Hodges 'Batting 1,000' With His Legislative Goals

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Hodges' boxscore continues to look good as he bats 1,000 on his legislative program. Two major phases of his program have scored and two more are halfway around the bases.

"being turned loose for half the time he is sentenced for," he said as he bats 1,000 on his legislative program. The work release plan, supporters contend, would reduce costs of prison operations and hold down welfare payments to families to men sentenced to prison.

Three Tobacco Exporters Of Farmville To Face Trial

By JIMMY ELLIS, Reflector Staff Writer. Judge Don Gilliam of Tarboro, Eastern District Federal Judge, apparently holds the key to the future of 11 indictments returned yesterday against three Farmville tobacco exporters, charged with dealing with an enemy of the United States.

The case will be tried in Eastern District court in Washington, D. C. Conviction on each of the 11 counts carries a maximum fine of $10,000 and maximum imprisonment of 10 years.

Assets and Control Division of the U. S. Treasury Department, said the Monk Company conspired with the Hong Kong agent, Tze E. Pun, to trade with Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company. Minskoff said the Nanyang company is a known Chinese Communist business.

Monk's attorney, Charles Green of Louisburg, said yesterday at the hearing that the violations amounted to a technicality. He could not be reached this morning for elaboration.

Rayburn Indicates Tax Cut Hopes Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax reduction at this session of Congress became an increasing possibility today. Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the controlling Democratic majority in the House, said prospects are "good" for a tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

Eisenhower and his tax advisers have taken a wait-and-see position on tax reduction, with suggestions that revenue surpluses be applied first to debt reduction.

Republicans in Washington believed the stand that Jordan's 24,000-man army takes in the next few days may determine whether Hussein can stop his country's drift toward the Soviet-aligned policy of Egypt and Syria.

Reports reaching Beirut, Lebanon, said all roads leading into Amman, the Jordan capital, have been blocked for two days by troops and military vehicles, apparently in an attempt to keep troublemakers from entering the city.

No Qualms In Cancelling Most Of Nat'l Debt

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY, AP Foreign News Analyst. The announcement that the Soviet government, with a snap of its fingers, is cancelling over three-fourths of its national debt shows what a strange thing the Soviet Socialist economy really is.

The long postponement of bond redemptions is equivalent to the confiscation, if the Communist timetable for Russia works out. In 20 to 25 years, the Soviet Union is supposed to be enjoying a state of "communism" — as distinct from the present "socialism" — and Communist citizens won't own such private property as bonds.

Federal Disaster Aid Sought For Tornado Victims

Timmerman sent a telegram to President Eisenhower yesterday in which he stressed that "damage was so extensive that it now appears that state and local resources will be inadequate."

Saturday Mail Deliveries Here Will Be Halted This Weekend

Washington Directive Decreases Shorter Hours That Will Affect Area

Beginning this Saturday residents of Greenville and surrounding rural routes will not get mail delivery service on weekends unless new regulations are issued by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

According to Postmaster J. Knott Proctor, official orders have been received to close the Greenville Post Office to the public on Saturday and Sunday, commencing this weekend, April 13 and 14.

The directive cites that no local or rural delivery, except special delivery, will be made over the weekend. Postal service will be cut by one-half day, since the local post office has been closing on Saturday at 12 o'clock noon.

Proctor stated this morning that this change is scheduled to go into effect unless further orders are received here. This is not expected unless Congress grants additional funds requested by Postmaster General Summerfield.

Summerfield has stated that 47 million dollars is necessary to continue postal services at present levels for the remaining three months of the 1957 fiscal year. The fiscal year ends June 30.

The Appropriations Committee last week voted to give Summerfield 17 million and is scheduled to consider the remaining 30 million this Friday, April 12.

Beginning next Monday, the new regulations direct that the local Post Office limit window service to eight and one-half hours per day. This means that general delivery and stamp windows will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. instead of 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. as is the case at the present time.

Only first class mail and daily newspapers will be distributed from the office to trucks and trains on Saturday and Sunday, under the new regulations that could remain in effect until the end of the 1957 fiscal year. Other mail coming in on the weekend will be distributed within five days with preference being given parcel post packages.

Collections from mail deposit boxes throughout Greenville will be limited to one on Saturday, the same as on Sundays and holidays. The new directive limits deliveries in the business district to two a day but this will not affect the Greenville deliveries since the local post office makes only two business deliveries during the day.

On April 29, additional curtailment of postal services is scheduled to go into effect, unless further regulations are received. The regulations just received by Postmaster Proctor call for the discontinuance of money order service on April 29. In addition on the same date, the post office will accept no third class mail, except medicines, serums, drugs, and medical supplies.

As a result of the new regulations, no Greenville postal employees are expected to lose their jobs. Proctor stated, "The local postmaster added, however, that substitute clerks and carriers will not work as many hours. The new regulations are applicable to all post offices on the first, second and third classes, in 43 10-cent newspapers a year ago."

Residents of the tiny community of Frisco, where the leak developed, were returning to their homes as a rising wind began carrying away the gas. Firemen, using fog nozzles, sprayed water over the tank car and surrounding buildings in a continuing effort to decontaminate the area.

Hussein Striving Halt Red Trend

LONDON (AP)—Jordan King Hussein's ouster of Premier Nabusli Nabulsi was reported today to be the result of a bitter quarrel over whether the Arab nation should be exposed to Soviet or American influence.

Reports reaching Beirut, Lebanon, said all roads leading into Amman, the Jordan capital, have been blocked for two days by troops and military vehicles, apparently in an attempt to keep troublemakers from entering the city.

In a move to strengthen his hand, Hussein promoted his chief military aide, Brig. Mohammed Maatya, to major general and made him director general of public security. Maatya, former Jordan military attaché in Damascus, replaces Maj. Gen. Bahjat Tabbara, who was given a long-term leave of absence.

Secret intelligence reports received by diplomats in London said the crisis between Hussein and Nabulsi reached a climax over the mission of President Eisenhower's special envoy, James P. Richards, now touring the Middle East. The reports said Hussein wants Richards to visit Amman and would like for Jordan to qualify for American aid under the Eisenhower Doctrine for halting further Communist penetration of the Middle East.

Nabulsi has declared publicly the Eisenhower plan has nothing to do with Jordan. In a speech last Friday, Nabulsi said Jordan would "welcome every unconditional aid, whether it comes from the East or the West." But he added that if Richards "asked me as a representative of Jordan to sign a short statement that we have agreed to combat communism and that he would pay me 100 million dollars, then I would tell him 'no.'"

But Western diplomats in London took a wary view that Nabulsi's dismissal could turn out to be a hollow victory for Hussein. They pointed out that Nabulsi, who was asked to serve as caretaker Premier until a new government is formed, took pains to announce that he was quitting at the King's request.

NEW YORK (AP)—Soaring newspaper and production costs have forced 97 newspapers to increase their prices to 6, 7 or 10 cents a copy in the past year.

The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. says this means that 379 of the 1,738 American daily English-language newspapers are now charging these prices. "This is 97 more than in April, 1956," the association reported to its members yesterday. "Of these newspapers, 69 now charge 6 cents, 249 charge 7 cents, and 61 charge 10 cents. There were only 43 10-cent newspapers a year ago."

What residents thought was a sonic boom rocked the San Gabriel Valley, a Los Angeles suburb, early Tuesday. Later, Pat Murphy, 10, found the crater in the back yard of his home. He told his father Oscar about it. Murphy called sheriff's deputies, who called the Army.

Ordnance experts at nearby Ft. MacArthur began digging early yesterday. By dark last night a hole about 10 feet wide and 10 feet deep — shored with heavy timbers — had been sunk into sandy soil without discovering anything more menacing than a rusted baby carriage. Ordnance men said that the crater could have been caused by a falling missile, a meteor, a 100-pound dud bomb or any other object about six inches in diameter. "There was no explosion when the object hit," said an Army man. He said many Air Force planes were flying at the time of the reported sonic boom.

Furore, Casualties Result As Chlorine Leaks From Tank Car

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. (AP)—Chlorine gas escaping from a leaking railroad tank car early today made a score of persons ill and forced evacuations of a large area near this western Pennsylvania community. Ellwood City Hospital reported that it had treated a total of 29 persons, many of the members of volunteer fire companies.

Six persons were admitted for further treatment, the hospital said, adding that none appeared to be in serious condition. A workman wearing an oxygen-supplied mask succeeded in shutting off the escaping greenish-yellow gas that was boiling from the tank car, about an hour after the leak was discovered.

Bids Are Opened On New City Recreation Building

Bids have been opened on the City Recreation Department's new activity building to be constructed at South Greenville Park. Low bidder for the general contract was Griffin Builders of Griffin who entered a bid of $21,573. Others entering a bid were West Building for $22,400 and Chapin Construction at $23,300.

It was announced that King's Electric has entered a low bid of $1,580 for the electrical contract. Seven electrical contracting firms entered bids for the project. The other six were: O'Neil Electric, $1,633; Dick's Electric, $1,743; Home Electric, $1,954; Moseley Electric, $2,594; Turner's Electric, $2,900; and Shack's Electric, $1,760.

Three firms entered bids for the plumbing contract. Low bid was submitted by C. L. Russ for $448. Also bidding were City Plumbing at $642 and C. E. Williams for $610.

The bids were received and reviewed by Gordon Goodman, City Recreation head, Leonard P. Bloxam, City Manager, and the architects yesterday. In the recently staged Greenville bond election, the Recreation Commission asked for $20,000 for the construction of the new activity building. Bloxam stated this morning that steps will be taken to make changes and alterations in the building in order that the overall cost might be covered by the $20,000 originally appropriated for the project.

RALEIGH — Senator Paul E. Jones of Pitt said here today that he plans the introduction next week of a bill proposing that companies dealing in saving stamps indemnify the stamps issued so they will be redeemed. Drainage Funds Bill Introduced

RALEIGH—A bill relative to fees for collecting and disbursing drainage district funds in Pitt County has been introduced into the North Carolina General Assembly by Representative Frank Wooten of Greenville. The bill involves changing a period to a semi-colon in Section 1 of General Statute 156-113 and adding "provided, that where the sheriff, tax collector or treasurer is on a salary basis, the fees here-in set out shall not be charged."

Miss Smith will direct Camp Hardee during the coming season. She is a native of Goldsboro and is a teacher in the Physical Education Department of East Carolina. Hope vs. What N.C. Can Afford

As promised, Governor Hodges has come up with what appears a reasonable compromise and solution to the question of pay raises for teachers and other state employes and at the same time something within the financial reach of the state.

While we would not give unqualified endorsement to the governor's proposal until time permits more careful study of the program and its long range aspects, it does afford the legislature a new point from which to consider the state's needs and accompanying financial problems.

The 15 per cent salary increase for teachers and the 11 per cent increase for state employes proposed by the governor are not up to recommendations of the Board of Education and the state employes, they are considerably above the initial recommendations of Gov. Hodges and the advisory Budget Commission.

While the new salary proposals by the governor do not represent as much increase as North Carolinians might like for their teachers and state employes, it does represent a sincere effort to provide what the state hopes to be able to afford. Even with the recommendations made by the governor, the state would be venturing into the questionable practice of using surplus funds for current operation expenses. It is a calculated risk the people of North Carolina are willing to take to provide teachers and state employes with salary increases.

The State Board of Education recommended a 16.1 per cent increase for teachers for the regular nine month school year. The Board further recommended that teachers be employed for an additional week's work which would amount to another salary increase of 3.2 per cent. Under Gov. Hodges' new proposal the teachers would receive a 15 per cent increase for the nine month school year—1.1 per cent less than the Board of Education recommended—but the extra week of employment would not be provided.

Now that the General Assembly has heard the governor's recommendation it should carefully re-evaluate the question of teacher and state employes salaries against the backdrop of the state's financial position. It is our hope that the legislature will be able to find a reasonable way to reach the minimum 19.3 per cent salary increase for teachers. The greater increase would obviously strengthen public school education in the state. If the greater increase is not practical, however, the 15 per cent salary boost for teachers will in itself be a tremendous boost for the state's public schools.

It should constitute the minimum the legislature will consider in its future deliberations.

Bomb Scare Instigator Should Be Found Out

It is our hope that Goldsboro officials will be able to track down the unscrupulous person who threw a scare into that community with his telephone call that a bomb had been planted in Goldsboro High School.

The telephone obviously was someone's idea of a prank. But we fail to see the humor in it, and we are confident that thousands of Goldsboro citizens share our view.

Because of the call, children were quickly evacuated from the school and given the remainder of the day off. Officers spent hours going through the building room by room looking for the bomb which was not there.

We don't know what kind of person would make such a call to the principal of a high school. We are at a loss to understand his motive. We are certain, however, that he should be called by the community to answer for his act.

Goldsboro law enforcement agencies should be leaving no stone unturned to learn the identity of the caller and the motive behind his call. They should not hesitate to request the assistance of state and federal law enforcement agencies in the investigation.

When the caller is found, the courts should see that he pay a suitable penalty for his inexcusable act.

The Emphasis Is On Development

By LYNN NISBET
DEVELOPMENT — The C&D Board at its spring meeting in Kinston put major emphasis on the "D" in its name. Conservation was not overlooked, but development was the keynote in everything from control of soil erosion to State Advertising and endorsement of the proposed changes in the tax laws.

Plans for the future were based on a record of growth during the past two or three decades that surprised some of the board members who have been a part of the development. Statistics on the investment in industrial plants, annual payrolls and proceeds from products sold read almost as much like a fairy tale as do stories of the expanding tax load which citizens are called upon to bear.

Reports showed that in three years there has been investment in new plants and expansions of existing factories more than $12 million, affording employment for nearly 12,000 workers who are drawing wages in the amount of $33.5 million a year.

Another evidence of growth was disclosed in the Advertising Division report. When the program was begun 29 years ago there was not an agency in the state capable of handling the account. Now there are at least five with adequate facilities to handle the program which is projected on basis of a third of a million dollars for next year. Not only are there advertising agencies able to handle the account, but director Parker said that within a few years it will be possible to get all the required printing, including highly intricate four-color jobs, completed in North Carolina print shops.

Not so long ago the State nurseries were putting out 10 million seedlings a year. This year the number was in excess of 50 million, and by next year the goal is between 75 and 90 million.

PROFESSIONAL — Although a department of state government and C&D activities are not hampered by political influences, according to the reports. The approach is entirely professional. In support of that claim Director Parker said that the North Carolina advertising program had reached a maturity not attained by that in any other state, and that freedom from interference had enabled it to keep abreast of the times with new ideas and new methods.

One new plan is the air tour by a group of nationally famed editors next month. Top men from three big magazines and 11 nationally known newspapers in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Indianapolis and other cities, will make the tour. Schedule calls for starting at Washington, D.C., the afternoon of May 17, flying over the northeastern section of the state and into Raleigh; thence to Wilmington and back to Charlotte and the

Controls Won't Halt Inflation

By ELMER ROESSNET
There is some nonsense abroad in the land to the effect that the way to stop inflation is for labor to stop asking for higher wages and finer benefits, and for business to stop raising prices.

President Eisenhower fathered some of this thinking in two messages to Congress and at a press conference. At the conference he said, "When I said business and labor must discharge their responsibilities and exercise their authority in conformity with the needs of the United States, I wasn't merely asking them to be altruistic. . . . Their own long-term good is involved and I am merely asking them to act as enlightened Americans." He indicated that unless they did, the government would have to "move in with some kind of controls" and "when we begin to control prices and allocations and wages and all the rest, then it is not the America we know."

IDEA SPREADS
Since then the idea of action by business and labor has been bounced around by many others. Several Congressmen have called for restraint and have echoed the threat of controls and several business leaders have urged that business take the leadership in halting inflation. However, some of them seem to have the idea that the best step is for employers to resist labor demands more strongly.

Let's be realistic. First, labor will not withdraw demands for higher wages, nor any suggestion of lower wages, as long as it believes management has the stuff with which to pay them. Appeals to labor to forego pay raises now so pensions later on will buy more goods will fall on cotton-stuffed ears.

Second, management will always increase prices when it believes such action will increase profits. Any management that fails to move prices up when the market offers more will promptly be voted out of jobs by stockholders.

OLD, UNREPEALABLE LAW
The reason for both those situations is that free economies still operate under the unavoidable and unvoidable law of supply and demand.

If we ever succeed in getting that law to cease operating, then indeed will we be living someplace that isn't the America we know. We will have a communism more rigid than that of Russia, where the venerable law still keeps asserting itself, as demonstrated by the recent official reduction in the prices of rubles to bring them closer to the supply-and-demand quotation.

It should not be overlooked that the price of labor itself is controlled by supply and demand. Labor leaders, using Federal laws, strict organizing tactics and the power to call strikes, firmly control supply. As long as demand is strong, and as long as they can sell labor's products at a profit, employers will pay going wages.

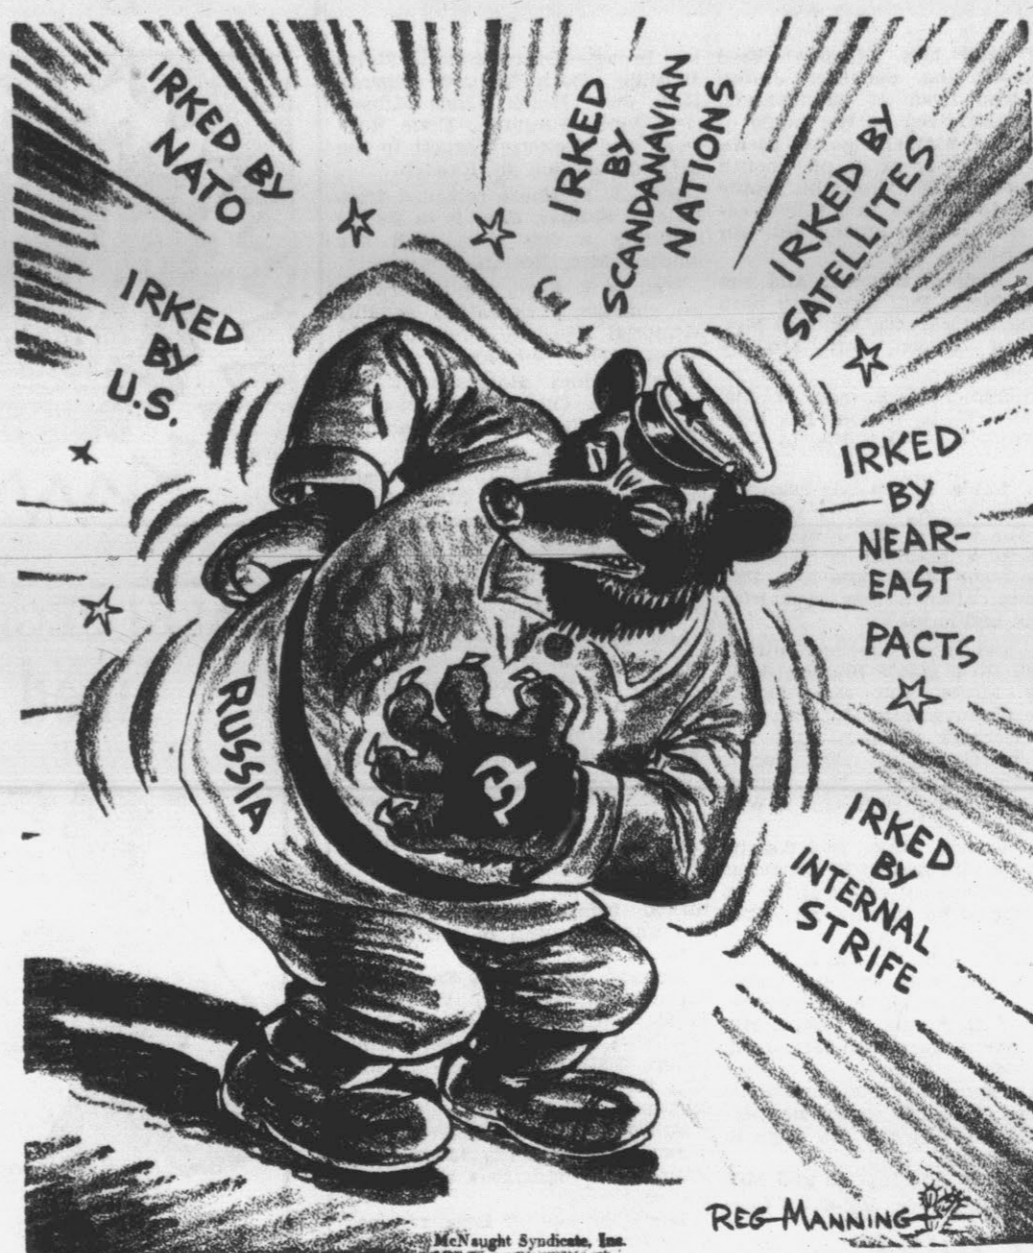

CONTROLS WON'T WORK, EITHER
Furthermore, controls of wages, prices and goods, while delaying effects of supply and demand, cannot control inflation.

During the war, the government imposed the strictest kind of controls the United States has ever known. Patriotism, the urge to survive, shame, fines and imprisonment were used by the government to make them stick. The only power the government did not use was to hang or shoot non-compliers. Black markets abounded, prices rose and wages went up. The government's own figures show that if the dollar was worth 100 cents in 1941, it was worth only 75.5 cents in 1946.

That fact may not have impressed Mr. Eisenhower. After all, he wasn't in the country much during those years. For which we may be thankful!

Apology To An Unknown

I owe some gentleman an apology to a fellowman.

"Do you want to go with me?" he asked.

"No," I said not wanting to be any part of this "law breaking" venture I answered in a rather hushed tone of voice since there were several people standing around listening to our conversation.

The driver then prepared to drive on but before he did he made one final statement, and I quote, "I have been operating a business here for 25 years and I should know my way around. Thanks for trying to keep me out of trouble anyway."

I stood there and watched him drive away, feeling sorry for him. There was no question in my mind, he would never get away with what he was doing. Everybody was laughing.

Why would they be laughing? This I thought as I crossed the street and continued on my blissful way.

The incident was forgotten until I got back to the office. Then I could withhold my kind humanitarian act no longer from my cohorts.

With a smile I began my story to all that would listen. When I had finished, everyone began laughing again. Truthfully this was more than most humans could stand.

Now why would they be laughing? This I was thinking as I sat down and started to type in "my corner." A few minutes later one of the "boys" came over and whispered in my ear and then I knew.

"That street is not a one-way street!" he said.

My informer added: "You have made an awful mistake."

So you see . . . I owe some kind and tolerant gentleman an apology. Evidently ignorance is bliss. With this thought in mind I ain't going to give any more one-way street directions to nobody, not even Harry S. SPRING IS HERE

Now there is no question in my mind. Spring is definitely here.

There used to be no cars at this drive-in in the afternoon but now you have to call ahead of time to get reservations. The woman who runs the place told me so.

Other Editors Saying --- S.C. Leaders' Warning

(Charleston, S. C., News & Courier)

Are South Carolina's tax laws costing the state new business? That is a question that should be answered in a hurry.

South Carolinians who should know the facts on the South-wide contest for new industry have told us that the state's competitive position is not so good these days.

Former Sen. Charles E. Daniel, of Greenville, himself a leading Southern industrialist, recently told the State Senate Finance Committee that "we've got to have more industry in South Carolina or start living off ourselves."

R. M. Cooper, director of the State Development Board, told the committee that South Carolina recently lost four to six large plants due to its tax structure.

"Agriculture is no longer our leading income in the state," Mr. Cooper said. "The goal of the development board is to provide the industry that is to take care of the labor that leaves the farm."

Anyone who has followed articles published in The News and Courier on the troubles facing South Carolina tobacco growers knows what Mr. Cooper means. We can think of a score of towns in our own circulation territory that need industrial payrolls.

Farming is hard work and the returns are meager. The able young people of this state, if they are to stay here, need industrial job opportunities.

The way to get industrial payrolls for South Carolina towns is to make this state's tax laws attractive for business. This truth was realized by South Carolina's leaders more than a decade ago. The great industrial progress this state has made is the result of early realization of the facts of commerce.

We had a running start in South Carolina after World War II. Since then, other Southern states have raced ahead in their efforts to gain new industry. Gov. Hodges of North Carolina, for instance, spends a large part of his time selling his state's advantages to industry. In addition, he has presented to the legislature of his state a sweeping new tax proposal.

Business men tell us that if and when Gov. Hodges' tax proposal is adopted, North Carolina will enjoy a tremendous competitive advantage over South Carolina. Alabama, which has the lowest state income tax of all Southern states, is in the midst of an industrial boom.

If South Carolina intends to stay in the running, the General Assembly will have to make the state's tax laws more attractive to industrial firms considering location in the South. If the legislature fails to act, the state may face an economic blight in a few years.

Former Sen. Daniel and other prominent businessmen throughout the state have laid proposals for tax reform before the Senate Finance Committee. We hope that the legislators will not delay in considering these proposals. The longer South Carolina delays, the more new industry is diverted to other states, the fewer job openings there will be for the youth of the state in the years ahead.

study, CAB has ordered Pan Am to restore $5,900,000 of alleged overcharges for its 1954 trans-Pacific operations. On a fully owned line operating in Central America UMCA (Uraba, Medellin, and Central Airways), CAB charges that Pan Am's bookkeeping was so arranged that it gave Pan Am unwarranted subsidies of more than $5,000,000.

Since Pan Am has dragged down $182,213,000 in subsidies through the 1946-1954 period for all its operations, the sum subject to recapture for the United States Treasury and the taxpayers may exceed the $51,000,000 by half that amount. Pan Am has told CAB that the two recapture orders, dated March 2 and 20 jeopardize its financial position, and it has appealed to the courts for relief.

FEDERAL AGENCY WITHHOLDS

TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES CAB estimates that Pan Am's annual transactions with these affiliates total $50,000,000 a year. It is in this field especially, to quote CAB's order, that Pan Am "has failed to observe accepted accounting principles in keeping its books and records, and in the reporting of the results of its operations, with possible distorting effects upon rate matters."

In ever harsher language, CAB charges that Pan Am's accounting system and reports violate the Board's prescribed rules, as well as Pan Am's specific agreements with the Federal agency. In other words, CAB finds that Pan Am has kept its books to suit and favor its pocketbook at the expense of the taxpayers and unsubsidized rival lines.

ROGER FREEMAN DIRECTED THE RESEARCH FOR THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON INTER-GOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS, WHICH MADE AN EXHAUSTIVE SURVEY AND THEN REPORTED:

"We have not been able to find a State which is economically unable to support an adequate school system. . . . Federal Aid is not necessary, either for current operating expenses for public schools, or for capital expenditures for new school facilities."

ROGER FREEMAN, who was appointed to serve on two presidential commissions to study the fiscal capacities of the States to meet their school needs, made this statement about the current "Federal Aid to Schools" Bill which will come up soon in the 85th Congress:

"WHAT WE ARE FACED WITH IS NOT A FEDERAL SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION AID PROGRAM, BUT THE FIRST AND FATEFUL STEP IN THE NATIONALIZATION OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS!"

In an address before the Civic Federation of Chicago, Oct. 31, 1956, Mr. Freeman said, "The public schools last year expended slightly over $10 billion. A Federal Aid program of $250 to $400 million might at best have boosted that total by 2 1/2 per cent to 4 per cent, which is less than half the average annual increase from State and local funds in recent years."

"IT IS APPARENT," he said, "that the bills that Congress considered would have made very little difference in overall school finance. What, then, accounts for the excitement over the failure of the school aid bill?"

It appears that the sponsors of the Kelley Bill had far more in mind than a $400 million Federal Aid program. That was to be only a down-payment. The real purpose was to get a foot-in-the-door, to get the principle of Federal responsibility for the schools established, and then prove in subsequent years that the amounts were far too small. Bardsley Ruml proposed that the Federal Government contribute at least $3 1/2 billion a year to the schools, and preferably more.

"That gives the subject a different aspect. It would be naive to assume that the Federal Government would spend several billion dollars a year for any purpose, and have nothing to say on how the money was to be spent. . . . Sooner or later they would suggest—with the big stick of non-compliance behind it—that schools conform to their ideas of how they should be organized and administered. This is what has happened to all other major Federal grants-in-aid programs as the amounts increased. History teaches that political power inevitably follows the power over the purse."

Federal Aid And Schools

By H.T. Everingham

CHICAGO — During the last Congress the Federal "School Aid" Bill almost passed. It was defeated by the controversy over using Federal funds to build segregated schools. But few in Congress appeared to be against "Federal aid" for education. For twenty-five years the shrewd promoters of "Federal aid" have spread their propaganda that it means "something for nothing." Of course, any thinking person knows that all money for taxes in the United States is located within the borders of the 48 States, and could also be taxed by the State governments. We also know the Supreme Court has ruled that what the Federal Government subsidizes, it has the power to control.

A YEAR AGO the President of the American Bar Association, E. Smythe Gambrell, declared his belief that "Federal Aid" to the public schools would ultimately bring the destruction of freedom to this country — that it would be nothing short of a national calamity for the public schools to become dependent upon "Federal aid." The President of the Conference of Chief Justices of the States, Justice William Duckworth, also expressed his fear that the expansion of Federal powers in social and economic fields through "grants-in-aid" threaten our constitutional form of government.

Roger A. Freeman, who was appointed to serve on two presidential commissions to study the fiscal capacities of the States to meet their school needs, made this statement about the current "Federal Aid to Schools" Bill which will come up soon in the 85th Congress:

Strength For Today

THE KIDS AND LITTLE MALCOLM
A proud grandfather was telling me recently about one set of children's children in whom he appears to take special delight. They were five in number and one child, Little Malcolm, died when he was three years old. Now when the children are asked about family matters, they reply, "There are five of us—and little Malcolm who is in heaven." They talk about him every day as if he were still running about with them in the home.

Jesus once spoke of the wisdom which comes from the lips of babes and sucklings. They seem to apprehend, directly as it were, truths over which mature minds wrestle and agonize. To these childish minds, the things the Bible says are true. They have no doubts. No intellectual pride, no confirmation of a thought pattern comes in to interfere with their conclusions. Jesus said people go to heaven, so that's that. Thus reasons the child mind.

Lecturer Speaks Here To Christian Scientists

Tremendous good will ensue as mankind awakens progressively to man's real responsibility, capability, and heritage, James Watt of Washington, D.C., told an audience here Tuesday night.

The certainty of lasting peace, health, and abundance is gained through spiritual perception of the goodness of God, and of His creation, including man, Mr. Watt declared.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Watt spoke in the Christian Science church, Meade Street at East Fourth, by invitation of the Christian Science Society, Greenville. He was introduced by Miss Elisabeth Hyman, First Reader of the Society.

Speaking on "Christian Science: The Science of Demonstrable Good," Mr. Watt said that man's innate desire for good, together with the aggregate philanthropy of individuals, organizations, and nations has undoubtedly brought humanity comfort and relief.

"But the question, recognized or unconsciously entertained in the hearts of men, is how to heal the sick, supply the needy, and end the war with certainty and finality," he declared.

God's infinite goodness is being proved practical in human affairs and available to all, he affirmed. He emphasized that "peace and healing will come to the world, in the measure that mankind learns to put good will toward men into practice from the basis of spiritual understanding."

"The needs of the world, he said, would have been met long ago if those endeavoring to supply them had not believed that the discordant situations, sickness, sin, war, disaster, and limitation were realities.

"Christian Science teaches us not to accept sin, disease, death—disaster of any sort—as real, as inevitable," he added.

GHS Singers Go To Festival

Sixteen members of the Greenville High School choral group left yesterday afternoon to attend the annual state Music Festival in Greensboro sponsored by the North Carolina Music Education Association.

The group, under the direction of Miss Ona Shindler, will practice with other glee clubs representing high school throughout the state in preparation for the annual concert to be given Friday night. The concert will include several Easter selections. Miss Shindler can select only the better voices to attend this state contest because each school in the state is allowed only a certain number of participants in respect to the size of the school and their glee club.

Students that will participate from Greenville high school are: Ann Marshall Allen, Milly Bowden, Carolyn Briley, Nancy Brown, Patsy Jones, Marietta Northrop, Nina Overton, Ann Parkinson, Grayson Waldrop, Elizabeth White, Ronnie Dail, Jimmy Churchill, Jimmy Galloway, George Shackelford, Frankie Sauced, and William Stancill.

Recently a U.S. Army helicopter laid 14 miles of communication wire near Ft. Bragg, N.C., in less than six minutes.

Pastor Keeps To Sidelines In Planned Wife-Swapping Move

MILLBRAE, Calif. (AP)—The pastor of two suburban couples who plan to trade mates says he will ask his congregation to reserve judgment.

"I will deliver my regular Palm Sunday sermon next Sunday," the Rev. R. F. Winkelman said yesterday, "and add without comment the 7th Verse from the 8th Chapter of John:

"He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her."

That leaves most of us out," church choir practice. Dr. Schwartz and Mrs. Brooks sang in the choir and Mrs. Schwartz taught a Sunday school class.

"Except for them," the minister declared, "no one . . . knows all the factors in this case."

Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Brooks, who are sharing a small apartment in Reno while they obtain divorces, are and have been good friends, their husbands said.

The plan disclosed by the husbands is for Brooks to move into the Schwartz residence and adopt the Schwartz's 9-year-old son and 4-year-old daughter and for Dr. Schwartz to move in with the present Mrs. Brooks and adopt the 9-month-old baby girl and the three boys, aged 4, 8 and 10, there.

Dr. Schwartz said there would be "strain" in the exchange, because "the children are all like brothers and sisters already" and "just feel they're getting an extra father and mother."

The two wives met newsmen late last night in Reno at the office of the attorney they are sharing. They issued a brief typewritten statement which said merely that after talking to their husbands on the same long-distance call "it has been determined that they have been misquoted and exaggerated. Our plans for the future are indefinite."

Send Protest To Soviet Premier

Charging that Soviet officials "may perhaps be found fighting actually against God," a strongly worded letter of protest from officials of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, legal governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been sent to Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin of the U.S.S.R.

W. E. Manning, presiding minister of the Greenville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, in announcing the contents of the letter, cited the wholesale arrests and mass movements of Jehovah's Witnesses to slave labor camps in Siberia.

"For many years now," Manning quoted the letter as saying, "Jehovah's Witnesses within the Soviet Union have endured great difficulties and heavy persecution. They have constituted committees and delegations from among their own ministers for the purpose of registering their religious organization according to the statutes in force, but on each occasion they have been rebuffed and instead of being allowed to register their Christian organization they have had ministers in the delegations arrested."

The letter was written to accompany a composite petition that had been adopted over a period of nine months by a total of 462,936 of Jehovah's Witnesses, meeting in 199 assemblies throughout the world. It called attention to the 7,000 Jehovah's Witnesses known to be in slave camps in the Soviet Union, and, requesting their release, proposed that a delegation be permitted to proceed from the Society's headquarters in Brooklyn, N.Y., to Moscow to fully acquaint the Soviet government with the true aims and purposes of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"We have acted only in good faith," Manning said. "Following the petition's adoption at each assembly, copies were sent by registered mail direct to Moscow and a copy for the Russian Embassy in each country was delivered in person. Most of the ambassadors would not see us," Manning reported, "but we were able to talk to some Soviet officials. To date, the Soviet government has completely ignored our petitions."

Dumbfounded, By Note Of Praise

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville's aldermen were dumbfounded. They opened a letter and found they were being praised "for all the things (you) have done for us."

The letter, signed by four couples, went on to list "the lovely parks and community centers, the very ample playgrounds, wonderful new swimming pools, etc."

The aldermen said nothing like it had ever happened before.

Youngsters Say Need Discipline

ELY, Nev. (AP)—A panel of teen-agers say high school youngsters need more discipline, from both their parents and police.

Six students appeared on the panel yesterday with six adults at the Nevada Parent-Teacher Assn. convention.

The boys and girls criticized police for failure to halt drag racing on the main street of Ely and for a lack of enforcement of laws against the sale of liquor to minors.

"We're not getting enough discipline; we're getting away with murder," said one youth. Other youngsters agreed.

They added that stricter discipline at home also is needed.

Murdered Child To Avoid Dowry

NEW DELHI (AP) — Because girls require dowries, many Indian parents dread the birth of a daughter.

In a village near Kanpur in North Central India, the arrival of a second daughter brought discord into the lives of a young couple.

The new baby disappeared four months after it was born. Later police found the girl's body in a well and arrested the mother on murder charges.

Sentencing the mother to life imprisonment, a two-justice panel of the Allahabad high court observed: "We are convinced . . . the baby was dropped . . . in the well to escape the wrath of her husband" for having given birth to a second daughter.

'Passion Play' To Be Offered Here Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

The Easter story in drama, "The Passion Play" has even deeper variety appropriate 'Lost Colony' and rootage in our culture than the this year's response in attendance.

The play, now in its fourth year, is an adaptation by Dr. Joseph Withey of the centuries-old Oberammergau passion play. Dr. Withey, professor of English at ECC, also directed the play the first three years of its local presentation.

Sam Johnson is serving as director this year, with Dr. Withey acting as a professional consultant. Dr. Kenneth Cuthbert, head of the Music Department at East Carolina, is director of the Passion Play Chorus.

No admission is charged to the play. However, a free-will offering is received at each performance to defray expenses connected with the presentation. Offerings were first received last year, after St. James Methodist Church invited other Protestant churches in Pitt County to join in the presentation.

St. James Church originated the idea for the play in 1854 after a suggestion by William H. Watson, local attorney and a member of St. James. St. James Church sponsored the play in 1954 and 1955, then turned it over to an interdenominational Passion Play Committee last year. Every Protestant Church in Pitt County was invited to send two members as representatives to the committee.

Scenery and professional costumes, rented from a Boston drama house, add necessary touches to the play which use local people in the cast. Music by the chorus is accompanied by organ music, played by George Perry of the ECC Music Department.

Members of the interdenominational committee are already envisioning growth of the local production into an Eastern North Carolina Passion Play. They believe it can become as widely known and well-attended as Roanoke Island's "Lost Colony" and Wilmington's Azalea Festival.

The Rev. J. Malloy Owen, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church, speaking of the growth of the play, says, "Anchored at a fixed holiday, Easter, and dedicated to reliving the events in history which Easter celebrates, the Passion Play combines the very finest and most essential beliefs of the Christian religion with the gayest and happiest of the seasons.

"The people will decide whether the Passion Play will live to make our area the city greater, or whether it will die, a symbol of failure to recognize opportunity. Telling the story of the most central truths of our faith," he adds, "the

Many Pupils See Playhouse Play

More than 3,299 pupils from schools in Greenville and Pitt County made up enthusiastic audiences at five performances this week by the East Carolina Playhouse of "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp."

The old tale of romance, magic, and humor, presented in a colorful and attractive dramatization, was one of a series of annual plays for young people which were begun in 1941 and have been produced for a number of years by the college dramatic club.

The Greenville Branch of the American Association of University Women has sponsored the series with the purpose of providing worthwhile entertainment for children in the city and the county. Mrs. Hugh Patterson of Greenville, president, and Louise Williams of the East Carolina faculty represented the AAUW in making arrangements for this year's production.

Four afternoon performances given from Monday through Wednesday brought to the college campus children from several city schools and from schools throughout Pitt County.

Mailman Enjoys Rare Protection

IRVINE, Ky. (AP) — Corbett Edwards, who has been delivering mail here for 23 years, never has trouble with the dogs on his route.

When he starts out each day, a big red boxer and a mutt named Blackie, both strays, join him at the corner. No dog or duck dare show its face in the route of these three.

Edwards says his companions jump on any dog that gets in their path and he sometimes has to intervene to keep other dogs from being killed.

Recently, Blackie and the boxer have been fighting each other for the privilege of acting as Edwards' guard.

School Aid Bill To Committee

WASHINGTON — A bill to grant two billion dollars in federal aid for school construction takes its next congressional step today — full committee consideration.

Rep. Bailey (D-WVa) said in advance he would recommend approval of the bill by the House Education and Labor Committee.

Indications were that backers were in no hurry to get the bill to the floor in the present atmosphere of budget cutting.

Rep. Powell (D-NY) said he would offer in committee his amendment to deny federal aid to school districts practicing racial segregation in the classrooms. His amendment was adopted last year by the House which then sent a school aid bill back to committee.

Bailey is chairman of a subcommittee which approved the new measure 6-1 last Thursday.

The bill would provide federal grants to the states, totaling 400 million dollars a year for five years. Each state would match its grant on a 50-50 basis.

Half of the 400 million would be distributed on the basis of school age population. The other half would be distributed on the basis of need.

WEST WARREN, Utah (AP) — Lawrence Higgs, 25, choked to death when a tractor tipped over, pinning his neck to the ground under the steering wheel.

Attache Denies Espionage Claim

NICKELSDORF, Austria (AP) — The assistant military attache at the U. S. legation in Budapest, expelled by Hungary's Red government on spy charges, drove across the Austria-Hungary border today. He said the espionage charge was a "typical example of Communist lying."

The officer, Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, 32, of Urbana, Ill., was accompanied by his wife, Joan, and their three young children, the youngest a month old.

Gleason said he would make no other statement on the Red charges against him until he had read reports on his case and had instructions from Washington.

The Reds questioned Gleason and Col. James C. Todd of Tulsa, Okla., the military attache in Budapest, for five hours on April 3 after accusing them of photographing a military barracks 55 miles southwest of the Hungarian capital.

Both Americans insisted they were only photographing scenic sights and Gleason gave up a roll of color film he said showed only family groups and landscapes.

Last Tuesday the Hungarian government accused Gleason of "open espionage" and gave him 48 hours to get out of the country.

The spokesman at the legation in Budapest termed the Red charges "largely inaccurate" and said Gleason's acts did not constitute espionage under international usage.

President Asks For New Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to set up a new agency to decide on ways of modernizing the nation's airways control system so it can handle increasing traffic.

"This measure will greatly expedite the improvement of air traffic control and air navigation and I therefore urge its early enactment," the President said in a special message.

His recommendation accompanied a report by Edward P. Curtis, who was appointed a special presidential assistant more than a year ago and assigned the job of tackling the air traffic problem. Curtis has been an Eastman Kodak Co. vice president and an Air Force general.

Curtis proposed a three-member airways modernization board to decide what devices and systems are needed to control civil airplanes which, he estimated, will fly 70 billion passenger miles a year by 1975.

He noted, too, that military and civil planes share the same airspace and he said the over-all traffic control system "is an essential part of our national defense against air attack."

Curtis said present government efforts to cope with the problem are too "scattered" to be effective.

East Carolina Trims High Point, 7-1

Bucs Capitalize On Seven Errors

HIGH POINT — East Carolina capitalized on seven High Point errors and a staunch batting attack yesterday to whip the Panthers 7-1 in a North State Conference contest. The victory over the High Point club wound up ECC's first road trip of the season and sets their overall record for the year at 5-2, thus far. On the current trip, the Bucs have met Conference opponents in four games and will return to Greenville with three victories in their pockets. Earlier, they lost a 6-0 decision to Elon, trimmed Western Carolina twice 6-3, 7-5, and then topped High Point yesterday, 7-1. Errors Ben Baker, a 170-pound sophomore hurler from Zebulon, hurled six-hit ball for East Carolina to get credit for the victory. Baker, a veteran of last year's North State Conference Championship club, fanned nine Panther batters and walked only one. It leaves ECC's mark against Conference teams at 3-1. Coach Jim Malory's Pirates blasted away for six hits during the game, but managed to secure only one earned run. They took advantage of seven costly High Point errors to account for their other six runs. Most of the Buc runs came in the last two innings, when the Panther team seemed to come apart at the seams. East Carolina took a 1-0 lead in the third inning, then made it 2-0 by the fifth inning before High Point could score. They picked up two runs in the eighth and three in the ninth. Gurley Loser High Point's Bobby Gurley was notched with the loss. He went for a little over eight innings for the home team, striking out seven and walking four, before being relieved by Ken Williams in the ninth. High Point's conference mark now stands at 1-1. East Carolina's next game will be at home. Appalachian State College will invade College Stadium Monday and Tuesday for two North State tilts. Games will begin at 3:00 each day. Ford And Snead Head Field In Greensboro Play

GREENSBORO — Newly crowned Masters champion Doug Ford and Sam Snead, runnerup at the Augusta, Ga., classic four days ago, headed the field of about 130 today as the first of four rounds was played in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament. They've been "masters" here, too, over the years. Between them they have accounted for the last three Greensboro titles and Snead has won the tournament six times. Snead, who early in the winter announced a limited tournament program for the year, included this stop on his schedule—with good reason. The White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., veteran (45 next month) won the inaugural Greensboro tournament in 1938. Since then he's won five more, including the last two. In the last eight years Sam's record here shows four victories, one second and three thirds or better. In that period he's figured in three playoffs, winning two and finishing second in the other, a four-man affair. Ford, who registers from Mahopac, N.Y., has a 1954 victory and two thirds to show for his last four years here. The field includes such worthies as Arnold Palmer, No. 2 money winner this year back of Ford, Mike Souchak, Art Wall, Jay Herbert and Julius Boros, with a foreign delegation headed by Peter Thomson of Australia, three-time British Open winner, Stan Leonard, five-time Canadian PGA champion, and the youthful South African pros in their first visit here. Gary Player and Trevor Wilkes. Four 18-hole rounds will be played over the par 70 Sedgfield Country Club course, measuring over 6,600 yards. Host pro Joe Zarhardt says the greens and fairways never have been in better condition for the tournament in his 10 years here.

Phant Trackmen Baseball Team Seeing Action Today

Two events were on tap for Greenville high school sports program today, as the Phantom tracksters invade Roanoke Rapids and the GHS baseballers undertake to play off a rained-out game at Greenville. The basebatters, who have been successful in both of their early games against Northeastern Conference competition thus far, played host to Washington this afternoon at Brookgreen Park. The game was originally set for last week, but was called due to rain. Coach Boley Farley's nine has been impressive in its first two games of the season, whipping New Bern 4-2 and Elizabeth City 3-0. Farley was expected to start either Merrill Bynum or Charlie Stator this afternoon. Bynum was the winner of the 4-2 New Bern contest. Stator, a fireballer, has not yet seen duty this season. Track Meet Greenville's tracksters invaded Roanoke Rapids for an important Northeastern Conference track meet today. The meet was to be a triangular affair, which will also include Elizabeth City. GHS has been strong thus far in the cinder sport, having lost only one match in four and that loss being fished out by AAA Raleigh. In previous matches, GHS topped Jacksonville, Washington, New Bern, Elizabeth City, Roanoke Rapids and AAA Goldsboro and Henderson. Expected to pace the team will be Billy Sermons, Robert Howell, Rett Everett, Barney Barrett, Ed-wyn Wilkerson, Bill Clapp, Louis May, Klutz Fisher and Roy Martin. Coach Guy Lewis stated earlier this week that his team is "looking forward to the match. It will be our last away from home and the boys want to win badly. We're expecting them to do very well." The Phantom camp was stunned early this week by the loss of one of their best men, Jimmy Kelly. Kelly suffered bad burns in an accident and is not expected to compete for the rest of the season. He was a member of the undefeated mile relay group and was one of the club's best sprinters and jumpers.

Citadel Netters Meeting ECC

The Citadel was expected to bring a seasoned crop of netters to Greenville this afternoon, with an especially strong doubles outfit. East Carolina's doubles units have been successful also in their early meets. In four matches, only one has an ECC doubles duo been defeated. Leading the way for East Carolina today were expected to be Maurice Everette, James Blake, Mike Katsias, Bill Hollowell, John Savage and John West. Others who may have seen action were Dock Smith, Lawrence Brown and

At present, East Carolina's record for the season stands at 4-0. They lost an exhibition match before the season began, falling 7-2 to Kalamazoo College of Michigan, but the tilt is not considered a regular-season contest. MAY START—Merrill Bynum, sophomore righthander for Greenville's baseball team, may get the nod to start today against Washington. He already holds one victory to his credit this season, a 4-2 decision over New Bern.

Advertisement for Ted Looks Over Younger Talent. Text: "Ted Looks Over Younger Talent By JOE REICHLER NEW YORK (P)—When Ted Williams talks baseball he shows he is a fine analyst and a great judge of talent. The veteran slugger, after a two-week tour of the West Coast with the Red Sox, was talking about some of the younger players he had seen. "I didn't see any new pitchers in California or Arizona who impressed me," Williams said, "although Cleveland did seem to have a couple of good ones. But what that club needs are hitters, not pitchers. They're rich in those fellows. They've got the best one in the league in Herb Score. "I used to think Hal Newhouser was the best lefthander I'd ever faced. But I think Score is going to be better. He's got more stuff than Hal ever had. "I was interested in seeing a couple of the new Cleveland Kids—Roger Maris and Russ Nixon. Maris is real fast, has a good arm and looks like a good fielder. But I don't know about his hitting. He's a dumpy little guy who reminds you a bit of Mickey Mantle—in build only. As for Nixon, he's a ping pong hitter. "Give me those guys who swish the bat like they mean it. That kid Andre Rodgers, the Giants' rookie shortstop, is more my type. I like him. He's a little taller than I am but thinner. He swings that lumber pretty good. And he can pull that ball. I saw him pull a couple of balls about 50 feet foul but they must have traveled about 400 feet. That boy's got a good, level swing. He's going to be a good hitter some day. "They tell me Kubeck (Tony Kubeck, Yankee rookie shortstop) is not a long ball hitter, more of a line driver hitter. I've seen him only one time and even then I didn't see him swing the bat. It seems to me he sort of fell back on every pitch. I'd like to see more of him." Who did he regard as the top five pitchers in the league? "Start with Score," he said. "Then comes Billy Pierce, Bob Lemon, Whitey Ford and Frank Lary, in that order. I've been pretty lucky off Score but he's still great. Ford's been real rough on me. So has Pierce. Early Wynn is another good pitcher. So are Billy Hoelt, Chuck Stobbs, and Johnny Kucks. They're all good."

Herb Score Shaping Up As New Mound Ace For Tribe

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
Southpaw Herb Score looks like a million bucks. He may be the new ace of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff.

Bob Lemon has been just so-so on the exhibition circuit. Early Wynn is unable to get going because of a hip injury and Mike Garcia has been no sensation the past two seasons.

Score set a big league strikeout record for rookies in 1955 (245) and a 20-9 won-lost record and 263 strikeouts last season.

The Boston Red Sox offered a million dollars for him last March 18 but were turned down by Hank Greenberg, Indians' general manager.

Last night, Score turned in his best effort of the spring. He gave up only two singles and fanned seven in a seven-inning stint as Cleveland whipped the New York Giants 4-1. Willie Mays accounted for the Giants' lone run by hitting a home run off Don Mossi in the eighth inning.

Pete Burnside was the victim of the Indians' four-run first inning. He gave up five walks a two-run single by George Strickland.

Another fine pitching job was turned in by Don Drysdale of Brooklyn. He went nine innings as the Dodgers blanked the Braves 5-0. He permitted only four safeties and only one Brave got as far as second base. Randy Jackson walloped a two-run home run for the winners.

The New York Yankees trounced Savannah of the Sally League 8-4.

Gus Triandos collected four hits as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-3.

Sherman Lollar blasted a three-run homer that carried the Chicago White Sox to a 9-7 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Ron Northey and Larry Doby also connected for the Sox.

Rip Coleman and Jack Urban, both acquired from the Yanks since the close of last season, combined to pitch Kansas City to a 4-2 triumph over Little Rock of the Southern Assn.

In other games, Ted Williams and Dick Gernert each hit for the circuit to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 6-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies; rookie Johnny Powers slammed a 10th-inning homer to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 nod over the Detroit Tigers; and Don Hoak had three hits and two stolen bases as the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senators 6-2.

Industrial Loop In Final Playoff

Carolina Dairy and Greenville Parts and Metals basketball teams will square off tonight at the Greenville Armory to decide the Industrial League Tournament championship.

A preliminary contest between Carolina Sales and Pepsi-Cola will start things off at 7:00, with the title game beginning at about 8:00.

Last night, in the opening round of play, the Dairy and the Parts and Metals clubs gained their berths in the championship tilt with victories.

Carolina Sales came to within two points of stopping the Greenville Parts and Metals outfit, but finally lost out 35-33 in the first game of the night. Carolina Sales guard James scored 14 points and was an outstanding floorman, but was unable to pull his club ahead. J. Warren of the winners dumped in 20 points to take high honors.

In the second contest of the night, Carolina Dairy went wild in the third period to blast Pepsi-Cola out of crown contention with a 59-39 victory.

The Dairy club posted 18 points in the third period while Pepsi-Cola could manage only two. Smith Worthington collected 22 points and Gene Tripp added 16 to pace the Dairy to their win. Hardet posted 10 for the losers, to take high in their camp.

The public is invited to witness the finals tonight at the Greenville Armory, without charge.

Three Die As 3 Trucks Collide

ELLERBE, N.C. (AP) — A three-truck collision on "Dead Man's Curve" on U.S. Highway 220 near here killed three truckers last night.

The collision demolished one truck and decapitated its two occupants, severely damaged another truck and killed its driver, and slightly damaged the third truck.

The State Highway Patrol identified the victims as W. A. Warner of High Point, general manager of Warner Transfer Co.; his companion, Gary Misenheimer; and Thomas Jett, 28, of Aberdeen, driver for L. G. Dewitt Trucking Co. of Ellerbe.

Officers said that in the last three years wrecks on the curve have killed nine persons.

Highway Patrolmen C. L. Riddler and G. M. Cameron said Warner's truck apparently slid off the highway, then swerved as he attempted to get back on the pavement and collided head-on with Jett's truck.

Workers with a blow torch took two hours to cut Jett's body from the crumpled cab of his truck.

The third truck, also owned by the Dewitt firm, struck the wreck-of age, but its driver, Paige Johnson, escaped injury and drove the truck away.

The Dewitt vehicles were carrying produce north from Pompano Beach, Fla. Warner's truck was ferrying furniture south.

Teamsters' Union Board Calls Tuesday Meeting

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Teamsters Union has chosen this Executive Board of the giant sunny Gulf port (pop. 66,550) for a secret strategy meeting next Tuesday.

This was learned today through hotel reservations for Teamsters President Dave Beck and other bigwigs of the labor union — recent target of Senate racket investigators. In all, 16 reservations have been made for Monday night, presumably including the 13-member board, and a meeting room reserved for Tuesday.

Arrest Driver On Varied Counts

Greenville police arrested George Willoughby, Jr., 20-year-old Negro of 1509 West 5th St. early this morning on charges of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol, hit and run driving and larceny of sandwiches.

Willoughby reportedly hit a 1948 vehicle belonging to Reginald L. Satterwait of Halifax. The automobile was parked at the time and investigating officers have not estimated damages to the two vehicles.

Sometime around midnight, an attendant of the Riggs Service Station on Dickinson Avenue reported that the accused had taken several sandwiches from the station without paying for the merchandise. After being accused of taking the sandwiches, the attendant told police officers that Willoughby "left in a hurry" before he could be apprehended.

Presently in the city jail, Willoughby is scheduled to be tried in City Court tomorrow morning, police officers stated today. The investigation is incomplete.

$70,900 In New Building Begun

New construction for the month of March totaled $70,900, Fire Chief George Gardner reported.

Permits were issued for four commercial buildings and for three single family dwellings and one duplex apartment.

Value of the dwellings was set at $50,700. The commercial units were valued at $20,200.

Alterations for the month were valued at $1,050.

For the first three months of 1957 permits for 17 dwellings and two apartment houses have been issued with a total value of $209,800. Six commercial structures have been approved valued at $177,200. Thus the total valuation of new construction for the first three months is $387,000.

Thirteen alterations have been approved with a value of $235,125.

Fire Chief Lists March Alarms

Firemen answered five box alarms during the month of March, according to Fire Chief George Gardner's monthly report.

There were also eight telephone calls to fires during the month and one call to a county fire.

The department's rescue truck was called out 12 times in March. Firemen stood by while 11 lots were burned off.

12-Year Record Was Preserved

UNCAS, Okla. (PA) — It looked as if Mrs. Don Jones' 12-year perfect attendance record to Home Demonstration meetings would end because she was out of town.

However, the members got together and decided to do something about it. They postponed the meeting until Mrs. Jones could attend.

The Brass and the Blue

CHAPTER 29

The regimental clerk ushered Brevet Captain Emil Schwabacker into General Wessels' office. The general was crouched behind his desk, half hidden by a haze of cigar smoke.

"Take a chair," Wessels said and went on writing. He finished at last, blotted the paper and stuffed it carefully in a desk drawer. "Captain Jocelyn is being released from the infirmary today," Wessels said. "I could give him his own troop back."

"He has the seniority, sir," Schwabacker's heart felt. He was surprised Wessels didn't hear it. "I could make him post adjutant too," Wessels said. "Which is what I think I'll do." He rustled papers. "I'm sending out a mail stage next week. His wife and son will be on it." He found the paper he was looking for and handed it to Schwabacker. "Communication from Colonel Ashford at Laramie. Mrs. Kincaid is growing impatient and wants me to send you back to answer charges. I've ignored this for a week, Captain, but I can't sit on it forever."

"I understand, sir," he read the request for immediate return, then handed the letter back. "Am I relieved of my command, sir?"

"You'll be relieved when I tell you," Wessels said. "I haven't told you. However, I don't want to be a sneak about this, Captain, or lie to Colonel Ashford. So I can't send you back if you're not here. I'm sending you back to Fort Smith, Captain, but without your troop."

"I don't understand, sir." Wessels glanced at the sour stub of his cigar and stripped the wrapper off a fresh one. He got it going and leaned back in his chair. "Jim Bridger came back last night. Woke me out of a sound sleep. He's been living with the Crows, and according to them, Red Cloud's massing men for a big push."

"Is Bridger on the post now, sir?"

"No," Wessels said. "I sent him to Laramie before dawn with a complete summation of the campaign to date. He's to remain there until the peace commission arrives, then present the situation for their recommendation. Meanwhile, I've decided to withdraw the troops from Fort Smith before Red Cloud wipes them out. You're going to carry that order for me, Captain."

"Yes, sir."

"Don't say it so casually," Wessels said flatly. "The situation's changed since you made that night march. No one has been able to get through for ten days. Bridger did, but he traveled alone. You'll travel alone. Colonel Kinney has to be advised of the peril and vacate without delay."

"When do I leave, sir?"

"Tonight," Wessels said. "The farrier sergeant will have an unshod horse for you. I'd advise pistol and carbine. Leave anything that will rattle behind. Any questions?"

"No, sir," Schwabacker turned to the door and hurried out.

At headquarters that night, Schwabacker stopped long enough to pick up the small packet of orders from Major Powell, then the gates opened and let him out into the hostile land.

A cavalryman's caution told him to save the horse, spread the animal's strength over the ninety-mile distance, but some inner wildness told him that this was impossible; the Sioux would contest his passage before he rode a quarter of the distance.

So he drove the horse until he was forced to slow his pace, then he dismounted and led the horse for nearly a mile before vaulting into the saddle again. Twice mounted warriors crossed the trail ahead of him; he caught a whiff of their dust, and once saw a shadow enter the trees to the right. There was no way to check his back trail, but he suspected that Sioux braves pressed him close.

Emil Schwabacker recognized his position as three and a half miles outside Fort C.F. Smith when, breaking out into a wide clearing, he yanked his horse to a halt and stared blank-faced. Before him lay a battleground, dotted here and there with huddled shapes, half-naked bodies postured ungracefully by death. Soldiers moved around; it seemed that the entire command of Fort Smith was there. Soldiers lay on the ground, blanket covered; he could count six. Nearly twice that many were being tended on blankets. There was the smell of death in the air, and no sounds, save what came from the clearing. He could hear those sounds, voices, clearly in the cathedral quiet. Automatically he nudged the horse and rode forward.

Instantly the tenor of the soldiers changed. A few rifles came up, pointing his way, but before he could call out and identify himself, Colonel Kinney's command held their fire.

Around Emil Schwabacker now were the sprawled shapes of dead Indians. He recognized them as Cheyennes, nearly a hundred at a quick guess. Then he was riding among the soldiers, then men who had killed and stood to be killed. He saw the raw shock on their faces, the round eyes, the blank way they had of looking at a man, for the mind became numb from the sounds and the smells, the adjectives of death.

He approached Colonel Kinney and dismounted. Disjointed fragments of the fight fell into place for Schwabacker: The trapped soldiers—from appearances they must have been gathering wood

Two half-filled wagons stood nearby, the horses dead in harness. Everywhere he walked he stepped on empty brass cartridge cases.

Schwabacker saluted. "Dispatch from General Wessels, sir."

Kinney's voice was raspy. "This day will live forever in my mind, Captain. They caught my wood-gathering party at dawn. The Cheyennes. Lieutenant Eristol says there must have been three hundred of them." Kinney wiped his face and looked around. "God, I can't bear to think what would have happened if we hadn't had those rifles, Captain." He took Schwabacker's arm and, shook him. "Nineteen men against three hundred, Captain, and we whipped them. Sent them running like dogs with their tails between their legs. We've made history, Captain. Wherever men gather from this day forward, they will speak of this fight. The Cheyennes will speak of it too, Captain, but with awe and fear."

"My dispatch, sir," Schwabacker said and handed him Wessels' leather case.

Colonel Kinney read the orders and his face colored. He looked at Schwabacker like a man ready to fight. "I disregard this order, sir! Our battle has already taken place. Fort Smith still stands against the enemy, by God!" He folded the orders and handed them back. "Return this to the general

Weighty Problem In Decorations

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The City Council must make a weighty decision within 30 days on its plans for decorating the park. The Council recently asked the Letterkenny Ordnance Department at Chambersburg, Pa., for a couple of Civil War cannon to use as decorative relics. The department is fresh out of Civil War cannon. It offered as a substitute a 74,000-pound medium tank equipped with a 76mm. gun. The Council can have the tank if it will pay freight costs—about $720. The department wants a yes or no within 30 days.

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!

First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.

Then, Chevy won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."

It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You feel proud, of course. But you also enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of power, and the easiest handling you've ever experienced behind a wheel. Just try this Chevrolet (V8 or Six) and see!

Draws Road Sentence For Resisting Officer

A Bethel man who resisted when a police officer attempted to serve a warrant was sentenced to six months on the roads this week.

Allen Jones, cited for interference with performance of duty by a police officer, drew the sentence from Judge Dink James, presiding at a regular session of Pitt County Recorder's Court. Jones had been charged with resisting arrest by Bethel policeman Walter Gray.

Gray said that Jones struck him when the officer attempted to serve a non-support warrant on the defendant. Jones denied the charge and had entered a plea of not guilty.

Judge James allowed a motion for dismissal of the non-support warrant on grounds that neither Jones nor his wife were residents of Pitt County.

Jones' case was one of 13 cleared from the county court's docket by Judge James and Solicitor James C. Lanier, Jr. Nine of the other cases involved violation of motor vehicles statutes and included:

John Russell Stancill, Jr., Route 1, Greenville, speeding 65 miles-per-hour, prayer for judgment continued and suspended upon payment of costs and surrender of driver's license for ten days;

Laura Etheridge McLawhorn, Route 1, Bethel, speeding 65 miles-per-hour, prayer for judgment continued and suspended upon payment of costs and surrender of driver's license for ten days;

Rufus Henry Knott, Washington, N. C., speeding 80 miles-per-hour, careless and reckless driving, and driving on the wrong side of the road, not in passing, plea of guilty to speeding in excess of 55 miles per hour and driving on wrong side of the road, $25 for driving on the wrong side of the road, prayer for judgment on speeding charge continued and suspended upon payment of costs and surrender of driver's license for ten days;

Leroy Tatum, Negro, 1404-B Empire Alley, Greenville no chauffeur's license (not pros) and speeding with a truck 55 miles-per-hour,

$10 and costs; Margaret Simmons Arthur, 811 College View Apartments, Greenville, speeding 75 miles-per-hour, costs and driver's license suspended for 30 days;

Robert Wade Rackley, Willard, N. C., speeding 65 miles-per-hour and improper muffler, plea of guilty in absentia, $25, costs deducted, ordered to surrender driver's license for ten days; Hubert ohn Krieger, Goldsboro, speeding 65 miles-per-hour, plea of guilty in absentia, $25, costs deducted, ordered to surrender driver's license for ten days.

Julius Stanley Negro, Route 3, Bethel, no operator's license, $25 and costs; Henry Thomas Poskey, 146 West Gum Road, Greenville, no operator's license, continued.

Two defendants were convicted on liquor charges. Gladys Harris, Negro, Route 1, Fountain, was charged with possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and possession for purpose of sale. She entered a plea of guilty to possession and was fined $10 and costs. Leroy Edwards, Negro, Route 1, Fountain, was charged with possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and possession for purpose of sale. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail but the sentence was suspended on condition he pay a fine of $50 and costs and not violate any liquor laws for two years.

John W. Moore Jr., 1206 Charles Street, Greenville, drew 30 days on a worthless check charge but the sentence was suspended on condition he pay court costs and the check's value.

Deaths In Fire Laid To Pennies

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two boys burned to death when fire swept their home yesterday and Joseph Ahern, fire battalion chief, blamed it on pennies behind the fuse in the electrical system.

Mrs. Birta Doss managed to rescue one son, Birta Jr., 2½ but flames and smoke drove her back when she tried to reach David, 20 months, and Eugene, 7 months.

The pennies in the fuse box let too much current flow into the electrical wiring. Chief Ahern said overheated wires set the house afire.

Loses His 'Bet' On New Twins

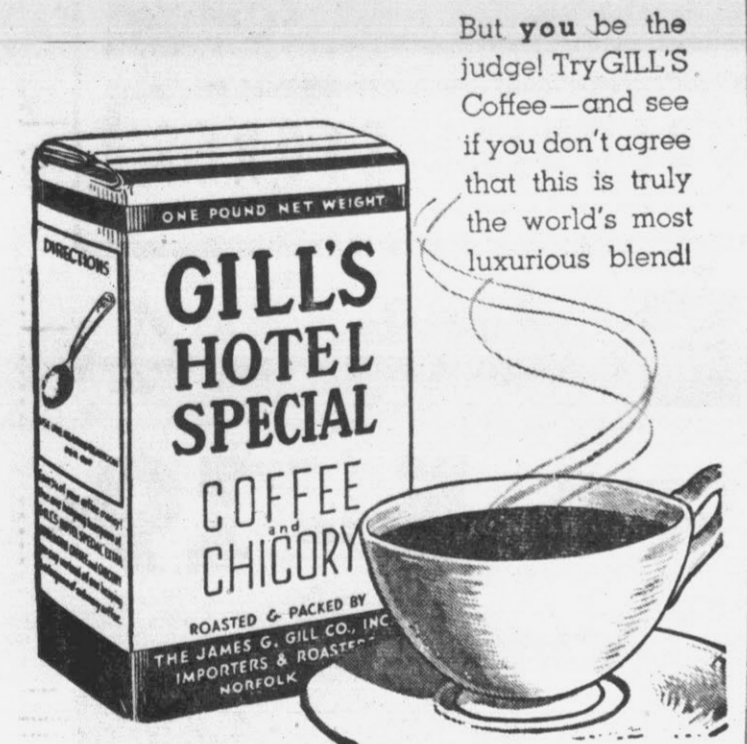

FREEPORT, N.Y. (AP)—An X-ray shows that a Long Island couple apparently has lost a $25,000 gamble with the stork and Lloyds of London.

Jean and David Blechman

"bet" Lloyds $1,875 to $25,000 that they would have their third consecutive set of twins in June. But an X-ray indicated yesterday that the 29-year-old mother will give birth to a single child.

Blechman, 33, a pharmaceutical salesman, and friends and relatives raised the $1,875 for the multiple-birth insurance policy from Lloyds.

Quick Diagnosis: A Rubber Band

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Sir Reginald had a hangdog look. He was strangely quiet and wouldn't eat or drink.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Humphreys started with the 10-year-old cocker spaniel to a veterinarian's office. On the way Mrs. Humphreys rubbed the dog's head and "I palmed his jaw."

"I have diagnosed the case," she suddenly told her husband. She removed a rubber band which had slipped around Sir Reginald's jaw and held it fast. The band apparently had come from a newspaper the dog had lugged into the house.

Sir Reginald recovered quickly.

All In Order, But For One Thing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Coast Guard said in a letter that navigation lights on the two biggest bridges across the Arkansas River at Little Rock could be turned off.

The authorization of Capt. E. E. Comstock of the U. S. Coast Guard district headquarters at St. Louis was addressed to the board of commissioners of the improvement district which paid for two bridges.

Everything was in order. Strictly official. Except that the board was dissolved in 1950, when bridge bonds were paid off. And no navigation lights ever were installed on the bridges.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — The stock market drifted a little lower under profit taking in the early afternoon today.

Losses mostly ranged from small fractions to around 1 point in trading which slackened off from yesterday's active pace.

Prior to today the market had advanced for four straight sessions. This left it in a position where it was vulnerable to profit-taking, brokers said.

Sugars showed independent strength in response to a sharp upturn in sugar futures and news that the Cuban Sugar Institute late yesterday sold 150,000 tons of raw sugar to Russia.

Cuban American sugar jumped 2 points while lesser gains were run up by West Indies sugar, South Puerto Rico sugar and Verientes-Camaguey sugar.

Oils, steels and metals, recent favorites, were uniformly lower, although losses did not run very far in any case. A few drug issues were in demand.

Lukens steel quieted down after its recent wild gyrations. It lost about a point while Youngstown, U.S. Steel and Republic slipped for fractional declines.

The motor issues held up well. Studebaker - Packard again was very actively traded. A couple of early blocks of 10,100 and 5,000 shares were up 1/4, a gain which the stock maintained in later dealings.

International Nickel dropped more than a point in the metal section while Kennecott was off a major fraction. But Anaconda scored a small gain.

Chemicals were mixed. Allied Chemical and Union Carbide moving slightly higher.

Trading in General Plywood on the American Stock Exchange was suspended for 7 minutes to permit matching of orders. This stock closed yesterday at 10 1/4. The stock was 9 1/4 when trading was suspended and 8 1/4 when it was resumed.

The American Stock Exchange said it knew of no news to account for the sudden spurge in selling.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks at noon was down 30 cents at $177.90—with the industrials down 40 cents, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Police Charge Father And Son

A father and his son were arrested by local police on charges of embezzlement and receiving stolen goods.

After an investigation, officers arrested Curtis Street, 43, of Greenville Rt. 5 on charges of embezzlement and Bobby Street, 21, also of Greenville Rt. 5 on charges of receiving stolen goods. Both were released under $150 bond.

The investigation involved the disappearance of a sizable amount of clothes hangers and laundry bags from storage warehouses belonging to College View Cleaners on Grande Avenue and on Albe-Marie Avenue.

Curtis Street was an employee of College View Cleaners at the time of the investigation while his son was employed elsewhere in Greenville. Police investigated the matter after receiving a complaint from the local cleaning and laundry firm.

Police stated this morning that some of the missing hangers and laundry bags were found in Street's home and in his car.

The two accused men are tentatively scheduled to be tried tomorrow morning in City Court.

Hard To Keep Canadian Secret Data A 'Secret'

WASHINGTON — Administration officials said today it may be difficult to withhold from congressional committees security information given to this country by Canada.

A Canadian demand for such a pledge was presented to Undersecretary of State Christian Herter yesterday by Ambassador A. D. P. Heeneey.

Under the terms proposed by Canada, information given to the United States in future on such matters as Communist subversion could be passed on to committees of Congress only when the Canadian government specifically agreed.

The Canadian move stems from Canada's anger over the suicide death of its ambassador in Cairo, E. H. Norman, last week. Norman had been accused before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of having once been a Communist. The subcommittee made public the testimony on this point.

No information obtained from Canada was involved in the Norman case, but Canada criticized the action and said she must protect her citizens.

In Ottawa yesterday Lester B. Pearson, minister for external affairs, told Parliament that the Canadian government was taking steps to deal with the situation involved in the events which preceded Norman's death.

About the same time, Heeneey presented the new demand to Herter and received an answer to an earlier Canadian protest against the subcommittee's actions. The March 18 protest called the charges against Norman "irresponsible allegations." It emphasized that Canada had given Norman "a clean bill of health" in 1951 after careful investigation. The American answer to the March protest expressed regret at Norman's death but said that the executive branch of the U.S. government had no responsibility for the subcommittee's behavior. President Eisenhower had made a similar comment at his news conference earlier in the day, expressing hope "that the thing can now be dropped" and good relations restored.

State Department authorities declared that the new Canadian demand would be given the most serious consideration. It appeared evident that they, at least, hoped that some kind of an agreement satisfactory to the Canadian government could be worked out.

At stake is the continued U.S.-Canadian exchange of information on Communist activities. The Canadian note declared that unless the demand for assurance was met "the Canadian government must reserve the right in future not to supply security information concerning Canadian citizens to any United States government agency."

Summerfield Avers Every Effort Made

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Summerfield has told a House Appropriations subcommittee "we made every effort humanly possible" to live within the Post Office Department's budget.

His testimony last week, regarding 47 million dollars more to maintain normal mail service in the last three months of this fiscal year, was made public today.

The committee later voted to give him 17 million dollars but delayed a vote on the other 30 million until Friday.

The postmaster general, insisting on the full amount, then ordered post offices to prepare to halt virtually all Saturday mail services, starting Saturday.

He told the subcommittee the Post Office already had put a freeze on extension of any routes
