

FIRST PRIMING . . . tobacco harvest begins in Pitt . . .

HYMAN MILLS . . . smiles over 1957 crop . . .

EVERYBODY LENDS A HAND . . . to hang tobacco in the barn . . . (Reflector Photos)

Eisenhower's Civil Rights Bill Wins Final House Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed President Eisenhower's civil rights bill.

The vote was 286-126.

Just before final passage, the House defeated, 251-158, the Southern bloc's fourth and final attempt to drive a jury trial amendment into the measure. The vote insured passage of the bill essentially in the form Eisenhower recommended and the Republican, Northern and Western Democrats backing such legislation agreed on.

Voting for the jury trial amendment were 45 Republicans and 113 Democrats. Against it were 139 Republicans and 112 Democrats.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where a bipartisan coalition is trying to rush it on to the calendar for action, thus depriving Southern senators of one of their opportunities to filibuster.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said he is prepared to take "whatever steps necessary" to get Senate action on the measure this session.

The bill would authorize the attorney general to take into federal court the cases of persons whose voting or other civil rights were violated or threatened.

Without first going to state courts, the attorney general could seek a federal injunction against such violations. If it were granted, the court then could punish for contempt anyone who violated the injunction. But proponents of the bill have argued that the granting of the injunction itself would often eliminate the difficulties.

The bill also would provide for a bipartisan commission to make a two-year investigation of civil rights complaints, and for a special division of the Department of Justice, under an assistant attorney general, to handle civil rights matters.

The vote on the jury trial amendment was the first during long House consideration in which House members were recorded by name.

Knowland made his remark about taking whatever action is needed to newsmen at the White House after he and other GOP congressional leaders had held their weekly conference with Eisenhower.

House passage sent the controversial measure to the Senate, where Knowland and some other proponents of civil rights legislation plan an attempt to bypass the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The bill's rights amendment was bottled up in that committee for months.

Knowland's strategy will be to keep the House bill from going to the Senate committee, and try to place the measure directly on the

Avers Prosperity Raised Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey today credited the administration's fiscal policies with causing unparalleled prosperity. But he said prosperity brings problems.

"I acknowledge imperfections in our accomplishments," Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee, "but I entertain no doubt as to the propriety of our goals or the wisdom of our policies."

The secretary, whose "tight money" policies have drawn considerable congressional fire, said it is "nonsense" to allege that "higher interest rates benefit only the bankers."

"Bankers are brokers of money," he declared in an 11,000-word statement prepared for the opening session of a broad committee study of the nation's financial condition. "When they receive more, they pay more."

Higher interest rates paid by banks to their depositors encourage savings, he said, and those savings are converted to increased capital investment which means more jobs.

Humphrey, whose resignation as Treasury secretary is expected to become effective in mid-July, told the committee the Eisenhower administration has a record of "a prospering America with new high levels of employment, rising

Flakeboard Plant Start Scheduled

FARMVILLE — Ground will be broken for American Cyanamid's multi-million dollar Flakeboard plant here June 23.

Officials from American Cyanamid, its Formica Division and the Town of Farmville are expected to participate in the ground-breaking. The plant site, a 97.5-acre tract, is located West of Farmville adjacent to the town limits.

Construction of the plant will be under the supervision of C. J. Robinson of American Cyanamid's Construction division. Companies which will participate in the project are expected to be announced.

Present plans for the plant call for it to be in full operation in January, 1958. It will be operated by American Cyanamid's Formica Division. Tom Canning, formerly of Formica's Cincinnati plant, has been named manager of the Farmville plant.

Canning will be present at the ground-breaking and at the press luncheon which will follow. Project manager Robinson, and Bill Drees, sales manager of Formica's special products division, will also be present at the ceremonies and luncheon.

Air Of Optimism On Red Proposal

LONDON (AP)—U.S. circles at the U.N. disarmament talks today reflected tempered optimism over the Soviet Union's proposal for an internationally supervised ban on nuclear weapon tests.

A U.S. spokesman said the Russian proposal could be a "major breakthrough of the disarmament log jam, but then again maybe not."

The five-power disarmament subcommittee talks were in recess until Thursday while delegates consulted with their governments on the new developments.

The American spokesman termed Russia's agreement to the principle of mutual inspection to enforce a ban on tests a "very significant development."

"It is very important that the Russians, who still think any sort of inspection is unnecessary, should have agreed to allow it in a limited matter," the spokesman said.

"But," he emphasized, "there are other very important problems, and questions involving complicated detail, before there could be a partial agreement on a first step toward disarmament."

Only Eight Eligible To Vote On Wheat Quotas

When America's wheat farmers decide June 20 whether to continue marketing quotas in 1958 there will be little interest in Pitt County.

ASC Office Manager James Meredith said there are only eight farmers in the county who are eligible to participate in the upcoming election.

But the election will be held here, just as in the big wheat producing states of the Midwest.

Meredith said the polls are to open for the eight eligible farmers from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Voting is to be done at the ASC office in the Old Hospital building.

Farmers who are eligible to vote are those who plan to plant more than 15 acres of wheat in 1958. A two-thirds majority of the nation's wheat growers is necessary to approve quotas next year.

If the quotas are approved all farmers in commercial wheat states with more than 15 acres of the grain will be subject to quotas and any excess wheat will be subject to penalties. Price support at a national average of $1.78 a bushel will be available to producers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotments.

If the quotas are voted down there will be no quota or quota penalties but acreage allotments will remain in effect. Price support will be available at 50 percent of parity for producers who comply with their farm wheat allotments.

Begins Tobacco Harvest

Hyman Mills of Greenville route 3 was a happy man this morning.

He was putting in the first barns of his 1957 tobacco crop . . . "about as good a crop as I generally have", he said.

Burning of tobacco on Mills' farm in the Black Jack community this morning was the first reported in Pitt County this year. Mills and his tenant Louis Sutton were harvesting the first pullings on seven acres of the golden leaf.

"It's been a fine growing season," Mills commented as he paused to quench his thirst with a glass of cold water. "We've had a good shower of rain on this crop every week for the past seven weeks. And this 'Old Oxford' is the highest we've had yet.

I think it looks about as good in the field as 199 did. I planted 139 last year."

Mills said the seven acres of tobacco on his farm this year "averages about 24 leaves high and about 85 per cent of it is topped. On our first priming this morning we're averaging about 125 sticks to the acre."

Asked about black shank damage, Mills, who has been growing tobacco for the past 30 years, shook his head. "We've had very little black shank this year. Very little. We haven't had any hail and we haven't had any drowning."

The tobacco was set out April 17 and harvesting for Mills this year is starting about a week earlier than was the case with his 1956 crop.

N. C. Highway Head, New Administrator Are Named

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Hodges has selected a career engineer to head the state's highway forces, and placed a trusted associate at the helm of a new Department of Administration.

Willard Farrington Babcock of Raleigh, a 40-year-old North Carolina State College engineering professor, will take over the $15,000 a year highway post.

Paul A. Johnston of Chapel Hill, Hodges' administrative assistant for more than two years, will be the director of administration. A salary has not been fixed for the job, created by the recent legislature.

The appointments were highlights of the governor's news conference yesterday. More are expected when Hodges holds another session with news reporters on Thursday.

Hodges made it clear the choice of Babcock had no connection with politics. "I want the people of North Carolina to know that this is one of those rare occasions when the job actually did seek the man," he asserted.

Babcock, a native of Boston but 17 years, will replace Highway Chairman A. H. Graham as chief of road building and maintenance operations. However, his title of director of highways is a new one set up in the overhauling of the highway agency by the recent Legislature.

His appointment will be subject to the formality of approval by the new seven-member commission, provided in the present 15-member body. Hodges said he expects to appoint the commissioners within a few days.

The department Johnston will direct will include the present Budget Bureau and the Division of Purchases and Contract. It will draw together fiscal activities and relieve the governor of a number of routine tasks.

As a first official act, Johnston said he will appoint D. S. Coltrane as chief of the new department's Budgeting Division and assistant director of the department. Coltrane now is Budget Bureau chief.

Both Johnston and Babcock will go into office on July 1. Hodges noted that both also are Democrats.

Babcock, a consulting engineer in transportation problems in addition to his college duties, said the new highway organization act would provide a "very fine" basis for a highway program.

Johnston, on the Hodges' staff since January, 1955, was praised by the governor as "extremely well qualified" for the new position. A native of Johnston County, Johnston is a lawyer and graduate of the University of North Carolina.

Explode Nuclear Device And Flee

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Atomic scientists 'exploded the fourth shot in the current atomic test series at 4:45 a. m. today. Then they fled.

The Atomic Energy Commission said "light fallout" from the blast forced evacuation of the test site.

The device—detonated from a balloon hung 500 feet above the desert floor—lit up the dawn sky.

Five minutes later the billowing mushroom cloud, rising almost six miles, began to sift radioactive contamination toward the control point.

The order to evacuate was given in 30 minutes the point was empty. It is some eight miles from Ground Zero.

An AEC spokesman said the upper part of the cloud headed north of due east at 30,000 feet. The stem drifted north of due west at 20,000 feet.

More than 50 diagnostic tests were conducted as a part of this morning's test. Live pigs and mice—with recording instruments on their bodies—were used in studies of radiation.

The blast today was estimated by observers as the same size as the 10 kiloton shot which launched the test series earlier this month. A kiloton is the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The last two shots were much smaller—perhaps two kilotons.

No troops took part in today's test, although more than 30 military planes criss-crossed the skies nearby on support missions and indoctrination flights.

Los Angeles reported today's shot—clearly visible—appeared as a brief, blue flash.

In Las Vegas it seemed very bright but of briefer duration than some previous major detonations.

Observers on Angel's Peak, closest spot newsmen were allowed to the test area, said that from 55 miles away it appeared that the explosion kicked up dust on the floor of the desert.

Today's test originally was set for June 8 but delayed again and again by unfavorable weather conditions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge today ordered the government not to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial.

U.S. District Judge Joseph C. McGarragh ruled that the proposed delivery of Girard to Japan for trial in the death of a Japanese woman would violate rights which are guaranteed by the Constitution.

Guy said aid finally was summoned via highway patrol radio, arriving about 25 minutes after the unsuccessful attempt to use the party line.

He declared the elapsed time might have meant the saving of one or more of the victims' lives.

Guy said the attempt to call was made at a grocery store near the scene of the accident.

Guy pointed out that under state law persons refusing to yield a telephone line for emergency use may be found guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mathis said a hydraulic lift on the service truck touched the 7-200-volt power line. One man was operating the lift and two were drinking water and handling tools in the truck. Mathews was in the cab.

"I just did what anybody else would do," declared the modest Mathis, a cook, with Co. A, 325th Airborne Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg.

Mathis gave artificial respiration to one of the victims at the scene of the accident and in an ambulance en route to the hospital.

"Any human being would have pitched in when he saw those men," said Mathis, "and I don't deserve any great big hero build-up. That's what I told the colonel."

"I had a little first aid experience I picked up off duty. Later I was a lifeguard with the U.S. Marines in Miami."

"I could see everyone was trying to help. The first thing I did was to find out how much voltage the victims had gotten. Then I looked for the most critical case. I started giving him artificial respiration and told a couple of folks to start doing the same for the others."

"Someone had called an ambulance and when it came I stayed with the victim. I was working on. During the ride to the hospital the color came back to the man's face as I kept on working."

No Taxes Paid In Union's Big Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said today the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee has discovered no one paid federal income taxes on some $60,000 raised at a 1956 dinner to buy a new home for Max Kralstein, New York boss of the Bakers Union.

McClellan said staff investigators also have learned that John D. Nelson, another Bakers Union official, filed no income tax returns for the years 1952 and 1953, "and only filed his income tax for the years 1954, 1955 and 1956 since he was served with a subpoena by this committee."

Nelson is trustee of Local 37 of Los Angeles.

McClellan's statements were made as the committee resumed public hearings on alleged scandals which have split the union into two warring camps.

"The government," McClellan said, "should take appropriate action not only to recoup the losses but to prevent similar losses in the future" and to "prevent the taxpayers from having to make involuntary contributions of this kind."

He did not elaborate on the lat-

Action Balked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge today ordered the government not to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial.

U.S. District Judge Joseph C. McGarragh ruled that the proposed delivery of Girard to Japan for trial in the death of a Japanese woman would violate rights which are guaranteed by the Constitution.

Guy said aid finally was summoned via highway patrol radio, arriving about 25 minutes after the unsuccessful attempt to use the party line.

He declared the elapsed time might have meant the saving of one or more of the victims' lives.

Guy said the attempt to call was made at a grocery store near the scene of the accident.

Guy pointed out that under state law persons refusing to yield a telephone line for emergency use may be found guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mathis said a hydraulic lift on the service truck touched the 7-200-volt power line. One man was operating the lift and two were drinking water and handling tools in the truck. Mathews was in the cab.

"I just did what anybody else would do," declared the modest Mathis, a cook, with Co. A, 325th Airborne Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg.

Mathis gave artificial respiration to one of the victims at the scene of the accident and in an ambulance en route to the hospital.

"Any human being would have pitched in when he saw those men," said Mathis, "and I don't deserve any great big hero build-up. That's what I told the colonel."

"I had a little first aid experience I picked up off duty. Later I was a lifeguard with the U.S. Marines in Miami."

"I could see everyone was trying to help. The first thing I did was to find out how much voltage the victims had gotten. Then I looked for the most critical case. I started giving him artificial respiration and told a couple of folks to start doing the same for the others."

"Someone had called an ambulance and when it came I stayed with the victim. I was working on. During the ride to the hospital the color came back to the man's face as I kept on working."

Fill Vacancies

Three vacancies on the Board of Trustees of Pitt Memorial Hospital have been filled by Pitt County Commissioners.

W. I. Bissette of Grifton has accepted an appointment to fill the unexpired term of the late Thurman Williams of Grifton, former chairman of the board.

Walter Lee Stroud of Arden and Leslie Elks of Grimesland have accepted full six-year terms. The appointments are to become effective July 1, according to Hospital Administrator C. D. Ward.

Appointments to the 17-member board are made on a township basis, with at least one appointee from each township. W. Allen of Farmville, vice-chairman, has been presiding at board meetings since the death of the late Mr. Williams and will preside at tonight's meeting, scheduled for 8 o'clock at the hospital.

Collapses After Vain Rescue Try

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A soldier, who tried vainly to revive three men electrocuted by a high voltage power line near here yesterday, himself suffered heat exhaustion and shock.

Pfc. James Edward Mathis, 21, stationed at Ft. Bragg, saw the flash as a power service truck touched the line.

The Rochester, N.Y., soldier worked over the three victims for 50 minutes in temperatures over 90 degrees. When ambulances arrived at the site of the accident, 11 miles east of here on N.C. 87, he collapsed.

The contact with the high power line killed Harry M. Carr, 34, W. D. Strickland, 29, and Carl Edward Benson, 24. It injured C. P. Mathews, 37.

Sheriff L. L. Guy said today he was investigating a report that a man who sought to summon the Fayetteville ambulance service to the scene of the accident, was denied the use of a party telephone line by two unidentified women who were engaged in conversation.

Guy said aid finally was summoned via highway patrol radio, arriving about 25 minutes after the unsuccessful attempt to use the party line.

He declared the elapsed time might have meant the saving of one or more of the victims' lives.

Guy said the attempt to call was made at a grocery store near the scene of the accident.

Guy pointed out that under state law persons refusing to yield a telephone line for emergency use may be found guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mathis said a hydraulic lift on the service truck touched the 7-200-volt power line. One man was operating the lift and two were drinking water and handling tools in the truck. Mathews was in the cab.

"I just did what anybody else would do," declared the modest Mathis, a cook, with Co. A, 325th Airborne Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg.

Mathis gave artificial respiration to one of the victims at the scene of the accident and in an ambulance en route to the hospital.

"Any human being would have pitched in when he saw those men," said Mathis, "and I don't deserve any great big hero build-up. That's what I told the colonel."

"I had a little first aid experience I picked up off duty. Later I was a lifeguard with the U.S. Marines in Miami."

"I could see everyone was trying to help. The first thing I did was to find out how much voltage the victims had gotten. Then I looked for the most critical case. I started giving him artificial respiration and told a couple of folks to start doing the same for the others."

"Someone had called an ambulance and when it came I stayed with the victim. I was working on. During the ride to the hospital the color came back to the man's face as I kept on working."

Cheek-Stanley Vows Spoken; Couple To Live In Greenville

Miss Patrice Stanley, daughter of Mrs. Durwood A. Stanley and the late Mr. Stanley, and John Edward Cheek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Campbell Cheek of Winterville, were united in marriage on Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon in the Rose Hill Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. F. B. Cherry performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. Matthew McGowan of Rocky Mount.

The church was decorated for the occasion with tall areca palms centered with clusters of white lilies and seven branched candelabra with myriads of cathedral candles casting a soft glow among the palms in the background.

At the altar was a decorated prie dieu with white silk cushions. Bouquets of lilies were fastened on the sides.

Pews were marked with satin bows and greenery.

The music was rendered by Mrs. Tyree Buck, pianist, and David Kinlaw, vocalist.

The bride entered the church with her uncle, J. L. Stanley, who gave her in marriage. She wore a waist length gown of magnolia nylon lace with a sweetheart neckline. The fitted bodice with a princess effect fell into a wide sweeping skirt. She wore a finger tip veil of French illusion that fell from a tiara of illusion and carried a satin covered prayer book with a white orchid show-ered with Frenched carnations.

Miss Betty Jo Carroll was her only attendant. Her dress was pink taffeta with a deep rose sash that tied in a wide bow in the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of green cymbidium orchids and ivy leaves tied with moss green embossed satin. She wore a matching headress.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Pearl May of Durham and Miss Tribby Smith of Greenville. Both wore wrist corsages.

Riley Tripp of Ayden served as best man. Ushers were Lee Ward Hardee and Norman Stanley of Greenville, V. T. Corey of Winterville and Guy Braxton of Ayden.

The bride's mother wore an embroidered blue polished cotton dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in blue lace with white accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. John Edward Cheek

Immediately following the wedding the couple received in the vestibule.

Mrs. Cheek was graduated from East Carolina College and has been teaching in the Goldsboro City Schools the past year. Mr. Cheek graduated from Ayden High School and attended East Carolina College. He is now employed by Export Leaf Tobacco Company.

After a wedding trip to the western part of the state Mr. and Mrs. Cheek will be at home in the College View Apartments, Greenville.

Social Notes

Mrs. Lawrence A. Watts Jr. of Greensboro is spending several days in Greenville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Waidrop, 650 E. 10th Street.

Miss Ann Worsley returned yesterday from the Newman School of Catholic Thought, Emmitsburg, Maryland. The Newman School offers a week's study of the Catholic religion.

Mrs. C. W. Basnight and daughter Lou of Charlotte are visiting Mrs. J. B. White.

Mrs. Roger Mann is a patient at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Margaret Rose Powell of 402 Jarvis St., Greenville, represented the Methodist Student Movement at East Carolina College when she attended a leadership training conference at Lake Junaluska.

Miss Elizabeth James left today for Camp Farwell in Nells River, Vermont, where she will be a waterfront director for the summer.

Masonic Notice

There will be an Emergency Communication of Crown Point Lodge No. 708 at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 19, for work in the Fellowcraft Degree. All Master Masons are invited.

GEO. W. SMITH, Master
HOYT L. NARRON, Sec.

Announce Marriage

Mrs. Betty Walters and Mr. L. R. Puett Sr. of Oklahoma City, Okla. announce the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Kay, to A-1C Dalton R. Sullivan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton R. Sullivan Sr. of Greenville, N. C., on Saturday, June 15, at 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Engagement Announced
ROBERSONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. James Hubert Griffin of Belhaven announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Geraldine Robinson, to the Rev. William Fred Taylor of Belhaven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor of Robersonville. The wedding will take place July 14.

Sweet Gum Club Enters Exhibit

An all electric modern kitchen with an adjoining utility room was used as the theme of the Sweet Gum Grove Home Demonstration's entry in the furniture arrangement sponsored by the Botic-Sugg Furniture Company.

The Sweet Gum Grove Club is the eighth and final club to participate in the contest. Mrs. Mayo Rogers, Mrs. John Whichard, and Mrs. Eric Whichard were the committee who chose the theme.

The modern, metal breakfast room suite is accented with red cushioned chairs. The serving table is yellow. Crystal and china place settings are used on the everyday type of dining table.

An occasional rocker for the mother is placed near reading material with a space for a child's chair nearby in the dining area.

The adjoining utility room is furnished with an automatic washing machine and a steam iron. The adjustable ironing board and folding metal partition chair are in blue while the high stool is in yellow.

These colors blend with those of the kitchen and dining area. In this room is a portable automatic sewing machine which is convenient for mending as well as regular sewing.

Sweet Gum Grove Club members invite friends and the public to visit their exhibit during this week as this will be the last showing.

Mrs. Beach Hostess To Homemakers

ROBERSONVILLE—When Mrs. Will Beach of Hamilton entertained the Robersonville Homemakers' Club, her living room was decorated with several arrangements of mixed summer flowers.

The dining table, covered with lace, had a centerpiece of large dark pink gladioli.

Following the business session aunts and other games were played. The prize winners for the games and the contests were Mrs. Harvey Roberson, Mrs. George Ross and Mrs. Walter Roberson. The guessing box which contained fancy paper towels, was captured by Mrs. W. T. Hurst.

During the refreshment hour, the hostess served chocolate sundaes, homemade layer cake and salted nuts.

Pamper Papa With A Stock Of New Socks

AP Newsfeatures
There's news in summer socks for Dad.

Foot specialists say that feet expand in the summer time, and socks should be worn a half-size larger than in winter. So what could be more thoughtful than to give Dad a new supply of smart, comfortable socks to keep him foot-happy all summer?

In addition to the importance of a roomy fit in summer socks, the type of sock can add greatly to foot comfort. For instance, some of the new sock styles are made of brushed long-staple cotton, high bulk orlon or dacron. Downy-soft to the touch and luxurious to wear, they have the look and feel of cashmere, but are moderately priced.

Many of the new nylon stretch socks, which give plenty of room to the feet, are combined with cotton and some have all-cotton soles for cooling effect. There are also socks in both standard sizes and stretch types that have an inner lining of fine terry cloth in the soles for extra absorbency and comfort.

Socks in fine light-weight cotton lisle or open mesh nylon, orlon or dacron are other cool choices.

All these socks come in staple dark colors, in patterns and solids as well as in patterns and vivid tones.

And here's a useful tip: if you're not sure of Dad's sock size, you'll be safe in choosing stretch socks, which fit all sizes.

JOINS DRAMA GROUP

James A. Daugherty of Kinston, senior at East Carolina College, is attending the Methodist Youth Caravan Training Center at Scarritt College, Nashville, Tenn., in preparation for service with the drama caravan.

July Wedding Planned

MISS MARIE ERNESTINE BAKER—is the sister of Mrs. Bernie Thigpen of Fountain who announces her engagement to the Rev. Guy Franklin Owens, son of Mr. F. Curtis Owens and the late Mrs. Owens of Fountain. The wedding will take place in July.

Covered Dish Supper Planned

Circle No. 3 of the Red Oak Christian Women's Fellowship held its June meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gladson Friday night with the president, Mrs. A. J. Garris, presiding.

Mrs. Godfrey Evans gave the devotional service.

The secretary, Mrs. H. R. Allen, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. There were nine members and one guest present. The members reported 12 sick visits.

It was announced that Red Oak Church will be hostess to the Hookerton District Union on Wednesday, June 26. The afternoon program will begin at 4 p.m.

with a covered dish supper served at 6:30 p.m.

Vacation Bible School will be held from June 17 to 21 from 2:30-4:30, it was announced, and all members were urged to help.

Plans were made to prepare for the supper, the circle will serve to the Hookerton District Christian Men's Fellowship in July.

The question and answer study was led by Mrs. Garris. Mrs. Ethel Crawford invited the circle to meet with her in July.

During the social hour the hostess, Mrs. Thomas Gladson, served ice cream, cookies, nuts and drinks.

Social Calendar

TUESDAY
8:00 p.m.—"Never Alone" by Mrs. Mary O. Dilda of Farmville, ECC senior, and "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Christopher Fry, British playwright, will make up a double bill to be presented tonight as opening attraction of the Summer Theatre program at the college. The public is invited. Flanagan Sylvan Theatre.

8:00 p.m.—Gamma Delta Chapter E.S.A. Sorority meets at City Hall.

8:00 p.m.—A. A. meet in their new building on Farmville Highway.

8:00 p.m.—Woodmen of the World meet at the Church of God.

8:00 p.m.—Chapter 149 O. E.S. meets.

WEDNESDAY
9:00-12:00 Noon—Paint and Putter Class meets at Elm St. Park.

5:00 p.m.—6:00 p.m.—Social hour, Greenville Country Club. 7:00 p.m.—8:30 p.m.—Sub-teen square dancers.

THURSDAY
10:00 a.m.—Beginners Sewing Class, Elm St. Park.

7:00 p.m.—Couples Class of Eighth Street Christian Church meets in the basement of the church for a covered dish supper. Hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Causey and Mr. and Mrs. John Causey.

7:30 p.m.—10:30 p.m.—Paint and Putter Class, Elm St. Park.

8:00 p.m.—The Fidelis Class of Memorial Baptist Church meets with Mrs. C. F. Hardee.

FRIDAY
6:30 p.m.—Kiwanis Club

6:30 p.m.—Exchange Club
7:30 p.m.—Red Men meet.
7:30 p.m.—Troop 33 meets at Scout Hut, Eighth Street Christian Church.

SATURDAY
4:00 p.m.—8:00 p.m.—Social

Flanagans, Paces Feted

Varied colored gladioli, snapdragons, gardenias, and other summer flowers were placed throughout Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kittrel's home Sunday evening when Lt. and Mrs. Thomas Pace and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Flanagan, III, were honored at a supper party.

Hostesses and hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Knott Proctor Jr. and the Kittrels.

Approximately 20 guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and hosts and invited into the music room where appetizers and accompaniments were passed.

An epergne containing an all-white arrangement with burning tapers centered the serving table covered with a white cutwork cloth. The auxiliary tables placed on the sun porch were centered with unique arrangements of gladioli and gardenias.

Mrs. Graham Flanagan Sr. and hour, Greenville Country Club.

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.—7:30 p.m.—Moore Club's Buffet Supper.

8:30 p.m.—8:00 p.m.—Buffet Supper, Greenville Country Club.

Mrs. K. B. Pace served the three-course buffet supper.

Mrs. Pace and Mrs. Flanagan were remembered by the hostesses and hosts with kitchen items.

Marital advice was read to the honorees and a program of music was given during the evening.

Goodbyes were said by the hostesses and hosts.

Births

Worsley
Born to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worsley Jr., 1333 28th St., Washington, D. C., a daughter, Cornelia Sibley, June 13 at the George Washington Hospital. James Worsley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worsley of Greenville.

Edwards
Born to the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Benjamin Edwards, Rt. 1, a daughter, Patricia Ann, June 17 at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Sudor
Born to Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Sudor, 710 West Seventh Street, Ayden, a daughter, Marcy, June 16 at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

WEDNESDAY STORE HOURS—9 A.M. TO 12:30 P.M.

BLOUNT-HARVEY'S WEDNESDAY MORNING

SPECIALS-

Come Early For Best Selections

Special Wednesday Morning Sale
100 CHENILLE BATH SETS

18x30 Bath Rugs
Lid Covers—All Colors $1.99
Regular $2.98 Values

72 ONLY
Cotton Linters
Filled Novelty

PILLOWS
Odd Shapes
Animals, etc.

$1.00

Cannon's 2nd Selection
PILLOW CASES

42x36 — If 1st, Would Be 55c

39c

81x108 — 2nd Selection
CANNON MUSLIN SHEETS

Snow White, Extra Long,
If Perfect Would Be $2.69, $1.99
Wednesday Morning.

SEEING IS BELIEVING—
SEE THIS TABLE FINE YARD GOODS... Consisting of Cottons, Prints, and Plain Colors—Many formerly priced to $1.00

39c yd.

A BIG TABLE OF BED SPREADS

Many For Summer Use
Many For Back-To-School
Including Bates & Morgan
Jones, Jacquard and Tufted
White and Colors
Were up to $10.95

$6.88

1 Big Table Boys' Wear
Miscellaneous Shirts, Shorts,
Tee Shirts, Overalls & Coveralls

Values up to $2.98 $1.

One Big Group Men's FINE STRAW HATS

Quality and Styles — You
Would Expect To Pay $5.00

Wednesday Special $2.99

Now
YOU CAN FEEL SO SURE OF YOURSELF WITH

New
Dorothy Perkins
DEODORANT

with HEXACHLOROPHENE

Dorothy Perkins
DEODORANT
with Hexachlorophene

1/2 PRICE SALE 50¢
$1.00 JAR FOR Plus Tax

- Stops Odor Instantly
- Checks Perspiration More Effectively
- Stays Fresh And Creamy
- Completely Safe To Use

1 Big Table Misses', Women's and Children's SUMMER SHOES
Closeout Odd Lots
Regularly Priced $1.95
Up To $6.95

Wednesday Only
Ladies' Lizard Pumps
By Johansen $12.95
In Black & Brown
Regular Price $22.95

SALE 110 Misses' - Women's COOL SUMMER DRESSES

Sheer Washable, New,
Best Styles. Sizes 10 To $5.95
20, And 1/2 Sizes.

SWEETEST THING YOU'LL BUY TODAY!

QUAKER SUGAR

FRENCH SHRINER
MEN'S Extra Quality SHOES

There's Craftsmanship in Every Stitch

Style 75
Brown and White Soft Grain
Three Eyelet Oxford

Style 76
Black and White

LARRY'S SHOE STORE

"5 WAYS TO A PERFECT FIT" At 5 Points

BLOUNT-HARVEY — Eastern Carolina's Shopping Center

High Fashion Makes Big Splash This Summer

VELVET IN THE SWIM . . . New as tomorrow are these water velvet bathing caps designed by Adolfe. Above, pale blue cap, green streamers. Below, white with red and blue trim.

BEACH TO BALLROOM . . . These two glamorous mermaids go from the beach to the dance in style, merely by adding evening skirts to their swim suits. Left is a suit of silver lame with matching ankle-length skirt; right, suit of white lace latex over nude nylon, with foamy skirt of layers of shirred white nylon. Designed by Fred Cole of California.

HAWAIIAN SARONG . . . This striking sarong swim suit is designed and made in Hawaii for an American manufacturer. Polynesian print with inner bra and snug elastic inserts.

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

BATHING BEAUTIES OF 1957 will be wearing some of the most spectacular fashions in history this summer, as famous-name designers turn their attention to costumes for sun and surf. This year it won't do just slip into an old, tired tank suit for your swim, for bathing suits and caps alike are as carefully styled as evening gowns, and the girl who wants to be in the swim must keep up to the minute.

From Hawaii comes a group of sensational Polynesian bathing suits, combining the beauty of native design with the know-how of American manufacture. There are colorful batik-type prints in sarong styles which flatter the feminine figure because of built-in bra construction and elastic at the right places.

Beach to ballroom is another fantasy of summer, shown in a group of strictly fabulous swim suits in lace and lama, with floor-length evening skirts to match, which may be put on over the suit for a formal ensemble. Things have been happening to bathing caps, too. Newest and smartest of the summer crop are caps of water-repellant velvet, designed by a top milliner to flatter modern mermaids while keeping their hair dry.

Contest Winner

Contest prize for Mr. and Mrs. Jamie E. Lang of West Haven Drive, Ayden, won a free trip to the Bahamas as guests of the Ferguson Tractor and Implement Co. Mr. Lang, a dealer for the company, won a sales incentive contest and earned the couple a visit at Nassau's British Colonial Hotel. (Photo by King Ingraham).

It looks like a brilliant season for our fashionable beaches, and beach beauties have never looked lovelier.

Keep Figure Trim, Slim

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It's a good idea to choose outdoor chores whenever you can. Beat out Dad, husband, big brother and take to the hoe, rake and lawn mower. Let them take a stint with the kitchen, test their hard-working hands to the "softening effects" of the newest detergents and the very latest varieties of mops, carpet sweepers and household squeeze sprays. Tell them they've never had it so good.

Weeding in the garden is just as good as bumps and grinds for losing excess avoirdupois at buttocks and waistline. Give it a good whirl. Raking, hoeing and pruning are other release mechanisms for tired old muscles. Air out the soot accumulated from kitchen duties all winter with some deep breaths from the orchard or rose arbor.

The power mower has become a real wheel in reducing programs. New ones offer easier push and pull with "no strain and no puff" but at the same time give plenty of exercise to ankles, thighs and legs. There is a forward wheel these days, too, that manicures the edges of the grass border so that even Mom can do a real professional job without getting criticism from the man of the family.

It's a good idea to treat all outside chores as a leisurely experience. You'll get all your exercise from the sheer force of application to the job at hand. When you weed, pull with a generous effort. When you rake, put your arms into full action. When you mow, put some power behind the action. Do your chores with motion that is carefree as any routine exercise would be—don't treat this experience as work. It doesn't need to be.

Even the airing of youngsters can be put to a good turn for the figure. When Junior or Sis takes to the swing, push them up from the ground with a zing, and don't treat it as a chore. It can be fun when you realize that you need the exercise also.

The main point of any successful enterprise is to enjoy it. Get yourself in that mood to start with. Feel as if you've put something over on the family to be able to get out of the house at all, and the rest will come easy. Once you treat any of these outdoor chores as work, the entire plan will be defeated. Act like you are going to have a wonderful time, dress in your smartest work clothes and soak up the sun and ozone with zest.

Corbitt Family Plans Reunion

Descendants of Elder G. M. Corbitt and Luvenia Vainright Corbitt will hold their tenth annual reunion Sunday at the Eastern Pines community building, near Greenville.

D. L. Corbitt, associated with the state archives department in Raleigh for many years, is president; S. L. Parkerson, Bartow, Fla., is vice president; and Mrs. J. W. Miller, Farmville, is secretary-treasurer.

About 200 are expected to attend the event which will include a picnic dinner.

MIXED BLESSING

LEITCHFIELD, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. W. O. Woosley put an ad in the Leitchfield Gazette to remind her husband of their 44th wedding anniversary. He saw it and came through with a gift all right, but Mrs. Woosley's friends kept her busy answering letters and telephone calls of congratulations.

Announce Adoption

Mr. and Mrs. Burton R. Ayres of Bethel announce the adoption of a son, John Lewis Burton, June 14.

30 Years Ago

Today

June 18, 1927

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season was given by the Cotillion Club last night at Gorman's new warehouse. Numbers of couples from other parts of the State were guests of the club and greatly enjoyed the large crowd in attendance. A part of the mammoth warehouse was gaily decorated overhead with a riot of colored streamers. Foliage separated the dance division from the main part of the building and lent an enchanting effect to the lovely scene. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Louis Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Overman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Dr. and Mrs. K. B. Pace, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Waldrop. Music was furnished by Shan Austin's Floridians.

Boost Appetites, Raise Money

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you belong to a club, church or professional group that wants to raise money for a pet project? Then rely on good food to get people together and help along your goal.

To find out how a group succeeds in giving a fund-raising supper, we attended a lecture-buffet session undertaken recently by Home Economics Women in Business members in New York City. We asked about planning and nabbed a large-quantity recipe in case you want to duplicate this supper in your own community.

Members and guests at the HEWIB supper helped themselves first at a "soup bar" and to Brazil nut chips. Then they passed along a buffet table set with main-dish casseroles, relishes, rolls, fruit, cheese and crackers, fruit, cake and cookies. Coffee was served on request.

The main-dish casseroles were each made to yield either 20 or 48 portions and were prepared by members in the test kitchens in which they work. The recipe that follows may be easily duplicated using the facilities of a church, club or restaurant kitchen. If you do decide to use this recipe, we suggest you serve tomato juice instead of soup as your first course, because this main dish calls for condensed canned soup as one of its ingredients.

The casserole accompaniments—pickles, olives, cottage-cheese relish, celery, raw carrot strips and rolls—may be donated or bought. So may the fruit, cheese, cake and cookies that made up the dessert course. This menu, as you can see, calls for minimum food preparation. What you charge for your supper tickets will depend in part on what you have to buy and what you can get for free.

When you plan your supper, appoint a food committee to be responsible for organizing the menu and assigning the work in connection with its preparation.

SHOP WEDNESDAY FROM 9 A.M. TO 12:30 P.M.

Belk-Tyler's
Home of Better Values

WEDNESDAY MORNING

SPECIALS

Beautiful
Plastic
DRAPES
Florals and Solid Colors

88¢ pr.

SHOP EARLY WEDNESDAY MORNING

Men's Short Sleeve
SPORT SHIRTS

2 FOR 3

Small, Medium, And Large.
Regular $4.00 Value

Ladies' Summer
HANDBAGS

All New Styles

$1.00

SPECIAL

EXTRA SPECIAL

COOL, COOL
Belk-Tyler's

FAMOUS NAME
Ladies' and Misses'

CLOSEOUT BOYS' SHORT SLEEVE SPORT SHIRTS
Wednesday
99c

SHORTY GOWNS-PAJAMAS
Quick Drying, No Ironing
Wednesday Only
$2.99
Regular Certified $4.00 Value

RED & WHITE
FOOD STORES

HARRIS
And Colonial Heights

ALL DAY WEDNESDAY
SPECIALS

1 Gallon Whitehouse
VINEGAR 59c

12 oz. Honeycutt
FRANKS
33c

Large White Fresh
CORN
6 For 25c

GOOD YEAR
Factory Method
RETREADING
Less Than 1/2
The Cost of a New Tire

We Can Retread 14 Inch
Tires On The 1957 Cars.

GAMMON
Supply Co.
8th & Cotacocha Deal 6417

Big Husky
24-Inch Charcoal
OUTDOOR PORTABLE
GRILL
ON WHEELS
Sale Price
$10.95

SALE OF 20-Inch WINDOW
FANS
Regular $30.00 Value
$22.95
Many Other Fans
REDUCED
$5.95 up

Ladies' Reversible
CRINOLINE
SLIPS
Reverses From Blue to Pink
Regular $4.00 Value
Wednesday Only
$2.99

BELK-TYLER'S WEDNESDAY MORNING SPECIALS

Tuesday, June 18, 1957

Twelve-Month N. C. Vacationland

When temperatures hover close to the 100 degree mark as they have in the past few days, most Eastern Carolinians long for a few days on the coast, fanned by refreshing ocean breezes.

Those who can steal away a few days from their normal routine make a bee-line for the seashore. Others remain in their inland communities and long for the day they can also enjoy the cool recreation offered along North Carolina's coast.

But when the temperature drops to the 50s or lower, North Carolina's beaches are as deserted as an un-air conditioned movie house during a heat wave.

The point is that Eastern Carolina's major tourist attraction—its beaches—is being utilized only a few months out of the year. By contrast, they could be made into year-round tourist attractions for this part of the state. It would take a good deal of promotion, and perhaps additional facilities, but the potential is there.

In the past few years we have seen the days of generally accepted sport fishing season along North Carolina's coast almost doubled. Sport fishing that used to be confined to about three months is now carried on for almost six months. Most of the fish are there year-round, however, and could be taken by sportsmen.

During the winter months when most of the inland area of North Carolina has freezing weather, the outer banks are blessed with delightfully balmy days with temperatures close to those on the better known beaches of South Georgia and Northern Florida. The difference is that come September, North Carolina's beaches go into hibernation while those farther South still attract tourists.

Millions Spent To Get Industry

By ELMER ROESSNER

States, territories, cities and civic bodies spend, say, $100,000,000 a year to attract plants and industries into their orbits.

It's a switch on the old story about the town whose inhabitants prospered by taking in each other's washing. American communities are trying to take in each other's washing, their laundries, their mills and their factories.

Plant-napping is big business. The total spent in efforts to win new industries keeps favored advertising agencies prosperous and provides jobs for the politically faithful. About the only time I see one brother-in-law is when he emerges from a California Chamber of Commerce office to follow up inquiries from restless plants in my part of the forest.

Plant-nappers offer all kinds of bait: ample water, cheap power, plentiful and easily contented manpower, weak unions, inexpensive sites. My brother-in-law throws in the California climate.

While communities spend millions to win new industries, few do very much to keep those they have.

In fact, it is only after a big industry has moved its payroll away that a city may realize it has done little to keep it. It is often difficult to realize the old home town may not be the sweetest place in the world, or that anybody who leaves may not have rocks in his head after all.

In fact, it could profit many communities to pause in the midst of their drives for new industries and determine whether industries already there were happy about the fact. It may be cheaper to keep an old plant than to win a new one and the results may be even better.

An Indiana city—Logansport—was lucky in this respect. It didn't lose a big industry, but it failed to gain one. Officials asked the company why it hadn't come in. Contrary to the usual polite evasiveness, the company spoke frankly.

Too many houses were shabby, it said. Traffic control was poor. The business district looked left over from 1900. The water supply was unsatisfactory; in fact, it came from a questionable source. Hotel and restaurant accommodations were poor. Schools and hospitals were inadequate. There was lack of zoning and planning.

The criticisms hurt, but civic leaders took them constructively and went to work. Logansport isn't perfect yet, but it is working on a long-range improvement plan that may eventually attract new industries. Meanwhile, with promises of better conditions ahead, its own industries are less likely to move—no matter what my brother-in-law promises them.

Two things, more than any other, give pause to an industry seeking a new location.

One is slums. They indicate a high crime rate and the threat of heavier insurance premiums. They suggest inferior employees, with a high rate of absenteeism. And the promise of sharp rises in taxes when the community is eventually forced to remove them.

The other is excessive tax forgiveness. A new industry does not like to be a tax patsy. On the other hand, if it is financially sound, it is willing to pay its share of civic services. It cannot expect adequate police and fire protection and other services if somebody else is bearing the cost. Furthermore, intelligent management knows that if one company gets tax concessions, when those concessions have run out it will have to pay excess rates to provide services for still newer firms.

SEVEN REASONS WHY EXECUTIVES FAIL

Dr. Frederick J. Gaudet, of Stevens Institute of Technology, surveyed 200 companies and came up with these seven major reasons why executives fail: inability to delegate responsibility; lack of general knowledge; inability to analyze and evaluate; inability to judge people; inability to co-operate; inability to make decisions; and lack of knowledge of personnel organization and administration.

Three Zeros Make Difference

Because of a typographical error, it was stated here the other day that, "except for the first $25.00, Corporation profits are taxed 52 per cent." As every tax-chewed corporation executive and accountant know, the figure should have been $25,000.00.

NEWS YOU MAY USE IN MANAGEMENT

"Expense-Savers are Profit-Boosters," is the title of a report on 300 ways to cut costs in store operation; $7 from the National Retail Dry Goods Association, 100 W. 31st St. New York 1. "Fundamental Records for Small Marketers," telling what records every retailer should maintain in a new leaflet, free from the Small Business Administration, Washington 25, D.C.

While North Carolina's coastal area is enjoying the annual bonanza of tourist dollars which come with 90 and 100 degree weather, it might well bend its efforts toward attracting more tourist dollars during the cooler months of the year.

North Carolina has done a commendable job of telling the other 47 states about its Variety Vacationland. But it has failed to tell even itself that it can be a Vacationland 12 months out of the year instead of three.

A Long, Hard Look Before Appropriating

Before Congress approves legislation which would allow the Post Office Department to borrow two billion dollars for "modernization", it should have the satisfaction of knowing that the department's affairs will be handled in a more businesslike manner than in the past.

It was just a few weeks ago that Postmaster General Summerfield issued his ultimatum to Congress and sharply curtailed mail service until Congress gave him additional money he was needed to operate the last quarter of this fiscal year. In our opinion, no satisfactory explanation has ever been given for the over-spending of the Department's appropriation for the fiscal year.

Would it be sound for Congress to allow the Postmaster General to borrow two billion dollars for a modernization program without reasonable assurance that this fund will be utilized in a more businesslike manner than the annual appropriation?

The Post Office Department probably could profit by modernization. At the same time, it appears to us that its operations could be appreciably improved without the two billions of borrowed money proposed by Sen. Olin Johnston of South Carolina.

Congress should take a long, searching look at Post Office Department operations as they now are before it authorizes the borrowing of two billion dollars by the head of the department.

Revised Public Health Provisos

By LYNN NISBET

HEALTH — The recent Legislature completely rewrote the public health code, in addition to passing numerous independent laws affecting the health of the people. Avoiced purpose was to streamline administration procedure and to make provisions fit conditions of the middle 20th century. It developed during studies that in some areas the Board of Health was attempting to operate under statutes more than 75 years old, enacted before any of the modern theories of sanitation and disease prevention had been conceived.

The "big health bill" ran more than 300 pages of typewritten copy and quite obviously a detailed analysis is impossible here. Among its principal features was a tightened control of the State Board of Health over the living habits of the people, and at the same time to grant somewhat wider discretion in local health authorities on matters of quarantine and sanitation.

Composition of the State Board of Health is retained at nine members, four of whom are named by the N. C. Medical Society and five appointed by the Governor. The Governor's discretion was further limited by requirement that one of his appointees must be a licensed dentist, another must be a licensed veterinarian. Previous requirement for a registered pharmacist and a dairyman were retained. That leaves only one of the nine members to come from the ranks of the general public. At the same time the power of this board to enact ordinances for the violation of which a citizen may be fined or jailed was increased.

The Medical Society further demonstrated its influence by defeating proposal to enlarge the scope of practice of optometrists and to establish an examining-licensing board for psychologists.

MODERNIZATION — Many medico-legal definitions were changed to make them conform to modern usage. The layman still finds difficulty in making distinction between "contagious" and "infectious" disease, and in the auxiliary and residuary effects of venereal diseases, tuberculosis and other ailments.

The new law recognizes State responsibility for controlling cancer clinics and by implication, if not clearly spelled out, provides authority for controlling other "quickie cure" schemes for basic human ailments.

In line with modern scientific discoveries on the causes which spread infectious diseases, restrictions were tightened on the sale of used mattresses and on control of water supplies and sewage disposal.

Regarded by health authorities as a serious omission was failure to provide funds for Salk vaccine. Lack of State money for this program will necessitate withdrawing funds already tentatively allocated to counties for administration of the program, and may be serious in event of a polio epidemic.

One of the most obvious "modernizations" was deletion of a lot of language about control of privies, and adoption of regulations about sewage disposal. The "big bill" also included numerous technical changes in outlets, control of water resources, and other features where there was joint responsibility among the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Conservation & Development, and the Water Resources Commission. In nearly all of these the Board of Health was given larger powers, the other agencies less authority. The advantage of the new lies in its clarification and fixation of responsibility.

GENERAL — The public health program goes far beyond the scope of the State Board of Health and includes the activities of the Medical Care Commission in promoting general hospitals, the State systems of hospitals for treatment of mental patients, tuberculars, orthopedic cases and cerebral palsy. In all of these areas the programs were broadened with the view of rendering more efficient services.

The student loan fund was enlarged to include studies in psychiatry and psychiatric nursing. The permitted functions of the hospital for spastics were increased to allow acceptance of adults when space is available.

A little-publicized bill requiring practicing physicians to re-register every three years is regarded by many doctors as a long needed provision to prevent incompetent practitioners from using a license granted many years ago for continuing practice.

The legislative committee voted down a proposal for a study commission on sex crimes, on the theory that this problem is properly in the purview of medical and legal associations. In voting down the proposition the crimes as outgrowth of mental or physical disease or both.

IMPACT — The new health laws will have considerable impact upon the living habits of the people. In adopting them the Legislature apparently realized the narrow margin between use of the police power of the State for the public welfare, and the approach to a Police State. Majority of the members decided to take the risk.

Emergency Road Repair

by DON SCHLIENZY

'Salad'--Debate--2 Moons

With the thermometer ranging in the high 90s, and the calendar date reading June 18, can summer be far behind?

The answer is obviously "No," and the Doubting Thomas in our midst could suggest Dame Summer has already arrived ahead of her stipulated June 21 deadline.

For the record, summer is officially here at 11:21 a.m. EST Friday. Off the record, it just couldn't get any summier.

Another coincidence in this week of weeks, National Bow Tie Week began Sunday... a poor choice for the industry, in my humble opinion; what with torrid temperatures and all, it takes a hardy breed of men to wear ties and collars in these days and times.

It has already been suggested the foregoing comprise a "chef's salad" of commentary about the week and the weather; but even that remark had a fitting clincher involved: National Mayonnaise and Salad Dressing Week begins June 20.

If studies of local government problems can be counted as one of your diversions, Better Homes and Gardens (June) offers a debate on the City Manager Plan.

The city manager of Teaneck, New Jersey takes the "affirmative" view, claiming that the real power in his city council, or board of directors, freed from the restraint of an elected mayor. In its place, he says, "has been substituted a moral restraint which relies upon the adherence of the executive to professional and ethical standards."

The opposite side is taken by a publisher in Madison, Wisconsin (which recently rejected city manager government).

Other Editors Saying--- Courts And The Public

(Greensboro Daily News) Governor Hodges stressed several points which needed to be stressed in his address before the Judicial Conference of the Fourth Circuit at Asheville with Chief Justice Earl Warren and Attorney General Herbert Brownell significantly ennobled in his audience.

The Tar Heel chief executive declared it fundamental that the courts and the bar occupy a position of respect and confidence and that the responsibility of the courts is to interpret the law and not to become lawmakers or barge over into the specified areas of the legislative and executive departments of the government.

The line here is, needless to say, exceedingly difficult to draw. Application of any law necessarily rests upon its meaning and its constitutionality which only the courts can determine. But no one should be more concerned about the courts' overstepping their prerogatives and resultant reaction in the public mind than the judiciary itself. Unbiased justice, equality under the law and protection of constitutional rights are the courts' primary responsibility.

For all of this responsibility, however, the judiciary must guard against making or administering the law, both of which are functions of other departments of the government. While majority public opinion may not always coincide with judicial opinion, such agreement is secondary to the dispensation of justice and that protection to which minority opinion and the rights of every individual citizen are entitled under the organic law. If or when courts, on any level, get caught in the political stream, justice, as such, is in a dangerously bad way. Large share of the responsibility here rests upon the appointive power and its selection of judges who are students of the law, meet the requirements of training and extrajudicial temperament.

In so far as the judicial system of North Carolina is concerned, a special study is under way to determine how it is functioning, whether it is adequate and, if not, why and what remedial steps should be taken. This study must be thorough, objective and convincing to win public support and to make sure that its recommendations are effected by the Legislature. Incidentally, it was because of this study and the course which it is expected to chart that the recent General Assembly avowedly refrained from giving the state's magisterial system a long-needed overhauling.

Courts necessarily have considerable leeway and independence. But that is all the more reason why they must strive earnestly to retain a public confidence and faith which will sustain them.

He states the city manager government can be out of touch with the people, that decisions should be made in private that should be made in the full light of public discussion. In electing a small council, instead of a large one as with the alderman-mayor form of government, he feels that voters put too much authority in the hands of too few.

According to the magazine, one hundred eleven communities have adopted city manager government in the past year; 1,415 and 15 counties now use the plan.

Anyway, two authorities on the subject make it pretty good reading.

We're not sure, but suspect our 2-year-old is already on the wrong track in his astronomy study.

Recently, while standing on the front porch I pointed out the rising moon... bright in the evening sky... and he was quite impressed. Minutes later, while on the side porch, we again remarked on the moon. The boy trotted back through the house to the front door and looked skyward... sure enough... "Moon," he shouted. Then back through the house to the side entrance, peering up again. "Moon!" he shouted. "See Daddy? Moon!" And then ran back to the front entrance.

Back and forth he went, apparently much excited over two moons.

Under the circumstances, I'm afraid it's the father's responsibility to set the record straight. Too bad, too. I rather like the thought of having two moons at our house.

Opinions In Brief

"It is difficult to know where this modern, so-called gracious living stuff ends and just plain, old-fashioned loafing takes over."—North Vernon (Ind.) Sun.

"History shows by many examples that excessive taxation... is an important factor in the decline and fall of civilization."—Alexander Hamilton.

"The kind of saint needed in the 20th century is one who uses knowledge for social justice, who is sensitive to minority rights and political justice and who is a responsible citizen."—Dr. W. Waldo Beach, of Duke Univ.

A Long Silence Ending

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — You'll be hearing soon — after a long silence — about President Eisenhower's federal employe security program, the one the Democrats called a "numbers racket."

The Republicans, who tried to make political hay with this program for two years after taking office, haven't released figures on security risks since November 1955.

A 12-man commission, authorized by Congress, will make recommendations for improving the program June 23. This group has been studying it since December 1955.

In November — that year the Civil Service Commission — which the administration used as a spokesman on the security program — announced that from May 1953, when the program started, through September 1955, this was the score:

Under Eisenhower's program 5,920 people resigned from the government with derogatory information in their files while 3,683 were fired because of security questions involving them.

But the Democrats charged the figures were scrambled, that a huge majority of those who quit or were fired were separated from their jobs under normal civil service procedures and not through the machinery of the program at all.

Further, they said hundreds of those listed as ousted were given other government jobs although this fact didn't show up in the CSC figures. The Democrats in 1956 warned the Republicans to cut out playing with numbers.

But the deadliest blow to Eisenhower's program came from the Supreme Court in a decision June 11, 1956. This decision was to the effect that the government may not summarily dismiss those whose jobs are not directly concerned with national security.

In the year since then the Justice Department — because of what the court decision did to the program — has worked on charges.

But after 12 months the Justice Department still hasn't recommended changes. It's probably waiting — before sticking its neck out — to see what the 12-man commission recommends.

Eisenhower's program for getting security risks and disloyalty out of the government was the most sweeping ever attempted by any administration. As the Supreme Court made clear, it went too far.

In 1947 President Truman set up a program for getting rid of government employes of questionable loyalty. And in 1950 Congress passed a law making it easier to get rid of security risks — but only those in sensitive jobs.

But Eisenhower scrapped Truman's program, lumped security and loyalty cases into one program and provided for firing people as security risks no matter what kind of government job they held. Their job didn't have to involve security.

And who was a security risk? Under Eisenhower's program it could be a man who drank or talked too much, or a homosexual who might be blackmailed. For example; it could even be a food inspector. And that's what happened.

A government food inspector in New York was suspended as a security risk because he refused explanations about the people he associated with in private life. He fought the case up to the Supreme Court.

The court, ruling in his favor in June 1956, ordered him reinstated. It said he held a non-sensitive job and under that law of 1950 only people in sensitive jobs could be suspended as security risks.

That knocked Eisenhower's program over the roof. Hundreds of people already suspended from non-sensitive jobs as security risks had to be reinstated with back pay.

The CSC no longer could report batches of people in non-sensitive jobs as fired under the heading of security risks. In fact, a whole new method of reporting had to be worked out. CSC left this to the Justice Department.

This department hasn't devised — or, if it has, it hasn't announced so yet — a new system.

The Daily Reflector
 INCORPORATED
 Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
 Established 1832
 DAVID J. WHICHARD, JR., Publisher
 Entered at Post Office, Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
 By Carrier Week 30c
 (BY MAIL, Payable in Advance)
 Three Months $ 3.50
 Six Months $ 6.50
 One Year $11.50

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches here are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
 Thomas F. Clark Co. Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta Member Audit Bureau of Circulation.
 All advertising copy must be received at least one day before publication date.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
THE BOOK THAT GATHERS DUST

When King Josiah of the little kingdom of Judah came to his throne almost 2700 years ago, he found the spiritual condition of his people unbelievably degenerate. Under his father and grandfather, true religion had been almost entirely neglected, and every form of false religion had been allowed to come in and corrupt the lives of the people. The temple had fallen into disrepair. This noble structure was full of debris that had not been cleared away in years. When young Josiah ordered a house cleaning to take place in the temple area, those who were responsible for it came upon a book covered with dust and rubbish — the book of the Law of the Lord, which had been neglected for the better part of a century.

When they got the book out and read it, they learned what the Lord expected of his people, a religious revival took place. Shift the time to 1957 and the scene to a modern home. Many a Bible is covered with dust on a book shelf or is tucked away in a closet somewhere, unopened for years. Then perhaps something hits the family — a sorrow, financial loss, disappointment, or incurable illness. Whereupon the Bible is brought out and begins speaking its truth.

We don't just reach up and pull truth out of the blue. It has been definitely revealed to us in a Book. We may find our guidance there, if we will.

reach an agreement, the question was to be resolved through intervention of the National Labor Relations Board.

ACT DID NOT STRIKE AT BASIC EVIL The Taft-Hartley Act, which has been continuously revised by the labor politicians, was enacted only 10 years ago in an attempt to restore the balance that had been upset by New Deal-Fair Deal "packing" of the National Labor Relations Board.

However, that law did not strike at what has now been revealed by the McClellan Committee as the basic evil of the current labor union setup — namely, the absolute and unquestioning power which such bosses as Dave Beck and Maurice Hucheson possess over millions of supposedly free Americans.

The system of collective bargaining has admittedly brought many gains to the workingmen in the form of higher wages, shorter hours and pensions, although it is a question whether these advantages would not have come about through the operation of economic laws of supply and demand.

But the lopsided arrangement has now led union members to ask whether their leaders have not used this new authority to betray their best interests. UNION MEMBERS ONLY PUPPETS The McClellan Committee disclosures reveal that the millions of union members are only so many puppets to be manipulated by a few hundred men who have fought their way to the top. Ironically, many of these bosses never did a real day's work in their lives, and have been riding the " gravy train " engineered by New Deal-Fair Deal politicians.

Leaders like Beck, it has been demonstrated, can loot their tre-

'Closed Shop' Guarantee Suffers

asuries as they please, and without any check by the government, by the states or by the members. They can make or break strikes in cahoots with employers willing to palm their hands. They can black-list a union or a member at their merest whim. They can elect and reelect themselves to office.

In short, insofar as their management of their own unions is concerned, they are beyond and above the law. Despite all the laws that have been enacted to require a spirit and a sense of responsibility within the union hierarchy, they have no effect upon a union's internal affairs.

The statutes can be invoked only when the unions become involved in a public controversy with management that threatens national security or the orderly operations of interstate commerce. Uncle Sam cannot go behind the closed doors of a union leader's office.

Legal Battle Against Reds Set Back, Claim Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new Supreme Court decisions in the field of communism today set off congressional criticism of recent rulings of the high court.

Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) said the 1940 anti-subversive law which bears his name is "perfectly clear" in its intent. He suggested there is no use trying to amend the statute so long as the law turns into "whatever the present court interprets it to be."

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) said he is afraid the court has "put us back where we were 20 years ago" in the legal battle against Communists.

Smith and Jenner referred in interviews to yesterday's Supreme Court decision overturning, 6-1, Smith Act convictions of 14 California Communists. Five were freed and new trials ordered for the other nine.

In a second ruling, the court struck down the contempt of Congress conviction of labor official John T. Watkins. Here too the vote was 6-1, with Justice Clark dissenting in both decisions.

Watkins had been convicted of contempt of Congress for refusing to tell a House Un-American Activities subcommittee in 1954 the names of former Communist associates. Watkins said he was not a Communist but he acknowledged having worked with some Communists in the labor movement.

Chief Justice Warren said the question under subcommittee inquiry was obscure and was not adequately revealed to Watkins when he had to decide at his peril whether or not to answer.

Warren said the Un-American Activities group dealt unfairly with Watkins. At another point he said there is no congressional power to "expose for the sake of exposure." And he criticized as loosely worded the resolution under which the Un-American Activities Committee was set up.

Attorneys for Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, promptly expressed the view that the Watkins decision had application to Miller's contempt of Congress case. They said they would move in U.S. District Court here today for reversal of Miller's conviction.

Miller was convicted of contempt of Congress May 21 for refusing to tell the Un-American Activities Committee the identity of Communist writers he acknowledged knowing in New York in 1947. He has not been sentenced.

In the case involving the California Communists, the 14 were convicted under the Smith Act in 1952 of plotting to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the U.S. government.

Justice Harlan, writing for the majority, said "preaching abstractly the forcible overthrow of the government is no crime under the Smith Act."

"The essential distinction," he said, "is that those to whom the advocacy is addressed must be urged to do something, now or in the future, rather than merely to believe in something."

Smith said bitterly, "I do not recall any case decided by the present court that the Communists have lost."

Jenner, senior Republican member of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said: "It seems to me that the opinion means the Communists can go where they want to go and do what they want to do. It stems 'go' in the fields of teaching in our schools and to stage a comeback among labor unions."

Rep. Willis (D-La.), a member of the House Judiciary and Un-American Activities committees, said the ruling appears to throw "more future roadblocks in carrying out the intent of Congress as expressed in the Smith Act."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a one-time member of the Un-American Activities Committee, said he is "completely out of sympathy with the whole trend of recent Supreme Court decisions."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said the country needs "a Supreme Court of lawyers with a reasonable amount of common sense."

Sen. Ervin (D-NC), a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the decision in the Watkins case was "wrong" and that the justices have shown "a willingness for some time to substitute their personal notions for the law of the land."

UNFORESEEN HAZARD
CHICAGO (AP)—Gerald Smith, 17, was testing the motor of a jalopy in a junkyard when the radiator fan snapped off. A section of the blade pierced his stomach, killing him.

The handmade casks in which Spain ages its sherry wine are mostly made from oak brought from the United States.

Samovar
VODKA
100 Proof

6 years old

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

$3.90 4-5 Qt. $2.50 Pt.

Product of U. S. A. Booka Kampaniya, Schenley, Pa. and Fresno, Calif. Made from Grain • 100 proof.

Dacron Research Director Will Transfer To Wilmington Post

KINSTON—Dr. J. E. Waltz of Greenville, Director of Du Pont's "Dacron" Research Laboratory, will be transferred to Wilmington, Del., June 24 to become Assistant Director of Research for the Company's Photo Products Department, it was announced today.

He will be succeeded as Laboratory Director by Dr. George F. Lanzl, who is now a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Division of the Textile Fibers Department at the Company's Experimental Station near Wilmington.

Dr. Waltz has been Director of the Textile Fibers Department at the Company's Experimental Station near Wilmington since September, 1955. This Laboratory is a separate organization of the Textile Fibers Department but is located on the same site as the Kinston Plant, where "Dacron" polyester fiber is manufactured, about seven miles north of Kinston.

A native of Indiana, Dr. Waltz received his bachelor's degree and his doctorate in chemistry from Indiana University at Bloomington and joined Du Pont as a Research Chemist at the Company's Carothers Research Laboratory at Wilmington in 1941. He came to the "Dacron" Research Laboratory as a Research Manager in May, 1954, shortly before it began operations.

A member and counsellor of the East Carolina Chapter of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Waltz also is a member of the Kappa Kappa Kappa and the Immanuel Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

Another Hot Day In Eastern U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most of the nation's eastern half awoke to another torrid day today after sizzling temperatures that set records yesterday.

At the edge of the swelterbelt, where hot and cold air clashed, there were severe thunderstorms and some tornado activity.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said the mercury would nestle in the 90s for another day of hot and humid weather.

It was because of the torrid temperatures yesterday that Chicago and New York suffered power shortages. This occurred in the rush for air-conditioning relief.

Record temperatures were set for June 17 at Philadelphia, where it reached 98, Newark, N.J., Airport, 97, and New York City, 93. Chicago's 96 equaled the high for the date, established in 1887.

The hottest spot in the nation was Presidio, Tex., where a high of 108 was reported.

Forecasters said temperatures in the 90s would be repeated in the eastern half of the country.

The demarcation line of cool and warm air in the central portion of the country was peppered with thundershowers, which occurred from the Texas Panhandle northeastward through the central plains and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Swollen rivers and creeks, spilling from banks and gushing forth great walls of surging water, were fed by torrential rains over the weekend. Southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota counted at least five deaths due to flooding. Communities in the stricken areas braced for further outpourings as tributaries poured new water into the Redwood River in Minnesota and the Big Sioux in South Dakota.

Farther south, in Hawarden and Akron, Iowa, farmers were warned to move stock from lowlands onto higher ground.

In Nebraska, fresh rain loaded the Blue River watershed and the river was rising at the rate of 2 to 3 inches an hour between Seward and Beatrice.

Funnel clouds were sighted in central Iowa late yesterday. One touched ground at Marshalltown, where it caused damage estimated at $10,000. There were no injuries reported.

Funnel clouds also were reported near Aberdeen, S.D., and northeast Nebraska.

PUBLIC NOTICE
PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF STATE

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Ayden Fertilizer and Supply Co., Inc., a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. 115 W. Third St., in the Town of Ayden, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina (W. J. Bullock being the agent thereon and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 55, General Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 20th day of May 1957, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 20th day of May, A.D. 1957.

THAD EURE
Secretary of State

June 11-18-25 July 2

NOTICE OF SERVICE OF PROCESS BY PUBLICATION
NORTH CAROLINA
PITT COUNTY
IN THE SUPERIOR COURT
Peggy Lois Worrell By Her Next Friend, J. B. Nichols vs. Johnnie Lee Worrell

To: Johnnie Lee Worrell:
Take notice that a pleading seeking relief against you has been filed in the above entitled action.

The nature of the relief being sought is as follows: By plaintiff to obtain an absolute divorce upon the grounds of two years separation.

You are required to make defense to such pleading not later than the 9th day of August, 1957, and upon your failure to do so the party seeking service against you will apply to the Court for the relief sought.

This the 10th day of June, 1957.
D. T. HOUSE JR.
Clerk Superior Court
Pitt County

June 11-18-25 July 2

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH
Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, goopy, pasty taste or feeling. It's sulfate (non-taste or feeling). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency
Dividend Paying Policies
Save With Safety . . . Buy Mutual Insurance
322 Evans Street, Greenville, N. C. - Dial 2397
FIRE, AUTOMOBILE and TORNADO

Political Maxim For Girls State

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

The warning came from Miss Josephine Hege of the Woman's Baptist Church of Greenville. He, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Debbie, 6, and Julie, 3, have resided at 211 Pineview Drive in Greenville since they came here.

Dr. Lanzl received his A. B. degree in chemistry from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1940 and his Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1946. He began his Du Pont service in May, 1944, at Buffalo, N. Y., as a Research Chemist at the Pioneering Research Laboratory, which was later moved to Wilmington.

In December, 1946, he went to the Benger Laboratory at Waynesboro, Va., where he became a Research Supervisor in 1951. He has been a Research Manager at the Pioneering Research Laboratory since September, 1953. He did research on the early development of both "Orlon" acrylic fiber and "Dacron" polyester fiber.

Dr. Lanzl is a member of both the American Chemical Society and the American Physical Society. The new Laboratory Director has not yet decided where he will live. His wife Eunice and two sons—Steven, 8, and Bruce, 3, will move to this area later in the summer, he said.

Greensboro (AP)—Delegates to the 18th annual Tar Heel Girls State have learned a cardinal political maxim:

"It's well to remember that nothing can rise higher than its source. Crooked politics result from the actions of crooked people; bad party machines are bad because people don't make them good."

Let George Do It—Now A Habit
TITUSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—In this birthplace of the oil industry the city's official family has gotten into the habit of saying "Let George do it."

Last night the Council appointed George W. Becker to fill a vacancy as controller.

George also is city clerk, deputy director of accounts and finances and special tax officer. His combined annual income is $6,090.

Cheaper Method For Atom Power

BONN, Germany (AP)—A German technique for separating atomic isotopes may save this country millions of dollars in building up an atomic power industry.

Prof. Wilhelm Groth says the method is far cheaper than the diffusion method used in American laboratories and can produce enriched uranium 50 times more quickly.

Groth, director of the institute for physical chemistry at Bonn University, demonstrated the device. Inside a long, narrow metal tube is an extremely fast-rotating contrivance which can separate U235 atoms from heavier uranium atoms much as cream and skimmed milk are separated in a dairy.

U235 is the uranium isotope capable of continuous fission. It is the key element in various types of nuclear reactors which produce atomic power.

The little black tube—a centrifugal device—has been tested and soon will go into mass production.

Groth says the diffusion process used in the United States is too wasteful of energy to be practical in smaller countries such as Germany.

Both the centrifugal and diffusion methods begin after raw uranium ore has been reduced to gas. In the centrifuge this gas is whirled about at enormous speeds, isolating the richer U235 much as wheat is isolated from chaff.

In the diffusion method, the gas is propelled through tiny holes by the force of electrically produced thermal energy. The process is repeated dozens of times with more U235 concentrating in each process.

Japan's Premier On Way To Washington
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japan's Prime Minister Kishi, whose reputation at golf is that of a man with a good approach shot planned a practice round today before leaving tonight for Washington aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane to meet America's leader of the golf course and across the conference table.

Ahead of his arrival in the nation's capital, word came through responsible U.S. officials there that Kishi's diplomatic approach to postwar problems may well result in a highly successful mission. These sources pointed to Kishi's basic friendliness toward the United States and to the growing strength of his leadership.

Kishi himself emphasized that friendliness both at the international airport Monday on his arrival by plane and later at a hotel reception sponsored by three organizations dedicated to cementing friendships with Japan.

In an unscheduled and brief press conference at the airport, the Prime Minister said, although he intends to speak frankly with Eisenhower on vital subjects, "it is not my purpose to negotiate on any specific question." Rather, he said, he intended to go over a wide range of subjects which might bring Japan and the United States into closer cooperation.

At the hotel reception, in an impromptu speech, Kishi told the crowd of American business leaders and influential members of San Francisco's Japanese Community: "The purpose of my trip is to strengthen and deepen even further the mutual understanding already existing between our countries and consolidating the bonds of true partnership."

The Prime Minister deftly sidestepped any controversial discussions while being questioned by American newsmen at the airport.

In Washington, Defense Department authorities have said they are inclined to go along with Japan in the withdrawal of U.S. troops as the Japanese build up their own defense forces.

In response to another question, Kishi declined comment on the controversial issue of the U.S. soldier, William Girard, accused of killing a Japanese woman. Girard is seeking to resist trial by Japanese courts.

Brodey's
Wednesday Morning Feature!
SPECIAL PURCHASE FOR THE JUNIORS

100 Famous Name COTTON DRESSES

Sizes 7 to 15 Only Sold to $12.95

These Famous dresses are the Season's latest styles and come in sizes 9 to 15. Only $7

Joan Miller's "Torero" shirt dress of soft combed cotton. White, pink, blue or pearl grey with contrast cummerbund. Sizes 5 to 15.

Brodey's

Brodey's

Brodey's

Brodey's

Brodey's

Brodey's

Brodey's

Japan's Premier On Way To Washington

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japan's Prime Minister Kishi, whose reputation at golf is that of a man with a good approach shot planned a practice round today before leaving tonight for Washington aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane to meet America's leader of the golf course and across the conference table.

Ahead of his arrival in the nation's capital, word came through responsible U.S. officials there that Kishi's diplomatic approach to postwar problems may well result in a highly successful mission. These sources pointed to Kishi's basic friendliness toward the United States and to the growing strength of his leadership.

Kishi himself emphasized that friendliness both at the international airport Monday on his arrival by plane and later at a hotel reception sponsored by three organizations dedicated to cementing friendships with Japan.

In an unscheduled and brief press conference at the airport, the Prime Minister said, although he intends to speak frankly with Eisenhower on vital subjects, "it is not my purpose to negotiate on any specific question." Rather, he said, he intended to go over a wide range of subjects which might bring Japan and the United States into closer cooperation.

At the hotel reception, in an impromptu speech, Kishi told the crowd of American business leaders and influential members of San Francisco's Japanese Community: "The purpose of my trip is to strengthen and deepen even further the mutual understanding already existing between our countries and consolidating the bonds of true partnership."

The Prime Minister deftly sidestepped any controversial discussions while being questioned by American newsmen at the airport.

In Washington, Defense Department authorities have said they are inclined to go along with Japan in the withdrawal of U.S. troops as the Japanese build up their own defense forces.

In response to another question, Kishi declined comment on the controversial issue of the U.S. soldier, William Girard, accused of killing a Japanese woman. Girard is seeking to resist trial by Japanese courts.

Brodey's
Wednesday Morning Feature!
SPECIAL PURCHASE FOR THE JUNIORS

100 Famous Name COTTON DRESSES

Sizes 7 to 15 Only Sold to $12.95

These Famous dresses are the Season's latest styles and come in sizes 9 to 15. Only $7

Joan Miller's "Torero" shirt dress of soft combed cotton. White, pink, blue or pearl grey with contrast cummerbund. Sizes 5 to 15.

Brodey's

Brodey's

FLASH GORDON

Stress Abstinence And Moderation In Drinking

ASHEVILLE (AP) — Teetotaling teenagers and moderate adults—that's what Alcoholic Beverage Control boards want to see in North Carolina.

And they may spend almost half a million dollars next year to persuade people not to drink so much.

The 1957 Legislature passed a law providing that the state's 30 wet counties and six wet municipalities may use up to 5 per cent of the profits of ABC controlled liquor stores to educate the public on the dangers of alcoholism.

The state association of ABC boards held a panel discussion today on how to get such education programs started.

The Asheville board was the first to take action.

Chairman W. Jennings Groome yesterday announced his group would spend $7,000 a year on a permanent education program. He invited Greensboro ABC board chairman Henry C. Liles, key figure behind the legislative act and pioneer in such public education, to come and help Asheville start its program. Liles accepted.

Liles said such programs must insist on total abstinence among teenagers and moderation among adults who choose to drink.

T. W. Allen, chairman of the state board which sets policy for the 36 local boards making up the ABC association, said that if the limit of funds permitted by the legislative act were used, about $400,000 a year would be spent to inform the North Carolina public of the scientific facts on the risks of a drinking individual becoming an alcoholic.

Election of officers was the last business on the agenda today before adjournment.

Yesterday, the convention was addressed by Ward Allen, Charles B. Buscher, executive secretary of the National Alcoholic Beverage Control Assn., R. E. Joyce, Licensed Beverage Industries president, and Howard T. Jones, executive secretary, Distilled Spirits Institute.

ECC Student Union Begins Summer Program

The East Carolina College Union organization has elected officers for the summer session and under their leadership launched a program of recreational activities.

Barney Strutton of Spray, East Carolina junior, will act as president of the College Union Student Board for the summer months. Working with him will be Sylvia Beasley of Raleigh, secretary; and Georgia Morris of Kenly, treasurer.

Committee chairmen chosen to direct social activities and games program are Charlotte D. Fitchett of Elizabeth City; Alfred H. Bremner of Greenville, and Jimmie E. Hall of Garner.

Summer activities at the Union will begin with an open house and dance Wednesday night of this week.

Ava Gardner Visits Scenes Of Childhood

SMITHFIELD, N. C. (AP)—An international romance shifted locale to Smithfield today as Ava Gardner revisited the scenes of childhood with Walter Chiari, her Italian beau.

The couple, inseparable in several countries, flew from New York to Rocky Mount late yesterday for the movie star's first trip

Mosquito-Count Done By Bites

BRAZOSPORT, Tex. (AP)—Given the job of counting mosquitoes, how would you do it?

W. S. McGregor, who has that job, uses the skin method. He dons a short-sleeved sports shirt, walks into a suspected area and stands there, letting the insects use his bare arms for landing fields and feeding grounds.

The mosquito war is going on furiously in Texas these days after the remarkable floods in April and May that filled every available hole in the ground, from huge lakes to the little depression made by a cow's hoof.

Spraying machines and other mosquito control equipment moved in alongside soup kitchens and relief agency workers wherever floods occurred.

McGregor is an entomologist for Dow Chemical Co.'s plant here and also doubles as official counter for a local mosquito control project.

He usually locates mosquito strongholds by walking into an area where grass is thick. "I wear a short-sleeved sports shirt," he says, "pick out a spot and just stand there, holding out my arms."

Mosquitoes react to a bare arm. McGregor reports, like bulls react to a red flag. They attack.

He usually counts landings and bites for 5 to 15 minutes.

However, he has walked into what he calls some "hot" areas recently where three minutes is sufficient to accumulate 200 bites.

In what he terms "general areas," the count may run between 50 and 60 landings in five minutes.

When a State Health Department U.S. Public Health Service team arrived recently for spraying and dusting with poison, he led it directly to the "hot" mosquito spots.

to her native state in five years. Despite warm introductions to family members, both Miss Gardner and Chiari discouraged talk of marriage plans. "We are just companions," explained Chiari in unaccustomed English.

The dark-haired actress was welcomed home with hearty embraces by Jack Gardner, her only brother, and two sisters, Mrs. Mrs. Johnny Grimes and Mrs. D. L. Creech, all of Smithfield.

"It's so wonderful to be back in North Carolina," exclaimed Miss Gardner, glamorous in a yellow silk dress and huge dark glasses. She said her visit would cover about a week, including a trip to Winston-Salem to see another sister, Mrs. B. C. Pearce.

"In the near future, I plan to go back to Spain," she added. The party traveling with the famed screen beauty included a fourth sister, Beatrice Gardner, and a Spanish maid.

Bill Long, a Tarboro manufacturer and a family friend, was among those on hand to greet the group. Long arranged the flight from New York, and provided the lavender Cadillac to whisk Miss Gardner from the Rocky Mount airport to Smithfield.

Long will be the host at a Thursday evening party which will be a social highlight of the visit. It will honor Jack Gardner and his fiancée, Rose Darby of Vidalia, Ga.

State police still don't know where Joey got two pistols and a large supply of ammunition with which he held people at bay. No one was wounded.

FRONT DOOR SERVICE
QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Firemen were routed out of their beds at Central Fire Station when Russell Mitchell delivered his flaming car for their services at 4:35 a.m. The front seat was on fire.

DRAMATIC PERCH—Sir Laurence Olivier and wife, Vivien Leigh, make friends with pigeons in Venice where they made their Italian debut in Shakespeare's "Titus Andronicus."

WELCH WEDDING—Joseph N. Welch, 66, Boston attorney who served as chief counsel for the Army in the McCarthy-Army hearings, announced yesterday he plans a summer or fall wedding.

BISHOP'S VIEW—Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy was asked about the outlook for the 107th annual meeting of the Southern California-Arizona Methodist Church Conference.

"I think it's going to be hotter than Hades," he said.

Grinning, he explained he was referring not to the agenda of the meeting, which opened yesterday, but the 97-degree weather.

CHOSEN — Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, 60-year-old La-Crosse, Wis., surgeon, is the president-elect of the American Medical Association. He takes office in June, 1958.

Psychiatrists Will Study Case

CANONSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Psychiatrists will try to learn what caused a 10-year-old boy to frighten a small mining community by taking pot shots at everything that moved.

Joey Coleman, who went on a rampage in nearby Muse Sunday night, has been ordered committed to the Allentown State Hospital. Juvenile authorities took the action yesterday.

State police still don't know where Joey got two pistols and a large supply of ammunition with which he held people at bay. No one was wounded.

FRONT DOOR SERVICE
QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Firemen were routed out of their beds at Central Fire Station when Russell Mitchell delivered his flaming car for their services at 4:35 a.m. The front seat was on fire.

Some Germs Could Survive On Mars

By RENNIE TAYLOR Associated Press Science Reporter

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—Evidence that germs living in the earth's soil can live under conditions existing on Mars was reported today by three U.S. Air Force space medicine researchers.

Germs taken from lava, from the Painted Desert of Arizona and from soil in Texas survived virtually without oxygen in temperatures that ranged from a comfortable 70 degrees Fahrenheit to 95 degrees below zero. Their only atmosphere was nitrogen. They had almost no water.

The tests were made at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine, San Antonio, Tex. The findings were reported to a meeting of the International Mars Committee and Astronomical Society of the Pacific by Dr. Hubertus Strughold of the Air Force school.

The tests suggest, Dr. Strughold said, that life has a little understood ability to spring up and perpetuate itself in surroundings entirely different from those on earth.

This could mean that other planets having atmospheres and other environmental conditions seemingly lethal for most life forms on the globe could be the habitation of creatures entirely unknown to man.

The microbes were gathered by Dr. John A. Koolstra J., and the experiment was started with the aid of Dr. Roland B. Mitchell. Soils containing the microbes were put into glass jars. The air was pumped out of the jars and replaced with nitrogen, to resemble the Martian atmosphere. There was only a trace of water in the soil.

This essentially duplicated surface conditions on Mars. Dr. Strughold said. The samples then were subjected to daily temperature changes approximating the Martian heat and cold. The microbes thrived as long as the moisture in the jars amounted to 1 per cent or more, but below that level the germ population declined. However, some of the bacteria lived even when the water content of the jars got down to two fifths of 1 per cent. Tests are being made now to see if they will live with even less moisture than that.

TYPHOID DEATHS
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Officials said today at least 50 Tepicuan Indians have died of typhoid fever in the past three weeks in the town of Mezquital in the northern Mexican state of Durango.

Only one case of polio has appeared in the last year in Denmark. It was a 13-year-old boy who had not been vaccinated.

Husbands! Wives! Get Pep, Vim; Feel Younger

Thousands of couples are weak, worn-out, exhausted because body lacks iron. For new younger feeling after 40, try Ostrex Tonic Tablets. Contains iron for new pep, vim; plus high-potency dose Vitamin B<sub>12</sub>. In a single day, Ostrex supplies as much iron as 16 doz. raw oysters, 4 lbs. of liver, 18 lbs. of beef, 3-day "get-acquainted" size only 69¢. Or get Economy size, save $1.67. All drugstores.

Saad's Shoe Shop
Prompt Expert Service
Work Guaranteed
113 Grande Ave.
Dial 2056

Quinn-Miller & Stroud

USED FURNITURE CLEARANCE

- 3 Piece Bedroom Suite With Hollywood Style Bed, Vanity and Chest of Drawers $39.50
- Solid Oak Stool Chairs Fibre Seat 98c
- 5 Burner Table Top, New Perfection Oil Cook Stove $29.50
- 20 x 28 Inch Pictures And Mirrors $1.95 & $2.95
- Plastic Or Fabric Sofa Beds $9.95
- All Steel Folding Cot And Cot Pad $12.95
- 3 Piece Velour Living Room Suite $29.50
- Solid Birch Baby Crib And Spring $12.95
- Full Size Black and White Kitchen Cabinet With Flour Bin. $14.95
- 5 Piece Breakfast Room Suite. Formica Top Table, 4 Chrome Chairs With Plastic Seat and Back. $19.95
- Solid Mahogany Frame Duncan Phyfe Sofa In Excellent Condition. $29.50
- Venetian Blinds In Assorted Widths and Lengths $1.00
- New 9 x 12 Foot Armstrong Linoleum Rugs $9.95

Your Credit Is Good — Use It!
Quinn-Miller & Stroud
516-518 Cotanche St. "45 Years In Greenville"

Lawyer Welch Is Planning To Wed

HARWICHPORT, Mass. (AP)—Joseph N. Welch, 66, Boston attorney who served as chief counsel for the Army in the McCarthy-Army hearings, announced yesterday he plans a summer or fall wedding.

Welch, a widower, will marry Mrs. Agnes Rodgers Brown of Chestnut Hill, a long-time family friend. Welch was a pallbearer at the funeral of her husband in 1956, the same year Welch's wife died.

Bishop's View—'Hot As Hades'

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy was asked about the outlook for the 107th annual meeting of the Southern California-Arizona Methodist Church Conference.

"I think it's going to be hotter than Hades," he said. Grinning, he explained he was referring not to the agenda of the meeting, which opened yesterday, but the 97-degree weather.

COUNTRY GENTLEMAN
DISTILLED LONDON DRY
GIN
90 PROOF
Distilled from 100% Grain

$2.00 PT.

Bottled By
I.A. DOUGHERTY'S SONS, Inc., Distillers
Philadelphia, Pa.

DRAMATIC PERCH—Sir Laurence Olivier and wife, Vivien Leigh, make friends with pigeons in Venice where they made their Italian debut in Shakespeare's "Titus Andronicus."

PENNEY'S
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY

TOMORROW LAST DAY! for your baby's

pixy
PIN-UPS

5 x 7 PORTRAIT of your child... for only 49c

Your choice of several poses. Additional pictures if you wish, at slightly higher prices, but you will not be urged to buy.
Limited to two children under five in each family.

Pixy Pin-Ups Exclusively at Penney's

TIME: 9:30 to 12:30

PENNEY'S WEDNESDAY MORNING SPECIAL SAVINGS
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY! Store Hours 9 to 12:30

SLUBS, BROADCLOTHS, LENOS! Very Special Value

MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS

While They Last!

1.00

view - What Savings on fine cotton casual shirts... Penney Tailored for comfort! Combed Mesh Weave lenos and new colorful print in smooth and textured cottons! All are full cut and sanforized for lasting fit! First quality of course! Small, med, large in colors!

Special Savings For Tobacco Growers!
TOBACCO TWINE

Stop-Look-Listen and save on first quality tobacco twine! Rush in for yours. The quantity is limited! Compare this price anywhere! First come-First Served-First Saved.

60¢ lb.

Stock Up-Save!
CANNON BATH TOWELS
Priced Specially Low

66c

22 x 44 Bath ..... 66
Face Towels ..... 44
Wash Cloths ..... 22
Thick, Thirsty Beauties, First Quality! Smart Stripes or Solid Colors!

HEAVYWEIGHT CANNONS

Heavy Quality Viscose Rayon

Save—Better Quality
PIECE GOODS REDUCED

38c yd.

Percales, Broadcloths, Polished Cottons—Now Offered At A Big Price Slash!

Hot Weather Special!
WOMEN'S SHORTS

1.00

Smart Solids or Stripes in Newest Styles! A Host of Popular Colors

Terrific New Shipment
WOMEN'S BLOUSES

1.00

Many New Styles and Colors For You! Cool Cotton Fabrics 32-38!

Penney's Giant-sized embossed "Slim Jims" $5

Full 6 feet long, over 2, wide! Long-wearing rugs that stretch out in front of couches, in foyer, beside beds... anywhere! Machine washable! In 7 lustrous viscose colors!

JUNE PREMIUM BUY!

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 18, 1957

Graniteers Rally In Seventh To Whip All-Star Club, 11-10

Their Team Notched 11-10 All-Star Win

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor

The Graniteers, winner of the first half bracket in Industrial Softball, displayed the power that won them that honor, last night as they downed the All-Stars, 11-10.

A small crowd gathered at Guy Smith Stadium to witness a host of skill exercises before the contest and the seven-inning game.

Dan Gordon went the full distance for the winners, giving up 11 hits in the process of notching the victory. Odum and Phillips pitched for the losers and it was Phillips' loss.

Despite the fact that the All-Stars poled four more hits than did the Graniteers, and most of those were spectacular drives—including three homeruns—the All-Stars were unable to match the Graniteer fire in the final inning.

All-Star Lead

The All-Stars, a team made up of the cream of the crop from the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph, Greenville Parts and Metals, and Carolina Dairy teams, punched out two runs in the first inning for a quick 2-0 lead.

By the third frame, the All-Stars had rolled up a 4-0 score, greatly helped by homeruns by Bobby Fye and Browne Tripp.

In the fourth, however, the Graniteers burst into the game, spilling out with seven big runs, while holding their opponents to one run. That gave them a 7-5 lead. Scoring during that inning were Hobgood, Hardee, Ingram, Phillips, Nunn, John Conway and Gordon. Ingram blasted a homer to score three of them.

The All-Stars fought back for four more in the fifth, two of them coming on another homer by Fye. The Graniteers went scoreless. It was 8-8.

In the sixth, the All-Stars moved ahead again, with two more runs, making it 10-8.

Hits by Phillips, John Conway and Gordon accounted for the final three Graniteer runs in the bottom of the seventh to notch the victory 11-10 for the league-leaders.

Winners in the skill contests were: Blaney Moye, base running; Charlie Wall, catcher's throw; George Phillips, outfielder's throw; Billy Cox and Harold Ingram, infielder's throw; John Conway, homeruns; Bill Phillips, pitching control.

All-Stars ... 202 042 0-10 11 0
Graniteers ... 000 710 3-11 7 1

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Batting (based on 125 at bats)—Musial, St. Louis, .365.
Runs — Aaron, Milwaukee, 45.
Runs batted in — Aaron, Milwaukee, 51.
Hits — Schoendienst, Milwaukee, 84.
Doubles — Musial, St. Louis, 19.
Triples — Mays, New York, 6.
Home runs — Aaron, Milwaukee, 18.
Stolen bases — Mays, New York, 18.
Pitching (based on 7 decisions)—Sanford, Philadelphia, 8-1, 899.
Strikeouts — Sanford, Philadelphia, 65.

DIXIE HOBGOOD . . . Graniteer left fielder

HUGH HARDEE . . . Graniteer shortstop

Billy Martin Joining A's Today As Regular Member

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—It's only about 230 miles from New York to Washington, a four-hour train ride.

Billy Martin is going to take the ride today. It will be the longest in his life.

Martin was dealt from the New York Yankees to the Kansas City A's Saturday night. He played for the A's Sunday, but then flew back to New York with his old mates to close up his personal affairs.

Tonight he joins the A's for good in their game with the Washington Senators.

Always a pet of Yanks Manager Casey Stengel (Case once called him the "assistant manager"), Martin was upset at the thought of leaving, but he admitted he could see the handwriting on the wall after the now-famous night club brawl in which he was involved.

"It's strange wearing another uniform," he said. "I never wore any other but the Yanks. I've been with Stengel 10 years. Casey gave me to understand he didn't want to let me go, and I even heard that he tried to stop the deal at the last minute.

"Still, I knew it was coming. There was all that talk for the past couple of weeks. Then I found myself on the bench. I really knew my number was up during Saturday night's game. They needed a third baseman and used Gerry Coleman instead of me.

"Then in the sixth inning, Case told me."

Martin said he didn't really feel bad when Stengel told him.

"It's hard to describe," he continued soberly. "I guess I didn't feel anything. But when I went around shaking hands with the guys, it was tough."

The Yanks said they'd refund the $1,000 fine levied against him for the night club incident, and that they would pay him $600 travel money.

STANDINGS

TUESDAY'S BASEBALL AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Chicago	36	18	.667	—
New York	33	22	.600	3 1/2
Detroit	32	25	.561	5 1/2
Cleveland	30	25	.545	6 1/2
Boston	27	30	.474	10 1/2
Baltimore	24	32	.429	13 1/2
Kansas City	23	33	.411	14 1/2
Washington	20	40	.333	19 1/2

TUESDAY'S SCHEDULE

Chicago at Baltimore, 7 p.m.—Pierce (10-3) vs Moore (2-5)
Detroit at New York, 7:15 p.m.—Hoelt (1-3) vs Shantz (7-1)
Cleveland at Boston, 7:15 p.m.—Lemon (3-4) vs Brewer (7-5)
Kansas City at Washington, 7 p.m.—Terry (1-1) vs Pascual (4-7)

MONDAY'S RESULTS

No games scheduled

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Milwaukee	33	23	.589	—
St. Louis	31	23	.574	1
Philadelphia	30	24	.556	2
Brooklyn	31	25	.554	2
Cincinnati	32	26	.552	2
New York	25	32	.439	8 1/2
Pittsburgh	21	35	.375	12 1/2
Chicago	17	32	.347	12 1/2

TUESDAY'S SCHEDULE

Philadelphia at Chicago, 1:30 p.m.—Sanford (8-1) vs Hillman (0-3)
New York at Milwaukee, 8 p.m.—Antonelli (3-6) or Miller (0-3) vs Spahn (7-3)
Pittsburgh at St. Louis, 8 p.m.—Kline (2-9) vs Jackson (8-2)
Brooklyn at Cincinnati, 8 p.m.—Newcombe (5-6) vs Jeffcoat (5-3)

MONDAY'S RESULTS

Brooklyn 7, Cincinnati 2
Pittsburgh 7, Milwaukee 5
10 games scheduled

MONDAY'S STARS

PITCHING

Danny McDevitt, Dodgers — Struck out 11, spaced seven hits for a 7-2, complete game victory over Redlegs in major league debut.

HITTING

Gene Freese, Pirates — Had four hits in four trips and triggered a winning four-run rally in the ninth with his second double for 7-5 victory over Braves.

Escape The Heat Get A Pool From

MATTHEWS
Swimming Pool Company
Box 1478 Rocky Mount, N. C.

$2.00 And Up
Private and Commercial Pools

For Full Information, Mail Coupon

Name _____
Address _____

Martinez Whips Gavilan, Looking Toward Basilio

By MURRAY ROSE

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Vince Martinez had his second straight victory over ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan today and a sharper desire to joust with the current ruler, Carmen Basilio, in September.

He'll probably have to settle for an outdoor fight in Newark, N.J., in August against either Peter Waterman, British 147-pound titlist, or Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

"That $105,000 offer to Basilio for a title shot in Ruppert Stadium in Newark still goes," said Billy Daly, Martinez's manager, after his meal ticket whacked out a 10-round decision over Gavilan last night.

"If we can't get Basilio then we'll try and import Waterman, who split in two fights with Gavilan."

Carmen said he has set a Monday deadline for Sugar Ray Robinson to sign for a fight with him in September.

"I'm tired of waiting for Robinson," said Carmen. "I've got to know soon whether to prepare for a middleweight or welterweight title fight. If he doesn't come to terms with the IBC I'll defend my title against either Gaspar Ortega in Los Angeles or Tony DeMarco."

"Bring on Basilio," said Martinez. "I think I'm ready to take him now."

"No more fights for me in New Jersey," wailed Gavilan, loser of five straight and headed for the end of the trail.

The Kid, now 31 and with 14 years of pro battling behind, did hurt Martinez in the fifth and seventh, especially in the fifth. But he was shaken on a couple of occasions himself and was generally outclassed by the counter-punching, backpedaling Martinez. Gavilan weighed 147 1/2, Martinez 150 1/2.

McDevitt Puts Bums In Win Column Again

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Brooklyn's pitching staff, trouble free just a couple of weeks ago but a battered bunch of late, may have found an added starter in Danny McDevitt—a kid southpaw who couldn't make the grade in Class A ball a year ago.

The Dodgers, who skidded from the National League lead to fifth place while winning only two of their last 10 games, threw the 24-year-old lefty against Cincinnati last night and came off with a 7-2 victory as they started their second Western invasion of the season.

McDevitt, fresh from St. Paul, struck out 11 and spaced seven hits.

The victory pushed the Brooks up to fourth while the Redlegs slipped from third to fifth as the perplexing Pittsburgh Pirates defeated first-place Milwaukee 7-5 with four ninth-inning runs in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

Milwaukee now has but a single game lead over St. Louis, with Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati all two games back.

There's a two percentage point gap between the Phils and Dodgers, and the Dodgers and Redlegs.

McDevitt, a 5-11, 175-pounder born in New York but now a Greenwood, Miss., resident, started out with Macon in the Sally League last season, but was sent down to Cedar Rapids of the Class B Three-I League with a 1-4 record and a 7.46 earned run average. At Cedar Rapids he was 5-0 with a 3.53 ERA. He had 127 strikeouts for the year, but walked 135.

This year he has 6-4, striking out 73 in 87 innings. He had a 1.86 ERA at St. Paul of the American Assn. He was called up last weekend.

The Dodgers tagged Johnny Klippstein for three runs in the second inning, opened by Gino Cimoli's home run and capped by McDevitt's squeeze bunt. Brooks Lawrence, fourth Redleg pitcher, was touched for three runs in the ninth as Cincinnati continued its skid with a 12th defeat in the last 16 games.

Gene Freese was 4-for-4 for the Pirates and scored the tying run after socking his second double to get the ninth-inning rally under way against losing reliever Dave Jolly. The Bucs, out hit 17-10, pulled two squeeze bunts in the frame.

Gene Baker homered for the Pirates, their first since June 1. Bob Purkey won it in relief.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Batting (based on 125 at bats)—Mantle, New York and Williams, Boston, .379.
Runs — Mantle, New York, 54.
Runs batted in — Sievers, Washington, 48.
Hits — Fox, Chicago, 73.
Doubles — Fox, Chicago and Plews, Washington, 16.
Triples — Simpson, New York, 6.
Home runs — Mantle, New York, 19.
Stolen bases — Landis, Chicago, 10.
Pitching (based on 7 decisions)—Bunning, Detroit and Shantz, New York, 7-1, 875.
Strikeouts — Bunning, Detroit, 76.

State Bankers Clinch 1st Half Teen-er Crown

The State Bankers turned on the power last night to defeat the Home Builders, 10-4, and clinch first place for the first half of the Teen-er League season.

Last night's win upped the Bankers' record to 6-1. Home Builders was tied with them before the contest with an identical 5-1 mark.

Randy Bass spun an eight-hitter against the Builders and was backed up well by his team's defense. He fanned eight batters and walked one.

Merrill Bynum started for the Home Builders on the mound, threw several pitches and complained of a sore arm. He was relieved in the bottom of the first inning by Buster Daniels. Toward the end of the game, Coach Terry Nobles put Ward on the mound to finish up. It was Daniels' loss.

The three Builders pitchers limited the winners to only six hits but couldn't stop their runners from notching 10 runs. Bynum issued one walk and fanned one. Daniels walked five and struck out four.

One of the factors in the victory for the State Bank club was the erring defensive play of the opposing team. Home Builders committed seven big boners. Five of the 10 runners who scored for State Bank got on base in the first place through errors. Three went to first through walks. Only two got on through clean hits.

With three games remaining in the first half of Teen-er League, State Bank is assured of at least a tie for top position. At present, they have a 6-1 mark and have only one more game to play—and that against winless College View. Home Builders, the most serious threat to SB supremacy, also has one game on the slate. Should the Builders win theirs and the Bankers lose theirs, it would be knotted at 6-2.

Leading hitters were Bynum for the Home Builders with three; Fountain and McArthur for the Bankers with two each.

Home Builders ... 101 200—4 8 7
State Bankers ... 002 314—10 6 2

Presenting

The New 1957

PALM BEACH

Fashion - Fiver

A 3 Piece Palm Beach

SUIT

To Wear 5 Ways

The "Fashion-Fiver" is the most practical way to meet all your clothing needs during the warm-weather months. It's cool, comfortable and correct for business and sports.

Suit & Contrasting Slacks $57.90
2 Piece Suit ..... $43.95
Sport Coat ..... $29.95
Extra Slacks ..... $13.95

Perkins
roctor

"The House Of Name Brands"

Corner Of 5th And Cotanche Street.

Distilled and bottled by Yellowstone, Inc., Louisville, Ky.

Division of Glenmore Distilleries Co.

36 proof 6 years old Fifth $4.35 Pint $2.75

For Full Information, Mail Coupon

Name _____ Address _____

YELLOWSTONE
KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON

DISTILLED AND BOTTLED BY YELLOWSTONE, INC., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Division of Glenmore Distilleries Co.

36 proof 6 years old Fifth $4.35 Pint $2.75

For Full Information, Mail Coupon

Name _____ Address _____

AIR CONDITION YOUR ENTIRE HOME
AND SAVE HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS OVER NORMAL COSTS!

New Amazingly Compact '57 YORK Pathfinder Air Conditioner

YORK's new streamlined unit, plus a new installation process, now does away with expensive plumbing, cooling towers, masonry, carpentry

Uses either your present hot air duct system or YORK's special, pre-fabricated, low-cost ductwork.

Turns even tiny, unused attic space into cooling headquarters for entire house! No tearing the house apart, even fits garage, breakfast, basement walls!

CALL FOR A FREE SURVEY!

Coastal Refrigeration Co., Inc.
Hooker Road, Greenville, N. C. Dial 3157

Says Government Has No Business Probing Sport

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress took time out today in its investigation of pro sports enterprises while the big names of baseball management waited on the sidelines.

Harris spoke for his own bill, which would declare baseball, football, basketball and ice hockey exempt from antitrust jurisdiction. He said the government "has no business" getting involved with sports.

Only one witness, Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), got to plead his case in person when the House Antitrust subcommittee opened hearings yesterday.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, submitted a prepared statement advising the subcommittee to study hard before deciding to grant professional sports immunity from federal antitrust laws. Then the subcommittee recessed until tomorrow.

The Supreme Court has ruled that baseball is exempt from the antitrust statutes, but that pro football is not.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who watched among the spectators as Harris went to bat, will be called tomorrow. He was noncommittal after opening day events.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), who heads the subcommittee, called the hearings to determine whether Supreme Court decisions in the sports field generally have been

Big Bats Made Decisions In Carolina Loop

CAROLINA LEAGUE

The big bat carried the decision in the Carolina League's trio of contests last night.

Durham posted its fifth win in a row, with Dick Colone's homer in the eighth bringing a 2-1 triumph over Greensboro.

A three-run homer by Eno Rodriguez gave more than the margin for Danville in a 12-10 count over Wilson.

It was a bases-loaded triple by Lindy Duncan that helped Winston-Salem set down High Point-Thomasville, 4-2.

The Patriots took a lead over Durham, the league's first-ranked team, with a first inning run. The Bulls pulled even in the sixth, then forged ahead with Colone's blow in the eighth.

Wilson's troubles began when starting pitcher Joe Dominguez walked seven men in the first four innings. Backed by a 14-hit attack, the Tobs stayed in the running but fell short by two.

Winston-Salem bunched its scoring in a big second inning, mainly on Duncan's mighty triple. The Hi-Toms managed two runs in the fourth frame, but failed to push another across.

Hundreds Of Fires Hit California Woodlands

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brush fire—one of scores fought in recent years for lack of runoff—55 air miles southeast of here. Home owners with garden hoses joined 350 state and U.S. forestry crews in fighting it.

Dispatcher Loren Baldwin, who for saw the possibility of tragedy, said more men and equipment were en route from elsewhere in southern California.

Heat that reached 100 degrees in Los Angeles yesterday, combined with low humidity and hot winds from inland deserts, ham-

Ayden Recreation Dept. Opens Its First Program For Summer

Ayden youngsters return from Day Camp . . . jeep is just a little crowded but no one seems to mind.

Volleyball . . . one of many activities enjoyed on summer Recreation program.

AYDEN—After several years of planning this progressive Pitt County town now has a recognized Recreation Department.

The Commission and Department were established earlier this year. Officially the summer activity program began June 5 and is scheduled to run for six weeks to terminate on July 15.

Mrs. Margaret Beattie of Raleigh and Randall Harrington an Ayden resident are in charge of the program. Mrs. Beattie is serving as Director while Harrington is assistant Recreation Director. Both are graduates of Duke University.

Mrs. Beattie yesterday said, "We have progressed measurably in the first two weeks since the summer program began. Many additions will be made each week and it is generally felt that the Department will eventually have activities for all Ayden residents, youngsters and adults alike."

The old Grammar School building and surrounding grounds are being utilized by the Department for the varied summer activities. In addition the Community Building is to be used for teenage dances and other forms of recreation. Activities include tennis, bad-

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

JUNE MARKS the 25th anniversary of the introduction of one of this country's most popular building materials — asbestos-cement siding shingles. Introduced in 1932, enough asbestos-cement shingles have been made to side approximately seven million homes.

Asbestos-cement siding is made of asbestos fibers and portland cement. It is rigid and strong, cannot burn, rot or be eaten by termites or other insects. It is weather-resistant and, while it can be painted if desired, it does not require painting for preservation.

New Developments

The various asbestos-cement sidings being made today represent the results of years of laboratory and field research. The big news for home builders are the recent developments in the quality, style and methods of applying the siding. In the past 18 months, manufacturers have introduced a wide

N.C. Has 'All' Precious Stones

"Every precious stone found in the world can be found in North Carolina," George Lautares, local gemologist, told the Greenville Rotary Club last night.

Lautares, speaking on diamonds and precious stones, added that while all types of precious stones are found in this state few of them are of gem quality. No commercial mining of precious stones has been profitable in this state, he said.

The speaker reviewed briefly the formation of diamonds, pointing out that they are found in areas which were volcanic millions of years ago. Early diamonds, he said, were found in India, and later they were discovered in Brazil. It was not until 1868 that diamond mines began in South Africa, the principal source of diamonds today.

Lautares explained the development of South African diamond mines and the struggle for their control. He also explained the method used in the purchase of diamonds from producers and the relative value of precious stones as an investment.

Funeral Wednesday For George Averett

George Y. Averett, 53, farmer, died at his home near Renston at 4:30 p.m. Monday following a heart attack a few minutes earlier.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by Rev. Walter Reynolds, Free Will Baptist minister of Bethany, assisted by Rev. Henry Melvin, Free Will Baptist minister of Reedy Branch. Burial will be in Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church cemetery.

Mr. Averett spent his life in the Winterville community and was the son of Mrs. Sallie B. Averett of Greenville and the late Amos R. Averett. He was a member of Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Virginia Lee Averett; a son, George Y. Averett Jr. of the home; a daughter, Mrs. B. T. Manning of Renston; three grandchildren; his mother; two sisters, Mrs. John Whichard and Mrs. Jimmy Patty of Greenville and eight brothers, Ernest C. Averett of Winterville and Phillip, Joe, Larry, Elbert, Eugene and Willie Averett of Greenville, and Amos R. Averett of Scotland Neck.

Open All Day WEDNESDAY

Cozart's SUPER MARKET

2105 Dickinson Avenue

Guard These Precious Lives. Build Safer Schools with CONCRETE

News of a school fire or explosion strikes terror into the heart of every parent. You can give your children and their teachers an extra measure of protection against tragedy by insisting that schools planned for your community be built with concrete frames and floors and concrete masonry walls.

A school built with concrete frames and floors has the strength, rigidity and toughness to withstand such destructive forces as hurricanes, earthquakes, and atomic blasts. These forces can spell disaster in a split second for buildings of less durable construction.

Only the best is good enough when children's lives are at stake. Play safe. Insist on durable, safe concrete construction for the new schools in your community.

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION
1401 State Planters Bank Bldg., Richmond 19, Virginia
A national organization to improve and extend the uses of portland cement and concrete through scientific research and engineering field work

66 PROOF

Old Gold

Straight BOURBON Whiskey

$2.10 PINT

$3.35 4/5 QUART

TYSON DISTILLING COMPANY
LAWRENCEBURG, KENTUCKY

Show Her The Bride With Lifetime Gifts

EDWARDS HARDWARE

"Free Parking Next To Our Store"

JUNE Special

UNBREAKABLE... 3 Pc. BOWL SET

Regularly $1.98
ALL 3 FOR ONLY 99c

3 Pt.
3 Qt.
4 Qt.

Full 9 quart capacity set of 3 light-weight, flexible bowls that just can't break or crack! Serve a thousand uses around the kitchen. Strong reinforced rolled edges for safe, easy "pick-up." Easy to pour . . . Easy to clean . . . In red, yellow or frosty white . . . Buy now and save 99¢!

EDWARDS HARDWARE

"Free Parking Next To Our Store"

Here's the secret of firm, correct body support!

The edge of a springwall Mattress . . . the most important mattress invention since the coil!

springwall SPRINGWALL Mattress

Home Furniture Store

Corner of 8th Street and Dickinson Avenue

Now Open

DRIVE-IN Banking Services

The State Bank and Trust Company is happy to announce that DRIVE-IN BANKING Service is now available to you. Our Drive-In window is located just behind the State Bank building with an entrance on Washington Street. It's quick, easy and convenient to transact drive-in banking. Try it today!

STATE

Bank and Trust Company

J. T. Marston, Jr.—President

Established 1931

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Dial 3151

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

LONG AND LOW, this ranch style house has one of the most popular of modern plans. Its center foyer provides perfect circulation between rooms. Laundry is on the main floor and there is an abundance of storage space. It can be built without basement by using the stair space for another large closet and locating a modern horizontal heating plant in a small crawl space adjacent to the chimney. The house covers 1,838 square feet without porch and garage. This is plan B2952AP by Alwin Cassens Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N. Y.

Unemployment Haunting Reds

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
VIENNA (AP)—Unemployment stalks the Soviet satellite empire like a specter, making a mockery of Communist boss Khrushchev's predictions.

The Communists claim unemployment is impossible in a "Socialist" — that is, Communist — state. Khrushchev has predicted America's grandchildren will live under that sort of "socialism."

Western diplomats here express amazement that there was so little challenge from Washington to the Khrushchev remark. Said one such observer: "The obvious answer was this: All right, let Khrushchev wait for the third generation of Americans — but his own Red empire is falling apart now."

"Even Tito's Yugoslavia has decided to disband the Soviet-style collective farms. Yugoslavia is a poorhouse subsisting largely on American aid and what it can squeeze out of Russia."

"Poland is bankrupt and aided by an American credit."

"Hungary is flat on its back and begging credits all the way from here to China."

"East Germany, Romania and Albania have gone begging, getting emergency aid out of Moscow to forestall revolts."

"Bulgaria almost starved last winter, and has deported masses of unemployed to Russia and Czechoslovakia to prevent revolution."

"All the grandiose baloney of extending billions of credits to Asia and North Africa from the Moscow treasury has proved just that. Now Moscow has to fork out money to keep afloat the satellites in East Europe, which it has milked since 1945."

Pitt County Winner

DAIRY PRINCESS—Gloria Joyner, 17, of Farmville, was chosen the Pitt Dairy Princess by the County 4-H Council. (Reflector Photo).

Retired Marine Seeks A Degree

Jordan W. Bailey of Jacksonville, N. C., offers evidence that a man of mature years and varied experience may still feel the need of a college education and set out to earn a degree. After twenty years in the U. S. Marine Corps, the recently retired as a chief warrant officer and entered East Carolina College as a freshman specializing in the department of industrial arts.

East Carolina's program of extension courses at Camp Lejeune, N. C., gave Mr. Bailey the idea of seeking a degree. He plans to complete his college training and, when he has become a bachelor of science, to teach industrial arts in North Carolina. Originally from Mississippi, Mr. Bailey now makes his home in Jacksonville. His wife teaches in the high school there. They have two sons, seven and nine years of age. After graduation from high school in 1935, Mr. Bailey joined the Marines in 1937. In 1939 he completed a trip around the world, through the Suez Canal and back through Panama. During his career with the Marines, he spent a total of eleven years in foreign countries.

Newspaper Librarian Indexes Pres. Eisenhower's Speeches

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It costs Ralph Shoemaker money to keep up with President Eisenhower. But Shoemaker enjoys it and the President is grateful.

Shoemaker, a 50-year-old librarian, has been publishing indexed volumes of every major state-

"Several persons kept coming in and asking what Eisenhower said at various speeches when he started his campaign."

"I thought it would be a lot easier for me to index them. I only intended to do it during the campaign, but, after he was elected, I decided to continue."

"It was habit-forming then, and, besides, I enjoy it."

To date, Eisenhower has written three personal letters thanking Shoemaker for his efforts.

In his last letter, the President said "I have a rather unhappy feeling when I visualize the work that confronts you in making the index of the subjects I talk about during the course of any one year."

"But, at any rate, you have my continued thanks for making available to me a record that is highly useful."

Shoemaker and his wife, Elsie, spend about 16 hours a week cleaning presidential statements from big daily newspapers. They've set up a spare bedroom as a workshop.

As for the financial end of it, Shoemaker says he doesn't mind losing money.

"I don't smoke and I don't drink. I figure that what that would cost takes care of the cost of publishing."

Shoemaker says he will continue publishing the books "indefinitely."

CHANGING SERVICE
FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (AP)—The time is approaching when the functions of many city departments will have to be turned over to private interests. Because of rising costs, says Alderman J. J. Sporer, "We will make a saving and promote better service, at least," he says.

IKE'S THANKS: Ralph Shoemaker shows off letter President wrote thanking him for compiling index.

ment Eisenhower has made since he first announced his candidacy in 1952.

The first of the three volumes of "The President's Words" put Shoemaker $1,000 in the red; the next $500 and the third slightly less. He hopes to break even the next time.

As head librarian of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Shoemaker gets all kinds of questions—particularly during campaign years.

Choral Workshop Attracts 275 To College Campus

Approximately 275 high school students and choir directors from North Carolina and adjoining states are meeting on the campus of East Carolina College this week.

While here, members of the choral workshop are rehearsing under the direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, formerly choral director with Fred Waring and now director of music at Indian Springs School, Brimingham, Ala.

The workshop is sponsored by the North Carolina Music Educators Association. Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, director of the East Carolina department of music, and Charles C. Taylor, supervisor of music in the High Point city schools, are in charge of arrangements on the campus here.

A program of music Friday afternoon will bring all rehearsal groups together for a concert presented as concluding event of the workshop. The choir will sing under the direction of Dr. Hoggard. Those who are interested are invited to be present for the performance at 1:30 in the Wright auditorium.

The church's governing body voted to support the decision.

The Lutheran church is believed to be the first all-white church in the Louisville area to adopt integrated vacation Bible classes and the first of its denomination south of the Mason-Dixon.

The Rev. Mr. Kleckley, a South Carolinian who came here four years ago from Macon, Ga., said, "The unusual thing about this is the normalcy of it."

He said there were no dropouts among the 39 white children. The Negro enrollment reached 20 but has now leveled off at 17.

There hasn't been a ripple of disturbance and the school procedure hasn't changed.

The feet of turkeys that are less than one year old will be dark or black.

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Macon County jail prisoners have a lot of time on their hands but few smokes.

Sheriff C.W. Peebles says some spend 24 hours a day trying to figure out ways to get cigarettes.

One ordered some cigars and cigarettes from a local firm and paid by check, but the check bounced and the prisoner remains smokeless.

Aerial Trap For Speeding Drivers
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma Highway Patrol airplane, flown by Lt. Art Hamilton, accounted for catching 1,929 erring motorists in 1956.

Hamilton, flying above the traffic, spotted the violations and radioed to troopers on the ground who stopped the drivers.

Bible Class Has Fast Integration

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Grace Lutheran Church didn't start out to break down racial barriers at the vacation Bible school level—but that's what happened.

In fact, said the Rev. Henry Kleckley, pastor of the 66-year-old all-white church, it happened in about 30 seconds.

That was when 11 Negro children showed up unexpectedly when the church, in a racially mixed neighborhood, began vacation Bible classes last week.

The sign outside read, "All children welcome," and the minister said he and the school's director Mrs. P. E. Davis decided immediately to take the Negro children in.

The church's governing body voted to support the decision.

The Lutheran church is believed to be the first all-white church in the Louisville area to adopt integrated vacation Bible classes and the first of its denomination south of the Mason-Dixon.

The Rev. Mr. Kleckley, a South Carolinian who came here four years ago from Macon, Ga., said, "The unusual thing about this is the normalcy of it."

He said there were no dropouts among the 39 white children. The Negro enrollment reached 20 but has now leveled off at 17.

There hasn't been a ripple of disturbance and the school procedure hasn't changed.

The feet of turkeys that are less than one year old will be dark or black.

Flock To Offer Bond For Sheriff And 7 Deputies

FLORENCE (AP)—Horry County residents flocked to the U. S. Commissioner's office to offer bond for a sheriff and seven deputies accused of violating the civil rights of two Negroes.

Nearly 40 persons came to William Tyson Jr.'s office yesterday to put up bonds for Horry County Sheriff John Henry and his men, who are under federal indictment.

Bond for the sheriff was $5,000; for his deputies, $3,000 each.

Sheriff Henry told newsmen 300 would-be bondsmen might have swamped Tyson's office if Henry had not asked his supporters to stay home. The combined worth of those who did come ran more than $1,500,000 as certified by F. G. Graham, Horry clerk of court.

Justice Department bond papers allow only two bondsmen for a defendant, so most of the supporters were turned down.

The sheriff and his men were instructed to appear at the December 2 term of federal court here.

Federal indictments charge the sheriff and eight deputies with conspiring to beat and intimidate Cleo Patrick and Leonard Ford, Horry County Negroes.

It all started last Oct. 14 in Patrick's tavern. One of the deputies said he asked Patrick to turn down the volume of a juke box and Ford protested and then attacked the white deputy.

Ford claims two carloads of deputies stopped him the next day and beat him.

Ford was arrested on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill one of the deputies, convicted and sentenced to the roads.

Only seven deputies appeared yesterday. Deputy Arnold Hendricks was injured last week in an auto accident.

COLD CASH
MIAMI (AP)—Burglars chopped a hole in the roof of the Food Circus and made off with $800 in cold cash. The money was taken from the store's freezer.

Boy And A Bird Help Each Other

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Seven-year-old Guy Lillie and a baby robin are helping each other overcome the boredom of convalescence.

Guy is immobilized by a broken leg, suffered in an automobile accident. The bird, too young to fly, fell from its nest during a tree removal operation.

Mrs. Dorothy Kolb, a cousin of the boy, found the bird and brought it to him. The bird has a cage beside Guy's bed, but it perches for hours daily on the boy's head, shoulders or leg cast.

NOW - MILLIONS MORE say WHY PAY MORE
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 5¢
Goody's "THEY ARE GOOD" HEADACHE POWDERS
Try Goody's for pain relief. Prove to yourself that no other similar product is better or faster than Goody's for pain relief — REGARDLESS OF PRICE!

SHOP Wednesday Morning SPECIALS AT White's Stores

You sacrifice nothing
MALA POWERS co-starring in "TAMMY AND THE BACHELOR"
Although Hollywood is a sensible bread, baked without shortening, you sacrifice nothing in favor of enjoyment. On the contrary, you'll find it a wonderful treat to eat! An artful blend of 16 choice grains and vegetable flours, this unique loaf will lend zest and sparkle to even your most modest meals. A favorite of millions of beauty-conscious women everywhere. Be sure to insist on the genuine: Hollywood Special Formula Bread.
FREE! Send postcard for Hollywood Diet and Calorie Guide. Authoritative. Profusely illustrated. Address, Eleanor Day, 100 W. Monroe Street, Chicago 5, Illinois.
BAKED WITHOUT SHORTENING
Hollywood The bread for modern menus
LIGHT and DARK
SOUTHERN BREAD
Baked exclusively FOR YOU by SOUTHERN BREAD
Under License by National Bakers Service, Inc., Chicago

The Savings Are Great On These Wednesday Morning Buys

5 Dozen BROOMS EACH 54c	Toilet TISSUE 7 ROLLS 50c	Chenille Bed SPREADS FULL SIZE $2.00
Chambray Work SHIRTS 88c	First Quality 81 x 99 SHEETS $1.00	Large Bed Feather PILLOWS $1.00

Collins - Pridmore
628 Dickinson Avenue

GUNLOCK

by the prize-winning western novelist
WAYNE D. OVERHOLSER

CHAPTER 15

"Fifty families will start up the canyon as soon as I get back, Beeson." John Mathers said to me. "People who would have gone on living in the sink and smoke and refuse of a great city if I hadn't brought them out here."

"Every man has been carefully picked. Some are farmers. Some are carpenters. Blacksmiths. We have one gunsmith, a teacher, a doctor, a preacher and a lawyer. We will have a community of our own which will operate on the only premise that will ever bring happiness to mankind. One for all. For the profit we make will be shared equally. We ask just one thing, Beeson, a very simple thing: Let us alone."

"And you called me a fool," I said. "Think a crackpot scheme like yours will work? Why, it's been tried a thousand times. Think of the early days of the Virginia colony. What happened? They'd starved if they'd kept on with it. And what about those socialist colonies? They all failed. You claimed to be a leader and a smart man, but you haven't got sense enough to know that if a man doesn't work for himself he's not going to work at all."

"You're wrong," Mathers said. "This plan has never been tried under circumstances like these. With a picked body of men in an area with virgin soil that can be tilled. But you don't have to believe me. I'm not trying to convince you of anything. We just want to be let alone."

"You're making a lot of noise for a man who don't want to convince nobody," Gene Dillingham jeered.

"Go back to your camp, Mathers," I said wearily. "Beeson, I promised Mrs. Pardee that we would not touch an acre of your range. We're settling on the West Fork above Carlton."

"There isn't room for fifty families on the West Fork," I said. "Besides, what do you think Alec Dodson will do? You're headed for his range."

"Will!" Curly King was on his feet, a forefinger pointed at a rider on the road south of us. "It's a woman! She just came out of the brush!"

Dillingham swore. I guess we saw her at the same time, a second after Curly pointed her out. "Who is she?" I lined my rifle on Mathers. "Where's she going?"

"Don't!" Mathers shouted. He was looking at Gene Dillingham. "Don't shoot her!"

I wheeled on Dillingham just as his finger was tightening on the trigger. I knocked the barrel up a split second before he could get a shot off. He might have missed anyhow, for the girl was a long way away, and moving fast; but he might have hit her, too, and that was the worst thing I could think of. My voice trembled when I said: "That's the finish for you, Gene. You're fired!"

He tipped his big head forward, scowling. "Sarah Pardee will have to say that before I believe it. Besides, you're going to need me. There's just three of us, Mathers. Nobody up there on the hill. Come and get us. You can wipe us out."

"It won't be necessary," Mathers said. "That was my daughter Nela. She's gone after Mrs. Pardee."

He waded back across the creek and strode down the road toward where he had left his colonists. We might as well go home, I thought miserably. My one great hope had been to hold Mathers in the canyon so that he would have no chance to see or talk to Sarah.

If I had been able to turn Mathers back, I could have faced Sarah and told her what we had done. She could tongue whip me, but she couldn't change what had been done.

Now everything was different. Dogbone would harness the buggy and half kill our team of bays getting Sarah here. I couldn't face her, knowing that the job wasn't done and that in a matter of hours Mathers would be leading his pilgrims up the canyon regardless of us.

"We're going home," I said, and motioned for Dillingham to go ahead of me.

I expected trouble with him, but he was docile enough. We mounted and started back the way we had come, a smile on Dillingham's heavy-lipped mouth. I didn't understand it, but I didn't think much about it just then. I was nagged by another thought, one that was far more important than any which concerned Gene Dillingham.

I was a coward. Not physically, but morally. Maybe that was worse. I knew I was right, but that didn't give me the strength I needed to defy Sarah.

When we reached the Box P, I saw that Mathers' daughter had beaten us. She had pushed her horse hard, and she must have been a good rider. As we pulled up in front of the house, she was standing beside her horse, a tight, defiant smile on her lips as she watched us ride in.

Dogbone had harnessed the bays and hooked them to the buggy. Now he came out of the house, pushing Sarah in her wheel chair. I stopped beside the buggy, Curly and Dillingham behind me, and waited, not looking at Nela Mathers. She had reason to lord it over me, I thought bitterly. Because of her the colonists had won without firing a shot.

We sat our saddles, motionless, until Dogbone stopped Sarah's chair beside the buggy. I forced myself to bring my gaze to Sarah. I expected her face to be dark and lined with fury. It wasn't. She seemed as serene as ever, and when she spoke her voice was soft and courteous.

"Get down and come into the house, Will," she said. "Dogbone, you can unhook. I won't be needing the buggy."

I stepped down and handed the reins to Curly. I said: "I fired Gene. He says he's got to here you say it."

"Then he'll hear me say it," she said crisply. "You're fired, Gene. Pack your war sack, then come to the house and get your time."

He didn't say a word. He rode to the bunkhouse, smiling again, as if enjoying a secret joke. Just Sarah and the Mathers girl and me remained in front of the house.

Sarah said: "Will, I want you to meet Nela Mathers. Nela, this is my foreman and partner, Will Beeson."

I was forced to turn to her. She held her hand out, a quick, direct motion, and when I extended my hand she gave it a firm grip. "I'm glad to meet you, Mr. Beeson. My father has spoken of you many times."

"You can go back and tell your father he can bring his wagons up the canyon," I said. "He will have no more trouble with the Box P."

She nodded as if that was what she expected to hear. "Thank you. I understand why you aren't happy to meet me."

We were silent for a moment, facing each other. She studied me very carefully, in no way abashed, and despite the fact that I was prepared to hate her I found myself admiring her self-possession and calm courage.

Nela Mathers was not a beautiful girl, and hardly even a pretty one. She was wearing a dark brown riding skirt, a tan blouse, and a leather jacket, with a broad-brimmed hat that was held in place by a chin strap.

She was about twenty, I judged, but more mature than most girls of that age, full-bosomed, of average height, and neither too slender nor too heavy. Her eyes were gray,

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Quill for winding silk
4. Asiatic native
8. Flower container
12. Poem
13. Gr. letter
14. Vice
15. Italian guessing game
17. Sun
18. Swiss hero
19. Skirmish
21. More pleasant
23. Cattle
25. Alternative
26. Sun god
28. Flying animal
31. Room about 32. Rich man

DOWN
1. Container for honey
2. Scent
3. So. American country
4. Hebrew month
5. Thing: law
6. Expiated
7. E. Indies island
8. Old-timer
9. Declare
10. Yellow ocher
11. House wing
12. Inquire
13. Public road
14. Freeze
15. Negative vote
16. List
17. Encourage
18. Infant
19. Imitated
20. Hindu cymbals
21. Name of a place
22. One: Scot
23. Persuade
24. Church sitting
25. Salty drop
26. Goddess of discord
27. Ingredient of beer
28. Olive genus
29. Close
30. Feline
31. Windmill
32. Sail
33. Obtain
34. Indian fiber plant

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13				14
15		16		17			18
19			20	21		22
		23	24		25			26	27
28	29	30	31		32	33
34		35			36
37					38		39
40	41		42		43
	44		45		46	47	48	49
50	51		52		53	54
55			56		57	58
59			60			61

PAR TIME 25 MIN. AP Newsfeature 6-18

SHE ALICE MAR
HAD NOMAD IRE
ALIBI PRESSED
FLY POE OD
ROPE PEST ERA
RE WANE FREED
ENTERS SLUDGE
ANENT ATOM UP
DYE SMUG ALT
TO TUN ARA
TREFOIL EMITS
EIR ALERT SOU
ANY RETIA ERN

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

DOWN
1. Container for honey
2. Scent
3. So. American country
4. Hebrew month
5. Thing: law
6. Expiated
7. E. Indies island
8. Old-timer
9. Declare
10. Yellow ocher
11. House wing
12. Inquire
13. Public road
14. Freeze
15. Negative vote
16. List
17. Encourage
18. Infant
19. Imitated
20. Hindu cymbals
21. Name of a place
22. One: Scot
23. Persuade
24. Church sitting
25. Salty drop
26. Goddess of discord
27. Ingredient of beer
28. Olive genus
29. Close
30. Feline
31. Windmill
32. Sail
33. Obtain
34. Indian fiber plant

Television Log

WNCT Ch. 9

TUESDAY
5:30—Cartoon Carnival
5:45—Doug Edwards, CBS
6:00—Mickey Rooney Show, CBS
6:30—Your Esso Reporter
6:40—Weatherman
6:45—Jewel Box Jamboree
7:00—Phil Silvers Show, CBS
7:30—Name That Tune, CBS
8:00—Ford Theatre
8:30—Amos 'N Andy
9:00—$64,000 Question, CBS
9:30—Spike Jones Show, CBS
10:00—Burns & Allen, CBS
10:30—Ray Milland Show
11:00—Weatherman
11:05—News Final
11:10—Sports Nitcap
11:15—Bright Leaf Theatre

WEDNESDAY

6:30—RFD Nine
6:55—Weatherman
7:00—Jimmy Dean Show, CBS
7:45—Morning News, CBS
7:55—Weatherman
8:00—Capt. Kangaroo, CBS
8:45—Morning News, CBS
8:55—Morning Meditations
9:00—Silm Short Time
9:15—Yesterday's Newsreel
9:30—Trio Time
9:45—Godfrey Time, CBS
10:30—Strike It Rich, CBS
11:00—Shoppers Guide
11:15—Love of Life, CBS
11:30—Search for Tomorrow, CBS
11:45—Guiding Light, CBS
12:00—Farm News
12:10—Weatherman
12:15—Deban Views the News
12:30—As the World Turns, CBS
1:00—Hygiene
1:30—Art Linkletter, CBS
2:00—Big Payoff, CBS
2:30—Spotlight Theatre
3:00—Brighter Day, CBS
3:15—Secret Storm, CBS
3:30—Edge of Night, CBS
4:00—Susie
4:30—Romper Room
5:30—Cartoon Carnival
5:45—Doug Edwards, CBS
6:00—Sky King
6:30—Your Esso Reporter
6:40—Weatherman
6:45—Jill Cory Show
7:00—Arthur Godfrey Show, CBS
7:30—Frontier
8:00—The Millionaire, CBS
8:30—I've Got A Secret, CBS
9:00—Fights, ABC
9:45—Sports Digest
10:00—Hawkeye
10:30—Dangerous Assignment
11:00—Weatherman
11:05—News Final
11:10—Sports Nitcap
11:15—Bright Leaf Theatre

WITN Ch. 7

TUESDAY
4:30—Visiting with Hilda
5:30—Gene Autry
6:00—Channel 7 Reporter
6:15—Weather
6:20—Sports
6:30—Texas Rangers
7:00—Dancing Party, NBC
7:30—Panck, NBC
8:00—Jane Wyman Theatre, NBC
8:30—Men of Annapolis
9:00—Boston Blackie
9:30—GE Talent Parade
10:00—Channel 7 Playhouse
10:30—The Lone Wolf
11:00—News, Weather, Sports
11:15—Tonight, NBC

WEDNESDAY

7:00—Today, NBC
9:00—Home, NBC
10:00—The Price Is Right, NBC
10:30—Truth or Consequence, NBC
11:00—The Tac Dough, NBC
11:30—It Could Be You, NBC
12:00—Midday News
12:15—Farm Front
12:25—Midday Devotions
12:30—Club Sixty, NBC
1:30—Tennessee Ernie, NBC
2:00—NBC Matinee Theatre, NBC
3:00—Queen for Day, NBC
3:45—Modern Romances, NBC
4:00—Comedy Time, NBC
4:30—Visiting with Hilda

5:30—Gene Autry
6:00—Channel 7 Reporter
6:15—Weather
6:20—Sports
6:30—Helen O'Connell, NBC
6:45—Belk-Tyler Time
7:00—Masquerade Party, NBC
7:30—Father Knows Best, NBC
8:00—Kraft Theatre, NBC
9:00—This Is Your Life, NBC
9:30—Sheriff of Cochise
10:00—Date with the Angels, ABC
10:30—City Detective
11:00—News, Weather, Sports
11:15—Tonight, NBC

Future Canadian Premier Readies Cabinet Slate

OTTAWA (AP)—John Diefenbaker is putting together a Cabinet slate prior to taking over Friday as Canada's first Conservative prime minister in 22 years.

Gov. Gen. Vincent-Massey last night asked Diefenbaker to form a new government after the Liberal Cabinet of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent resigned.

The Conservatives upset the Liberals in last week's elections but did not win a ruling majority. They have 109 seats and the Liberals 104 in the 265-member House of Commons.

Diefenbaker, a 61-year-old lawyer from Saskatchewan, had announced earlier that he would accept the prime minister's job but said he needed until Friday to prepare a slate of Cabinet officers.

A member of Parliament since the 1930s, he led the Conservatives to victory in his first campaign as party chief.

St. Laurent met for 50 minutes with Massey last night before the governor general called in Diefenbaker. The 75-year-old Liberal chief later told reporters he will continue to serve as a member of Commons from his constituency of Quebec East. He also said his Cabinet will remain in office until a new administration is installed.

"I have also told Mr. Diefenbaker that I feel the Liberal members of Parliament will not attempt by obstruction to prevent the new government from carrying through Parliament the program it has placed before the people, though we shall, of course, exercise our right to express our views freely on the measures introduced in Parliament," he said in a statement.

"We feel that the growth and prosperity of the country should not be endangered by instability of government which would come from irresponsible obstruction."

Diefenbaker's promise to call Parliament into session in September may be upset by the scheduled Canadian visit of Queen Elizabeth II.

He said there had been an announcement that the Queen will visit Canada Oct. 12-14 and "tentative arrangements had been considered to the effect that she might officially open Parliament."

FUTILE RUSE
MCALISTER, Okla. (AP)—A 52-year-old escaped convict told McAlester officers his name was "Sarah" but his ruse didn't work. Police Capt. Jess Henson said that Ben J. May, who escaped from the Oklahoma State Penitentiary here, was attired in a dress, scarf and cotton stockings when they captured him in a chicken pen.

The soil on the slopes of Mt. Etna in Italy, one of the most fertile on earth, is enriched by volcanic dust.

N. Y. Electric Systems Strained By Heat Wave

NEW YORK (AP)—The heat wave taxed New York's power system and their electrical power system yesterday.

The metropolis baked in 90-degree heat for the third day in a row. The city's sweltering millions faced more of the same today.

Thousands of air conditioners were switched on as the temperature soared. That helped boost the power load toward the breaking point.

Consolidated Edison Co., the private utility that supplies the city, ran into what it called "a multitude of little headaches." The utility appealed for voluntary power cutbacks in homes, offices, stores and factories.

A similar power crisis developed in Chicago. Household voltage dropped from the standard of 120 volts to 113.

The situation here improved by evening, however, and a spokesman for the company said: "We think we're out of the woods." He said standby power units will be in operation today to ease the burden.

Earlier, the appeal for a power curtailment led to a shutdown of escalators and some elevators in Rockefeller Center.

The New York Telephone Co. turned on its own emergency diesel power equipment at 106 exchanges to ease the load.

Sections of Brooklyn and the Bronx suffered power cutoffs varying from 15 minutes to an hour. More than 30,000 homes were affected in Brooklyn.

The Empire State Building stopped nonessential motors and pumps, cut elevator service and asked tenants to switch off as many office lights as possible.

The United Nations halted its plaza fountain and reduced lights. The temperature reached 93 in the late afternoon. That made it the hottest day of the year and its hottest June 17 on record. The previous record for the date was 92.4 in 1891.

Temperatures went right on up with the temperature.

Hundreds of persons phoned power headquarters to complain they were getting only dribbles of water from their taps. They blamed the pressure drop on youngsters who were opening neighborhood fire hydrants for a cooling shower.

In many streets police no sooner turned off a hydrant and disappeared than the youngsters dashed back and opened it again.

One motorist lost control of his car when a group of youths sprayed it with water from a hydrant. He crashed into a building but was uninjured.

The heat caused a drawbridge to stick on a subway line in Queens, delaying trains for an hour and a half. Perspiring passengers transferred to buses.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatensin®.

Primatensin opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections.

The secret is—Primatensin combines 8 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms... get Primatensin at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back guarantee.

©1956, Whitehall Pharmaceutical Company

GRIZZLY HAS A DEBT
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Lincoln Park Zoo will welcome today a 300-pound grizzly bear which owes its life to Gov. Raymond Gary. The governor was given the animal last week by Yellowstone National Park rangers, who had planned to shoot it.

By CHARLES BISSETTE

Here's How
Although we can't be right alongside you snapshots as you capture the fun of summer barbecues or cross country tours, we can make some simple suggestions that will answer those on-the-spot questions in advance.

Here are some questions we've been asked just recently:
Q: There were big, billowy clouds in the sky when I took this picture. How come they don't show up?

A: Clouds often do a disappearing act in black-and-white pictures unless you use a filter. We have an inexpensive Kodak Filter that accents clouds and cuts through haze—and it slips right over your camera lens. Bring your camera in, and we'll fit it.

Q: Can you make really sharp close-up pictures with a simple snapshot camera?

A: Sure—but such cameras need a "booster" for short-range shooting. Just slip on a Kodak Close-Up Attachment, and then you can take close-ups to your heart's content.

Q: The people's faces in this outdoor shot are covered with dark shadows. Is there anything I can do about it?

A: Certainly is: Next time take your flash along outdoors. It will light the faces more evenly and erase those dark, unflattering shadows. If you don't have flash, bring your camera in, and we'll show you how easy and inexpensive it is.

More questions? Stop in, and we'll answer them in detail.

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY
6 YEARS OLD
$3.35 4/5 QUART
$2.10 PINT
Crab Orchard
STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY
86 Proof • National Distillers Products Corporation
New York, N. Y.

LABOR SAVER

MH-30

Is Tops In Sucker Control

MH-30 treated Hand-sucked
Complete Line of Insecticides Including:
TOXAPHANE (Dust) TOXAPHANE (Liquid)
TDE (Dust) ROTHANE (Liquid)
ENDRIN (Dust) ENDRIN (Liquid)

Blount Fertilizer Co.

Blount-Harvey Co.

START COOL

DRIVE COOL

ARRIVE COOL

WITH THE AMAZING NEW
Vornado
AUTOMOBILE
AIR CONDITIONING

Especially designed as an "add-on" accessory!

If you are a Stop-and-Go city driver or travel the highways, you will find new summertime driving enjoyment with Vornado's Automobile Air Conditioner.

Vornado costs just pennies a day, and can easily be transferred to your next car.

AT AN AMAZING LOW PRICE

Start COOL... Drive COOL... Arrive COOL!

Vornado JUST COOLS BETTER!

Distributed By Carolina Sales Corp.
FLANAGAN BUGGY CO.

Auto Air Conditioning Headquarters
Most Any Make Car - Budget Terms - One Day Service
121 E 4th St. Phone 3547

Phone 6166

MARKET PLACE OF MILLIONS

WANTED ADS

RENTING-HIRING BUYING-SELLING

Phone 6166

DEATH TRAP REDDING, Calif. (AP) — An abandoned refrigerator in a vacant lot next to their home turned out to be a death trap for Alice and John Harvey, 4 and 3. The boys were found suffocated in the box yesterday after a two-hour search by their half-sister Margaret Rudisill, 12. She had been baby-sitting while the parents were away.

PUBLIC NOTICE STATEMENT OF RESULT OF THE SPECIAL BOND ELECTION held in the CHICOD SCHOOL DISTRICT OF PITT COUNTY, N. C. on May 25, 1957

At the special bond election held on May 25, 1957, in the Chicod School District of Pitt County, North Carolina, the following votes were cast for and against the issuance of not exceeding $60,000 School Bonds for and in behalf of said School District for the purpose of acquiring, erecting, enlarging, altering and equipping school buildings and purchasing sites in said School District in order to comply with the constitutional requirement for the maintenance of schools six months in every year as required by Section 3 of Article IX of the Constitution, and the levying of a sufficient tax for the payment thereof on all taxable property within said School District:

126 votes were cast against the issuance of said School Bonds and the levying of a sufficient tax for the payment thereof, and

The number of voters registered and qualified to vote at said election was 272. At said election a majority of the qualified voters of said Chicod School District of Pitt County did not vote in favor of the issuance of said bonds and the levying of such tax.

By order of the Board of Commissioners for Pitt County: B. ALTON GARDNER Chairman

Blair C. Wheelers Clerk, Board of Commissioners

117 votes were cast for the issuance of said School Bonds and the levying of a sufficient tax for the payment thereof.

FOR RENT TWO BEDROOM UNFURNISHED apartment on Pennsylvania Ave. Phone 5210. Apr. 4-11

HOUSES, APARTMENTS, ROOMS and business property for rent. Contact Grier Rental Agency Office located in Room 23, Rivers Building, 209 Evans Street, which is upstairs over Chamber of Commerce. Telephone 5700. Closed on Wednesday afternoons.

SEVEN ROOM BRICK HOUSE—111 N. Jarvis St. Rent $55. Inspect, call R. H. Staton 2411 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. June 5-12

TWO ROOM DOWNSTAIRS completely furnished apartment. Batchelors apartments. Accommodations: living room, bedroom, large modern kitchen, private bath and entrance. Suitable for couple or adults. Dial 3376 or 6826. June 12-19

FURNISHED UPSTAIRS APARTMENT—4 rooms and bath. Private entrance, heat, lights and water furnished. One block from college, 400 Holly St. May 29-11

TWO BEDROOM UPSTAIRS UNFURNISHED apartment — Convenient to college and business district. For couple. 401 1/2 Jarvis St. Phone 4854. May 31-11

FOUR ROOM DUPLEX UNFURNISHED apartment. Electric hot water heater and blinds. 108 N. Jarvis St. Near college. See Mrs. Hicks Pollard, Falkland Highway. 13-61

UNFURNISHED TWO BEDROOM apartment—114-A "A" St. Call 6123 day, 2712 night. Apr. 27-11

3 ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT upstairs—Can be seen at 820 Evans St. or phone 4162. May 14-11

NEWLY PAINTED HOUSE IN Mill Village. 3 large rooms, complete bath, and automatic hot water. Apply Carolina Grill. 14-61

NEW COLORED APARTMENTS for rent across river just at site of the new highway. Each has private entrance, private bath, bathtub, and electric hot water heater. Reasonably priced. Contact Grier Rental Agency, phone 5700. June 6-11

7 ROOMS WITH PINE PANEL office or den—Large front and backyard. 3 room downstairs unfurnished apartment with porch. Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall. Dial 2481. 18-31

FIVE ROOM FRAME DWELLING—Large backyard. Ideal garden. Nice for working man. 1302 S. Washington St. Reduced to $45. Contact Jim Lee. Phone 2149; Trust Dept., Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. Phone 3106. June 5-11

MODERN APARTMENT—AVAILABLE July 1. Living room, bedroom, kitchenette, tiled bath, tub and shower. Automatic water and space heat. Strictly private. Call 4359 after 5 p.m. June 18-11

AIR CONDITIONED OFFICES in Worsley Building and parking space. Also Atlantic Beach cottages near ocean: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, innerspring mattresses, electric ranges and hot water. $75.00 and $135 weekly. Make reservations now. James R. Worsley. 15-31

TWO BEDROOM APARTMENT—Stove and refrigerator furnished. Call 7169 or 4110. Charles Boyd Yates, 906 College View Apts. June 6-11

LOST and FOUND LOST or MISPLACED — GOLD rimless bifocals between noon and 8 p.m. Friday. If found, please phone 3001, J. Nat Harrison. 18-31

HELP WANTED - MALE SALESMAN—YOUNG MAN TO cover Eastern North Carolina for established wholesale paint distributor. Experience preferred. Give full particulars first letter. Reply in own handwriting to "Distributor," Box 408, Greenville. 17-31

HELP WANTED FEMALE WANTED IMMEDIATELY FOR domestic work in New York area. Live-in, small families, $35-$50 per week. Transportation advanced. Write W. R. Segans, 1821 Church St., Norfolk, Va., or dial Ex. 9-0165. June 13-11

A MATURE WOMAN AGED 25-35 Opening now. Will train to become a professional figure stylist. Also opening for supervisory work. Write Mrs. Willie Bengel, Route 3, New Bern, N. C. 18-11

SALES LADY EXPERIENCED IN lady's ready-to-wear. Good salary. Apply in person at The Bargain Store, 812 Dickinson Ave., between 9:00 and 12:00 noon or call Royce Jones 4466 after 6:00 p.m. 18-21

WANT MIDDLE-AGED WHITE lady to live in home and help care for elderly lady recuperating from heart condition. Will leave hospital in about a week. Call Mrs. Charles Munford before 3 p.m. or after 7 p.m. Dial 2601. 15-31

SPECIAL NOTICES WE ARE OPEN ALL DAY Wednesday—Shop for fishing tackle and outdoor supplies at Edwards Hardware. 18-121

WE ARE OPEN ALL DAY Wednesday and closed Saturday afternoon. Pitt FCX. 18-11

TO RENT OR BUY MULES CALL Marvin Jarman, Phone 5237. June 13-11

GOING ON A VACATION TRIP, convention?—You'll enjoy yourself more when you know you have complete insurance protection. "Trip Insurance" is available from 1 to 180 day periods, and costs only a few cents a day. Call H. A. White & Sons 2149. May 25-11

FOR DELICIOUS PLATES OF barbecue chicken, stew beef, hamburger steaks and fried chicken, with choice of two vegetables (lima beans, candied yams, garden peas and homemade potato salad) visit us. Serve to take out or curb. Delivery up to $3.00 order. Delivery under $3.00 if pay taxi fare. West End Circle Drive Inn, Phone 5746. June 14-11

FOR MOWING WEEDS ON LOTS all Preston—Harrington Jr. Phone 6430. 17-31

WHEN YOU TRAVEL DON'T BE half protected, be all the way by buying an accident ticket from GENERAL INSURANCE AGENCY. We can protect you from 1 day to 180 days at nominal cost. 314 Evans St. Dial 2401. June 6-11

ATTENTION POULTRY RAISERS!—Last call, three-week-old baby chicks, $15 per hundred. No more hatches till fall. Drum's Hatchery, West End Circle, Phone 2537. May 18-11

SPECIAL NOTICES PAINT PROBLEMS?—SEE CLO Johnston, interior decorator, at Brown's Furniture Store, West End Circle. Phone 4220. 18-11

AUTOS FOR SALE 1953 NEW YORKER CHRYSLER 4 door sedan. Power steering, radio and heater. Very clean. Reduced $875. If interested, phone 5302 N. C. Dealer No. 3469. May 25-11

1964 PLYMOUTH SAVOY—FOUR door sedan. Radio and heater, new tires. Very clean. Reduced $875. Phone 5302 N. C. Dealer No. 3469. May 25-11

EXPERT SERVICE YOU'LL GET PROMPT, CAREFUL service for your car. Leave your car cares in our hands and we'll do only what has to be done. You can rely on us for complete car service. Carr Allen's Texaco Station, next door to the post office. 17-61

24 HOUR FILM DEVELOPING service at Greenville Jewelers, 513 Dickinson Ave. 12-61

SPECIAL PAINT JOBS—All-over paint jobs on cars, $39.95. We also do expert body repairs. Hassell's Garage, Highway 264 bypass, near TV station. Phone 7164. 14-61

UPHOLSTERY AND AUTO Glass work, convertible tops, tailor made seat covers. 5,000 combination seat cover materials. Furniture upholstered and refinished, seat covers $9.95 up. United Glass and Top Works, phone 5539. 12-11

RADIATOR CLEANING — Repairing and recoring; also lawn mower repairing. All work guaranteed. Auto Service Shop, 1320 S. Evans St. Phone 3580. 5-121

HADN'T YOU RATHER A FACTORY trained TV technician service your TV? Call 2042, Western Auto Associate Store, 527 Dickinson Ave. 15-61

FOUNTAINS PENS REPAIRED — Three day service on all makes: Parker, Sheaffer, Eversharp. Factory parts for all makes. John Lautares Jewelers, East 5th Street, Greenville, N. C. 17-61

FREE OFFER 75 ft. of Drain Tile with each septic tank. We also have Sanitary Privies from $8.50 up. Marshall's Concrete Products 1000 N. Greene St. Phone 4066 Aug.-11

HOW ABOUT HAVING THAT refrigerator painted like factory new to match the kitchen? Price $15 plus delivery. One day service. Briely Paint & Body Shop, Phone 2609. May 29-11

FOR GUARANTEED TV SERVICE day or night till 10 p.m. call Ralph Crawford Radio & TV Service. Used TV $30 up. Phone day 7049, night 3921. Feb. 20-11

DECORATING—INTERIOR, EXTERIOR. We'll wash, polish, wax, put on new seatcovers, sell you car rugs, mats, install new tires. Won't it be "purty"? Ricks Service Center. 17-61

REAL ESTATE NICE HOMES — SMALL OR large, city or suburban; also some farms. Cash or terms. We buy or sell. If it's real estate see J. Hicks Corey Agency, Dial 2615, Greenville, N. C. Tues. & Fri.-11

HERE IS THE HOME FOR YOU—4 blocks from college, 5 rooms. Fenced in backyard. Move in today. Contact Jim Lee, H. A. White & Sons, Phone 2149. 18-121

WORK WANTED FOR BUILDING FENCES, outside painting and other carpenter work call 4354 and ask for Mr. Peelee after 6 p.m. June 12-11

MISCELLANEOUS WANTED WANT TO BUY 2 USED CEILING FANS Call 2122 City Laundrette 813 Evans St. 14-61

MONEY TO LOAN FOR QUICK CONFIDENTIAL loans from $15 to $300 on your household furniture and kitchen appliances and autos, contact Security Loan Corp., supervised by N. C. State Banking Commission, 107 E. 5th St., Greenville, N. C. Phone 3660. 11

RESORTS FOR RENT REST HAVEN COTTAGES ON Pamlico—Quiet, restful, clean, fishing, boats, bathing. Six miles east of Bath. Phone Sidney Crossroads 42257. Floye Mason. 15-111

FOR SALE WATERMELONS ARRIVING daily wholesale. Dial 4591 Ayden or see R. L. Collins, Ayden. 4-181

LAWN MOWERS—21" CUT, 2 1/2 hp Clinton engine, leaf mulcher rewind starter, with throttle on handlebar, for only $79.50. We service and maintain a complete stock of parts for these mowers. We will repair your old mower or trade you. See us for the best buy in town. HENDRIX-BARNHILL CO., INC., Dickinson Ave. at the Underpass, Greenville, N. C. Phone 4122. May 2-11

MILLER SAFE—28 X 30 X 24 On rollers. Call 4272 between 7:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. 13-61

11 FOOT KELVINATOR REFRIGERATOR—Excellent condition. Phone 2461. 15-31

POLYETHYLENE CLEAR PLASTIC for covering outdoor furniture, grills, cars, luggage, etc. Widths up to 16 1/2 ft. Any lengths 15¢ per square yard. Hendrix-Barnhill Co., Inc. Phone 4122, Greenville, N. C. Apr. 20-11

THREE COMMERCIAL FANS—Two 24-inch ceiling fans, one large floor model. Reason for selling: We have air conditioners for your comfort. Spain's Super Market. 12-61

GARDEN SEED GARDEN FERTILIZER GARDEN TOOLS Pitt FCX Service Greenville, N. C. Feb. 19-11

LAWN FENCING AND POST for sale at Pitt FCX Service, Greenville, N. C. Feb. 15-11

ANTIQUA SALE June 17, 18, 19 Largest and best stock we've ever had to offer at bargain prices. THE TRADING POST Wilson, N. C. 15-31

USED CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT F. O. B. Greenville Caterpillar D-6 tractor with hydraulic angle blade International TD-9 tractor with Carco winch Allis-Chalmers AD-3 motor grader with GM diesel engine Littleford M-3 Spray King distributor with spray bar attachment Allis-Chalmers HD-9B tractor with bulldozer Rex 3 yard Moto-Mixer on GMC truck Bucyrus-Erie 15-B crane with 30 ft. boom, Caterpillar diesel engine, and Hendrix 5-8 yard dragline bucket Allis-Chalmers TS-300 motor scraper Water pumps, air compressors and tools, and other miscellaneous equipment Representative: Herschel G. Williams, phone 5956, Greenville. E. F. CRAVEN COMPANY P. O. Box 523 Phone 7145 Greenville, N. C. 17-31

RED IRISH POTATOES—SEE Preston Harrington Jr., back of Colonial Heights, or call 6430. 17-31

A SAFE BAT, TRIED IT YET?—Pina Foam for cleaning rugs and upholstery. Belk-Tyler's. 18-61

Classified Display WANTED 500 Old Cars This Month Top Prices Paid Moore's Iron & Metal Yard Phone 2475 Closed on Sat. During Summer 14-41

Wading Pools Phone 5659 Septic Tanks $55.00 up Before You Buy Call . . . Rural Sanitation Company Phone 5659 June 13-11

EXCLUSIVE FRANCHISE Exceptionally High Returns Man or woman with car to manage small local distributorship for national concern. Must be able to handle money and supervise distribution. No direct selling. Can be handled along with present job or business. High override on all business from your area. Should pay you $1,000 per month. We grant 10 year exclusive with option. Proof of unlimited guaranteed returns at time of interview. We train you at our expense. You should net over $4,000 first three months of operation. Requires $3,000 cash investment, secured by four times value in inventory. This requires immediate action! For personal interview in your area, write fully about yourself to: SIMMONS ENTERPRISES, 727 Ponce de Leon Place, N. E., Atlanta 6, Georgia. 18-11

BEAUTIFUL HOME In Lakewood Pines Three bedrooms, den, kitchen with dishwasher, two and one half baths, entrance foyer, utility room, oversize two car garage, large screened porch. Large shaded lot with forty dogwood trees. A bargain at $28,000. Call 2288 for appointment. 17-31s

CADILLAC BROWN WOOD PONTIAC Dial 7111 1205 Dickinson Avenue Dial 2832

FOR THE CAR OF YOUR CHOICE VISIT OUR USED CAR LOT IN REAR OF BUILDING. 1954 PONTIAC STAR CHIEF, Catalina—Hydraulic transmission, radio, heater, excellent tires, beautiful two-tone, rust and white, one owner, low mileage. A real beauty indeed. 1953 FORD 2 DOOR SEDAN Two-tone green and black. Radio, heater, overdrive. Very good condition. 1953 CADILLAC 4 DOOR Sedan Series "62." Radio, heater, whitewall tires, power steering, automatic, low mileage. Very good condition. Authorized Dealer For Johnson Outboard Motors Open Saturday Afternoons. N. C. Motor Vehicle License No. 741

DAILY REFLECTOR WANT AD INFORMATION Your Want Ad Telephone Number in Greenville is 6166 RATES ($1.00 minimum charge for 25 words or less for first insertion) 2 Insertions ..... $ 1.75 3 Insertions ..... $ 2.25 6 Insertions ..... $ 3.75 One Month ..... $14.00 DISPLAY WANT ADS ($1.25 per column inch per insertion) 1 Week ..... $ 6.75 1 Month ..... $28.00 (Above rates for more than one insertion apply to ads running on consecutive days.) DEADLINE No new ads, kills or corrections accepted after 3 p.m. the day before publication. ERRORS—OMISSIONS The Daily Reflector will be responsible only for the first incorrect or omitted insertion of any advertisement in these columns and then only to the extent of a make-good insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by a make-good insertion. The publisher reserves the right to revise or reject any copy. SAVE MONEY Order your ad to run six times; the cost is less per day. When you get desired results, call 6166 and stop the ad. You pay for only the number of days your ad actually appeared.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (NCDA)—Hog	Avco Manufacturing	6 1/2
prices steady. Tops at 18.75 to 19.50 at Tarboro and Enfield; 18.75 to 19.25 at Smithfield, Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Nahant and Albemarle; 18.50 to 19.25 at Bethel; 18.25 to 19.25 at Hillsboro and Rocky Mount; 18.50 to 19.00 at Mount Gilead, Denton and Siler City; 19.00 at Kenly, Pine Level, Blackmans Crossroads, Clayton, Murfreesboro and Castle Hayne; 18.75 at Rich Square, Fayetteville, Clinton, Lumberton, Shallotte, Micro, Elizabethtown, Whiteville, Newton Grove, Clarkton, Mount Olive, Bailey, Dunn, Goldsboro and Fair Bluff.	Baltimore & Ohio	50 1/2
RALEIGH (NCDA)—North Carolina poultry markets: fryers and broilers unchanged, farm price 20.	Bendix Aviation	60
Raleigh eggs steady. A large 30-32; Durham eggs steady. A large 29-32; Asheville eggs steady. A large 32-35, mostly 35; Charlotte eggs steady. A large white 30 brown 32.	Bethlehem Steel	48 1/2
WALL STREET	Borg Warner	40 1/2
NEW YORK (AP)—Weakness in metals featured a stock market decline early this afternoon.	Budd Company	19 1/2
Key issues were down from fractions to 2 points or so. A few selected issues made gains.	Burlington Indus	12 1/2
Trading was moderately active and there was no particular selling pressure.	Burroughs Corp	47 1/2
Coppers and nonferrous metals generally were the worst sufferers. Steels also were lower as were aircraft.	Calumet & Hecla	13
The coppers were continuing to react to the news of lower world prices for the red metal, while nickel producers were hit by the growing supply, which is tied-in with the easing of government stock-piling.	Canada Dry	15 1/2
Aircraft declined, finding no encouragement in the prospects for an agreement with Russia on a ban of atom bomb tests, brokers said.	Canadian Pacific	35 1/2
Both Anaconda and Kennecott fell more than 2 points apiece. International Nickel dropped more than 3. American Smelting was off a major fraction. But Phelps Dodge remained steady.	Carolina Power & Lt	15 1/2
As the rate of steel output dipped, U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were fractionally lower. Youngstown Sheet and Allegheny Ludlum were off about a point each. Lukens was off fractionally then posted a gain of a point or so.	Champion Paper & Fib	37 1/2
United Aircraft was down a couple points. Boeing and Douglas lost a point or more.	Chesapeake & Ohio	33
As the industrials beat a retreat after posting a new 1957 high yesterday, Chrysler dropped a point, General Motors and Ford fractions.	Chrysler Corporation	76 1/2
Leading rails showed a string of fractional losses. Among those on the downside were Santa Fe, New York Central and Southern Pacific.	Coca Cola	107
But Revlon, yesterday's most active stock, added another point. Eastman Kodak gained a fraction. General Telephone was unchanged on some big blocks as it made a big offering of common and preferred to acquire Peninsular Telephone of Florida.	Columbia Gas & Elec	17 1/2
Losses of around a point were taken by Johns-Manville, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Gulf Oil and Alcoa.	Commercial Credit	50
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon fell 90 cents to $185.40 with the industrials down $1.70, the rails down 50 cents and the utilities unchanged.	Consolidated Edison	42 1/2
NEW YORK (AP)—1 p.m. stocks:	Continental Can	47
Admiral Corporation	Continental Motor	8 1/2
Allied Chemical & Dye	Curtis Wright	40 1/2
Allis Chalmers Mfg	Dan River	10 1/2
American Can	Douglas Aircraft	74 1/2
American Smelt & Ref	Dow Chemical	67 1/2
American Tel & Tel	DuPont de Nemour	196
American Tobacco	Eastman Kodak	107 3/4
Atlantic Coast Line	Electric Auto Lite	37 1/2
Atlantic Refinery	Firestone Rubber	95 1/2
	Freeport Sulphur	69 1/2
	General Electric	45
	General Foods	43
	Glidden Paint	34 1/2
	Goodrich Rubber	78 1/2
	Goodyear Rubber	86 1/2
	Illinois Central	50 1/2
	Int Nickel Can	107 1/2
	Int Tel & Tel	11 1/2
	Kennecott Copper	117 1/2
	Libby Owen Ford Gl	64 1/2
	Liggett & Myers	41
	Lockheed Aircraft	41
	Loews Theaters	19 1/2
	Lorillard & Company	18 1/2
	Louisville & Nashville	81 1/2
	Magnavox Radio	43 1/2
	Montgomery Ward	46 1/2
	Motorola Radio	46 1/2
	Murray Corporation	27 1/2
	National Biscuit	39
	National Cash Register	66 1/2
	National Dairy Product	33 1/2
	National Distillers	25 1/2
	National Lead	128 1/2
	New York Central	33 1/2
	Norfolk & West	33 1/2
	Northern American Avia	29 1/2
	Northern Pacific	48
	Ohio Oil Company	41 1/2
	Pacific Gas & Elec	50 1/2
	Pacific Mills	23
	Paramount Pictures	34 1/2
	Penney J. C. Co	79
	Pennsylvania RR	20 1/2
	Pepsi-Cola	22 1/2
	Philo Corporation	50 1/2
	Phillips Petroleum	81 1/2
	Pittsburgh Pl G I	82 1/2
	Pullman Company	63
	Pure Oil Co.	45 1/2
	Republic Corporation	38 1/2
	Republic Steel	55 1/2
	Reynolds Tob B	55 1/2
	Seaboard Air RR	33 1/2
	Sears Roebuck	43 1/2
	Southern Pacific	42
	Southern Railway	42
	Sperry Corp	23
	Standard Oil Calif	57 1/2
	Standard Oil Ind	53 1/2
	Standard Oil N.J.	67 1/2
	Stevens, J.P.Co	22 1/2
	Sylvania Elec Prod	49 1/2
	Texas Company	73
	Tex Gulf Products	45 1/2
	Texas Gulf Sulphur	28 1/2
	Trexon Corporation	14 1/2
	Trans & Western Air	14
	Union Carbide	123 1/2
	United Pacific	29 1/2
	United Airlines	27 1/2
	United Aircraft	67 1/2
	United Corporation	7 1/2
	United Fruit	45 1/2
	United States Rubber	45 1/2
	U. S. Smelting & Ref	53
	United States Steel	68 1/2
	Vanadium Corporation	43 1/2
	Vick Chemical	48
	Virginia-Caro Chemical	21 1/2
	Virginia Elec & Pow	25 1/2
	West Auto Supp	15 1/2
	West Auto Supp	15 1/2
	West Maryland	78
	Western Union	18 1/2
	Westinghouse Elec	65 1/2
	Winn-Dixie	23 1/2

Haitian Troops, Police Maintain Armed Guard

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti's military junta deployed troops and police with orders to shoot today in reply to threats by followers of ousted President Daniel Fignole to burn down Port au Prince.

Worker and peasant followers of Fignole vowed to use the torch unless Fignole is returned from exile in New York. Workers began evacuating their homes near the harbor yesterday as they made the threat.

The three-man junta refused to consider the demand for Fignole's return. It countered with orders to shoot arsonists on the spot and to arrest any shop owners who tried to close down in protest against Fignole's exile and military rule.

The junta issued a decree forbidding any general strike. It also curbed electioneering by the eight remaining presidential candidates by banning political broadcasts.

The ruling military group warned it would enforce operation of essential services and food supply lines. Commercial air

Will Head Key Club Delegates

FARMVILLE — James Henry Bundy of Farmville will head a large delegation of Key Club members from North and South Carolina at the Key Club International Convention in Washington, D. C., June 30 through July 3.

Bundy was recently elected governor of the Carolinas District of the Key Club International. He will play an active role in the convention in that he will serve on the International Nominating Committee and will be assistant sergeant-at-arms. He has also been selected to give the invocation at the July 3 morning session of the convention.

Bundy is an active participant in student activities in Farmville High School and was selected to attend Boy's State this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Bundy.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH

Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed of 16 cases in Municipal Recorder's Court Monday, and the charges ranged from plain drunk in public to wife-beating and driving drunk and assault with a deadly weapon.

Robert L. Williamson, Negro, 408-B 15th Street, was given six months on the roads, suspended on payment of costs and $40 medical bill. For assault with intent to kill, the court gave Williamson 18 months on the roads.

Milton B. Anderson, 2021 Chestnut Street, driving drunk, 60 days, suspended on payment of $100 and costs. The judgment also provides that he is not to operate a motor vehicle for 12 months and recommend that his driver's license be revoked for 12 months.

Clement M. Jones, 315 E. 14th Street, paid costs for failure to comply with restriction of operator's license.

Possession of non-tax-paid liquor for purpose of sale: Jasper Hawkins, Negro, 1220 Battle St., six months on the roads. George Willoughby, Negro, 1509-A W. Fifth Street, 1200-A W. Fifth Street, 30 days on road, costs. Heber Williams, Negro, 408-B W. 15th Street, costs. Claude Brown, Negro, Fleming St., failed to answer and an instant capias was issued for him.

James E. Corey, Negro, 620 Pitt Street, assault on a female, 30 days in jail, suspended on condition that he will not harm or molest Rosa Jones for two years and pay $25 costs. The case charging drunkenness was combined with the first case.

Jasper Hawkins, Negro, was found not guilty of non-support.

Two Carolinians Killed In Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered thunder storms of fierce intensity struck the Carolinas yesterday. Lightning killed two persons and injured four.

A 20-minute storm dumped an inch and a quarter of rain on Charlotte, flooded streets and knocked down trees.

Near Greenville, S. C., a bolt of lightning killed 14-year-old William Leo King and injured his 12-year-old brother, Donnie.

Near Winston-Salem, lightning killed Otis Caldwell, 20, of Newberry, S. C., as he scurried for shelter while working on a highway construction job. The bolt injured George B. Caldwell, 19, Willie H. Goodwin, 23, and Hasker Gray, 19, all of Newberry.

Western North Carolina reported heavy rainfall in scattered areas, especially Rutherford and McDowell counties, but no flooding or washouts.

The lightning struck the King boys as they unloaded furniture at their home in the Bellevue community near Travelers Rest. Lightning also destroyed the home of Marshall Culbertson near Moonville on U.S. 25 north of Greenville, S. C.

Elsewhere in the Greenville area, the storm caused widespread power failures. Accompanying rain damaged thousands of dollars worth of furniture in a store being reworked by the owner said.

The Charlotte storm made "a lake" of a city park, sent creeks surging over their banks, made geyers out of storm drains and set off burglar alarms across the town. Some areas recorded quarter-inch hail. Police said cars stalled in the middle of the streets.

She Ended The Romance He Slashed Her Throat

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The adopted teen-age son of a university professor told police he slashed his sweetheart's throat last night because she ended their romance.

Sandra Jean Maywald, 17, died seconds after the attack. Her neck body, almost decapitated by deep knife wounds, was found in the front bedroom of her home, partially covered by a bedspread.

Homicide Lt. W. C. Doss said Robert Edward Freeman, also 17, a University of Houston science student, telephoned police headquarters and told him: "I have just killed my girl friend Sandy. Please send me some help. I'm afraid of the neighbors."

Doss said he and Detective John Thornton found the boy sitting on a couch in the living room when they arrived, wearing blood stained blue jeans and T-shirt. He handed them a bone-handled pocket knife and showed them the body.

Freeman was charged with murder and jailed after making a written statement admitting the slaying.

"This is not our boy," cried Dr. L. E. Freeman, when informed of the youth's confession. "He is not reacting like our boy." Dr. Freeman, professor of secondary education at the University of Houston, said he and his wife adopted Robert, their only child, when he was a year old.

"He has been everything you wanted in a son," Mrs. Freeman sobbed later as they waited for a brief reunion with the youth at the police station. "He has had everything he needed. Sometimes things he did not need."

Resident Judge Of 25th District Is Appointed

RALEIGH (AP)—Superior Court Judge J. C. Rudisill of Newton will be succeeded by James C. Farthing of Lenoir as resident judge of the 25th Judicial District.

State Rep. B. T. Falls Jr. of Shelby will follow Farthing as solicitor for the 16th Solicitorial District. Falls was House Finance chairman in the recent Legislature and a stalwart supporter of Gov. Hodges' legislative program.

Gov. Hodges announced yesterday the appointment of Farthing and Falls for terms to run until the 1958 general election. Judge Rudisill has requested disability retirement after serving on the bench as regular or special judge for more than nine years.

Farthing is a native of Lenoir and a graduate of Lenoir Rhyne College and the University of North Carolina. He has held the solicitorial post since 1946.

Falls has practiced law in his native Shelby since graduating from Wake Forest College in 1939. He has represented Cleveland County in the House for six terms.

Last Rites Set For Mrs. George Venters

Mrs. Maggie D. Venters, 79, widow of George W. Venters Sr., died at her home near Calico Crossroads Tuesday at 1:45 a.m. following a month of critical illness.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. at Chapman's Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. Ellis Bedworth. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. The body will be taken to the church one hour prior to the time of service from the Wilkerson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Venters, daughter of the late John and Winnie Butler Buck, was born in Craven county and reared in Coffee County, Ga. She was married to Mr. Venters in 1897 and they moved to Pitt County in 1897 in the Calico community. Mr. Venters died in 1954. Mrs. Venters was a member of Chapman's Methodist Church and a charter member of the W.S.C.S.

Surviving are three sons, Claude E. Venters of Bath, E. A. Venters Jr. of Calico Crossroads; a daughter, Mrs. Annie V. Lassiter of Calico Crossroads; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Daniels of Alabama, Ga., and Mrs. Beatrice Purvis of Waycross, Ga.

Red China's Mao Concedes Contradictions In Regime

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today made public the text of Mao Tse-tung's hitherto secret speech admitting "certain contradictions exist between the government and the masses" in Communist society.

Peiping radio broadcast the 17,000-word statement which the Chinese Communist boss made Feb. 27 to the 11th enlarged session of the Supreme State Conference.

Bits and pieces of this speech, first reported outside China by Polish Communists in May, caused a sensation because Mao appeared to be placing himself in ideological conflict with the Soviet leadership.

However, the text indicates the conflicts were ones of degree, taking into consideration special Chinese problems and circumstances. The speech gave strong and important support to the Soviet Union in an assessment of the Hungarian revolution in ideological conflict with the Soviet leadership.

Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist boss, contends no contradictions exist between the government and the masses in the U.S.S.R. Mao says contradictions, meaning conflicts of aims and viewpoints among various strata of Chinese society, exist "within the ranks of the people" and are part of the continuing "class struggle" which every "Socialist state" must go through before achieving the ultimate goal of communism.

No Red state, including the Soviet Union, claims to be close to achievement of communism yet. Mao declared that any attempt to deal with such contradictions by "coercive measures will not only be ineffective but harmful."

"We cannot abolish religion by administration orders, nor can we force people not to believe in it," he said. "We cannot compel people to give up idealism, no more than we can force them to believe in marxism. In settling matters of controversial issues among the people, we can only use democratic methods, methods of discussion, of criticism, and not coercion nor high handed methods."

Mao differentiated between two different types of contradictions. "Never has our country been as united as it is today," he said. "Now we see before us an ever brighter future. However, this does not mean that there are no longer any contradictions in our party."

"It would be naive to think there are no more contradictions. To do so would be to fly in the face of objective reality. We are confronted by two types of social contradictions — contradictions between ourselves and the enemy and contradictions among the people. These two types of contradictions are totally different in nature."

"If we are to have a correct understanding of these two different types of contradictions, we must, first of all, make clear what is meant by 'the people' and what is meant by 'the enemy.'"

Mao said the terms had different meanings in different countries and in different historical periods. During China's war against Japan, for example, "all those classes, strata and social groups which opposed Japanese aggression could be described as belonging to the category of the people while the 'Japanese imperialists' and pro-Japanese elements among the Chinese were the enemy."

During the Chinese civil war which followed, Mao continued, "the United States imperialists and their henchmen — the capitalists and landlords and the Kuomintang (Chiang Kai-shek Nationalist) reactionaries — were the enemies of the people."

Mao said, "Contradictions among the working people are nonantagonistic," a phrase apparently meaning he believes such differences will not blow up into anti-Communist revolutionary movements.

"Contradictions among the people have always existed," he continued. "But their content differs in each period of the revolution and during the building of socialism."

He said that in present-day China contradictions among the people include the following: "Contradictions within the working class, contradictions within the peasantry, contradictions within the intelligentsia, contradictions between the working class and the peasantry, contradictions between the working class and peasantry on the one hand and the intelligentsia on the other, contradictions between the working class and other sections of the working people on the one hand and the national bourgeoisie on the other, contradictions within the national bourgeoisie, and so forth."

SOUTH 11 Drive - In Theatre Ends Tonight

Wednesday-Thursday • First Run!

The Greatest DOUBLE HORROR SHOW of all!

ATTACK OF THE CRAB MONSTERS

NOT OF THIS EARTH

starring Paul BIRCH • Beverly GARLAND

Produced & Directed by Roger Corman - An Allied Artists Picture

starring Richard GARLAND • Pamela DUNCAN

Produced & Directed by Roger Corman - An Allied Artists Picture

new low price only $199.95

SPECIAL ONE-TON

Thinline

AIR CONDITIONER with BIG BTU CAPACITY

NO UNSIGHTLY OVERHANG—INSIDE OR OUT! ONLY 16 1/2 IN. THIN!

9,000 BTU'S! THIS ONE-TON UNIT HAS BIG CAPACITY. COMPARE!

Now you can COOL OFF without the major operation of installing a big, unattractive unit. The new G-E Thinline one-ton Air Conditioner—only a fraction over 16" thin—delivers enough fresh, clean, dry, cool air to keep a BIG room comfortable all summer long!

Installs easily at the top or bottom of regular sash windows, in casement windows or through the wall. Its trim, slim size and shape won't disturb furniture arrangements or create an unsightly appearance on the outside.

The G-E Thinline Air Conditioner COOLS—CLEANS—CHANGES—DRIES room air with new simplified controls!

*Cooling capacity tested and rated in compliance with ARI (Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute) Standard 119-56 and stated in BTU'S (British Thermal Units).

V. A. MERRITT & SONS

Just Across The Street From Armory

207 E. Street Phone 3736

Electric Fans

If you have ever needed a electric fan—you need it now.

- Window Exhaust Fans
- Oscillating Table Fans
- Floor Fans

In fact, all types of electric fans and priced right, too.

J. A. Collins & Son

GREENVILLE AUBORA

Try us First!

DIAL 4010

Mouse Bit Hand Of Its Rescuer

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Susan Gaines, 13, rescued a field mouse from a cat. But while she was lecturing the cat, the ungrateful mouse bit her finger.

Susan's doctor gave her a tetanus injection and said the mouse would have to be impounded two weeks at the Humane Society shelter to see whether it is rabid.

Woolworth & Co. 42 1/2
Zenith Radio 114
Approx. sales to 1 p.m. 1,450,000.

MYERS Theatre Ayden

Today—Wednesday Matinee 3:30—Nite 7 & 9

THE DAY THAT ENGULFED THE WORLD IN TERROR!

THE DEADLY MANUS

ANDY GRIFFITH in a FACE in the Crowd

Today and Wednesday North Carolina's Own

Features at 12:40-2:45 4:55-7:00-9:10

Colored News

The Daily Vacation Bible School held at Mount Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church last week had an enrollment of 215 children. The theme was "Why Walk Away?"

Rev. F. E. Gardner was supervisor and Rev. S. Hemby was guest speaker. The art and crafts work done by the children was on display on Friday. Refreshments were served the children during the week.

The Modernettes Social Club will meet tonight at 8:30 at the home of Mrs. Louise Hardy, 1601 West Fifth Street.

Household of Ruth No. 310 will meet at Pythian Hall on Albemarle Ave. tonight at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is to be considered.

Card of Thanks

Mr. P. W. Moore, 503 Contentnea St., wishes to thank friends for their thoughtfulness of him during his recent illness.

Usher Board No. 2 of York Memorial Church will meet at the church Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Quarterly meeting services will be held at Holy Temple Church, Route 6, Greenville, next Sunday at 11 a.m. The Fire Burners of Washington, D. C., the Fire Travelers, Zion Travelers and other groups will participate in a song service at 5 p.m. The public is invited.

The members of Warren's Chapel will meet Wednesday night at 7:30. Business of importance will come up for consideration. Pastor Rev. E. L. Hardy and church officials will be present.

Rev. E. W. Wooten of New Bern is holding revival services at Holy Trinity Church on Douglas Ave. each night this week at 7:30. The public is invited.

The Great Story of The Little Leaguers

Tom Ewells a RIOT!

...the star of "Seven Year Itch" is back again!

M.G.M. Presents THE GREAT AMERICAN PASTIME

Meadowbrook