More than 2,000 seniors and juniors from North Carolina high schools are expected to visit the East Carolina campus Friday and to participate in educational and recreational activities of the Fifteenth Annual High School Day at the college.

The program, beginning at 9 a.m. and extending through the afternoon, has been planned by a committee of students and faculty members headed by Dr. Ed. J. Carter, director of the East Carolina department of education.

Major events will include a general assembly at 10 a.m., a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., a fashion show at 2 p.m., a demonstration by the Honorary Drill Team of the East Carolina Air Force ROTC at 2 p.m., an exhibition of entries in the North-eastern Science Fair from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and a tea dance with music by the collegiate band The Dreamers at 3 p.m.

Messick of East Carolina will welcome visitors at the morning assembly in the Wright building and will speak on the importance of students' continuing their education beyond high-school level. A program of music by the college band, choir, and orchestra and of group singing by the audience will be presented.

The fashion show, held in the Austin Auditorium under the sponsorship of the department of home economics, will center attention on spring costumes made and modeled by high school students. The Women's Chorus of the college will provide music.

DETROIT (AP) — Two teenage youths were sought by police today in the beating of a woman teacher at Denby High School.

Mrs. Ethel Tincher, 45, said she was slugged in the face and stomach by the pair after she found them loitering in a hallway during class hours. She was treated at a hospital and released.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union's nuclear test ban announcement is just a gimmick which should not be taken seriously.

Eisenhower told a news conference that evaluation does not mean, however, we should stop trying to find a common ground for agreement with the Soviet Union.

He recalled repeated U. S. efforts over the years seeking agreement with the Soviet Union in the disarmament, nuclear test and other fields.

And he said we should keep on trying to win agreement. The President said he does not believe there is any justification for labeling the U. S. position a negative one just because it is being firm in the interest of the United States and the rest of the world.

Some critics in Congress and elsewhere have contended the administration's position has been negative.

A good deal of the questioning at the news conference dealt with whether the United States could have gained if it had labeled the Soviet test ban as just propaganda in advance of the Soviet announcement.

The announcement had been widely forecast. Eisenhower replied that was considered by this government—along with the possibility of the United States making the first move toward banning tests—but that both proposals were rejected on the ground that the Soviet Union was only seeking to gain from a propaganda standpoint.

Eisenhower was in a cheerful, jaunty mood at the conference which also dealt with these other matters:

RECESSION — Eisenhower said anew the government must give very careful thought to the idea of an anti-recession tax cut. He added forcefully that if we don't approach the problem of the business slump very seriously, we will build trouble for ourselves in the future. Such trouble, the President said, would make the current recession look small by comparison.

Speaking of the $1,850,000,000 housing bill he signed yesterday, Eisenhower repeated his criticism of some provisions. The main thing needed, he said, is to encourage private spending. He said business can't be stimulated just by expenditure of federal money.

As for whether he thinks Congress is moving too fast in passage of anti-recession bills, Eisenhower said they certainly aren't being enacted too hastily if the program involved is necessary. But he said we should give each measure adequate study in advance of any action.

DEFENSE — Speaking at some length and with much emphasis regarding his plans for reorganization of the Defense Department, Eisenhower left no doubt that he feels the secretary of defense must be given additional authority.

He said the reorganization program, which he plans to send to Congress tomorrow, must make it perfectly clear as to just what the responsibility of the secretary of defense is.

In these days, he went on, there is no such thing as separate ground, air and sea forces—they must be an integrated team. We already have a unified command system, Eisenhower said, but it must be organized and constantly strengthened by the secretary of defense who also must make a good many related decisions.

The secretary, Eisenhower said, must be able to dictate the size of units as well as type of unit to be used in certain circumstances.

Another important requirement, Eisenhower said, is a certain degree of financial flexibility for the secretary.

PRICES — Asked for comment on Bernard M. Baruch's suggestion that prices ought to be cut in the light of the business slump, Eisenhower replied that there must be leadership by both business and labor if a free economy is going to operate successfully over the years.

He added that he has known and respected Baruch for a good many years, and said he always takes seriously whatever advice the elder statesman-financier gives him.

ARMS RACE — Eisenhower said he has not abandoned hope that Russia will become sufficiently conciliatory to make possible an agreement on such problems as disarmament.

He also mentioned a ban on nuclear testing in that same connection. It was at this point that he said the Soviet Union's test ban announcement this week was just a gimmick—a side issue not to be taken seriously.

Farm Journalist William Poe Dies

RALEIGH (AP) — Farm Journalist William D. Poe of Raleigh died unexpectedly last night while en route here in an Eastern Air Lines plane from Birmingham, Ala.

An autopsy was to be performed this morning on the 42-year-old editor of one of Progressive Farmer magazine's five regional editions. However, Wake County Coroner Marshall Bennett, who met the plane when it landed at Raleigh-Durham Airport at 11:10 p.m., said he believed a heart attack was the cause of death.

Poe headed an edition of Progressive Farmer which circulated into the Carolinas, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland.

He had been in Birmingham for a meeting of the staff of the magazine — one of the largest farm publications in the country with a circulation of more than 1,300,000.

The magazine, founded in 1886, circulates throughout the South from Oklahoma and Texas to the Atlantic Coast. Poe's father, Dr. Clarence Poe, is chairman of the magazine's board and an influential personality in Southern agricultural affairs.

Poe was recently named by Gov. Hodges as a member of the governor's Farm Advisory Committee.

He attended North Carolina State College and the University of North Carolina, studying agricultural economics. He did not receive a degree.

A member of the Raleigh First Baptist Church, Poe also was in the Kiwanis Club and Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

He was pronounced dead upon his arrival at the airport by Coroner Bennett, who said he found him slumped over in his seat. Both Bennett and Dr. Thomas Worth, who was awaiting another passenger at the airport, were quoted as agreeing death had occurred shortly before the plane taxied to a stop.

Poe's brother, Charles Aycock Poe, a Raleigh attorney, who was at the airport to meet the stricken man, said he had been in good health.

Passengers on the aircraft had believed Poe to be sleeping, and his brother said they "realized something was wrong" shortly before the plane landed.

The stewardess administered oxygen, he said, "but it was too late."

The funeral is set tentatively for 3 p.m. tomorrow, but the rest of the arrangements were incomplete.

Poe is survived by his wife, the former Rosalie Richardson of New Bern and Raleigh; a son, William Jr., 13; and a daughter, Miss Jean Hunter Poe, 16.

Also surviving are his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Poe; a brother, Charles Aycock Poe; and a sister, Mrs. Gordon Smith, all of Raleigh.

President Asks Defense Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra $1,455,747,000 in defense appropriations, mainly to acquire B52 bombers and build more missile-firing submarines.

His request was in the form of a memorandum to the House Appropriations Committee asking for an increase of that amount in the defense budget for the year starting July 1. If granted, this would boost fiscal 1959 defense appropriations beyond 40 billion dollars.

Of the amount requested, 218 million would be for the Army, 180 million for outer space research programs, 206 1/2 million to build two additional Polaris-firing submarines, and 518 1/2 million to build more big bombers and plane refueling tankers.

The Army's allotment would be used mainly to speed up missile programs. A large share of the Navy's money would be for anti-submarine warfare programs.

SCRATCHER SCRATCHES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Terry M. Repschak, 18, had two weeks in which to erase his initials from two benches and a wall of the 6th precinct police station. District Judge Robert Hansen told Terry to get busy with sandpaper after it was testified the youth scratched the initials with a key while waiting for a friend who had been arrested.

Four More File For Offices In May 31 Primary

D. S. Spain Jr., chairman of the Pitt County Board of Elections, announced today that four more persons have filed for offices which will be subject to the May 31 Democratic Primary.

Three of the new filers are candidates for constable. Cecil Jones filed for constable of Bethel Township, S. Elijah Heath filed for constable of Grimesland Township, and Joe Joyner Jr. filed for constable of Greenville Township.

Walter B. Jones of Farmville, who had previously announced his candidacy for the General Assembly, also paid his filing fee.

Brake Rush For Recession 'Pills'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican brakes forced a slowdown today in a Democratic drive to rush action on anticongressional measures before Congress starts a 10-day Easter vacation.

Postponed until the lawmakers return April 14 was Senate consideration of a bill to authorize a billion dollars for long-term, low-interest loans for local public works.

Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Lausche (D-Ohio) sided with the Republicans in favor of delaying action. Senators Cooper (R-Ky) and Revercomb (R-WVa) voted with the Democrats, who lost 41-39.

With the public works measure laid aside, the Senate agreed to take up today a compromise bill approved by the House to authorize future construction of 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of water projects.

Housing, highways and government spending figured elsewhere in anticongressional legislation, while outside Congress the Federal Reserve Board reported the first slight drop in total consumer installment credit since late 1954.

Autos and major appliances led the Senate-House conference committee reached agreement on a compromise highway construction speedup bill designed to provide thousands of new jobs to fight the recession.

Final action is scheduled in both the Senate and the House tomorrow.

Kept in the bill, which carries an extra $1,800,000,000 of federal-state funds over present programs was a hotly disputed provision for regulation of billboards along the 41,000-mile system of expressways.

Another bill intended to give the economy a lift, a $1,850,000,000 housing measure, was signed by Eisenhower despite his criticism of some features of it.

The President said it contained "wholly inconsistent" provisions "with the philosophy of the free enterprise system" but also said some parts of the bill "will promote a high level of economic activity."

On still another front, the Senate Appropriations Committee gave quick approval to one of Eisenhower's proposals for combating the business slump.

Approved a day earlier by the House, it would authorize federal agencies to place orders promptly for up to $40 million dollars worth of supplies and equipment they otherwise might not buy for months.

The motion to defer action on the billion-dollar public works bill was made by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California after he protested against hasty action.

Republican senators at a luncheon caucus had voted 22-4 to seek the delay.

Sunrise Service

The Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by the Greenville Ministerial Association will be held at Cherry Hill Cemetery at six o'clock.

The Rev. W. M. Howard Jr., minister of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, will bring the Easter meditation.

A brass quartet, composed of Kenneth Cuthbert, Thomas Miller, James Parnell, and Donald Hayes, all of the East Carolina College faculty, will furnish music for the service.

Probe Accident In Which Two Youths Killed

RALEIGH (AP) — Police continued an investigation today into an accident which killed two youths when the gas truck in which they were riding struck a passenger train here yesterday and exploded.

The victims were Charles Arvin, 16, driver of the truck, and Junior Hester, Negro, about 10, both of Rt. 3, Raleigh.

Police quoted C. R. McClintak, 55, of Greensboro, engineer of the west-bound Southern Railway passenger, as saying the truck ran into the path of the train after driving around a car stopped at the South Blount Street crossing.

The truck was loaded with 1,076 gallons of kerosene, high test and regular gasoline.

Two city firemen, J. A. Ennis and Ronnie Atkinson, were injured when exploding fuel blew open compartments of the truck. They were treated at Rex Hospital for minor burns and bruises.

Gutted Ship Is Said Still Afloat

LONDON (AP) — The burned-out hulk of the Norwegian immigrant ship Skaubryn today was reported still afloat in the Indian Ocean off Africa.

The Skaubryn's 1,200 passengers and crew, including 209 children, are being taken to the British Red Sea port of Aden aboard the Italian liner Roma.

The 9,785-ton ship, en route to Australia with more than 1,000 migrants, burned Monday night after an engine room explosion. Survivors were picked up by the British freighter City of Sydney, which transferred them to the Roma. There was only one casualty, a German passenger who died of a heart attack.

Ready Easter Egg Hunts For Parks On Saturday

The annual city-wide Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will be staged Saturday, Director Gordon Goodman announced this morning.

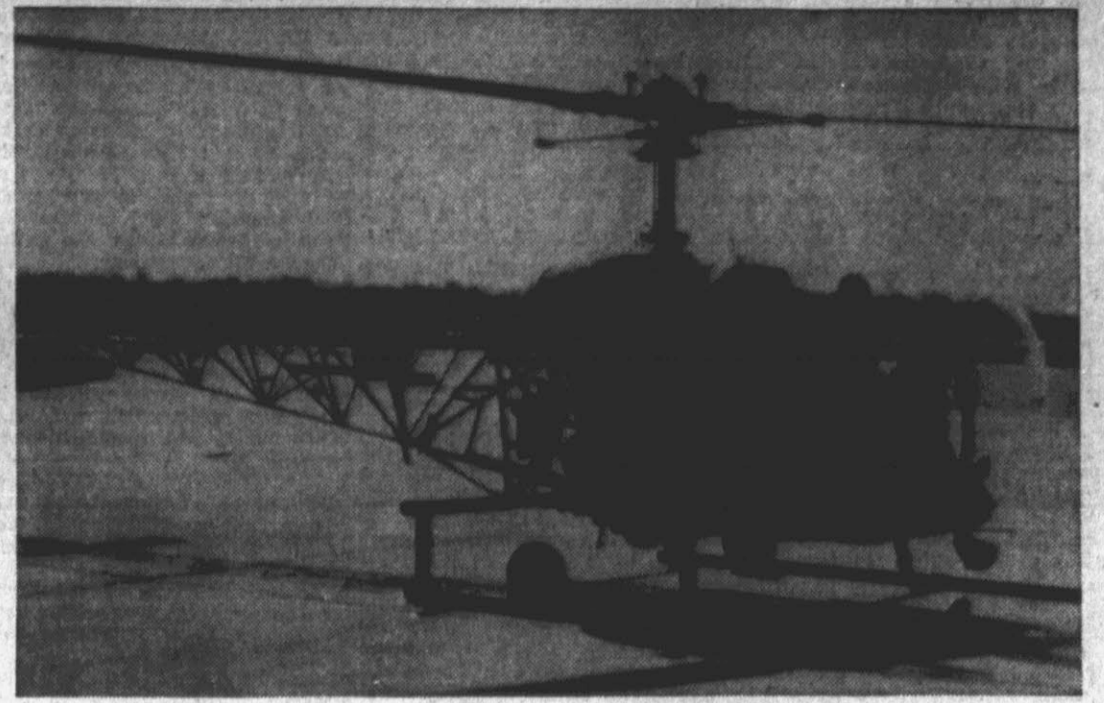

Hunts are scheduled at the Elm Street Park for white children and at South Greenville Recreation Center for Negro children. Goodman stated that two separate hunts will be staged at each park. Children one through nine years of age will have their hunt at 10 a.m. and those 10 years old and over will hunt at 2 p.m.

"This plan has been devised in an effort to make the hunt more enjoyable for children of all ages", Goodman explained.

Prizes will be given to those finding the most eggs and specially wrapped eggs in various age groups. The Boys and Girls Committee of the Kiwanis Club has announced that everyone at the Elm Street Park will be given a free ride on the Kiwanis Trainin following the hunt.

In case of rain, the Recreation Director noted, the hunts will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. for the one-nine age group and 4 p.m. for the 10 year old and over group at the same locations.

Air Mail Via Helicopters?

POSSIBLE SIGN OF COMING TIMES . . . Commissioner B. Alton Gardner and Postmaster J. Knott Proctor Take A Helicopter Ride.

Helicopter Service Shows Possible Postal Speed-Up

Hopes for improved air mail service for cities and towns in the coastal plains of North Carolina and South Carolina were outlined here yesterday by a representative of a South Carolina helicopter service.

Dick Temple of Inland Air Lines of Myrtle Beach told government and civic leaders of Greenville and Pitt County that his group is seeking a contract with the Post Office Department which would permit use of helicopters to offer air mail service to towns between Myrtle Beach and Raleigh, and Myrtle Beach and Charlotte. He was in Greenville to enlist aid for the proposal.

"Use of helicopters for air mail service, particularly in Eastern North Carolina towns and cities, would speed the flow of air mail by at least a day on cross-country deliveries," Temple said. "It would remove the necessity of trucking air mail from towns such as Greenville to central points for air mail collections, such as Raleigh.

"The plan would, we believe, offer real air mail service to postal patrons who are buying it, but not getting it," Temple added.

Temple, who is a pilot for the helicopter service, told the local group, which included members of the Greenville City Council and the Pitt County Board of Commissioners, that municipalities along the proposed routes would have to establish the need for improved mail service before groups such as his could be given contracts with the Post Office Department.

Routes which have been proposed by the South Carolina company include one originating in Myrtle Beach each morning and covering cities and towns in the coastal plains areas of the Carolinas before terminating in Raleigh. A return flight in the afternoons would bring air mail from Raleigh to cities and towns on the route.

The second proposed route would include South Carolina towns between Myrtle Beach and Charlotte, including Columbia, South Carolina.

Temple also said his company proposes to establish helicopter passenger service between towns along the proposed mail routes, but added that such service would not be economically feasible without the mail contracts.

During his afternoon visit here, the pilot demonstrated one of Inland Air Lines' helicopters. Members of the group which attended the meeting were given familiarization flights over Greenville.

Possibilities of using the helicopters for agricultural work, including spraying and dusting, were also discussed, but Temple said his company felt that the proposed air mail service represented the "most important" potential use at the present time.

Russian Premier Visits Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev flew to Budapest today and said the Soviet Union and Hungary are firmly united against the "imperialists."

Hungarian Communist party chief Janos Kadar, installed in power by the Soviet troops who crushed the 1956 anti-Soviet rebellion, replied with praise of the Soviet offer to halt nuclear weapons tests. He said it was "one of the greatest acts of peace of our age."

A crowd of about 4,000 persons welcomed the Soviet leader on his first trip abroad since he became premier of the Soviet Union Monday. Heavy security forces lined the 10 miles of highway from Budapest to the airport. The woods along the way were thick with Hungarian soldiers, armed with tommyguns.

The official purpose of Khrushchev's trip was to attend the celebration Friday of Hungary's World War II liberation from the Germans by the Red army. He is expected to remain in Hungary eight days.

Nineteen Flee Burning Building

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — Nineteen roomers escaped safely early today when fire destroyed a 16-room, two story boarding house here.

Two roomers were injured when they jumped from windows. They were William Ray Norton, a construction worker, who suffered a cut hand when he broke out a window pane before leaping, and Cecil Barnett, who suffered burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. West who own the boarding house said it was covered by $25,000 insurance.

Firemen said cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Castro's Forces Step Up Clashes

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's rebels cut off communications to Santiago today and his patrols clashed with government forces in other sectors in the war against President Fulgencio Batista.

Rebels clashed frequently with Batista's troops around Manzanillo and Bayamo. The army reported 16 rebels killed in the last 24 hours.

In Pinar del Rio province in western Cuba, rebels shot and wounded Pedro Acosta Cuni, secretary general of the transportation union, as he entered his home. A woman neighbor also was wounded.

Castro launched his offensive by stepping up attacks on transport and communications in Cuba's easternmost Oriente province, where his 16-month-old guerrilla war is strongest.

Communications continued to be normal outside Oriente. Havana businesses operated as usual. Batista's troops and police, on a most continuous alert for months, braced to meet the rebel threat.

Castro supporters said total war against Batista would be extended to the rest of Cuba after midnight Saturday, the rebel deadline for the President to quit.

Roving rebel bands cut telegraph lines to Santiago, fired upon transport moving in the area and spread oil and nails on the roads. Most bus and rail workers stopped work around Santiago and highways were almost deserted.

Rebels blew up eight high-voltage towers in the province and burned a Sinclair Oil Co. gasoline tank trailer. Clashes between government troops and rebels were reported near Santiago, Varacoa and Holguin.

The 31-year-old rebel leader plans to call a general strike. Some sugar mill employes in Oriente province already have joined transport workers in walk-outs.

Batista obtained from Congress further dictatorial powers for 45 days. He was authorized to increase the armed forces and to take all necessary steps to keep the nation's transport and communications operating, including a declaration of martial law.

Farm Leaders Look To Reduced Gross Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm leaders estimated today President Eisenhower's veto of legislation to freeze farm price supports at not less than 1957 level could reduce farmers' gross income from affected products by half a billion dollars this year.

By gross income is meant the amount producers received before paying production costs.

But this does not necessarily mean that total gross farm income would be reduced by that amount. It would be possible for returns from unsupported products—such as hogs, cattle, sheep, lambs, poultry, fruits and vegetables—to offset, if not exceed, the potential income reductions on the supported commodities.

The estimate of the lower income from supported commodities is based upon the assumption that market prices will drop as much as the price supports. Special economic factors could enter the picture to hold prices of some or all the products above the support levels, in which case the reduction would be smaller if not eliminated.

Rough estimates of potential losses in gross income from commodities with lower supports included: wheat, 220 million dollars; corn, 120 million; dairy products, 200 million; barley, $800,000; rye, 2 million; grain sorghums, 7 million; flaxseed, 4 million; cottonseed, 5 million; rice, 17 million; dry beans, 2 million; honey, 200,000.

But increased supports for cotton could easily increase gross returns from that crop 150 million or more.

Another factor which promises to counter possible losses from lower supports is the prospect that government payments to farmers may run 150 million or so above last year's billion-dollar total. More payments would go out under the soil bank land retirement program than last year.

Governor Of New Mexico And New Baby

New Mexico's acting Gov. Natalie Buck holds her new-born infant daughter in a hospital at Santa Fe. The baby is believed to be the first child ever born to a woman in the United States while she was serving in office as governor. Mrs. Buck's regular job is Secretary of State for New Mexico. In a friendly plot, regular Gov. Edwin L. Mechem arranged to be out of the state at the time of the baby's birth by caesarean section. His absence automatically made Mrs. Buck acting governor. New Mexico does not have a lieutenant governor at this time. (AP Wirephoto)

Housewives To Find New Exhibit Helpful

By ANNE SINGLETON
Reflector Woman's Editor

Housewives who have the problem of selecting the proper fabrics according to the period of their apartments or architecture of their homes would profit by the current exhibit now at the local art gallery—"Two Hundred Years of Textile Designs."

This collection which will be shown until May 1 would also be of special interest for interior decorators and students of decoration. Each of the textiles are labeled with descriptive data as to country and period. The different types of trimmings that play an important role in the various eras are also featured in the front gallery. Various textile periods and the styles of trimmings used in conjunction with them, from the mid-17th century the mid-19th century, is the theme of the show which comprises French, English and American periods.

American Fashions
The American fashions in textiles commence at the close of the Revolution, since the styles of the colonial days were those of England. There are on display designs of the post-Revolution or Young Republic when the favored colors were red, white and blue, and eagles and stars were the popular motifs. This era is followed by the Federal based upon the French Directoire and the American interpretation of the Empire Textiles. The stripes favored by America's foremost cabinet maker, Duncan Phyfe, and the beautiful fret-work motifs of the Greek Revival are also shown. The early and mid-18th century styles of France show mostly the shag tasseled fringes in undulating curves, sometimes of solid colors, and in other instances, variegated hues. This exhibit was assembled by the Scalomandre Museum of Textiles of New York City. Gallery Talk

On April 17 at 3 p.m. Miss Lillah Gaut will give a gallery talk on "Textile Designs" at Sheppard Memorial Library auditorium. Mrs. J. C. Galloway Jr. will preside over this special lecture. Masks Donated
Two masks have been donated to the local art gallery by Dr. James Allison of the East Carolina College Faculty. These masks, from his personal theatre collection, include an African Mask and a Japanese Theatre mask. They are now on display with the art gallery's permanent collection on the second floor of Sheppard Memorial Library.

Bridal Couple Entertained

Immediately following the wedding of Miss Dottie Elks and Bonnie Singleton Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Elks entertained the bridal party. Receiving at the front door were Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Dall. Mrs. Bill Hargett of Jacksonville presided at the guest book and directed the guests into the dining room where large sprays of white snapdragons centered the appointed table. The bridal table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and a bouquet of white carnations arranged in a silver basket centered the table. Mrs. Lela Bell Hoell served punch, assisted by Mrs. Paul Matjette and Mrs. Lloyd Elks who served bridal cakes, mints and nuts. Mrs. Hicks Galloway directed the guests into the gift room. Sprays of white snapdragons were used in the living room. Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Lloyd Whitchard.

Fine Arts Characters To Attend Gala Ball

"It's a Costume Ball . . . Lots of Fun For All" will be the theme of the Community Fine Arts Costume Ball to be held April 11 at Wright Auditorium, East Carolina College, from 9 p.m.-12 midnight. The Steering Committee for the event has urged everyone to wear costumes representing a person, group of persons or something suggestive of the Fine Arts which could include literature, poetry, drama, music, the opera, the dance, painters, and paintings. Prizes will be awarded to persons wearing the most original costume and the best representation of a person or event. Other prizes will be given for the best group of two or more, the most beautiful lady's costume and the most beautiful man's costume. Some Will Go As . . .

Already many people have begun planning their costumes. Some of these have announced they will attend the affair as Degas ballet dancers, Madame Butterfly, The Old Woman Who Lives In A Shoe and All of Her Children, Dr. Fu Manchu, a Toulouse-Lautrec Dancer, and The Old Man of the Sea. The purpose of the ball is to stimulate interest in the Fine Arts and acquaint persons with its various facets. Promoters of the ball hope that many of the costumes will be made by the wearers in order that they may learn more about the character or event they will portray. For those who do not want to make their own costumes, Mrs. Reid Perkins, Summit Street, has a list of costume rental agencies. She mentioned, "These costumes can be rented for a nominal price. A group of books on costumes and paintings are now on display at the local art gallery, Sheppard Memorial Library, and at Memorial Library, college campus, as aids for those persons who will be making their own costumes.

Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, who is on the steering committee for the Arts Festival, suggests that persons might choose the following characters to portray—Romeo and Juliet, Rip Van Winkle, Sherlock Holmes, Peter Pan, Marie Antoinette, Cleopatra, The Firebird, Hamlet and Ophelia, Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett, Prince Charming, Charley's Aunt, or Robin Hood. "Many of the great masterpieces in art can be represented . . . portraits of great personalities, Grant Wood's characters of the West, and Can Can Dancers of Toulouse Lautrec," explained Mrs. Moore. Easter Suits Star Versatile Chemise Tops

MIDDY—This white linen middie with navy trim is perfect with a navy Easter suit and makes a smart outfit when worn with skirt alone.

CHEMISE BLOUSE—This cocoa linen chemise blouse exactly matches the spring suit with which it is worn, may be worn without jacket.

SILK PRINT—Spring suit magic in a colorful print with flattering neckline.

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor Easter suits have a dividend this spring.

The new chemise blouses which they require team up with suit skirts to make a coordinated costume that often looks like a two-piece dress when the jacket is removed.

Blouses are more important in the spring fashion picture this season than in many years. The most important style is the chemise overblouse, hipbone length, just slightly shorter than the boxy jacket, which often is worn open.

The new blouses are soft and feminine in styling and are shown in many handsome fabrics, from printed silk to linen, always carefully coordinated with the suit color. Sometimes the blouse is shown in linen or chiffon exactly matching the suit. Sometimes it is a contrasting color or print matching the jacket lining.

Next in importance to the chemise blouse is the blouson, which is bloused over a band or drawing, but worn outside the skirt. This is particularly effective in chiffon or very lightweight silks.

Some of the new details to look for when you go shopping for your spring blouse wardrobe are: wide necklines, tailored slotted vents or shirred finish on chemise blouses, feminine touches such as neckline bows or jabots, lace edgings, panel inserts, colorful trimmings of applique and embroidery.

When buying a chemise or mid-dy type blouse, it is important to be sure that it hangs smoothly and fits snugly at the hipline. Then you can remove your jacket with pride.

The award to Miss Harris is the second to be made by the local AAUW to a woman studying at East Carolina College. Ann Mayo of Plymouth, the 1957 recipient, took work in French last summer at the University of Paris.

That Old Theory Still Holds True

Military strategists have long supported and proved the theory that the best defense is an effective offense. President Eisenhower, when he was a general rather than President, knew and applied the theory through a long successful military career.

But the President apparently has never realized that the old theory holds true in a cold war as well as in a shooting war. Nowhere in the past six years has the Eisenhower administration launched an effective offensive in the war of international nerves and in the realm of international relations. Always the United States has been on the defensive when it came to the propaganda war with Russia for the friendship of other nations.

In the past few days the Eisenhower - Dulles combination has again allowed the Soviet Union to capture the offensive in the cold war by its announcement that it will halt nuclear tests. For weeks Washington said such an announcement was expected. For weeks the State Department and the White House had made assertions that such a statement by the Kremlin could not be relied upon, that it would amount to nothing unless Russia would take a more realistic and reasonable approach to the matter of disarmament in general.

On the heels of the Kremlin announcement the State Department issued a statement, obviously prepared in principle before the Soviet announcement was made, questioning the reliability of Russia's declaration it would have no more nuclear tests.

There can be little question that the Soviet announcement attracted much more attention in other countries of the world than did the subsequent statement by the United States. Russia's announcement put the United States squarely on the defensive in an important issue for world peace and solidarity.

To make matters worse, the United States recognized a chance to take the offensive at this particular juncture, but President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles elected to sit back and let the Soviet Union grasp another ripe plumb in the propaganda battle.

American officials knew the Kremlin announcement was coming. Apparently they could predict within a few days of when it would be made. Moreover, the President himself announced weeks ago that the United States possesses instruments which will enable it to know whenever there is a nuclear explosion anywhere in the world. According to the information, no nuclear test anywhere could escape our detection.

With those factors in mind, what was to be gained by our sitting back and allowing the Soviet Union to launch another terrific propaganda offensive with its proclamation? What was to prevent the United States from beating Russia to the punch by making such an announcement a few days or a few weeks before the Kremlin made its announcement Monday?

We had everything to gain and little to lose by such an announcement on our part. We had nothing to gain and a great deal to lose by waiting for Russia to score another important first.

The nuclear test "ban" with which the United States is now faced represents another patch in the quilt of tactical errors crocheted by the Eisenhower-Dulles combination.

We Can't Take More Blood Than We Give

Farmville's record turnout for the Bloodmobile visit this week is the kind of participation in the blood program which will assure Pitt County of remaining a member in good standing in the regional blood bank organization.

Assigned a quota of 110 pints for the visit of the bloodmobile, Farmville citizens donated 227 pints of the life-giving liquid during the bloodmobile's six-hour visit to their community Monday. It brings to 1,074 the number of pints of blood Pitt has contributed to the program during this fiscal year.

During this same period of time, Pitt County has received from the blood bank 1,100 pints of blood for use in this county and for the use of Pitt citizens in other hospitals. In addition the county has received additional quantities of other blood products. It is estimated that before the fiscal year ends Pitt County will receive from the blood bank some 1,600 pints of blood in addition to other quantities of blood products.

Even with Farmville's record contribution Monday, it appears that Pitt County this year will again take more from the regional blood bank than it contributes to it. Such a condition cannot go on indefinitely if Pitt is to remain a member in good standing in the regional blood program.

The bloodmobile will visit Greenville tomorrow. We trust local citizens will respond as well to the appeal for blood as did the citizens of Farmville on Monday when their contributions of blood more than doubled for the visit.

Sensations By Nikita In Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — These next few months are a good time for Nikita Khrushchev—the new one-man boss of the Soviet Union—because sensations which might range from space flights to startling maneuvers in world affairs.

The first sensation has already occurred. The Soviet Union announced Monday — when there was worldwide agitation for such a move—that it would voluntarily ban nuclear weapons tests.

This could have been done last week—there were rumors it was coming—before Khrushchev had been made premier in place of Nikolai Bulganin. The latter had been only a front man for Khrushchev anyway.

That the announcement was delayed until Khrushchev became full boss, in name as well as in fact, would indicate he attached importance to the timing: after he became premier.

Time means a lot to Khrushchev because it's running out on him: he's 64. He has taken on himself, singlehandedly, the future of Soviet communism and the progress of communism everywhere.

Any blame for things gone wrong hereafter will be his alone. New sensational Soviet scientific achievements would solidify his position at home—giving him the kind of Soviet devotion and spirit he needs for internal success—and enormously increase his prestige and influence abroad.

Bold diplomatic strokes—particularly in the direction of peace—not only would give communism a terrific and persuasive propaganda value but perhaps throw him into the position of world leadership among men, if not among nations.

At this moment for various reasons the United States, which has leadership of the Western world, at least, is rocking along stolidly and unimaginatively, nursing the status quo, taking one propaganda beating after another from the U.S.S.R.

Stalin, last Soviet one-man boss, had far more time than Khrushchev to rivet down his leadership indisputably. He was 45 when he took over at Lenin's death in 1924.

It took him at least a decade after that — through one-by-one elimination of his rivals and finally through mass purges—to give him the absolute control he wanted to shape the Soviet future.

But Khrushchev several years ago—by his public repudiation of Stalin's bloody tactics—put himself in the position of a man who will have to depend on achievement rather than on bloody violence for success.

So far, he's followed that line. He's eliminated his rivals simply by shoving them into back seats. If things got tough for him, or those rivals whom he thrust into the shadows tried to gang up on him, he might feel it necessary to out-Stalin Stalin. There is no reason yet to think he'll try that.

Since therefore, it would seem, he will have to depend on achievement and time is running out on him at his age, it's likely he will try a bold and imaginative road. He's shown plenty of boldness and imagination already.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS DON'T MAKE THAT MISTAKE "Be not anxious for the morrow," said Jesus to his disciples.

He did not mean by this that we are not to plan for the future. Quite the contrary. "Which of you," he asked his hearers on one occasion, "desiring to build a tower, doth not sit down and count the cost?"

And again he said, "Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel, whether he is able with ten thousand men to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?"

Jesus wanted us to be thoughtful and to plan carefully every move we make.

But what he dinned into men's ears incessantly is the great truth that the issue of events is not in men's hands. We do not have control over the next minute or the next second. We may do certain things which appear to produce certain results, and they may produce far different results. The issues of life are in God's hands — they always have been and they always will be. We can plan in the present, and should, but the future is in God's hands. He may bring events to a climax which appears to us to be shocking, disappointing, and in every way unsatisfactory, yet, viewed years later, the whole circumstance appears filled with blessings.

Leave the issue of events in God's hands. It is none of your business, or mine.

It Pays To Read The Mail

That there are more life insurance policies in effect in this country — over 239 million, than there are persons — 173 million.

That New York City has 683,000 manholes, and in its 5,000 miles of sewers you can find everything from a lost glass eye to an alligator.

That the salmon, according to the Fisherman magazine, lays about 15,000 eggs a season, or about the same number as most television comics.

That it was O'Henry who observed, "There are two times when you never can tell what is going to happen. One is when a man takes his first drink; and the other is when a woman takes her latest."

"Before the new crop of school-attendance and child-labor laws were passed, it was possible to keep a child in the third grade until he was ready for promotion or old enough to go to work. Today it isn't possible because there isn't room in the school to hold back the flunkers. The need to deal with these backward children—or at least to entertain them—is the principal reason for the school-room and teacher shortage of today."—Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Advertiser

"Not long ago a woman reported a chat with her four-year-old son on the subject of the figure '120' on the car speedometer. First the lad asked why his father didn't go up to 120. Told that he'd be jailed if he did, the boy wanted to know if that was the fate of all who hit 120. Since the answer was yes, his next question, following rigid child logic, was why have such a number on the dial at all. Father couldn't answer."—The Macon News.

"Let's try to digest the explanation: President Eisenhower has asked Congress to appropriate $3-942,100,000 for foreign economic and military assistance. Secretary of State Dulles has told Congress that this is not a giveaway program, but to disapprove of the program will be giving away a dozen or so nations with hundreds of millions of people to the Communists. He said, 'Worst of all, we would have given away America's greatest spiritual heritage.'"

NO MORE EVER LEAVES Mr. Dulles did not talk about the domestic economy, which is of somewhat more immediate interest to many. The facts are: If the program is voted, the almost $4 billion will be sent overseas. Practically all of it will be spent in the U.S. It will be used to buy farm products, weapons, other manufactured goods and transportation.

Thus it will be a $4 billion program to create jobs and sales here at home.

It will have about the same effect on American business as the spending of that much money for highways, post offices, schools and leaf-raking. The long-term results will differ, of course. For purely domestic programs, we will have a net of new roads, post offices, schools and piles of leaves. For the foreign aid program we get stronger and friendlier allies and fewer Communist enemies.

TWO-MAN TASK FORCE The nuances make explanations difficult. Two men, a Republican and a Democrat, have attempted it.

Giving of their own time and energies, Congressmen Chester E. Morrow (R., N.H.) and A.S.J. Carnahan (D., Mo.) recently completed a 21-state joint speaking tour in an effort to spell out the fact that foreign aid does not consist of giving tax dollars away, and to explain what the returns are.

In support of the Mutual Security Program, they made 30 platyform addresses, participated in 24 television programs and 28 radio programs, and conducted 25 press conferences.

Some Feel It's Wasted

"Hey Joe, how about donating a pint of blood to the Bloodmobile?"

"Well, I don't think I can this time, maybe later."

That's the kind of answer one might get when he approaches a friend, neighbor or even a business associate about the prospect of donating a pint of blood. No doubt there are hundreds of such answers given every time the Bloodmobile comes to town.

"Why should I donate a pint of blood to those people? All they'll do is take it away to somebody else."

Another will say, "I just don't have time to go out there and wait around all day."

All these answers are probably sound ones, depending on the individual and the circumstances involved. Many people think that giving blood is painful while others just don't want to take the time. Some feel it's wasted effort.

Blood for those who are healthy is in a sense valueless. To those in need, and there will doubtless be many during the year, it means life.

Life and blood go hand in hand, yet this simple fact is many times overlooked. . . until an individual sees a need and there is none.

According to the latest statistics Greenville has a population of 19,670. If 1-100 of these people would give a pint of blood, the Bloodmobile will receive 300 pints of the life-giving substance. In the event 1-50 would see fit to give, donations would amount to 400 pints.

Yet it is never that easy. In the past it has been extremely difficult for this city to reach its goal of 150 pints of blood. Only recently has the Bloodmobile been able to exceed its quotas in Greenville, Ayden and Farmville.

Thursday the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be making another visit here. Those in charge of the visit are striving to better the 300 pint mark quota. It will depend on you.

Police were called out the other night to investigate an unusual accident. An unnamed man was being treated for a upper lip injury a wound that bore teeth marks.

When questioned he stated his girl friend bit him. He told investigating officers that he did not wish to prefer charges, needless to say. I received a call the other day from a man who wanted to know if there had ever been a whale caught in the Tar River.

"I don't rightly know," I explained. "Have you caught one?" "No," he said and that ended that conversation.

Don Schless, our poetic News Editor, left the following note on my typewriter—reminding me of column time:

"Far be it from me to cavil and quibble . . . But it's time for you to scribble a column bright and cheery

"For to brighten lives of the dull and dreary.

Other Editors Saying--- Stalin All Over Again

(Henderson Dispatch) For better or for worse — and hardly for the better — Dictator Khrushchev has inched his way to the top of the heap in the Soviet Russian hierarchy, and stands today as old Stalin all over again. One, and sometimes two, at the time he has elbowed all rivals aside and reached the top of the ladder as head of both the government and the Communist party.

No man since the days of the bolshevik revolution of 1917, save Lenin and Stalin, has ever been able to do what Khrushchev has now accomplished. First Beria was executed following Stalin's death in 1953. Then Molotov, Malenkov and others were banished to the far corners of the Red empire, and more recently Marshal Zhukov was relieved of his power and position because he was becoming too popular. And now Bulganin.

At least these all, save Beria who is dead, can be thankful that in the process Khrushchev didn't stand them before a firing squad as a means of liquidation. He may have concluded that would be too hazardous. But, now that he has reached the pinnacle of power, bullets may scream or heads may roll if others ever dare to challenge the prestige he has acquired. In his present status, as was true of Stalin before him, this man holds the power of life and death over the nearly two hundred million subjects who owe him fidelity at the peril of their lives. The dictatorship in Russia thus continues. Those who at one time or another may have reasoned that the death of Stalin would result in collective rule of the Soviet Union are disillusioned. The hard reality is that here is another man in precisely the role that Stalin long assumed, and who alone could and did speak for the powerful government he headed.

Now the Western world knows who holds the sceptre. Political leaders of the free countries can be convinced that this modern day tyrant knows and will give all the answers, so far as the Communist empire is concerned. He can plunge the world into a blood bath hitherto unknown and seldom dreamed of. There is no hand and no power to stay his will, whatever it may be. To larger degree than may at once be realized, the choice is his to determine whether civilization as we know it today shall endure or cease to exist.

The world will speculate as to what is in store for it: This dictator could make of himself a power for good if he would but hold his vaulting ambition in check as of now. But he is committed to a policy of domination of the world, if possible, and it will not be surprising if he brooks no interference as he moves along the way to that end. It could be that only Almighty God stands between the free world and devastation.

BANK ASKS QUESTIONS, GETS TART ANSWER Your reporter has received a questionnaire from the Bank of New York, asking whether he favors legislation permitting tax deferral "to encourage the establishment of voluntary pension plans by self-employed individuals" and nine other questions.

Said reporter, largely self-employed, answered in part: "I am opposed to tax deferral for voluntary pension plans, against income-tax splitting (although married), against tax dispensation for the blind (although I wear glasses) and all other loophole gimmicks. Let's all face up to our honest responsibility to share the cost of supporting bureaucrats, politicians and other slobs. Furthermore I am against questionnaires. What right have you to ask me of my time and opinions—the only thing I have to sell—any more than I have to ask you for a free loan?"

Guess I was wrong. This is a free country and I do have a right to ask for a free loan. So if Bank of N.Y. will send over some interest-free money, I'll call it quits.

Incalculable Boon To Man Is Contained In The Sea

By EVERETT S. ALLEN
New Bedford Standard-Times
(Written for The AP)

Three fourths of the earth's surface is ocean, and a large proportion of ocean is hydrogen.

Add the technology of the hydrogen bomb, and the formula spells an incalculable boon for mankind—cheap, virtually inexhaustible power.

Once this particular application of hydrogen fusion is mastered—and some authorities predict it within 15 years—the oceans could provide enough cheap electricity to supply the world for a billion years.

Even the rivers and lakes of inland nations could be transformed into power producers by harnessed hydrogen fusion—thus spreading the benefits to every country on the globe.

To Americans caught in the cold war, however, the most important aspect of the international race for cheap power is that the United States presently is not leading the field.

There is considerable evidence to indicate that diplomatic courtesy rather than scientific justice brought about the joint U.S.-British announcement on hydrogen fusion. Non-government authorities in both countries have indicated the British scored a clear first in the controlled release of the H-bomb type of energy for eventual peaceful application.

It may be that other nations also are ahead of America in this field. Both the French and the Soviets are known to be working on it.

The process involves the fusing of four nuclei of hydrogen into one nucleus of helium.

A very high temperature is required, and some type of special "container" is needed to hold the gas after it has been raised to the temperature called for.

It has been estimated that temperatures of 370 million degrees centigrade would be required to establish a hydrogen "fire" that would be self-sustaining and give off more energy than was required to keep it going. This is more than 20 times the temperature of the sun's interior.

American experiments reportedly have reached temperatures as high as six million degrees. Sir John Cockcroft, Nobel Prize-winning director of the British atomic research establishment, has said Britain's efforts soon would surpass the sun's core temperature which he estimated at 15 million degrees.

The main problem, of course, is to find a suitable "container" for these tremendous temperatures. But it seems only a matter of time vast energy from the seas will power humanity's workshops. Tomorrow: Food from the sea.

Food Is Issued To 44 Families

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Representatives of 44 families received free food from the Harris County Welfare Department yesterday.

It was the first free distribution of food to "employable jobless" since the Depression.

County officials said they expected to continue giving out food at least through April.

Thomas F. Booker, welfare director, said most of those receiving food get unemployment compensation but have been certified as needing additional aid.

Aaron Burr, once accused but acquitted as a traitor, was a native of Newark, N.J.

Expanded Farm Housing Loan Program Ready

A program designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional anti-recession measure was announced today by Ben H. White, Farmers Home Administration's Pitt County Supervisor.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400.00 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the 4 per cent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. While said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings. While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is 4 percent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

Charlie M. Vines, Negro, of Greenville Rt. 3, failure to keep a proper lookout while backing, prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs.

Lyman J. Haddock of Grimesland, following too closely, not guilty; Annie W. Taylor of Ayden, failure to stop for a stop sign, prayer for judgment continued upon payment of costs.

Judge Whedbee sentenced Jimmy F. Harris, Negro, of 110 Tyson Street, to 30 days in jail on a disorderly conduct charge. The sentence was suspended upon payment of $20, costs deducted and the defendant is not to violate any law for one year. Jasper T. Parker, Negro, 1504 Clark Street, disorderly conduct, 30 days suspended on payment of $20, costs deducted.

Drunk: Charlie Harris, Negro, of 1215 12th Street, 30 days on the roads; Elmer Nichols, Greenville, 30 days suspended upon payment of $16; and Tom McLawhorn, Negro, of Winterville Rt. 1, 30 days suspended on payment of $16.

"The Masked Ball" was an opera concerning the assassination of a king. But, as played mostly in these times, it has to do with the murder of the "Governor of Boston."

Delaware Dumps East Carolina 4-1 In 1958 Opener

Neigher Fans 12, Hurls 3-Hitter

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor

Lefthander Al Neigher struck out 11 men and pitched a three-hit ball game to lead his Delaware team to a 4-1 victory and squelch East Carolina College's 1958 opening here yesterday.

The tilt was the first of two scheduled to be played yesterday afternoon at ECC Field. The second game, slated to be a seven-inning affair, was called shortly after it began, due to darkness. ECC held a one-run lead when the game was called.

The 4-1 loss to the University of Delaware marked the first game of the season for the East Carolina club, after having two previous tilts rained out. They were originally scheduled to meet Wake Forest last Wednesday, and then Delaware Monday.

Delaware drew first blood, scoring two runs in the second inning. Rightfielder Dick Holden drove in both scores with a long double. Jim Smith had singled and Fred Walters had walked to get on base before Holden's big blow.

Jerry Stewart, veteran shortstop and co-captain of the ECC team, scored for the Pirates in the third inning. He singled, advanced to third base on a sacrifice and a stolen base, and scored on a passed ball.

The Hens scored again in the eighth on an East Carolina error. Smith walked and advanced to third on two fielder's choices. An attempted double-play ball was thrown wild by Buc second sacker Al Vaughn, allowing Smith to score.

The final Delaware run came in the ninth when Earl Alger doubled and then came in on a fly ball by teammate Lee Eila.

Coach Jim Mallory started lefthander Ben Baker on the mound. He was promptly bombarded by the Hens and was taken out after 1 2-3 innings. Leonard Lilley, a righthander from Tarboro, went in and pitched the rest of the game for ECC. It was Baker's loss.

Jerry Stewart collected two of East Carolina's three hits, both of them singles. Tommy Land, centerfielder, got the other one, a double.

No Clutch Hitting
Though the Pirates managed to get on base, they couldn't bring their runners around. The apparent trouble yesterday was the inability to hit in the clutch, a problem that Coach Jim Mallory stated at the first of the season was "something we may have to work on. Our boys are young, they need experience." The Buc left nine men stranded.

Mallory used a shift in his lineup—a change from the one he had set up before the practice session at Camp Lejeune this past weekend. The notable changes were substitution of Johnny Jones in rightfield in the place of Jerry Phillips; the use of Gary Pierce and Jimmy Martin at first base, and the shifting of regular first baseman Tommy Land to centerfield. Land took over Bill Altman's position in the outfield.

The rest of the lineup included Al Vaughn at second base, Jerry Stewart at shortstop, Bucky Reep at third, Tommy Nance in leftfield, Marion Talton behind the plate.

Ailing Hurlers
Coach Mallory used only two of his nine pitchers yesterday afternoon. Baker and Lilley are generally considered his top hurlers at the present. Charlie Russell, a senior who has never been beaten in collegiate play and who owns a 10-0 record, is still suffering a bad arm; George Williams, sophomore fireballer, is on the sidelines, ununiformed, getting over the effects of a cheek injury; Bruce Shelley, another yet hurler, was also watching from the sidelines. Shelley has a bad knee. Earl Boykin, a big righthanded freshman from Rock Ridge, also viewed the game out of uniform.

Mallory is expected to have all of these hurlers in pitching shape by April 7, when the Pirates journey to South Carolina for a match with the University of South Carolina. Only Russell, whose arm has been bad now for two years running, remains a question mark. And Mallory will undoubtedly have need of all his mound staff. After the April 7 tilt at S.C., the Buc's journey to Parris Island for a game on the 8th, and to The Citadel on the 9th.

More Changes?
Mallory and Assistant Coach Earl Smith are expected to make several changes in the lineup during the next few days before the Southern Tour begins. It is thought that they will shift the team about in an effort to find the right hitting arrangement.

On paper, the Bucs are one of the most potentially powerful teams in the state, so far as hitting is concerned. Whether yesterday's lack of plate power was due to first-day jitters, or a psychological problem of the youngsters on the team, or merely an indication that the hitting isn't there, is not known. Therefore, the continued drill and probable shifting is expected in the Buc camp.

A statement made by Mallory long before the Delaware game is still the coach's credo for the moment: "We need a lot of work. A lot of work and some good hot weather before we can tell what we've got."

WHOA—NO SCORE—Johnny Jones, ECC outfielder cuts around third base in yesterday's ECC-Delaware contest at Pirate Field, but he didn't score. He was running on a fly ball that ended the inning. East Carolina lost 4-1 to the Hens in the season's opener. (Reflector Sports Photos).

NOT HAPPY—Coach Jim Mallory (left) and Assistant Coach Earl Smith don't look too happy with the way the game's going. Their Bucs were taking a 4-1 licking when this picture was snapped.

Frank Lane Is Happy; He Got Larry Doby Back

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Fearless Frank Lane, whose player deals are like a fisherman's lies—they get bigger as time passes, is up to the five-man size today after ending his long pursuit of Larry Doby with a swap that brought the veteran outfielder back where he started.

Doby, 33, who spent his first nine years of major league ball with Cleveland, returned to the Indians last night after a two-year absence. The deal with Baltimore also added pitcher Don Ferrarese to Lane's rebuilding program while sending outfielder Yogi Berra to the Yankees and pitcher Gene Woodling and Dick Williams and pitcher Bud Daley to the Orioles.

Since taking charge of the Indians, Lane has dealt with all but two of the American League clubs in swaps involving 19 players. Only the Kansas City Athletics and New York Yankees haven't done business with him.

The Florida camps have been busy issuing bulletins on injuries. The Boston Red Sox were struck twice. Right-hander Tom Brewer suffered a hairline finger fracture when struck on his pitching hand during batting practice. Heywood Sullivan suffered a fractured finger when struck by a foul tip in an exhibition game with Washington. Catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees suffered an injury to his right hand from a foul tip during a game with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Berra's injury isn't too serious, but Sullivan may be out six weeks, Brewer three.

The Red Sox won their eighth straight, scoring 8-3 over the Senators. Gene Stephens, a stand-in for ailing Ted Williams, was 3-for-4, on a home run, and drove in a pair. Pete Runnels, late of the Senators, had four singles in five trips for the Red Sox.

Four unearned runs, three on a boot by outfielder Norm Siebern, gave the Dodgers a 7-3 victory over the Yankees. Randy Jackson smacked a homer for the Dodgers. Dave Hillman became the first pitcher to go nine innings for the Chicago Cubs and breezed with a three-hitter for a 1-0 victory over Baltimore.

Preston Ward, taking over first for the injured Vic Wertz, was 2-for-5 and drove in three runs for Cleveland in an 8-2 romp over San Francisco. Herb Score started and went five for the first time this spring, fanning six while giving up three hits and other Giant runs.

Billy Pierce and Jim Wilson blanked the St. Louis Cardinals on one hit as the White Sox won 7-0 in the first of a double-header. The Cards then belted Wilson in the nightcap and took a 7-5 victory in a six-inning contest.

Ed Bailey's double in the ninth gave Cincinnati a 2-1 victory over Philadelphia and Robin Roberts. A home run by Frank Thomas, an error, sacrifice and Hank Foiles single meant two ninth-inning runs for Pittsburgh and a 4-3 decision over Milwaukee and Bob Buhl. Clutch relief by Ray Herbert saved a 5-4 Kansas City victory over Detroit.

Gillikin Hurls No-Hitter But Walks In Two

By PATRICK MCNULTY
LOS ANGELES (AP)—World featherweight champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey played an April Fool's joke on his ring counselors — but they liked it just fine today.

"We told him to box — so he knocks the chap out early," said Bassey's manager George Bid-der.

The chap was Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno of Mexico, who had been hailed as the more vicious puncher.

The champion from Nigeria left ringside mouths agape with his savage third-round knockout. It was his first defense of the 126-pound title.

"I fought the first round exactly as I had planned," Moreno sadly explained later through an interpreter. "After that I could do nothing."

"He hit me hard in the first round, so I slugged back," Bassey admitted with a grin. Bassey continued bombing until the Little Bird collapsed like a pressed duck with just a few seconds left in the third.

Moreno took the first step toward grogginess when Bassey, 124, clipped him with a ripping uppercut midway in the second.

"That's when I knew I had him," Bassey said.

Moreno, 124½, was far from through, however, and made a game stand as thousands of his countrymen from south of the border and Los Angeles' large Mexican colony shouted encouragement.

Bassey, also a deft boxer, slipped or blocked most of Moreno's flurries. But he later admitted that even the punches on his arms hurt plenty.

"He's the best puncher I've met," Bassey said.

In the third, Bassey opened with a wild-swinging barrage.

A solid right sent Moreno reeling across the ring.

Bassey followed with two more rights and Moreno did a drunken shuffle-off dance step and collapsed. He was still on his back, but making a feeble effort to rise, when Referee Tommy Hart counted him out.

Bilko Making His Presence Felt At Last

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Steve Bilko is making his ponderous presence felt with the Cincinnati Redlegs after 13 seasons in organized baseball.

He had been considered nothing better than a "good hit, no field minor leaguer."

Purchased from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League last Oct. 8, Bilko (no relation to the sergeant of TV fame) is seeking to win a regular job with the Redlegs. He failed in previous attempts with the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

Cincinnati decided to give him a try after he hit 56 homers and drove in 140 runs in the PCL.

Yesterday, the 6-1, 230-pound first baseman slammed two home runs and led the Redlegs to a 9-2 victory over Philadelphia. He ended a scoreless deadlock with a two-run blow in the fourth and repeated the trick in the seventh. Both homers came off southpaw Curt Simmons.

Minnie Minoos clubbed three homers as the Cleveland Indians outslugged the Chicago Cubs 14-7. Minoos drove in eight runs. Ernie Banks homered twice for the Cubs.

Bill Skowron drove in eight runs with two homers and a single in the New York Yankees' 15-11 triumph over the White Sox. His grand-slammer off Bob Keegan in the seventh turned the tide.

Eddie Mathews drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and a single and Hank Aaron helped with a home run as Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 7-2.

The Cards ended Boston's eight-game winning streak by defeating the Red Sox 4-3. In other games, Washington edged Los Angeles 7-6, Kansas City trimmed Detroit 4-1 and San Francisco defeated Baltimore 4-1.

In addition to the team's skin, Boston pitcher Dave Sisler's hitless string also went down the drain. He had retired 33 consecutive batters in three games before Wally Moon opened the fifth with a double. The Cards went on to score three times in that frame.

Washington pulled out its victory in the 10th after scoring twice in the previous inning to tie the score. The Senators got the winning run on Albie Pearson's single, a base on balls and an error by Los Angeles shortstop Charley Neal that enabled Pearson to score from second.

Jack Urban held Detroit scoreless for eight innings and the Tigers registered their lone marker in the ninth off A's reliever Tom Gorman. Kansas City got all its runs off Billy Hoelt.

Rose Dumps GHS; Plays RR Today

Coach Odel Welborn's Rose High School Track team plays host to Roanoke Rapids here this afternoon in a Northeastern Conference track meet at Guy Smith Stadium track.

The Phantoms, who have split two matches thus far this season, are rated slight favorites over the Yellow Jackets.

Monday, the Greenies defeated AAA Goldsboro there, 55-40, in a non-loop meet. The G-Men captured eight first places in the 12-event meet, to snare the winning margin, sprinkling several second and third place winners among the events, also.

Robert Howell, the veteran Phantom trackster who is at present the leading point man, nabbed firsts in the 100, 220, broad jump, to claim high honors for the Monday match. Other Phantoms who scored firsts were Crawford, Nunn, Bilbro, Duff, and Everette.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES—Hogan (Kid) Bassey, 124, Nigeria, knocked out Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, 124½, Mexico, 3. (Bassey retained world featherweight title)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Gomero Brennan, 147, Bimini, stopped Wallace (Bud) Smith, 144, Cincinnati, 5.

"I had a miserable winter tour," Ford said. "I couldn't put. But at San Antonio I felt my touch getting back and at Baton Rouge and New Orleans I knew I was getting back in the groove. Now I feel great."

"If I continue playing the way I am, I feel sure I can win again."

Ford shows the most concern over Sam Snead and the red-hot youngster Ken Venturi.

"If I had to name a man other than myself it would have to be Snead," Ford said. "A darkhorse? I like Dow Finsterwald. He's a fine young golfer, just waiting for a break."

"Venturi, Finsterwald and Arnold Palmer are the youngsters who have to be watched. You can never discount Snead. But I still feel good about my chances."

Venturi, only player to win three tournaments this year, had a practice 67 over the 6,850-yard par-72 Augusta National course yesterday and said, "I'm playing so well it scares me. I'm afraid I can't keep it up."

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and some steels improved as the stock market continued irregular early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Gains and losses of fractions to around a point were the rule for key stocks.

The market's uneven tone was established at the opening. There was a tendency to settle backward for a while but prices firm shortly after President Eisenhower's news conference.

While manufacturers showed a further reduction in inventory, the rise in consumer installment debt came to an end in February, interrupting an upward trend since 1954. Latest figures showed a drop in auto assemblies.

Chrysler dropped to a new low for the year by losing a point in active dealings. Wall Street talk was that a large block of the stock was hanging over the market. This heightened recent bearish attitude toward the stock because of fears its quarterly report would show a sizeable deficit.

Olin Matheson, the most active stock the past two days, continued to decline on more pessimistic talk concerning its earnings.

Lorillard rose more than a point, resuming its newest upsurge. Hopes are high that it will show excellent earnings.

Beech Aircraft benefited from an advisory service recommendation and rose a point. Boeing and Douglas Aircraft also were 1-point gainers while Lockheed, United Aircraft and General Dynamics rose fractionally.

Lukens Steel was another 1-point gainer. U.S. Steel picked up a major fraction. Bethlehem was Cootie Williams, the jazz musician, was picked to play the trumpet during the service in a Harlem Baptist church.

About 1,500 persons jammed the Prince Hall Masonic Temple last night to participate in Masonic rites for Handy. He had been a Mason since 1907.

Some 5,000 persons viewed the body since it was taken to the Masonic Hall from a funeral home Monday. Handy died last Friday.

Dulles Concedes Soviet Propaganda Won Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the testimony of Secretary of State Dulles said that the Soviet announcement of a propaganda beating from the Soviet Union.

"We deliberately accepted this propaganda thrust," Dulles said, "knowing we were going to have to take it, rather than do something which we felt was basically unsound."

Three times in three months Dulles has conceded important victories to what he calls the cleverness and unscrupulousness with which the Soviets peddle abroad policies that the United States considers unsound.

The latest such admission came at a news conference when Dulles said that the Soviet announcement of suspension of nuclear tests had won "a certain propaganda victory" which the United States had known about in advance but been unable to offset.

Other instances came last March 4, concerning the Soviet drive for a quick summit conference, and last Jan. 10 on the general subject of disarmament.

Some officials at lower levels of government say privately the administration needs to be more aggressive in propaganda. Dulles has given no indication of any new steps to meet the Soviet challenge in that field.

Some informed officials feel the problem is beyond the powers of the U. S. Information Agency to deal with. USIA is primarily concerned with such things as running the Voice of America and overseas information libraries rather than making high-level policy.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate most Americans have no appreciation "of the scope of the Soviet victory" in announcing suspension of nuclear tests.

Humphrey charged that "the United States stands before the world without leadership and without a spokesman."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) replied with a statement upholding the administration's decision on nuclear tests.

Dulles disclosed that top officials had met with President Eisenhower within the last 10 days and considered whether it would be wise to "try to steal a march on the Soviets by ourselves announcing a suspension of testing at least for a time."

The decision was that the government's responsibilities to the American people and "perhaps to

Grand Jury Probes Pricing Of New Cars; May Spread

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation into the pricing of new automobiles in the Washington area may be followed by similar inquiries in other parts of the country, Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen said today.

"The dealer pricing plan, employing what is known in the trade as 'the price pack,' seems to follow a pattern in several areas," Hansen said.

Hansen, who heads the Justice Department's antitrust division, disclosed that a broad investigation into dealer auto prices on the West Coast has been under way for some time. He said also that his division is looking into pricing practices elsewhere, but did not violate the antitrust laws." Hansen explained the "price pack" system this way: If a manufacturer's suggested sales price for a car is $2,900, the car is "discounted" for $3,100 and then "discussed" by $300. He said a similar plan has been followed in supplying extra accessories for new cars and by use of artificial list prices.

He emphasized he was making no accusations against any specific dealer or dealers, but said the objective is to find out the degree of uniformity on pricing and discounting in given areas.

The Washington investigation is the first to move into the grand jury stage. Hansen said use of a grand jury will make it possible to subpoena business records and which might not otherwise be available for FBI inspection.

"The individual automobile dealer," Hansen said, "can do just about what he wants to do about pricing. Our interest is in determining whether there are agreements among area dealers relating to pricing and the so-called discounts which would

Two special services of Holy Communion are scheduled for St. James Methodist Church, Thursday night at 8 o'clock and Easter Sunday morning at 5:30. The Thursday night service commemorates the "Last Supper" Christ ate with his disciples before his crucifixion on Good Friday. Rather than kneeling at the altar rail, the people will sit around a long banquet table spread within the chancel. Bread and the cup will be passed as at an actual supper. Easter Sunday at 5:30 a.m. the Sunrise service at St. James will remind worshippers that Christ actually ate with his disciples after his resurrection from the dead. Pastor J. Malloy Owen, in inviting the public to the services explained "Luke 24:42 is the Biblical record of our Lord's eating fish and honey after being raised from death, and elsewhere it is recorded that 'He was known of them in the breaking of bread.'"

The sunrise service begins on the lawn in front of the Church at 5:30, the congregation watching the actual rising of the sun at 5:37, and then process into the Church for the celebration of the Resurrection around the Lord's Table. Both the simple proclamation of the resurrection out of doors and the celebration of the resurrection at communion will be broadcast by Greenville radio station WGTC.

This is the third year that St. James Church has held the two services.

Special Holy Week services have been marking the days preceding Easter at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Monday was the Cleansing of the Temple, Tuesday was the Day of Questions, Wednesday is the plotting and the betrayal. Maundy Thursday commemorates the Institution of the Lord's Supper; Good Friday is the day of His Crucifixion; Easter Eve is the traditional time for baptism.

Daily services have been held in St. Paul's Church all during Lent. In this climactic week Holy Communion is offered each morning at 7:00 through Thursday. On Maundy Thursday the institution of the Lord's Supper will be observed with a meaningful service at 8:00 p.m. This will be a parish celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The ushers will present the communion elements as a part of the offering from the people. Lay Readers of St. Paul's have served during the Lenten season. They have conducted the daily services as an assistance to the Rector. They are: J. Ed Waldrop, Dr. James Poindexter, John Parson, Charles O'H. Horne, Frank F. Fagan, and R. G. Hunt.

The Good Friday observance this year will be in St. Paul's with the Rector, the Rev. John W. Drake Jr., officiating. Eight local ministers will offer their Biblical meditations during these three hours.

The Easter Day schedule for St. Paul's is Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m., and the Children's Festival at 9:30 with presentation of the Lenten offering and making of the flower cross. There will be Holy Communion at 11:15 a.m. in the afternoon at 5:30 the Young Churchmen will present a Choral Drama on the Resurrection. Communion for the sick and shut-ins of the parish will be carried on Easter afternoon and Easter Monday.
