

Beatty Held Cats And Audience Well In Hand

CLYDE BEATTY WITH CAGED BEASTS . . . animal trainer fascinated local audience with his handling of the jungle cats.

Capacity Crowd Sat 'Spellbound'

A capacity crowd sat spellbound under the big Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. tent last night as the master animal trainer himself handled jungle cats like kittens. Clyde Beatty kept his audience on the edges of their seats with his handling of roaring lions and tigers. Beatty pretty well proved his extravagant circus billing, "the one, the only, the incomparable Mr. Circus himself," by the way he controlled the mighty jungle animals in a center ring steel barred cage. The big cats were forced to sit on platforms around the cage while individual cats were performing in the center of the cage. Beatty had them rolling over on the Pitt fairgrounds grass and leaping over a barricade at one side of the cage. And, to end his act, he started one of the shaggy-maned lions down, forcing the animal to turn and trot meekly out the barred exit tunnel. The act was a fascinating climax to a good circus. The show's patrons, many of them believing until last night that the Big Top era had ended, left the tent for the most part satisfied with the show they had seen. The crowd had also been thrilled by Pinto Del Oro who swung on a high trapeze in the center of the tent without bothering to hold with her hands to the trapeze ropes. She worked without a net. There were the circus clowns, elephants, tight rope walkers, trapeze acts and dozens of other acts which were strictly in the tradition of the big time circus. The entire show was topped off

School Bus Hit By Train, Seven Children Killed

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, MD. (AP)—A St. Louis-to-Baltimore passenger train rammed into a local school bus in mountainous western Maryland today, killing seven of the 26 children on the bus. Eight to 10 other children were reported seriously hurt. The Baltimore and Ohio's east-bound Diplomat rammed the bus at 9:30 a.m. EDT at a grade crossing marked by a flashing light and bell. The signals were operating at the time, the railroad said. The bus driver, Leroy Campbell, 49, told authorities that after the bus stalled he opened the door and tried to get the children out. After a half-dozen or so scrambled out the door, the rest jammed the doorway, blocking it. Then the engine hit the bus broadside, knocking the vehicle down the track on its side 40 to 50 feet. Campbell, who owned the bus, has driven the same route for four years. He has a safe driving record with the county school system for more than 20 years. No one seemed to know what caused the bus to stall on the crossing. Campbell and all the injured were rushed to an Oakland, Md., hospital, about four miles away, by every available ambulance, station wagon and car which could be summoned quickly. Mountain Lake Park is approximately 40 miles from Cumberland and about 180 miles from Baltimore. Three of the seven dead were identified as Roy O. Hinkle Jr., Lee Hoffman and Nancy Lee Harvey. The school children, ranging in ages from 8 to 14, were on their way to Southern High and Denney Elementary schools at Oakland, county seat of westernmost Garrett County.

More To Come

Official enrollment figures for Greenville's schools were released by the Superintendent's office today and set total enrollment at 4,926. Of that total, 3,037 White students are enrolled and 1,889 Negro students. Supt. J. H. Rose told the Daily Reflector this morning that not all students are enrolled yet. His prediction is that by the end of the year Greenville's total enrollment will pass 5,100.

City Council To Meet Tonight

Public hearings on re-zoning a section of North Greenville and annexation of a block in East Greenville will be held at the City Council meeting tonight. The council meets in City Hall at 8 p.m. The property to be rezoned is known as the Pollard property and it is located at the west end of Gum Road. The council is considering re-zoning the property from residential to industrial. The block to be annexed is bounded by East Sixth St., Hilltop Dr. and Eighth St. A pedestrian safety award will also be presented at tonight's meeting and there are proposed resolutions approving Greenville Industries, Inc. and the Greenville Committee of 100, Inc. There is to be a report on the proposed closing of a Jarvis St. drainage ditch and a report on the proposed paving of West Sixth St., Vanderbilt, Battle, Davenport, Tyson and Bancroft Sts.

First Firing Of ICBM By Troops Proves Success

VANENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The first firing of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile by Air Force combat troops was a success. It added the 6,300 mile range weapon to the nation's missile arsenal. The Atlas was fired over the Pacific Wednesday by a crew of the 1st Ballistic Missile Division from this base 150 miles northwest of Los Angeles. It was aimed at a spot near Wake Island, approximately 4,400 miles distant. Gen. Thomas Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command, called the firing "a historical event." Power did not disclose whether the Atlas hit its target but he said he was "more than well satisfied" with its performance. Until the launching of an Atlas by combat troops, the ballistic missile division's top weapon was the intermediate range Thor. AGAIN HONORED NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 85, has received two of the city's highest awards. He was presented Wednesday with a gold medal of honor and a citation giving him the honor of the city. New York gave its medal of honor only to leaders and former heads of state.

Crowd Of 300 Attacks Police Arresting Two Gang Members

NEW YORK (AP)—A crowd of 300 attacked two policemen with soda bottles and sticks Wednesday night when they arrested two teen-age gang members of a West Side street. The arrested youths, Reuben Aguirre, 16, and Tomas Martinez, 18, were members of the Buccaneers gang. Other members of that gang were involved in the slaying of two 16-year-old boys in a Hell's Kitchen playground Aug. 30. Patrolman Frank Pillar said he found about 20 boys gathered on a sidewalk and ordered them to disperse. "I ain't moving for you," Aguirre was quoted as saying. "This is a free country." "You're under arrest," the patrolman said. "I ain't going with you," re-

Bitter Exchange Between Red China, India Revealed

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A bitter exchange of notes between India and Red China was laid before Parliament here today and Prime Minister Nehru said Premier Chou En-lai's latest letter adds to the gravity of the border crisis. "Step by step their policy has become more rigid," Nehru said. Each nation accused the other of aggression and each demanded that the other withdraw its forces from frontier areas whose ownership is in dispute. India offered one concession — to make the Longju area a temporary no man's land pending negotiation. But both sides renewed their claims to Longju, the isolated post which Red Chinese troops seized nearly two weeks ago in a gunfight with Indian frontier guards. The Chinese warned India against trying to retake it. The seriousness of the situation is highlighted by Chou's letter, made public in Peiping Wednesday.

day, Nehru told the upper house of Parliament. With bristling finally, Chou rejected Indian protests against what Nehru called aggression in the Longju area. A new aspect of the exchange, however, was the Indian offer to make Longju a temporary no man's land while the ownership of the area is discussed. Previous Indian statements have indicated the Chinese would be pushed out of the place unless they withdrew voluntarily. The note was handed to the Communist Chinese ambassador here Wednesday, the same day that Red Chinese Premier En-lai was making public in Peiping a letter accusing the Indians of aggression and demanding that they withdraw. In the batch of papers opened in Parliament in advance of a debate on the border dispute, were four other notes from Peiping. One a week ago claimed Longju was on the Tibetan side of the border and charged that India committed "deliberate aggression" by maintaining troops here. The note further charged that Indian troops "brazenly" occupied Chinese territory at several other points along the Tibetan border since June 28, thereby creating an "extremely dangerous" situation. Another note charged Indian aircraft with six violations of the Communist Chinese borders since July. In his letter Chou charged that Indians, not the Chinese, actually were the "trespassers" in border incidents, and were "shielding" Tibetan rebel bandits along the frontier. Many Tibetan refugees from Communist rule have fled to India. The exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet, a refugee in India, added to Nehru's embarrassment by spurning his advice and appealing directly to the United Nations for "immediate intervention" in his Himalayan country seized by the Chinese Communists nine years ago. Nehru, in granting refuge to the Buddhist god-king during an uprising against the Communists last spring, advised him that going to the U. N. would not help the Tibetan people. He also made plain that he expected the Dalai Lama to avoid political activities that would hurt Indian relations with Red China while he is on Indian soil. The Soviet Union showed concern about the split between Peiping and New Delhi and appealed to both countries to "settle the misunderstandings that have arisen." The Soviets warned the West not to exploit the quarrel. Chou En-lai's letter to Nehru was released by Peiping on the eve of the opening of debate in the upper house of the Indian Parliament on the delicate relations between Red China and India. Nehru is expected to speak in the debate. Chou's note was largely conciliatory but contained barbed accusations that gave Nehru little room to maneuver. Nehru, while accusing the Chinese Communists of aggression, told Parliament on Sept. 4 that India was ready to submit minor border disputes to negotiation and even arbitration. Chou En-lai charged that "the tense situation recently arising on the Chinese-Indian border was all caused by trespassing and provocations by Indian troops." He demanded that the Indians withdraw. Nehru's declaration that India has no alternative but to defend her borders against aggression, however, apparently ruled out acceptance of any such demand.

House Overrides Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the second public works appropriation bill. Until today, the House had never voted to override an Eisenhower veto.

The roll call vote was 280-112, 12 votes more than needed to override. A great shout went up at the announcement of the vote, marking the first time since Eisenhower took office that the House has mustered the necessary two-thirds vote to pass legislation despite the President's rejection of it. The vote sends the $1,185,309,063 measure to the Senate where prompt action is expected. If the Senate also votes to override, it would be the first of 146 Eisenhower vetoes in more than six years that has been overridden. The President vetoed the bill because it contained money for more than 60 projects which are not included in his budget program. He vetoed an earlier bill for the same reason but the House last week sustained that veto by a one-vote margin. On today's roll call, 20 Republicans and 260 Democrats voted to override. Five Democrats and 116 Republicans voted to sustain the veto. The House voted soon after Eisenhower's veto message was read.

Find Refinished Gym Floor At School Unacceptable

The newly-refinished gymnasium floor at Junius H. Rose High School was again found unacceptable yesterday by the Greenville Board of Education. Beginning its regular September meeting in the gymnasium for the purpose of inspecting the floor, the Board found the floor smoothly refinished but not "up to standard in that there were patches of varying brightness throughout the whole floor."

School Architect James W. Griffith and a representative of the contractor, W. G. Dunn, attended the meeting and heard the Board's criticism. Griffith was authorized to "work out" an agreement with the contractor that will allow the floor to be used for the school's immediate program and then be cleaned and refinished at a later date under direction of the architect. Upon discovering the new line will be buried at least three feet deep and being assured the piping will be no hazard for children playing in the area, the Board gave its approval. City Manager Leonard P. Bloom further pointed out to the Board that the installation of the gas line will not affect insurance rates on the school property. He had received this information from a rating bureau. Continuing its meeting, the Board visited Fleming St. School to inspect matters in connection with property acquisition for four new classrooms and a lunchroom that are on the building schedule for this year. The Board's property committee was authorized to continue its efforts to secure adequate property for the new construction. Board members also inspected the new steel fire escape added to the Fleming St. School during the summer. Next stop for the meeting was the athletic field at C. M. Eppes School. Final approval was given to a proposed location for the fence which will be built around the field. George Cherry was authorized to begin the fencing work immediately. The Eppes field is scheduled to have its fence completed and new lighting facilities by Sept. 18—the night of its first football game. Greenville teachers' pay day will remain on the 24th of each month, according to another motion unanimously approved by the Board. In other action, the Board approved, upon recommendation of Supt. J. H. Rose, a list of bonded employees who will be responsible for school disbursements. Two were listed from each school and both must sign each check. They are: O. E. Dowd and Miss Laura Bell—Junius H. Rose High; Joseph Smith and Mrs. Irma Worthington—Junior High; Miss Leila Stancill and Mrs. Florence Norman—Third St.; Miss Agnes Pulllove and Miss Novella Exum—Agnes Pulllove; Miss Frances Wahl and Mrs. Myrtle Clark—Wahl-Coates; Mrs. Helen Wolff and Mrs. Lilian Purvis—Elmhurst; W. H. Davenport and Mrs. Olga Myers—C. M. Eppes; Mrs. Lena Brown and Miss Margaret Rich—South Greenville; and Miss Sadie I. Sautter and Miss Ruth Johnson. (Continued on Page 20)

North Koreans Reject Protest

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The North Korean Communists today rejected a protest by the U.N. command over the Communist attack on a U.S. Navy plane last June 15. The Reds said the incident was "totally trumped up by the U.N. side." The U.N. command charged that Communist MIGs attacked the patrol plane over the East Korean coast.

Adjournment This Week Abandoned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The threat of a blowup over civil rights legislation caused leaders to abandon hope today of adjourning Congress this week. Instead, the Senate started planning for a session early Monday hoping that, unless the civil rights bomb explodes, one more long day can complete the year's legislative work. The threat of still further delays rested on the possibility of a strong Southern battle against extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission, which issued this week a report many Southerners didn't like. Any such move almost certainly would bring on a counter-drive by advocates of strong civil rights legislation to enact extensive new laws. With the fuse hissing, no one could say definitely that the bomb would explode, but none dismissed the possibility. Other major pieces of the year's legislative pattern started falling quickly into place. The House was ready to accept a third try housing bill which the Senate passed 86-7 Wednesday and which had assurance of administration approval. President Eisenhower has successfully vetoed two previous housing bills, which he called inflationary. A showdown was assured during the day on Eisenhower's veto of a second public works money bill which reached him only Wednesday. The House adjourned before it could receive the message Eisenhower had prepared, but arranged to vote today. And Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas alerted the Senate to be ready for a mid-afternoon vote on the veto if the House overrides the President's objections. House action sent to Eisenhower a bill raising from 3 to 4 cents a gallon the tax on gasoline and other motor fuels effective Oct. 1 to assure continued construction of superhighways throughout the nation. But the civil rights issue, and the controversy always provoked by the foreign aid money bill to which it is attached, held the key to adjournment possibilities. The measure goes before the Senate Saturday. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in an interview there is no chance that work on the money bill, the last major legislation of the session, can be completed before Monday. Johnson is expected to call the Senate into session at 8 a.m., four hours earlier than usual, for what may be one of the body's longest working periods.

Scholarships Announced For Four Eppes Grads

Four college scholarships were approved at yesterday's meeting of the Greenville Board of Education for four 1959 graduate girls of Greenville's C. M. Eppes High School. The Ficklen Scholarship went to Mary Jane McClinton, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, 204 Hudson St. She will attend North Carolina College in Durham. Bettie Jean Corey received the Sam T. Stretching Dollars

RALEIGH—Pork supplies coming to market are reported to be the largest in 10 years, according to Mrs. Ruby P. Uzzle, consumer marketing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service.

Watch for good buys in lesser known cuts, including pork hocks and shoulder steaks. Sausage, bacon and ham are economically priced for meal treats. Ham is expected to be lower in price than at anytime in several years. Beef supply and prices are unchanged. Cold cuts and luncheon meats are attractively priced.

Fish industry reports heavy landings this week which means good buys for the consumer.

Gardening Today

Gardening is like trying to learn to swim. You have to wade first. Don't go in over your head if you are gardening for the first time. Don't overestimate your physical ability or your interest.

It is better to have a small place that you won't tire of and one that you can keep neatly than to try to have a place that requires a lot of attention. Such places usually end up in July or August (if you last that long) as weed havens. Take it easy. Enlarge as you go on and stop when your muscles and interest tell you to. Gardening is supposed to be fun. When it isn't, it becomes a wearisome job. Study good books on garden procedure. Learn about your enemies (you'll have many). Read up on spray materials.

Find a good plant source (local nurserymen and seed dealers). Enjoy the pretty pictures in the catalogs but don't float (a lot of sweat and work lies between seed and beauty). See what plants do well in your locality. Visit your neighbors and drop in on strangers. See what does well for them. Copy their plants, but not their designs.

Brookgreen Garden Club Hears Speaker

"Hollies in the Garden" was the topic of the program presented by Paul Nance of Washington to the members of the Brookgreen Garden Club at their first meeting of the club year Wednesday. The club met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Wilkerson.

Introduced by Mrs. Charles Bissette, Nance stated that there were more different named holly plants than any other plant in the whole plant kingdom.

He discussed the American Holly telling of its large growing habits, red berries and its general beauty. The Japanese Holly was also discussed. This plant is a dwarfed variety, more adaptable for planting in small yards.

The English Holly is less used in this section and is not as desirable than others, he continued.

Nance said, "The holly is so varied and so lovely that a yard could be planted with only the different varieties of holly and have a most pleasant effect."

The garden club members participated in an informal discussion with Nance following his talk concerning problems common to them.

Mrs. Charles Gaskins presided during the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Plato Evans, president.

During the business session, the new yearbooks were distributed. Mrs. Ruland Davenport reported

Deb Doings

At a Silo supper Monday night Pitt County debutantes received their final pre-Ball entertainment. Hostesses were Miss Margaret Ann Harrell, Miss Florence Norman, and Misses Jeanne and Martha Lee Moye.

Attracting focal attention at the crook of the L-shaped table were a satin-gowned deb doll and her formally-attired marshal enclosed in a bower of red roses and lavender flowers. Single white candles entwined in roses and ivy accented the ends of the table.

Upon arriving, guests were presented rose corsages. Flowered place cards and scarlet-ribboned favors carried out the color theme. Each deb received a silver disc engraved "Deb '59."

The diners were served barbecue chicken, tossed salad, creamed potatoes, hushpuppies, and tea followed by a dessert course of lime sherbert.

Our Inland Waterways Forgotten

One of the purposes of the forthcoming industrial safari to Europe by Gov. Hodges and other leaders in North Carolina is to promote more overseas business for the state's deep water ports at Morehead City and Wilmington.

Certainly that is a worthy goal for the trip. The traffic through these two ports would be helped greatly if more European industrialists and shipping firms can be persuaded to use North Carolina's ports. We find no fault with this effort to bring more business to our deep water ports.

At the same time, it is our feeling that North Carolina is missing a good bet for developing more business for its two major ports by not promoting greater use of inland river ports within the borders of our own state.

In North Carolina we have a vast network of inland waterways, a great deal of which already is used for transporting vast quantities of material. To a great extent, however, our waterways are used only as passages for the transportation of items from locations north of us to destinations south of us and vice versa. Most of the traffic is along the coastal waterway north and south rather than moving inland in North Carolina's remarkable network of rivers.

If the state, in cooperation with individual cities and counties, would develop a network of inland river ports that could handle quantities of cargo, there can be no doubt that greater quantities of business would be developed for the state's two deep water ports. At the same time new transportation arteries would be opened into the inland areas of North Carolina and the state as a whole could profit.

Such an undertaking could not be accomplished overnight, but over a period of years North Carolina could build up an effective and important system of inland ports along its waterways.

It is well enough for state leaders to seek to improve the business of deep water ports by visiting industrialists and shippers abroad; but we should not overlook the possibilities within our own borders for increasing the business of our two major ports.

No Quick Action On A New County Home

On the surface, at least, it would appear Pitt Commissioners intend to remain in the county home building.

The Board this week inspected the facilities which were roundly condemned by the latest Grand Jury report, and found a clean-up program under way. More than that, though, the commissioners have let it be known they're going to consider constructing a new county home.

Contemplating such a step, and then taking it, are two different pieces of cake. Lenoir County has been working on a planned new county home, and their troubles really didn't erupt until after they were deep into the problem.

As we understand it, a $200,000 bond issue for the project was voted following an architect's estimate that sum would suffice for a 63-bed facility. When the bids were opened, it was learned that estimate was low by $136,000 . . . and the bidding did not include necessary equipment. As of now, the Lenoir Board is facing a dilemma as to building a smaller facility or somehow shaving construction costs to fit the available funds.

So it's pretty obvious that undertaking a new county home calls for a high degree of preparatory study and consideration. It's a long way from being an overnight decision.

Gentlemen...You Had Best Forget The Idea

The Senators, who (according to the Associated Press) are giving "enthusiastic consideration" to a free trip to Hawaii for the whole Senate, should put a damper on their enthusiasm.

It's just possible such a trip might be the last many of them would make at public expense.

According to the originator of the resolution, it would require an outlay of $200,000 to cover members' expenses. Such a free ride at the taxpayers' expense figures to surpass all past junkets . . . a word becoming more and more galling to taxpayers.

If there was good reason to send a handful of lawmakers anywhere to conduct some part of the nation's business, no one would complain. But to take part in our newest state's thanksgiving celebration hardly comes under the heading of business; rather, the operation comes closer to looting the public treasury.

And don't think the "folks back home" wouldn't look at it that way.

But before our own blood pressure gets out of hand, perhaps we should remember the resolution was drafted by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen; a spokesman for the political party which has been inveighing against extravagant spending.

And another point: when the strains of trying to wind up Congressional business become difficult, a whimsical bit of nonsense is apt to erupt in the most unlikely places and from the most unlikely sources.

But just in case members of that august body are taking the junket half-seriously, we'd suggest right now they forget all about it. They can get the voters upset mighty easily with that kind of talk.

No Civil Rights Action Sighted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major civil rights legislation this year is as unlikely as the idea that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will ask for political asylum when he lands here next week.

Congress, rushing to get away before Khrushchev arrives, may renew the life of the President's six-man Civil Rights Commission which otherwise dies Nov. 9. That's the most in view.

Civil rights advocates might like to think that if not this year then next year Congress will ram through a strong civil rights bill. Don't bet on it, even though 1960 could be noisy.

Next year is the big election year—for the presidency and Congress—and Southern Democrats, no matter what the year, can be relied on to fight any civil rights bill with real teeth in it.

Such a fight, if it got nasty enough, could split the Democratic party wide open at a time when it wanted unity at the polls.

The Democratic leaders in Congress—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—are compromisers who don't like splits. Johnson himself is a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Tuesday the Civil Rights Commission, although without much real power of its own, threw another log on the fire with a report making some proposals in the civil rights field.

Southern Democrats hopped on them angrily and at once, even though they are still only in the talking stage. Nevertheless, the commission's suggestions are bound to be one more point of argument next year.

But judging from past performance—the maneuvering and compromising in Congress—plus the fact that 1960 is election time, it seems safe to say any civil rights legislation passed next year will be fairly mild.

This seemed the year for any effort at a strong civil rights bill—since Southerners would have had another year to cool off—but neither Johnson nor Rayburn sought to make civil rights a major issue this year.

Varying civil rights proposals were put forth by Johnson, by President Eisenhower, and by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), who was joined by 14 other Democratic and Republican senators.

All of the proposals landed in an icebox because of Southern Democrats' tactics in locking them up in committee and thus keeping them from getting out on the floor of the House or Senate for a vote.

The committees which did the locking up are headed by Southerners.

Earlier this year the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—made up of 53 organizations—threw its weight behind the bill sponsored by Douglas and the other 14 senators. A companion bill was offered in the House by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored people and chairman of the conference, called the Douglas measure "certainly the No. 1 civil rights bill."

From the start, this looked like the one with the least chance.

Prepared To Weigh His Welcome

By HENRY HOWARD

Long Services Honored

It's definitely a rare experience to eye-witness the presentation of an honorary award to a veteran of over 30 years of community service.

Such an occasion presented itself last Monday night when the Town of Farmville named its new fire station after its beloved fire chief since 1926.

About 8 o'clock that night, a small group of regular firemen, a six-year-old honorary fireman, the town's major, a few members of the family, and the chief himself gathered on the front porch of Haywood Smith's home around W. Church St.

The ceremony was brief and simple.

There was the reading of a proclamation naming last Monday "Haywood Smith Day" and the presenting of a bronze plaque to the 78-year-old chief. The plaque read in tall letters, "Haywood Smith Fire Station." It will be affixed to the wall of the fire house in honor of the veteran chief.

In barely audible words and with tears in his eyes, the old gentleman said, "You just don't know how much I appreciate this."

Taking these words literally, it's likely that they do know how much the gesture was appreciated—there's always the biggest difference in the world between insincere and really genuine appreciation.

Everybody present knew how very earnest the man behind the tear-stained face was in his words. Sincerity hung heavy—it was in the air.

A faraway look came into the old chief's eyes. No doubt he was swiftly winging on a mental tour of what had gone before. Members of the small group would have welcomed the opportunity to accompany him, had it been possible.

Needless to say, this would be one of the crowning memories "Uncle Haywood" could store in his mental treasury.

A quick look around discerned smiling faces of fellow firemen, eager to devise all possible methods of showing their appreciation to the man who'd been the fire chief for as long as they could remember.

Standing beside them was a wife whose expression showed unlimited pride and admiration for a husband. A daughter also stood by. Her gaze fell lovingly on her father, seated and holding the bronze plaque.

For long moments the old chief sat quietly and examined the plaque which bore his name and the name of the new fire station. Then, almost as abruptly as it had begun, the ceremony ended and the small group quietly drove away into the night.

What's so rare about such an experience? You might ask that. You might say, "Why he was only a fire chief in a small town . . . if he'd been a governor, or a senator, or . . . even some sort of state official, then such a thing would be impressive."

The point is that this man was not "JUST another fire chief." Uncle Haywood has captured the heart of Farmville people. If you don't believe it—just ask them. They'll tell you his untiring efforts to make their a better community have traveled beyond the wildest of expectations. They'll tell you his whole life has been to them a long story of "above and beyond the call of duty."

What could be a more impressive or rare experience than to watch such a presentation to a man like that?

Other parts of the nation are rapidly coming around to the South's viewpoint. But there is no indication of a relaxation of the idea of force on the part of the Federal government. The theorists prefer to have their way even in the face of the practical application of a system which has worked well until now.

Meantime, our Yankee brethren should clean up their own backyard before trying to apply force in the South.

Other Editors Saying Testimony From N. Y.

(Henderson Dispatch)

From many quarters has come criticism of the South for its attitude about integration, especially on the public schools. Often the claim has been made that segregation is hurting this country abroad in its relations with other people. Foreigners, it is asserted, do not understand this attitude. But the arguments are fallacious, even to the point that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones. Which applies also to the holier-than-thou East and other sections in the United States.

On last Sunday the New York Times published a story which said that many Negro families in the metropolitan area are sending their children into the South so that they could attend segregated schools in preference to the mixed schools of their own city. It was estimated that 2,000 or more children had been sent to this section for this purpose.

Reasons give were overcrowded conditions in New York City schools, and that actual discrimination against Negroes there is worse than segregation in this section.

Dr. Carroll, State superintendent of public instruction, said not long ago that northern States are "raiding" graduates of North Carolina Negro teacher training colleges on the theory that they are better qualified than graduates of integrated schools elsewhere.

Why then the attempt of theorists in the Federal government to integrate schools of the South, by force, and military force at that? White people do not want integration, and we are convinced that neither do most of the Negroes. Stimulus for the trend comes from leaders who simply want to mix and from others who dislike the South in the first place and are willing to go to whatever lengths necessary to irritate the people of this part of the country.

Even the Negroes of the metropolitan area are now joining in the claim that segregation is best and indicating that they prefer it. The whole integration idea springs from politicians looking for minority votes and from church and educational theorists who have some sort of an axe to grind.

Racial relations in the South certainly were improving rapidly before a socialist-minded Supreme Court stepped into the picture and a misguided national administration resorted to military force to uphold the court edict. We would have gone farther and more quickly as it was before.

Other parts of the nation are rapidly coming around to the South's viewpoint. But there is no indication of a relaxation of the idea of force on the part of the Federal government. The theorists prefer to have their way even in the face of the practical application of a system which has worked well until now.

Meantime, our Yankee brethren should clean up their own backyard before trying to apply force in the South.

Havoc In The Home

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you go about getting President Eisenhower to declare your home a disaster area?

There is no point in our appealing to the Red Cross in this emergency. Too big a job. This is a federal case.

Our apartment looks as if it had been devastated by Hurricane Hortense. Actually, it's worse. We're having the place redone. Well, here's the situation to date:

We called the Salvation Army to take away our old furniture, and they refused on two grounds: It either wasn't worth carting away, or if it was, it belonged in the Smithsonian Institution.

So we called a rubbish disposal man. He took one look at the debris and asked, "What are you storing here—surplus government wheat?" Then he left town on a long vacation.

Repainting a New York apartment is as ritualized as a Hopi rain dance ceremonial.

The painters refuse to enter until you first pile everything in a big heap in the center of the room. This is to save arguments. The painters then are entitled to any paint that falls on the floor—and you get to keep any paint that falls on your stacked up furniture.

My wife, Frances, is usually pretty good at dealing with workmen. This time she met her match.

"That painter won't listen to a thing I say," she complained. "He says he's 85 years old, and ready to quit anyway."

After he doused his brushes and left, Frances wasn't sure she liked her new color scheme. The bedroom of our 6-year-old daughter, Tracy, is pink, but it's a kind of throw-up pink. The bathrooms were supposed to be Mediterranean blue. They turned out poison bottle blue.

Worst of all is one living room wall intended to be solid gold. The gold is a sickly, sickly gold. Soon as I got my books back on the shelves, the paint inspector arrived and said our solid gold wall would have to be done over. Down came the books.

"I have to get rid of the old furniture before the new furniture comes," said Frances, who is alternately hysterical and tranquilize with despair. "I don't know which way to turn."

My wife is brooding about turning the key in the lock for the first time in a house in the suburbs—and starting life all over as a pioneer mother out where everyone's peach and the subways don't reach.

If this isn't a federal disaster case, I never saw one.

Help, Eisenhower, help! And don't forget to send a plumber. One of our faucets just sprung a leak.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

HAVE COURAGE TO ASK. There is a story in the 12th chapter of Acts—almost an amusing story—of how Peter was in prison the disciples had a prayer meeting and prayed earnestly that he would be delivered. When he was delivered by the miraculous hand of God, and a little maid named Rhoda went to the door in response to Peter's knocking and returned hurriedly to say that Peter was standing without, the disciples were praying earnestly that something be granted them, and when it was granted they refused to believe that their prayers had been answered.

This is typical of what happens in the lives of everyone of us. When God actually answers our prayers we are usually so overcome with astonishment that we forget—for some time at least—to thank Him. It just can't be that God has actually granted us what we asked for. Yet why pray for it if we believed we can never get it?

One trouble is that we find it hard to believe that God actually wants to give us the desires of our hearts. We are afraid we are asking too much. The truth generally is that we are asking too little. God always wants to give us more than we have the courage to ask for.

Big Waste In Bottom Drawers

By ELMER ROESSNER

A simple calculation with a slide rule, an electronic computer and a broken ball-point pen shows that bottom drawers of filing cabinets are costing American business $200,957,000 a year.

Don't you love those ringing statements that may be truer than anybody knows.

Nobody knows exactly how much bottom drawers cost business. File cabinets are expensive. A firm must pay for the cabinets, then pay rent for floor space for them. And the bottom drawer is as expensive as the other three.

COSTLY STORAGE

In one company, the average initial cost per drawer was $24; amortized over 20 years this meant $1.40 a year. Four drawers plus aisle and working space take up six square feet. With rent at $3.50 a square foot a year, this made rental space for four drawers $21 a year, or $5.20 a drawer. Thus each drawer can do about it. It can buy sets of three instead of four drawers and mount them on costs $6.60 a year.

Know what this company found in most bottom drawers? Goshes!

Most file clerks hate bottom drawers. They have to bend far down—and only another girl knows what seems pop and what stays stick.

Girls get dizzy. They feel exposed. Their spread embarrasses them.

So file clerks and other putter-aways use bottom file drawers for goshes. And rubbers, umbrellas, paperbacks, lunches they forgot because of last minute invitations, spare nylon, bottles of dilipatories and old photos taken at company picnics.

THE GREATER LOSS

There are millions of bottom file drawers over America; most of them are costing employers something around $6.60 a year to maintain. The cost could be as low as $1 a year for second-hand drawers, up to $20 areas.

In some of the tougher companies, no gosh nonsense is allowed. But in these, the tendency is for file clerks to use the lowest drawer for dead, or almost-dead, storage. Correspondence that should be referred to may be buried in bottom drawers.

Worse, file clerks may deliberately avoid bottom drawers. The top drawer may be for A to G, the second for D to J, the third from K to L, and the bottom one from M to Z, with Kc starting at the top of the next vertical row.

Or if a letter from the Moonshine Corp. is to be filed and M is in a bottom drawer, a clerk may simply stick it under G for "Guess Where?" All of this confusion can, of course, cost far more than the millions wasted on extra drawers and rented space.

There are several things busier supports 20 inches off the floor. It can mount drawers on jacks or, including the bottom one, so they can be elevated to working levels. It can build step-down runways so the bottom drawers can be easily reached.

Best of all, it can start throwing out tons of correspondence, notes and reports that never should have been filed in the first place.

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES HOLD UP DESPITE STRIKE

The steel strike has not hurt department store sales nationally, although there have been some dips close to steel mills.

Total department store sales in the first three weeks of August were plus 9, plus 6 and minus 1, all compared with a year ago, and that third week was mighty hot and humid in most parts of the country. In the Cleveland Federal Reserve District, which takes in Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and other steel towns, the figures were plus 10, plus 4 and minus 2 per cent. In the Duluth-Superior metropolitan district, sales were up 12 per cent, even and up 5 per cent in a year for those in high-rent

Private Schools Costly Way Out

ATLANTA (AP) — Southerners are finding private schools an expensive and inadequate alternative to racially integrated public schools, a survey indicates.

The Southern Regional Council studied by Virginians to set up private segregated schools and concluded in a report Wednesday that talk exceeded achievement in what it called "The Virginia Experiment."

The council is a biracial group which says it aims for better race relations.

Only in Prince Edward County will there be this year "a county-wide experiment in private education for whites with no education of any sort for Negroes," the survey reported in a summary of the Virginia situation.

"In Charlottesville and Norfolk," the council continued, "private schools may or may not, depending on finances and administrative problems, enroll limited numbers of white children."

The survey leaned heavily on newspaper studies of 10 congressional districts in Virginia.

Lack of financial support and poor facilities were cited by the SRC as the largest roadblocks in the way of private schools. The council also said many churches are rebelling against use of its facilities in "a program of resistance to the order of a duly constituted court of law" or for racially discriminated classes.

Teachers are wary of giving up their salaries and security in public school systems for what hastily formed private schools may offer, the survey suggested.

Big Hand-Shaker Is Out Of Action

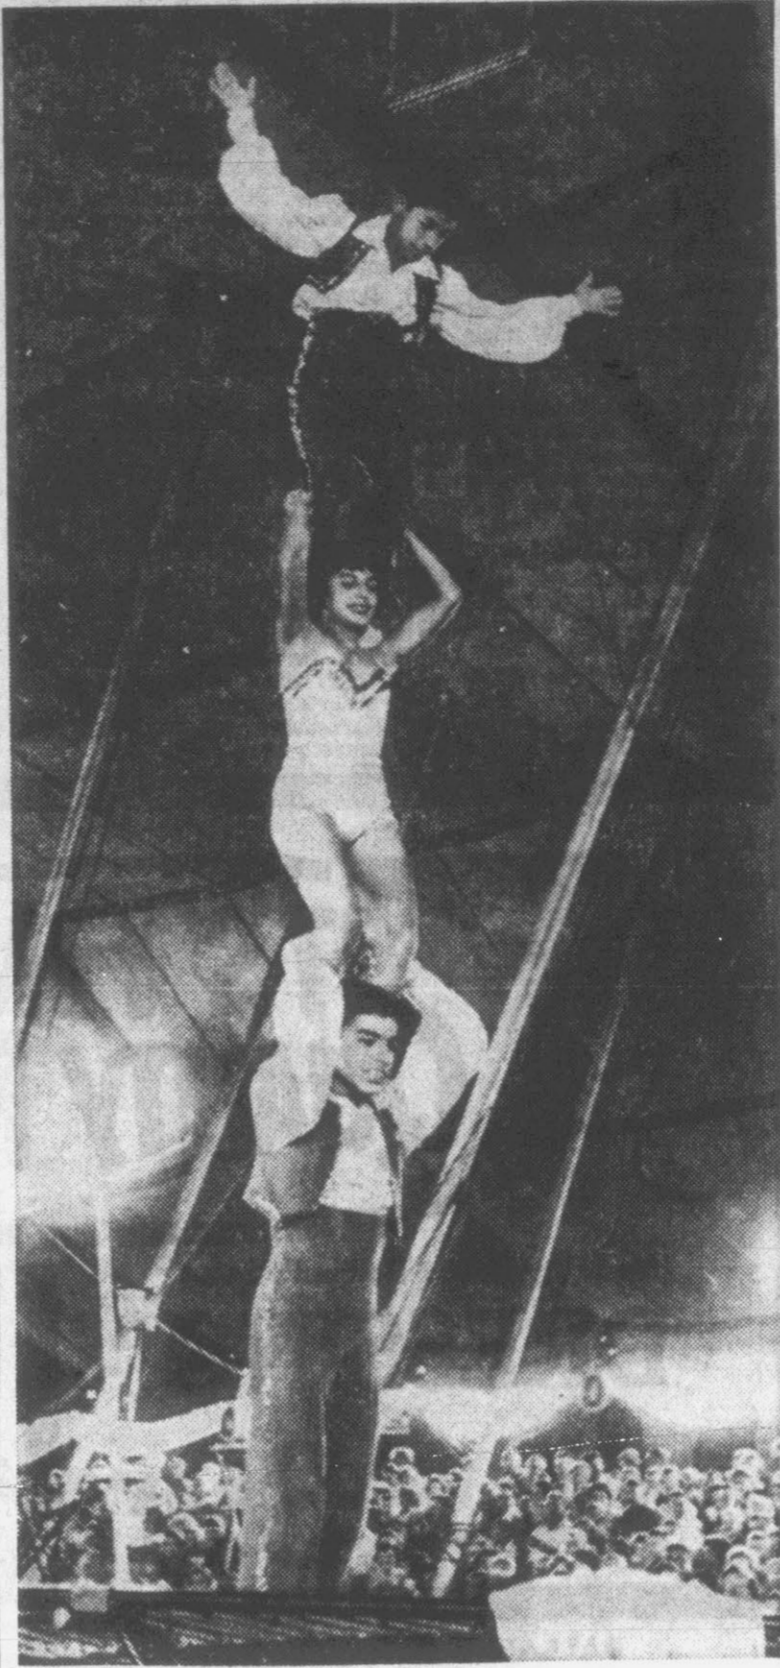

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, known as a good hand-shaker, faced a tour of the State Fair today with his right hand, the hand-shaking one, out of action.

The governor told newsmen that, while he was getting into a car Wednesday, the chauffeur closed the door on the middle finger of his right hand, ripping the nail.

Seven Warehouse Buildings Burn

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — A raging fire, punctuated by explosions from drums of chemicals, destroyed seven warehouse buildings on the waterfront Wednesday.

Seven firemen were hospitalized but none was injured seriously. The area is less than 300 yards from the site of the Black Tom explosion in World War I.

Anna Marie Is Robbed Again

LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP)—Anna Maria Alberghetti says she seems to be "the target of the month" for thieves.

The singer reported Wednesday that suitcase containing clothing valued at $4,395 was stolen sometime after her arrival here.

While she was appearing at the Hollywood Bowl last Saturday night, thieves took $5,000 worth of jewelry from her home. Four weeks ago thieves entered her home but took only some records and a phonograph needle.

Ready To Mark 100th Birthday

CANTON, N.C. (AP) — Miss Estella Taylor weighed three pounds when she was born. Her doctor gave her no more than four years to live. She made plans today for her 100th birthday celebration Oct. 15.

Miss Taylor is a former kindergarten teacher who also worked among the blind. She still has all her own teeth and says, "I can eat anything I want."

Since her retirement nearly 35 years ago, she has traveled in Europe to the South Pacific and in the Caribbean.

"I have been in every state in the union with the exception of Colorado and Arkansas," the spry little woman said, "and I hope to visit those two before long."

A statement by the conference's executive committee found some good in Eisenhower's proposals but said the Johnson bill might result in "civil rights being bargained away rather than enforced."

If any measure gets through next year, it isn't likely to be the Douglas bill but more probably some middle-road legislation which the Southerners won't find too unpalatable.

Ike Expected Raise Question On 5 Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in his forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, probably will bring up the subject of the five Americans still imprisoned in Red China.

Dec. 20, 1955, except at the expiration of sentences imposed by the Communist courts.

McCann, 58, a prominent Tientsin businessman was arrested on spy charges June 14, 1951, and sentenced to 15 years.

Attention was focused on the prisoners again today when the State Department said their release is a matter of urgency and importance.

Downey, 29, and Pecteau, 32, civilian employes of the Army, have been held on spy charges since Nov. 29, 1952. Downey was sentenced to life, Pecteau to 20 years.

Redmond, 39, who was with an American import-export firm in Shanghai, was arrested April 26, 1951, and sentenced to life on espionage charges.

An Eisenhower-Khrushchev discussion of the prisoners appeared likely since virtually all other diplomatic channels have been exhausted. This county has no direct diplomatic relations with Red China.

The State Department estimates that at least 158 Americans have been jailed or held under house arrest in Red China since the Communists came to power 10 years ago.

No U.S. prisoner has been released by the Chinese Reds since

Prices Higher On Eastern Belt

Flue-cured tobacco prices in the Carolinas ranged Wednesday from lower on the Middle Belt to steady on the Border Belt and higher on the Eastern Belt. The Federal-State Market News Service said nondescript on the Eastern Belt gained $2-$5 per 100 pounds and other grades were mostly unchanged to $2 higher. Volume ranged from light to heavy and quality was a bit lower. The belt recorded the second highest average of the season Tuesday when 11,589,058 pounds went for an average of $58.26 per 100, up $1.46 from last Friday. This was 56 cents less than the season high of Aug. 31. A few leaf offerings declined somewhat on the Border Belt, but other grades made small gains. Volume was fairly light, quality lower. Tuesday's sales were 8,026,272 for a $63.75 average, up $3.10 from Friday. Stabilization Corp. took 1.9 per cent of sales. Final season sales were held Wednesday at Kingstree, S.C. and today at Conway, Darlington, Dillon, Hemingway, Loris and Pamplico, S.C. Final sales will be held Friday at Fair Bluff, N.C. Leaf grades on the Middle Belt dropped $1.5 per 100, and prices declined $4.4 for lower qualities of other groups. Pair to better grades held firm. Volume continued heavy but quality was lower. There were 4,863,322 pounds sold Tuesday for a $57.20 average, up 43 cents from Friday. Stabilization took 4.9 per cent of sales.

Electrocuted By Touching Truck

GREENSBORO (AP) — James Alfred King peered upward at the telephone pole being raised by a truck wench, and rested a hand lightly on the body of the truck. It was this action, probably, that cost the construction foreman his life Wednesday.

The pole struck a high power line carrying 15,000 volts, which surged down the pole to the truck. Dr. Allan Coggeshall, medical

Expects Bitter Seating Battle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An Alabama Democratic committee man says the South can expect a bitter fight with the national party over seating of its delegates at the Democratic convention next year.

George L. Bailes Jr., member of a committee of Alabama Democrats named to work toward a southwide meeting of party members, said the South must chart a united course before going to the convention.

"We're going to have a fight on our hands," Bailes said Wednesday.

"Paul Butler (Democratic national chairman) wants delegates to pledge to back the national candidate before they are seated, and many Southern states are not going to write him a blank check like that," said Bailes.

Bailes said he felt that the South could possibly compromise with delegates from other regions on national party issues, but added:

"I don't think we could agree with Butler on anything."

Democratic leaders from Alabama and Mississippi voted Wednesday at Jackson, Miss., to set up a southwide strategy meeting prior to the 1960 national convention at Los Angeles.

HOMETOWN FOLKS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democrat J. Harold Crady has been congratulated on his recent election as mayor by every major potential Democratic candidate for president but one.

The missing voice belongs to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), the only one of the lot who ever lived in the Baltimore area.

Louisiana Clergy Object To Preacher's Speech

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Episcopal clergy of Louisiana have lined up disapproval of a North Carolina Episcopal preacher's scheduled speech before a New Orleans segregationist group.

The local clergy made public Wednesday its disavowal of any connection with the appearance of the Rev. James P. Dees of Statesville, N.C.

And the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana, added he wanted to make it clear that Dees' appearance "carries with it no endorsement of the Episcopal Church."

Dees, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church of his city, is to speak Monday before a Citizens Council rally. Efforts by the local clergy to dissuade him apparently have been unsuccessful.

The Very Rev. Robert B. Lucent, dean of the New Orleans Clerics of the Episcopal Church, wired Dees Aug. 31 that the local clergy was not in sympathy with the aims of the Citizens Council. Lucent urged Dees to reconsider his planned address to the group.

Apparently, the telegram was not answered. A second wire followed with the additional signature of Jones.

The two said they would make the original telegram public unless Dees advised them within 24 hours that he was not coming here.

Dees described the move as Communist tactics.

In his answering wire, Dees said he was speaking to the group as a private citizen.

"I would presume further that the church would not deny any citizen the right of free speech on controversial social issues nor even to try to bring pressure on them to suppress it. I am utterly amazed at such intimidation tactics. Who do you think you are? You sound like Khrushchev," Dees said.

COFFEE BREAK

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. (AP) — Burglars broke into the Vermont Bank & Trust Co. branch here, but made off with only $1.25 in coffee money.

Jones said the meeting's publicity gave the impression that Dees was not speaking in a private capacity, but representing the church.

"We would like to make it clear that (Dees) . . . represents neither his local vestry, the bishop of his own diocese, nor any official body of Episcopalians in the New Orleans area."

Ingemar To Sing On Dinah's Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson is going to sing with Dinah Shore on her NBC-TV show Oct. 4.

"When I was in Sweden this summer, everyone told me how well Ingo could sing," Miss Shore said Tuesday. "So I brought some Swedish songs back with me and he'll sing both alone and with me."

Healthy Record For A Schoolgirl

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Sandra Stubblefield, 17, graduated from Amphitheater High School of Tucson with a perfect attendance record.

She wasn't absent a single day during her 12 years in elementary and high schools. Her explanation: "I'm just a healthy girl."

Atomic Tractor Is On Its Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Atomic power may reach the farm soon. Dr. Finn J. Larsen, research director of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., says fusion atomic energy for farm equipment—tractors and the like—is on its way.

He distinguishes between fusion and fission atomic energy thusly: fusion results from the combining of lighter elements rather than the breaking up of heavy atoms as in the fission process.

Fusion atomic energy's greatest advantage, he says, is that it does not require shielding because it is not radioactive.

Palaces Of Egypt's Ex-Monarch Are Opened To Public

By DAVID HINNAWI

CAIRO (AP)—In Egypt anyone can be king for a day. Playboy King Farouk was removed and the monarchy abolished seven years ago, but every day hundreds of Egyptians can still play the role of king and in the original setting, too.

When Farouk was ousted in 1952 he left behind him six huge palaces in Cairo and Alexandria and several "love nests" scattered throughout the country.

Since then the palaces have been converted into museums, restaurants and casinos. Luxurious swimming pools where the former king once bathed with his harem were opened for public use. Farouk's cozy retreats along Egypt's main highways were made into rest houses and cafes.

The king-for-a-day program can begin with a visit to Abdin Palace in the heart of Cairo. This was the official headquarters of the former king and his most permanent residence. The huge palace covering an area of over one square mile is divided into two wings, the harem or haramlek and the reception hall or salamlek.

The palace has been kept in very much the same state since Farouk made his last exit. It is famous for its Byzantine hall and the Suez Canal ballroom, where festivities once hailed the opening of the canal.

For lunch you can stop at the king's former yacht "Kassed Kheir" moored on a bank of the Nile just across Cairo's main hotels. Here you can order from Farouk's favorite menu, use his special table or enjoy kebab on a flaming skewer.

After lunch perhaps a trip to the pyramids and tea at the rest house which Farouk built at the footsteps of the gigantic structures. This little gem, on a plateau overlooking Cairo, is built in the style of an ancient Egyptian temple.

The furniture is copied from that of Tutankhamon, a famous Egyptian pharaoh, and the walls are decorated with pharaonic paintings depicting hunting and feasting scenes. The program can be culminated with an evening of dining and dancing at Abdin Casino, once the king's private night club.

PAWN OF POLITICS—A soldier stands guard over some of the valuable art objects in the former royal palace in Cairo. When King Farouk was removed seven years ago and the monarchy abolished, the palace—and five others he owned—was turned into a museum.

ROYAL FUN—At the Casino Abdine, located in the former royal palace in Cairo, plain citizens dance to the strains of a rumba. The place formerly was King Farouk's private night club.

Tobacco Tips

By S. J. WEEKS, Pitt County Tobacco Agent

As the 1959 tobacco crop is being sold it is not too early to begin considering ways and means to produce the highest net return from your 1960 crop. There are many production practices to consider as you formulate your tobacco production program.

The first and one of the most important steps in a good tobacco production program is the plant bed. Experimental results have shown that a good supply of quality plants at transplanting time will increase the net profit from the tobacco crop.

In order to have a good supply of strong, healthy plants, reasonably early in the transplanting season, a well planned plant bed program based on sound and proven production practices must be followed.

Careful attention should be given to the location of the plant bed site. Select a deep fertile loamy soil that warms up quickly. The soil should be well drained, but not one that dries too quickly.

Avoid using soil that bakes or crusts easily. It is a good idea to locate the bed near a dependable source of water, whenever possible, such as a pond or stream. Having plenty of water handy in dry weather may determine whether you have plants ready for an early setting.

Cold and drying winds can cause very serious damage to stands and earliness of plants. Therefore, it is a good idea for all beds to have some type of windbreak on the north, northwest and northeast sides, especially on the north side. Woods, hedgerows, buildings and fences covered with vines make good windbreaks. Avoid locating beds in shaded areas.

If you already have a permanent plant bed site established and have a cover crop growing, it should be disced in immediately. By discing the cover crop in now the organic matter will be decayed in time to treat the soil for weed and nematode control in the fall or early winter.

It is very important that you start planning your plant bed program for the 1960 tobacco crop now by selecting your plant bed site and beginning proper soil management.

To Talk Senior College Project

Campbell College, ~ Community leaders of 51 counties will meet at Marshbanks Hall on the Campbell College campus Friday evening to consider ways and means for changing Campbell into a senior college.

Principal speaker at the citizens' dinner meeting will be the Hon. Graham A. Barden, representative of the Third Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives. Congressman Barden is linked to education by early service as a public school teacher and by present chairmanship of the important House Committee on Education and Labor.

A spokesman for major business interests in Campbell's home-county area will be W. H. Ruffin, president of Erwin Mills. Ruffin is past president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Speaking as representative of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Speaking as representative of the Harnett County college, will be Douglas M. Branch, general secretary-treasurer of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. Branch, as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Rocky Mount, has been a pacemaker of the current program to strengthen N. C. Baptist higher education. He has called the Campbell four-year movement "a matter of great interest and significance to our denomination in general and to Baptists of Eastern North Carolina in particular."

Horsemen Adopt Calvary Gear

IRONIA, N.J. (AP)—The colorful blue and gold uniform that marked the U. S. cavalry of the 1870's is once again being worn by a group of horsemen.

Eight men, who call themselves the Morris Troopers, appear in parades carrying the guidon of the 7th Calvary, Custer's regiment which was wiped out at the Battle of Little Big Horn in 1876.

The troopers, including carpenters, painters, mechanics and a banker, own their own horses and have made their own uniforms. They are completely and authentically equipped, from their McClelland Army saddles to their sabres.

In Other Words, Just Too Quiet

FORTVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The Fortville Tribune carried the following weekly dispatch from Jack Hite, its correspondent in the little town of Eden:

"Hi, folks. This week in Eden there were no fights, no weddings, no babies born, no robberies, no shootings, no basketball games, no one made a million—in fact, no nothing."

Northeastern New Guinea, an area of 69,700 square miles in the South Pacific, is Australian Trust Territory. It was formerly called Kaiser Wilhelm's Land.

More Funds To Research Work

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The research arm of industry is in for a bigger shot of financial vitamins. Many corporations stepped up their spending on research and development during the recession convinced that new products or new processes were the way to lick it.

This year they're putting even more in the kitty because they see a new era of bigger sales on the way — and research is still one of their best bets to outplay the other fellow.

The billions that industry pours into this endeavor are described by several sources, both Washington officialdom and private research groups.

The American Management Assn. reports that 582 firms tell it this year's budgeting for research and development is, for the group as a whole, 12 per cent above the money spent in 1958. In that recession year they spent 4 per cent more than in 1957.

The Department of Commerce sets forth in its statistical abstract of the United States that industry's spending on such endeavors expanded from 430 million dollars in 1945 to 4 1/2 billion dollars in 1957. And today's outlay from both government and private sources is estimated to be running at 10 billion dollars a year.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census further notes that the fastest growing group in its classification of the working population is the professional and technical one.

Why do hard-headed treasurers of corporations approve money for the often nebulous activities of company scientists?

Dr. Philip Marvin, research and development chief for the American Management Assn. has a blunt answer. "New products tend to produce added profits and often have a greatly magnified multiplying effect on earnings," he says.

"Corporations that are ahead usually stay ahead and it is becoming increasingly difficult for late starters to catch up.

"Those corporations that can capture leadership positions in the use of new technology within specific industries can command their destinies, both with respect to directions taken and profit levels achieved."

Looking back on 1958, a year that started poorly for many firms but brightened in the final months, the companies report that as a group their new product spending averaged 3.2 per cent of the sales dollar, compared with 2.8 per cent in 1957.

This year the industry increasing its spending the most is the automotive one, up 32 per cent — with the new compact cars doubtless taking a large slice of it.

Next in line are: Instruments, up 30 per cent, electrical machinery 24 per cent and metalworking 22 per cent.

Real Stretch By Rubber Bands

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—How far will a rubber band stretch? Giant versions, which look like the ordinary office rubber band, but are six feet long, are now being used in industry warehouses and shipping rooms, reports President Clyde O. DeLong of B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. They will stretch 18 feet.

The king-size bands were developed to hold cartons together in stacks so they won't slip or tumble when being loaded, DeLong says.

HE WAS RIGHT

MEDINA, N.Y. (AP)—Joe Aroski thought his automobile brakes needed checking. He was right. He couldn't stop when he got to a service station. He hit a door, cracked a wall and ran into the owner's parked car. He was fined $10 for driving with inadequate brakes.

Cable Car Will Be Loaned Japan

Land Bank Loans Above Mid-30's

WASHINGTON — Officials of the cooperative Federal Land Bank System had cause this week to compare its loan volume with that of the depression years of the mid-thirties, but agreed that the similarity between the two periods ended there.

ditional land and to modernize their farms to make them more efficient units.
In the past year, Nowlan reported, the 574 million farmers obtained in Federal land bank loans through their 854 local national farm loan associations was an increase of over 67 percent over 1957-58. Farmers now have over $2.2 billion in loans outstanding through the System, Nowlan said, also an all-time high.

Not So Dumb To A Third-Grader

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Third graders were enraged when a newspaper columnist described their pet parrot, Sam, as "the dumbest pupil in the third grade because he has spent five years there without being promoted."
One youngster wrote the newspaper: "I don't like that remark about Sam being dumb. He's in the third grade, and he's only 7 years old."

Three Contenders Win In Hot NL Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
One game, or one play. Even one hit. That may be the difference, the turning point in the National League's three-way scrap for the pennant.

The big play was Wally Moon's, giving Drysdale and the Dodgers their run. He did it with nifty base-running, moving from first to second on a foul pop—and then scoring on Gil Hodges' single.

The big hit was Bobby Avila's—a grand-slam home run in the ninth that boosted Milwaukee's Braves, pressing for a winning streak, to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis after they had been held to two hits for eight innings.

That left the Braves and the Dodgers in a tie for second, three games behind San Francisco. The Giants kept that edge by whipping Pittsburgh 7-2.

Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs twice, winning the opener 4-2 in 10 innings and the nightcap, held to five innings because of darkness, 7-2.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox won 5-1 at Washington for a 4½-game lead over second-place Cleveland. The Indians swept a two-night pair at Baltimore 2-2 and 4-1. Detroit beat Boston 3-1 and New York defeated Kansas City 4-0.

Drysdale (16-12) was tagged for two triples (by Joe Koppe and Ed Bouchee) and hit three batters, but he didn't walk a man and struck out 11.

His one jam came in the seventh, when an error and two hit batters loaded the bases with two out. But Drysdale then fanned Carl Sawatski.

Moon's run came in the sixth. He opened with a single and made his move when Norm Larker, trying to bunt, popped foul. Sawatski shoved past the plate umpire, Tony Venzon, and made a diving stab of the ball. Before the Phils' catcher could get up, Moon was off, just beating Sawatski's throw to get into scoring position for Hodges' single.

Moon, seeing Sawatski sprawled on the ground, touched up at first and sprinted to second, just getting there ahead of Sawatski's throw. It was a considerable risk but it paid off when Gil Hodges singled with two outs, driving in Moon with the game's only run.

Snead In Bad With PGA Over Tourney Remark

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Those remarks Sam Snead made about penurious payments to a defending champion and a $500 fine if he didn't defend his title in a golf tournament had the Old Slammer in bad with the PGA today.

Snead, here to play in the $25,000 Dallas Open, in which he won first money the past two years, was blasted by Harvey Raynor, PGA tournament supervisor, for showing "a complete lack of cooperation with tournament golf, which has made him a wealthy man."

The famed golfer of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., started off by keeping tournament officials in suspense, because he wouldn't file his entry until the last moment.

Reportedly Snead was seeking appearance money, something that's in dispute, however, because when he finally arrived he said he had held up on his entry because of a conflict with an event that was going on at the hotel which employs him in West Virginia.

But he was quoted in the press as criticizing the $200 he would receive as defending champion and also saying that the fine a defending champion faced for appearing was unjustified.

So Raynor issued a statement that "we don't feel that he should have made complaints about regulations if he were a true professional golfer."

"The tournament players themselves make these rules. The regulation Snead referred to is for the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of professional golf. The money a man wins for winning the championship is certainly worthy of his re-appearance."

"We all know that the $200 he is guaranteed is not enough to cover plane fare here and expenses for the tournament. But the sponsors fund from which this is taken cannot afford any more. As for the $500 fine, it's not that we are hard up for the money. We feel it is the defending champion's duty to the game and to the sponsor to appear."

Wednesday Snead was elected captain of the Ryder Cup team by members of this team named at a meeting here Tuesday.

Farmville Opens Friday; Expect Stronger Team

By JUNIOR CANNON
FARMVILLE — Seventeen returning lettermen, including eight members of last year's first string, could provide the Farmville High School football team with the power needed to make a name for itself in the Coastal Conference race this fall.

The entire backfield returns, led by quarterback Howard Moyer who is an elusive runner and capable passer. Clarence Moore, at fullback, will provide the Red Devils with a good power runner while Ralph Cash and Alton Hedgepeth, at the halfback positions, should bolster the attack with their speed and deceptiveness. Danny Dilda, a triple-threat man, and will see plenty of action.

An experienced group of boys will handle the front-line duties. Jerry Weisner, at 205 pounds, will be a mainstay at left tackle while Mitchell Cannon (190) will handle the right tackle position. Ben Monk (196) is also slated to see plenty of action. Douglas Gurganus (180), Moses Moyer (180) Donnie Fulford (170), and Bobby Eason (155) at guards, while Billy Walker (160), J. Y. Monk (180), Bobby Avery (165), Alex Corbett (140), and Rex Hodges (170), are fighting for the end positions. Bernice Ravenbark (195), has moved to center from his starting tackle position of last year. He is backed up by Todd Holmes (155).

Other boys fighting for positions are Tommy Joyner, George Baker, Eddie Thomas, John Owens, Ricky Murphy, Hardy Moyer, and Tommy Baker.

The Farmville squad began practice on August 17. Though it originally consisted of 38, the number has now dwindled down to the 27 mentioned above. Among the boys left, however, are those with the experience and drive needed for an above par team. Coaches Moyer and Bruce feel that if the boys give it all they have and hustle, they may be able to make a good showing.

Farmville will get its first test this Friday night against conference foe Contentnea. The game will be played at Contentnea.

Illinois boasts one of the conference's best lines, power at fullback and a pair of sophomore halfback standouts. If little Johnny Easterbrook performs steadily well at quarterback the Illini will be tough.

Coach Duffy Daugherty plans to pep up Michigan State's offense with a double winged T and a man in motion.

Michigan will be in its first season with Bump Elliott as head coach and will use the winged T. Twenty-one lettermen return.

Indiana made a great comeback last season with a 3-2-1 Big Ten record. The Hoosiers' lack of experience is bound to hurt.

Sophomores will play a big part at Minnesota along with 18 lettermen. The Gophers lost virtually their entire first string line.

Drysdale Shakes Slump With Neal Three-Hitter

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale decided to take it easy and Wally Moon decided to take a chance.

That may explain about as well as anything why the Los Angeles Dodgers are still hanging in there today, three games behind the league leading San Francisco Giants.

Tonight the Dodgers will try for a sweep of their 11-game home series with Philadelphia in the final meeting of the two clubs this year.

Drysdale, whose recent six-game losing streak was accompanied by frequent losses of temper, played as quiet and cautious as a burglar Wednesday night as he picked up his 16th victory in a 1-0 shutout of the Phils.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander struck out 11, didn't walk a man and got through the entire game without snarling at anybody.

A daring stunt by Wally Moon proved as essential to the victory as the pitching.

Moon opened the sixth with a single off loser Taylor Phillips (1-6). Norm Larker tried to bunt Wally along but popped the ball foul with catcher Carl Sawatski making a fine diving catch.

Moon, seeing Sawatski sprawled on the ground, touched up at first and sprinted to second, just getting there ahead of Sawatski's throw. It was a considerable risk but it paid off when Gil Hodges singled with two outs, driving in Moon with the game's only run.

Hawkins To Open For Pro Packers

GREENSBORO (AP) — Green Bay Packers coaches said Wednesday former South Carolina star Alex Hawkins will open at right halfback against the Washington Redskins in Saturday night's Piedmont Bowl exhibition game at Winston-Salem.

Hawkins, a freshman in the pro football ranks, is battling Lew Carpenter and Don McIlhenny for the job.

Halfback Paul Hornung, ex-Notre Dame star, was a standout in Wednesday's practice in both running and passing.

All four quarterbacks — Vito Parrilli, Bart Starr, Lamar McHan and Joe Francis — worked with the first team in drills.

and as first baseman Dick Stuart argued the call. Jack Sanford (13-12), who had lost three in a row, won it with Stu Miller's hitless two-inning mopup. Harvey Haddix (11-11) was the loser, giving up Mays' 27th homer for a 2-0 Giant lead in the third.

Their Footballer Weighs 309 Lbs.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Who's the biggest football player in the nation?

Texas Southern thinks it has him—James Forey, senior tackle from Tampa, Fla. Forey tips the beam at 309 pounds.

Forey also says he has lost 16 pounds since reporting for football training at the Negro school.

Final Plans

East Carolina laid their final foundation late yesterday afternoon with only a light workout today and a loosening-up drill at Presbyterian on Friday awaiting them prior to their 1959 opener.

Coach Jack Boone had a busy afternoon yesterday trying to get final instructions in. The club spent most of the evening working on defenses to be used against the rugged Presbyterian club.

Ralph Zebring, Jerry Carpenter, George Turner, and Bert Stafford—the four Buc quarterbacks—gave their passing arm a good workout, reviewing pass patterns to be used against the PC team.

Stuart Holland, the fifth reliable quarterback, was running at a halfback slot on the second unit. The Edenton junior was impressive at a halfback slot last Saturday night in the scrimmage session and the move may be a permanent one.

Spirit was high in the Pirate camp as they adhered to the mapped-out strategy of their coaching staff yesterday afternoon.

With the opener just two days away, the Bucs are in good physical condition. The injuries have been limited and Coach Jack Boone will be slated to open the new season at almost full strength.

Tribe Have Streak; Rem ain Standstill

Have Won Six In A Row And 15 Of Last 20

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say the Cleveland Indians have been streaking along at a standstill in that American League pennant chase.

They've won six in a row, seven of their last eight and 15 of the last 20.

Yet the Indians are right where they were when they started—4½ games behind Chicago's first-place White Sox.

The Tribe has lost only five times in 20 games since dropping four in a row and falling 4½ games behind Chicago on August 18. But those five defeats have kept them on a treadmill, for it was the White Sox who handed Cleveland all five.

The Sox, who have a 17-7 record in that same span, won their fourth in a row and reduced their magic number to 12 by beating Washington 5-1 Wednesday night as the two contenders opened their last trips through the East.

Cleveland stayed with 'em by sweeping a two-night doubleheader at Baltimore, beating the Orioles 3-2 and 4-1.

Still, any combination of 12 Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats will give the White Sox their first pennant in 40 years. Chicago has 15 games left, Cleveland 16.

Detroit held on to third place with a 3-1 victory at Boston on a three-hit pitching job by Jim Bunning (16-11) and Al Kaline's two-run homer, New York, a half game behind the Tigers, handed Kansas City a 12th consecutive loss, 4-0, as Art Ditmar (12-8) and Whitey Ford combined for a four-hit shutout.

In the National League, San Francisco retained a three-game lead over Milwaukee and Los Angeles by whipping Pittsburgh 7-2. The Braves beat St. Louis 5-3, and the Dodgers defeated Philadelphia 1-0.

Cincinnati took two from Chicago's Cubs, winning 4-2 in 10 innings and then taking the nightcap, held to five innings because of darkness, 7-2.

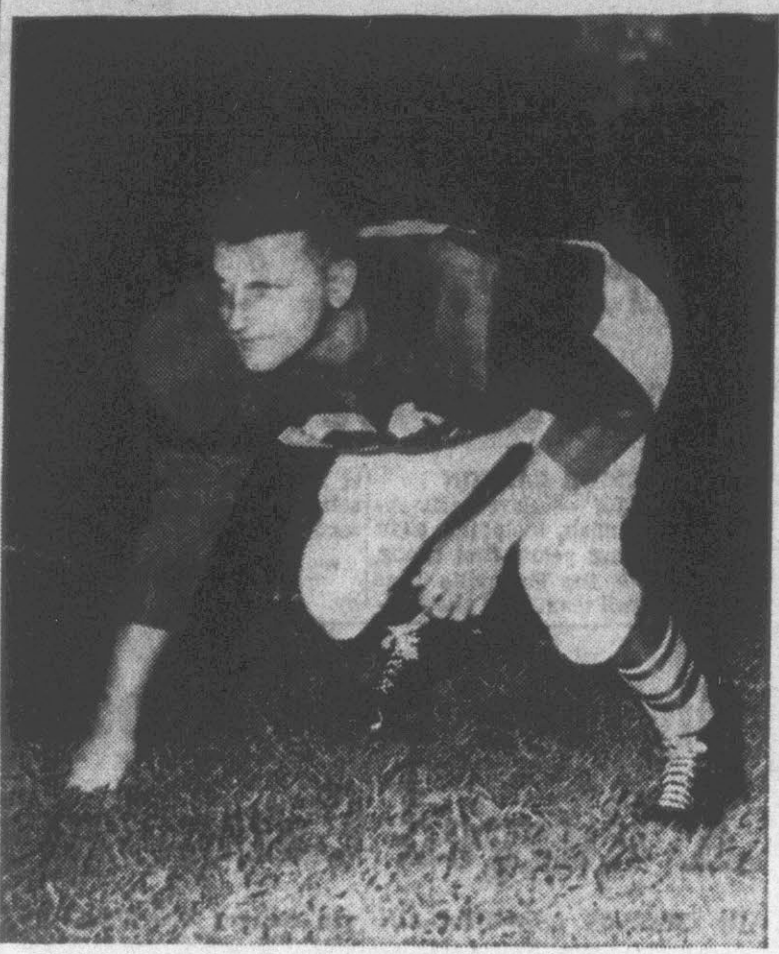

The White Sox, out-hit 7-6, made it 11 in a row over the last place Senators by breaking a 1-all tie in the seventh.

They scored four runs in the seventh on a walk, two errors, Al Smith's single to center, Jim Rivera's single off the shin of loser Tex Clevenger (7-4), a bunt single by Bob Shaw and Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly.

It was Little Looie who counted their first run, getting around with a walk, his 51st stolen base, an infield out and Jim Landis' fly.

Shaw (15-6) gave up seven hits while beating Washington a fourth time.

The Indians scored all of their first-game runs in the last three frames putting it away in the

Snead Rated As 'One Of Best' By WF Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wake Forest of the Atlantic Coast Conference, which has won only five games of its last 30, could turn out to be the dark horse with the fastest color in the eight-team league.

Coach Paul Amen calls this year's Deacon squad "without doubt the best football team I've had in my four years here."

Lest cynics point too quickly to the kind of record the teams of the past three years hung up, Amen adds that "Our chances of winning the conference title are as good as any other club's."

Moreover, Amen—who was associated with some great Army teams as a coaching assistant at West Point in the 1940s—says his quarterback, Norman Snead, is the best he's ever worked with. The tall, husky (6-4, 200 pounds) 20-year-old was the ACC's No. 3 passer as a sophomore last season, coming into his own when regular signal caller Charlie Parker was injured.

The Deacons were in good physical condition as they worked out Wednesday and Amen looked forward optimistically to the Sept. 19 opener at Florida State.

By contrast, Clemson Coach Frank Howard was dissatisfied with the showing of his defending ACC champions in the longest scrimmage session of the season. After a 30-minute pass scrimmage, the Tigers' first three units were given the ball each in turn at midfield to see how quickly they could score.

Dwight Bumgarner, 6-2 end, was promoted to the starting line by Duke Coach Bill Murray. The coach said Bumgarner has an edge in speed on Claude Moorman, whom he replaced.

South Carolina, which opens with Duke, polished up its defense against Duke plays. Coach Warren Gliese explained that he expects Duke, "along with many other schools, will come up with some new offensive twists." He also noted that the Gamecocks are hampered by inexperience in some positions.

North Carolina's running plays weren't too effective against the freshmen, and one big bohnuk guard threw fullback Don Kiochak for his first rushin loss in pre-season practice. The passes of quarterbacks Jack Cummings and Skip Clement got some long yardage.

Furman closed out two-day drills in preparation for a scrimmage Friday night against the freshmen. Coach Bob King rotated three teams in goal line stands.

Eppes High Has More Experience

Coach "Sonny" Daniels, head coach of Eppes High School football, predicts that his Bulldogs will return to grid prominence this season following a mediocre season of three victories in eight outings.

The veteran coach feels that his club will have the experience to become one of the high school powers this fall.

On the line, the Eppes coaches will have a host of lettermen to start work with.

David Newton and Linwood Hardison are back to man the tackles. Both were members of the team last season.

The Davis twins are expected to occupy the guard slots. Both of these have three years of experience on the squad.

Only one end, Calvin Gatlin, returns but the other spot is wide open with three prospects battling for the starting assignment.

Quarterback could be the weak link for the Bulldogs with two signal-callers missing from last year's team. Marion Watson, a converted halfback, appears ready to step in and do a good job but his experience at this position is limited.

Willie Lee Adams is expected to be the "bread and butter" man in the Bulldogs backfield. A halfback, Adams is shifty and a good break-a-way runner.

Eppes will open their season tomorrow night against Oxford at Oxford.

This year's schedule is as follows:

Sept. 11—Oxford—away
Sept. 18—New Bern—home
Sept. 25—Wilmington—home
Oct. 2—Jacksonville—home
Oct. 9—Raleigh—away
Oct. 16—Elizabeth City—home
Oct. 23—Goldsboro—home
Oct. 30—Washington

End David Thomas can claim a distinction on the East Carolina squad. A Lawrence, Kansas native, he is further from home than any other Pirate player, and is the only player on the squad from that section of the country.

SC Champs Given Big Boost By Huston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The surprise standout of West Virginia's pre-season football training camp is the player who with quarterback Danny Williams is probably its most indispensable man—fullback Tom Huston.

Losses from 1958 hit the Southern Conference champion Mountaineers hard at fullback, taking the top two men—Noel Whiskey and Glen Shamblin.

When Huston returned to West Virginia last February from a three-year tour of duty with the Army, it was literally an injection of new life in the sagging corps of fullbacks. He'd made a fine impression in his first stay at WVU, playin second string and gaining 154 yards as a sophomore.

From the 220 pounds he weighed in 1955, the big back from Arlington, Va., officially checked in at 190 last week. Judging by teammates' reactions in scrimmages, Huston hit as hard as ever.

With Huston showing himself in such fine shape, Coach Art (Poppy) Lewis has been able to concentrate on shoring up gaps in the line.

Davidson's No. 1 team defeated the second unit 12-0 in a game-type scrimmage, and Coach Bill Dole said "both teams moved the ball well." Another game - type scrimmage will be held Saturday behind closed gates.

Coach Eddie Teague said his Bulldogs were "over the hump" in their conditioning after two rough workouts at The Citadel.

"It's a matter now of rehearsing, coordinating offensive and defensive assignments," he said.

Sophomore quarterbacks Calvin Cox and Dan Barton were impressive in an hour-long scrimmage at William and Mary.

Virginia Military Institute held no scrimmage, but Coach John McKenna sent the Keydets through plenty of contact work in close-up blocking drills.

Sophomore guard Joe Coniglio was lost for the season at George Washington because of a series of injuries.

Passing occupied much of the time at Virginia Tech, where Coach Frank Moseley promoted three players to the first team as a result of Tuesday's scrimmage—halfback Terry Strook, tackle Bob Harris and guard Ed Barug. Strook is the only sophomore in the starting lineup at the mo-

WHAT YOUR MONTHLY HEATING AND COOLING COSTS SHOULD BE

A national test discloses that the average American home, if properly designed and insulated, can be heated and air conditioned for $8.44 per month in the South to $14.60 in the North. These figures are based on 1,200 square feet of living space. Sponsors of the test claim this means a savings of from 20 to 50 per cent in annual heating and cooling bills over houses conforming only to F.H.A. minimum requirements.

The bronze industry is conducting an intensive campaign designed to show that the traditional qualities of cast bronze — resistance to corrosion and weathering, high durability and architectural beauty — can be utilized in hundreds of diverse products within the home. The Brass and Bronze Ingot Institute is sponsoring research on bronze at the Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, Ohio.

Thousands of students are earning money during the vacation period by renting power lawn mowers and then negotiating run-of-the-summer contracts with home owners. Will Press For Conviction Of Eight Bombers WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Delaware Atty. Gen. Januar D. Bove said today he will press for the convictions of eight white men accused in connection with the bombing of the only Negro home in suburban Collins Park.

He said that he will call a special session of the New Castle grand jury Sept. 22 to consider indictments against some or all of those accused.

Meanwhile, Gilbert Minnick, 49, of Collins Park, was given a hearing before Magistrate Frank J. Carello Jr. on charges of malicious mischief and third degree burglary in connection with a second bombing at the Rayfield home Aug. 2. Carello reserved a decision until a later date.

Minnick is among the eight men awaiting grand jury action on charges stemming from the first bombing at the Rayfield home April 7.

AFROTC Unit Enrollment Up

East Carolina College's Air Force ROTC detachment has begun the 1959-1960 term auspiciously with an enrollment larger than in the past several years. Cadets this year number 216, an increase of 42 over last year's total of 174. Freshmen enrollment for the fall quarter is 145.

Lt. Col. Norman F. Merritt, professor of air science, who began his duties at East Carolina in July, heads a staff of four officers and four non-commissioned officers. Major S. L. Hodges and Airman First Class Henry Pitt are also newcomers on the staff.

This year for the first time the East Carolina College AFROTC has a liaison-type aircraft assigned to the detachment. It will be used for flying cadets and for orientation purposes in the flight program. The aircraft is kept at the Raleigh Municipal Airport and will be used by AFROTC units at East Carolina, Duke University, State College, and the University of North Carolina.

Believe it or not, one home builder has put into effect what he calls "house aging." It consists of having a workman hit the top plate every four inches with a six-pound sledge after the ceiling joists are in place. This procedure is said to help settle the framing and prevent cracks in gypsum board walls later.

In reading about woods, you may have come across the terms "pattern" and "figure." The pattern of the wood refers to the character of the grain. The figure refers to the highlights running at right angles to the grain.

A home intercom system featuring an automatic switchboard is said by its manufacturer to have so few components that it can be installed by almost anyone. It consists of five to 10 telephones which connect through the miniature switchboard. The phones are operated by plugging into wall outlets.

Bells Will Toll During His Tour

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—The bells of St. Augustine Cathedral will toll a rebuff to Nikita Khrushchev every day of the Soviet premier's forthcoming U. S. tour.

The Most Rev. Joseph P. Hurley, Roman Catholic archbishop of St. Augustine, said the tolling at 3 p.m. daily would be in remembrance of martyred victims of the Reds, and in solidarity with Americans who refuse to welcome Khrushchev.

$500,000 Hospital Capital Improvement Bonds of the State of North Carolina for the purpose of providing funds for participation by the State through the Medical Care Commission in local hospital construction?

The bonds referred to in each of the foregoing questions have been authorized by Chapter 1038 of the 1959 Session Laws of North Carolina entitled:

"An Act to authorize the issuance of bonds of the State to provide for capital improvements for State institutions and agencies and State aid to community colleges and for local hospital construction, subject to a vote of the qualified voters of the State."

Under instructions from the State Board of Elections the registration books for this special bond election will open on Saturday, October 3, 1959, at nine o'clock at the polling places, and remain open until sunset on Saturday, October 17. The various registrars in the county will be at their polling places for registering voters on the three Saturdays of October 3, October 10 and October 17. Those persons now registered do not have to register again in order to vote in this special election.

The polls for said election will be opened from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Dated this 8th day of September, 1959.

Vast Security Shield To Protect Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has fashioned the strongest security shield ever to protect Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev from potential assassins, demonstrators, hecklers and crackpots.

Up to 15,000 policemen, plainclothesmen, National Guardsmen and government security agents will join forces in a massive, carefully coordinated plan to watch over the Soviet dictator every foot of the way.

About 2,500 will be deployed and waiting along the route into Washington Tuesday when Khrushchev steps off a giant TU114 turboprop jet liner at nearby Andrews Air Force Base to begin his 13-day coast to coast tour.

About a dozen Soviet secret police, led by Security Chief Nicolai Zakharov, are to be part of this unprecedented security network. A selected number will be allowed to pack guns.

Five of these Soviet security agents already have inspected the route Khrushchev will follow in his swing through six cities and are reported satisfied with arrangements for protecting their chief.

The security arrangements, checked and double checked in painstaking detail, include protection not only for Khrushchev and his family but also for the 108 other Soviets, including newsmen, who are to accompany him.

These precautions have been adopted partly because of a long held fear that Khrushchev's visit would arouse bitter anti-Communist demonstrations along the way particularly from Hungarian and other eastern European refugee groups.

Thus far, however, these fears have proved groundless. Surprisingly few threats against Khrushchev's life have been picked up.

Some 20 letters, messages and telephone calls have threatened action, but at this stage of planning his is less than one-third the number of similar threats directed at Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan when he visited the United States last January.

Most foreign refugee groups have decided to boycott Khrushchev's public appearances, giving him the silent treatment, rather than demonstrate, shout insults and throw eggs as they did during Mikoyan's travel.

President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon have publicly urged that Khrushchev be given a courteously correct reception.

Stefan Korbonksi, chairman of the Assembly of Captive European Nations, told a reporter his organization opposed Khrushchev's visit but did not plan any public demonstrations.

Korbonksi said refugee groups did not want to be accused of "poisoning the atmosphere" in the event that the Khrushchev talks with President Eisenhower fail to ease international tensions.

Traveling With Nikita, Will Be A Man Who Can Talk Back

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev's American traveling companion on his U. S. tour will be a man who knows how to talk back to the Soviets. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's chosen representative to follow Khrushchev across the country, makes a policy of talking back to them at the U. N., where he is chief U. S. delegate.

Municipal Meet Speakers Named

ASHEVILLE—A panel discussion on "The Impact of Federal Legislation on Municipal Government" will be a feature of the 50th annual convention of the N. C. League of Municipalities here September 27-29, Executive Director Davetta L. Steed announced today.

He often remarks that whenever the Soviet Union makes charges against the United States in the Security Council or elsewhere, his practice is to answer them at once.

Now he is going to meet their boss—and, between Sept. 15 and 27, travel with him from Washington to New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Iowa and Pittsburgh. He is quite as blunt spoken as his famous guest.

Segregationists Rap Evangelist

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Billy Graham, who is to hold an evangelistic rally here this weekend, is denounced as an integrationist in leaflets to be distributed here.

The Capital Citizens Council's leaflets attacks the Little Rock Ministerial Alliance, sponsor of Graham's visit, accusing the group of trying to desegregate the city's churches through the Graham rally.

The leaflet also hits at Graham for his expressed views on segregation and for having invited onto his platform at New York the Rev. Martin Luther King, a leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott.

The Rev. Wesley Pruden of Little Rock, like Graham a Baptist, said Wednesday 40,000 copies of the leaflet will be distributed. Graham's crusade headquarters in Charlotte, N.C. says 90,000 people are expected to attend his sermons here Saturday night and Sunday.

The evangelist had planned an extended crusade here last year, but it was postponed because of tension due to school integration.

One of the speakers will be U. S. Senator B. Everett Jordan and another will be Pat Healy of Washington, D. C., executive director of the American Municipal Association, who is an expert on Congressional matters affecting municipalities.

He seeks to make sure that newspapers and broadcasts will carry the American rejoinder at the same time as a Soviet charge, and give it equal prominence.

This could lead to a series of stateside repetitions of the famous "debate in the kitchen," which Khrushchev and Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried on at the American exhibition in Moscow last month.

Jordan and Healy will speak Monday afternoon, Sept. 28, and will answer questions on Federal matters. The annual banquet celebrating the League's Golden Anniversary will be held that night in the Municipal Auditorium.

"Gigantic cock-and-bull story," said Lodge in the General Assembly in 1957 when Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev accused the United States of various "aggressive acts."

But it may be that neither Khrushchev, anxious to make a good impression, nor Lodge, bent on seeming correct and hospitable, will let such a thing happen.

Registration for the convention, which will have headquarters in the Battery Park Hotel, will begin at 9 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27. The opening business session is set for 4 o'clock with the keynote address to be presented by Richard Graves, director of the Philadelphia Industrial Corporation and a former president of the American Municipal Association.

"Really atrocious libels," the U. S. ambassador observed in the 1953 Assembly when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin charged U. S. provocation of the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

Grandson and namesake of a famous U. S. senator, he himself was 13 years a U. S. senator. He took time out during World War II to serve as an Army officer in Libya, Italy, France and Germany. He now divides his time between Beverly and New York. He has a wife, two sons and six grandchildren.

About 600 municipal officials will attend.

Shawneetown Has Distinction

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (AP)—The city of Shawneetown, which is preparing for its sesquicentennial next year, shares with Washington, D.C., the distinction of being a city platted by the federal government.

Congress established Shawneetown in 1810 when it authorized a survey to establish a distributing postoffice for the raw frontier territory. The town is located on the Ohio River about 35 miles southwest of Evansville, Ind.

They will be brought up to date on legislation enacted by the 1959 General Assembly and the present session of the Congress, with emphasis on such matters as streets and highways, municipal finances, new laws on annexation and similar subjects they need to know in order to render top service to their towns and cities.

For the next 20 years, Shawneetown was the main cross roads of the frontier territory which later became the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri.

Advised Not To Be Critical

DENVER (AP)—New members of the Colorado Medical Society were advised Tuesday to refrain from criticizing the work of other doctors.

Bursa, a center of silk manufacture, was once the capital of Turkey.

Don't inspect a person's scar and say "who did that?" Instead say, "My, that's a neat scar. Who performed the operation?"

CHAPTER 32

SUE VINCENT was quickly out of her saddle and running to the big five's kitchen door and into the cheery lamp-glow of the room beyond.

Here Rosa Diaz moved among the fragrant vapors of her cooking. She looked at Sue with some uncertainty, then, glimpsing what was in Sue's eyes, opened wide her generous arms.

"Nimble mia!" she gulped. Sue hugged her, mingling a few tears with some breathless endearments. Afterward, wiping her eyes, she exclaimed:

"If ever I'm cross with you again, Rosa—may I be horse-whipped! Now I want loads of hot water for a bath, and then supper right here in our own kitchen."

Out in the deepening dark by the corral, Link Asbell told the story of his day to Hughie Logan and Dutch Stauber.

"I like all of it except you hauling Wiley Goss out to Double Diamond," decided Hughie. "That wasn't playing it smart. You could have got yourself killed."

"Not while Tom Grant rode with me."

"Tom's the pure quill," Hughie conceded. "Just the same, it wasn't smart."

"Still worth the risk," insisted Asbell. "I learned things. One is that Jonas Dalmar is worried."

"I don't know, Dutch. Goss was a little wild-eyed when he came stampeding through the timber and bumped into me. Like a man who'd been pushed into something he hadn't expected. Like maybe Frank had thrown down on him first, and he had to shoot back to keep from having his own head shot off. I'll know more when I get a chance to talk to Frank. Now how was it with you? What happened in town?"

"Not a thing," Dutch reported briefly. "All I got out of it was a full day of loafing."

"Same with me," Hughie Logan said. "I did a lot of riding, but saw nothing that meant anything. It's true Double Diamond has a gather started on their back range, but it's not a big one yet, and there were no signs of it being about to move."

"That could come later, when they've made certain of other things," Asbell said.

"Such as—?" hinted Hughie.

"You guess," Asbell suggested. "That's what I'm doing a lot of."

He ate with Hughie and Dutch and old Cuff Tilton, then went in to the ranch office to smoke an after-supper cigarette and to do some quiet thinking. He lay well back in his chair, letting all his muscles sag and soften, so that some of the fatigue might drain out and ease replace it.

He smoked one cigarette to ash and was building another when the inner door of the office opened and Sue Vincent came in.

She was spick and span in fresh blouse and divided skirt and her hair hung loose and soft over her shoulders while she brushed the dampness of her bath from the edges of it.

Had any slightest twinge of remorse been in Link Asbell over the killing of Wiley Goss, it would have left him at this moment. For his every act was in the interests of this slim, glowing girl, and he knew that no matter what future events might demand, he'd back away from none of them.

"I feel like a brand new person," she exclaimed. "Come eat supper with me, Link."

He pulled to his feet, explaining, "I ate with the boys. But I don't think another cup of coffee would founder me."

He stood for a moment, looking down at her, and then he turned and went to the kitchen. He was dressed like a fragrance. It was on his tongue to tell her that for him there was no other loveliness in all the world to compare with her own, but somehow the words wouldn't come.

So long had he been reticent about this, the habit now held him in silence. But what he felt lay unmistakably in his eyes, and she saw and understood, and a flush stole through her cheeks and she turned to the door, her words faintly breathless.

"Come along, then. I'm ravenous."

The next hour was as pleasant as one as Asbell could recall in many a day. He sat across the kitchen table from Sue Vincent, missing no word or look or gesture as she and Rosa chattered back and forth, with Rosa hovering fondly, quick to their every want.

Tonio Diaz squatted in a corner, nursing a husk cigarette, grinning and nodding. The comfort of understanding had returned to this household, and for the moment at least, the outer world, with its grimness and threat, was very far away.

It was a magic moment that could not last. Abruptly Sue was on her feet, exclaiming,

"I'm being horribly selfish! Mandy is over at Running M alone, with Nels and Frank Dalmar to worry about. I've got to get back. Rosa, could help me pack the few things I'll need."

Asbell went out to the corral and caught and saddled, both for Sue and for himself. He led the horses over to the patio entrance, and when Sue came out, took the little bundle of belongings from her and tied it behind her saddle.

Side by side they jogged off through the starshine, and the night wind from the Saddlebacks met them and held them silent with its invisible pressure.

At Running M. sound of their approach brought Pearly Grimes out of a pocket of deep shadows by the corral. Pearly had a Winchester across his arm and he indicated direction with the gun while giving brief explanation.

"Heard a horse blow out yonder a while ago, I'm mindin' what you said, Link. Throw a shot at anybody who don't look right. So I been listenin' and watchin'."

"Quite right, Pearly," Asbell approved. He stood high in his stirrups for a moment, searching the night. But the darkness told nothing, so he stepped down and moved over to the bunkhouse with Sue. Rupe Hahn met them at the door.

"How is he, Rupe?" murmured Sue.

"Still sleeping, Ma'am." Rupe answered.

The lamp on the bunkhouse table had been turned down. Sue lengthened the wick to a brighter glow, then moved to the bunk where Frank Dalmar lay. She leaned over a laid a hand on his forehead, while a brooding gentleness softened all her features.

Watching, a gusting disturbance swept through Link Asbell, and he turned to the open door, a thread of harness running through his words.

"Looks like he's set for the night. I'll be back tomorrow to hear what he has to say for himself."

He was swiftly into the night, then, and across it to his horse and once again in the saddle. Old Pearly Grimes patient tone came to him through the dark.

"Ride smart, boy. There ain't no tellin' any more."

No, thought Asbell a little savagely, putting his horse to the town trail—there was no telling. Particularly where the vagaries of a woman's mind and heart were concerned.

He couldn't get rid of the vision of the brooding gentleness that had shown on Sue Vincent's face when she leaned over Frank Dalmar.

"Name yourself! Or I shoot!" a challenge rings out in the night, as "Tough Saddle" continues here tomorrow.

Urges Courtesy For Khrushchev

TOPSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev should be received courteously in the United States for a selfish reason, says Christopher H. Phillips Jr. U.S. delegate to UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization).

"If Khrushchev receives a courteous reception in the United States, President Eisenhower will receive the same during his visit to Russia," Phillips told a Topsfield Fair audience Wednesday.

"If Khrushchev does not, the President will have a rough time," he said.

MORE IN CHURCHES

NEW YORK (AP)—Membership in American churches and synagogues reached an all-time high of 109,557,741 last year, the National Council of Churches reported.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dropped irregularly in very quiet trading today.

The list failed to hold an initial edge to the upside which it achieved after two days of severe battering.

The market was moving at its lowest level since mid-June.

Motors wiped out their early gains and slid off moderately. Steels, rubbers, coppers, oils, rails and tobaccos were lower.

Electronics, building materials and some airlines managed to stay ahead. Chemicals and utilities were mixed.

Wall Street once again believed that the Federal Reserve Board might raise the discount rate after the market close today.

American Motors, after touching another new high, backed away and showed a fractional loss. Ford was the worst performer among the automotive issues, dropping more than a point.

Jones & Laughlin declined more than a point while Republic and U.S. Steel were off about a point.

Merck was around a point to the good.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 50 cents to $22.30 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down 40 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Government bonds firmed for the first time this week.

Farmville Market Has $57.58 Day

FARMVILLE — A sales average identical to the previous day's was recorded on the tobacco market here yesterday.

A volume of 609,950 sold for a total $351,141.47 and set the average at $57.58 for the second straight day.

"Tobacco was selling better yesterday than it has so far this year," Sales Supervisor Charles S. Edwards told the Daily Reflector this morning. "Quality was better overall, and we're expecting a better average today."

Full sales were anticipated today and tomorrow.

Wins 4th Straight Dairy Cattle Show Blue Ribbon

GRAND CHAMPION . . . "Suzy" and her owner William Council, with reserve champion "Betsy" and owner Frank Ingram, behind.

For the fourth year in a row, William Council of Route 6, Greenville, walked off with the blue ribbon signifying he was the owner of the Grand Champion cow in the Pitt County Negro 4-H & NFA Dairy Cattle Show held here yesterday.

"Suzy", Council's prize cow, also aided the youth in taking second place in the showmanship contest and brought a second, first place blue ribbon to the lad in the "Best Fitter for Show" competition. This brought a total of two blue ribbons, one red ribbon and $28 in prize money to the winner.

Frank Ingram of Route 2, Ayden took the Reserve Champion blue ribbon and prize money with his "Betsy".

First place ribbon in the showmanship competition was taken by Flint Smith of the Shivers community while second place in the "Best Fitter" show was won by James Cogdell of the Sally Branch community.

Other Blue Ribbon winners include William Mercer of near Greenville, Stettinius Hemby of the Cherry Lane community, Oliver Leary of Bethel, Roger Ingram and Linwood Wilson of the Ayden community and Jasper Chapman of St. John's.

James Ray and Willie Davis of Greenville, William Smith of Shivers and Jessie Ray Miller of near Grimesland took second place red ribbons while Bennie Willoughby of Cherry Lane, and Kenneth Younger of Ayden took white ribbons.

First place award winners were given $10 while second place winners were paid $8. Third place winners received a $7 cash prize.

The dairy show was kicked-off with a banquet here Tuesday night, with Dr. J. C. Bateman, a local veterinarian talking on general production practices for dairy animals, sheep and swine.

Prior to the show yesterday, Dairy Specialist R. E. Rich of N. C. State College, the judge, gave a lecture and demonstration, explaining the selection, feeding, grooming, fitting, and training of dairy animals.

The junior dairy show was sponsored by the Pitt County Farm Bureau and the County Board of Commissioners.

County Agricultural Agents J. M. Goode, and W. G. Barnes with vocational agricultural teachers J. J. Brown of Ayden, and W. A. Grimesland, supervised the show.

Car Demolished In Collision Here

One car was demolished and a second vehicle received moderate damage when the two collided at the intersection of U.S. 13 and West Third St. yesterday about 4:10 p.m.

According to investigating Patrolman Howard Winslow, a car operated by Mrs. Mildred H. Hopkins of 111 "B" St. was headed south on U.S. 13 in the right hand lane. The second vehicle, driven by Ester Mae Porteur, Negro, of 1209 Davenport St. was headed south in the left hand lane of the four-lane road.

Both cars, according to the patrolman, were signaling for a left turn onto Third St. The Hopkins auto allegedly cut in front of the Porteur vehicle, resulting in the collision.

Mrs. Hopkins was charged with improper turning as a result of the investigation of the mishap.

Damage to the Porteur auto was listed by the officer as being $150 while the Hopkins 1953 model car was considered a total loss.

Supt. Rose reported another break-in at the South Greenville School which occurred Tuesday night. Rose said such break-ins happened 12 times last year.

Tuesday night's break-in, Rose said, came after heavy wire guards had been erected on the windows Tuesday. Police took fingerprints and, according to reports, last year's break-ins were solved. However, Rose said, the persons involved last year were not punished since they were juveniles and some of them continued to break into the building after being arrested and released.

PRAVDA INDIGNANT

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today accused U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold of displaying "suspicious zeal" in the speedy way the Security Council responded to Laos' charges of Communist aggression. The charges were a "smear," Pravda said.

Reception Given To New Teachers

Greenville's new school teachers were officially welcomed Tuesday night at the annual reception for new teachers held at Elmhurst School.

Sponsored by the North Carolina Education Association, the Classroom Teachers' Association, and the American Childhood Education organization, the gathering featured music by Dr. Keith Holmes and a group of co-eds from East Carolina College and reports from European tours of four different teachers.

Miss Frances Wahl, Miss Jane Hadley, Mrs. Mae Gates, and Mrs. Myrtle Clark described their European summer tours to the group. Instruction Supervisor Mrs. Elen L. Carroll served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Bonnie Harrington of Elmhurst School officially greeted the new teachers and recognized special guests.

Decorations for the reception, which was held in the school's auditorium, were provided by Elmhurst's fifth grade students.

Bicyclist Hit By Car Yesterday

A 20-year-old Negro bicycle rider was struck by a car on Dickinson Ave. yesterday near the intersection of Greene St. but escaped with only minor injuries.

The Negro was identified by investigating officers as Raymond E. Vich, address unknown.

Driver of the car was listed as James E. Basnight, 68, of 106 Church St.

Vich was treated at a local clinic for abrasions of his right elbow and released.

No damage was reported by officers and no charges were placed.

Police reported cars driven by Marion Freeman, 32-year-old Negro of 1501 West Fourth St., and William Lewis Kite, 19, of Route 3, Greenville, collided in front of 1114 North Greene St. early last night.

Damage to the Freeman car was placed at $150 while damage to the Kite car was set at $75.

No injuries were reported and no charges were placed by the investigating officers.

Funeral Friday For Mrs. J. Edwyn Hoyle

WINTERVILLE — Mrs. Bertha Carroll Hoyle, 68, widow of the Rev. J. Edwyn Hoyle, died at Pitt Memorial Hospital Thursday morning at 1:45. Funeral services will be conducted at the Wilkerson Chapel Friday afternoon at three o'clock by her pastor, the Rev. E. G. Cole. Burial will be in the Winterville Cemetery.

Mrs. Hoyle, daughter of the late Joshua Barnes and Mary Jane Cox Carroll, was born and reared in Winterville. She was a graduate of Meredith College in Raleigh and received a Master's Degree from Cornell University at Ithaca, New York. For a number of years she was an English Instructor at Chowan College at Murfreesboro. She also taught in High Schools in this state and other states. She was married to the Rev. J. E. Hoyle, and he died in 1953. She was a member of the Winterville Baptist Church and for many years was State Secretary of Women's Missionary Union.

Surviving are three sons: Ransom Hoyle of Winterville, Dan Hoyle of Charlotte, and Edwin Hoyle of Clearwater, Florida; a daughter, Miss Patricia Hoyle of the home; four grandchildren; two brothers: John R. Carroll of Winterville and Dr. F. W. Carroll of Hookerton; and three sisters: Mrs. C. E. Taylor, Raleigh, Mrs. Mary Jane Clark of Scotland Neck and Mrs. Ethel C. Squires of Wake Forest.

Greenville Mart Has $56.68 Day

Greenville Tobacco Market sold 1,490,112 pounds of tobacco for $847,947.13 yesterday to average $56.68 per hundred pounds, Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee reported.

Prices remain the same and quality of tobacco is about the same except for a large amount of wet and damaged tobacco on yesterday's sale, Whedbee said.

There is a full sale on the local market today and a near full sale is expected tomorrow.

Stabilization receipts continue to be small.

May Fly Friday For Laos Study

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A four-nation team of top diplomats may fly to Laos Friday to probe charges of Communist aggression in the tiny southeast Asia kingdom.

The special U. N. fact-finding subcommittee, created Tuesday by the Security Council despite Soviet protests, will fly to the Laotian capital of Vientiane, arriving there probably Sunday.

Heading the team will be Shintichi Shibusawa of the Japanese foreign office, his country's former ambassador to Thailand, Laos and Spain.

The others selected by their governments to do the actual field work are:

Ludovico Baratierra, minister plenipotentiary of the Italian Foreign Office; Brig. Gen. Heriberto Ahrens, military adviser for the Argentine U. N. delegation; and Habib Bourguiba Jr., Tunisia's ambassador to France and son of the Tunisian president.

While the U. N. secretariat was forming a staff to assist the team, a meeting was scheduled today with the field men on hand to discuss the task in Laos.

Federal Workers Come Under Law

RALEIGH (AP) — All federal workers in North Carolina, except military personnel, will be brought under the state's income tax withholding plan which goes into effect Jan. 1.

This was announced Wednesday by the State Revenue Commissioner, James Currie. He signed an agreement with the U. S. treasurer which will enable the withholding of income taxes of federal workers.

Military personnel will be required to estimate their annual earnings the same as self-employed persons.
