

Benson Says House Vote Carries Threat Of More Costly Farm Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson told House members today that the vote by the full House to kill a big part of the soil bank program carries the threat of more costly farm surpluses.

Benson said House "prejudgment" was based on partial evaluation of the soil bank as it operated last year.

The secretary said price supports have been generally "helpful" but that they have given the farmer "not too much but too little."

British Hail Own H-Bomb As 'Independence' Of U.S.

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers declared today Britain's first hydrogen bomb test had restored the nation's independence of the United States and increased its stature as a world power.

"Now she (Britain) is a nuclear power," declared the Conservative Daily Mail. "She not only possesses the bomb, but she knows that it works. So do other countries. This is why yesterday's explosion is so momentous."

Rayburn Honors Rep. Bonner In Portrait Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The portrait of "a Congressman who does not talk too much" Rep. Herbert Bonner (D-N.C.) was presented today to a House committee by Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

The presentation was made to the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, of which Bonner is chairman.

Rayburn commented that some congressmen talk too much.

But, he said, "Herbert Bonner doesn't talk too much, so when he does talk he challenges the attention of the House because he knows what he's talking about."

The speaker added, "I will be happy to see his portrait here, indicative of the great service he has rendered the American citizens everywhere."

Minority leader Joe Martin (R-Mass) and members of the North Carolina delegation in Congress attended the ceremony.

Would Reduce Other Budgets; Not Their Own

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee recommended today that the House use its budget-cutting ax sparingly on its own funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It approved a bill allotting $78,470,285 to operate the House and related agencies during the next year. The House will debate the measure next week.

Only two per cent was trimmed from funds for operation of the House itself. For this purpose, the committee recommended $37,927,705, a reduction of $752,680.

The remaining $1,455,663 was trimmed from funds requested for joint Senate-House committees, the Library of Congress, the Capitol architect, the Government Printing Office and the Botanic Gardens, which, with Congress, constitute the legislative establishment.

The entire 7 1/2 millions requested to continue construction of a new House office building and remodeling of the two existing buildings was approved. But an attempt to eliminate the money will be made on the House floor.

The estimated final cost of the construction is 100 million dollars. The committee said it made cuts "wherever and to the extent the committee felt justified under the given circumstances."

Returned to the states, Sgt. Koonce was selected for a training chief's job at camp Lejeune in 1955.

He was transferred to Parris Island in March, 1956 and he was assigned to the First Recruit Training Battalion as a drill instructor. That job recently earned him a personal citation from the Commanding General.

House Committee Tables N.C. Minimum Wage Bill

RALEIGH (AP)—A House committee today tabled a 75 cents hourly minimum wage bill a ready-made amendment, which would require a two-thirds vote of House membership.

It was a parliamentary maneuver which apparently spelled the death of minimum wage legislation for this session. Rep. H. Cloyd Philpott of Davidson, a committee member and strong administration supporter, called it "the kiss of death."

Since the House committee on Manufacturing and Labor did not vote on the measure, Philpott explained, a minority report could not be submitted although one was prepared with more than enough signatures.

Philpott said it appeared the only way the bill could be brought before the House would be on a motion to withdraw it from the committee, which would require a two-thirds vote of House membership.

"I don't think we can do that," he added.

The committee chairman, Rep. J. Paul Wallace of Montgomery, and one vice chairman, Rep. Dwight Quinn of Cabarrus, joined in the 16 members voting for the tabling motion made by Rep. Frank Pittman of Halifax. There were 28 members present.

The other vice chairman, Rep. Radford Powell of Rockingham, made a plea for a favorable report. Gov. Hodges, Powell reminded, "has gone on record from Mantoo to Murphy" for a minimum wage law as part of the program to raise per capita income.

Before tabling the bill and all its amendments, the committee adopted new amendments which would: Make the bill apply only to businesses employing five or more workers.

Exempt manufacturers and distributors of ice.

Exempt persons in executive and administrative positions with insurance companies. The sponsor, Rep. James E. McKnight of Re-dell, said this would eliminate "worlds of bookkeeping" for the companies.

The committee defeated an amendment by Rep. Ed Kemp of Guilford to eliminate all exemptions under the bill. "I can't buy the idea of a half-way law," said Kemp.

Philpott warned that adoption of Kemp's amendment "would be playing into the hands of those who have always fought minimum wage legislation." Even the federal wage law has exemptions, Philpott said.

In anticipation of an unfavorable report, Powell had a minority report prepared. He quickly garnered more than the six signatures which would have brought the measure to the House floor.

Only a majority vote of the House would have been required to adopt the minority report and move on to action on the bill. However, since the bill was tabled, a two-thirds vote of House membership would be necessary to bring the bill to the floor.

Tornado Rips Through West Texas Town Without Warning; 19 Killed

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—A tornado ripped through this little West Texas town last night and killed 19 persons, state police reported. At least six were children.

Police Capt. J. W. Blackwell said officers had counted 19 bodies, but that not all were identified.

"We got no warning at all," said Elvert Stephens. "It came down on Silvertown out of the rainy night without warning. People died without even knowing what happened. In one family, seven are dead."

The black funnel destroyed 25 homes, a cotton gin, four granaries and a warehouse, and damaged at least 30 other homes. It smashed automobiles, buses and utility lines.

This stricken community is in the Texas Panhandle, 65 miles southeast of Amarillo.

"The people are numb with shock and terror," Sheriff Darrell Smith said. "They can't seem to realize what has happened."

All communication lines and utilities were knocked out. The Red Cross death count of 13 was compiled from Department of Public Safety radio reports.

National Guard units, nurses, doctors, Red Cross helpers and volunteer rescue workers converged here.

Lack of lights, a torrential rain that continued for hours after the tornado struck and unpaired roads hampered rescue work in this town of 857 population.

One elderly couple covered in their storm cellar hours after the twister had passed. Their home had been swept away.

When hospitals at Tulsa and Lockney were overflowing with injured, ambulances took other victims to Plainview, Floydada, Dimmitt and Amarillo.

DALLAS (AP)—More than 20 tornadoes lashed Texas last night and today, and state police counted at least 19 deaths. Scores were injured and property damage was heavy.

The worst tornado struck Silvertown, 65 miles southeast of Amarillo, where police counted the 19 dead. The twister roared through the small town of 857 population at 10:30 p.m. CST.

At least 80 persons were injured, many of them critically.

The Silvertown tornado climaxed the 28th straight day of violent weather in Texas.

With the exception of two twisters, all of yesterday's tornadoes were in the Panhandle and South Plains area. One man was injured near Clarendon, north of Silvertown, as the funnels zigzagged across the prairie county.

RALEIGH (AP)—Dry forces were defeated as expected today when the House Committee on Propositions and Grievances handed an unfavorable report to legislation calling for a statewide vote on liquor.

The defeated bill called for an "all or nothing" liquor vote in next year's general election. Under the bill, a dry victory would have banned liquor, beer and wine sales throughout the state. A wet victory would have legalized ABC liquor stores and beer and wine sales in every county of the state.

Senator Critical Of 'Help' Concept

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today the Eisenhower administration ought to "quit going out looking for things to do for the people" that add to the cost of government.

Goldwater, who has assailed what he called the "splintered concept" of "Modern Republicanism," said he agrees generally with President Eisenhower's new conference statement yesterday that the GOP has to face up to "the needs of the people today, not 1860."

"Nobody argues with that," Goldwater said in an interview. "But it is wrong to go out looking for things to do for people."

"I find no widespread demand, for instance, for federal aid to education, health insurance or even for expanded minimum wage coverage. Those are the things that push up the expenditures."

Eisenhower has included these proposals in his legislative program. He argued vigorously for his proposal for federal aid for school construction in his TV-radio defense of his $72,900,000 spending budget Tuesday night.

Goldwater said he thinks these and other programs can be postponed.

"We Republicans were elected in 1952 because we promised to change the tide of spend and spend, tax and tax," he said. "If we don't do that, we are going to be held accountable at the polls."

Sen. Allott (R-Colo.), who usually supports Eisenhower's legislative proposals, said he agrees there is "no clear demonstration of national need" for a school construction program. He said he still wants to cut the budget three billion dollars.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) challenged Eisenhower to show why nonmilitary spending has increased six billion dollars in the last two years.

Sixth Newcomers Party Sees Good Turnout At Annual Event

This city's sixth annual Newcomers Party was staged last night in the Moose Temple Auditorium.

Over 200 people attended the party that is held each year to welcome, entertain and give new families who have moved to Greenville since May, 1956 an opportunity to meet one another.

James L. Harris, Jr. general chairman of the Newcomers Party Committee said this morning, "Although we have had larger crowds in past years, the party has never been more enjoyable and more well coordinated."

"After all, the primary purpose of the Newcomers Party is to promote better relationship between new families and local residents," stated Harris who added, "By doing this it is felt that all concerned will 'get together' to build a bigger and better Greenville."

Mayor Gene West welcomed the newcomers and the hosts and hostesses on behalf of the city of Greenville. Eli Bloom served as master of ceremonies.

One of the highlights of the event was a Square Dance demonstration by a sub-teen group taught by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brooks. The young groups went through several routines during their dance show.

Dessert refreshments were served to the group and games were played under the direction of Recreation Director Gordon Goodman and his assistants. Prizes and gifts donated by Greenville merchants were presented during several intervals of the party.

Music was furnished by Bill McAdams East Carolina College Orchestra.

Organizations sponsoring the event include: Moose Lodge, Women of the Moose, the Recreation Commission, Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's Club, Credit Women's Breakfast Club, Civitans, Exchange, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Lions, Merchants Association and the Rotary.

REFRESHMENTS—Refreshments were served at various intervals during the Newcomers Party staged in the Moose Temple Auditorium last night. More than 200 people attended the event, the sixth held in Greenville. (Reflector Staff Photos).

Miss Janie Smith of Pikeville and a member of the physical education department of East Carolina College will serve as the director of Camp Hardee, the Girl Scout camp, this summer.

For the past five years Miss Smith was head counselor at Camp Nawita, Severance, New York. Previously she was a unit leader at Camp Trailie, Goldsboro.

"I am anticipating a successful summer and feel that the opportunity of directing this camp is a real challenge," she noted.

Miss Smith also mentioned that "This year will be a good year because of the close cooperation and interest of the Girl Scout Council and the 17 staff members."

"A varied program including swimming, archery, boating, crafts, tennis, badminton, recreational sports, music, dancing, nature, outdoor cooking, and hiking have been planned for the girls," Miss Smith observed.

Camp Hardee will officially open June 16. "The first camping period

Lakewood Pines Garden Club Plans Donations, Wokshop

The Lakewood Pines Garden Club will donate $100 from the proceeds of its Spring Fair to be divided among the three Negro schools of Greenville and the Carver Library.

This decision was made unanimously at the annual business meeting of the club, held Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Robert Wagner of Lakewood Drive.

Mrs. Tyson Bilbro, Mrs. K. G. Harris, and Mrs. Thomas Marshall were named as a committee to visit the principals of the schools and the Carver librarian to discuss their needs for playground, library, or building funds and to make recommendations to the club concerning the actual distribution of the money.

In her final report, Mrs. Raymond Lowe, chairman of the Spring Fair, stated that the 1957 Fair had been as successful as last year's Fair and thanked all members for their generous cooperation and hard work. She added that the club owes thanks to many non-member neighbors and to friends of the club all over town.

Mrs. R. P. Heller, presiding for the final meeting before Mrs. William Wright becomes president, said that she was extremely proud of the work the club had done this year.

She pointed out that the Lakewood Pines Garden Club has again earned enough points to make the North Carolina honor roll and that the record of the club's accomplishments not listed on the rating sheet was equally impressive.

Two amendments to the constitution, concerning membership and leaves of absence, which had been introduced and tabled at the last meeting, were discussed and passed at this meeting.

The refreshment table was decorated with wild "water" iris, and a large arrangement of sweet bay (or swamp magnolia). Foliage and blossoms were displayed on a corner table. Both arrangements were made by Mrs. R. P. Heller from wild flowers in Lakewood Pines.

This was the last regular meeting of the club until next fall.

Members agreed to meet for a flower-arrangement workshop at Mrs. Heller's home on Tuesday morning, June 11. Mrs. Bilbro cordially invited club members to spend the day at her summer home on the river on Tuesday, July 9. There will not be a meeting in August.

After the luncheon Mrs. H. G. Haney, president, dispensed with several items of business.

The new officers elected to serve for the coming year were: Mrs. R. P. Rogers, president; Mrs. A. A. Hines, vice president; and Mrs. Richard Atkinson, reporter. The club voted to support the Greenville High School Band this year as its main project.

Mrs. J. L. Savage won the prize given by Mrs. W. H. Woolard for wearing the most unique hat in the group.

Mrs. L. A. Stroud directed a musical program, after discussing music. With every member participating, each told their favorite type of music.

Mrs. C. L. Lupton and Mrs. Richard Atkinson were welcomed as new members. Guests for the occasion were Mrs. John Behr, Mrs. J. E. Dees, Mrs. W. E. Roseveare and Mrs. Donna Tabar.

Hostesses who were in charge of arrangements for the luncheon were Mrs. L. A. Stroud, Mrs. Michael Luskin, Miss Christine Johnston and Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall.

Mrs. Topping Discusses Tea Dance Plans

The Home Department of the Woman's Club held its final meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Jasper Tripp, chairman, who presided.

Mrs. L. W. Topping, chairman of the Senior Party Committee, presented plans for the annual Tea Dance to be given for the graduating class of Greenville High School on May 30 at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Tripp, reporting on the Sidewalk Lunch Bar, thanked everyone for helping to make it a success.

The group voted to give a check for $25 to the Woman's Club building fund.

A lengthy discussion was held concerning programs for the coming year. Plans for holding at least two institutes or workshops on homemaking during the year were discussed.

At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Tripp presented Mrs. L. W. Topping, who is moving to Spartanburg, S. C. in June, a milk glass bowl from the department "for her loyalty and service to the club in the past."

The members were invited into the dining room where they were served punch, party sandwiches, cheese biscuit, petits fours and nuts by the hostesses, Mrs. Tripp, Mrs. Edgar Barnhill and Mrs. L. W. Topping.

The dining room table was covered with a Madeira cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and white snapdragons. Other arrangements of spring flowers were placed throughout the house.

Hostesses not present were Mrs. J. Hicks Corey and Mrs. D. L. Harrell.

Report Heard By Cannon HD Club

A report on the district meeting in Lenoir County was heard at the regular monthly meeting of the Cannon's Home Demonstration Club which met at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Worthington.

Members were urged to attend the Progress Program Picnic in order to have 100 per cent attendance.

Other business included the discussion of a fair booth. Homemade cake and ice cream was served by the hostess.

Editor Is Named

Mrs. Anne Singleton has been named Woman's Editor for the Reflector, Managing Editor David J. Whitchard announced today.

She will be in charge of all women's page news in her new capacity and editing of the Reflector's women's pages.

Mrs. Singleton attended East Carolina College beginning in 1953 and she completed the two-year secretarial course.

While in college she served as feature editor and assistant editor for the "East Carolinian," the college student newspaper.

She was born in Richmond, Va. and worked on the school paper there for two years while in high school.

The new Woman's Editor is married to Paul Singleton, an ECC student, and they have a daughter, Linda, one-year-old.

Mrs. Singleton came to the Reflector seven months ago. Until her appointment as Woman's Editor, she served as a general news reporter and dark room technician.

W. S. C. S. Plans To Buy Church Piano

The W.S.C.S. of the Bell Arthur Methodist Church had their meeting at the church last Friday night at 8:00 o'clock. The meeting began with the singing of "Give Me Thou Heart."

Mrs. J. T. Pollard read the scripture and Mrs. Charlie Sutton led the group in prayer. Mrs. G. R. Gurganus presided during the business session. Plans for the coming revival were discussed. The Society agreed to help pay for a new piano to put in the church.

Following the business session, Mrs. W. L. White presented the worship program. Mrs. White explained the need for mission fields and the Christian woman's obligations to meet these needs. She asked each member to fill out her pledge card for the coming year.

The hostesses, Mrs. Guy Sutton and Mrs. Charlie Sutton, served buttered pecans, pimento cheese sandwiches, potato chips, cookies, and soft drinks.

Bluing Not What It Seems Say Experts

CHICAGO (AP)—When a homemaker adds bluing to the family wash, she is creating a phenomenon that actually reduces the brightness of the laundry.

"In essence, a bluing agent subtracts light or reduces the reflectance of the fabric so that the over-all effect is more neutral," according to O. Harry Olson, a specialist in colorimetry at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Also performs scientific research in the field of light and optics.

His explanation of the effect of bluing on the family wash is merely an example of how humans see color.

"A color-conscious public demand that color must match, harmonize, create moods, attract, repel, cool or warm," he says. "Unfortunately, sky-blue, aqua, pink and orange mean different things to different people. The perception of color is a highly personal experience."

He says our color memory is poor, adding: "Therefore, color standards must be set up to control the color of dyes, glass, inks and textiles."

Two Years Late On Important Step

If Superior Courts of North Carolina are to function properly, and the backlogs of criminal cases are to be held within reason, the state must increase its number of solicitorial districts.

Two years ago when the legislature was considering the creation of additional judicial districts, The Reflector advocated a similar increase in solicitorial districts. The General Assembly, however, saw fit only to increase the number of judicial districts, and leave the old solicitorial districts as they were.

Now there has appeared in the Senate hopper a bill which would increase the number of solicitorial districts to 30 to correspond with the number of judicial districts. This legislation, though it is two years late, should be passed by the General Assembly. Otherwise a bottleneck will continue to exist in spite of the increase in judicial districts designed to streamline the state's Superior Court system.

The increase in the number of judicial districts two years ago was a major step in breaking the heavy backlog of docketed civil cases and enabling the Superior Courts throughout the state to keep up with civil cases. Because of the failure to re-align solicitorial districts, however, little was gained so far as the heavy backlog of criminal cases was concerned.

As it is now solicitorial districts in many cases overlap two or more judicial districts. That means, of course, that while a criminal term of court is in session in one judicial district, served by the same solicitor, cannot have a criminal term of court.

Pitt County is now in the third judicial district composed of Pitt, Craven, Pamlico and Carteret Counties. It is in the fifth solicitorial district which is composed of these four counties plus Greene and Jones Counties. To complicate matters further Jones and Greene is each in a separate judicial district. Jones County and Greene County make up parts of two other judicial districts.

The present system has proved a decided handicap in scheduling terms of criminal courts throughout the state. The increase in the number of judicial districts without a corresponding increase in solicitorial districts has done little to cope with the growing number of criminal cases which must be tried in Superior Courts throughout the state.

If the legislature is to complete the program of streamlining Superior Courts that it began two years ago, it must increase the number of solicitorial districts. If it fails to do so, we can only expect the backlog of criminal cases to continue to grow.

Imagine Watching A Century Of Change

Who wants to live to a ripe old age of 125 or 150?

How would it be to look back on a century or so in the old home town, watch the changes in a way of life and cope with modern times?

It would present all kinds of problems and certainly unforeseen adjustments. It would create a whole new world for most people. Yet, a former president of the American Medical Association says we can look forward in future years to the life span of the average American reaching that seemingly phenomenal length.

For all its problems, such a life would have its rewards, almost beyond imagination.

Just think: retirement at age 65, or even age 75, with half our life still ahead of us. If people of the so-called "advanced" years these days get such a kick out of playing with their grandchildren, just think what a thrill it would be to help raise one's own great-grand children, great-great-grandchildren and maybe those with a couple of more "great-greats" before them.

If people today stand awed by the progress of an half century, just imagine the satisfaction one could have in the human race if he could look back on the progress of a century or more—all in his own lifetime.

Today it is generally accepted that the average man or woman reaches the prime of life somewhere between 35 and 45. Just think what it would be to look forward to the prime of life at the age of 80 or 90.

Who wants to live to be 125 or 150? Give us your prescription Doc. We'd like to try it.

Signs Of Another Quake?

by DON SCHLIENZ

Any Plans For Saturday?

This Saturday will be Armed Forces Day, and anyone who has the time and opportunity shouldn't miss being a "VIP" at one of our military bases.

The kids would love it. Jets, rockets, warships... the last word in all the thousands of items that make up national defense will be on display.

Civilians who live near an Army, Naval or Air installation make quite a production out of the annual event. We in Pitt county, rather removed from the big establishments, are not so preoccupied. Pitt does have a lot of its sons, and some daughters, in uniform; so maybe their families and friends have a more than passing interest in Armed Forces Day.

Should one go to Cherry Point, they'd see a show there; or at Fort Bragg; and if anyone wanders as far afield as Norfolk, there's big doings scheduled too. These programs are within reach, should anyone get warmed up to the idea.

At Cherry Point, the Marines have set up a guided tour of aircraft and equipment. A full day of activities starting at 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. is offered. Military Police will provide traffic control and ample parking space. Shuttle bus service will be available between the Air Station's main gate and the display areas.

Or, should you go to Fort Bragg: The 82nd Airborne Division will stage two mass parachute jumps; one at 11:00 a.m. and another at 2:30 p.m. Each jump will involve eight "Flying Boxcars," and the troopers will also drop a howitzer and three-quarter ton truck as part of the show.

A carnival-type midway with a host of exhibits has been planned with displays for grownups and the kids. The Division band will give three concerts and drill teams, artillery fire power demonstrations, the war museum will all be part of the show. To climax it all, there will be a massive retreat parade at 4:30 p.m. on the Main Post parade grounds. Some 25,000 visitors are expected.

At Norfolk, the Naval base will be open to the public, with exhibits and tours. Naval Air Station Oceana (Virginia Beach) is also having a program. Several warships will be open to visitors.

An Anti-aircraft Artillery Group at Norfolk is likewise opening its installations to the public. This unit includes Nike missiles and 90 mm guns.

The men and boys in uniform are putting on a show for John Q. Public; and one wouldn't expect them to have overlooked anything to make it a good deal. I wish I were going.

Other Editors Saying--- Doctors And The Press

When men of good will get together, there is no limit to what can be accomplished. This was the attitude in which the press and the doctors approached the important question of press relations.

The Wilson Daily Times wants to thank the doctors for the interest demonstrated in "Doctors and the Press," a panel discussion at the meeting of the Eastern Press association held Saturday at the Atlantic Christian college. The doctors sent their top representatives.

The panel included Dr. Donald Koone, immediate past president of the N. C. Medical Society and Dr. John Newborn, president of the General Practitioners of North Carolina. Our local doctors were present and the interest was genuine and gratifying.

There are problems, this was brought out. The doctor's first duty is to the patient and the newspaper's the public it serves. But both agreed that a mutual understanding of the problems of both will help erase misunderstandings.

There are many areas in which the doctors and the press have a natural meeting ground. These include clinics and publicity on projects relative to the general health of the people. In Wilson we have helped the doctors put over their heart public information clinics, cancer projects and the like. The Daily Times considers these efforts a public service on the part of the medical profession and the press.

But progress is being made. The very fact that the medical profession and the press are making honest efforts to find a meeting ground is the surest evidence that the two can work in harmony. This was evident at the panel, where a most cooperative and understanding attitude was present between two of the great professions.

There are differences of opinion between the doctors and the press because of their obligations to the ones they serve. But the doctors and the press realize that each needs the other.

The medical profession is making a comprehensive study of public relations. Roy Carter, Jr., of the University School of Journalism is conducting the survey. And from what was brought out in the panel discussion, reappraisals are necessary on the part of the press and the medical profession.

But progress is being made. The very fact that the medical profession and the press are making honest efforts to find a meeting ground is the surest evidence that the two can work in harmony. This was evident at the panel, where a most cooperative and understanding attitude was present between two of the great professions.

Truckers Face 'Balkan' Concept

By ELMER ROESSNER The U. S. Department of Agriculture has made a study of regulations affecting trucking in 19 Eastern states and the District of Columbia and has published a "yes, but" report.

It concludes that states have made serious efforts to avoid undue restrictions on trucking. To reach this conclusion the Department wades through a swamp of detail on how truckers must contend with widely varying sets of regulations, delays in weighing and inaccurate scales, and double and triple layers of taxes.

At first glance it may seem strange that the Department of Agriculture would tackle the trucking situation, especially since the dispute between truckers and railroads has moved into a stage of suits, countersuits and intensive lobbying. But a little reflection will convince anyone that the USDA is certainly within its province. Farmers send much of their produce to market by trucks, and what do truckers look at on their long hauls between cities but agriculture? BALKANIZED AMERICA

The 19 states are those north and east of the southern border of Virginia, Kentucky and Illinois. The USDA calls this a 20-state area, including the District of Columbia as a state for convenience and, perhaps, because Washington is a state of mind after all.

If found that of these states, no two with a common border had identical regulations on weight, height, length and width. It found that a typical vehicle, the 40,000-pound, 39-foot, 3-axle combination could move freely into all 20 states, but could use only certain highways in Kentucky and Virginia. A footnote says that since the report was written, those states have modified their laws. That's the way you do things in government? You write a report and when the facts change, you add a footnote.

A truck from Chicago to New York would encounter different weight limits in each of the five states it crossed. A heavy truck from the South would have to go around Kentucky to get to Chicago because of a 42,000-pound weight limit. One highway monster, a 5-axle tandem tractor, tandem semi-trailer, 64,000 pounds and 49 feet long, could not operate in 12 of the 20 states.

ENFORCEMENT VARIATIONS The study finds that there are so many trucks and so few enforcement officers that it is impossible to check weights of all trucks. Truckers complain about the delay in weighing. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has developed a scale that weighs trucks electronically without stopping them but this scale is used only in three states and there experimentally.

Truckers also complain that scales are inaccurate or that some problems, such as load shifting and errors in loading, are beyond drivers' control. The USDA said, "Most truckers load to within 200 to 500 pounds of the limit in order to allow for some added weight from snow, ice or mud... of faulty terminal weighing."

It added: "Drivers who operate through a given territory frequently acquire a good working knowledge of the weight laws and the degree to which they are likely to be enforced. It is probable that a number of overweight trucks operate without hindrance at any time."

Ever wonder why some trucks look like rolling Christmas trees? That's because of the variations between state and Interstate Commerce Commission safety rules. The ICC requires 2 red tail lights, most states demand one. The ICC requires two or four amber clearance lights in front; Vermont requires one green one and Kentucky two or four green or white ones.

States originally levied double taxes, registration fees and fuel excises. Since the war there has been a growth in "third structure" taxes, as they are called. These are privilege fees, ton-mile levies and others. In one state, the cost of collecting this third tax is often greater than the amount taken in each year.

A 50,000-pound giant plying between New York and Chicago would pay a total of $9,646.08 a year, which is one reason your hamburger, beans, flour and beer — and everything else you buy — costs so much.

Governor Notes Resurgence N. C.

By LYNN NISBET FUTURE LOOK Governor Hodges told newsmen at his latest session with them that North Carolina is on the way toward recapturing the place of leadership in education, industry and roads which it occupied for several decades. We moved ahead of the rest of the South in these fields in the 1920's, he said, and held the lead for many years.

Recently, despite gratifying progress, we have lost position because other states have progressed more rapidly. There was one pessimistic note in his comments. He expressed regret that the House of Representatives at Washington had voted down any appropriation for Federal aid in the disaster insurance program, and has only dim hope that the Senate will restore the item or that both branches will approve it. Obviously, he said, if there are so many complaints and inquiries, certainly the Federal government cannot handle it alone, certainly the State of North Carolina cannot afford the aid required.

Without possibility of being able to buy insurance there is doubt whether investment capital can be induced to rebuild facilities destroyed by natural disasters. Some time a rational plan will be worked out, but for the near future the prospect of disaster insurance is remote.

On the positive side, Governor Hodges cited two instances to support his optimism for the future. One was the inauguration of William C. Friday as president of the Consolidated University. The other is reasonable certainty that the General Assembly will enact the revised tax program designed to encourage industrial development in the state.

TREND The ceremonies at William Neal Reynolds coliseum last week accomplished more than inauguration of a new president. They marked arrest if not reversal of the downward trend in prestige of the University of North Carolina.

The Governor did not, but he could have, support that positive statement with documentary evidence. Practically every newspaper which made editorial comment on the inauguration cited the event as the dawn of a brighter day for education in North Carolina. More to the point, a couple days after the ceremony the subcommittee of the joint appropriations committee restored amounts which had been cut from allocations for library books at Chapel Hill and Greensboro (State College library request had not been cut by the budget group).

The program outlined by President Friday for closer tie-in between the University, other institutions of higher education and the public school system. Governor Hodges commended as courageous acceptance of a challenge.

CONSTRUCTIVE — Confident that the administration tax program will be written into law, the Governor predicted that in years to come the people will look to the 1957 session as one of the most constructive Legislatures in History.

All segments of citizenship must work together to realize full benefits, he said. No attempt should be made to play one group against another—agriculture against industry, rural against urban needs. (That concept calls for equality of treatment of city people in school transportation and public road maintenance, and for recognition of the fact that the term "industry" embraces recreation and travel as well as manufacturing plants, a concept not fully recognized in the administration budget bills.)

WUNC-TV From inception of the idea the operation of a television station by the University of North Carolina has been controversial. Although most of the original cost of equipment and its installation was provided by private money wangled out of rich folks by Billy Carmichael, and there is considerable revenue from non-tax sources, the operation of WUNC-TV does require some public money.

Whether the expenditure of public funds is justified depends largely upon the extent to which the facilities are used and the type of use made of them. Increasing use is being made for public benefit, and much wider use is possible through cooperation of nonprofit public service organizations.

Utilization of the "closed circuit" feature, whereby audiences at Asheville, Wilmington and places between can have programs piped to them and not to the public affords opportunity for statewide presentation of civil defense, traffic safety and other material of semi-confidential nature. The cost of piping the program is much less than travel cost of all participants, and the results are said to be comparable. Chief drawback is lack of facilities for asking questions of the speakers. Anybody who has attended a clinic in the field of general policy, a plan is being developed whereby the press will have a source through which it can clear medical information for publication. But it is the every day events, the news items that involve the time element that are the most difficult to handle. These items interest the public, because there are more of them of interest to a larger segment of the population. Life is made up of small events for the majority of us. It reminds us of the collect, "In the big things of life we are as one, it is the little things that create differences."

And the doctors are considering a plan to handle the every day news items. Doctors are busy people and newspapers have deadlines to meet. So doctors and hospitals are considering delegating authority to one person to release information. This would certainly facilitate matters for the press.

There may be differences of opinion between the doctors and the press because of their obligations to the ones they serve. But the doctors and the press realize that each needs the other.

The medical profession is making a comprehensive study of public relations. Roy Carter, Jr., of the University School of Journalism is conducting the survey. And from what was brought out in the panel discussion, reappraisals are necessary on the part of the press and the medical profession.

But progress is being made. The very fact that the medical profession and the press are making honest efforts to find a meeting ground is the surest evidence that the two can work in harmony. This was evident at the panel, where a most cooperative and understanding attitude was present between two of the great professions.

Simple Success Secret

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Ever hear of a professional dust collector?

Well, there is one. He's Dr. Nathan Wiener, friend of the American housewife, who collects two tons of house dust a year, purifies it and concentrates it.

The concentrate is then used to immunize hundreds of thousands of persons allergic to dust. Take it from Dr. Wiener, a former Harvard faculty chemist who now is research director for Endo Laboratories, the problem of house dust isn't to be sneezed at.

"About 70 per cent of people who suffer from bronchial asthma are sensitive to house dust," he said. "It can be positively dangerous to them."

Some 16 million Americans are allergic to one or more substances.

"Allergy is as nearly a universal affliction as any I can think of," said Dr. Wiener. "It is a bond that links mankind."

"I doubt if there is a large percentage of people who aren't allergic to a degree to one substance of another," he said.

"There even have been cases of women who were found to be allergic to their husband's dandruff."

"House dust is one of the commonest causes of allergies," he said, "at least as common as any other well-known agent, such as goldenrod and ragweed pollen during the hay fever season."

"The housewife usually thinks of dust as dirt — the particles of soil and ash that float into her home."

"The dust we are after is decomposed proteins from the breakdown of wool, cotton and other organic materials in the house — such as pillows and upholstery stuffing."

The foreign proteins in this dust, breathed into the body, cause the allergic reaction.

Dr. Wiener gets his dust from mattress manufacturers and upholstering firms. If you have any idea of sending your boy through college by selling Dr. Wiener the dust from your old sofa, abandon the thought.

"As of now," he said, "we are satisfied with our present sources of supply."

The 4,000 pounds of rough dust he uses each year go through eight purification stages and emerge as 10 to 20 pounds of pure house dust concentrate, enough for two million inoculation shots.

The stuff no longer really then is a dust, but a brown syrupy mixture that looks like molasses.

"No matter how dust-free a woman keeps her own home," said Dr. Wiener, "she can't control the dust in other places she goes, such as restaurants, movies, hotels and other people's homes."

"The only other solution I know would be to walk around in a space helmet."

Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That people who say they're hungry enough to eat an ox probably don't realize it's more than a weekend job. Johann Ketzler, a methodical German, decided in 1930 to see just how long it would take to eat a whole roast ox. It took him 42 days, from tip to tail.

That of the 60 billion phone calls Americans are said to make each year, 15 million are from people in distress.

That the average man shrinks about 1/4 of an inch between breakfast and sundown, even on days when his boss is tolerable.

That Kings College at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., has its chapel the only altar of coal in the world. It was made from a single block of anthracite weighing 4,200 pounds.

That the planet Jupiter is 317 times heavier than the earth and big enough to make 1,000 globes the size of our world. When you come right down to it there's really plenty of parking space left in the universe — getting to it is the real problem.

That by 1960 man can produce 625 million descendants in a single year.

That wives in Nigeria are sometimes bought on the installment plan.

Beck, A Product Of The Times

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON The public and political honors accorded to Dave Beck account for the arrogance he has exhibited in making his Teamsters' Union and in defying the McClellan Committee. Even the Supreme Court of the United States, in an amazing decision, virtually condoned admitted violence and alleged extortion by Teamsters' Local 807 of New York City.

New McClellan revelations serve to explain why Beck angrily shouted that "Nobody can boss me" and "My conscience is my only guide" in his personal use of union funds for which he was a fiduciary trustee. Without mitigating his "thefts," as Senator McClellan defines his operations, he was the beneficiary of the national tendency to bow down before material success, no matter how achieved.

He also ran riot because labor had become so all-powerful that it could dominate the Democratic Party then in power at Washington. The five Supreme Court Justices who held that beating and maiming rival truckers was tantamount to a legitimate union activity were appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

POLITICIANS FAWNED UPON BECK Senators and Representatives, as well as candidates for local and state offices, fawned upon him and flattered him. And despite his shabby performances, they have not yet dared to name him in their vague condemnations if his evil practices. Like Calvin Coolidge, they are simply and generally "agin sin."

F. D. R. considered it "bad luck" not to start his Presidential campaign at an unearliest Teamsters' dinner at Washington. It was before such a gathering in 1936 that he made his dog, Fala, the symbol of his strategy against unlovely Alf Landon.

It was in this same year that John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, contributed $500,000 to the Democrats. Labor — and Beck — were riding high, but nobody knew then how high.

ORED UNION LEADER But the politicians were not alone in their adulation of Beck and his brethren. Business associations honored him with dinners and decorations as "Seattle's First Citizen."

He was made a regent of the University of Washington and in that office he won fresh acclaim by condemning Communists who hid behind the Fifth Amendment.

A leading Seattle bank loaned him millions for shady speculation with union funds at 3 per cent, a rate which his own financial adviser characterized as "unreasonable and possibly illegal."

A great deal of responsibility, however, must rest upon the five Democratic members of the Supreme Court. In this famous case, Local 807 was prosecuted by the government for violation of the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act in 1942. The evidence of union violence was clear, as even the pro-Beck majority admitted.

cept out-of-state, nonunion drivers at the city line. Through threats or actual beatings, they forced the alien truck owners to pay union wages for the right to deliver their merchandise to markets or warehouses. The toll was $9.42 for a large truck and $8.41 for smaller vehicles.

Sometimes, Beck's teamsters helped to unload the commodities at their destination. More often than not, they collected their fees and disappeared. Many truck owners from New Jersey, Connecticut and upstate New York were dragged into local 807 in order to stay in business.

Two New Deal liberal legalities Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold and Solicitor General Charles Fahy — argued that the union's behavior constituted extortion rather than legitimate labor activity. But the majority ruled that the Anti-Racketeering Law did not apply because it had been directed only against "professional gangsters" like Dillinger, Kelly and the Capone gang.

ATTACKS BY LOCAL 807 MEMBERS It was shown that New York union teamsters would in-

Business Fraternity At ECC Wins Nat'l Award

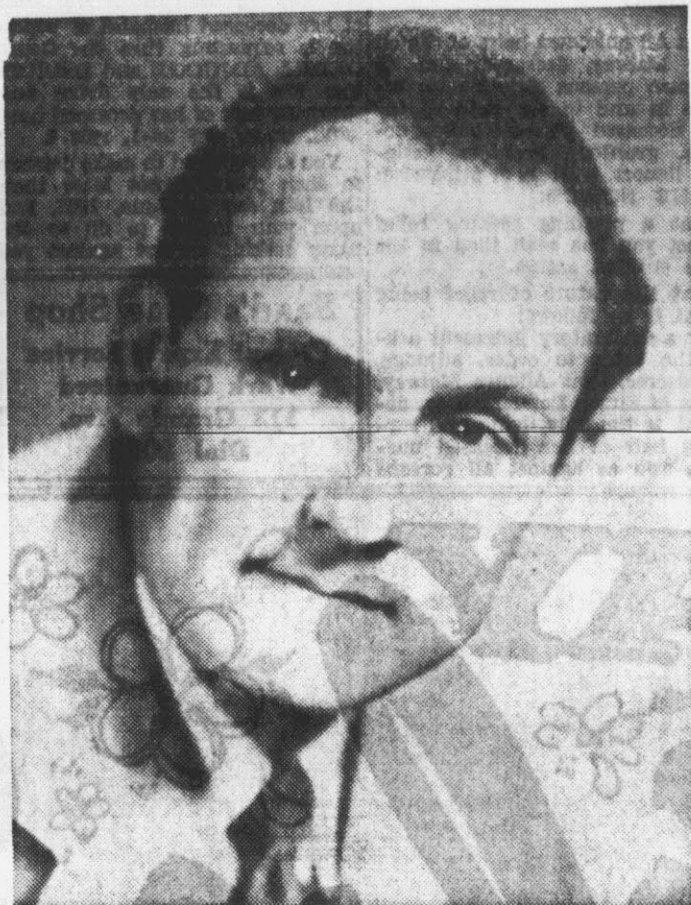

Beta Kappa Chapter of Pi Omicron Kappa at East Carolina College has been acclaimed the most outstanding of 102 chapters of the business education organization in leading American colleges and universities.

The award, made annually to the chapter most active in national, community, and local projects and publications, was given to Beta Kappa by the fraternity's National Council.

For the third time in six years of competition, Beta Kappa has been judged the outstanding chapter in the country. Two of the six years, the East Carolina chapter acted as judge and was ineligible for the award; in the other year's competition the chapter placed second. Dr. Audrey V. Dempsey, national president of the fraternity and one of the sponsors of the local chapter, presented the merit award and trophy to Greenville Banks of Maple, president of the Beta Kappa Chapter. Betty Jean Daniels of Kinston and Jean Hargett of New Bern organized and prepared the report submitted by Beta Kappa Chapter in the national judging.

Evangelist Johnson, A Man With A Mission

The man Billy Graham says has no equal "in evangelism today," Jimmie Johnson, will open his United Crusade here Sunday night at 7:30 p.m.

Johnson, like Graham, is a Baptist although his parents are active Methodists. He received Christ as a Methodist and attended Wheaton College which is predominantly Presbyterian.

Born at Montgomery, Alabama, Johnson is a son of a now-retired lumber manufacturer. After high school, Jimmie entered Bob Jones College, then in Cleveland, Tennessee. Following graduation from college he and a classmate named Joe Bamberg started holding revivals in Churches of various denominations. Johnson preached and Bamberg played the piano, led singing, and sang solos.

In 1934 at Charlotte, a group of Christian laymen from several denominations formed a group they called the "Businessmen's Evangelistic Association." These men met all day once for prayer at a cabin in the woods near Charlotte. They prayed that God would send a great revival to their city. As the day passed, "We grew bolder," Presbyterian Elder, Vernon Patterson recalls, "And we asked the Lord to let that revival spread through the Carolinas to all America and to all the World." As a result of that meeting the men began sponsoring evangelistic campaigns. They brought Evangelist Mordecai Ham to Charlotte and 16-year-old Billy Graham received Christ as his Savior. Then they discovered young Johnson and Bamberg and signed them up to preach a year-long evangelistic tour of Carolina towns. The men organized other businessmen's clubs in other towns and brought a portable wooden tabernacle for Johnson.

Jimmie Johnson and Joe Bamberg preached businessmen's revivals in Monroe, Albemarle, Fayetteville, Clinton, Bennettsville, Cheraw, Rockingham, Hamlet, and Raleigh. While in Raleigh, Johnson founded "Your Daily Devotional Program" on WPTF, a program still heard six days a week on a network of six stations.

Two tours of the British Isles and frequent campaigns in Canada mark his record of usefulness in God's Kingdom. A recent city-wide campaign in London, Ontario, was so well attended that closed circuit television had to be flown in to accommodate the overflow crowds in an adjoining auditorium. A featured speaker in scores of colleges and universities, he spoke at Taylor University Homecoming and Moody Bible Institute Founders Week Conference.

Mrs. Johnson, the former Virginia Cole of Denton, N. C., was a Lutheran before marriage. The Johnsons live with their two young daughters in their two-story colonial home at Fuquay Springs, near Raleigh. He designed the house in the traditional Pennsylvania "salt-box" architecture. Because an evangelist must be away from home so much, the Johnsons treasure the occasional days and weeks they can spend together. Only this week, following his Newport News campaign, he and the family toured Williamsburg, Jamestown, and vicinity.

Record Rope For Hauling Vessels

LONDON (AP)—A wire rope, 1656 feet long and 13 1/2 inches in diameter, believed to be the largest of its kind ever made, is being supplied by British Ropes, of Doncaster, for Hong Kong.

The Talkoo Dockyard and Engineering Co., of Hong Kong, will use the rope to haul ships of up to 4,000 gross tons on to slipways. The rope has a breaking strength of 760 tons.

Home Visitation Program Slated For This Sunday

Plans for visiting every home in Greenville on Sunday afternoon, May 19, were completed by the United Crusade Visitation Committee at a meeting last week.

The committee, composed of Chairman Rashie Kennedy, R. P. Fields, Ercell Webb, Mrs. E. C. Davenport and Mrs. E. L. Edwards, outlined plans for each church in the city to form a visitation team to visit each home in Greenville and invite them to the United Crusade for Christ. Each church will visit the same area in which they worked in the religious census.

Material for the visitation will be picked up at the Crusade headquarters in the old Reflector Building. This material consists of a leaflet advertising the United Crusade and a booklet, "God's Message to You". Officials stated this morning that visitors will not go into the house, but will knock at the door and give the material to the person at the door with a personal greeting and invitation. If no one is at home the material will be left on the porch behind the screen or in the screen handle, where it will be readily found.

The Crusade for Christ will be conducted by the Jimmie Johnson-Evangelistic Party, and will be held in the Wright Auditorium at East Carolina College.

Just Angry At A Late Husband

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A 20-year-old woman was issued a reckless driving citation because, police said, she rammed her automobile twice into a car occupied by her husband and another woman.

Officers quoted Mrs. Connie Lou Lord as saying: "I was mad at my husband because he was late getting home from work and I went out to find him."

Local Scouts At Cherry Point Base

PLANE TRIP—One of the highlights of the weekend Explorer excursion was a plane trip for all the scouts and their leaders aboard a Marine Corp DC-6. Approximately 85 Explorer Scouts from the East Carolina Council attended the event staged over the weekend. (Official Naval Photo).

Over 85 Explorer scouts and leaders attended a weekend excursion to the Cherry Point Marine Base from the East Carolina Council over the weekend. One of the highlights of the trip was the flight made by the Scouters in a DC-6. The flight took them over Morehead City and along the coast of North Carolina. In charge of the weekend trip was Carl Knott, Pitt District Scouting Executive. He was assisted by Calvin C. Edwards of Greenville, a volunteer scouter. Knott worked closely with Captain E. C. McCarthy in carrying out the program which included the plane ride, indoor pool swim, tour of the flight line and operations tower. Also included was a general tour of the base, attending religious services movies and chow calls. The Explorers ate Marine Corp food in Mess halls and slept in base barracks. Scout units represented from Pitt County were: Troop 160, Falkland (5); Troop 404, Bell Arthur (4); Explorer Post 334, Ayden (10); Troop 33, Greenville (3); Explorer

Cop Plastered In Line Of Duty

ST. MATTHEWS, Ky. (AP)—Patrolman E.H. Burnett got plastered in the line of duty but he wasn't drinking. Burnett heard boyish voices inside a church, leaped through a window and landed in a huge box of plaster workmen had mixed for repairs in the building. The boys escaped while he scraped plaster from his eyes.

Graham New York Crusade Has Good Start

By GEORGE CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham's New York crusade got off to a rousing start last night. He said it could be the "beginning of a spiritual fire that will sweep this nation and ignite the world."

A crowd of 18,500 filled Madison Square Garden as Graham drummed at the "moral sickness" he said was loose in the land, and pleaded for a change of heart.

"We have lost God," he declared, his voice stern, his arms outthrust. "We have lost our anchorage, our moorings, our moral direction, our spiritual sensibilities."

At the end of the sermon, when he appealed for those who would "give your life to Christ" to come forward, 485 people came. He said it was "the largest first-night response I've ever seen from the pulpit in America."

They filed up the aisles, and down from the bunting-draped galleries. They crowded the escalators, moving to the ground floor, and clustered around the speaker's platform, a few of them tearful.

"As you come," Graham said, "many of you are not quite sure what is happening to you. It is a new birth. It is something God does for you supernaturally. It was a dramatic interval, with the arena lights dimmed, and the choir of 1,500 singing softly. "Just as I am, I come, I come," Graham stood with head bowed, his chin on one hand.

At the outset of the service, he expressed belief that the crusade may stir a "spiritual revolution." It is scheduled to last for at least six weeks.

"We need a spiritual revolution in America," he said, "and the place where it could begin is in New York."

A mass of greenery encircled the pulpit—potted ivy, ferns, cactars and other shrubs. Above it stretched a long blue banner, lettered in white: "Jesus, said, 'I am the way, the truth and the life.'" American flags hung from the ceiling.

The crowd began gathering hours before the meeting. When the doors opened, they jammed the ground-floor chairs, and filled the three tiers above to the eaves, except for a few places high behind the pulpit.

For his sermon, Graham took an Old Testament text, Isaiah 1:1-20, which goes in part: "Oh sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity... They have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel into anger, they are gone backward."

In one verse, "Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah," Graham declared.

"We have done away with the Ten Commandments, with the Sermon on the Mount... Now we are reaping the harvest in dishonesty, lying, cover-up and hypocrisy."

Pacing back and forth, gesturing, often picking up his Bible and tapping its pages with his forefinger, Graham exhorted the assemblage to "surrender your will to Christ."

He said millions of people, frustrated and disillusioned by trying to live without God, are resorting to alcohol and tranquilizing pills and "running up one blind alley after another."

"Psychiatrists are so nervous that they are now going to each other for help," he said.

"The soul is hungering, straining for God, but people throw another aspirin in, and say, 'Be quiet, soul.'"

The answer, he said, can only be found in "an encounter with the living God."

As he spoke, the huge crowd sat hushed, rapt. And when he gave the invitation for new believers to come forward "reverently and quietly," they did so, moving along silently.

Carrier Strikes Unknown Object

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The mighty aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt hit something submerged off the Florida coast yesterday and speculation was raised whether it could have been a submarine.

The skipper, Capt. T. W. Hopkins, reported an oil slick was observed after the collision and "all I know is that we weren't leaking any oil."

He rejected the suggestion of a submarine, however. He said radar and other detection devices would have picked it up.

"It could have been a whale," he said.

The impact was felt aboard the 51,000-ton ship which was conducting aircraft landing exercises 35 to 40 miles at sea.

There were no casualties among the 2,700 crewmen of the carrier and no damage was found inside the 974-foot vessel.

The speculation concerning a submarine came up in light of recent reports, unconfirmed by the Navy, that the Russians have several subs operating off the Florida coast which has a string of major defense bases stretching from Jacksonville to Key West.

The most critical base is the guided missile test center at Patrick Air Force Base near Cocoa, 150 miles south of here. Submarines which are free to operate in the sea outside the 3-mile territorial limit could observe test firings over the ocean range.

The collision was the second with a submerged object in these general waters in recent weeks. The sailing yacht Qual received considerable damage in such a collision last month. Capt. L. C. Barnes of Miami, the skipper, said he had no idea what caused the impact but that it might have been a log.

Mock Raid Has Real Casualties

TOCELE, Utah (AP)—A B25 bomber and three jet fighter-bombers buzzed this northern Utah community yesterday and dropped smoke bombs in a test of civil defense preparedness.

There were 100 mock "casualties."

And there was a man who cut his hand, a boy who fainted when he saw realistic "wound" snake-up, a young war widow who fainted, and the man who thought the smoke was caused by a fire on his property.

Valedictorian And Salutatorian Named Among Graduates

CHICOD — Carlton Woodrow Gray has been named valedictorian of the 1957 graduating class at Chicod High School.

Principal Fodie H. Hodges, in announcing the selection, said, "Carlton has led his class scholastically for four years and has been very active in all extra-curricular activities."

Hodges also announced that Virginia Evans will be the class's salutatorian.

Gray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Gray, and Miss Evans is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evans. Both plan to enter East Carolina College in September.

Rae Foley's new mystery novel RUN FOR YOUR LIFE

CHAPTER 23 Deming turned to Finn, a pulse beating in his temple, but his voice was as calm as ever. "I'll repeat, Finn, what I have been saying all along. I believed I saw Stuart with that girl. I told the truth on the witness stand, whether the jury believed it or not. And Frank did not kill that girl. He barely knew her. "But why, Charles," Finn demanded, "did you let him claim he'd never seen her?" "What difference could it make?" Deming protested. "A casual acquaintance. Was he going to be held up to suspicion, cast a shadow over his future, for the sake of a casual acquaintance?" "Where was he when Candy was killed?" Finn asked. "He was waiting at the girl's cottage to see her," Deming said helplessly, and Nora felt a little sorry for him. But when she remembered what he had done to Stuart her heart hardened against him. The telephone rang stridently and they were all silent while Hazel came out of the kitchen to answer it. Her replies were short and unrevealing. When she had put down the telephone she turned to Nora. "I'd like to talk to you for a minute. Would you mind coming out to the kitchen? I'm trying a batch of doughnuts."

you to believe me. Only — well, here we are and we've got to make up our minds. Let's face it. We have our own future to consider. So—" "I don't know what you are driving at," Nora said. She propped her elbows on the table, her chin on her hands. "All right," Hazel said flatly. "It doesn't sound nice. But if we lie to the police we can get into trouble. All we are asking is that you see we are compensated for it." "But why should you lie to the police?" Nora demanded. "Look," Bert put in, "they've got it figured all wrong. They think Mrs. Riddle was killed in mistake for you, to stop you signing that new will. That puts the Demings and us in a nasty spot because we're the only ones to lose by it. But Hazel and I can alibi each other and the Demings, too. We were in our room at the Annex when Mrs. Riddle fell. The Demings were upstairs. We could see their windows. Neither of them stirred until Mrs. Riddle screamed. "Nora watched him, straining to follow his meaning. "So, if she wasn't killed by one of us, we figure she wasn't mistaken for you. So she was killed as Olive Riddle." "But no one had any reason for killing Aunt Olive," Nora protested. Bert laughed. "Someone did, kid! Why was Finn so anxious to keep her off the stand? Because she knew you weren't with Stuart that afternoon. Because she was sore as an owl over your will and all set to make trouble for you." At last, Nora understood and realized that, in some dim way, she had known it all the time. "You think I pushed Aunt Olive, that I killed her. That I — killed Candy Kendrick." "Bert isn't threatening you," Hazel said uneasily. "We don't even want to think anything like that, let alone say it. I told you I'd protect you. I haven't told the police any of this. That's why, if we're going to keep still, we feel we ought to cover ourselves some way. "How much," Tom asked easily, "do you think would be adequate — compensation?" Hazel said, turning the doughnuts. "I'd say maybe two hundred a month. Something steady is best." "Nuts," Bert said. "There's no making sure she wouldn't stop payment when she got out of this. A lump sum is better. You had us down in your will for twenty-five thousand. We'll take fifty thousand and call it quits. What do you say, Nora? Is it okay?" Hazel held her breath, waiting. Tom watched Nora's face, curiously numbered, almost vacant. "It's okay," Nora said. Tom stepped forward, lifted his hand and struck her across the face. She cried out, pushed back her chair, stumbled to her feet. She flinched as his hands came down hard on her shoulders. "Darn you," he said through set teeth, "are you crazy? Are you going to let yourself be black-mailed for the rest of your life? Wake up, Nora! You can't ever back away from that choice. Once you've made it you are stuck with it. Tell them to go jump in the lake, or by God, I'll beat the daylight out of you."

Willing To Be In Court, But—

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Police Traffic Bureau sent a summons to a motorist for failure to pay a parking ticket. The summons was returned with this notation: "If I thought you could make me appear in court I'd be happy to pay." The tagged car belonged to a sailor, then stationed at the Atlantic City Naval Air Station, and the summons was forwarded to his present post — in French Morocco.

After 49 Years, He Can't Collect

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A. E. Brunson was 49 years late getting to the courthouse with a witness affidavit for $5. He said he had just found the affidavit issued to his wife, who died 15 years ago, in 1938, for serving as a civil suit witness. Officials couldn't find any way enabling the state to pay the old fee.

Long Stretch To Be A Policeman

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—William B. McClaran had to do a long stretch before he was accepted on the police force. The 21-year-old candidate led 20 applicants in the written tests but was rejected because he was a quarter-inch under the 5-foot-10 minimum height. He said he exercised at a health clinic to stretch his vertebrae, had his sister and brother-in-law stretch him on a homemade rack and hung from an overhead pipe with weight tied to his waist. He made the minimum height after two days of exercising.

Gasoline Price Jacked By Court

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—David Gonzalez's bill for a tank of gasoline came to $68.05 once it was totted up in Municipal Court. This included $4.68 to Frank Vandenberg for the gasoline itself; $4.60 in witness fees, $3.80 in court costs, $25.00 fine for larceny and $30.00 in fees for Juneau County sheriff's officers who arrested Gonzalez several hours and a hundred-odd miles after he sped out of Vandenberg's filling station without paying the bill.

Next Year? Tatum Expects Stronger Tar Heel Eleven

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor
Sunny Jim Tatum, head football coach at the University of North Carolina, expounded upon his favorite subject—football—here yesterday.

Arriving in Greenville shortly after eleven o'clock with Carolina athletic officials Pat Preston, Ernie Williamson and Jim Hickey, Tatum spoke to reporters at Folger Buick Company. Folger's had been appointed the meeting place for the Carolina officials and the local Carolina alumni who sponsored Tatum's coming.

than we lose."
Tatum will have three new boys at quarterback this season to take up where All-State, All-ACC Ed Sutton left off.

Tatum told reporters that his rebuilding program should reach its peak next year. "We're aiming for 1958," he said, "but a thing like

Patterson Ready Defend Title In July; Seeks Foe

NEW YORK (P)—Floyd Patterson stands ready to defend his world heavyweight title in a New York ball park in July against "anybody in the world," preferably Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

Emil Lence, former Brooklyn promoter, has been designated by Gus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, as the independent promoter to break the International Boxing Club's grip on the heavyweight throne.

"Patterson will not have one defense—but at least several and not in the New York area alone," said D'Amato yesterday at a news conference.

"My lawyer and I spoke with Lence about two weeks ago but he made no offer whatsoever. My lawyer will contact him in a day or two and we'll talk again.

Pitchers Have Their Day In Both Major Leagues

Pitchers Jim Wilson of the Chicago White Sox and Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs finally are making believers out of the doubting Thomases.

Zimmer's 10th-inning home run combined to give Brooklyn a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated the New York Giants 6-5 in 14 innings when Hal Smith singled home Del Ennis from second.

Local Golfers Win In Playoff

GOLDSBORO—Greenville golfers won a four-way playoff for the Eastern Division championship of the Eastern Carolina Golf Association here Wednesday.

A three-up and three-down three-inning relief effort earned Larry Jackson his fourth relief victory for the Cardinals.

Lions Eke Victory For Little League's Opener

Greenville's Little Leagues opened yesterday with pomp, chicken dinner and a tight 1-0 ball game at Elm Street Park.

Players were as follows:

Quick 'Brainwashing' Accomplished By Science

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO (AP)—A possible time record for "brainwashing"—one hour and 38 minutes—was reported at a national meeting of psychiatrists today.

Only 5 of 17 medical and dental students volunteers were able to stay in the respirator the full 36 hours the experiment was set to run. The only stress imposed on the volunteers was the deprivation of the usual wide variety of sensations they experienced through sight, hearing and touch.

The tank and immediately complained of pain in the neck. Within an hour he was weeping profusely. He started telling a series of jokes. Then he demanded a drink of water to determine if the observer was still in the room.

Laborites Offer Bigger Pensions

LONDON (AP)—The Labor party today dangled before British voters a new pension plan which would pay a worker half pay—up to about $42 a week—when he retires at 65.

The plan will be a major plank in the party program for the next general election, which falls due in 1960 at the latest.

The present weekly retirement pension is 2 pounds ($5.60) for a single man and 3 pounds 5 shillings ($9.10) if he is married.

Under the new plan the basic pension for all would be 3 pounds ($8.40) plus an allowance linked to the worker's average earnings throughout his life. A man drawing the national average wage of 10 pounds ($28) would get a total pension of about 5 pounds.

The pensions would come out of a new pension fund contributed by the workers, employers and the state.

Big Cloudburst Floods Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Flood-water from a cloudburst ripped through Spokane last night, forcing the evacuation of hundreds of persons and causing heavy damage.

Roads and bridges were washed out and cars were trapped by the fast-rising water which couldn't be carried away quick enough at the height of the violent storm.

Major damage occurred when a bank washed away and broke a storm sewer that had been carrying much of the runoff from the South Hill residential section.

Water from the broken sewer undermined buildings on a street just off the main business district. The foundation of an apartment house sagged and the rear wall collapsed. The building hung precariously on a steep bank as soft dirt on either side was carried away.

Arthur Miller Trial Proves Dull Theater

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Miller smiled faintly when someone suggested he'd be in the bread-turned out to be as unexciting as most other contempt of Congress trials.

Feature writers who descended on the courtroom of U. S. District Judge Charles F. McLaughlin have failed to find anything to write about.
And as box office, it's a decided flop.

Opposing lawyers have been involved in technical arguments over whether two questions the prize-winning playwright refused to answer last June 21 before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities were pertinent to an inquiry into misuse of passports.
Miller—citing "my conscience"—refused to identify Communist writers with whom he acknowledged meetings in New York in 1947.

Judge McLaughlin says pertinency is the only issue involved. He is hearing the case without a jury.
Asst. U. S. Atty. William Hitz, the prosecutor, contends the subcommittee had a "right and a duty" to question Miller since it had information linking him with communism and its causes, and the playwright had an application pending.

In reply, Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Miller's chief counsel, insists meetings of writers to discuss the relationship of marxism to art and literature had no kinship to the matter under inquiry.

Richard Arens, director of the Committee on Un-American Activities, spent the entire afternoon session yesterday reading 38 pages of testimony given by Miller.
In it, Miller denied that he had ever been under Communist party discipline. He said he had supported Red movements in the past, but wouldn't do so now.

Pacifist Wants Some Radiation

NEW DELHI (AP)—British pacifist Harold Steele didn't get to the Christmas Island area before Britain's first H-bomb was set off, but he said today he still hopes to reach there in time to expose himself to radiation in protest against his country's nuclear tests.

Steele flew to Calcutta after an interview with Prime Minister Nehru and expected to reach Tokyo tomorrow. He hopes to get transportation in the Japanese capital to some point well within the danger area which Britain has proclaimed around Christmas Island during the series of test explosions.

The 63-year-old retired poultry farmer had planned originally to join a group of Japanese ships that were to sail in or around the danger zone, but the Japanese sponsors called off their "peace navy" plans.

Steele said he still is "determined to proceed to the British hydrogen bomb area in the Pacific and Britain has no authority under international law to declare areas of the high seas closed to shipping to conduct tests."

"Mr. Nehru wished me well and his whole bearing and attitude of speech showed he was not opposed to my mission," Steele said. He added that Nehru told him, "Reliance on the hydrogen bomb is no way out for mankind. The only cure for violence is love."

Chemical Plant Blast Injures 4

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y. (AP)—Four persons were injured, one seriously, in a chemical explosion yesterday at Brookhaven National Laboratory, one of the nation's principal atomic research centers.
Immediately after the blast, Dr. Leland Haworth, director of Brookhaven, said no nuclear radiation was involved.

The blast occurred in a building known as the "hot" laboratory to test the use of compounds of bromine and fluorine in dissolving unirradiated natural uranium.
The building is adjacent to another structure housing the laboratory's 25-million-dollar reactor, which was not damaged.

Thirty-five persons were in the "hot" laboratory, made up of a series of chambers separated by enormously thick doors.

Six other persons, exposed to corrosive acid vapors during rescue operations, were given medical attention.

Seriously injured was Richard Johnson, 30, Baldwin, N.Y. He was hospitalized with severe burns of the face, eyes and body.
Others suffering burns, but sent home after treatment, were: Leroy Jefferson, 45, Bellport, N.Y.; Bob Feindt, 38, Lake Ronkonkoma, N.Y.; and Walter Kalinowski, 27.

Three Boys Choose To Return To Parents Rather Than Jail

Three 16-year-old Baltimore Negro boys, stranded last week, they said, by a white man, have accepted an order to return to their parents rather than go to jail for four months.

County Recorder's Court Judge Dink James gave Gerald Parlow, Charlie Hammond and Ursell Ellis the choice after the three were convicted of larceny charges Tuesday. After the boys had agreed to pay pro rata portions of court costs and return to their parents, Judge James suspended the sentences and remanded them to custody of a probation officer pending their return to Baltimore.

The three were arrested by deputy sheriffs L.E. Manning and N.H. Byrd last week after the boys stole several items from the home of Arthur Evans.

The larceny case was one of 24 disposed of by the court which accepted notice of an appeal from Donald Jones, convicted of driving under the influence of intoxicants and possessing fireworks.

Jones, 33, listed as a resident of Elizabeth, N.J., drew a 90-day sentence after being convicted. The sentence was suspended on condition he pay a $100 fine and costs, and surrender his driver's license for a year. His appeal bond, for appearance in Superior Court, was set at $200 by Judge James.

Six defendants entered pleas of guilty to speeding charges and were taxed with costs, plus having to surrender driver's licenses for ten days. The six were listed as Bobby Gene Whitaker, Route 1, Tarboro; Paul Anthony Stokes, General Delivery, Greenville; Walter Alexander Hasty, 705 East Fifth Street, Greenville; Thomas Barnes Evans, 2301 Jefferson Street, Greenville; James Thomas Tripp, Falkland; and Billy Gene Buck, Route 3, Greenville.

Whitaker was charged with speeding 70 miles-per-hour and Stokes was charged with speeding 69. The other four were charged with doing 65 and Hasty had an additional charge of no operator's license against him. A nol proas was taken on the license charge, however.

Other speeding cases resulted in not guilty verdicts for two defendants and a $25 fine for a third. Lee Person, Negro, Bethel, was acquitted of charges of speeding 105 miles-per-hour, and careless and reckless driving; Peggy Rose Evans, 1705 South Elm Street, Greenville was acquitted of speeding 70; and William P. Mangold, Cherry Point, paid $25, costs deducted, and surrendered his driver's license for ten days after pleading guilty in absentia to speeding 65.

Raymond Dixon, Route 5, Greenville, charged with no operator's license, possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and transporting same, had a 60-day sentence suspended upon condition he pay $25 and costs, and that he not operate a motor vehicle until he obtains a proper driver's license. The car Dixon was operating at the time of his arrest was ordered confiscated and sold.

Other judgments returned by the court included:

Samuel B. Moore, Negro, 1802-B South Pitt Street, Greenville, driving under the influence, 90 days suspended upon payment of $100 and costs, driver's license revoked for one year; William Earl Crandell, Negro, Stokes, failure to stop for a stop sign, $25 costs deducted.

Johnnie Junior Boyles, Negro, Hamilton, no chauffeur's license, continued; Ollie Page, Jr., Negro,

Route 1, Stokes, possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and possession of non-tax-paid whiskey for the purpose of sale, not guilty;

Europe Looking For 600,000 U.S. Tourists

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Europe is looking for 600,000 "unofficial" American ambassadors of good or ill will to visit its shores this year. They can be a bigger source of Yankee dollars even than the U. S. government.

A sort of composite picture of the touring American has been taken by the European Travel Commission, a group representing the official tourist organizations of 21 Western European countries. It questioned 4,000 Americans traveling in Europe to get its sampling of what to expect this year.

Its findings show that Americans will hand over about 315 million dollars to transatlantic carriers, will spend about 140 million dollars in retail shops in Europe, and more than 280 million dollars on hotels, catering, entertainment and transportation while there.

The commission thinks this could be increased smartly if Europe would make an effort to entice two million Americans a year. It says that many are able to go and are interested.

This year runs true to form, 56 per cent of all American visitors will be over 45 years of age, and about 10 per cent under 24. Two thirds will be married. More than half will have a college education.

Only 14 per cent will come from families whose heads have manual occupations, such as factory workers or farmers. Nearly half of the visitors have been in Europe before.

Well over a third have annual incomes of more than $10,000. The 18 per cent who have incomes under $5,000 spend, on average, $600 while there. Those with better than $20,000 family income average $1,486.

New York furnishes a fourth of all travelers, California 10 per cent and Texas 24 per cent.

About one third of the visitors aren't native Americans and mostly are on visits to friends and relatives in Europe.

The average tourist sees four der being France, Italy, United Kingdom, the most popular in or- Kingdom and Germany.

Add Musical Touch To Commencement Period

East Carolina College's 48th Commencement Exercises Saturday and Sunday will include as special attractions programs by faculty members and students of the department of music.

Scheduled for the two-day period are a concert by the East Carolina Band Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Flanagan Sylvan Theater; a recital by faculty members of the department and the Women's Chorus Saturday night at 8 in the Austin building; and at the graduation exercises Sunday at 11 in the Wright auditorium a program of music by the East Carolina Orchestra, the College Choir, and student soloists.

The Band will play light popular selections, several marches, and selections by American composers under the direction of Herbert L. Carter of the faculty. Chosen to appear as guest conductors with the ensemble are Robert Crumpler of Goldsboro and Charles Armstrong of Elizabeth City, students of music at the college. At Saturday night's recital the Women's Chorus directed by Dan E. Vornholt will present selections by Cesar Franck and George Geršwin and a group of Italian and Hungarian folk songs.

Faculty members who will appear on the program include Elizabeth Drake and George E. Perry, duo-pianists; Mrs. Gladys R. White, soprano; Paul Hickfang, baritone; and a woodwind quartet composed of Lewis Danfelt, James Parnell, Herbert L. Carter, and Janelle Lovette.

Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, department of music director, will conduct the East Carolina Orchestra in the professional and recessional for the academic procession Sunday morning at graduation exercises. The College Choir, directed by Dr. Elwood Keister, will give a program of religious music. Student soloists scheduled to appear on Sunday's program are Dottie Jo James of Wilmington and June Crews of Creedmoor.

Bargain Day Has A Questionmark
 ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—They say a housewife will drive miles to save a few pennies shopping. Here's proof.
 An elderly couple riding in a taxi stopped at the Disabled American Veterans store in Albuquerque and the woman got out, leaving the meter running.
 After fifteen minutes the woman came out with her purchases — two 35 cent slips. The taxi pulled off — the meter still ticking away.

Students Adopt Code Of Conduct
 FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The 1,200 pupils of Alexander Graham Junior High School here have answered "doubts and fears adults have concerning us."
 The pupils adopted a 51-rule code of conduct for school, church, home and community.
 Sample rules:
 Wear clothes and styles accepted by the majority; attend only approved movies; frown upon smoking and "absolutely forbid drinking"; when out at night go home at a respectable hour; be sure parents know where teenagers are at all times; take school and personal problems to favorite teachers.

Oppose Widening Of Old Street
 ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—A citizens group which says it does not want the nation's oldest city "to become just another town" claims 2,000 names on a petition opposing a plan to widen historic Bay Street.
 The petition asks that the City Commission let the people vote on the street widening issue.
 Mrs. Arthur McQuaig, a city commissioner, said the project would destroy "some of our historical sites that are so important to the city, state and nation."

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK — Ralls joined industrialists to push the stock market higher in active trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal stock rose from fractions to as much as two points or so. Specialties made gains in about the same range.

The market was higher at the start but changes were narrow. The price improvement was gradual and volume picked up until it was at a faster clip than yesterday.

Ralls came to life late in the morning, bolstering the rise of the industrialists and lending a note of technical firmness to the rise.

It was the second day of recovery from the reaction of Tuesday which followed the posting of a new 1957 closing high on average. The performance was back-grounded by a decline reported in industrial output for April and continued demand in Congress for budget cuts despite presidential opposition.

Market sentiment was bolstered by reports of rising auto production. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel all showed small gains while Lukens scampered ahead around 4. General Motors and Chrysler were slightly on the upside but Ford eased.

Oils and chemicals repeated their role of yesterday, showing about the best advances in key issues. Royal Dutch, Amerada and Gulf Oil were up around a point or better. Texas Co. and Sunray rose fractionally.

Du Pont and Allied Chemical were each ahead by 2 points or better. Union Carbide and American Cyanamide were 1-point gainers.

Ralls, the chronic laggards of the prolonged stock market recovery, stepped ahead nicely. New York Central and Northern Pacific added around a point each. Illinois Central, a major fraction, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio were other gainers.

West Indies Sugar rose 1 1/2 at 62 on a block of 15,000 shares and extended its gain in later trades.

RALEIGH — (NCDA) — Hog prices mostly steady to 25 higher. Tops of 17.00 to 17.75 at Rocky Mount, Tarboro, Enfield, Pine Level, Princeton and Blackmans Crossroads. 16.75 to 17.75 at Bethel; 16.75 to 17.50 at Kinston, New Bern, Benson and Nabunta; 16.75 to 17.25 at Silver City, Mount Glead, Wingate and Denton; 17.50 at Castle Hayne and Murfreesboro; 17.25 at Fayetteville, Clinton, Lumberton, Smithfield, Newton Grove, Elizabethtown, Micro, Whiteville, Clarkton, Shallotte, Mount Olive, Bailey, Dunn, Goldsboro and Clayton.

RALEIGH — North Carolina poultry markets: fryers and broilers, supplies about adequate, price at farm, 78 per cent at 18 1/2, 22 per cent at undetermined prices. Raleigh and Durham eggs steady. A large 28-31; Charlotte eggs steady. A large 30; Asheville eggs steady. A large 30-32.

Greenville High School Band Concert Friday

The Eighth Annual Spring Concert of the Greenville High School Band will be presented Friday at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Soloists for Friday's concert will be Algene Vincent, baritone; Donald McArthur, cornet; and Ronnie Finch, tuba. All of the solo numbers will come during the first portion of the program which includes American Roca, a Spanish march by Jaime Texidor; Panis Angelicus, the nation's prayer by Cesar Franck; Prelude and Beguine, with the baritone solo, by Otto Helbig; Trumpet in the Night, a nocturne for solo trumpet and band by Harry Simeone; Cavatine, which includes the tuba solo with piano, by Fred Geib; and Slow March from "Scipio" by G.F. Handel.

Student conductor Armstrong will direct the concert band in the first two numbers. Rodgers will direct the other numbers.

Student Conductor Ireland will conduct the junior high school band in three selections, Military Escot Escort March, a trio by Harold Bennett; Death and The Maiden, by Franz Schubert; and Little Irish Suite, by Leroy Jackson.

Jaycees, Jay-c-ettes To Install Officers Tonight

New Jaycee president James W. Boykin and Jay-c-ette president Mrs. M. W. Aldridge will be installed tonight when the two organizations meet at the Moose Lodge beginning at 6:30.

Band Director James E. Rodgers and student conductors Charles Armstrong and Herbert Ireland will lead the band which includes 11 numbers by the high school band and three numbers by the junior high school band. Admission to the concert is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Proceeds will be used to support the band program.

Installing the new presidents and other officers will be Bob Cox, immediate past president of the North Carolina Jaycees.

John Ray Hardie, chairman of the program, said that the Rev. John Drake will pronounce the invocation. Guests will be welcomed and introductions made by Toastmaster Charles O'Horne, Jr.

Marshals Chosen For Chicod Graduation

CHICOD — Eight commencement marshals, selected on the basis of scholastic average, have been named for Chicod High School's commencement exercises May 19 and 20.

Peggy Dixon, member of the Junior Class, will serve as chief marshal of the groups, which include Juniors Mary Ann Edwards, Travis Cannon, Donald Hudson and James Ed. Mills; Sophomores Linda Cherry and Evelyn Haddock; and Freshman Betty Pursler.

'Mary Jo' Was Using The Mails

PHILADELPHIA — "Mary Jo," a 17-year-old lonely hearts letter writer, wasn't "Mary Jo" — she was a 24-year-old man named Herb, postal inspectors said.

The man, Herbert S. Scott, Philadelphia, was indicted on a charge of using the mails to defraud.
