Railroads, Unions Face Fateful Showdown Sunday

CHICAGO (AP)—The most explosive issue between the nation's railroads and railroad unions—a controversy that has brought threats of a possible nationwide strike—will come out in the open Sunday.

The carriers will make their formal proposals for changing the rules that have governed railroad work for more than four decades. The railroads call the work agreements "featherbedding"—forced payment for work not done or needed. They claim the practices they want to eliminate are obsolete and wasteful and cost them more than 500 million dollars a year.

The unions counter that the working rules are essential to insure safe and efficient railroad transportation. They claim that railroad workers have a higher record of increased productivity than any other class of workers.

The management proposals will reach union officials Monday or Tuesday. Industry spokesmen estimate that if neither side yields or compromises in later negotiations, a legal nationwide strike could be called by around next April 1. Dispute-handling provisions of the Railway Labor Act would prevent a legal walkout over the issue before that date.

If a nationwide strike is called, more than 800,000 railroad workers would be made idle. Wage negotiations are deadlocked with three key unions. A walkout over this issue conceivably could come as early as next January if all settlement and delaying efforts fail.

The unions have demanded a 12 per cent pay boost and the carriers countered with a proposal they take a 15-cent hourly pay cut. A three-year moratorium expires Monday on the working rules at fecting 210,000 employees engaged in the actual operation of the trains.

Management planned its frontal attack on the work agreements several months ago. Handley Wright, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, said the action was prompted by "dire economic necessity and we are dead serious."

The railroads have run large ads in newspapers across the country headed, "Railroad Featherbedding, $500,000,000 Loss Every Year—and It's Your Loss Too."

This management campaign has drawn the ire of union leaders. The Railway Labor Executives Assn. has planned a massive labor rally in Chicago Nov. 5 billed as "rail labor's counterattack upon the industry's propaganda campaign."

"Evidence of strong employee resentment at management's tactics in recent months, which has been shown at recent rallies of railroad workers throughout the country, has brought concern that the continuing vicious charges by management may create a situation where a strike becomes inevitable," the RLEA said.

The featherbedding charge is directed against the five unions whose members operate the trains—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Management's proposal for a 15-cent-an-hour pay cut was suggested to these unions and to 16 unions representing about 600,000 non-operating workers such as clerks, machinists and telegraphers.

Management says the average straight-time hourly earnings of railroad workers in June were $2.70, compared with $2.16 for workers in general manufacturing.

Scorpions Add Horror To Disaster

With 1,000 Believed Dead In Mexican Storm, Poisonous Insects Swarming

COLIMA, Mexico (AP)—With 1,000 or more believed dead from a sneak hurricane and widespread floods, the dazed people of this smallest of Mexico's 23 states today struggled against privation and swarms of poisonous scorpions.

The disaster—Mexico's worst in recent history—covered an area on the Pacific Coast slightly larger than New Jersey with a population of about 100,000. The violent storm that roared through the port of Manzanillo Tuesday and the floods that followed drove thousands from homes, knocked over communication lines and overran highways, hindering rescue efforts.

The dead may include three U.S. women who were aboard a small coastal freighter apparently lost at sea.

Colima State Gov. Rodolfo Chavez Carrillo estimated that about 800 persons were killed in Minatitlan, a farming village of about 1,000 located 24 miles northwest of Colima.

Other preliminary fatality figures included: Manzanillo, 74; Tecoman, 16; Chihuahuan, in adjoining Jalisco state, 14; Coahuayana, in Michoacan state, 7.

The federal government officially put the known dead at 438 but conceded that many hundreds were missing.

The navy announced that 21 of 38 persons who had been aboard the 1,800-ton freighter Sinaloa were missing. The navy report did not say whether the rescued included the three American women passengers—Luelle Pette, 55, Laguna Beach, Calif.; and Margaret Gower, 43, and her mother Viva Whaley Harris, 63, both of Acapulco and formerly of San Bernardino, Calif.

Emergency appeals for food, clothing and medicine continued throughout most of the disaster area despite round-the-clock supply drops by all available planes and helicopters. There were urgent calls for vaccine against the deadly sting of scorpions—driven from their nests in flood-crumbled adobe walls.

Durable Dove

Gale Castle, 7, of Mobile, Ala., fondles "Frosty," a dove which is durable, to say the least. Gale's father, R. B. Castle, shot the dove on a hunt, along with others, and put them in a refrigerator at his home. Four days later, Castle opened the refrigerator door to take the doves out and clean them. "Frosty" hobbled over on a broken leg. (AP Wirephoto)

No Bonds Voted For Armories Or Historic Sites

RALEIGH (AP)—Proposed bond issues for local armory construction and for historic sites development apparently were defeated in Tuesday's bond election.

This was indicated today on the basis of unofficial returns from all but 125 of the state's 2,086 precincts.

A proposed bond issue of $250,000 for historical sites construction and restoration was trailing by 2,499 votes. The unofficial total showed 50,156 votes for the bond issue and 52,649 against.

A bond issue of $100,000 for local armory construction was lagging by 2,568 votes. It received 50,179 votes for and 52,747 against.

County boards of election met Thursday and certified the results of the election. Returns from 65 counties were received today by the State Board of Elections. All are expected to be in the hands of the board by early next week. The state board will meet Nov. 17 to canvass and certify the results.

The margins were safe for seven other issues amounting to $33,900,000. Higher education and mental hospitals will get the bulk of the money.

The unofficial count from 1,841 of the state's 2,086 precincts gave the armory issue a count of 48,825 for and 50,400 against. For historic sites, the totals were 48,693 for and 50,198 against.

Steel Shortage Will Halt GMC Car Production

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—The steel strike will put huge General Motors out of the car-building business next week.

The world's largest manufacturing company has run out of steel. Most of its auto assembly lines are closed, or will be by tonight.

Even more layoffs will come next week as the remaining assembly plants at Flint and Willow Run, Mich.; Kansas City, Mo., and Oakland, Calif., run out of parts.

How long the shutdowns last depends on when fresh supplies of steel become available. Industry sources say it will take at least three weeks after steel production begins before sufficient parts can be made to bring assembly lines into operation again.

Normally, automakers consume 15 to 20 per cent of all steel output. It takes about two tons of steel to build a car.

General Motors issued its third-quarter financial report Thursday night, showing net earnings of 135 million dollars for the July-September period and 725 million for the first nine months.

Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon, commenting on the steel situation, said the shortages didn't bother third-quarter operations because the company's supplies of steel were as large as it was possible to accumulate.

GM's profits, equal to $2.55 per share for the first nine months and 47 cents a share for the third quarter, compared with 339 million dollars for the first nine months of last year and 65 million for the third quarter of 1958.

EXTENDED WEATHER Temperatures for next five days will average near normal. Slow warming trend over weekend and first of next week. Possibly colder Wednesday. Rain or drizzle over the weekend with showers Tuesday or Wednesday.

Top Figures In Education Suggested For ECC Post

Some of the top names in education in North Carolina have been suggested to the three-man nominating committee assigned the task of recommending a new president for East Carolina College.

The committee held its first meeting yesterday afternoon in Goldsboro to formulate plans for seeking a new president of the college and to "look over correspondence we have received."

"We have certainly come to no conclusion" so far as the selection of any president for the college is concerned, Henry Oglesby, secretary of the committee, said today.

Oglesby added that the committee yesterday requested that a faculty representative and a representative of the alumni of the college be added to the committee in an advisory capacity.

As spokesman for the committee, Oglesby said a number of suggestions and recommendations have been received by the committee so far as the nomination of a new president is concerned. "We feel there will be others later," he said.

While he would not identify by name those who had been recommended for consideration by the committee, Oglesby said the list included a former president of the Greater University, the presidents of two other colleges in North Carolina, the chairman of the board of trustees of one of the educational institutions of the state as well as other individuals prominently associated with education in North Carolina.

"I know that some of these people would be surprised to know that they had been suggested to the committee for the post," Oglesby said. "These names in practically every instance have been suggested by people other than those named. We have had only two people who so far have personally written the committee and said they would be available for interview if the committee would like to interview them."

Oglesby termed the correspondence already received by the committee as "bountiful," but added, "Anybody that has any suggestions, ideas or expressions, we will be glad to have them. We will survey the field" in seeking a new president for the institution.

He said the next meeting of the committee probably would be held sometime after the 10th or 15th of November and that no meetings of the committee are planned between now and then.

The navy announced that 21 of 38 persons who had been aboard the 1,800-ton freighter Sinaloa were missing. Government mediators told the top negotiators to meet in Washington Monday unless they can reach agreement before then. A settlement before Monday seemed unlikely.

A Taft-Hartley injunction to end the dispute for at least 80 days also is hanging over the heads of the negotiators and the half million strikers. Enforcement of the injunction has been delayed by the union's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The change puts back in effect a 1944 ruling that requires only that leprosy patients be isolated. Dr. D. A. McLaurin of Dobson told the board that the patient, a 37-year-old white man, apparently contacted the disease while serving in the Far East during World War II. He is at the Carville Leprosy Center in Louisiana.

The change in his condition under treatment is truly remarkable. He has been home on visits and is well accepted in the community," Dr. McLaurin said. North Carolina has had only five leprosy cases in recent medical history. All involved military personnel who had served overseas.

That action also was aimed at cutting the trade deficit, but it reversed a long-standing policy of making these loans available wily no strings attached.

Another Small Steel Company Okays Contract

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The United Steelworkers—heartened by agreement with a third small company—try again to make peace with major steel firms in the 108-day nationwide steel strike.

The union and Granite City Steel Co. signed a new labor pact Thursday night. It followed the same pattern as union agreements with Kaiser Steel Corp. and Detroit Steel Corp. earlier in the week.

Granite City, the nation's 15th largest producer, employs 3,250 workers in mills in Granite City, Ill., with capacity to produce 1,440,000 tons of steel a year. The company had been operating under terms of a contract extension.

The newest agreement came several hours after top-level negotiators for the union and the industry's Big 11 companies failed to make any progress in a meeting that lasted nearly three hours.

Government mediators told the top negotiators to meet in Washington Monday unless they can reach agreement before then. A settlement before Monday seemed unlikely.

Fire Claims Lives Of Seven Children

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP)—Seven young children, crowded into a small two-room house with a baby sitter, died today when fire destroyed the slum area dwelling.

The baby sitter, Sharon Ann Dooly, 14, owes her life to a fireman who was familiar with the house, having helped remodel it several years ago.

Six of the victims were children of Patricia Van Horne, about 28, who police said was out with Lorraine Campbell, whose only child, Carla, 4, also was killed.

The Van Horne children were Karen Rae, 9; Sharon Kay, 7; Patty Sue, 6; LeRoy, 4; Debra Ann, 2; and Cynthia, 1.

The bodies of the children were huddled in the kitchen, which had a small window. They apparently suffocated. The Dooly girl suffered burns over two-thirds of her body and was in critical condition. She was found with the dead children.

Authorities were not immediately able to determine the cause of the blaze.

Police said a coal stove was apparently the only means of heating the frame house, but it showed no evidence of having been fired, they said.

The fire burned across the front of the house first, they said, blocking the only door.

Mrs. Campbell, whose truck driver husband, Carl, is reported in Illinois, suffered shock and was taken to a hospital. Mrs. Van Horne refused to comment, police said.

Police said Mrs. Van Horne's husband, Herman, disappeared last February. The mother was unemployed, they said, and the children received state aid.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Tom Anderson Sr., grandmother of the Van Horne children. Anderson, who lives about half a block away, was unable to get into the house.

Fireman Bob Knox, who had worked on the house, donned a smoke mask and got into the dwelling through a window.

DENVER (AP)—A pre-halloween storm chilled the Rocky Mountain region with snow and icy winds today and spread a thick white blanket over the great plains.

The persistent storm left a snow covering in Colorado ranging from 3 inches in the plains area to 15 inches in the mountains.

Highway traffic was hampered by slick surfaces, plane takeoffs were delayed at Denver and schools were closed in a dozen towns in eastern Colorado.

The storm began with steady rain Wednesday night, turned to snow and has continued almost without a letup since.

The U.S. Weather Bureau here said Colorado should have at least six inches of snow east of the mountains by nightfall with heavier depths in the mountain sections.

Schools were closed at Anton, Colo.; Arriba, Vona, Hugo, Peyton, Seibert, Calhan, Stratton, Genoa and Flagler, all in the plains area.

Rain and sleet formed an advance guard for the Canadian-spawned storm as it spilled along the eastern slope of the mountains Thursday. It brought chilling temperatures and moisture everywhere from Montana to northern New Mexico.

More than 6 inches of snow were on the ground today at Lander, in central Wyoming. The fall topped 3 inches at Denver, Cheyenne, Wyo., and in southwestern Montana.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government says it is going to protect the country's white children and all its colored people by keeping television out.

"We must not forget television is nothing but a miniature movie brought into the home and over which parents have no control," Post and Telegraph Minister Albert Hertzog told a Johannesburg paper.

Local Jaycees, who have sold more than $15,000 in Greenville Industries, Inc. stock in one week, voted unanimously last night to extend the sale for another week.

George Coffman, chairman of the Jaycee portion of the sale, reported last night that the club members had sold in excess of $15,000 in stock at $25 per share.

The club members also heard from W. W. Speight, president of Greenville's Committee of 100.

"I think this drive is going over," he declared. "Its doing really wonderfully well. I think you men for taking part in it."

Speight said that, with the amount sold by the Jaycees, between $65,000 and $70,000 in Greenville Industries stock has been subscribed.

He expressed appreciation on behalf of Greenville Industries, Inc. president S. Eugene West.

Funds raised through the sale of Greenville Industries stock will be used to purchase a 269-acre farm north of Greenville on U. S. 13. The tract of land will be sold off to prospects for the location of industrial plants here.

Jaycee Chairman Coffman said the drive was extended because there are a few more people to be contacted by club members.

"We want to make sure we haven't left anyone out," he continued.

"The Jaycees will not necessarily give everyone a listed if anyone is missing who would like to buy they can call any Jaycee."

"We feel every wage earner in the community should participate at least to the extent of buying one share."

Teachers Instructed To Collect Weapons

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Principal Robert C. Johnson says his teachers have instructions to collect knives, guns and other weapons before a football game.

Johnson, principal at Parker High School, testified at a hearing Thursday night in which a teacher and pupil were fined $100 and costs each and the pupil was given a 180-day jail sentence.

The hearing resulted from Monday night's football game between Parker and Western High, Negro schools here.

Two boys were shot, a 70-piece band was routed from the bleachers by knife-wielding fans, and police collected a bundle of knives, razors and other weapons. The game ended in a 7-7 tie.

The trouble started when some 1,500 fans noticed that one team had 12 players on the field instead of 11.

A group of boys drew knives, sending frightened bandmen fleeing in disorder.

As police tried to quell the disturbance, two shots were heard. Calvin Smith, 16, and Willie Denison, 17, fell wounded. Neither was seriously hurt.

Denison was one of those convicted Thursday night. He was accused of shooting at another man. He denied having a pistol.

The teacher, Westbrook Walker, 27, was fined for carrying a pistol. He told Judge Bill Conway that he had taken the weapon from a teen-ager who was brandishing it in the crowd. An officer testified the gun was found in Walker's belt.

Johnson said, however, the Defense Department, with NASA's approval, will make the appropriation request for the next year.

Von Braun, at an informal news conference with Johnson, said the Saturn project could absorb 250 million dollars next year.

He said it "will cost the taxpayers less in the long run if we spend more earlier." He added he hoped that "under the new sponsorship of NASA we will get more steam behind Saturn."

Von Braun is conferring at the Pentagon on details of turning the project over to NASA. In spite of his desire for more money, he apparently concurred on the request for 140 million.

He said the troops should be used if necessary to prevent display of the new Communist East German flag in West Berlin next week.

Allied officials said no special alert has been ordered for their Berlin garrisons yet. But they indicated such an order was quite probable when East Germany celebrates the 42nd anniversary of the Soviet Revolution Nov. 7.

Miss Langley summed up her talk on "The Role of the Home in a Changing World" in these three suggestions.

The family is the foundation of the world, she said. Continuing, the home gives ideals to youngsters which in turn give them purpose and direction.

She stated that relationship was the biggest problem in the home today. In a recent survey Miss Langley told the group there would be over two million delinquent children in the United States by 1960.

"What causes this?" The increasing woman force in the business world has had its effect on the present child's makeup. There is less time spent in doing "home-like" things, teaching children love and kindness.

During her talk, Miss Langley referred to a scientist who said that the world might need love instead of logic in the end.

Officers for the 1960-61 term were installed by Mrs. Alton Chapman of the St. John's club.

They are Mrs. Albert Bell, president; Mrs. Ichabod Allen, vice-president; Mrs. Alton Gardner, secretary; Mrs. Karl Hardee, treasurer; and Mrs. Howard Eriley and Mrs. Don Langston, directors.

Humber Speaks To Lector Club

Senator Robert Lee Humber was guest speaker this week when the Lector Club met for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ray MacKenzie, day, Nov. 3.

Humber's subject was the North Carolina Art Museum in Raleigh, which he was instrumental in founding. At present, the museum is valued at approximately three million dollars. North Carolina is the first state in the union to set aside public funds to found a public art collection, Humber said.

Following the program, Mrs. V. E. Wells Jr., club president, welcomed Mrs. Charles King, a new member. The club will visit the State Art Museum in Raleigh on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

How To Remove Mildew From Books

To correct mildew spots in your valued books, brush each spot with a tissue, then open book and allow it to air in a sunny spot for several hours.

If the mildew is especially persistent, brush the spots, then spread French chalk on the page and let it set for several days before brushing out chalk.

A fried chicken dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barefoot, and Mrs. Lee Brewer of Windsor; Mrs. Lenora Hawkins and Mrs. Mary Louise Gilberton of Greenville; and the bridegroom-elect, Dave Rucker.

Smart Travelers Take It Easy Now

The seasoned traveler is at ease in her clothes, at home or abroad, says confirmed globe-trotter Vera Maxwell, who has been designing easy travel clothes for a couple of decades.

Soft tweeds and knits are her prescription for women who know their way around the world — clothes that are at home in any capital or crossroads, clothes that shed wrinkles and are easy to wear. This fall Miss Maxwell likes subdued heather-toned tweeds, which she gathers up from mills in Scotland and Ireland on her periodic trips abroad. Often she combines them with knit trim and accessories. Occasionally she introduces a soft, rich color, such as her "Plum Pretty" suit in plum-colored tweed with striped knit trim and sweater-blouse. She also uses moss green homespun in a blouse of little suit teamed with a blouse of orlon and wool in a coordinated print.

For a complete travel outfit she shows a "wonder wardrobe," consisting of a color coordinated coat, dress and jacket, designed to be worn separately or together, permitting numerous combinations with other clothes.

New and striking is her thigh-length tweed jacket in subdued stripes, designed for wear with either slacks or a skirt. Great either for walking the dog or driving a sports car, says Vera. For adding a bit of dash to a simple suit, this designer likes the "watch chain look"—multiple gold chains and fobs worn on a suit pocket or at the belt.

SPORTS CAR COAT . . . In muted stripes, this thigh-length coat is just as streamlined as the racy German sports car.

INTERNATIONAL LOOK . . . Vera Maxwell uses taupe homespun for a travel suit with matching cable knit trim and sweater.

Many Factors Influence Grooming

By CHARLES BISSETTE

HOW TO RIDE A HOBBY HARD

Surprisingly enough, we are sufficiently broad-minded to realize that there are people in this world who have hobbies other than photography.

All well and good—but we maintain this. Whether you favor woodworking, miniature railroading, hunting, fishing or what have you—a camera will help you get an extra measure of fun out of what you do for relaxation.

Here's what we mean. Say you tackle the job of refinishing some lattered old furniture.

Your patient work and skill transform the wrecks into show pieces. Now, wouldn't "before" and "after" pictures of your handiwork look good tacked up over your workbench?

Or maybe you go for H. O. railroading. You painstakingly create a realistic landscape for your trains to travel through. So why not take some pictures that will fool plenty of people into thinking they are looking at a real train highballing down the tracks.

And naturally if you are a fisherman you want a picture as proof positive that you really caught a whopper up at the lake.

At this distance it's hard for us to judge what camera best suits your hobby. So why not drop in and let's talk the whole thing over.

RALEIGH—Grooming is a long word. And it stretches from the top of a girl's well-brushed hair to the tip of her polished loafers. Grooming is the awakening of good looks, an exciting step in growing up.

According to Miss Mary Em Lee, clothing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, several factors influence a girl's appearance. She should show in her appearance good health—exercise and correct eating habits; graceful posture that makes the most of her figure; cleanliness of body, hair, and clothing; neatness of hair style and clothing; and good manners and a friendly smile.

Not everyone is born a breathtaking beauty, but every girl can become an attractive, well-groomed young woman. Every teenage girl should plan time in her daily schedule to check on herself and see if she is satisfied with the picture in the mirror.

Yule Lighting Speaker's Topic

BETHEL—The Round Table Book Club met at the home of Mrs. C. G. Garrenton, president, on Tuesday.

The speaker, Miss Hilda Apple, Home Economist for VEPCO, gave a talk on "Christmas Lighting." She illustrated her talk with colored slides of homes in Ohio decorated for Christmas. She also distributed a pamphlet, "Light Magic for Christmas."

Mrs. S. C. Whitehurst presided at the meeting, at the president's request.

Following the program, the hostess served a buffet supper.

Gardening Tips

Cut flowers that you aim to use as bouquets in your home late in the evening. Place them in a large container that holds plenty of water and leave them in a cool place overnight, then arrange for use in your home the following morning.

Remove mulch from evergreen azaleas about three weeks before the first fall frost to get the most growth with the least winter injury. The Department of Agriculture reports this research is contrary to previous recommendations.

Research Triangle Growing Fast

North Carolina's Research Triangle, that a relatively few months ago was a dream of a few men, today is taking shape as a reality which will have a tremendous influence on the development of the entire state.

The transformation from an idea to reality has come with such swiftness that it is difficult for Tar Heels themselves to grasp the full significance of what is taking place. The idea that was heralded as unique a short while ago now seems so natural that we wonder why it wasn't undertaken a decade or more ago.

The Triangle, with State College, the University of North Carolina and Duke University forming the anchor points, has been with us for years. But the Research Triangle, that is destined to have an important impact upon North Carolina and its people, is something new.

Announcement this week that the Dreyfus Foundation will grant two and one-half million dollars to the Research Triangle Institute to create an international center for polymer research has projected the Triangle into new importance in North Carolina and in the nation as well. The new center cannot help but attract the attention of individual industries interested in man-made fibres and plastics, but other industries as well.

North Carolina's Research Triangle in a relatively short span of time has attracted nation-wide attention, and the surface is just being scratched. That it will grow into one of the major research centers of the South and probably one of the great centers of the nation now seems assured.

It is a prime example of what North Carolina can do with its progressive ideas, taking the assets it already has and building around them something of tremendous importance to the state and to the nation as a whole.

Better Than Average Season For Tobacco

Another tobacco selling season is now behind Pitt County farmers as they turn attention to completing harvesting and marketing the few crops left and to preparing fields for another year's production.

As was expected with the unfavorable weather conditions during the summer, Pitt's tobacco crop brought considerably less this year than was the case a year ago. While prices tended to be higher for what the tobacco farmers had to offer, total production was far below the poundage made on the 1958 crop.

Even so, Pitt farmers found themselves with more tobacco income this year than was the case two years ago in 1957. Greenville Tobacco Market this year sold 46.9 million pounds, about seven million pounds less than last year. The market paid out $26.7 millions for the tobacco this year, which was about five million dollars less than a year ago. Compared with the 1957 selling season, however, the local market this year sold almost two and one-half million pounds more and paid out almost three and one-half million dollars more.

While 1959 did not measure up to 1958 for the tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina, the year on the whole has proved better-than-average compared with the past half decade.

On Per-Vote Basis, A Really Costly Election

On the basis of the per-vote cost, Tuesday's bond election in North Carolina will prove to be one of the most expensive elections on record.

Approximately 125,000 of the state's voters took sufficient interest in the $34 1/2 million worth of bonds at stake in the referendum to go to the polls. That made one of the lightest turnouts in recent years in a state-wide election. In spite of the light turnout, the fixed costs of holding a state-wide election, meant that it cost as much for those 125,000 to cast their ballots as it would have if four times that many voters had gone to the polls.

In Pitt County, by way of example, slightly more than 1,400 of the 21,000 registered voters went to the polls. Officials have estimated that the cost to the state for keeping the polls open in Pitt for the referendum came to about $2,500. In Pitt, that amounts to a cost of about $1.78 to the state for every vote which was cast.

If the issues at stake in a state-wide vote won't get dollar-conscious citizens to the polls, perhaps the cost of the election might entice them to cast a ballot just to make sure they're getting their money's worth.

Why All That Blood In Cuba?

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Fidel Castro is earnest about wanting a democratic Cuba, then why all the blood?

Prime Minister Castro has been in effect dictator since his rebel army last New Year's Day threw out Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship and took over. He has called for land reforms, probably badly needed, and other social changes. But Cuba is in growing turmoil. Criticism of his regime is rising.

He was an inspired rebel military leader but now gives the impression of a man too emotional, chaotic and disorganized to run a government.

As the heat increases, he thinks of vengeance. He calls for death for his enemies by firing squads and depends not on ballots but on mobs for support.

His government suspended Congress Jan. 6, put off new elections for 18 to 24 months, suspended criminal courts, and, through military courts rolled up 555 executions by firing squads.

Yet he said Cuba will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law."

The firing squads worked for months, were finally stopped. But his troubles continued. This week he summoned 250,000 Cubans to a rally in Havana.

He outdid Hollywood by arriving in a helicopter, gun in hand, denounced the United States and asked the mob for approval for new firing squads. He got it.

This was reminiscent of last January when the firing squad execution of so-called war criminals was being severely criticized abroad and he called together a rally of a million Cubans to approve what he was doing to his enemies.

His idea of justice was to try a foe in a sports stadium, with not a single witness appearing in his defense, before 18,000 people. The crowd included American newspapermen whose government invited down to see the spectacle.

This was what happened in the case of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who had directed Batista's army operations against Castro. There was never any doubt of the outcome: the major was sentenced to death before a firing squad.

When Castro addresses a mob he harangues, he screams, he appeals to hate in a way Hitler or Mussolini might have found refreshing.

He denies he is a Communist but turns with fury on any who say he is or complain that Communists are infiltrating his government.

He has done this three times to men once close to him.

On Oct. 19 Maj. Hubert Matos, one of Castro's most respected revolutionary leaders, resigned as commander of Camaguey province, charging the Castro regime was being penetrated by Communists.

Castro had him arrested and before Monday night's mob virtually signed the major's death warrant by asking approval for Matos' execution by a firing squad. The mob responded: "Firing squads! Firing squads!"

On July 13 Manuel Urrutia, Castro's handpicked president, blasted Cuban Communists although declaring Castro's government "has absolutely nothing to do with Communism." Why this threw Castro into an emotional spin is not clear. But it did. He accused Urrutia of "near treason."

He flayed Urrutia on television and, in a play for mob support against the President, resigned as prime minister. A few hours later Urrutia resigned. Then Castro went back as prime minister.

The most sensational case was that of Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who resigned June 30 as Cuban air force chief, fled to the United States, and told a Senate committee Castro was a Communist. Cuban officials called him a liar.

On Oct. 19 — the same day Matos resigned — Havana was plastered with leaflets from a plane flying over Havana. This was the latest of several similar leaflet air drops.

The former air force chief several days ago told U.S. authorities he had piloted an unarmed aircraft over Havana last Wednesday. Later he publicly denied this statement. He is in the United States.

These various episodes so inflamed Castro that at Monday's rally he denounced the United States. The U.S. State Department protested in a stiff reply. The episode of the plane put this country in an embarrassing fix.

But Castro didn't gain anything, except mob approval, for his performance. The net result: tattered relations between Cuba and the United States.

Skeleton In Free World's Closet

Picking Up Odd Pieces

This is a topsy turvy world. We walked into a concession booth at the State Fair a couple of weeks ago. There on a table we noticed a ten ounce "Coca-Cola" and a six ounce "Pepsi-Cola".

Fellow columnist Henry Howard walked up the stairs of the Daily Reflector office the other night.

About half way up he heard your columnist delivering a speech calling for an alliance between the press and education.

He assumed that yours truly was addressing members of the Eastern North Carolina Press Association who were meeting here that day and he beat a hasty retreat. When he told us about it, we expressed our appreciation but pointed out we couldn't deliver a speech to the Garbage Collector's convention.

Actually the thoughts were Dr. Leo W. Jenkins' who had spoken to the Press Association earlier in the evening. Your columnist was just calling Dr. Jenkins' comments in to the Charlotte office of the Associated Press for inclusion on that organization's night wire.

We recently heard about two local couples who got up a poker game with money involved. They didn't care for gambling so it was agreed that the winning couple would donate the money to charity.

Well one couple, of course, came out winner by something like $7.38. Off went a check to one of the local fund collecting agencies.

That should have been the end of it but the fund collecting agency couldn't understand the odd amount. They contacted the wife to find out if it were a payment of a past pledge or for any specific purpose.

The wife, who didn't want to own up that it was won in a poker game, replied, "No, it's just a donation."

That should have ended it. But the check went to another official. The wife was contacted again.

Again the wife told the caller it was simply a donation.

This occurred several times. We never found out if the wife ever really told them she won the money gambling.

In fact, we never found out for sure if the whole dad-blamed story was true. Oh well.

Next week is Children's Book Week and National Cat Week. On Nov. 1, 1952 the first hydrogen bomb was exploded at Eniwetok Atoll and on Nov. 4, 1879, humorist Will Rogers was born. Nov. 5 is Guy Fawkes Day in England. On Nov. 6, 1869, Rutgers beat Princeton six to four in the first regular college football game. Also on Nov. 6, 1854 band-march composer John Phillip Sousa was born.

Oh yes, on Nov. 7, 1917 (42 years ago) the Bolsheviks seized power in Russia.

In Brief Opinions

"The wise man will always favor the smallest of governments. He will favor his own nation above the United Nations; his own state above his own locality. In the end he will govern himself and favor that kind of government above all else." — Santa Ana (Calif.) Register.

"If Congress had worked half as hard trying to stay within the Federal income as it did in trying to find new ways to spend money and increase taxes, it could have made headway in balancing the budget and saving the value of the dollar." — Clermont (Fla.) Press.

Comedy Has Its Grief

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy, for a dozen years one of the best-known husband-and-wife teams in show business, have decided to start parting company—but only professionally.

They jointly and cheerfully announced their impending career separation the other day. "We're not going to be as much of a team in the future as we have been in the past," said Pete.

"Mary's enchanted with the theater, but I don't like long runs. I want to go more to writing and TV dramatic acting, not comedy."

Both pointed out that since 1947 they'd teamed mostly in night club comedy and song routines. Now they want to concentrate more on individual dramatic careers.

"Actually, I don't want to work terribly hard. I want to go to school and study archeology, foreign languages and dramatics," Mary said.

Pete looked surprised. "Almost 19 years we've been married," he marveled. "And I didn't even know she could say archeology."

But the light-hearted pair, who live in suburban New Rochelle with their two children, are still busy collaborating as a team on a couple of projects.

Both are starred with Ed Wynn in a program scheduled on the NBC-TV network on Nov. 27. And together they are writing a book, the story of their domestic life.

Pete—whose wife calls him "Peter Grim Hayes" when he's at the typewriter—is also finishing a second book, largely a collection of theatrical anecdotes.

One chapter is entitled "The Tragedy of Comedy."

"All the comedians who made America laugh for the last 50 years had tragic lives," he observed.

"My theory is that it all started in grammar school because they weren't physically attractive. So they chose another route to be admired."

"Most comedians are sad. It probably is because they feel they can never be attractive romantically," he said.

"Even the woman a comedian marries eventually comes to laugh at him rather than with him. Then, I feel, he becomes a more tragic figure than any dramatic figure—because he is so lost."

"The compulsion for him to go on making people laugh becomes almost psychotic. He's always on stage. There are people in the business world—the life of every party type—who do the same thing."

"The only cure is to stop trying to be funny all the time. Comedy is the hardest thing in the world to sustain anyway."

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WATCH AND PRAY
Will Jesus Christ return?

Unless He does, a great deal of the Bible is untrue. He said repeatedly that He would come again. The angel who was present at His ascension assured the disciples that Christ would return to the earth in the same manner in which he had left it. People sometimes make too much of the second coming and live in such holy expectation that they neglect duties near at hand. But on the whole, the modern church is not giving enough attention to the second coming. When Jesus Christ returns—as return He certainly will—the whole earth will be changed. This will be the greatest event ever to take place in human history. It will not come about through anything that we do. All God expects of us is that we be ready, prepared, waiting, watching, and faithful when the Lord's return actually takes place.

How will He come? When will He come? How long will He remain? What will follow his coming? Sincere Christians differ widely in what they believe about such matters—or rather, what they believe the Bible teaches. For the Bible is not plain in these matters and is probably not intended to be.

"Watch and pray" was our Lord's admonition. Do that and God will do the rest.

Stress Is On Overweight Danger

By ELMER ROESSNER
Fresh medical concern over overweight in men is adding new bloom to dietetic food sales. It offers new opportunities for food retailers to promote sales of health foods, especially those with low fat content and with unsaturated fats.

The dangers of overweight were twice brought to public attention in recent days:

1. The Society of Actuaries issued a new table of average weight by height, age and sex. This showed that the average American is 20 pounds heavier than he should be for sound health.

2. Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, director of the Chicago Board of Health's Heart Disease Control program, told the American Public Health Association at Atlantic City that solid fat in the diet, both animal and vegetable, is the basic cause of the high toll of heart disease in middle-aged American men.

BACK TO DIETING
Shortly after the last war, interest in dietetic foods increased. New companies sprang up to prepare and package low-fat, no-sugar, no-salt foods suitable for restricted diets. Health food stores broadened their lines. Department stores and Health food supermarkets added "dietetic corners" and the like to their selling floors.

Almost all of these enterprises are still going, although with some lessening of enthusiasm. There has been a drift by the public away from strict diets toward so-called easier methods of reducing weight, such as appetite-curbing pills, massages and gentle "courses" that involve only mild diet restrictions.

The public has been jolted well confused, too, by statements of various medical authorities. Most medical spokesmen have agreed that cholesterol, which develops from eating "saturated fats," clogs arteries and causes heart disease. Some doctors have called upon the overweight public to avoid all fats; some have called for avoidance of only saturated fats (usually the solid kind); some have suggested that non-saturated fats, such as olive oil, actually reduces the amount of cholesterol in the system; and a few authorities have said that some cholesterol is beneficial.

GOOD EXCUSE
Human nature being what it is, many persons have gone off diets until they were sure. The medical confusion provided a good excuse to eat what they wanted.

This may not be typical, but a market of a few blocks from where this is being written carried half a dozen brands of water-packed canned tuna a few years ago. Now it carries only one.

But the new double charge of excitement over overweight will probably have its effect on dietetic merchandising.

It is significant that the new concern involves men more than women. In the past, men have rarely gone on diets until they were warned they were impairing their health; many men, while dieting at home, were embarrassed to avoid certain foods when dining with business associates. This is a natural action; following a diet may be taken as indicating poor health and hence an inability to fill a contract or to fulfill a higher job.

On the other hand, women have gone on diets to improve their figures as well as for reasons of health. Hence, more women dieted than men.

But from now on, more men will be involved. Many a wife, having read the recent news, is right now taking a look at her husband's figure. He may be closer to going on a diet than he knows.

EXCISES CAN BE COLLECTED AGAIN AND AGAIN AND AGAIN
The Internal Revenue Service has underlined an old principle with a new ruling. The ruling (Rev. Rul. 59-312) specifies that all sales of taxable items, even sales of second-hand items, are subject to tax when made by a seller who is in the business of selling at retail. Thus each time a fur is sold at retail, the excise tax applies.

The Fellowship of Believers ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 4:32-5:16.

"The multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common."—Acts 4:32.

"Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, to lay at the apostles' feet."—Acts 4:34-35.

Distribution was made unto every man according to his need. Joses, whom the apostles surnamed Barnabas, having land, sold it and brought the money also to the apostles.—Acts 4:36-37.

A great multitude came to the apostles, bringing their sick and those vexed with unclean spirits, and the apostles healed every one of them.—Acts 5:16.

MEMORY VERSE—John 13:35.

The Fellowship of Believers

NONE SAID HIS POSSESSIONS WERE HIS, BUT THEY HAD ALL THINGS IN COMMON

Scripture—Acts 4:32-5:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. FOLLOWING Simon Peter's sermon at Pentecost, we have the first description of the early church in Jerusalem. It was a beautiful picture, and so is this, the second we are now to consider. Nothing but the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ could create such conditions.

I am quoting (although not exactly) the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith's words in his opening remarks on today's lesson in Peloubet's Select Notes. "And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common."

"And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus; and great grace was upon them all."—Acts 4:33-34.

"Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, and laid them down at the feet dead at the apostles' feet. His wife, Sapphira, not knowing that her husband was dead, also told the lie to Peter, and she too fell dead at his feet. "And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things."—Acts 5:11.

In his suggestions for teaching this lesson, the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith writes that all classes in the Sunday school might be reminded that "in every church there are different types of members—some help, some hinder. . . some throw themselves into the work of the church with all the energy and gifts they have, but some even use the church for selfish purposes. In our lesson today we have such a character as Barnabas, generous, helpful, full of wisdom, and such people as Ananias and Sapphira, who were a hindrance to the church by their selfish acts."

I think that it is important to impress upon the members of the classes that they should be truthful always. A person who gets apostles' feet; and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need."—Acts 4:34-35.

Now we are introduced to a man named "Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation), a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet."—Acts 4:36-37.

He became a familiar figure in the early church. "Now we will briefly tell the story of Ananias and his wife, Sapphira, who 'sold a possession, and kept back part of the price,' but 'brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God."—Acts 5:1-4.

Hearing these words, Ananias fell dead. . . .

Friday short stuff . . .

Rain, rain, and more rain. That was the situation on the East Carolina College campus yesterday and most football followers were hoping that it would clear up before Saturday night.

A muddy turf seems to have a "jinx" over the Bucs with both their defeats being recorded following a heavy rain. It cuts down the effectiveness of such runners as James Speight, Sonny Basinger, and Glenn Bass.

Word from Appalachian states that the defeat by Carson-Newman last week didn't set too well. It was the App's second loss and both have come to single-wing teams. Lenoir Rhyne delivered the other setback.

Ansel Glendenning and Bill Harvey have rolled up 581 yards of the 1196 picked up by Appalachian, the conference's top rushing outfit.

Close Games No Longer Exist

North State football this season has provided relaxing entertainment for most fans. The close game in the conference has been kicked out the window. Only one tight game has been played in loop competition this season. Appalachian edged Western Carolina 14-12 in an early season contest. Since that time, Lenoir Rhyne has shocked the fans with one-sided victories over Appalachian and Western.

East Carolina went to the mountains expecting a close game with WCC but came out on the short end of a one-sided affair. The Pirates reversed the situation against Guilford and Catawba.

Even an expected close contest between two winless clubs within the conference—Catawba and Elon—failed to materialize. The Indians scalped the Christians by a couple of TD's.

Field Goals Have Bearing

Field goals have played a major part in three of State's five games this year. The Wolfpack beat Virginia Tech with a three-pointer and lost to Coach Bud Phillips has his Greenville Phantoms rolling along at full steam once again and tonight they venture outside the conference to take on a Scotland Neck eleven on the latter's home soil.

Coming back strong with two consecutive victories after a flu virus almost completely wrecked the 1959 season, Greenville will rank as heavy favorites in their prep battle tonight.

Elsewhere within the conference, the only game expected to have any significance on the race will be at Roanoke Rapids where the Yellow Jackets play host to Jacksonville. New Bern and Elizabeth City will be battling for the seventh spot in their contest at New Bern tonight.

Other games involving conference clubs will send Goldsboro to Kinston, Williamston at Washington, and Rocky Mount at Tarboro.

Phillips, returning to the cherry side of the gridiron scene, will be at near full strength tonight when his eleven seeks its third straight win and fifth of the season. The Greenvilles turned back New Bern, 13-0, last week in a mud battle.

Tackle Norfleet Felton has been out of action this week with a knee injury and will probably miss the Scotland Neck game. Other than Felton, the club appears "fit as a fiddle" and should be stronger than at any other time this season.

Playing with reserves during two of the most important games of the season—Tarboro and Washington—has helped make the depth at Rose High stronger and Phillips can now call on his experienced reserves with confidence.

Greenville used just two big plays to defeat New Bern last week but Coach Phillips is hoping that his contingent will be able to control the ball more against Scotland Neck.

The Rose High mentor feels that his outfit is more effective on a dry field with such runners as Alan McArthur, Wayne Sumerell, Robin Wilfong, and Randy Bass.

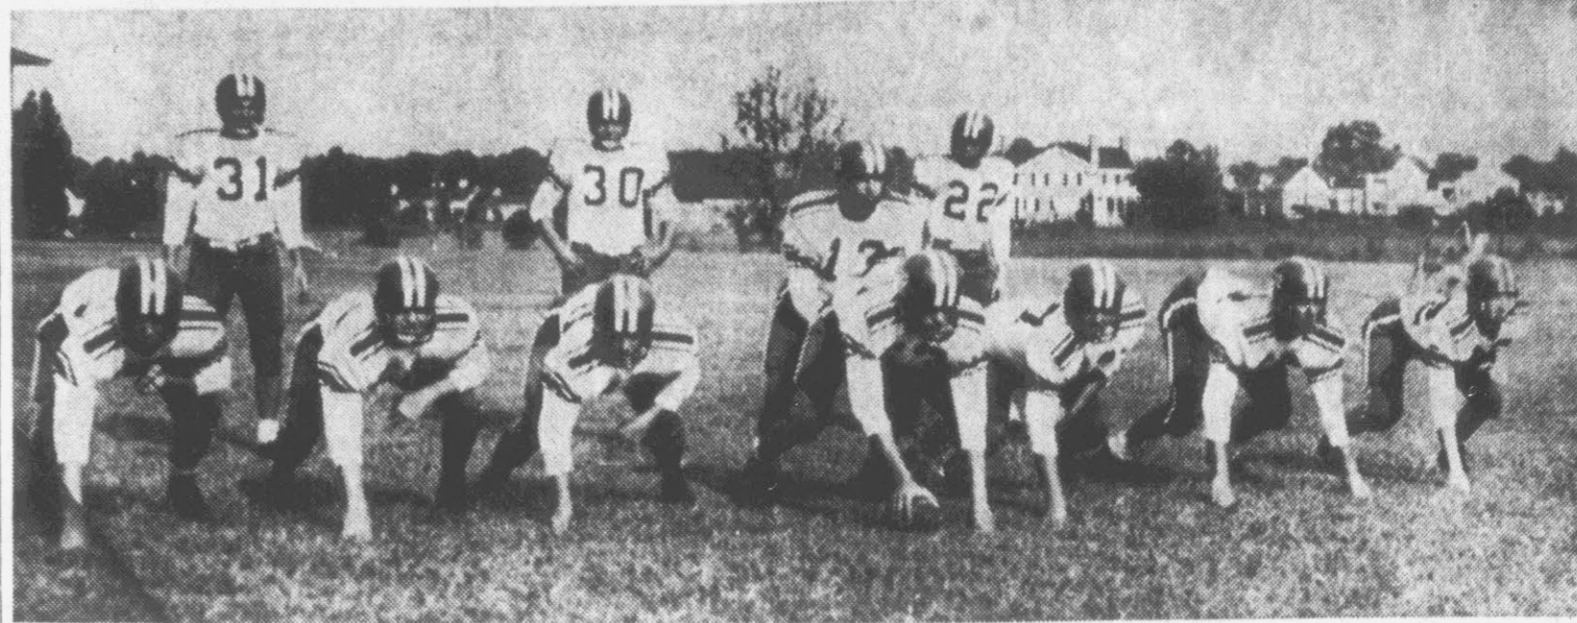

Erskine Duff, becoming one of the loop's better signal callers, will direct the club tonight along with his capable understudy, Billy James. Duff will offer the Phantoms a threat through the airways.

Jeff Fountain, Bill Wade, Lawrence Davenport, and Louis Dale will be just a few expected to stand out in the Greenville forward wall.

The game, slated to start at 8:00, will be carried by radio station WOOW.

Last week's activity saw Washington, the loop's pace-setter, lose to Clinton 7-6 for their second loss of the season. They had dropped an earlier decision to Wilson by the same score.

The big game of the week saw Tarboro take over sole possession of second place with a victory over Roanoke Rapids. Kinston jumped into the win column with a 6-0 decision over stubborn Elizabeth City. Jacksonville was idle.

OFFENSIVE UNIT—Greenville will be favored to take win number five tonight when it battles non-conference Scotland Neck. The Greenvilles have won their last two games. Above is their probable starting offensive unit.

Many Maneuvers Make Terps Rough

Eppes Closes Out Season Here Tonight

It will be the season final for Eppes High tonight when it plays host to P. S. Jones High of Washington in a conference tilt.

The Bulldogs enter their last grid encounter with three victories and four defeats. Their conference mark is 3-3. Victories for the Bulldogs came over Oxford, Elizabeth City and Goldsboro. They lost to New Bern, Wilmington, Jacksonville, and Raleigh.

Eppes will rate as heavy favorites over the winless Washington eleven. A victory would enable them to post their best record since the 1956 season.

Reports from the Bulldog camp state that Eppes will be at full strength for their final game. With only one key player to be lost by graduation, the locals will field a young club against Washington tonight but one that has shown future promise.

Boasting the stout Eppes line will be Dalton and Alton Davis, Luke Williams, and Nathaniel Cromwell. Leading the backfield corps will be Freddy Watson, Willie Adams, and Joe Tyson.

Opposing coaches jokingly claim that Tom Nugent has installed 56 different football formations in the Maryland play book. If Nugent also has installed some of his own confidence in his players, the Terps may yet be contenders for the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Clemson, undefeated in its four league games and with only one defeat in five games, appears a shoe-in for its second straight title.

Maryland has won two of its five games and is 1-1 in the ACC. "If we can win four of our last five games, well, we just might win the title ourselves," says the peppy Nugent, in his first coaching year at Maryland.

"I just think, after getting over a few early rough spots and jelling our offense, that we are now a threat to any of the remaining teams on our schedule," he says.

The Terps lost a close 7-0 decision to Wake Forest, the ACC's second place team, and defeated North Carolina 14-7 in a game easier for the Terps than the score showed.

Still remaining on the league schedule for Maryland are South Carolina at Columbia this week, then Clemson, Virginia and N.C. State.

"We definitely don't consider that we are out of it. What remains to be seen is how much we are in it," Nugent says.

Four of the eight ACC teams play in top-flight inter-sectional games this week, stealing the attention from the two league scraps—the South Carolina-Maryland affair and the Virginia-Wake Forest battle.

The Gamecocks Thursday brushed up on their offense, particularly against Maryland defenses, and heard that their All-ACC fullback, John Saunders, who has been sidelined since the first game with an injury, may play Saturday. The Terps took it easy, drilling in sweat clothes.

Kicking was stressed in the Wake Forest practice. The place kicking will fall to fullback Neil MacLean in place of tackle Nick Patella, out with a knee injury.

The winless Virginia team apparently will go for broke with a pass attack which the Cavaliers worked on Thursday.

Passing came in for work in the Duke camp. The Blue Devils, who play Georgia Tech in Atlanta, also got word that tackle Jim Swofford, hampered by a leg infection, will play against the Yellow Jackets.

Heavy rain forced Clemson indoors as the Tigers completed their work for the Rice game at Houston, Texas, Saturday night. All of the Tigers were pronounced in top shape.

North Carolina, which plays host to Tennessee, worked on offense and defense in non-contact drills.

Added work on defense against the Wyoming Cowboys kept the North Carolina State Wolfpack busy. The Skyline Conference champs will be making their first trip into North Carolina for the game.

Ayden May Be Tough In Final Game Of Year

By TOM JACKSON

Reflector Sports Staff

The Ayden Tornados will meet a strong Beaufort team in a conference tilt on the Ayden field tonight at 8:00.

Ayden Coach Stuart Tripp said yesterday, "I don't know about the outcome of the game yet. We are playing the top team in the conference and we don't know how it will come out. We have heard comments that they are not as strong as Farmville and that Farmville could have beaten them is the Red Devils had played better in the first half of the game."

"One thing for sure, we know that they have a good passer that we will have to watch. This boy, Butch Hassell, is one of the best passers in the conference."

Coach Tripp added, "We have lost a lot of boys but the team is still in good spirit despite this and our past losses."

"Last year we played the best game of all against Beaufort, but this year we have lost many of the boys we counted on, so we just can't be sure how it will come out. We do know that we still have enough good boys to make the game interesting."

"In practice this week we have had almost one hundred percent turnout and the team looked good. The boys have really been hustling. They don't seem tired at all. The 27-14 win over Contentnea last week has helped keep the boys in good spirit and they don't seem to be getting tired of the game."

This will be Ayden's last game of the season.

Freshmen Play

East Carolina's freshmen meet a strong Fork Union Military Academy myotnight on the latter's home field.

The local group of gridders enter the game with a 2-2 record and will be solid underdogs against the Fork Union eleven.

Coach Gary Mattocks will rely on the passing of his freshmen aces, Gary Parker and Dan Rouse, for the Buos' biggest offensive weapon. The ECC forward wall will be headed by James Strawbridge and Paul Eilers.

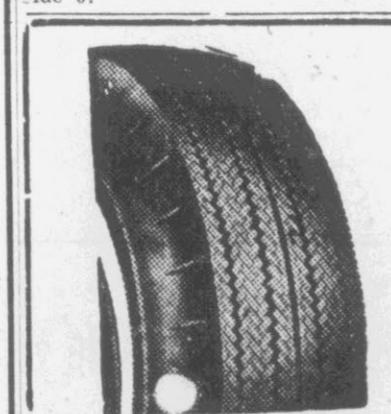

Forfeit Three, Then Crush 'em

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Earlier this week, Riverside High was upheld in its protest that three football games won by Corpus Christi High were won with an ineligible player in the Corpus Christi line-up.

Corpus Christi dropped the ineligible man, and forfeited the three games.

Thursday night, Corpus Christi played Riverside.

Final: Corpus Christi 93, Riverside 0.

LSU-Mississippi Head Sat. Grid Card

DEFENSIVE PIRATE—Nick Hilgert, a sophomore, has worked into the East Carolina lineup as a defensive specialist. A former Elizabeth City prep quarterback, Nick has seen action as a wing-man on defense in the Bucs' last two games.

APP STARTER—Guard Doug Crater will be one of the Appalachian starters tomorrow night when Appalachian and East Carolina clash for second place in College Stadium.

By JACK CLARY
Mississippi, without costume or mask, comes to Louisiana State's home Halloween night with its trick or treat bag full of gimmicks that may decide the mythical national title.
The game at Baton Rouge, La., is the biggest game of the year and tops a weekend card that begins tonight with a handful of games, and continues Saturday afternoon with the beginning of a new service rivalry when the Air Force Academy travels to New York to meet Army.
Tonight, Kentucky meets Miami (Fla.) (3-2) in the Orange Bowl, in an inter-sectional game. The Wildcats (1-5) have felt the wrath of both LSU and Ole Miss, losing 9-0 and 16-0, respectively, for the only comparative scores between the nation's No. 1 and 3 ranked teams.
Another top game pits Virginia Military, co-leader with The Citadel in the Southern Conference with its No. 3 ranking nationally in offense and defense. LSU is second defensively, but will dare the Rebels to stop its three first units. Mississippi is a one-point underdog.
The Army-Air Force game pits two unranked teams but still has sold out Yankee Stadium for six weeks. A crowd of around 72,000 will watch the expected passing battle between Joe Caldwell of Army (3-2) and Richie Mayo of the Air Force (4-1). The game will be televised regionally.
Also Saturday, Northwestern (6-0), ranked second, has a Big Ten battle with Indiana (3-2), while 10th-ranked Wisconsin (4-1) plays Michigan.
In the East, fifth-ranked Syracuse (5-0) sends its top-ranked offense and defense against Pitt (3-3) Penn State, 6-0 and ranked seventh, plays rival West Virginia (3-3).
Texas (No. 4) meets Southern Methodist (3-1) with SMU's passing wizard Don Meredith hoping to shoot down the Longhorns' 6-0 over-all record, and Southwest Conference-leading 2-0 mark.

Eight-ranked Auburn (4-1) has an SEC date with Florida (3-2-1) and 9th-rated Georgia Tech (5-1) plays Atlantic Coast Conference representative Duke (2-4).
Southern California (No. 6) plays northern state rival California (1-5), going after its sixth 1959 win without a loss.
The other major unbeaten, untied team, Yale, plays Ivy League foe Dartmouth.

Big Fight In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Ox" and an "Unlucky Indian" on the warpath tangle in the ring at Madison Square Garden tonight. It should be a blood-and-thunder battle as long as it lasts.

Florentino Fernandez, an unbeaten, stiff-necked Cuban welterweight contender is the guy they call "The Ox" for his thick neck, strength and power.

Mexico's Gaspar Ortega has been dubbed the "Unlucky Indian" because of the number of split decisions and close fights he has lost. He dropped what he thought was a close one to Fernandez in Miami Beach last Sept. 11.
"One of these days maybe I get the decision in a close fight," said Gaspar, a full-blooded Sapatoco Indian. "I finished strong against him the last time and I think I beat him. This time I will make it by a bigger margin."

Fernandez, who has scored 18 kayos in posting his perfect 21-0 record, dropped Ortega twice in that first slugfest thriller. The Ox had scored 16 straight knockouts until he injured his left hand against the Indian's granite jaw.
He is a 2-1 choice to beat Ortega again.
Ortega never has been stopped in 69 pro fights. His record is 51-16-2, including 21 kayos.
NBC will telecast the fight at 10 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Double Duty For Harvard Back

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Tom Boone is in for a busy day Saturday at Philadelphia with the Harvard football team.
Coach John Yovicsin said Boone will play quarterback the first half of the junior varsity game against Penn Saturday morning, then will serve as Harvard's No. 12 signal-caller in the afternoon varsity game.

Sports Scope...

Wake Forest and Duke by the field goal margin.

Incidentally, State opponents have been highly successful with field goals this season, kicking three out of three. State has made one out of three... The series between Duke and Georgia Tech is a long one, dating back to 1933. The Blue Devils lead the series with 13 wins against 12 losses. One game ended in a tie.

Predictions For The Week

Last week results show a "perfect pick" on the Greenville score for the second time this season. Other choices included Duke and Carolina.

This week its Greenville over an unknown Scotland Neck eleven by at least 19.

This will be the "bread and butter" game for East Carolina. They have to have a win and here's one more vote for the Bucs—say by about seven.

Ayden should give Beaufort a close game but will lose by a touchdown and yours truly expects Farmville to unseat an undefeated LaGrange club.

Western Carolina over Elon by 14; Cats will find it hard getting "up" after LR defeat.

Presbyterian over Catawba by 24; Blue Hose celebrate bowl bid.

Lenoir Rhyne over Maryville by at least 30; Bears tune single-wing attack for East Carolina.

Tennessee over Carolina by 8; Vols get nod over erratic Tar Heels. Klochak could change story.

Georgia Tech over Duke by 13; Win for 'Rambling Wreck' but not without a fight.

Wake Forest over Virginia by 20; Deacon keeps conference crown hopes alive.

Pirates Sign Murtaugh Back

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—To no one's surprise, the Pittsburgh Pirates announced today they've signed Manager Danny Murtaugh for the 1960 season.
General Manager Joe L. Brown, who announced the signing, had indicated some time ago Murtaugh would be back.
Murtaugh signed a one-year contract, a custom with the Pirates. His salary wasn't announced but it was believed to be around $30,000.

Brown said he didn't blame Murtaugh for the Pirates' fourth-place finish. He pointed out that the Bucs had been plagued by injuries and said Murtaugh did as well as possible.

The Pirates also announced Murtaugh has retained his entire coaching staff.

Murtaugh, a former Pirate infielder, became manager in the middle of the 1957 season, stepping up from coach after Bobby Bragan had been fired.

In 1958 Murtaugh won Manager of the Year honors as he piloted the Bucs to an 84-70 mark and a second-place finish. During the past season the Bucs only occasionally showed promise and wound up with 78 victories and 76 defeats.

Columbia Will Field Team Again

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Columbia, out of organized baseball for the past two years, will field a club in the South Atlantic League again in 1960.

The Class A franchise returns here from Savannah, Ga., and will continue to be operated by the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The announcement was made Thursday by Mayor Lester Bates here and Gabe Paul, Redleg general manager, in Cincinnati.

Paul promises to give Columbia the best team available.

Columbia was a Redleg farm club from 1938 until 1955, when the franchise moved to Savannah.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
This is a story of the Southwest in the days after the War between the States when the Indian wars had just finished and the time of the outlaw—of cruel, trigger-fingered Billy the Kid, John Wesley Hardin, and their ilk—was just beginning.

CHAPTER 3
The ridge was ringed by giant pine trees, cutting off the moonlight. The Sergeant hobbled Mickey's front legs tightly, then he slipped on the feed bag. On an ordinary trip he would have let Mickey forage for himself. But not here, with hungry cougars prowling the slopes.

The Sergeant spread his blankets and places his saddle for a pillow, but then changed his mind, having a sudden aversion to lying down and thus making himself vulnerable. To hell with sleeping. He'd sleep when he got back to Mesa Encantada.
He lit a second cigarette and sat with his back to a huge pine trunk.
On second thought, he took his Winchester out of the boot and put it across his knees, laughing ironically to himself. "What was that I said to Natty about being an old woman?" he thought.

"Well, I'll be damned," said the Sergeant, staggered, and just barely able to restrain himself from firing wildly into the darkness. "They're crazy or starving, those cats."
This was too much. He built a low Apache-type fire, and drew Mickey in close beside him. This was all right with Mickey, who was sweating heavily. In fact, he began to crowd the Sergeant at the fire, pressing against him.
He dozed again.
Mickey woke him with a happy nicker. The fire was out. To the west it was still night, with a few cold white stars glittering, but a band of yellow was showing between the big red trunks of the pines, eastward, and it would soon be day.
Minute crystals of dew glistened in the coarse mountainside grass, birds sang in the trees and bushes and little by little, as the Sergeant broke camp and saddled Mickey, night drew farther and farther away to the west. Desert and mountains were waking to the new day.

decide with Major Etheredge.
Nearly an hour passed. The sun was up now, flooding the world with hot glaring light. At a turn in the trail where it came out into the open from the overhanging rocks, the Sergeant saw the buzzards. Half a dozen of them, big, black and sinister, were volplaning slowly over a narrow, shallow canyon to the right of the trail.

Remembering the shots and the hollering, the Sergeant urged Mickey over closer to the edge of the trail and rode along, looking down, trying to see what the buzzards were waiting to devour.
And suddenly he gave a start, unable to believe his eyes. Below him a huge mountain lion was crouched over the carcass of a pinto horse. Stranger yet, the dead horse still had a saddle on its back.

Gritting his teeth with disgust, the Sergeant drew the Winchester out of the boot and set himself for a mortal shot, but the cougar had smelled him or heard the click of the shell or had merely been warned by a sixth animal sense. With the speed of light it was gone instantly.
Now a voice called. "You, up there. Keep your distance. I been saving my shells for you."
"You crazy down there?" called the Sergeant. "What's the matter?"
"Who the hell are you?" came the voice, rather highpitched and sounding very young.
"Sergeant Desportes from Mesa Encantada."
A brief silence.
"Who are you doing up in these mountains?"
The Sergeant explained briefly. Then asked: "What happened to your horse? Why didn't you kill that cougar?"
"The horse was dead," came the voice. "I was saving my shells. Get me out of here. I think my leg's broke. I can't walk."
The Sergeant dismounted, knelt, and peered over the edge of the trail. A young sunburned face looked up at him through a clump of bushes—the Sergeant got a quick glimpse of a snub nose, light-blue eyes, and white teeth.

A mere boy! And yet what kind of a boy, crowding there with a broken leg, saving his shells, while a mountain lion devoured his dead horse, not a hundred feet away from him.

Lone Bandit Is Soon Captured

Honor Roll Students At Grimesland Announced

By ELEANOR HODGES
Grimesland High School students received report cards last Monday.

The following students made Honor Roll: 10th grade—Laura Helen McDonald, Principal's List; ninth grade—Bobby Williams, Allan Williams, and Elizabeth Boyd; 10th grade—Gerald Childs, Nile Dail, Harvey Craft, and Joyce Boyd; 11th grade—Sue Sutton, James Brown Smith, and Lois Jane Reel; 12th grade—Melissa Whitchard.

Most of the parents and teachers were pleased but evidently our principal, Mr. Hudson and some teachers do not think we're doing our best. However, we are not getting all the blame because, Monday, we had to take a parent's report card home. The purpose of the parent report card is to bring to the attention of parents the home needs that a student requires in order to do their best work.

The front of the card read as follows: "We realize that in the rearing of your children you have one of the most difficult and important jobs that you will ever have to do. We realize also that you probably have had less training to do that job than any other that you will have to do. But we do need your help and cooperation in the education of your child. We think that by checking 'yes' or 'no' to the questions enclosed you will become more aware of the kind of help we need."

The inside of the report card read: "Do you provide a suitable table or desk with a good light for your child? Do you see that your child has a definite time and place to study away from TV and other disturbing noises? Do you help or at least encourage your child and see that he does his homework? Do you check to see if your child is spending too much time away from home when he should be studying? Do you talk with your child about his plans for the future and help him select a goal to work for? Do you show a real interest in your child's education by knowing what he is studying and who his teachers are? Do you visit your school and take a part in school activities? Do you plan your trips, your work etc. so that your child will not miss school or fail to get his homework? Do you criticize a teacher in the presence of your child? Do you encourage your child to always do the best that he can? Do you really study your child's report card before you sign it? Do you look over and sign test papers which the teachers send home for you to see? If your child has a special problem do you visit the school at some time other than P.T.A. meetings to discuss it? Do you provide proper clothing for your child in cold weather? Do you provide your child with a good breakfast every morning? Do you see that your child gets a good, well-balanced meal at night? Do you see that your child gets from eight to ten hours sleep at night?

Our Halloween Carnival will be held October 29, 1959, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served and hundreds of prizes will be given away.

Nomadic Eskimox in Canada and Alaska literally live off the caribou, using its meat for food, horns for tools and hide for clothing.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and a scattering of selected issues performed well in a narrow, uneven stock market early this afternoon. Trading slowed after an active morning.

Gains and losses of the pivotal issues were mainly fractions. Studebaker-Packard and American Motors continued heavily traded. American Motors rebounded a couple of points and Studebaker dropping around a point.

The steels backed away on balance, apparently not affected by the signing of Granite City Steel, a comparatively small producer by the union.

The market seemed to be pausing for breath following some exciting prior sessions this week. To normal pre-weekend caution was added uncertainty as to next week's action by the U. S. Supreme Court regarding a Taft-Hartley injunction. Traders also bore in mind that most exchanges will be closed next Tuesday for election day.

Riding on renewed confidence of missile spending by the government, Zenith and Motorola rose about 2 pieces and Ampex picked up a point.

Gains of about a point were made by Western Union, Glen Alden, Schering and Goodyear. Jones & Laughlin fell more than a point as did Allied Chemical.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was changed at $24.40 with the industrials up 10 cents and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

U. S. government bonds as well as corporate bonds were firm.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets steady to 50 higher. DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—James C. White, 75, a law enforcement agent for 42 years, advocates a return to public whipping to straighten out youth gangs.

White, of Austin, is in Dallas for a conference of former FBI agents. He was with the FBI from 1924 to 1947. His career including fights with run runners and the pre-dawn battle in Florida in 1935 in which Kate (Ma) Barker and her son Fred were slain.

In an interview Thursday he said youngsters who cannot be straightened out need humiliating, not pampering.

"Kids need whipping at home and in public too. The old public whipping post ought to be used again. Nowadays, you have to raise children right or they'll grow up to be criminals," he said.

"Why, Baby Face Nelson was a car thief and run runner when he started out at the age of 15 or 16, and before he was through, he killed three FBI agents."

GREENVILLE CIVIL AIR PATROL cadets and senior members will hear Capt. H. F. Gregory of the Wilson CAP squadron speak on the organization of a good cadet program tonight at the local squadron's weekly meeting.

Capt. Gregory is also CAP Group III cadet advisor and has turned out some of North Carolina's most outstanding cadets from the Wilson squadron.

Tonight's meeting is scheduled for 8:00 in the CAP headquarters at the Greenville-Pitt County Airport. All boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 years are invited to attend.

HAD A SIDELINE

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—One of the men nabbed in a gambling raid here had a nice sideline—he sold chances on his paycheck. The man, who was identified, sold 1,200 chances on his $100 weekly factory paycheck for 50 cents each, the State Investigation Commission reported. Investigators figure he made an extra $500 a week.

An average of 59,000 people were admitted to hospitals in the United States each day in 1958.

Music And Comedy Show Well Received

"Skitz-o-phrenia," an evening of light entertainment staged by the department of music at East Carolina College last night in the Wright building, was a hit with an audience who gave student and faculty members and guest artists of the cast hearty applause and laughter.

The show was staged for the benefit of the Music Foundation, an organization with the purpose of providing scholarships and other educational benefits for music students at the college. A sum of approximately $500 was realized from the entertainment.

Dr. W. Edmund Durham of the faculty acted as narrator in a comic review of opera "Jack and Jill" performed by faculty members and guest artists. Taking part were Dr. Carl Hjortsvang, Dan Vorholt, Mrs. Herbert L. Carter, Paul Hickfang, and Mrs. Gladys White.

Scenes from "Porgy and Bess," popular Gershwin opera, were presented by Ashlynn Mauldin and Jerry Powell, students of music at the college. The community Barbershop Chorus was well received 'n songs suited to old-fashioned harmonizing.

Lib Rogers, Greenville student, starred in "A Lesson in Hula." Special guest performers were Sonya Hooker and Janet Arnold, students, and Lewis Danfelt, Wellington Gray, and Wendell Smiley, faculty members who joined in the dance number.

Two interpretations of jazz, the old and the new, opposed a faculty group to a student group. "What's the Line?" a skit based on the TV idea of "I've Got a Secret" starred "mystery guest" Mahlon Coles, director of the College Union, along with Mrs. Martha Bradner, Ruth Graber, James Parnell and Herbert L. Carter.

Other numbers included La Marr Hadley, Pat Lave, and Jan Vurst, members of the music fraternity Sigma Alpha Iota, in "The Three Marionettes"; the Phi Mu Alpha Brass Quartet with Charles Myers, Thomas Spry, Jack Pindell, and Jerry Liles as members; Robert Ellwanger, drum major with the East Carolina Marching Band, in a take-off of techniques of his art; and the ECC All-Girls Band.

Pitt Sanitarian Talks To Class

Linwood Kilpatrick, chief sanitarian with the Pitt County Health Department, discussed "Environmental Sanitation" in a talk this week before students of municipal government taught by Dr. Kathleen Stokes of the social studies department at East Carolina College.

His talk dealt with the role of the sanitarian in the maintenance of a healthy environment for all.

Mr. Kilpatrick described modern methods of garbage disposal; the treatment of sewage and water supplies; the supervision of the processing, handling, and distribution of food stuffs; and smoke control measures.

In closing, Mr. Kilpatrick stressed the importance of health education programs and the public laboratory in supplementing the work of the health department in its efforts to combat disease.

Cotton Program Vote On Dec. 15

The new 1960 cotton program calls for allotments in this State totaling 474,715 acres. According to Walter A. Hasty Jr., manager of Pitt ASC office, this allotment to North Carolina represents our share of a national allotment of 16 million acres.

The program provides for acreage allotments to individual growers and calls for a referendum which will be held December 15, to determine whether marketing quotas shall be in effect and the levels of price support which will be available. According to Hasty, the program is substantially the same as that now being carried out in this State this year. The program providing a choice between A and B allotments will continue for another year provided marketing quotas are approved in the referendum. Also if marketing quotas are approved, there will be penalties assessed against farmers who exceed their allotments.

Approval of quotas will provide supports for Choice "A" farmers at a minimum of 75 percent of parity.

If quotas are voted down, only regular allotments will apply and price support will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Urges Return Of Tobacco Cards

With the closing of the Greenville tobacco market, October 27, there is no reason why all Tobacco Cards cannot be returned now.

Walter Hasty Jr., Pitt ASC office manager, reminds growers that Program Regulations require that producers return each marketing card issued for the farm within 30 days after the close of the market in the general locality. In order to eliminate the possibility of losing the card or forgetting the deadline, cards should be returned immediately. Failure to return the marketing card (s) or to furnish a satisfactory report of disposition may cause the allotment for the next year to be reduced.

When farmers return their card to the ASC office they should be sure to check the entries of the pounds sold for each sale and if there are any erasures, blank spaces for figures not clearly written warehouse bills of sale should be brought along.

JP Problem To Be Taken Up

Members of the Third District Bar Association, who will meet at the Proctor Hotel at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, will discuss the controversial justice of the peace issue. J. W. H. Roberts said yesterday.

Roberts, president of the district association, said the J.P.'s, a problem for years, have recently been under fire of the State Bar Association.

North Carolina Supreme Court Associate Justice, Clifton L. Moore, will address the group at the 6:30 dinner meeting. An election of officers will take place also, Roberts said.

Abandons Idea Of Opening Prayer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A St. Louis Board of Education member who proposed opening school each day with a nondenominational prayer has dropped the idea.

Daniel L. Schlafly said Thursday his proposal caused too much tension and controversy.

Several board members had approved the idea of opening St. Louis schools each day with this prayer: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence on Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Most outspoken opponent of Schlafly's proposal was the Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation. Wagner said in a statement, "The home and church should be solely responsible for the prayer habits of children."

BAD FOR ADOLESCENTS
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Paul Formel, Albany Medical College professor, had this advice for fathers in a talk here: Don't play football with sons just to be a good dad. Violent exercise, he said, is for adolescents.

The aborigines of Australia still communicate by smoke signals.

Car Damaged In Hitting Pole

An estimated $1,000 damage was done to a late model car on South Dickinson Ave. about 8:10 p. m. yesterday when the vehicle, driven by Ernest Hugh Brannon, 20, of Route 1, Greenville, struck a utility pole after going out of control.

Investigating officers quoted Brannon as saying he was following a second unidentified car which made a sudden right-hand turn off Dickinson Ave. without signaling. Brannon continued by saying he cut to the left to avoid a collision with the vehicle and went into a skid, striking the utility pole.

Brannon, charged with reckless driving, was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital for a cut on the head. The only passenger in the auto, Jim B. King, address not given, was treated for a cut on the nose. Both were released.

At 11:40 yesterday morning, cars operated by Mrs. Mildred Flake Harris, 1311 Cotanche St., and Walter James Frizzell, a 53-year-old Negro of 2133 Bousler's Lane wrecked at the intersection of Dickinson Ave. and Pitt Street.

No charges were placed by investigating officers and no injuries were reported.

Total damage to both cars was set by officers at $70.
