

Has Pedaled Through 26 States

EDWARD LEE, 61-YEAR-OLD CYCLIST ... travels over 15,000 miles a year.

Bicyclist Pauses In His Wanderings

A 61-year-old man who has been riding a bicycle in 26 states, stopped in Greenville yesterday afternoon on his way to Florida. Edward Lee, a man without relatives and home, has been traveling throughout the country since early in 1950. For the past three years he estimates that he has traveled more than 45,000 miles on his bicycle.

The healthy looking cyclist who looks the part of a tourist is heading south from New York where he journeyed to hear Evangelist Billy Graham preach. "I plan to spend the winter in Florida this year and go on out West in the Spring," he said. Lee makes his living by sharpening scissors, knives, and garden tools. Sleeping is no problem for Lee. He spends the nights in parks during the warmer months and in churches when it is cold.

Charlotte Students Again Turn On Lone Negro Girl In School

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Negro student Dorothy Counts, after a week of relative peace, again became the target of spite and thrown objects from her white schoolmates at Harding High School. Dorothy, the only Negro among 1,160 students at Harding, said that yesterday "was the roughest I have had since last Wednesday."

jeering white youths spat on her and tossed pebbles and sticks as she left the school building. Dorothy stayed home from school again today. She has attended only 2 1/2 days of the 5 full class days at Harding. Except for social isolation from her fellow students, 15-year-old Dorothy since had attended school unmolested. "As usual, they had been calling me names," Dorothy said, "but that didn't matter to me. I really thought everything was going along smoothly."

Alleyway Now Paved 'Thoroughfare'

ALLEY BEING PAVED—Workmen today were completing paving of a downtown alley which runs between Third St. and Washington St. Most of the alley has been dedicated as public thoroughfare and the city is paying the cost of paving the dedicated portion. Sections off the right-of-way are being paved by property owners. (Reflector Photo).

Air Of Optimism Rises In Little Rock At Prospect Of Ike-Faubus Conference

By RELMAN MORIN LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus is taking the aggravated federal-state dispute over integration in Little Rock directly to President Eisenhower, and the general belief here today is that a solution will come out of their meeting.

The President read the message on the golf course, just as he finished playing the first hole. He dictated a reply saying: "I have your telegram in which you request a meeting with me. Would it suit your convenience to come to my office in the naval base at Newport, either Friday afternoon, Sept. 13, at 3:00, or Saturday morning, the 14th, at 9:00? If you would let my office know your method of transportation to the Newport area, my staff will arrange to have you met and brought to the base."

The atmosphere of optimism in Little Rock pivots on two main points: 1. It is generally assumed that U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies will issue the preliminary injunction against Faubus in the hearing next week. The governor then would be in the position of having to withdraw, under federal compulsion, the troops guarding Central High School. If he refuses to comply, he might be liable to citation for contempt of court. If he should appeal, and lose again, a fantastic legal situation could result. 2. More important, the great majority of people in Little Rock want the problem resolved — the sooner the better.

Meet Saturday

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus arranged today to confer here Saturday in an effort to crack the federal-state deadlock over Little Rock school integration. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced at the President's vacation headquarters that word of Faubus' decision to come here Saturday had been received from Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark).

Faubus proposed yesterday that he and Eisenhower "counsel together." Eisenhower promptly agreed and suggested Faubus come here. The Arkansas governor proposed such a conference yesterday, suggesting he and Eisenhower "counsel together" in an effort to smash the federal-state deadlock over the integration impasse in Little Rock, Ark. Eisenhower swiftly accepted the Faubus proposal and suggested they confer tomorrow afternoon or Saturday morning.

Superior Court Civil Term Has 30 Cases Slated

LEXINGTON, N. C. (AP) — While the big liquor still bubbled three music makers sat atop rain barrels in the fastness of a Davidson County forest Tuesday night and let out with an ancient song dear to their profession. "They call it that old mountain dew. And them that refuse it are few."

Thirty cases have been calendared for action next week during the first week of a two-weeks civil term of Superior Court. Judge Walter J. Bone will preside over the term for which 40 jurors have been summoned for first-week duty. Jurors who have been called include: Joseph H. Bass, Grifton; David D. Batts, 112 South Sylvan Drive, Greenville; William F. Brunton, Route 6, Greenville; C. W. Burney, Route 3, Ayden; Horace M. Butts, Route 5, Greenville.

Justice Weds WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme Court and his secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Say DeMeritte, were married last evening. Announcement of the wedding, which took place at Black's home in nearby Alexandria, Va., was made today by the bride, who has served as Black's aide since March 10, 1955.

Only 3 Jurors In Three Days For Convicts' Trial RALEIGH (AP)—Three days have seen the selection of only three jurors to hear the trial of nine Central Prison convicts on charges of murdering a fellow prisoner. A second venire of 300 prospective jurors was called in Wake Superior Court yesterday as the lengthy task of picking a jury went on. Five jurors and two alternates must be seated before testimony is heard.

Kasper Begins Workhouse Term

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper went to work as a bar wiper in the City Workhouse today. The Northern agitator was handed a rag and told to start wiping the workhouse bars—everyone of them if he's there long enough. Wearing the same street clothes he had on when he was committed yesterday, Kasper went at his task somewhat reluctantly.

Blaze Damaged House Yesterday Fire yesterday burned out a bedroom, kitchen and a part of the roof of a dwelling located at 415 W. Moore St. Firemen received a telephone call to the fire around 2:30 yesterday afternoon. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a chair in the bedroom of the house.

Hagerty Attacks Report Faubus Threw In Sponge

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—On orders from President Eisenhower, the White House today sharply denounced what it termed "radio and television comment" saying Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the school segregation crisis. The criticism was voiced by James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, who told newsmen the President personally had directed him to hit at such reports.

Bootleg Melody Is Interrupted

LEXINGTON, N. C. (AP) — While the big liquor still bubbled three music makers sat atop rain barrels in the fastness of a Davidson County forest Tuesday night and let out with an ancient song dear to their profession. "They call it that old mountain dew. And them that refuse it are few."

Gov. Hodges told his news conference today that his office and the State Personnel Department had been working to try to find some sort of job for Eaton in state government. "I told him in three separate conferences that we were doing so," Hodges asserted. "I asked him as late as 6 o'clock on Wednesday if he would not delay his resignation, due Sept. 16, for a few days until we could work out something."

Bankruptcy Laid To Two Husbands

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Joanne Dru holds her former husbands, actor John Ireland and singer Dick Haymes, partly responsible for her bankrupt estate. She has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy listing assets of $21,690 and liabilities of $247,133.

City Councilmen Convene Tonight

City Councilmen will discuss traffic regulations for the Junius H. Rose High School-Einhurst School area when they meet in City Hall tonight at 8 o'clock. The new high school went into operation this month. City fathers are also scheduled to consider restricted parking on Bonner's Lane. That street was recently curbed and guttered and paved.

Nationwide Phone Strike Not To Affect Local Area Service

A threatened nationwide strike of telephone workers—called for Monday morning at 6 o'clock—will not affect local and long distance service within the area served by Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company. A spokesman at the company's Tarboro headquarters told The Daily Reflector this morning that Carolina employees will not participate in the strike. "The strike definitely will not affect local service in the Carolina system," he said. "Long distance service within the company area will not be affected, either, although long distance service outside the system might be affected to a very limited degree."

quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge." Hagerty went on to say they also had heard "a great deal of other junk" on the air. "We have deliberately refrained from making any such remarks and any such reports are completely untrue. There is no one on the White House staff in Newport talking that way and I think you gentlemen and ladies know it. "And I would appreciate it—and so would the President—if you would carry these remarks of mine in full." Hagerty said the White House expects a reply from Faubus, fixing the time for his meeting with the President, some time during the day. Eisenhower left for the Newport Country Club for another round of golf as Hagerty was holding his morning news conference. Yesterday Hagerty again denied a published report that a White House emissary had been in touch with Faubus. The President went to the golf course yesterday after a 45-minute conference with Secretary of Agriculture Benson. A statement after that meeting said Benson gave Eisenhower an encouraging report on farm conditions and discussed farm legislation to be sent to Congress next year.

Governor Denies 'Ruthless' Firing

Currie had been that he would stay on. "I do question the suddenness of the notice, which occurred Sept. 5, without a reasonable time for adjustment and changeover," he asserted. In a letter to Currie, Eaton said he would resign effective Sept. 16. In the letter, Eaton cited "personal reasons" for quitting the job he first assumed in 1942 under former Revenue Commissioner Edwin Gill. Eaton said Currie at first set no definite date for him to step out. Later, he added, Currie said Oct. 1 would be the deadline. Shaw resigned as revenue commissioner late last year, but continued in the job while Hodges looked for a successor. Currie was picked for the job last month. He had served as director of the Tax Research Department since 1950.

She has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy listing assets of $21,690 and liabilities of $247,133. Her statement said "tremendous financial difficulties" resulted from an investment made by one of the ex-husbands, John Ireland, and that her "financial position was further embarrassed by the fact that I had to pay off tax liens on joint tax returns that were filed by Dick Haymes and myself during our marriage." It was planned about a week ago. Until that time, he said, every in-

A second venire of 300 prospective jurors was called in Wake Superior Court yesterday as the lengthy task of picking a jury went on. Five jurors and two alternates must be seated before testimony is heard. Many of the candidates have been rejected because they expressed reluctance to impose the death penalty. Solicitor Lester V. Chalmers Jr. has said he will seek to convict each of the nine defendants of first degree murder, which carries a death sentence. Martin Chavis, a 26-year-old Robeson County Indian, was slain at the prison last July. He was serving a life term for murder. Authorities said his death involved rivalry between two dope rings operating within the prison.

Speakers Bureau Organized Here

It was announced at the League of Women Voters Orientation meeting Tuesday night that a Speakers Bureau has been organized.

Mrs. Marguerite Crishaw and Dr. Lala Steelman will be available to speak to book clubs and other organizations on the "U. S. and Its Alliances," and will show film strips sponsored by the N. Y. Times.

Mrs. M. P. Bailey, president of the local League, welcomed non-members and explained to them the purpose of the League. She stated that the League is an outgrowth of the National American Suffrage Association, and was founded in 1920, upon ratification of the 19th Amendment giving women the right to vote.

It is a non-partisan organization which takes a position on issues but never on candidates. Mrs. Bailey then introduced each of the Board members who described her various duties in the League.

In conclusion, Mrs. Bailey stated that "the League program is not an end in itself, but a means of demonstrating how a citizen can be politically effective and achieve an important social objective in the public interest."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Rouse. The first general meeting of the year will be at the home of Mrs. Bailey, Wednesday, September 25, at 8 p.m.

Strontium 90 is not present in foods at this time in sufficient amounts to constitute a hazard to man.

News From Stokes

Miss Ann Stokes, a Senior Student nurse at Rex Hospital, Raleigh, has been selected for "Sautia Filomena" and honor-Society of the Senior class. Only five girls are selected each year. Miss Stokes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Stokes.

Entering ECC last week were Miss Nina Lawrence Perkins, Miss Lela Grey Harris, Miss Mary Edna Hawkins, Miss Nanette Whitehurst, Miss Mary Lou Whitehurst, Miss Jane Bullock, Miss Cynthia Parker and Miss Patsy James.

Mrs. L. H. Roberson and Mrs. Lela Mooring have returned home from a visit in Portsmouth, Va. with their sisters, Mrs. Lannie Hall and Mrs. Hackney Richardson.

Robert Briley is home for 30 days. He has been in Germany for two years with the army. He and Mrs. Briley are at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gus Briley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hassel James and sons of Rocky Mount and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hurdle and daughter of Norfolk, Va. spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. James.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Roberson spent the week-end in Roxboro as guests of Mrs. Roberson's parents Mr. and Mrs. Sid Wrenn.

Attic Trunks May Yield High Fashion

Feel out of the fashion picture at school, with middy blouses and rayon coats taking over the campus?

Don't let it throw you. Just get permission from Ma, Grandma or Aunt Tillie to dig through the attic and cellar trunks. Be sure you have a search warrant because after the owners see some of the buried treasures they may want 'em back.

Everything from old-fashioned daguerrotypes set in plush frames to shawls that once graced a piano have been carted to dormitories by young moderns.

You'll find the modern middy blouse is not cut too differently from the one Mom wore in her heyday. Sweaters are of that cut too, worn over pleated skirts. There are bold blanket plaid skirts that look right-from-the-stable in blue, black and green combinations, enormous bulky-knit sweaters — cardigans and pull-overs. Sheikland sweaters in crewneck pull-overs are popular too, worn with pleated skirts.

New glamor-gams resemble leotards. There are bright colored or striped stockings that cover the entire leg, with feet in them to boot. These are worn with shorts. Knee-high socks are still around, though. Tweedy colors are popular in skirts.

Blue jeans have hit the dust. (Smart school girls will pack them away for their daughters to wear 20 years hence.) The daytime look is definitely a baggy picture, but the evening is all dress-up.

Younger teens and short girls still adore the dress with the fitted waistline and full skirt. Dress up shoes are of Italian inspiration with pointed toe and heel although ballet-type shoes are still worn, particularly popular with tall girls. Everyone is mad for costume jewelry. It seems, and the bigger the better. Heraldic medals are worn on long chains around the neck. Ditto the Maltese cross in bright-colored enamel. Earrings are fun and take a top-drawer place in the school trunk.

Fashions go right into the bedroom with the craziest pajamas imaginable. Middy-blouse pajamas are chic, and big red baby sleepers (like junior wears) are all the rage. Hair is worn either short or in a pony-tail. Girls who've been wearing it short seem to have switched to the pony-tail, and vice versa. But there are no long, stringy hairdos. You can't tell a permanent wave from a natural curl, these days. There are no more kinky tell-tale strands that give the hair corkscrew curls.

SAUCY ADVICE
Add minced parsley to that mushroom sauce for steak or hamburgers.

One-half cup of cottage cheese provides as much calcium as 1-3 cup milk.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Causey have returned from the North Carolina State Florist Convention and Designing School held in Charlotte from September 8-10.

Miss Henrietta MacKinnon Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Taylor of Ayden, left today for Charlotte where she will enter Queen's College this year.

Mrs. Priddy Secretary Of Local League

Mrs. Vernon Priddy was unanimously elected secretary of the Greenville Service League when the group met for their first fall meeting on Monday at Elm Street Park.

Mrs. Wesley Harvey, president, welcomed all members back into service for others. During the business meeting several chairmen were appointed and reports and plans for the coming year discussed.

Mrs. Mildred Evans was named hospital bed chairman. Mrs. Ed Parkinson, finance chairman, reminded members to bring coat hangers tied in bundles of 25 each, that cook books were for sale, and that a bridge tournament would be held on September 26 at 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James T. Little. Mrs. Carl Wade and Mrs. P. K. Andreen will be chairmen for the tournament.

Mrs. Wade announced that the Bloodmobile would be in Greenville on Tuesday, October 1, from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. at Wright Auditorium and again on Friday, October 4, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Moose Lodge.

Members were requested to fill out project slips for the year's work by Mrs. Ed Williford, projects chairman.

Workers were secured for the Coffee Shop and hospital work by Mrs. Morris Brody. It was announced that work would begin at the hospital Monday. Mrs. Little mentioned that the Coffee Shop had a successful summer and has recently been painted and workers now will have new aprons. She added that a new line of toys and note paper have also been added to the merchandise for sale there.

Mrs. Harvey read notes from a girl scout who was sent to camp by the Service League expressing her appreciation and from a camp director thanking the Service League for help.

"During the summer seven layettes were delivered and a wheel chair, a hospital bed and crutches were loaned by the Lending Chest, thus helping five patients," reported Mrs. Ercell Webb, hospital bed chairman.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Ray Minges asked for books which will be taken to Camp Lejeune on October 10.

Mrs. Hart Hostess For Bridge Party

GRIFTON—Mrs. Milton Hart was hostess Thursday night of last week at bridge at her home on Queen Street where miniature zinnias in bright shades were placed throughout.

A dessert with coffee was served at the refreshment hour. The prizes for high scores went to Mrs. Julius Chauncey, Mrs. Roger Johnson and Mrs. Paul Bradley.

Others playing were Mesdames Ben G. Tucker, Mark Phillips, Kathleen Garris, G. L. Tucker, Sam Nelson, Edward Hart, Roy Jackson, Woodrow Smith and Kenneth Talton.

To Relieve Monotony--Use Color

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (U-P)—Decorators are still dedicated to color to relieve the monotony of everyday living. The theme of the eighth annual national homefurnishing show emphasizes the point more than ever: "Live With Color."

Participants in the show, which opens for 10 days at the New York Coliseum, are members of the American Institute of Decorators, the Decorative Furniture Manufacturers Assn. and leading manufacturers of home furnishings merchandise.

The effort has been made in more than a dozen room settings to use color to create spaciousness in a small area, highlight fine wood grains and to establish moods to suit the personalities of a room's occupants.

A contemporary drawing room by Ellen Lehman McCluskey suggests the soft, muted colors of the Renaissance as one means to achieve elegance. William Pahlmann, on the other hand, has expressed an open and serene atmosphere indoors by being dramatically sparing in his use of color.

The trend to nature's colors, sky blues, seafoam greens, sunny yellows and earth tone neutrals are used by Melanie Kahane in an apartment drawing room. She coordinates the decor of an outside terrace with the indoor room, using light colored gothic furniture.

A room by decorators James Daggett and Jerome Manashaw used rainbow colors, while Hector Grant furnishes a bedroom in Directoire and Louis XVI and then

September 12, 1927

Mesdames R. G. Fitzgerald, M. L. Wright and J. B. Kittrell entertained the members of the Wesley Philathea Class of Jarvis Memorial Sunday school Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wright in College View. The home was decorated with cut flowers. After the business meeting a delightful social hour was enjoyed. After a mimic fashion show, several claret stunts were thoroughly enjoyed. A delicious ice course was served by the hostesses. There were 40 members present.

Use More Colors Suggests Agent

The Pactolus Home Demonstration Club met September 3 at the home of Mrs. W. R. Langley.

The president, Mrs. Hassell Harris, called the meeting to order and Mrs. C. J. Satterthwaite led the devotion which was followed by the group singing "Ho! For Carolina."

The demonstration was given by Mrs. Donald Freeman, assistant home demonstration agent. Club members were asked to try and use more color in the home. Many samples of materials, rugs and paint were displayed to show how color combinations can blend together.

Reports were heard from several project leaders. The club voted to send a delegate to the Family Life Conference to be held at E.C.C. September 23.

All club members were asked to enter into the "Pitt County on Parade" fair spirit by placing entries in the agricultural exhibits. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Langley. The meeting closed with a prayer.

For Quality, Rather Than Quantity

Editor's note: The following editorial was prepared for the current series by DON H. CONLEY, Superintendent of Pitt County Schools.

As the schools of the County open for the term of 1957-58 we welcome back to our classrooms the children of Pitt County, their teachers, principals, board members, parents and citizens.

We want the children to feel that school is an opportunity for self-improvement and a place where valuable learning may be achieved, skills developed, and wisdom attained. Let's hope each child will have within him a strong desire for work, play and learning; then school will not be drudgery and boredom but a wholesome and stimulating experience.

We of the administrative and instructional staff are intensely concerned with promoting the fullest possible development of the aptitudes and abilities of all the children of Pitt County and toward attainment of this goal we solicit the close co-operation of all parents and citizens.

We feel that we should go for quality rather than for quantity in our objectives for education. All who work in and for the public schools of the County and all who attend school should not allow quality to be turned aside for programs that momentarily appear to have more rewards and glamor than the tested and tried fundamentals of education. Parents as well as teachers and administrators must determine by whatever standards are available the quality of work they want their local schools to accomplish. When agreement is reached on the degree of quality desired, then all must co-operate to attain standards of excellence.

Pupils will strive for excellence in their work when they know that there is a strong demand in the community for high achievement. Therefore our local communities should inform their children that they are expecting good work and are willing to assist in every way possible to help achieve it.

The schools, of course, belong to the people in the several communities of the County. They have been shaped by the people's efforts and will be sustained in the future by the measure of community interest they are able to command. A school lacking in community interest need not expect to compare favorably with a school having strong community support. Whole-some community interest usually results in frequent visits to the school, adequate financial support, sound business procedures, the stimulation of intellectual interest, and selection and support of well-trained personnel.

In as much as our schools represent the aspirations of parents for the future of their children, the public must take note that revolutionary changes are now occurring in the educational pattern. Standards for college entrance are being raised, competition for jobs is constantly increasing, more and more children are being added to our population. New knowledge has come into being. Scientists and engineers are in constant demand. Ideological conflicts have broken out in America and throughout the world. The need for more and better education is unparalleled. We must not allow the gap between need and effort to widen too far.

Self-Interest Should Insure More Success

Worth of the Farm Bureau organization has been demonstrated time and again. There's no question about its past accomplishments; but now we must look to the future.

Pitt County's Bureau has set its sights on a record 4,500 membership for 1957-58. With numbers there is strength, and in the months and years ahead farming interests are going to need all their strength to meet the challenge of changing times.

Because it is the largest unit of the State organization, Pitt County Farm Bureau bears the burden of serving as "wheelhorse" of the team, and local progress largely keynotes the degree of success for the N. C. Bureau.

Future worth of the Farm Bureau will be largely determined by its membership in numerical terms and in the quality of its leadership. The latter largely depends upon the first qualification.

Self-interest should prompt an ever-increasing number of Pitt farmers to enlist in the common cause of solving agricultural problems and bettering their standards of livelihood.

'Plenty' Is No Simple Problem

By LYNN NISBET

NEW ERA — One of the big problems facing the American people is necessarily to learn how to live with plenty, according to Murray D. Lincoln, president of Nationwide Insurance Companies and of CARE. The Ohio business man made the principal talk at the FCX and Cotton Co-op annual meeting here Tuesday, and earlier in the day addressed a breakfast meeting of some 50 business men.

He was critical of the farm price support program, said he predicted that it was initiated that it would fail and says that plenty is now being fulfilled. We are at the end of an era and must look to new ways of doing things. He contends that since 80 per cent of the people of the world go to bed hungry, about as many are poorly clothed, and since everything that we can produce can be sold at a price, it is foolish to arbitrarily reduce production. Instead of scarce goods at high prices the world needs plentiful goods at low prices. We must learn how to live with plenty.

Every person has a three-fold role—as producer, as consumer and as a citizen. In addition to supplying food for destitute people throughout the world, CARE is trying to aid them in attaining full citizenship in a free world. Human needs are paramount. A hungry man will reach for the bread box before he will reach for the ballot box or the bullet box. The world can produce enough food to feed its people and it should be produced and used for that purpose instead of curtailing production and then destroying surpluses in some areas rather than distributing them to hungry folks.

WORLDWIDE — CARE is an association of 26 organizations dedicated to the worldwide job of helping folks to help themselves. It has established banks, newspapers and wholesale buying and selling houses in several countries—primarily to combat Communism. Its agencies constitute listening posts throughout the world and often discover economic trends ahead of governmental representatives.

Through the centuries wars have developed because nations became unable to produce food for their own people and had to go out and take it from somebody else. It is tragic that now the three greatest countries who do not need to go to war for the purpose—China, Russia and the United States—are most concerned about the threat of war.

Citing the success of business cooperatives, including his own insurance companies, and numerous farmer groups and the organization structure of CARE as examples that nations might well follow, the speaker voiced the hope that by working together the governments of the world can solve the problems of production and distribution to the profit of everybody.

IN STATE — In his annual report to the membership Manly G. Mann, general manager of the FCX and Cotton Co-ops, and Governor Luther Hodges, in his welcoming address comments, focused attention on North Carolina.

Manager Mann noted that FCX at end of its first year's business in 1954 had a net worth of $807.16. On June 30, 1957, its net worth was $10,722,627.37. Governor Hodges commended this growth and called upon all the people of the state, farmers, other business and professional men, to help raise North Carolina's per capita income—which has been 44th among the States ever since 1929.

POTPOURRI — Approximately 3300 people were in the auditorium for the co-op association program Tuesday. The crowd had swelled to more than 4,000 by the time the free barbecue serving ended. Olla Ray Boyd, peripatetic hog raiser and candidate for Governor, Senator, Vice President and President, had advised newsmen ahead of time that he would stir up something at the farmers meeting. He sued FCX last year for $33,000 because fish meal feed bought from their store allegedly killed his hogs. He discovered the fish meal came from Africa. So, he was recognized to ask that the by-laws be changed so that FCX could not buy foreign fish meal. The motion failed of a second, a 1-1 promised strike-rink up fell completely flat.

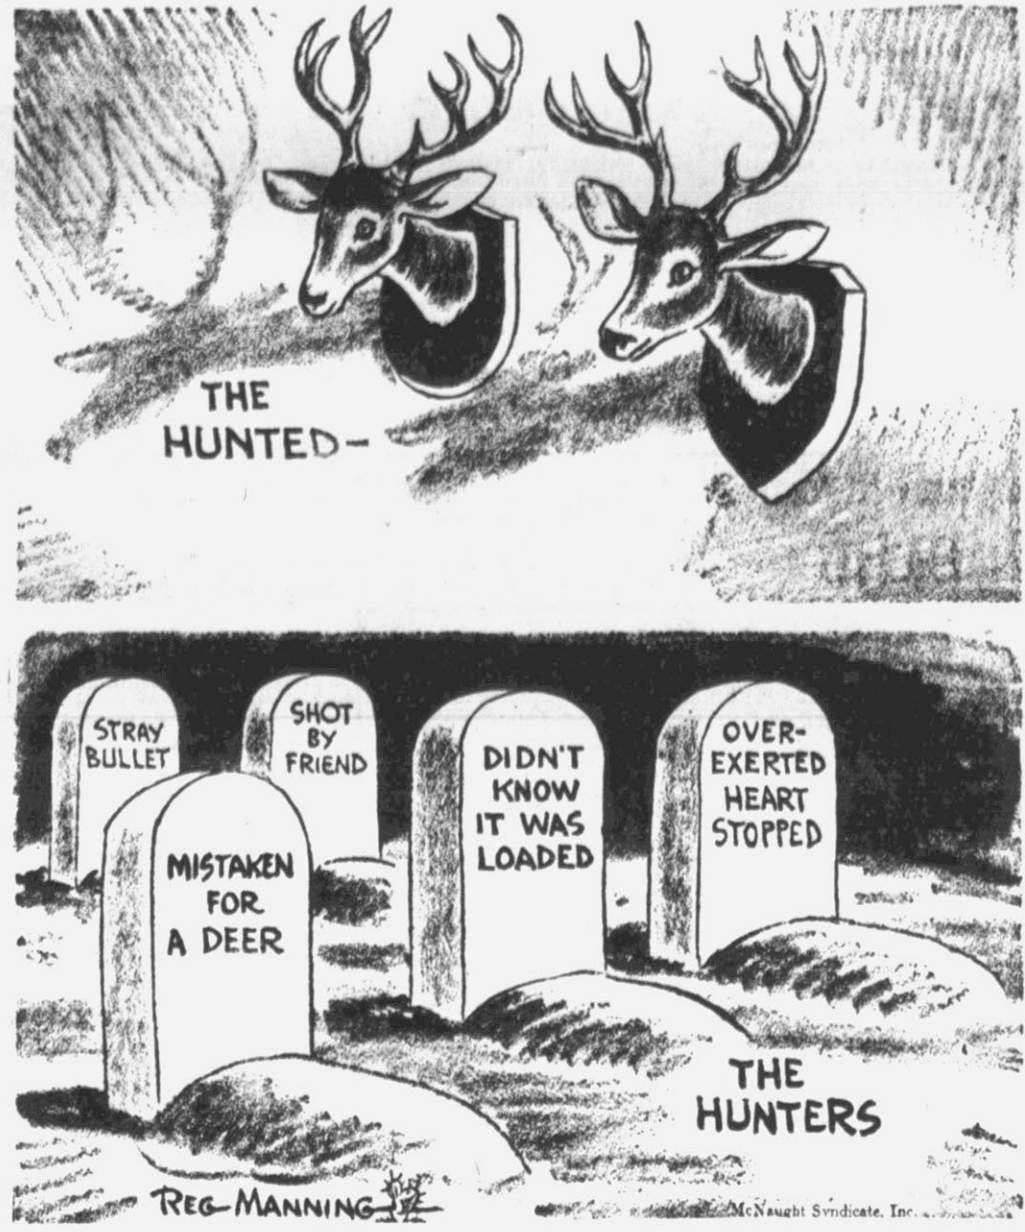

Sen. Kerr Scott got back from an official Senate committee trip to El Paso, Texas, just in time to get to Raleigh for the FCX breakfast. He sat near Governor Hodges. Later the Governor paid high tribute to the Senator for his work against the civil rights bill. There was a little ripple through the audience when the Governor said "The Senator and I have been talking about things we are both interested in." (Could that be a seat in the Senate?)

Voluntary segregation worked admirably at the farmers meeting. Some 500 of the attendants were Negroes. They were treated with the same respect, served the same food with the like courtesy, but there was no evidence of anybody seeking to mingle the groups in a manner distasteful to anybody.

Watch out for the Sadducee. He is generally referred to as an authority and accorded considerable respect. But he is a washout. Decades and generations demonstrate that he knew nothing and that those of simple faith had laid hold on great and eternal truths.

The meek shall inherit the earth. Unquestionably,

Alright, So Look Ahead

Everybody seems to get a big kick out of reading what happened 30 years ago.

I was just wondering the other day after reading Don Schiller's column about happenings "in the old days" why it wouldn't be just as well for the people to read what is going to happen on September 12, 1957.

Bearing in mind the present trend I have decided to interpret the future.

Reading the Daily Reflector 30 years from now one might find a smattering of the following:

President Richard "The Lion-hearted" Nixon has just set a new record by getting elected for the seventh straight time. Nixon today appointed Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon as Secretary of State replacing John Foster Dulles who resigned his position after 32 years of self-exile. The lovable former Secretary of State has accepted a position as president of General Motors Corporation, a firm that has been supporting the government for 10 years.

In the American League race, the New York Yankees sparked by slugger Mickey Berra who is batting .999 have clinched their 21st consecutive pennant. The Yankees edged past Boston's Money Sox 35-0 to avenge an early season loss. Their record is now 135 wins and one loss. They are expected to meet the San Juan Dodgers in the World Series.

Capt. Abraham Lindburg Eagles has just completed the first solo rocket flight to the planet Pluto. The brave airman was greeted at the landing site located near the Nevada Proving Grounds by more than 25 relatives and admirers.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has not yielded to threats of the Federal Government to move the National Guard from around the Little Rock High School. Speaking to his people in the sovereign state, Gov. Faubus said, "Friends, I want you to know for the past 30 years I have done as I thought was right." The remark was the last for Faubus who is stepping down from his high position in favor of newly elected John Kasper who moved to this state some years ago from Tennessee.

The French Government announced last night that they are moving the French Foreign Legion from North Africa to a small island in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. Early reports from a high official reveal that the Communists have infiltrated the ranks with beautiful women and are in the process of smuggling in hundreds of cases of vodka to the troops who are forgetting what they joined up for. One soldier stated, "This is the life."

Other news from the sports world. Sammy Hoxan has just set a world's golf record at the Greenville Golf Course. His score for 18 holes was 20. Talking to newsmen after his almost unbelievable round he said, "I would have had a good day had it not been for taking an eagle on that first hole." Jack Edwards, local businessmansportsman who kept score for the golfer stated it was one of the best rounds he had ever witnessed.

Of course, news is news. And violence and lawlessness in Little Rock or Nashville make larger headlines every time. But where is the effort to "put the Southern" picture in perspective?

When the South defies the law, it makes big headlines. When it tries to comply and fails, it gets plenty of attention. But when some of its citizens with guts stand up and succeed — there's nothing to it. The notice gets buried.

Scotty Reston makes loud noises about press prejudice from Greenville.

Other Editors Saying--

'As Others See Us'

(Greensboro Daily News) — Mr. James Scotty Reston, the New York Times' Washington correspondent, weeps bitter tears from Edinburgh, Scotland, this week as he surveys the American scene through British eyes.

"All our officials, all our failures and foibles, all our problems," he writes, "are thrown into big type in the newspapers along Princess Street . . . There are exceptions, of course, but the main brunt of the news and comment is that the United States is in deep trouble at home, and that she has rejected the policies of Britain and is consequently in great difficulty with the Russians in the Middle East . . . Nothing is said about the schools in the South that have integrated the races in obedience to the Supreme Court's decisions . . . Occasional background articles in the daily and periodical press do put the American picture in perspective, but the emphasis on hard spot news and on social trivia highlights the dark corners of American life to the detriment of the wider sweep of American contemporary history."

Thank you, Mr. Reston, and now will you visualize the embattled Southern moderate, peering from his Mason-Dixon Line window on the Northern press? Precisely the same comment apply. The Yankee press puts emphasis on the "hard spot news"; all the South's "failures and foibles" are drenched in dark ink across the newspapers of America.

Opinions In Brief

"It is a false liberalism that expresses itself by Federal operation of business in competition with the citizen. It is the road not to more liberty but to less liberty. True liberalism is found not in striving to spread bureaucracy, but in striving to set bounds to it. Liberalism is a force truly of the spirit, coming from a realization that economic freedom cannot be sacrificed if political freedom is to be preserved." — Herbert Hoover.

When the South defies the law, it makes big headlines. When it tries to comply and fails, it gets plenty of attention. But when some of its citizens with guts stand up and succeed — there's nothing to it. The notice gets buried.

Line Of Retreat Is Open

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas now has his chance to back down more or less gracefully and still, as a politician who may want a third term, reap some political benefit for himself.

But this situation could be a dilly if he wanted to keep on bucking the federal government. He probably won't.

Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies has directed Faubus to explain Sept. 20 why he should not be ordered to stop using the state's National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from a Little Rock school which Davies three times has ordered integrated.

The Justice Department seems to take it for granted Faubus can't justify using the troops the way he has, and it seems certain that Davies will issue an injunction ordering him to stop.

It is possible Faubus will seek a third term as governor — an unusual thing in his state. Even if he obeys a court order and calls off his troops, he probably already has won the gratitude of those in Arkansas who are segregationists. Faubus says a majority of Arkansans are.

If he refused to obey the order he could be cited for contempt of court, tried and jailed. This might strengthen his position with segregationists because then he would be in the role of a martyr.

But he's already done more — at least in a spectacular way — than any other Southern governor to oppose school integration. He may feel that's enough and so comply with a court order to stop preventing integration.

These are some of the things which could happen if he wanted to be stubborn.

If he were ordered to stop using the troops to keep Negro children from school, he could appeal to the U. S. Court of Appeals to set Davies' injunction aside.

But until the appeals court acted, he would have to obey the injunction or face contempt of court charges. And if he disobeyed, he could be tried even though the appeals court later set aside the injunction.

Suppose, having disobeyed the injunction, he stayed in his mansion, surrounded by guardsmen who were instructed to prevent a U. S. marshal from serving Faubus with an order to appear in court for trial. What then?

It probably wouldn't happen, since Faubus already has respected the court to the extent of accepting from a marshal an order to appear in court Sept. 20 for the injunction hearing.

But suppose he did? The prospect then, as lawyers here explain it, would get completely dizzy. This is how they see it: If he didn't appear for trial on contempt charges, the judge could find him guilty in his absence — say on a civil contempt charge — and order him jailed until he complied.

If, meanwhile, he stayed in his mansion and kept the troops around the school to bar Negro children, the judge could impose a fine on him for every day he defied the injunction.

If he stayed guarded in his mansion until his term was up, he could then be seized and would have to pay all the fines he owed. Further, he could also then be tried for criminal contempt and given a flat jail sentence.

Meanwhile the guardsmen, individually and collectively, could be enjoined from keeping Negro children out of the schools. If they disobeyed, they could be charged with contempt and tried.

Marshals might not be able to bring the guardsmen in to face trial. But if one of the marshals were hurt or shot by a guardsman, the individual who did it would be committing a federal crime.

There's almost no end to the crazy series of events which could follow if Faubus refused to obey the court order.

Ike's New Dealism Antagonizes

By RAY TUCKER

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. — The conservative dislike of certain Eisenhower policies, which flared in the recent Wisconsin election, is shared by several hundred businessmen and bankers in convention at this resort. They range from industrialists and financiers to asphalt manufacturers from Southern, Border and Middle Western states.

Their antagonism toward Federal spending and extension of New Dealism and paternalistic ventures is sharpened by the fact that business has become "spotty," especially in the smaller cities, towns and rural communities. The reaction to this slowdown of activity after a decade of "prosperity" apparently accounted for the stay-at-home vote in normally Republican districts in Wisconsin.

The fact is that "Eisenhower prosperity" begins to show signs of fraying around the edges. And there is no great or warm enthusiasm for the men at Washington, including the President, to offset this economic disillusionment. It must be admitted that the hero-President has not generated the devotion which F.D.R. inspired among his adherents.

ADMINISTRATION TO DEFEATED. There seems also to be a belief that the Administration's key figures are not too deeply concerned with the problems or troubles of local interests or communities — Roosevelt managed to convince them that he was worried over them. Both the policies and the personalities of the government impress them as being too detached and indifferent.

There is resentment concerning the Eisenhower-Dulles preoccupation with foreign affairs, especially as it is reflected in heavy overseas spending. Contrary to Administration arguments before Congressional committees, these billions contribute only slightly to profits and employment in this country, whereas they do act to keep taxes high.

In fact, according to statistics inserted in the Congressional Record toward the close of the recent session, the annual $3 billion appropriation for foreign loans and grants is responsible for only 300,000 jobs in the United States.

FROM ISOLATIONIST AREA. As a corollary to opposition to international generosity, these bankers, businessmen and industrialists do not expect war or serious difficulties with Russia. It should be noted, however, that most of these convention visitors come from an area not famous for its internationalistic sentiment. It was Taft territory when the late Ohio Senator was alive.

This businessmen's revolt against the Republicans — or against "modern Republicanism" — may be only a temporary and passing defection. But if it should persist, and it undoubtedly will in the event of a possible economic decline, it could be dangerous for the GOP in 1958 and 1960.

It could mean a heavy gain of Democratic seats in both House and Senate. It could force the Republicans, no matter who their Presidential candidate may be, to repudiate "modern Republicanism" in the 1960 affair.

WHAT PROXIMITY ELECTION SHOWS THE GOP can ill afford to lose these once faithful customers. For a detailed analysis of the Wisconsin returns in the Proxmire-Kohler contest, show clearly that the Democrats retain their popularity among the labor, nationality (German and Polish), farm and colored elements.

Ike's retention and expansion of New Deal benefits have not disabused these groups of the realization that it was F.D.R. who inaugurated them, and Truman who exploited them.

Even the Negro wards, despite the Administration's insistence on a much stronger Civil Rights Bill, voted for Senator Proxmire. Thus, if the solid and conservative businessmen, who can afford the $40-60 a day rate at their convention hotel headquarters, desert the GOP or even return to golf and fish and bridge on Election Day next year and in 1960, the Republicans are sunk!

Reception Fetes School Faculty

BETHEL—Recently the Bethel School Committee, consisting of Mr. D. W. Alexander, Dr. W. A. Moody, H. L. Briley, W. T. Ward and W. R. Hunnicutt, and the principal, W. C. Latham, were hosts at an informal reception in the school cafeteria for the Bethel school faculty.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Briley and introduced to the receiving line composed of the School Committee and his wife, and the principal and his wife.

Mrs. E. E. Dennis, president of the Bethel P.T.A., poured punch and the guests served themselves from an auxiliary table filled with party foods.

Approximately 60 guests were present for the occasion. New members of the school faculty are: Mrs. Jule Pollard, Mrs. Robert French, Mrs. Alton Carson, Mrs. Collins Lewis and Donald Thompson.

Supper Precedes Bridge Club Meet

GRIFTON—Mrs. David Parker had as guests for a bridge supper on Friday night her contract club members and invited guests to make three tables of bridge.

The home for the evening was decorated with arrangements of marigolds and greenery placed in white pottery bowls.

Prizes for highest scores were presented to Mrs. Clifton Jackson, Mrs. Paul Bradley and Mrs. Woodrow Smith.

Other players were Mesdames Walter Murphy, Wilbur Murphy, Becky Worthington, Bryan Davis, Frank Davis, Mark Phillips, Milton Hart, Don Casey and Walter Patrick.

Mrs. Parker served a chicken stew plate with iced tea and cake with ice cream prior to the games.

TESTING YEAST DOUGH

The time it takes yeast dough to double in bulk will vary with the temperature of the room, the amount of yeast used, the type of flour used and upon the other ingredients in the recipe. To test whether dough has doubled its original size, press two fingers deep into it; if the holes remain when fingers are withdrawn, the dough has probably doubled in bulk. When the shaped dough has stood in a warm place until it is puffy, press it gently with a finger tip. If a slight indentation remains, it is ready to bake.

Buddy Harrel will be here the 16th & 17th of Sept., showing the new fall fashions.

Mrs. Simon Gives Arranging Hints To Garden Club

GRIFTON—The Grifton Garden Club met for the first meeting of the year on Friday afternoon in the Home Economics department of the high school with Mrs. Don Casey, president, presiding at the business meeting.

The program was on flower arranging given by Mrs. Joe Simon of Kinston. Mrs. Simon is beautification chairman of District 9 Garden Clubs. Using garden flowers and greenery she arranged several bowls and containers which could be used in the home or in church as decorations.

While arranging, she gave pointers and information in flower arranging.

Following the program the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. T. J. Williams and Mrs. Bill Mahler, served light refreshments.

Mrs. Jack Collins Entertains Club

AYDEN—On Friday evening Mrs. Jack M. Collins was hostess to the Odds and Ends Club when she entertained at a dessert bridge party at her home on North Lee Street.

At the close of the bridge progressions, Miss Edith Dunn was given an apron for the high score prize while Mrs. James W. Everett received a choppette set for the runner-up prize.

During the game iced drinks and cheese wafers were served to Miss Dunn, Mesdames Everett, Keith Brunson, Alton Gardner, Steve Sudor, T. Staton Ross, Helen L. Jones, and Ralph P. Hardee.

The new high school instructors are John Roberson of Robersonville, math; Mrs. Annette Plyler of Greenville, English; Thomas Adams of Parmele, science; and Miss Susanne Hardison of Jamesville public school music.

Vincent J. Columbo, a native of Massachusetts, succeeds C. B. Martin as principal.

Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Posev Win High For Guests

GRIFTON—Mrs. George Deidrick entertained at a dessert bridge Thursday night at her home in Pine Villa. Guests included members of her bridge club and invited guests for three tables of bridge.

A color scheme of yellow and white was used in the decorations which were marigolds and obelia.

A dessert with coffee was served as cards were laid aside. The highest scores for the evening were held by Mrs. William Rhodes and Mrs. Wayne Branscome among club members and for guests Mrs. Paul Fisher and Mrs. Larry Posev.

Others playing were Mesdames Vernon Ball, Will Crowthers, Carl Whitlock, William Spivey, William Rhodes and house guest, Mrs. Alfred O. Smith of Houston, Texas, the above from Kinston, and Mesdames B. F. McLaurine, Richard Cavanaugh and Howard Kress.

Mrs. McCormick Has Bridge Club, Guests

AYDEN—On Friday night Mrs. Bonnie McCormick was hostess to her bridge club and other guests at her home.

Three tables of bridge were in play. At the end of the game Mrs. Lesie Stocks was remembered with lipstick, while Mrs. Joe Tripp was remembered with a bath towel.

Mrs. Irma Belle Collins received a towel as guest high. Mrs. Tripp captured the Bingo prize. Low was won by Mrs. Mary Smith.

Mrs. McCormick served a sweet course to the following: Mesdames Stocks, Tripp, Collins, Smith, Walter Thompson, Clarence Hart, Chester Hart, Wilbur Dunn, Mac Edwards, Tucker Tripp, Stuart Tripp and Marvin Baldree.

School Integration Gains But Expected Move Slower

By JIM THOMASSON

ATLANTA (AP)—Like sugar lumps in a spatter of rain, public school segregation in the three years since it was held invalid by the U.S. Supreme Court has been dissolving slowly in a spotty pattern toward the heart states of the Deep South.

There is some indication the action, mostly peaceful but marked by occasional violence, may go even more slowly, the deeper south it penetrates.

But of the 17 states which maintained separate schools for white children and Negroes prior to May 17, 1954, only in the seven citadels of traditional racial separation—Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina, Mississippi and Virginia—are all public classroom color barriers still intact today.

And in several of them, the practice is under strong legal attack.

Integration has proceeded inward from the border states. White and Negro pupils now sit in the same classrooms in at least some schools in Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

But the Southern School News reports in its latest edition that while 738 school districts have begun or accomplished desegregation since 1954, there remain 2,300 "bifurcated districts still tightly segregated."

Southern School News is the publication of the Southern Education Reporting Service, a fact-finding agency created to compile information on developments arising from the Supreme Court decree.

Most of those 2,300 districts are, of course, in the Deep South states, but segregation areas also remain in virtually all of the border states, contributing to the spottiness of the over-all picture.

Each of the three new school terms since the Supreme Court said that separation of children in public schools on the basis of race alone is unconstitutional has brought a flareup of disturbances.

Demonstrations hit areas in West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia in 1954. Last year, Clinton, Tenn., Sturgis and Clay, Ky., and Mansfield, Tex., were the trouble spots.

Little Rock, North Little Rock, Ark., and Nashville, Tenn., are the center of attention now.

But less well known have been demonstrations in such places as San Antonio, Tex., Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla., Kansas City and

St. Louis, Mo., Louisville, Ky., and Ozark, Ark.

Why does violence flare up over integration in some instances, while desegregation goes along so peacefully in others?

Harold Fleming of the Southern Regional Council, an organization devoted to better racial relations, concedes there is no easy answer. He believes however, some contributing factors can be singled out.

The low ratio of Negro population and the cost of maintaining separate schools undoubtedly were factors in integration steps of some smaller systems, says Fleming.

Community climate and proper preparation he credits with aiding smooth integration in other areas. Under community climate, Fleming lists such things as a history of peaceful race relations, previous integration of ministerial or physicians groups, libraries, buses playgrounds and the like.

St. Louis is cited as an example of preparedness. An extensive program was undertaken there. Fleming said, and integration was accomplished with a minimum of incidents.

On the other side, says Fleming, in places where the citizens and leaders are not ready for it and where there are strong or outspoken pro-segregation groups, school integration is more likely to encounter difficulty.

After moving rather rapidly in the border states during the first two years, racial mixing in public school classrooms went forward at a slower pace this fall. Of the 738 districts which have begun integration, Southern School News reports only 25 were making the start this year.

The publication actually listed 27, but that figure included Little Rock and North Little Rock, where the development has been balked at least temporarily.

Districts beginning integration this year include three in Arkansas, six in Kentucky, one in Maryland, seven in Missouri, three in North Carolina, four in Oklahoma and one in Tennessee.

ECC Newspaper Staff Organizes

East Carolina College's weekly student newspaper, the "East Carolinian," recruited at the opening meeting for 1957-1958 forty-one student journalists who will serve on the staff for the school term.

Editor Janice F. Raby, senior from Norfolk, Va., stated that the newspaper begins the fall quarter with the largest staff within the past three years.

An Executive Committee, a new staff organization, began this week the duties of shaping policies for the weekly and directing special projects of the staff.

Composing this group are Miss Raby; Carolyn Smith of Wilson, business manager; Martha Wilson of Winston-Salem, features editor; Bryan Harrison of Asheville, associate editor; Johnny P. Hudson of Wadesboro, sports editor; Robert Harper of Greenville, photographer; and columnists Claudia Todd of Ahostke, Purvis Boyette of Raleigh, and E. Mike Katsilas of Virginia Beach, Va.

First issue of the "East Carolinian" for the school year is slated to appear Thursday, September 19. An eight-page edition, it will be distributed among students and faculty, members of the college Alumni Association, and other friends of the college.

Plans already in progress for 1957-1958 include a talent show during the fall quarter, attendance by a group of staff members at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association later this year in New York City, and the establishment of a number of awards to be presented during the year to staff members showing special merit as student journalists.

'Lightning' Got The Man Twice

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—You'll never convince Geary L. Schade, 37, that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

Schade missed $120 from his topcoat pocket as he left a bar. As he returned to the tavern, two men told Schade they knew who had the money.

The two men drove Schade to a residential area, stopped the car and told Schade to put his hands up. Then they relieved him of another $200.

NO KISSES

DALLAS (AP)—Manoucher Shoja, a bridegroom of three weeks, didn't kiss his new wife yesterday when he greeted her for the first time in five months. But it wasn't for lack of affection. Kissing, said Shoja, is not a Moslem custom. Shoja and his bride were married by proxy.

Post-Deadline Problems Aired

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The World-News here reported to its readers why stories sometime failed to get in the paper on time.

A World-News reporter called an Air Force major. He was out playing volleyball and not near a phone, but would call later.

The reporter called the superintendent of a vacation Bible school for some information. A child said mama was taking a bath but would call later.

The reporter called a business man to check a date. The business man couldn't say because his secretary kept the records and she was then attending a weight-reducing class.

Telltale Scent For A Lawman

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—After getting lost on a rural road near here while serving a jury summons, Sheriff Burton Arnold stopped at a small house to ask directions.

No one answered the knock but Arnold smelled something familiar. He walked inside and saw a variety of moonshine raw materials.

Later he and state police arrested a man at the house. Then Arnold went on to serve the jury summons.

Foresters say that in Kansas shelterbelts, planted during the early '30s to check dust storms, only pines and cedars are still living and effective.

Honeymoon Was In A Hoose-gow

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Chief Justice O. Otto Moore of the Colorado Supreme Court celebrated his 38th wedding anniversary with a recollection of his honeymoon. He spent it in the hoose-gow.

Moore, a soldier in World War I 38 years ago, recalled he was denied an Army leave to get married after his return from combat duty.

He took his own leave, got married. Moore returned to camp seven hours after the ceremony and faced a court-martial. "A captain said he was being lenient," Moore recalled. "He gave me 60 days. I told him I was glad he wasn't in a bad mood."

Many photographers find the extraneous and sometimes harsh shadows cast by the flash bulb to be quite objectionable particularly when the flash is directed fully upon the subject. They claim this method defeats the naturalness they strive for in a picture.

In shooting indoor pictures without supplementary light, it is usually best to work with a tripod since long exposures are generally necessary along with stopped-down diaphragms.

When the photographer wishes to use the slower speed films for purposes of avoiding graininess, the next best thing to available light is the bounce-light technique. Bounce-light means using a synchronized bulb without aiming it at the subject.

BOUNCE AND NATURAL: Bounce light and natural light are two techniques by which the indoor photographer can avoid the harsh shadows of direct artificial light.

Agitator Kasper Is Never At Scene When Actual Violence Breaks Out

By BILL RAWLINS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — John Kasper, arrested for fomenting school integration trouble here just as he was at Clinton a year ago, appears undaunted by two federal contempt convictions — both for stirring up previous racial strife.

His tactics are the same—only the names have been changed to fit the situation. He greeted a front-page editorial in the Nashville Banner that he be run out of town with a characteristic "Yellow Journalism." He refused any further comment on anything.

He still preaches disregard of constituted authority, hate for "niggers" (never "Negroes"), hate for Jews (never capitalized in his inflammatory handbills), and contempt for newspapers in general.

Despite his contention that he advocates what he calls "peaceful" resistance to racial integration, a recent handbill distributed by the Tennessee White Citizens Council—whose office is Kasper's hip pocket—declares: "When they put the niggers in school with your kids in September, load your shotgun to defend your wife and home—be prepared for the worst race riots, hangings, anything."

In justice to him, however, it should be noted that he has never been at the actual scene when the violence started. He may have agitated those who became violent — at least, he's always been around to see that the accused made bond—but he has been on the other side of town, out of state, or just out of pocket during the actual violence.

During the big weekend of violence which followed admission of 12 Negroes to Clinton High School, 200 miles east of here last fall, Kasper was in jail at Knoxville. U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor sentenced him to a year in prison for fomenting that violence, anyhow, on grounds Kasper had violated his permanent injunction against interfering with Clinton High integration. Taylor had ordered Clinton High to integrate, just as Federal Dist. Judge William E. Miller has ordered Nashville first grades to be integrated.

Kasper, 27-year-old Columbia University graduate, again was convicted of violating Taylor's injunction last July, when an all-white jury in Knoxville found him and six Clinton residents guilty of stirring up trouble which arose in November and December. He has appealed the year's sentence to the U.S. Supreme Court, which he has denounced as communistic for banning school segregation in May 1954.

He and the other six are awaiting sentence in the July convictions.

The Tennessee career of the New Jersey-born "rabble rouser"—his own term for himself—began Aug. 25, 1956, two days before Clinton High School was to begin its first year of integrated operation.

It was on that day, a Saturday, that Kasper arrived in Clinton, and started on a house-to-house, door-knocking campaign to arouse sentiment against the integration order. He never before had been in Tennessee prior to his arrival, Clinton—which has an insignificant proportion of Negroes among its 4,000 population—had appeared to be taking the impending race mixing in stride.

He testified later that he slept that first night in his car, which he drove here from Washington, D.C., where he ran a bookstore and consorted with Ezra Pound, racist poet who is confined to a federal mental institution.

The second night, however, he had found a home with a rural family in Clinton, and the third night—a Monday—he held forth on the Anderson County Court-house square in Clinton with his first anti-integration harangue.

A state charge of inciting to riot was dismissed for lack of evidence. That only made him more confident, and the next night his audience was even larger, his anti-integration speech even bolder. On Wednesday, U.S. marshals served a temporary order to restrain him from interfering with peaceful integration of Clinton High. He was tried before Taylor on Friday and adjudged in criminal contempt of court. That was when he was sentenced to a year in prison.

Thus, he was in jail in Knoxville when rioting broke out that Friday night on the Clinton town square. Subsequently, he was tried in a state court at Clinton on charges of sedition and inciting the riots. But largely on the strength of his lawyer's argument that he could not be responsible when he was not there, he was acquitted.

Meanwhile, Judge Taylor made his injunction permanent and Kasper was rearrested in February on grounds he conspired with the other six—arrested in December—in renewed violence which temporarily closed Clinton High last Dec. 4—at a time when Kasper was out of town. The payoff came at the July trial in Knoxville, when Kasper again was convicted, along with the others, of criminal contempt.

Free on bond while awaiting the outcome of a motion for a new trial, Kasper came to Nashville in August. He attracted, with his now-familiar anti-integration speeches, crowds which at first did not number more than 50 persons. On one occasion, at least, a Negro rhythm band a few blocks away outdrew him. But, as the hour drew near for integration to begin here, his crowds increased, and after 15 Negroes—registered for integrated first-grade classes Aug. 27, as many as 150 showed up. He seemed to hold them—as he had his followers in Clinton—spell-bound.

While he was in Nashville, significantly, Clinton High began its second year of integrated operation quietly. Eight Negroes enrolled without incident or outward protest.

Nashville now was his headquarters. And, characteristically, Nashville was the scene of his latest arrests.

George, Eddie Team Up To Unify 2 Audiences

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Fisher and George Gobel, the new buddy team of television, are in a tizzy over talents and ratings.

Says Gobel, one of TV's last surviving comics: "You just gotta hang in there and ride it out."

Says Fisher, the minstrel lad who suddenly found himself in a mass singer stampede to the networks: "I think you are going to see an entirely different picture around television planning by January. We hope to be a part of it."

Gobel and Fisher—the billing reverses on alternate weeks—are the key men in NBC's tandem thrust to lure the watching crowd each Tuesday in the 8 to 9 p.m. (eastern time) slot.

Their dual activities commence Sept. 24, and although the enterprise was booked last spring, Eddie and George have yet to huddle in any formal manner.

This does not indicate any off-camera aloofness, but is simply the way things work out in an era of complex bookings, overnight cross-continent sorties and the exigencies of multiple enterprise.

"He's a swell guy," comments George of Eddie. "I think we'll get along just fine," reports Eddie.

Separate production staffs will set up the alternate programs in the series, with backstage liaison to guard against duplication of ideas and talent tapping.

It is on this point of guest performers that the pair echo identical sentiments.

"Trading is going to be the only medium of exchange," asserts Eddie. "Prices have gone through the roof."

Gobel explains that the idea of the tandem setup is to unify two groups of fans, the Fisher enthusiasts of song, the Gobel addicts of humor.

"You gotta admit that was some good thinking," says George. "It may not work but it was good thinking."

BIG BEAR, Calif. (AP) — The Old Miners Days celebration brought out an edition of the Old Miner's Gazette which contained these ads:

"We clean your dirty corsets, spats and camisoles. Trousers creased, front and back, Colman Cleaners."

"Wawona Boarding House. Swimm'n' hole filled with sheep dip. Miners, burros and coyotes welcome."

"Flat beer, bumpy billiard tables, awful food... but good conversation at The Wheel."

"Claim jumpin' done legal like. See our escrow department. Sure Thing McGarth."

"Three cornered levis for little miners at Grace's Baby Shop."

"Ladies — Your hair washed and blowed dry. Painless hardos. Jensen's saloon of tonsorial artistry."

Prophet Failed In Weather Dept.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — John A. Cummings, meteorologist in charge of the U. S. Weather Bureau station here, was observed hurrying to an airport parking lot.

It had just rained heavily. The streets were wet. So was Cummings' convertible automobile. The top was down.

Number Talk For Touring Abroad

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — You wouldn't have to know the language to reserve a hotel room in a foreign country, under a system being worked out by a State University of Iowa professor.

Prof. Erich Funke, head of the university's German department, calls the system Translingua. Under it you would simply substitute numbers for common words.

For instance, if you wanted to cable "Arriving Monday. Reserve single room with bath" you would simply transmit "432-27.212." Dr. Funke feels that such a system might be a boon to travelers and hotel operators the world over. The numbers, he explains, would mean the same in any language and clerks could decipher the number messages by consulting dictionaries now being prepared by Dr. Funke and his staff.

Ask Outside Help In Corporate 'Divorce'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department's Antitrust Division has called in outside economists to help figure out how to divorce Du Pont and General Motors with the least impact upon the economy. Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, head of the Antitrust Division, disclosed today that the economists will help in preparation of recommendations for ending the long-time Du Pont-GM relationship in accordance with a Supreme Court decision last June. But, Hansen stressed, "we definitely have not arrived at any recommendation." While Hansen declined to specu-

Antitrust Division on the case are Dean Ewald T. Grether of the Graduate School of Business Administration, University of California, and Carl Kayser, an associate professor of economics at Harvard. The next step in the long litigation will take place this fall before Federal Dist. Judge Walter J. Labuy in Chicago. One idea being discussed within the Justice Department would call for placing the stock in a voting trust, with Du Pont interests having no voice in voting it, and with a part of the stock to be sold off yearly. There is strong opposition to placing the stock in a permanent trusteeship.

Like- wise, there was general agreement that Du Pont would not be required to dump its 23 per cent holding of GM stock onto the market all at once. Du Pont's 65 million shares of GM stock are valued at about $2,700,000,000—too much, everyone agrees, for the market to digest easily in a short time. Likewise, there was general agreement that the Justice Department would insist not only that Du Pont yield its working control of GM, but that it also give up any influence in the affairs of the No. 1 auto maker. Economists working with the

Sees Threat To Rural Phones

CLINTON, N.C. (AP)—Policies of the State Utilities Commission have been cited by an official of electric cooperatives as "a direct threat" to the rural telephone program. William T. Crisp of Raleigh, executive manager of the Tar Heel Electric Membership Assn., warned of what he called "grave dangers" to the program in an address yesterday to the Cumberland-Sampson Telephone Membership Corp.

Crisp said that unless "bad policies" on both the national and state level are reversed "not only will expansion of rural phone service cease, but some of the telephone cooperatives already organized will ultimately fail." A decision by the State Utilities Commission which allowed Central Telephone Co. to extend its lines into territory claimed by Randolph Telephone Membership Corp. was attacked by Crisp. He said the matter may go to the courts. He asked if it were not "ridiculous" that North Carolina would set up the State Rural Electrification Authority as an agency to promote the rural telephone program "and then permit another agency, the Utilities Commission, to threaten the emasculating of this program through the pursuit of hostile policies." Another target was a measure sponsored by the national administration to double REA interest rates. Crisp said it would "spell death for much of the rural telephone program" if enacted into law by Congress. Seven of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were more than 60 years old.

Plans Appeal Worthless Check Charge Conviction

Notice of appeal to Superior Court was filed by a Greene County man convicted this week in Pitt County Recorder's Court.

Floyd Johnson, 34-year-old resident of Route 1, Hookerton, filed the notice after receiving a 90-days suspended sentence after being found guilty on a worthless check charge. John's sentence was suspended upon payment of costs and payment of the amount of the check involved.

Appeal bond in the case was set at $200 by Judge Dink James who returned judgments in 20 other cases cleared from the Recorder's Court docket.

Four defendants, convicted of speeding, had prayer for judgment continued and suspended upon payment of costs and surrender of their driver's licenses for ten days. They were James Mitchell, O'Donnell, Cherry Point; Mavis Madeline Haddock, Route 2, Ayden; Bennie W. Smith, Jacksonville, N. C.; and Bruce Reddick, Negro, 307 East First Street, Greenville.

Five other defendants entered pleas of guilty in absentia to individual speeding charges and were fined $25, costs deducted, and ordered to surrender their driver's licenses for ten days. They were Leslie W. Collier, Portsmouth, Va.; James Clinton Conklin, Cherry Point; Simpson Ray Cannon, Colonial Heights, Va.; Gilbert Carroll Wymore, Cherry Point; and William Spenser Crowell, Charlotte. Crowell was also charged with driving to the left of the center line.

Other speeding cases, and judgments, included:

William Lee Buck, Route 3, Greenville, speeding 92 miles-per-hour, $25 and costs, driver's license revoked for 12 months; George Arthur Yelverton, Negro, 601-B Atlantic Avenue, Greenville, speeding 65 miles-per-hour, not guilty; and Wallie Tucker, Negro, Route 1, Winterville, speeding 70 miles-per-hour, passing on a curve, and following too closely, 30 days suspended upon payment of $25 and costs, and driver's license suspended for 90 days. Other judgments which were returned by Judge James included: Hyman Earl Hudson, Route 2, Greenville, driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, defendant entered a plea of guilty to careless and reckless driving which was accepted by the state, $25 and costs; Beryl Spain, Route 3, Washington, no operator's license, continued to. John Henry Reid, Negro, Route 2, Walstonburg, possession of non-tax-paid whiskey, $5 and costs; Alvin Hansley, Negro, Route 1, Grimesland, assault, 30 days suspended upon payment of costs and payment of medical bills incurred by the prosecuting witness.

A. J. Freeman, Negro, Route 2, Greenville larceny, 60 days suspended upon payment of costs, good behavior for two years, and payment of 66 cents for prosecuting witness; Lester Earl Freeman, Negro, Route 2, Farmville, larceny, 60 days suspended upon payment of costs, good behavior for two years and payment of 67 cents for prosecuting witness.

Willie Lewis Freeman, Negro, Route 2, Farmville, larceny, 60 days suspended upon payment of costs, good behavior for two years and payment of 67 cents for prosecuting witness; Caesar Freeman, Negro, Route 2, Greenville, larceny, not guilty.

Once Small Pickle Plant Expanded, Product Is Now Big Business In Pitt

AYDEN PICKLE PLANT'S VAST OUTDOOR CUCUMBER STORAGE FARM ... facilities to store 250,000 bushels of cucumbers in over 1,000,000 gallons of salt brine.

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles on industries now situated in Pitt County.)

By EVERETTE PARKER
Reflector Staff Writer

AYDEN — In a county where tobacco dominates the economy, pickles are fast becoming big business.

The primary reason for this is a once-small plant in Ayden that has expanded and expanded until its capacity rivals any similar plant east of the Mississippi River.

Lutz-Schramm's pickle processing plant in this Pitt County town has more than made its presence known in recent years. At the present time Ayden merchants and residents look to the pickle plant as most larger towns do their tobacco markets.

It is generally estimated that the plant brings $750,000 to Ayden and vicinity each year. This figure includes wages, income to the growers of cucumbers, maintenance costs, contracts, etc.

From the last week in May until the first week in July plant manager George B. Jackman reports that over 275 men and women hired in the processing of cucumbers through its various stages from basket to jar. During the months of August and September 200 to 225 workers are busily engaged in processing fresh cucumbers trucked in from the state of Michigan.

The remaining months of the year are spent processing cucumbers stored in the plant's enormous number of vats. Placed in salt brine solution, the cucumbers are stored during the heavy intake season to enable year around operation.

Approximately 100 workers are employed on a full-time basis by Lutz-Schramm. A large percent of these workers, mostly unskilled, live in and around Ayden.

Most of the cucumbers processed and stored are grown in the counties of Pitt, Lenoir, Greene, Craven and Wilson. "This five-county yield is 30 per cent greater than any other similar growing area in the South," Sales Manager Curt Cavileer states.

In addition to the cucumbers grown in this section, the plant processes pickles transferred by refrigerated trucks from the Michigan growing area. According to Cavileer a maximum of 48 hours is required to transfer a truck load of cucumbers from the northern state to Ayden and under normal circumstances necessitates the use of two and one-half tons for the trip.

Generally these cucumbers are processed upon arrival, not being stored as is the case with the product grown in eastern North Carolina.

For a number of years the Ayden plant was owned and operated by Demain Foods. In 1952 Lutz-Schramm bought the plant and since that time has expanded three times.

The largest expansion program was completed during the month of June this year. Two new stainless steel production lines for bottling pickles were installed and the pasteurization equipment was doubled.

At a cost of nearly $250,000, the corporation added a 200 X 120 foot warehouse and office building in addition to the new processing equipment. A large number of open-air tanks (vats) were also constructed.

The plant with 350 tanks, has facilities to store 250,000 bushels of cucumbers in salt brine solution. Additional warehouse space affords the storage of up to 300,000 cases of finished products.

Jackman explained that the first expansion took place in the fall of 1953, with new equipment and a number of new storage tanks being added.

In December of 1955 construction of 6,600 square feet of processing space were added to old facilities.

With the last expansion the plant-warehouse and open-air storage plants cover nearly six acres of ground. An additional two and one-half acres remain on the site purchased by the corporation.

The Manager stated, "Further expansion will depend on the business trend in the South. It is felt that our facilities rival any plant in the country but should consumption rise, we will expand."

Heavy Output

At the present time the Ayden pickle plant processes approximately 160 jars a minute. Jackman said that 160 jars mately 150,000 bushels of cucumbers a year. Running at capacity, Jackman said that 160 jars of pickles could be packed a minute.

Since the plant is located centrally in the cucumber growing area, storing is cut to the barest minimum. Despite this fact vast storage tanks are required for proper processing.

The Ayden tank farm for cucumber storage consists of approximately 350 wooden vats. These vats are capable of holding over 250,000 bushels of cucumbers with a capacity of well over a 1,000,000 gallons of salt brine solution.

Jackman stated that over a carload of salt is used every other day in cucumber storage. A carload amounts to 40 tons of salt, he noted.

Cucumbers Contracted

All of the cucumbers bought by Lutz-Schramm can be found in from farmers through agencies. The fresh product, when delivered, is washed, graded, inspected and finally processed. During the "rush season" a large quantity of the cucumbers after being inspected are stored on the tank farm until cured.

Pickles bearing the name of Lutz-Schramm can be found in super markets throughout the country and in other parts of the world.

Annual Medal Play Tourney Plans Laid

By JACK EDWARDS

Friday and Saturday the Fifth Annual Medal Play Golf tournament will be played at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Five match play champions and three winners of the medal play tournament will compete for the title. Greenville pro Harold Thomas emphasizes that the public is invited to view the matches. The eight best Saturday scorers will form two foursomes Sunday in order to give spectators the opportunity to see the top Greenville golfers.

The tournament was started in 1953 by Simon Moyer Jr. and is often called the Moyer tournament. In addition to trophies awarded by the club, the W. S. Moyer loving cup is presented each year and rotates with the champion. This award was given by the estate of W. S. Moyer Sr. in his memory.

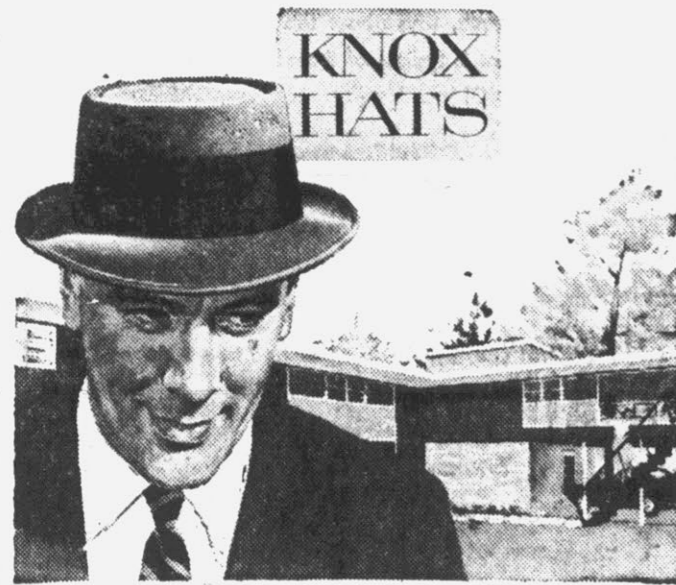

Winner in 1953 and '54 was W. L. Allen, who is also six-times match play champion. The 1956 winner was Moulton Massey and last year's winner was Reynolds May. Former match play champions who will be contenders are Ercell Webb, holder of the club scoring record of 66; Don Conley Jr., match play champion, and former club champion Simon Moyer, Dr. M. B. Massey and Bo Farley.

In addition to the former champions in the field, Ben Harrison, Connor Merritt, Bob Masten and Bill Davenport have carded low scores recently and will be in contention.

Fifty golfers have signed up for the tournament thus far. The tournament committee, consisting of Simon Moyer, Reynolds May and Lucian Bryan will place the golfers in flights. Trophies will be awarded for the championship, first, second and third flights.

For the first time in tournament history summer rules will be used in this tournament. Golfers will not be allowed to touch the ball from the time it leaves the tee until it is in the hole.

Cards Seen Driving For Miracle Finish

Phants Are Host Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night the Cardinals of Jacksonville invade College Stadium to battle Greenville in the first Northeastern Conference game of the season for both clubs.

Game time for the contest has been set at 8:00.

For the Phantoms, it will be their first home game of the year and the first opportunity for many fans of this area to see them.

Coach Bud Phillips of Burlington, who has just begun his reign as head coach, will be making his debut Friday night, too, as far as local fans are concerned.

Last week Greenville was drubbed 25-0 in Goldsboro in a non-conference tilt.

Cards Favored
Jacksonville, which also lost its season's opener with Wallace-Rose Hill 18-6, is rated two touchdowns better than the locals.

Odds-makers base their pickings on the results of the earlier game for both clubs and comparative weights and experience.

The Cards are loaded with beef (they average 194 pounds) and experienced players. Running under Coach Andy Hewitt's multiple offense, Jacksonville is capable both as a running and passing team. They are also rated good as a defensive club.

Greenville has very little in a way of beef (the line averages 139), but can boast of a quarterback with three-years experience, a halfback with two-years play beneath his belt and three linemen with at least a year's experience.

More Passes?
Mack Roebuck, quarterback, is essentially a runner but has passed some on occasion. It is expected that he will exploit his throwing talents tomorrow night much more than in the Goldsboro contest.

His targets will be Steve Noble and Billy Cox, ends, and halfbacks Robert Howell and Charles Roberts. Pullback position, which was unsettled in the Goldsboro game, is still an uncertain spot. Reti Evertette and Robin Wilfong alternated last week and will probably share the duty again this Friday.

Billy Brown, a veteran tackle who injured a shoulder against Goldsboro, is still a question mark. He may or may not be ready for Friday's contest, but general opinion is that he will not play much if at all.

Albert Crawford and Coleman Ruffin are expected to handle center duties tomorrow. Guards will probably be Wilber Owens and Kelly Barnhill. Ralph Sullivan and Godfrey Oakley will probably be the tackles.

Lavagetto Signs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto signed today for another year as manager of the Washington Senators.

Lavagetto, who replaced Charley Dressen as the American League club's field boss last May, will receive a reported $22,000 for his first full season at the job. He had been drawing pay at the rate of an estimator $18,000 since he took over in the midst of an early season losing spell.

The Senators have lost 16 of their first 20 games and eight straight when Calvin Griffith, club president, traveled to Detroit to give Dressen a front office post and advance Lavagetto from coach to manager.

Under Lavagetto, the Senators gradually worked their way from last to seventh place in the American League but last night bounced back into the basement while dropping a doubleheader to the Tigers.

Social Hour

After presentation of trophies at the Fifth Annual Medal Play Golf Tournament at the Greenville Golf and Country Club Sunday afternoon at 5:30 there will be a social hour. New members in the 1957 tournament will be guests of the club at a "get-acquainted" buffet supper, an official stated today.

Is that a miracle or a mirage taking shape in the National League pennant race?

A miracle finish, such as the New York Giants staged in 1951, is like a tango. It takes two. Even a spirited spring down the stretch, such as the Giants' 37-7 drive six years ago, won't bring a payoff unless the leader collapses, as did the Brooklyn Dodgers when they lost 23 of their last 40 and then blew it all to the Giants in the three-game pennant playoff.

That's the situation in the NL race now. The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's first-place Braves, perhaps building pressure by insisting there isn't any, have lost five of their last eight.

The Cards stayed with it last night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4½ games of the Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The New York Yankees split a day-night double-header against Cleveland. Ol' Sal Maglie tossed a three-hitter that beat his former Tribe mates 5-0 in the opener, but Ray Narleski then set down the Yankees on four hits in Cleveland's 4-1 nightcap victory.

That left the champs with a 5½ game lead over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who scored three in the 11th and beat Boston 4-1.

Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only NL game scheduled.

In the other AL games, a pair of two-night double-headers, Detroit swept Washington 3-0 and 12-2, and Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-2 after a 7-3 defeat.

The Cardinals, hitting their one-game scoring high of the season, rapped 15 hits off ex-mate Harvey Haddix and five relievers while collecting a pair of six-run innings. Del Ennis drove in three runs with his 22nd and 23rd home runs. Herm Wehmeier won his fourth in a row.

Warren Spahn, who had been Milwaukee's stopper, had the goods on the Pirates except for Hank Folles—No. 8 in the batting order. Folles had a perfect day with three of the Bucs' eight hits, swatting a home run that tied it 1-1 in the third and driving home the clincher with a two-out single in the ninth.

Right-hander Ron Kline won his sixth in a row with a six-hitter. Andy pafko, who homered in the second, and Del Rice had four of the Braves' hits.

Maglie, the 40-year-old right-hander Cleveland snubbed as "Just another guy" after buying him from the Giants in 1955, gave up a single to Joe Caffie and Russ Nixon's ground rule double in the second, then no-hit the Tribe until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth. It was Sal's first American League victory.

Early Wynn lost his 7th.

Narleski was touched for two hits by Hank Bauer, one an RBI triple in the fifth that cut the Indians' lead to 2-1. The Tribe rapped Bobby Shantz for eight hits in his seven frames.

Jim Rivera's third hit, a single, drove in the tie-breaking run for the White Sox. Fred Hatfield then added a two-run pinch single in the big frame that handed Willard Nixon an 11-1 record. Young Bill Fischer went all the way with a 10-hitter.

The Dodgers smacked 15 hits, 14 of them singles, and nailed it with six runs in the fourth that handed Bob Rush a 15th defeat. Johnny Podres hit his major league high with a 12th victory. Jim Bunning hit his first major league home run and gained his first shutout along with his 18th victory for the Tigers in the opener. Frank Lary then won his 10th in the nightcap as Detroit scored nine in the seventh, two off Frank House's homer.

Ralph Terry four-hit the Orioles in the opener for Kansas City, losing a shutout on Al Pizarro's ninth-inning homer. Baltimore then ended its losing string at five on two-run homers by George Kell and Gus Triandos in the nightcap.

Wilson To End Senators' Link

WILSON, N.C. (AP)—Stockholders of the Carolina Baseball League's Wilson team have voted to sever the team's connections with the Washington Senators.

At a meeting last night the stockholders also began a stock selling drive aimed at clearing up $7,296 in outstanding debts. The sum includes $3,000 loaned by Wilson businessmen to meet the team's final two payrolls.

Subscribed stock, pledges and cash at the meeting raised $1,900 toward clearance of the debt.

The team, which moved here from Kinston last May, will begin negotiations with other major league clubs toward a possible working agreement to replace the Washington agreement.

The stockholders reelected Penn T. Watson Sr. as president of the club.

Elsewhere in the league, the owners of the new Raleigh entry held an organizational meeting and planned a stock selling campaign. The club, headed by O. W. Hooker, has a working arrangement with the Boston Red Sox and will sell stock at $100 per share. The directors hope to raise $20,000.

In Roxboro, Carolina League President Bill Jessup announced last night that league directors and the press will be guests of the Raleigh club at a meeting in Raleigh Saturday afternoon.

Robinson - Basilio Bout May End New York Reign

HAPPY THEN—When Carmen Basilio, left, signed to fight Ray Robinson for the latter's middleweight title all was sweetness and light. Now they are angry, both have said many uncomplimentary things about the other. New York State Athletic Commission Chairman Julius Helfand is in the center.

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
Unique is the adjective that best describes the world's middleweight championship fight set for Yankee Stadium on Monday, Sept. 23, between Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio.

It is odd because there have been times when the 37-year-old Robinson shouldn't have been fighting. For instance, last January he lost his middleweight title to Gene Fullmer in Madison Square Garden in the worst showing the once great Sugar Ray ever made. He admitted to having taken tranquilizer pills sometime before the fight.

This may be one of those times when Robinson will feel that he is biting off more than he can chew. How well he feels and how diligent he has trained are questions only Robinson can answer.

Loosing to an inferior Fullmer over 15 rounds was not the first time Robinson lost before meeting and beating an opponent in a return bout for the title. He stopped Fullmer in five rounds in Chicago four months later. In July of 1951, Robinson lost a 15-round decision in London to Randy Turpin. Yet just two months later Robinson handled Turpin with ease. Sugar Ray won by a knockout in 10 rounds.

Ruth Wanted Knots In His Bat

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Some baseball players prefer bats made of clear wood but Babe Ruth insisted on a cluster of pine knots in the barrel at the "sweet spot" where he usually hit the ball, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers' Ass'n.

Bats are made in a turnery plant. They are first roughed out, weighed and inspected to determine the particular models for which they are best suited. Each bat must have the same diameter and weight as the original model. The finish turning is done on automatic shaping lathes on which many knives are mounted.

Another odd thing about this bout which pits a natural 147-pounder against a 166-pounder is that it is the first title bout promoted by Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club since Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in June ordered Norris to dissolve the IBC. The decree was the result of the government's antitrust action against Norris.

This might well be the last big fight in New York for some time to come. After all, who is around in the more important heavy-weight division to put up a good showing against Floyd Patterson, the big champ?

Same Old Story, Bud Wilkinson Is On A Crying Jag

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The football season is here and Oklahoma's pessimistic and successful Coach Bud Wilkinson is crying.

Oklahoma has won the national championship the past two seasons, and has a 40-game winning streak.

"Being realistic I know it would be a fine thing for the Big Seven conference if we'd lose some conference games," he said. "I hate to be too realistic about it but I know it's going to happen and may happen this year."

He said two of the reasons the conference will be tougher are "two new coaches—Frank Broyles at Missouri and Jim Myers at Iowa State."

Then Wilkinson added: "We're going to lose some games some day. It has happened. But when it happens I hope the people won't think it's because we got fat and happy and quit working. It will be because the other teams have improved—not because we got too content."

Pirates See Last Heavy Drill Before Opener

No Favorites In Field Of Nat'l Golf Tournament

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The golf experts who predicted that Harvie Ward's suspension from amateur competition would make the 57th National Amateur Championship the most evenly contested in years apparently were absolutely right.

There wasn't a solid favorite in the field when the tournament began Monday and there still wasn't one today when 16 survivors moved into another double round of eliminations. That was quite a change from the past two years when the first question was "Who will be playing Harvie in the final?"

Ward, the winner for the past two years, was put on probation early this summer for violation of the rules regarding expense payments.

One of the two players he beat for his title, Chuck Kocais, remained in the field today, when two 18-hole rounds were to reduce it to the four semifinals. Among the others were one ex-champion, four members of the 1957 U.S. Walker Cup team, one visiting Briton and a rather odd assortment of others including only three real outsiders.

The solid choices to be around for the 36-hole semifinals Friday were Dr. Bud Taylor, the sweet-swinging dentist from Pomona, Calif.; Dick Yost, a tall, strong 27-year-old who now lives in Portland, Ore.; Dick Chapman, the wealthy estate executor from Oyster Hill, Mass., and Pinehurst, N.C., who has held both the U.S. and British amateur championships; Hillman Robbins, a lean Air Force lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn.; Kocais; and Rex Baxter Jr., a solidly built 21-year-old Texan.

The remaining outsiders were Lawrence Cook, a police officer from Wilmington, N.C.; Alex Scott, a 33-year-old former Pennsylvania coal miner who now lives in Bridgeport, Conn.; and Paul Rodgers, a stubby 19-year-old Californian who was a college teammate of Baxter at the University of Houston.

Taylor, 40, whose beautiful golf swing is the envy of visiting British experts, inherited the favorite's role after the elimination of Billy Joe Patton, Bill Campbell, British champion Reid Jack, Charlie Coe and a few others who had been considered as possible winners.

Yesterday was the last heavy session for East Carolina gridders before their encounter with the University of Richmond at Portsmouth, Saturday night.

Coach Jack Boone and his aides spent most of the afternoon working on defensive maneuvers, especially pass defense, and let the boys get a taste of headknocking. The club actually has been looking better defensively than offensively, according to unofficial word from the camp. The offensive line play has not been as good as it could be, according to the coaches, but that is something they expect to solve with time and more experience.

Guard and end play has been praised by the mentors as "pretty good." Ends Tommy Jones and Howard (Pug) Beale have shown up well in the receiving department, and Bucky Dennis, 6-4, sophomore import from Virginia, has also done well along that line.

Guards Ed Emory, Dick Monds and Kenny Burgess have been complimented by Coach Boone for fine play offensively as well as defensively.

Boone has expressed concern with his tackles. Algy Faircloth has been ailing recently and Larry (Hose) Howell has been having a different brand of trouble. Boone stated yesterday that Faircloth is "just about to get over his trouble now." Most of Howell's problems are a result of lack of experience, Boone said. Howell played plenty of ball last year as a freshman, "but he still has a lot to learn."

Quarterback post on the Pirate outfit is still a three-way battle between Ralph Zehring, George Turner and Billy Skeeter. Zehring, a veteran who commanded the team on several occasions last year, seems to have the inside track. However, all three are capable field generals and may see alternative duty against Richmond.

The halfback slots are well taken care of by Tommy Nash, Charlie Bishop, Bobby Patterson, George Slaughter, Lee Atkinson and James Speight have been running well throughout the drills.

Boone is having fullback problems. Bob Maynard, 195-pound senior veteran, is slated for the starting position, but he, too, has been ailing. Randell Holmes is doing his share of running from that position, too, recently.

The coach commented yesterday on the play of Stuart Holland, who has been occupying the fourth quarterback slot behind Zehring, Turner and Skeeter. "That boy has been looking real good lately. If he continues to show up well we're going to have to work him into the starting lineup before long. He's primarily a quarterback, but we may have to shift him to a halfback or fullback or something. He's looking too good to keep on the bench."

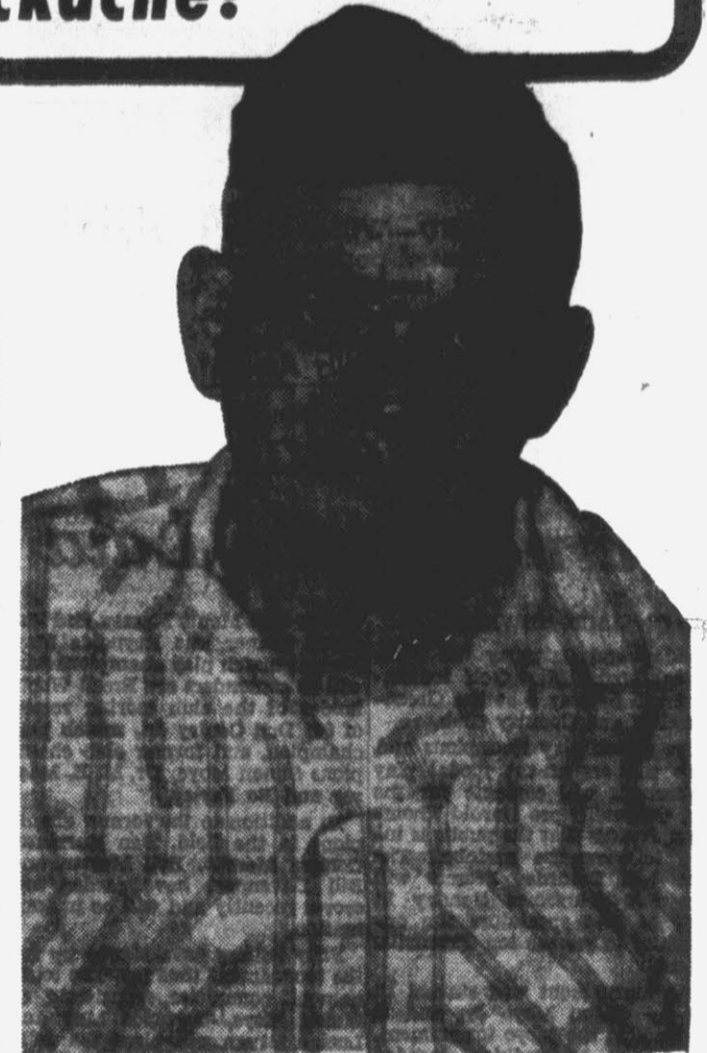

The Bucs open their season September 14 at Portsmouth against Richmond. A special train is leaving Greenville Saturday to attend the game.

'Boone Night' To Open Programs

Jack Boone Night will open the 1957-58 series of programs of the Portsmouth (Va.) Sports Club on Friday evening, Sept. 13, when the organization will host and toast the East Carolina College popular head football coach. Boone is a native of Portsmouth.

President Harry C. Hull of the Portsmouth Club has announced that the organization plans to honor Jack Boone, a product of Woodrow Wilson High School football squad, on the eve of the East Carolina-University of Richmond football game at this testimonial dinner. This football game on Saturday night will be the first college game to be played in Portsmouth in 14 years and will be in the stadium where Boone played as a high school lad and later in the short-lived Dixie Pro football league.

Invitations to the Friday evening dinner have been extended to the five former coaches under whose tutelage Jack Boone developed his football "know-how." They are Ernest Wilde, Lester Kibler, Horace Hendrickson, Dutch Clark, and Hamp Poole.

East Carolina College officials also included one the invitation list, in addition to Coach Boone, are Dr. J. D. Messick, president; Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, vice president and dean of the college; Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, head of the physical education department and director of athletics; and Alumni Secretary and Sports News Director James Butler.

The Portsmouth Sports Club has honored two other Portsmouth natives with testimonial dinners. The honor guests on the former occasions were Ace Parker and Channel Harper.

Trooper Floors Former Champ

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton was knocked down by the long arm of the law on the New Jersey Turnpike last night.

Saxton, who tips the scales at 142, was floored by State Trooper Anthony R. Shurin, a stocky 175-pounder who connected with a straight right to the jaw. After the brawl, the two retreated to a neutral corner—the Newark police station—where Saxton was charged with driving without a license, stopping illegally on a ramp and assault and battery on an officer. He was held in $500 bail.

Floods Smashed Seven Villages

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Flash floods roared down barren hillsides and smashed seven villages outside Ankara yesterday. First reports reaching Parliament said at least 300 persons were killed. The government later announced that 14 bodies had been recovered and "earlier larger reports are without foundation." The number of known dead was expected to rise. Afternoon downpours hit an area extending from the suburbs of this Turkish capital to a village about 30 miles southeast. Unchecked by trees or moisture-absorbing vegetation, the muddy waters swept down from the hills and swirled between crooked rows of houses. About 1,000 houses were wrecked. Dead animals were left mired in mud with debris and furniture. A U.S. Air Force major reported after flying over the area that a flood lake extended for four miles east of Ankara.

There's A Limit

TORONTO (AP)—An American professor says the world's oil supplies are in danger of drying up. Professor Rhodes W. Fairbridge, head of the geology department of Columbia University, told the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics yesterday that unless a synthetic oil source is discovered within the next 30 or 40 years oil will have to be reserved for essential services. "The present wholesale burnings of oil for heating and fuel will have to stop and be replaced by uranium or other fuel source," he said. Fairbridge said he had prepared statistics of all the world's sedimentary basins that could possibly contain oil and the outlook showed distinct limitation. SEES A LIMIT WACO, Tex.—A former German rocket scientist says he thinks man will never make a trip to the moon. "We are approaching the limits of human endeavor," said Robert Lusser, now guided missile reliability co-ordinator at the Army's Redstone Arsenal missile center in Huntsville, Ala.

Doors Opened To 60,000 People

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States opens its gates today to the first of more than 60,000 immigrants made eligible for admission under a new law. President Eisenhower signed the new immigration bill into law yesterday. In various parts of the world, U.S. consular offices were set to begin processing visas under the program designed to ease some of the hardships growing out of the nation's immigration laws. An estimated 62,556 additional immigrants will be eligible for admission to the United States. State Department officials said. This total is expected to include 14,556 refugees from Communist countries, 4,000 orphans adopted by American citizens and 36,000 persons ticketed for admission under special nonquota status. Eisenhower said the bill makes a number of improvements in immigration practices but ignored several of his recommendations for major revisions of the nation's basic immigration law.

Early Dividends Result From International Scientific Study

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
NEW YORK (AP)—The International Geophysical Year is already beginning to pay dividends of new or unexpected knowledge about our earth, scientists said today. Some findings: X-rays from the sun's radiations have been found to exist only 40 miles or so above our heads. Northern and Southern lights or aurorae can blink on at the same time. High-flying rockets have captured particles of energy believed to cause these aurorae. In Antarctica, temperatures can vary 100 degrees over distances no farther apart than New York and Chicago, or between San Francisco and Seattle. This must have profound effects upon weather generated in that vast frozen continent. The earth's atmosphere seems to reach up, in terribly thin form, to heights of one to several thousand miles into space. The IGY is a concerted, share-all-knowledge effort by scientists of 64 nations to learn secrets of our home planet earth, our sun, the atmosphere and oceans. It began two months ago and lasts another 16 months. Leading IGY scientists described programs and preliminary findings for a symposium on earth, air and space in reports prepared for delivery today at the Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History. It is one event in the national program of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Joseph Kaplan, University of California physicist and chairman of the U.S. IGY National Committee, said rockets have found evidence of solar X-rays at altitudes of about 40 miles and higher. Other scientists stationed near the north and south poles simultaneously timed brilliant aurorae over both regions. These streaming lights are believed caused by energy from the sun, especially after great explosions or flares on the face of the sun. Daily weather maps are being prepared by scientists of a dozen nations scattered over the antarctic continent, one of the world's huge weather factories. At least once this year, the temperature at the South Pole was 100 degrees colder than the near-zero temperature at Little America only 850 miles to the south. This must have meaning about weather and forecasting.

Expect To Share Election Wins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans and Democrats are expected by congressional election experts to divide victories in two special House elections coming up in New Jersey and Illinois. They say they are not looking for any party overturns in a Nov. 5 election in New Jersey's 2nd Dist. or in the Dec. 31 voting in Illinois' 7th Dist. The New Jersey vacancy results from the death last Dec. 26 of Republican Rep. T. Millet Hand, and that in Illinois from the death last July 18 of Democratic Rep. James B. Bowler. If the same party lineup prevails in the districts, the elections will restore the House next January to a full membership of 234 Democrats and 201 Republicans. Candidates for Rep. Hand's seat in the heavily Republican district embracing New Jersey's Atlantic, Cape May and Cumberland counties are State Assemblyman Milton W. Glenn (R), and Joseph G. Hancock (D), a farmer. The Illinois 7th Dist. will hold a primary Nov. 12, but the GOP organization is offering no candidate. Two entrants who generally are not taken seriously are Lar Daly and Anthony Catena, the Democratic organization has put up State Sen. Roland V. Libonati. He is unopposed.

Plains Indians To Embark On Race Relations Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — The one-time mightiest plains Indians, now among the most economically depressed people in the United States, are going to work on a race relations program.

They feel it might help save their communities.

The program, literally named We Shake Hands, is being carried out by the recently formed Midwestern Intertribal Council.

Sponsored by the Assn. on American Indian Affairs, the program is described in the association's current newsletter—a field report by Miss La Verne Madigan, executive director, on an intensive study in the plains area.

For the first 10 months the program will concentrate on the areas bordering the reservations where neighboring relations are most greatly needed. Teams from the universities of South Dakota and Nebraska will be sent into the field to measure the effect.

Activities will include establishing branches of League of Women Voters in reservation counties, setting up speakers bureaus, promoting understanding and responsibility in youth groups, establishing a tribal employment officer and assessing and preparing classroom study material about Indians.

The Association hopes the We Shake Hands program not only will give Indians and non-Indians a sense of being fellow citizens, but will also give the Indian communities the local non-Indian allies they need in their struggle to survive.

The situation is desperate, says the report, which cites among those causing or condoning the breakdown of the Indian communities:

1. The organized cattle interests of the Dakotas and Nebraska, "who are powerful in state and federal politics and candidly covet Indian lands."
2. Some high officials in the Interior Department and its Bureau of Indian Affairs "which will undertake in the Dakotas and Nebraska only programs that assume the communities are as dead as dead and should be deserted by the young."
3. Congress, "to the extent it doesn't control the Bureau" by stating the official U. S. policy should be helping tribal communities survive.

In Washington, commenting on the second of the above charges, Indian Commissioner, Glenn L. Emmons said:

"This is not true. The bureau now has programs that provide for the progressive development of reservation resources to support the maximum number of people who can effectively use these resources and will continue to push forward with such programs in the future in addition to developing off-reservation opportunities where the need exists."

The newsletter charges that the Interior Department opposes a point four program for Indians on the grounds its Bureau of Indian Affairs is carrying out a vigorous community development program on the reservation.

A point four program would give technical assistance to raise the Indian communities to the level of health and well being existing among other U. S. communities, the association report says.

The attack upon the Indian communities is beginning to unify the tribal leaders, says the association report. It concludes optimistically: "Although these... programs have scarcely begun, already the Indian leaders... are finding they need not stand alone."

Arms Debate?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The idea of staging an early debate on disarmament in the U.N. General Assembly gained support today.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev yesterday requested that the disarmament commission meet soon to report to the 12th session of the General Assembly opening next Tuesday.

Informed sources said the United States would go along with the idea, India already has asked for an early meeting of the 12-nation commission.

The commission is expected to do little more than pass along to the assembly the report of the deadlocked London talks of its subcommittee, composed of Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United Nations. The larger group also includes the subcommittee members.

For the first 10 months the program will concentrate on the areas bordering the reservations where neighboring relations are most greatly needed. Teams from the universities of South Dakota and Nebraska will be sent into the field to measure the effect.

Activities will include establishing branches of League of Women Voters in reservation counties, setting up speakers bureaus, promoting understanding and responsibility in youth groups, establishing a tribal employment officer and assessing and preparing

Cheers, Boos As Kim Novak Takes Her Stand

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kim Novak has crossed her rubicon, and she's getting cheers and boos for it in Hollywood.

There comes the point in the lives of almost all top stars when they declare their independence. Having been nurtured to stardom by a studio, they reach a position where they feel the studio is not doing right by them.

It happened two years ago with Marilyn Monroe. Kim Novak now has made the same move. She informed Columbia she wouldn't report for an Alfred Hitchcock loan-out until she got a salary adjustment. Her current wage: $1,250 a week.

Local viewpoints of her action are generally at two extremes:

1. That she is a brave girl who seeks what she rightly deserves.
2. That she is biting the hand that made her a star.

The first view was expressed to me by another young actress of first magnitude. Said she: "I take my hat off to Kim. What is she making—$1,250 a week? Why it's ridiculous. After she pays her agents, taxes and so forth, she probably keeps $400. She's got to live on that. She can't save any money that way."

The converse view is offered by W. R. Wilkerson, veteran publisher of the Hollywood Reporter. He puts the blame on Kim's new agents and argues that tough old Harry Cohn, Columbia's blustery boss, will not be pushed around.

He argued that the same agents had tried to wrangle a new deal for Rita Hayworth, "resulting in Miss Hayworth's being out of work for practically five years and on returning, hardly resembling the star that Cohn and his studio made over a period of years."

The publisher predicted that Kim "will wait around as long as Rita Hayworth did and suffer the same drop in prestige."

So who's right?

CHAPTER 16
 One morning, Deborah and Joyce set out to go shopping in Deborah's car. They took the baby and his guardian Scallyham to be left for an hour or two with a friend and neighbor. She, also a newish mother, had offered the accommodation under the delusion that two babies would not be a bit more trouble than one.

"She'll learn," said Joyce.

"Backing out of the drive, Deborah noticed Scobie the handy man, cutting the grass. Although well aware of their passing, the man did not offer even a grudging, "Good morning." He kept his surly face bent over the lawnmower.

Before they had gone far, Joyce exclaimed that she had forgotten a library book she had promised faithfully to exchange for Ewan. Since it would be a bother turning the car in the narrow street, Deborah parked it at the curb, hopped out quickly and walked back. On nearing the house it struck her that Scobie's grass cutting had ceased.

The mower stood idle in the middle of the lawn. Scobie was nowhere in sight.

Entering the house quietly, Deborah saw at once that the living-room door, left shut, now stood ajar. For once it would have been reassuring to have Inspector Gray within call; but he had risen early and gone about his official duties.

Mustering all her courage, she crept to the slightly open door and pushed it wider. She breathed easier when she saw that the room was untenanted. She wondered what she would have done if she had surprised Scobie in the act of rifling Ewan's desk. Screamed run, probably, if her legs would carry her.

Listening intently, she heard a faint movement from the direction of the kitchen. Tiptoeing along the passage, she peered in but no one was there. Beginning to think she had alarmed herself over nothing, she noticed that the door to the basement was open. Stealing across the smooth linoleum, she halted breathlessly at the head of the basement stairs.

The basement was shadowed, but a patch of light from a window gave her a distinct view of Scobie. He was kneeling on the floor, scowling with the effort to concentrate, clipping small bits out of old newspapers which were scattered all round him. He had borrowed the shears and pastepot from Ewan desk and was pasting printed words on to a sheet of foolscap.

Deborah drew back to an angle from which she could glimpse Scobie without herself being seen from below. What now? Should she challenge him? And perhaps feel his gnarled hands on her throat before she could make an outcry?

After some uneasy deliberation she put out a hand, soundlessly opened the refrigerator, and noisily banged it shut. At the sound Scobie turned his head. In an instant he was on his feet, crouched like a predatory animal. For a dreadful moment Deborah expected him to start upstairs toward her.

Hastily, Scobie folded the foolscap sheet and stuffed it into a pocket of his ragged jacket. With a furtive backward glance he slipped out through a creaking door leading to the garden. Soon after, Deborah again heard the plaintive whine of the lawnmower.

Shaking at the knees, she retraced her steps to the front hall. When opening the door she remembered the book she had come for. Every nerve in her body urged her to go, to get away quickly, but she forced herself to delay long enough to find the book and snatch it up in trembling fingers.

On her return to the car, Joyce was blissfully cooing to her son. Otherwise, she could not have helped noticing how shaken Deborah was. And Deborah had decided not to tell her cousin about Scobie until later. It would only frighten and upset her for the rest of the day.

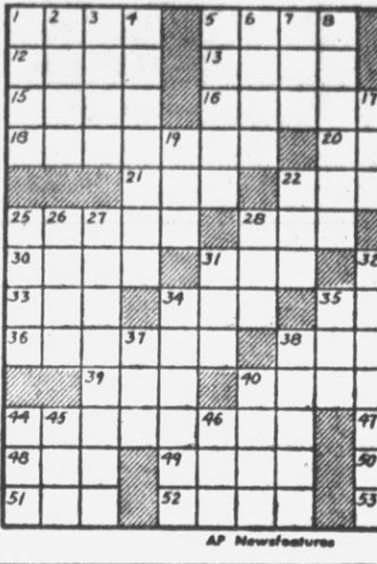

No matter how much shopping remained to be done, Garnock housewives of Joyce's set invariably broke off at eleven, for coffee and gossip at a local cafe. On entering the place, Deborah and Joyce saw Enid Sinclair beckoning to them urgently from a table in a corner. When they joined her, she gave them an effusive welcome.

She told them she was going to lunch with Judith MacInch. "Just the two of us. I expect it will be rather a bore"; but it was obvious she hoped her close intimacy with the wife of so wealthy a man would impress them. She spoke glibly, airily, as an insider, one in the know, of the local nobility and gentry, the people whose doings were written up in the morning papers. Under her brittle talkativeness ran a current of discontent, the same yearning for things beyond her grasp that had tormented Erica Garvin.

"Bill will be here any minute,"

Religious Drama Workshop Is Set

Methodist students at East Carolina College will stage a workshop in religious drama this weekend, September 13-15. The study course will be sponsored by the Alpha Zeta Chapter of the Wesley Players of the College and will have the purpose of preparing members for their work during the school year.

Directors of the workshop will be Mamie Chandler, director of the Methodist Student Center in Greenville; James Daugherty of Kingston, president of the campus Wesley Players; and Ralph Shumaker of Greer, S. C. Daugherty and Shumaker, both students at East Carolina, have been members of the Methodist Drama Caravans sponsored by the General Board of Education of the Methodist Church and have had training and experience in the field of religious drama.

The workshop will be in session for three days at the Methodist Student Center on Cotanche St., Greenville. Discussions and activities will include The Meaning of Religious Drama, Drama in Worship, Informal Dramatics, Chorus Speech and Interpretative Dances.

Participants in the workshop will arrange during the weekend a program to be presented twice on Sunday, September 15. It will be featured on East Carolina's weekly television series "Let's Go To College," at 10 a.m. over WNCT, Greenville, Channel 9. A second presentation will be included in vesper services at the Y Hut on the campus at 6 p.m.

Electrocuted In Touching Line

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — R. L. Chaney of Kernersville, N.C., was electrocuted here yesterday when he touched a 4,000-volt power line. Chaney, an employee of Boughlery Construction Co., Charlotte, N.C., was installing a city street light on a pole at the time. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital here.

Among Seminole Indians, the color yellow symbolizes death.

To The Rescue

Coast Guard rescue vessel speeds to aid of disabled cabin cruiser aground near entrance to New York harbor.

A storm comes up suddenly off shore. A motorboat or a cabin cruiser or a yacht wallows helplessly in the sea. Sails are shredded. An engine is disabled. The skipper radios a call for help. Within minutes a crew from a Coast Guard lifeboat station is on the way to the rescue.

Organized lifesaving along our shores has been going on since 1849 when Congress authorized construction of the first lifeboat station at Spermaceti Cove, Sandy Hook, N. J. Today there are 141 lifeboat stations operated and manned by the United States Coast Guard, equipped in every way to handle the business of saving lives and ships at sea.

Because of its nearness to heavily traveled shipping lanes, yacht clubs and fishing craft, the Rockaway station, located on the inlet side of a peninsula six miles east of the entrance to New York harbor, is one of the busiest in the country. A crew of 22 answers rescue calls 24 hours a day. Weekends during the summer and early fall are especially hectic and the Rockaway men may find themselves doing everything from fixing the disabled engine of a cabin cruiser to rescuing persons from a motorboat trapped in the surf.

1. From lookout tower on Rockaway Point, N. Y., Coast Guard Seaman Charles A. Davis spots disabled craft. Tower is 2 1/2 miles from station.

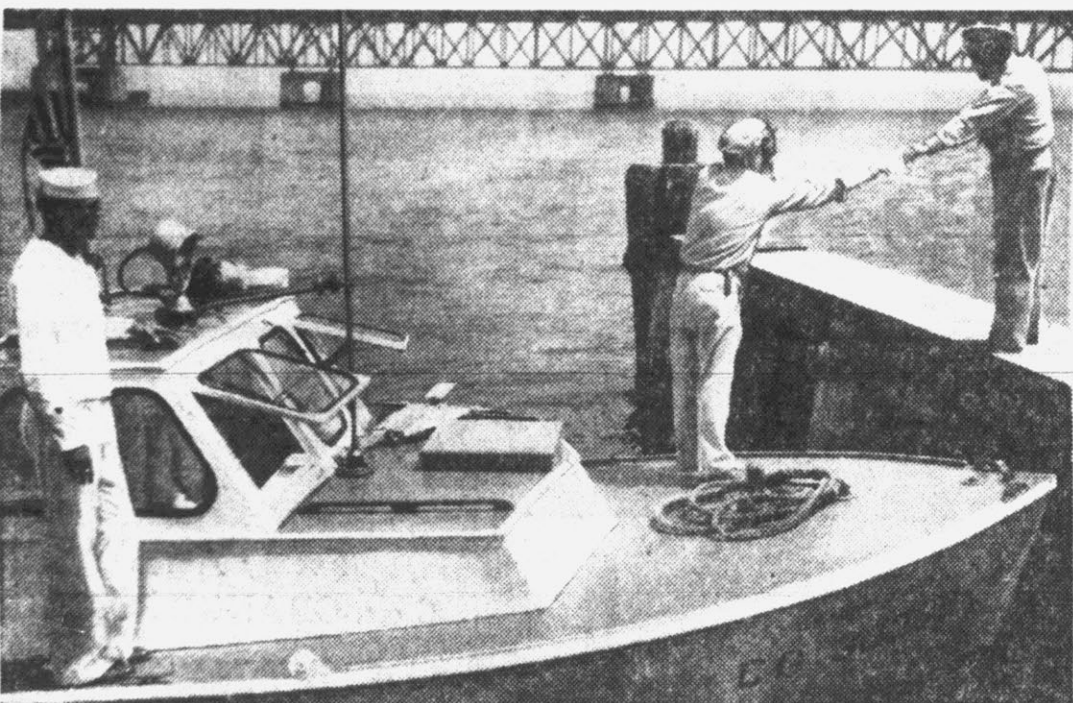

2. Lookout Davis immediately informs lifeboat station of the distress by telephone.

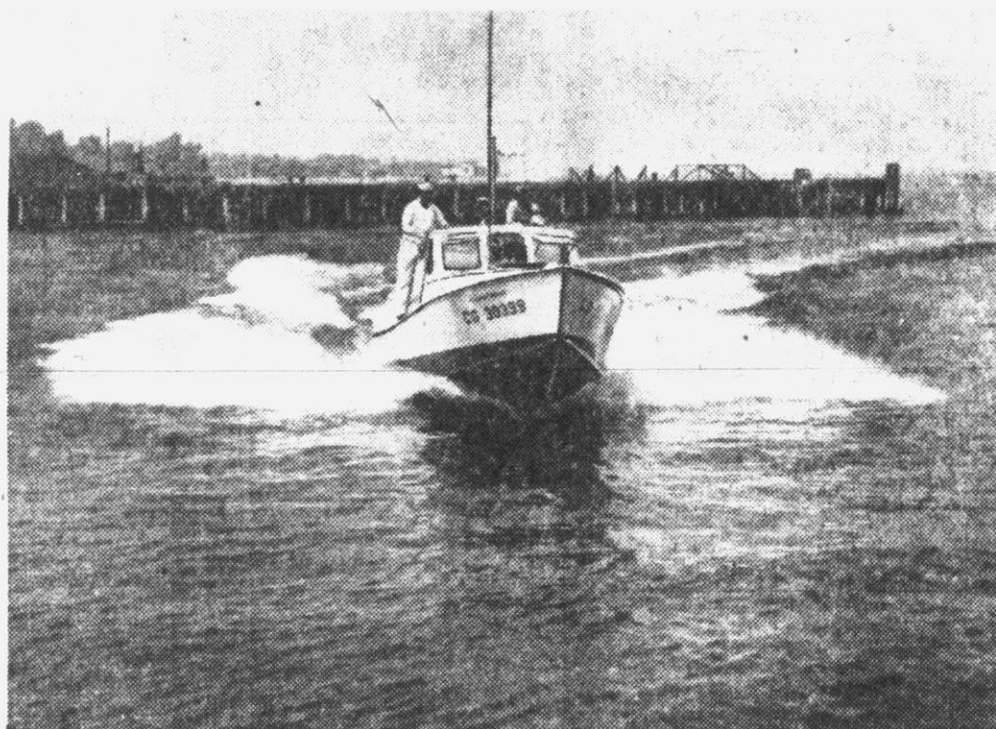

3. On Rockaway station's switchboard, Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Robert English receives lookout's call.

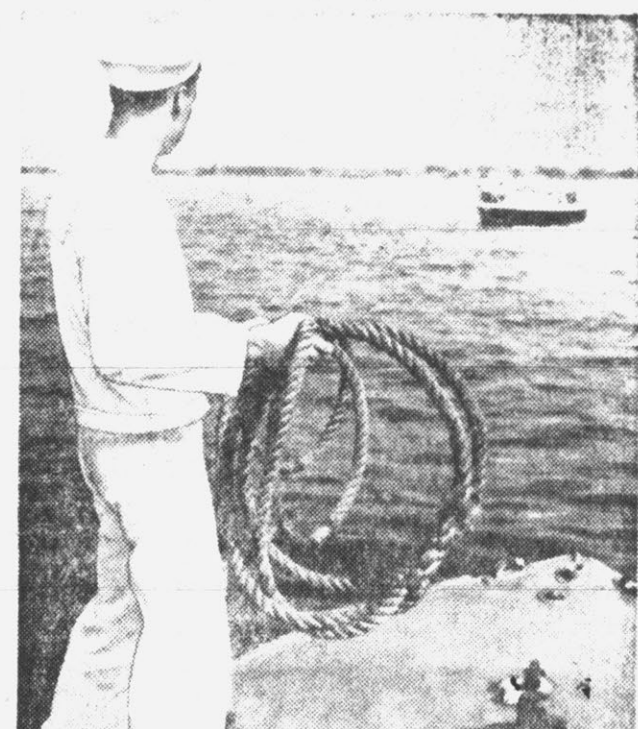

4. Station's commanding officer, Chief Boatswain Osborne Estelle, right, and Second Class Boatswain's Mate Henry Grice plot position of craft.

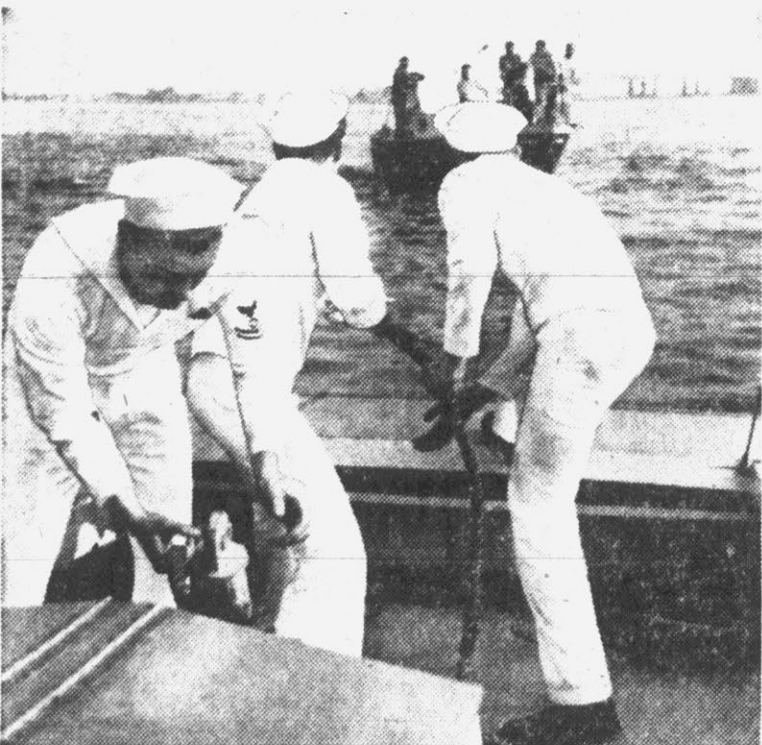

5. On the dock, Chief Boatswain Estelle hands note with the name and position of the disabled boat to Chief Boatswain's Mate James E. McAleese, as crewman stands by on the utility craft.

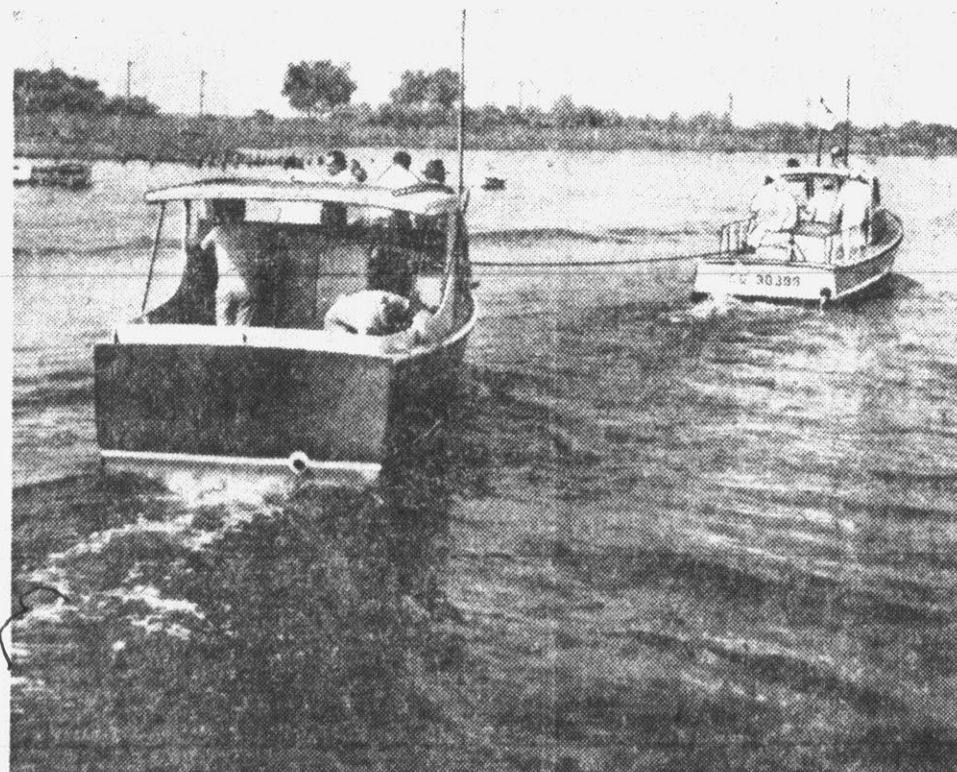

6. In less than five minutes after the lookout had called for help, Coast Guard utility craft speeds to the rescue.

7. Rescue boat reaches the Naiaid and a Coast Guardsman gets ready to pass the tow line.

8. The rescue boat reaches the disabled cabin cruiser and a tow line is made fast to the craft.

9. Now in safe water, the Naiaid is towed to her home port.

10. The Naiaid is moored at her dock in Gerritsen Inlet, Brooklyn, N. Y., and the six fishermen aboard are glad they're home.

Way before that the women's apparel industry learned how to make wives unhappy. Sure that last year's wardrobe was unfit to wear in public.

The TV industry is kicking off a drive this week to stress that it's now 10 years since there was general consumer acceptance of TV and that the first ones were postage stamp size and mechanically inferior to today's models.

In that decade 50 million sets have been sold and James D. Secrest, of Washington, executive vice president of the Radio Electronics and TV Manufacturers Assn., estimates that about 44 1/2 million of these are still in use.

The Census Bureau has decided that the 50 millionth home unit in the country was built last month. Saturation isn't the industry's only problem. Sales have been sticky, inventories troublesome, and at times over-production has led to manufacturing fatalities.

There's a big rumble building up over pay TV vs. free TV.

There's the chronic dispute over color vs. black and white. And the increasing proportion of portable set sales tends to slice total prices.

Right now, the manufacturers and retailers are uniting in a drive to get more two-set homes, or even three-set families.

Secrest says that currently one of every three purchasers already has a set. Last year the second time buyer represented one of every four.

He estimates this year's production of sets at seven million, down nearly a half million from last year, but with portables showing a big gain this year and now accounting for 28 per cent of the total. Factory sales are put at $78 million dollars this year, compared with 934 million dollars in 1956.

Consumer sales are estimated to come to 6,950,000 for the year, about 100,000 above last year. Makers and retailers are reported entering the fall selling season with total inventories of 2,278,000 sets, a bit down from last summer.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to improve in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to a point or so in a resumption of yesterday's technical rebound.

The market was higher from the start and held its gain for while before prices began to back away a bit.

Copper shares, however, improved their early advances.

Kennecott rose well over a point. Anaconda was a 1-point gainer. International Nickel advanced a good fraction.

The oils continued to bounce back from declines taken on concern over Syria. Gulf Oil and Amerasia were both ahead a point or better. Standard Oil (New Jersey) was up a fraction.

Du Pont, which had been riding along with a one-point gain, more than doubled this rise on a report that the company expects its sales this year to cross the two billion dollar level for the first time.

Steels performed indifferently, with Youngstown Sheet and U.S. Steel fractional losers. Motors did little. General Motors shed a fraction. Ford was steady.

The aircrafts made modest gains. Boeing, Douglas and United Aircraft moved ahead fractionally. Leading rails continued to recover some lost ground as Illinois Central rose around a point.

CHECKER BOARDS FOR BLIND—Miss Jennie Manning, Pitt Case Worker for the Blind, and Carl Whitfield, visually handicapped student of East Carolina College, play checkers with a special board designed for the blind. Some 100 of the boards were recently obtained by the Lions Club. Thirty-eight of these were delivered to blind persons during August. (Reflector Photo).

Reds Expected Capitalize On U. S. School Violence

LONDON (AP) — A group of U. S. lawmakers said today they expect Communist spokesmen to try to gain a propaganda victory out of the violence connected with the integration of Southern schools in the United States.

They said they were ready to battle the Reds on the issue at the 46th conference of the Inter-parliamentary Union which convened here today.

The American legislators — 10 senators and 14 representatives — are among delegations from 46 nations, including the Soviet Union, attending the conference. The union was founded in 1889 to promote international good will.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) told a newsman he fully expects Communist attacks on U. S. racial policies. Keating said he deplored recent violence over school integration in Tennessee and Arkansas. He said he has revised a speech he will deliver to take possible Communist attacks into account.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said that although racial violence "is hurting the prestige of our country," he believes the U. S. delegation has little to fear from Communist attacks on the issue.

"We'll be perfectly willing to talk about it," Kefauver declared.

Everyone should realize that only a small minority is involved in making trouble. No substantial number of people believe in violence in Tennessee or in the South.

Kefauver maintained that recent incidents of "trouble-making will be resolved and the law of the land and order will prevail."

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the upsurge of racial violence has been "tragic."

"We haven't had anything like that in Missouri," Hennings said, "and we don't expect any."

Rep. Boggs (D-La) appeared less optimistic for his state.

"We haven't really met the problem yet," Boggs said, "because our schools have not yet been integrated."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) declined comment on the situation in Little Rock, where Gov. Orval Faubus has ordered out the National Guard. Fulbright said he was "not sufficiently informed" to comment.

Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) said the Supreme Court itself is responsible for much of the trouble, since it was a supreme court decision in 1954 which ordered the schools integrated.

"The question of integration should have been left up to the states involved," Thurmond said. "The people themselves know what is best in situations like this."

Thurmond, who recently talked for more than 24 hours in a filibuster against civil rights legislation, indicated he might be able to talk even longer against Communist attacks—if necessary.

The Rest Of The News, In Brief

MOSCOW (AP) — Effective counter missiles that can destroy intercontinental rockets are possible, says Soviet rocket warfare expert Maj. Gen. G. I. Pokrovsky in a Russian journal. He blames the fixed trajectory of an intercontinental missile.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A long distance telephone call to Philadelphia was listed on the bill of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mazzini. They know no one in Philadelphia. They were asked if daughter Betsy Ann, 2 1/2, "ever plays with the telephone?" she does. The phone company cancelled the charge.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban exiles have asked Mexico to sponsor a vote of condemnation by the United Nations against the government of President Fulgencio Batista in Cuba "for the inhuman and uncivilized acts committed against an indelible people."

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — William A. Durfee heard a noise outside his house, looked out a window and saw a 44-passenger bus nudged against a tree. He also saw three teen-agers run from the darkened bus, which police said the three youths apparently had stolen.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — A Superior Court jury which yesterday convicted a man of drunken driving, returned a second verdict: The jurors' chairs are too hard. Presiding Judge L. Richardson Freyer promised to pass along the complaint to county authorities.

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP) — A band of horsemen playing an outlay are planning a mock train holdup here as part of the hi-jinks connected with the opening of the Dallas county fair. The event will reenact an $80 holdup by the notorious Texas outlaw, Sam Bass, who robbed a Texas & Pacific train here in the 1880s.

TOKYO (AP) — Heavy rains lashing Japan since Sept. 9 touched off landslides yesterday on the southern island of Shikoku Island. Police said six persons died and five were injured. A family of three was buried alive in their house by one landslide.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Snoopy apparently got snatched and it may become a federal case. Snoopy is a blue-blood dachshund owned by Fred Lewis, who said he received anonymous calls asking how much it would be worth to get his missing pet back. Police said they were pondering the possibility of calling in the FBI.

DAVIS, Calif. (AP) — Robert Warren, 22, youngest son of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren, is engaged to be married to Carolyn June Macklin, a 19-year-old brunette who works on the Davis campus of the University of California where Robert is a senior majoring in physical education.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nothing seems to upset 70-year-old Katherine Dolan. For the third time in less than a year, the little lady shooed an armed bandit out of her modest grocery store. She simply turned her back on the gunman and called the police. The bandit fled.

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — City jail prisoners are going to have music to soothe their jangled nerves. Police chief Charles E. Brown announced today that speakers would be put in the cell blocks soon, with music from Civil De-

Destroy Still, Confiscate Car

Pitt ABC officers assisted by ATU officers destroyed a 300-gallon steam type distillery and confiscated an automobile in an early morning raid today.

ABC officer J. M. Ward reports the large still was found in the Calico section of the county. In addition to the still and automobile, 66 gallons of illicit whiskey were found in a field approximately one-half mile from the scene of the raid.

The still was said to have been complete but was in the process of being transferred. Ward said the water in the boiler was still warm, indicating the plant could have been in operation last night. Officers destroyed a 300-gallon cooler, seven 360 gallon mash boxes, five 55-gallon drum boilers, and one 300-gallon pre-heater. The automobile, a 1946 vehicle, with no license plates, was seized for court disposition.

Participating in the raid were Pitt officers Ward, H. B. Lilly, W. M. Taylor, J. L. Ross, Jack Russell and ATU Agents Charles Smith and Bill Queen of New Bern.

Robersonville At 5 Million Mark

ROBERSONVILLE — Today's sales, according to Sales Supervisor Rufus Armstrong, will push the Robersonville market over the five million pound mark.

Going into today's block sale, the market had sold 4,677,140 pounds for an average of $52.90. Armstrong said, "I am more than pleased with the way tobacco is selling here."

The market sold 290,794 pounds yesterday for an average of $54.53, one of the better sales of the season.

Fall, Winter Schedule Set For Arts, Crafts

Recreation Commission officials announced the Fall and Winter schedule for Arts and Crafts this morning.

Mrs. Donna Tabor, supervisor of the program, stated there has been a change in scheduling. Beginning on Monday, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m. the building will be available for all adult amateur artists. According to the supervisor the art group will not meet on the first Monday of each month.

There will be no instructions given. "This is not a class but an opportunity for anyone who enjoys painting to do so," Mrs. Tabor said.

The group will meet from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. Each painter is to bring his or her own paints, etc. Easels will be available at no cost to the individual. There will be no Crafts on this night, Mrs. Tabor said.

Vandals Enter Church In Night

WINTERVILLE — Vandals entered the Winterville Free Will Baptist Church last night but nothing was reported missing.

The church was entered by cutting a screen and breaking a glass. Drawers had been opened and searched.

Felt Hat Days Are Announced

Friday and Saturday have been declared official Felt Hat Days in Greenville.

Local merchants, during the two days, will present special displays on the latest hat fall and winter styles.

To go along with the two-day event, a request has been made to the weather bureau for cooler weather.

Japanese Strike Over Layoffs

TACHIKAWA, Japan (AP) — About 7,500 Japanese employees of the big U.S. Air Force base at Tachikawa went on a 48-hour strike today to protest mass dismissals of Japanese workers.

The walkout left the camp without drivers, cooks or a general maintenance staff. It was launched after an announcement that 576 Japanese workers were being dismissed, in line with the pullout of U.S. troops from Japan.

Funeral Friday For Mrs. John Horne

Mrs. Mary Bagwell Horne, 75, widow of John Horne, died Wednesday morning in a Laurinburg Nursing Home following long illness.

Funeral services will be at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Greenville, Friday at 11 a.m. by Rev. Harry S. Coby, pastor of All Saints Episcopal Church, Laurinburg. Burial will be in Cherry Hill Cemetery, Greenville.

Mrs. Horne was born and reared in Raleigh and came to Greenville in 1917. During World War II she was in charge of the Servicemen's Club in Greenville. She was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Since 1947 she had made her home in Laurinburg.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Leggett Odom, Jr., of Wagram, and a son John L. Horne of Everette, Washington; three grandsons and a brother, James Hugh Ward of Raleigh.

RESTRICTIONS END BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimoreans were offered word of cheer by water engineer Bernard Werner after torrential rains. Henceforth, said Werner, drought-borne restrictions on watering lawns and washing automobiles were abolished.
