 403 E. 13th St.

The youngster told police he was approached by a Negro man at First and Side Sts. yesterday afternoon as he was carrying his route.

The man asked him if he had an extra paper and the carrier told him he did not, according to the police report.

Then the unknown man drew a knife and ordered the carrier to turn over his money to him, police quoted the boy as saying.

Police last night questioned several persons in the area about the alleged robbery. Chief of Police S. G. Gibbs said the investigation is continuing today.

Drought Tour In Its Final Day

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—President Eisenhower, ready for a final round of drought land inspection, may disclose today what the federal government proposes to do about easing the worsening plight of farmers and ranchers.

Aides said the President might talk about some of his plans at a conference scheduled late in the day at Wichita, Kan. He will meet at McConnell Air Force Base there with representatives of all states confronted with drought damage problems.

In advance of that session Eisenhower's program calls for on-the-spot study of the situation here in Arizona and in the regions around Pueblo, Colo., and Garden City, Kan.

The President arranged an early breakfast meeting at Tucson's Davis - Monahan Air Base, where he spent the night, for a report on what Arizona folks would like in the way of federal relief measures. Then he was going on to Colorado and Kansas.

Eisenhower arrived in Tucson by plane late yesterday after 10 hours of aerial and ground inspection of drought conditions in three other southwestern states—Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. He saw mile after mile of sun-baked land, some badly damaged by wind erosion, and he got from several ranchers and farmers first-hand accounts of their difficulties.

And, in Tucson, newsmen accompanying the President were handed a summary study by a University of Arizona scientist, Dr. Edmund Schulman, saying analysis of growth rings of trees shows the state has experienced its driest spell in 700 years.

Eighth Fatality In Antarctic

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica. (AP)—A 22-year-old Seabee has become the eighth fatality of the current Deep Freeze expedition into the frozen antarctic.

Ollie Barrett Bartley of Slaughter, Ky., drowned yesterday when a weasel snow tractor in which he and five other men were riding plunged through thin ice near Hut Point. Bartley's companions escaped although they suffered shock from being dashed into the icy water.

Bartley's body was recovered nine hours after the accident by Navy frogmen flown in by helicopter from the cargo ship Arneb.
