President Says Unity Pledge Is Factor In His Going To Europe

Stand By Penny Tax On Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today voted down a compromise proposal to solve the highway financing crisis.

The committee by a 16-9 vote, reaffirmed its previous action for a 22-month 1-cent a gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax.

It turned down by a vote of 13-12 Rayburn's compromise which would limit the penny increase in the gas tax to one year instead of 22 months.

It was a slap at Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) at his insistence, the House Ways and Means Committee met today to reconsider a plan it had approved earlier.

Both the original committee plan and the Rayburn compromise differ from the request of President Eisenhower. He had asked Congress to raise the tax 1 1/2 cents a gallon for five years.

Since the penny increase would bring in half a billion dollars a year or less revenue than the proposal of the President, both the Rayburn and committee plans would make this up by taking 800 million dollars a year from the government's general revenues.

This would begin in 22 months under the original committee proposal and in 12 months under the Rayburn compromise.

Unless Congress agrees on ways to get the program out of the red for the next few years, construction of the 41,000-mile interstate network will soon come to a halt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today one purpose of his trip to Europe is to pledge Western unity "in opposing aggression" against the allies.

The President also told a news conference that on his trip, starting Wednesday, he wants to pledge once again "America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Eisenhower met with newsmen about 14 hours in advance of his scheduled departure for conferences with leaders of West Germany, Britain and France.

His talks with them will be a prelude to his discussions with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Washington starting Sept. 15, and to his own planned visit to the Soviet Union later in the fall.

On the trip to Europe, Eisenhower will meet first in Bonn with West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer; in Britain with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and in France with President Charles de Gaulle.

At the outset of today's session with reporters, Eisenhower announced he wanted to read a statement.

Reading from it, he then said his trip to Europe has several purposes, and added that one is: "To pledge, once again, in the several capitals I shall visit, America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Next in clear words of caution obviously directed to the Soviet Union, the President said, "It is the purpose of his journey is: 'To support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression; and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security.'"

Besides their caution to Russia, the President's words seemed intended also as reassurance to Adenauer and de Gaulle—both of whom reportedly have misgivings about the President's forthcoming talks with Khrushchev—that under no circumstances will he make any deals behind their backs.

Presumably the other etiquette of diplomacy relating to visits by a chief of state will be observed throughout the Khrushchev visit.

The President said the Soviet government has informed the State Department that Khrushchev's status is in substance that of a chief of state.

The President dealt also with these other topics: LEGISLATION—With adjournment of Congress near, Eisenhower announced he has written Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer; and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) that he wants action before adjournment on legislation in the fields of debt management and interest rates, financing of the highway construction program, and the Federal Housing Administration insurance program.

The President said he also wants an effective labor reform bill, civil rights legislation and adequate funds for foreign aid.

LAOS—Eisenhower cited Communist rebel action in Laos as an example of why the foreign aid program must be kept strong. In response to questions, he said Laos has not asked the United States for troops but has requested money and equipment. Such aid is needed, Eisenhower said, to help that kingdom's police force maintain internal order. He added that the matter of granting such aid to Laos is under urgent study.

Responding to one inquiry, the President said this government will welcome Khrushchev to the United States as a chief of state—in effect as top man—and not as a head of government, his technical position.

That means, the President went on, that as of now he is planning to meet the Kremlin leader at the airport on his arrival here Sept. 15.

Chairman of the housing subcommittee, said he planned to go directly to the House Rules Committee with a request for clearance to the floor.

Sponsors took the committee action as assurance of passing a housing bill before Congress goes home.

But House leaders were in no hurry to get it to the floor before the closing hours of this session, possibly late next week.

Rebutted once by the President with his veto, leaders plan to complete congressional action on the Senate-passed housing measure just before adjournment and hand it to Eisenhower on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The bill, passed by the Senate Aug. 18, had been resting in a pigeon hole in the desk of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) until Monday, when he handed it to the Banking Committee for action.

In its present form, the Senate-passed bill contains features that led the President to veto a larger bill passed earlier this session.

Among them are provisions for new public housing, loans for college classrooms, and money to build housing for elderly people.

Republicans say that the bill, although cut down from its previous figures, still contains invitations for another veto.

But with Congress showing signs of adjournment fever, its passage without change was forecast.

Major items of the bill provide for: Urban renewal—650 million in grant funds available at once, with 100 million earmarked for cities under 100,000 population. The administration asked 300 million dollars for each of the next two years.

Public housing—Authority for 37,000 new units. College dormitories—250 million in loans. Housing for the elderly—50 million in direct loans. Cooperative housing—25 million for co-op mortgage purchases by the Federal National Mortgage Assn. FHA home mortgage insurance authority—10 billion dollars. Lower FHA down payments and increased FHA mortgages.

Unaccounted For WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirty-nine persons still are unaccounted for in this southwest Montana resort area today, a week after earthquakes that rocked the Pacific Northwest.

At one time Monday, the Red Cross listed as many as 88 persons as possibly missing. Many of these were located alive and well.

Nine persons were killed, and a 10th is missing and presumed dead.

The immediate concern here is for the massive earthslide which may have buried alive some campers in the Rock Creek area, downstream from Hebgen Dam where the quake centered.

Water gushing through the dam has formed a seven-mile long lake known as Quake Lake, and officials say the waters will crest the natural dam formed by rock slide in from 20 to 30 days.

Army engineers from Omaha, Neb., began inspection of the area Monday to determine how best to relieve a flood threat in the scenic Madison River Canyon. The nearest town is Ennis, Mont. 45 miles downstream.

House Conferees Debate Facets In New Labor Bill WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees plunge into debate today on two of the most controversial sections of the labor control bill after reaching agreement on three Taft-Hartley provisions.

Up for discussion are secondary boycotts and organizational picketing, two of the three subjects on which the Senate and House versions of the legislation are most sharply divergent.

The 14 conferees worked at two sessions Monday. When the afternoon session broke up, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), conference chairman, reported agreement on these points: 1. To accept the Senate provision under which replaced strikers in a labor dispute would be allowed to vote, but limiting the right to the first nine months of the walkout. There was no limitation in the Senate bill. The House measure did not allow such strikers to vote.

Still Selecting A Jury For Stocks

Five jurors had been selected by 12:30 this morning to serve on the jury, pending final approval, which will hear the murder trial of 41-year-old Thomas Abner Stocks, indicted killer of his former wife, Helen Edwards.

Selection continued this morning after a single juror had been selected during yesterday afternoon's session which saw the remainder of the regular venire exhausted.

As the Stocks case came before the court yesterday as the afternoon session began, defense attorneys for the slightly-greying Stocks entered a plea of "not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity."

Stocks, who is being defended by Attorneys Albion Dunn and M. E. Cavendish, sat calmly through yesterday's session as both the prosecution and the defense fired questions at prospective jurors.

Immediately after the case came before the court, presiding Judge William J. Bundy ordered a 150-member special venire to be drawn in an effort to seat a jury for the murder trial.

This morning, about 100 of the 150 answered the clerk's roll call. The sheriff's department reported that around 110 of the notices were served. Several of the drawn venire members were excused by Judge Bundy.

Solicitor Robert D. Rouse Jr. told the Daily Reflector this morning that he expects the jury to be seated by sometime tomorrow and the State will begin to present its evidence.

Of the five jurors selected, one is from Greenville, two from Aynon, and one each from Stokes and Fountain.

Stocks was indicted in January by the Grand Jury for first degree murder and for felonious assault with intent to kill a house guest, E. Harvey Lewis Jr., at the home of Mrs. Max Minges, where the Edwards woman was a resident.

Other action in yesterday's session of court included Grand Jury indictments for: George Green on five counts of forgery and uttering a forged check; Johnnie Spear for no operator's license; Eber Ernest Linton for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs (second offense); Charlie Barnes for the Jan. 20, 1959, murder of Ada Ellis (first degree); Bill Carraway for temporary larceny; Wesley Turner for escape (second offense); and J. D. Stocks for escape.

Other cases tried included: Bruce Cleary Gardner, speeding, fined $15 and taxed with court cost; George Willoughby Jr., disorderly conduct, public nuisance, and public drunkenness and disorderly conduct, order that the warrant for the disorderly conduct be quashed, the public nuisance count not pressed, and 30 days in the county jail for public drunkenness and disorderly conduct; David Spencer Bradley, speeding, $15 and cost.

No Settlement In Sight For Steel Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—The nationwide steel strike will be 42 days old Wednesday, which will make it the second longest steel strike since the end of World War II.

And there's no settlement in sight. Negotiations continue today.

The union's Executive Board was to meet today to hear a report on negotiations from McDonald and union bargainers who have been meeting industry representatives during McDonald's absence.

Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald is expected to rejoin the talks Wednesday after an absence of two weeks. He stepped out to emphasize the lack of progress.

There was no sign of further action by the White House, after the second longest week of a fact-finding report—without comment or conclusion—by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Both sides claimed the facts backed their positions. President Eisenhower is understood to be reluctant to interfere with the process of collective bargaining.

The union has demanded a 15-cent hourly package increase for each year of a new contract. The company has refused to agree to any increase in labor costs, claiming that they would force a price increase in steel and thus contribute to inflation. Steelworkers averaged $3.11 an hour just before the strike.

The strike has idled half a million steelworkers and shut down almost 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking capacity. A no other 150,000 workers in allied fields are out of work as a result of the strike.

Since World War II there have been six work stoppages in steel. The longest, in 1952, was for 59 days. The second longest, in 1949, was for 42 days. The longest steel strike on record was in 1909, for 14 months.

Other unions which represent workers at the mill are the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and International Union of Operating Engineers.

The contract, finally agreed upon Sunday by company and union representatives, provides for a 3 per cent pay raise the first year and 4 per cent the second. Lewis Price of Plymouth, international representative of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said the contract was overwhelmingly approved by more than 600 employees at a meeting in the Washington County courthouse. He added only a few dissenting votes were cast.

Union Ratifies Pulp Mill Pact

PLYMOUTH, N. C. (AP)—A new two-year contract, calling for a general pay raise and other improvements, was formally ratified Monday night by union employees of the North Carolina Pulp Co. mill here.

The contract, finally agreed upon Sunday by company and union representatives, provides for a 3 per cent pay raise the first year and 4 per cent the second.

Lewis Price of Plymouth, international representative of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said the contract was overwhelmingly approved by more than 600 employees at a meeting in the Washington County courthouse. He added only a few dissenting votes were cast.

Price said that of the mill's 1,200 employees, only about 900 are eligible for union membership and are union members.

Other unions which represent workers at the mill are the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and International Union of Operating Engineers.

Johnson To Back 'Fair' Labor Bill

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said Monday he will support whatever action is necessary to see that an effective fair labor bill is passed before Congress is adjourned.

Johnson made his statement in a letter to the Valley Farm Bureau, in reply to a telegram from Frank Schuster of San Juan, Tex., president of the farm bureau.

"I will work for health research which can protect the health and lives of people," he said.

His Thirty Days 'Unmistakable'

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—Lee Trantham, 20, got up in city court and told the judge he was the man who beat up Douglas Faulkner, 17, Sunday night.

Faulkner had testified he was standing on the street when a car drove up and someone got out and beat him unconscious.

"It was mistaken identity, and I want to apologize," Trantham said.

"Thirty days," said Judge Oscar Mason, unmistakably.

EXECUTED BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Five army officers and a civilian were executed today for complicity in the abortive Mosul revolt against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's regime last March.

Compromise Housing Bill OK'd In House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new billion-dollar compromise housing bill was approved today by the House Banking Committee.

The measure is a substitute for the $1,375,000,000 bill vetoed earlier this session by President Eisenhower.

The committee stamped approval on the Senate-passed housing substitute by a 19-4 vote, without hearings and without change.

The bill does not entirely satisfy committee Republicans who dislike a number of administration-opposed features. But Rep. Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif.) indicated after the committee acted that there is little chance this late in the session.

Rep. Albert Rains (D - Ala.)

Terrorism Used By Laos Rebels

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Communist rebels are waging a psychological war of terror with little actual fighting in the province of Luang Prabang, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

He said that rebels had thrown bombs, including those of children, into the Nam-Seng River to terrorize the population.

Rebel units have reached as far south as Pak Seng, 35 miles above the royal capital of Luang Prabang, to reestablish the Communist Pathet Lao political and propaganda machinery, he said.

Rebels have infiltrated almost in a complete circle around the target province of Sam Neua in the north, the spokesman indicated.

A Pathet Lao battalion which deserted in June rather than integrate with the government army, now is operating on the rebels' southern wing in Sam Neua province, the spokesman said.

Pathet Lao is the name of the Red-led political party that held Sam Neua until two years ago when it agreed to a truce with the government.

Farmville Leaf Average Rises

PARMVILLE — Prices jumped more than one dollar again yesterday as the tobacco market here recorded an average of $54.98 per hundred pounds after 648,846 pounds were sold for a total of $361,794.28.

Sales volume yesterday marked the largest one-day total of the young season. Sales Supervisor Charles S. Edwards noted that after five selling days, the Farmville market is running more than one-half a million pounds ahead of total poundage at the end of the first five selling days a year ago.

Volume through yesterday's sales amounted to 2,192,208 as compared with a 1,426,178 total for last year's first five days.

Edwards also said that quality is steadily rising and has shown considerable improvement since opening day last Tuesday. Prices were about the same—grade-for-grade—and offerings were still lugs and tips.

Sales average for the first five-day period stood at $55.76. The total-pounds-sold figure was 2,192,208 which brought $1,205,346.74.

Youth Killed By Lightning Bolt

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Jack Allen Cagle, 17, of nearby Laurel Park, was killed by lightning Monday.

The lightning hit a chain hoist size Cagle and Ed Hunnicutt passed near the chain. Hunnicutt was uninjured.

It was Cagle's first day on a job helping make concrete products for Shipman Motor and Ditch Digging Co.

Cagle and Hunnicutt had just decided to go home because of the storm when the lightning struck.

The death was the second caused by lightning in North Carolina in two days. Gary Lee McNabb of Waynesville was killed Sunday near Asheville when lightning struck a wire fence near him. Edward L. Morgan, 16, was injured.

Mississippi Choosing Next Governor Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi will choose its 52nd governor today in what political observers expect to be a tightly contested Democratic runoff primary.

Li. Gov. Carroll Gartin, who has served two successive terms, predicted he would sweep 50 to 55 of the state's 82 counties.

Ross Barnett, successful Jackson claims attorney making his third straight gubernatorial try, said he would take 60 counties.

About 400,000 of the state's 529,000 qualified voters were expected at the polls, where votes are still hand-counted in all but one county.

Top vote in the primary amounts to election in this solidly Democratic state. The Republican party is not running a candidate. The winner will take office Jan. 19.

Gov. J. P. Coleman, prevented by law from succeeding himself, won the primary election for state representative from Choctaw County, his home county. He threw his support behind Gartin. Gartin, 47, has campaigned on a platform of experience and on the administration's record of industrial development and school segregation.

"I shall follow not the Arkansas plan, but the Mississippi plan," Gartin said in a windup statewide TV address Monday night. "How can you improve on 100 per cent success?"

Craggy-faced, 61-year-old Ross Barnett has promised retroactive teachers pay, proclaimed himself an aggressive fighter for segregation, and charged Gartin was part of Coleman's political machine and labor's picket candidate.

The Mississippi AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education "recommended" Gartin, although it declined to "endorse" either candidate.

Barnett led the Aug. 4 first primary with 155,508 votes to Gartin's 151,943 and 131,000 for Charles Sullivan.

Nationwide Search Ends With Arrest Of Man For Quizzing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Larry Lord Motherwell, object of a nationwide search, was arrested at the airport early today.

Motherwell, 43, was the object of a search by the FBI in connection with the disappearance of Pearl Ida Putney, 72, a prominent Washington, D.C., widow last August.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Motherwell, using the name Craig DuBar Foster, was recognized by two FBI agents as he was about to take off on a flight for Cleveland, Ohio.

Motherwell left here on a cross-country trip after she sold much property, the FBI said.

Approximately a fourth of a human, female skeleton, identified as Mrs. Putney's, was unearthed in Turner Canyon, Sierra County, Calif., Aug. 16, 1959.

California authorities issued a murder warrant for Motherwell and on Aug. 20, the FBI secured a warrant for the arrest of Motherwell for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

Mrs. Putney was the widow of Albert H. Putney, onetime State Department official and university professor. She was reportedly carrying about $60,000 in cash and securities when she was last seen in August 1958, leaving a motel in Marysville, Calif., about 60 miles southeast of the area where her skeleton was found.

After she and Motherwell checked out of the motel, she was never reported seen again.

Motherwell, a 6-foot 185-pounder, was arrested Jan. 18 in Las Vegas, Nev., in connection with Mrs. Putney's disappearance, but he denied that he was the man the widow planned to marry. He said he had not seen her since leaving her in Las Vegas in August 1958.

The hunt for Motherwell also involved his 14-month-old daughter, whose body was found last November buried in a pet cemetery at Frederick, Md. The child died in 1954.

In January, a grand jury refused to indict Motherwell on a charge of murdering the child, a Mongoloid. The jury said it had insufficient evidence.

Motherwell's wife Josephine, 30, lives in Washington.

Sweet Corn In Now On Local Market

RALEIGH—Roasting ears, piping hot, heaped on a platter and served with plenty of golden rich butter, salt and pepper. This is good eating.

Sweet corn is now found on the market in large supplies. According to Miss S. Virginia Wilson, food and nutrition specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, the quality is good.

When you buy, choose ears which are filled with bright, plump, milky kernels. If there's husk on the corn it should be fresh and green.

The traditional method of dropping the ears into rapidly boiling salted water is always good, but Miss Wilson suggests another quick way to cook your corn.

Some sweetness is lost from the corn after gathering. To return the sweetness, a small amount of sugar can be added to the water. Put two tablespoons water in a pressure sauce pan. Add one tablespoon butter and one teaspoon sugar. Sprinkle corn with salt and pepper as desired. Bring pressure up to 15 pounds and then remove from heat. Allow to cool normally—do not run water over cooker.

Try some corn if you're barbecuing on your outdoor grill. Remove outer corn husks, sprinkle corn with water, wrap in foil and put on grill. When done—pop on plates—the corn will be steaming hot as you remove the husks and it's luscious dribbled with butter and seasoned just right.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS

BETHEL—Members of the Baptist Brotherhood had their monthly meeting in the dining room of the church Friday night with 15 present.

Circle No. 3 entertained them at a delectable dinner.

After dinner Kelly Abevonius was introduced as speaker for the occasion. He chose for his subject "Classes Taught Over TV."

Church Women Have August Meeting

BETHEL—The August meeting of the Women's Society Christian Services was opened with a prayer by Mrs. J. C. Wynne Jr., vice president, after which the church's "One Foundation" was sung.

For her devotional, Mrs. Wynne chose verses 4-5 from the 16th Chapter of Acts.

Mrs. John Lloyd Watson continued with the topic "Faith With Works—The Local Church." The Local Church means any place where people meet in God's name.

Faith without works is dead and unless the church and W.S.C.S. meet the full requirements, taking advantage of every opportunity available, the purpose of both leaves much to be desired in achievement.

Mrs. J. L. Gurganus read the Society purpose to remind each member of its goals.

Mrs. Gurganus announced that the W.S.C.S. of Bethel Methodist Church had received a Certificate of Recognition for having met requirements in the Standard of Excellence, thereby participating in the total program of the Woman's Division through the local, district and conference work.

This honor was bestowed upon the Bethel Society by the North Carolina Conference in the form of a certificate.

Prayers of intercession were read from the "Methodist Woman" by Mrs. Gurganus and a motion was made that the circles use these prayers next month.

Miss Southerland, Mr. Perkins Honored At Pre-Nuptial Dinner

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reid Perkins was the setting for a dinner party Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and son

Walter entertained the bridal party and families of Miss Lynn Southerland and Jimmy Perkins, whose wedding will take place August 30 in Goldsboro.

Receiving with the hosts and hostesses were Miss Southerland and Mr. Perkins.

Miss Patsy Bradshaw of Kingston served tomato ice as the guests assembled.

The dining room table was covered with a pink net cloth over pink satin centered with a platform holding a miniature bridal party. The bridesmaid dolls were dressed in pink and carried miniature bouquets. Accenting the bridal scene was a background of pink roses and baby's breath.

In the living room were auxiliary tables covered with pink linen cloths centered with arrangements of pink roses, snapdragons and baby's breath.

A three course dinner was served the 24 guests. Assisting Mrs. Perkins was Mrs. Edward Sharp of Beaufort.

Miss Southerland was presented a corsage of dark pink roses which accented her pink linen and lace sheath dress. Mr. Perkins and Miss Southerland were presented a silver steak platter.

Miss Linda Whichard and Gene Brown, bridal couple of August 23, were remembered with a gift of crystal.

Laundry Bag Off To School

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

EVERY BOARDING SCHOOL girl needs a laundry bag — the bigger the better, and sturdy enough to stand the gaff of weekly trips through the malls, when the laundry goes home to mother.

A husky duffie bag of water-repellant, mildew-resistant canvas solves the problems of storage and transportation. You may choose either a solid color or a gaily striped awning canvas.

After much experiment, local sewing center experts have worked out the ideal school laundry duffie, simple to make at home. They suggest you make it with a drawstring top and an identification-card pocket. The pocket on the side serves as an address holder. A piece of cardboard with daughter's school address on one side, parents' home address on the other, serves as a permanent mailing label. Fourth class postal charges for nine pounds of laundry will be under 70 cents if the school is less than 300 miles from home.

The carryall can be stitched on your electric sewing machine. However, it is recommended that a heavy (No. 18) needle and heavy (No. 40) thread be used. A straight stitch is satisfactory, but a zig-zag stitch on an automatic slant-needle machine will give greater seam strength. Canvas may be purchased from a local awning shop, mail-order house or large department store.

To make a bag 41 inches in circumference and 29½ inches deep, you will need one and five-eighths yards of canvas, matching thread and 12 feet of cotton clothesline cord. Here's how the bag is made:

1. Draw a circle 14 inches in diameter on the canvas, using pencil or chalk and a piece of string. This forms the bottom of the bag. Cut a 42-inch length of canvas for the sides.
2. Work drawstring openings about 20 inches apart and about one inch from the selvage on one side of your 42-inch length of canvas.
3. Use remaining fabric scraps for the card pocket. Cut two strips an inch and a half wide and five inches long, and two the same width and six inches long. If you are using a striped canvas, center a stripe in each strip. Turn under edges so that only the stripe shows. Top-stitch. Next join the four strips to form a rectangle. Stitch to the middle of your 42-inch length of canvas, leaving the top of the pocket open for insertion of the mailing card, which should be in a plastic holder.
4. Pin together the ends of the 42-inch piece, right sides together, so that a cylinder is formed. Stitch. Turn under the top about one inch, forming a casing. Stitch.
5. Pin the circular piece of canvas to the bottom of the bag, right sides together. Stitch. Draw the doubled cord through the casing. This handy bag also can be used for carrying books, groceries, sports equipment and many other items. On trips to and from home, daughter probably will use it as extra luggage. It's easy to sew and makes a welcome gift.

Morning Tea Begins Series Of Deb Parties

A morning tea yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans on East Fifth St. began the series of debutante parties to be held this week. The occasion was in honor of Miss Lillian Moye and Miss Nancy Ann Hoot.

Hostesses were Miss Ann Evans and Miss Ann Moore with their mothers, Mrs. David Evans and Mrs. Luther Moore.

Upon arrival the debutantes were presented corsages of white carnations centered with sweetheart roses. Later, they received silver disks with "Deb '59" engraved on them as remembrance gifts.

Throughout the home summer flowers were used for decorations. Of focal interest was the refreshment table which was covered with an organdy cloth over pale green. At one end of the table a "Presentation Night" scene was placed. Two miniature deb and their marshals were placed on the white satin stage, an exact replica deb presentation. Each deb was carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Party foods were served with Mrs. Jesse Moye and Mrs. M. P. Hoot pouring punch.

New Circle Officers Named

Circle No. 2 of the Red Oak Christian Women's Fellowship began its church year with the following new officers: Mrs. Robert Allen, president; Mrs. Rubelle Crawford, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Gray treasurer; Mrs. Claude Manning, card chairman; and Mrs. H. W. Nobles, secretary and reporter.

This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Rubelle Crawford on the Farmville Highway with 12 members present. Bible Lotto was played as an enjoyable climax to the Bible study. A delicious salad plate of chicken salad, olives, toasted pecans, cake and Coca-Cola was served.

The regular August meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. L. Roberts on the Pacolus Highway. Mrs. Crawford introduced the new study material and had the program on "The Family in the Town and Country Church."

Others taking part on the program were Mrs. Thurston Wynn, Mrs. George Haddock, Mrs. James Sidney Allen, Mrs. Carl Crawford, and Mrs. Jack Gray. Mrs. Roberts served delicious homemade peace ice cream and cookies at the conclusion of the meeting.

During the summer two picnics were held by Circle members and their families. Mrs. Carl Crawford was hostess on one occasion at her beach cottage. The second picnic was held at Mrs. H. L. Roberts' cottage. Thirty-six persons attended the outing.

If you have found it difficult to make popovers from scratch, you may have more success with a mix from the grocery shelf.

Among The Debs Has Literary Aims

EXAMINING OLD SCRAPBOOK . . . Memrie Mosier finds that the scale of the Deb Ball has changed greatly since her mother made her debut.

(This is the fifth in a series of articles concerning the 1959 debutantes of Pitt County.)

By MARTHA PIERCE
Reflector Staff Writer

Memrie Mosier is one Greenville debutante who can look forward to that approaching September weekend with all the expectation and confidence of one who "knows what it's like."

Memrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Mosier, was chosen as one of 14 assistant leaders of the Debutante Ball.

During last year's deb season, Memrie stayed with her roommate at St. Mary's who was making her debut. She was a part of all the activities, except the actual presentation.

"Everyone in such high spirits . . . friendly atmosphere . . . five floors of open house and friendly people . . . like old home week" are Memrie's descriptions of last year's festivities.

The real value of the deb weekend, according to Memrie, is the presentation to the governor and officials of the state. But, she says, "the grand thing about the three days in Raleigh is that the people you meet are ones that you will remain in contact with throughout your life."

Memrie's preparations for the ball and many parties brings back memories for her mother who made her debut.

"Mother is amazed at the change in the scale of the ball," she says.

Finding clothes that will carry you from summer into fall can be a problem, Memrie says.

"One looks for clothes with simple lines that have transitional colors and fabrics."

This fall Memrie will enter the University of North Carolina as a Junior. She completed her first two years at St. Mary's in Raleigh where she was editor of the literary society.

Memrie's hobbies stem from her love of music. She lists modern dancing and record collecting as her hobbies and says she occasionally plays the piano for her own enjoyment. She also likes to write and plans after school are to become a re-writer who adapts plays and books for screen play.

Her summer has been full of trips back and forth to Morehead with occasional visits at Hoot Haven.

Jimmy Potter of Beaufort was chosen by Memrie as her chief marshal. Her other marshals are Jim McGee of Greenville and Dickie Quick of New Bern.

Bethel Circle

Circle No. 3 of the Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Julian Smith, who, as chairman, called the meeting to order immediately after members arrived. Mrs. Height Weeks gave the devotional and program.

A short business session was held at which time old and new business was discussed. The meeting was concluded with prayer.

She's Happy Sharing Sewing Secrets With Granddaughters

By MAIDRED MORRIS
To wear gay and fashionable clothes is the dream of every girl; and sewing is a good way to make the dream come true.

Mrs. J. D. Little, Marion, Rt. 2, firmly believes in home sewing and is always ready to help her granddaughters with their 4-H clothing project. Chrystine and Sharon have done outstanding work in their clothing project with the help of their grandmother.

Although Mrs. Little went to McDowell County 38 years ago, she has only been a Home Demonstration club member for 10 years. Now Mrs. Little can boast of attending club meetings for eight years with perfect attendance.

Mrs. Little's hobby is assisting her grandchildren with their 4-H work. She has served as 4-H leader in her community and attends all 4-H council events. Being interested in clothing, she is especially helpful in assisting with the 4-H dress revues.

The 4-H clothing record book is followed closely as the girls work on various projects. She has taught the girls how to select, use, and care for their sewing tools. Since the sewing machine is the most important sewing tool, they have learned to use it correctly and care for it properly.

Mrs. Little believes that the success of their sewing project is greatly determined by the cutting out of the garment. She reminds the girls to follow the guide sheet step-by-step; compare their measurements with those of the pattern; place every piece of pattern on true grain of material; not to skimp; pin pattern to fabric properly; cut with long, even strikes; and to mark notches, plaits, darts, and other markings carefully.

The girls realize that as beginners in sewing, they should select easy-to-make garments with few pieces and without tricky trimmings and details.

With such a good beginning, Chrystine and Sharon should be outstanding 4-H members in their clothing activities.

Not only is Mrs. Little active in 4-H work but enjoys her Home Demonstration activities. She takes an active interest in the craft schools and enjoys gardening and experimenting with new vegetables.

Although Mrs. Little is known for all her "busyness," she still has time for reading and has received several certificates for participating in the reading program. Chrystine and Sharon give their grandmother credit for encouraging and standing behind them in all their accomplishments.

Castro May Affect U. S. Policies

If the United States turns over a new leaf in its diplomatic policy toward its Latin American neighbors, it is quite possible that we'll have Cuba's Fidel Castro to thank.

For decades the United States has taken for granted the friendship and neighborliness of the other nations of this hemisphere. The development of the Good Neighbor Policy some years ago was a step in the right direction of really cultivating genuine understanding, but the implementation of that policy has been far short of what it might have been.

In recent months, with Castro's rise to power and widespread unrest in the Caribbean, the United States has come to realize that it still has a great deal to do to cement the friendship between it and other nations of this hemisphere. The sudden realization that a Latin American government may come under Communist control, the possibility that in this hemisphere there will emerge a dictator whose power and active control will spread far beyond the boundaries of his own country should have given our State Department quite a jolt.

For decades we have lavished attention on nations of Europe, Asia, Africa and other areas of the globe. We haven't exactly thumbed our noses at our neighbors to the South, but neither have we given them or their needs the attention we have other peoples in other parts of the globe. Many Latin American countries have economic problems that are comparable to those of European and Asiatic countries. Certainly they are in need of financial and technical aid to develop their economies and realize their potential. Their people are in need of better living conditions, better health facilities, better educational opportunities.

Millions upon millions of American dollars have been poured into programs to help nations in other areas achieve these goals. Token amounts have found their way to our Latin American neighbors, but their share has been far less than that spent in other areas of the globe.

We do not advocate the United States' launching a multi-billion dollar spending program in an attempt to buy the friendship of our Latin American neighbors. We do believe, that the State Department should pay considerably more attention to the relationship between this nation and its southern neighbors. The United States must make a more positive effort to develop a better mutual understanding between itself and the nations of Latin America.

Those Special Cargoes Will Be Again On Road

Within the next few weeks North Carolina's highways again will be dotted with huge orange-colored vehicles which carry the most precious cargo in the state . . . children.

As public schools from the coast to the mountains begin another fall term in the coming weeks, fleets of school buses will reappear on the highways after a three-months absence. They will travel the main highways and the rural roads. They will stop often to take on or discharge their cargo of children.

Last spring North Carolina seemed to have more than the normal number of accidents in which school buses were involved. Fortunately most of the accidents were minor. Nevertheless, any accident in which a school bus is involved potentially could end in tragedy.

Tar Heel motorists should be on the lookout for the reappearance of school buses on the highways. They should remember the regulations which prohibit passing a stopped school bus from either direction. They should keep in mind that where the school buses go, children will be . . . and sometimes children dart across a highway without taking precautions.

The opening of a new term of school should mean that motorists take greater care on the roads, watch more carefully for children and the buses in which they ride. It means that the time is once again approaching when thousands upon thousands of youngsters across the state will be making the daily round trip from home to school and home again in the buses.

If the other motorists exercise as much caution behind the wheel as the school bus drivers, North Carolina can go through another year with one of the largest and safest transportation systems in the country . . . the operation of its school buses.

Isolation Lost To Jets' Speed

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The jet in which President Eisenhower flies to Europe Wednesday — because it melts time and space — makes it tougher for all future presidents to avoid summit conferences.

Through most of history government heads, including American presidents, had a good argument against summit meetings: the long distances and slow travel kept them away too long from their own countries.

They also had another traditional excuse, and it is one Eisenhower used: international problems are so complex only foreign ministers, being specialists in details, should try to work them out.

This system, of course, had a special virtue for government heads: they could always repudiate what their ministers did, if the public reaction at home was bad.

But Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, impatient and self-confident, said letting foreign ministers meet first was a waste of time since they were only mouthpieces for the top men anyway.

He argued top men should meet first and then, if they reached agreement, the foreign ministers could worry about details.

In the 19th century, when American isolation meant staying out of Europe's affairs, presidents had no reason for summit meetings. President Theodore Roosevelt, who went to Panama in 1906, was the first president to leave home.

But gradually over the years—in a slow, bit-by-bit process—time, events and faster travel eliminated the traditional avoidance of summit meetings. President Wilson was the first to break through. But it was a disaster.

He went to Europe for the peace settlement after World War I—a period in which America temporarily lost its isolation—but his misfortunes there and at home were a shuddering reminder to his successors to watch out.

Nevertheless, he wasn't away too long, thanks to trains and ocean liners, which now look like ox carts compared with jet planes. But even the trains and liners were a lot faster than travel in the old days by sailboat, horse, and carriage.

America wrapped itself in isolation again, for almost two decades. In that time the most memorable summit meeting was a vast discouragement to more of the same. That was British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's abject surrender to Hitler at Munich.

But American isolation was swept away by World War II when fast decisions at the highest levels were needed in a hurry.

The old pattern of resistance to summit meetings then was broken for ever, although it may not have seemed so then.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt met with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill here and abroad, and later with him and Stalin at Yalta and Teheran. In 1945 President Truman met with Churchill and Stalin in Potsdam.

No matter how diplomats may try to differentiate between them, summit meetings are conferences between government heads, whether or not those governments are friends, allies, or enemies.

Since Potsdam there have been a number of meetings between the heads of the Allied governments and other, and between some on both sides.

The sour results of the Geneva summit meeting which Eisenhower attended in 1955 — with the Allies and the Soviet Union — only strengthened his belief that negotiation was a job for specialists, and not heads of government.

But now circumstances have pushed him into meeting Khrushchev again, this time in Washington Sept. 15. But if it were not for the airplane, Eisenhower's trip Wednesday would have been unthinkable, because of the time involved.

He is going to visit the heads of the Allied governments — Britain, France, West Germany — and be back in time to meet Khrushchev. Then he flies to Moscow to repay the visit.

Both here and in Moscow, Eisenhower and Khrushchev will have days for talks and time to look around each other's country, and both men will be able to complete their missions in less than two weeks.

"J. Handy Wright, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, told an industry group . . . that union featherbedding has, in effect, stolen seven billion dollars from the rail carriers since World War II. Now, seven billion dollars is just about equal to the total outstanding common stock of the railroads, and about half their net capitalization. Since all the railroads taken together have averaged less than four hundred million dollars in dividends per year since the war, the unions have received more in featherbedding extras than the stockholders have managed to earn for taking truly hazardous risks. Talk about profit sharing, you name it and the railroad fireman, who is paid for not stoking the no-fires on the Diesels, has got it. And how!"—National Review.

Stop Waving Your Nose Over My Fist—

By HENRY HOWARD

The Question Repeated

It was pretty hot yesterday in the Pitt County court room as Superior Court for the county began a two-week session.

It got especially warm and humid in the afternoon as the still air of the summer day settled over the city. It's effects were mirrored inside the room as many of the persons present sat listlessly with little beads of perspiration slowly trickling down their faces and necks.

The proceedings went on and on. A continuous stream of would-be jurors flowed into and then out of the witness stand in an effort to seat a jury for a murder trial.

Various were the reasons for dismissal for some of the names from the jury list. Somehow, though, the same reason kept cropping up again and again for excuse from jury duty.

The charge on the indictment, as read to the calm-looking defendant by the Clerk, said "Murder in the first degree." As explained by the judge, this meant a death penalty could very possibly be involved in the event of conviction as charged.

Repeated over and over again was the same question: "Do you believe in capital punishment?" Time after time, prospective jurors sort of winced at the query and gave what might be called even evasive answers.

Again and again names were checked off the rapidly-dwindling list. It looked like very few of the venire members would be willing to "trade a life for a life," as one of the excused members had put it before his dismissal.

After a court order to secure a special venire for today, the procession of "non-believers" began about 2:30 and continued, with some interruption, until, finally a single juror was selected about 6:00.

What's the trouble Clearly stated in our laws is the fact that death looms as the penalty when a person is convicted of first-degree murder with no jury mercy recommendation.

What's wrong with that? Looks like if it's in the law, then the people should be in favor of it. Or better: Looks like at least a majority of our citizens would stand behind the law.

Maybe many persons, at such a time, begin to mentally — and vividly — link death that's real — not just a word — with a living man right before their eyes.

What's the trouble? What makes them so hesitant?

A human life hangs in the balance.

NEW YORK (AP)—Husbandly remarks that wives get tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"I'd like you to meet my wife. She's the one standing by that pretty girl."

"Meat loaf Why, that's what I had for lunch."

"If you want it fixed, fix it yourself."

"Hurry up. We're late already!"

"Where are my cuff links They were here just a minute ago."

"Wake up. The baby's crying. While you're up you better close the windows. It's been raining for an hour."

"Well, who took out the garbage before you met me?"

"Oh, no, don't tell me that's a hat! Not that!"

"Good morning, Mrs. Dracula. Have a tough night."

"Surely one of those cook books ought to tell you how to make a decent cup of coffee."

"Today, instead of going back to bed after I leave, why don't you—"

"Worn out How can you be all worn out when you got a house full of gadgets to do all the work?"

"Belit him yourself if he needs it. He already thinks I'm the chief executioner."

"When I come home at night, all I want is some peace and quiet. Is that too much to ask?"

"Remember, Harry, when she opens the door, it was your idea that we stop off for a couple on the way."

"Do you think money grows on trees?"

"Just tell me where the needle and thread are. I'll sew it on myself."

"Wonder where I'd be today if I hadn't got married."

"The boss offered me two tickets, but I told him, 'No, give 'em to someone else. We already had a night out this morning.'"

"My mother raised six kids, did her own washing and ironing, and I never heard her complain in her life."

"The old timers were right. A woman never really appreciates you unless you beat her now and then."

"Let's get one thing straight. You run the house. I'll run the office."

"Well, just what did you expect — one long sweet honeymoon?"

"Baby, to cook a three-minute egg all you have to be able to do is to tell time."

"What do you mean I never talk to you anymore I talk to you during the TV commercials, don't I?"

"The trouble with you wives is — you never had to meet a payroll."

"Sure I heard you. What did you say?"

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

MULTITUDES OF FINE FOLKS You have often seen the picture entitled "The Sower." The sky is overcast. In the distance stand a house and a few farm buildings. This man, as if anxious to get his grain in before the rain comes, traverses the field in broad strides casting the seed as he goes.

One reason why this picture has become so popular is because we are all sowers whether we know it or not. We go through life sowing something. Some people go through life sowing hatred. They stir up class against class, friend against friend, brother against brother. Nothing seems to please them so much as to be able to create dissension and then enlarge upon it. But the world is a fit place to live in because the overwhelming majority of its inhabitants prefer to sow love. They want to be at peace with their neighbors. They prefer to praise men rather than to curse them. That person is a rarely indeed who will not go out of his way to do a kind thing for his neighbor. The next time you get discouraged about life in general just remember this irrefutable fact that most of the people in the world sow seeds of good will and like to do it.

The hate mongers are demonic and few in number. The spiteful, the criminally minded are so few that we need only be alert to avoid danger. Trust the wholesome and the well-disposed—the multitudes, for they are just that.

Financed by contributions from farmers and city people, and farm-affiliated industries of the several states—from the pineapple fields of Hawaii to the maple sugar groves of New England, from the tobacco fields of Virginia to the truck farms of the Imperial Valley—it should, when completed, present a more comprehensive picture of the nation's agriculture than anything heretofore attempted.

The project has the endorsement of leading statesmen and of national farm groups.

City folk who think of cereal other costs. OFFICIAL COLORATION But in the past, these considerations have been matters of practical operations. Never has the fact that an employer is making a lot of money been construed by law or the government as giving employees a right to higher pay.

Mr. Mitchell's action appears to be reading profit-sharing into all labor agreements. There are some interesting potentials. If the steel workers are entitled to higher wages because the steel companies are making money, shouldn't they be expected to take a cut if the companies make less?

WHY NOT IN OTHER INDUSTRIES? And if this principal is to be applied to the steel industry, why not others? And why not to all workers in a company?

Since American Telephone & Telegraph makes much more money before (and after) taxes than the Joe Smith Folding Co., why shouldn't the A.T. & T. pay its stenographers proportionately more? It might even work out that A.T. & T. girls would get $200 a week, while Joe, not making much these days, could get off with paying $30.

There are endless possibilities; one could sit up all night spinning such supposes. Both the steel workers and the employers asserted that Mr. Mitchell's report upheld their contention. But in the end, organized workers will benefit most because the government, despite Mr. Mitchell's reservations, has clearly indicated that profits are a big factor in rights to wage increases.

DO-IT-YOURSELF SHELTER PROJECT

For Family Protection From Radioactive Fallout

BASEMENT SHELTERS generally are the least expensive type that will give substantial protection. The basement shelter shown here can be built with solid concrete blocks as a do-it-yourself project for $150 to $200. Standard 8-inch solid concrete blocks are recommended because hollow blocks would have to be filled with concrete to give effective protection. Bricks are an alternative. If they are used, the walls and roof should be 10 inches thick to give the same protection as 8-inch solid concrete blocks. Plans for this do-it-yourself project appear in "The Family Fallout Shelter," OGDH booklet. Copies may be obtained from Box Home Shelter, OGDH, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Rotarians Told Adequate Street System Needed

City Manager Leonard Bloxam told Greenville Rotarians last night that an adequate system of thoroughfare streets to serve the city "is vital to the future growth of our community."

Bloxam discussed with Rotarians the proposed preliminary system of thoroughfare streets for Greenville prepared for the city by the State Highway Commission. "I urge you to look on this proposal as a preliminary study," the city manager told his audience. He emphasized that the current proposals constitute only one of several possible thoroughfare systems which might provide an answer to Greenville's traffic problems.

In discussing the proposal, Bloxam explained that the preliminary proposals are being projected to fit the needs of Greenville for the next 20 years, but the proposals will have to be revised from time to time during the two decades to keep current with growth trends and land-use trends in various parts of the city.

A portion of the study is based on the estimate that Greenville will be a city of approximately 38,000 people by 1980.

The thoroughfare street planning for movement of traffic in Greenville must be part of a master street plan, the city manager said. Many factors are involved, he added, that can be accurately anticipated only through continued development of such a plan.

Greenville, like most other cities, Bloxam said, has its traffic problems because of its narrow streets, the increased use of motor vehicles and the growth of the municipality. In cooperation with the State Highway Commission he said, members of the Planning and Zoning Commission and other city officials are seeking to develop a master street plan which will meet the needs of the city and cope with the increasing traffic demands as the city continues to grow.

Police Break Up Sitdown Display

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Some 5,000 sitdown strikers blocked the entrances of the U.S. Embassy for four hours today, demanding that the United States prevent repatriation of Koreans from Japan to Communist North Korea.

No one could leave or enter the embassy. The sitdowners finally yielded after a 10-minute scuffle with a 50-man police squad backed up by firemen.

Nearly Half-Million Dollar Loss In Fires At Shelby, N. C. During Night

Faster Geysers Followed Quake

Editor's Note: What did the Montana earthquake do to the famed geysers in Yellowstone National Park? Dean Stone, managing editor of the Maryville-Alcoa, Tenn., Times, who was vacationing here at time of the quake, reports that it changed the pace of many geysers.

By DEAN STONE
YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—Old Faithful is still on schedule, but last week's earthquake has apparently stepped up the pace of many geysers in Yellowstone National Park.

Economic Geysers, dormant for nearly half a century, was triggered into action.

Morning, Fountain and Clepsydra geysers are among those which have increased their tempo since the quake last Monday night.

Morning Glory Pool and other hot springs turned murky after the quake, but now appear to be returning to normal. Giantess Geysers, which usually plays two or three times per season for 12 to 36 hours, began erupting constantly following the quake.

Some of the parks thermal features have become less active.

Grand Geysers, which is larger than Old Faithful, has not been in action for several days. It normally erupts every nine hours.

Merrill D. Beal, park naturalist, said there is no change in Old Faithful's performance. He said the Fountain Paint Pot in the lower geyser basin "has definitely increased" in activity. It appears to be working its way into a parking lot area, Beal said.

Steady Geysers which got its name for regularly gushing a stream 15 feet high, has diminished. It now just bubbles four to five feet.

CANT FORCE THEM

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice has ruled that a public school cannot force students to participate in a state-approved prayer. Justice Bernard S. Meyer ruled Monday against the Herculais, N.Y., school which had ordered the prayer to precede the opening of classes.

Less than 5 per cent of enlisted men in World War I had finished high school. In World War II more than 23 per cent were high school graduates.

SHELBY, N.C. (AP)—Fires at an automobile agency and an oil company caused damage estimated at nearly half a million dollars Monday night.

Fire first broke out at the Arey Oil Co., the American Oil Co. distributor here, on the eastern edge of the city.

While all available firemen and equipment were fighting that blaze, fire broke out at Hoyte Keeter Motor Co., a Ford dealership, located in downtown Shelby.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke and two suffered minor cuts.

The oil company fire destroyed a building and its contents. President Robert J. Arey estimated damage at $200,000.

Firemen were able to prevent the blaze from spreading to tanks containing 150,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil. Some oil drums in the building exploded.

A passerby, Charles Ledbetter, saw smoke and told an employee of the oil company, Frank Cornwell.

The two men removed a tank truck and three smaller trucks from the basement of the building. The trucks contained a total of about 1,000 gallons of gasoline left over from the day's runs.

The motor company fire destroyed the two-story building. Hoyte S. Keeter Sr., operator of the firm, estimated damage at $200,000 to $250,000.

The fire is believed to have started around a fan in the rear of the building. Keeter said he was told flame leaped from the fan motor and ignited paint cans nearby.

The cause of the oil company fire has not been determined.

Firemen were delayed by traffic in moving their equipment the mile and a half from the oil company to the motor company.

Firemen were called from nearby Fallston, Lawndale, Belling Springs, Gastonia, and Kings Mountain.

The two Shelby firemen overcome by smoke were Robert Herndon and Bill Watson. Ray Digh and Hump Loveless suffered minor cuts. Herndon and Watson were hospitalized.

One volunteer fire department truck answered the call to the motor company fire, but could make no headway against the flames.

It was 25 or 30 minutes before more firemen and equipment arrived from across town.

The Shelby Fire Dept. had 15 regular firemen and 12 volunteers fighting the two blazes.

George Elam, a fireman here for 34 years, said the two fires were the worst here in years.

Disaster Relief Plan Said Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are more than 50 federal agencies to give aid in case a disaster strikes, but often there's confusion over which does what, says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

He set up a project which produced a comprehensive federal disaster relief manual released this week. The 129-page handbook is designed for city, county and state officials confronted with such natural disasters as fire, flood, drought, tornadoes, hurricanes and earthquakes.

Capt. Kangaroo To Give Moppets Bit Of Classics

By HUGH MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Captain Kangaroo, the portly, bewhiskered grandfather who presides over the good ship "Treasure House" on CBS, is about to unlock the treasure house of classical music for millions of moppets.

"I'm not cutting in on Leonard Bernstein," insists Bob Keeshan, 52, who while neither portly, bewhiskered nor a grandfather created the role of Captain Kangaroo four years ago and built it into a top kiddie show. "I'll be working with a different age group, children from 4 to 8, the preschool set mostly."

Keeshan tried out his "pre-Young People's Concerts" last year with symphony orchestras in Rochester, Houston, Tampa and Rock Island, and this fall will do the same with orchestras in Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas and other cities.

If all goes well, he hopes to inaugurate his kiddie concerts, still under the auspices of Captain Kangaroo, as a separate television show, probably on Saturday afternoons.

School Program On TV Tonight

America's schools from coast to coast will hit the air-waves tonight from 7:00 to 8:00 (EST) in an hour-long television program on the NBC television network.

Similar to last year's school program, which won a School Bell Award and praise from critics all over the country, tonight's production will have David Brinkley, the network's Washington correspondent, as anchor man. TV cameras swing from coast to coast, picking up other correspondents as they report the nation's most pressing school problems.

"Back to School '59" will present what the network calls "behind-the-scenes" views of city-by-city problems in Los Angeles, New Orleans, Omaha, Chicago, Atlanta, Philadelphia, and Little Rock.

Receives Degree At Denver Univ.

A student from Greenville was among nearly 500 persons receiving degrees at the University of Denver summer commencement in August.

The Greenville degree winner was Linwood E. Smith, bachelor of science in business administration.

The August graduates brought DU's total number of graduates for the year to nearly 1,500. More than a third received advanced degrees.

White Sox Pad Lead With Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox has put away 42 stolen bases—the total in the majors in 15 years—on 52 tries.

A cinch for his fourth straight stolen base title, Aparicio was at his usual best Monday, stealing second and third after getting a walk and then scoring on an in-field single for an extra cushion as the White Sox beat New York 4-2 and padded their American League lead to two games over the Cleveland Indians.

Baltimore regained fourth place from Detroit in the only other AL game scheduled, rapping the Tigers 11-0 as Gus Triandos walloped a pair of homers and drove in seven runs.

In the National League, Pittsburgh smacked San Francisco 6-0, Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 8-2 and the Chicago Cubs defeated Milwaukee 6-0.

The White Sox broke a 1-1 tie and handed Don Larsen (6-7) his sixth straight defeat when Aparicio collected a pop-fly double in the third inning and scored on Jim Landis' single. Landis scored the clincher in the fifth with a two-out single ahead of Serm Lollar's double for a 3-1 lead.

Reliever Turk Lown then came on and blanked the Yankees on three hits over the last 3 1-3 innings, saving it for Ray Moore (3-6).

Aparicio scored on a Landis single in the seventh after his two steals.

With Triandos blasting, Hoyt Wilhelm (13-8) won his third in a row for the orioles. The knuckleballing right-hander, backed by Triandos homers in five of his victories, finally gave in to the heat, however, after walking only one and giving up just four hits through eight innings. Jack Fisher pitched the ninth.

Triandos, who had two singles in addition to his 24th and 25th home runs, singled home two runs in the third for a 3-0 lead against loser Don Moss (11-8), then blasted a grand-slam in a six-run fourth against reliever Ray Narleski. His other homer, a two-run shot, came in the sixth against Jim Stump.

Larry Doby in Serious Shape

By JERRY HARRELL
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Larry Doby, painfully injured and fearing for his future, was due to leave today for Johns Hopkins Hospital and the answer to the big question: Will he play again?

Braves Bungle Opportunity To Gain On Giants

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves' refusal to accept a helping hand is bordering on the line of downright rudeness in the National League pennant fight.

The former Cleveland Indians slugger tore up his ankle Sunday night sliding into third base with triple that helped San Diego win a close Pacific Coast League baseball game from Sacramento.

Some 27,000 fans buzzed as Pittsburgh's 6-0 victory over first place San Francisco was posted on the scoreboard Monday night. But apparently the Braves didn't hear—and they bungled a chance to close in on the Giants.

"It's a serious injury," said Dr. Donald S. Maxwell, who treated the outfielder at Mercy Hospital here. "It's quite possible he'll need surgery."

There was little doubt that Doby, the American League's first negro player and one of its stars for 12 years, was worried.

The Chicago White Sox, who own his contract, were sending him to the noted Baltimore hospital for examination and treatment by specialists.

Doby, who broke into the majors with Cleveland in 1947 hadn't played in the minors before this year.

Bothered by a back injury with his hitting off, he was sent down to San Diego this season.

Doby also has played with Detroit and Baltimore.

He was on the American League All-Star team six times.

He batted .326, hit 25 home runs and drove in 102 runs in 1950, one of his best years.

In 1954, he was a big factor in the Indians' pennant drive, leading the league in RBI's and home runs with 126 and 32. He hit .272 that season. He also led the league in home runs in 1952.

Norton, Kelly Gain Top Honors In Pan-American

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Kelly Jr., a famed, old hand at international sport carnivals, and sprinter Ray Norton, a comparative new-comer, today were singled out for high honors at the Pan American Games starting Thursday.

After taking three of four from both Los Angeles and Milwaukee, the Pirates made it four straight Monday night, knocking off first-place San Francisco. Friend gave up a dozen hits but won his third in a row with a 6-0 decision over the Giants in the opener of a three-game series.

Kelly, brother of Princess Grace of Monaco, a three-time Olympian and 1955 Pan American singles sculls champion, was picked by U.S. officials to recite the Pan American oath — same as the Olympic oath — in the colorful opening ceremonies at Soldier Field Thursday afternoon.

That ended the Giants' streak at four and trimmed their lead to 3½ games over Los Angeles. The Dodgers regained second place with an 8-2 breeze against last-place Philadelphia while the Chicago Cubs beat Milwaukee 3-0 behind Bob Anderson's six-hit pitching, slipping the Braves to third.

Norton, latest sprint king in the long line of American dash greats, was chosen to carry the Stars and Stripes in the parade of nations.

The Pirates got to right-hander Sam Jones (16-12) for eight of their 13 hits and the first of Rocky Nelson's two home runs for a quick 3-0 lead. A double by Do. Hoak and a single by Bill Virdon scored one in the second and Nelson then swatted a two-run homer in the third.

Rocky's other home run, his fifth, was off Bud Byerly, fourth Giant pitcher.

Gil Hodges drove in five runs for the Dodgers, singling home a pair in a four-run first inning and then counting three in the second with his 20th home run. Norm Larker also homered for the Dodgers, combining with Hodges for five of their nine hits.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax (7-4) checked the Phillies on four hits. Young Bob Anderson (11-8) gained his first major league shut-out for the Cubs. He walked one and struck out five while beating Lew Burdette (17-13) for his fourth straight success.

The Cubs got six of their seven hits during Burdette's eight innings, scoring in the first on a walk, Jim Marshall's single and an error, and making it 2-0 on Tony Taylor's seventh homer in the third. Their other run came in the eighth on singles by Cal Neenan and George Altman.

The tall, 22-year-old speedster from Oakland, Calif., and San Jose state, is the outstanding choice to cop both the 100 and 200 meter crowns and lead a relay team to victory just as he did against the Russians at Philadelphia last month.

Kelly, 32-year-old Philadelphia, won't defend the crown he won at Mexico City. He has given up singles competition. But the former diamond sculls winner, will team up with Bill Knecht of Philadelphia in a try for the doubles sculls championship.

While the Americans and the Chicago organizing committee went full speed ahead for the coming games, the congress of the Pan American sports organization met today to award the 1963 games.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, a booming, skyscraper city of more than 3,000,000 population, was a virtual cinch to be awarded the fourth Western Hemisphere games.

At the Wright Brothers National Memorial on North Carolina's Outer Banks there is a replica of the workshop they used in 1903 when preparing for their famous flight.

Many Fans Miss Finer Points

SPECTATORITIS
By JACK BOONE

In recent years it has been said more and more frequently that we are becoming a nation of spectators.

based on the notion that only the participant in the activity derives any benefit from the experience. Were this belief applied to dramatics, music or the graphic and plastic arts much beauty and enjoyment would be removed from the world. Fortunately, however, this belief has not been applied to the arts nor to the field of sports, where literally millions of persons annually attend the art galleries and sports arenas to derive the inner satisfactions that come from the various forms of aesthetic appreciation."

To those who feel that this growing situation is not to our best interests we would quote from Harry A. Scott's excellent text, "Competitive Sports in Schools and Colleges." Dr. Scott says: "Games and sports are not only to be played; they are to be enjoyed in ways that are akin to art and other forms of aesthetic expression. As the drama of the same unfolds on the court or field, those who understand or appreciate what they see participate vicariously in the activity, and as a result of this experience, may be deeply moved and recreated. Some persons hold the view that this kind of an experience is somehow bad for the individual and have attached to the practice the name of 'spectatoritis,' which suggests an inflammatory disease. This view however appears to be

It has been suggested that if all of the spectators were barred from the stadium and sports arenas, these former spectators would be spending their time to better advantage. It is questionable whether such legislation would have the desired effect but what is more practicable is beyond the realm of reality.

Of the hundreds of thousands of spectators who watch high school and college football games on a given week end only a limited percentage understand the game's finer points. Much has been done in educating the public but much more needs to be done.

Today's concept of education is to prepare the youth for a happy and useful life. Education does not stop at the 3 R's but includes music appreciation and art appreciation courses as well as a number of other useful subjects.

Quast Wins In First Round Of Golf Tourney

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I've forgiven my putter completely."

Miss Quast faced Martha Painter, Corpus Christi, Tex., teen ager, today, and Miss Gunderson encountered Mrs. C. Lincoln Jewett of the home club.

Defending champion Anne Quast relented after submerging par by three strokes through the last six holes and winning a 5 and 4 decision from Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., in the first round of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship Monday. She was 1 under for the 10 holes.

All but a few of the favored contenders survived the 64 matches on a cloudy but only briefly rainy opening day.

Anne, 21-year-old Marysville, Wash., brunette, was one of only two in the starting field of 128 to better par on Congressional Country Club's 6,457-yard, 37-37-74 course.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., a veteran of six Curtis Cup teams, was ousted by Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis, six times Indiana champion, 1 up. Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N.J., lost a 3 and 2 struggle to Judy Rand, 16, Aurora, Ohio, the new national girls champion.

Joanne Goodwin, 23, Haverhill, Mass., three times Massachusetts titleholder, chipped 1 off regulation to dispose of Mrs. Davis L. White, Winchendon, Mass., 5 and 4.

Two additional Curtis Cuppers

Miss Quast, who graduated from Stanford this year, was 1 up on Miss Burns, frequent North Carolina champion, after nine, but her putting was loose.

Beginning on No. 9, however, that putter was demanding a pardon. Anne single-putted five holes, sinking one 15-footer, birdied three and won the last four in a row.

Joanne Gunderson, 20, the 1957 U. S. champion from Kirkland, Wash., was 1 over in beating Mrs. George R. Patterson, Montreal, 1-

At Least 50 Ask Reassignment

DURHAM (AP) — Applications for reassignment of at least 50 Negro children to white schools here were received by the Durham Board of Education Monday before the filing deadline.

Initial assignments were made Aug. 4, and reassignment requests had to be filed within 10 days and turned over to the principals of schools to which the pupils originally were assigned.

The next step will be the school board action. The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Sept. 14. But Frank L. Fuller Jr., board chairman, said the board might meet in executive session before acting on the petitions.

Doctor Overlooks His Own Cancer, Would Help Laos

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Thomas Dooley is the sort of young man who thinks treating 100 patients a day in a remote hospital in Laos is more important than the treatment of one cancer patient named Thomas Dooley.

He is the kind of fellow who "chose to overlook it" when the U.S. government suggested that he had better leave his hospital because the Communists were shooting nearby.

In other words, Dr. Thomas Dooley, 32, is the classic young man with a mission.

And he seems angry at his own condition only because it may cut short the mission.

Five years ago Dr. Dooley was a medical officer on a Navy ship that was assigned to help hundreds of refugees fleeing from Communist North Viet Nam. Touched by the sufferings of the Indo-Chinese, he made up his mind to do something to help.

When he left the Navy he helped to found Medico (Medical International Cooperation) and built a three-building hospital at Musong Sing, near the China-Laos border.

The 30-bed hospital ("we don't have beds") now is handling 100 patients a day "and babies day and night." Some of the funds for operating it came from a book the doctor published, titled "The Edge of Tomorrow."

He started another book for the same purpose, and several times came back to the United States to lecture and appear on television — always hunting more money for Medico and the Laotians.

His mission was helped along by the fact that Dr. Dooley is not only dedicated. He is also charming, boyishly handsome, witty and outgoing.

Recently he started thinking of ways to get a small plane, plotting how he could build two more hospitals in Laos, and fly back and forth to supervise them.

But in recent weeks there have been two other developments.

The Communists stepped up their offensive in Laos, and intermittent action broke out near Dr. Dooley's hospital. The U.S. ambassador sent a message to the doctor suggesting he leave. This failed to budge him.

Then two weeks ago a surgeon was visiting his hospital, and Dooley asked the visitor to remove a lump on his left chest. A sample of the tissue was flown here and analyzed. It was malignant. Dr. Dooley received an order he couldn't ignore, from Dr. Peter D. Comanduras, secretary general of Medico.

Last week he flew back to the United States. He went to St. Louis to visit his mother, then flew back to New York for further diagnosis and treatment.

Monday he was settling down in his room at the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Research Center at Memorial Hospital.

This is the most elegant hospital room I ever saw," he commented. "Not a single mat on the floor."

Almost gaily, he described what the doctors had done and planned to do. In the morning, he said, the surgeons would "go in and take a look and see what's there," the first in a series of surgical procedures.

Then they'll decide on the treatment — whether it will be radiation, or nitrogen mustard, or something else," he said.

As a doctor he has guessed that he may have five or six years to live with this "capricious type of cancer."

As a missionary, he had decided that whatever the other doctors say, he's going to spend the time he has left at the hospital in Laos. He plans to return there in November.

As he relaxed in the big shining city hospital to wait for the ministrations of other doctors, he was asked how he was feeling.

"I feel great!" he said with a laugh. "As great as anyone feels who has cancer."

Local Student To Attend Event

GREENCASTLE, Ind. — Paul Goodwin, Greenville, a student at East Carolina College, will attend the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity's sixth biennial Management Training Seminar here Aug. 30.

Designed primarily for undergraduate chapter officers, the six-day school at DePaw University will feature classes on scholarship, finance, chapter operations and public relations.

SUFFERS STROKE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Donald M. Nelson, 70, U.S. War Production Board chairman in World War II, remained unconscious today from a stroke suffered Sunday.

Reassurance

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Hodges has been assured no danger is involved in the proposed disposal of low-level radioactive wastes in the ocean about 90 miles off Nege Head.

"Nor is there any hazard to commercial fishing or sports fishing," Hodges was informed Monday in a letter from the Governor's Advisory Committee on Atomic Energy and other officials.

The proposed sea disposal of low-level radioactivity wastes, the letter stated, poses no danger to residents or visitors in the area "either directly or from eating seafood . . ."

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), vice chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, told Hodges in a letter, "We have spent months and months on this, and I feel perfectly safe in saying to the persons concerned that the public should not be alarmed about the matter . . ."

COMEDIAN HURT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comedian Arnold Stang, 35, suffered what was described as severe facial cuts and head injuries when his car ramed into one of the famed cherry trees here early today. No charge was filed against Stang.

Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma are the nation's three leading oil drilling states.

Rescue Almost In Reach, 2 Mountain Climbers Die

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — Two young climbers, trapped 28 hours on a ledge halfway up the steep, perpendicular granite face of Profile Mountain, died Monday with rescue almost in reach.

The White Mountains bitter weather was too much for them. Clad only in light cotton trousers and shirts, they had endured numbing 38-degree cold overnight, the soaking of a driving rain borne on 50-mile winds, and thick fog.

Appalachian Mountain Club teams, exhausted by a nine-hour climb, planned a new attempt to recover the bodies today, assuming fair weather.

The victims were Alfred Whipple Jr., 20, Gales Ferry, Conn., a sophomore at Brown University, and Sidney Crouch, 21, Ledyard, Conn., a student at Export (Pa.) Bible Institute. They had been friends since elementary school.

John E. Taylor, 29, Princeton, Mass., who led a seven-man team that climbed to the ledge, said they found one man slumped over, either dead or dying. The other was incoherent.

"He could not understand what I was saying. He yelled at me. It appeared to be a monotonous 'Hurry up!'

"I don't know which one it was. When I got within 25 feet of him, his head was bobbing. He was standing erect with his eyes closed."

Taylor said that by the time he got near the marooned pair "I would have to grip a rock, then loosen one hand with the other to move up." He described the cold as ferocious.

David Sanderson, Portsmouth, N.H., climbed to the ledge and lowered the youth still on his feet to Robert Collins, Brookline, Mass., standing 25 feet below. Collins dressed him in warm clothing. But at that point he died.

With daylight waning and the rescuers exhausted, plans to bring the bodies down were abandoned.

Instead, the bodies were secured with ropes and the party went back down the mountain. The descent took another two hours.

Whipple and Crouch acquired most of their knowledge of climbing from books. They lacked mountaineering experience and were not equipped for the sudden changes of weather.

Experienced mountaineers have avoided the route the pair took Sunday. They consider it treacherous because of the steep climb and the danger from falling rocks.

The ledge, 475 feet above Route 3a, is a short distance south of the famed Old Man of the Mountain, an outcrop of rock that from certain angles looks like a craggy face.

The youths' plight was discovered late Sunday. Since a helicopter could not reach them, state officials and the Appalachian Mountain Club summoned amateur climbers.

Civilian Pilot Killed As Plane Struck By Jet

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP)—A civilian pilot was killed when his plane was ripped apart in a collision with a Marine Corps A4D jet Monday. The Marine pilot parachuted to safety.

Jesse G. Taylor, 28, of Beaufort, N.C., who was on a fish-spotting flight for Beaufort Fisheries, Inc., was killed.

First Lt. William M. Foley, 25, parachuted into a marsh. A witness said he landed between two parts of his burning plane.

The planes collided at 1,000 feet, above a boat carrying two Raleigh fishermen. Some of the wreckage fell into their boat.

Ted Honeycutt, one of the fishermen, said, "There was a terrific explosion. The jet flew into tiny pieces. The jet exploded into two major pieces. Fire and flying debris were everywhere."

A Marine spokesman at Cherry Point Marine Corps Air Station said Foley was making a radar-controlled instrument approach to the Cherry Point field when the two planes collided. Foley thought his plane had exploded.

Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Foley of Galesburg, Ill., was held overnight in the Cherry Point hospital for observation. He suffered minor burns and bruises. Foley was picked up by Honeycutt and his companion, Hubert H. Fish.

Taylor and his father, Earl Taylor, operated the Beaufort-Morehead City Airport. Taylor was making fish-spotting flights for about five years.

His father, who has a heart ailment, collapsed when he heard of the crash. He was taken to a hospital here.

'Doctor X' Has Bigger Problem

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — The Amazing Doctor X was not so amazing, says federal authorities. And the problem Doctor X has now is a lot bigger than any of the problems he said he could solve.

William Lloyd Waddell, 59, alias Doctor X, was arrested Monday on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails. He waived a preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner Charles Ader and was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Waddell, say authorities, has represented himself as the Amazing Doctor X to a Winston-Salem radio audience for the past year. He invited listeners to a local station to write him about their problems.

Any sort of problem—personal, marital, health—would do. Ader said Waddell claimed he was a medical doctor, psychiatrist, and marital counselor.

Ader said that when a listener wrote to Doctor X, a prepared form would be sent. The form was to be filled out by the listener and returned with $5 for a special appointment.

The commissioner said one elderly woman was told she had a spell over her that would kill her unless he removed it. Removal of the spell would cost $100.

Ader said that for the $100, the woman got a little box of powder that she was to sprinkle under her bed at night. She also was told to drink warm milk.

Food Poisoning Traced To Salad

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Food poisoning which felled an estimated 300 persons here Sunday has been traced to potato salad served at two group picnics.

State and county health officials made the announcement after tests of food served both groups by the same catering service.

More than 90 adults and children were given emergency hospital treatment. Many others were treated at their homes by private physicians.

Judge Has Hope For Cat Burglar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gordon Atterberry, cat burglar extraordinary, was sentenced to prison with this comment by the judge: "This man has a brilliant mind and somehow I think it can be directed into proper channels."

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nudged to the upside early this afternoon with steels, motors and some aircrafts taking the lead.

Trading continued slow although the pace was a bit faster than Monday when volume sank to a year-and-a-half low.

After an irregular start, prices began to improve gradually with industrials carrying the ball while rails and utilities did practically nothing.

Brokers saw the action as a continuation of a mild see-saw trend with no particular news to prompt the improvement.

Uncertainties regarding the international situation and the labor troubles in steel and other industries continued to dominate Wall Street's mood.

The rise in the U.S. Treasury's short-term borrowing costs to their highest point in a quarter century led to speculation that another rise in the discount rate may be coming.

This is usually depressing as the stock market dislikes high interest rates.

Zenith moved up a couple of points and Texas Instruments more than 3.

Chrysler rose about a point and Ford made a similar gain.

Youngtown Steel rose about 3/4. Gains of a point or better were scored by Jones & Laughlin and Lukens.

Martin Co. rose about 2 and United Aircraft and North American Aviation about a point.

Allis-Chalmers was up about a point.

Kennecott was down more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 50 cents to $229.70 with the industrials up $1.20, the rails unchanged and the utilities down 10 cents.

Government bonds eased.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices were mostly steady. Wasp's Sting Is Fatal For Man

WROTHAM, England (AP) — Two years ago Ivor Pindar was stung by a wasp and was rushed to the hospital unconscious. Doctors told him he was abnormally susceptible to wasp poison.

After that Pindar dreamed frequently that he was being stung to death.

Monday, his wife went to clear a nest from the garden. An angry wasp buzzed past her, made straight for her 37-year-old husband and stung him on the thumb.

Pindar died in his wife's arms 10 minutes later.

Shot 'As A Joke' To Cost $2,750

RALEIGH (AP)—A Wake County farmer must pay $2,750 to the family of a Negro slain by a shot the farmer said was fired as a joke.

Roger Earl Williams, 38, of Wake Forest pleaded no contest (no contest) in Wake Superior Court here Monday to a charge of manslaughter in the death of William Person, 28-year-old Negro was killed June 13 when he was struck in the back by a pistol shot as he ran across a field.

Deputy Sheriff Jake T. Turner, the only witness for the state, said Williams told him he fired the gun as a joke to make Person run faster. The deputy testified, "I don't believe he meant to hit him... I believe it was an accident."

Judge William Y. Bickett gave Williams a 3-to-5-year suspended prison sentence, on condition he remain on good behavior for the next 5 years, and pay $2,750 to the dead man's wife and four children.

Scholarship Is Available For Greenville Grad

Urbana Junior College, Urbana, Ohio, today announced the availability of a work scholarship to any 1959 graduate of a Greenville High School who maintained a "B" average in his senior year.

Minimum amount of each grant will be $500.00, which pays tuition, all fees, and part of the student's book costs.

Under the work scholarship the student agrees to work part time for the college at the rate of two hours of work per week during the school year for every $100.00 of grant. Work is available in the library, the college office, and the dining hall.

Urbana Junior College is the only liberal arts junior college in Ohio. At Urbana, students receive the first two years of their college work which then can be transferred to other colleges and universities.

Pentecostal Holiness Ministers Announced

Ministerial assignments in Pentecostal Holiness churches in the Greenville area for a new year have been announced as the 49th annual session of the North Carolina Conference concluded a three-day program at Falcon Sunday night.

The Rev. C. C. Cribb, minister of the First Pentecostal Holiness Church in Greenville, returns for his fifth year of work in this city, and the Rev. O. T. Howard, minister of St. Paul Church on U. S. Highway 26 1/2, just east of the city limits, begins his fourth year as pastor of this congregation.

These churches now are a part of the Greenville district in Area 3 of the North Carolina Conference in a redistricting program which became effective this year.

Other ministerial appointments announced for this area include: Vanceboro District: Hodges Chapel (Chocowinity), Wiley D. Vick; Holly Hill (Vanceboro), James McCandless; Hopewell (Greenville), Lellean N. Arron; Shelmerdine, W. M. Watkins; Williamston District: Belhaven, J. W. Bunch; Bethel, Wiley T. Clark; Rehoboth (Williamston), W. M. Watkins; Robersonville, Marvin R. Whitfield; Roper, W. A. Crawford; Washington, George A. Casper; Williamston-First Church, Joe L. Russell, Sr.

Missionary to China, Miss Mavis Lee Oakley, Greenville.

Among ministers with Supernuminate relation: D. J. Little, Greenville; S. T. Harris, Williamston; N. J. Ward, Windsor; L. C. Lassiter, Aulander.

The Rev. J. Floyd Williams, Greenville native, is assistant superintendent of the conference, and serves the Person Street church in Fayetteville as minister.

Making Ends Meet Is Getting Harder Today

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Making ends meet seems to get a little harder all the time for most folk. Even the government's mythical average man finds it so.

And for the millions of Americans who only approximate the average, the steady drain on the pocketbook puzzles those who read reports in official quarters of general price stability.

But even the statistics reveal the pinch.

The consumer price index rose to a new high in July and probably is continuing in August. And because of the steel strike and its effect on other industries and the effect of a seasonal drop in some factory work weeks, the average take-home pay of the factory worker dropped.

Combined with rises in prices, this means he had to spend more and had less to do it with. We are told that this should change in time and industrial output and factory incomes be on the rise again. Meantime, it's rough.

And now the government comes up with two more statistics showing what was hurting you only a short time back. They add up to still tighter squeezes on the family pocketbook.

One is a rise in taxes which took a record 112 billion dollars from American taxpayers in the fiscal year ended June 30. The other states that while personal income totals were up 2 per cent in 1958 over 1957, over-all prices rose even more.

What with higher tax payments and higher prices for many of the goods and services it needs or wants, the so-called average family had to do some fancy footwork just to keep going.

Part of the tax payments come from business. But they come out of gross earnings, and earnings start their way through the ac-countant's books in the form of prices or fees. Thus they become part of the hidden taxes that the consumer eventually pays.

The government breakdown on tax payments put the federal ones at about 80 billion dollars and the state and local ones at close to 16 billion dollars each.

The Tax Foundation, a private research group, says that state tax collections have doubled since 1949.

It also does some complicated figuring to report that a white collar worker, married and with two children, and making $7,500 a year pays $1,770 a year in taxes to the federal, state and local governments, or 24 per cent of his income. It says that for the same worker he would have been paid $4,900 10 years ago, but his total tax bill would have been $679, or 14 per cent of his income.

When it gets away from individuals, the government's fiscal view of the economy is more cheerful.

It reports that in the second three-month period of the year the total dollar-volume of goods produced and services rendered was at a record rate of 484 1/2 billion dollars, or 15 1/2 billion higher than the recession low point of the previous year.

There are more than 5,000 known species of moths and butterflies.

Both Drivers In Wreck Charged

Drivers of two vehicles which collided yesterday on West Ninth St. were charged as a result of the wreck.

According to police, Columbus Harper, 29-year-old Negro of Route 3, Greenville was charged with improper passing when he allegedly attempted to pass a large truck on the right as the truck was making a right turn.

Operator of the truck, Bennie E. Suges, 31-year-old Negro of Beaufort, N.C. was cited to court on a charge of having improper equipment.

Damage to the car was set by police at $25 while damage to the truck was placed at $35.

Two Minor Fire Calls Yesterday

Greenville firemen responded to two calls yesterday, both of which were minor and no damage was reported.

About 3 p.m. firemen were summoned to 1321 Evans St. when a drop cord in a building developed a short circuit.

At 7:55 p.m. firefighters were called to the alley behind 315 Evans St. when a trash pile, containing paper and old boxes began to burn. The small blaze was extinguished with a small amount of water.

There are more than 5,000 known species of moths and butterflies.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Lillie E. Cook

PARMVILLE—Mrs. Lillie E. Cook, 73, of Farmville, died at her home late Monday afternoon. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. at the Hunt Funeral Home Chapel in Wilson. The Rev. E. W. Holmes officiated. Burial followed in the Maplewood Cemetery in Wilson.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert Fields of Farmville and Mrs. Bertie Folston of Stacksburg; one grandchild.

Find Wreckage Of Old Bomber

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C. (AP) — The wreckage of a United States Neptune bomber and skeletons of its 11 occupants was found today on a mountainside near this Vancouver Island community.

It was believed to have crashed in 1951.

A Royal Canadian Air Force search party made the report in a terse radio message from the 4,000-foot level on Mount McCreight.

The ground party from Comox RCAF base went to the area Monday after Cpl. W. H. Glover, an Airman—reported seeing—the wreckage while fishing at Roberts Lake.

In a message to an aircraft overhead, the search party said the plane appeared from documents at the scene to have crashed in 1951. Reports show a Neptune disappeared in the area in 1948 but no such plane was reported missing in 1951.

RCAF officials said positive identification would not be possible until the searchers returned to Comox later today.

Another United States Neptune was discovered wrecked on the same mountain in September, 1951, and was identified as one reported missing a year earlier with 11 persons aboard. Only nine persons were believed aboard the plane which disappeared in 1948.

Funeral Wednesday For Louis W. Melton

ROBERSONVILLE — Louis W. Melton, 46, died Monday in a Greenville hospital. He was a lifelong resident of Robersonville, an electrical and plumbing contractor and a member of Stonewall Masonic Lodge No. 296 of Robersonville, at the time of his death serving as Tyler.

He is survived by his wife, the former Allie Marie Roebuck; three sons, William H. of Hunter Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga., Gary Louis and Ronald Gene of the home; his mother, Mrs. J. H. Melton of Robersonville; one brother, Joe of Farmville.

Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday at 3 p.m. conducted by the Rev. Tommy Payne, Baptist minister of Robersonville. Interment will be in Robersonville Cemetery. Masonic rites will be accorded at the graveside.

Eastern Carolina News Roundup

END YEAR WITH SURPLUS
KINSTON—Kinston ended the fiscal year of 1958-59 with a surplus of $214,891.89, according to a report released Monday by City Treasurer T. W. Heath. The report showed revenue of $2,706,248.82 and expenditures of $2,491,356.93.

Heath's report shows that a major portion of the surplus came from the Utilities Department—which budgeted a number of projects for action during the year but which were never started.

SEVERN LOSES PLANT
SEVERN—The Seabrook Water Blanching Company of Tyronne, Pa. which had announced earlier that it would build a $150,000 plant in Severn, announced Friday that a change of plans would now locate the plant in Edenton. The Severn location was
