Dag Reports No Progress With Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld warned today that any U.N. steps to punish Israel at this time might complicate the Middle East situation.

In a special report to the General Assembly, Hammarskjöld said that he had made no progress in getting Israel to withdraw from Egypt and the Gaza Strip. He asked for guidance as to what he should do next.

He had no suggestions on this beyond a continuation of his contacts with Israeli and Egyptian officials.

He did take note, however, of moves to impose sanctions on Israel by pointing out that the Assembly could only make recommendations. He then questioned whether this would not serve only to introduce "new elements of conflict."

Israel's top spokesmen at the U.N. repeated their government's demand that Egypt give guarantees against new Arab raids from the Gaza Strip and against a new Egyptian blockade of Israeli shipping in the gulf, the waterway between the Red Sea and the southern Israeli port of Eilat.

An informed source in Tel Aviv said Israel now was also demanding that she be promised passage for her shipping through the Suez Canal.

The Assembly was expected to meet in a few days, perhaps to tomorrow, to take up Hammarskjöld's report.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister, told a reporter she doubted the Assembly would vote penalties. But she said if it did, "suffering in Israel and hardships due to economic pressure will not change our position."

Abba Eban, Israeli ambassador to the U.N. and Washington, told a television interviewer a declaration of nonbelligerency against Israel from Egyptian President Nasser or Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi would be important. But he added, "It would still be necessary, of course, to guarantee its implementation."

Arab-Asian delegates have said the United States has been seeking such a declaration from Nasser in hopes it would help induce the Israelis to pull back.

Mrs. Meir said she was sure any U.S. declaration guaranteeing free passage in the Gulf of Aqaba would "greatly influence" Israel. She told reporters only Israeli police and "our administration can make sure there are no raids from the Gaza Strip."

Eban spent 45 minutes in conference yesterday with Hammarskjöld.

A U.S. spokesman would not say whether the United States would vote for economic penalties. He said it wanted to see Hammarskjöld's report before deciding on "any next step."

Rich Uncle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government owns $40, 300,000 worth of real property including 774 million acres of land, a Senate committee reported today.

The Appropriations Committee said this represented a $2,300, 000,000 increase over the figure reported a year ago. Part of the jump was caused by new methods of calculating the inventory.

The report, prepared by the General Services Administration, said the remainder was due to expansion of such programs as atomic energy, defense and reclamation.

The inventory does not take into account machinery, furniture and other movable items.

The committee said $34,300, 000,000 of the property is within the continental United States, $3,600,000,000 in territories and possessions, and $2,400,000,000 is scattered over 100 foreign countries.

Bombs Laid To Kluxers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Four bombings that rocked Montgomery in a recent outburst of racial violence are blamed by police on "members of the Montgomery branch of the Ku Klux Klan."

But a Klan spokesman said, "The Klan as an organization does not sanction nor does it condone such violence."

The Klansman, who refused to be named, said he "understood" some of the seven white men charged with participating in the violence belong to the KKK.

Evidence against the seven is being presented to a Montgomery County grand jury that went into session today.

Four men are charged with Jan. 10 bombings of Negro churches and homes and a service station. The taxi stand since Montgomery city buses were racially integrated Dec. 21.

The other three are charged with misdemeanors of conspiracy in connection with dynamite bundles that failed to go off at two homes of point integration ministers, one Negro and one white.

One of the four is also charged with shooting at one of the city buses racially integrated by federal court order.

Police Chief G. J. Ruppenthal said he met yesterday with "prosecuting officials who will present these cases to the grand jury and all law enforcement officers who actively participated in the investigations."

After the meeting, he said, "Our investigation, corroborated by statements of some of the accused themselves, shows that these (four) bombings were perpetrated by members of the Montgomery branch of the Ku Klux Klan."

"Investigation is continuing as to the unsolved bombings," he said. The Klan spokesman said, "It is not our intention to have any violence. The main thing we're trying to do now is to build a vote bloc. This has set us back a long way."

Referring to the Klan, Ruppenthal said, "This organization, through its members and friends, is now engaged in collecting money for the defense of those accused of these acts of violence."

Jack Brock, chairman of the Alabama Segregation Defense Fund that has set a $60,000 goal for door-to-door collections, said: "The purpose of Ruppenthal's statement was obviously to prevent the securing of funds with which to employ adequate legal counsel, and also to try to prejudice these seven defendants before the public."

Presidential Meeting With British Prime Minister Is Set

Nearly $3 Billions Lost To Price Supports In 4 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has lost nearly three billion dollars supporting farm prices during the four years of the Eisenhower administration.

A Commodity Credit Corp. report disclosed yesterday the total has mounted to $2,894,000,000. The net loss for the 20 preceding years was $1,111,000,000, putting the total loss since 1933 at $4,005,000,000.

Total losses in the earlier years were reduced by wartime demands which permitted the CCC to sell at a profit many of the surplus crops it held during that period.

During recent years, however, heavy deficits have been incurred as surpluses have accumulated and the administration has sought to dispose of them even at a loss.

The figures do not include direct subsidy payments or purchase by other agencies of supplies for relief or other distribution. No cumulative figures for these costs were available.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced Saturday a lower level of farm price supports which is expected to reduce the government's commitment by about 200 million dollars on this year's crops, based on average production figures.

The CCC said that as of Dec. 31 it owned surplus commodities costing $5,892,000,000 and had loans outstanding to farmers on surplus crops totaling another $2, 319,000,000. Further losses are likely on both accounts.

Dairy products accounted for $1, 283,000,000 of the losses since 1933, with the greater part of that marked up during the last four years.

The second largest loss was 479 millions on potatoes, during and immediately after World War II. Potato prices are no longer supported under the surplus loan program.

The CCC has lost 468 million dollars on wheat, in addition to the amounts required to pay export subsidies.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower's headquarters announced today he will meet in Bermuda March 21-24 with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain. The President also will confer in Washington Feb. 26-27 with French Premier Guy Mollet.

Arrangements for the meetings underscore efforts to heal differences which developed between the United States on the one hand and Britain and France on the other as a result of the Suez Canal crisis.

Formal announcement of the conferences, forecast some time ago, came as efforts continued to get Israel to withdraw its troops from Egypt.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower and Macmillan, who recently succeeded Sir Anthony Eden as Britain's prime minister, will meet in Bermuda at the President's suggestion. That statement dealt with the site of meeting.

Responding to a question, Hagerty said suggestions that such a meeting be held came from both the President and Macmillan.

The press secretary added that also was so regarding the forthcoming Eisenhower-Mollet meeting.

In December, 1953, Eisenhower conferred in Bermuda with Sir Winston Churchill, then prime minister, and Joseph Laniel, then French premier.

Shortly before announcement of arrangements for the two conferences, the President and Secretary of State Dulles discussed the Israeli-Egyptian crisis by telephone for the fourth time since Eisenhower arrived here last Friday for about 10 days of quail hunting and golf. Dulles is in Washington.

They talked this morning for about 20 minutes. Hagerty said the conference deal again with United Nations efforts—so far unsuccessful—to get Israel to withdraw its troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

Hagerty declined to provide any details.

Hodges' Talk To Trigger Activity

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's legislators returned to the Capitol today to begin a busy week that will be highlighted by Gov. Hodges' biennial address tonight.

Before the week is out committee appointments in the House and Senate may be announced by House Speaker J. K. Doughton and Lt. Gov. Luther Barnhardt. When this is done, the legislators will be ready to move into high gear.

The first full week of legislative work will begin tonight at 8 o'clock when Gov. Hodges goes before a joint session of the House and Senate to outline his program and make his recommendations.

He also will present the 1957-58 budget recommended by the Advisory Budget Commission.

Revenue and appropriations bills are expected to be introduced tonight.

Hodges is expected to call for revisions in the state's tax laws and several changes in state government, including reorganization of the Highway Commission and separation of the Prisons Department from the Highway Commission.

The two-year state budget is expected to call for a record high spending. At the same time, the governor is expected to ask the lawmakers to approve changes in the corporate income tax which would reduce state income by eight million dollars annually.

Hearings on the appropriations bill are not expected to begin before next week, Barnhardt said. He added that briefings will begin on the revenue bill as soon as committees are named. Barnhardt said he expects to name the Senate committees Thursday or Friday.

"There is a willingness on everyone's part to get down to work," Barnhardt stated. "I still believe we can adjourn by the middle of May."

EXTENDED WEATHER FORECAST FOR N. C.

Temperatures will average slightly above normal and precipitation will be light, Tuesday through Saturday. Chances of occasional rain over the state Friday. Little day-to-day change in temperature.

Woman Missing From Yacht Off Ocracoke Island

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Coast Guardsmen continued a search today for a dark-haired New Jersey woman whose man companion reported her disappearance yesterday from a yacht off Ocracoke Island.

Coast Guard headquarters here identified her as Miss Mary Ann Scales, 33, of Bordentown, N.J.

The yacht, spotted by Guardsmen from the Ocracoke Lifeguard Station yesterday morning, was anchored about one-half mile north of the station. A boat was sent out but the yacht came into harbor under its own power.

Dr. James T. Dodge of Ulster Park, N.Y., operator of the yacht, the "Mary N. II," said the vessel grounded about 6:30 p.m. Saturday. It was refloated soon afterward but visibility was bad and anchor was dropped for the night.

Dr. Dodge said he and Miss Scales had supper about 8 p.m. and he went to bed, leaving her on deck, but when he woke at about 7:30 a.m. yesterday she had disappeared.

Pupils Out-Pace School Program

By LYNN NISBET
The Reflector Bureau

RALEIGH — A survey of public school personnel and facilities has been completed by Dr. Charles F. Carroll, superintendent of public instruction. Data obtained from reports by each of the 174 administrative unit superintendents show that the increase in school population is outrunning the supply of teachers and classrooms.

Enrollment at end of the first month of the 1957-58 term was 1,009,382, an increase of 19,138 over the comparable date last term. At end of the third month the enrollment was 1,025,000 and it is expected to reach 1,040,000 before end of the term.

There were 36,014 principals, supervisors and teachers employed to instruct these children. Of this number 26,191 are in elementary schools, 9,823 in white schools. The ratio of men to women in the teaching force is about one to five.

Statewide North Carolina's professional personnel are well prepared, 94.42 per cent having at least minimum Class A requirements. In this respect Negro teachers outrank whites, less than one per cent of the Negroes falling below Class A standards, while 7.36 per cent of white teachers are in that category.

There were 112 vacancies, 86 in state-allotted positions and 26 among locally paid teachers. Seventy-nine per cent of city unit teachers are paid above the State scale. That works out to a total of 35.84 per cent of all teachers drawing local salary money.

Three county unit buildings and 22 in cities are handling double shifts, with 3,849 children enrolled in the first shifts, 3,400 in the second.

Twenty-two counties and 15 cities are using "temporary" classrooms in buildings not owned by the boards of education—churches, lodge halls, store rooms, etc. These 37-campus classrooms have 3,736 pupils enrolled.

Although there are 1,112 more classrooms this year than last, there is still a shortage of nearly 3,000. The classroom record is as follows:

Classrooms available at beginning of 1955-56 term, 33,152; abandoned for instructional purposes (due to fire, obsolescence, consolidation, etc.), 676; rooms completed during year, 1,788; available at beginning of current term, 34,264.

Compared with this supply the needs are listed: Needed to accommodate excess enrollment, 1,58 to replace unsatisfactory facilities, 3,281; total needed, 4,867. Against this need 2,076 classrooms are scheduled for completion during this year, leaving a shortage of 2,791. Prospective increase in enrollment next fall, and some loss of buildings by fire or otherwise, may increase the shortage to around 3,000.

Worthy, employed by the Baltimore Afro-American, was one of three American newsmen who recently visited the Iron Curtain country. The others were Edmund Stevens and Philip Harrington, both of Look magazine.

Two Arrested By ABC Agents

Two arrests were made over the weekend in Greenville by Pitt County ABC officers on charges of possession of non-tax paid whiskey.

Raymond Lee Jones 42-year-old Negro of 1306 Factory St. was arrested on Saturday. Bond has been set for Jones at $200.

ABC officers also arrested Annie Johnson 35-year-old Negro woman of 913 Imperial St. who was released under a $200 bond.

Rumors Told To Britons

LONDON (AP)—The British public finally learned at breakfast today about worldwide rumors of a rift between Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Breaking a three-day silence, morning newspapers published the reports coupled with an official denial by a Buckingham Palace spokesman, Cmdr. Richard Colville.

The papers referred to the report of royal matrimonial troubles as "silly rumor" and "baseless speculation."

The afternoon papers ignored the reports entirely, devoting their front pages to a local murder, the Middle East situation, or the latest exploits of America's TV quiz winners.

The Queen, Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth were expected back in London sometime today after a short stay at Windsor.

The duke is at Gibraltar finishing a four-month round-the-world trip. He will be reunited with the Queen in Lisbon Saturday, two days before they begin a state visit to Portugal.

There was little immediate reaction from the general public to the report of the royal rift. However, it was widely read in countless homes by early morning commuters.

"Nonsense" said one man in a crowded train compartment. Others just laughed.

The Laborite Daily Herald published the rift story under a five-column banner which said that the palace rumors are untrue. It "joined the duke: 'Fly home, Philip. The way to kill a silly rumor.'"

The Independent Conservative Daily Express, published by empire-minded Lord Beaverbrook, carried a front-page article under the headline: "Queen and Reports Abroad." The paper mentioned the palace denial and added:

"The Daily Express does not propose to reprint in its variations any aspect of this story."

New Member Of N. C. Senate Is Sworn In Today

RALEIGH (AP)—J. Spencer Bell, 50-year-old Charlotte attorney, receives his oath of office here today as North Carolina's newest state senator.

The program at the Capitol calls for Gov. Luther Hodges to formally appoint Bell to the Senate. State Supreme Court Justice William H. Bobbitt of Mecklenburg County was to swear in Bell.

Bell succeeds F. J. (Jack) Blythe of Charlotte who resigned last week because of poor health.

The Mecklenburg County Democratic Executive Committee picked Bell 32-18 over Rep. Jack Love. By law, Hodges must honor the committee's selection.

Money In Church Safe Is Missing

Greenville now has a candidate for "meanest man of the year."

Police report that approximately $50 in currency and silver has been missing from the safe in the church office of the Memorial Baptist Church on 4th and Greene streets.

A church official made the discovery yesterday morning shortly before Sunday School. Missing as a result of the theft was money in jars belonging to a Sunday School organization and to the Boy Scouts that had been accumulated over a period of time.

Local police are conducting an investigation.

Premeasuring Of Crops Is Started

Premeasurement of allotted farm crops was begun today, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Chief Clerk Frank Parker said this morning.

"Farmers planning to have any of their allotted crops premeasured may come into the Pitt ASC office and put up their deposit now," Parker declared. "Requests for premeasurement will be taken care of on a first come, first served basis."

Parker said that March 15 has been set as the deadline for filing premeasurement requests.

"Don't wait until that time to file your request as you may find there are so many ahead of you that we may not be able to visit your farm before planting time," Parker told farmers. "In such cases we would refund the deposit. In 1956 this office had to turn away nearly 200 producers who came in too late to get their crops premeasured."

Parker pointed out that in 1956 the first year that the premeasurement service was offered, only 52 producers requested the service; in 1956 more than 500 farms were premeasured and in 1957 the expected to premeasure 1,000 farms or more, if producers get their requests filed early.

"It is very necessary that we know during February and before March 15 just how many farmers will desire this service, so that we in the office will know how many men to train and employ to do the job before planting time," Parker said. "We must finish the field work on premeasuring by April 30 since regular measurement begins about May 1."

Another Summit Talk For Arabs

CAIRO (AP)—Another Arab Big Four summit conference is expected for Cairo next week to hear the report of Saudi Arabia's King Saud on his visit to Washington.

U. S. officials hope Saud will try to persuade the other leaders of the Arab "neutralist" bloc to accept President Eisenhower's plan for blocking Communist expansion in the Middle East.

An informed Egyptian source said Saud will meet Feb. 18 or 19 with President Nasser of Egypt, King Hussein of Jordan and President Shukri Kuwailid of Syria to tell them what he learned in Washington about the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The four Arab leaders met here before Saud left for the United States. Their countries are allied militarily through pacts placing their armies under an Egyptian commander.

Saud has stopped off in Madrid en route home for five days of conferences with Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Sultan Mohammed V of Morocco. In Washington he agreed on continued U. S. military and economic aid to Saudi Arabia.

Hold First Of TB Workshops

First of a series of workshops sponsored by the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association was held today in Bethel.

Other workshops, which will be held at Negro schools in Farmville, Grimesland and Winterville, have been scheduled for tomorrow (Farmville), Wednesday (Grimesland) and Thursday (Winterville).

The meetings will all begin at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend the conferences which follow the association's 1957 theme, "Education for Better Living in Pitt County."

Miss Lelia Higgs is education chairman for the association.

YOUTH ARRESTED FOR BREAK-IN

Greenville police arrested Willie David Spellman, 18-year-old Negro of 1015 Mack St., yesterday on charges of breaking and entering and larceny.

The youth is accused of breaking into Bud Briley's service station on Dickinson Ave. sometime Saturday night. There were two boxes of cigars and a battery in the store.

Spellman reportedly gained entrance into the station through a back window.

TO SCHOOL—The two farm youth shown above receiving checks from Pitt Key Banker J. W. Overton, will attend a two week course in modern farming at N. C. State College. Expenses for the young farmers will be paid by banks of the county. The boys shown with Overton above are E. I. Thomas, Jr. (center) of Grimesland Rt. 1 and Lindy Edwards (right) of Chicod.

Mediation Service Chief Steps Into Dock Parleys

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the Federal Mediation Service personally took a hand in deadlocked dock negotiations today to try to avert a threatened widespread strike of 45,000 longshoremen tomorrow evening.

Joseph F. Pinnegan called the employer group into a noon meeting, to be followed by an afternoon conference with both sides.

Pessimism prevailed earlier, however, that nothing would prevent dockworkers from Maine to Virginia walking out the hour their contract expires.

Union spokesmen said the breakdown in negotiations between the independent International Longshoremen's Assn.

and the New York Shipping Assn. made it virtually certain that the strike will begin at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

That is the hour a Taft-Hartley injunction expires and longshoremen will be free to resume strike that was halted after nine days last November. The injunction was obtained by the federal government.

Louis Waldman, ILA general counsel, emerged last night from the federal mediation session to announce that talks were stalled between the longshoremen and the employers.

"There is no hope whatever of a settlement before 5 p.m. Tuesday," he declared. "If there is no settlement there is no alternative to a strike."

The announcement crushed earlier rumors that a settlement was near.

The employers group, representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, scheduled a membership meeting today. It may be followed by a joint meeting between longshoremen and the employers, tentatively scheduled by federal mediators.

The November strike involved some 60,000 longshoremen in ports from Portland, Maine, to the Gulf Coast. However, workers in the ports south of Hampton Roads, Va., have subsequently settled their disputes with local employers, leaving 45,000 longshoremen still without contract agreements.

Mediators said early last night the disputants appeared near agreement on a program of settlement. It included two major points of dispute: negotiation of a three-year contract covering longshoremen from Maine to Virginia and a contract clause giving employers the right to change working conditions as new machinery was introduced on the job.

A agreement reportedly was reached on the first point but not on the second, causing the stalemate.

The employers agreed to a mediators' recommendation that called for a 32-cent-an-hour wage increase over the three-year contract period. The first year increase would be 18 cents, with 7-cent increases for each of the succeeding years. It would raise the basic dockworker's wage from $2.48 to $2.80 an hour.

The employers reportedly agreed also to raise the number of paid holidays from three to four and increase contributions from 3 cents per man-hour to 4.

The ILA also appeared to have dropped one major demand that a sling load be limited to a long ton.

A quick main dish for one of those days when you have to get a meal in a jiffy.
Quick Spaghetti and Ham
Broccoli (Frozen)
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Doughnuts Fruit
Beverage

QUICK SPAGHETTI AND HAM
Ingredients: 1 can (15 1/4 ounces) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese; 1 cup diced (about 1-4 inch cubes) cooked ham; 1 1/2 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice); one-quarter of a medium-sized green pepper (finely diced); 2 slices bread, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.
Method: Empty spaghetti into a shallow baking dish—a pie plate that is 8 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches is a fine size. Add the ham, grated onion and diced green pepper; mix well with a fork to distribute ingredients evenly. Cut bread slices (including crusts) into tiny squares.
Melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add bread and mix well.
Sprinkle buttered bread over top of spaghetti mixture. Heat in moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbly hot and topping is lightly brown—about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

East Carolina Seniors To Appear In Honors Recital

June Crews of Creedmoor, soprano, and Lloyd Ralph Chason of Rocky Mount, clarinetist, seniors at East Carolina College, will appear in recital at the college February 13 at 8 p.m. in the Austin auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

The two seniors are among a small group of students chosen by faculty members of the music department to appear in honors recitals this year.

Miss Crews' selections will include "With Verdure Clad" from Haydn's "The Creation," two songs from the Schumann cycle "Frauen Liebe und Leben," "Depuis le Jour" from Charpentier's "Louise," and a group of numbers sung in English. Her accompanist will be Martha Pond, senior from Hamlet.

Mr. Chason will play selections for clarinet by Bach and Mozart.
He will be accompanied by pianist
Joan McKenzie, Wilmington, senior, and by a string quartet.

A pupil of Herbert L. Carter of the faculty, Mr. Chason has participated in the activities of the college concert and marching bands and the East Carolina Choir. He is president of the campus chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity.
Recently he was appointed commanding officer of the East Carolina Air Force ROTC cadet group.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles F. Chason of Rocky Mount.

Miss Crews, a pupil of Dr. Elwood Keister of the college faculty, is a member of the college choir and vice president of the local chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, honor society for women musicians.
She has been soloist in campus performances of Handel's "The Messiah" and has had leading roles in several operettas presented by the Student Government Association. This year she is among those chosen to represent East Carolina College in the national yearbook "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Reid Crews of Creedmoor.

Death Toll Causes Alarm; Meet Slated

Some fifty letters from the Greenville Junior Woman's Club have gone out to local club presidents, school administrators and city officials expressing concern over the highway death toll and inviting the public to a meeting on safety.

Signed by Mrs. R. D. Harrington Jr., local president, the letters state in part, "The national and state reports of 1956 on the highway death toll have only recently been released. The figures are appalling and it is apparent that immediate action must be instituted."

The letter goes on to add Mrs.
Robert M. Cullison, division chairman of safety, Federation of Woman's Clubs, has brought these facts to the club's attention and in the interest of public safety, a plan for holding six area meetings in North Carolina has been completed.

The meeting for this district is scheduled for tomorrow in Williamston at the courthouse.
Robert T. Elliott Jr., director of driver education of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in Winston-Salem, is scheduled for the main speaker's spot.

The Williamston Woman's Club is acting as hostess for this meeting to which the public is invited.

Red Banks Club Fetes Husbands

A Valentine motif prevailed at the Eastern Pines Community Building Tuesday night when the Red Banks Home Demonstration Club members met with their husbands for a covered dish supper.
Members of the Men's Fellowship Club, their wives and other invited guests were present for the evening.

Officers of the club, Mrs. Hugh Hardee Jr., Mrs. E. H. Boyd, Mrs.
Karl Hardee and Mrs. B. S. Tucker, were hostesses for the evening.
Miss Margaret Stevens and Claude Goodman, assistant agents from the farm and home offices, were present to give a demonstration on insurance.
"Do you know how your insurance works? How well informed are you?" were the questions asked.
It was pointed out that there are four basic plans classified as Term, Ordinary Life, Limited Pay
Life and Endowment.
Mrs. R. B. Starling led the group in several games and songs. A cake walk was staged for the benefit of the March of Dimes and $16.85 was raised in this manner.
Other entertainment was led by Miss Goldie Starling and Miss Ann Greene who gave a chalk talk and impersonations.
R. B. Starling returned thanks.
Some fifty persons were present.

Know What School's Doing On Valentine Day? You Can Help

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

What's going on in your child's school on Valentine's Day? Keep your finger on the pulse of school activities and you can often help your youngster grow and mature in the ways that will help him all his life.

Most elementary schools have a Valentine's Day celebration. There will be a big decorated box in each classroom. Maybe it will be there a week before the big day. The children will drop into it Valentines for their classmates. On the big day, February 14, the box will be opened and the precious letters distributed.

The popular children always receive a lot of Valentines, but often there are a few children who, either because they are new in the school or for one reason or another are not too popular, receive very few. It's often hard on a child to have his popularity measured in such concrete terms as the number of Valentines received.

Teach Kindness
Talk over with your child this question of which children will receive Valentines from him. Of course, encourage him to send them to his special friends, but ask about the other children in the class.

Even young children can understand the heartache of unpopularity, and with a little help from you they can even understand that the unhappy feeling inside can make a child do nasty things.
Try to get across to your child the idea that making other people feel good inside helps them want to act more pleasantly.

Try your best to break through some of the cruelty children often show each other. If there is one little fellow in the class who is not liked, there may be a pact among the others to see to it that he is "paid back" by not receiving any Valentines.

With help from you, your child may take pleasure in sending one of his very nicest Valentines to this child.

Keep It Casual Much of this talk can be quite casual as you sit across the table from him as he pastes hearts and pictures on cards. See to it that he has enough supplies and take an interest in the Valentines he makes. Buy a packet of plain white cards and envelopes. Make sure there is paste in the house.
Special Valentine decorations for the cards are inexpensive. Maybe you can use that pile of Christmas cards for some special pictures for the Valentines.

Homemade Valentines are much more fun for children than bought ones. In addition, helping the child make them is a wonderful opportunity for those good casual talks that mean so much to both you and your child.

Joint Meet Held Friday

Members of the Mount Pleasant Home Demonstration Club, at the February meeting Friday night, had their husbands at special guests. The meeting took place at the community building.

A covered dish supper was served buffet style to the twenty-six members and guests present.

Home Agent Lillie Little and Farm Agent Sam Winchester gave the joint demonstration on insurance, pointing out the differences in the four basic kinds, their values and costs.

Mrs. C. H. Hagan, president, presided and welcomed the husbands. Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Fleming and Mrs. Sam Winchester as special guests.

The dinner tables, arranged in a U shape, were decorated with pach gladioli and fern for the occasion.

Group singing was led by Mrs.
J. H. Britley.

WSCS Holds Mission Study

A study of "Southeast Asia" was given recently by Salem Women's Society of Christian Service in two sessions.

W.S.C.S. members of the other churches of Grimesland Charge, Providence and Grimesland, were invited to attend.

The devotional on missions, using Psalms 24, was given by Mrs.
W. J. Edwards and Mrs. J. L. Edwards.

Mrs. S. T. Porter Sr., secretary of Missionary Education, gave the study's introduction. Others taking part were Mrs. Floyd Pines, Mrs. E. D. Boyd, Mrs. Karl Hardee and Mrs. R. H. Heath.

In the study it was revealed that vast areas of Southeast Asia have no church or place for Christian witnessing. The Asian churches are becoming mission-minded, it was pointed out, but they lack resources of men and money. Responsibility for Christianizing Southeast Asia rests upon church members throughout the world, the speakers pointed out.

During the period of fellowship, refreshments consisting of cookies, sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostess society.

Valentine Time At Ayden High School

By JEANNETTE WORTHINGTON
Ayden School Reporter

It's Valentine time at Ayden High this week. The bulletin board in the downstairs hall is decorated with a big red heart surrounded by a white lace frill. The Ayden Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America is responsible for this cheerful sight.

JEANNETTE

All of the rooms have some decorations in them, with the Senior classroom perhaps the most outstanding. The tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades each have a bulletin board they have decorated with valentines, using the topics in their English assignments as subjects.

Virginia Cavanaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cavanaugh, has been chosen Citizen of the Month at Ayden High School for the month of January. Virginia, an honor student in the senior class, is president of the local Beta Club, a member of the Student Council, Annual Staff, Tri-Hi-Y, and high school chorus.

One morning last week, Patrolman Bill Whitehurst and Corporal Carl Whitfield discussed safety on the highway with the students and faculty of Ayden High. The film and talks were interesting and informative. Students at AHS will be more safety conscious as they travel to and fro on the highways now.

Ralph Sloan, scientist, gave an interesting and exciting demonstration, using liquid air, to the entire student body on Monday of this week.

After the ballgame Friday night, the teenagers of Ayden and the surrounding community enjoyed a dance at the Ayden Community Building sponsored by the Woman's Club. The proceeds went to the March of Dimes. During intermission, Steve Farrish sang "If I Loved You" from the musical production Carousel, and "The Surry With the Fringe on Top" from Oklahoma! He was accompanied by Miss Anna Montgomery.

A quartet, Bonny Rutledge, soprano; Anne York, alto; Herb Little, tenor; and Wayland McLawhorn, bass; entertained the group with "Ole Nicodemus", and "A Whale of a Tale" with Steve Farrish doing the solo. Mrs. Rosa Jones Little accompanied them. Patricia Cox did a dance number.

The following members of the Ayden High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Boyd Elliott, delighted everyone with a selection of hit tunes: Ronnie Tripp, Bonny Rutledge, Brenda Little, Wayland McLawhorn, Herb Little, Tommy Edwards, and J. D. Wiloughby.

Chaperones for the dance were Mrs. Jo Ross, Mrs. Rosa Little, Mrs. Clay Stroud, Jr., Mrs. Wade Long, and Mrs. Harvey Gwynn.

Monday after the fire drill, George Stancil, chairman of the fire drill committee, reported that out of a possible score of 500 points the students at AHS scored 450 points by quickly and quietly leaving the building.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Future Homemakers of America last Tuesday, Mrs. Hal Edwards gave a demonstration showing the types of china, silver, and crystal that go well together, giving a little of the history of each pattern used.

Mrs. Sue Noble's speech class presented a delightful play at the regular chapel period last week. "Butch," a one-act comedy written by Dora Mary MacDonald, was well received by the student body. Butch, a 15-year-old girl, was played by Peggy Watkins. Kay Woodard played the part of Jerry, a friend of Butch's. Sandra McLawhorn played Katherine, Butch's older sister home from college. Mrs. Randall Butch's mother played by Jessie McLawhorn; Petunia, the maid, played by Evelyn Jones; Harold Worthington played the part of Kenneth, Katherine's date; and Billy Cuthrell, as David Kenneth's kid brother, gave a splendid performance, proving that it's always best to be who you are and never try to act like someone else.

The following members of the Ayden Chapter of the National Forensic League were awarded certificates for outstanding work by Patti McCay, president of the local NFL, during chapel period last week: Degree of Merit—Barbara Gagnon, Bryan Little, Frank Merritt, Wilbur Ormond, Carol Lynn Cavileer, and Annette Dail. Degree of Honor—George Stancil. Degree of Excellence—Betty Lou Williams.

Degree of Distinction—Brownie Harrington and Jeannette Worthington.

Horton Jolly and Ronnie Tripp, seniors at Ayden High, attended the Governor's Inaugural Ball in Raleigh on Wednesday.

Ulysses S. Grant's second Inaugural Ball was $20-a-ticket admission ceremony.

Doctors Pott And Pace Assigned Roles In Drive

City campaign chairman Dick Greene announced today that Dr. W. H. Pott and Dr. K. B. Pace have been named as co-chairmen of the solicitation of Physicians during the Red Cross fund drive in March.

Greene also announced that solicitation by A. Hartwell Campbell and Herbert Wilkerson, recently appointed city co-chairmen for advance gifts, would commence on February 22. The overall drive, however, will not get underway until March 1, he added.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, chairman of the Pitt County Red Cross Chapter, has announced that the quota for 1957 has been set at $14,953. As has been the case in the past, 54.5 per cent of the amount collected during the drive will be retained by Pitt County while the remaining 45.5 per cent will be sent to national headquarters to take care of disasters in areas throughout the county.

The chapter chairman stated that 1,072 pints of blood was used in this county from June 30, 1956 until June 30, 1956. Residents of this county in other hospitals were sent 244 pints during this period.

It was pointed out that although blood is donated, expense is involved in its processing and collection. The Pitt County chapter spent $4,200 last year for this program alone.

Now She Wishes She'd Told Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jacqueline Feist, now 19, says she wishes she had told her father, producer-director Felix Feist, that she was going to get married.

It happened five years ago, when she was 14. The marriage ended yesterday when she was granted an annulment.

"This ought to be a lesson to young girls," said Jacqueline after her Mexican marriage to Asa Wylie Duff Jr., 24, was ruled illegal because the Mexican proxies were not properly notarized.

"Girls should talk it over with their parents before doing anything as important as getting married."

"My father would not have allowed me to marry that young because he knows best. I wish he'd known. He might have stopped us."

Early Applicant

FARMVILLE—Tom Canning, selected by American Cyanamid's Formica Division to manage its Farmville plant, spoke at Farmville's annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Friday night.

He invited questions from the floor and got one about when he would begin accepting job applications.

"It would seem like we have already started taking the applications. In fact, we got on from a fellow who lives in a town about 120 miles away that went something like this: 'There ain't no work here. Tell me when you want me to come over to the site.'"

Canning said the letter was addressed to "Mr. J. O'Connor, Boss of the Job, Junction of Norfolk Southern and East Carolina Railroads, Farmville, N. C."

Sponsor Program On Political Problems

Frank M. Wooten, local co-chairman of the Campaign for the 48 States announced this week that Greenville will be one of several major cities throughout the nation to be afforded the opportunity of seeing a series of films on television dealing with impending political problems.

The first film in the series will be shown Sunday February 17th at 2 p.m. over Television station WNCT. Others in the series will follow at weekly intervals.

A non-partisan organization, the Campaign for the 48 States, with headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee, was originated two years ago. The local chapter is sponsoring the presentation of the film series working in conjunction with the Greenville TV station. Money for the films has been donated by Greenville and Pitt County businessmen who are interested in the organization and its ultimate goals.

A Call for Doctor Barton

By Elizabeth Seifert's New Novel
© 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert. Reprinted by permission of the publisher, Dodd, Mead & Co. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

CHAPTER 14

Oren Kopp was a farmer. Grady Barton had not liked him much, from the first. Kopp was an ignorant man, not so much an uneducated one, but a man who considered himself smart enough not to need book-learning. He was a large and lumbering man, dark skinned, with thinning dark hair.

He was a member of the committee which had brought Grady to the Hollies, probably selected as one who would represent the farm people of the community.

On this Christmas night, the doctor turned his car into the drive of the Kopp farm, took his small bag and went up on the porch.

The front door was opened by Oren Kopp himself, and Grady went into a narrow and chilly hall, unlighted except for lamplight which streamed through an open door at the far end of the passage.

A red crepe paper wreath bobbed and twisted under the drop light in the dining room into which Grady was ushered. There was the sound of a baby's labored breathing, and the comforting sounds made to the child by Mrs. Kopp.

Grady's attention sharpened. He had never met Kopp's wife before. She was a small, dark-eyed woman, bent almost double with some spine-affliction, perhaps arthritis. It was pitiful to see her so afflicted and trying to care for the child in the crib.

After a swift glance at the baby and while listening to Kopp's explanation of his trouble, Grady set his bag upon the table, then opened it.

The baby, he was told, was a grandchild. His parents had brought him for Christmas from Detroit and had left Gregory there because he had this cold. They would return on the week end after New Year's to get him.

"How old is he?" asked the doctor, touching Mrs. Kopp's shoulder to get her to move away from the crib.

"He's eighteen months, doctor," said the woman.

Grady bent over the crib, picked up the child and the blanket and carried him to the table under the light. The baby was crying now, along with that choking sound which he had been making ever since Grady had entered the house. The doctor adjusted a forehead mirror, took his flashlight and a tongue blade and bent over the child. Then his fingers explored the outside of his throat; he listened to his chest.

The baby stopped crying to watch him, but his breathing was still heavy and grating.

"How long has he been like this?" asked the doctor.

"Since noon, I guess. Not so bad," said the woman.

dy of this child imposes upon you and follow my advice to take him to a hospital."

"Oh, now, look here, Barton!" Kopp broke in gruffly. "We brought you here to the Hollies to doctor, not to preach why can't you just give us a prescription for something to cut the phlegm? Surely you know enough to do that! We need a doctor here, but maybe you should remember that the ones that brought you to the Hollies can send you away again!"

It was incredible, thought Grady, how ignorant this man was, how incredibly stupid!

"I have a contract with the committee, Mr. Kopp," the doctor said quietly. "The terms of it do not include any statement requiring me to accept the medical diagnosis of a layman and to act upon it. I feel sure that I know what is wrong with the child here in your home. I am afraid he is due to become dangerously ill if you do not act upon my advice."

"Now that I called you, it will be your fault, won't it, if he gets dangerously sick?"

"No, Mr. Kopp. You called me in professionally; I have made my diagnosis and given my advice. If you refuse to follow it, my connection with the case ends, here and now."

"Let it end, then!" shouted Kopp. "I can promise that you'll not be called back here very soon!"

Numb with the need to control his rage, Grady put on his hat, his gloves, picked up his bag and let himself out of the house. He got into his car, backed it out to the road, turned into it and drove toward town. He was angry. He had been very angry back in that farmhouse. Now his hands still shook with the effects of that tremendous anger. He was in bad shape to drive. He pulled the car into a path which led toward a pasture gate and sat for a minute leaning forward upon the wheel, trying to think. He rolled down the window, hoping that the cold, brittle air would clear from his brain the web of fear which was threatening to engulf him.

Tomorrow: A friend lends a sympathetic ear to Doctor Barton. Continue Chapter 15 in this newspaper.

Patrolman Talks Safety Message At Club Meet

State Highway Patrolmen Lt. Tom Brown and Cpl. Carl Whitfield showed a Billy Graham film and discussed "Safety of the North Carolina Highways" at the Exchange Club Friday night.

Whitfield said "North Carolina has many things to be proud of, but the state is not proud of its high accident records on the highways. Pitt County is one of the worst counties in the state for motor vehicle accidents," he added.

Mrs. Hoyt Harron and Mrs. N. G. Dean presented the second part of the program for the Junior Woman's Club. A film was shown describing activities at the Caswell Training School in Kingston.

The Exchange Club will observe "Heart Fund Sunday," February 24, Dr. J. L. Watters announced. He urged support of the program and said 55 per cent of the fund is retained for work in North Carolina, the balance goes to headquarters for research in this field.

Dr. Ray Minges inducted John B. Frang Hill as a guest of the club.

East Carolina Cagers Defeat Semi-Pros By 86-77

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor

ASHEBORO — Two newcomers and an old hand paced East Carolina's Pirates to a heavily-favored victory over a heavily-favored semi-pro McCary Eagles here, Saturday night.

Veteran junior Guy Mendenhall, 6-4 guard from Cary, pumped in 17 big points to lead all scorers for the Pirates. Lanky Joe Plaster and 6-5 Tim Smothers, both sophomores, snared 15 points each to put punch behind Mendenhall's efforts. Plaster also walked away with 20 rebounds to grab Jurels in that department for both teams.

Both Plaster and Smothers are virtual newcomers to the Pirates' starting aggregation. Plaster, a 6-11 center from Franklinville, Va., joined the club's Big Five midway in the season after spending the first half of the year as a reserve. Smothers took over a starting guard berth only two games ago and has been among the top Pirates scorers since that time.

Led All The Way
Rated definite underdogs by virtue of their sagging 10-9 overall record, East Carolina surprised the Eagles with a quick opening effort that put them ahead early in the ball game. They grabbed a rapid 8-2 lead and were never headed after that.

By halftime, the Bucs had run up a nine-point lead, 40-31. The visiting club's defensive play, termed by Coach Howard Porter as "very good," held the high-scoring Eagle team in check throughout the whole game. Smothers did an excellent job on McCary's prolific Smith Langdon, holding the lanky forward to 10 points. Nick Nichols' big project for the night was former N. C. State All-American Sammy Ranzino. He held Ranzino to 10 points also.

Disaster Strikes
Midway in the third quarter, with a 16-point lead, East Carolina was struck with a double disaster. Nick Nichols, who has been having shoulder troubles all season, threw his shoulder out of location and had to be removed from the ball game. This event came with still 13 minutes of playing time left.

With only 12 minutes left, Joe Plaster fouled out of the game. Coach Porter substituted Harold Ingram for Nichols and placed Marion Hales in Plaster's position. Both boys turned in excellent performances, according to Porter.

However, with two first-stringers out of action, McCary's turned on the heat and cut the Buc lead to a mere three points within 10 minutes. A final spurge by ECI finally ended it with a nine-point advantage, 86-77.

Cut His Tongue
Big Joe Plaster, who went into the game with an injured knee, came out with a cut tongue, which had to have three stitches taken in it. McCary's Ranzino charged the Big Boy in one of the last plays of action before Plaster fouled out, causing him to bite his tongue.

This was the second injury to be inflicted upon the towering Plaster in two weeks. Last week, he fell down the steps of one of the school buildings and ripped the cartilages in one knee. "Joe will be alright," Coach Howard Porter commented this morning, "but I don't know whether or not he'll be able to eat anything for a week."

ECC will attempt to improve their 5-6 North State Conference mark, Wednesday, when they travel to Catawba for an important contest.

Lenoir Rhyne Can Cinch Crown With Three Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three more North State Conference victories can cinch the league championship for Lenoir Rhyne, which could turn the trick this week.

The Bears, who lost their season opener to Belmont Abbey but have swept 16 straight since, including 11 in the loop, face Atlantic Christian, Guilford and Catawba at home during the week.

The Atlantic Christian tussle tomorrow night likely will pose the major threat of the week. ACC currently is tied for fourth in the standings with Western Carolina at 8-5, while Catawba and Guilford are tied for seventh at 2-10. Lanky center Raeford Wells collected 33 points Saturday night for the Bears in their 11th straight conference win, a 99-63 drubbing of Appalachian.

Elon, bent on cinching second place in the league, whipped Western Carolina 90-66 for its 10th win against three defeats. Over-all the Christians are 19-3. The other Saturday results saw High Point defeat Catawba 89-77, Atlantic Christian down Guilford 96-82, and East Carolina drop the McCary Semipro 86-77.

High Point, 8-4 in the league and 17-5 over-all, is in third place on Elon's heels. The Panthers could catch the Christians during the week. Elon plays Hampden-Sydney tomorrow night, and then faces Western Carolina Wednesday and last place Appalachian Saturday.

No games are set tonight. The standings, conference records first: Lenoir Rhyne (11-0 16-1), Elon (10-3, 19-3); High Point (8-4, 17-5), Atlantic Christian (8-5, 12-7), Western Carolina (8-5, 15-10), East Carolina (5-7, 11-9), Catawba (2-10, 8-12), Guilford (2-10, 3-13), Appalachian (1-11, 4-16).

Blacksmiths Are Still Around, Doing Very Well

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Ever wonder what happened to blacksmiths? They're still around, and doing very well, thank you.

In fact, there are 22 of them at the Santa Anita racetrack. George Ring, president of the California division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn., says they are earning about $1,200 a month, a sum undreamed of by the village smithy of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's day.

Ring says the smiths have upped the price of putting new shoes on race horses from $13 to $17 (per horse) in the last year. He thinks $15 would be a fair price, and the HBPA has threatened to bring in outsiders to do the job.

The players must give 15 days' notice before walking off the job at any track.

Phants Host To Cardinal Cagers

Jacksonville's Cardinals will invade Greenville High School Gymnasium tomorrow night for a Northeastern Conference game that could be important feather in the cap of either club that wins.

Resting very close to the bottom of the league, Jacksonville is given a good chance of walking away from GHS gym with a victory. Greenville defeated them by only one point, 57-56 in an earlier meeting, although they held as much as a 16-point lead at one time in that game.

Steve Noble and forward Charlie Smith combined efforts to score 30 points between them in that earlier game and will be expected to stand out in tomorrow's contest.

Rain Holds Up Spring Grid Drill

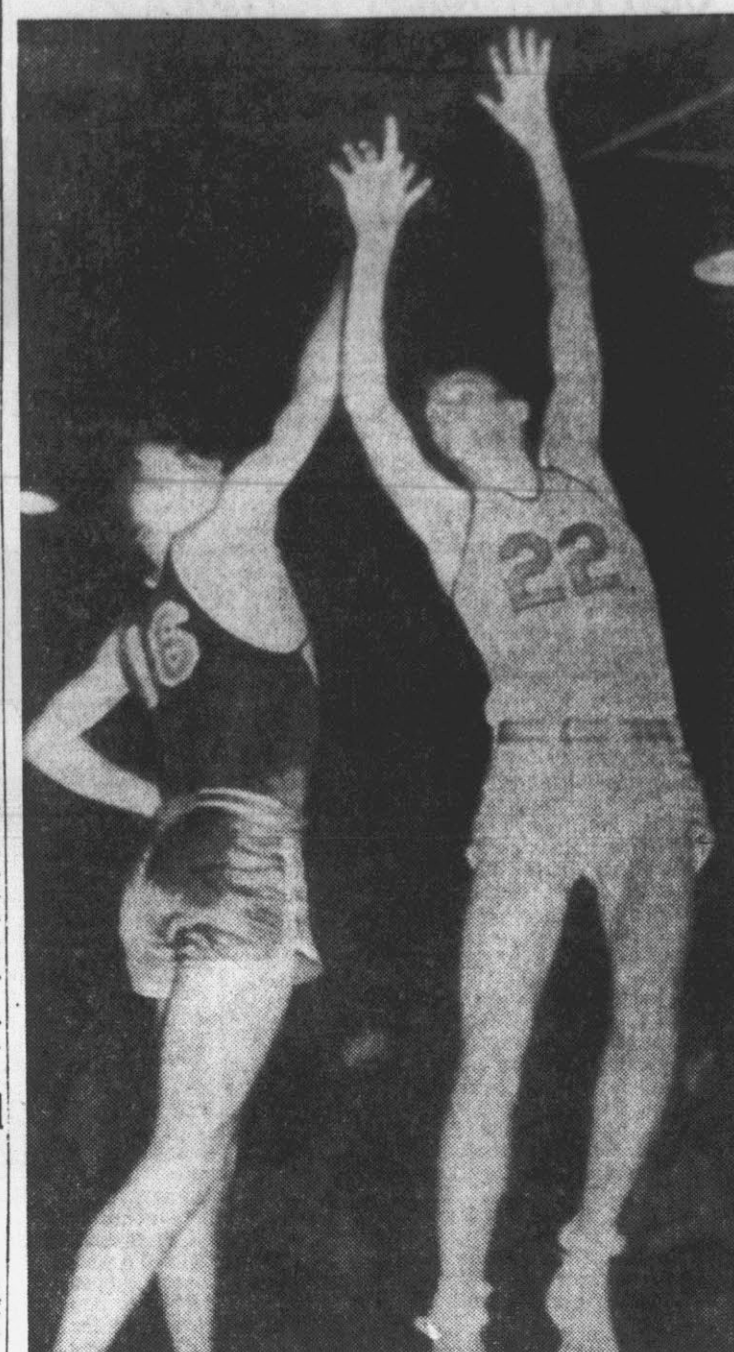

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, which has soaked the Carolinas for half of the Biblical 40 days, changed the minds of several college football coaches who had planned to get spring drills under way.

Duke Coach Bill Murray, set to swing into action Saturday afternoon, took a look at the soggy practice field and postponed the opening until Tuesday when, weather permitting, workouts will begin at 2 p.m.

Coach "Sunny Jim" Tatum at the University of North Carolina Saturday, for the second time, delayed the beginning of drills. He planned to call out the Tar Heels this afternoon — again, weather permitting.

Paced Bucs To 86-77 Victory

HIGH SCORER—Guy Mendenhall, East Carolina's 6-4 guard from Cary, led the Pirates to their 11th victory of the season this weekend against a heavily-favored McCary Eagles at Asheboro. Mendenhall popped in 17 points to lead all scorers, while Joe Plaster and Tim Smothers netted 15 each. Above, Mendenhall (22) executes his favorite scoring punch, a jump shot.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices broke below the 1956 lows in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Failure to rally from a low point where buying support has developed several times in the past year or so was regarded as highly significant in Wall Street. Analysts said that the market was undergoing a major test and if it fails to snap back in a day it will seek substantially lower levels.

The market was mixed at the start but soon developed a lower tendency. As prices worsened, trading increased in volume.

Key stocks took sharp losses with many hitting new 1956-57 lows. Prices were off from fractions to around 3 points.

Steels, aircrafts, oils and rails were under selling pressure. The market has been declining irregularly since the first of the year and today's action was regarded as climactic.

Two Accidents In City Friday

Two accidents occurred on Greenville streets Friday with damages totaling approximately $1750.

The most costly collision occurred in the afternoon at 5 o'clock and involved a slight,擦伤 injury. Acey Lee, Jr. of Gmgesland Rt. 1, suffered a slight injury to his right side when the car in which he was a passenger driven by Wilbur Allen Elks of Grimesland Rt. 1, was involved in a collision with a 1955 vehicle operated by Mrs. Walter A. Styers, Jr. of 400 Maple St. The accident took place at the intersection of 11th and Charles Sts.

Police estimated the damages on Elks car at $700, most of the damage being on the right side of the vehicle. The Styers automobile received $300 damage.

Mrs. Styers was charged for failure to yield the right of way. Damages amounted to $750 in a two car collision Friday morning at 9 o'clock at the intersection of Chestnut and Wilson Sts.

Involved in the wreck were Joseph Earl Joyner of Greenville Rt. 2 and Dessie Gaskins Stanley also of Greenville Rt. 2.

Investigation reports state that $300 damage was done to the Joyner car and $450 to the Stanley vehicle. No one was injured. Joyner was arrested being charged with failure to stop at a stop sign.

Roger Wagner Chorale Concert Here Feb. 28

The Roger Wagner Chorale, hailed by critics as the finest singing group in America today, will appear in concert at East Carolina College Thursday, Feb. 28, under the auspices of the college Entertainment Committee. The program is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Wright auditorium.

Headed by its dynamic French-born director, Roger Wagner, the 24-voice chorus is now making its second cross-country tour. During an 11-week period the youthful choristers and their conductor will appear in some 75 cities from coast to coast. Major cities in which they will be heard in concert include Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Seattle.

The list of Roger Wagner's musical activities embraces every field of music. In addition to guiding the destinies of the group which bears his name in concert, radio, television and motion pictures, as well as in recordings, Wagner is choir director at St. Joseph's Church and the Church of St. Paul the Apostle, Los Angeles. He is director of choral music at the University of California at Los Angeles and head of the choral department at Marymount College in Los Angeles.

Music director for three years of the "I Married Joan" television show, Wagner also conducted the choral synchronizations for a number of hit films including "Desiree," "The Egyptian" and "Day

Struck By Car, Leg Is Broken

A 38-year-old Greenville Negro woman had her right leg broken yesterday when she was struck by a car on Staton's Mill Road, north of Greenville.

Annie Rollins Worthington, 2068 River Drive, was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment after the accident which occurred about 10:05 a.m. Highway Patrolman Bill Whitehurst said the woman walked in front of a car operated by Howard Bullock, Route 3, Bethel. The woman told Whitehurst she "did not see" the car.

No charges were made against Bullock.

Minor Damage In Saturday Wreck.

A minor two-car collision occurred here Saturday at the intersection of Dickinson and Grande Avenues.

The automobiles involved were driven by Edward Earl Dixon of 1102 W. 4th St. and Albert Lee, 21-year-old Negro of Winterville Rt. 1.

Police report that there were $150 damages and no personal injuries. No arrest was made.

Soil Bank Agreements

GOLDSBORO—Wayne County farmers have signed 539 agreements placing 3,441.85 acres of crops in soil banks through last Friday, according to reports from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. The agreements will mean an income of $180,460.47 which is 23 per cent of the county's allocation of $787,579 in soil bank payments or 1957.

Farmer Robbed

WALTONBURG—A 70-year-old bachelor while alone on his farm near here was robbed of a reported $11,000 in cash Friday night.

The victim was named by Greene County Sheriff H. K. Cobb as Joe Hayes, owner of several farms around Walstonburg. Hayes was reported to be getting along "Pretty good" in a Wilson hospital over the weekend. The robber knocked the farmer unconscious near the back of his home and took the money, all in $100 bills from his back pocket.

New Grain Elevator

WASHINGTON, N. C.—Beaufort county may have a new 600,000-bushel grain storage elevator by next fall that will save farmers thousands of dollars by preventing the need to sell on glutted autumn markets.

At least that is the hope of agricultural leaders now engaged in mapping a long-range program designed to improve the economy of the area over a period of years. Already sketches have been made for the proposed facility and two

Escaped Convict
SARATOGA—An escaped convict brought armed guards into this small town in an effort to head off possible trouble for a young woman.

Daniel Denton, serving a 35-year-term in the Nash County prison camp, escaped his confines January 22 and headed for Saratoga, reportedly to the home of his former girl friend, Ruby Howard. Guards stood watch for several days but have been pulled away after a fruitless effort. The convict is still at large.

County Fire Truck

ROCKY MOUNT—A definite step toward the solving of the rural fire protection problem in the Rocky Mount area was made at a meeting of representatives of the city and Nash and Edgecombe Counties here last Friday.

Following over two hours of discussion, a three man committee was named to make plans for the purchase of a rural fire truck which would be paid for by the two counties and maintained and housed by the city of Rocky Mount.
