Labor Measure Apparently Dead For This Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor legislation apparently is dead for this session of Congress. But signs point to another battle over the issue next year. The last hope for enactment of such legislation this year faded yesterday when the House voted 190-198 to kill the Kennedy-Ives bill aimed at curbing corruption in labor union activities.

Trial Is Delayed By Conferences

A conference which lasted nearly two hours this morning apparently failed to result in any agreements between District Solicitor Robert D. Rouse Jr. and defense attorneys for three Cherry Point Marines charged with a series of local burglaries and attempted burglaries.

Baptist Church Ceremony Unites Miss Jean Moye, Mr. Shepard

In a double ring ceremony Miss Shelby Jean Moye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert William Moye of Greenville, became the bride of Glenn Harvey Shepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Shepard of Newport News, Va. The marriage was solemnized in the Piney Grove Baptist Church Sunday, August 17, at 4:00 o'clock with the Rev. Howard Glenn James, cousin of the bride, officiating.

Prior to the ceremony a program of spiritual music was presented by Mrs. Ruth Moye Taylor, pianist, and Mrs. Moye Dall, soloist. Mrs. Dall sang "At Dawn" and "A Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with palms and greenery. Floor standards of white gladioli were used with seven-branched candelabra with myriads of white cathedral candles. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and tulle over satin, fashioned with a round neckline and long pointed sleeves. The fitted bodice of lace extended onto a bouffant skirt forming a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a lace crown interspersed with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a lavender orchid. Her only accessory was a pair of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rose Marie Moye attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length dress of powder blue batiste featuring a round neckline and short sleeves. Her headpiece was of nylon net and flowers in matching shades. She wore white gloves and carried a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums.

Dr. Felix Eugene Shepard of Dayton, Ohio served his brother as best man. Ushers were John Henry Dickens of Newport News, Va., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Carroll Robinson of Newport News, Va.

The mother of the bride chose a navy blue dress with matching accessories. She wore a lavender chrysanthemum corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue dress with navy accessories and a lavender chrysanthemum corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church social hall.

The bride was graduated from Greenville High School and received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from the Medical College of Virginia, School of

Mr. Shepard was graduated from Warwick High School, and received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology from the University of Virginia. He was a member of "The Ravens," National Honorary Scholastic Society, "Phi Sigma," National Honorary Biological Society, and "Sigma Phi Epsilon," Social Fraternity. Mr. Shepard will enter the University of Virginia, School of Medicine, in September.

The bride chose for her wedding trip a powder blue dress of beau de soire with matching hat and navy accessories. She wore the navy lifted from her Bible.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside at 2511A, Brunswick Road, Charlottesville, Va.

Dear Santa: Please Send Mink

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Writer

If women wrote to Santa Claus, their first request would be for a mink coat, their second a dream kitchen.

This is a well-authenticated conclusion arrived at by Sam Reiner after 11 years of producing prizes for contests.

Reiner is a pleasant, quiet-spoken man who doesn't look at all like Santa Claus, but gives away a million dollars a year in contest prizes. This year, he says, it may hit two million.

A former brasserie salesman, Reiner decided to set up a business as a contest consultant shortly after he got out of the service in World War II. In the years since he has given away everything from the use of a palace on the Riviera to a mattress stuffed with money.

Says he: "Trends change in American dreams. Ten years ago women wanted household appliances more than anything else. Today the mink coat represents Utopia in the feminine mind."

"Travel is something practically everybody dreams about, and some of the most popular contest prizes are trips abroad for a family of four. Men want high-powered automobiles, particularly sports cars. The whole family dreams of having a swimming pool in the back yard. And boats of all kinds are increasingly popular."

To keep abreast of the trends in the tastes of the public, Reiner makes periodic surveys of housewives, businessmen and office workers to find out what they would ask for if they were given Aladdin's lamp. Through the surveys he has reached some other conclusions.

"Most people would rather have merchandise than money," he says. "For instance, the sight of an $8,000 mink coat is much more exciting to a woman than a check of the same value. Money is something most people expect to get in sufficient quantity just by working. But a trip to Europe is something that isn't within the everyday plans of the average family."

Winning such a prize in a contest, for writing a single or solving a puzzle, puts life on a completely different, glamorous level. It's an experience they can enjoy and then talk about the rest of their lives."

Rickover Claims Giant Atomic Sub 'Triton' Heralds Underseas Fleet

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover said today that the giant atomic submarine Triton will show the way for building big capital ships to travel under the seas.

His prediction was contained in a congratulatory message sent the builders of the Triton, which was poised for ceremonial launching today.

The monster sub is the largest ever built. Officially listed at 5,900 tons, it will displace almost 8,000 tons when fully equipped and ready for trials early next year.

It will serve primarily as a floating and submerging distant warning station to sound alarm of approaching enemy planes or cruise-type missiles.

Rickover, called by many the father of nuclear submarines, said several days ago he would be unable to attend the launching ceremony because of the pressure of his work. There was a flurry of criticism from some congressional members, who believed that the controversial Rickover hadn't been invited.

But the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., builders of the Triton, said invitations to Rickover and his wife were mailed.

In his message to Frank Pace, president of General Dynamics, Rickover said: "I regret that I am not able to be present at the launching of the Triton, for I consider this to be a significant event in naval history."

"The Triton will pioneer the submarine technology necessary for capital ships of the future to operate submerged."

At another point, Rickover said: "The significance of today's launching goes beyond the addition of this important ship to the fleet. It marks the development of an advance type of nuclear propulsion plant and symbolizes the submersible capital ship of the future."

The Triton will be the first submarine to be powered with two atomic engines. They are being built by the Knolls Laboratory of General Electric.

The high shaft horsepower de-

The huge sail is set in place on America's largest submarine, the Triton, at Groton, Conn., where she will be launched Aug. 19. veloped by each of the reactors is substantially above that for reactors in any present atomic submarine. The reactors use a fuel element shaped like twisted ribbon. Other features include a method for loading new fuel into the reactors without extensive removal of equipment—which company experts claim will mean a cut of about four weeks in the time presently required for the job.

The Triton will be able to take aboard fuel replenishment while anchored out, instead of brought in to dockside. The 447-foot long tube of steel, 37 feet in diameter at its widest point, towered about 60 feet above the cradle upon which she rested. Unlike the smaller attack type nuclear submarines, she is a double hulled boat, with a streamlined outer hull over an inside, pressure hull—a method used in conventional submarine construction.

about that is the Middle West is a place where people really love to dance.

"The band and I just came back from a tour out there. We played in some big places and some little places you never heard of. In this little town in North Dakota with a population of 80 we played in a big ballroom to 3,000 people in two nights. They came from miles around to dance."

"They were mostly farmers and their wives and children. I want to tell you that some of the best dancers in the country are farmers and their wives and kids."

It's Kaye's theory that Midwesterners usually are more energetic dancers than Easterners because they're more used to the idea of participation and because entertainment is not as diversified in some Midwestern areas as in some Eastern urban areas.

Kaye, who had a TV program in 1953, plans to enlarge his band for his new series and will have occasional guests. While his emphasis will be on music the entire family can dance too, he doesn't think it imperative that his guests always be musicians or vocalists.

It would be fun, he thinks, if sometimes he brought on a couple of his golfing pals. Bob Crosby and Peter Lind Hayes, to chat about things like golf.

Dulles stressed the situation in the Middle East last night in addressing a dinner gathering of the annual national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Through the use of inflammatory radio broadcasts; through infiltration of weapons, personnel and bribe money; through incitement to murder and assassination; and through threats of personal violence, it becomes possible for one nation to destroy the genuine independence of another," he said.

U. S. troops in Lebanon will be withdrawn whenever the U. N. General Assembly finds that such aid is unnecessary, Dulles declared. The United Nations, he added, is prepared to "subordinate our judgment to the collective judgment of the world community."

Obviously referring to the recent course of events in the Middle East, he said: "The United States is convinced that if indirect aggression, in the form of fomenting civil strife or subverting foreign governments, is now tolerated as an instrument of international policy, events will indeed follow the tragic pattern which led to World War II, and this time with even more disastrous consequences."

State Dulles says indirect aggression "has become an issue with which the United Nations and its members must deal."

He says indirect aggression, if unchecked, could lead to a third world war.

Border Prices Still Above 1957

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Average prices were off slightly from last week but still well above the 1957 season as growers continued moving a heavy volume of fine-cured tobacco to Carolinas Border Belt markets.

Losses in average prices by grade yesterday mostly were $1 and $2 per 100 pounds compared with last Friday. Some low primings and nondescript dropped as much as $3 to $5.

The Federal-State Market News Service reported, however, that various leaf grades gained an average $1 and $2.

There also was a marked improvement in quality with an increase in fair leaf and a corresponding decrease in nondescript.

More than one-half of the tobacco on market floors was leaf grades.

The Market News Service said that gross sales at the 19 markets on the belt totaled 40,467,094 pounds. The average was $61.53 per 100 pounds.

For the season, sales jumped to 65,674,676 pounds and an average $60.76.

Following is a list of auction bid averages yesterday on several grades, with changes from Friday:

Leaf—Good lemon $67, unchanged; fair lemon 65, up 1; low lemon 62, up 1; fair orange 67, up 1. Cutters—low lemon 66, unchanged; low orange 69, unchanged.

Lugs—Good lemon 69, unchanged; fair lemon 67, unchanged; good orange 61, down 1; low orange 47, down 5.

Nondescript—Best thin body 33, down 3.

Lost Their Car On Steep Grade

SPRINGVILLE, Utah (AP)—Henry Teller Tyler's brakes failed as he and his wife drove down steep Spanish Fork Canyon in Central Utah yesterday.

The Modesto, Calif., man managed to stop his car with the emergency brake. Then, using the emergency and low gear, he proceeded to the 16-mile grade.

A tire blew out. After swapping tires, Tyler set out again.

But his brakes got so hot they set the car on fire. A passing Denver and Rio Grande Western freight train stopped and the crew used its hand extinguishers in a vain effort to quell the flames.

The Tylers lost their car, luggage and fishing and camping equipment. A fire truck dispatched from Springville gave them a lift into town.

Six railway and subway lines use the basement of a large Tokyo department store as a terminal.

These members of the labor federation's Executive Council said the same management groups likely will seek stronger legislation next year — legislation that, from labor's viewpoint, would hamstring unions.

A somewhat similar charge was voiced by Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), a cosponsor of the Senate bill killed in the House. Ives said a lot of House members "were misled by false propaganda" from the NAM, the Chamber of Commerce, the American Retail Federation, the Teamsters Union and the United Mine Workers.

NAM President Milton C. Lightner has said his organization opposed the bill on the ground it was inadequate to deal with union abuses. Lightner also contended the bill would weaken safeguards in the Taft-Hartley Act.

There was no immediate comment by the others mentioned.

Consider Putting Kierdorf Up For Grand Jury's Action

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams and three prosecutors today considered calling a grand jury to investigate the mysterious fire death of Teamsters business agent Frank Kierdorf and the burning of a dry cleaning establishment.

They set up their meeting for the office of Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor Samuel Olsen. With Adams were Prosecutors Jerome O'Rourke of Genesee County and Frederick Ziem of Oakland County.

The meeting, an effort to link the two incidents with eight dynamite explosions at Detroit business establishments since January, came on the heels of the surprising appearance of the long-sought Herman Kierdorf.

Herman, 68, himself a former Teamsters Union business agent, passed a lie detector test yesterday, less than 24 hours after he voluntarily surrendered to police.

Although he still refused to talk about many facets of the case — including his whereabouts for the 13 days he was missing — he agreed to discuss three questions for the lie detector.

He said he had no prior knowledge of the burning of the dry cleaning establishment at Flint, Mich., that he was not on the scene, and that he did not help take the critically burned Frank to a hospital.

Adams said Herman had been missing since Aug. 4, the day Frank appeared at a Pontiac hospital with burns over 65 per cent of his body. Frank, 56, died four days later.

After 90 minutes of questioning yesterday, Adams said Herman still refused to say anything about his activities after midnight, Aug. 3 — the approximate time Frank was burned and the dry cleaning establishment was set on fire.

He also answered "No comment on the advice of counsel" when asked why Teamsters President James R. Hoffa told him to resign his Teamsters job after he testified before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Herman, like Frank, was an uncooperative witness for the committee. Both took the Fifth Amendment repeatedly and gave little more than their names.

Herman was served last night at Pontiac with a subpoena for another appearance before the racketeers investigators. He will appear Monday.

Claim Business Helped Kill Labor Control Bill

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—Several labor union chiefs said today business interests helped sink a labor control bill in Congress to push for sterner measures next year.

The House of Representatives yesterday killed a Senate-passed labor bill, apparently ending the last chance for such legislation at this session.

AFL-CIO leaders, meeting here, had urged its passage, saying they believed the interests of the public and "the decent element in the labor movement and management" thus would be served.

In the wake of the House action, various AFL-CIO chiefs put major blame for defeat of the bill on the National Assn. of Manufacturers and U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

These members of the labor federation's Executive Council said the same management groups likely will seek stronger legislation next year — legislation that, from labor's viewpoint, would hamstring unions.

A somewhat similar charge was voiced by Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), a cosponsor of the Senate bill killed in the House. Despite Frank's story that he was set on fire by two strangers, police believe the burns were the result of an arson plot that grew out of a shakedown racket.

Herman was arrested on a warrant charging possession of a gun silencer. He refused to discuss that also. He did suggest a question during the test, Taylor told reporters. It was: "Why don't you ask me if Hoffa knew anything about it I'm willing to testify that he didn't either."

Danger Zone To Go Into Effect

HONOLULU (AP)—A 37,800-square-mile danger zone for British nuclear tests at Christmas Island goes into effect tomorrow.

The danger area is considered relatively small, as was the zone for Britain's April tests, but a Navy announcement said, "Early warning will be given if it is necessary to extend danger area."

When Britain fired its big H-bomb last summer, shipping was warned to stay clear of a 640,000-square-mile area.

Veteran Actor Rests In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Edward G. Robinson is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for observation. He says he's feeling fine.

The veteran actor became ill Sunday on a flight from New York, causing the airliner to make an unscheduled stop at Las Vegas, Nev.

An ambulance took him to a hospital, where the illness was diagnosed as a bladder condition. Robinson responded quickly to treatment, and he and his wife returned home yesterday.

MEMORANDUM

STATE BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

TO: Everybody in Pitt County
FROM: J. T. Marston, Jr.
SUBJECT: Our tobacco market

The Greenville Tobacco Market opens Thursday. It's success will benefit everybody in Pitt County.

Pitt has the largest and the best tobacco crop in the state. When the growers get top prices at their own home-market, merchants, dealers, service companies, professional men, teachers and all of us prosper.

So let's pull together for a successful market. Let's make every effort to serve the growers who come to the market, the buyers who bid for the crop, and the warehousemen who sell it. Let's make this a banner year as well as a banner crop.

J. T. Marston, Jr.

Foresight Helped Give N. C. Edge

In North Carolina, at least, the atomic age is swiftly moving into its own. We're sure that few states have gone so far in applying the new field of nuclear energy on such a wide scale.

Already research has been instituted (involving atomic techniques) in the fields of agriculture, textiles, marine life, industry, education and other fields.

The Governor's Committee on Nuclear Energy provided a progress report over the weekend which is surely an eye-opener to Tar Heels for whom the fabled "atomic age" remains largely something in the future.

Actually, evidence is at hand to show it has arrived.

Chairman W. D. Carmichael Jr. reports the stage has been reached where lawmakers must give attention to problems and hazards connected with the atomic age. A statute governing nuclear energy activities is even now being prepared, he says, and will be presented to the Governor for consideration by the 1959 General Assembly.

Work in the agricultural field has progressed to the point that Tar Heel peanut growers are benefitting from genetic changes induced by radioactivity, which result in greater production per acre.

And so it goes.

Far-sighted planning, an early appreciation of potential progress and the foresight to "get in on the ground floor" of nuclear research is already beginning to pay its first dividends in our state.

That progressive outlook is a mighty important factor in North Carolina's future. In fact, if that forward-looking attitude and nuclear energy were not so closely linked, it would be hard to determine which of the two were the most important items in our world of tomorrow.

As it now stands we enjoy possessing both facilities in the one program . . . a hard combination for any other state to match.

If True, An Atomic Arms Race Is Ahead

The seers who were concerned over possibilities of controlling nuclear weapons once they got into general distribution among the second and third-class powers really have something to worry about if the report Russia will provide Red China with an atomic arsenal is born out.

There's really not much question about it. The more governments who can wield a nuclear stick, the harder it's ever going to be to institute any kind of controls.

If the Communist regime of Peiping is to have atomic weapons we can expect the Nationalist government to press for some kind of counter gesture by the United States. Even a school child knows Formosa, repeatedly threatened by its mainland enemy, could not hold out nor dissuade attack unless it could pose the dangers of immediate counter blows.

Should reports out of Warsaw prove true, the door has been opened to an atomic arms race over the world. The prospect is anything but pleasant to contemplate.

Anyway, They've Got Our Blue Jeans Today

Anybody who reads how the "coffee bar types" of Britain are enlivening the Queen's English with their colorful slang is tempted to conclude our own young language set is hopelessly outclassed.

A culture which can adapt such terms as "clinic" for a pub, "belt up" for quiet, "corpse" for being struck speechless, "plasma" for beer, and so on, is imaginative enough to hold its pre-eminence for some time to come.

The Londoner who provided a sample glossary for AP writer Hal Cooper adds, "Reached the point around here where I feel like a foreigner."

Well, they've been speaking English over there longer than has been the practice over here; so the Britishers might be conceded to have an edge.

Just the same, we noticed the blue jeans have reached England in a big way. Blue jeans are strictly "from the colonies," too.

Lyndon Johnson To Be Watched

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington fortune-tellers — usually wait for Congress to quit, when the dull days begin, before guessing who'll be running for president in 1960.

But why wait? There's no need to guess much about Vice President Nixon for the time being, since right now he seems to have the inside track for the Republican nomination. But it's a free-for-all among Democrats and will continue so.

A dozen Democrats — with the presidential conventions still two years away — already are being mentioned as maybe having a chance for their party's nomination. That's about par for the course. Right now the Democrats don't have one outstanding possibility.

Strangely, not much mention has been given recently to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as the Democratic candidate.

Perhaps that's because this leader of the Senate Democrats has repeatedly said he has no presidential ambitions.

Maybe he hasn't. But he'd be extraordinary if he didn't. It's this writer's guess he's a man to watch. Saying right now he has no presidential ambitions — and yielding later to pressure, internal or external — are different things.

Pressure in 1960 would force him into a decision because his current Senate terms ends that year.

Johnson couldn't run for both the Senate and the presidency. He looks like a cinch to be re-elected if he runs for the Senate again. But if he ran for the presidency and lost, he'd be out of the Senate.

The Democratic party in 1960 may be torn apart in a split between Northerners wanting a strong civil rights plank and Southerners burning over the public school integration issue. It's possible in such a situation Johnson might be used as a compromise candidate to pull the party together. For, while he's a Southerner, it was through his Senate leadership that Congress last year passed the first civil rights bill in this century.

It was a compromise bill, to be sure. It wasn't as much as the Northerners wanted. It was more than the Southerners wanted. Nevertheless, Johnson steered it through.

He's run up a remarkable record for getting things done in a Congress where the Democrats outnumber Republicans and run the show, although Republicans control the executive branch of the government.

How does he get things done? Through a combination of things: He's a compromiser, plays friendly, avoids personal attacks, keeps windbagging to a minimum, and does favors for his fellow senators who thus become his debtors.

Johnson in the Senate could have done nothing, of course, unless the Democrats who control the House went along. And they do, under the leadership of Johnson's fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Rayburn is out of all possible consideration for the presidency. He's 76 now, will be 78 in 1960. Johnson, on the other hand, has youth on his side. He'll be 50 next week, only 52 in 1960.

At one time a bad heart attack might have finished any politician's ambitions for the White House. Johnson had one in 1955. That seemed to spell the finish for him for any job beyond the Senate.

But a few weeks later President Eisenhower had a similar attack and then went on to win re-election in 1956. Where Eisenhower slowed down after his attack, Johnson resumed his old pace.

And Johnson still has two more seasons of Congress — in 1959 and 1960 — to build himself up for national consideration before the 1960 presidential elections.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
YES, COOPERATE
A friend of mine often uses the term, "Cooperating with the inevitable."

Here are words well worth thinking about. Most people storm at the inevitable or tend to become bitter. Some people try to evade the inevitable. Probably the worst thing we can do with reference to the inevitable is to succumb to it.

Most circumstances in life can be changed by our efforts, but it must be admitted that there are some circumstances which are very decidedly cannot. They are here to stay in just the form they have assumed. There is nothing we can do about them except face them with courage, calmness, and the determination to make of them the best we can.

My friend's suggestion that we cooperate with the inevitable is indeed well taken. Why not? Certainly the choice is definite and unavoidable. If we do not cooperate, then we strive and rebel with a mounting feeling of frustration. Often when we take a cooperative attitude toward the inevitable, we find it's not the bugaboo we thought it was. In fact, the inevitable can sometimes become very friendly. Many people have found that outward circumstances turned out finally to be the best friends they had in the world.

Cooperate. Do not try to avoid. Do not oppose. Cooperate.

In The Hurricane's Eye

A Big Job, Every Time

Every time the Red Cross bloodmobile has a date in Pitt its sponsors have to work long and hard to dig up enough donors. Sometimes they find 'em, sometimes they don't.

Radio, television and newspapers herald the coming. Organization members use the direct approach to line up other groups for their support as well as individual signing of pledges. A lot of effort goes into one such visit and it's real disappointing when a quota isn't met.

Now the story of why blood is needed has been told dozens of times. And there probably isn't a family in the county who doesn't personally know of at least one instance in which a blood transfusion saved a life or "probably" saved a life.

So in the back of everyone's mind there's bound to be an appreciation of what an available supply of blood and plasma can mean to a community.

Still, that doesn't seem to be enough to stir enough people to make every bloodmobile visit a thumping success. The kind of success any town big enough to be worth a visit should assure every time.

There really isn't so much to the actual bloodletting. The prospective donor is passed on by a doctor before being allowed to go any further, and on emerging from that check-up he's more than likely a little bit pleased at being just how healthy he really is. Makes him feel just a bit thankful, too.

Nor does the separating a pint of blood from the donor prove to be any kind of an ordeal. The subject lies on a well-padded table during the few minutes of tapping his vein; and if he wasn't so interested in what was going on about him, could go asleep.

First-time donors are invariably pleased with themselves; relieved by first-hand experience that it really was as simple as they'd been told; happy they had done something — given something, that might spell the difference in life and death for some unknown or by some quirk of fate, life for a friend or member of the family. Many will come again.

As in any kind of community effort, the spirit of "Let George do it" can spell the deathblow for the organized effort of collecting blood. Good old "George" never was too reliable an asset to the cooperative spirit; rather, it's up to each individual adult.

Another point to be remembered: the Red Cross can't collect too much blood. "Quotas" for a community represent a minimum. If the bloodmobile were to collect a hundred pints above the minimum for each visit, there would still be a useful application awaiting each drop of blood they could get. Researchers profess a vast ignorance about some qualities in human blood, and Civil Defense estimates of the nation's need for an adequate backlog in event of war stagger the imagination. That's part of the story.

The rest deals with the day to day needs of some man, woman or child . . . a stranger, friend, relative, or even you . . . in a hospital's care.

Transfer Payments Are Rising

By ELMER ROESSNER
Transfer payments are the two cents some bus companies charge for issuing transfers.

To economists, transfer payments are something else. They are payments to individuals for which no current services are performed. Government statistics usually include only such payments by government agencies. Transfer payments include Social Security payments, unemployment benefits, pensions, veterans' benefits, home relief, payments for the care of children in private homes (although these payments do not fit the definition precisely) and profits from ships' service stores.

There are also transfer payments in private business, such as co-op dividends, gifts to nonprofit organizations and the like, but these are usually not reckoned in government statistics.

Is this good or bad? SOFTENED THE RECESSION
The National Industrial Conference Board finds that between August, 1957, and May, 1958, wages and salaries declined $9 billion and by 1949 were up to $12.4 billion a year.

This is one measure of our conversion to a welfare state. With inflation and continuing demands for security and gravy, the total has increased every year since then. The rate of increase has been rising too. The total was $18.6 billion in 1956, and $21.5 billion in 1957.

The payments started soaring with the recession. They reached the annual rate of $23 billion last November and with the rise in unemployment payments, soared to a $26.4 billion rate in May of this year.

They dropped back to an annual rate of $26 billion in June and while the July figures are not in yet, the rate may be declining further.

While transfer payments softened the recession, they also have served to soften individuals. They mark an increasing reliance on the state for support and care. What they will mean in a hundred years can only be guessed at. Few of us will be around to notice.

Good or bad, the size of transfer payments has an importance that no businessman can afford to overlook. It constitutes about 7 per cent of total personal income. As Social Security and other benefits increase, the ratio will rise.

Beneficiaries will constitute one of the most important spending groups in the nation. Transfer payments have long run higher than rental income. They exceeded dividend income by 1933. They passed personal interest income in 1950 and farm income in 1953. They are close to proprietary income from business and professional right now.

In the foreseeable future, people living on transfer payments will constitute the largest consumer buying power after the wage and salary group.

Genius Of The Trade

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—America has a 500-million-dollar annual industry built on laziness.

It is the greeting card industry.

"It depends completely on the fact people are naturally lazy," said William D. Harris, "and that's why the business is going to last."

"People are going to get lazier and lazier. The greeting card appeals to this flaw in the human race. It saves them the trouble of sitting down and writing a note."

Bill, 41, slender, dark-eyed and energetic, is one of the brighter minds in the rapidly changing industry, and helped pioneer the humorous greeting card.

After his release from the Air Force in 1946, he invested all his $3,000 savings in a small greeting card firm. In a dozen years he built it to an annual volume of a million dollars.

"When I started," he recalled, "funny cards accounted only for about one per cent of the business. Mostly it was all hearts and flowers, ribbons and bows, satin and lace. Today 60 per cent of all cards are humorous."

Writing a hit greeting card is about as difficult as turning out a hit song.

Harris puts out some 200 new cards each year. He sifts through tens of thousands of contributed suggestions — "everybody in the country now seems to be writing greeting cards"—but buys only about 25. The other 175 he turns out himself, which makes him one of the most productive men in the industry.

Harris, son of Harry Harris, an old-time vaudeville performer, is an action man when it comes to humor. He has cards that pop, jump, wriggle, smoke and say "Merry Christmas."

One of his cards, when opened, shows a beating plastic heart. Another, when immersed in water, grows a small tree.

Although birthday cards are the best sellers, followed by Christmas and get-well cards, the fastest growing specialty in the field today is the "slam card."

"I resisted the trend for some time, because I didn't really believe people wanted to send that kind of card," said Harris. "But they do. They're going over stronger all the time."

"One of our biggest sellers at Valentine is a card that simply says 'Drop Dead.'"

There is also a big market for the "peacemaker card."

Example: A card saying "Forgive me," which when opened adds "I lost my head." It shows a man holding his head under one arm.

"There is now a specialty card for practically any occasion you can name," said Harris. "There's even a card to send to someone who owes you money."

The greeting card industry is one of the few that doesn't worry about bad times.

"It's a depression-proof business," said Harris happily. "If times get tough, instead of sending in the gifts, people will exchange 10-cent greeting cards."

"We do need federal regulation in labor laws. But we need far more regulation of federal regulation. We need right-to-work embedded in the Constitution. We need the recognition that the free worker has as many rights as the union man, no more, no less. In other words we need plain American fair dealing in the labor relationship. Let's get it."

Patterson Retains Title, Disposes Of Harris In 12

Challenger Is Cut Badly; Gore Ends The Fight

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Disappointed with his 12th-round knockout of former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, world heavyweight challenger Roy Harris was cut badly by Bill Gore in the 12th round.

Harris was down for a three count from a left and right in the second round but bounced up to take command from the next round on. He scored four knock-downs.

With Harris far behind on points and bleeding from a battered nose and cuts near both eyes, his veteran trainer, Bill Gore, asked that the fight be stopped after the 12th round.

"I had it stopped," Gore declared. "The fighter wanted to continue."

"I'm more dissatisfied with this fight than any one I've fought in the last few years," Patterson declared. "If I had been able to get started it might have been a different fight. I know that if both of us had more fights we would have looked a lot better. I'll probably fight more often now."

Stopping the fight, which goes into the record as a 12th-round knockout, brought the first defeat to the picturesque Texan from the Big Thicket country near Houston. It was the third successful title defense for Patterson, who won the championship in 1956 at 21.

The champion from New York spotted his foe 9½ pounds at 184½ to 194 but landed the power punches. He knocked Harris down for an eight count in the seventh with a right to the side of the head. In the eighth Roy was down for counts of seven and three. He took a nine count in the 12th.

But fans who tabbed the Texan an easy mark and made him a 6-1 underdog were surprised to watch a bristling battle and a courageous showing from the challenger.

At times his unorthodox style in itself served to stall Patterson's attack.

Approximately 20,000 fans watched the open-air battle at Wrigley Field and another 200,000 by closed-circuit television in theaters across the nation.

The gross gate here was estimated at $228,000, the gross in theaters at a million dollars. Harris collects his $100,000 guarantee. Patterson's take, it is estimated, will be more than $200,000.

Patterson's manager Gus D'Amato, still feuding with the powerful International Boxing Club, announced the champion is committed to a title defense next June in Colorado Springs, Colo. But he didn't name an opponent and he left open the possibility that Floyd might fight in the meantime.

Harris Would Like Another Try At Floyd

By PATRICK MCNULTY
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Blinking at the dressing room floor from under a towel, battered but gallant Roy Harris said:

"He's the hardest puncher I've ever met. He's a great fighter."

And across the hall in the champion's dressing room, unmarked Floyd Patterson paused from doing situps and said:

"It's the toughest fight I've had since I've been champion. He was very game."

Harris got off the deck four times before his trainer asked that the fight be stopped after the 12th round last night.

"I didn't want Roy cut any more," said Bill Gore. "He wanted to continue and yelled 'Let me go, let me go.' But I said, 'No, Roy. There'll be other fights.'"

"I never lost my senses," said Harris. "I would have liked to have finished."

"When I knocked him down in the second round I thought I could get him, but I guess I got too anxious," said the pride of the Big Thicket of East Texas.

Why did he jump back to his feet so quickly after two knock-downs in the eighth?

"I just felt like fighting," replied Harris, managing a grin through puffing lips.

"I'd like to fight him again—I think I could lick him," said Harris, who surprised the 20,000 fans and the champion, too, when he dropped Patterson for a three count in the second round.

Patterson, who had the game challenger reeling but couldn't put him away, said he wasn't happy with his showing.

"I am more dissatisfied with this fight than with any one I've fought in the last few years," he said. "None of my punches were working right. I couldn't get started."

"I'll probably fight more often now," said the champion, who hadn't been to the post since his fight with Pete Rademacher a year ago.

A ringsider who agreed with Patterson's disappointment was former champion Joe Louis.

"Patterson was slow and his timing was off. He was missing badly," said the Brown Bomber, dapper and trim in a business suit.

"Yes," said Louis, who perhaps saw a flicker of his old jack-hammer style in Patterson last night. "I think he can become a great one."

Annoyed, Casey Talks Tough About Drills

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—So the New York Yankees don't like the idea of practicing on an off day?

"Very interesting," croaked Prof. Casey Stengel. "But nobody has complained to me. I wouldn't know anything about what they think."

Disturbed because the Bombers have lost 8 of their last 11, Manager Stengel called a special practice yesterday. It pained some of the players and they did some grumbling. But none would do his complaining publicly.

"If they don't like it, they ought to read their contracts," rasped Stengel. "I'm the manager and as long as I'm here they'll do just what I tell them to do."

"Furthermore, if they don't snap out of it, we'll have more of those off-day workouts. So they'd better get used to it."

Stengel obviously was annoyed both at the attitude of the players toward the practice and their run-of-the-mill play on the field.

"They're still 11½ games ahead of the rampaging Chicago White Sox and they open a nine-game set against the Western clubs tonight at the Stadium. The Cleveland Indians are the first visitors and later in the week the Sox roll in for three games."

"We haven't been hitting the way we should," Stengel continued. "And some of the boys have been sloppy on the field. We continued to play awful up in Boston and that's the reason why I called the workout."

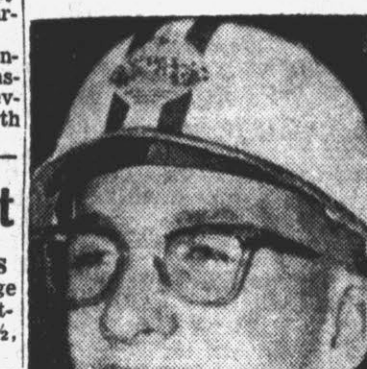

"Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra have been hitting the long ball but otherwise things have been bad. And that includes the pitching."

He made Don Larsen and Bob Turley go through long sessions during the workout because he said their control was off.

"After all," he observed, "my last 11 starters haven't finished. Practice never hurt any of these guys."

No one argued.

A Look At Athletics

By DR. N. M. JORGENSEN
The Status of the Athletic Coach at East Carolina College . . .

Here at East Carolina the administration adheres to the philosophy that the objectives of athletics are identical with those of general education; therefore all members of the athletic staff are selected primarily as educators and not solely on their ability to produce winning teams. Thus, it is the duty of those who coach athletic teams to assist in the total effort of the Health and Physical Education Department, in teaching professional course for the general student body, acting as advisors, etc.

Actually all coaches carry the equivalent of a full academic load, except during their particular sport season, during which they teach from one-third to three-fourths of normal teaching schedule. Furthermore, in line with the policy of the administration, no coach or member of the staff is hired who does not hold the Masters degree.

The coaching of varsity sports has become a highly technical profession, requiring well trained, qualified individuals, and in the case of a sport like football, it requires a staff made up of specialists. Many problems confront the modern day coach, problems which were either non-existent or required little attention in former years. Finances, recruitment, scholarships, the married status of so many athletes, entrance examinations, the construction of athletic facilities, alumni support are a number of factors which will be discussed in subsequent articles.

Minette Mills Gets Berth In Softball Finals

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Minette Mills of Grover secured a berth in the State Softball tournament with a 4-1 victory over Whitney Furniture of Winston-Salem here last night.

Advancing as a result of losers' bracket wins were Waco Heights of Raleigh and City Beverage of Winston-Salem. Waco eliminated Cannon Mills in a 3-0 game. City Beverage dropped Barber's Furniture of Greensboro, 5-2.

In a between-games beauty contest, Miss Clots Gwaltney of Winston-Salem, representing City Beverages, was named "Miss North Carolina Softball of 1958."

Braves Ahead, Behind The Bums

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves may be eight games ahead in the National League race, but they're still trying to catch up with the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are 14 games behind.

The Braves and the Dodgers play a two-night doubleheader that opens a five-game series at Los Angeles today.

The Braves, who have taken 11 of 14 from Cincinnati, stand 12-6 against St. Louis and 11-5 against San Francisco, are only 4-9 against the Dodgers. Milwaukee holds an edge on every other club.

The Braves, riding a seven-game winning streak that matches the longest in the NL this season, lost their first seven meetings with the Dodgers this season. They have won six of the last eight, however. They will send Pal Joey Jay (7-4) and rookie Carl Willey (8-5) against the Dodgers.

The fourth-place Dodgers, who have won five of their last six, will start Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres.

Four months ago, that would have sounded like a pip of a pitching combination for the Dodgers. But Drysdale, perhaps burdened with too much responsibility in the role of ace, has only a 7-11 record. And Podres, the southpaw

Large Field In Second Round Of Tucson Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Another large field took off today in the second qualifying round for the 13th annual Jaycee International Junior golf tournament, the world's largest golf event.

Jim Folks, 16, of Ocala, Fla., posted the day's low score in yesterday's opening qualifying round over the flat, 6,434-yard El Rio Country Club course.

Folks put together scores of 35 and 33 for an 18-hole total of 68, two under par.

Pre-tourney favorite Buddy Baker of Florence, S.C., recent winner of the USGA junior title, went two over par yesterday. But his score still put among the 100 youngsters to qualify for the 72 holes of medal play starting tomorrow.

Other Carolinians' first-day qualifying scores: Billy Womack, Florence, 74; Johnny Leach, Troy, N.C., 76; Kenneth Folkes, Concord, N.C., 77; Jackie Seawell, Anderson, S.C., 78; John Orr, Florence, 78; Fred Blackmon, Highlands, N.C., 81; and Don Hedrick, Lexington, N.C., 83.

Sam Jones of the St. Louis Cardinals was the first pitcher to strike 100 batters during the 1958 season. After 127 innings he had 108 strikeouts.

Question: Can The Orioles Finish In First Division?

By ED WILKS

Whether the New York Yankees can blow their American League lead is a question to be considered by guys who smoke stuff they don't sell at the supermarket. But can the Orioles give Baltimore its first finish in the first division?

The Birds, who have improved each year since their rebirth in 1954, finished just a game short of fourth-place Detroit last season. And after drubbing Kansas City 8-2 in the only major league game scheduled yesterday, the Orioles now are within half a game of the fourth-place Tigers.

Even with an 11-game losing skid—longest slump in either league this season—the Orioles have spent most of their time in the first division in the last month. The slump tumbled them from second to sixth. They slipped past Cleveland into fifth by winning their third in a row last night.

Baltimore had only one hit—a third-inning bunt by Willie Miranda—but held a 1-1 tie with the A's until opening up against Ralph Terry (7-10) in a seven-run sixth inning. Gene Woodling socked a two-run homer and Dick Williams crashed a three-run shot. The White Sox will go with Dick Donovan (9-11) against the Red Sox's Frank Sullivan (9-6).

The White Sox have won five in a row and 13 of their last 16. Detroit is at Washington, with George Susce (4-2) going for the Tigers against Camilo Pascual, (6-7).

Baltimore has a chance to tie or pass Detroit for fourth place if it can sweep a two-night pair from the Athletics. It will be Arnie Portocarrero (12-7) and Jack Harshman (9-11) for the Cleveland. Whitey Ford goes for his 15th victory. Cal McLish (12-6) and Bud Daley (2-2).

Waterfowl Hunt Time Curtailed

RALEIGH (AP) — There'll be 10 days less hunting time this season for Tar Heel sportsmen who go after waterfowl.

A season running from Nov. 17 to Jan. 15 for Ducks, geese, coot and brant was announced yesterday by Executive Director Clyde P. Patton of the State Wildlife Resources Commission.

The federal agency, which regulates hunting of migratory birds, said declines of 20 to 50 per cent are expected in the various species of duck. It was uncertain whether the population decreases in the Atlantic flyway this year are due to poor reproduction or an over-harvest last year.

Federal waterfowl stamps and North Carolina hunting licenses will be required. Patton said applications for waterfowl hunting blinds and guides at Lake Mattamuskeet are available from the Wildlife Commission office in Raleigh or from L. B. Tunnell of New Holland, Mattamuskeet refuge manager. Applications must not be mailed before Sept. 5.

The acid hit some of Alessandri's aides, burning their clothing.

Unveiled Power Plant For Space

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Power plants for propelling unmanned space vehicles into the first exploratory orbit around Mars were described yesterday by the American Astronautical Society's Western regional meeting. A 616-pound saucer-shaped vehicle, propelled by an ion accelerator and transmitting a television picture back to earth, was envisioned by Henry K. Hebel and Richard D. White, space scientists for Boeing Airplane Co. at Seattle. They said the vehicle would jump off from an earth satellite station. It would sweep out to Mars, orbit that planet once, and then return to orbit around the earth in 3 years and 49 days.

Sardines Caught Off California

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — For the first time since 1952, a large catch of sardines was made in Monterey Bay yesterday.

J. B. Phillips, Hopkins Marine Station biologist, said this might mark the return of a warm water cycle ideal for sardines.

A dozen boats, a third of the sardine fleet that once numbered more than 100, brought in 450 tons.

There was optimistic talk of a possible return of the 30 million dollar a year business that employed thousands of workers in a score of canneries 10 years ago.

Big Labor Unions Invest At Least $11,100 In N.C. Vote

By LYNN NISBET RALEIGH — The big national labor unions put at least $11,100 into North Carolina's 1956 primary election campaign, of which $9,000 was specifically earmarked to aid candidates for Congress.

This was an insignificant part of the nearly one and a half million dollars spent that year throughout the United States by eight labor organizations. Most of the contributions in other states were for the general election, but all the items listed for North Carolina were paid in April and May—during the primary campaign.

The North Carolina grants came mostly through the Committee on Political Education (COPE), which is the consolidated successor to AFL's Labor League for Political Education (LLPE) and CIO's Political Action Committee (CIO-PAC). The figures are reported in the Congressional Record of June 16, 1955, from reports filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

On April 4 COPE sent to North Carolina Labor's League for Political Education: Campaign of Ralph Scott, $1,000; campaign of Hugh Wells, $1,000; campaign of Charles Deane, $1,000. May 14 to N. C. LLPE for congressional campaigns, $2,500; to N. C. CIO-PAC for congressional campaigns, $2,500. May 24 to Ralph Scott for Congress Committee, East Durham, N. C., $1,000. On April 13 to the Citizens Registration Committee, New Bern, N. C.: Promotion drives to register people for voting, $1,600.

On May 4 the United Auto Workers CIO-PAC paid to Robert W. Redwine, North Carolina, $500. Inquiries at New Bern fail to identify the Citizens Registration Committee, but it is known that a group of Negroes was very active in that capacity throughout Eastern North Carolina. Redwine is assistant counsel and investigator for a Senate subcommittee, appointed at the instance of the late Kerr Scott.

The table of election campaign contributions and excerpts from the record of Senate committee hearings on labor practices were inserted in the Congressional Record by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. His avowed purpose was to show the ruthless intent of labor bosses to seize control of government. His explanatory comments gave the presentation a partisan twist, because nearly all the Labor aid went to Democrats. He suggested that the first step in Labor's program to take over government is to gain control of the Democratic party. If that is the plan it has not been successful in North Carolina. None of the beneficiaries of Labor aid in the 1956 congressional primaries came out better than second best. Same was true for two congressional candidates in Alabama, in whom Labor "invested" $1,600.

The fact that contributions listed by Labor organizations with the clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington did not show on reports filed by candidates with the Secretary of State in North Carolina is not important. The grants were not made to the candidates but to groups of committees supporting them, and there is question whether these groups had statutory liability for reporting them. In fact, some of the candidates have reason to doubt the money was actually used for their benefit.

As he approached the Stewart cabin the two boys, followed by their invariable companion, the hound pup Colin had given them, rushed out to greet him. "Are your mother and father at home?" he asked them. "Mother is but Dad has gone into Wetherly," Jeffrey answered. At the sound of their voices, Ann appeared at the cabin door. "Hello, Colin," she said. "It's such a beautiful day I was about to go for a walk with the boys."

Oldtimers Couldn't Equal Today's Stars By BOB THOMAS AP Motion Picture Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Do you have a nostalgic notion that the film cowboys of yesteryear could outdraw, outride and outfight the current crop? Forget it, says Cliff Ketchum, who has seen them come and go. He claims the old-timers wouldn't stand a chance against today's screen cowpokes. Cliff is no grizzled veteran of Gower Gulch. He's a plain-spoken, fortyish fellow who has lived around horses all his life in various parts of the West. Since 1939, he has operated a saddlery in the San Fernando Valley, and all of the Western stars have been his customers. Cliff is no grizzled veteran of Gower Gulch. New Attorney, New Associate William C. Brewer, Jr., a former research assistant for Associate Justice William B. Rodman Jr. of the North Carolina Supreme Court, has become an associate of James and Speight, Greenville attorneys. A native of Jamesville and an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Brewer began his duties here yesterday. He joins other members of the firm in a general practice of law. Brewer was Justice Rodman's research assistant for the past year, a position he assumed after reaching during the 1956-57 school year at West Moore High School near Southern Pines. He also worked the summer of 1957 with the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill in surveying the North Carolina system of courts. After graduation from Jamesville High School, Brewer attended the University of North Carolina where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1953 and a Bachelor of Laws degree in 1956. He became a member of the North Carolina State Bar in August, 1956, and while at UNC was a member of Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity; Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity; a member of the Board of Editors of the North Carolina Law Review; and President of his Senior Law Class. He was also a member of the Naval ROTC Brigade but was discharged after an eye injury. Brewer is the son of Mrs. Gladys Ange Brewer of Jamesville and Washington, D. C., and William C. Brewer of Washington, D. C., who has been attorney for the U. S. Department of Justice for nearly 30 years. Brewer becomes the second associate in the firm of James and Speight, joining William H. Watson. Partners in the firm are J. B. James and W. W. Speight. ANOTHER WAY TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Police said a man committed suicide by placing three electric dynamite caps in his mouth and then causing an explosion. Officers said 46-year-old Ralph Brown caused the explosion by touching wires attached to the dynamite caps to the battery of his automobile. He is survived by his widow and four children.

Japan Draining Lake For Crops

AKITA, Japan (AP)—Land-hungry Japan has begun to drain the nation's second biggest lake and turn it into a giant rice field. The reclamation task is the largest ever undertaken. Authorities hope the work in turning Lake Hachirogata into a food-producing area will be completed in seven years. They expect to raise at least two million bushels of rice, still the nation's staple food, from 32,000 acres of the reclaimed land, using 10,000 more for housing and other agricultural purposes. The lake in north Honshu is 14 feet deep at its deepest, and covers 85 square miles. The government has put aside 54 million dollars to reclaim it. One of the largest open-pit copper mines in the world is the Santa Rita Mine near Silver City in southwestern New Mexico.

Explains Job Is Not Like Dying

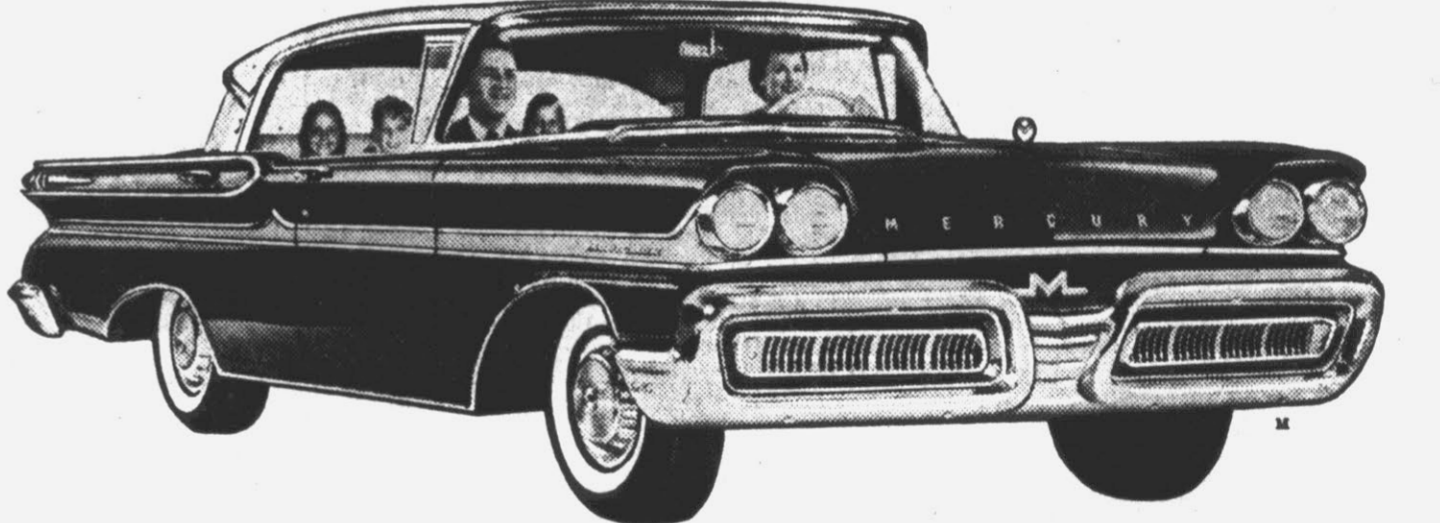

WASHINGTON (AP)—Election to Congress really isn't the same as dying. At least, Rep. Winfield K. Denton (D-Ind.) is trying to convince his ex-classmates that it isn't. Denton was glancing over a copy of the 35th reunion report of the Harvard Law School Class of 1922 when "I was very much surprised to note that I was listed among those who had passed away." So Denton, a hearty 61, fired off a letter to Morris E. Dry, of New York, secretary of the class reunion committee, to tell him it isn't so. He noted he has been elected to Congress four times, and speculated that "maybe some feel that when one enters on those duties he is no longer among the living." Wagner's opera, "The Ring of the Nibelung," is composed of four separate music dramas. Similar characters and musical themes link the four together.

Scientists Finish Series Of Gravity Experiments

CORNUCOPIA, Wis. (AP)—Scientists, testing a theory that gravity varies with the thickness of the earth's crust, yesterday finished firing the last of 10 tons of explosives under the surface of Lake Superior. Seismographic studies, using shock waves from the explosions to probe the earth crust, were started Aug. 1. A team of University of Wisconsin scientists, led by Geologist Robert Meyer, fired about 40 charges of explosives from a Coast Guard cutter. The charges varied from 25 to 750 pounds of dynamite, a product known as a "safe explosive." Shock waves radiated from the point of the blasts and also echoed within the earth. The tremors were detected by seismographic instruments located in northwestern Wisconsin, several miles inland from the lake. Meyer said it will be several months before the voluminous readings can be correlated and interpreted. When the study is completed, the information will be submitted to Washington, headquarters of the U. S. National Committee of the International Geophysical Year. The Wisconsin earth gravity team will leave this weekend to make seismographic readings of echoes from monitor powder blast in mines near Little Rock, Ark., and then will head east for a third study this year along the Georgia and North Carolina coast. The men plan to study what is believed to be an offshore submarine ridge in the Atlantic Ocean. PITTSBURGH (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the National Model Railroad Assn. are in for a surprise—there'll be no banquet speaker. Edward R. Campbell, local chairman of the group, said "We decided to cut speakingman out." It was too boring. Delegates will turn actor, and the sadder he see manufacturers' displays and been having the time of his life. see sight-seeing.

Mercury lets you stretch out while stretching your dollar

COME IN! LET US SHOW YOU HOW TO LIVE BIG—DRIVE BIG—ON A SMALL BUDGET Six people can fit in almost any standard-size car today. But how often have you been comfortable with more than four passengers? Mercury gives you extra inches inside to eliminate the "squeeze." Six adults can sit back without touching. Extra comfort is just one example of Mercury's approach to building cars. Mercury gives you more than you might expect—more than ordinary cars offer. You'll find this equally true of Mercury's performance and ride. Mercury's Marauder V-8 engines (up to 360 hp) are the most advanced in the industry—give you more power from less gas. Mercury's ride is a Full-Cushion ride—full-time smoothness on any road. The price? It's never been easier to own a Mercury.

French Army Fighting Most Stubborn Enemy

By ANDREW BOROWIEC ALGIERS (AP) — The anti-French "Army of National Liberation" is the world's most stubborn fighting force—at least on the basis of French army communications.

About 10 months ago, a French staff officer estimated 20,000 to 30,000 rebels were fighting the hit-and-run guerrilla warfare against the French in Algeria.

During those 10 months, the French claim 14,000 rebel deaths. But the present French official estimate of the rebel force is 20,000 to 30,000.

"They replace each other as fast as we kill them," said a French Colonel.

Despite progress in pacification in several areas of the vast country, the war continues at the same pace.

Virtually every staff officer in the heavily guarded headquarters of the 10th Military Region remains bracingly Algerians believe that at least 200,000 more men are needed to make the French war effort here more efficient.

France has some 500,000 uniformed men in Algeria.

Facing this well-trained fighting force—equipped largely with U. S. World War II material—are vol-unary rebels, hiding in mountains and striking mostly at night. Their equipment is generally poor although the French claim to have found some units with modern machine guns and mortars.

It is embarrassing for French officers to admit that the mass of men and equipment France has poured into Algeria is virtually helpless.

"They know the country better. They terrorize the population. . . They recruit by force to their bands," are some of the most frequently repeated theories.

But even French psychological warfare experts admit that a revolutionary war cannot exist long in a climate where the population is hostile to it.

What animates the rebellion? "Fear," claim the psychological warfare experts. "Fear of rebel terrorism and assassinations. The rebels terrorize the population in order to follow them."

Nationalists disagree. "French ruthlessness in dealing with the population," say Moslems with the courage to talk to foreigners.

"French tortures, beating, spitting on our human dignity," said one intellectual in a dingy Moorish cafe. "They think that when they come to a village and beat and torture, they will conquer us. On the contrary, this village will send more youths to the woods the next day."

Many Moslems are also bitter over what they consider lack of fair chances of employment in a country where 90 per cent of the population is Moslem.

Swept To Death By Flash Flood

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A Sierra Nevada flash flood swept across U. S. Highway 40 west of Reno last night, killing one man and indirectly causing the death of another. A third man was hospitalized with shock.

Joseph Thompson, 23, Redwood City, Calif., was reported killed when he jumped from a car and tried to outrun the Truckee River flood, the California highway patrol said.

Frederick Johnson Jr., 33, Reno, a construction worker, died when his truck overturned as he drove to help clear the blocked highway. Highway patrolmen quoted witnesses as saying a wall of water rushed down the mountains and across the highway.

Thompson was a passenger in a car driven by James Douglas Olinger, 23, Palo Alto, Calif.

Olinger stayed with his car, which was carried into the river and 500 yards downstream. He was brought to a Reno hospital suffering from shock.

Rocky and trees were carried into the roadway, blocking it for more than two hours.

The flood near Truckee, Calif., hit a freeway to Squaw Valley, the 1960 Winter Olympic Games site.

The bowhead whale has a mouth large enough to hold a cow. But, it's throat can swallow nothing larger than a small herring.

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and selected motors paced a moderate stock market recovery early this afternoon. Key stocks rose from fractions to a point. A few issues did better. Steels, which made an abortive attempt to pace a rise yesterday, had the advantage of a rising production rate and better demand.

Studebaker-Packard and American Motors were in brisk demand but the major automakers were mixed. Aircrafts, nonferrous metals, tobaccos, rails and utilities did well. U. S. Steel and Republic Steel were up about a point each. Allegheny Ludlum rose past a point. Lukens was about 2 to the good. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin added fractions.

Studebaker-Packard, which opened on a block of 20,000 shares, seemed headed for the role of most active stock. It was heavily traded and ahead a sizable fraction on news of its proposed refinancing plan.

American Motors moved along with the other smaller motor maker in Wall Street's favor, also adding a good fraction. Penn-Texas got a play and advanced a fraction following news of Leopold D. Silberstein's resignation as a director.

American Telephone was ahead about a point on favorable comment in the financial district. As coppers and other nonferrous metals rebounded from yesterday's losses, Kennecott added about a point as did Aluminum Ltd. Fractional gains were scored by Anaconda and American Smelting. Lorillard, United Aircraft and International Paper were 1-point gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 60 cents to $182.70 with the industrials up 90 cents, the rails up 60 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Two Men Drown In Rescue Effort

MANN'S HARBOR, N.C. (AP) — The father and uncle of 12-year-old Mary Ann Peterman were relaxing on the beach near here yesterday when they suddenly noticed her thrashing helplessly in the rough surf. W. L. Peterman, 54, of Parkersburg, W. Va., plunged in the water to return his daughter to the beach. The uncle, 46-year-old Victor Peterman, followed. Both men drowned. Mary Ann was rescued by a passer-by, Lewis Micou, 22, who works at the Outer Banks town of Nags Head. Micou also recovered the body of Mary Ann's father. Breakers washed in the uncle's body a short time later. Peterman, his wife and four children were vacationing here. Victor Peterman, a Portsmouth, Va., shipyard employee, had joined the family for a visit.

Statistical Look At Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Tallying up the figures, Miss America 1959 figures to look something like this: She'll be a little over 19, a shade under 5 feet 6 inches, will weigh about 119 pounds and will measure 35-23-35 1/2, roughly—but not too roughly. That's the average of the 51 girls from 46 states, Canada, Hawaii, New York City, Washington, D. C., and Chicago entered in this year's Miss America pageant starting Sept. 1.

Montana and Wyoming are the only states not represented this year. Bethesda, Md., on the other hand, has sent two entries—Miss Maryland and Miss District of Columbia.

Weed Industry Leader Is Dead

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — Alex F. Thorpe, 55-year-old tobacco industry leader, will be buried here tomorrow. He died yesterday after a long illness. Thorpe was immediate past president of the Tobacco Assn. of the United States. A graduate of the University of North Carolina, he was president of Thorpe and Ricks Tobacco Co. here. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church here.

Report Outbreak Of Dysentery

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Mecklenburg County officials report that an outbreak of dysentery has swept through the Hoskins community near here.

Dr. M. B. Bethel, county health officer, said last night 19 cases have been reported so far. He said a sanitary survey of the community showed conditions were "deplorable." Health Department workers went through the community armed with sulphur drugs and DDT fogging equipment to knock out any flies that carry the disease. Bethel said the problem primarily is one of substandard sewage disposal facilities, wells and septic tanks. The community, located on the edge of Charlotte, lacks city water facilities.

Merchant Board Will Join In Miss N. C. Promotion

Last night the directors of the Merchants Association agreed more publicity should be given to the home of the new Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans. The Board pledged its cooperation to the Junior Chamber of Commerce which is conducting a campaign to promote Miss North Carolina and Greenville.

Approval was given to the motion that the Association lease a new sign, reading "Greenville, Home of Miss North Carolina." The sign is one of five being sponsored by the Jaycees, to be placed at intersection leading into Greenville.

Trade Promotion Chairman E. E. Featherston reported his recent survey of the Dollar Day, held earlier this month, has shown the sales event was "very successful." Featherston pointed out several merchants stated their sales were well above expectations.

According to the Trade Promotion Chairman, the next citywide sales event will be the "Greater Greenville Days." He said plans are now underway for a followup on the promotion since it proved extremely successful when held last fall. Dates will be announced at the next meeting of the Board.

George Coffman reported on a recent meeting held to formulate plans for the Pitt County Progress Program, formerly known as Farmers Day, Inc. Membership Chairman J. A. Taylor announced one new member, Buck Supply Company. Association President J. D. McElhoo, Jr., who presided at the meeting, made a report on Credit Collection Division. He noted that a considerable amount of progress has been made during the past several months and commented on the Division's service to members of the Merchants Association. It was announced that State Director J. H. Blount will represent the organization.

Richest Man's Young Son Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Timothy Getty, youngest son of J. Paul Getty, who may be the richest man in America, is dead at 12. The boy survived an operation for a brain tumor last year. He entered University Hospital last Thursday for plastic surgery to remove the scars of the operation. He was febrile well Sunday night. Later that night his heart failed and he died, it became known yesterday.

With the boy was his mother, Louise Dudley Lynch Getty, who sang professionally under the name Teddy Lynch. She is divorced from the boy's father. Timothy always had a thirst for music. An hour before he died his mother sang several of his favorite hymns to him. Getty, an oil operator who spends much of his time in Europe, telephoned Timothy last Saturday. He called his son at least once a week no matter where he was. The family notified Getty of the boy's death. The mother, who was Getty's fifth wife, left for California to make arrangements for burial. Timothy is survived by four brothers.

No License, Two Fishermen Pay

In Pitt County Magistrate Luther D. Moore's Court, Louise Moore, Negro Wilson, was found guilty of fishing out of his home county without a fishing license. The defendant was taxed with court costs, $9.50. Willie Smith, Portsmouth, Va., fishing without a fishing license, taxed with court costs, $9.50. J. O. Teel and other protectors were prosecuting witnesses.

President Roosevelt signed the pay-as-you-go income tax bill in 1943.

Light Damage In 3-Car Collision

Property damage was relatively light and no one was hurt as a result of a three-car collision at the corner of 10th and Cotanche streets yesterday afternoon.

Following their investigation of the accident, police charged Melbourne Henry Pridden, 24, of 1400 East 10th Street with failure to stop for a red light.

Pridden's car reportedly crashed into another automobile being operated by Mrs. Sidney Mills Gladson of 1506 Ragsdale Road. Mrs. Gladson's vehicle then struck a parked car on Cotanche Street belonging to Mrs. Mary Eswain Spearman of 1203 East Second Street.

Damage to Pridden's vehicle was estimated at $200. Investigating officers also reported $200 damage to Mrs. Gladson's car and $250 damage to the parked car.

The mishap occurred around 5 o'clock. George Raymond Entwistle, 72, of 110 West 11th Street was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way by officers who investigated another accident earlier in the afternoon.

Entwistle's car was involved in the collision with a second automobile being driven by Leon Thomas Hardee Jr., 45, of Greenville Route 3. Neither driver was hurt.

Property damage to both cars was estimated at $120. The accident occurred at the intersection of 10th and Washington streets around 2 o'clock.

Police Puzzled By Missing Boy

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Little 2 1/2-year-old Ulysses (Cootchy) Wallace was still missing today. Mecklenburg County police were more puzzled than ever over his mysterious disappearance.

County Police Chief Joe D. Whitley said today, "It is one of the most puzzling things I've ever run across."

The Negro boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Wallace, carried away from his grandparents' farm near Matthews early Sunday morning.

Some 200 Boy Scouts made a human chain yesterday and scoured every inch of a field near where the boy was last seen. They were helped by National Guardsmen, volunteer workers and police officers. Three airplanes circled the area for hours trying to find the boy.

A large pond near the farm-house was to be drained or pumped and sometime today to see if the child might have drowned. It has already been drained.

Chief Whitley said, "We don't have one iota of evidence that foul play was involved in this thing. There is not much motive for a kidnapping because the child's family doesn't have any money."

City Police Car Heavily Damaged By Fire Monday

A city police car caught fire yesterday afternoon and firemen were called to extinguish the blaze. Damage was described as heavy. The call came at 4:23 p.m.

A short while later another car caught fire on Evans St. The 1958 station wagon was reported owned by Mrs. Powell Speight. That call came at 5:08 p.m.

Around 5:30 a tobacco barn burned on a farm owned by J. M. Edwards and operated by Robert Jones. Seven hundred sticks of tobacco in the barn and 700 sticks in racks were destroyed. The farm is located at Galloway's Cross Roads.

Damage to the barn brought firemen to the Turnage building at Third and Cotanche. No damage was reported.

Rockefeller Seen Sure Nominee

NEW YORK (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently clinched the Republican nomination for governor of New York today. He lacks only 4 of the 586 convention votes needed for nomination.

The GOP chairman of nearby Orange County said an informal poll of his county's 16 delegates showed a majority in favor of Rockefeller. The county delegation meets tonight for a formal vote on his choice.

Orange County is the home of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, who is seeking re-election.

Another Day Of 90-Degree Heat

The highest temperature in the Greenville area yesterday was 90 degrees. Lowest last night was 75, and at 8 a.m. today the mercury registered 76. Drizzling rain not enough to measure. Tar River at Greenville was at the seven-foot stage and muddy from upstate rains.

See UN Approval For Western-Backed Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Supporters of a Western-backed Middle East peace plan predicted today the U.N. General Assembly would approve it despite opposition from some Arab and Asian nations.

The resolution introduced by Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen, with six other small nations as cosponsors, may come to a vote tomorrow night or Thursday. It asks Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to make arrangements which would permit the withdrawal of American troops from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Engen predicted Assembly approval. One Asian diplomat forecast passage with 56 favorable votes and some abstentions in the 61-nation Assembly. But some Arab and Soviet sources expressed belief it would fail to get the necessary two thirds of those voting.

India opposed the resolution because it did not demand immediate U.S.-British troop withdrawals and because it would lay the groundwork for sending more U.N. troops to the Middle East. Iraq also found the resolution unacceptable, and Yugoslavia disliked it.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said the resolution must be ejected. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi of the United Arab Republic refused comment but was expected to oppose it.

Both the United States and Britain endorsed the resolution, which was sponsored by Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Liberia, Norway, Panama and Paraguay. With the resolution were letters from Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd saying U.S. and British troops would be withdrawn whenever the Assembly decided U.N. action made their presence in Lebanon and Jordan unnecessary to peace.

Both nations had said earlier they would withdraw when arrangements had been made to protect the independence of the two Middle East nations. The letters thus signaled a change of policy by leaving the decision up to the Assembly.

There was no chance of the Assembly's adopting a rival Soviet resolution demanding troop withdrawal under supervision of U.N. observers who would stay on to watch the frontiers.

Whatever action the Assembly takes, diplomats expect Secretary

General Dag Hammarskjold soon to visit Lebanon and Jordan.

The Norwegian resolution asks Hammarskjold to make practical arrangements to maintain the independence of Lebanon and Jordan, presumably by the stationing of U.N. observers or other forces in the two countries. The resolution also calls on member states not to foment civil strife or subvert the popular will in Middle East nations.

Concerning two key points in the Middle East peace plan President Eisenhower put before the Assembly, the resolution asked Hammarskjold (1) to continue the study he is making for the Assembly of the feasibility of establishing a standby U.N. force of troops, and (2) to talk with the Arab countries about the economic development program for their area Eisenhower recommended.

Mills Moving To Southern Site

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Wamsutta Mills, manufacturers of textiles here for 100 years, has announced it will cease operations in New Bedford by the end of this year.

It is understood that manufacturing will be shifted to affiliated plant in the South. M. Lowenstein & Sons, Inc., which acquired a controlling interest in Wamsutta in August, 1954, said the shutdown would be gradual.

The normal complement of workers in recent years was 1,100, but shortening of operations had reduced the number to 950.

Donald B. Transill, Wamsutta president, said much new equipment had been installed in the plant in recent years and every effort to make a success of Wamsutta in New Bedford.

"In spite of dedicated management and skilled workers in a cooperative community, we were just not able to do so," he said. Transill said, "The problems of the textile industry in New England were aggravated by Japanese competition, just as other small industries or marginal plants are affected by competition with imported goods made by countries paying labor rates."

He said that if Lowenstein had not come into the picture "Wamsutta would have had to discontinue here before this time."

Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch Marks Birthday

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch was 88 today but he resisted attempts to turn the occasion into an elaborate event.

The self-made millionaire and adviser to presidents was asked by a newsman whether he had any comment to make to the world on reaching 88. His answer: "No."

To the reporter's question about his health, Baruch replied: "Fine, how are you?"

He is at Saratoga for an annual visit in which he takes the baths at the famed spa and also goes to the races.

"Saratoga Race Track planned 'Bernard Baruch Day' today. What are his plans for his 88th year? What activities does he contemplate after leaving Saratoga? 'I'm going home,' he replied. His home is in New York City.

Link Joyriders To Holdup Case

DONALDSONVILLE, La. (AP) — Two men who went joyriding in a Mississippi River ferryboat were linked today with a Wisconsin service station holdup.

Sheriff Percy Heber identified the men as Francis Prykko, 23, Park Falls, Wis., and Godfrey Meyer, 27, La Crosse, Wis. They were arrested while hitchhiking after the boat was found last night tangled in a clump of willow trees alongside a levee.

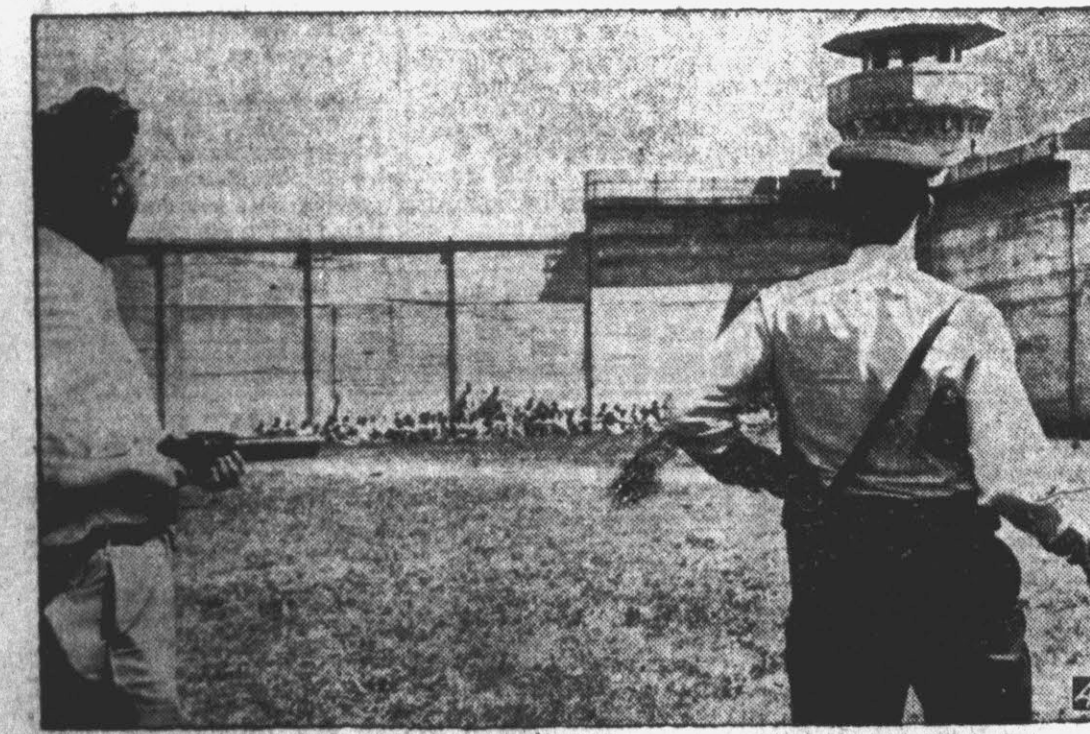

Heber said the men admitted taking the boat at Reserve, 37 miles downstream, and riding it up and down the Mississippi before abandoning it. He said the men also admitted the $135 robbery of a filling station at Onalaska, Wis., Aug. 12. The men were held without charge while being questioned.

NAVAL APPOINTMENT FOR PITT COUNTY YOUTH

Robert Edward Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Carroll, R-2, Greenville, has been tendered a principal appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., by U. S. Sen. Everett Jordan of North Carolina. Young Carroll is a student at East Carolina College and will continue his course until the academy entrance examinations in March.
