

Big Four Meeting On Germany Proposed To Russia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France proposed to the Soviet Union today that a four-power foreign ministers conference on Germany be convened this spring with German advisers present.

U.S. officials opened up the possibility of a summit conference to follow if the foreign ministers meeting succeeded in making substantial progress on German issues.

The Western powers would prefer that the conference be held in Geneva or alternatively in Vienna. Officials said they also thought late April or early May would be the best time to start.

The note released at the State Department here said: "The U.S. government is prepared to participate in a conference of the ministers of foreign affairs of the U.S.S.R., France, the United Kingdom and the United States, and is ready to consider any suggestions as to a date and place, which would be fixed by mutual agreement. The place and date should be settled through diplomatic channels."

The conference should deal with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications. The aspects which would be dealt with include such immediate issues as the Western demand for reunification of Germany, the Soviet plan to oust the Western powers from Berlin and to make a peace treaty with the two halves of Germany; and other issues related to Germany such as broad questions of European security and of the possibility of disengagement of Soviet and Western forces in central Europe.

The Soviet peace conference proposal. At the same time it constitutes a serious bid to get negotiations started with the Russians on Germany.

It is aimed to get talks going ahead of Russia's deadline for a new Berlin crisis. The Russians have threatened to turn over control of East Germany—and the access routes to West Berlin—to the East German Communists in May.

Among officials here and in other Western capitals there is strong expectation that the Soviets will agree to a foreign ministers meeting of some kind, perhaps after bargaining as to time, place and participants. The Soviets may insist on including Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Senate Demos Promise To Keep Foreign Policy Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats promised today a full measure of cooperation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policies during Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' illness.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), other members of the committee, made similar pledges in separate interviews.

Dulles, in Walter Reed Army Hospital, starts this week a series of radiation treatments for cancer. The new malignancy, announced Saturday, was discovered after a hernia operation Dulles had undergone the day before.

The State Department said Sunday that Dulles' condition "continues satisfactory." During the day the secretary talked for about 15 minutes with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

The suit accused Du Pont of exerting pressure on GM through Du Pont's vast stock holdings in the automobile firm. These shares—held by Du Pont and two holding companies—Christiana Securities Co. and Delaware Realty and Investment Co.—comprise about 23 per cent of GM's total outstanding shares.

In 1956 Judge Labay ruled in favor of Du Pont, holding that the company's GM holdings did not represent a monopoly. The decision was reversed by the Supreme Court in 1957. It said Du Pont's GM holdings produced a tendency to monopoly and was a violation of the Clayton Anti Trust Act.

Kennedy Voices Belief In First Amendment

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a Roman Catholic, says he firmly believes in the constitutional separation of church and state. And he adds that he does not favor an American ambassador to the Vatican.

The 41-year-old senator is considered a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, despite the fact that no Catholic has ever been elected to the White House.

Outlining his views as a senator on religion and the Constitution, Kennedy is quoted in Look magazine today as saying: "Whatever one's religion in his private life may be, for the office holder nothing takes precedence over his oath to uphold the Constitution and all its parts — including the First Amendment and the strict separation of church and state."

"I believe as a senator that the separation of church and state is fundamental to our American concept and heritage and should remain so.

"I am flatly opposed to appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican. Whatever advantages it might have in Rome—and I'm not convinced of these—they would be more than offset by the divisive effect at home."

On the question of school aid, Kennedy said: "The First Amendment to the Constitution is an infinitely wise one. These can be no question of federal funds being used for support of parochial or private schools. It's unconstitutional under the First Amendment as interpreted by the Supreme Court. I'm opposed to the federal government's extending support to sustain any church or its schools."

"As for such fringe matters as buses, lunches and other services, the issue is primarily social and economic and not religious. Each case must be judged on its merits within the law as interpreted by the courts."

Cases Heard In City Police Court

In Municipal Recorder's Court Friday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee found Robert Williams, Negro, New York City, guilty of driving while drunk, and gave him 90 days on the roads, suspended on payment of $100 and costs. The judgment also provides that Williams shall not operate a motor vehicle for one year.

The court gave Williams 30 days on the roads (concurrent) for careless and reckless driving, judgment to be suspended in this case on payment of $50, costs deducted.

Amos A. Brown, Negro, was ordered to serve 90 days on the roads for non-compliance with a court order to support his family.

Nancy Cannon, Negro, 521 Boyd Avenue, was found not guilty of assault.

Wants No School Aid From 'Uncle'

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The first thing the federal government should do for public education in this country is to stop supporting it financially, an Indianapolis businessman said today.

The second thing, he said, is for Congress to reduce federal taxes, leaving more money for the states and communities to devote to their schools.

Dr. W. W. Hill, of the College Life Insurance Co., outlined his views in a speech prepared for delivery to a group of school administrators.

The same group heard a Tennessee educator declare that Congress can't sit idly by when the nation's schools are threatened by inadequate funds.

Dr. Erik L. Lindman of George Peabody College, Nashville, said in a prepared speech that state and local financing alone won't meet the nation's educational needs in the decade ahead.

Most of the 20,000 persons attending the annual convention of the American Assn. of School Administrators are in Lindman's camp. Some, however, share Hill's fears that federal aid to education might lead eventually to federal control of education.

Hill said "the fiscal situation of the federal government is deplorable, worse than that of any state, and it seems to be growing worse." Fair and proper programs of school finance, he said, can be realized only through state legislatures and local school boards.

He said the government program of support for federally affected areas — communities near big Army bases etc.—is frequently cited as an example of federal aid without federal control.

Hill added: "So far there is little control, but there is waste and bureaucratic irresponsibility. It can hardly be used to support the claim that the federal government is the only place to look for fair and proper financial support for public education."

Lindman said federal aid has been used to finance highways, hospitals, and state colleges of agriculture and should now be used to improve the public schools.

"More than ever before," he said, "our nation's future rests upon the effectiveness of its schools. Congress cannot sit idly by disclaiming responsibility if our school system is threatened by inadequate funds."

Surgeons Report Chill Technique

DENVER — A dramatic low-temperature technique that puts surgical patients virtually in a state of suspended animation was reported here Friday by Duke University surgeons.

The technique calls for dropping the patient's body temperature to 50 degrees or more below normal. At such temperatures the heart stops beating and the body requires almost no oxygen.

As startling as this may sound, the Duke doctors reported that use of the technique not only simplifies certain operations but also increases the patient's safety.

The work at Duke was described here before the Society of University Surgeons in a paper prepared by heart surgeons W. Glenn Young Jr., W. C. Sealy, Ivan W. Brown Jr., Wirt W. Smith and Henry Callaway Jr., and pediatrician Jerome S. Harris.

Dr. Callaway is married to the former Miss Martha Emily Moyer Hadley of Greenville.

NO CHARGES

No charges were made in an accident involving two autos in collision at North Greene Street and Mumford Road intersection. Damage to both cars was estimated by police at approximately $190. Driving the autos were Monroe Wilson Temple, 45, of Rt. 5, Box 30A, Greenville; and William Ernest Lewis, 16, of Box 186 Greenville.

Viereck Lectures Starting Tonight

Peter Viereck, noted historian, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in poetry and professor of history at Mount Holyoke College will begin a series of lectures at East Carolina College tonight at 8 p.m. in the Joyner Library with a discussion of "Anti-Americanism in Europe: Causes and Perhaps Cures."

Viereck will speak at the same hour and place on "The Poet's Response to Cultural Phenomena" on Tuesday, and on "American Dilemma: Preserving Inner Liberty in a Machine Age" on Wednesday. The public is invited to attend.

The Viereck lectures at East Carolina are sponsored by the Danforth Foundation Project at the college, which has scheduled appearances on the campus during the 1958-1959 term of seven distinguished speakers in discussions of the general theme "Creativity and Productivity in an Age of Tensions and Stereotypes."

Dr. George Douglas, director of the Danforth Project on the campus, has announced a full schedule for Viereck's three-day visit here.

Students enrolled in four classes in American literature held a joint meeting today at noon at which Viereck spoke. He will address students of history Tuesday morning and speak before a class in Shakespearean drama Wednesday morning. An informal meeting with students interested in writing poetry is scheduled for 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Faculty-Alumni House.

Interviews with the noted writer and historian will introduce him to television and radio audiences. With Rosalind Roulston, director of radio and TV at East Carolina, as interviewer, Viereck will appear Wednesday, at 1:30 on Station WITN, Channel 7, and at 2:30 p.m. on WWSW-FM, college station.

Social events of Mr. Viereck's visit include a reception Monday afternoon at 4:30 in the Faculty-Alumni House with members of the college chapter of the American Association of University Professors as hosts and hostesses.

Return After Chicago Meet

President John D. Messick and Vice President Leo W. Jenkins have returned to East Carolina College from Chicago, where they have been attending for the past three days a convention of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

While in Chicago, Dr. Messick acted as a consultant on the program. The theme of the meeting was "Education of the Future." Various discussions centered attention on ways and means by which best results may be obtained in the nation's institutions of learning.

Viereck is the author of four published volumes of poetry, including the 1949 Pulitzer Prize winner "Terror and Decorum." As a historian and critic, he has written, among other works "Shame and Glory of the Intellectuals," "Conservation from John Adams to Churchill," and "The Unadjusted Man."

He has been professor of history at Mount Holyoke since 1948. He has taught also at Harvard and Smith, has lectured at Oxford University and the University of Cincinnati, and in 1955 was the first professor to occupy on a Fulbright grant the annual chair in American poetry and civilization at the University of Florence, Italy.

A Physician For Coroner's Office

For the first time in more than a decade and a half, Pitt County's Board of Commissioners faces the task of appointing a coroner for the county.

The vacancy has come about because of the death of Griffin H. Rouse who for more than 16 years faithfully served the people of Pitt in that elective office.

While the post of coroner is often considered one of the lesser elective offices for a county, it is one of the most important posts of the county so far as the detection of crime is concerned. It is the duty of the coroner to determine the cause of death in cases where citizens die under questionable circumstances or without the attention of a physician. And quite often there is only a fine line which divides natural or purely accidental causes of death and circumstances in which foul play might be suspected in connection with a death.

In such cases the untrained examination by a layman in the office of coroner may overlook a minute but tell-tale factor which the trained and skillful examination by a physician would discern.

Although North Carolina has no state-wide requirement that a county coroner by a trained physician, a number of counties in this state have recognized the distinct advantages of having a physician fill this important post. In some other states there is the stipulation which requires the post of coroner to be filled by a physician.

Eventually North Carolina will follow the prevailing national trend in which only trained physicians hold the post of coroner. The advantages of such an arrangement are obvious. But it may be five, 10 or even 20 years before such a practice becomes universal in North Carolina, required by state law. There seems little reason, however, why Pitt County's citizens should not be given the advantages of such an arrangement long before the state moves to provide those advantages to the people of every county in North Carolina.

Faced with the task of selecting a new coroner, Pitt County Commissioners should consider the benefits which might be afforded the people of this county if their coroner were a physician.

Time To Consider A Successor For Dulles

It is only a matter of time now before Secretary of State Dulles or the President announces the retirement of Dulles from his post of Secretary of State.

Medical bulletins concerning Secretary Dulles since he underwent surgery Friday leave little doubt that the Secretary, for his own good, will be forced to step down from his post because of his physical condition.

How soon the announcement will come is another question.

Suffice it to say, however, that all indications point to the fact that Mr. Dulles will not be able to continue the heavy work load he has carried these past few years in his job as Secretary of State. And in the international atmosphere that has existed these past few years—and probably will continue to exist—it is also difficult to imagine a lighter work load for the Secretary of State than Mr. Dulles has assumed.

In view of those factors, the resignation of Mr. Dulles and the appointment of a new Secretary of State appear imminent.

Certainly the people of the nation do not expect Secretary Dulles to sacrifice his own life in trying to continue his work as the nation's top official in international affairs. At the same time, the people of the nation, realizing the importance of the job which must be done, could ill afford to condone the delegation of the Secretary's responsibilities to officials of lesser rank during an extended period.

The situation poses a crisis for the administration. It is a crisis which must be met squarely, realistically and forthrightly. The sooner it is resolved, the better off the nation and Mr. Dulles will be.

Some Kind Of Labor Measure

By RALPH ROBEY
That we shall have some kind of labor legislation in this session of Congress is about as certain as anything can be in the legislative field.

Two bills already have been introduced. The first was by Senator John Kennedy (D-Mass.) with Senator Sam Ervin, Jr., (D-N.C.) as co-sponsor. The second was the Administration bill, which, because of his seniority on the Labor Committee, was introduced by Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) but is generally regarded as embodying the thinking of Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

Two other bills may be introduced. One of these would be by Senator John McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the so-called Labor Rackets subcommittee. The other would be by Representative Graham Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Labor Committee.

Senator Kennedy has completed public hearings on his bill, and some of the witnesses also covered the Administration bill in their testimony. Even if we have a McClellan bill and a Barden bill there is practically no chance that there will be public hearings on them. In other words, the decisions from here on will be made by the Congress itself, and the debate only through either direct or indirect communication with Representatives and Senators.

The Kennedy bill is the mildest of the lot. It presumably is an attempt to eliminate wrong-doing within unions and little more. The measure contains, just as the Kennedy-Ives bill of last year, amendments to the Taft Hartley Act but Senator Kennedy maintains that all of these are non-controversial. That is not true, and even Senator Ervin has said that he would be happier if these proposed amendments were eliminated from this bill. Labor spokesmen, however, say they will not continue to support the Kennedy bill if these amendments are not included. This means, of course, that labor leaders are in favor of the Kennedy bill as it was introduced, except for some relatively minor points.

The Administration bill is both a better and a stronger measure. In general it also prohibits wrong-doing within unions, but it goes farther. It also provides controls over secondary boycotts and coercive picketing. The unions do not like this extension over the Kennedy bill and will oppose it with everything they have. Andrew Biemiller, legislative director of the AFL-CIO, in a statement to the Kennedy Labor subcommittee, said that the Administration bill is "complicated, confusing and self-defeating."

It has been reported that Secretary Mitchell will not make the same fight this time that he did last year in opposition to the Kennedy bill. That report is an exaggeration. The Secretary has made it clear that he is willing to have one bill which deals with the internal affairs of unions and a second bill which amends the Taft-Hartley Act, but he insists that there must be a firm commitment on the second measure. Most observers are of the opinion that regardless of the commitment, if the Kennedy bill is passed there will not be further labor legislation. To these persons, therefore, it appears important that the Kennedy bill not be approved.

What, specifically, is lacking in even the Administration bill? 1. Further legislation is needed to protect the rights of an individual worker to join or not to join a union. This means the elimination of the closed shop in all its forms, even if an employer is willing to agree to such a provision in a contract.

2. The philosophy of the anti-trust laws must be made applicable to labor unions. The purpose of this is to end the monopolistic practices now engaged in by unions and their leaders.

3. There should be a provision prohibiting the use of union dues for political purposes and it should not be possible to get around the prohibition by calling the activity an educational program, or some other fancy term.

One or more of these three points may be included in the bills of Senator McClellan and Representative Barden. That remains to be seen. The danger is that, unless the public makes its voice heard, the Kennedy bill will be passed and that will be the legislation on labor we get out of this Congress.

that if we awoke to their presence and power we would find our lives transformed. We think of us — children of God and heirs of an illimitable and eternal spiritual fortune. Jesus called the spiritual values of life a pearl of great price. Go sell all else, he said, and buy.

Going Through The Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

America has 79 million drivers and some 10 million car accidents a year. But here's the eye opener: One per cent of these drivers, habitual offenders, cause 15 per cent of the accidents.

What is the talkingest town? Maybe New York City. Its eight million residents make 18,700 phone calls a day, or more than two for each person.

Hair-raising history: The nobility of ancient Rome had an odd way to cover up baldness. They wore wigs made from the scalps of the daughters of captured chieftains.

You're wrong if you think most of today's children are worthless. A survey showed that 7 of 10 youngsters in the 8-to-12-year-old bracket help mother dry the clothes, set the table, make beds, and tidy up the house.

Fine arts note: Some 75 per cent of the visitors to the Louvre in Paris go there to see the Mona Lisa. But when the painting was removed for repairs, the empty space on the wall drew more visitors than the lady normally did herself.

It is getting harder all the time to find a barber who'll give you an old-fashioned straight-edged razor shave — too much bother. Some barbers now even have free shave booths in their shops in which customers, after getting a hair cut, can shave themselves for nothing.

Are you superstitious? Do you carry a good luck piece? The National Geographic Society says the best of all lucky charms is the left hind paw from a rabbit that was killed in a graveyard by a cross-eyed person in the dark of the moon. That's why rabbits wear left hind paws — they're lucky.

Diamonds are a popular hedge against inflation, but nothing beats man's oldest property, real estate.

The 50-million-dollar Empire State Building now stands on one corner of a Manhattan farm that sold in 1799 for only $7,000. In 160 years the farm land went up much more than 1,000 times its 1799 value.

It was William Somerset Maugham who observed: "A woman can forgive a man for the harm he does her, but she can never forgive him for the sacrifices he makes on her account."

Odd facts about women: The average woman prefers bath water five degrees warmer than does the average man. A survey in a Cleveland nursing home showed obesity was eight times more frequent among elderly women than elderly men.

Boxing sidelight: heavyweight champ John L. Sullivan never would enter the ring before his opponent did. He believed that "the guy who goes in first goes out last — feet first."

Other Editors Saying... 'Complacency' Warning

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

If every North Carolinian had half the zeal for and interest in traffic safety as that possessed by our state commissioner of motor vehicles, Ed Scheidt, our highway accidents and death tolls could be reduced perhaps far in excess of 50 percent. Once again, Mr. Scheidt sounded the old familiar warning — against complacency — when he addressed the Current Topics Club in Rocky Mount Monday night.

Mr. Scheidt also pointed out that the current General Assembly again would be asked to do something about the motor vehicle inspection business. While we do not know just what form the proposed legislation will take, it is to be hoped that the pitfalls embodied in the previous program will be eliminated this time. The old idea was a good one, but there were too many faults involved.

It must be admitted that complacency is the groove into which all of us fall almost automatically unless somebody like Ed Scheidt comes along to stir us up. We look at the remarkable record he has achieved as motor vehicles commissioner and we at once are proud. However, the whole program has become about as a result more or less of "let Ed do it," along with his patrol. And when the patrol has been a few times in this area, to concentrate a vast amount of manpower in a given area for a spell the increase in arrests for traffic violations, along with a corresponding decrease in accidents and fatalities, has been readily apparent.

Concerning the proposed legislation relative to an inspection program, it is to be hoped that any new law that is suggested will provide more inspection sites. That was one of the big failures with the old program, which established a site in Battle Park, where motorists by the hundreds lined up — some of them overnight — in order to have their vehicles inspected.

Another thing which hindered the program was the zeal shown by auto repairmen to get in their pockets for their own private profit while the getting was good. No, we don't condemn conscientious auto men. But a great many of them abused the law by finding faults with vehicles when no faults were there. The result was a general condemnation of all auto repairmen by the public. The state needs an inspection program which will benefit the public, reduce accidents, prevent fatalities — and fatten the purses of those who do the work should be a matter of secondary importance.

Thus, it is to be hoped that Mr. Scheidt is able to get the Legislature to give heed to a sane and sensible inspection law. At the same time if a true method for effecting some procedure which will be able to help in the campaign against drunken drivers can be evolved, then, we are for that, too.

Tourist Trade Impact

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Our tourist business started in a very small way some 50 or more years ago. It grew steadily but slowly, until the automobile revolutionized it.

AUTOMOBILES AND TOURISTS
The automobile has actually done harm to the summer hotel business of the north. Because of lack of business, the great summer hotels of New England are gradually being torn down. The majority of people who travel in the north by auto during the summer stop at motels as transients. They no longer stay for a month, or for the entire summer, as they used to do.

On the other hand, the auto has helped southern business, especially that of Florida, New Mexico, and Arizona, — and also the Pacific Coast. Moreover, many who go South as tourists remain to take up residence. This does not apply, however, to tourists who travel north in the summer.

COST OF LIVING
Tourists also find that the cost of living is less in the south. This fact is encouraging more people to retire on their social security money. Furthermore, in the north it is more difficult for a person to get a part-time position in order to secure a part-time permitted extra income up to $1,200 above social security which he needs in order to live reasonably comfortably.

In several southern and southwestern states, new industrial concerns are locating which make a specialty of employing these part-time workers. The new low-priced cars which can be bought today enable families to have two small economical cars, and this is a great help to part-time workers.

HOW AND WHERE TO BUY?
After deciding where you would like to live — in Florida, for instance — write to the Chamber of Commerce of that city and inquire as to the opportunities for securing part-time work. Tell the Chamber your trade and your age, and add the information that you have an auto. Of course, you will not buy any property in any southern state without first seeing it.

When buying a house or lot in any tourist section, buy at the end of the tourist season. This means in September (after Labor Day) or in October in the north. Or in May or June in the south.

MOTELS AS AN INVESTMENT
Motels, as business investments, are subject to several disadvantages. For one thing, the owner must pay taxes, interest charges, insurance, and maintenance costs for twelve months each year, while his profits are usually limited to six months or less. Even so, it was possible to make ends meet when there were very few motels; but now they are so thick that the competition is terrible.

In addition to the above economic difficulty, one's investment may be wiped out by a change of routes. When one buys a motel, it may be on a heavily traveled road; but then the state, or the federal government, may decide to build a new toll road or freeway which will leave the motel on a deserted highway.

THE INVESTORS LEAGUE
This is a non-profit, non-partisan organization of investors united for action in defense of both present legitimate investments and of free enterprise unhampered by unfair government competition. It was established in 1942 with headquarters at 234 Fifth Avenue, New York City. I especially commend the work of the Florida Division, of which Dr. Thomas H. Odenael of 3115 S. Peninsula Drive, Daytona Beach, Florida, is the able President.

All present owners of motels or Turnpike Revenue Bonds whose livelihoods or investments are threatened by the new freeways, for which the federal government has appropriated $87,000,000, should join this Investors League and ask it to urge the government to make sure that their investments are fairly protected.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
PEARL OF GREAT PRICE
A hundred years ago pioneers pushed out into certain western territories and laid out claims. At one place a few families put up fences and enclosed a small area and there lived from hand to mouth in a near starvation existence.

On The Business World Horizon

By ELMER ROESSNER
Here are more peeks over the business horizons, seen by standing on a high hill and peering intently into statistics and data:
Costlier tires. The AFL-CIO United Rubber Workers has reopened its contract with U.S. Rubber and will take on the rest of the Big Four rubber companies before contracts expire April 15. Some pay gains are likely which will promptly be reflected in higher prices.
Cheaper meat. Well, no beef expensive meat, anyhow. Beef production this year will be close to that of 1958, which was high enough to keep prices down, and pork production will top that of last year. There will be a little more lamb and plentiful poultry.
Fattest frying. Soon about to be widely promoted is a calorie-free derivative from soybeans, in which foods can be fried. It will be tasteless — and expensive.

Advertising and Smoking Will Increase This Year

The public seems to have gotten over the cancer scare and is increasing purchases; most manufacturers are stepping up advertising to get a share of the increase.
YOU'LL HEAR ABOUT WOOD
Love that wood! The National Lumber Manufacturers Association is about to spend $1,250,000 to popularize the use of wood in construction. Members have been losing sales to steel, aluminum, plastics, tiles and masonry.
Greases abundant. World production of fats and oils is likely to set a new record this year. More than 31,400,000 tons of vegetable, palm, fish and industrial oils, and butter, lard, tallow, greases and blubber may be produced, topping the 1957 record of 30,500,000 tons.
More sweet corn. A new chemical, called simazin, has been tested by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and found to control grasses and weeds without affecting the quality and yield of sweet corn, thereby making more profitable to plant corn.

OLD PROMOTER STAGERS WAY TO SAVE BUSINESS
When the Old Promoter called today he handed us a clipping, with a chuckle. The clipping related that merchants of Jessup, Ga., losing business because the American Automobile Association was routing travelers away from town because of a speed trap there, erected a sign reading: "Warning... Drive Slow... Speed Trap... Courtesy Jessup Business Men's Association."
"They certainly do things the hard and rather stupid way down in Jessup," he remarked. "Where I come from, the businessmen would raise enough need to get a new mayor, a new police chief and, if necessary, a new police force."

Army Of Blue Ants Works Change Mainland China

Editor's Note — The Communist engineered changes in China are enormous, and so is the price paid in human terms. Dr. Sriprati Chandrasekhar, noted scholar and director of India's Institute for Population at Madras, recently returned from extensive travel behind the Bamboo Curtain. This is the first of five searching articles he has written on life in Communist China.

By Dr. Sriprati Chandrasekhar. Copyright, 1959. By The Associated Press. I spent about six weeks in Communist China and traveled widely by plane, train, car and jeep, visiting a dozen major cities, a few villages, and four communes. I traveled as far as Harbin in old Manchuria in the north, Lan-chow in the west, Shanghai in the east, and Canton and Shumchun in the south.

My interests covered universities, colleges and schools, hospitals and clinics, factories, agriculture, population and vital statistics, and the country's family planning program, including contraceptive factories. China occupies an area almost equal to the whole of Europe and her people number today a little more than 650 millions, or about a quarter of the world's population.

This huge nation has embarked upon an experiment which seeks to accomplish in one day what other nations normally take 20 years to do. This last sentence is in fact a Chinese Communist slogan: "Twenty years compressed into one day." What is this communism they are after and how are they trying to achieve it? Is Chinese communism the same communism we know in the Soviet Union or is it different in any material particulars? Even the most casual traveler in Red China would be struck with five aspects of the people and their economy. These are dress, the continuous din of broadcast propaganda, the country's extraordinary cleanliness, the tremendous labor effort, and the new position of women.

Take dress. Everyone, men and women of all ages, is dressed in blue trousers and buttoned-up coats with collars like the uniform of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung. To a newcomer, men and women look almost alike, for all the women have taken to shoulder-length bobs.

It was explained to me that this new haircut, replacing the twin pigtail, saves time in washing and combing; and I must admit that this new hair style needs no attention. You run your comb through your hair and you are all set.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women in blue padded trousers and coats with soiled shoes (it is bourgeois to shine one's shoes), I was told look like an endless army of blue ants scurrying to their appointed tasks. This dull

Mamie Starting Stay At Resort

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower began a return engagement today at the Maine Chance beauty resort in Phoenix. The President's wife stepped off a train at Phoenix Union Station Sunday night. "I'm so glad to be back," she told Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin, one of her welcomees. Mrs. Eisenhower spent two weeks at the same resort a year ago. Accompanying the first lady were her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore, and several Secret Service agents.

Wage Goals Set By Textile Unions

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Ten per cent pay raises for the South's textile workers and a federal minimum wage of $1.25 an hour are the new goals of the AFL-CIO's two textile unions. The Textile Workers Union of America (TWUA) wage-strategy meeting here Sunday drew about 200 delegates from Southern states. About 60 attended the United Textile Workers of America (UTWA) gathering at Salisbury, 40 miles away.

William Pollock, TWUA president, declared that all mills should join in the trend to pay increases that began three weeks ago at the Cannon Mills in nearby Kannapolis. The movement since has spread through Southern textile plants with about 300,000 workers. Pollock asserted that in leading the wage increase movement, Cannon Mills has made a real contribution toward improving the economy of the South by acting to meet the need of textile workers for higher wages and increased purchasing power.

The TWUA head also asked management's cooperation in attaining the $1.25 federal minimum wage. Spencer Love, president of Burlington Industries, world's largest textile operation, suggested such a goal several months ago. But his mills have not made increases so far. He suggested the increase be made by federal law, so all mills would have to give it at the same time and none would be at a competitive disadvantage.

Roy Whitmore of Asheville, UTWA district director told the Salisbury meeting that the national average wage in the nondurable goods industry is $1.90 an hour. The textile industry's is $1.40-$1.50, he added, and the union's objective is to wipe out the difference. The TWUA meeting was attended by representatives from the Carolinas, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida. At the UTWA meeting, about 27 locals in the Carolinas and Virginia were represented.

Spring Thaw Threatens To Wipe Out Swiss Village

Herbrigen, Switzerland (AP)—"All we can do is pray." Thus spoke an aged pensioner who refuses to leave this Swiss hamlet doomed to extinction as soon as a spring thaw sends a million tons of rock, earth and ice hurtling down from a mountain peak 3,000 feet above.

"We have faith, we trust in God," murmured Josef Burgner as he gazed up at Nadelhorn Mountain where the frozen mass will become a thundering avalanche when it reaches the edge of the precipice. The great mass began creeping down the Nadelhorn slope toward the precipice eight days ago. Friday a new cold spell set in, solidified the thawing snow and ice, and the movement stopped.

Winter frosts immobilized the great slide over the weekend. But Herbrigen's end is certain when a prolonged thaw comes. Resigned to losing their homes, most of the villagers abandoned Herbrigen eight days ago. But a small rear guard like the Burgners doggedly stayed on regardless of the creeping danger. A death watch is being kept over the village by a network of watchers high on neighboring mountain slopes. They will sound an alarm if they see the avalanche begin—in hours, days or weeks. Some of the posts are equipped with walkie-talkies, one has a portable siren.

Burgner was matter of fact about the slide. "If the rocks break up during their fall, they may fly about in every direction," he said. "The slide would not go down the corridor in the precipice as every body seems to believe. It would spread instead and cover a huge part of the valley."

There are young and old among those who have stayed behind. They go about their business as though nothing happened. They feed the few cats and chickens left behind. From time to time they leave their houses, walking through empty streets, looking up at the mountain.

They read about their danger once a day. The narrow-gauge rail line up to Zermatt brings them the German-language newspaper read in the Mattertal Valley. Occasionally a hush descends over the bare and deserted hamlet. The wind and distant noises from the mountains cease. There is sudden stillness on the village streets.

"We live in fear and we don't sleep any more," murmured Burgner's wife. She dandled a neighbor's child on her knee while his mother sought food in the remaining grocery store. "If we should heard the slide coming," said Burgner, "we would go down to the cellar—if we have time. It would be useless to run outside anyway."

When the slides does come, it will be the second time the Burgners have lost their home. Residents of southern France for many years, they returned to his native Herbrigen when France fell during World War II. Penniless in 1942, he and his wife worked hard, bought their own home and raised their three children. All are grown and away from home now.

Children Stole Dynamite, Guns. ATLANTA (AP)—Two pistol-packing youngsters were arrested by police who said the pair stole dynamite and guns so they could build a rocket ship and "play western like on TV."

Duo-Pianists Play To Responsive Audience

Elizabeth Drake and George E. Perry, duo-pianists, played Sunday afternoon before responsive audience of approximately 250 people in Austin auditorium at East Carolina College. The recital was sponsored by the college department of music, of which the two pianists are faculty members. Selections performed during the afternoon, from the works of outstanding composers, were well chosen for their audience-appeal. Numbers, presenting a wide variety of types of music, ranged from a Clementi Sonata to Aaron Copland's "Cubano," with its interesting and complex rhythms.

Returned Home, Found Tragedy

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A mother returned home early Sunday to find rescue workers carrying the bodies of six of her children and her mother from the ruins of a fire. A seventh child, Queen Esther Pitman, 6, survived when her grandmother told her to run out of the flaming house. The victims were Mrs. Mary Reeves, 58, and her grandchildren, Wilbur Parker, 10; Terry Parker, 8; Harold Pitman, 7; Laurel Pitman, 3; Jeannie Pitman, 18 months, and Mary Elizabeth Pitman, 6 months. The mother, Amelia Parker, 32, said she was visiting in South Bend. She returned an hour and a half after the fire had destroyed the four-room concrete block home one mile west of here. Leslie Parker, father of the older children, was reported somewhere in Michigan. The little girl who survived said the fire started when burning coals popped out of a heating stove onto a pile of paper.

Gypsies Gather At Fair Grounds

ATHENS, Ala. (AP)—The Athens Fair Grounds has been turned into a camp to accommodate several hundred gypsies who have appeared here since one of their leaders was wounded. Mike Johnson, 41, described by Sheriff Clyde Ennis as a gypsy crown prince, was reported in fair condition from a bullet wound received during a holdup attempt Wednesday. Deputy C. C. Owens said that about 300 gypsies are living at the fair grounds. He reported auto license plates from the Far West and Midwest as well as many from Alabama, Georgia and Florida. He said no arrests have been made in the Johnson shooting. Johnson was shot in the chest when someone sought to rob him at his home.

Duo-Pianists Play To Responsive Audience

and difficult selection, provided a fitting conclusion to the program. The audience recalled the two faculty artists to the stage for an encore and a series of bows. Miss Drake and Mr. Perry will appear on East Carolina College's weekly television program "Let's Go to College," Sunday, Feb. 22, at 1:15 p.m. over Station WCNC, Channel 9.

President's New Jet Due In April

RENTON, Wash. (AP)—The interior of President Eisenhower's new five-million-dollar jet transport won't be as plush as that of his present plane, Columbine III. The jet, designated the VC137, is well along on the assembly line at the Boeing Airplane Co. plant and is scheduled to be delivered to the Military Air Transport Service in April. The plane is a cousin of the commercial jets now coming into passenger service and will have a speed of 600 miles an hour. Two other planes of the same type are due to come off the line in May and June. They will be at the disposal of the President, vice president and other top government officials. The three identical VC137s will have advanced radio telephone equipment enabling the President and other officials to remain in touch with Washington from any part of the world. The "President's room" will have comfortable seats for four and two day-bed type lounges. There will be no berths. Furnishings will be on the plain side. The planes will cut flying time from Washington to California from the 8½ hours to about 5 hours. London and Paris will be about six hours away.

One Upset For Opening Night Of County Tournament

Winterville Girls Fall To Ayden

The Pitt County Tournament got underway Saturday night at Rose High Gymnasium and one major upset resulted from the opening night's play.

The Winterville girls, seeded second in the pairings, were the victims in the only upset of the evening as they fell to seventh-ranked Ayden, 41-33, in the final game of the evening.

The veteran Winterville club led 21-18 at intermission but was unable to cope with the fired-up Ayden club in the final two periods. The underdogs outscored their foes 24 to 12 in the second half to move into the second round of action.

Rouse was high for the winners with 21 points but got a big hand from Braxton who chipped in with 12. Clayton and Nichols had 14 each for the losers.

The other two games, which were between the eighth and ninth-place clubs in each division to determine who advanced to Monday night's action, saw the Chicod girls cut a second half rally by Bethel short for a 50-46 win, and the Grimesland boys scrap for a hard-earned 54-51 victory over Grifton.

The Chicod girls got the evening underway by jumping into a quick lead and showed a strong offensive attack to lead Bethel 29-21 by halftime.

Bethel rallied in the third period and cut the margin to 37-34 but were never able to overtake the victors. Mozino, of Bethel, and Hudson of Chicod, had 21 each to gain high-scoring honors. Cobb had 18 for Bethel while Mills had 15 for Chicod.

The only boys game of the evening saw a torrid fourth period which resulted in 35 points. Grimesland, was on the short end of the final period offensive show, but had built up enough lead in the first three periods to survive the opening night with a 54-51 victory over Grifton.

Grimesland led all the way and had a nine point padding at intermission, 29-20. Grifton came back strong in the second half and made the strongest offensive showing of the night but they rally fell short as they also had a lapse on defense.

Clayton topped the scoring for Grimesland with 29 points while Malher paced Grifton with 24.

Tonight's Games

Three games are also slated for tonight as the tournament moves over to East Carolina College's Memorial Gymnasium for the second night of action. Stokes-Pacotus (13-0), pre-tournament favorites and defending champions, will get the girls action underway at 6:30 when they take on Chicod (2-11).

In the boys division, the top-seeded Chicod boys (12-1) meet Grimesland (2-11) at 8:00. The Farmville boys (9-3) tangle with Ayden (7-5) in the final game which is slated for 9:30. The Farmville-Ayden tilt is expected to be the top attraction of the night as both clubs have strong teams and are seeded fourth and fifth, respectively.

MARA WAS WHITE

NEW YORK (AP)—The tab on his lapel said "Jack Mara, Football Giants," but he actually was "Jack White, Baseball Yankees." When football scout Jack Lavelle succumbed to a heart attack, Mara, president of the football Giants, asked White to attend Look's football party to meet Buddy Dial who was being honored. Dial, star end for the Rice Owls, had been drafted the previous week by the football Giants. The San Francisco 49ers, for whom White is a scout, were out of the running for the National Football League crown so White did the Giants a favor by telling Dial how good the Giants would be in 1959.

The Navajo Indians in New Mexico in the late 1890s brought bayeta, a cloth, from Spanish traders. This they would unravel to get the red threads used in weaving their own blankets.

This Week Sees Big Boxing Card Lined Up

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Baker, once the No. 1 challenger but now an unranked heavy will test newcomer Billy Hunter of Detroit in the Monday night boxing feature at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Baker has fought them all, building up a 51-14-1 record, but he has faltered at the last hurdle time after time. Now he is back among the also-rans.

Hunter scored a flashy knockout in a Madison Square Garden prelin a few weeks ago. His record is 11-5-1 for 17 fights.

Sonny Liston, a Philadelphia heavyweight who has trouble getting opponents, faces Mike DeJohn, another ranked boxer, Wednesday in Miami Beach, Fla.

Liston has a fine 22-1 record, losing only to Marty Marshall in 1954 and reversing that with a knockout in a rematch.

DeJohn, a big boy from Syracuse, N.Y., owns a 36-5-1 record. He dropped two decisions to Nino Valdes last year and thumped Bob Baker and Will Besmanoff. He will be remembered best for his one-round knockout over Argentina's Alex Miteff in 1957.

The heavyweight fight will be seen on ABC television.

Gene Fullmer, world middleweight champion from Jan. 2, 1957 to May 1, 1957, faces a fast-charging young prospect Friday at Madison Square Garden when he takes on Willie Greaves of Edmonton, Alberta and Detroit. Fullmer has won eight straight since Sugar Ray Robinson knocked him out in their Chicago fight.

Rams Acquired Co-Captains

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams today announced the signing of end Tom Franckhauser and tackle Gene Selawski, co-captains of the 1958 Purdue football team.

Selawski stands 6-4, weighs 245. Franckhauser, 6 feet, 195 pounds, displayed great speed and Coach Sid Gillman may try him as a defensive halfback.

Persevering And Patient Golfer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Put down golfer Joe Campbell as a most impatient but persevering young man.

The Knoxville, Tenn., pro was put to the test in the final round of the Tucson Open Sunday.

The Knoxville, Tenn., pro was put to the test in the final round of the Tucson Open Sunday.

Campbell was putting for a birdie four on the 550-yard ninth hole when his true shot hung on the rim of the cup.

Joe waited. Nothing happened. He began a little trot around the ball, offering incentive for it to drop.

Still nothing happened. He finally enlisted the aid of the noisy gallery. After two minutes of suspense, the ball dropped into the cup for the birdie four.

When Army's bob Anderson came to New York City for Look's football party, he roomed with Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame. In 1957 his roommate was Bob Reifsnnyder of Navy.

Court Colossus by Pap

Just before the current season started, Coach Branch McCracken expressed the opinion that Indiana had a good chance to retain the Big Ten basketball championship if the Hoosiers didn't lose their first three games.

"Earlier, I was experimenting with my young team," said McCracken, "and it turned out to be a wise move. My sophomores have played real well. They are of to a good start. Walt Bellamy's rebounding and defensive play have been a major factor in helping us get off on the right foot. Bellamy is the best rebounder I have ever had."

That's high praise, indeed, coming from the frosty-topped veteran who has coached some outstanding big men — fellows like Archie Dees and Don Schlund. Other Big Ten coaches share McCracken's high opinion of Bellamy and hate to look forward to the prospect of facing the 6-foot-11 giant for two more seasons.

Coach McCracken can thank Simon Coates, a school teacher at New Bern, N.C., for sending Bellamy to Indiana. Coates, who did graduate study at Indiana a couple of summers ago, doubles in brass as the basketball coach at J. T. Barber High School in New Bern and recommended Bellamy to McCracken. He did a pretty good job of developing the 200-pound young giant into a well-coordinated athlete. The outstanding job Bellamy does in controlling the boards overshadows his potential as a scorer. He scored 18 points in handling Northwestern's first defeat. His ability to control the boards affords him many opportunities to score with tap-ins while on offense.

East Carolina Leads All The Way In Defeating Elon Cagers 54-47

East Carolina played slow and unimpressive ball here Saturday night but had enough power to outclass Elon, 54-47, and increase their winning streak to six.

The Pirates led all the way but never could find the steam to pull away and only in the final minutes of the game were the Bucs out of danger. The win pushed ECC into third place in the conference with a 10-4 record.

East Carolina opened fast with Jessel Curry hitting the first shot from the floor and then Ike Riddick following with a couple of lay-ups for a 6-2 lead. The Christians fought back and Marsh Oakley hit two free throws to tie the game for the only time of the night at 8-8 with 13:52 left in the opening half.

Charlie Adams and Riddick caught the Christians losing midway the period and several "snowbirds" gave ECC 25-17 margin, their largest of the opening half. Tony Carcaterra, All-State Football end, cut the margin to 30-23 as the rugged and low-scoring first half came to a close.

The partial East Carolina crowd was expecting to see the Pirates tear things wide open in the second half but it was not the case as guard Gilbert Watts and Oakley bagged a couple of quick baskets to cut the lead at 30-28 and with 11:15 remaining in the game, Carcaterra made good on one of two free throws to tie the lead to a single point, 36-35.

It was the last serious threat of the Christians as Adams and Riddick connected and the Pirates continued to pad their lead which was as much as ten points during the final minutes.

Ike Riddick, the Greenville junior, was the deciding factor in the game. Riddick's speed and quickness was too much for the visitors to cope with and every time Elon got close, Riddick broke loose to put ECC out of danger once again. He was high for the night with 19 points.

Charlie Adams, like most of his teammates, had trouble finding the range but finished the night with 13 points while Joe Plaster hit for 11.

Carcaterra and Oakley were in control of the boards most of the way but Elon just didn't have the power for the upset. It was one of the few times that the Pirates have been out-rebounded this season.

The sluggish play of East Carolina was probably the result of their "peak performances" in their last six games and their spurt which has resulted in nine victories out of the last ten games.

East Carolina will have to return to form this week as they wind up their season against High Point and Atlantic Christian. They host the Panthers here Wednesday night and then finish their season against ACC at Wilson on Saturday.

Coach Howard Porter shook off the Elon game as "just one of those games." The ECC head tutor had high praise for the play of Plaster, his lanky 6-8 center.

And Now, Duke

With a win over the Virginia Military Institute swimming team as the latest victory marked up by the East Carolina College swimming team, the Pirates are looking forward to their next home meet in Memorial Gym pool when the Duke University swim club comes to Greenville Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

Coach Ray Martine's ECC swimmers now have a 4-2 record for the season, having posted victories over VMI, University of Miami (Florida), the University of Georgia, and Emory University. Only losses have been to the Tar Heels of the University of North Carolina, and by narrow margins.

In Friday night's meet here, the ECC squad defeated VMI 45-41. VMI holds the Southern Conference swimming championship.

Stage Is Set Again For New Clash Of Tarheels, Pack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Carolina shooting was great. We couldn't hit a lick. That was the story."

The speaker was Everett Case, veteran coach of the North Carolina State basketball team. The date was Jan. 14. The occasion was State's loss, moments before, to North Carolina—72-68 in overtime.

Frank McGuire, highly successful coach of the Tar Heels, summed up the game: "State is the toughest team we've played yet. This was a truly great victory."

It was a momentous meeting. State was ranked No. 1 in the nation, North Carolina No. 3. They had gone into the game with 11-1 and 9-1 records, respectively. State had lost only to Kansas State (69-67) and North Carolina only to Michigan State (75-58).

Tar Heel Lee Shaffer's driving layup shot with 25 seconds left in the overtime period broke a 68-68 deadlock. Though the shot gave North Carolina the victory, it didn't settle a single argument in the Tar Heel state about which of its two cage powerhouses is the greatest.

The stage is set again. North Carolina is No. 2 in the nation, N.C. State No. 6. The Tar Heels have a 16-1 record, the Wolfpack 18-2.

They meet again Wednesday at Chapel Hill, N.C.

The other nine games this week involving Atlantic Coast Conference teams are insignificant by comparison.

As if warming up for the big game, both State and North Carolina rolled over their opposition this weekend. State downing league foe Maryland 53-37 and North Carolina defeating Loyola of Chicago 76-57. Other ACC action saw Virginia stop Clemson 69-61, while Duke edged by Navy 64-63 and Wake Forest fell to St. Joseph's 76-67.

Report Rigney Is 'Doing Well'

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP)—Injured San Francisco Giants Manager Bill Rigney is reported "doing quite well" in Kaiser Foundation Hospital.

Rigney and his wife, Paula, were injured in a car crash one week ago in Berkeley. The Giants' manager, who has a broken jaw, is expected to join his National League baseball team in Phoenix, Ariz., about March 1.

Still Need Water Even During Flood Seasons

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Even when floods are front page news a large portion of the business population—and of city fathers, too—worryes about the increasing dearth of water supplies.

Industry needs more each year. And per capita consumption mounts faster than the growth in population. The Interior Department reports that in the last five years more than 1,000 communities have had to ration water at some time or other.

The world has lots of water—but often in the wrong places or the wrong condition for human use.

Most is in the oceans. And schemes for conversion of salt water into fresh at reasonable cost is in President Eisenhower's words, "on the threshold of solution."

Much of the available water is carried in cloud formations. And methods of getting it to earth where and when wanted are under constant study and trial.

Lots of the nation's water is concentrated in rivers that often overflow with costly damage. Flood control programs tackle both this problem and the salvaging of the water for later beneficial use.

New industrial processes tend to increase demand for water—as do expanding use of the old. An oil refinery may use as much as a city of 900,000 residents; production of a ton of steel may take 65,000 gallons, a ton of rayon 220,000, a ton of synthetic rubber 660,000.

U.S. consumption is estimated now as anywhere from 170 to 250 billion gallons a day. This is predicted to rise to 500 billion by 1975—or almost all that the U.S. could supply at reasonable cost under today's methods.

The cost problem in turning sea water or brackish water into fresh is being tackled in a number of ways: solar distillation, evaporators that flash water into vapor under vacuum, a freezing process, a nuclear reactor sideline, an electric membrane method.

The cost now averages out at $1.75 per thousand gallons. Science hopes to cut this to 50 or 75 cents within five years.

Congress has appropriated 10 million dollars for five experimental plants. And various corporations here and abroad are trying out schemes of their own.

Highway Crash In Texas Fatal For Ten Persons

ALAMO, Tex. (AP)—Ten persons were killed on a rain-slick highway Sunday in a shattering automobile crash that jammed the speedometer on one vehicle at 30 m.p.h.

Four of the dead were children. The head-on collision occurred seven miles south of here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, practically on the Texas-Mexico border.

Muddy rescue workers pried and tugged for more than an hour to remove nine bodies from one crumpled automobile.

The dead: John T. Closser, 42, Mercedes, Tex., who was thrown from his car in which he was traveling alone.

Antero Ibanez Tovar, 37, La Feria, Tex., driver of the second car.

Benito Comacho, 32, and Adelia Comacho, 23, and their three children, Zolando, 5, Ninfa, 4, and Minerva, 3, all of La Feria.

Defino Moralez Tovar, 35, Harlingen, Tex.

Juan Hernandez, 19, and Linda Hernandez, 5, believed to be from La Feria.

The bodies were taken to nearby Pharr, Tex., where relatives identified them at a funeral home. All adults but Closser were migrant farm workers.

Highway patrolman M. L. Dalley said the speedometer on the car of Closser, a farmer and father of eight, was stuck at 80 miles per hour. Closser was traveling east and the other car west, Dalley said.

Bob Hope Slows Down, Somewhat, On Orders

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is how Bob Hope takes it easy—shooting retakes on a movie!

During his last television show, the hitherto indestructible Hope felt a fainting spell coming on—right in the middle of his monologue. He managed to finish his jokes, rested in his dressing room and completed the taping of the show.

He went to Palm Springs for a rest, but on the golf course discovered that his eyes couldn't follow the ball. He felt dizzy and one eye clouded up. That sent him to the medics—fast.

His trouble was diagnosed as a blood clot in one eye. The doctor said it had been brought on by worry and overwork.

"You'll have to slow down and not try to do so much," Hope was told.

"But I can't, doc!" he protested. "I've been doing this all my life. I love going places and playing audiences everywhere."

"You know that," the medic replied, "but your blood vessels don't."

The prescription: Rest, and plenty of B. Hope at bay was a sight to be seen. And I sought him out. But I found him on a stage at Paramount, doing a day's retakes for his own film, "Alias Jesse James."

"The doc doesn't mind, as long as I take it slow," the comedian explained. "And I do. I just accept things as they come now. No racing around."

While sitting on the set, he made several decisions as producer of the picture, then went to a projection room to view an actor's necktie, which had to be matched in the added scenes. I can report that he walked at a more deliberate pace than usual. And though the usual corps of visitors was permitted on the set, he refrained from meeting them all and doing 20 minutes of jokes.

Freshman Congressman Puts OK On Atmosphere

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Just what does a freshman congressman feel like anyway?"

One of the 79 freshmen in the House of Representatives started his first newsletter home with that question. And Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-NY) has been answering it ever since in a series of frank epistles to the people in and around Schenectady, N.Y.

He shared with his constituents, for example, his discovery that it isn't proper to wear a sports shirt on the floor of the House. (Fortunately, he didn't have to learn by personal experience.)

Stratton doesn't fail to tell the folks what he is doing on the serious side of legislating. But he isn't above letting them know, too, that as a newcomer to the big, protocol-conscious House Armed Services Committee he was assigned to "the rumble seat, as it is called, a table on the floor."

Senior members filled up the carved Victorian dais.

"At least you get a good point-blank look at the witnesses," Stratton wrote, "and the chairman can hardly miss you when you want to ask questions. Last week we all asked our share."

Democrat Stratton didn't hesitate to toss in a few posies for some of the Republicans he encountered in Washington. Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy on the witness stand impressed him with "patience and good humor." Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York made "a tremendous hit" with a Women's National Press Club speech poking fun at Democrats.

Stratton's newsletters add up to a pretty sunny view of the Washington scene, which other congressmen at times have felt constrained to deny. A reporter asked him about that, and Stratton acknowledged he likes the atmosphere of Congress.

"I put in nine years on the city council and as mayor," said Stratton, a former mayor of Schenectady. "Usually I was in the minority and for lots of the time I was the only Democrat. There were lots of insults flying back and forth."

"Now I'm not only part of a majority, but in a body where people treat you with respect no matter how much they disagree with you."

Goes On Trial For Hired Killing

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, accused of plotting the death of her daughter-in-law to keep her son for herself, is to go on trial today on charge of first degree murder.

The prosecution is expected to ask the death penalty for the 54-year-old woman, claiming that she was so jealous of her son, Frank, that she shopped for months trying to hire a killer.

Mrs. Duncan's chief accusers are two Santa Barbara laborers. They say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000 to kill her son's pregnant bride, Olga Kupczak Duncan, 30, a nurse.

Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25 have admitted luring the nurse from her apartment late one November night choking and beating her during a 20-mile auto trip, and burying her alongside a mountain road.

Her body was discovered last Dec. 31 and an autopsy surgeon said it was possible she was buried alive.

Mrs. Duncan has denied any connection with her daughter-in-law's death.

Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado all pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, but the two men later dropped their pleas of innocent they will be given sanity hearings in April.

Ex-Chef Offers Eating Advice

COVINA, Calif. (AP)—On his birthday, retired chef Wilberto Di Biase offered this advice for healthy eating:

"In every 24 hours make sure you eat one vegetable that grows underground and one on top of the ground. Top this with good fruit. Don't mix different meats in one meal."

Di Biase, who has followed his own instructions, was celebrating his 103rd birthday.

He was head chef at the Palace Hotel for 36 years. He retired in 1914.

Knowland And Nixon Together

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon was scheduled to breakfast at the airport today with former GOP Sen. William F. Knowland before taking off for Los Angeles.

The vice president is on a tour to revitalize the California Republican party organization, buffeted by the Democratic election victory last fall.

The California GOP needs building from the ground up, Nixon told a news conference Sunday on his arrival from Oregon centennial celebrations in Portland.

Discussing the illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Nixon told reporters that the Eisenhower-Dulles policy of "firmness on principle and flexibility on tactics" in dealing with the Soviet Union will continue.

Nixon said he will breakfast Tuesday with former Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight in Los Angeles.

Knight was defeated for senator last fall and Knowland was beaten for the governorship. The Democrats also swept both the State Assembly and Senate. The Republican losses were caused by two things, said Nixon: Division among the top GOP leaders in the state and "the error of having the right to work issue on the ballot."

This measure, pushed by Knowland and opposed by Knight brought out a big Democratic registration and created an "emotional issue," he said, which gave some Republican candidates an "undeserved" anti-labor label.

"Both Knowland and Knight, said Nixon, have big personal followings and "can have a good effect in rebuilding the party and developing a unified party" in the state.

Four Arrested On Liquor Counts

ABC officers arrested four Negroes Saturday for possession of non-tax-paid whiskey for purpose of sale.

Arrested were Ethel Kennedy, 37, of 606 B. Tyson Street; Willie Woolard, 43, and his wife Penny, 30, of 1203 B. Broad Street; and Washington Daniel, 58, of Rt. 2, Ayden.

The Kennedy woman was arrested with 27 gallons of the illegal liquor in her home, early Saturday, according to the officers. She was released under $300 bond and will be tried by city court.

Penny Woolard was charged after officers found 20 gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey buried under her home. Her husband, Willie, was indicted in the same case. She was released under $300 bond and the man was released under $200 bond. City court will try the case.

Daniel was caught with one-half gallon of illegal whiskey in his possession and was charged with possession for purpose of sale. He was also charged with possession of distilling equipment. He was released under $300 bond, for trial in Ayden Court.

All four ABC officers from the local department took part in the raids.

Joining U.S. In Naval Exercise

PANAMA (AP) - Warships of four Latin-American nations will join a U.S. naval task force in antisubmarine exercises in the Pacific next week. The U.S. Navy's Task Force 88, composed of a destroyer, four destroyer escorts and one submarine have arrived in Canal Zone waters. They have been joined by five Colombian Navy vessels. Later arrivals will be joined by naval units from Ecuador, Peru and Chile.

Advice For Girls On Catching Man

LOS ANGELES (AP)-If you're a gal who hasn't yet caught a man, hear this advice from a professional marriage counselor: Make your target feel important, stimulating and understood. Be physically attractive. Have motivation-really want a husband. Dr. Richard M. Klemmer, an official of the American Institute of Family Relations, gave the advice in an interview.

Iran Warned Of Western Ties

MOSCOW (AP)-Pravda warned Iran today of the "dire consequences" of its pro-Western policy. The Communist party organ came out in the wake of a Soviet government statement Thursday charging that a "two-faced insincere policy" on the part of Iran led to the breakdown of negotiations with the Soviet Union for a nonaggression pact. The Russians also claimed the United States intervened to prevent the nonaggression treaty and worked instead for a U.S.-Iranian military agreement, currently being negotiated.

Biggest Of Cuba Trials Is Opened

SANTIAGO DE CUBA (AP)-One of Cuba's biggest "war crimes" trials has opened here pegged to a town the rebels call "the Lidice of Cuba." Friday night forty three airmen were charged with bombing and strafing civilians in the civil war and having a part in wiping out the small town of Sagua de Tanamo in Eastern Cuba. The rebels call Sagua de Tanamo, which had a population of only 2,864, "Lidice" after the Bohemian town in Czechoslovakia liquidated by the Germans during World War II when all the men were killed, women and children deported and all buildings razed.

Andes Landslide Kills Over 20

LIMA, Peru (AP) - More than 20 Peruvians are dead and 25 missing after landslides in the Andes. Torrential rains have loosened huge masses of earth. The mountain mining town of Tablachaca was swept away, and 32 are feared dead. Lima's water supply was cut when slide debris blocked a canal. In the lower Alpine district of southwest Germany there are 698 castles which are identified by monuments or plaques.

Reds Complain Over Exclusion

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) - Communists complained bitterly over President Romulo Betancourt's inaugural statement that he intends to keep them out of his government. Betancourt said publicly that "The political philosophy of Communism is not in the best interests of democratic Venezuela." He said Reds would be excluded from his coalition government. The Reds called his statements and act of "anti-Communist aggression." Betancourt was a member of the Communist party in his youth but he later turned his back on it.

Arrest Pair On Liquor Counts

Two men were arrested by deputy sheriffs during the weekend for alleged possession of bootleg liquor. Deputies charged Jesse Williams, 29-year-old Negro of Rt. 3, Bethel with possession of non-tax-paid liquor and Moses Clemons, 30-year-old Negro of 615 Sheppard St., Greenville, with possession and transportation of non-tax-paid liquor.

Arrest Pair On Liquor Counts

The two were stopped Saturday night on N. C. 33 near Pateolis by Deputies Ralph Tyson and Gerald Davis, according to Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson. A half gallon of non-tax-paid liquor was found in their car, according to the officers. The two posted bond and were released from jail.

Michigan Staves Off Collapse Day

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan treasury has temporarily staved off "collapse day," thanks to advance payment by industry of 35 1/2 million dollars in taxes.

The prepayment, in answer to an appeal by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, will enable the state to meet pressing financial commitments, at least through April 16.

The term "collapse day" to describe the state's financial crisis has been used in many Michigan newspapers since it was coined by Republican State Rep. Harry J. Phillips in a legislative speech.

Williams asked major state industries for the advance tax payment Feb. 2. He said the state would not be able to meet its obligations after today without the money. Four days before his appeal, the governor had proposed a five per cent profit tax on industry and a graduated state income tax to raise an estimated 140 million dollars a year he says Michigan needs to meet expenses.

State officials said the prepayment would enable Michigan to give its three major universities their first aid payments since last November. Cities and villages will receive within a week some 12 million dollars due in sales tax diversion money, and another 11 million dollars will go to dependent children and persons drawing old age assistance.

Current revenues were sufficient to meet a state payroll last Thursday.

Alfred C. Fletcher Rites Set Tuesday

Funeral services for Alfred C. (Buster) Fletcher will be held at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Philip Corey, pastor of Falkland Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Fletcher, 34, was drowned in the Gulf of Mexico near San Benito, Texas, last Tuesday. He was a son of the late Alfred C. and Nina Williams Fletcher. He was born and reared on the Cottondale farm, near Bruce, and lived near Winterville a number of years. After attending school at Belvoir-Falkland, Edwards Military Academy, Salemburg, and Campbell College, he served in the U. S. Army during World War II. He was a member of the Falkland Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are a son, Alfred C. Fletcher III of Elm City, and a sister, Mrs. James Devane of Lumberton.

Cyprus Factional Leaders Hold Talk

LONDON (AP)—Leaders of all factions in the Cyprus dispute conferred today in preparation for their conference to work out a peace agreement.

The major contenders all were in London and apparently confident that agreement would be reached at the conference starting Tuesday. It is expected to produce a constitution that will make Cyprus an independent republic, ending 81 years of British rule over the strategic island in the Mediterranean.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met with Foreign Ministers Evangelos Averoff of Greece and Fatin Rustu Zorlu of Turkey, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd and Sir Hugh Foot, the British governor of Cyprus.

Archbishop Makarios, the leader of the Greek Cypriot campaign to end British control of the island, met with other Greek Cypriot leaders, and then received Foot at his hotel.

About 4,000 Greek Cypriots gave Archbishop Makarios a resounding welcome as the bearded leader arrived at London Airport from Athens.

About 200 flag-waving Turkish Cypriots were on hand when Dr. Fazil Kutchuk flew in from Nicosia and Ankara. Makarios and Kutchuk will sit down Tuesday with the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey in a parley to draw the final terms for the conversion of Cyprus into a republic.

"I go to the conference with an open mind," Makarios said in a statement at the airport. "I hope a solution is on the way to being achieved," Makarios told reporters. "The good will and understanding between Greece and Turkey has been a great step forward."

The Foreign Office sent a junior official of the protocol department to meet the archbishop at the airport.

Makarios was exiled by the British from Cyprus in 1956 because he refused to disavow the terror campaign of the EOKA underground. If agreement on the island's future is reached at the conference, he presumably will be allowed to return to his homeland at once so he can sell the agreement to the Greek Cypriots. The island's Greek majority is expected to choose him as the first president of Cyprus.

Asked if the Turkish Cypriot minority would accept Makarios as president, Kutchuk said: "I don't think it is our place to object." He pointed out that the agreement worked out by the Greek and Turkish foreign ministers last week provided for a Turkish Cypriot vice president who will have a veto on matters of foreign relations, defense and internal security.

AFL-CIO Leaders Gather In San Juan

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders gathered today in this Caribbean resort to plan how to combat unemployment back on the mainland and how to capitalize on the favorable political complexion of Congress.

The union chiefs here for their winter meeting, cheered advance word from Washington that legislation they long have wanted is about to be introduced to raise the $1 an hour minimum wage to $1.25.

Members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council were less communicative on what they may do about a second snub from President Maurice Huteson of the Carpenters Union to their request to explain his refusal to answer questions of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

This is the second time Huteson, a council member, has failed to answer an invitation from the group to personally explain questioned expenditures of his union as well as his indictment in an Indiana land scandal.

The labor leaders were torn between wanting to keep their anti-corruption drive in high gear and a public spanking to Huteson, the fear that if they administer he will make good a dare to pull his 650,000-member union out of the AFL-CIO.
