

Iceland's Coast Guard And British Fishermen Clash

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — British fishermen and Icelandic coast guard men battled hand-to-hand on board a British trawler in the no-fishing zone off Iceland's east coast today, the Icelandic coast guard reported.

An official statement, broadcast by the government-owned radio, gave the Icelandic people a graphic account of the fight.

It said a rough battle ensued when an Iceland gunboat's crew attempted to seize the British trawler Northern Foam. The British frigate Eastbourne steamed to the trawler's side and took the Icelanders off, the radio said.

All this happened 300 miles from Reykjavik in the waters off the fishing village of Balatangi. It is the first reported violent contact in the nearly two-day old fishing dispute between Iceland and Britain.

While the struggle at sea was going on, the trawler Northern Foam drifted in about four miles from the Icelandic coast, the radio said.

Balatangi is the most eastern tip of Iceland.

The British Embassy here said the Eastbourne was awaiting specific instructions what to do with the captured Icelandic coast-guardmen.

The Icelandic coast guard emphasized that its men were unarmed.

The government-owned radio said in its midday broadcast that six Icelanders went aboard the Northern Foam unarmed. But, it said, the Icelanders were met by British trawlermen armed with cudgels.

The Icelanders overpowered the trawlermen and resistance ceased, the radio said.

When the coastguardmen were trying to take the trawler into port, the British frigate Eastbourne sailed into the fray.

"The Eastbourne put men on the trawler," said the radio, "and captured the Icelanders."

"The British navy then took the captured Icelanders on board the Eastbourne," the radio said.

On Sept. 1, Iceland extended its fishing limit from 4 to 12 miles. This is what the controversy with Britain is about.

Foreign Minister Gudmundur Gudmundsson said Iceland had protested to London the "use of force by the British navy" to prevent an Icelandic gunboat from arresting a British trawler.

In a broadcast to his north Atlantic island nation last night, Gudmundsson said he had ordered Iceland's ambassador in Paris to report the incident to NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak.

Private talks arranged by Spaak broke down in Paris last Friday after Iceland rejected a proposal to share foreigners' catch and extend its territorial waters only six miles to seaward. British Prime Minister Macmillan offered Sunday to resume these talks but added the dispute might be handed to the U.N. General Assembly meeting Sept. 16.

Feeling ran high against Britain among the 162,000 citizens of the Virginia-sized island. An armed guard was posted at the home of British Ambassador Andrew Gillchrist as a precaution.

"ALL WORK SO FAR..." Betty Lane is in Atlantic City.

Quemoy-Bound Ships In Sea Fight

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists claimed their warships early today sank 11 Communist torpedo boats and probably a 12th trying to break up a convoy to embattled Quemoy Island.

It was the biggest naval action reported in the 11 days since the Communists stepped up their attack on the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Earlier, the Nationalists announced their artillery on Quemoy in firing throughout Sunday night sank three Communist gunboats and eight motorized junks in a flotilla near Amoy, the Communists island port blockaded by the Nationalist islands.

Despite the naval success claimed by the Nationalists, the torpedo boat attack forced the troop carrier to return to the Pescadores Islands without unloading 370 troops destined for Quemoy. Only 30 of the reinforcements made it ashore.

During and after the naval engagement, the Red shore batteries pounded Quemoy with renewed fury. Between midnight and early afternoon nearly 2,800 shells were poured on the island, the Defense Ministry said, and a 100-shell barrage was dumped on tiny Tatan islet 2½ miles south of Amoy.

The combined artillery and sea attack erupted after the quietest day in the Formosa Strait since the Reds began their heavy attack Aug. 23. The Communist shore guns fired only 457 shells yesterday.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists had fired about 125,000 shells at the islands in the first 10 days. To evacuate casualties and keep the islands' troop and supply strength up to the face of an invasion threat, the Nationalists have been running night convoys to Quemoy from the Pescadores Islands, 30 miles west of Formosa.

The Communists sent "tens of torpedo boats" to Liao-lo Bay on the southern side of Quemoy after midnight to try to break up a reinforcement convoy, the ministry said.

The small, fast boats struck just as troops from a Nationalist landing ship were being unloaded into small boats six miles offshore. Four Nationalist warships intercepted the Communist attackers.

The ministry said one Nationalist warship was slightly damaged and there were 10 Nationalist casualties.

The engagement lasted 70 minutes, AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported. He and AP photographer Fred Waters were on landing nets about to climb into a small boat for Quemoy when the torpedo boats broke into the fleet. The small boat was separated from their ship and they were forced to climb back aboard.

Meanwhile, the first elements of about 1,000 U.S. Marines arrived in Formosa for amphibious maneuvers with the Nationalists beginning Friday or Saturday. The 3rd Marine Division from Okinawa and some units of Air Group 11 from Japan will take part.

Marshals Said Being Mustered

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he had information that U.S. marshals are being mustered for possible use in the Little Rock school integration crisis. He said he would resist any federal use of force.

"Even now in Little Rock there are U.S. marshals and other federal officers ready to take over at Central High School if integration is ordered again," Faubus said.

The governor declared he would resist "any federal force interfering with any public school in my state" and he included troops as well as marshals. Asked how he could resist federal force, Faubus replied: By closing schools.

"There is a great deal more I might do but I don't want to promote open conflict," he added.

Faubus made his statements at a press conference this morning, called for his comment on the school board's action of last night postponing opening of Little Rock high schools until Sept. 15 in deference to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Faubus said that if he had been a school board director he would have opened the schools under a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley whose ruling and appeal from it for a 2½-year delay now are before the Supreme Court.

The governor said he was displeased with the board's decision to refrain from irritating the high court.

"I think it is a sad commentary when such people as we have seen parade before the McClellan committee go unchecked. They (Congress) couldn't even pass a bill to protect the working man against racketeers and intimidation," Faubus said.

"And yet at the same time it has been decided by the federal government that federal marshals will ride one of the 18 floats in the Boardwalk parade here tonight."

North Carolina and Greenville Jaycees made arrangements for obtaining one of the floats only a short time after Betty Lane won the coveted Miss North Carolina title back in July.

Even though more than 50 beauties participate in the parade and thus ride in the parade, only 18 floats are allowed in the procession.

When Greenville Jaycees learned this following Betty Lane's victory in the state pageant, arrangements were made to purchase one of the floats for North Carolina's representative in this most outstanding of all beauty pageants.

The Miss North Carolina float, as do the other 17 floats, will carry its own illumination.

State and city representatives who were not able to obtain one of the 18 floats allotted for the parade will ride in official Miss America Pageant autos which have been provided for transporting the contestants during their stay here.

She was introduced to her official hostess who will play an important part in Betty Lane's life for the next 5 days.

For the Pitt County-born beauty every move must be okayed by this hostess during her stay here. It is the hostess who will say what Betty Lane can and cannot do while she is a part of the pageant.

Betty Lane arrived here about 11:55 yesterday morning and was taken to the Hotel Dennis in an official pageant white convertible.

Yesterday afternoon she reported to Convention Hall along with the other beauties entered in the Miss America Pageant. There she filled out a sheet with her title, name and address. She was required to describe the gown which she will wear in the Boardwalk Parade and also the gown in which she will be presented during the pageant.

Each of the girls then received a packet containing the rules and regulations of the pageant and other supplies.

Last night Miss North Carolina's official hostess called for her at the hotel and they joined the other pageant entrants at Convention Hall for a get-acquainted session.

The girls wore casual clothes and although there was no formal practice last night each walked across the ramp in order to become

Hurricane Ella Is Weakened To 'Storm Status'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Ella weakened to a 60-mile-an-hour storm today as it moved west-northward along the southern coast of Cuba.

Gale warnings were hauled down in Florida and replaced by small craft warnings from Palm Beach on the east coast, and Fort Myers on the west coast, southward through the Keys.

Flash floods still are possible in central and western Cuba as the storm moves along. It is expected to stay in Cuba for the next 12 hours. Its winds were 75 m.p.h. earlier today.

Winds reaching a top velocity of 40 miles an hour in scattered squalls are forecast for the Florida Straits tonight.

Ships at the Key West Naval Base were standing by for possible movement out to sea if the hurricane comes close.

Though Ella was 350 miles south-southeast of Miami, the unsettled weather it caused brought clouds and rain to the tip of the Florida peninsula.

Chief storm forecaster Gordon Dunn said reports from Cuba and reconnaissance planes indicated Ella's small, concentrated core was broken as it passed over the mountainous area near Santiago.

Lighthouses off the southeast Florida coast reported squall winds this morning with a peak velocity of 40 miles an hour. It was cloudy in Miami with intermittent rain.

At noon Ella was about 300 miles southeast of Miami moving west-northwest at 16 miles an hour.

Ella is likely to gather strength when it moves into the sea off the Cuban west coast late tonight or early tomorrow.

Winds are expected to increase from the Key West area to Naples tomorrow and gale warnings may be hoisted again.

Pitt Commissioners Pave Way To Meet Urgent Grand Jury Request

Pitt County Commissioners this morning paved the way for installation of a private telephone line at the County Home, in compliance with a recommendation issued two weeks ago by the county's Grand Jury.

The board, meeting in its regular monthly session, gave its approval for the project which will replace a present multi-party telephone line which serves the home. The change will increase telephone costs at the home from a present charge of $10.13 per month for the multi-party facilities to $23.07 per month for the private line.

Recommendations for the private line were made by the Grand Jury at its last sitting. At that time, the Jury said the private phone was "an absolute necessity under the present conditions". The Jury recommended that the line be "secured immediately".

Action today by the commissioners will end a Grand Jury recommendation which has been hanging since January 28 when a Grand Jury report suggested that a private line be installed. An investigation of possibilities of the installation was made in February by the board but no action was taken.

Other action by the board in its morning session today dealt largely with routine matters. Reports from various county departments were received. Jury lists for three terms of court were drawn, two appropriations approved previously were given new approval under more specific terms, a free license to operate a store was granted, and a road petition was rejected.

Jury lists which were drawn are for the October 6, October 20 and October 27 terms of Pitt County Superior Court. The appropriations which were given new approval were $600 for Battery C of the 25th Field Artillery Battalion (National Guard) and $500 for the Farmville Public Library. The appropriations were previously authorized under "miscellaneous" expenditures in the General Fund, but were detailed this morning to expedite payments by County Auditor H. Reginald Gray.

Russell Joyner of Route 2, Greenville, was given the free license to operate a store between Greenville and Winterville. Joyner, it was noted, is a recipient of Aid to the Blind funds from the Pitt County Welfare Department.

The road petition which was rejected was from Mrs. Velma Wilson Sadler who has requested board approval of a request for improvements on roads in Meadowbrook. The board, in its action, noted that the roads in question were not included in the state highway system.

Commissioners also had no objections to an application for a beer license from Bertha Brannon Heath for the Bel-Air Club of Route 1, Greenville. The board was notified of the application by the State ABC Board which said it was investigating the application.

Authority was also given to Dr. Georgia V. Mills, Health Director, to sign all purchase orders for the Health Department, including purchase orders from the Mental Health Service.

Miss N. C. Will First Compete In Evening Gown

ATLANTIC CITY—Lovely Betty Lane Evans, North Carolina's representative in the Miss America Pageant, will make her first appearance in evening gown competition here Wednesday night.

Betty Lane will wear a striking white gown with sequins about the neckline for the first night of the pageant.

The girls competing for the Miss America title will be divided into three groups. Thus each night there will be evening dress, talent routine and swim suit appearances.

On Thursday night the Pitt County Miss will present her talent routine in which she will sing the song "Wait 'Til You See Him," play the piano and do a short dance routine.

Friday night Betty Lane will appear in the swim suit competition. In the state contest at Charlotte in July Betty Lane was winner in that category.

Saturday the top 10 winners will be announced and sometime Saturday night Miss America 1958 will be named at this resort city.

Touch Of Autumn In Some Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a touch of autumn in the air in the Eastern third of the country and in the Pacific Northwest today.

It was below freezing in Michigan's Upper Peninsula as the cool Canadian air fanned across the north central and Great Lakes region. Some of the chilly air seeped from the Northeast into parts of the Southeast.

Between the two cool air masses covering the Northeast and Pacific Northwest, the warming trend of the past two days continued. Thunderstorms erupted from Kansas into west central Illinois during the night. Wind gusts up to nearly 50 m.p.h. lashed at Russell, Kan. and rain pelted Fort Smith, Ark.

Traffic Toll

RALEIGH (AP) — The Motor Vehicles Department's tally of highway deaths and injuries for the period from 4 p.m. Friday through 10 a.m. today:

|                                |       |
|--------------------------------|-------|
| Injured (rural) .....          | 17    |
| Killed (rural) .....           | 119   |
| Killed this year .....         | 626   |
| Killed to date last year ..... | 693   |
| Injured to June 1, 1958 .....  | 7,522 |
| Injured to June 1, 1957 .....  | 7,250 |

Little Folks Formally Introduced To Education

The little people of Greenville's city schools were introduced to formal education this morning in a unique school day just for them.

About 80 per cent of the city's expected 600 first graders attended hour-long sessions at the elementary schools will attend. During the programs, conducted by classroom teachers who volunteered their time, the new students were shown their buildings, playgrounds and other facilities without the usual first-day noise and commotion.

The introductions are expected to make tomorrow's first formal day of the 1958-1959 school year a little easier for the new students. They will know, if expectations are fulfilled, where to go and what to do when tomorrow's call to classes is sounded at 8:40 a.m. (ten minutes earlier than last year's beginning bell).

About 4,300 other students are expected to join the first graders for tomorrow's opening day classes. All will operate on short schedules, with elementary students scheduled to be dismissed at about 10:30 a.m. and students in the junior and senior high schools scheduled to complete their first-day work about noon.

Schedules for Thursday and Friday call for all students to remain until 12:30. Full schedules will go into effect Monday morning and school lunchrooms will also open on that day.

Town Board Has Routine Meeting

WINTERVILLE—No new business was brought before the Town Commissioners who held their September meeting here last night.

Clerk T. E. Cannon was authorized to pay the town's monthly bills, constituting the only business discussed at the short session. Commissioner Ronnie Mallison was absent.

The Board's next meeting will be held October 6.

MAKING NEW FRIENDS AND LOOKING OVER A STRANGE PLACE ... With The Help Of Mothers At Fleming Street School

FIRST GRADERS AT FULLLOVE SCHOOL IN WEST GREENVILLE ... During Special Introduction-To-School Program This Morning

Betty Lane Rides Float Tonight In Boardwalk Parade

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector City Editor

ATLANTIC CITY—Betty Lane Evans, North Carolina's beautiful representative in the Miss America Pageant, will ride one of the 18 floats in the Boardwalk parade here tonight.

North Carolina and Greenville Jaycees made arrangements for obtaining one of the floats only a short time after Betty Lane won the coveted Miss North Carolina title back in July.

Even though more than 50 beauties participate in the parade and thus ride in the parade, only 18 floats are allowed in the procession.

When Greenville Jaycees learned this following Betty Lane's victory in the state pageant, arrangements were made to purchase one of the floats for North Carolina's representative in this most outstanding of all beauty pageants.

The Miss North Carolina float, as do the other 17 floats, will carry its own illumination.

State and city representatives who were not able to obtain one of the 18 floats allotted for the parade will ride in official Miss America Pageant autos which have been provided for transporting the contestants during their stay here.

She was introduced to her official hostess who will play an important part in Betty Lane's life for the next 5 days.

For the Pitt County-born beauty every move must be okayed by this hostess during her stay here. It is the hostess who will say what Betty Lane can and cannot do while she is a part of the pageant.

Betty Lane arrived here about 11:55 yesterday morning and was taken to the Hotel Dennis in an official pageant white convertible.

Yesterday afternoon she reported to Convention Hall along with the other beauties entered in the Miss America Pageant. There she filled out a sheet with her title, name and address. She was required to describe the gown which she will wear in the Boardwalk Parade and also the gown in which she will be presented during the pageant.

Each of the girls then received a packet containing the rules and regulations of the pageant and other supplies.

Last night Miss North Carolina's official hostess called for her at the hotel and they joined the other pageant entrants at Convention Hall for a get-acquainted session.

The girls wore casual clothes and although there was no formal practice last night each walked across the ramp in order to become familiar with it. Betty Lane returned to the hotel and to bed at 10:45.

This morning it was breakfast at 8 in the dining room of the hotel. At 8:45 Betty Lane was taken in a pageant convertible to Convention Hall. There she posed for photographers most of the morning and practice sessions were scheduled for part of the afternoon.

The girls did not leave the hall for lunch, but were served; box lunches.

When Betty dines at 6:30 tonight she will be dressed in the evening gown which she will wear on the float in tonight's Boardwalk Parade.

She will join the other contestants at the Breakers Hotel at 8 p.m. and at 8:30 the colorful parade is scheduled to begin.

Betty Lane's mother, Mrs. Amos Evans, said this morning there had been no time as yet for swimming or other recreation for beautiful Miss North Carolina.

"It's been all work so far," she said.

"We've met some beautiful girls up here," she declared, "and the competition is keen."

Betty Lane and her mother occupy a room on the fifth floor of the hotel overlooking the beach and the surf.

Military Plane With 19 Aboard Falls Into Ocean

GUAM (AP) — A Military Transport Service plane with 19 aboard crashed in the Pacific early today and an air-sea search team could find no survivor.

Debris and three bodies were picked up 30 miles west of Guam.

The C124 from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., was on a flight to Clark AFB in the Philippines. It had a crew of seven and carried cargo and 12 passengers.

Air Force officers estimated the plane crashed five minutes after leaving Guam on the last leg of its trip.

The search was continued after a Navy ship picked up two bodies and an Air Force helicopter found one.

Maj. John Walker, Air Force information officer, said the plane left the naval air station flight line here at 5:55 a.m. and crashed without radiating any indication of trouble.

A Travis spokesman said the plane left there four or five days ago.

Clark-Rush Wed In Baptist Church

Miss Jean Vickory Rush became the bride of Milton Eugene Clark of Washington in a double-ring ceremony Sunday afternoon at the Immanuel Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Guthrie Rush and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Benjamin Franklin Clark and the late Mrs. Clark of Washington.

A prelude of wedding music was presented by Miss Gladys Allgood, organist of Washington. Mrs. Dave Milligan, vocalist of Washington, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The couple spoke their vows before the altar to the Rev. Irby

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballroom

length gown of chantilly lace over net and taffeta. The bodice was designed with a neckline accented by floral motifs re-embroidered in sequins. Long sleeves tapered to a point over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid, carnations and feathered English ivy.

Mrs. Edwin B. Kennedy of Arlington, Virginia, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a ballroom length gown of evening blue lace over taffeta with scooped neckline and fitted bodice, with matching tulle, and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Junior Smith of Washington and Mrs. Conrad Cannon of Greenville. They wore mellow lace gowns over satin with matching tulle and carried nosegays of variegated carnations.

Flower girl was Jeanette Kennedy, niece of the bride, who wore a dress of evening blue net over tulle and carried a miniature nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Ruth chose for her daughter's wedding a pastel pink dress offset by evening blue accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. I. W. Elks, sister of the bridegroom, wore a blue and white sheath with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Junior Smith of Washington served as best man.

Ushers were James W. Joyner of Greenville and Edwin B. Kennedy, brother-in-law of the bride.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass in Lakewood Pines. Miss Annie Laurie Askey, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. G. V. Howell, Jr., introduced the guests to the receiving line composed of the bride and bridegroom, the bride's mother, Mrs. I. W. Elks, sister of the bridegroom, the matron of honor and the bride's matrons.

Mrs. J. B. Bass directed the guests to the dining room where punch was poured by Mrs. Evelyn Woodard of Plymouth, cousin of the bride. Misses Barbara Kennerly, niece of the bride, Beth and Alvane Bass served individual bridal cakes, mints and nuts.

Cordials were said to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitchard.

The bride's table, covered with a white imported grass linen cloth, featured a three branch silver candelabra holding white tapers and a unique arrangement of white gladioli, carnations and fernery, and the traditional three-tiered wedding cake.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a two piece suit of taupe silk with matching accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.

The bride graduated from the Greenville City schools and is presently employed by the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company of Greenville. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Washington City schools, is employed by the Home Furniture Company of Washington. Upon their return the couple will make their home at Shady Banks near Washington.

Out-of-town guests were: Benny Godwin of Williamston, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. David Barton, Mrs. Dave Milligan, Mrs. Elmer Tuten, Mrs. William A. Jefferson, Jr., Miss Mary Bell Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weatherly, Miss Gladys Allgood, Mrs. W. E. Horton, Mrs. C. M.

Wollard, Mrs. Gora Lee Jolly, Mrs. Mannie B. Woolard of Washington, Mrs. C. B. Allgood of Pinebluff, Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Ludwig of Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brice of Elm City, Mrs. Gene Manning and Mrs. Paul Hunsucker of Winterville, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woolard and family of Greenville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moore and family of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell of Norfolk, Virginia, Mrs. Dorothy W. Johnson of Cherry Point.

30 Years Ago Today

September 2, 1928

The Greenville Tobacco Market opened this morning with approximately a million and a half pounds of tobacco on nine warehouse floors. Thousands of people from many sections of the county were present at an early hour this morning and when sales got underway at 9 o'clock virtually all of the warehouses which had first sales were stuffed almost to suffocation by a vast sea of humanity, elbowing, shoving, jamming their way to points of vantage. The sales today were said to be slightly less than on the opening last year. Prices ranged from two to thirty-five cents with an estimated average at between 13 to 15 cents a pound. Inferior grades of tobacco predominated.

Births

Weinstein

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weinstein of Chicago, a daughter, August 22. Mrs. Weinstein is the former Miss Hester Martin of Robersonville.

Roberson

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roberson of Baltimore, Md., a son, David Wintner, August 30. Mrs. Roberson is the former Miss Ruth Halslip of Oak City. Mr. Roberson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan R. Roberson of Robersonville.

Brown

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Leland Brown of Baltimore, a daughter, Linda Gail, August 31 in the Bethel Clinic. Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Gail Hamrick of Robersonville.

Mobley

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Mobley of Robersonville, a son, Kenneth Wayne, September 1 in the Bethel Clinic. Mrs. Mobley is the former Miss Jean Crandall of Robersonville.

Rawls

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Rawls of Robersonville, a son, Tony Lynn, August 31 in the Bethel Clinic. Mrs. Rawls is the former Miss Essie Lee.

Kindergarten Class To Open
Mrs. C. D. Smith will re-open her kindergarten class for the coming school year on September 4.

Resumes Piano Classes
Mrs. Jimmy Lee will resume her piano classes September 15. If interested, call 7444.

Social Calendar

TUESDAY
8:00 p.m.—Chapter 149 Order of Eastern Star will meet.
8:00 p.m.—A. A. meets in the new building on Farmville Highway.
8:00 p.m.—Woodmen of the World meet at Red Men's Hall.

WEDNESDAY
9:00-12:00 N—Junior Sewing Class, Elm St. Park.
8:00 p.m.—6:00 p.m.—Social hour, Greenville Country Club.
8:00 p.m.—Junior Woman's Club meets at the club house.

THURSDAY
9:00-12:00 N—Adult Sewing Class, Elm St. Park.
8:00 p.m.—Coches Council No. 60, Degree of Pochontas, meets in Red Men's Hall.
8:00 p.m.—Gamma Delta Chapter of E.S.A. will meet at the home of Mrs. Frances Cassick.

FRIDAY
10:00 a.m.—Service League Board will meet at the home of Mrs. George Lautares, 1504 East Sixth Street.
8:30 p.m.—Kiwanis Club.
8:30 p.m.—Exchange Club.
7:30 p.m.—Red Men meet.
7:30 p.m.—Troop 33 meets at Scout Hut, Eighth Street Christian Church.
8:00 p.m.—10:30 p.m.—Junior High Teenage Club meets at Elm St. Park.

SATURDAY
4:00 p.m.—8:00 p.m.—Social hour, Greenville Country Club.
8:00 p.m.—11:00 p.m.—Senior High Teenage Club, Elm St. Park.

New Styles Have Vital Inside Story

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THE TWO-PIECE TRAPEZE is one of the gayest, youngest silhouettes of the season, especially when it's done in a soft, fleecy wool. A popular variation is the versatile sleeveless suit. This may be worn as is for a movie date, or with a sweater for street or campus wear.

Local sewing center experts point out that though the silhouette is simple, construction of a two-piece trapeze takes a little sewing know-how. Underlinings are essential to preserve the flaring line, and pattern companies are placing extra emphasis on the undercover story.

The simplest way to make such a suit is to cut out both lining and fabric at once, making the same alterations on each. The underlining then is basted to the fabric and both pieces are worked together. Inch-rulers printed on the pattern pieces make it easy to achieve accurate alterations.

When a heavy woolen is used for the suit, the underlining must be firm enough to support the fabric, yet flexible enough to hold the rounded, soft lines of the design. Sil, a woven acetate, is one of the linings recommended for crease resistance and permanent body. This unique fabric takes colors as beautifully as silk, so linings may match or contrast with the garment.

When working with underlinings, it is recommended that you overcast lining and fabric together on seam edges. This keeps seam edges flat, to insure a smooth silhouette. If you own one of the new slant-needle automatic sewing machines, you will find that you can set the machine for an open zigzag stitch and zip along all seam edges speedily and neatly.

Correct linings are important for other new fashions, also. The back-pleated sheath should have light-weight lining from the yoke to hold its slim line. The knee-flounce version of the sheath also needs an underlining to maintain the crispness of the flounce.

For free instructions on working underlining and fabric together in making a sleeveless trapeze suit, write to: TRAPEZE SUIT, Box 218, Midtown Station, New York 18, New York.

TRAPEZE SUIT—Lining is important to preserve lines of new silhouette.

Miss Crandall Party Honoree

ROBERSONVILLE—Saturday afternoon 32 children met at the American Legion Hut on South Broad St. to celebrate Sandra Crandall's 6th birthday at a party given by her mother, Mrs. J. S. Crandall.

Many games were played and prizes were given to the winners. The guests were invited to the refreshment table which was covered with white linen. A white cake decorated in pink and green with the inscription "Happy Birthday Sandra" was used as the centerpiece. The other refreshments were ice cream and candy.

Mixed summer flowers added added color to the room.

Engagement Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Heath announce the engagement of their daughter, Wilma Gray, to William Taylor Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baker, of Farmville. The wedding will be September 14.

To Reopen Classes
Mrs. Julius H. Rose announces the opening of her classes on September 3. Speech correction, voice and diction, dramatics and remedial reading offered. Call 3277.

Mrs. Cargile Honors Clubbers

ROBERSONVILLE—The home of Mrs. Winston Cargile on Purvis Street was decorated with mixed summer flowers Wednesday evening when she entertained the members of her bridge club.

The hostess welcomed the guests and invited them into the living room where two tables were set up for cards.

Immediately after their arrival Mrs. Cargile served fried chicken, potato salad, asparagus casserole, deviled eggs, pickles, tomato on lettuce, homemade cake and iced tea.

After three progressions, Mrs. J. W. Taylor received the first prize and Mrs. Garland Warren won the second award.

The other players were Mesdames James E. Mullen, Eugene Roberson, Beaman Whitchard, Jarvis Whitfield, James O. Warren Jr. and the hostess.

The club presented Mrs. Cargile a pair of silver candleholders as a "Going Away" gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Cargile and son Blane left Sunday morning for Norfolk where they will make their home.

Flemings Fete Family

ROBERSONVILLE—Mr and Mrs. H. P. Fleming entertained relatives at a family reunion at their home near Robersonville Sunday.

The dinner was served out-of-doors. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fleming of Lumberton. Mr. and Mrs. James Sears from Macon Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harris and sons Ronny and Lane of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sears of Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. William Bemis and children Phyllis and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. George James and children Brenda, Phil and Tim.

News From Robersonville

Cpl. Beulah Matthews of Fort McClellan has returned to Alabama after a 21 day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matthews. Alumnus First Class Russell Matthews and his wife of Charleston S. C. spent several days last week with his father, mother and sister.

Robert Jerry Bellflower, son of Mrs. H. E. Bellflower of Robersonville, is stationed in the Hawaiian Islands. He will be glad to hear from his former schoolmates and other friends. His address is:

CTSA 4941872
Navy Radio Station Number 85
San Francisco
California

While her parents were on vacation in Western North Carolina and Tennessee, Miss Debbie Moore of Tarboro visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor. Miss Joyce Fulcher, who taught music in Winston-Salem last year, left Thursday to resume her work in the public schools.

Mrs. Harvey Roberson, Mrs. Clayton Keel, Miss Carolyn Roberson, Mrs. Bruce Everett and her daughter Miss Betty Lou spent Wednesday visiting friends in Winston.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor and daughters, Sharon and Tanya, returned to their home in Wrightsville Beach Thursday following a two day visit with the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Sr.

Mike Kilpatrick is making a two week tour of Florida.

Lester Edmondson returned to his home August 31 after a five week visit with his son, Lester Bryant Edmondson his wife and their two children, Nancy and Tommy in Albuquerque, New Mexico. His grandson Eugene Roberson Jr., accompanied him on the trip.

Mayo Little Jr., who has been working in the Patton Hospital in Patton, California, since June, arrived home Friday to spend a fortnight with his parents. Later in September he will leave for Alexandria, Va. to resume his studies in the Episcopal Seminary.

Walter Johnson of Martinsburg, West Va. is spending a few days with his grandmother Mrs. W. L. Swindell and his aunt Mrs. John Tyler and family before entering East Carolina College in Greenville.

Miss Ola Anthony of Landsdown, Pa. was the guest of Mrs. Horace Fulcher recently.

Miss Lenn Whitchard and her sister, Mrs. Dell Coe, spent one week in New York. After spending the summer vacation with his father Candy returned with her mother. Her sister Miss Pam Coe remained in New York where she will enter a private professional school.

Cadet John Clinton House has returned to the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York after spending one month with his parents Mr. and Mrs. M. Clinton House and his brother George.

Lindsay Whitchard of Stokes who

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. According to medical diagnosis I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism. For FREE information on how I obtained this wonderful relief write:

MRS. LELA S. WIER
2805 Arbor Hills Drive—XM
P. O. Box 2695
Jackson, Mississippi

SADDLES

high on the students list of shoes!

The traditional saddle is again the popular shoe for school... but this year there's a variety of new patterns from which to choose! See the complete line at our store. Whatever your preference, you'll find just the saddle style you want.

Sizes 2 1/2 to 3.

Widths B-C-D

- White Soles
- Black Soles

Larry's Shoe Stores

Greenville • Washington • New Bern

J<sup>O</sup> COLLINS

CHECKS To Send You To COLLEGE

Blouse
$5.98

Pants
$7.98

The Dress advertised in Full Color in AUGUST SEVENTEEN

Dress
$19.98

Jacket
$7.98

Skirt
$12.98

Suit
$19.98

New combinations created by Jo COLLINS in black and white all wool district check. Overblouses!
in white cotton Cavalry twill and black cotton and wool knit. Spicer-
Upper boxy jacket in red nylon fleece. Sizes 5 to 15.

BLOUNT-HARVEY

"Eastern Carolina's Shopping Center"

Congressional Candidates Eying 'Marginal' Districts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-seven marginal congressional districts in 15 Midwest and Western states are beginning to look like the promised land to major party strategists battling for control of the House.

In the 15 states, stretching from Ohio to the Pacific Coast, there are 25 House seats Republicans won by a whisker in 1956 and 21 in which Democrats nosed out their opponents by less than 5 per cent of the votes.

While neither party is going to ignore similar situations in Eastern states like Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the suspicion is mounting in both camps that the people who live west of the Ohio River are saying who runs the House for the next two years.

When Congress went home to campaign, Democrats held a comfortable House margin of 35 seats. The lineup was 232 Democrats, 197 Republicans and 6 vacancies.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, has predicted his party's edge will be increased by 30 in the November elections.

NOT THE ARMY WAY

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pvt. James Ball of Hoxie, Kan., started his Army career by plunging a 26-inch rifle cleaning rod down his throat, but people who know him won't be concerned by the news. He's a professional sword-swallower.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, head of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, has not been as optimistic. But he has joined Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN in contending there has been a recent upturn in their party's prospects.

The Midwest states of Illinois, Missouri and Kansas seem likely to furnish the hottest battleground in the marginal districts.

In 1956, Illinois and Missouri each had six areas where the margin between opposing candidates was less than 5 per cent.

Democrats are taking aim at Kansas too, where they regard four of the five GOP-held seats as marginal. They plan strenuous efforts to capture these four GOP seats as well as to save the one marginal seat they hold in Kansas.

In other Midwest areas, there are four marginal seats each in Iowa and Indiana, three in Michigan, two in Nebraska, and one each in Ohio, Wisconsin and South Dakota.

Farther west, Colorado has two and Arizona one in the doubtful class.

On the Pacific Coast, California offers the big prize with five doubtful seats. Off their showing in the June primaries, Democrats are hopeful of making some inroads into three marginal Republican areas and holding on to two they narrowly won in 1956.

In the Pacific Northwest, Oregon and Washington each have three marginal districts in an area where the Democrats have shown more confidence of victory than in almost any other section of the country.

Merge Eyes And Radar Systems

WASHINGTON (AP) — A large-scale merger of civilian and military long-range radar equipment to scan the skyways was announced by the government today.

Joint use of the electronic eyes for civil air traffic control and for air defense is expected to save many millions of dollars and allow smoother performance of both types of operations.

Civil Aeronautics Administrator James T. Pyle and Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson, chief of the Air Defense Command, announced the program scheduled to go into effect some time this fall.

Initial plans call for joint use of 31 high-power radar facilities with aircraft spotting capability reported at 135 to 200 miles. More radar sets are planned for the joint service later.

The CAA intends to employ the radar for its air traffic control tasks. The Air Force, Army and National Guard will use it for air defense. The heavy radar equipment stretches across the country from Seattle to Miami.

Besides allowing lower equipment and operating costs, the joint use cuts down on radar interference and coordination problems.

The CAA estimated that of the 100 radar sets planned for the air traffic control system more than half will be for joint use by the military.

Teamster Union Members Charge Three In Brawl

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Teamsters Union members have signed warrants charging three of their number with assault in connection with a brawl that allegedly developed at a called meeting Saturday of the Teamsters local here.

G. L. Morgan, truck driver, charged that he was hit over the head with a chair by business agent E. T. Cooper, who is accused in a warrant of assault with a deadly weapon.

Morgan also signed a warrant charging driver George Faircloth with assault.

Faircloth, on the other hand, has charged Morgan with assault. Morgan said he tried to silence Faircloth from heckling a speaker at the meeting and that Faircloth "called me a couple of names, so I clobbered him. While we were fighting Cooper slipped up behind me and hit me over the head with a tubular steel chair."

Trial for the three is scheduled for Friday in City Recorder's Court.

Sight 3 Baby Whooping Cranes

OTTAWA (AP) — Three baby whooping cranes have been spotted in the northwestern Canadian breeding grounds of the nearly extinct bird, boosting known population of the rare species to 35.

The Northern Affairs Department says two young cranes were spotted with an adult pair and one youngster with another adult pair in Wood Buffalo National Park. The park covers sections of north-eastern Alberta, northwestern Saskatchewan and the south central Northwest Territories.

Since 1945, when their numbers had been reduced to 17, efforts have been made to preserve the cranes in Canada, where the winter. The 35 now living include six in captivity.

Something Vital Was Overlooked

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — President J. Lawrence Walkup of Arizona State College at Flagstaff told the State Board of Regents something was missing from specifications for a new teacher education building.

"What," the regents asked. "Toilets for the kindergarten department," he answered.

Actress Ann Blyth Will Try Career In Singing

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ann Blyth, long famed as the screen's "little lady," is embarking on a new career as a saloon singer.

Of course, saloon is only the trade name, as Ann's literary includes some of the fancier eating and drinking palaces extant. She kicks off with the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, then the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas and then on to New York and Miami Beach.

The fact that she played Helen Morgan in her latest picture had nothing to do with her decision to go into nightclubs.

"All the movie scripts offered wanted me to go to Europe and for such long times," she explains. "I just felt that I couldn't be separated from my family that long."

Ann's husband is Dr. James McNulty, a Los Angeles obstetrician. He just can't pack up his practice and join his wife. She broke in her act last weekend in Phoenix, Ariz., and her husband couldn't even make it for opening night.

A baby that arrived a few weeks ahead of schedule interfered. The nightclub money is big and, with the exception of New York and Miami, all five McNultys can stay together. Ann's husband will take his vacation while she's in Vegas.

"I think long separations, no matter how understanding the husband or wife, have broken up more Hollywood marriages than any other single factor. No script is worth that," she says.

This past summer, the big Las Vegas resorts battled over the influx of nudity in some strip hotels. By coincidence, all the hotels on the east side of U.S. 91 took a stand against nudity while all the nude shows were on the west side.

Begin 3rd Year Of Integration

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — Clinton High School begins its third year of racially mixed classes today with 10 Negroes, all girls, enrolled among about 800 whites.

Four of the Negroes were in the school last year and six freshmen registered last week.

Two years ago Clinton High first admitted Negro students under federal court orders amid violent demonstrations that brought National Guardsmen to restore order. It was the first state-supported school in Tennessee to mix the races.

TV Producers Claim Blackmail

NEW YORK (AP) — The coproducers of the TV quiz show Twentyone have accused former contestant Herbert Stempel of trying to blackmail them.

Last week Stempel told newsmen he was given answers in advance of appearing on the program and that he was instructed to miss other questions.

The producers, Jack Barry and Dan Enright, said last night they had evidence in which "Stempel confesses that these same charges were baseless and untrue, and were part of a blackmail scheme in which the contestant said no insurance.

Stempel had concocted in order to extort a large sum of money from the firm of Barry & Enright."

Stempel denied the blackmail accusation when asked about the Barry-Enright statement.

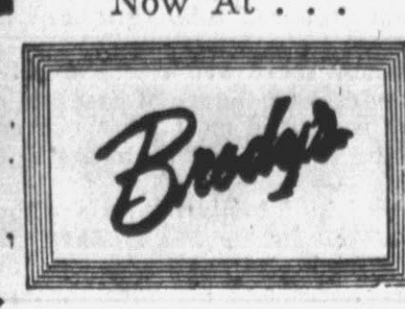

The producers said they had turned over the evidence to Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan. Stempel said of the Barry & Enright statement: "Their statement is entirely false and malicious. I never attempted blackmail. I've never confessed to anything except that Twenty-one was fixed."

Hogan declined to confirm that material given him by Barry & Enright contained a confession from Stempel. Stempel was questioned by investigators from Hogan's office last week.

Hogan said he had received material in addition to an affidavit signed by Stempel 18 months ago before losing to Charles Van Doren Dec. 5, 1956.

Women in the United States own more than 65 billion dollars worth of insurance protection. However, men continue to own the major share of life insurance.

Now At . . .

Something New For Greenville Perfume Bar

by

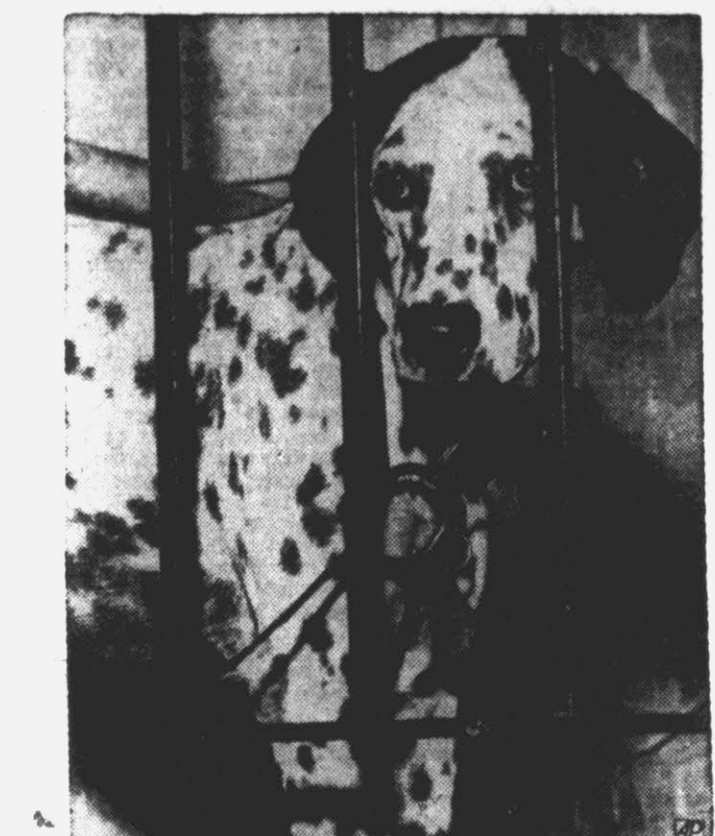

A. Eau de Parfum
2 ounces $ 5.50
4 ounces $10.00

B. Odalisque Soap
Bath size, 2 cakes $5.00
Hand size, 3 cakes $3.25

C. Odalisque
Dusting Powder $4.75

D. Perfume
1 ounce $22.50

DUTY'S REWARD — Lucky, a Philadelphia engine company pet, was trained to guard premises when firemen were out. He nipped entrant; ended in SPCA pokey.

STEEL ENAMELED
STEP-STOOL

Rubber Treads

SPECIAL

$ 4.95

24" High. Form fitting back; 2 non-skid "tuck-away" steps. All steel construction. Red, or yellow with white trim.

995 VAL. Save $5.00

BOSTIC SUGG FURNITURE CO.
J. R. LAUGHINGHOUSE & SON-OWNERS

569 SOUTH EVANS STREET

An Invitation To The Farmers Of Pitt County And Vicinity . . .

You Are Invited To See Our Display and Demonstration Of Our New
MASSEY-FERGUSON
Tractors and Farm Machinery
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 3rd—3:30 P.M.
At A. R. Barrett's Farm
6 Miles On Pactolus Highway
FREE! BARBECUE TO ALL

BLOUNT-HARVEY

the kind of coats you dream about are at..

Clyde

A cashmere coat by Clyde in a host of new colors. As seen in Vogue. This model in sizes 8 to 18. $135.

Lassie

Sleek and slim, the perfect companions to the superb, single breasted front. As featured in Seventeen. Sizes 5 to 15. $49.95

Smithline

A Kashara fabric . . . 30 % cashmere and 70 % wool . . . wonderfully soft. Button-at-the-neck, cowl neckline. New Colors, Sizes 8 to 18. $69.95

Tuesday, September 2, 1958

Revolution In Teaching Tradition

It is good and interesting news that students in three Greenville schools will participate this year in the University of North Carolina's "teaching by television" program.

Local students will be members of a General Science class for which the instruction will originate in the university's education television station studios. On the surface, the situation means that local students will be exposed to a high-quality, highly concentrated program of instruction which has drawn favorable comments from educators and students throughout the state.

Beyond that, however, it means that local teachers and students will be part of a radical change in traditional (for this area) methods of teaching and learning.

The broad plan for the televised course calls for a half-hour of instruction of general and specific points by the teacher in the TV studios. That will be followed by a half-hour of discussion, questions and answers with local teachers.

In order to participate fully in the discussion period, students will be required to pay particular attention to the first half-hour of the class. It will mean they will have to develop to the fullest their powers of concentration and observation.

Development of those powers will be required because there will be no opportunity to interrupt the televised lectures and demonstrations. Students will have to learn to take adequate notes and to distinguish key points from points which can be made obvious by recognizing essential comments.

For the local teachers, it will mean no less concentration on the televised course and perhaps even more outside preparation to keep up with the concentrated course prepared by the university's teachers.

These comments are certainly no reflection on the quality of instruction in Greenville's schools. The community has long been justly proud of the records of its students.

But, as we see it, institution of the television courses in local instruction programs can bring a fresh approach to education which will go far beyond the limits of a single course in General Science.

Mighty Poor Choice In Robbing A Bank

What makes a guy want to rob a bank?

The desire for easy money?

Well, if that's the reason, very few if any bank robbers ever realize their dream of robbing a bank and then living on easy street for a few years.

Of all major crimes, there are fewer unsolved bank robberies than any other category of cases. Moreover, the money stolen is for the most part recovered by authorities before the robbers get a chance to enjoy it.

Contrary to popular belief, bank robbers are about the poorest paid of all major criminals. They plan their robberies, enter a bank and poke a gun in some man's or woman's face and make off with the cash. In a few hours, a few days, or perhaps even a few weeks officers have tracked them down.

Most of the time the robbers, in an effort to keep their identity a secret, are afraid to spend money they have stolen. Before they muster enough courage to embark on an era of easy living, they are behind bars and the money has been recovered. The robbers are then off for a long stay in prison.

For their efforts they may have enjoyed a few hundred bucks worth of fun or luxuries. That's mighty poor pay for 10 to 15 years behind bars.

When a bank is robbed, the whole effort of local, state and federal law enforcement machinery goes into motion. The robber is up against odds he can't expect to beat.

The only smart would-be bank robber is the one who considers the odds and gives up the idea of poking a gun in a teller's face and trying to get some fast dough.

Policy Of Brush-Fire Wars On Big Front

It appears now that Moscow and Peiping have entered into some sort of new agreement to keep a trouble spot boiling in some part of the world all the time. That in itself is nothing new. The new trend—if there is one—appears to be create a major international incident with Moscow taking the lead one time and Peiping the other.

No sooner had tension in the Middle East begun to ease off than the Chinese Communist began their terrific bombardment of Nationalist-held islands close to the Chinese mainland.

It was the first major action of the Chinese Communist against the Chinese Nationalists in several years. And there seems no particular reason for it coming at this time except for the propaganda purposes Peiping and Moscow may have in mind.

Whether the Communist intend now to invade the Nationalist islands remains a moot question. Some highly placed officials feel the bombardment is a prelude to the long-boasted invasion. Others feel it is merely a bombardment which will not be followed by an actual invasion by the Communists.

This might well be the beginning of a new Moscow-Peiping strategy to keep the United States busy in one brush-fire after another in spots around the globe where it has concrete commitments to protect the sovereignty of small nations. It may well be a warming up of cold war tactics used by the Communists against the United States for the past decade.

A Poor Way To Build Confidence

(Charleston Daily Mail)

For advertising his wares an Elkins businessman has got himself into a good deal of trouble with the State of West Virginia. His is a legitimate business, dealing in an essential service. Nevertheless, for using the newspapers to tell the public what he does and what he charges, he is at odds with the police powers of the state.

A Charleston businessman has done the same thing with the same results. Much the same as a dealer in tires, or groceries or cement, he has undertaken to tell the public what he does and what he charges to do it. For this he has been hauled into court, so to speak, and asked to explain.

Since when, it must be asked, has it been improper and illegal for an American businessman, engaged in a legitimate service, to advertise his services and compete in the open market for business? The answer is simple: Since the legislature created the West Virginia Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors and gave it certain police powers over the undertaking business. Armed with this the board has held that a one-inch ad, mentioning only the name of a funeral home and its telephone number, is the maximum permissible. Any reference to the kind of service provided or the price charged is strictly forbidden.

This has had some curious consequences. The board's authority extends only to licensed embalmers. Because of this it is powerless to proceed against a funeral director who resorts to display advertising unless he is also an embalmer. Thus in the Elkins case the board has cited for violation of the regulation two embalmers who were merely employees of the funeral home and had no responsibility for placing the offending advertising.

The essential injustice of this restriction is further enlarged in another direction. A West Virginia embalmer in the Eastern Panhandle is severely restricted in the amount of advertising he may use although his keenest competitor just across the line in Maryland may (and does) use unlimited space in the West Virginia press to attract his clientele. The West Virginia board, having no jurisdiction, is powerless to restrain him, and what was intended as a curb upon "ruthless competition" serves only to invite a more devastating variety.

But these are only the more superficial aspects of a puzzling situation. Fundamentally, it raises two other questions of far greater importance. One concerns the "right" of the State of West Virginia to tell any lawful business that it may not advertise or advertise only within arbitrary limits. Granting that the embalmers might agree to "police" themselves, something that is obviously unwilling to do, the attempt to use the police power in restraint of trade raises a constitutional question. Could the legislature, to cite only one example, tell a department store to limit its advertising to half a page on odd Thursdays — and this without references to the articles for sale or the price at which they are offered?

The second question is one of broader public interest and concerns the public's right to know what it is doing and what it is getting into when it needs the services of an embalmer. Advertising is one way to communicate this information, and any supposition that it is necessarily unethical or inimical to the public's interest is wholly unsupported by the facts. On the contrary, most businesses are established and prosper on the principle that the way to merchandise honest values is to tell the public what you have for sale. The public will decide whose conduct is ethical and whose deserves no confidence and patronage. The honest, enterprising dealer has nothing to fear from a fair comparison of values.

Fishing Rights—

(AND FISHING LEFTS!)

By DON SCHLIENZ

The Very Sociable Part

The brief pause for their evening meal is a farm family's chance to sort of find their "second wind" after a busy day. It isn't a leisurely time, but during these weeks of preparing tobacco for the warehouse floor this short hour for supper allows a small amount of "getting-away-from-it-all" that isn't to be found during the rest of the day.

For most, supper is the big meal of the day; breakfast was taken on the run and lunch largely another makeshift affair. Just too much to be done, and so little time.

But once he has a big meal under his belt, the head of the house can push away from the table, stretch a bit before walking to his waiting packhouse where hundreds of sticks of tobacco await to be sorted and tied.

The rest of the family soon follow, maybe one or two staying behind to clear the table and wash the dishes. All fall into an accustomed pattern of teamwork which is a great part of their life and work together.

Talk comes slowly at first, but as the work progresses the words come easier and the day's events are gone over once more.

As twilight fades lights are turned on, or maybe lanterns lit; a radio on a precarious perch provides muted, hoarse background music. And in the comfortable glow, gleaming golden tobacco leaves are hung on sticks and laid in growing, orderly piles.

Frequently a couple neighbors or friends show up — a place is made for them in the circle, and the talk and gossip and stories take on a faster pace. So does the tobacco-tying. The congeniality makes for lightning the load.

It's pretty obvious that to me, evenings spent tying tobacco are the choicest hours of the season — but that's the rankest kind of amateur speaking.

If I had to do it for a living, the cramped position, the long hours, the tired hands, the swollen wrists — well, it would be a different story altogether.

On Sunday afternoon Monsignor Charles Gable said goodbye to his parishioners at a gathering in St. Raphael's School.

He'd served as pastor here for something like 28 years and for a number of years previously in the role of missionary. During that time a lot of changes had taken place in Greenville, and his labors had a greater significance in the lives of many people than the building of a church and school.

But when Msgr. Gable spoke it wasn't of the things he had done or seen done in the growth of his little parish; it was of the things he left undone.

Something like that can puncture anybody's self-satisfaction and make them take another look at themselves.

Opinions In Brief

"Nowhere in the intensive campaign of organized labor against Right-to-Work (now concentrated in Ohio) is any mention made of the reverse side of the coin, the Yellow Dog Contract. Yet the same principle is involved. Time was when many American employers—the practice was widespread in the coal fields—required prospective employees to sign an agreement that they would not join a labor union. Violation of this agreement was justification for discharge. These contracts now are unlawful. They were invalidated on the wholly sound ground that a man's affiliations are his own business, and to hold over him the economic club of idleness is denial of the exercise of a right."

—Wheeler (W.Va.) Intelligencer.

"In a relatively brief span of years an economic revolution has been taking place in this country. It has been a quiet revolution but it has brought fundamental change. The base on which our capitalist system rests has been enormously broadened. In other words, major American enterprise is now the property of the many, not the few."—Industrial News Review.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

THAT ANCIENT FAITH
"And Isaac dug again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham, his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham."

Is there a message in these words for modern man? Yes, a very great message. Opposed by men who wanted to drive him out of the country, the patriarch Isaac decided to return to the narrow domain in which his father Abraham had lived. The Philistine had long since destroyed Abraham's wells by filling them with sand and rock. Isaac laboriously re-dug them and found that they were full of refreshing water.

Things You'd Learn

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That 60 per cent of the U.S. population now have formal religious ties.

Pickles are replacing popcorn as a lobby attraction in some movie houses here.

The British are doing research on how to use radar waves for cooking. Their advantage: The waves heat from the inside of the food.

The California sea lion has a neat trick for catching gullible gulls. He floats beneath the surface with only the dark tip of his nose showing. The gull, mistaking it for a fish, swoops down to catch it — and gets caught itself. Ain't nature sympathetic?

The reason poor people are more trusting than rich people is . . . nobody tries to steal poverty.

Singer Guy Mitchell claims his new Hollywood home is so authentic frontier in style it still has arrows sticking from the walls.

For every American who golfs, there are four who go bowling. And they don't have to miss church to do so.

The U. S. Navy says there's practically no danger a shark will attack you while you're floating in a life jacket . . . so long as you aren't bleeding.

If you plant your step ladder in a pair of old gym shoes, it won't slip while you're doing repair jobs.

The superstitious can relax. There won't be another Friday the 13th this year.

Luthansha, the German airline, dropped its policy against retaining married stewardesses. After it found it was losing 30 per cent of its girls to husbands during their first year on the job.

That 1,500 American homes are burglarized every 24 hours during July and August, the vacation months when most householders are away.

France has 150 gambling casinos but they are forbidden to advertise. There is a legend that the casinos will buy a ticket home for tourist gamblers who risk all and lose. But it ain't so.

San Quentin convicts are among the best read in the nation. Patrons of the prison library check out an average of 100 books a year.

The huffed hands in a business office are more likely to get heart attacks and high blood pressure than the executives. Tell this to your boss the next time he brags about how hard he works.

A survey of employers showed a majority frowned on the wearing of colored stockings by lady office workers. Does anybody think this will stop the fad?

Benjamin Franklin, 144 years before Willis Carrier invented air conditioning in 1902, experimented with quick-evaporating ether as a method of reducing temperatures.

Quote . .

"The men who occupy the high posts of government are not all weaklings. They're not all numb-skulls. They're not all self-seekers. They're not all depraved and wanton."—Greenville (S.C.) Piedmont.

The Daily Reflector

INCORPORATED

Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday

Established 1882

DAVID JULIAN WHICHARD, Publisher

Entered at Post Office, Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Carrier Week 30c
(BY MAIL, Payable in Advance)
Three Months $ 3.50
Six Months $ 6.50
One Year $11.50

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches here are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES

Thomas F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta Member Audit Bureau of Circulation.
All advertising copy must be received at least one day before publication date.

STEP BY STEP TESTING—The Short SC1 vertical takeoff and landing research aircraft rises in its test gantry during hovering tests at Belfast, Ireland. Gantry tests will continue before craft makes a free vertical takeoff followed by forward flight.

U.S. Newsmen Witnessed Sea Fight On Quemoy Trip

Editor's Note—AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards and AP photographer Fred Waters were in a group of 18 foreign correspondents going to Quemoy when Communist torpedo boats intercepted their convoy early today. This is Edwards' account of the battle.

By FORREST EDWARDS

MAKUNG, Pescadores (AP)—Fred Waters and I were halfway down the landing nets, handing down our gear to the men in the small boat below, when the first shell broke near us at about 12:40 this morning.

The small landing boat broke away from our landing ship and Waters and I were left dangling there. We climbed back up on deck. Eight foreign correspondents and six Chinese reporters and about 30 troops were already in our small boat and another one being loaded on the other side of our landing ship.

Our convoy consisted of our landing ship carrying 400 men to reinforce Quemoy and several escort patrol boats. We had been fighting rough seas all the way and dropped anchor six miles off shore to get into the small boats when the Communists attacked.

The Red torpedo boats kept up a running battle with our flotilla for an hour and 10 minutes. We took evasive action and tried to pick up the men in the small boats, but we could not find them in the darkness. Officers on our ship said they thought the small boats would be able to make it to shore.

(Nationalist headquarters on Formosa later reported that the boats with the correspondents and the troops had reached Quemoy safely.)

After maneuvering in circles during the hours of darkness, we returned to the Pescadores. There were no hits on our landing ship, an LSM (landing ship medium), but the Reds fired many rounds across our bow and aft.

This morning as we headed back to the Pescadores (about 80 miles southeast of Quemoy) we had a 20-minute submarine alert. For about an hour before the naval battle, we could see heavy Communist shelling of Quemoy from shore batteries.

This morning one of the Nationalist escort patrol boats was brought into the Pescadores under tow. It had been hit and damaged in the battle. I counted three wounded.

The correspondents who made it into the small boats and headed for Quemoy were John Dominus and James Bell. Time, Inc.; Greg McGregor, New York Times; Bruce Russell, Reuters; Charles Smith, United Press International; Larry Miller and Al Cramer, Pacific Stars and Stripes; and Alfred Smular, Paris-Match.

In addition to Waters and me, correspondents who were forced to return to the Pescadores were Fran Robertson, London Daily Telegraph; Peter Kalisher and Wade Bingham, Columbia Broadcasting System; Francis Lara, Agence France Press; Norman Williams, United Press International; Frank Huntley, American Broadcasting Co.; Rembert James Copley News Service; and Bertram Jones, London Daily Express.

Meany Pledges Exposure Of Any Corruption

NEW YORK (AP)—George Meany says "the American people can count upon the AFL-CIO to help expose whatever corruption yet exists" in the labor movement.

The AFL-CIO president, who spoke on a recorded NBC radio broadcast last night for Labor Day, also said: "There can be no place in our ranks for those who misplace the members' trust and whose misdeeds serve to bring the entire union movement into disrepute."

Meany noted that the AFL-CIO constitution bans corruption, and he added that leaders of the merged labor movement "are carrying out the responsibility invested in them by this mandate."

"We don't, of course, have police powers," Meany said. "We cannot subpoena witnesses or bank records. But we have acted." He cited expulsions of offending unions and current investigations of others.

NASA CHIEF—Dr. T. Keith Glennan, 52, heads the National Aeronautics and Space Administration which handles non-military space projects. He is on leave from his post as president of Case Institute of Technology.

Policeman Kidnapped By Gunman, Freed In Chase

GLADEWATER, Tex. (AP)—A policeman kidnapped a gunman and a disturbance complaint in Irving forced him to drive a hundred miles at top speed today while he fired at pursuing officers.

The chase ended abruptly at a roadblock just east of here when the gunman allowed the officer to halt. The gunman threw his two pistols in the policeman's lap and surrendered.

"I'm so nervous I can hardly talk," Sgt. Harvey Derrick of the Irving Police Department said. "He said pursuing units of the state highway patrol were unable to fire at the fleeing auto for fear of hitting him."

Derrick, driving alone in his police car, had gone to answer a disturbance complaint in Irving between Fort Worth and Dallas.

"This man came up to me and got the drop on me," he said. "He took my gun and told me if I'd do as he said he wouldn't kill me."

Police were not able to positively identify the kidnaper immediately.

Derrick radioed headquarters at 11:25 p.m. saying he was being held prisoner at gunpoint and that his captor ordered all other police cars to stay clear. Then his radio went silent.

The police car was spotted in Dallas, then lost again. It was miles long, connecting the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea.

U.S. 80, heading east from Dallas and Irving.

"He forced me to drive at top speed, about 110 miles an hour," the officer said. "He fired 10 or 15 times at the two state highway patrol cars following. Everytime they tried to close up a little he'd shoot."

"I was so nervous I didn't keep close count."

One bullet went through the windshield of a pursuing car. No one was hit. All local police along the route were warned to keep clear and to keep the highway clear.

Police set up a roadblock with big trucks just east of this east Texas city.

"He let me stop there and just tossed the two pistols in my lap and surrendered," the officer said. Both the officer and the gunman were taken to the police station here.

The Suez Canal is about 100 miles long, connecting the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea.

spotted a few minutes later on

Dream Realized, Collapses, Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Thirty-seven years ago a 29-year-old Italian immigrant arrived to make his home in this country. He saved his money, took no vacations and reared seven children.

Throughout these years he nurtured one ambition—to see his native village—near Naples—before he died.

Last May, John Rocco of suburban Rankin retired after 37 years in the steel mills. He decided he had earned a vacation at last.

He left New York July 29 for Italy. Rocco was alone, for his wife Rose, had died four years ago.

His ship docked Aug. 6, at Naples where he was met by his nieces, nephews and other relatives. They took him to Camigliano Caserta, the tiny village of his birthplace.

Rocco wrote home telling relatives how much he enjoyed visiting his boyhood haunts, talking to old friends and making new ones.

This weekend his family received a cablegram. The cablegram read Rocco had collapsed and died at the age of 66.

Major Oversight In School Plans

DELPHI, Ind. (AP)—Fire Chief Fred Swinford had just finished explaining to a group of school children all about the department's shiny trucks and complicated equipment. He asked if there were any questions.

"Yes," said one little girl as pointed to the firehouse Dalmatian mascot. "What's the dog's name?"

BISSETTE'S DRUG STORE

Dial 3131 "Headquarters For School Supplies" 416 Evans St.

EASY LESSON IN SAVING

Zipper Binders 98c

Notebook Paper Full Term Filler 360 Sheets 98c

3-RING CANVAS BINDERS ONLY 79c

INDEX CARDS 10c

STENO Note Book 15c

SCHOOL BAG with STRAPS Plain $1.19 $1.39

FOUNTAIN PEN $1.00

SCRIPTO Typing Tablet 25c

LUNCH KIT 10 OUNCE with THERMOS $3.35

Composition Book Wire Bound or Marble Back 15c 25c

Notebook 10c

ONLY $1.69 Special Value

SCRIPTO SCHOOL SET $1.69 Ball Point Pen .49 Extra Refill .9 Lead Pencil .15 Lead Pack $2.62 Value

Ball Point Pens ONLY 25c

Plastic Zipper Binders $1.98

"Wonder" Drugs

We have in stock — fresh and potent — any new specialty your doctor may prescribe! So, always bring his prescriptions here where you are assured prompt, precise compounding at prices that are uniformly fair.

Today's Prescription Is The Biggest Bargain In History!

EPSON SALTS FULL POUND 9c

$1.00 SIZE WOODBURY SHAMPOO . 69c

$1.10 TUSSY LIPSTICK ..... 60c

$5.00 Paper-Mate GOLD CAPRI PEN ..... $2.95

(WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES)

LUX ALARM CLOCK

Ivory with gold finish—ed numerals. Guaranteed!

$2.95

Choose your school colors!

PAPER-MATE DE LUXE

in new TU-TONE colors!

- * Match them to your school team or club colors!
- * New Wider! 1 1/2 inch writing! Won't blot, smudge, bleed!
- * New Silvered Tip starts faster, writes smoother, easier. With fine or medium points.
- * New "hold fast" clip holds fast to pocket or purse!
- * Paper-Mate pens are approved by more principals than any other pen in the world!

Silvered Tip Refills 49¢ blue, black, red or green ink.

$1.69

fully guaranteed!

Bexel

for children

the Easiest Way to Give Youngsters the Vitamins They May Need!

Protect your children against dietary vitamin deficiencies. Bexel Vitamin Syrup for children contains all the important vitamins plus iron generally regarded as essential for normal growth, function and development. What's more, Bexel Vitamin Syrup with its delicious fruit orange flavor makes an instant hit with every child... you'll never have to coax them to take it. Try Bexel Vitamin Syrup today. Satisfaction or your money back.

4 ounce ..... $1.19

16 ounce .... $3.89

TRADE BAIT — Four black swans take long-necked view at former home in the South Perth, Australia, zoo prior to trip to Ceylon in exchange for some elephants.

AMERICAN RE-INSURANCE COMPANY
Condition December 31, 1957, As Shown By Statement Filed:

| ASSETS                                                       |                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Bonds .....                                                  | $63,265,913.86        |
| Stocks .....                                                 | 19,395,829.90          |
| Mortgage loans on real estate .....                          | 30,644.10              |
| Real estate .....                                            | 317,002.95             |
| Cash and bank deposits .....                                 | 5,008,799.95           |
| Agents' balances or uncollected premiums, net .....          | 3,382,467.85           |
| Funds held by or deposited with ceding reinsurers .....      | 204,495.86             |
| Reinsurance recoverable on losses payments .....             | 155,291.74             |
| Interest, dividends & real estate income due & accrued ..... | 509,791.37             |
| All other assets as detailed in statement .....              | 272,395.01             |
| Total admitted Assets .....                           | $92,542,632.60 |

| LIABILITIES, SURPLUS AND OTHER FUNDS                                                                             |                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Losses unpaid .....                                                                                              | $30,710,582.63        |
| Loss adjustment expenses unpaid .....                                                                            | 2,039,654.00           |
| Contingent commissions and other similar charges .....                                                           | 1,442,000.00           |
| Other expenses (excluding taxes, licenses and fees) .....                                                        |                        |
| Underwriting .....                                                                                               | $12,000.00            |
| Investment .....                                                                                                 | 5,000.00               |
| Taxes, licenses and fees (excluding Federal income taxes) .....                                                  | 32,000.00              |
| Underwriting .....                                                                                               | $32,000.00            |
| Federal income taxes .....                                                                                       | 292,000.00             |
| Unearned premiums .....                                                                                          | 27,594,495.83          |
| Funds held by company under reinsurance treaties .....                                                           | 1,794,815.75           |
| Amounts withheld or retained by company for account of others .....                                              | 279,167.09             |
| Unearned premiums on reinsurance in unauthorized companies .....                                                 | $ 84,788.53           |
| Reinsurance on paid losses $63,522.88 and on unpaid losses $2,372,616.00 due from unauthorized companies ..... | $2,436,138.88         |
| Total .....                                                                                               | $2,520,927.41  |
| Less funds held or retained by company for account of such unauthorized companies .....                          | $1,746,527.21         |
| All other Liabilities, as detailed in statement .....                                                     | 2,553,870.47    |
| Total Liabilities .....                                                                                   | $67,529,985.97 |
| Special surplus funds .....                                                                                      | $ 4,000,000.00        |
| Capital paid up .....                                                                                            | 4,000,000.00           |
| Unassigned funds (surplus) .....                                                                                 | 17,012,646.63          |
| Surplus as regards policyholders .....                                                                    | 25,012,646.63   |
| Total .....                                                                                               | $92,542,632.60 |

President Edward L. Mulvehill Secretary David H. Houghtaling
Treasurer James Wilson

Home Office 99 John Street, New York 38, N. Y.
Attorney for service: Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, Raleigh, N. C.

NORTH CAROLINA INSURANCE DEPARTMENT
Raleigh, N. C. 3-20-58

I, Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct abstract of the statement of the American Re-Insurance Company of New York, N. Y., filed with this Department, showing the condition of said Company on the 31st day of December, 1957.

Witness my hand and official seal, the day and date above written.

CHARLES F. GOLD
Commissioner of Insurance

IGY Program, A Testimony Of Big Goal To Penetrate Science Secrets

Editor's Note—Scientists from East and West have concluded important sessions in Moscow under the International Geophysical Year program. This is the first of four articles written for The Associated Press by participating scientists. The writer is director of the High Altitude Observatory, Boulder, Colo.

By Dr. WALTER ORR ROBERTS
Written for The AP

The whole of the International Geophysical Year program is a monumental testimony to the ingenuity of scientists in developing new tools for exploring and understanding space and its astronomical occupants.

The highlights of the recent Moscow meetings of the Special Committee for the International Geophysical Year are hard to pin down at least in my field of interest—the sun and the earth's upper atmosphere.

But the most significant things, perhaps, are refinements of ways of observing and measuring things that have been known for some time.

The sun has been scrutinized as never before. Here in the Soviet Union, for example, some 11 solar observatories take pictures every few minutes of the sun's face with special telescopes designed to reveal the solar flares that so often produce great displays of Northern Lights. In the United States we have seven such stations operating.

Public interest in scientific discovery is as great here in the Soviet Union as at home. There have been three postage stamps issued recently commemorating these geophysical phenomena and

FARMERS MUTUAL FIRE INS. ASSN., PITT CO. BR. INS. CO.
Condition December 31, 1957, As Shown By Statement Filed:

ASSETS

Bonds $ 91,000.00

Cash and bank deposits 42,728.05

All other assets as detailed in statement 90,000.00

Total admitted Assets $223,728.05

LIABILITIES, SURPLUS AND OTHER FUNDS

Unassigned funds (surplus) $223,728.05

Surplus as regards policyholders $223,728.05

Total $223,728.05

BUSINESS IN NORTH CAROLINA DURING 1957

Line of Business Premiums Incurred

Fire $44,760.61 $29,623.14

Total $44,760.61 $29,623.14

President A. L. Woolard Secretary W. C. Harris

Home Office Greenville, N. C.

Attorney for service: Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, Raleigh, N. C.

NORTH CAROLINA INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

I, Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct abstract of the statement of the Farmers Mutual Fire Ins. Assn., Pitt Co. Br. Insurance Co. of Greenville, N. C., filed with this Department, showing the condition of said company on the 31st day of December, 1957.

Witness my hand and official seal, the day and date above written.

CHARLES F. GOLD

Commissioner of Insurance

the IGY efforts to observe them cooperatively.

The real story here, as I see it, is not in the formal committee meetings, but in the informal behind-the-scenes discussions that were going on all over Moscow. Not that these meetings have any sub-rosa character. That would be unthinkable in this place.

But capitalist and Communist scientists are rubbing elbows in the corridors, the dining rooms, the parks, the agricultural and industrial exposition, and in the attractive little river boats that run incessantly back and forth past the Kremlin laden with Muscovites enjoying the air and the sun.

Everywhere you go there are intensive debates in two, three or four languages, sometimes thoroughly mixed together. Particularly in demand are those fortunate few scientists who can converse freely in several languages, and they bear a heavy load of communication.

English is the most frequently used tongue, since so few from the West have mastered Russian. An astonishingly large number of Russians have greatly improved their knowledge of English since last meetings.

In the technical sphere, I was particularly impressed with two advances made by Russian scientists. One was in new and more detailed measurements of the magnetism of the surface of the sun. The other was in the development of new and powerful instruments and techniques for study of the lowest layers of the sun's atmosphere, the so-called chromosphere.

Dr. A. Severny, director of the Crimean Observatory, showed us maps of the magnetism of the sun.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

The Russian scientists respect competence. And it is gratifying to realize that our programs and our achievements are making an enormous impression here. There may be no news of world affairs—anything, at least, that we'd call news at home—but the news of science is abundant and uncensored. One gains the feeling that in the realm of actual "hard" scientific results even our somewhat halting rocket and satellite work has produced a return that is the object of no small envy.

And from this may come understanding of the consequent radio

fadeouts produced in the earth's atmosphere. It is particularly impressive that the Russians have built not one but four different instruments for this work, and that Severny has a host of associates and competitors in this work within his own country.

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

1. Perch

4. Thrash

8. Biblical country

12. Literary fragments

13. Stage of being behindhand

15. Incapable of contamination

17. Small bird

18. Wire measurement

19. Adapt

20. Lounged at ease

23. Confine

25. Adjective suffix

26. Chest bone

28. Temperate

32. Put in gear

DOWN

24. Metal fastener

36. Tree trunk

37. Fundamental

38. Expression of disgust

41. Custom

42. Equality

44. Prohibited

46. Question

49. Pound violently

51. Groove

52. Alliance

57. Written discussions

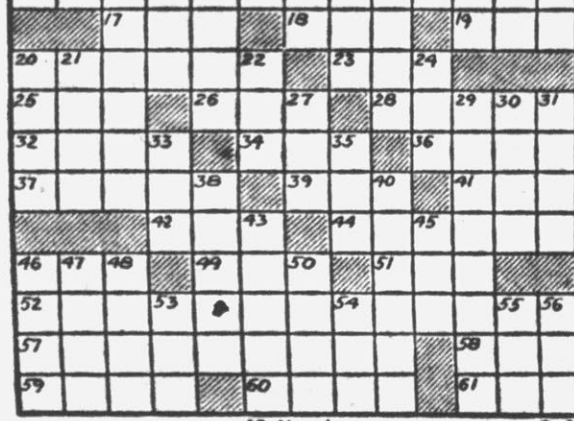

58. Dutch commune

59. Ovule

60. Horse feed

61. Perceive

1. Capuchin monkey

PAR TIME 23 MIN. AP Newsfeature 4-2

BAR MUD SHADE
ERE ATE LABEL
HAG DESTITUTE
ABELE PIP SEC
VINE GEL WENT EAT CAR PASTS
HAMADAN
ROSIN TIN CAB
AREE FEE SOLA
SIR PAN SEVER
COMPETENT EGO ALOES SEA RAN
LENTO STY TRY

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

2. Hotel
3. Lacking diplomacy
4. Trade
5. Go astray
6. Plant with flowers on a spike
7. Lukewarm
8. Son of God
9. Pats
10. Leer
11. Approach
14. Collection of maps
16. Combustible substance
20. Branch
21. Olive genus
22. Lower and raise
24. Crowd
27. Child's napkin
29. Premises
30. Otherwise
31. Coarse grass stem
33. Signal used for a cheer
35. Grab
38. Proof-reader's mark
40. Annoy
43. Wireless telegraphy
45. Fruit of certain trees
46. Trans-actions
47. Painful
48. Body joint
50. Tahiti
53. Current fashion
54. Steep
55. Unclose
56. By birth

1/2 PRICE HIT RECORD OFFER

Here's how to get your Hi-Fi record "HIT OF THE WEEK"

You'll find Hi-Fi coupons on the front of every Hi-Fi theme book and every package of Hi-Fi loose leaf filler. Large sizes have two coupons. Small sizes have one coupon. Send two Hi-Fi coupons and 60¢ to Hi-Fi, Box 4699, Jacksonville, Florida. Your hit record will be mailed to you the same day your order is received. Every two weeks, a new hit record is selected, by disc jockeys and various record company officials, as the "Hi-Fi Hit Of The Week". Buy Hi-Fi paper and start your collection of record hits today!

Ask for Hi-Fi loose leaf filler paper and Hi-Fi theme books in drug stores, ten cent stores, variety stores, supermarkets, stationery stores, department stores — wherever you buy notebook paper.

GREENVILLE

Continues To Be The FARMERS' CHOICE For Selling Their Important 1958 Tobacco Crop.

COMPARE THESE FIGURES FOR THE FIRST SEVEN SALES DAYS ON THE GREENVILLE MARKET:

First Seven Sales Days Last Year Greenville Sold 4,210,326 Pounds For $2,109,044.19

FIRST SEVEN SALES DAYS 1958 GREENVILLE SOLD:
7,423,436 Pounds For $4,081,529.80

For The Top Dollar For Your 1958 Tobacco Crop Follow The Crowds To Greenville Where There is Plenty Of Room To Sell Your Tobacco. Greenville Can Sell 11,000 Baskets A Day. Its 5 Complete Sets Of Buyers Representing Every Major Domestic And Export Company In The World Assures You Top Competition For Your Tobacco.

Cannon's Warehose
W. T. Cannon & Carlton Dall

Phone 2242

McGowan's Warehouse
C. H. McGowan, C. H. McGowan Jr., Bill Barbre

Phone 4387

Planters Warehouse
J. A. (Buddy) Worthington, G. B. (Dynamite) Jones

Phone 4824

Farmers Warehouse
W. Arthur Tripp, T. P. Thompson, Dal Cox, A. A. Forbes

Phone 4592

Morton's Warehouse
Elbert Bennett

Phone 2709

Raynor & Harris Warehouse
C. C. Harris, J. W. Reavis, Noah Raynor

Phone 7614

Harris & Rogers Warehouse
R. E. Rogers, H. R. Rogers, Bruce Strickland

Phone 2643

New Carolina Warehouses
No. 1 Phone 2741 — No. 2 Phone 5726
Floyd McGowan

Star Warehouse (No. 1)
B. B. Sugg, B. B. Sugg Jr., Harding Sugg

Phone 2772

Keel's Warehouse
L. W. Edwards, R. V. Keel, Ashley Wynne

Phone 6709

New Independent Warehouse
J. R. Cullifer, F. L. Blount Jr., Tom Andrews Jr., S. A. Whitehurst, S. C. Ives, Frank Jolly

Phone 3971

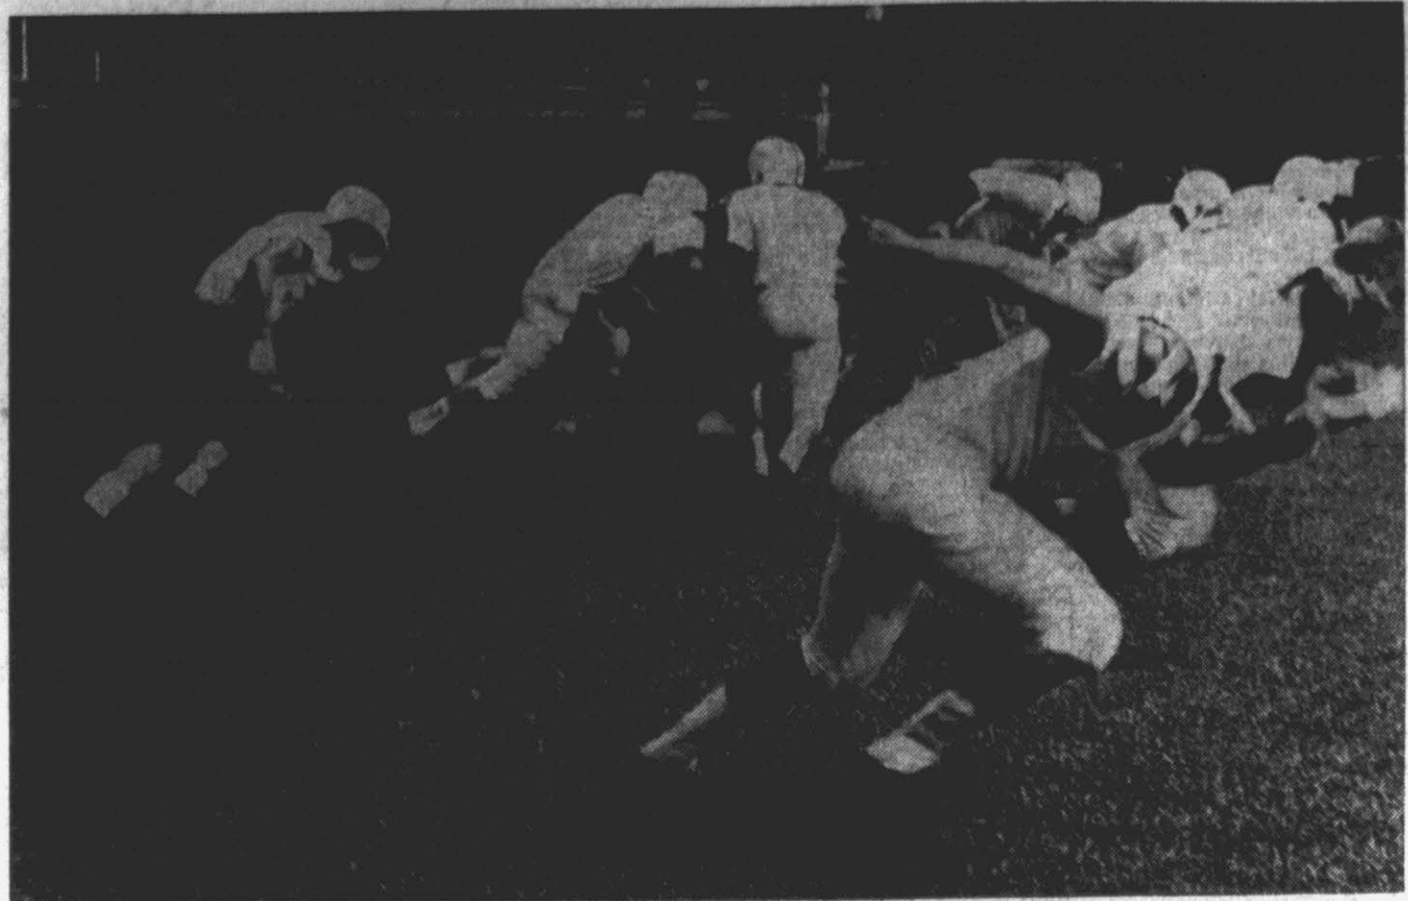

Victory Warehouse
Harold Forbes, O. L. Joyner Jr.

Phone 2288

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 2, 1958

ECC Football Drills Progressing; Heavy Work Today

OFFENSIVE PATTERNS—East Carolina's football candidates got right down to serious business in Monday morning's opening practice session. Above, quarterback Ralph Zehring gets set to hand off to a halfback while his front line moves off ahead. The squad of 45 gridgers went through conditioning drills and offensive maneuvers during the morning workout and hit the heavy sleds yesterday afternoon.

BOONE AND SPEIGHT—Coach Jack Boone (left) shows his star fullback James Speight where to go on a pitchout in yesterday's opening drill of the 1958 season. East Carolina's offensive attack is reportedly being built around the 170-pound fullback this year. (Reflector sports photo by Billy Arnold)

Boone Has Four Teams, More On The Way

East Carolina College football coaches put 45 of their 1958 gridiron hopefuls through their first taste of sweat and exercise yesterday morning at the ECC drill field in a blazing August sun.

Coach Jack Boone and Assistants Earl Smith, Jim Mallory, Frank Madigan, and Bill McDonald had their 45 candidates dressed in full equipment, complete with pads and helmets.

Drills began at 10:00 sharp and the coaches put the husky squad through running, jumping, and loosening-up exercises to begin with. Shortly after that, the squad was chopped up into four teams and went immediately into execution of plays. No opposition was used.

The coaches divided the force again after team drills and the boys were separated by units, positions. They were then put through more rudimentary exercises, such as blocking maneuvers, running techniques, passing, pass catching, and play patterns.

Others

The drill was a long one yesterday. Coach Boone told the gridgers that the first sessions would not be long ones, due to weather and other things.

Before the week is over, about 25 more football candidates are expected to turn out for the practice sessions. Most of those who will come in during the week will be freshmen, however, some will be of higher classification.

Yesterday, Coach Boone's apparent No. 1 unit consisted of ends Bill Cain and Howard Beale, tackles Charles Cooke and Ed Emory, guards Wayne Davis and Charles Gordon, center Lynn Barnett, halfbacks Tommy Nash and Lee Atkinson, quarterback Ralph Zehring, fullback James Speight.

The above group made up the starting varsity team in last year's Alumni-Varsity contest at the close of the year and is considered the inside eleven at present.

Afternoon

Yesterday's short morning workout was followed by an afternoon session, during which time the squad went through heavier work-out on the blocking sleds. Coach Boone said this morning that the squad will have two-day drills from now on. Heavy work is on schedule for this afternoon, including blocking and tackling drill.

The Bucs have less than two weeks to prepare for the opening game of the 1958 season with Emory-Henry at Greenville, September 13.

Coach Boone stated this morning that plans are being made for an intra-squad game to be held this Saturday afternoon at the ECC Stadium. Spectators will be allowed.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting (based on 350 or more at bats)—Kuehn, Detroit, .325. Runs—Mantle, New York, 107. Runs batted in—Jensen, Boston, 110.

Hits—Fox, Chicago, 165. Doubles—Power, Cleveland and Kuehn, Detroit, 34. Triples—Tuttle, Kansas City and Lemon, Washington, 9. Home runs—Mantle, New York, 37.

Stolen bases—Aparicio, Chicago, 26.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting (based on 350 or more at bats)—Musial, St. Louis, .339. Runs—Banks, Chicago, 106. Runs batted in—Banks, Chicago, 112.

Hits—Aaron, Milwaukee, 175. Doubles—Aaron, Milwaukee, 32. Triples—Ashburn, Philadelphia, 12.

Home runs—Banks, Chicago, 42. Stolen bases—Ashburn, Philadelphia, 26.

Key On The Best

All Work Guaranteed

Prompt Expert Service

At Moderate Prices

Saad's Shoe Shop

113 Grande Ave. Dial 3555

Braves Have 7½ Game Lead In National League Now

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Buhl, the missing 18-game winner who was hardly missed, is back with the Milwaukee Braves. And right in form too.

Pitching for the first time since May 13, when he dropped out with a bum shoulder, Buhl won the opener of the Braves' Labor Day double-header with Chicago, beating the Cubs 2-1 with an eight-hitter. He walked only one, struck out three and blanked the Cubs after the first inning.

The Braves lost the nightcap 9-2 to their National League lead is now 7½ games.

San Francisco broke a tie with Pittsburgh for second place by beating Los Angeles 8-6 and 6-5. The second game went 16 innings, longest in the majors this year. The Pirates, 8½ games back, lost 9-0 to Philadelphia after a 5-2 victory.

Cincinnati held fourth place, beating St. Louis 9-3 after a 1-0 defeat.

In the American League, the New York Yankees split a pair of 4-2 decisions with Boston. Chicago's second-place White Sox lost two to Cleveland 6-5 and 7-1. Baltimore swept Washington 2-0 and 10-1. Detroit beat Kansas City twice, 7-4 and 5-1.

The Cubs got their run off Buhl (5-2) on Al Dark's double and Ernie Banks' single in the first. Milwaukee put it away in the fourth, scoring two on an error and singles by Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron, who split six of the Braves' nine hits off Bob Anderson (1-1).

A four-run third, capped by Bobby Thomson's two-run single, won the nightcap for the Cubs against c-mate Bob Rush (7-6). Glen Hobbie (10-6) took his third from the Braves.

Long-slumping Willie Mays was 5 for 9, including his 25th and 27th home runs, in the double-header for the Giants. They tied the nightcap 4-4 on Bob Schmidt's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth, then won it with two in the 16th on Whitey Lockman's homer. Ray Jablonski's single and two Dodger errors. Mike McCormick (11-7), who gave up a run in the Dode's 16th, was the winner with Johnny Podres (12-11) the loser, both in relief.

Schmidt's two-run double put the opener away as the Giants scored three in the seventh.

A six-hitter by Vern Law (11-11) did the job for the Pirates in the first game. He had a shutout until Henry Anderson's home run in the ninth. Jack Sanford (8-12) lost 1-0. Lefty Curt Simmons (7-13) fanned the Pirates on four hits in the nightcap while Ted Kazanski, who had three doubles, and Wally Post each drove in three runs for the Phils. Bob Porterfield (2-5) lost it.

An unearned run in the second inning won the opener for the Cards as Wilmer (Vincar Bend) Mizell (9-10) beat Joe Nuxhall (11-1) in a duel of four-hitters. George Crowe capped a four-run lead with a two-run single in the nightcap for the Reds, and they counted three more in the fifth, when Frank Robinson hit a 450-foot-plus homer, his 27th. Alex Kellner blanked the Cards on five hits after relieving Brooks Lawrence in the first inning. Jim Brosnan (9-8) lost it.

Greensboro Drops Two To Burlington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A double-header loss to Burlington yesterday jolted Greensboro's hopes of catching first-place Danville in the Carolina League.

Burlington held Greensboro scoreless, 5-0 and 3-0, in the Labor Day twin bill. Danville broke even with Durham, winning 11-4 in the second game after Durham took the first, 3-0.

The results left Greensboro six games behind Danville, narrowing the chances for the one-time loop leaders to surge ahead in the seven remaining games they have to play. Danville has five games left.

High Point-Thomasville defeated Winston-Salem twice, 5-2 and 11-7, while Raleigh and Wilson split. The Caps won 2-0 in the afternoon and Wilson triumphed 4-0 at night.

Lefty Bob Allen limited Greensboro to four hits for Burlington's 3-0 decision. Southpaw Steve Hamilton hurled the other Burlington shutout.

Ino Rodriguez provided Durham's runs to beat Danville. He smacked a single which brought in two runs in the first inning, and another single worth a score in the third.

Danville got revenge by taking advantage of 11 hits, seven walks, and three Durham errors.

Home run power helped out the Hi-Toms. Tony Curry blasted a three-run homer to help win the afternoon game. Bill Ford and Jack Davis knocked homers, each for two runs, in the nighttime affair.

Infielder Gale Dennis turned pitcher for Raleigh and blanked Wilson 2-0. A grand-slam home run by Jim Burton gave the Tobs the runs for revenge in the second game.

MONDAY'S STARS

PITCHING: Curt Simmons, Phils.—Blanked the Pirates on four hits, two of them in eighth inning, while striking out seven and not walking a man for 9-0 victory after Phils had lost opener 5-2.

HITTING: Willie Mays, Giants.—Had six hits in nine at bats in 8-6 and 6-5 sweep over the Dodgers, hitting a home run and driving in two runs in each game.

Defending Champ

DONALD CONLEY

Golfers Battle For City Title This Weekend

The sixth annual City Golf Championship (medal play) Tournament will be played at the Greenville Country Club this weekend.

The tournament will be a 36-hole affair with local golfers playing 18 holes on Saturday and Sunday. According to Tournament Chairman Simon Moyer there will be no qualifying round or entrance fee.

Moyer stated this morning that any member who wishes to play must register at the Pro Shop before 6 p.m. Friday. Absolutely no one can play who does not register by the specified time, it was explained. No exceptions will be made. Moyer noted.

Four flights are scheduled to be played, with a winner and runner-up in each flight. Golfers will be placed in flights by the Tournament Committee. Participants are to be allowed to make up their own foursome each day.

Club President Dave Mosier will present trophies to winners and runners-up in each flight following the tournament Sunday afternoon. The presentation ceremonies will be staged on the club terrace. Spectators are invited to watch the golf and presentations.

Don Conley Jr. won last year's tournament. Previous winners were W. L. Allen (twice), Milt Massey and Reynolds May. These golfers are expected to get some stiff competition from Erroll Webb (this year's match-play champion), Ben Harrison, Billy Davenport, Ray and Bob Maaten and others.

STANDINGS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

San Francisco 8-6, Los Angeles 6-5 (second game, 16 innings)

Pittsburgh 5-0, Philadelphia 2-9

St. Louis 1-3, Cincinnati 0-9

Milwaukee 2-3, Chicago 1-9

STANDINGS

W. L. Pct. GB

Milwaukee .... 78 54 .591 —

San Francisco ... 70 61 .534 7½

Pittsburgh .... 69 62 .527 8½

Cincinnati .... 65 68 .489 13½

St. Louis ..... 62 67 .477 15

Los Angeles .... 61 69 .469 16

Chicago ..... 61 72 .459 17½

Philadelphia ... 58 70 .453 18

TODAY'S GAMES

(Eastern Standard Time)

Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, 7:15 p.m.

Cincinnati at St. Louis, 8 p.m.

San Francisco at Los Angeles, 10 p.m.

Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Boston 4-2, New York 2-4

Detroit 7-5, Kansas City 4-1

Baltimore 2-10, Washington 0-1

Cleveland 6-7, Chicago 5-1

STANDINGS

W. L. Pct. GB

New York ..... 81 51 .614 —

Chicago ..... 68 62 .519 11½

Boston ..... 67 62 .519 12½

Baltimore ..... 64 65 .496 15½

Detroit ..... 63 66 .488 16½

Cleveland ..... 63 68 .485 17

Kansas City ..... 59 71 .454 21

Washington ..... 54 76 .415 26

TODAY'S GAMES

(Eastern Standard Time)

Detroit at Kansas City, 2:30 p.m.

Boston at New York, 7 p.m.

Baltimore at Washington, 7:05 p.m.

Only games scheduled.

WAKE FOREST Coach Paul Amen sounded the keynote when he told his squad, "We just can't waste time with preliminaries."

Amen's boys, who face Maryland Sept. 20 at Winston-Salem, turned out 50-strong for a full blast half-line scrimmage, the first of a two-day practice.

Duke Coach Bill Murray surveyed 61 candidates and told newsmen his squad needed study before any definite idea emerged about their abilities. The Blue Devils play South Carolina at Columbia Sept. 20.

North Carolina's Tar Heels took the field with three players recently back from service hitches—235-pound fullback Don Knochak, 210-pound end Bill Baker and 205-pound halfback Rabe Walton. Coach Jim Tatum seemed pleased with Knochak's power thrusts as his 58-man squad worked out.

At North Carolina State, preparing to defend its ACC crown, Coach Earle Edwards worked his men through practices in 90-degree temperatures. The Wolfpack's 37 sophomores, 13 seniors and nine juniors are slated for two-day practices.

Clemson Coach Frank Howard put his Tigers through passing and running drills, but scheduled no scrimmages. Quarterbacks Harvey White, Lowndes Shindler and Johnnie MacGoff maneuvered three squads during a long passing drill.

At South Carolina, some 72 candidates opened football practice. Coach Warren Giese said he would shuffle his first unit at each practice in search of the best alignments. Standouts in morning and afternoon drills were halfbacks Alex Hawkins and King Dixon and fullback John Saunders.

MONDAY'S FIGHTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SYDNEY—Billy Todd, 145, Australia, outpointed Willie Martin, 145½, San Diego, Calif., 12.

SYDNEY—N.S.—Young Beau Jack, 164, Brockton, Mass., outpointed Gary Simon, 161, New Glasgow, N.S., 10.

Just How Good Are The NY Yanks? Can They Hold Up?

By ED WILKS

Just how good are these New York Yankees who lead the American League by 11½ games?

A month ago today they led by 17 games. They've won 14 of 31 games since—a scrawny 452 percentage that's only sixth best in the AL for that span.

With a month to go before their expected return match in the World Series with the champion Milwaukee Braves, the Yankees' great pitching has become so-so.

Bob Turley is a 20-game winner, but Whitey Ford and Don Larsen are nursing sore arms. And after these three come Art Ditmar, Bobby Shantz, Johnny Kucks and Duke Maas. Hardly a fearsome foursome. Ryne Duren, the tight-pitch terror of the bullpen, hasn't been the same since he was injured.

Only two regulars—Elston Howard (.329) and Norm Siebern (.303)—are hitting over .300. Mickey Mantle is at .300.

Shantz and Maas came through with complete games in the Labor Day double-header, but the Yankees came off with only a split against Boston, getting only eight hits in a pair of 4-2 decisions.

Young Ted Bowfield (3-0) won the opener with a four-hitter. Maas then matched the four-hitter of Ike Delock for the nightcap victory.

Still, the Yankees added a game to their lead. Chicago's second-place White Sox lost a pair to Cleveland 6-5 and 7-1. Baltimore swept Washington 2-0 and 10-1. Detroit took two at Kansas City 7-4 and 5-1.

In the National League, Milwaukee split with the Chicago Cubs, winning 2-1, then losing 9-3. San Francisco took second, beating Los Angeles 8-6 and then 6-5 in 16 innings. Pittsburgh split with Philadelphia, losing 9-0 after a 5-2 victory. St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 1-0, then lost 9-3.

Dick Gernert's two-run triple broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning of the opener for Boston and Bowfield fanned. The Yankees scored two in the nightcap first without a hit against Delock (12-5), then put it away on a pair of RBI singles by Bill Skowron in the third and fifth innings. Gene Stephens, still subbing for ailing Ted Williams, had two of Boston's hits.

Herb Score, Cleveland's jinxed southpaw, made his first appearance since July 15 and saved the opener for Don Ferrarese (2-4) with ninth-inning relief. Billy Pierce (15-9) lost it, beaten by a pair of Sox errors in a three-run third inning and Minnie Minoso's 21st home run, with two on, in the first. Rookie Gary Bell (8-8) won the nightcap with an eight-hitter while the Tribe barked a dozen hits, one Vic Power's three-run homer, off loser Bob Shaw (5-4) and three relievers.

Jack Harshman (11-11) nailed his third shutout for Baltimore in a four-hit duel with loser Camilo Pascual (7-8) and Dick Hyde in the opener. Bob Nieman drove in both Bird runs, with a sacrifice fly and a single. Billy O'Dell (13-10) won the second game, giving up 11 hits but not walking a man. Gus Triandos and Dick Williams, who drove in four runs, homered for the Orioles. Jim Constable (1-2) lost it as the Nats became the first to be eliminated in the race.

Frank Bolling counted the clincher with a two-run single as the Tigers scored five in the fifth inning of the opener. Then he hit a pair of home runs that backed up the four-hit pitching of Paul Foytack (11-11) in the second game.

Mickey Wright Feels She Has Grown Up Now

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Personable Mickey Wright, a tall blond 23-year-old golfer from La Jolla, Calif., figures she has finally grown up.

"I'm a big girl now," she remarked after winning the $7,500 Opie Turner golf tournament in this Southern Oklahoma resort community.

Miss Wright shot a 12-under par 222 to capture the top prize in the Turner tournament. She started badly with an 80 but grooved her game for two finishing rounds of 71 to beat Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., by five strokes. Miss Suggs finished with 227.

Mickey, credited Betsy Rawls, one of the top competitors on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association for several years, for her latest successes, which included the National Open and the LPGA championship.

"I finished out of the money at St. Petersburg and it taught me a lesson. I was feeling sorry for myself because I thought I wasn't getting the good breaks which you need."

"However, Betsy came up to me and said, 'Look Mickey, you hit the ball where you did. You can't blame anybody but yourself.'"

This philosophy apparently has become deeply embedded in Mickey's new approach to the game and she seems on the way toward golfing greatness.

Use Ready-Mixed CONCRETE

Delivered Ready To Use

Save on building and improvement costs with our ready-mixed concrete on the job.

WHITE CONCRETE COMPANY

Bethel Highway Phone 4233

WE WANT TO BUY Tracts Of Standing Timber

• We Buy And Pay Lump Sum Or Buy By The Thousand

• WE ARE PAYING GOOD PRICES

WRITE OR CALL

RALPH STEWART OR WARREN SMITH

Smithfield Lumber Co.

Phone Night 7574

212 W. 3RD. STREET GREENVILLE, N. C.

OR WARREN SMITH, SMITHFIELD, N. C.

OFFICE PHONE WE4-4115 — RES. PHONE WE4-3676

LUMBER YARD LOCATED ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF PLANTERS WAREHOUSE, MEMORIAL DRIVE, GREENVILLE, N. C.

OUR 25¢ SIZE

CONTAINS 12 POWDERS

NOT JUST 6 POWDERS

Goody's

"THEY ARE GOOD"

HEADACHE POWDERS

PACKAGE OF 2 POWDERS ALWAYS 5¢

Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency

Dividend Paying Policies

Save With Safety... Buy Mutual Insurance

322 Evans Street, Greenville, N. C., Dial 2397

FIRE, AUTOMOBILE and TORNADO

FLIGHT LINE—Pilots and friends head for their planes after attending a fly-in at the Amelia Earhart Airport in Atchison, Kan. The occasion was unveiling of a memorial honoring the late Miss Earhart, a native of Atchison.

No Weekend Traffic Jam When Visiting By Airplane

By WES COOK

The Sunday driver who takes his family for a leisurely ride and picnic in the country has a counterpart in the air.

From California to New York, private flyers keep a close eye on weather maps for an indication that a sunny, comfortable Sunday is in prospect. Then, weather permitting, these weekend flyers, their families and friends take off shortly after sunrise en route to a fly-in breakfast, lunches, air fairs or air tours.

What They Are

They are social and informative gatherings often held near resort or recreational areas. Pilots and their families swim, boat, fish, play games and eat picnic lunches.

The informative portion of the fly-in includes flight safety clinics, lectures on weather, communications, demonstrations of new aircraft and equipment, and proficiency examinations.

Who participates in a fly-in?

Any licensed private pilot, his family and friends. Many own their own aircraft, others rent planes and some belong to flying clubs that operate a number of aircraft on a cooperative basis.

How many participate in a fly-in?

Anywhere from five to 100 or more persons utilizing from three to 30 or more aircraft.

How far do you fly to attend a fly-in? Most flights involve a round trip distance of 150 to 300 miles. Occasionally longer flights are made for a two-day fly-in.

Most of the fly-ins are arranged to encourage the use of aviation facilities, promote their development, make better airmen of those taking part, and to provide a social climate for the private pilot.

Let's join the Ozark Aero Club of Southeast Missouri in a Sunday fly-in breakfast and lunch from Springfield to Bolivar and Mexico, Mo.

You arrive at the airport around 6:30 a.m., joining other sleepy-eyed pilots and their families as they roll aircraft from the hangars.

By the time pre-flight checks have been completed, everyone is wide awake and anxious to get to Bolivar and the breakfast stop.

About 20 minutes after takeoff you spot the small town of Bolivar and near its city limits the turf runway that borders the municipal golf course. Cars driven by local residents line the roadside waiting to haul the visiting airmen to town for breakfast.

After taxiing to a parking place, you climb out and are greeted by your hosts. A few minutes later you are seated in a crowded, noisy basement restaurant.

Conversations around the tables range from renewal of old acquaintances to friendly arguments over various planes, equipment, routes, navigational methods and airport conditions.

Back in the Air

About an hour later the aircraft are back in the air en route to your luncheon destination at the Mexico, Mo., Air Park Motel.

What do you do to occupy yourself while in the air?

The pilot, of course, will be busy at the controls. He may practice use of in-flight navigational aids or demonstrate the use of the controls and other equipment for passengers.

Although the round-trip covered more than 300 miles you are back in Springfield by mid-afternoon feeling refreshed and gloating over the fact that in all that distance you weren't trapped in a single traffic jam.

Race Rioters Again Stage Big Brawl In London Area

LONDON (AP)—Race rioters rampaged through London's Notting Hill district last night for the third successive night.

It was early morning before police with big Alsatian dogs cleared the streets of the mob of more than 2,000 whites, most of them teen-agers.

The rioters systematically smashed windows of Negro homes. The embattled residents retaliated by hurling bottles from their roofs. One homemade gasoline bomb also was thrown down, but the fire was put out quickly.

One white man was stabbed in the shoulder. Scores of other persons had minor injuries.

Police arrested 34 persons, bringing to 57 the total arrested in London since racial disturbances broke out again Saturday night.

In the neighboring Paddington district, gangs of white youths wrecked a cafe frequented by Negroes.

Britain's racial friction stems from competition — for housing, jobs and girls — between native-born poor whites and the swelling tide of colored immigrants from the West Indies and other areas of the Commonwealth.

Nottingham also had weekend race violence. There a mob of 1,000 whites moved on the city's colored quarter Sunday night but police patrols drove them off. Five of the rioters were sentenced to three months in prison and 19 were fined.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler was reported satisfied that the police could handle the situation. But he ordered a special report on the riots.

A social worker in Notting Hill said the rampaging teen-agers "are just looking for excitement."

Real Veteran In Presentations

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—At 12, Boy Scout Bobby Neu is a veteran at making presentations. He has presented President Eisenhower with a handbook for emergencies, actor Kenny Kaye with a Scout pin and Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency with a similar emblem.

He has also spoken at National Presbyterian Church at Washington, which the President attends, addressed the Metropolitan Rotary Club and spoken before the executive council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Bobby admits that "Dad helps me outline talks."

Sweden was a province of Denmark from 1397 to 1521.

NEW SIGHT ON THE AVENUE—This unusual structure, designed by famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright, will house the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum on upper Fifth Avenue in New York City. Giant spiral is exhibition area for the art collection.

Legionnaires Go To Serious Side

CHICAGO (AP)—After a week-end of parading and merrymaking, the American Legion moves into the serious aspects of its 40th annual national convention today.

Some 9,000 delegates, in three days of business sessions in the Chicago Stadium, are to pass on some 600 resolutions ranging from child welfare to "Americanism."

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy speaks tonight at the annual National Commander's Dinner.

An all-day parade along Michigan Avenue by some 50,000 marchers, units of all military services and their massed colors, decorative floats and about 8,000 musicians featured the Labor Day activities.

An estimated 500,000 persons dressed in coats or heavy sweaters watched the parade in chilly 60-degree temperature.

In one prepared resolution, the Legion will be asked to reject a proposal for a general pension for all World War I veterans in favor of an increase in present non-service disability pension rates and relaxation of outside income restriction governing such pension.

In a prepared address, Ross L. Malone, president of the American Bar Assn., asked for Legion backing for the bar's "campaign to increase the effectiveness of our courts by removing the selection of the judges of state courts from the arena of partisan politics."

Malone told the convention judicial reform plans have been adopted in Missouri, California and Alaska and are in various stages of consideration in Illinois, Kansas, Ohio, Oregon, West Virginia and Iowa.

He said that "in contributing to the removal of the state courts from partisan politics you will be increasing the confidence of our citizens in their courts and thereby making another contribution to the maintenance of our representative form of government."

Wilson was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Worrell said Mrs. Kelly said she married Wilson in 1953 and that she understood that Wilson had obtained a divorce.

Chief Worrell said Mrs. Kelly was charged with murder. Bond was set at $1,000 pending an inquest Sept. 16.

Fatally Shot In 3-Way Quarrel

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—James B. Wilson, 36-year-old Burlington barber and part-time preacher, was wounded fatally here yesterday during an argument involving himself, his wife and his former wife.

Police Chief L. F. Worrell said Mrs. Lottie Ann Kelly, 44, of Fayetteville, Wilson's former wife, admitted shooting Wilson and seriously wounding his wife.

Worrell said Mrs. Kelly gave this story: Wilson and his wife arrived at Mrs. Kelly's home and demanded the marriage certificate of Mrs. Kelly and Wilson. She refused it, and Wilson held her as his wife ransacked the house.

When Wilson shoved her across a bed, she grabbed a nine-shot .22 caliber pistol, went into the kitchen where she shot Wilson and then shot Mrs. Wilson in each thigh.

Wilson grabbed the pistol, and pulled the trigger twice but the gun failed to fire.

Everybody Is Interested In Local News

For the most complete coverage of news of Greenville and Pitt County, make it a habit to read The Daily Reflector. In addition to local news you'll find highlights of all State, Regional, National, and International news, plus special editorial features, business news and comics. Through the Reflector pages you will also find the latest local shopping events and national products as promoted in attractive, compelling advertisements. Call 6166 today and have The Daily Reflector delivered each evening to your home or business.

The Daily Reflector

"Pitt County's Home Newspaper"

SWAYING ALONG—Actor Charles Coburn, a top rhumba dancer at 81, adds to his Latin dance repertoire as he joins flamenco dancers during visit to Madrid, Spain.

| AMERICAN SECURITY INSURANCE COMPANY                                               |                 |          |  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------|--|
| Condition December 31, 1957, As Shown By Statement Filed:                         |                 |          |  |
| ASSETS                                                                            |                 |          |  |
| Bonds                                                                             | 7,809,798.94    |          |  |
| Stocks                                                                            | 749,037.94      |          |  |
| Cash and bank deposits                                                            | 1,711,705.55    |          |  |
| Agents' balances or uncollected premiums, net                                     | 675,682.36      |          |  |
| Funds held by or deposited with ceding reinsurers                                 | 58,036.01       |          |  |
| Interest, dividends & real estate income due & accrued                            | 80,138.29       |          |  |
| Total admitted Assets                                                             | $11,084,399.09 |          |  |
| LIABILITIES, SURPLUS AND OTHER FUNDS                                              |                 |          |  |
| Losses unpaid                                                                     | 610,664.00      |          |  |
| Loss adjustment expenses unpaid                                                   | 38,410.00       |          |  |
| Contingent commissions & other similar charges                                    | 198,224.03      |          |  |
| Other expenses (excluding taxes, licenses & fees)                                 | 5,912.64        |          |  |
| Taxes, licenses & fees (excluding Federal income taxes)                           | 185,727.84      |          |  |
| Federal income taxes                                                              | 7,955.79        |          |  |
| Interest on borrowed money                                                        | 406.95          |          |  |
| Unearned premiums                                                                 | 8,470,782.05    |          |  |
| Dividends declared and unpaid:                                                    |                 |          |  |
| Policyholders                                                                     | 103,595.11      |          |  |
| Funds held by company under reinsurance treaties                                  | 32,742.42       |          |  |
| Unearned premiums on reinsurance in unauthorized companies                        | 87,776.63       |          |  |
| Reinsurance on unpaid losses due from unauthorized companies                      | 23,679.00       |          |  |
| Total                                                                             | $11,455.63     |          |  |
| Less funds held or retained by company for account of such unauthorized companies | $101,933.61    | 9,522.02 |  |
| Total liabilities                                                                 | $ 9,663,942.85 |          |  |
| Capital paid up                                                                   | $500,000.00    |          |  |
| Unassigned funds (surplus)                                                        | 920,456.24      |          |  |
| Surplus as regards policyholders                                                  | 1,420,456.24    |          |  |
| Total                                                                             | $11,084,399.09 |          |  |

| BUSINESS IN NORTH CAROLINA DURING 1957                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                        |                 |  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------|--|
| Line of Business                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Premiums               | Losses Incurred |  |
| Auto liability (B. I.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | $ 48,631.74           | $ 14,667.60    |  |
| Auto liability (P. D.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 31,943.70              | 13,644.37       |  |
| Auto phys. damage                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1,926,494.75           | 214,010.73      |  |
| Total                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | $2,007,070.19         | $242,322.70    |  |
| President O. R. Moore                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Secretary C. V. Parham |                 |  |
| Treasurer H. L. Maddox                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                        |                 |  |
| Home Office 1221 Peachtree St. N. E., Atlanta 9, Georgia                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                        |                 |  |
| Attorney for service: Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, Raleigh, N. C.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                        |                 |  |
| NORTH CAROLINA INSURANCE DEPARTMENT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                        |                 |  |
| Raleigh, N. C., 3-20-58                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                        |                 |  |
| I, Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct abstract of the statement of the American Security Insurance Company of Atlanta, Ga., filed with this Department, showing the condition of said Company on the 31st day of December, 1957. |                        |                 |  |
| Witness my hand and official seal, the day and date above written.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                        |                 |  |
| CHARLES F. GOLD                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                        |                 |  |
| Commissioner of Insurance                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                        |                 |  |

| BUSINESS IN NORTH CAROLINA DURING 1957                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                        |                 |  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------|--|
| Line of Business                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Premiums               | Losses Incurred |  |
| Fire                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | $ 32,474.08           | $ 7,062.91     |  |
| Extended coverage                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 6,774.08               | 1,756.52        |  |
| Other allied lines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 39.00                  |                 |  |
| H. O. M. P.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 2,609.10               | 587.20          |  |
| Comm. M. P.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 1,781.02               | 433.63          |  |
| Inland marine                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 2,235.52               | 1,083.29        |  |
| C. M.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 30.57                  |                 |  |
| Workmen's compensation                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 10,546.65              | 13,069.95       |  |
| Liability other than auto (B. I.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 1,607.47               | 2,000.43        |  |
| Auto liability (B. I.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 58,498.68              | 10,202.10       |  |
| Auto liability (P. D.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 24,184.44              | 11,107.63       |  |
| Auto phys. damage                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 19,252.89              | 7,761.62        |  |
| Liability other than auto (P. D.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 623.71                 | 683.58          |  |
| Glass                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 779.45                 | 241.82          |  |
| Burglary and theft                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 833.01                 | 251.85          |  |
| Total                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | $142,297.46           | $56,241.95     |  |
| President J. E. Hanson                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Secretary R. E. Fenske |                 |  |
| Treasurer W. W. Betzman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                        |                 |  |
| Home Office 3033 Excelsior Boulevard, Minneapolis, Minnesota                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                        |                 |  |
| Attorney for service: Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, Raleigh, N. C.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                        |                 |  |
| NORTH CAROLINA INSURANCE DEPARTMENT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                        |                 |  |
| Raleigh, N. C., 3-20-58                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                        |                 |  |
| I, Chas. F. Gold, Commissioner of Insurance, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct abstract of the statement of the American Hardware Mutual Insurance Company of Minneapolis, Minn., filed with this Department, showing the condition of said Company on the 31st day of December, 1957. |                        |                 |  |
| Witness my hand and official seal, the day and date above written.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                        |                 |  |
| CHARLES F. GOLD                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                        |                 |  |
| Commissioner of Insurance                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                        |                 |  |

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Starting Months That Make Or Break A Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Today starts a new year for many businesses—this time in a much more than usual sense.
Summer may linger officially for awhile, but for industry and trade it's fall. The time is at hand to learn whether recovery is for sure and whether it's to be a lusty one or a milquetoast.
Confidence has been running high. Recovery signs are plentiful. But the wary cite a long list of "ifs" that could hold recovery back.
As the economy turns into the home stretch—the final months that could make or break the year for many merchants, that could bring release for many manufacturers after a year of doldrums—here's how its various segments stand:
Industrial production has had a summer lull as usual—but things weren't quite as dull as usual. The actual output of factories and mines fell from their levels in late spring. But the drop was milder than in most years.
In measuring this the Federal Reserve Board takes account of these seasonal ups and downs. So it adjusts its industrial index for expected changes. Therefore the milder than usual drop this summer is translated on the adjusted index as a rise for statistical purposes, even though the actual tonnage was less than in May and June.
Industrial output should go up in the fall and the index is adjusted to that expectation. If it rises as it should from now on the recovery trend will be confirmed. If it doesn't go up as much as usual, business uncertainty could return.
Unemployment remains high and troublesome. But the high level in many factories has been lengthening.
This together with higher wage scales for many and the increased amounts this year of government and corporate unemployment benefit payments has helped keep consumer incomes high. The consumer has spent fairly freely—but for different things than a year or two back. Many businessmen believe the consumer is now ready to go back to buying hard goods with installment payments.

Farm incomes are higher. Even if prices weaken a bit, crops are large and the farmer's dollar take will be high. Large sections of the nation are benefiting.
Home building has come to life again, helped earlier in the year by easier money and changes in federal mortgage regulations. Chief cloud on that horizon is doubt as to the possible effect later of the official switch to tighter credit and dearer money.
Government spending has been rising at all levels. The construction industry in particular is a benefactor.
Business confidence in better times is widespread. The National Industrial Conference Board reports today that 68 per cent of 196 industrial firms expect their new orders in the current half to top those in the first half of the year; 56 per cent look for higher sales volume; but 57 per cent plan to go on cutting inventories.
The First National City Bank of New York, in its September letter, finds the signs heartening but warns: "The continuation or acceleration of recovery beyond its early stages will hinge on renewed consumer interest in durable goods—including acceptance of new model cars—and on a tapering off, and eventual reversal, of the decline in private investment in plant and equipment."

Some New Teachers Many Injured By At Belvoir-Falkland Fireworks Bomb

By BARBARA PARKER
Belvoir-Falkland Reporter

The halls of BFHS were filled Wednesday morning, August 27th, as another school term began. The majority of the students had enjoyed a pleasant summer filled with happy events as well as work and were anxious to come back to the classroom. Everyone exchanged friendly greetings.
We have several new members on our faculty this year.
In high school, one newcomer is Mrs. Mary Clifton Featherstone. Mrs. Featherstone received her Bachelor of Science degree from Mississippi State College and has previously taught at Camden, N.C. Her major is science and she is 9B's homeroom teacher.
Another newcomer is Lewis Lawrence with whom most of us are already familiar. His home is in Falkland, he has been the Boy Scout Master for the past three years, and has devoted his Saturday nights this past summer to chaperone dances at the Falkland Community Building. Mr. Lawrence received his A.B. Degree at the University of North Carolina and is now working on his master's degree at East Carolina College.
Our other high school teachers are Mrs. Dorothy Hardy whose major is Business; Mrs. Virginia Lang whose major is Social Studies; Mrs. Hazel Tripp of the Economics Department; Eugene James of the Agriculture Department and J. T. Cobb whose major is Mathematics.
In the elementary grades we have two new teachers. Mrs. Eula Nelson Forrest is teaching the fourth grade. She has done substitute teaching at Falkland and Belvoir in previous years.

Mrs. Patsy S. James who received her B. S. Degree from E. C. C. in 1951 and her master's degree in 1955 is teacher of the fifth grade.
We are happy to have these new members on our faculty.
On the first day of school, assembly was held in the auditorium, at which James Joyner, president of our Student Council, gave a welcoming speech. The devotional address was given by the Reverend Homer Stynes of Mount Pleasant Christian Church. He stressed the fact that we should always set good examples in our conversation, in our actions, and in all that we do.
Principal Ed Warren also gave a welcoming speech and informed the student body of some of the new school regulations.
During this past summer many improvements have been made in our school. Tile has been laid in the halls which gives it a more spacious appearance as well as greatly reducing noise. The teachers' lounge has been completely remodeled. The walls have been painted a soft shade of pink and the new furniture consists of a green sofa and chair, a yellow chair, a mahogany desk and chair, plus accessories of a lamp with a gold base and green shade, an ash tray stand and an arrangement of artificial flowers.
Still more improvements were made including the varnishing of all classroom floors, installing new water fountains and a clear bell system. All the students were especially pleased with the new tables and chairs in our library and the shelter from the main building to the gym.

DETROIT (AP) — Eleven children and 16 adults were injured last night when a defective aerial bomb exploded at a fireworks display in suburban River Rouge.
The bomb exploded near the top of a crowded grandstand. It was designed to explode in the air twice but instead went off only once and then plunged into the grandstand where it blew up again. An estimated 8,000 persons were watching the show.
All but two of those injured were given first aid and released. Hospitalized with burns and lacerations of the face, arms and legs were Mrs. Lillian Keith, 33, and Dorothy Beckner, 19, both of suburban Lincoln Park.
Officials of the 10th annual Rouge Days held at the Great Lakes Athletic Field were unable to explain what caused the bomb to malfunction. One witness said it went off with "a sound like a big stick of dynamite."
Police said the bomb apparently struck Mrs. Keith's purse and then went off. It peppered her and those around her with exploding particles.
REFUSES RAISE
TORRINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Raymond Over, registrar of voters, was so disturbed over the new budget before the city council that he refused to accept a proposed salary increase. He said the raise was "one of the most irresponsible governmental acts I had ever seen."
In New South Wales, Australia, Ronald Toomer used his landlady for permitting a gas-leak which "killed two of his orchids and so affected his pet parakeet that it refused to talk for some months."

Help In His Hand, Dies Of Hunger

DALLAS (AP) — Elmer Herod, 50, went to the Salvation Army's downtown headquarters Thursday night and was issued a card entitling him to two meals and a night's lodging.
He was told to go to the organization's shelter in the south part of the city, a Salvation Army spokesman said.
But yesterday he was found unconscious in high weeds near the downtown section. He died less than an hour later of hunger and exposure, officials said.
Police said Herod apparently started walking, but collapsed of hunger in the high weeds.

Chimp On Loose Was Too Strong

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Rita, a 150-pound chimpanzee, broke out of her cage at a zoo crowded with Labor Day visitors—and knocked the stuffings out of her owner.
"When I saw her I chased her," said Les Lindvig, 42, operator of the small zoo. "With all those people there, something had to be done."
But the 5-year-old chimp was too much for Lindvig.
"I was like putty in her hands," he said. "She dragged me all over the ground."
Lindvig grabbed a pop bottle and slugged her across the face. It broke. He grabbed another, and then Rita cowered. He forced her back into the cage. Sheriff's deputies had to shoot the animal, valued by Lindvig at about $800.
"I'm no hero," said Lindvig. "I'm still scared."

Fortunately, Advice Isn't Part Of His Department

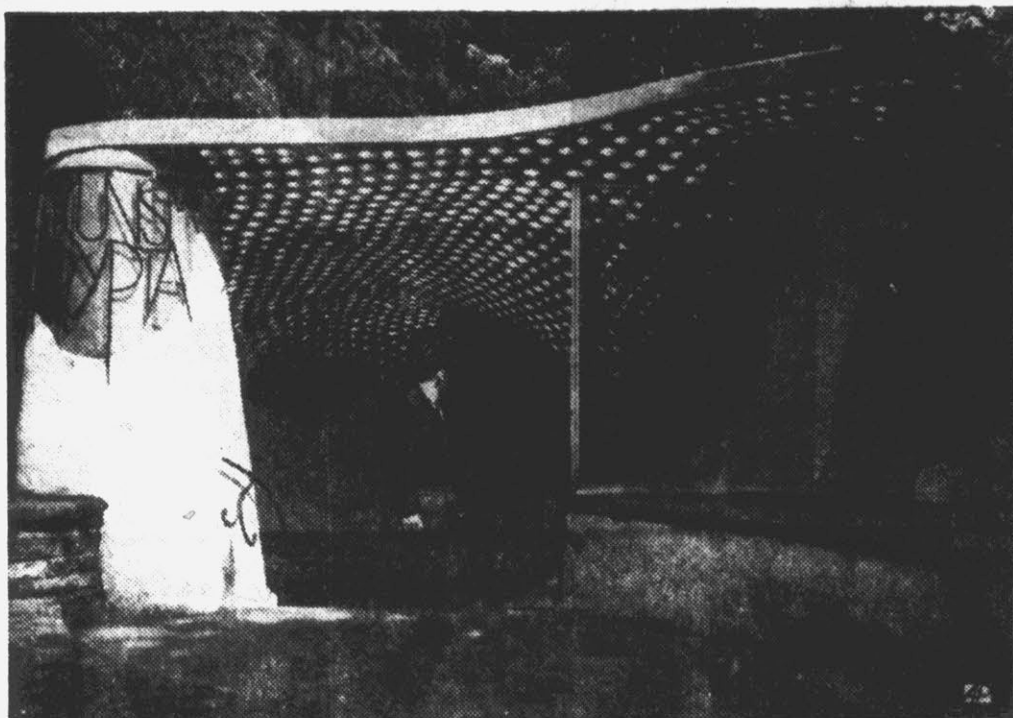

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Fortunately this department does not specialize in advice to readers—or we'd have been out of business long ago.
Last week we dropped the fat in the fire by suggesting to an eight-year-old girl who wanted to look at westerns instead of the ball games that she ask her father to buy another TV set. Good-humored letters from parents say this positively was not sage advice.
The best letter comes from a friend of many years, Alfred W. Klabor of San Mateo, Calif., who writes:
"My wife and I are sure you are anything but subservient in your intent, and yet I cannot read your advice to that little girl, as published in the San Mateo Times, without calling to your attention a possible serious by-product from the publication of such a thought as yours.
"About the time that our two children were aged six and nine we became conscious of various shrill rumblings. No, it wasn't the ball game versus the western; it would be "Fireman Frank" versus "The Big Top." Heads didn't roll, but they got smashed.
"After a rugged day at the office, it wasn't easy to come home and be called on to arbitrate a question of whether one western was the equivalent of two cartoon shows. Solomon in all his wisdom had an easier time with his multitude of wives.
"Finally giving in to what appeared to be inevitable, we jumped from the frying pan into the fire by purchasing a second TV set. We made one mistake. The second set had a smaller screen than the first.
"Now what do we have? Double service calls, conflicting loud-speakers, and more particularly the argument over who gets to watch the big set versus the little. It seems that Channel 7 comes in better on the large set and Channel 5 better on the small. The net result is that we're on the treadmill: Twice the aggravation, twice the expense—and the argument still persists.
"Besides, how do I get to look at the ball game? I don't think you thought through your answer. May I respectfully suggest that before you write on a subject as controversial as this again, you do a little field research among the experienced in such matters.
"For myself, I now spend the evening playing the organ in order to drown out both sets at once, while my wife, in self defense, has joined the local knitting society."

Announce End Of 'Sitdown' Drive

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The adviser of an NAACP-sponsored youth council has announced Negro youths have called off their "sitdown" campaign for food service in a downtown luncheonette.
Mrs. Clara Luper said representatives of the group would not return to the John A. Brown Department Store, where they have been seeking integrated food service since Aug. 19.
She said the Negro youths must return to school today and added that several civic, church and interracial groups have offered to help negotiate a settlement in the dispute.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

FROM WAR TO PEACE — This former entry to World War II bomb shelter has been converted to an eyecatcher in Bremen, Germany. A paint job and 1,200 pieces of glass have made the entry an attractive approach to an art shop in subterranean shelter.

MEMORANDUM

STATE BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

TO: The faculty and students at ECC
FROM: J. T. Marston, Jr.
SUBJECT: Welcome to Greenville

The regular school year is opening and we are happy to welcome back to Greenville many old friends; and to greet the newcomers with whom we hope to become friends.

Bankers often talk in figures—with a dollar mark in front—and it would be easy to tell you how much East Carolina College means to our town, county, and state. Some day we may work up an estimate of ECC's tangible and intangible values to this community. But right now we are concerned with you as people rather than assets.

What makes Greenville such a great place in which to live, to work, and to raise one's family? There are many things but at the top of the list we place you—the men and women, the boys and girls of East Carolina College.

J. T. Marston, Jr., President

CARSTAIRS

White Seal

$2.25 PINT
$3.55

CARSTAIRS DISTILLING CO., BALTIMORE, MD., LOUISVILLE, KY. BLENDED WHISKEY, 86 PROOF, 72% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

THE LAND IS BRIGHT

BY JIM KJELGAARD

Copyright © 1958 by Jim Kjeldgaard. Reprinted by permission of the publisher, Dodd, Mead & Co., Inc. Distributed by S. S.

CHAPTER XI

Captain Colin Campbell passed the word to hold fire and shouted to the unseen man with the dirty white flag. "Come in with your hands up! You'll be shot if you're carrying arms!"

They came up the hill, two pale, fearful Union soldiers whose hands and arms jerked spasmodically even as they advanced. When they were near enough for Colin to see their eyes clearly, he knew that these men had not merely thought they had seen demons. They had seen demons.

Colin said sympathetically, "You're all right now." "Omigod!" one prisoner breathed. "They come last night!" the other gasped. "They were six of us. Afore we knewed it, four was dead!"

There was no fighting on that hill, though on others Colin saw old men and young boys fall around him as the tide of blue swept inexorably onward. But some unknown terror had entered this particular sector. Periodically, terrified prisoners, always with a tale of comrades who had died before anyone even suspected there was an enemy about, surrendered. Colin did not understand it until he heard Colonel Andrews question a soldier captured in the fighting. This Yankee breathed defiance through his nostrils. He carried a captured Confederate rifle which he had used as a club when his ammunition had been exhausted and he had been surrounded. He seemed unafraid.

"What is your home state?" Colonel Andrews asked.

"Find out, Sechesh!" the prisoner jeered.

"To what company are you attached?"

"Go climb a tree!"

"You'll fare better if you cooperate," Colin told him.

"I ain't goin' to go no ahead and lose me into your tinkin' prison. I won't be there long. You Rebs are 'bout done. Even them two hellions you got behind our lines can't last much longer!"

His tone changed to grudging admiration. "I kind of like them two anyway they got sand! But they'll be shot when we ketch 'em again jest like we shot their pal, that third feller who was with 'em."

Colin was suddenly alert. "What was he like, this third man?" He asked tensely. "Did you hear his name?"

"You'll get nothing from me," the prisoner taunted.

Colin leaped toward the Yankee, his hands clenched, his eyes blazing. "That was one of my men," he said furiously. "Tell me what you know or I'll choke the daylight out of you. If he's dead, what harm can it do to tell?"

The Yankee knew a madman when he saw one. "Yeah, no harm done, I reckon. He's dead all right. Saw him lined up and kilt with m'own eyes. He was a tall lean feller. 'Bout thirty-two or thirty-three, I'd say."

It was Ling, Colin knew beyond a doubt. Tracey Hamlin was ten years younger; Watt Sackett was short and square. Restraining him impulse to run somewhere, anywhere where he could be alone to weep for his lost friend, Colin said in a low, quiet voice. "He was a particular friend of mine from home. I know his wife and two boys. He had no business raiding behind your lines. He knew he would be shot if he got caught and I warned him not to go. So I don't hold against you any part you had in his death. You were doing your job and doing it proper. But if you'll tell me how he was captured I would like to be able to tell his family. It would mean a lot to them."

The prisoner looked into Colin's face and saw not an enemy officer but an unhappy fellow creature. "These three fellers came round our camp one night and fore we knowed what was happenin' they made off with some hosses. We found out quick enough and took some other hosses and chased 'em. The tall feller — the one that's dead now — he'd broke his ankle and they'd stopped to help him. That slowed 'em down and we caught 'em and brought 'em back to the prisoner's compound. The other two escaped a couple of days later but the third feller couldn't make it 'count his ankle. He was shot the next day."

"Is that all?" Colin asked bitterly.

"No," the prisoner said. "His pals came back for him day after he was shot. Kilt our guards and let out the whole mess of prisoners. An' they been raisin' Cain ever since they learnt their friend was dead. Still is, unless they got caught again."

"Thanks, soldier, thanks for tellin' me," Colin managed to say. He turned and left the tent.

Somehow he found his own tent and the pallet that served as his bed. He flung himself down on it and lay there without moving or uttering a sound. He did not know later how long he lay there. His mind was numb — it could repeat endlessly the words. "He's dead, he's dead, he's dead" but it could not accept the words as true.

Finally Colin struggled into a sitting position. His mind was a little clearer now and he knew what he must do. He must get a letter to Ann through a transport that had been arranged for tomorrow.

He rifled through his knapsack and found two pieces of smudged and crumpled paper and a stubby pencil.

"Dear Ann," he began. "Ling had been killed—" He buried his head in his hands. What else should he say? "His death was quick and merciful." This was true. "He died fighting." This was true only if you stretched the truth, but the whole truth might be too strong for Ann as yet.

"He will be missed and loved by those who knew him." This was certainly true. "I think you know how much my thoughts are with you. The war cannot last much longer. God willing, I will be home soon. Colin."

Beneath a clouded night sky, Colin sat on a boulder and waited for the dawn, which could bring nothing except a tidal wave of Yankees to drown him and every one of his men. But he had waited a dozen other times for what reason told him was certain death and he was still alive. He had no doubt, however, about one thing; this was the end of the war.

There had been no formal cessation of hostilities and Lee still fought savagely for the best terms he could get. This was the end that had been foreordained when this senseless struggle began. Atlanta, Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington had fallen before Sherman's advance, and despite Lee's brilliance, Richmond could not last long. The fall of Richmond would bring the fall of the Confederacy.

General Drummond, in command of Colonel Andrews' regiment, had been given an unusual assignment. Certain papers, possibly revealing the Confederacy's major weaknesses and potentially damaging to Lee's bargaining power with the North, had been smuggled out of Richmond to Drummond. Drummond's orders were to leave enough men to delay the enemy twenty-four hours while he and the rest of his army fled west with the papers.

Colonel Andrews himself had explained the situation to Colin. He had held nothing back. He did not know the nature of the documents Drummond carried, but whatever they were, they must not fall into enemy hands. Andrews and Colin had picked the seasoned men from Andrews' regiment who would remain to delay the enemy. They had automatically eliminated everyone under nineteen and everyone over forty-five. From the remainder they had selected thirty-seven veterans, the cream of Andrews' regiment. With Jason Maxwell as First Sergeant and Colin in command, there were thirty-nine, but this particular emplacement had unexpectedly gained another recruit.

After seeing the retreating troops on their way west Andrews had turned his command over to Major Dorsey and returned to help stop the Yankees. Like his friend, Colin, he awaited calmly whatever the morning might bring.

"All along the line, men had ceased whatever they were doing to face the direction from which the enemy they could neither see nor hear, but only sense, was approaching," the story continues tomorrow.

Lovesick Boy Is Held As A Slayer

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — A 17-year-old lovesick youth, known to his neighbors as a perfect gentleman, is held as the gun slayer of a girl chum, 16.

"If I couldn't have her, no one else would either," that sobbed-out explanation today to John Hixon, June high school graduate, in the Labor Day weekend lover's lane shooting of pretty, brown-haired Carilyn Waldron.

Carilyn, high school senior and one of four children of a factory worker, was found dead yesterday morning in a scenic spot of the Waterloo State Recreation Area near here.

On a hill stands a large cross. This is the scene for Easter Sunday services.

Carilyn had been shot twice with a rifle, once in the head and also in the back.

A motorist found the body a few feet off a road.

Detroit police, who picked up Hixon later in the day, said he told of a spat with Carilyn and her rejection of him.

Homicide Detective Charles Schlachter quoted Hixon as admitting the shooting. He had given her a ring and she had returned it, he said.

He and Carilyn had a date Sunday night. They drove in Hixon's cream and blue car to the park area.

Detective Sgt. Marvin Krans of the state police said the youth told of Carilyn's wish to break off their relationship.

Krans said Hixon admitted turning his rifle on Carilyn as she left the car to walk along a woods trail and firing at her after remarking, "Okay, if that's the way you want it."

Police said Hixon fled in his car, driving the 70 miles east to Detroit, where he spent the rest of the night in an all-night movie house. He was arrested when he went to his parked car in the downtown district. Police had found the car earlier.

Not Only Stolen, But Sold, Too

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Furniture dealer Hayden Stuart of LaGrange overheard a stranger offer to sell kitchen appliances.

The stranger took him to 209 East Spruce St., and they settled on a price for a stove and refrigerator.

After Stuart's truck picked them up, police received this telephone from Wayne Davenport: "I live at 209 East Spruce St. I just got home and somebody has been here and stolen my stove and refrigerator."

CALL US! Dial 3163

Pitt Hardware Co.

718 Dickinson Ave.

Television Log

WNCT Ch. 9

TUESDAY

5:00—Our Miss Brooks
5:30—Ramar of the Jungle
6:00—Popeye
6:30—Your Esso Reporter
6:45—Weatherman
7:00—Sports Focus, ABC
7:15—Farmville Facts
7:30—Name That Tune, CBS
8:00—Mr. Adams & Eve, CBS
8:30—Wyatt Earp, ABC
9:00—Sea Hunt
9:30—Charlie Chan
10:00—Bid 'N Buy, CBS
10:30—Trackdown, CBS
11:00—Weatherman
11:05—News Final
11:10—Sports Nitecap
11:15—Bright Leaf Theatre

WEDNESDAY

6:00—RFD Nine
6:55—Weatherman
7:00—RFD Nine
7:15—Riders of Purple Sage
7:30—Morning Meditations
7:40—Bulletin Board
7:45—Morning News
7:55—Weatherman

8:00—Popeye
8:30—Romper Room
9:30—Susie
10:00—For Love Or Money, CBS
10:30—Play Your Hunch, CBS
11:00—Godfrey Time, CBS
11:30—Top Dollar, CBS
12:00—Farm News
12:10—Weatherman
12:15—Debnam Views the News
12:30—Search For Tomorrow, CBS
12:45—Guiding Light, CBS
1:00—Love of Life, CBS
1:30—As The World Turns, CBS
2:00—Beat the Clock, CBS
2:30—Linkletter's Party, CBS
3:00—Big Payoff, CBS
3:30—The Verdict Is Yours, CBS
4:00—Brighter Day, CBS
4:15—Secret Storm, CBS
4:30—Edge of Night, CBS
5:00—Our Miss Brooks
5:30—Little Rascals
6:00—Popeye
6:30—Your Esso Reporter
6:40—Weatherman
6:45—Doug Edwards, CBS
7:00—Sports Focus, ABC
7:15—Trio Time
7:30—Grey Ghost
8:00—Goodyear Playhouse
8:30—Johnson's Theatre, CBS

9:00—The Millionaire, CBS
9:30—I've Got A Secret, CBS
10:00—Crunch & Des
10:30—Whirlbirds
11:00—Weatherman
11:05—News Final
11:10—Sports Nitecap
11:15—Bright Leaf Theatre

WITN Ch. 7

TUESDAY

5:00—Gene Autry
6:30—Channel 7 Reporter
6:40—Weatherwise
6:45—NBC News, NBC
7:00—Boss Landy
7:30—Highway Patrol
8:00—The Investigator, NBC
9:00—Datto, NBC
9:30—Bob Cummings Show, NBC
10:00—The Californians, NBC
10:30—Wrestling
11:00—News, Sports, Weather
11:15—Jack Paar Show, NBC

WEDNESDAY

7:00—Today, NBC
9:00—TBA
9:30—Public Service Program
9:45—Morning Devotions
10:00—Doug Re Ml, NBC
10:30—Treasure Hunt, NBC
11:00—Price Is Right, NBC
11:30—Concentration, NBC
12:00—Tic Tac Dough, NBC
12:30—It Could Be You, NBC

1:00—Farm Front
1:15—Weatherwise
1:20—Channel 7 Reporter
1:30—Hospitality House
2:00—Truth or Consequence, NBC
2:30—Haggis Baggis, NBC
3:00—Today Is Ours, NBC
3:30—From These Roots, NBC
4:00—Queen For A Day, NBC
4:45—Modern Romances, NBC
5:00—Gene Autry
6:30—Channel 7 Reporter
6:40—Weatherwise
6:45—NBC News, NBC
7:00—Boss Landy
7:30—Highway Patrol
8:00—The Investigator, NBC
9:00—Datto, NBC
9:30—Bob Cummings Show, NBC
10:00—The Californians, NBC
10:30—Wrestling
11:00—News, Sports, Weather
11:15—Jack Paar Show, NBC

ENJOY VISITS

HASTINGS, Mich. (AP)—Hastings children don't mind going to Pete Bachelder's barbershop. Among the pets Bachelder has for them to play with are a fox, a deodorized skunk, three horned owls, a flying squirrel and a hamster.

Polish composer Frederic Chopin wrote almost exclusively for the piano.

San Francisco's Police Chief Dies At Baseball Game

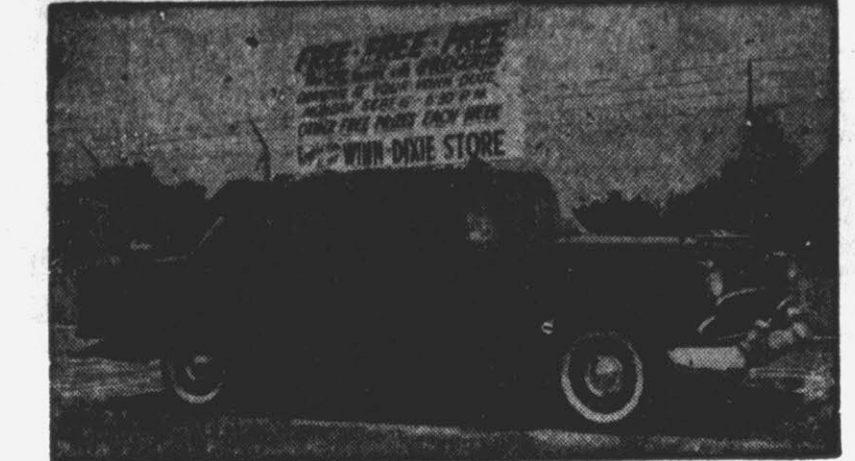

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frank Ahern, 58, square-jawed police chief credited with cleaning up San Francisco, collapsed and died in the 16th inning of a San Francisco Giants baseball game yesterday.

He lived long enough to be given absolution by two Catholic priests in the home plate box he occupied with his wife.

The score had been tied at 4-4 since the ninth inning and the Giants had filled the bases in both the 14th and 15th innings without scoring on the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Giants won 6-5 in the 16th, too late for the chief to know.

Ahern became police chief two years ago by appointment of Mayor George Christopher, long an admirer of his cleanup work. He spent 29 years on the force but died with the civil service rank of patrolman because "I never could find time to study for promotional examinations."

FREE!

$1250.00 IN OTHER PRIZES

— 3rd SERIES —

- 1 - GIRLS BICYCLE
- 5 - GE AUTO TOASTERS
- 8 - TURKEYS (12 lb. average)
- 3 - CIRCLE WOOD TELECHRON ELEC CLOCKS
- 1 - BOYS BICYCLE
- 2 - GE PORT MIXERS

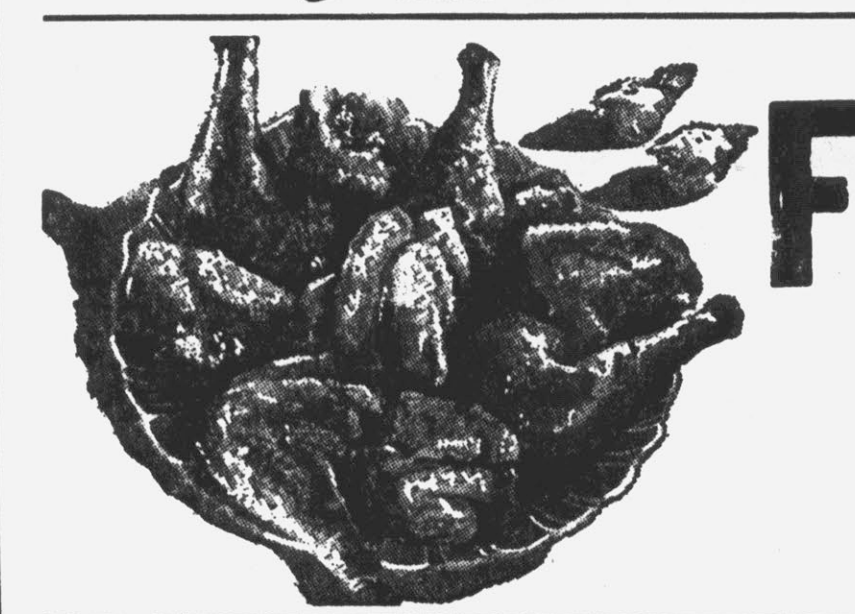

DRAWING MON., SEPT 8, 6:30 P.M.

FANCY TENDER YELLOW

CORN 6 EARS 29¢

WINN-DIXIE TASTY-TENDER U.S. GOV'T. INSPECTED

FRANKS 12-OZ. PKG. 39¢

Carolina's Finest, Fresh Dressed Grade "A"

FRYER LEGS

POUND 49¢

FRUIT COCKTAIL

Happy Vale No. 2 1/2 Can 29¢
SAVE 10c With Food Order

QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED — NONE SOLD TO DEALERS
PRICES GOOD THRU WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3
In Greenville Winn-Dixie Store Only
10th and CLARK STREETS

"I'll take over, Dad!"

Sure he will, if he gets a chance, and has the opportunity to grow up comfortably and obtain a college education. You can help guarantee that by planning ahead with Durham Life insurance.

The 10-M SPECIAL POLICY will provide for a cash sum to help pay those last expenses and also provide an income for living expenses for your family.

Give your children a head start in life by providing for their protection with life insurance.

Consult any Durham Life agent for details.

Durham Life Insurance Company
HOME OFFICE
Raleigh, North Carolina
GREENVILLE STAFF OFFICE
300 State Bank Building W. C. "Bill" Smith, Staff Mgr.

Phone
6166

READ AND USE

WANT ADS

FOR FAST RESULTS

Phone
6166

Killer Whale Has The Right Of Way

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—A 40-foot killer whale suddenly popped up at Zuma Beach yesterday.

Thousands of swimmers were ordered out of the water as the whale cruised along just beyond the breakers.

"There were no dissenters," observed a lifeguard captain. "There was a regular stampede to get out."

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE
NORTH CAROLINA
MARTIN COUNTY
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator of the estate of Z. V. Whitehurst, deceased, of Pitt County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 12th day of August, 1958, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment to the undersigned.

VANCE WHITEHURST
Administrator
Rt. 2, Robersonville, N. C.
Ned P. Everett, Atty.
Robersonville, N. C.
Aug. 12-19-26 Sept. 2-9-16

NOTICE OF SALE OF TIMBER
Under and by virtue of the power and authority upon him conferred by an Order made and entered under date of August 26, 1958, by Honorable H. L. Lewis, Jr.,

Asst. Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, in that certain Special Proceeding now pending in the Superior Court of said County entitled "Paul R. Waters, Administrator, c.t.a. of the Estate of J. A. Lee, deceased, and Dorothy Honeycutt, individually, ex parte," the undersigned will offer for sale and will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash on the 26 day of September, 1958, at 12:00 o'clock, noon at the Courthouse door of Pitt County in Greenville, North Carolina, all of the merchantable timber of the size of twelve inches across the stump or larger at twelve inches above the general level of the ground standing or growing upon all that certain tract or parcel of land in North Carolina, Pitt County, described as follows:

All that certain tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Pactolus Township adjoining the lands of J. J. and B. B. Satterthwaite, J. P. Davenport, Mrs. Cammie P. Moore, Mrs. Fernando Satterthwaite, J. Archie Lee, William Little, Mary Langley and others and beginning at a point on the Greenville-Washington Road adjacent to the J. J. and B. B. Satterthwaite lands, and running thence South 28 deg. 30' East 231 feet; thence South 18 deg. 30' East 198 feet to a gum, thence South 13 deg. 30' West 2475 feet to a gum stump; thence with the various courses of a branch in a Southerly direction to the high water mark of Grindle Creek; thence with the high water mark of Grindle Creek to the run of Wolf Pit Branch; thence with the run of Wolf Pit Branch in a Northeasterly direction to a stake; thence North 17 deg. 20' East across the right of way of the Atlantic Coastline Railroad 1177 feet to a poplar; thence North 59 deg. 15' West 312 feet to an iron stake; thence North 6 deg. 08' East 4000 feet to an iron marker; thence South 65 deg. 30' West 1495 feet to a pipe; thence North 5 deg. 30' East 203 feet to the Greenville-Washington Road; thence North 7 deg. 30' East 2799 feet to a stake; thence North 83 deg. 20' West 1558 feet to a pine stump; thence South 25 deg. 20' West 181 feet to an iron stake; thence North 83 deg. 20' West 1333 feet to a stake; thence South 30 deg. 50' West 2532 feet to the beginning, containing 808.5 acres, more or less, and being that tract of land conveyed to R. B. Lee, Trustee by J. A. Lee and wife, Leslie L. Lee, by deed dated September 13, 1954, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County.

HELP WANTED—MALE and FEMALE

TEACHERS WANTED IMMEDIATELY: White teacher for Junior High English and speech. Colored guidance teacher. Bachelor's degree up to forty-two hundred. Master's up to forty-five hundred. Write or wire Superintendent of Schools, Brunswick, Georgia.

PICK UP YOUR PHONE AND dial 6166 and ask for want ads. Your ad will work for you all day long.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

TWO WAITRESSES, HEATH'S Restaurant. Dial 6236.

COMPANION FOR ELDERLY lady in four room home. Dial 5386.

MAIDS — RELIABLE AND Honest Agency. Jobs waiting in New York and Long Island. Salaries $300. Free board and board tickets sent. Write today A-1 Agency, 100 Main St., Hempstead, N.Y.

EXPERIENCED SECRETARY. Typing, mimeographing and general office work. Call 3669.

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED TWO CARPENTERS for inside and outside work. Call 4717, James H. Ward, general contractor.

AUTOS FOR SALE

1934 CHEVROLET BELAIR-LIKE new. Two door, radio and heater. Phone 537 or 7005. N.C. Dealer License 3469.

THROUGH THE COLUMNS OF classified advertisement you get the best results. Dial 6166.

1950 BUICK 4 DOOR, RADIO AND heater, straight drive. 1951 Ford with radio and heater and overdrive. Also Warner electric stamp making outfit—complete, 10 and 12 point type. Phone 4591.

1957 DODGE CORNET. Two tone, 4 door and automatic transmission. $1,300. No trade. Phone 4785.

MONEY TO LOAN

FOR QUICK CONFIDENTIAL loans from $25-$200 on your household furniture and kitchen appliances and autos, contact Security Loan Corp., supervised by N. C. State Banking Commission, 515 Dickinson Ave., Greenville, N. C. Phone 3668.

FOR RENT

TWO ROOM OFFICE WITH PRIVATE bath, tiled floor, heating and air conditioning. Located at the Pollard Building, corner of Third & Cotanche Sts. Phone 4261. May 3-14

TWO APARTMENTS — 1-ONE bedroom apartment and 1 two bedroom apartment. Phone M.E. Sutton, Dial 6122.

UPSTAIRS APARTMENT COR- ner East 4th and Meade Streets. Living room, two bedrooms, kitchenette and steam heat. Private entrance. Phone 4339.

HOUSES, APARTMENTS, ROOMS and business property for rent. Contact Grier Rental Agency, Office located in Room 23, Rivers Building, 209 Evans Street, which is upstairs over Chamber of Commerce. Telephone 5700. Closed on Wednesday afternoons.

COMFORTABLE BEDROOMS for 4 college boys. 1003 Overlook Drive. Phone 5507.

NEW GARAGE APARTMENT which consists of two bedrooms, living room, large kitchen, tile bath with shower and garage. Located 2701 Sunset Ave. Call 4495 or 2020.

FOUR ROOM UNFURNISHED upstairs apartment. Newly decorated. Private bath and private entrance. Call J.T. Williams 5678-5822.

ONE 4 ROOM APARTMENT FUR- nished, and one 4 room duplex apartment unfurnished. Close up town. Dial 2724-day, night 3031.

FOUR BEDROOM HOUSE OR suitable for duplex. Mrs. E. E. Rawl, dial 3077.

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS. WILL rent one or both with use of living room and with or without kitchen privileges. 107 Raleigh Ave. Dial 3311 day, 5092 after 6 p.m.

TWO BEDROOMS WITH TWIN beds for college boys. Come by 106 Ridgeway Street after 7 p.m.

FOR RENT: OFFICES WORSLEY Building. Air conditioning, hot and cold water and lights furnished. Special reduced prices. Parking space available for offices or rented separately. James R. Worsley.

ROOM FOR RENT. 1203 E. 2nd Street. Business woman or graduate student preferred. Telephone 4027 after 6 p.m.

MOVE IN TOMORROW: SIX room duplex apartment, built in garage, floor furnace, piped for automatic washer. One block from Third Street School. Mrs. J.C. Youngblood, 4293 or 5443.

REAL ESTATE

NICE HOMES — SMALL OR large, city or suburban; also some farms. Cash or terms. We buy or sell. If it's real estate see J. Hicks Corey Agency, Dial 2615, Greenville, N.C. Tue. & Friday-11

REAL ESTATE

PROGRESSIVE SMALL TOWN Six room house for immediate possession. Low down payment, excellent interest rate. Fully furnished backyard.

Beautiful brick six room home, large lot, in choice residential area. Storm windows and doors recently installed. Priced to sell.

One of the nicest homes in Ayden, this brick duplex can provide you with the finest home imaginable and still afford investment income. Owner leaving town.

Need lots of room? This 10 room completely remodeled home could provide all the living area you require. Attractively financed.

Several choice building lots.

All properties shown by appointment only. See or call Robert Booth or Bill Stroud, Ayden, N. C. Day phone 310-1 or 269-1; night 335-6 or 537-6.

FOR SALE BY OWNER: SIX room home located at 114 N. Eastern St. Low down payment. Dial 4105.

FOR QUICK RESULTS—BUY- ing, selling, renting, borrowing—call 6166 and place an ad in the Daily Reflector Classified Section.

FOUR BEDROOMS, TWO BATHS Two blocks from the College $15,000.

TURNAGE & WALLACE, Realtors 5113 Phones 2715

FOR SALE: HOUSES IN CAR- lina Heights, three bedrooms, tile bath, hot air heat, carpet and drive, panel kitchen, brick veneer. Ready for occupancy. Call Ayden 5861-night 5416.

FOR SALE: TWO BEDROOM house, 1009 Ward St. Priced for quick sale. See Jimmie Brewer or call 4433 and 6186.

FOR SALE BY BUILDER: Beautiful new three bedroom brick home. East Wright Road. Call 6123; night 3603.

FOR SALE — SMALL (2 BED- room) home, near college. Reasonable sum down, payments cheaper than rent. Deal with owner. Phone 5436.

SPECIAL NOTICES

GASKINS BARBER SHOP, 1308 Dickinson Ave., is now better prepared to serve you with added help. Mr. Warren Bailey, and a new device to remove all hair as it is cut.

FOR YOUR HOME REPAIRS Edwards Hardware is the place to shop—roof coating, copper tubing, electrical supplies, plumbing supplies. Also Edwards Hardware has tools for rent. Shop and Save.

ATTEND THE ANNUAL 4-H CLUB Poultry Auction Sale, Thursday, 10 a.m.—Court House lawn. Only 12 crates of 12 birds each. Fine Pedigree Pimento red laying pullets.

TO TAKE OFF EXTRA POUNDS and keep a slim figure, Stauffer Reducing Plan is the answer. Mrs. W.J. Stiel, local representative. Phone 3342. Rent or buy.

GASKINS BARBER SHOP, 1308 Dickinson Ave., is now better prepared to serve you with added help. Mr. Warren Bailey and a new device to remove all hair as it is cut.

IMPROVE YOURSELF AT night! Baker Business College. Fall term night classes Sept. 9 offered in addition to regular studies English—Spelling comb., commercial law and filing. Investigate Greenville, N. C. Phone 4103.

BAKER BUSINESS COLLEGE, Greenville, N. C.—Your personal advancement, secretarial and accounting courses. Day school, fall term Sept. 8. Let us show you what we offer. Telephone 4103.

EXPERT SERVICE

GUN, LOCK, SAFE, OUTBOARD MOTOR REPAIRS TOMMY'S REPAIR SERVICE 1112 COTANCHE ST. DIAL 3524-2969.

ROBBERY REPORTED—YOU'RE robbing your car of the service it needs. Bring it to Rick's Service Center, corner 9th and Evans St. We repair power lawn mowers.

PROPER LUBRICATION MEANS safer driving. Drive in today and let us check your oil and give your car a thorough check up. Carr Allen's Texaco Station, next door to the post office.

FOUNTAIN PENS, CIGARETTE lighters repaired. Three day repair service guaranteed on all standard makes. Authorized factory parts. Lautares Bros., 414 Evans St., Greenville, N.C.

NO SWEAT, NO HAULING. WE will keep your a fresh supply of feed made right there in your farm. Ayden Mobile Milling, Ayden 5911 or Greenville 6270.

COMPLETE INSURANCE SER- vice. Protection of all kinds including life, accident, hospitalization, fire, theft, auto, cargo, liability etc. Burney Moyer Ins. Agency. Phone 4794, Greenville, N.C. Aug 6 One month

FOR SALE

EVERYTHING YOU'LL EVER need can be found through want ads. Use them. Dial 6166.

FOR SALE: THREE BEAUTIFUL thoroughbred Dachshund puppies. Two months old. One brown male, two brown females. Call 3134.

I AM EXPANDING FOR THE convenience of my customers. Come in and see the bargains in new and used furniture. Ken's Furniture Shop, phone 5693.

SPINET PIANO. REID'S EX- clusive trial rental plan. All rental payments during the five month trial period are credited to a new piano reserve account in your name. Should you decide to buy, you may then select the new piano of your choice. Call or write W.C. REID & CO., Rocky Mount, Phone 6101.

ONE USED 30 INCH ELECTRIC range in excellent condition, with clock, timer, full width oven, broiler and full width storage compartment. Only $100. Pitt Hardware Co., 718 Dickinson Avenue, Phone 3163.

Assembling:
THE AMAZING NEW COMBI- nation Awning and Storm Window IS HERE.

As an awning it shades and makes your room up to 15 degrees cooler.

As a storm window you save approximately one-third fuel.

You get both—plus year 'round comfort—for the price of one.

No money down, 36 months to pay. Demonstration free.

C. L. LUFTON CO.
"Your Comfort Is Our Business" Greenville, Mar. 24-12

WE BUY, SELL AND TRADE new and used furniture and appliances. We repair divisions, Garris Supply, phone 5225.

TWO YEAR OLD BEAUTIFUL collie dog. Very friendly and gentle—excellent pet for children. In good health. If interested dial 3376.

LAWN MOWERS—1958 MODELS 22" cut. Cast aluminum base, 2 1/2 hp Clinton engine serviced. Ready to go. Oil in crankcase. Gas in tank. Parts and service when needed. Price less than wholesale, $69.95. Hendrix-Barnhill Co. Phone 4122.

HOME HEATING Complete heating and air conditioning systems. We make complete installations in new or existing homes. Low monthly terms with no down payment necessary. GENERAL HEATING & AIR CONDITIONING CO. Phone 2661. Feb. 1-12

Cliff's Oyster Bar
Open Thursday, Sept. 4 4:30 p.m. serving
Steam-tried-stewed oysters, shrimp, hamburger steaks, ham steaks, T-bone steaks and sandwiches. All orders to go. Located Washington Bl. 264. 30-124

Open Each Evening
BEL' AIR CLUB
Hooker Road, Greenville
Grill and Dance Area
Couples of All Ages Welcome
Aug. 23-1 mo.

East Carolina Roofing Company
Jobs Applied and Financed
CLAUDE B. WEST, Mgr.
Office — Frector Hotel
Office Phone 6151
Residence Phone 5323

Trucks For Rent
By the Hour Day Week
Drive It Yourself

TARHEEL
Truck & Trailer
Rentals, Inc.
West End Circle
Day Phone 4470 Night Phone 4490
Vince Howell
Manager

OSZARK IKE

FLASH GORDON

THE PHANTOM

RUSTY RILEY

BLONDIE

POGO

JULIET JONES

EXCEPTING, HOWEVER, from this conveyance that part of the above described tract of land which has heretofore been conveyed to Leslie L. Lee by R. B. Lee, Trustee, described as follows: Beginning at a point in the North edge of the highway leading from Stokes, North Carolina, out to the Pactolus-Washington paved highway in the line of the Satterthwaite land, and running thence with the Satterthwaite land line North 31 deg. East a chopped line 2441 feet to an iron stake, a corner; thence South 83 deg. 30' East 1375 feet to an iron stake; thence North 25 deg. 20' East 181 feet; thence South 83 deg. 20' East 1558 feet to an iron stake; thence with the line of the Little land South 17 deg. 30' West 2799 feet to the North edge of the Pactolus-Washington paved highway; thence Westwardly with said paved highway to its junction with the Stokes Road; thence continuing Northwestwardly with the Stokes Road to the beginning and containing 220 acres, more or less, as shown on map prepared by Joe M. Dresbach, R.S., dated May 1951.

Being the same land conveyed to J. A. Lee by deed dated September 14, 1954, from R. B. Lee, Trustee, of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book Z-27 at Page 211.

For the convenience of prospective purchasers, a map will be furnished showing the lines of the property on which the timber is located and such lines are marked on the ground with yellow paint.

The purchaser of the timber will be given two and one-half years within which to cut and remove the timber. He will also be given the privilege to locate a mill upon the tract of property above described, the right to construct necessary roadways and the right to use the roadways now existing on the tract for the purpose of cutting, removing and handling the timber.

The sale, when made, will be subject to the confirmation of the Court pending which the purchaser, as an earnest of good faith, will be required to make a deposit with the undersigned in the amount required by law.

This the 26 day of August, 1958.

L. E. MERCER,
Commissioner

9-2, 9-9, 9-16, 9-23

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED
COLORED PRACTICAL NURSE desires work. Eight years experience. Dial 5376.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST: BLACK AND WHITE SPOT- ted beagle without collar. Answers to name "Butch". Finder notify Buster Little or Bob Bellamy, phone 7466 or 4399.

LOST: TWO MALE BEAGLE dogs in Meadowbrook section. Black and white, about 6 inches tall. Reward if found. Contact Billy Forbes, 501 E. Gum Road, phone 5333.

RESORTS FOR RENT

TWO APARTMENTS AT At- lantic Beach—Each sleeps eight. $55 per week. Call D. H. Fleming, 6668, or W. W. Fleming, 7487, 104 E. Bogue.

DAILY REFLECTOR WANT AD

INFORMATION
Your Want Ad Telephone Number in Greenville Is 6166

RATES
($1.00 minimum charge for 20 words or less for first insertion)

2 Insertions ..... $ 1.75
3 Insertions ..... $ 2.25
6 Insertions ..... $ 3.75

One Month ..... $14.00
($1.25 per column inch per insertion)

1 Week ..... $ 6.75
1 Month ..... $23.00
(Above rates for more than one insertion apply to ads running on consecutive days.)

DEADLINE
No new ads, kills or corrections accepted after 3 p.m. the day before publication.

ERRORS—OMISSIONS

The Daily Reflector will be responsible only for the first incorrect or omitted insertion of any advertisement in these columns and then only to the extent of a make-good insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by a make-good insertion. The publisher reserves the right to revise or reject any copy.

SAVE MONEY

Order your ad to run six times; the cost is less per day. When you get desired results, call 6166 and stop the ad. You pay for only the number of days your ad actually appeared.

MAIDS — RELIABLE AND Honest Agency. Jobs waiting in New York and Long Island. Salaries $300. Free board and board tickets sent. Write today A-1 Agency, 100 Main St., Hempstead, N.Y.

EXPERIENCED SECRETARY. Typing, mimeographing and general office work. Call 3669.

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED TWO CARPENTERS for inside and outside work. Call 4717, James H. Ward, general contractor.

AUTOS FOR SALE

1934 CHEVROLET BELAIR-LIKE new. Two door, radio and heater. Phone 537 or 7005. N.C. Dealer License 3469.

THROUGH THE COLUMNS OF classified advertisement you get the best results. Dial 6166.

1950 BUICK 4 DOOR, RADIO AND heater, straight drive. 1951 Ford with radio and heater and overdrive. Also Warner electric stamp making outfit—complete, 10 and 12 point type. Phone 4591.

1957 DODGE CORNET. Two tone, 4 door and automatic transmission. $1,300. No trade. Phone 4785.

MONEY TO LOAN

FOR QUICK CONFIDENTIAL loans from $25-$200 on your household furniture and kitchen appliances and autos, contact Security Loan Corp., supervised by N. C. State Banking Commission, 515 Dickinson Ave., Greenville, N. C. Phone 3668.

FOR RENT

TWO ROOM OFFICE WITH PRIVATE bath, tiled floor, heating and air conditioning. Located at the Pollard Building, corner of Third & Cotanche Sts. Phone 4261. May 3-14

TWO APARTMENTS — 1-ONE bedroom apartment and 1 two bedroom apartment. Phone M.E. Sutton, Dial 6122.

UPSTAIRS APARTMENT COR- ner East 4th and Meade Streets. Living room, two bedrooms, kitchenette and steam heat. Private entrance. Phone 4339.

HOUSES, APARTMENTS, ROOMS and business property for rent. Contact Grier Rental Agency, Office located in Room 23, Rivers Building, 209 Evans Street, which is upstairs over Chamber of Commerce. Telephone 5700. Closed on Wednesday afternoons.

COMFORTABLE BEDROOMS for 4 college boys. 1003 Overlook Drive. Phone 5507.

NEW GARAGE APARTMENT which consists of two bedrooms, living room, large kitchen, tile bath with shower and garage. Located 2701 Sunset Ave. Call 4495 or 2020.

FOUR ROOM UNFURNISHED upstairs apartment. Newly decorated. Private bath and private entrance. Call J.T. Williams 5678-5822.

ONE 4 ROOM APARTMENT FUR- nished, and one 4 room duplex apartment

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — Hog prices irregular. Tops of 20.00 to 20.75 at Kinston, Benson, Angier, New Bern, and House's Mill; 20.00 to 20.50 at Nahant, Bethel, Murfreesboro, Sunbury, Edenton, and Harrellville; 19.75 to 20.25 at Tarboro, Enfield, Scotland and Albion; 19.50 to 20.25 at Hillsboro and Greensboro; 19.50 to 20.00 at Smithfield, Dunn, Newton Grove and Mount Olive; 20.50 at Clinton, Fayetteville and Elizabethtown; 20.00 at Lumberton, Shalotte, Pembroke, Tabor City and Rich Square; 19.75 at Castle Hayne; 19.50 at Siler City, Four Oaks, Laurel Hill, Clarkston, Wiggam, Whiteville, Bailey and Newton Grove.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina poultry markets: Fryers and broilers unchanged, farm price 15.

Eggs — Prices paid by distributors for clean, sized, minimum 80 per cent A quality: Raleigh and Charlotte, 1 cent higher, large 53; prices paid producers on graded out basis: Asheville, steady, A large 48.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced moderately in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Leading issues were up from fractions to about a point.

Turnover became more brisk now that the long Labor Day weekend is out of the way and business news was favorable as a whole.

Small gains were scattered throughout the rails, steels, motors, chemicals, oils and aircrafts amidst a scattering of losses. Coppers and other nonferrous metals were generally higher.

Arldom Carpet was a feature, up as much as 4 points at one phase, due to short covering.

A pile-up on buy orders for Artlloom, which has had a steady rise in recent weeks, delayed the opening in this stock until 50 minutes after the session began. It finally opened on 10.00 shares, up 1 1/2 at 24 1/2, quickly widened the gain to 4 points and bettered that in late dealings.

Raytheon was up more than a point, helped by the recommendation of a Wall Street advisory service.

Youngstown Sheet, ahead more than a point, was outstanding among the steels. Steel gained a fraction. Bethlehem eased.

Chrysler paced the automotive group with a rise of about a point.

General Motors added a fraction and Ford was about unchanged.

General Instrument was fairly active and up a sizable fraction.

Curtis Publishing resumed its advance with a fractional rise.

Lorillard, Caterpillar, Du Pont and Baltimore & Ohio were other stocks to advance in the range of about a point.

Anacosta, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge and International Nickel all made small gains.

Small losses were taken by U. S. Rubber, Boeing, American Cyanamid, United Air Lines and American Tobacco.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 50 cents to $185.20 with the industrials up 70 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

NEW YORK — (AP) — 1 p.m.

|                       |         |
|-----------------------|---------|
| Admiral Corporation   | 13      |
| Allegheny Corporation | 7 1/4   |
| Allis Chalmers Mfg.   | 26 1/4  |
| American Can          | 46 1/4  |
| American Smelt & Ref. | 43 1/4  |
| American Tel. & Tel.  | 184 1/4 |
| American Tobacco      | 86      |
| Atchafalaya, Top & SF | 23 1/4  |
| Atlantic Coast Line   | 37 1/2  |
| Avco Manufacturing    | 8 1/4   |
| Baltimore & Ohio      | 38      |
| Bendix Aviation       | 60 1/4  |
| Bethlehem Steel       | 46 1/4  |
| Boeing Airplane       | 44 1/2  |
| Borg Warner           | 33      |
| Budd Company          | 16      |
| Burlington Indus.     | 16      |

Interested in Stocks?

Investors Stock Fund, Inc., offers an open end mutual fund with professional supervision of diversified securities, emphasizing common stocks. The securities for this fund are chosen with objectives of long-term capital appreciation possibilities and reasonable income. For a free prospectus-booklet, call or write:

LEON SMITH JR.
Zone Manager
Phone 4935
205 E. 12th Street
Greenville, N. C.

Representing
Investors
Diversified Services, Inc.
FOUNDED 1894

OR, MAIL THIS COUPON

Please send me the prospectus-booklet on Investors Stock Fund.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____

Insist Race Not Decision Factor

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Pupil Placement Board, which has rejected all applications of Negroes to attend white schools, insisted in court today that it does not base its decisions solely on color or race.

A. B. Scott, special counsel of the state board, told U. S. Dist. Judge Albert V. Bryan that he has advised the board it cannot assign pupils solely on that basis.

He insisted the board has been following his advice, and contended there are only assumptions — not evidence — that it has done otherwise.

Scott argued that board actions should be allowed to stand unless and until it can be shown that the board is acting contrary to law.

Scott made his arguments at a hearing before Judge Bryan to determine whether Arlington County must admit Negroes to white schools. The new term opens Thursday.

The county school board already is under orders to admit 5 Negroes and 25 others are seeking admission.

Scott told the court the State Placement Board has been subjected to "ignominy" in the courts because of assumptions that its assignments are based at least in part on color. He said such assumptions had been made by Judge Bryan himself, and by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Scott recalled that Bryan ruled last year that Negroes need not use the machinery of the State Placement Board, and the Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the ruling. Bryan based his decision in part on a finding that use of the board's placement process amounted almost to submission to segregation.

Judge Bryan's order last year for admission of the five Negro pupils was stayed by appeals.

The Arlington board's position is that it has done all it can to ward complying with its orders without further action by the court.

At Norfolk, Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman will hear arguments tomorrow night from attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

At Charlottesville, where another federal court desegregation order applies, the school board meets today to review the results of tests and interviews given some 30 Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. It may be ready to report to Federal Judge John Paul by Thursday or Friday on its decision.

Attorneys representing eight Negro children who have been denied transfer to white schools. The board previously reported to Hoffman it plans to assign 17 other Negro children to white schools but asked the jurist to give it until September 1959 to carry out the assignments.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll Didn't Set Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic 409
Drownings 112
Miscellaneous 86
Total 607

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The toll of violent death on America's highways during the Labor Day weekend fell short of record proportions. But there was no comfort in the knowledge for relatives and friends of the more than 400 dead in summer's last surge of holiday traffic.

Crashes of the homebound brought a sharp upswing in the toll and sent it tragically close to the death figure predicted by the National Safety Council for the 78-hour period that ended at midnight.

An estimated 30 million cars were on the road during the wind-up of the long holiday which the NSC said could end in death for 420 persons.

At midmorning today, with final figures still to be compiled, the toll was only a few short of the awesome prediction.

The tragic total of highway deaths occurred despite what the NSC called "the greatest united effort ever made by traffic enforcement agencies throughout the country to prevent holiday accidents."

"We had hoped our estimate would be much too high," the NSC said.

It did not appear likely that the final death count would reach the 1957 Labor Day total of 445, or the record high of 461 set on Labor Day 1951.

However, the over-all accident death total may equal the count of 636 for last year's three-day Labor Day period, but below the record high for the holiday of 659 in 1951.

In the country's three major summer holiday periods—Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day—more than 1,140 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents. All the holidays extended over a period of 78 hours. The result was that most of the violent deaths came from traffic accidents. Shootings claimed several lives.

A Burlington barber, James B. Wilson, 36, was fatally wounded at his former wife's home in Fayetteville during an argument over a marriage certificate.

Philip Wayne Morris, 9, of near Fayetteville, was shot fatally by a companion. Officers said young Morris was tossing tin cans into the air for his friend to shoot at when he was hit in the head.

Edward Stafford, 35, former Goldsboro policeman, was killed at his home. Officers said the man's son, David E. Stafford, admitted shooting his father who had threatened to cut his mother's throat.

One of the latest fatalities kept in an Associated Press tally from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight last night spoiled a spotless holiday traffic record at Durham. A pedestrian, Thomas H. Tolley, 69, was fatally injured when a car hit him at a street intersection. Seba J. Collins, 81, of Durham was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Joe Keeter, 31, of Forest City was fatally injured in a two-car collision on a Rutherford County rural road. The Highway Patrol said the crash was due to faulty lights on one of the vehicles.

A 22-year-old Smithfield Negro, Edna Rose Dublin, was killed in a wreck on N.C. 42 near Clayton. George Preston Oakley, 46, of High Point was fatally wounded by gunshot at the High Point home of Kenneth C. Peel's estranged wife, officers said. Peel, 34, was held on a murder charge.

To Prepare List Of Cherokees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Indian Affairs Bureau has moved to prepare a current list of members of the eastern band of Cherokee Indians in North Carolina.

The Interior Department said yesterday an enrollment committee of three members appointed by the tribal council would be established to bring the rolls up to date.

George F. Hadley's Funeral Wednesday

George Forbes Hadley, 55, died at his home, 529 Evans Street, at 7:15 Monday night following several months of illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by his pastor, the Rev. W. M. Howard Jr., and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Hadley, son of Mrs. George Bacon Wood Hadley of Greenville and the late Mr. Hadley, was born in LaGrange but lived most of his life in Greenville. He attended Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Virginia, and Duke University, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He was a member of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church and the Carson Memorial Sunday School Class. He was engaged in the tobacco business and was associated with warehouses on the various markets.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Henry Abbott Calloway Jr. of Durham; a grandson; his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Rose Hadley Fambrough and Miss Jane Hadley of the home; and two brothers, Jake M. Hadley and Dr. Herbert W. Hadley of Greenville.

SOUTH 11 DRIVE-IN THEATRE

Elvis Presley
"KING OF CREOLE"
TODAY

Meadowbrook

Last Times
ERICH MARIA REMARQUE'S
"A TIME TO LOVE"
CinemaScope & Technicolor

A Universal International Picture starring
JOHN GAVIN • LILLO PULVER
Starring JACK MAHONEY • DON DIFORE • KEESHA WATSON
and ERICH MARIA REMARQUE, known as The Poet

WED - "ADAM & EVE"

Honored By National Body

HONORED — S. Lee Rowland (left) receives from Moose Lodge Governor John Behr a certificate designating him as Past Governor. The honor was bestowed by the National Lodge, during its national convention in Chicago, in recognition of Rowland's services to the Moose. During his four years of membership, Rowland has served as chairman of the publicity committee as well as on the entertainment committee, membership committee, the swimming pool committee and the conservation committee of the Greenville Lodge. He is known as one of the foremost recruiters for the Moose, having signed over 300 new members.

Agitator Given A Cold Shoulder

GREENSBORO (AP) — John Kasper — race agitator, Citizens Council recruiter, convicted violator of a Clinton, Tenn., federal court injunction — got the cold shoulder in three North Carolina communities yesterday.

He ended a day's speaking here as a crowd of about 200 listened politely and melted to 25 before he finished his attacks on the U. S. Supreme Court's school desegregation decisions and the Greensboro School Board's assignment of Negroes to attend two schools.

Earlier, at Charlotte, the 28-year-old New Jersey native met heckling and laughter before a crowd of about 150, a third of them policemen and reporters. Police Chief E. D. Selvey ushered Kasper to a police car which took him to a hotel.

At Monroe, a crowd of about 100 came. A white man operating a whining power saw while cutting a nearby tree stump created a racket that drowned out Kasper's talk. He left about a half hour later.

A year ago Kasper toured the state expounding against integration of schools here, at Charlotte and Winston-Salem. The reception then was not much warmer. Kasper is awaiting outcome of an appeal on inciting to riot in connection with his Clinton, Tenn., activities.

Hold Rites For Bataan General

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Maj. Gen. Edward P. King, who commanded U. S. forces on Bataan in the Philippines at the time of the 1942 surrender to the Japanese.

Burial will be tomorrow at Flat Rock, N. C., near his summer home.

King, a native of Atlanta, died of a heart ailment Sunday night. He was 75.

Since his retirement after World War II he had lived at Saluda, N. C., and at Sea Island and St. Simons Island, Ga.

Old before its time?

Just like people, a tire can get old before its time.

For example, the life of a tire may be shortened as much as 25% merely as a result of chronic under-inflation. Over-inflation is bad, too.

Best way to avoid premature aging of your tires is to let your Phillips 66 Dealer take care of them for you. He'll check them frequently, make sure they're properly inflated, and repair them if necessary. And, if a tire becomes unsafe, he can provide a new and dependable Phillips 66 Action-Tread Tubeless Tire.

Drive in at any station where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

Phillips 66

SULLIVAN OIL CO INC. Distributor
1620A N. Greene Street
Phone 3918 - Greenville, N. C.

FIRED FROM AFAR — A Bomarc interceptor missile leaves its launch pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., after it was fired from remote control center at Kingston, N. Y.

"a tobacco man's bank"

Guaranty Bank AND TRUST COMPANY GREENVILLE

17 offices in 13 North Carolina communities

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Sell and bank in Greenville!

Since 1901

Services: Savings, Loans, Safe Deposit, Trust, Checking

Colored News

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mr. Willie Hemby wish to thank the many friends for their kindness shown during the illness and at the time of his death for the flowers, food and the use of cars.

The Hemby Family

A NOTE OF THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation to all of those who thought of me during my period of illness. Thanks for the visitations, cards and flowers.

Mrs. Rosa M. Bell
618 Albemarle Avenue

W. S. Harris died at his home, 405 West 14th Street, Tuesday morning. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Pitt

Today and Wednesday

WINNER OF 8 ACADEMY AWARDS!

FROM HERE TO ETERNITY

CAST: BURT LANCASTER • CLYDE RUSSELL • ELEANOR ROSS • SHARITA

Don't Miss It This Time!

Meadowbrook

Last Times

ERICH MARIA REMARQUE'S
"A TIME TO LOVE"

CinemaScope & Technicolor

A Universal International Picture starring
JOHN GAVIN • LILLO PULVER
Starring JACK MAHONEY • DON DIFORE • KEESHA WATSON
and ERICH MARIA REMARQUE, known as The Poet

SOUTH 11 DRIVE-IN THEATRE

Elvis Presley
"KING OF CREOLE"
TODAY