

Indicted As Spy, American Claims Asylum In France

PARIS (AP)—Russian-born George Zlatovsk, indicted in New York on a charge of spying for the Soviet Union, declared today France has granted political asylum to him and his wife Jane. A government spokesman denied it.

The spokesman, a Foreign Ministry official, said the question of political asylum would come up only if and when the United States formally asks extradition of the couple.

The United States has not yet presented such a request, though official moves are under way. The case was being discussed in both the U. S. Embassy and the French Foreign Ministry. The question is complicated because extradition also would involve the French Justice and Interior ministries.

Four To Eight Weeks Of Civil Rights Debate Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) told President Eisenhower today the current Senate debate on civil rights legislation may continue four to eight weeks and possibly longer.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told newsmen Eisenhower is "fully informed regarding the implications" of such lengthy debate with respect to possibility of congressional action at this session on other administration bills.

Knowland said there certainly will be Senate action on some other legislation after conclusion of the civil rights debate. But he added it also is likely that some administration measures may have to be put on the shelf in Congress until next year.

Because Knowland might be able to summon that many among Republicans and Northern Democrats who are supporting the bill, Southerners are reluctant to make a test on the preliminary issue.

Closely Quiz Candidates For Kasper Jury

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Defense attorneys asked searching questions today about the "sociological and political science teachings" at the University of Tennessee in examining a woman candidate for jury in contempt trial of 15 Tennesseans and John Kasper, Northern segregationist.

Issue Of Office Space Resolved

A feud, which at one time threatened removal of Pitt County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices from Greenville, has died quietly.

The feud was ended last week when State ASC officials agreed to vacate three first-floor rooms in the Old Hospital Building to permit county Soil Conservation Service offices to move from the second floor. ASC reached the agreement after offices for Greenville City Schools were moved from the Old Hospital to new quarters at 431 West Fifth Street and ASC was told by the county that it could move into the area vacated by the schools.

An autopsy was performed last night on the body of Mattie Bell Phillips, Negro, found along a wooded path near Winterville yesterday morning.

Hint Party Expulsion For 3 Ousted Russian Leaders

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press hinted strongly today the way is being cleared to expel V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich from the Soviet Communist party.

The government newspaper Izvestia listed various degrees of punishment which can be invoked against party members who plot against the party's "monolithic unity."

Up to now the party press has been referring to the three and former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, demoted along with them, as "comrades." This indicated that however low they had fallen, they still were in the party ranks.

Committee OKs Natural Gas Bill By Tight Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Commerce Committee today approved the controversial natural gas bill by a tight 15-13 vote.

The bill by Committee Chairman Harris (D-Ark) is designed to free natural gas producers from utility type regulation by the federal government. It now is slated to go to the House Rules Committee, where further opposition is expected.

Pitt Red Cross Joins In Audrey Relief Plea

The Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross had joined the national organization in an appeal for funds to aid victims of Hurricane Audrey.

Chapter President Leo W. Jenkins today asked people of Greenville and Pitt County to participate in a special disaster fund campaign to aid victims of the hurricane. Contributions should be sent to the American Red Cross, Pitt County Chapter, Box 586, Greenville.

More Than 150 Farmers See Projects In Tobacco Research

More than 150 farmers from four tobacco-producing counties viewed the work of the Lower Coastal Plain Tobacco Research Station located just south of Greenville this morning.

The tour of the state experiment farm was the first of two identical programs being held today for farmers from various counties. The tour this morning was for Pitt, Jones, Lenoir and Beaufort Counties. After lunch tobacco growers from Greene, Washington, Craven, Martin and Pamlico Counties gathered at the Experiment Station.

They were then broken down into four groups for the morning tour. During the morning the farmers saw: 1. official variety tests being conducted on the farm; 2. work and study in tobacco research control; 3. height of topping experiments; 4. fertilizer rates experiments; 5. quality of plant at transplanting time experiments.

Bermudas Not Rage In Balboa

By ANNE SINGLETON Reflector Women's Editor "Teen-agers in Greenville and the Canal Zone are very similar, except blue jeans are still more popular there than Bermudas," explains Nancy and Linda Clarke. Born in the Canal Zone, the girls are American citizens. Their father, Jack Clarke, who works for the United States Government in Balboa, was born in the Canal Zone. Mrs. Clarke is a native of Rocky Mount. Since arriving in Greenville the latter part of May the girls and their parents have spent the majority of their time visiting their mother's brothers and sisters—Mrs. Lee Schmidt, Mrs. Ann De La Mater, Frances Worsley, and Jimmy Worsley. They attend a United States Government school in Balboa which is basically the same as our schools except that Spanish is taught beginning with the first grade and French and Latin are a part of the high school curriculum.

NANCY and LINDA CLARKE . . . born and reared in Canal Zone.

More Holidays Nancy mentions, "Our school does have more holidays than schools in the states as we observe all of the main Spanish, American, Columbia, and Panama celebrations."

Football, baseball, swimming, softball and other sports are as common there as here. Fifteen-year-old Nancy hopes to attend East Carolina College after she graduates from high school. She will be a junior this year. Linda, who is 13 years old, has not yet made any plans about college.

Both of the girls were very impressed with the Teen-Age Club in Greenville and mentioned that a similar one is being planned in Balboa.

They have also enjoyed their dates here being able to drive, for in the Canal Zone no one can obtain a driver's license until they are 18 years of age or unless they are a senior in high school.

Shopping in Balboa is limited almost completely to the Commissary, so the numerous stores in Greenville have been a treat in and attend sporting events. for the family.

Are Differences Young people in the Canal Zone enjoy a variety of dancing from square dancing to intricate Spanish numbers.

Nancy reflects that, "They do the cha-cha different here than we do . . . all we do is mostly a jump step."

"There are more things to do at home than in Greenville," Linda adds. She explained that in Balboa the teen-agers have roller skating facilities, attend school dances and movies, and participate

Beard-O'Neal Vows Said In Presbyterian Church

SCRANTON, Pa.—Miss Shirley Jane O'Neal, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter R. O'Neal, 442 Harrison Ave., became the bride of Dr. N. Shelley Beard II, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Shelley Beard, Greenville, N. C., June 29 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at First Presbyterian Church, Clarks Summit.

The Rev. George Andrews, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with palms and floral arrangements of white gladioli. Mrs. Floyd Hallock was organist and Miss Janet Michel, vocalist. Mrs. Hallock presented a half hour organ recital of sacred classical music before the ceremony, representing the masters: Bach, Handel and Neustadt. "O Perfect Love" immediately preceded the procession.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white nylon gown of nylon chiffon and Chantilly lace over taffeta designed with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace with shirred chiffon forming the scoop neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt, accented with two set-in bands of Chantilly lace, cascaded in a wide chapel sweep. She wore matching short mitts of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a cap of lace edged with tulle petals and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink chiffon roses and stephanotis, entwined with white Maline and tied with Heart's Delight ribbon.

Mrs. Thomas Davis Jr., Clarks Summit, aunt of the bride, matron of honor, wore a white length gown of orchid taffeta designed on princess lines with matching lace at the neckline and cap sleeves and large bow with streamers at the middle back of the neckline. She wore a matching hat of braided horsehair with chapel veil.

Mrs. John Fisher, Nutley, N. J.; Miss Lee Kelley, Pottsville; Miss Sally Beard, Greenville, N. C.; Miss Ann Love, Freehold, were bridesmaids. They were attired in gowns similar to the matron of honor's, two of the attendants wearing pink and two, orchid. They carried colonial bouquets of hybrid delphinium flowerettes and pink sweetheart roses, with foundations of lilac maline tied with lilac ribbon, and two bouquets with foundations of pink maline and tied with pink ribbon.

Mr. Beard was his son's best man. Ushers were William J. Davis, Media, uncle of the bride; Dr. David Williams, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Eric Clark, Charlotte, N. C.; Dr. Stewart Shippey, Rock Hill, S. C. A reception was held at the Century Club immediately following the ceremony. White flowers with a touch of pink decorated the mantel and palms banked the receiving area.

The bride's mother chose a pink lace gown designed on princess lines, flare skirt and matching accessories and a corsage of bluish pink carnations.

Mrs. Beard, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a gown of aqua Venice lace, matching accessories and a corsage of Orange Delight roses.

The couple left on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a pastel blue shantung sheath with matching duster, white accessories and white orchid corsage. They will reside in Cleveland, Ohio, where Dr. Beard will begin a residency at Western Reserve Hospital.

The bride, a graduate of University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science in Nursing, is employed by the Visiting Nurse Society of Philadelphia.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, School of Medicine, interned at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. He will assume the residency at Western Reserve Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, this month.

Club To Disband Until September

ROBERSONVILLE—The Homemakers' Club met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ferd Taylor near Robersonville.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Harvey Roberson.

Useful household hints were given in response to the roll call by the secretary, Mrs. Mack Wynne. Mrs. C. M. Hurst Sr. gave the financial report. The members voted to disband until September 5 when Mrs. Wynne will entertain. During the social hour several games were played with prizes being presented to the winners.

The hostess served a salad course to the members and one guest, Miss Gladys Bailey.

Approximately 40,000 foreign students representing 136 countries came to United States schools for study during the 1956-57 year.

Farmville High Graduates Wed

FARMVILLE—Miss Edna Jean Owens and Thomas Ray Allen were united in marriage June 30 at the Farmville Baptist Church in a candlelight ceremony with the Rev. Earl W. Holmes, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Owens of Farmville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Melton Allen of Farmville.

Prior to the ceremony, nuptial music was presented by Mrs. A. T. Joyner, organist, and Miss Henri Pearl Johnson, vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length dress of powder blue nylon lace over taffeta. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a heart-shaped hat of tulle and taffeta. She carried a white prayer book and a white orchid.

Miss Joanne Owens attended her sister as maid of honor. Her street length dress was shell pink with a portrait neckline. She carried a cascade of pink carnations and red roses.

Robert F. Harper of Farmville was best man. Ushers were Charles A. Mazingo and Horace R. Allen, uncles of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Owens wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and an orchid. Mrs. Allen, mother of the bridegroom, wore a lavender ensemble and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Farmville High School. At present she is employed by the Paramount Theatre.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Farmville High School and is associated with his father in business at Farmville.

After a wedding trip along the Carolina coast, the couple will be at home at 110 Jones St. in Farmville.

For travel the bride wore a powder blue linen sheath with white accessories and the orchid lifted from her prayer book.

Be Careful Of Baby On Beach

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many a mother makes a martyr of the baby she takes to the beach for his health.

He may soak up the vitamin D but become so burned in the process that medical treatment is required. Sand gets in the little fellow's eyes and ears. He is dunked choking and sputtering into the surf by the mother who wants him to "like the water."

The beach or mountains may be enjoyed by a little tot without baking him alive. How some youngsters escape having their heads shrunk after a hatless day in the broiling sun seems to be a medical marvel.

Equip yourself with beach accessories to keep the little fellow happy. Be prepared for every emergency. Even if the day is sweltering, take along a brimmed hat or cap, long sleeved shirt, long pants and a sweater in your beach bag so that baby can be covered after being exposed to the sun for a time. Take along sun-tan lotion, sunburn aid (in case of a burn), insect repellent to ward off bugs, witch hazel to cool off a hot little body, medicated powder to brush over baby after he has had a dip in the water or a shower.

Many mothers are too lazy even to take a diaper change for baby to the beach. They don't like the idea of carrying an extra bag to put used diapers in, so often a little tot will be left wearing his diaper for so long that his skin will chafe.

There is no excuse for this in this age of the traveling baby. There are disposable diapers available, and new ones in pink or blue with a plastic film back for dampness insurance, require no overpants. The cotton lining is medicated against diaper rash. You use these once and chuck them—the secret of easy diaper change for the summer baby, in particular. These diapers are available in a convenient pack of eight that may be carried easily in the car to vacationland or a day's outing.

It's a good idea to take a large beach towel, beach-back rest and parasol with you to the beach for baby's comfort. The man of the family will surely complain that you are loading him down with a lot of excess paraphernalia. If he does, remind him to look at his fishing tackle.

There is no point in going to the beach to be miserable. You may just as well be comfortable.

With Farm Women

(By VIRGINIA M. NANCE)
(Items this week on: Chowan, Richmond, Caldwell, Halifax and Wake counties.)

DAIRY MONTH
Home Demonstration club women observed "June Dairy Month" in a big way, according to reports from Mairied Morris, Chowan County home agent.

When the home demonstration clubs met, each hostess served some type of dairy product. Miss Morris explained that when the time came for refreshments to be served, the women wore fancy red and white "bibs" bearing the "June Dairy Month" slogan. Many said it had been a long time since they'd worn bibs. To further emphasize dairy foods, 4-H club girls gave dairy foods demonstrations at the club meetings.

RESULTS WITH SEWING
Mrs. Ralph Meacham of the Mount Pleasant community in Richmond County really makes her sewing knowledge pay off, according to Martha B. Adams, assistant home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Adams says that Mrs. Meacham has been making all the clothes for her family for years—including her husband's. For several years she's even been making his trousers. To make them look more professional, she ripped up an old pair that were a good fit and used them as a pattern.

Mr. Meacham hopes Mrs. Meacham can make all his trousers—and she thinks trousers are easier to make than shirts.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN
Caldwell County 4-H Club County Council officers have been launching a clean-up campaign recently, according to reports from June C. Simpson, assistant home agent.

Miss Simpson explained that a window display is being put in a local store window; permanent road signs are being placed along the highways to remind motorists to keep roadsides clean. One of the most interesting things the youths are doing is that they're distributing 3,000 paper bags with this inscription, "Don't be a litter bug—put your litter in this bag."

CANCER DRIVE
Home Demonstration Club women and leaders in Halifax County helped with a cancer drive recently, reports Estelle E. White, home agent.

Mrs. White reports that club women collected and turned in over $350 to the crusade for the conquerer of the dread disease.

Members are availing themselves of the opportunity to attend cancer diagnostic clinics in Rocky Mount. There's not a week that passes but that a group from a Halifax County club is taking advantage of the service, says Mrs. White.

FAMILY GARDEN
Mrs. Ruth Hodge, Rolesville community, has made a good start on trying to cut down on her family food expense this year, according to Mrs. Mary B. Graham, Wake County Negro assistant home agent.

Mrs. Hodge says a one acre garden was planned early in the spring with the whole family helping to get it off to a good start. "This is the first time in years," she explained, "that I've had a garden with twelve different vegetables planted at the same time." Mrs. Hodge has already placed more than 67 quarts of squash, snap beans, pickles, and corn on her canning shelves this summer—and expects to add many more.

Belted And Bloused Silhouette

(Editor's Note: This is the second of five articles on the fall fashion showings this week in New York.)

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A red, white and blue plaid velvet dinner costume with shoes to match was the show today at Jane Derby's preview of fall fashions, on the first day of a crowded week of showings for the nation's fashion press.

The colorful and dramatic gown climaxed a showing of opulent dressess and suits designed for a prosperous and luxury-loving public.

Sensational is the only word for the Derby evening collection, which uses color with the abandon of a Fourth of July fireworks display, playing up shocker colors and brilliant metallics, along with unusual prints such as bold floral printed chiffons.

Daytime suits and costumes here are fur-bearing, slender and easy of fit. If the suits aren't fur-trimmed they are satin-trimmed, and sometimes both fur and satin are used for a luxury touch, such as a mink-collared suit tied with a big brown satin bow.

The belted and bloused silhouette is the pet of the Nettie Rosenstein collection, in marked contrast with the loose, unfitted lines predominant in most other showings. Mrs. Rosenstein likes a neat waistline, and although she doesn't cinch it, she marks it with a belt—wide or contoured but definitely shaping the silhouette.

The original advocate of the "little black dress," this designer again shows many sleek and sexy black outfits, notable among which is a long, slithery black crepe dinner dress with long sleeves and lowcut back, slit in front and looking like a suitable gown for a femme fatale.

Evening gowns here are luxurious and dramatic, the most effective being slender, draped and bearing trains.

Work To Begin On Christian Education Bldg.

FARMVILLE—The old parsonage of the Christian Church on South Main Street bought by Alex Allen has been moved and the ground-breaking ceremonies will take place Sunday morning, July 14, during the morning worship hour.

The new two story educational building will be connected with the present structure with an arcade and will have a fellowship hall, kitchen and Sunday school classrooms for young married people and for three children's classes. Four additional quarters for classes will be provided on the second floor.

Rev. Z. B. T. Cox and members of his congregation have been planning the building for more than a year.

George Windham, local builder and an active member of the congregation, will supervise the construction.

Mr. W. Kemp is a patient at Veterans Hospital, Durham.

Martha Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holmes, is attending summer session at the University of Georgia.

Club Studies Proper Home Cleaning Habits

Miss Margaret Stevens gave the demonstration when the Red Banks Home Demonstration Club met for its July meeting in the Community Building.

Her subject was "How to Make Housecleaning Easy." She stressed the fact that equipment should be assembled properly before starting to clean.

Mrs. E. H. Boyd, vice president, presided over the meeting due to the absence of the president. She called the meeting to order and the song "Dixie" was sung.

Devotion was given by Mrs. E. H. Boyd and Mrs. E. L. Edwards led the group in prayer.

Reports were heard from the Home Garden leader, Mrs. Worth Hardie, Foods and Nutrition leader, Mrs. L. W. Cherry, and health leader, Mrs. S. B. Tucker.

Miss Stevens announced Farm and Home Week. She urged the members to attend this meeting. Members repeated the Club Collect after which Mrs. H. R. Rogers and Mrs. Ola Kittrell served refreshments.

Seventeen members were present for the afternoon.

Nasser Just Hastened Their Day

There will always be some question as to whether seizure of the Suez Canal by Egypt's Abiul Nasser marked the beginning of the end for that waterway. Certain it is, however, that eventually giant oil tankers would eventually have come on the scene to herald the demise of Suez as a vital link in global commerce.

It is quite probable that Nasser hastened the day of the super-tanker. No nation relying heavily on fuel from the Middle East would risk their survival to the whims of a dictator.

So now the ocean-going behemoths are on the way.

In this country alone, roughly 80 tankers of the 40,000-ton class have been contracted for, several 60,000-tonners and a few larger are also in the works. A 65,000-ton carrier is being laid down soon and three 100,000-tonners are in the planning stage.

(When builders talk of "tons" in tankers, they refer to the number of long tons of cargo, 2,240 pounds each, the tanker can carry.)

The standard tank ship of World War II was of 16,000-ton capacity.

An incentive greater than the Nasser question-mark is behind the trend to larger oil carriers; the economic facts of reduced oil transportation costs from the Middle East to the U. S. East Coast is also evident.

Highway Money For N. Carolina

By LYNN NISBET

HIGHWAY BUDGET — Although the 1957-59 budget of $143 million for the Highway Department is the biggest in the history of North Carolina, some $83 million more than that for the past biennium, it leaves very little more unencumbered money to put into the construction and maintenance of public roads.

Almost one third of the total, or $36 million, will come from the Federal government, and $44 million of that is earmarked for inter-state system. Increased Federal allocations account for most of the $83 million boost in highway revenue.

Statutory allocations for aid to municipalities, debt service, support of prisons, the motor vehicles department, retirement and other non-roadbuilding functions take $82 million. That leaves for what might be termed "regular highway operations" $331 million, or $165-166 million a year.

Discussing this budget with newsmen the other day W.F. Babcock, director of highways, explained that there are some uncertainties. The exact amount of carry-over cannot be determined until the books for last year are closed late this month. The effect of 1957 legislation reducing bus taxes and increasing refunds to non-highway users, counties and municipalities is by no means certain. Estimates range from three quarters of a million to a million and half dollars a year. Effect of the compulsory insurance law on automobile registration and highway use is problematical. Some loss in revenue is anticipated. Babcock voiced the opinion that gains and losses would change the exact figures but there will be approximately $165 million a year for road work. (A $2 million variance would represent less than one-half of one percent of the total budget.)

SECONDARY — The budget does not separate the allocations for construction or for betterments as between primary and secondary roads. On the item of maintenance it allots $51 million for secondary and $22 million for primary. It was indicated that a large part of the $48 allotted for betterment would be spent on secondary roads, while most of the $192 million for construction would be on the primary system.

W.H. Rogers, chief engineer, gave some definitions. The primary system consists of all roads bearing State or Federal route numbers. Secondary roads are all the others, whether paved or not—and some of them are paved almost to primary highway standards. The distinction between betterment and maintenance is a bit more difficult to make. Briefly stated, maintenance consists in repairing broken pavement and bridges, grading up unpaved roads, cleaning ditches. If the pavement or the bridges are widened, the right of way relocated, the project comes under the head of betterments. These are engineering and budgetary distinctions, of no great concern to the public.

The public is greatly concerned about the policy of locating and improving secondary roads. Director Babcock declined to discuss policy, except to say that for the next three months funds for secondary roads would be handled as they have been in the past. The policy-making Highway Commission is expected to consider this matter at its August meeting and adopt rules and regulations for the future conforming to the new law. Opinion prevails that while there will be a different in technical procedure, there will be no material change in the basic formula which has been practiced for years with respect to secondary roads.

SCHOOL LAW — The pupil assignment act of the 1955 Legislature is headed for a court test in a Hyde county case which in no way involves the question of racial segregation. The problem is too involved to state in a few words.

Acting under authority of the law as it was interpreted, the Hyde county board of education assigned the pupils who have been attending the Engelhard school to a proposed consolidated school at Swan Quarter. On basis of that assignment and formal request from the Hyde county board the State Board of Education assigned teachers to Swan Quarter, contingent upon the pupils showing up there for school.

The State board, however, declined to approve State funds for a consolidated school building at Swan Quarter until further compliance by the county with building fund regulations. Delegations from Swan Quarter and Engelhard, represented by legal counsel, have appeared before the State board. The State board has taken the position that under the 1955 act it has no authority over pupil assignment or school consolidation. Its sole function is to provide teachers for the pupils, wherever they are. If the pupils do not go to Swan Quarter the teachers will be re-allotted. But—if the county board does not assign pupils to Engelhard the State board cannot allot teachers to that school, or pay for buses to transport unassigned pupils.

Privately some members of the State board have said they did not think the 1955 assignment act contemplated its use to force consolidation. But they also said there are legal points requiring judicial determination. So the case is headed for the courts, and there is no remote hope it can be adjudicated in time to relieve conditions for the upcoming school terms.

Sailing around the Cape of Good Hope, because their loaded drafts are too big for the canal, super-tankers will cut oil transportation costs almost in half.

Via Suez, the voyage measures 8,335 miles; around the Cape, 12,507 miles. The larger cargo's cost will be reduced by over 40%, depending on the size of the vessels.

These ocean-going giants will be the natural result of figuring by economic statisticians. Even larger vessels will probably be planned. But there is more than idle speculation in crediting the Egyptian seizure with hastening their day. Then Suez will be a largely idle ditch.

Alive Today Because They Exercised Care

At least 100 Americans the National Safety Council expected to be dead today are alive because drivers took a little more care than usual on the highways over the recent holiday week-end.

The staggering highway death toll of 423 during the holiday period should be sufficient to shock every driver. The fact that the toll, high as it was remained below the predicted casualty rate should bring a prayer of thanks from every American family.

Reports of highway fatalities from across the nation suggests that drivers exercised more caution during this holiday period than has been the case in the past. It also points to the supposition that American motorists could do a great deal more to keep down the terrible traffic toll if they were mind to do so. It points to the fact that the highway death toll doesn't have to increase at every holiday simply because more automobiles and more drivers are on the highways.

Greater care by individual drivers can off-set the hazards created by more crowded conditions on the highways. It can during holiday week-ends and it can during other periods when traffic conditions are normal.

Banks Try For Popular Appeal

By ELMER ROESSNER

If your first name is Joseph, next time you drop in your bank the president may slap you on the back and call you Joe. If you take your baby with you, the poor kid risks getting kissed.

A public opinion survey for the American Bankers Association recently disclosed that the typical banker is regarded as competent at his work but that as a person he is "cold," "staid" and "uninterested in the average guy that has not too much dough."

And if bankers themselves were surveyed today, it would probably be found that the first survey has left them "embarrassed," "dismayed" and "frantically trying to change the public concept."

Bankers are turning to showmanship, with an extra accent on entertainment and even a touch of comedy, along with the more usual business methods. LOOK WHO'S HUMAN NOW!

One New York bank displayed men's shirts stuffed with straw in its window and posted a sign inviting the public to come in to see if the officers were really stuffed shirts. A Georgia bank has built an electronically controlled "magic city" on a huge trailer truck and has sent it on a tour of the state.

A Chicago bank hired a merchandising expert away from the big Marshall Field department store because of his know-how in making the public feel welcome. A suburban New York bank has hired comparison shoppers to find out if the personnel in competing banks is friendlier to customers than its own personnel is.

Across the country, banks are taking guards out of uniform and putting them in mufti, and are moving officers' desks on to the floor, or are taking down the rails that separate the officers from the public. Bank advertising is being rewritten to make it folksy and more and more banks are taking to the air to tell listeners that the cure for most of their troubles is "yarnom"—"money" spelled backward—of which the bank has a supply to lend.

HUMANIZING MOVIE — One of the gimmicks to show the more tender side of bankers is a new movie, "At Any Given Moment," which depicts the "bank's" functions somewhat gaily.

In one scene a customer loses his pants, shirt and shoes while applying for a bank loan and winds up in a barrel as the banker outlines the financial squeeze the customer risks by taking one kind of loan. The next scene shows that by taking the banker's advice and applying for a different kind of loan, the customer can get married and buy a new car without losing the shirt off his back.

Another episode concerns a small businessman who has "woman trouble," which turns out to be difficulties over keeping a store mankin well dressed. A loan solves the problem.

The film was made by American Express Co. to help bankers make themselves more popular. As one official said, "What's good for the banks if good for American Express," because banks sell the bulk of the firm's travelers cheques. That's what it calls them: cheques.

More than 200 banks have borrowed the film for showing to local business groups, women's clubs or local television audiences.

Not every banker, however, has been sticking pins in himself to prove his blood is just as warm as anybody else's. Royal O'Day, vice president of the Merchants National Bank and Trust Co., Syracuse, N.Y., recently declared: "A banker has to develop a conservative attitude in self defense."

NEWS YOU MAY USE IN MANAGEMENT — A 1957 directory of highway officials has been published at $1 by the American Road Builders Association, World Center Building, Washington 6, D.C. . . . New free leaflets published by the Small Business Administration, Washington 25, D.C., include: "Pricing and Profits in Small Stores," "Small Business and the Industrial Applications of Atomic Energy," "Term Loans in Small Business Financing," and "Increased Profits from Industrial Air Conditioning."

ELEVATOR MEN ADOPT ECONOMIC DIALECTICS — The Old Promoter was in a philosophic mood when he came a-visiting today. "Ten years ago, people knew the difference between good times and bad times, but economics was a mystery to them. Today, kids in the eighth grade know what GPN stands for?"

"What does it stand for?" he asked. "The gross product — no — the gross — say! I got that wrong! I meant the GNP, the gross national product. But what I am trying to say, everybody is interested in economics. 'I was in an office building today. The elevator operators on the up cars were saying 'Up! But those on the down cars were saying, 'Making technical adjustments and leveling off at a lower plateau!'"

Some days I don't believe a thing the old funster tells me. IN THE BUSINESS — Currency in circulation in the United States is $187 per capita, but we are topped by Switzerland with the equivalent of $287.56 per capita, and Belgium with $244.04. Franz Pick, monetary authority reports. However, those nations use fewer checks. . . . In its "Significant Government Publications of 1956," the Government Printing Office lists "Shrimp Tips from New Orleans," a 16-page, 15-cent job.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS THE WORLD STACKE

You can't make wrong come out right. No matter how you try to make it come out right, it just will not do so. Life is like a jig-saw puzzle. We must fit the pieces — or the factors of everyday life — into their proper spaces. They will fit only one space — no other. What is right fits into the pattern of righteousness. What is wrong fits into the pattern of evil. You cannot make right fit into wrong or wrong fit into right.

The reason for this is that there is a boss over this universe and he is a righteous boss. He made the world. He sustains it. He manages it every detail. Nothing in the world — and we believe in the universe — happens except as the result of his command or his permission. And He has fashioned his creation in such a way that wrong can never come out right nor can right ever come out wrong.

The earth doesn't open and swallow us up if we do evil, nor does a heavenly light surround us if we do well. God's time-schedule is usually quite long — very much longer than our patience. But don't try to fit anything evil into a pattern other than an evil pattern. A righteous God has stacked a world against us in that respect — mercifully so.

Bronc Buster?

by DON SCHLIENZ

A Glossy-White Holiday

The brothers of House Painters and Interior Decorators Local 361 can now all take a deep breath and relax. No one in our household threatens their standards nor has any desire to enter the field of painting to ruin their livelihood.

Through the years I've learned to try to divert the chain of thought and line of conversation when my household partner stops what she's doing to look about a room and remark "my, but this place could surely use some paint."

Summer after summer, my diversionary efforts fail; some paint usually gets daubed and dripped hither and yon. Last week it was the kitchen.

It began perhaps a month ago with a casual-remark that the woodwork was showing the effects of washing off too many little finger marks and scuffings. My tactics, beginning with "Did I ever tell you the story about a movie we should see, were all brushed off with the thoughtful conclusion we could do it all on the Fourth of July, "and paint the walls and ceiling later."

So the Glorious Fourth was spent amidst paint fumes. It began the preceding evening when the obvious chore of removing all essentials and non-essentials from the kitchen.

My hospital insurance policy makes no mention of injuries sustained in moving 1,000-pound refrigerators, so that remained. So did the stove, being well anchored to gas pipes. Everything else, from an ancient nearly empty cookie box, to our coffee pot, was removed.

Never, until July 4, 1957, had I considered our kitchen cabinets as being anything other than an accepted convenience; but on that day there grew an inspired ambition to ultimately own stainless steel or aluminum cabinets. Shelf after shelf, painted top and bottom; my arm felt heavy after an hour; after two hours there was a numbing ache in the upper arm that made all movements clumsy and ineffectual. It lasted until the late hours when we began cleaning up the accumulated drops of paint.

"You know," I volunteered, "a professional painter could have done it all before lunchtime."

My partner in paint looked up at the gleaming white monster of the kitchen and said positively "Nonsense." But I'm unconvinced.

A top-notch professional painter knows exactly what size brush to use, how much paint is best adapted for each dip into the bucket, how and when certain strokes are best applied; he drips little; he spreads evenly; long hours have conditioned needed muscles to perform without tiring too early to become a handi-cap; he knows and uses "method."

Years ago I briefly worked with such a painter; and I learned then he could charge more (per hour) than many time. Contractors knew it, and he others because he could do more, and do it better, in less was in demand. Always busy. Good craftsmen usually are.

"Professionals" in any field have long held my admiration because to be a "pro," that is, to depend upon your proficiency in that field, requires a skill or talent well beyond the ordinary.

My respect for painters has just gone up ten notches.

Other Editors Saying-- Make Pop A Pedestrian

(The Charlotte Observer) Our sympathy, being quite inexhaustible, is extended today to the parents of sixteen-year-olds and, in fairly equal portion, to their kids. In such a circumstance, the parental lot is a trying one, especially for one-car families.

A first license to drive is not only license but privilege. It accords junior the right to use the car (ears) whenever his mood is mobile. If the family sedan sprouts fender skirts and a punctured muffler, it is strictly in the interest of modernized transit.

Told to be home by eleven, he calls at 2 a.m. The car, he explains, has gooped out. It is, in truth, a total wreck. He consoles you, however, with subtle reminder; you have insurance.—Besides, he adds, it could have been worse. Benny Carson suffered the only broken bones, and Benny (he's practically certain) won't sue.

The sixteen-year-old is lost in the middle distance. Mom and Pop misunderstand him; the car (cars) are disgraceful; his might-be girl is a fickle siren; cops lie in wait for his coming. He factors a dream that nobody's keen on buying; his angels turn up with six toes.

One of these days he's determined to shove off for home; thus far, of course, he lacks the grubstake. Meanwhile, he reckons he'll need to make-do with sticky parents, a cheezy allowance, a frightful hack, a corny druck, a square society, and two bucks-twenty for his Saturday ball. —We envy the just-sixteens. Life is anyhow vital.

State Supreme Court Upholds Right-To-Work Philosophy (Macon Telegraph)

We applaud the ruling of the Supreme Court of Georgia that employees of a railroad, even one engaged in interstate traffic, cannot be discharged for refusing to join a labor union. The decision, which takes issue with a view of the United States Supreme Court, is a clear-cut victory for the right-to-work philosophy.

The case in point involved employees of the Georgia, Southern and Florida Railroad, who contended they preferred not to join the union, believing that their dues would be used to aid political issues and candidates they opposed.

While their reasons for not wishing to join the union are interesting, it should be enough that the employees simply preferred not to become members.

In a free country, such as ours, it should be the right of every man to join a union or not join a union and that the right to work shall not be denied him because he is or is not a member of a labor organization. The Supreme Court of Georgia, in a unanimous decision, has struck a hard blow for democracy.

Serious 1960 Entries Line Up

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON—The serious prospects for the 1960 Democratic Presidential nomination have been separated from the merely willing and able candidates within the last few weeks, and largely because of behind-the-scenes discussions and observations at the recent Governors' Conference at Williamsburg, Va.

It seems to be a general agreement among political prophets and the so-called experts that the leading figures are Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, and Governor George Leader of Pennsylvania.

Eliminated from competition, in the opinion of many shrewd on-lookers and Democratic strategists, are Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri, Senator Frank J. Lausche of Ohio. Not much consideration has ever been given to Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, or Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The Senate has rarely been a proving school for the Presidency or even a Presidential nomination. And the most recent selection of a Chief Executive from that body—Warren G. Harding of Ohio—was not an especially inviting precedent.

YOUNG SENATOR'S RAPID PROGRESS Senator Kennedy, however, may break the hold which the Governors have had for so many years. No member of Congress has progressed to political eminence so quickly as the wealthy Bostonian, and none has enjoyed such wide and favorable publicity.

His youth has been held against him, but in 1960 he will be older than Theodore Roosevelt was when he entered the White House. There are lingering doubts as to whether a Catholic can be elected in this predominantly Protestant nation. But the passing years, it is believed, have dispelled the prejudice which contributed to Alfred E. Smith's 1928 defeat by Herbert Hoover.

Nor does Senator Kennedy suffer from Smith's liabilities—his Tammany association, the brown derby, the East Side accent, and the fact that he was brave beyond his time on the question of prohibition.

Finally, there is the fact that Kennedy mobilized strong and surprising support for the Vice Presidential nomination in 1956, losing out to a much less capable individual — Senator Estes Kefauver.

TWO GOVERNORS MADE FAVORABLE IMPRESSIONS Governors Meyner and Leader made favorable and friendly impressions among fellow-Governors and Washington newspaper correspondents at the Williamsburg convocation, although without appearing to attempt to "make a splash."

It is true that they are not too well known, since they have not had to deal with any stirring issues, as Calvin Coolidge did with regard to the Boston police strike, and F.D.R. did when he was at Albany. But it is pointed out that Adlai E. Stevenson, equally unknown as Governor of Illinois, had no difficulty in stimulating public interest in his personality — an interest which still survives.

Moreover, having lived through so many exciting and upsetting domestic and world crises for the last quarter of a century, the American people may look kindly upon a candidate who has simply done a good or even passable job of managing and house-keeping at Trenton or Harrisburg.

REASONS FOR ELIMINATING

A Home Built To Last

By HAL BOYLE ALCOA, Tenn. (AP)—William Andrew Nicholson is an 80-year-old carpenter who built an everlasting home because he confidently expects to live forever.

It is a fortress-like stone dwelling of 14 rooms and was built by Nicholson and his wife over an 8-year period. It is known locally as "Millenium Manor" and "The house that faith built."

"It cannot rust or rot," said Nicholson, whose keen blue eyes and white hair make him look like a monarch in a striped sport shirt, "and if nothing wrecks it there is no reason why it shouldn't last a million years."

Nicholson himself is serenely certain that a million years from now he will be happy, alive and content with his house and lot.

His reason is simple. He loves Jesus Christ, and he accepts as a statement of literal fact that Biblical promise that whosoever loves Christ will have everlasting life.

"I believe in the Bible, and I believe in life," he said. "I believe in preparing to live instead of preparing to die."

So it was that in 1938 the kindly carpenter and his wife, who had borne him 10 children, began at the age of 61 to build an eternal shelter for an eternal life on earth.

There was to go into it nothing but cement, rock and Tennessee pink marble.

Nicholson worked eight hours a day at his trade, then worked six to eight hours more on his home. He pushed 300-pound marble stones to their place in a wheelbarrow. His wife poured the mortar.

The house, completed in December, 1946, is two stories tall. Its outside walls are from two to three feet thick. It has two bathrooms furnished with huge stone and cement chairs. The roof alone contains 432 tons of rock.

Six years ago Mrs. Nicholson died of cancer, leaving her husband lonely but still sure he himself will enjoy eternal life.

"It was hard to be parted from her after so many years," he said. "My wife believed in me, but her faith in eternal life was weak. She tried to believe, but she had her doubts. There came times when she talked of dying."

Nicholson's unusual home has become something of a tourist attraction. He says he has been offered $150,000 for it, but has no intention of selling.

"What would I want with the money?" he asked. "I have everything I need."

"I haven't been sick for 40 years. I don't worry about the atomic bomb — or anything else. I let nothing bother me."

"I keep healthy by serving God the best I know how. I don't go to church. I used to belong to a church, but got out. They didn't like my views."

One of Nicholson's views that he regards him as eccentric in his conviction that the world will be destroyed soon — probably by 1959 — but that 144,000 righteous, including himself, will be saved. Nicholson himself doesn't mind what his neighbors think, or anyone else for that matter.

However long he lives himself, the rugged, picturesque home he built stands as a temple of love—a poor man's pyramid — the testimony in stone of a mighty faith that stirred a simple heart to a dream of timeless grandeur.

Opinions In Brief

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "Every year, tons and tons of government documents which have no value as news, public information or in any other way come into newspaper offices all over the Nation—and most of it is thrown into the wastebasket after it has been scanned by the addressee."

"It must cost the Post Office Department millions of dollars to carry this torrent of useless mail matter over the Nation."

SOME ASPIRANTS The reasons for the tentative elimination of so many acknowledged aspirants are interesting. They also impress many politicians as logical.

Governor Williams is regarded as too radical, especially on labor and Civil Rights questions. His tie-up with Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, hurts him in the South.

A Texas like Senator Johnson, it is figured, would not be acceptable to Northern labor or to the colored vote. His support of the Natural Gas Bill would be held against him by city consumers, especially if its passage should lead to the predicted increase in rates for this essential commodity.

CONSERVATIVE LAUSCHE Senator Lausche's brief Senate record has shown him to be so conservative that he might even run on the Republican ticket. Despite an excellent performance in business and at the Pentagon, Senator Symington just has not made any deep imprint at Washington or on the public mind. He showed up poorly when baited by the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy in the televised Army hearings.

Famed 82nd Airborne Prepares For Tailoring To New Atomic Concept

FORT BRAGG, N. C. — The 82nd Airborne Division, veteran of two World Wars and 17 years as a paratrooper unit, will undergo a radical facelift in the next 60 days as it gears for peak atomic battlefield effectiveness.

Announcement of the Division's move to ROTAD (Reorganization of the Airborne Division) came from Commanding Generals at Third U. S. Army, XVIII Airborne Corps and Division level.

The new All-American is visualized as a leaner, tougher and more mobile unit — tailored down by nearly 5,000 men to a force able to strike over great distances with lightning swiftness.

More than ever, the 82nd will be a Division moving in the air rather than on foot or wheels. Actual manpower strength will be cut from 17,085 to 11,486, each man a qualified paratrooper.

Although the number of troops in the Division has been cut, ROTAD organization bulletins indicate the firepower of these individual riflemen will not be noticeably reduced.

MORE MGS ON LINE

More machineguns will be in the hands of the front-line echelons and increased heavy mortar support, in front of the battle position, will more than compensate for a slight cutback in medium mortar strength.

Under the pentagonal structure, the Division will field five battle groups — each with a Headquarters Company, a battery of heavy mortars and five Rifle Companies. The 325, 504, and 505 AIRs will join with two imported units to comprise the Airborne Battle Groups.

ROCKETS ADDED

A battery of HONEST JOHN rockets, able to deliver nuclear warheads on pin-point targets many miles distant, offsets any reduction in conventional artillery (155mm howitzers and anti-aircraft weapons will be eliminated).

Such weapons have been deleted from the present arms system only when the gap is covered by the employment of more powerful, more easily airtransported equipment.

Come see the heavyweights of the 82d Division, the 44th Tank Battalion. In their place as armor-killing will be a greater number of anti-tank weapons.

Division tankers will still have a job, however, according to a Third Army announcement. The 44th, like the 80th AAA Battalion, will be retained as a unit, although not a part of the revamped 82d.

ARMOR GOES

Drastic reductions in heavy equipment — trucks, armor and heavy artillery — will allow the entire Division to be moved by transport aircraft, using roughly half the air lift needed for the present organization.

This reduction, Division planners noted, is not to be regarded as a compromise in the 82nd's overall firepower. The ratio of combat to service troops will actually be increased under ROTAD.

In recasting the 82d, "America's Guard of Honor," in the mold of the Army's new pentomic (five combat group) concept, emphasis lies on a larger Infantry assault element and the newly-added "big stick" of atomic capability.

Although the two units have not been designated officially, they are tentatively slated as the 501st and 503rd Infantry — both with distinguished combat records.

DivArty, losing its 155 mm howitzers (which cannot be paratrooped) but boasting five batteries of 105s and the battery of HONEST JOHNS, will round out the actual firing elements of the ROTAD Division.

TWO NEW UNITS

Division Headquarters Company, the Administrative Service Company, Aviation Company and Reconnaissance troops will fall under control of a new parent unit — the Command and Control Battalion.

Similarly, a newly-designated Support Command will provide the 82d with logistical support. It will be comprised of a Headquarters Company, Maintenance Battalion, Medical Battalion, Supply and Transportation Company and Parachute Supply Company.

COMMANDERS NAMED

Commanding the Division's new Support Command will be Colonel John Erickson, 42, of Cheyenne, Wyoming. Col Erickson, a trooper since 1942, came to the Division in mid-January from a command in Viet Nam.

Lt. Col. Henry F. Frank, named to head the Pentomic 82d's Command and Control Battalion, came to the Division in 1953 from an assignment in G-3 Eight U. S. Army in Korea and Yokohama, Japan.

The 38-year-old officer, from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., was formerly ex-

Khrushchev And Bulganin Begin Big Czech Visit

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin and party chief Nikita Khrushchev crossed the border into Czechoslovakia by train today to begin an official visit hard on the heels of his sweeping Kremlin shakeup.

Prague radio said the two Soviet leaders received a warm welcome at the frontier station of Cerna from Czech Communist party boss Antonin Novotny and a crowd of 15,000.

The welcome included greetings from a number of lesser Czech government and party leaders, an honor guard, children bearing flowers, speeches and "welcome kisses." Both Soviet chieftains beamed as they stepped from their train into the bright sunshine.

Similar welcome demonstrations awaited them all along the route to Prague. The 500-mile journey to this Communist capital will take another 24 hours, giving Novotny plenty of time to talk over party problems with the visitors.

Bulganin and Khrushchev will be greeted in Prague by Czech Premier Vilem Siroky and other leaders. One of the first items on their Prague agenda is a courtesy call on President Antonin Zapotocky.

The official tone for the visit was set by the Czech Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo. The "Soviet comrades come to a country which will never leave the barricades of communism, where the Red flag is raised by the Soviet Union," the party organ said. "Our meeting with the Soviet leaders will result in absolute agreements which will demonstrate a strengthening of the partnership of the Socialist states on all fundamental questions."

One Czech official said the visit "means big things." But another indicated no major developments were expected, saying, "It is simply the return of a visit our leaders made to Moscow. It is that and nothing more."

In the West, however, diplomats and unofficial observers watched the visit with unusual interest to see if it would result in any shake-up in the Czech Communist leadership.

Wife Divorces Brod Crawford

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Broderick Crawford has been divorced on his wife's testimony that he was "completely irresponsible" as a husband.

Mrs. Katherine Crawford, 39, who charged mental cruelty, told Superior Judge Edward R. Brand yesterday: "Many times when parties were planned for mutual friends he would not show up or even telephone. The same was true when events were planned for the children."

The 50-year-old Oscar winner did not contest the divorce. Mrs. Crawford received custody of their two sons, Kim, 9, and Kelly, 5. A property settlement gives her the $75,000 family home in Brentwood and approximately a fourth of Crawford's estimated gross annual earnings of $200,000.

The couple married in 1940.

Dreyfus Issue Still Very Alive In France

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some controversies, like old soldiers, never die. That's especially true when the controversy is about an old soldier named Alfred Dreyfus.

He was the French officer, sent to Devil's Island late in the 19th century, whose case was taken up as a crusade by French intellectuals who accused high government and army officials of anti-Semitism, Dreyfus, a Jew, was vindicated after a long battle.

You wouldn't think that such a long-ago affair would still be alive, but Jose Ferrer claims that it is.

He has just finished directing and starring in "I Accuse," the Dreyfus story.

"Apparently, Dreyfus is still a big issue in France," commented Ferrer. "Nobody took any direct action against us, but you could feel an undercurrent of resentment."

Producer Sam Zimbalist got the cold shoulder on requests for filming locations in France, Ferrer reported. The major part of the film was made in England, but certain locations were desired in Paris.

"We waited and waited for permission to come through," the actor said. "Finally, we couldn't wait any longer. We had to shoot the exteriors in Brussels."

He added that one French official was quoted as saying a film about Dreyfus was not in the interests of national security.

"I got violent reactions from French people I know," Ferrer said. "One man asked me what I was doing and I told him I was making a picture about Dreyfus. 'I didn't know you were anti-French,' he said."

"I really teed off on him. I told him: A. The picture tells the truth about Dreyfus; B. Other nations know the truth; C. That France herself awarded Dreyfus the Legion of Honor and he served with distinction in World War I as a lieutenant colonel."

"They make a great to-do over the Hiss and Rosenberg cases in this country. Why shouldn't the Dreyfus case be discussed?"

The script, Ferrer said, has had a good reaction from women.

"It appeals to their sense of fair play," he commented, "and that is a side that women seldom display."

Believe Zhukov Is No. 2 In Kremlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top U. S. officials, in a new assessment of the shakeup in the Russian high command, have concluded that Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov is now the second most powerful man in the Soviet Union.

At the moment, they believe he is fully supporting the top man, party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

They seem inclined now to credit Zhukov with a possibly decisive role in crushing the challenge to Khrushchev's No. 1 position during the stormy Kremlin developments of the past two weeks.

Zhukov, as a representative of the Red army, they believe, can be expected to play an increasingly important role, especially now that he has been elevated to full membership in the party Presidium.

Zhukov's backing of Khrushchev has set some officials to wondering what this support has cost the Soviet party chief. The question they ask is: Has Khrushchev believed he will keep the "collective leadership" which has been built up since Stalin's death. But, an increasingly important number of officials seem to be veering to the idea that Khrushchev has now embarked on a drive to become a Stalin-like dictator whose every word is to be followed.

Sees Support Of UN Police Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) climbed overwhelming congressional support today for creation of a permanent United Nations police force "as a vital step to maintaining world peace."

He said he will ask the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to approve today a proposal by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) for Senate and House backing of such a permanent U.N. force.

Sparkman, in a separate interview, said the U.N. Emergency Force now functioning in the Middle East "proved the effectiveness of an international force in areas of tension."

"I believe that such a force could be useful in other situations," he said. "An enlarged and permanent force should be set up to be at the beck and call of the U.N. for putting down brush fires wherever they occur."

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader, agreed with this view, and pointed to the support of Sparkman's proposal by such Republicans as Senators Flanders of Vermont, Wiley of Wisconsin and H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey.

Mansfield said the time might come when U.N. forces could take over much of the peace-keeping chores of U.S. troops abroad and eliminate "controversies over status of forces treaties and executive agreements."

New Parole Try For Thrill-Killer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Attorneys for Nathan Leopold, imprisoned since 1924 for the thrill killing of a teenage Chicago boy, appeared today to plead for his parole. It will be his fourth bid for parole since 1953.

The 52-year-old Leopold, serving an 85-year sentence in Stateville Prison in Joliet, will not appear before the board.

The record of the savage murder of Bobby Franks, 14, by Leopold and his now dead co-leader Richard Loeb, both brilliant university students and sons of wealthy families, will be unveiled once again in Leopold's latest effort to win freedom from prison. Loeb was slain in prison by another inmate nearly 20 years ago.

Leopold's participation in the wartime malaria experiments won him eligibility for parole, as former Gov. Adlai Stevenson cut his 99-year sentence to 85 years. His first parole plea in 1953 was denied, as were requests for hearings in 1955 and last December.

Elmer Gertz, one of Leopold's attorneys, said a former University of Chicago classmate of the convict has offered him a job as head of a manufacturing firm's foreign department. Gertz said Leopold also had several other job offers.

Left Unscathed, Then Flooded

DETROIT (AP)—The William Glaser family figured they had it made when the worst thunderstorm in recent years passed over the Detroit area and left their home unscathed.

Glaser, whose home backs on the Rouge River, and his wife and three children were going to bed last night when they heard a loud, roaring sound in the basement.

Glaser found the overloaded river had crumbled his rear wall and was flowing through the basement. The Flasers went to live with relatives.

Arraign Actress On Drunk Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Gail Russell, 32, has been arraigned on a felony drunk driving charge and sued for $75,000 damages as a result of driving her new car through a cafe window July 4.

The suit was filed yesterday by a janitor, Robert Reynolds, 21, who alleged he was seriously injured when pinned under her car while cleaning up the closed cafe.

Miss Russell's preliminary hearing was set for July 19 on the drunk driving charge. She was released on $1,000 bail. She told told newsmen she was "very sorry it happened."

Casey Voices Dislike Of Present All-Star State

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Casey Stengel continued to voice his displeasure over the fans' All-Star vote, as well as tactics used by rival American League managers...

The manager of the New York Yankees, in disagreement with the fans over several of their All-Star selections, and indignant because Cleveland used pitcher Early Wynn, his originally intended starter, last Sunday, promised some changes next year.

"I think the present way of picking the players should be continued even if they are not done the right way. It's an honor to be on the team and it doesn't make any difference who chose them. Sometimes it looks like politicians are at work and there are one or two players on my team I'd be a little leery of starting. The way they voted in a certain city could kill the whole thing, but you don't want to rob the public who comes to the game."

Stengel then disclosed he will propose a rule prohibiting managers from starting pitchers who have been named to the All-Star team any later than Saturday prior to the big game. That would assure at least two days' rest.

"I had planned to start Wynn," Stengel explained, "because of his experience and his knowledge of the National League players—but when I learned he pitched Sunday I switched to Bunning because he too is a right-hander and is the most rested."

Stengel's criticism of Cleveland's use of Wynn Sunday drew a sharp reply from Kerby Farrell, rookie manager of the Indians. "I'm a hell of a lot more interested in beating the Chicago White Sox in a double-header than winning the All-Star Game," he said.

Brooklyn Manager Walter Alston, who will direct the National League, said he sympathized with Stengel's attitude, but added he didn't see how the pilots could be asked to sacrifice using a star pitcher in a close pennant race.

Stengel, who is sensitive about his All-Star managerial record (he's lost five of six games), was not particularly happy over the selections of Detroit's Harvey Kuenn at shortstop, Cleveland's Vic Wertz at first base and Baltimore's George Kell at third base. He made no secret of his belief that his own Bill Skowron at first, Gil McDougald at shortstop and Boston's Frank Malzone at third would give his league better representation.

"I plan to make some changes as soon as I'm permitted (after the first three innings)," he said. Stengel's decision to start Bunning, who owns a 10-2 record, with 93 strikeouts and a 2.03 earned run average, was based on the National League's right-handed dominance. Only Stan Musial and Ed Bailey, among the starters, bat left-handed. Stengel said he probably would follow with another right-hander, Billy Loes of Baltimore.

Alston also played the percentage by naming Curt Simmons, the veteran Philadelphia Phillies left-hander who has an 8-4 record. The American League batting order is strongly southpaw.

The odds-makers have lowered the price from 6-5 favoring the American League to 11-10 pick'em.

NBC will telecast the game at 1:30 p.m., EST.

Swimming Class Plans Announced

Coach Raymond Martinez, Fast Carolina head swimming coach, will open swimming classes for Greenville youngsters between the ages of five and 12, beginning July 16.

Registration for the classes can be handled any time from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 2:00 through 4:00 at the ECC Athletic Building. That phone number is 6101, extension 41.

Moore Has To Sign Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore, the old guy who wrote thousands of letters to sports editors before getting a shot at the world light-heavyweight boxing title, has to write his name on a contract today to keep it.

Unless he signs for a title defense against Tony Anthony of New York, by the deadline, he'll be stripped of the championship. That ultimatum was laid down yesterday by Julius Helland, president of the World Championship Boxing Committee who doubles in brass as chairman of the equally powerful New York State Athletic Commission.

Moore, in Los Angeles, reportedly reached a verbal agreement on contract terms for the fight last night. In deference to the California Athletic Commission, which likes to announce such things, spokesmen in both the Moore and Anthony camps have declined comment, however.

Moore, who won the title from Joey Maxim Dec. 17, 1952, then gave Pal Joey two cracks to reclaim it before he defended against anyone else, hasn't put his title in the ring in 13 months. He's been running backward into a title defense against Anthony for the last few months, with the money guaranteed the big hassle.

In that time, while Archie has been touring Europe and fighting exhibitions, both the World Commission and the National Boxing Assn. have threatened to unhook Moore unless he defends his crown.

Home Builders Defeat Bankers

Home Builders pasted an 8-3 licking on the Guaranty Bank Club last night in Teen-er League baseball play at Guy Smith Stadium. Ed Smoot hurled for the winners and turned in a three-hit performance to set the Bankers down. He allowed only three singles, those by Noble, Brewer and James. All three of those hits came in the first two innings of play. After that, Smoot held the GB team in check and seven.

Noble went the full seven innings for the losers. He was rapped for eight hits. Bynum and Adams, both of the winning club, paced hitters for the night with two home knocks each. The win was Smoot's best mound effort to date. He fanned eleven batters in the process.

Hoed Already Part Of International Net War

LEW HOED

NEW YORK (AP)—A professional just one day, Lew Hoed today (and himself the middleman in international war of tennis nerves.

Hoed, the big Australian Davis Cup star, signed yesterday to play for Jack Kramer's troupe for the fattest figure ever given a pro player—$125,000 for two years. The ink still was wet on the contract when in rapid-fire order: 1. Pancho Gonzales, the man Hoed was signed to play, said he would not appear in Kramer's 'Tournament of Champions' starting Saturday in Forest Hills.

Moose Defeats Pepsi-Cola, 4-2

Kenneth Joyner put the Moose Tar Heel team back in the win column yesterday afternoon, snapping the Pepsi-Cola line, 4-2, at Elm Street Park.

Joyner pitched four-hit ball to defeat Joe and Frank Harper, Pepsi pitchers. The Moose team backed up Joyner's efforts with six hits. Smith, Cavendish, Avcock and Coltraine scored the runs for the Moose. Gidley and Joe Harper scored for the losers.

Seeking Miteff-Rademacher For The Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Teddy Brenner, an imaginative matchmaker, today sought to pair Olympic champion Pete Rademacher and Argentina's Alex Miteff, the 1955 Pan-American king, for New York in August.

"I'm wiring Rademacher an offer of $10,000 to fight Miteff in August," said Brenner after watching the unbeaten Argentine stop Philadelphia's Fernando Fala on cuts in two rounds last night.

"If Rademacher agrees, I'll try and rent Madison Square Garden for the fight."

It was pointed out to Brenner that Rademacher, who never has fought pro, had a commitment to fight world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in Seattle in August, provided Patterson beats Hurricane Jackson in New York July 29.

"If Jack Hurley (Seattle promoter) can drum up a Patterson-Rademacher fight, what's crazy about trying to match the Olympic and Pan-American champions?" asked Brenner.

Miteff and his manager Hymie Wallman said they'd be happy to take on Rademacher.

Fala, who had a 17-1 record and had won six straight, had two deep wide cuts over his right eye requiring 15 stitches. Referee Barney Felix stopped the slam-bang scrap, after the second round ended, at the suggestion of Dr. Sam Swetnick.

It was just as well, for Miteff had staggered his 22-year-old rival several times in the second round with solid left hooks to the jaw and had weakened him with thumping hooks to the ribs.

Seixas And Hard Playing Today

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wimbledon stars Vic Seixas and Darlene Hard were scheduled for their first action today in the Western Open tennis tournament. Action followed the form chart in opening round singles matches yesterday.

The top matches saw Sammy Giammalva and Barry Mackay, third and fourth seeded, respectively, win easily. Neither was scheduled to play until today, but went into action when several other matches were postponed because of late arrivals.

Mackay, the Big Ten champion from Michigan who recently won the collegiate singles, ousted Milwaukee's Charles Mulcahey, 6-2, 6-1.

Giammalva, the nation's seventh-ranked player from Houston, Tex., won a 6-2, 6-2 victory from Mexico City's Andre Donnedieu, a student at the University of Miami.

Graniteers Rout Opponents, 25-0

Only one game was played last night in Industrial Softball League competition, and that one was a lopsided 25-0 victory for the loop-leading Graniteers.

The other scheduled game between the Greenville Paris and Metals Club and the Carolina Dairy was forfeited by the P&M outfit, due to lack of enough players.

Greenville Marble and Granite Works softballers blasted Carolina Telephone and Telegraph pitcher Eaton for 25 hits and 25 blazing runs to continue their lead in the league.

Dan Gordon, the winningest pitcher in the league, chalked up the triumph for the Graniteers, going the full seven innings.

The game was not called after five innings (as usually happens when one team runs up a tremendous lead) due to the fact that the other game was being forfeited.

Harold Ingram and Bobby Conway collected four hits each for the winners to pace the night's hitting. Bobby Nunn, Graniteer catcher, added three to the total. Every man on the club collected a hit.

Hi-Toms Getting Harder To Beat

CAROLINA LEAGUE By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The High Point-Thomasville Hi-Toms are becoming harder and harder to beat in the Carolina League. Last night they took their 10th straight game as they defeated Wilson, 11-4. However, they were unable to strengthen their hold on first place. Second-place Greensboro came from behind to take Winston-Salem 6-5.

Danville topped Durham 9-3 to sweep a two-game series with the Bulls in Danville.

Jack Taylor won his 11th game against eight defeats as he pitched the Hi-Toms to their win. The league leaders jumped to a five-run lead in the first inning with a rally with two-out and were never in trouble.

The Greensboro Patriots grabbed a five-run lead in the early innings. But a four-run fifth tied it up for Winston-Salem. The Patriots scored the winning run in the sixth on Don Long's sacrifice fly to right field that enabled Dale DeSilva to race home.

Danville's Andy Yetso stranded 13 runners although he gave up 11 hits to Durham. Danville scored seven runs in the first three innings to coast to its victory.

Games today are Danville at Greensboro, Wilson at Winston-Salem and the Hi-Toms at Durham.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Baseball Commissioners Ford Frick, re-elected to a seven-year term at $55,000 per, thinks it is "inconceivable" that New York should become a one-club town.

In the face of consistent reports that the Brooklyn Dodgers are moving to Los Angeles; and the New York Giants to San Francisco, the commissioner expressed a "purely personal opinion" today.

"I think it is inconceivable that an area with a population of 15 million should have only one franchise," he said. "If the Dodgers and Giants should move—and I am not saying they will—I think the territory should be left open for another team. I think it should be declared open territory for any league."

The matter of franchise moves came up at the National League meeting, shortly before the 62-year-old Frick was re-elected at the joint meeting of the two leagues for a term running to Sept. 21, 1965. His current term expires in 1958.

The Dodgers and Giants got permission to move to Los Angeles and San Francisco at a special National League meeting in Chicago May 28. President Warren Giles said he brought up the matter himself.

"I think it is incumbent upon the president of the National League to ask Mr. O'Malley (Walter O'Malley, Dodger president) and Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, Giants president) if they have anything definite to report," said Giles. "I turned directly to both men and both answered, 'Not a thing.'"

Plans For Little League Area Playoff Underway

By BILLY ARNOLD, Reflector Sports Editor

On the last three days of this month, the Area Little League Playoff will be played here at Greenville at Elm Street Park.

Five teams from the Eastern part of the state will participate in the playoff and the winner of the three-day series will then journey to Fayetteville for the State Tourney.

Following the State Tourney, of course, is the District playoff, which features teams from several states. After that, Williamsport, Pennsylvania, and the Little League World Series is the destination.

Competing in the Area series here will be the Greenville Tar Heel and North State league champions, Tarboro, Havelock and Morehead City.

Little League officials announced today that the following schedule will be observed in the playoff: On Monday, July 29, Havelock will battle Morehead City at 3:00.

while the Greenville Tar Heel and North State champs will battle at 5:00. Tarboro has a bye.

On Tuesday, July 30, Tarboro will ace the winner of the Havelock-Morehead City game at 4:00.

On Wednesday, July 31, the winner of the Tar Heel-North State game will meet the winner of the Tuesday game for the playoff championship. Game time Wednesday will be 4:00.

Champions of the Greenville League are decided on the basis of two halves of play during the Little League season. There are four teams in both the Tar Heel and North State leagues. The season is divided into two halves, with both leagues playing approximately 18 games per half. All four teams in each loop play the same number of games.

At the end of the first half of play, the leading team in each league is regarded the champion of that half. The Lions and the Moose took those honors in the North State and Tar Heel loops respectively this season.

Champions for the second half of play will be decided in the same manner. If the same team cops the second half title that won the first half, then that team is automatically the league title holder for the season. Should another team win the second half however, a playoff decides the overall champ.

House Appears Ready Back Up On Soil Bank Attitude

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, which voted in May to kill the major part of the Eisenhower farm soil bank program after this year, appeared ready today to back down and grant it one more year of life.

The year's extension was contained in a Senate-House compromise on a $3,600,000,000 agriculture appropriation bill for the fiscal year that started July 1.

In addition to money for the current year, the compromise measure would provide authority for a 500 million dollar appropriation for next year's acreage reserve program. Under that program farmers are paid for taking land out of production of basic crops that are in surplus.

Rep. Harrison (D-Va.), who led the successful House fight to end the payments after his year, indicated he may not press the battle anew. "I still don't like it," he added.

The compromise bill would limit sign-ups for acreage reserve contracts to crops normally planted by July 1 next year, and would halt all payments after Sept. 15, 1958.

Harrison told a reporter the cut-off date should prevent use of soil bank funds in next year's congressional elections.

"Use of this money in the elections last year was disgraceful," he said, echoing charges made during last year's campaign that payments to farmers were hurried into strategic areas just before the election.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson told the House Agriculture Committee in January there was "absolutely no truth" to such allegations. He said he had tried to administer the program "honestly and fairly."

Agriculture Department officials have noted repeatedly that the program was late in starting in 1956 because the law to establish it was not passed until late in the session. Actual payments did not start until September, and continued through October.

Harrison noted the situation will be different next year, saying: "Under this bill, if they're going to use the money for election purposes next year, they're going to have to spend it before the middle of September."

Senate and House conferees said they expected the compromise to be passed by the House without too much trouble. Democratic and Republican conferees were united in their support of the bill.

The compromise would put a $3,000 limitation on the amount of Soil Bank money any one farmer can receive.

The bill also would direct the government to see that farmers make a genuine effort to reduce their total production by the amount of crop land they place in the soil bank.

The conservation reserve program also would be tightened up by a directive to the Secretary of Agriculture to "give careful consideration" to the value of the land converted to trees, grass and other long-range conservation purposes. The government also makes payments for this land, under the soil bank program.

The bill would authorize 325 million dollars for conservation reserve payments. The House voted 250 million dollars, the Senate 350 millions.

Red Skelton's Son Will See Wonders Of World

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Young Richard Skelton, suffering from leukemia, is off to see the ruins of Pompeii. That's the sight the famed comic's son most wants to see in Europe.

The Skelton family—Red, wife Georgia, daughter Valentina, 10, and Richard, 9—left by Scandinavian Airlines early today for Copenhagen. Bo Roos Sr., business manager for the comic, also went along.

"I just want Richard to see some of the great wonders of the world," Red told a reporter as his carrot-topped son played nearby as vigorously as any other boy his age.

The boy's illness is in the so-called remission stage where the cancerous blood cells apparently lie dormant.

The boy's doctor has pronounced him in the pink for the trip. Specialists in Copenhagen, Zurich and other European cities will give the boy checkups en route.

"Our main concern is to see that he does not become overly tired on the trip," Mrs. Skelton said. That, she added, is a big job even when the child is home.

The itinerary has been arranged so that all European hops will be short ones and the stays in the various countries leisurely.

Countries to be visited will include Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, England, France, Italy, Spain, the island of Majorca, the Azores and, finally, Mexico City and home.

The trip will take approximately six weeks or longer. Plans to visit the Far East have been postponed.

Richard's desire to visit Pompeii came about in typical small boy fashion. All last week, a local television station has been showing the old movie, "The Last Days of Pompeii."

Dr. Wolf Is At Philosophy Meet

Dr. Martha Pingel Wold, faculty member of the department of English at East Carolina College, is attending this week July 8-12 in Washington, D. C., the Second Inter-American Congress of Philosophy. Meetings are scheduled at Gallaudet College and the Pan-American Union building.

The Congress, held once every decade, is attended by representatives from the United States and other North American countries and from South American countries.

Dr. Wold is attending as a guest-representative of East Carolina College and of North Carolina. She was present as a visitor at the first Congress, held in 1947.

The program of the Congress offers opportunity for the exchange of philosophic ideas and information and will have as one of its purposes the fostering of the "good neighbor" idea among countries in the Americas. Dr. Charles A. Boyliss of the Duke University Graduate School of Philosophy will appear as a speaker on the program.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field has a frame design that lets you ride within the side members for greater roominess, smoothness and safety.
2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.
3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride on roughest roads.
4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch."
5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof.
6. Only Ford offers such a savingful car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.
7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all... enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.
8. Only Ford electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.
9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road conditions.
10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust wherever you go.
11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance.

Ficklen Warns Foreign Tobacco Buyers Unhappy

If American flue-cured tobacco producers are to retain their export markets they must produce better tobacco and desirable tobacco in greater quantities, a Greenville tobaccoist asserted last night.

L. S. Ficklen, president of E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company, told Greenville Rotarians that European cigarette manufacturers have been greatly displeased with the last two flue-cured tobacco crops produced in the United States. He added that one of the largest European customers of his company has refused to purchase any tobacco from the last two flue-cured crops produced in the United States.

American stocks of export-type flue-cured tobacco are rapidly being depleted, Ficklen declared, and unless more of the desirable leaf with body and aroma are produced American growers are in danger of losing their important export market. In recent years, he said, other countries have challenged American export markets for flue-cured tobacco by producing flue-cured tobacco of their own. Though this foreign flue-cured tobacco lacks the body and aroma in American leaf, it is much cheaper than American tobacco. Unless American growers provide foreign customers with tobacco with body and aroma a major part of the export business may be captured by other countries.

Such an eventuality, he said, would have serious economic repercussions in tobacco-producing regions of the United States.

In addition to commenting on the export trade of American tobacco, Ficklen also related to Rotarians changes he has noted in Europe since 1946. Europeans, he said, have acquired a taste for American blends of tobacco since World War II when American soldiers took their cigarettes into European countries. Prior to that time, he stated, Europeans had preferred an Oriental blend of tobaccos.

Immediately after the war cigarettes became a medium of exchange in many European countries, he related. Ficklen told of purchasing a train ticket in Germany for three American cigarettes in 1946.

Even The Army Is Solidy On Sergeant Bilko's Side

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Of all the comedy reruns on television these summer evenings, this department's favorite is the Phil Silvers Show.

Even though you've seen some of them before, Bilko and the boys of his platoon come through with freshness on the screen.

Meanwhile, work on next season's films has begun. The producer of the program, Edward J. Montagne, said the other day that Silvers' fans can look forward to these pleasant things next season:

1. There will not be any basic changes in the format of the program. It still will be Bilko in and out of uniform and the same members of the platoon.
2. The kick-off program on Sept. 17 will be a presentation of "The Merry Widow" in which Sgt. Bilko actually sings.
3. The chances are that the platoon will move to Europe for a while. That is, the story line will move to Europe while the platoon maintains its production schedule in New York using films for the European backgrounds.

"There are possibilities of a lot of fun if the platoon has some new commanding officers for a brief change," Montagne said. "Maybe, for example a haughty British type. But we have to be careful not to offend our allies. The Army has given us the fullest cooperation in the show, checking us out on authentic details.

The army likes us fine. In the Pentagon they feel that Sgt. Bilko has been a real help in increasing enlistments. . . ."

Approval of the Phil Silvers Show extends, in fact, all the way to the Commander-in-Chief in the White House. After President Eisenhower missed one program in March, Montagne said, CBS received a White House request for the film.

Montagne, who has a long history as a TV and movie director and producer in both Hollywood and New York, believes "it would not be the same show if we did it from Hollywood instead of New York. The actors in the platoon are all New York boys. If we'd begun it in Hollywood inevitably there would have been familiar actors' faces in it and we'd have lost some of the freshness."

But Montagne feels that what makes the Phil Silvers Show go above everything else, is Silvers himself.

Jaycee Director Is Speaker At Ayden Meeting

AYDEN—At the Ayden Junior Chamber of Commerce supper meeting Monday night, National Jaycee Director J. B. Smith of Greenville reported on his trip to the recent National Convention in Milwaukee.

"North Carolina, a Jaycee stronghold, made an excellent showing at the convention," he said. "Rated on the basis of growth, development and efficiency, North Carolina placed fourth in national standing. Their float in the parade won first prize."

North Carolina Past President Bob Cox of Chapel Hill was elected one of the 10 national vice-presidents, and he did so with the honor of receiving the second highest number of votes among the 10 winning candidates. Cox also was officially declared to be one of the five outstanding state presidents of last year.

"North Carolina Jaycees feel that Cox will be the successful candidate for national Jaycee president next year," Smith stated.

Co-Op School's Testing Program Nearly Complete

Testing has been virtually completed for the Cooperative School's first grade, according to Dr. Woodrow Flanary and Dr. Judson White who are conducting the testing program.

The school is maintained for first graders who are ready for school but who are not eligible for public schools because of age limitations. According to a spokesman for the school, there are still some vacancies for children whose birthdays fall between October 15 and January 1, and who are ready for school according to results of various tests.

School officials are planning conferences with parents of children who have taken tests thus far. Results of the testing program will be discussed in individual conferences this week and next week.

Plans are also being made to review teacher applications next week. Operational plans for the unit will be discussed at a meeting of parents and friends of the school next week.

Pactolus Ruritan Hears Bloxam

At its monthly supper meeting Monday night, the Pactolus Ruritan Club heard Greenville's city manager, Leonard Bloxam, express his views on "The Atom and I". Bloxam recalled the early days of the use of electricity as compared to the extensive electrical benefits enjoyed today.

Bloxam said that progress of the atom today, will depend greatly upon how it is put to use. "It can be used as a great power for good in the field of medicine, agriculture, industry, and others," he said. "However, we must all work together to prevent its great power from being used destructively. Our people, our churches, our civic clubs and organizations must all work together to this end," warned the speaker.

Club president Noel Lee noted the recent highway atlaty in the community and called for continued efforts on the part of all club members to do everything possible to promote the highway safety program and prevent further serious accidents not only in the community, but throughout the county.

The Pactolus Ruritan club agreed to sponsor the community Farm Bureau meeting on Thursday night. This meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. W. E. "Bill" Little, field representative of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, will be the principal speaker for the occasion. The club will serve refreshment after the meeting.

The following members were awarded perfect attendance tabs by the club. Six years—Noel Lee, S. O. Bowers Jr.; five years, H. C. Simmons, Roy Tripp, Dick Latham; four years—D. R. House Jr., Lester Simmons; three years—B. W. Baker, William House, C. J. J. Satterthwaite, J. H. Whichard; 2 years—John Langley, Duncan Moore; one year—W. R. Edwards and Eugene Morris. CHAPTER 32

As I walked to the rear of the store, Art Delaney looked at me speculatively.

"Name a price," I said, "on everything you own: store buildings, stock, and house."

"I could almost smell the greed that was working in him. Finally he said, 'Ten thousand.'"

I started toward the front door. I had almost reached it when I heard him pattering after me.

"Hold on, Will." As I turned, he said, "Before I talk turkey I've got a right to know whether you're serious or just bulling me."

"I'm serious," I said, "and there's cash money to swing the deal, but when you talk about $10,000 you're ten times high."

Again I would have walked out if he hadn't hung on to my arm, bracing himself with both legs. "Five thousand."

I shook him off, irritated, and cuffed back my hat. "No good, Art. It boils down to a question of whether you want to sell and get out with a little bit, or walk out with nothing."

He started at the floor without saying anything. I said, "Art, I've got $3,000. That's what I'll give you."

He got red in the face, and then white, and I thought he'd faint. Then he howled: "You're a robber, Will! Beeson! Why, the goods on my shelves . . . I was through the door and on the porch when his voice came to me, high and shrill. 'I'll take it.'"

"Make out the papers," I said. "I've got some riding to do. I'll stop back tonight."

I left town, riding against the wind, the desire to see Nela overpowering urge in me. The air was cold now. Within an hour or two the drizzle would turn to snow.

My original idea was to put John Mathers in the store. Now that I had agreed to buy it, I was tormented by a plague of doubts. I had never been able to find any common ground with Mathers. He probably hated me for marrying his daughter. After I had time to think, I decided I didn't want to have anything more to do with him than I was forced to by family obligations.

Nela recognized me, even in the rapidly thinning dusk, and came flying out of the cabin, disregarding the rain and the mud. "Will, where have you been?" she cried. "I expected you yesterday."

All the bitterness was flushed out of me then. I felt as if I had been purged of something that was evil and unclean. She was my wife and I loved her, and John Mathers was her father—a futility man, a dreamer, a failure, but still her father.

We went inside and the warmth from the big range rushed at me. A lighted lamp was on the table. Next to the wall I saw Lin Scott, the little school-teacher and secretary of the colony, sitting in a chair, his legs stretched toward the stove.

Then I looked at the bed on the other side of the room. John Mathers lay on his back, staring at the ceiling, his face bandaged.

"You haven't had anything to eat, have you?" Nela asked as she lunged my coat and hat near the stove. "I'll fix you something."

I said in a low tone to Scott, "What happened?"

"They almost beat him to death," Scott said. "Turner and Dillingham and Secore and that bunch. He tried to stop them, you know. It was while you were out of the valley." He touched his head gingerly. "I tried to help him, but somebody hit me with a gun barrel when it started and I was out of the fight."

Nela came back to me from the stove. "Go over and speak to him, Will. He's been wanting to see you."

I walked to the bed. I looked down at him, and saw that he recognized me at once.

"Hello, Will," he said. "I tried, but I failed. I guess I've failed at everything since I left St. Louis."

I wanted to say something to give him some assurance but my throat was too fuzzy. I was ashamed, as thoroughly ashamed as a man could be, for the thoughts I'd had a few moments ago about John Mathers.

"I don't think you're a failure, Dad," Nela said.

I found my voice and I said: "A man who fights to keep his word is not a failure. John, I've got something for you." I laid Turner's money belt on the bed.

"Turner was shot and killed this afternoon. That's his share of the money from the cattle he and Dillingham stole. If Dillingham's still around, we'll get him, too."

He felt the belt with his right hand, but he didn't lift it. He said, "Thank you, Will."

Nela pulled me away from the bed, whispering, "He tired easily, Will."

While she warmed up some food for me, Scott told me what had happened. "Dillingham and Turner and Secore had been talking to our people for weeks. I guess you heard." I nodded, and he went

PICTURE TALK

By CHARLES BISSETTE

Vacation Forecast

Wherever you go on your vacation—or even if you stay at home—the forecast is good: plenty of color-picture-taking opportunities. Perfect time for color slides especially.

We hear it all the time—"I'd like to take color slides but that stuff is too complicated for me." Well, we get a kick out of showing how simple it can be. For example, with either of the two new Brownie Star Cameras you can take color slides (as well as color and black-and-white snapshots) with no fuss at all. Just load with wonderful new Kodak 127 Ektachrome film, turn a lever to "Color," and then press the button. You get thrilling color slides with honest-to-goodness box-camera simplicity.

One Brownie Star model—the Starflex—has a big viewer in the top that shows how your picture will look before you shoot. Small enough to fit in your hand, the Starflex fits your vacation budget, too. The other Star Camera—the Starflash—has a flashhider built right in.

If you haven't tried color slides yet, stop in and see us before you start on that long-awaited vacation. We'll be happy to help you choose a camera that's just right for you.

"Nela," I said, "he's a brave man. Tell him that. Tell him he belongs in this country. He's just got to find his place in it. That's all."

I put on my hat and coat, and kissed her, and it seemed only a moment. I had been with her. "Don't stay up all night," I said. "You're tired."

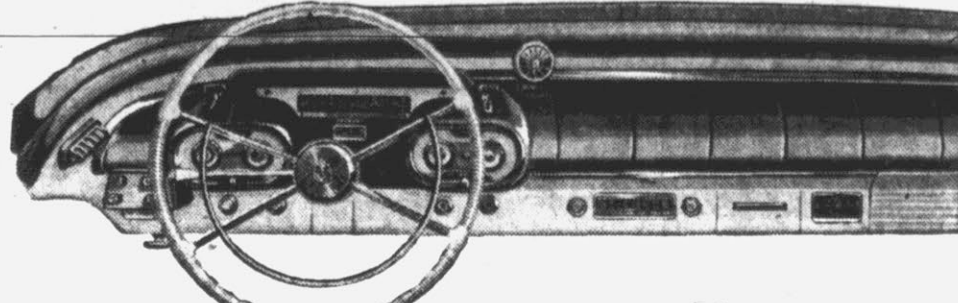

She nodded at Scott. "Lin spells me off, and his wife comes in part of the time."

She stood in the doorway until I was in the saddle and starting back down the road. I had that picture to carry in my mind, of her standing motionless with the light behind her. She closed the door, and the night blackness was all around me, and the rain that had turned to snow was whipped past me by the wind.

"At the sound of a shot I alerted. For a moment I wasn't sure where it came from, but Delaney seemed to know—" Will again is under fire in "Gunlock" tomorrow.

MORE INSIDE...

The Big M is the roomiest car in its field. To match the Mercury Monterey's hip room alone in any other car would cost you at least $1,000 more. And behind the wheel, you can command Mercury exclusives like a power seat that "remembers" your favorite position, and a Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control that outdates other push-button drives.

MORE OUTSIDE...

The Big M is the widest car in its field. To match Mercury's width you'd have to buy one of America's three most expensive cars, costing at least $2,000 more. And Mercury's Dream-Car Design is shared with no other car. In every distinctive feature, The Big M is styled to stay newer longer, protect future resale value.

MORE UNDER THE HOOD...

No other car at the Monterey's price gives you such high standard horsepower (255). To match this power in any competitive car, you'd have to pay over $150 more. The Big M gives you the highest torque, for a regular production engine, in its field (405 lb-ft). Mercury's standard compression (9.75 to 1) would cost you over $500 more in any other car.

To the above facts add these: You have to pay over $200 more to get any other car with a real four-beam headlamp system, like The Big M's Quadri-Beam headlamps. Over $80 more to get a four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on any competitive car. Over $130 more to match the Mercury Monterey's brake size. No other car at any price can match The Big M's Floating Ride—achieved with the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road: for example, Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers and swept-back ball-joint front suspension. The Big M brings you the greatest value increase in the industry—yet the price is still just an easy step up from the low-price three. Stop in today!

Wrongway Duck Flew To Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — A wrong-way duck has wound up here. It's a pin tail, tagged at Suisun, Calif., before going south for the winter. He flew here, instead. He made it in less than two months, said the fish and wild life service, which is pretty good time for a duck.

No Extra Work For Legislators

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — The Wyoming Legislature has kept intact its boast of having the shortest sessions of any state.

The Senate killed a proposed constitutional amendment to lengthen the biennial session from 40 to 55 days and the House beat another proposed amendment calling for annual sessions of the Legislature.

NOTICE OF SERVICE OF PROCESS BY PUBLICATION STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA COUNTY OF PITT IN THE SUPERIOR COURT RUTH CARSON BUNDY vs. SELMA CARSON MOORE

TO SELMA CARSON MOORE: TAKE NOTICE, that a pleading seeking relief against you has been filed in the above entitled action. The nature of the relief being sought against you is as follows: To have a purported Deed from B. L. Carson to you declared invalid because of mental incapacity,

WALL STREET — The stock market paused for breath early this afternoon, backing away a bit from its newest 1957 top. Pivotal issues lost fractions to 1 or 2 points in moderately active trading. There were a few gainers of a point or more.

Consolidated Natural Gas rose around a point and Northern Natural Gas well beyond a point as the House Commerce Committee approved controversial legislation to reduce federal regulation of natural gas producers prices.

U. S. Borax was ahead more than 3 in continued response to enthusiasm for the new high-energy boron fuels. Getty Oil and Lukens Steel rose more than a point each in active dealings.

Minneapolis Honeywell, off around 5 in initial dealings, cut the loss to a couple of points as it reacted from its 10-point leap of yesterday.

Losses of about a point or so were taken by Goodrich, Allied Aircraft, Kennecott Copper, United Chemical and Illinois Central. Caterpillar dropped more than 2.

Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck were fractional gainers. Pan American World Airlines, United Air Lines and Eastern Airlines were slightly on the upside.

Down fractions were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, American Cyanamid, Westinghouse Electric and Royal

Dutch International Nickel was a 2-point loser.

Scouts Depart For Nat'l Jamboree

LEAVING FOR NATIONAL JAMBOREE—Yesterday finally came for Pitt County scouts and their leaders. A delegation of 42 scouts and three leaders left via bus at 11 a.m. for Valley Forge, Penna. to attend the fourth National Boy Scout Jamboree. The Pitt group, largest to attend the Jamboree from the East Carolina Council, will return July 18. (Reflector Photo).

Two Barns Lost To Woods Fire

A woods fire on James Edwards' farm, in Stokestown, yesterday afternoon, destroyed two tobacco barns valued at $2,500. Pitt County Forest Ranger N. S. (Kid) Tyson, reported today.

The fire ranged over three and a half acres of woodland before the forest rangers and their equipment brought the blaze under control.

A fire yesterday on the Stoneham land, several miles west of Greenville, on the Stantonburg road, did slight damage. The burned area was new land being conditioned for diskling. Forest rangers are continuing their investigation of this fire.

Forest Ranger Tyson today appealed to farmers and rural dwellers to be careful about fire in woods. At this time of the year the woods and land are dry and burn rapidly. He requested that all woods fires be reported to the Forestry Service Tower south of Greenville. The phone number is 6504.

The U. S. Army has just published two volumes reviewing the work of the Army Signal Corps from the time of Pearl Harbor through the first 18 months of World War II.

Church To Mark 5th Anniversary

St. James Methodist Church will celebrate its fifth anniversary with a picnic Friday night, the Rev. J. Matley Owen said today.

The picnic will be at Elm St. Park beginning at 6:30. Church families will bring picnic suppers. St. James was founded July 13, 1952 and its congregation now numbers 457. Its founding date falls on Saturday this year. As a part of the observance members of the church's Youth Fellowship will conduct a car wash all day Saturday to raise funds for a Fellowship project.

The average person eats forty pounds of tomatoes per year.

Takes Over As Head Of Air Science Dept.

Lt. Col. Edward J. Maloney has just begun a two-year tour of duty as Professor of Air Science in the department of air science at East Carolina College. He replaces Col. Lewis J. Partridge, who after a period of two months in jet training school, will be located at Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C.

Lt. Col. Maloney has been at East Carolina for the past two years as a staff member of the department of air science. A native of Littleton, Colorado, he attended Colorado University of Boulder, where he received training in civil engineering.

His service record includes tours of duty with Military Air Transport Service in the United States 1942-1946 and 1949-1952 and in lina AFROTC staff include also M. Sgt. Joseph G. Welland, Jr., who will act as sergeant major; Tech. Sgt. Leon Manning; and Tech. Sgt. Thomas E. Winstead. Sgt. Manning and Sgt. Winstead are North Carolinians, from Greenville and Wilson, respectively.

CONFEDERATE SUH!
ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The First Federal Savings and Loan Association says one of its advertisements shouldn't be taken too literally. A billboard ad shows a man dropping Confederate bills into the association's saving account books. It doesn't accept Confederate money, but the Secret Service said it couldn't allow U. S. bills to appear on the sign.

In Memoriam
In memory of our sweet mother, Mrs. Julia Outlaw Carney, who departed this life July 9, 1956. One year ago today, Mother, God called you home. How often we sit sad and lonely for the absence of your dear smiling face. We can't help from thinking of you as the days go by, yet, again, we hope to meet you when the Day of Life is over. Then in Heaven, with joy to greet you, where no more farewell tears are shed.
