Heavy Rain Said Real Benefit To Some Pitt Crops

Yesterday's rainfall of 2.76 inches, the most at any one time this year, was "just what the doctor ordered" for the farmers of eastern North Carolina.

The large rainfall came just a little too late to help a thirsty tobacco and corn crop but could prove to be some value to farmers who still have a quantity of leaf in their fields.

County Agent Sam Winchester said the rain ought to be very beneficial.

"It came too late to help our corn crop to any degree but the soybean, milo, peanut and sweet potato crops and pastures will certainly benefit immeasurably," he added.

Leonard P. Bloxam, City manager, reports no serious trouble was encountered by the Greenville Utilities and Street Maintenance Department as a result of the heavy rainfall.

He said the department did have to clean out a number of catch basins this morning but the city was not troubled with flooded streets.

"I was well pleased with the way flood water ran out of the Green Mill Run since the channel is being cleared," Bloxam said.

"We have completed dredging from Elm St. to 10th St. and the work has progressed satisfactorily."

According to unofficial reports, there were no washouts on county roads in Pitt.

The high temperature recorded for the 24-hour period ending last night at midnight was 79 degrees, with the low being 69 degrees.

A slight rise in the Tar River is expected here within the next few days.

Dulles Warns Foreign Aid Cuts Spell New Insecurity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told senators today that the whole foundation of our security structure is endangered by the House cut of $899,650,000 in the foreign aid appropriations bill.

If Congress is unwilling to provide the funds to help allies maintain their defenses, Dulles said, "we face a new insecurity and a future of grave risks."

"The Senate faces a great responsibility to save the nation from this peril."

Dulles headed a team of four top administration figures bidding at a meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee for upward revision of the House-passed bill.

Argument Ends In Gun Death For Pitt Negro

GRIMESLAND—A local man, shot through the face, fell dead along the highway near here yesterday afternoon as a cloudburst deluged the area.

The dead man was identified by Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson as Louis Best, Negro, around 30. The Sheriff said he lived near Grimesland.

Taken into custody as a result of the shooting was Willie Gardner, Negro of Grimesland Rt. 1.

The 46-year-old Gardner is being held without bond.

The shooting took place about a mile east of Grimesland as a heavy rainstorm struck Pitt County.

Big Forest Fire Doused By Rain

MANN'S HARBOR, N.C. (AP)—Heavy rains which fell yesterday and last night doused the huge Dare-Hyde County forest fire. It blackened an estimated 75,000 acres of woodlands since it was started by lightning nearly three weeks ago.

"We had an excellent rain and we're in good shape," said State Forester Fred Claridge. "It's under control."

Farm Home Lost To Fire Sunday

A two-story home on the W. H. Deal farm located on the Belvoir Highway was destroyed by fire during yesterday's rain storm.

Greenville firemen, who were called to the scene around 1:30, said the house was beyond saving when they arrived.

Firemen said the fire was reported by two men who spotted the flames as they passed by.

The fire fighters said the eight-to-ten room dwelling was falling in when they arrived. Other buildings on the farm were not in danger.

Nothing was saved. The firemen said the fire was possibly caused by lightning.

Atom Bomb Test No. 13 Delayed

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The 13th blast in the summer series of atomic tests was postponed 24 hours today because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The bomb, named "Doppler," was scheduled to be fired at 5:30 a.m. from a balloon 1,500 feet above the desert. The Atomic Energy Commission said the explosion was called off because thunderheads developed and because winds might make balloon handling difficult.

Typhoon 'Agnes' Nearing Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Southern Japan braced today for Typhoon Agnes, which is expected to strike Kyushu Island by nightfall.

Strong winds lashed Kyushu as huge waves pounded Japan's south coast. The typhoon packed center winds up to 160 miles an hour.

The defense agency ordered all members of Japan's Western Defense Zone to stand by for an emergency as the season's first typhoon drew nearer.

Family Of 12 Is Evicted In Rain

FLETCHER, N.C. (AP)—The Flynn family was waiting today to see what the Henderson County Welfare Department plans to do about them.

The 12 Flynn were thrown out of their crude country home near here Saturday, when sheriff's officers served an eviction notice on them.

The family huddled in the rain beside their few household belongings until sympathetic neighbors learned of the situation and offered shelter.

Syrian Army In Pro-Red Hands

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Volatile Syria apparently moved closer to the Communist bloc today as pro-Soviet officers purged rightists from the politically powerful army.

Gen. Afif Bizry, known throughout the Middle East as the most extreme leftist in Syria's army, took control of the army over the weekend, usually reliable sources said.

Bizry, 43, a known Communist, immediately began to purge right-wing opponents. Thirteen officers were fired or resigned in Damascus and a number fled to Beirut.

While Premier Sabri Assali's Moscow-oriented government seemed to have been strengthened, President Shukri Kuwaly's professed neutrality between East and West—already cloudy behind Russian arms deals—became a little more indistinct.

Murder Hearing For Solicitor Set For Tuesday

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A Recorder's Court hearing is scheduled tomorrow on a murder charge against solicitor J. D. Grimes Jr., a member of one of Beaufort County's most prominent families.

Beaufort County Sheriff William Rumbley said Grimes, 41, solicitor of the Beaufort Recorder's Court, had admitted the fatal shooting of one of his tenant farmers, Haywood Paul.

Draws A Line

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Municipal Judge Edward I. McAllister said he refused an appointment to the Superior Court because . . . "it would mean I would be called upon to impose the death penalty and I never want to find myself in that position."

Fruit Of Their Labor: 35 Cents

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP)—Thieves broke into North Jersey Dairyland Inc. yesterday, removed a 500-pound safe, dragged it down two flights of a fire escape and then jammed it into an automobile.

Consultations Begin On Rising Syrian Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called Secretary of State Dulles to the White House today to discuss foreign aid funds and, it was indicated, the crisis in American-Syrian relations.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, in announcing the luncheon meeting, said it was to take up the state of foreign aid legislation and other matters.

American-Syrian relations are at perhaps their lowest ebb. Three American officials have been expelled from Damascus on charges of plotting overthrow of the Moscow-oriented Syrian government. Two Syrians have been ejected from Washington in retaliation.

Syria is buying an estimated 70 million dollars worth of Soviet arms.

Dulles was called to the White House along with Undersecretary Christian Herter, who had been acting secretary during Dulles' nine-day vacation which ended yesterday.

Dulles also arranged a conference with British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia. The British official was understood to be interested in discussing the Syrian crisis as well as repercussions of the recent fighting in Oman.

British troops joined forces with the Sultan of Oman and Muscat to put down last week a rebellion by the followers of the Imam of Oman a tribal spiritual ruler.

Arab League representatives at the United Nations last Thursday demanded an urgent meeting of the Security Council to consider what they called British "armed aggression" in Oman.

Dulles returned from his vacation yesterday. He declined comment at the airport when asked by a British reporter whether the United States would join Britain in attempting to block Security Council consideration of the Oman question.

U. S. policy in all Middle East disputes is to stay friendly with both sides. Thus it appeared that, barring an exception to this policy, the most the British could hope for would be U.S. abstention when a vote is taken on whether to put the Oman issue before the Council.

Dulles adopted a wait-and-see policy on the Syrian question. On returning from his vacation home at Duck Island in Lake Ontario, he went to work on the more immediate problem of House cuts in foreign aid funds.

Dulles left it to his Middle East specialists to keep an eye on developments in Syria while he prepared for his closed door testimony on the aid bill before the Senate Appropriations Committee.

American relations with Syria are at a very low point. Three American diplomatic officials have been expelled from Syria on charges of plotting overthrow of the Moscow-oriented Syrian government. The United States has denounced the charges as fabrications and the Syrian ambassador and an aide have been ousted from Washington in retaliation.

The U.S.-Syrian rift has given the Russians their biggest boost in the Middle East in two years—since 1955, when Egypt accepted the Soviet offer of arms.

State Department officials said no plans had been made to send a troubleshooter to Syria. Dulles took such an action two years ago when the Egyptian-Czech arms deal became known. He sent George Allen, then in charge of Middle East affairs, to see Egyptian Premier Nizam Eddin, 44, but it was in vain. The deal went through.

Dulles had no comment to make after his arrival back in Washington yesterday.

HOT WATER SPONGE CAKE

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs (separated), 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup very hot water.

Method: Grease bottom of a baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 3-4 inches); line bottom with waxed paper; butter paper. Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt; return to sifter. Beat egg yolks with rotary beater (hand or electric) until they begin to get thick and lemon colored; gradually beat in sugar, then vanilla. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak when beater is slowly withdrawn. Pour hot water into beaten egg yolks and sugar mixture, stirring vigorously as you do so. Sift in dry ingredients and mix with spoon until smooth. Fold in beaten egg whites until there are no blobs left. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 30 minutes. Turn out on rack; strip off waxed paper. If cake is to be stored before using, wrap tightly in foil and refrigerate.

Paralytic Polio On Its Way Out

Paralytic polio is rapidly becoming a thing of the past in the United States. The disease which claimed thousands of victims annually for decades appears to be under control as a result of widespread use of Salk vaccine.

The Public Health Service announced Friday that

Just Doing A Job, But Against Heavy Odds

The world is full of unsung heroes who perform tasks far and above the normal call of duty. Most of them receive no special recognition. Few of them give it any thought. They are, in their own opinion, just doing a job which needs to be done.

Among these unsung heroes we count the hundreds of men who for more than two weeks now have been battling the stubborn forest fire blaze in the Stumpy Point-Manns Harbor region. These men have fought one of the worst forest fires in the history of North Carolina under some of the most adverse conditions. Some have gone for days on end without rest. They have faced the blistering heat of the fire and the choking smoke which has billowed from the timber and even the ground.

Through their efforts the community of Stumpy Point and probably other small communities in that sparsely populated area have been saved from flames. Though upwards of 80,000 acres of valuable timberland has been engulfed by the raging fire, the loss would have been many times greater had it not been for these forest fire fighters.

In their own minds they are not heroes. They are just men doing a job which had to be done. In our opinion they deserve special recognition from North Carolina for their determined fight against the heavy odds they have faced.

during the previous week only 70 paralytic cases of polio out of 356 cases were reported across the country. During the comparable week a year earlier there had been 876 polio cases reported of which 360 were paralytic.

Through the use of the new vaccine millions of youngsters have been immunized against the disease. These youngsters and their parents have every reason to believe that the disease, if contracted, will not result in death or permanent injury which was formerly the case. In spite of this progress there remain thousands upon thousands of youngsters in this country who have not received the vaccine. Hundreds of them are in Pitt County where intensive efforts have been made to vaccinate every young person.

Every individual now has at his disposal a vaccine which will protect his children from dreaded polio. But the availability of the vaccine has no protective power in itself. It is not an effective preventive unless and until it is injected into the child.

Anyway, The Patient Is Given A Choice

What's the correct name for this new brand of flu everyone's talking about?

Flu by any other name is still flu. But this newest brand of foreign flu that has attracted so many headlines lately has caused a considerable headache to newsmen who have been writing about it.

The AP Log, a weekly bulletin published by the Associated Press for its member newspapers throughout the country, concisely presented the problem faced by newsmen:

"Is it Asiatic or Asian Flu? It's been coming both ways, and Washington (AP Bureau) undertook to find out which is official. So: (1) The Public Health Service calls it Asian Flu. (2) The Veterans Administration calls it Asiatic flu. (3) The American Medical Association calls it Oriental flu. (4) A drug company now making vaccine calls it Far East flu."

If we get it, at least we'll have a variety of names to choose from.

Ready For The Attack

By HAL BOYLE

Big Gift For Posterity

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people who believe in the old philosophy about here today and gone tomorrow sometimes wonder whether Monday is the day to be here.

They are prisoners of the wrong kind of thinking. Any day is a good day to be in this world, and Monday, if a man approaches it with the right attitude, is as good a day as any other to appreciate life — if that's the kind of a thing a fellow enjoys, as most people do.

The trouble with Monday is that it is the least welcome day of the week for hereditary reasons. Everybody inherits Monday. It runs in every family. You check every family all the way back, remorselessly, you will find that somewhere amid the shy bones of the skeleton in the closet is a hidden Monday.

Too many people think of Monday as a limp hello to tomorrow that follows a livid weekend. They would break the back of the surly camel by trying to make him lurch by the straw reminders of yesterday's hay, reaped in the weekend sunshine.

This is the wrong attitude. Monday, approached moderately and with a constructive attitude, is not so much the dismal morning twilight of an epic essay into living, as it is a bugle call of adventure.

Yes, that is the way to regard Monday — as the bright doorway to another good clean week of opportunity. It is the golden portal to tomorrow, which, I accept the calendar's promise, is good old glamorous Tuesday. And after Tuesday comes mellow Wednesday, Thursday with a hint of harvest, and again another Friday, serene as always but not without its admirers. So the week wears, glistening as it goes, brightening as it ages.

When you get right down to the problem of facing Monday and every man has to — one sees it not so much as a day to endure as a stepping stone toward finer living.

Good old Monday, the solid get-your-feet-back-on-the-ground day, the day man forsakes the pursuit of the wilderness of pleasure and resumes the pursuit of the wilderness of duty.

No matter how poverty-ridden a man may be in terms of piled up cash or the currency of the spirit, he has a wealth of Mondays in his life. There are very few hoarders of Monday, and those who do deserve their collections.

But every now and then a man gets to thinking about his obligations in this world, not only to himself, but to posterity. A guy can't take it with him.

What better gift can a man make to posterity than mortal Monday morning? What else would he rather leave behind him?

NEW CAMBRIA, MO., LEADER: "Reliance on government is more than an invidious disease. It is the robbing of men, first of their initiative and finally of their freedom. 'Whose bread I eat, his song I sing' comes to us today as a warning proverb from the England of long ago when men were fighting."

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., BEACON: "We are dealing in 48-cent dollars today. That means that for every dollar we paid for life insurance during the past few years, every dollar we paid on a mortgage and every dollar we put in the bank is really worth less today than half of what we paid out."

"Learn how to look for a job. When you go out to sell yourself to an employer, don't apologize for your age; be matter of fact. Above all, hang on to your self-confidence. Somewhere there's an employer who needs your experience and abilities." — Columbia State.

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "The regime of Joseph Kadar in Hungary is now taking a step forward in implementing the slogan of Marx and Engels calling on the workers of the world to unite. The Kadar regime is forging ahead in uniting the workers of Hungary in the grave by shooting them down."

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — The growing disillusionment with the United Nations offers serious threats to its survival in its present form. It also emphasizes the importance of the scheduled September 10 session for consideration of the five-nation subcommittee's condemnation of Russia's savage suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

Already, and swelling the chorus of criticism of the U.N. as a do-nothing and double-standard organization, the Communist bloc and a few Asian and African countries have sought to sabotage even the presentation of the subcommittee's findings. Although these same members supported the resolution condemning the Anglo-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt, they seem determined to spare Moscow's feelings.

Should they succeed, the regular October session will convene in atmosphere charged with bitterness and hostility. There would then be no chance of solving the international disputes that threaten global or local wars, and perpetuate breeding places of conflict—the Middle East, the Suez Canal, the Gulf of Aqaba, Algeria, Cyprus—and German unification. These quarrels, aggravated by U.N. debates or failure to discuss them, will kill any possibility of progress on the even more important question of disarmament. Even if the London Conference should reach a tentative and preliminary agreement on principles, which is doubtful, the prospect of squabbling over these minor problems would prevent any affirmative and constructive action.

As he does so well, Winston Churchill dramatized and epitomized the attack on the U.N. But his criticism had been anticipated by such prominent figures as former Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Minister Paul Hren, Spaak of Belgium, Lester Pearson of Canada, members of Congress and Parliament, and of political interest here, by Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California.

In its present form, according to these eminent authorities, the U.N. is a helpless and futile body. The Council, which alone has any real power, can be paralyzed by a single veto, and that is usually forthcoming from Russia or a Western member. The Assembly could be under control of delegates from the Communist, Asian and African blocs. They could command the majority vote required on many procedural matters.

Another analysis of the membership is even more startling. Under the present charter, 5 per cent of the world's population can outvote the other 95 per cent in the Council, and 10 per cent in the Assembly. Half of the world is represented by four delegates, and the other half by 75 delegates.

POSSIBLE DOMINANT INFLUENCE — Moreover, the dominant influence could be wielded by representatives of nations which are the most backward, if not barbarous, in education, in economic status, in outlook, in social progress, and in all the fundamental characteristics of civilization.

Policy For Any Retailer

By ROGER W. BABSON BABSON PARK, Mass. — A friend of mine has a small retail store with two or three clerks. He has worked hard and accumulated a working capital of $15,000. Recently a customer suffered a peculiar accident in the store. A jury awarded the customer $20,000 damages. This not only wiped out the savings of a lifetime, but it put the owner into debt which may result in bankruptcy.

We are solicited continually by life insurance agents. And if we have a mortgage on our store, or owe the bank anything, we must show in our statement how much fire insurance we carry. In fact, both life insurance and fire insurance are recognized by every retailer and home owner as "musts". The only question seems to be as to the friend to whom we will give the business and the amount which we are to carry.

I especially recommend what is known as the "comprehensive" policy! This includes most casualty risks other than life insurance. Unfortunately, less than 10 per cent of the people use these comprehensive policies. My appeal today, therefore, is for every retailer to take out a liability policy and to make it large enough.

Not only should retailers take out liability insurance for their stores, but also for their wives and children. A woman neighbor of mine had a hat with a protruding feather which put out the eye of another woman during a crowded retail sale. The jury awarded the woman $25,000, and tried to involve the retailer. In another case, a parent was awarded $10,000 because his boy got hurt by running into a person while sliding down a hill in winter. A milkman who stepped on a broken board collected $5,000. I could give scores of similar illustrations!

The point I especially want to make is that you will probably have to ask for such insurance. Telephone your agent today for prices and a sample policy. Read this policy carefully, especially the fine print. If the price seems too high, ask another agent to submit his price and a sample. Life insurance premiums are very competitive and vary little; fire insurance premiums are fixed by State Commissions at very low rates; but liability rates vary considerably.

Stocks of life insurance companies are the most popular and have had a great rise in price during the past few years. Stocks of most fire insurance companies are selling below their book values. Owing to the tendency of State Commissions to hold down rates (perhaps unfairly sometimes) they are not making the money they should. However, they have excellent management and ample reserves and I believe will some day be treated fairly. For this reason I am now buying fire insurance stocks while they are cheap. I have never liked accident insurance stocks.

JURIES AND GRAVITY — Probably the most money might be made (or lost) from the stocks of casualty companies. The gross business will continue to grow while thus far we have hated to sue our friends or neighbors, it is fast becoming the thing to do! Most lawyers will take suits such on a retainer basis, perhaps for a two-hundred-dollar fee but with the understanding they are to receive 25 per cent if they win the case. Juries are becoming constant more generous in their awards due to the rise in the cost of living, increased wages, and the depreciation of the dollar.

There is little argument about life insurance awards; a person is either dead or not dead. Damage from fire can also be fairly well ascertained. Moreover, "wonder drugs," new hospitals, and better doctors are constantly working to help life insurance profits. Fire-alarm companies such as Gamewell, and others are working to prevent fire losses. Furthermore, the Gravity Research Foundation, in N.H., is working to prevent accidents, 80 per cent of which come from falls. Occupational accidents are generally covered by compulsory insurance with fixed standard rates and compensations.

Books Publishers Map Campaign

By ELMER ROESSNER

Book publishers' advertising will set a new high this year. It has been running ahead of last year and the holiday spurge will lead it to new peaks.

Meanwhile, the gap between fiction and nonfiction advertising and sales is widening. The reason for both of these phenomena is television.

As W.D. Patterson, associate publisher of the Saturday Review, points out, television dramas, serials and old movies are satiating watchers' desires for escapist fiction.

On the other hand, television ventures into "world around us" type of programs is stimulating interest in science, history, the classics and other nonfiction subjects. But, Mr. Patterson observes, it does not satisfy the interest it creates. Therefore, people are turning less to light fiction and more to serious writings.

Book sales reports confirm this. Low author on the nonfiction best-seller list if often far above the top man on the fiction totem pole.

Publishers, recognizing this trend, have been cutting advertising for fiction but are stepping up nonfiction advertising so much it will set a record.

OTHER BUSINESS FORECASTS — Here are more business predictions, also based on information and analysis.

You'll see more packaged yard goods. Interlun facing now comes in packaging which is about to be advertised in a vigorous campaign by the Frances, Mooris & Evans agency. The box carries the sales story, the material is protected from soiling, and a tape provides linear measure, identification and a guarantee.

The agency expects that all bolt goods will be similarly packaged in a few years.

Canned tomatoes will cost more. Drought in many areas has stiffened prices and canners are edging up their quotations.

Credit will get tighter. The rise in basic interest rates will make stores and their bankers more selective about choosing installment buyers. Slow-pays and no-pays can wreck credit structures at present interest rates.

TAX UNREST BREEDS POLITICS — There's turbulence ahead on the political front. Demands for cuts in Federal taxes are so strong among voters that some Congressmen may jump party lines to gain support in 1958 elections. Some may attempt to use the situation to seize considerable power.

American exporters face barriers. Action to obstruct imports of zinc, lead and butter fats have aroused foreign countries and some will retaliate by restricting American imports. Meanwhile, sale of U.S. farm products abroad at close to dumping prices have angered other agriculture exporters, notably Canada, and countervailing actions will be taken.

Many appliance dealers will be squeezed. Some face bankruptcy. Sales have been sluggish. Discouraged and big operators are shaving prices and scraping the cream off the market. Meanwhile, manufacturers, pressed by higher prices for steel and other components, are pushing up their prices. The vise will squeeze the financial blood out of many small dealers.

EARLY WORK SHIFT TOUGH ON EXURBANITES — "I have a salutary case for you today," the Old Promoter remarked when he dropped in. "Salute and be gone," we said. "We're busy."

Ignoring us, he went on: "The Hazard advertising agency in New York gave employees a choice of eight-to-four or nine-to-five hours this summer. Relieving traffic congestion. You know, 'Well, some executives on nine-to-five tricks found their secretaries had elected eight-to-four tricks and there were a lot of other upsets. But the worst sufferers were the exurbanites who took eight-to-four shifts in hope of getting in some late swimming or gardening. Some of them found, after signing up, that they had to get up at four in the morning to catch-all stop local trains. Since this is your predicting day, you can predict the agency won't do it again next summer."

WE SHOULD PREPARE TO SEND THE STUFF BY TANKER — What is said to be the world's first wine tanker ship will leave Stockton, Calif., for Port Newark, N.J., in a few days. The Anzelo Petri will carry 2,383,840 gallons of wine, not counting the bottles the galleymen bring on for his own use. On its return the ship will carry industrial alcohol, liquid sugar and other liquid foods.

There is vital distinction between the public record of the fact an arrest has been made and giving publicity to all the tips and rumors arising during the investigation of crime. State law protects from public scrutiny many of the files in the FBI offices, but not the fact of an arrest growing out of the investigation. Until a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court files of the Federal Bur-reau of Investigation were secret. In recent years newspapers and radio broadcast its have been full of items about the impact of the decision opening files for the benefit of defendants, because these files contain so much material that was checked out and proven worthless — but still might unduly embarrass loyal law abiding citizens.

Under the several rulings of North Carolina Attorney General the investigating officers do not have to publicize all the tips rumors leading to solution of the case, but they cannot keep secret the fact that an arrest has been made. The "police blotter" is a public record, not the private property of the officer having it in charge.

VOTES — The Democratic party vote in North Carolina is roughly twice that of the Republican vote. With respect to both State and National tickets the ratio ranges from a 55-45 per cent Democratic margin to an 80-20 per cent ratio. Generally the Democrats have about a two to one lead.

As between the recognized parties in the Democratic faction as reflected in primary votes the margin is much closer. One hears on street corners and other places where would-be politicians gather to talk that such and such candidate will beat so and so candidate in the Democratic primary two to one or worse. Analysis of the primary votes for Governor in the past 25 years does not justify such claims.

There has not been a primary election in a quarter of a century when the switch of less than eight per cent of the votes would not have resulted in nomination of the runner-up. Counting only the determining second primaries, when held, the record shows these results:

In 1932 Ehringhaus won the nomination over Fountain by less than 52 per cent of the total vote. In 1936 Hoey won over McDonald by about 53 1/2 per cent. No second primary was called in 1940 and Broughton got the nomination with 37 per cent of the total primary vote. Cherry won over McDonald in 1944 with just a little less than 58 per cent. The hotly contested 1948 race gave Scott 54 1/2 per cent of the second primary vote over Johnson. In 1952 Umstead had just a little better than 52 per cent in the race with Olive. The 1956 race is not properly for consideration here, because the 90 per cent plus margin received by Hodges was due to the fact he was already in office and he had not opposition worthy of his metal. Under anything approximating normal conditions any talk of landslides for factions in the Democratic party is just idle talk.

him but something he regards as sublime. It is not sublime in itself but in what it leads to. And as it was for ancient man, so it is for us. Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS OUR LONGING FOR ETERNITY — Man has been called a creature who takes care of his dead. The animals pay no attention to the carcasses of the other members of the herd or flock. But man looks after his dead.

It is also a proven fact that men in past ages built stone tombs for those who had died while they continued to live in mud huts. What does this all mean? One thing it quite obviously means is that man stands in profound awe of death. He fears it, but he also has reverence for it. It is not only something incomprehensible to him but something he regards as sublime. It is not sublime in itself but in what it leads to. And as it was for ancient man, so it is for us. We have a quite awesome regard for what lies beyond in the dim reach of what we call eternity. Where we came from we do not know. But what we do know is that we will go on to a realm which from the beginning man has believed has eternal significance.

Baruch, 87 Today, Wants Only Peace

OLD WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to presidents and park-bench philosopher, celebrates his 87th birthday today with one wish: to see the dawn of world peace. The Camden, S.C., native, who amassed three million dollars by the age of 32, will spend the day at a summer cottage here on Long Island. He expects visits from his three children. Yesterday, Baruch sat on a porch and talked informally about making his first million dollars, the difficulty of finding a formula for betting on horse races and denying that he never drank intoxicating liquor. "I've never been a teetotaler of anything in my life," he said. The famous stock market trader and government fiscal expert grew serious when the conversation drifted to world peace and the Baruch plan for atomic control, which the Soviet Union rejected. "If I had one wish to be granted me, I should like to see a start made toward permanent peace in the world. Agreements between nations will not guarantee it. There must be an international authority which owns all the natural resources and fissionable materials required to wage atomic war. The authority must also have control of the necessary scientific and metallurgical processes. In a like situation today, Greenwood brings his plane in at 100 feet over the water, points it up the fjord, turns and twists with the curving shoreline. The walls close in gradually on each side. Ahead lies the end of the 6,000-foot-deep chasm. It slopes up and up, to merge with ice fields above. More power now. The growl of the four engines deepens. The pilot pulls back on the yoke and the C54 starts climbing, rock rubble a few feet below. The plane's climb increases as the ice and crevasses show ahead. Now it is thousands of feet up. And an ice wall is just off the right wing tip. Here Greenwood shows his pilots how you can turn and go back if you can't go ahead. The right wing comes up in a bank, higher and higher until it is pointing at the blue sky. The engines roar at full power. Slowly the 20-ton airplane tightens its turn, fighting away from the mountainside. The sheer face of a cliff is no longer ahead. It is 50 feet under the belly of the plane as the aircraft comes about with its wings almost vertical. You are around. What you need is confidence. repeats Greenwood, a native of Joliet, Ill., who now lives in Falls Church, Va.

Warn Thief Of Poison Dagger

NEW YORK (AP) — A poison-covered oriental dagger that might bring a quick and painful death with a single cut has been stolen from the apartment of an Indonesian consular official. Police issued this warning: "Don't take that knife out of the scabbard. The blade is poisoned. Just touching it to any open wound could be fatal." The seventh century dagger, with an ivory handle and gold-covered teakwood scabbard, valued at $3,000, was stolen Saturday night from the Riverdale apartment of Koesmartono Pratoadikoeseomo. He is deputy chief of the supply mission attached to the Indonesian consular general's office. The 42-year-old official returned with his wife and two children from a visit to New Canaan, Conn. about 11 p.m. Saturday to find the dagger and about $6.70 in coins missing. He said the kris had been in his family for generations and is passed on from father to son. The official said it is considered sacred and capable of warding off evil spirits from the rightful owner's family. Each year, it is sent to a Hindu monk who bathes the blade in a solution of poisonous herbs, roots and sulphur. It got its last bath three years ago, he said.

Libel Trial Staged Like Real Movie Set

By BOB THOMAS LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you blinked your eyes a bit, you might think you were on a movie set instead of covering the Confidential Magazine trial. It's all done up the way Hollywood would put it on. The scene is the Hall of Justice, one of the older edifices in Los Angeles Civic Center. It is a picture of traditionalism amid the sleek marble walls of the more modern government buildings. The courtroom is right off Stage 19. It's not one of those sterile modern courtrooms with chrome and acoustic walls and piped-in air. It has an ornate gilt ceiling, and the walls feature dozens of panels with paintings of the state seals. The clerk has a roll-top desk, and portable air conditioners sit in the windows. The judge, Herbert Walker, is a triumph of type casting. He is a kindly gent who smiles to the jury as he takes time out to explain legal procedure. He often smiles as he renders decisions to the attorneys, but his rulings can be tough to either side. He will brook no nonsense in the court, and that includes laughing, no matter how ribald the testimony becomes. The prosecutors also fit your expectations. Dep. Dist. Atty. William Ritzel is dogged and boyish, with a lock of black hair dangling on his forehead. Barrel-shaped Clarence Linn of the attorney general's office has a bulldog look about him. Then there's sleek-domed Arthur J. Crowley, attorney for the defendants, Marjorie and Fred Meade, and their Hollywood Research, Inc. He is fast-talking and alert, always peppering the court with his objections. The parade of witnesses has provided several characters that could have stepped right out of a movie. There was the nervous, middle-aged private eye who faltered with his answers, apologizing that he was hard of hearing. There was the noted madam, who smoothed her long red hair as she told of her past. Sidelights... The show has been SRO every day. There are only two rows for the public, and the hall is often crowded by citizens hoping to get seated. Press coverage was so heavy that the court ordered reporters to present assignment letters from their editors. That wedged out some of the phones. Some of the crowding is caused by the abundance of lawyers who drop in. A pass for admittance appears to be a briefcase.

Hazardous Training Flights Of Transport Pilots Now 'Routine'

EDITORS NOTE: U.S. Air Force transport pilots must fly to remote corners of the world where emergencies often arise swiftly. Part of their training to cope with those emergencies includes actually flying into situations that the moment appear hopeless. Elton C. Fay, the AP's veteran military affairs reporter, flew on one of those training missions the other day. He describes the flight—"most interesting one I ever made"—in the following dispatch. Douglas C54 which has accumulated something like 22,000 hours of flying time and three million miles of travel since it was delivered. Suppose you were flying low to keep under weather and found a wrong turn had headed you up a canyon. Ranchers Had To Stamp Out Small Range Blaze

VALE, Ore. (AP) — A 12,000-acre range fire kept fire-fighting equipment in eastern Oregon so tied up over the weekend that ranchers had to stamp out another small range blaze with their feet. The 12,000-acre fire was believed to be virtually out today. A skeleton crew of 30 men kept watch last night. The fire broke out Friday, starting from a hay-baling operation. Within a few hours it had raced through thousands of acres of dry grass and brush. It leveled the old mining town of Malheur City, now an abandoned ghost village, and burned down power poles. Several ranches and a valuable stand of timber were saved. The Bureau of Land Management here reported that a small range fire broke out near Vale while all equipment was in the field fighting the big one. A rural volunteer fire department rushed to the scene, but for the most part, BLM officials said, fire fighters had to stamp on the flames to put them out. The fire was held to only five acres. Those who rode with today's training flight developed, in a few minutes, complete confidence in the skill of the U.S. Air Force's transport pilots—and in an elderly

Levittown Split In Two Camps Over Race Issue

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Many of the 60,000 inhabitants of this sprawling residential development were banded into two factions today because of some new neighbors—a Negro family. The groups have their names and their leaders. They both profess a desire to be law-abiding and avoid violence. One organization — called the Levittown Betterment Committee — is in direct and definite opposition to the plans of William J. Myers, 32, and his wife and three children to move into an $11,000 home here. The committee, headed by James Newell, says Myers should stay out for his own good and for the good of Levittown. Newell has conducted mass meetings to back up this contention. The other group — called the Citizens' Committee for Levittown — stresses a more conservative approach. Its leader, the Rev. Ray L. Harwick, a Protestant minister, deplored the actions of some of its citizens and condemned what he called "racial bias." Mr. Harwick said some members of his group are opposed to the Myers' moving into this all-white community, while others would welcome the Negro family as neighbors. Harwick says: "One purpose of our group is to show there are plenty of people who don't get panicky in a situation like this, who believe the situation can be worked out calmly, intelligently and legally without anyone compromising his beliefs or getting hurt in the pocketbook." Newell says: "Our purpose in continuing our organization is to devise peaceful means of accomplishing the purpose of restoring our entire white community. One of the means to be considered is supplying Myers with sufficient funds to enable them to buy an even better home in a location such as Concord Garden Homes, which is devised for integration of Negro and white." Myers, a college-educated refrigeration engineer, hasn't moved to his house in this vast development of new low and medium priced houses on the outskirts of metropolitan Philadelphia. Since it has been known he has bought here, mobs of up to 500 have congregated in front of the house.

Room Reserved For Red-Heads

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP) — A room at Juniata College is being exclusively reserved for red-haired coeds. When a new dormitory opens here in November the room will be ready—decorated in pale gold. It was given to the college by Capt. Will Judy, a Chicago publisher. On the wall will be a plaque reading: "In honor of Ruth Judy, titian-tressed wife of Will Judy, Class of '11." Most fatalities in a single earthquake occurred in Japan on Feb. 2, 1703, when 200,000 lives were lost.

Criminal Lawyer Considers Race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George T. Davis, widely known criminal lawyer whose clients have included Caryl Chessman, Death Row author, and the late Tom Mooney, said last night he was seriously considering running for attorney general. Davis, 50, a Democrat, said he was thinking of making the race if Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, present attorney general, runs for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1958. Davis never has run for public office. But he has been an active party worker. Mooney, convicted in the 1916

Says Automobile Folding Up The Umbrella Makers

CINCINNATI (AP) — A New Jersey umbrella maker says the automobile is folding up the umbrella business. Irving Hollander, president of Hollander & Son, Inc., told a reporter yesterday that American males now consider a car their umbrella. "Whoever thinks about taking a walk nowadays? They jump in the car and go for a ride," Hollander said. Hollander, an exhibitor at the Tri-State Food Market Operators Conference, which started yesterday, said he is trying to interest grocers in his wares because umbrellas are an "impulse item" for women. He said, "Get a woman in a grocery store with a little extra money and you can sell her almost anything if it looks good and the price is right." Preparedness Day bombing which killed 10 in San Francisco, was pardoned by Gov. Culbert L. Olson in 1939 after his case went four times to the U.S. Supreme Court.

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP) — Stephen Landry, 2½, dressed in his best pajamas and carrying a blanket, set out to see the world. He got only a block from his home when a woman spotted him and called police. Half an hour later, his parents discovered his disappearance and went to the police station, where he had been bedded down.

Too Many Pills Fatal To Churchill's Son-In-Law

LONDON (AP) — An overdose of sleeping pills took the life yesterday of Anthony Beauchamp, husband of Sir Winston Churchill's actress daughter Sarah, police said. The 39-year-old society photographer and television producer apparently died alone in his apartment overlooking Hyde Park. He had not been seen lately with Sarah, who is four years his senior. Their marriage was rumored finished, London newspapers said, but there was supposedly an agreement for "no divorce while Sir Winston is alive." The former Prime Minister is 82. A former husband divorced Sarah in 1945 on grounds of desertion.

Tragedy Mars Family Outing

PHIPPSBURG, Maine (AP) — A gay family beach outing turned into tragedy yesterday when three brothers, the oldest 11, drowned just as they were about to return to their Litchfield home. The bodies of John, 11, Erwin, 10, and Edwin, 9, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thibodeau, were recovered from the waters at the mouth of Morse River near Popham Beach. The youngsters were sucked under by a strong current while wading to a sandbar as their mother and the oldest brother, Merle, about 20, loaded the family truck for the trip home. A fourth brother, Arlington, 13, who was wading with the three youngsters, reached shore safely. He was treated for shock. Arlington was the only one of the four who could swim. The trio drowned near the place where Air Force Staff Sgt. Bernard M. Wassco, 22, Allentown, Pa., was caught by strong tidal currents and drowned last Friday.

Heavyweight Title Fight Drawing Excess Crowds

Mis-Match Tag Hasn't Swayed Paying Fans

SEATTLE (AP)—A fight which has been hailed far and wide as a mismatch — Thursday's heavyweight title match between champion Floyd Patterson and upstart amateur challenger Pete Rademacher — is attracting turnaway crowds before it even starts.

Twenty miles south of here at Kent, Wash., Patterson's training camp is set up on a playfield tennis court. When the champ arrives for his workout, the place, which seats 1,500, has no more spare space than an unopened sardine can.

"It's a amazing," says Gus D'Amato, Patterson's manager. "We've never attracted crowds like these."

Rademacher is drawing only half as many at his camp in Issaquah, east of Seattle, but he works out in a recreation hall and when he gets a crowd of 750, more than half are standing.

Observers at Issaquah pay 99 cents; those at Kent get in for 50 cents.

Pete himself once said the whole idea of an amateur boxing the heavyweight champion was "preposterous." But the large young man from Grandview, Wash., had a cheekful of tongue when he said it. The fight was already in the making — secretly.

Patterson will collect a guaranteed $250,000. Even if the bout is a $400,000 sellout — and the advance sales indicate it might be an SRO affair — Rademacher is fighting for nothing.

His Georgia backers have put up the Patterson guarantee and will take 60 per cent of the gate, the other 40 going to promoter Jack Hurley. Rademacher's reward — if he should win — would be the title.

Cubs Might Be Better Off If —

League Leaders

CHICAGO (AP)—Where would the seventh-place Chicago Cubs be today if at the start of the season they had the same team they have now?

"I don't know," says Manager Bob Scheffing, "but I think we'd be a lot better off than we are."

The Cubs are riding a six-game winning streak and have won 12 of their last 15 games. Scheffing believes they have knocked both St. Louis and Cincinnati out of the pennant picture.

"This is a different team than opened the season with us," said Scheffing. "I don't know where we'd be if we started out this way, but we'll cause a lot of trouble from here on in."

"We've beaten St. Louis six straight and now we're beginning to catch up to Cincinnati by taking the last three games."

The Cubs beat the Redlegs 8-2 yesterday. Rain wiped out the second game of a double-header with Cincinnati ahead 4-2.

"We're a better club than when we opened the season," says Scheffing. "We have Bob Speake in center, a sound Dale Long at first and then there's Chuck Tanner, Bob Morgan and Bobby Adams. Also we're getting some pretty pitching from Dick Drott, Bob Rush, Moe Drabowsky, Jim Brosnan and Don Elston."

Elston and Brosnan are newcomers who have perked up the Cubs, but Scheffing credits a lot of Chicago's recent success to hitting.

Pony Teams Are Winding Up Play

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Linthicum Heights, Md., meets Paducah, Ky., tonight, the loser to be eliminated from the Region 5 pony league baseball tournament. The winner will play Wilmington, N.C., tomorrow for the championship.

The field was cut from six to three teams yesterday when Tri county, Md., eliminated Greensboro, N.C., 4-2; Linthicum Heights ousted Grundy, Va., 4-1; Wilmington defeated Paducah, 6-3, and Linthicum Heights eliminated Tri county 5-2.

Linthicum Heights and Paducah both are 2-1 in the double elimination tournament. Tonight's winner will play Wilmington only an defeated team at 3-0, tomorrow night.

If Wilmington loses, forcing another game, it will be Wednesday.

Anderson Boy Wins Nat. Soap Box Race

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—For the second time in the 20-year history of the All America Soapbox Derby, the champion is from Anderson, Ind.

A crowd of 70,000 watched yesterday as a blue and white racer driven by 15-year-old Terry Townsend flashed to a length-and-a-half victory in the championship heat. Another Anderson boy, Maurice Bale Jr., now a farmer, took home the grand championship in 1935.

Terry's racer covered the 975.4 feet down the dark green concrete runway at Derby Downs in 27.18 seconds, an average of more than 24 miles an hour.

Here is how Carolinians did: George Hampton, Charlotte, ran second and Allen V. Dick, Greensboro, third, behind Darryl G. Delis, Roanoke, Va., in first round. Ronnie Hayes, Kinston, N.C., won first round, but was second behind Andy Vasko, St. Catharines, Ont., in second round.

Anthony Osbon, Asheville, won first round; ran second behind Wayne Tenme, Evansville, Ind., in second round.

Bobby J. Setzer, Winston-Salem, ran second in first round.

"I just prayed," the frackle raced, dark haired winner said when asked if he carried any good luck charms on his race to the championship. He said he hasn't made up his mind which college he will attend on the first prize of a $5,000 scholarship.

David Hakman, 15, of Los Angeles won a $4,000 scholarship for his second-place finish. He hit a guard rail in a preliminary race and had to repair his steering cable for the final run.

A Candian boy, Andy Vasko of St. Catharines, Ont., finished third. That was the best finish ever recorded by a contestant from outside the United States. He won a $3,000 scholarship.

Hi-Toms And Patriots Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A single run was the difference in both Carolina League games yesterday. The league-leading Hi-Toms won from Wilson, 4-3, scoring in the ninth inning. Greensboro won a 13-inning contest over Winston-Salem by a 2-1 margin. Durham and Danville were not scheduled.

Fred Harrington broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth inning for the Hi-Toms with a home-run over the right field wall. In the top of the ninth Yogi Malangone of Wilson hit a pinch-hit round tripper to knot the game up. Eddie Logan of the Hi-Toms also hit a home run as leadoff man in the eighth to put the Hi-Toms out in front 2-1.

The extra long contest at Greensboro ended when Leroy Bradley sprinted home from third with the winning run as Augie Amorena grounded to first with the bases loaded. Gene Oliver's throw to catcher Jim Schaffer hit the dirt and got away.

Herb Brenner went the route for the Pats for his 10th win against two losses. Leo Giannicchi, who took over for Bill Getz in the 12th, was the loser.

Games tonight are Danville at Greensboro, Wilson at Winston-Salem, and Hi-Toms at Durham.

Yogi Berra, Yankees—Collected five hits and drove in five runs, including all three in the second game, as the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Baltimore 7-0 and 3-2.

Phantom Gridders Are Having Rain Troubles

Early Greenville high school football drills have been hampered by an old enemy, despite the enthusiasm generated by a set of new coaches, new buildings, and a fresh season.

Rain, completely unimpressed with the new personnel and spirit of a fresh approaching season, has kept up a steady assault on Brookgreen field since drills opened August 15th.

A total of 30-35 boys have reported for drills thus far, with most of them being in the younger age group. One coach stated this morning that the boys "are from last year's junior varsity team, for the most part."

Of the eight or 10 lettermen from last year's varsity grid squad, only about half have reported for duty. Among those vets who have made an appearance thus far are Mack Roebuck, Kelly Barnhill, Godfrey Oakley, Robert Howell, Albert Crawford, Billy Cox and Bobby Edwards.

Most of the veterans who have not yet reported are either working or are out of town. Billy Brown and Robin Wilfong, both lettermen, are out of state and are expected to return to Greenville within the week.

Only one injury has taken place thus far during the early drills. Dallas Clark suffered a leg injury and will be out of action for some time.

Coach Bud Phillips and his assistants Robert Youngblood and Milton Reece have been stepping the boys through conditioning drills for the most part thus far. Coach Boley Farley is also working with the gridders, making a total of four instructors at present.

Odeil Wilbourne, another assistant coach who is to work with the team this season, has not yet arrived in Greenville. He is expected Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Coach Phillips has arranged for two drills each day from now until school starts. The team will meet every morning at 7:00 and each afternoon at 4:30.

Chances Of A .400 Hitter Are Better

By JOE REICHLER

The spectacular battle between Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees for the American League batting title overshadowed the pennant races today.

The Yankees stretched their American League lead to 7½ games after a double-header sweep over Baltimore yesterday and Milwaukee's National League leaders held to an imposing 6½-game edge despite two losses to St. Louis. But the baseball spotlight centered around the duel between Williams and Mantle.

Mantle had three hits in seven times at bat as the Yankees defeated Baltimore 7-0 and 3-2. He boosted his average to .385. Williams had one hit in four times at bat as Washington defeated Boston 6-4. His league-leading average dipped a point to .392.

With a little over a month of the season remaining, the chances of one or both finishing with .400 are far brighter than they were a month ago when both were hitting about 30 points below their current mark. Not since 1941, when Williams batted .406, has any major leaguer achieved the magic .400.

Stan Musial took over the batting lead in the National League, cracking two hits in each game as the Cards swept a rain-delayed double-header from the Braves 8-6 and 6-0. Musial's two-run homer in the 10th inning decided the opener and Vinegar Bend Mizell's four-hitter featured the nightcap.

Brooklyn's third-place Dodgers advanced within 7½ games of the Braves despite splitting a twin bill with Pittsburgh. The Pirates snapped a second-game 4-4 tie with four runs in the eighth for an 8-6 victory after Duke Snider's two-run homer had given the Dodgers a 2-1 edge in the first game.

The sizzling Chicago Cubs prolonged two streaks by whipping the Cincinnati Redlegs 8-2. They stretched their winning streak to six in a row and tagged the Reds for their sixth consecutive defeat. Hank Sauer's two home runs in the first game and Red Worthington's three-hit pitching in the second gave the New York Giants a 5-4 and 1-0 sweep of their double-header in Philadelphia.

Dick Donovan's eight-hit pitching enabled the Chicago White Sox to salvage the final game of their four-game set from Detroit 4-1 after the Tigers had won the first game of the double-header 5-1 behind Frank Lary.

A grand-slam homer by Roy Sievers enabled the Senators to overcome a 3-0 Boston lead and make it two in a row over the Red Sox. Cal McLish pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 9-2 triumph over Kansas City with a six-hit performance.

Tom Sturdivant's five-hit pitching in the opener and Yogi Berra's five hits in both games highlighted the Yankees' twin victories. Berra drove in five runs, including all three in the second game. Bob Grim saved Don Larsen's seventh victory in the nightcap.

Ernie Banks helped Bob Rush gain his fourth victory for Chicago, driving in three runs with a double and his 27th home run.

Giant Board Has Closed Session

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The board of directors of the New York Giants went into closed session today to vote on whether to accept President Horace Stoneham's proposal to move the team to San Francisco.

Their approval was expected to be virtually unanimous, thus leaving the way clear to iron out details.

Only last month, Stoneham said that if any of the nine directors attending the meeting was against moving westward, he would not try to persuade the dissenters to vote with him.

There was some talk that some of the directors were unhappy at the thought of deserting New York but once Stoneham got around to citing facts and figures, the talk died down.

Stoneham, it was learned, was exactly what he has revealed publicly over the course of the past month—that the San Francisco offer is "very firm and very fair," that the bid includes a 45,000 capacity stadium along with control of the concessions.

The Giants cleared only $20,000 last season and Stoneham is certain that they could make between $200,000 and $300,000 operating in San Francisco in 1958.

Besides announcing acceptance of the Frisco offer, the Giants are expected to reveal that they already are dickering with the Boston Red Sox, owners of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League.

The Giants are said to have offered the Red Sox $125,000 for the Frisco franchise. Stoneham also is said to be willing to trade the Red Sox San Francisco for Minneapolis, even-up. The Giants own the Minneapolis franchise in the American Assn.

If the Red Sox accepted the latter proposal, the Giants would be likely to place a club in Salt Lake City in the realigned PCL.

WALL STREET — Stock prices dipped sharply today as Wall Street worried about the Communist seizure of power over the Syrian Army.

International oils tumbled because of concern over the fate of oil pipelines in Syria and the oil resources elsewhere in the Middle East, now gripped in a new crisis.

Other stocks reacted sympathetically. There was little in the news to stimulate buying interest. Volume remained low, though higher than Friday's rate which was the smallest in five months.

The oils, hit hardest of all, included a loss of well over 5 points by Gulf Oil, one of the biggest international operators. Nonferrous metals continued their weakness, with losses among the copper shares going to 3 points or so.

Steels, some chemicals and motors also were off sharply. Amerasia was down more than 2, Royal Dutch, Texas Co. and Standard Oil (New Jersey) lost a point or more.

Chrysler was down around 2. Anacostia and Allied Chemical more than a point. Schering dropped about 3 as the news was out on its merger with White Laboratories.

Losses of about a point or so were taken by Goodyear, International Nickel, American Cyanamid, Du Pont and Union Carbide.

Rules Death Due 'Natural Causes'
Pitt County Coroner Griffin Rouse ruled "death by natural causes" after a 60-year-old Negro man collapsed and died in a Colonial Heights barber shop this morning.

Eddie Lee Latham of 909 Imperial St. was pronounced dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital shortly after he fell to the floor of the barber shop about 10:15 a.m. today. He was transferred to the hospital by the Greenville Rescue Truck. Rouse ruled the elderly man died from natural causes and said no inquest would be held.

English Channel Swimmers Delay Their Big Race
DOVER, England (U) — Twenty-five swimmers voted today to postpone their mass race across the English Channel for 24 hours after being told that six foot waves could be expected.

Two Americans are among the swimmers from 14 countries. They are Louise Burdette of Greenville, S.C., and Paul Herron of Sacramento, Calif.

Prizes of 500 pounds ($1,400) will go to the first man and the first woman to complete the 22-mile swim. The race is sponsored by Billy Bullin, a British holiday camp owner.

The race had been scheduled to start early today from Cap Gris Nez, France. The weather has been bad for weeks and cold water was expected to make the swim a tough one.

Traffic Mishaps Mount Up In City Over Saturday And Sunday

Traffic presented a problem to city police this weekend. Officers spent a busy Saturday and Sunday investigating traffic accidents on local streets. Five accidents were reported, two involving personal injury.

On Saturday a young girl was painfully but not seriously injured in a bicycle-automobile collision and a pedestrian sustained personal injury in another accident.

A hit-and-run collision, also on Saturday, resulted in the drivers of both vehicles being charged. The driver of one of the vehicles involved was charged with possession of loosey tickets in addition to traffic violations when officers found evidence of a lottery in his possession.

David Tyson, 36-year-old Negro of 1806 Henry St., was charged with hit-and-run driving, no operator's license and possession of lottery tickets by police following investigation of an accident at the intersection of Boyd and Dickinson Aves.

The driver of the other automobile involved, Joseph L. Grimes, 35-year-old Negro of Grimesland Rd. 1, was also charged. He was cited for improper registration.

Total damage to both automobiles involved was estimated to be $125, $75 to the Grimes vehicle and $50 to the left front of the car being operated by Tyson.

In an accident on E. Fifth St. late Saturday afternoon, Shelby Everett, 11, of 2002 E. Fourth St., was injured when her bicycle was struck by a pickup truck.

Following the accident the youngster was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by her parents for treatment. She was said to have suffered abrasions of the leg. Her condition was described as "good."

The driver of the truck, Alfred Payton Jr. of 507B Boyd Ave., told officers he could not avoid hitting the child who made a left turn in front of his vehicle. No traffic violations were cited by investigating officers.

A pedestrian on Dickinson Ave. had an unusual run-in with the "law" Saturday night.

He was struck by Deputy Sheriff Loyd E. Manning after walking into the street. Jack Bernhart was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital shortly after the accident and treated for abrasions of the left arm and a bruised right hip.

Witnesses to the accident stated the 52-year-old man walked out into the street directly into the path of Manning's vehicle. Manning told officers he could not stop in time to avoid hitting the injured man.

There was no property damage involved. No charges were made in the accident that occurred at 9:45 p.m.

Damages totaled $325 in a two-car collision yesterday morning at the intersection of Chestnut St. and Boyd Ave.

Involved in the accident were automobile driver Lester Bernhart of 228 W. Dickinson Ave. and Coy Leslie Forbes whose address was listed at the Hotel Proctor. Forbes was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Officers estimated damage to the right front fender and door of Forbes' vehicle to be $175. Damage to Blount's 1953 automobile was figured to be approximately $150.

No personal injuries were reported. The collision took place at 11:29 a.m.

In a two-car collision at the intersection of Dickinson and Boyd Aves. Saturday afternoon, minor damage was reported by investigating officers.

At the time of the accident, both vehicles were preparing to yield the right of way to a signal light. Neither driver was charged following an investigation.

The drivers were identified as: William Stephen Stafford of 1011 E. 19th St. and Robert Clinton Hemby of 228 W. Dickinson Ave. Stafford was said to have stopped for a stop light when his vehicle was struck from behind by the front bumper of Hemby's automobile. Hemby told officers that he did not see Stafford's signal and could not apply his brakes in time to avoid the collision.

Damage to both cars was estimated to be $175.

Fathers Told How They Can Assist In Troop's Basic Scouting Program

Fathers of the boys in Scout Troop 340 met last week to solicit assistance for Scoutmaster Roy Honeycutt and Assistant Scoutmaster Harold Bowers.

Dr. Ed Carter, institutional representative, indicated that these scoutmasters were not able to devote enough time to basic Scouting because they were burdened with an abundance of detail work.

This detail work could be handled by parents and many of those present volunteered to assist, he said.

Pitt County District Scout Executive Carl Knott showed a film telling how fathers could help the scouting program and could help themselves by getting closer to their sons.

A progress report on the Scout Hut that is being built by the St. James Methodist Church at a cost of approximately $15,000 was given by Frank Steinbeck, chairman of the Troop Committee. This building will be completed by September 15.

Reuther Offers Modified Stand For Price Slash

DETROIT (U) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, has asked the auto industry's Big Three to cut car prices in return for modified union contract demands.

Reuther wrote the heads of Chrysler Corp., General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. asking them to cut auto prices by at least $100 a car. He said in return the UAW would modify its new contract demands next year.

The labor leader called his plan a "positive and practical proposal for making an effective beginning in stopping and reversing the inflationary trend."

Reuther told the auto leaders, whose contracts with the UAW run out next spring around June 1, that "we are not asking you to take any risk that we are not prepared to share."

"Transcending both labor and management interests by far are the interests of the American people as a whole in a stable price level. For that reason, we are confident our members will be willing to take the consequences in collective bargaining if the price reductions we propose should make it impossible to meet all of their just demands and still maintain a reasonable rate of profit."

Reuther said earlier that when new contract negotiations begin next year his 1 1/2-million-member union's top goal would be a shorter work week and more take-home pay.

The Reuther plan, if accepted, would become effective when the new 1958 models go on sale this year.

Rules Group Still Holds Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (U) — Northern Democrats moved today to pry the civil rights bill out of the House Rules Committee. But Republicans held aloof in hopes of getting a measure closer to President Eisenhower's program.

Four Democrats on the 12-member rules group planned to present a formal written demand for a meeting of the committee to take up the bill.

With four of the committeemen being Southern Democrats bitterly opposed to civil rights legislation, the Northern Democrats needed the help of at least three of the four GOP members of the committee to force the bill to the House floor for action.

But for the moment at least, the Republicans were reported withholding support.

GOP strategy reportedly was to utilize the Republican balance of power on the committee to seek concessions from the Northern Democrats who want the House to accept the Senate civil rights bill with a jury trial amendment narrowed to voting rights cases.

The House originally passed a bill that conformed generally to Eisenhower administration proposals. It would give the attorney general authority to seek federal court injunctions against violations of civil rights in general. Persons violating such injunctions could be jailed by a judge for contempt and there would be no jury trial.

The Senate stripped from the bill the general civil rights authority and limited the injunction

Volume, Prices Remain Low On Eastern Belt

Delegates Leave For SGA Meet

Four officers of the East Carolina College Student Government Association left Monday for the 1957 assembly of the National Student Government Council being held at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Headed by President James E. Phelps Jr. of Greenville, of the ECC SGA, the other members of the delegation from East Carolina College include Edward P. Monroe Jr. of Woodbridge, Va., vice president; Robert Patterson of Rocky Mount, treasurer; and Calvin W. Chesson of Williamston.

Phelps said the national council will be in session from August 20 through 30 and will be attended by delegations from student governments and councils representing colleges and universities from all 48 states and several foreign countries.

Officers said entrance to the building could have possibly been gained through a side window. The break-in is the second in two months, Moore said.

Not more than $4 or $5 in change was taken. Moore told officers. The robber or robbers took the change box to the drink machine after breaking a lock.
