Where A New Miss America Will Be Chosen Tonight

BIG DECISION OF JUDGES COMES LATE TONIGHT . . . This scene in Atlantic City's Convention Hall will be repeated tonight in the final round of the Miss America Pageant. Tension in Greenville and Atlantic City mounted today as the final night neared.

Peiping Moving Sea Power Into Formosa Straits

TAIPEI, Formosa. (AP)—Communist China is moving faster and heavier naval power toward the explosive Formosa Strait area, the chief military spokesman for Nationalist China said today. The reported buildup of Red sea power is increasing the threat to Nationalist-held offshore islands, Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-shan said. More Communist warships could be used to intensify Red efforts to cut off the Nationalist supply route from Formosa to the islands and would be needed to cover any invasion attempt against the islands. Indications mounted on Formosa, meanwhile that the Nationalists are preparing to bomb the Communist mainland if the Reds begin massive artillery or bombing attacks on Quemoy. Liu said in an interview, "Intelligence reports trickling indicate (the Communists) are moving bigger naval units in from the northern area. Up to now they've used only smaller type torpedo boats against us." The admiral said reports indicated the Reds were sending south from the Shanghai, Tsingtao and Yangtze River areas gunboats resembling the 300-ton Kronstadt and the 900-ton Riga class war-

Waldrop Named Vice Chairman ECC Trustees

J. Herbert Waldrop, president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. of Greenville, was unanimously elected vice chairman of the East Carolina College Board of Trustees at a meeting of the Board held on the campus Friday afternoon. He replaces E. E. Rawl of Greenville, who died last July 8. Mr. Waldrop, a former student at East Carolina, is now serving for the second time as a member of the Board. Chairman Arthur L. Tyler of Rocky Mount presided at today's meeting. Eleven of the twelve members of the Board were present. Robert B. Morgan of Lillington, former member of the North Caro-

Gale Alert For South Atlantic

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A hurricane watch was maintained in the Leeward and Northern Windward Islands today as tropical storm Fifi moved through the Atlantic 550 miles east-southeast of here. Gale warnings already are flying in the islands. Residents there and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were advised to keep in touch with developments. At Miami, Forecaster Arnold Sugg said a low pressure area stretching from Bermuda southwest to the Bahamas is expected to keep Fifi on a more northerly course than its predecessor, Ella. Ella, which moved almost due west until it got south of the Dominican Republic, was blowing itself out in Texas today. There were no reports on Fifi during the night but it is believed to be moving at about 17 m.p.h. in a direction between west-northwest and northwest. Its highest winds are estimated at 60 m.p.h. over a small area near its center. A 5 a.m. advisory placed Fifi at a point near latitude 16.2 north, longitude 57.4 west, or about 2,000 miles from the U.S. mainland. The storm was spawned yesterday in an area which gave birth earlier in the season to Storm Becky and Hurricane Cleo.

lina Senate, was welcomed as a new member of the Board. Morgan, an attorney, is a graduate of East Carolina and 1955 winner of the Alumni Association Award to an outstanding graduate. Chairman Tyler, filling committee positions left vacant at Mr. Rawl's death, appointed Ralph Hodges of Washington as chairman of the Budget-Building Committee and as a member of the Executive Committee. Carl Goerch of Raleigh was appointed to the Budget-Building Committee. President John D. Messick reported on progress in enrollment, extension work, additions to the faculty, and other matters. Vice President P. D. Duncan submitted a report on finances. The Board approved a suggestion from Mr. Duncan that the Student Loan Fund at the college be put to greater use by increasing the maximum that a student may borrow from $350 to $600 and by making loans available to sophomores as well as to juniors and seniors.

Miss Air Show For Bigger One

TORONTO (AP)—More than 100,000 spectators at the Canadian International Air Show were disappointed yesterday when scheduled flights of U.S. Air Force B-52s failed to show up. An announcer said the B-52s, B-47s and B-58s would not appear because "of the deteriorating situation in Asia. I'm sorry but I'm not allowed to give further information."

HONORARY MAYOR HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Orchestra leader Lawrence Welk is Hollywood's new honorary mayor, succeeding another television personality, Art Linkletter. Welk was elected to the post at a luncheon meeting of the Hollywood Charitable Foundation, which annually makes the selection. Hollywood is an unincorporated part of Los Angeles.

Bet On Betty

ATLANTIC CITY—Bob Messner, a member of the Greenville delegation with a Yankee accent, asked a taxi driver early this morning how the odds were going on the Miss America Pageant. "Well, the boys are giving Miss California about even," the driver said. "But," he confided, "go along with Miss North Carolina and make yourself some money. The odds are nine to one on her." The taxi driver didn't know where his questioner was from.

Alvin Taylor, Reflector City Editor who is covering Betty Lane's activities in Atlantic City, gave this personal evaluation of her appearance last night: "She really had the class last night. You can see when she gets with the other girls why she comes in first in the swim suit competition. She has a perfect figure. When she walked down the ramp she just had all the poise in the world. She looked like she was walking in her back yard at home. I think she was a good way ahead of the others last night. "It's not certain she's in the top 10, but there's a doggone good chance she is. I'd lay my last dollar on it, and yours too if I could. "It's just amazing how she shows up. She really stands out. "I heard a good rumor this morning—and it is only a rumor—that she came out second in her talent group. In the evening gowns no winners were announced, but that poise of Betty Lane's really stood out. I don't think there's any doubt she will be in the top 10."

Meanwhile, the American command on Formosa said Maj. Gen. Hunter Harris, U.S. Air Force deputy chief of staff, will arrive here Monday for a three-day visit. Gen. Curtis LeMay, U.S. Air Force vice chief of staff, is due in tomorrow. The Nationalist Defense Ministry discounted reports of a Taipei newspaper that the Reds had concentrated 800 vessels near Quemoy as a possible invasion fleet.

Crowning A Miss America Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss America will be crowned tonight and start her year-long reign as holder of the oldest national beauty title.

Two Southern girls, Miss Alabama and Miss North Carolina, won in the third round of preliminary judging last night. They are among the 52 contenders for the fame and fortune that goes to the final winner of the Miss America pageant.

Miss Alabama, a rabbit's foot tucked inside her costume, won the night's talent competition with a song from the musical "South Pacific."

Miss North Carolina, whose favorite sport is swimming, was declared tops in the swim suit division by the 11 judges who watched her walk down the runway at Convention Hall. She is Betty Lane Evans, 18, of Greenville, N.C., who stands 5-5 1/2, weighs 112 pounds and measures 34-21-34 1/2.

Lee Thornberry, a black-haired beauty from Birmingham, Ala., left her rabbit's foot in her hotel room and sent her chaperone back to get it at the last minute. The lucky charm was stowed away inside the loose fitting sailor suit she wore during a rendition of the song and dance "Honcyburn," performed by the character Nellie Forbush in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. When her name was called as a preliminary winner, Miss Thornberry said she "just lost all control of myself."

"It was the same feeling I had when my mother bought my first pair of dancing shoes," she said. An only child, the 21-year-old Miss Thornberry is a senior at Birmingham-Southern College and automatically gets a $1,000 scholarship as a preliminary talent champion.

Aurora Borealis Displays Coming

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Tar Heels may be treated to night-time displays of the Aurora Borealis, or northern lights, all during September. Mild manifestations of the lights in the skies over the state recently resulted in a number of calls to University of North Carolina astronomers and physicists here.

Chou En-Lai Calls For High Level Peace Conference

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai today called on the United States to resume ambassador level talks to make another effort for the defense of peace.

Chou's statement, made in a Chinese language broadcast, said "The Chinese government is now prepared to resume the ambassador level talks to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou reiterated Red China's claim that Formosa and Pescadores Islands have always been Chinese territory and it was "Chinese internal affair to exercise Chinese sovereignty and to liberate these areas."

The broadcast was the first comment made by Chou on the tense Formosa Strait situation. The talks Chou wants resumed broke up last Dec. 12 in Geneva. They were opened in 1955 between U.S. Ambassador Alexis U. Johnson and Red China's Wang Ping-nao.

The implication of Chou's statement was that Red China now wants to bring the Formosa Strait pocket war into the diplomatic field.

On June 30, Red China made a similar demand for a resumption of the Geneva talks. A Peiping radio broadcast said that if Washington took no action on resuming the talks by July 14, it would be considered responsible for breaking off the talks. Red China then threw in a threat against Formosa.

The talks were started in 1955 to negotiate the release of 40 Americans held in Red China and other issues. When most of the Americans were released, the talks switched to other issues between the two nations, including a U.S. demand for a pledge by Red China not to use force in the Formosa Strait area. Four Americans are still in prison in Red China. After the 73rd meeting last December, the talks adjourned with no future meetings set. Ambassador Johnson later was transferred to another post and Edwin W. Martin, first secretary of the U.S. Embassy in London, was appointed temporary U.S. representative.

In April, the Red Chinese charged that this was a U.S. trick to stall off further talks. It demanded that the United States appoint a diplomat of ambassadorial rank to resume the talks.

After the breakup in December, the United States was reported to have offered to resume the talks. This was in January. These reports said the United States wanted a Communist pledge not to use force to take Formosa out of Chinese Nationalist control.

In his statement today, Chou emphasized "the dispute between the People Republic of China and the United States is completely separate from the current Taiwan-Formosa crisis."

He said Formosa was strictly "an internal affair of China." Chou said that if the United States "outrageously continues its aggression and intervention in China and forces war upon the Chinese people, the United States will be held responsible for all the grave consequences to arise."

Chou said "the international dispute between China and the United States on Formosa Strait is a matter different from the problem of Chinese internal affairs." He said the United States has been consistently confusing these two matters and covered up its aggression and intervention in China.

Henry C. Liles, chairman of the Greensboro Alcoholics Beverage Control Board, said persons allegedly involved in the operation live in central North Carolina. The output of the still, located in a swamp near the Horry and Georgetown county lines in South Carolina, was scheduled for delivery and sale through outlets in central North Carolina, he added.

The agents made their first move when they arrested two men who stopped a tractor-trailer at a service station near Elizabethtown before dawn. Arrested were Eugene Edward Kennedy, 21, and Grady L. Estep, 28, both of Winstonsalem. They were charged with possession and transporting, waived a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Douglas Taylor in Wilmington and were held in lieu of $7,500 bond each. The truck, loaded with 409 cases

Wasn't Nervous A Bit, Declares Tar Heel Beauty

By ALVIN TAYLOR, Reflector City Editor. ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—Poised Miss North Carolina glided across Convention Hall's huge stage with ease here last night and came out winner in the swim suit division competition.

Pert and pretty as she met the press following her victory, Betty Lane Evans said she was "so glad I could do one little thing to make North Carolina proud of me."

"I feel fine," she said as several reporters crowded around. "I wasn't nervous a bit and I enjoyed every bit of it."

The walk down the 133-foot ramp which stretched into the audience at Convention Hall "seemed like it was short" to Betty Lane.

She clutched the gold trophy which she received as a division winner while dozens of photographers flashed away following the last of the preliminary pageant rounds.

"I can balance off my mantle with the trophies now," she told reporters. A lady reporter asked what others she had won. "Well, just the Miss Greenville and Miss North Carolina trophies," the beauty replied. "I have one on each end of the mantle and I'm going to put this one in the middle."

Stunning in a white satin suit with heavy lace trim Betty Lane skimmed down the dozen or so steps which lead to the main portion of the stage as if she owned the place.

Following the routine set for all the contestants, she walked from one side of the stage to the other, then stopped in front of the judges' section.

Next she walked a portion of the way out on the ramp, then back on the stage. Finally she began the long walk down the ramp on the left side. At the far end, where a television camera practicing for tonight's network telecast was located, she made the usual turn and headed back up the ramp.

Later she and the other contestants lined up in front of the judges to give them a closer look. It was all Betty Lane, as far as members of the North Carolina press covering the event were concerned last night. Also newspaper and television representatives were jubilantly predicting victory for their state's Miss America candidate even before an announcement was made.

Those in the audience liked the pert Miss North Carolina and approving comments could be heard from the box seats behind press rows as she passed by.

North Carolinians sitting elsewhere said they heard comments as to Betty Lane's beauty when she moved out on the stage. The winners were not announced immediately following the swim suit appearances, although that category was the last of the three.

There was a brief interlude during which the audience heard from Miss Atlantic City and watched a non-judging talent routine.

Then all 52 girls returned to the beautifully lit stage. Miss America, Marilyn Van Derbur, moved to the center of the stage with her court as she had done on previous nights.

Master of ceremonies, Bert Parks announced that Betty Lane was winner of the swim suit round and that brought rousing applause from the audience.

Miss North Carolina left her station among the beauties and moved to the stage center where she received the coveted trophy along with a kiss on the cheek from Miss America. Then it was announced that Miss Alabama, Lee Thornberry, was talent winner for the evening. She received her trophy and the show closed. Immediately the photographers, who grew in number each night of the pageant, made mad dashes down the ramp and back stage. They had a short wait as Betty Lane changed from her evening dress back to the swim suit. When she returned, the photographers went to work. First there were pictures of Miss North Carolina and Miss Alabama.

Then those two lined up with the other four winners of the previous two nights. There were also individual shots of the night's two winners.

When Betty Lane returned to the Hotel Dennis where she is staying, she found most of the ever-growing delegation of Pitt Countians, who are here to pull for her, waiting in the lobby. As she moved into the lobby, the group burst into a "Congratulations to you" song to the tune of "Happy Birthday."

Smiling broadly at the warm welcome, Betty Lane kissed her mother and father and then greeted other friends and relatives. She talked with the hometown group for a time, then she was off to her hotel room and bed. The North Carolina gathering broke up.

Miss North Carolina's victory here last night still doesn't assure

Want Thousands Join Welcome

"We want thousands of people to be on hand to welcome Betty Lane back to Greenville Monday afternoon."

Those were the words of Jaycee President John Ray Hardy today as he announced details of the Welcome Home celebration to be staged here Monday afternoon when Miss North Carolina returns from Atlantic City and the Miss America Pageant.

Miss North Carolina is expected to arrive in Greenville about 5:30 and will be met by a motorcade at West End Circle at that time. The motorcade will come down Dickinson Avenue to Five Points, then up Evans Street to the Courthouse where the formal ceremonies will be held about 5:45. "We'd like to have a big crowd at the courthouse to welcome home Betty Lane. Everyone who wants to participate in the motorcade is invited to do so," Hardy said.

her of a place among the top ten in tonight's semi-final competition, but it's an extremely good indication she will be among that top-flight group. The total points earned during all of the preliminary rounds determines who will be among the top ten. A girl with the ability to take a nap almost any time, Betty Lane snoozed during part of yesterday afternoon as she waited for the evening activities to begin. In fact, her mother, Mrs. Amos J. Evans said, she was sleeping so soundly when awaking time came "I had to call her three or four times. Once awake, Betty Lane called her years of showmanship training into use and went on to win a Miss America Pageant preliminary round. BUBBLE GUM SUI MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Miss Mary Margaret Olinger, 24, is suing the Krewe of Columbus, a mystic society, for $25,000 for injuries she said she suffered while watching a Mardi Gras parade Feb. 14. She said a half-pound package of bubble gum tossed from a float by a masker hit her in the face, causing facial injuries. Liles said that "With this operation running at full capacity, the output of white liquor each month could defraud the federal government in excess of $400,000 in excise taxes." Under the same situation, he said, "North Carolina would lose more than $60,000 a month in sales taxes and the ABC systems in the Piedmont area of the state more than $85,000 in revenue. William C. Queen of Greensboro headed the investigation, which lasted two months and was conducted by Greensboro and Winstonsalem ABC officers. Rowan Mecklenburg and Catawba County ABC officers and the Asheboro police department took part. Because of the South Carolina still site, U. S. Alcohol and Tobacco tax Unit men in both Carolinas were called in later.

Marriage Course Comes By Mail

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 51-year-old globe-trotting Roman Catholic priest is preparing young people in at least 20 countries for marriage by means of a correspondence course.

The Rev. Andre Guay, a priest who was born in Ville Marie, Que., oversees the lessons from his post as director of the University of Ottawa's Catholic Center.

The course consists of 15 lessons prepared with the help of specialists in law, psychology, biology and medicine. It lasts about six months and is open to couples of all faiths.

Lesson titles include "Love and Happiness," "Courtship and Engagements," "Civil Laws Concerning Marriage," and "Anatomy and Physiology." Couples preparing for marriage must study together.

Greenville F. W. B. Announcements

Last Sunday it was good to see so many people in Sunday school and church at the Greenville Free Will Baptist Church. Vacations are over, schools and colleges are open, so a much larger attendance is expected this Sunday. "Make a good score as everyone brings one more." At the 11:00 a.m. worship the Senior Choir under the direction of Mr. Thomas W. Miller and with Mrs. Bill Taylor at the organ will sing the anthem "Be Still My Soul," Sibellus. The pastor's sermon topic will be "Realizing God's Presence" (I Sam. 7:3).

The Free Will Baptist Leagues will meet at 6:30 p.m. under the direction of Mr. Mark Case. At the 7:30 p.m. worship the choir will sing "O Holy Jesus," a Russian hymn arranged by Grant. The pastor's sermon topic will be "Your Stand For Christ" (Gal. 5:1). This Sunday night is the event of College-Church services. Students are to be at Cotten Hall at 7:15 p.m. for rides. After the worship service there will be a time of fellowship in the church basement. For rides to Sunday school students are to be at Cotten Hall at 9:30 a.m.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. the Circles of the Woman's Auxiliary will meet as follows: Lily Smith, with Mrs. Stephen Walters, 2615 Sunset Ave.; Laura Bell Barnard, with Mrs. J. B. Meeks, 1603 Longwood Dr. with Mrs. Thurman Stox as co-hostess. Monday at 7:30 p.m. the Ruth Taylor Woman's Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Melvin Hathaway,

Father Guay says the aim of the course is "encouraging young people to discuss problems together—a habit they will bring into marriage."

The students write tests on each lesson and mail them to course centers for marking. The course center for the United States and Canada is the Ottawa Catholic Center, a rambling stucco building near the university.

Headquarters have been set up in other countries, including Argentina, Basutoland, Belgium, Bolivia, Colombia, Cuba, Spain, France, Holland, Italy, Lebanon, Mexico, New Zealand, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The widespread dispersal of centers enables course directors in various lands to incorporate into the lessons the tradition and individual characteristics of diverse countries.

Since it was set up in 1935 at the recommendation of youth groups in Canada, the enrollment has become so large that Father Guay says he is "losing count of the numbers now."

An estimated 13,000 couples have taken the course in Canada since its beginning. In the first four years of operation in Germany, about 45,000 studied marriage through the mails.

611-B West Fifth Street. Monday at 7:30 p.m. the Y. F. A.'s will meet at Elm Street Park. Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. the Willing Workers Sunday School Class will meet in the basement of the church annex.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. there will be the showing of the film "Seventeen." This is a most important film for teenagers, their friends and families to show what a Bible Club can do in a high school, and what the Bible will do for individuals. The public is invited to view this film. At 8:45 the Senior Choir will meet for a rehearsal.

Thursday at 5:30 p.m. the G. T. A.'s will meet at the church. Saturday at 9:30 a.m. the B. A.'s will meet at the church.

Mrs. Robert Peele and Mrs. Carl Adams will be in charge of the nursery at the 11:00 a.m. worship. September 15-26, 7:30 p.m. there will be revival services at the church. Rev. H. A. Pitts, Winfield, Ala., will be the evangelist.

The public is invited to pray and to plan to attend this revival. Please note that all former 8:00 p.m. services are now held at 7:30 p.m.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Freshmen's Major Concern Is New Fashions

A freshman may major in any subject, but it's a safe bet that her major concern is clothes.

This season the problem of assembling a proper college wardrobe is complex, because a girl is faced with a bewildering choice of silhouettes. There are the chemise, the trapeze, the blouson, the jumper, the middy, the Empire, the camise, the balloon, the dust-ruffle, the harem and goodness knows what else.

Many girls starting off to college play safe and take along one of everything. This puts a strain on both transportation facilities and closet space and is likely to irritate parents when most of the extra clothes are shipped back home.

A better plan is to consult an upperclassman from your college on campus clothes customs. You'll probably find that most of your weekday hours will be spent in sweaters and skirts or Bermuda shorts. For weekend trips and dates a few simple dresses of wool, jersey or corduroy will do the trick, with maybe a suit for traveling. And the street-length cocktail dress is the usual choice for dressy evenings, rather than formal evening gowns.

The college girl also should consider wardrobe upkeep, and choose as many things as possible in washable fabrics that need little or no ironing. In this category corduroy is a popular choice, available this year in high colors and bold plaids, in separates or dresses.

The five young models pictured with this feature are ready to attend college as freshmen. They will be attired in the latest of fashions. Miss Stuart Bost will be attending Peace College in Raleigh and Miss Carol Ann Tadlock, Miss Marietta Northrop, Miss Ginger Lang and Miss Margaret Ruffin are bound for St. Mary's Junior College, also in Raleigh.

MISS CAROL ANN TADLOCK . . . is ready for the football games in this brown plaid matching skirt and chemise sweater set.

MISS MARGARET RUFFIN . . . plans to wear this black wool chemise featuring the flounced skirt. She will wear matching red shoes and hat to the "dress-up" occasions.

MISS GINGER LANG . . . stepping out in high fashion will be this young lady in her blue and black tweed trapeze suit with a black fur collar and the matching leather accessories.

Painting Being Shown At ECC

Paintings by three water colorists, Louis Kaep, Jane Patterson and Atushi Kikuchi, comprise the current exhibition in the East Carolina College Library. The show was arranged by the college art department through the studio Guild, Reading, Connecticut, Grace Pickett, Director.

All three artists, nationally known contemporary American painters, have received numerous awards and are represented in both public and private collections. Louis Kaep, a teacher and professional painter, has studied both in this country and in Europe. Although painting trips have taken him to many parts of the world, his current work reflects his environment. Jane Peterson is a graduate of Pratt Institute and a student of a number of well-known artists. The waterfront is a recurring theme in her work. Atushi Kikuchi, although born and educated in the United States, spent his childhood in Japan. His painting retains an oriental influence, is colorful, and provides an interesting balance to the September show.

Plans For Youth Week Set

During Youth Week at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, young people of Greenville will have time to discuss the sermons.

In a 45-minute period following worship, Wyatt Brown and Michael Martin will lead the senior high discussion groups. Mrs. Carl Kinlaw will lead the junior highs. The question Sunday evening will be "How can you sit there when there is a lack of honor and good morals?" Rev. Robert McKenzie Jr., guest minister, will preach Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings, and Wednesday morning.

Youth Week will begin at 5:15 p.m. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday night's sessions will begin at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday night's worship hour will begin at 7:30, concluding Youth Week with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Where there are youth there is fellowship. Social hours during Youth Week at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church are being planned by the host Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Robert Taft will act as master of ceremonies Sunday evening when youth groups from various churches are expected to contribute to "Stunt Night."

Miss Gayle Clapp, student at East Carolina College and former MYFer at the host church, will lead recreation on Monday evening.

Rev. Troy Barrett of Zebulon Methodist Church will be guest recreational leader Tuesday night. Mr. Barrett is a popular recreation leader among youth and adults of this Methodist Conference.

30 Years Ago Today

September 6, 1928

Friends of little Miss Martha Scoville will regret to learn that she fell yesterday and broke her wrist.

The establishment of a creamery in Greenville was given consideration at the regular session of the Greenville Kiwanis Club last night. A committee composed of W. E. Hooker, B. B. Sugg and M. K. Blount was appointed to investigate the feasibility of such a concern and instructed to report at the next meeting.

School Menu

- Monday—Baked ham, glazed apples, string beans, tomato salad on lettuce, cheese biscuits, butter, fudge cake, milk.
- Tuesday—Meat loaf with tomato sauce, mixed greens, buttered potatoes, pickle relish, corn bread, butter, sliced peaches, milk.
- Wednesday—Cold Plate: Ham salad and peanut butter and raisin sandwiches, pineapple and banana salad, cheese strips, peach cobbler, milk.
- Thursday—Beef Pan Pie with vegetables, cole slaw, carrot strips, Bran Muffin, butter, jello with topping, milk.
- Friday—Tuna fish, salad on lettuce, buttered green peas, candied yams, homemade rolls, butter, lemon pie, milk.

Frosh Meet Orientation

(Editor's Note: This is the first of weekly columns by Catherine Moore of Junius H. Rose High School, reporting student, social, scholastic activities in the school year.)

By CATHERINE MOORE
Teenage Writer

Back to school meant work, routine and seeing friends for upperclassmen at Junius H. Rose High Wednesday, but for freshmen, orientation was an added feature.

After speeches of welcome by Principal Orren E. Dowd and student body president Howard Strickland, the Student Co-operative Association Executive Committee guided students to their home rooms. Both speakers informed the newcomers of school rules and policies.

Monday, standing committee chairmen and Student Co-operative Association officers will complete orientation by explaining the functions of the committees and clubs.

Twenty-one Traffic Committee members have guided new students to classes each day. Seven boys directed parking each morning.

New Parking Area
A paved parking lot greeted students Wednesday morning upon their arrival. Drivers are looking forward to exchanging for this new convenience last year's experience of getting stuck in the muddy lot.

Book Covers For Sale
Student Co-operative Association Executive Committee members are urging all students to lower their book damage fines next June by buying the protective, waterproof book covers which the council is selling again this year. These are green and white, displaying the school name and picture.

Rosettes
During the 1958 football season the high school band will feature Rosettes, the new drill team. These 30 white-clad twirlers practiced several weeks prior to the opening of school and will play a major part in the first half-time show.

Ready To Watch
Many high school friends of Miss North Carolina plan to glue their eyes to Channel 9 tonight for the two hour Miss America Pageant telecast. Several students, as well as the Green Lights, have sent telegrams and have followed Betty Lane's activities in Atlantic City.

Party
Many high school students and recent graduates gathered at Mary May's home Monday night in response to her invitation to an "everybody come party." Guests enjoyed dancing, refreshments and discussions of their vacations.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE BEGINS DUTY—Miss Lynda Hunning, one of the 21 Rose High students on the committee, began her job of assisting students Wednesday.

Tucker-Kelley Wed

WILSON—At an informal ceremony Mrs. Mary Strickland Kelley became the bride of Walter L. Tucker in late August.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Strickland of Wilson and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Tucker of Greenville.

The Rev. Earl H. Glenn officiated at the single ring ceremony, which took place in the Wilson Free Will Baptist Church. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Edgar Raper presented a program of wedding music.

The couple entered the church together, unattended, and was married in the presence of their families and close friends. For her wedding, the bride wore a tea-length dress of light blue lace.

Seven Pines HD Club Meet

Mrs. Roy Jones, president, presided over the Seven Pines Home Demonstration Club's regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the club house.

She gave the devotional and read an article entitled "Symbols Are Important" by Rev. Fernel Bailey after which Mrs. Richard Bundy led in prayer.

Mrs. Clifton Ellis, secretary, read the minutes of the June meeting and the July picnic, and they were both approved. The roll call showed six members present. Mrs. C. E. Case of the Fountain club was a visitor.

Mrs. Clifton Ellis gave three book reports, "The Ponder Heart" by Eudora Welty, "Weddings in the Family" by Dale Fife and "The Crown Tree" by Legett Blythe.

Miss Margaret Lee Stevens gave the demonstration of the afternoon on "The Uninvited Guests" or household pests. The club decided to use the demonstration they had just seen as the theme for their booth at the fair.

Nearly Accustomed To The 'Brink'

The brink of war? According to a statement many months ago by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, the United States has been there a number of times in recent years, but always the crisis was eased short of war.

Since the Secretary of State made his now-famous brink-of-war statement, the United States has again ventured close to the precipice.

We were there a few short weeks ago when the international pot was boiling in the Middle East and American Marines were sent into Lebanon to help protect that nation's sovereignty. Though tension has eased in the Middle East, our troops are still there . . . and the pot could begin boiling again any day.

A few thousands miles East of Lebanon the United States is again getting perilously close to the brink as tension mounts off the Chinese mainland and the Chinese Communists threaten to invade Nationalist territory the United States is bound by treaty to protect.

Will these two international incidents remain brush-fire wars, or will one of them suddenly break into a huge blaze that suddenly will sweep both East and West in another conflagration?

In less than two months in two different parts of the world this nation has found itself on the brink of war.

Where will the next abyss suddenly fall away at our feet? Will we . . . will the other fellow . . . be able to maintain our footing, or will one lunge forward into the unknown, pulling the other with him?

Standing at the brink of war is nothing new to this nation. We have stood there many times along with other nations—enemies and allies—in recent years. It is becoming a part of our lives. It has been part of our lives.

It is part of the price we and other free nations must pay for their freedom and for that of other peoples half a world away.

We can only hope that some day nations will be able to find some measure short of war for resolving their differences.

Every Right To Pride In N. C. Moderation

It is a credit to North Carolina and its people—particularly those who live in communities where token integration has taken place—that another school term has gotten underway without ugly incidents in cities where token integration has been approved by local school boards.

It is tangible evidence that in North Carolina the radicals on neither side of the segregation issue have the influence they have in other states. It is also a tribute to the genuine good race relations between whites and Negroes that North Carolina has enjoyed for decades.

Integrated schools are not popular in North Carolina and certainly they will not be popular among the vast majority of citizens for many years, if ever. In spite of that fact, North Carolina has avoided the trouble over integration that has plagued many states and many individual school systems.

North Carolina has moved slowly in integrating schools. It has its Pupil Assignment Act and its Pearsall Plan, both of which have proved important measures for the state in making a realistic approach to the situation created by Supreme Court decisions.

Though agitators for extreme integrationists and extreme segregationists have sought to make trouble in North Carolina as elsewhere, they have met with no real success in North Carolina. They have been largely ignored by the great majority of citizens. The school situation has been handled quietly and effectively by local school boards—with the support of the citizenry—which squarely faced the problems that confronted them.

North Carolinians have every right to be proud of the manner in which its citizens have met the difficult school problems that have confronted this state in the past few years.

Red China Is Kept Guessing

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is still deliberately unclear — after statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles — what this country will do if the Red Chinese attack the Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland.

They're still doing what they've been doing: keeping the Chinese Communists guessing. What they've said could be construed as ominous. Actually, neither man has said anything committing this country to a course of action.

Both men will have to consider carefully — before throwing the United States into war with Red China for the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and the near-by islets — what support they'd get at home and from American allies abroad.

Dulles, after talking with Eisenhower at Newport, R. I., issued Thursday a 900-word statement about this country's reaction to any Red attack on the islands held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

But examination of this statement shows Dulles stopped the long way short of any flat expression of American intentions. He said in part, this is the most pertinent part: ". . . The President has not yet made any finding . . . that the employment of the armed forces of the United States is required or appropriate in insuring the defense of Formosa . . ."

That can be accurately translated into meaning Eisenhower as of now doesn't think Formosa, Chiang's stronghold 100 miles off the China coast, is in any danger of Red attack.

After this statement was issued, a high U. S. official at Newport spoke to newsmen. He went a lot further than the statement in indicating that the full power of this country would be used, if necessary, to prevent the Chinese Reds from taking Quemoy and Matsu.

But this man was speaking behind a screen of anonymity, and his words are not on the record as official U. S. policy. Therefore the views he expressed could be abandoned later.

Under this country's Senate-approved treaty with Chiang, the United States has to defend Formosa if it is attacked. Nowhere, in the treaty or anywhere else, is this country pledged to defend Chiang's islands near the China coast.

A resolution approved by both houses of Congress in 1955 says Eisenhower can use his own judgment about fighting for such

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is still deliberately unclear — after statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles — what this country will do if the Red Chinese attack the Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland.

They're still doing what they've been doing: keeping the Chinese Communists guessing. What they've said could be construed as ominous. Actually, neither man has said anything committing this country to a course of action.

Both men will have to consider carefully — before throwing the United States into war with Red China for the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and the near-by islets — what support they'd get at home and from American allies abroad.

Dulles, after talking with Eisenhower at Newport, R. I., issued Thursday a 900-word statement about this country's reaction to any Red attack on the islands held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

But examination of this statement shows Dulles stopped the long way short of any flat expression of American intentions. He said in part, this is the most pertinent part: ". . . The President has not yet made any finding . . . that the employment of the armed forces of the United States is required or appropriate in insuring the defense of Formosa . . ."

That can be accurately translated into meaning Eisenhower as of now doesn't think Formosa, Chiang's stronghold 100 miles off the China coast, is in any danger of Red attack.

After this statement was issued, a high U. S. official at Newport spoke to newsmen. He went a lot further than the statement in indicating that the full power of this country would be used, if necessary, to prevent the Chinese Reds from taking Quemoy and Matsu.

But this man was speaking behind a screen of anonymity, and his words are not on the record as official U. S. policy. Therefore the views he expressed could be abandoned later.

Under this country's Senate-approved treaty with Chiang, the United States has to defend Formosa if it is attacked. Nowhere, in the treaty or anywhere else, is this country pledged to defend Chiang's islands near the China coast.

A resolution approved by both houses of Congress in 1955 says Eisenhower can use his own judgment about fighting for such

Cause For Alarm

In Short, Not His Night

By BILLY ARNOLD

Last night, I decided to kick off the football season with a real bang and cover two high school ballgames. Ayden and Farmville both were playing home ballgames — their first of the season — and so I loaded my camera and took off from Greenville in my trusty '52 Plymouth at 7:15.

I took the new road to Farmville. The night felt cool and vital and the feeling of fall and football was in the air. I decided to live dangerously and mashed the speedometer, zooming up to 40 miles per hour. The Blue Beetle throbbed and vibrated and I could feel the power surging through the motor and the wheels wobbling with blazing speed.

It seems like I rode for hours.

There were few lights along the way. There was an occasional light from a farmhouse and I think I passed one filling station along the way. I spent most of the trip wondering what would happen if I had a flat tire, and wondering if I had a jack and what to do with it if I did have.

Well, I got to Farmville just before the game started. Quick as a flash, the Red Devils chalked up a 20-0 lead. It was still the first quarter and I had shot about three pictures. It was a dull game. Farmville was running wild. I went to the bench one time, knelt down and aimed at one of the star halfbacks, pulled the lever on the camera and the bulb exploded with a loud blast.

Fortunately, nobody was hurt by the blast of glass and plastic.

I left shortly after the first quarter and got in my car and headed for Ayden. After I had been driving for about 20 minutes, I realized that I didn't know how to get to Ayden from Farmville — especially at night. I stopped and asked three different people and they all told me different ways. I just decided to live dangerously and drive by instinct.

About 25 to 30 minutes later, I passed into Greene county, ripping along at a blazing 40 miles per hour. I thought to myself, "Ayden isn't in Greene county, is it?" I rode and rode and rode and didn't see a house or a filling station or a sign or anything. Finally, panic-stricken, I turned around and tried to find my way back to a road that I recognized, back to Pitt County.

I weaved in and out of both counties, taking strange roads passing signs and houses and dark patches of forest and still not recognizing anything. Then, I spotted a sign that said Greenville 11 miles. I mashed down on the accelerator and sped into Greenville at a roaring 45.

I turned off at Greenville and headed for Ayden, my foot on the floorboard, the car rattling and wobbling and grinding. I pulled into Ayden and hit an awful traffic jam, cars pouring out of the Ayden Football Field by the dozens. I managed to park and galloped to the field with my camera, just as the lights went out.

The game was over. Ayden had lost 12-0. I ran inside and spoke to the coach and got a picture of the clubhouse where the boys were dressing and shot a picture of an injured quarterback. I was determined not to come away empty-handed.

Then, my mission completed, I hopped into my trusty Blue Beetle and roared away in a huff of exhaust and radiator smoke. I hit the Greenville city limits just in time to have a flat tire and get caught in the flow of traffic from a drive-in theatre.

When I got home, television was just signing off and I had missed the late show. So I just rolled my car into the garage and set fire to it and threw in the camera for good measure and went to bed.

Other Editors Saying --- State Court Resentful

(Henderson Dispatch)

Where Congress lacked the courage to wade into the problem created by Supreme Court decisions invading the rights of the States, the conference of chief justices held in California last week made bold to approve almost unanimously a resolution censuring the Supreme Court for what was termed a lack of judicial restraint and usurpation of States' Rights.

The high tribunal was accused of "hasty, impatient" decisions "without proper judicial restraint" and with acting as a policy-maker. That's what others have charged in recent months, but this is the first such condemnation from the collective minds of the State judiciary. It is of more significance than anything that has come thus far from laymen.

The resolution was adopted by a 36-8 vote, with only four members sufficiently impressed to register verbal dissent. It said "the over-all tendency" of Supreme Court decisions "during the last twenty-five years has been to press the extension of Federal power and press it rapidly."

Justice Jones of Pennsylvania termed the resolution a "smoke screen to cover the real purpose of the report," which he said "is to condemn the Supreme

Another Christmas Sale Record

By ELMER ROESSNER

Christmas sales will set another record this year. Retail sales in December will top $20 billion for the first time.

Improvement in business conditions and sentiment started just as merchandisers were planning holiday promotions. It caused them to shift from caution to confidence and to increase orders.

Manufacturers are counting on a bullish market, too, and are increasing production and stepping up advertising plans.

However, there will be some return to good taste this year. Merchants are somewhat worried about movements to decommercialize Christmas and will lay greater emphasis on the spirit of giving, with frequent references to the Magi.

December retail sales last year were $19.9 billion, up half a billion over December, 1956. If December sales can rise during a recession such as we were having last year, they can do far, far better on a boom.

TREND TOWARD PRIVACY

Here are more business predictions, based on analyses of developing trends and events:

A new theme in housing. Split-level and ranch houses have dominated building for 15 years. Now a new concept is increasing in popularity. The rise so far has been slow, but it could assume great popularity quickly. That's for the house with more privacy.

Some exciting designs have been shown in slick magazines, featuring enclosed or partly enclosed courts and yards, and arrangements of walls and rooms that tend to shut out the world. Now a new home with an indoor swimming pool is being promoted. The eight-room house, including a Cascade pool, is under $25,000, but the buyer can start with a basic house at $17,000 and add wings as needed.

New engineer shortage. Engineers could pick their companies until defense emphasis shifted from planes to missiles, which put many out of work. Now the increase in electronic work for missiles and other government projects is creating a shortage. Electronics men are being drawn from other engineering fields, creating other shortages.

East Carolina's Purple-Gold Game Played Tonight At 8:00

Large Turnout Expected For Exhibition Tilt

East Carolina squares off against East Carolina tonight at the ECC Stadium in the annual Purple-Gold exhibition game at 8:00. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Coach Jack Boone, shooting for his first successful season since 1953-54, will preview his 1958 football team for the first time since the club began drills, September 1. The club will be divided and will play under actual game conditions, facing each other.

Boone's top prospects for the coming campaign will get the chance to show their wares both offensively and defensively. With the first ball game of the season just a week away—against Emory and Henry at the ECC Stadium—Boone is expected to have his two opposing teams use both ECC plays and Emory and Henry plays tonight. A large crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the affair. The fall term of school gets underway Tuesday and most of the school students are already either on campus or in Greenville. A large turnout of the student body is expected, as well as fans from Greenville and the surrounding area.

Speight Will Run
One of the biggest attractions at the Stadium will be James Speight, East Carolina's star running ace. Last season, Speight earned a wheelbarrow-full of honors as a halfback. This season, Coach Boone has shifted him to a fullback post. Tonight will be the first time the 170-pound Greenville boy has seen duty at that new position.

Boone believes "it will give him more running room. At a halfback position, he can only run in a limited area under our system. Whereas the fullback can go either left, right or straight ahead into the line."

"Another thing that we feel will be better for us with Speight at the fullback post, is the fact that our fullback does most of the running under our system."

Last year, working as a halfback with only a limited area in which to run, the muscular Mr. Speight ran off with East Carolina's rushing honors, scoring honors, and total offense honors. He rattled off a total of 479 yards on the ground for an average of 5.7 yards each carry; he racked up 67 more yards as a pass receiver; he scored four touchdowns—over one-third of his club's points—and kept ECC opponents off balance with his shifty wide gallops.

He earned All-State, All-North State Conference, and All-NAIA District 26 honors. Speight was a sophomore last season.

Zehring
Although Coach Boone freely admits that his 1958 club will be built around the spectacular Speight, he has several other aces up his sleeve. Ralph Zehring, a two-year veteran at quarterback, is expected to show his passing and running wares tonight in the same backfield. Zehring, a 165-pounder from Virginia, will direct Boone's No. 1 team tonight.

Also running with the same backfield will be veteran halfbacks Tommy Nash and Lee Atkinson. Atkinson, a little senior from New Bern, was a standout last season but had injury troubles. Nash, from Monroe, is fast and a good outside runner. Both Nash and Atkinson weigh 165 pounds.

Boone's big No. 1 line will consist of center Lynn Barnett, guards Wayne Davis and Chuck Gordon, tackles Ed Emory and Charles Cooke, and ends Bill Cain and Howard Beale. All are veterans and none are freshmen.

Wide Open Football
Always known for a brand of wide open, spectator-pleasing football, Coach Boone has commented that "we should do a lot more passing and open running this season. You have to have the kind of boys who can play that kind of ball before you can use it. I think we have them this year."

Last year, Boone's wide open brand of ball backfired and the club won only one ball game in nine. Most of Boone's starters were inexperienced and young and were not able to master the complex ECC system.

Boone says, "This year, we've got enough depth that we can field a starting team without a single freshman in the lineup. That should help us a lot."

Tonight will be the night that Boone will probably choose his definite starters for next week's Emory and Henry game. The standouts in the Purple-Gold tilt will more than likely get the nod for the opener, September 13.

ACC Coaches In Praising Mood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

These are the days when a football coach, without benefit of pumpkin or mice or stroke of midnight, can look like fairy godmother herself to a struggling young player.

For it must be an extra thrill to the youngster in pre-season practice to be given special praise and the suggestion that he may see a lot of action.

A number of tentative promotions were announced and several players praised during drills yesterday of Atlantic Coast Conference teams, which closed their first week of pre-season fall practice today.

Frank Howard of Clemson, citing hustle and desire, has put junior Doug Daignault in the starting right halfback spot. But for many others he had sterner words.

"Boys," Howard warned, "if you're gonna be good like you're supposed to be, you gotta sacrifice."

At Wake Forest Coach Paul Amen said that sophomore tackle

Taylor Says Stamina Will Be Important

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, star of the opening day's play for the Americas Cup golf trophy, figures the two-day international competition may hurt his chances in next week's United States Amateur tournament.

"There's no question that stamina will be an important factor," said the 41-year-old Pomona, Calif., dentist. "And these two days will take a lot out of me."

Taylor led the United States to its commanding lead, 15 points to 3 for Canada and 4 for Mexico, over the Olympic Country Club's Lake Course where the Amateur championships start Monday. The U. S. has won all three previous cup events.

He won two more in singles, beating the amateur champions of both Canada and Mexico.

Taylor fired a one-under-par 34 for the first nine holes of the 6,800-yard, par 35-35-70 course. He beat Canadian champion Bruce Castor and Mexico's titlist Juan Antonio Estrada 6 and 5 each.

Defending U. S. champion Hillman Robbins of Memphis and ex-champ Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco were shaky.

Robbins and Ward shot a best-ball 60 in the morning, losing to Mexico's Ignacio Lopez Jr. and Enrique Farias Jr. 2 and 1 but winning over Canadians Castor and Eric Hanson 2 up.

Robbins didn't play in the singles. Ward lost to 19-year-old Canadian Gary Cowan 3 and 2.

Ward, playing after a year's suspension for expense money irregularities, said he wasn't unhappy over his play and would be ready to seek his third U.S. championship.

Oklahoma City's Charlie Coe, Red Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and team captain Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., also came out two-point winners in the singles. In the morning Coe and Baxter teamed to earn 11 points.

Patton dropped Bob Kidd of Canada 3 and 1 and Jose Luis Ortega 2 and 1.

Harris Drops Out Of Eppes Football

James Harris, 175-pound All-State football candidate at Eppes High School, announced several days ago that he does not plan to play football this season.

Coach Percy Daniels released the statement today, stating that Harris' reason for dropping off the team were "social." The big fullback dropped out of school and Daniels reports that it is unlikely that he will return.

Rumors have it that the Three-year veteran gridder plans to enter marriage.

With the opening game of the 1958 season less than a week away, Coach Daniels now has to tackle the problem of filling the hard-running Harris' shoes at the fullback post. Harris was regarded by many as the best runner in the state last year and was being tagged a probable All-State and All-Star candidate for 1958. Last season, he powered his way to 80 per cent of all his club's touchdowns.

The first choice to replace the missing fullback will be junior halfback Woodrow Wilson. A two-year veteran with the Bulldogs, Wilson is fast and also a hard runner but lacks the weight of Harris. Wilson weighs 130 pounds. Others working for the position will be Willie Adams, Julius Murphy and Larry Hardy.

Not yet showing up for drills have been veteran quarterback Virgil Lynch and guards James Tell and Alton Davis. Daniels has filled in the quarterback post with Joe Tyson. Tyson broke an ankle in last year's P. S. Jones game, however, and still may receive trouble from it.

The club is working out twice a day in preparation for the opener at Guy Smith Stadium Friday night, with Mary Potter.

Brewer Finally Coming Around

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Tom Brewer, one of the White Sox's best pitchers, finally has come around to perk up the Red Sox' closing shot for second place.

The lean right-hander, just turned 27, didn't get started until after the All-Star game, when the Red Sox were already a dozen games behind first place New York. After winning 35 games in 1956-57, Brewer had won only three of 10 decisions for the first three months of the season.

Now, with the Sox running only a game and a half behind second place Chicago, Brewer has won six straight and seven of his last eight decisions.

Brewer padded his record to 11-10 last night, setting down Baltimore on four singles as Boston chased the Birds 10-2.

Washington blew a 3-0 lead, but beat the Yankees 6-3. The White Sox got past Cleveland 4-3 and Detroit rapped Kansas City 4-1 in the other AL games.

In the National League, rookie George Witt allowed but five hits as Pittsburgh defeated first place Milwaukee 1-0 in 10 innings. Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 2-1 and Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 8-4. San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs were rained out.

The Red Sox socked 14 hits while beating Jack Harshman (11-12). Pete Rummels, who regained the AL batting lead at .324, drove in three runs with a double and a single.

The Senators made it when Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren, now 6-4, walked in three runs with two out in the ninth. Roy Sievers' 35th home run and Albie Pearson's third, a two-run shot, gave the Nats their early lead against 20-game winner Bob Turley. But Russ Kemmerer, who had a no-hitter for five innings, finally was chased in the eighth, when the Yanks scored two for a tie. Dick Hyde (10-3) was the relief winner, and now has figured in more than half of Washington's 56 victories.

A pinch, two-run double by Sherman Lollar and a winning single by Jim Landis brought the White Sox behind in the seventh inning against losing reliever Herb Score (2-3). Early Winn (13-13) was the winner for a 4-0 record against his old mates.

Truman Gibson, head of the International Boxing Club, said Robinson has agreed to defend the middleweight title he lifted from Basilio last March.

Aragon showed the Wrigley Field crowd of 22,500 and a national television audience he had plenty of heart but not the guts to stop the relentlessly punching Chittenango, N.Y., boxer.

The gross rate of $236,521.10 set a California record.

Basilio, former welterweight as well as former middleweight champion, opened with his jungle-style attack and didn't let up until Referee Tommy Hart pulled him from the battered Aragon at 1:27 of the eighth.

Hart moved just as Aragon's corner threw in a towel, traditional symbol of ring defeat.

"I didn't ask for the fight to be stopped," said Aragon, "but I didn't want to go 12 rounds with him, either." It was the first knockout in Aragon's 103-fight career.

Red Devils Show Speed And Power In Victory

High school football made its debut in Pitt County last night with games at Ayden and Farmville. Farmville kicked off the new season with a whopping 39-6 victory over Contentnea in a Coastal Conference tilt, while Ayden took a 13-0 non-conference defeat at the hands of Benvenue.

Coach Elbert Moyer's defending Coastal Conference Champions at Farmville played bone-crushing ball on their home field, lashing out for six touchdowns via the ground and the air, and playing heads-up defensive ball to grind up their opponents impressively.

It was Contentnea's second loss of the early season. They were trampled by LaGrange (another Coastal team) last week.

Equipped with a brand new backfield and an almost-new line, Farmville's football machine operated smoothly and powerfully, with halfbacks Ralph Cash and Alton Hedgepeth ripping off yardage easily and quarterback Howard Moyer filling the air with pinpoint passes.

Quick Score
Farmville scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. Contentnea took the opening kickoff and failed to gain. Lined up to punt, the tailback got a wobbly pass from center and Farmville's Clyde Killebrew broke through to block the punt on the Contentnea 32. Cash took the ball on the first play from scrimmage, dashed through tackle for the TD. He wasn't touched on the play. Clarence Moore bucked over for the extra point.

A stubborn Farmville line corralled the Contentnea offense on its own 29 shortly afterwards and forced another punting situation. Another bad pass from center caused the Contentnea tailback to eat the ball and Farmville took over at that point. Alton Hedgepeth rumbled through to the 15 and Moyer then looped a pass to J. Y. Monk for the score. Moyer sneaked over for the extra point.

In the second quarter, center Joe Flake blocked another punt on the Contentnea 40 to set up Farmville's third touchdown. Hedgepeth took the ball on a handoff and lugged it the entire 40 yards for the score. The extra point attempt failed. It was 20-0.

Contentnea got the ball again but guard Johnny Thorne recovered a fumble for Farmville on the 40. Moyer passed to Cash from there and the little halfback carried for the score. The play covered 25 yards in the air and 17 on the ground. The point-after was not good. It was 26-0 at the half.

More Points
In the second half, Farmville recovered a fumble on the Contentnea 47 and Hedgepeth ripped off another 47-yard gallop to pay dirt. The play was nullified by a penalty. The halfback then took the ball again and weaved his way down to the 18. Moyer passed to Monk on the two and the husky end stepped over for the touchdown. The extra point attempt failed.

In the fourth and final quarter, Contentnea was again stalled by the tough Farmville defense and Farmville took over on their opponents' 44. Quarterback Moyer faked and cut around end, went the full 44 yards for his club's last TD of the night, making it 38-0. Clarence Moore bucked over for the extra point.

With Farmville second-stringers in the lineup, Contentnea pushed across its score late in the game. They drove 46 yards and Bobby Wade bucked over from the eighth. The final score was 39-6.

Outstanding in the defensive and offensive line for the Red Devils were Joe Flake, Clyde Killebrew and Johnny Thorne.

At Ayden
Ayden, inexperienced and small, suffered a 13-0 loss to Benvenue at Ayden. On the first play from scrimmage, Ayden's top quarterback and co-captain Bobby Jean Weathington suffered a back injury that put him out of the game.

With Weathington out, Coach Stuart Tripp worked with Sheridan Rutledge and J. D. Willoughby at the quarterback post. Neither had played varsity ball before.

Benvenue scored in the first half on a three-yard push by right halfback Ray Barnes. He booted the extra point. In the second half, Benvenue guard Kenneth Stallings recovered a fumble in the Ayden end zone for the second touchdown. The extra point attempt failed.

Ayden threatened several times. Just before halftime, they pushed to the Benvenue two-yard line but time ran out. Starring offensively for the "Tornadoes" was fullback Dennis Mills. In the line, Barry Moore and George Jolly were standouts.

Witt Isn't Much Help To Braves

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Milwaukee Braves may have run away with the National League pennant, but they're getting no where fast against rookie right-hander George Witt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The champs have had two runs in with the kid from Laguna Beach, Calif., and haven't scored a run off him yet.

Witt, 24, became the first to hang two shutouts on the Braves this season, by beating Milwaukee 1-0 last night with a five-hitter and Bill Virdon's leadoff home run in the 10th inning.

Witt's only other work against the Braves was a two-hit, 10-0 shutout August 12.

By out-scraping Carl Willey, Witt hoisted the Bucs back into a second place tie with San Francisco, 8½ games behind the Braves. The Giants were idled by rain at Chicago.

Cincinnati rapped Philadelphia

8-4, and Los Angeles, held to three hits, defeated St. Louis 2-1 in the other NL games.

In the American League, Washington defeated first place New York 6-3; the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland 4-3, Boston clobbered Baltimore 10-2 and Detroit knocked off Kansas City 4-1.

Pitching for the first time in nine days, Witt walked four and struck out three, fanning Willey for all of them. Willey (9-5), who gave seven hits and walked four but led nine on base, struck out five, whiffing Witt four times.

The Dodgers got all their hits in the second inning off loser Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. Fred Kipp (6-4) won it with relief help, giving up the run in the second on three of the Cards' seven hits and an infield out.

Senators May Find Support
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators may find unexpected support if they seek American League approval of a move to Minneapolis. They also face opposition if the question comes up at a league meeting next Monday.

Two club owners, Harvey R. Hansen of Detroit and Dan Topping of New York, refused to commit themselves. But Hansen indicated he would not interfere if Senators' President Calvin Griffith pleads a convincing case for transferring the team. Topping hinted he would object.

Detroit had been one of the clubs reported against moving the Senators.

Griffith took steps to keep himself free of local chains at the Monday meeting in Chicago. His attorney prepared to oppose a stockholder's request for a court order temporarily restraining Griffith from discussing a franchise shift.

All The Bears Needed Was Papa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Looks as if all the Chicago Bears needed to get back the winning touch was the return of Papa Bear George Halas as head coach.

With owner Halas back at the full controls after a two-year retirement, the Bears have won four straight National Football League exhibitions. They stand as the only unbeaten club after last night's 24-17 victory over the Detroit Lions before 40,000 in Dallas.

The other 10 NFL teams will see weekend action with four games today and one Sunday. Los Angeles meets the Chicago Cards at Seattle, and tonight, Washington faces Philadelphia in Jacksonville, Fla. New York meets Green Bay at Boston, and Pittsburgh and Baltimore play at Buffalo, N.Y. Cleveland is at San Francisco tomorrow.

Twelve-Mile Limit Claims Provoke General Dispute

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

LONDON (AP)—The claims of Red China and Iceland to waters within 12 nautical miles of their shores have provoked disputes with two of the world's greatest sea powers, the United States and Britain.

The one clear fact to emerge from the tangled complications of those claims is that they cannot be settled in any court of law because there is no uniform international law on sea limits.

Disputes over those limits seem capable of settlement, therefore, only by force or by political negotiation.

In the Icelandic dispute, the British have been urging the nearby Icelanders to sit down and negotiate, meanwhile defying the new limit with their trawlers and gunboats. But with confidence in their case, the Icelanders feel they need only harry the trawlers long enough to emerge the winners.

On the Red Chinese claim, which the United States rejects, there are many more complexities and wider issues. In a sense, it seems to be only a byproduct of the deeper power struggle.

Iceland extended her sea limit last Monday to protect her fishing area. Peiping announced her extension Thursday to buttress her claim to the offshore islands held by her Nationalist enemies on Formosa.

There is no generally accepted international agreement on the breadth of territorial waters because the powers are hopelessly divided on a uniform law of the sea.

Most countries observe a three-mile sea limit. The limit goes back to the 17th century when a nation's shore batteries could reach no more than about three miles.

More than 30 of the 81 United Nations countries apply wider limits. Chile, Ecuador and Peru, for instance, claimed a 200-mile belt in 1953. Primarily to protect fishing, Russia has long claimed a 12-mile limit. So have many non-Communist nations.

There have been several vain attempts to straighten out this tangle, the latest this year.

A U. N. conference in Geneva failed hopelessly to agree on a 73-article law of the sea drafted over eight years by an international law commission whose members included the big four powers.

Tired Hurricane 'Ella' Reaches Coast Of Texas

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Tired tropical storm Ella moved gently into Texas today with intermittent downpours and swelling seas and squalls along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's 4 a. m. (CST) advisory, last planned on Ella, said, "Lower all warnings. Small craft along Texas and Louisiana coasts should remain in port until squalls and seas subside."

At least eight small towns had been evacuated as Ella moved toward the Texas coast and about 1,000 persons, including many tourists, left Mustang Island, about 16 miles from Corpus Christi.

The storm moved inland with little rumpus and at 4 a. m. (CST) was about 20 miles west of here. The Weather Bureau said winds 30 to 40 m.p.h. would continue along the Texas and extreme west Louisiana coasts today and diminish tonight.

High tides along the coast also were expected to fall today, the Weather Bureau said.

At Stinson, Tex., Patrolman H. D. Perkins said heavy rain fell at 4:30 a. m., but southward at Kingsville, Tex., police dispatcher C. L. Skipper said no rain was falling and little wind had been felt. Perkins estimated the wind at Kingsville at 12 m.p.h.

The Weather Bureau said it would issue a new bulletin on the storm at 10 a. m. (CST).

Tides along the middle and upper Texas coasts were running near four feet and were expected to rise another foot. Earlier they had sent water over highways near the beaches.

The storm was expected to move inland near Corpus Christi and then over central Texas to the San Antonio area in the next two days. Rains of up to five inches were forecast.

At least eight small fishing and resort towns in the 200 miles of coast from Corpus Christi north to Galveston were either completely or partially evacuated.

Hospital Bonds Talked At Club

By TOMMY SNOWDEN, Jr.

Dr. R. O. Minges spoke last night at the weekly supper meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. His subject was the proposed expansion issue for Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Minges pointed out that expansion of the present facility is badly needed due to crowded conditions, which at times, necessitates placing patients in halls or overcrowding wards with private beds. The demand for extra beds has also reached the stage that day after day patients are turned away due to lack of beds. This causes a waiting list and delay in admission of elective cases, ranging from two or three days to a week.

The speaker said the estimated cost of the expansion is slightly above $1,500,000. At the time the machinery was set up for the bond election the federal grant was set at 50 per cent of the cost and the county share was 50 per cent. The forthcoming county referendum calls for a $750,000 bond issue.

However, he said, since the machinery was set in motion the North Carolina Medical Care Commission has advised trustees of the hospital that the federal grant has been increased to two-thirds. This will increase the federal participation to one million dollars. Therefore, the Pitt County participation will now be at $500,000 instead of $750,000.

Dr. Minges urged Kiwanians to register and vote and support this much needed improvement to Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Howard Gradis was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Last night's attendance prize was won by Max Ray Joyner. The birthday of Bill Drum was honored. Guests of the club were John G. Clark, Sr., of Greenville, who inaugurated the original hospital project, and Bob Zuluwanya of Montreal, Canada. President J. D. McGlothlin presided.

The monthly meeting of the Kiwanis Board of Directors was held last Thursday evening at Nelson Hopkin's Place in Bruce. Director Charles Gaskins was host. At that meeting it was announced that John D. Barnhill of Greenville, a past Lieutenant governor of the Seventh Kiwanis District, would become a candidate for Governor of the Carolina Kiwanis District, which includes North and South Carolina, for the period 1960-1961. His candidacy will be announced formally at the Carolina's District Kiwanis Convention to be held in Asheville October 5, 6 and 7.

Directors and officers attending the Thursday night meeting were: W. O. Moore, Leonard Bloxam, Earl Bloom, J. G. Proctor, Charles Gaskins, W. S. Corbett, Harry R. Billea, J. D. McGlothlin, John O. Reynolds, John A. Collins, Jr., and Charles Blair. Guests were John D. Barnhill, James Brewer, Robert Elks, Ken Beatty, and J. T. Snowden, Jr.

Furnishings And Sales Course Set For Next Week

T. Penn Coleman, Training Director of the Southern Retail Furniture Association, will be the instructor for a Home Furnishings and Salesmanship Course, scheduled here next week.

The course, sponsored by the Greenville Furniture Dealers Association, starts Monday night and continues through Thursday night. Association President J. R. Laughinghouse stated this morning that the course, to be taught in the Junior High School Gymnasium, runs from 7 until 9:30 each night.

Subjects to be taught are: Personal Qualifications for Successful Selling; "Nine Steps to Successful Selling"; "Basic Fundamentals in Selling"; "Scale Plan Drawing and 'Home Selling'"; "Science of Color"; "Color Co-ordination"; and "Customer Buying Motives."

Films will be shown to crystallize subjects covered in these lectures.

In addition to conducting the classes in the evening, Coleman will work with those enrolled in their respective stores on individual problems during the day. Laughinghouse explained.

Coleman, who has 40 years of experience in the retail furniture selling, has extensive experience in lecturing and teaching adult groups. He has conducted many successful Furniture Sales Schools in the Southeastern States. In addition, he conducts and teaches in the High Point Furniture School and is Director of the Furniture Management Program sponsored by the University of North Carolina and the Distributive Education Service.

Laughinghouse said that six furniture dealers from Washington and two from Belhaven have signed up for the course, as well as a number of local retailers.

Long Range Plan Inaugurated At Farmville High

FARMVILLE—Long-range planning for extracurricular activities has been initiated this year at Farmville High School.

Principal Sam D. Bundy said today the high school band has already accepted an invitation to participate in Duke University's Band Day October 11. Duke will observe its homecoming on that date, highlighted by the Blue Devils' football game with Baylor University.

The Class of 1959 has begun preliminary planning for its annual educational and sightseeing trip to Washington, D. C. and New York during the first week of November.

Principal Bundy also said that graduation exercises for the Seniors have been set for May 25, with Dr. Arthur S. Wenger, president of Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, delivering the commencement address.

Umstead Portrait Is Unveiled At College

A portrait of the late William B. Umstead, Governor of North Carolina, 1953-1954 was unveiled Friday afternoon at East Carolina College in ceremonies conducted in the Joyner Memorial Library.

John D. Larkins, Jr., of Trenton, former state senator and for many years Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee in a brief eulogy of the late Governor placed emphasis on his services to the state and his fine qualities as a private citizen.

"His great heart . . . yearned to be of service to his people," Mr. Larkins said as he traced Governor Umstead's career as Congressman, Senator, and Governor.

Miss Merle Umstead of Durham, daughter of Governor Umstead, drew the curtains from the portrait as it was presented to the college. Mrs. Umstead, now a member of the East Carolina Board of Trustees, was present for the unveiling exercises.

In accepting the picture for East Carolina, President John D. Messick of the college expressed appreciation for the interest shown by Governor Umstead in furthering the progress of the institution. Dr. Messick announced that the picture would be hung in Umstead Hall, men's dormitory at the college, which was named in honor of the Governor.

The portrait is the work of Mrs. Grace B. Gilmore, New Bern artist, who painted it for Mr. Larkins. He in turn decided to give it to East Carolina College. A handsome frame was given by Frank M. Wooten, Greenville attorney and representative from Pitt County in the North Carolina General Assembly. Both Mrs. Gilmore and Mr. Wooten were present at the ceremony.

Falkland Ruritan Plans Support Baseball Team

At its September supper meeting Thursday night, the Falkland Ruritan Club made plans for raising money to support the Little League team it sponsors in the North Tar River circuit, the Belvoir-Falkland Eagles.

Under the leadership of Ruritan members Pete Norville, Eugene James and Roy Stancil, the Eagles achieved a 14-7 record during the summer, their first season of play. Pitcher Eugene Hudson won 7 and lost 2, while reliever David Warren won four, with no defeats. This was the Falkland-Belvoir area's first Little League team.

The Ruritans also elected Eugene James their new secretary, replacing Dan Wooten, who is leaving to enter service. President T. N. Warren also directed the planning of the Community Barbecue Supper, which will be held on Friday, September 12th, with all profits going to the Falkland Community Building.

Low And Medium Quality Tobacco Dominate Sales

Offerings of low and medium quality tips continued to dominate sales on the Greenville Tobacco Market yesterday, with only a scattering of better leaf and a small percentage of lugs and primings being sold by the farmer.

The market sold 1,897,168 pounds of tobacco for $961,511.91, averaging $50.68 per 100 pounds.

Thus far this season Greenville has sold 14,026,118 pounds of tobacco for $7,500,690.30. For the first 11 days the average is $53.48.

Company purchases, according to Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee, continue as high as $73 for cutters and top leaf tobacco. Medium and good quality lugs and primings are still selling at an all time high, he noted.

Fire Was Out As Firemen Arrived

Early this morning firemen were called to a burning truck at the corner of Fifth and Greene streets.

Dick Manning, occupant of the truck owned by William Wainwright, had the flames extinguished when the fire fighters arrived at the scene. A flooded carburetor was blamed for the fire.

Damage was minor.

Lutz & Schramm Announce Merger

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Merger of Lutz & Schramm, Inc. and Beatrice Foods Co., of Chicago was announced here yesterday in a joint statement by Joseph V. Hoglund, vice president of Lutz & Schramm, and William G. Karnes, president of Beatrice Foods.

The merger also includes the affiliated companies, Squire Dungey, Chicago, and Brown-Miller Co., New Orleans.

The firm will operate with the same management, personnel, products, brand names, manufacturing plants and processes, the announcement said.

Lutz & Schramm will become an independent division of Beatrice-Foods Co.

Lutz & Schramm employs an average of approximately 725 people, produces pickles and relishes.

Farmville Market Has $52.93 Day

FARMVILLE — Friday the local market sold 755,236 pounds of tobacco for $399,747.04, averaging $52.93 a hundred.

Sales Superior Charles Edwards reported offerings of low and medium quality tips have dominated sales all week. He noted that local tobaccoists expect the farmer to begin marketing his better quality leaf around the middle of next week.

Thus far this season, Farmville has sold 5,610,970 pounds of tobacco for an average of $54.27. For the first 11 sale days, the market is about one million pounds ahead of last year.

Yesterday company purchased ranged up to $74, a season's high. Good quality tobacco continues to sell strong.

Edwards said heavy sales are anticipated all next week.

Bound Over For Shotgun Slaying

FARMVILLE — Oscar Joyner, local Negro charged with murdering a friend here on August 23, has been bound over to the next term of Pitt County Superior Court.

Joyner was given a preliminary hearing this morning. He reportedly admitting shooting Robert Lee Roberson following an argument over a 30 cents poker debt.

Hodges Broadens News Conferences

By LYNN NISBET
RALEIGH — Governor Hodges has scheduled a news conference in Asheville for September 19, and is planning one for the eastern part of the state, probably Greenville, sometime in October. He staged a similar conference in Charlotte for the Piedmont area a few weeks ago.

These regional conferences were arranged after it appeared that the general state-wide sessions in Raleigh were not well attended. Avowed purpose of the special all-state conferences at Raleigh, as distinguished from the weekly routine office sessions with reporters and cameras, was to give the non-daily and smaller papers opportunity to participate. They didn't show much interest, either in the Raleigh or Charlotte conferences. Extent of participation in the Asheville and Greenville sessions will determine whether the policy will be continued.

Radio and television, particularly television, have just about destroyed any value the "press conferences" may have had in the past. Fact is, nobody except the Governor's typist who makes up the weekly list of appointments calls them "press conferences" now. They are called news conferences, or conferences with reporters. The writing reporters, the boys and girls with pencils and notebooks, can hardly get into the conference room over the barricade of radio and television mechanical equipment. And before anything they write can be processed by typewriters and printing presses, the sound and picture recordings have already been put on the air, in exactly the words and with facial expression of the main participants in the conference.

Because of fidelity in portraying expression, vocal and facial, the television folks insist their reports

Fears Possible French Dictator

PARIS (AP) — Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France says Charles de Gaulle may not intend to become a dictator but his proposed constitution would pave the way for a successor with such aspirations.

Blasting De Gaulle's proposed Fifth Republic charter as "dangerous for the country, for civil peace and for democratic institutions" in a speech to Radical party followers yesterday, Mendes-France conceded that De Gaulle might not seize dictatorial powers under such a constitution.

"But after him . . ." he demanded.

Mendes-France said that if the French people defeat De Gaulle's constitution in the Sept. 28 referendum, he and his party will call for election of a new constituent assembly to meet in November.

Such an assembly, he said, would draw up a concise constitution within a month.

The De Gaulle constitution would greatly increase the powers of the president at the expense of the now all-powerful National Assembly and would set up a new community of France and her overseas territories.

Guardsmen Join War On Disease

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico National Guardsmen started spraying 350 miles of Dona Ana county drainage ditches today. They are infested with encephalitis-carrying mosquitoes.

Gov. Edwin Mechem, after a meeting of public health officials and National Guard officers, proclaimed an emergency in the area.

Three deaths have been attributed to encephalitis in southern New Mexico. Subject to laboratory confirmation, 17 cases have been diagnosed as such.

The Dona Ana County situation is not considered an epidemic yet, the state health director, Stanley J. Leland, said. He indicated the situation could be controlled in a month.

Warns Labor Will Be Loser

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Labor will be the loser if corrective legislation doesn't result from the Senate labor investigations, the Missouri State Labor Council was told yesterday.

William I. Schnitzler of Washington, national secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO, discussed abuses uncovered by the probe. "We must have corrective legislation to make sure the abuses don't ever happen again," he said. "If we don't get the legislation only three or four years will go by before we have the same kind of exposures, only with different names in the headlines."

are more accurate and less biased. This writing reporter challenges that claim. It might be true in cases where the entire speech or program is put on the air; certainly it is not where an editor cuts out 25 minutes of a 30 minute interview, and presents only five minutes he likes, or that in his judgment is important.

Such complete accuracy for only a part of the statement often gives a more warped idea than the most biased analysis of the whole.

Regardless of the complete accuracy of reporting, the fact is that radio and television have taken away the urge of many writing reporters to attend "press conferences" at which the press is relegated to background position.

Through the centuries there has been rivalry among newspapers for "scoops" on news stories. Afternoon and morning papers have waged many battles over timing of releases that could be controlled on important announcements. The time doesn't matter much any more, because the air waves get the story before any newspaper can be printed. Yet when the Governor wants to set up a special news conference, his office calls upon the newspapers to arrange it.

The situation isn't as unfair to newspapers as might appear on the surface. Most people who hear news casts buy a newspaper to read the full story and find out what really happened.

Hard Struggle, But On His Way

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One day Tom Heinrichs had a long talk with himself.

He came to the conclusion that he would never have peace of mind until he followed his calling — the ministry.

"All during my life it seems that everything kept drawing me to this end," he said as he began classes yesterday at Western Theological Seminary.

"If everything goes right, in three years I'll be ordained minister of the church."

Heinrichs, 29, is the father of two children and a former salesman, photographer and newspaper reporter.

In pursuit of his calling, Heinrichs left his job as a Pittsburgh appliance salesman a few years ago.

He entered Waynesburg, Pa., college and completed a four-year history course in three years.

To finance his education, he became a commercial photographer and later a reporter for the Waynesburg Democrat-Messenger.

Heinrichs recalls it was a financial struggle to keep the family going, but, as he puts it: "Even when we were down to our last few dollars, something always happened to keep us going."

Golf, according to some historians of the sport, was first played in Holland and not in Scotland where it is, more or less, the national game.

Pitt Hospital Is Described As Major Asset

BETHEL — Pitt Memorial Hospital was described here last night as "one of Pitt County's biggest assets in county negotiations with industrial prospects" in a talk to members of the Bethel Lions Club by County Attorney W. W. Speight.

Speight said the hospital was considered "a major attraction" by industrial representatives with whom he has met. Beyond that, he added, the combination of the hospital and the Pitt County Health Department has "created the right atmosphere to attract the best doctors and specialists to every town in Pitt County."

The attorney also discussed overcrowded conditions at the hospital and the importance of a September 27 election in which county residents will be asked to approve a $750,000 bond issue to provide additional beds and facilities at the hospital.

Only A Bubble
APPALACHIA, Va. (AP) — Views of an outer space convention in the southwest Virginia mountains evaporated yesterday when power company workers said a giant bubble had been manufactured right on the spot. Crewmen for the Old Dominion Power Co. were called in late Thursday night when a bright glow from the top of Wise County's Stone Mountain lit the sky. They toiled up the mountain, and there it was—a ball about three feet in diameter and glowing brightly.

Calls went out for the Atomic Energy Commission to see if it was radioactive. Some residents were convinced it was a meteor, a flying saucer, a space ship.

The linemen gave support to the meteor theory. One leg of a 55-foot steel power line tower looked as though it had been smashed by a heavy blow.

But then came the dawn. What had seemed so mysterious in the dark turned out to be nothing but a bubble of molten glass-like silicate formed when a 34,500-volt power line shorted out and fell onto sandstone.

Life's Savings Given To NAACP
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A retired Oakland domestic servant has given most of her life savings — $10,000 — to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Mattie Dickson, 83, who had invested earnings made in 26 years as a servant, said she turned the money over to NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins to help fight the "disgraceful abuses in American democracy."

FOUND PLATES
ST. LOUIS (AP) — A construction crew uncovered a set of plates for counterfeit $5 bills — 30 years too old to do counterfeiters any good. The plates, turned up by a bulldozer, were for bills of the old "horseblanket" type, out of use since 1928. Bills then were about twice as big as they are now.

Convicts Flee In Hail Of Bullets

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP) — Two prisoners escaped from the Oklahoma State Penitentiary last night by scaling the front wall through a hail of bullets fired by tower guards.

The fugitives were identified as Edward Lee Lyles, 29, serving a 15-year sentence for second degree burglary from Oklahoma County, and Charles Jackson Kallenback, 34, serving 3 years for second degree forgery from Grady County.

The convicts were believed to have been picked up by the driver of a grey sedan bearing California license tags. Guards told the state highway patrol the car had been seen in the vicinity earlier.

Lyles formerly was a member of the Gene Paul Norris gang, which roamed the southwest for several years.

Clear 21 Cases From County Court's Docket

Twenty-one cases were cleared this week from the criminal docket of Pitt County Recorder's Court by Solicitor James C. Lanier Jr. and Judge Elmer James.

Judgments which were returned included:

James Hirst Parker, Negro, Route 2, Washington, N.C., attempting to obtain an operator's license by fraud, 30 days suspended upon payment of $10 and costs; Denver Goddard, Negro, Route 2, Washington, attempting to obtain an operator's license by fraud, 90 days suspended upon payment of $10 and costs.

Schools' White Pupils Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 73.8 per cent of the enrollment in District of Columbia public schools opening next Monday will be Negroes, school officials estimate. It was 71.2 per cent last year.

Enrollment of white pupils in the public schools in the nation's capital has decreased steadily since 1955. Negroes have outnumbered whites since 1950. The schools were integrated in 1954.

Estimates made public yesterday by School Supt. Carl F. Hansen were that this year's enrollment will total 113,500, of which 83,783 will be Negroes and 29,717 whites.

Many District of Columbia parents are known to have shifted their children to nonpublic schools since public schools were integrated.

Most nonpublic schools also are integrated, but in some cases tuition charges discourage many Negro families from enrolling their children in them.

Numerous Washington families with school-age children also have moved across the line into Virginia or into neighborhoods of nearby Maryland where there is little or no Negro population.

Three Children In Family Die
CLEVELAND (AP) — Three young children from one family were burned to death last night in an attic apartment fire which arson squad members said was started by an older brother.

The victims were Marilyn and Marilyn Clemens, 2-year-old twins, and Elmira Clemens, 8 months. The third story attic apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Clemens, who were visiting a neighbor, was destroyed in the $5,000 fire.

Firemen said Rudolph Jr., 5, admitted playing with matches and starting the fire. They said a sister, Lillian, 4, was with him. Both ran out safely when flames whipped through the apartment on the east side. The father, returning home, turned in the alarm.

Typhoon Left 13 Dead On Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Police said today Typhoon Grace killed 13 persons, injured at least 17 and left eight missing in northern Formosa.

The 115-mile-an-hour winds and torrential rains of the year's worst Pacific storm made 2,500 persons homeless, knocked out communications and electrical power, and caused damage to crops estimated at several million dollars.

Another Gate Is Shut On Dr. Sheppard's Freedom

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another gate has swung shut on Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard in his fight for freedom from Ohio Penitentiary. He is serving a life term for the 1954 slaying of his wife Marilyn.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court denied the 36-year-old Cleveland osteopath a writ of habeas corpus yesterday. If granted, the writ would have required Warden Ralph W. Alvis to show why Sheppard should remain in custody.

carry the fight to other courts, but what action they'll take hasn't been made clear. They previously indicated they would carry the fight into the U.S. district court if Judge Weyandt turned them down.

Judge Weyandt held an informal hearing on the application Tuesday. In his statement disallowing the application yesterday, he said Sheppard was convicted in a trial court having jurisdiction over both person and subject matter, and the judgment of that conviction was reviewed and affirmed. Habeas corpus is not a substitute for the usual process of appeal or for use in redetermining Sheppard's guilt or innocence, he continued.

Sheppard has claimed all along that a bushy-haired intruder fatally bludgeoned his pregnant wife Marilyn before dawn of July 4, 1954. He said the intruder knocked him out in fleeing Sheppard's Bay Village home west of Cleveland.

Convicted of second degree murder, Sheppard was sentenced to a life term in Ohio Penitentiary in 1955. He has been serving as a nurse in the prison hospital at Columbus.

The case has been appealed all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court without success.

One of Sheppard's lawyers, William J. Corrigan, insists that authorities withheld evidence which would have favored Sheppard at the trial, and that scientific investigation shows Sheppard is innocent. He did not elaborate.

The chief assistant prosecutor of Cuyahoga County (Cleveland), Saul Danaceau, said however that all substantial evidence was presented. He insists Sheppard had a fair trial.

Fee For Opening Her 'Piggy Bank'

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Earl D. Pope wanted a piggy bank she couldn't shake money out of until she was ready to pay her tuition at Joplin Junior College. She thought of the gas tank of her car.

Mechanics took it off this week and removed $45 in small change. This was more than enough for the enrollment fee.

Also for the $5 the mechanics charged for removing the tank.

CHAPTER 35
Colin and Macklyn Campbell, and Watt Sackett and Tracey Hamlin marched through the clearing to Quail Wings.
They started up the drive and met a man and a boy driving a team of mules. With a start, Colin recognized the same blocky, beefy Ned Hale who had once appeared before him in Denbury court. Now Hale affected as easy familiarity which he wouldn't have dared assume before the war. "Howdy, Macklyn. You home to stay?"

"And call me Watt," Watt Sackett said.
Colin was charmed, but he could not rid himself of a feeling that the scene before him was not taking place at all. Betsie was offering a masquerade and all the guests were to come as soldiers who had just finished fighting a desperate war. The drawingroom was altered to conform to the motif of the party and was not really a place where Betsie worked in a makeshift kitchen and slept in a bed just outside it. She turned to Colin and laughed.
"Will accommodate you most elegantly. In the drawingroom and three of the bedrooms are the only ceilings that don't leak when it rains."

"Thankie, ma'am," Tracey murmured. "Name's Tracey."
Colin recalled her to Watt and Tracey, whom she had met at the housewarming at Campbell Hill four years ago. "Messrs. Sackett and Hamlin, do you remember my brother's wife, Mrs. Macklyn Campbell?"

Indicate Belief Something 'Phony' In Red China Noise

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have indicated they detect something phony in Red China's noise over the Chinese offshore islands.
If Peiping has taken it upon itself to raise a real threat of war in the Formosa Strait, the American response will give Communist China's allies, the Soviets, some food for serious thought.

Band Is Playing From Memory

NEW YORK (AP)—With $1,500 worth of sheet music missing, the Glenn Miller orchestra at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel has to play some favorite tunes from memory.
The theft of the music was discovered when the 17-member band assembled to play last night at the hotel's Starlight Roof. The orchestra is led by Ray McKinley.

Memorial Baptist Announcements

The W. M. U. will meet Monday evening at 8:00 at the church. An installation service of officers will be conducted by Mrs. J. B. Spilman. All members are urged to be present.
The board of Deacons will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the church.

Seeks 'Star Of Hope' Support

NEW YORK (AP)—A North Carolina publisher has left for Switzerland where he hopes to obtain scientific backing for a "Star of Hope" satellite.
John McConnell, co-publisher of the Toe Valley View, a weekly newspaper in Bakersville, N.C., will ask scientists attending an atomic energy conference in Geneva to sign a declaration of friendship.

The Ranger Shot Self In Mishap

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Texas Ranger Buddy Hendricks went to a party for law enforcement officers and borrowed a pistol to do a little target shooting. His hand flashed to the holster in the best tradition. Then, bang, Hendricks shot himself in the right calf.
"This'll teach me to use someone else's gun," the red-faced Ranger said, explaining the sight hung in the holster.
