Eisenhower Defies Fire-Benson Demands In Praising Secretary

With Welfare Department

JUNIUS S. GRIMES, III... New Casework Supervisor For Welfare Department.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, defying Midwestern Republican demands that he fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson, praised Benson today as a man of courage and honesty.

The President told a news conference that people advocating that Benson be ousted are badly mistaken in taking that position.

On a related point, Eisenhower expressed interest in the proposal of a Paterson, N.J., newspaper publisher that an antirecession "Believe in America" campaign be launched.

New Tax Office Set-Up To Confront Next Supervisor

The man who is Pitt County's next Tax Supervisor might step into an office arrangement that is different from that which has existed for the past three years.

Chairman Woodrow Wooten of the Board of County Commissioners said today "The board will receive applications for the vacancy through Mrs. Blair C. Whelan, clerk to the board. We will hire a supervisor and some additional help for the tax collector's office, but we are not sure we will have the same set-up."

There, that would apply to the list-takers, office personnel and others who made the work easier. I do appreciate that cooperation."

One 'Vanguard' Delay Remedied

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy has remedied a propellant shortage that helped delay a test launching of the Vanguard satellite rocket.

Other difficulties—minor electrical troubles and balky valves and other plumbing that also served to prevent a launching planned for early this week—have not yet been eliminated.

The Vanguard rocket awaiting launch day will carry a miniature satellite sphere in its nose, although the main purpose will be to test the three Vanguard stages in flight.

Confirmation Of State Ports Director Expected This Week

The gas is used for the auxiliary jets that control the second stage of the Vanguard when it is coasting, at a speed of 9,000 miles an hour, after its engine burns out 140 miles above the earth.

Confirmation of the appointment of D. Leon Williams as executive director of North Carolina's state ports is expected later this week.

Williams, 61, of Savannah, Ga., was present for a meeting with Authority members who were unable to attend a meeting here yesterday.

Application Schedule Set Up For Surplus Food

Officials of the Pitt County Department of Public Welfare announced today a schedule for receiving applications for surplus food commodities to be distributed in the county under a special relief program.

Representatives of the welfare department will be in Grimesland Friday; Falkland (W.W. Wooten's Store), Monday; Farmville, Tuesday; Bethel (City Hall), Wednesday; Ayden (City Courtroom) and Grifton, Thursday. Hours of operation for the special interview schedules will be 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Grimes said the department expects to complete action on the applications by March 7 and will forward them to the State Department of Agriculture on that date.

Baby Needs Shots

By DOROTHY V. WHIFFLE, M.D.
Your baby needs lots of tender loving care, but he also needs the protection of modern medicine. We know, these days, how to prevent many diseases which in times past cost the lives of thousands of babies. Some diseases we prevent by the way we feed babies, some we prevent by clean and sanitary water and milk supplies, some we prevent by draining swamps or spraying with DDT to destroy insects. But some we can prevent only by giving "shots" to the babies themselves. You owe it to your child to see to it that he lives free from the shadow of past evils.

Routine immunizations for every child in this big country of ours should include protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and infantile paralysis. Depending upon where you live and what the risks are, your baby may need additional immunizations against such things as typhoid fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and many other.

Smallpox is really a solved problem, medically speaking. Time was when widespread epidemics of this disease snuffed out the lives of many children, and left those who survived scarred for life. Vaccination against smallpox is one of the most perfect immunizations we have. In fact we just don't have this disease any more, except in a few states in which vaccination is not required by law. But the only way we can keep smallpox from cropping up is to have everyone protected. Smallpox vaccination should be given anytime during the first year of life and then repeated about seven years later. There is no need to repeat it again unless we go somewhere where there is a greater risk of the disease than in this country.

Diphtheria
Immunization against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough can all be given together. It takes three "shots" given a month apart. Each shot contains protection against all three diseases. These shots should be given when the baby is approximately 4, 5 and 6 months of age. He should then be given a booster injection when he is 18 months of age. The effectiveness of these immunizations wears off in time, so booster injections should be given every two years until adolescence. After that tetanus alone should be given every two years.

The protection against diphtheria is as good as that against smallpox. Protected children just don't get this serious disease. The protection against whooping cough is not so perfect. It is good but not perfect. Some children even though protected by immunization will come down with the disease. However the case will probably be mild and no serious consequences need be feared.

Polio
Shots against polio or infantile paralysis everyone knows about these days. This is a disease which can go in the class of solved medical problems, like smallpox and diphtheria. We can free this land of ours of this dread disease as soon as everyone, children and adults alike, receive their three polio shots.

Different doctors administer routine immunizations on slightly different schedules. It doesn't matter exactly what the schedule is, so long as all are done. Be sure to see to it that all your children are protected against these diseases we know how to prevent.

Dior Heir Shows New Pyramid Look

YVES SAINT-LAURENT . . . this youthful successor to the late Christian Dior designed a short evening dress in white Chantilly lace. He calls the silhouette the "pyramid" look, flaring out and down from a narrow bodice, dramatically ballooning out in back with a gathered panel. A white satin rose is framed in a satin bow with long streamers knotted just under the bosom. The dress is shorter in front than in back, barely reaching the knee cap. The headdress is of matching lace.

Speaker Says Perennials Border Plants

"Perennials live year after year and are ideal plants to use in borders," said Mrs. Brantley Speight who discussed perennials at the Greenville Garden Club meeting Friday.

"A good planting plan to follow is the first step with perennials," she pointed out.

Mrs. J. R. Carrington was also featured on the program. Her topic was annuals. "It is important to buy the best seeds for annuals," explained Mrs. Carrington, "as many plants grow from a few seeds."

She added, "Annuals seeds must be planted each year and the preparation of the soil for these seeds is a vital factor in their growth."

Mrs. J. H. B. Moore opened a short business meeting at the home of Mrs. Preston Cannon and asked members to continue feeding and caring for birds.

Members discussed ways to eliminate squirrels and loose dogs. It was pointed out that dogs cause a great deal of damage to yards each year, especially in the spring. All dog owners were requested to keep their animals on a leash.

Mrs. El Bloom and Mrs. Harley Milstead were recognized as new Garden Club members.

Mrs. J. R. Jackson asked members for assistance in the cancer drive and other committee reports were heard before cherry tarts, nuts, and coffee were served by the hostess to members and guests.

Some Differences Are Expected

If North Carolina's State Board of Higher Education is to be worth its salt, it must be expected that the board and trustees of the state's institutions of higher learning will clash from time to time.

These clashes do not concern us quite as much as the political aftermath which such clashes may precipitate. If differences between the State Board of Higher Education and trustees of the University of North Carolina are tossed into the political arena for settlement, there can be no doubt that in the long run the state's colleges will suffer.

The board of trustees of the University is by its very nature politically strong in North Carolina. It is comprised of 100 members appointed by the legislature which has made a practice of rewarding faithful supporters of Representatives and Senators through appointment to positions on the board. Members of the board of trustees of the University have friends in the legislature, otherwise they would not be on the board.

In a showdown battle before the legislature, the trustees would have a decided edge over the Board of Higher Education so far as political pressures are concerned.

It strikes us, however, that the very nature of the responsibilities assigned the Board of Higher Education almost assures conflicts between the board and trustees of the various state institutions of higher learning. If higher education in the state is to progress, some method other than a political fight before the legislature must be found to resolve these differences which arise from time to time.

If a board of trustees is to run its political friends in Raleigh every time it feels the Higher Education Board has stepped on its toes, the battle between trustees and the Higher Education Board will soon assume enormous proportions. In such a situation state-supported colleges might well be relegated to a position of secondary importance.

There are few things that can hinder educational institutions as much as thrusting them into the midst of a pitched political battle.

No Reason Now, For SPA To Delay Further

There is no reason now for the State Ports Authority to hold back on its decision to hire D. Leon Williams as its new director.

Questions which arose concerning Williams' qualifications for the post seem to have been resolved by the legislative committee of Georgia which was investigating the operations of that state's ports. The Georgia legislative committee found that Williams had excuted his duties for that state in "an efficient and intelligent manner."

It seems that Gov. Marvin Griffin rather than Williams was the individual on which the Georgia investigation focused.

Now that the questions about Williams' work as director of the ports of the state of Georgia have been satisfactorily answered, the North Carolina State Ports Authority should feel confident in carrying out its plan to hire him as director for North Carolina's Ports.

Extra Services By Post Office

By ELMER ROESSNER

The postage rates rises being rushed through Congress are astounding in many ways. They are large. The rise from 3 to 5 cents an ounce for out-of-town first class mail is a jump of 66 2/3 per cent. Some of the Congressmen supporting this rise would follow their ears blue if General Motors, General Foods or General Electric boosted their prices that much this year.

The plea that the rises will provide more automation conflicts with everything that has been said about automation. Until the government decided to get into it, automation was supposed to reduce, not increase, costs.

But the most amazing fact of all is that the sponsors of the rate rises have ignored the fact that the postal deficit has been largely caused by so-called public services foisted on Post Office by Congress itself.

NONPOSTAL OPERATIONS In addition to getting the mail through, the Post Office is charged with these responsibilities:

- Provide notary-public service in certain fields.
- Make collections for Customs on mail on which duty is charged.
- Help the armed services find relatives of deceased servicemen.
- Make flags available for veterans' funerals.
- Sell documentary stamps for deeds and stock transfers.
- Help the Federal Housing Administration make vacancy surveys.
- Register aliens for the State Department.
- Help the Federal Bureau of Investigation hunt criminals.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

IF ONLY WE KNEW ALL One of life's most mysterious realities is time—if indeed it is a reality. The philosopher Kant called it a category of the mind. Einstein introduced the modern mind to conceptions of time which have entirely altered human thinking.

But assuming that time does exist, one of the most necessary things for us to understand is that our time schedule and God's are probably quite different. In the first place, God plans in terms of eternity while we are limited to years and decades. Again, we naturally want things to happen fast, for at best we have but little time here on the planet. But God has endless time in which to finish his projects. His schedule and ours, therefore, are often at variance. We complain at his providences. Yet all the while, the trouble would appear to be that we are thinking in terms of a little slice of time and in connection with a little project, whereas God is thinking in terms of time immeasurable and in connection with the whole universe.

Don't complain when your plans go wrong—or apparently so. Maybe it was your folly or ineptitude that made them so that way. More probably it was because your little project, wrapped up in a little bundle of time, did not fit into God's universal plan, wrapped up in eternity. If you knew all, you would agree and be comforted.

Help recruit employees for the Federal government. Sell U. S. bonds and saving stamps. Distribute income tax forms for the Internal Revenue Service. Receive and transmit funds for heart, cancer, polio and other volunteer charities.

Witness declarations of competence by private bondsmen. Administer oaths of office. Witness the marking of absentee ballots.

Certify widows and children twice a year for continued pension benefits. And, as any clerk can tell you, answer such questions as, "How do I get from here to Primrose Lane?"

In addition, there are losses imposed on the department by free rural delivery services, free mail for the blind, free registration of government mail, below-cost delivery of books, free delivery of newspapers in the county of publication, below-cost delivery of other publications, and the operation of unnecessary small post offices.

The Citizens' Advisory Council estimated that these services in 1955, plus losses on registered and special delivery mail, losses on parcels diverted from the mails by tighter limitations, and a few other leaks amounted to $392,400,000.

REAL DEFICIT: $122,000,000 Another estimate put the cost of the Post Office's "welfare" items at $400,000,000 for the fiscal year 1957, in which the deficit was calculated to be $522,000,000. In other words, most of the losses were not caused by normal postal activities, but by playing errand boy for Uncle Sam.

'Exciting' Later, Too?

Science Digest is a monthly publication that, for the most part, never has held much appeal for me.

It would suppose the lack of interest stems largely from a non-scientific attitude on my part, because I have been told that, in its field, it's a good little magazine.

I just might buy a copy of the March issue, however, to get the complete facts on an "exciting" 20-year study of marriage by a University of Michigan psychologist. The press release regarding an article by E. Lowell Kelly is just that interesting.

Kelly, according to the release, began his study in 1937 with 300 engaged couples. Last year, after 20 years of looking across the breakfast table, 454 of the original 600 were still married and living together.

Their confidential answers to Kelly's questionnaires go a long way, he says, toward debunking some popular beliefs about the state of wedlock.

For instance, Brother Kelly says his study shows that by the twentieth year of married life most couples are as happy as they were just after their honeymoons. The press release doesn't explain that comment fully, but Kelly does have some other interesting comments.

He claims, for instance, that series of personality tests given over the 20-year period fails to show that women are more fickle than men. Those tests show, according to the psychologist, that although most men and women still had the same basic values and vocational interests after two decades, their attitudes and allegiances — from the choice of a cigarette to a political party — changed greatly.

Kelly also says that, among both men and women, a generally favorable attitude toward housekeeping in 1937 had turned to a dislike by 1957. One reason for such, according to the article's press release, is that wives as well as husbands are more masculine in their thinking today. Kelly says it's also because of mechanization of the modern home.

Another myth blasted by the study is that adults do not change much in personality. Although most psychologists accept this no-change theory of personality, Kelly's study reveals that slow and undramatic changes in personality continue to occur during adulthood.

All of these things were of such extent that they were measurable to a great degree, but Kelly's study showed that the greatest change found was in religion.

Most men and women, he says, had stronger religious beliefs after being married 20 years. The couples also had a higher regard for marriage as an institution and for raising children.

To go along with those changes, Kelly says the women became less interested in art, music, literature and esthetics, and most of the men were less concerned with pure science, philosophy and other theoretical subjects.

The press release doesn't give any figures or other information to show how the psychologist arrived at his conclusions, and I'm just curious enough to wonder what some of the scores were.

I guess I'll have to buy the book to find out.

Other Editors Saying --- Higher Postage Certain

(Henderson Dispatch) With the Senate Post Office Committee voting seven to six in favor of five cents postage for letter mail in intercity transit, it may be assumed in all reasonable certainty that rates will go up, probably July 1. And this despite the fact that no department of government except the post office is even supposed to pay any part of its way.

President Eisenhower asked for the five cents rate as one means of balancing the postal budget. He ignored completely the possibility of modernization and economy as a means of reducing operating costs. It may be that in this instance, as presumably in others, he took what was handed him and plunked for it on Capitol Hill.

The House last year voted for four cents letter mail, but the measure never came to a vote in the Senate. Now the Senate, which hesitated last year, takes the initiative and goes the House one better by adding on a penny to what the lower branch of Congress had previously done.

Of course, committee approval, especially by so small a margin as one vote, does not necessarily mean the Senate will acquiesce. But the odds are at least even that it will. Moreover, chances are for House acceptance of the higher rate.

So the vicious circle continues. The merry-go-round of inflation and of higher taxes steps up its speed. The administrator and Congress are blowing both hot and cold, claiming to be struggling against inflation, while at the same time making the burden heavier on citizens generally.

But postal rates are on the way up and there need be no kidding otherwise.

WASHINGTON — Reading the daily news stories—about the fearful increase in violent crime, the freeing of convicted Communists, school riots and disturbances, born of racial bitterness—must be a cruel chore for the so-called "liberal" members of the Supreme Court these days.

For these scars on the nation's social, economic and educational landscape are attributed directly to the high tribunal's recent decisions by eminent Federal and State jurists, enforcement officers, educators, lawyers and social welfare workers. In their respective fields, all will operate in a vacuum until Congress clarifies and strengthens the numerous laws weakened or nullified by the Supreme Court.

Among the severest critics of Chief Justice Earl Warren's group have been Judge Learned Hand of New York, one of the nation's most revered law-givers; J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; and the police officials of an area which has suffered most seriously from the impact of these decrees — the Nation's Capital.

on the doorstep of the Supreme Court structure itself—Washington, D.C.—there has been staged a tragic spectacle of the results of these rulings. Washington, like many other cities, is suffering from an unprecedented crime wave—robberies, muggings, rape and assaults so frequent and brutal that police have had to warn people, especially women, to keep off the streets at night.

In fact, Deputy Chief Edgar E. Scott of the Metropolitan Police Department charges that two decisions—the Mallory and Durham—have been responsible for a 29 per cent increase in assaults committed on robbery victims. Police in many other cities differ only in percentages, agreeing on the cause, however.

DISAGREES WITH TRIBUNAL'S INTERPRETATIONS Scott had in mind the case of a confessed murderer and rapist who had just been freed because he had been questioned by police for seven-and-a-half hours before arraignment, which violates the Court's interpretation of the legal procedure under the Mallory decision. Two muggers were also turned loose after full identification and confessions.

"I don't agree with the Supreme Court," commented District Judge Edward Curran, "but I am helpless. There is nothing I can do about it except to free these men."

While Congress is considering numerous measures to redress the balance in society's war against criminals and Communists, another District Court Judge at Washington has taken bold steps to force a showdown. He is Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

DISTRICT JUDGE'S RECENT ACTION Like many other jurists, he has been puzzled and concerned over the Supreme Court's failure to lay down rules for questioning and arraigning a suspect—namely, how long police may interrogate the suspect. The Judge's recent action may force the Warren group to face and solve the problem next fall.

One alleged robber confessed within 15 minutes after he was taken to police headquarters. When confronted with his co-defendant's admission, the second confessed after 45 minutes. They were in police hands 75 minutes in all.

Holtzoff permitted use of the confessions at the trial, contending that the "delay in arraignment" had not been of sufficient duration. But the Frankfurter

Beauty Under A Knife

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Cosmetic surgery today has become a booming branch of medicine — and three out of four patients are women.

"That is because women in our culture are expected to be beautiful," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, a specialist in the field, "whereas men are expected only to be talented and good providers."

Dr. Franklyn estimated there are 250,000 plastic or cosmetic surgery operations a year in the United States.

"In another few years, if our present boom culture continues," he remarked, "breast operations will make up 50 per cent of all cosmetic surgery."

"Formerly, the objective in this type of operation was a reduction in the size of the bosom. Now 99 per cent of the women want a larger bosom."

"This comes about because of a change in beauty goals. The old skimpy, flat silhouette of the high-fashion model is out. The goal of womanly beauty today is a round, curvy, healthy look."

Cosmetic surgery has been immensely speeded in the last decade.

"A woman can now get a new breast in 15 minutes," said Dr. Franklyn, "a new nose in 10 minutes, or a face lift in 30 minutes. These no longer are hospital operations. They are beauty parlor surgery."

The doctor, husband of actress Vanessa Brown, has operated on many film stars, but this type of surgery today is gone in for by the masses.

"The typical female now is a 24-year-old housewife who is flat chested and has some marital difficulties," he said. "She feels that if she had a fuller bosom she could win back her husband—and it often does. She feels more adequate. Often these things are mainly psychological."

"We have found, for example, that salesmen averaged $1,300 a year more the year after facial surgery to correct some physical defects—bags under the eyes, protruding ears, receding chins—that impaired their self-confidence."

Dr. Franklyn, who has performed more than 25,000 cosmetic operations, uses an inert plastic substance called surifoam to round out or shape new bosoms and chins or to fill depressions in the bridge of the nose. Unlike earlier plastics, he said, the body does not react to the new material.

Cosmetic surgery is one field, he added, in which the Soviet Union lags—although the Soviet doctors are intensely interested, particularly in the rehabilitation of their thousands of war mullated.

"The Russians still try to build up breasts by taking fat from the hips," he said. "But this is robbing Peter to pay Paul."

"Fat has little circulation and when it is moved from one part of the body to another, it breaks down into oil, which the body absorbs."

Although Dr. Franklyn advocates cosmetic surgery for the correction of major physical defects, he is annoyed by those who seek it out of minor vanity.

"Some girls want an operation merely to give them dimples," he complained, "and now and then a man shows up asking if, please, can he have a cleft in his chin like Cary Grant."

"But I don't believe in gold plating a lily."

Opinions In Brief

"Our schools and colleges are overwhelmed by the growth of the population they are supposed to educate, and they are under enormous pressure—for the most part irresistible—to lower their intellectual standards. There is an ominous tendency in American education to teach more and more students less and less of the great disciplines which form an educated man." — Walter Lippmann.

Analyzing That N. C. Tax Data

By LYNN NISBET

SALES TAX — James S. Currie, commissioner of revenue, has compiled a table of sales tax collections by counties for the calendar years 1956 and 1957. The totals show an increase in collections from the whole state of less than one per cent. But in the county by county distribution of sources the figures range from more than 27 per cent increase to 27 per cent decrease.

The fact that Mecklenburg county collected more than ten percent of the state sales taxes—$8,029,500 out of $73,939,058—will be used as an argument that this and other big counties carry more than their share of the State tax load. Commissioner Currie points out that trading areas do not following county lines.

Currie warns that caution should be used in analyzing the data, especially for the smaller counties. Sales volume of non-taxes is not included. He further points out that payment of a large use tax levied on a construction job is non-recurring. It might make a big showing one year, none at all the next. The same kind of thing would distort percentages for adjoining counties.

Fifty-three of the 100 counties showed increased collection last year over 1956, while 47 showed decline in amounts. Despite the wide variance among counties, the record for the state at large was up 0.83 per cent. That means big losses in one area occasioned by temporary fluctuation in activity were offset by gains elsewhere.

ILLUSTRATION — There is no reason in general economic conditions for Hyde county to show a gain of 27.46 percent, while Beaufort, Pamlico and Washington all showed decreases. Nor is there any general reason for Mitchell county to show a drop of 27 per cent, while adjoining counties of Avery and Yancey show substantial increases.

The special nature of the big percentage increase is emphasized by the fact that Hyde's 27.46 per cent jump represented only $6,857.

The loss area, represented by shaded counties on the map, included the entire Border and East Carolina fine cured tobacco belts. The largest solid block of white counties, showing a gain in tax collections, embraces what is generally termed the industrial piedmont.

There are disparities here further illustrating the inaccuracy of county comparisons. Stokes and Lincoln are shaded, although surrounded by white counties. On the other hand, Richmond county is credited with a 6.08 per cent increase, while every surrounding county—Avery, Montgomery, Moore and Scotland—shows a drop in receipts. Every county in the twelfth congressional district shows a gain, except Clay and Jackson. Jackson is off just one-third of one percent, but

Clay drops way down by 11.46 per cent

Certainly there is nothing in the general economic conditions of the areas to put Richmond so far above its neighbors and Clay so far below. Next year's report may reverse these situations, by having big special taxes paid on construction jobs or purchase of heavy machinery in a different county.

Similar inaccuracies occur in comparing month by month collections. A big check may come in this year on the 30th day of one month, next year on the 1st or 2nd day of the next month. So far as the annual report is concerned, or the total amount collected, it makes no difference. It does materially affect the monthly comparison. The point here is that comparative statements are fallacious, for the reason that taxes are not always paid by the people in the community from which they are collected, or in the month they are reported to the State.

NEIGHBORLY — A few days ago one of the biggest school buildings in Henderson burned. The school board was faced with the problem of finding places to hold classes for the rest of the current term. It is learned that practically every church and civic organization in Henderson with any facilities for such purposes offered them to the school board. Because of geographic proximity and perhaps because of better facilities, the offer of the First Methodist church was accepted. The school board, the county commissioners and other official agencies involved moved rapidly to provide basic hearing and sanitary services.

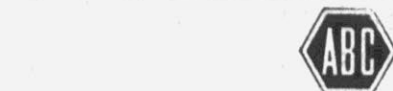

The developments at Henderson, while illustrating the neighborly spirit prevailing in the north North Carolina communities, also points out the problem of waste in educational and social function facilities because of limited use.

It developed that the educational building at Henderson's First Methodist was not used except on Sunday's and occasional nights during the week. Utilization by the high school will not seriously interfere with normal activities. At the same time there are hundreds of school houses and auditoriums throughout the state which are not used on weekends, and might be available for religious services on Sunday.

With demand for public school classrooms outrunning potential supply, and with need for educational and social activity rooms for most churches imposing heavy burden on pocketbooks of the parishioners, could it not be possible to work out a cooperative scheme that would utilize facilities of both schools and churches to fuller capacity at great saving to the patrons of both? There have been many times when churches have temporarily used public school buildings, and vice versa. If temporary use does not bring damnation, what's wrong with considering permanent joint usage?

Paris Glorifies The Sack

SACK COAT—This bulky knee-length coat by Catillo of Lanvin is made of a deceptively light-weight, fluffy fabric of nylon, mohair and wool. New notes are the square cut, low-placed kimono sleeves and wide standaway collar.

By DOROTHY ROE

Newest is the trapeze silhouette launched by young Yves Saint-Laurent, successor to the late Christian Dior, who slopes the fullness outward and downward from a narrow shoulder line, with a slight indentation just below the bust. This produces somewhat the effect of a tent—but it stopped the show at the opening and produced cries of "Bravo!" from the assembled buyers and press.

Whether you like it or not, it's a safe bet that you're going to find yourself wearing some version of the bag next spring or summer. New York manufacturers already are turning out adaptations of the latest French chemise, balloon, trapeze and bloused silhouettes in sizes up to 20. And buyers from stores throughout the country are stocking them.

Although spot checks around the country show that many women grow violent on the subject of the sack, there are indications that their resistance is slackening. Frequently heard nowadays are such remarks as these:

"Well, when you get used to it, it's really not so bad, is it?"
"My husband will probably have a fit when he sees me in this—but it does look new, doesn't it?"
"I never supposed I could get into one of these things—but I think it sort of makes me look thinner, don't you?"

"My, it's nice not to have to cinch in your waistline any more!"
Paris designers have developed a number of variations on the chemise theme. The most popular line tapers toward the hemline and hugs the hips.

The balloon chemise is a current sensation. It seems the sack becomes a balloon when draping is added, usually at the back.

Some of the new sacks are pleated from shoulder to hem, some are loosely bloused at the hipline, some have great billowing backs.

Winterville Girl Scouts Hold Investiture Services

Eighteen members of the Winterville Girl Scout Troops 53 and 8 participated in an Investiture Service held in the elementary school auditorium Monday night.

Mrs. C. D. Langston welcomed the guests and explained the program.

While the members stood in the horseshoe formation, Mrs. A. M. Mumford told about the Troop, the Girl Scout Emblem. As three members recited the three promises yellow candles were lit and placed in the center of the Troop. As the ten laws were given by individual girls smaller yellow candles were lit and placed around the Troop.

In the absence of Patrol Leader, Eliza Olive, Ginny Mumford introduced Nancy Branch, Janie Lou Jackson, Judy Hathaway, and Nancy Whelan, who had completed the requirements for Tenderfoot and were ready for investiture. The girls were questioned about their work and were presented Girl Scout pins by their leaders, Mrs. Powell Speight and Mrs. A. M. Mumford.

Members then recited the Girl Scout pledge, sang "When'er You Make A Promise," and joined in the Friendship Circle.

Following the service Mrs. J. K. Proctor led the Scouts and guests in singing a number of Scout songs and spoke about the work in Winterville.

Guests were then invited into the school cafeteria by Mrs. Norman Worthington for a social hour. Fruit punch and cookies which the Scouts had made were

With Farm Women

By VIRGINIA M. NANCE
(Items this week on: Iredell, Jones, Pitt, Cherokee, McDowell, and Wake Counties)

Community Development
An awards night for community development was held recently at the V-Point Community Center in Iredell County, according to Mrs. Nancy I. Myers, home demonstration agent.

The Housatonic community was awarded first place with $185 in cash plus several smaller gifts. Mrs. Myers indicated that Housatonic won on the basis of their making the greater number of improvements.

At the beginning of the year, they had only a bare community building. During 1957 they installed plumbing and bought furniture for the club house. They also improved the community by carrying out an extensive mailbox improvement campaign. They cleaned up public grounds, restored a historical cemetery, promoted subscription to Farm Journal magazine and sponsored swimming lessons for the boys and girls in the community.

Central and V-Point communities tied for second place, and Olin placed third.

Home Records
Keeping home records may not be an easy task, but it has certainly proved to be a rewarding one for rs. Thomas Humphrey, of Jones County's Pleasant Hill community.

According to Assistant Home Agent Mary W. Hester, Mrs. Humphrey's records show that her family saved $1,992 on their food bill for 1957 just by using food they produced on their farm.

Mrs. Humphrey says, "Our family milk cow saved us over $200 alone. Each member of the five members of our family drinks a quart of milk a day, and then we sell the surplus milk to our neighbors."

Egg Demonstrations
Earlier this month the agents, Miss Margaret Stevens and Mrs. Lois Freeman, gave a demonstration on "Eggs" to over 600 girls in 16 Pitt County 4-H Clubs.

The 4-H girls were amazed to learn the high nutritive value of nature's most compact food package. The agents pointed out there are over 1,000 ways to cook eggs and gave the girls recipe sheets featuring many egg dishes.

Speaking of eggs, ten 4-H boys and girls will receive 100 baby chicks each on February 28. They will then be members of the Pitt County 4-H poultry chain. After the chicks are grown, the 4-Hers will show and sell 12 of them to replenish funds of the poultry chain.

Larry Dilda, president of the 4-H County Council, announced at the last council meeting that definite planning is underway for observance of National 4-H Club Week March 1-5.

The Chocod Junior and Winterville-Greenville Community 4-H Clubs will have window displays in Greenville. Farmville Junior and Senior, Falkland and Fountain will have displays in their respective towns.

President Dilda also announced that some outstanding 4-H members will have radio programs and news articles each day during the week of special 4-H Club recognition.

Studying Civil Defense
Home demonstration club women in Cherokee County have been paying special attention to Civil Defense and their responsibility to know all they can about it.

Home Demonstration Agent Thelma M. Wheeler explained that the club women are studying Civil Defense with particular reference to what they can do to be prepared on the home front.

February 26, 1928

The George B. Singletary Chapter held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hassell. This was Education Month. Mrs. E. W. Harvey and Mrs. R. G. Fitzgerald had charge of the program. Mrs. Harvey read a beautiful tract on "Dixie," then Mrs. Fitzgerald told of the origin of the songs "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle." These songs were then sung by the chapter. Our scholarships were then discussed and the chapter voted to contribute as usual to the Samuel Nash Scholarship, which is given at our college. ## Sewing School Plans Told At Mayo HD Meet BETHEL—Mrs. Eugene Van Landingham, home demonstration agent, announced to the Mayo Crossroads Home Demonstration Club Friday night that a sewing school will be held this week in the courthouse annex.

Members decided to hold the husbands night supper March 20 in the Armory Building in Tarboro.

Mrs. Van Landingham gave a demonstration on the new synthetic fabrics. She displayed samples and emphasized the many uses, care of, and desirability of these fabrics.

Mrs. E. G. Whitehurst, president, called the meeting to order and announced that Mrs. John Mayo had returned home last week from Duke Hospital and would be remembered with flowers.

Mrs. J. M. Doughtie, garden leader, emphasized the necessity of pruning and fertilizing shrubs and gardens. She stressed the necessity of treating the soil in gardens to destroy nematodes.

Of focal interest in the home of Mrs. Joe Briley was an arrangement of red carnations and fern interspersed with hatchets made from pipe cleaners which expressed a patriotic theme.

Nuts, cookies, mints and cold drinks were served. Miniature American flags were used as favors. Mrs. Paul Millinder was welcomed as a visitor.

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer
What would it be like to meet your movie-star dream man? Pretty Lee Morris, 12-year-old Chappaqua, N.Y., school girl found out, 550 scrapbook pictures later, when she finally met her hero, Tab Hunter.

"He was absolutely wonderful, lived up to my highest expectations," Lee says ecstatically. "I had always loved his looks and good manners, but to see them come to life, and to realize he was so nice was a special surprise."

Lee's big thrill came when she and her father were invited to see Tab rehearse for a TV Hall of Fame production, "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," and then to Tab's quarters in New York, where they sat around and chatted.

"I really couldn't believe my eyes when he greeted us at the door in his bare feet carrying his shoes in hand," says Lee. "He had just taken a shower and hadn't quite finished dressing." (her girl friends within earshot gave out with squeals of delight at this).

At first, Lee forgot what she had planned to say to Tab. She says she looked at him, open mouthed, and then said "All the girls at school gave me questions to ask, but now that I see you, everything else has gone out of my mind."

"The trouble was," Lee relates, "that I was so amazed to see his sparkling, greenish-grey eyes, that I just forgot everything else. I never saw eyes that color before." Tab and Lee discussed his new record, he and a friend Gwen Davis wrote — "Don't Let It Get Around," his latest movie "Lafayette Escadrille" and the big break he had in snaring the silver skates role.

"I've always adored skating," Tab told Lee, "so my wish came true when I got the Hans Brinker role. It makes it fun to spend time on the ice as part of your job. Then, too, it is wonderful to work with Dick Button." A former Olympic skating champion, Button is in the production, also.

Lee doesn't regret having given up a football game to meet her hero in person, or that her previous school chums have given her lots of ribbing about her encounter with Tab. But she does have those pictures, especially the kissing scene, to prove that Tab gave her more than a passing glance.

"You know what he said when we did that," says Lee blushing, "c'mon I want a real one this time."

Lee got to the bottom of that reported love affair with Venetia Stevenson, too:

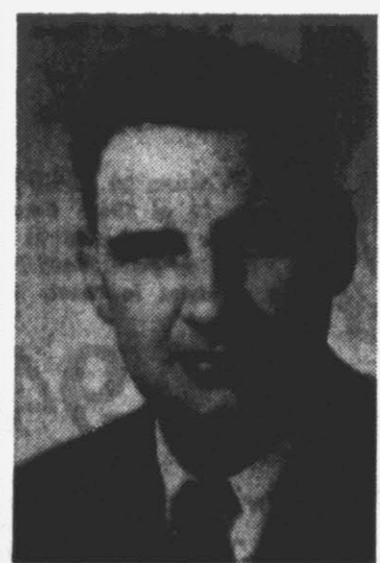

"I asked him about his romantic with her," she says, "and he said they'd had a fight at a horse show and weren't on very good terms right now."

Lee doesn't seem to care a bit. Processed vegetables are available year-round, making them excellent supplements to fresh vegetables which are often in short supply.

Washington Plans Gala Day For World Premiere Of New Movie

Washington, North Carolina, famous as the first town named after George Washington, will be the scene of the gala world premiere of a motion picture this Friday, February 28. The film is Warner Bros. "Lafayette Escadrille," starring Tab Hunter and the new French actress, Etchika Choureau. It was directed by William A. Wellman, himself a member of the original Lafayette Escadrille. The motion picture is based on Wellman's reminiscences of his World War I experiences. Friday will be a day of celebration and festivity in Washington. Governor Luther H. Hodges has proclaimed it as "Lafayette Escadrille Day" in North Carolina.

SUSAN OLIVER . . . visiting Hollywood star.

wood is sending two of its stars, lovely Susan Oliver and James McArthur. Miss Oliver is the star of the current motion picture, "The Green-Eyed Blonde" and has had featured roles on such outstanding major TV network shows as "The U.S. Steel Hour," "Studio One," "Kraft Theatre," "Alcoa," "Good Year," and "Robert Montgomery Presents." McArthur, one of Hollywood's brightest young stars, starred in the recent motion picture, "The Young Stranger" and is currently making a film for Disney Productions. Coming here from the nation's capitol will be French Ambassador Herve Alphand, Congressman Herbert C. Bonner and a number of Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps leaders. Other dignitaries and celebrities who are expected include Major Al Williams, one of the great names in Naval Air History and author of the best-seller, "Air Power," Robert G. Eoff of Honolulu, member of the original Lafayette Escadrille, W. D. Robbins, North Carolina Commander of the American Legion, Lt. Commander Carl J. Seiberlich, 1951 Harmon Trophy winner, Mayor and Mrs. Jack Williams, Carhage, Mayor and Mrs. J. E. L. Wade of Wilmington, Wesley Cullipher, Dept. Sr. Vice Commander for North Carolina Department of V.F.W. plus many others. Among the events scheduled for the day-long premiere celebration in Washington are a regatta on the Pamlico River. Coast Guard vessels and private boats will be decorated as part of a gala display. It is planned that the Coast Guard ships will be open for a public inspection. At 2:30 p.m. one of the biggest parades ever, in the history of Eastern North Carolina will take place. It includes twelve high school bands, the Marine Corps band from Cherry Point, beauty queens representing Greenville, Kingston, New Bern, Windsor, Jacksonville, Belhaven, Williamston, Bath, Washington, plus the possibility of Beauty Queens from Clinton, Fuquay Springs, Elizabeth City, Morehead City, White Lake and others, marching units from the National Guard, V.F.W., American Legion, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Langley Field Air Base, Seymour Johnson Air Base, U.S. Marines from Camp Lejeune, numerous floats, towed aircraft, National Guard Mobile Units, Sudan Temple clowns, Shriners, Oriental Band, R.O.T.C. Drill team from East Carolina College, North Carolina State College Drill Team, Red Men Indian Marching Unit, Pochontas Marching Unit, Majorettes plus a host of other units. Following the parade there will be an outdoor barbecue and display of aerial equipment at Washington's Lindsay Warren Airport. On Friday night, a Hollywood style premier, replete with lights flooding the sky, stars, bands, ect. will take place at the Turnage Theatre. The stars and other celebrities and dignitaries will arrive in front of the theatre in special cars and will be introduced to the crowds prior to entering the theatre for the world premiere showing of "Lafayette Escadrille." Following the premiere showing there will be a gala "Lafayette Escadrille Ball" at Sermon's war house sponsored by Washington's Junior Chamber of Commerce. Music will be furnished by the USMC Dance orchestra from Cherry Point. Washington was chosen as the premier site because it was the home of James Henry Baughman, the youngest and one of the most decorated members of the Lafayette Escadrille Squadron. He was killed in action at the age of 18, but not before he had shot down four German planes. Proceeds from the premiere at the Turnage Theatre will go to a campaign for a new youth center in Washington to be named in honor of Baughman.

Virginia Upsets Duke To Tie ACC Basketball Race

Cavaliers Take Blue Devils By 70-68 Margin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yes, North Carolina, there is a Santa Claus—even out of season.

The name is Virginia, and the gift is a first-place tie with Duke in the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball scramble.

Virginia's underdog Cavaliers did it by dishing out a triple-overtime 70-68 loss that snapped Duke's victory chain at 11 games last night at Charlottesville, Va.

It was the night's only ACC game, and left nationally sixth-ranked Duke with the same 10-3 conference mark as ninth-ranked North Carolina. Fifth-place Virginia has a 5-8 record.

Duke's loss also makes its home game Friday with North Carolina the big one of the week—the winner takes first place in the regular ACC season race and is seeded in the ACC tournament.

North Carolina, which won last night, North Carolina could have managed only a first-place season tie at best.

The only ACC team playing tonight is Maryland, which plays host to non-league Georgetown.

The Blue Devils reputation as a giant killer, although tarnished, still remains. It took a strong club to knock down mighty West Virginia of the Southern Conference 72-68 and then mop up the ACC, including a 91-75 victory at North Carolina Feb. 8.

While Duke's loop stock dipped, the Tar Heels find themselves riding a four-game conference winning streak that began after the Duke loss. Streak victims included 17th-ranked Maryland, 11th-ranked North Carolina State, Virginia and Wake Forest (10-1).

The Tar Heels boast the ACC's top scorer in Pete Brennan, who averaged 21.3 points per game through last Saturday night, when North Carolina beat Maryland 65-59. The 6-6 Brennan, who scored a total of 61 points in that game and the previous 81-69 win over N.C. State, tops the loop rebounders with 12.2 recoveries per game.

Duke's big statistic-maker is Paul Schmidt, whose field goal shooting mark of 53.4 per cent tops the league.

The big Cavalier last night was Herb Busch, who trails Brennan with a 16.9 ACC scoring mark. Busch made the winning basket with 29 seconds left after sitting out most of the game and scoring only four points.

Duke dogged Virginia until the last 89 seconds of regulation play before tying, 60-60.

It was nip-and-tuck in two overtimes, but in the third Virginia went ahead of John Sievers' field goal.

Schmidt countered with two free throws and Cavalier Paul Adkins leveled the game for a 60-60 Virginia lead. Then Busch hit what became the decisive basket.

Duke's Hayes Clement got in a field goal before the game ended, 70-68.

Facing Duke was Jim Newcome with 19 points, Schmidt 18, and Herd 14. Topping Virginia were Adkins and Bob Mortell with 16.

Bill Meager 13, and Sievers 10. Duke's only other North Carolina College squad in action last night was Belmont Abbey, which grabbed a four-point lead after eight minutes and downed Georgia Teachers, 47-43, at Statesboro, Ga.

The top Crusader was Bob Stewart with 23 points, but Center Curry of the Professionals was the high point man with 16.

Tonight, the 15th annual North State Conference tournament opened at Lexington with East Carolina playing Appalachian and High Point against Atlantic Christian.

About Antonelli

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Antonelli, whose best pitching record was made in even-numbered years, expects to return to San Francisco this season.

The 27-year-old southpaw had a dazzling 2.29 earned run average in 1954, his first year with the club. He led the Giants to a World Series sweep of the Cleveland Indians and finished with a 2.17 mark, tops in the National League.

He dropped to 14.16 in 1955, 20.13 in 1956 and had his poorest season last year, 12.18.

"I'm ready to hit it good again," he says. "I don't want to sound like I'm making excuses or alibing, but I had lousy luck last season."

Antonelli reported to spring training last season after a long siege of flu and was training hard but he was fully recovered.

"Then I hurt my shoulder in one of the first practice games," he said.

When he returned to form, he slipped and fell down the stairs at his home.

"It wasn't until the last month of the season that the pains went away," he said.

Antonelli will become a 10-year man in a few months. Manager Elmer Rigney expects him again to be the ace of the Giants' staff. John thinks the move to the Pacific Coast will help the club's morale.

He Caught 53 Rebounds In 1 Game

Jim Roberts, 6-foot, 5-inch, 220-pound sophomore center for the University of the South at Seawane, Tenn., displays the form he used to grab 53 rebounds in a single game. It was the game in which Seawane defeated Lambuth College 87-49 for the championship of the Seawane Invitational Basketball Tournament. Roberts, 20, is from New Orleans. (AP Wirephoto)

NEAC Tourney Ready For 1st Games, Thursday

Plans were completed today for tomorrow's first round in the Northeastern Conference basketball tournament at East Carolina College's Memorial Gymnasium.

The host Greenville Phantoms will play the second game of the tournament's first round, at 8 p.m. against Roanoke Rapids. Kingston and Elizabeth City will open the action at 6:30 and the first round will be completed with a 9 p.m. game between Washington and Jacksonville.

Regular-season champion New Bern will not get into action until Friday night. The Bears drew a bye.

New Bern, which had a conference record of 11 victories in 12 games during the regular season, will meet the winner of the Washington-Jacksonville game at 9 p.m. Friday. The other semi-final contest, which will begin at 7:30, matches the Greenville-Roanoke Rapids winner and the Kingston-Elizabeth City winners.

The tournament's championship game will be played Saturday at 9 p.m., following a consolation game at 7:30.

New Bern, on the basis of its record during the season, will rate as firm favorites in the tournament. Greenville, second-place finishers with an 8-4 mark, were conceded a good chance to upset the Bears until it was announced yesterday that the Phantoms' two centers, Steve Noble and Albert Crawford, would not play.

Noble has measles and Crawford has dropped off the squad, according to Coach Bo Farley.

Farley is expected to shift either Dick Evans or Mack Roebuck into the center position for the Phantoms. Evans, one of the team's top scorers, was a forward during regular-season play and Roebuck was used as a trouble-shooter, mostly at guard.

The rest of the Phantoms line-up is expected to have Peanut Nunn at one of the forwards and Wesley Hudson and Walker Allen at the guards.

Little League Meeting

The presidents of the Greenville Little League Baseball programs of Greenville have announced a meeting tomorrow night at the City Hall, to which all parents and supporters of the league are invited.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30.

Presidents J. G. Proctor and Billy Morton have stated that the meeting is "a very important one" and that all parents who plan for their sons to play ball this summer should attend.

Cohen Back With New York Again

By JOE REICHLER S. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Andy Cohen, after 30 years, is back with New York. Only this time he is a member of the Yankee organization instead of the Giants.

How many fans remember Andy Cohen and his remarkable debut with the Giants on opening day, April 15, 1928.

Cohen, a dark-skinned, black-haired rookie up from Buffalo, nervously stepped into the big shoes of Rogers ormsby at second base and almost at once captivated the town so completely that the fans forgave Manager John McGraw for trading away the great Rajan to the Boston Braves.

The inspired 22-year-old Cohen clouted a single, double and home run off the Braves' star pitcher Bob Smith. He drove in three runs and scored the other in the Giants' 4-2 triumph. He continued his dazzling pace for several weeks.

Unfortunately, he was no Hornsby and his fall from grace was almost as speedy as his rise. Within two years the compact little Texan from El Paso was back in the minors.

"This will be my 15th year as a manager," Cohen said, "and I thought I knew a little bit about this baseball business. But what an education I've been getting just listening to Casey and the others. No wonder the Yankees keep on winning pennants. This is where the Yankee success originates. Right here. Never in all my years have I seen such an efficient method of teaching, attended such interesting meetings and listened to such thorough lectures and coaching techniques."

EC, Appalachian Open Tourney Play Tonight

LEXINGTON — Fourth-seeded East Carolina College meets Appalachian here tonight in the first game of the annual North State Conference tournament.

High Point, the number two club in the tournament, takes on Atlantic Christian in the nightcap of the opening round doubleheader. The other teams in the tournament play tomorrow night to set the field for Friday's semi-final round.

Favored Lenoir-Rhyne, which has lost only once in two years of conference play, meets Catawba tomorrow night, after third-seeded Western Carolina plays Elon. Guilford, the conference's ninth team, did not qualify for the tournament.

East Carolina will be expected to have little trouble with the Mountaineers, despite the loss of Captain Harold Ingram. Ingram completed his requirements for graduation last week and is ineligible for further play.

Coach Howard Porter is expected to shift Guy Mendenhall into the starting line-up in place of Ingram. If Mendenhall isn't picked, then Charlie Adams will get the nod.

In two games during the regular season, East Carolina trounced the Mountaineers 86-65 and 94-58. The second game, which had a 36-point victory margin for the Pirates, was played in Greenville.

In addition to its conference mark of 15-1 for the season, Lenoir-Rhyne goes into the tournament with an overall record of 19 wins in 22 games. The losses were to Western Carolina, on the Catawba's home court in Cullowhee, and twice to non-conference Belmont Abbey.

High Point finished second with an 11-5 record, one game ahead of third-seeded Western Carolina. East Carolina and Catawba tied for the fourth spot with 8-8 records after East Carolina was ordered to forfeit three victories because of the use of an alleged ineligible player.

Atlantic Christian headed the second division with a 7-9 mark, followed by Appalachian, 6-10, and Elon, 4-12. Guilford, beaten 13 times in 16 games, wound up in ninth place and did not qualify for the tournament.

Lost, But Made A Good Showing

LONDON (AP) — A big, bruising mauler with a proud British fighting name came out of nowhere last night to give one of America's top heavyweights the scare of his life.

Brian London, hard swinging son of a former British champion, hustled the immaculate Willie Pastrano around the ring for a good part of their 10-round heavyweight contest. And though the elegant stylist from Miami Beach was awarded a points decision, a majority of ringside observers who thought the verdict should have gone the other way.

Even in defeat, London—virtually unknown outside these shores—gained a lot of stature. Although only fourth ranked in this country, he put up the best showing in a decade by a British fighter against a top class American.

London finished so strongly the Associated Press scoreboard had him ahead of six rounds to Pastrano's four — but British referee Bill Williams thought otherwise.

For all his weight advantage of 17 pounds at 204 1/2 to 187 1/2, London could not land a rock-a-bye punch.

British promoter Jack Solomon called it "The most wonderful heavyweight fight I have ever seen" and also said he thought London won.

The Pastrano camp pointed out a lot of the Briton's wilder punches missed and said they'd be happy to oblige him with a return anywhere, any time.

Williams, had only a small lump on his cheekbone to show for the apparently grueling contest.

The fight will be telecast via special facilities into the United States for the weekly Wednesday night TV hookup (ABC, 10 p.m. EST). It will be the first live sporting event to be televised from overseas into the U.S.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW! By FAGALY and SHORTEN

'Prime Minister' Says Assault Spontaneous

NEW YORK (AP) — The prime minister of a teen-age street gang has testified that the attack last summer that cost 15-year-old Michael Farmer his life was spontaneous. Farmer, a polio cripple, was beaten and stabbed to death last July 30 in the Washington Heights section of upper Manhattan. Seven boys from 15 to 18 are on trial for their lives in the slaying. The state contends Farmer was an innocent bystander who crossed the path of a war party of Egyptian Dragons in search of members of the rival Jesters gang. Farmer apparently belonged to no gang. Howard Rowan, a six-foot Negro youth, testified that he understood he and his fellow Egyptian Dragons were in quest of a peace parley with the Jesters, not war. Nevertheless, he recalled that various of the defendants were armed with knives, sticks and a weighted dog chain. Rowan, 16 now but 15 at the time of the attack, said his duties as prime minister consisted of looking over new gang members. He escaped indictment for murder because of his age and was committed to an institution for juvenile delinquents. Ten other younger members of the Egyptian Dragons similarly were treated as juvenile rather than adult offenders. The seven older Egyptian Dragons face the electric chair if convicted of first-degree murder. Their General Sessions Court trial is nearing the end of its first month. After preliminary police testimony, the stage began calling members of the Egyptian Dragons as witnesses. Rowan was the fourth to take the stand. The Egyptian Dragons were an integrated gang, operating in an area of Manhattan where Negro and Puerto Rican families have moved into property once predominantly white. Two of the boys on trial are white, two are Negro, two are Puerto Rican and one is from the Dominican Republic. The white boys are John McCarthy, 15, and Richard Hills, also 15. The Negroes are Charles (Big Man) Norton and Leroy (The Magician) Birch, both 18. The others are Lencio de Leon, 15, and George Melendez and Louis Alvarez, both 16. Farmer was white.

Volunteer Force Quits In Dispute

SALEM, Mo. (AP) — Salem's 10 volunteer firemen and Chief Ray Johnson all quit in a dispute with the City Council. There were two fire alarms yesterday in this Ozark town of 3,600 about 100 miles southwest of St. Louis. The firemen stayed put. They were only small grass fires and nearby residents pitched in to extinguish them. The firemen complained the Council refused to listen to their grievances at its meeting Monday night. The volunteers have been getting $3 apiece every time they answer an alarm. They asked $5.

USTINOV HONORED

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Ustinov, author-star of the Broadway hit "Romanoff and Juliet," has been awarded the annual Benjamin Franklin medal of England's Royal Society of Arts. The trophy is presented to individuals who attained early prominence and who have shown promise of future achievement in the arts or commerce. Ustinov is 36.

Czechs Relaxing Abortion Laws

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia has made it much easier for any woman expecting an unwanted child to have a legal abortion. By law, abortion now can be authorized within the first three months of pregnancy. If the family feels it has too many children. If the expectant mother has been widowed or her husband is invalid. If the mother is unmarried or for other reasons faces difficulties should the child be born. If the child will be born into a broken family. If the mother is too old safely to have a child. If pregnancy was the result of rape or other illegal act. "If people are to have children, it is right that they have them voluntarily, even if in fewer numbers, but that they devote the greatest care to their training," explained Prof. Karel Kacel, chairman of the Health Committee of the Czech National Assembly, writing in Czechoslovak Life. Women wanting abortions must go to a government commission for permission. Abortion is authorized only if her health permits and if she qualifies within the law, passed in December. Kacel said Czechoslovakia acted because laws against abortion did not keep women from having them. Unprofessional legal abortions cost many their health or lives. Also, he wrote, the old laws failed to recognize that today "woman enjoys complete equality with the man and so cannot be a mere passive object."

Orbited Into The Arms Of The Law

BOONE, N.C. (AP) — Officers quote Rufus McNeil, 25, as saying he's from outer space. McNeil orbited into the arms of the law on the roof of a grocery store yesterday. Police said he had burglary tools and told of dropping from Sputnik II, the dog-carrying Russian earth satellite. Police Chief Glen Richardson identified McNeil as an earthman of Wilkes County and charged him with attempting to burglarize a department store adjoining the grocery.

'Important', But Still Opposed

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Kishi today acknowledged the importance and necessity of U.S. nuclear weapon tests but said Japanese opposition to such tests is "something so deeply rooted" it cannot be ignored. The Prime Minister told a group of visiting American newsmen that if the use of gas and germ warfare can be banned by international agreement, "it is hard for the Japanese people to understand why nuclear warfare, which is more deadly, should not be opposed even more strongly."

ECC Begins Its Spring Quarter

East Carolina College opened today for the spring quarter of the present school year. Registration began this morning and will continue through most of the afternoon. The beginning of the quarter followed a two-day holiday during which teachers completed their grades for the quarter and reported them to the office of the registrar. Most students left the campus for visits to their homes or elsewhere. No official count of the number of students attending the college this quarter will be available for several days. Enrollment is expected to compare favorably with that of last spring. First meetings of classes will be held tomorrow morning. Classes which are held on Friday will also hold meetings on Saturday of this week. The spring quarter will include Easter holidays extending from April 5 to April 9. Among important events will be a pageant to be presented May 3 and 4 to celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the college. Commencement exercises are scheduled for May 18.

College Choir Giving Concert Tonight

CONCERT—The East Carolina College Choir will give its annual concert on the campus tonight at 8 o'clock in the Austin auditorium. The 50-member ensemble, singing under the direction of Dr. Carl T. Hjortsvang of the college department of music, will give a program of choral music. Selections will include sacred music, spirituals, and compositions by modern composers.

'Mighty Dead' Letter Poses The Question

DALLAS (AP) — A mighty dead postcard sent to the dead letter office here raises the question of whether Joe met Minnie one Friday night some 30 years ago. Or did Minnie spend hours waiting at the depot and raise a domestic crisis? A postcard was found lodged in the lobby mail chute at the Granger Hotel in Paris, Tex., recently when the mail receptacle was taken out during remodeling. The card is undated, but it is addressed to a Dallas post office box number that went out of use in 1930. The last name of the addressee is illegible, but the card begins, "Dear Joe." It ends, "Love, Minnie." The writer said she was enjoying her stay in Paris and added, "Don't have too good a time while your wife is away." Then it says, "Don't forget to meet me Friday night at the depot." Postmen, trying to deliver the card here, wondered: Did he?

GE Abandons Its Fair Trade Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Storekeepers across the country are free today to sell General Electric Co. small home appliances at any price they please. GE, the nation's largest electrical manufacturer, has abandoned its "fair trade" policy. It so advised thousands of retailers by letter yesterday. Under fair trade, which the company long championed at considerable cost, manufacturers fix minimum legal store prices on their branded products in states that have laws enforcing the practice. GE's large home appliances have never been "fair traded" and the company gave up "suggesting" retail prices for them several years ago. Thirty-two states have effective fair trade laws. Vermont, Texas, Missouri and the District of Columbia never passed these laws. In 1951 the U.S. Supreme Court declared the Millard-Tydings Act unconstitutional. This federal law

Kuldip Singh's Career Has Gone Up, Down, Up

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What happens to a Cinderella boy after the ball is over? In the case of Kuldip Singh, the story may well have a happy ending, though there have been moments when he may have doubted it. Singh is the handsome, 23-year-old native of Kashmir who made a big splash in the entertainment world a year ago. Born in India, Kuldip left his native land at an early age and lived throughout South America and the Caribbean with his family. His father had a traveling job. As a boy, Kuldip always wanted to be a doctor. He entered the United States to study medicine at UCLA. His main problem: "It's fate, I guess," said the fatalistic Kuldip. He went on the Groucho Marx show and made a big hit with the audience, even singing a ballad, though he had never sung in public before. He made only $50 in the quiz, but soon afterward he was signed up by a big agency. He was booked to appear with George Gobel and voluntarily went to the immigration service to check his status. He was told he would have to leave the country and re-enter with a work permit. The news was released with a rash of bad publicity. "Reporters called up to ask why I was being deported," he said. "It was even doubted that I was a native of India. One report said that I actually came from Brooklyn!" Kuldip went over the border and returned with a work permit granted alien performers. But the first impetus of his fame was waning. He sang at the Silver Slipper in Las Vegas and was a regular on the Ray Anthony TV show until it

Nine Tobacco Meetings Slated

RALEIGH (AP) — Nine meetings will be held in North Carolina in the next two weeks to acquaint flue-cured tobacco growers of the latest information on problems confronting them for the 1958 crop year. The first meeting is set for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Whiteville. Other meetings are as follows: Wilson and Kinston, Friday; Williamston, March 3; Lenoir and Sanford, March 4; Madison, March 5; Roxboro, March 6, and Yadkinville, March 12. A highlight of the meetings will be a discussion of the operations of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative. Germany was admitted to the League of Nations in 1926.

Both Military, Economic Aid In President's Program Matched

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an A-B-C on President Eisenhower's foreign aid program. He has asked Congress for $3,942,000,000 for another year. It faces a tough fight.

Eisenhower's program is a continuation of the one started by former President Truman. Since the war the total cost of foreign aid — of all kinds — has been 60 billion dollars. The end is not in sight.

The President has asked $2,635,000,000 for military aid and related expenses of defense support and $1,307,000,000 mainly for economic aid. That economic aid falls into two classes: loans that will be repaid and grants, or outright gifts.

The aid program began to assume its present form, but in a very limited way, back on March 12, 1947, when Truman asked Congress for 400 million dollars in both military and economic help to Greece and Turkey. He got it. Greece at the time was threatened from within by Communist guerrillas; Turkey was being pressured from the outside by its next-door neighbor, the Soviet Union.

Later in 1947 the Truman administration — through Secretary of State Marshall — proposed a big economic aid program for Western Europe which was still flat on its back from World War II. This program got started in 1948.

Still later, as the result of Communist pressure or aggression around the world, this country began making military alliances with individual countries and groups of countries.

This meant military help from this country in various forms: weapons, instructors to teach the use of them; supplies, services; and even direct money to help smaller countries pay for their armies set up as part of the alliance.

On the military assistance in its various forms the Truman and Eisenhower administrations reason this way:

It's cheap at the price. These alliances form a protective wall against the Soviet Union. They have far more men than we could afford to put in uniform on a permanent basis if our allies weren't there; and, besides, by ourselves we couldn't police the world. The armed allies do the policing.

In addition; by being our allies, they stay out of the Soviet camp and get a chance to develop by themselves.

The economic aid not only includes loans, to countries which feel able to repay, but grants or gifts to those which can't repay, and also technical assistance.

This country sends technical experts to backward countries to help them come abreast of the times through various forms of development: farming, education, health, mining, industry, transportation, and even by training administrators.

The biggest chunk of the military aid will go to countries of the Far East.

Just About Matched '56 Profit

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—A weak fourth quarter pulled many a corporation's annual earnings down but as a whole business profits for 1957 managed to squeak through just about even with 1956.

The flood of earnings statements pouring in today show an unusual number of cross currents: Record earnings for some despite the general recession; for others record sales but ebbing net profits after taxes; steep declines for many firms and for some whole industries.

There have been some surprises in individual reports—quickly reflected in the action of their shares on the stock market.

More than half the 679 firms so far reporting show profit drops from 1956. But so well did some of the giants of industry do, and some industries like drugs, tobacco and the even-riding utilities, that the combined net income of the 679 comes to $10,296,727,000.

That is a bare 0.4 per cent from the $10,249,913,000 the same companies reported for 1956. It reveals the sharp drop from the nine-month mark when business was showing a 7.2 per cent gain over the first three quarters of 1956. For all of 1955 profits increased 31.8 per cent over 1954. So close is the race between 1957 and 1956 profits that the percentage can swing back and forth across the line almost daily as more companies report.

Biggest decreases by those reporting so far are: The airlines, off 48 per cent, although some of their suppliers did better; meat packers off 55 per cent, although other food companies managed to make gains; mining companies, off 44 per cent per hundred, metal working firms, off 18 per cent; paper and paper products, off 23 per cent; cement, off 15 per cent; and apparel, off 18 per cent; farm equipment, off 11 per cent; and railroads, off 17 per cent.

The steel industry managed to pull ahead slightly, thanks to the two largest companies, whose combined earnings topped those of all the others together.

The auto industry as a whole pulled ahead of a year ago because two of the Big Three had better years than in 1956.

A slide in profits for a giant oil firm set the pattern there, since its profits are greater than all the other 25 companies reporting so far.

The biggest chemical firm shows an increase but not enough to offset the others. The industry as a whole trails 1956 by 0.5 per cent.

The waning boom in capital goods and in industrial expansion is shown in the reports of the machinery makers, off on average 4 per cent, and the machine tools industry, down 7 per cent, and in the building materials group, minus cement companies, down 11 per cent, although the glass firms did better than that.

Shrinking profits continue to show up in another way—in the almost daily flow of announcements that dividends are being cut by some firms.

Blamed for the decreases by those reporting them are sliding demand in many cases, and rising labor costs in most. Increased materials prices last year also enter in, although this trend has halted recently.

Reversal of the downward profit trend: Better demand, more cost cuttings, more productivity, less taxation—or a combination of them.

Experts Wonder If Boy Is Cause Of Phenomena

SEAFORD, N. Y. (AP)—Can a 12-year-old boy cause bottles to pop their tops and plates to fly? A psychologist from Duke University visits the James Hermann house in this New York City suburb today to try to find out.

Since Feb. 3 all types of bottles have blown their screw-on tops and furniture has crashed to the floor. Yesterday a phonograph reportedly flew 15 feet, a clay statue whirled across a bedroom and hit a mirror and an empty plate skidded off the dinner table as the Hermanns ate.

Police and scientific investigations have turned up no clues except that young Jimmy was somewhere in sight when things began to happen.

Nobody has seen Jimmy put the objects in motion physically. Whether he is doing so mentally is another matter, calling for an expert. A detective says he is convinced Jimmy is not physically responsible.

This brings Dr. J. Galther Pratt, assistant director of Duke's parapsychology laboratory, Durham, N. C., on the scene. Parapsychology deals with the reported supernatural ability of human beings.

Pratt will try to find out if Jimmy is making the objects move without touching them.

Also due at the Hermann house today are technicians from RCA Communications, Inc. They will try to determine whether the explanation lies in radio waves or an electromagnetic field.

Dave Kahn, a reporter for Newsday, Long Island newspaper, spent 48 hours at the Hermann six-room ranch house. He says he doubts Jimmy is able to move fast enough to set things in motion without being seen.

But Kahn notes: "The boy has been close to the affected article in every case. Other persons rushing to the scene frequently find him overlooking the wreckage."

"I'm baffled," Kahn says. So is Nassau Detective Joseph Tozzi, who questioned the family for more than two weeks. It's Tozzi who is convinced the boy is not physically responsible.

'Peyton Place' Author Divorced

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The author of the novel "Peyton Place," which hit the best seller lists and was made into a motion picture, has divorced her husband on grounds of voluntary abandonment.

Judge J. B. Hicks granted the divorce yesterday to Grace Metalious, 33, in Russell County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Metalious testified that her husband, George, 33, voluntarily abandoned her on Oct. 14, 1956. They were married in 1943. Metalious was listed as a resident of Massachusetts.

The judge barred remarriage except to each other for 60 days. No mention was made of property settlement, money or the three Metalious children, Marshal, 14, Christopher Michael, 10, and Cynthia, 7.

Group Seeks To 'Sell' Peace Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Citizens for Foreign Aid movement took root today, launched with an impassioned plea by President Eisenhower to combat opponents who say "billions for armament, but not one cent for peace!"

Movie czar Eric Johnston undertook the task of setting up a permanent nongovernmental committee, mining, industry, transportation, and even by training administrators.

The group, with headquarters in Washington, will seek to build public support for military and economic aid programs aboard.

Its immediate objective is to win congressional passage of the administration's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The movement is a direct outgrowth of a conference yesterday, arranged by Johnston at Eisenhower's behest, of leading citizens.

Eisenhower addressed a dinner attended by 2,000 persons last night, climaxing a daylong parade of leaders from politics, industry, labor, entertainment, education and just about every other walk of life.

An unusual spirit of bipartisanism marked the gathering, at which Eisenhower and former President Truman both spoke, eight hours apart.

The unprecedented political truce was emphasized when Eisenhower posed humbly for pictures with such Democratic luminaries as Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas, as well as Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent in 1952 and 1956.

Sign Trade Pact With Red China

TOKYO (AP)—Advices from Peiping said 12 Japanese industrialists and Red China signed a five-year trade agreement today under which 280 million dollars worth of Japanese steel materials will be bartered for Chinese iron ore and coal.

Radio NHK and the Kyodo news service said the pact was signed in Peiping by Yoshihiro Inayama, head of the private Japanese delegation, and a representative of Red China's mining industry corporation.

NHK said each group is to ship 28 million dollars worth of materials to the other in the first year, 1958. Japanese-Chinese trade is based on such nongovernmental agreements in the absence of diplomatic relations between the Tokyo and Peiping governments.

Underground diggings at International Nickel's mines in Ontario total 410 miles, more than the route between New York City and Toronto.

Not Even A Fire Stopped Postman

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The Springfield Post Office now can add the word fire to the elements which fall to stay its couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

Postman William Egan insisted on entering a building at the height of a $250,000 fire to make his regular collection despite warnings from police and firefighters. "The mail must go through," he shrugged.

Acting Postmaster Arthur B. Morin commended Egan for his devotion to duty.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued higher early this afternoon in a recovery from five losing sessions. Trading was moderately active as prices improved on a broad front. Most pivotal stocks showed gains of fractions to a point but in a few cases the advances went to around 2. Brokers called it a technical snapback from an oversold condition. Some short covering was reported.

Steels, aircrafts, oils and chemicals did well. Leading rails and utilities showed scant change. Corporate news continued spotty with further evidence of the squeeze on profits. Youngstown Sheet added around 2 points. Bethlehem was up a major fraction. U.S. Steel advanced more than a point. Republic Steel was firm.

Chrysler was the standout among motors, rising about a point. General Motors was firm. Ford eased. The rubbers made something of a comeback as Goodyear rose about a point and Goodrich was firm. U.S. Rubber, however, dropped a fraction.

Fractional gains were made by such leading oils as Standard Oil of New Jersey, Royal Dutch, Sinclair and Texas Co. Lorillard continued its recent run-up, adding a major fraction. Gains of about a point were made by Zenith, Johns-Manville, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing and Elco Dodge.

The Associated Press average of 80 stocks at noon was up 70 cents to $159.00 with the industrials up $1.60 and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

French Bitterly Assail U. S. Policy On Arabs

PARIS (AP)—A sweeping attack by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau on America's policy in the Arab world was seen today as additional evidence that France will not be pushed into any U.S.-engineered compromise with Tunisia.

Pineau's blast was one more indication of the difficulties facing U. S. diplomat Robert Murphy and a British colleague named by their governments to exert good offices to bring France and her former North African protectorate back together.

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba said in Tunis after his first conference with Murphy that any French-Tunisian settlement must take the Algerian rebellion into account. The French already have said the only Algerian angle they will discuss is how to cut off Tunisian aid to the rebels.

The French Parliament's upper house, after hearing Pineau's attack on U. S. actions, voted 271-14 for a resolution that "resumption of normal relations with Tunisia should have nothing to do with the Algerian situation." The Communists were the only opponents.

There was no immediate reaction in Paris to an official statement in Washington that some American military aid equipment was used in the French air raid Feb. 8 on the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef, which triggered the current crisis.

Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state and former ambassador to France, said there was no excuse for such use. He said the United States intends to take every precaution to make sure it does not happen again.

The committee's recommendations will be heard next week and new officers are to be elected at that time, Beddingfield said. He set the meeting for 7:30 next Tuesday night in City Hall.

Beddingfield named Willie Pate chairman of the nomination committee. Other members are: Milton Williamson, Mrs. J.H.B. Moore, Mrs. Mike Brocato and Miss Lelia Higgs.

The president said the committee will have the organization's mailing list available for their considerations but they will not be bound to the list.

Guard Against Diverting Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department official says there "was certainly no excuse" for the French to use U.S. military aid equipment in their much-criticized attack on a Tunisian village Feb. 8.

And Deputy Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon said yesterday this country intends to take every precaution to prevent similar use in the future.

Dillon, replying to questions at a foreign aid rally, did not identify the equipment used in the attack but he presumably referred to Corsair fighters used in the raid.

He made no mention of a secret report saying substantial quantities of U.S. material were diverted by France to North Africa, where it is trying to suppress rebellious Algerians.

Dillon said France contends it has a right to use the equipment because it regards Algeria as part of the North Atlantic Pact area where France is permitted to use U.S. aid equipment for defense.

The secret report was one of several on U.S. arms aid that the House Foreign Affairs Committee released in a heavily censored form. They were made by the General Accounting Office.

One of the reports is reported to picture the U.S. aid to Spain as set so high, for political reasons, that the Spanish received more P-86 jet fighters than it had pilots to fly them.

Another report told of pilfering of aid goods in Korea and still another found items headed for delivery to Japan when the same goods were being disposed as surplus by U.S. Far East forces.

Training Session Is Begun Today
A training institute for district chairmen, members of the Boy Scout Council, district committeemen and members of the staff began at Austin auditorium in the college campus this afternoon and will continue tonight.

The institute convened at 4 o'clock. Its purpose is to provide instruction for each man to help him understand his job in Boy Scouting and do better work. The institute was to recess for supper and reconvene at 7 o'clock. Boy Scout Executive Carl Knott stated.

He also stated that this type of institute will not be held again in Eastern Carolina Council during 1953.

Will Give Flag To Scout Troop
Charles Forbes, district manager of the Women of the World, will present an American flag to Boy Scout Troop 205 at Memorial Baptist Church tonight.

The flag will be received by Scoutmaster C. C. Edwards. Presentation of the flag is a part of the civic program carried on by the WOW.

Talk Of Law Violations Is Increasing In FCC Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—House probes, amid increasing talk of law violations, take another look today at the complex financial transactions involving Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the special House subcommittee conducting the probe said Mack and others involved in the bitter fight over Miami's Channel 10 TV license appear to have violated the law and opened themselves to prosecution.

Miami Atty. Thurman A. Whiteside, against whom some of Harris' statements were directed, denied that he had violated any law. Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Rogers, at a news conference, described as "not correct" a report that the Justice Department has taken steps looking toward Mack's possible removal.

"That is not our function," he said. "Prosecutions are a matter for the department to decide. Removals are matters for the President to decide."

Rogers said an FBI investigation of the case is not yet completed, and he declined to speculate on any possible moves toward prosecution.

Rogers ordered the FBI probe last week after the subcommittee's ousted counsel Bernard Schwartz testified Mack had accepted money from Whiteside and pledged his vote to Public Service Television, Inc., a National Airlines subsidiary which got the contested Miami TV license. Schwartz said

Whiteside represented Public Service. Whiteside, who has heatedly denied the Schwartz charges, elaborated yesterday on the one-sixth interest he said he gave Mack in Miami's Stembler-Shelden insurance agency, a firm doing business with the Channel 10 winner.

Whiteside testified earlier Mack had received almost $10,000 from the insurance interest from 1953 through 1956 without a cent of cost to Mack. Asked if the transfer were made to Mack "just out of friendship," Whiteside replied: "Of that you may rest assured."

He added that Mack supplied leads to the insurance firm, entitling him to a share in profits. However, Whiteside said Mack hadn't provided any leads since being named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in 1955.

In 1957, Whiteside said, Mack received nothing from the insurance company but his ownership participation interest was paid to Andar, Inc., which had been an inactive corporation. Whiteside said he had transferred to Mack the outstanding stock of Andar, Inc., which he said had no value.

Rep. Moss (D-Calif) commented that Andar had received $2,250 from business sent its way by the insurance firm and "all profits to Mack." He asked what was the difference between Whiteside giving Mack money outright and "this device" he had set up.

Whiteside replied there was a "vast difference" between giving a gift and placing a lifelong friend where he had earned income. Discussing possible violations, Harris said Mack's interest in the insurance firm "is a violation of the (communications) act" of 1934. And the chairman noted emphatically that the penalty for violating the act is $10,000 fine or a year in prison.

That idea was expressed yesterday at a seminar of representatives of the missile industry, gathered to mull over the problems of missile weaponry and the far more complex questions of the race into space.

The seminar was arranged by the Air Force Assn. There were predictions that a rocket could be fired to the moon this year to radio back information. Somewhere between 1965 and 1970 it should be possible to send a rocket out to orbit around Mars and transmit information about what things are like there, said George F. Sutton, of the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc.

It was Sutton, also, who raised the possibility of sabotage for defense. Sutton, who also is president of the American Rocket Society, said that with their delicate and intricate rocket engines, ballistic missiles are vulnerable to many troubles.

Even a "BB gun size hole" can render their engines useless. "I believe that money invested in intelligence efforts, in incapacitating an enemy's effort before he uses it (an ICBM) would be much better spent," he said.

Some of the conferees suggested that the major defense against the ICBM was retaliatory capacity—the ability to react with an even more massive counterattack if Russia started missile war. This should deter the Russians from trying such a gamble.

While the experts agreed that a defensive system, involving a detection system and antimissile missiles, would be available—perhaps as soon as the early 1960s—there were questions about its total effectiveness.

Judge Hears 22 Cases In Municipal Court Monday

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed of 22 cases in Municipal Recorder's Court Monday, only six of them involved violations of traffic or motor vehicle laws.

Benjamin Reaves, Negro, assault with a deadly weapon, 90 days on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The judgment also provides that he is not to return to the residence of Lena Atkinson for two years. Reaves' probation was extended to five years, and he is not to occupy the same building with Lena Atkinson.

For possession of lottery tickets, the court gave Reaves 30 days, (consecutive), suspended on payment of $20, costs deducted.

Assault on a female: Willie Worsley, Negro, 1014-B VanNorthwell Street, 30 days, suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted, and he is not to harm the prosecuting witness.

Charles H. Hopkins, Negro, Jacksonville, failure to keep proper lookout while backing, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs.

D. R. Cayton, R-2, city, was not guilty of hit and run. Mack Chapman, Negro, R-2, Ayden, was not guilty of failing to stop at a traffic light.

James M. Little, Negro, 114 North Cotanche Street, damaging personal property, 60 days, suspended on payment of $15 to Bernice O. Smith, pay $25 costs deducted, and be of good behavior and not harm or molest the prosecuting witness.

Arthur Best, Negro, 1208-B South Green Street, assault on a female, 30 days, suspended on payment of $20, costs deducted and he is not to harm his wife.

Paul Busliko, Elsworth, Pa., paid costs for speeding. Sonny B. Teel, R-6, city, robbery, probable cause found and he was bound over to Superior Court. The court also found probable cause against Teel for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and bound him over to Superior Court on the second charge.

Clarence Tripp, R-3, city, careless operation, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs. Maybelle P. Worthington, 308 Vance Street, was not guilty of following too closely.

John C. Harris, Negro, Cherry Point, carrying a concealed weapon, 60 days on the roads, suspended on payment of $50 and costs, and he is not to visit Greenville for one year, and be of good behavior

Offer Saboteurs As Best Weapon Against Rockets

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Some makers of missile equipment think the best way to spend money for defense against Soviet intercontinental ballistic weapons might be to hire saboteurs.

That idea was expressed yesterday at a seminar of representatives of the missile industry, gathered to mull over the problems of missile weaponry and the far more complex questions of the race into space.

The seminar was arranged by the Air Force Assn. There were predictions that a rocket could be fired to the moon this year to radio back information.
