Castro Asserts U.S. Officials Assisted In Plot

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today accused American officials of aiding conspirators against Cuba's revolutionary regime. The bearded Premier was in an alternating angry and laughing mood as he appeared before a nationwide television audience to tell how the counter-revolutionary plot was crushed. Castro denounced Dominican Republic strongman Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo as "the financial boss of all those who are plotting against us." He also sharply criticized the United States, charging Cuban war criminals who had taken refuge there were permitted to do as they like. He declared airplanes based in Miami have made repeated flights to Cuba dropping antigovernment leaflets and picking up war criminals. Castro claimed American officials could have stopped such flights if they wanted to. The revolutionary chief called the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference, being held in Santiago, Chile, to deal with the Caribbean crisis, a "farce." He ridiculed a program put before the conference by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter for easing tensions. Castro said Herter talks about "expeditions that come and go" instead of talking about Latin America's economic problems — "about the hunger of babies in our countries." Herter had told the Santiago meeting that some of the recent invasions in the Caribbean area were "organized in other countries with the knowledge and consent of officials whose governments had promised to impede

Bagged A Couple Of Big Ones

THERE ARE (OR WERE) SNAKES IN THE GRASS on the Blount-Harvey "Ellen" farm about nine miles north of Greenville on N. C. 11, according to the tenant, Glen Nichols. Nichols killed these rattlesnakes, one Thursday night and the second yesterday morning, by running over them with a truck on a dirt road on the farm. The snake on the right was the smaller, measuring three feet, one inch long with five rattles and a button. The larger snake was four feet, three inches long and had nine rattles and a button. Labor Regulation Bill Due In Conference Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) said today he was certain the labor regulation bill would be sent to conference by the Senate early next week. Some Republican senators have urged that a move be made to accept the more stringent house bill, and send it directly to the White House. But Dirksen told a reporter he did not think the votes were available for success in such an attempt. He said it might be a mistake in tactics in that it would be a challenge to the prerogatives of the Senate leadership, and thus might solidify all Democrats including the Southerners against the move to bypass a conference. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) senior Republican on the Senate Labor Committee, also said he did not think it would be wise to make such an attempt. The Senate is expected to act on sending the bill to conference Monday or Tuesday. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.), coauthor of the original Senate bill, said he feared that sending the bill to conference might end any chance for legislation this session. Other senators interested in the measure have said they were confident a conference would be able to agree on a compromise bill before adjournment. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief author of the Senate bill, said he believed House approval of the toughest of the three bills before it made Senate-House agreement difficult. But Kennedy added he considered it the duty of Congress to get a bill this year. Ervin said he was willing to agree with other sponsors of the legislation that there were many areas in which the House bill and Senate bills are very similar. These include the sections on public financial reporting, regulation of elections, control of trusts,

Strong Differences In Inter-American Talks

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Foreign ministers of 22 Western Hemisphere nations today began putting into shape recommendations they hope will quiet the politically turbulent Caribbean area. Despite public expressions of confidence that the conference will reach unanimous conclusions, there are strong differences to be ironed out. Cuban Premier Fidel Castro — at bitter odds with the Dominican Republic's strongman Rafael Trujillo — spoke Friday night in Havana and called the conference a farce. He criticized a suggestion made here by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that a temporary investigation committee be appointed to study the Caribbean situation and report back to the foreign ministers in February. The Castro-Trujillo quarrel was one of the major reasons the conference was called. Attempted invasions by rebels of Nicaragua, the Dominican Republic and Panama were also under consideration. After three days of sometimes stormy oratory — particularly between Cuban and Dominican delegates — these possibilities for final action are emerging: 1. A declaration of Santiago that would recapitulate and perhaps advance hemispheric principles such as nonintervention, nonaggression, representative democracy and human rights. 2. A statement recognizing the importance of economic development as a factor in political stability and growth of the area. 3. Establishment of some type of committee to watch over the Caribbean area and perhaps prepare studies for technical improvements in the Inter-American system for presentation to next year's Inter-American Conference at Quito, Ecuador.

Vaguely Hint At Further Troubles

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — At the end of the first week of integrated classes, only vague hints from Gov. Orval Faubus and segregationist leaders indicated the local school scene might erupt again. Officials at Central High, where a Negro boy is enrolled, and Hall High, which has three Negro girls, said classroom activities were normal. Jefferson Thomas, 16, said white students at Central had not been friendly but that none harassed or intimidated him. As in 1957 when he and eight other Negroes were cursed and spat on by white classmates. Effie Jones, 17, said "There's been no trouble" at Hall. She said she, Elsie Robinson, 16, and Estella Thompson, 16, were generally ignored by their white classmates. "We're well satisfied with the way things are going," said Everett Tucker Jr., president of the Little Rock School Board. Segregationists have done nothing since a protest march on Central High was broken up by club-swinging policemen Wednesday, when public high schools opened for the first time since 1957. But segregation leaders say they have not given up. Faubus said Friday Little Rock had not seen its last integration trouble. He said he was ready to use state police and National Guards if "anything bad" broke out. Faubus closed the schools in the 1957 integration battle but the law he used to do it has since been thrown out.

Juno II Rocket Failed To Orbit In One Of Busiest Days Of Launchings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The United States had its busiest day of rocketry Friday since it began reaching for space. But the main effort failed — an attempt to send a 12-foot inflatable balloon into orbit. The Juno II rocket roared spaceward from Cape Canaveral, Fla., bearing the unusual balloon-moon. Its three stages ignited successfully, but the last one apparently went in the wrong direction and carried the satellite back into the earth's atmosphere. Another failure was a giant Titan missile that blew up on its launching pad at the Cape earlier in the day. On the plus side at Cape Canaveral, a successful launching of a Polar missile from a three-million dollar machine that simulates the motion of a submarine at sea. The weapon is designed to be fired from a sub anywhere in the world. At Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., a British Air Force training crew successfully launched a 1,500-mile Thor missile, the kind being set up at bases in England. Another Thor was launched at Cape Canaveral. It carried a movie camera to photograph the earth from an altitude of 300 miles. But the capsule carrying the camera was not found. In Hawaii, Air Force planes equipped with dangling trapezes tried to snare a capsule returning to earth from the satellite Discoverer V, which was fired into orbit Thursday from the West Coast base. They failed to get any sight of the capsule. Surface vessels also combed the sea north of the Hawaiian Islands looking for the floating capsule, but there was little hope of finding it. Its signal equipment apparently failed to work. If the Cape Canaveral balloon had gone into orbit, it would have been the third successful U.S. satellite to circle the earth in a week. Last Friday a Thor-Able rocket shaved a 142-pound "padding" satellite into orbit which still is radiating back important space information. The balloon-moon was designed to show just how much drag the super-thin atmosphere up to an altitude of 1,000 miles or so would have on such a large, light object. If all had gone well, the last stage of the Juno would have kicked free the aluminum-foil package, and a nitrogen bottle would have blown it up to its 12-foot inflated size. After that it would have stayed in shape because of its rigid skin, even if it were punctured by tiny meteors. This moon would have been the first launched by the U.S. visible to the naked eye. It was to be the forerunner of other balloon satellites as big as a house. These are to be used to set up a worldwide communications network, by bouncing radio signals off them.

Eastern Carolina Given Rocket-Flight Glimpse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The Juno II rocket blasted aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Friday night provided a spectacular sight for Carolinians along the coast even though it failed to orbit. The three-stage rocket carried a 12-foot compressed balloon which was to have orbited the earth. The 76-foot rocket was fired at 7:30 p.m. and almost immediately came reports from Wilmington and Jacksonville, N.C., that the rocket had been seen. Norwood Young, Beaufort, N.C. newsman, said he and his family, seated on their front porch, saw the rocket rising skyward, low over the ocean from their vantage point. Young said they marked both the second and third stages of the rocket. He also observed it through binoculars. All reports of the sightings were about the same. The rocket, moving toward the southeast, trailed smoke as it traveled in a horizontal plane still in its first stage. It then went into its second stage and began traveling straight up. The weather station at Wilmington telephoned Cape Canaveral which verified the rocket's course. Canaveral officials said when the rocket was seen from the Carolina coast it was moving about 2,000 miles per hour. One resident near Charleston, S.C., reported "a bright light which first seemed to move slowly from the southwest to the northeast and then after giving off a puff of smoke, streaked rapidly up into the air and out of sight."

Bandit Netted $5,340 Friday In Bank Holdup

ASHEVILLE (AP) — A man with two pistols and two shopping bags stuffed with $5,340 in bills walked out of a branch bank here before noon Friday. Police would like to know where he went from there. The alarm for the man who robbed the Biltmore branch of Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. was broadcast scant minutes after the crime. But police were able to trace his movements for no more than a few hundred feet. Police Chief A. R. Sluder said a man who roared, tires spinning, out of a shopping center parking lot and almost hit another motorist, may have been the robber. He drove what the other motorist believed to be a 1938 Plymouth, dull grey in color. The bandit was described as about 20 years old, 6-1 tall, weight about 200 pounds, dressed in brown trousers, coat and hat. He wore dark glasses and a handkerchief over his face while in the bank. NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller conferred this week with former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. This was learned today amid reports the governor may clarify soon his views on seeking the Republican presidential nomination. Rockefeller also met separately with a small group of his political advisers. His advisers, in the face of reports that he will base his decision primarily on public opinion polls, want him to make clear that such polls would be only one factor and perhaps not the decisive one. Rockefeller was understood to have agreed to clarify his position.

Greene Board Says 'No' To Reassigning

SNOW HILL, N.C. (AP) — A bid by five Negro children seeking reassignment to white schools was rejected here Friday by the Greene County board of education. The board said the transfers "would not be for the best interest of the public." Parents of the five pupils sought to have their children reassigned from the Greene County (Negro) Training School to the all-white Walstonburg High School. The parents attended the four-hour meeting. They said they felt their children could obtain a better education at a non-segregated school. They contended that the Walstonburg school had a better curriculum. However, the board said it felt that to reassign the pupils would "materially disrupt" their education. The board said the training school, with 17 state-allotted teachers and 33 courses, offered "Far more educational opportunities than Walstonburg High School" with four teachers and 22 courses. The board said it was rejecting the applications because they were premature in that they were dated June 9 and regulations concerning reassignments did not become effective until June 15; that Walstonburg High has been consolidated with three other high schools and will not be a separate school after 1960; and that the Negro school is only six tenths of a mile farther from the homes of the children than from Walstonburg High. C. O. Pearson of Durham, who represented the parents, said he would appeal and that further litigation was likely.

Standing By For Launching

IDLLE SCALES . . . and trucks await the arrival of the many pounds of tobacco that will be brought to Greenville and placed on the warehouse floors before sale-time Tuesday when the market opens. Officials of the Tobacco Board of Trade in Greenville say all sales are expected to be full and urge farmers to bring their tobacco in early.

Hodges Backs 'Point System'

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Hodges feels the State Highway Commission's point system of setting priorities for paving of secondary roads "is as sound as it can be." The governor strongly defended the system at his news conference Friday. He said that where the system is criticized, "in most cases you find some personal thing." The point system has been the target of sharp criticism recently by the Davidson County commissioners. The Davidson board sought to have the priority ratings changed on three Davidson roads. Highway Chairman J. Melville Broughton Jr. said following a meeting with the Davidson commissioners early this week that he saw no reason to change the priorities fixed by the highway engineers. In reply to other questions, the governor said: 1. He has not decided whether to call a special legislative session to act on revision of the state constitution and court reform. He indicated it is under consideration. 2. He believes "some central place" would have been a better site than Los Angeles for the 1960 Democratic National Convention. 3. The fact that Broughton is considering running for governor or U.S. senator would not rule out his reappointment to the highway commission.

Typhoon Killed 126 In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon George killed 126 persons in cutting through central Japan Friday, police reported today. The toll is expected to go higher with 119 listed missing and 712 injured. About 10,000 were reported homeless. Twenty-four fishing vessels were listed sunk and 1,185 bridges washed away.

Planes Couldn't Catch Cone From Space Satellite

HONOLULU (AP) — "If we could have seen it, we would have caught it!" This is the feeling of 90 disappointed satellite "cone catchers" of the 653rd Test Squadron who missed Friday their long-awaited chance at an aerial catch of the Discoverer V nose cone. "There would have been no problems once we sighted it," said Maj. Joseph Nellor, of Olathe, Kan., the squadron commander. He said the nine C119 flying boxcars used in the catch attempt headed back for Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu after the Discoverer V capsule was ejected but failed to send out the homing radio signal to guide them to it. "Our planes don't have radar," Nellor explained. "We depend on the radio beacon." There was no visual sighting.

Priests Prepare To Pierce Iron Curtain

By RAY SHAW

NEW YORK (AP)—A handful of Franciscan priests are quietly preparing for a missionary invasion of the Eastern European nations living under communism.

Once a beachhead is established there, they hope to move into the Soviet Union, spreading the Gospel.

Their success will depend wholly on whether the Communists allow them behind the Iron Curtain.

The Rev. Paul Guthrie, who expects to be one of the first Franciscans in Communist territory, said: "We will not go until we are assured that we will be allowed to work freely and without interference."

When will that day come? "It will, it will," Father Guthrie answers.

Preparing Franciscans for work behind the Iron Curtain is a difficult task, since it represents a branching out of the monastic order from the Western Catholic Church to the Byzantine rite of Eastern Catholics (not to be confused with Eastern Orthodox).

Both rites believe in the same basic Catholic doctrine. But there are differences. In the Byzantine rite, the Pope is recognized as the supreme pontiff, but followers are subject directly to a patriarch. In the West, the faithful are subject only to the Pope. Mass is sung in the language of the land in the Byzantine rite; in the West, it is sung in Latin. The Byzantine church has no organs, uses icons and the altar is partially screened from the worshippers. Also, the Byzantine rite allows marriage of priests.

"In the Byzantine rite," explains Father Guthrie, "we believe the divinity of God is emphasized more than in the West, where the emphasis is on the human side. The Western church likes to see the humanity of our Lord presented."

Since the two rites differ, finding prospects for the Byzantine rite is difficult.

Six Franciscans, including Father Guthrie, are already ordained in the Byzantine manner of worship and two dozen others are being trained in monasteries at New Canaan, Conn., and near Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"We are in the embryonic stage, only beginning to branch out," says Father Guthrie. It is his job to stock a library covering the languages, history, culture of Eastern Europe, and to edit a magazine promoting this special phase of Franciscan work.

APPOINTED—Maj. Gen. George P. Vanler, 71, has been named by Queen Elizabeth as the new governor-general of Canada. He succeeds retiring Vincent Massey.

Man Bitten By Hooked Shark

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — A 5½-foot shark which had been boated by two fishermen here Friday bit one severely when he attempted to remove the hook. Arthur Wright said the shark lunged and grabbed his hand. The fisherman suffered a cut about 12 inches long extending from his palm to his forearm and several broken fingers.

A Coast Guard boat took Wright ashore after hearing his cries.

Wings for a journey...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Isaiah	40	26-31
Monday	Romans	1	8-12
Tuesday	Acts	2	18-28
Wednesday	Psalm	34	14-18
Thursday	1 Peter	5	6-11
Friday	Philippians	4	4-9
Saturday	John	10	27-30

Vacation time—a trip; magic words, excitement! We study a map, read travel books, and listen eagerly to others who have taken the same journey. We anticipate seeing new places, new people, and unusual things. The routine of everyday will be forgotten.

But sometimes a trip is impossible, and we must accept the hurry and anxiety of everyday living. Then it is that we need to plan a journey of mind and spirit—one that can lift us out of the ordinary into peace and communion with our God—one that refreshes and strengthens.

For this journey we do not need an airplane. Instead, we use the powerful wings of prayer, of praise and trust. Come to Church and find these wings of the spirit, not for a brief journey—but for all eternity.

First Presbyterian Announcements

The Reverend David Shepperson, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Warren, Arkansas, will be the guest minister at the first Presbyterian Church, 11:00 Sunday morning, August 16.

Special music will consist of a duet, "Watchmen, What of the Night," to be sung by Mrs. Allison Moss and Mr. Gus Laube.

Members of the Senior High Fellowship are invited to a swim party and ice cream social on Thursday evening, August 20, 8:00 o'clock, at the home of Ronnie and Jack Cox, Longmeadow Road.

On Friday mornings, August 21 and August 28 there will be a one and one-half hour, 9:30-11:00, session of stories, movies, games and refreshments conducted for the children of the Kindergarten Department. This includes the 4, 5 and 6 year olds who have not yet entered the first grade. The program will be similar to that of the Vacation Church School. Mrs. John Grier will direct the session on August 21, and Mrs. W. C. Craven on August 28. They will be assisted by the Young People of the Church.

The public is cordially invited to worship at this church.

Work Piles Up On Vacation Too

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower, who has been finding work piling up on him here just as it does in Washington, hopes to take it easy today.

If it turns out that way, it will be his first full day of rest and relaxation since he began his vacation here Tuesday.

For the third day in a row, Eisenhower went to his office in the Hotel Gettysburg Friday and worked his way through a stack of bills and other documents.

Among the papers he signed was a bill appropriating $4,016,101.981 to run the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments for the current fiscal year.

He also signed an executive order creating the Federal Radiation Council to help protect the Americans against radioactive fallout.

Eisenhower also picked a new under secretary of commerce—Philip A. Ray of San Francisco. Ray will be nominated Monday to fill the vacancy caused when Frederick H. Mueller was promoted to secretary.

Oyster Or Fritter, It's Still Corn

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor
SPECIALTY OF New England, favorite of the South, and pride of the Midwest, each region claims corn oysters, although sometimes insisting the name is corn fritters.

But where did this indigenous American dish truly originate? Heaven keep us from taking sides in a culinary controversy. But from digging into old cook books, it looks as if New England had the right to claim this simple but utterly delicious recipe.

Naturally we went to the first American cook book written by a Southern woman, Mrs. Mary Randolph's "The Virginia Housewife; or Methodical Cook," published in 1824. Mrs. Randolph gives sweet green corn short shirt: not one mention.

In the next batch of cook books written before 1865, recipes for corn oysters begin to pop up. And a lady from Andover, Mass., gives a clue to how the dish got its odd name. First she directs you to the preparation: "Grate sweet corn, mix with well beaten egg, flour, cream and salt." Then she adds, "Fry exactly like oysters, dropping by spoonfuls about the size of an oyster, into just enough fat to brown."

A Victorian cook book author calls the dish "Corn Mock Oysters."

She declares, "They resemble and have much the flavor of fried oysters;" to us this seems confusing taste with name!

Nowadays cook book authors do not bother to explain the nomenclature. But many modern recipes — by whatever name — suggest dropping the corn mixture into "oval shapes," or say, "These little fritters should be the size of large oysters."

Right from the beginning, corn oysters were made in several ways. They included only a little flour — the best way, we submit — or a good deal. They were fried in shallow or deep fat.

Sugar was omitted or added. Mrs. Sarah Joseph Hale, who was the editor of "Godey's Lady's Book," included no sugar in her basic recipe, but then she explained: "Corn Fritters: American . . . are excellent for breakfast . . . for dessert put in sugar instead of salt and pepper, and eat them with your favorite sauce."

We add sugar in this recipe and think the oysters are just right, with maple syrup and crisp bacon, for brunch — that most modern of meals.

FRESH CORN OYSTERS

Ingredients: 2 cups corn (cut off cobs — about 6 ears), 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 cup butter or margarine.

Method: Before cutting corn off cobs score the ears by slitting kernels with a knife drawn through the center of each row. Cut off kernels and scrape ears well with the pulp and milk. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored; beat in sugar, salt and corn. Stir flour and baking powder together and lightly beat into corn mixture. Melt 1/2 tablespoon of butter in heavy skillet or on griddle; drop heaping tablespoons of corn mixture into hot fat. When oysters are browned on bottom and slightly set on top turn and brown other side. Add more butter to skillet as needed. Makes 16.

TRICK OF THE TRADE: Run a sharp knife blade down through each row of kernels before cutting corn from cob for use in corn oysters.

Fall Clothes Make Appearance

By HELEN MOHAN
Asst. Pitt HD Agent

Fall is near, and with its coming the stores are becoming filled with fall clothes for the whole family.

The back-to-school season brings a return to the feminine, old-fashioned look in dresses, coats and sportswear for little girls. In dresses, the fitted bodice and the bouffant skirt predominate, with long or three-quarters, full sleeves and large Puritan and double or triple collars. The favorite trim for the old-fashioned look is ric-rac which is used in interesting ways on collars, sleeves and hems. There is also buttons march in neat rows down the front of tucked bodices, and small bows are placed at the throat or waist for a completely feminine touch.

Colors emphasize classic styling, with the boy coat, the fitted style with loose pleats, and the fuller fashion with soft folds falling from a yoked back shown most often.

Colors that are both rich and subtle predominate. The popular browns are inspired by the spice cabinet, with ginger and saffron, mustard and thyme as featured colors. Greens range from the soft yellow to the gray greens — yellow, moss and loden, which have an antique look. Emphasis in the red family is on the wine reds such as claret and cranberry, the deep blue reds, and plum shades.

One shade of blue is receiving much attention — Persian or mosaic blue, a rather bright, almost royal tone. Also teal or the gray blues and mauve blues are prevalent. Combinations of blue and brown and the traditional red and green will be popular, particularly in woven plaids.

Cotton is the basic fabric for children's wear because of its durability and ease of care. In sportswear, textured surfaces, oxford cloth, cord, poplin, and twills are important with a great variety of Provincial and early American small cotton prints. Of equal importance will be woven plaids, especially the ancient tartans.

For boys this fall, school subtle clothes will be colorful with big checks and plaids, bold figures and patterns, although subtle and muted colors will continue to be popular.

In shirts, Ivy styling will continue in importance, and cotton pull-over knits will still be popular with the teen-age group.

The bulky sweater will continue to be popular, especially in the crew and boat neck styles, and the very popular card coats are to enjoy another banner season.

Whether buying for her children, her husband, or herself, the homemaker should plan before she makes any purchases. For her growing children, she may want to consider how long the child will have to wear the garment, that is, whether it may be altered for use another season.

She should always choose washable fabrics for young children, and fabrics that are both pre-shrunk and colorfast. Certain styles and colors are best for a certain person, and certainly the child should help in the choice of a garment he or she will be wearing.

Happy shopping, Mothers. Think before you buy.

Hamburgers Are Best In Moscow

"We have better hamburgers in Moscow," said Clara Pobedinskaya, young Russian fashion designer, sampling America's favorite food during a recent luncheon fashion show at a plush Fifth avenue hotel.

"At home we would flavor them with onions and garlic, and our meat would not taste so obviously frozen," she added.

Clara is in New York in connection with the Moscow exhibit at the Coliseum, where a number of her fashion designs are shown. She is designer for Moscow's leading department store, where she says they have a fashion show almost every day, attended often by husbands as well as wives.

During luncheon, where she was a guest at the closing session of the New York Dress Institute's National Press Week showings of fall fashions, Clara surveyed the American clothes with a wary eye and pronounced them "very pleasant."

Neither she nor either of her two companions, designer Lydia Danilina and Alexi Eubichev, director of the all union house of fashion in Moscow, would exhibit any enthusiasm for the American fashions shown. Grimly, they refused to be impressed.

All spoke through an interpreter, and insisted Moscow fashions were "much the same."

Clara said some things about American fashions were considered bad taste in Russia — one was the custom of wearing daytime clothes trimmed with fur, and the other was the sight of elderly women in shorts.

When told that American models, such as the ones prouetting on the runway during luncheon, earned $50 an hour, Clara choked on her inferior American hamburger.

Among The Debs

A Bridge Fan

MISS STUART BOST . . . enjoys playing bridge during sparetime.

(Editor's Note: The life of a debutante is filled with parties, merriment and excitement. Below is the first in a series of glimpses into the lives of the 10 Pitt County girls who were selected to make their bow to North Carolina society at the Terpsichorean Club 1959 Debutante Ball on September 11-12.)

By PEGGY SMITH
Reflector Woman's Editor

"Every girl should go to a girl's school for at least two years because they really miss a lot if they don't," says Miss Stuart Bost, a Greenville 1959 debutante. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bost of Harding St.

Back to school at Peace College in Raleigh this fall, Miss Bost will act as president of the Sigma Phi Kappa sorority. "At this college, every student is able to be a member of a sorority which helps to make us feel more like a big family."

This summer Miss Bost has found many differences between East Carolina College, where she is attending summer school, and Peace College. The number of students per class seemed to be the biggest difference to this petite, brunette deb.

Her hobby consists of being active in all things which make up the life of a college-age girl.

Being a soft-spoken person, she admits that a "show-off" is her pet peeve. And her opinion on going steady, "I think most girls feel more secure about going steady especially in high school, but it's hard to work things out when both are off at school or separated."

Debutante Plans

Escorted by her brother, Billy Bost, at the Deb Ball in September, she will be wearing a gown of peau de soie lace featuring a scooped neckline with cap sleeves. The skirt will be full fashioned with lace insertions. "I don't like frills and ruffles, except for my deb dress, and that is somewhat simply designed," she commented when the topic of clothes was mentioned.

"As far as the styles of my other weekend fashions, I don't know, but I do know some will be blue, since that's my favorite color," she added.

Jackie Spain of Greenville and Ashe Exum of Snow Hill plan to act as Miss Bost's two marshals.

Sisters Win Honors

BETHEL—Misses Patsy Joe and Carrie Lin Gurganus were recipients of the first place trophy and $100 cash award for their rendition of the "Charleston" in the Rocky Mount Festival held recently in the Municipal Stadium there, which was sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, Tobacco Board of Trade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Patsy Joe also won the first place trophy and $100 cash award in the Beauty Contest which was held the same night. The winners were chosen from contestants from ten

Play School Applications Being Accepted

The Recreation Department has announced that applications for "Play School" will be accepted from Monday, August 17, through Saturday, August 29.

"Play School" is designed for children between the ages of three and five years. Its primary purpose is to provide companionship and supervised play for pre-school age children. There are two separate groups of children. One group meets on Tuesday and the other on Friday from 10:00 A.M. until 12:00 Noon. Present space and equipment makes it necessary to limit each group to an enrollment of 24 children.

Children enrolled in the Fall term will attend "Play School" for 12 mornings, or one term. At the end of this term, another group will be made up from applications received after August 29, and a new term will begin. The first will begin on Tuesday, September 8.

Mothers of the children enrolled will be asked to help with "Play School" one morning during the term, and supply the refreshments for the morning.

Applications will be accepted by mail or by telephone, call JL 2-2355, Recreation Department. When applying (Tuesday or Friday), child's name, age and birthplace, parents' name, address and telephone number.

Tea Honors Bride Of Today

Miss Sue Tucker, bride-elect, was honored at a tea at the home of Misses Frances and Ella Tucker Smith Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. W. E. Basnight, Mrs. Robert W. Fennell, Miss Deanie Boone Haskett, Miss Ella Tucker, Frances Smith and Frances Smith II.

Miss Tucker chose for the occasion a black and white checked voile. On arrival she was given a corsage of pink mums.

The home was decorated throughout with asters, phlox, zinnias and lavender butterfly finches. The dining room table was covered with an organdy and lace cloth over pink. The focal point was a crystal epergne filled with pink asters and tube roses. A miniature bride doll centered in an arrangement of pink and white phlox flanked the buffet.

Guests were received by Miss Ella Tucker Smith and introduced to the receiving line consisting of Miss Tucker, her mother, Mrs. A. L. Tucker, the mother and sister of the groom, Mrs. Martin Hatcher and Miss Susan Hatcher, and Mrs. John M. Bures Jr., formerly Miss Virginia Smith, who was also a guest of honor.

Mrs. W. E. Basnight, receiving at the dining room door, invited the guests to have lime punch, mints, nuts and bridal cakes. Mrs. Robert W. Fennell and Miss Deanie Boone Haskett, assisted by Misses Frances Smith, Grayson Waldrop, Patricia Worthington, Patricia Daniels, Mrs. Kemp Baldwin, Ella Marie Smith and Barbara Baskett, served the party foods.

Mrs. H. B. Smith and Mrs. R. H. Baskett presided over the register and Miss Frances Smith II said goodbye.

The hostesses presented Miss Tucker with a silver bowl.

Announces Only Attendant

Miss Dorothy Grace Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buck of Vanceboro, who will be married to Elmo Gaskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gaskins of Shermerside, on Tuesday, August 18, at five o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Vanceboro, will have as her maid of honor and only attendant, her sister, Miss Nancy Buck. She will be given in marriage by her brother, Roy Buck Jr.

Dewey Gaskins will be his brother's best man and ushers will be Glenn Harold Buck and Stevie Whitford, of Vanceboro.

A program of wedding music will be rendered by Mrs. Jasper Witherington, organist, and Mrs. Roy Page Gaskins of Shermerside, vocalist. Rev. Richard Ottaway, rector of the church, will officiate.

All friends of the couple are being invited to the ceremony and to a reception being given by the parents of the bride in the parish house of the church following the ceremony.

Clam Cream Cheese Spread
Melba Toast
Cupcakes and Cookies

OLD-FASHIONED BOILED DRESSING
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 egg, 3-4 cup milk, 1-4 cup cider vinegar, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: In the top of a double boiler, stir together thoroughly the flour, salt, sugar and mustard. Beat egg slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Gradually stir into flour mixture, smoothing out after each addition. There are no lumps. Slowly stir in vinegar. Cook and stir constantly over very hot (just below boiling point) water until thickened and smooth; do not allow water to boil. Remove from heat; at once stir in butter. Cover and place over cold water until cool. Store in tightly covered jar in refrigerator. Makes about 1-4 cups.

Cucumber Sandwiches: Make sandwiches of fresh white thin buttered bread and thinly sliced pared cucumber, sprinkling with salt and pepper and spreading with Old-Fashioned Boiled Dressing.

U.S. Living Too Casual

If American living gets any more casual, we all might as well move back to the cave, says red-headed Patricia Murphy, five feet of Irish dynamite with a burning conviction about the importance of gracious traditions.

"Furthermore," says this small but highly charged crusader, "there would be a lot fewer divorces in this country if women would take the trouble to set a decent table."

Miss Murphy feeds a million people a year in her candlelighted, flower-banked restaurant in Yonkers, N.Y., so she knows whereof she speaks. She has little patience with the modern housewife who throws a couple of frankfurters and some canned beans on a paper plate and calls it dinner. The great American enthusiasm for the free-and-easy life is all right on occasion, she concedes, but shouldn't be allowed to become an everyday pattern.

"Even if you serve hamburgers for dinner, you can serve them attractively," says she. "A few flowers on the table, attractive china, a colorful cloth and candlelight can make a sandwich seem like a banquet."

"It's all wrong for women to give up all the little niceties that give a home charm. They're spoiled, that's what they are. They have so many labor-saving devices and packaged mixes that they've become too lazy even to set the table. Maybe somebody will come up with an automatic device to do that, but I doubt it."

The peppery Patricia is the widow of Capt. James Kiernan, a naval architect responsible for the building and grounds of World War II. He helped her plan the building and grounds of her Yonkers restaurant, the largest in the East, which is set in the midst of an eight-acre flower garden, complete with seven greenhouses. Soviet Women Need American Beauty Aids

If Soviet women could be supplied with American lipstick, cosmetics and girdles, international friendship would take a big jump.

Such is the opinion of Michael Daroff, men's clothing manufacturer of New York, just returned from a visit to the American Exhibition in Moscow. Daroff was a member of the committee of men's wear manufacturers who contributed to the U.S. fashion show at the fair, and was on hand for a week after the opening.

"We had an Intourist guide, a Russian girl named Nina, for the time we were in Moscow," he said. "The first day Nina was shy and seemed somewhat unfriendly. But before the week was over we were all fast friends. Mrs. Daroff gave her some lipstick and a compact, which at first she refused to take. Finally, however, we persuaded her, and the last few days of our stay she showed up wearing the lipstick, pleased as punch, and looking prettier than it had seemed possible."

"When we left she went with us to the airport, and really broke down and cried when it was time to say goodbye. I know there is one Russian girl who has been converted to the idea of American friendship."

Russian women wear no cosmetics, says Daroff, who also observes that apparently foundation garments are unknown in the Soviet Union.

"Big hips seem to be a measure of feminine beauty in Russia. If a girl doesn't occupy two chairs when seated, Russian men say she is too skinny," he said.

If Soviet women are badly dressed, according to American standards, the men are in the same state, says this men's wear maker, naturally interested in men's styles abroad.

"Even in the best hotels and night clubs, the men wear sports shirts and pants — no ties or jackets, except among the official groups," he said. "Our American group was entertained by the Moscow Board of Trade at a luncheon, and there the men wore suits and ties. But almost everywhere else we went the standard dress for men seemed to be shirtsleeves — and sports shirts at that."

Pay-As-You-Go Is Still Better Deal

By voting to boost the federal gasoline tax one cent per gallon, the House Ways and Means Committee has set the stage for accomplishing a two-fold purpose:

1. getting another billion dollars a year out of taxpayers; and
2. adding further fuel to the inflation fire that government leaders and economist have been so concerned over the past six months.

Prior to last year when Congress was looking for anti-recession measures to prime the economic pump, the huge federal highway construction program was carried out pretty much on a pay-as-you-go basis. Then members of Congress, as an anti-recession measure, suspended the pay-as-you-go provision and provided for a speed-up in federal highway construction.

This speed-up in construction and spending naturally exhausted federal highway funds more rapidly than had previously been the case. Now, according to some solons, we either must hike the gasoline tax to bring more funds or curtail the increased construction program.

Since last year when the pay-as-you-go provision for federal highway construction was suspended, the economic picture of the nation has changed drastically. At that time the nation's business was undergoing one of its most serious recessions in a number of years. Unemployment was considerably higher than normal, industrial orders and production were down and it was felt that pump-priming on the part of the federal government was needed.

Now the situation is entirely different. Employment, according to the latest federal report, has hit an all-time high. Business has more than made up its recession losses and appears heading for new peaks before the end of 1959. Interest rates have been hiked in an effort to curb inflationary trends, and from all sides there have come pleas for measures to prevent another upward spiral of prices. In connection with the nation-wide steel strike, the President has asked that moves which would be inflationary in the nation's economy be avoided.

Why then is it necessary for the nation to continue its federal highway construction program at a break-neck speed? Why can't we go back to the pay-as-you-go basis since the need for federal pump-priming that existed last year obviously is passed?

What will be the value of all the efforts toward halting inflation if Congress now endorses a program that cannot help but give the nation another inflationary shot in the arm?

Another thing which taxpayers should keep in mind is the old political terminology of "temporary" has been tacked on to this gasoline tax proposal. According to the committee action, the increase would remain in effect only 22 months and then would expire. How many other "temporary" taxes, enacted years ago to take care of special emergencies, are we still paying?

The best interest of the nation will best be served if Congress rejects the recommendation of the House Ways and Means Committee that the federal gasoline tax be increased from three cents to four cents per gallon.

Another Feather In Our Neighbors' Cap

The new garment industry announced by Farmville this week is another feather in the economic cap of that Pitt community which has led others of the county in attracting new manufacturing concerns.

With its 150 new jobs and annual payroll of approximately $400,000 the new plant will add another boost to Farmville which earlier thrust itself into the industrial limelight by acquiring Formica's Flakeboard plant. Not only will the new garment industry add to the number of jobs and the annual payroll of Farmville, it will also add diversity to the industrialization program being followed by that community.

Three times since January 1957 Farmville has been able to announce that new major industries had selected that community as a location site. Each of the announcements has meant a different type industry. And each of the announcements has been made possible because the citizens of the community have put forth a genuine effort to create a climate in which the prospective industry could locate and prosper.

The success which Farmville has had in attracting new industries isn't something which has happened by chance. The citizens of Farmville several years ago joined together to form the Farmville Economic Council for the specific purpose of attracting industry to the community. Since its formation the Council and the citizens of Farmville have worked diligently month-in and month-out to attract new industries. They not only wanted industrial development for their town, but they were willing to put forth the time, effort and money to make such development possible.

Farmville is to be congratulated on obtaining this new industry which will mean much to that community as well as to the county as a whole. Each new manufacturing firm which comes to Pitt County adds to the productive wealth of the county and at the same time makes the county a more attractive place for other industries looking for new locations.

The job that has been done by Farmville in the past three years in economic development sets a good example for other communities of Pitt to follow.

Dulles' Role Is Still Apparent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is putting himself in the position of having to share the credit — or the blame — for practically everything the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles did or said.

Through remarks at his news conferences and elsewhere, the President is painting a picture of his relationship with Dulles that shows the two men seeing eye to eye on everything before Dulles announced it.

But, as it turned out, Dulles became a kind of lightning rod and shield for the President since most of the criticism of American foreign policy during Dulles' years in office was directed at him, not at Eisenhower.

The following can be said confidently to represent the President's recollections of his secretary:

Dulles never made a pronouncement without Eisenhower's signature, initials or approval. Dulles was scrupulous in insisting the President approve every action taken. Eisenhower reacts strongly to any suggestion they were ever apart.

It was in the latter part of 1958 — with East and West in a cold war growing colder — that Eisenhower and Dulles decided they needed something different, or as Eisenhower put it at his news conference this week:

"We began to feel that the methods we were pursuing had to be reinforced by something a little differently than we had been doing up to this moment."

That is the end — in this story — of Eisenhower's recollections. There can be no doubt Dulles was far better informed on foreign affairs than the President. Eisenhower had spent a lifetime soldiering. Dulles had spent his life in diplomacy and law.

Eisenhower never attended he did not depend on Dulles to handle details.

The President, besides repeatedly saying Dulles was the greatest secretary of state in his memory, once said he had "acquired a wisdom and experience

Spotlight On Farmville

With another new industry to their credit, Farmville folk are riding pretty high these days.

But somebody should tell them how one of their industrial newcomers feels about Farmville.

The American Cyanamid Company's trade magazine, known appropriately enough as The Cyanamid Magazine, has an eight-page layout about Farmville and the Formica plant in its just-published summer issue. This represents a pretty good share of the 32 pages in the publication.

Trade publications have come a long way from their humble beginnings. Some of the finest writing, photography and illustrations can be found in them. It's no exaggeration to say I look forward to issues of some of the company and metal publications.

After listing some of the aspects of physical gains that resulted from Formica's arrival, the writer quotes Jim Hockaday as saying its effect has changed the air of Farmville. "This is bigger than all the physical changes, and those are sizeable", says Hockaday.

The writer appears struck by an element of job-loyalty or individual responsibility among plant employees. This comes out in repeating a story by manager Tom Canning that one man last winter walked through 18 inches of snow (an uncommon and well-remembered phenomenon of weather) to go to work and back again—it was four miles.

That kind of attitude would please any employer; and who knows?

It could be that such a quality among Pitt Countians or North Carolinians is a major factor in the state's industrial gains. One can't be too sure about such things because production can be reduced to cold statistics and impersonal even machine-like item of business.

But business is composed of men, and men appreciate loyalties and integrity and all the qualities that are sometimes overlooked in the rush.

So I don't think the good qualities of people are a negligible factor. In anything.

Other Editors Saying Guard Served Purpose

(Henderson Dispatch) Various units of the North Carolina National Guard were on duty in Henderson almost three months to the day. The soldiers were rushed in by Governor Hodges on May 12 following a fresh outbreak of violence in connection with the textile strike.

While the exact strength of the units was not announced, they were generally supposed to number three hundred or more. This was gradually reduced and when they left last week-end, there were only thirty in the city.

Guardsmen, it will be remembered, replaced State highway patrolmen, who in varying numbers had been on duty since the mills reopened on February 16.

There never seemed much question it was Dulles who dominated American foreign policy. But Eisenhower and Dulles were not innovators. Their foreign policy was not original with them. They inherited it from the Truman-Acheson administration.

Simply put, this was it: stiff-arm the Soviets and keep them surrounded with military bases and alliances to discourage Soviet aggression.

But, since Eisenhower depended so much on Dulles, it might seem that after Dulles' death in May Eisenhower was forced to rely more on himself, and as a result became much more free-wheeling.

His decision to invite Premier Nikita Khrushchev here might be taken as an example. This is not necessarily proof of a more free-wheeling attitude on Eisenhower's part.

Just remember that he said he and Dulles, in late 1958, decided they had better try something different. So this was a joint decision, not by Eisenhower alone.

At most, inviting Khrushchev here—the evidence now known—is simply a switch in tactics in dealing with the Russians, not a change in strategy. Eisenhower simply said he and Dulles wanted to try something a "little" different.

Eisenhower has not said whether inviting Khrushchev here was the kind of change Dulles and he had in mind in 1958. But he has indicated Dulles would have approved it.

So American foreign policy as of now, including the invitation to Khrushchev, is still the Eisenhower-Dulles policy, not something new by Eisenhower.

WATCH YOUR STEP

A group of thugs held up a truck recently in order to get what they thought were hundreds of cartons full of saleable goods. The cartons were all empty. Some of these chaps will spend quite a few years in jail brooding over the fact that they got themselves into all his trouble for a truck load of empty cartons.

This situation is full of suggestions as we confront the problems of life. We sacrifice so many things of real value trying to get things which, when the values are entered into the Book of Life, prove to be empty cartons. The pursuit of sensuality is one such endeavor. Feverish desire to be rich no matter how the money is made—this is another such piece of folly. Striving for social position, staking everything one has on being elected to a public office or on getting a promotion in the business world—these are frequently empty cartons for which we often pay so dearly.

None of us has long to live. Life is ever a brief span in God's great eternity, and in that brief span we get a chance to make good. It will be all over

Lady Behind Inouye

By HARRIET GEE

Honolulu Star-Bulletin

HONOLULU (AP)—Have you ever tried dating one of the teachers while just a student in school?

War hero Daniel K. Inouye, Hawaii's Congressman-elect did, and was accepted on his first try. "But he was floored," his wife recalls with a laugh.

Dan was a junior at the University of Hawaii in 1947 when his wife, the former Margaret Shinobu Awamura, was in her first year as a speech instructor.

"I thought he was dashing, very interesting and most considerate," Maggie, as she likes to be called, says.

"One of the things that attracted me to Dan was the fact that he's never indicated his country owes him something for the loss of his arm.

"He's always outgoing, perfectly adjusted, more so than many of us. He's always wanted to go out and help others."

Inouye, 34, a Democrat, won election to the U.S. House of Representatives by a landslide margin in Hawaii's first state election July 28. He received 111,700 votes to his Republican opponent's 51,000, and made island history by being the first person ever to receive more than 100,000 votes.

Proposal on Third Date

On their third date, says Maggie, Dan proposed marriage and she accepted. They were married in Honolulu in 1949.

Maggie, 35, modestly refuses any credit for helping her husband become the polished public speaker he is, saying: "He made sure he wouldn't take any speech courses from me."

Mrs. Inouye, until now, has been an instructor in education at the University of Hawaii. After her husband's election, she asked for and got a leave of absence.

She regards it a duty of every wife to offer criticism when requested and says her husband "always asks for my frank opinion" after each public appearance.

Marriage No Different

She doesn't think her marriage to a disabled veteran is different from any other.

"He likes good old fashioned beef stew, long ties (no bows) and listening to records. He works in the yard, does some carpentry and prefers small, informal parties."

The Inouyes won't be strangers to Washington, D.C., as Dan attended George Washington University law school there for two years after their marriage and Maggie was with him.

Says Maggie of her husband's imminent job in Washington: "I will try my very hardest to help my husband, and the people of Hawaii and the nation."

Opinions In Brief

Colts Give All-Stars Painful 29-0 Gridiron Lesson

CHICAGO (AP)—The powerful Baltimore Colts gave the College All-Stars a painful football lesson at Soldier Field Friday night and it took only 30 minutes to do it.

With sharpshooting Johnny Unitas neatly hurling three touchdown passes, the National Football League champions banged to a 29-0 halftime lead over the outclassed collegians and that's the way the uneven match wound up in the big lakefront stadium before 70,000 fans.

Unnerved by an injury to halfback Don Brown of Houston, who swayed his tongue and appeared near death on the field, the All-Stars huffed and puffed in futile fashion against the bruising pros.

The scoreless second half did not mean improvement among the hard-trying college lads as much as it reflected the fact the Colts eased up in pursuit of the 16th pro victory against 8 defeats and 2 ties in the All-Star series.

In justice to the All-Stars, it should be stressed that their two offensive centers, both from Ohio State—Dan James and Dick Schafrath—were lost by injuries. Tackle Bob Reitsnyder of Navy took over the ball-snapping, but he, too, was injured, and 290-pound Mac Lewis of Iowa, also listed as a tackle, finished at center.

But the troubles that surrounded the All-Stars, in the main, involved what happened AFTER the array of four different quarterbacks got hold of the ball.

The All-Stars had five passes intercepted and their passer was brutally rushed at night by such Baltimore behemoths as Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, Art Donovan, Orzell Brasse, Gino Marchetti and Don Joyce.

The All-Stars, whose deepest penetration was to the Baltimore 3-yard line late in the third quarter, were comforted after the game by the vice president, Richard Nixon.

Nixon, shaking hands with every All-Star player, observed that the collegians looked so big in the dressing room, "but against the Colts they looked so little."

That was just about it. The pros looked and performed like men and the collegians performed and looked like collegians.

The collegians threw a record total of 41 passes, completing 15 for 188 yards. Unitas threw 24 and completed 14 for 211 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Notre Dame's Nick Pietrosante grabbed a screen pass from Buddy Humphrey of Baylor and scooped 51 yards to the Baltimore 29 in the third period and that was the only exciting All-Star play.

Day Of The Game Is A Long One For Everybody

Editors Note: This is the eighth in a series of articles written by Coach Jack Boone of East Carolina College.

The day of the game is a long one when you are away as the game is at night. At seven the boys shower and get ready for breakfast—I like for my boys to get a good breakfast. Some of these boys had rather sleep! Get up anyhow, the fresh air will do you good even if you don't want to eat! After breakfast, the boys go to the field and check it for holes, grass, etc. Some fields we play on have grass high enough to get lost in! Boys like Willie Hanford could not be seen on some fields — They must have heard we have fast backs! These weeds will sure slow them down — If the grass is not high, they water it down — said they had a dry spell. I remember the two weeks of rain we had in Greenville. It slowed a lot of things down. Sure hope it does not slow the sale of Pirates Club Tickets. Anyway all sorts of devices are used—I remember when we were going into our next to the last game with Tampa with an 8-win and no losses—They had heard about Dick Cherry passing. When the officials came up to me with the ball, it only had nine pounds of air in it—requires 15 pounds. Besides that they took sandpaper and scratched the ball up. I said we can't play with the scratched up ball—We can't throw it. The officials laughed—they brought me another ball and it was a little better but the color of it was red. I looked up and saw Tampa wearing red jerseys. Say officials I I I, I thought the official ball color was tan. These were the two balls used. Everytime Dick threw the ball it sailed for the ground! To say the least our passing game was not too good and we lost the game 18-13 plus a bid to the Tangerine Bowl.

Getting back to the field with the boys—like I told you, this is a long day and I have to talk about something.

Collegians Probably Were Shaken By Near-Fatality

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Halfback Don Brown of Houston fought a life-death battle on the grass of Soldier Field and won.

From then on, his shaken All Star teammates fought in a psychological maze and lost — 29-0 to the National Football League champion Baltimore Colts.

The All Stars undoubtedly would have lost Friday night to the on-rushing wave of seasoned veterans in football's heartiest league.

But the depressive sight of Brown, injured in the first quarter, struggling for life on the gridiron before being hauled off to a hospital, was enough to jolt the most calloused player.

"Brown went out for a hook-pass," explained Lee Grosscup of Utah, the starting All Star quarterback. "He was supposed to swing tight. I think one of the Colts' pluggers clotheslined him (accidentally) hit him across the throat.)"

For 12 minutes, Brown lay silently on the ground while 70,000 fans stared downward at officials, trainers and coaches frantically working over him.

"When Brown got hurt, that was a big letdown," said Coach Otto Graham afterward. "He actually died on the field and stopped breathing. But they finally opened his mouth and brought him around again. I was scared to death."

The impact on his throat caused Brown to swallow his tongue. He was choking to death. The situation was remedied during the frantic 12 minutes he lay on the ground. Hospital attendants later said he also suffered a slight concussion but his condition was good.

As for the game, Graham said: "We didn't have the horses and the Colts were a lot tougher than Detroit (his All Stars trimmed the Lions last year 35-10)."

Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank

said: "We couldn't say boo. Every time we looked sideways at an All Star, an official would throw his handkerchief (indicating a penalty)."

The Colts had 15 penalties called against them for 137 yards — records in the All Star series.

"But we won the game, so what's the difference," Ewbank added. "It went a lot easier than we expected. The big reason may have been our defensive line. They were really charging in. It made it easy for our secondary defense."

Chisox Are Fencebusting, And Lollar Is In Groove

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't tell Sherman Lollar that Chicago's American League leaders are a bunch of cream puff hitters. The White Sox catcher may hit you with that hot bat he's been swinging lately.

Sherm is a quiet, easy-going guy who rarely has much to say but oh, how his bat has been talking lately.

The reticent Arkansan walloped two home runs Friday night, each with a man on base, to help the White Sox to a 5-1 triumph over Kansas City. It was Lollar's fourth home run in three days during which he's driven in nine runs.

The triumph together with Detroit's 11-1 shellacking of Cleveland, increased the White Sox's lead over the Indians to 3 1/2 games, five in the lost column.

Lollar leads the Sox with 17 home runs and 65 runs batted in for the season. He was the team leader last year, too, with 20 home runs and 84 runs batted in.

Boston's Red Sox erupted for nine runs in the eighth inning, overcoming a four-run deficit to defeat the New York Yankees 11-6. Washington won its third straight, topping Baltimore 7-3.

San Francisco, Los Angeles and Milwaukee all lost Friday. The Giants bowed to the Chicago Cubs 7-5, the Dodgers to St. Louis in 11 innings 2-1, and the Braves to Pittsburgh 2-1. Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 15-13 and 5-4.

Bob Shaw pitched a five-hitter for the White Sox and list his shut-out in the eighth on singles by Kent Hadley and pinch hitter Preston Ward. It was the young right-hander's 12th victory of the season, his sixth in succession. He has lost but three.

Eddie Yost, veteran Tiger third baseman, banged five straight singles—his first 5 for 5 game in 15 big league seasons—to help Frank Lary register his 15th triumph of the campaign. The veteran right-hander missed getting his fourth shutout when Tito Francona homered for Cleveland in the ninth. Detroit collected 14 hits and drove loser Cal McLish out of the box with a four-run outburst in the third to take a 7-0 lead.

The Red Sox pounded three Yankee pitchers for nine hits in the big eighth, including a grand slam homer by pinch hitter Vic Wertz. Ryno Duren was the victim of Wertz' base-clearing wallop immediately after relieving starter Whitey Ford with the bases full, nobody out and the Yankees leading 6-2. After Gary Geiger's home run had given the Red Sox the lead, Boston scored four more before Bobby Shantz put out the fire.

It was Duren who threw a home run ball Wednesday night to pinch hitter Julio Becquer with two on that gave Washington a 3-2 victory.

Harmon Killebrew hit a home run, then doubled home the tie-breaking run in Washington's victory over Baltimore.

Wightman Cup Play Is Begun

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — The Wightman Cup competition — symbol of women's tennis supremacy between the U.S. and Great Britain — got under way today with the American lasses cast in the role of underdogs.

The last time the Wightman Cup matches were held here on the clay courts of the Edgeworth Club in 1957, the U.S. carried off a 6-1 triumph with only Ann Haydon scoring for the British.

Last year, though, the British girls turned the tables in Wimbledon and recorded a 4-3 upset. And upset it was, for the Yankee lasses, spearheaded by Althea Gibson were regarded as unbeatable.

But 6-footor Christine Truman defeated Althea in the deciding singles match and the cup returned to Britain for the first time since 1930.

Flushed by their triumph, the British girls, arrived 10 days ago and have been practicing under the watchful eye of Doris Hart, onetime U.S. ace.

The American team, on the other hand, did not come as a group. Lariene Hard of Montebello, Calif., No. 1 player, arrived Thursday. Mrs. Margaret DuPont of Wilmington, Del., the non-playing co-captain, arrived Friday.

This is the 31st renewal of the series. The score stands U.S. 25, Great Britain 5.

Wilson Homers Whip Burlington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilson's second place Tobs used home run power to defeat Burlington 7-4 Friday night and out-Raleigh's lead to four games in the Carolina League race.

Raleigh lost to Winston-Salem 3-1 at Winston-Salem as George Moton held the Caps to three hits.

Maury Lerner and Max Elliott banged three run-homers to pace Wilson to its victory at Wilson.

Wilson was trailing 2-0 when Elliott delivered his blow in the sixth. Lerner's home came in the eighth.

Moton's own wildness robbed him of a shutout against Raleigh. He walked two men in the fourth and leftfielder Joe Theis singled to score Yogi Hergenrader. Winston-Salem got nine hits off two pitchers.

Durham rallied for two runs in the eighth to edge Greensboro 4-3 at Greensboro. Leo Smith drove Wilson to a 2-0 win and Jackie Moore scored Smith with a single for the winning run.

Tonight's games: Winston-Salem at Durham, Burlington at Raleigh and Wilson at Greensboro.

Hacienda Awaits Latin Athletes

CHICAGO (AP) — The Yankee hacienda for 1,600 visiting Latin American athletes opens Monday at the Pan - American Village on the University of Chicago Campus.

Village manager Col. Theodore Isaacs says it will be a tiny city, including medical and recreational facilities.

Sport stars from 25 nations will be fed and housed under the supervision of 250 Chicago volunteers. Nearly 1,000 other athletes will be housed closer to the sites of their sports events.

Cubs Could Probably Take Flag Playing The Top 3

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Chicago Cubs had only to play the National League's top three clubs, they'd probably win the pennant.

No fooling. The fourth place Cubs, playing only 478 against the second division teams, hold the season's edge on the first place San Francisco Giants and third place Milwaukee Braves while holding the second place Los Angeles Dodgers even.

Chicago's record against the Giants is 8-7; against the Dodgers it's 8-8; against the Braves is 6-7.

The Cubs made it two in a row over the Giants Friday, winning 7-5 on the strength of two-run homers by Walt Moryn, Dale Long and Ernie Banks. That gave the Cubs 15 homers in their last four games, all victories.

Despite the defeat, the Giants lost no ground to their closest pursuers as the Dodgers were beaten 2-1 in 11 innings by St. Louis and Pittsburgh defeated the Braves, also by a 2-1 score. Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 15-13 and 5-4.

Chicago's White Sox increased their American League lead over Cleveland to 3 1/2 games, defeating Kansas City 5-1 as Detroit was scalping the Indians 11-1. Boston whipped New York 11-6 with a nine-run eighth inning and Washington downed Baltimore 7-3.

Trailing 3-1 in the sixth, the Cubs tied the score on Moryn's 16th home run with a man on base. Rookie Willie McCovey put the Giants in front, 4-3, in the seventh with his third hit but the pinch hitter Dale Long's two-run homer, Banks followed with another two-run homer, his 35th of the year, to clinch the victory.

Pinch hitter Alex Grammas' bases - loaded single in the 11th won for the Cards after they had tied the score 1-1 in the ninth on Joe Cunningham's home run. Don Drysdale gave up the homer, Danny McDevitt gave up the winning hit but Clem Labine, who put the winning run on base, won his 12th. Duke Snider accounted for the Dodger run with his 18th homer.

Vern Law plied a five-hitter against the Braves for his 13th victory. Pittsburgh's two runs off Joey Jay came in the first on singles by Bob Skinner, Bob Clemente and Smokey Burgess and an error by outfielder Lee Maye. The Braves had beaten the Pirates six straight times.

The Reds pounded out 30 hits in their doubleheader sweep over the Phillies. They got 23 in the opener as they overcame an early 8-0 Philadelphia lead. A five-run rally in the ninth won it. Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson had five hits each and Willie Jones had four in the opener. One of Robinson's hits was a three-run homer, his 27th.

The Reds snapped a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning of the nightcap when Johnny Temple doubled off Jim Owens and scored on a single by Gus Bell.

Jameson, Rawls Share 3-Stroke Lean In Open

SEATTLE (AP) — Veteran Betty Jameson and Betsy Rawls carried a 3-stroke lead into today's third round of the $7,500 Women's Western Open Tournament.

The two were tied at 146 after 36 holes of play. Miss Jameson, the San Antonio blonde, started the day one stroke behind her Spartanburg, S. C., rival and pulled even by carding 75.

Two under par with a 70 in the first round, Miss Rawls was hooking her tee shots Friday and had to scramble for 76.

Most of the field found the second round rougher going and only two golfers shot 73 — Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., and Wanda Sanchez of Baton Rouge, La.

Mrs. Ziske was in third place with 149 and one stroke back were defending champion Patty Berg of Chicago, Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla., Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Pittsburgh.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga. was alone at 151 and Miss Sanchez was tied with Muriel MacKenzie of St. Petersburg, Fla., and amateur Jo Anne Gunderson of Seattle at 152.

Miteff Edges Johnson; Joins Contender Ranks

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Every time two heavyweights get together these troubled days, the winner thinks he is ready for Ingemar Johansson.

Argentina's Alex Miteff is no exception. "Johansson? Sure I want to fight him," said Alex Friday night after snapping Alonzo Johnson's 13-fight winning streak. "I am a street fighter. I fight anybody, anytime."

It probably will be a long cold day in August before Miteff ever gets a chance at the world championship but he should get plenty of work after Friday night's winning effort.

Teddy Brenner, the Madison Square Garden matchmaker, wants to pit him against Eddie Machen or Willie Pastrano when they reopen the arena in October. Meanwhile, Miteff will be recovering from a cut left eye that required two or three stitches. He also has a swollen finger.

Miteff hardly looked like a winner when they rang the bell. But he won it all right on the cards of all three officials. Referee Mark Conn and Judge Phil Botwinbaum scored it 6-4 and Judge Leo Birnbaum had it 7-3. The AP card also was for Miteff 5-3-2.

Despite his swollen eye, Miteff made Johnson fight his kind of fight. When Johnson tried to trade with Miteff he got the worst of it. When he boxed at long range and struck out with his slashing punches, Johnson was in command. Most of the time they fought at close range where Miteff gave Alonzo's body an unmerciful pounding.

Miteff at 208 pounds to Johnson's 185 1/2, had a small rubber tire hanging over the top of his trunk. He claimed the extra weight is good for him. "Maybe it doesn't look good but I felt great," he said. "For the first time I didn't get tired."

Got No Hits, But Sanford Won

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Sanford failed to collect a single hit here Friday night but still defeated Asheboro 1-0 to win the Little Tar Heel League state championship.

The winning run came in the bottom of the seventh and extra inning when Sanford filled the bases on two walks and a passed ball. It was then that Sandy Symmes stole home with the game-winning run.

Aussie Netters Termed Shaken

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Their confidence shaken, the Australians sent Wimbledon champions Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson against a pair of upstart Indians today in an effort to retain the initiative in the Davis Cup inter-zone finals.

"We are naturally concerned," said the Australian captain, Harry Hopman. "We still believe we can win but it would be more comfortable if we were 2-0 instead of 1-1."

Fraser and Emerson take the center court at the Longwood Cricket Club against Ramanathan Krishnan and Premjit Lal, who put tremendous pressure on the favored Aussies in Friday's opening singles.

Krishnan, who made every stroke count, upset Rod Laver, the Wimbledon runner, 6-1, 6-4, 8-10, 6-4.

Lall, an 18-year-old Calcutta student playing in his first big international match, gave an impressive account of himself before bowing to Neale Fraser, senior member of the Australian team, 10-8, 6-4, 6-1.

"We may surprise in doubles," said Krishnan. "We have played together before and have won many tournaments in India. The Australians should beat us but we concede nothing."

Even if they win in doubles, the Australians must score another point before they can qualify for the challenge round Aug. 28-30 against the United States. In Sunday's final singles, Krishnan plays Fraser and Lall meets Laver.

That's a lot of parts to assemble for any one job even if they do make only one at a time. But think of the problem of ordering and collecting all the parts that go into the mechanisms which our factories put together on assembly lines, from millions of incoming parts at one end to thousands of outgoing complicated machines on the other end.

In our new automobiles there are some 13,000 individual pieces, which flow off the assembly lines a complete unit at the rate of hundreds per day. That's some job of coordination! And SOME job of making sure it is in perfect condition before we deliver it to you, to say nothing of servicing it properly for you for years to come. Three From Pitt Attended TB Meet

Three Pitt County TB workers were among those who attended the Raleigh District of Tuberculosis Workers regional meeting held at the Eastern North Carolina Sanatorium in Wilson Thursday.

Attending from Pitt were Mrs. Milton Clarke, chairman of the Tuberculosis regional; Mrs. Goldy Hemmingway, public health nurse and Miss Hazel Corey, tuberculosis clerk.

Members of the Public Health nursing staffs of the 12 counties included in the regional were invited. Twenty-five persons attended.

The purpose of a tuberculosis association and the approved of principles of a Tuberculosis Association were explained to the workers by the use of a film strip. They are: fact finding, education, demonstration, legislation, evaluation and joint planning.

Mrs. Lula Belle Rich, chief health education secretary of the State Board of Health; Miss Mary Hayes, health educator of the State Board of Health and Miss Mary Rummel, assistant chief of the nursing section for the State Board of Health acted as consultants during the discussion that followed the film strip, along with Miss Addie M. Darden, Miss Lillian Wilson and Mrs. Velma Joynor of the N. C. Tuberculosis Association.

Ideas were exchanged from the Health Department standpoint and that of the tuberculosis workers.

Suggestions were made for creating better understanding between official agencies and voluntary health agencies by increasing joint or projected planning of each agency.

AT TB WORKERS MEETING . . . Mrs. Hemmingway, Mrs. Clarke. Miss Corey also attended.

Gives Rule-Of-Thumb For Staying In Hog Business

Should Pitt County farmers stay in the hog raising business in the face of recent price declines?

Assistant County Agent C. J. Goodman says they should if their swine raising operations meet certain minimums.

Farmers should stay in the hog business if they can answer "yes" to the following questions:

1. Are you selling eight pigs per litter?
2. Do your pigs weigh 40 pounds at eight weeks of age?
3. At five and a half months, do your hogs weigh 200 pounds,
4. Are you producing 100 pounds of pork on 350 pounds of feed?
5. Do you have the "meat type" hogs?
6. Are you producing enough grain to feed your hogs?

"These standards are the bare minimum," Goodman emphasized. "Many swine producers are producing nine pigs per litter weighing 50 pounds at eight weeks, and producing 100 pounds of pork on 320 pounds of feed at five months of age."

"We believe that with good swine practices farmers can make more money in marketing their corn by feeding it through live-stock," he declared. "Good swine practices would include vaccination and sanitation, along with plenty of shade, feed and water."

McDonald Looks One Last Try To For Long Strike Solve A Mystery

DETROIT (AP)—United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald says prospects are bleak for an early settlement of the nationwide steel strike.

McDonald, on a tour of Detroit area picket lines Friday, told newsmen the strike will end when Roger M. Blough, president of U.S. Steel Corp., "decides to end it."

Later he told a union rally "This won't be a short strike."

At a news conference, McDonald was asked if he thought President Eisenhower might employ the Taft-Hartley Act and invoke an 80-day anti-strike injunction, McDonald replied:

"I don't know what the President might do. He seems to have no immediate plans."

However, McDonald said an injunction would contribute nothing toward settlement. "In fact," he said, "it would simply delay settlement."

McDonald told newsmen, "The steel companies will terminate this shutdown when inventories are sufficiently low to enable them to put into effect another completely unwarranted and unjustified increase of three to six times what it should be."

The industry's position throughout negotiations has been that in refusing to yield to the steelworkers wage demands, it is holding the line against inflation. The industry claims that a wage increase would force a price increase and thus contribute to inflation.

Report Of Big Four Plan Puts U.S. On The Spot

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States has been put on the spot in the United Nations by reports that the Big Four foreign ministers have agreed the next committee to negotiate on disarmament should be divided equally between Communist and Western Nations.

Why, a number of members ask, has the United States agreed to East-West parity after vigorously opposing Soviet demands for it for several years?

Repercussions in the U.N. followed word from Geneva and Paris that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union had agreed to set up a 10-nation group to resume disarmament negotiations deadlocked since 1957.

The proposed group would have the Western Big Three plus Italy and Canada on one side, and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania on the other.

U.S. and British officials insist no final decision has been reached on makeup of the group.

Reliable sources say the Soviet Union at Geneva renewed its demand for parity and that the

Abandoned Wife Is Not Certain She'll Forgive

DUBLIN, Ga. (AP)—The sorrowing wife, who with her four children attended memorial services for a "dead" husband and father, was reported uncertain as to whether she would take him back.

Mrs. L. E. Pettis was quoted Friday night as saying she "was certain in her mind that (her husband) is sick."

Mrs. Pettis' comments were reported by her brother, Buford Edward of Dublin. He said he talked with her by telephone at her home in Asheboro, N.C.

Pettis, 35-year-old Asheboro machinery salesman, was the object of an intensive search in a swamp near here and finally was given up for lost. He turned up in Irving, Tex., near Dallas Thursday and was held on a felony warrant charging abandonment of his wife and children. He said he would not fight extradition.

The friendly redhead told newsmen and police that he accidentally overturned his boat while fishing near here June 6. Due to "my physical condition," he said, he decided the accident would serve as an excuse to "get away from it all."

Irving Police Chief C. J. Wiranik said Pettis was suffering from a "near nervous breakdown."

Mrs. Pettis, according to her brother, agreed with the premise that her husband was sick, saying that "there is no possible way that he could have done what he did" otherwise.

Edward quoted her as stating, "What he did is not what the Lee Pettis to whom she had been married for eight years would have done."

Pettis, who said he still loves his wife, expressed the belief she would take him back.

After his arrest at the home of his mother and brother Pettis said "I want to go back."

He told officers and newsmen regarding his escapade: "Take a tool's advice. Don't do it. You can't live with yourself."

Police And Fire Hoses End Melee

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Fire hoses and squads of police broke up a Negro district melee touched off early today when detectives searching for a strong-arm bandit attempted to question a man.

Several persons were injured slightly, and a dozen were brought to police headquarters. Some 200 to 300 persons milled about in the area.

Two policemen were hit by rocks. Police said persons in the crowd had thrown stones and bottles at police in a dozen squad cars sent to the scene about 1 a.m. Several persons were treated at a hospital and released.

College Prexy Raps Uncertain Views Of West

WILSON, N.C. (AP)—A new college president declared Friday night, "I am ashamed of the manner in which many communists will outdo those of us who believe in the tenets of Christian education."

Dr. Thomas A. Collins, president of North Carolina Wesleyan College at Rocky Mount, spoke at summer graduation exercises at Atlantic Christian College. Forty eight seniors received degrees.

"As an educated Christian," said Dr. Collins, "I must abominate the philosophy of communism. It denies so many things I hold to be sacred; it deludes so many with false promises; it exploits so many things I think should be abused. Nevertheless, I am ashamed of the manner in which many communists will outdo those of us who believe in the tenets of Christian education."

"They are so boldly confident. We appear to be uncertain," he said.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The spiritual relationship of God and man will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Opening selections to be read from the Bible present these verses from Psalms (63:1,2): "O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is; To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this citation will be read (120:4): "Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man coexists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image."

The Golden Text is also from Psalms (99:9): "Exalt the Lord our God, and worship at His holy hill; for the Lord our God is holy."

A five-year-old girl escaped serious injury yesterday when she allegedly ran into the side of a slow moving car near the intersection of 12th and Evans Sts. about 4:10 p.m.

According to investigating officers, Ruby Adell Omar of 1207 Evans St. received bruises as a result of colliding with a car driven by Lois Benton Jones of 403 East 13th St.

Police quoted the driver of the car as saying she was headed North on Evans about 15 miles per hour when the small girl ran from the curb in front of 1207 Evans St. into the side of the vehicle.

No damage was reported to the car and no charges were made by officers.

Rites Sunday For Lee Burton Jenkins

WASHINGTON, N. C.—Lee Burton (Red) Jenkins, 38, of Washington was electrocuted accidentally at Reidsville Friday while working with an electric drill on a State Highway Patrol project.

Jenkins was a native of Beaufort County and the son of Claude E. Jenkins and Belle Ayers Jenkins. He was a maintenance man for the Patrol and had served in the Williamston and Greenville shops. He married the former Corinne Holloway of Pitt County, who survives along with his parents.

Surviving are a son, Lee Jr. of Jacksonville; a stepdaughter, Lina Gayle Stokes of the home; four sisters, Mrs. Charles Benoit of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. William Sletos of West Virginia, Mrs. Luther Bowen Jr. and Mrs. E. Ward Odum of Williamston; one brother, C. E. Jenkins, in Korea with the Army.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Paul Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. Howard James of Red Oak Christian Church. Burial will follow in the Oakdale Cemetery.

House Bill Has Carolina Works

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carolina projects are included in a Public Works Appropriation Bill passed by the House Friday. The $1,206,748,549 bill will go to the Senate Monday for action.

The bill as passed by the House is $30,000,000 more than President Eisenhower asked in his budget recommendations.

Most of the money will go to the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau to plan, build and maintain flood control, navigation, power and reclamation projects.

The following projects were included in both the Senate and House versions:

Wilkesboro dam and reservoir in North Carolina, one million dollars for initial construction; $51,000 for surveying Pantego-Cuckler's creek area; $18,000 toward a future public works project at Surf City-New Topsail Inlet; $600,000 for deepening the harbor at Morehead City to 35 feet.

Projects approved for Georgia include $26,400,000 for construction of the Hartwell reservoir and $950,000 for construction on the Savannah River below Augusta.

Firemen Respond To 'Home' Fire

Greenville Firemen responded to a "home" fire yesterday at Keel's Warehouse, 1715 Dickinson Ave., about 11:15 a.m.

According to responding firefighters, a short circuit in a neon sign on the front of the building caused a birds nest to catch on fire.

Firemen said they did not know if the "home" was occupied at the time of the blaze which did little damage to the sign but destroyed the bird nest.

Leaving Sunday For International Convention

Six local people will leave Sunday for the 1959-60 international convention of the Loyal Order of Moose, at Pittsburgh, which opens tomorrow night.

Delegates from lodges in all the states, as well as from Great Britain and Canada will be present. The convention agenda includes election of Supreme Lodge officers and officers of the Grand Council of the Order.

Others attending the international convention are: J. G. Proctor (delegate), Edwin M. Baldree (alternate), Andy Carrigan, Mrs. Louise Carrigan, and Mrs. Evelyn Baldree.

Mrs. Jo Dees, Senior Regent of Chapter 1308, WOTM, will receive there a recorder's pin for her services as recorder and general advancement of the Greenville Lodge.

The convention will close Thursday afternoon.

Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Alonza Weaver

Mrs. Margaret Darden Weaver, 76, widow of Alonza Robert Weaver, died at the home of her sister, Miss Nancy Darden, near Willow Green in Greene County Saturday morning at six o'clock after two weeks of illness. Funeral services will be conducted at the home Sunday afternoon at 3:30 by the Rev. Jack Daniell, pastor of the Farmville Christian Church. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery in Farmville.

Mrs. Weaver was born and reared in the Willow Green Community and had lived in Rocky Mount for a number of years. Since January, 1959, she had made her home at Willow Green. She was a member of the Farmville Christian Church.

Surviving are a sister, Miss Nancy Darden of the home, a brother, William Darden of the home, and a number of nieces and nephews. The family request that no flowers be sent.

There are approximately 11 million Hebrews, scattered in almost every land.

Keeps Up A Big Lawn

PART OF . . . the Du Pont plant's spacious 85-acre front lawn that borders N. C. 11 in front of the huge synthetic fibre plant. Such an amount of lawn creates quite a mowing problem for General Labor Foreman Don Edman. The plant's spacious pecan grove is in the background.

GASSING UP . . . Edman gives safety and mowing instructions to yard man James Locke of Greenville as he pours gas into one of the plant's grass-cutting machines. This particular one cuts a path 32 inches wide at a time.

Text and Photos
By Henry Howard

GETTING STARTED . . . Locke swings out onto the four-and-one-half-acre front lawn directly in front of plant's main office building. The little machine is moved along snappily by an eight horsepower engine.

PLANNING THE WORK . . . of getting the grass cut, Edman (left) and Pete Nelson (pointing) vacation relief foreman, "size up" the situation and decide where to start mowing.

TRIMMING THE EDGES . . . Yard man Phelix Daugherty, who lives near the plant, uses hand clippers to trim the shrubbery around the safety sign standing by the main entrance to the plant.

MOUNTING UP . . . Tractor driver Dan Daugherty of Kinston climbs onto the tractor which is used to mow the grass on the large front lawn, the plant enclosure, which has 55 acres, and the lawn around the picnic area which has 22 acres.

LARGEST MACHINE . . . of all, the tractor, manned by Daugherty, cuts a swath 96 inches wide through the lawn surrounding the plant's employee picnic area. In the background is the pavilion which houses picnic tables.

'Position Of Strength' Favored By Nixon

Tooth Glue May Eliminate Those Plates, Bridges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of a "tooth glue" that might eventually eliminate the need for dental plates and bridges was reported today by Navy medical researchers.

Other possibilities:

Take a tooth out, fill it, glue it back in; extract teeth that need straightening; glue them back in neat order; perhaps repair broken bones.

Experiments with dogs indicate that after a tooth is pulled, the original tooth or an artificial substitute can be reinserted in the socket with the new cementing substance.

Capt. Thomas J. Canty described the development. He is director of the Prosthetics Research Laboratories of the Navy Hospital at Oakland, Calif., where the research is under way.

Canty is in Washington to report on the development to high Navy officials. He gave a reporter the details in an interview.

Canty said a dog now sports a tooth that was glued in about a year ago. The dog said the tooth was able to eat the day after the dental glue job.

The researcher stressed that no dental glue studies have yet been made on humans, nor is the Navy making any claims that the technique will work on man. But he added "the animal work looks very promising for possible human application."

"If the technique should prove successful in humans," he said, "you could have a full set of teeth extracted and then replace them with synthetic teeth, or teeth from a tissue bank, which could be secured in the jaw without need for the usual denture plate, which is uncomfortable for some people. It also should be less expensive."

"A tooth requiring a filling could be taken out, filled, and then reinserted in the socket."

"Or, you might need to have your teeth straightened. Such teeth could be extracted and re-aligned in their sockets."

He said the "glue" is actually made of materials that go to make up human bone—including calcium, phosphorus and glycogen. The basic material is in liquid form but a resinous "polyester" material is added to convert it to a solid. Certain catalysts are also added to make the material set quickly after the tooth is imbedded in it.

The glue serves to hold the tooth firmly until natural bone ultimately grows around the tooth and grasps it permanently.

Canty said the same material also shows experimental promise for the quick repair of bone fractures in man and animals.

CHICAGO (AP)—A position of strength offers America's greatest hope for reaching agreements with the Soviet Union, says Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Strength is the only thing the Russian leaders understand," Nixon said. "I mean military strength. When one side has more strength than the other, you get ultimatums that could lead to war."

The vice president said his recent tour of the Soviet Union and Poland has convinced him the only hope for progress toward world peace is for the United States to deal from a position of strength at any future summit conference.

Nixon, in Chicago for Friday night's College All-Star football game with the Baltimore Colts, expressed his views at a press conference and at an informal talk to the Football Writers' Assn. of America.

Nixon, in a television program recorded in Washington for New York stations in advance of his trip to Chicago, said Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev believes the United States is weak, sinking economically and split over foreign policy.

He said Khrushchev's forthcoming visit to America will be worthwhile if it removes "his miscalculation" about U.S. strength and determination. The net effect, he added, could advance the cause of peace.

Nixon said the Soviets repeatedly had asked him "Why is the United States so heavily armed? Why do you have your bases abroad?"

"And I told them simply and directly, because a good offense is the best defense. I told them our establishment of overseas bases and the tremendous effort we are putting into arms production is the result of the Soviet Union's actions in Korea and in the Berlin blockade and elsewhere in the world where its power was threatening the free world."

"I told the Russians that we believe the best way to see that this threat doesn't materialize is to have offensive power."

"I told them that only an aggressor nation need fear anything from the United States or her allies in the world today."

The vice president, visiting her as a football fan, acted like a presidential candidate.

But he told a reporter it is too early to discuss candidates for national office in 1960.

From the time of his arrival Friday morning he began shaking hands—airport porters, small boys, policemen, reporters, and every passerby within reach. He made an unscheduled appearance at a public restaurant for dinner before leaving for the football game. He found time to shake the hands of diners who came to his table.

After the game he went to the All-Stars dressing room and shook hands with each of the 49 players who were in sad spirits after losing to the Colts, 29-0. Then he left for a late supper party at a hotel — and shook more hands until leaving after midnight for his hotel suite.

Nixon arranged to fly to Cleveland and then motor to Akron, Ohio, for the annual Soap-Box Derby.

Four women die in car collision

MANNING, S.C. (AP) — Four women on their way home from work at a garment factory were fatally injured when their car collided head-on with a pickup truck near here last night.

Police said a tire blew on the truck, causing it to swerve into the path of the car.

The two men in the truck were listed at a hospital in serious but improving condition.

All the women were white, married, and from Rt. 1, Sumter. They were Mrs. Jack Morris, 46, identified as the driver of the car; Mrs. Vera Hodge, 25, Mrs. Linda Poole, 56, and Mrs. Pearl Haley, 45.

In the truck were two Negroes of Rt. 1, Manning, Lester Butler 21, and Charles Adger, also 21. Police said the left front tire blew.

Manning is 19 miles south of Sumter.

Tougher Law On Street Walkers

LONDON (AP)—London army of street walkers is expected to go underground at midnight tonight.

A new law then goes into force, aimed at clearing the streets of parading prostitutes.

They will run the risk of a jail sentence and hefty fine if they are repeatedly caught soliciting.

Up to now they have faced a nominal fine of two pounds—$5.60—paid up willingly and gone back to their beat.

MEETS THE PRESIDENT—Gail Standill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Standill of Greenville, shook hands with President Eisenhower on the White House lawn earlier this week. The occasion was the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association meeting in Washington, D. C., which Gail attended with her parents.

Princess Anne, Youngest Of Royal Family, Is Nine Today

COMPANY'S COMING — Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne will have a brother or sister if doctors' predictions come true. It was announced officially that Queen Elizabeth is expecting a child in 1960.

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Anne, youngest member of Britain's royal family, is 9 years old today.

With her mother, Queen Elizabeth II, expecting a third child early next year, this was Anne's last birthday as the baby of the royal palaces.

The change of status is bound to make a difference to this lively, imaginative child.

She will see even less of her busy mother than she does now. If the new baby is a girl, Anne's position in line of succession to the throne will not be affected. But if the baby is a boy, he will precede her.

She is now second in line, immediately behind 10-year-old Prince Charles and just ahead of Princess Margaret, the Queen's sister.

Friends of the Queen say that Anne and her brother are keenly aware of their royal position.

Charles knows that one day he will be king, and Anne knows she is next in line.

Both have been told by their mother that a baby brother or baby sister is on the way.

Anne is in many ways a remarkable child.

She can outrun, outstride and sometimes outfight her brother.

Although she greatly resembles her mother in facial features, she is more like her aunt Margaret in character.

She is vivacious, mercurial and interested in nearly everything that goes on around her. She has shown an unusual aptitude in learning French, can draw and paint well and has a sure musical ear.

Like Margaret, she is easily distracted.

Anne still drops whatever she is doing to run to a palace window everytime the band plays in the courtyard for the changing of the guard.

Like Margaret, Anne is a mimic and can impersonate certain mannerisms of her teacher, her governess and several palace officials. She is impish, too.

Up until this birthday, her schooling has been private and in a classroom at the palace. Friends of the royal family say that Anne is now beginning to be allowed to go to a day school. The Queen and Anne's father, Prince Philip, will probably give in.

She will spend her birthday at Balmoral Castle in Scotland where the royal family is now on summer vacation.

A palace spokesman said that if the weather is good Sunday the Queen will take Anne on a birthday picnic.

"And if it's bad," suggested Anne, "I'd like to go fishing."

Test Of Front Royal's Integration Views Seen

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP)—A test of this northern Virginia community's sentiment on desegregation may come today as bi-racial registration continues at predominantly white Warren County High School.

Eleven Negroes and 65 white youngsters signed up for the 1959-60 session Friday as the two races appeared together on the school grounds for the first time since the segregation controversy began last September. The registration took place calmly.

While the number of white registrants seemed small in comparison to the 1,050 eligible to attend the school, County School Supt. Q. D. Gasque said he expected a larger turnout today when parents won't be working.

The 11 Negroes who registered were among the 21 who attended the high school last year, Gasque said. They were the only students who attended classes when the school was desegregated in February.

Warren County High was closed last September under non-defunct massive resistance laws struck down by federal and state courts. White students in February chose to remain in a private school set up by the Warren County Educational Foundation.

At a mass meeting here Thursday night, more than 1,500 county residents voted overwhelmingly to continue the private school this year. Registration for it is scheduled next week.

Several parents who asked to remain unidentified said Friday they were sending their children to register for the public school but would enter them in the private school if it opens again this fall.

There were two other developments, both involving Charles E. Leadman, business agent for the local Textile Workers Union.

Leadman said a petition seeking to declare the public high school surplus and to sell the property probably would be filed in the Circuit Court office here today.

Under a state law passed at the recent special session of the Virginia Legislature, the court must order a referendum if the petition is signed by 10 per cent of the number of persons who voted in the last presidential election. About 200 signatures would be required, and Leadman said between 600 and 700 county residents had signed.

Leadman also said a meeting of various community officials and representatives of the Negroes seeking admission to white schools will be held next week. Some observers said the referendum petition would be used in an effort to dissuade the Negroes from seeking to attend the white school.

If citizens vote to declare the building surplus in a referendum, the property presumably could be sold to a private corporation for use as a segregated school for white children.

Integration apparently will take place in four Virginia school systems this fall besides Front Royal — at Norfolk, Arlington, Alexandria and Charlottesville. All but Charlottesville operated some integrated schools during the second half of the 1958-59 term.

Indonesian Reds Plan Defy Ban

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian Communist party announced today it will go ahead with plans to hold its National Congress Aug 22 to 31, despite a ban imposed by the army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution.

The party's secretary general, Dipa Nusantara Aidit, said: "We have permission, and we are going ahead."

State Employees To Get Pay Hike

RALEIGH (AP) — New pay schedules approved for a wide variety of jobs will mean pay raises for more than 500 state employees.

The State Personnel Council Friday approved the increases, which will go to workers in 25 agencies and institutions. The smallest raise was $96 a year and the largest more than $100 a month.

The State Personnel Department pointed out it was another step by the state in its continuing effort to keep the state's pay schedules in competition with private business.

Anniversaries For South Korea

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea today celebrated a dual anniversary — the 11th of the founding of the republic and the 14th of her liberation from four decades of Japanese rule.

Some 50,000 students and citizens attended a government sponsored rally at the Seoul Stadium ball park.

Eddie Cantor first appeared on stage in vaudeville at the Clinton Music Hall, New York, in 1907.

Red China's Top Leaders Confer

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's government, military and party leaders are holding a top level conference. Peiping radio disclosed today.
The announcement of the extraordinary meeting of the Communist party Central Committee and the State Council said important national problems were being discussed.
Possible subjects were believed to be agriculture, the peasant communes, the Laos situation and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming visit to the United States.

Bing Crosby To See Boys' Show

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Bing Crosby, getting in some salmon fishing in British Columbia waters, reported by radiotelephone Thursday he plans to see the night club act of his four older sons as soon as he returns.
Crosby, declining to comment on reports he and his oldest son Gary, 26, are estranged, said he was delighted over the favorable reviews the boys' act was getting.
"I'll probably catch their show in Las Vegas right after Phil Harris and I return in two or three days," Crosby said.

CHAPTER 10

Link Asbell found Whit Henderson in his store, perched on one end of the counter. The store-keeper waved a welcoming hand.

"Whit," Asbell said, "thanks for helping out last night. You left before I had a chance to say it then."

While Henderson grinned. "My friend, it was a pleasure. More than once I've had to take some rough talk from Bardo Sampson. So I got a lot of satisfaction in making him be good with his own gun. I must admit I thoroughly enjoyed seeing both him and Jonas Dalmar on the floor. Both of them had it coming."

Asbell considered for a sober moment, his eyes pinched down. Then:

"After a night's sleep, Whit, and from here, what's your opinion of that affair? Was there more to it than showed on the surface, or, in thinking there was, am I letting my imagination run away with me?"

Henderson's answer was quick and positive.

"If you mean did Dalmar and Sampson—Dalmar in particular—set out to scrub up trouble, I say yes, definitely! Bardo Sampson, well, he might have been nasty merely because he'd backed several losing hands during the evening, for he's thick-headed at poker as well as being a poor sport. On the other hand, Jonas Dalmar—now there's a man who never made a move in his life without some previously figured purpose behind it. Even in a low limit, table stakes game among friends he'll sit there, cold and sarcastic and sardonic, calculating every move and all the odds. There's a man, Link, whose sole purpose in life is to win, to be top dog, no matter what he has to do to get there."

"Obliged for the opinion," Asbell said. "I wanted to be sure I wasn't jumping at conclusions. A man's got to watch that his personal opinions don't sway his judgement out of balance."

"You're wondering, of course," deduced Whit Henderson shrewdly, "whether your trouble last night is somehow connected with the killing of Packy Lane?"

Asbell, about to take a short turn up and down in front of the counter, came around quickly.

"Doc Jerome tell you about Packy?"

Henderson nodded. "He stopped in on his way back from Rosebud Creek. Bad business, Link."

"All of that," Asbell scrubbed a restless hand across his chin. "You know, Whit—if Big Five were mine, a lot of decisions would be a hell of a lot easier to make. As it is, I got to look after Big Five affairs, and, while seeing that nobody takes advantage of us, still keep my feet on the ground and the ranch out of trouble. It sort of leaves a man not knowing which way to turn."

"I know," Henderson said sympathetically. "The last thing you want in the world is to get mixed up in any kind of trouble that might endanger the future of Big Five, which would also mean that of Sue Vincent. Old Mike Vincent left you with a lot of responsibilities, didn't he?"

"Some," Asbell admitted. "I don't mind that part, though. The tough angle is not knowing quite where you stand or what might be coming. Or how far you dare go in stomping out trouble."

"Those," declared Whit Henderson thoughtfully, "are things which only time will provide the answer to. It's like this, Link. Either your trouble last night and the killing of Packy Lane are tied together, or they're not. If not, probably there's the end of it. For Dalmar and Sampson and Sage Wingo certainly found out that you were a good man to leave alone. On the other hand, if there is a connection, some further move is sure to be made, to prove a definite plan and purpose at work. So, presently, you'll know exactly where you stand and where Big Five stands. And when you know that, you'll also know what you have to do."

A step sounded at the door and a man was framed there. A small drift of air seeping in, brought with it the aroma of expensive cigar smoke. Pausing for a moment while his eyes adjusted from bright sunlight to warm shadow, Charley Tunison came on into the store.

The lawyer was a well-set-up and well-preserved man, though the somewhat florid coloring in his carefully barbered cheeks suggested an overindulgence for good food and good whiskey. His hair, slightly curly, was shot with gray, his manner and expression affable. But his somewhat pale blue eyes carried a suggestion of staring hardness which made his easy smile seem more mechanical than natural, as though it were something he could turn on or off as the need of the moment dictated.

"Order now, it was on. He took his cigar from his lips and waved it lightly.

"Link—Whit—how are you?"

Before either could answer, he put further words at the store-keeper.

"You order up those cigars for me, Whit?"

"Order went off on Friday's stage," Henderson answered.

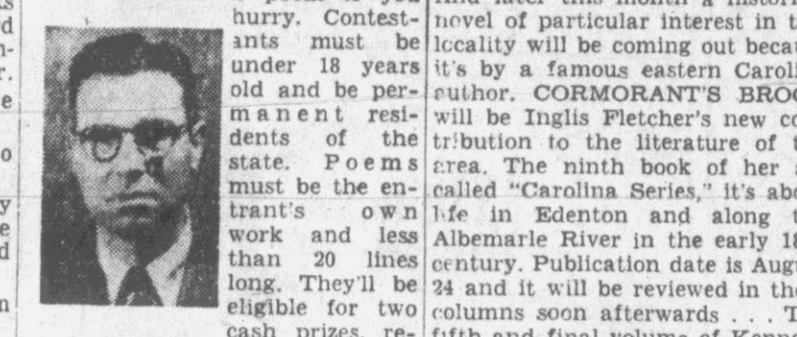

The lawyer turned to Asbell. "Sorry about Packy Lane, Link. Doc Jerome was in to have me notarize an affidavit as to cause of death. Doc felt it would be smart to have such a document on record in case any sort of official inquiry ever came out of Chris Hatfield's office in Oakdale, which I doubt, it definitely was a killing, Link?"

Privately, Link Asbell had never particularly cared for Charley Tunison. He admitted the man's professional shrewdness, but

Books & Stuff

By DR. ED HIRSHBERG

We want to remind young poets and young would-be poets previously announced contests of the Poetry Council of N. C. are still open, but the deadline for all entries is August 28, so you have time to go out under the nearest tree and write a poem if you hurry. Contestants must be under 18 years old and be permanent residents of the state. Poems must be the entrant's own work and less than 20 lines long. They'll be eligible for two cash prizes, representing the Virginia Dare and Thomas Jefferson awards, which will be presented at the Annual Poetry Day program in Asheville on October 15. Young poets who want further details please call this Column—but better hurry . . .

More Awards

For the fast money—write. Here are some opportunities. Putnam's publishers have just announced that they will guarantee $5,000 against royalties to any writer who submits a book to them that they think is good enough to be designated as a Putnam Award book. They'll also promise to spend $5,000 more trying to sell it—and will pay royalties on all copies sold, so how can you lose? . . . Macmillan is offering an annual prize of $2,500 to murder mystery writers called the Cook Robin Award. First winner already has been announced. He's Paul Anderson, for PERISH BY THE SWORD, about a private detective named Trygve Yamamura, a Norwegian Japanese who is adept at both judo and handling a Samurai sword—sounds like a man even Mike Hammer might not be too eager to tangle with. The book will be out in September . . . And writers of Westerns can try for the Spur Award, offered annually by the Western Writers of America. Latest winner in SHORT CUT TO RED RIVER, by Noel Loomis.

Out and Coming

Just published is the Literary Guild's August selection, SEEK THE PAIR LAND, by Walter Macken, an adventure story told against the background of 17th century Ireland during the time of Oliver Cromwell and his persecutions of the Irish people . . . And later this month a historical novel of particular interest in this locality will be coming out because it's by a famous eastern Carolina author, CORMORANT'S BLOOD will be Inglis Fletcher's new contribution to the literature of the area. The ninth book of her so-called "Carolina Series," it's about life in Edenton and along the Albemarle River in the early 18th century. Publication date is August 24 and it will be reviewed in these columns soon afterwards . . . The fifth and final volume of Kenneth Williams' military history of the Civil War, LINCOLN FINDS A GENERAL, will come out in October. Unfinished because Dr. Williams died in 1938 before its completion, the last chapters would have covered the Battle of Chattanooga and Grant's trip to Washington to receive his commission as Lt. General from President Lincoln—who had found his general at last . . .

Big Reading

Paperback publishers are really coming into their own with Harry Golden's ONLY IN AMERICA, now out in 1,300,000 paperback copies, no less. The hard-cover edition still is Number 6 among the best sellers, with his new one, FOR 2c PLAIN, in Number 4 spot. Some people . . . Speaking of big reading, the Sheppard Memorial Library care-takers tell us that never before in their memory have so many young people read so many books as they are reading this summer. And good for them, we say . . .

Today's Review

A young but capable newcomer to The Column comments on a recent book about a great scientist . . . Before you read it, we want you to know that last week's reviewer—she did a fine job on MAIN STREET, U.S.S.R., you remember—was Margeryf Cramer, whose by-line was omitted by mistake . . .

DARWIN AND THE DARWINIAN REVOLUTION. Gertrude Himmelfarb. Garden City, New York: Doubleday and Company, Inc., 1950.

The revolutionary theories contained in Charles Darwin's ORIGIN OF THE SPECIES and DESCENT OF MAN have been a subject of constant controversy ever since their publication. There has been much new interest lately as a result of the Darwin series in LIFE and a number of new books on Darwinism.

This book is about as comprehensive as one could want. It covers Darwin's life and achievements and presents a thorough analysis of the scientific beliefs of Darwin's time. The scientific philosophy that prevailed in the early 19th century is shown for what it really was—an obstruction to clear scientific thought.

Gertrude Himmelfarb has devoted years of research to this book and seems to be acquainted with everything ever written about Darwin. She makes two important points in her book. First, it is inevitable that someone would assert a theory of evolution. Darwin was not alone in his beliefs; he was simply more perceptive and energetic than his contemporary evolutionists. Secondly, most of the controversy between theologians and evolutionists is pointless, a fact now obvious to almost everyone.

The book is concluded with an appraisal of Darwin's work. Dr. Himmelfarb believes that the ORIGIN was "the catalyst that broke up the crust of conventional opinion". It truly legitimized free scientific thought.

This is a well organized book, and it was a pleasure to read such concise, objective discussion on an often misunderstood subject. DARWIN AND THE DARWINIAN REVOLUTION is an excellent book for readers interested in human evolution or in Darwin himself.

Skipjack Went Faster, Deeper

PORTLAND, England (AP)—The commander of the Skipjack said today this newest U.S. nuclear submarine "went faster than any other submarine has gone submerged and went deeper than any other sub" at one stage of her recent transatlantic crossing.

Cmdr. W. W. Behrens, 37, declined to reveal either the submerged speed or the diving depth. The Skipjack arrived today after a training trip across the Atlantic.

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—An annoyed bee apparently gave him both barrels, 40-year-old Clarence Kinney told attendants at Memorial Hospital. He said the bee came after him as he mowed the lawn, and stung him over both eyes.

U. S. Adventurer Holding Key Place In Castro Cuba

By BILL NEWKIRK

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Maj. William Morgan, the adventurous American who has emerged as a key man for Fidel Castro in some cloak-and-dagger operations in Cuba, showed signs of his daring spirit when he was only three.

At that tender age, neighbors of his family in Toledo spotted little Billy Morgan toddling resolutely down his street with a handful of personal treasures wrapped in a handkerchief.

"I go to New York to see Major Bowers," the boy explained indignantly to his astounded mother, referring to the late star of a radio amateur show.

"That boy hasn't given me a moment's peace since then," says Mrs. A. W. Morgan, wife of a retired electric utility company executive. "That's why my hair is gray."

Latest exploits of the 30-year-old Morgan were discussed by Castro Friday night in a television appearance during which Castro attacked Rafael L. Trujillo, boss of the Dominican Republic.

Morgan played his part so well, Trujillo believed he had "bought and paid for" Morgan's loyalty. Castro said. The Cuban leader said Trujillo went so far as to name Morgan head of a conspiracy against Castro, replacing Euterio Pedraza, a general under Batista who had been regarded abroad as the leader of the anti-Castro forces training in the Dominican Republic.

A Cuban military spokesman said Morgan had tricked an arms-laden plane from the Dominican Republic into landing Thursday night at Trinidad Airport where it was seized in a sunfight.

Morgan joined Castro in 1957 upon learning that a friend had been killed by Cuban secret police while smuggling arms to Castro's rebels.

He led guerrilla fighters known as the "Tigers of the Espesura" in 15 battles against Batista forces.

Morgan once said his force of 5,000 was reduced to 3,000 in the fighting.

Alfred The Owl Briefly Went AWOL; Is Returned

BALTIMORE (AP)—A few years ago a couple of country owls dropped into the city.

To visit city owls? Perhaps. Or maybe to scratch up new excitement you can't find hanging around a barn all night and day.

Anyway, Alfred and his wife folded their wings and settled down in a tree near a storage tank of the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co.

Nice setup. The utility people let them have the run of the tank. In return, Mr. and Mrs. Owl swooped down and kept the grounds clear of mice and other rodents.

But even a good setup can get boring.

So a few days ago Alfred decided to go AWOL. No good-bye peck to the Mrs. No leave-of-absence with the gas and electric people, either.

With a brisk flap of wings and dark eyes wide open, Alfred set out to see what else an owl could do in a city of nearly a million humans.

He wheeled over South Baltimore and landed on a roof on Marshall Street.

"Ah, free as a bird," he thought, and he didn't give a hoot.

Steelworkers In Second Month Of Big Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Half a million steelworkers began the second month of their nationwide strike today. There was no sign of a settlement.

The strike has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production, idled more than 107,000 workers in allied fields, and cost nearly $1,500,000,000 in estimated wage and production losses.

Negotiations are scheduled to resume Monday.

The steelworkers want a 15-cent hourly package increase for each year of a new contract. Average wages before the strike on July 15 were $3.11 an hour. Management claims the demands would force an increase in the price of steel, and so feed inflation.

It appeared that one side or both would have to give a little if there's going to be a settlement.

TYPHOON HIT ISLAND

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Georgia ripped today through central Honshu, Japan's main island, leaving 30 persons dead, 51 missing, 179 injured and 69,914 driven from their homes. The storm brought torrential rains and floods to Tokyo, but the capital escaped the main force of the blow.

Convention Issue Still Undecided

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Whether this city keeps the 1960 Democratic National Convention is still up in the air.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and local party officials failed Friday to iron out a squabble over distribution of convention tickets.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Frank Bonelli said "The solution won't come until Monday." And Mayor Norris Poulson remarked "The score is nothing to nothing."

Butler said he hoped the convention would remain here.

Oilman Edwin Pauley's demand for 5,000 daily tickets for the host committee set off the dispute. Butler has threatened to move the convention to another city if the host committee doesn't accept his offer of 1,500 daily tickets.

Pauley, finance chairman of the host committee, and Poulson insist that the party's national committee agreed to the allotment of 5,000 tickets. They scaled down their demand to 3,133 when Butler stuck to his 1500 stand.

Pauley wants the tickets as a means of raising money to meet the $350,000 guarantee. He hasn't announced on what basis the tickets would be sold.
