President Presents Budget Geared To Hit Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today sent Congress a 77-billion-dollar budget forecasting a spending cut of nearly four billion dollars and a precarious surplus of 70 millions. He called it "a confident budget" that assumes a surge of prosperity.

Eisenhower said the budget aims to restrain inflationary forces that "cheaper our money and erode our savings." He also said it paves the way for a tax cut "in the reasonably foreseeable future."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he hopes for a balanced budget but added "I don't see much chance for it under the President's proposals."

Rep. John Taber (R-NY), senior GOP member of the House Appropriations committee, also said he thinks government agencies can get along on what Eisenhower proposed, but Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations group called the budget impractical.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson indicated that if Congress boosts spending in the new budget, a tax increase—rather than a cut—would become a real possibility.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he hopes for a balanced budget but added "I don't see much chance for it under the President's proposals."

Both the Army and the Navy would spend a bit more under the new budget. Air Force outlays, however, would be reduced by 318 million dollars, to $18,675,000,000. The Navy would spend $11,596,000,000 and the Army $9,264,000,000.

Eisenhower said outlays for missiles and research and development will rise more than 800 million dollars.

The military budget of $40,945,000,000 is 145 million dollars higher than estimated spending for the current year.

 The levying of additional gasoline taxes by the state to take care of the county roads is all right provided the same will lessen the present tax burden in the various counties and still give the same efficiency in the way of keeping up with the county roads, but if this is not to be the result then no additional tax should be levied. The legislators should make sure that in raising the gasoline tax they are lowering the county road tax instead of just providing more money to be spent or the same efficiency we are already getting.

American Girls Are Modest

American girls are the most modest in the world, says John A. Zehnbauer, who has been studying this subject for half a century.
 "French girls and German girls think nothing of wearing Bikini bathing suits," says the man who supplies most of the world with swimwear.
 "In Australia and South Africa, Hong Kong and South America, the girls aren't worried about exposure. But in America we can't even get a model to pose in a Bikini."
 Zehnbauer, with his brother Roy and their late partner, Carl Jantzen, has turned out swim suits for most of the bathing beauties of history, from Gloria Swanson to Gina Lollobrigida.
 Since 1910, when he bought out a little knitting mill in Portland and knitted a suit for a local rowing team, he has made waterwear his chief concern. Today the Jantzen company has factories or licenses in 18 countries, studies the swim whims of every nation and collects design ideas from every corner of the world.
 "The first women's bathing suits we made had sleeves, sailor collars, knee-length pants and skirts," says the tall, graying Zehnbauer, who looks 20 years younger than his announced age of 74.
 "Then after the first World War, things changed abruptly. As girls took to short skirts and rolled stockings, they began cutting down on their bathing suits, too. When we found that women were cutting off our suits at the bottom and cutting the necklines down in back, we decided to make them the way they wanted them."
 "That's been our procedure ever since. I don't think we've ever tried to force a new, brief style in swim suits. The public calls the turn, and we give them what they want."
 When the one-piece bathing suit was banned on the beach at Atlantic City in the early 1920s, things looked black for a while.
 "Quite a few of our customers were arrested," reminisces Zehnbauer, "but the ban didn't last long. The bluesiness are snowed under. They couldn't arrest everybody on the beach."

What Is Your T. Q.?

RALEIGH—What is your T. Q.? Taste quotient, that is.
 According to Miss Mary Em Lee, clothing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, no two people have the same taste in judging dress, nor would that be desirable, but certain basic rules are considered essential when a person is well groomed and well dressed.
 Few people "slurp" their soup, but often pin-curls are evidenced in public. Both are equally bad taste.
 Sport clothes are for active occasions and long, dangling earrings would be taboo.
 A heavy dousing of cologne never replaces a bath or shower. However, a light spray with cologne after the bath adds a pleasant note of fragrance.
 Overdressing is strictly "out." Skip the bangles when the dress has rhinestones.

Isn't Easy To Be A Good Parent

RALEIGH—It isn't easy to be a good parent!
 "Growing up is a test for adults as well as for children," exclaimed Mrs. Corrine J. Grimesley, family relations specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service.
 "Letting-go" and "letting-grow" are rules that many adults find hard to follow. It is easier to be a good parent to a very young child, because to that child his mother and dad are perfect.
 The young person begins to question his parents' authority. These may be difficult days—but they are never dull.
 In homes where adults and children enjoy activities together, and respect each other as individuals, each period of growth leads successfully to the next.
 Adults have the rare privilege of helping guide the growth of those they love, and at the same time have the challenge of growing themselves, says Mrs. Grimesley.
 They will make mistakes—they were humans before they were parents—if their children know their parents love them and are glad to have them, the parents will still be able to help their children in the complicated, growing-up years.

Foreign Aid Planning Puts Stress On Economic Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — A foreign aid program emphasizing more economic and less military assistance was offered to Congress today.

The ever-all cost of foreign aid for the year starting next July will drop from this year's level, President Eisenhower said in his budget message. But he asked a higher appropriation for the years ahead.

There remains a need, he said, to provide "the critical margin of weapons and equipment required by our allies who, with us, forge a strong shield against possible aggressors."

At the same time, he added, this country should help promote the economic stability and growth of the developed countries where war and suffering abound.

Eisenhower asked $3,930,000,000 in new foreign aid money, including $1,600,000,000 in military aid.

Actual spending during the year, he said, is estimated at $3,498,000,000, including $1,850,000,000 for military assistance. Much of the spending, especially for military aid, comes from funds appropriated in previous years.

The spending total is 383 million dollars less than the estimate for the current year. A drop of 462 millions in arms aid spending is partially offset by a 79 million increase in grants, loans and other forms of economic assistance.

Eisenhower asked another 225 million dollars for use before June 30 and 700 millions for next year for long-term easy-payment loans under the Development Loan Fund. These would help underdeveloped nations improve their standard of living.

To help increase private investment in these countries, he asked new legislation to guarantee the investments against losses caused by expropriation, war, or inability to convert foreign currencies into American money.

For defense support, Eisenhower asked $35 million dollars. This money goes to allies unable otherwise to support needed military forces. Much of it has gone in the past to Korea, Nationalist China, Viet Nam, the Philippines, Thailand, Pakistan and Turkey.

Outside the aid program itself, Eisenhower asked increased U.S. subscriptions of $1,375,000,000 to the International Monetary Fund and $3,175,000,000 to the World Bank. Directors of those two organizations have asked bigger subscriptions from all participating nations.

The President also urged further study of a proposed International Development Association affiliated with the World Bank, to make long term loans repayable in whole or in part in the currency of the borrowing country.

Invisible Atomic Knife Used For Brain Surgery

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Working with an invisible "atomic knife," Swedish scientists have pioneered a brain operation which neither opened the skull nor shed a drop of blood.

The team of brain surgeons and nuclear scientists at the Gustav Werner Institute for Nuclear Chemistry at Uppsala University destroyed diseased tissue with an American-invented proton ray.

The operation was performed on a man at 55, the team disclosed in radio and television interviews. By destroying a piece of tissue three millimeters thick inside the patient's skull, he was cured painlessly of a serious mental depression.

The man left the hospital two days later. A similar operation carried out by orthopedic lobotomy would have required weeks of preparation and a long period of recovery.

Prof. Lars Leksell of Lund University, who supervised the operation, expressed belief the new method can be applied to ease many chronic pains, for treatment of Parkinson's disease and for certain mental illnesses.

Prof. Leksell said the positive charged unit of the atom nucleus, penetrated the patient's brain from 13 directions during the two-hour operation, said Prof. Bror Rexed of Uppsala, one of the six-man team.

The atomic knife was supplied by the synchrocyclotron, one of only two in the world suitable for this kind of operation. The other is at the University of California at Berkeley.

During the operation, the patient was alone in the operating room. To avoid risk of atomic radiation, Leksell and his assistants operated the ray from an adjoining room and watched the patient on a closed television circuit.

"Self Inventory" Is Theme At Services

"Self Inventory" was the theme of Evangelist Jack Paramore at Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church Sunday night as he brought the initial service during the midwinter revival series.

Speaking to a full house composed of friends, neighbors and relatives who have known him all his life, the young evangelist stressed the fact of five reasons why we should take a spiritual inventory and gave five reasons how one may know that his relationship with God is right and proper.

The attendance last night was sponsored by the youth and young adult groups of the church. Tonight's attendance is sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary and the Fidelity Class. A chorus choir and a male quartet furnishes special music at the services beginning at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

Castro Says 350 Newsmen Invited To See Public Support His Policies

HAVANA Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro said today he has invited 350 newsmen and commentators from the United States and Latin America to attend a giant rally called in Havana Wednesday to show support for his speedy trial and execution of Batista's henchmen.

The revolutionary chief said he also had invited U.S. congressmen who "in recent days have severely criticized the executions of war criminals by the revolutionary army."

A statement from Castro's press headquarters said personal invitations had gone out to the foreign journalists. A spokesman said five planes would be sent to Miami to pick up those wishing to attend and another plane might go on to Washington.

"We have extended the invitation," Castro's statement said, "so that the truth of what is happening in Cuba may be told to all citizens of every country in America. We believe that if the truth is known any misunderstanding that has occurred in recent days regarding the situation in our country will disappear."

Castro has called for a half million Havana residents to turn out Wednesday to back his regime's rejection of foreign criticism of the speedy execution of those convicted of killing opponents of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The auxiliary Roman Catholic bishop of Havana, Msgr. Alfredo Muller, Sunday night endorsed the executions, reported to have reached 207 throughout Cuba.

Appearing on a television interview with revolutionary chief Fidel Castro, Bishop Muller said he personally opposes capital punishment but that the church permits it in some instances.

"In this case it is justified," he declared.

Although Castro avoided saying when the Havana trials would get under way, he said they would be conducted under a military code and open to the public.

"I want everyone to see clearly," he declared.

Some 2,000 members of revolutionary groups gathered in Havana's Central Park last night. Women farm workers carried banners reading: "Let the executions continue." Peraza Venegas, 31, a Castro soldier, pulled back his shirt to display scars he said had come from torture by Batista police.

Castro said in the TV interview that only military men will face the military tribunals, an indication civilians may go before the special revolutionary courts he has said will be set up. He also reduced his earlier estimate that 459 in all will be executed, saying not more than 400 will be put to death.

The rebel leader said that the trials cannot wait until civil courts are re-established. If they are spread out over several months, "we will never have peace," he declared.

He called for the United States to return top members of Batista's regime who fled north.

"If the United States does what it says—what democratic principles demand—if the United States is decent and civilized, it cannot help war criminals," he said.

There are some 650 prisoners awaiting trials in La Cabana fortress overlooking Havana Bay and some 5,000 to 6,000 under arrest in all Cuba.

Charges Follow Auto Accident

Jesse Lloyd, 46, of Rt. 1, Winterville, suffered facial cuts, damage to his 1956 automobile, and several police charges when he was involved in an accident with Oliver Kinion Brantley, 28, of Watauga Avenue, Sunday night.

Lloyd was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital where his wounds were treated.

Warrants have been signed against Lloyd for operating his auto left of the center line and the possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and transportation of same.

Final Week Of Church Crusade Begins Tonight

The final week of services in St. James Methodist Church's Stewardship-Evangelism Crusade begins tonight with a 7:30 service.

All services in the crusade, which will continue through Sunday are conducted by the Rev. L. O. Leet of Dallas, Texas National Stewardship Evangelist of the Christian Churches of America. Also included in each service is special music by Mrs. Idalee McCullar, an ordained minister who is musical director for the Leet Crusade Team.

At tonight's service, when his sermon topic will be "The Eternal Triangle," the Rev. Mr. Leet will be assisted by the Rev. Howard James, pastor pastor of Red Oak Christian Church. The Rev. Mr. James is the fifth in a series of local ministers who are assisting with the crusade services.

The Rev. Mr. Leet delivered two sermons yesterday, outlining "The Church and Its Ordinances" in St. James' regular Sunday morning service. He was assisted by the host minister, the Rev. J. Malloy Owen, in the morning service and by Dr. H. G. Haney of Eighth Street Christian Church in the evening service.

Evening services are scheduled through Friday of this week and the crusade will be concluded Sunday with a special "Victory Sunday" service. Sermon topics announced for the remainder of the week, in addition to tonight's service, include "Can a Man Live Too Long?", tomorrow; "Must a Man Die?", Wednesday; "Who Lives in You?", Thursday; "What Price Consecration?", Friday; and "Christians Consistent With Christ." Sunday. All of the evening services begin at 7:30 and the special "Victory Sunday" service will begin at 10 a.m.

Guest ministers, in addition to the Rev. Mr. James, who will assist with the services this week include the Rev. Terry Agner of Greenville Lutheran Church, Tuesday; the Rev. Thomas Money of Hooker Memorial Christian Church, Wednesday; the Rev. C. C. Cribb of First Pentecostal Holy Spirit Church, Thursday; and the Rev. Richard Gammon, First Presbyterian Church, Friday.

Ayden Jaycees To Give Award

AYDEN—The Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award will be presented to this community's outstanding young man at the club's annual Bosses Night banquet tonight.

The dinner meeting will be held in the Dennis Cafe dining room at 6:30 p.m.

Marvin Baldree, chairman for the event, will act as master of ceremonies.

Principal speaker for the evening will be the Rev. Herbert Grately, pastor of the Ayden and Grifton Episcopal Churches. The Rev. Grately is a past president of the Washington, N. C. Jaycee club.

Dr. Clifton Davenport, last year's Ayden DSA winner, will present the award.

A secret committee of five men was set up to choose the winner of the coveted award. They worked from a list of nominations submitted by various civic groups in the Ayden area. The winner must be in the Jaycee age group but he need not be a member of the club.

$80 Millions Is Asked For Parks

WASHINGTON (AP) — An appropriation of $80,075,000 for national parks was recommended today in President Eisenhower's budget for the year beginning July 1.

This would amount to an increase of $319,000 over the current year's total but allow $3,400,000 less for construction of buildings and utilities.

The budget recommends $10,420,000 for construction of buildings and utilities, including:

NORTH CAROLINA: $342,800; Cape Hatteras National Seashore Recreational Area, miscellaneous $100,000; Great Smoky Mountain National Park, campaigning and picnicking facilities $145,000; Wright Brothers National Monument, administrative units $82,800 and miscellaneous $15,000.

SOUTH CAROLINA: $289,000; Ft. Sumter National Monument, administrative units $185,000.

TENNESSEE: $255,700; Great Smoky Mountain National Park, campaigning and picnicking facilities $101,200, utilities $7,400, and employ housing $48,200.

A total of $18,000,000 is proposed for construction of roads and trails including:

NORTH CAROLINA: $945,200; Cape Hatteras NSRA $88,200 and Great Smoky Mountains NP $757,000, including work on Bryson-Noland Creek Road.

For parkway construction the budget recommends:

NORTH CAROLINA: $3,504,700; Blue Ridge Parkway, construction and bridges.

VIRGINIA: $1,947,400; Blue Ridge Parkway $955,400.

Court Recessed After Opening

Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw opened a one-week civil term of Pitt County Superior Court this morning and then recessed all court business until this afternoon.

The judge said he was cold.

After presiding over preliminary ceremonies, including swearing of jurors and checking the court's calendar, Judge Stevens declared the recess until 2:30 p.m. He explained "I don't want to catch a cold in here and I don't think you gentlemen do, either. If the court room isn't warm this afternoon, we'll recess until tomorrow."

Temperature in the court room, on the second floor of the Court House, was estimated at 65 degrees when the recess was declared.

Marriage Licenses

Seven marriage licenses were issued last week by the Pitt County Register of Deeds office.

One of the licenses went to a white couple, Harry Forrest Lucas, Burlington, and Reid W. Madry, Ayden.

Negro couples to whom licenses were issued include Charles Jenkins Jr. and Helen Spellman, both of Greenville; Jesse Dixon, Newark, N. J., and Reddy Bess Jones, Farmville; James Dixon, Greenville; and Etta Jean King, Greenville.

Isaac Monk Jr., Bell Arthur, and Ernestine Cooper, Greenville; Lyman Earl McCotter, Route 1, Ayden; and Novella Mattie Mewborn, Route 2, Ayden; and Linwood Earl Rouse, Ayden, and Mary Louise Branch, Greenville.

Drop Backstairs Palace Gossip

LONDON (AP)—The mass circulation Sunday Pictorial says it will publish no more chapters in its latest backstairs series about Queen Elizabeth's home life.

The tabloid came out last week with the first installment in a series by William Charles Ellis, for nine years superintendent of Windsor Castle. It was billed as an informal and affectionate account of the royal family's life.

The Royal Court thought otherwise. Last Thursday a temporary injunction was issued on the Queen's behalf. It restrained Ellis from breaking the pledge now required of all palace employes that they will not write about the royal family after leaving its employ.

Eisenhower On Page Of Pravda

MOSCOW (AP) — President Eisenhower's face was featured in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, today along with that of Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

A three-column picture of their meeting Saturday showed Mikoyan seated between the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. They were identified without comment.

Burning Tanker Sinks After Explosion

Clouds of smoke belch from the sinking Greek tanker Mirador after an explosion in the harbor at Iskenderun, Turkey. The vessel went down with the salvage tug Imroz (left) standing by, unable to aid her. The ship was badly damaged in an earlier explosion last month. The tug was pumping water out of the Mirador's holds when the second explosion ripped the tanker Jan. 13. At least seven men were killed and 10 were missing. The 20,762-ton ship flew the flag of Panama. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London)

Bonner's Proposal Worth Study

Congressman Herbert Bonner's proposed legislation to establish poundage as well as acreage allotments for tobacco is certainly worth the careful consideration of growers as well as major farm organizations.

It will, to be sure, be the object of many questions and the subject of much debate. In spite of this, the proposal at least offers a tentative solution out of one of the dilemmas in which the tobacco industry finds itself . . . too much tobacco of inferior quality.

Restriction in acreage allotments over a period of years has encouraged farmers to seek to produce more and more tobacco per acre. And farmers have succeeded in this effort, gleaning in most years a greater number of pounds per acre from their allotments than in the year before. Many of the experts assert this trend in the production of tobacco is a fundamental reason for the loss of quality being sought in American leaf from foreign and domestic purchasers.

The theory behind the poundage allotments system is that if a farmer can plant only so many acres of tobacco, and produce only so many pounds on those acres, he will be encouraged to make those pounds the best quality tobacco possible. Whether it will work that way is a matter of conjecture. In theory at least, the suggestion is well worth exploring.

One of the major problems is a poundage allotment system would be the mechanics of enforcing those allotments together with the acreage system. It is fairly obvious, however, that if the proposal itself is sound, and it will produce the desired result of bettering the position of the tobacco farmer, the mechanics of the program can be worked out.

Congressman Bonner's proposal for poundage as well as acreage allotments for tobacco is certainly sufficiently sound to warrant an open-minded evaluation of its merits by tobacco growers and their representative organizations.

Routine Matter Feeds A Propaganda Machine

With little regard for the truth or the legal requirements surrounding juvenile court operations of North Carolina, racial antagonists and certain elements of the press of this nation have sought to make top priority propaganda out of the kissing incident which has resulted in two young Negro boys spending time in a reformatory.

North Carolinians, unfortunately, probably have not heard the last of the case. Nor have people elsewhere. It is a good guess that those who have sought to exploit the situation which exists will milk it for everything its worth, seeking funds where they can and attempting to misrepresent the facts in the cast to the detriment of North Carolina and the people of the South.

The two youngsters with long records as delinquents, received at the hands of the juvenile judge before whom they were brought on their latest offense the same treatment which has been meted out to countless hundreds of other youngsters, white and Negro, who become wards of the state because of their delinquent status.

Unfortunate as the case is, and as much adverse publicity as North Carolina will receive from it, North Carolina owes no one an apology for the action taken on these two youngsters. They have received treatment prescribed by the law, administered according to the laws of this state, just as many other youngsters have.

The only difference is that these youngsters have become the focal point for individuals whose primary concern is not the welfare of the youngsters themselves, but a much more complicated series of goals they wish to obtain. The youngsters are being used by these individuals as a "front" for the furor through which they hope to come closer to achieving their goals.

Inventories On Upward Swing

Since the start of the recession one of the great worries has been the behavior of business inventories. Finally, in November they turned upward. The increase was not large, but at least the variation was on the upside for the first time since August 1957.

It is said that inventories are never too large until business turns down. By this is meant that there is no exact or constant ratio between sales and inventories which is always acceptable. In some lines there is a minimum below which inventories may not fall without hurting sales. A shoe store, for example, must have a wide range of sizes and styles or it will not be able to compete successfully. These, however, are the exceptions and most businesses may operate with a wide range of inventories in relation to sales.

The total amount invested in inventories is enormous. Following the 1953-54 recession the aggregate was $75.5 billion. From this it climbed until in 1957 the total was $91 billion. These are the figures for manufacturing and both wholesale and retail trade. From this high point the total started to decline month by month and in October, on a seasonally adjusted basis, the aggregate was $84.9 billion. In November the figure increased to $85.1 billion.

When inventories are declining it means that business is living off the shelf. In other words, new orders are not given and the volume of production is less. It is comparable to a family which lives out of its deep freeze. The food bills of such a family go down for as long as the process is continued. In time, of course, the deep freeze becomes empty, or empty enough to make new buying necessary and then the food bills again rise.

In this recession the inventory liquidation was extraordinarily severe. In the first quarter of 1958 it was at an annual rate of over $9 billion. The first significant sign of leveling out was in the trade sector at the middle of this year. Wholesale inventories for example have remained constant since last May. Manufacturing inventories have held at the same figure, $49.3 billion, for September, October and November. Retail inventories showed an increase in November, and the rise was the result of a heavier stock of automobiles. Because of this specific cause of the increase there is reason for hesitancy in concluding that the real turn in inventories has come. But this is not too important because we obviously are over the period of heavy liquidation and even if December does show another slight decline, it will be only a matter of a little time until we begin to get an increase in manufacturing, in wholesale, and in retail trade. Even this limited upturn, therefore, is ample to justify confidence in the continuation of the current recovery.

This is especially true since sales are picking up at all levels. On a seasonally adjusted basis sales at both retail and wholesale in November increased $100 million; in manufacturing the increase was $400 million — all in durable goods — which is noteworthy because this is the segment which has been hardest hit by the recession.

All of this adds further evidence in support of the widely held contention that we are not only on the way out of the recession, but to new over-all highs. Of course there still are some problems, and there is also the question of how rapid the recovery will be from here on. We recently discussed these problems and emphasized that while they are serious, none of them, with the exception of the Congress going wild, is of a character to stop the upswing.

The speed of the recovery is less easy to be dogmatic about. It will help the long term welfare of the nation if the upswing is not at too fast a pace. What we need is broadly based improvement, with no excesses at any level — labor, management, or government.

Opinions In Brief

"From news reports and the recent election in France, it seems both France and Great Britain, who have tried many socialistic schemes and found them wanting, are veering more to the conservative side in their governmental operations. May the United States, which has been toying with entirely too many socialistic plans in its national life, watch closely our allies and avoid ruinous pitfalls." —Reville, Port Gibson, Miss.

Kim Novak Would Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood's most eligible bachelor girl is ready to say "I do."

But the sea-green eyes of Kim Novak still haven't sighted the right gun on the horizon.

"I'd like to be fulfilled as a woman," she said. "What is a woman without the right man? I'd like to marry and have children."

"But marriage isn't something to rush into just because it's popular or the thing to do. I want more than a good companion, and I want to be more than a good companion."

"Marriage is companionship — plus. You have to give all that you are, and I am prepared to do that."

Shy by nature, she is still a bit uneasy in the role of glamour queen. She also is weary of gossip column tidbits linking her with men she never has met in night clubs where she never has been.

Seated on a chaise longue in the pink dressing room in the Bronx studio of her latest film, Paddy Chayefsky's "Middle of the Night," costarring Fredric March, she talked of her troubles.

"I have a feeling this is going to be a good year," she said. "Last year was such a bad year — so treacherous — this has to be a good year."

"They had me tied up with every man I ever heard of. That's what I get for being single. Maybe I should have got married when I first went into pictures. They let married women alone."

"It doesn't bother me any more what people say. Oh, yes, it does, too! One day last year when I went on the set I just broke out crying. But I finally got exhausted with it."

"I used to be all exposed. Now I'm covered up."

Some of the things her critics and detractors say about Kim is that she is moody, temperamental, and that her glamour lies wholly in her beauty and not at all in her acting ability.

But her present film crew is behind her to a man. And Chayefsky, no easy one to please, praises Kim.

"She's wonderful to work with, completely cooperative, not at all moody or temperamental," he said. "She has an amazing talent. She is a fine actress."

Kim said of her acting and herself: "It is important to your career. They judge your ability, not you."

"I don't like professional things. It's kind of an insult to me when somebody says, 'You're a real pro.' I don't want to be a pro."

"I don't want to be systematic. It's boring when everything is pinpointed and in its place. I don't like life in a set pattern, or perfect people, or the manufactured look. I like the home-made touch."

As to glamour, Kim said: "I'm sure most people don't think of glamour as just looking beautiful or being beautifully dressed. Glamour is interior."

"It's either in you or it isn't. You can dress up glamour or add to it, but you can't take it away or cover it up if it's really there. I hope not, anyway."

A big star, Kim Novak, and also a nice kid looking for truth in a world of glitter.

Eure Lines Up Assembly Work

By LYNN NISBET

READY — Secretary of State Thad Eure is just about ready for the General Assembly. He has made up the blanket certification of election of all Senators and Representatives and has prepared individual pocket cards certifying membership in the Legislature with the seat number. The seating chart has been completed as nearly as can be before convening dates.

The House chart shows Addison Hewlett in seat 54, Carl Venters in No. 7 and Charlie Crawford in 120. There are only 119 seats in addition to the Speaker's chair. Either Hewlett or Venters will occupy the Speaker's seat and Crawford of Swain will take 7 or 54. This data can be put on the chart until after the caucus Tuesday night.

The Senate party cannot be completed in advance, either. Eure thought he had it all fixed, when Senator-elect J. L. James of McDowell resigned. Another man will have to be inserted in the certified list and seat number chart.

NEWS — Newspapers, radio, television and wire news services have been preparing for the most complete news coverage of the Legislature in history. The Associated Press with Noel Yancey in charge, either Eure or Thad Eure, and the United Press International with Joe Koennig as chief have added personnel and will again operate teletype printers in the capitol. The Association of afternoon Dailies will have Miss Susan Harris to assist Lynn Nisbet "on the beat" with Miss Lucille Harris again standing by to process copy from the bureau.

The Durham Herald has established a full time bureau in Raleigh with Graham Jones in charge. He has offices in the Odd Fellows Building close to those already occupied by Jay Jenkins of the Charlotte Observer and Guy Munger of the Greensboro Daily News.

Miss Marjorie Hunter will be here for the Winston-Salem papers, and C. A. (Able) Upchurch again will cover for the Asheville Citizen and Times. All of these papers will have extra writers for part of the time, and the Raleigh News and Observer, as usual, plans to go all out for complete coverage of regular sessions, committee meetings and background comment.

Besides these services, primarily for daily newspapers, Kidd Brewer and Clifton Blue are expected to devote their weekly newsletters mainly to legislative doings.

WUNC-TV and television stations at Charlotte, Durham,

Greensboro, Greenville and Raleigh will have almost daily programs on legislative news with special attention to major events. Carl Goerch will be on the air every night, as he has been every session since 1930, and the regular news staffs of most radio stations will be on the job.

Indications are that individual newspapers and wire services will go in more for pictures — this year and camera men will be as obvious and prolific as the talking and writing reporters.

FACILITIES — The new room to be built on the east portico of the capitol will afford better facilities for reporters than they have had in many years. The room, plus the Governor's conference room on the first floor which will be available for important events, and the improved telephone service made possible by the temporary news room, will enable the reporters to do a better job as "eyes and ears" of the people during the session of the General Assembly.

COUP — A number of people around Capitol Square who objected to the temporary newsroom structure have been tickled at the way Governor Hodges turned their criticism into a public relations asset.

Thad Eure had said the thing would look like a "nose on a buffalo's face." Henry Kampfoefer, head of the school of design at State College, said it looked like hanging a calendar on a portrait of Mona Lisa. Instead of arguing with them Governor Hodges announced the organization of the "Order of the Buffalo", the seal of which is a picture of a bison's face with a false nose strapped on, and he named Thad Eure as president and founder. Kampfoefer as a charter member.

Meantime some of the people who use around Capitol Square every day began to draw comparisons. Many of them were familiar with the ultra-modernistic home which Kampfoefer designed for himself. They also saw every time they walked by the century-plus old capitol building that while the buffalo nose is not yet on the portico there are a lot of "warts" on the face of the old building — the air conditioning units protruding from windows in the offices of the Secretary of State and others.

No objection was raised when these warts were attached, or when for a period of weeks — maybe as long as the temporary news room will remain — the dome of the capitol was cluttered with scaffolding for installation of air conditioning equipment through the building.

Use Taxicabs And Save Money

By ELMER ROESSNER
A New York company is saving more than $400 a month by using more taxicabs.

It recently called in a firm of cost accountants to find out why profits were not rising. After a study, the accountants made a series of recommendations for savings. There were many suggestions, but the most surprising one was for greater use of taxis.

The accountants pointed out the company was sending fill-in and other emergency orders by truck. The company did not operate its own trucks, saving something by contracting out this delivery work.

But, the accountants found, the contract truckers charged a minimum of $1.50 for a special delivery with added fees for extra time, distance or labor. Sometimes it cost the company $3.50 to deliver a 35-cent item. The truckers' charges averaged between $400 and $500 a month.

BOY IN A CAR
Now, following the accountants' recommendations, the company pops a boy into a taxi whenever there is a hurry-up order and the product is too unwieldy to send by bus or subway.

Costs per trip average $1.15 — a dollar for the taxi trip and 15 cents for return by bus or subway. Since the boys are already on the payroll, the cost of their time is not included.

The first month's test has just ended. Costs were $30. It would have cost $450 to make the same deliveries by truck. There are two other advantages that may make the taxi trips even more beneficial to the company.

Deliveries are made quicker. Previously, after a call a truck had to come from its garage before the delivery even started; the truck had to struggle through traffic, avoiding some "no trucking" streets; it had to wait for standing space, sometimes taking half an hour to wait for curb space. A cab hastened to the destination, leaving its passenger off in the roadway if no curb space was available.

THAT "SPECIAL" FEELING
Customers are impressed. When they phone in for a supplemental order, the supplier says, "I'll have it on the way to you by cab in fifteen minutes." This makes every customer think he's a special pet. The special service is, of course, in addition to the regular daily deliveries, which are conducted by a parcel delivery service.

This idea may have applications to many other businesses in many other cities. It can't be adopted blindly, of course. The cost of taxi service varies in different cities; the distance from supplier to customers is an important factor; so are local charges for truck deliveries.

In some areas there may be no advantage in using taxis; in others, the savings may be greater than available in New York. If the idea is useful to you, help yourself. It cost the New York company part of a fee of several thousand dollars. You get it for the price of this newspaper.

EVEN IF YOU HAVEN'T MONEY, YOU CAN DREAM, CAN'T YOU?
How would you like to be the owner of one of the two most famous hotels in the South Pacific, meeting all the celebrities that visit Suva, and basking beneath the palms?

The government of Fiji has decided to sell its Grand Pacific Hotel to private operators. It contains 40 rooms and a dining room capable of seating 100. The government will co-operate with the new owner because it is interested in increasing tourist traffic. However, it insists that the buyer make certain improvements in the structure, add an outdoor veranda and build a swimming pool.

South Africa Today

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — So many readers of my column have written to me questions about South Africa, that I have selected sixteen of the most important and am answering them here.

(1) POPULATION. The population of Africa is estimated at 135 million. Of this total, about 5 million are Moslems, about 3 million English and other Europeans, and about 2 million Dutch, known as Afrikaners. This leaves about 125 million Blacks, which speak nearly two hundred different languages. This language barrier prevents the Communists from now getting any hold in Africa.

(2) COST OF LIVING. This is high for all groups. Black labor is very cheap, but it is very inefficient. Most articles, textiles, etc., are imported.

(3) LARGE RETAIL STORES. These are very attractive and well stocked, equal to the best in any American city of similar size. There are probably too many small retailers. The merchants are mostly Jewish, Malayan, and English.

(4) BUILDING. The Blacks live largely in thatched-roofed mud huts, while most of the white-collar people live in very attractive four-story apartments built of brick tile covered with cement.

(5) HOTELS, CHURCHES, AND CLUBS. These are the same as in any American city of similar size, but much more segregated as to race and inheritance.

(6) FARM LAND. This is very high priced, at $500 an acre and upward, and can be equated at $100 an acre in the United States. This high price is due to the fact that agricultural land lies only in the small valleys between the highlands and mountains.

(7) WEATHER. South Africa has its hottest months in January and February; and its coldest in July and August, with practically no freezes, except in the highlands. South Africa is fast becoming a winter resort for Europeans.

(8) RAINFALL. Long periods of drought are followed by terrible floods. Someday the floods will be controlled, but not yet. The weather is fine for citrus, with no freezes and much sunshine. Drought is overcome by irrigation.

(9) BANKS. There are several local banks scattered throughout Africa; but South Africa has only four. Each of these banks has hundreds of branches. I like Barclays Bank the best. All are equally good. Banks pay 4 1/2 per cent interest on deposits; bank stocks yield about 9 per cent to stockholders. I believe these bank stocks offer the greatest opportunity for growth of any in the world.

(10) LARGE CITIES. There are only a few large cities in Africa; but all are having a marvelous growth. Forty five years ago Johannesburg had only a thousand people, all living in tents. Today the population of this city is over 600,000, and there are dozens of skyscrapers. My favorite cities are Cape Town, Durban, and Salisbury.

(11) FISHERIES. These are very prosperous, and mostly on the Southwest Coast. Frozen fish and so-called "lobster tails" (crayfish) come into the United States free of duty; but a 45 per cent import duty must be paid on canned fish.

(12) LOCAL INVESTMENTS. When the South African people sell out their mining stocks, they use the profit to build apartment houses for rent. They believe that acreage, business blocks, and apartment houses are the best hedges against inflation.

(13) HIGHWAYS. These are wide and well tarred. Most white-collar workers have automobiles, which are mainly American-made. Soft coal exists in great quantities. This is being distilled, and the distillate is being used for gasoline for autos and trucks; the residue is used for tarring the highways.

(14) MINERALS. My reason for visiting Africa was to investigate the diamond, gold, chrome, and copper mines. I was interested only in the richest and longest-lived mines, of which there are not too many. I especially like those whose stocks can be bought by the purchase of American Depository Receipts

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW! By FAGALY and SHORTEN

At Least 14 Violent Deaths For N. C. During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The automobile again was the biggest killer in a weekend that numbered at least 14 violent deaths in North Carolina.
Lizzie Mae Richardson, 25, of Southern Pines, and her brother-in-law, Buster Richardson, 40, of Burlington were killed when the car in which they were riding blew a tire and ran into a tree near Laurinburg. Six other riders were hurt.
A two-car collision killed Harold Green Blaylock, 33, of Lillington on N.C. 210 near that town. Nathan W. Worley, 66, of Old Fort died when his car and a railroad train collided near Old Fort.
One-car accidents killed Carroll N. Patterson, 21, of Gastonia; Charles Harold Moore, 36, of Hickory; Garland Eliza Kiger, 28, of Tobaccoville, in an accident near Winston-Salem; Kirby Lee Dawson, 20, Dover Negro, on U.S. 70 near Kingston; and Robert Nelson Askew, 26, Negro of Norfolk, Va., on U.S. 13 near Winton.
Pinehurst Negro chef John Calvin Graham told police his wife's uncle, 51-year-old ex-convict Fred Douglas McLaurin, came to their home drunk and disorderly. Graham, 50, said that when McLaurin reached for a knife in his belt he slugged him with a stick of stove-wood, killing him. Graham was charged with murder.
Clemmie Sykes, 38, Negro of Sampson County, told police he shot and killed 31-year-old Buck Corbett, Negro, when the man tried to force his way into Sykes' home, armed with a razor.
Thelma Jackson, 37, Fayetteville waitress, died from carbon monoxide fumes inhaled while she was in a parked car.
The cold weather brought about the death of Wade Ashley Person, 66, from exposure. A pensioner, he lived near Edmundson's Crossroads in Wayne County.
At New Bern, Willie Jones, 55, Negro, was shot and killed Sunday at his home. Police held Gerladine Hall on a murder charge. Officers quoted her as saying she shot him when he reached inside his shirt to get what proved to be a toy pistol. She said she thought he was armed with a real pistol.
Authorities said Jones was under suspended sentence for shooting the Hall woman's foot off in November of 1953.

Army Specialist Four Joseph L. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rouse Sr. of Greenville Route 3, Seymour Kahan, international representative of the UAW's Harvester department, said the voting by members of 3 union locals showed about 90 per cent favored acceptance.
The contract agreement was first reached last Wednesday by negotiators for the company and union. On Friday the UAW Harvester Council, delegates from 3 locals at 15 Harvester plants and 10 depots and warehouses, approved it.
Thirty UAW locals voted to accept the new pact and 3 rejected it. The 700 workers at the Rock Island, Ill., plant remained on strike. The 600 members of the East Moline, Ill., local rejected the pact but returned to work when a majority of locals ratified the agreement.
In Louisville, Ky., one local representative, 700 workers turned down the contract while a second, with 2,100 members, accepted. However, a strike by 250 machinists will keep the plant closed. A UAW spokesman said members will not cross machinist picket lines.
The strike, which started Nov. 13, resulted in wage losses estimated by company officials at 2 1/2 million dollars a week. UAW officials said about one million dollars a week was paid by the union in strike benefits.
Four of the 15 Harvester plants are in the Chicago area and four in other Illinois cities—Canton, Rock Falls, Rock Island, and East Moline. Others are located in Memphis, Louisville, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis, Ind., Springfield, Ohio, and Stockton and Emeryville, Calif.
The Harvester parts depots and warehouses are in Broadview, Ill., Albany, N.Y., Atlanta, Dallas, Memphis, Portland, Ore., St. Paul, Minn., and Kansas City.
The new three-year contract calls for annual pay increases of 6 cents an hour or 2 1/2 per cent, whichever is greater. The average wage under the old contract was $2.55 an hour. New fringe benefits include a fourth week of vacation for workers with 25 years or more of service.

Farm Implement Firm To Resume Operations

CHICAGO (AP) — Most of the International Harvester Co. plants resume operations today, marking the end of a 37-day strike by some 37,000 United Auto Workers against the big farm implement firm.
The union's rank and file members ratified a new three-year contract over the weekend, formally ending the long and costly strike. Seymour Kahan, international representative of the UAW's Harvester department, said the voting by members of 3 union locals showed about 90 per cent favored acceptance.

Batista's Wife Gets Children

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista is here on the first leg of a trip to gather four of their children in this country and take them to their father.
Mrs. Marta Batista arrived by plane Sunday night from the Dominican Republic, where her husband took refuge.
She was met by a heavy police guard who escorted her through a private customs inspection and reported her.
Mrs. Batista was accompanied by Lawrence Berenson, Batista's attorney here. She went to the Waldorf Towers to meet two sons, Roberto, 11, and Carlos, 8, who have been staying there since Christmas—shortly before Batista fled Cuba.
Berenson said Mrs. Batista will leave soon with the boys for Daytona Beach, Fla., where two other children, Fulgencio, 4, and Marta Maria, 17 months, are staying with Mrs. Batista's mother.
The daughter is ill, Berenson said. When she is well, Mrs. Batista plans to take the four children to Ciudad Trujillo.

Warns May Close Negro Schools, Too

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—John Patterson, sworn in as governor today, warned Alabama Negroes that continued pressure for integration will mean the closing of their schools.
He promised to use every power to keep the schools segregated, and appealed to Negroes to turn against "the agitators of your own race whose aim is to destroy our school system."
"If you do not do so, and these agitators continue at their present pace," Patterson admonished in a prepared inaugural address, "in a short time you will have no public school system at all."
And if the schools are closed, Patterson added pessimistically, they may never be reopened "in your lifetime and mine. Our children will suffer the consequences."
"Our race problems will never be solved by court decrees, injunctions and federal troops," the 37-year-old incoming governor continued. "They will be solved only through mutual understanding and good will between the races without outside interference and agitation."
Patterson took the oath of office in the climax of an inaugural pageant from which Negro high school and college bands were barred on Patterson's orders.
Patterson advocated passage of a law to close any school "where military or other forces are employed by the federal government to police their operations."
He also recommended legislation to cut off all public funds to any school where the segregation bars are lowered.
Patterson is the youngest governor in Alabama history. He is the son of the crusading crime fighter, Albert L. Patterson, whose murder 4 1/2 years ago touched off a massive vice cleanup in Phenix City.

More Snow And Cold Is Served Eastern States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More snow and cold plagued wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today.
The cold air extended across the Southland. It was freezing in northern Florida and temperatures were in the 40s in the extreme southern section.
Cold wave warnings were posted for wide areas in the mid-continent, hit by severe cold over the weekend. A fresh mass of arctic air from Canada spread southward across the Dakotas and Minnesota into northern parts of Iowa. Temperatures were below zero again in Minnesota and the Dakotas.
The new onslaught of icy air was expected to cover most of the Midwest and Plains States by night.
It was clear and cold in the Atlantic Coast states. Below zero readings were reported in sections of the Northeast. Some warmer weather was indicated in the north and middle Atlantic states as well as in the Southeast.
The main area of wet weather covered by the storm extended from northern Missouri and eastern Iowa across northern Illinois and Indiana and northward into the upper Great Lakes.
Rain or a mixture of rain and snow fell near the southern borders of the wet belt. Blowing and drifting snow was reported to the north, with driving conditions reported hazardous in some areas. Falls ranged from one to two inches in a six-hour period during the night.

Family Of Three Loses All In Fire

BETHEL — A family of three lost all their belongings when their dwelling burned around 4:30 this morning.
Living in the house, which was located on Willard St. were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wood and their small son.
Bethel firemen were called to the scene but neighbors said the flames were bursting out the front door when fire trucks arrived.
The Woods were awakened by smoke during the night. They grabbed up some clothing as they made their way from the burning house and that was all that was saved from the flames.
The fire apparently started in the kitchen of the dwelling.
Owner of the house is W. R. Hunnicutt.
Wood was said to be crippled and unable to work while Mrs. Wood works part-time as a telephone operator in Tarboro.
The dwelling was of concrete block construction.

Baby Girl Born Shortly After Helicopter Flight

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Mildred June Evans, 19, gave birth to a baby boy Sunday night shortly after a helicopter flight from her ice-bound Chesapeake Bay Island home.
The young woman began experiencing labor pains at her Smith Island home Sunday afternoon. A commercial boat tried to take Mrs. Evans from the island to this Eastern Shore town, but was stopped by ice.
The Coast Guard dispatched a 52-foot boat from Crisfield but it also was stopped by the ice.
Finally, the Coast Guard asked the Patuxent Naval Air Station to send a helicopter for the woman and her mother Mrs. Laura Clayton. They were at Crisfield in less than 15 minutes.
Mrs. Evans gave birth to a seven-pound, four-ounce boy shortly after 9 p.m. in the Edward W. McCready Memorial Hospital.

Returning Bust After Prank

NEW YORK (AP)—A 125-pound bronze bust is on the way back to the New York University Hall of Fame after a mysterious three-day absence.
The bust of James Kent, a chief justice of the State Supreme Court in the early 19th century, was taken from the hall Thursday night.
An usher at a Bronx church found it Sunday on the sidewalk in front of the church, some three miles away. It was in good condition.
Police and school officials blamed the disappearance on prankish students or fraternity pledges.

and that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Too many African mines are short-lived and very speculative.
(15) WATER POWER. Africa leads all continents in undeveloped water power. Three of these possibilities are now being developed. I am especially enthused about the one at the Kariba Gorge on the Zambezi River. This will be three times the size of our Hoover Dam, and has the world's largest man-made lake to supply water in the dry seasons. It will supply power to the copper mines.
(16) WILD BEASTS. Africa has the greatest number of wild beasts now remaining on this earth. There is a huge collection in the Kruger Reservation, 300 miles by 50 miles in area. I was unable to visit this reservation, where they all run wild and have equal opportunity to follow their natural pattern for survival; but Mrs. Babson had the courage to go by herself, with a guide. These wild animals offer a suggestion for world peace—namely, by giving equal opportunities to all creatures. If all men and beasts have sufficient opportunities to eat and to develop, there will be no Communists.

Two Arrests On Liquor Charges

ABC officers arrested Joseph Spellman, Negro, 50, of 1717 South Pitt Street for possession of a small quantity of non-tax-paid whiskey, Saturday night. Spellman was recognized to appear before city court on January 26.
Officer H. B. Lilley made another arrest on Sunday night, apprehending James T. Yarell, 26-year-old Negro, of 211 Boyd Avenue, for possession for the purpose of sale of 1 1/2 gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey. Yarell had the liquor in his home. He was released under $300 bond and will appear in city court on the 26th also.

DRIVER CHARGED

Police charged Mary Massengill, of 501 East Eighth Street, with failure to yield right of way in an accident which occurred Sunday morning at the corner of Fifth and Washington Streets. Her auto hit another vehicle, causing $200 to it and $450 damage to her own car.

East Carolina Upsets Lenoir Rhyne By 87-75 Score

Shooting Sparked By Adams

By JOHNNY HUDSON
 HICKORY—East Carolina, riding a hot three game winning streak, pulled an "impossible" Saturday night by upsetting defending North State Champion, Lenoir Rhyne, 87-75, on the latter's home court.

Sparked by a tremendous shooting exhibition by guard Charlie Adams, the Pirates jumped into an early lead and after the score was tied seven times salvaged a 44-37 halftime lead.

The second half was all East Carolina as the Pirates kept a wide spread and were aided by numerous foul shots. The Bears, trying desperately to get back into the game, had four starters to foul out in the final half.

Adams, the Cary senior, ran his last three game total 73 points as he filled the nets with outside jump shots. Ike Riddick, junior guard, also aided in the scoring attack with 23 points, his high for the season.

The win at Hickory was the first for the Pirates since 1956 and avenged an earlier licking administered by the Bears at Greenville. Dick Whittis, Lenoir Rhyne forward, was held to 13 points by the Pirate defense and left a big dent in his 22 point average. Ken Norman topped the Bruins scoring with 14 points while Bill Reece, Tommy Sellari and Joe Ladd broke into double figures with 10 points each.

Nick Nichols, Pirate captain, broke out of a scoring slump as he hit 16 points. He had not hit double figures since early in the season. Nichols was out last season due to a shoulder operation.

The Bears played on even terms during the first half but after the score was tied 37-all with a minute remaining were unable to score while the Pirates hit for seven quick points.

Coach Howard Porter used only seven players in upsetting the high-flying Bears. The victory gave ECC a 6-5 over-all mark and a 5-3 conference record. Lenoir Rhyne is now 9-3 and 5-2 in conference play.

Coach Billy Wells, successful young tutor, had plenty of credit for the Pirate squad. "They played a tremendous game and that boy Adams was great. There is nothing you can do when he hits from where he was hitting." The Bear coach pointed out that he stated earlier that "if East Carolina ever got together, they would have the best team in the conference."

Coach Howard Porter was a happy man following the game as he called the play of his club "tremendous." Porter stated that it was his club's best game of the season.

There will be little rest for the Bears as they complete their road trip tonight against this year's leaders, Western Carolina at Cullowhee. The Catamounts defeated ECC earlier in a holiday tournament but the game did not count in conference play.

North Carolina's basketball Tar Heels hold first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference and will continue to do so at least until that date due to the mid term exam layoff.

Clemson's game with The Citadel of the Southern Conference at Charleston, S.C., tonight is the only contest involving an ACC member this week. On Tuesday of next week South Carolina ventures forth on its home court against Furman, also of the Southern circuit.

Those two games represent the total ACC activity until Jan. 30 when the first of two double headers will be played at the Charlotte Coliseum. The opening twin bill sends South Carolina against North Carolina. The next night they'll swap opponents as South Carolina faces North Carolina and Clemson takes on North Carolina State.

Frank McGuire's Tar Heels, ranked third nationally last week, beat top-ranked North Carolina State in overtime to bring their ACC record to 5-0.

Overall they are 10-1, losing only to Michigan State in the Dixie Classic tournament semifinals last month.

N.C. State had an all-out struggle with Wake Forest Saturday night before gaining a 64-59 victory to bring its ACC mark to 6-1 and its overall record to 12-2. George Stepanovich's 21 rebounds and 14 points sparked the Wolfpack two twice trailed by eight points in the second half.

Four of North Carolina's five league victories have come against the second division clubs—Wake Forest, Clemson, South Carolina and Virginia.

The Tar Heels have played fewer ACC games than any of their rivals and have a lot of catching up to do. Of the nine remaining conference games on their schedule five are with first division teams.

They still have to meet Maryland's defending champions. True, the Tarps are in third place with an unimpressive 4-3 record and are 6-7 for all games after losing to Duke Saturday 78-69. But coach Bud Millikan will have them ready for North Carolina next month.

Duke's sophomore loaded squad also is showing signs of rounding into a troublesome unit. The Blue Devils were at their top form of the year in their regionally televised conquest of Maryland, Carroll Youngkin and Howard Hurt dumped in 21 points apiece and combined for 25 rebounds.

Playing Maryland and Duke twice and a revenge-minded N.C. State team once in less than four weeks should put North Carolina to the acid test.

Another Boyer Seen Big Yankee Prospect

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Cletis Boyer, the youngest of the ball-playing Boyer clan, and Johnny Blanchard, a long-ball hitting catcher, appear to be the best bets to make the grade with the Yankees this year.

Boyer is a shortstop but he probably will be given a shot at the regular left field berth. Blanchard is a former outfielder who heeded Hall of Famer Bill Dickey's advice and switched to catching. The qualification of both is the ability to hit the long ball.

Boyer played at Richmond last year. Blanchard at Denver. The 22-year-old Boyer batted .284 but slammed 22 home runs and drove in 71 runs. The 26-year-old Blanchard batted .291 but walked 19 home runs and drove in 96 runs.

Boyer, whose assets are strong, quick wrists, was acquired by the Yankees in a trade with Kansas City several years ago. The Athletics had paid him a reported $50,000 bonus but gave up on him after his two-year apprenticeship had expired.

Blanchard is expected to move in behind Elston Howard as the No. 2 catcher with Yogi Berra acting as a handy man alternating between catching and the outfield with an occasional fling at first base. At least, that's what Manager Casey Stengel said in a winter press conference.

Seven pitchers, a catcher, five infielders and three outfielders make up the list of Yankee newcomers. The best record is sported by righthander John Gabriel of Overland Park, Kan., who posted a 19-7 record at Denver last year.

The records of the others should give Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Don Larsen, Ryne Duren and Co. cause to worry.

Mark Freeman, with a 13-10 record at Denver, will make his fourth trip to a Yankee training camp. From Richmond come righthanders Jim Bronstad, 13-12; and Jim Coats, who won his only two starts before coming up with a sore arm. The lefthanders are Ed Dick, 12-10, and John James, 8-9.

Frank Leja, the hulking first baseman who pocketed a $50,000 bonus several years ago, is back after a 264 mark at New Orleans.

Tommy Carroll, another bonus baby, will seek an infield utility post. He batted .289 at Denver. Frizlie Brickell, the half-pint hustling shortstop is back again after hitting .266 at Denver.

The new outfielders are Deron Johnson, 260 at Richmond; Dick Sanders, 268 at Denver; and John Reed, 309 at New Orleans.

Opportunity Beckoning A Few In Week Of Exams

By DON WEISS
 Associated Press Sports Writer

A week of classroom exams for most of college basketball's might could turn into a week of opportunity on the hardwood for a handful of others.

Half of the Associated Press' top 10, including the big four of North Carolina State, Kentucky, North Carolina and Kansas State, are idle at least until Jan. 26.

While their backs are turned, opportunity beckons for the likes of Auburn, Cincinnati, Michigan State, St. John's (NH) and West Virginia and a trailer group that includes Mississippi State, St. Bonaventure, St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Seattle, Utah and Villanova.

Despite the nation's longest major winning streak, now 22 games, Auburn still has been more or less overlooked in the national rankings. Fifth-ranked at present, the Tigers have games with Georgia Tech Wednesday and Georgia Saturday in which to try to catch the eye of the experts.

Cincinnati, St. John's, West Virginia, St. Louis, Seattle, Marquette, and Oklahoma City—teams beaten early in the season but streaking now—have at least one game during the lull.

The same holds true for St. Bonaventure, the only other major unbeaten, once-beaten Mississippi State and Villanova, and rugged big conference clubs like Michigan State and Utah.

Michigan State bids to take over the Big Ten lead in games with Ohio State tonight and Minnesota Saturday. Villanova (11-1) also

Only One ACC Game This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's basketball Tar Heels hold first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference and will continue to do so at least until that date due to the mid term exam layoff.

Clemson's game with The Citadel of the Southern Conference at Charleston, S.C., tonight is the only contest involving an ACC member this week. On Tuesday of next week South Carolina ventures forth on its home court against Furman, also of the Southern circuit.

Those two games represent the total ACC activity until Jan. 30 when the first of two double headers will be played at the Charlotte Coliseum. The opening twin bill sends South Carolina against North Carolina. The next night they'll swap opponents as South Carolina faces North Carolina and Clemson takes on North Carolina State.

Frank McGuire's Tar Heels, ranked third nationally last week, beat top-ranked North Carolina State in overtime to bring their ACC record to 5-0.

Overall they are 10-1, losing only to Michigan State in the Dixie Classic tournament semifinals last month.

N.C. State had an all-out struggle with Wake Forest Saturday night before gaining a 64-59 victory to bring its ACC mark to 6-1 and its overall record to 12-2. George Stepanovich's 21 rebounds and 14 points sparked the Wolfpack two twice trailed by eight points in the second half.

Four of North Carolina's five league victories have come against the second division clubs—Wake Forest, Clemson, South Carolina and Virginia.

The Tar Heels have played fewer ACC games than any of their rivals and have a lot of catching up to do. Of the nine remaining conference games on their schedule five are with first division teams.

They still have to meet Maryland's defending champions. True, the Tarps are in third place with an unimpressive 4-3 record and are 6-7 for all games after losing to Duke Saturday 78-69. But coach Bud Millikan will have them ready for North Carolina next month.

Duke's sophomore loaded squad also is showing signs of rounding into a troublesome unit. The Blue Devils were at their top form of the year in their regionally televised conquest of Maryland, Carroll Youngkin and Howard Hurt dumped in 21 points apiece and combined for 25 rebounds.

Playing Maryland and Duke twice and a revenge-minded N.C. State team once in less than four weeks should put North Carolina to the acid test.

If He Lost Bout, Boxer Planned Quit; But Died

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"He promised me that if he lost this fight he would quit and take care of me and the baby," said the young widow, who is an expectant mother.

Pretty Mrs. Nan Davis, 20, cheered for husband Lynn, 21, as he climbed into the ring to face Billy Strother in the welterweight bout at the Houston Golden Gloves Tournament Saturday night.

Strother had four years of amateur boxing experience to Lynn's two. After the first round, the edge was evident.

Davis took several good blows from his short, stocky opponent and appeared unable to defend himself. Referee Ernie Taylor stopped it.

"When he came off the ring he was smiling," Mrs. Davis said. "Then after he sat down, he leaned back and suddenly turned white as a sheet."

Doctors at nearby Jefferson Davis Hospital pronounced him dead a few minutes later.

"Lynn promised he would quit fighting," she said, "but neither of us really believed he would."

And if he had won?

"He said, 'why quit while we're winning?' We just kind of laughed about it. If Lynn had won, the same thing might have happened to him. I just don't know."

Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, the county pathologist, said he found evidence of "acute heart failure" but the cause of death would not be established for about a week.

The pathologist said Davis did not appear badly beaten although he suffered a black eye and brain swelling.

Mrs. Davis expects her first child in three months. The couple had been married a little more than a year. Davis worked as a butcher at a supermarket and taught a Church of Christ Sunday School class.

A teammate broke the news of Davis' death to Strother, 22. He appeared stunned.

"This is something I'll have to live with the rest of my life," he said. "I'll probably never fight again."

Ski Trail Slide Terrifies Girls

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. (AP)—Sixteen terrified teen-age girls were injured, one seriously, when they went sliding down an ice-glazed ski trail on 3,000-foot high Cranmore Mountain Sunday.

The trail had been closed to skiing as hazardous. In a frolicsome mood the girls decided to try sliding.

Almost instantly their speed was beyond their control and they were thrown against trees, brush and rocks as they plummeted 100 yards down the steep, icy trail.

About an inch of glare ice, left by freezing rain, encrusted a foot of snow.

When found, they were strewn about the trail, bruised and bleeding, some unable to stand.

Most seriously injured was Carol Di Spirito, 16, who suffered pelvic and lumbar spinal fractures and bladder injury. Five girls were held at Memorial Hospital for less serious injuries. Ten others were treated at the hospital and released.

The girls were among about 200 members of St. Patrick's Catholic Youth Organization of Lawrence, Mass., who went to the ski resort on the parish's second annual winter sports party.

Baylor May Sign Delaware Coach

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Will he or won't he? That's what Baylor football fans here wondered today about Dave Nelson.

Nelson, head coach at Delaware, was supposed to let the Baylor faculty know today whether he'll take the job of head football coach and athletic director.

If he says yes, the job reportedly is his. Reliable sources say the field was narrowed last week to Nelson and John Bridgers, line coach for the professional Baltimore Colts. But they say Nelson has the inside track and he's the object of all the speculation.

Nelson said Saturday he would not make up his mind about the Baylor job until he conferred with Delaware officials today.

Leader In The Chips

Art Wall Credits Three Colleagues For Triumph

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Despite a $6,000-victory in the Bing Crosby golf tournament, Art Wall Jr., may look up his pro golfing buddies for a little help.

The lean Pennsylvanian credits three colleagues for making him the year's leading money winner.

Wall carded a final nine of 41 while Gene Littler was closing fast. Only a shot hooked into the Pacific on the 18th removed the San Diego battler from contention.

He was nine down and in third place when the pair started the final eight holes. By the 18th he was only one down.

Littler came to the par five 540-yard hole with Wall anything but sharp. He had three-putted both the 16th and 17th.

With a national television audience looking on Littler hooked his second shot into the ocean. He said he was not pressing, that he was trying for position for a good approach.

The TV program time ran out before the golfers putted but viewers must have known who would win.

Wall took a six and won with a 279 after shooting 34-41-75 for the day. Littler and Jimmy Demaret, who started the day in second place, tied for second with 291 and $2,150 apiece.

Wall won $4,000 for the individual pro and $2,000 for low pro-amateur score—252—with National Amateur champ Charles Coe. Littler added $1,200 to his haul as he and Art Anderson of Hollywood finished third in the pro-am with 259.

The big haul gave Wall $9,700 for three tournaments this year.

He said, however, he was worried about his recent bad finishes. He finished second at Los Angeles and tied for 12th at Tijuana.

He follows a pattern devised after work with fellow pro Doug Ford, a $1,250 money winner in the Crosby; Jay Hebert, who won $712 and Mike Fetcheck, who finished out of the money.

After that final 41 Sunday, he indicated he might seek more advice before the Palm Springs Thunderbird Invitational starts Thursday.

Finishing behind Littler and Demaret were Californians Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto and John McMillin from Alameda with 293 good for $1,500 each, Don January, Eastland, Tex., and Ford, from Crystal River, Fla., 285 for $1,250 and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif., 286 for $1,025.

Ford picked up an additional $1,500 for finishing second in the pro-amateur with Art Anderson, Hollywood, Calif., in 257.

Two Loop Games For W. Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Western Carolina, which shares the North State Conference basketball lead with High Point, plays two conference games this week. One of them is at home tonight against East Carolina, which handed defending champion Lenoir Rhyne its second defeat last week.

WCTC and High Point each has a 6-0 conference mark, the Catamounts overtaking the Panthers with two wins last week. Lenoir Rhyne still is third at 5-2 but ECC is crowding the Bears with a 5-3 mark.

High Point plays only one conference game this week, tonight at Elon.

In Saturday night's games, ECC dumped Lenoir Rhyne 87-74; Catawba edged Elon 57-54; High Point downed Appalachian 8-63; Atlantic Christian turned back Pfeiffer 89-70; and Western Carolina drubbed Carson-Newman 93-54.

The rest of the week's schedule:

Wednesday—Elon at Appalachian.

Friday—Atlantic Christian at Appalachian.

Saturday—Atlantic Christian at Lenoir Rhyne, Western Carolina at Elon, Belmont Abbey at Catawba.

Davis Cup Aces Gain Semifinals

ADELAIDE (AP)—U.S. Davis Cup ace Alex Olmedo and Barry MacKay survived the sweltering heat and a five-set struggle today and gained the men's doubles semifinals in the Australian National Tennis Championships with a trio of teams from the host country.

Playing spottily but strong unheat, the American combination defeated Australians Bob Hewitt and Martin Mulligan, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0.

The men's singles are on tap Tuesday when Olmedo, MacKay and Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., compete in the list which also includes two Swedes, one Spaniard and 10 Australians.

The next doubles foe for Olmedo, a Peruvian who attended Southern California, and MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, is the crack Australian team of Rod Laver and Bob Mark, bidding for Davis Cup recognition. They beat the Swedish team of Ulf Schmidt and Jan Erik Lundquist, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Top-seeded Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson beat John Pearce and John O'Brien, two Aussie giant killers, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

The other doubles spot was won by veteran Bob Howe and Don Candy of Australia, who beat Warren Woodcock and Neil Gibson, 2-6, 3-6, 2, 6-1, 6-3.

Earl Buchholz of St. Louis was hard-pressed to defeat Paul Graham Jones of Tasmania, 5-6, 6-1, 6-4, and gain the quarterfinal berth in the junior division. Buchholz had been off form in losing in the first round of the men's singles recently.

Carolina League Cut To 6 Teams

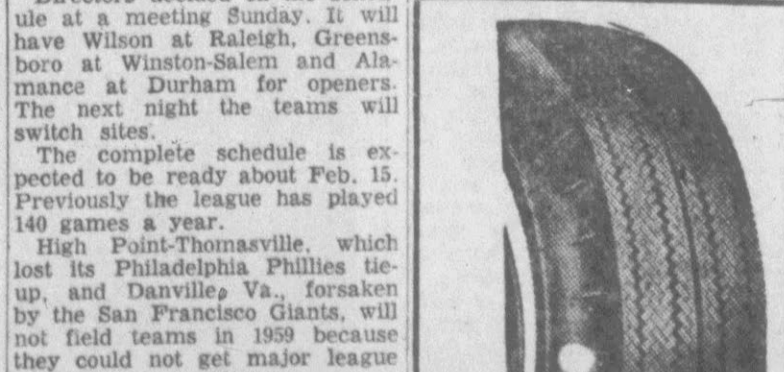

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—The Class B Carolina League, reduced to six teams, has shortened its baseball season to 139 games. The season opens Tuesday, April 21.

Directors decided on the schedule at a meeting Sunday. It will have Wilson at Raleigh, Greensboro at Winston-Salem and Alamance at Durham for openers. The next night the teams will switch sites.

The complete schedule is expected to be ready about Feb. 15. Previously the league has played 140 games a year.

High Point-Thomsonville, which lost its Philadelphia Phillies tie-up, and Danville Va., forsaken by the San Francisco Giants, will not field teams in 1959 because they could not get major league working agreements.

Greensboro owners, who took control of the club in a recent swap, said they and league President Bill Jessup will meet Wednesday to complete arrangements for the change of ownership.

Wave Of Crippling Strikes Starts Sweeping Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A crippling wave of strikes swept Argentina today as President Arturo Frondizi flew to the United States for help to pull his country out of economic chaos.

With diehard followers of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron egging workers toward open revolt, government officials served notice they would call out troops if violence erupted.

The capital was in a virtual state of siege as orders went out to conscripts in the 24-26 age class to stand by for a call from the army "at any moment."

Frondizi was due in Charleston, S. C., today to start a two-week state visit. He arrives in Washington Tuesday to confer with President Eisenhower and other top officials.

Left at home to direct action against the strikers were Senate Chairman Jose Maria Guido, acting president, and Alfredo Vitolo, acting minister of national defense and interior minister.

Scattered violence Sunday pointed up the gravity of the situation. One bomb went off in La Plata, 35 miles southeast of the capital, doing about $1,000 in damage to the building housing the U. S. Information Service. Another exploded in the capital, damaging the home of Rogelio Frigerio, economic adviser to the president.

Frondizi told newsmen during a stopover in Lima his regime stands ready to take strong action to prevent Peronist labor leaders from starting an uprising.

"Some union sectors think they can take the country over," he declared. His government meanwhile declared the strikes illegal, meaning that strikers lose their rights under the country's labor laws.

But orders to stop work mounted swiftly. Trolleys, buses and subways in Buenos Aires were paralyzed. Oil workers, utility workers, telephone, radio and telegraph operators, food and catering unions, white collar employees, newsmen, printers and a host of others were ordered out.

Motion picture houses were ordered closed. Newspapers were expected not to publish. Meat workers, textile workers, construction men and bank clerks were told not to work. Some of the strikes were for an indefinite period, others for 48 hours.

The strikes ostensibly were called in sympathy for workers at the government-owned Buenos Aires meat packing plant. Police and troops used tanks and tear gas Saturday to rout some 7,000 workers who had barricaded themselves in the plant protesting the government's decision to turn the plant over to private operators.

Surprise When Car Hit Church

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — More than 100 youths attending a supper at Lakewood Methodist church were startled Sunday night when an automobile crashed into the church and buckled a brick wall.

Church members, who watched police remove the slightly injured woman driver and a bottle of whiskey from the car, were flabbergasted when they recognized her as a woman who had applied for church membership six hours earlier.

Officers said drunk driving charges would be filed.

S. C. Inaugurating A Governor Who, Like Hodges, See Hope In Industry

COLUMBIA (AP)— Handsome, personable Ernest Frederick (Fritz) Hollings Jr., who sees the state's economic salvation in added industry, will be inaugurated Tuesday as South Carolina's 80th governor.

The 37-year-old Charleston lawyer will be sworn into office in a ceremony in front of the north portico of the State House.

Taking the oath with Hollings will be Lt. Gov. Burnet R. Maybank and the state's constitutional officers.

The ceremonies will be followed by an inaugural parade through downtown Columbia. There will be a reception Tuesday night at a Columbia Hotel.

Associate Justice Lionel K. Lege of the State Supreme Court, a fellow Charlestonian, will administer the oath of office to Hollings. The governor then will deliver his inaugural address.

Hollings' star rose fast in the state political picture. He was elected to the State House from Charleston County three consecutive times—in 1948, 1950 and 1952. Each time he led the ticket over 20 candidates. He was elected speaker pro tempore of the House by unanimous vote in 1951 and 1953.

For the last four years, Hollings has served as lieutenant governor during the administration of Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr.

In a run off Democratic primary last June, Hollings rolled to victory over Donald S. Russell, Spartanburg attorney and former president of the University of South Carolina.

A third candidate, Anderson Mayor William C. Johnston, was eliminated in the first primary June 10.

Not Drunk, But Had Marijuana

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Police gave a woozy young man a balloon test for drunkenness at the scene of an auto crash. He passed it like a teetotaler.

But his grin faded when a passerby appeared with a paper sack and said "here's the sack you put down on the parkway."

Inside police found enough marijuana to roll 1,700 cigarettes. They held the driver for state narcotics officers.

Find Postscript To Drama At Sea

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)— A small jar containing a message washed ashore near Taft, Ore., Sunday and provided a postscript to a drama at sea.

Coast Guard headquarters here said the message read: "Attempted to signal ship by use of light. Smoke-fire on stern. Never prayed so hard in my life. Hope to see plane or other boat. Yours truly, LeRoy Hall, Frank la Fazio, boat Jefferson."

The Coast Guard said its records showed the fishing boat Jefferson out of San Francisco was taken in tow Jan. 6 after being adrift four days. All hands were saved.

Escaped Mental Patient Caught After Kidnaping

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)— An escaped mental patient who kidnaped three persons in Columbia, Mo., Friday was captured Sunday by detectives.

He is Eugene Lewis, 37, who escaped Thursday from the Colorado State Mental Hospital in Pueblo. He had been transferred three 10 months ago from Colorado State Prison where he was serving 27 years for armed robbery and assault.

In Columbia, Lewis kidnaped Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Reeves and their house guest, Jesse Blaylock of Sallisaw, Okla. He forced them at gunpoint to drive him to St. Louis. He released them unharmed after their car broke down.

The trio called police and six detectives burst into Lewis' dingy room in south St. Louis, surprising him before he could get to a loaded pistol.

Officers quoted Lewis as saying, "If I could have got to the gun I'd have used it."

Dog's Barking Saves Blind Man

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)— Victor Kowalski was sleeping in a downstairs bedroom while his wife and four children were away.

The barking of the family's pet dog awakened him. The second floor of his house was on fire.

Kowalski and the dog escaped to the street. Firemen extinguished the blaze.

Kowalski is blind.

Not His Day For Doing Business

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— It was a poor day for business for Earl Welk, 30, Santa Clara, Calif., who flew to Phoenix Sunday to buy some used TV sets from a motel.

He lost his return ticket and finally had to buy another. He rented a car to go to the race track—and lost $200 on the horses. Coming back, he got in the wrong traffic lane and drew a citation. That was $5.

Then he found the TV sets were 17-inches. He cancelled the order because he needed bigger ones.

THE 8TH CIRCLE A MASTER MYSTERY BY STANLEY ELLIN

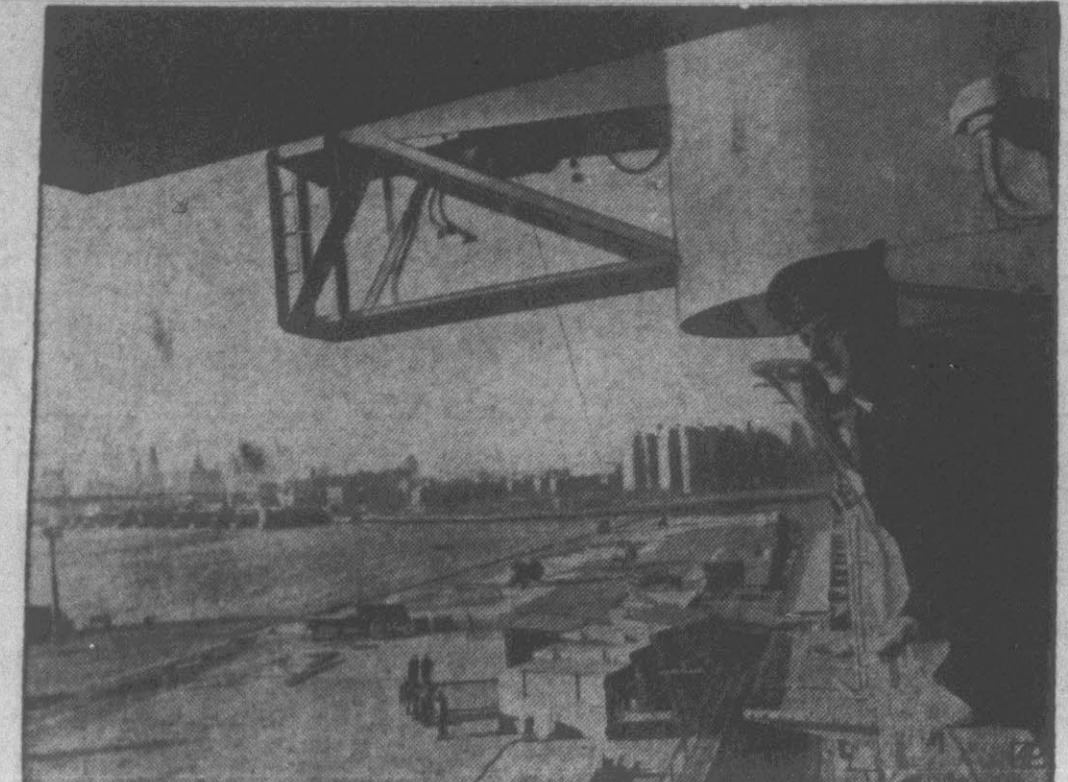

CHAPTER 5
Minutes of the Hearing, September 15.
For the District Attorney: Felix Localzo.
For the Grand Jury: Thomas L. Price, foreman.
Testimony of: Patrolman Arnold Lundeen, 22C720 (sworn).
Reference: page 1281.
Q: (by Mr. Localzo): You say you are familiar with the duties of a plainclothes man attached to the Vice Squad.
A: (by Patrolman Lundeen): That is right.
Q: Then please tell this jury what those duties are.
A: You mean, what the job is, or how we work on it?
Q: You seem to be a normally intelligent man, officer. You're not usually this slow on the trigger, are you?
A: All I—
Q: Just tell me what you think your duties are.
A: Well, we function against vice, gambling, and violations of the ABC. That is the Alcoholic Beverage Control.
Q: Thank you. Now let's hear how you work on a case.
A: What kind of case? There's all different kinds.
Q: Any kind of case. Just a case in general. No wait. Is it your impression, officer, that I'm trying to trick you into something? That can't be done, if you're telling the truth.
A: Yes, sir. I am telling the truth.
Q: All right. Go ahead and keep telling it.
A: Well, the way we work is to patrol an area, and when we see a suspect we keep him under observation until we catch him with the goods.
Q: And then?
A: Well, then we arrest him and seize the evidence. After we book him at the precinct house we take him to court.

Q: And that's it?
A: Yes, sir. My record—
Q: Never mind your record, officer; it's been duly entered. What interests me right now is the way you've been using that editorial "we." I take it that this includes you as well as all the other men on your squad?
A: Sure.
Q: That wasn't intended to be funny. It was intended to point out that while I asked you how you worked on a case, you answered with some glittering generalities about your squad in phrases drawn from the departmental instruction book. Are you — you, personally — always so careful to follow departmental instructions?
A: I guess so.
Q: You guess so. Do your instructions allow you to consort with known criminals?
A: Well, there might be some assignment—
Q: I am not talking about special assignments.
A: In that case, no, sir.
Q: Good. Do your instructions allow you to make a deal with any suspect, so that you will be paid to arrest someone in his place?
A: Of course not. You know that, Mr. Localzo.
Q: I know it, yes. But do you?
A: If you're saying—
Q: Let me finish. Have you ever made any such deal? Have you ever taken money — graft — for the word for it, officer — to arrest someone in a suspect's place?
A: No, I did not.
Reference: page 1289
Q: (by Mr. Localzo): So that is your story of the Schrade arrest?

A: (by Patrolman Lundeen): Yes, sir.
Q: You say you arrested him at Forty-fifth and Eighth?
A: Yes, sir.
Q: Do you know that section well?
A: Pretty well.
Q: Did you ever hear of the Songster Corporation? It is right around the corner from there.
A: No, sir.
Q: Do you know the owner of that company? His name is Ira Miller.
A: No, sir. I've heard of him, but I don't know him.
Q: Did you know that the Eddie Schrade you arrested was an employee of that company, and a long-time associate of Ira Miller?
A: No, sir.
Q: Do you know that Ira Miller is a notorious bookie, an associate of George Wysocki, and that he uses the Songster Corporation only as a front?
A: Well, I told you, Mr. Localzo. I know about Ira Miller now, but I didn't know then.
Q: When?
A: When I arrested Schrade. I didn't know about Miller then.
Q: You didn't? How do you know who he is now?
A: I — do I have to answer that?
Q: You do.
A: Well, I asked around.
Mr. Price (jury): Mr. Localzo, could you ask the witness to speak at little louder, please? Some of us back here cannot hear him; let's have that answer again, and make it a little louder this time.
A: I said, I asked around.
Q: You mean to sit there and tell me under oath that you had to ask around, as you put it, to find out who the biggest bookie in your district was? Who did you ask?
A: Just some people.
Q: What people? Please speak louder. I can hardly hear you myself.
A: Just people. I don't remember who.
Q: People in the Police Department, by any chance?
A: I don't remember.
Q: I see you don't. And these mysterious people told you who Miller was?
A: Yes.
Q: But when you arrested Schrade you didn't know anything about Miller?
A: That is right.
Q: There's an old saying, officer, that a plainclothes man can't be in a district for more than a day without knowing who operates all the rackets in it. Do you agree with that?
A: It's just a saying.
Q: Then you don't agree with that?
A: I don't know. I just know I never heard of Ira Miller until after I was in your office that day.
Q: That was — wait. I want to check this. That was September 15?
A: Yes.
Q: And you say this under oath?
A: Yes, sir. I do.

January Business Back To 'Normal' Behavior

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—January is running true to form — and that is a comfort in itself. Last year January wasn't as good as usual and tipped businessmen off that the steep slide into the recession trough was just ahead. A couple of years back January was better than usual, riding the boom that took its toll in a rising cost of living.
This year January is behaving in its normal, healthy way: More persons out of work than last fall although industrial output is up. Many wage scales higher but take home pay for most workers down because of the increased withholding for higher social security taxes. Debt conscious Americans trying to clear up their Christmas bills and still take advantage of the clearance sales.
The rise in unemployment in December and January is unpleasant but expected — and largely seasonal. It comes from the normal drop in outdoor work — aggravated this time by bad weather in many sections. Factory employment, particularly in nondurables, is holding up well, and foretelling better days ahead when outdoor jobs open up again.
After their biggest Christmas ever, retailers are predicting even higher volume this year. Some may be hurt by the unusually early Easter but expect to make that up later on.
The auto industry is building up stocks, as it does in a normal January. It still has to prove the sales appeal of the new models. Sales are good for January, but the big test lies ahead when dealers are fully stocked and the snow is off the highways.
Construction, in spite of the weather, continues to be a shining star in the economy. Housing starts to continue to increase, in contrast to a year ago when the home building industry was groggy. Construction contract awards foreshadow greater activity in the spring.
Mostly, though, January is shaping up as being neither very good or very bad for business.
On the one hand, this has allayed some of the fears that a runaway boom, egged on by the stock market's enthusiasm, might lead to a bust. On the other, it has allayed fears that the vigor of the recovery in its early stages might be borrowing from future demand and might peter out about now, leaving the economy in the doldrums.
The stock market and international affairs have furnished the month with most of its financial headlines.
February and March could be more decisive months for business, but having January back to being its normal self again augurs well.

Court Fight Of Cattle Herd Lasted 10 Years

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The memory of 41 cows and two bulls which has plagued Nevada courts for more than 10 years has been laid to rest by the State Supreme Court.
The saga of the litigated herd started in 1948 when Mrs. Stella Belanger's husband sold it while the couple was in the process of divorce at Fallon.
The buyer subsequently sold the animals to someone else, who later sold them to a third party, who sold them to Milton A. and Milton D. Bowler.
At one time or another during the past 10 years, all of the owners and ex-owners of the herd have been involved in court fights.
But the Bowlers, being the last buyers, are the ones who have to pay Mrs. Belanger, later Mrs. Leonard and now Mrs. Bryson, the $7,200 awarded by the Supreme Court in Friday's decision.
The central figures in the episode — the 41 cows and two bulls — are long since dead.

Keith admitted making the call July 17 but told U.S. Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson "I still don't know why I did it."

May Lose Limbs After 7 Hours In Wrecked Car

ARCADIA, Wis. (AP)—A young mother who spent seven hours with her husband in a wrecked automobile during a subzero cold faced possible amputation of her limbs today. Her husband died Sunday night, several hours after they were taken to a hospital with their arms and legs frozen solid.

Mrs. Barbara Kupietz, 20, mother of two small children, was reported in extremely critical condition.

Dr. Bernard Dockenforff said her arms and legs probably will have to be amputated.

Her husband, La Vern, 26, a bakery employe, suffered internal injuries in addition to frozen limbs.

The couple was trapped in their automobile late Saturday after it careened off a western Wisconsin highway and plunged into a deep ditch, hidden from passing motorists. The temperature was 15 degrees below zero.

The persistent barking of a dog led a farmer to investigate. He summoned help.

Young Joyrider Had One Mishap

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy, with no previous solo driving experience, drove his grandfather's automobile 200 miles Sunday without mishap until he arrived in San Antonio.

Then Randy Stanley, Houston, smashed into another vehicle, but the driver took a dollar from me for damages and drove off," the boy explained.

Randy, released by police to an uncle, said he drove as fast as 90 miles per hour. He said he saw three highway patrolmen but was not stopped.

Charleston Welcoming Pres. Frondizi Today

By BOB McHUGH
CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—This historic city today welcomes President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina, whose nation is embroiled in labor conflict.

The tall, scholarly head of the second largest nation in Latin America will spend the night. Then he leaves Tuesday morning for economic talks with President Eisenhower in Washington.
His plush hotel suite will overlook Ft. Sumter, where the first shots of the Civil War were fired.
The 50-year-old chief executive of the Argentine left Buenos Aires by plane Sunday after a last-minute conference with officials on a spreading labor strike that could erupt into violence at any hour.

Telephone, food, metal, power, white collar workers, newsmen and printers were joining in the strikes in the Argentine capital. Frondizi may even find communication difficult with his nation.
The strikes were stirred by pro-Peronista elements and were aimed at a cost-of-living situation which has bitten sharply into paychecks.
The primary purpose of Frondizi's visit to the United States is to solve that problem by drumming up new business for his predominantly agricultural nation. Industrialists are accompanying him.

Heading the committee of official greeters were Wiley Buchanan Jr., protocol chief of the U.S. Department of State, and Willard L. Beaulac, U.S. Ambassador to Argentina.
There will be no social frills or formal entertainment here, Frondizi's request. Charleston Mayor William McG. Morrison has been informed his guests will be too weary to endure formalities after a 27-hour airplane trip directly to Charleston from Buenos Aires.

The mayor hopes to be able to display Southern hospitality, however. "If he (Frondizi) changes his mind, we'll have something ready," Morrison said.
Frondizi's visit marks the first time that the head of a foreign nation has visited here since Colonial days.
The president and his party of 20, including his wife, will leave here Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Washington on President Eisenhower's plane, Columbus III.
They will be met in Washington by the President, John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, and other top level officials.

Indictments Are Added To Case

JACKSON, N.C. (AP)—Solicitor W. H. S. Burgwyn Jr. said today he had sent seven additional indictments to the grand jury charging a veteran school official with embezzlement and false pretense.
Burgwyn would not say how many indictments there were in the amounts involved. A special term of court opened for the trial of Northampton County School Superintendent N. L. Turner, charged with embezzlement and false pretense.
Judge Walter J. Bone of Nashville allowed a motion by the prosecution that a bill of particulars be amended in one case against Turner. The prosecution told the court in its arguments it would attempt to show that Turner had made deposits in a Rich Square Bank of checks he is accused of cashing. The prosecution had sought to have the bills of particulars amended in several indictments but were unsuccessful.
Turner was given a leave of absence at his request last fall from his job as school superintendent. He made the request after the grand jury returned 56 indictments against him.
Of the 56 indictments, 28 charge embezzlement and 28 false pretense. Turner is accused of keeping the proceeds of Board of Education checks made out to other persons. The charges involved 28 checks totaling $5,081.

Crewmen Safe As Vessel Grounded

BIZERTE, Tunisia (AP)—Thirty-seven crewmen from the American freighter Vallant Effort are safe after their vessel ran aground off the northwest Tunisian coast in a violent storm.
The crewmen were taken from lifeboats Sunday by the French aircraft carrier Arromanches, which answered an SPS. Two of the sailors were injured slightly and hospitalized in Bizerte.
The Vallant Effort was reported damaged and sinking. It was bound from Galveston, Tex., to Calcutta, India, with a cargo of 10,000 tons of wheat. Its master was identified as Andrew Vapka of Galveston.

Von Braun Urges Matching Soviet

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Missile expert Werner von Braun says we may "soon be surrounded by several planets flying the hammer and sickle flag" unless America matches the Soviet Union's space program.
The United States can not claim parity—no less superiority—in the space race, the director of Army missile development said today in a speech prepared for the General Contractors Assn. convention.
Von Braun said although America has not matched the Communists in development of missiles and space rockets, the United States is moving toward that goal.

Minimum Wage Law Advocated

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP)—Durham attorney Art Vann, new president of the North Carolina Young Democrats Clubs, told a YDC audience here Saturday that passage of a state minimum wage law "would do more for our state than any other single piece of legislation."
Vann asserted that "a man's right to a decent standard of living is equally important as are those God-given rights of the freedoms of speech, the press, public assembly and worship."
He was installed as YDC president, succeeding Bob Davis of Greensboro, at a meeting on the Pfeiffer College campus. Sen. Alan Bible of Nevada also spoke and among others attending were Sens. Sam Ervin of North Carolina, and Reps. Basil Whitener and Hugh G. Alexander.
On the school segregation issue, Vann commended the General Assembly "for its wise enactment of the present laws which provide for the rights of all of our people."

Hope Wanes But Search Goes On

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Despite waning hope, a massive search for a farmer's 3-year-old son continued in a hilly, densely wooded area today.
If he is alive, Willard Eugene Jones Jr. had to survive Saturday's 19-degree temperatures in this Ozark Mountain region.
The boy was wearing a hooded snowsuit and cowboy boots when he wandered away from his brother, Wilbert, 15, who was cutting firewood.

Explosion, Fire Fatal For Six

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—At least six persons were reported killed today in an explosion and fire at a home in the resort community of Clear Lake Shores, 35 miles northeast of here.

The fire followed an explosion at 11 a. m. Cause of the blast and other details were not immediately available.
Menger reports were radioed here by Chief Deputy Sheriff J. B. Kline of Galveston County.
