

Businessman To Turn $2 Million Firm Over To His Employees

Deliberately Bypassing His Son, Who 'Is The Same Kind Of Philosopher'

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearing the end of his road, as he puts it, a philosophical businessman plans to turn over a two-million dollar firm to his employees. He is deliberately bypassing his son.

"I've seen too many businesses go to pot," Bernard Spero, 64, declared today, "because the man who helped build the business dies, turning it over to heirs who lose interest in it."

Cuban Rebs Continue Raid Tactics In Pressing Fight

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Wide-spread attacks by Fidel Castro's guerrillas in the wake of unsuccessful general strike calls were punctuated yesterday by a 30-ton dynamite blast near Santiago.

Rebels raided the copper mining center of El Cobre, 12 miles west of Santiago, and touched off the dynamite in a construction company supplier's warehouse. The explosion apparently was fanned, where it shattered windows.

In Santiago itself, President Fulgencio Batista's troops maintained light patrols after crushing a rebel attempt to touch off a general strike.

Sen. Russell Hits Change In Policy

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today the State Department has turned the once-useful reciprocal trade program into a device for doling out more foreign aid. He said that has helped make the cotton industry "a sick business."

"I supported reciprocal trade and also the Marshall Plan to restore the ravages of war and get Europe back on its economic feet," Russell said.

"I still believe in the original concept of reciprocal trade but I shall not support a program to liquidate vital American industries, to throw thousands of American citizens out of work in order to create an economy in some foreign land suitable to some dreamer in the State Department."

To be arraigned in U. S. District Court Monday on the charge of operating the unlicensed transmitter are Rulon D. Jensen, 30; Deal L. Hanson, 29, both of Los Angeles; and Fred W. Field Jr., 29, of suburban Torrance. They have not commented on the accusation.

U.S. Plans Consultations For Quick Reply To Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to consult quickly with its NATO allies on formally rejecting Russia's terms for meetings to arrange a summit conference. The aim is to get a reply to Moscow by Thursday.

That's the date suggested by the Soviet government yesterday for beginning talks in Moscow at the ambassador level.

Shortly after the Soviet note was delivered in Moscow, the White House branded as unacceptable the price Russia set for its participation in such preliminary talks.

The conditions stated by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were contrary at every point to the known policies of the Western powers. This caused speculation here as to why the Soviets sent such a note.

Blossoms prove that winter has given place to spring; fruit, vegetables and grain prove that harvest is at hand—all are miracles. We see them so often we take them for granted, and we forget there are other miracles, just as beautiful, just as significant, just as unailing.

The Church, bringing human lives into contact with God, produces miracles every day. Rough, actually evil people become powers for good. As winter changes into spring, so cold, barren nature blossoms and brings forth good fruit.

God depends on our help to cultivate the soil and care for the seed. Similarly, He looks to us to help bring the message of the Church, the message of salvation to others. He invites each of us to become part of His great miracle-working program.

Why not begin NOW? Become a part of the Church and its great work. Your own life will be enriched, your happiness increased, because you are a partner in performing miracles.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Christian Science Society
How spiritual understanding of God's law of harmony brings healing and redemption will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Jeremiah (17:14): "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (472:9-10): "Sickness, sin, and death, being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government."
Scriptural readings will include the following (Psalms 33:4,5): "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord."

Here's What It Means To All Of Us

What good is industrial development in Pitt County going to do me?

There are probably a number of Pitt County farmers who have asked themselves that question while considering the proposed three-cent county-wide tax levy for a Pitt County development commission.

The best way to answer such a question is to point to what industrial development in this and other areas is already doing for people who live and make their living on the farms.

A prime example of what industrial development can do for the farmer can be found in the plant of Swift and Company being constructed in Wilson. The plant, while it will employ several hundred people and have a considerable payroll, will also provide a ready market for beef, pork and perhaps poultry in the area. Aside from what it pays in salaries and taxes, the plant will spend an estimated $17 million dollars a year for cattle, hogs and perhaps poultry that will be processed. That means of course, that farmers of the area have an opportunity to sell an additional $17 million dollars worth of products produced on the farm.

The new Formica flakeboard plant at Farmville, while it will put most of its money in circulation through payrolls, will spend many thousands of dollars with farmers of the area for pulpwood needed in the plant's operation.

Over in Martin County the small locally-owned food processing plant affords jobs, but at the same time it pays out many thousands of dollars a year to farmers for produce which is processed in the plant. The same thing is true of the poultry plant in Robersonville. In the western part of the state the Gerber company has announced plans to construct a plant which will require some 40,000 tons of farm produce annually from farmers of that area.

What does industrial development mean to the farmer?

It means the creation of new markets for products that can be raised on the farm. It means opportunities for producing new crops that can supplement the farm income. In short, it means greater farm income.

Industrial development and agricultural development go hand-in-hand. Pitt, with its strong agricultural situation, stands to create a more lucrative economy for its farmers, by pushing forward its industrial development.

The Tolerant Air Is Briefly Laid Aside

There's something about the words "rock 'n' roll" that raise the hackles of editorial writers. Even their typewriters roll out torrents of words that might fit the envelope of a poison pen letter.

But at that, the atmosphere in the ivory tower is conducive to a limited amount of tolerance toward fads in music or women's fashions; so a lot of what editorial writers would like to say, frequently never gets into print.

Briefly shelving that tolerant air, some restrained huzzas are in order over results of a poll in music tastes in Columbia, S. C. The R & R ranks were snowed under, three-to-one, among the hundreds questioned as to their tastes.

Recent weeks have seen other phenomena. A couple of radio stations dropped the playing of "those" records; and more locally, an acquaintance was heard to boast he listened to his radio all one afternoon and heard no rock 'n' roll.

It does seem our principal sustainers of musical fare are becoming aware there is a larger number of listeners to be pleased than the ranks of the faddists.

Now as to that switch to "sacks" we @ lb * & ???$.

Not So Sweet At Top

By ALAN CLINE

Johnny Mathis, a current juke box hero, is having an affair with success. And, as with all romances, it's not all sweet talk and happiness.

The 22-year-old San Francisco Negro has six big record hits; he sings in the best nightclubs, in movies and on television. His latest Columbia album, "Good Night Dear Lord," seems destined for a long stay in the top 10. It is a collection of religious hymns and spirituals.

His income this year is expected to top the $200,000 mark.

"This is a hard life," the handsome, slight, entertainer said in an interview, "but stimulating. Physically and mentally it's very tiring, but there are some wonderful advantages to offset this.

"Success is great. You have lots of fun, you meet lots of people, people you like and people you don't like, and you get a chance to evaluate them and find out if it's all worth it. It feels great."

Has success changed Johnny Mathis, a singer practically all his 22 years, but a full-time professional only the past three?

"I can't possibly be the same old Johnny," he admits, "I have new interests now. I'm living on the run."

"My ideas, my ideals and my conception of so many things have changed and in some degree it's almost as though I were a different person from the one who started out in San Francisco."

"I expected to change and I think I have. Of course when I change I always hope it's for the good."

Don Sherwood, a San Francisco disc jockey and TV actor who is credited with giving the tenor one of his initial breaks, calls Mathis "different . . . an awfully nice guy who reflects it in his singing."

Sherwood says Mathis has improved "9,000 per cent" since he first entered show business. "The more he does, the better he gets," the disc jockey adds. Sherwood says Mathis' popularity may cool off but that he has the voice to bounce back.

Mathis has a resonant, vibrant delivery. He doodles sometimes with his lyrics, floats over a wide range and varies his pace from silky-smooth ballads to songs with a rapid tempo.

Currently Mathis limits himself to singing. His ultimate goal is acting as well.

"There's a real difference between an entertainer and just a singer . . . to be able to stay on a stage for an hour and carry the show," he remarked.

Mathis is the fourth of seven children and is devoted to his parents, Clem and Mildred. "They gave me the background and the bringing up that was necessary for someone who was going to face all these things that I'm facing now."

He makes no secret of being a bit puritan. In one show at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco he all but apologized for singing "Let's Fall in Love," which he feels is mildly suggestive.

"With but one exception — rock 'n' roll — he likes to do any type of song — religious, pops, even opera for which he ad some training.

Rock 'n' roll doesn't fascinate him. "Why not? 'I don't know.' It just doesn't fascinate me."

Everything In The Mail

NOTES FROM THE MAILBAG

The trash examinations made during March revealed that very few weevils survived the low temperatures. Dr. Frye, United States Department of Agriculture Entomologist located at Florence, S.C. has just released the data from counties in South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia. The Piedmont area for the Carolinas showed only 4.5 per cent survival. The North Carolina areas of North Carolina only 2.4 per cent survival and the southern Virginia-northern North Carolina area 1.6 per cent.

According to information just released by the Public Health Statistics Section of the North Carolina State Board of Health, all accidents claimed a total of 203 North Carolinians during the month of January 1958. In January 1957, all accidents took a toll of 238 lives.

Home and farm accidents caused 94 of 203 deaths in January 1958; motor vehicle accidents were responsible for 75 deaths; and other accidents caused 34 deaths.

Television's market for first black and white sets is rapidly approaching 100 per cent saturation, according to one letter. At the beginning of 1958 there were 41.8 million television homes out of a total of 48.6 million wired homes in the U.S. or 86 per cent of the total.

One letter announced that cars in the not-too-distant future will be wheelless and will cruise two feet off the ground and be propelled by ducted fans. The car will be able to climb as high as 100 feet. It will have a gas turbine, and springs and shock absorbers will be eliminated.

A British firm has designed a product most people would like to do without, Reports Purchasing Week, a McGraw-Hill publication. It's a new kind of carbon paper for use in accounting offices. The carbon sheet incorporates two vertical red stripes for "in-the-red" items, thus eliminating the need for typing in later on individual copies.

There were 2,335,000 broiler chicks placed with North Carolina growers during the week ending March 29, according to the industry's Reporting Service in Raleigh.

This is 2.8 percent above placements of the previous week and 15 percent above placements of 2,030,000 chicks during the comparable week last year. Hatchings of 2,217,000 broiler chicks were 2.6 percent above the previous week and exceeded the same week last year by 13.6 percent. Eggs set during the week at 2,339,000 was less than one percent above the previous week and exceeded the comparable week last year by 20 percent.

Italian Communists have come up with a simple explanation of the slump in accordion exports, according to a newsletter. They say capitalist countries of the West are not buying because the accordion is a serene instrument and does not fit in with their fast living. The truth is, Americans bought 127,434 accordions in the first ten months of 1957. Iron Curtain countries bought none.

Other Editors Saying--- Sec. Gates' New Navy

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates Jr. can justifiably point with pride to the work he has accomplished toward reorganizing the naval fighting forces and advancing new concepts of warfare on the high seas.

Substantial changes have taken place in America's sea forces. The aircraft carrier has become the capital ship of the Navy, and the last of the big battleships has been placed in mothballs. In the new atomic age, there is no role, apparently, for the behemoth of the seas.

The Navy of the future has been pictured as being largely underwater, with missiles launched from atomic-powered submarines. Priority has been given to construction of nuclear-powered subs and missile tests. Construction of 27 nuclear subs is in the works. Gates is proud of the fact that all of these changes have taken place in an orderly manner. Confusion has been held to a minimum in adopting these new concepts of naval combat.

Anti-submarine warfare is also high on the list of naval concepts. The Soviet trend in the last decade has been toward more and better subs. The Russian sub fleet is calculated as the largest in the world. This is what the U. S. Navy must concern itself with in the future. Hence, more concentration on anti-submarine warfare.

The cruiser escaped the fleet graveyard because it proved useful as a launching platform for missiles. It is faster, more flexible than the battleship, thus the old battleship went into mothballs, victim of a new era. There have been many bitter arguments concerning the role of the Navy in any future war.

It is certain that the role played by the Navy in the Pacific in World War II will not be repeated in any future war. True, naval action in that area may occur, but most of it will be underwater. There will be no great carrier battles again, no engagements by battleships piling 16-inch guns against each other, for the simple reason that Russia has no carriers or battleships. She will rely on subs.

Scouting and patrolling will be a major assignment of the Navy. Submarine picket duty will become the order of the day, around the entire coastline of America, for enemy subs carrying atomic missiles could prove deadly to our coastal installations. Troop carrying, a major task of the Navy in previous wars, will be carried on to some extent, but more small well-trained military forces will be transported by air. The Army's new concepts of warfare call for speedy movement of troops by aerial means, which precludes the troopships of World War II. Secretary Gates may well be proud of his reorganization effort. On his shoulders rests the burden of success for future naval operations.

YES, SIR! BUSINESS IS DOWN (The Shreveport Times)

"Yes, sir," said the highway motel owner, "business is down, 'way down. And I mean down. This recession is sure putting the skids under things." But, everytime I drive by I see a 'no vacancy' sign on your motel," said the tourist.

"Oh, sure," said the motel owner. "We're turning 'em away all the time — 10 to 15 a night. But, heck, we used to turn away 15 to 20 a night. It's a lucky night these days if I get to turn away 15 to 20. Yes, sir, I mean business is DOWN."

Let Business Letters Be Corny

By ELMER ROESSNER

Let's make next week Be Kind to Business Letter Writers Week. Let's stop nagging writers of business letters, at least until they pull us out of the current slump.

Yapping at executive grammar and syntax has been a great indoor sport for many years. Almost every magazine published for business executives, administrators, personnel people and office managers has had one or more articles in the last year telling businessmen how to write letters. The same sort of professorial pieces appear intermittently in trade and industry magazines.

It seems as if whenever editors run out of other ideas, they say, "Let's have another article on how business letters should be written. Let's kick the executives' heads around again. They love it — and if they don't, their secretaries will!"

UNCLE SAM, PROFESSOR Even the government has gotten into the act. The Government Printing Office is offering 11 pamphlets and booklets, most of them priming businessmen to write better letters — or what the authors think are better letters.

They include "Writing Out Loud," described as "humorously illustrated, this folder presents ideas for improving your dictation methods." "Getting Your Ideas Across Through Writing" (something your reporter ought to send for), "Form Letters," "Plain Letters," described as a handbook "to help improve the efficiency of letters by turning them out in plain workaday English," and "The Winning Letter — Common Sense About Writing to People." This is also "written in a humorous vein" and proposes "common sense rules for writing to people. It gives hints on better word usage, making your letters sincere and meaningful, and keeping them brief and to the point."

Thus the government and the business press are constantly bombarding business executives about their letter-writing.

WHAT NOT TO DO

This drum fire tells business men to use short words, use short sentences (13 words is a frequently suggested maximum), use declarative sentences, avoid passive verbs, rely on transitive and active verbs, avoid clichés, sustain metaphors and be folksy.

It's probably true that many business letters could be clearer and more concise. But the volume of advice is far out of proportion to faults involved; it is as if a fire company was called out to blow out a match.

Furthermore, the barrage of "don't" and "do's" may have psychic effect on executives. When one formulates a sentence to dictate, he may pause to ask himself, "This is okay with the Government Printing Office, but what will the editors of the 'Executive Level Gazette' think of it?"

In fact, all business may slow down if every executive tries to dictate clear, bell-like missives that command response and action from other executives, who may be similarly beset.

BLOWING THE WHISTLE

So let's put a stop to all this nonsense about how letters should be written. Let's go back to the corny clichés. Let's write: "Yours of the 31st ult. received and contents noted. Please be advised we accept your offer of 3,578 widgets at the 15th prox. f.o.b. our plant on the 15th prox. and our check for $10,947.983, less 10-2 E.O.M. will be paid upon certification of delivery."

"Your obdt. servant, Wunderbar von Garfinkle, pres."

Appointment Is Well Received

By LYNN NISRET

MASON — Appointment of James W. Mason of Laurinburg to succeed Cutlar Moore on the highway commission met favorable response hereabouts. It keeps in State service a man who was regarded as one of the ablest first term senators in the 1957 General Assembly, who was prevented by rotation from coming back in 1959. Moore's resignation had been predicted for months. It was known that he wanted to come back to the senate, where he represented Roberson county in the past three sessions.

The Mason appointment is also regarded smart politics on the part of Governor Hodges. It undoubtedly will relieve some of the resentment felt by Scotland county folks when Governor Hodges appointed Edwin Pate as chairman of the Ports Authority, and passed up two or three opportunities to name a superior court judge from Scotland.

CEREMONY — The Robeson county courthouse at Lumberton will be the scene of an unusual ceremony next Tuesday afternoon. The oath of office as Attorney General will be administered there to Malcolm B. Seawell and also to H. A. (Sandy) McKinnon, Jr., as resident superior court judge succeeding Judge Seawell. The newly appointed officials requested the swearing in be at Lumberton instead of Raleigh so their home-folk friends could attend. Seawell further requested that his long time friend, Judge Herman Clark of Fayetteville, recently appointed in place of Judge Quincy Nimocks, retired, administer the oath to him. In announcing the change of place for the oath-taking, Governor Hodges said "it shows the very real humanness of the new officials."

The Governor did not know who would administer the oath to Judge McKinnon. Here's suggestion: Until he takes the oath as Attorney General retiring Judge Seawell has authority to administer oaths. It would add quaintness and historic value to an already unique occasion if Judge Seawell made his final act as judge the qualifying of his successor on the bench.

Most recent instance of a State official being inducted into office outside of Raleigh was in January, 1953. The late Harry McMillan, who had been re-elected Attorney General, was ill and could not come to Raleigh for the inauguration of Governor Umstead and other elected officials. The oath was administered to him in his home at Washington by the clerk of the superior court of Beaufort county.

It is recalled that two Presidents of the United States were sworn in away from the national capital. The oath was administered to Theodore Roosevelt by a justice of the peace in upper New York state, and to Calvin Coolidge by his father, a notary public in Vermont. In both instances the emergency was occasioned by death of the President while the Vice Presidents were away from Washington.

MIDDLEMAN — It would seem appropriate for the protocol book to do something to correct the "middleman" listing of the Attorney General among the elective executive State officials. Prior to 1944 the Council of State consisted of the Secretary of State, the Auditor, the Treasurer and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. A constitutional amendment adopted in 1944 added the Commissioners of Agriculture, Labor and Insurance to the Council. Section 14 of Article III of the Constitution lists these members in that order and adds that "The Attorney General shall be, ex-officio, the legal adviser of the executive department."

But Section 1 of Article III lists the members of the Executive Department in this order: A Governor, a Lieutenant Governor, a Secretary of State, an Auditor, a Treasurer, a superintendent of Public Instruction, an Attorney General, a Commissioner of Agriculture, a Commissioner of Labor and a Commissioner of Insurance. What happened was that when the three commissioners were made constitutional officers and members of the Council of State, their names were added after the Attorney General in the codified transcript, instead of at the bottom of the Council listing.

Result is that in protocol ratings, including assignment of low numeral automobile plates, the Attorney General splits the Council of State in half. In view of the increasing importance of the office, many people think the Attorney General should come either at the head of the list or at a sort of undergirding support, at the bottom.

Some eminent legal authorities advise that it might require a constitutional amendment adopted by popular vote to put him at the head of the list, but that since it was only a codification error that put him in the middle, it would take nothing more than a proof reader's pencil to switch him to the bottom — or at most a brief legislative act.

Atmosphere Is Due To Change

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's relative calm — it's been fairly quiet since Congress went home for Easter — ends next week when the legislators pour back for the last half of their 1958 sessions.

This Congress already has done a lot of work — far more than usual for this time of year — but it has plenty ahead. Probably the most explosive issue is President Eisenhower's plan for streamlining the Defense Department.

Members of both parties have had a double reason for trying to make a good 1958 showing: (1) there's a recession and (2) this is an election year for all 435 House members and a third of the 96 senators.

The election campaign has started already. The Democratic boss of the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, proclaimed before the Easter holiday that this Congress under Democratic leadership has made a very impressive record, indeed.

Meade Alcorn, Republican national chairman, took a pre-Easter swipe at the Democrats, saying their leadership seems more interested in "concocting a phony political pitch for the fall elections than in the general welfare."

These are the main issues facing the returning Congress members:

1. Possibly a tax cut, if the recession gets worse.

2. Eisenhower's Defense Department reorganization plan. Already there's opposition from some Democrats and Republicans. Eisenhower has promised to fight all the way through on this.

Next Thursday he'll carry his case to the people in a nationwide TV broadcast. Main complaint against his plan is the power it would give to Secretary of Defense McElroy, more power than any defense secretary ever has had.

There may even be a strenuous fight, openly or behind the scenes, by the armed services themselves.

3. The reciprocal trade program, first set up by President Roosevelt in the midst of the depression of the 1930s, and renewed ever since.

Under this the President is empowered to cut tariffs on imports from America. In this recession period there has been pressure to keep tariffs up to keep competition out.

4. Foreign aid. This program — which involves loans, grants and military hardware to other nations — has been pushed by Eisenhower.

5. Appropriations. Congress still has to approve the big appropriations bills—the money needed to run the government another year.

Quote . . .

"No one should be ashamed or afraid to speak simply. It's the only language human beings can understand. No one should be satisfied with his vocabulary. We should seek constantly to improve our power with words, to increase the number of words at our command until one day we have a vocabulary so large that we will be able to say everything we wish to say in little words. That's the proof of a good vocabulary." — Jackson (Miss.) Daily News.

Bucs Topple WCC 6-2; Two Clubs Play Again Today

Pirates Crack Seven Hits To Win NS Opener

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor

In what was statistically their best performance of the early season, East Carolina College thumped out their first North State Conference win yesterday, beating Western Carolina, 6-2, at College Field.

The Bucs walloped WCC pitchers Harris Pryor and Cecil Marshall for seven hits, earning all six of their runs.

East Carolina pitchers Leonard Lilley and Bruce Shelley split chores and held the visitors to only one hit.

Another Today

The two teams tangle again this afternoon at 2:00 in the second league match of the year for both clubs. Both are trying to get into the conference race with defending champion Elon which now has a 2-0 record. Another ECC win today would tie the Bucs with the Christians for the loop's first position.

Expected to take the mound this afternoon against Coach Jim Guder's Catamounts will be sophomore lefthander Ben Baker.

Bucs Exploded

In their past four games, the Bucs have averaged four hits per tilt. Yesterday they exploded against Western Carolina's Harris Pryor for seven costly ones. All six of the Bucs tallies were made by sharp hits coming at the right time.

Possibly even more impressive than the streak of Bucs hitting in the clutch was the Pirates' hurling. Leonard Lilley started off for the Pirates, hurled four innings and gave up only one hit. After he had walked in a run and loaded the bases, Coach Jim Mallory struck in his prize reliever Bruce Shelley. The 21-year-old Mullins, South Carolina, righthander cooled off the Catamounts for the final five frames, not allowing a single hit.

Both ECC hurlers fanned three batters each. Lilley fanned three and Shelley didn't issue a single base on balls. It was Shelley's victory.

Scoring Rundown

Both teams played three innings of fast baseball to begin the game, showing good defensive strength and pitchers Pryor and Lilley had control of the game.

Then, in the fourth, East Carolina scored. Rightfielder Jimmy Jones got on base and moved to second on a sacrifice. Bucky Reep, Pirate co-captain, tapped out a long single, scoring Jones from second and the Bucs had the lead, 1-0.

Western Carolina picked up two runs in the fifth, both unearned. A group of walks, issued by Lilley, plus a hit batsman accounted for the first one. The second came on a fly-out. Western Carolina grabbed the lead at 2-1.

In the bottom half of that frame, East Carolina started off with a walk. Al Vaughn drew it and went to first. Jimmy Martin singled. Tommy Land added another basehit to load the bases. Johnny Jones then flied out, scoring Vaughn. Tommy Nance cracked a long hit to score two more Pirates. The score was 4-2. Reep smacked out another long one, snagged for an out, but scoring another run.

Again in the seventh, the Pirates picked up another run when catcher Doug Watts clubbed out a single to score Jones.

Same Lineup

Coach Jim Mallory is expected to go with the same lineup today that he used yesterday, with the possible exception of plugging Martin Talton behind the plate. Talton has a bad bone chip in his thumb and sat out yesterday's game while veteran Doug Watts handled the catching chores. Mallory stated yesterday however that the bone chip was not dangerous and that Talton will not be kept out of the lineup when needed.

Therefore, it will be Ben Baker and probably Talton as the battery. Jimmy Martin will be at first base, Al Vaughn at second, Jerry Stewart at shortstop, and Bucky Reep at third. Tommy Nance will be in leftfield, Tommy Land in centerfield, and Johnny Jones in right.

On hand for relief work this afternoon will be M. Itchell Moon and Earl Boykin, both freshman hurlers.

Game time is 2:00.

Banks Has .387 BA, 14 Homers

By JACK HAND

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The man with the hot bat in the Cactus Belt is Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs shortstop, who has hit 14 home runs and owns a .387 batting average for 29 games.

Banks did it again yesterday in the Cubs' farewell appearance at their Mesa base with a three-run homer in the 11th inning that sank the Los Angeles Dodgers with their fifth straight defeat. He finished the day with four hits in six trips after a slashing four for four performance against the Dodgers on Thursday.

Just for the record, Banks has 41 hits in 106 trips and his extra base hits include 10 doubles, a triple and 14 homers. This is by far his greatest spring, thin Arizona air or not.

"They talk about the thin air out here," said Banks in the Cubs' clubhouse after yesterday's game. "But if you hit the ball good it goes out of any park. I think the ball I hit off Carl Erskine to win this game was the best I have hit all spring."

Each year Banks has been bothered by a slow start. Last season he claims he was hitting only about .250 at the all-star game break. He finished at .285 with 43 home runs.

"I came out here early this year," he said. "I had a lot of trouble getting started last year, so I wanted to see if I could get off good. Rogers Hornsby, our own batting coach, helped me a lot. He helped me learn the strike zone so that I didn't go after too many bad pitches."

"The shift to the Pacific Coast ought to help me because we play in Los Angeles and San Francisco for about a week early in the season. Usually I have my troubles with the cold weather we get around Chicago and in the East."

Banks' high water mark for homers was 44 in 1955. He reasons that a good start should give him a better chance of beating out Hank Aaron of Milwaukee for the home run title.

DIGGING FOR HOME—Speedy Johnny Jones rounds third base in yesterday's 6-2 ECC win over WCC, digging for home and a score. Jones had a busy day, scoring twice for the Pirates and batting in one RBI of his own. East Carolina's victory puts them in the North State Conference race with a 1-0 mark. The two clubs square off again this afternoon for a second ballgame at College Field.

Yankees Facing Phillies In Exhibition Contest Today

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The New York Yankees blew back into their home town today for an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Phillies and manager Casey Stengel was starting in his old ballpark.

The Phillies are taking the place of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who engaged the Yanks in the two-game pre-season set for 10, these many years.

Stengel came out of his old ballpark with the announcement that Elston Howard probably will be his left fielder when the official season opens in Boston Tuesday. Stengel has decreed that if Yogi Berra's ailing hand is in shape, Howard will play left field and Yogi will be behind the bat against Boston.

Furthermore, said Stengel, Andy Carey is his third baseman. That must have left Jerry Lumpe slightly bewildered. A couple of days ago, Lumpe was listed as the regular third baseman.

Today's game was the eighth between the Yanks and Phillies since the start of training.

While the Yanks were surveying their riches, the Dodgers, who are hoping to give Milwaukee a run for the National League flag, ran their losing streak to five games at Mesa, Ariz. The Chicago Cubs whipped them 5-3 when Ernie Banks crashed a three-run homer off veteran Carl Erskine in the 11th.

Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 at Omaha; the Braves patted the Detroit Tigers 14-6 at Denver; the San Francisco Giants outlasted the Cleveland Indians in 10 innings at Tulsa, and the Boston Red Sox shut out their Raleigh (North Carolina State League) farmhands 6-0 at Raleigh.

Belvoir Wins Second Game

BELOVOIR-FALKLAND—Coach Charlie Bill Moyer's Belvoir-Falkland baseball team chalked up its second victory of the young season this week, dumping Ayden 4-0 here.

Ken Vandenburg, winner of the first B-F game two weeks ago, hurled the victory against Ayden. He allowed the Tornadoes only three hits. Leslie Stokes was the losing pitcher. Stokes was relieved by Tom Edwards in the fifth. Between them, B-F managed to collect five hits.

Vandenburg fanned eight Ayden batters in chalking up his club's second win.

Pacing the Belvoir hitting were Jerry Little, who punched out two baseknocks for four trips to the plate; Ray Smith who had two for three; and Elks, who got the only double in the ball game.

Leading Ayden hitters were Dan Bateman and B. Bateman.

ECC Tennis Club Downs Geneva For 4th Victory

East Carolina College's tennis team copped its fourth consecutive victory of the season here yesterday, whipping a highly-ranked Geneva College squad from Beaver Falls, Penn., 7-2.

Under Coach Bill McDonald, the veteran Pirate club has breezed through Wake Forest, Guilford, William and Mary and Geneva in the past three weeks and is still undefeated.

Maurice Everette, six-year ECC senior, the No. 1 Pirate and the defending North State Conference Singles champion, cracked the state four-year victory record yesterday. Everette chalked up his 53rd singles victory in four years to break the state record of 52. He defeated Geneva's Rex Downie, 6-0, 6-0.

The cracking of the state mark is thus far the highlight of Everette's fabulous four-year tennis career at East Carolina. He grabbed the No. 1 slot on the Pirate club in 1954 as a freshman and has held the position ever since—and he has captured the North States Singles title twice along the way. He has also appeared in several tournaments throughout the state and nation and has established himself as perhaps North Carolina's leading tennis man.

Yesterday, despite cold weather, a group of some 50 people turned out to crowd around ECC's courts to watch the matches. The rest of the East Carolina team stayed up with Everette, knocking out six other wins in addition to his singles victory.

John West, John Savage, Billy Hollowell and Lawrence Brown copped singles triumphs along the way. The doubles combinations of Everette and West, and Hollowell and Savage also won events.

The only losses marked up against the Bucs were a singles event in which Geneva's Glenn Williamson dumped ECC's Mike Katsias, and a doubles contest in which Katsias and Brown lost to Geneva's Williamson and Reisinger.

A note worth mentioning is the fact that thus far this season, the Pirates have lost only two singles events in four complete matches. In racking up their 4-0 mark, they have licked a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, a member of the Southern Conference, a member of the North State Conference, and a highly-ranked out-of-state opponent.

Next week, on Tuesday, the Bucs will play host to the Cherry Point Marines, at College Courts. Starting time for the matches has not been set, although 2:00 is the probable time.

Singles:

Everette (ECC) defeated Rex Downie, 6-0, 6-0.
West (ECC) defeated Harry Hartley, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.
Hollowell (ECC) defeated Dave Douglas, 6-2, 6-1.
Savage (ECC) defeated Bob Reisinger, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.
Brown (ECC) defeated Bob Thayer, 9-7, 6-0.

Lie Detector Indicates Has Guilty Knowledge

CHICAGO (AP)—Police have revealed that lie detector tests indicated Barry Cook, a burly young construction worker, has guilty knowledge of the unsolved lakefront bludgeoning-slaying of a woman on a sunbather.

Shortly after Cook, 24, appeared in Criminal Court on another case yesterday, Frank Ferlic, first assistant state's attorney, said two persons made at least tentative identifications of Cook in connection with the slaying of Miss Margaret Gallagher.

Chief of Detectives Patrick J. Deeley made the lie test disclosures while Cook was appearing in court.

The 50-year-old woman was beaten to death July 22, 1956, by a bare-chested man who pounced on her from a clump of bushes while she was sunbathing alone in Lincoln Park.

Arthur Kirk Besley, an apartment dweller who helplessly watched the assault through binoculars from his 15th floor living room, was one of the persons who viewed Cook in court, Ferlic said. Besley had been watching sailboats on the lake.

The prosecutor said Besley, 52, reported Cook "looked like a man" he had seen beating Miss Gallagher.

At least one other person who had been called to court to view him in connection with the Gallagher slaying identified Cook as the man he saw approach the woman as he and a companion drove past the scene on nearby Lake Shore Drive, Ferlic said.

Ferlic identified the other witness as Halton Grant, who he said was the man who saw Cook from a distance of 100 feet about five minutes before the slaying.

John Reid, who supervised the lie tests, said Cook also was quizzed about the dismemberment slaying last August of Judith Mae Anderson, 15. Reid said Cook was uncooperative in the Anderson matter.

Deeley and Reid said Cook flunked three questions during the test: did he kill the Gallagher woman? Did he beat her? Did he drag her into the bushes?

Ferlic emphasized the identifications and the lie test did not establish a case against Cook. He said police want to question Cook further, and a strategy conference on the case might be held early next week.

Cook appeared in court yesterday on charges of robbery, attempted robbery, and attempted rape. He was captured Feb. 26 after being shot down by police investigating North Side rape attempts.

Dying Sputnik II Visible In North

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Sputnik II, the giant Soviet dog-carrying satellite, is expected to come to earth in a friction-caused glow some time today or tonight, says the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

Its dying passages over North America may be visible.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory gave these approximate times of passage—all Eastern Standard:

7:40 p.m.—Northwest to southeast in northeastern Canada from Hudson's Bay eastward and possibly the northern extremity of Maine.

9:10 p.m.—Northwest to southeast, Hudson's Bay and northern Great Lakes.

9:20 p.m.—Northwest to southeast, over New England and down, over West Indies, possibly visible from Florida if it glows, when it would be low and far to the east, virtually on the horizon.

10:40 p.m.—Northwest to southeast, southwestern Canada and Montana.

10:50 p.m.—Northwest to southeast, over the middle of the Gulf of Mexico, far to the west of Florida and "very probably the final pass."

Quits Jim Bowie Role; Can't Use That Knife

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Scott Forbes, the only British-born Western star in TV, is quitting as Jim Bowie. Among his reasons: they wouldn't let him use his bowie knife.

After two seasons and 78 films on ABC Friday nights, Forbes has bowed out of the Bowie series. A major factor is money. He says the producers didn't come up with enough of an improvement in salary for a third season.

"But an important reason in my decision was that they wouldn't let me use the knife," he added. "After the opening show, the knife was a mere ornament. The producers and the sponsors decided it would be dangerous for kids to see a knife used as a weapon."

"I think such reasoning is ridiculous. Any normal kid knows the difference between an adventure on television and real life."

"I believe that is a major reason why the show hasn't reached a top rating. People feel cheated because they don't see the knife used. And I couldn't use a gun very often because the period was 1828-30, when only flintlock muzzle loaders were used. So it was an action show with little action." Forbes admitted that his casting as Bowie was "a bit of a stretch" in the first place. Born in England he lived part of his youth in South Africa. He still had a slight British accent when he came to Hollywood, and he played in costume pictures.

A role in the Frontier series caught the eye of the Jim Bowie producers. Much to his surprise, he won the role.

"One of the reasons I'm bowing out is because I don't want to be typed as a Western star," he said. "One more year might do it. Sure, the money would be nice, but I think I would be accepting a false value. My whole career might be harmed."

The Bowie producers have introduced a new hero, played by Joe Patridge, at the end of the second series. If the show is renewed, he'll take over in Forbes' place.

Chemist Defends Humber Points To Big Potential For State

Dr. Grover Everette, professor of chemistry at East Carolina College defended the educational system of the nation in a talk before the local Kiwanis Club last night.

However, he urged further improvements in the system in regard to especially brilliant students. Plans for such students might go even to the point of subsidization of the high school and college careers of these students who otherwise could go no further with their studies.

Dr. Everette was introduced by Michael Luskin who was in charge of the program.

George Fleming and George Smith announced that plans have been completed for the club to stage a door-to-door napkin sale on the evening of May 15. Several team captains were appointed and these will be assigned certain territories within the city. They will be responsible for furnishing transportation of canvassers within their area.

Awards were made for perfect attendance during the past quarter and the birthday of George Smith was noted.

Humber Points To Big Potential For State

"North Carolina is now tapping at the door for the creative spirit of its young people," stated Dr. Robert Lee Humber of Greenville last night at the weekly meeting of the local Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Humber's talk, "Our Native State," was the highlight of the meeting. Kiwanian Dave Moore was program chairman.

Dr. Humber's talk stressed North Carolina's career of progress, the state's heritage, and the task that now challenges all of its people. He also pointed out that the state has a tremendous potential in the great water sounds of eastern North Carolina, the more than 20 million acres of forest lands, and the advantages of many small and medium cities and communities.

"North Carolina is fortunate. We are not like a Missouri or Kansas City or a Birmingham dominates a whole community," he said.

He also stressed the fact that North Carolina's greatest potential lies in retaining and developing its natural resources for greater profit. "Our natural wealth should be transferred into finished products, and when that is accomplished our per capita wealth will soar."

Guests at last night's meeting were: Dr. Ledyard Ross, Dave Hancock, Dr. John Wooten, Bill Lee, Charles Gaskins, Jr., Tyson Bilbro, Dr. M. E. Husted, Kiwanian of Worth Hudson, New Jersey and Bob Bilbro, recipient of the Morehead Scholarship at the University of North Carolina.

The club also observed the birthday of member Robert Elks. Dr. H. Glenn Haney won the attendance prize.

VIEW DOWN THE FAIRWAY OF A HOLE AT THE NEW GRIFTON GOLF COURSE... 35 acres of land has been cleared for nine-hole layout. (Reflector Photos).

SOGGY LAND, EXCESSIVE WATER HAZARDS... presents a major construction problem.

Building New Nine-Hole Golf Course

GRIFTON—A group of local civic-minded citizens have parlayed a dream into a reality.

The dream is a nine-hole golf course which they think will be "one of the finest in eastern North Carolina" when it is finished sometime this year.

According to Bill Daws, Cashier of the local bank, the dream has been turned over in the minds of a number of people. Until little over a year ago, he explained, it was thought to be an impossibility.

Then things began to happen. A suitable site was obtained when Mrs. Eleanor W. Gower leased to a group of local men a plot of land, about one-half mile north of here on the Church Street Extension. That started the ball rolling.

Later merchant-farmer J. Bryan Davis donated an adjoining piece of land to be used for a club house if the golf course was constructed.

One thing led to another. Daws, Dr. J.L. Carson and Sam McLawhorn took a trip to Spring Hope to look over the newly-constructed nine-hole course there. "We did this because we knew they had built their course under the same circumstances we are having here now," Daws stated.

Finally work began on the land leased from Mrs. Gower. To date, 35 of the 56.6 acres of wooded land has been cleared by bulldozers and other heavy equipment, much of which belonged to local merchants and farmers.

Plans have been completed for the nine-hole layout and the fairways have been cleared. With assistance from Mack McCusiston, Morehead City Pro, the greens are being formed and the tees laid out.

Actual construction on the course began June 1. Work has been suspended since the latter part of October due to inclement weather conditions.

Daws said that plans called for the course to be completed sometime in late Spring or early Summer. "Now," he noted, "it looks like it will be late Summer or early Fall before it will be completed."

No plans have been made for a club house. "This will probably come on after we get on our feet financially," Daws explained.

The new Grifton Golf and Country Club has 50 members already signed. A non-profit corporation has been formed. Temporary officers are: Daws, President; Dr. Carson, First Vice-President; McLawhorn, Second Vice-President; and Allen Clements, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors are: J.D. Sutton, M.B.

Hodges, W.H. Gower, S.E. Nelson, Foster Cathcart, F.C. Butcher, Bob Wheeler, Dr. B.C. Troutman, John J. Langston and Calvin Cameron.

A charter for the corporation has been prepared by Attorney Bob Wheeler. It is ready and will be filed with the Secretary of State in the near future.

Applications for a club professional have already started coming in. Daws said that a number of applications have been made, several from as far away as New York, Atlanta and Pinehurst.

The course is located in a wooded area much of which was formerly under cultivation. Daws said he didn't realize there were as many hills in Pitt County until he walked over the area for the first time.

People around these parts are proud of their new venture. They know that anything worthwhile requires years of dreaming and hours of hard work.

Now they've got their new golf course and it won't be long before they'll be playing on it. Some of the men responsible for its being will be playing golf for the first time in their lives when the course opens.

... all because they took a little extra time out to transform a dream into a reality.

Moscovites Hail Texas Pianist

MOSCOW (AP) — A young pianist from east Texas brought 1,500 Moscow fans to their feet cheering last night with a dazzling display of technical skill in the piano finals of the Tchaikovsky International Music Festival.

Lanky, 23-year-old Van Cliburn from Kilgore, Tex., received a 10-minute ovation for his rendition of Tchaikovsky's first piano concerto, Rachmaninoff's third and a rondo by Soviet composer Dmitri Kabalevsky, one of the judges who wrote it for the contest.

His sensitive performance in the Rachmaninoff work and the fact he did not falter when a piano string broke at the end of the difficult Kabalevsky piece made him a favorite of the packed crowd.

The curly-haired pianist was roundly applauded as he walked on stage. Moscow music lovers had heard of his technical skill and the American-trained artist had received many offers to make recordings while in Russia.

Cliburn, who now lives in New York was one of the two Americans among the nine finalists in the piano event of the piano-violin festival that has drawn talent from all over Europe.

The other American finalist, Daniel Pollack of Los Angeles, will play the Tchaikovsky and Kabalevsky pieces and a third piece of his choice on Sunday, the last day of the competition. Winners will be announced Monday.

Elmhurst Clinic Set For Tuesday

Prospective first grade students at Elmhurst School who have not yet registered for the 1958-1959 school year should attend a pre-school clinic at the school Tuesday, school officials said today.

The clinic will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. School officials said that parents who attended a pre-school conference a month ago and registered their children at that time will not have to attend Tuesday's clinic. Children who are registered at the clinic should have copies of their birth certificates when they are registered.

Set Pre-School Clinic Tuesday

Fleming Street School's annual pre-school clinic will be held Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. for all children who will enter first grade next September. City school officials said today that parents of children who enter the school next Fall should attend the clinic. They are requested to bring copies of each child's birth certificate, plus proof of any vaccinations the child may have had. Physical examinations for the children will be conducted by Dr. A. A. Best, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Griffith of the Pitt County Health Department.

Booth Planned Only Temporary Job, But

By TOM HENSHAW AP Writer Fifty-two years ago, 18-year-old Charles Brandon Booth took a temporary job as general secretary of the Volunteers of America's Prison League.

"I planned to stay only until they found someone else," he says. But that job lasted 10 years and next month Booth, now 70, due to retire as commander of the whole VOA organization. Gen. Booth was born into his work, even though he wasn't sure at first.

His grandparents, William and Catherine Booth, founded the Salvation Army in the London slums during the last century. His father and mother, Ballington and Maud Booth, broke with the Army over organizational policies and founded the Volunteers of America in 1896.

Ballington Booth commanded the Volunteers from the organization's founding until his death in 1940 at 83. Then Maud Booth became commander. The job passed to her son at her death in 1945. His current Gen. Booth will be the last of the family to hold the post. None of his children — two sons and a daughter — has gone into VOA work. Is he disappointed?

"No. One must have divine guidance to enter the work. The young should never be urged into a particular job or work. They should find their profession on their own bent."

Sons Richard and Weldon are engineers. Daughter Audrey is the Mrs. Arthur E. Ueland of New Hyde Park, N.Y., wife of an importer.

Christian Church Announcements

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Eighth Street Christian Church will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the ladies parlor for the April session of the Fellowship. Mrs. Plato Evans will preside at the business session and Circle No. 9 will have charge of the program which has as its subject "100 Years in Jamaica."

In the year 1858 the Disciples of Christ sent out three missionaries to foreign lands and one of these, J. O. Beardlee, was sent to Jamaica. We are now reviewing a century of work in that land.

As a vital part of the morning worship Sunday the pastor will baptize several candidates just preceding the communion service. The subject of the sermon will be "What Is Religion?" The choir will sing a beautiful number entitled "It Is Well With My Soul" by Bliss.

Chiles No. 1 and 3 will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30: No. 1 with Mrs. M. G. Tucker on Ayden Highway and No. 3 with Mrs. Frank Savage, 206 East 8th St.

The Eighth Street Church will observe the week of May 4-11 as Family Week giving emphasis to the important relationship of the home and the church. In conjunction with this emphasis will be a basket dinner served at the church when the new members who have come into the church in recent months will be brought into a closer relationship with the whole church.

The pastor of the church will be in Richmond some of this coming week with the leaders of the church nationally at which time plans will be made to engage the efforts of the church in the decade after 1960.

CLOCK STRUCK

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The courthouse clock struck at 3:38. Not the hour, the courthouse. Ten metal discs, weighing nearly a ton, crashed from the Knox County courthouse tower into a room 45 feet below. Officials said a cable apparently broke. No one was hurt.

Best Friend To Each Other: Man And Dogs

By RAY KOHN NEW YORK (AP)—Man is a dog's best friend as well as vice versa, as illustrated by court cases involving a three-legged cocker spaniel and two other canines.

At South Charleston, W.Va., Blackie the cocker, who lost a leg when hit by a car, is free on bail provided by his master, Ed Harmon.

Blackie was picked up by a dog catcher a few days ago and carted off to the city pound. The pooch was charged with violating an ordinance against dogs running at large.

Harmon went into court yesterday and contended Blackie was merely following a child to school. He put up $140 bond, and that's not all.

He obtained a court order against Mayor Joseph Londree and the dog catcher, Frank Campbell, against unlawfully holding personal property.

There's a hearing on the case next week. Harmon says he's going to act as the dog's counsel. But if he loses, Harmon says, he'll hire a lawyer and take the case to a higher court.

The court scene shifts to Oakland, Calif., and Municipal Judge Charles Fisher. On April 1, Fisher fined a man $500 and ordered him to pay $30 medical expenses for knocking out a dog's eye with a brick.

The defendant contended he had been troubled by dogs digging up his lawn.

But, said the judge, the defendant "admitted on the stand that this particular small dog was not the culprit . . . and that he had crossed the street and struck the dog in front of its owner's home."

The dog, a 5-year-old cocker-shepherd, also was put on the stand. Said Judge Fisher yesterday: "He was the mildest-mannered, best behaved dog you've ever seen."

In Asheville, N.C., Friday, a part-shepherd dog stood patiently over his tipsy master until police came to take him to court. The dog jumped into the police car and went along.

Police Court Judge Sam Cathey found the master, Roy (Footsie) Ward, guilty of drunkenness for the 156th time, but released Ward in the custody of his pet.

Said Cathey: "You do what the dog tells you to do and you'll stay out of trouble."

Salem College Plans For An Increase In Enrollment

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Salem College plans to provide for an enrollment increase from the present 400 to 525, and to spend two million dollars on new buildings, during the next 10 years.

The college board of trustees yesterday approved the development program presented by Dr. Dale H. Gramley, Salem president. A $900,000 budget was adopted for 1958-59, an increase of nearly $100,000 over the current year's operating budget.

The new budget includes increased salaries for faculty and staff and pay for four new faculty members; increased retirement benefits, and higher general costs required by a larger student body.

Dr. Gramley reported that the student body and faculty increased about one-third in the past three years and has almost doubled in the past 10 years.

He said summer building plans call for a $2,500 ceramics and sculpture studio, additions to the classrooms at Salem Academy. Future needs, he added, will include a new dormitory, an addition to the Science Building, a new Music-Arts Building, Maintenance Building, restoration of South Hall, additions to the infirmary and refectory, a modern language laboratory and landfill of part of the athletic field.

Marshal Of Old West Is Buried

PERKINS, Okla. (AP) — Frank (Pistol Pete) Eaton, who carried 11 notches on his Colt .45 pistol, was buried in Perkins Cemetery yesterday while a cowboy strummed a guitar and sang "Cowboy's Heaven."

Eaton, 97-year-old former deputy U. S. marshal in Indian territory, died here Tuesday.

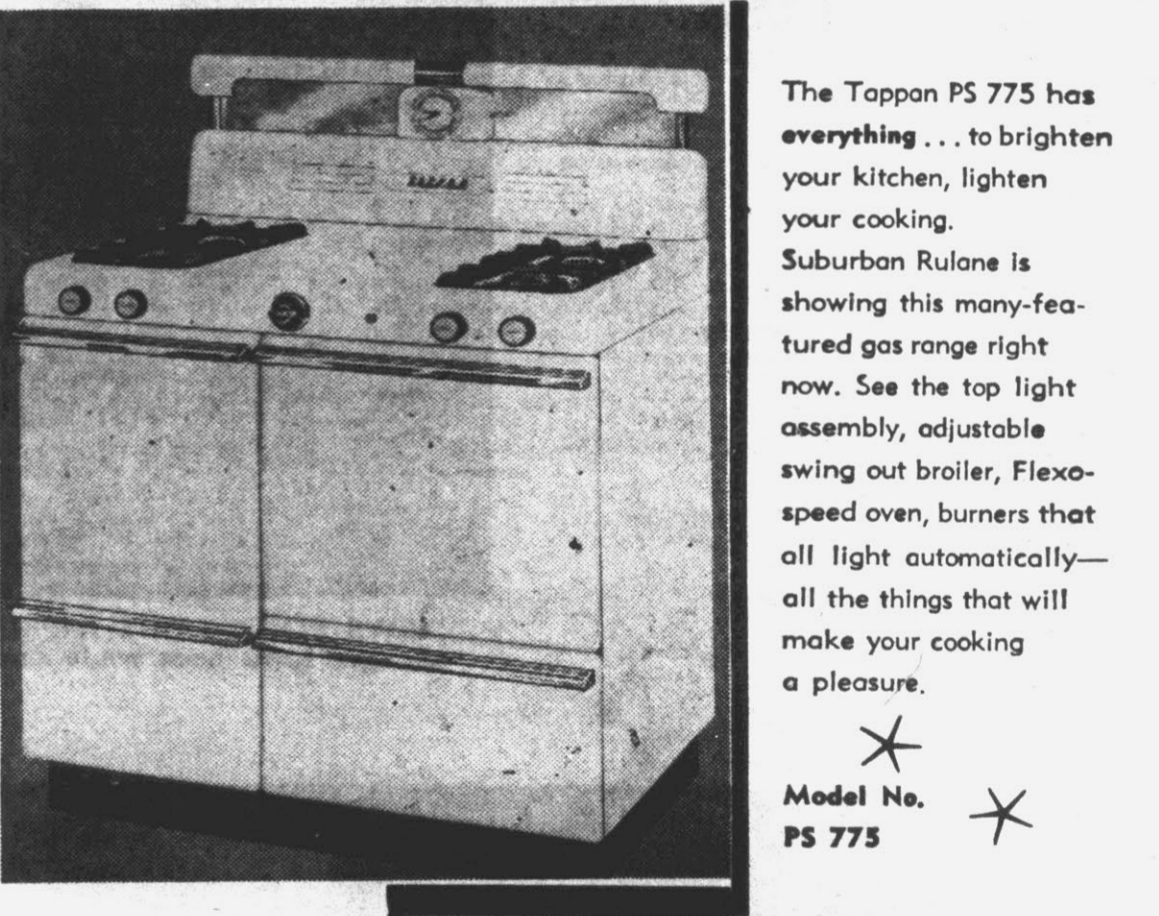

About 1,000 persons attended the funeral.

HUMOR IN BREVITY

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The staff of the Salt Lake Community Nursing Service has little time to fill out reports. A sample of the hurried attempts at brevity: "Woman says she has disease that sounds like arithmetic. I think she means arthritis." Also, "This woman has seven children. Her husband is a veteran."

Birthstone of August is Sardonyx.
