Mikoyan Boasts Of Sun Rocket

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan says the Soviet Union is preparing to increase its space missile lead over the United States by launching a rocket "to visit the sun."

Mikoyan, the highest Soviet official ever to appear in a Latin-American country, told a dinner given in his honor by city officials Friday night that the Soviet Union has surpassed the United States both in the scientific and in economic areas.

"Who gave the United States a monopoly on occupying first place in the world?" he demanded in a shouting, hand-waving speech that drew frequent applause and shouts of "Viva."

Mikoyan said that when he first visited America in 1936, "they were very much ahead, no doubt about that. But we have overtaken them."

The Deputy said he was not trying to spread Communist propaganda. "We are not egotists," he declared. "We are proud of our success, as we are of the successes of other countries."

Mikoyan, here for a 10-day visit during which he is expected to push for more trade with Mexico, implied that Latin-American countries no longer have to follow U.S. leadership.

"We have surpassed the level of the United States," he boasted, apparently referring to the economic field.

Mikoyan did not elaborate on his announcement that Soviet scientists are prepared to launch a missile to the sun.

There have been reports from non-Communist sources in Moscow, however, that the Soviet Union will send up another rocket, either to the moon or Mars.

First Victim Of 'Point System'

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's point system law for putting habitual traffic violators out of the driver's seat has claimed its first victim.

Sammie Lee Carothers, 26-year-old Charlotte Negro, lost his driver's license for a period of 60 days when a conviction on a reckless driving charge ran his total points to 12.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner Ed Scheidt reported the suspension of Carothers' license Friday.

Humphrey Terms Republicans 'Old Fogies' In YDC Speech

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Republicans were called "the party of the old fogies" Friday night as two top-ranking Democrats urged a bold, original approach to the nation's problems.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) extolled the youthful ideas of the Democratic New Deal in the 1930s and used the term "old fogies" in describing the Republican party.

"It's a sign of middle age," Humphrey said of GOP leadership, "when the obstacles loom larger than the challenge of overcoming them." He spoke to 1,500 delegates attending the National Young Democratic Clubs of America Convention.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan suggested Democrats base their thinking in 1960 on adventurous, experimental and take-a-chance ideas.

The Republicans, he said, "would have us think that we have come to a dead end and therefore should be happy with what we have and enjoy it while we can."

Ike Talks Military Budget Plans With Secretaries

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force had their chance for a final say on the new military budget in a conference today with President Eisenhower.

The President called them in from Washington for a meeting in his working quarters at Augusta National Golf Club.

The delegation included Deputy Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr., Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker, Navy Secretary William Franke, Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas, and the Pentagon's research chief, Dr. Herbert F. York.

As to the absence of Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy from the session, the acting White House press secretary, Wayne Hawks, said: "I just don't know the reason he isn't coming. But I know he is aware of the whole thing."

Hawks said Eisenhower had talked with McElroy on the telephone about the meeting the day it was set up. McElroy also was one of those who conferred with the President here Monday on the military budget.

Eisenhower is striving to wrap up his entire budget for the 1961 fiscal year in advance of his overseas good-will tour starting Dec. 3. It looks as if the budget may hit a peacetime record of 81 billion dollars.

Another prelude to the trip to eleven European, Asian and African nations will be a conference Nov. 30 in Washington with Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress.

Seek Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States, in a letter made public today, asked the U. N. General Assembly to debate the Hungarian question.

In so doing, it backed up a similar request made public Wednesday from Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, U. N. special representative of Hungary.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told a reporter Friday Munro had no legal right to make such a request. He said "we will object" when the Assembly's 21-nation steering committee takes up the matter Monday.

The U. S. move seemed calculated to spike the Soviet objection and lessen the likelihood of a long procedural debate in the committee.

What we have and enjoy it while we can.

"We have not come to a dead end," he declared. "We are on the frontier of a new era of possibility."

Former President Harry S. Truman will close the three-day conference with a banquet speech tonight.

Truman said he hoped there wouldn't be any "catfights" started over the Democratic presidential nomination. At the news conference he shared with Humphrey and Williams Truman indicated he would not express a preference for any one candidate until he casts his vote at the national convention in Los Angeles next July—"if I am a delegate."

"My whole idea is to keep the Democratic party in shape so we can win," he added.

Humphrey was asked why federal agencies suddenly became aware of cranberry and lipstick hazards.

"I suppose the Republican ad-for what he says is an impractical proposal by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) that a top Democrat, such as former President Harry S. Truman go along on the good-will expedition.

Hawks told a news conference Friday that invitations to the briefing at a White House breakfast had gone by telegram to five Democrats and four Republicans.

In the Senate, Eisenhower sent bids to Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex); Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill); the Democratic chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J.W. Fulbright (Ark); and the senior Republican on the committee, Sen. Alexander Wiley (Wis).

The House members are speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex); Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass); Republican Leader

Charles E. Halleck (Ind); and, from the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Democratic Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (Pa.) and the top Republican member, Rep. Robert B. Chipfield (Ill).

The military share of the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is a tentative 41 billion dollars plus. It is getting what Budget Director Maurice H. Stans says is special scrutiny.

Budgeting has been the major business on Eisenhower's work sheet all week long. He already has conferred separately with top echelon Pentagon leaders and the military chiefs of the various armed forces. Today it was the civilian chiefs of the services.

The service secretaries appeared more likely to emphasize the financial rather than the policy side of the budget, since their military authority has been pretty much diluted under successive Pentagon reorganizations.

The Navy and Air Force are slated for small cuts in personnel. The Pentagon line is that they volunteered to take cuts in hopes of getting more money for modern weapons.

Struck Down By Her Own Auto

An elderly local woman was struck down by her own car early last night following a collision with a parked vehicle near the intersection of Fifth and Holly Sts.

Officers quoted witnesses as saying a vehicle, driven by Miss Iva Shelburn of 406 Eastern St. made a right turn onto Fifth St. from Holly St. and struck a parked car about 30 feet East of the intersection. She then stepped out of her auto to inspect the damage to the car.

Witnesses said she went to the rear of her car to survey the damage and her vehicle started rolling backward, knocking her to the ground. The Shelburn auto came to rest against a nearby tree with Miss Shelburn beneath it.

She was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital where she was admitted for observation. This morning doctors described her condition as satisfactory, saying she received no serious injuries.

Investigation of the mishap is incomplete, according to officers, pending questioning of the unidentified owner of the parked auto, believed to be an East Carolina College student.

Damage to the Shelburn auto was set at $50 by officers while damage to the parked car was placed at $100.

administration has always been afraid of anything pink," he quipped.

"What concerns me is that we have an administration that can become so concerned about lipstick and cranberries and yet fail to be concerned about radioactive fallout," he added.

Humphrey said he was thinking of entering presidential primaries in Ohio, Wisconsin, Oregon, South Dakota and West Virginia, but has arrived at no decision.

He said he would not accept second place on the national ticket.

Rep. Durham Has Plans To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), who served twice as chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee which supervises the nation's atomic program, says he is retiring from Congress after next year.

Durham, 67, said Friday he expects to enjoy life at his home in Chapel Hill, adding "I'm still a registered pharmacist, when I feel like doing a little work."

He said the delay was needed to let users find out about the new rates and to distribute new parcel post tables to the post offices.

Congress controls the rates for most postal activities. But, under the law, the ICC handles parcel post rates. Its approval is needed for any change.

Big users of parcel post—mail order houses and department stores—strongly opposed the new increases. But a big competitor of parcel post, the Railway Express Agency, told the ICC that the rates should be increased even more.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asked for the boosts a year ago when parcel post losses were coming to 88 million dollars a year.

The last parcel post rate increase, averaging 36 per cent, was approved in June 1953. Summerfield put them into effect more than three months later.

He said the delay was needed to let users find out about the new rates and to distribute new parcel post tables to the post offices.

Steelworkers 'Warn' Govm't To Stockpile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union has told the government it better get busy stockpiling steel for defense needs because the steel strike is likely to resume in late January.

Arthur J. Goldberg, union counsel, said the union wants to make it "perfectly plain that, should the strike resume, any peril to the national safety will not be chargeable to the United Steelworkers of America."

Goldberg sent his warning Friday to Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, whose department handles government acquisitions such as steel. Mueller is currently visiting Poland and there was no word on when a reply to Goldberg might be expected.

The union struck most of the nation's steel plants for 116 days. Early this month they were forced back to work by a court order under the Taft-Hartley law. After 80 days they are free to strike again if a settlement is not reached.

Goldberg wrote, "While I have not abandoned hope that a settlement in steel will be reached before the 80-day injunction expires, I must advise you in all candor that at the present writing no settlement is in prospect."

"Surely the defense of this country should not rest on a gamble that hopes for a settlement in the 80-day injunction period will be realized."

Goldberg said a Nov. 17 order to steel companies to give priority to defense steel was completely inadequate. The order, he said, merely covers current orders for steel, and makes no provision to ensure that essential steel "not currently needed, but required in the reasonably foreseeable future for defense purposes, will not be used for civilian production."

If no steps are taken, Goldberg added, defense steel "will be permitted to slip through the hands of the steel industry into the hands of private, nondefense consumers."

"In all likelihood, therefore, the government will face upon dissolution of the injunction exactly the same problems that you pointed out in the court case."

The government had argued in support of the 80 day injunction that lack of steel was threatening defense production and thus menacing the safety of the nation.

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Fiery-haired Joe Kittinger says his 15-mile parachute jump didn't scare him—he was too busy to worry.

Kittinger, a jet jockey turned space-age experimenter—with himself as a guinea pig—stepped out of a bucket-like balloon gondola at 75,400 feet over White Sands missile range this week.

Protected from 104-below-zero cold, he plummeted at nearly 450 miles an hour for about three minutes. Then, still 12,000 feet high, a parachute automatically opened, and he drifted the rest of the way to the desert in six more minutes.

It was another part in his continuing effort to help develop equipment to bring men back alive from emergencies on the edge of space.

"I didn't have time to worry," the well-knit, 155-pounder said. "I had so many things to do. This was a research job. I wasn't just sitting there thinking about the jump. I was trying to get data we didn't have already."

The Air Force captain said he kept track of the time and altitude "and physiological reactions" on which he did not elaborate.

He said his pressure suit, equipped with an oxygen system, kept him comfortable "going up and coming down."

Is he in good shape after his big leap? Well, he flew an Air Force T33 jet trainer from his new station at Wright Air Development Center in Ohio to Holloman Air Force Base, just outside Alamogordo, Friday.

The Air Force missile development center at Holloman is where he was stationed until his move to Wright several months ago. Holloman and the missile center are on White Sands missile range.

The jump was Kittinger's 41st since 1956.

The Air Force said this not only was the highest parachute jump on record but was the highest man ever rode in an open balloon gondola. The sides of the bucket were about four feet high, and it was about 4 1/2 feet in diameter. There was a gap in the wall for Kittinger to take that first big step.

Kittinger, who has a German-born wife, Pauline, and two boys, Joe III, 7, and Mark, 4, at home in Dayton, Ohio, is attached to the escape section of Wright Air Development Center. He more or less commutes by jet fighter between Wright and Holloman for test work.

Doctors this morning described Mrs. French's condition as critical, saying the woman was suffering from a fractured skull, a brain injury and a broken right arm. Mrs. Swindell, suffering from several broken ribs, a chest injury, lacerations of the scalp and multiple bruises was said to be in serious condition.

According to Patrolman Chapman, investigation of the wreck is incomplete, as officers attempt to locate the trailer-truck which did not stop at the scene of the mishap.

All three women are students at the Greenville Beauty School on Fifth St. here.

Jury Deliberates 'Kiss Of Death'

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP)—An all-male jury today continued deliberating the fate of a pint-sized sawmill worker charged in the kiss of death slaying of his sweetheart.

The state has asked either a second degree murder or manslaughter conviction.

Press Blamed In Cranberry Snafu

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP)—The head of North Carolina State College's Animal Husbandry Department has blamed the nation's newspapers for creating the current muddle over cranberries.

Speaking to the Salisbury Kiwanis Club Friday night, Dr. George H. Hatt said: "The cranberry market has been busted this year. Nobody is going to buy cranberries, and all because of the freedom of the press."

Hatt said the cranberry situation is not front-page material, but should have been placed on the back pages and not played up as important news.

"I don't think that, in many instances," he continued, "we have a free press anymore. Instead we have a press that is oriented toward whatever will sell newspapers."

Hatt added, "This year, as in former years, we have a press that has been very, very derogatory to agriculture. The farmer has very little political voice—he has very little chance to get his story in the local newspapers."

Minister Convicted On Blackmail Count

YANCEYVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A Baptist Minister who photographed his nude wife in bed with another minister was convicted of blackmail here Friday.

Superior Court Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn sentenced the Rev. J. T. Swinson, 51, to 24 months in prison for blackmail, conspiracy, assault with a deadly weapon and larceny.

Mrs. Swinson, 38, accused of luring a family friend into her bed so he could be photographed, was convicted of blackmail and conspiracy. A mother of two small children, she was sentenced to 19 months, suspended.

Judge Burgwyn praised the jury's verdict, but he had stern words for the Rev. G. A. Hamby of Tuxedo, who testified the Swinsons blackmailed him into buying them a car after Swinson snapped a picture of Hamby and Mrs. Swinson, both nude and in a compromising position in bed.

The judge said Hamby "violated every moral law," but he added, "I know of no criminal law he has violated."

Judge Burgwyn ordered destroyed all copies of the photograph showing Hamby, 59, and Mrs. Swinson naked in bed together.

Bulletins

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly appealed to all countries today not to test nuclear weapons while talks are on for the controlled cessation of such tests.

The roll-call vote was 60-1 in favor of a 24-nation Asian-African resolution on the subject.

The only "no" came from France, which plans to set off an atomic bomb in the Sahara desert early next year.

Twenty countries abstained from voting. Among them were Britain and the United States, now discussing controlled cessation of tests with the Soviet Union in Geneva. The Soviet Union voted "yes."

Two Women Were Admitted To Pitt Memorial Hospital Yesterday

Afternoon suffering from serious injuries following a car wreck eight miles south of Greenville on N.C. 43. A 17-year-old girl was released after receiving treatment for minor bruises and abrasions.

The driver of the car, identified by Patrolman W. K. Chapman as Juanita Wiggins Swindell, 41, of Havelock, and a passenger, Helen Wiggins French, 25, of Bridgeton, sister of the driver, received serious injuries after their car went out of control and overturned. Both Mrs. Swindell, Mrs. French, and a second passenger in the car, 17-year-old Rona DeBates of Newport were thrown clear of the auto as it overturned.

According to Patrolman Chapman, the Swindell car, headed south, met a tractor-trailer which was allegedly about two feet on the right-hand side of the road. Mrs. Swindell stated she applied her brakes and pulled her 1953 model Renault to the right to avoid a collision.

The car swerved back to the left, crossing the highway, then back to the right side of the road and overturned. Patrolman J. B. Surles, assisting in the investigation, said the car skidded some 42 feet as it came back to the right side of the road, then rolled about 102 feet before coming to a halt. The car was a total loss, the officer added.

Doctors this morning described Mrs. French's condition as critical, saying the woman was suffering from a fractured skull, a brain injury and a broken right arm. Mrs. Swindell, suffering from several broken ribs, a chest injury, lacerations of the scalp and multiple bruises was said to be in serious condition.

U.S. And Soviet Renew Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union signed a new, two-year cultural exchange agreement today that includes joint projects in peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It also sets up discussions for direct Moscow-New York air links, provides for radio and TV program exchanges, and paves the way for the ultimate sending of the Red Army chorus to the United States in view of the U.S. Marine Band playing here.

The Marines are expected to be here during President Eisenhower's visit, it was indicated.

The agreement, second of its kind, provides for potentially thousands of Americans and Russians to exchange visits in 1960 and 1961 in art, educational, agricultural, industry and science fields.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson signed for the United States in a ceremony at the headquarters of the Soviet State Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries. Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the committee, signed for the Soviet Union.

Both said the agreement of the past two years worked out well and the new pact is expected to fulfill hopes of bettering relations between the two countries.

Illumination To Cut Delinquency

NEW YORK (AP)—The city will illuminate its playgrounds to help cut juvenile crime, says Mayor Robert F. Wagner. He announced Thursday that bright lights for 20 playgrounds during the worst nighttime trouble spots will be provided at a cost of $80,000. An additional $1,060,000 has been requested in next year's capital budget to light several hundred additional playgrounds.

Mrs. Z. T. Harris, president, conducted the meeting. During a business session, money was donated toward new books for the year.

Mrs. C. E. Brown had charge of the short devotional period, after which she gave a talk on "The Christian's Thanksgiving." Her Scripture reading was the 100th Psalm an exhortation to praise God cheerfully.

Mrs. Brown said "When man ceases to give God thanks he is on the downward trend. She mentioned the parable of the Lepers saying, 'The one who praised to give Jesus thanks was the only one of the group that was healed soul and body.'

Mrs. R. R. James, program leader, who has won several prizes on her dried flower arrangements, showed one of her old and one of her new arrangements. She told the group that through the summer months the old arrangement was kept fresh by being covered and stored in a cool dark room.

During the social hour, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Moore served cherry pie a la mode, and hot coffee.

ECC Faculty Fete Couple With Dinner

The dinner was held in the Proctor Hotel Dining Room. The dining table was arranged in T shape. A crystal bowl holding white chrysanthemums flanked by white tapers in crystal candlesticks at either side formed the centerpiece.

After those attending the dinner were seated, Dr. Robert Nossan said grace. Dr. Edgar W. Hirschberg, acting as master of ceremonies, gave Miss Johnston and Mr. Capwell bits of advice in both prose and poetry, which had been prepared by hosts and hostesses.

Dr. Meredith N. Posey presented to the honor guests a silver steak dish as a gift from their friends and associates in the department of English. He described it as a "token of the love, esteem, and good wishes in the hearts of all of us."

Miss Johnston was attired in a dinner dress of blue taffeta. Her corsage was a white chrysanthemum, backed with silver leaves.

Quality Guarantee The turkey moving to retail store channels now bears the inspection label which indicates that it has been inspected for wholesomeness by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This year consumers will find a staggering 81 million birds or approximately a billion pounds of turkey awaiting them for the fall festive season. Current supplies of fresh and cold storage indicate birds weighing less than 12 pounds are in larger supply than turkeys of heavier weight. It is estimated that there are about 18 percent more of the smaller or popular consumer sizes this year than during the 1958 fall season. This is good news to the smaller family desiring smaller birds.

How Much To Buy Experienced homemakers have no difficulty in determining how large a turkey they should buy in order to serve their families a delicious, wholesome, and adequate meal according to size.

It is a generally accepted guide to allow one-half to three-quarters pound per serving when buying birds over 12 pounds in weight. When buying birds under 12 pounds, three-quarters to one pound servings should be allowed.

In terms of cost per pound, the larger size birds are often the most economical. These birds usually cost less per pound and, in turn, yield more meat in proportion to the bone; that is, a bird weighing 20 to 24 pounds should normally yield 40 to 50 servings, whereas a bird weighing six to eight pounds will normally yield only six to ten servings.

Size does not always indicate age or tenderness of the bird. Good quality is generally indicated by a clean waxy skin with few pin feathers, a general plump appearance with well fleshed breast and legs, and no discoloration.

Holiday Gifts Not only will turkey add economy to the family budget during the holiday season, but it will serve as a welcome gift to even the most fastidious person. Turkey is a perfect gift for the friend who "has everything."

National Honor Society Inducts 10

NEW INDUCTEES... of the National Honor Society at Rose High School here are pictured above. Melinda Coleman was absent when the picture was made.

By CRAIG WORTHINGTON The Haskett chapter of the National Honor Society yesterday inducted 10 students into membership. Members included one seniors, Anne Briley, and nine juniors: Ruth Clark, Melinda Coleman, Jean Crawford, Erskine Duff, Bill Wade, Larry Roberts, Ben White, Louis Jones and Craig Worthington.

Guest speaker was Dr. Robert Lee Humber, who was introduced by Alice Walters. Dr. Humber, a senator from Pitt County, spoke on the four principles of the honor society — character, scholarship, leadership and service. He said, "... this tap this morning is significant of taps to come."

Jeanette then welcomed members of Washington's chapter who attended the induction.

Council Presents Assembly Members of the Student Cooperative Association Monday presented an assembly explaining their Honor Code to new freshmen and other students. Jeanette Taylor, chairman of the Open Forum and Assembly committee, opened the meeting by introducing Reggie Johnson, president of the Bible Club, who gave the devotion.

Following the devotion, principal Orren E. Dowd introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Marvin Vick of Queen Street Methodist Church in Kingston.

The Rev. Mr. Vick told of General Dean during the Korean crisis. According to Vick, the last letter which General Dean wrote his family while awaiting execution included this one sentence to his teenage son, "Tell Bill the word is integrity."

He said if the Rose High Honor Code were to work, each person would have to apply integrity or honesty to the Honor Code. Rose High School's Code reads as follows:

I, Sam Student, pledge to: Uphold my honor and integrity as a student of Rose High School.

Uphold the standards of good conduct while at school or school functions.

Abide by the rules and regulations set forth by the school.

Apply my abilities to the betterment of my education.

In Just Four Months, Four Plants

New industrial plants announced for Pitt County in the past four months have boosted considerably the number of manufacturing jobs to be available in the county and also the annual payrolls which will come from these jobs.

A total of four new industries have been announced for the county in the four-month period, two in Farmville, one in Grifton and one in Greenville. Collectively these announcements show that the new plants are estimated eventually to provide approximately 500 new industrial jobs in the county. Their payrolls will add more than $2,000,000 annually in the way of personal income to their employees.

In order to project these figures and interpret what they might mean to the economy of Pitt County we have taken an analysis by the United States Chamber of Commerce of the economic impact of 100 new industrial jobs in a community.

According to the figures, 100 new industrial jobs in a community mean, among other things, 269 more people, 112 more households, 51 more school children and 174 more workers employed. If, with 500 new industrial jobs to be available from these four new industries, Pitt County may expect to measure up to the average, it might expect the following:

1,345 more people, 560 more households, 255 more children for its schools, and a total of 870 more jobs.

Such a growth will indeed have an important impact on the economic situation in Pitt County as a whole, and on the communities in which these new industries are located. They will boost buying power, they will create new demands for services, homes, food, clothing and everything else that is needed by the average person in his daily life. Also of importance is that productive wealth of the county will be increased through the output of these manufacturing plants and greater taxable wealth will be created in the county.

For a county the size of Pitt, the establishment of facilities which eventually employ some 500 people in manufacturing is no mean accomplishment in a period of a few short months. It is indeed a significant accomplishment in the long-term economic growth of the area, and one which cannot fail to be felt throughout the county by all the residents of Pitt.

The fact that the county has reached a new plateau of success in attracting new industries will, we believe, produce more intensive efforts in the individual communities of the county to attract additional industries. And the fact that these industries have decided to locate in Pitt may well be a factor in interesting other new prospects in also locating in this county.

It's Our Guess Many Citizens Are Baffled

Reassurances by the State Board of Elections that its investigation showed no irregularities in Madison County during the Oct 27 bond election has not answered all the questions that arose concerning the vote in that county.

Why Madison County, a relatively small county, should vote a much larger percentage of its registered voters than the other counties of the state still remains a mystery. Particularly does it seem unusual when one considers the fact that in Madison there was no state institution which could have been affected by the outcome of the election.

What produced such a reaction among voters in Madison County that they far overshadowed the turnout in considerably larger counties in the state bond election? If there were no grounds for the charges of irregularities, why did the State Republican Chairman place himself in an unnecessarily precarious position by bringing the charges?

In spite of the fact that the State Board of Elections has spoken, it is our guess that a good many citizens throughout North Carolina—Democrats as well as Republicans—remain baffled by the results of the election in Madison County and the subsequent action by the Board of Elections.

Always Losing Budget Battles

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—In that long ago time—the 1952 campaign—President Eisenhower had visions of balanced budgets. And he always insisted spending went up.

This year, for instance, his budget called for 77 billion dollars, a peacetime record, but spending may hit 79 billion. For the coming year his budget is expected to be around 81 billion, another record.

If this year's budget turns out to be unbalanced—because spending exceeded income—it will make the fifth year in a row that has happened.

But Presidents Roosevelt and Truman had budget troubles, too. Roosevelt had said he would balance the budget but never did in his 12 years in office. Truman also had deficits as well as three surplus years.

History has been against all three Presidents. From this country's beginning—in the first two years of its life, 1789-91, expenses were only four million dollars—the cost of government has been going up, with just occasional backsliding.

That has been particularly true in this century with its three wars, a big depression, and a series of recessions. All were problems the economists couldn't figure in their calculations.

Besides, the population has been exploding. So as a result government obligations have been increasing in all directions. To put it another way: The government and its problems keep getting bigger.

For example: Eisenhower inherited the Korean War and got it shut off with an armistice, but he had walked into the age of jets and missiles and outer space where the competition with the Soviet Union made heavier expenses certain.

He also ran into the 1958 recession, which he couldn't foresee in 1952 or even in 1957. Last year, thanks to that recession and the drop in revenues, the government deficit hit around 12½ billion dollars.

This fiscal year ending June 30 will probably show a deficit, too, although it could be very small. Main culprit here was the steel strike and the loss in government revenues which followed.

Still, looking ahead into the 1961 fiscal year starting July 1, with an expected budget of 81 billion or so, the Eisenhower forces are being optimistic all over again: That this one can be balanced.

Although federal spending was only four million between 1789 and 1791, by 1800 it had gone up to 10 million a year, dropped back a bit in 1810, was on the march again by 1820, and by 1860, just before the Civil War, was 63 million.

That war really blew the roof off—for those days. By 1870 spending was up to 309 million, by 1900 it was 521 million, by 1920, thanks to World War I, expenses hit $6,400,000,000. Down it went again to $3,400,000,000 by 1930. That was the last of the baby budgets. The depression hit, and the government really had to spend. Expenses kept going up and, with the help of World War II, hit a peak of 98 billion in 1945.

But that can go too far. What appears to be thrift is sometimes avarice. Thrift is one of those virtues which while you are gazing at it, it nimbly jumps across the line and becomes a vice.

To say this is not to minimize the value of thrift but just to sound a warning lest one pay too dearly for thriftiness.

Some people who think they are thrifty are just plain stingy, avaricious, and beastly mean about money!

Installment buying and thrift both have their good points, but they have their dangers also. In this, as in most things, true arises from the capacity to maintain balance.

Auto production, now almost halted, will get going again sooner than hoped for. There's a feeling of well-being in industry at the moment; there's a willingness to gamble that the flow of steel will not be seriously constricted again. The typical manufacturer seems willing to go to the bottom of his reserves in expectation that the steel industry will replenish them.

Notes Found On A Cuff

Charlie Wells, the radio amateur who intercepted a mercy call from Ghana last weekend received a letter through the mail the other day. It was from a lady in Baltimore who sent a clipping of the story from the Baltimore Sun.

Her note said, "Thanks from one North Carolinian to you." It was addressed to Wells in Greenville, N.C. and at the bottom of the envelope she wrote, "Postmaster, please locate this hero."

My nephew, John Taylor, is of kindergarten age and hasn't yet learned the art of telling time.

He wanted a watch however, so his mother cut one from paper, writing the numerals on the dial. She waited patiently as she attached it to his arm with a paper clip.

"What time is it, John?" we asked. He studied the dial for a great length of time.

"Shucks," he finally exclaimed. "I've got it on upside down." "That boy ought to grow up to be a politician."

We learn from the mails that the New Jersey Turnpike Authority is betting over $4 million that center guard barriers make highways safer.

Engineering News-Record reports that the authority is installing steel-plate barriers between opposing strips of its six-lane highway along all but eight and a half miles of its 118-mile length. The cost is some $40,000 per mile.

However, there have been conflicting results when such barriers have been installed elsewhere.

For the country at large, before-and-after checks indicate that median barriers reduce the number of deaths caused by accidents but increase the number of accidents and injuries.

Connecticut has had good results with hedge and Florida-bunda, rose bush dividers. And New York's Hutchinson Parkway steel-plate barrier even reduced accident rates by 35 per cent.

But accidents on a Los Angeles freeway jumped 75 per cent after erection of a median strip guard.

Jersey Turnpike managers believe their new barrier will eliminate head-on collisions — without increasing deaths or injuries from other types of crashes. Head-ons caused 17.1 per cent of the Turnpike's deaths in 1958.

The Turnpike, already one of the country's safest, has a fatality rate of only 2.4 per 100 million vehicles miles of travel. The national average is 5.6.

Other Editors Saying Want Heart Trouble?

(The Sumter Daily Item)
Do you want to develop heart trouble and have a coronary attack? If so the Heart Disease Control Section of the State Board of Health lists some ways in which you may promote such an attack. The requirements are:

(1) Your job comes first; personal considerations are secondary. (2) Go to the office evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. (3) Take a brief case home on the evenings when you do not go to the office. This provides an opportunity to review completely all the troubles and worries of the day.

(4) Never say No to a request — always say Yes. (5) Accept all invitations to meetings, banquets, committees, etc. (6) Do not eat a restful, relaxing meal — always plan a conference for the meal hours. (7) Fishing and hunting are a waste of time and money — you never bring back enough fish or game to justify the expense.

(8) It is a poor policy to take all the vacation time which is provided for you. (9) Golf, bowling, pool, billiards, cards, gardening, etc., are a waste of time. (10) Never delegate responsibility to others — carry the whole load at all times.

(11) If your work calls for traveling, work all day and drive all night to make your appointment for the next morning. (12) Never visit your physician for a periodic physical examination — you're feeling O. K. (13) Pay no attention to discomfort under your breast bone — it's only indigestion! (14) Don't think you're losing your figure — why it's getting bigger every day.

Aging Now Begins At 25
(Jackson Clarion-Ledger)

Dr. Paul Dudley White, famous Boston specialist who treated President Eisenhower's heart case in 1955, has started a campaign seeking to "get young America off its seat and on its feet for health's sake." In a brief interview at Little Rock the other day, Dr. White urged more bicycle riding to prevent heart trouble. He has already persuaded Chicago officials to build a "safe bike path" and if it is completed he will donate 50 bikes to be used on it.

Deterioration of health, Dr. White said, begins not in old age but at the age of 25—for man, anyway. By then, a man is usually married and has an automobile. "So he quits using his legs," according to Dr. White. "He plops down in an easy chair to watch television at night and the softening process goes on. Now that people are starting toward middle age at 25, he thinks more exercise in general—and bike riding in particular—is essential to the national health."

Does Jackson need a special "safe bike path"? Or would our sophisticated citizenry hoot at the idea of taking such a youthful form of exercise? Be that as it may, Dr. White is telling the truth when he says that too few Americans are getting enough of the right kind of exercise.

Squaw Valley Is Ready

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—"What's the weather like up ahead?"

"Will I need chains?" "Is the road open?"

These and a multitude of questions like them will face California Highway Patrolmen at the Feb. 18-28 Olympic Winter Games. . . and the questions are expected in a variety of languages.

To prepare for the task of handling crowds estimated at 35,000 a day, the CHP has asked its employees about their language abilities.

Ninety-six officers and other aides were found who were multilingual. The tongues they know include Russian, Spanish, French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Greek, Dutch, Yugoslavian, Swiss-Italian, Finnish, Danish, Polish, Chinese, Croatian, Serbian, Hindustani, Flemish, Armenian and sign language.

Thus the CHP hopes to be able to summon aid within a reasonable length of time to any non-English speaking motorist who runs into trouble.

The Patrol says it will have on duty 24 hours a day the highest concentration of men ever to police California's highways. They will patrol all the main roads leading to the valley in February. Sixty-six patrol cars will operate in the area during days and evenings.

The Olympic site is 200 miles east of San Francisco off transcontinental U.S. 40. The highway, except for about 35 miles, is four-lane.

The big bottleneck, if there is one, will come at 7,000-foot Donner Summit, a steep and scary four-mile two-lane stretch.

To equip, feed and house the 206 patrol staff—164 officers and 42 non-uniform personnel—the CHP drafted its training academy personnel from Sacramento.

Everyone will be housed in the Tahoe-Truckee High School gym. Items collected in advance include:

One hundred and sixty pairs of skid chains, 78 windshield ice breakers, 78 short shovels, 158 mud and snow tires, 91 tow cables, 184 cases of emergency flares, 100 parkas and 232 pairs of arctic overshoes.

The big job will be regulating traffic, but CHP Commissioner Bradford Crittenden cautions that his men will carry plenty of ticket books with them.

"Motorists should be aware," he says, "that there will be a concentration of patrolmen in the area, and while they will be extremely busy, it is highly improbable that traffic violations will go unnoticed."

national survival."—Kittanning, (Pa.) Leader-Times.

"Labor, as an organization, should never be denied the right to quit work if it so desires. What is needed is a new approach to settlement. Labor leaders are too sensitive to their position, feeling that in every contract negotiation they must be in a position to say, 'see what I got for you this time.'"—Chewelah (Wn.) Independent.

"Steelworkers themselves know that any raise will be of transient value, because any raise they get will trigger demands of unions in all other industries. Newspaper polls before the strike showed that union members were generally aware of this discouraging fact. Yet a strike we had, because monopoly unions today are more responsive to the demands of intra-union politics than to the wishes of the members."—Miles City (Mont.) Star.

OLD PROMOTER WANTS FIREMEN IN TAXICABS
There was a wry smile on the puss of the Old Promoter when he came visiting today.

"Read your piece about how unions ought to demand firemen in buses and trucks, just like on Diesel locomotives, as a safety measure. Then why shouldn't there be firemen sitting beside the driver of every taxi? Suppose a cabby conks out? Shouldn't there be a fireman there to seize controls, just as there is a fireman on Diesels to take over if the engineer collapses?"

"I protested that firemen on taxis would double the costs of every ride.

"What are you creeping about, dad?" asked the O. P. "Don't firemen on Diesels increase the cost of railroad trips?"

Christmas Sales Hopes Soaring

By ELMER ROESSNER
Christmas sales will be better than predicted earlier. But they will not be sensational, and any improvement in dollars over 1958 totals will be caused by higher prices.

The reason for greater optimism is the speed of the recovery by the steel industry. Production lines are being put into operation faster than expected; the flow of steel is promising, and warehouses, more confident of fresh supplies, are releasing more to users.

Auto production, now almost halted, will get going again sooner than hoped for. There's a feeling of well-being in industry at the moment; there's a willingness to gamble that the flow of steel will not be seriously constricted again. The typical manufacturer seems willing to go to the bottom of his reserves in expectation that the steel industry will replenish them.

Auto production, now almost halted, will get going again sooner than hoped for. There's a feeling of well-being in industry at the moment; there's a willingness to gamble that the flow of steel will not be seriously constricted again. The typical manufacturer seems willing to go to the bottom of his reserves in expectation that the steel industry will replenish them.

By taking the risk involved, manufacturers are adding to the total volume of business. And as the total swells, their own share becomes larger.

Manufacturers could, of course, adopt a policy of curtailed production until they had full supplies of steel on hand. But with the swell of buying immediately ahead, such caution would be imprudent. It's better to gamble available steel now, to win sure profits in the holiday boom, than to place wagers on sales later on.

Meanwhile, payrolls are increasing as steel, auto workers and others flock back to work. There will be a minimum of wildcat strikes from now on to the end of the year.

There's an old saying that nobody shoots Santa. It is also true that few ever strike against Santa—and few men will walk off jobs in the next six weeks if such action would jeopardize Santa's visit to their kids.

OTHER LOOK-AHEADS
Here are more business predictions, based on analyses of developing trends:

More rail mergers. Railroads, now struggling on the Mount with the unions, may not gain many concessions. But they will alert the public to their plight, softening the way to more mergers. In fact, the railroads of the nation can't tread water much longer unless the government permits enough mergers to eliminate waste and duplication—duplication of top brass as well as trackage.

Quiet tires. A new compound has been developed which will take screeches and squeals out of tires. Tires with treads of the rubber will appear on many 1960 cars.

Rail strike to Congress. One of the first moves the Administration will make after Congress resumes in January will be to seek authority for emergency powers to prevent a railroad strike. President Truman averted strikes in 1946, 1948 and 1950 with emergency powers. President Eisenhower has no such powers and will surely ask them to avert a tieup threatening early next year.

Kinston Gridders Defeat Greenville Phants By 13-7

KINSTON—The Red Devils of Grainger High ran up a seven-point first half lead and then doggedly hung on to nose out the Greenville Phantoms, 13-7, here last night in the season finale for both clubs.

Kinston broke the ice in the opening quarter as Gaylord Randolph, running from the fullback spot, cracked over from one yard out. The conversion was good and Kinston led 7-0.

Then, about mid-way through the third quarter, the Devils struck again, this time through the air. Quarterback Watson Hale tossed a 15-yard pass to end Donnie Kintz breaking to the outside in the Phantom end zone. The Greenies blocked the PAT attempt.

The third period ended with Kinston leading 13-0 and Greenville in possession.

After a punt exchange early in the final quarter, the Phantoms, on the running and passing of quarterback Erskine Duff and the running of fullback Robi Wilfong, and halfbacks Wayne Summrell and Alan McArthur, drove 48 yards for their lone score of the game. Duff carried the final yard on a quarterback sneak two plays after he had swept his left end on a keep play to the Kinston 4.

The Phants tried desperately to break through for another score, but Duff's passes fell incomplete as Red Devil defenders were extra sharp ballhawkers.

A Greenville scoring threat early in the second period was halted when McArthur was stopped on the Kinston 2 after taking an eight-yard pass from Duff on fourth down.

Two plays earlier, Duff threw a strike to end Skip Wright deep in the Kinston end zone, but officials ruled the catch was made out of bounds—beyond the end line in the end zone.

Greenville ended its grid season with a 6-4 mark and in second spot in Northeastern Conference standings. Kinston wound up with a 5-4-1.

Phantom seniors seeing final grid action for Rose High last night were halfback Bass, fullback Wilfong, fullback Tommy Henderson, halfback Ronald McArthur, and linemen Jeff Fountain, Reggie Johnson, Norfleet Felton, Lawrence Davenport, Lloyd Horton, Lewis Dall, Andy Kilpatrick, and Burt Aycock.

MORE YARDAGE . . . gained by this completed Duff pass to halfback Alan McArthur (22). Coming on to help with the tackle is Kinston quarterback Watson Hale (11). (Reflector Sports Photos by Henry Howard)

Miami Hurricanes Upset Michigan State By 18-13

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Hurricanes, a young but eager football team led by 152-pound Fran Curci, stood within one victory of an Orange Bowl berth today after an 18-13 upset of Michigan State Friday night.

By beating Florida in their final game next week, the Hurricanes can clinch an invitation to meet the Big Eight runner-up in the Miami bowl New Year's Day.

Michigan State's Big Ten co-leaders were in the running for the Rose Bowl but their position was less hopeful. They'll go to Pasadena only if Northwestern and Wisconsin are beaten or tied in their closing games today.

Miami's stunning victory over the Spartans last night heightened Curci's All-America chances. The little field general directed his team beautifully and stirred a crowd of 40,870 with an exciting mixture of passes, runs and punts.

An 80-yard third quarter drive that put the game out of Michigan State's reach at 18-6 was almost a one-man show. Curci completed four straight passes for 48 yards, scored on a two-yard run, and passed for two extra points.

There are crucial games scattered all over the country today with bowl bids and conference championships hanging in the balance.

Washington will become the host team in the Rose Bowl if the Huskies defeat Washington State.

The Big 10 team for the Rose Bowl also could be decided. Wisconsin, Northwestern and Michigan State all are tied at 4-2. Wisconsin plays Minnesota in a game that will be televised nationally by NBC at 2:30 p.m. EST, and Northwestern tangles with Illinois.

Michigan State has finished its league season.

Clemson can nail down the Atlantic Coast Conference crown by beating Wake Forest.

In the Big Eight, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa State all are tied second-place team will go to the second-place team will go to the Orange Bowl since Oklahoma can't return. The Sooners can knock Iowa State out of contention, while Kansas and Missouri go at each other.

Louisiana State goes after Tulane and a victory will give it a spot in the Sugar or Blue Bonnet bowl.

Arkansas, committed to the Gator Bowl if it doesn't get the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, tackles Texas Tech.

Chicod Quint Defeats Dover; Girls Lose Bid

CHICOD — Chicod High's Hornets, with Ephraim Smith and Raymond Fornes leading the way, recovered from a slow start last night and went on to trounce a Dover High five by 84-68.

Smith poured in 25 points and Fornes was close behind with 21 as Chicod rang up its third win in four starts during the young basketball season.

In the opener of the doubleheader, Dover's girls spotted the Chicod lassies' fourth bid for their first victory.

Twenty-four point efforts by both Janice Mills and Mary Hudson fell short for Chicod as Dover took a 50-49 non-conference victory. The two Chicod forwards accounted for all the locals' points.

Melissa McCoy and Forrester Daugherty led the Dover win with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

Coach John Howell's Chicod five now boasts a 3-1 overall record with a single conference win over Stokes-Pactolus in its only family tilt.

Next Tuesday, the Hornets travel to Oak City to attempt revenge for their only defeat of the season. The Chicod girls will be trying again for their first victory.

The Other Day

A friend was talking about the past history of Thanksgiving Day, and it is interesting to review how it came to be celebrated annually in all the States and Canada only in recent years.

It is well known that the earliest harvest Thanksgiving in North America was held by the Pilgrim Fathers in 1621, and that thereafter it was repeated in various years, but it was not an annual affair. In fact 155 years later it had not yet become a yearly celebration. During the Revolution the Continental Congress recommended days of Thanksgiving, and again after the treaty of 1783 which officially ended the Revolution, the Congress suggested that a day of Thanksgiving be offered for peace.

Thereafter Thanksgiving Days were sporadic and local in nature until another 74 years went by. Then in 1863, 242 years after the first Thanksgiving day, the fourth Thursday of November was set aside for giving Thanks, and each year since then it has been set aside by proclamation of the President and the Governors of the states as a legal holiday. In Canada Thanksgiving Day is celebrated on the second Monday in October.

It is a day for all of us to count our blessings, and surprise ourselves with the length of the list. All year long we strive to be on your list, and again promise that we shall continue to do so.

Grifton Cagers Take Two Victories At Hookerton

With Jimmy Rogers leading the way, the Bulldogs staged a last-minute surge to pull away from the aggressive Hookerton five for their six-point victory margin.

Letchworth led Hookerton's scoring with 21 points. Cooper and Ginn tallied 17 each.

Aiding Rogers in the Bulldog scoring were Billy Maher and Tommy Riley with 17 and 15 points respectively.

Jane Mewborn paced the Grifton girls' win with 27 markers. Sandra Price and John Smith followed with 18 and 12 points, respectively. Grifton's lassies remained undefeated in five games after downing Hookerton.

Changes In Our Thanksgiving Day

THE CHURCH BECKONS . . . "Come Ye Faithful People Come, raise the song of Harvest-home." Most Churches will hold special services in observance of Thanksgiving Day, either the night before or in the morning.

"ALL IS SAFELY GATHERED IN, ERE THE WINTER STORMS BEGIN . . ." We ourselves are God's own field, fruit unto His praise to yield" Today a great many people will obtain their food from a grocery store, not from their own resources.

MRS. SUE MAY . . . home agent of Agricultural Extension Service here.

By PATRICIA MOORE
Reflector Staff Writer

The first Thanksgiving was celebrated in this country when the Pilgrim settlers of Plymouth Colony held a festival to give thanks to God for their survival in an unsettled land of wild fields and of Indians.

Through the years, their festival of thanksgiving to God has become an annual observance of the American people. It is held always on the fourth Thursday in November.

Thanksgiving Day is not really celebrated widely. Countries outside the United States which observe the day are the Canal Zone, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Alaska and Hawaii, newest states, have long celebrated Thanksgiving, too.

The first observers went out and killed a big fat turkey, and they killed at least one pig before Thanksgiving. They spent days preparing meats for the big meal, according to Mrs. Sue May, home agent with the Pitt County Agricultural Extension Service.

Besides a stuffing for the turkey, collards, candied sweet potatoes, another form of green vegetable, cranberries, pumpkin pie and mince meat pie formed a great part of the menu, along with homemade bread, biscuits or rolls according to Mrs. May. Most of the food came from people's own resources she said.

Things have changed a bit, Mrs. May said. Now the housewife steps down to the neighborhood grocery store and selects a turkey already cleaned and dressed. Some of the turkeys are stuffed in a variety of ways. Some housewives even buy frozen or canned turkeys, she added.

Preparation of the meat, like obtaining it, has changed, Mrs. May explained, and much of the drudgery of preparing the mammoth meal has lessened in modern civilization.

The vegetables on the menu have remained largely the same, she said, with the exception of collards, which are still served in certain sections of the country. But the homemade pies and the vegetable garden items now often come from stores and bakeries, like the meat.

One no longer smells the odor of yeast breads drifting throughout the home on Thanksgiving morning. Mrs. May said the bread comes from a package, can or is a bakery product, too.

One of the most unique changes concerning Thanksgiving is Tom Turkey himself. Turkey growers have altered the build of the turkey from a long body to a broadbreasted fowl, which is shorter and plumper. The reason, Mrs. May says, is that the housewives want a bird like that.

Thanksgiving has changed in other ways, too. The family participation has been curbed, according to Mrs. May, by families' living farther apart and by the schedule of the working people.

Married sons and daughters have moved too far away to come home for Thanksgiving.

Most people get only one day off from work, Thanksgiving Day itself. And members of rural families have taken parttime jobs in town, so that even they cannot get together as they would like, according to Mrs. May.

Those who do have more time often take a family vacation out of town, so that they do not prepare for Thanksgiving dinner at all. These families will eat the available restaurant's menu.

And menus for Thanksgiving have expanded, so that turkey is not the only meat served. Roast beef, steak, pork and duck have come into their own. In like manner, the turkey is not just a Thanksgiving meal item. Tom Turkey is served throughout the year, and especially at Christmas.

Mrs. May pointed out that fall is the best season of the year for transplanting. Leaves need raking. Since Thanksgiving is not a Sunday, which many consider taboo for yard work, and it is a day of comparative freedom, some family members spend the major part of the day in the yard, which may detract from the original dinner with members of the family.

But we can't say all families have put less emphasis on the ideas behind Thanksgiving. Most churches hold special services either the night before or on the morning of Thanksgiving, with the age old "Come Ye Thankful People Come" sounding from an organ.

And we find many children close enough at hand to get home for the family celebration.

Mrs. Lucy Gray of 2300 West Fourth Street here is the mother of nine children. Two of them live with their families in Maryland and in Florida, distances which prevent their coming home.

But the other seven with their children come to Mrs. Gray's for a big dinner.

She spends most of the Wednesday preceding Thanksgiving and the morning itself in preparation for the feast. Her menu usually consists of turkey, ham, chicken salad, potato salad, sweet potato casserole, collards, potato pie, and other cakes and pies along with tea, coffee and milk, for the 13 grandchildren.

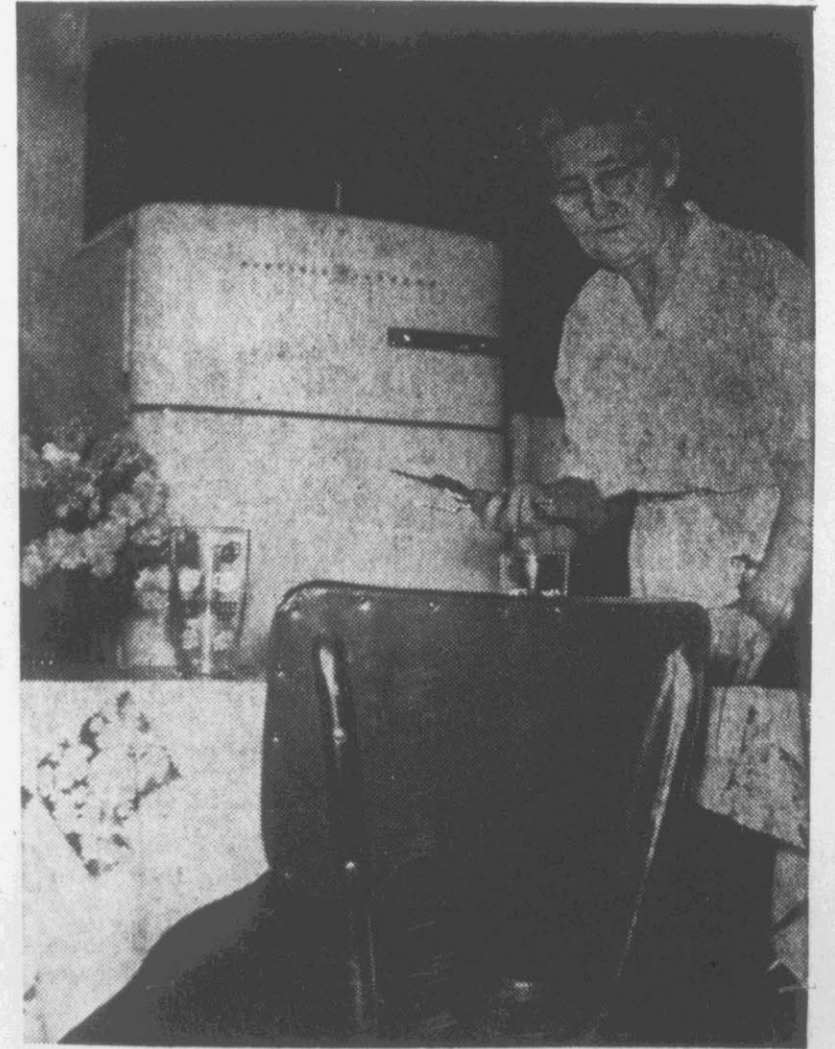

Mrs. Gray will fill a big kitchen table, which will seat 20, and probably the dining table, too, when Thanksgiving Day and the children come.

MRS. LUCY GRAY . . . inspects a refrigerator to make sure she has everything she needs in preparation for a Thanksgiving meal, which will be attended by at least six or seven of her grown children and their families.

SHE PUTS THE TURKEY . . . in the roasting pan. Soon the 11-pound Tom will be cooking away with a good stuffing.

THIS TABLE . . . will be filled on Thanksgiving Day. It will expand to accommodate 20 people and if that is not enough, Mrs. Gray will set the dining table, too. Her children and grandchildren enjoy a big family Thanksgiving.

NEIGHBORS AND HOME OWNERS

REMEMBER, WITH ONCOMING SNOWS, KEEP YOUR FIRE HYDRANT CLEAR. IN CASE OF EMERGENCY, FIREMEN WILL NOT HAVE TO HUNT AND DIG FOR IT.

Dick Tracy

EVERY SECOND WAS IMPORTANT—HER JACKET HAD BEGUN TO SMOLDER.

IRONICALLY, THE SMOKE THAT WAS SAVING HER LIFE WAS DISSIPATED BY OUR COPTER'S PROP BLAST.

WE HAD TO COME DOWN FAST.

ARE YOU ALL RIGHT, LIZZ? YES—I'M OKAY. WHEW!

WE FAILED TO NET "WILLIE-THE-FIFTH" AND HIS FRIEND, OLIVE, BUT I HAVE "FLYFACE" CHAINED TO A WATER PIPE DOWNSTAIRS.

HEY—LOOK!

THE ROOFS AFIRE! GET MORE WATER!

TIP THAT CONFOUNDED GLASS OVER, BOYS.

IT JUST SHOWS WHAT INTENSE HEAT THAT LENS CAN GENERATE.

CALLING THE COPTER. COME OVER WITH YOUR ROPE. TRACY WANTS THIS THING TAKEN TO THE HELIPORT WHERE IT CAN DO NO HARM.

—AND BESIDES, THE CRIME LAB WILL WANT TO EXAMINE IT.

ARE YOU TAKING THAT WITH YOU, LIZZ? YES, IT WILL ALWAYS REMIND ME OF MY NARROWEST ESCAPE, AND AT THE SAME TIME WARN ME TO BE MORE CAREFUL.

Father Inducts Son Into Kiwanis Club

DR. MESSICK INDUCTS SON IN KIWANIS . . . Mr. and Mrs. John A. Messick, Dr. and Mrs. John D. Messick (Photo by Lee Rowland).

By CHESTER WALSH
History was made at last night's Greenville Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting, when Dr. John D. Messick, retiring president of East Carolina College and a 30-year Kiwanian, inducted into the Kiwanis Club his son, John A. Messick, realtor and insurance agent. This was the first father-son to attend Jarvis Memorial Church in a body Sunday night, November 22, when Rev. Dr. A. Furnell Bailey, distinguished Methodist minister, inducted into the Greenville club's 38 years, Kiwanis Education and Fellowship Committee Chairman Hunter B. Keck, who was in charge of the exercises, announced. Dr. Messick, in a brief manner, said, "One gets out of Kiwanis what one puts into it," recalled his 30 years membership in different Kiwanis clubs, and assured the Kiwanians that they "have a warm spot in my heart, and I look forward with keen interest to the time when my work in Washington, D. C. will be finished and I can return to Greenville and call it home for the remainder of my life."

Mr. Overton was born and reared in Washington county. He served in the United States Merchant Marine many years and since his retirement had spent much of his time in Pitt county. He was the son of the late Ben and Julia White Overton. He is survived by a brother, Henry Overton of Norfolk, Va., and a number of nieces and nephews.

New Acting Company Offers 'Good Theatre'

By C. H. JOHNSON
Professional theatre has at last found its way to Greenville. Last night's production of Carolyn Green's "Janus" by the newly formed touring company, The Pioneer Players, exhibited a competence in staging and performance not frequently seen in this area.

Good theatre is first of all good acting, and good acting consists in the absence of "acting," the ability to transcend the tedious vacuity of drama school conventions and mannerisms. "Janus" was blessedly free of such posturing. Lois Garren's portrayal of Jessica Gilbert, the sexually amibidextrous, part-time wife of a shipping tycoon and the female half of a summer-time novel writing team, which calls itself "Janus," shows clearly this freedom. Those who remember her creation of Eleanor Dare in "The Lost Colony" and "Juliet" in last year's local Shakespeare production will not be surprised at the quality of her performance, but they will have a new appreciation for the versatility of this talented actress in her switch to a comic role. Especially notable are her carefully managed changes of pace as she switches back and forth from the gay rattlebrained mistress to the angry, frustrated wife.

The other half of the clandestine writing team is Denis Rousseau, a mildly priggish prep-school instructor who researches
