Drive To Prepare Budget For Assembly By Tuesday

RALEIGH (AP)—The Legislature's Joint Appropriations subcommittee holds two more meetings today and tonight in its drive to have a 1959-60 budget bill ready by next Tuesday.

At afternoon and evening sessions Tuesday the group completed consideration of the public welfare budget and sailed into the big higher education budget.

The 27-member subcommittee appears to be following closely an administration formula for dividing 16 million dollars in increased revenue estimate during the next biennium.

It approved $1,648,000 above Advisory Budget Commission recommendations for welfare and nearly one million for six higher education institutions other than the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

The formula allowed 1 1/2 million for welfare and $1,400,000 for nine of the state-supported colleges, not counting UNC.

The subcommittee plans to hold another meeting Thursday afternoon and possibly one Friday morning, Rep. Clyde Harriett of Rowan, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, admonished his group to buckle down and try to get the appropriations bill to the full committee by Tuesday.

In approving an increase of $1,628,000 for public welfare, the subcommittee scrapped a study group's recommendation for an increase of $2,100,000 above the amount recommended by the governor and Advisory Budget Commission.

The difference of about $500,000 between the subcommittee's figure and the study group's recommendation will cost the state $3,848,000 in matching federal money.

The subcommittee approved a total of $990,714 above budget commission recommendations for East Carolina College, Western Carolina College, Appalachian State Teachers College, Pembroke State College, Winston-Salem Teachers College, and A&T College.

Most of the budget increases are for academic salary adjustments or new teaching positions. Much of it was earmarked for increasing the wages of student employees.

The difference of about $500,000

Withholding Tax For Corporations

RALEIGH (AP)—Corporations would be placed on a pay-as-you-go basis under a proposed state income tax withholding plan approved Tuesday by the Senate Finance Committee.

The bill squeaked out with a favorable report by 11-10. Gov. Hodges had advocated the withholding tax plan for individuals. In approving it, however, the Senate committee went a step further in tacking on the corporations amendment 12-9.

The House Finance Committee last week approved the tax plan for individuals by 38-13. An amendment to bring corporations under the plan was offered but later withdrawn.

Administration forces may seek to have the House bill acted upon first since it does not include the corporations amendment.

In offering the amendment, Sen. Robert Morgan of Harnett said, "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

It has been estimated that the state would reap a windfall of about 27 1/2 million dollars the first year under the withholding plan for individuals. Inclusion of corporations would increase the windfall to about 41 1/2 million.

Tax withholding is a key to budget balancing in Gov. Hodges' proposed spending program for the next biennium.

State Revenue Commissioner James Currie told the committee that adding corporations would be "ploughing new ground." At present, he said, corporation taxes are easier to collect than individual taxes. And, he added, nearly half of the corporation tax is paid on a current basis anyway.

Under the amendment, corporations would be required to pay taxes in advance on estimated profits.

Line Up Against Big Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans, backed by conservative Southern Democrats, lined up today against passage of what they assailed as a budget-busting $2,100,000 housing bill.

With government spending overshadowing housing as an issue, the House heard a vote in its annual housing battle.

After a morning caucus of the 153 Republican members, GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told newsmen the impending vote would be "close as hell."

"This will be a key vote," he said. "There is no doubt this is a budget-busting bill."

Halleck's statement came a few hours before the House was to start preliminary voting on two housing measures—one, the Democratic bill approved by the House Banking Committee; the other, a substitute drafted by Rep. A. S. Herlong, a Florida Democrat.

Republicans plugged for passage of the less-costly Herlong bill. They claimed a 50-50 chance of success.

Henderson Mills Plan Third Shift

May Go Into Full Operations Monday; Negotiations Fail Tuesday

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Two struck cotton mills here may return to a full three-shift operation next Monday.

John D. Cooper Jr., president of Harriet - Henderson Cotton Mills, said Tuesday he will start a third shift next Monday, but added, "I reserve the right to make a change."

The Textile Workers Union of America struck last Nov. 17 when the company insisted on eliminating an arbitration clause from the proposed new contract.

The mills began limited operations Feb. 16 in spite of the strike. Dynamite blasts, the stoning of workers, and other violence accompanied the start of the second shift April 20. That was one strike for an earlier postponement by Cooper of the start of the third shift. Authorities feared such action would breed more violence.

Union and company officials met Tuesday to explore possible ways of settling the strike, but nothing developed.

Meanwhile, National Guardsmen on duty here reported the strike scene quiet Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, union attorneys have decided not to test the constitutionality of a court order issued in connection with the strike unless it is used as a basis for arrests.

Boyd Payton, Carolinas director of the TWUA, said, "If someone is arrested under the order, which we feel is a violation of constitutional rights, then we will use it as a test case."

The other, issued by Superior Court Judge William Y. Bickett of Raleigh, limits the number of pickets and prohibits assembly at the struck mills.

There were developments elsewhere touching on the strike. In New York, the United Steelworkers Union condemned the use of the National Guard for strike duty.

In Washington, the AFL-CIO Executive Committee Council said in a statement that politicians worried about democratic rights of workers should take a look at the six-month strike.

Where do these brave believers in democracy stand on the issues at Henderson? Where are the Goldwaters, the McClellands and the Dirksen?" the council asked.

"What do they propose as a method for preserving the simple and basic democratic rights which the workers at Henderson have risked their lives and livelihoods to preserve?"

The reference was to Sens. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.).

Freedom Medal Is Given Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has conferred the Medal of Freedom on John Foster Dulles. It is the nation's highest award to civilians.

The former secretary of state, critically ill with cancer and pneumonia complications, received the medal Tuesday at Walter Reed Medical Center. It was presented to him on behalf of the President by Mrs. Dulles.

In a "Dear Foster" note accompanying the medal, Eisenhower wrote:

"It is an honor and a privilege to award you this Medal of Freedom. Inadequate though it is to express my gratitude and the gratitude of the nation you have served so well, it does stand as a small token of the affection and esteem that the people of America and of the world hold for you and your tireless efforts on behalf of freedom."

Pain relieving drugs are keeping Dulles generally comfortable as he clings to life. He sleeps much of the time in his hospital room.

Dynamite Blows Up Tanker Truck

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A dynamite explosion Tuesday night blew up a fuel tanker truck parked near a non-union coal mine. The same truck was struck twice by a hidden rifleman's bullets a few hours earlier.

There were no injuries either time. The incidents were among a series of harassing violence since the United Mine Workers Union began trying to organize non-union mines in the area.

The UMW says, however, that it has had nothing to do with the violence.

W. Germany, France Balk At Rush Into Secret Talks

GENEVA (AP)—West Germany and France were reported today to be putting the brakes on U.S.-British enthusiasm for a prompt opening of secret talks with the Soviet Union over the Berlin crisis and prospects for a summit conference.

Some cautious moves were apparently going on in the Big Four foreign ministers conference concerning the start of secret negotiations.

When these do take place they will almost certainly determine whether a summit conference will be held this summer.

Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany appeared less anxious to get quickly into secret talks than their two Western colleagues.

They were said to be taking the line with U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Britain's Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd that, since the Soviet Union created the Berlin crisis, the Soviets should take the lead in finding a solution.

Couve de Murville and Von Brentano are not opposed to secret talks, diplomats said, but insist the Western allies must enter into such discussions with the greatest care.

Debate over the rival and mutually rejected Soviet and Western proposals for a German peace settlement will continue possibly until the end of the week.

This means a delay in the scheduled which Herter tentatively anticipated last week—that private talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might get under way by today or Thursday.

Von Brentano saw Herter for half an hour this morning. He indicated the secret phase of the Big Four talks probably would not begin for several days.

A conference source said Gromyko told Lloyd Wednesday night that he will make a new stab at getting Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia admitted to the conference. The Western foreign ministers rebuffed his earlier attempt to seat them.

The Western and Soviet foreign ministers were to continue their debate on their rival plans for Germany at another formal conference session today. But Western diplomats say this debate has reached a dead end of disagreement, and the obvious objective of both sides in continuing the discussion is to make more propaganda.

While press and public are barred from the conference sessions, everything that happens inside the conference room is immediately reported to newsmen by press officers for the delegations.

Only about a dozen men — probably three from each of the Big Four countries — will attend the secret talks shaping up. Little information about them is expected to emerge from day to day.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville are agreed that both German delegations must be excluded from the secret sessions.

The Western ministers want to find out whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — obviously anxious for summit talks — will slack off the Berlin crisis in order to reach an agreement here for the chiefs of government to meet this summer.

Western diplomats think Khrushchev will. But they have no notion yet on what kind of a stopgap settlement might be reached for Berlin that would be acceptable to both the Soviet Union and the West.

The Soviets apparently want to know what, if any, price the West is willing to pay for easing Berlin tensions apart from agreement to join in a summit meeting. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has said he is ready to discuss creation of a limited arms zone in central Europe, possibly a non-atomic zone.

recession declaration by the Big Four, an East-West German committee to work for more contact between the two regimes and East-West disarmament measures. All are individual points in the Western package plan for German reunification and a start toward a European security system.

McClellan Urges Congress To Face Hoffa's Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) urged Congress today to meet head-on James R. Hoffa's threat to call a nationwide strike if labor unions are subjected to antitrust laws.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate rackets probe, said he will introduce soon a bill he has talked about to apply the antitrust laws to transportation unions. He gave no further details.

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, told a Brownsville, Tex., audience Tuesday that organized labor's answer to such legislation should be to have all its collective bargaining contracts expire on the same date, and then strike.

"We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all," Hoffa said.

Hoffa has been working to organize a conference of various transportation unions, including his Teamsters, and longshoremen and rail unions. He spoke at a district convention of the International Longshoremen's Association but indicated he was suggesting a strike by all labor unions.

The suggestion was quickly rejected by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who served notice Hoffa could not count on support from the federation's 12 1/2 million members. The AFL-CIO has expelled the Teamsters on charges of corruption.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), a former Detroit union official, said a general strike "would be suicidal, just crazy," and added that "I think Hoffa has more sense than to do that." He noted that Hoffa had said a strike could be called, not that it would be.

But McClellan saw real danger in Hoffa's words, which he called a threat against Congress and the people. He said the Teamsters chief should not be allowed to get away with it.

McClellan said Hoffa was talking about a strike that would

"shut down industry, stop the wheels of commerce, strangle the economy and challenge the supremacy of our government."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC), a member of McClellan's committee and co-sponsor of the hotly disputed Kennedy-Ervin bill, declared the Hoffa's speech fit to be applied to the antitrust laws to transportation unions. He gave no further details.

"It will be a tragic thing for the people if Congress knuckles down to Hoffa," Ervin said.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), co-sponsor of the Kennedy-Ervin bill, reserved comment until after he studies a text of Hoffa's speech.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said in a separate interview Hoffa's threat should bring swift action by the House to toughen up the Kennedy-Ervin bill, which he contends is "too soft."

Belgium's King Distracted By 'So Much To See'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"There is so much to see," said Belgium's King Baudouin, speaking of Southern California. He had just seen Debbie Reynolds. Next sight: Disneyland.

The visiting monarch had lunch with Debbie and other Hollywood stars Tuesday at a Hollywood studio. Then she was his dinner partner at a party at the home of film director Mervyn Leroy.

He returned to his hotel early in the morning without elaborating to newsmen on his previous comment about his Hollywood stay.

"I am having a wonderful time. He is to be Walt Disney's personal guest for a Disneyland tour. Then he'll ride in a Marine Corps helicopter from the big amusement park, in suburban Anaheim, to meet a San Francisco-bound airliner at International Airport."

Proclaims Saturday As Poppy Day Here

POPPY DAY SATURDAY . . . Mrs. Bowen pins poppy on Mayor West's lapel.

Mayor Eugene West has proclaimed Saturday as Poppy Day. Mrs. Alfred Kennedy is serving as chairman of the Poppy Day sale and Mrs. C. A. Bowen is co-chairman. The sale is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

"Saturday, May 23, is named Poppy Day and all citizens are urged to observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in tribute to the nation's war dead," the mayor said.

"Remembrance of those who gave their lives in defense of our country and its freedom being an inspiring part of our American heritage, and all of us having personal memories of young men from our City who died in war service, it is fitting that we keep those memories bright by wearing on one day each year the Memorial Poppy."

The purpose of the practice was to demonstrate the effectiveness of high pressure fog and low pressure fog applied on hot, confined fires. It also gave the younger men the opportunity to be the "first man in" on the fire.

Recent Bride Feted

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. W. J. Beach of Hamilton, Mrs. Nathan Roberson and Mrs. W. W. Taylor Sr. complimented Mrs. Harry Clayton Roberson, the former Miss Phyllis Ann Patterson of Clinton, at a floating miscellaneous shower Saturday evening.

Mixed summer flowers and candelabra were used to decorate the Robersonville Masonic Hall.

Mrs. A. P. Barnhill and Mrs. N. R. Roberson greeted the guests at the door and Mrs. Beach invited them into the large dining room. Mrs. Taylor introduced them to the receiving line composed of the recent bride, Mrs. Walter Roberson and Mrs. Levi Harrison of Williamston.

Mrs. H. L. Roberson directed the friends to the register where Mrs. Edward Ashley Roberson presided. Mrs. Helen Everett invited the callers to the refreshment table where Mrs. Allen Corey and Mrs. Gene Taylor assisted in serving cheese straws, pickles, mints, nuts, bridal cakes and punch. The table was covered with white cutwork linen over green. The centerpiece of pink rosebuds and white lilies was flanked by crystal candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

The honoree was presented a yellow corsage.

She received gifts including china, crystal and silver in her chosen patterns from the 150 guests from Greenville, Williamston, Everetts, Stokes, Hamilton and Robersonville.

Dinner Party Honors Couples

FOUNTAIN—The Moore house in Farmville was the scene for a dinner party Sunday night when Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. Fountain, a recent bride couple of Raleigh, and bride couple-elect of June, Miss Sherad Bryan and Frederick Fountain of Tarboro, were honored.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fountain, Mrs. Rod Harris, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Goodwyn, Mrs. Richard T. Fountain and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fountain were the hosts and received with the young couples and their parents.

Miss Bryan was wearing a Dior blue silk princess dress and Mrs. Bruce Fountain Jr. chose a pink linen sheath. Both were presented white pom pon corsages.

As guests gathered on the porch, they were served chilled tomato juice cocktail by Miss Jane Fountain.

The honored couples and their parents were seated together at a table centered with pink peonies. The other guests were seated at tables for four in the hall and in the living room.

Throughout the home rose peonies, gladioli and pink hydrangeas were used for decoration.

The 60 guests were served turkey dinner followed by strawberry shortcake.

Why Open The Doors To Rackets?

If legislative approval of the proposed racing and pari mutual betting bill merely meant that North Carolina was going to the dogs, it wouldn't be so bad.

The real rub comes with the realization that passage of the bill may well mean that North Carolina, instead of going to the dogs, will go to the racketeers and crime syndicates.

The dogs we can take. Most of them are pretty nice.

The point we can't condone, however, is offering racketeers and crime syndicates the opportunity to take us... individually, local governments, and state government.

Passage of the bill now before the legislature to permit local government option on legalizing dog and horse racing and pari mutual betting will surely mean the opening of a number of race tracks and accompanying gambling operations in North Carolina. It will also mean that such operations in North Carolina most likely will be controlled by racketeering and crime interests of the country as is the case in other parts of the nation.

We could be inviting these underworld operations to come into North Carolina, set up in business with a legalized front, take away our money at the dog and horse tracks, and also enter into illegal sideline enterprises as the opportunity presented itself.

In return for such privileges to these racketeers, local governments who took them under their wings would get a small cut of the profits and the state would receive a slice for permitting the activities.

While on paper these tax inducements appear a big incentive for legalizing racing and betting, North Carolina would find its people being fleeced of millions every year while the state and local governments picked up a few thousands in return for their co-operation with track operators.

North Carolina has had very little trouble over the years with racketeering and organized crime. When we view the experiences of other states which have not been so fortunate, it appears evident that North Carolina's good fortune has been due to the fact that it has not allowed racketeers and crime syndicates to establish a permanent beachhead within our borders. The state permitted dog tracks and pari mutual a few years ago, but these were quickly stamped out when the people had an opportunity to view first hand their operations.

So far efforts to reinstate these operations have been unsuccessful. We trust the present efforts to again legalize such operations will also be unsuccessful.

If the people of North Carolina want their state to go to the dogs, it can get there quick enough without turning the state over to racketeering and crime syndicates.

Compromise On Courts Proposal

By LYNN NISBET

COMPROMISE — The text of Article IV (courts) of the proposed new constitution now before the joint committee is a composite and compromise version of recommendations by the N.C. Bar Association (Bell) Committee and the North Carolina Constitutional (Bryant) Commission, with a few new suggestions. The compromise text is the product of a subcommittee which has worked for weeks trying to reconcile differences without loss of good points in both reports.

The main difference was the degree of control to be exercised over the courts by the General Assembly and the Supreme Court. The Bell committee sought to place almost absolute control in the Chief Justice. The Bryant commission sought to place authority in the General Assembly. More simply stated, the commonly used expression, is that Bell group would have established one unified court with divisions from the lowest level of magistrate (roughly comparable to present JP's) to the Supreme Court, all administered by the Chief Justice. The Bryant commission sought rather a court system with almost the same kind of division which should be uniform within each class through the state, administered under general laws enacted by the Legislature.

The subcommittee comes up with what is essentially a unified court, as proposed by Bell, but subject to legislative regulation, as proposed by Bryant. An illustration of the compromise is found in the next text relating to trial sessions of the superior courts. The Bell group wanted these sessions held "pursuant to rules promulgated by the Supreme Court." The Bryant commission wanted it to read "pursuant to law." The subcommittee makes it read "pursuant to a calendar of courts promulgated by the Supreme Court."

INFERIOR COURTS — The subcommittee combined recommendations of both study groups with respect to all courts inferior to the Superior Court. It accepted abolition of the present hodgepodge recorder court set up for a uniform (if not unified) system of district trial courts, and substituted appointed magistrates for the present JP system. The General Assembly, rather than the Supreme Court, will determine the seat and jurisdictional bounds of the district trial courts, and provide by general law for selection of the judges. The Chief Justice will appoint the magistrates, from nominees proposed by the senior resident Superior Court judge. In districts where more than one district judge is needed, the Chief Justice shall designate one as "chief district judge" and the others are associates; but the General Assembly shall determine the number of district judges and trial magistrates for

All That Attention Is Worth Stretching Out

Within the next few weeks literally thousands of young men and women will be graduating from high schools and colleges throughout North Carolina.

These members of the Class of '59 will get sound advice from commencement speakers, teachers, parents, friends and neighbors. They will find themselves suddenly projected into the limelight with everyone interested in their accomplishments during their formal schooling and interested in helping them plan for the future.

More than at any other time since they entered the first grade they will be aware of the interest people have in them. They will be aware of the responsibilities for the future which rest upon their shoulders.

Somehow at graduation-time each year people's interest in the members of the graduating class reaches a fever pitch. Unfortunately, however, the interest which is re-kindled at graduation does not carry over to following years with the same enthusiasm. Next year this time the '59 high school graduate will be just another college kid or a youngster doing his first year of real work after high school. The '59 college graduate will be going through the initial throes of the cold cruel world on his own. They'll have to take a back seat to a new crop of graduates... the Class of '60.

The thing that most people seem to forget is that after rather than at the particular moment of graduation is when youngsters most often need sound advice and counsel. They confront new problems in the years immediately following graduation. They are thrust into new circumstances and find new situations with which they must cope. And quite often, they find they have few people to turn to for advice. Those who so freely and kindly offered advice when they graduated now have their attention focused on other youngsters.

So when you pat the graduate on the back and wish him Godspeed this spring, don't forget about him. Chances are he'll need your advice and counsel more desperately six months, a year or five years from now than he does today.

Now, Maybe The Work Can Begin

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now — maybe — the foreign ministers at Geneva will cut out the propaganda signposts and get down to cases. Reports from there say they may go into secret session. It's about the only way they will get anything done.

So far, from the standpoint of serious negotiations, this meeting of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union has been a sorry spectacle. Each side has been making proposals it knew beforehand the other would not accept. And neither did.

The whole intention of each side up till now seems to have been to get the maximum publicity — meaning propaganda — for its proposals before the other had a chance to say no. They let it be known what they'd say before they even sat down at the conference table to say it.

It's a tossup on who's head on propaganda. If there's any edge, the Soviets have it. The West can crow that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko lost on his demand that the foreign ministers of East Germany, West Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take a full part in the conference. The West said no, and made it stick.

But the Soviets can laugh at this. They accomplished what was no doubt their only purpose in making the demand they knew the West would reject. To gain a little public opinion yardage for Moscow among the peoples of the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia by representing the Soviet Union as their champion and the West as the one who stifled them and refused to grant them equal status.

The whole rickety nature of this conference — at least so far — was exposed weeks ago when the American, British, French and West German foreign ministers, meeting in Paris, agreed on a "package plan" to offer the Soviets.

The Soviets had demanded basically two things: that the Western Big Three get their troops out of West Berlin and that they sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, a Soviet Mind If I Help?

Veteran Of Strike Duty

The Farmville National Guardsmen who are pulling strike duty at Henderson have sympathy from at least one other Pitt Countyman.

The man, who asked that his name not be used in a story, remembers that he and two other members of Greenville's National Guard unit were ordered to Henderson in the 1930's when Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus sent troops into Vance County.

"We were sent as replacements for vacancies in the Rocky Mount company," he remembers. "We stayed only a week and had no trouble, so far as I can recall."

Apparently, the three men were the only Pitt County Guardsmen to go on strike duty before Farmville's unit moved out last week.

J. Herbert Waldrop, president of Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. and commander of Greenville's National Guard unit during the 1930's, says he cannot recall any time when the whole unit was ordered out. C.K. Beatty, superintendent of the Street Department and also a member of the Guard in the '30's, says the same thing.

According to the man who said he went, volunteers were asked to fill out the Rocky Mount company. He recalls that he was private-first class at the time and volunteered to go with a sergeant and a lieutenant.

"The sergeant and I rode to Henderson in a new roadster I had just bought," he says. "We got there, showed those folks we meant business and had no trouble, as I recall. The sergeant and I were back home in a week, but the lieutenant stayed a while longer."

While Greenville Guardsmen missed the strike duty of the 30's, they had their share of other active service. They were among the first units federalized in 1940 and were on an active status throughout World War II.

Waldrop, who relinquished command of the field artillery battery in the late 1930's, says the unit was a good one when it went into federal service.

"There are about 20 men who were members of the battery who won commissions during World War II and five or six of them went as high as lieutenant colonel or major," he says.

One man who was assigned to the unit while it was on World War II duty was honored recently.

The Army Reserve's new training center here was formally dedicated a couple of months ago to the memory of Lt. Preston C. Clark, who was a member of Battery A of the 13th Field Artillery when he was killed in action in Germany.

Getting back to the idea of strike duty for Greenville Guardsmen, there is a chance they might get sent to Henderson if the strike continues. Adjutant General Capus Waynick announced Monday that units assigned to Henderson would be rotated every two weeks to ease the burden any single unit has to carry.

Greenville Guardsmen would be far down the line for such duty, however. Units which are being tabbed for Henderson assignments are infantry and military police companies. Artillery units will not have to go, presumably, until all infantry units have been sent in.

If They Were In U.S.

By SAUL PATT

NEW YORK (AP) — The news from Moscow the other day got me thinking. It concerned a Russian couple celebrating their 110th wedding anniversary.

She's 136 and he's 131. They have great - great - great-grandchildren. They have two daughters and a son, each of whom is over 100.

And I got to thinking about a couple married that long and imagined they were American. And one morning at breakfast: He: Pass the toast. She: Know what day this is? He: Lemme see, it's May 20, 1849 - no, 1859.

She: It's our 110th wedding anniversary. He: Who told you that, Unvac?

She: Still thoughtless, aren't you? Mother was right, I never should have married a younger man. You're just immature. And so forgetful. You even forgot junior's last birthday. And you know how important 100th birthdays are to the children.

He: Pass the jelly. She: Full of big talk and promises. I remember you promised after the war that— He: Which war? She: Promised we'd take a long trip some time.

He: What's the rush? Things are too crowded these days.

She: You said that about the stage coach and clipper ships. He: I swear. This is the toughest bacon I've had since Shiloh. She: I'm not surprised. You haven't raised my table money since Appomattox.

He: Can't a man enjoy his breakfast in peace, just once in a century?

She: We wouldn't be worrying about money now if you had had any sense about those investments. Imagine, 100 shares of Amalgamated Lam Wick!

He: How was I to know one week later that damn young fool would invent the light bulb?

She: You couldn't even win an election bet. He: I didn't do so bad on Fillmore, Pierce and Lincoln.

She: When will we get a television set? Matter of fact, when will we get a radio?

He: You haven't seen all your stereopticon slides yet. Look, if you're so darned bored, if you have so much free time to kill, why don't you get yourself a hobby? Maybe skating. Or maybe job, say delivering ice. She: If I did, I'd be the first one in this family to make a decent living!

He: Now, listen, woman, if I were you I'd keep a civil tongue in my head. After all, there isn't anything necessarily permanent about our arrangement.

strength. And nobody cares too much. "What can I do? I don't run an employment agency. Doesn't the government do something in hardship cases like that?" So we query and yawn, and pick up the paper, and sink down deeper in our chairs, or go over and turn on the TV and start "probing" for our favorite western.

Brother, have mercy. You may not be able to do much, but your little bit, added to that of the man next door, or the fellow who occupies an adjacent desk at the office, or who works on the machine next to yours at the mill will get something going. From there on it's in the hands of God.

But you do your part, and the Almighty can be relied on to do His.

For--And Against--Advertising?

By ELMER ROESSNER

Many businessmen feel that Uncle Sam is against advertising.

That is passing strange, because Uncle Sam himself is only an advertisement; an advertisement of you and me and the people of these United States.

It is strange, too, because the government does so much advertising itself. The Army, Air Force and Navy advertising budgets are some of the juiciest plums of Madison Avenue's year. Millions more are spent in seeking governmental junk and in selling bids. And even more millions are spent paying salaries of government "information officers" who are little more than advertising men with charm but no budgets for space or time.

However, while buying advertising with one hand, Uncle Sam seems to be slapping it down with the other.

The Magazine Publishers Association pinpointed eight areas in which the government appears to be cracking down on advertising. These are:

The refusal of the Internal Revenue Service to allow tax deductions for advertising to resist political and labor depredations on a business; the refusal of the Federal Negotiation Board to allow Boeing advertising as an expense under government contracts; the Commerce Department's efforts to limit billboard advertising on new highways; the Patent Office's refusal to recognize patent lawyers who advertise; the Post Office's efforts to increase mail rates on advertising; the Post Office's efforts to increase regular mail rates, which would also affect advertising; the Post Office's desire to reduce the volume of third-class mail, and the Congressional proposal to prohibit interstate movement of liquor advertisements.

PUBLISHERS PROTEST

Meanwhile, an American Newspaper Publishers Association committee has found that increases in postage charges based on advertising in newspapers is essentially a tax on advertising.

Furthermore, Post Office requirements for page numbering in pre-printed pages also taxes — or threatens to increase postal charges — on advertising supplements.

Even more recently, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled that amounts contributed by taxpayers for publicity programs to win votes against measures affecting the contributors' business are not deductible from income taxes. In short, deductions to support African churches are allowed, but deductions to save your business from socialization or communism are not.

In addition, the IRS has put into effect a rule that says that payments by dealers toward national-local "tie-in" ads must be counted as part of the manufacturers' sales price subject to excise tax. That works out to be a direct tax on advertising.

In short, when it comes to advertising, Uncle Sam is a split personality. He uses it for himself, but he cracks down on others who use it.

HOW TO SEND FLOWERS TO HERETTER TOMORROW

If your boss or girl friend, or both, are going to Europe this summer, you can arrange to have a bouquet of flowers with your greetings awaiting them in their suite in Paris or any place else this side of the Iron Curtain. In fact, you could have a bouquet of roses delivered to Secretary of State Herter in Geneva tomorrow.

Many people do not know that local florists, through an organization known as Interflora, can arrange to have flowers delivered in 100 countries.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH

In Municipal Recorder's Court Monday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee found Kenneth Ray Wells, 307 Pitt Street, guilty of failure to stop at a stop sign, speeding over 100 miles an hour, speeding 55 in a 35-mile zone and driving without an operator's license.

The court gave him 30 days on the roads for not stopping at a stop sign, suspended on payment of $16; for speeding in excess of 100 miles an hour, 30 days in jail, sentence to be served weekends, starting May 22, from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. on May 24, and each week thereafter for a total of nine weekends, and Wells is to report to the County Jail at 7 p.m.

For speeding 55 miles an hour in a 35 zone, Wells was given 90 days on the roads, sentence to be suspended on condition that he not operate a motor vehicle in North Carolina for two years. The judgment also provides that he shall not ride in a motor vehicle of any description except his employer's car to and from work, or a taxi or bus for six months. He is to pay a fine of $50, costs deducted, and is placed on probation for two years, with the special provisions in the above sentence invoked.

On the charge of driving without an operator's license, Wells' sentence is combined with the three above sentences.

Eliza Underwood, Negro, 1517 S. Pitt St., possession of non-tax-paid whiskey for sale, six months in Women's Prison.

Lewis Smith, Negro, 1118 Clark St., assault on a female, six months on the roads, sentence suspended on condition that he pay Dr. John Wooten $25, pay Mary E. Bryant $25 and pay $50 fine, and remain of good behavior two years. The judgment also provides that Smith shall not violate any law, not harm, molest or threaten to harm or molest the prosecuting witness, Mary S. Bryant.

James Elks, Grimesland, drunk, 30 days or pay $16.

Eugene Williams, R-2 city, driving to left of center of road, 30 days on the roads, suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The judgment also provides that Williams shall not operate a motor vehicle in this state until and unless adequate restitution is made for property damage, caused by accident, and in any event, not to operate a motor vehicle for 30 days, and his license is to be surrendered to the court clerk; also Williams is to be assigned to the Driver Training School for four weeks, starting May 19.

State Superintendent Bill Reasons Remain Obscured

By BUNNY HARRIS

RALEIGH — No one will say what the meaning is behind a bill which transfers to the State Board of Education some of the powers now held by Dr. Charles Carroll as State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The question — "Why?" — was asked by Mrs. Lillian Cover of Cherokee Tuesday in a public hearing on the bill.

"I want to know what is the meaning behind the bill—why is it needed?" she asked. "It seems to me our public schools are getting along fine as things now stand."

The answer from Rep. Watts Hill Jr. of Durham, one of the bill's introducers, was unenlightening.

ECC Yearbook Now Distributed

East Carolina College's 1959 yearbook, "The Buccaneer," has just been issued from the press, and copies are now being distributed to students and others connected with the college.

Edited by Adolphus Spain, senior from Washington, the volume develops through its contents the theme of "East Carolina College stands with its face toward the future."

The 1959 "Buccaneer" is a 400 page book handsomely bound in covers carrying a design in black and red. It is lavishly illustrated with photographs in color and in black and white.

Found Revolver, Boy Kills Self

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A revolver in a dresser drawer, a boy's curiosity, an afternoon off from school, nobody at home.

All these added up to death Tuesday for 14-year-old Roy Otto. He shot himself in the forehead while playing with his brother's .38 caliber revolver. His 11-year-old sister, Shirley, found his body.

against nature, was given two years on the roads in both cases. These sentences are to be started at the expiration of the sentence of 30 days on the roads for being drunk. For being a public nuisance, the court gave Dudley two years on the roads—six years and 30 days in jail.

Walter D. Johnson, Negro, was called and he failed to answer. An instant capias was issued for him.

unity exists.

Hill adds in a summary statement: "This bill makes unanimity mandatory where disunity would be disastrous."

On hand to favor the bill was Dallas Herring, chairman of the State Board. Dr. Carroll indirectly opposed it by pointing out that the duties of the state superintendent are prescribed by the General Assembly rather than the Board.

A few members of the committee were not at all pleased with the bill.

B. I. Satterfield of Person maintained it would "weaken the voice of the educational forces in North Carolina."

It would do this, he said, "by taking away some of the powers and responsibilities of the superintendent who is elective and vesting it in a body which is not subject to the will of the people."

Any action on the bill was postponed until the committee's meeting next week.

At the present time, the superintendent has this power of selection except in the field of vocational education. In this case he organizes the staff "by and with the advice and consent of the State Board of Education."

Hill, in a statement issued to the House Education Committee Tuesday, notes that in the realm of vocational education appointments:

"The net effect . . . is that the Board is thus provided reasonable assurance that policies will be executed in the spirit intended and that a proper emphasis will be given to its various policies."

The proposal — that the Board be given the same authority to advise and consent to the superintendent's initial staff selections — at least implies that some dis-

Policemen-Firemen Bill Presenting A Dilemma

By BUNNY HARRIS
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — Many legislators find themselves in the horns of a dilemma on a bill which prohibits firemen and policemen from joining unions.

The fact is, that approximately 1,600 firemen in the state already belong to an organization affiliated with A.F.L. - C.I.O. — mainly it is said, to take advantage of insurance benefits.

And Rep. Radford G. Powell of Rockingham claims: "All the years they've paid into this insurance and other benefits would be gone. You're taking it away at one stroke of the pen."

Powell told the group that each member of the International Association of Firefighters as a matter of policy agrees not to strike or take any active part in any sympathetic strike.

Many legislators, however, are concerned over the possibility that this cause could at some future date be stricken out.

Rep. Frank Sneed of Mecklenburg, one of the bill's introducers, said his concern was not over the possibility of a strike, anyway.

"The strike is almost an outmoded weapon," he said. "We are moving into a new era in which the unions have tremendous economic and political power."

He posed the question: What would happen if members of the police in such a situation as the Henderson strike were members of the same organization as those on the picket lines?

Lately, he said, the unions have been putting on "an organizing drive" throughout the nation.

"We unfortunately in this state have had an object lesson in a strike situation," he said. "I feel that those concerned with public safety should not have divided loyalties . . . that they should be kept free of affiliation with one side or the other while keeping order in industrial disputes."

Snepp further argued that unions can exert tremendous pressure while maintaining a "no strike" clause. He cited the incident of thousands of trimmers in one city who all stayed home "sick" on the same day and added that "affiliated unions can apply the pressure necessary to take the place of any strike of employees."

While the Attorney General has ruled that local and state governing bodies can fire any employee who joins a union, Sneed said "an element of doubt has recently crept in."

"This bill allows the General Assembly to establish policy in this field while the problem is still a relatively small one," he said.

Rep. Bucky Harris Jr. of Wake went along with Sneed wholeheartedly, questioning why the firemen should have to turn to a national affiliation of this type to get reasonable insurance rates.

He said he had thumbed through the Firefighters magazine and studied the material included, "80 per cent of which I'm against." The

Regulations For Hunting Will Be Told At Hearings

At a meeting in Raleigh the Wildlife Resources Commission established a set of proposed hunting regulations to be presented at a series of nine public hearings to give sportsmen an opportunity to express their desires regarding rules for the 1969-1970 upland game hunting season.

An important proposal would open the season on quail, rabbits, turkey, grouse and pheasant on November 16 instead of the traditional Thanksgiving Day. The season on these species would extend through February 10 statewide.

Another proposal would remove a regulation prohibiting the taking of rabbits, quail, squirrel, and wild turkey when the ground is covered with snow. Pitt County Game Protector J. O. Teel pointed out today.

The commission also established a procedure for setting up antlerless deer seasons in areas where deer herds have become out of balance with their habitat. Requests for public hearings on antlerless deer hunts must be forwarded to the Wildlife Commission not later than August 14 so that hearings may be held not later than the week of September 7, and announcements of such special hunts may be made by the week of September 28. The commission believes that this procedure would give ample time for planning such hunts.

Under the proposed regulations archers would get 18 days of hunting in advance of the gun season, and during the last six days of the 18-day pre-gun season archers would be allowed to take antlerless deer on areas established for antlerless deer hunting by special regulation.

Legislation ratified by the Legislature will allow nonresidents to hunt on controlled shooting preserves with special $5.25 license in lieu of the regular $15.75 non-resident hunting license.

Hunting regulations hearings will be held in the nine districts on varying dates. Hearings will be held in District 2, New Bern, May 28, and May 29, District 1, Edenton. All meetings start at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in county courthouses except at Rocky Mount, where the hearings will be held in the city court room.

Sports
Scope

by Johnny Hudson

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, Athletic Director at East Carolina College, stated at the Track Supper Tuesday night that he had recommended that a track field be built for East Carolina in the immediate future.

Jorgensen stated that a long range plan had been outlined in previous years in which a stadium would be built and would include a track field. But due to the fact that no action has been taken by the North Carolina legislature toward building a stadium, Jorgensen feels that a track field should definitely be constructed and let the stadium be built around it at a later date.

A former track star in his college days, Jorgensen congratulated the Pirate track team for their fine work and emphasized the need of some cindermen to replace the heavy graduation toll.

New at East Carolina

Track is a relatively new sport at East Carolina, having been started about five years ago. Leon Ellis, football grider, got consent from the local athletic department to carry a group of boys to the North State track meet. The results saw an unorganized squad, which was without uniforms, emerge as the North State champions.

The following year, the Pirates fielded a team and have dominated the conference since then. This year they suffered their first defeat in loop competition as they finished second in the North State meet.

Members on the track team at East Carolina have been forced to sacrifice much in order to obtain the record that they have produced. No scholarships are offered and since the college has no track field, all their meets are on the road. They do not have the opportunity to perform before the students and local fans.

Bucs Hold Many Records

East Carolina performers hold or have held almost every record in the conference. Dr. Jim Miller has had a large part with the rise of the cinder sport. He coached the team until this past spring and instigated some of the tough schedules which included State, Wake Forest, Duke, Furman, and many other southern track powers.

Track is a growing sport in this section with such stars as Dave Sime, Lee Calhoun, and Elias Gilbert in our part of the country. The former alumni of ECC, who participate in track also see the need of more interest in the sport. Ellis, now coaching Southport, Delaware, has donated a trophy to the Athletic Department which is given to the outstanding member of the club each year.

Milton Collier, a former graduate, who helped coach while doing his Masters work here, has also presented a trophy which is given to the outstanding distance runner each spring.

McDonald Is Winner

Interest in the cinder sport is picking up at East Carolina but will never reach the level of the other spring sports until a track field is built.

Coach Bill McDonald has been the track coach this year, returning to the sport after several years of absence. McDonald did a commendable job with his squad this year but lack of depth kept the head mentor in hot water.

Returning to East Carolina two years ago, McDonald has proved his worth as winner. He serves as line coach of the gridiron squad which returned to the winning realm last fall. Last spring, he filled in as tennis coach and guided the Pirates to their best record in the school's history.

Odds and Ends

McDonald received a letter from a northern prep star last week who expressed interest in coming to East Carolina next fall. A holder of fifty medals, the track star inquired as to what he might receive in the way of help. The only reply that McDonald will have a chance to offer will be a "cafeteria scholarship," which is a job in the college canteen hall. McDonald spun a yarn at Tuesday night's track supper. It seems that one of the local track stars got into a heated argument with his English professor. After several minutes of debate, the professor stated "Well, I've been teaching this course a long time and I guess I know when I'm right." Replied the student: "Yeah, and I've had this course three times and I should know what's right."

Eddie Machen In Action Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Boxing fans tune in a California backyard heavyweight battle tonight when Eddie Machen, the fifth ranked contender, meets Reuben Vargas in a 10-rounder at the Cow Palace.

This nationally televised bout (ABC), starting at 9 p.m. EST, with a blackout 300 miles around San Francisco, gives Vargas his big chance to reach the contender's ranks, but the American-born Mexican from Richmond, Calif., goes in as a 2-1 underdog.

Machen, from Redding, Calif., but now fighting out of Portland, Ore., faces his first tough test since losing to Sweden's Ingemar Johansson via first round knockout when Eddie Machen, the fifth ranked contender, meets Reuben Vargas in a 10-rounder at the Cow Palace.

Annie Elsworth, Samuel Morse's private secretary, selected "What Hath God Wrought!" as the first message to be sent over the telegraph in 1844.

BOSTON (AP) — Earl Gray, 26, was convicted Tuesday of unarmed robbery.

Superior Court Judge Reuben L. Lurie indicated he planned to sentence Gray to 18 months in jail. But Gray asked for a longer sentence so he could be confined in State Prison.

Asked why, Gray said "They have a better athletic program at the prison."

Elks Open 1959 Season With Big 9-1 Victory

The Elks opened their 1959 season yesterday afternoon and proceeded to record the biggest offensive attack of the young season as they lowered the boom on Moose, 9-1.

Getting two-hit pitching from Frank Moye, the Elks scored three runs in the fourth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock. They turned the tilt into a rout in the fifth frame as they came up with five more runs.

A couple of singles by Tommy Smith and Van Fleming gave Elks their first score in the third inning. Singles by Jimmy Mullins, Jerry Clark, Smith, and Bill Mosier led to the fourth inning rally which broke the game wide open.

Steve Hodges beat out a single in the fourth inning and the Elks committed a couple of errors to allow Moose to score their nine runs. Connie McGowan scored the run.

McGowan had the only other hit off Moye as he cracked a

Start Hearings On Report Of Gangland Move

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Boxing Commission started a hearing today on reports that underworld forces have tried to muscle in on welterweight champion Don Jordan's managerial contract.

Chief of Police William H. Parker says the intelligence division of his department has been working with commission investigators for several weeks. He said the hearing would produce evidence that gang elements have plotted to control the welterweight division.

Louis Dragna and Joe Sica, identified by Chief Parker as gangland characters, are among those to be subpoenaed before the probe. Others subpoenaed are Truman Gibson, head of the National Boxing Enterprises in Chicago; Bill Daly, New York City fight manager; Jack Leonard, Hollywood boxing promoter; and Jordan's manager, Don Neseth.

Neseth has openly charged that Frank "Blinky" Palermo of Philadelphia tried to move in on his contract with Jordan.

Cortner, a 10-year veteran of midwest car racing but new to the big cars, had completed his speedway driver's test only Monday. After passing the final 130-mile-an-hour phase, he was permitted to drive as fast as he liked.

He wheeled his new Cornis Special into the northeast turn a little too high and was caught by a cross wind. The car spun into the infield and whipped back across the track to crunch against the retaining wall almost head on.

Another Death For Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 50th death in 50 years was charged today against treacherous turns and hard concrete walls of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the most disastrous practice period since 1937.

Rookie Bob Cortner, 32, of Redlands, Calif., died Tuesday night of severe head injuries, the second victim this year of preliminaries to the 500-mile race May 30.

Jerry Unser, Lakewood, Calif., was fatally injured in another practice run May 2.

It is the first year two persons have been killed at the track since Manuel Ayulo died in practice and Bill Vukovich in the race, four years ago.

Ben Baker, veteran East Carolina College pitcher, received "The Most Valuable Player" award last night at a supper meeting for the East Carolina College baseball team.

The supper, held at Silo Restaurant, was sponsored by WGTC, WNCT, and The Daily Reflector as a tribute to the ECC baseball team for their fine season and winning the North State championship.

Joel McLawhorn, manager of WGTC, acted as master of ceremonies and David Whitchard, editor of The Reflector, gave the welcoming address to the college baseball team.

"This is a small token for the honor and recognition that you have brought to our college and town," stated Whitchard.

Al Vaughn, co-captain of the team, also presented Mallory with a gift on behalf of the baseball team.

Mallory, in expressing his appreciation, pointed out that the 1959 team was the best-balanced club he had ever worked with. "They are a fine group of boys and get along better than any group that I have ever coached."

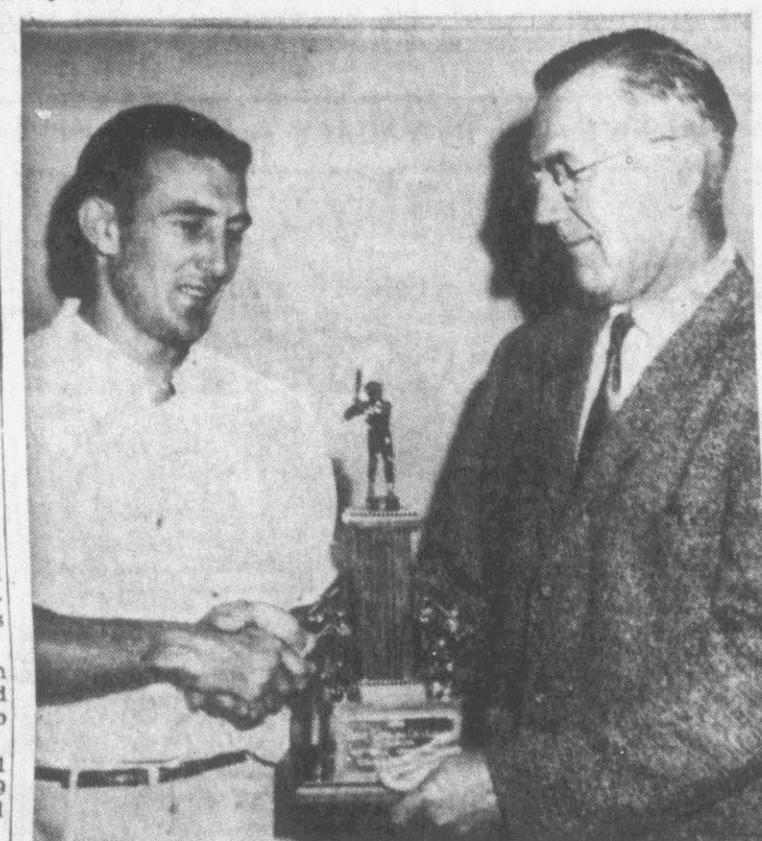

J. Herbert Waldrop, member of the ECC Board of Trustees, made the "Most Valuable Player" award. The trophy is given in memory of Ed Rawl, former stout supporter of ECC athletics.

Ben Baker, senior from Zebulon, was the recipient of the award. The southpaw was a starter for East Carolina during the past four years and figured in two North State championships. He aided ECC to a second place finish the other two seasons. Ben went undefeated this spring with a 5-0 record.

Mallory told the group that definite word had not been received on the NAIA trip to Texas but they were expected to know something by this afternoon.

Other guests at the supper included Dr. Ralph Brimley, Director of Public Relations of the college, Dr. James Tucker, Dean of Men, Dr. James Butler, Sports Publicity Director, and Dr. J. B. Cummings, Chairman of the ECC Athletic Committee.

Charlie Crone of WNCT and Tommy Snowden of WGTC were also present at the supper, honoring the Pirates.

O'Dell Is Doubly Satisfied With Defeating Chisox

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy O'Dell was doubly satisfied with his 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

The Oriole lefty not only felt he had regained his form of last year but he won a wager as well.

O'Dell explained that he and pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, neither noted for hitting, had bet on who would hit the most home runs during the season.

Both Orioles' runs came on O'Dell's inside-the-park second-inning homer Tuesday night, his first of the year.

"I've won the bet already," O'Dell said after the game.

O'Dell blooped the ball over first base for an apparent scratch single. But it hit on the white-washed wooden foul line and bounced over the head of right fielder Al Smith, charging in to field the ball on the hop. The ball rolled to the auxiliary scoreboard in deep right field.

The victory evened O'Dell's record at 2-2. Harried by a back injury earlier this spring, he was encouraged by the performance of his fast ball. "I'm getting stronger I feel sure of that," he said.

Hank Aaron's been stopped, but the Milwaukee Braves are still rolling. After a week of winning they have a six-game streak and a 4½-game bulge, which might make it later than you think in that National League pennant race.

They have won six straight, longest success string of the year in the NL, after whipping San Francisco 8-1 Tuesday night. The only bright spot the Giants' picking, which gave up 11 hits, was an 0-for-4 collar on Aaron, who had hit in 22 consecutive games.

The Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles tied for third, just .001 percentage points behind the Giants, when the Cubs handed Philadelphia a seventh straight defeat 8-7, and the Dodgers ended their losing siring at five by beating Cincinnati 6-4. The St. Louis Cardinals won three in a row for the first time, beating Pittsburgh 8-2.

In the American League, Cleveland regained first by beating Washington 5-2 while Baltimore ended Chicago's one-day stay on top with a 2-1 decision over the White Sox. Last place Detroit closed in on seventh-place New York by beating the Yankees 6-3. The Kansas City at Boston game was rained out.

The Braves got it over with fast, scoring four runs in the first on Wes Covington's No. 2 homer, with two on, and Del Crandall's solo sixth homer. Covington, 3-for-4, drove in four runs as the Braves finally caught up with loser Jack Sanford. The big right-hander had beaten them three in a row since April 18 of last season.

The Dodgers made it with five unearned runs. Johnny Klippstein (4-0) was the winner as the second of four Dodger pitchers. Johnny Schmidt (1-1) lost it.

A two-run pinch single by Jim Marshall capped a winning three-run ninth for the Cubs after the Phils had taken a 7-5 lead with three in the top of the ninth, two on Wally Post's pinch homer. Ex-cub-Taylor Phillips (0-3) lost it and Don Elston (3-1) won it, both in relief.

Gino Cimoli hammered a 2-run homer and Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards as Larry Jackson (2-3) beat the Pirates with a nine-inning. He blanked the Bucs after the third as the Cards beat Ron Kline (3-2).

Ingemar Works On Basic Theme

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson is working on one basic theme:

Floyd Patterson must be better than he was the night he defended his world heavyweight title against Brian London in Indianapolis.

"We have 20 better than London in Europe," said the unbeaten European champ from Sweden who fights Patterson June 25 at Yankee Stadium in New York.

"I'm not saying that Patterson is bad. I am just saying that I think he must be better than he looked against London."

'Student Of Month' Selection Disclosed

By BARBARA PARKER
Belvoir-Falkland Reporter

Calvin Britt, a member of the Sophomore Class, has been selected as Belvoir-Falkland High School's "Student of the Month" for May.

The selection, made at a recent meeting of the high school faculty, was made on the basis of Calvin's pleasant disposition; attitude toward school, teachers and other students; and willingness to do more than is required.

During his first two years in high school, Calvin has attained a high scholastic ranking and has participated in all phases of school life. He is a member of several school clubs, takes an active part in athletics, serves as a substitute bus driver and assists the school librarian.

Plans have already been formulated to expand the recognition program for the 1959-1960 school year, in an effort to recognize outstanding students.

Plans for graduation are well underway, with the Glee Club working on special music under the direction of Mrs. Florence Scott. Marshals have also been selected, with Marie Harrell named as chief. She will serve with Ernest Lewis, Barbara Parker, Linda Smith, Brenda Windham and J. R. Waters.

Mascots for the Class of 1959 are Angela Tripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Tripp, Jr., and Ronnie Carraway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carraway.

The mascots were hosts at a bingo party Monday night, for members of the graduation class who are also invited to a refreshment hour, following graduation next Monday. The refreshment hour will be given by Mrs. McAlvin Turner and Mrs. Jessie Bullock.

The Freshman Class gave a wicker roast Friday night at the school pines for members of the Senior Class. J. T. Cobb was chaplain.

Other Betas who attended the party include Dora Brown, Gail Garris, Nellie Ruth Gwathney, Mary Grace Eakes, Marie Harrell, Carolyn Harris, Barbara Parker, Marion Cobb, Ernest Lewis, Allen Harris, and Mitchell Wooten. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Dorothy Hardy, Beta Club Advisor.

Linda Smith, a rising Senior who is a member of the Beta Club and a cheerleader, was elected president of the Student Council in recent school elections. Other officers are Vice-President Betty Harrell, Secretary Linda Clark, Treasurer Brenda Windham and Reporter Barbara Parker.

BELVOIR-FALKLAND STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS.—Belvoir-Falkland High School's Student Council officers for the 1959-1960 school year were elected last week by members of the school's student body. Rescue Squad Bill Shows Measure Of Jurisdiction Overlapping

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH — Petty jealousies as well as serious conflict and overlapping jurisdiction between municipal and county governments show up in many committee considerations of bills. Latest and one of the clearest-cut of such differences developed in the House Counties-Cities-Towns committee over the bill authorizing tax support for rescue squads. This is one of the numerous bills sponsored by the Civil Defense set up.

Originally intended to permit municipalities to establish rescue squad activities under supervision of city fire departments, the scope of the bill had been enlarged to include any political subdivision of the State. That certainly included county government, and perhaps school or sanitary districts.

But it still required that every rescue squad be under the municipal fire department. What about volunteer rural fire departments? What about counties which have no organized fire departments at all? How about rescue squad operations under Civil Defense, Civil Air Patrol, Red Cross or other auspices?

After considerable discussion the bill was referred to a subcommittee composed of Reps. Walter Jones of Pitt, Jack Palmer of Cleveland and Shelton Wicker of Lee to work out an acceptable text which would protect rural and urban residents alike in the scope of rescue squad activities.

PIANISTS' ROLLING HOME

Most stage performers with children have a problem when they go on tour. They may have to leave them with a nursemaid or governess, if they can afford it, or a relative, if they can't, or drag the youngsters along and deposit them in a hotel room while they give their show.

Harry Lee Neal and Allison Nelson, a husband-and-wife two-piano team, have eased the problem in their own way. For eight months of the year, they travel from city to city in their own bus, taking their three children and two pianos with them.

The bus is fitted like a real home, with a living room, kitchen, dinette, bathroom, and sleeping quarters for the entire family. A radio and television set provide entertainment. The pianos are stored in the back. There is even a mobile unit telephone to keep the concert artists readily available to their management in New York and to local impresarios for succeeding engagements. A local sitter is engaged in advance for the children while Ma and Dad are off to give their concert.

ROCKING ALONG on 40,000-mile itinerary, the Neals take a roadside break in their piano-laden bus which boasts a 5000 watt generator, gas supply, water system, septic tank and air conditioning.

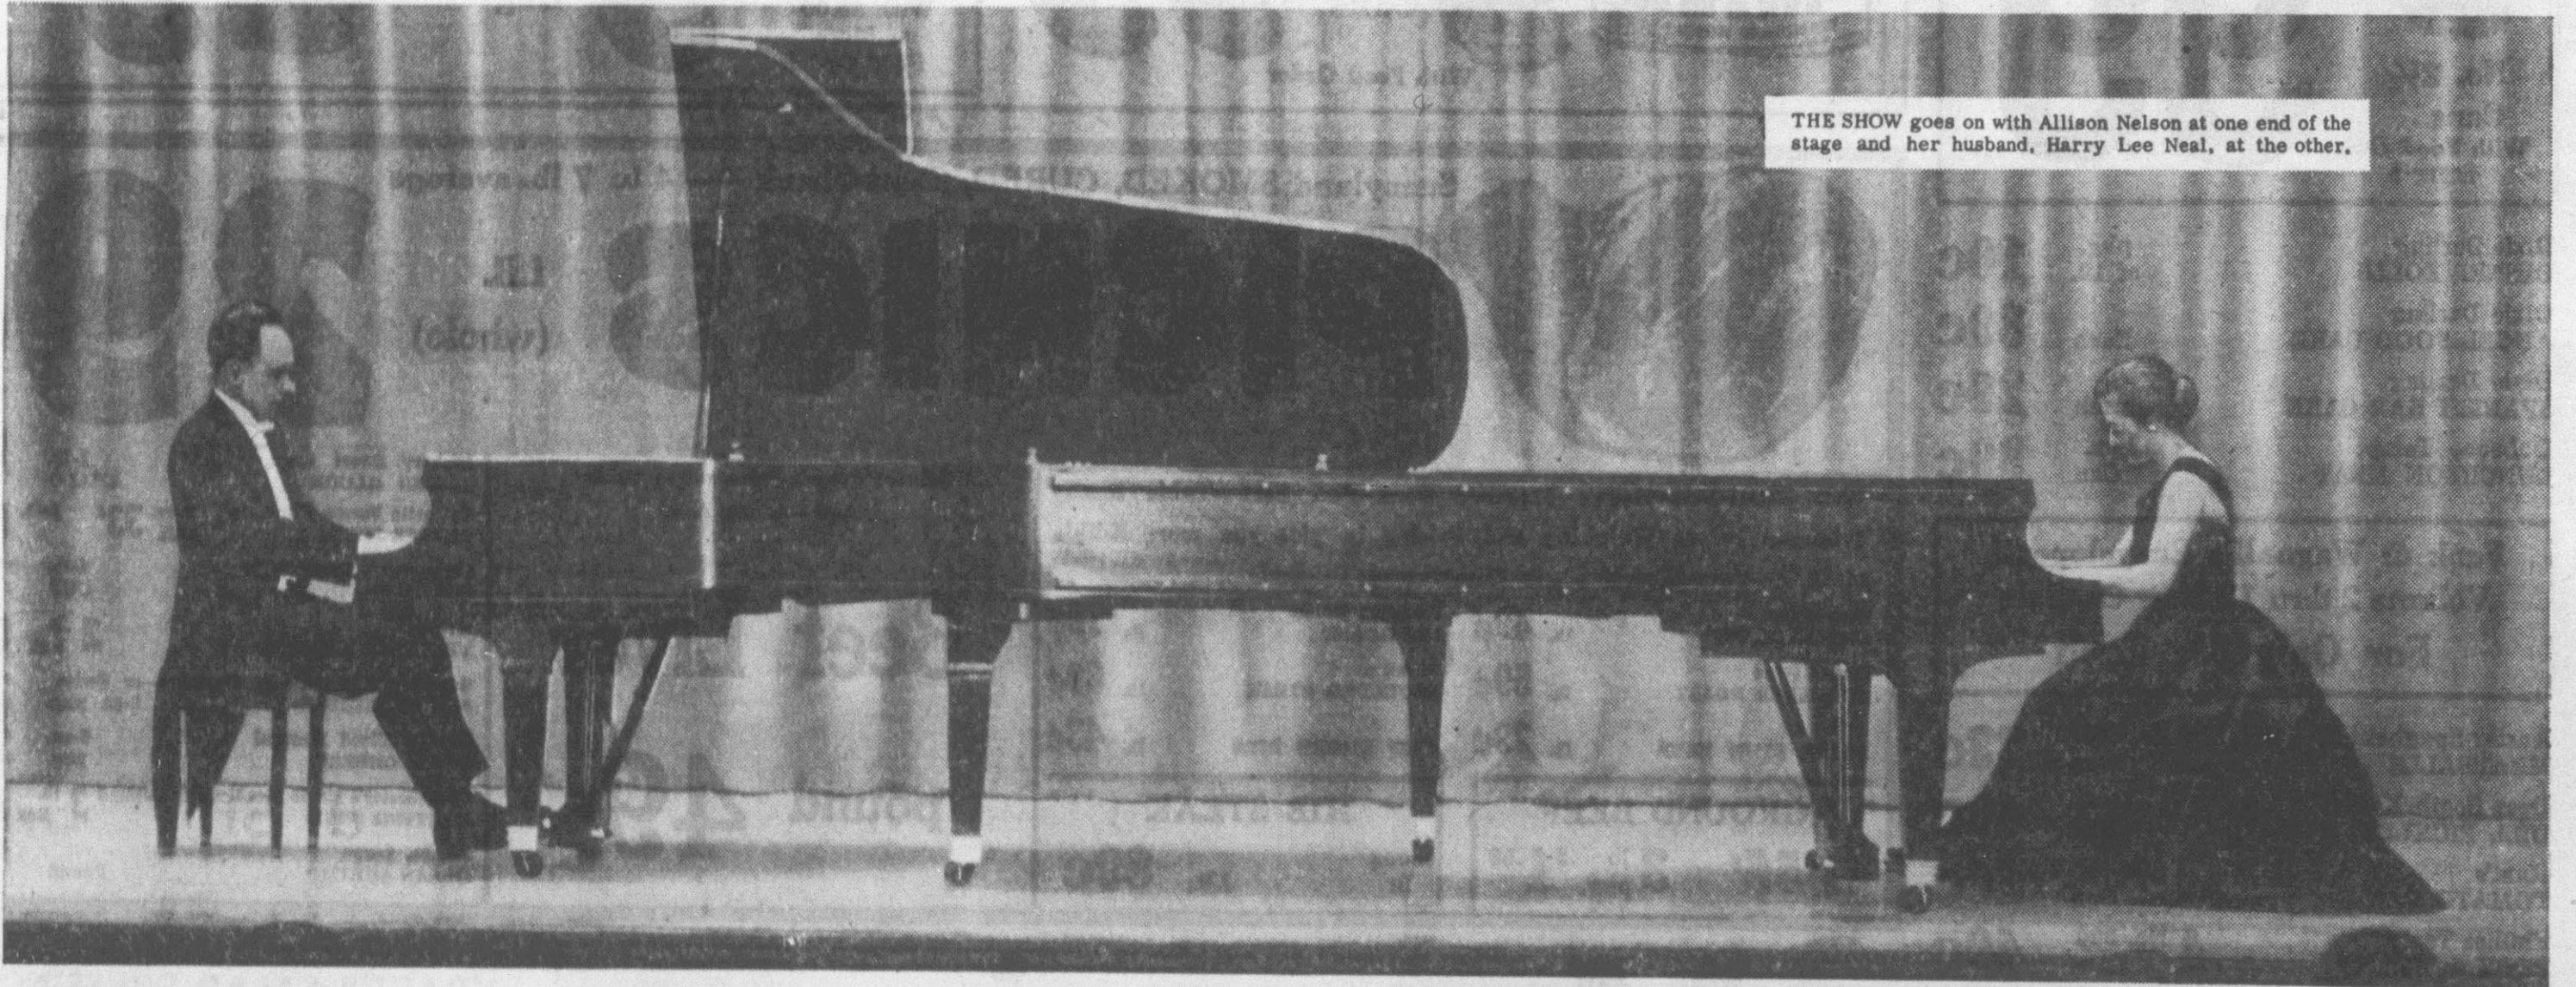

ARRIVING at the concert site, Neal supervises a local crew of moving men as they shift one of the pianos into the hall. He is so expert at this that he can get the job done in a quarter of an hour.

GETTING READY for a concert, as well as getting to it, is a cooperative affair. The Neals' schedule allows only 10 minutes for dressing.

BABY SITTER is introduced to Johnny, 5, and Cathy, 3. The Neals park their bus near the auditorium.

THE SHOW goes on with Allison Nelson at one end of the stage and her husband, Harry Lee Neal, at the other.

A FAMILY COUNCIL, called before starting each morning decides the route to be taken to the town of the next engagement.

THERE'S NO ESCAPE from household chores, but it isn't so irksome when you can shake rugs in Iowa one day and in Missouri the next.

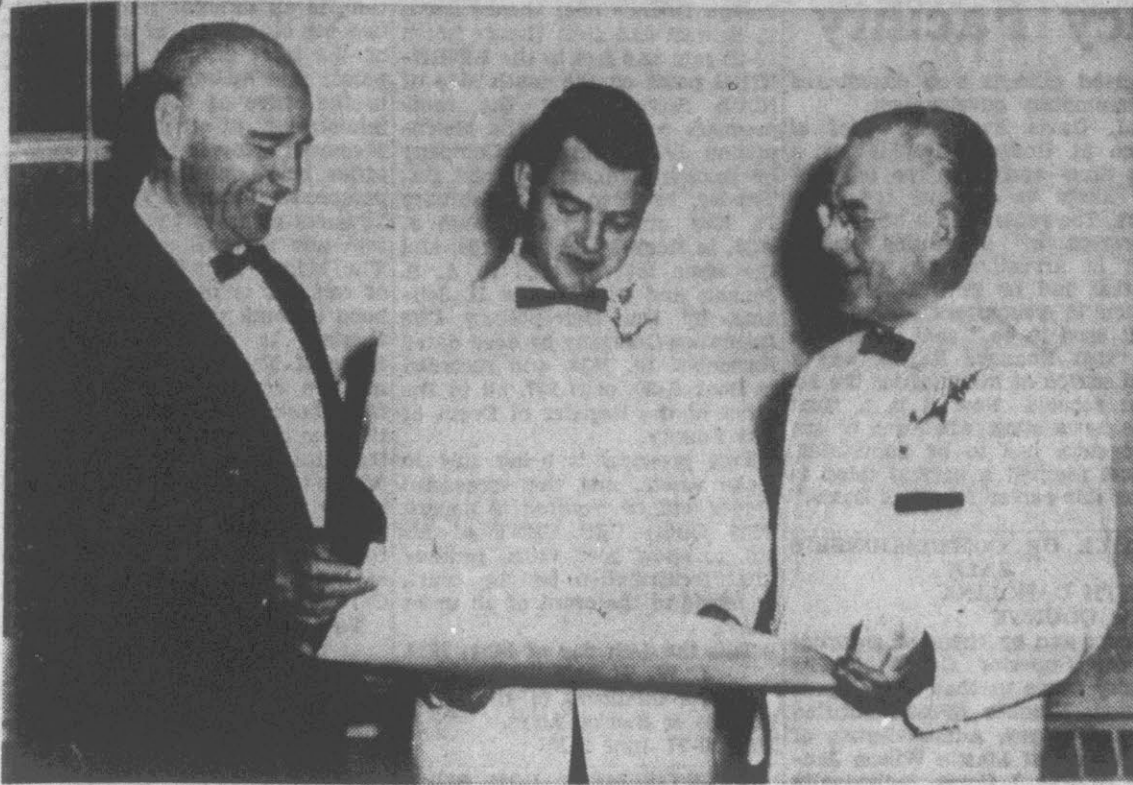

CLASSROOM work goes on also. Here Mrs. Neal has converted the dining room into a study-play area and is teaching Johnny to read.

Foundation Cuts Its Polio Program

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has cut back its polio program and has expanded aid to victims of arthritis and birth defects.

Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation, said Tuesday the foundation will continue to meet its basic obligations to polio patients. Payments for nonparalytic polio will be discontinued.

Nixon To Decide Political Campaign After Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will decide after his July trip to Moscow on the scope of the active campaigning he will begin this fall for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon added a veteran campaigner to his staff Tuesday in Herbert B. Klein, editor of the San Diego, Calif., Union.

A knowledgeable operator in the field, Klein will serve as a special assistant in charge of press relations. He filed a similar job when Nixon campaigned for congressional candidates in 1958 and was an assistant in the 1956 campaign.

Klein is understood to have enlisted for the duration of the drive for the 1960 nomination and afterward — if all goes well from Nixon's standpoint.

Klein will accompany the vice president on the Moscow trip, which is being viewed by Nixon's associates with some cautious political optimism.

If he has an expected meeting with Nikita Khrushchev and something tangible comes from this conversation, there is speculation that the vice president might give the nation a television accounting on the prospects of some agreement with the Soviets to ease world tensions.

While they believe that what happens in Moscow may go a long way toward shaping Nixon's fall campaign course, the vice president's associates also are keeping a wary eye on the activities of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

At this point they are convinced that Rockefeller's acceptance of an invitation to be honor guest at a June 11 picnic here of the Capitol Hill Club indicates the New York governor may become more active as a potential rival for the 1960 nomination.

As matters stand, if the Moscow visit gives him some good reason to do so, Nixon is prepared to exploit any political advantages that might come his way. If Rockefeller shows signs of moving in, the Nixon activities will be speeded up to meet this threat.

Will Speak At Nichols School

BELL ARTHUR — J.W. Maye, principal of Robinson Union School at Winterville, will be the main speaker for commencement exercises at Nichols Elementary School Thursday at 8 o'clock.

Fifteen members of the school's eighth grade will receive certificates at the exercises, which will also include the invocation by the Rev. S.E. Hemby, district moderator of the Free Will Baptist Church, and addresses by student leaders. Students who will participate in the program will be Salutatorian Edward Lee Moore and Valedictorian Farney Moore, III. Chief Marshal Catherine Louise Harris will accept the challenge of the eighth grade President Shirley Temple Sherrod.

Maye, the main speaker, has been principal of Robinson Union School since 1943. He is a native of Greenville, where he graduated from Epps High School before attending North Carolina A and T College where he gained recognition as an outstanding athlete.

A past president of the Pitt County Teachers Association, Maye is presently serving a term as president of the High School Principals Division of the Northeastern Division of the North Carolina Teachers Association.

Widow Of Lee's Grandson Dies

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Robert E. Lee III, widow of a grandson of Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee, died Tuesday night after a long illness. She was 84.

Mrs. Lee, once prominent in Washington circles, was a direct descendant of Henry T. Middleton, first president of the Continental Congress, and Arthur Middleton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

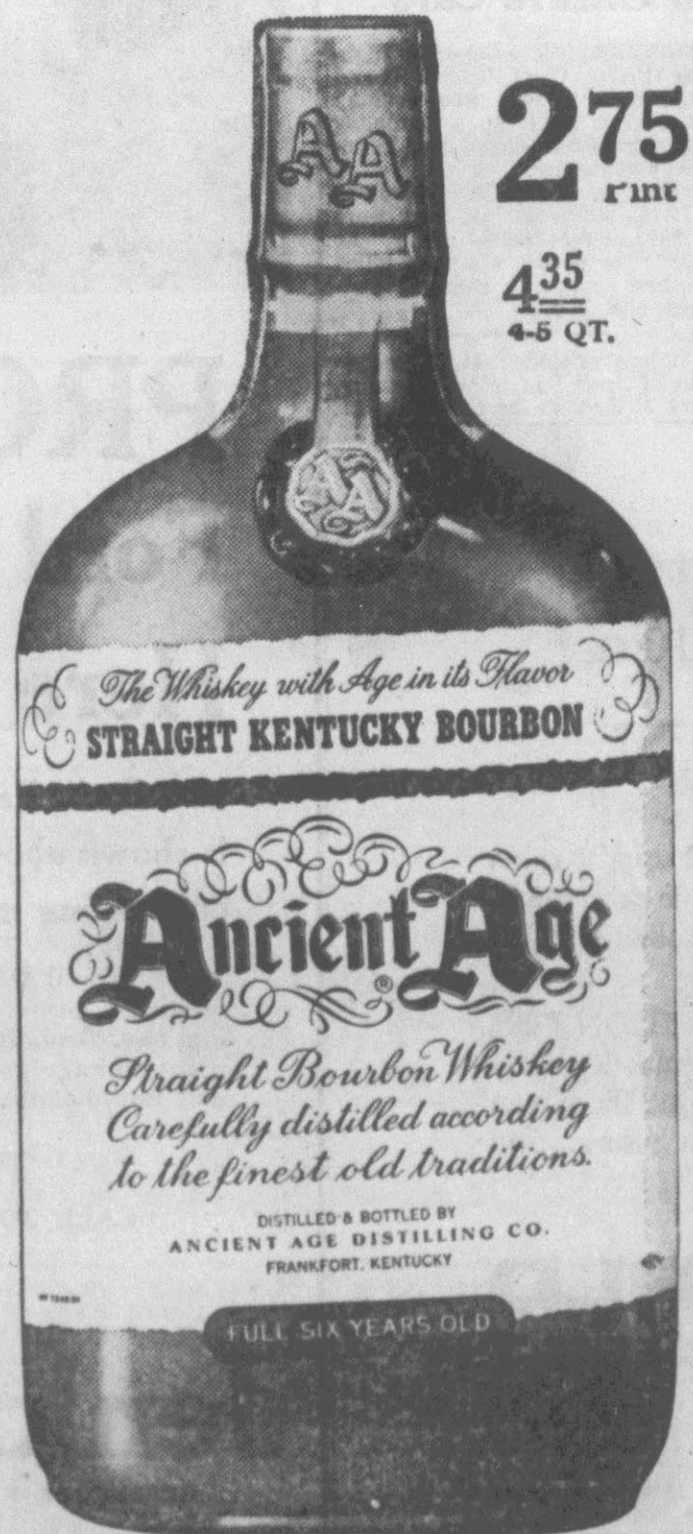

She was a granddaughter of Christopher Memminger, first secretary of the Confederacy under Jefferson Davis.

Mental And Physical Checkups Decried For Young Offenders

NEVADA, MO. (AP) — Circuit Judge Jack Pritchard is taking a new tack with juvenile offenders. He requires most of them to submit to mental and physical examination at State Hospital No. 3.

This has given certain pause to the set whose byword is — "crazy, man, crazy!"

"There isn't any doubt it's changed a lot of attitudes," said Darrell Estes Jr., chief of police in this southwest Missouri city and juvenile officer for Missouri's 26th Judicial Circuit.

Estes said he thinks Judge Pritchard's strategy will be as much a preventive as a remedy.

Pritchard, who will be 41 next month, is one of Missouri's youngest circuit judges. He started delving into the juvenile problem even before he took the bench last January.

His study of the state juvenile code turned up the section which authorizes a judge to order mental examinations for wayward youngsters.

"We're fortunate to have the state hospital right here in Nevada," Judge Pritchard said. "I checked with Dr. Paul Barone (the director) and his staff. They said they would be glad to help."

Judge Pritchard barely had taken his oath when a flurry of juvenile misdeeds in his southwest Missouri district gave him opportunity to put his new approach into operation.

It is too early for sweeping conclusions about how it is working. But Judge Pritchard and Chief Estes are encouraged by what it is doing for four boys.

Psychiatrists at State Hospital No. 3—Dr. Gerald G. Pradeaux and Dr. Don R. Swick among them, and Jerry Evans, a psychiatric social worker — decided there was a good chance to redeem the four boys. Judge Pritchard put them on probation in their own homes or in foster homes.

They are 14 and 15 years old. They stole cars for joyrides and got mixed up in fights. Two were second offenders. Two wore black motorcycle jackets, skin-tight jeans, boots and long hair. Boy No. 1 tested dull, 2 tested dull-normal, 3 bright normal and boy 4 upper average to bright.

Psychiatrists concluded all four boys needed work, supervision, discipline and the chance to make only rudimentary decisions for themselves.

Judge Pritchard set up rigid ground rules for their probation. Among other things, he ruled that they could not drive a car, drink intoxicants, skip school or be on the streets after 8 p.m. They must do chores at home and homework assigned at school.

The boys made their second monthly report to the judge Saturday.

"They seem to appreciate someone taking an interest in them," Judge Pritchard said. "We try to let them know we're here to help them. We're not just kicking them around. At the same time, we also let them know they've got to tie the line."

Indian Village Is 'Gobbled Up'

SRINAGAR, Indian Kashmir (AP) — Red China apparently has gobbled up a tiny Indian enclave 70 miles within the border of Tibet.

Menser, a mere dot on the sprawling land mass of western Tibet, has about 300 residents who by agreement paid the government of Kashmir $30 a year rent for the land they occupied.

But Kashmir has been able to collect the rent only twice since 1949, and Peiping has not replied to Indian protests.

Even before the Tibetan revolution this year, Red China generally avoided committing itself on ownership of Menser, whose allegiance to India reaches back into the misty history of Tibet-Kashmir relations.

Meanwhile, the Hindustan Times in New Delhi reported that Communist Chinese troops have occupied two more pockets of Indian territory on the borders of western Tibet.

The paper said Peiping's troops entered Uttar Pradesh of Gar-yang and Bari Hoi Plateau. Uttar Pradesh is Prime Minister Nehru's home state.

Earlier, Nehru said Red troops apparently occupied two other small areas of Uttar Pradesh, and indicated they would be asked to withdraw. Both areas are inaccessible from India during the winter.

Pentagon Offers A List Of Wants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a list of things it wishes somebody would invent.

Something that would enable a soldier to jump over a mountain, for instance.

Or a quick method of fixing a broken transatlantic cable.

Or an altimeter that would work 100 miles up.

The list of 28 new problems for the nation's inventors was issued by the military Monday through the National Inventors Council, a Commerce Department agency which is a clearing house for military inventions.

The list has been issued, revised and updated from time to time since the council was set up in 1940. The council has winnowed several hundred thousand responses, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous.

The likely ones it sends to the Pentagon which decides whether they're usable. The military then negotiates directly with the inventor for the use of the idea.

Of the mountain-jumper for soldiers, the council said:

"The device must provide excellent stability and be sufficiently responsive to control that the wearer may use it to assist in his movement over rough terrain while carrying normal combat equipment of the infantry."

The Army has been working on such a rocket belt for some time, but apparently a more ambitious one is needed.

Another problem: A device or process that would enable anyone to transform inedible materials, such as leaves, into food. The council said this could have broad application in an atomic war.

Roanoke Rapids Center Is Anti-Delinquency Facility

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH — The annual meeting of the Roanoke Rapids Chamber of Commerce, which your reporter had opportunity to attend with Carl Goerch—who made the principal speech, was fairly typical of such affairs. There were the usual financial and progress reports, election of directors and similar routine.

The unusual feature, almost unique, was the setting for the dinner attended by some 250 men and women community boosters. It was staged in the auditorium-gymnasium of the T.J. Davis Recreation Center. There isn't much unusual about the hall itself. It is used for basketball games, community dances, civic club jamborees and related uses, like many such rooms throughout the state. Unlike some others it is used three or four nights a week, much of the time for pre-teen and teen-age kid activities.

In addition to this big hall there are game rooms and small dance halls in the main building where supervised recreation for kids is a year-round project. Outside are two swimming pools, one for adults and a special one for tots with swimming instruction. Also athletic fields, adequately lighted for night games, and a sprawling wooded picnic area.

It is owned and controlled by the municipal government of Roanoke Rapids. Although used more, perhaps, by school children than any other groups the cost of the installation and operation imposes no burden on the school fund. Some bond money went into the purchase and construction, but operation is financed from parking meter revenue.

One of the questions asked was how this facility happened to be designed as the "T.J. Davis Recreation Center." Usually such designations stem from handsome monetary gifts or in memory of departed citizens who contributed to community development.

T.J. Davis has been chief of police at Roanoke Rapids for a long time—and is on the job now and likely to continue for some years. The report has it he is more interested in preventing crime than in arresting law violators. To that end he gave a lot of attention to youngsters.

"It used to be," said an oldtimer, "that Roanoke Rapids was a good source of material for the reform schools. Now it is a front page news story when one of our youngsters has to be committed. It just seemed a natural thing to name this center for Chief Davis."

Named Chairman In Beetle Drive

AYDEN—Joe Whitaker was appointed Chairman of the Ayden campaign against Japanese beetles at a meeting in the town court room last night.

Plans are being made for the town to buy a granulated insecticide wholesale and sell it to the citizens at cost, for them to place on their yards in order to kill all the beetle larva before they hatch out and fly away.

City Manager Bill Formyduval stated the bug killer was harmless to children and pets and would not kill or injure the grass or shrubs.

Plans are being made now for the community project to be carried out on one particular day. Spokesman said it would be very effective and little trouble if everyone would cooperate and take an active part in the project.

Contractors Ask For Enforcement

Heating contractors asked for more rigid enforcement of the heating inspection ordinances in a meeting with City Manager Leonard Bloxam last night.

The city manager stated that five contractors asked him to meet with them to discuss the heating code.

The contractors recommended that a $5 fee be charged by the city for inspection of new heating installations.

It was also recommended that heating contractors be required to post with the city a certificate showing that they carry $5,000 - $10,000 minimum liability bonds.

Both proposals will go to the City Council for consideration, Bloxam said.

City Building Inspector J. W. Wilson makes the inspections under the eight-month old heating code. The inspection fee, if approved, would be collected by the city for Wilson's services.

The contractors also reviewed the code with Bloxam and they made no recommendations for further changes. The code was based on a state heating code.

Remodeled Store Is Opening Tomorrow

The Greenville unit of Rose's Stores chain will formally open its remodeled facilities tomorrow morning as a self-service store.

Manager J. A. Taylor said today the remodeling, which has been underway for about six weeks, has resulted in rearrangement of counters, addition of 30 per cent more display area, and installation of four check-out booths at Evans Street entrances to the store. He also said the store has installed a new lighting system and added more stocks of merchandise.

The store is closed today, in preparation for tomorrow's opening. No formal ceremonies are to be held, but Taylor said several executives of the Rose's chain will be in Greenville. They include T. B. Rose, president of Rose's Stores; C. H. Tucker, personnel director; and other company executives.

During the remodeling period, Taylor said managers from eight other stores in the chain have assisted with details of the work. They include P. M. Wallace of Edenton, J. A. Harrell of Williamston, Mrs. Kathleen Nelson of Hertford, Miss Shirley Davis of Belhaven, J. H. Scott of Clinton, Mrs. Ruby Booker of Plymouth, R. M. Merritt of Ahoskie, and the assistant manager of the Wilson store.

In addition, sales personnel from other stores have assisted in a training program for the staff of sales personnel for the remodeled Greenville store. Taylor said a full sales force will be maintained under the new arrangement.

Under the self-service arrangement, customers will use carts or baskets to select their merchandise which will be checked out at special cashiers' counters.

The Rose's chain includes 142 stores in seven states. About 70 of the stores have been converted to self-service arrangements.
