Pitt School Board Begins Budget Talk

Preliminary discussions of 1958-1959 budgets were begun yesterday by the Pitt County Board of Education.

The budgets, including those for the county and the county's school districts, will be completed by the Board of Education prior to presentation to the Pitt County Board of Commissioners.

The board also approved election of Raymond S. Elks to the Grimesland School District Committee, to replace Elbert Mills, whose term expired.

TB Association Declines To Join Pitt United Fund

Directors of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association voted last night not to seek membership in the new Pitt County United Fund.

Officers of the association were re-elected for new terms including President John G. Clark, vice-president Mrs. James Little, secretary Dr. Kathleen Stokes, and treasurer Reginald Gray.

Dr. G. Earl Trevathan, Jr., in a report on the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale, said a total of $9,913.47 was raised through the sale of Christmas Seals and Christmas Seal Bonds.

New Civil Rights Move Is Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A move to start Senate hearings on new civil rights legislation has been nipped in the bud.

Several bills have been introduced to strengthen the Civil Rights Act passed by Congress last year over the bitter opposition of Southern opponents.

Hruska of Nebraska. This position would be in line with the stand taken by the Eisenhower administration in favor of a cooling-off period on civil rights legislation this year.

Chief Of Police At Winterville Resigns Post

WINTERVILLE — Police Chief D. C. Martin has resigned his position on the local force, effective May 5.

Chief Martin submitted a letter of resignation to the Board of Commissioners who held their monthly meeting here last night.

Monthly bills were approved and Town Clerk T. E. Cannon was authorized to pay these expenditures.

Dail Re-Elected To Town Board

WINTERVILLE — Walter Dail was re-elected to a two-year term on the Winterville Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Dail, who was unopposed, received 32 votes, in what was considered one of the lightest turnouts in the town's history.

Asked about these reports, Hagerty said: "Until I know there is a vacancy, I have no comment."

Prizes Prepared For Miss Greenville Winner

Winner of the Miss Greenville Beauty pageant will receive a complete new outfit following the contest Thursday night.

The pageant is being held this year in Austin Auditorium on the college campus. It is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night.

Two runners-up will be named Thursday night and they are each to receive bracelets and a bouquet of flowers.

U. S. Tests CD Work In 'Alert'

Civil Defense Units Across Nation Are Alerted Within 3 Minutes

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Imaginary enemy bombers were sighted over northern Michigan today and the Civil Defense force went into action in an annual training exercise.

The imaginary bombers were reported headed for Syracuse, N. Y., Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn.

Simulated evacuations of the populations of all three cities were ordered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration head, Leo A. Hoegh, from his headquarters at Washington, D.C.

President Eisenhower went to an underground command post in Washington and government workers there took part in building evacuation exercises as part of the alert.

Eisenhower's bomb shelter, its location secret, is equipped for emergency direction of the government. He spent about seven minutes there.

Times Square was cleared of pedestrian traffic before the end of the three-minute take-cover signal. Windows of numerous office buildings were filled by office workers watching what was happening on the streets—exactly the opposite of what they were supposed to do.

Professional and volunteer civil defense workers on the national, state and local levels took part in the fifth annual national training exercise scheduled to begin today and end tomorrow night.

Only Michigan and Indiana did not participate in the exercise. Officials here said, both states have special plans for this week and will conduct separate exercises later.

The show is run in large part from Federal Civil Defense Administration headquarters here, Leo A. Hoegh, FCDA administrator and former Iowa governor, remained at his headquarters in Washington, D.C.

A state appropriation of $30,000 for construction of a mental health activities wing at the Pitt County Health Department has been forwarded to county officials.

The state funds were provided by the 1957 General Assembly with the provision that the county would provide $10,000. The county funds were appropriated by the Board of County Commissioners April 7.

The wing is expected to provide an estimated 2,900 square feet of space for the county's Mental Health Service which is presently housed in quarters on Washington Street. Plans for the construction are being completed by Dudley and Shoe, Greenville architects.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Clouds of grasshoppers—air flight strong enough to set off Air Defense Command alarms—are swarming into the green, irrigated areas of central Arizona.

Dawn to dusk spraying operations are scheduled all week. Pilots expect to spray an estimated 100,000 acres. Next week they'll move to another area.

The insects, moving in from the hot, arid desert where they breed, have destroyed entire cotton fields and have caused extensive damage to alfalfa, wheat and barley crops.

The insects descended on Tucson yesterday, covering the fronts of buildings and flitting about the lights. Sidewalks became so slippery that pedestrians were forced to walk in the roadways away from the bright lights.

NATO Nations Advise Big Three Seek Summit Parley

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Foreign ministers of six NATO nations told the Big Three today to push ahead for a summit conference with the Soviet Union but not to weaken their position for the sake of a big propaganda show.

Several ministers said German reunification must be raised at any summit conference.

This, Lloyd suggested, indicated Moscow might be starting to back away from a summit conference in fear of having to face similar choices between mere talk and approving specific inspection or disarmament plans.

A new West Germany demand that any summit conference consider German reunification. The Soviet Union insists that the question should be worked out between West Germany and the Communist East German regime, which Bonn refuses to recognize on a ground it is illegal and unrepresentative.

One by one, the foreign ministers at their North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference suggested that the United States, Britain and France continue their efforts to find out what the Soviet Union wants to talk about at a summit conference.

Discussions indicate the ministers have all but adopted the theory of Secretary of State Dulles that the North Atlantic Treaty nations must not rush into a summit meeting at any price.

Dulles apparently convinced the Allies that the Soviet demand could be a trap to win new prestige for the satellite regimes, furthering their freezing their cold war status.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told the other ministers, "The German question must under any circumstances be discussed at a summit conference. The security of Europe cannot be achieved so long as it must hinge on continued division of Germany."

They said the West should enter the top-level talks only if the preliminary negotiations show a chance of easing world tensions, a chance of easing world tensions.

Speaking at the session were the ministers of Italy, Denmark, Canada, Norway, Portugal and Belgium.

They questioned whether the Kremlin really wants a meaningful conference.

His statement to a closed meeting was later released to deny reports from Bonn implying that Germany would agree to hold off on its reunification demands if prospects were good for some sort of disarmament agreement.

Commissioners Hear Seven Ask Tax Adjustment

Requests for adjustments in seven tax assessments were received for consideration yesterday by the Pitt County Board of Equalization and Review.

Small Streams Rise, Some Flash Floods Are Reported

RALEIGH (AP)—Small streams rose quickly in flash floods over Central and Eastern North Carolina today. However, the bigger rivers rose more slowly in the wake of heavy rains that dumped up to four inches of rain on some spots in four hours.

Rainfall amounts included 7.7 inches in Raleigh, 4 inches at Butler, 3.56 at Henderson and 2.91 at Neuse.

Cape Fear unless heavy rains should fall on the river's basin today.

The requests, some of which were given final approval, were received from V. S. Harrington of Greenville, Clyde Cannon of Ayden, Earl T. Pilgreen of Greenville, David A. Evans and Margaret Ann Evans of Greenville, A. F. Cargile of Greenville, Mrs. Ralph Worthington of Ayden, and Mrs. Eleanor Gower of Grifton.

The Tar had reached 6 feet, 3 under bankful, at Rocky Mount this morning, and a crest near bankful was forecast for Thursday. A crest slightly above the bankful level of 19 feet was predicted for Tarboro about Saturday.

The Dan at Danville, Va., was expected to crest near its bankful stage of 11 feet tonight or Wednesday. At Alta Vista, Va., the Roanoke had risen to 15 feet, 3 under bankful, and was expected to crest at about 21 feet tonight. At Randolph, Va., a crest of 24 feet over bankful, was expected Wednesday night. The Weather Bureau said stages on the lower Roanoke are likely to be maintained near bankful for the next several days, subject to the amount of water released at the Kerr Dam.

Kremlin Intending To Include Others

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union prodded the West today to speed arrangements for a presumptive foreign ministers conference, but the Kremlin indicated it would stick to its demand that more Communist governments sit in eventually.

He said that his government considered that the Western acceptance of the Soviet alternative—that he hold separate negotiations with the Western envoys—"in no way predetermines the composition of the future foreign ministers' meeting and summit conference."

Re-Elected By A 4-Vote Margin

While sitting as the Board of County Commissioners, the five men approved the county's new schedule of taxes, approved four requests for malt beverage sales licenses, approved a jury list and a road petition, and agreed to continue the county's emergency relief program until June.

He would press for more Communist representatives at a foreign ministers' conference to give the Soviet bloc parity with the West, a principle the West refused to accept.

GRIFTON — Mayor W. H. Gower was re-elected to his fourth term of office yesterday, defeating J. I. Jackson by the narrow margin of four votes.

Applications for the malt beverage sales licenses were approved for Lester Amos Smith, Route 5, Greenville; Edward Randolph Fleming, 907 Colonial Avenue, Greenville; Charles Clifton Fennell, Rocky Mount; and Tommy Alver Bowen, Route 1, Ayden. The applications are for on-premises sales of malt beverages.

Gromyko told the Western Big Three in a note made public last night that he will continue negotiations with their ambassadors aimed at a ministers' parley which in turn would arrange a meeting of government heads to seek ways of easing world tensions.

The race is considered to be one of the tightest for any single municipal office here in years. Gower received 210 votes to 206 for Jackson, a Grifton merchant.

Light Voting In Ayden Election

AYDEN — Two seats on the town's Board of Aldermen were tied in a relatively light voting turnout for yesterday's elections here.

Gromyko conceded — as in previous notes to the Big Three — that the Soviet Union does "not exclude the possibility of an exchange of opinion on some summit agenda points. But he stressed again that the envoys in their talks with him should give their first attention to setting the time place and composition of the ministers' meeting."

By W. M. January, a newcomer in local politics, with 227 votes and Wilbur Murphy, 225 votes. Murphy, seeking re-election to the Board, easily defeated newcomer

Grasshoppers In Massive Swarm

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Clouds of grasshoppers—air flight strong enough to set off Air Defense Command alarms—are swarming into the green, irrigated areas of central Arizona.

There was no indication when Gromyko would get down to real business with the Western ambassadors. Llewellyn E. Thompson of the United States, who conferred with Gromyko about 30 minutes after receiving the note, told newsmen the situation remained unchanged.

W. H. GOWER ... Grifton Mayor

In Ward Two, incumbent Robert Harris defeated Eugene Smith 333 votes to 245.

Carrying out previous plans, Thompson left Moscow for a conference in Paris of U.S. envoys in Europe. He flew first to Copenhagen to discuss the Moscow developments with Secretary of State Dulles, attending the NATO foreign ministers meeting there.

S.C. Woman Named Today As 'American Mother Of 1958'

NEW YORK (AP)—May Roper Coker of Hartsville, S.C., was named today as the "American Mother of 1958."

She developed a large and neglected tract of woodland in the now famous Kalmia Gardens. She has been honored by the Garden Clubs of America, by her state and by her community.

Committee said in part: "She held classes of the farm for mill hands and inspired them to beautify and improve their homes and taught them how to raise flowers and vegetables in their gardens."

Mrs. Coker, 68, is the daughter of a onetime Cabinet member, and the widow of a noted leader in scientific farming.

After graduation from Randolph-Macon College in Virginia, she was superintendent of girls' playground work in the District of Columbia.

"Though her children are now grown, she never stops being a mother. She extends her help to all around her, opening her doors and bringing into her home to share it with her, the sick, the crippled and poor. Lonely foreign students are welcome at all times."

In addition to other qualifications, Mrs. Coker was cited as a consecrated and tireless worker and leader in promoting programs for improving race relations.

On May 11, she and Mrs. George P. Abel Sr., the American Mother of 1957, will leave for Europe to see the Brussels fair, meet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, and then go to France to attend functions planned by the French Mothers Committee.

Mrs. Coker was listed as a leader in business life and projects of Hartsville, a trustee of Byerly Hospital, member of the South Carolina Coordinating Council for Education, a trustee of Coker College, recipient of a Distinguished Service to Agriculture award from Clemson College and an ardent church worker.

On May 11, she and Mrs. George P. Abel Sr., the American Mother of 1957, will leave for Europe to see the Brussels fair, meet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, and then go to France to attend functions planned by the French Mothers Committee.

Sidewalk Show Thursday

Sidewalk Show Demands Lots Of Hands

The hammering which will be heard outside Sheppard Memorial Library tomorrow afternoon will not be a new building's erection, but the Sidewalk Art Show Grounds Committee preparing supporting walls for the large exhibit of paintings to be displayed at Thursday's fourth annual show.

The Grounds Committee, composed of Claude Taylor, Mrs. R. V. Keel, Mrs. John Behr, and Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell, have already measured the area and decided on the type of temporary walls they will be erecting.

Each year a different lumber company loans the materials to the committee. This year the Garris-Evans Lumber Company is donating the materials which they will bring to the site tomorrow and pick up Friday.

The annual Sidewalk Show plans originate months before

According to records kept in the County Agent's office, the directors of the Board of Agriculture shipped more poultry this year than any previous year. With other shipments to follow they have now shipped 59,565 pounds which has distributed $11,938.71 among some 400 farmers. In addition to the above sales more than 4000 baby chicks were put on feed and have sold for 45 cents and 50 cents per pound. Interest in poultry is on the increase in Pitt County and plans are now being made to ship 100,000 pounds next year.

Youth Meet Held In Robersonville

ROBERSONVILLE—The quarterly Albemarle District Youth Meeting was held in the First Christian Church, Robersonville, Sunday afternoon.

The meeting was for the boys and girls in the Intermediate and Senior Departments of the Sunday school and for those in the Chi Rho and Christian Youth Fellowships.

Goodwin Moore of Washington was the adult advisor for the district.

The ladies of the church served supper in the dining room of the Fellowship Hall.

Sisters Hostesses At Stork Shower

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Myrtle Harrison Coltrane was honored Wednesday night at a stork shower given by her sisters, Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. Harry Lee Rogerson at the home of Mrs. Thompson.

Pink and blue crepe paper and pink rooms were used to decorate the rooms and the high chair for the baby.

The guest of honor was presented a carnation corsage with tiny dolls and small safety pins dangling from the shower of satin ribbon.

Chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, salted peanuts, cookies and soft drinks were served to the 65 callers.

EASY DOES IT

To keep the front and back of no iron dresses and skirts from clinging together when drying, fold a large bath towel over the clothes hanger before putting the garment on it. This hangs between the folds of the garment and prevents the clinging.

After you have turned a cake out on a cooling rack, place another cooling rack over the bottom of the cake and invert cake again on rack to have top side up.

Flowers Lend Note Of Spring To Lector Meet

On Tuesday when Mrs. Howard Waldrop entertained members of the Lector Book Club, dogwood, lilacs, spirea and tulips lent a note of spring throughout the house.

After refreshments of pie and coffee, the president, Mrs. Hugh Winslow welcomed Mrs. W. C. Gurganus, Mrs. Jack Moye Jr., and Mrs. A. B. McKel, guests for the afternoon. She then turned the program over to Mrs. Waldrop, program leader.

Mrs. Waldrop introduced her guest speaker, Mrs. William Clyde Gurganus. Mrs. Gurganus gave a program on her favorite hobby and business, "Hats." She pointed out that women should buy hats becoming to their particular shaped face, hair style, etc., not just because a hat is stylish.

Mrs. Gurganus discussed many ways of trimming hats. She displayed hats of various shapes and sizes she had trimmed in various fabrics. Mrs. Gurganus orders the frames and trim from New York and then originally takes over. She demonstrated how colorful bands, flowers, pins and even clip earrings placed on a hat can change the hat for the outfit being worn.

Many questions were asked and some hats modeled by members. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Winslow presided over a brief business meeting. The chairman of the Program Committee, Mrs. Holly VanDyke, presented a list of subjects for next year for members to select.

Mrs. Curry Hostess For Dessert Bridge

AYDEN—On Thursday evening Mrs. W. R. Curry was hostess at dessert bridge at her home on Montague Avenue.

Floral arrangements of roses and iris were used in decorating the living room where contract bridge was played at four tables.

Potted azaleas were given as prizes and won by Mrs. T. G. Worthington, top scorer, and Mrs. J. W. Crawley, consolation.

During the game an assortment of snack and tomato juice were served from the dining table which had for its centerpiece a gaily decorated Maypole. Each guest was given gladiolus bulbs for favors.

ECC Seniors Recitals Planned

Three students of music at East Carolina College are scheduled to appear in their graduating recitals this week.

Barbara Harris of Beaufort, Stephen Parish of Ayden, and James Piver of Greenville, all of whom are studying voice under Paul Hickfang of the faculty, will appear in programs sponsored by the college department of music.

Miss Harris, soprano, and Parish, baritone, will give a joint "honors" recital May 7 at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis auditorium. Both had leading roles in the recent production of "Carousel" on the campus and have sung on many programs given at the college and in Greenville.

This year Miss Harris was soloist with the East Carolina College Orchestra, and last year Parish was soloist in the campus production of Handel's "The Messiah."

Their program for Wednesday will include Di Provenza II Mar from Verdi's La Traviata sung by Parish, O Mio Fernando from La Favorita by Donizetti, sung by Miss Harris, and several groups of songs of varied types sung by each of the two senior vocalists.

Piver, a tenor, will appear in recital Thursday at 3 p.m. in the Austin auditorium. He has been a member of the college band and choir and recently sang a leading role in a production by the Opera Theater of the college.

Piver's numbers for Thursday will include selections in Italian, German and English. Among selections on his program will be La Dolcissima Effigie from the opera Adrianna Lecouvreur and songs by Barber and Quilter.

Delphian Club Bridge Luncheon To Be At Country Club May 13

The Entertainment Committee of the Delphian Book Club announced at last Tuesday's meeting held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Paschal that a bridge luncheon would be held at the Country Club May 13.

Mrs. J. B. Spilman Sr., guest speaker, chose for her subject "Mental Health."

She stated, "One out of every ten people is, or will be, in a mental institution and the only way to reduce this number is for each of us to know and recognize emotional and other symptoms early and to be treated at a clinic before mental illness develops."

"The N. C. Mental Health Association distributes informative information which may be obtained by writing to the Association," she pointed out.

Mrs. Spilman added, "North Carolina has two mental health clinics—one in Greenville and one in Elizabeth City. We need many more."

Mrs. Spilman, N. C. director of the Mental Health Association, was introduced by Mrs. Paschal. Mrs. Spilman will be one of three directors in the nation to attend the National Mental Health Association meeting.

The hostess introduced the following guests: Mrs. Jim Clark, Mrs. Marshall Henson, Mrs. Courtney Youngblood, Mrs. J. B. Spilman Jr., Mrs. Jimmy Wells and Mrs. Rachel C. Rook.

Members and guests were invited into the dining room on arrival where punch, sandwiches, nuts, and mints were served from an appointed table. Arrangements of azaleas and numerous spring flowers were used in the Paschal living room.

Pitt County HD Program Keeps In Step With Progress

By MRS. LILLIE LITTLE
Pitt Co. Home Demonstration Agent
"Grandma needed to know a lot of skills, how to make soap and hominy, how to knit, and spin, and weave."
Today's homemaker wants to make her own decisions, but she wants facts to back them up—facts about a new electric stove she wants to buy; facts about synthetics; facts on cleaning agents, wall ovens, frozen foods, ready-made mixes; how to keep her family well and happy; and 101 other things she is interested in.

As the years have passed, we have acquired good schools, good roads, a better government and the farmer's wife has progressed with the times. Therefore, the Home Demonstration Program has to be a varied and flexible one to meet the needs and challenge of the years.
The rural homemaker today looks no different from her city cousins and enjoys the same modern conveniences.

County Needs Vary
Just as each family varies some in the phases of family living that need special emphasis, so does each county vary some in its particular needs.
Our Home Demonstration Program in Pitt County is carefully planned to fit our own situation as our own club women see and feel their needs exist.
To meet these needs, in part, a special demonstration is the backbone of every Home Demonstration meeting. A look at this year's list of demonstrations will reveal the variety of interests of our homemakers.

Demonstrations Through Years
January, The Home Business Center; February, The Pitt County Progress Program; March, Care and Use of the Sewing Machine; April, Dress for the Occasion; May, Green Vegetables for Good Eating; June, Ice Cream In Many Ways; July, Family Recreation; August, Mind Your Money Matters; September, Accessories for the Home; October, Using a Variety of Cuts of Meats; November, Discipline Wise or Otherwise; December, Take Time to Live.
Clubs Meet Monthly
Each of our 21 Home Demonstration Clubs has its own officers with an appointed leader in each of the major phases of homemaking. Each meets once each month with a program planned around the demonstration of the day.

There is always time for devotions, a place for music, a short recreational period and a social hour. Each club has its own special interests and projects, thereby making it different from its sister clubs.
Thus our Home Demonstration program is one with unity of purpose at the same time providing for the variety of needs and interests of the homemakers of Pitt County.

More Delays Mean More Waste

Above the din of opposition to the President proposal for reorganization and unification of the nation's military, there have come a few strong voices in support of the proposals.

The latest of these is that of Gen. Bradley, commander of the 12th Army Corps in World War II and the first chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In his testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, Gen. Bradley voiced his support of the Eisenhower proposals for a greater degree of unification between the armed forces. The responsible role Gen. Bradley has played in the nation's military adds considerable strength to his testimony.

There can be no doubt that forces in Congress and outside Congress which oppose the unification proposals still have the edge. At the same time it seems that there is throughout the country growing support for unification proposals made by the President.

Whether the pressure groups of various branches of military service will be able to carry their point and prevent further unification remains to be seen.

There is one thing sure. The longer the United States delays in achieving some reasonable degree of unification among its armed forces, the greater burden upon the taxpayers our military establishment will be. The longer the military continues under the present concept, the more confusing the situation will become if these units have to be called on in emergencies. Rivalries between the military services will continue to mount rather than dissipate.

Americans always have been wary of a military organization that was too centralized . . . one that placed too much power in the hands of a few men.

New Legislature Has Experience

By LYNN NISBET
EXPERIENCED — The 1959 General Assembly will have on its first day an unusually high number of members with prior legislative experience. Rotation agreements and voluntary retirements will knock off about half of last session's Senators from returning next time. A large number of men who had served in either the House or Senate in former years are seeking election in the 1959 body.

A total of 95 candidates, 73 Democrats and 22 Republicans, have filed for the 50 seats in the Senate. It is fairly certain that among the 50 elected there will be at least 35 with prior experience — 34 Democrats and one Republican. This forecast is based on the number of candidates without opposition in the primary, plus the number that are rated better than even odds to win over opposition both in May and November.

There are 263 candidates, 199 Democrats and 64 Republicans, seeking the 120 seats in the House of Representatives. Applying the same criteria used on Senate candidates to the House, it appears certain that a minimum of 94 out of the 120 Representatives (87 Democrats and 7 Republicans) will have had prior experience.

There isn't much hazard in predicting experienced winners in contests, because in so many instances three or more candidates are running for one seat — and all of them have served before.

Of six women filers for the Legislature only one is rated any chance to win. Mrs. Grace Taylor Rodenberry will be back for a fourth time as representative of Stokes county. One other Democrat and three Republican women are in House races and one for the Senate.

Nelson H. Harris, one of seven Democratic candidates for Wake county's three seats in the House, is a Negro. The records do not show race or sex (except as names indicate sex), but it is understood that there are two or three other Negro candidates for the Legislature — and several for other offices, mainly County Boards of Education.

IMPACT — What the impact or influence of this high number of experienced men in the next Legislature will be can only be surmised. With three out of every four members knowing at the start something about legislative maneuvering and procedure, many of them have already expressed opinion by votes on basic policy. It will be difficult for crusaders and advocates of change solely for the sake of change to get their ideas accepted.

Chances are that the 1959 General Assembly will be less susceptible to lobbying influences than any in recent years — whether that lobbying effort stems from the executive and judicial branches of State government, from special service agencies and institutions, or from private enterprise.

Not only will the next Legislature have a larger than usual percentage of seasoned members, it will be the last regular session in the administration of Governor Hodges. He is the only Governor in this century to have three regular sessions of the General Assembly during his tenure of office. In natural course of events his influence will be less next time than in either of the other two.

A weakened offensive position considered along with strengthened resistance because of experience, may well make the Governor's job harder next spring than at any time since he took office.

SCHOOLS — Allotment of teachers, allocation of instructional and maintenance funds for the conduct of the public schools, and other school expense money is based on enrollment or average daily attendance of pupils. Exception of this general rule is in the distribution of capital outlay for buildings and equipments. That is based on need.

The question has arisen in a number of counties with separate city administrative units. Latest instance was in Alamance where differences of opinion developed over the proportion of school building funds for the county units and the Burlington city schools.

In response to an inquiry from C. L. Linnemann, Alamance county superintendent, Claude Love, assistant attorney general, wrote:

"The writer worked closely with the commission which rewrote the School Law in 1955. It is the view of this office that the Legislature intended that capital outlay funds for new construction not be apportioned between and among the various administrative units of a county according to any fixed formula but that each unit make its budget on the basis of need and present it to the County Commissioners. The County Commissioners will then study the needs of the county as a whole and approve or disapprove the various items in the budgets of each unit, in the exercise of their sound discretion."

Notwithstanding this feeling, this nation must streamline its military units to meet the modern times in which we live.

The President's proposals for further unification will provide this streamlining to afford the nation a better defense in time of emergency. The proposal also contains sufficient practical safeguards to prevent the possibility of a military dictatorship now or in the future.

That Senate Seat Was Not Scott Property

Few things outside a major campaign have stirred up as much political controversy in North Carolina as the appointment of B. Everette Jordan to the Senate succeeding the late Sen. W. Kerr Scott.

There are still people who insist that Sen. Jordan is a "seatwarmer" for Gov. Hodges in spite of the Senator's assertions he intends to seek a full term in his new post come 1960. There are those who are still indignant over the appointment to the post left vacant by Sen. Scott's death a man whom Kerr Scott would not have appointed.

The controversy is sure to continue until the Democratic Executive Committee of North Carolina names the party's candidate to fill the Senate post for the next two years. Without a doubt, the committee will name Jordan.

It is quite probable the matter of Sen. Scott's successor will also be made a major issue in the 1960 gubernatorial and senatorial campaigns.

Whether or not the matter is applicable to the offices then at stake, only the voters can decide.

North Carolinians should not lose sight of the fact that no matter how great or how beloved a political leader is, the post or posts he occupies do not belong to him individually. They belong to the people.

When Kerr Scott ran for governor and when he ran for the Senate he won the offices by impressive margins. But when he tried to convince the voters of North Carolina to elect the man he had appointed to the Senate, he failed. He also was unsuccessful in seeking to persuade the voters of North Carolina to elect to the office of governor the man he wanted to succeed him.

W. Kerr Scott was one of the foremost advocates of the voters speaking their piece at the polls. He clearly recognized that only when the votes are counted can the will of people be known. Though decisions of the voters at times disturbed and distressed him, W. Kerr Scott always respected their choice.

New Labor Law Unlikely In '58

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Any talk of a new, broad labor law this year looks like plain windjamming. There can be no law unless both houses of Congress act. The Senate may. It's doubtful the House will.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, pressured by Republicans to get the bill rolling, promised Senate action. He wouldn't predict the same for the House. There's no sign the House intends to do anything at all.

Nevertheless, the talk has begun and will last for weeks. The Senate Labor subcommittee begins hearings on a whole hodgepodge of proposals of curbing unions, in some cases curbing employers, and amending the Taft-Hartley Act.

This subcommittee won't have time for a thorough examination of all the proposals thrown at it, because it's supposed to finish its hearings and present a bill to the full Senate for action sometime by mid-June.

The result: probably a mild bill. Once it's called up for debate, amendments can be offered from the floor. So the debate should last for weeks. Then by July 1 or later the Senate probably will approve some kind of measure.

Then it's up to the House to act. But time is an important element here. And time is running out. The members of Congress are anxious to get home by mid-August to campaign for the November elections.

The House can't act until its Labor Committee holds hearings to consider labor legislation. If it should be starting on its hearings no later than now.

To start them after the Senate finishes — perhaps some time before adjournment that the committee couldn't possibly do a serious or thorough job.

That's why Secretary of Labor Mitchell suggested House hearings should be getting under way now.

There wasn't any indication the Senate intended to act, either, until recently when Johnson called up a Democratic bill to protect employees' pension and welfare funds.

Then Sen. William F. Knowland of California, Republican Senate leader, tried to tack on a whole mob of amendments that had nothing to do with pension-welfare funds. So did the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson and other Democratic Senate leaders faced the prospect of having no pension-welfare bill at all or having it massacred under a load of amendments that actually covered the whole broad field of labor legislation.

There had been hearings on the pension-welfare bill but none on the proposed amendments, Johnson promised action on a board labor bill — with hearings — if the pension-welfare measure was spared: It passed intact, and the amendments were killed.

Then it was up to Johnson and his Democrats to make good on their promises. Hence, the hearings that start today on all kinds of proposed labor legislation.

But the House hasn't even scheduled hearings yet on the Senate-passed pension-welfare bill. It may do that. And the full House before adjournment may go along with the Senate in approving a law on pension-welfare funds.

But that's about as far as it seems ready to go in 1958. That means everything connected with broad labor legislation has to start all over again next year.

Male Eclipse Ended

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Hall to the American male!
After a long eclipse, he is again getting some recognition and attention. Again there is some advantage in being a man in this country.

Mister, haven't you noticed lately the way the womenfolk seem to appreciate you more? For a whole generation, except for World War II when he was found useful for carrying a gun, the American male has been low-rated, both here and abroad. Abroad, he was looked down upon as a henpecked, defrocked rooster, who spoiled his women and his children and let them both run over him. As a lover boy, the international set ranked him zero.

In his homeland the attitude wasn't much better. A man became something women took for granted, something they at first demanded equal rights from, then gradually began to feel superior to.

Women took over men's haircuts, their slacks, jobs, sports, politics, their vocabulary — even their razors. The only place a husband felt himself an equal partner in the home was at the kitchen sink — at dishwashing time.

America became a world in which women did most of the talking, most of the dominating, most of the spending.

But, in the midst of their heady power, women made a startling discovery — they also were doing most of the burying. Man, like a sensitive flower deprived of its sun, was dying off.

The American male seemed to be going the way of the whooping crane. He may yet.

But U. S. women, alarmed by the disclosure that they outnumber U. S. men by two million, appear to be trying to reverse this trend. They are belatedly attempting to save the weaker sex from extinction.

They are listening to themselves in a world without men appeals. And the American male, single or married, is reaping wondrous benefits. He is being courted and pampered in a way he does not remember.

"I know half a dozen fine young girls under 25 who want to get married, and have come to me for help," said a matron. "But where are the bachelors? I don't know a one to introduce them to."

A smart boy used to have to sell magazines to get through college. Now, if he is smart, he can pick and choose between any number of girls, sound of wind and tooth, more than eager to marry him and work his way through school for him.

Why also now realize that, if they want their husbands to survive, they'd better not try to work them to death, around the house as well as in the office. In the suburbs you see more and more wives steering the power mower over the lawn while the old man sits on the front porch, sipping a long cool drink.

Yep, boys, it's the new heyday of the American male. Women are taking better care of us. The reason behind it may be a bit hard on our vanity — the fact they've found we're delicate and perishable and must be handled with care — but so what?

If we can't be looked up to, well — it's still nice to be looked after.

When I asked one lady why she came, she said, "I came to see if your young girl can cook! I know I can."

Without exception I have never seen women have such a good time. Before the school they would stand around talking and looking at the latest home appliances. For approximately an hour and one-half they would sit patiently listening to someone else talk and then get up and start talking again. A few just remained in their seats after the school was over and talked.

If you think you've seen it all, you haven't until you attend one session of a cooking school!

In less than 12 hours a barren field, save a few blades of grass, was transferred into a sea of tents, flags and people near here last Friday.

The Boy Scout Camporee, after 10 years, finally found its way back here, where it all began 25 years ago. It was a triumphant return.

Two Pleasant Occasions

Amid the smoking pots and pans and lighted monologues, the women sat patiently in their seats . . . at the cooking school here last week.

As I stood there in the armory listening to the latest methods of cooking I asked myself why did all these women leave the confines of their homes to attend this special event. Possibly many felt that something new on the table like an Apple Crisp Delight or Lamb patties might woo back that husband whose appetite has shrunk during the past few weeks. Others might feel the best way to catch a man is through his stomach while still more probably came just to learn something new and different.

When I asked one lady why she came, she said, "I came to see if your young girl can cook! I know I can."

THERE STILL CAN BE HOPE

Just before the battle of Yorktown, Washington was consulting with Governor Nelson, of the State of Virginia, about certain procedure in the matter of attack. "Where," he asked Governor Nelson, "do you think we should direct our first artillery fire?"

Nelson pointed to a stately mansion. "Direct your fire there," he said. "It is my home, the best in town, and I am sure that Cornwallis and many of his officers will be making themselves comfortable there."

So the bombardment began as Governor Nelson advised. Throughout the remainder of his life, Washington held Thomas

There has always been a great deal of amusement on the part of historians over the pompous ways and the ridiculous egotism of John Hancock, president of the Congress which adopted the Declaration of Independence and a governor of Massachusetts for a number of terms. But when Washington was besieging Boston, Hancock repeatedly urged Washington to put the torch to the town and thus compel the British to take to their ships, although this same John Hancock himself owned more than half the city of Boston.

Sometimes it appears that humanity is pretty bad. Sometimes — but then, again, not too bad after all.

Other Editors Saying--- Hodges And Briefcase

(Henderson Dispatch)

Sales promotion for a State ought to pay off as handsomely as that by the "drumme" for a particular private business.

Much depends upon the salesman in both instances. Many a man with personality and knowledge has made powerful contribution toward putting his company on the map and has himself gone on from there to the top of the ladder of success.

North Carolina has no more capable or impressive trumpeter today than Governor Hodges. In the four years he has held office he has demonstrated that capacity in countless ways, and has just concluded a pleasant and very probably profitable selling mission in Chicago.

Last year the Governor and his staff spent several days in New York on a similar jaunt. In both instances the group met with industrial leaders and peddled their wares, telling the story of the fabulous advantages North Carolina has to offer the prospector in various fields of activity and development.

It is not always easy to pinpoint direct and immediate results of such efforts. The seed is sown, the soil is cultivated, and then the harvest. Hodges may not bring back any new plants in his pocket, but the message he and his assistants delivered has left countless leaders thinking and pondering a possible future in this State.

Go-getters in private business are the people who prosper. Prospects cannot fail to be impressed by the interest shown by those who call on them to market their wares. The first visit may not land the order, but persistence of the proper character oftener than otherwise does. The same rule applies for States, and results of the visits to New York and Chicago, great industrial and sales centers, will ultimately become concrete in form and to the benefit of North Carolina.

We have much here to offer the outsider. Many already have learned that, and are reaping the rewards of decisions to locate plants in the State. Once the trend is established, the selling job thereafter becomes easier. North Carolina can present its nationally advertised commodities, and people are more favorably inclined to accept known products. There also is psychology in climbing aboard the band wagon, in business the same as in politics.

In Governor Hodges the State has a chief executive who knows and speaks the language of industrialists. He has been one himself and knows his way around among such people. They welcome him and listen to him. They have confidence in what he tells them. Moreover, he is quite familiar with the wares he has to sell, namely, North Carolina opportunities.

Hodges with his briefcase has established the contacts. He has broken the ice, and has acquainted leaders of big business with what his State — our State — can give the manufacturer in the way of climate, qualified labor, shipping facilities, unexcelled environment, and even a market for his products.

There will be a lot of disappointment and many red faces if this sales talk fails to get results. It may not be tomorrow or next week, but the trek ultimately will become noticeable. The Governor is doing a remarkable service in the contacts he has made and is making. He may well go down in history as the State's outstanding industrial chief executive.

Babcock Seeks An Airplane For Mapping Survey

RALEIGH (AP)—Highway Director W. F. Babcock has proposed that the State Highway Commission buy an airplane and do its own aerial mapping survey. Babcock outlined his proposal to the commission, which authorized him to explore it further. He will determine whether surplus government planes suitable for doing the aerial mapping work are still available. The price of one of the planes was estimated at from $10,000 to $30,000.

During last fiscal year, Babcock said, the Highway Commission contracted with private firms for aerial surveys at a cost of $2,500. Babcock told the commission that most highway departments are moving toward the use of more aerial surveys. He estimated it would cost from $200,000 to $250,000 to set up a photogrammetry section in the department. A staff of 15 to 20 persons with a payroll of about $75,000 would be required to man it, he added.

Babcock also proposed that new signs, which would tell travelers they are entering North Carolina, be erected at four of the state's major highway entrances. This was deferred by the commission until its June meeting.

Babcock recommended that the signs be placed on U.S. 17 and on U.S. 29 at the Virginia line, on U.S. 441 at the Georgia line and on U.S. 1 at the South Carolina line. The signs would carry the slogan, "In North Carolina everything is on the move."

In another action yesterday, the commission declined to provide an underpass at New Bern to solve a problem created by plans of the Tryon Palace Commission to close a portion of Front Street there. The commission said this is a problem for the city of New Bern and the Tryon Palace Commission to solve.

In turning down New Bern's request, the commission politely told the city officials it would consider further proposals to help the city work out traffic problems in connection with the palace reconstruction.

Teacher Favors Banning Time, Life Magazines

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of a classroom teachers union today described proposals to ban Time and Life magazines from high schools as contrary to the right to learn and evaluate.

The National Assn. of Secondary School Principals recommended the ban because of a recent series of Life articles on American education. The association called the series irresponsible.

Carl J. Megel of Chicago, president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers, issued a statement in behalf of the union's Executive Council which said: "The American Federation of Teachers does not necessarily agree with the portrayal of American education expressed by Life and Time. However, there has never been a time when public education and those responsible for it, were in greater need of critical analysis and evaluation. A matter of so much public concern cannot be judged by the public without complete information and discussion."

GIRL HELD IN KIDNAPING—Sixteen-year-old Dorothy Louise Decker from Reno, Nev., is booked in jail at Gold Beach, Ore., after police killed her boy friend, Henry Thomas Hill, in a gun fight. The battle broke out at a roadblock where officers stopped an automobile carrying four young men who had been kidnapped and held as hostages. The Decker girl was accused by police of helping Hill kidnap the four youths and also a policeman. (AP Wirephoto)

Hospital Wedding Had Everything On The List

MOUNT AIRY, N. C. (AP)—Check list for a wedding: Hospital bed for the bride, wheel chair for the groom, champagne, wedding cake, minister and guests.

They were all here yesterday as Barbara Foley, 23, and Emil Tengea, 26, became man and wife in Northern Surry Hospital. The Akron, Ohio, couple—injured last week when their private plane crashed—smiled and kissed as 20 nurses, doctors and visitors looked on.

Honeymoon? At least a month in the hospital while Mrs. Tengea recovers from a broken pelvis and fractured back.

Tengea, almost recovered from head injuries, managed to stand long enough to kiss the bride, cut the wedding cake and pop open a champagne bottle.

Mount Airy citizens played Cupid to the happy couple and helped arrange the ceremony. Barbara commented: "I just love the South and this must be true Southern hospitality."

The ceremony went off with a few departures. The bride, in white hospital gown with corsage of yellow roses was rolled down the aisle under escort of nurses.

Then came the bridegroom in his wheel chair, decked out in his own sports shirt and clothing hurriedly borrowed with the help of a local tailor.

Tengea is chief engineer for the Akron Standard Mould Co. His wife is an interviewer of brides for an Ohio television station.

They were en route from Atlanta, Ga., to Akron last week when their four-engine passenger plane crashed near Meadows of Dan, Va. With them were Tengea's 15-year-old brother Ronnie and his daughter by a previous marriage, Judy, 16. Both youngsters escaped serious injury.

Other than aircraft, jet engines have many other uses. England has been using them to clear snow from the streets, and mud from the Thames River.

Author Jas. Cabell Dies In Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—James Branch Cabell, a quiet Virginia aristocrat who became a stormy petrel of American letters with his sophisticated novels of disillusion and escape, died here last night at 79.

A cerebral hemorrhage suffered Sunday afternoon claimed the life of the author of "Jurgin" after a writing career that had spanned more than half a century.

For Cabell, writing was "pure pleasure seeking." His desire was "to write perfectly of beautiful happenings."

Critics disagreed violently on how well he succeeded. To such as D. H. Moseley, Cabell's ironic novels, preoccupied with sex were "the tiresome swan song of that generation which had as its primary purpose in writing the blasting of tradition and the exhibition of its own shallow cleverness."

Yet his admirers were legion. At the time of his greatest popularity, in the 1920s, he was to Ben Jamin de Casseres "the Watteau of ironists, the Debussy of prose, the Spinoza of word-magic, the Prometheus of American Renaissance."

In all, Cabell wrote 52 books. His last was an autobiography, "As I remember it," published in 1955.

Cabell's first novel, "The Line of Love," was published in 1905 when he was 26. But he did not gain a following until "Jurgin" was published in 1919 and the New York Vice Society tried unsuccessfully to censor it.

His other best known works of fiction were "Beyond Life," also published in 1919, and "The Silver Stallion" (1928).

During his varied career Cabell had been a newspaper reporter in Richmond and in New York, a coal miner in West Virginia, and editor of the Reviewer and the American Spectator.

Cabell was twice married. His first wife, whom he married in 1913, was Priscilla Bradley Shep-

Her Good Luck Only Temporary

TIPTON, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Bryce Burkhalter of nearby Sharpville had some good luck the other day—but it didn't last very long.

She escaped unhurt when her car skidded into a ditch. Then, while waiting for a towtruck, she stepped into a hole and suffered a broken ankle.

'Goblins' Causing Havoc In Outer Space Theorized

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A picture of nuclear goblins wreaking havoc in outer space was drawn today by an astrophysicist.

Dr. Fritz Zwicky offered a theory that the great explosions "served on the surface of the sun and other stars may be caused by tiny bits of energy escaping from the core of the star and exploding as they near the surface.

These tiny bits of energy he called nuclear goblins.

Zwicky is a faculty member at California Institute of Technology in nearby Pasadena. Writing in the Griffith Observer, a publication of the Griffith Observatory here, he theorized that the goblins may be formed near the centers of stars under extreme heat and pressure.

Their explosion, presumably caused by a release of pressure as the goblins near the less-dense surface of the star, sets off a chain reaction similar to that of an atomic bomb, magnified many times.

Zwicky said he called the bits of energy goblins "because they dance around inside of stars."

In the same report, Zwicky said that recent studies indicate certain weaknesses in Newton's law of gravitation.

He said observations with the 200-inch Hale and 48-inch Schmidt telescopes at Palomar Mountain Observatory in Southern California showed a remarkably high number of galaxy clusters are spherically symmetrical.

Galaxies are clusters of stars. Under the Newtonian law of gravitational attraction between heavenly bodies, he said, astronomers should be able to find not only clusters of galaxies but also clusters of these clusters. This they have not been able to do.

"The nonexistence of clusters of clusters has been confirmed by a number of different investigations," Zwicky said.

As a result, he said, "we must conclude that Newton's law of gravitation seriously breaks down" in these instances.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
 Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed of 37 cases at Friday's session of Municipal Recorder's Court. 27 of them involving violations of motor vehicle and traffic laws.

Ten motorists were cited for failure to have city license tags on their vehicles. One was found not guilty, another failed to appear in court, and eight were taxed $5 each.

Failure to have city license tags: George B. Rouse, Falkland, not guilty; William E. Lanckster, Ward Street; Lorenzo Ebron, Negro, 1409 West Sixth Street; Eddie Briley, Negro, 205 Stutz Street; Rudolph W. Bartless, Negro, 509 Sheppard Street, failed to answer and an instant capias was issued for him; Wayne F. Tucker, 212 East 12th Street; William A. Mills, 110 Jarvis Street; Louis E. Horton, 309 Manhattan Avenue; Floy W. Station, 707 East Third Street, and Prince Smith, Negro, 210 Cadillac Street. Eight of these defendants paid $5.

Clinton E. Gilbert, Negro, 831 Fleming Street, who was found guilty of being a "Peeping Tom" on Grande Avenue, was given six months on the roads, sentence to be suspended on condition that he pay $25, costs deducted; fine. The judgment also provides that Gilbert shall remain of good behavior two years and not violate any law for two years. The court placed him on probation for two years. The judgment provides that Gilbert shall not go on Grande Avenue or on any lot adjacent thereto for 2 years.

Johnny I. Tyson, 806 Charles Street, drunk and disorderly, 30 days in jail, sentence to be suspended on payment of costs and he is not to violate any law for two years. The charge of resisting arrest was combined with this case. This cause was retained for further order.

Billy Vandford, 409 East Ninth Street, worthless check, (three cases) was called and he failed to answer. An instant capias was issued for him.

No operator's license: Sam Mayo, Himesland, costs; Harold Anderson, Negro, R-1, city, costs; Jesse Hall, Negro, 106-B East First Street, costs; Alice M. Austin, Negro, Stokes, costs.

Speeding: Craig H. Angel, Albuquerque, N.M., costs; Frank Wilson, R-3, city; Fenton Beale, East Carolina College, costs, and Dorcas C. Highsmith, R-2, Winterville, costs.

Drunk: John D. Stocks, R-3, city, $16; Linwood C. Moore, Negro, 115 East First Street, $16.

Samuel M. Robertson, Cherry Point, no rear light and no operator's license, cases were combined and the defendant paid court costs.

Louise H. Avery, 409 East Ninth Street, failure to report an accident and careless and reckless driving. Instant capias was issued for the defendant.

Richard E. Rogers Jr., 805 Johnston Street, failure to stop at a stop light, costs.

Godfrey P. Oakley, failure to stop at a stop sign, $5.

James E. Sutton Jr., Negro, 514 Sheppard Street, hit and run, pay $25, costs deducted, and the court assigned him to the driver training clinic.

Roland Tyson, 101 South Summit Street, assault on a female, six months on the roads, suspended on payment of costs, remain of good behavior two years and not harm or molest his wife. The court placed the defendant on probation for two years.

Edward E. Joyner, R-1, city, failure to keep proper lookout, costs.

Jesse Taylor, Negro, R-3, city, careless and reckless driving and failure to report an accident. He was found not guilty of failure to report an accident. He was found guilty of careless and reckless driving. Prayer for judgment was continued on payment of $25.

Bobby R. Mathews, Farmville, paid costs for failure to make proper turn. The court assigned him to the driver training clinic.

Alex Minor, Negro, 105 East First Street, assault with a deadly weapon, six months on the roads; larceny, 12 months on the roads, (consecutive), and public nuisance, six months on the roads (consecutive).

The latest gift from the patient, who is both paralyzed and a paraplegic, was 18 dozen leather shoulder bags, wallets and belts. A local leather merchant estimated the value of the articles at about $4,000 retail.

Berserk Janitor Shoots Up Apartment; 9 Wounded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A berserk janitor poured shotgun fire into a neighbor's crowded apartment night, wounding three adults and six children. One of the children was hurt critically.

"I was out of my mind. I didn't mean to do it, but they vexed me so bad," cried William Edward Breeze, 37, who fled the scene but called police 45 minutes later to come and get him.

He was booked for investigation of a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

The shooting climaxed a long-standing neighborhood feud in the Potrero Hill Negro housing development.

Police racing to the scene found Breeze's wife Mary, 29, weeping in her apartment. Witnesses said she held a revolver at one window of the apartment of Mrs. Aline Herbert while Breeze fired a 12-gauge automatic shotgun four times through another window.

Mrs. Breeze, questioned but not held, told police the Herberts had been bothering her family of five boys and a girl for months and "it went too far," he said her 10-year-old daughter Bobbie had been "jumped on" at play by Kirby Mae Young, 10.

"We figured we had enough, so we went over there next door to get it settled," the woman was quoted as saying.

Officers, after preliminary investigation, said she apparently didn't fire the pistol.

Kirby Mae, visiting at the Herbert place, was shot in the back and critically injured.

Others wounded: Mrs. Aline Herbert, 29. Her children Betty, 9, Clara, 8 and James, 7.

John Bowens, 37, a visitor in the Herbert apartment.

Mrs. Olive Gay, 36, and her daughter Lavahn, 14, neighbors who were on the sidewalk outside the apartment.

Cynthia Roberts, 5, another neighbor child visiting at the Herbert home. Her wounds were described as serious.

Three ambulances took the victims to Mission Emergency Hospital.

Four other children of Mrs. Herbert and Mrs. Beatrice Finch, 56, who is Kirby Mae Young's grandmother, escaped from the crowded two-room apartment unharmed.

Breeze offered no resistance when police arrested him.

Registration will begin at 2 p.m. Friday and will be followed by a 4 p.m. tour of Caswell Training School, state-owned institution for the mentally retarded, and the enlarged plant of Frosty Morn Meats, Inc.

The 7 p.m. Friday dinner will feature an address by D. Leon Williams, the new director of ports for North Carolina, who came to this State a few months ago from Georgia. President Whichard will preside and greetings will be extended by Kinston leaders.

At 9:30 a.m. Saturday there will be two panel discussions. One on "Newspaper Costs" will be led by Hal Tanner of Goldsboro. The other on "Increasing Newspaper Revenue," will be directed by J. B. Robinson of Jacksonville.

The Free Press will be host at the concluding luncheon at noon on Saturday. Dr. Bruce Whitaker, president of Chowan College in Murfreesboro, will be guest speaker. Editor Galt Braxton will offer the invocation. Albert M. Stroud, executive vice-president and general manager, will preside. Managing Editor Jake Strother will present the speaker.

There will be a coffee hour for the visiting ladies at 10 a.m. Saturday at 1102 Perry Street. Co-hostesses for the occasion will be Mesdames Galt Braxton, J. P. Strother, A. M. Stroud and T. Frank Horton.

The Free Press and the Kinston Chamber of Commerce will serve as co-hosts for the Spring meeting.

Atlantic Travel Defies Recession

NEW YORK (AP)—Transatlantic travel is one industry undaunted by the recession.

Trade sources say business has prospered in the first three months of 1958 and that prospects continue good for the rest of the year.

The Transatlantic Passenger Conference, an association of 28 transatlantic steamship lines, reports a 23 per cent rise in the number of passengers between the United States and Europe in the first quarter of 1958 as compared with the same period in 1957.

Joseph Mappier, association chairman, said advance bookings were as good or better than last year.

Individual airlines note increases in summer bookings ranging from 19 to 42 per cent.

The American Express Co., one of the leaders in the travel industry, experienced a 39.5 per cent boost in first-quarter foreign travel sales over a year ago.

"What lies behind the surge of overseas travel?"

"Americans are inveterate travelers," said Luis Bolin, chairman of the European Travel Commission in the United States.

"The odds are that, barring political instability abroad, more of them will go overseas."

The ETC has estimated that a record 675,000 U. S. citizens will visit Europe this year, an increase of about 14 per cent over 1957.

Such events as the World's Fair in Brussels, the Centennial observance at Lourdes, Israel's 10th anniversary celebration and the new economy-class air fares are among the magnets expected to create this mass movement.

Sugar Workers Turn Down Offer

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's striking sugar workers apparently are turning down a 15-cent hourly wage increase offer by management.

Reports from one of the 26 big plantations affected said the early voting by union members yesterday was going against the offer, which leaders of Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union recommended be rejected.

About 13,000 workers are affected. They asked for a 25-cent hourly wage increase and said they'd take something less although no exact figure ever was released.

Ten grades of workers have been getting from $1.12 to $1.79 an hour.

Mexico Trying Checking System

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Checking accounts are in the increase in Mexico, but they're still comparatively rare among the middle class.

Until recently, things like light bills had to be paid in cash. Several months ago full-page advertisements said they could now be paid by check.

Stores still handle checks with caution. In major stores, when you buy something and want to pay by check, you have to go to the main office, get cash for it, return and hand the hard money to the clerk.

And you just don't go to your bank teller and cash a check either. You have to go to two windows. The first gives you a receipt, telling you where to go next. You stand in line at the next window, and when your check shows up, you hand in your receipt and get the cash.

Furthermore, the bank holds on to those cashed checks. You don't get them back at the end of the month. You get instead a statement listing them by number and amount. If you get into an argument with a store over a payment and need the check for proof, you have to go to the bank, sign forms, wait, and they'll dig into their vaults and produce it—for a quick look.

Little Rock Story Nets 3 Writing Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—The school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark., set the stage for three of the 1958 Pulitzer Prizes in Journalism.

Two of the prizes, which were announced yesterday, were won by the same newspaper, the Arkansas Gazette, of Little Rock.

Another was awarded to Reiman (Pat) Morin, an Associated Press reporter, for his coverage of integration violence.

For "demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage," the Gazette won the prize for meritorious public service.

The newspaper's executive editor, Harry E. Ashmore, 41, won a prize "for the forcefulness, dispassionate analysis and clarity of his editorials" on the explosive integration situation.

This marked the first time a newspaper captured the public service award while one of its editors won the editorial prize for the same news event.

Morin, a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1951, was cited for "his dramatic and incisive eyewitness report of mob violence on Sept. 23, 1957, during the integration crisis" at Little Rock's Central High School.

Morin, 50, was one of two winners this year for national reporting.

The other separate award in this category went to Clark Mollenhoff, 37, Washington correspondent for the Des Moines Register and Tribune and the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. He was cited for his investigation of labor racketeering.

"A Death in the Family," by the late James Agee, and "Look Homeward, Angel," adapted by Ketti Frings from the late Thomas Wolfe's novel, were named the best American novel and play of 1957.

The award to Agee, who died three years ago at the age of 45, was the first Pulitzer Prize for fiction to be awarded posthumously.

The novel deals with a Southern family's reaction to the death of a beloved father.

Miss Frings' play has been a Broadway hit since it opened last Nov. 28. Wolfe never won a Pulitzer Prize for the autobiographical novel she adapted.

The 41st annual Pulitzer Prize awards in Journalism, letters and music by the trustees of Columbia University were made public by Dr. Grayson Kirk, university president. The awards were established by the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer.

The awards in arts and letters are $500. Those in Journalism carry a prize of $1,000. The public service newspaper award consists of a gold medal.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In the passing of Jasper Edgar Winslow, President Emeritus of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, on April 6, 1958, Pitt County and North Carolina farmers suffered the loss of one of their most outstanding and valuable leaders. He was an outspoken champion of the cause of agriculture and his unselfish service helped direct the development of programs and policies formed to improve the standard of living of rural people.

He believed in strong, efficient and progressive agriculture and worked vigorously to accomplish this goal. In many instances he stood alone and fought resolutely for the cause he was convinced was right. He held many positions of leadership—not to satisfy personal ambition—but solely as a means to be of service to others; and as a result of his years of service and experience, his wisdom and integrity in matters of agricultural policy made his opinion sought from far and wide, and in many instances led him into project leadership.

Mr. Winslow was a farmer by profession, and won the respect of all who were privileged to come under the influence of his dynamic personality. He worked untiringly with one end in view, the growth and progress of farm people. He lived long in years and service to his community, state and nation.

Mr. Winslow was one of the policy makers at a time when agriculture was at its lowest ebb, and his policies have stood the test of time. He had the ability to see through to the root of a problem and come up with a solution. He began advocating production controls as a means of bringing stability to tobacco growing long before the present acreage control and price support program was born during the early 1930's. He was on a 50-man committee named to prepare a farm program after the U. S. Supreme Court declared the old Agricultural Adjustment Act unconstitutional.

He was the leader in organizing the Farm Bureau Federation in North Carolina in 1936 and was elected its first president. He served in this office for 10 years during which time he gave unstintingly of his time and service to the support of the whole farm program.

He was a director of the Fine-Cured Tobacco Stabilization Corporation since its origin and contributed much in charting its course which has helped to stabilize the income of the many fine-cured tobacco growers throughout the South. Tobacco Associates, N. C. Board of Agriculture, and others leaned heavily on his guidance and counsel. It may truly be said that every segment of agriculture in the South has benefited from his efforts.

On motion duly made and seconded, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, we feel deep personal sorrow in the loss of this friend and co-worker whose life and character have made an everlasting contribution to agriculture, and

WHEREAS, results of his untiring efforts will long be beneficial and remembered, and

WHEREAS, he served his community, state and fellow farmers with the one thought in mind to gain equal rights for agriculture, be it therefore

RESOLVED, That we do hereby record our appreciation of his faithful and valuable services, and our keen sense of sorrow and personal loss in his passing;

That we extend our deepest and most heartfelt sympathy to his loved ones in their sad bereavement, and

That these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of our Pitt County Farm Bureau, and that copies be sent to the family and the Daily Reflector.

Respectfully submitted,
W. A. ALLEN, Chairman

Other press awards included: The Fargo (N.D.) Forum, for local reporting under the pressure of edition time, in its news and picture coverage of a tornado that struck that city the night of last June 20.

George Beveridge, 36, a reporter for the Washington (D.C.) Evening Star, for local reporting without edition time pressure. He was cited for a series of eight Sunday articles on urban development problems in the capital.

The New York Times for international reporting. It was the first time a newspaper staff was collectively honored in this category. The award lauded the Times for distinguished coverage of foreign news.

Bruce M. Shanks, 50, of the Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News, in cartooning, for his Aug. 10 cartoon depicting the dilemma faced by members of some labor unions with racketeers among their leadership. It was entitled, "The Thinker."

William C. Beall, 47, of the Washington (D.C.) Daily News, for photography. The winning picture, which appeared last Sept. 11, shows a policeman patiently reasoning with a 2-year-old boy trying to get closer to a parade. It was entitled, "Faith and Confidence."

Walter Lippmann, 68, nationally syndicated columnist for the New York Herald Tribune since 1931, received a special citation commending him "for the wisdom, perception and high sense of responsibility with which he has commented for many years on national and international affairs."

In the field of art, the following awards were announced: History — "Bunks and Politics in America — from the Revolution to the Civil War," by Bray Hammond, 71. A resident of Thetford Center, Vt., he is retired assistant secretary of the Federal Reserve Board.

Biography — "George Washington", Volumes I-VI, by the late Douglas Southall Freeman, and Vol. VII, written by John Alexander Carroll and Mary Wells Ashworth after Freeman's death in 1953. The prize will go to Freeman's estate.

Poetry — "Promises: Poems 1954-1956" by Robert Penn Warren, a professor of English at Yale University. This 53-year-old resident of Fairfield, Conn., won a Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1947.

Music — Samuel Barber for the score of his first opera, "Vanessa," first presented at the Metropolitan Opera House last Jan. 15. The 48-year-old barber has twice won the now discontinued Pulitzer music scholarship.

Morin, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1951 for his reporting on the Korean War, is a native of Freeport, Ill. He has been with The Associated Press since 1934.

Morin was chief of The AP's Tokyo bureau and was on a roving assignment in the Far East from 1937 until the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

The following day he was captured by the Japanese at Saigon, Indochina. After he was repatriated in September 1942, he went to London, Africa, Italy, Paris and India for The AP.

When World War II ended he was AP bureau chief in Paris. Two years later he became chief of the Washington bureau.

Morin's now working out of AP headquarters in New York as a special correspondent.

Early Contracting For 59 Highway Projects Slated

RALEIGH (AP) — A list of 59 road construction projects approved yesterday by the State Highway Commission will be let to contract just as soon as possible, says State Highway Engineer W. H. Rogers Jr.

"Between 2 1/2 and three million dollars worth will be let this month," Rogers said.

The 59 projects will be built at a cost of nearly 14 million dollars under an emergency program recently approved by Congress to combat the recession.

The federal government puts up 60 per cent of the money and the state 40 per cent. Under the federal legislation, the state can put up about half its share of the matching money by borrowing against its future federal aid allocations. The Highway Commission voted to borrow its share in this manner, partly in hopes the borrowed money will not have to be paid back.

Rogers noted that in 1932 federal highway funds were made available to the states in a similar way and repayment was waived by Congress.

The 59 projects must be let to contract by next December and must be completed by December, 1959, according to a requirement of the federal law.

The costliest project in the list is for construction of a concrete overlay on the southbound lane of U.S. 29 from Concord to a point near Charlotte at an estimated cost of $1,134,000.

Meanwhile, the commission adopted a policy for building access roads to industries, hospitals and other facilities and for paving drives and parking lots at public schools.

The commission said the state will be responsible for building and maintaining roads which run to, or along, the property line of new industrial sites and which connect with the highway system.

In the case of industrial facilities already established, they will be considered for paving according to priority under the state's secondary road plan.

The state will continue to pave and maintain driveways at public schools and stabilize school bus parking lots where the drive leads from a state-maintained road and is used by school buses.

The commission said roads to hospitals, health centers, cemeteries and similar facilities will be built, paved and maintained according to their priority rating under the secondary road plan.

However, driveways will not be considered.

All Those Items He Didn't Order Came Rolling In HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—It just wasn't W. M. (Jack) Austin's day.

A television dealer called Austin here, and said that he had the new colored TV set he had ordered. Austin hadn't ordered any TV set.

Next, a salesman rolled up in a new station wagon and announced that here was Austin's new car. Austin hadn't ordered any car.

More cars came, and more salesmen. Then came a grocery truck—and an ambulance. The ambulance driver said he had a report that Mrs. Austin suffered a stroke. She hadn't.

Fire trucks were next. But the alarm was false. Austin said he and his wife lived in the same neighborhood for 20 years and couldn't remember a cross word to anyone.

Cash Purchases Tried In Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—The supermarket has come to the north country and has repealed one of the Yukon's celebrated laws—never buy anything for cash when you can get it on credit.

Hardly anyone ever paid for groceries or anything else until Bruce Sung came up from Vancouver last winter and opened a glittering 60-by-120-foot supermarket.

In the stores and trading posts throughout the Yukon, customers have been carried on credit, sometimes for years.

"Friend or stranger could get all the credit he wanted," said store manager Jim Smith.

"A man's word was as good as his bond, because that was the law of the Yukon—or else. It was quite a departure to put buying on a cash basis, and it was a gamble."

The supermarket persuaded the customers to forego their ancient prejudice against paying cash by flying in fresh fruit and vegetables, and hustling in fresh milk twice a week. Before the supermarket arrived, the only fluid milk sold in this Yukon capital was made from powdered skim milk and unsalted butter.

Only the Indians are still putting up resistance to the supermarket. They haven't got anything against fresh fruit and vegetables. They're just suspicious of this new-fangled trading post where the law of the Yukon was buried.

Protected By 14th Amendment

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution has sprung to the aid of Ronald A. Booker's stomach.

Booker, 30, regurgitated a package of heroin March 10 at the insistence of East Orange Hospital stomach pump, which was being utilized by police.

Essex County Judge James A. Giuliano has acquitted Booker of a narcotics charge, ruling that the Constitution makes Booker's right to the contents of his stomach inviolate. Giuliano refused to allow the heroin into evidence.

The police search into Booker's stomach was "brutal and oppressive," Giuliano said.

Begin Round-Up Of 'Subversives'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Military security forces rounded up scores of Indonesians and some Chinese last night, including the correspondent of the Nationalist Chinese Central News Agency. A spokesman for the Jakarta garrison said those arrested were accused of subversive activities against President Sukarno's government. There was no indication that any Americans were involved, although Sukarno and other Indonesian government officials have charged both U.S. nationals and Nationalist Chinese with aiding the rebellion against the Jakarta government. The newsmen arrested were S.T. Hsieh, an Indonesian citizen of Chinese descent who is also the local correspondent for Time and Life. His wife said the arresting military police had asked him if he was a member of Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang organization.

Yanks, Germans Shooting Again

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Americans and Germans, who were shooting at each other 15 years ago, will pick up their shotguns this week and start blazing away again—at clay pigeons. The occasion for the target-shooting competition at the little wine-producing town of Baumholder is the fifth annual German-American Friendship Week. Special celebrations are scheduled throughout the week from Bremerhaven to Bavaria. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, opened friendship week officially in the old university town of Heidelberg at a "hausfrau fair" comparing the daily lives of U.S. and German housewives. Fifteen American bachelor officers in Bad Kreuznach will stretch out the official Friendship Week by one day to this Sunday, which is Mother's Day. They plan to visit a local old folks' home, where each will pick out a "mother for a day" and present her with a bouquet. At Spangdahlem the U.S. Air Force will give helicopter rides to four German school kids who won an essay contest on international understanding. Disc jockeys on the U.S. armed forces radio station will swap places with their counterparts at a Frankfurt station. And in Munich, mess sergeants of the new German army will visit American mess sergeants to learn some of their tricks.

Butler Prediction Calmly Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans dismissed today as merely speculation a prediction by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that President Eisenhower will resign before his term ends. Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN called it "undiluted nonsense." Butler said on a recorded radio program last night he would venture to guess that Eisenhower will turn his office over to Vice President Nixon because the President will decide "he feels physically unable to continue to discharge any responsibilities and duties" of the job. Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.), who confers with Eisenhower weekly, said: "The President shows every sign of vigor and he certainly is on the job on a full-time basis. He certainly doesn't give anyone the impression that he is even remotely entertaining the idea of resigning." At the White House, Mrs. Anne

Pitt ABC 'Recession' Appears Leveling Off

The nation's business recession is apparently leveling off, at least as far as Pitt County's nine ABC stores are concerned, ABC Board Chairman J.W. Joyner said Monday. In a report to the Board of County Commissioners, Joyner said April sales in the county's liquor stores were $90,163.25, a total of $8.25 more than April, 1957, sales of $90,154.60. The slight increase had little effect, however, on the fiscal year sales reports, which are still $95,095.80 less than sales for the first ten months of the 1957 fiscal year. Joyner also announced that all of the county's stores would be closed at 6 p.m. on May 30 in order to comply with state laws requiring liquor stores to be closed at least 12 hours prior to an election. The stores will also be closed all day on May 31, date of the Democratic Primary. Joyner said he was ordering all store personnel to "exercise caution" in closing in order to comply with legal requirements. In a report of law enforcement activities during the month, Joyner told the commissioners that Pitt County ABC officers made eight arrests, captured four still

Slightly Delayed By Baby Rabbits

ELMHURST, Ill. (AP)—Due to circumstances beyond control, the construction schedule for Frank Padosta's swimming pool has been delayed. Workmen, with bulldozer poised for action, found a nest of baby rabbits in a hole in the 34-foot area where the pool is to be built. "We feel it's a good luck omen," said Mrs. Padosta, "so we want to hold off until the half dozen bunnies can shift for themselves." LIONS CONFUSE CLOWN FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—W.H. Simkins of Oklahoma City, a retired circus clown, rushed to a meeting of the Evening Lions Club and performed enthusiastically. When the 73-year-old clown got back to his hotel, he received a telephone call reminding him that he was supposed to appear at a Lions Ladies Night meeting not at the Evening Lions Club.

They Can't Change Ernie Ford Nor His TV Show

By CHARLES MERCER NEW YORK (AP)—Some time ago somebody suggested calling a meeting to discuss changes in the Ernie Ford Show. "Change what?" asked Ford mildly. "You want to fire me?" "Good heavens, no! You want to fire the choir!" Of course not! "Then what's this meeting for?" asked Ford. "We're gonna sing and I'm gonna talk and we're gonna sell cars and try to make people laugh." The meeting was not held. Of the innumerable futile meetings constantly held in the television industry it would be difficult to think of a more useless conclave. For the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show (NBC-TV, Thursdays) is purring along in its second season of being one of the most popular nighttime programs on television. "We ain't got one," said Ford, who takes as dim a view of words like formula as he does of calling meetings. He sings, he talks, he sells cars and he definitely makes people laugh. "The quality of Ford's humor is elusive. It's not the old 'Hey, Rube!' brand, and it's more sophisticated than Ford either realizes or would admit. Like all good wit it packs some wisdom. On the other hand, nobody—including Ford—exactly knows why he can bring the house down with a remark like 'It's too wet for plowing.'" Apart from the fact that Ford is a superb singer of ballads, he speaks a language of vivid and homely imagery. "As nervous as a long-tailed cat in a room full of rocking chairs" is the kind of

Doctors Say Campanella Will Never Play Baseball

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Doctors expressed hope today that Roy Campanella, paralyzed Los Angeles Dodgers catcher, would make sufficient progress for "ordinary living" but expressed doubt that he will ever make a total recovery.

The statements were made by both Dr. Howard Rusk, head of the Rusk Institute of the New York Medical and Rehabilitation Center, where Campanella was transferred yesterday, and by Dr. Robert W. Sengstaken, who performed the laminectomy (neck fracture operation) on Roy three months ago.

"Campanella is still a quadriplegic, meaning he is paralyzed from the shoulders down," said

Dr. Sengstaken. "He can use his shoulders and bend his wrists very weakly. There is no muscle function below the shoulders and he has intermittent feelings down to the groin."

Dr. Sengstaken said Campanella has shown some improvement during the last 30 days but he said the progress was not as rapid as he had hoped.

"It is not a good sign," he said. "We would like to have continued progressive movement. The longer he remains without progressive change, the less chance he has of recovery. However, we have seen some signs that are favorable. His physical condition remains good. Now is the time to get him up with braces."

Campanella had been in Glen

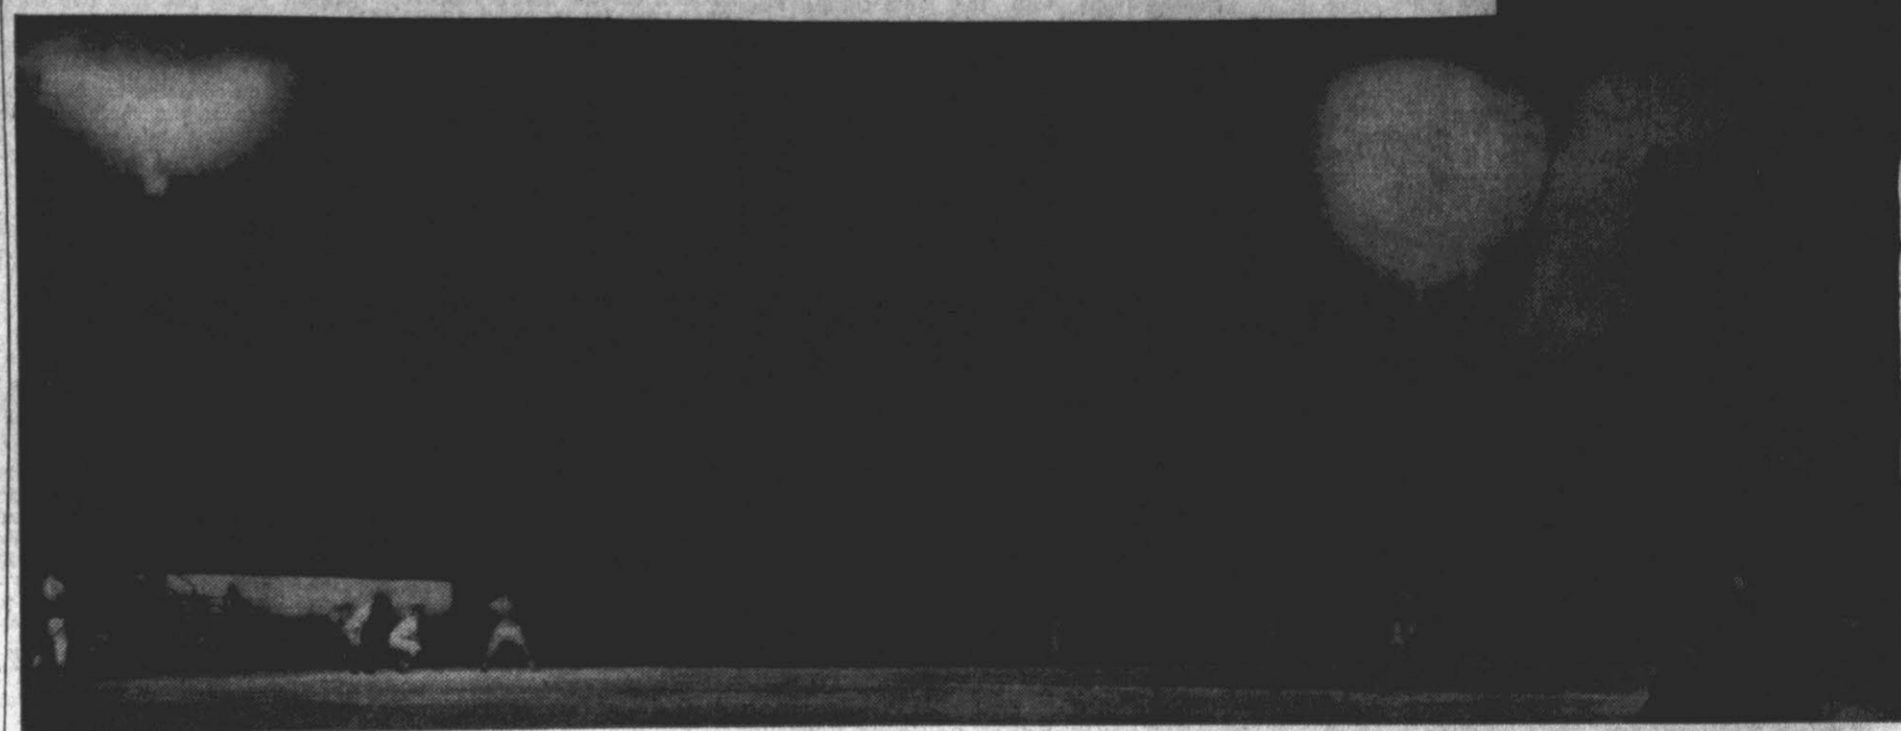

Cove Hospital ever since he was critically injured in an automobile accident near his home Jan. 28.

"It is too early to give a definite prognosis as to whether Roy will ever recover fully," said Dr. Rusk. "It is not now possible to tell how much movement will return."

"Before World War II, a patient of this type was regarded as hopeless. He remained in bed the rest of his life. However, since then, we have made great progress. Of the 300 to 400 such cases that I've been connected with, 75 per cent were able to return to normal functions, such as shaving, feeding himself and even walk again, with the aid of a brace."

The doctors said Campanella had lost 15 to 20 pounds but that his appetite was good and his spirits and morale excellent. "That is greatly in his favor," they said.

Jim Mallory Appreciation Night Local Fans To Honor Coach At ECC-Elon Ballgame Here Saturday Night At Stadium

Sunny Jim Has Had Long, Colorful Career

Rex McMillan Is ACC Bat Leader

GREENSBORO (AP)—Rex McMillan, a 6-foot-3, 200-pound Wake Forest outfielder from Raleigh, collected four hits in six official time at last week to take over the batting leadership of the Atlantic Coast Conference from Dick Hunter of North Carolina State, who had led most of the season.

Hunter, meantime, slumped with only two hits in a dozen at bats, falling from .408 to .360. McMillan's spurt lifted him from .336 to .420.

Latest ACC Service Bureau figures place Hunter fourth in the averages through games of last Saturday. Sophomore Bailey Hendley of Clemson is third at .364 and Buster Ledford of Wake Forest second at .369. The No. 5 batter is Russ Casteen of N.C. State at .353. Tommy Gravins of Virginia, a leader from one earlier week, is a close sixth at .351.

Ledford continues to set the pace in stolen bases, boasting 13. Hunter is also the top man in

By BILLY ARNOLD
When East Carolina returns to Greenville to battle Elon at Guy Smith Stadium Saturday night, local fans will honor ECC Coach Jim Mallory with a special Appreciation Night.

With game time slated for 8:00, the presentation of appreciation will be made at quarter to eight. A large number of fans from Greenville and the surrounding area are joining to make the award.

Also honored with Mallory will be Assistant Coach Earl Smith.

It has been five years since the slender Lawrenceville, Virginia, native came to East Carolina to take over the baseball coaching position. Before coming to Greenville, Mallory guided Elon College to five North State Conference baseball titles and was named the Coach of the Year in 1948. In his first two years here, he carried the Pirates to league championships and has added several to it since then.

Since arriving here, he has notched a total of 56 victories against only 23 defeats overall and has rung up an impressive 41-8 conference mark.

His baseball teams have consistently been made up of boys of outstanding athletic calibre. Many of his youngsters have been snapped up by major league ball clubs and are still performing with those clubs today. Mallory's teams have been noted for their clean-cut, honest young men. There have been no athletic bums.

For the most part, Mallory's teams have been made up of North Carolinians. Unlike some of the other schools in the state, the club roster is not filled with the names of imports from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and other Northern states.

A Colorful Career
Born in Lawrenceville, Virginia, Mallory was an outstanding high school athlete. He attended high school in his home town and then finished up at Fork Union Military Academy, where he earned letters in football, baseball, basketball, track and tennis. While there, he was named All-State in baseball and basketball.

Mallory came one step South for his collegiate training. He enrolled in the University of North Carolina where he became an All-American baseball player and was voted the Most Outstanding Amateur Baseball Player in the United States in 1940. He also gained All-State recognition as a gridder and was placed on several cards as Honorable Mention All-American in that sport also.

Pro Baseballer
After graduating from UNC, Mallory entered the ranks of professional baseball and served nine years with major league teams. He played with Washington in 1940, moved on to the New York Giants in 1945, and later played for the St. Louis Cardinals.

During much of this time, Mallory coached in North Carolina. Before leaving UNC he acted as assistant freshman coach. Then he went to Catawba and assisted in football from 1942-44, and also assisted in football and basketball while there.

In 1945-47 he went to Burlington High School where he assumed duties as head coach of the football team and compiled a 15-5 record. He also coached baseball and basketball there.

He joined the staff at Elon College in 1947 and continued there until 1952. As baseball mentor, he won five North State Conference crowns and carried the football team to a 28-18 record.

In 1952, he came to East Carolina and immediately took over the baseball team. Officially, he did not become head baseball coach until 1953, however, he won North State championships both in 1952 and 1953.

Mallory's lifetime won-lost mark testifies to his brilliance as a coach. He has won 122 games as against only 33 losses, according to all records available.

Appreciation
The nature of the appreciation to be bestowed upon Mallory has not yet been disclosed by those in charge of the proceedings; however, all interested fans and alumni are invited to take part in the recognition by attending. The presentation will take place fifteen minutes before the game begins.

Hunting Season To Extend Four Days In 1959

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's hunting season on quail, rabbits and wild turkey would extend from Feb. 10 through Feb. 14 under tentative hunting regulations adopted for 1958-59.

Another change approved by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission yesterday would open the squirrel season in the central area on Oct. 31 instead of on Thanksgiving Day. The daily bag limit would be increased from six to eight.

The hunting recommendations will be considered in a series of public hearings as follows: May 20, Sylva; May 21, Morganton; May 22, Dobson; May 23, Albemarle; May 25, Graham; May 27, Elizabethtown; May 28, Rocky Mount; May 29, New Bern; and May 30, Edenton. The commission plans to meet June 9 to adopt final regulations.

The commission voted to charge a $4.10 license fee for using fishing access areas it has constructed on many streams and lakes. However, anyone who holds a state or county fishing license, or a five-day fishing permit, may launch his boat from the access areas without having to purchase a use permit.

The commission decided to build new fishing access areas on the northeast Cape Fear River in Holly Shelter Management Area; on onlennea Creek near Hookerton, and on the south fork of the Yadkin River in Davie County.

It voted to extend the shad and herring season in inland waters from May 21 to June 5.

Nothing Can Be Done About It

NEW YORK (AP)—Nothing can be done about the Los Angeles Coliseum's short left field fence, says baseball Commissioner Ford Frick but it shouldn't happen again.

The commissioner yesterday asked the playing rules committee to set a minimum of 325-feet for foul lines and 400 feet for centerfield on all parks built or remodeled after June 1.

"There is nothing we can do about parks that have been built," Frick said. "But I have a hunch that 10 or 15 new parks will be constructed in the majors and minors in the next four or five years."

"We want them to know the minimum distances while they are still in the blueprint stages." The present rules specify that the distance from home base to the nearest fence, stand or other obstruction be 250 feet or more. They recommend 320 feet for foul lines and 400 feet for centerfield—but don't say positively.

So the Los Angeles Dodgers, in revamping the Coliseum for baseball, were able to get by with a 250-foot left field barrier with a 42-foot screen.

ECC - Appalachian Ballgame Flooded

BOONE—Yesterday's East Carolina - Appalachian baseball contest, an important one in North State Conference standings, was not just rained out—it was flooded out.

Weather reports indicated that over two inches of rain washed down on the Appalachian field here to postpone the tilt.

Another game between the two clubs was scheduled for today but reports indicate more rain.

Following the games () here, East Carolina is scheduled to journey to Guilford Wednesday, then return to Greenville for a match with Lenoir Rhyne on Friday. The final game of the season will pit ECC against league-leading Elon Saturday night at Greenville's Gym Smith Stadium.

Should standings remain the same as they are at this writing, the Saturday night game will match the No. 1 and 2 teams and will decide the conference championship.

There is some speculation now, however, about rained-out games which have been scattered throughout the season, affecting the leading three teams. There may be an extra few days of play declared after this week to make up for all lost games, should they be needed to help decide the standings.

DICK EVANS—This lanky senior will be in the lineup Friday afternoon for Rose High School when the league-leading Phantoms play host to Roanoke Rapids at Brookgreen Field. Evans is one of the team's leading hitters.

At Rose: Game Changed, Golfers Defeat E. City

Schedule changes in the Rose High School card, announced this morning, moved tomorrow's Roanoke Rapids baseball game up to Friday afternoon.

Due to reasons unstated, the ball game will be played Friday afternoon at 3:30 at Brookgreen Field, instead of Wednesday.

Coch Bo Farley is expected to use righthander Merrill Bynum on the mound against the Yellow Jackets, as planned earlier. Joe Mays will stand by for relief work if needed.

Rose High will go into Friday afternoon's tilt with a 7-1 North-eastern Conference record — the best in the league.

On the Rose High golf front, Coach Farley's linksters defeated Elizabeth City here yesterday 18-0.

Lucian Bryan was medalist with a 78. Buddy Murray was second with an 82. Dallas Clark had a 90 and Skip Wright was 91.

Farley will take his golfers to New Bern Friday for the conference tournament. His club has a 4-2 record. The G-Men have beaten Kinston and Elizabeth City twice each and have dropped a pair to Washington.

The four boys listed above will make the trip.

ECC Mates Meet In Semi-Finals

GREENSBORO (AP) — The North State Conference tennis championships go into the semifinal round today, with top-seeded Maurice Everett of East Carolina against teammate John West.

Everette will be trying to make the finals for the third straight year. Yesterday he beat Guilford's Cutler Ham and Western Carolina's John Carr. Meanwhile, all of the favorites came through Monday in both the singles and doubles matches.

Singles winners included second-seeded Bill Husele of High Point and third-seeded John McCabe of Western Carolina. Jordan Washburn and Jimmy Askins of Guilford face Bill Hollo-well and John Savag. of East Carolina in the doubles finals today.

South Carolina Cage Coach Resigns Post

COLUMBIA (AP) — The University of South Carolina, whose basketball fortunes hit the rocks this year, will have a new head coach next season and a full squad of returning lettermen.

Frank Johnson, who compiled a 175-177 overall record in 15 seasons with the Gamecocks, resigned as head coach yesterday to become the university's business manager of athletics.

Succeeding him is former freshman basketball coach Walter Hambrick, 37, a native of Georgetown, Ky., who came to the university in 1955.

The Gamecocks made a poor 5-19 showing the past season and ended in a tie for sixth place in Atlantic Coast Conference standings. Prior to that, Johnson-coached Gamecock teams had won 170 games and lost 158 since he became head basketball coach in 1940.

South Carolina athletic director Rex Enright pointed out that Johnson has for sometime been acting as business manager of athletics and basketball coach.

"We realize full well that it was becoming impossible for him to continue two jobs," Enright said. "We are proud of the records his teams have established through the years."

Johnson, a native of Rockford, Ill., was a star football lineman and basketball player at the University of Georgia. He coached a year at Mississippi before taking over at South Carolina in 1940. His coaching duties here were interrupted by three years as a lieutenant commander in the Navy during World War II.

Hambrick played college basketball at Morehead State College in Kentucky. Before joining the Gamecocks, he was head coach at Gallatin High School at Warsaw, Ky., assistant coach at Morehead State and head coach at Pikeville (Ky.) Junior College, where his teams won the state junior college championships in 1954 and 1955.

On the 1955 team was Grady Wallace, who followed Hambrick to South Carolina and led the nation's major college scorers in 1957 with an average of 31.3 points per game.

Hambrick will have all the regulars on the 1957-58 Gamecock squad to draw from next year. None was lost to graduation.

"With a lot of hard work, I believe we can present a representative team," he said.

ECC Golfers Lead NS Teams

GREENSBORO (AP) — High Point College's Jim Ward goes into today's final 18 holes of the North State Conference golf tournament with a four-stroke lead over three-runners-up.

Although shooting three over par in yesterday's opening round, Ward carded 74 over the Star-mountain Forest Country Club course and it was good enough to shade Bobby Loy of Elon, Wayne Workman of East Carolina and Robert Beale of Lenoir Rhyne — all tied at 78.

Bracketed at 80 were Guilford's Gordon Brewer, Calvary's Andy Sparks and East Carolina's Paul Goodwin.

Leading the team scoring was East Carolina with 327 points. Elon, Guilford, Lenoir Rhyne, Calvary, Ellerbe Point and Appalachian ranked in that order.

Finals of the Pirates' Den Table Tennis League will be held Thursday night, at 9:30 p.m. at EOC's Umstead Hall, with two undefeated teams playing off for the championship trophies.

The Arkansas team of Paul Maskalenko and Charles Munn, Greenville, and Charles Miller, will play the Arizona team of Thomas Lucas, Charles Russell, and George Zambos, of EOC. Both teams have won 6 matches and lost none over three weeks of play.

In play Monday night, Arizona defeated Delaware 5 to 4 as Charles Russell defeated Bridges Sabiston 21-17, 22-24, 21-12 in the final match. Earlier, Russell and the league's other undefeated player, Greenville's Norman Kilpatrick, had played a match which saw Kilpatrick's defense barely stop Russell's attack, 21-19, 21-18. Upset of the night was Boyce Honeycutt's defeat of Greenville's Paul Maskalenko, 16-21, 21-19, 21-15, as Maskalenko's Arkansas team defeated Florida 5-4.

Leading individual records include Kilpatrick (Greenville) 17-0, Russell (EOC) 15-1, Charles Munn (Greenville) 9-1, Thomas Lucas (EOC) 15-2, Maskalenko (Greenville) 13-2, and Ike Riddick (Greenville) 12-2.

Harvey Ward To Be Reinstated

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey Ward Jr. returns to the amateur golf fold today fully forgiven—with chance to prove himself the greatest amateur champion since Bob Jones.

A year's suspension for expense irregularities was lifted by the U. S. Golf Assn., permitting Ward to point for the National Amateur at San Francisco Sept. 8-13 and first world championship at St. Andrews, Scotland, a month later.

"I'm afraid I've let my game go a bit," the boyish, 32-year-old North Carolinian said in San Francisco. "I'm going to bear down on my game and get ready for the next National."

Before running into difficulties with the USGA over tournament expenses, Ward won consecutive national amateur championships in 1955 and 1956 and went through Walker Cup meetings in 1953 and 1955 without losing a decision.

Ward has set two goals for himself: 1. To match Jones' record of five U.S. triumphs. 2. To crack Lawson Little's record of 15 consecutive match play victories set in 1934-35.

Ward is rated the best amateur player in the world and regarded by some as a threat to the present-day pros.

He insists he never will yield to the lure of professional golf because "I play the game for the fun I get out of it. If I had to worry about winning for a living, I'd hate the game."

Ayden Wins Field Day Event Here

Thirteen Pitt County schools congregated at Guy Smith Stadium yesterday afternoon for the annual Field Day Events, involving hundreds of students.

Ayden won the trophy for first place with a total of 23 points. Stokes-Factious was second with 20 points. Chiloah was third with 14.

A crowd of 500 attended the event. Physical Education teachers from the 13 schools acted as judges. Individual medals were awarded to first place winners and ribbons were presented to first, second, and third place winners.

The Field Day sponsored by seventh and eighth grade teachers of the schools and only students in those grades participated.

Kenfield Award Presented Wed.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — The first John F. Kenfield Memorial Award will be presented to the top team in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tennis Tournament, opening here tomorrow.

Named for the University of North Carolina coach who died recently, the trophy goes to the team amassing the most points in the three-day tournament.

Alamance Team Is Climbing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Alamance Indians are climbing steadily in the Carolina League after a slow start that saw them in the cellar during the first few days of the season.

Alamance defeated Greensboro in both ends of a double-header last night, 5-3 and 7-4, to move into third place in the standings.

Greensboro jumped into a 3-0 lead in the second inning of the evening game, but Alamance came back with one run in the fifth and four in the sixth. In the nightcap, the Indians broke loose with six runs in the fifth.

Wilson and Raleigh split a twin bill at Raleigh. Wilson won the seven-inning opener 4-1 and the Caps won the nightcap, 6-5. The Caps, trailing by 5-0, rallied for two runs in the fifth and four in the seventh to take the second game.

Phils Aren't Looking For Trade Anymore

It was just last week that reports started about the Philadelphia Phillies looking for a trade that would bring them some power. They should have started the whispering campaign sooner — Gran Hamner's been clubbin' the ball ever since.

In six games since the May 1 rumors, Hamner has knocked in a third of the Phils' 31 runs, getting 10 hits in 23 trips—six of them for extra bases. That's a .435 batting average and an .821 slugging percentage.

Not bad for a 31-year-old short-stop-second baseman taking his first fling at third base in a decade.

He drove in five runs with a bases-loaded triple and the 100th homer of his 14-year career last night, carrying the Phils to an 8-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Pittsburgh gave up nine runs in the ninth to the San Francisco Giants but salvaged an 11-10 victory that netted them a share of first place with the idle Chicago Cubs.

The Boston Red Sox defeated Cleveland 8-5 in the only American League game played because of rain.

The Phils scored five runs in the first against young Don Drysdale. Hamner's triple was the big blow.

Three more came across in the fifth against lefty reliever Jackie Collum. Hamner's first home run of the year, with a man on, and Stan Lopata's second, both in the Coliseum, got the job done. Ray Semproch, a rookie right-hander, gained his third victory.

Vern Law, who managed to win his third, had a five-hitter and had balked the Giants from the first inning on going into the ninth. Then all sorts of things happened — two errors in that allowed five unearned runs, seven hits off four Buc pitchers and three pinch hits, tying the National League record for one inning by one club. Jim King, Johnny Antonelli and Bob Speaker delivered the pinch blows, consecutive doubles that drove in five runs.

Allstate Announces Entry Into Life Insurance Field

Over-the-counter sale of life insurance in Sears' stores became an actuality for the first time in North Carolina today when Allstate Life Insurance Company announced the start of business in this state.

Allstate agents in Sears' stores and Allstate district offices kicked off the new concept in life insurance merchandising this morning.

Robert D. Eger, regional manager, predicted a rapid growth in North Carolina for the new operation. "We feel that the ability to buy life insurance over-the-counter in a Sears store will be a tremendous attraction to thousands of North Carolinians," he added.

Allstate agents throughout the state have recently undergone a comprehensive training program which included this new method of selling life insurance.

"As far as we are able to determine, this marks the first time in the history of North Carolina that any company has sold life insurance through a retail sales outlet," Eger stated.

The Allstate Life Insurance Company, organized as a subsidiary of the Allstate Insurance Companies which, in turn, is a subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Company, will operate through the present sales and service setup in the state. The company will offer a discount on quantity purchases starting at the two thousand dollar level. "This is another example of the most modern practices in selling life insurance," Eger added.

The Allstate Life Insurance Company is now operating in 21 states and expects to be operating in 32 states by September 1. The company is presently selling in the southern states of Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Judson B. Branch, Allstate president, said, "The Allstate agents have been experiencing fine reception from the long time friends and customers of Allstate Insurance Companies and Sears, Roebuck and Company. The size of the average policy sold and the average premium are both larger than we had anticipated."

Arkansas Gazette Scored An Unprecedented Salute

NEW YORK (AP) — The double-victory scored by the Arkansas Gazette and Harry S. Ashmore, its executive editor, in the 1958 Pulitzer Prize derby is without parallel in the history of the awards.

For the first time a newspaper won the public service prize and one of its editors received the editorial writing prize for the same story.

The Gazette - Ashmore signal honor yesterday stemmed from their news coverage and editorial leadership in the Little Rock, Ark., school integration crisis last fall.

The newspaper opposed the use of National Guardsmen by Gov. Orval E. Faubus last Sept. 2 to block nine Negroes from attending Central High School. It supported President Eisenhower's counter-use of federal troops.

"Somehow, some time, every Arkansan is going to have to be counted," the Gazette wrote Sept. 4.

"We have to decide what kind of people we are—whether we obey the law only when we approve of it, or whether we obey it no matter how distasteful we may find it."

The Gazette's position was criticized by Arkansas segregationists.

The Pulitzer award to the newspaper praised the Gazette for "demonstrating the highest qualities of civil leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage in the face of mounting public tension during the school integration crisis of 1957."

Ashmore, a 41-year-old native of Greenville, S.C., came to the Gazette about 11 years ago from the Charlotte, N.C., News. His two grandfathers served in the Confederate Army.

Ashmore's editorials were, in many cases, written under deadline pressure. During the school crisis he worked 18 to 20 hours a day under conditions of tension and difficulty.

He was cited in the following terms in his award:

"For distinguished editorial writing in a United States newspaper, published daily, Sunday or at least once a week, during the year, the test of his excellence being clearness of style, moral purpose, sound reasoning and power to influence public opinion in what the writer conceives to be the right direction. Due account being taken of the whole volume of the editorial writer's work during the year..."

"For the forcefulness, dispassionate analysis and clarity of his editorials on the school integration conflict in Little Rock."

All The Inducements Except For Women

By JOHN W. BECKER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Like a job on a South Seas island where they serve food fit for a king, drinks cost 25 cents each, and a man can bank $10,000 a year?

Where living expenses are $1.50 a day and movies and television are free?

Such are the inducements that lure men to the tropic isles where the United States tests its most devastating nuclear devices. If it sounds like near paradise, it is with this trifling exception: there are no women.

Operators of this enterprise are Holmes & Narver, Inc., a Los Angeles engineering firm hired by the Atomic Energy Commission in 1943 to turn Eniwetok Atoll into a proving ground.

On the tiny coral speck of the atoll's Parry Island, 5,100 miles from Los Angeles, the company has maintained an all-male community since 1949, ranging from 500 between tests to the 2,200 now working on the forthcoming test series. Some have been there seven years.

Tests are held about every two years. It takes a year to build up for one, about six months to clean up after it.

Men are paid the going salary in Los Angeles for their specialty, but guaranteed at least eight hours overtime a week and given a $10-a-week bonus. All they ever see of it is $20 a week, the rest being deposited for them or sent home. If a man stays 18 months his income is considered earned abroad and he doesn't have to pay income tax.

But if money helps bring them to Eniwetok, the food helps keep them there. Here are the menus for three recent days in a row:

Breakfast—Orange juice, ham, fried eggs and hash brown; grape juice, fruit, link sausage, boiled eggs; tomato juice, fruit, bacon, omelette.

Ask Compulsory Polio Shots For Young Children

ASHEVILLE (AP) — The North Carolina Medical Society was on record today for compulsory polio vaccinations for all children aged two months to six years.

The group's 104th annual session in its first full working day yesterday also approved a committee report critical of the State Industrial Commission for refusing recommendations on higher fees for treatment of on-the-job accidents.

The delegates also named Dr. John C. Reese as president-elect to assume office in 1959-60. Dr. Lenox D. Baker of Durham, will take over as 1958-59 president at a banquet tonight.

Other officers named for 1958-59 were: Dr. Amos N. Johnson of Garland, first vice president; Dr. K. B. Geddie of High Point, second vice president; Dr. John S. Rhodes of Raleigh, secretary, and Dr. G. Westbrook Murphy of Asheville, speaker of the house. Dr. Donald R. Koonce of Wilmington was named vice speaker.

Elected as American Medical Assn. delegates were Dr. Elias Faison of Charlotte, Dr. Charles F. Storsider of Goldsboro and Dr. M. D. Hill of Raleigh.

Rotarians Hear Bethel Attorney

"Law is that intangible force which cements society together," Attorney Clifton Everett of Bethel told Greenville Rotarians here last night.

"It is the very fabric which holds society together. The alternative to law is chaos."

Speaking on the topic "Law and Its Meaning to America," the attorney declared that man can only have a full life when his life is protected and his rights are defined and guaranteed by law.

Everett pointed to the four major fields of law, which he said may be defined as those pertaining to man's personal behavior; man's relation with his fellow man; man's relation with his government; and the relations between governments.

There are two basic philosophies of law, the speaker said. One is law by force, and the other the force of law.

Law by force, he said, is evidenced when a few individuals hold power over the masses such as in the Communist controlled countries. Even in a democracy such as the United States, he declared, law by force sometimes evidences itself when influence, political pressure and power override and crush the rights of others.

"Only by supplanting law by force can we hope to overcome international difficulties and achieve world peace," Everett told his audience.

The speaker reviewed briefly the development of constitutional law in Great Britain and the United States asserting the American system of constitutional law is the "best system man has been able to devise, though it is not perfect."

Everett was introduced by Attorney S.B. Underwood, Jr. The Grand Banks, a section of the ocean off Newfoundland, has been a rich treasure trove for cod fishermen fishing for 500 years.

Manville Sister Divorces Fourth Report Need Of More Dentists

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Tommy Manville's sister has divorced her actor husband.

Mrs. Lorraine Baxter, 63, yesterday charged Charles Baxter, 33, her fourth husband, with mental cruelty and desertion. The suit was uncontested.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina Dental Society, its convention going into its second full day here, has been told the state needs a rapid increase in dental graduates to meet growing needs.

Dr. John C. Brauer, dean of the University of North Carolina's Dental School, told 900 persons in the dental field yesterday that the school's enrollment should be increased by at least 50 per cent to starting meeting the current shortage.

The national ratio of practicing dentists in recent years has been one for every 1,900 persons. Dr. Brauer said in North Carolina the ratio was one to every 3,952 persons.

Dr. Ralph Coffey of Morganton, society president, urged the group to continue supporting fluoridation of water.

Dr. Percy Phillips, president of the American Dental Assn., called on the profession to investigate possible programs of providing pre-payment dental insurance on a scale similar to medical insurance plans.

The society chose Dr. William B. Sherrod of Winston-Salem as president-elect for 1958-59. He will succeed Dr. S. Edward Moser of Gastonia, who becomes president today.

Other officers elected for 1958-59 included Dr. Charles Teague of Greensboro, vice president, and Dr. Luther T. Butler of Greensboro, secretary-treasurer. Named to the State Board of Dental Examiners were Dr. Horace A. Thompson of Wilmington and Dr. J. Homer Guion of Charlotte.

Primary Elections Today In Ohio, Alabama, Indiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Voters cast ballots in three states today in primary elections that involve contests for nominations ranging from governor to township offices.

Selection of candidates for governor highlights contests in Ohio and Alabama. Nominations for Congress and a variety of state and local offices will be picked in Indiana.

Light turnouts were forecast for Ohio and Indiana, but a heavy vote was expected in Alabama where 14 candidates sought the Democratic nomination — equivalent to election — for governor. School segregation was a major issue.

Each of the Alabama aspirants advocated a continuation of segregation but they differed in degree. Some advocated closing schools threatened with integration. Other promised to fight to keep them open on a separate-but-equal basis.

In Ohio, seven candidates vied for the Democratic nomination for governor. They included former federal price stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle, the Democrats' 1956 nominee. Opinion was divided about DiSalle's chances. Some observers put him ahead of the field, but others believed he faced rugged opposition. Two mayors were among other candidates, Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland and Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus.

Gov. William O'Neill, who defeated DiSalle in the 1956 general election, sought Republican renomination. His only foe was former Mayor Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, a brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Sen. Taft disclaimed his opposition and said he actually was supporting O'Neill. Taft entered the race after O'Neill suffered a heart attack last January. Announcing as a standby candidate, Taft has remained in the running despite assurances from O'Neill that it was unnecessary in view of the governor's apparent recovery.

In the senatorial primary, neither Republican incumbent John W. Bricker nor Democrat Stephen M. Young had opposition.

Two Republican congressmen faced tough opposition in Indiana primaries. They were Reps. Cecil M. Harden of the 6th District and Charles B. Brownson of the 11th District. Mrs. Harden was bucking the challenge of Robert S. Webb. Brownson bid for renomination against Donald C. Bruce.

Three other congressmen were regarded as having only nominal opposition and six incumbents had none at all.

A by-play of the Alabama primaries was the race for 72 seats on the Democratic Executive Committee. The campaign was enlivened by a controversial party oath requiring state Democrats to stick with the national party. If the oath is retained, candidates running for presidential elector in 1960 must pledge in advance to support the Democratic presidential ticket.

Dentists Help You Pay The Bill

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dentists have a new way to help you pay your dental bills.

Dr. Rudolph H. Friedrich came here from Chicago to give about 2,500 dentists at a Missouri-Kansas meeting a chance to get their teeth into the idea.

Under the plan, you borrow from a bank to pay your dentist, and the dental association has a reserve fund that guarantees the bank won't lose if you fail to repay your loan.

The plan is proving successful, says Dr. Friedrich, secretary of the Council on Dental Health of the American Dental Assn.

Patrick Henry May Be Outmoded

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Historian Arnold Toynbee thinks the slogan "Give me liberty or give me death" may be outmoded in the nuclear age. It might be unfair to our children, he suggests.

Toynbee noted the personal pronoun "me" in the slogan and said the decision now is life or death of the human race, not personal liberty or death.

He asked: "Do we have the right to make that decision for our children or our grandchildren?"

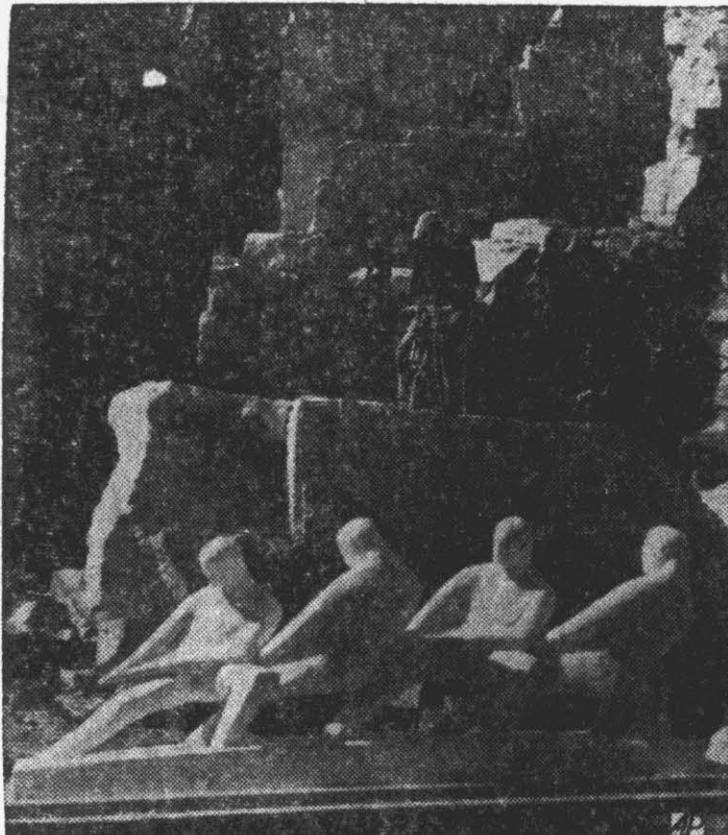

Toynbee participated in a discussion broadcast by an educational television station last night.

New Type Of Sneaky Thieves

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — L. H. Petree reported a new kind of sneak-thief to police.

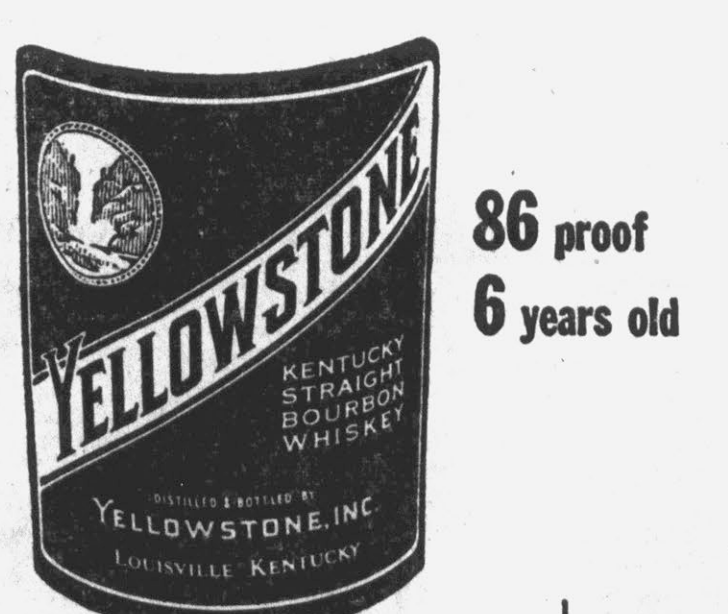

He said two young men came to his home one evening with a small dog. One man said they hit the dog with their car and wondered if the Petrees owned the dog. He continued to keep Mrs. Petree in conversation for a long time while the other man disappeared.

Later, Petree discovered all the gasoline from his car had been siphoned by the second man.

College Band Will Present Annual Concert Thursday Evening

The East Carolina College Concert Band, playing under the direction of Herbert L. Carter of the music faculty, will present its annual concert Thursday, May 8, at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis Auditorium. A varied program will range from folk songs to symphonic numbers. The public is invited.

A special attraction on the program will be "Abe Lincoln, Gettysburg, 1863," by Don Gillis, a leading American composer for television and motion pictures. August Laube of Greenville, former East Carolina student and now director of choral groups at the city high school, acting as narrator, will read the Gettysburg Address to band accompaniment. "Holiday for Trombones," composed by David Rose and arranged by Paul Herfurth, will have as featured musicians Jack M. Pindell of Raleigh; Ralph Shumaker of Greer, S.C.; Franklin E. Bulard of Rt. 3, Greensboro; Benjamin M. McHorney, Washington, N.C.; N. Francis Swanson, Morehead City; and Ted M. Lee of Cassatt, S.C. The finale from Tchaikowski's Symphony, No. 4, in an orchestral transcription by Safranek; "Flag of Stars" by Gordon Jacob; "Sarabande" and "Bouree" by Handel; folk songs by Ralph Vaughan Williams; and an Italian, an English, and an American march are scheduled for performance.

House Jobless Pay Bill Is Given Johnson's Approval

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson was reported ready today to support a House-passed jobless pay bill President Eisenhower has approved.

Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California said he is confident the Senate will go along with the House in voting a measure designed to extend the period of unemployment compensation payments to those who exhaust benefit rights before April 1, 1959.

extended payments, with the states having the option of acting. The added cost, estimated at 600 millions, would eventually have to be repaid.

"I think we are going to have sufficient votes to get this bill through in about the same form as it was voted in the House," Knowland said in an interview.

Senate Democrats who like to be classed as liberals have served notice they plan an effort to revise the provisions of a bill defeated by the House.

Former Clinton Mayor Is Chosen To Head East Carolina Housing Body

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Former Clinton Mayor A. P. Winfrey Jr. made plans today to assume the executive director's post of the Eastern Carolina Regional Housing Authority "just as soon as I can."

The 11-member housing authority yesterday named Winfrey to the post and accepted the resignation of N. E. Mohn Jr., assistant director, effective June 3.

Winfrey, 49, an automobile dealer at Clinton, succeeds H. Emmett Powell, also of Clinton, who resigned under fire after an investigating committee found a conflict of interest on the part of Powell and Mohn in a proposed housing development deal.

Winfrey will receive a salary of $7,500 a year. He is in the process of going out of the auto business.

An investigating committee named by Gov. Hodges recommended the dismissal of Powell and Mohn, Powell and a group of associates, which included Mohn, acquired the Seymour Johnson Housing Development here for $39,010 and proposed to sell it to the housing authority for $1,165,000.

Mohn, hospitalized with a kidney ailment, had sent the authority a letter asking that it fix a date for his resignation to become effective. He said he felt this would be in the best interests of the authority "because of considerable unfair publicity."

The authority voted by 6-5 to ask for the resignations of two housing authority auditors, John A. Chalk and C. H. Pierce, by June 3.

Clyde Sabiston of Jacksonville, who offered the motion requesting the resignation of the auditors, said, "We now have two auditors and we don't need but one. Give them both opportunity to resign."

Over 400 Farmers In Pitt With Soil Bank

Four hundred and nineteen Pitt County farmers have agreed to place a total of 5,340.4 allotment acres of basic crops in Soil Bank Reserve this year, Walter Hasty, manager of the local ASC office announced today.

The 1958 Acreage Reserve sign-up is substantially complete, Hasty said.

Last year 365 farmers reserved 4,103.32 acres under the same program.

If all applications on file are accepted and farmers comply with the program, they could earn a maximum of $314,468.36 on the acreage offered in signed applications.

The Acreage Reserve is a Soil Bank Program under which farmers agree to reduce their plantings below their acreage allotments of the basic crops as a means of reducing surpluses. Farmers earn payments on the land held out of production. The land must not be harvested or grazed, and must be kept free of noxious weeds and protected from erosion.

Boy Says Death Was Accidental

ADVANCE, N.C. (AP)—A 12-year-old white boy who said his shotgun discharged accidentally was held here today in connection with the slaying of his 39-year-old mother, Mrs. Walter Cline.

Officers apprehended Jimmy Cline after a five-hour search yesterday. They quoted him as saying he had picked up the shotgun to frighten a Negro tobacco hand, Charlie Mason, who drank liquor with his mother in the Cline home.

According to Sheriff Ben Boyles, the boy said his 12-gauge shotgun discharged as he stepped down a slight incline in the house. Coroner V. B. Green said Mrs. Cline was shot through the heart.

Mason told officers he understood mother and son had argued over money. The boy was not immediately charged.

Police said Mason and 45-year-old Arthur Spauh of Advance witnessed the shooting. Officers said Spauh gave this account: He refused Jimmy a ride into nearby Mocksville because his car was in bad shape. Jimmy wanted to go there to withdraw money from a savings account.

Jimmy then went to another room and returned with the shotgun. Spauh, fearing it was meant for him, dashed out the back door and heard Mrs. Cline shout, "Don't do that," just before the shotgun blast.

Rings Returned After 15 Years

DENVER (AP)—Fifteen years ago Ethyl Kucker Ferguson left a set of diamond rings she valued at $1,000 on a mirror ledge in a rest room at the Colorado capitol. Five minutes later, she discovered the rings were missing and returned to the rest room. The rings were gone. Mrs. Ferguson, an employee of the state treasurer's office for 21 years, had the rings back again today. The rings, almost worn through, arrived with a note in small airmail package over the weekend. The postmark was too blurred to read. The terse note said: "May God forgive."

Nervous Stomach With Two Jobs

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Anyone holding down two jobs may find himself with a nervous stomach, a Cleveland physician told Oklahoma medical men yesterday. Dr. Charles H. Brown described the nervous stomach as a serious problem and not something imagined by the sufferer. "Everybody is rushing and the whole pace of living has been stepped up," Brown said. "Yesterday's luxuries have become today's necessities." Most likely to get nervous stomach is an effort to get more luxuries-turned-necessities are the two-job folks, Brown said. "It is not the job itself that is causing this trouble but the drive and ambition that prompted to take the second job in the first place," he said.

Queen Attends 'My Fair Lady'

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II saw "My Fair Lady" last night, heard the naughty four-letter word and didn't seem to mind much. There were some who said the Queen blushed delicately and fluttered her program when the Cockney heroine implored her horse to move its "arse" over. Her husband, Prince Philip, rocked with laughter. Mostly the Queen laughed and applauded as delightedly as the rest of the gala charity-benefit audience which paid up to 50 pounds ($140) for seats. Afterward the royal couple went backstage to congratulate the cast. There had been some talk of laundering the script for last night's performance only. Had the producers said the royal censor hadn't disapproved and the word stayed in.

Science, in the field of medicine, also saves for that rainy day. It puts aside blood, bones, eyes, arteries, skin and human milk so that when emergency arises human sufferers will be helped.

In the long history of medicine, these medical banks are quite new. Refrigeration helped their development.

Blood banks were established first. "Walking blood banks" came along in the 1920's. They were the people who were on call to donate blood to patients in hospitals. Blood banks, in which blood was kept in bottles, didn't develop until 1936. During World War II and the Korean conflict, blood plasma and whole blood were flown directly to the battlefields, saving thousands of lives. Today, the Red Cross and the Office of Civilian Defense stockpile blood to meet civilian needs.

After blood banks, came the others. The eye bank helps restore sight with the use of fresh or preserved corneal tissue for grafting. Arteries are preserved to replace diseased or injured blood vessels. The bone bank replaces diseased or missing bones, and the skin bank offers temporary skin for the badly bruised. Human milk helps premature babies.

How these various banks are collected, stored and dispensed is pictured here.

BLOOD

SKIN

Dr. James Barrett Brown, left, holds glass vacuum tubes containing lyophilized skin at Washington University School of Medicine's skin bank in St. Louis. It's skin that has been frozen dry and stored at room temperature. Dr. Minot Fryer, right, takes jar of skin from container that is kept at minus 80 degrees centigrade. He wears gloves to protect his hands from cold.

BONE

Doctor takes bone from bone bank at Hospital for Special Surgery in New York. Bones in bank are used to replace diseased or missing bones.

EYE

At Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration in New York, laboratory aide removes glass jar containing human eye from refrigerator. It will be used in corneal grafting operation. Eyes are donated at time of death.

HUMAN MILK

Breast milk is collected from nursing mothers by women volunteers of Evanston, Ill., Junior League, then brought to Evanston Hospital, as above, to feed premature babies.

At hospital, the milk is poured into kettle and brought to a boil by slow heat. It's then strained and made ready for feeding, as demonstrated here by Nurse Mrs. William Revenaugh.

With aid of eye dropper, Nurse Mrs. Dolores Watson at hospital feeds premature baby with the breast milk. Baby is housed in transparent isolette.

UPS AND DOWNS

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Curtis T. Todd, 63, had his ups and downs—literally—before becoming a Baptist minister. He sailed up and down the Ohio River as a steamboat steward for two years, operated an elevator and worked for a coal mining firm.

Joan of Arc lead loyal French soldiers against the city of Orleans and drove out the British in 1429.

Salute Lodge For Sponsoring Of Drive

Junius H. Rose, Chairman of the Pitt County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, presented Past Governor Percy R. Cox with a certificate in behalf of the Greenville Moose Lodge, last night for its sponsorship of the 1958 March of Dimes.

The certificate read in part, "Whose dedicated leadership and devotion to humanitarian service have given inspiration and substance to the task of human rehabilitation, opening the doors of accomplishment to thousands still crippled by polio, and heralding a magnificent new era in the advance of science toward the conquest of disease and disability."

In making the presentation Rose lauded the local Lodge. He stated, "There is no better service than that to one's community."

Cox stated that the Moose accepted the sponsorship of the March of Dimes knowing that the drive and its net results is the financial backbone of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which gives aid to those who become ill and crippled from polio. "It was our privilege to work in behalf of such a worthy cause," he added.

A.A. Carrigan, Chairman of the 1958 Pitt County March of Dimes drive, and Dr. Kenneth L. Quiggins, publicity worker, were presented with individual Certificates of Appreciation from the Foundation. S.L. Rowland, Chairman of the Lodge's Publicity Committee, also received his Certificate of Appreciation presented at a recent Recognition Dinner held in Raleigh.

Young Robber Is Wounded In Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Charlotte Negro youth was in critical condition here today following an alleged attempt to rob a restaurant at gunpoint.

Officers said Frederick Ralford, 17, pulled a .32 caliber revolver as he entered the restaurant where Police Pvt. Thomas F. Minogue was eating with another off-duty policeman.

"This is a holdup. Don't anybody move," Minogue quoted Ralford as saying.

Minogue fired four times with his own revolver after the youth got off one shot. Ralford was wounded in the lower left chest.

Charge 2 With Robbing Rector

NASHVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Nash County Sheriff Glen Womble said two AWOL Marines were being held here today charged with robbing an Episcopal rector who had given them a ride.

Womble identified the two from Camp Lejeune as Richard Kenneth White, 19, of Manchester, Conn. and Charles Edward Gross, 22, of Gays Creek, Ky.

The sheriff said the Rev. Lemuel G. Robertson, an Episcopal rector of Enfield, N.C., picked up the two hitchhiking Marines yesterday, about six miles from near-by Rocky Mount.

Near Whitakers, N.C., the two pulled a switch blade knife, dragged the minister from his car, tied him, and robbed him of his watch and undetermined amount of money before leaving in the rector's car, Womble said.

Robertson worked himself free, flagged a passing motorist and the two gave chase. They caught up with the Marines and flagged a Highway Patrol cruiser almost at the same time.

Womble said the two admitted the robbery. They were charged with robbery and were being held in lieu of $2,000 each pending trial in Nash County Superior Court in August.

Bonner Asks For $742,000 Outlay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Herbert Bonner (D-N.C.) asked the House Appropriations Committee to recommend $742,000 to improve rivers and harbors in North Carolina.

He asked approval of $722,000 to complete the Oregon Inlet-Shadow Bag Bay project for which Congress appropriated a total of $1,000,000 in 1957.

He also proposed $20,000 for surveys on two projects: (1) Deepening Rollinson Channel from Pamlico Sound into Hatteras Harbor so that haulers of petroleum products can get them to the Buxton Naval Base and the Seashore National Park; and (2) Restoration of the barrier reef at Stumpy Point.

COLLISION VICTIM

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A Camp Lejeune Marine, David A. Sparger, 20, was killed on U. S. 17 near Jacksonville last night in an auto-motorcycle collision, the highway patrol reported today.

Over The Heads Of JAW Bosses Rep. Cannon Calls For Reorganization Move

DETROIT (AP)—Both General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. have gone over the heads of the United Auto Workers leadership in direct appeals to rank-and-file UAW members for an understanding of management's stand at the bargaining table.

On the eve of resuming contract talks with the UAW today, GM yesterday made public a letter sent by President Harlow H. Curtis to 350,000 hourly rate employees urging them to study "in the light of conditions today" the company's wage formula which was rejected by UAW negotiators.

Curtis told employees prompt acceptance of the company's offer to extend for two years the built-in wage increases in the present contract "would have a most favorable effect on public confidence."

GM's action followed a similar appeal made to Ford's 40,000 hourly employees by the firm's president, Henry Ford II.

E. S. (Pat) Patterson, acting chief of the UAW bargaining team, said, "The corporations proposal was made twice even before negotiations began, and rejected both times."

GM, with Ford and Chrysler following suit, has offered to keep in effect a wage formula which gives workers an annual wage increase of at least 6 cents an hour. The increase is based on the fact that the nation's productivity increases at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent.

Explaining the union's rejection, Patterson said, "GM workers are seeking through the UAW to have their current problems met on the basis of an agreement specifically designed to solve those, and not by just continuing the old contract."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee today called for prompt congressional approval of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan.

"The President asks for this legislation and Congress should pass it and start this reasonable, sensible, long-delayed, much-needed revision at the earliest date possible," Cannon told the House.

"It is high time we put an end to this insane bickering between the services and eliminate billions of wastage and begin to develop sufficient military strength to keep us out of war."

Cannon's endorsement of the President's proposal brought into focus a sharp split among influential House Democrats. Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee is one of the plan's principal foes. His committee is conducting hearings on it.

Vinson's group heard an argument today that Congress would not be signing a blank check for 40 billion dollars if it gave the secretary of defense the spending leeway Eisenhower asks. It came from Asst. Secretary of Defense W. J. McNeil who as comptroller of the department is the Pentagon's top money man.

McNeil said there had been no decision as to exactly how the defense budget would be presented to carry out the President's purpose of providing more flexibility. But he said none of the methods under consideration "involve any new or particularly novel principles as far as we can see."

Cannon argued the legislation is needed to eliminate overlap and duplication in spending.

Selecting Jury For Starkweather Trial

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Defense attorneys swung into action today in preliminaries to a courtroom fight to save bantam killer Charles R. Starkweather from Nebraska's electric chair.

The job at hand: culling from prospective jurors 12 who will give most reasonable audience to a defense contention that the 19-year-old redhead was insane at the time of the killings last January.

Prosecuting attorneys yesterday examined 56 prospective jurors and found 20 men and 14 women acceptable.

Starkweather is the bandy-legged, 5-foot-6 gunman whose admitted murder rampage shocked the nation and terrorized the Lincoln area, where nine killing victims were counted in three days.

The defendant's lawyers yesterday entered a plea of innocence by reason of insanity. His was against Starkweather's own wishes, and defense attorney T. Clement Gaughan said he looks for no cooperation from either Starkweather or his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Starkweather, on the insanity plea.

Starkweather is charged specifically in the death Jan. 27 of Robert William Jensen, 17, of near-by Bennet. Jensen's body was found in an unused storm cellar near Bennet while a manhunt was being pushed for Starkweather and his girl friend Carl Ann Fugate, 14, also charged with murder. Carl's trial is pending.

In oral and written statements, Starkweather has admitted involvement in 11 slayings.

200-Gallon Still Raided, Ruined

Pitt County ABC officers, working with New Bern ATU Agent Jim Sanders, destroyed a 200-gallon still yesterday afternoon.

Chief ABC officer J. M. Ward reported this morning that the still was found in the Spring Branch Church section in Greene County near the Pitt-Greene-Wilson county line. The still was in operation, Ward said, and no arrests were made.

Authorities used dynamite to destroy the complete still, 500 gallons of mash, a 50-gallon cooler and 55 gallon doubler.

Ward noted that the still had apparently been run sometime over the weekend. No liquor was uncovered at the site.

In addition to Ward and Sanders, ABC officers H. B. Liles, Walter M. Taylor and James L. Ross participated in the raid.

Airman Dies Of A Broken Neck

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—George M. Redeck, an airman at nearby Pope Air Force Base, died of a broken neck yesterday after his broken car went out of control, ran onto a soft highway shoulder and rammed into a dwelling in suburban Cornubon.

Mrs. Frederick Faas, wife of an Army sergeant here, told Coroner Alph Clark she was sitting in the living room of her home holding one of her six children when she saw the vehicle racing toward her front door. She was seated in the living room opposite the impact point and she and the infant escaped injury.

Redeck is survived by his widow and four children. Air Force records listed his address as Rt. 1, Shamokin, Pa.

Kiwanians Look For 1,000 Guests

The Greenville Kiwanis Club is expecting over 1,000 persons to attend the club's annual picnic supper at Kiwanis Park, opposite Elm Street Park, Wednesday afternoon at 5:30.

Kiwanian Herbert Wilkerson is general chairman, and Robert Elks is food chairman. Tickets are now on sale by Kiwanians. Proceeds from the sale will be allotted to the Kiwanis "Choo-Choo" Fund. The miniature train will be in operation and the public is invited.
