(This is the first of a series presenting the 1958 Pitt County Debutantes in a brief glimpse of their personalities.)

Miss Helen White Hawes, another Greenville debutante who will be presented to North Carolina society in September, is following in the footsteps of her mother, Mrs. Helen White Hawes, who made her debut in 1930.

This summer could easily be called the most outstanding in Miss Hawes' life. Why?

Besides making her debut in September, she is touring 12 countries in Europe and taking a Mediterranean cruise. Helen sailed June 24 on the Italian liner "Augustus."

Before leaving New York, she saw the Broadway play "My Fair Lady" and writes that it was "beyond her expectations." In letters written home she calls her trip "a dream come true."

While in Paris—the fashion showcase of the world—Miss Hawes will shop for a gown appropriate for the second night of the "coming-out" weekend.

Stepping into the social spotlight, she will be escorted by Charles Alexander White Jr., her chief marshal. She will wear a satin gown trimmed with imported lace featuring an off-shoulder neckline. Cascades of lace will cover the bouffant skirt.

James Picklen Arthur Jr. and Donald Edgar Conley will assist as marshals during the social event.

Collecting foreign dolls which have been given to her by friends predominates Miss Hawes' various hobbies. During the trip she will add to that collection by purchasing a doll to represent each country she visits.

Swimming, dancing, reading, record playing, and television are among her many interests.

After graduating from the Southern Seminary and Junior College in 1957, she has continued her education at East Carolina College.

House-Herring Marry Sunday

SNOW HILL—The marriage of Miss Joyce Marie Herring to Mr. Michael James House was solemnized Sunday evening in the Eden Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Herring of Snow Hill. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. House of Bethel.

The double-ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Zep N. Deshields of Haseell. Music was rendered by Mrs. Emily Walston, pianist, and Miss Marla Herring, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace over bridal taffeta. The basque bodice was designed with a circle neckline edged with floral motifs in stimulated pearls. Long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt featured cascading tiered flounces alternating in lace and imported tulle. Her two-tiered fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a half hat of seed pearls and iridescent sequins on matching lace. She carried a spray bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Miss Nancy Perkins of Roxboro was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of coral organza. It was fashioned along princess lines. Folds of organza formed a V neck on an empire bodice. Her hat was nylon sheer with seed pearl trim. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli. Miss Faye Herring, sister of the bride, and Miss Lee Ross of Roxboro were bridesmaids. They wore dresses and hats like that of the honor attendant.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Wood of Spring Hope, Miss Tommie Bass of Halifax, Miss Marie Seals of Goldsboro, Miss Diana Smith and Mrs. Bynum Harper Jr. of Snow Hill. They wore pastel ballerina length evening dresses and carried white chrysanthemums.

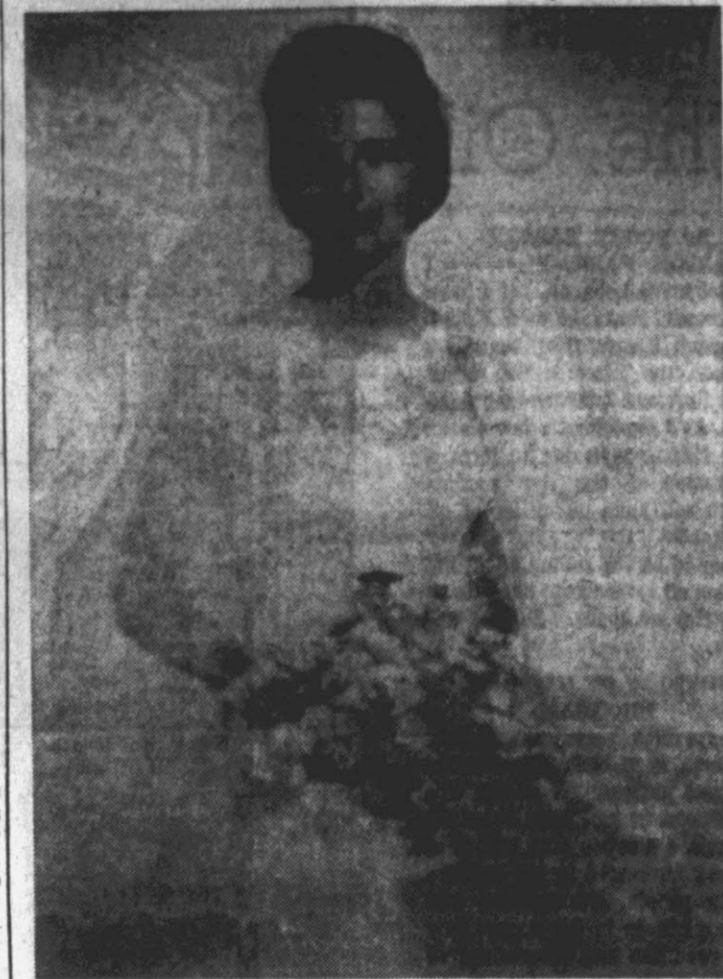

William Earl House, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were William Whitehurst and Bill Latham of Bethel.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of powder blue lace and organza with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a street length dress of rose lace and matching accessories. Both wore orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Meredith College and will be on the faculty at Cushing, Oklahoma, next fall. The bridegroom attended State College for his pre-veterinarian training and at present is in veterinarian school at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Virginia. For traveling the bride wore a blue sheath dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid lifted from her bouquet. After the trip the bridal couple will make their home in Cushing, Oklahoma.

Time Stretchers Help You Take Time To Live

By VIRGINIA M. NANCE

Home demonstration club members in New Hanover County realize now more than ever before that how each individual spends her time will determine what kind of person she is, what kind of life she lives, what contributions she makes to the people around her and to the whole world.

According to Verna Belle Lowrey, home demonstration agent, it took the family life leaders in their club to wake them up to time stretchers and how they can make better use of their time and enjoy it.

Club members feel that now they'll think before they say "I don't have time," because they were made aware of the fact that each person has the same amount of time and has a choice of doing what she wants to do during her day.

Mrs. Corinne Grimsley English, Agricultural Extension Service family relations specialist, has pointed out in a recent publication, "Take Time to Live," that "What you mean when you say, 'I don't have time' is 'I don't have time for THAT.' You'd much prefer doing something else in those minutes."

In their study of ways of thinking time to live, Clay County home demonstration women reported good results, says Home Agent Velma B. Moore. Mrs. Maggie Ledford, Fellowship club, remarked, "Seems like I've enjoyed my work more since I read Mrs. English's bulletin on 'Take Time to Live.'"

Mrs. George Sorrells, also of the Friendship club, told Mrs. Moore "Since last month, when I get in a rush I just stop and say to myself, 'I've got plenty of time.'"

"If I take part in church and community activities I have to leave off some of the non-essentials," stated Mrs. Home Gibbey, Chatuge Club. "I figure that no one will remember whether or not I washed dishes three times daily, but they will remember the effort I put into church and community activities."

In the new bulletin home demonstration women have been studying, Mrs. English has given several helpful suggestions to serve as time-stretchers:

1. Never hurry! For every minute saved by speed, two minutes are lost "resting up." Remember the story of the tortoise and the hare?

2. Always know what you are going to do next! Try to live by some sort of a plan. This doesn't mean a rigid schedule, but it does mean having some idea of what you want to accomplish.

3. Know how much time a particular task will take. Don't be a watch watcher, but you can't plan your time any more than you can budget your money if you don't have a pretty clear idea of its value.

4. Skip some of the non-essential time-consumers on your list. How important or necessary is this particular task? Is it something you have "always" done—or is it something you can leave off?

5. Take a generous "hunk" of time to do absolutely nothing. Relax!

6. Check up on yourself. How do you feel about your job in life? If you enjoy what you are doing—if you want to do your job well, you will find the time necessary. This wanting to do things is what keeps most people moving! They don't feel pushed because they know at the end of the day, or the end of the week, they'll feel it has been worthwhile.

Copies of the Extension Miscellaneous Pamphlet No. 179, "Take Time to Live," by Mrs. Corinne Grimsley English, extension family relations specialist, can be obtained from your local home demonstration agent or by writing to Mrs. English at N. C. State College, Raleigh.

COLORED FRYING PAN

One of the new innovations for the kitchen is the electric frying pan in color to be shown at the National Housewares Exhibit in Atlantic City. The pan in three decorator colors, rust, green and turquoise and polished aluminum has an extra handle which converts it into an attractive casserole serving dish. The heating element is completely sealed in permitting the entire unit to be immersed in water for easy cleaning.

Ever serve gingerbread with a tutti-frutti topping? Blend cream cheese with a little milk or cream and add finely diced candied orange and lemon peel, candied cherries and preserved ginger. Or you can add well-drained (and dried) maraschino cherries, pecans and dates.

THE MARK OF A REALLY SMART PERSON

The mark of a really smart person is not necessarily a college diploma or a Phi Beta Kappa key. It might be simply a record of carefully-considered actions.

To "know it all" would be wonderful—if we humans could absorb that much knowledge in a lifetime. Next best is to seek and accept the advice of experts, particularly your Doctor.

Visit him frequently. Follow his directions carefully. Bring your prescriptions to us to be filled, and take the medicine he prescribes regularly.

Such cooperation is the best course possible for preservation of your health, and it marks you as a really smart person.

Why Fight The Same Battle Twice?

Reapportionment problems have been a thorn in the side of the past North Carolina legislatures, and it promises to blossom into a major dispute for the 1959 session.

Gov. Hodges has served notice that reapportionment of the legislature will be one of his prime objectives in 1959.

The announcement, while it will meet with enthusiastic response in some sections of North Carolina—probably the populous Piedmont—is sure to receive less enthusiastic acceptance in Eastern and Western North Carolina where population is more scattered.

It is our frank opinion that the matter of reapportionment should be delayed until the 1961 session of the General Assembly.

We see little to be accomplished by fighting the matter out next year and then have the same thing to do all over again when the 1961 General Assembly convenes.

North Carolina's constitution provides that representation in the General Assembly be reapportioned during the first session following the each new census. The present apportionment of the Senate and House among the 100 counties is based on the 1940 census. The 1951 session of the General Assembly failed to reapportion itself according to the 1950 census, and each succeeding session has declined to pass a reapportionment measure.

Last year it was the consensus, of the legislature that the matter should now wait until after the 1960 census.

That, in our opinion, is a sound plan to follow. If the 1959 legislature decides in favor of reapportionment, whatever plan it adopts will not become effective until the 1961 session. The basis of reapportionment will have to be the 1950 census which will be nine years old next year.

Furthermore, if the constitution is to be followed, the 1961 legislature will have to take up the matter of reapportionment again, and assign representation on the basis of the 1960 census. Unquestionably any plan for reapportionment according to the 1950 census would bring about changes in representation if the same plan is followed after the 1960 census. That would mean that any reapportionment decided upon next year would be obsolete two years later.

The whole job would have to be done over again, and the fight would be just as bitter for new changes in 1961 as it will be for changes during the 1959 session.

The present plan of apportionment of representation in the legislature is unsatisfactory to the smaller counties of the state who have succeeded since 1951 in blocking efforts to follow the mandate of the constitution. At the same time the larger counties have been steamed up because of their justified feeling they have been denied since the 1950 census their rightful representation according to the Constitution.

The logical course for the 1959 General Assembly to take is to seek a new and more satisfactory plan for representation in the House and Senate. If such a plan is found, it will require a constitutional amendment that could be voted on by the people between 1959 and 1961. Whatever plan is adopted, however, should not become effective until after the 1961 legislative session and reapportionment under the new plan so far as population is concerned should be on the basis of the 1960 census.

The 1959 legislature will have enough knotty problems before it without trying to reapportion representation according to the present constitutional requirements and on the basis of a census which will be nine years old when the matter comes before legislators.

Nassar Wants The Oil

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — I do not know Lebanon, but I have for many years studied Egypt. Although Russia may be aiding Nasser, the latter is the brains of the present Lebanon-Iraq troubles. As I explained a few weeks ago, Nasser is trying to form a federation of the five nations which sell huge quantities of oil throughout the world. Nasser wishes to be the selling agent for all this oil rather than have these countries compete with one another.

HISTORY OF NASSER'S PROGRAM
Egypt is a very poor country although it is one of the oldest existing nations. Its people are very poor. It had been ruled by Farouk, a playboy king who never was interested in the welfare of the people. Nasser, who was a high officer in the Army, saw this condition and determined to rectify it. He first dethroned the playboy king and then started some constructive plans to get more money for his people. His first attempt was to build the great Aswan Dam on the Nile River and he thought that England, France, and the United States had agreed to finance it. Suddenly this underwriting was withdrawn. This was a great disappointment to me although my friend, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, after a return from Egypt personally told me that our Republican Administration probably did the right thing by withdrawing.

Nasser's next attempt to get funds was by raising the tolls of the Suez Canal. This again brought the United States into the picture in a way to get the ill will of all these countries—England, France, and Egypt. Readers will remember how the canal was blocked and everyone lost money. Although our Administration agreed to Nasser's increasing the tolls, shipments declined so that Egypt did not get any more real money. Thereupon Nasser attempted to form the "oil empire" described above. The first nation to fall in line was Syria, which has since been followed by Iraq.

OIL THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE
Ever since the Crusades of centuries ago, every war has been claimed to have been started for some great moral purpose. All nations in the Near East conflict claim that they are fighting for freedom. President Eisenhower insists that if the people of Iraq had peacefully voted to depose their king, no U. S. marine would be in Lebanon today. To have, however, a rebel band murder the king of Iraq and his premier is contrary to the Eisenhower Doctrine. Let me, however, say that if there were no oil in the Near East, there would now be no marines in Lebanon! This conflict will not result in a shooting war with Russia as Russia has all the oil that she needs. The kings of all these Near East nations are controlled by the world's big oil companies. These big oil companies will naturally despise Nasser for stirring up this trouble. It, however, might be much cheaper for the United States to provide some other means for Nasser to get funds for his poor people.

Readers have been wondering how this situation will affect their oil investments. The large oil companies are divided into two groups: The International oils, such as Standard of New Jersey, Socony Mobil, Texas Co., and Standard of California, which get large quantities of their oil from the Near East; and the domestic oil concerns, led by Phillips, Shell, Continental, and Union Oil, which get most of their oil from North and South America. Theoretically, the United States, Canada, and Venezuela should increase in price, although this differential may have already been discounted. In view, however, of the Near East situation, it would be well for readers not to overconcentrate in the international oil stocks.

Other Editors Saying --- Kicking And Screaming

(Greensboro Daily News)
Under the worst possible circumstances the United States happens to have, for the moment, world opinion "kicking and screaming" into a summit conference with Soviet Russia in, of all places, hectic, excitable New York City.

If we may paraphrase General Bradley on expanding the Korean War, this is the wrong conference at the wrong time in the wrong place.

It is the wrong conference because the United States happens to have, for the moment, no Middle Eastern policy. We have not decided, at least on last report, whether to curry Nasser's favor or slug him. Our troop movement into Lebanon and Jordan has incurred so much ill will around the world — even though it was vitally necessary — that no U. N. rescue mission is in sight. For the moment we seem to be hanging on in hope that something better will turn up; yet, time is strongly on the side of Pan-Arab nationalism; and behind it stands Khrushchev ready to exploit every opportunity for more turmoil.

It is the wrong time for a summit conference because the West has no agenda prepared for a settlement, and unless one can be arranged in short order, this summit, like the last one, may consist largely of Eisenhower and Khrushchev exchanging personal greetings and wishing each other well; but the world will not be saved by international platitudes. Furthermore, the United States, with troops in Lebanon, will be strongly on the defensive, unable to take the initiative toward some acceptable accommodation. Russia, on the other hand, can play to the hit the role of amiable bystander-peacekeeper, creating a false impression which we will find hard to counter.

It is the wrong place for a summit conference because the folderol surrounding Nikita Khrushchev's first visit to the United States will be so momentous as to overshadow everything else. Manhattan will go wild over Nikita, New York City will order out thousands of police to protect the Russian chief. Khrushchev will be a daring figure turing into the very heartland of Western capitalism like some hero of ancient times. A grand show is promised in the showman's capital of the world.

But having recognized these liabilities, let us readily admit that the Western Allies had painted themselves into a corner and that no other course of action save a summit conference would suffice.

Having split with her allies, Britain and France, over Suez barely 21 months ago, the United States could not split again. Already dependent on the decent opinion of mankind of extricate troops from a deteriorating position in the Middle East the U. S. could not greet these latest proposals negatively.

How can we proceed, then, from this point onward to squeeze from a bungled situation all the benefits available?

For one, Mr. Dulles' foreign policy experts must move forthwith to draw up a provocative agenda. It should set up a framework for the summit talks. It should also propose a general settlement of the Middle Eastern impasse which goes far beyond the withdrawal of our troops and provides a sound policy supportable both by the West and the uncommitted nations.

Want New Lights On School Buses

By LYNN NISBET
BUS LIGHTS — The Jaycees at Jacksonville are trying to get their state organization and the educational folks interested in a new stop light system for school buses. The gadget consists of a longer extended arm bearing the word "stop" to be projected from the left side of the bus, and with blinker red lights to attract attention of other motorists. The device has been used in Wilson county for about a year and has proven very satisfactory there.

The advisory budget commission stopped at Jacksonville the other day to see the new stop light demonstrated by Highway Patrolmen Douglass Moore and Don Moore, state Jaycee chairmen of highway safety. The Jaycees want the project approved and authorized by the transportation section of the State Board of Education, and when such approval is obtained they will raise the money to install the lights on every school bus. Estimated cost is around $25 per bus.

FLANE — The small amphibian airplane recently acquired by the law enforcement section of the commercial fisheries division is proving very valuable, according to Gehrman Holland, fisheries commissioner. Its chief contribution is in preventing violation of the law, rather than in apprehending violators. When fishermen see or hear the plane coming they know they do not have to run, so as quickly as possible they quit whatever illegal practices they may be engaged in at the time. The plane has enabled the law enforcement officers to collect a good bit of money in boat license fees, and to put hundreds of dollars into the public school fund in the pay of fines levied when violators are convicted in the courts.

FAIRY TALE — The story of Tryon Palace restoration reads like a fairy tale, and the rebuilt palace with its authentic period furnishings is an adult fairy land of culture and history. Although the palace will not be open to year, the budget commission was public until sometime next year, the budget commission was taken through the almost completed project.

A decade or more ago Mrs. James E. (Maude M. Latham of Greensboro, a native of New Bern, conceived the idea of rebuilding the palace, which was originally built in the late 1760's and burned in 1798. It served as the colonial capital from 1770 to 1775, and then as the State capitol until the seat of government was moved to Raleigh in 1794. During the post-revolution period the Legislature met at other places besides New Bern before it was anchored in Raleigh. Suggestion has been made the General Assembly hold a formal meeting in the restored palace next spring in connection with its official opening.

Mrs. Latham made specific bequests of $250,000 and in her will left some stocks estimated to be worth at the time around a million dollars. The value of these stocks has increased so rapidly that already $2,410,000 has been spent on the project. Another half million is earmarked to complete it, and there is talk of a reserve endowment of at least a million dollars. Meantime, the State of North Carolina has invested $227,000 and is committed for some $30,000 more for land acquisition. The State also is obligated to maintain and operate the palace as a historic site. It is expected that the project will be self-sustaining when it is open and small admission fees charged for visiting it.

DIFFERENCE — Governor Hodges reminded budget commission and institutional administrators that the estimates on costs of permanent improvements aggregating more than $100 million are based on facilities requested by the institutions and "may be entirely different from what is required to do the job." The comment was occasioned by an item in the proposed capital budget of the State Training School for Negro Girls near Kinston for a $50,000 swimming pool. The school now has 88 "students", has a dormitory underway to accommodate 25 more and hopes to build another 25-room facility for which $64,000 is asked. The girls range from 6 to 18, with average age around 14.

When queried by budgeteers as to why individual rooms were needed in the new dorm, Blaine Madison, commissioner of correction and training, said that it is the trend throughout the nation and "we want to keep in step." Miss Mae Holmes, superintendent of the school, admitted that in many instances girls get along better with two or more sharing a room.

It was further pointed out by members of the budget party that a new swimming pool at Elizabeth City Country Club cost only $20,000 and that many usable and adequate pools have been installed for less than $10,000 each.

More Favorable Business News

By RALPH ROBEY
It would be an understatement to say that almost every week we are now getting more favorable business news. Scarcely a day passes without at least one encouraging item. Some examples:

1. The Federal Reserve Board index of production for June rose two percentage points, and the figure for May was revised up a point, which means that it also was up two percentage points. This index is in physical terms — price changes do not affect it — and uses 1947-49 as equal to 100. The current figure is 130, which compares with 126 two months ago, and the preliminary figure for the rest of the recession high of 145 last August. The most amazing fact is that every durable goods sector has now moved up. In the nondurable category the total is up, but details for many individual industries are not yet available. It should be borne in mind, however, that it is the durable, not the nondurable, industries which have been the main recession worry.

2. On the basis of new and more complete data the Department of Commerce has just revised the figures for Gross National Product, which is the total of all goods and services produced in the nation. The revision lifts the total for the third quarter of last year, which was the high, to $446 billion. This is a rise of $6 billion from an earlier estimate. For the first quarter of 1958 the figure also was revised upward, from $422 to $426 billion. Preliminary guesses of the second quarter is that it will at least match the first quarter, and may actually rise a little.

3. Personal income in June was $2 billion higher than in May on a seasonally adjusted basis. The figure was $352 billion, a small percent below the pre-recession high. The June increase was all caused by higher wage and salary disbursements, which were about equally divided between manufacturing, other private industries, and government. Transfer payments, which three months ago resulted in a larger total personal income, were down slightly in June. This is the second consecutive month revealing an upward trend in manufacturing, and the change this time was the result of both a longer work-week and more employment. Most manufacturing groups participated in the gain. Housing starts rose to the highest level in about two years to 1,090,000. This is private housing starts on an annual basis. The recent low was in March when there were only 880,000. There is now little reason to doubt that we may have over a million housing starts this year, and the total may be 100,000 above that figure. Total construction, of course, continues to make new highs.

5. Retail sales continue firm. In June the total was at the April-May level, with allowance for seasonal factors. During the second quarter the total was 3 percent above the February-March level, and 3 percent below the peak of last summer. With continued stability — and perhaps growth — of personal income, it may be expected retail sales will not drop from here on.

6. In spite of the disturbance in the Middle East the stock market made new highs. The market sold off quite sharply on the day of the crisis, recovered with the landing of the Marines and continued to rise for the rest of the week. Volume was heavy. This all added another chapter to the recent rather strange behavior of the market in the face of continued bad profit reports and the business downturn. The explanation presumably is continued heavy institutions buying the presence of large uninvested funds, and the belief that further inflation is ahead.

All of these developments took place in the span of one week, and are merely the more noteworthy of events on the economic front. For such a short period it is an imposing list and makes it easy to understand why so many persons both in and out of the Administration are convinced we have passed the bottom of the recession and are on our way to recovery.

These optimists may be right. Only time will tell. In my judgment, however, it's still too early to positively say that an upturn is under way. Certainly the number of industries, and the number of sections of the country, which still are suffering from the recession is getting smaller and smaller. The major question now is whether this improvement will broaden and intensify. If it does, there will be no disputing our being on the road to recovery.

Opinions In Brief

"One cannot really excuse youngsters for breaking the laws by simply saying they didn't realize what they were doing. The fact is that young juvenile criminals do know what they're doing, and should be held responsible for their actions." — Boswell (Pa.) News.

"If 10 per cent of the land currently used for food and industrial crops was added to the land now used for livestock, total agricultural production would balance with consumption." — Herrell DeGraff, farm economist.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
TRUE GREATNESS LASTS
As I sat down to my typewriter this morning, I glanced at the row of books directly on a level with my table. They dealt with the lives and accomplishments of St. Francis of Assisi, David Livingstone, Savanrola, John Wesley, and Abraham Lincoln.

I began to think of these lives, long since quieted in death, but still vital, vibrant, influential in the world. Who is not touched by the career of perfect self-abnegation lived by the little Francis. To this day, men of all creeds speak in reverence of David Livingstone and the humanitarian, scientific, and religious work he did in darkest Africa. Savanrola lived, denounced, died a martyr. John Wesley found one kind of an England living its busy, sinful, and selfish, but dominated by a new religious spirit and upheld by a divine vision. Wesley is accorded by historians as having had something, at last, to do with keeping his native England on a firm basis. All over the world men ponder the life of Lincoln, look into his sad eyes, listen to his distinguished utterances, and thank God that a man of great soul and gentle spirit came upon the stage of history when men's hearts were torn with bitterness.

Average Citizen Spent $1,188 Retail

By ELMER ROESSNER
If you are an average American, you spent $1,188 in retail establishments last year, according to Census Bureau figures. That figure is arrived at by dividing total retail receipts, which were $200 billion by the total population at midyear, which was 171,229,000. Of course, few persons spent precisely that much; the per capita figure is based on a population that ranges from such nonspenders as newborn babies to Nelson A. Rockefeller. However, when the per capita figure is applied to a family of four — it would be $4,752 — it is closer to the experiences of most of us.

MOST FOR FOOD
The average spending in food stores, according to the Census figures, was $274. In addition, there was a per capita spend-leading because of constantly rising prices. Sales in 1957 were $10.6 billion above 1956, but they involved very little more goods. Most of the rise was in higher prices. In the same way, we can beat the 1957 mark this year, but still get less for our money. FIRE LOSSES PADDED. INSURED GET NOTHING. Exaggerated losses covered by insurance can be costly, judging from a decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Illinois. When fire destroyed a partner's gun and surplus stores establishment, they claimed losses of $78,698. The court found the loss was only $20,000 and upheld a clause in the insurance policy which voided the policy if there was any misrepresentation, fraud or false swearing.

McElroy Says Dirty A-Bomb Charge Depends On Who's Doing Talking

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy says that whether the Pentagon is making its atomic bombs dirtier hinges on the point of view.

McElroy told Congress that bombs have been withdrawn from stockpile and modified so they can be exploded at ground level. This in turn would make their fallout dirtier in the immediate area although he said the total fallout would remain the same.

But he said the purpose of the change to a surface blast is to insure destruction of such heavy targets as missile launching sites, pillboxes and submarine launching pens.

Whether a bomb which has been modified to provide an optional surface burst is dirtier or not depends on the point of view, McElroy said in a letter to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee. The letter was made public last night.

Gutter Overflow Sweeps Little Girl To Death In Sewer

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—A sudden thunderstorm that filled gutters to overflowing swept four children into a fetid, understreet sewer yesterday and carried one two blocks to her death in a Mississippi River slough.

The dead child was Julia Lee Shaffer, 5.

Julia Lee was playing with her sister Patty Ann, 10, and their two brothers Clarence, 9, and Dale 6, on the street near their home when the storm broke.

Religious News Editor Criticizes Use Of Phrases

CHICAGO (AP)—A church paper editor tartly criticized today the traditional phrases of conviction such as "Jesus Saves," "God is love" and "Jesus is coming."

The phrases are basically meaningful, said the Rev. Dr. Theodore A. Gill, "but they have turned vulgar through being said so often, so repetitiously, and so flatly."

The rains filled the gutters almost immediately, carrying the children headlong through the open sewer aperture.

Wearing Chemise, Battle Was On

BALTIMORE (AP)—Anne Campbell walked down the street wearing a new chemise dress.

Dr. Gill is a Presbyterian minister and editor of the nondenominational Christian Century magazine, and of the Pulpit, a journal for preachers. He is lecturing this week on "Christian Cliches" to 200 ministers at McCormick Theological Seminary's annual summer conference.

Police said the two boys were able to halt their headlong rush and climb out through a manhole opening. Their sisters were borne to refuse-filled Quincy Bay.

He advised his fellow clergy men, "Don't try too hard to be pure spirits—none was ever created."

Dr. Gill, 38, of Winnetka, Ill., holds theological degrees from Princeton University, Union Theological Seminary and the University of Zurich, Switzerland.

When Patty Ann emerged, Robert Myers of Quincy dived in and brought her to shore. She was hospitalized in a state of shock with cuts and bruises. Her condition was reported as good.

Miss Campbell was held in $100 bail after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct. Both women are 21-year-old Negroes.

Jap Communists Having Troubles With Party Split

By JAMES CARY TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist party is in trouble. Membership is down. Internal dissension has split the ranks. And the Reds have suffered a series of setbacks under Prime Minister Kishi's government.

Before this backdrop the Communists are holding in Tokyo their first national convention in 11 years.

They picked up strength quickly soon after World War II. With nearly three million votes, they won 35 seats in Parliament in 1949 and claimed a party membership of 120,000.

But he conceded that the stockpile includes both atomic bombs, which have a heavy radioactive fallout, and hydrogen bombs, which are relatively free of radioactive elements.

Anderson's charge that the Pentagon was developing "salted" bombs followed AEC descriptions of extremely dirty bombs exploded by the Soviet Union during the Siberian test series.

The resulting debate ruptured strained relations between Anderson and Strauss and preceded the AEC chairman's resignation.

Actors Have To Hustle According To Jon Hall

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Nowadays, an actor can't sit around and wait for his agent to call. He is got to get out and hustle for himself."

So Jon went to work with associates and produced the Samson-Hall underwater camera, a lightweight affair that one man can shoot four minutes of film and is quickly reloaded.

This is the credo of robust Jon Hall, and it is producing results. For instance:

He will exhibit the camera at an engineering convention here and reports that camera makers, the Navy and film producers are interested in it.

1. Tahitian-reared Hall has long been a fan of island music. Finding some inspired combos in Hawaiian night spots, he moved his own equipment in and made hi-fi and stereophonic recordings.

3. Having prospered with the amazingly successful "Ramar of the Jungle" television series, Jon is devising another one, "The Seven Seas." This one will get him

2. A veteran of making movies in, under and above the water ("The Hurricane," "South of Pago Pago," "Aloma of the South Seas," etc.), he has long recognized the difficulty of filming underwater. The submerged cameras were bulky, required two or three men to handle, could film only a limited time.

4. And when he can get a respite from all these activities, Jon will start developing his Makana Village, a resort hotel he plans to build on Maui Island in Hawaii. He has the plans all ready to go.

Tarboro Cops District Title; State Tourney Friday

Tar Heels Bow To Tarboro In 3-0 Finale

HAVELOCK — Tarboro's Little League All-Stars staged a fourth-inning rally here Saturday afternoon to trip the Greenville Tar Heels 3-0 and walked away with the District Little League title in their pocket.

Coaches Neely James, Tom Money and Tommy Lupton used no-hit pitcher Billy Cannon on the mound for Greenville and the stubby right-hander turned in a four-hit performance. He struck out 10 batters and didn't walk a single man — but he was defeated by those four Tarboro hits.

All four Tarboro blasts came in the fourth inning, one after the other, and accounted for the 3-0 score. The rally was started on a long pike into centerfield, followed by another into rightfield which landed over the heads of both the right and center fielders. Greenville made no errors in the game.

Baker pitched for Tarboro and gave up only three hits to the Greenville club. He fanned four batters and walked two. Getting the Greenville basehits were Frank Harper, Mike Cavendish, and Jim Smith.

The difference between the two teams was in the clutch hitting. Greenville left six men stranded on the bases and that inability to bring them around cost them the ballgame.

Braves Have Lots Of Walking Wounded

By CHUCK CAPALDO
MILWAUKEE (AP) — If the Milwaukee Braves win the National League pennant again this year, they'll do so with a bigger cast of walking wounded than played roles in the 1957 championship.

Toward the close of last season, Braves manager Fred Haney observed that in all his years in baseball he'd never experienced such a run of injuries. He spoke too soon, a season too soon.

This year his regulars have played together in only five of the club's 93 games to date. He fielded his regulars for the first 17 games of the '57 campaign before he was forced to go to his bench for help.

The regulars include either Frank Torre or Joe Adcock at first; Del Randall or Del Rice behind the plate; Wes Covington, Eddy Bruton and Hank Aaron in the outfield; Red Schoendienst at second; Eddie Mathews at third; and Johnny Logan at short.

Of the 93 games played to date, only Aaron with 92, Logan with 9 and Mathews with 89 have appeared with any degree of regularity.

Among those not expected to share their positions, Schoendienst has appeared in only 54 games, Bruton in 51 and Covington in 52. Andy Pafko, 37-year-old spare outfielder, has been in 55 games — more than any of the three.

While the Braves play the International League All-Stars in Toronto today, three of Haney's ambulance cases will visit Dr. Bruce Brewer here for checkups. They include Pafko, with the left side of his face puffed up from being hit by a thrown ball Thursday night, and Covington and Bruton for old knee injuries.

So far this season key players who have missed 10 or more games because of injuries include Covington, Bruton, Schoendienst, Bob Buhl and Torre.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Haney.

Rain Threatens To Halt Meet

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Rain threatened today to force postponement of the United States-Soviet track meet.

It rained all night and into the morning, sometimes in a down-pour.

Going into the second day of the two-day competition, the United States held a margin of 83-75 in points.

The United States' men figured to defeat the Russian men. But the Soviet women were rated far too powerful for the American girls. So much, in fact, that the Russian women were expected to share their positions.

More than make up the men's deficit and give the Soviets victory. The Russians consider it one big meet. The U.S. claim it is two.

But even figuring it the Russians' way, coaches George Eastman (men and Ed Temple) Women were hopeful with 17 events on today's schedule.

It could be that victory hinges on the decathlon, the final event of which winds up the meet. Rafter Johnson, lithe Los Angeles athlete, went into the last five events holding a 4,524-4,420 lead over his chief Russian opponent, Vasily Kuznetsov.

Curfew Ruins Two More Nat'l Games

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
The good old Sunday curfew has done it again in the National League. Two games, stopped by the clock in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, will dangle on a limb of the law—unfinished until Sept. 9.

Milwaukee is ahead at the moment by one full game. You won't know until Sept. 9 whether the San Francisco Giants really are half a game or a game and a half behind. By that time, it may not matter.

When the clock hit 6:59 p.m., Sunday baseball suddenly lost its legal standing in Pennsylvania. The umpires shooed the athletes to the shelter of the clubhouse and wired President Warren G. Mason to enter two more "suspended games" in the books. The only thing arrested was a potential winning rally by the Phillies.

Milwaukee moved out front by whipping the Chicago Cubs 4-1 with Henry Aaron driving in three runs and Carlton Willey winning with ninth-inning help from Don McMahon. It was Willey's fourth victory since his recall from Wichita six weeks ago.

The Giants were knocked out of a first-place tie by the Pirates. Bob Skinner's ninth-inning homer tied the score and Dick Groat finally untied it with a sacrifice fly in the 14th for a 2-1 Pittsburgh decision.

The Pirates came from behind to tie the second at 3-3 when play was suspended.

Robin Roberts won his 199th game (10 this year) as the Phils squeaked Los Angeles 7-4. Willie Jones hit two homers and Carl Sawatski one in that first game.

The second game had degenerated into an exhibition of shoddy fielding with pitcher Bob Galloway making two wild throws and Charley Neal one just before curfew.

few time. The Phils had rallied to go ahead 2-1 and they were still batting with two out in the sixth inning when play was suspended.

Cincinnati remained tied with Pittsburgh for fourth place by splitting two with St. Louis. After Larry Jackson pitched the Cards to a 4-3 victory in the opener, the Redlegs bombed Bob Mabe and his successors 10-1 in the second game.

In the American League Cleveland knocked off the New York Yankees twice by identical 7-2 scores as Rocky Colavito homered in each game. Second-place Boston beat Chicago 7-3. Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos pitched the Washington Senators to a double victory over Detroit 4-3 and 6-1.

McMahon's Cuban pitching pair of Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos downed Detroit twice, 4-3 and 6-1, and dropped the Tigers into seventh place. Roger Maris sent five runs across the plate as Kansas City turned on their Baltimore tormentors for an 11-6 victory.

Milwaukee opened up a full game lead in the National League with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Pittsburgh dropped San Francisco out of a first-place tie by beating the Giants 2-1 in 14 innings.

Willie Jones hit two homers to ease Robin Roberts' way to a 7-4 Philadelphia victory over Los Angeles. St. Louis and Cincinnati divided a pair. The Cards took the opener 4-3 and the Redlegs, the second 10-1.

The Yanks took a seven-game winning streak into Cleveland. Cal McLish broke the string with an eight-hitter in the first game while Colavito and Billy Harrell hit home runs.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant was even better in the second game with a three-hitter. Hank Bauer's single with one out in the sixth was the first Yankee hit. The score was tied at 2-2 when Colavito hit his grand slam off Turley.

Jim Piersall, Don Buddin, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone hit home runs in Boston's winning attack. Jensen's clout was his 29th high in the majors, knocking out Billy Pierce. Bud Eyerly won in relief.

Pascual allowed only four hits and Ramos gave up five in their fine efforts at Detroit. Eddie Yost, Washington's veteran third baseman, had six hits and Ramos singled his own cause with three singles. Bob Hazle's homer in the second game was the Tigers' seventh pinch home run of the year, matching a league record. Frank Lary and Hank Aguirre were the losers.

Chico Carrasquel and Joe DeMaestri, two Athletics who are not known for their fence busting, hit home runs against Baltimore and Bob Nieman hit a pair for the losers. Ned Garver won with relief help from Murry Dickson.

Wall Owes It All To Druggist Friend

By LOU PANOS
BALTIMORE (AP) — Fondling a new check for $2,800, Art Wall Jr. must be thinking sweet thoughts today of a druggist at Honesdale, Pa.

The check is Wall's prize for defeating Bob Rosburg and Jack Burke yesterday on the first hole of a spine-tingling sudden death playoff in the Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

The druggist is George Lang, a long-time friend of Art's father. Lang once owned the antique wooden-shafted putter which Wall yesterday sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole at Mt. Pleasant golf course. He gave the club to Art for a Christmas present 13 years ago.

Rosburg and Burke matched par 5 on the snowdown hole after they and Wall each had fired a 5-under-par 67 to finish the regulation holes all even at 276.

Earlier, Wall had canned a 15-footer for a birdie on the last green to gain the tie. Rosburg, playing with him in the next-to-last three-ones on the course, also birdied the final hole, dropping a six-foot putt.

Gary Player, the bouncy little South African who had led the field by one stroke going into the last round, staged a rousing finish by birdying the last two holes. But his 69 was good enough for only a 277 total and fourth place.

Jim Perree of Winston-Salem, N. C., also posted a final round 67 to finish with Mike Fetcheck in a tie for fifth at 283. Fetcheck had 71 yesterday.

One stroke behind them came Don Fairfield with a 71 in the finale, and Gene Littler, 72.

Among six players tied at 285 were Sam Snead, with 74 yesterday, George Bayer, 71, Marty Furgol, 70, Jay Hebert, 70, Bob Goalby, 72, and Clarence Doser, 70.

Big Purse In Western NC Stockcar '500'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They'll be driving for high stakes August 17, when the first Western North Carolina "500" Sweepstakes roars over the half-mile black top Asheville-Weaver-ville Speedway.

Promoter Gene Sluder has announced a $16,200 purse for the 250-mile speed test over what has been described as the fastest high banked, half-mile asphalt track in the country.

The winner will get $2,600, the runner-up $1,800.

The track fans had plenty of excitement over the weekend.

Ned Jarrett of Newton roared home to victory Sunday in the 35-lap sportsman feature stock car race at the half-mile dirt track at the Ararat, Va., speedway.

The finish on a 10-lap hobby race was a crashing one. Don Collins of Pilot Mountain rolled across the line in second place and smashed into an ambulance parked on the runway. Damage was estimated at $300.

George Dunn Jr. of Raleigh made it three straight and five this season at the Bowman Gray Stadium track in Winston-Salem Saturday night. He spurred on the final lap of the 35-lap sportsman feature to win by two feet from Ned Jarrett of Newton. Jarrett, defending national champion, had led most of the way.

A crowd of 4,200 saw Harold Moore of Mt. Ulla finish third, Burken Skeen of Denton fourth and Pee Wee Jones of Winston-Salem fifth.

Bob Welborn of Greensboro won the 100-mile NASCAR late model convertible feature at Myrtle Beach Saturday night. He drove a '57 Chevrolet. Tiny Lund of Atlanta was second in a '56 Ford and Larry Frank of Angier third in a '57 Chevrolet. The race carried a $5,000 purse.

Banjo Matthews won the 40-lap sportsman feature at McCormick Field in Asheville Saturday. Ralph Earnhardt of Kannapolis was second after leading the qualifiers.

Harold Byrd of Salisbury was the 40-lap feature winner at Hickory Saturday. Several wrecks marred the event, but there were no injuries. Clem Little of Conover was second and Leon Call of Hickory third.

Hickory, Tarboro, Cool Springs To Compete Here

By BILLY ARNOLD
Reflector Sports Editor
Three of the four clubs who will clash in the 1956 State Little League baseball Tournament here August 1st and 2nd, have been decided this afternoon.

Tarboro's All-Stars, who defeated Greenville 3-0 in the finals of a district playoff at Havelock, Saturday, will have one of the four berths.

Cool Springs, of Forest City, copped the district 1 title this past weekend to wrap up the representation from the far western part of the state.

Hickory's American Leaguers eliminated the Hickory Tar Heels by the score of 7-1 and the Hickory Nationals by 7-1 and rolled over Randleman, 5-4 in the District 2 tournament to become the representative from that area. The Hickory American baseballers will represent the district which includes Statesville, Mooresville, Randleman, Lenoir and Hickory.

The fourth club in the State tournament will come from the Charlotte Area. That area play-offs are underway and will be decided in championship play this afternoon. The Daily Reflector will announce the representative from that area as soon as word comes from that Little League office.

Last year, Greenville's Tar Heel All-Stars copped the District tournament and then captured the State title by whipping Charlotte in the finals of the state tourney at Fort Bragg. They then journeyed to Rome, Georgia, for the Regional playoffs where they were eliminated.

The Greenville Little League organization, working with the local Recreation Department and other interested parties is making arrangements for the State Tournament, here, at the end of this week. Several years ago, the Greenville Elm Street Park was the site for a Southern Regional Tournament which included teams from many of the Southern States. It is regarded as one of the most ideal playing fields in the South.

The two day tournament will begin Friday and will finish up on Saturday afternoon. All the plans and arrangements have not been completed.

Below are the rosters for the three teams already scheduled to take part in the tournament. Tarboro's roster is incomplete, but will be filled in as soon as the local officials receive word from Tarboro.

Young Anthony Perkins No Longer Goes Barefoot

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The toughest thing in Hollywood is being a seminonconformist, says young Anthony Perkins.
As a result, he no longer goes barefoot or hitchhikes to the movie studios.
Ah, me! Is there no way to stop this thundering rush on the part of Americans toward conformity? Apparently not, if Tony's experience is any example.
Tony came to town as a king of off-beat guy. He spoke his mind and did as he pleased. But the town's conventions began closing in on him, and he had to alter his habits.
"The hardest thing is to try to go halfway in nonconformity in Hollywood," he opined. "Either you have to be a total nonconformist or you might as well conform all the way."
"Only a few can get away with nonconforming. You take a fellow like Marlon Brando. After a while, people get used to his being independent. When he does something that doesn't fit the pattern, people say, 'Well, that's Brando for you.'

"Most of the others merely take the easy way out and conform."
If he's so set against it, why doesn't he fight the system?
"I don't have the guts," he confessed. "You've got to have complete independence to be a nonconformist. But I worry about the consequences."
Tony illustrated with his early experience. He's a guy who likes to go without shoes. No affectation—he just likes being barefoot.
"But I got so tired of people asking me about it and saying I was eccentric, I gave it up," he said.
Tony is back here to star with Audrey Hepburn in "Green Mansions" after his Broadway hit in "Look Homeward, Angel." I noticed he was wearing normal-type glasses instead of the Air Force-like goggles he used to sport. Once again, conformity—"I got tired of telling people why I wore them."
Don't let 'em get you down, Tony. What this town needs is a few dozen more individualists.

Popham And Woestendiek To Speak At Conference

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Former New York Times correspondent John Popham and editorial director Bill Woestendiek of Long Island's Newsday will speak at the seventh annual meeting of the North Carolina conference of news and feature writers here Sept. 6.
Popham, now editor of the Chittanooga Times, will speak on "The Newspaper of 1958."
Woestendiek, a graduate of the University of North Carolina and Columbia School of Journalism, will speak on "Modern Trends in Features."
He worked on the Winston-Salem Journal, was a Nieman Fellow in Journalism at Harvard, and has been a member of the Newsday staff for several years. Before he was named editorial director and editor of the editorial page.
A special feature of the day will be a critique of news and features by associate professor of journalism Ken Byerly of the University of North Carolina.

Prof. Byerly is former editor and publisher of a chain of Western newspapers. He will examine samples of news and feature writing, and give appraisals of style, content, typography and other elements of news treatment.
A panel of North Carolina editors will start the conference. "What does a story have to say to be accepted?" will be the subject discussed by Jim Chaney of the Raleigh News and Observer, Hayll Thompson of the Charlotte Observer, Gowan Caldwell of the Winston-Salem Journal, James F. Reynolds of the Greensboro Daily News and Carroll McGaughy of WSOC-TV in Charlotte.

Suicide Jump Ends In Shallow Water

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police said Donald Wilt's dramatic suicide plan—driving off a bridge—ended up in a mud puddle.
What's more, the girl who spurned his marriage proposal was with him.
"You'd better get out of here," Wilt told Phyllis Joann Aultman yesterday. "When I get to the second bridge I'm going to drive off."
And when Wilt got to the second bridge he did drive off. The car plunged 20 feet down an embankment and into the San Gabriel River bed.
Driver and passenger were thrown into mud and water. The tide was out and the water was shallow. Wilt, 28, was treated for a broken arm and Miss Aultman, 19, for a scalp laceration.

Topsail Swimmer Struggles Ashore

TOPSAIL BEACH, N. C. (AP)—"Have faith in God, daddy. Have faith in God."
Eleven-year-old Marrow Smith repeated the words again and again as he and his father struggled through heaving waves to the shore.
"I was frightened to start with, but when he kept saying 'Have faith in God,' I wasn't afraid any more," said 38-year-old C. K. Smith of Kinston.
Smith said he and his young son were fishing in the ocean outside new Topsail Inlet Saturday when a big wave swamped the boat and threw the pair into the sea, 400 yards from shore.
They managed to reach preservers in the boat and were able to swim to safety.

Wall Street Confident Business Upturn Will Stay

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The bulls are sniffing inflation ahead and are confident that the turn in business is here. That is why last week they bid up stock prices almost to the record high of a year ago.
In doing this they are putting their own interpretation on the Middle East crisis and on the effects of a possible visit of Khrushchev to these shores.
Corporate earnings statements for the first half of the year also look different to the bulls than to the bears. In fact the bulls are ignoring the numerous bears, whose betting on a further shake out in the market is shown by a record volume of short selling (making a sales contract now in effect) at a lower price to fulfill the contract at a profit.
The bulls also think the inventory trend is turning—from drastic paring of stocks to inquiries and actual orders that herald a rebuilding of stocks in the near future—with the Middle East playing a large role.
The bulls hold that the Middle East crisis is to be a war of nerves instead of bullets. This would support many of the forces making for further inflation: increased spending for defense, larger federal deficits, a higher debt ceiling. In other words, the government will be pumping more money into the economy by deficit spending than it will be taking out by tax collections. Business usually reacts to this by a spurt of activity on its own.

Inflation has another built in booster. This is the automatic rise in some wage scales, and the prospects of pay hikes in other industries — prospects which increased world tension and inflation of the monetary system make all the stronger.
Corporate earnings reports can be interpreted differently, depending on whether you're a bull or a bear.
The bear sees that in general corporate earnings are well below those of this time last year. Prices of many stocks are many times their present earnings per share—a higher ratio than many market counselors think healthy judging by past performances of this market.
The bull notes the sizable list of companies reporting their earnings in the last three months were much better than in the first three months of the year. He deduces that the recession hit bottom about the time of the spring equinox and that the mild rebound in large spring will gain bounce in the fall.

The bull seizes on signs that consumers are spending a bit more now than in the uncertain days of late winter, that increased defense spending is beginning to show, that industrial output rose in June and the factory work week lengthened.
To the cautious this adds up to an end of the recession—and not necessarily to a reason for a renewed bull market in stocks.
But the bull scents renewed inflation born of world tension and federal deficits. He expects business to react enthusiastically.
And that could be why you see bulls pushing The Associated Press average of 60 stocks to 183, just five points below its year ago level. Just six points below the record high of July 12, 1957—and a spanking 32 points above its level at the start of this year.

Two Trujillos In Los Angeles

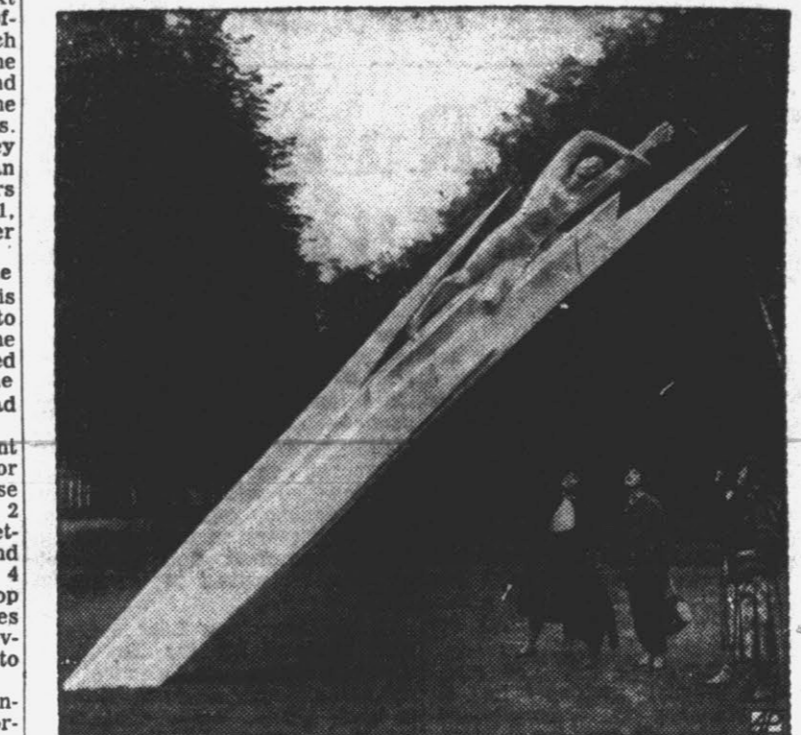

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rafael Trujillo Jr., the Dominican playboy, is cruising in Mexican waters. But Los Angeles has another Rafael Trujillo in residence—also a distinguished Latin.
The latter is an honored citizen of Mexico, 61 years of age, and bears no relationship to the yacht owner of the same name. He's an official representative of Baja California here for commerce and industry.
He had this comment on the 29-year-old general who played Santa Claus this summer to a bevy of Hollywood beauties: "I believe Trujillo's actions here are pitiful and tragic. They are definitely harmful to inter-American relations."

Boy Is Attacked By 5-Foot Shark

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A shark savagely attacked 8-year-old Douglas Lawton yesterday in shallow water near Longboat Key where he was bathing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Lawton.
The elder Lawton carried his son ashore with the 5-foot shark's jaws still clamped around Douglas' left thigh. The jaws had to be forcibly disengaged. Surgeons amputated Douglas' leg close to the hip.

No Free Loading On Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sorry, but the Post Office Department says there'll be no free loading of mail at the old postal rates after July 31.
Not even for one minute.
The nation's new scheduled of postal rates goes into effect next Friday, Aug. 1. And the Post Office Department is out to squelch rumors that it won't enforce the higher charges immediately and will permit a grace period for the public to get used to the changes.
The department intends to obey the letter of the law, a spokesman said, and this means letters mailed after midnight, July 31, must bear postage at the higher rates.
If not, the post office will handle the letter on a postage due basis with the recipient being asked to fork over an extra penny. If he refuses, the sender will be billed a cent. If nobody pays, then the letter is dispatched to the dead letter office.
Besides the boost in the 3-cent stamp, the new rate scheduled for domestic first-class mail will raise the price for postcards from 2 cents to 3 cents, for air mail letters from 6 cents to 7 cents and for air mail postcards from 4 cents to 5 cents. Rates for drop letters in small communities which don't have pickup or delivery service will advance from 2 to 3 cents.
There also will be various increases in commercial and foreign types of mail.

Stunt Balloons Into New Angle

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Jack Roberson was baffled when the first person came into his grocery store and said, "Here's your balloon, where's my hundred dollars."
And he was more confused when others followed, including a man who had driven 16 miles from neighboring Beebe and a woman who phoned from Concord, 30 miles away.
Finally, he figured it out. He had given gas-filled balloons to scores of youngsters as part of an anniversary celebration for his store. Apparently some of the youngsters had thought up the trick of tying notes to the balloons, promising the $100 payments, and then releasing them.

a new, clean, modern street paved with SOIL-CEMENT

Many men have gone to work in the morning over an old, rutted, dusty street and returned that evening to find that it has been replaced with a clean, smooth and modern soil-cement pavement.
These same men learned, over the years, that the "quick-change" was also a lasting change, that the soil-cement pavement that had transformed their dusty street was also a pavement of extra long service. They learned that soil-cement streets have served other neighborhoods for 10, 15 and more years with little upkeep.
Converting dusty streets to soil-cement is economical and fast. It's economical because about 85% of the required material is usually soil already on the site. It's fast because experienced contractors can pave several blocks in a day. Here's all there is to it. Small predetermined amounts of portland cement and water are added to existing road soil to form a base. This is compacted and rolled and finished with a thin bituminous surface.
Soil-cement pavements deliver dependable, all-weather service. They save time, temper and taxes. You will want all the streets in your neighborhood paved with clean, economical, smooth soil-cement.

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers were higher in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was heavy. Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point. The trend was slightly higher in early dealings but more losses appeared as profits were taken on the strong rise of last week. Chemicals, big gainers last week, were clipped. Motors were mostly steady. The coppers came to life with a sudden spurt. Considerable churning of prices was apparent as the market followed through from Friday's rise which was accompanied by the heaviest volume of the year and put the average close to a 12-month peak. The weekend business news was encouraging overall but the relatively high level of prices left many stocks vulnerable. Steels, rails and oils were irregular. Aircrafts and electronics showed a higher tendency. Kennecott rose about 2. Anaconda fell over a point and Phelps Dodge a fraction. General Motors was up a fraction on an opening block of 7,500 shares and Schenley added 1/4 on its opener of 6,000 shares, later erasing its gain. Considerable investment buying and short covering combined with the profit taking to boost activity. Allied Chemical, which gained more than 7 points last week, was off 2 a 86 on a block of 1,300 shares, then reduced this loss a bit. Du Pont and American Cyanamid fell about a point each. Firestone hopes more than to a point ahead while a loss of equal proportions was taken by Lorillard. Gulf Oil was down about a point. Royal Dutch was up slightly. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 cents to $192.50 with the industrials down 40 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 21 persons were reported killed by violence in the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. As usual, most of them died in automobile crashes. State police blamed high speed for most of the highway deaths. An unloaded lumber truck and a car crashed together Saturday night leaving three dead in the wreckage. The victims were Charles Franklin Nimmo Jr., 29, of Raleigh; Lela Evelyn Morris, 25, of Rt. 1, Charlotte; and Mary Elizabeth Littleton of Toccoa, Ga. The truck driver, Marvin Edward Marley Jr., of Wallace, was charged with three counts of manslaughter and failure to stop for a stop sign. A 38-year-old Negro, David Hovis of Gastonia, was killed Sunday afternoon while driving to a funeral. A 2-year-old Negro boy in Winston-Salem, Melvin Leon McKee, was killed Sunday when he ran into the path of an auto near his home. A young man from Marion was killed early Sunday when his car slammed head-on into a trailer rig loaded with 22,000 pounds of freight. Police said Albert Franklin Fox was driving at a high rate of speed when his car swerved across U.S. 70 near Marion. A 22-year-old Charlotte man, James Eugene Borders, drowned in the Catawba River Saturday. Police said 19-year-old Donald Lee Jenkins died Sunday of head injuries. He was found beside the Southern Railway tracks. A train engineer said he did not know whether or not the train hit Jenkins. Jack Robinson, 41-year-old South Carolina Negro, drowned Sunday in the South River near Clinton. Coroner Coleman Curtis said death followed either cramps or a heart attack. He said no inquest would be held.

NEW YORK (AP) — Superior Court solicitors elected by the people and working on a full-time basis can best serve the administration of justice. Atty. Gen. Malcolm B. Seawell, who has been both a solicitor and a judge of the Superior Court, expressed this view at a banquet Saturday night closing a meeting of the state's district solicitors. Seawell said he is convinced that a law prohibiting solicitors from practicing law outside their official duties "is necessary for the state." At the same time, he indicated, solicitors should be placed on a salary "more commensurate with their duties and responsibilities." The question of full-time solicitors is one which may come up at the session of the Legislature which convenes next February. Lawmakers considered such a plan in 1937, but delayed action after a number of solicitors expressed opposition.

The Ladies Social Sorority Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Rosa Moore, 1609-A West Third Street, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Catherine Kilpatrick of Newark, N. J., pastor, will preach at St. Matthew's Free Will Baptist Church in Meadowbrook Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. The Spiritual Singers will sing at St. Matthew's next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The Ruth Hill Gospel Chorus will rehearse tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church. The Junior Choir will rehearse at the church Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Members of the Woman's Day Program cast will meet Tuesday night at 8 o'clock for rehearsal at Corner Stone Baptist Church. Woman's Day Program will be presented August 17.

As usual, most of them died in automobile crashes. State police blamed high speed for most of the highway deaths. An unloaded lumber truck and a car crashed together Saturday night leaving three dead in the wreckage. The victims were Charles Franklin Nimmo Jr., 29, of Raleigh; Lela Evelyn Morris, 25, of Rt. 1, Charlotte; and Mary Elizabeth Littleton of Toccoa, Ga. The truck driver, Marvin Edward Marley Jr., of Wallace, was charged with three counts of manslaughter and failure to stop for a stop sign. A 38-year-old Negro, David Hovis of Gastonia, was killed Sunday afternoon while driving to a funeral. A 2-year-old Negro boy in Winston-Salem, Melvin Leon McKee, was killed Sunday when he ran into the path of an auto near his home. A young man from Marion was killed early Sunday when his car slammed head-on into a trailer rig loaded with 22,000 pounds of freight. Police said Albert Franklin Fox was driving at a high rate of speed when his car swerved across U.S. 70 near Marion. A 22-year-old Charlotte man, James Eugene Borders, drowned in the Catawba River Saturday. Police said 19-year-old Donald Lee Jenkins died Sunday of head injuries. He was found beside the Southern Railway tracks. A train engineer said he did not know whether or not the train hit Jenkins. Jack Robinson, 41-year-old South Carolina Negro, drowned Sunday in the South River near Clinton. Coroner Coleman Curtis said death followed either cramps or a heart attack. He said no inquest would be held.

Seawell Speaks To N. C. Firemen

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP) — The duties of fire departments have changed through the years and the establishment of good will between firemen and townspeople has become increasingly important. This was the gist of an address today by Atty. Gen. Malcolm B. Seawell to the North Carolina Assn. of Fire Chiefs meeting in his home town of Lumberton. Seawell said, "Public relations and good will cannot be built or maintained by the chiefs of fire departments who seek to straddle the fence in the performance of some of the duties which are now theirs in the various communities." As an example, he warned the chiefs who must double as building inspectors to caution against compromising when it comes to declaring certain buildings as fire hazards. He cited fire prevention education programs among school children in many communities as a good example of good will promotion. "This program within the schools should be expanded to the end that these future citizens will have a keen appreciation of the services which the fire departments give to the people," he said. He also mentioned as other examples of good public relations the sponsoring of athletic programs, the empty stocking program of toy rebuilding and the cooperation between fire departments and news media. He said fire chiefs should inform persons living outside city limits and away from sources of water that they cannot receive the same protection received by people living within the community. He concluded by telling the chiefs, "Finally the best way that I know of for chiefs of various fire departments to promote good public relations is for them and for their men to understand that a fire department exists for one purpose — and that is to protect the property and the lives of people within their jurisdictions."

Jehovah's Witnesses Open 8-Day Assembly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — More than 180,000 Jehovah's Witnesses overflowed Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds yesterday to open an eight-day Divine Will International Assembly. A light afternoon rain failed to dampen the Witnesses' spirits and was met by only a few umbrellas. Negroes, whites and Asians mingled freely and heard Milton G. Henschel, convention chairman, emphasize that there is no "nationalistic or racial barrier." "We are one," Henschel said. "Others may claim to be Christians but actions speak louder than words. Here we have true Christians and real disciples." Officials have called this New York City's largest convention ever. A spokesman for the Witnesses said 117,295 were at the Stadium and 62,996 at the Polo Grounds. Thousands were in streets nearby, many munching hot dogs while listening to the speeches over amplifiers. The Witnesses are legally constituted as the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society. Witnesses believe a battle between good and evil—Armageddon—is close at hand. Only those of their persuasion, they maintain, will be saved when the battle occurs.

Advices Letting The Lord Decide

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Should doctors make supreme efforts to prolong the lives of hopelessly ill elderly patients? My advice would not be to move heaven and earth to keep a dying man alive, but let him go when the good Lord sends for him," says Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, noted medical writer. He spoke at a symposium here. Dr. Alvarez said prolonged illness can drain a family's financial resources. He also questioned whether it is right to keep a hopelessly ill person alive to "suffer the tortures of the damned."

Saturday Night Party Broken Up By ABC Men

A Saturday night party was broken up in the Belvoir section by Pitt County's ABC officers who apparently "didn't take too kindly to the goings on." According to Chief ABC officer J.M. Ward there were approximately 30 Negro men and women, boys and girls, dancing and appearing to have a good time. The party might have continued but for the fact, the host Roger Hooks 21-year-old Negro of Greenville Route 4 was arrested and taken into custody by the "intervening" officers. Ward quoted Hooks as saying he was giving members of the party a drink of bootleg whiskey every time he purchased a hot and a cold drink. The "host" was charged with possession of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale. Following his arrest, Hooks was released under a $200 bond to appear during the next term of county court. No other arrests were made in connection with the case. Adolphus Jones 21-year-old Negro of General Delivery, Grifton, was also arrested Saturday night by ABC officers. Jones, picked up in the Saint John's Church section, was charged with illegal possession of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale. He was released under a $200 bond. A small quantity of bootleg liquor was reportedly found in his possession.

The driver of the second car involved, Linwood Richard Leary, 19-year-old Negro of Vanceboro, Route 1, was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.
