They Will Guide Association's Work

AREA DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN—These men will guide the work of the East Central North Carolina Development Association as chairmen of standing committees of the group. They were elected at an organization meeting last night in New Bern. Left to right are: J. Brantley Speight of Winterville, chairman agriculture committee; Jake Strother of Kinston, chairman public information committee; Harold Stanley, Clinton, chairman recreation and travel committee; John Worthington of Eureka, a native of Winterville, chairman community development committee; and H. C. Wooten of Kinston, chairman organization committee. Not pictured is Charles McEnally of New Bern, chairman industrial committee. (Goldsboro News-Agrus Photo by Gene Price).

Developing Body Meets, Organizes

Committee chairmen were named last night in New Bern at the organizational meeting of the nine-county East Central North Carolina Development Association.

J. Brantley Speight of Winterville, Pitt County's member of the Agriculture Committee, was named chairman of that committee. Other committee chairmen named by the group were John Worthington of Eureka, formerly of Winterville, Community Development Committee; Jake Strother, managing editor of the Kinston Daily Free Press, Public Information Committee; Charles McEnally, New Bern, Industrial Committee; and Harold Stanley Clinton, Recreation and Travel Committee.

H. C. Wooten of Kinston, chairman of the organization committee, presided at the meeting.

Counties which comprise the East Central Development group are Pitt, Sampson, Wayne, Greene, Lenoir, Pamlico, Jones, Craven and Carteret.

The Association, in one of its first official acts, yesterday passed a resolution calling on the General Assembly to provide "adequate funds for the much needed permanent improvements at the port of Morehead City," and calling on the State Highway and Public Works Commission to plan for the "immediate widening and modernization" of all highways leading to the Morehead City port.

In individual committee meetings general plans were made for programs which will be carried on by the area development group. Speight said the agriculture committee emphasized possibilities for greater swine production in the area as well as the promotion of egg production.

The organization committee and chairmen of other committees will meet again in April in Greenville.

Representing Pitt County in the area association are Corey Stokes and David J. Whichard of Greenville on the organization committee; J. Brantley Speight, agriculture committee; Tom Willis of Farmville, industry committee; A. Hartwell Campbell of Greenville, public information committee; Fred Hodges, recreation and travel committee; and J. M. Butterworth of Bethel, community development committee.

Legislators Hear More Requests For State Funds

RALEIGH — More requests for additional money were expected to be sounded today as the Joint Appropriations Committee moved into its second day of hearings on the big state budget proposed for 1957-59.

At the opening hearing yesterday representatives of nine state agencies put in requests totaling $906,676 above the amount recommended in their budgets by the Advisory Budget Commission.

The biggest request came from the State Probation Commission, which wants additional money to expand its staff and program.

"I am boldly asking you for what we need," Probation Commissioner J. D. Beatty told the committee. Beatty requested $161,577 extra for the first year and $156,567 for the second year of the biennium.

The money would go chiefly for 27 additional probation officers and their expenses. Beatty said his agency now handle an average of 152 probationers and he wants to reduce the load to about 85 per man.

Beatty's chief point was that it costs only $66 a year to supervise a probationer, whereas a prisoner costs the state $878 a year.

Others requesting sums above those recommended for their budgets were: the Department of Motor Vehicles, $242,344 for the biennium; State Armory Commission, $231,000; P. A. R. C. Commission, $38,170; Personnel Department, $24,144; Symphony Society, $44,346; state treasurer, $68,538; and Civil Air Patrol, $5,000.

Asst. Motor Vehicles Commissioner Joe Garrett said his department needs more money to: hire clerk, buy cars for highway patrolmen, and pay automatic raises to rookie highway patrolmen after they have served two years and are promoted to private first class.

Meanwhile, the Joint Finance Committee was set to hold another briefing today on the proposed tax bill for the next biennium.

At yesterday's briefing, legislators raised their first questions on proposed tax revisions aimed at enhancing North Carolina's industrial development program.

UN Debate Recessed Pending U. S. Parleys

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The U. N. Middle East debate was suspended temporarily today while the United States worked on a compromise plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip without resort to sanctions.

The 80-nation General Assembly met this morning, but the president, Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, announced that no delegates were ready to speak on the Israeli-Egyptian dispute.

The Assembly went ahead with a long list of routine budgetary questions. It was expected to turn back to the Middle East problem later in the day.

Chief U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge was busy, meanwhile, consulting with other delegates on a resolution which he hoped to submit to the Assembly within a few hours.

The U. S. proposal was understood to include a provision for placing the Gaza Strip under temporary U. N. administration and for declaring the Gulf of Aqaba open to ships of all nations.

Observers predicted such a plan would run into bitter opposition from the Arab states, which had been counting on American support for their sanctions demand.

Details of the U. S. proposal were not disclosed, but U. S. delegation sources said it probably would contain a number of ideas put forward yesterday by Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson.

The U. S. plan reportedly has two key aims—immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops and insurance that there will be no revival of the previous hostile situation.

The American sources said it would omit the call for sanctions spelled out in an Asian-African resolution now before the Assembly. Reports were current, however, that the U. S. plan would try to meet Arab objections by providing that if the Israelis did not pull out within a certain time, the Assembly would consider penalties. A resolution with no punitive clause would arouse the ire of the Arabs, informed sources said.

Nearly 300 Farmers Signed Up For Crop Premeasurement

Nearly 300 Pitt farmers have signed up for premeasurement of their crop acreage allotments, James Meredith, office manager for the Pitt ADC, reported today.

The deadline for signing up for premeasurement is March 15. Meredith said, but "only a limited amount of premeasurement work can be done in the short time available so applications should be made early."

"Every year there are some farmers who through inaccurate measurement on their own part, or because of incorrect information on the acreage in permanent fields, plant either more or less than they are actually permitted by their allotment," Meredith said. "In the case of overplanting, this causes the farmer unnecessary expense in the way of unused fertilizer, unused plants or seed, and treating of land that cannot be used. In the case of underplanting this could cause the farmer to lose some of his planting history."

Meredith pointed out that the ASC will furnish, train and equip reporters who do the premeasurement work and the farmer will be required to pay only the actual cost of the visit to the farm. When he makes application at the ASC office for premeasurement service, the farmer deposits 75 cents per acre or $5 for the farm, whichever is greater to cover the costs of the work.

"The premeasured acreage will be accepted as the official measured acreage for all ASC purposes provided the farmer plants the entire premeasured area and no more and provided there was no obvious error made in premeasurement," Meredith declared.

He noted that a later trip will be made to the farm to determine that these requirements have been met, but in most cases an additional survey will not be required.

Washington Negro Elementary School Is Destroyed By Blaze

Threat Reported In Racket Probe

WASHINGTON, N. C. — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today the brother of a key witness in the labor racket investigation has been threatened with death, and that the FBI is investigating.

McClellan said the man who got the threat is "Carl Elkins, who is in Arizona," brother of James Elkins, a Portland, Ore., bootlegger and gambler now testifying before McClellan's special investigating committee.

McClellan called the threat a challenge from the underworld "to law an order and to the power of the government of the United States."

McClellan said it was a challenge his committee will accept. The statement that there had been a threat to Carl Elkins marked the start of the second day of hearings in which the committee is investigating alleged gangster and racketeer infiltration of labor unions and industry in the Portland area.

James Elkins said that McClellan's statement, that he had just one comment: "My brother is not in the rackets. We call him square."

Carl Elkins, 61, told police in Phoenix, Ariz., that he received a telephone call last night in which a voice he couldn't identify told him:

"Have that brother of yours quit down. Frank and Dave don't want him to talk any more."

Carl Elkins said he cut off his caller with "some good, old-fashioned multi-skinner language."

Informed of McClellan's statement, Carl Elkins told a reporter in Phoenix that his caller had not threatened death, and that he didn't know "where such a story could have gotten out."

He said he attributes the call to "some screwball crank, not a rank-and-file union man," and is not worried.

The FBI in Phoenix declined comment except to say the call was being investigated.

When the Senate committee convened this morning, McClellan held a whispered consultation with fellow committee members. Then he announced:

"Since the witness testified yesterday afternoon the FBI has advised us that his brother, Carl Elkins, who is in Arizona, has received another — this is not the first — anonymous telephone call threatening his life if he should testify or if Mr. Elkins, the witness present, should continue to testify."

Elkins yesterday described dealings with teamsters officials and with William Langley, Portland district attorney. He said he helped swing Teamsters Union political support to Langley in 1954 in return for what he called a "flat-footed" pledge from Langley to protect Elkins' gambling joints.

Elkins, 56, said he is under some two dozen state and federal indictments, some of them brought by Langley as district attorney. Langley has been indicted in the Portland scandals.

Other witnesses testified that Local 690 of the Teamsters Union in Spokane loaned more than $50,000 to gamblers and saloon keepers in Seattle and Spokane.

The names of Dave Beck, international president of the teamsters, and Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Teamsters Conference, figured in yesterday's testimony.

No Children Hurt As Fire Breaks Out In Early Hours

WASHINGTON, N. C. — An early morning fire today gutted the Washington Negro elementary school causing a loss estimated at upward of a quarter million dollars.

The blaze was discovered at 6:10 a. m., long before any of the 620 students assigned to the school had reported for classes.

There were no injuries.

An annex to the elementary school building was damaged by smoke but did not burn. Members of the Washington fire department prevented the blaze from spreading to the P. S. Jones Negro High School located about 50 yards from the elementary school and also saved the auditorium which is connected to the elementary building by a breezeway.

All the Negro schools of Washington are located on the same piece of property known as the P. S. Jones campus.

The Washington Daily News reported the destroyed building was insured for $20,000 and its contents for $30,000, but local school officials had not officially estimated the loss. Reports from Washington said the loss probably would range considerably higher than the insurance coverage.

After firemen brought the fire under control only the walls of the two-story brick structure were left standing. Fire Chief Fred Potts said in his opinion the blaze started in the kitchen adjacent to the lunchroom on the second floor of the building. He estimated the fire had been burning at least two hours before it was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. Before firemen arrived the blaze had spread to the attic of the building and caught the asphalt roof.

The roof and second floor of the building caved in as fire raged through the wood-construction interior of the school. Although the date the building was erected was not available, it is estimated to be between 25 and 30 years old.

The school janitor discovered the fire when he reported to work early this morning and went to turn in the alarm. Firemen received his call moments after they received another report on the blaze.

In addition to 14 classrooms which housed first through the fifth grades, the building also contained a cafeteria and a library.

Before the fire was brought under control this morning Negro churches and lodges in Washington were offering use of their buildings for continuing the school classes. A meeting had been set for this afternoon to plan and organize the temporary classroom set-up in quarters throughout the city.

Classes in all Negro schools of Washington were suspended for today. They are expected to resume tomorrow.

It was the third grade school razed by fire in North Carolina this month. Franklin Elementary School at Mount Airy burned Feb. 6 and the Flat Rock Elementary School near Mount Airy was destroyed last Friday. A Flat Rock student, 9-year-old Larry Adams, died in the fire there and his teacher, Mrs. Cora Beasley, died today of burns suffered as she helped children escape.

Plans Are Formulated For Clean Up-Paint Up

Greenville's Intensive Clean Up-Paint Up campaign will be conducted during the first two weeks of April, President of the Council Brooks Beddingfield announced at a meeting of the Council last night.

Representatives of various civic groups gathered at City Hall to make further plans for the Clean Up-Paint Up campaign.

Beddingfield pointed out that the city will be divided into 14 sections and each of the areas will be surveyed by appointed groups to determine the clean up needs of each area.

Each of the groups will be asked to report back on their findings not later than next Monday, the Council president said. Results of the survey will determine further plans for conducting the campaign.

The idea of the spring clean up originated with the Greenville Garden Club. A meeting of civic groups was called and Beddingfield was elected president of the Clean Up-Paint Up Council. The new president then called last night's meeting at which committee appointments were made.

Organizations and individuals in charge of surveying various areas were announced as follows: Area No. I, Forest Hills, Elmhurst, Englewood, Sheratan Place, Forest Hills Garden Club; Area No. II, Rock Springs, Brookgreen, Elm St. Park, Brookgreen, Brookgreen Garden Club; Area No. III, Senior Woman's Club, Mrs. J. C. Galloway, Student Government (ECC), Dr. James Tucker (ECC); Area No. IV, Jay-C-ettes.

Area No. V, Junior Woman's Club; Area No. VI, Women of the Moose; Area No. VII, Pocahontas, White Shrine; Area No. VIII, Lakewood Pines Garden Club; Area No. IX, VFW Auxiliary, American Legion Auxiliary; Area No. X, Negro—D. Vote Exonerate Six Convicted Of Witchcraft

BOSTON — The Massachusetts Senate has voted to exonerate Ann Pudeator and five other women who were convicted of witchcraft in the Salem trials of 1692. Some, including Miss Pudeator, were executed.

Before the vote yesterday, Sen. Charles Hogan said proponents of the exonerating legislation had agreed to accept amendments under which the descendants of the women would receive no damage payments.

Opponents of the legislation had argued that Salem was part of an English colony at the time of the witchcraft hysteria and it was up to Parliament, rather than the Massachusetts Legislature, to undo the wrong.

Descendants of Miss Pudeator had sought exoneration for the women.

Lack Licenses, Eight Cited

Police Chief S. G. Gibbs announced this morning that eight more citizens have been cited to city court for not having purchased or failed to display Greenville city tags.

Five of the arrests were made yesterday, with the other three coming on Monday.

Chief Gibbs states that local police will continue to set up traffic checks in an effort to alleviate the tag situation.

Heroic Teacher Dies Of Burns

WINSTON-SALEM — A middle-aged school teacher whose heroic efforts were credited with saving many of the 400 pupils from being trapped in last Friday's Flat Rock school fire died early today in Baptist Hospital here.

Mrs. Cora Beasley, 53, third-grade instructor, was the second victim of the flash fire which leveled the 30-year-old brick and frame structure.

Larry Adams, a 9-year-old crippled student in Mrs. Beasley's room, who was unable to move about quickly, was trapped by the flames.

Mrs. Beasley, suffering from 50 per cent burns, had been listed in critical condition since her admission to the hospital.

Trapped in the building after returning to try to find the Adams child, the teacher was dragged out by Principal A. P. Phillips only seconds before the roof collapsed.

Before re-entering the building the teacher had led many of the other children out, witnesses said.

Three of the estimated 400 youngsters injured in the blaze remained in critical condition at the hospital here.

He Did It

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — William Negley, San Antonio oilman, has killed two elephants with bow and arrows to win a $10,000 bet, he cabled his wife.

Mrs. Negley informed A. N. Gasman, archery dealer, that she had received a cable from her husband in the Belgian Congo saying:

"Killed two elephants according to wager."

Negley, 42, had bet William K. Carpenter, Wilmington, Del., $1,000 to $10,000 he could kill an elephant with archery equipment.

Negley left on his expedition Feb. 9 with a 5-foot, 4-inch "hard" rock maple center bow. It has a 102-pound pull and shoots 3-inch arrows of compressed cedar impregnated with plastic.

Young Turncoat Quits Red China

HONG KONG — The youngest American turncoat of the Korean War left Red China today saying he quit the Communist mainland in disgust over the "wanton killing by Russia in Hungary."

Samuel David Hawkins, now 23, declared he had made it plain to the Red Chinese authorities he wanted to leave because of the Soviet Union's action in putting down the Hungarian rebellion last fall. The Oklahoma City youth told reporters the Chinese did not try to stop him.

Hawkins is the seventh to come home of 21 U. S. soldiers who were captured during the Korean fighting and chose to remain with the Communists. One died in China and 13 are still there.

The returnee came from Canton to the border by train and crossed the border railroad bridge on foot. He was met by U. S. Vice Consul S. M. Backe.

Backe questioned him and said he was satisfied the youth had not forfeited his U. S. citizenship. Hawkins will be given a one-way passport to the United States. His citizenship would have been forfeited automatically if it had been found that he had served in a foreign army, voted in a foreign election, or done similar things. He was dishonorably discharged from the Army in 1954.

Ayden Gave 106 Pints Of Blood

AYDEN — Jack Schrock, chairman of the Ayden bloodbank program, has announced the recent visit by the Red Cross Bloodmobile was highly successful.

The program was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Working with the Jaycees were the Ayden's Women's Club and a group of volunteers.

According to reports from Schrock, 106 pints of blood was collected from the 122 people that turned out for the event. Approximately 20 per cent of the donors were Negro.

State Program Outlined For Troop 'A'

PATROL OFFICERS OUTLINE PROGRAM—Col. James R. Smith (center) commander of the State Highway Patrol, goes over this year's highway safety program with Capt. S. H. Mitchell (left), commander of troop A, and Lt. Tom Brown. The officers met here today with 115 Highway Patrolmen of troop A to outline the highway safety program for this year and to review policies of the Department of Motor Vehicles. (Photo by SHP James W. Boykin).

Highway Patrolmen of Troop A met in Greenville today to hear officers of the State Highway Patrol outline the traffic safety program for the current year and review departmental policies.

All of the 115 patrolmen in the troop were here to meet with Col. James R. Smith, commander of the North Carolina State Highway Patrol, and troop officers Cap-of stepped up law enforcement on traffic regulations violators and an intensified campaign to gain greater public support for highway safety.

Today's meeting in Greenville is one of the series of meetings being held at each of the five Highway Patrol troop headquarters throughout the state. Troop A is comprised of 27 eastern counties.

Andrews and Mrs. Irvin Robinson assisted in serving party accompaniments.

Mrs. D. B. Shackelford presided over the bridal register and Mrs. Henry Wood and Miss Nurita Mayo assisted with gifts.

30 Years Ago Today

February 27, 1927
With drive after drive for one cause or another, together with the independent individual begging in our city, it is time our citizens were beginning to wonder for what purpose the funds solicited in the name of charity are being used and better than wondering it is high time for the city to adopt a Community Chest or some other orderly plan of giving to charity in order that the public may know that money given for charity goes to charity. Upon investigation last year it was found that many of the alleged organizations for which funds were solicited here did not even exist. Others were found to be worthy.

Bride Feted At Tea

ROBERSONVILLE — Mrs. Bill Riddick of Elizabeth City and Mrs. Tom Tisdale honored their niece, Mrs. William Baxter Waddill Jr. of Chapel Hill, at a tea Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 5. For this occasion the Tisdale home on Green Street was decorated with a pink color scheme. An arrangement of carnations and tall matching candles was used on the mantel in the living room. The guests were greeted by the hostesses and the honoree, the former Miss Mary Glyn Norman of Robersonville. Mrs. Alton Rodgers invited the guests to the dining room where the table was spread with white organdy over pink taffeta. Shirred white satin ribbon outlined the table which was centered with gladiolus and carnations interspersed with baby breath in a high silver vase. Pink tapers tied with net surrounded the floral arrangement. Mrs. H. G. Norman, mother of the honoree, poured the tea while Miss Margaret Norman of Elizabeth City, Mrs. Ottis Woolard, Mrs. Leo Everett and Mrs. Oscar Burch assisted in serving. Mrs. Hilton Carson, aunt of the honoree, presided at the register and said the goodbyes.

Lector Club Elects Officers

The Lector Book Club met Tuesday and elected Mrs. Harold Forbes president for the coming year. The vice-president is Mrs. Hugh Winslow; secretary, Mrs. Powell Speight; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Wilson; and librarian, Mrs. Holly VanDyke. The program was presented by Mr. O. S. Joyner, who spoke on Jehovah's Witnesses, which dates back to 1870.

Births

Clarke
Born to the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald O. Clarke of Alameda, Calif., a son, James Michael, February 15 in Alameda Hospital. Mrs. Clarke is the former Miss Lula Purvis Gray of Robersonville.

At that time a group met for an intensified study of the Bible. The Watchtower publication was an outgrowth of this study. Mr. Joyner stated that when one of their members is baptized, he becomes a minister. The ministers visit in homes, conducting Bible studies and distributing religious literature.

Mrs. Holly VanDyke, hostess, served a dessert course with coffee to the members and guests. The guests included Mrs. L. P. Bloxam, Mrs. I. B. Jackson, Mrs. D. C. Wade Jr., Mrs. Herbert Wilkerson, Mrs. Norman Wilkerson, Mr. O. S. Joyner and Mr. C. E. Manning.

Missionary Service

The Greenville Free Will Baptist Church and community will meet tonight at 7:30 for a missionary service. Rev. Daniel Merkh will be present to show colored slides, showing the people, conditions and challenge of the Bonaparte Circle Area, Ivory Coast, Africa. Rev. and Mrs. Merkh plan to leave the first of October for language school in Switzerland, and then on to Africa as missionaries. Everyone is urged to attend this inspiring service tonight with open hearts and minds for the direction of the Lord in Christian living.

Mrs. Spilman Reviews Book

Mrs. J. B. Spilman reviewed the book "Gift From The Sea" for members of the Lydia Wooten Class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church Monday night. The book, by Anne M. Lindbergh, compares the various types of sea shells with phases in everyday life. Mrs. Clara Meye Shackell gave the devotional on "Love." She spoke of the greatness of love and said love given is always repaid doubly. A prayer on God's love for all closed her remarks. The meeting, presided over by Mrs. J. L. Simmons, was held at the home of Mrs. Arden Tucker. Announcement of family night at the church, February 27, was made and members were urged to attend. Hostesses with Mrs. Tucker for the occasion were Mrs. H. A. Hudson, Mrs. Nannie Brown, Mrs.

Shackell, Mrs. A. C. Tadlock and Mrs. Earl Woolard. During the social period cherry tarts with whipped cream and coffee were served.

Dance Given On Birthday

ROBERSONVILLE — Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Kilpatrick honored their daughter Linda with a dance from 8:30 until 12 o'clock Saturday night at the Wilson Hotel. The occasion was her seventeenth birthday. The Valentine theme was used in the decorations. The refreshment table was covered with a red and white cloth centered with a large arrangement of gladioli and carnations flanked by red candles. A four-tiered white cake decorated with red confectionery hearts was cut and served with sandwiches, mints, salted party mix and red fruited punch. Miss Kilpatrick said the good-byes to the 125 guests.

HD Club Has Supper Meeting

The Sweet Gum Grove Home Demonstration Club held a supper meeting Thursday night to which husbands of members were invited guests. A turkey and ham supper was served buffet style to some 90 members and guests. Mrs. Lewis Whitehurst, president, welcomed guests and the Rev. D. W. Alexander responded. The Rev. J. B. Narron returned thanks. Following supper, the devotional was given by Eric Whichard and a poem on family living was read by Mrs. Margaret Tetterton. Miss Lois Jones, assistant home demonstration agent, introduced Cecil Register who gave a demonstration on the different types of insurance. His discussion included the benefits and costs of each kind. Also on the program was Kenneth Whichard who talked on social security for farmers. Door prize went to Eric Whichard, who held the lucky place card number.

"Oh, darling," she cried softly, "I'm for you. Of course!"
He put his hands upon her shoulders, looked close into her eyes. "Then why do you try to send me away from you?"

Legislator Said To Have Agreed Accept A Bribe

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—State Rep. James E. Cox has been charged with agreeing to accept a bribe after a physician complained to state officials that Cox offered to kill a medical bill for $5,000.

Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physician's Assn., said Cox offered to withdraw a bill in the Texas Legislature for that sum. The bill, authored by Cox, would repeal a statute regulating naturopaths and, in effect, would put them out of business in Texas.

Naturopaths use natural therapy rather than drugs or surgery in healing.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Cox. He was reported to be in his home town of Conroe, Tex., about 60 miles north of Houston.

Montgomery County Sheriff W. S. Willette said Cox was notified of the charge against him and was expected to surrender sometime today.

Dr. Harmon said Cox, 36, made the offer to accept the alleged bribe in a conversation with him in a hotel here Feb. 20.

He said he came to Austin to discuss the bill with Cox, "and he let me know it was 'one of those business deals.'"

"I called an electronics outfit and asked them to put a recording device in my hotel room. Then Cox came to me and said that for $5,000 he would be willing to withdraw his House Bill 274," Harmon said.

Dr. Harmon said he recorded the conversation on tape and reported it to Speaker of the House Waggoner Carr of Lubbock and gave him the tape.

Carr announced the charge against Cox to Capitol newsmen.

The warrant against Cox charged him with agreeing to consent to a bribe to use his influence on the bill outlawing the practice of naturopathic medicine. The bill currently is pending House committee action.

Carr said if the charge is substantiated, it could lead to expulsion for Cox. Cox, serving his second term, represents Grimes and Montgomery counties in southeast Texas.

Assigned Post In Red Cross Drive

Dick Greene, Greenville Red Cross City chairman, has announced the appointment of Morris Brody, of Brody's Inc. as chairman for solicitation of local branch firms.

MORRIS BRODY

The city chairman stated this morning that, "I am extremely happy to have Mr. Brody working with the Red Cross during this year's campaign and feel sure that this qualified businessman will certainly be an asset to the campaign."

Brody in turn has appointed the following committee to assist in the solicitation of the branch firms: Jack Whitchard, John Zeh, J. H. Thomas, George Boyd, Merrell Bass, Louise Carrigan, Buzzy Good-year and Claude Baines.

It has been requested by the newly appointed chairman that each firm send in their donation as soon as possible in order that this part of the campaign may be completed by March 15.

Soil Test Data Return Quickly

Farmers having their soil tested this year are getting soil test results back quickly even though this is the rush season for the state soil testing laboratory. County Agent Sam C. Winchester reports.

The soil laboratory reports that it has thus far been able to analyze the soils as soon as they are received and prompt service could be given on about a third more samples than are being received at present.

The county agent says that Pitt County farmers are missing a real opportunity to "stretch" the money they spend in producing crops if they don't take advantage of free soil testing service. He stressed the importance of having soil tested for all crops rather than just the more important ones.

"All crops must produce high yields if a good return is to be realized on the money invested in crop production," Winchester said. "A soil test takes a lot of gamble out of farming."

Soil samples supplies can be obtained from the Extension office, ASC office, SCS office or from Vo-Ag teachers.

Two Student Nurses Conclude Their 'Field Training' In Pitt Tomorrow

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Staff Writer

Training programs, as such, are not unusual for the nursing staff of the Pitt County Health Department.

Tomorrow, however, the regular nurses will wrap up a training program that has had some unique aspects. That's the day two Negro student nurses will return to Winston-Salem Teachers College.

The two, Shirley Caldwell of Greensboro and Barbara Hope of Columbia, S. C., have been at the Health Department since January 1. Under the supervision of Miss Julia Fisher, chief nurse, and other members of the nursing staff, the girls have had eight weeks of field work and practical experience as Public Health Nurses.

The training the two girls have had is the high point of their four-year collegiate nurses training. They are Senior students in the Winston-Salem college's nursing program, one of four collegiate nursing programs in the state.

Their time in Pitt County has involved a great deal of work for them. They have had experience, under supervision, in all clinics conducted by the Health Department. They have participated in other phases of Health Department activity in which nurses participate.

Field trips to the Eastern North Carolina Sanatorium at Wilson, the Pitt County Welfare Department, and the Health Department's Mental Health Service have put them into direct contact with other aspects of public health experiences. They have also had an opportunity to participate in an all-day nurses' conference in Williamston, to get answers to questions that have come up for them and for other public health nurses.

The girls climaxed their local work Monday by presenting case studies they had made to members of the nursing staff. The studies included every phase of the work encountered by the girls in developing an individual case.

A resume of the work done by the student nurses was given last week by Miss Fisher to Mrs. L. H. Reeves, public health nursing instructor, and Mrs. Beverley Knight, director of the school of nursing.

The two girls were the first undergraduate trainees the Health Department has ever had. They aren't expected to be the last, however, according to Miss Fisher. She termed their work "very satisfactory."

Founder's Day Is Observed By PTA At Chicod

CHICOD—PTA Founder's Day was observed by Chicod parents and teachers at their regular PTA meeting last Thursday.

A program, "Our Objects, Then and Now", was presented to the group. Participating in the program were R. H. Warren, narrator; Mrs. Gladys Mills, mother; Norman Stanley, father; G. K. Brunson, community representative; Miss Mary Ann Oates, teacher; the Rev. F. B. Cherry, church representative; and the high school glee club under the direction of Mrs. Frances Madry.

The forthcoming school bond election was discussed by the group during the business session. In other business, Mrs. Rebecca Overman presented a resolution proposing that Chicod PTA go on record as favoring a substantial pay increase for teachers and other state employees equal to that proposed by the state school board.

Following the business session and program, thirty-year Home Economics students, assisted by Mrs. Ann Hodges, served punch and a seven-layer birthday cake.

Either Art, Or 'Monstrosity'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Is it a shocking eyesore, or a mellowed masterpiece of art? Should it be destroyed, or should it simply be touched up by dotting experts?

Such questions revolved today around Philadelphia's City Hall, a dollop of gingerbread and offbeat Gothic architecture with William Penn at the top.

More than 400 members of the Citizens Council of City Planning got together and resumed the old argument.

"It's a pretentious monstrosity," huffed one citizen planner.

"Rot!" puffed another. "It's in

Bethel, Farmville Boys, And Stokes Girls Score Wins

By BILLY ARNOLD Tonight, in the third rounds of the Pitt County Basketball Tournament, two girls games and a boys contest will be the feature attractions.

Grifton and Belvoir, of the girls division, will battle at 8:30; Ayden and Grimesland, of the boys bracket, will scrap at 8:00, and the Winterville and Grimesland girls will tangle at 9:30.

Last Night In last night's action, the top-ranked Bethel boys and the top-ranked Stokes girls, along with Farmville's boys went out over opponents in the second leg of tournament play.

Bethel Wins Bethel's boys, who breezed through a 15-1 mark this season, trampled Stokes 56-40 and a tightly-played contest at 9:30 last night.

Coach Walter Latham, whose first-ranked club was making its first appearance in the tourney, said after the game, "We had a hard time tonight, and I think we'll be very lucky to reach the finals."

The Big Red played a fast-firing game of ball but were slowed up considerably by Stokes' holding tactics. Bobby Conleton, of Stokes, kept the visitors in the game with a 12-point effort, receiving help from G. Grey in the ball-handling and rebound departments.

Deacs Keep Trying, But Tar Heels Are Frustrating On Hardwood Court

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ask the Wake Forest Deacons. Like with the two-dollar horse player who hopes to make a killing, it's sort of an obsession. He'd like to keep trying it from now to doomsday, but it keeps licking him.

In the Deacons' case, it's the North Carolina Tar Heels who furnish the frustration. Three times this season now Wake Forest has come oh, so close to beating the nation's No. 1 basketball team, only to lose to its Atlantic Coast Conference rival by margins of 8, 3, and 5 points.

Last night, on their home court, the Deacons held a 64-63 lead over their chief rivals with 46 seconds left. Then something like the New York baseball Yankees and their seventh-inning lightning—the Tar Heels struck to put it away. Lennie Rosenbluth hit on two free throws, Pete Brennan added a free throw and a field goal and Tommy Kearns a free throw. It was all over for Wake Forest, 69-64.

All Set To Sign For Return Bout

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Kid Gavilan, still burning over what he called "another home town decision," and sharp-shooting Vince Martinez were all set today to sign for a return bout.

Martinez, 27-year-old, fourth-ranking welterweight contender from nearby Paterson, N.J., won the referee's decision over the 31-year-old ex-champ in a close and interesting 10-rounder last night.

Referee Joe Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, awarded the verdict to the pride of Jersey by a 6-3-1 rounds score. Twelve of 18 boxing writers at the ringside thought the Keed won. Four had Vince the winner while two, including this observer, had it even.

They requested that their names not be used. "We, as a group, are stigmatized," one said. "We want to build a bridge between us and the public. We don't want to be coddled, babied or have a red carpet thrown before us, but to pay our penalty to society and get a fair break."

Title On Line As Unbeaten Bears Enter Tourney

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Lenoir Rhyne's Bears, undefeated in 16 North State Conference games, enter the conference basketball tournament here tonight with a 21-game winning streak and the North State title on the line.

Lenoir Rhyne, top-seeded, plays the seventh-place Guilford Quakers at 9:15. The first game at 7:30 p.m. pits High Point, No. 4, with Atlantic Christian, which lost the draw for the fourth position.

The first round will be completed tomorrow night when Western Carolina, No. 3, plays East Carolina, No. 6, at 7:30 and second-seeded Elon faces Catawba at 9:15. Semifinals will be played Friday night and the championship game at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Crowds Expected At New Belk-Tyler Center Opening

A large crowd of customers is expected at the grand opening tomorrow morning of Belk-Tyler's brand new Bedding and Fabric Center which opens on Evans Street in Greenville promptly at 9:15.

The new store annex, which will feature a large and complete line of bedding and fabric selections, is a far cry from the small and congested space it has occupied for so many years on the main floor of the old store. In fact, the new annex building is almost as large in floor area as the entire street floor of the old store.

Belk-Tyler's growth here in Greenville has been one of steady progress ever since the doors were opened in 1930. Under the aggressive leadership of its Manager, B. D. Johnston, the store has expanded in sales volume until it was necessary to expand into new quarters and to launch into a remodeling program which will be spread over a period of three years.

The completion of the new Evans Street Belk-Tyler store is the first phase of this three year program. It features a modern front of two-tone grey porcelainized steel with a marquee of stainless steel trimmed on its underside with striated wood paneling. A new sidewalk under the marquee has been constructed of hard surfaced multi-colored terrazzo which gives the front both color and life as the customers enter into the store.

Upon entering the store from Evans Street the customers first see the new visual front display windows in which the newest fashions in fabrics are gracefully displayed. These displays are highlighted by the use of the new ultra-modern window lighting featuring multi-purpose swivel spotlights. Inside the store customers are greeted by the soft tones of pastel colors which have been artistically used to decorate the walls. Delightful self-service wall fixtures and handsome hand rubbed oak counters add to the decor of this large new department. These colors and fixtures are highlighted by the use of grey tile floors and daylight soft fluorescent lighting from lowered overhead fixtures which run the full length of the store.

The store is completely air-conditioned so as to give complete comfort in all types of weather and has been completely re-wired to handle the tremendous load of electricity which will be required to service the store. New perimeter store-rooms were included in the planning to make it easy to carry the warehouse stock right in the department so that it is always handy to the salespeople.

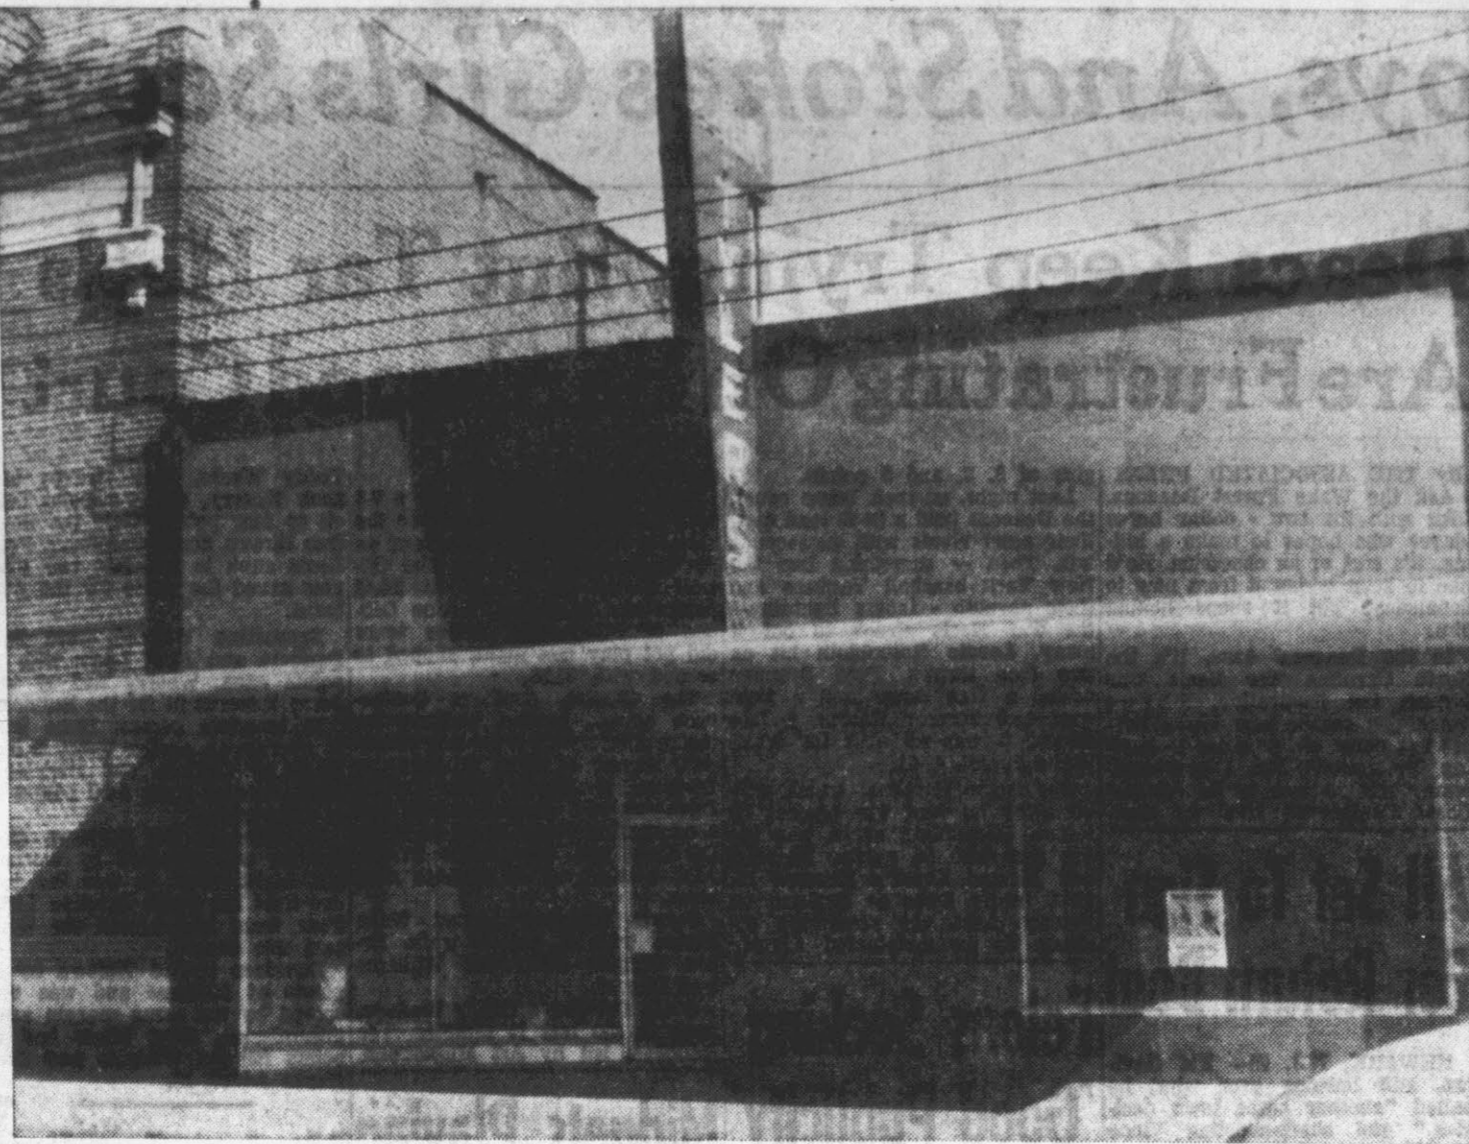

The grand opening, which begins tomorrow morning, is expected to bring throngs of shoppers to Belk-Tyler's here in Greenville for the many Opening Day bargains which will be featured. Manager Johnston, stated that extra salespeople, extra cashiers and extra wrappers have been hired and will be on hand to help handle the extra crowds.

Eastern Carolina To See Bargains

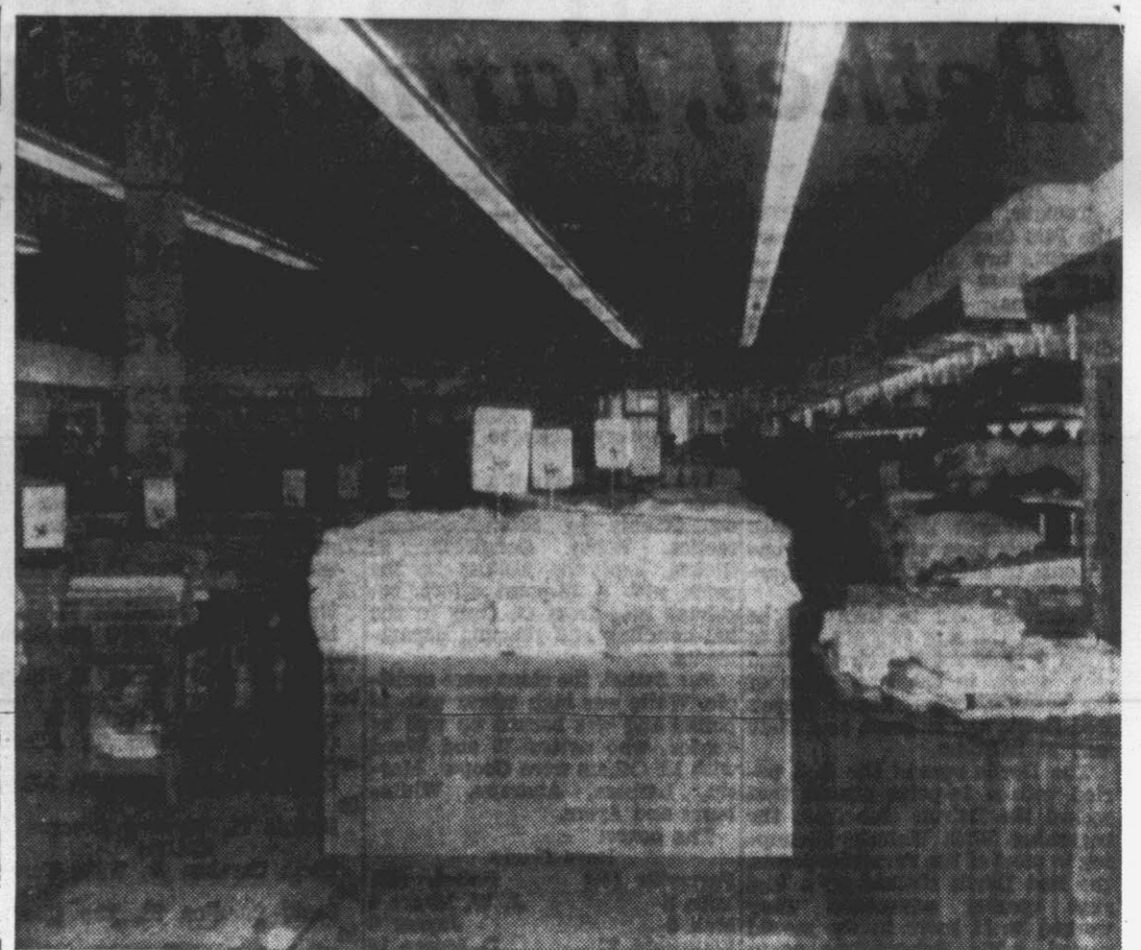

The eyes of thousands of Eastern Carolina shoppers will be on Belk-Tyler's here in Greenville tomorrow morning for the grand opening of the new Belk-Tyler Evans Street Bedding and Fabric Center.

For many weeks Belk-Tyler's large staff of buyers in New York, Charlotte and the buyers from the local store have been busy combing the market for exceptional opening day bargains. Special trips to New York and Charlotte have been made by the buyers for this one purpose and hundreds of rare special bargains have been bought for this occasion. A treat is in store for every shopper who visits Belk-Tyler's on opening day because every department has bought special "leaders" to run at bargain prices.

In addition to the one day bargains, Belk-Tyler's will award special hourly door prizes all day Thursday to those persons who register and whose names are drawn from the registration boxes. There will also be a grand prize of $50.00 which will be given away to the lucky winner whose name is drawn on Saturday afternoon.

NEW FABRIC CENTER—Belk-Tyler's new Bedding and Fabric center will have its formal grand opening tomorrow. The new and save department is located here on Evans Street next door to the theatre. Officials state that patrons will be afforded a large selection of all types of materials and bedding. (Reflector Staff Photo).

Store's Manager Is A 'Near Native'

B. D. Johnston, local manager of Belk-Tyler's, is a native of Courtland, Virginia, but has spent a large portion of his business life here in Greenville with the exception of short periods of during which time he served in positions of management in other Belk-Tyler stores. He attended and was graduated from the city schools of Emporia, Virginia and as a young man he saw military service overseas. It was from 1917 until 1919 that he served with the 21st Aero Squadron which was a part of the 3rd Aviation Instruction Center based at Issidon, France. This unit was one of many which were a part of the American Expeditionary Forces sent to Europe during World War I.

Upon returning from service he became associated in the mercantile business and for more than 18 years he was a member of the Coburn Shoe Stores of Eastern Carolina. During his association with this firm he served as the manager of its local branch. In July of 1942 he became associated with the Belk-Tyler Store in Wilson with the position as Assistant Manager and was later transferred to the Rocky Mount store where he served as the Assistant Manager with collateral duties as supervisor of the Ladies Ready-to-Wear floor. After having spent several years in executive positions in the Belk-Tyler stores Johnston returned to Greenville where he was promoted to the position of Manager in January 1948.

He is a Charter Member of the Greenville Lions Club, has served two terms as President of the Greenville Merchants Association. He is a member of the Mount Lebanon Lodge, AF&AM of Wilson, N.C., he is a member of the American Legion, a member of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army and has served as Chairman of the Found Raising Christmas Committee of the Salvation Army. Johnston is married to the former Vivian Edmonds of Roanoke Rapids, and they make their home at 2615 Dickinson Avenue in Greenville. He is a Steward and member of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church and is a Past President of the Ellington Men's Bible Class. Recently when A. L. Tyler, General Manager of the Belk-Tyler Stores, was asked to comment on the local store and its management he was quoted as saying, "Mr. Johnston has worked hard and has become one of the most qualified members of the Belk-Tyler Executive Staff. His superb business ability and guidance has caused the local store to prosper, and it is this one fact alone that has caused us to embark on this ambitious three year program of remodeling and expansion."

Selecting buttons has always been a problem, but now that problem has been eased by the tremendous variety of buttons which are on display at the new Belk-Tyler Bedding and Fabric Center on Evans Street which opens here tomorrow. A wide variety of buttons in both budget and better quality styles are shown and all are displayed in the new self service Notions Department.

Arthur L. Tyler, above, is considered one of the leading men in the merchandising field of the South today. As Executive Vice-President of the Belk-Tyler organization of 14 stores, Mr. Tyler has done much to plan the growth and progress of the organization into one of the largest in the country.

William Henry Belk, above, started the first Belk store in Monroe, N.C. with a capital of only $1,200, half of which he had borrowed at a ten percent interest. The fact that he has been successful speaks for itself in the opening of another modern Belk-Tyler feature building here in Greenville on Evans Street.

Greater Variety Of Piece Goods

MRS. A. V. MOORE

One of the highlights of Belk-Tyler's new Evans Street Bedding and Fabric Center will be the greater variety of piece goods which will be featured in this large and modern addition to the present Belk-Tyler store.

The large selling area encompasses almost 3,700 square feet of space and is one of the largest areas devoted exclusively to piece goods and bedding in this area. The new store is joined with the old store and it is completely air conditioned and features a complete line of smart looking new fixtures.

Mrs. A. V. Moore, Buyer of the new Evans Street store, said today that her department will be featuring the latest fashions in fabrics for the ladies sewing needs in cottons, silks, rayons, wools, Dacrons, Orions, Acetates and blends of the fibers. She said that her department will feature better quality goods as well as budget priced fabrics. She said the new department is featuring the famous "Quadrige" wash prints, the nationally advertised "Spring Knight" broadcloths, silk pongees, wool suitings, silk chiffon, taffeta, gingham and chambrays plus a vast array of other fabrics.

The Manager of Belk-Tyler's, B. D. Johnston, said today, "I'm looking forward to seeing a tremendous crowd of shoppers from Greenville and Pitt County here tomorrow for the Grand Opening of the new Evans Street store, and I know that Mrs. Moore is looking forward to seeing many of her friends with whom she has served for so many years."

Ceremonies Will Mark Opening

B. D. Johnston, Manager of the local Belk-Tyler Store, said today that special ceremonies for the Grand Opening will be observed when the doors of the new Evans Street bedding and fabric center are thrown open at 9:15 o'clock tomorrow morning. He said Mrs. Lillie Little, Pitt County Home Demonstration Agent, would officially cut the red ribbon after the opening ceremonies have been concluded. James Butler of East Carolina College will officiate as the master of ceremonies.

Officials of the local city and county government have been invited to be in attendance for this event. After the ribbon has been cut the doors will be thrown open to the shoppers who are expected to be present from miles around. Special bargains will be on sale in every department and a tremendous group of hourly door prizes will be given away every hour all day Thursday.

Ass't Manager Is Veteran In Firm

Gene T. Skinner, assistant manager of the local Belk-Tyler store, is a native of Raleigh, having been born there in 1925. He grew up here in Greenville and was graduated from the local city schools. He also attended East Carolina College.

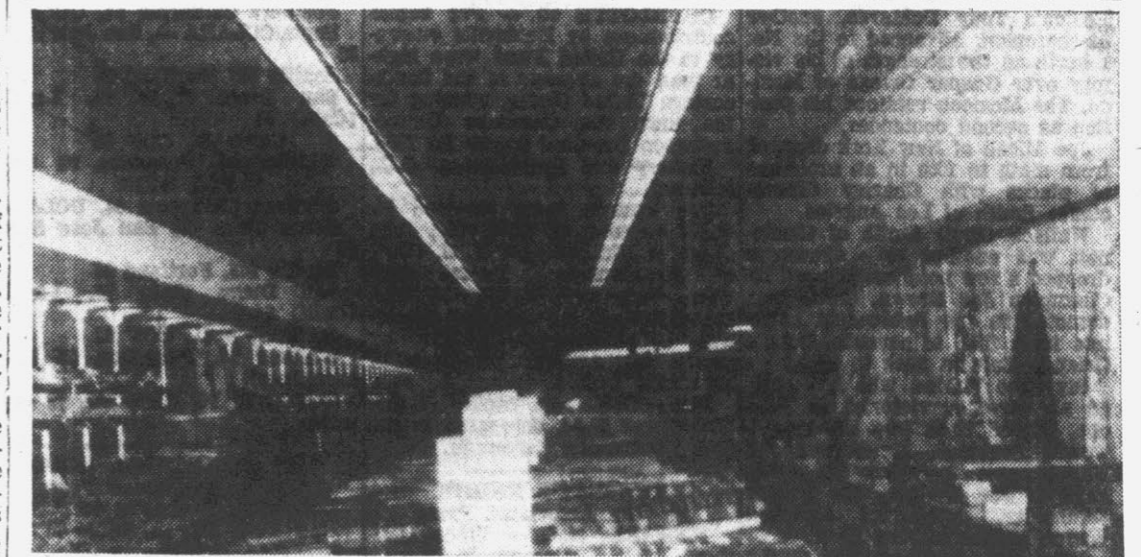

GENE T. SKINNER

Skinner started at Belk-Tyler's as an extra employee in 1941 and worked after school and on Saturdays in various departments. In 1943 he became a regular member of the staff of employees in the Boy's Department. He was soon recognized as having good qualities and was transferred to other departments for experience. In 1954 he was promoted to the position of assistant manager to B. D. Johnston, the local manager. Skinner is a member of the Belk Stores Executive Training Program and is looked upon as being in a position for promotions to higher levels of management within the Belk-Tyler Stores.

He is a member of the U.S. Army Reserve Unit 3015, Reception Station Unit, and holds the rank of sergeant first class. He is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a past member of the board of directors of that organization. He is a member of the Loyal Order of the Moose and is a former Trustee, former member of the board of directors, and a former Junior Governor. He is married to the former Doris Michalik of Charming, Pennsylvania and is a member of the First Presbyterian Church.
