To Watch Knees Is Secret

Put your best foot backward when trying to wiggle your way into the sleek, new streamlined cars while wearing the latest short hemlines.

Short skirts show off legs, but there's a limit to how much leg a lady wants to show.

And, stepping into the new, low cars can present a problem for the woman who wants to remain a lady while wearing the vampish knee-length skirt.

The solution is to back in gracefully. Be sure your escort holds open the car door for you. Aside from the courtesy involved, this puts the gentleman safely out of the back end of the picture, so that he views only your more attractive front view.

In sitting down (backwards or frontwards), never bend from the waist with legs straight or you'll expose the backs of knees. Rather, bend knees and tuck under.

Once you've achieved a sort of side-saddle position, you can swing both legs together into the car, and you're ready to go.

You don't have to tape your knees together to remain modest. Substitute "camouflage" — using your handbag, held at knee level, until you've made the proper adjustments.

Inside the car, most comfortable and attractive is a sideways positioning of legs (if you're a passenger), or a straight-on position with the seat back farther than usual (if you're the driver).

Getting out of the car is a simple matter of reversing the procedure for getting in.

First, adjust your skirt to maximum length. Then swing your legs out of the car and wiggle the rest of you into standing position. It helps to be as close to the door as possible before going into action.

It also helps to have a man with a steady arm to lean on waiting. Just grab hold and hoist your frame out of the car.

30 Years Ago Today

August 22, 1923

Yesterday afternoon at her home on Cotanche Street Mrs. W. H. Woolard was hostess at an enjoyable garden party honoring Mrs. D. M. Clark, a recent bride. Masses of snow-on-the-mountain, placed at intervals on the lawn, lent a pleasing background. On arrival the guests were welcomed by Mrs. R. T. Bugnet and presented to the hostess and honoree. The honoree was very much surprised when Master Charles Swan Ives of Bethel presented her with an attractive basket which contained a miscellaneous shower. A tempting ice course was served by the hostess, assisted by her little daughter, Mary Katherine Woolard.

Personality Is Requirement For Majorette

By PEGGY SMITH

What makes a good majorette? "Someone who is interested and tries to do their best at all times while in the public," said Miss Lib Rogers, and "especially one who receives criticism and takes it as an advantage and tries to improve."

"Of course a majorette must have a pleasing personality in order to work with a group," commented this brunette young lady who is chief majorette for Greenville's Junius H. Rose High School.

During this past summer Miss Rogers attended the East Carolina College Music Camp and was awarded the title of "Best Majorette" on the campus.

Entering various contests, she has learned what she can do good or bad by judges who are tops in the twirling field.

"Two of the best majorettes that I've ever seen or met are Miss Sandra Harrell of Washington and Miss Faye Gooch of Durham. Both are smooth, graceful, and seem to enjoy performing."

"One must have confidence in themselves and I gained mine by taking dancing. That enabled me to perform in public," she added to her list of "musts."

This senior student feels that twirling is harder than a strutting routine. The reason?

"While twirling, the hands and feet have various positions and the speed in twirling may vary. If the timing is a little off and a majorette gets behind the group, then it is much harder to catch up than when a mistake is made in a strutting routine," she commented.

In September when football season begins the public may see the Greenville majorettes wearing their formal uniform—white and green trimmed in gold—or their new green outfit which features a gold letter G.

"I hope that the corps does as well in our first performance as they did last year. We are planning to do a green fire baton number."

"Accidents will happen and in our first outing last year we had planned a "lights-out" number and when the time came the lights did not go out. Someone forgot to unlock the switch box!"

Another attraction will be a new addition to the band. This addition is 30 girls ranging in the 9-11 grades who will make up a precision group. They will do strutting and dancing routines.

The majorette corps plans to receive demerits for any disregard to their regulations and rules this year, noted Miss Rogers.

Has Other Interests
"Some of my school classes have shown me how interesting a journalistic job can be and I might go into that field," she said, but, "journalism isn't my only interest—art is another. I enjoy drawing in my spare time."
"East Carolina and their music department is my destination, because I hope to be a future ECC majorette, but, I know I've got a lot to learn."

Miss Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers of 805 Johnston Street.

TWIRLING . . . is harder than strutting, according to Lib Rogers, who was chosen best majorette at the majorette camp this summer.

Books & Stuff

By DR. ED HIRSHBERG
Back home again we note that tobacco, not Culture, is rampant hereabouts these days. But we—and a lot more people around here—certainly are willing to have both, and Culture will, we're sure, have its day sooner or later. All those new freshmen coming to East Carolina are bound to bring a big gob along with them—and the seniors, as our own dean told us once, certainly won't be taking any of it away.

King Arthur Again
We have it on good authority that T. H. White's brand new book, "The Once and Future King," is going to be worth reading (publication date is August 25). It's all about King Arthur and his knights of the Table Round, retold from Malory's "Morte d'Arthur" in modern language complete with all the fixings—something for the long winter HIRSHBERG nights ahead.

The author wrote his publishers that this particular production has been 22 years in the making—maybe he should have called it "The Once and Future Novel?" Anyway, if you want to know all—but all—about the mysterious King Arthur, here is your meat.

Meet Lolita
After many delays, Vladimir Nabokov's novel "Lolita" is appearing in English on American bookstands, for free and untrammeled sale, uncensored. This is something—since the French edition, which appeared in 1955, was banned in Paris and created quite a stir over there. . . . Now that your mouth has watered sufficiently, we'll tell you what it's about: Lolita is a young American girl in the nine-to-thirteen age bracket, known as a "nymphet." The hero of the novel feels an uncontrollable attraction towards girls in this rather immature age group, and carries on an abortive and pretty melancholy sort of love affair with Lolita throughout, until they both end up in a sad situation. That is about it, as far as plot is concerned, plus some overtones dealing with murder, rape, etc. The book has been given some favorable reviews, but we reserve our comment—all we know is that it looks like good material for the best seller lists, best seller lists being what they are. . . .

Frustration
In the August 9 Saturday Review is a heart-rending story by an author of a very important book. She's Eleanor S. Lowman, author of "Education in the USSR," and her story tells of the terrible frustrations she had to undergo in order to get to publish her book in the first place—and of the distortions and suppressions the book contained, once it was published. We think everybody ought to read this very depressing account of how the Office of Education apparently has done its best to soft-pedal the weaknesses of American education by attempting to change "Education in the USSR" into something that is not as damaging or as truthful as Eleanor Lowman's original version of the book was—which she started to write eight years ago, but which didn't come out until after the Russians had orbited their first Sputnik.

Today's Review
Dr. Lala Steelman of the E.C.C. Department of Social Studies, a specialist in American history, contributes her comments about a recent historical novel. . . .

TALE OF VALOR. By Vardis Fisher. New York: Doubleday & Co., 1958.
Vardis Fisher's "Tale of Valor" is an historical novel about the expedition of Meriwether Lewis and William Clark to the Pacific Northwest from 1804 to 1806. It is based upon the Lewis and Clark Journals, but fictional accounts and imaginative situations are introduced.

Fairstaking research added to personal familiarity with the locale of the novel qualifies Fisher to write this book. The author, a prolific writer of historical novels, is a resident of the area explored by Lewis and Clark.

The Lewis and Clark expedition is one of the most extraordinary events in American history. President Thomas Jefferson dispatched this party to explore the Northwest and to claim the Oregon Territory for the United States. From the beginning the men faced a constant dilemma—to risk annihilation and subsequent political embarrassment for Jefferson or to turn back and abandon a magnificent project. The fact that they never considered seriously a retreat makes this truly a tale of valor.

Lewis and Clark started from St. Louis with a well-picked group of men in May, 1804. They worked their way up the Missouri River until they reached its source in the Rocky Mountains. Then they traveled overland until they reached streams that led them to the Columbia River which they descended to the Pacific Ocean. The return trip was much shorter and accounts for about six months of an expedition that lasted over two years.

The ominous threat of annihilation is given full reign in the novel; in the Journals it was only mentioned casually. The main concern was to establish friendly relations with the many Indian tribes encountered along the route. Lewis and Clark were surprisingly adept in dealing with Indians. Firmness characterized their handling of the hostile Teton Sioux, but the more timid tribes were treated with kindness and dignity. The success of the expedition was due in part to this good relationship which was no doubt facilitated by the fact that an Indian woman, Sacajawea, wife of an interpreter, accompanied the expedition. She is the heroine, and much more attention is paid her in the novel than in the Journals.

The heroes, Lewis and Clark, are honestly portrayed by the author and emerge as the living people that they were. The imaginative, mercurial Lewis and the even-tempered, extroverted Clark made an excellent team. Their relationship on this tedious journey was marked by mutual respect and admiration. The reader is left with a better appreciation of an outstanding expedition and the men who led it.

Liz Taylor Sues 3 Corporations

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor has filed a five-million-dollar damage suit against three corporations, charging them with negligence in the plane crash which killed her husband, Mike Todd, and three others.

The action was filed in federal court yesterday on behalf of the actress and Todd's son, Mike Todd Jr.

At the same time, Mrs. Marta Cohn, widow of writer Ash Cohn, who also died in the crash last March, asked damages of 1 1/2 million dollars.

The defendants are Ayrer Lease Plan, Inc., described as the owner and operator of the plane; Trade-Ayer, Inc., and Michael Todd Co., Inc., maintainers and controllers of the plane.

Officials at Ayrer Lease Plan and Trade-Ayer, both located at Linden Airport, Linden, N.J., did not immediately comment.

The twin-engine plane, named The Liz for Miss Taylor, crashed in the Zuni Mountains near Grants, N.M., March 22. In addition to Todd and Cohn, the victims were pilot Bill Verner and copilot Tom Barclay.

Miss Taylor's and young Todd's suit said Todd left a widow and two children and had been "gaipfully working with a reasonable expectation of even greater earnings in the future."

Prison Officials Given Leeway In Reporting News

RALEIGH (AP)—Local prison camp personnel in North Carolina will have more leeway in reporting prison incidents to news media under a new policy adopted yesterday by the State Prison Commission.

Heretofore, much of the news from the prison camp units could be released only by the Prison Department headquarters here.

The new policy provides that in instances of major prison incidents, emergencies or significant development, prison heads may make the information available to news media as soon as Prison Department headquarters have been notified.

"Unit heads may make information available other than major escapes or incidents available directly to any news media without prior notification of Prison Department headquarters," the policy states.

"In some instances," he said, "our method of administering this policy has not been as satisfactory as we would like it to be and we hope the new policy will improve our method of administering the news to the public, whether it is good or unpleasant news."

The new policy also provides: "Authorization for representatives of news media to enter a prison unit for the purpose of taking pictures and gathering material for news stories on prison disorders will be made as soon as reports received by the director of prisons or by the assistant director for custody and field under control and the entrance of photographers and reporters will not jeopardize security."

"Newspapers and commercial radio and television stations willing to cooperate may also be used to spread an escape alarm and disseminate information concerning escapes. However, in event of an escape defined as major, this shall not be done until after Prison Department headquarters and local law enforcement officers have been notified of the escape."

Many Deferred

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey says of the United States needs two million men quickly for a conflict the size of the Korean War, a million of them would have to be veterans.

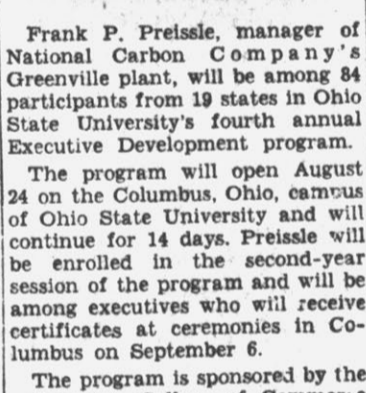

Hershey, who directs the Selective Service System, told the annual national convention of Amvets last night the United States would be well to get a million men out of its ready reserves.

Gen. Hershey decried the fact that six million men under 24 have had no military training. He said many of them have been deferred.

The general said Selective Service has deferred 20 million men in the past 10 years to permit them to continue their education.

The cost in keeping tabs on these students, he said, is more than the total cost of drafting all the men for services in Korea.

To Session

Frank P. Preissle, manager of National Carbon Company's Greenville plant, will be among 24 participants from 19 states in Ohio State University's fourth annual Executive Development program.

The program will open August 24 on the Columbus, Ohio, campus of Ohio State University and will continue for 14 days. Preissle will be enrolled in the second-year session of the program and will be among executives who will receive certificates at ceremonies in Columbus on September 6.

The program is sponsored by the university's College of Commerce and Administration in cooperation with the Ohio Manufacturers Association. The 14-day session is designed to develop attitudes and skills demanded of executives in policy-level positions.

Strikes Harass Auto Industry

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry is being harassed by a wave of strikes which have idled some 5,500 workers and curtailed production of the first 1959 models rolling off some assembly lines.

Walkouts have hit plants of all the Big Three auto makers this week.

Workers struck at five locations in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois in the worst outbreak of trouble since contracts between the manufacturers and the United Auto Workers expired last Memorial Day weekend.

A Chrysler spokesman said a strike of 330 employees at its key stamping plant in Twinsburg, Ohio, may slow down production of all Chrysler's 1959 models. The Twinsburg dispute was touched off when the company fired a UAW shop committeeman for ordering 200 workers to refuse overtime work.

General Motors was the target for a strike of 70 workers at its Buick engine plant in Flint, Mich., idling some 1,400 employees. The walkout was staged over the same issue—the scheduling of overtime while other workers are without jobs.

Another GM plant was closed in Mansfield, Ohio, where die setters walked off their jobs and idled another 1,400 at the Fisher Body works. The company said the dispute arose when the workers refused to perform work along the lines of established procedure.

Ford's stamping plant at Chicago Heights, Ill., was hit by a walkout of 147 die setters Wednesday night and the operation was shut down when the work force of 1,050 failed to show up. The company said pending disciplinary action touched off the strike.

Senate Probers Have Set Sights On Another Phase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators will delve next week into links between Teamster musician Robert (Barney) Baker and one of the powers of the giant trucking union—Vice President Harold Gibbons.

Baker, 300-pound Teamster organizer, yesterday completed almost two days of testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee, ranging from the comic to the dramatic.

A perspiring Baker left the witness stand after Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) called him a perjurer and counsel Robert F. Kennedy labeled him an associate of "underworld filth and the scum of the United States."

But with the hearings in recess Kennedy indicated today the ponderous ex-convict's troubles with the committee are not over. He told newsmen Baker would continue as a subject of testimony when hearings switch next Tuesday to Gibbons' activities in the St. Louis area.

The new phase of the inquiry into the giant Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa, will include a violence-punctuated St. Louis taxicab strike in 1953 and the part Baker allegedly played in it.

McClellan contended that Gibbons supplied Baker and other Teamster organizers with an arsenal of pistols and holsters to match during the strike. Baker swore, "That's not the truth as far as I'm concerned."

Baker has testified his rise in the union began after he met Gibbons in 1952 at a meeting in Washington of the Americans for Democratic Action, a self-styled liberal group.

Kennedy said next week's hearings also will probe Gibbons' controversial election last January as president of the St. Louis Joint Teamster Council, with Gibbons himself a possible witness at the end of the week.

Hoffa, a grim-faced, silent spectator in the hearing room this week, is not scheduled to return to the witness stand for at least another 10 days.

Baker yesterday loudly denied charges ranging from threats to murder to trafficking in stolen jewels. But he sheepishly admitted he might have bragged and told "little white lies" about being a close friend of New York Gov. Averell Harriman.

Although Baker swore "I don't sell no jewelry," the committee produced a surprise witness who told of seeing a fortune in gems in a Miami home where Baker lived with a blonde girl friend in 1955.

The witness, real estate man B. B. Bowers Jr. of Miami, said Mrs. Ruth Brougher, 44, once showed him nearly a quart of diamonds which he estimated were worth $75,000 to $100,000.

Mrs. Brougher, Baker's ex-sweetheart brought here from a Florida prison where she is serving a 15-year term for manslaughter, told the committee, "The only kind of jewelry I had in my possession was legitimate jewelry."

Baker denied that he threatened to kill Mrs. Brougher's lawyer, George Everett. But Thomas L. Soldier Field.

Lauren Requires More Allowance

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Lauren Bacall wants her allowance from the estate of her late husband Humphrey Bogart increased from $1,000 a month to $2,500.

Miss Bacall told the court yesterday that the actor's estate was officially appraised at $847,540. She said the allowance ordered for her support and that of the two children, Stephen, 8, and Leslie, 5, has proved insufficient.

Miss Bacall said her personal and household expenses have exceeded $4,500 a month since her husband's death Jan. 14, 1957. A hearing on her petition was set for Sept. 12.

Congress Lets The Crooks Dig In

When Congressional investigators first began to turn up dirt in the labor-rackets inquiry the public indignation could hardly be kept within bounds. Stories of pay-offs, mobster tactics, corruption, beatings and even suspected murders were told. Abuses of power, misappropriations of great sums of money, all came under the spotlight of public opinion.

Witnesses who resorted to the Fifth Amendment, who "couldn't remember", who obstructed efforts to determine the truth probers sought to unearth . . . these were commonplace.

The further investigators went, the more it became evident that persons with notorious criminal records held high posts of responsibility and influence within certain labor organizations. At one point, a questioner suggested to James Hoffa a criminal record seemed to be a pre-requisite for holding a position in his unions. Through it all, the suspicion organized crime had "moved in" on the labor unions tended to grow stronger and stronger.

With indignation running high, Congress began lining up ideas for protecting union members from phony elections, mis-use of their funds, and insure a greater measure of democratic processes.

Union members alone were not the only victims of questionable leadership; for every dollar that was extorted, every demand for uneconomical business operation had to be paid for. The payer, as always, was the consumer.

The millions of purchasers of goods and services were forced to feed the bottomless greed of an avaricious group who held the reins on many businesses and industries.

Several years previously Senator Estes Kefauver felt he had convincing evidence the old mobs were assuming "legitimate" fronts. His opinions were listened to with considerable respect but nothing was done.

Today, more and more evidence indicates the labor union movement has been infested by a horde of termites requiring more than token restraint . . . still, Congress seems destined to adjourn with no action on this front to its credit.

This aura of scandal demanded some sort of remedial legislation. Certainly the public has long since been "fed up" with stories of corruption and the invariable price we must all pay.

On every conceivable basis the time is ripe to institute clean-up measures.

Instead, Congress has chosen to give the wrongdoers more time to cover their tracks, to cement ever more firmly their positions, to allow indignation to die down to a feeble spark.

One wonders if anything will ever be done.

Harrowing Future For Navy Traditionalists

With the launching of the N. S. Triton this week came predictions our navy of the future will have submersible capital ships. The respected Admiral H. G. Rickover added that thought to launching ceremonies surrounding the world's largest submarine.

The thought is certainly an intriguing one, and coming from the father of the nuclear submarine it represents more than an idle forecast to enliven the proceedings. So such a thing might come about in the years ahead.

After all, a single missile-cruiser of today can wreak more havoc than all our ships-of-the-line during World War II. It follows that with adapting nuclear power to drive submarines the undersea craft today have far greater capabilities of speed, evasion and striking power than ever known before, and their capabilities are more apt to grow than diminish.

Even the aircraft carrier and the now-touted missile-cruiser appear to be obsolescent . . . though far from obsolete.

After centuries of naval warfare devoted to winning control of the surface of the sea it does seem odd to contemplate it being sought from beneath the surface.

A lot of fine old traditions and traditionalists are going to die hard over this new concept.

How Labor Bill Was Throttled

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor reform — and what Congress failed to do about it — is now a full-blown campaign issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

Democrats and Republicans will blame each other for what didn't come to pass. But the fact is neither side looks pretty in this one.

President Eisenhower has already rushed to the defense of his Republicans with a statement Wednesday. This is how it started and ended:

Last January Eisenhower proposed — as a result of disclosures by the Senate Rackets Committee — a 12-point labor reform program.

The Democratic-run Senate on June 17 passed its own bill which fell short of all Eisenhower wanted. It was sponsored by Senators Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Republicans and Democrats teamed up to shove it through.

This bill sought to throttle racketeering by both unions and employers. It would have required detailed reports on union affairs and funds, along with reports by employers on how much money they spent on labor relations activities.

Further, it would have barred convicted crooks from holding union office, required secret ballot union elections for limited terms, and let union members sue to recover stolen union funds or property. And it would have made management representatives take a non-Communist oath, just as union leaders have to do.

Then the bill went over to the Democratic-run House. There the leaders of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, bottled it up 41 days by keeping it on his desk. He finally sent it to the House Labor Committee for consideration July 29. Why the delay?

He explained: He didn't want to get it entangled with another piece of labor legislation the Labor Committee was considering.

But the House Labor Committee is run by Democrats. They didn't want any part of the

Now Let's Talk Football

By ALVIN TAYLOR

A handy little booklet has been issued this year entitled the "North State Conference Football Yearbook."

The brochure was compiled by Mose Cruichfield of the Greensboro Daily News sports staff and it offers vital statistics on each of the eight North State Conference schools which field football teams.

This booklet is printed on slick magazine paper and its check full of information which will be of interest to the follower of North State Conference football.

For East Carolina College, for instance, there are pictures of Jack Boone, the school's football coach, Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, athletic director. There is a list of ECC's other coaches and general information about the school.

That includes enrollment (3,800), college stadium capacity (6,500), gym capacity (2,500).

Of course there is the college's football schedule for 1958, results of the 1957 seasons and individual leaders of 1957.

Finally there is a complete roster of the team for the coming year including the individual player's height, weight, age classification and hometown.

Apparently the booklet is not available to the general public, though. A note at the front says: "This brochure has been compiled for the aid and information of press, radio and television through cooperation of athletic publicity directors of member colleges."

Of particular interest in the booklet is the phenomenal record of Coach Clarence Stasavich of Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory. He has a lifetime record of 82 wins, 34 losses and five tie games. At Lenoir Rhyne he has won five conference championships. They came in 1951, 1952, 1955, 1956 and 1957.

Each year a Stasavich-coached team has won a championship it has been with a 6-0 conference record with the exception of last year when the school lost one conference game.

Back to East Carolina again, the booklet shows that Coach Boone is ahead of the game as far as won-lost records go.

His lifetime and ECC record is 26-25-3. His team won a conference championship in 1953.

Last year was a dismal one for ECC as everyone knows. The booklet shows the local college at the bottom of the college standings with a 0-5 conference record.

However, in all conference games from 1931 to 1957 East Carolina stands fifth among the various teams which have fielded North State football teams in that period.

The college won 26; lost 32 and tied two games during that time. Incidentally the 1953 championship was the only one ever for ECC.

And what's the outlook for this year? A section in the booklet says: "Head Coach Jack Boone is not letting two consecutive losing seasons at East Carolina take his enthusiasm away, but rather looks confidently to a good gridiron season."

The section, written by Jim Butler, the college's sports publicity director, also says: "The Pirates will have experienced men at every position, except at guard. Depth in manpower is going to be a bit short. The club is made up of youngsters, but has the potential of becoming a good ball club."

Other Editors Saying --- Lovable Monster Grows

(Shelby Star)

A seven per cent across-the-board raise in Social Security benefits is in the offing.

And the tax rate will be increased another quarter of one per cent for employees and employers to partly foot the bill.

Another increase in the tax rate for Social Security payments is slated for 1960. That will make the take five and one-half per cent of the gross salary of every covered worker — half from each employer and half from each employee.

Are we against Social Security? Not as such. We feel, however, that the program must be placed on a sound financial basis with a reserve building up for future payments in a manner similar to annuities offered by private insurance companies.

If not, we'll pay, and our aging citizens will receive monthly stipends as long as the government can foot the bill from what it collects.

It remains an awesome monster that's growing without a foreseeable end.

More Difficult To Budget Time

By LYNN NISBET

TIME — Busy men find that it is more difficult and more important to budget time than to budget dollars. That is because there are just so many hours and minutes of time in a day, while the number of dollars fluctuate—except that usually there aren't enough of them. Public officials also find that they have less control over their time than over dollars, their own or public funds.

Associate Justice William Bobbitt visited his Supreme Court office early this week to get the "last load" of material to take back to Charlotte for homework before the court convenes for the fall session next Monday. He said he has worked as hard during the court recess as when it is in session. He admitted there is considerable advantage in being able to budget his own time—not having to meet the clock for appearance on the bench at the stroke of ten each day, or a conference call by the Chief Justice at 2:30, not 2:31.

Senator Everett Jordan was forced to cancel several speaking engagements in the state this week, because of necessity for staying on the job in Washington to vote on important bills coming up in the adjournment rush.

That is a common experience for members of the Congress, as well as for the Governor and other high ranking officials. Such engagements are usually made conditionally, the home folks in charge of the convention programs do not publicize the fact. They just announce that the man will speak. Guests are disappointed, but the speaker can do nothing about it. His time has been budgeted by somebody else. Unlike dollars, time can be spent only once.

MAP-MAKERS — The map-makers and the politicians seem unable to get together. A favorite topic of conversation is the economic and political east-west rivalry in North Carolina. Arguments always arise because there is no authoritative or recognized dividing line.

The state is divided into three major physical divisions—coastal plains, piedmont and mountain. The geographic center of the state is near the village of Gulf, on the Deep River between Chatham and Lee counties. Whether the line is drawn due north-south or from northeast to southwest, roughly following the coast and mountain borders or due east-west, there is about the same area on each side of that point. The center of state population constantly changes. Presently it is in the neighborhood of High Point. In many respects the map-makers mess up the politicians.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
JUDGMENT AT LAST

The great evangelist Talmadge once remarked that "prosperity is like salt water. The more you drink it, the thirstier you are."

We lay great emphasis upon the necessity for prosperity. And indeed we should because when an economic order is not prosperous, something is particularly out of adjustment. Perhaps too much goods are being produced or too little; people are on a spending spree or on an austerity schedule. All sorts of things can interfere with prosperity. Accordingly, the economists are very much disturbed when prosperity begins to lag—and well they should be.

But prosperity has a peculiar effect on moral character. Human beings seem to be so created

Southern Families

(Savannah Morning News)

If you are an average Southern family, then your family numbers exactly 3.74 members, according to the Census Bureau. And, your average is highest for the nation, which averages 3.61 members per family.

The census people also made a discovery which refutes the old idea that the poor people always have big families. Families with low incomes were smaller than those with high incomes. Those with incomes of less than $2,000 average 3.2 members for instance, while families with incomes of $7,000 or more average 3.8 members.

The South, therefore, is the place to come to enjoy larger families and incidentally, to make more money.

Profit In Anti-Pilferage Work

By ELMER ROESSNER

The seriousness of pilferage in retailing is shown by the steps one nationally famous department store has taken to combat it.

This is what it has done:

Photographed and fingerprinted all employees.

Set up a routine for checking all job applicants with the police department, and for its own investigation of new employees.

Where possible, enclosed and put under key all storage spaces.

Adopted a new type of numbered seal for all stock carriers and relay trucks.

Hired a full-time warehouse security officer.

Eliminated one warehouse entrance and put guards at the other two.

MANAGEMENT IS WATCHING

Installed a checkroom at the warehouse entrance, where all employees and visitors must leave outer clothing and parcels.

Provided identification badges for all warehouse employees and visitors.

Established an authorization-ticket procedure for all goods taken from the warehouse by hand.

Established a new package-sealing procedure, with periodic changes in the color of the sealing tape.

Set up a new system whereby merchandise sent from one building to another is checked against an authorization on departure and again on arrival.

Established a new system for reporting overages and shortages on shipments, and making spot checks to make sure procedures are being followed.

Instituted unannounced inspections of employees' lockers.

SYSTEM PAYS OFF

All these steps require an outlay of money. But the store says that they cost nothing, since they have reduced internal thefts to almost nothing at a time when pilferage is increasing in most stores.

These steps, of course, protect the store against shoplifters. It has another program for that but keeps details secret.

However, a Western supermarket has disclosed one step it has taken to prevent customers' thefts. It advertises that 10 per cent on a "cost plus 10 per cent" basis and only a few thefts could break a market with such a margin.

The greatest hazard was in health and beauty aids and hardware, since these items are usually small and can easily be concealed on the person. Furthermore, to boost profits the higher priced cosmetic items, increasing the danger of theft.

So the management enclosed one section of the store, leaving only a three-foot entrance. A small check-out counter was erected and the single checker can see every part of the enclosure. In it are carried cosmetics, hardware, tobacco and soft goods.

Reduction in pilferage, the management reports, pays the checker's salary.

NEW BRITISH DEVELOPMENT "FLATTED FACTORIES"

The British are experimenting with "flatted factories" as a cure for industrial slums.

Small, unsightly factories tend to cluster around the hearts of British industrial cities. In Birmingham and London, some of these industrial slums are being cleared and on their sites flatted factories are being erected.

These are attractive, multistoried buildings in which units or "flats" are leased to small manufacturers.

Actor Enjoys Work

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Inside every Hollywood actor today there is a producer struggling to get out.

Producer Gregory Peck has just emerged from actor Gregory Peck. With his partner, William Wyler, he has just produced a blockbuster Western.

It is in color and it cost four million dollars.

The actor, who worked briefly as a baker at the New York World Fair in 1939, is now on a three-week nationwide promotion tour for his picture.

"It's getting to be the thing for actors to do now," said Peck, smiling. "What we do is like the old-time pichman, except we go in for the soft-sell manner."

"Basically what has happened is that the major studios now often just put up the money for a package picture deal. The studios take a minor share of the profits, and the artists take the major share."

"There is always a day of reckoning," said Peck. "Just as the major share of the loot now goes to the artist, so does the major share of the blame — and this present dream setup won't last long if the results aren't good."

"So far they have been good. Some of the best pictures have been and are being made by the independent producers."

Why does an actor want to assume the added burdens and risks that go with directing and producing? It isn't just the hope of making more money he can keep.

"I've been acting for 15 years," said Peck. "There simply comes a time when it isn't enough to wait for someone else to pick out your stories and tell you when to work."

"I feel that any actor who survives in this business for 15 years is entitled, in varying degree, to go on and become a director or producer. After all, even as an actor, you are directing yourself."

"I can't stand negligence, laziness or casualness when it comes to work," he said. "It doesn't pay off. You have to put everything you have into anything to get good results."

His thoroughness has paid off well. Most of his 38 pictures — Peck starred in 1943, a star from the start — have done well at the boxoffices.

"I don't have much time to speculate on what I'm afraid of," he remarked. "But I suppose 'the thing I fear most' is being mediocre. I like to excel."

Every man has a creed he lives by whether he ever puts it into words or not. Asked to name his, Peck hesitated, then said:

"Do good work; try to grow in spirit; fear nothing, and remember God. They're the oldest laws in the book, but they stand up."

"I have a religion. I'm a Catholic. It is hard for me to imagine a life without it. I think the people who don't have a religion don't know what they are missing in life."

Opinions In Brief

"In one house, the parents became painfully aware that they were in a disciplinary rut when their 2-year-old son, upon being asked his name, replied 'Kevin No No.' — Memphis Press-Scimitar.

"Research into money is this country has so far been warped and misdirected by the academic, statistical approach. Everybody wants to count it." — Dallas Morning News.

"The twin scares of recession and war have bounded the balanced budget out of Washington as though it were a Carrie Nation at a cocktail party. With a deficit of nearly $3 billion in the fiscal year just ended, the Federal Government is headed for one of $10 billions or more in 1959. Clearly, the nation is off on another inflationary jag." — Tampa Tribune.

"Maybe Goldfine got the idea of buying friends in Washington from noting the operations of the Government's foreign-aid policies." — Jackson (Miss.) State Times.

Justice Among Nations

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Isaiah 40:1-5, 15-18; 51:1-3; Micah 4:1-7; Malachi 2:10; Acts 10:1-35; Ephesians 2:13-3:21.

"In the last days it shall come to pass . . . that the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains . . . and people shall flow unto it. And many nations shall come."—Micah 4:1, 2.

In Caesarea there lived a man named Cornelius, a centurion, who was devout, and worshiped God. One night Cornelius had a vision from God telling him to send some men to Joppa to seek Simon Peter.—Acts 10:1-5.

Praying on the housetop, Peter had a vision of a sheet let down containing many beasts. Peter said he could eat nothing that was unclean. He was told not to call any of God's creations unclean.—Acts 10:10-15.

Told that three men wanted him, Peter went to them, and finding that they came from Cornelius, he went to Caesarea and preached Christ in Cornelius' house.—Acts 10:17-34. MEMORY VERSE—Romans 10:12.

Justice Among Nations

THE SAME GOD IS LORD OF ALL PEOPLES WHO CALL UPON HIM

Scripture—Isaiah 40:1-5, 15-18; 51:1-3; Micah 4:1-7; Malachi 2:10; Acts 10:1-35; Ephesians 2:13-3:21.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. IN THE first reference in the Bible assigned to today's lesson, the prophet Isaiah is warning his people not to go back to Egypt and align themselves with that strong nation. The Lord had not sanctioned it, he said, and it would bring about evil. The children of Israel apparently had thought that joining Egypt would help them against their enemies. Isaiah may be dated about 702 B.C., and the book of Micah, which is the next on our reference, was written about the same time. Micah's words were full of hope for his nation and for all nations. His prophecy about universal peace has not yet come true, sad to say, 2,600 years later. "But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be as the mountains; and people shall flow unto it. And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go into the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and He will teach us His ways, and we will walk in His paths."

to send some men to Joppa, about 30 miles from Caesarea, and seek a man named Peter, whom they would find lodged in the house of Simon, a tanner. Cornelius called two of his servants and a devout soldier, and sent them to Joppa. Now Peter was having an odd experience of his own. He went to the housetop to pray, but fell asleep or in a trance. He was hungry, and he saw a sheet being let down from above, held at its four corners, and holding all manner of beasts. A voice said, "kill, and eat," but Peter said he could not because he had never eaten anything that was "unclean" according to the Mosaic law. He was rebuked by the voice saying, "What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common."—Acts 10:15. The messengers from Cornelius appeared at the door of the house where Peter lodged, asking for him, and he went down to them. They told him their errand, and he lodged them that night, and the next morning he went with them to Cornelius in Caesarea. Cornelius related how the Lord us His ways, and we will walk in His paths." Micah prophesied that in that time the Lord would "rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." Every man would sit "under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid." We of our frightened generation can only pray to the Lord and do our part, even in very small ways, to bring this blessed day to come.

had told him to send for Peter, and Peter then knew the meaning of his housetop vision, saying, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons," and he preached Christ to the household, and baptized them. Since Peter's day the world has grown larger—so many more people. Today we know so much more about people of other lands, through illustrated lectures, radio and television, that the earth has seemed to shrink, as far-away lands and their peoples become familiar to us. Christian missionaries leave their comfortable homes and settle among people strange to them, bringing them the Gospel, ministering to their physical and spiritual needs and making them their friends.

The scene changes. It is many years later, when Israel was under the Roman empire. There were good people and bad in every nation, and a Roman centurion named Cornelius, commanding 100 men in what was called "the Italian band," was a good man, charitable to the poor, worshipping God in Caesarea. Cornelius had a vision of an angel of God who told him that the Lord had heard and approved of his good deeds. He was told of his good deeds. He was told of his good deeds. He was told of his good deeds.

Justice among nations will only come when we recognize all people as brothers and sisters, no matter what their color or creed. We must study to understand them and to help them solve their problems as we do our own, treating them as our true friends, not as strangers.

Pirates Club Drive To Fill Stands In 1958 Season

Burdette Hurls Another Shutout Against Dodgers

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Yep, it's almost fall and World Series time. There's the smell of burning leaves. There's football practice. And there's Lew Burdette, pitching the big shutout again.

It's been a long summer for the big right-hander who pitched the Milwaukee Braves to the world championship last October. At the All-Star Game in July he had only a 6-7 record. Those winter banquets that toasted his three victories and two shutouts over the New York Yankees in the Series were as much to blame as anything.

But since the All-Star break he's won 8 of 10. He beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0 last night with a four-hitter.

It was only his second shutout of the season. He didn't walk a man, struck out five and didn't allow a base runner after Gil Hodges, who had two of the Dodgers' hits, singled with two out in the fourth inning.

Burdette also hit his third home run of the season—all at the Coliseum—as the Braves regained a 6½-game lead in the National League race after losing three in a row to the Dodgers.

Cincinnati broke loose for an 8-1 victory over second-place San Francisco, and the Chicago Cubs, with Ernie Banks hitting his 39th and 40th home runs, beat third-place Pittsburgh 5-3. St. Louis plunked Philadelphia back into the cellar 2-1.

In the American League, Chicago's winning string at seven, beating the White Sox 6-3 as Bob Turley won his 18th. Boston defeated Cleveland 8-6, Baltimore spilled Detroit 7-6 and Kansas City rapped Washington 7-4.

Hank Aaron's 27th home run opened a four-run fourth for the Braves against losing southpaw Sandy Koufax (9-7). Duke Snider's error, Andy Pafko's double and Burdette's homer wrapped it up. Don Newcombe, who has lost 11, picked up his third victory for Cincinnati with a six-hitter. Leon Wagner had half the Giants' hits, one his eighth home run in the second inning. The Reds scored four in the first inning, capped by Alex Grammas' three-run, two-out double, as Mike McCormick lost his sixth.

Banks drove in all the Cubs' runs. His 39th homer came with two on in the third inning off loser Vern Law (9-11), and he added an RBI double off the Buc right-hander in the fifth. His 40th homer was a solo shot in the eighth. Moe Drabowsky won his ninth with a three-hitter.

Larry Jackson won his 10th for the Cardinals, blanking the Phils on five hits for seven innings and then giving up five hits in the last two frames. He lost his shutout on hitter Dave Philley, in the eighth, for the final out of the game with three singles, the last by pinch-hitter Wally Post on a grounder the tying run on third.

Witt, Raydon Give Pirates First-Rate Pitching Stable

CHICAGO (AP) — About six years ago, a be-freckled, red-haired Californian and a beanie-wearing Central Illinois youth were competing high school pitching careers and weighing offers by major league baseball teams.

Neither went to the Pittsburgh Pirates, a down-trodden, undermanned ball club with youngsters such as Bob Friend, Ron Klime and Vernon Law forming losing habits and beginning their long wait for additional starters to share the agony.

This season, via Brooklyn and Milwaukee farm systems, 24-year-old rookies George Witt of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Curt Raydon of Bloomington, Ill., have arrived in Pittsburgh to round out the Pirates' first solid pitching corps in at least eight years.

Pitching Coach Bill Burwell says it's been that long since the Bucs had five dependable starters so each could average four days rest between assignments.

Manager Danny Murtaugh yesterday put it simply: "We would not be where we are without them."

The Pirates, who entered today's game in Chicago in third place, appear headed for their highest finish since 1948 when they were fourth.

Right-handers Witt and Raydon have combined for 13 wins and only 5 defeats. Witt won his last four decisions and chalked up three shutouts among his six victories — all since he was called up from Columbus in mid-June. Witt admitted he was slow to come around in the spring, which prompted the Pirates to send him down.

"I had taken biology and physical education courses at Long Beach, Calif., State College and held down a full-time job last winter," he recalled. "And I was worn out when I went to spring training."

Burwell became ecstatic over Raydon's alternating overhand and whipping sidearm deliveries at the Pirates' spring camp and arm which curtailed his pitching to only five innings before the season opened.

Raydon and Witt admit neither was overjoyed upon being traded to the Bucs about four years ago, but both declare a lot has changed at Pittsburgh since then.

A Look At Athletics

By DR. N. M. JORGENSEN

The East Carolina College Pirates Club . . .

In the winter of 1952 a group of sports minded businessmen and friends of East Carolina College met with a number of the faculty and administration and set up machinery for the formation and incorporation of the East Carolina College Pirates Club.

The late E. E. Rawl, a member of the Board of Trustees, and a staunch supporter of the athletic program was elected president with Herbert Waldrop, treasurer and James W. Butler of the College, secretary. In addition, a Board of Directors was appointed to give support to the movement.

Since its formation other presidents of the club, in addition to Mr. Rawl, have been Mr. A. Hartwell Campbell and the present incumbent, Mr. W. M. "Booger" Seales.

The purpose of the Pirates Club is to promote patronage and support morally and financially to the athletic program of the college. Membership is not limited to graduates, or even to former students. Anyone who is interested in the advancement and growth of the college is eligible.

A Pirates Club membership — price $15.00 (two for $25.00); gives you the following: (1) A reserved season ticket to all six home football games, (2) A membership card, (3) A decal or sticker, (4) Priority in the purchase of seats for basketball games, (5) Subscription to "The Coaches Bench," which is published periodically by the athletic department.

Most of all membership in the club is a means to cement a feeling of loyalty among friends of the College, and to unite these friends in a common bond of interest for their school.

We earnestly encourage all people everywhere to affiliate themselves with the Pirates Club and thus become a part of eastern Carolina's greatest asset — East Carolina College.

Turley Aiming At Yank Record Set By Gomez

Wilson Has No Place To Go

DETROIT (AP) — For George Wilson, there is no direction to go except down in 1958.

The head coaching job with the Detroit Lions was thrust upon him two days before the team's first pre-season game last summer. He led the Lions to a tie for the Western Conference championship and his team whipped the San Francisco 49ers in the playoff game.

Then his club thrashed the Cleveland Browns for the world title and the Wilson-coached West strbs defeated the East team in the annual Pro Bowl contest.

"I figure the only way I could top that performance is to quit my job", Wilson quipped. "But I ain't gonna do that."

"We were a good team, and we still are," he added. "That's not to say that we're going to repeat this season, though. This is a crazy league and you have to be lucky to win. I just hope we still have some luck left."

Five members of the title-winning club are gone. Leon Hart, Frank Gatski and Sonny Gandee retired. Dorne Dibble was traded to New York and then announced his retirement too. Line-man Ray Krouse was traded to Baltimore.

"We need a couple more offensive linemen, a running back and another offensive end," Wilson said. "We're pretty well set on defense. All we can do is hope some of our rookies come through for us. Otherwise, it could be a long season."

Two Linksters Hold Lead In Tucson Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A one-stroke margin separated two leaders from the pack as the third round of the Jaycee International Junior golf tournament began today.

Jerry Greenbaum of Atlanta and Don Morano of Belleville, N. J., both off form, led with 139 at the halfway mark.

Morano, who shot a blistering 66 first round, had a 73. Somewhat depressed afterward, he said his drives just weren't going right.

Greenbaum, starting sluggishly, wound up with a par-70 after birdies on the last three holes. Tied at 140 were Buddy Baker of Florence, S.C., 69-71; Nick Secondo of Watsonville, Calif., 67-73; and Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., 71-69.

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Turley had to beat himself, you might say, before he could beat American League teams with consistency. Now he has a shot at becoming the New York Yankees' biggest winner since Lefty Gomez nailed 26 victories 24 years ago.

The big right-hander, who was a lad of four when Gomez did his big job for the Yankees in 1934, licked his wildness with a no-windup style, then gained more control and learned to pace himself by pausing for a couple of deep breaths between pitches.

"Now he's won 18, hitting his one-season high with a six-hitter that beat Chicago 6-3 last night and ended the White Sox' winning streak at seven. With 33 games left, Turley could be the first Yankee to win 22 since Gomez, and the first right-hander to do it for the champs since George Pipgras in 1928.

Better yet for Turley, he now is 3-0 against the White Sox this season, a point he's always missed at contract time. "I'm particularly happy with this victory," he said, "because when I sit down to talk salary, they always tell me I never beat the top teams, like the White Sox." His lifetime record against 'em is 8-11.

While the Yankees regained an 11½-game lead with their fourth victory in 12 games, the Boston Red Sox moved within three games of second place Chicago by beating Cleveland 8-6. Baltimore tied Detroit for fourth by defeating the Tigers 7-6. Kansas City rapped Washington 7-4.

In the National League, Milwaukee defeated Los Angeles 4-0, and the Braves moved 6½ games ahead again. Cincinnati spilled second place San Francisco 8-1, the Chicago Cubs beat third place Pittsburgh 5-3, and St. Louis plunked Philadelphia back into the cellar 2-1.

Turley, who had lost two in a row, had a four-hitter with two out in the ninth, when Jim Rivera hit a home run and Al Smith singled. But he didn't have it in the bag until the Yankees scored three runs in the seventh and ended a duel with Ray Moore, who had beaten them three times. Two singles and a walk loaded the bases in the seventh. Then consecutive sacrifice flies by Bill Skowron and Elston Howard, and Tony Kubek's bunt single gave the Yankees a 6-2 lead.

The Red Sox had 15 hits and 11 walks, but left 16 men on base and didn't put it away until a three-run eighth. Dick Gerert's 17th home run scored a pair in the winning spot. Every Boston batter had a hit except Ted Williams, who left six runners stranded. Tom Brewer won his eighth ninth. Hal Woodeshick (3-4) was the loser for the Injuns, who got homers from Vic Power, Vic Wertz and Randy Jackson.

The Tigers, scoring four runs in the fourth with the help of an error, blew a 6-3 lead when Gus Triandos' 24th homer, with two on, capped a four-run Oriole seventh. George Spuck was the loser in relief. Chuck Beamon won it in relief—his first victory since he won his first two major league decisions in September 1956.

Hector Lopez banded a pair of homers and Hal Smith hit a two-run single for the A's, who finished their scoring in four innings. Jack Urban, 5-0 against Washington in his brief career, squared his record at 8-8, but needed relief in the eighth, when Roy Sievers drove in two runs with a single. Vito Valentini lost it.

Coach Phillips Preping For Campaign

ROSE HIGH DRILLS . . . Light equipment first

55 Out For Rose High Grid Drills; 1958 Schedule Set

By BILLY ARNOLD Reflector Sports Editor

Football has been underway at Rose High School for a week now, and 55 boys have turned out to apply for positions on the varsity and junior varsity teams for the 1958 season.

Varsity Coach Bud Phillips claims well over half of the candidates for his varsity squad, including 11 lettermen from last year's team. Phillips and Junior Varsity Coach Boley Farley expect approximately 70 candidates for '58 football by the time school begins in September.

Troy Pate, who graduated from East Carolina College last year, has been appointed football coach at the Junior High school for 1958 and is also working with the varsity at the present. Odel Welborn, assistant coach, is aiding Phillips with his linemen at present. Charlie Bland, an ECC student, is currently helping out part time.

Schedule The Rose High schedule, just completed, will have several changes in it from last year. Two new opponents have been added to the list. Scotland Neck and Tarboro are the two new clubs.

Here is the schedule: Sept. 5—(open). Sept. 12—Jacksonville (there). Sept. 19—Kinston (there). Sept. 26—Washington (there). Oct. 3—Tarboro (here). Oct. 10—Elizabeth City (here). Oct. 17—New Bern (there). Oct. 24—Scotland Neck (there). Oct. 31—Wilson (there). Nov. 7—Roanoke Rapids (here). Both Tarboro and Scotland Neck are Class A teams. The only other non-Northeastern Conference club on the list is Wilson. Wilson is AAA.

Returning from Coach Phillips' 2-6 1957 team are veterans Billy Cox, Steve Noble, Robin Wilfong, Charles Roberts, Louis Dall, Norwood Felton, Reggie Johnson, Charlie Ross, Ralph Sullivan, Wilbur Owens, and Billy Brown. Also joining those lettermen, will be a host of players who performed with the Junior High school and Jaycee teams last year. There were 35 Junior High and 25 Jaycee players on last season's clubs. Most of those are out for varsity now, or planning to go out before school starts.

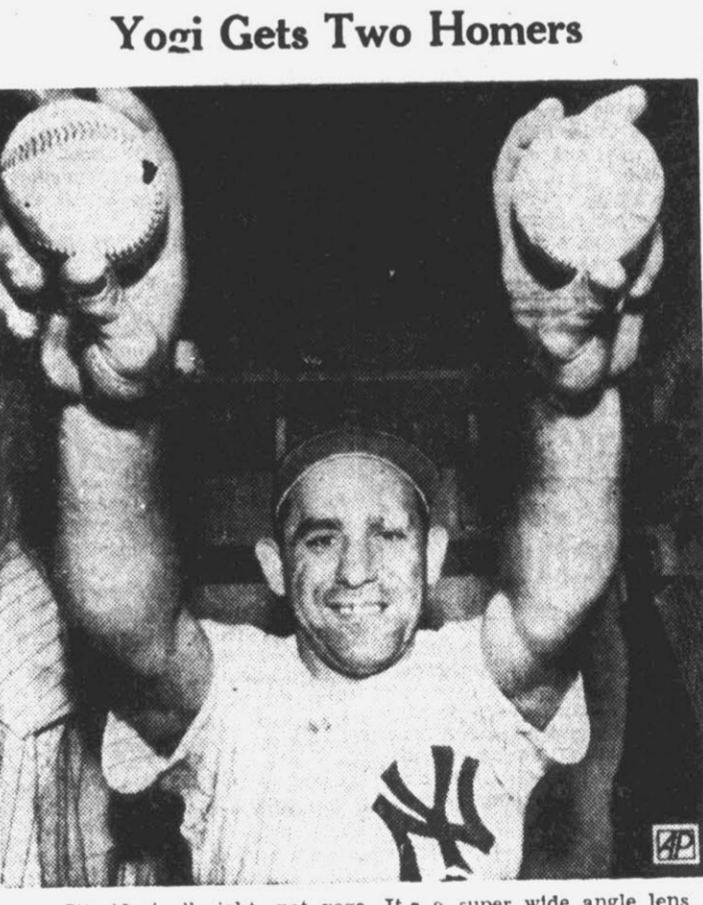

Though Coach Phillips has not yet set up his starting team but means, he has been working certain boys in certain positions in light drills. Thus far, here is the way they have been running: Ends—Billy Cox and Steve Noble. Tackles—Louis Dall, Ralph Sullivan, Norwood Felton. Guards—Billy Brown, Wilbur Owens. Center—Jeff Fountain. Quarterbacks — Charles Ross, Erky Duff, Alan McArthur, Jimmy Jenkins, John Adams, Billy Neal James. Halfbacks — Randy Bass, John Boyd. Fullbacks—Robin Wilfong.

Rebuff To Supreme Court Defeated By Single Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a one-vote margin, Congress members who wanted to hand the Supreme Court a major legislative rebuff have been defeated.

The bitter battle reached a climax in the Senate last night. A 41-40 vote killed a bill designed to prevent the court from striking down state laws not in direct conflict with federal laws on the same subject.

The vote came on a motion of Sen. John J. Carroll (D-Colo.) to send the measure back to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Twenty-seven Democrats and 14 Republicans teamed up to put the motion across. Voting in opposition were 17 Democrats and 23 Republicans. The count was tied at 40-40 when Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) cast the decisive vote.

The House passed the bill last month by a 240-155 vote, ignoring warnings that President Eisenhower might veto it.

The bill provided that federal laws should not supersede state laws in the same field unless Congress said so or unless there was a direct and irreconcilable conflict between them.

It also contained a provision specifically restoring to the states the right to enforce their own antitrust laws—a section designed to overcome the effect of the Supreme Court's decision in the Stevie Nelson case.

Nelson, a Pennsylvania Communist leader, was convicted under a state sedition law. The Supreme Court reversed the conviction on the ground that Congress had assumed jurisdiction in the field by enacting the Smith Act and other anti-Communist laws. The sedition laws of 42 states were invalidated by the ruling.

Carroll argued that the bill intended to offset the decision would cause untold chaos in federal-state relations. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) called it "a shotgun approach" and said it came 100 years too late.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC)

countered that "all that's involved here is to let the states pass laws that are not in conflict with federal laws."

Before last night's vote, the Senate was locked in dispute for three days over legislation aimed at recent decisions of the Supreme Court.

During the battle, it killed off by a 49-41 vote a bill to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court and to undo the effects of decisions in several Communist cases.

The only bill passed during the three-day struggle was a cutdown version of a House measure dealing with the issue of delays by police in arraigning suspects in federal criminal cases.

Scandal Magazine Has Found Way Into Europe

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The scandal type of magazine, on the decline in this country, has struck Europe, says German star Maria Schell. She deprecates this export of so-called American culture.

The scandal mags scourged the Hollywood social scene for a couple of years, but appear to have dwindled since the sensation-ridden Confidential magazine trial. Now such reporting is making a stand on the continent, says Miss Schell.

"Like most of your customs, we caught it a little late," she commented. "The newspapers didn't deal in such scandal, but many of the magazines started running columns with terrible gossip. They claimed they deplored it, but they had to keep up with their competitors."

"But I am happy to say that such reporting is becoming less popular in Europe. I think people are becoming ashamed of reading such things, just as they did here."

Miss Schell is completing her second Hollywood picture, "The Hanging Tree," with Gary Cooper. It is more of a Northern than a Western, having been filmed in the state of Washington. This gave the actress more of a chance to see the country than on her first visit here for "The Brothers Karamazov."

"The country up there was magnificent," she enthused. "At first, I thought that the mountains looked like those in Austria or Switzerland. But then I realized that they had a grandeur that was entirely different."

Despite her fondness for the scenery, she has no plans to settle here permanently. She and her husband are building a home in the country near Munich.

Not Only Risky, But City Hall Could Fall In

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Signs have been posted at three entrances of the City Hall declaring it "unsafe." But City Building Commissioner Robert Keeley says they don't tell the whole story.

Keeley said the roof and third floor are in danger of collapsing and the "first floor could easily drop into the basement."

The 60-year-old building is infested with termites, the roof leaks and the walls of the basement are full of cracks.

"The building is full of vermin. The plumbing is in poor condition, the electrical system overloaded and the old boilers are absolutely dangerous," said Keeley.

He hopes the building will last until Feb. 1, when the city is to move into a remodeled building.

Young Runaway Lively Sophistication Is Shows A Profit Not For Mere Handful

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—There seems to be a legend in television and radio that to get a lively sophisticated conversation on the air you need Clifton Fadiman, Frank Baxter or Bergen Evans.

Pleasant though the results are, the legend overlooks the fact that for several years now CBA radio has been making an excellent score in the area of lively conversation with the Mitch Miller Show Sunday nights.

Miller puts the theory of wit being where you find it into actual practice by interviewing a diverse host of seldom heard people. During a recent Hollywood pilgrimage, for example, he set up a tape machine in the headquarters of the Writers Guild of America, West, and engaged in an impromptu colloquy with four of Hollywood's top screen writers.

The four, who will be heard on the Miller show over CBS radio Sunday, are Edmund L. Hartmann, president of the guild; Frank Nugent; John Lee Mahin; and Hal Kanter.

Listening to their recorded conversation in advance of the show makes one think that being witty is not a specialty. Rather, it's the result of imaginative interest in life generally and one's own work especially. It can happen to a bricklayer.

Discussing the relative merits of New York and Hollywood as a stimulating place for a writer to work, Nugent prefers Hollywood.

"Yes," says Kanter. "New York sits with its back to America," which may help explain the legend that Kanter once received a screen credit which read, "Based on a remark by Hal Kanter."

All agree that Hollywood is a more serious-minded place than it used to be, although Hartmann couldn't resist recalling the incident of the writer who advised a producer to change the period of a script from the present to the past.

"What period would you suggest?" asked the producer.

"I think around 1812," replied the writer.

"1812?" the producer said. "When was that?"

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cities of the future may some day be lighted by fusion power, predicted by a panel of experts attending the 1958 Western Electronic Show and Convention. But fusion—thermonuclear power—will take 30 or more years before becoming economical enough to light a city, the experts said.

CLEAN PETS

BURLINGTON, Ont. (AP)—Some people in this town near Hamilton say they prefer skunks to cats as pets because they are "excellent mousers as well as clean pets." The skunks, of course, are deodorized.

Big Inflation Victims Get Relief In Measure

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 12 million of inflation's worst victims are in line today for a little relief.

If President Eisenhower signs the Social Security bill into law, Uncle Sam will hand out about a billion dollars more next year to 12 million beneficiaries.

He will collect a little more than a billion dollars additional through higher taxes. Half of the increase will be paid by the 75 million whose pay checks are docked for Social Security taxes, and the other half by their employers.

The increased benefits are designed to make up for some of the ravages of past inflation on the fixed incomes of the retired.

If new inflation pops up, as many in Washington fear, the battle will start all over again.

The big rise in the cost of living since the war has cramped, often cruelly, persons beyond their earning years.

The worker has at least a fighting chance to increase his income in the hope of meeting the additional costs. The retired person has little chance to do anything but tighten his belt.

The new benefits and the new taxes will still leave the Social Security system running in the red, as it started to do for the first time in the past year.

This year it is paying out nearly 8½ billion dollars in benefits and it is taking in 7½ billion dollars in taxes on the employed and their employers. Next year under the new bill payments would rise to 9½ billion and collections to a bit more than 8 billion.

The system has a large reserve fund on which to draw. But taxes will have to go up steadily from year to year if the higher payments are to be made and the reserve saved from too much drainage. Sponsors of the new bill say it should bring the Social Security fund into balance within a few more years as the tax rates rise.

Many elderly persons have other forms of income.

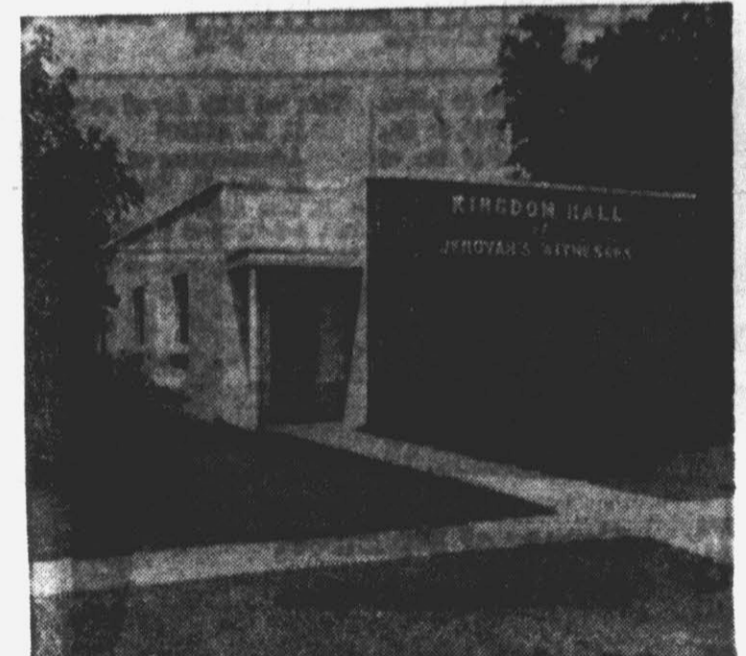

There has been a rapid growth in corporate pension funds in recent years. Union pension funds are also a growing part of the economic scene.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports that the reserves of pension funds handled by the nation's insurance companies has reached a record 14 billion dollars. To this the Securities and Exchange Commission adds a record 19½ billion dollars in pension funds not handled by insurance firms.

Annuities and insurance benefit payments add many others. And an estimated million persons over 65 get their primary source of income from returns on investments.

But inflation bites into any of these income sources, and only a few of the retired are in a position to increase their incomes to meet inflation's inroads.

As the number of those 65 or over grows from the present 14 million to an expected 18 million within 10 years, the problem is likely to grow too.

This new and modern Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses located in Scotland Neck will have its dedication Saturday and Sunday of this week. William E. Manning, the Greenville congregational minister, said, "This is one of the many new Kingdom Halls that are being built." He also stated that "many from Greenville will be attending the dedication in Scotland Neck this weekend."

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels advanced as coppers gave ground and the stock market managed a thin edge to the upside on balance early this afternoon.

Trading was fairly active as gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

The market was mixed at the start but improvement by steels and other selected issues jacked up the average. Rails showed moderate gains on improved carloadings.

U. S. Steel, National Steel and Lukens were up about a point or so. Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel gained fractions.

Kennecott was down more than a point. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge were 1-point losers. Magna eased.

St. Joseph lead, the nation's biggest lead producer, dropped about a point as it announced a cut in production. American Smelting held a small gain.

Texas Co. and Gulf Oil rose a little. Standard Oil (New Jersey) was firm while Standard of Indiana dropped a fraction.

Fractional gains were posted by a string of leading rails, including Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.

Among drugs, Pfizer added a point or so and Schering a fraction. General Motors was steady in a scarcely changed automotive group. Goodrich rose about a point. Penn-Texas continued active and slightly higher. Container Corp. dropped a bit and Chemway was firm. Minute Maid added more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 40 cents to $184.70 with the industrials up 50 cents, the rails up 90 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

To Ask Supreme Court Intercede

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will ask the U. S. Supreme Court today to knock down the legal barrier that would prevent Negro students from entering Central High School Sept. 2.

Gov. Orval Faubus kept his special legislative session plans in readiness in case the NAACP is successful in overturning the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals action that would block integration at the school until the Supreme Court has made the final decision.

Little Rock's school board is going ahead on the assumption the Central will be an all-white high school when classes resume a week from next Tuesday. Registration begins today and if Negroes apply they will be told to attend Horace Mann Negro High School here.

Gunfire Again Erupts In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A 15-minute exchange of rifle fire broke out in Beirut today while Lebanese were attempting to measure the effect of the Middle East resolution adopted unanimously in the U. N. General Assembly. First general reaction here was one of pleasure.

The firing developed in the neighborhood of the apartment of Dory Chamoun, son of President Camille Chamoun. Security forces silenced the rebel riflemen. At least one member of the security forces was wounded.

In a separate incident, the French viceconsul, Jean Gaspard, was seriously wounded by a gunman last night while driving from the airport to Beirut.

Despite these outbreaks, both the opposition and government sources expressed pleasure at the outcome of U. N. deliberations which placed the major responsibility for peace on Arab states themselves. They said they expected that Lebanon's new president, Gen. Fuad Chehab, would now be able to take office next month in a comparatively relaxed atmosphere.

The effect may be to strengthen Lebanon's bonds with the Arab world. Arab propaganda can interpret the U. N. resolution as a blow at British and American prestige. As things now stand the British and Americans are in the equivocal position of waiting for Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to negotiate for their withdrawal.

President Chamoun, who invited American troops here, already is a lame duck. He is now in a weaker position than ever.

Denmark Fears Atomic Mishap

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Denmark last night canceled the visit of the U. S. atomic-powered submarine Skate to Copenhagen for fear of dangerous radiation in case of an accident.

Premier Hans C. Hansen acted on the recommendation of the Danish Atomic Energy Commission.

A commission official conceded that the chance of a dangerous accident was negligible. But he said that if the Skate were to run aground or be involved in a collision and its powerful atomic reactor damaged, there would be "a very great danger" for Copenhagen's 1,200,000 residents.

The Skate's visit to Denmark after its leisurely voyage under the polar ice was scheduled for next week. The submarine will call at Bergen, Norway, tomorrow and will visit Oslo from Monday to Wednesday. Copenhagen had been her only other announced stop.

There was no indication that the Norwegians had any fears concerning the visit.

Both Norway and Denmark are members of the North Atlantic Alliance. An official of the Socialist-led Danish government said there were no political implications to the cancellation, although Denmark has refused offers of American atomic weapons through NATO.

It was the first such public refusal to accept a visit by American nuclear submarines, which have called at a number of American, British, French and Dutch ports. The situation indicated possible future obstacles for the fleets of nuclear-powered surface and undersea vessels now planned by several nations.

There was no immediate comment from the U. S. defense or state departments or the U. S. atomic energy commission.

Little Leaguers Among First On Rides

ROME'S RIDES ARE BACK... Jaycee W. M. Scales assists Little Leaguers John Flanagan and Jeff Jenkins.

Jaycee-sponsored Rome's Rides in Greenville for the second consecutive year. Jaycees also sponsored last year's visit. The show is among the first to board the rides located on Tenth St. on a lot between Pitt and Washington Sts. The popular rides are setting up.

Each of the Little Leaguers received free trips on all of the rides he chose last night. There was also free drinks and cotton candy for the youngsters.

In all, 12 who played on the Jaycee-sponsored team were present for the treat.

The Jaycee team this year wound up second in the standings for both seasons.

Prior to the Rome's Rides visit, the Little Leaguers had attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting where they were served a fried chicken supper along with the club members.

Another guest of the club last night was Betty Lane Evans, Miss North Carolina for 1958. Betty Lane received a standing ovation from club members when she was introduced by President John Hardy.

Rome's Rides is scheduled to remain in Greenville through Aug. 30. The rides are operated by employees of the show. Jaycees are manning the ticket booths each night.

There are seven rides included. They are the swings, octopus, merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, train, kiddie swings and boats.

Local Man Bound Over On Attempted Rape Charges

JOE CURTIS LANGLEY, 30-year-old Negro of 106 Reade Street, charged with assault on a minor female with the intent to commit rape, world, was bound over for Grand Jury action.

Langley is being charged with assaulting Rosa Mae Morris, seven-year-old daughter of Maggie Lee Morris, 23-year-old Negro of 122 North Colanchoe Street. The attack reportedly took place Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Charles H. Whedbee ordered the defendant held without privilege of bond after hearing testimony presented during a preliminary hearing in Greenville Recorder's Court this morning. Probable cause was found in the case.

According to testimony Langley attacked the young girl in an abandoned apartment house on River Drive. The house, facing the river, is located approximately 30 yards from the Morris residence.

The victim told officers that Langley stopped by her house, took her by the hand and led her into the abandoned house. There, she said, he attacked her.

Later she returned home and related details of the incident to her mother who immediately filed a complaint and signed a warrant for Langley's arrest. He was picked up about 30 minutes later on the front porch of the house where the attack allegedly took place. Officers said he had been drinking.

A physician who examined the youngster yesterday afternoon testified at today's hearing. He said she had bruises and scratches about her body that would indicate she was attacked.

Langley denied the attack. He told officers that he had been drinking and didn't remember anything.

Two Fellowships Open At E. Carolina College

Two work-study fellowships are available to young men from northeastern counties of North Carolina to enroll at East Carolina College, with passing grades, is a requisite of continued employment at Halifax Paper Company.

Dr. Jenkins announced that he will be able to consider all applications up to September 1. Applicants must take the entrance examinations to be administered at East Carolina College.

W. H. Warren, personnel manager of Halifax Paper Company, will also accept applications up to the same date. Final selection will be made in time for beginning of the Fall quarter at the College on September 4.

Applications from young men interested in this program should be made not later than Friday, August 29.

Under provisions of this new cooperative educational-industrial project, while one student attends a quarter at East Carolina College the other will be working at the Halifax Paper Company as a chemical laboratory technician. At the beginning of the second quarter, the two men reverse positions. This provision will be followed from quarter to quarter and permits the student to complete the degree requirements in six years. Earnings for the year for each man will average $1,800. Continuous attendance at East Carolina College, with passing grades, is a requisite of continued employment at Halifax Paper Company.

Pull-Out From NATO Threat By Icelander

LONDON (AP)—Iceland threatened today to pull out of the Atlantic Alliance over its fishing dispute with Great Britain.

Dr. Kristinn Gudmundsson, Iceland's ambassador to Britain, told a news conference Iceland will be compelled "to drop out of NATO if Britain does not behave."

Britain has challenged Iceland's right to ban foreign trawlers from fishing within 12 miles of its coast. The ban goes into effect Sept. 1. The present limit is four miles.

Gudmundsson said Iceland "is sticking 100 per cent to its decision" despite British warnings that the Royal Navy intends to escort British trawlers.

Gudmundsson added, however, he hoped some agreement can be reached before the deadline.

Diplomats in London hoped that talks going on in Paris may hit on some compromise to avoid a fishing war between the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners.
