Mikoyan, Dulles Hold Talks Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anastas I. Mikoyan and Secretary of State Dulles met today for talks on the East-West deadlock over German unification and the future of disputed Berlin.

Their discussion could lead to an early, high level East-West meeting on the whole range of German problems. Today's session—the second during Mikoyan's two-weeks visit to this country—was described by diplomats as strictly a probing operation with each of the veteran antagonists of the cold war seeking to discover possible weaknesses or concessions in the policies of the other.

Mikoyan, No. 2 man in the Soviet Union, arrived at the State Department in a Soviet Embassy limousine. On a nearby corner half-a-dozen Hungarian pickets displayed their nation's flag with a black ribbon of mourning.

Airport Leased To Air Service Corporation

An air-service corporation which controls airports in Rocky Mount, New Bern, and Goldsboro, yesterday was named holder of a new lease for base operations at the Pitt Greenville Airport.

Chairman of the Pitt Greenville Airport Commission, Wesley Harvey, said yesterday that "the commission is happy to announce the execution of a lease for the base operations of the airport to Mr. L. P. Broadfield of the Rocky Mount Air Service. We feel that the new Service has the equipment and past experience that will afford the much-needed flying facilities for Greenville and the surrounding community. We are happy to have them with us."

Broadfield, President of the Rocky Mount Air Service, arrived in Greenville yesterday to accept the lease from Harvey.

The new corporation, Broadfield said, will begin immediately to extend general aviation business, including all phases of flying from student instruction, over-hauling, charter trips, "everything except air-line service."

Broadfield commented that his corporation "hopes to clean up the airport and give the people of Greenville and this area a good aviation business."

In charge of all flying operations at the airport under the new corporation will be Dick Harmon, formerly of Rocky Mount. Assisting Harmon will be Tom O'Dell, who was in charge of operations at the Goldsboro Airport formerly.

The new airport corporation has begun to make arrangements for the training of R.O.T.C. students from East Carolina College and will begin enrolling veteran students soon.

Said Harmon, "Up to now, many of the people in this area have been going to Rocky Mount to do their flying and learning. We hope to give them service here now."

Siegel said the man had threatened his life and that of his wife, Ruth, if he did not furnish the money in $100 bills.

Castro Firm In Continuing His Execution Policy

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says Cuba's revolutionary regime wants good relations with the United States, but not at the price of halting executions because of American criticism.

Castro warned Thursday against any U.S. intervention to stop executions ordered by military courts for murder and torture during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

"If the United States comes here, we will make trenches in the streets," the rebel leader told the Havana Rotary Club. The State Department said in Washington that American policy was "strictly one of nonintervention in Cuban domestic affairs."

Noting some U.S. congressional protests to the executions, Asst. Secretary of State Roy Rubottom said, "We are not going to interfere in what is essentially Cuba's affairs."

To avoid misunderstanding, the U.S. Navy canceled previous plans for 3,000 U.S. Marines en route to maneuvers near Puerto Rico to stop at the American Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Castro earlier Thursday, in remarks to a group in his hotel lobby, had said that if U.S. Marines are sent to Cuba "200,000 gringos will die." Gringo is the derogatory Latin American term for U.S. citizens. There are 12,000 of them in Cuba.

Castro later told the Rotary Club he had not realized this comment would be published but he stood by it.

The rebel chief's vision of U.S. troops landing in Cuba apparently stemmed from demands by critics in the U.S. Congress that the United States do something to stop the Cuban firing squads.

One of the loudest of these critics, Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), said he meant economic retaliation, not the sending of troops.

"We want good relations with the United States—yes. But submission—no," Castro told the Rotary Club.

The execution of what the revolutionary regime calls war criminals will continue, Castro said, "cost what it costs." He said all executions would be carried out within the law.

With the total of reported executions at 197, the provisional government acted belatedly to legalize the death sentences already carried out.

A government decree modified the provision of Cuba's 1940 constitution prohibiting capital punishment.

In his refuge in the Dominican Republic, Batista called the executions "perverse attempts to justify (rebel) crimes."

Batista called "a disgraceful column" statement of the provisional government that 20,000 persons were tortured and murdered between Batista's coup of 1952 and his fall two weeks ago.

The State Department authorized Mrs. Batista to visit the United States by herself to see her daughter Marta, 2, who is ill in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Urge Action On New Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional pressures mounted today for the prompt naming of a new U.S. ambassador to Cuba, where the revolutionary government says it plans more executions.

Demands for a new ambassador to replace Earl E. T. Smith who resigned last Saturday came with strong congressional criticism of the executions as developments piled up on several fronts:

1. The State Department assured Congress it is standing pat on its policy of not interfering in the affairs of its neighbors. It denies charges the United States had given military help to ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista.

2. The Navy ordered a task group that includes 3,000 Marines diverted from an intended stop at Cuba "to avoid any misunderstanding."

3. Rebel leader Fidel Castro said he wanted good relations with the United States, but cautioned against any U.S. intervention in Cuba. Castro vowed 200,000 gringos (U.S. citizens) will die if Marines are sent to Cuba.

4. Batista charged executions by Castro's rebels are "perverse attempts to justify their crimes." He denied he used torture methods during the revolution.

The call for prompt naming of a successor to Smith, who was in disfavor with the rebels, was spearheaded by Sens. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and John Sparkman (D-Ala) after Asst. Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom talked with congressional leaders.

The most important thing we can do now," Morse said, "is to get an ambassador there. Steps are being taken quickly to accomplish that end. That will give us a direct line of contact with the Cuban government to make clear our point of view."

appointment of a new ambassador. He added he feels any drastic action against the new government "would be premature at this time."

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Latin American subcommittee which Morse heads, said "we should continue to use our good offices to persuade the new government to pursue a course of moderation and judicial procedure."

Rubottom met with the Senate and House Foreign Affairs subcommittees in closed-door sessions.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), chairman of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, said after the session with Rubottom that the State Department did not indicate it would go as far as he would like it to.

Hays proposed a formal protest to the Cuban government about the executions. He said if that accomplishes nothing, he would favor economic pressures like a trade embargo and a ban on travel in Cuba by U.S. tourists.

Both Democrats and Republicans applauded Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) when he told the House President Eisenhower should publicly express horror and indignation at the executions. Celler suggested the President place the matter before the United Nations.

Reps. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) and Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) took a different view. They said the executions had been carried out fairly and publicly.

Distinguished Service Award Winner

COMMUNITY'S OUTSTANDING YOUNG MAN . . . Blair, presented award; Taylor, recipient; Scales, master of ceremonies.

W. C. Taylor, Jr. Named Winner Of Jaycee DSA

W. C. (Bill) Taylor Jr., local businessman, last night received the Jaycees' coveted Distinguished Service Award as the community's Outstanding Young Man of 1958.

The club's highest award was presented to Taylor at the annual Bosses Night dinner. The presentation was made by Tully D. Blair, president of Security Life and Trust Co. of Winston-Salem.

Taylor was the 13th person to receive the annual award since 1946.

In presenting the award, Blair lauded Taylor as "a quiet man who goes about helping whoever and whenever he can."

"Many of his good works go unpublicized, known only to his closest friends," he declared.

As speaker for the evening, Blair told the Jaycees and their guests that "the most vital thing that we face in this country is the curbing of inflation."

"It is a most common, low down ordinary thief," he declared. "I appeal to you young men to block this thing called inflation in every way that you can. You cannot render a more important service to your country."

He pointed out that the nation "has developed in this country a type of business and economy which is not matched in this world. And what we don't always realize, it has never been matched in the world."

"We live in a country where man can do anything he wants to do, as long as it does not infringe on the rights of others."

He told the group that the road to opportunity is still there. However, he said, "there are things which are trying to close the road off for you Jaycees and for your boys and girls as they come along."

top award, Club President John Ray Hardy gave certificates of merit to project chairmen who had done outstanding jobs during the year.

Those receiving awards and their projects included: Milton Williamson, Outstanding Young Farmer of North Carolina project; Alvin Taylor, highway safety sign on courthouse lawn; Billy Laughinghouse, first aid room at Rose High School; Dr. M. W. Aldridge, Jaycee Eye Bank Program; Dick Greene and Bill Ellington, hubcap markings; Dr. Sam T. C. Taylor Jr., Christmas baskets.

A special award was presented by President Hardy to Frank Diener for outstanding all-around club service.

The committee which chose the DSA winner was announced by Scales last night. They were: David Evans, Wesley Harvey, Larry Brown, L. S. Picklen and Robert Lee Humber.

The committee remains secret until the night of the presentation. DSA winners are chosen from nominations received by the committee. They must be in the Jaycee age group but they do not necessarily have to be club members.

Past DSA winners in Greenville are: Godfrey P. Oakley, 1946; Tom W. Wilson, 1947; Larry Averette, 1948; V. C. Fleming Jr., 1949; David J. Whitchard Jr., 1950; Lester E. Turnage, 1951; Louis W. Gaylord, 1952; J. B. Kittrell Jr., 1953; Ben Rouse, 1954; Dan Saleed, 1955; Dr. M. W. Aldridge, 1956; W. M. Scales Jr., 1957.

Scales also recognized Joe Stone, a two time DSA winner, once in Sanford and once in Rocky Mount; John Drake, DSA winner in Winston-Salem, and James W. Butler, DSA winner in Goldsboro.

came Miss North Carolina and from there she went on to become a finalist in the Miss America pageant.

But they were only a few of the accomplishments of the man who Security Life and Trust Co. President Tully Blair described as one who has "demonstrated his ability and willingness to be more than an arm-chair leader."

While he is in office all the regular projects of the club were carried out such as the Teen-age Road-e-o, Christmas basket project, light bulb sale, scrap paper drives, Christmas parade float, Voice of Democracy and Rome's Rides.

In addition there were many special projects: hub cap markings, March of Dimes, rejuvenation of safety sign on courthouse lawn, first aid equipment for room at Rose High, eye bank participation, bloodmobile, horseless carriage show and safety check lane.

Atlas Failed To 'Go The Route'

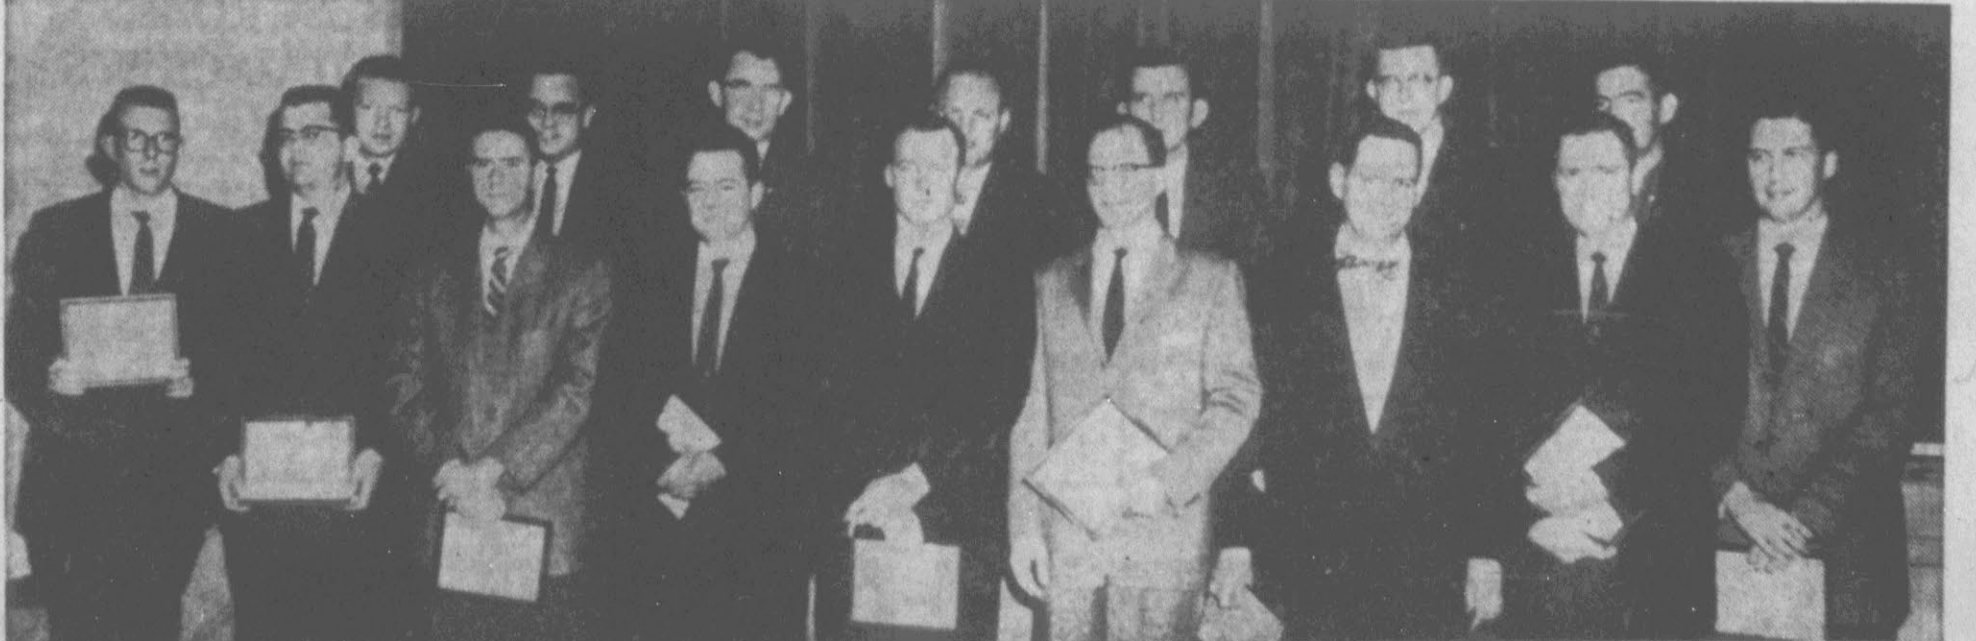

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A powerful Atlas missile failed to go the full route on the latest attempt to break the intercontinental range barrier.

The 80-foot war rocket soared off on what appeared to be a perfect start but today the Air Force said it flew less than 200 miles. It said trouble developed in the rocket engine system.

The Air Force shot an Atlas the full 6,000 miles intercontinental route for the first time last Nov. 28.

Since that time the rocket has scored two more spectacular successes by orbiting as a satellite and blazing some 4,300 miles over the ocean range.

The Thursday night effort actually was the third intercontinental range attempt. The first try ended in a violent blowup 90 seconds after launching Sept. 18.

30 Years Ago Today

January 16, 1929
 Sales on the Greenville Tobacco Market passed today the goal of 70 million pounds set for the year. The market will close on January 31. Farmers are urged to market the remainder of their crop as soon as possible. Reaching the goal was the realization of a great dream which had its inception at the end of last season when the market set the greatest record of history by the sale of over 60 million pounds. There were many who prophesied failure when the goal line was moved up 10 million pounds at the conclusion of last season.

In most of the foreign countries New Year's Day is the most celebrated day of the year, including Christmas.
 After the program, the guests were invited into the dining room where a salad course and coffee were served.

Citrus Fruits Have Short Season

RALEIGH—Food shoppers are advised by Mrs. Ruby Uzile and John W. Hagen, consumer marketing specialists for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, to enjoy the citrus fruits now because these fruits have a relatively short season.
 Bananas carry a higher price tag this week. Apples from storage are in good supply with attractive prices.
 Many fresh winter vegetables are coming from the southern producing areas. Turnips, greens, Irish and sweet potatoes, rutabagas, dry onions and carrots are of good quality.
 The poultry counter is the place for budget purchasers. Even though a slight price increase is found on the broilers, poultry remains the most economical protein food on the market.
 For top value in money, choose the large eggs; they are priced within less than five cents of the medium size.
 Pork is the most economical red meat buy this week. Although beef remains about steady in price, many featured specials will give the homemaker an opportunity to buy various cuts of beef at attractive prices.

Flower Beauty Topic Of Afternoon Talk

"The Beauty of Flowers" was the topic Mrs. Marie Cox chose when she spoke to the Brookgreen Garden Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ruland Davenport.
 After being introduced by Mrs. Hoover Taft, program chairman, Mrs. Cox stated, "A child could not be brought up in the church and not have a thought of religion when he saw flowers."
 The speaker demonstrated by arranging several different bouquets of flowers for different places in a home. One arrangement was for a dining room table, another for a table in hall under a large table, and one was for a console table which had a mirror behind it.
 Mrs. Cox used the new color combination of orchid, coral, and picardy in an arrangement which was placed in a wooden container to be used in a den.
 She stressed the importance of covering the frog or oasis in which the flowers are stuck, to arrange the flowers, the use of ivy to fill in around the flowers, the use of the appropriate container for the room and occasion needed.
 Mrs. Jasper Tripp presided during the business meeting due to the absence of Mrs. Leo Jenkins. Mrs. Plato Evans reported the progress on the project of securing bronze plaques to be used on the proposed gate posts that the club plans to put at the entrance of Brookgreen.
 A nominating committee for the election of officers was chosen. Mrs. Alvin Bunting was elected chairman and Mrs. A. C. Ruffin and Mrs. Charles Gaskins, committee members.
 Mrs. O. C. Zechel, mother of Mrs. Moye Dail, was acknowledged as a guest.
 Coffee, sandwiches, cookies, nuts and mints were served to the members by the hostess, Mrs. Davenport.

Miss Carson Party Honoree

GRIFTON — Little Miss Cindy Carson celebrated her third birthday on Friday and for the occasion had as luncheon guests Jessie Fleming, Ann Troutman, Ann Sanford and John McArthur.
 Guests were greeted by the honor guest and her mother, Mrs. Jack Carson, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. D. C. Carson Sr. of Bethel.
 The luncheon table was covered with a pink and white cloth and held as the centerpiece the decorated pink and white cake with the three candles. This was later cut and served with ice cream as dessert.

Water, Water, Everywhere

RALEIGH — Water, water, everywhere—especially on the windows!
 Owners of compact new homes often experience considerable moisture condensation on windows and walls of their homes.
 W. C. Warrick, agricultural engineering specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, suggests an easy remedy for houses without a basement or those with an unfinished basement.
 Use a "soil cover" to prevent moisture from damp soil under the house from getting into the house. It is important to note that moisture may evaporate from even seemingly dry soil.
 You could use 55 roll roofing or waterproof plastic sheet material for the "soil cover." Completely cover the ground under the house, overlapping the cracks several inches.
 This method has proved its success where other attempts to control the moisture have failed.

 Want to fashion dainty holders for nuts and mints at any kind of a shower? Take a small size lacy paper doily and dip it in melted paraffin wax. As it cools work swiftly and shape it in the shape of an umbrella top. Attach a pipe cleaner for a handle bending it in the shape of a handle. This can be attached with melted wax. You can make these any color by adding wax crayon to the wax and melt them both together. These umbrellas are quite attractive attached to the side of a glass of punch.

Congress Looking To 1960 Race

Republican talk of reduced taxes at the outset of the 86th session of Congress sounds more like laying the groundwork for the 1960 campaign than it does a GOP commitment to a major drive to reduce the tax burden.

President Eisenhower has offered a budget proposal of 77 billion dollars for the coming fiscal year, approximately two billion less than the budget for this fiscal year. He has likewise asserted that in contrast with the estimated $12 billion deficit this year a surplus of approximately $100 million is in prospect for the coming fiscal year if his recommendations are followed by Congress.

New Republican leaders in Congress have been quick to take up this theme and have woven into it the overtone "... if the Democrats don't go on a foolish spending jag." Senate Republican Leader Halleck has declared that a tax reduction will be possible in two or three years if the President's recommendations are followed.

It's pretty much a foregone conclusion, on the basis of Democratic comments on the proposed federal budget, that the President's recommendations will not be followed to the letter by the heavily Democratic Congress. Additional spending probably will be authorized by Congress particularly in the defense and space development categories, and perhaps in the public welfare categories as well.

With that in mind, the Republicans probably are planning to use in 1960 the theme, "we could have cut taxes if it hadn't been for those free-spending Democrats."

Whether they could have or not will be a matter for the voters of the nation to decide in 1960 when a new Congress as well as a new President will be elected. At the outset of this new session, however, it seems to be shaping up as the experts said it would—a session heavily dotted with strategy moves by both sides designed to win votes in 1960. And the Republicans are getting an early start with their tax cut talk.

Another Indication Of City's Vigorous Growth

Greenville's new building record during 1958, a year which passed through a recession in most business activities, is another indication of the continued vigorous growth of the city.

While the major share of the $3,898,000 of construction work begun in the city during 1958 was for commercial and institutional use, more than $1.7 million of the new construction was designated for 149 new houses on which construction was begun. This figure for domestic construction alone compares favorably with total construction authorized in the city not many years ago. It is equal to well over half the total of $2.7 in new construction which was recorded in Greenville as recently as 1955.

The year of 1958, according to figures of the city building inspector, saw construction work begin on $1.3 million in commercial and business construction, and another $824,000 in the building of a new classroom building on the East Carolina campus and a new Army Reserve building for Greenville.

This breakdown shows a healthy diversification in building for the city during the past year. It speaks not only an increased demand for housing, but likewise a step-up in the need for commercial buildings and a growth of the city's institutions.

Castro Sowing Future Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The announced purpose of Fidel Castro's revolution, which threw out the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, was to restore democracy to Cuba. The question now is will it?

The revolutionary government established by Castro — with the Provisional President, Manuel Urrutia, handicapped by him — has dissolved the Cuban Congress and announced it will rule by decree for at least 18 months. That means — no matter by what name it is called now how benevolent it may be — Cuba will be under a dictatorship for at least another year and a half. At the end of that time, new elections are supposed to be held.

The stated reason for the 18-month delay is to let new political parties organize so they can compete in the elections. Just because there will be a dictatorship until then, new factions may arise, even among Castro's followers, because of dissatisfaction with the revolutionary government and the course it follows.

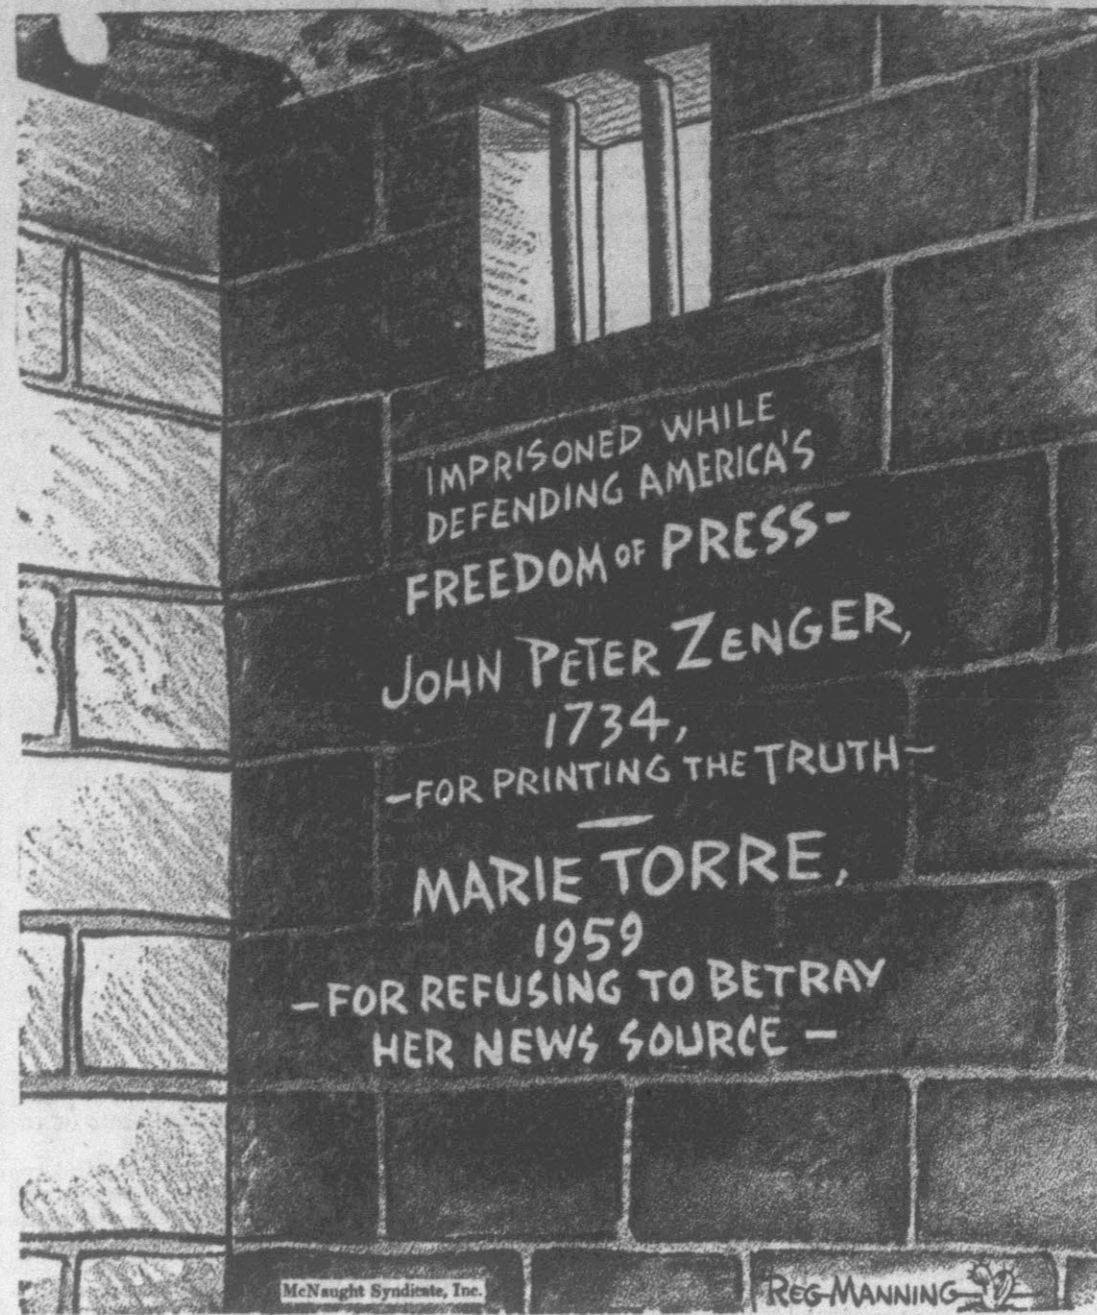

Factions mean disputes and disputes can lead to new civil war. Castro has pledged that his country will remain a democracy. But the executions being carried out now by his followers against former lackeys and

Strength For Today

A TWO-WAY LINE
We generally think of heaven as something above us, something above the blue firmament. And for many people, heaven is not only up in the sky — it is up in the sky and stays there. They have no idea of a heaven which comes down to earth or a communication on the part of man which goes up to heaven.

But one of the outstanding messages of the Bible — in fact, it might be called basic to all Biblical messages — is that communication between heaven and earth, between earth and heaven, is possible. We communicate by belief — that is, as soon as we begin to believe that communication is possible then communication in some form begins to take place. We communicate

All Right Girls---Start

In another three and a half months (maybe it's four), another Miss Greenville beauty queen will be named. From that rung, she goes on to the North Carolina contest which might be as far as she'll go; and then again, maybe not.

Too early to talk about the next Miss Greenville contest? No. Not for the winner. The future Miss Greenville or Miss North Carolina either is, or should be, going into training any day now.

The reason is pretty obvious. Many girls are beautiful; and of the beautiful, many may have charm and poise. But in the talent category the field is most apt to be narrowed.

It takes time to develop a rank amateur's degree of talent to the glittering quality of near-professional showmanship... time and work. But when contestants' beauty, charm and poise are fairly evenly matched then the weeks of talent preparation are likely to pay off.

So, girls, if the thought of venturing into the beauty contest field has been in the back of your mind, the time to buckle down is now. The prizes make it pretty much worth your while.

On your mark. Get set. Go!

In my "Save It" drawer has been reposing a Christmas story from the Information Office at Fort Bragg.

According to the handout, just before Christmas the XVIII Airborne Corps and Fort Bragg headquarters received a Christmas greeting from a 12-year-old girl in Tennessee.

"I am sure that some of the men won't be home for Christmas," she wrote, "So I am writing this letter especially for them. Most of us take our armed forces for granted. I wanted to take a few minutes to say thank you for what you are doing."

And she wished them all a happy Christmas and a happy New Year.

I hope the story wasn't rigged by a publicity conscious member of the Information Office. I hope it pretty hard; because something like that tugs at the strings of my sloppy sentimentalism and I don't want to waste any.

Other Editors Saying - Marring The Capitol

(Henderson Dispatch)
Any one who has looked in on the State Legislature and observed the handicaps newsmen experience in getting their material together for the public knows that facilities for their services are intolerable. They need more room in which to function. For that matter, many other activities carried on in the Capitol are outmoded and inadequate. That's why a new State building is needed.

We cannot see justification, however, in the decision of the Council of State to mar the handsome ancient architecture of the structure, one of the rarest of its kind in all America, by filling up the second story facade looking out on New Bern avenue to provide accommodations for reporters. Our sympathies are all with these fellows in the difficulties they face. No one knows better than a newspaper man how much better job can be done when it is possible to work without being crowded or interrupted every few minutes when a deadline has to be met.

Construction of quarters on the east front of the Capitol building to facilitate work of the newsmen is said to be only a temporary arrangement. If only it could be certain it would be no more than that, one might accept the plan with more grace. But every one knows how temporary things often turn out otherwise become permanent. Witness the sales tax imposition twenty-five years ago as an emergency levy, and which is still there, and will probably always be.

Actually, the whole machinery of the State Legislature is cramped for room in the present Capitol. A move is on foot to erect a new State building, and the coming Legislature should not adjourn without taking positive steps to that end. Until then, however, surely newsmen covering proceedings of the lawmakers could get along as well as they have in the last several sessions.

The Council of State shows no indication of backing down from its decision, despite the lack of unanimity on the project to mar the Capitol with this cheap looking monstrosity on the east front. If, therefore, the plan is to be carried out, come hell and high water, as the saying goes, could there not be some assurance that this ugly duckling will be removed completely and promptly when the Legislature adjourns?

This is a day when historical landmarks are being demolished almost everywhere when they stand in the way of commercial advancement. It ought not to be that way. Much of the cultural life of a people is being lost by such disregard for priceless possessions of a former era and even of the present.

North Carolina is justly proud of its stately old Capitol building. It has stood for a century and a quarter as the pride of the people and until now no one has dared lay a hand upon it. The building is not to be demolished, not even if and after a new legislative temple is provided. That's for sure. But neither should its appearance be besmirched or dishonored in the name of transitory convenience. The urgency to accommodate the newsmen is not that great, even on a temporary basis.

Watching Buddy Elsen, who portrayed the companion of Davy Crockett... and more recently has been working in another TV series... reminds me of his brief taste of near-glory in Hollywood.

Not as a rugged outdoors type, mind you, but as a dancer.

All this was long ago when I was an early-to-bed and early-to-rise (for school) lad in Orlando.

That Florida city was pretty proud of the hometown boy who made good, and when he and his sister appeared in a musical production the local motion picture house made a big splash about it.

No denying, Buddy was a good dancer; but after two or three films with supporting roles the slender young man dropped out of sight.

His dancing success proved a small bonanza for Buddy's father who operated a dance studio in Orlando. My parents sent me there for a few weeks, but it didn't take.

The thing that impresses me is the switch from hoofing to over 20 years of oblivion, and then emergence in a pioneer character. It shows a certain amount of flexibility, stick-to-itiveness and (there's that word again) talent.

Own No Stock In Big Project

By LYNN NISBET

NO STOCK — In a story here the other day about the Research Triangle the statement was made that Luther Hodges, Robert M. Hanes and George Watts Hill were among those who had advanced money for stock in the original corporation. The fact is that these men devoted time and energy to set the project going, but none of them ever owned any stock, either with or without hope of profit.

DECENTRALIZATION — The tentative agreement reached between committees representing the State Board of Higher Education and the trustees of the Consolidated University is almost sure to be approved by the full boards and by the General Assembly. The agreement is significant because it represents the first modification of the trend toward centralization of control over State agencies and institutions which has featured the Hodges administration.

It is a short step, because Dr. Harris Purks, chief executive administrator of the Board of Higher Education, says proposed changes in the text of the statute creating his board do little except legalize the board's practices. Fact is, the hassle over alleged interference of the Board of Higher Education with operations of the University Trustees stemmed more from a little clause buried in a 1957 act authorizing self-liquidating dormitories for State College, rather than from basic provisions of the 1955 act establishing the Higher Education Board.

The agreement does nothing to lessen control of the trustees over State College, a situation which has been a sore point with State College alumni ever since consolidation in 1931. It does nothing to lessen control of the Budget Bureau over financial operations of all the State tax supported colleges. In fact, it does not eliminate any consequential specific powers granted to the Board of Higher Education in the original act. It does clarify and to some degree reduces implied power in some areas. It is a step, albeit a very short one, away from centralization.

CLOSE — With convening date of the General Assembly less than three weeks away interest in the races for presiding officers and speculation about budget recommendations is very keen. There has been much more talk about the Speakership race between Addison Hewlett of New Hanover and Carl Venters of Onslow, but a lot of interest is voiced in the contest for president pro tem of the Senate. C. V. Henkel of Iredell and Robert F. Morgan of Cleveland are in a close race for that post. Each claims enough votes to win, and both insist they are gaining recruits from the other camp.

President pro tem of the Senate is largely an honorary position, although traditionally it carries chairmanship of the committee on rules and ex-officio membership on all other committees. Also it is second in line of succession to the Governorship in event of death or disability of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor. In the current race there is added incentive of administration prestige. Rightly or wrongly, Morgan is considered the "administration candidate" while Henkel is regarded as less certain to follow the lead of Governor Hodges.

The Speakership race which has been hotly contested since adjournment of the 1957 session involves a much bigger stake. The Speaker of the House will name committees, designate their chairmen, and channel bills to them. Administration prestige is less a factor here, Governor Hodges has repeatedly said he is taking no part in the race, and efforts of newsmen and legislators have failed to discover any activity on his part.

SUPPORT — Both Hewlett and Venters have records of loyal support of administration programs in the 1955 and 1957 sessions. Both have many strong administration friends in their camps. It is well known that most of the administrative executives appointed by Governor Hodges are plugging for Venters. This situation, plus the fact that Venters is serving a second term on the Advisory Budget Commission, and no budget commission member has ever been defeated for Speaker by a non-member, led to early predictions that Venters would win in the show down. As time for the election approaches these predictions have less assurance.

Hewlett claims a certain 62, a probable 64, vote among the 116 Democratic members of the House. Venters claims a certain 59, and says he will get several more. Obviously some members have promised both, or the candidates are basing claims on tenuous rather than firm commitments of support.

Information obtained from elected legislators is not trustworthy, because their statements—if not their honest opinions—are colored by their desires, and the way they will vote. Majority opinion of lobbyists, who have a real stake in the outcome, and of newsmen, who are concerned only with probabilities and facts, is that the race will continue close, will be decided only by the vote at the caucus on Tuesday night before the General Assembly convenes on Wednesday, February 4, but betting odds as of now favor Hewlett to win by a margin of between one and six votes.

A Poke At Lazy Minds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"The biggest enemy of human progress is mental indolence," said Rulon Macnair Hutchins, who will be 60 years old Saturday.

"As Aristotle said, 'Learning is accompanied by pain.' Too many people won't go through that pain," he said.

"The biggest mistake man makes is that he doesn't think through the question of just what is really worthwhile."

The onetime "boy wonder" of the educational world—he was secretary of Yale at 23, dean of its law school at 28, and president of the University of Chicago at 30—is still a figure of controversy as head of the Fund for the Republic.

At 60 he looks 50. His crew cut hair is graying, but his 6-foot-3 frame shows no sign of a paunch. Nor does his mind. He is as ready as ever to fight for his ideas, but still professes surprise that his ideas stir up so much controversy.

"It is remarkable to me that people think of a critic in an adverse sense," he observed. "Criticism to me means appraisal. To most people it seems to mean attack. But to lay the basis for improvement in any field you first have to point out that things are not already perfect."

Hutchins has been assailed as an iconoclast, a cynic and a pessimist. He regards himself as more of an optimist, feels the general level of the world today is better than it has ever been, and is strongly hopeful of human progress.

"Yes, I am hopeful," he said, smiling. "But if pressed for specific grounds for my optimism I might be at a loss to explain why."

"I don't believe, however, that things just get better and better by themselves every day. A tremendous exertion of human will and intelligence is necessary to achieve progress."

"And I think that everything that is called progress isn't necessarily real progress."

"I do feel, what many of my contemporaries don't feel, a sense of crisis—and it has very little to do with the Russians. If all the Russians were to disappear tomorrow—or become Republicans—everything wouldn't be fine. We must find our own standards and our own purposes, and not measure our own effort by the activities of people we deplore."

"The crisis I feel is a crisis about the whole American tradition. The question is whether our own democratic institutions can stand the strains and pressures of large, heterogeneous, bureaucratic society—whether the individual can stay free."

"Convinced that civilization cannot withstand another general war, Hutchins sees only final disaster in a continued armament race."

Hutchins still feels American universities spend too much effort teaching students how to earn a living instead of developing their intellectual powers, still feels men will never learn to live reasonably until they first learn to reason better.

His own philosophy, he said, is summed up in this quotation attributed to both Charles the Bold and William the Silent:

"It is not necessary to hope in order to undertake, nor to succeed in order to persevere."

Charleston To Roll Out Red Carpet In Welcoming President Frondizi

Davidson To Dedicate Brand New Courthouse

By SCOOP McCRARY
LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Davidson County reaches a new milestone in its long history Sunday afternoon with dedication ceremonies for its spacious new courthouse situated on West Central Street here.

The huge modernistic building, housing court facilities, various County offices and a jail, is the third courthouse to serve Davidson County since it was established in 1822.

It takes its stand along with an adjoining jail, the latter to replace an old structure on South Salisbury Street.

The new building greets visitors with its spacious front of marble and its general good taste.

It houses two courtrooms, a large one for Superior Court and a smaller one for County and juvenile court.

The jail is a two level construction with an additional story for jailer's quarters. It contains ample space for over 90 prisoners.

Sunday's program will draw a large number of dignitaries including Sen. Sam Ervin of Morganton who will deliver the principal address. State, Federal and

'Judge Hardy' Affected Life Puerto Rican Boy

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a fatherless Puerto Rican boy in the Harlem slums, the image of the good, grey Lewis Stone became an imposing figure on the movie screen.

"I saw all the Hardy family pictures I could," says Henry Silva. "Judge Hardy became like a father to me. And I wasn't alone. A lot of guys in the same neighborhood felt the same way. When they balked at doing something, their fathers told them, 'Do it or I'll break your neck.'"

"In the Hardy pictures, it was different. When Mickey Rooney wouldn't do something, Lewis Stone would say, 'Now let's sit down and talk this over.' That made a big impression on us."

Now Henry Silva is himself in Hollywood and in the beginnings of what promises to be a distinguished acting career. But he

Navy Brass Lost A Little Lustre

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman clerk at a service hospital has rubbed a little lustre off some high Navy brass.

Miss Anna Wasylikow, 39, is a civilian clerk-stenographer at the St. Albans Naval Hospital in Queens. Last July 31 around 4:30 p.m. — official closing time — the telephone rang. She answered it. It was a requisition request, and she left a memo for the proper authority.

A few days later a superior demanded to know why she answered the telephone while "off duty." Miss Wasylikow said she didn't remember whether it was a minute before 4:30 or a minute or two after. But since she was there, she said, she considered it proper to answer the phone.

Came the official reprimand: "You are hereby officially warned for failure to carry out instructions on July 31, 1958. A repetition of this offense within one year may result in applications of higher penalties."

Miss Wasylikow was burned up. She filed an appeal. It was denied. She was told she was "guilty of insubordination." She got a lawyer, Samuel Resnicoff.

Miss Wasylikow, who resides in Floral Park, N.Y., has worked at the hospital for 14 years. She has had one promotion. The reprimand was a blot on her record and a blow to her sense of justice.

Resnicoff filed a brief with Secretary of the Navy Gates. In part, it said "answering the telephone is an automatic reflex" and that the punishment "borders on sheer futility."

Thursday the Navy spiked somebody's guns. The order came through to expunge the reprimand from Miss Wasylikow's record.

Baby Born High Over The Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — Consider the predicament of Shiu Un Lee, 22, an immigrant Chinese woman from Hong Kong.

Flying in an airliner, high over the Pacific, she was about to have a baby.

There was no one around who could understand a word she said. Happily, two experienced nurses were among the passengers.

Miss Mary Blair of Hudson Falls, N. Y., and Mrs. Don Lego of Edmonton, Alberta, took charge.

The Japanese-descended stewardess aboard the Pan American Strato-cruiser figured out a way to make a slight dent in the language barrier.

After other Chinese passengers proved unable to understand Shiu Un Lee's dialect, the stewardesses put questions to her in written Japanese language characters.

Shiu Un Lee's son arrived about 30 minutes out from Honolulu on the Strato-cruiser's flight from Wake Island.

Mother and baby were hastened to Queen's Hospital. The son weighed 5 pounds 13 ounces. Both were reported in good condition.

Shiu Un Lee was flying from Hong Kong to San Francisco to join her husband, Chung Lew.

Immigration officers said the boy's citizenship would be determined by that of his parents.

Won't Forget A Day-Of Troubles His Navigation Ashore Is Poor

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Adolph Stroter, 22, says she will not soon forget Jan. 15.

His Navigation Ashore Is Poor

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Cmdr. James F. Calvert had more trouble navigating in Providence Thursday night than he did under the North Pole last summer.

Cmdr. Calvert, who gained fame navigating the atomic-powered submarine Skate under the North Pole ice, got lost en route to the Providence Club of Printing House Craftsmen.

"I found it more difficult navigating in Providence than at the Pole," he told members on his arrival.

Just how much entertainment Morrison and his constituency will be able to provide depends entirely on the visiting dignitary himself.

The flight of the President and his party of 20 Argentine officials will be made non-stop here from Buenos Aires. Morrison has been advised that after 27 hours in the air Frondizi will want to go directly to his hotel for rest during the afternoon.

"We hope we'll be able to show him some real Southern hospitality," Morrison said. "After all, the true meaning of Southern hospitality is seated right here in Charleston. Our older families learned the art of entertaining their visitors via the best method known to man—heredity. We hope President Frondizi will give us the opportunity."

Morrison and his gracious wife, the former Caroline Sams of Columbia, whose father was an architect, will be official hosts for the President and his party.

These two, with other city officials, will meet the presidential party when it arrives at the Charleston Air Force base. A lengthy motorcade will escort the party to the Fort Sumter Hotel, where the foreign delegation will stay. The president's formal suite there overlooks the Atlantic and Fort Sumter, where the first shots were fired in the Civil War.

President Eisenhower's official plane, the Columbine, will be here to fly the presidential party to Washington the next day.

Morrison says he hasn't been advised of any public appearances the President will make here. But plans have been made for a dinner party if Frondizi is available, and possibly a tea and reception in one of the city's famous old homes.

Also planned is a tour of the city's historic spots and military establishments. But some of the major attractions — the famous azalea and flower gardens with their picture book plantation houses — apparently will be off limits. The flowers won't begin blooming until next month.

Morrison himself may not be around for all of the doings. Tuesday is inauguration day in South Carolina, and a son of one of Charleston's older families, Ernest F. (Fritz) Hollings, will become governor. Morrison, naturally, hopes he can get away for these events.

Pilot Ejected Through Canopy At Only 150 Ft.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Ralph Fielding shot himself head first through the canopy of his jet training plane at only 150 feet altitude. He accidentally had touched the ejection button. He escaped with a broken leg; no headache.

"It was quite a sensation," he said in Oak Knoll Navy Hospital. "They said I landed only six seconds after I touched the button. It's almost impossible to say how I really did feel. I was saved by my nylon elevator."

The chute opened automatically 1 1/2 seconds after Fielding was shot not more than 50 feet above the plane—an altitude of only 200 feet.

A representative of the Martin Co. which made the British-developed Martin-Baker seat said it was its first emergency ejection. The seat has its own propellant and its chute opens automatically and virtually instantaneously.

Fielding, a flight instructor with VF 124 squadron at Moffett Field, near San Jose, Calif., was taking a refresher instrument flight with Lt. John B. McDaniel. As he turned control over to McDaniel, Fielding accidentally touched the ejection button.

Up and out he shot, his head rest crashing through the 3/4 inch plexiglass canopy.

"The next second I was out in the air stream," said Fielding, who is 38. "There was no air-plane under me any more. I took only two oscillations (side swings in the chute) and I hit the ground. I think that's when I broke my leg, but the Navy is investigating to see if it was broken in the ejection."

Fielding suffered a compound fracture of the left leg three or four inches above the ankle.

McDaniel highly praised the ejection seat and all its components — propellant, instantaneous opening chute. He said it proved its life-saving value and "they couldn't have picked more adverse conditions — nose down at low altitude—to get a first hand demonstration."

Three Children Die As Mother Battles Cancer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — While their mother lay critically ill in a hospital here, three Indian children burned to death on the Coconino Indian Reservation Thursday night.

Hospital authorities are trying to keep news from pretty Mrs. Elaine Jim, 23. In a two-month battle against cancer she has constantly said, "I want to live for my children."

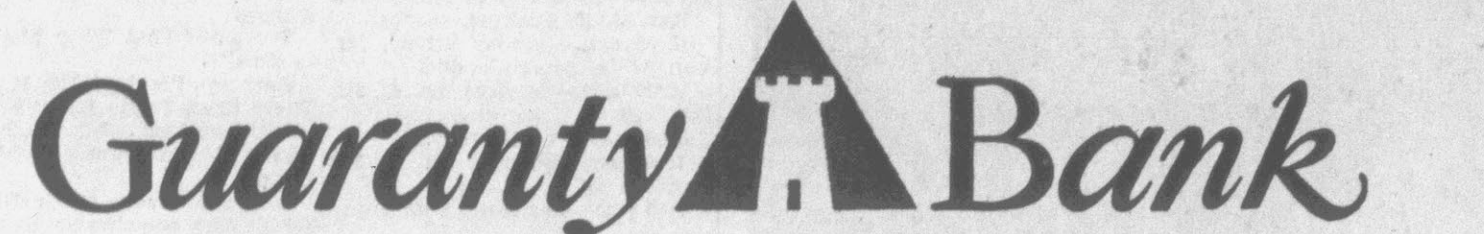

Her children — Sherrill, 5 1/2, Frederick, 3, and Alfred Jr., 19 months — were trapped when flames engulfed the adobe home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Jim. The grandparents escaped.

Deputy O. D. Jones of Yuma County said children were left with the grandparents when Mrs. Jim was taken to the hospital.

The father received word of the death in the Phoenix city jail where he had been serving a sentence for being drunk. Lawmen arranged for his release.

Adams, Riddick, Pace EC's 76-48 Win Over Guilford

Charlie Adams Scores For ECC

TWO POINTS—ECC's Charlie Adams, who netted 21 points for the Buc in last night's 76-48 victory over Guilford, shows how he got two of them. At left, the Cary senior fakes and begins a dribble; at right, he breaks past a defender and goes in for a lay-up. (Reflector Sports Photos by Billy Arnold)

The happy Marquette Warriors carried Coach Ed Hickey off the court after they had beaten Xavier of Ohio, 86-71. Carrying the little coach on their shoulders wasn't a difficult task for the towering young crew-cuts. Nor was the scene an unusual one in collegiate circles. But the circumstances did make it a demonstration of note. First of all, it showed the enthusiasm Coach Hickey has generated in his first season as basketball coach at Marquette. In addition, it was particularly satisfying to the coach because it evoked an old score with Xavier dating back to his days as coach of the St. Louis University Billikens.

Experiments To Change Red Sox Battery Mates

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is quite possible that the Boston Red Sox will present a new pitching and catching staff in 1959 as Manager Mike Higgins prepares for the big experiment this year.

Higgins has four of the youngsters regarded as the best pitching prospects in the Red Sox organization. They are righthanders Jerry Casale and Bill Monbouquette and lefthanders Ted Bowsfield and Frank Baumann.

Casale, 25, a native of Brooklyn, was released by the Army last September. He spent the last couple of weeks of the campaign with the Red Sox.

He won 19 games for San Francisco, then in the Pacific Coast League, before entering the service and was the top prospect in the Boston chain. He appeared in two games last fall in relief and did not allow a run in the three innings he pitched.

Signed at 17, Casale was given a $20,000 bonus in 1951 and the Red Sox think he now is ready to pay dividends.

Bowsfield and Monbouquette were brought up by Boston after the All-Star game in 1958. Bowsfield, 23, won four games. Monbouquette, 22, won three and lost four. Higgins thinks both now are ready.

This is the last chance for Baumann to make the grade. He was shipped to Memphis in the Southern Assn. late last spring where he won eight and lost three for a second-division club. Boston paid him an $80,000 bonus in 1953.

Other rookie pitchers include Ted Wills, Arnold Earley and Tom Borland, all southpaws.

There will be five new catchers, not counting Harwood Sullivan, in camp. The latter looked like he was ready to take over a regular job last spring when he injured his back and had to undergo major surgery.

The best of the newcomers may be Jerry Zimmerman, who was supposed to be a $100,000 beauty when the Red Sox signed him out of high school five years ago. This past season at Minneapolis he was under study to Ed Sadowski, another Boston rookie.

Sadowski, a 15 home hitter, batted .262 and hit 15 home runs while Zimmerman hit .256 with only two homers. But Zimmerman became the fair-haired lad, as the Millers won the Little World's Series.

Another hot prospect is Don Gile, who hit 24 homers and knocked in 84 runs for Allentown in the Eastern League. Jim Palaroni, another big money bonus boy, batted .227 at Memphis and .255 at Allentown. Joe Thies comes from Raleigh, N.C., where he batted .292 with 10 homers.

Elijah Gerry Green, who prefers to be called "Pumpie," may become the first Negro to make the grade with the Red Sox. A 24-year-old shortstop, he batted .253 at Minneapolis where he was regarded as one of the outstanding defensive infielders in the minors.

Pumpie may make it as a utility man as he can play any position in the infield.

Moore Makes Huge Cash Fight Offer

NEW YORK (AP)— Archie Moore, as adept at publicity as keeping his world lightweight title, flung a challenge at England's top two heavyweights today.

To back it up he offered $150,000 to Henry Cooper who earlier this week outpointed Brian London for the British heavyweight championship.

"I see where Cooper wants $140,000 to fight Floyd Patterson for the world title," seethed Archie Moore declared at the Boxing Writers' Assn. annual dinner.

"I'd do better for him," asserted Archie. "I'll give him $150,000 to fight me."

"What's more I'm willing to fight not only Cooper, but London a week apart to establish myself as the rightful contender for the heavy weight title."

Moore, who received the Edward J. Nell award as the fighter of the year for 1958, didn't mention Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, but it probably was just an oversight.

Moore had a crack at the heavy crown back in 1956, but was knocked out by Petterson in five rounds.

"I didn't look good in that fight," acknowledged Archie. "I was willing to wait in line, but now—"

Riddick Hits... Scores 17 Points

Greenville's Ike Riddick got off to a good start last night in helping to pace the EC win. His 17 points is the Pirate guard's best scoring effort of the season.

World's Junior Tennis Star May Quit Net Game

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer ADELAIDE (AP)—Earl Buchholz, of St. Louis, acclaimed the world's outstanding junior, became the first major casualty of the Australian National Tennis Championship today. And then in a fit of depression said he may quit the game.

Later, after cooling off a bit, he amended the threat to say "I would like to knock off for six months and get back in the right frame of mind."

The unpredictable 18-year-old Missourian, listless and lacking in fire, fell before Neil Gibson, unranked Australian in a second-round match on the Memorial Drive courts. The score was 6-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

It was a miserable day for the lean crewcut American. He accidentally cracked his best two rackets. He served 24 double faults. He held his violent temper, but in doing so apparently lost his fight and determination.

Phantoms Here

Greenville's Rose High School plays host to Elizabeth City here tonight at Rose Gymnasium in an important Northeastern Conference basketball tilt.

It will mark the first meeting of the two clubs this year. Greenville takes a 3-1 record into fray and will be ranked eight-point favorites in the contest.

Leading the Phants will be the starting quintet of Joe Moya, Billy Cox, Steve Noble, Howard Garner, and Erky Duff.

Game time is 8:00. A Jaycee contest will begin at 6:30.

Porter men Now 4-3 In Loop Play

By BILL BOYD Reflector Sports Writer

An uncanny shooting accuracy of 59% during the first half of play and superior height turned out to be the decisive elements in East Carolina's 76 to 48 basketball win over Guilford last night on the Pirates' home court.

The visiting Quakers never were really in the ball game after the first few moments of play had passed. They are still winless in North State Conference action and have now lost four straight, three of these losses coming this week.

Howard Porter's revived quint on the other hand has now passed the coveted 500 mark with a league record of 4-3.

Heavy Taxation Reason For Few NBA Title Fights

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Big money-making champions don't have to worry any more about the six months title defense rule. The National Boxing Assn. today just about gave the boot to the often disregarded regulation.

The NBA's executive committee said heavy taxation had made it virtually impossible for the major attractions like middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and heavyweight king Floyd Patterson to hold strictly to the code.

It made the point at a Thursday meeting in which it accepted assurances from both Robinson and Patterson that they intended to defend their crown this year.

Robinson said he would by May or June (probably against Carmen Basilio) and Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, said Floyd would defend against a yet unnamed opponent "within a reasonable time."

At the same time the committee warned bantamweight champion Alphonse Halimi to defend his crown by April 15 or face loss of the title. He hasn't had a title fight since Nov. 6, 1957.

Robinson's last title fight was last March 25, when he regained the crown from Basilio. Patterson isn't due for a title defense under the outmoded rule until Feb. 18. He stopped Texan Roy Harris in Los Angeles Aug. 18.

As far as the committee was concerned, little Alphonse was stretching things just a little too far.

Halimi, most likely, will escape action by fighting either Leo Espinosa of the Philippines in Manila or some opponent served up by promoter George Parnassus in Los Angeles.

Robinson pointed out that he was in the 90 per cent tax bracket. D'Amato consistently has stressed Patterson's similar tax problem.

Abe J. Greene, national commissioner of the NBA from Paterson, N.J., said Sugar Ray had told them it would cost him money to make two title fights in one year.

G-W Stops VMI By 79-63 Score

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer

Jack Gardner, the sometimes excitable Utah basketball coach who swigs two quarts of milk a game to soothe his hurts, has a much more pleasant remedy to day—a tidy winning streak and first place in the Skyline Conference.

The Utes' string went to five and their conference record to 3-0 last night in a 76-50 whipping of New Mexico. With a combination of brawn and height on the court, Gardner probably has the quietest stomach since he bagged his last Skyline title three seasons ago.

Since the consolation finals of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York last month, the Utes have been winging in championship form.

They were no better than 5-4 when they spilled though Dayton 70-70 to nail third place in the festival on Dec. 29. Since then, Gardner and gang have toppled Miami of Ohio, Montana, Utah State and then New Mexico—the latter three in racing to the top of the Skyline group.

Dick Ruffell, a dandy sophomore flipped in 18 points as Utah hit at a 46.6 per cent pace against New Mexico. Carney Crisler and Jim Rhead, two others who rode the bench only three weeks ago, have helped the Utes in the conference race.

Denver, with George De Roos and Bob Grinstead each scoring 16, downed Montana 66-62 in another Skyline game, and Virginia won its first Atlantic Coast Conference game in seven tries, 86-67 over Duke as Paul Adkins scored 24 points and 6-7, 240-pound Herb Busch added 20.

George Washington had a 54.8 shooting percentage in walloping Virginia Military 79-63 in Southern Conference play behind 20 points from Billy Talasky and 19 from Bucky McDonald.

In the Ohio Valley Conference, Morehead of Kentucky defeated East Tennessee 83-77 and Eastern Kentucky routed Middle Tennessee, 93-66.

Villanova, with soph Jim Huggard scoring 26 points, bagged its 10th victory in 11 games, 101-75 over Brandeis, and Florida built up a 23-point halftime lead and coasted to an 85-70 decision over Miami of Florida.

Other major results included Stetson 65, Tampa 58, Mississippi Southern 75, Spring Hill 70, and Presbyterian 81, Erskine 61.

Interest Rates Again Edge Up; Varied Reasons

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business news Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates are beginning to edge up again. The increase is slow but many financial observers think the trend will continue for a while.
One factor is that the U.S. Treasury is borrowing more money to meet the federal deficit, and must pay higher interest rates to get it.
Another is that bankers are convinced that business itself soon will be coming back to them to borrow more.
Still another is that the revival of home building—and the additional spurt expected when construction weather is better — is causing more demand for investment funds, and thus tightening the money market.
And finally, there is President Eisenhower's announced public campaign against inflation. This will support the Federal Reserve Board's own drive to curb inflation by keeping money and credit as tight as it deems necessary.
The Treasury will pay 4 percent on its new long-term bonds. This has caused existing long-term government securities to edge higher in yield—that is, to slide a bit lower in price, so that today's buyer can get more from the bonds despite their fixed interest rates.
Yield on the Treasury's short-term bills, which usually set the pattern for all short-term borrowing, also has been edging higher.
Business has been able to finance its recovery to a large degree out of its own corporate funds. But bankers believe that as business continues to get better and management becomes more confident of future improvement, there will be more demand for funds.
Present business planning, however, calls for little increase in spending for capital goods — the plant and equipment needed to produce consumer goods.
But the slack in this demand for funds is expected to be taken up by the demand for mortgage money. Home building, in unit volume, is almost back to its peak. Spending for new homes already is back to its peak, reflecting both higher building costs and the trend toward larger houses.
The consumer also is now borrowing more money to buy goods. The volume of installment loans has turned up after a long drop.
Auto makers, in particular, are confident that car sales will continue to climb.
And with the President warning against further inflation, and with the Federal Reserve Board continuing to hold that future inflation is our greatest danger, there seems small likelihood that the supply of lendable funds, especially in the banks, will be allowed to outstrip demand.
So bankers feel that all signs point to slowly rising interest rates. They add that this makes the present a good time to borrow if you plan to do so and have a good reason to buy a new home or a new car.

Confident Racket Curbs Are Coming

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) says he is confident the new Congress will pass "an effective anti-racketeering (labor) bill" that will virtually put Teamsters Union head Jimmy Hoffa "and his associates out of business."
Kennedy told a Charlotte Chamber of Commerce dinner Thursday night the bill would correct other abuses of power by some labor unions.
Sen. Sam J. Ervin of North Carolina introduced Kennedy and his wife to the 1,200 banquet guests. Gov. Luther Hodges also was present.
Earlier, Kennedy, who has been mentioned frequently as a Democratic presidential candidate for 1960, said Hodges would "add distinction" to any Democratic ticket as a vice presidential candidate.
The senator declined to comment on his own future. "I've just been re-elected to the Senate," he remarked.
The youthful-looking, 41-year-old Kennedy said he feels national Democratic party leaders can prevent a bolt by Southern party members if a strong civil rights plank is adopted at next year's convention.
Kennedy said that in the overall union picture there are other issues such as industrial relations, collective bargaining and the economic power "which have been neglected too long. However, it is essential that emphasis be placed on abuses uncovered" in congressional hearings recently, he declared.
Among other major issues likely to come before the new Congress he named national defense "in the area of missiles and anti-missile missiles," relations with Latin American nations, cost of living, farm problems and provisions for older citizens.
Commenting on the Cuban revolution's aftermath, he said that rebel leader Fidel Castro's acerbic criticism of U.S. protests against executions there was regrettable but understandable. "All of us should recognize that feelings are strong following a revolution."
Henry L. Bridges of Raleigh, auditor for the State of North Carolina, was guest speaker at the winter quarter convocation of the department of business at East Carolina College, Wednesday, Jan. 14. He discussed the obligation of the state government to maintain adequate services for the people of North Carolina and to finance these services with the greatest degree of economy.
In pointing out the sources of revenue for the operation of the government and its agencies, he compared the growth of state income for the past fifteen years with the demands made upon the state.
Mr. Bridges was introduced by F. D. Duncan, vice president of the college. Dr. E. R. Browning, chairman of the department of business, presided at the convocation.

They'll All Help 4-Year-Old Boy

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP) — From time to time as Mike plays with his toys, the pain comes in his chest.
He knows, then, that it's time to go sit in a corner and wait for it to happen.
It always does.
Mike faints.
When he wakes up, he rests until he is strong enough to play again.
This will go on, physicians say, for perhaps another three years. Then Mike, now 4, will die. Unless he has an operation.
Mike has heart trouble. There is a hole between two of the chambers of his heart. This makes his heart work too hard. When it slows down Mike turns blue.
Doctors at St. Vincent's Hospital in Los Angeles are going to patch — Mike's heart March 27. To do this, they'll need at least 60 pints of blood.
The going rate is $25 a pint. The hospital will accept blood in trade at the rate of two pints for each pint the boy needs.
The Santa Maria Times, after an appeal for blood donors, announced Thursday that 200 pints had been offered.
Most of the volunteers are men at nearby Vandenberg Air Force Base.
Maj. Francis L. Manning, whose 392nd Field Maintenance Squadron offered 82 pints, told the paper: "Count on us for all the blood that boy needs."
Other Air Force units and other civic and religious groups swelled the total to 200 pints. The pledges are still coming in.
The cost of the operation will be borne partly by the Crippled Children's Society, San Luis Obispo County. The rest is being raised.

Hurricanes Didn't Steal The Weather Story, But Cold Did

RALEIGH (AP) — Teeth rattling cold temperatures, in some areas the most frigid in this century, dominated 1958's North Carolina weather picture and took the play away from Hurricane Helene in the Weather Bureau's year-end report.
In other aspects, however, the state's weather was about normal. The summer was mild. Rainfall was average.
The hurricane grabbed the most spectacular weather headlines when it buffeted the Tar Heel coastal area Sept. 27 with some of the highest winds on record for that area.
But, in a report released by the U.S. Weather Bureau at Raleigh-Durham Airport, it was the constant, unrelenting winter cold which brought most of the comment.
The bureau said 1958 was the coldest year since 1917 over most of the state. In some places it was the coldest since 1900.
Temperatures during eight months were below the average for the past 25 years, but, the bureau said, "it was the winter months that were remarkable for their consistently below-average cold."
The bureau, compiling the readings of January, February, March and December, said they were the coldest of any similar period on record in the state's history.
The figures were taken from day-to-day readings. There were unusual extremes of cold during individual days. Among these was the 23 below zero registered atop Clingman's peak in the Yancey County mountains on Feb. 17. This was colder by two degrees than any temperature ever before recorded in the Tar Heel state.

Graham Ordered To Spend Month In Rest, Quiet

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, ordinarily surrounded by thousands of people, will spend the next month in seclusion.
Mayo Clinic specialists have ordered a month of rest and medication to treat his ailing left eye. Associates said the 40-year-old Graham probably will rest somewhere enroute to Australia, where he is scheduled to begin a revival tour Feb. 15.
His personal physician, Dr. Ben Giesler, said "it is hoped he will be able to resume his activities on a somewhat reduced schedule" after the month's rest.
Graham plans to go by car to Minneapolis today after final consultations with Mayo doctors. Exact plans for the next month likely will not be announced, one of his associates said, in order to insure a complete rest.
Dr. Giesler indicated there will be some permanent damage to Graham's vision, but said it was impossible to estimate how much.

Not Such A Routine Week Ahead For TV Listings

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—It's not such a routine week in television as you might think from a casual glance at the listings for the next seven days.
If anyone cares what I think, here are some programs I'd recommend watching:
On Sunday afternoon:
An NBC news team will analyze the outlook for the 86th Congress from Washington.
The Last Word returns to CBS — by popular demand of a host of viewers who enjoy wit, words and wisdom.
A new program, The World of Ideas, makes its debut, also on CBS. Guests on the program will discuss the principles by which we live.
An hour satire on Hollywood, "Malice in Wonderland," will be seen on Omnibus over NBC.
NBC's Meet the Press extends its time to a full hour Sunday for an interview with visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.
The Twentieth Century on CBS offers the first of a two-part study of juvenile delinquency Sunday.
On Monday evening ABC presents "Youth Anonymous," an examination of Detroit's successful curbing of juvenile delinquency.
Bold Journey travels along in its customary spot on ABC, with this one a tourney to Costa Rica.

Entitled To 117 Candles On Cake

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Charly Davis celebrates her birthday today—and she's entitled to 117 candles on her cake.
She has been a patient at the San Joaquin Valley General Hospital since Sept. 11, 1919. She never married and, so far as is known, has no living relatives.

Deer Shopping

WARSAW, Va. (AP) — A heavy snow here revealed a deer's shopping habits. The animal went window shopping, pressed his nose against a grocery window so hard he bloodied it, then stood on his hind legs to inspect an appliance store. No one had a chance to inquire what the deer was seeking before he fled into a nearby field.

Senator Recalls Early Lethdown

CHARLOTTE (AP)—State Sen. John P. Kennedy of Mecklenburg County remembers the time when, as a freshman at Harvard College, he was asked to speak to a literary group.
"Boy, I thought that last English theme of mine must have made me famous," he told Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts here Thursday night. "Then it occurred to my visitor that he had the wrong person."

Didn't Like The Look Of Things

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A motel owner didn't like what he found in one of his rooms and called police.
Officers saw three rabbits under a bed, a cat asleep in a chair, a large tank of goldfish, several parakeets, pigeons and lizards. They arrested Milton Heron, 23, and Carol Lee Jenks, 18, on a charge of burglarizing pet shops.

Novelist Pays For Disturbance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Novelist Thomas T. Chamale has paid a $150 fine for disturbing the peace. A charge that stemmed from an argument with his now estranged wife, singer Helen O'Connell.
Chamale was placed on probation Thursday for two years. He and Miss O'Connell separated after the argument last Nov. 17. She has a separate maintenance suit on file.

Legislators Dig For Page Boy

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—A lost billfold prompted state representatives to dig into their pockets Thursday.
The billfold containing $45 was dropped by page boy John Dahl, 14, of Helena, apparently while operating the House elevator.
The ninth grader reported his loss. He later was called to the rostrum and given an envelope containing $45, donated by the legislators.

Sought Realism, Got It On Head

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor-director Marlon Brando wanted realism in his jailbreak movie scene. He got it.
Slim Pickens, who plays a deputy sheriff in the film "One-Eyed Jacks", swung a rifle butt at the escaping Brando and connected. Brando suffered a deep gash over his right eye.

Actor To Retain Tots; No Cruise

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Sterling Hayden will retain custody of his four children but he can't take them on a world cruise.
The court's rulings Thursday ended a bitter custody fight between the actor and his divorced wife, Betty Ann DeNoon.
Superior Judge Emil Gampert ruled Mrs. Hayden, 36, is not a fit person to have custody, but held the children are too young — they range from 10 to 6 — to sail around the world in their father's ancient yacht.

Library Moved Into Idle Jail

WINTHROP, Minn. (AP) — The Winthrop community library, being cramped for space, is being moved to the city jail. There have not been enough wrongdoers to keep the jail busy.
The lockup is going out of business and future prisoners will be sent to the county jail at Gaylord, Minn.

She'll Sue After 15 Separations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifteen separations in two years of marriage are ridiculous, says actress Mara Corday.
She said Thursday she will sue actor-director Richard Long for divorce.
They were married Jan. 26, 1957, in Las Vegas. Miss Corday said both have been consulting a psychiatrist.

School Tombstone

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP) — There's a tombstone in Room 205 at Westerville High School — a horse's tombstone.
Acquired by seniors in the Ohio history class, who form the Junior Historical Society, the stone marked the grave of Rowdy Boy, a pacer which fell dead Aug. 15, 1892 before a race here.
The main street of Helena, Mont., was once named "Last Chance Gulch" by four discouraged prospectors. They decided to give up prospecting if they didn't find gold there. They found one of the biggest gold strikes in history.

Call Off Strike Over Meat Pie

DONCASTER, England (AP) — Thirteen hundred Ford automobile workers called off today a strike over an eight-cent meat pie.
The trouble started when one man bought a pie from the canteen warden Wednesday and began eating it five minutes before the buzzer for the mid-morning break.
The company took a dim view and suspended him. The man — Donald Farr, 23 — said he had been fired and his pals downed tools in sympathy.
After a two-hour meeting this morning, the men ended the walk-out and decided to talk to the management about Farr—during working hours.

Mikoyan Tour Assessed As Successful In Soviet Eyes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The transatlantic tour of Anastas I. Mikoyan apparently has been a great success from the Soviet point of view. That was the assessment given by State Department officials today as the Soviet deputy premier returned to Washington after visits to Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York. An assessment of the actual value of Mikoyan's visit in terms of easing tensions or solving cold war problems affecting the United States and the Soviet Union must await the outcome of talks he has arranged today with Secretary of State Dulles and Saturday with President Eisenhower. There was a noticeable lack of optimism on those points. But State Department officials credited Mikoyan with making a very favorable impression in many areas with his appeals for peace and trade and his show of frankness on occasion in admitting that the Soviet Union has made mistakes in its relations with the United States in the past. There was only one point on which they thought Mikoyan occasionally showed sensitivity—the Soviet suppression of the anti-Communist revolt in Hungary in 1956. He sought to defend it by comparing it with U.S. intervention in Lebanon last year. Hungarian pickets everywhere Mikoyan went focused fresh attention on the issue. Mikoyan apparently sought on his tour to reduce tensions between the world's two greatest powers by trying to persuade Americans that under Premier Khrushchev the Soviet Union is not by reasonable men. He tried to convince those with whom he talked that it is possible for this country to make practical deals and engage in profitable trade with the Soviet Union. But in his public and private meetings Mikoyan has provided no real evidence of Soviet willingness to make concessions in order to solve the long Soviet-Western deadlock over Germany. He has created in some quarters, however, the impression that Khrushchev does not wish to press the dispute over Berlin to a dangerous point. The principal points which Mikoyan has made are these: 1. The six months limitation which the Soviet Union imposed two months ago for withdrawal of Western troops from Berlin was not intended as an ultimatum and the time limit is flexible. If the United States does not like Khrushchev's proposal to make West Berlin into a "free city" it should offer counter proposals. 2. The Soviet government wants a high level East-West meeting on Germany and probably other issues, and the sooner the better. 3. The Soviet government will insist on having a veto voting system in any council which might be set up to operate an inspection system for a ban on nuclear weapons testing. 4. The Soviet Union wants to trade with the United States but U.S. government regulations are preventing American businessmen from selling what it wants to buy. 5. The Soviet Union must be treated as an equal by the United States. Some authorities consider this to be a kind of appeal for direct negotiations between Moscow and Washington on many issues now negotiated with several Western powers at once.

Pitt Health Education Workshop Plans Ready

Plans have been completed for health education workshops to be held next week in each of Pitt County's five Negro high schools. The series of workshops will begin Monday at Bethel Union School. Others to be held include January 20, H.B. Sugg School in Farmville; January 21, South Ayden School; January 22, Pitt County Training School in Grimesland; and January 23, Robinson Union School in Winterville. Mafia Becomes A Prime Target

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal government is making the Mafia and its traffic in narcotics a primary target in a nationwide war on organized crime. Income tax violations, gambling and vice also are among spheres of Mafia activity to be dealt with. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers' special task force fighting crime is working out of offices in Washington, New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami. A nine-month veil of secrecy over the work of the anticrime task force was lifted a little Thursday when contempt proceedings were started against an alleged leader of the Mafia. The government complained that he refused to answer questions about the Mafia, the worldwide band of criminals and terrorists which had its roots in Sicily many years ago. The questions, asked before a special U.S. grand jury, were about the secret underworld's links with the narcotics traffic. The balky witness is Giacomo Reina, now serving a five-year term for conspiracy and possession of narcotics. Milton R. Wessel, supervisor of the attorney general's nationwide crackdown said "This is the first public indication of the work the task force has undertaken and is an indication of the intensive drive we are now conducting against organized crime."

Bandits Snatch Cardboard Box And Got Lunch

NEW YORK (AP)—Two bandits got their just desert Thursday. They grabbed a cardboard box thinking it was a $3,000 payroll. Instead it contained a custard pie. Mechanics Gaston Mariens of Fort Lee, N.J., and James Ryster of Manhattan were just driving up to the Fifth Avenue Coach Co. garage with the payroll. En route from the bank they had picked up the pie. They were accosted by two armed men. One thug slugged Ryster with a rubber hose. The other grabbed the box. Police, crashing the Henry Hudson Parkway spotted a car side-swiping several cars. They gave chase and captured Francis Romano, 26, and his brother, John, 23, both of the Bronx. In the car, which police said was stolen, were a revolver, a pistol, and the pie. The brothers were booked on charges of assault, robbery and violation of the Sullivan (anti-weapons) law.

Life Is Complex On State Line

BRISTOL, Va. (AP)—The Gordon Hardin family finds life in a new home a complex interstate affair. They had to register their contract for the home astride the state line in both Virginia and Tennessee. The mall man locates them when addressed in either state—and so does the tax collector. The home is subject to property taxes in both states. They license one car in Virginia and the other in Tennessee. But Tennessee has no dog tax outside incorporated towns. Virginia does, so Fido is a Tennesseean.

Promises Happiness In Putting Church 'First'

"When any nation is united in the worship of one God, it will prosper," the Rev. L.O. Leet declared last night in the second of 11 sermons he will deliver during a Stewardship-Evangelism Crusade at St. James Methodist Church. Speaking on "The Faith For Today," the Rev. Mr. Leet called upon the crusade audience to "... put Jesus Christ and the church first. It will bring you happiness, peace and a great sense of experience." He also said that the conviction that God could deliver man from evil is the faith "needed in this world today." The Rev. W.M. Howard of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church assisted the visiting minister in last night's service, attended by 194 persons. For tonight's service, which will begin at 7:30 in the sanctuary of St. James, the Rev. Mr. Leet will use "What Jesus Came To Teach" as his sermon topic and will be assisted by the Rev. R.B. Crawford, pastor of the Greenville Free Will Baptist Church. No service is planned for tomorrow night, but two Sunday services have been announced by the host pastor, the Rev. J. Malloy Owen, III, the Rev. Mr. Leet will preach on "The Church And Its Ordinances" at 10:55 a.m. Sunday and

"Who Are The Lost?" at 7:30 Sunday. Using the Old Testament Book of Daniel as his text last night, the Rev. Mr. Leet cited the place of the church and faith 600 years before the birth of Christ. He charged, "The world was far-advanced in stewardship and loyalty 2,600 years ago, and we must return to the faith of that time." "I beg you," he said, "to be leaders of the church, and let the church lead the community instead of letting the community lead the church. We don't interrupt our lives for the church, and I call upon you now to put Christ and the church first." "Be stubborn with your faith," he said. "It will bring happiness and peace to you." The crusade will continue through January 25. Included in each of the services is special music directed by Mrs. Idalee McCullar, musical director for the Leet Crusade Team and soloist.

Bank Business Forced To Wait

"Let me in, I have business with the bank," he told a guard. When asked what was his business, the man said he wanted to make a deposit. "Someone just made a withdrawal and you'll have to wait," a spectator in the crowd said.

Snapshot Brings Murder Charge

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A first-degree murder warrant has been issued against Charles E. Montague on the basis of a photograph made of his wife at a sorority party the night of Jan. 6. The color photograph snapped by an amateur who was concentrating on another subject, showed a profile of Mrs. Ruth Ann Montague, 32, mother of two. She was wearing a large golden earring.

Thirteen hours after Mrs. Montague left the party, her body was found in her car, parked across the street from the apartment house where the party was held. She had been strangled. Her body had been mutilated. No earrings were found on her body or at the scene. Montague was arrested Tuesday for further questioning. Officers said they found on him a pair of earrings which match the one shown in the photograph. They said Montague told them he found the earrings in his apartment. Circuit Atty. Thomas F. Eagleton issued the murder warrant Thursday after viewing an enlargement of the snapshot. At the time, Montague was seeking a court order releasing him from Malcolm Bliss Mental Hospital. Police committed him on suspicion of being a dangerous person after Montague, 34, had won a court order Wednesday releasing him from jail. Montague has been returned to the hospital. He is a ward of the St. Louis Court of Appeals until it rules on his petition for release from the hospital.

Do-It-Yourself Role Broke Law

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, England (AP) — Do-it-yourself man Owen Roberts delivered his wife's first baby and thereby broke the law. To be exact, Section 9 of the 1951 Midwives Act, which prohibits unqualified persons from attending women in childbirth except under medical supervision or in an emergency. Roberts, 27, a radio technician, pleaded guilty Thursday, but was discharged on probation. In his trailer home he said he never heard of the "ridiculous" law. "We had a doctor in once or twice before the birth to make sure Sheila was all right," he said. "But we decided we could manage ourselves after the doctor disapproved of my wife's suggestion that I should be present. Roberts said he borrowed some books from the library, read up and everything went fine. Baby Linda weighed 6 pounds 10 ounces when she was born Nov. 20. Now she's a healthy 7 1/2 pounds. Wife Sheila, 21, said she went to bed an hour before the birth and was up again next day, fully recovered.

Outnumbered By Stock 17 To One

CANBERRA (AP) — Australia has 149,319,000 sheep, 16,900,000 cattle, 1,421,000 pigs, and 695,000 horses. The figures were released by the Commonwealth Statistician. They mean there are about 17 head of livestock in the country for every human being. There are a few more pigs this year than last, but the totals for sheep, cattle, and horses are down slightly. The number of horses is the lowest since 1875, and only about one-quarter of the 1919 figure.

STATE BANK AND TRUST COMPANY GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA TO: The people of Greenville FROM: J. T. Marston, Jr. SUBJECT: Greenville's future "This town will continue to grow," declared City School Superintendent June Rose in outlining plans for the future. "Nothing can stop it because people are going to continue to move to Greenville..." Mr. Rose gave Greenville's educational facilities, from first grade through East Carolina, as the first reason for future growth. We agree with that but there are other factors, including the tobacco market, progressive merchants and distributors, wide awake agriculture, excellent communications and—if we may be permitted to say so—good banking facilities. To put it all in fewer words, Greenville will continue to grow and prosper because it is a good town in which to live, to work, to play and to raise a family. J. T. WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Ralph Harlingen, attorney for the accused man, is having difficulty persuading Murray Kirk to become involved in a case somewhat different from those the Conroy-Kirk detective agency has made his business. It obligates Kirk to find evidence that Arnold Lundeen, a New York City policeman, isn't guilty of bribery.

Lundeen arrested an Eddie Schrade for bookmaking. When a grand jury began investigating the operations of a gambling syndicate and called Schrade as a witness, Eddie declared his arrest was fake; that he was just a stand-in for the real culprit; an Ed Miller, one of Boss Wykoff's big shots. Miller, in turn, told the grand jury that he had paid Lundeen $1,000 to arrest Schrade in his place. Lundeen told the jury these charges were untrue, and was indicted for perjury. His fiancée, Ruth Vincent, hired Ralph Harlingen to defend him and Harlingen has turned to Kirk for aid.

Murray doubts that Lundeen is innocent and is in no mood to help Harlingen until Ruth Vincent comes to his office to persuade him to change his mind . . .

CHAPTER 3

"Arnold's first lawyer was someone from his political club, a John McCadden," said Ruth Vincent. "When it became clear that McCadden was half-hearted about the case. When he got around to suggesting that Arnold plead guilty, that maybe a deal with the District Attorney could be made on that basis, we knew we had to find someone else."

"But why Ralph Harlingen?" asked Murray.

"Why? For one thing, he's been a lawyer for twenty years, Mr. Kirk. More than that, he's been as much a friend to us from the start as a lawyer. You find yourself counting on your friends very carefully at a time like this, believe me."

"I'm not denying that. I'm not even denying that Ralph Harlingen is a nice guy with a great big heart shaped like a valentine. Count him as a friend, if you want to."

"I have every reason to. And I don't see what you're driving at."

Murray dug his fingers into the nape of his neck. "What I'm driving at is that he's not the man to handle this case."

The color rose in the girl's face. "That fascinates me. I mean, the ethics of it. How anyone in your position—"

"Lady, people in my position make up their ethics from day to day, so don't let it bother you for a minute. The fact is that as a lawyer Harlingen isn't in the same league as Johnny McCadden. Didn't I ever strike you that McCadden knew what he was doing when he told your boy friend to take a guilty plea? That it might mean an easier sentence on a sure conviction?"

The girl stared at him. "I see," she said hoarsely, and cleared her throat with an effort. "Then there's no doubt about Arnold's being convicted. About his being found guilty."

"I didn't say that."

She shook her head slowly. "Oh, please, don't start backing away now, Mr. Kirk. You've been doing fine so far."

"All right," said Murray angrily. "If you want to play it that way, let's do it. I know McCadden, because I've done work for the Hirsch and McCadden office, and when they want to soft-pedal a case they've got good reasons for it. And I know that ten of these Wykoff cases have been tried already, and the D.A.'s had a field day with them. Is there anything more you'd like me to say?"

"Yes," the girl answered, and her voice trembled. "Now tell me what makes you so eager to pass judgment on anybody who happens to wear a badge? I want to know."

"No you don't. What you want me to tell you is that Lundeen had nothing to do with the Wykoff mob. That he never took graft in his life. That when all this passes away like a bad dream, he'll be standing there with a halo on his head, right in the middle of this best of all possible worlds. All right, consider it said."

"But you don't believe it?"

"Not for one little second. In my book your boy friend is as guilty as they come."

"In your book Without evidence?" Murray cried.

"What do you think McCadden was worrying about when he gave you his opinion? Everything he turned up on the case must have told him Lundeen was a loser! And it wasn't McCadden's fault he's a good man with a good staff. The same thing would happen who ever worked on the case! It would happen if I worked on it for Harlingen!"

"Then why don't you?"

He looked at her, not comprehending at first, and she looked back at him, stonily beautiful, rigidly defiant, only the hands knotting together in her lap giving her away.

"You mean," he said, "take Lundeen's money to help hang him?"

"Why not?" she whispered, hanging him with her eyes. "From what you've told me, you ought to enjoy doing it!"

He would. That was the realization that exploded in him, the knowledge that he would. He could feel the savor of it in his mouth, the sweet pleasure of handing her Lundeen's head on a silver platter. And he wouldn't have to fake the job. It would be an honest job all the way. Lundeen would get a full value for every dollar.

"All right," Murray said. "I'll work for you on those terms. I cut, and the chips fall where they will."

The girl's head moved in a numb gesture. "That's all we want."

"Maybe." He pressed the buzzer under the desk for Mrs. Knapp, his secretary. "How long do I have? When's the trial?"

"January sixteenth. About six weeks."

"It's not much. I'll take time just getting started, and I need Lundeen for that. When can you have him here?"

She seemed dazed at the sudden quick tempo of events. "I don't know. Oh, of course, Sunday. He always comes home Sundays. But I suppose you won't be here then."

"I won't, but it doesn't matter. One of my men'll be here, and he'll set up a tape recorder for you. Or is Lundeen likely to get tongue-tied around a recorder?"

"I'm sure he won't."

"Good. Then all he has to do is talk his head off into it. I mean, get the whole story down, including names, addresses, times, places—the works. I don't care how much he rambles on, or how many times he stops to think things over. He's the one who's paying for the tape, anyhow. You can tell him that for me."

Mrs. Knapp's head appeared inside the door, and Murray beckoned her in. She came to attention at the desk, the good soldier, her pad and pencil at the ready.

"Mrs. Knapp, this young lady is Arnold Lundeen's fiancée. It looks like we'll be handling his case after all."

Mrs. Knapp was a good soldier, but she also was human. Her eyes moved to the girl, then back to the pad again, and her lips twisted in a curious grimace.

Murray said coldly: "I'd like you to open a file in his name, and draw up the usual contract for our services. Oh, yes. He's being taped Sunday, so have one of the girls make a transcript of the tape first thing Monday morning. And book an appointment with Ralph Harlingen early next week. Here, if possible."

"Right, is that all, Mr. Kirk?"

"That's all."

When she had gone, the girl said, "You're very efficient here, aren't you?" It was not a compliment; there was almost a distaste in the way she said it.

"That's what we get paid for," Murray answered flatly. "By the way, did Lundeen get a bill of particulars on this indictment?"

"Yes, McCadden got it for him."

"Then tell him to bring it along Sunday and leave it for me. I suppose you'll be phoning him now about all this, anyhow."

"Yes," said the girl. "I will."

He waited until he heard the elevator door close behind her in the outer hall, and then he went to the window. The rain had stopped and the street below was filling with the first rush of home-ward-bound office workers. Then the girl appeared outside the building. She stood there hesitating a moment, her hand holding her coat collar together, and finally she moved off with the crowd down the street. Even at that distance Murray could see the man turning to watch her as she passed.

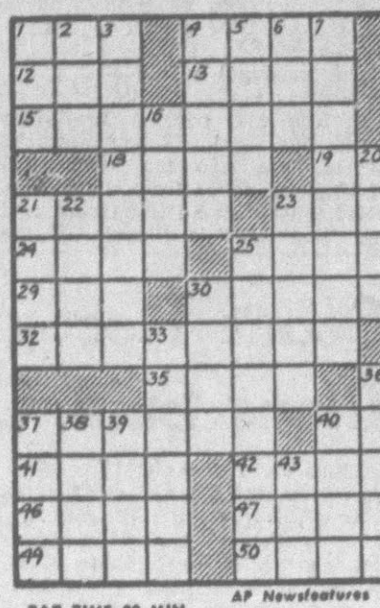

They would, he thought, suddenly hating them for it. They would.

"I'm sure he won't."

NO OTHER PICKUP ...RIDES LIKE A '59 FORD

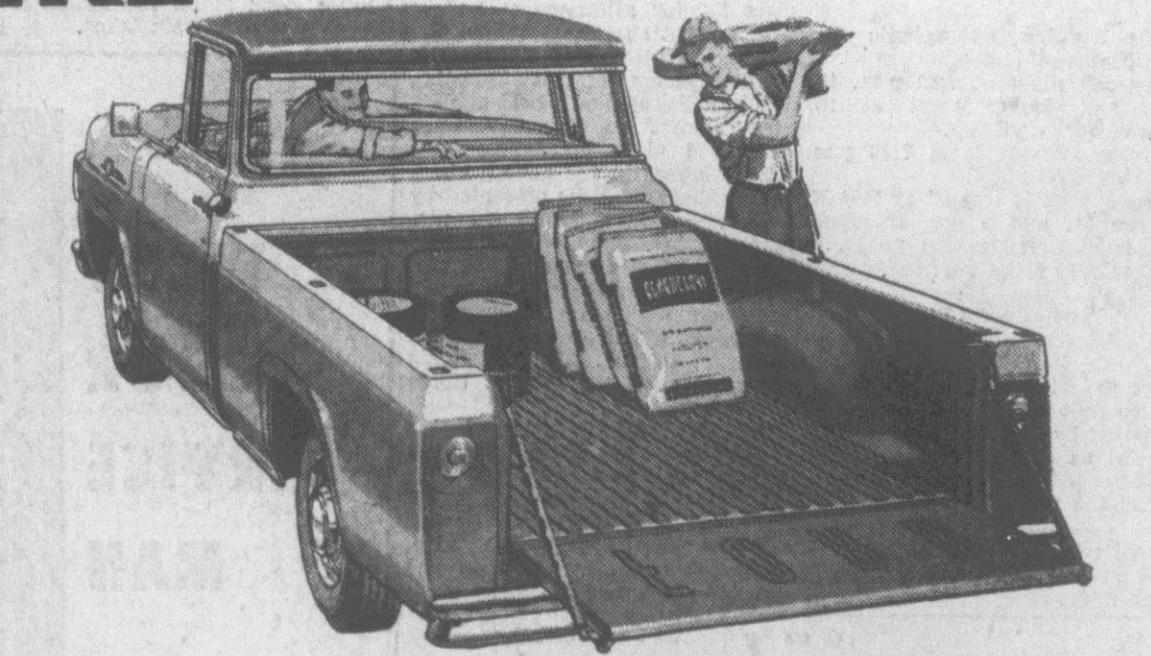

You get the smoothest ride of any 1/2-ton pickup, thanks to Ford's heavy-duty, 2-stage rear springs and long, tapered leaf front springs. Scientific Impact-O-Graph tests prove it. Non-sag type wire springing in seats provides natural body support for added comfort.

27 Ford pickups for '59! Choice of 3 wheelbases, 3 body styles, 4 body sizes and 5 Short Stroke engines.

...HAULS LIKE A '59 FORD

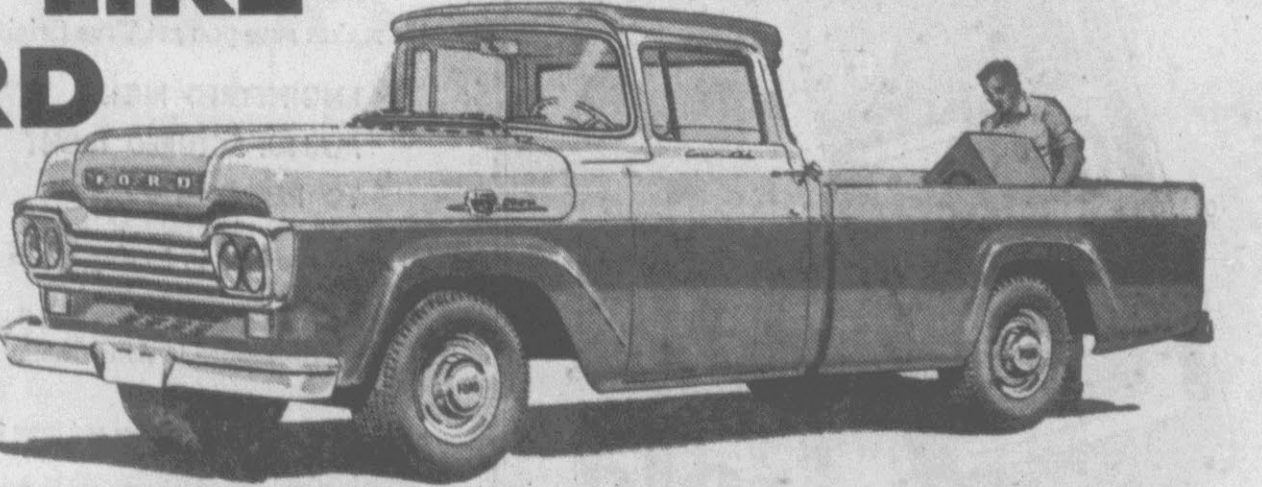

Roomy Styleside box gives you 56 cubic feet of loadspace on 110-inch wheelbase. Big 8-foot box with 70 cubic feet of load capacity is available with 118-inch wheelbase. Both bodies feature welded all-metal construction with cross sills full width under body to give the structural strength you need for heavy hauls. Ford's toggle-type latches hold tailgate firmly in position to eliminate annoying rattles. And you've got Ford Short Stroke power to haul without huffing or puffing!

'59 Ford Styleside is roomy—and rugged! Wrap-around rear corners with rigid box-girder type construction strengthen both body and tailgate.

...SAVES LIKE A '59 FORD

To the only Short Stroke Six in pickups today, Ford now adds a new economy carburetor. Net result: the greatest gas-saving combination on the road—and it's yours at no extra cost! And remember—if you need the extra power of a V-8, Ford has had more experience in building V-8 engines than any other truck manufacturer.

And Ford keeps on saving! Maintenance is low, trade-in value is traditionally high. And insurance studies prove that Ford trucks last longer!

Freezing Rain, Snow Felt By Eastern States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing rain and snow slowed travel today in icy areas in the eastern third of the nation. Snow ranging from two to six inches in depth fell in the northern central and western sections of New York State. Three persons were killed in traffic accidents on slippery roads.

Planes were grounded during the night by fog in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Albany, but the mist began lifting in the morning.

Burlington, Vt., had three inches of snow.

Snow also fell from the Great Lakes southward into parts of Alabama. It ranged up to five inches in the upper Ohio Valley. Gusty winds and stinging cold slapped the Midcontinent. Temperatures dropped to -1 in Milwaukee, -2 in Moline, Ill., -3 in Bismarck, N.D., and -11 in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The lowest on the Weather Bureau's list was -24, recorded in Hibbing, Minn., and Fairbanks, Alaska.

Snow also fell from the mountains of Washington State eastward to the northern Rockies. Temperatures of 15 degrees below zero and lower were reported in northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, with similar marks indicated in parts of South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Temperatures dropped as much as 30 degrees in most of the area as the Ohio Valley southwestward into the southern plains. It was freezing in Arkansas and western Tennessee and near the 32 mark in parts of Mississippi. Heavy snow accompanied the cold in parts of the upper Ohio Valley, western New York and northern New England, with three inches in several sections. Snow flurries fell throughout the Great Lakes region.

A mixture of snow and rain and some freezing rain slicked highways and streets in southern New York state and southward
